COUNTERPOINT

By The Editor's Wife

The house seems very quiet this morning. The editor's sister and her four lovely daughters (Bonnie, aged 5; Sally, aged 8; Donna, aged 13, and Paula, aged 16) have returned to their home in the city after spending a week with us.

The girls played along the creek and on the little raft; they caught tiny transparent fish and miniature snails (which accompanied them home in a glass jar); they renewed last year's friendships, and made some new ones; they had many hilarious trips around the big yard on the improvised train, (the editor drove the small mow-tractor with the cart and two coaster wagons "hitched on," each full of children); they experienced their first blueberry picking and first face to face meeting with our Amish friends. As they enjoyed these things which we in the country take for granted, our sense of appreciation began to revive and we, too, enjoyed their pleasure in simple things. It has been a richly rewarding week.

We're passing on this word of warning to tourists who may be passing through Kentucky — "Bonneville has the worst speed trap in the nation!" It is reported that this town of 500 people has 3 policemen, 3 patrol cars, and a radar detection device. The AAA says that three other Kentucky towns are on its speed trap list.

For Safe and Happy Swimming:

1. If you can't swim, stay out of the water (deep water, i. e. where swimming skill is necessary.)

2. Don't swim alone. Swimming is not a solitary sport. Nearly half the 7,000 drownings each year were alone.

3. Don't go into the water when tired or overheated. Cramps or blackouts may result.

4. Know your swimming area. Trash and partially submerged objects can be dangerous for diving and swimming.

5. "No Swimming" signs are to be obeyed. They may mark dangerous waters.

6. Parents must watch small children constantly. Waterwings, innertubes and other floating aids give children a false sense of security, and often carry the child to deep water. Teach them

Minutes of School
Meeting, July 23

A special meeting of the Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation was held on July 23, at 8 p.m. in the Beaver Dam School gym.

President Butts called the meeting to order and a roll call revealed that Delford Nelson, Paul Fites, Earl Boggs, Lowell Leckrone, and Lawrence Butts were present. Superintendent Robert M. Forbes was also there. Butts advised that a quorum was present and asked the secretary, Delford Nelson, to read the minutes of the previous meeting, after which they were approved.

Butts noted there were approximately 150 people in attendance and gave a few remarks of welcome to the group, after which the superintendent was called upon to explain the procedure for audiences and delegations. The board granted two periods for audiences, one at the regular time and one before adjournment. Several individuals gave their views with reference to the decision for attendance areas of the new corporation. Comments were forthcoming from the board and discussion was held on several plans. Earl Boggs presented a plan as follows:

1. Harrison Township plus the northern one mile of Franklin Township as an attendance area for the Mentone School for grades 1-6 and 9-12.

2. Remainder of Franklin Township and all of Henry Township as the Akron attendance area for grades 1-6 and 9-12.

3. Beaver Dam School as the attendance area for grades 7-8 for all of Harrison Township, Franklin Township and Henry Township.

4. Seward Township as an attendance area for grades 1-8.

5. All High School students from Seward Township which live on Highway 14 and south of Highway 14 will attend Akron High School. All students 9-12 in Seward Township, north of Highway 14 will attend the Mentone High School.

A motion was made by Earl Boggs, seconded by Delford Nelson, that this plan be adopted. The vote was as follows:

Earl Boggs, yes; Lowell Leckrone, yes; Delford Nelson, yes; Paul Fites, abstaining.

The next regular meeting of the board will be Aug. 6.

KINDIG - HILE EXCHANGE VOWS

Miss Bonnie Kay Kindig and Mr. Harold Oram Hile exchanged marriage vows at half past two o'clock Sunday afternoon, June 17 at the First Methodist Church in Warsaw. Rev. Donald LaSuer conducted the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with palms and with standards of pink and white gladioli and also two seven-branch candelabra holding white tapers. The family pews were marked with white satin bows.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester C. Kindig, RR 5 Warsaw. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Old A. Hile, 745 West Winona Ave.

Mrs. Everett Kessler of Leechester, organist, played nuptial selections before the ceremony and accompanied the soloist, Mrs. Alton Perry, Mentone, as she sang "O Perfect Love," "O Promise Me" and "Because."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a waltz length gown of rosepoint lace over taffeta. The fitted lace bodice was fashioned with a sculptured neckline alighted with seed pearls and iridescent sequins and long fitted sleeves ending in points over the wrist. The full gathered skirt was fashioned with a self-fabric bow attached at the back of the waistline and a scalloped hem line. She carried a cascade of white pom poms, pink roses, green ivy, backed with lace. Her finger-tip length veil was caught to a hand made crown of sequins and pearls.

Mrs. Richard Kreitzer of Warsaw, sister of the bridegroom was maid of honor. She appeared in a pink rayon satin dress styled with a fitted bodice, gathered skirt with a large bow at the back of the waistline, she wore white accessories and a pink circular veil caught to a crown of pink roses. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink and white carnations with pink shower ribbon. Mrs. Dale Kindig, Warsaw, sister-in-law of the bride was bridesmaid, she appeared in a Nile green dress styled identically to that of the honor attendant, and also identical accessories, her colonial bouquet was of astel green and white carnations and pastel green shower ribbon. Her circular veil was caught to a crown of white roses.

Mr. Richard Kreitzer, of Warsaw, brother-in-law of the bridegroom served as best man. Mr. Dale Kindig, Warsaw, brother of the bride and Mr. Lester Barker, also of Warsaw, were ushers. Mr. Kindig and Mr. Barker also alighted the candles. Miss Patsey Hile, Fort Wayne, cousin of the bridegroom, was in charge of the guest book.

Assisting at the reception held in the church basement were, Miss Bettl Bibler, R. 5, Warsaw, Miss Nancy Rhodes, Etna Green, and Mrs. Billy Lee Hatfield of Akron. Miss Bibler and Miss Rhodes assisted at the gift table.

For her daughters wedding, Mrs. Lester Kindig chose a blue lace dress with bone accessories. The bridegrooms mother chose a blue lace dress with white accessories. Both mothers wore a corsage of white carnations and pink sweetheart roses.

Mrs. Lester Kindig and Mrs. Wibur Perry made the four tier wedding cake.

Guests were present from Chicago, Fort Wayne, Rochester, Akron, Mentone, Dyer, Leesburg, Plymouth, Warsaw and Goshen.

UNDER WATER SWIMMING CAN BE DEADLY SPORT

'Mystery drownings'—where the victim was a good swimmer in excellent health—can occur when the breath is held too long under water, according to a study by the University of Rochester School of Medicine. When the body's store of carbon dioxide is reduced, the report states the urge to breathe is delayed the body's supply of oxygen becomes insufficient and consciousness fades. The swimmer may pass out so quickly that other persons present may not realize he's in trouble until it's too late.

Sun-powered emergency call boxes soon will be summoning help to accident victims or stalled cars along Los Angeles freeways. Each call box will contain a radio transmitter powered by batteries kept charged by energy from the sun's rays. When a button on the box is pressed, a signal will light on a display board in police headquarters to pinpoint the trouble spot. . . . Oil well drillers can determine exactly what kind of fluid lies underground. A new method announced by Pan Geo Atlas is called "nuclear magnetism log." It is the first and only log that responds solely to formation fluids. When this method is utilized drillers not only learn where fluid containing zones are located, but also whether the zones contain oil, gas or water. . . . Eating outside the home cost Americans $7,912,000,000 last year, reports National Restaurant Association. Restaurants led with sales of 3,528,000,000. Swamps, deserts or mountain peaks can be reached with a West German "flying operating room" carried by helicopter.

Jamming is suggested as an antidote for ubiquitous pocket transistor radios by W. H. Jarvis of Oxford University, England. Jarvis says a tunable oscillator covering long and medium waves will cause little portables in the vicinity to whistle offensively which, in turn, will cause their owners to shut them off and restore peace and quiet to a noisy neighborhood.

Fewer Cattle On Feed Now

Indiana farmers are feeding fewer cattle and calves for the quality slaughter market this year than last, report state-federal agricultural statisticians at Purdue University. The number on feed as of July 1 was 120,000, nine percent smaller than last year.

Cattle weighing 900 pounds or more totaled 36,000, compared to 34,000 a year ago. Cattle on feed three or more months totaled 96,000, the same as last year. However, fewer cattle and calves went into hoosier feed lots between April 1 and July 1 than during the same quarter of 1961. This number was 25,000-12,000 fewer than a year ago.

Marketings of fed cattle between April 1 and July 1, at 75,000, equalled marketings during the same period of 1961. However, expected marketings of 75,000 animals between July 1 and Oct. 1 will be seven percent fewer than the figure for the third quarter for last year. Expected marketing of 45,000 after Oct. 1 will be 12 percent under the total which went to stockyards in the last three months of 1961.

Miss Barbara Alber of Macy is visiting with her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Rolland Calvert.

Limestone In Corn Silage

Cattle feeders in Kosciusko County are showing interest in the feeding trials where ground calcitic limestone is added to corn silage. Donald E. Frantz, County Agricultural Agent, says there is a definite promise of improving the color and palatability of corn silage by the addition of high calcium limestone.

Reports at the spring meeting of Indiana Cattle Feeders showed that silage with added limestone had a much greener color and contained three and a half times more carotene. The cattle ate more by 13 percent and gained faster. It did reduce the cost per pound of gain. Tests a reduction in feed costs in a one year trial.

The recommended amount of limestone is one-half of one percent. In using feeding quality limestone of 97 percent as calcium carbonate, the rate of 20 pounds limestone per ton of silage from Ohio State University show lage would be suitable, according to Mr. Frantz. The use of dolomitic limestone which is high in magnesium is not recommended as feeding test results are not available.

Rolland Calvert has accepted a position at Francisville, Ind.

Feeder Pig Buying Tips

More Hoosier farmers are buying feeder pigs than ever before.
So Dick Hollenbeck, Purdue
University swine specialist, suggests to farmers these guides in making their feeder pig purchases:

Buy only from organized,
health inspected feeder sales, bona fide feeder pig producers or reputable, licensed dealers.
Look for sleek, thrifty animals.

Pigs should weigh at least 35 pounds at eight weeks of age and at least 40 pounds at 10 weeks of age. They should be of correct type, that is, lean, meaty pigs of moderate length.
They should also have large,
strong leg bones.

Castrated male pigs should be healed smoothly.

Buy pigs that have been vaccinated for cholera and erysipelas.

Take Care Of Ticks

Ticks are a nuisance whether they are on Fido, in your favorite camping spot or crawling about the house in rugs or furniture. Certain kinds of ticks carry Rocky Mountain spotted fever, warn extension entomologists at Purdue University.

Of the two kinds of ticks commonly found in Indiana, the American dog tick is most common in areas of wild vegetation, especially along trails where small rodents pass. Since this tick transmits Rocky Mountain spotted fever, they advise campers and hikers to examine themselves twice daily and remove any ticks present.

Control of the common dog tick consists of applying 20-25 pounds per acre of a 10 per cent DDT dust on grasslands. For bushy areas, increase dosage to 40 pounds per acre. DDT should be applied to the lower two feet of shrubbery and the ground.

The brown dog tick spends both mature and immature stages of life on the dog and consequently has become adapted to house living. All active stages of brown dog ticks have a desire to climb and may be found on walls, furniture, and behind window frames. Since there are so many places for it to hide, control is difficult.

To get rid of the ticks on Fido, use a 4 per cent malathion dust. It is effective and readily obtainable. Then treat all of the cracks and crevices in the home, where ticks hide, with a 3 per cent malathion or a 0.5 per cent diazinon spray.

Exercise caution not to get the chemical on food and eating utensils.

Mr. and Mrs. Coy Ward of South Bend spent Friday evening with his brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Rea Ward.

Mrs. W. Davis of Burket and two grandchildren of Florida were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. Wagner Friday.

Time To Seed Grass Waterways

August and September are the best months to seed grass waterways in Indiana, according to Don Sisson, Purdue University extension agricultural engineer.

This time of year the soil is usually in better condition for working and late summer seedlings are less likely to be washed out than spring seedlings, Sisson points out. Too, if sufficient moisture is present the grass will make an excellent start before winter.

Many waterways that are five to ten years old need reconstruction because the original channel has filled with washed in soil. If this is the problem, advises Sisson, the best solution is to start over. Make sure the waterway has sufficient depth and channel capacity. Adequate capacity for runoff water is provided by deepening the channel.

If the existing waterway channel has the proper channel shape, but sparse grass cover, don't destroy what you do have. Start from there by reseeding and adding fertility.

The best grass to seed in waterways is alta fescue. A good companion crop to give quick cover is spring oats. Oats will be killed by frost, but make a rooted mulch for protection of the soil during the winter. Spring oats do not compete with grasses the next spring as other small grains do.

Grass waterways are one of Indiana's most important soil conservation practice. They not only reduce soil loss but will help to save wear and tear on farm machinery. These grass channels are easy to cross and make farming rolling fields more convenient.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Eizinger spent Sunday afternoon at the home of their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Ritenour.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Repine of Claypool called Sunday on Mrs. Minnie Busenburg.

That's why it's so important to feed the dry cow a ration that has what it takes to help the cow grow and drop a husky calf and maintain her own body condition too.

During 34 years of research Purina has developed a special dry cow feed, Purina D & F Chow.

Tests show properly fed dry cows can produce up to a ton more of milk when they freshen.

Next time you're in the store ask us to tell you more about Purina's proved, profitable Dry Cow Program.

FACTS ABOUT EFFECT OF TEMPERATURE ON MARKET HOGS

Water, cooling affect gains. All hogs must have plenty of clean, fresh water. Automatic waterers with heating elements are recommended for use in cold weather. One automatic watering cup is adequate for every 25 hogs. It pays to keep your hogs cool in the summertime. Purina Research shows that temperature above 80°F. slow gains and feed conversion. Spraying or fogging are effective ways to keep hogs comfortable. In pig parlors keep the spray at the low end so the rest of the pen is kept as dry as possible.

STOP FLIES COLD 5 WAYS

For most effective, economical fly protection, use a combination of Purina Fly Killers. Don't give flies a chance to light on buildings or animals, contaminate feed, spread disease germs. Fight them these 5 ways:

1. Spray or dust your livestock.
2. Apply a solution of Baytex Spray Concentrate or Purina Building Spray Powder on buildings.
3. Scatter Purina Fly Bait on the ground.
4. Use Purina Insecticide Mist inside barns.
5. Put Purina Fly Checkers wherever you find flies.

We have a full line of deadly Purina Fly Killers. Let us help you get a head start on your fly control program this summer right now. We're at the familiar Red and White Checkerboard Store.

FFA Gilt Chain

Russell Adams sits beside his new litter of ten pigs as he proudly watches over them. This gilt was given to Russell by the Mentone FFA and Russell will return two weanling gilts from this litter to the chapter. Then these gilts will be given to two more boys. The Mentone FFA started this pig chain last year by purchasing two gilts. Jerry Blackburn returned his gilts to the chapter. Eddie Blosser has another one of the chapter gilts. This program enables boys to get started in swine production or at least gives them some practical experience in raising hogs.

Vegetables For Fall

You can have fresh vegetables from your garden this summer and fall by planting now, according to Don Scheer, Purdue University extension horticulturist.

But for success you'll have to supply plenty of water. Scheer says when it's dry to add water so it soaks in deeply before you sow seed or transplant. Then fertilize with 3 to 4 pounds of 12-12-12, or its equivalent, per 100 square feet of garden area before you prepare the soil.

If you are setting out plants for fall harvest, such as cauliflower, broccoli, or cabbage, use a starter solution high in phosphorus when you plant. An analysis such as 10-52-17 will do it. And, of course, keep new plants shaded and watered, and set them in the evening when it's cool.

Scheer offers some special suggestions if you are sowing seed of carrots, beets, lettuce, or similar crops. Have a moist seedbed. It's a good idea to work peat moss into the soil, particularly near the seeded areas so there'll be good moisture retention. Plant the seed a little bit deeper than you would in the spring, and keep your soil moist until the seed germinates.

Control Of Spider Mites

Purdue University's entomology department has developed a new control method utilizing flour and buttermilk for control of spider mites, a major pest problem in many commercial apple orchards.

Dr. G. Edward Marshall, research entomologist at Purdue's fruit insect research orchard at Orleans, made public preliminary results of work with the non-toxic materials—wheat flour and buttermilk.

Marshall, who has been working on the unusual control method about 18 months, mixed 20 pounds of wheat flour and two quarts of buttermilk into a slurry and added this combination to 100 gallons of water for application.

This combination destroys mites by sticking them to the leaf's surface and by enveloping them in the solution on the foliage. Some of the sprayed mites appeared to have exploded after the spray dried. Two-spotted mites were killed with less difficulty than European red mites. Preliminary studies on reduced hatchability of eggs also are encouraging, the scientist said.

Swimming Champion At FFA Camp

The section I of FFA officers training camp was held this past week end from Friday noon to Sunday noon at Purdue's Camp Limberlost on Lake Oliver.

Fred Mellott, president, and Lloyd Bowerman, along with their advisor, Morris Bitzer, attended the camp from Mentone.

Many athletic events were held throughout the camp period.

The picture shows Lloyd Bowerman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Bowerman, holding the single's swimming contest trophy that he received for being the fastest swimmer at the camp. Lloyd also was on the winning relay team and a similar trophy will be put in the Mentone FFA trophy case.

BARBECUING RECIPE

The following is C. O. Eiler's recipe for barbecuing, which many have wanted:

Barbecue sauce: Sufficient for three chickens (2½ lbs. each or other meat of equal weight, or bulk.)

2 cups of water, 2 cups of tomato juice, 1 cup of vinegar, 3 rounded tablespoons of salt, 2 rounded tablespoons of sugar, 1 teaspoon tobacco or red hot sauce, 1 teaspoon celery seed, 2 generous teaspoons horse-radish, and ¼ lb. butter or oleo.

Preparation procedure: Prepare meat as usual for cooking, preferably in serving size pieces. Place all ingredients except horse radish and butter in kettle large enough to hold the meat. Heat enough to dissolve the sugar and salt. Remove from heat and add horse-radish. Place meat in kettle containing dressing, and allow to marinate for 4 hours or longer. Drain meat from dressing. Add butter to dressing, heating enough to melt the butter. Have charcoal fire ready under the grill. Avoid too much fire. Amount of fire to be determined by height of grill from the fire, coverage of meat on grill, etc. Place meat on grill and turn OFTEN, not to exceed two minutes between turnings depending on intensity of heat. Dredge with dressing each time meat is turned. Avoid scorching by holding fire down, if too hot by sprinkling with water. Continue turning and dressing until meat is done to your satisfaction, about 90 minutes.

Good barbecuing depends upon proper materials, little fire, lots of care and patience.

Stan Yeiter underwent major surgery at the Cleveland Clinic Hospital Wednesday. A ruptured aorta of the heart was replaced with one of nylon, and he was reported safely out of surgery late Wednesday. The clinic is located at 2020 East 93rd, Cleveland, Ohio.

Animal Death Causes

A haphazard diagnosis of the death of a farm animal by lightning may conceal a highly infectious disease readily transmissible to humans and other livestock, points out Dr. K. M. Weinland, Purdue University extension veterinarian.

When evidence of a lightning charge itself is not apparent, the present of singed hair, skin burns, or dark branch-like designs on the animal's skin can suggest lightning. Grass clenched in the animal's teeth and no evidence of a struggle also indicate death by lightning.

Frequently, however, there is no other evidence of lightning destruction near the animal. It may be found dead under a tree that has some evidence of being struck; it may be near a wire fence or a piece of farm equipment or building that has been hit.

Often it is best to call a veterinarian who can submit an examination report to the insurance company. In the event the animal's death resulted from a contagious disease, a correct diagnosis might be more valuable to those concerned than payment for a dead animal.

Poultry Industry First To Feel ECM Pinch

The Mentone area appears to be one of the first given a reverse "economic boost" by the much-talked-about new frontier—the European Common Market.

The Agriculture Department reports that the price of ready-to-cook broilers—which have been finding an expanding market in Western Europe—is expected to rise from 34.8 cents a pound to 42.8 cents in West Germany. This will reflect an increase of 8 cents a pound on the present tariff of 15.9 cents.

The department said the higher poultry prices are expected to bring a temporary decline in consumption followed by greater production by Western European poultry producers.

The result, the department said, will be a reduced market in the Common Market nations for imported poultry.

CALENDAR

Mentone Home Demonstration Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Raymond Wierick, Thursday, Aug. 9, 1:30.

how to swim and how to be careful around the water.

(By James O. Conrad, public relations director of the YMCA, Fort Wayne.)

Note on Communism:

Voices from the past, in contrast.

Thomas Jefferson: "We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal."

Karl Marx: "From each according to his abilities, to each according to his needs."

James Madison: "It is proper to take alarm at the first experiment upon our liberties. We hold this prudent jealousy to be the first duty of citizens. The free men of America did not wait until usurped power had strengthened itself by exercise and entangled the questions in precedents. They saw all the consequences by denying the principles."

Karl Marx: "The communists disdain to conceal their views and aims. They openly declare that their ends can be attained only by the forcible overthrow of all existing social conditions."

George Washington: "Reason and experience both forbid us to expect that national morality can prevail in exclusion of religious principle."

Lenin: "Our morality is entirely subordinated to the interests of the class struggle."

John Stuart Mill: "The only freedom which deserves the name is that of pursuing our own good in our own way so long as we do not attempt to deprive others of theirs, or impede their efforts to obtain it."

—Life Lines, July 30, 1962.

We enjoyed this:

Deep in the Louisiana swamps three men stopped to watch a small boy fishing in a roadside lake. Finally, one man said, "Boy, are there any snakes in this water?"

"Naw suh, they sure ain't," replied the lad slowly.

The three men left their clothes on the bank and all had a refreshing swim. After dressing one man asked, "How come there aren't any snakes in this lake?"

"The alligators ate 'em," replied the boy.

Patriots For Christ
Theme of VBS

Our way of life faces a serious and deadly contest for survival. Christian freedom is not only in jeopardy, but could be completely wiped out. Yes, it could happen here, as it happened in other free countries through the rise of diabolical communism, recognized the world over as utterly godless, thoroughly anti-Christian.

Can it be that the charges leveled at North America and Britain are true? Is our patriotism ebbing? Our national conscience blunted? Have we left our spiritual moorings? Are we really hazy about our faith and lazy in our service?

"For such a time as this," First Baptist Church has adopted Patriots for Christ as the theme for its 1962 VBS course. To call forth the best in Christians to help win boys and girls to the Lord Jesus Christ, and enable them to live for Him.

Here are some of the objectives of this strategic course:

To preserve, maintain, and guarantee our Christian heritage.

To indelibly impress upon our children appreciation for the freedoms which we so richly enjoy, especially the freedom to worship God.

To point out the absolute necessity of loyalty and devotion to our Lord and His Word.

To imbue our children with the desire to stand for vital Christianity and our country, and resolutely go God's way.

The over-all theme, Patriots for Christ, has been woven throughout the activities of the various departments, always with a strongly evangelical spiritual thrust. Each department has its own theme as well, which applies especially to that age group.

Your children are invited to be patriots for Christ at our vacation Bible school, August 13-24.

SCHOOL BOARD MEETING HELD

Following are some excerpts from the minutes of the Tippecanoe Valley School Board meeting held Monday night at the Beaver Dam School Gym. Lawrence Butts, president of the school board called upon the secretary, Delford Nelson, to read the minutes. Following the reading of the minutes the president asked if there were any corrections, or additions to the minutes as read. Earl Boggs stated that in his opinion the minutes were incorrect in so far as the attendance areas for the Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation were concerned, and proposed the following corrections:

ITEM 1. to read, Harrison Township plus the northern part of Franklin Township (Lash road included) as an attendance area for Mentone school grades 1 through 6 and 9 through 12 with the exceptions that grades 2, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, which had previously attended the Atwood school will attend Burket school.

A correction of Item 3 was also proposed as follows: Beaver Dam school as an attendance area for grades 7 & 8 for Franklin Township, Henry Township, all of Harrison Township with the exception of the Atwood 7 & 8 grades.

And Item 4 corrected shows Seward Township as an attendance area for grades 1 thru 8, 5,6,7,8 from the Atwood area, students who had previously attended the Atwood school.

Objection to the correction was noted and a roll call by the president revealed the following vote: Earl Boggs, yes; L. Leckrone, yes; Paul Fites, no; Delford Nelson, no; Lawrence Butts, no.

President Butts then asked that a vote be taken to determine if the minutes were correct as written. The school board failed to approve the minutes as written, and it therefore determined that no plan existed at the present time. A motion was then made by Earl Boggs, seconded by Lowell Leckrone, that the following plan be adopted.

Same as the above corrections to the minutes with the exception that high school students from Seward Twp. be allowed to attend the high school of their choice.

President Butts then asked for discussion on the plan from the board. Discussion was held. He then asked if anyone in the

Former Doctor Ill

Some area residents may remember Dr. Leonard C. Lund, who practiced medicine in Mentone in 1939 and 1940, working with Dr. Urschel at that time.

Recently Mrs. Arlo Friesner and Dr. Urschel decided to try to locate him, and this week, Mrs. Friesner received a letter from him at the Southeast Louisiana Hospital, in Mandeville, Louisiana.

This letter contained a tragic story. Dr. Lund was just recovering from a third stroke and is completely alone in the world. Mrs. Lund had died several years ago, and his daughter, Dorothy, was killed in Turkey while working for the U. S. Government.

Dr. Lund, who took special training in Psychiatry after leaving general practice at Mentone, had served 5 and one half years as a division Psychiatrist in World War II, with combat experience throughout the South Pacific and the Philippines. He was recalled to active duty during the Korean conflict, serving 2 additional years at that time. During this second tour of duty, he was badly injured in a jeep accident.

Those of the community who remember Dr. Lund could write to him at the above address.

EXCITEMENT AT COOPERS

There was a little excitement at Coopers' Store Monday. They when they found the corner stone of the building.

The original builder had placed a metal box there. Although the box itself had almost completely rusted some of the contents still remained.

There was a letterhead of Manwaring Bro., who sold Dry Goods, Groceries, Shoes, Clothing, Kitchen Wares, etc. The date on the letterhead was 188... Art Manwaring, father of Chet Manwaring of our town, and Loren Manwaring, Chet's uncle, were the names of the brothers.

Another item was a business card of William Henry Eiler, grandfather of C. O. Eiler, who was Justice of the Peace, Attorney at Law, etc.

Although the paper was quite brittle and yellow, this information was easily readable.

The Coopers are planning on putting another box in the place of the rusted box with some items of our time.

NFO Bargaining With Processors

(The following news release is from the NFO):

A showdown rapidly is approaching as the National Farmers Organization marketing area meat bargaining committees enter the second round of bargaining with meat processors.

Henry Yoder, Jr., Kosciusko County NFO president, said information received from the national NFO pointed out that meetings of the county bargaining committees have been concluded in all the established meat marketing areas. The purpose of these meetings was to make future plans for bargaining.

Oren L. Staley, national NFO president, said the processors now are being given the opportunity to bargain in good faith. It's their decision to make, ours has been made. We will either get a contract or we will call an all out holding action, in which we will intend to hold until we reach agreements to stabilize prices and marketing conditions in the future.

If the processors do not sign a contract, they will find that previous holding actions, which each time were succeeding stronger, were mere scrimmages compared to the battle the NFO will be prepared to wage.

Activities in grain and dairy bargaining also are continuing as the NFO steps up the pace in its drive to the bargaining table. During the past weeks, summer organizational activities also have reached a new high.

In addition, the NFO has just completed a briefing session for all assistant national organizational directors and national staff organizers. Purpose was to present and explain the master contract for all commodities, discussion of organization plans and discussion of an all out holding action.

Kosciusko County NFO invites everyone to visit the NFO tent in the machinery area at the County Fair, Warsaw, August 6 to 11.

THANK YOU

Would like to thank our neighbors and friends for their kind help and fruit, flowers, cards and visits during our sickness and accident. We most sincerely appreciate it very much.

Plans are being completed for a Lawn Clinic to be held in the Lake Wawasee area on August 27. Dr. William Danial, turf specialists in the Agronomy Department at Purdue will be here, and two places will be visited. At these places he will be available for consultation on problems. Dr. Danial is the mid-west advisor to the U. S. Professional Golf Association and is known nation wide as a golf course specialist and directs much of the U. S. P. G. A. research on grasses. He conducts the short course for greenskeepers each year at Purdue. Details of the Clinic will be announced very soon.

When beef calves are weaned weigh and grade each calf, advise Purdue University animal scientists. Performance records, such as these, can guide farmers in culling and selecting herd replacements.

When parking for roadside picnics always make certain your car is pulled completely off the highway. Autos parked on the shoulder of the road can be a mental hazard to oncoming drivers whose tendency is to swerve over the center line when passing a vehicle parked close to the highway.

SCHOOL BOARD MEETING

audience desired to make comments regarding the plan before a vote was taken by the school board. Several citizens from the school area expressed their sentiments regarding the plan as proposed and offered suggestions in some instances. Following these audiences the president then asked that the board in view of the motion and the second to the motion have a roll call vote on the plan. The vote followed: Earl Boggs and Lowell Leckrone, yes; Paul Fites, no; Delford Nelson and Lawrence Butts, abstaining.

The general conclusion of the board was that they would study further the problem of the Corp. in regard to its attendance areas in an endeavor to set up a plan at a future date.

The Superintendent presented the following contracts to the school board: James Logenbaugh, elementary teacher, $6,000; Edward Boos, driver training, biology, general science and assistant coach, $5,500; Duane Fites, physical education, health and safety, driver training, assistant coach, $5,700; Norma Hartman, Kindergarten teacher at Akron, $4,600; Helen Ireland, Elementary teacher, $4,450. All contracts were approved unanimously by the members of the school board.

It seems to this writer that there is a lot of public opinion being expressed at these school meetings, as it should be.

However, I feel that the board should be given a chance to work.

One of our citizens stopped by the News office this week and left a little item with us which we feel bears repeating.

Edmund Burke, 150 years ago, said to some of his emotionally discontented supporters, "I have to protect your interests against your opinions."

School Board Candidates Must File

Persons wishing to seek school board (school trustees) positions for the Tippecanoe school corporation must file petitions by Sept. 1.

Tippecanoe corporation voters will select five board members to manage the schools in the Nov. 6 general election. School board members will be elected on a non-partisan ballot by citizens. The board members will take over their duties on Jan. 1, 1963. They will replace the temporary board which is now operating the schools.

Filings for election to the school board shall be by the petition method, with petitions bearing the signatures of the candidate and at least 10 other legal residents of the district to be represented by the person filing. Petitions can be secured at the clerk's office or superintendent's office at Beaver Dam (Tippecanoe Valley Corporation).

Qualifications of members of the school board is as follows:

1. Must be a voter.
2. A resident of the school board member district he represents for a period of at least two years prior to date of election.

3. A freeholder of the district he represents.

4. Not hold another public office.

Citizens can vote for one candidate for each of the four districts listed on the ballot. They also may vote for one of the other candidates listed on the ballot regardless of district. (By this means a fifth member will be elected by the board.) However, each voter may vote for only five persons and no more than two per district.

Tippecanoe Valley Corporation consists of:

- 1st District—Harrison Twp.
- 2nd. District—Seward Twp.
- 3rd. District—Franklin Twp.
- 4th. District—Henry Twp.

There is no limitation to the number of persons who can file for the posts. However, a candidate with the highest number of votes in a district will represent that district, regardless of his total vote. If he is the only candidate in the district he is automatically elected regardless of his vote.

The fifth (at large) school board member will be a candidate receiving the largest number of total votes (in all districts) after the four district members are selected.

SCHOOL AREAS
ANNOUNCED

A special meeting of the Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation was held Monday night in the Beaver Dam gymnasium, with approximately 200 school patrons in attendance. All members of the school board were present.

After the minutes of the previous meeting were read and properly approved, board members Lawrence Butts, Earl Boggs and Paul Fites presented plans for school attendance areas.

Mr. Butts' plan divided the district into four units with grades 1-6 at Atwood, Beaver Dam and Burket; grades 1-12 at Mentone and Akron; grades 7-12 of Atwood and Seward to Mentone and Franklin to Akron.

Paul Fites presented a plan by the Henry township school advisory committee which was very similar to Mr. Butts' plan except the school corporation was divided into two units, north and south with the Sevastopol road (700 S.) as the dividing line. Akron and Mentone would have grades 1-12 with grades 7-12 in Seward and Franklin townships to go north or south (Mentone or Akron) according to the area in which they resided. Burket and Beaver Dam would have grades 1-6, with administrative privilege to place fringe area students to either Akron or Mentone.

Mr. Boggs suggested a three-unit system with grades 1-8 at Burket (9-12 of the Seward area to Mentone), and Mentone and Akron grades 1-12. Board choice for Atwood students. The Beaver Dam school would be closed.

Board members Delford Nelson and Lowell Leckrone had no plans to openly present.

The assembled patrons were closely divided on the plans of Mr. Butts and Mr. Fites, and indicated they would have been satisfied with either.

The board recessed for an executive session and returned to the meeting, and on a motion by Earl Boggs and seconded by Delford Nelson, approved the following plan, which was essentially the same as the one made public the week previous. It is as follows:

1. Harrison township plus the northern portion of Franklin township (Lash Road) included as an attendance area for Mentone grades 1 thru 6 and 9 thru 12, with the exception that all students grades 1 thru 6 from the Atwood area which had previously attended Atwood school

New Students To Register Now

John Frederick, principal of the Mentone school, announces that all new high school students who haven't enrolled should do so at their earliest convenience.

Book lists for grades 1 to 6 and 9 to 12 are now available, and books are on hand ready for sale. Office hours 8 to 4 daily.

All books will remain the same as last year except for the High School Commercial Class.

CORN SHELTER HANDLE
HARD ON THE HEAD

Brett, 9 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Miner, suffered an L-shaped gash on his forehead which required 12 stitches to close, Sunday afternoon at the Brownie Miner farm. The handle on an old corn sheller remained in motion and hit the lad on the head.

SNAKE CAUSES ACCIDENT

Mrs. Lee Norris lost control of her auto Sunday morning after a huge snake crossed the road in front of her. The auto crashed into a concrete corner post west of Mentone about a mile and a half of Road 500 south.

A daughter, Cindy, aged 3½ months, suffered a bump on her head and the auto was damaged some four hundred dollars.

NEW DAUGHTER

Mr. and Mrs. L. Wayne Kelley of Sevastopol have received word of the birth of a daughter, Leslie Cariene, born to Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth K. Kelley at Spokane, Washington July 19th. She weighed nine pounds 12½ ounces.

may attend that school if they so desire.

2. Remainder of Franklin township plus all of Henry township as the Akron attendance area for grades 1 thru 6 and 9 thru 12.

3. Beaver Dam school as an attendance area for grades 7 and 8 for Franklin, Henry and Harrison townships.

4. Seward township as an attendance area for grades 1 thru 8 at Burket school.

5. High school students from Seward township may attend Mentone or Akron high schools.

6. Individual consideration to be given by the school board for transfers of students 7 thru 12.

Board voting on the above plan was: Boggs, Nelson, Leckrone and Butts, yes; Fites, no.

COUNTERPOINT

By The Editor's Wife

We spent last week at Burt Lake, in Michigan. (We're taking our vacation in "hitches.") Lisa, Tim and their mother were with us. We made a couple of trips across the lake to what we call Driftwood Beach. One never picks up anything so very special, but each trip found us with our hands and pockets full of sun-bleached, water-worn treasures, (many of which were discarded, eventually).

It is very exciting to discover fresh deer tracks near the water's edge or at the springs. (This stretch of land is in a government reserve and is undeveloped.)

Tim made a very capable skipper going home to the cottage. The rest of us helped navigate by sighting for the white flag pole in our front yard. (The fact that there is another white flagpole in our area complicates matters. One has to be certain that he is heading for the right one.)

Since so much untruth is being printed by Communistic media, we wish to submit the following for your information. Any group which is fighting Communism has our support, even though we are not members of same.

The Efficiency Research Bureau, a private investigating firm, completed a thorough investigation of the John Birch Society in Orange County, Calif. A five-man team of investigators, including a Negro clergyman, sat in on numerous meetings and accumulated a wealth of data on the John Birch Society and its operation. The investigating team arrived at 14 conclusions based upon their extensive research.

The findings of the bureau are reported in the March 1962 issue of the Santa Ana Register, a local newspaper. Congressman John H. Rousselot, under unanimous consent, placed the report in the register of the Congressional Record on June 14, 1962.

It read as follows:
1. "Many of the allegations and rumors against the John Birch Society could not be supported by fact.

2. "The John Birch Society is open to anyone interested in joining or attending meetings.

3. "It's not a secret organization, but rather groups meeting for discussion of views and ways

It requires an average of only 20 seconds to bring any one of them to view from among the 500,000 microfilmed pages. Flame cutting of metal parts has received a boost with a new automatic control system that guides multiple torch machines electronically. The National Cylinder Gas System, called the X-Y coordinate drive, can translate a simple pencil drawing into as many finished parts as desired. The drawing can be used repeatedly since it is touched only by a beam of light from the control's photoelectric scanning system. Flame cutting is used when the metal plate is too heavy to be stamped or the number of parts to be made is too few to justify the expense of making a die.

U.S. Standard of Living would sink to the level of the great depression of the 1930's after a large scale nuclear attack, according to the National Planning Association. But, the group added, the nation would be off its knees again within months if a well planned recovery program were put into effect immediately.

Nile crocs have rocks in their bellies. This information comes from the Zoological Society of London, which reports that the beasts swallow about ten pounds of stones. Reason? Crocodiles are top heavy and wallow in water like empty cargo ships. Stones act as ballast.

Something you should think about if you're about to buy a truck:

If all trucks were built the same way, cost the same to keep up, were worth the same at trade-in . . . then probably the price tag would be your only concern. It can't be, of course, because some trucks have more quality than others. And marks of quality are the real keys to low cost.

Chevrolet trucks, for example, have double-wall construction, which gives bodies and cabs more strength. Cabs are insulated against heat, cold and noise. A big part of road shock, which shortens truck life, is damped out by Chevrolet's suspension system; it also makes riding in the truck a pleasure. Pickup bodies and cabs are separated to eliminate stress between them.

Value such as this has induced more people to invest in Chevrolet trucks every year since 1937.

This can be a good time to buy a modern new Chevrolet truck

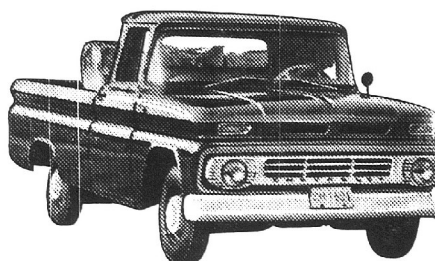

Late summer traditionally is the season for all-around savings on a new Chevrolet truck . . . selection is still good . . . deliveries are prompt . . . and Chevrolet dealers are doubly anxious to put you into a new vehicle in order to make way for next year's models. Coupled with the efficient performance a new Chevrolet truck will give you, it seems evident that you couldn't buy at a better time.

Come in and take full advantage of it!

Start A New Lawn Soon

The best time to start a new lawn, reminds Don Scheer, Purdue University extension horticulturist, is between Aug. 15 and Sept. 15.

Lawns seeded then get off to a fast start because grass seed germinates well, fall rains help your new lawn along and the cooler weather, as the season progresses, encourages strong turf growth.

Scheer recommends you add 20 pounds of 10-3-7 fertilizer, or its equivalent, per 1,000 square feet. The fertilizer should be mixed well into the soil surface before you sow the seed.

In sunny areas, plant bluegrass. In shady areas, you should use seed mixtures containing some Red Fescue. Any grass mixture should contain at least 25 per cent-or better still 50 per cent-quality bluegrass.

For best seed germination keep the soil surface moist for at least three weeks after sowing adds Scheer.

Don't Keep Pantry Pests

Those tiny pests visiting your pantry and contaminating flour, cake mixes and other foods are costing you money, say Purdue University extension entomologists.

These insects destroy and contaminate food and are annoying when crawling or flying around the kitchen. To control these pests, identify the insect and determine the source of infestation.

Major offenders are bran bugs, meal moths, bean and pea weevils and grain moths.

Prevention is the best control, according to the entomologists. Store susceptible materials in tight glass or metal containers. Try to buy food in quantities small enough to be used before infestation occurs.

Dispose of any infested foods. Clean and wash cabinet areas with soap and water. Then apply five per cent DDT spray to cabinets. Do not allow DDT to come in contact with food or eating utensils. After the DDT has dried, recline the shelves and replace the needed materials.

Bran bugs are small reddish brown beetles usually no larger than the diameter of a match stick. The larvae are small yellowish-white grubs imbedded in the infested material.

Meal moths may grow to one half inch in length. They have gray wings, usually with dark colored tips. The larvae are pinkish-white and make a web of the material in which they live.

Grain moths are very similar in size and color to meal moths, but live in whole kernels of grain.

Bean and pea weevils are short, stout-bodied beetles, brown in color and flecked with black, gray and white. They make the circular holes found in dried beans and peas.

NEWS NOTES

from our

County Agent

DONALD E. FRANTZ

This is the critical time of year for soil moisture. The use by plants is at a high rate and evaporation is at its peak. Late July and early August are water deficit periods.

We receive about 40 inches of rain a year in northern Indiana, about half of it during the growing season. The southern part of the state gets more water than we do but more of it comes during the winter months, only about 40 per cent during the growing season and they have a longer season.

Of the 40 inches we get, all of it goes somewhere. Our soils will hold some but not enough. We could estimate that 4 inches go into soil moisture and about 8 inches goes in run-off. The big loss is in evaporation which removes about 28 inches of the 40 we receive. These are averages of course, and wouldn't apply to any one year.

Corn needs about an inch of rain a week and with half our rain coming in the growing season, this is about what we would get. The problem is in the distribution of rain fall some weeks it rains and some it doesn't. Our conservation program is by por-per tiling and proper care of the land and by improving soil structure we can get the land into a condition so it can store four or five inches of rain. Then we can live through a drought and still have an inch of water a week.

* * *

Some of our maple trees had a lot of trouble this year in providing an adequate leaf system. The trees were "puny" all summer. Here are some tips on pruning back some of these trees this fall to give them a better chance to develop a full leaf system next year.

Prune your maple tree in the summer, since winter pruning is likely to result in severe "bleeding" with damaging effects to the trees.

Purdue University horticulturists point out that an easy way to prune young maple trees is to use the central leader system. Don't prune the main trunk, but remove multiple leaders which make a narrow angle with the main trunk. Also, remove some of the lateral branches that make a narrow angle with the main trunk. Narrow angled branches are weak.

To make your trees more "liveable," gradually trim along the side until the lowest branch is six to eight feet from the ground, so you can walk under it without bumping your head or stooping.

Prune all except very old maple trees by shaping them to retain their natural form and by removing dead, interfering and overlopping branches. Diseased and broken branches, as well as inner, unnecessary branches, should also be removed.

If you have properly trimmed your maple trees when they are young, the horticulturists say that probably all you'll have to do when the are old is to remove dead wood.

HOW TO PLANT EVERGREENS

Mid-August to September is the best time to plant needed evergreens like yews and junipers, says Don Scheer, Purdue University extension horticulturist. Planting in late summer gives them time to become established this fall and ready to grow next spring.

When transplanting, dig a hole twice as wide and six inches deeper than the ball of roots. Prepare a mixture of $\frac{1}{4}$ peat moss and $\frac{3}{4}$ good top soil, and add $1\frac{1}{2}$ to 2 pounds of 10-8-6 fertilizer, or its equivalent, to each 100 square feet of shrub bed. Then fill the hole with the mixture.

Scheer recommends planting evergreens two inches deeper than they grew in the nursery. Don't pack soil around the plant with your feet, since you may break the roots. Instead settle the soil with water. After the planting is finished give the plant additional water.

And, reminds the horticulturist, continue to water evergreens in the winter since they lose moisture through their leaves throughout the year.

Farm and Home Show At Fair

"Milestones in American Agriculture" will be the theme of this year's Pioneer Farm and Home Show at the Indiana State Fair Aug. 25 to Sept. 5 in Indianapolis.

Significant mechanical and technological changes of the last century will be stressed at the exhibit in the grandstand balcony. Advances in soil preparation, planting, cultivation and harvesting will be featured.

A replica of a pioneer Hoosier log cabin will be furnished with mid-nineteenth century furniture and utensils.

Center piece of the exhibit will be an authentic reproduction of Cyrus McCormick's original reaper.

Maurice L. Williamson, executive secretary of the Purdue Ag Alumni Association, sponsor of the show, said a contest will be held to identify five agricultural hand tools.

Visitors can fill in names on cards available at the exhibit. First prize will be a pair of tickets to the Purdue-Indiana football game at Lafayette, Nov. 24.

Hoosier farm residents will have about three thousand accidents during August, estimate Purdue University farm safety specialists.

FARM FACTS

Heifers should become accustomed to the milking time routine before they are added to the dairy herd. This should be done four to six weeks before they freshen, according to Purdue University extension dairy-men.

Indiana farmers expect to raise 12,464,000 young chickens (excluding commercial broilers) this year. State-Federal agricultural statisticians at Purdue University say this is an 11 per cent decrease from 1961 and the lowest number of record.

Best control for horn flies and face flies on beef cattle is a cable rubber of the inverted V type, according to Purdue University entomologists. It can be charged with five per cent DDT, five per cent toxaphene, five per cent methoxychlor or one per cent ronnel.

PESTS OF THE FLOWER GARDEN

A well kept flower garden is an attractive sight around any home. But it can soon become an eye sore if not protected against insect pests.

Mimeo E-70, "Insect Pests of the Flower Garden," prepared by the entomology department at Purdue University, deals with 16 common pests that attack outdoor flowering plants. This two-page publication shows what the insects look like, briefly describes the damage they do and lists recommended control measures for each.

Single copies of Mimeo E-70 are available free to Indiana residents from their county extension agent's office or the agricultural publications office.

COVER CROPS IMPROVE SOIL

Build a good garden soil—a soil that is easy to work, that doesn't bake when it's dry, and that drains well, but still holds water—by planting a cover crop.

Purdue University extension horticulturists recommend winter cover crops be planted early. About August 15 is ideal for the best growth. This is about the time of the last cultivation in such vegetables as sweet corn, peppers and eggplant. Sow over the garden area.

Ryegrass is a favorite cover crop and it starts easily. Plant one to two pounds per 1000 square feet.

Before you plant, add fertilizer. Twenty pounds per 1000 sq. feet is sufficient. Sow seed, rake it into the surface and water to get the seed to sprout, advise the horticulturists.

In a few days there will be luxurious growth that will improve the garden's winter appearance. And when the cover crop is turned under next spring you'll be building a real soil.

RESTYLE DRESSES FOR SCHOOL

If your daughter sprouted out of last year's school dresses over the summer, do not despair. Use your ingenuity to alter these dresses for another season's wear, suggests Frieda Stoll, clothing specialist at Purdue.

If the garment still fits thru the waist and shoulders, much can be done to lengthen the skirt and give the dress a "new look."

Rickrack and embroidered braid are fashionable touches to circle the hems of skirts. A row of bright rickrack will cover the crease of a let down hem and form the base for an attractive design. Use three or four rows of rickrack in the same or harmonizing colors and trim the neck line and armscye or sleeves, too.

Sometimes the hem allowance is not adequate for the desired length. In this case, Miss Stoll suggests adding a band of harmonizing fabric to the skirt. Be sure to use similar weight fabric. Using the same fabric for trimming the blouse gives a costume look. A collar and cuffs, an applique, a belt or sash of the new fabric will give the dress a new appearance.

If the blouse is tight through the chest and sleeves, Miss Stoll suggests removing the sleeves to make a sleeveless dress. This may give enough room to make the dress comfortable and wearable. You may like to convert the dress into a jumper to solve this same problem.

Liberal trimming, changing the collar, or adding a matching sweater can make a little girl feel as if she has a new dress. Flower and animal appliques make attractive trims.

POULTRY EQUIPMENT PLAN BOOK

A book of poultry equipment plans has just been published by the Midwest Plan Service, reports John E. Mentzer, agricultural engineer at Purdue University.

In developing this 28-page book of plans, Mentzer says engineers and poultry men from 13 states have collected and assembled the best ideas.

Feed bins, disposal pits, egg handling rooms, nests and feeders are a few of the many items of equipment detailed in working drawings. As well as containing many items of equipment for chickens, the plan book also has plans of equipment for turkeys, pigeons and rabbits.

Examples of laying house arrangements are illustrated, and information on insulation, ventilation and lighting of poultry houses is included.

Mentzer says this plan book would be a very valuable reference to anyone engaged in the poultry business.

A copy of the Poultry Equipment Plan book may be obtained for $1 from county agricultural extension offices in Indiana or from the Farm Building Plan Service, Agricultural Engineering Department, Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind.

Control Of Scale Insects

The second generation of small, frequently inconspicuous scale insects which suck sap from ornamental shrubs and trees can be controlled now with chemicals.

These newly hatched scale insects, called crawlers, are not yet protected by a waxy covering, explains D. L. Schuder, Purdue University research entomologist.

While about 80 different kinds of these insects occur in Indiana, four are particularly subject to control in mid-summer. They are the brown race of the oystershell scale, the pine needle scale, the juniper scale and the euonymus scale.

Brown race of oystershell scale commonly infests apple, ash, Lombardy poplar, dogwood, redbud, silver maple and hybrid lilacs. Pine needle attacks spruce, Douglas fir yews and Mugho pine. The juniper scale attacks nearly all of the commonly grown junipers or cedars.

All of these can be controlled by spraying with malathion, Schouder says. The general recommendation is two to four teaspoons of 57 per cent emulsion concentrate per gallon of water. Other insecticides effective against scales include diazinon, Guthion, and ethion. Regardless of the insecticide used, add a wetting agent, such as household detergent, to insure contact with the insects.

Malathion can also be used to control euonymus scale, but because it has three generations this insect is harder to control per year. Sprays must be repeated at seven to ten day intervals after the initial crawler spray, continuing until late September.

Why Do Brainy Children Fail

High-ability 'Underachievers' bright children whose school work falls far short of their ability are usually the frustrated victims of confused parents and incapable teachers, reports the University of Rochester College of Education. A new University program is aimed at scrutinizing and correcting this type of child in a school located in an upper-middle-class Rochester suburb, grades 4, 8 and 10 have been designated "checkpoints years" during which a group therapy approach will be used in an attempt to change the damaging attitudes of child, parent and teacher.

Keeping fit should be fun, especially for those over 30 years of age according to Dr. Warren Guild, Harvard Medical School. The doctor, a former marathon runner, suggests that exercises such as hiking, cycling, swimming, rowing, mountain climbing and running are excellent for attaining physical fitness. But only, he insists, if they're indulged in for fun and not on a grim-duty basis.... Dropping a newly designed home movie camera in the lake will be no cause for concern. The camera, an underwater model, will simply float to the top.

Art and Literature may be a matter of taste but it takes TASTE to concentrate orange juice and other liquid fluids before canning, reports Votator. The letters are acronym for the company's new "Thermally Accelerated Short Time Evaporator"... Snails as small as grains of sand live in some brackish semitropical waters, says the Smithsonian Institution. These "sand grain" snails are so small that they are very often not recognized as living creatures, except by experts.

The Cattle and Buffalo population of the world is estimated by the U. S. Department of Agriculture at 1,035,000,000 head, an increase of 20,000,000 over 1961. World hog numbers during the same period increased 4 per cent to 483,000,000.... A 'Radically New' experimental cotton-spinning machine, developed by the Department, may open the way toward automating the country's archaic production methods.

Hurried, Harried Housewives will reel at the thought of a new electronic range that uses a microwave power source to cook eggs in 22 seconds, cupcakes in 40 seconds, a layer cake in 3 minutes and a 5-pound roast in 30 minutes. Absorption of radio frequency waves by the food produces the heat to cook it.

in which to fight the international Communist conspiracy.

4. "The majority of John Birch Society members don't support or agree with many of the statements of Robert Welch, the society's founder; they seldom disagree with him on policy.

5. "Each chapter is independent and each member cooperates with chapter, state and national views according to the dictates of his own conscience.

6. "Efficiency Research Bureau meetings have found groups as small as 15 and as large as 59 at a single meeting. About 15 seemed to be preferred.

7. "All indications show that the John Birch Society anti-Communist movement is growing continuously and steadily.

8. "Utilizing both white and colored investigators, it was learned the John Birch Society isn't anti-Semitic, anti-Negro, or anti any religious group. That they, in fact, have chapters comprised entirely of colored membership. Also, it was found the John Birch Society has Jewish members on the national advisory council.

9. "Investigators found no evidence of violence or unlawful activity engaged in by the John Birch Society.

10. "Investigators did learn that there were individuals who carried personal prejudices with them into the organization. It was learned the John Birch Society works to isolate persons with such prejudice. If a whole chapter is found to share certain prejudices the area coordinators try to disseminate such groups.

11. "Investigators learned that there is a John Birch Society major co-ordinator for Orange, Los Angeles, and San Bernardino Counties and he has two co-ordinators directly under him.

12. "Investigators expected to find a dictatorship and didn't find it.

13. "The society as a whole works very hard to make sure that the John Birch Society isn't used as a vehicle to promote prejudices.

14. "Investigative work included checking out documented information by factfinding groups which is used as a basis for some John Birch Society work."

If you are interested in obtaining a copy of this testimony and further information about the John Birch Society write to Box 93, New Haven, Indiana.

We enjoyed this:

The teacher asked the class to list, in their opinions, the nine greatest living Americans. After a while she stopped at one student's desk and asked, "Have you finished your list yet, Bobby?"

"Not quite," Bobby answered with a worried look. "I can't decide on the shortstop."

CORRECTION

In our last issue the Linotype operator "jumped" from one paragraph to another without completing the type for either in the Merry 4-H story on ribbon winners. The correct wording (we trust) is as follows:

Foods, Division II. Girls receiving blue ribbons with their butter cakes are Susie Witham and Diane Cole. Kay Bules received a red ribbon and Jacqueline Pritchard a white ribbon.

Foods, Division III, with their pineapple, upside-down cakes, Sharon Lewis received a blue ribbon, Becky Hunter a red ribbon, and Donna Bules a white

Home Furnishing, Division I, Susie Witham a blue ribbon for her bulletin board; Linda Bowerman a red ribbon and Donna Bules a white ribbon for waste paper baskets.

COUNTERPOINT

By The Editor's Wife

We are pre-occupied, — at least, occupied with problems of "who is going to school where," but that is not one of the real problems of education.

There are problems of much greater scope to be solved, and one of these has to do with the gifted child.

Joseph N. Bell, writing in the September issue of Lion says, "These youngsters possess a precious asset: superior intelligence. It's one of the great tragedies of our time that the gifted child has been recklessly and shamefully wasted, not only in our scientific and ideological race with the Soviets but, more importantly, in the general advancement of man's good. And you can be sure that a proportionate share of these extra bright youngsters are right in your own town."

He quotes Josephine Strode, sociologist, college professor and now head of a school for superior children near Chicago.

"One of the most difficult things about working with the gifted child is the belief, generally held, that he doesn't need any help—that left alone he'll make his way all right. This is nonsense. We spend millions of dollars every year helping the mentally retarded and the physically handicapped, but practically nothing to save and develop the genius of the gifted child. Yet, in the long run, the solutions to the very problems to which we devote so much time and money must come from these intellectuals that are now being wasted."

Next week—How to recognize the superior child.

Here is a suggestion for iced tea (it works for Kool Ade, too.) Make tea extra strong and add sugar and dissolve in hot tea (which should not be made until you are nearly ready to serve.) Fill glasses with ice cubes and pour hot tea over them.

This reprint of a set of office rules for the year 1872 may give us a new slant on "the good old days."

1. Office employees will daily sweep floors, dust the furniture, shelves, and show cases.
2. Each day fill lamps, clean chimneys and trim wicks. Wash the windows once a week.
3. Each clerk will bring in a

Ruling On School Board Candidates

It has been announced that officials have decided that candidates for the school board of the new Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation must file as candidates either for their district or the at-large district. (The wording in the corporation indicated five districts, and it was presumed that the "at-large" wording meant the "fifth district.")

Denton Abbey and Eldon Horn have filed as candidates from Harrison township, and Edward Bucher and Leroy Norris, of Franklin township, have filed as "at-large" candidates.

September 1 is the deadline for candidates to file. The election will be on a non-partisan basis.

SCHOOL ADMINISTRATOR
MOVES INTO OFFICES HERE

Wednesday Mr. Robert Forbes, school administrator for the Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation, moved into their new offices over the Farmers State Bank building Wednesday.

RUSTLERS?

Livestock appears to be disappearing from Mentone area farms, and farmers should keep a close count on all their livestock.

Recently five sows disappeared from the Edison Tucker farm and Dean Nellans, Sr. found two of his steers missing. A later check, we are told, revealed six hogs also missing.

WITH THE SICK

Mr. and Mrs. Noah Reichard entered the Hillcrest Nursing Home in Warsaw Saturday.

Randy Yazel had a tonsillectomy Wednesday at the Murphy Medical Center in Warsaw.

Mrs. Etta Halterman has been confined to her home with illness.

Loren Tridle returned on Monday after having surgery at the Woodlawn Hospital in Rochester two weeks ago.

Chester Manwaring has been improving in the Murphy Medical Center after surgery performed last week.

Mrs. Harold Markley returned from the Murphy Medical Center Friday noon, having had minor surgery Wednesday.

Mrs. Nellie Riner is in the Murphy Medical Center recovering from a blood clot in her leg. Her condition is improving.

SCHOOLS TO OPEN
ON AUGUST 31

Friday, August 31, will be organization day for the schools in the Tippecanoe Valley district. School doors will open at 8:00 a. m.

No school will be held on Monday, Sept. 3, and the first full day of school will be September 4th.

Closing day of school, according to the calendar submitted by Principal John Frederick, will be May 23.

A teacher organization meeting will be held at the Mentone school on Thursday, Aug. 30 at 2:00 p. m.

"KNOW YOUR CIVIL DEFENSE"

That is the theme of a public meeting to be held at the Mentone town hall on Wednesday evening, Sept. 5 at 8:00 p. m.

John J. Scott, Mentone community leader for civil defense, says there will be no long talks, but questions on civil defense will be answered. Farmers and citizens are urged to attend and bring any questions they may have.

Milo Clase, county director of Civil Defense, will be present.

SCALDED BY RADIATOR

Chet Smith, who moved his garage last week from the Leroy Cox building to the Rex Tucker Auto Sales, south of town, suffered painful burns on his face and neck Saturday morning as he was testing a repaired auto.

Mr. Smith had filled the radiator and had run the motor of the auto a little prior to a check-out of the repairs. The motor did not overheat, and the water was not boiling, but evidently a quantity of trapped air in the system let loose and sprayed the hot water in his face and neck.

Sept. 13 Closing Date On Directory

The new 1962 telephone directory for Atwood, Bourbon, Burket, Claypool, Etna Green,
Mentone, Millwood, and Tippe-cannoe is now being compiled, according to C. J. Lohman, division manager of General Telephone.
It also includes listings for telephone customers in Akron, Sidney, Silver Lake, Argos, Cromwell, LaPaz, Leesburg, Milford, North Webster, Pierceton, Plymouth Syracuse, Walkerton, and Warsaw. The last day customers can make changes in the listings is September 13.

For the new directory, correct initials, names, and addresses are necessary to assure complete and adequate representation, he states. "It is surprising how often the directory is turned to for such information as well as for telephone numbers. Customers should call the business office promptly if any changes are to be made in their listings", Lohman emphasized.

He reminded business customers as well that the September 13 cutoff date applies to yellow page listings and advertisements.

The company's communication consultant is featured on the back of this year's directory.
He will survey business communications systems at no cost and recommend services or equipment that can speed up daily business transactions.

Beetles On Shrubs, Lawns

Homeowners are advised to be watchful for the presence of Japanese beetles in shrubs, roses and lawns says Donald E. Frantz, County Agricultural Agent. The beetles are in the adult stage during the next few weeks and can be easily seen as they feed on leaves and fruit. The Japanese beetle is probably the most destructive lawn and shrub insect known and can be identified by its bright green body, metallic bronze wings and distinctive white spots immediately back of the wings. It is hard shelled, rounded and about three eighths inch in length.

It is most destructive in the grub or larva stage as it feeds on root systems. Entire lawns have been known to be destroyed in severe cases. Treatment can be made by using soil chemicals that are inexpensive. The control recommendations are available at the County Extension office.

Kosciusko County has been free of this beetle for a number of years, however, several infestations have been seen in the Warsaw area this summer. Positive identification can be made by calling the Agricultural Extension Service.

JUVENILE CRIMINALS STUDIED AT HARVARD

'Streetcorner research' is the name of a Harvard University project aimed at having juvenile delinquents talk themselves out of their apathy and hostility by talking about themselves into a tape recorder. The project (named after the corner of Bow Street and Massachusetts Avenue in Cambridge where University psychologists met the first of the program's young criminals) has proved a success. After the unusual therapy was completed, the psychologists report, arrests and time spent in prison for one "Streetcorner" group were only half those of a similar group. All subjects were picked from police records.

Static electricity, which is hazardous in an operating room where potentially explosive oxygen and anesthetic gases are administered, can be effectively policed with a new alarm system called the "Staticator." An antenna, connected to a wall-mounted control box, instantly detects any increase in the atmosphere's static charge and sets off a buzzer and blinking light to warn attendants.

A rocket nose cone entering the earth's atmosphere generates enough heat to cook a turkey in three seconds, according to the National Aviation Education Council.

Frozen chickens are being fired into jet engines by the Federal Aviation Agency at a New Jersey test location. Why? The FAA is trying to determine how to avoid tragedies like the one in Boston on Oct. 4, 1960, when a turbo-prop plane sucked starlings into its engines on takeoff, lost power and crashed, killing 62 persons.

Glass shotgun barrels can be stronger than steel. About 500 miles of silvery glass filament is wound tightly around a mandrel to make the barrel. Hoop-tension strength of filament-wound products reportedly can exceed 150,000 pounds per square inch, greater than the strength of steel.

atom until it was smashed — isn't known. But science has advanced closer to it with the discovery of the "eta meson" by Physicists of Northwestern and John Hopkins universities. This incredibly tiny particle would have to be magnified 100 billion times to be seen by the human eye. Clouds of mesons surround the neutrons and protons composing the atom's dense nucleus.

The flourishing health "tonic" business in Great Britain has received a withering blast from the Consumers' Association, an English testing firm. After examining 40 tonics available without prescription in retail stores, the association pronounced most of them "practically useless" and some "possibly harmful."

A SEMAPHORE ON LIFE'S PATHWAY

The lighted "Go" sign on the traffic signal, with the steeple of the church nearby, is a happy, thought-provoking combination—as if directing and also welcoming the passerby to go to church.

The Church may well be likened to a semaphore for directing the traffic of everyday living, pointing out the highway to a full, happy, useful and dedicated life. Warning also against wrong roads which, when taken by human kind, lead to a breaking of themselves while trying to break the laws of right and proper living.

The Church, through faithful attendance, can and will direct each one along a street of FAITH that leads to the building of a dynamic personality whose service award will be, "Well Done . . ."

Safety On School Buses

Now that yellow school buses soon will be rolling over Hoosier highways again, motorists should be thoroughly familiar with regulations covering their conduct, remind Purdue University safety specialists.

The buses are painted yellow in order that they will be more conspicuous on the thoroughfares.

Purdue safety specialists point out that special precautions are to be taken when there is a possibility the school bus will be stopped out of view of the motorist because of a hill, curve, fog or rain.

Motorists are required, except on multiple-lane highways divided by a strip 20 feet or more wide, to come to a full stop at least 10 feet to the front or rear of the bus which is loading or unloading children, depending on the direction the motorist is traveling.

On such multiple-lane highways motorists need not stop if the school bus is halted on the opposite side, but should proceed with caution.

The safety specialists suggest that courtesy on the part of everyone will help prevent emergency situations involving the school buses and motorists.

Parents can be helpful by having children ready in plenty of time to board the bus. Bus drivers can aid by signaling intention to stop well in advance of the actual halt. And motorists should plan their travel schedule so that a slight delay because of school buses will not make them late.

SINCERE THANKS

My sincere thanks I now extend to every kind and loving friend. Mail, visits, gifts, and thoughtful prayers. All help to show you're one who cares. Thank You.

TO ATTEND STATE FAIR SCHOOL

Sally Albert, Linda Bouse, and Linda Smalley from Kosciusko County will attend the State Fair School for Girls of Home Economics, Aug. 24 to Sept. 2. They were selected upon consideration of their 4-H achievements, community service, and a recommendation from their 4-H leader.

The Indiana State Fair Board sponsors the school for girls each year to provide an annual activity by which young citizens of the state may be involved in an active way in a state wide event in order to increase their knowledge of the products of the state and nation.

The school is to help girls acquire as much knowledge of homemaking as is possible for their level of development.

Sally Albright, 16 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Albert, of Leesburg, is president of her girls 4-H club and secretary of the boys 4-H club. This year Sally was the county winner in foods and nutrition achievement. She attended the state 4-H junior leader conference this summer and was selected to represent her district on the 1963 state council. She is a senior at Leesburg and is in the band and chorus. She has been a cheerleader, on the school paper and annual staff, is president of her church youth group.

Linda Bouse, Silver Lake, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bouse. She has been an active 4-H member for eight years and has participated in the county dress revue, judging contests, share-the-fun contest and is a junior leader.

At Silver Lake High School, Linda is a member of the national Honor Society, Sunshine Society, Math Club, band and chorus. She is a worthy associate advisor of Rainbow.

Linda teaches a Sunday School class and has helped with Vacation Bible School.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Smalley of Beaver Dam are the parents of 17 year old Linda Smalley.

She has given demonstrations in district contests, participated in the share-the-fun festival, dress revue, and judging contests. She has completed eight years of 4-H work.

She attended Hoosier Girl's State this summer and was also in the Kosciusko County Fair Queen contest. She is assistant organist for her church and has been the pianist at Vacation Bible School. At school she has been in the band, chorus, acted as librarian, school play, and has been in the County Speech Festival.

Thirteen girls will be selected to return as Honor Girls for the 1963 school. Also, thirteen scholarships for further instructions in Indiana colleges and universities are available to girls making the best records in their high schools and in the state fair school of Home Economics.

NEWS NOTES

from our

County Agent

DONALD E. FRANTZ

Dr. Bill Daniel will be at Syracuse on August 27th for a lawn clinic. He is at Cornell University this week meeting with park superintendents, greenskeepers and others in the eastern states. Bill has been of great help to me, especially in the planning of the seeding program on the Rozella Ford golf course.

Here's a tip that I picked up from some greenhouse people the other day to make cut flowers last longer. They say cut the flowers early in the morning or in the evening so they are fresh to start with. Then recut about an inch off the stem with a slanting cut with a sharp knife. Remove all excess leaves and then put into water at 110 degrees and place in a cool, preferably dark room. This will cause the flowers to take up water and retain their natural stiffness.

The Southern Indiana Feeder Cattle Sales start September 13 and run through October 23. There are 15 sale dates at five different locations. They expect about 12,000 head to be offered this year. Their feeder pig sales are now under way with 24 sale dates.

These sales are co-operative affairs with producers of the feeder livestock organizing their own sales. They have grown from one sale with about 300 head in the past ten years. The quality has greatly improved in the last decade.

Members of the 4-H Sale Committee and department directors at the county fair are scheduled to meet on Wednesday evening to review fair policies and procedures. It would be so helpful to get suggestions for changes now rather than expecting revisions to be made after the fair starts.

The Governor's recent statement concerning the state's part in financing schools has again pin-pointed the fact that property taxes are the source of our school money.

A recent tax study made by the Farm Bureau in 31 counties found that 60.9 percent of tax money paid by farmers is property tax, 6.1 percent is gross tax and 33 percent of all his taxes is federal income tax. The average amount paid in property taxes was $936.98 per farm.

ATHLETE'S FOOT GERM
HOW TO KILL IT.
IN 3 DAYS.

If not pleased with strong, instant-drying T-4-L, your 48c back at any drug store. Watch infected skin slough off. Watch healthy skin replace it. Itch and burning are gone. TODAY at DENTON'S DRUG STORE.

Tax studies that I have made show that two-thirds or more of the property taxes in rural townships go for schools.

The property tax is much less important, percentage-wise, to other businesses. Wage earners pay more out in income taxes than in property taxes. The Indiana Gross tax and the federal income tax is about twice as high as property tax for the wage earner in the lower income group. For the wage and salary earner in the $20,000 bracket, income taxes run almost seven times more than does his property tax.

Manufacturers pay out nearly half of their tax dollar in the form of property taxes. Very little of the tax expense of retailers is for property tax, only about 5 percent of his total tax is payment on property tax, most of their tax load is in federal taxes.

Farmers do not generally make time and motion studies as to how much time it takes to do a particular job but they are pretty well aware of the importance of it. Many egg producers have taken much of the chore time out of feeding and watering but haven't eliminated it as well in the egg handling.

A recent study was made on 53 egg farms in New York state on farms which washed, graded and packed eggs in cartons. The number of dozens handled per man-hour ranged from 9.1 dozens to 82.4 dozens.

It is probable that few other farm jobs would have this wide a range of labor efficiency.

Shot In The Arm May Prove To Be Shot
In The Dark

As the hoped-for "shot in the arm" that everybody in government says the economy needs, the new guidelines on depreciation of capital equipment for taxes may prove to be something less than anticipated.

Government's motives in injecting this latest "sure cure" are unquestionably well-intentioned, but we question the need for all this medication. It appears that the federal government, in its role as doctor for the nation's ills, spends a great deal of time and effort trying to determine what is wrong with the patient, bolstering a pillow here and drawing the covers up a bit more tightly there.

Maybe if the doctor had more savvy, and left the patient alone, he might get better all by himself. If government would run its own activities with as much know-how, good horse sense and sound judgement as the average American businessman, the patient might get up and run a mile. —Printing Impressions.

Pink Eye In Cattle

Summer and fall are the seasons for pink eye in cattle, reminds Dr. F. A. Hall, extension veterinarian at Purdue University. Although principally a warm weather condition, it can occur at any time of the year.

A watery discharge from the corners of the affected eyes with inflammation of the eye lids is the first visible sign of pink eye, according to Dr. Hall. Severe attacks may result in cloudiness followed by ulceration of the eye ball. The pain associated with the condition causes the animal to squint and the fever results in a decreased appetite.

Pink eye is very contagious in cattle. The germs of the disease can be spread by direct contact with the affected animals or indirectly by way of flies, insects and dust. The disease usually appears on a farm after the introduction of feeder cattle or following newly purchased additions to the herd. The disease then spreads rapidly to any susceptible cattle.

Control depends upon the segregation of the newly acquired animals for 10 days or until the danger of infection has passed. If the disease appears in a herd, the affected cattle must be separated and placed in a darkened stable and allowed to graze only at night because light, dust, pollen and insects seem to aggravate the condition.

Chaff, beards of grain or foreign matter in an eye causes symptoms resembling pink eye; therefore it is necessary to have an accurate diagnosis made to determine the exact condition, followed by proper local treatment under the supervision of a veterinarian.

Watch For Bluecomb In Poultry

Late summer through early fall is the critical time for outbreaks of bluecomb disease in the maturing pullets, Joe W. Sicer, Purdue University extension poultryman, points out.

Its presence can be suspected whenever newly housed pullets, just getting started in to good production, suddenly lose their appetites, become listless, turn bluish in their comb and head parts, drop sharply in their lay and some, maybe many, die.

Sicer says the first hint of something wrong may be the failure of the pullets to clean up their feed as usual. Closer observation may show the bluish comb and a whitish watery diarrhea. Catch one of these birds and you are likely to find the crop is distended with sour smelling contents.

In later stages the shanks appear shriveled with the veins appearing more prominent than normal. None of these symptoms is specific for bluecomb, but they are highly indicative when found in maturing pullets, especially just after a hot spell. A diagnosis by a veterinarian is highly desirable.

The cause of bluecomb is not known, but a filterable virus is suspected. It usually occurs following some stress upon the birds such as hot weather, onset of egg production, moving or vaccination.

Sicer urges that all vaccinations be completed well ahead of the start of egg production, that extra waterers be provided during hot spells and fans be used, if practical, to aid in cooling. Extra cleanliness and sanitary precautions should be practiced during the critical period.

Use of muriate of potash, one tablespoon per gallon of water has been helpful in treating outbreaks. Poultrymen should have some on hand ready for prompt use.

Various antibiotics, such as streptomycin, terramycin, aureomycin and others, in the drinking water have given good results. They should be used at the high levels recommended by their manufacturers.

Motorists: Prepare For Opening of Schools

Governor Matthew E. Welsh has joined with J. J. Cavanagh, president of the Chicago Motor Club, in reminding motorists of their added responsibilities as nearly a million Indiana children prepare to return to school during a two week period starting Aug. 27.

They have stressed that increased traffic and record breaking school attendance would require motorists to be more cautious and considerate than ever before while driving in the vicinity of schools.

As part of the "School's Open" campaign, the Chicago Motor Club has mailed traffic safety posters to school and municipal officials in its Indiana territory.

The School Safety Patrol, pioneered by the motor club in 1920, again will be guarding crossings in more than 500 public and parochial schools.

The Patrol in Indiana consists of approximately 10,000 boys and girls. Cavanagh praised their efforts in saving countless thousands of potential traffic victims among their classmates.

The motor club president also lauded cooperation between school officials, parents, children and motorists, and said their continued efforts were essential for a safe 1962-63 school year.

The neighborhood children have had a busy time under our old Wolf River (?) apple tree this past week. During the passing seasons we have ignored these apples which are large and showy, but also hard and flavorless (we thought.) But this does not bother the children. They have worked tirelessly shaking the old tree and putting the fruit of their labors in paper sacks. The fruit may be lacking in certain qualities, but there will be many pleasant memories to recall in years to come.

Quote:

"There are too many people praying for mountains of difficulty to be removed, when what they really need is courage to climb them."

We enjoyed this:

An absent-minded professor had a decidedly bad taste in his mouth one morning so he stopped in to see his family doctor. "Pulse seems to be all right," the doctor said after a quick check. "Stick out your tongue." The professor did, and the doctor looked. "Hmm," he observed. "It looks okay, but why the postage stamp?" "Oh," the professor said happily, "so that's where I left it!"

The Chicago Motor Club points out that following the car ahead too closely is a major cause of traffic accidents. A sudden stop by the car ahead means trouble unless you are driving at an extremely slow speed. A good rule of thumb is to allow at least one car length of distance for every 10 mph.

BOTTLE BURIED IN CORNER OF BUILDING

—Polaroid Photo

The picture above shows Mr. Raymond Cooper as he was placing a sealed bottle in the corner of Coopers' Store building which is now being remodelled.

A couple of weeks ago, as the workmen were tearing off the old brick, found a metal box containing a number of items placed there when the building was first built. There was a letterhead of Manwaring Bros. and a business card of Henry Eiler, grandfather of C. O. Eiler who was a justice of the peace and attorney.

Some of the items placed in the sealed bottle by the Coopers were 1962 coins from 1c to 50c, a letter explaining what was being done to the building, and other bits of information, a letterhead of C. O. Eiler who is the present justice of the peace; a copy of the Mentone News relating to the finding of the original box, a picture of Mr. and Mrs. Cooper and son David, etc.

All was sealed in a glass apothecary bottle donated by Denton Abbey, which is almost an antique today—and one wonders what its value may be the next time it is dug up.

Mr. Cooper hopes to have the store pretty well completed in the next couple of weeks.

V. B. S. Final Program At First Baptist

The demonstration program of the First Baptist Church will be presented at 7:30 Sunday evening, Aug. 26, in the church auditorium. At the close of the program parents and friends of the pupils are invited to tour the department rooms of the church where handcraft work done by the pupils will be on display. At this time they also will have an opportunity to meet their children's teachers.

The total enrollment of the school this year was 110 pupils who were instructed by 20 volunteer teachers. We wish to thank these teachers, whose faithful labors made it possible for us to conduct the school.

Skilled 4-H tractor operators will compete in a tractor operator's contest Thursday, Aug. 30, at the Indiana State Fair in Indianapolis, starting at 8 a.m. in the coliseum.

Drivers in the senior contest, ages 15 to 21, and in the junior contest, ages 10 to 15—all winners in nine district contests—will vie for the state championship and a chance to compete in the 1962 Central and Western United States regional contest, Sept. 9-11, at Ohio State University, Columbus, Ohio.

Club members will demonstrate their knowledge of tractor maintenance and skill in safe tractor operation.

Charles Gosney, assistant 4-H state club leader, and C. L. Also, each contestant will receive a $10 cash prize and a 4-H T-shirt.

Last year's Indiana champions were Tom Martin, Decatur County, junior division, and Allen Buckthal, Knox County, senior division.

COUNTERPOINT

By The Editor's Wife

I am writing the column at the "eleventh hour", in a manner of speaking. The editor suggested that we might have reruns of "The Best of Counterpoint."

A trip into Ohio for a family reunion, on the editor's side of the family, is the reason for the time squeeze this week. I will have some remarks on the trip next week.

If one is to help the gifted child one must recognize the characteristics which set them apart. Miss Josephine Strode, who heads a school for superior children, lists the following:

1. Superior intellect. The IQ certainly isn't infallible, but it gives an excellent indication of intellectual capacity. Any youngster with a Stanford-Binet IQ test score of 150 or greater is considered exceptionally bright.

Beware, however, of using grades in school as a barometer of intelligence. This is an indication — nothing more — and sometimes a rather poor one. Many superior kids don't make the best grades—because they are not stimulated and thus become careless, because they do not want to be thought of as sissies, or because they're just plain bored stiff with school.

2. Dislike of regimentation. Often the gifted kid will rebel against what he considers unnecessary and stultifying limitation.

3. Respect for talents and achievements of others. The gifted youngster will usually admire intellectual accomplishments in others, openly and sometimes enviously.

4. Highly developed and often subtle sense of humor. Wit, usually dry and wry and often beyond the understanding of his immediate associates, usually goes along with the gifted child.

5. Unusual alertness, aliveness quick-wittedness and curiosity. The gifted kid seldom misses anything and has sized up a situation and done something about it before slower-witted compatriots can make a move. And his curiosity is insatiable.

6. Reasonableness and ease of handling. Because gifted kids are liberally endowed with reason they are also reasonable. If there is no logic in what they're asked to do, they may argue. But hand-

Maple Tree Leaf Scorch

The sudden appearance of yellow leaves on maple trees or the occurrence of maple leaves with scorched margins has disturbed many Hoosier homeowners. The weather has had a lot to do with this condition this year, say plant pathologists at Purdue University.

In many areas maple trees produced an overabundance of seed in the spring which usually is an indication that trees had been weakened by low temperature during the winter months. Consequently, many maple trees were slow to leaf out and appeared weak and unthrifty in June. Excessive rainfall in most areas in July leached out supplies of available food material; result: maple trees are hungry and have started to prematurely drop some of their foliage. Marginal scorching of the leaves is likely to result under these conditions, especially with young trees less than 10 years of age.

Pathologists say maple trees with scorched leaf margins, or trees prematurely dropping their leaves will not die. The homeowner who is worried about this problem should consider the advisability of feeding maple trees in April using widely available fertilizer formulations such as 10-10-10, 12-12-12, etc. This will prevent premature leaf fall and leaf scorch another year.

It is usually desirable to feed young trees every spring, and after they attain the age of 10 to 12 years, once in three years will suffice.

Maple trees should not be fertilized after August 1, since this might increase the danger of winter injury.

HANDLING SUMMER HARVESTED FRUIT

It pays to handle fruit carefully, especially when you pick it from your own trees, advise Purdue University extension horticulturists.

Proper handling and care will mean that fruit will stay delicious, and retain its "tree ripened" flavor much longer. Bruised fruit rots quickly, so place, don't throw or drop fruit in the container. Also, make sure that the container surface is smooth and clean to further reduce bruising.

Horticulturists recommend that fruit showing decay or serious mechanical injury be used or discarded soon after picking to prevent contamination of the fruit, keep it at room temperature and out of the sun for better ripening.

Next, put all of the ripe and sound fruit in a plastic bag, or a closed container, and place in refrigerator. This will slow down the respiration rate of fruit and will keep fruit fresh much longer.

NFO TO HOLD COUNTY MEETING

(The following article, written by Stanley L. Rhine of Milford, explains the farmer's problems in this day.—Ed.)

In our modern society today we hear a lot of talk about big business. But little play is ever given to agriculture when talking about big business.

Did you ever stop to think just how big agriculture is in this country? A recent Agricultural Marketing Service survey shows that agriculture is the nation's biggest industry. The survey shows that agriculture: buys more petroleum than any other industry; uses more electric power than Chicago, Detroit, Houston, Baltimore and Boston combined.

In addition, the agriculture department said, farm tractors provide as much horsepower as all U. S. locomotives combined. This horsepower turns over or stirs enough soil to build a ridge 100 feet high and one mile wide all the way from New York to San Francisco.

Farmers have twice as much money invested in machinery as the automobile industry. Farmers are consuming 6½ million tons of steel each year, nearly half as much as the entire automobile industry uses.

Farmers now have more than 211 billion dollars invested in agriculture. This is about 13% of the nation's total investment, yet last year farmers received only about 3% of the nation's income.

Don't you think that the modern farmer should have a price figured on cost of production and add a reasonable profit? Every businessman sets his price and no one can deny that they have the right to do so.

Farmers can set their price, too. All it takes is cooperation among them and they will get the job done. Farmers can't rely on others to solve their problems. The government is concerned with too many different groups and all other groups and individuals are concerned with their own problems. It's time for farmers to act!

The National Farmers Organization (NFO) "Meeting for Action" held Tuesday, Aug. 28, at Des Moines, Iowa, is just such an act. Here farmers from more than 15 Midwestern states are gathering to decide on the action and timetable for that action. Through the NFO Collective Bargaining Program for Agriculture, farmers are getting together to set a fair price on the commodities they sell. Farmers will then withhold their products until that fair price is met by the buyers of these same products.

The Kosciusko County NFO will hold an organizational meeting at the Lake City Bank Bldg., Warsaw, Tuesday, Sept. 4 at 7:30 p.m. The NFO program will be explained and questions answered. All farmers and farm owners from the county are invited.

The Boss said: "GET RID OF IT AT ANY PRICE!"

Frankly, we laid an egg. Several eggs in fact. We bought a lot of stuff we didn't sell. It was the wrong size, or the wrong color, or we had too many, or we had some left over. Anyway, it became what the boss calls: Excess Merchandise and he said; "Get rid of it at any price." Here they are. Limited quantity, one of a kind, etc. This is "odds and ends" merchandise, that is "excess" to us and may be usable stuff and a whale of a good buy for YOU. Act fast.

CATCHES CRANE WITH FISHING LURE

Recently while Jay Parker and Archie Leckrone were fishing on little Silver Lake, Archie made an exceptionally long cast and ended up with a live crane on the end of his line.

Your editor has had his share of "bird's nests" while trying to cast, but this is the first time I ever heard of someone dragging the bird off its nest out on the bank.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wiseman of Rapid City, South Dakota visited last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Long.

May I take this way of expressing my sincere thanks to all who remembered me with cards, flowers and prayers during my recent surgery. Also for all who donated blood.

GOSPEL MEETING

August 30 -- September 2

(From Indianapolis, Indiana)

YOU ARE INVITED to come and hear his messages from THE WORD OF GOD concerning THE GOSPEL OF THE NEW TESTAMENT.

NEWS NOTES

from our

County Agent

DONALD E. FRANTZ

The rainfall for 1962 has been very short. Soil moisture is low and water levels are low. Center Lake is about 30 inches lower than usual.

We had less than a normal amount of snow last winter, plenty of ice but not too much moisture was added. We then got shut out in May which is usually a month of considerable rain. We have had very little rain since Mid-July. This all adds up to a sizeable shortage.

The remarkable thing about all this is the way that corn has come through. Some corn, in fact much of it, looks fairly good. This is a result of our ever increasing use of nitrogen.

Actually corn doesn't fire from lack of water. Corn wilts from lack of water. The fields that are severely fired are those with both a low level of fertility and a shortage of water.

The late fields on less than a high fertility level can be pretty well written off as a loss this year. We were lucky in one respect and that is that with the dry May, there was little delay in planting and this resulted in very few late fields.

The recent 4-H sale of market livestock was well handled and very successful. The hogs averaged $33.44 including the champion and reserve and $32.40 without. The steers sold for an average of $35.93, champions included, and $34.13, champions not included. Few counties in this area did that well. The size of the sale was reduced a couple of years ago to one steer per club member, except in case of a boy having both a grand champion plus a breed champion then he may sell both. The number of hogs are limited to one per club member except where they show a market litter, then all three may sell. This has permitted some club members to select the top barrow from a market litter and show him in the barrow class. He can then sell him as a single and later send the remaining two through the sale.

There was some complaining when the limit was placed on the sale but it has helped generally to improve selling price and also improve the quality.

The sale committee met last Wednesday night to clear the rules for 1963. This advance information will prevent any of the last-minute problems next fair time.

Camping Display At State Fair

Encouraging family camping in Indiana is the goal of the home economics extension exhibit in the Purdue University building at the State Fair, Aug. 25-Sept. 5.

The fact that camping, more convenient and enjoyable today, has benefited from research's developments in textiles, disinfectants, insecticides and equipment will be clearly demonstrated.

Chairmaned by Ezelle Johnson, the exhibit committee consists of Purdue home economics extension specialists Miriam G. Eads, Anna K. Williams and Lottie E. Summer.

A member of the home economics extension staff will be present at the exhibit to answer questions and distribute a food planning guide and the pamphlet "Camping Along the Buffalo trace." Visitors to the display will find basic information on clothing, supplies, equipment and cooking techniques.

Some of the new freeze-dry foods in cellophane containers can be examined by viewers. These foods are usually used on deluxe camping excursions or, because of their light weight, on pack trips. Dry, ready to prepare foods also will be present. Samples of fabrics used in camping equipment, such as tenting, nylon screening, foam rub, ber and polyurethane, etc., can be examined at a "feeling board."

Set in a woodland, the exhibit will show a family of four camping out. The display will appeal to the seeing, hearing, smelling and feeling senses.

led intelligently, they'll follow directions.

7. Strength, health and well being. On this point, Northwestern's Dr. Witty says: "Contrary to popular thought, the gifted child is not the weakling, not the introverted, maladjusted, emotionally unsuitable type... the prototype implied by the word 'genius.' On the contrary, he is physically stronger, socially more secure and emotionally more stable when compared with children his own chronological age."

8. Purposeful activity. Gifted kids usually don't like games of luck. They prefer games where the emphasis is on skill and the element of luck reduced to a minimum. Even the games they play usually have something beyond just entertainment.

Next week: "How To Help the Gifted Child."

An importer in Cyprus wants beehives and bee equipment; an importer in Australia wants oars of ash and axe handles of hickory; a West German company is interested in plastic sliding parts; a Swiss Company wants ski, tennis and golf sporting equipment.

These and hundreds of others are listed in the weekly publication, "International Commerce," which is published by the Department of Commerce, Washington 25, D. C.

Haydn Pearson wrote the following in a recent column:

"Farmers are not fond of the flowers, but on these hot summer days it is a pleasant picture where blackeyed Susans dot the land. Dry weather does not conquer it; it takes heat and sudden thunder storms in stride. A countryman's garden may look a bit tired and the roadside trees gray-dusty. But the sturdy black-eyed Susans keep their poise and paint colorful pictures on the countryside."

We enjoyed this:

Two fishermen sitting on a bridge, their lines in the water below, made a bet as to who would catch the first fish. One got a bite and got so excited that he fell off the bridge.

"Oh, well," said the other, "if you're going to dive for them, the bet's off."

THE WRONG DENTON

Jumping at conclusions appears to be dangerous. Last week when Mr. Cooper said "Denton donated the apothecary bottle in which various bits of information were placed" to go into the cornerstone of their building your editor "guessed" he meant Denton Abbey. It should have been Glenn Denton. Our apologies to Mr. Denton.

Local News

The fire department was called to the Opal Tucker farm to put out a grass fire Monday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Eckert, Sandra, and Sue Drudge and Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Romine attended the State Fair Tuesday.

Robert Adams suffered a gash on his forehead Saturday evening when an auto driven by his brother, Russell, ran into the rear of the Steve Mellott car at the Manwaring hatchery road and Road 25 Saturday evening. Others in the autos were Rev. Campton, Ted Shoemaker and Ronnie Ward.

Janet Rose Reed returned to her work as an engineer with the Austin Company at Cleveland, Ohio Sunday after spending last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Reed. Miss Eunice Reed of South Whitley also spent a couple of days with her brother and family last week before she begins her teaching at Angola.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Lyon of Arcola had Sunday dinner at the Robert Reed home.

Good tires are a vital factor in traffic safety, says the Chicago Motor Club. Check your tires regularly to be sure the tread isn't worn dangerously thin, to be sure they are inflated to the proper pressure, and to be sure they are not wearing unevenly.

Frequently inspect the lights of your vehicle, says the Chicago Motor Club, especially brake or stoplights, to make certain they are in perfect condition. Faulty brake or stoplights are a major cause of rear-end collisions.
