Charge card system ready to begin here

This is a sample of the Town and Country charge card which is now being issued to residents of Kosciusko County. All banks in the county will participate in this new system.

The first step towards what may eventually be a checkless, cashless society will begin in Mentone this month when the new Town and Country charge card program is begun.

All banks in Kosciusko county are participating in the program, and cards are being issued to local residents right now.

The Town and Country Charge Card Program provides the card holder with a convenient means of charging retail purchases throughout the business community and receiving a monthly bill. If the card holder pays within 25 days after billing, no service charge is incurred. However, if he so elects, he may place the bill on a revolving charge basis for up to 20 months for which a service charge of 1 1/2% a month is made.

The operation of the plan is described as very simple by the Town and Country group. The card holder makes a purchase at the store by giving the merchant his charge card, which is run through an imprinter. In addition, the card holder signs the sales slip. The merchant makes a non-recourse sale if he 1. checks that the signature on the back of the card is similar to the signature on the sales slip 2. notes the card has not expired 3. observes the floor limits and 4. checks the "hot card" list. At the end of each day the merchant runs a total of the accumulated sales slips and deposits them at the bank. The bank forwards the slips to Town and Country which credits the bank's account and bills the card holder on a monthly basis. The customer pays his bill by remitting to a lock box in Chicago.

Floor limits are a method of providing some credit control. It means that any purchase made from a merchant in excess of the amount shown on the schedule in the kit must be authorized by the Town and Country authorization center or whoever issued the card. The of these cards may use them merchant simply phones the authorization center and in less than a minute the sale will be approved or disapproved. The joint "hot card" list consists of those cards issued by all members of Midwest Bank Card which have been fraudulently used. Town and Country will pay anyone picking up Town and Country "hot cards" $50.00.

Any holder of a Midwest Bank Card of which Town and Country is a member, may borrow a minimum of $50 and a maximum of $100 from a member bank by presenting his card. Other members of Midwest Bank Card include Charge-It and First Card. Holders of any with any merchant who is signed up with any member of Midwest Bank. For instance, the holder of a Charge-It card could make a purchase from a town and Country merchant and vice versa.

An advantage of the plan which has been pointed out to merchants is that it relieves them of the credit and collection problems and gives them more time for selling.

Walter Nielson, representing Harris Trust and Savings Bank of Chicago, recently addressed No. Manchester businessmen at the start of that community's Charge-It program, and he said that it is only a question of time until the program is in operation. Cont. on back page

What the Daughters do

The threefold purpose of the NSDAR remains the same today as when the Society was organized in 1890 and chartered by Act of Congress in 1895—historical, educational, and patriotic.

These purposes were promoted through National, State and Chapter Committees. The major part of their work relates to education, either the youth or the adult.

The NSDAR is classified as an educational, nonprofit organization, because the fundamental aim of the DAR is to promote good citizenship through the fields of education.

The Anthony Nigo Chapter of Mentone have participated in the NSDAR objectives in many ways.

Historical: Early in 1934 several ladies of the Mentone community were interested in organizing a DAR chapter. After several meetings, talks with State officers, and unlimited record searching the chapter held its first organization meeting on January 21, 1935 in the home of Mrs. Edna Burns who had been appointed organizing Regent for the chapter. The chapter was named "Anthony Nigo" after a well known Indian living in Kosciusko County prior to 1828. His Indian name was Ottawa Onago. His father was a Potawatomi and his mother a Miami. He is buried in a cemetery west and north of Plymouth.

The chapter scrapbook is a living history of the events our local chapter has participated in and been responsible for in the community.

The National Society maintains important facilities at its National Headquarters Washington, D.C., which are open daily to the public:

An American Museum, with 28 period rooms, furnishings predating 1830.

An Americana Collection of historical documents pertaining to the American Revolution.

A Genealogical Reference Library founded in 1896, with a highly specialized collection of some 56,000 books, pamphlets, and microfilm on American history genealogy and biography.

Educational: The Mentone chapter sponsors local awards for the DAR Good Citizen (Senior High School Girl), History Essay Contest for Jr. High and the DAR Good Citizenship award (Jr. High School).

Many chapters sponsor Junior Achievement clubs. The NSDAR has a new National History Scholarship fund and maintains 2 schools; Kate Duncan Smith at Grant, Alabama and Tamassee DAR School at Tamassee, South Carolina.

Patriotic: Last June the local chapter presented the new town hall with a flag and flag pole. The chapter in larger cities will assist people who are interested in becoming American citizens. The aims and objectives of the Daughters are Historic Preservation, Promotion of Education and Patriotic Endeavor. These are the objectives for which the National Society was organized and upon which its program is based today.

Teaches Phonetics

BANGKOK, Thailand.—U.S. Air Force Airman First Class Larry A. Smith of Indianapolis, is taking part in the President's People to People program by helping to teach English phonetics to Thai students in Korat, Thailand.

Airman Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Smith of 4937 Camden St., Indianapolis, serves as an administrative specialist with Air Force advisory personnel who support aerospace defense and training activities—closely coordinated with the Royal Thai Air Force.

As a volunteer instructor, the airman assists local Thai school staffs with their English language training. He works with the children an hour daily, two days each week.

Smith also teaches the students songs and simple word games to add to their interest in learning. Most of the volunteer instructors have had little teaching experience, but consider the goodwill participation "a wonderful experience."

The airman, a graduate of Southport High School, attended Indiana University.

His wife, Lynn, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Lackey of 1014 E. Main, Warsaw, Ind.

Maple Syrup, Butchering, Mobile Homes Share Billing With Basketball In Indiana

INDIANAPOLIS, IND.—February in Indiana offers a variety of events headed by the Parke County Maple Fair at Rockville and "Hoosier Hysteria," reports the Tourist Division of the Indiana Department of Commerce.

Events also include a mammoth Home Show and a Custom Auto Show in Indianapolis, several outstanding art shows, a Travel Trailer Show at Fort Wayne, and sheep dog trials and a horse show at Bass Lake.

Perhaps the outstanding Hoosier festival at this season of the year is the Maple Fair held over the week-ends of Feb. 25-26 and Mar. 4-5 at Rockville. Everybody dresses warmly in old clothes and high boots for tours of modern and old-fashioned sugar camps. There are hot cokes and maple syrup for the festival breakfast and a smorgasbord called "The Hog Hangs High," from 6-8 p.m. Saturdays. Add activities such as hog butchering, sheep shearing, a handicraft show and market for country products for a "Turn of the Century" good time.

High School basketball sectionals begin February 23 throughout the state, and nearly everything stops for this. "Hoosier Hysteria" is the king of sport in Indiana, and a half million persons will attend the games.

the scheduled events is that of Porte. (Snow-making machines the Sheep Dog Trails at Bass Lake in the indoor arena of the Horse Palace at Lightning Dude Ranch on Sunday, Feb. 5 at 1 p.m. (CST). The event, sponsored by the Midwest Stock Dog Association, is expected to attract border collie owners from Indiana, and Ohio. It is exciting to watch these collies work as the owner commands him verbally, with whistle, hand signals, or a combination. Fifty head of sheep will be used at the trials.

One of Indiana's top art shows, the Hoosier Salon in the William H. Block Company Auditorium in Indianapolis, is scheduled from Jan. 30 through Feb. 11. Later, from Feb. 25-27, the Wabash Valley Association, Inc., will present the first annual Wabash River Basin Art Exhibition at the French Lick Sheraton Hotel in French Lick. All the art in this juried show will pertain to the Wabash River Basin in Indiana and Illinois.

A Travel Trailer Show is scheduled Feb. 11-19 in the Coliseum at Fort Wayne. Two outstanding events at the State Fairgrounds in Indianapolis will be the Home Show Feb. 3-12 with a newly-designed home, completely furnished and landscaped, as the center of attraction in the Manufacturers Building, and the Custom Auto Feb. 17-19 which will feature the most advanced autos.

The Farm Bureau women have an excellent program for their annual conference at the Murat in Indianapolis Feb. 14-15, and there's a Hoosier Spring Barrow Show in the Swine Barn at the Fairgrounds Feb. 18-23.

Check on the weather for skiing at Indiana's three ski resorts in the north, Mt. Wawasee at New Paris, The Pines at Valparaiso, and Ski Valley at La-Porte. (Snow-making machines work when the temperature is around freezing.) And Pokagon State Park has all kinds of winter activities, including those fast toboggan rides!

Concerts, shows, and activities on college campuses are many. And it is a good time to visit museums, including Indiana's newest, the State Museum in Indianapolis which is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tues. through Friday.

The 95th Indiana General Assembly now in session in the State House draws tourists by the thousands, including groups of school children from throughout the state, who pick this time of the year to tour the State House—including the newly-decorated House of Representatives.

Parson Jones Speaks

Dear Mr. Publisher

I got a letter the other day from ole Ezekiah. He's still farming as usual. Only thing is, he's worried about how this years crops are gonna turn out with God going dead. Ezekiah allowed as how things were hard enough when him and the Lord worked together. Now that God has passed on, he's afraid he's gonna have to do all the work himself. I wrote and told him not to worry that the U. S. government would probably step in and fill the gap left by the Creator's untimely death.

According to what I been reading Mr. Publisher, lotsa folks are going along with the "God is dead" movement. Fact is, we got one fella in church that says we oughta stop praying til we find out for sure theres somebody occupying the heavenly headquarters. He's afraid all them unanswered prayers floating around in space might hinder our travel to the moon.

I'm still kinda puzzled over this hole mess. It looks like some a these professors are trying to put us preachers out of a job. I decided I better study this 'natter a little deeper, so I got that book, "The Death of God" by professor Altizer and read it through a couple times. The only thing I can say Mr. Publisher, if God did die I know what done it - He read Altizer's book and it bored him to death. All them people who claim the Bible don't make sense oughta read this fella's book. It makes about as much sense as reading the phone book. He reminds me of a preacher I knew one time, who could take a simple text from the Bible and confuse the hole issue. I'm shore glad Altizer didn't write a book on "God is alive", cause it would stir up a lotta doubts.

It's mighty funny how our Lord come all the way from heaven to explain things kind of simple to us simple folks and then these professors come along muddying up the water.

Well Mr. Publisher, I'm gonna have to sign off now and work on my sermon for Sunday. My little talk will be entitled; "How to Speak Without Saying Anything". If you get a chance bring the family and come hear it. In the mean time, maybe you'd better put rubber bands on your garden plants to pull 'em up just in case Altizer is right. It might be a good idea to buy a supply of always-ready flashlight batteries just in case the sun don't come up. One other thing; be sure and tie a few bricks to your feed just in case our gravity peters out and we all float into outer space and get clobbered to death by prayers. See you in the nut house. It seems the only safe place left.

Yours truly,

Parson Jones

The sign of good things to come for our customers.

This is the symbol of a brand new service soon available to local merchants, and to our personal banking customers.

It represents our affiliation with the Midwest's largest charge card system.

The Town and Country card is carried by more shoppers, supported by more merchants, issued by more banks than any other charge card in the world.

For merchants, Town and Country offers major benefits. A substantial increase in sales and profits. Elimination of bookkeeping, credit, and collection problems. Immediate cash for all sales. Increased customer goodwill. Support from a continuing merchandising program.

Our personal banking customers will be issued, at no cost, cards bearing the name of our bank. Town and Country will set up an automatic charge account at almost all retail stores. One bill each month for all charge purchases will simplify the card holder's record-keeping and help him manage his money wisely.

Watch for more detail about Town and Country charge cards.

Strippers Aid

Hoosier Economy

INDIANAPOLIS — Stripper wells — those tired, old oil wells which cannot pump more than 10 barrels a day — account for 100 per cent of the crude oil produced in Indiana.

"Although the daily average production per well is only seven barrels, the 4,332 stripper wells in the state produced a total of 11,005,812 barrels in 1965, according to David R. Davis, executive secretary of the Indiana Petroleum Council.

National, he said, the 398,000 stripper wells in the U. S. pump one-fifth of the total domestic crude oil output, and comprise one-fifth of U. S. proved petroleum reserves. "This fact, he added, "dramatizes further the important role that these wells will play in providing energy for the nation in the years ahead."

Librarian Reports Increase In Reading In 1966

The Trustees of the Bell Memorial Public Library met Monday night at the Library for their January meeting. After the usual business meeting, the Librarian presented the following annual report: 1965-1966.

Borrowers registered at end of year 1457, 1696; Books in Library at end of year by actual invoice 18,913, 18,989; Circulation and use of books 37,704, 40,931; Total receipts including Balance first of year $9,492.28, $10,347.14; Total expenditures for year 6,988.71, 7,199.78; Balance at end of year 2,503.57, 3,147.36; Improvement Reserve Fund at end of Year 1,200, 1,700.

These records show a gain over the 1965 records in all departments. Even with the increased work load and this year's decreased budget for Assistants of 400 hours, the Library work has been well done and kept up to date due to the efficient work of the Staff. We feel we have had a very satisfactory year.

Signed Pearl Lackey,
Librarian

The Library Board members present, Mr. Robert Jones, Mrs. Tom Fugate, Mrs. Robert Whetstone, Mr. Kenneth Romine, Mr. William Ettinger and Mrs. Iris Anderson, accepted the report as given and voted to express their thanks and appreciation of their efforts to the entire staff: Mrs. Walter Lackey, Mrs. David Bowser, Miss Susie Tibbets, Miss Ann Rush, Miss Rhonda Yazel and to Mrs. Dove Kercher, Library caretaker. One member of the Board, Mrs. Ora McKinley, was not able to be present.

We have recently received two books for which we have had requests: How to avoid Probate, by Norman Dacey, and Greentown Glass, by Ruth Herrick.

making knowledge and attitude examination for senior girls, became Mentone's 1967 Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow.

Complaints Beseige Town Board At Monday Night's Meeting

A barrage of unofficial complaints made to town board members concerning town marshal Gene Norton prompted the board's decision Monday night to vote on the complaints only if they are brought formally before the board.

This action resulted after some discussion of the duties of the marshal. Some individuals felt he was not on duty at the times they thought he should be, and it was pointed out by board members that Norton is on duty 24 hours per day with most of the schedule being at night. Norton works on a staggered schedule as well as doing janitorial duties at the town hall.

Another complaint made concerned snow removal with some citizens suggesting the town plan for emergencies so that the work can be done more quickly and in a more adequate manner. The general complaint was that most citizens have to work out of town and need the streets clear to be able to get to work.

The board voted, in further action, to transfer funds from the old street fund account to the general fund. Street funds now come from the motor vehicle tax.

The remainder of the meeting was spent in general discussion of the town's plans for sewage facilities.

OES Observes Friends Night

The Mentone chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star met recently in the Masonic Hall to observe Friends Night. The visiting matron was from Leesburg and the visiting patron was from No. Liberty. Guests of the other officers came from Bourbon, Akron, Warsaw, and Pierceton. Some of the invited guests were unable to attend due to weather conditions.

The Worthy Matron, Cara Lyn Tucker, read an appropriate poem, "Snow Scene," and extended a warm welcome to each guest.

The officers introduced their guests and expressed a thought on the value of friends and then formed a "link" in the Golden Chain of Friendship around the altar. The circle was completed with singing of "Blest be the Tide that binds."

The guests were then invited to the dining room which was beautifully decorated in keeping with Valentine's Day. The refreshments committee consisted of Isabelle Peterson, Otis Walburn, Esther Markley, and Reatha Ballenger.

The evening ended with the members and guests playing Dirty Bingo. A good time was enjoyed and friendships were gained and renewed.

Get Instructor Rating In ECPR

Several local men have completed a course of study conducted by the Kosciusko County Heart Association and have received their instructor ratings in ECPR, External Cardiac Pulmonary Resuscitation.

ECPR is a new technique of external heart message in combination with mouth-to-mouth respiration and is used in cases of cardiac arrest, caused by heart attack, drowning, suffocation, electrocution, etc.

The local men who received their instructor ratings include Darrell King, Lyman Mollenhour, Milo Fawley, George Deaton, Bourbon; and Chauncey Tucker, Claypool.

The newly trained instructors will conduct ECPR demonstrations before civic groups and other organizations to acquaint the public with the technique when they see it performed. It is recommended that everyone try to see such a demonstration to enable him to understand what is going on when he first sees such an application being made. The procedure is termed startling by those viewing its use for the first time.

Conservation Officers Trainees Sought

Applications for the 1967 Indiana State Conservation Officers Training School are now being received by the Indiana Department of Natural Resources.

The school will be held at a State Park inn in early spring. However, a deadline has been set requiring that applications be mailed before midnight, March 15. Applications blanks and details are available at 605 State Office Building, Indianapolis, Indiana 46209.

To be eligible for the school, a candidate must be a United States citizen and a legal resident of Indiana for at least one year. He must not be less than 21 years of age as of March 1, 1967, nor have reached his 31st birthday as of March 1, 1967.

The candidate must be at least 5 feet 9 inches tall and weigh at least 150 pounds, with weight in proportion to height and age as prescribed by U.S. Army standards. He must be a high school graduate or have passed an Army General Educational Development Test. He also must possess a currently valid and unrestricted Indiana motor vehicle operator's license.

Applicants who meet these qualifications, it is explained by Conservation Officer Superintendent Barnard D. Leavitt, will be entitled to compete in an assembly competitive examination and are selected for attendance in the Training School on the basis of their relative grades made in this investigation, as well as on the report of physical examinations and character investigations.

Always store cakes with custard or cream filling in the refrigerator, suggest Extension food specialists at Purdue University.

The School Is Gone, But Not The Memory

The old Harrison Center School, above, which was located on a site east of the Harrison Center Church has disappeared from the scene, but its memory lingers on in the hearts and minds of its former students.

Faith escorted Becky Gast, junior past worthy advisor to sign the Bible as Lynn sang, "May You Always". She then was escorted to the east and presented a gift from the Assembly. Becky presented Druisilla with the Rainbow worthy advisor's pin to wear during her term.

Betty Jo Hauser presented the Majority Degree's to her sister Anna Sue and presented her a diploma and a silver Rainbow spoon.

Druisilla introduced her family and friends and thanked the members and her committees and installing officers. Her colors are yellow and brown and her flower the yellow rose.

Following remarks from the guests and the closing march, the guests were served cake, nuts, mints, punch and coffee from a table covered with brown net over yellow. Yellow candles in gold candelabra flanked a bowl of yellow and brown flowers. Sandra Weber, Allison Morgan and Denise served the guests.

Circus Day Was Perfect

Asked how the Shrine Circus was our third grader replied, "Just perfect," and it would seem that his remark pretty nearly sums up the feelings of the 1400 third graders from Kosciusko county schools, Tippecanoe, Bourbon and Akron schools who attended the circus in Ft. Wayne last Friday as guests of the Kosciusko County Shrine Club.

William Squires Dies At 75

William E. Squires, 75, a longtime resident of Fulton county in the Talma community, died at his home in Bourbon Sunday morning. He had been ill with a heart condition since December.

The son of John and Martha Camp Squires, he was born at Athens on April 5, 1891. He married Nellie E. Dillman on Oct. 18, 1916 and she preceded him death in 1962. He married Lottie Petty Fisher in 1965 and she survives.

Other survivors are a daughter, Mrs. Joseph Miller, Bourbon; a son, Robert E. Squires, Cleveland, Ohio; a sister, Mrs. Francis Domke, So. Bend; a stepson, Arnie Fisher, Denver; one grandson and three step-grandchildren.

Funeral services for Mr. Squires were conducted Wednesday afternoon in Rochester with Rev. D. L. Slaybaugh officiating. Burial was at Athens.

Parson Jones

Dear Mr. Publisher

I've got sad news for you—Big Slim's great uncle just passed away. His funeral was held in the chapel of the Ideal Funeral Home. He was a member of our congregation, so I guess you wonder why his funeral wasn't held at our church. To tell the honest truth the family has been mad at the preacher for a long time and has been putting a equal length of time. The family just figured they would get even with me by holding the funeral in the funeral home instead of the church. In the long run I don't reckon it made a hole lot of difference where it was held cause either way Slim's great uncle wound up at the same place—the cemetery.

Some day, Mr. Publisher, I'm gonna write a book on the ways church members try to punish the church. I remember one fella who cut off his money to the church to get even. I reckon this is what you call a "Christian" economic boycott. (And boy, if you don't believe this is effective just try missing a couple meals sometime.)

Then, I remember another who just stopped coming to church to get even. That ole adage, "Absence makes the heart grow fonder", just don't work in church. I remember one person in particular who claimed the reason she didn't come to church was because she couldn't stand crowds. She said her psychiatrist told her to stay out of social gathering for her health's sake. Her name incidentally was Miss Annie Social. She told me all about her trouble one day when I ran into her at the super market.

I know one fella who "got even with the preacher" by singing off-key during the service. Course the minister was right smart so he had the ushers to always seat women with squalling babies right next to him. The younguns always drowned him out.

One of the most get-even devices I know of though is for members to attend another church, and always make sure the word gets back to the preacher. This tactic is known as the "whittle him down to size" approach. A second cousin to this here method is the habit of always talking about how good the other minister they had before he come was.

Well, I reckon all these things come out in the end, Mr. Publisher—so it ain't no use to worry about 'em. I gotta be signing off for now cause its snowing out side. I'm gonna go out and stand in it a while—so's I can see something nice and clean for a change. Besides my littlest boy got a sled for Christmas and I want to try it out for him just to make sure its safe.

See you again when the thaw sets in.

Yours truly,
Parson Jones

Measles Aren't Funny

It's time to stop thinking of measles as a slightly humorous childhood disease, says the American Medical Association.

Many people don't realize two important things about measles:

First, it's a cripple and killer. Measles strikes millions of children, but the ones left with deafness or mental defects or encephalitis—or even the ones who die—seem to be forgotten by the public. Measles isn't at all a funny disease; it's one whose tragedy isn't fully realized.

Second, measles could be eliminated as a major health threat. Some medical officials believe it could be eradicated in this country within a year. There's no doubt that is should be. Several types of anti-measles vaccine are available. They are easily administered by your physician and have been proven safe and effective.

Measles-susceptible children can be immunized by their family's physician. The best time is when they are approximately one year old. Older susceptible children—those who have neither had measles nor been given measles vaccine—should be immunized as soon as possible, particularly if they are of school age.

In some communities, and in the states of Rhode Island and Delaware, measles has been practically eliminated by concerted, areawide immunization campaigns.

Such campaigns have been endorsed by the AMA's Council on Environmental and Public Health, but their organization requires the counsel of the local medical society and close cooperation by the community's civic, education, and health organizations. Local physicians are in a position to determine the best way to conduct an immunization campaign in this community.

The most important step is to ensure that your own children are protected from measles. If they have not been immunized, have it done now.

Compliments Due

Kenneth Mollenhour, Mentone, was profuse in his praise this week for the people responsible for cleaning Mentone's main street last Monday. Mr. Mollenhour and his wife and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hudson, Akron, returned from a two weeks' vacation in Florida on that day, and they first noticed snow at Indianapolis. Mr. Mollenhour reports that Mentone was the first town they encountered all the way north from Indianapolis that had its main streets clear, and he wants to compliment whoever was responsible.

Take your problems to Church this week -

Leave It To Love

Tender hands made sure by parental love, safety and guidance, growing with the child in size and strength. Yes, compassion is one of the noblest of virtues. When implanted in a child's mind and caused to develop by loving parents, along with strong hands and body, is more than likely to bring forth a strong, yet tender man or woman.

With the family attending church as a closely knit, loving group, emotional stability, mental stimulus and spiritual sustenance are provided. Church attendance will prove the family's strongest bond. As parents, give the above mentioned essentials and LEAVE THE REST TO LOVE.

Raymond Lash Is Heart Victim

Raymond P. Lash, 77, R. R. 1, Mentone, died unexpectedly at his home Friday morning. Death was attributed to a heart attack.

The son of Edmund Slanton and Emma Eckert Lash, he was born in the Harrison Center community on July 18, 1889. He married Zelda Blue on August 7, 1913, and she survives.

A retired farmer, Mr. Lash was prominent in local affairs, having served as a County Commissioner and Franklin Township trustee. He was a member of the Mentone Methodist Church, a Past Master and 50-year member of the Mentone Masonic Lodge, and a member of the Ft. Wayne Scottish rite. He was a teacher for 18 years in the Harrison and Franklin township schools. At the time of his death he was an agent for the Farmer's Mutual Relief Association.

Surviving with his wife are a son, Philip Lash, Mentone; two daughters, Mrs. Howard (Eleanor) Chamberlin, R. 1, Mentone, Mrs. Clarence (Ruth) Ellison, Rochester; a sister, Mrs. Hoy (Gladys) Meredith, R. 1, Etna Green; and four grandchildren. Three sisters preceded him in death.

Funeral services for Mr. Lash were conducted Monday afternoon in the King Memorial Home with Rev. Glenn Campton officiating. Burial was in the Harrison Center cemetery. A memory service was conducted Sunday evening by the Mentone Masonic Lodge.

ODDS and ENDS

I always suspected our family was a little above average, but I attributed it to prejudice until some figures were unearthed which prove my theory correct, at least in one respect. On cats, for instance. Recently released statistics show that 20% of all American families own an average of 1.2 cats each. If you have over one cat, you know you're above average because 2 of a cat doesn't amount to much more than a whisker and there are few whisker collectors.

The worst problem is, we don't know exactly how much over average we are. Some days we have two cats, other days we have more. The same statistics estimate that of the 21 million cats in America, half of them are strays. In our case we don't know for sure which half is stray and which half is our above average group.

It all began with Harriet, the neighborhood traveling kitten dispenser. Tiring of several other neighbors, she moved in and presented us with two specimens of male egotism who were named Harry and Adlai because of various personality characteristics. They grew proud and a loof of a set of brothers and sisters she presented and silently cheered as all but Bobby met their demise. Even Bobby ran away about the time Harriet moved her kitten dispensing business to another neighbor's place, and Harry and Adlai reigned supreme. Occasionally they were visited by a giant traveling politician, a large gray cat with an evil glint but an easy going disposition who has been named LBJ for various other reasons, and peace among the cat kingdom purred along as usual. All they require is food - lots and lots of food - in their dish please. Failure to feed them promptly results in a protest march which consists of Harry and Adlai climbing the back door frame and glaring in to the kitchen to see where the food is.

We went way over average last week when Franklin moved in with us. We don't know where he came from or where he is going, if anywhere, but right now he is happy sitting on the living room window sill, purring at us and glaring at Harry and Adlai. Nightly fights have invaded the quiet of our cat kingdom, but no one will admit to being the aggressor. Morning finds Harry, Adlai, and Franklin sitting in contentment by the pan waiting for their handout. Midmorning, noon, mid-afternoon, late afternoon, and all other times except fight times also finds them in the same position.

These three are joined once in a while by Harriet, when she can squeeze in time from her kitten production business, and LBJ when he's in the neighborhood. All in all, it looks like we are way above average. So far above, in fact, that we suspect anarchy is mounting and we may soon be deposed by our feline dictators. One thing we do have to admit is that the cats are adaptable. The boys and I never tire of discussing obtaining another dog, and the cats seem to side with Loren in opposing the plan for they trail all of us, particularly almost-three Doug whom they trail like puppies. Where Doug is, there are the cats. What more could you ask they seem to say as they whisk disdainfully past us, confounding all statistics and placing us way, way, above average as far as cat population is concerned.

School board hears requests

Four audiences with patrons and teachers were conducted at Monday night's meeting of the Tippecanoe Valley school board. The first audience was held with an Akron patron who was unhappy because his son had been suspended from school. The board and the superintendent backed the Akron principal's decision. A suspension means that the boy may not re-enter school until the beginning of a new semester.

The second audience was held with Mrs. Dale McGowen, Mentone, who sought permission to use a school bus to take members of Jr. Troop 25 to the Museum of Natural History in Chicago during the Easter vacation. Permission was allowed with Gale Creighton casting the only "no" vote.

Lyle Edenburn, principal of Akron High School, and Marion Acton, Talma Jr. High School principal, appeared to ask permission and expense money to attend the North Central Association meeting in Chicago April 2-6. Permission was granted.

Roy E. Meredith, administrative assistant, reported on the meeting of the Tippecanoe Council which was held at Akron last Saturday and praised the teachers who participated. He also made a legislative report concerning the day's session at the General Assembly. He reported the progress of several bills which affect the schools.

The board, during its regular session, reviewed the specifications for new equipment for the two new additions and additional equipment will be opened at a special meeting to be held March 6.

A guidance report by Forst Dunnuck, guidance counselor at Akron, was read.

Bank depositories were established at the Akron Exchange

State Bank and the Farmers State Bank for the coming two years.

The board went into executive session at the close of the regular business meeting.

Sewage needs to be discussed

A representative of the State Board of Health will be present at the March 6 meeting of the Mentone town board to discuss sewage disposal requirements for the town.

The meeting will be held at 8 p.m. in the Town Hall. Officials feel this meeting is of vital concern to every family in town and stress that the public is invited to attend.

Essay Winners Read Papers For Anthony Nigo DAR

American History Month was the theme of the February 14 meeting of the Anthony Nigo Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, held at the home of Mrs. Frank D. Smith.

Mrs. Wayne Smalley, regent, welcomed guests after the opening ritual. Mrs. Dale Cook read the minutes of the previous meeting and called the roll. The message from Mrs. William Henry Sullivan, Jr., President General, was read by Mrs. William Cox.

Mrs. Arthur Brown read the DAR Resolution on Commendation of Law Enforcement Officers. For the National Defense portion of the meeting, Mrs. Ernest Igo talked about the recent breakup of Russian satellites over the United States. "The development of multi-warhead independent revolving vehicle is strongly indicated in the Soviets' experiments... in nontechnical terms, the Russians apparently have succeeded in separating in flight at a predetermined time and location a 'cluster of satellites', each capable of carrying a nuclear warhead. Such a menacing accomplishment would enable the Soviet to launch a satellite set to reach a certain point over the United States and then direct nuclear bombs at targets across the country from New York to California. In addition to these satellite experiments the Soviet has also in the past six months succeeded in altering the trajectory of an ICBM after it was launched over the Pacific."

"Betsy Ross and the Flag" was presented with Mrs. Charles Tucker taking the part of Mrs. Elizabeth (Betsy) Ross. Dressed in an appropriate costume for the time, "Betsy Ross" was seated as she sewed on a thirteen star flag, and several flags were draped nearby. "I was very surprised when Gen. Washington, Robert Morris and Col. Ross called here at my little upholstery shop on Arch Street, right here in Philadelphia, and asked me if I would make a flag after the design they showed me. The committee brought me a rough sketch of a square flag of thirteen strips of red and white, with thirteen six-pointed stars in the blue canton. I examined it carefully and then hesitantly made the suggestion for three changes." After discussing the changes, that the length of the flag be one-third more than the width; that the stars be placed to form a circle; and that a five-point rather than a six-point star be used, "Betsy Ross" concluded: "You must be more than mere cloth... with are you to bring cheer to our patriots, share their hardships - and God willing, I pray - wave proudly in the breeze of victory?????" Mrs. Fred Koehn answered with a stirring rendition of "I Am Your Flag" and the program was concluded with the playing of the National Anthem.

Guests of honor were American History Essay winners who attended with their mothers. From the Talma and Beaver Dam Junior High Schools, the medal winning essays were on the subject of an American Naval Battle. Teresa Yazel read her essay "The Battle of Lake Erie"; "Pearl Harbor Attack" was given by Sherri Schwieler; Ruth Hoffer chose "The Meramac Versus the Monitor"; and Debbie Cooper told about John Paul Jones in "I've Just Begun to Fight". All of the essays have been forwarded to the state competition.

The regent announced that Mrs. Ernest (Sally) Highway has had her papers accepted as a new member of the chapter. A patriotic theme was used by the hostess, Mrs. Smith, and her assistants, Mrs. Kenneth Riner and Mrs. Cox. Additional guests were Mrs. Harold Yazel, Mrs. Dave Cooper, Mrs. Barbara Schwieler, Mrs. Frances Melton, Mrs. Frank Hoffer, and the Misses Diane Metheny, Michelle and Linda Clauss, and Paula Shireman.

The next meeting will be held March 14 at the home of Mrs. Paul Shireman.

Calorie Count Down

Lafayette, Ind. Holiday parties and inactivity during cold weather sometimes work together to add pounds where we don't want them.

So if cutting down on calories is part of your year's resolution, you can do it several ways—without being obvious or making an issue of it, says Marcile Allen, Extension food specialist at Purdue University.

Taking smaller helpings and eliminating "seconds" is a good way to restrict your diet.

Using foods with a lower calorie count is another way. Choose lean meats, liver, luncheon meats, chicken and turkey instead of fatty meats, pork sausage, bacon or duck. Dring milk that's skimmed or lowered in butterfat.

Use low calorie desserts such as sherbet or chiffon mixtures. Even cakes vary in calorie content! For instance, angel food cake has fewer calories than a butter cake.

Sometimes you can substitute recipe ingredients of lower calorie value. Non-calorie sweeteners can be used to advantage in some foods. You can use dry skim milk and low calorie whipped toppings in place of their higher calorie counterparts.

Altering your cooking methods may cut down on calories, too. Broiling adds fewer calories than frying; using broth on vegetables may add flavor without many calories; and sometimes part of the cream or fat may be omitted from your favorite casserole dishes.

Parson Jones Speaks

Dear Mr. Publisher

My littlest boy climbed the tree next to my house the other day - you know that big ole tall oak next to the chimney - and roosted on the top branch just like a rooster. It scared me so bad when I saw him it gave me the hiccups. (That shot the theory about scaring a fella will do away with the hiccups.) I shouted, "hic, boy what you doing up there?" He yelled back, "I'm looking for God." Well sir, you can't argue with a kid for doing that, so when he come down I whipped him for tearing his britches and not for climbing the tree.

I reckon a site of people are looking for the Almighty, Mr. Publisher, only thing is most of 'em expect Him to look like themselves. This idea popped up in Sunday school last week. The lesson was on "what is God like?" Brother George who was teaching the class pointed out first off that God was invisible. He said this was so's He could sneak up on people without them knowing it. Young Thomas Beetlehead allowed as how he didn't know whether that was fair or not. He said that was kinda like unmarked police cars. I told the class that maybe the reason so many people got around God was cause they couldn't see Him. Beetlehead allowed that we wouldn't have to go around God if He was invisible - we could just walk right over Him. I told the class that a lotta people shore tired to do just that.

Next Hezekiah pointed out that God must be white. One fella said the colored folks thought he was black. Ole Hezekiah allowed as how the Good Book says the Almighty is like light, and he never saw a black light in his life.

Well sir, one idea after another popped up. Some fella swore God was an American and another said he was a Japanese. One member said He must be a Jew cause Jesus was a Jew. One of our outstanding businessmen allowed as how we were missing the point - God was a capitalist. Johnny Jumpup who was visiting home from college stood by the idea that the Lord was a Communist, cause the first Church was communist.

We never did get this hole matter settled Mr. Publisher, cause time run out. At least its gratifying that all our people believe in God even if they can't get together on what He is. I reckon everybody wants to create the Creator in their own image - that way, they can handle Him alright.

My littlest youngun is drawing a picture of God on a piece of paper. I told him that nobody knows what God looks like, and he allowed as how they would when he got his picture done. I gotta close now, Mr. Publisher, and go have my prayers. I'm gonna thank God for sending His Son Jesus. Now at least we got something to go on!

Yours truly,
Parson Jones

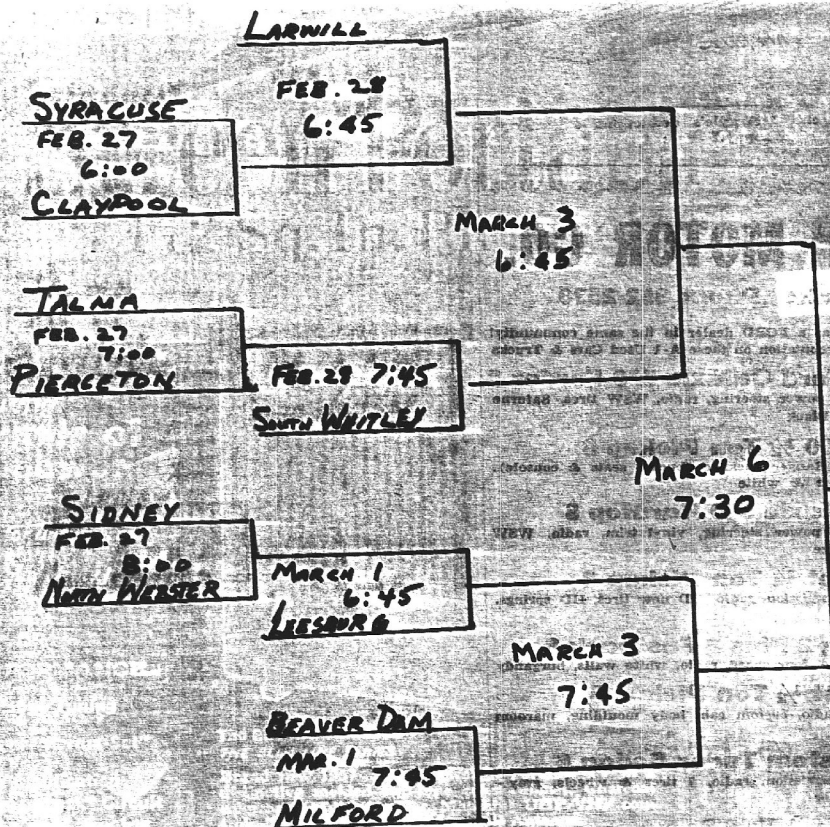

Of the total 52½ million tons of paper used in the U.S. last year, 47 million tons were produced in this country, reports the American Paper Institute.

We exported 1.9 million tons of paper—mostly paperboard—during 1966, and imported 7.5 million tons, of which the largest share was newsprint from Canada.

Erwin Bill

Passes Senate

A bill that would require persons claiming to be "psychologists" to be certified by a Board of Examiners was introduced in the State Senate by William W. Erwin, Republican, Etna Green, and it was passed by the Senate on February 11.

"We have reports of unethical and unqualified persons who call themselves psychologists taking money from people for treatments that actually do the patients' psychological harm," Erwin said.

The bill provides that persons claiming to be psychologists would have to be certified by a State Board of Examiners in Psychology consisting of qualified members appointed by the governor.

Giant, v-shaped balloons are now being tested by some pulp and paper companies to carry felled timber out of otherwise inaccessible terrain, according to the American Paper Institute. The highly stable, cigar shaped balloons, 110 feet long, joined at the nose and with a horizontal fin connecting them at the tail, were originally used to carry scientific instruments to high altitudes.

The next meeting will be March 15 at the home of Lynn Knoop.

Merry Mollys Are Entertained

The Merry Mollys Extension Homemakers Club met Monday evening, February 13, at the country home of Mrs. Joe Tucker with Mrs. William Eitinger as co-hostess.

Mrs. Luke Hiers opened the meeting with the threat, do push-ups or no refreshments. Guess how many suddenly decided to do without refreshments? The entire club sang America, the Beautiful, gave the Pledge to the Flag and repeated the Club Creed.

Different facts about the Month, "I Would Be True," were read by Mrs. Frances Melott. Eighteen members and one guest sang this familiar hymn. An appropriate Valentine's Day meditation, The Winning Power of Love was given by Mrs. Dale McGowen. She also read a short verse called Innocent Remarks.

Mrs. Donald Horn's garden remarks were concerning Using Chemicals in the Rose Garden.

Mrs. Dale McGowen was the lesson leader. The lesson, Mama and Her Bank, which included Personal Money Management, Wills, Spending, Checking Accounts, Saving, Insurance, Investments and Credit, proved to be not only interesting but very informative as well.

Our Roll Call topic, How My Engagement Took Place, was quite revealing and humorous.

The Finance Committee announced the beginning of a Traveling Basket that will make the rounds of the whole club. The object is to increase the treasury and enjoy the contents of the basket at the same time.

The idea of the Trip Committee to attend the Wagon Wheel Playhouse, taking our husbands as guests, was met with enthusiastic response.

During the business session several members requested that our names be sent in to the Cancer Detection Clinic, so we might attend as a group.

We closed the business with the Club Prayer Song, He Leadeth Me.

Secret Pals remembered with gifts were Mrs. Gene Sarber, Mrs. Luke Hiers, Mrs. Dale Stuffer, Mrs. Kenneth Anglin, Mrs. Glenn Campton and Mrs. Glenn Melott. Our guest Mrs. Dale Hudson was the lucky recipient of the door prize.

Games by Mrs. Paul Haist and Mrs. Dale McGowen included Twister and doing as instructed on drawn slips of paper. Some of the choices were acting out nursery rhymes, imitations, writing poems, doing the Charleston, and a special serious song by Mrs. Glenn Campton. This turned out to be as much fun for the spectators as it did for the participants.
