Do You Have The Heart To Hunt?

Falling leaves, snow, bright, crisp days and the excitement of the chase will lure over 600,000 Indiana hunters into the woods and fields this year in quest of rabbit, deer, pheasant and quail.

Some hunters will die from accidental gun shot. Others will die from a less dramatic but at least three times more prevalent cause—heart attack.

Rules for gun safety are widely known and remembered, but the rules for heart safety while hunting are not as well known and seldom remembered.

Here are some recommendations from the Indiana Heart Association to help bring hunters back alive.

First off, hunters should ask themselves this question: Do I have the heart to hunt?

Hunting often demands a level of energy output which may be triple or quadruple the level at which most hunters operate during the off season. Extremes of weather, change of altitude, rough terrain and the stress of the chase can levy a heavy tax on the heart's capacity.

Accordingly the Indiana Heart Association advises hunters to have a complete physical examination before planning a hunting trip. Then a doctor can, if necessary, suggest ways in which the hunter can pace himself, get his deer or rabbit and at the time time minimize the strains on his heart.

Good advice for all hunters to follow for hunting and heart safety would be:

Condition yourself as for any unusual physical exertion, with an increasing schedule of exercise in preparation for the big event.

Choose lightweight but warm clothing, to lighten the load on your heart.

Know simple first-aid rules. Be moderate in eating and drinking.

Observe the standard safety rules for handling firearms.

Don't drag the deer! When you've downed your deer, let him lie until you can get a couple of able-bodied men to help move the carcass. And if you have a heart condition, let them do this job without you. Make your contribution to the hunting party in a less strenuous way.

If you have a heart condition, take at least one member of your party into your confidence. Tell him what medicine you take, how it is given and the symptoms which indicate the need for medication. He should know which pocket you keep it in, and the container should carry clearly typed instructions.

The heart may be a lonely hunter, but you shouldn't be. Never hunt alone.

Get a good rest—preferably a full night's sleep—before you set out to hunt.

If you're hunting at a higher altitude, go a few days early. This will give your heart time to adjust to the lower oxygen content of the thin air before the stresses and strains of hunting are added.

Rest as often and as long as you have to, before you get too tired; take your stand near camp and let the others flush.

Remember: If you take good care of yourself as you do of your gear, you can enjoy hunting for many seasons to come.

FARM NOTES

Nitrogen can be applied to all except sandy soils without danger of leaching after soil temperatures approach the 40-degree mark, advise Purdue University extension agronomists. This usually is about Thanksgiving time in northern Indiana and Pearl Harbor Day in southern Indiana.

Purdue University extension poultrymen recommend cleaning the dust from poultry house light bulbs and replacing burned out bulbs. Poor distribution and low intensity of light can cut egg production.

Purdue University extension animal scientists point out that a common mistake in swine feeding that will reduce profits is feeding the same feed mixture to all ages and sizes of hogs.

The tallest pavilion of Expo 67, opening this April 28th in Montreal, will be—US, the U.S.I. The 20-story plastic "bubble," enclosing 7 million cubic feet of space, will contain exhibits of "Creative America."

Along with over 70 countries, 3 states will have pavilions at the fair. Visitors to New York's will ride a "carousel" to displays illustrating the Empire State's many facets.

Capturing that state's vacationland appeal, Maine's pavilion will feature three-dimensional mountains with snow-capped peaks, and real streams stocked with live fish.

Suggestions Listed For Christmas Mailings

In order to assure delivery by Christmas, patrons are urged to plan their parcel and greeting card mailings according to the following schedule:

Alaska & Hawaii by Dec. 1, when sent by SURFACE MAIL, and by Dec. 15 when sent by AIR MAIL. Distant States by Dec. 10. Indiana & Nearby States by Dec. 17. Local Mailings by Dec. 23.

The use of first class mail for greeting cards is encouraged in that greeting cards prepaid at the letter rate by sealed and contain written messages and will be given priority of dispatch, and forwarding. Also, undeliverable first-class mail is returned to sender at no additional cost if the return address is shown on the envelope.

The name and address of both the Sender and Addressee should be enclosed in each parcel to permit identity in case of damage or loss of the outside address. The attention of mailers is also called to the fact that parcels may be marked "DO NOT OPEN UNTIL CHRISTMAS" and may contain written messages providing they are endorsed "Letter Enclosed"; the postage being paid for the letter on the OUTSIDE OF THE PACKAGE. Patrons are urged to use their ZIP CODE number as part of their return address. Christmas time provides an excellent opportunity for everyone to advise their once-a-year correspondents of their correct address and Zip Code number. The Mentone Zip Code number is 46539.

Parson Jones Speaks

Dear Mr. Publisher

It's hard to believe that ice is on the ground and that Christmas is around the corner. I reckon there will be two Christmases this year instead of one. Ordinarily, we've just thought of one King of the earth — Jesus. But, I noticed in the paper that another fella has set himself up in that position, Bishop Homer A. Tomlinson. This here 75 year old preacher crowded himself as King of the world. It happened over in Jerusalem just a few weeks ago. Shore nuff, he says all the nations must follow him now, and give a tithe of all their wealth to him. I reckon that's to help him build heaven. He says if they don't pay up he's gonna stop the rain in their countries, and that'll teach 'em a lesson. Brother Homer has already invited the United Nation to move to Jerusalem where he can keep a close eye on 'em.

So you see Mr. Publisher, I reckon some folks will be following him this Christmas instead of Jesus. It's hard to believe anybody with good sense would, but then it ain't hard to believe that everybody ain't got good sense. Ain't it a shame that the church has to put up with this kind of bow-wow? I wonder if the government would care if we invented some kind of spray to get rid of religious insects? The church has enough trouble convincing people to be serious about religion without having clowns reciting scripture. Fellas like this Bishop shore do give the atheists a good argument in their favor.

One thing that's gonna make it awful hard to combat this fella is that he wears a bright red outfit, which makes him look a hole lot like Santa Clause. I don't know whether he has a white beard or not cause if he does we're sunk. Being Santa Clause and King both is a combination that will be hard to beat.

Mr. Publisher, I may be fighting popularity, but I'm gonna worship the same King this Christmas that I always have — Jesus! I'm gonna try real hard not to turn the celebration into another farce. Maybe if I love my neighbor and be kind to him instead of getting all wrapped up in Christmas packages I might off-set this clown idea going around. It's worth a try even if this Bishop Homer does get mad and stop all the rain.

Well Sir, I've gotta be signing off for now. I'm gonna write my congressman and see if there's anyway we can put a stop to ole Brother Homer. I doubt it though, cause with the supreme courts latest ruling, the crook always has the upper hand.

Good night!

Yours truly,
Parson Jones

Colorful, convenient maps are a magic carpet today.

But it wasn't always so. The story of mapmaking never stops. Men used to carry maps in their heads. The world was smaller then. A caveman could memorize every hill and tree.

South Sea islanders carried ingenious maps in their canoes. A small framework of sticks represented water, and shells were attached to show where land was.

Early civilized man made maps on clay tablets. Later, primitive wood cut printing evolved. In the medieval period, maps showed three continents — Europe, Asia, Africa — and the world was thought to be a saucer surrounded by a circular ocean. By the 16th century, fine mapmaking flourished in Mediterranean ports and copperplate engraving was well established. But amazing as it seems today, in the year 1700 nearly half the earth's surface was still unknown and unexplored.

Today the world is so big — and so changing — that keeping mapmaking up to date is still a challenge.

"Maps have always held a special magic for boys and young men," points out James Lyle, president of Whitman Publishing Company, Racine, Wis., world's largest publisher of children's activity items. "A good map seems to call for a good story. That natural combination has now led to a whole new concept in maps to help children study."

Maps have been developed, in full color, with border illustrations. Along with each map goes an adventure book about here who serves the free world on special assignment from the Pentagon.

The General travels by plane, racing car, llama, and other lively locomotives in his work as a global trouble shooter. The young student can follow each of nine adventures on a set of watching maps.

Parents and teachers who find child's interest flagging in extra and imports will see new excitement kindled when boys discover the books. Where the General goes there's bound to be general improvement in grades.

"This Administration is attempting to fight a war and create a 'Great Society' at the same time. The effort may well be more than the taxpayers can afford."

FOUNTAIN, COLO., ADVERTISER & NEWS: "Time was when a private company and/or individual was expected to look after his own welfare and charity was something to take only when absolutely necessary. America was a strong, moral nation, with parents having sole responsibility for their offspring. Crime was much less than it is today, those trespassing on the rights of others were treated as criminals and not 'victims of society' and the individual had the right to exercise his own free will. Divorce, drunkenness and immorality were not prevalent in the percentages of today. Statistics prove that these percentages have grown much faster than has the population."

COLUMBIA, TENN., HERALD: "We should remember that work continues to be indispensable to man's security, well-being and growth. This is no less for the disabled and handicapped than for those of us who are more fortunate. Our society has prospered because it offers to all the hope of achieving fullness of life. Therefore, the handicapped should not be isolated—we cannot afford this. We cannot afford to stifle the fulfillment of their legitimate desires."

DON'T STRING CHRISTMAS LIGHTS ON METAL TREE

Don't spoil your Christmas by decorating your metal tree with electric lights: you could get the shock of your life and cause a short circuit that may end in a tragic fire.

The American Insurance Association recommends the use of off-the-tree lighting, such as colored footlights, to provide attractive illumination for the tree.

Bundle Days To Aid Appalachia

To help children in Appalachia who need decent school clothing the Talma Student Council, sponsor of the Bundle Days Program, has appealed to the people of Mentone to participate in the 25th Annual Save the Children Federation's Bundle Days Drive. The Talma school will serve as local sponsors for Bundle Days to be held from Dec. 8 to Dec. 16, 1966.

COUGHS

EVERY cough has sort of a "ready, aim, fire" sequence. First comes inspiration, then compression and then expiration.

A person takes a breath inspired with an aim to be rid of an irritation which in turn prompts an explosive expiration of air from the lungs. A cough is not a disease. It is merely nature's attempt to remove the cause of an irritation to the sensitive lining of the respiratory tract.

The cough is called the watchdog of the lungs, for often it is the first symptom of lung disease. A cough calls for analysis, for effective treatment depends upon correct diagnosis. Infection probably accounts for most cases of seriously troublesome chronic cough, with tuberculosis and bronchiectasis coming under this heading. Heart disease can be a cause of cough, especially among the older age groups.

The cough in asthma is familiar and this allergic cause of cough prompts special treatment. When allergy is indicated, the physician must look for the offending substance and then recommend its avoidance or removal.

American school children collected over 3,000,000 pounds of good used clothing in the 1965-1966 Bundle Days Drive. The clothing collected is distributed through the 105 Federation clothing centers in Appalachia.

"Children in Appalachia need an education if they are to make a better life for themselves. They need warm, durable clothes to wear to school. I hope that the students will participate in this children-to-children giving," said Steve Reed, student council president. "I also appeal to groups and organizations to send or bring clean, wearable shoes, coats, dresses, and suits, for children and adults, to Talma school or the Mentone Town Hall, during Bundle Days," he said.

Founded in 1932, Save the Children Federation, international child welfare organization of Norwalk, Connecticut, helps children and their families in the United States and in many countries abroad through a sponsorship program, an international self-help scholarship fund and the annual used clothing collected. The Federation is registered with the U.S. State Department Advisory Committee on Voluntary Foreign Aid and is a member of the International Union for Child Welfare.

Parson Jones Speaks

Dear Mr. Publisher

The old year is wheezing out its last breath and the new is about to begin yelling. My daddy used to say that seven days makes one week. Well if that's so, you can imagine what 365 of 'em will do. As a hole 1966 wasn't so bad.

1967 won't be a dull year, I can assure you. I been doing a little thinking in my mind about what the future holds. And, for what its worth, I'll share these little nuggets with you.

To begin on the bright side, I'll talk about Red China and the atomic bomb. I read the other day where they'd developed a atomic missile. Lotta folks are worried about war with China, but I don't think we should get upset, cause MacNamara says it will be at least five more years before they blow up the United States. So you see, 1967 will still be in the safe period.

Another interesting thing about the new year will be the "God is dead" issue. While folks are still looking around for the Almighty, some university will be searching for the soul. Some dead fellow left a pile of money for some professor to prove that man has a soul. Religion will be greatly helped in its struggle this year by the two new preacher labor unions just organized. One union is headed up by a black-balled Catholic Priest and the other is a Episcopalian preacher. They'll probably put pressure on the Federal Government to set up an investigation committee on religious matters.

One thing I look forward to is the new electric car General Motors is planning. This is bound to bring some shocking changes. Some folks believe this will be the answer to the polluted air problem. Now if they can just come up with electric cigarettes! Its hard telling how much charge there would be for this kind of product though.

I look for some more church mergers to be made in 1967. I saw where the Methodists and the United Brethren have decided to join in matrimony and I look for this to be a very romantic period for religious court-ing.

One business magazine I was reading said money would be tighter in 1967, but us preachers are used to tight money in the church - so that won't hurt us none.

The president has promised to cut the draft during 1967 while stepping up the war in Viet Nam. This and all the other interesting facts I have noted point to something. I just hope the year runs the full 365 days and that the Lord still has mercy on sheep who have lost their way. Happy New Year?

Yours truly,
Parson Jones

The ups and downs of the private enterprise system are being learned in a very practical way by the members of Mentone's Junior Achievement group.

Through Junior Achievement high school students operate their own miniature businesses during the school year. Organized at the beginning of the school year, the group elects officers, board members who make decisions concerning the operation of the company, and sell stock in their company in a manner similar to a large corporation.

The local Junior Achievement group, sponsored by Midwest Spring Co., is named Wax-A-Glo-Glo, and, as their name implies, the group's primary interest is the sale of their product, Shine-Fastic Floor Wax. During the Christmas season they are also manufacturing and selling Christmas candles. As with any corporation, JA members may opt to change products.

Using the Mentone Town Hall as their base of operation, local JA members meet once a week during the school year to conduct their business. Adult advisors are George Welch, business manager; Gordon Kauffman, production manager; and Larry Pyle, sales manager.

Salesman Sharon Lewis is handing in money for the JA product, Shine-Fastic Floor Wax, to Barb Decker during one of the group's recent meetings. In the background are Carol White, Karen Montel, and Karen Engle.

President Karen Montel receives her pay check from treasurer Barbara Decker as secretary Karen Anglin helps Salvador Murcia keep his inventory straight.

County Delegates Attend NFO Convention

A record number of more than 10,000 voting delegates attended the annual convention of the National Farmers Organization (NFO), which ended a two-day session Thursday in Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

Those attending from Kosciusko county included: Mr. and Mrs. John A. Mellott, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Kline, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Schnucker, Mr. William Frush Jr., Don Tetus, Richard Hollar and Ernest Hollar.

Delegates to the convention authorized the NFO board of directors to immediately initiate steps to prepare for a milk holding action.

The resolution adopted by the convention in part was worded: "To raise the general price level of raw milk and secure same by contract; which would necessitate a marketing agency in common for the good and security of the dairy processing industry; to insure an ample supply of dairy products to the American consumer at reasonable prices. Be it further resolved that NFO urge all members to hold their production on the farm and non-members to join NFO and hold to achieve these goals."

The action climaxed an enthusiastic, two-day session, termed by officials as the most productive and most successful in the history of the organization.

In commenting on the dairy holding action resolution, the NFO said "dairy farmers must decide whether they want to accept more of what they have had in the past or whether they want to unite their strength and establish a fair price for their commodities."

"The NFO has tried every means possible to avoid the use of a holding action in milk, but it is becoming more apparent that dairy buyers and processors are not going to pay dairy farmers an adequate price for dairy products unless producers demand the price and back up the demands with their production."

"Such a holding action must not be built on emotion," President Oren Lee Staley told the delegates. "It must be a simple business approach—farmers putting a price tag on their products. This holding action must be conducted in an atmosphere of calmness. This organization has never advocated or condoned violence," Staley said.

Minimum prices sought by the NFO included $6.50 per hundred weight for Grade A milk; and $5.00 per hundred weight for manufactured milk, with added transportation differentials to outlying areas.

The NFO pointed out that "we have won our battle of recognition from meat and grain processors and buyers", in noting the progress of educating farmers to use their bargaining power.

Growing strength of the organization was focused on the addition of three more members to the national NFO board of directors. One director was added for the state of Michigan and New Jersey and North Dakota secured directors for the first time.

Addressing the first evening session of the convention were Sen. William Proxmire, Democrat, Wisc. and Cong. Alvin O'Konski, Republican, Wisconsin. Both told the convention that "the American consumer has been subsidized by the American farmer."

Staley, of Rea, Missouri and Erhard Pringsten, Sergeant Bluff, Iowa, both were re-elected president and vice-president respectively by enthusiastic acclamation.

In acceptance speeches, both stressed the very future of agriculture depends on the farmers' determination to use their bargaining power in pricing their products. "Collective bargaining means farmers bargaining together and selling together", they said.

Appearing on the Thursday morning program was Mrs. Rose West of Denver, Colorado, originator of "Housewives for Lower Food Prices".

She told the convention that "we do not put the blame (for high food prices) on the farmers".

She offered the help of housewives all over the country. "The farmer is being gouged at one end and the consumer is being gouged at the other", she said. Other speakers during the convention included: Senator Gaylord Nelson, Democrat, Wisconsin; Congressman Melvin Laird, Republican, Wisconsin; and Senator Walter Mondale, Democrat, Minnesota.

Take your problems to Church this week -

THIS MAIL MAN'S HELPER IS HIS CHURCH

"Hi ya Dad? I think I have that 'ship' you have been looking for to come in." "Hello, Mrs. Brown, I bet you wouldn't be interested in this letter from overseas!"

And so he goes, day after day, spreading a bit of sunshine and cheer to those on his mail route. He is more than just a carrier. He's an ambassador of good will, or if perchance the news he brings is bad news, he makes it a bit easier to bear with his understanding sympathy. "How can he always be so sunny? Doesn't he ever have a care?"

Yes, he does have cares but he has learned the secret that anyone can have for just the working at it. He has learned that there is really something practical to that famous statement that "he who would gain life must first lose it—lose it in service to others." It isn't just a pose assumed while he is on his route either. In the church that he attends regularly he gives of himself freely and thereby profits greatly. It is there that he has learned of the joy of giving, over receiving. Yes, his affiliation with the Church has a lot to do with his secret of noble living.

Sandra Zartman Weds Bernard Kiser

Miss Sandra Lee Zartman and Mr. Bernard Kiser, both of Warsaw, exchanged wedding vows December 9 in the North Webster Church of the Brethren.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Verl Zartman, Mentone, and the late Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Kiser of Warsaw.

Rev. Don Mishler, pastor of the Milford Nazarine Church, officiated at the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with red candles, poinsettias, and pine boughs.

Organ selections presented included "Oh Promise Me" and the traditional wedding march. Given in marriage by her father, the bride selected a street length gown of white brocade net over white linen. Her veil was waist length. She carried an arrangement of red roses centered with a white orchid on a white Bible.

Mrs. Betty Anglin, Warsaw, was her sister's matron of honor. She wore a street length dress of gold satin with a white brocade net overcoat and she carried a bouquet of white mums.

Earl Kiser, Warsaw, served his brother as best man. Ushers were Jerry Zartman, Mentone, a brother of the bride, and Dean Kiser, Warsaw, a brother of the bridegroom.

A reception for 85 guests was held in the social rooms of the church immediately following the ceremony.

The couple will be at home at Suburban Acres, Warsaw, after December 16.

BROWNIE TROOP 142

The Brownies met Tuesday after school at the Methodist Church. The meeting opened with the pledge of allegiance and by repeating the Brownie Promise. "Happy Birthday" was sung to Mildred Bellamy.

The girls played two games. "Brownie Story" was enacted by the following Brownies: Father, Sandra Good; Grandmother, Sue Hiers; Brownies, Sharon Burkett and Alicia Dick-erhoff; Owl, Susan Riner; Trees, Teresa Kindig and Cynthia Jordan.

This skit told how each girl can be a good helper at home. Each girl also decorated a pine cone.

An election of officers was held. Song leaders elected were Cynthia Jordan and Cindy Deal. Game leaders are Jackie Walton and Regina Blankenship. The first aid girls are Yvonne Campbell and Mildred Bellamy. Barbara Toll was elected treasurer.

It was announced that each girl is to take a 25¢ to 40¢ gift to the Christmas party which will be held December 20.

Refreshments were served by Sharon Burkett to 22 Brownies and one guest, Linda Jordan. Mrs. Joe Good, leader, was assisted by Mrs. David Burkett.

JR. TROOP 25

Helping in her place was Mrs. Dale McGowen. Barbara Johnson, our song leader, conducted opening by leading singing of two songs, "Jingle Bells" and "Bear Song."

The girls were reminded of gifts for the children at Riley Hospital.

ed the girls make Christmas cards for their parents. Closing was a skit given by Patrol 3.

CADETTE TROOP 30

The Cadettes met at the Methodist Church last Thursday and plans were made for Christmas caroling at nursing homes in Warsaw on December 22. Junior Troop 25 was invited to accompany the Cadettes caroling. Eight scouts and their leader were present. The meeting closed with a game.

SPORTSWEAR

THE NEW SPLIT SKIRT THAT BECAME POPULAR BETWEEN 1880 AND 1900 ALLOWED THE HORSEWOMAN TO SWITCH FROM THE INCONVENIENT SIDE SADDLE POSITION WHICH HAD BEEN A MUST FOR THE FORMER VOLUMINOUS RIDING SKIRT.

ANOTHER INNOVATION OF THE NINETEENS WAS THE ADOPTION OF MEN'S ATTIRE FOR SPORTSWEAR, SUCH AS THIS SUIT WITH "KNICKERS" FOR BICYCLING.

SPORTSWEAR BECAME SLIGHTLY MORE FUNCTIONAL IN THE 1920S WHEN ACTIVE AMUSEMENTS LIKE SKATING BECAME POPULAR. THE SKIRT ROSE TO SLIGHTLY HIGHER THAN ANKLE LENGTH.

It Was A Wet Week

"It was a wet week," could be described as the understatement of the year after last week's heavy rainfall which kept volunteer firemen busy pumping basements and which caused at least one family to be evacuated from their home. The Dale Sinclair family had to move when the water from a pond in the northeast end of town overflowed. Other basements were flooded, and many county roads were inaccessible because of high water. The road south of Sevastopol is still flooded and other "ponds" still remain as reminders of the heavy rain.

Pierceton Tops Mentone 67-65

In a very close contest, the Mentone Bulldogs came out of Friday night's action on the short side of a 67-65 score. Playing the Pierceton Cubs, the Bulldogs led all the way until in the final quarter when the host Cubs managed to squeak out the win.

High men for Mentone were Rex Bowser and Dennis Meyer with 15 points each.

The Mentone B-team was paced by Sal Murcia with 12 points but lost to the young Cubs by a 50-40 score.

Simple Rules Can Prevent Fires

Don't become a fire statistic during this coming holiday season, the American Insurance Association warned today.

During the three-day Christmas holiday season last year 61 persons lost their lives in fires, a sharp increase over the 47 fire fatalities in the like 1964 period, according to the National Safety Council. The three days were those beginning at six o'clock on Christmas Eve.

In the three-day New Year period the record was better. Last year, 58 persons lost their lives in New York fires, considerably below the 74 fire fatalities in the same holiday ending 1964.

There are simple fire safety precautions that anyone can take to prevent fires during the holiday season, the Association said:

(1) If you are a smoker, use ash trays and be sure cigarettes are extinguished.

(2) Never smoke near the Christmas tree, which can burst into a flaming torch in a moment if a spark comes in contact with it.

(3) Be careful in the kitchen when holiday meals are being prepared. Wherever there are open flames, as on a gas range, there is always the danger of a fire if combustible material comes in contact with cooking flames. Watch out, too, for grease fires.

Orthopedic will re-build Mentone plant

Announcement was made this week that the Orthopedic Manufacturing Company will re-build its Mentone facilities. The firm was struck by a disastrous $100,000 fire last week, and at that time the decision concerning re-building had not been made.

Frank Seiman, owner of the firm and also owner of Frank Mfg. Co., Mentone, arrived in Mentone last week and made the announcement at the conclusion of his visit.

The firm employs 40 people in the manufacture of litters used by the armed forces and has been operating on government contracts. Most of the salvagable materials in the plant have been moved to Orthopedic plants in Milford, Syracuse, Bourbon, Warsaw, and Etna Green. Clean-up work continues at the site of the fire.

No date has been set for the new building.

Masons To Observe Feast Of St. John

Masons of Akron and Mentone and the surrounding area will join in a statewide observance of the Feast of St. John the Evangelist on Tuesday evening, December 27.

Under the sponsorship of the Grand Lodge Free and Accepted Masons of Indiana, lodges in hundreds of Hoosier communities will pay traditional honors to one of its two patron saints. The other patron saint is St. John the Baptist.

Akron Lodge No. 659 will host Mentone Lodge No. 576 in Table Lodge ceremonies.

Other area ceremonies will be held by Argos Lodge 399, Bourbon Lodge 327, Warsaw Lodge 73, Room Lodge 583 who will host Gilead Lodge 354, and Deming Lodge No. 88 of No. Manchester.

The Indiana Masonic calendar provides for annual celebrations of the two patron saints, one in December and the other in June, each on the local level. This Hoosier program is unique; nothing similar to it has been attempted by the Grand Lodge of any other state.

...And In Earth Peace, Good Will Towards Men

by Kerygma Features

One of the delights of Christmas is the beauty it inspires. All over the world and in all ages artists have depicted the joy, wonder, and love that the coming of the Prince of Peace has inspired in them.

In our own time artists reach into their own cultures for methods of creating music, paintings, and drama that express the many sided spirit of Christmas, the most beloved of Christian holidays.

The good news that heralded the dawn of the Christian era two thousand years ago has reached the hearts of men everywhere. Their response is returning a harvest of beauty that all the world can enjoy at Christmas.

Merry Christmas.

Merry Christmas From Around The World

This week's paper contains Christmas greetings from local and merchants who extend their best wishes to all their patrons and customers.

The paper takes on an international theme with the inclusion of works of art from the Philippines, Mexico, Iran and the Congo. All reflect the beauty and significance of this holy season.

Furthering the international theme is a letter from our good friends Waltraud and Ulrich Braeuer of Karlsruhe, Germany. Theirs is truly a labor of love for we know how difficult it must have been for them to compose so long a letter. It was written especially for the readers of this paper and it describes their family's Christmas. Having shared a Christmas with them, we know what a wonderful event Christmas is in their lives, and we are so grateful to them for having shared a bit of it with our readers.

At the time we were making up the Christmas issue with its international flavor, we wished for a letter from someone in Vietnam, and our wishes were granted Monday when the Mothers of World War II shared a touching letter of thanks from L/Cpl. Wayne Funnell who is serving in Chu Lai, Vietnam.

CALENDAR

Wednesday, December 28

The Beaver Dam Home Extension Club will go to the Lozier (Teel) Restaurant in Mentone. Wednesday eve December 28th at 6:30 o'clock for their Christmas dinner and Christmas party.

From the Congo comes a prize winning oil by Marcel N'Doy. Titled Awake, the painting shows a Congolese shepherd under a sky bright with the Adversary. This painting was selected for reproduction on a Christmas card this year by the Committee on World Literacy and Christian literature.

LINN SINCLAIR

"Frolich Weinachten" from our German friends

Editor's note: Nine years ago this Christmas Eve, it was our privilege to spend Christmas Eve with a wonderful family, Ulrich and Waltraud Brauer, in Karlsruhe, Germany. The Brauers were wonderful friends to a pair of transplanted Hoosiers, and we miss them very much although we correspond with them. Some time ago, Ulrich wrote an account of the family's Easter visit to Berlin which we printed in the paper. Now, he has written to you, our readers, about his family's Christmas. We think you will enjoy his account.

Dear Readers of the Akron and MeTone News:

A time ago I sent you a report about a trip to the divided Berlin. Now, I hope you will enjoy hearing what we are doing, especially our children, before the Christchild comes at Christmas Eve.

At the end of November the children try to be very brave. They know that St. Nickolas will soon be coming and if he must tell the Christchild that they are not brave they will not get a gift at Christmas.

Tamara is six and Todd-Robert is 4 years old.

On December 1 they both get an adventskalender. There are 24 windows in the adventskalender and behind them are sugar and pieces of chocolate. In the background are little pictures of toys, nice animals and other things which charm the hearts of children. Each day they ask, "Which number am I allowed to open today?" The girl is able to read the numbers and shows her brother what window they can open. In the evening when I return from my job, I must be very astonished over the fine picture which is at the new window this day. All the windows were safely closed on the first day, but now, at the sixth day, a lot of windows are loose. "Have you already looked behind the windows?" I ask them, and they reply, "No! No, never!" but their eyes are very busy coloring their little pictures. I am sure we have all looked behind the windows. It is to long until the next day.

Then is Nikolaustag, at the 6th of December. We all go to our club, and the boys and girls of my youth group play their flutes, sing Christmas songs, play a little theater scene and recite some poetry. Some of the older children make concert music, a Christmas tree is lighted, and suddenly the Nikolaus comes in the room. The older children run to him; some little ones cry and look for their mamas. Oh, what he knows. You must not bite on your fingers. You must sleep at the evening. You must clean your hands better; and not smear the wet, dirty fingers on the hankerchief, etc. The children are very astonished that they know all their little crimes. Then, if they are able to say a little poem, they get a present. The parents are all standing around and they enjoy looking at the children. At last all sing a song and a fine day ends.

More and more windows of the adventskalender are correctly opened. It seems the days become longer and longer. So mother and father have a lot to do to occupy the children. We play the flutes together, tell stories and make some little work together.

Mother bakes Platzchen which the children enjoy very much for they are very eager to help and at the end most of the flour is on their dresses and they are very tired when they go to bed. That is one of the finest days.

On the last day before Christmas they make little presents. Last year Tamara made pictures printed with potatoes. Do you know how to make these? You need some paper, not too thin, potatoes, a pointed knife, and water colors. Cut the potato in two parts. On one part draw a quarter or a ring or some other simple figure. Then with a watercolor brush paint the outline of the figure and you are ready to stamp. You can stamp You can stamp blue squares, red rings and other forms on the paper. It is a nice game. If you have fixed it correctly, you get a nice picture for many people. Then she packed it into Christmas paper and she said to all, "You get a Christmas present from me that I made by myself but I don't say to you what kind it is."

At last, the last window can be opened. Grandma is coming in the afternoon. She will make a long walk with the children. During this time mother and father decorate the Christmas tree. If the children return, they find the door to the living room closed. "Hi, the Christchild was here! Oh how many hours must we wait until the door is opened?" When the sun sets, then it can be! Now we all go to church and have a fine Christmas celebration there.

We return to the children's room and play some Christmas songs on the flute. Father has "something" to do. Robert peeks through the keyhole. The candles on the Christmas tree are burning! Oh what fun. So many parcels and presents! It is a long time until calm returns to the room. The children play with the new toys. We drink a fine glass of wine.

Everyone wishes a merry Christmas and we have a fine supper with special foods.

Late in the night father and mother go out for a short walk in the still streets of the town, look at the nice shop windows, to the large Christmas tree on the market place and thank God that He does so well so many things for us.

Dear readers, we wish you a Merry Christmas 1966 and a happy new year.

Your Ulrich, Waltraud, Tamara and Robert

THE WAITS

An important part of early English Christmas was the group known as the "waits". At first they were minstrels who sang and played at the court; afterward, watchmen, used to guard the streets. Finally the word was applied to the people who went from home to home singing Christmas carols; for their efforts they received small gifts or their suppers.

COOPERS CORNER

Do you still have Christmas shopping to do these last few days before the holidays? If so, come to Coopers in Mentone and avoid the hustle and bustle of city shopping. We still have a nice selection of gifts for the entire family.

For last minute gifts we suggest Kodak Instamatic or Polaroid Swinger cameras, Timex watches, Brach or Candy Cupboard boxed candies. For the ladies we suggest a gift of lingerie, a slip, gown or pajamas or famous Berkshire hosiery. For that man, give the favorite gift of a shirt by Arrow or Campus or ties by Wembley. Give him toiletries by Old Spice, Henri Racheau, or 007.

If you are undecided about what to give or are unsure about the size, give a Christmas gift certificate from Coopers. It is sure to please.

Don't forget to stock up on film and flash bulbs so you will be prepared to take those pictures of family and friends. Take home some delicious bulk Christmas candies.

At this holiday season we wish to express our appreciation for your friendship and good will and to wish you all a Merry Christmas and Happy New Year.

Christmas Makes Fools Of Those Who Claim That God Is Dead

On Christmas Day a soldier in Vietnam, dirty with jungle mud and blood, will tear open a letter from home. For a few moments he will forget his bone-aching fatigue, remembering boyhood days with his family and the excitement of getting and giving gifts.

The sour-sweat smell of barracks and the dank green odor of jungle camps will be replaced by the smell of white sheets on the old bed at home on Christmas Eve, the pungence of Christmas trees and the aroma of food from mother's kitchen. The illusion will be gone even before the letter is finished; and that soldier will long for peace, more than you or I who have never lived on a battlefield can ever long for peace; and he may weep for a meaning that has gone out of his life.

As long as that soldier feels joy from no more than the reading of a letter on a battlefield, or has hope expressed as a longing for peace, or repents through tears for lost meaning, we know that God is alive.

Pause and Think

by Janice Perry

Merry Christmas everyone Hope you're having lots of fun! But before you take that drink, Won't you please stop to think

I wonder if this is truly the way God meant for us to spend this day,

This holy day, made so divine, When God gave His son to be yours and mine.

All liquored up with beer and wine

And pretending to be having a good time, Slap-sticking it up from bar to bar

Then driving home in your brand new car.

And taking a chance by not seeing so well Of losing control and landing in Hell.

Or worse even yet of hitting another

Who could very well be your sister or brother.

Wouldn't you rather be sitting at home

Than out in the cold or wherever you roam?

Enjoying your family in front of the tree,

And praying to God to be ever with thee.

Seek 'Flu' Protection

When winter comes, can flu be far behind? Not this year, according to the nation's medical forecasters.

The prediction is for a heavy outbreak of influenza this year, based on the two-to-three year cycle typical of the disease. The last major outbreaks in the United States generally were in 1962-63, and, on the West Coast in 1963-64.

Because people with a heart or circulatory problem are likely to be more seriously affected than others if they develop the flu, the Indiana Heart Association recommends that they check with the doctor on the advisability of vaccination. Immunization with flu vaccine has been recommended by public health authorities for a number of high risk groups. These groups include:

... Persons of all ages suffering from chronic diseases, such as rheumatic heart disease, other heart and circulatory problems, respiratory ailments such as asthma and emphysema, and diabetes.

... Persons in older age groups. Influenza deaths are disproportionately higher among those past 45, and much higher in the over-65 bracket.

... Pregnant women.

... Patients in nursing homes and chronic disease hospitals.

The vaccine developed for use this season offers protection against five different types of virus, all capable of causing influenza.

While it will not ensure complete immunity, vaccination has in past years produced a marked degree of protection for a large majority of those who received it.

Flu vaccine is administered in two doses: the first in the fall, the second about two months later. However, the interval can be reduced if an epidemic threatens. Those vaccinated within the past two years need only one booster dose this fall.

Whether you have a heart problem or not, the Indiana Heart Association suggests:

Ask your doctor about influenza protection for you and your family.

ACCIDENT PREVENTER

I wish some chap with lot of brains,

And make a record playing thing

That had a brand new quirk.

You'd fasten it inside your car,
And morning, night or noon,
Whenever you drive a bit too fast,

"Twill play a different tune.

At forty-five you'll roll along

The record then it plays,

A sort of soothing melody

"Highways Are Happy Ways!"

At fifty-five, a goodly speed,

As down the road you'll roam,

"I'm nothing but a stranger

here

And Heaven is My Home!"

At sixty-five, you'll take a chance

And hear with certainty,

That old familiar, gospel tune

"Nearer My God to Thee!"

Seventy-five? That's way too fast!

The player would blare

"Up Yonder, when they call the roll,

You bet I will be there!"

At eighty-five, if you're that dumb,
And crave a nice tombstone,

The piece you'll hear at such a speed,
Is, "Lord, I'm coming Home!"

ABOUT MISTLETOE

Mistletoe traditions are said to have begun with the ancient Druids. They attributed great power to the plant. It was supposed to prevent disease and keep away witches, as well as encourage fertility and good luck.

Mistletoe means "all heal".

Stocking Accident

It is the custom in Britain to leave toys under the tree until afternoon on Christmas Day. During the Christmas visit by Santa, the stockings are filled. It was an accident, according to British Legend, that the stocking custom was originated. The story goes that Saint Nicholas dropped some coins as he was going down the chimney. The coins did drop into a stocking, but the stocking had been hanging by the hearth to dry.

Lucille's Beauty Shop

Wilven, Lucille, Jim and Luanna and Denny

Thank you for your many years of loyal support.

After Columbus

The first observance of Christmas in this country was shortly after Columbus discovered America. The Santa Maria was beached on Christmas and his men were unable to free her. The ship was stripped of as much gear as possible. Since the Nina was unable to accommodate all of the Santa Maria crew some of them were left behind in a fort. That, in honor of the season, was called Le Navidad, the Nativity.

Carving the holiday bird is practically an art — whether it be turkey, goose, duck, chicken or partridge. It is a happy task when done with skill.

The all-important beginning is a good set of knives with fine hollow ground steel blades and long lasting handles. (Gift Idea) A long bladed roast slicer carries a foot best.

Carve leg first; insert the fork firmly through the center of the wishbone. Place the platter so that the legs of the bird are to your right. Start by carving the leg nearest you. Make a vertical cut on each side of the second joint of the leg where it is attached to the body by skin. Bend the entire leg toward the platter. With the point of the slicer cut through the connecting skin and socket and remove the leg. Next cut off the wing. To slice the breast meat, place the blade at the top of the breastbone. Push the knife downward and forward toward the wing socket. Continue by moving the knife a degree closer to the bird. Complete one side of the bird before turning to repeat the same method.

SHOP GUARANTEES

The "guarantee" or "warranty" which accompany appliances as Christmas gifts should be double checked. Shoppers should ask how long the guarantee lasts and if all parts are covered by the guarantee.

Persons who receive these appliances as gifts and find it necessary to exchange them should also check on the warranty offered with the exchange.

If you are willing to forget what you have done for others and to remember what other people have done for you; to ignore what the world owes you, and to think what you owe the world; to put your rights in the background, and your duties in the middle distance, and your chances to do a little more in the foreground; to close your book of complaints against the universe, and look for a place to sow seeds of happiness — if you are willing to do these things even for a day, then you can keep Christmas.

Believe that the needs and desires of little children are to be considered; and remember the weakness and loneliness of people who are growing old; bear in mind the things that other people have to bear in their hearts. Believe that love is the strongest thing in the world — stronger than hate, stronger than evil and stronger than death. You will be keeping Christmas.

GRASSROOTS OPINION

EVERETT, PA., PRESS: "Cartoonist Al Capp, addressing the International Association of Chiefs of Police in Philadelphia... stated that American youngsters are being taught to 'demand everything from America to make their lives easier, but we have not taught them to love America.' And when you stop to think about it—he is right. We are beginning to look at our country as a benevolent source of sustenance; we are asking it to help us finance almost everything we do. As a result, patriotism and respect for this great land of ours has gone out the window."

SYLACAUGA, ALA., NEWS: "Forest management and tree improvement programs are constantly upgrading pulpwood quality and producing more wood per acre."

COLUMBIA, MISS., COLUMBIAN-PROGRESS: "The recent death of a civil rights bill in the United States Senate is a significant indication of a change in the political wind. Despite what sometimes appears to be the case, politicians usually vote close to the wishes of their constituents on bills which have stirred intense emotions. Most observers agree one factor which played a part in turning public opinion against the bill was widespread resentment over recent riots and disorders in the nation's cities."

PORT HURON, MICH., TIMES: "...farming has become so efficient and so effective in the United States that we often forget that agriculture still is the center of life for so many millions of the world's people... Other countries have the same access we do to the technology and the chemistry of successful farming, yet only those with similar political systems—'people's capitalism', if you will—have managed to raise themselves by their bootstraps to such a condition of agricultural plenty."

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, MONT., NEWS: "When government spends beyond its earning abilities, only one thing can result—inflation. Yes, inflation's the name of the game you and I are losing on both ends."

Gifts Not Tradition

In early times, even Christianity, pagan followers exchanged gifts at the New Year. At first the gifts were collected by priests and distributed to the poor. The exchange of Christmas presents is not a tradition of modern vintage. With Christianity, the exchange of gifts was changed to Christmas.

IN CZECHOSLOVAKIA

The Christmas tree is the center of much attention during the holiday season. The tree is decorated with many candles, assorted candies, nuts and fruits and is surrounded with singing and dancing until the New Year. At this time the children eat the goodies before the head of the household discards the tree.

Christmas Card History is Cloudy

It is generally believed that the first card designed as a Christmas greeting, was done in England by J. Horsley in (1843). Actually the search for the "first" is still going on. Although it bore no specific greeting. The New York historical society, some 30 years before the Horsley card, sent to members and friends of the society a woodcut of ST. NICHOLAS, which bore a Christmas poem in both Dutch and English.

In 1932 Carl W. Drepper discovered in a Pennsylvania attic a "Beadsheet" issued about 1842 by John M. Wolff, a Philadelphia printer. The sheet featured a reproduction of C. C. Moore's "The visit of St. Nicholas" and carried a greeting "A Merry Christmas and A Happy New Year".

The first commercial Christmas card business was in 1863 by an English firm.

Simple Rules Can Prevent Fires

Don't become a fire statistic during this coming holiday season, the American Insurance Association warned today.

During the three-day Christmas holiday season last year 61 persons lost their lives in fires, a sharp increase over the 47 fire fatalities in the like 1964 period, according to the National Safety Council. The three days were those beginning at six o'clock on Christmas Eve.

In the three-day New Year period the record was better. Last year, 58 persons lost their lives in New York fires, considerably below the 74 fire fatalities in the same holiday ending 1964.

There are simple fire safety precautions that anyone can take to prevent fires during the holiday season, the Association said:

(1) If you are a smoker, use ash trays and be sure cigarettes are extinguished.

(2) Never smoke near the Christmas tree, which can burst into a flaming torch in a moment if a spark comes in contact with it.

(3) Be careful in the kitchen when holiday meals are being prepared. Wherever there are open flames, as on a gas range, there is always the danger of a fire if combustible material comes in contact with cooking flames. Watch out, too, for grease fires.

FOR CARDS

Plunge several evergreen branches into a large flower pot. Paint a clay pot bright red or green. You can display your Christmas cards on the branches by taping or clipping them on.

The smallest gift will look impressive in a gaily wrapped package. Use shelf paper, scraps of material or odd ends of wallpaper. To tie your package use strips of cloth cut in ribbon widths with pinking shears, or bright colored yarns. Pack your gifts in unusual containers — such as flower pots, small basket, decorated oatmeal boxes, coffee cans or paper plates with bright seals.

Parson Jones Speaks

Dear Mr. Publisher

Next year the Protestant Reformation will be 450 years old. It's been a long time since Martin Luther and the Pope got into it, but like the Civil War it's hard to forget. I ain't saying whether that first split in the church was good or bad cause it may get me into trouble and if theres anything I got plenty of, its trouble. But, with 250 different denominations in the United States it looks like something has gone haywire. Most all of us sing that hymn "Onward Christian Soldiers", but how we can do it with a straight face is a modern miracle. You take for example that part that says: "Like a mighty army moves the church of God, Brothers we are treading where the saints have trod. We are not divided all one body we, one in hope and doctrine, one in charity."

Well sir, like my wife says, we ain't moving like a Army; we ain't very saintly; we're divided; and we ain't one in hope, doctrine or charity. The church looks like something that got caught in a lawnmower and was chewed all to pieces. Ole Thomas MacCauley used to say: "In a country where people pray to cows the differences that divide Christians seem of small account."

Mr. Publisher, if the different denominations can't get along here on earth, how in the world are they gonna make out in heaven. Its just hard for me to see the Baptists, the Methodists, the Lutherans, the Catholics, and such like, all pouting in their own little heavenly corners. Being split up like we are, has played the dickens with church membership. You take 20% of my members are like hoppy toads. They hop from one denomination to another. When they get mad they will always find some church more than happy to accept 'em. Instead of teaching these folks to face up to problems we make neurotics out of 'em. We're scared to death to discipline members on account of they'll get mad and leave. Now if there was just one church a fella would have the choice of staying in it or going to Hell.

Ole Luther split with the Catholic church over doctrine, but I don't see as things have got any better. We got more people than ever don't believe in the Virgin birth of Jesus or His resurrection. As a matter of fact we even got theologians saying now that God has kicked the bucket. I heard one church member praying the other day: "Oh God, if there is a God, save my soul, if I got a soul." That don't look like much improvement over the last 450 years.

Well Mr. Publisher, I gotta close for now and do a little visiting. I understand theres a Methodist down the street thats mad at his preacher. If I work it right he might come join our church. After all, if I can get everybody elses members in town, why we'll have one church like I been proposing. See you next week.

Yours truly,
Parson Jones

Christmas Spirit

All of the preparations for Christmas have become traditional. The decorations for the house, the tree, fixing good things to eat, choosing the right gifts and remembering everyone that we should — all of this has become traditional.

Christmas day usually is less feverish and more quiet. This is the time when the majority of us face up to the true meaning of Christmas and the spiritual blessings that attend the season.

Anthony Nigo D.A.R. Enjoys An Old Fashioned Christmas

"An Old Fashioned Christmas" as read by Mrs. Darrell King set the theme of the December meeting of the Anthony Nigo Chapter, D.A.R., at the home of Mrs. Walter Lackey. "A tree of green would grace my room with candles shining bright, and popcorn strings, and home-made things would fill me with delight" read Mrs. King while the listening members strung popcorn and made paper chain decorations for the tree. Mrs. Tom Fugate continued the program by telling of "Christmas When I Was a Little Girl" the story of a grandmother telling her granddaughter of Christmas when she was young. "The most wonderful, beautiful, thrilling sight in our lives - was our gorgeous tree all trimmed with colored paper chains, strung popcorn, and shining doodads, and a big glistening star right on top...and there beneath the tree was the very same little cast iron cooking stove I had looked at in the store window so many times" and after the huge family dinner they "played dominoes and looked at the stereoscope pictures". As depicted in the story, Mrs. Fugate and Mrs. King were dressed in beautiful old fashioned gowns complete with high buttoned shoes and bonnet, and the lamp and candle lit living room made a realistic setting. The Christmas tree was decorated much as in the story, with a bisque angel on top, pierced tin ornaments, mercury bells, horns, hanging candy containers, a clip-on bird and Santa Claus, and underneath was the toy iron stove, mechanical toys, dolls, cradle, blocks and dominoes, with a stereoscope viewer nearby and stockings hung in a row. Mrs. King sang "The Friendly Beasts" and Mrs. Fugate read the poem "Just for Christmas". The program was concluded with a couple letters to Santa Claus as read by Mrs. King who then led the group in singing Christmas carols.

Mrs. Fugate read the D.A.R. resolution on the Panama Canal, and Mrs. William E. Cox read the Christmas message to the Daughters from President General Mrs. William H. Sullivan, Jr.

Mrs. Ernest Igo spoke on the Panama Canal and Cuba for National Defense, when she said "our policy as regards the Panama Canal and Cuba is inviting into Latin America the conditions that exist in Korea and Vietnam. The proclaimed objective of world revolutionary communism is to light Red torches in Latin America, thus relieving United States pressure in Southeast Asia and elsewhere". Mrs. Igo also told of Cuban political prisoners from whom blood was extracted prior to execution, "this blood was sold to communist Vietnam for $50 per pint with the double purpose of obtaining dollar-currency and contributing to Vietnamese communist aggression."

Thank you notes were read from the Kate Duncan Smith and Tamassee DAR Schools for boxes of clothing contributed by the chapter, and from the Red Cross for help with Christmas gifts sent in the form of Ditty Bags to American Armed Forces serving in Vietnam.

Mrs. Lackey was assisted by Mrs. Dale Cook and Mrs. Fred Surguy is serving delicious refreshments to members and two guests, Mrs. Darrell King and Miss Von Jenkins.

The next meeting will be held January 10 at the Mentone Town Hall with Mrs. Merrill Carey as hostess.

Snow Has Lured Many To Their Doom

Deceptively innocent looking, like the legendary Lorelei, snow goes on luring men to their doom season after season.

The occasional devastating avalanche is the most dramatic manifestation of snow's power to do harm. But even more insidious may be its fluffy white blankets and drifts, lying beautifully passive where they fell on driveways and walks, the Indiana Heart Association says.

Mr. middle-aged Hoosier householder, looking at all that snow, leaves his cozy hearth to heft his trusty shovel and have a go at the white stuff which is just asking to be shoveled away, but Mr. Hoosier is just asking for trouble - heart trouble.

To avoid trouble, the Indiana Heart Association advises Mr. Hoosier to keep these points in mind.

* If you have heart disease, don't shovel snow without your doctor's approval.

* If you are over 40 and healthy, you may shovel, but take it easy. Snow-shoveling is strenuous exercise, and can kick back at the heart of a person who is unaccustomed to regular physical activity. Cold weather intensifies the strain on the heart.

* It's better to shovel before eating or wait an hour after eating, as you should for most vigorous exercise. And don't smoke while working; tobacco causes constriction of the blood vessels, just as cold air does. The combination can be dangerous.

* Never shovel to the point of exhaustion. Don't let the invigorating air or a warming shot of whiskey fool you.

* Dress warmly in loose, comfortable heavy clothing, muffling ears and throat, keeping hands and feet dry.

* When you shovel, lift with your entire body (each shovelful of dry snow weighs four pounds plus the weight of the shovel; wet snow is much heavier). Let your back and leg muscles take some of the strain off your arms.

* If you become breathless, rest until breathing is easy. If you feel a tightness in the chest, quit.

* Last, and probably the best word of advice: hire the neighbor's boy to do the job for you.

"Strep" infections need not lead to rheumatic fever if they are treated promptly and thoroughly with penicillin or other antibiotics, the Indiana Heart Association emphasizes. If every recognizable strep infection were promptly and adequately treated, rheumatic fever could be virtually wiped out in a generation.

A Clipping Job

Getting out this paper is no picnic. If we print a joke people say we are silly. If we don't they say we're too serious. If we clip things from other papers, we are too lazy to write them ourselves. If we don't, we're stuck on ourselves. If we stick too close to the job all day, we ought to be out hunting news. If we do get out and try to locate news, we ought to be on the job in the office. If we don't print contributions, we don't appreciate true genius. And if we do print them, the paper is filled with junk. If we made a change in the other fellow's copy we're too critical. If we don't we're sleepy. Now, like as not, somebody will say we paper. We did, "all of it."

I don't know if my mother is a member or not, but I am glad that you cared enough to see that I got the package. I wrote one thank you note but it seems to lack something so I am writing this one. "Korean Faith Under Fire," is the topic to be presented at the Mentone Methodist Church Tuesday evening, January 3, at 7:30 p.m. by Jack Aebersold, a missionary in youth work for 10 years under the Korean Methodist Church. He will describe the tests and triumphs of Christians in Korea portrayed a background of tragic international catastrophes. Illustrating his talk will be two sound tapes and filmstrips which he made entitled "On the Edge of Asia" depicting the life of the people and the work of the church, and "Keeping Up With Kim" describing youth in Korea and avenues of work with them.

Rev. Aebersold, his wife Lois and their two children, Annette and Paul, are living at Winona Lake this year but will return to Korea in June 1967. They served churches in Ramsey, Bourbon and Pierceton before going to Korea. Rev. Aebersold, a graduate of Asbury College, Wilmore, Ky., and Garrett Theological Seminary, Evanston, Ill., received missionary training at Allegheny College, Yale University, University of Chicago, and choral training at Moody Bible Institute, Eastern Michigan University, and University of Illinois.

While in Korea Rev. Aebersold organized and built the first youth center of the Methodist Church and trained the Musical Ambassadors, the first Christian youth ensemble composed of brass trio, male quartet and mixed trio. In three years this group presented over 100 programs on week-ends as well as four TV programs and produced the first Christian record. He also directed community choirs which produced a record of a Christmas cantata.

The Methodist Men will treat their wives to an evening out at Teel's Restaurant at 6:30 before Mr. Aebersold speaks at 7:30 in the church.

Teen-Age Girl Soloes Here

Miss Betty McGurk, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam McGurk, Rochester, a student of Harrison Crabill and a member of the Mentone Flying Club, soloed Monday. She was the youngest woman ever to solo from the local club. Her solo was actually made at the Rochester airport although she has taken all her instruction and is enrolled in ground school at the local airport. The crosswind Monday prevented her from soloing at the local airport.

Miss McGurk, flying the club's Cessna 172, successfully completed the three landings required for her solo permit. She plans to have her private license by the time she graduates from Rochester High School this spring. Miss McGurk is a straight-A student at Rochester and was named the winner of the Fulton County DAR award.

Reported Missing

Max Johnson, aged in his 30s, has been reported missing from his home near Burket since Thursday. His car was found parked and locked near the new bridge of State Rd. 19 between Etna Green and Mentone.

Sheriff Sam Holbrook, Deputy Sheriff Dave Andrews, Conservation Officers Richard Higgins and Ned Gerard have searched a four-mile span of the Tippecanoe River for the father of nine children. They will not speculate as to whether they believe foul play is involved.

Diana Kay Sarber is DAR Good Citizen

Diana Kay Sarber

Miss Diana Kay Sarber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Sarber of Mentone, has been named winner of the 1967 Good Citizens Contest by the Anthony Nigo Chapter DAR of Mentone.

The committee in charge of making the selection stated its aim is to stress the qualities of good citizenship among the senior high schools. This annual award is given to a senior high school girl who possesses to an outstanding degree the following qualities:

1. Dependability, which includes truthfulness, loyalty, punctuality.
2. Service—co-operation, courtesy, consideration of others.
3. Leadership—personality, self-control, ability to assume responsibility.

4. Patriotism—unselfish interest in family, school, community and nation.

The contest is open only to the girls in the senior class of accredited public high schools who finish school the second semester. The recommended method of selection is to have the senior class choose three girls from which the faculty chooses the one who becomes the school's Good Citizen.

Miss Sarber has participated in many activities, including serving as treasurer of the National Honor Society; secretary of the Student Council; secretary of F.H.A.; Girls State Delegate; Annual Staff; treasurer of band; pep band; stage band; triple trio; and secretary of the Methodist M.Y.F.

Fire Spotted From Plane Damage Barn Here

A fire which was spotted by an alert TWA commercial pilot early Tuesday morning destroyed a large barn and its contents on the Burdell Blackburn farm near here. The pilot radioed the Warsaw police but the alarm had already been turned in by Mrs. Donald Boyer, a neighbor.

The Blackburns have been remodeling the home on the farm and they planned to move there in the near future. They have been residing on the Crystal Lake Road.

Lost in the fire were seven head of steers, 1200 bales of hay, 1400 bales of straw, 400 to 500 bushels of oats, a two-wheel camper trailer and some farm equipment. Cause of the fire has not been determined. Atwood firemen assisted the local fire department in saving the surrounding buildings.

THE NOSE

It is mighty like a nose to become inflamed, stopped up and "runny" during this time of the year.

People take the nose for granted, overlooking the fact that it is a mechanism which performs several important functions. Incoming air is warmed and moistened by the mucous membrane which lines the nasal passages.

This membrane is continuous all through the respiratory tract and the mucus fluid catches foreign particles and dissolves bacteria commonly floating in the atmosphere. Further protection against the entrance of foreign material into the respiratory tract is furnished by the hairs just inside the nostrils.

Acute or chronic swelling of the mucous membrane can cause obstruction which interferes with proper breathing. Inflammation of the membrane lining the inside of the nose is called rhinitis. Rhinitis gives one a stopped-up sensation, excessive secretion of watery mucus and sneezing which is a reflex action aimed at clearing and removing the irritants.

Rhinitis may be caused by dust, fumes, vapors, plant pollens, unfavorable atmospheric conditions or infection such as the common cold.

The Chicago Motor Club-AAA reminds drivers that cold weather can cause slippery conditions—particularly on bridges and overpasses—by the formation of frost, even in generally clear weather. Care should be exercised at these locations even general highway conditions are good.

It always is dangerous to drive onto a street or highway in front of rapidly approaching traffic, says the Chicago Motor Club-AAA. It's even more dangerous when pavements are slippery. Always give yourself plenty of time and space to make a safe entrance into the passing flow of traffic.

Lentils—Delicious, Nutritious

Looking for something different, either as a meat accompaniment or as a main dish in itself? This is it—Baked Lentils! Served as a meat accompaniment and stretcher of good proteins, or as a hearty main dish, this may be made in the morning for an hour's baking before dinner. The recipe makes 12 servings, each a rounded half-cup. While you are at it, make up a second casserole to freeze and bake for future enjoyment!

Just in case you have not made their acquaintance, Lentils, an Old World legume, are round like a pea but small, flat and thin, varying in color by variety. They are found on your grocer's shelves along with yellow and green split peas and whole dry peas. Different than all of the legumes in which the water is lost in drying, no soaking is necessary for Lentils, cookbooks to the contrary. Unfortunately, many recipes insist on this, also in draining off the soaking water, thereby losing many valuable nutrients. So do, please, adapt the recipes you may find.

Baked Lentil Casserole

- 1 pound (2½ cups) washed lentils
- 5 cups water
- 2 teaspoons salt

Combine in a Dutch oven or in top-of-the-range heat-proof cooking ware. Bring water to boiling point. Cover; simmer 30 minutes. Without draining, add

- ¼ cup catsup
- ¼ cup molasses
- 2 tablespoons brown sugar
- 1 teaspoon dry mustard
- ¼ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
- 2 tablespoons minced onion

Top with 4 slices uncooked bacon, cut in thirds. Cover and bake at 350 degrees F. (moderate oven) for 1 hour. Uncover last few minutes to brown bacon. Serve with brown bread, relishes, and not much else! For a "Friday dish", omit bacon. Top may be sprinkled with shredded cheese to be melted and browned on just before serving. This is a good dish for potluck suppers.

EDITH can save your life

The new year 1967 is about to pop up over the horizon, and one of the resolutions you should make on New Year's Day is to sit down with your family and work out an escape plan from your home if fire should strike it.

In dozens of communities throughout the nation, families did just that during the last year. In many cities EDITH programs community-wide were carried out under the leadership of fire departments, fire marshals, and other safety officials. EDITH stands for "Exit Drills In The Home."

Fire nearly always strikes without warning, says the American Insurance Association. Every two minutes around the clock fire damages or destroys a home somewhere in the United States.

If your family has an escape plan, and practices it, you will be in a position to escape from your home safely. EDITH can save your life.

The importance of EDITH is based on the idea, which should be impressed on every member of your family, that if fire strikes your home, the first thing to do is to get everybody out of the house. Then call the fire department.

Physical possessions that may be destroyed in a fire can be replaced. A human life cannot.

Here's how you should organize your Operation EDITH.

Get all the members of your family together and study the house from top to bottom. The first thing to do is to figure out alternate means of escape from all rooms including the upstairs bedrooms. Thus, if one escape route is blocked by flames, another one may be used.

Then, practice the escape plan. The plan should be one that can be used at all times, day or night.

It's a good idea to test the routes under conditions as they might be if fire struck at night.

Have the children lie down on their beds and then yell, "FIRE!" They should be able to escape down the stairs and out onto the street within less than a minute. The escape plan should be practiced until speed is attained and leaving the house quickly becomes automatic.

Small children should be told that at the first whiff of smoke, they should shout, "FIRE!" and run for the street.

It's a good idea to have a central place for everyone to meet after fleeing the house, so that it can be determined whether all are outside.

Remind children not to stop and dress or look for a favorite toy or possession. The main job is to get out of the house safely.

Remind children that under no circumstances should they ever re-enter a burning building. That goes for adults as well.

Don't stop inside the burning house to call the fire department. Get the family outside and summon the fire department over your neighbor's phone.

If there is only one stairway, look around and see if there are other exits that can be used.

For instance, sometimes there is a porch roof just below a window. Remind children that if the stairway is blocked by flames they could open the window above the porch roof and climb out on to the roof to await rescue.

They should be told that if the window is stuck shut, and will not open, a chair's leg can be used to break the glass. Remind them to break off any jagged pieces of glass with the chair legs before stepping through the window on to the roof.

Here are some other things to remember:

If you are sleeping in an upstairs bedroom with the door closed, and are awakened by the smell of smoke, do not open the door immediately. A good strong door can keep out fire for several precious minutes.

Go to the door and place your hand against it. If the door feels hot, it may be that the fire is already in the hallway and you should use another escape route.

However, if the door does not feel hot, open it a crack. Hold your head away, brace your foot against the door and put your hand across the opening to determine how hot the air is. If the air in the hallway appears to be cool and there are no flames or smoke, you may be able to go down the stairway. However, if there is any question in your mind about getting down the stairs safely, close the door and go to the window. Open the window and shout "FIRE!" to arouse neighbors so that they may summon the fire department. Then wait to be rescued.

If smoke and flames begin seeping into the room around the door, it may be necessary for you to leave by the window.

Drop bedding, pillows, clothing, or anything else soft on the ground beneath the window to give you a cushion to land on. Then lower yourself over the window sill as far as possible to shorten the distance to the ground, and drop onto the pile of bedding. If you are hanging by your hands from the sill of a second-story window, the distance from your feet to the ground should be less than 10 feet. Hold your body moderately tensed, neither limp nor rigid, when you make the drop. You should land safely.

The most important part of Operation EDITH is drawing up a definite escape plan and practicing it. Stage practice escape drills regularly, particularly if there are very young children who must be taught what to do in case of fire. Practice the escape plan until it is automatic. EDITH can save your life.

Parson Jones Speaks

Dear Mr. Publisher

I guess you read where one of our local boys got a medal last week for bravery in Viet Nam. The towns folks were awfully proud of him. I sometimes feel we don't pay enough attention to bravery. It seems to me the church oughta have medals for extra courageous members. You take our Sunday School teachers who put up with a hole room full of little younguns every week. I didn't realize what a tough job these folks have til I had to substitute for a sick teacher. I had the six year old boys. Lotsa folks ask if six year olds are ready to start to school. Well sir, I'm convinced they're ready, but I'm not too sure a teacher of six year olds is ready. I'll just give you a few experiences that I had to show you what I mean.

To start off with little Bobby Longsnoot was late-five minutes to be exact. I asked him how come he was late for class. He just rared back and said he was late cause I had started class before he got there. Then he went on to say that he almost didn't come in the first place. "How come?", I asked him. He allowed as how he had wanted to go fishing, but his paw wouldn't let him. I told Bobby he oughta be mighty proud of his paw for keeping him on the straight and narrow path. I asked him if his daddy pointed out to him why he couldn't go. He said his paw told him he couldn't go cause there wasn't enough bait for both of 'em.

Finally, Mr. Publisher, we got around to the lesson topic, which was "Let's be good." I asked little Jimmy Livewire if he was a good boy. He said he was but his brother wasn't. He allowed as how his little brother was always pulling the cat's tail. When I asked him why that was wrong, he told how the Good Book said, "What God hath joined together, let no man pull asunder." Tommy Eager-beaver waved his hand like a bee had just stung him. He wanted to talk. He told the class that he was a good boy whenever his mama gave him a nickel. I pointed out to Tommy that he oughta be like his daddy, good for nothing.

Next off, Ina Bird's youngun pulled a chair out from under the kid next to 'em. I asked him where he learned to do that. He said he got the idea from pushing a ladder over while his paw was on top of it. "What'd i d your paw say when you done it? He wanted to know if he should leave out the bad words. When I told him "Yes", he said "Well, he didn't say nothing then."

Mr. Publisher, that one class was enough for me. I still say teachers need a medal for bravery!

Yours truly,
Parson Jones

First "Greenspan" Contract Completed

On Wednesday, December 14, the Wa-Nee Community Schools became the first public agency in Indiana, and one of only 14 in the nation to buy land under "Greenspan" provisions of the United States Department of Agriculture. Wa-Nee is a consolidation of the Wakarusa and Nappanee schools.

Dr. Forest Kendall, President of the Wa-Nee School Board accepted a check for $1,142 from Richard J. Moser, Chairman of the Indiana ASC State Committee. The money will be used to help pay for 6 acres of cropland, adjoining the present Wakarusa High School. A football field and other recreational facilities will be built on the land in the future. The Corporation is planning to purchase an additional 40 acres under "Greenspan" next year if their plans work out. Approximately 200 park board officials, school board officials, and ASC personnel attended a discussion session at the Hotel Elkhart in Elkhart, Indiana, and the dinner presentation afterward.

Under "Greenspan" public agencies, for instance, park boards or school boards can buy cropland and get cost-share help from the United States Department of Agriculture. The land must be used for open space, public recreation, wildlife habitat, natural beauty, or other uses.

For more information interested persons should contact their local county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service Office or the State ASCS Office, Indianapolis.

Mentone News

Mailboxes are protected by Federal law, and the pranksters or vandals who damage or destroy the boxes and their contents may be in for a heavy fine or imprisonment. The Post Office Department warned to-day.

The Post Office Department noted that some 25,000 mail receptacles were damaged or destroyed in the past year. It was also noted that 2,641 persons were arrested in the year up to June 30 for damaging or destroying mail receptacles.

The Post Office Department quotes the law as follows: "Whoever willfully or maliciously injures, tears down or destroys any letter box or other receptacle intended or used for the receipt or delivery of mail on any mail route, or breaks open the same or willfully or maliciously injures, defaces or destroys any mail deposited therein, shall be fined not more than $1000 or imprisoned not more than three years."

This applies to all mail receptacles and the mail in them, even though the boxes are bought by citizens and are their personal property.

"Pranksters -- and especially children who do not know any better -- should be made to realize the seriousness of their actions. A $1,000 fine or a term in jail is enough to take the humor out of any prank."

Often the mailbox damage is the work of youths, who do it for "kicks." And the courts have shown little sympathy for this youthful means of expression. In Michigan, a justice sentenced two 18-year olds to 10 days in jail, including two on a diet of baby food. The diet specification, explained the judge, was because the youths "acted like babies." They were also fined $25 each plus $15 costs.

In New York state, five youths were fined $25 each plus restitution or restoration, plus no driving for an indefinite period, plus an 8 PM curfew, plus a written analysis by each of a magazine article entitled "A Judge Gets Tough on Hoodlums."

Two Iowa youths who damaged 39 mailboxes were required to personally apologize to each boxholder in addition to making repairs or providing a new box.

In Missouri, three 17-year olds lost their driving privileges, were given a 9 PM curfew, and had to report twice weekly to juvenile authorities. They had damaged 63 mailboxes.

And in Arkansas, four juveniles faced the following: (1) no driving until further notice, (2) a 10 PM curfew, (3) return to court in a month with letters from their school principals reporting on grades and attitudes, (4) full restitution of all damages, and (5) wear a sign for 30 days stating "I have not learned to respect the property of others."

Decorations Were Beautiful

Although there was no lighting contest this year, local residents still had beautiful decorations on their lawns and around their homes. There were many lovely decorations but the ones provided by the Wolf family in Mentone and the Welborn family north of town were very lovely as were the ones provided by the Stouder and Shirey families east of town. Dr. McFadden's novel Santa and reindeer again provided amusement for the holiday season, and the children loved them. These families deserve a bit of applause from the rest of us for their hard work in creating the lovely scenes. Many other homes radiated the Christmas spirit through their tasteful decorations.
