Fire Destroys Mollenhour
Manufacturing Plant Tuesday Night

A fire that started in the new office section of the old Mollenhour Manufacturing plant at the west edge of Mentone about eleven o'clock Tuesday evening caused damages in the neighborhood of $20,000 to the 40x120 foot two-story structure and the machinery within. Origin of the fire is unknown but a gas heating unit is suspected. At the present writing no definite announcement has been made to the actual loss or the amount of insurance coverage. C. O. Mollenhour, who has operated the business for more than 40 years, was overcome by the smoke and intense excitement and was placed in the care of a physician. He is still resting at his home at this writing.

Recently Mr. Mollenhour leased the plant building he had been using to the Panel-Craft Co., which is to fabricate aluminum home siding, and the moving of the Mollenhour machinery to the old building was almost completed. Workmen had been busy for some time installing new partitions and a new office was just completed Saturday.

The fire was noticed by Mrs. Mollenhour and the fire department was called. Dale Wallace, an employee of the firm, was able to drive out a Ford crawler type tractor but the intense smoke prevented rescuing any other machinery. Mr. Mollenhour threw a number of fire bombs into the burning office, but they made little difference to the blaze. Fireman had it almost under control when another blaze started in the northeast corner of the main structure.

Departments from Burket, Etna Green, and Warsaw were on hand to assist the Mentone department in protecting the other nearby structures.

Fire is still smoldering in the ruins this afternoon, but it is felt there is little chance for the water-soaked mass to start burning dangerously again.

The office safe, containing the records of the firm, was opened about noon Wednesday and indications were that the records were not destroyed. The door of the safe fell off, however, as it was hoisted from the ruins.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Griffis had Sunday dinner with Mrs. Jennie Sponseller.

Mentone Basketball

As Reported by Larry Teel

The Mentone Bulldogs fought their way to their thirteenth victory of the season Friday night over a scrappy Claypool team.

The Bulldogs jumped to an early lead and it appeared as though they might make a rout of the host Knights. The hosts suddenly came to life and narrowed the lead considerably. About then the Bulldogs started to roll again and thus they set the pattern for the entire game.

Only once did Claypool lead, 53-52, with 3 minutes left on the clock. The Bulldogs came on with a flying finish and wound up on the long end of the 61-57 score.

Claypool was hurt considerably in the final quarter by the loss of three regulars via fouls.

SUNDAY PAPERS by OLSEN—Chicago, Indianapolis

1959 Chemical Weed Controls

Chemicals, used properly, often do a better job of controlling weeds than cultural methods. O. C. Lee, Purdue University plant pathologist, points out. The cost is less, too.

When improperly used, chemicals may cause injury to crops, fail to give desired results and create a hazard to animals and humans.

Latest development in chemical weed control is the use of pre-emergence type materials. They are applied to the soil at planting time. As the young weeds emerge they come in contact with the chemical and are killed. Crop plants in this case are tolerant to the chemicals.

Simazine and CDAA are used as pre-emergence materials in corn and CDAA and Alanap in soybeans. CDAA is a grass killer and does not kill broad leaved weeds. Simazine and Alanap are effective on both broad leaf and grassy weeds.

Some 20 different chemicals are available and recommended by Purdue University for weed control in 1959. Some are selective and can be used to kill weeds in growing crops. Others are suitable only where one is not concerned with crop plants—such as patches of giant foxtail, Canada thistle or fence row weeds.

Mimeograph HD-1, "Chemicals for Weed Control—1959 Recommendations," tells what and how to use herbicides that appear to be practical for use in Indiana this year. This publication is available from your county agent or the mailing room, Agricultural Experiment Station building, Purdue University, Lafayette.

will be held in Indianapolis, February 10 to 14.

Purdue University's agricultural extension service, Kingan's Incorporated and the Indiana Swine Breeders' Association sponsor the show. Premiums provided by the latter and co-operative breed associations total more than $5,000. Officials from each of the national swine associations are expected to present awards to winners in their respective breed classes.

Designed to promote development of desirable market-type commercial hogs, the show has "on foot" and "carcass" divisions in order to test the live appearance of the barrows against their carcass value.

Dick Hollandbeck and George Thrasher, Purdue extension swine specialists, said that judging for the "on foot" show could open at 7:30 a. m. CDT, Tuesday, February 10, in the swine barn at the state fairgrounds. Four days later, Saturday, February 14, the best will be rated in the carcass contest at Kingan's main plant on West Washington street.

Feeder Cattle Numbers Down

Cattle and calves in Indiana feed lots January 1 totalled 26,000, fewest since January 1, 1953, when there were 225,000, said federal agricultural statisticians at Purdue University report.

This number is 11 percent fewer than the 287,000 on feed January 1, 1958.

Cattle on feed three months or longer made up 18 percent of the total, compared with 15 percent a year ago. The statisticians estimated that cattle placed on feed during the last quarter of 1958 totalled 211,000, the smallest number for the period since quarterly estimates were started five years ago.

Steers and steer calves made up about two-thirds of the total. Heifers and heifer calves comprised 35 percent and cattle the other one percent.

Farmers indicated they would sell 89,000 head, or 35 percent, of the total during the next three months. This represents a faster marketing weight than last year, when 25 percent of the January 1 total was intended or market during the same period.

TAX FACTS

Don't Pay Tax On Non-Taxable Items

(This is one of a series of articles on federal income tax filing. The articles are based on information provided by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants and the Indiana Society of Certified Public Accountants, in cooperation with the Internal Revenue Service.)

YOU may think that listing your income is the easiest part of preparing a tax return. Actually, according to the Internal Revenue Service, this is where taxpayers make the greatest number of errors.

Not all of the money that may have come to you during 1958 needs to be reported on your tax form. For example, don't report:

(1) "Dividends" received on an insurance policy. They are considered merely a refund of part of the premium you paid.

(2) Social Security benefits, Railroad Retirement Act benefits, or payments received under Workmen's Compensation laws.

(3) Property or cash gifts received from other people, although the giver may have to pay a gift tax. Tips and other compensation for services must be reported, however.

(4) Inheritances and bequests. The estate may be taxed, but not the recipient.

If you were injured and received damages, this is not considered taxable income and it makes no difference whether your damages were awarded by a court or settled out of court.

When listing income you can also forget about most government benefits to veterans and their families. Dividends paid on veteran's Government insurance is not considered taxable income, but non-disability retirement pay and the interest on terminal leave bonds must be included.

Sick Pay Benefits

If you were absent from work due to injury or sickness and received payments from your employer or his insurance company, these payments are non-taxable within these two limitations:

First, the maximum amount is $100 per week, plus any amounts which came from your own contribution to the plan.

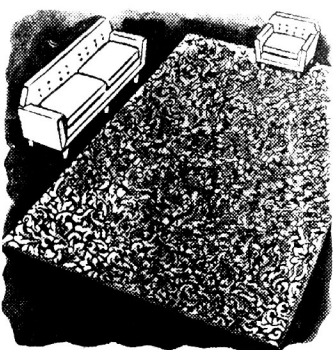

Second, unless the absence was for sickness during which you were hospitalized for one day or for a personal injury, the payments are not tax free until after the first 7 calendar days of absence.

If these payments are included in the wages shown on your withholding slips, you should subtract the proper amount from your income in the place provided on the first page of the tax return (Form 1040). Attach an explanation as described in the official instruction book. You are entitled to exclude this amount even if you do not itemize deductions.

Rules on Prizes

There is an interesting rule on prizes. Generally all prizes and awards are taxable. However, prizes awarded for scientific, literary or other achievements without any action by you to bring about your selection, are not considered as taxable income to you. Most scholarships granted to college students are not taxable, and the value of the award does not have to be included in the student's contribution to his report.

The official instructions contain a list of the types of income which should or should not be included in your tax return. It is important to check this list carefully.

IN MEMORY OF OUR BELOVED IRENE WHO LEFT US FOUR YEARS AGO FEBRUARY 11th

He reaches out His hand when life is darkest,
When to those we dearly love we've bid adieu,
When the way is dark, and life seems so empty,
He reaches out His hand and helps us through.
He reaches out His hand when storms are raging,
And clouds would greatly hide the heaven's blue.
Oh! We're so glad that He who never leaves us,
Then reaches out His hand and helps us through.
He reaches out His hand when death o'ertakes us,
And those who once were loyal, kind and true
Stand helplessly aside, then only Jesus
Reaches out His hand and helps us through.

HENRY HEIGHWAY DIES AT 90 YEARS

Henry Colfax Heighway, lifetime resident of Fulton County, died at 7:30 p. m. Sunday in the home of his daughter, Mrs. John Masters, southeast of Talma. He was 90 years old.

Mr. Heighway, who has been in ill health for seven years, had resided with his daughter for many years. Death was due to pneumonia.

The deceased was born Feb. 27, 1868 in Newcastle township, the son of Albert and Marie (Smith) Heighway. His first marriage was to Norine Wood in 1897. She died in 1899. His second marriage was to Sarah Margarette Fultz in 1911. She passed away in 1954. He was a member of the Bethlehem Baptist church and was a retired farmer and carpenter.

Surviving are the daughter, one step-son, Everett Kessler of Rochester, and two grandchildren, Jeanette and Ronald Jones, of R. 2, Rochester. Two brothers and a sister preceded him in death.

Funeral services were held on Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 in the Zimmerman Bros. funeral home, Rochester. Rev. Phillip Robinson of Kirkland, officiated. Burial was in the IOOF cemetery at Rochester.

Local News

Among the typographical errors that normally get into a newspaper, in our last issue we referred to Miss Marilyn Rathfon as "Mrs." Our sincere apologies, Marilyn.

Miles Manwaring recently returned from Rochester, Minn.

sota where he underwent numerous physical tests. Miles suffered a heart attack several months ago and was advised by his physician, Dr. Urschel, to visit Mayos. They report nothing more seriously wrong than the diagnosis of Dr. Urschel.

Joel Plum, Ed Puterbaugh, Dave McDaniels, Leon Horn, Harry Keffer, Bob Burt, Dave Jon Loze and Larry McKinley of Manchester College were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. O. L. McKinley and DeWayne.

Mrs. Bessie Gross returned home Saturday after spending four weeks visiting her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wagner, of near Union, Michigan.

Mrs. Claude Gates has been dismissed from St. Vincent hospital in Indianapolis to her home here. She continues to improve steadily and may have visitors for a short period of time, so as not to tire her.

Saturday evening supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Chet Smith and Melva were Dr. and Mrs. O. L. McFadden, Denise, Karen and Jimmy.

Subscription Price Advanced

Following this issue of the Mentone News, the annual subscription rate will be $3.00 per year.

We have appreciated the fine response of subscribers to pay up and renew at the special rate that was extended for 30 days.

There is no fear on our part to extend credit on subscriptions to those who request it and make proper arrangements, but in fairness to all a policy must be followed to make it operative. Consequently, we are going to make an effort to send only those papers which are on a paid-in-advance basis, and if you do not get the next issue, it will likely be because you did not renew your subscription. Generally our readers have expressed appreciation for us continuing to send the paper even after the expiration date, and legally and morally it is a just obligation as long as the subscriber continues to accept it from his mail box.

On all past due subscriptions, the charge will be figured at the $2 annual rate that has been in force.

SPECIAL MEETING AT TALMA CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Rev. Lester Pipkin, president of the Appalachian Bible Institute in Bradley, West Virginia, will present his work using colored slides, Tuesday evening, Feb. 10, 7:30 p.m. CST. This is an especially planned service and all are welcome.

Soup made from grass is often the only dinner for families in Korean fishing villages, during the stormy months when the men cannot go to sea. Contributions to the CARE Food Crusade, New York 16, N. Y., help send packages of U. S. farm foods to these families.

Children in the poorest section of Old Delhi, India, greet CARE's staff with friendly shouts: "Here come the milk-men!" The "title" results from the free milk the youngsters receive thanks to American contributions to the CARE Food Crusade, New York 16, N. Y.

New Oat Variety

A new spring oat variety, Clintland 60—an improved form of the highly popular Clintland—will be released in Indiana for the production of registered seed this year. Farmers and certified producers will be able to obtain the seed in quantity for planting in 1960.

A Purdue University-U. S. Department of Agriculture small grain breeding team developed Clintland 60, adding greater resistance to black stem rust disease.

Like the older Clintland, a 1954 variety developed by the same breeding team, the new variety is also resistant to the prevalent races of the oat crown rust disease. This resistance saved the Indiana farmers about three million dollars in 1957, when susceptible oat varieties were severely attacked by the crown rust disease. Clintland was unharmed.

Clintland and Clintland 60 are the most widely adapted of the oat varieties grown by Indiana farmers. Clintland 60 is recommended in the northern three quarters of the state and is acceptable in the southern one fourth, where the early Putnam is the recommended variety.

Indiana seed growers who have produced certified seed of oats in each of the past three years will be eligible to receive foundation seed of the Clintland 60 variety for sowing in 1959. Clintland 60 is also being increased for release in other midwestern states.

Ode To Retirement

(The following poem was recently read over a Phoenix, Arizona radio station, and Mrs. Gertrude Hill obtained a copy and sent it to us with the notation: "We think it bears publishing so thought you'd like it in the News.")

How do I know my youth is all spent?
My get up and go has got up and went!
But in spite of it all, I am able to grin
When I think where my get up and go has been.

Old age is golden, I've heard it said,
But sometimes I wonder as I get into bed—
With my ears in a drawer, my teeth in a cup,
My eyes on the table until I wake up.

Ere sleep dims my eyes, I say to myself,
"Is there anything else I should lay on the shelf?"
And I'm happy to say as I close my door,
"My friends are the same, only perhaps even more!"

When I was young, my slippers were red—
I could kick my heels right over my head.
When I grew older, my slippers were blue—
But still I could dance the whole night through.
Now I am old, my slippers are black;
I walk to the store — and puff my way back!

The reason I know my youth is all spent?
My get up and go has got up and went.
But I really don't mind when I think, with a grin,
Of all the grand places my get up has been.

Since I have retired from Life's competition,
I busy myself with complete repetition;
I get up each morning and dust off my wits;
Pick up my paper and read the "Obits."
If my name is missing, I know I'm not dead;
So I eat a good breakfast — and go back to bed.

Hip Broken In Fall On Ice

Orville (Poke) Vandermark, 60, is in the Woodlawn hospital at Rochester where he was taken early Monday morning after he fractured his hip bone in a fall on the ice. The break is in the main hip bone just below the socket. It is to be pinned Thursday.

Monday night a freezing mist was falling and streets and highways were so slick one could barely walk on them. A number of autos were unable to get up the hill on Road 25 at the Manwaring hatchery until late in the forenoon. Mr. Vandermark had driven up town and went back to the Hody Teel home to find out if Mr. Teel was going to work. As he walked back to his car, he fell.

Jr. High Band Performs

Friday evening at Mentone's last home ball game, the Junior Band, under the direction of Mr. Kenneth Bush played several selections. The young performers did a nice job.

Later in the evening the High School Band marched onto the floor and gave a "Bull Fight" scene, which was quite amusing. Our special thanks to Mr. Bush for his time and efforts put forth in directing the bands.

Mr. and Mrs. Rex Yazel and family had Sunday dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Pete Blue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Manwaring have returned home after attending a poultrymen's convention at Atlanta, Georgia. They also spent a few days at Ft. Lauderdale, Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Coleman and Mr. and Mrs. David Cooper have returned home from a ten day trip to Florida. They were in Miami, Palm Beach, and then drove up the east coast. They enjoyed very comfortable weather during their trip.

Annual Meeting of C. of C.

The annual meeting of the Mentone Chamber of Commerce was held at Pete's Restaurant Tuesday evening with a good attendance.

Following the dinner Fire Chief Arlo Friesner spoke at length on the need for another piece of fire equipment for the city. The Dodge fire truck was purchased in 1930 and it is to the place where it should be replaced with something a little more up to date. The town is well protected with the International fire truck, but should a town fire occur while the new truck is on a rural run, the problem could be most difficult. A committee composed of Ora McKinley, Lloyd Bowerman, Charles Manwaring and Forrest Miner was appointed to secure information for a possible solution.

Charles Manwaring, Wayne Bowser and Raymond Lewis were elected to fill the vacancies created on the board of directors by the expiring terms of Raymond Cooper, Leo Valentine and H. V. Johns.

The directors met following the regular meeting and elected the following officers:

Kenneth Romine, president.
Wayne Bowser, vice president.
John Miller was reelected as treasurer.

H. V. Johns, retiring president, presided at the meeting.

SUNDAY PAPERS by OLSEN—Chicago, Indianapolis

Grub-Proof Livestock Now

Now's the time to start controlling cattle warbles or grubs.

Grubs are fly larvae that not only injure the animal but damage the hide and reduce its value for leather.

Little can be done to prevent these heel flies from attacking the cattle, says Ken MacDonald, Purdue University animal scientist. However, the grubs can be destroyed before maturity, thereby limiting the damage to the hide.

And further, if all farmers in a neighborhood treat their cattle, the menace can be greatly reduced.

Farmers should examine their cattle often and make the first treatment when the lumps become noticeable. The treatment should be repeated at 15-30-day intervals or as long as the grubs are in the back of the animal.

Treatments involve a spray, wash or dust, using rotenone. Here are MacDonald's suggestions:

If it's a spray, use 7½ pounds of five percent rotenone powder to 100 gallons of water. Apply at 400 pounds nozzle pressure. Complete saturation of the affected area is essential. Rotenone extracts in liquid form are also available for use in gear-type sprayers.

For dust, use cattle grub powders containing 1½ percent rotenone, available on the market. Use 3-4 pounds per animal and rub the powder well into the skin with a stiff brush.

For a wash, use 12 ounces of five percent rotenone and four ounces of granular laundry soap to a gallon of warm water. Apply about one pint per animal and work it well into the skin with a stiff brush. Commercial preparations are available to do this job.

For more detailed information ask your county agricultural agent for a copy of Purdue extension mimeo E-14, "Recommendation for the Control of Cattle Grubs."

Top Dress Wheat Soon

Nitrogen top dressing of wheat will pay off in increased yields at harvest time.

That's the word from H. N. Wheaton, Purdue University extension agronomist.

Wheaton advises Indiana wheat growers to top dress the crop with nitrogen if they haven't done so already. Farmers should take steps now to make sure their wheat has or will have enough nitrogen to produce a bumper crop.

Purdue agronomists say nitrogen should be applied in southern Indiana before March 20 and in northern Indiana before April 20.

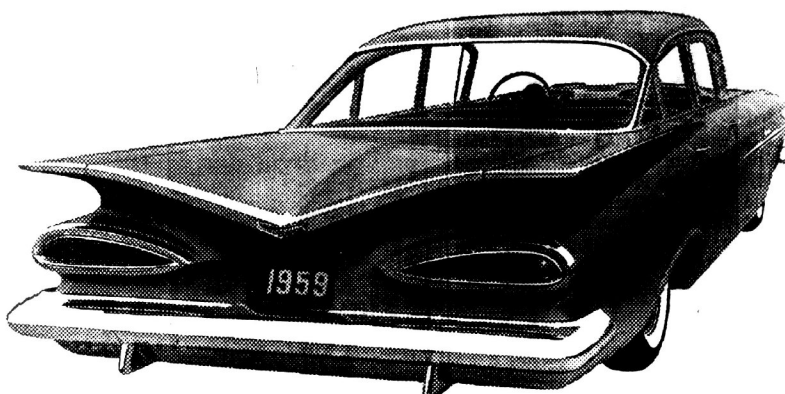

The new wheat varieties—Knox, Dual, LaPorte and Vermillion—can really make high fertility levels pay dividends.

On heavy textured dark colored soils, Wheaton says up to 20 pounds of nitrogen per acre may be needed. On lighter colored soils, 30-40 pounds can be profitably used. Fifty pounds or more of nitrogen may be needed on sandy soils.

"These suggested rates are only guides and can be adjusted for each farm. One factor to be considered is the preceding crop. Here is where keen observation and experience of the farmer need to be applied," Wheaton adds.

Purdue University agricultural engineers recommend that infrared heat lamps be stored in their original cartons. Scratches can be avoided if the bulbs are kept away from rough surfaces such as concrete. Defective units should be discarded.

CHEVY'S NEW HI-THRIFT 6

More miles are back in a gallon of regular-grade gas—up to 10% more—and Chevy's new Hi-Thrift 6 engine puts them there. It also gives you more "git" in the speeds you drive the most.

Here's an engine that always seems able to coax extra miles out of a tank of regular-grade gas. In fact, if you're one of those drivers who keep tab on things like gas mileage, you'll soon see for yourself that this new Hi-Thrift 6 gets up to 10% more miles a gallon.

Another thing you'll like about this 135-h.p. 6 is the extra pep it gives you for passing and climbing hills. This is due to higher torque at normal speeds.

It may be hard to believe anything that looks and moves like this '59 Chevy can be such a stickler for economy. But—whether you pick the Hi-Thrift 6 or a vim-packed V8—this is just one more reason Chevy's the car that's wanted for all its worth. Stop by your dealer's and see.

The smart switch is to the '59 Chevy!

Even Bees Produce Less

Indiana honey production dropped in 1958 to an 11-year low. And not only were the bees less busy, but their owners made less money.

State-federal agricultural statisticians at Purdue University report that 1958 honey production totaled 5,152,000 pounds. The 1957 crop was 6,510,000 lbs. Honey yield per colony averaged 28 pounds last year.

A cold, wet spring and early summer cut the output.

Beeswax production also dropped. It fell from 130,000 lbs. in 1957 to 98,000 pounds in 1958.

Hoosier beekeepers received an average of 23.3 cents a pound for all honey in 1958, compared to 23.6 cents in 1957. Dollar value of last year's volume also declined. The 1958 production brought beekeepers $1,200,000.

TAX FACTS #3

Claiming Dependency Exemptions

(This is one of a series of articles on federal income tax filing. The articles are based on information provided by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants and the Indiana Society of Certified Public Accountants, in cooperation with the Internal Revenue Service.)

WHEN you total up the exemptions on your 1958 tax return, remember that you are permitted to claim at least one exemption for every qualified dependent - and this includes yourself.

Count your exemptions carefully because each one takes $600 off your taxable income. Take one for yourself and two if you are 65 or over. This rule applies to both husband and wife on a joint return, and an added exemption may be taken if either is blind.

In addition, you are entitled to one exemption for each person who fits the definition of a dependent, but the extra exemptions for age and blindness cannot be taken for a dependent.

To qualify for an exemption a dependent must:

(1) Have received more than one-half of his support from you unless you file a Multiple Support Agreement (see below).

(2) Have less than $600 gross income unless he is your child and under 19 years of age - or a student of any age.

(3) Not file a joint return with his spouse.

(4) Have been either a member of your household or closely related to you, as defined in the official instructions.

(5) Be either a citizen of the United States or a resident of the U. S., Canada, Mexico, Canal Zone, Panama, or (in some cases the Philippines).

Who Qualifies

Your exemptions usually depend on whether you and your dependents qualify under these rules at the end of the year. However, if your husband or wife died during the year you a joint return and take exemptions that both of you have otherwise had.

If you are a dependent of a deceased person, you may still be able to arrange for one member of the group to have the $600 exemption. You might agree, for example, to take turns claiming the exemption each year.

The one who claims the exemption must have contributed more than one-half of the support, and he must have been a member of the group who collectively provided the necessary "more than one-half support." Each member of the group must have been entitled to claim the dependent except for the support requirement.

Multiple Support Agreements

In order for one person to have the exemption all other members of the group who contributed over 10 per cent must sign declarations that they will not claim the dependent. The Internal Revenue Service provides Form 2120 (Multiple Support Agreements) for this purpose.

Taxpayers who are supporting dependents, but are not able to file a joint return, may qualify as the "head of household," and be entitled to use a special schedule of tax rates that give you half the benefits of income-splitting.

If you qualify as a "surviving spouse" you should not file a tax return as a "head of household." The tax of a surviving spouse is computed on the same basis as a joint return and gives the full benefit of income-splitting. A "surviving spouse" is one:

1. Whose husband or wife died in the preceding two years (1956 and 1957).

2. Who maintains a home for a legally qualified dependent (the dependent in this case must be a son, daughter or stepchild).

The official instructions that come with your tax forms give further information on how to claim your dependency exemptions. Help is also available from the Internal Revenue Service.

Mentone Reading Club Meets

February 4th the Mentone Reading Club met at the home of Mrs. Oliver Teel with Mrs. Joe Boggs as assisting hostess.

The president, Mrs. Earl Shinn, opened the meeting as she led the group in giving the pledge to the flag and the club collect.

Roll call was responded to by 19 members with something pertaining to the crafts or art.

A card of cheer was sent to the C. O. Mollenhours.

The nominating committee, Mrs. Loren Tridle, Mrs. Ora McKinley, and Mrs. C. O. Mollenhour, presented the following officers for the year 1959-60:

President, Mrs. Richard Manwaring.

First Vice President, Mrs. Charles Manwaring.

Second Vice President, Mrs. Don Wentzel.

Secretary, Mrs. Walter Lackey.

Treasurer, Mrs. Ray Rush.

The program planning work shop for the Kosciusko County of Federated Clubs will be held Feb. 18 at the First National Bank recreation rooms at Warsaw, at 7:30. Mrs. Richard Manwaring appointed her program committee as follows: Mrs. Denton Abbey, Mrs. Paul Rush, and Mrs. Don Wentzel.

On Feb. 20th Ed Murrow will interview the national president of the Federation in her office, on his Person-to-Person show.

Feb. 22nd is Heart Sunday in Mentone. Volunteers to help Mrs. Dan Urschel in the house-to-house campaign are:

Mrs. Richard Manwaring

Mrs. H. V. Johns.

Mrs. Loren Tridle.

Mrs. Oliver Teel.

Mrs. Earl Shinn.

Mrs. Max Nellans.

The February program committee was Mrs. Harold Nelson and Mrs. Charles Manwaring. Mrs. Nelson read "Anecdotes on Lincoln," from Readers Digest.

The program was closed with a recording of a Carl Sandburg reading, "The Gettysburg Address."

Refreshments in keeping with the month of February were served by the hostess.

The soil in a hotbed should be warmed to 55 to 60 degrees F. before seed is sown, say Purdue University horticulturists. Approximately 40 days should elapse between seeding and transplanting.

Cows eat more low quality hay if it is ground, Purdue University dairy scientists point out. Coarse ground hay is more easily digested than finely ground and there is less chance of decreasing fat content of the milk.

The tree planting season is only about a month away. Purdue University foresters suggest getting a copy of Mimeo F-38, "Ten Pointers on Farmstead Windbreaks," from your county agricultural agent.

Care Sending Drugs to Cuba

CARE emergency aid to Cuba is being supplemented with shipments of much-needed penicillin and other American drugs. Richard W. Reuter, executive director of the non-profit overseas aid agency, announced recently.

The first air shipment, scheduled to reach Santiago de Cuba next week, will include 8,000 vials (500,000 units) of penicillin; 3,600 vials of combiotie, a combination of streptomycin and penicillin; 40 bottles of chloromycetin, and 200 vials of tetracycline, each vial containing 250 milligrams for intravenous injections.

Need for this aid was established by Bertran D. Smucker, chief of CARE Overseas Operations, who flew to Cuba last week to supervise distribution of 625,000 pounds of food among the needy in Oriente Province. Smucker found the main provincial hospital at Santiago and other institutions in Oriente severely hampered by a critical shortage of antibiotics.

Purchase of these drugs was made from special CARE emergency and disaster funds. "Additional aid to Cuba depends on the public response to the CARE appeal for assistance to the people of the island seriously hurt by years of civil war", Mr. Reuter said.

Send contributions in any amount for the CARE Emergency Aid Program for Cuba to CARE, Chicago.

Better Daughters Meet

On February 2, 1959 the Beaver Dam Better Daughters met at the home of Jean Kump. Pledges were led by Gloria Hale and Shirley Mahasko. Secretary's report was given by Marianne Tipmore and the Treasurer's report by Rita Lockridge. Rita also had meditation for the evening.

For the old and new business we chose an assistant secretary who was Jean Kump. We also chose a new leader, Mrs. Chas. Adams. The reason for choosing a new secretary and leader is that our present lead Mrs. Floyd Tipmore and secretary, Marianne Tipmore, will be leaving our community. We are very sorry to see them leave. We all want to wish them our very best of luck.

Demonstrations were given by Marilyn Horn on "How To Set the Table", Jody Horn on "Apricot Cobbler" and Jean Kump on "Devised Eggs."

Linda Lukens was our guest. She gave a very interesting talk on the State Fair.

Songs and games were enjoyed by all. Delicious refreshments were served to all.

Which Industry Now Betters the Living of 3 Out of 4 Indiana Families?

...Here Are Some Surprising Facts About The Trading Stamp Industry

So far, whenever our nation's economy has needed expansion, a new industry has sprung up to help the country go ahead.

The automobile industry, employing millions, was followed closely by the development of radio and radio broadcasting to make more millions of jobs. Then came the airplane industry, air conditioning, plastics, television, frozen foods, to change our lives some more.

The trading stamp industry, while not new, belongs to this expansion group and has been one of the fastest growing of all. Today it betters the living of more than 3 out of 4 Indiana families who save trading stamps.

Obviously, an industry affecting such a large proportion of Indiana's population must bring far-reaching benefits for Indiana's economy. And it does. In 1957 the trading stamp industry bought $25,538,000 worth of products from Indiana manufacturers. In one way or another, it provided employment for 2,392 Indiana people in many different industries.

The people in the trading stamp industry, its merchandise and redemption stores, its warehouses and transportation and all the activity that goes on within it are integrated economically everywhere within our state.

Thus it seems plain that the trading stamp industry along with the 1,029,000 Indiana women it serves has become, like other expansion industries, a living, vital segment of Indiana's economy.

LIVING IN THE PAST

Some forty years ago I had a very interesting talk with a very old negro woman. I said, "Auntie, how old are you?" She said, "Lord, son, I don't know. I was a grown woman when the Yankees came through; the family Bible had been lost but I was a slave for many years." I said, "How do things look to you today, compared to when you were a girl?" She said that everything looked different and the change in the people was the biggest difference. She said the singing of today didn't sound like singing to her. After the war she worked for twenty-five cents per day and said it went much farther than the present-day wages. I thought I would pin her with a question, so I said, "Auntie, why did folks live so long years ago?" She said, "today we have too much noise and the human nerves stay in too high a pitch." Then again, she said we didn't go to church like we once did when she was a girl. Also people were never in great haste and got much more done. She said she made all her own clothes, and in that day women carried a waist string to tie up their dresses from the dew. I said, "Well, today they just carry the string and don't wear the dress." She said, "Dat's the truth, sho' is!"

—H. C. Whetstone

Purdue University agronomists say five pounds of Empire birdsfoot trefoil and three pounds of timothy seed an acre make a bloated, permanent pasture. Frost seedlings may be made in February or the seed may be sown in spring oats in March and April.

Ora E. Beeson, 70, a lifetime resident of the Harrison Center community, died of a heart ailment at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at his farm home four miles north of Mentone. He had been in ill health six months.

Born in Harrison township, Mr. Beeson was the son of Marquis and Martha (Ellis) Beeson. His wife, the former Tressa Blue, died December 16, 1958.

Mr. Beeson, who owned the Beeson egg farm, was assisted in the operation of the farm by his sons, Fred and James. Others surviving are a sister, Mrs. Opal Tucker, of north of Mentone, and four grandsons.

Services were held Sunday afternoon at the Harrison Center church. Interment was in the Harrison Center cemetery.

Passes Away

Charles Dobbins of Lima, Ohio, passed away Sunday of a heart attack.

Mr. Dobbins' wife was the former Maxine Arnsberger of this community.

The funeral will be Thursday at Lima, Ohio.

National Heart Sunday

Next Sunday, February 22, is National Heart Sunday, and everyone is urged to make their contribution to the campaign to eliminate the most common cause of disease, disability and death in our modern civilization. Modern "miracle drugs" have done much to reduce illness in the population, particularly by eliminating or abating the infectious diseases, but there is still no adequate answer to high blood pressure, to hardening of the arteries, to rheumatic valvular disease, and similar problems. Great strides have been taken, especially in surgical correction of many of many of these problems, but the major questions are still to be answered. And they can only be approached by continued research throughout the world, research to which every person must contribute, either in voluntary fund drives of this kind, or through tax dollars, allotted to the National Heart Institute.

It is hoped that everyone will make a generous contribution to the Heart Fund Volunteer who stops at your home this Sunday afternoon. If you are not personally solicited, your gift will be gratefully accepted by mail, addressed to Heart, care of your local postmaster.

Mr. McKinley has been very active in the organization. He has been on the board of directors for the past 7 years, and was elected president last year.

Learning The Hard Way

Eight Mentone school boys are, the past few days, finding out that what might have seemed to be fun—or sport—can make one feel very small indeed. Sheriff Holbrook, school officials and parents have been asking some very embarrassing questions and there just aren't any logical answers.

The questioning is the result of an auto hub cap stealing program that may have been going on for some time, but specifically at a basketball game at the Beaver Dam school some time ago.

The boys are under closer supervision by their parents, and some have been given more disciplinary treatment by the officers and school officials.

Mentone
Basketball

As Reported by Larry Teel

After jumping to a commanding 17-4 lead the Mentone Bulldogs coasted to an easy 79-44 victory over the Beaver Dam Beavers. Only once did the Beavers threaten, at the close of the first half, the Bulldogs' lead was cut to six points, 29-23 but a desperation shot as the gun sounded and 2 free throws after the gun put the local five into a ten point half time bulge.

The Bulldogs put forth a fine team effort to gain their 15th victory against only 4 set backs.

AX FACTS #4

Deductions That Cut Your Tax Bill

(This is one of a series of articles on federal income tax filing. The articles are based on information provided by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants and the Indiana Society of Certified Public Accountants, in cooperation with the Internal Revenue Service.)

THE big question facing the small taxpayer at this time is whether to itemize deductions or take the standard deduction.

Before you give up and file a "short" form, take the time to add up the family expenses that could be deducted. If the deductions that could be itemized total more than 10 per cent of your adjusted gross income, it will pay you to file a "long" Form 1040.

Here is a list of the more important items to watch for while you compile the list of family deductions:

Interest on Loans — The interest you paid on loans is deductible. This includes any mortgage, automobile, appliance, home improvement or personal loans you may have had. Interest on installment purchases is also deductible. Evidence, such as a statement from the seller, should be obtained to show the amount of interest that you paid during the year.

State and Local Taxes — Most taxes, other than federal taxes, are deductible. These include, state and local real estate, personal property, income, retail sales, gasoline and poll taxes. You can deduct auto license fees, but not auto inspection fees. If you don't have an exact record of some of these taxes, you can make a reasonable estimate.

Charitable Contributions — Gifts to charitable, religious, educational, scientific or literary organizations are deductible. Generally, these contributions are deductible up to 20 per cent (in some cases 30 per cent) of your adjusted gross income. In adding up your donations, don't overlook the old clothes, toys, books or furniture you may have contributed to a local charity or church. The fair market value of these gifts is deductible.

Medical and Dental Expenses

—Unless you or your wife has reached the age of 65, your medical expenses are deductible only to the extent that they exceed 3 per cent of your adjusted gross income. Include in your medical deduction the cost of doctor, nursing, dentist's X-rays, and hospital services. You may also deduct premiums for health, accident and medical insurance.

Casualty Losses — You are entitled to deduct your uninsured home losses from fire, theft or storm. Damage to an automobile is deductible if the accident was due to faulty driving but not negligence on your part.

Child Care Expenses — Widowed, divorced or legally separated taxpayers, and in some cases any taxpayer, who must pay for the care of a dependent while they work can deduct up to $600 of this expense. Check carefully the requirements in the official instruction book before claiming a "baby-sitter" deduction.

Miscellaneous Deductions — If you had certain expenses in connection with your employment (other than travel and reimbursed expenses), you may claim them as miscellaneous deductions. Examples would be tools, uniforms, union dues and employment agency fees. "Periodic" alimony or separate maintenance payments ordered by the court are also deductible under this heading.

SUNDAY PAPERS by OLSEN—Chicago, Indianapolis

1959 Legume, Grass Seed Supplies

Kenland red clover is the only named variety recommended for planting in Indiana, Keller E. Beeson, veteran Purdue University extension agronomist reports.

With a short supply of Indiana-grown red clover seed, 1959 may be a good year to use Kenland, which has been outstanding in recent Purdue tests, he says.

For "native" red clover sources, the agronomist, advised farmers "to stay as close to home as possible." Indiana and Ohio harvests were smaller in 1958.

Supplies of certified seed of Evergreen (white blossom) and Madrid (yellow blossom) sweet clover are not large. Both varieties perform well in Indiana.

Supplies of certified Ladino clover seed for 1959 are large enough for farmers to purchase only certified seed. Certified seed, which insures trueness to variety, costs little, if any, more than common seed.

Certified broad-leaved varieties of Birdsfoot trefoil, including Empire and Viking, are highly satisfactory for Indiana. They also are more favorably priced this year.

Very little timothy seed of certified named varieties is available and none of these has proved superior under Indiana growing conditions, Beeson says.

Supplies of smooth brome are large. Achenbach and Lincoln are recommended. This grass should be used extensively in grass-legume mixtures.

The over-all supply of Sudan grass seed is adequate. As certified seed of the new superior Greenleaf variety becomes more plentiful, it should replace Piper and Sweet.

Either Kentucky No. 31 or Alta fescue may be used with similar performance under Indiana conditions. It makes valuable winter pasture in southern Indiana.

IN JUSTICE COURT

Lloyd Richey, of near Rochester, was fined one dollar and costs, amounting to $16.75, on a plea of guilty, in the court of Justice of Peace C. O. Eller, to a charge of pulling a trailer on the highway without proper license on Saturday, February, 14, 1959.

The charges were preferred by State Policeman Herschel Harper.

An affidavit filed by Town Marshal Edward Davis, Robert Holloway, of Mentone, entered a plea of guilty, in the court of Justice of Peace C. O. Eller, to a charge of illegal parking an automobile, on Saturday, February, 14, 1959. A fine of one dollar and costs, totalling $15.00 was assessed and paid.

Cleaning oil and dirt accumulations from your tractor engine will help it start easier. This job can be done when the tractor is in the shop for an oil change, suggest Purdue University agricultural engineers.

Rear-View Tractor Mirror

A rear-view mirror on a farm tractor is a good safety device, says F. R. Willsey, Purdue University farm safety specialist.

Some Indiana farmers have already found this to be a very satisfactory aid to safety in the field as well as on the highway.

Rear-view mirrors enable the farmer to keep his attention on the road ahead and at the same time make it practical for him to view traffic approaching from the rear.

The advantage is similar where operations are concerned. The tractor operator can keep a constant check on pulled equipment without interfering with steering operations.

Additional highway protection can be obtained by mounting a warning flag on the vehicle eight to ten feet above the ground level. The flag should be about 15 inches sq.

This warning flag makes an approaching motorist aware of a tractor's presence in plenty of time to slow down. The flag is especially important when the tractor is just over the crest of a hill. Willsey points out that car drivers must compensate for tractors just as they would if they were coming upon a car parked in the line of traffic.

To promote safety on the highway, he adds, both tractor operators and car drivers must show mutual respect. If both follow the rules of the road, each will know what to expect from the other.

The seed of pumpkin and squash is good food for the winter birds, remind Purdue University horticulturists. The seed should be clean and dry before it is placed in the bird feeder.

Purdue University agronomists recommend broadcasting legume seeds on frozen wheat fields in late February or early March. Freezing and thawing will help work the seeds into the ground as well as fracture hard seed coats, making better germination when growing weather arrives.

Always pull completely off the highway when you stop to change a tire, says the Motor Club. If there isn't enough room on the shoulder, move on slowly. It's better to ruin a tire than lose a life. At night use a flare or flashlight to warn approaching traffic.

HAM AND BEAN SUPPER A SUCCESSFUL FAILURE

The Mentone P. T. A. is not sure who threw the bottle of red ink last Saturday night but when the evening's receipts were tallied up the inventory sheet looked like a used blotter from a ketchup factory.

What failed to jell is problematic but it is obvious that baked ham and beans along with an addition to the school library was not a popular dish. By seven p. m. it was apparent to the committee that their hopes of a successful endeavor on behalf of the school was to end little short of disastrous.

However the supper committee wishes to thank all those who attended and partook of the food which incidentally, was delicious. Also all those who worked so religiously to make it possible. This we can say without fear of contradiction, knowing it was Rev. Persons and his wife who headed the

Silage Can Replace Hay

What can a dairyman short on good quality hay this winter do to maintain production?

G. A. Williams, Purdue University extension dairyman, says there are several solutions. For instance, if the silage supply is large enough, silage can be used to replace hay.

Three tons of silage are equal to a ton of hay in feeding value.

Feeding trials at Michigan State University showed that there was little production variation between two groups of cows receiving all-hay and all silage rations. Then the groups were reversed. Those that had all silage ate about one-third more dry matter on the all-hay ration and gained in liveweight.

Williams says other trials indicate that some hay feed with silage produces better results than if one kind of roughage is fed by itself.

Dairymen who have hay damaged by weather or late cutting can dilute molasses with water at the rate of equal parts by weight water and molasses. Four or five pounds of this mixture can be poured on the hay daily.

The proportion of concentrates in the ration can be increased. But, Williams points out, this boosts production costs.

The dairyman can, of course, buy hay. The quality of much of the supply available locally may be inferior. Hay shipped in from outside sources is costly.

An attempt can be made to "stretch" the available supply. Williams says this not only reduces the dairyman's income, but often causes the cows to lose weight which cannot be recovered until the herd is turned on pasture next spring.

If production records are kept, "loafers" can be eliminated from the herd.

The dairy cow is essentially an efficient user of quality roughages. When the supply is limited or the hay of inferior quality, no method will completely make up the difference, Williams asserts.

Mentone
Basketball

As Reported by Larry Teel

In their final game before the sectional tourney the Mentone Bulldogs tasted their fifth defeat of the season as they lost a thrilling 63-61 decision to the Manchester Squires on the victor's court.

Manchester jumped to a 15-12 lead at the end of the first quarter but dropped behind at the half, 35-33.

The close of the third stanza found the hosts on top once again, this time by a 46-44 score.

With only seconds remaining in the game and the score knotted at 61-61, Jerry Flinn, sophomore guard for the Squires was fouled as he drove for the basket. After a heated discussion the officials awarded the boy two foul shots. He made both for the resulting total.

It was a tough game to lose but it and the previous 19 games were for the sole purpose of preparing our forces for the sectional tourney which is in full swing by this time.

I realize that our team will have a tough row to hoe in order to win the tourney, but I, as well as the community, feel that if the team goes into the tourney with the idea of winning and make up their minds to play the type of ball we know them to be capable of we can claim another sectional crown.

Minerals For Poultry

Lafayette, Ind.—Chicks, laying hens and turkeys require about 15 different minerals. However, in poultry rations only about six of them need special attention, according to Roy E. Roberts, Purdue University extension poultry man. The others are supplied in adequate amounts by the feed stuff commonly used in poultry rations.

Roberts says the six minerals which usually must be added to poultry rations are calcium, phosphorus, sodium, chlorine, manganese and perhaps iodine.

The ration for growing chicks must contain enough calcium and phosphorus, along with sufficient vitamin D, to prevent rickets or soft bones. Roberts warns that too much of these minerals should not be added to the ration because an excess may cause a leg disorder known as slipped tendon or perosis. Safe levels are from 1 to 1.5 percent of calcium and 0.7 to 1 percent of phosphorus.

Formerly, when 10 percent or more animal products, such as meat and bone scraps, were used in poultry rations no addition of calcium and phosphorus was necessary because these animal products contained 25 to 30 percent of minerals.

At present, with soybean oil meal, which is low in minerals, replacing a large part or all of the animal products it is necessary to add other sources of calcium and phosphorus, Roberts explains. Common sources of calcium and phosphorus are steamed bone meal, dicalcium phosphate and defluorinated phosphate. For calcium alone, high calcium limestone, 95 percent calcium carbonate, is the most common and cheapest source.

The phosphorus requirement of laying hens is similar to that for chicks, but layers need more calcium for making egg shells. The general practice has been to furnish this additional calcium by feeding oyster shells of a high quality limestone grit free-choice along with the regular laying ration. More recently a larger proportion of the calcium is being mixed in the ration. In some cases all of the calcium is put in the feed. Such rations contain 2.25 to 2.50 percent of calcium. To supply this level of calcium with rations containing no animal products as much as 100 pounds of ground limestone may be needed per ton of feed. High calcium limestone contains only about 38 percent of calcium.

Sodium and chlorine are supplied by common salt. It is common practice to include about .5 percent of salt in the total ration. If iodine is needed, iodized salt is used.

Manganese helps to prevent slipped tendons in growing chicks and turkeys, is essential for good hatchability and also helps to make strong egg shells. It is usually supplied by adding one-half to one pound of manganese sulfate per ton of feed.

Planted by More Farmers for 19 Years Than Any Other Corn

Profitable Use Of Fungicides

Successful farmers know that fungicides are just as important for profitable crop production as fertilizers, weed killers and improved varieties, says Eric Sharvelle, Purdue University plant pathologist.

Sharvelle calls these fungicides "insurance against crop losses due to plant diseases from the seed bed to the supermarket."

Plant diseases result in millions of dollars of losses each year. Many of these losses occur either because fungicides were not used or because they were used after plants were already diseased.

"Using fungicides at the right time prevents diseases from damaging crops and thus serves as insurance against loss," Sharvelle says. But, more important, he adds, "the resulting higher yield and improved quality pay dividends of more efficient use of labor, machinery, seed and fertilizer."

Seed treated with fungicides germinate better and produce healthier plants, he continues. Plants treated with fungicides at the proper times remain healthy and grow to maturity. Untreated plants often die or are so severely damaged that their quality is lowered. Fungicides also protect perishable fruits and vegetables in storage and transit and at the market outlet, he adds.

More farmers than ever before are using chemically treated seeds and make sure that they have enough fungicides on hand for regular spraying while the crops are growing, Sharvelle asserts.

Some Seed Testing Low

Soybean and oats germination tests at the State seed testing laboratory at Purdue University emphasize that farmers should have seed tested, A. S. Carter, director of seed control, reports.

Seed oats should germinate higher than 90 percent and soybean seed above 80 percent if seed of this quality is available. Carter points out that only 57 percent of the oats and 50 percent of the beans tested at the laboratory thus far have met these standards.

The seed testing laboratory is not as busy as usual this spring and reports of tests can be supplied promptly if the samples are submitted now, Carter says.

County agricultural agents have heavy envelopes for use in mailing samples as well as instructions for drawing samples and identifying them.

Carter stresses that samples should be representative of the seed, should be large enough to test (at least a pint) and should be carefully identified and addressed to the State Seed testing laboratory, Biochemistry building, Purdue University, Lafayette.

$28 Million In Broilers

Indiana commercial broiler growers grossed $28,708,000 from sale of their product in 1958, according to state-federal agricultural statisticians at Purdue University. This represented a seven percent increase over 1957 gross income.

Prices received—an average of 18.8 cents a pound liveweight—were about a half cent less than in 1957. But production in Indiana, totaling 444,912,000 birds, rose six percent over the 1957 total. The average weight per bird sold was 3.4 pounds—one tenth of a pound more than in 1956 and 1957.

The statisticians said Indiana ranked twelfth among the 22 important broiler producing states. Georgia led the country in broiler production last year.

Time To Order Trees

The State nurseries again have available this year more than four and a half million seedlings for sale at cost to private landowners. This is the same number shipped and planted on private land in Indiana in 1958.

Undoubtedly you have land on your farm that should be planted to trees but you just haven't gotten around to planting them. If so, here's a chance you shouldn't pass up.

E. J. Lott, Purdue University extension forester, says that with the tree planting season near—it usually begins in mid-March—now is the time to order trees. They are available in lots of 50 or more of any one species to persons whose primary purpose of planting is timber production, windbreaks, erosion control or Christmas trees.

If you live south of U. S. 40, nurseries can supply white, shortleaf or Virginia pine and black locust, among others. Especially good in northern Indiana are such species as red, white and jack pine and tulip poplar. Scotch pine seedlings are also available for the Christmas tree grower.

To get the nursery stock application and other information you'll need to purchase the trees, contact your county agent, the forestry extension office at Purdue or write to the Division of Forestry, 311 W. Washington St., Indianapolis.

For additional data on where and how to plant trees, ask the county agent for these: Extension Mimeo F-38, "Ten Pointers on Tree Windbreaks," and Station Circular 306, "Trees for Reforestation in Indiana."

The Motor Club warns drivers that cold weather boosts the dangers of carbon monoxide poisoning. Not only is carbon monoxide deadly when taken in large enough doses, but small doses can slow a driver's reactions and cause him to have an accident. Make certain your car's exhaust system has no leaks; always open ALL garage doors before starting your engine, and NEVER drive with all windows completely closed.

BAPTIST MISSIONARY LADIES MEET

Mrs. Everett Besson was hostess to the Be About missionary group of the First Baptist church in Mentone, Monday evening, February 23.

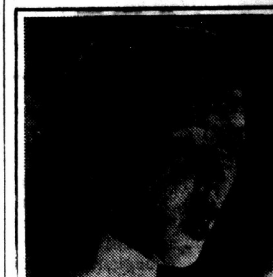

The meeting was opened by group singing. Mrs. Kenneth Romine presided over the business meeting. Two letters from foreign missionaries were read, one from Dr. Jon Rouch of Africa and Miss Lova Bush, of India. Devotions and prayer were given by Mrs. Romine.

The remainder of the evening was spent rolling bandages and sewing baby jackets to be sent to missionaries. Refreshments were served to the eighteen ladies present. The March meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Wayne Bowser.

Has Canvass

The Methodist Church of Mentone is conducting a "simultaneous" Every Member Canvass with about 20 other churches throughout the Warsaw District. The purpose of this canvass is to underwrite the church's budget with pledges from members and friends. The program was launched last Sunday morning with the announcement in the church bulletin of the General Committee. Local members are: David Cooper, General Chairman; Gene Marshall, Chairman of Program and Resources; Jerry Hudson, Chairman of Materials, Education and Publicity; Joe Boggs, Chairman of Visitation. Other members are: the Pastor, Mott O. Bryan, Lay Leader; Gene Sarber Chairman of The Official Board; Harold Utter, Chairman of the Commission on Stewardship and Finance and Trainer of Visitors. These leaders will select additional committee personnel from time to time to execute the program. The "visitation-phase" in the homes of members and friends will take place April 12-19.

Mentone Lumber Company Adds Another Customer Service

The Berger Steel Company of Lafayette, Indiana, has given to the Mentone Lumber Company a Dealer Franchise for the exclusive sale of their "ECONO-SPAN" steel frames in Kosciusko, Marshall and Fulton counties.

In a growing America, the need for low-cost, easily-erected buildings becomes greater every day. To meet this need, Econo-Span Steel Frames were designed and fabricated.

Econo-Span Steel Frames are made of structural steel, welded into an open web design that saves weight without sacrificing strength or rigidity. Each frame comes in four light-weight sections which bolt together on the job for simple erection. Each frame provides a clear floor space from wall to wall and any number of standard frames may be used (there is 12 feet between spans) to make a building of the desired length.

The frames come to you through the Mentone Lumber Co. and may be obtained in widths of 30, 40 or 50 feet, and wall heights of 10, 12, and 15 feet. Econo-Span Steel Frames are factory punched for attachment of wooden side wall members and welded joist clips are factory punched for roof members. Galvanized roofing and siding, plus the wooden framing, can be obtained at the Mentone Lumber Co.

The Mentone Lumber Co. also can supply the windows and doors to make your Econo-Span Steel Framed building exactly meet your needs. It has been estimated carefully that all materials for the complete building (above foundation level) can be obtained for $1.00 to $1.25 per square foot of floor space. No matter how small or how large a building you need, erection can be handled by two or three men without use of special tools.

There is no limit to the flexibility of Econo-Span Steel Frames. Frames may be placed side by side for increased width and any length is possible. Special buildings are available upon request and a full staff of qualified engineers is at your service at no cost or obligation.

No building is stronger than its frame. Let your next building have a real frame, an Econo-Span Steel Frame. Let your building have a backbone of steel and still be flexible enough to be built to your needs with standard materials right from The Mentone Lumber Co.

Econo-Span steel frames are practical for factory buildings, airplane hangers, retail outlets, stock shelters, roller rinks, chicken houses and other farm buildings, garages, and storage buildings.

KimberCHIKS

Your Neighbor Has Manwaring Kimberchiks K137

Let us tell you more about

1. Early large eggs
2. Outstanding livability
3. High percentage Grade AA eggs and how to make more money with your chickens.

K-137 is not a static cross. Random Sample Test for the three past years show the number of eggs per pullet housed went up from 264 to 282. Livability improved from 92.8% to 94.4%. K-137 Kimberchiks for 1959 represent one more year of advancement in an unending series of genetic improvements. This should help confirm the sound judgment of commercial poultrymen who buy their chicks today according to the breeding program that produced them, rather than upon past performance alone.
