T.V.S.C. Explains The School Budget

The budget for the Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation is being advertised this week and because of the situation surrounding this budget a few comments are necessary so that the people will understand the situation as it exists.

The budget of the Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation as advertised does include Newcastle Township as a part of our Corporation. It will also be noted that Newcastle Township is advertising a school budget at this time. The reason this is necessary is that the final approval by the Board of the school budget is August 29, for the Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation and August 28 for Newcastle Township, and the budgets must be advertised before the 10th day of August. If on the 19th day of August a situation would exist where Newcastle Township would not become a part of the Tippecanoe

With The Sick

Sandra Fawley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Fawley, has been dismissed from the Murphy Medical Center, where she received treatment for severe tonsillitis.

Chet Coplen underwent major surgery the first of this week at the Murphy Medical Center.

Mrs. Pat Harrison of Renne-laer had open heart surgery on July 30, at St. Mary's Hospital in Rochester, Minnesota. She is doing fine and may be addressed at the hospital, % General Delivery. Mr. and Mrs. Harrison formerly lived in Mentone when Pat was ag. instructor.

Mr. Ernest Studebaker was returned home Saturday from the Parkview Hospital in Plymouth where he received treatment for a virus infection.

Rev. E. C. Ralston of Winona Lake, former pastor of the Baptist Church, was dismissed from the Linville Hospital in Columbia City last Thursday. He is better, but must continue his medication at home.

Michael Murphy, 7, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard C. Murphy, was treated in the emergency room of the Murphy Medical Center and then admitted. He collided with a horse.

Kevin Eaton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Garwin Eaton, of near Palestine, is a patient in the Murphy Medical Center.

Valley School Corporation, then the School Board of the Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation would make deductions in the budget when they meet on the 29th day of August and on the other hand, if, as anticipated, Newcastle Township becomes a part of the Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation on August 19th, then the advisory board of the Newcastle Township School will delete from the budget of Newcastle Township those items which pertain to school business.

As many of you know this has been a particularly difficult year to make a budget inasmuch as it has been hard to ascertain what the state was going to do in the way of support for the various school corporations. This was brought about when Judge Niblack ruled the sales tax unconstitutional and various deductions have been made from our anticipated state support to the schools in our corporation. The state has ruled that we must make the following deductions per pupil in all corporations. In tuition they have deducted $94.00 per pupil; in special or general maintenance $47.00 per pupil; in transportation $24.00 per pupil, and have eliminated the $25.00 per pupil that was granted under another law. In our corporation the $47.00 would not apply inasmuch as our wealth factor is

COUNTERPOINT

By The Editor's Wife

You may not agree with this quote by a leading educator, but it is worth thinking about.

"This idea, fostered by some psychoanalysts, that no one should be allowed to feel guilty, has done great harm. The youngster who has been brought up to feel guilty and remorseful when he has misbehaved is on his way to becoming a good citizen."

Educators are doing more and more to help the large group of high school students who want to go to work as soon as they graduate, rather than go on to college.

Many schools give vocational training. A good grasp of basic English and Mathematics is essential, also.

Men, who go to work right out of high school, eventually decide to continue their schooling, through home study courses, night classes or college.

Now I haven't tried this "hint", but "they say" you can remove onion odor from your hands by rubbing them with celery.

Hayden Pearson, the New England columnist, has written a column on "The Thrill Of Buying Penny Candies". Truly, those days are gone forever. When you recall the little candy shop you knew long ago, can't you, also, recall the very "aroma" of the place? Such a delicious combination of tantalizing odors!

Mr. Pearson says, "We wish that modern boys and girls could know the fun of choosing a nickel's worth of penny candies from money they earned weeding a garden, feeding chickens or stacking wood. We are not an economist, but it seems logical that many men and women who now creak a little in the mornings, learned some of life's basic lessons when they spent money they earned by honest labor for penny candies."

All wool stretch material is going to revolutionize men's clothing, especially in the way of comfort. (Women have worn ski pants and slacks made of stretch material, for some time.) It is promised that suits will retain their well-tailored look while giving freedom of move-

How to Mix Chemicals

When mixing chemicals, the label gives most necessary information.
Sometimes it's a little tricky to figure out exactly how much water and chemicals to apply per acre. It isn't always possible to use exactly the amount of water per acre called for. But it's always necessary to apply exactly as much active chemical ingredient per acre as called for.

But the problem can be solved.
Here's how. First, it's necessary to find out how much water a sprayer is delivering per acre. Then use the following formula to find how much chemical to be used in your sprayer tank.

Number of acres to be sprayed x pounds actual chemical required per acre	Gallons chemical to be used in tank
Pounds of active ingredient per gallon of liquid

Example:

You have a sprayer with a 50-gallon tank that sprays 10 gallons per acre. One tankful will cover five acres. You want to control grasshoppers on grassland, and recommendations call for 0.25-pound of actual chemical per acre.
The chemical you have says two pounds per gallon actual chemical.
Here's your formula:

Number acres (5) x	Chemical required per acre (0.25)	=	1.25	=	0.625
			Chemical per gallon (2)

Answer:

0.625 gallons of
be added to 50 gal-in the spray tank.

One precaution:

Don't let band spraying confuse you. Remember, bands usually cover one-third the total ground area, so you use one-third as much concentrate per acre.

How to Make One Gallon Of Spray

Sometimes you'd like to mix just a gallon or so of spray for small jobs. Then it's sometimes necessary to figure in teaspoons instead of pints. Here's how: One teaspoon per gallon equals one pint per 100 gallons.

Example:

If recommendations call for 3/4 cup per 100 gallons (the same as 3/4 pint per 100 gallons), use 3/4 teaspoon per one gallon of water.
If the recommendation is for two pints per 100 gallons, use two teaspoons per gallon and so forth.

Handy Liquid Equivalents:

3 level teaspoons	=	1 level tablespoon
2 level tablespoons	=	1 fluid ounce
8 fluid ounces	=	1 cup
2 cups	=	1 pint
1 pint	=	16 fluid ounces
2 pints	=	1 quart
4 quarts	=	1 gallon
1 gallon of water	=	8 1/2 pounds

NEWS NOTES from our

County Agent

DONALD E. FRANTZ

The recent widespread publicity concerning the Salmonella caused illness from using cracked eggs did the poultry industry no good. There was no real reason for a nation-wide publicity on it because only a couple of people were made sick. It is no less true today than at any other time that spoiled foods will make you sick and eggs will go bad if they are not handled properly. David Jackson at Purdue is the extension man to whom we refer questions like this. Here is what he has to say:

"Eggs, like milk, are perishable. Therefore, they must be refrigerated.

"The cooler an egg is kept, down to 29 degrees F., the slower the rate of breakdown of the albumen (white) and yolk quality. Eggs will lose approximately as much albumen quality in five hours at 100 degrees F. as in three weeks at 32 degrees F.

"For direct marketing (non-storage), eggs should be kept at a temperature of about 50 degrees F. surrounded by air having a relative humidity of 70 to 80 per cent. Care must be exercised when removing eggs from a cool room to prevent sweating. Moisture condensation on the shell makes it difficult to handle without soiling the shells, which results in a grade loss.

"Cooling of eggs from the next to the consumer's refrigerator is extremely important. Also, the refrigerated air must have a relative humidity of from 70 to 80 per cent to reduce the moisture evaporation through the numerous tiny pores found in the shell.

"In addition to a practical cooling temperature and humidity, scientists have more recently shown that gathering eggs and spray oiling directly from the nests further extends interior quality.

An egg is only as good 'quality wise' as it was the moment it was laid. To assure the kind of egg homemakers prefer, it's up to the producer to hold quality loss to a minimum. Homemakers in turn should keep eggs in the refrigerator."

The Conservation Field Day at Albion included some very interesting exhibits. One of these was the water holding capacity of the soil types that made up the farm. There was quite a difference in the ability to retain the water that it gets. I asked Harry Galloway, an agronomist, who was assisting with the program, if this kind of information could be easily obtained. The procedure is not simple, but it is also not impossible on a practical basis. This could be one of the most important bits of information as to the potential value of land.

Location of fences, shrubbery and sidewalks and the blending of your lawn into surrounding yards are important considerations when planning a new lawn around your home.

These specialists make this point in the revised Circular 438, "The Lawn—How To Establish and Maintain," recently published by the Indiana Cooperative Extension Service. The 24 page booklet discusses making a new lawn, maintaining a good lawn-rolling, fertilizing, watering, overseeding, and weed, disease and insect control. Fall is the best time to establish a new lawn. A table of recommended seeding mixtures lists blends for sunny areas, moist shady areas, dry shady areas, temporary lawns, athletic fields and industrial areas.

Plant needed evergreens, such as yews and junipers, between mid August and mid September. Wait until spring to plant hemlock and fir trees.

August is the best time to plant Madonna lily bulbs. You can plant them in September, too, but the earlier planting is preferred, since the plant has more time to become established before cold weather.

Fertilize your strawberries in late August or early September to encourage good blossom bud formation for a large crop next spring. Apply three pounds of 12-12-12, or a similar analysis fertilizer, per 100 feet of row.

The date for the sale of 4-H club market livestock is August 8th at 6:30 p.m. at the Fairgrounds. The same rules will apply as have been in effect the past couple of years. Our 4-H club members are limited to one sale per member except in cases where they have two champions. They may then sell both. There are cases where a pen of three animals may make up a single exhibit, these may be sold as one sale. Underweight animals are also excluded.

As a result of these policies, the quality of the sale has been excellent and buyers have responded. Our average price has been better than nearly any other 4-H sale even though we do not get as high a figure on the top one or two animals.

Let advertising tell your story to your neighbors and friends.

GETTING THE MOST... FROM YOUR GARDEN

ESSAY ON WHEN TO PICK

Newcomers to gardening, and even some old-timers who should know better, often have a hard time learning to tell when their crops are at their prime for picking. Who among us hasn't wasted a dozen ears of corn, looking for six ripe ones? Or ruined a couple of melons, looking for a "good" one. And how many of us let our squashes and cucumbers, beans, and beets swell beyond the edible stage, under the mistaken notion that things always get better as they grow older and bigger?

So, our little sermon for this essay draws its inspiration from one of our good friends in the food processing industry, who makes a big thing of "The Fleeting of Perfection." The fact is, with some kinds of vegetables there is a fleeting moment when they are ready to harvest for your table.

Take peas, for example. The time to begin checking your crop is about 21 days after the blossoms appear. You have a choice in how you harvest your crop. You can make two or three pickings, starting with the pods lowest on the vines; or, with shorter-vined kinds you can wait until the top pods are just a bit shy of full maturity and then harvest all the pods at once. Your decision should be determined largely by the kinds you plant and the size of your planting.

Corn is another vegetable that matures about 21 days after blooming — that is, after the silks emerge from the husk. Like peas, corn will mature faster when the weather is hot, so this period may differ, depending on the weather as the crop approaches maturity. Like peas, too, corn passes very quickly from the best eating stage — usually in a day or two — so don't wait for the kernels to get still bigger or yellower in color!

Summer squash and cucumbers are two vegetables which suffer from being left too long on the bush or vine. Whether you grow yellow, green, or white varieties, the time to pick summer squash is when the fruits are still young, not more than three or four days after the blossoms begin to dry, while the skin is still very tender and the seeds undeveloped.* The same for cucumbers, though it may take a day or two longer after the blossoms drop. In any case, pick them while the warts are still firm and knobby, before the fruits balloon to a diameter of 2-3 inches. According to some connoisseurs, cucumbers are more digestible when eaten young, skin and all.

Beans — snap and lima. Snap beans usually take a week or ten days to reach prime picking stage after the blossoms drop, but this is another vegetable that is better to pick on the young side. Don't wait for the pods to make maximum size. By then they are quite seedy, fibrous, and sometimes stringy. With limas, it's the other way around. They're hard to shell if you just pick them in the "baby" stage. If you want baby limas — butter beans they're called in many places — use one of the small-seeded varieties, like Clark's Bush, Henderson's Bush, Jackson Wonder, or Early Thorogreen.

Beets, carrots, and other root crops are delicious when young, but can be left a bit longer than other crops before harvesting, though radishes become strong and pithy if not pulled within three or four weeks after planting. Even the others may become woody if you leave them indefinitely.

Harvest lettuce, spinach, endive and other leafy crops before the seed-stalk begins to form. Non-heading leaf lettuce can be harvested a few leaves at a time. *Have you ever eaten tiny young summer squash, uncooked but thinly sliced and marinated in olive oil and vinegar, with a few herbs? A gift from the gods!

If you would like free information about how to grow vegetables in your back yard, send your name, cucumbers, though it may take a day or two longer after the blossoms drop. In any case, pick them

Lawn Disease Control

Proper fertilizing, watering and mowing are certainly essential ingredients for maintaining a healthy, attractive lawn. But by no means do they guarantee complete immunity to the many diseases that attack lawn grasses. Weather and soil conditions favoring development of disease organisms can lead to trouble for even the most meticulously cared for lawn.

While proper care should minimize the disease problem, certain fungicide chemicals will insure control. Purdue Extension Mimeo BP-17-4, "Fungicide for Lawn Disease Control," lists these chemicals, what diseases they control, how to apply them and the amounts to use. Also discussed is the three-step program for maintaining vigorous growing grass, the best insurance against disease.

For a free copy of Mimeo BP-7-4, Indiana residents should contact their county extension agent or write to the Agricultural Publications Office, AES Building, Purdue University, Lafayette, Indiana.

Be able to swim and take care of yourself in the water before boating or enjoying water sports, recommends Purdue University safety specialist. Have Coast Guard approved life preservers for each person in your boat. Keep life jackets on small children at all times.

Good piloting techniques and rules of boating courtesy involve watching your wake, avoiding sharp turns at high speed, and reducing the speed of power driven boats when passing bathing beaches, canoes or other small boats, says Purdue University safety specialist.

Stop Scratching Chiggers

Stop scratching and start spraying!

After that chigger bites, you can't do much to relieve the itching, so get him before he gets you, says Dave Matthew, Purdue University extension entomologist.

Spraying your skin and clothing with one of the new insect repellents will prevent chigger bites. Repellents containing diethyl toluamide, ethyl hexanediol (6-12), or dimethyl phthalate are recommended. Rubbing dusting sulphur between the skin and clothing is an effective prevention. Spray a briar patch, uncut area or an infested lawn with a solution containing chlordane, lindane, toxaphene or dieldrin.

The idea that the chigger burrows under and remains in the skin is an old wives' tale. The chigger really does not bite, but actually feeds on humans and other animals by injecting a substance into the skin which dissolves the nearby cells. These liquefied cells and other fluids are then sucked into the chigger's body.

Chiggers prefer areas where the clothing fits tight against the skin—usually around the ankles, waist and in the arm pits. Since the red welts and itching may not show up for several hours or even a day after exposure, it is often difficult to determine where the chiggers were encountered.

If you are going to an area that may be infested, use a repellent to prevent biting. Bathing in hot, soapy water within an hour after exposure, or as soon as possible, will reduce the number of bites.

Use place mats in summer, rather than a table cloth, suggest home furnishings specialists at Purdue University. Mats look cool and are much easier to iron.

Dig up and replant your iris bed every three to four years in July after your plants have stopped blooming. Save the newer parts of the rhizomes, cut off the upper two-thirds of the leaves, refertilize the bed and replant, recommend Purdue University horticulturists.

Positive Feelings Key To Happiness?

Happiness results from positive satisfactions in life, says University of Chicago psychologist, Dr. Norman M. Bradburn. The mere absence of negative experiences will not do. He says: "It is the lack of joy in Mudville, rather than the presence of sorrow, that makes the difference." Believing that theorizing about mental illness is fruitless without the actual information gathered from the people themselves. Dr. Bradburn interviewed 2,000 men and women about their happiness. Twenty four per cent were "very happy," 59 per cent "pretty happy," and 17 per cent "not too happy." One possibly notable discovery: Single men were twice as likely to be unhappy as single women.

NOTICE TO TAXPAYERS OF ADDITIONAL APPROPRIATIONS

Notice is hereby given the taxpayers of Harrison Township, Kosciusko County, Indiana, that the proper legal officers of said municipality at their regular meeting place, on the 27th day of August, 1963, will consider the following additional appropriations which said officers consider necessary to meet the extraordinary emergency existing at this time.

Poor Relief	$2,000.00

Taxpayers appearing at such meeting shall have a right to be heard thereon. The additional appropriation as finally made will be automatically referred to the State Board of Tax Commissioners, which Board will hold a further hearing within fifteen days at the County Auditor's Office of Kosciusko County, Indiana, or at such other place as may be designated. At such hearing taxpayers objecting to any of such additional appropriations may be heard and interested taxpayers may inquire of the County Auditor when and where such hearing will be held.

Snow and water may be imported to Switzerland tax-free, the Swiss government has ruled. Resorts there occasionally import French snow to prepare ski jumps when the weather delays start of the season. Water is imported during summer dry spells.

Join the inner space crusade! It is a campaign for more space inside autos. Stephen Springarn of Washington D.C. and Sen. B. L. Meehan (R-N.M.), charter members and both well over six feet tall, urge recruits to write the major auto makers to ask for three inches more head room and six inches more leg room in the front seat.

Library News

Many of the new books requested by patrons of the Library have now arrived. For the many mystery fans, we have a new Perry Mason book, "The Case of the Step-Daughter's Secret", "The Hidden Key", by George Coxe, "The Late Clara Beame", by Taylor Caldwell, and two new Detective Book Digests. There is also a new romance, "Follow Your Heart", for the Emile Loring admirers.

All who enjoyed "Little Britches", by Ralph Moody, will want to read its sequel, "The Lily Divide". Readers of "My Friend Flicka", may now enjoy "Wyoming Summer", by the same author—Mary O'Hara.

Henry and Janice Holt have written the story of their house in Kentucky: "Conceived in nostalgia, born in hope, built with love, and doomed by a Government Project—The Greene River Dam."

A worthwhile novel by Taylor Caldwell, "Grandmother and the Priests", pictures a rich tapestry of the lives and adventures of a group of heroic priests; fights against tyranny, triumphs over suffering, struggle against hatred, and even the investigation of murder.

"They Fought Alone", by John Keats, describes a group of Americans and Filipinos who refused to surrender when ordered to do so on the island of Mindanao in the Philippines. "Old Vincennes" is the history of a famous old town and its glorious past.

above the minimum requirement and we do not get anything in this category. However, the state has deducted a total of $143.00 per pupil from the formula which had been adopted by the Legislature, this being the $94.00, $25.00 and $24.00. Based on last year's attendance of 1777 pupils, this means that there will be $253,111.00 deducted from our state formula of reimbursement. Actually we get a total of $56,874.00 from the state, where we had anticipated that we would receive $309,585.00. All of the figures are computed as if Newcastle Township were at the present time a part of the corporation.

Last year the Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation advertised a rate of $3.35, which was cut to $3.09. This year we will advertise a school rate of $3.93, and my experience is that school rates are always cut, sometimes a small amount, and sometimes a larger amount, normally based on the changing of rules. If the Supreme Court were to reverse the decision of Judge Niblack and declare the sales tax constitutional, a very large tax cut would no doubt be forthcoming. However, I am doubtful that the state would pay the full formula because much of the time where collections would have been made would have already lapsed.

Several people may wonder at a rate of $3.93 advertised as against advertised rate of last year at $3.35 with only a 58c difference. This was brought about from about three aspects.

1. Because of the time of annexation of Newcastle Township the 50c rate for the Cumulative Building Fund automatically dies and nothing can be done to save it for this year.

2. In last year's budget we did carry a fairly good cash working balance to keep from borrowing from the banks until revenues came into the corporation. We have cut our cash working balances to a very minimum amount so that the tax rate for this year will not go completely out of sight.

3. Some anticipated expenditures, which might have been made, have been postponed until the financial picture for the state of Indiana and the local property tax payer is in a better state of affairs.

We have not cut back on necessary items for the education of the children such as teaching supplies, library books, number of teachers, and other items necessary for the good educational opportunity in our school system. We have dropped certain capital outlay expenditures until a later date, but not where actual educational opportunity will be impaired.

ment across the back and in the shoulders, arms, and legs.

It is interesting to note that of the ten favorite books of President Kennedy, most were written by Conservatives (Not one was written by a Harvard professor.).

Here is the list given by a presidential assistant to columnist Russell Kirk:

They are Cecil's "Melbourne," Buchanan's "Montrose," Churchill's "Marlborough," Bemis' "John Quincy Adams and the Foundations of American Foreign Policy," Nevins' "Emergence of Lincoln," Agar's "Price of Union," Coit's "John C. Calhoun," Duff Cooper's "Talleyrand," Quennell's "Byron in Italy," and Stendhal's "The Red And The Black."

We enjoyed this: A church in Santa Barbara suddenly stopped buying from its regular office supply house. It seems that when they ordered small pencils to be used in the pews for visitors to register, the dealer sent golf pencils each clearly marked: "Play Golf Next Sunday!"

Enjoy Trip West

Mrs. Frances Carter of Mentone and Mrs. Mark Burgh of Plymouth recently returned after an extensive trip west, which took them to many places of interest, and which covered nearly 6,000 miles. Going, they took the southern route. At Claremore, Oklahoma, they saw the Will Rogers Memorial, then the Lake of the Ozarks, Painted Desert, Petrified Forest. In California, most of Mrs. Carter's time was spent visiting with her nephew, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Clark and family. Mrs. Burgh also visited with relatives. They did see Knott's Berry Farm and Disneyland while in California.

Friends visited were Mrs. Stella Buck at Garden Grove, a former teacher in Mentone, Mr. and Mrs. Adam Blue and family of Santa Anna, Mr. and Mrs. George Clements of Culver City, a former pupil of Mrs. Carter's at Knightstown, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Duke, both former teachers around the Bremen area, and they were able to talk to Mr. and Mrs. Vance Johns by phone.

Coming home, they took the northern route, stopping first in Las Vegas, where they saw appearing in person the following: Leslie Uggins, Martin and Rossey, Paul Anka, Jack Carter, Ben Blue, Harry James and orchestra and Eddie Fisher. In Provo, Utah they visited with the Albert Fretz family, former Etna Green residents. At Laramie, Wyoming they saw a rodeo. Mt. Rushmore, South Dakota was the next stop, and at Spearfish they attended the Passion Play, and continued on home through the Badlands. They covered all these many miles with no trouble, had a lovely trip, but were very glad to be back home.

TO HOLD OPEN HOUSE

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Huffman, R. R. 5, Warsaw, will observe their 50th wedding anniversary with an open house this Sunday, August 11, 2:30 to 4:30 p.m. No invitations have been sent, but all friends and relatives are invited.

Mr. and Mrs. Huffman were married August 11, 1913. They have two daughters, Mrs. Wilma Chrisenberry and Mrs. Donna-belle Thomas, also of R. R. 5, Warsaw; four grandchildren and five great-Grandchildren.

OLD TIME THRESHERS SHOW AUG. 15-18

This year an antique show under the sponsorship of the Fort Wayne-Allen County Museum will be an added attraction.

New Directory Deadline Set

August 15 is the last day a customer of the General Telephone can report a change or new listing and have it appear in the new directories now being readied for Atwood, Bourbon, Burket, Claypool, Etna Green, Mentone, Millwood and Tippecanoe. It includes listings for Akron, Sidney, Silver Lake, Argos, Cromwell, LaPaz, Leesburg, Milford, North Webster, Piercetown, Plymouth, Syracuse, Walkerton and Warsaw, according to C. J. Lohman, division manager.

"We are now ready to 'lock up' the new directory and have it printed. No changes can be accepted after August 15 because, as with newspapers, telephone directories are printed on a deadline basis, and only a rigid time schedule makes it possible to have them compiled, printed, bound and distributed to each of our customers in such a relatively short length of time."

"Correct initials, names and addresses are necessary to assure complete and adequate representation in the directory. It is surprising how often the directory is turned to for such information, as well as telephone numbers. Customers can call the business office promptly if any changes are to be made in their listings, Mr. Lohman said.

He reminded business customers as well that the August 15 cut-off date applies to yellow page listings and advertisements.

The back page of the directory this year features General Telephone's communications consultants, whose free services are always available to the business community. They can show business customers how to rearrange internal and external telephone systems to increase efficiency.

Whenever you transport food, keep hot foods hot, cold foods cold to prevent food poisoning, advise Purdue University food specialists.

Family Finances

Beware of the advertising which offers to sell you an acre of land for a ridiculously low price. Unethical promoters make an estimated $500 million a year selling worthless land for "$10 down, $10 a month."

A few of the land-development companies who advertise land in Florida, Arizona, etc., are completely honest. But, unfortunately, most of the "fantastic" deals are dishonest. Land described as well-developed, with utilities, sewers and streets installed, close to shopping and schools — is usually arid desert sand or underwater swamp-land.

Lots advertised as being "close" to shopping and recreation areas are often anywhere from 25 to 100 miles away from these conveniences.

It's unwise to put any money down on one of these "bargain" lots unless you've seen it in person. Or, your local Better Business Bureau may be able to tell you whether the land development you're interested in is honest.

Mrs. Emma Cook has returned to her home in town after spending several weeks at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Arlo Friesner. Mrs. Cook was quite sick with pneumonia and was being cared for in the Friesner home.

IMPROVING

Mrs. Ned Miller, who was injured in an accident a week ago, is improving right along. She is better, but it will be a few days before she will leave the hospital. She is still suffering from the concussion, but the cracked vertebra in her back hasn't been bothering her too much the last few days.

COUNTERPOINT

By The Editor's Wife

A new book, which is written in text-book style for high school students, is entitled "Two Ways Of Life." It is by William Ebenstein. The book gives a thorough study of democracy and communism and a contrast of the two systems, ending with the challenge of communism today and the ways this challenge must be met if our democratic way of life is to stand.

Truly, a worth-while book.

The following letter was received by us and is greatly appreciated:

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Cullum:

Several weeks ago you mentioned karate in your column "Counterpoint". Hence I thought you would be interested in the enclosed newspaper clippings about karate and the article on page 6 of Kanagawa Community News. You will probably find several other interesting articles in Kanagawa Community News.

Please note my new address given above and change my address on the mailing list for Mentone News. The Mentone News arrives four to five weeks after the date on the paper but it is still news to me. This is the third address I have had while doing the same job and living in the same room in the same billet. Due to re-organization of the Army, Food Service, where I work was transferred to G-4. All mail is delivered to the office; there are no mail deliveries even in the America housing at Sagami-hara.

Yours truly,

Bernice L. Anderson

We have read the newspaper articles and the articles in the Kanagawa Community News and feel we have a much better comprehension of the practice of Karate. The pictures are very detailed, and we can see why a karate expert must be registered with police authorities, since he carries in his "empty hands" the power and skill to kill.

Thank you, Bernice, for your letter and other material. We look forward to hearing from you again.

WOULD YOU LIKE TO OBJECT?

The Mentone War Mothers suggest that everyone write their Senator and Congressman, similar to the following:

Hon. _____
Washington, D. C.
Dear Sir:

It has been called to our attention as "Mothers of World War II, Inc." that there is a proposed movement to delete the words "Under God" in the pledge to the American flag, also to omit the last stanza of the Star Spangled Banner, containing the phrase "In God We Trust."

This can only be a subversive movement, first to strike out God and then,—the Nation.

Therefore we stoutly protest this movement and know that you will do all in your power to discourage any such action that would undermine our American Way of Life.

Sincerely,

Rep. Charles A. Halleck, House Office Building, Washington, D. C.; or Sen. Vance Hartke, Senate Office Building, Washington, D. C.

We the Mothers of World War II are appealing to the American public to join us in protesting to our Representative or Senator. Please copy this letter, sign your name and send it at once.

Let's not depend on anyone else, let's each one act individually.

'Ekistics' is a new science to deal with staggering problems born of cities and the decay that threatens them. The word was coined by Greek city planner Constantine A. Doxiadis from the Greek word for settlement (oikismos). It means a multiple approach to fighting the deterioration of city living by experts in housing, economics, sociology, psychiatry, planning, art and philosophy. Epitomizing the scope of the problem are cities like Buenos Aires, Argentina, which in the last century has grown from 30,000 to 3,200,000 and Leopoldville, Congo, from 46,000 to 400,000 in less than 25 years.

Hemp, a plant fiber normally used for rope, can be made into dresses, report Swiss researchers who have developed a hemp fabric resembling cotton but much stronger. Philippine government officials hope the new fabric will provide a big new market for hemp, one of the country's major exports.

Immunity to poison ivy is a fleeting thing, according to Dr. E. Richard Harrell, University of Michigan dermatologist. Youngsters before the age of 5 to 7 are usually "non-reactive" to the glossy-leaved nuisance, but the poisonous effect is built up by repeated exposure. The rash itself is a very common allergic reaction. Less common are similar reactions to carrot tops, elphintiums and pimientos. Repairmen working on a combustible gas container can light their welding torches without fear of explosion with a carbon dioxide "purging" technique, reports Cardox of Chicago. The CO-2 is pumped into the tank or pipeline to displace most of the explosive contents and mix with the rest to form an inert atmosphere.

NOTICE TO TAXPAYERS OF ADDITIONAL APPROPRIATIONS

Notice is hereby given the taxpayers of Harrison Township, Kosciusko County, Indiana, that the proper legal officers of said municipality at their regular meeting place, on the 27th day of August, 1963, will consider the following additional appropriations which said officers consider necessary to meet the extraordinary emergency existing at this time:

Tooth banks in which healthy teeth will be stored for later transplantation are envisioned by Dr. Miklos Cserepfaivi, DDS, of Washington, D. C., who reports that he has performed the operation successfully a number of times. For a transplant, the root structure of the donor tooth must be only partially developed and patients must avoid putting undue strain on the new tooth for at least three weeks.

Eyeglasses for chickens increase production, says Al Schriener, Santa Rosa, California poultryman. The molded plastic contact lenses fit over the animal's eyeballs and are held in place by the eyelids, as in contacts for humans. Chicken lenses, however, cost only about three cents a pair compared with approximately $125.00 for a human pair and distort, not improve, vision. Wearing the glasses, he says, the chickens, closely packed in big modern coops, can see to eat and drink—but not well enough to fight with their neighbors.

THANK YOU

Hay Fever Time Is Here

The annual hay fever season soon will be on, according to the Chicago Motor Club.

Starting about the middle of August, and continuing up to the first frost, many Americans will be seeking relief from the dreaded ragweed pollen that infests the country during this period.

Hay fever sufferers seeking relief will literally head for the hills—and wooded and seashore areas, too. These areas are relatively free of the annoying pollen "fall out".

Hardest hit among the hay fever victims are Midwesterners and those who live in the intensively tilled portion of the Mississippi Valley. Air-borne ragweed pollen generally is heaviest in this region.

The Chicago Motor Club's touring department advises hay fever victims that the region west of the Cascade Mountains of Oregon and Washington is considered to have one of the lightest incidents of ragweed pollen in the nation. Alaska also is almost completely free of the sneeze powder.

A good degree of relief also can be obtained in the wooded areas of extreme northern Michigan, Minnesota, New Hampshire and Maine, as well as in the central Adirondacks and in the extreme southern tip of Florida.

Palestine Homemakers Meet

The Palestine Homemakers met August 8th with Mattie Lohr, near Warsaw, with a carry in dinner served at noon.

There were four guests present, Mrs. Anna Meredith of Silver Lake, Jane Tucker, Dawn Perry and Mont Lohr.

A short business meeting was held after dinner. Roll call was answered by the eleven members present. Gladys Severns gave meditation. "When My Get Up And Go Has Got Up And Went", was read by Jessie Baum and written by Crystal Shoemaker. Happy birthday was sung for Jessie Baum and Gladys Severns. Meeting was closed with prayer. Next meeting will be September 12th with Flo Shirey of Palestine.

Guaranteed To Bleed

"Guaranteed to bleed" is printed on the dress label. Sounds strange doesn't it, in this age of fast color fabrics?

But it's a fashion favorite. Indian Madras, that is guaranteed to bleed.

Miss Lois Folk, clothing specialist at Purdue University, says the colors' running together make a soft subdued plaid. It is colorful yet subdued, unusual yet wearable.

True Indian Madras is hand-woven and varies considerably from piece to piece, both in color and pattern. The plaids may be crooked or uneven, causing problems on the cutting table. It also shrinks badly.

It causes problems in the laundry, too, because of the bleeding. It must be washed by hand. It can't lie around wet, it can't stack in the clothes basket.

Most Madras on the market is Indian made, but there is also American made Madras. It looks like the Indian, but does not shrink or bleed, thus it is easier to match plaids and launder.

American or Indian. Madras is a fashion fabric. It is used in sportswear for both men and women, from shirts to handbags.

People choose Madras because they like plaids, individuality, and the soft attractive colors.

SINCERE THANKS

I wish to thank each and every one for any act of kindness during the recent illness and death of my wife (Blanche).

Guests Of Aberdeen-Angus Association

The Kosciusko County Aberdeen-Angus Association was hosts to all the boys and girls enrolled in the 4-H beef project following the judging at the Kosciusko County Fair. The hamburger fry was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. McCleary on Winona Lake.

Approximately 50 members and 30 parents and County Extension Agents were present to partake of the hospitality. This affair was arranged in order to encourage 4-H members to become interested in promoting purebred cattle in the county and to encourage the upgrading of beef herds. Literature was available which would help the 4-H members gain new information.

Those working on the committee were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Langohr, Mr. and Mrs. Emery Pyle, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Tucker and Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Scott. All members of the association assisted the committee.

Cub Scouts See Air Show

Several of our local Cub Scouts took a trip last Thursday to Bunker Hill, where they saw an air exhibition by the famous Thunderbirds. The spectators were left breathless as these six F-100 planes were put through many difficult, precise and beautiful maneuvers by their very capable pilots.

Mrs. Jim Leslie, Den Mother for Den 1, made all the arrangements for the day.

Boys from Den 1 going were Tim Harman, Bruce Leslie, Dale Hart, Terry Sinclair and Jimmy Bach; Johnny Whetstone of Den 2. Mrs. Tom Harman helped drive and Lisa Harman and Johnny Hart were guests for the day. A sack lunch was enjoyed by the group at noon at a roadside park near the Air Force base. Our boys were several among many Cub and Boy Scouts invited for this special air show.

Aid In Bloodmobile

Several area residents helped the county bloodmobile program when the unit recently visited Silver Lake. Although the quota of 125 pints was not reached, 92 bottles were collected, which will help the deficit in the low blood supply. Among those donating were: Dale Wallace, Mrs. Albert Hatfield, Rex Yazel, of Mentone; Michael Nelson, Mrs. Lillian Smith, Fred McSherry, of Burket; and Robert Ummel of R. R. 1, Claypool.

Communities are endeavoring to help one another by sending donors to wherever the unit may be.

Someone has said that "we carry within ourselves the seeds of our own destruction."

Isn't it true? Hot-tempered angry words do destroy us in the eyes of others. Many good, well-intended projects have been destroyed because the anger, rashness, and ill-temper of the leaders received so much more attention than the merits of the cause. This should give us something to ponder.

We enjoyed this:

Two elderly men were discussing their many ailments. One complained in particular about a nagging pain in one leg.

"Must be old age," said his friend.

"Don't think so," the sufferer said. "Other leg's just as old and it don't hurt a bit."

Here is another letter which our friends will enjoy sharing.

Mentone News

Mentone, Ind.

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Cullum,

Just a note to say "hello" and notify you of the change of address noted below.

Don (Jr.) has been employed by The Boing Company as a Research Specialist since receiving his Ph.D. degree from Purdue University a year ago. August 14th he will present a paper concerning his doctorate research at the ASME Heat Transfer Conference in Boston, Mass. He will then fly to Huntsville, Alabama to confer with NASA officials concerning a contract recently let to the Boeing Co. The contract involves methods of increasing the booster thrust level of large launch vehicles such as the Saturn.

We are now living on what you might say is a foothill to the foothills of the Cascades. We very much enjoy seeing Tiger and Squak Mtns. and in the distance a range of the Cascades framed in our living room window. Although we are pleased beyond all expectations with living in the Seattle area we very much miss our friends and relatives in Indiana.

Burket Group Again Appears
Before School Board

(T. W. H. was unable to attend the school meeting Monday evening, so J. L. H. sat in for him.)

Several Burket citizens appeared before the school board again requesting more definite information concerning the cafeteria in their school. Spokesman for the group, Fred McSherry, asked just what had been done about the cafeteria? Superintendent Forbes stated he didn't know anymore than before. McSherry continued, saying he had heard several stories, one in particular, to the effect that food would be prepared in the old building and then be transported into new class rooms for eating.

Answered Forbes, "I don't have the authority to make any definite decision on that."

Frank McGuire, as a fireman, of the Burket community, asked whether the plan of putting tables in the large hall wasn't creating a fire hazard?

According to the fire code, which Superintendent Forbes had already looked up, by cubic feet measure, 900 pupils could empty out through the north and south doors, without having to even use the side doors.

Then McGuire, this time speaking as a taxpayer, stated he didn't like the idea of the expense involved of putting in new kitchen equipment for a temporary period of time.

Mr. Gordon Hackworth wanted some statements from the board members, other than Superintendent Forbes, concerning the situation at Burket.

Gale Creighton answered him saying, "The board had thought, or was acting under the impression, the old building had been closed."

Everett Warren interrupted Creighton here, going into detail about the fire marshal not being able, or not having the final authority to close a building, without court action, town marshal posting notice, etc. McGuire then interjected the question to the board, "Have any of these things been done?"

To this writer, the stemming of confusion over the old building seems to have come from said fire marshal. Big question—Can the fire marshal close, and/or just recommend a building condemned??

The Burket delegation was wanting most, the assurance of a continued school in Burket. Max Johnson, Joann Doran and Betty Boggs were also present as interested parents.

Prior to the above discussion, the following business was discussed by the board.

Newcastle Township will be recorded into the Corporation on August 26th. August 21st was the last day to remonstrate, and since there was no action, it is considered final as of last Monday evening. Superintendent Forbes had several folks in from Newcastle asking lots of questions, but all seemed friendly and agreeable to the school set-up. Trustee George Craig is to bring in his books to be combined with those of our Corporation.

The entire teaching staff for T. V. S. C., which was thought to be complete, now is short a

COUNTERPOINT

By The Editor's Wife

Harold Lucht, our linotype operator, found two old wooden plows in the hay-mow of the old barn last spring. (The Luchts bought the Truman Long farm.)

Now here is a genuine "national problem". Since we (as a nation) are attracting many, many more foreign visitors, we need some good souvenirs for these visitors to take home with them. So far, all they find are items which are imported from their own lands.

Elmer Roessner has this to say in his column, Business Today.

"As a reporter who has traveled in every state in the union, I can report that most of our souvenirs are made in Japan; that in New York, our favored port of entry and departure, they consist largely of garish replicas of the Statue of Liberty, and that in Washington they consist of even worse replicas of the Washington monument and tiny Washington monuments in glass balls which create the illusion of snow falling on the monument. Or, there are many other bits of junk and decks upon decks of post cards. But are postcards souvenirs?"

"There are, of course, some true souvenirs available, such as Florida's canned rattlesnake meat, cans of fog sold in San Francisco, redwood burls for the Northwest, and some of the Indian crafted items, although Japanese-made imitations are competing with the native items."

He goes on to give some suggestions for souvenirs that will be worth-while reminders of that once-in-a-lifetime trip to America. Here they are:

A miniature jug of moonshine stoppered with a corn cob.

A cubic inch of the soil of Texas, smelling of oil.

A miniature Maine lobster whittled out of pine in the winter.

Canned pizzas to show Italians how they should be made.

Small Swiss cheeses for taking back to Switzerland.

LP records of sound tracks of best rated TV commercials.

Small tins of that New Orleans hot sauce for shrimps.

Used razor blades recovered from the Grand Canyon.

Bottles of fireflies recharged

Printing Plants
Are Consolidated

The printing equipment of the Country Print Shop has been moved to a new building at Bourbon where the production of the Mentone News will take place. The moving of the equipment was done this week end.

The Mentone News and Country Print Shop offices will be maintained in Mentone. The old time roll top desk, plus the files and other front office materials remains. All that has actually taken place, is that the production end of the paper will be conducted in the larger, more adequate building in Bourbon. The News will still be Mentone's newspaper, so continue to phone in your news items at EL 3-3985. The office vacated by the News is being contemplated for enlarging the present Post Office. Nothing is definite yet, pending official word from Washington.

The plant of the Bourbon News-Mirror, also owned by the Country Print Shop owners, will also be moved to the new plant to establish one of the best equipped plants in this part of Indiana. The News-Mirror plant has not yet been moved into the new building, but is expected to take place within several weeks.

We want to thank the citizens of Mentone for the courtesies extended us while we were moving the equipment. It was necessary for us to utilize auto parking spaces and interfere with Main street traffic. Our sincere thanks to everyone.

It is our sincere hope that after the consolidation is complete we will be able to produce a better newspaper for Mentone and provide better printing service.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Mr. Cullum:

I've had the impression that the merchants of Mentone would like to have us patronize our home stores, and when the prices are within reason, I try to do that.

But this week when I walk into a local store and see an item for sale marked "Made In Hungary," it makes me wonder if that merchant is for Mentone and America or for his own pocket and the Communist-controlled countries.

I understand some stores in our major cities are picketed and boycotted when they offer items from Communist-controlled countries for sale. Must we resort to that in Mentone to awaken people to the threat that seeks to destroy our society and enslave our children and grandchildren?

Sincerely,
An American Citizen

GETTING THE MOST... FROM YOUR GARDEN

by Dr. W. A. Liddell
Director of Information, Asgrow Seed Company

CONDITION YOUR FLOWERS FOR DISPLAY

A flower bed pays two dividends on your investment of time, effort, and funds. It adds to the outdoor beauty of your home, and the cut flowers provide a course of color and pleasure for inside. A few simple steps will help to keep your flowers nicer and for a longer time after cutting.

It's also good practice to make a fresh cut every time you change the water.

Water. Petals and leaves evaporate moisture, so make sure that the supply is not interrupted. Carry fresh water to the garden with you and put the flowers in it as soon as you cut them.

Cutting. The best time is in the cool of early morning or evening. Use a sharp knife, and cut stems on a slant, to permit better absorption of water. Cut as much stem as possible, without destroying the value of the rest of the plant. For most flowers, except chrysanthemums, remove all but a few leaves.

Timing. Most flowers should be cut in the bud stage. Asters, dahlias, daisies, zinnias, and marigolds should be cut when three quarters open. For flowers that grow in spikes, like gladiolus and stock, only the lowest blooms should be open. Cut poppies the evening before the blossoms open.

Conditioning. Place in at least six to eight inches of water at room temperature. Three hours is usually enough, but overnight in a cool place, away from drafts, will give the best results. Remove all foliage below the water level.

Here are some details for conditioning particular flowers.

Snagdragons. Remove all foliage and cut stems under water.

Poppies. Any flower with milky sap in the stem must be seared immediately after cutting. Use a candle or a cigarette lighter. If re-cut, they must be seared again. A few drops of paraffin or wax in the center will keep poppy petals intact a little longer.

Petunias condition easily and are very long lasting. It is not necessary to remove foliage below the waterline of the flower arrangement.

Zinnias are among the most popular flowers for arrangements, but they are difficult to keep. Remove foliage. Cut some separate stems having only leaves, to use in your arrangement, as zinnias look best when arranged with their own foliage.

Celosia or cockscomb conditions well. Remove all foliage.

Stocks have a woody stem, which should be split for about one inch before putting in water.

Panicles condition best when foliage is left on the stem.

Roses are among the most popular flowers for arranging. Cut when they are in tight bud. If put into the refrigerator after conditioning, they will keep a week or more. Roses respond to conditioning in warm water, 80° to 100°. This will also revive a rose that has wilted from lack of water. A piece of plastic film wrapped around the bud will help to keep it closed.

Foliage is important in flower arrangements and requires careful conditioning. Split woody stems to a length of at least one inch. Most foliage requires a longer conditioning period, usually overnight. Such popular materials as the foliage of hosta, funkia, and canna should be completely immersed in water for at least three hours. The same applies to vines, except for tender new growth, which requires only an hour of conditioning.

A Solid Family Foundation

The family and its home, the free churches and schools—these are the foundations of America's greatness. Nations that place these institutions first will prosper and conquer ignorance and fear.

The family that relies on the Church as the foundation for its faith is established upon a solid foundation and has a true and never failing guide.

The family that follows in the way of the Lord, through the Church and the school, will be guided through all trials and be prepared to meet any crises with tranquility, serenity and quietness of mind. The members of such a family will know faith, peace, love and joy.

Local News

Mr. and Mrs. Kenny Shoemaker and Jeff spent two days last week sight-seeing in Chicago. They visited the Museum of Science and Industry and the Field Museum of Natural History. Jeff was about the happiest boy around when he was able to see all the dinosaurs on display. He has been very much interested in this as a hobby and for a young boy has a vast storehouse of knowledge on dinosaurs. Young Andy Shoemaker stayed with the Jim Miner family of Etna Green while his family was in Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Terry McFarland of Plymouth visited Tuesday with Mrs. Ron Secrist, Jackie and Robin.

Linda Goshert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Goshert, of Burket, left last week for Madison, Indiana, where she is starting her senior year of nurses' training. She will have three months of psychiatric training in the State Hospital while there.

Robert Nelson of Chicago and Kathryn Nelson of Detroit spent several days last week with their mother, Mrs. A. I. Nelson.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Manwaring returned to Mentone last week after spending several weeks in Nova Scotia, Canada.

Auxiliary Meet

Members of the Mentone American Legion Auxiliary met at Riley's Country House near Akron on August 13th. The tables were decorated with red carnations and miniature flags. President, Opal Nellans, welcomed the guests and the chaplain, Alice Secrist, offered prayer. Following a delicious buffet supper, Miriam Boardman introduced Betty Bibler and Eldona Antonides, who gave interesting reports on their week at Hoosier Girls' State. They also displayed a scrapbook which illustrated some of the things they learned about state government and some of the fun, too.

Mrs. Doris Huffman, of Leesburg, second district Auxiliary president, gave a short talk and answered questions on Auxiliary problems. The membership list shows 21 persons have held membership for 15 or more years. Most of these are charter members. Guards to attach to membership pins were presented to Bernice Jones, Bernice Rush, Mary Manwaring, Opal Nellans, Helen Mollenhour, Phyllis Williamson, Mary Frances Hudson, Vadis Ward.

Helen Mollenhour and Phyllis Williamson tied as winners of a guessing contest. Opal Nellans and Doris Huffman tied as winners of a quiz on flag procedures. Members were encouraged to buy and fly flags. Others present were Lucille Bowerman, Iris Dickerhoff, Lillian Smith, Mary Jane Jones, Mary Wise, Mary McClone, Eula Smith.

U. S. children are in fine physical condition, by and large, according to Dr. Harold M. Sterling of Brighton, Massachusetts, who rejects the widely held theory that American youngsters are dangerously soft. Studies of grade school children in upper middle class communities near Boston where "soft living" prevails prove his contention, says Dr. Sterling. Exposed for the first time to tests devised by the President's Council on Youth Fitness, two-thirds passed immediately and most of the rest were up to snuff after a few weeks' training.

If your boy asks for a Super Multi-Mouse next Christmas, think it over carefully. It's an oil well perforating gun developed by Pan Geo Atlas Corp., Houston, to fire explosive charges into rock formations to open passages for oil to flow into the shaft. The gun is lowered into the well at the end of a steel shaft. Charges used have velocities up to 25,000 feet a second.

A new meat-aging process that involves introducing a mold—Thamnidium—improves flavor and shortens time meat must hang in natural aging. Cost is 1 to 2 cents a pound.

Rooms at the bottom—An underwater house, 30 feet long and 11 feet high, will be dropped on the bottom of the Red Sea and inhabited by eight men for six weeks. It is the idea of famed underseas explorer Yves Cousteau to find out how well men can live under water, harvesting foods that grow there, crust to rise and fall as much as nine inches at the equator in a 12 hour period. Although these earth tides are also caused by the effect of the sun and moon, they aren't noticeable since, unlike the wave movement of the ocean waters, the crust moves as a solid mass.

A century old Nevada silver mine, inactive since 1920, may contain a "significant" amount of overlooked ore, according to the U. S. Department of the Interior. The discovery was made during a geologic study of the Humboldt Range. The privately owned mine is about 30 miles northeast of Lovelock in western Nevada.

110-Year-Old Man Gets Health Insurance

PLATTEVILLE, COLORADO—A 110-year-old sheepherder here, bought the first hospital insurance policy in a national enrollment of senior citizens opened by Mutual of Omaha.

He is Henry Gooch, who still works 10 hours a day, seven days a week herding sheep on a 280 acre Colorado sand hills farm. Gooch previously was insured by Mutual but added to his coverage because "I fell off my horse a couple months ago."

Here C. M. Chamberlin, Vice President of Mutual representing its President, V. J. Skutt, explains the health policy to Gooch.

Farmers Eligible For Retirement Plan

Farmers and other self-employed persons can participate in a retirement plan authorized by a 1962 Federal tax law, points out R. N. Weigle, Purdue University agricultural economist. This law is effective for taxable years beginning after 1962, but final regulations have not yet been announced by the Internal Revenue Service.

Weigle explains that self-employed persons, including farmers, will be permitted to set aside part of their earned income—up to 10 per cent of net earnings, or $2,500, whichever is smaller—into a retirement plan. Farmers are further limited to 30 per cent or less of their income in computing earnings.

Half of what the farmer contributes to a retirement program by the IRS will be deductible on taxes paid in 1963 and subsequent years. However, this is likely to amount to only $125 to $150 unless net farm income exceeds $10,000, says Weigle.

Except for that part represented by non-deductible contributions to the plan, most payments from the retirement fund are taxed to the individual when received. This could work to the recipient's advantage since some of his income tax payments are deferred until he retires. Generally, after retirement the individual will be in a lower tax bracket than when he earned the income he put into the fund.

Farmers who elect to participate in the plan and who have one or more full-time employees with three or more years of service must also include these employees in the retirement program. In some cases employer contributions for employees would be substantial while only minor benefits would accrue to the employer, says Weigle.

Funds contributed for retirement can be invested using a trust, a custodial account with a bank, or by direct investment in certain types of non-transferable annuities, face-amount certificates or a new series of Government bonds.

Weigle suggests that interested farmers consult with their lawyer, tax accountant, banker or insurance agent relative to participate in the retirement plan.

Mrs. Orah Byrer and daughter, Bea, and their house guest, all of South Bend, have returned to their home after spending a few days here.

Arch Grove of Mishawaka is confined to the St. Joseph Hospital in that city. Mr. Grove is a former resident of this community.

4th grade teacher and a principal. Lowell Hoyt has just recently been signed to teach math at Talma.

The board agreed to the August revision of enrollment which has 951 students in the southern portion to 959 in the north. These figures may vary slightly due to families moving in or out of the area.

Tuesday morning, September 3rd at 9:30, all teachers in the Corporation will meet with Superintendent Forbes at the Beaver Dam School. The school board members will also be present. There will be an opening coffee hour where everyone will have an opportunity to become better acquainted.

The business session was closed, and the board meeting adjourned. Members present were: Whitney Gast, Eldon Cumberland, Gale Creighton, Ed Bucher and Superintendent Forbes. Ralph Davis, who is on vacation, was not present.

(Your substituting reporter would like to add the following to the above article.)

Are you a taxpayer? Parent? School Patron? If so, then have you attended any of the school board meetings? Do you know what is being done concerning our school corporation? The News will try and cover each meeting and report on it.—That is our business! But the decisions made in these school meetings concern you, and are YOUR business. True, we, the people, elected the board members, and we, by our voting, expressed our confidence in them, but then the majority of people within the corporation area stopped here and never followed up by visiting and seeing the board in action. Your tax money is being spent in various ways, so don't wait until AFTER the board has made a decision, and then start hollering if you do not agree! Be an eyewitness and protest at a given time if you so desire. You will find the board quite agreeable and patient to listen to your problems, petitions, suggestions, or whatever.

Let them know you really are interested in T. V. S. C.—especially in the welfare of the pupils involved. Let's forget about old boundary lines, township lines, former high schools. Let's concentrate and combine our efforts in making this present school plan workable. Above all else, let's think of the future of our children. Their education is at stake! Should we, because of SELFISHNESS, deny them the best education possible???

Attend Teachers Conference

Mrs. Opal Carpenter and Mrs. Frances Carter attended the Indiana Teachers Conference at French Lick on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of last week. This was the 14th annual leadership conference.

The theme was, "Decision Making: Accenting Professional Roles and Responsibilities."

Seven hundred and fifty teachers attended the vitally interesting sessions, every county in the state being represented.

Glen Barkes, president of the I. S. T. A., presided at the general sessions.

Newton Reunion

The Sylvanus Newton family reunion was held Sunday, August 18th at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Newton and family of near Burket, with 70 being present.

A carry in dinner was served at noon, of which all enjoyed. In the afternoon slides were shown by Gilbert Enyeart of Rochester of the previous reunions.

COUNTERPOINT

By The Editor's Wife

We were talking to a "not-so-old" oldtimer recently. He had some interesting, yes, one might say, pertinent suggestions for improving our town.

Here is what he said, "We shouldn't try to run our town like a city, we aren't one."

"The farmers need a place to come into town and 'loaf' when they are shopping."

"Since we don't have a welding shop in town many farmers take repair work to Rochester or other places, and do their shopping there, too."

"Why can't we have band-concerts or some sort of entertainment on Friday evenings? The stores could stay open and the people would come to town."

"The town shouldn't shut up tight on Sunday. Folks passing through can't find any place open. Why, I can remember when folks used to come down from Warsaw to eat Sunday dinner here."

"We ought to have some place for folks to sit if they want to rest while uptown. There should be some seats or benches."

This is what he said. What do you think?

Merchants in every community are facing the problem of Communist-made goods. Many of these merchants are not aware that certain articles have been made in Communist controlled countries until it is called to their attention. We know, personally, of local merchants who have returned goods when they knew the truth.

Of course, the headache goes back to the laws and lawmakers who allowed these goods to come into our country in the first place. This means the merchant is responsible, and he can refuse to sell such articles in his store.

Some twenty cities have taken action by passing an ordinance which requires merchants to purchase a $1,000 license to sell Communist-made goods in their stores. In addition, the merchant must prominently display a sign stating that communist articles are for sale in their place of business.

If a customer is aware of these factors, he prefers not to buy Communist products, and understandably so.

GETTING THE MOST... FROM YOUR GARDEN

by Dr. W. A. Liddell

Director of Information, Asgrow Seed Company

IT'S EASY TO GET MORE FROM YOUR GARDEN

Many of us start a vegetable garden in the early days of spring, but few of us realize that the garden season can be extended well into the fall. By replanting after late spring and early summer crops you can produce two and even three crops in the same plot in a single season — for example, radishes, followed by snap beans, followed by leaf lettuce or spinach.

Here's an easy way to tell how late you can plant and still make a crop. First, determine the average date for the first killing frost in your area. Usually the local weather bureau or your garden center can tell you. If, for example, the date were October 1st, the crop should reach maturity by September 10th, depending on the species. Pole beans would require several pickings over a period of at least two or three weeks; likewise for lima beans, cucumber, summer squash and others which produce over a long period. On the other hand, sweet corn, peas, spinach and radishes, for example, reach maturity in fairly good concentration; so you would allow only a few days for harvest.

Next, subtract the number of days normally required to grow the crop, to determine the approximate date for the last planting. Keep in mind the fact that the rate of growth slows as the weather cools. Using snap beans as an example, and allowing about 60 days for maturity under late season conditions, you could safely plant as late as July 15th, if October 1st were the average frost date.

For hardier vegetables, like salad greens, most root crops, cabbage, broccoli, cauliflower, etc., use the same method, but start from the date of the first hard freeze, which usually comes a month to six weeks after the first frost. Allow a spread of three weeks for harvesting. Thus, if the first frost usually comes early in October, you can figure that the first hard freeze would come in early to mid November.

When re-planting after an earlier crop, it is wise to work in an additional amount of fertilizer to replace what the spring crop has removed from the soil — 4 lb. of a standard commercial fertilizer per 100 sq. ft. should be enough. Be sure to keep the soil moist during the critical week or ten days after seeding, so as to get quick germination. You should also pay close attention to soil moisture for late crops. Time is running out, remember, and you can't afford setbacks from drought.

Here is a table of average maturities for the most popular vegetable species. The number of days will vary of course, depending on the particular variety and the weather.

Species	Days	Species	Days
Beans, bush snap	50-60	Lettuce, l	75-85
Beans, pole snap	65-70	Mustard	35-50
Beans, bush lima	65-75	Okra	50-60
Beets	60-70	Caulisley	70-75
Broccoli	60-70*	Corn	60-75
Cabbage	70-100*	Pepper	65-80*
Carrot	75-85	Radish	25-35

School Phobia

Going to school is recognized as one of the crisis points in life. Some children suffer from what is called school phobia. In certain cases this phobia amounts almost to panic. Although the child often is unable to give a reason for his fear, he may believe, or confirm the suggestion that there is some particular teacher or subject that he is afraid of.

This aversion to school may be manifest by physical nausea, often accompanied by vomiting, which disappears when he is permitted to be absent from school that day. However, he feels sick again the next morning at school time, and possibly on succeeding mornings, until it is accepted that the child is unable to attend school.

Many parents justify their child's absence from school by fitting the symptoms to a medical setting even though the doctor's examination shows no physical ailment.

In some cases the cause is traceable to the personality of the parent. Some parents desire that the child continue to remain their baby, and the child's school phobia satisfies the longing in the mother who can hardly bear to let the child go from her side.

In many cases of school phobia, encouragement and reassurance are sufficient to overcome this problem, but in certain cases psychiatric help is needed.

CLIMBING ROSES NEED CARE

"Care now, bloom later" should be your motto with climbing roses, quip Purdue University extension horticulturists. A little care now pays dividends in bloom next summer.

Proper pruning is a necessity. Remove most of the old canes just about ground level and cut out all dead, diseased and weak branches.

With the old fashioned type rambling rose, you should prune all of the old wood to ground level, or down to new shoots coming out near the base.

While you are at it, cut off the wild shoots coming from the base of the plant below the graft union and paint all wounds with wound dressing paint. Also, they advise tying up the new green canes.

Planting Evergreens

Mid-August to mid-September is the best time to plant needed evergreens like yews and junipers, says Don Scheer, Purdue University extension horticulturist. Planting in late summer gives them time to become established this fall and ready to grow next spring.

When transplanting dig a hole twice as wide and six inches deeper than the ball of roots. Prepare a mixture of $\frac{1}{4}$ peat moss and $\frac{3}{4}$ good top soil, and add $1\frac{1}{2}$ to 2 pounds of 10-8-6 fertilizer or its equivalent, to each 100 square feet of shrub bed. Then fill the hole with the mixture.

He recommends planting evergreens two inches deeper than they grow in the nursery. Don't pack soil around the plant with your feet, since you may break the roots. Instead, settle the soil with water. After the planting is finished, give the plant additional water.

And continue to water evergreens in the winter since they lose moisture through their leaves throughout the year.

For further information, write Agricultural Publications, Purdue University, Lafayette, Indiana, for Mimeo HO-81-7, "Planting Shrubs". Single copies are free to Indiana residents.

NUTRITIONAL quackery costs the 10,000,000 food faddists in this country approximately half a billion dollars a year.

The money spent is not the most important loss. False promises about curing various ills with vitamins and special food products frequently delay proper medical treatment until it is too late. No one food is either reducing or fattening, for it is total calories consumed in the daily diet that control loss or gain in body weight.

Many people have food idiosyncrasies which they slavishly follow. Some will not use acid such as is in oranges and grapefruit because they think it will cause acidosis. When a person is physically normal and eating an adequate mixed diet, the body is not likely to form excess acid. Milk, fruits, and vegetables actually put an alkaline reserve in the blood which helps to neutralize the acids formed from the metabolism of cereals, breads, meat and fish. Failure to drink milk indicates an unsatisfactory intake of calcium. Without meat, there is a lack of protein, iron and vitamin B.

Faulty diets can be the cause, rather than the cure, of ill health and disability.

"New" Potatoes On Market

Early potatoes are among the high quality produce moving in midwest markets, says Ken Brink, produce marketing specialist at Purdue University.

Early or new potatoes, as they are often advertised, can usually be identified by their somewhat lighter color and feathery tubers as harvested early, usual appearance. Because these potatoes during warm weather, they require somewhat different care than the more mature late crop potatoes.

Handle early potatoes carefully as they are extremely susceptible to injury. Select clean disease-free and generally sound potatoes. Maintain their high quality by storing potatoes at temperature between 50 and 60 degrees F. High humidity helps prevent shrinkage.

Potatoes with a green color on their surface and a bitter taste have been "sunburned". He says excessive exposure to light in the field or in storage "burns" the potatoes. To avoid this problem, store potatoes in dark areas.

THE TRAIN can't stop!

Can you?

Sometimes potatoes have an undesirable sweet taste. This usually is caused by storing them at temperatures below 40 degrees F. Restore the natural flavor to these "sweet" potatoes by placing them at room temperature for a short period of time.

Properly handled, new potatoes are just as desirable for general use later, more mature potatoes.

Chevrolet Dealers
View New Cars

Bill and Jack Boardman of Bourbon were among approximately 7,000 Chevrolet dealers and dealership executives in Detroit recently to attend the largest convention of its kind ever held in the auto industry.

While in the Motor City, dealers previewed the spectacular new lines of 1964 Chevrolet cars and trucks to be introduced early this fall.

Arriving in Detroit at the rate of about 1,400 a day, the dealer guests were welcomed by top Chevrolet officials including Semon E. Knudsen, a General Motors vice president and general manager of the division, and Larry Averill, general sales manager.

Citing Chevrolet's all-time high rate of sales thus far this year, the two executives told dealers that the division expects to surpass in 1963 its record performance in 1962 when Chevrolet set new industry sales marks.

As a highlight of the convention programs, dealers were treated to an advance look at the new car and truck models in a gala stage revue the equal of a Broadway musical comedy production.

A further feature was a display of the new vehicles and other specially designed engineering and auto show exhibits which filled the mammoth two acre area of Detroit's Cobo Hall exposition center. An evening banquet with General Motors executives followed.

In addition to being the largest and most elaborate of its kind in industry history, the convention marked the first time since 1936 that dealers had been invited to Detroit for such an event by Chevrolet.

Now for some intangibles. One of our clubs had roll call answer to "What Our Community Needs Most". In talking to the club secretary I learned that the opinions could be stated in about three lines—

1. We need a curfew (maybe for older folks, too).

2. More parental care (fewer baby-sitters).

3. More clothes worn uptown (fewer short-shorts).

Here, too, is something to consider seriously.

Young Bruce Miller, aged three, was fishing with Grandfather Ralph Warren recently. The fish were biting but Bruce was getting colder and colder. Finally he said, "Let's go home—my teeth are biting (chattering)." —

What makes a criminal? Dr. J. L. Baker, psychiatrist at Leavenworth penitentiary, says, "The average prison inmate is sane, and certainly knows right from wrong. But he hasn't been able to adapt himself to the social and legal demands of the majority of his fellow human beings because of his motivation and judgment are faulty.

These are faulty because of: 1. Low Anxiety Frustration Tolerance.

The criminal, claims Doctor Baker, is unable to experience frustration without over-reacting, without behaving as though the frustration were greater than it is.

Denied anything, the baby bawls or has a tantrum on the floor. Mature personalities, faced with a denial of something wanted, first bend every reasonable effort to obtain it and, failing that, learn to live with their disappointment. Crossed in love the mature man writes a sad poem, pampers his hurt feelings for a little while, and then looks for another girl. The immature man may shoot his rival, the girl or himself.

(More next week.)

It is much easier to be critical than to be correct. —Benjamin Disraeli.

Fletcher White, of the Olive Bethel community sent us the following item several weeks ago, and we wish to apologize for being slow in using it. Mr. White says, "My great-grandfather, Thomas White, and two neighbor men went to California in the gold rush days of 1849. They traveled by ox-team and covered wagon. They would throw, the oxen and nail leather shoes on them.

"They started from Gilead, in Miami county, in March, and it took them six months to reach their destination.

"Mail was carried by stage coach.

"Thomas White never returned to Indiana."

We enjoyed this:

"Dad, when you were a little boy, what was your greatest ambition?"

"To wear long pants, son—and I got my wish too. I don't know anybody who wears his pants longer than I do."

ENCYCLOPEDIA SALESMEN HERE

Our town was visited last Thursday by several young fellows from South Bend selling encyclopedias from door to door. Burket and Palestine also had a man in each town. Since Mentone does have a City Ordinance prohibiting any soliciting, Town Marshal Gene Norton rounded up the fellows, called their boss, and sort of helped them on their way out of town. This selling could very likely have been legitimate, but the people of Mentone should appreciate the protection given them in the foresight and effort of Mr. Norton and also the Sheriff's department.

PLENTY OF DOGS

A card from Jim Beeson, mailed from Rapid City, South Dakota, states that dog hunting was as good as usual. He'd shot about 300.

And to think that your editor felt pleased one day a number of years ago when he shot about 35 prairie dogs with his revolver. Jim, I'd like to try my .222 on a few of those yapping prairie squirrels, too.

not only professional skill and particular interest in aviation medicine, but it is also necessary that the member be an active pilot with at least a private pilot license. Dr. Urschel has long been active in the association, serving as a vice president and director of the international group, as well as president of the Indiana chapter. Utilizing his aircraft regularly in the conduct of his specialty practice in Cardiovascular Diseases, he has been flying more than ten years and has both the private license and instrument rating.

Mrs. Urschel and Dr. and Mrs. W. B. Wilson of Mentone, were also present at the ceremonies. Dr. Wilson, like Dr. Urschel, is an active member of the Flying Physicians Association, and the two professional men have shared ownership in aircraft for several years.
