Board Approves
Water Tower

At the first regular meeting of the Mentone town board on Monday evening, a representative of the Clyde Williams & Associates was present and gave the engineering report on the Mentone water facilities. A number of citizens were present to hear the report.

The firm made a number of proposals deemed advisable to provide better water service. The first item in the proposals was the erection of a 150,000 gallon water storage tower, and the addition of an eight-inch water main running from east to west through the town along Harrison Street, the second street north of Main. Other additional and larger mains are anticipated but their location may depend upon the eventual location of the storage tower. Possible locations are just north of the school or across the street west from the Mrs. Esther Harley residence, along Road 19 in northwest Mentone.

In a resolution passed that evening, the board authorized the engineering firm to proceed with engineering plans and an accountant selected to handle that portion of the proposal.

Financing of the project will be the sale of bonds, principal and interest to be paid from water department revenue. It has been stated that there is hope that no increase will be necessary in water rates, but hydrant rental is expected to be increased to $150 each per year.

Estimated costs given by the engineering firm are:

150,000 elevated tower	$42,125
8-in. water mains	31,645
Land for tower	800
Engineering	5,850
Legal and Administrative	2,000
Accounting	1,000
Advertising, printing	400

The proposed system will be so arranged that other possible equipment needed in the future may be added to the system, such as chlorinator, rust remover, etc.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hipsher and son Mark of Bristol were Saturday morning callers of their grandmother, Mrs. Geo. Hipsher of Palestine.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Leiter have returned home after spending two weeks in Florida with her folks, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hudson, who live in the Tampa-St. Petersburg area.

FLORIDA ADDRESS:

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Wagner are at 840 E. 6th St., Hialeah, Florida where they are spending the winter.

COUNTERPOINT

(A column originating with the distaff side of the family, and expressing thoughts which may form a second "melody" to the original "melody" or thoughts expressed by the editor. We trust there may be few "discords.")

Have you written that letter this week? Remember that New Year's resolution you made: "I'll write once a week to mother."

We trust that your holiday was a truly happy one—and did you share it with someone else?

—an elderly person in a nursing home; a shut-in; a needy child — If you didn't, you missed the real meaning of Christmas. As Lowell said — "Not what you give but what you share—"

For the gift without the giver is bare."

We have been enjoying our bird feeders this winter—from our kitchen window—that is. The new one is perched atop a seven-foot post and glassed in on the east and west (which proved most confusing to our feathered friends for a few days.) The sparrows (all umpteenth kinds) seem to prefer the old feeder so we keep crushed grain and small pieces of suet in it. The nut-hatches, chickadees, tufted titmouse and cardinals find the sunflower seeds in the newer feeder, much to their liking. We haven't seen any slate colored juncos yet this year and have been wondering why. Bird watching is more fun! However, if a few cats come home wearing bells, don't be too surprised, neighbors. We protect our birds!!

INJURED IN FALL

Mrs. Theodore Teel of Macy, fell in the kitchen of her home sustaining a compound fracture of her left arm and a crushed hip. She is at the Woodlawn hospital in Rochester. Her childhood home was near Leiters Ford. Mr. Teel formerly lived on the Roy Maxwell farm and he is the grandfather of Marjorie Wagner.

Mr. and Mrs. John Maroszan and family of South Bend spent Christmas week end with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Kehoe. Michael remained for a week's visit and was taken to his home on Saturday by his grandparents.

TOWN BOARD
ORGANIZES

At a meeting of the new town board, held Friday morning, January 1, O. L. McFadden, the only carry-over member, was named chairman of the board. Other members are Loren Tridle and Harold Utter. Merrill Peterson is clerk-treasurer.

Arlo Friesner was again named fire chief and Ed. Davis continues to be day marshal and water superintendent.

Ben Scarbrough will be cemetery custodian, and Chester Miller was named night marshal.

SIX INJURED
IN ACCIDENT

Six persons were injured in an accident near the Marvin Romine farm Saturday afternoon, when an auto driven by Laurence Harter, 63, of Nappanee, is alleged to have driven thru a stop sign and into the path of an auto driven by Lyndol Moriarty of Route 2, Warsaw. The Johns ambulance took the injured to the Murphy Medical Center for emergency treatment. Mrs. Moriarty, who suffered a fractured neck vertebrae and was expecting a fourth child, was taken to the Parkview hospital at Fort Wayne Sunday where the expected boy arrived. He died. Mr. Harter, who suffered a fractured left arm, ribs, and right hip, was taken to the Elkhart hospital Saturday evening.

One son, Patrick, aged 3, suffered a fractured leg and head lacerations. The father, a four-year old daughter and a one-year-old son were released after emergency treatment.

RESCIND LIQUOR
STORE APPROVAL

The Mentone town board, in a special session Wednesday evening, passed a resolution rescinding a recent order of the retiring board giving approval for a three-way liquor permit in Mentone. Notice of such decision by the new board is being sent immediately to the officials who have charge of the granting of liquor permits or licenses.

What effect this order will have on the public hearing to be held in Warsaw Jan. 13 is not known, and those opposed to such a store in Mentone should continue their objection.

Fifty Years Feeding Progress

Fifty years of progress in swine feeding nutrition are dramatically demonstrated in a trial conducted by Purdue University animal scientists.

Major concern of swine raisers in 1909 was what to feed in addition to corn for best results. Wood ashes, salt, tangle, wheat middlings and linseed oil meal were fed with corn.

Little was known about a pig's requirement for protein (amino acids), minerals, trace minerals or vitamins. Antibiotics had not been discovered and introduction of feed additives such as arsenic acid had not been investigated. Until about 1940 soybean oil meal was not available in large quantities.

Thirty-two weanling pigs, averaging 44 pounds initially, were used in the 1909 vs. 1959 ration feeding trial. They had been raised on concrete and were confined to concrete for the duration of the experiment. Here is what the Purdue animal scientists found:

Fastest and most efficient gains were obtained by feeding the 1959 ration of corn and soybean meal adequately fortified.

Most economical gains were produced by the 1959 free

Slowest, most inefficient gains choice ration of shelled corn and Purdue Supplement 2.

resulted from feeding the 1909 mixed ration, containing a low level of poor quality protein and inadequate in other essential nutrients.

In mixed ration tests, pigs receiving the 1909 menu of ground corn, wheat middlings, linseed oil meal, limestone and salt gained 1.15 pounds a day. Four hundred twenty-five pounds of this ration produced 100 pounds of gain at a feed cost of $11.40. Pigs receiving the 1959 ration of ground corn, 50 percent protein soybean meal, dicalcium phosphate, limestone, iodized salt, trace minerals, vitamins and antibiotics gained 1.71 lbs. daily. Three hundred twenty lbs. of this ration produced 100 lbs. of gain at a feed cost of $9.

In free choice comparisons, pigs fed 1959 free choice ration of shelled corn and Purdue Supplement 2 gained 22 percent faster, required nine percent less feed per pound of gain and made 11 percent more economical gains than pigs fed the 1909 free choice ration of shelled corn, tangle and salt. Daily gain, feed required per 100 lbs. of gain and feed costs per 100 pounds of gain for 1909 ration fed pigs were 1.27, 364 and $9.65. The 1959 ration fed pigs gained 1.55 pounds a day, required 331 pounds of feed for 100 pounds of gain and feed cost was $8.59.

COUNTERPOINT

Ladies, it seems that you need $1.25 today to buy what $1.00 did ten years ago.

Do we sometimes get so intense in an issue that we confuse the "person" with the "problem"? Isn't it important to use our indignation to correct the problem rather than to injure the person? This little familiar story illustrates the thought — During the "amens" of the services of a colored camp-meeting years ago, an elderly mammy was carried away with the message and, to express her joy, was leaping and moving about in the aisle. A small dog snapped at her billowing skirts and held on. A colored brother, nearby, began kicking at the small offender, and was later taken to task for kicking at the lady. He said, "I wasn't kickin' at her, but at what had ahold of her."

We enjoyed this: Five year old Nancy Sue, who had been learning to sing Christmas carols and often sang herself to sleep, was heard singing: "While shepherds washed their socks by night."

IN HOSPITAL

Claud Barkman is in the Woodlawn hospital for observation.

ASKING FOR IT...

Do you have children in your home, or do folks visit you who have youngsters? I'm sure children are in every home some time or another.

How careful are you of those things that could take the life of a child? Medicines in proper quantities are not dangerous, but in quantity are lethal. Are all your medicines, headache potions and liniments protected in a proper cabinet, out of reach of youngsters? And out of reach of some youngsters is mighty high.

How about the fly sprays, garden sprays, insecticides, etc.? Do you just have them on a narrow shelf where they could fall down and be available to children, or do you have them securely placed in a safe place? Don't "guess" it will never happen in your home. Such beliefs have a habit of being shattered with so much grief.

Youngsters must experiment to learn, to be true, but let us try to protect them from the worst dangers.

Surviving in addition to the son are a grandson, three granddaughters and 12 great-grandchildren. Two sons, her husband, two sisters and a granddaughter preceded her in death.

Services will be held Friday at two p. m. CST in the Foster and Good funeral home in Rochester. Burial will be in the Richter cemetery.

The club constitution and secretary's and treasurer's reports were read by Mrs. Jesse Jones. After the business session, conducted by the President, Mrs. Gordon Hackaworth, the afternoon was spent filling out the new 1960 club books. ## Recalls Liquor License Application

Elery Nellans, who had previously applied for a license to handle, sell and dispense liquor in Mentone, recalled his application Wednesday morning after about sixty to seventy-five interested citizens of Mentone appeared at the court house in Warsaw to voice their sentiments in opposition to the issuance of the permit.

It was reported that by calling the application before the liquor board for consideration, a new application could be made after a period of two weeks, otherwise a wait of six months is required. Whether or not Mr. Nellans plans to make another attempt is not known.

Mentone has two licensed retail establishments selling beer and wine, but their licenses do not include the so-called "hard liquors."

The way was cleared for the application of the hard liquor license when the retiring town board, under date of December 7, 1959, passed Ordinance No. 151 which stated, in part: "for and on behalf of said Town of Mentone, that Liquor retailer's permits may hereafter be issued to applicants for premises located within said Town of Mentone, all in conformity with the laws of the state of Indiana . . ."

The new town board, which assumed its official authority January 1, 1960, subsequently signed ordinance No. 152, under date of Jan. 7, 1960, which was intended to repeal Ordinance No. 151. However, word from the state indicates that repeal cannot be effective for two years and 60 days, provided the first ordinance was legally enacted.

Do we sometimes get so intense in an issue that we confuse the "person" with the "problem"? Isn't it important to use our indignation to correct the problem rather than to injure the person? This little familiar story illustrates the thought—During the "amens" of the services of a colored camp-meeting years ago, an elderly mammy was carried away with the message and, to express her joy, was leaping and moving about in the aisle. A small dog snapped at her billowing skirts and held on. A colored brother, nearby, began kicking at the small offender, and was later taken to task for kicking at the lady. He said, "I wasn't kickin' at her, but at what had ahold of her."

We enjoyed this: Five year old Nancy Sue, who had been learning to sing Christmas carols and often sang herself to sleep, was heard singing: "While shepherds washed their socks by night."

ASKING FOR IT...

Do you have children in your home, or do folks visit you who have youngsters? I'm sure children are in every home some time or another.

How careful are you of those things that could take the life of a child? Medicines in proper quantities are not dangerous, but in quantity are lethal. Are all your medicines, headache potions and liniments protected in a proper cabinet, out of reach of youngsters? And out of reach of some youngsters is mighty high.

How about the fly sprays, garden sprays, insecticides, etc.? Do you just have them on a narrow shelf where they could fall down and be available to children, or do you have them securely placed in a safe place?

Don't "guess" it will never happen in your home. Such beliefs have a habit of being shattered with so much grief.

Youngsters must experiment to learn, to be true, but let us try to protect them from the worst dangers.

Recalls Liquor License Application

Elery Nellans, who had previously applied for a license to handle, sell and dispense liquor in Mentone, recalled his application Wednesday morning after about sixty to seventy-five interested citizens of Mentone appeared at the court house at Warsaw to voice their sentiments in opposition to the issuance of the permit.

It was reported that by recalling the application before it came before the liquor board for consideration, a new application could be made after a period of two weeks, otherwise a wait of six months is required. Whether or not Mr. Nellans plans to make another attempt is not known.

Mentone has two licensed retail establishments selling beer and wine, but their licenses do not include the so-called "hard liquors."

The way was cleared for the application of the hard liquor license when the retiring town board, under date of December 7, 1959, passed Ordinance No. 151 which stated, in part: "for and on behalf of said Town of Mentone, that Liquor retailer's permits may hereafter be issued to applicants for premises located within said Town of Mentone, all in conformity with the laws of the state of Indiana * * *"

The new town board, which assumed its official authority January 1, 1960, subsequently signed ordinance No. 152, under date of Jan. 7, 1960, which was intended to repeal Ordinance No. 151. However, word from the state indicates that repeal cannot be effective for two years and 60 days, provided the first ordinance was legally enacted.

TWENTY-FIFTH ANNIVERSARY MEETING

CHARTER MEMBERS PRESENT: Left to right, Mrs. Arthur Brown, Mrs. Kenneth Riner, Miss Rozella Ford, Mrs. F. R. Burns, Mrs. Ed Kesler and Mrs. Vause Polen.

Seventy-five members and guests of the Anthony Nigo Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution met at the Mentone Methodist church Sunday afternoon, Jan. 10, to celebrate their 25th anniversary. Mrs. Eldred Paulus, regent of the chapter, presided. The meeting was opened with the pledge to the Flag, singing of the "Star Spangled Banner" and prayer.

The history of the chapter was given by Mrs. Kenneth Riner. In her talk about the founding of the chapter she related that the chapter was named after an Indian by the name of Ottawa Nigo who became Anthony Nigo to the children who delighted in his stories of the Indian warfare and who often visited his cabin. He was widely known among the early settlers of Marshall county. Anthony Nigo's father was a Pottawatomie and his mother was a Miami. When the Indians were forced from the community, he hid in the garret of a cabin, the site of which is marked by a bronze tablet which can be seen on the banks of the Tippecanoe.

Mrs. F. R. Burns of North Manchester, organizing regent of Anthony Nigo chapter, also honorary state regent and past vice president general D.A.R., gave an interesting talk relative to the organization of the Mentone chapter and also gave highlights of her years as regent.

Mrs. Ray Linn, state program chairman, introduced and presented gifts of sterling silver book markers engraved with the initials of each recipient, to the following charter members: Mrs. Mrs. Vause Polen, Kewanna; F. R. Burns, North Manchester; Mrs. Ed Kesler and Miss Rozella Ford, Warsaw; Mrs. Kenneth Riner and Mrs. Arthur Brown, Mentone. Charter members unable to attend were Mrs. Dora Taylor and Miss Anna Murdock of Mentone, and Mrs. H. F. Reitz of Santa Barbara, California, whose greetings were read by Mrs. Linn. She also paid tribute to the following deceased charter members: Mary Boggs, Lydia Sanders, Ersie Manwaring and Ethel Nellans. Mrs. Linn introduced three sisters, Mrs. Frank Smith, Mrs. Glenn Clauss and Mrs. Eldred Paulus, daughters of Mrs. Ethel Nellans, who through memory of their mother and due to her inspiration, have been extremely active in D. A. R. work.

Mrs. Paulus introduced the following past regents of the chapter: Mrs. F. R. Burns, Mrs. Kenneth Riner, Mrs. Orpha Blue, Mrs. Ray Linn, Mrs. Bernice Rush, Mrs. Walter Lackey, Mrs. Ferd Koenig, Mrs. Ernest Igo, Mrs. Frank Smith, Mrs. Miles Manwaring, Mrs. Omer Drudge, Mrs. Everett Rathfon and Mrs. Eldred Paulus.

Also introduced were the following Good Citizen girls who had become members of Anthony Nigo chapter: Mrs. Miles Manwaring, Mrs. Frank Smith, Mrs. Glenn Clauss, Mrs. Merlyn Holt, Mrs. Garwin Eaton, Mrs. Earl Yeiter and Miss Cara Lynn Fenstermaker.

The following members of the chapter have served as pages for both state conference and continental congress, Washington, D. C.: Mrs. Kenneth Riner, Mrs. Ferd Koenig, Mrs. C. K. Paulus, Mrs. Frank Smith, Mrs. Glenn Clauss and Mrs. Eldred Paulus.

Mrs. Frank Smith, northern district director and member of the chapter, gave a very inspiring talk on some of the phases of D. A. R. work. She stated that the society is ardently devoted to the principles of American independence and to keeping these principles in the foreground of American thinking. She stated that the chapter has been tireless and vigilant in its crusade against Communist influence in our country. She said that the D. A. R. is opposed to any type of world government in which the American Constitution might be subordinated to rule.

Guest speaker was the State Chaplain of the D. A. R., Mrs. Clarence L. Vandegrift, of Wabash, who spoke on the relative ty of patriotism, citizenship and religion. She emphasized that these three principles work hand in hand. She stated that the American people have a work to do and one which they can do . . . that government and international treaties or other politics need not, as indeed they cannot, do it all. The people will have to come into their own again, as masters of America, bringing back the note upon which it began . . . that the government is their servant, because it was and must ever remain founded upon the "consent of the governed."

Organ selections by American composers were interspersed throughout the program. The chapter chairman of American Music, Mrs. Frances Carter, introduced Miss Janice Mollenhour, at the organ, who played the selections. She also played selections during the tea hour, which was much appreciated by all present.

Visiting chapters were: Pottawatomie of Gary, Miriam Benedict of LaPorte, Agnes Pruyn of Warsaw, Manitou of Rochester, Dr. Manasseh Cutler of No. Manchester and Tippecanoe River of Bourbon.

The meeting was closed with prayer by our state chaplain after which the guests were served from a beautifully appointed table. The table was covered by a beautiful lace cloth over silver. The centerpiece was a lovely arrangement of red, white and blue carnations with a tiered silver candelabra in the background. The regent, Mrs. Eldred Paulus, and vice regent, Mrs. Dale Cook, poured from a silver service, also dainty cakes, nuts and mints were served.

Hostesses were Mrs. Max Smith, Mrs. Vera Kelly, Mrs.

Miles Manwaring and Miss Lillie Tucker.

The chapter appreciated the pictures taken by Artley Culum of Mentone and Joseph Janoski of Gary.

Mr. and Mrs. Devon Marshall have moved into their lovely new home on Road 19, north of Mentone.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Eber have returned home after spending three weeks vacationing in Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Cornwell of South Bend, were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Don Smythe and Candy.

Rev. and Mrs. Milton Dowden of Ames, Iowa, visited in Mentone over the week end. Rev. Dowden was a former pastor in the Baptist church here.

County Wide Advisory Group

The Kosciusko County School Reorganization Committee has released the names of a county-wide advisory group of representative citizens. The county committee cannot carry out its responsibilities without assistance, and through this group it hopes to generate more informed discussion, gather more information, and stimulate more interest. The recently appointed consulting committee and these selected individuals will thus serve as a line of communication between the committee and residents of the county.

Clase, Mrs. Dean Coverstone, W. E. Creighton, Maurice Crow, Arnold Culver, Eldon Cumberland, Randall Dewart, Mrs. Norma Dome, Harold Downs, Mrs. Irene Ferverda, Donald Forney, Mrs. Earl Frantz, Howard Ganshorn, Dale George, Mrs. Zanna Hammer, Warren Hawley, Mrs. Marie Heckaman, Donald Heckman, James Hite, Mrs. Robert E. Hollar, Lewis S. Immel, Walter Keirn, Leland Kinsey, Mrs. Emogene Leasure, Charles Kroh, Ralph Krull, Colonel Likens, Max Luce, Charles Manwaring, Richard Manwaring, Mrs. Avis Mason, Mrs. S. J. Mautner, Wilbur McSherry, Robert Merkle, Joseph Michael, Noble Neff, Mrs. Max Nellans, Ira Nine, Edward Pequiot, Robert Plummer, Kenneth Romine, Lester Rowland, Mrs. Maurice Scott, Mrs. Robert Searfoss, Jack Shipley, Carl Shively, Glen Stump, Jay Swick, Harold Tusing, Lawrence Ulmer, Ralph Vonasch, Arden Warner, Mrs. Donald Wolfman, Howard Workman, J. Douglas Yoder and Dean Zellers.

This advisory group probably will not meet frequently as a unit, but portions of it will be called in for help on problems concerning particular areas. They may in this way help develop alternative plans of reorganization for study and comparison.

It is also quite certain that there will be special technical tasks which will require the aid of the county principals, and trustee groups.

Pork On Most Plentiful List

American housewives will buy and serve more pork in February if the U. S. Department of Agriculture has its way. Pork is the featured item in the USDA list of plentiful foods for February.

Eggs, fryer chickens, pea beans (Navy beans), cranberry products, lard and onions are other Midwestern farm products which the Department of Agriculture expects to be plentiful. February's Plentiful Foods produced in other regions include oranges and their products, grapefruit, cabbage, carrots, peanuts and peanut products, sweet potatoes, and raisins.

Grocers, chain store buyers, restaurant operators and others in the food business have been provided with the list of plentiful foods for February, and have been encouraged to feature these foods in advertising, store displays and other methods of merchandising. Homemakers will be told about pork and other plentiful foods thru information sent to food editors of newspapers and women broadcasters on radio and television.

A list of plentiful foods is issued each month by the Department of Agriculture as a means of increasing demand by consumers and improving farmers' prices.

Facts on "Feeds and the Livestock Outlook," "Improving of Pork Production" and "Adjusting to Changing Market Patterns" will headline Tuesday's program, Jan. 26, of Purdue University's Farm Science days.

Indiana's Farm Management Association will hold its annual banquet at noon. Norman Graebner of the University of Illinois history department will discuss "Living With the Communists in the 1960's." During the morning the association will hold a business meeting and hear talks by two Purdue agricultural economists. R. L. Kohls will give "Feed and Livestock Outlook" and J. C. Bottum will talk about "Adjusting to Competitive Forces in the Feed and Livestock Business."

During the afternoon association members will conclude their program with talks by three Purdue agricultural economists, C. B. Cox, N. S. Hadley and L. S. Hardin. Cox will discuss "The Changing Pattern of Hog Marketing." Hadley will explain "What the Farmer Can Do About Marketing" and Hardin will describe "The Farmers' Stake in Marketing."

Tuesday's program includes morning and afternoon sessions on pork production. At the morning session, three Purdue agricultural economists, T. T. Stout, J. H. Stevenson and N. E. Smith will speak. Stout will discuss the "Shrink in the Hog Marketing Channel," Stevenson will review
"Consumer Reaction to Price
Differentials for Meat-Type Pork," and Smith will review
"Changes in Hog Buying Evaluation."

During the afternoon, four Purdue animal scientists, M. D.
Judge, V. A. Garwood, Richard Hollandbeck and J. H. Conrad, will report on improving pork production. Judge will talk on "Type and Carcass Values Are Correlated in Hogs." Garwood will give answers to the question on "How Fast Can We Change Our Hogs to Fit?" Hol-landbeck will discuss "Tooling Up for the New Models." And Conrad will review "High Octane Feeding for the 1960 Model Hogs." A business meeting of the Indiana Commercial Pork Producers Association will conclude the program.

For the ladies Tuesday's program will include a coffee hour in the morning and a travel talk by Anna K. Williams, Purdue home management specialist, and a tour of Memorial Center in the afternoon.

Judging of entries in the state corn and seed show and the junior corn and soybean show will be conducted Tuesday, also, with the exhibits open for the public after six o'clock that night.

1960 Top Alfalfa Varieties

Certified Ranger alfalfa, seed supplies of which are extensive and reasonably priced, should continue to be the top variety for Indiana farmers this year, points out Keller E. Beeson, Purdue University extension agronomist.

Ranger is winter hardy, wilt resistant and satisfactory in yielding ability. Whether sown alone or in "shot gun" mixtures, getting alfalfa through the first winter makes winter hardiness very important.

Vernal has the same qualities as Ranger and seed supplies are adequate. While Vernal has more resistance to leaf spot than Ranger, costs will be higher since it produces less seed per acre than Ranger. It too is recommended for state-wide planting.

Buffalo possesses qualities similar to Ranger, but may not survive severe winters as well.
Thus, Beeson explains, Buffalo is recommended for planting only in the southern third of Indiana.

Atlantic lacks the wilt resistance of Ranger, Vernal and Buffalo, but its winter hardiness is satisfactory and it develops wilt more slowly than susceptible varieties.

Both Grimm and DuPuit are wilt susceptible; DuPuit also lacks adequate winter hardiness.
Kenland is the only named

The Chicago Motor Club reminds drivers that cold weather can cause slippery conditions—particularly on bridges and over-passes—by the formation of frost, even in generally clear weather. Care should be exercised at these locations even when general highway conditions are good.

The Chicago Motor Club advises that any wiper blade that streaks or smears the windshield should be replaced unless the wiper arm can be adjusted to supply sufficient pressure for a clean, clear wipe. This is important during winter when driving visibility often is hampered by adverse weather conditions.

Nov. Livestock Slaughter Up

Liveweight of all commercially slaughtered livestock in Indiana during November totaled 163,162,000 pounds, about the same as October, but 25 per cent higher than November, 1958, state-federal agricultural statisticians at Purdue University report.

Liveweight of the 49,500 cattle slaughtered in November was 49,748,000 pounds, four per cent below October, but 11 per cent more than November a year ago. The 10,000 calves slaughtered totaled 2,280,000 pounds liveweight, 52 per cent above October and 19 per cent above November, 1958.

The statisticians said the liveweight of the 444,000 hogs that were slaughtered — 109,224,000 pounds—is the largest since slaughter records began in 1947. The liveweight also was one per cent higher than the October slaughter and 32 above the November, 1958, total.

Liveweight of the 20,100 sheep and lambs slaughtered totaled 1,910,000 pounds, four per cent higher than October and 43 per cent above the November, 1958, total.

Commercial slaughter includes that of packing plants and local butchers but excludes farm slaughter. Totals indicate the marketings of livestock by farmers and the availability of meat.

National production of red meat in commercial plants during November totaled 2,246 million pounds, 14 per cent above the November, 1958, total, but seven per cent below the October, 1959, figure.

Jolly Janes Anniversary

Twenty-two members of the Jolly Janes Home Ec Club drove to the Colonial Restaurant, at North Manchester, for their anniversary meeting on Monday evening. There were seven charter club members present. A delicious steak supper was served to the ladies in a private dining room. Each lady received a cut-glass salt cellar filled with mints as their favor. Mrs. Jim Goshert was the door prize winner. Birthday gifts were given to Mrs. Loren Tridle, Mrs. Dwight Reichard and Emma Clutter.

A short business meeting was conducted by our president, Mrs. Reichard. Roll call was answered by telling the number of years each member had been in club. Mrs. Jim Miller was welcomed back into the club, having dropped out several months ago to move to Plymouth.

Dirty bingo was enjoyed the remainder of the evening, with each lady winning something.

Mrs. Wayne Bowser, Mrs. Harold Markley and Mrs. Tom Harman were on the anniversary committee.

Schools Face Revolutionary Changes

(As Printed in the Indianapolis Star)

ALL SCHOOL CONSOLIDATIONS SUCCEED
 by David G. Watson

"Reorganization of school systems in Indiana has been 100 per cent successful so far, according to Dr. Clarence A. Pound, of Purdue University.

Many proposals to consolidate or reorganize a school unit have been rejected, he said, but once accepted they never have failed to work. Pound conducts reorganization surveys for Purdue.

"A lot of these mergers come about simply because the individual units couldn't go it alone," Pound said. "By combining their resources they were able to provide a good school system. This is my guess, and I think it is a fair conclusion."

In an effort to boost the quality of education and at the same time develop efficiency and economy in school operation, all types of systems have been merged.

Many townships faced the paradox of overcrowded rooms in their elementary schools and too few pupils in their high schools.

Two years ago, the National Commission on School District Reorganization published a report asserting that a school administrative system must have at least 1,500 pupils in grades 1 through 12 to offer an educational program with relative efficiency and economy.

This considers proper distribution of pupils in both elementary classrooms, now overcrowded in most systems, and the high schools, which have far too few pupils. It also considers proper assignment of teachers in proportion to pupils and that part of educational costs assigned to teacher salaries.

In this light, economy does not necessarily mean less money for schools, Pound said, only that the taxpayer gets more for what he spends.

The move to get more for the money has brought unexpected alliances in past mergers, and some notable successes.

A recent Purdue survey has led to a recommendation for merger of Crown Point schools with those in three surrounding townships in Lake County. In view of this, the Lake County superintendent has asked the university for a survey of the rest of the townships and a recommendation on planning for their future.

A county-wide administration unit was recommended for Jennings County, replacing all others, and Pound estimates that the state eventually will have 20 such county-wide systems as compared to the three it now has.

Posey County, is offered by Pound as an example of successful reorganization. A $1,250,000 junior and senior high school replaces four inadequate high schools there. Three new elementary schools eliminate use of all remaining one and two-room schools in the county.

These developments followed a 1956 recommendation by Purdue that 2 new school districts be created in the county. One was to be comprised of four townships and Mount Vernon, and the other of the five remaining townships.

The High school building provides facilities for 600 pupils in grades seven through 12 and has room for 150 more.

It is located on a 40-acre site, near Poseyville, although only five acres had been recommended for use, Pound said.

"This shows how enthusiasm can be instilled in an area where there was friction," he added. "They had no kindergarten before; now they have one. All the buildings are wired for educational television. They have expanded the depth and breadth of their educational program."

Pound said this and similar developments in other systems should present strong arguments in favor of support of reorganization planning now underway throughout the state.

"It would have been humanly impossible to do any of this in each township alone," he said.

Another argument advanced in support of consolidation for efficiency is the problem of transferring pupils from one school system to another.

About two-thirds of the state's school systems operate both grade and high schools, but the rest do not. Some administrative units operate no schools at all, transferring children to other townships. These are prime targets for consolidation with other systems.

"The biggest objection to the necessary change is the fear of what the outcome might be," Pound observed. "It is a basic part of human nature, the fear of the un-named or the unknown."

If driving in rain, sleet, or snow—or when there is dirty road spray from other cars—stop at service stations from time to time to wipe off your lights.

EDITORIAL

A GOOD LESSON

Experience is the best teacher, they say, but it's always a good idea to keep the receipt.

Likely a number of Mentone citizens will never again place their name to a piece of paper without first reading what they are signing.

Reports have been numerous the past few days that one person or another was not aware of what they were signing when they attached their signatures to a town ordinance, an endorsement for a liquor permit or a character reference. Just who was fooling who is still a deep, dark secret to an outsider.

It always becomes necessary sometime for a person to take a definite stand, whether it is in signing some petition or refusing to do so. The citizens of Mentone, also, have made a decision, and that is that they do not want a liquor store in Mentone, regardless of who the operator might happen to be.

The honesty or integrity of an operator doesn't add anything to liquor or any part of it. It has been the thing which has destroyed individuals and nations throughout all history, and it will ever be so. It is the thing which is adding millions of dollars to the taxpayers' bill for higher insurance rates, care of children from broken homes, care of the increasing number of alcoholics (as indicated by a recent appeal by our governor to find ways and means to care for the rapidly increasing number of such persons in our state.) And there is no way one can put a dollar value on the lives that are destroyed by the effects of liquor in murders and highway deaths.

Liquor claims to pay high taxes—and they do—but it all comes from the citizens who buy it and then it is only a pittance compared to the taxes it costs to care for its tragedies.

If Mentone's citizens would take the same interest in their government, as they did about the liquor application—and put their interest into action, many of the government absurdities of our day would be eliminated.

The big job of moving from the old to the new library is in progress, with most of the books moved Tuesday. Mrs. Lackey, the librarian, expects to have things in readiness for borrowers to visit the new Bell Memorial Library by Saturday. The library hours will be from 12 to 6, Monday through Saturday, and Saturday evening from 7 to 8.

There are a number of things not fully completed on the new building. Robert Jones, chairman of the library board, and C. O. Eiler were in Cincinnati Thursday getting prices and specifications for a plaque and this afternoon Mr. Jones went to Chicago to see about some additional lettering for the outside of the building.

REPORTS FIRST ROBIN

COUNTERPOINT

What a thrilling event it is when a school community has a county champion basketball team. It is a very special kind of event if you have a son on that team. All the excitement and cheers of this past week-end reminded us that six years ago we were re-playing those tourney games at breakfast, dinner and supper, too. It's a rare, happy family experience, parents, so enjoy every minute of it.

Ladies, if you want to try a new "trick" with your lemon pie, add one half cup apricot juice to your hot water. (Don't you nearly always have a little left-over juice when you serve canned apricots? It won't spoil your pie.

During the holidays a lovely old hand-woven coverlet was placed in our care. It has been in Artley's family for several generations and is in excellent condition. Here is the problem—should we carefully place the heirloom in tissue and mothballs to "hand down" to our daughter or son (so that they could do likewise) or should we use it and enjoy it? Perhaps you have a suggestion. Why not let us know what you would do.

Ran across a sack of "Original Auto Burglar Alarms" (left over from somebody's college days, no doubt). I asked the wise member of our family about the best method of disposing of same, and was reading directions for use of "alarms". "Fasten each wire to your spark plug; step on starter. It will smoke, whistle, SCREAM and smoke again." Looking up I caught a cunning grin on the sage's face, so promptly took possession of said "alarms" and—well, how do you dispose of bombs?

Your child is probably getting a better education than you did, thanks to constantly improved methods. It's a good idea, however to ask yourself this question: Will my child's education fall short in meeting his need for living and working in tomorrow's complex world?

CALENDAR

Newcastle Lions regular meeting Mon. eve., Jan. 25, 7:30, in Talma Gym. Some interesting slides to be shown.

Mentone Wins County Basketball Championship Saturday Evening

I know everyone is very proud of our "Mighty Bulldogs" and Coach Bateman for bringing home the silver horseshoes trophy and the title of "County Champs." The boys showed their ability and proved to be the best team in the county.

Thursday night they played Milford and won 66 to 50. Beaver Dam was next on their list and this was a very exciting game even though the score was 79 to 60.

Mentone then moved into the semi-finals Saturday afternoon with North Webster as their opponents. The Bulldogs really showed their determination in playing ball with the half time score 30-24 and the final score 49-41.

The final game of the tourney brought Mentone and Etna Green clashing for the title of "County Champions." Mentone fought a little harder, showing they had the skill and ability to be on top, and won 49-42.

Our boys played with good spirit and high hope and much credit goes to Coach Bateman for having his "varsity five" up to power.

The box scores of the semi-final and final games are as follows:

Following the game Saturday night the Mentone players and fans returned to Mentone and staged a big victory bon-fire, and it is reported a number of citizens lost their good hats in the affair. A few, noticeably non-students, took advantage of the frenzy and grabbed a number of hats from individuals and tossed them into the fire.

Monday was vacation day at the school and the students visited other schools and expressed their delight in being county champions.

(It was reported some of the Etna Green fans had a large pile of inflammable material all ready for the victory flash—but their matches were all wet.)

Jim Teel and Bob Long were named to the Times-Union all-county team.

TOWN OPTIONS
TOWER GROUND

Monday evening of last week the Mentone town board, in special session, agreed to purchase Lot 51 and the north 17 feet from Lot 52, Bowman Addition, for the sum of $1200. Ten per cent was paid as an option on the purchase and the balance will be paid when the water works improvement bonds are approved and sold.

The land lies south of the old school gym and plans are that the new proposed water tower will be located there.

Insurance Man
Speaks To Lions

Alan Dale, executive vice president of the Insurance Institute of Indiana, spoke before the Mentone Lions Club Wednesday evening. His subject was "The Multi-million Dollar Pileup." He stated his group was trying to develop public interest to reduce accidents, and prevent further increase in insurance rates on autos. At the present time the cost for insurance in Indiana is $37.50 for every man, woman and child.

Mr. Dale is the author of a book, "Water's Edge," and was formerly with United Press, International News Service and WFBM-TV, Indianapolis.

These clubs are part of an extension program from Purdue University and are open to any homemaker who wishes to enroll.

WORTH MORE BECAUSE THEY WORK MORE

Chevy's new torsion springs and Sturdi-Bilt design are changing everybody's ideas about how much work a truck can do. Last year's schedules are out—Chevrolet trucks ride faster over the rough runs to get in more trips a day! Big repair bills are no longer a problem—Chevrolet trucks soak up punishment that means downtime to other makes! And trade-in time's put off for extra thousands of miles—'60 Chevrolet trucks stay like new longer!

New Dollar Saving Prices

Step-Vans, 4-Wheel Drives, many light-duty models with automatic transmissions—all are lower priced. Prices have also been reduced on all optional V8's.

New Torsion-Spring Suspension

Eliminates I-beam shimmy and wheel fight! With torsion springs up front there's a brand-new, smoother, easier handling feel behind the wheel. New rear suspensions include wide-based coil springs in most light-duty models; tougher variable-rate leaf springs in medium- and heavy-duty models.

Electronically Balanced Wheels

Front wheels and tires are balanced at the factory. Helps make that new ride revolutionary!

New Cabs—Wider, Safer, More Comfortable

Many models are a whole 7 inches lower (without sacrificing road clearance), so it's easier to hop in and out of cabs. Still there's more space inside: more room for hats and hips, more foot room with suspended pedals. Cabs are safer, too; new build makes them 67% more rigid.

Plus Improvements All Through the Line

A new steering linkage system that cuts vibration, means better control. There's new V8 efficiency. Sixes long famous for saving. New key-turn starting. Higher, wider visibility. Talk to your Chevrolet dealer about the world's most advanced trucks.

4-H Alumni Honored

Mrs. Adams

White

A 4-H grandmother and a successful Rush county farmer have been named 1959 Indiana winners of the 4-H alumni recognition plaque award presented by the Olin Mathieson Chemical Corporation, Plant Food Division, the State Extension office announced.

Mrs. Randolph Adams of Martinsville continues to display winning ways she developed as a 4-H Club member 30 years ago. The former Lucille Dally was state clothing winner in 1927 and topped the state dress revue the following year.

In 1930 Mrs. Adams organized the first home economics 4-H Club in her area and led it for 11 years. She served as county club leader for three years and also worked as assistant agent.

Robert White, 31, of Carthage, has spent 14 of those years in 4-H leadership work. He was assistant and junior leader for seven years and has been a club leader as long.

Since leaving 4-H membership ranks he has maintained an interest in Extension work and young farm people. Chairman of the Rush county Agricultural Extension committee, White also has served on the high school vocational agriculture advisory board.

White and his father farm 800 acres in partnership.

Mr. and Mrs. Hody Fenstermaker ate Sunday dinner with Mr. and Mrs. John Fenstermaker.

State Convention Farm Women Plan

A program, which will span the farm women's interest from the business of producing food to the technique and use of feminine charm, has been planned for the annual Women's Conference of the Indiana Farm Bureau. The event will occur February 23 and 24 in the Indiana Theater, Indianapolis.

Mrs. Haven Smith, Nebraska farm woman who is chairman of the women's committee, American Farm Bureau Federation, and Miss Cathy Bauby, Memphis, Tennessee, who has her own

FOR OR AGAINST?

It is said very few people go to the polls on election day to vote for someone or for some particular measure — they go to vote AGAINST.

It appears that one of America's greatest faults is not being FOR something.

For something. If something doesn't suit us we often get in gear and express ourselves, but when we fail to compliment people, or put our support with them we are failing miserably. We would have less corruption if the honest person was given any indication as honest efforts were appreciated, and legislators would be more apt to champion fair laws if people let them know they wanted fair legislation.

Ethan Standaland lost his tractor to some so-called government until this week because he had to finally come to the conclusion that no other farmers were sympathetic to his cause. Were you on hand at his hearings, supporting him, or were you meekly twiddling your thumbs in the corner as your liberty was being seduced on the pretense of government edict? Do you still believe that our government is for the people—or like many in government do you think the people are servants of the government? There are Americans who are still FOR something. Which side are you on?

ASKING FOR IT...

How considerate are we of all other motorists as we drive on the highways? Do we "yelp" at some person for pulling a 'dilly' and then think nothing of it when we do the same thing? It's so easy to forgive ourselves and shout to high heaven when another person does the same thing.

All of us have used every facility at our disposal to try and see the highway and other traffic at night just because another car was following closely with his bright lights gleaming in our rear-view mirror.

We may figure we are not in danger if we are in the car behind, but such is not true. If the driver ahead cannot see distinctly, and touches or hits an approaching auto, where will we be? Right in the middle of a miserable mess, and very likely head on into the approaching auto — with the hospital or the morgue our next stop.

Be courteous — and intelligent — dim your lights as you approach the car ahead.

WINTER HOG MANAGEMENT

Three factors — shelter, water and feed — aid efficient production of market hogs during winter months.

Dick Hollandbeck, Purdue University extension swine specialist, says each factor must be given consideration if hogs are to make the greatest gains during cold weather.

It is neither necessary nor recommended that hogs be kept in a tightly closed building. They will stay healthier and freer of respiratory diseases if provided dry and draft-free sleeping quarters where there is ample bedding. Ground corn cobs make suitable bedding for shoats.

Even during the coldest period of winter, water is an important part of the hog's ration. Hogs will drink about two pounds of water for each pound of feed eaten, Hollandbeck explains. Clean, fresh water which will not freeze can be provided with automatic fountains or other types of waterers.

Laying Gas
Supply Line

Northern Indiana Public Service Company has started construction of the gas transmission line that will bring natural gas to the people of Mentone, Stanley W. Evans, NIPSCO Warsaw district manager, has announced.

Crews from the utility's construction department began stringing the six-inch diameter steel pipe along the right-of-way Monday (January 25), Evans said. NIPSCO construction crews will begin laying the line immediately and continue as rapidly as weather permits.

A survey crew of NIPSCO employees will call on all residents of Mentone to determine how many people are interested in obtaining natural gas service. The survey is scheduled to begin Friday, January 29, and the interviews will help to determine the final design of the community's distribution system.

Installation of the four-inch diameter and two-inch diameter distribution mains will follow the construction of the transmission line. If weather causes no long delays, Evans said, gas service should be available to the people of Mentone in the early spring.

COUNTERPOINT

By the Editor's Wife

We are hearing more and more opinions from concerned parents about the type of children's programs being shown on TV. Many of the comic (?) cartoons are full of violence, horror, and very un-funny.

Dr. Paul Popenoe suggests that we are letting the television screen act as our baby-sitter, and would you hire a baby-sitter who would entertain your children with such acts and displays of violence as they see on TV?

The National Parent-Teacher magazine lists and evaluates many of the children's TV programs, pulling no punches, we understand. Why not find out more about this through your PTA organization?

More on this topic next week.

We have decided to use one of the suggestions as to what to do with the old coverlet. It was suggested that we put it away, for special care, but bring it out and use it on special days, (family or otherwise). Thank you for the suggestion. In this way our great-great-grandchildren may be enjoying a really antique hearloom.

This sort of weather — fog, rain and melting snow — makes us extremely conscious of the dirt and accumulation on our streets. Is there some way, gentlemen of the town board, that we can enlist your help in getting our main street presentable and keeping it that way?

We enjoyed this:

The first grade teacher had been able to interest everyone but Sue Ann in the story about a kitten.

"Don't you want to know what happened to Fluffy?" she asked the fidgety child beside her.

"Mrs. Smith," Sue Ann answered softly, "you know I'm allergic to cats."

HOSPITAL NEWS

ATHLETIC BOOSTER CLUB MEETS

About 25 members of the Mentone Athletic Booster Club met Tuesday evening, Jan. 26, in the Vo-Ag room for the election of officers and to discuss future activities.

The following were elected for 1960:

Harold "Macy" Nelson, president.

Joe "Spike" Long, vice president.

Paul Rush, secretary-treasurer.

During the business session it was voted that the club would sponsor the annual pot-luck dinner and athletic awards program which will be held March 11. James Beeson was selected to be general chairman. Other committee heads are Macy Nelson, program; Loren Tridle and Mrs. Hershel Teel, food planning; Paul Bateman and Bob Hewlett, tables and chairs; H. V. Johns and Forst Dunnuck, decorations.

The evening concluded with a talk on the county tourney and other basketball affairs by Coach Bateman, and the usual basketball "bull" session.

The consensus of opinion was that the Mentone Bulldog teams have brought the community a great amount of prestige and outstanding sports achievement in recent weeks. The fans, parents and the community wish to commend the boys, coaches, cheer leaders, the pep club and the school administration on their success. There seems to be a lot of faith developing, that our team can achieve the next big goal and win the sectional. The next meeting will be on Feb. 9 in the Vo-Ag room, 7:30. All meetings are open to the public. It's fun to be a Bulldog Booster — join the club now. We need more members.

Feed Required Per Dozen Eggs

A four-pound hen makes seven eggs from about a pound of feed. So does a seven-pound hen.

But, as Roy Roberts, Purdue University extension poultryman points out, before either uses feed to make eggs she eats several pounds of feed to keep herself going. Here is where the smaller hen has the edge—she runs a smaller machine.

From the feed they eat these egg machines must keep their hearts ticking at about 300 beats per minute and maintain a body temperature of 105 to 107 degrees F. Other feed energy is used for breathing, digestion of feed and exercise. More feed is needed to repair protein tissue and replace loss of minerals.
These maintenance requirements must be met first. Then any feed that is left can be used to make eggs.

The yearly feed consumption of a laying hen can be estimated by this formula: 25 plus (eight times weight of hen) plus (eggs laid divided by seven).

In this formula, the 25 is a constant figure. Each extra lb.
of body weight adds eight lbs.
to the yearly feed requirement.
Also each seven eggs adds one pound.

By substituting in this formula you find that a four-pound hen needs 25 plus 32 or 57 pounds of feed just to keep going. To lay 175 eggs she needs 25 pounds or more, or a total of 82 pounds—5.6 pounds of feed per dozen eggs.

To produce 245 eggs this same hen requires only ten lbs.
more feed, a total of 92 pounds
—4.5 pounds per dozen eggs.
But a seven-pound hen needs 25 plus 56 or 81 pounds of feed for maintenance. To lay 175 eggs she needs 106 pounds of feed
—7.3 pounds per dozen eggs.
For 245 eggs she needs 116 pounds—5.7 pounds per dozen eggs.

Hens fed a high energy, low fiber ration should beat these figures somewhat. Feed wastage increases the feed needed per dozen eggs.

This formula, Roberts explains, estimates feed consumption for the entire year. You can kid yourself if you figure feed efficiency just for peak production periods, he says.

Moral: heavy-low-producers are not efficient-egg-machines.

Feed Grain Stocks Increase

Stocks of feed grains stored on Indiana farms Jan. 1 totaled seven percent more than last year and 20 percent higher than the 10-year (1949-58) average, state-federal agricultural statisticians at Purdue University report.

Farm-stored corn amounted to 237.9 million bushels, 14 percent above the Jan. 1, 1959, level and 28 percent more than the 10-year average. These stocks accounted for the high level of feed grain stocks on farms, the statisticians explained.

Oats stocks on farms totaled 19.6 million bushels, 63 percent of last year; barley stocks at 658,000 bushels were 20 percent lower than last year and sorghum grains amounting to 452,000 bushels were 41 percent below the Jan. 1, 1959, figure.

A sharp decline in wheat stored on farms was reported. The total, 2.6 million bushels, was 55 percent less than a year ago and also the 10-year average.

Soybean stocks on farms at 24 million bushels were three percent higher than a year ago and 58 percent above average.

Hay on farms totaled 1.6 million tons, 13 percent less than both last year and the 10-year average.

Add Little to Wheat Surplus

Indiana farmers contribute little to the country's wheat surpluses, points out a Purdue University agricultural economist.

W. S. Farris says only three-tenths of one percent of the billion bushel Commodity Credit Corporation-owned wheat stocks are soft red winter wheat. Indiana's production consists almost entirely of soft red winter wheat, used for making cakes and pastries. Illinois and Ohio are other major producers of this type wheat.

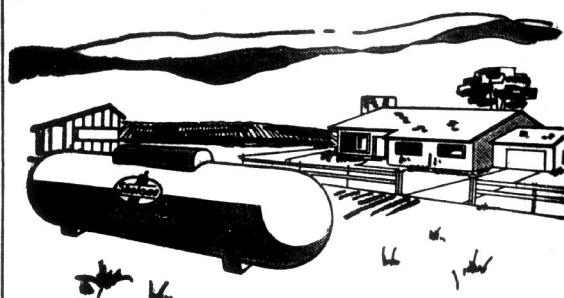

The economist explains that most of the soft wheat production each year is sold and used. Thus, carryover stocks of this type wheat are not large. For instance, the 1959 soft wheat crop amounted to 168 million bushels, or 15 percent of the total wheat production. As of last October 1, the CCC-owned stocks totaled 3.7 million bushels of soft wheat or 3 percent of the entire CCC-held stocks. The estimated carryover of this type wheat as of next July 1 will be 21 million bushels, or only 1.5 percent of the total wheat carryover.

Total wheat carryover stocks have risen from 256 million bushels in 1951 to an estimated 1,360 million bushels by the end of the 1960 harvest. Soft red winter wheat, however, has increased only slightly—16 million to 12 million bushels—during the same period, Farris asserts.

Indiana winter wheat acreage, planted last fall, is down one percent from 1959. Production prospects appear improved, however, because of favorable fall moisture conditions.

Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Goodman and son were Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Peterson. Miss Carol Dillman of Warsaw was an afternoon caller.

For Girls Who May Attend Purdue

February 5 is the final application date for residence in the Twin Pines Cooperative House at Purdue University. Mrs. Ruth McCleary, Home Demonstration Agent in Kosciusko County, explains that this cooperative house gives girls an opportunity to reduce expenses while attending Purdue University, since all girls living in the house share the work and costs.

The Twin Pines Cooperative House, sponsored by the Indiana Home Demonstration Association, was built to encourage girls to attend college and major in home economics.

Any girl who expects to attend Purdue in the fall of 1960 may obtain further information on the Twin Pines house by contacting any Home Demonstration Club president in Kosciusko County.

Feeder Cattle Numbers Down

Cattle and calves in Indiana feed lots Jan. 1 totaled 224,000, 12 percent fewer than a year earlier, but seasonally larger than the 137,000 last Oct. 1, report state-federal agricultural statisticians at Purdue University.

Feeder cattle weighing 900 pounds or more totaled 36,000, 16 percent of the Jan. 1 total. Cattle on feed three months or longer totaled 47,000 or 21 percent. Cattle on feed fewer than three months numbered 177,000 or 79 percent. This contrasts with the situation a year ago when 82 percent of the total had been on feed fewer than three months.

Steers made up 64 percent and heifers 35 percent of the animals on feed Jan. 1.

Cattle feeders report they intend to market 81,000 head or 36 percent during the next three months. This represents about the same rate of marketing as a year earlier.

Harosoy Leading Soybean Variety

Harosoy held its first place popularity with Indiana soybean growers last year, report state-federal agricultural statisticians at Purdue University. This early, high-yielding variety also was the 1958 leader.

Forty percent of the state's soybeans acreage was planted to Harosoy, compared to 27 percent for Hawkeye, second most popular variety. Harosoy showed acreage gains in all areas of Indiana except the south central section. More than 90 percent of the total acreage of these varieties lies in the northern two-thirds of the state.

Clark, with 17 percent of the acreage, was the third most popular variety. Nearly half the acreage planted to this variety lies in the southwestern part of Indiana. Lincoln held its fourth place for the second year and Blackhawk again ranked fifth.

The statisticians list these other varieties with measurable amounts of acreage: Shelby, distributed throughout the state; Adams, mostly in central sections; Lindarin, north and Wabash, southern counties.

As in 1958, 42 percent of the farmers indicated they fertilized all or part of their crop. Rate of application averaged 133 pounds an acre, compared to 139 pounds in 1958. Sixty-four percent of the growers, slightly fewer than in 1958, inoculated their seed.

Chevrolet speaks of the Sixties like no other car—with a broad accent on spaciousness, stirring new concepts in styling and strong emphasis on spirit and thrift.

Step inside this superlative '60 and look at the worlds of room around you: head room, hip room, shoulder-squaring room. Note how Chevrolet's engineers have further flattened and narrowed the transmission tunnel to give the middle man more foot room. Chevrolet's greater roominess is inside where you want it—not outside in useless body overhang.

You'll find economy teamed with performance in a new standard V8, engineered to deliver up to 10% more miles for every gallon, or the strapping Hi-Thrift 6.

And riding comfort in the new one is a never-ending treat, thanks to Full Coil spring suspension. There are also thicker, newly designed body mounts that filter noise and vibration to the vanishing point, more rigid frame and many other engineering advances.

But you'll have to drive the Sixty sizzler yourself—that's the clincher.

Why not see your Chevrolet dealer now—for a drive and the happy details on Chevy's new lower prices.

Paneling Publication Available

"How to install and finish Hardwood Lumber Paneling," a new publication written especially for "do-it-yourself" home owners, is available from the Purdue University Agricultural Extensive Service. This "how-to-do-it" manual, Extension Circular 424, is a complete revision of an earlier edition.

Fourteen illustrations show how a finish job looks, how to stack the lumber before installation, how to prepare old or new walls on which to attach the new paneling, how to nail the tongue in the groove without splitting, and how to work around windows, doors or corners. Ideas for veneer overlays to cover up ugly knots are illustrated and described.

How to calculate the amount of paneling needed is among the informative topics. Other sections list tools and materials needed, species suitable from light colored soft maple to dark walnut, and appropriate width, length and thickness of the boards.

A section on sanding and finishing with emphasis on types of finishes rounds out the information in this booklet. A short bibliography of related publications is listed.

Indiana residents may receive without charge a copy of Extension Circular 424, "How to Install and Finish Hardwood Lumber Paneling", by writing to the Agricultural Publications office, AES building, Purdue University, Lafayette. The circular also is available at County extension offices.
