Christmas Decorating Contest Is Announced

The Mentone Chamber of Commerce will again sponsor a Christmas decorating contest, according to president Darrell King.

The rules of this year's contest vary slightly from the rules of last year in that only those people living in the immediate vicinity of Mentone may enter. Only private residence will be considered in the judging.

All entries should be mailed to Tom Fugate, c/o Mentone Chamber of Commerce, before December 17. The judging will be done a few days before Christmas.

Prize money of $15, $10, and $5 will be awarded the top three entries.

Christmas Decorations Are Up

The Christmas decorations were put in place by members of the Mentone Chamber of Commerce on Tuesday afternoon. They give the town a festive appearance although they lack a touch of snow for the final effect. We're in no hurry for that, though.

SOCIAL SECURITY INFORMATION

The Elkhart Social Security office will be open Saturday mornings on December 4, 11 & 18 and on Thursday evenings until 8:15 p.m. on December 9, 16 and 23 for the benefit of people over 65 who are still working and unable to visit the office during regular office hours, according to Herbert O. Bultemeier, district manager.

All people 65 and over must file an application for social security, if they have not already done so, to establish their eligibility for Medicare. Many people who are still working have delayed doing so.

There is a deadline of March 31, 1966 for those already over 65 to elect medical coverage under Medicare. Bultemeier said that his office would like to avoid a last minute rush and long waiting lines after the first of the year which are likely to develop. He hopes that the additional Saturday and evening hours will accomplish this.

Workers who are still earning too much to draw monthly benefits are nevertheless eligible for Medicare. However, an application for social security must first be filed to establish this eligibility. Their benefit amount will be refigured later to include the additional earnings.

Bultemeier also reminded people over 65 who have never contributed to the social security program that they too must file an application to establish their eligibility for Medicare.

blish their eligibility for Medicare.

The office is located at 515 S. Third Street in Elkhart.

Night Driving Is Dangerous

Hello, I'm Trooper Don Sand, Indiana State Police, Ligonier. Night driving is dangerous and our accident statistics bear this out. Two-thirds of all fatal smashups occur between the hours of 2 PM and 2 AM.

One of the biggest hazards of night driving is the danger posed by over-driving your headlights. High speed at night is an invitation to accidents because you cannot stop in time to avoid accident situations that crop up outside your headlights range. A good rule to follow after dark is to immediately reduce your speed to within a range where you can maintain positive control and be able to stop quickly when trouble occurs.

Headlights glare is another nighttime problem. The law says you must dim your lights within 500 feet of approaching traffic and 200 feet while following other vehicles. Many drivers fail to obey this law. In fact, some will not dim until the approaching car dims his lights. It is a dangerous practice. In the headlight glare it is often impossible to see other vehicles ahead or even someone walking along side the road.

Failure to dim headlights can lead to an arrest for reckless driving.

Talma Junior High News

JUNIOR HIGH SCIENCE AT TALMA

Four main objectives are kept in mind as the school year progresses: first, to give the student a better understanding of the materials and forces which make up his environment; second, to help him to adjust his life to the rapid strides being made in science today; third, to give the student first hand experience with the scientific methods used in solving problems; and fourth, to prepare him for the high school science courses that lie ahead.

We believe it is also important for a student to be allowed to be creative and develop the ability to express himself. In addition, it is entirely within the realm of possibility that an interest may be aroused which could develop into a career. With these two ideas in mind, let us think of the value of a science fair project. The first step in developing a science fair project is to choose a general area of interest. Next, read related reference material, followed by asking questions of people with some experience in that particular area. Then plan the project, using not only the information learned, but devising an original way of presenting it at the fair. The best kind of science fair project would be an original investigation organized after the reading and questioning.

All Talma students are eligible to participate in the fourth annual TVSC science fair which will be held at the Akron school this year on March 31 and April 1. This will be followed by the regional science fair to be held on April 16 at Manchester College for those who have developed exceptional projects.

WHAT OTHERS ARE SAYING

Anyone old enough to remember what happened in this country during loony days gone by will readily foresee the new sales techniques which are soon to be loosed upon the public.

Very shortly now, every package of cigarettes is going to bear a legend warning the purchaser that smoking the contents may be a menace to his health. That government intrusion into citizen tastes and habits is almost certain to increase tobacco sales. It is the very nature of the human animal that this is so.

Next, we expect to see the surveyors of alcoholic beverages putting a label something like this on each of their bottles: "This is firewater. It can burn up your health happiness and wealth. Go easy on this historical antidote to boredom and the blues, brother. Our government requires that we give you this fatherly warning."

Restaurateurs will have little printed cards at every place on each table reading, "Our government is concerned about your eating habits. We are enjoyed by HEW to warn you that good digestion is essential to your health, and that thorough mastication of your food is secret of good digestion. Do not wash your food down with the fine beverages you find on the menu. Chew, chew, chew!"

And candy manufacturers will decree, hereafter, that every box of chocolates or other sweets going out of the plant must bear a label reading: "Warning! Too much of the contents of this box may be sickening, and certainly fattening. In cooperation with the government, we remind you that sweets are not a food, but a delicacy which you should consume with caution, restraint and appreciation for your health and figure."

Think what an energetic coffee merchant could do with this new sales technique. Or an importer of tea from sundry exotic lands. Yes, manufacturers and food processors can have a field day. Maybe it's an a very subtle way the government has of aiding our domestic economy.—Hoosier Democrat.

STAND UP, SQUARES!!!

"Square," another of the good old words, has gone the way of "love" and "patriotism."

Something to be snickered over or outright laughed at.

It used to be that there was no higher compliment you could pay a man than to call him a "square-shooter."

The adman's promise of a "square deal" once was as binding as an oath on the Bible.

One of these admen, Charles Brower, says he's fed up with this beat generation distorting and corrupting our time-honored vocabulary.

He said most of this first, but we second the motion.

Today's "square" is a guy who volunteers when he doesn't have to.

He's a guy who gets his kicks from trying to do a job better than anyone else.

He's a boob who gets so lost in his work he has to be reminded to go home.

He hasn't learned to cut corners or goof off.

This creep we call a "square" gets all choked up when he hears children singing "My Country, 'tis of Thee..."

He even believes in God—and says so—in public!

Some of the old squares were Nathan Hale, Patrick Henry, George Washington, Ben Franklin.

Some of the new squares are Glenn, Grissom, Shepard, Carpenter, Cooper and Schirra.

A square is a guy who lives within his means whether the Jones' do or not, and thinks his Uncle Sam should, too.

A square is likely to save some of his own money for a rainy day, rather than count on yours.

A square gets his books out of the library instead of the drug-store.

He tells his son it's more important to play fair than to win. Imagine!

A square is a guy who reads Scripture when nobody's listening, prays when nobody's listening.

He believes in honoring father and mother and "do unto others" and that kind of stuff.

He thinks he knows more than his teen-ager knows about car freedom and curfew.

Will all gooney-birds answering this description please stand up. You misfits in this brave new age, you dimly disorganized improperly apologetic ghosts of the past, stand up!

Stand up and be counted!

You squares...who turn the wheels and dig the fields and move mountains and put rivets in our dreams.

You squares...who dignify the human race.

You squares who hold the thankless word in place.

—From the Belleville, Ill., News-Democrat.

Food Fads Waste Money And Threaten Health The Nutrition Foundation Warns

Food fads waste your money and they can undermine your health too. The best protection against diet fads which can flatten your purse and threaten your health lies in eating a well-balanced diet of ordinary foods each day, the Nutrition Foundation reports. The Foundation was established in 1941 as a non-profit organization to support scientific research and public education in nutrition. The Foundation's supporting members are companies in the food and allied industries.

Every year ten million Americans spend 500 million dollars following fad diets, the Food and Drug Administration estimates. The news about a fad diet spreads rapidly by word of mouth or through magazines and newspaper articles. The urge to try it seems irresistible to people who learn of a new fad.

The so-called "Air Force" or "Drinking Man's" diet—which cuts the carbohydrates you eat to a minimum—seems to be the latest fad. Those who follow it shun high carbohydrate foods such as bread, potatoes and spaghetti—the energy-giving foods that make up one of the major components of a good diet. They eat high protein foods such as meat and consume fat foods like olives and avocados. Proteins and fats are good foods but they do not, alone, constitute a balanced diet, without carbohydrate. A "low carbohydrate" diet may mean that a person eats less, but it can place a severe load on the body's waste-disposing mechanisms, particularly the liver and the kidneys. The low-carbohydrate diet may cause a temporary weight loss, but it is a diet you cannot stick to over a long period of time with satisfaction...or even without hazard to your health, the Foundation warns. So weight loss is temporary at best.

Food fads come and food fads go. We hear of a new one almost as soon as the last one goes out of favor. Usually the food fad requires special health foods which are supposed to be better than the foods sold in your local grocery stores or supermarkets. The so-called natural foods cost more, but they do not furnish any better nutrition than ordinary foods, regardless of the claims.

Promises of living longer, of youth, charm and wisdom by eating special foods do not stand up under examination. People often fall for the claims of magic potions, no matter how absurd.

Food faddists claim, further, that ordinary foods from the supermarket are no good because American farm soil is "depleted." That the food grown on it is inferior, and that commercial processing further destroys nutritive values. Both notions are wrong, the Foundation emphasizes. Modern agricultural methods and modern food processing together mean a food supply giving good variety and fine nutritional value. We have plenty of food, too, thanks to fertilizers and soil treatments.

The false notions and half-truths spread by the food faddists are usually intended to sell something. Many fad products will not hurt you, but they lack the magical power to do what the salesmen pretend they can do. Faddists have sold bottled sea water for as much as $3.50 a gallon to those who were taken in by their claims. The FDA stopped that racket, but other rackets keep popping up to rob those who are not cautious.

A well-balanced diet consists of a variety of foods from each of the four main food groups: carbohydrates and other nutrients from bread and cereals; protein from meat, fish or eggs; vitamins and minerals from fruits and vegetables; and the all-round nutrients from milk. By eating food from each of these four groups every day, you consume a balanced diet.

Don't let the food faddists fool you. Do not let them get you off-balance!

"There is a lot of service left in this tire...it'll make a dandy swing!"

HOMEMADE COOKIES SAY 'MERRY CHRISTMAS' OVERSEAS

Dear Cece: My boyfriend is in the service and won't be home for Christmas. I'd like to send him a box of homemade cookies. How can I pack them so they won't crumble?

Linda.

Dear Linda: For shipping, forget the fragile butter cookies and select a bar-type cookie, such as brownies or chewy fruit bars. You might ship two different types such as a Chocolate Chip Bar Cookie and Butterscotch or Date Nut Squares. These cookies pack and ship well. For maximum protection, start with a sturdy box and line it with paper towels. A bright yellow or turquoise paper towel will add color to the gift. Cut the cookies into bars and wrap individually in Cut-Rite Wax Paper or Plastic Wrap. The new plastic sandwich bags with the self-sealing flaps are ideally sized to hold a number of the bar cookies. Put a layer of shredded paper toweling in the box and lay the packaged cookies closely together on the paper. Alternate layers of cookie packages and shredded paper toweling and finish with enough shredded paper filling over the top of the cookies to act as padding. The box should be so full that you have to press down on the lid to get it on. Don't forget to wrap the box tightly with heavy paper and cord and please address it plainly.

Dear Cece: Do your other readers know that colorful cookie ornaments make charming edible placecards for a Christmas luncheon or children's party? I bake jumbo molasses or sugar cookies a few weeks before Christmas and freeze them. Before the party I decorate them with tinted frosting to resemble an oversized Christmas tree ornament with the name piped on, and package them individually in a plastic sandwich bag with a seal-tite flap. They serve as a place card and as a little "extra" dessert, or guests may take them home and decorate a tree by tying the cookie to the branches with a bright red ribbon, held on with transparent tape.

Carol.
Dear Readers: Are you looking for some party ideas for Christmas? Send me a postcard at the address listed at the end of this column. You will receive a free copy of "You're Entertaining—America's Junior Miss Party Planning Guide." Merry Christmas to you all.
Cece

Ralph McFadden Announces Candidacy For Congress

Ralph G. McFadden, a former pastor of the Akron Brethren Church, announced his candidacy for the democratic nomination for the second district congressional seat which is now held by incumbent Charles Halleck, a republican. The announcement was made Monday at a luncheon in Lafayette.

McFadden, 32, is now minister of the Lafayette Church of the Brethren. He lives in Lafayette with his wife Barbara and their two children, Joel, 6, and Jill, 4. He was active in civic affairs while at Akron and helped organize a theatre group. He has continued his interest in civic work since moving to Lafayette and is the first chairman of the Greater Lafayette Human Relations Council, a board member of the Family Service Agency, and was active in initiating a counseling service for teenagers held in detention at the Tippecanoe County Jail. He is also active in the Harrison Trails Boy Scout Council and the Lafayette Ministerial Association.

McFadden is a native of Ohio and graduate from Elgin High School in Elgin, Ill. He obtained an A.B. from Manchester College and attended Christian Theological Seminary in Indianapolis and received a B. D. cum laude, from Bethany Theological Seminary in Oak Brooks, Ill. He was ordained as a minister in 1958 and as an Elder in the church in 1963. He is presently writing a book for Senior High Youth Curriculum for the Church of the Brethren.

In announcing his candidacy, McFadden expressed concern for the growth of the second district, both economically and educationally, citing remarks made to him by people who feel the district must move ahead in areas of interstate highway construction, development of water resources, recreational facilities, business and industrial development, mental health centers, and programs to deal with the problems of the young and the aged.

Reward Offered

Mrs. Irma Zolman, R. R. 1, Claypool, owner of Irma's Beauty Shop which is located at Beaver Dam Lake, has announced she will give a large reward for the safe return of her son's dog, Reich.

Reich is a large Doberman Pinscher and looks much like a greyhound. He has sleek rusty brown hair and has one ear that stands up and one that flops. The dog is 2 years old and has been with the Zolmans since he was 12 weeks old, having been one of Jan Zolmans graduation presents.

Jan Zolman, now a Marine, always writes to his family by beginning his letters "Dear Mother and Reich", and the love was a mutual thing. Jan was recently home on a 3-day leave and Reich has been homestick getting his slippers ready for him and then lying on them, waiting for Jan to come.

He was let out as usual Sunday evening but has not yet returned. Mrs. Zolman of course misses him greatly and has written Jan of his disappearance.

Odds And Ends

by Ann Sheets

'Twas the night before Thanksgiving and all through the house could be heard the merry noise of Mama Sheetz and her two little boys.

Mama was in the kitchen sorting out the groceries and then she was in the bedroom with Todd, still bedfast with a broken leg, and then she was chasing Doug, the fastest moving wheeler and dealer east of the Mississippi. Back to the kitchen to put away more food - all the goodies were there, mashmallows and corn syrup - light and dark, sweet potatoes (ugh) and a duck and ham, celery, fruit, the fixings for good holiday eating. "Doug, don't eat the pudding. Wait 'till it's cooked! Not that either. Can't you leave anything alone? Did you feed the date pudding to the DOG? Sit there on a chair."

Like a witch on a broom she flits to the bedroom, now crank the bed up and now crank it down. A drink please. Tune in TV. Can I have the radio on? Get my books, please. (Oh, that magic word!)

Whish to the kitchen and grab the food and stuff it in the cran- nies of that little refrigerator, the 7 ft. one that was just right for two and just miserable for four. Why aren't there more cupboards? Why is everything so crowded. "Doug, why did you get down from that chair. Who bit the butter? If you're hungry eat this candy but sit on the rug!" Off to put away more food and something zooms by. It's Doug chasing a piece of candy rolling like a bug. Like a boy after a bug, he stomps on it and grinds it round and round, right on the clean floor. Whish, back on the rug, no more candy and a rueful face. What a mean mother!

Back to the bedroom. Two more drinks. Adjust the bed. Empty the bedpan before Doug dumps the crayons in it and back to the kitchen to grab the knife and orange from a hungry little boy. Plop in the high chair with you while I get some chili for supper. And wouldn't you know it - $40 worth of groceries and we're out of chili powder?

Back to the bedroom and back to the kitchen, around and around she goes and where she'll stop will be still on her feet to run another mile for the day's a long way from ended. The food is all stashed safely away to wait cooking another day. The chili (with a dash of red hot sauce) bubbles safely away and Doug is re-diapered and happy and it's almost quiet. What is that unearthly din? The TV with a program not fit for 7 year old eyes just as the seven year old yells, "Hey, Mom, come here." Off to turn off TV and hear the boy out, he brings her up short with, "I'm going to write a book! It's going to be a modern one too! None of that kid stuff." My gosh, I think, how long did he watch that program and he interrupts my thoughts with, "A good book too. All about jets" Whew! What a relief!

And later that night as quiet and peace descend over the house, Doug had kissed me sloppily and gone to bed, Todd has kissed me sloppily and repeatedly and discussed his book, and Loren has begun his second pot of coffee and his fourth stack of newspapers, then I sit down and seeing an old picture I look in the mirror. Only 17 then and look at me now! The lights hits one side of my hair with a silvery light that wasn't there then but on really looking close there's not a bit of difference. I haven't aged a bit. I only look tired.

Read Acts 9:1-8

It is an agonizing situation, and who on earth can set me free from the clutches of my own sinful nature? (Roman 7:24, Phillips)

A short distance outside the city of Damascus, a proud, young Pharisee journeyed with a small company of persons authorized to hunt down Christians in that area.

He was well-educated, determined with zeal; no one would have guessed the spiritual conflict going on in his mind. He was in the midst of an agonizing situation in which any person finds himself when he becomes conscious of the sinfulness of his nature and longs to be delivered from his sins.

On the Damascus Road, Saul of Tarsus experienced man's need of a Savior and found the Savior to meet that need. No wonder that later he wrote, as Paul the apostle, "If any one is in Christ, he is a new creation; the old has passed away, behold, the new has come."

PRAYER: Our Father, we thank Thee for the sense of freedom and peace that comes to us when we surrender to Jesus Christ as Savior and Lord. We pray that our lives may be a constant witness to His saving and keeping power. In His name we ask, praying as He taught us, "Our Father who art in heaven... Amen."

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY:

Christ saves me from sin and sets me free to serve.
—C. A. Claypool (Iowa)

GRASSROOTS OPINION

HEALDSBURG, CALIF., TRI-BUNE: "In driving through the states of Oregon and Washington, this writer was bugged by a 'missing ingredient'. What is there about these routes that makes for such enjoyable driving? It took a bit of mental gymnastics. It was one of those things that you don't appreciate until you become aware that it has been eliminated. In this case, the beauty of the roads existed
because of the lack of billboard signs."

GARNETT, KAN., REVIEW:
"Because of their ever-increasing voter strength, labor unions command a much greater voice in government year after year.
Any proposal they make, regardless of its effects on employers, is given consideration and usually passed. Antitrust laws have been ruled, in most cases, as not applying to them.
Even the union leaders themselves are beginning to realize that some of their demands are becoming excessive. Unless Congress wakes up and recognizes that both sides of a labor issue need protection, the economic future of our country may be in danger."

FINDLAY, OHIO, REPUB-LICAN-COURIER: "Farm failures were the prime motive behind the dismissal of former Premier Khrushchev; continued food shortages could cause another shakeup in the Soviet hierarchy.
But of more immediate importance is the historically proven fact that while the Soviets are going through one of their periodic food crises, they generally behave themselves in world affairs lest they disrupt imports."

LEAKSVILLE, N.C., NEWS:
"People are becoming calloused.
They aren't too shocked about accident statistics. They aren't,
that is, until the tragedy of mishaps strikes home. Then it is a case of crying: 'Why did this happen to us?'"

PITTSBURG, TEXAS, GAZ-ETTE: "Delinquency of our youth is a popular topic of conversation. 'They have no respect for authority,' we hear. 'How can we teach them?'... Let's stop talking and start showing. Disrespect for authority manifests itself in breaking minor traffic laws, in 'stretching the truth'
in conversation, in misleading advertising—in a hundred minor

Rome Paved The Way

America's awesome road system would not impress Julius Caesar, the Apostles Peter and Paul, or any Roman of 2,000 years ago, the Catholic Digest finds. The Romans built 53,600 miles of highway stretching from Rome to the English Channel, linking all parts of Britain, and driving deep into Africa and Asia. Thousands of miles of their roads still are used.

Even the most of today's super-highways, which range from $350,000 to $1 million a mile, would not surprise the Romans. The Appian Way, still in use in Italy, cost the equivalent of $300,000 a mile.

In building roads, the Romans used whatever hard materials were near at hand: hard lava set on a bed of gravel (as for the Appian Way), stone blocks, flints, iron slag, pebbles. They were 15 feet wide, cambered, and with drainage ditches. Road beds were sometimes three to four feet deep, a practice that would cost too much today, for experts use 15 to 18 inches of roadway today.

Driving licenses were issued in ancient Rome. The fee was based on axle loads, much as trucks today are taxed. Roman law required that inns be established along highways, from six to 13 miles apart. Larger places were put up every 25 miles, usually near public baths. Traffic congestion was a problem long before the mass production of automobiles. Julius Caesar once banned all parking in Rome's business district.

They had road maps and guidebooks, which furnished information on historical sites and natural wonders. The roads were well marked by signs giving mileage from Rome and between towns.

To protect themselves against holdup men, many Romans carried travelers' checks issued by banks, and travel insurance was fixed at a 12% rate by Emperor Justinian.

The Romans had women drivers, too. The same male attitude toward them prevailed in Rome, where officials took the bold step of revoking all driving privileges for women. Angry females lobbied furiously for several years, finally the Senate to allow them back on the road.

Hausfraus Don't Bend, Staple, Fold

The way housewives will shop in the near future is already being practiced in West Germany, the Catholic Digest reports.

There, a housewife cannot squeeze the tomatoes, rummage through a pile of packaged sirloins, compare the weight of one carton of eggs with another, or haggle over the price of bacon. Is the manager lurking behind the cereal boxes?

No. The supermarket is fully automated, and everything is displayed behind glass. The customer enters by pressing a button which releases a turnstile and present her with a "shopping token." Inside, she wanders among machines displaying their wares. When she wants to buy something, she drops the token into a vending machine and presses a button. The machine delivers the goods and returns the token suitably marked. When the housewife leaves she drops the token into a payment slot and receives her bill. She puts the money into another machine which gives change.

Gone are temperamental clerks, shoplifting temptations, coupons, salesmanship, and the welcome sights and smells of future meals. But maybe there will be a machine to paste those trading stamps for the signal-sated shopper.

Odds And Ends

by Ann Sheets

As a bright-eyed college girl I took a course in home nursing and received an A plus on a set of 5 x 8 cards describing activities a bedfast child would like to do to make time pass more quickly.

Many of the suggestions are still good but just as many are completely worthless as any mother could attest who has had a child confined for a long period of time, especially a child who basically feels good.

So, if I were to take the course over again I would subtract some of the inactive sports on the list and substitute some which Todd has devised. Numerically speaking they would be:

1. Go fishing. This is a fun game and can be done with a bent clotheshanger for a fish pole, a big supply of rubber bands, a bit of ribbon from a gift package, a hook off a broken toy and anything at all you want for a fish although wooden building blocks work fine. There is only one problem with this game. The block won't stay on the string no matter how many times you wrap rubber band around it. This is okay. It gives your mother or babysitter something to do, they can crawl under your bed and retrieve your "fish."

2. Rebound Mama. This could also go by the name of Rebound Daddy or Alice or Grandma or Grandpa. All you do is fill in the name of the person who is staying with you. You need sharp reflexes for this game. You wait till she gives you a drink of water and straightens your bed and seer her off with an engaging grin. Now comes the hard part because you have to time it perfectly. You wait until you hear her get to the top of the stairs or go in the bathroom or answer the telephone or go outdoors. Then you yell for her at the top of your lungs. This'll bring her everytime and she'll get you a book or crank up your bed or fix TV for you - if she doesn't get mad and crank you down and turn your TV off and make you take a nap. With practice you can develop a nack for hearing the smallest squeak of her chair at the supper table, the click of her typewriter, the rustle of her newspaper, her bed as she climbs into it, or the door as she opens it. The main idea of this game is never, never let her get everything you want on the first trip. The more trips the better. It makes you feel secure.

3. Mailbox Ears. This lets you hear the crunch of the mailman as his car nears the mailbox and you can begin clamoring for someone with two good legs to get the mail.

4. Become a Elf. This goes along with 3. You join this fun club on TV with a sick little Elf leader named Frank Sauline and you refuse to watch anything except channel 16, because, as your club card warns, you'll get your eyes poked out if you watch channel 22 or 28. You can watch for the mailman for days until he brings you your Elf badge and credentials. It's fun to wear the badge all the time on your pajamas, but don't let on that it pokes you when you sleep or you might lose it. By all means, hang the Elf membership pledge on the wall. So what if it does knock the plaster off.

5. Love her a little. After you've tried all the other ideas and she looks like she could fall on her face, call her to you and say, "I love you Mama," just as you plant a juicy kiss on her cheek. Ten times out of ten, she'll kiss you and squeeze you and tell you that you're one of the two most wonderful boys in the world and that she is so lucky to have you. If you're not careful though she'll gook it up and cry a little. If you don't like too much hugging and kissing with a little crying you'd better be ready to swing back into game number one because it's time then to start all over again.

If there is anyone who wishes to have the girls sing for them, please notify Christine Wise or Mrs. Virgil Miller.

Mrs. Osa Swihart, Mrs. Dorothy Kinsey and Denny were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey Swihart and Chuck at So. Bend. Mrs. Swihart spent three days with Mr. and Mrs. John Rhodes and Vicki at Bourbon.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Flory and family have had as their guests Mr. and Mrs. Bill Griffin and Brad of Burket, Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Walters and Kelli of Bourbon, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Flory and Tressa of Tippecanoe and Mr. and Mrs. Murray Crawford and family of Elkhart.

The Tippecanoe Cub Scout Pack 294 held a pack meeting at the Congregational Christian Church to celebrate their third birthday. Cub Scout Master Wm. Heck gave Bob Cat badges to Mike Creighbaum, Devin Delap, Steven Kent, Bryan School, Roger Elliott and one year pins to Den Mother Mrs. Ralph Fretz, Marty Rock, David Elliott, Richard Thompson, David Scott and Gregg Benton. Other badges presented were a bear badge to Terry Kreft, Lion to Jamie Erwin, and Wolf to Richard Thompson. The boys gave a candlelight skit in honor of their birthday and each gave a small speech. Each boy brought a craft article for display. Approximately 50 attended the meeting. Mrs. Wm. Heck baked three angel food cakes which were decorated with yellow and blue and were served with coffee and a soft drink. Chas. Grenand of Plymouth showed a movie on cub scouting.

Mrs. Aca Dirck, Mrs. Carey Landis and Mrs. Velma Shafer spent Monday in Ft. Wayne shopping.

A national magazine points out that jigsaw puzzle parties are a new fad.

High-schoolers, the college crowd or young careerists like to get together for an evening puzzle contest. The host or hostess can provide dessert or do-it-yourself soda fountain snacks.

New puzzles, available at all variety stores, are popular for these parties. Staunch fans also like to use old puzzles, with time records, names and dates written on back of the box. A puzzle party is a good mixer if you assign boy-girl teams. Prizes can be preposterous — white elephants, gift-wrapped, do very well.

"Puzzle parties would work for any age group," points out product manager John Rocknowski of Whitman Publishing Company, Racine, Wis., major producer of leisure activity items. "Puzzles from five to five hundred pieces give wide choice."

Young adults will want to watch for puzzles in new shapes and cuts now being designed. The grammar school set goes for juvenile puzzles. Ideal for parties or every day. These puzzles are so strongly interlocked that they can easily be moved from one room to another by slipping a light piece of cardboard under them.

For pre-schoolers there are frame-tray puzzles with big, bright pieces. Handy! Because the puzzles come wrapped in clear plastic, they can be used as place mats at a birthday table. Unwrapped they serve as a game, with a prize going to the youngster who completes his puzzle first. Later, the puzzles can be taken home in party bags as favors.

Also pleasing to youngsters are "action" puzzles. These are of several kinds. A new series to watch for consists of puzzles that can be moved by a frame device to provide some animation to the finished scene.

There are puzzles for all — juniors, seniors and in-betweeners.

Giving a puzzle party may be a perfect solution when you want to get the crowd together.

Read Matthew 1:18-25

They shall call his name Emmanuel, which being interpreted is, God with us. (Matthew 1:23)

A woman who suffered a severe ordeal was found to be remarkably cheerful. Her friends were amazed. They asked her for an explanation of her fortitude. She replied: "Had it not been for the Lord's presence, I could never have taken it."

The coming of the Lord to earth has made such a great change to life. We do not think of our Savior as far removed in outer space, but as the one who is with us where we are.

Sometimes we seem to be at the breaking point as one form of sorrow crowds upon another. Saddening news, disappointments, and misunderstandings come; there seems to be no end to them. We are almost overwhelmed. But the comfort of the Lord's presence makes a world of difference to us. He gives the assurance that He is by our side in our sorrows, and He is dealing with all the affairs of our life. Being with us, He binds up our broken hearts. Sorrow gives place to joy. We go our way, rejoicing in the Lord.

PRAYER: We thank Thee, heavenly Father, for all Thy gifts, but especially for the gift of Jesus Christ. We know He is with us all the time. Grant that we may always realize His presence. For the Redeemer's sake. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY:

The comfort of the Lord's presence makes an eternal difference to us.

Heart Disease Mortality

The United States has the highest death rate for cardiovascular diseases of any country in the world. Finland comes next, then Australia.

Among the states of the Union, South Carolina ranks highest in cardiovascular death rate, New Mexico lowest. But South Carolina's rate is not as high as the District of Columbia's.

Non-whites in the U.S. have a higher cardiovascular death rate than whites in all age groups except the oldest (75 and above). This is true even though white males experience higher rates from coronary disease (heart attacks) than non-whites.

At age 50, one out of every hundred white males develops coronary disease during the course of a year.

In 1900 cardiovascular diseases accounted for 20 per cent of all deaths in the U.S. Today they account for 54.5 per cent—claiming nearly a million lives annually.

These and many other data on mortality and illness from heart and blood vessel diseases appear in "Cardiovascular Diseases in the U.S.: Facts and Figures," a new statistical handbook just published by the American Heart Association in cooperation with the National Heart Institute and the Heart Disease Control Program of the U.S. Public Health Service.

Adults who have either heart disease or high blood pressure number over 21,500,000 definite cases in the U.S., according to the prevalent data. Almost half (10,500,000) have heart disease related to high blood pressure, and approximately 7,000,000 more have high blood pressure without heart disease. Coronary disease accounts for 3,125,000 of total cases, followed by rheumatic heart disease (1,270,000). Inborn defects (244,000) and other categories make up the balance.

The 21,500,000 total does not include stroke sufferers or persons under 18, on whom reliable prevalence data are not presently available. Nor does it include almost 13,000,000 more individuals classified as having "suspect heart disease" by the National Health Survey which supplied the original material.

Trends in Death Rates

Despite the magnitude of the problem demonstrated by the prevalence data, a section on trends indicates that the death rate from cardiovascular disease is actually going down. The total number of people dying is larger, but the number of deaths per 100,000 members of the population is getting smaller.

The higher totals reflect the fact that there are more people in the United States today and are living longer. Hence more are likely to reach the older age brackets in which cardiovascular disease takes their greatest toll. When allowance is made for these factors, according to the booklet, it becomes apparent that the death rate was "relatively stable up to 1940 but has since been decreasing." This decline in the overall death rate for cardiovascular diseases can be seen at all ages—even the oldest.

Sex and Color

When the data for all cardiovascular diseases are analyzed by sex and color, a striking difference in mortality rates for white and non-whites is disclosed.

Women fare better than men in each color group, but between the ages of 45 and 65, white men have an advantage not only over non-white men, but also over non-white women. In the 65-74 decade of life, white men have a higher death rate than non-white women, but it is still substantially lower than that of non-white men. Only at ages over 75 do the death rates for whites surpass those of the non-whites.

Deaths at Different Ages

Other charts in the booklets show the age levels at which the different cardiovascular diseases take their greatest toll. Under the age of 5, it notes, inborn malformations predominate, with over 8,000 babies dying of these conditions each year. Inborn defects continue as the leading cause of cardiovascular deaths in the 5-24 age group, but their annual toll is smaller: 1,300. Stroke death appear for the first time in the 5-24 age category, with 700 recorded in 1962. (100 more than are cited for rheumatic fever and rheumatic heart disease.)

Above age 25, coronary disease takes and hold first place, accounting for 14,100 deaths under age 45; 137,000 between ages 45 and 65; 376,200 at age 65 and over. Stroke continues in second place, with an overall tally of 197,000 in 1962. Combined, coronary disease and stroke account for three fourths of all deaths from cardiovascular diseases.

Geographical Ranking

The ranking of states according to cardiovascular disease death rates is based on data for white males, ages 45-64, averaged for 1959-61. (The use of a rate based on a single age-sex-color group is necessary to allow for the great variability of populations in the different states.) On this basis, South Carolina has a rate of 933.9 deaths per 100,000 population as compared with 522.4 for New Mexico. The District of Columbia rate is 1,003.5.

NORTHERN INDIANA Public Service COMPANY

Kosciusko Co. REMC Pays Members $105,255

Mr. William Orr, Manager of the REMC, has just announced that $105,255 is being paid to 3,500 REMC members. The checks are being placed in the mail December 10.

The REMC Board of Directors, according to its President, Arden Horner of Silver Lake, states that it is a pleasure to announce that the successful operations of the REMC enables this substantial cash payment to be made to its members. It is hoped and anticipated that future successes will warrant more cash payments in the ensuing years.

The $105,255 now being paid to members represents the margin for the three years 1945-46-47. Margins from 1939 thru 1944 were paid last year.

Mr. William Orr, Manager of the member-consumer electric organization since its beginning, states that the operation has served its members with electricity reasonable rates since 1939 and has operated with margins remaining, after all expenses were paid, for every one of its 27 years of existence.

Margins resulting from each year's operation are allocated to each member-consumer according to the amount of electricity purchased during the year. Notices are mailed annually at the close of the year informing each member of the amount allocated to him. In some of the most successful year, allocations have amounted to more than 25 percent of the amount the member has paid for his current Abundant usage on the part of the greatly to the financial success member-consumer contributes greatly to the financial success of the organization as well as low-cost current to the user. It is the policy of the REMC to pay allocations in cash to the members when the financial condition of the REMC will warrant such payments. Margins are called "Capital Credit" and when paid to the consumer-member are always remitted on a "First-In-First-Out" basis. Thus the margins earned in the earlier years are paid first.

The REMC was started originally by people who had no electric service available. Local groups organized a cooperative and borrowed money from the Rural Electrification Administration to construct its lines. The REMC has now repaid most of its government loans and is one of the largest home-owned organizations in the Kosciusko County area. Its member-consumer-owners now encompass about 23,000 family members. The 1960 census listed the population of Kosciusko County as 40,373.

The local management and Board of Directors are especially pleased to make this substantial payment at this season of the year when it will help bring happiness to many families in the Kosciusko County community.

SOCIAL SECURITY INFORMATION

Charles E. Burke, district manager of the South Bend, Indiana, social security office, stated that his office will be open to the public additional hours during the month of December. The office will be open on Saturday mornings beginning December 4, 1965, and on Thursday evenings beginning December 9, 1965.

Many individuals over age 65 that are still working have not yet signed up for their health insurance. The evening and Saturday hours will give this working group a chance to file for their health insurance benefits without taking time off from their work. Mr. Burke wants to remind everyone age 65 and older that the deadline for filing for the supplemental medical benefits is March 31, 1966. He further suggests that these people file now and beat the last minute rush in March.

3 TIPS FOR YOUR WINTER YARD PROTECTION

Lafayette, Ind. Water evergreens, wrap the trunks of fruit trees and don't walk on your lawn.

These three tips can help protect your yard and trees from winter injury, says Don Scheer, Purdue University extension horticulturist.

Evergreens, since they have leaves all year, lose moisture year-round and require moisture year-round. When the ground is frozen, the shrubs can't take up as much water as they lost. It is necessary, therefore, to water them in winter when the ground thaws.

Fruit can be protected from rabbit damage during the winter by wrapping the base of the trunks 15 to 18 inches high with aluminum foil or wire mesh.

Walkin on your lawn in winter, particularly during times of freezing and thawing, will kill grass in footprint-size patches.

'We Want Out', Atwood Group Says; Board Votes To End Transfers Under New Policy

A delegation of five residents of the Atwood area, which they termed the "pocket area", were present at Monday night's school board meeting with a petition bearing the signatures of 87 families in that area. The spokesman for the group, Mrs. Dick Goshert, reported 93 children were involved in the petition, which she said sought a written contract from the board stating clearly where the children of the area would attend school each year. She reported several families whose children had enrolled at the Atwood school for only one month and had then been transferred to Mentone.

The area to which Mrs. Goshert referred was described as "that part of Atwood in Harrison township and that part of Harrison township north of the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks."

Mrs. Goshert stated that the resident of the area would prefer going to Warsaw to school and that the petition sought this, although Warsaw was not mentioned in the petition.

After much discussion with the board and the school superintendent, the group withdrew with their petition to discuss the matter with the Warsaw school board and to consider re-writing it. Board members said they felt the "petition" was actually a request for annexation by the Warsaw system.

Two of the Atwood residents, Kiki Vandewater and John Bradway, said they had signed the petition as a request for annexation although Mrs. Goshert said she interpreted it as a petition for a contract on school transfers and that most of the people whom she had contacted regarded it that way.

Following the discussion period with the Atwood residents, the board resumed the business meeting and hired Mrs. Ralph Davis as the school nurse. Mrs. Davis will divide her time between the corporation schools but will maintain her home office in the Akron elementary school.

The board deemed it in the best interest of the school corporation to end the transfer discussion by establishing a policy that could be enforced in light of the new building program which the corporation is entering. On a motion by board member Eldon Cumberland and passed by the group it was established that no more transfers will be granted out of the Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation except those required by law (special education students, etc.) and those students presently enrolled in Warsaw Senior High School.

Under this new policy, all students of the corporation will attend schools in the corporation after the graduation of the students who are now sophomores at Warsaw High School except the special education students.

Missionary Appointee To Speak Sunday At Baptist Church Here

Rev. and Mrs. Frank Hartwig

Rev. Frank Hartwig, who lives with his family at the Crystal Lake Baptist Youth Camp, will be the Sunday morning speaker at the First Baptist Church, at 10:30 A.M.

Rev. Hartwig was appointed as evangelistic missionary to the Philippines last October. He is planning the unusual goal of seven months deputation work (the presentation of the need an evangelist, his plans, and what equipment and funds will be required) before he and his family leave in May. Their mission field will be Davao City, the third largest city in the Philippines, located on the Island of Mindanao.

A Grace College graduate and former pastor of the Salem Community Church near North Webster, Rev. Hartwig resigned recently a three year postorate at the North Baptist Church in Indianapolis to enter evangelist mission work. He will conduct tent campaigns using colored chalk illustrations and will also be connected with camp ministry, with translating, writing, and starting a student evangelistic center in Davao City.

Commerical Beef Project Available In 4-H & FFA

One of the most versatile projects in 4-H club work is the 4-H and FFA Commercial Beef Calf Feeding Project. The Northeast Extension District and the Production Credit Ass'n. cooperate in the project.

A minimum of 3 animals is required for a single member or 5 animals for a family with no top limit. Since this is a commercial project, cattle fed for county or State Fair Shows are not included in the project. All calves are graded during January by a Purdue University Beef Cattle Specialist and pictures of each member project are taken by a production credit representative. A second visit to the members home is made in July.

Members may start the project any time prior to January

1 and sell their animals at any time during the year. Awards are presented for the rate of gain, most accurate record, best job of making money and best job of feeding for type of cattle and feed, labor and equipment available. Members in Kosciusko, Allen, DeKalb, Elkhart, LaGrange, Noble, Steuben and Whitley Counties compete against each other for these awards. A banquet for all members and parents sponsored by the Albion Production Credit Ass'n. is held each year in November.

Enrollment deadline for the project is January 1. Contact Don Frantz or Victor Virgil at the County Extension Office for enrollment cards and more information.

Library News

Those who have enjoyed Dwight D. Eisenhower's books will probably enjoy his latest book Waging Peace, which is a personal account of the White House years from 1956-1961.

Another noteworthy book is Despoilers of Democracy by Clark Mollenhoff. The author uses authentic records to disclose what Washington bureaucrats are doing to our federal Government.

Most men and boys will be interested in Life's new Pictorial Record of The First World War.

James Bond fans will surely enjoy The Man With The Golden Gun, by Ian Fleming.

The Stitchery Book shows many ways of making outstanding embroidered pieces fully as pleasing as those seen in museums. All these books may be borrowed from the Mentone Library.

The Library will be closed December 25th. It will also be closed Tuesday, December 28th, in order that the Staff may take an inventory of the books.

Read Acts 4:13-20

O come, let us sing unto the Lord: let us make a joyful noise

to the rock of our salvation.

(Psalm 95:1)

The whole community, Christians, gathered at the school in a village in Korea. Partitions had been removed to make room for all to see and hear the Christmas program. Careful preparation had been made, and for two hours these standing and those seated listened with rapt attention.

The kindergarten, the church school, and the young men's group from the local church

united to give honor to the Lord

Jesus on His birthday. They wanted also to give their witness before those who did not yet know Him as their Savior.

The program concluded after the Christian youth, one by one went to the platform, each singing his testimony as a birthday

gift to his Savior. "What a Friend We Have in Jesus," "Nearer My God to Thee," "Jesus

Is All the World to Me," "I am

Thine, O Lord"—one after another they sang.

My heart sang with them then.

And is often as I have recalled

the experience, I have felt that truly the heart of the King was made glad by their gifts and witness that night.

PRAYER: Our Father, may we have a testimony to give and

and may we give it wholeheartedly with courage, conviction, and joy. Use us to show forth Thy love, For Jesus' sake

and to Thy glory. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

What does Jesus' coming mean to me—in faith in witness, in works?

Your Life Depends On Safe Driving

Hello, I'm Trooper Gerald Waikel, Indiana State Police, Ligonier District #2.

The toughest test of a driver's ability comes when the streets and highways are covered with ice and snow.

For example, when roads are extremely hazardous we all know that it takes a lot longer distance to stop. We all know this but many drivers disregard it and go too fast on ice and snow. As result, they cannot stop in time when approaching intersections and crash into cars that are already stopped. They lose control and skid into the opposite lane of traffic simply because they were going too fast to correct their skidding.

Proper speed is the key to safe winter driving. That speed may range anywhere from 10 miles per hour up to the legal speed limit. It depends upon road and weather conditions. And each driver must be the judge of what speed is safe and proper.

Be sure your judgement is correct this winter. Your life depends on it.

Former Resident Visits Here From San Salvador, S.A.

Mr. and Mrs. Antonio Cornejo arrived by jet from San Salvador, in El Salvador, Central America, December 4, to visit her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Boggs and family. Mrs. Cornejo is the former Mary Elizabeth Boggs, daughter of Mr. Stanley Boggs.

Mary Elizabeth attended Beaver Dam School when her parents lived southeast of Mentone. In 1960 the family moved to Boston where her father was a professor of anthropology for two years at Harvard University.

After the death of her mother in 1962, Mary Elizabeth and her father moved to El Salvador, Central America, where her father is teaching and is also head of the Anthropology Department of the University of Salvador. Between semesters he heads archeological expositions in the Latin American countries. Mary Elizabeth and Antonio were married this past spring and live on a coffee plantation. While in Mentone they were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Elias Bazzini and Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Murcia and families. Mr. Bazzini is from Guantamala, and the Murcias are from El Salvador.

The young couple left Saturday after purchasing a large truck to use on the plantation. They are driving the 5,000 miles back to San Salvador after stopping in Texas a few days. The actual driving time will probably take between eight and ten days.

Take your problems to Church this week -

THE HEART OF CHRISTMAS

"Put Christ back in Christmas" is a slogan that has frequently been used in recent years. In a true sense, however, we cannot take Christ out of the name commemorating the anniversary of his birth in Bethlehem centuries ago. He has been in the hearts of men ever since that time, though many of us may not hear when He speaks. Nevertheless, He is there, so He is in Christmas.

Christ has made a greater impact upon the world of men than any person ever to have walked the earth. He challenged the cause of children and made them first in importance, until today Christmas is their day, a day of undefiled joy. He challenged the cause of widows, the sick, the lame, the blind and all the victims of evil men.

His life was the perfect exemplification of a great man, although never but a few miles away from the place of His birth. He demonstrated that only the humble, with love in their hearts, can be truly great. He preached love in life; and in death made the extreme sacrifice.

To help keep Christ in our Christmas let us go to church during this joyous Christmas season.

Parson Jones Speaks

Dear Mr. Publisher:

I reckon you remember that last month I talked about children. Well sir, I went visiting this past week and I made a few more observations about these little folks you oughta know about. Me and the madam attended a church where they had a business meeting as soon as the sermon was over. We was stuck in the middle of a long new song we couldn't get out. Believe me, we learned a lot during their 2 hour business meeting. The members didn't fare too bad cause they had brought their lunch, but me and my woman almost starved to death.

The head deacon got up and announced that the main purpose of the meeting was what to do with all the younguns in the church. There had been so much bawling and cutting up during the service that lotsa folks were staying home. A committee appointed to study the hole matter got up to give its recommendation. It pointed out that whereas the younguns had been out-hollering the preacher, and where as hollering wasn't worth anything unless you could understand it, and that whereas too many people was staying home from Church and whereas when they stayed home they kept their money there, be it most highly resolved that the congregation build a glassed-in criers room to house the bawling younguns. The motion was seconded and the matter was throwed open for discussion. One heavy-set madam jumped up - and you could see she was mad with her red face - and she swore that they oughten to take the babies out of the main sanctuary. She claimed it didn't make no difference how much of the main sanctuary. She claimed it didn't make no difference how much they bawled. After all hadn't our Lord said, "Suffer the little children?" The chairman of the committee allowed as how he didn't believe that was exactly what Jesus had in mind when He said "Suffer the little children."

One man got up and suggested that if the children wore long shirt tails they would have something to draw on and wouldn't act up so much. A lady bounced to the floor and claimed they already had the hymn books to scribble in.

Another guy pointed out that maybe folks ought to leave the little kids at home. After all they didn't get anything outo the service, so why bring 'em so's nobody else can get anything out of it. I heard a fella whisper next to me that one morning when they didn't have racket he found out he hadn't been missing anything.

Well, after 2 hours they decided to buy our ear plugs for them that wanted 'em. I shore hope the Lord ain't keeping minutes on our church meetings. If He does we're sunk. You' all come.

Yours truly,
Parson Jones

Let Someone Who Is Sober Do The Driving

Hello, I'm Trooper Julian Echterling, Indiana State Police, Ligonier District #2.

Whether or not you drink is your business except when you drink and drive. Then it becomes the business of every policeman who patrols the streets or highways.

Although Indiana's legal limit is .15, the fact remains that even one drink can impair your ability to drive. One drink can cut down your reaction time and put you off your guard. In today's modern traffic there's no room for drivers who are not totally alert.

The penalties for drinking and driving are severe. You may be injured or killed in an accident. You may lose your driver's license. You may go to prison.

It would be unrealistic to assume that the problem of drinking and driving can be eliminated. The accident toll could be cut down, however, by the application of common sense. Drink all you want but let someone who is sober do the driving.

Not every drinking driver has an accident, but many do. And others will—sooner or later.

Read John 3:1-8

Marvel not that I said unto thee, Ye must be born again.

(John 3:7)

On a trip to the Holy Land, a group of us were visiting in the Old City of Jerusalem and other sacred places. When we came to the "Garden of the Tomb," the guide told us we could see the places associated, either actually or traditionally, with our Lord. But he added, "The most important thing is to have Him in the heart." It made a great impression on all eighteen persons of our party.

It is so very vital that we are "born again"—that we give Jesus Christ His rightful place in our hearts. In our present day when so many earth-shaking events are coming to pass, we do not know what a day may bring forth. In Second Peter we read: "The Lord...is long-suffering to us-ward, not willing that any should perish, but that all should come to repentance."

Jesus Christ does and will give us victory in this present life over all sin and evil if we will only let Him do this for us.

PRAYER: Dear God, we thank Thee for Thy Son Jesus who is able to serve us from our sins. Help us every day to walk and talk with Him, who taught us to pray, "Our Father who are in heaven...Amen."

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY:

Have I let Jesus come into my heart?

MISSIONARY SOCIETY HAS ANNUAL CHRISTMAS PARTY

The Missionary Society of the Tippecanoe Community Church held their annual Christmas pot-luck dinner at the home of Mrs. Sarah Blackford.

After the dinner the meeting was opened by Mrs. Beryl Benton who led in prayer. Mrs. Treva Moore had devotions.

During the business meeting the committee reported on gifts sent to the missionaries for Christmas. Mrs. Hazel Miller was elected to take care of the cards and flowers.

The president, Mrs. Irene Fites, appointed Mrs. Mabel McIntyre and Mrs. Ervade Cole to make fruit baskets for the shut-ins.

It was announced that the January meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Maxine Marks.

Mrs. Beulah Kauffman had the program, "Christmas Memories", and Mrs. Rosebel Kruttsch closed with prayer.

A gift exchange was enjoyed by 21 members, one guest, Mrs. Lena Coplen, and five children.

How to Make Exciting New Decorative Thread Flowers

Colorful new decorative flower pom-poms, made of gay spools of Talon thread, are a unique way to give your home a sparkling new look.

Stunning centerpiece, using styrofoam base, can be made by grouping colorful thread pom-poms with interestingly shaped leaves, ferns and other greens in their natural color or with greens sprayed gold or silver.

Thread pom-poms are so easily made. All you need are spools of the thread, single edged razor blade, green pipe cleaners or florist's wire and florist's tape.

1. Cut thread across spool with blade.
2. Remove thread from spool in one complete section and tie in center with matching thread.
3. Loop pipe cleaner over center of thread; secure tightly in place. Shake thread, and flower is complete. OR...Use florist's tape and tape string (used to tie the thread together) to wire. This prevents separation in middle of flower.

Gay thread flowers give a festive air to home decor the year 'round and are a real conversation piece when used to decorate for special occasions.

It's such fun to see them "burst into full bloom" you'll think of any number of creative ways to use them.

Dr. Jon Rouch To Speak Sunday Morning

Dr. Jon Rouch, medical director of the Missionary Health Service of Baptist Mid-Missions of Cleveland, Ohio, will be the Sunday morning speaker at the First Baptist Church, Dec. 26, at 10:30.

Dr. Rouch is the son of Mrs. Caddye Rouch of Mentone. Five years ago Dr. and Mrs. Rouch and their four children spent nearly a year in Mentone after serving two terms on the mission field at Ippy Hospital, which he supervised building, at Ippy, Central African Republic, Africa.

Having studied tropical medicine at Liverpool, England, and having first-hand experience on the mission field, Dr. Rouch was asked by the Baptist Mid-Mission Board to establish a new medical department for missionaries. This missionary health service is located at their headquarters in Cleveland.

Dr. Rouch's responsibility is to correspond with doctors and nurses on mission fields concerning medical problems faced by medical-missionaries.

Sunday afternoon Dr. and Mrs. Rouch will leave for Wheaton College, Wheaton, Ill. Dr. Rouch is to be one of the speakers at the annual Medical-Missions Conference. This is a meeting of pre-med students and nurses-in-training from various colleges and medical personnel.

Dr. and Mrs. Jon Rouch are shown here with their four children, Debbie, Darlene, Andrea, and Greg. Dr. Rouch, the son of Mrs. Caddye Rouch of Mentone, will be the guest speaker Sunday morning at the Baptist Church.

Rev. Royal Blue To Speak Here

Rev. Royal Blue, pastor of the North Valley Baptist Church of Redding, California, will speak at the Mentone Baptist Church Thursday evening at 7:30 p.m. The public is invited to attend.

Rev. Blue is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Blue of Mentone and graduated from Mentone High School with the class of 1944.

As a Christmas gift, members of his church and relatives enabled him to fly home by jet with his wife, Ruth, and two of their three children.

Rev. Blue served as minister of youth on a staff of seven ministers at the Van Nuys First Baptist Church for 11 years, and for the past three and one half years he has pastored a beginning church. His church has now outgrown the new church and is in the process of drawing plans for a new auditorium as it is necessary to hold duplicate services each Sunday to reach the 400 or 500 worshippers. His church is mission-minded with over 61% of the collections going into mission work. The church is also in the process of building a 300-capacity dining hall, more cabins and facilities at youth camp near Redding.

Rev. and Mrs. Blue, Stephen and Karen are staying at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Blue. Rev. Blue will be the Sunday morning and evening speaker at the Talma Bible Church.

Anthony Nigo Chapter Hears Nancy Goering Speak

The December meeting of the Anthony Nigo Chapter, DAR, held its Christmas party at the home of Mrs. Garwin Eaton.

The regent conducted the ritual opening, after which the minutes were read and approved.

The President General's message was read by Mrs. Mary Cox. Mrs. Sullivan gave her Christmas greetings to daughters everywhere by repeating the message given in St. Luke 2:1-14.

Mrs. Smalley, regent, reported that one box each of used clothing was sent to both DAR approved schools. There will be a box of used jewelry sent to St. Mary's.

The National Defense chairman, Mrs. Pearl Lackey, reported on the recent Red Youth training camp held on a farm near Monterey. The buildings burned in November and the FBI now have it under investigation. Also she reported on the Russia boats who seem to know our coastline better than we do ourselves.

Mrs. Bernice Rush reported for the committee appointed to rewrite our chapter By-laws. They will be presented next month in full. Others on the committee were Mrs. Pearl Lackey and Mrs. Edna Carey.

Plans are being completed to purchase a flag pole and flag for the new Town Hall being erected in Mentone.

Good Citizen chairman Mrs. Paul Shireman announced the names of the school winners sponsored by our chapter: Evelyn England, Claypool; Georgia Vires, Mentone; and Pamela Parker, Silver Lake.

The program chairman, Mrs. Helen Brown, introduced Mrs. Harry Goering who presented the program, "Christmas in East Pakistan". Mrs. Goering was attired in a green Sari which is worn by the native women. There are many uses for this dress, which she demonstrated which were very unusual and interesting. These are made mostly of cotton, all except the women in the cities who wore only nylon or silk. They come in a wide variety of colors and trims.

She showed us slides while explaining the culture and ways of life which these people live. East and West Pakistan is divided by 1000 miles of India. East Pakistan is about the size of Illinois and have a population of 55 million people. It is a land of rice paddies and man rivers. The people mostly live in bamboo houses. One common sight as you walk through the streets is the snake charmer. These men will bargain for their performances.

Pakistan is made up of people with false religions: Moslem 79%, Hindu 19% Buddhist 1%; and other 1%.

The Moslems believe in one God, Alah and think Jesus was just another man who walked upon this earth. Their priest prays atop their temple five times a day. If you are true to this religion you respond at these times. They have celebration they are not to eat or drink except at night for 30 days. The men are the only ones that take part in these rituals. Women are limited to staying home.

The Moslems main aim is to go on a pilgrimage to Mecca in Saudia Arabia. They believe this will help get them to their hereafter.

The Hindu worship many idols. She showed pictures taken at one of their wedding ceremonies. The bride and groom had never seen each other, she was 11 years old and he was 26. It was not a love match but for working purposes only. The groom's mother does the selecting because she is getting too old to do the work. The younger the bride the easier she can teach her how to run their home the way he wants. The richer the Hindu the more wives he can have.

The Buddhist priest is always distinguished by wearing an orange robe and having their heads shaved. They give sacrifice to many Gods.

The Goerings lived among the tribal people. These people were becoming Christians. For the most part these people spoke Bengalia.

The Tippera tribe are a small people. The small girls wore wooden pieces in their ears so they would stretch to fit the jewelry they wore. The men carried their loads in baskets held with a hind put around their heads. One custom was that the girls were responsible for going to the river and carrying the water to their homes in big basket like containers. Their women spin their own thread and weave the cloth they use. The cotton is grown on side hills along the rivers.

The most primitive tribe were the Murung. The men wore long hair knotted at the side of their heads. Their clothing for the most part was very scant but it was something she said you adventurously accepted as their way of life.

The Goering with their 3 children lived in East Pakistan for 2 years. Their home was bamboo with a cement floor and corrugated roof. The house was built up on pillars to help keep tremits and snakes out of the home. They used kerosine as a means of fuel. The food didn't give as much variety but was very suitable.

Mrs. Goering displayed many items which she had brought back with her. Everyone thoroughly enjoyed her comments. She feels there are so few in Pakistan to celebrate the Christmas season such as we do in this country.

The disability law under social security is changed. Now the duration of the disability must be expected to last one year. Under the old law the disability must have been expected to continue over a long and indefinite period or to result in death.

People age 72 or older need not have worked as long under social security to qualify for monthly benefits due to the recent change in the social security law.

Health Insurance programs under social security (edicare) do not start until July 1, 1966. Don't—because of this new law, cancel any hospital or medical insurance you many now have.

Medicare is a broad program of health insurance, under the new 1965 Social Security amendments, which is now available for nearly 19 million people 65 years old and over.

Recent changes in the Social Security law permit widows to receive benefits as early as age 60. Their benefit is lightly reduced from the full benefit payable at age 62.

The new Social Security amendments mark an important milestone in reducing one of the main worries of elderly people—meeting hospital and medical expenses.

Add to Christmas cheer with brightly colored flames from the fireplace. Chemically treated evergreen cones, small blocks of wood or kindling, wood chips and sawdust, or one-inch rolls of paper produce flames or brilliant colors when burned. You can treat these fuels yourself, as a Christmas gifts for others or for your own pleasure.

Treating consists of soaking the fuels in chemical solutions and drying them. Choose chemicals according to the colors you desire. Copper sulphate gives green flames; calcium chloride gives orange; copper chloride, blue; lithium chloride, carmine; and potassium chloride, purple. CAUTION - do not use corrosive or explosive chemicals—chlorates, nitrates or potassium permanganate.

Follow a few safety precautions when handling chemicals of any kind. Keep them away from children and pets. But only the amounts needed. Do not buy extra chemicals and store them. Do the actual treating process out-of-doors. When treating the fuels, wear rubber gloves. Since chemicals will ultimately destroy metal containers, use a wooden pail or earthen crock to mix them.

Mix only a couple gallons at a time. You won't need to clean the pail or crock when changing materials. The formula ratio is one pound of chemical to one gallon of water. Use only one chemical per batch.

Place fuels to be treated in a mesh or porous bag, and submerge them in the solution. Use a weight, such as a stone, to hold the material down for a day or two of soaking. Lift out and drain over the container and spread the treated materials out to dry. If the fuels are dried on newspapers, dry, roll and wrap the newspapers themselves to burn in the fireplace.

Always burn chemically treated fuel in a well ventilated fireplace.

You can also make a bright yule log by turning any suitable log into a source of burning color. Drill holes intermittently in the log you have chosen. Fill the holes with a chemical powder to produce brightly colored flames. Then close the holes with a wooden plug. When the fire burns through to the chemicals they will flare with brilliant color. Use the same chemicals listed above to produce the colors you desire. Use the safety precautions listed at all times.

The denser hardwoods, such as beech, ash, oak, and maple, burn slowly and last longer. The softer woods such as elm, cottonwood, hackberry, willow and aspen, burn faster and give quicker results.

Unmarried students between ages 18 and 22 may be able to receive Social Security benefits under the 1965 amendments. Children of deceased, disabled or retired workers can qualify beginning with January 1, 1965.

There are 20.1 million people receiving monthly Social Security checks totalling 1.3 billion dollars.

Bargain In Christmas Kindness

An error in a recent New York City newspaper ad offered TV sets at $8.98 instead of the correct $88.98. No wonder crowds besieged the store. Santa Claus certainly seemed to be beckoning.

What strikes us, though, is how fortunate we are to live in a country where most people can easily spare $9 or so to snap up a "luxury" bargain. How many could afford it in the countries served by CARE? Nine dollars is more than most of them can count on to keep themselves alive for weeks and months.

For example: 20¢ is a whole day's pay for agricultural workers in Ecuador, or the average daily income for all of India. In Haiti, income average $65 a year. In South Vietnam, theoretically (funds often run out), the government gives war refugees 5¢ a day.

There is bargain waiting for millions of people like these, if we will spare the price. Every dollar given to the holiday-season CARE Food Crusade sends a food package, an average 27 lbs. Based on local needs in 22 countries, CARE uses our dollars to deliver U.S. donations of farm abundance or to buy special foods, such as rice for Vietnamese war victims and Chinese refugees in Hong Kong.

CARE seeks to deliver 6,000,000 food packages in the names of Americans, as part of a year-long plan to help feed more than 37,000,000 hungry people. From Latin America to Africa and Asia, the gifts will express our Christmas hopes for peace and good will. You don't have to stand in line to buy this bargain in kindness. Just mail your check to: CARE Food Crusade, 660 First Ave., New York 10016.

Q & A's Widows

Q. My relatives have told me to take my widow's benefit at age 60. I understand there is a considerable reduction in my monthly benefit if I take it before age 62. Will you please explain the amount of my reduction?

A. The exact amount of your reduction per month is 5/9 of one per cent. The number of months you take your widow's benefit before you are age 62 is multiplied by the 5/9 of one per cent giving the exact percentage reduction. For example if you take your widow's benefit at age 60 (twenty-four months before age 62) your benefit will be reduced 13 1/4 per cent.

Q. When the recent change in the law allowed widow's benefits as early as age 60, I was already age 61. Do I receive the same reduction as a widow that receives her benefit at age 60? A. No. If your widow's benefits start at age 61 you would only receive a 6 2/3 per cent reduction compared to the widow that receives her benefits at age 60 whose benefit would be reduced 13 1/4 per cent.

To Make Hats At Home

UNIVERSITY PARK PA.—In line with the do-it-yourself trend, you might try hatmaking. It can save money or make money for you.

Once you develop skill in making your own hats, you may wish to use your talents for designing and making hats for other women. A home study course on hatmaking will be an excellent guide for your venture.

Available from The Pennsylvania State University, the course gives complete directions for fashioning hats from straw, fabric, flowers, ribbon, and felt. Supplies you'll need for your project and where to buy them are listed.

Illustrations show hat contours for faces of various shapes. It's important to know the contour that will bring out the best in a woman's appearance.

One section of the course gives directions for renovating hats of all kinds. Directions are included for curing pheasant skins, preparing feathers, and designing feather hats.

To get the complete course, send your name and address with $1.75 to HATMAKING, Box 5,900, University Park, Pa., 16802. Make your check or money order payable to The Pennsylvania State University. There are no other fees and the material will be mailed promptly.

The United States Bureau of Commercial Fisheries' home economists suggest this fruitful combination for a real Holiday treat. Bake fish fillets or steaks and top with orange slices and a sauce of melted fat, orange juice, grated orange rind, and a dash of nutmeg.

Seek 'Flu Protection'

When winter comes, can flu be far behind? Not this year, according to the nation's medical forecasters.

The prediction is for a heavy outbreak of influenza this year, based on the two-to-three year cycle typical of the disease. The last major outbreak in the United States generally were in 1962-63, and, on the West Coast in 1963-64.

Because people with a heart or circulatory problem are likely to be more seriously affected than others of they develop the flu, the Indiana Heart Association recommends that they check with the doctor on the advisability of vaccination. Immunization with flu vaccine has been recommended by public health authorities for a number of high risk groups. These groups include:

...Persons of all ages suffering from chronic diseases, such as rheumatic heart disease, other heart and circulatory problems, respiratory ailments such as asthma and emphysema, and diabetes.

...Persons in older age groups. Influenza deaths are disproportionately higher among those past 45, and much higher in the over-65 bracket.

...Pregnant women.

...Patients in nursing homes and chronic disease hospitals.

The vaccine developed for use this season offers protection against five different types of virus, all capable of causing influenza.

While it will not ensure complete immunity, vaccination has in past years produced a marked degree of protection for a large majority of those who receive it.

Flu vaccine is administered in two doses: the first in the fall, the second about two months later. However, the interval can be reduced if an epidemic threatens. Those vaccinated within the past two years need only one booster dose this fall.

Whether you have a heart problem or not, the Indiana Heart Association suggests:

Ask your doctor about influenza protection for you and your family.

To all our friends... old-time wishes.

Report From

Germany

An interesting letter from Miss Bernice Anderson, formerly of Mentone, who is now living in Giessen, Germany was received this week.

Miss Anderson is employed at the Menu Planning Office where the menus for Army and Air Force members are written, costed, and nutritional analyses made. She lives in the Bachelor Women's Quarters near the office.

Miss Anderson reports she has purchased a Volkswagen and has enjoyed sightseeing in it.

Travel enjoyed during the year by Miss Anderson have included trips to various cities in Germany, France, Stockholm, Sweden and two week bus tour in Italy. Many of her trips are made in connection with her work as Food Service and Menu Board meetings are held once a month in various areas. She report svisting East and West Berlin and finding East Berlin very drab and much poorer than West Berlin.

Miss Anderson previously worked in Japan and she reports some similarity in her work and in methods of farming, especially noting the fact that both Germany and Japanese farmers live in town and to out to the farms. There are no farm buildings on the farms.

She closed her letter by saying, "With the World situation as it is, this Christmas season seem very timely for mall of us to pray for "Peace On Earth, Good Will Toward Men". May 1966 bring all of you good health and happiness.

Calorie cutting begins in the supermarket, the Indiana Heart Association advises. But only lean cuts of meat; plan more meals around fish and poultry.

Good-Bye Rocking Chair, Hello World

Madison, Ind.—Life for elderly patients at Madison State Hospital has taken on a zest unmatched anywhere in the state.

Whiffs of cornbread and apple pie seep from a busy cottage kitchen where women are practicing old recipes long forgotten. Typewriters click as minutes of cottage meetings are typed, fingers once practiced in commercial are active making place cards for an upcoming luncheon, little children drop by for hand-oules of fudge and candied apples...the rocking chairs have almost stopped.

This once "common-way-of-life" was revived for 16 women at Madison last June by Dr. Theodore C. C. Fong, a psychiatrist long practiced in the needs of society's forgotten.

With a $495,000 five-year grant from the National Institute of Mental Health for a geriatric program, the Madison assistant superintendent began by redecorating a campus building into a modest home designed for activity and called it Milligan Cottage. A staff trained in caring for aged patients was selected.

Sixteen women patients moved in. Most were long-term patients who had spent many unconstructive years sitting in wards, doing nothing.

An overnight change occurred. The women were introduced to another, an uncommon practice in most hospital wards. The staff showed them respect, addressing them as Miss or Mrs. The attendant eats at the same table with them, not in a corner by herself. Each morning, the patients are greeted with a cheery remark, and each evening they are remembered with a good night. Self-sufficiency in such household chores as sweeping, dusting, washing and bedmaking are encouraged. Personal appearance has become important, more mirrors have been hung. Families live in more frequently for outings and picnics, home visits have increased. Medications, such as tranquilizers, have decreased.

In a short time, four women left the hospital on leaves.

Dr. Long's "new approach" is primarily an emphasis on normal living. The cottage staff wears street clothing and the oldsters are made to feel that there's "still some worth in them."

"Hospitals are partially to blame for the elderly patients' plight," says Dr. Fong. "They have filed to see beyond numbers. When they realize that the elderly patient is a human being with human dignity, the patients will reciprocate."

Within six months, Dr. Fong expects to have the cottage ready to accommodate 20 men.

"It will be the only mental hospital in the state where men and women are integrated," the doctor says. "Men and women still want each others company and we intend to re-establish this social relationship."

Work is now underway to prepare the men's dormitory and restrooms.

Dr. Long also believes that the patients must be integrated in the community before leaving the hospital. Weekly outings in an unmarked bus are scheduled to nearby places such as Clifty Falls, Brown County, Vevay, the Madison Regatta, spots along the Ohio River and homes of such interesting people as missionaries and artists.

"Involvement is the key work here," says Mrs. H. J. Camenisch, activity therapist. "If patients are going to get well, they must know how to get along with others and not to be afraid."

As vacancies open in the cottage, ward patients 60 years and over are invited over for one of the cottage's weekly luncheons to decide themselves if they want to move to the cottage. Most do.

"Western culture has unfortunately overstressed youth, to the detriment of our elders," says Dr. Fong. "Consideration for the needs of the aged has not been met and will not be met until our younger generation develops a more tolerant and respectful attitude toward our senior citizens. Unlike Eastern culture, where age is often overvenerated, we in this country should adopt a middle course in which our aged are accorded a little more respect.

"Our older citizens have in many instances been deprived of basic needs, such as emotional security, affection, recognition and respect. It is the denial of these basic emotions which has placed an increasing load on our mental institutions. Many of these patients are those who cannot withstand the emotional and physical stresses of aging."

He says he is "appalled" at the opposition of younger physicians to become interested in the mental and physical care of the aged.

"The lack of glamour and quick therapeutic results are discouraging to them," says the former chief of geriatric-psychiatric services at St. Elizabeths—a 7,000 bed hospital operated by the United States Department of Health, Education and Welfare in Washington, D. C.

The Milligan Cottage staff hopes to make families of its patients realize that they are still responsible.

The Madison project is intended as a model program for other hospitals and institutions.

Snow Is As Deceptive As The Legendary Lorelies

Deceptively innocent looking, like the legendary Lorelie, snow goes on luring men to their doom season after season.

The occasional devastating avalanche is the most dramatic manifestation of snow's power to do harm. But even more insidious may be its fluffy white blankets and drifts, lying beautifully passive where they fell on driveways and walks, the Indiana Heart Association says.

Mr. middle-aged Hoosier householder, looking at all that snow, leaves his cozy hearth to heft his trusty shovel and have a go at the white stuff which is just asking to be shoveled away, but Mr. Hoosier is just asking for trouble—heart trouble.

To avoid trouble, the Indiana Heart Association advises Mr. Hoosier to keep these points in mind.

* If you have heart disease, don't shovel snow without your doctor's approval.

* If you are over 40 and healthy, you may shovel, but take it easy. Snow-shoveling is strenuous exercise, and can kick back at the heart of a person.

who is unaccustomed to regular physical activity. Cold weather intensifies the strain on the heart.

* It's better to shovel before eating, or wait an hour after eating, as you should for most vigorous exercise. And don't smoke while working; tobacco causes constriction of the blood vessels, just as cold air does. The combination can be dangerous.

* Never shovel to the point of exhaustion. Don't let the invigorating air or a warming shot of whiskey fool you.

* Dress warmly in loose, comfortable heavy clothing, muffling ears and throat, keeping hands and feet dry.

When you shovel, lift with your entire body (each shovelful of dry snow weighs four pounds, but the weight of the shovel and snow is much heavier). Let your back and leg muscles take some of the strain off your arms.

* If you become breathless, rest until breathing is easy. If you feel a tightness in the chest, quit.

Eleven Things A Child Should Never See His Parents Do

1. Become intoxicated.
2. Use violent, obscene or profane language.
3. Exhibit or boast of immoral conduct.
4. Indulge in falsehoods.
5. Engage in violent quarrels.
6. Commit or boast of perpetrating a crime.
7. Boast of cheating a neighbor or of dishonest practice in business.
8. Indulge in obscene stories or reading pronographic literature in the home.
9. Use brutal or unreasonable punishment in correcting a child.
10. Oppose juvenile, school or welfare officers by blindly defending a child who has admitted improper conduct.
11. Exhibit contempt for or no concern toward Christianity.

Q & A's Widows

Q. There are three widows in our club between the ages 59 and 61. We want to know when can we start drawing widow's benefits?

A. Widow's benefits before age 62 were not payable until September, 1965. Therefore, you could start receiving widow's benefits September, 1965, or the first month you reached age 60 which even occurred later.

Q. Can I draw widow's benefits on my deceased husband's account at age 60, then when I reach age 65 draw my full benefits based on your own A. If you receive reduced benefits as a widow before you are 62 and later qualify to receive benefits based on your own earnings, the benefit payable on your own earnings will be reduced to take into account the widow's benefits paid to you before you reached age 62.

Q. Can I elect any particular month to start my reduced widow's benefits between my 60th and 62nd birthday?

A. Yes. After September, 1965, you can elect any month to start your widow's benefit as long as you are at least age 60. The amount of reduction depends on the number of months you elect to take your reduced widow's benefit before age 62.

A Column of News By And For All Girl Scouts Of The Mentone Community

Junior Troop #25 walked through the business district, in the brisk winter air, singing Carols to begin their Christmas Party last Thursday afternoon. (Due to the temperature being rather low, they didn't visit the shut-ins they had planned to, but the group singing was enjoyed by many folks downtown.)

Upon returning to the church basement, the girls were served punch, candy and marshmallow krispie squares by the leaders, Mrs. Carmean and Mrs. Herman. Christmas candles were given to Candy Smythe, Jessica Gross and Betty Ettinger as holders of the lucky napkin, plate and cup.

As a sidelight to the featured party, badges were awarded to the following girls: Lisa Harman, Debbie Coplen, Kathy Bush, Cheryl Clappitt and Linda Mason. Year pins were also given to the fourth graders who had completed one year combined in Brownies and Junior Scouts.

Before closing the meeting, the girls were each presented with a Girl Scout pin, a gift from their leaders.

After Christmas caroling Tuesday afternoon, Brownie Troop 142 returned to the church for a Christmas Party.

The mothers responsible for the delicious refreshments of hot chocolate and cupcakes, unusual chair treats and games were: Mrs. David Burkett, Mrs. Joe Good, Mrs. Alton and Mrs. Sam Ware. Lisa Burkett and Janice Good were guests. Sharon Burkett was the birthday queen.

The Brownies also enjoyed a gift exchange and each girl received a Brownie toothbrush from the leaders.

Christmas Makes Fools Of Those Who Claim That God Is Dead

On Christmas Day a soldier in Vietnam, dirty with jungle mud and blood, will tear open a letter from home. For a few moments he will forget his bone-aching fatigue, remembering boyhood days with his family and the excitement of getting and giving gifts.

The sour-sweet smell of barracks and the dank green odor of jungle camps will be replaced by the smell of white sheets on the old bed at home on Christmas Eve, the pungence of Christmas trees and the aroma of food from mother's kitchen. The illusion will be gone ever before the letter is finished and that soldier will long for peace, more than you or I who have lived on a battlefield can ever long for peace, and he may weep for a meaning that has gone out of his life.

As long as that soldier feels joy from no more than the reading of a letter on a battlefield, or has hope expressed as a longing for peace, or repents through tears for lost meaning, we know that God is alive.

For an easy-to-day Holiday meal, the United States Bureau of Commercial Fisheries' home economists call your attention to "heat and eat" fish sticks which are especially delicious served with a sweet-sour pineapple sauce containing green pepper strips and pineapple chunks.

SIKESTON, MO., STAN-
DARD: "The role of the free newspaper is misrepresented perennially by politicians who lose elections. Often the distorted picture is deliberate, because experienced public officials know better. They know that the press attempts to be as fair as possible in its news columns. But a public which does not always understand the various functions of its newspaper may be misled by half-truths. Traditionally, the free editor reserves the right to express his own opinion in editorials. The 'stand' of the newspaper is judged by editorial expression. Yet, in news sections and in letters to the editor, more space is often given to an opposing viewpoint."

AUBURNDALE, FLA., STAR: "Throughout the country there are undoubtedly many people who have mixed feelings about the advisability of our being in Viet Nam, and everyone is entitled to his own opinion in this regard. But to advocate the draft cards and feigning mental sickness and ever homosexuality in an attempt to evade the draft is downright repulsive and dangerous to the morale of our fighting forces."

ROCKVILLE, MD., MONITOR: "If Section 14-b is repealed, think this one over: In the 19 States now having so-called right to work laws, some 250,000 workers presently working in shops where union contracts exist but who are not union members will be forced to join up in order to keep their jobs."

PETERSBURG, TEXAS, JOURNAL: "The young people who treat their parents with courtesy and respect are the ones who were told the first time they said 'I won't' to either mother or father: 'Yes, you will. And you had better be quick about it.' A child brought up that way knows who is boss around the house, and is reassuring to him to know that he isn't it."

PHILADELPHIA, PA., TRADES UNION NEWS: "It is a scientific fact that soap and water are the greatest destroyers of disease germs and bacteria."

HEFLIN, ALA., NEWS: "The prevailing concept of post war United States foreign policy has been that we must do everything we can to free backward peoples from their supervisors from all forms of colonial control. Many of the world's people are not ready for immediate freedom. Immediate freedom makes them a threat to world stability and peace; it does not bring about higher living standards automatically and that it is not, therefore, morally defensible."

5. Fans are to refrain from throwing confetti or using streamers or balls.
6. Pom-pom shakers with sticks may be used except for persons on front row seats.

SOCIAL SECURITY INFORMATION

Charles E. Burke, District Manager of the South Bend Social Security Office, received a report in South Bend of the attempt to solicit Medicare payments by an unauthorized person. The report states the man attempted to sign up an elderly resident for Medicare at a monthly premium of $19.00.

Mr. Burke cautioned aged citizens to beware of individuals trying to sell Medicare. Representatives of the Social Security office do make house calls to explain the health insurance provisions or secure applications, but they do not accept any payments. Mr. Burke emphasized that no payments are due until July, 1966 for Medicare. The Social Security Administration will notify the insured person about the time and method of payment.

Any attempts to solicit funds for Social Security Medicare should be reported to the FBI or Social Security office. Residents can help by getting a description of the caller and his automobile license number. The address of the South Bend Social Security Office is 335 N. Lafayette Blvd. Telephone 233-7147.

FARM NOTES

County Extension Agent

The 1966 Indiana Farm Account Books are now available at the County Extension Office. There are two types, one the grey backed book is very popular because of the entries appearing in the same order as they do no 1040 F tax forms. The other yellow-covered book is preferred by those who wish to analyze their business more completely. It also has double entries for tenant and landlord operations.

We also have Field Record books that are a permanent type record of yields, fertilizer -KZB record of yields, fertilizer applied, soil test and rotation. These are arranged so that the vital information concerning each field can be very easily entered. I would like to see more of these in use as they permit a good, simple method of recording the things that are very easily forgotten.

Copies of the summary of the Indiana Drainage Laws are available now. This includes an explanation of the new drainage code that goes into effect January 1. We also have a few copies of a good publication written by John Mentzer, Agricultural engineer, on the subject of ventilating swine buildings.

Over the three year period of 1962-3-4 it was found that corn planted from May 7 to 9 out yielded that which was planted May 18 to 22 by an even 20 bushels per acre. The 1965 figures will probably show even 20 bushels per acre. The 1965 figures will probably show even more of a spread. We have tried to reason out why this should happen.

One reason would be that longer growing season hybrids things, get more yield due to more time and even more important, get some additional leaf blight resistance. Another advantage would be in gaining some time on the late drought periods although this had no bearing on 1965. There could be some advantages in timing and its effect on diseases, particularly stalk rot. The timing factor would probably be most significant in two other factors, the heat effect on pollinating and the timing on aphids. Earlier corn has a little more chance of being ahead of the extreme heat and not winds that can seriously damage pollen. It also has a chance to be ahead of a severe aphid infestation. Aphids actually destroy pollen.

There are probably other factors too that make such a variation in yields. The fields that are drained best would naturally be planted first. These would yield best if planted the same day but the data is too significant to discount. On the average of the past three years, every day delayed after May 9 has reduced yield two bushels per acre.

Mrs. Morrison Rites Are Held

Funeral services were conducted Monday by Rev. Ernil Norman in the King-Reed Memorial Home for Mrs. Omer (Isabelle) Morrison. Mrs. Morrison, 77, was a lifetime resident of the Mentone community. She died Friday night at the Alfron Nursing Home of complication following a serious illness of several days.

The daughter of Madison and Mary Anderson Regenos, she was born Aug. 9, 1888 near Burkett. She married Omer Morrison on Dec. 17, 1910 and he survives. She was a member of the Mentone Church of Christ and the Mentone War Mothers.

Chas. M. Christain Dies After Illness

Charles M. Christian, 88, died Thursday evening at Miller's Merry Manor where he had been a patient since March.

The son of Frederick and Emma Oakley Christian, he was born at Harrison Center on Oct. 21, 1877. He married Agnes Taylor in Mentone on Sept. 11, 1907 and she preceded him in death in 1956.

Mr. Christian was a retired teacher and farmer. He had taught at Mentone, Harrison Center, Clunette and Packerton. He was a member of the Harrison Center E.U.B. Church, Odd Fellows and Knights of Pythias Lodges.

PROGRESS CLUB MEETS

AT ELLIOTT HOME

The Tippecanoe Progress Club met at the home of Mrs. Robt. Elliott for their annual Christmas dinner. The home and tables were beautifully decorated in keeping with the Christmas season.

The meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. Harvey Elliott. Singing of Christmas carols was enjoyed by the group. Devotions were given by Sarah Blackford, reading the Christmas story.

"Have You Opened Your Treasures?", taken from Matt. 2:11 was read. Faye Menser read a selection of Christmas poems.

Donations were made to the Marshall-Starke Development Center. Plans were made for food and fruit to be distributed to the shut-ins.

Cheer sisters for the past years revealed their identity with new names being drawn for the coming year. Thank you notes were read from the storm victims who received comforts from the club.

Twenty two members and one guest, Mrs. Owen Tracy, were present. The meeting was closed with the club prayer.

Of the 867 electrical engineering students on Purdue University's campuses, only two are women.

County Extension Service

Economics

One easy way to become personally involved in aiding the antipoverty program is to simplify that many people might not even think of it: give needy families as generous a supply as you can afford of toilet soap, and large containers of soap or detergent products for house-keeping and laundering. Include these items in any baskets or boxes you may be packing this Christmas!

This suggestion is made—and is fact urged. It comes as a great shock to discover that many people who live on low incomes or welfare allotments cannot afford to buy the basic supplies required to keep themselves, their families, and their homes clean.

Other welcome additions to gift packages are washcloths and sponges, which enable such cleanliness products to be used effectively; and also such sewing supplies as needles and thread which are required to keep clothes and home furnishings in usable condition.

By contributing these "necessaries" to people who need them, you can provide very neighborly help towards protecting their health, improving their living conditions, and equally important—building their self-respect.

Toasted Bread Cubes—arrange soft cubes on a cookie sheet. Place cookie sheet under a preheated broiler (400F.) or in a slow oven (300F.) and toast until bread cubes are golden brown on all sides, turning occasionally.

Dry Bread Crumbs—grind dry bread through a food chopper, using fine blade. Tie a paper bag on the blade end of the grinder so that crumbs will drop into bag as they are ground. If fine bread crumbs are desired, sift the crumbs through a sieve and store the coarse dry and fine dry crumbs in separate covered containers.

Buttered Bread Crumbs—melt 1/2 cup butter or margarine in skillet. When hot add 1 cup dry bread crumbs. Stir constantly until crumbs are golden brown.

LET MEXICAN MAIN DISH ADD FLAVOR TO YOUR NEXT PARTY DINNER MENU

Want to try something new—and deliciously different—for your next company meal, or as a main dish at a supper-party buffet? Here's a recipe for Sopa de Fideo, a Mexican specialty which comes out "just right" when it's prepared in a king-size automatic skillet:

Sopa de Fideo
2 tablespoons shortening
1/2 cup boiling water
1/2 pound vermicelli, broken into small pieces, 1/4-inch long
1 pound beef, ground
3 garlic cloves, minced
2 onions, medium size, chopped
1 number 2 1/4 can whole tomatoes, including juice
1/2 cup boiling water
1 green pepper, chopped
4 celery stalks, chopped
1/2 cup whole kernel corn, drained
1 tablespoon salt
1-3 teaspoons chili powder, as desired
1 teaspoon black pepper
1/2 pound sharp cheese, sliced

Preheat automatic skillet to 325 degrees F. Melt shortening and brown vermicelli to a medium color. Add meat and cook. Stir occasionally. Add remaining ingredients, except cheese, and press into liquid. Reduce temperature to 200 degrees F. Cover with vent closed and cook 20 minutes. Place a layer of sharp cheese on top of meat mixture. Cover and continue cooking five minutes until cheese melts. Makes 6-8 servings.

Note: leftover vegetables and meat (chicken, beef or pork) can be used in place of the corn and ground beef.

DAR Award Winners Are Named By Anthony Nigo Chapter

The Anthony Nigo Chapter announced at their recent December meeting the DAR Good Citizen winners from the 3 high schools which they sponsor.

Their pictures and individual data are as follows:

Miss Evelyn England daughter of Mrs. Georgia Bradley, R. R. #2, Claypool. Her papers will represent the chapter at the state contest. She attends Claypool High School where she is editor of the school annual and is a member of the band, chorus, student council, and pep club. Her interests center around writing, poetry, and basketball. As for the future she plans on attending Manchester College and adventually teach English or elementary education.

The representative from Silver Lake High School is Miss Pamela Parker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Parker. In school she is active in the pep club, the Sunshine Society and National Honor Society. Also she is on the annual staff and secretary of the senior class. As far as outside interest she likes all outdoor sports including swimming, tennis, and ice-skating. In the fall she plans to attend Parkview School of Nursing in Fort Wayne.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Vires, Miss Georgia Vires of R. R. #2, Warsaw, Indiana, represented Mentone High School. Her main delegate to Hoosier Girls State and serves this year as secretary of the future Teachers Association and school projectionist club. She would like to attend college after graduation and adventually become a member of the peace corps, later teaching government and secondary math.

The goal of this committee is to teach appreciation among young people that character building is a basis for good citizenship. The work offers girls of public senior high schools an opportunity to cultivate character, to develop wholesome ideas, to gain appreciation of their heritage of freedom and to learn and assume their responsibilities as future citizens of our country.

The society conducts a nationwide contest open to girls in the senior class of all public schools, who possess, to an outstanding

DAR in agreement with the State Department of Education. The Indiana winner receives an award of the choice of a $100. Series E. Savings or a $75. scholarship. The National winner receives a $1,000. scholarship to the college of her choice and an engraved 5 inch Silver Bowl.

The Anthony Nigo Chapter along with the other individual chapters is proud to present each girl with a Certificate of Award and a DAR Good Citizen pin.

Marshal To Ticket Sloppy Parkers, Others

Marshall Gene Norton advised that there has been a number of minor accidents in Mentone recently. The marshal says these accidents have been caused mostly by improper parking and other acts of improper driving. The parking problem is rather bad at times in Mentone on main street. There is a 2 hour parking ordinance in effect on main street but the marshal does not want to be too strict on this unless it becomes necessary. Some people have been abusing their parking privileges to the point of eliminating spaces that would be available if they were to park properly. Some have been parking cross ways in the lines, which takes up 2 spaces, and also cause accidents by backing into the sides of other cars because they have to maneuver around to get out. This type of parking is caused mostly because they turn in the middle of the street to park on the opposite side which is another violation of the law.

It is against the law to turn across the opposite lane of traffic to get into a parking space. This can cause a serious accident in itself.

Another practice that has been noticed in Mentone quite frequently is the practice of backing out of a parking space and backing sometimes a half a block down the street and around the corner into an intersection to go the opposite direction. This is also against the law and has caused accidents.

It does not take but a few seconds more to go around the block to get into or leave a parking space properly.

Now stop and think, isn't it really worth the extra time to show a little courtesy or prevent an accident?

The police dept. is asking your cooperation in obeying these regulations. The marshal also advises that after January 1 these regulations will be strictly enforced. All violators will be ticketed with out warning.

Let's all make an effort to be more courteous, and make Mentone a safer place to live.

Blackburn, R. R. 5, Warsaw; Alden G. Jones, R. R. 1, Claypool; and Tommy K. Teel, Mentone. Teel's suspension runs until June 2, 1966 while the other two suspensions run until February 2, 1966.

committee.

Charter memberships in the organization are still open. Dues are $2 for adults and $1 for students. Checks may be sent to Ralph Brubaker at Leesburg or to Mrs. William Nice, Corner of Ft. Wayne and Parker Streets, Warsaw.

To date, the society has over 100 charter members. Plans are being made for an active organization and it is hoped that a large number of charter members will help the society with the tasks of compiling the histories of various communities and businesses in the county.

Everett Welborn Tops Lighting Contest

The Everett Welborn family, R. R. 1, Mentone, received the $15 first prize in this year's lighting contest. Emery Mosier, 39, Killed In Crash

Emery G. Mosier, 39, a lifelong resident of Mentone, was killed early Tuesday morning when the semi-trailer truck he was driving overturned north of Westfield. Mosier was driving the rig which was owned by Nelson Trucking Co. of Burket when the right front tire blew out. The truck left the highway and traveled 250 feet before overturning in a field. Investigating officers stated Mosier died instantly of a crushed chest and skull.

About half the load of 200 hogs was killed in the crash. Investigating officers theorized that Mosier's death might have been prevented if the vehicle had been equipped with seat belts.

The son of Harry C. and Atha Ruth Casner Mosier, he was born near Crystal Lake on Feb. 3, 1926 and had resided in the Mentone area all his life.

He married Phyllis Roberts on Dec. 7, 1946 and she survives.

Mosier was a member of the Mentone Masonic Lodge, the American Legion, The Ft. Wayne Scottish Rite and the Plymouth Loyal Order of Moose.

Surviving with his wife are three daughters, Mrs. Susan Morgan, Ft. Wayne, Connie and Tami, at home; a son, Gary, at home; a brother, Leo Mosier, R. 4, Warsaw; two sisters, Mrs. Leonard (Mary Alice) Estep, Warsaw, and Mrs. Charles (Sandra) Dunnuck, R. R. 2, Bourbon; and a granddaughter, Darla Sue Morgan, Ft. Wayne.

Funeral services will be conducted in the Mentone Methodist Church Thursday afternoon at 2 p.m. Burial will be in the Mentone cemetery.

Friends may call at the King-Reed Memorial Home after noon today until an hour preceding the service.

If the tax receipt has been lost it will be necessary to secure a tax clearance statement from the county treasurer.

Newcomers to the county should take receipts from the last county of residence to secure a tax clearance statement.

The Warsaw branch will be closed all day Saturday, Jan. 1. Office hours are 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. daily except Wednesday closes at noon.

Computer Advises Farmers: Work Now, Beat Wet Spring

Farmers throughout much of the Midwest and the south may face a delayed spring planting season next year due to excessive moisture conditions.

That is the warning from a computerized weather impact system, developed by International Minerals & Chemical Corporation, that measures thousands of up-to-the-minute weather facts to compute future effects of weather on agriculture.

"The computer reports that much of the nation's farm land now is holding high moisture levels, with millions of acres already saturated or nearly saturated," according to Meredith Smith, the mathematician who developed the weather program for the fertilizer materials company.

"If the present moisture is held by the soils — which is likely — winter snows and spring rainfall will cause fields to be too muddy to work until late in the spring."

Because of the likelihood of a late spring, farmers are encouraged to do as much field work as possible now.

"This means farmers should be plowing and applying fertilizer as well as planning now for the expected late start in the spring," advises Dr. J. C. Englbous, IMC agronomist.

High moisture levels mean that crops will be able to realize the maximum benefits from fertilizers, he says.

"And one thing more farmers are doing this year is fall application of nitrogen fertilizers to

Another Indian Giver

"Indian giver" is a term of derision long favored by youngsters. It has to do with someone which gives you something—and then demands it back.

Nowadays, Indian giving can be accurately used to describe the tax system.

We have had a modest reduction in federal income taxes. This action was greeted with an immense amount of publicity and was described as a shot in the arm for the economy. And, it is true, just about everyone has had a little more take-home pay to spend.

But this happy situation is soon to end—either entirely or in large part—for most people. The reason: In 1966, a worker with an income of $6,600 or more will pay $277 in social security taxes—$103 more than the $174 he paid in 1965. The employer's contribution will go up by an identical amount.

And this won't be the end. More increases will go into effect periodically. By 1987, the $6,600 a year worker will pay $373, as will his employer. And self-employed people will then pay $515. Tax reductions are fine. But they don't mean a thing when tax increases take all or most of the money right back.

Every 5 minutes, a child is born who will be mentally retarded.

Concluding the program will be a panel discussion moderated by Purdue agricultural economist J. Carroll Bottom. Panelist will be the four speakers of the day.

Parson Jones Speaks

Dear Mr. Publisher:

I hope you had a nice Christmas. We had a very profitable one. We had all our gifts appraised and we got $200.00 worth of stuff. Course $100.00 worth was made of plastic and is already broke. It seems like the less the dollar is worth the less what you buy is worth. Next thing you know they'll have plastic money and paper toys. That way it won't be hard to break a hundred dollar bill.

It's amazing at all the things people in our little town got for Santa Claus Day. One boy got a guitar with a built in radio. It don't have strings so anybody can play it if he can turn a knob. Lotsa youngsters got war toys. I understand these were resigned to give kids military training before the legal age. My oldest boy got a oil painting outfit where the pictures were already painted. That way you don't need a brush or paint. This new painting set ain't nearly as messy as the paint-by-the-numbers deal. So much for receiving side of Christmas.

Our little church took on a project for the needy this year just like we have in the past. This Christmas we voted to help the Ku Klux Klan. We thought it was awful that so many people didn't have nothing but a sheet to wear. It ain't so bad in the summer time but in the winter it gets so bad they gotta build a fire to keep warm. So, we bought a hundred pair of britches to outfit our local Klan. We also set up a night school where these folks can come and complete their education. It must get awful embarrassing to wear hats or go bare-headed like everybody else. Then too, the school would help these pore folks to talk. I was watching them Klan hearings in Washington on my TV and all most of 'em could say was "The 5th Amendment". Now Mr. Publisher, ain't it a shame that folks in the Great Society have such a limited vocabulary?

Oddly enough even though we did this charity in the best of spirits, the KKK didn't take it so kindly. Fact is, they swore it was an insult. But that's the way it goes in some of these poverty areas - some folks just don't appreciate what you do for 'em. Well, anyhow we hope what we done will get 'em out of their pockets of poverty.

I gotta be signing off now and work on my sermon. - if Lord willing there be a next Sunday. Why don't you come by for the cross burning and bring your own hot-dog stick. Like the ole song says, "the more we get together the happier we'll be."

Phone Bills

Will Drop

The cost of telephone service will be reduced January 1 when the first of a series of federal excise tax cuts takes effect. General Telephone Company is reminding customers.

The excise tax on both local long distance telephone service will fall from the current 10 percent to 3 percent, representing about a 70 percent reduction, under a bill passed by Congress last spring. Subsequent tax reductions of one percentage point are scheduled for January 1 of 1967, 1968 and 1969 when the tax will be eliminated completely.

General pointed out that the tax reduction applies to telephone bills when they are issued on or after January 1 regardless of when the service was furnished, provided such service was not furnished prior to November 1, 1965.

NEW ROCKFORD, N.D., TRANSCRIPT: "Some of the vociferous advocates of government-owned electric systems have suggested the government should move into the electricity field to prevent another blackout... They imply, of course, that such a thing could never happen if Uncle Sam ran the show. Let's see, now, who'd take care of the place when all the government holidays come along and every office shuts down? And more obvious yet—have these public power advocates checked into the efficiency of the government-operated mail service? We'd be back to the coal range, kerosene lamp and lignite furnace in short order if the bureaucracy controlled the power system in our nation."

LAKE CITY, S.C., TIMES-HERALD: "Businessmen learned long ago that it pays to advertise. Education of employees and customers pays, too. It's the only form of insurance against destruction that free enterprise can buy."

Read Romans 6:1-11

He also should walk in newness of life.

(Romans 6:4)

When we revisited mountain areas that were familiar to us in our childhood, we noticed that new trees and shrubs were already covering up scars of past mining and forest fires. The vegetation was covering and renewing the earth that had been left ugly and bare by fire and man's carelessness.

Then we thought of this as having some parallels in the lives of men. Often the sins, sorrows, failures, and frustrations that come into our lives leave ugly scars. When we accept Christ's way, becoming new creatures to Him, He renews us and gives a new appearance to our lives. Christ's redemptive grace transforms us and covers the scars of life.

A new year means a renewed chance to let Christ have His way with us. Today brings another opportunity to live as Christ would have us live—in love for God, in peace with ourselves, in harmony with our neighbors and our world.

PRAYER: Heavenly Father, the same yesterday, today, and forever, help us to resolve to take Christ with us into all areas of life. May we grow more Christ-like in all our ways, as we work and as we pray. "Our Father who art in heaven. Amen."

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY:
Christ offers us God's way of spiritual renewal.

—Auril Wood (California)

FRITTERS ARE TASTY, EASY TO MAKE WITH SKILLET

...and easy to make perfectly with the controlled heat of an automatic skillet. Here's one that's guaranteed to be popular with your family and friends.

Dessert Apple Fritters
2 lemons 1 1/2 teaspoons
1/2 cup sugar baking
4 medium size powder
tart apples, 2 egg yolks
sliced in 1 1/2 teaspoons
1/2-inch thick vanilla rings 1 tablespoon
BATTER: melted short-
1 cup sifted ening or salad
flour oil
1/4 cup sugar 2 egg whites

Squeeze juice from lemons and add water to make 1/2 cup liquid. Combine liquid and sugar in medium bowl; add apple rings; marinate 30 minutes. Occasionally spoon liquid over apples. Sift together flour, sugar and baking powder into medium bowl. Combine egg yolks, milk, vanilla and melted shortening. Add to flour mixture; blend well. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry; fold gently into batter.

Heat one cup shortening or salad oil in skillet with temperature control at 370 degrees F. Drain apples and, using tongs, dip each slice into fritter batter. Place coated apple slices in skillet and fry 3-4 minutes or until golden brown; turn once during cooking. Place on absorbent paper. Serve on heated platter; sprinkle with confectioners sugar. Makes 16-24 fritters.

ROLLS FARCI ARE SKILLET- COOKED FOR FAMILY MEAL OR PARTY TREAT

Here's a recipe for Rolls Farci, an unusual taste treat that is equally successful as the main dish for a family meal or as the piece de resistance at a late evening party supper. Easy to cook in an automatic skillet. Rolls Farci are also a boon to the harried hostess because they can be prepared early in the day, foil-wrapped and placed in the refrigerator until 30 minutes before serving time, then baked and served.

Rolls Farci
1 pound sausage 4 tablespoons
1 pound beef prepared
1 pound pork mustard
1 large onion, 4 sprigs parsley,
chopped chopped
1 teaspoon salt
8 whole rolls or 4 1/2 teaspoon small leaves pepper
French bread, 14 teaspoon cut in half oregano
2 eggs

Place sausage meat in cold skillet. Set temperature control at 300 degrees F. and cook sausage, breaking up meat with fork. Add beef, onion and cook until lightly browned. Cut an end from each roll and hollow out inside. Mix these crumbs with remaining ingredients; then add meat and mix. Pack rolls with mixture and replace end. Wrap each roll with aluminum foil and place in skillet with temperature control set at 250 degrees F. Bake, covered with vent closed, 15-20 minutes or until ready to serve. Makes 8 servings.

Gifts That Say "Thank You"

If you want to say "thank you" in a special way to a friend or neighbor, give a jar of your own homemade Lemon Delight Marmalade, a tart-sweet spread made from fresh fruit.

LEMON DELIGHT MARMALADE

Yield: about 7 medium glasses

3 cups prepared fruit (6 lemons, 1 1/2 cups water, and 1/2 teaspoon baking soda)
5 cups (2 1/4 lb.) sugar
1/2 bottle Certo Fruit Pectin

First prepare the fruit. Remove skins in quarters from 6 medium-size lemons. Lay quarters flat; shave off and discard about half of white part. With a sharp knife or scissors, slice remaining rind very fine — or chop or grind. Add 1 1/2 cups water and 1/2 teaspoon baking soda; bring to a boil and simmer covered 20 minutes, stirring occasionally. Section or chop peeled fruit; discard seeds. Add pulp and juice to undrained cooked rind. Simmer covered 10 minutes longer. Measure 3 cups into a very large saucepan.

Then make the marmalade. Thoroughly mix sugar into fruit in saucepan. Place over high heat, bring to a full rolling boil, and boil hard 1 minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and at once stir in fruit pectin. Skim off foam with metal spoon. Then stir and skim for 7 minutes to cool slightly and to prevent floating fruit. Ladle quickly into glasses. Cover at once with 1/4 inch hot paraffin.

A Motor Vehicle Is No Match For A Train

Hello, I'm Trooper John Hamersley, Indiana State Police, Ligonier District #2. I've patrolled the highways in this area for several years. During that time I've investigated hundreds of accidents and the most tragic ones are those involving trains and vehicles.

There is little or no excuse for accidents of this type. Why, then, odd they happen? The only answer can be driver carelessness.

Many train-car accidents happen at crossings that are well marked with signs and signals. Most of the victims are drivers who live in the vicinity and are familiar with the crossing.

Railroad engineers and other crewmen will tell you that, daily, they see drivers who cross tracks dangerously close to their approaching train. Some even drive around lowered gates.

The deadliest factor concerning train-car accidents is that few ever survive the crash. A motor vehicle is no match for a train. Sometimes, however, trains are derailed. As a result, many people's lives are threatened by the carelessness of one driver.

Railroad crossings are dangerous intersections. Look both ways before crossing the next one.

Earl Wright Makes Ladies Look Corny . . . and Love It

Two years ago Earl Wright was the owner of a lawn mower factory trying to sell his own design for a dust collecting machine to a grinding mill. He did not make that sale. Instead he discovered the newest face powder in over 2,000 years.

Noticing that workmen, covered in the silky dust of ground-up corn cobs, had "complexions that would put a Hollywood starlet to shame" he collected samples of the dust and asked his wife and her friends to test it as a face powder.

In seeking a patent he discovered that Dr. Cleveland White, of the Stritch School of Medicine of Loyola University (Chicago) had long used corn-cob powder as a skin medication. Its high rate of absorbency takes up moisture so completely that micro-organisms are deprived of the media they need to grow.

After two years of testing, Mr. Wright has sold both his dust collecting device and his corn cob powder. Shulton, Inc. will market the powder nationally under the name of "Corn Silk". He says it is absolutely free of artificial color and is therefore suitable for all complexions. He does claim that its high absorbency makes it more effective than other powders in soaking up skin oils and keeping the shine off the face.

So it appears that many years later, that grinding mill will be using his device to collect corn cob dust . . . for face powder.

A Clean Record Is Something To Brag About

Hello, I'm Trooper Herschel Harper, Indiana State Police, Ligonier.

Any teenage driver will tell you that cars - cars of any size, shape or description - are the most. And that driving is fun. I agree with then 100 percent.

It's unfortunate, however, that a few youngsters who drive foolishly give a black eye to the rest of the crowd. Drag racing, speeding, reckless driving, all of these things are great for kicks but all too often the price is too great. Drag racers crash into innocent travelers on the highway; a youngster loses control of his car at high speed, runs off the road, and dies. You can read the accounts in your newspaper every day.

If there's one point I would like to get across to teenage drivers it's this: Safe driving is a tough, demanding job. It takes sharp reflexes and the ability to think fast and far ahead. The reward for this kind of driving is a clean record with no arrests or accidents. That's something to brag about!

Teenagers need good judgment to ride as well as drive. If you fail to speak up when a buddy drive recklessly, he'll drive you to your death sooner or later.

Drivers Need To Re-Learn Safe Winter Driving Habits

The season's first substantial snow fall revealed to some Indiana drivers their need to relearn safe winter driving habits lost during thousands of miles of carefree summer motoring. Lieutenant Richard Peters of the Ligonier District, Indiana State Police reported today.

"Tie-ups and minor accidents in several parts of the state weren't as serious as they might have been," he Lieutenant said, "but I hope our next taste of winter will find us a little better prepared."

Stopping on packed snow, especially where it was polished down by skidding and spinning wheels to the smoothness of glass at the approach to intersections, was far more treacherous than some drivers anticipated, he reported.

He offered the following tips provided for future references:

1. Check weather reports and adjust driving schedules to allow for reduced speed on slippery streets.
2. Allow considerably more distance between cars in traffic.
3. Equip your car with snow tires and carry reinforced tire chains for severe conditions.
4. Pump brakes when stopping to prevent wheel locking and skidding.
