TOWN BOARD APPOINTMENTS

At a meeting of the Mentone Town Board, held on Monday morning, Jan. 1, the following appointments were made:

Fire Chief, Lyman Mollenhour.

Assistant fire chief, Gilbert Griffith.

Chief of Police, Gene Norton.

Supt. of Public Works, Ed. Davis.

Cemetery caretaker, Ben Scarborough.

Town attorney, Brooks Pinnick.

At the reorganization meeting of the town board, Harold Utter was named chairman. The other trustees are Loren Tridle and O. L. McFadden.

At a previous meeting Dec. 28th, the trustees agreed to purchase a used police car from the Berkeypile Chevrolet Sales at Bourbon. The 1960 vehicle is fully equipped and had been owned by the town of Bourbon.

The 1959 Chevrolet pickup that has been used as a police car in Mentone, will be kept and used by the water department as well as secondary police duty.

FATHER DIES

Funerals services were held Monday at Rochester for Lee Moore, 81, of Rochester, father of Mrs. Harold Nelson of Mentone, who died Saturday at 12:30 p. m. at his home. He had been ill for the past six months.

Mr. Moore was Fulton county recorder for two terms, worked at the W. C. Miller Hardware in Akron for 30 years, and was a dealer in office furniture prior to his illness.

The deceased was born near Kewanna July 14, 1880, to William and Saloma (Atkinson) Moore and spent most of his life in Fulton county. Oct. 23, 1897, he married Cora Zechiel in Culver. She survives, along with the daughter named above and another daughter, Zelda Bell of Rochester; two sons, William of Sacramento, California, and N. Clair of Akron; 10 grandchildren and 16 great-grandchildren.

Rev. Thomas L. Stovall, former pastor of the Rochester Methodist church and now of Lafayette, officiated. Burial was in the IOOF cemetery in Rochester with the Foster & Good funeral home in charge.

Miss Bonnie Cochran is quite ill with pneumonia.

Dinner Honoring Arlo Friesner

Arlo Friesner, who has served Mentone as fire chief for the past 30 years, was honored with a banquet dinner held at Pete's Restaurant last Thursday evening. Sixteen-ounce steaks were served to the firemen, their wives and some former members of the department. Forty-seven were present.

Foster Jones, of Warsaw, was the speaker for the occasion and was his usual capable self in entertaining the group.

Mr. Friesner joined the Mentone Fire Department in 1927 and has been continuously active since that date. He has always had the complete confidence and cooperation of the boys on the department, and the losses from fire throughout the years here has been the envy of neighboring departments. Many major fires have occurred during the period, and there has been very few injuries to fireman through Chief Friesner's tenure.

A year ago Mr. Friesner, because of business obligations, attempted to resign from the fire chief position, but the town board and firemen talked him out of it. Reluctantly he agreed to remain one more year and warned the councilmen to have a new appointee by Jan. 1, 1962.

The firemen, in appreciation of Mr. Friesner and his wife for their years of service, presented them with a small piece of a rug in an envelope. Inside the rug sample was $150.00 as a gift.

LIONS MEET WEDNESDAY EVENING AT THE SCHOOL

The first meeting in 1962 for the Mentone Lions Club was held at the Mentone school on Wednesday evening. District Governor Don Kehoe of Elkhart was a guest and spoke to the group. He was accompanied by Lions Fred Anglin and Bob Troyer of Leesburg.

Wednesday night, Jan. 17, will be ladies' night for the Mentone club and plans are for the group to meet at some out-of-town establishment for the banquet meal and program.

The special speaker for the evening will be Bob Jackson, of Indianapolis, who has been state chairman of the Crusade for Freedom program, has visited Europe and appeared on the Voice of America. He has also been involved in the Government in Action program. He is expected to present a fine program of interest to all.

COUNTERPOINT

By The Editor's Wife

That strange noise you hear is not new—it is seasonal. About this time in January, one becomes aware of it. The volume seems to be, for each individual, in proportion to the number of New Year's resolutions — (the more you make, the more you break)—so—more noise.

This year Easter comes on April 22nd. It seems a too early Easter, or late, hurts sales.

Other calendar news (which will be unpleasant for the man who writes the checks) is that there will be four five-Friday months—March, June, August, and November. This is good news for the merchant, however.

A newcomer has been reported by Mentone bird-watchers. It is the Evening Grosbeak, and is about the size of the Cardinal. Its coloring is black, white, and brownish yellow. Dr. Torrey Peterson, speaking on Tuesday's Today television program, called them an "eruptive" visitor, because their behavior and flight patterns are not predictable.

One day recently, at lunch, Lisa complained that she "always got the glass with the funny place in it." (It was a sound glass, as I never keep a cracked dish, cup, or glass, but there was a flaw which resembled a crack.) The solution was simple—the little "cheese spread" glass was tossed in the trash can. (Grandfather remembered that when he was a boy at home there was an uneven plate that always seemed to be at his place.)

Have been wondering if we used the best solution. Can one use these small things to teach a child that life is full of unpleasant little incidents, and that it takes ingenuity to cope with some of them, or character to live with others?

Note on communism:

Dr. Clarence Manion said: "Out of our confused councils comes but one clear and chilling certainty, namely the responsibility for defeating Communism and thus saving the world for the Christian ethic, has fallen like lead upon the people of the United States. Primarily, this heavy responsibility is not collective, corporate, organizational or governmental. It will reach those stages ultimately but,

CHARLES BESSON BURIED WEDNESDAY

Funeral services were held at two o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the Reed funeral home here for Charles W. Besson, 81, who died at his home at 11:50 Monday morning.

Rev. Roger Wrigley, pastor of the Methodist church, officiated and burial was in the Palestine cemetery.

Mr. Besson had been in poor health for three years and in the Woodlawn hospital at Rochester for three weeks just prior to his death.

The deceased had resided in Harrison township nearly all his life. He was born there Aug. 22, 1880, to William and Josephine (Grant) Besson. Feb. 22, 1911 he was married to Bertha Shilling, who survives. A retired farmer, he was a member of the Methodist church.

Other survivors include five sons, Earl and Everett, both of this place, Dale of Warsaw, John of Leesburg and Paul of Claypool; one daughter, Mrs. Thelma Eaton, Mentone; 14 grandchildren, and one great-grandchild. A son, Wayne, preceded him in death.

STEP-BROTHER DIES

Joseph C. Swain, 76, of Akron and step-brother of Adolph Bagdon, also of Akron, died of complications last Wednesday in the Veteran's Hospital in Indianapolis. He had been in failing health for several years. He was a member of the Akron American Legion and a veteran of World War I.

Funeral services were held at the Hauptert funeral home in Akron Saturday, with burial at Akron.

CALENDAR

The Friendly Neighbors Home Economics club will meet Thursday, January 4 at 1:30 p.m. in the social room of Peterson's restaurant with Myrtle Wentzel hostess. Members of other clubs have been invited to hear Mr. Beer of Milford speak on landscaping.

Merry Mollies Home Demonstration club will meet January 8 at 7:30 p.m. at Pete's restaurant with Mrs. Glen Putterbaugh as hostess.

Mothers of World War II will meet January 10 at 7:00 at the home of Bell Morrison.

Mentone Home Demonstration club will meet January 11 at 1:30 p.m. with Mrs. Eve Laird.

MENTONE WINS HOLIDAY TOURNEY

The Mentone basketball boys encountered no difficulty in attaining the championship at the 4-way tourney held at Akron on Friday and Saturday evenings. They took Beaver Dam 96 to 56 Friday evening and then went on to defeat Silver Lake in the championship game on Saturday evening 91 to 51, for a margin of 40 points in each of their games.

Silver Lake defeated Akron 65 to 63 in their opening game, and in the consolation tilt on Saturday night, Beaver Dam overtook Akron 67 to 50.

Some of the team statistics will be found elsewhere in this issue.

TO BROADCAST ETNA GREEN GAME HERE

The basketball game between Etna Green and Mentone will be broadcast over WRSW radio Friday evening.

This is Etna Green's home game but is being played at Mentone because of the larger seating capacity of the gym.

ADULT FARM CLASS TO START MONDAY

The first 1962 adult farmer class will begin Monday night, Jan. 8 at 7:30 in the Mentone school Ag. room.

Morris Bitzer, vocational agricultural instructor, extends an invitation to all to attend any or all the meetings. Meetings will be held each Monday night for ten weeks.

TO FORM SCOUT TROOP

All boys interested in scouting are advised to bring their registration blanks and contact Wayne Tombaugh by Saturday.

Bill Reed has been selected as scoutmaster, with James Manwaring as the assistant.

HONORED AT I. U.

Miss Pam Hammer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Zanna Hammer of Mentone and a student at Indiana University, was selected by the men of Hummer House, as their "Sweetheart of 1962." They printed her picture on the dormitory bulletin.

Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Johns arrived back in Mentone Monday afternoon after visiting with their son and family in Riverside, California over the holidays.

MENTONE PARK BOARD REVIEWS

The Mentone Park Board, which has been operating for the past year under the leadership of Bill Rathbun, Ned Igo, Marie Coleman and Denton Abbey, wishes to take this opportunity to review its accomplishments as well as to thank many of those who helped in these endeavors.

A quick glance at the past will show that we have, in our first year, graded the east half of the park, trimmed trees and brush along the river bank, erected the backstop for the ball field, built a shelter building, which will eventually contain a fire place, started the fence for the parking area on the north side, built six picnic tables, trash barrels have been obtained, fire places for cooking have been built and the ice skating rink. This last item on the agenda has seemingly met with great popularity this past month. For this addition we want to give credit to the Lions club, which both sponsored and paid for the rink. It is hoped this can be improved in the next year. Also, in the very near future there will be lights for the entire park. The NIPSCO is now engaged in getting poles and service for this project.

For all this we are grateful. To the Lions club, which has sponsored many of these projects and to those individuals who have spent considerable time working on them—Clarence Eiler, William Schooley, Tom Harman, Art Kendel, Leroy Cox, Adam Cochran, Paul Rush, Jim Tibbetts, Roger Wrigley, Lloyd Bowerman, Kenny Romine, Gilbert Griffith, Dave Bowser, Bernard Cole and Marion Smith. A number of others helped, for which we are happy, but right now their names escape us. So to all who helped we say thanks, and we will see you come spring.

We also want to thank the Manwaring Farms, Herman Olson, Darrel Tucker, Ralph Warren, Raymond Lewis and Dan Urschel for the loan of machinery and labor.

The Girl Scouts, the first organization to participate, planted a tulip tree last spring. This is our state tree. The Girl Scouts hoped this would be a symbol of civic unity and achievement.

We want, at this time, to thank the Mahlon Mentzer estate and his many friends. It was the wish of Mahlon that something be done in his memory, rather than flowers that bloom for a day. So at his request many of his friends gave money to the park to extend this area of civic improvement. At this writing, the Park Board has received an amount in excess of $500.00 from this cause. And so we want to convey a special "thank you" to all those who remembered Mahlon so well in giving to the park.

We want also to acknowledge gifts from interested persons in memory of Curt Riner and Jack VanGilder.

Financially the Park Board has spent about $550.00 this past year. We have enough cash on hand to carry on some additional work in 1962. The extent of this program again depending on the labor and money donated by those of you who are interested.

All in all, it has been a good year for the park, and for Mentone. We hope we can continue the improvements in the years to come. There is much to be done so it behooves us all to examine our civic pride and help do those things that will make Mentone, in the years to come, a town that our children can be proud to say, is MY HOME TOWN.

COUNTY H.D. COUNCIL MEETING

The first meeting of the Kosciusko County Home Demonstration Council will be held at 1:00 p.m., Friday, January 5, 1962, at the Women's Building, Warsaw Fairgrounds. All Home Demonstration clubs are expected to have representation at the meeting by either their presidents or vice presidents.

Program for 1962 will be discussed with Mrs. Jacob Tusing, Jr., Milford, 1962 president, as chairman of the meeting. Other county officers are 1st vice president, Mrs. Dale Cauffman, Claypool; 2nd vice president, Mrs. Amer Koontz, Sidney; secretary, Mrs. Floyd Faurate, Pierceton; ass't. secretary, Mrs. Weldon Kincaide, Warsaw; treasurer, Mrs. Kenneth Romine, Mentone; ass't. treasurer, Mrs. Don Wentzel, Mentone; past co. president, Mrs. Francis Reece, Claypool; advisor, Mrs. Herbert McCleary, Home Demonstration Agent.

Mrs. Walters Hostess To T.H.E. Club

The Talma Home Economics club met in the home of Mrs. Harold Walters for their annual carry-in dinner and Christmas party. There were twelve members and one guest, Mrs. Doris Holloway, and one child, Barbara Johnson present. Mrs. Verdine Brockey gave thanks before the meal.

To open the meeting, Joy To The World, and, Jingle Bells were sung. Mrs. Ann Staldine read the Christmas story from Luke 2 for devotions. She also read an article entitled, "Open Wide the Doors for Christmas". Roll call was to reveal their sunshine friend. Mrs. Walters gave a report on the county Christmas party she had attended. Mrs. Leroy Grossman gave a report on the choristers meeting. The history of the song of the month, Silent Night, was given by Mrs. Verdine Brockey. She then led in singing this song.

A gift was presented to Mrs. E. C. McGowan, the outgoing president. Sunshine friends were drawn for 1962. The club collect was said in unison to close the meeting. A grab bag gift exchange was then enjoyed. Mrs. Mell McGowan conducted contests with prizes going to Mrs. Elgie Vandermark, Mrs. Ann Staldine and Mrs. Doris Holloway. Mrs. Brockey won the door prize. The January meeting will be with Mrs. E. C. McGowan.

Good Pasture For Sows

What is good sow pasture worth? Progressive swine raisers have known for many years that forage crops have their greatest value on a hog farm when grazed by their breeding herd. So Purdue University extension swine specialists Dick Hollandbeck and Jim Foster sought the dollar and cents answer to the question, "What is a good sow pasture worth?"

The specialists queried some 200 Indiana commercial hog raisers in all parts of the state. They found nine of ten of these farmers use pasture in their hog enterprise. They reported further that:

Bred sows on pasture were fed 2.04 pounds less grain per head daily than those in dry lot. At 2.5 cents a pound, this savings amounts to $5.10 per sow for 100 days. The pasture-fed sows also received .45 pounds less protein supplement. At $5.70 per hundredweight, this gives an additional savings of $2.62 per sow for the 100 days. Thus, total average feed saving was $7.72 per sow. Nine sows per acre give a return of $69.48 per acre.

More than one-third of the farmers said bred sows fed on pasture produced more pigs per litter.

Two of three indicated that, since their bred sows were on good pasture, their pigs were stronger at birth.

Sows fed on good pasture during gestation and at least part of the lactation period almost consistently weaned more pigs per litter than those denied access to green forage.

While milk production in sows is difficult to measure, more than two-thirds of the hog raisers said they believed good pasture caused their sows to give more milk.

The new ice skating rink at the Mentone City Park has been providing a lot of pleasure to the youngsters of the area these days.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear husband and daddy, J. Arthur Witham, who left us three years ago, January 3rd.

My darling, the years pass, but with each passing year the memory of you grows more dear and precious. Altho' your book of life on earth is ended, a sequel is being started in the beautiful land, free from all pain and heartbreak. We know we soon shall join you in your new book of life which will never have an ending. May God bless and keep your soul safe in His love until we meet again.

WCSA Meets With Mrs. Wilson

A prelude of Christmas carols welcomed the ladies of the Woman's Society of Christian Service as they gathered in the beautifully decorated home of Mrs. Wymond Wilson for their December meeting on December 21st.

The program, presented by Mrs. Jerry Hudson, Mrs. Carl Whetstone and Mrs. Bill Boardman opened with the group singing "Joy To The World." Scripture, read by Mrs. Anthony Hurst, was taken from Mark and Luke.

Three-dimensional Christmas cards from other countries, were then presented. As each card, with a scene depicting the country which it represented, was presented a letter was read from that country telling the way in which Christmas was celebrated there.

Mrs. Roger Wrigley gave the closing prayer and the program closed with the group singing "It Came Upon The Midnight Clear."

Following a brief business meeting, during which our shut-ins were remembered, Mrs. F. B. Davison read a delightful story, entitled "The Stubborn Unbeliever."

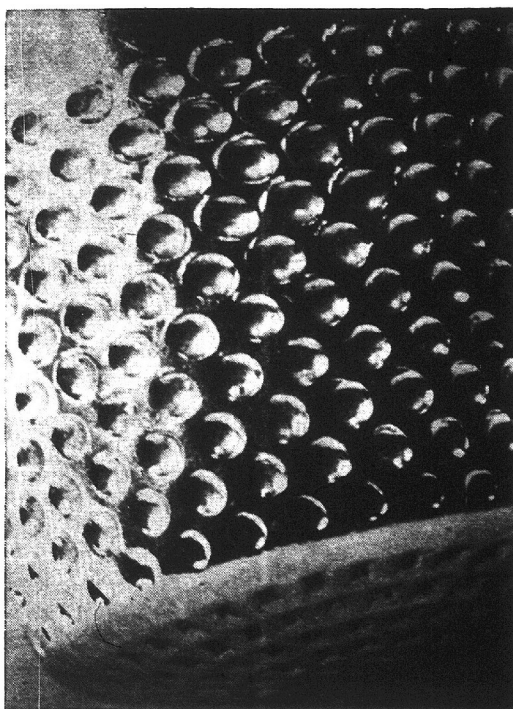

Following a gift exchange, lovely refreshments were served by Mrs. Davison, Mrs. Harold Nelson and Mrs. Allen Herndon.

Jerry Hudson's "What-Is-It?"

Here is another one of Jerry Hudson's "What-Is-Its".

If you guessed last week that the picture was a part of a lady's earring you were correct.

The picture here could be the scales on some unusual fish, beads of sweat on some hard-working slave or a bowl of tapioca after a brief cooking. This one isn't so tough, but wait and see what we've got coming up shortly.

Mr. Hudson, who is a commercial photographer, loves to experiment with the unusual, so you can expect most anything to come out of his darkroom.

Free "Guide In Managing Money"

Mrs. Ruth McCleary, Home Demonstration Agent, reports that a guide for managing money, which many families use for their household accounts, is now available in the Kosciusko County Extension Office in the basement of the Court house in Warsaw.

All who participated in the TV Money Management series over W.S.B.T. and all who are in the Better Farming-Better Living program are familiar with the book. It provides a fine record for a year's household expenses.

Anyone interested in keeping home accounts should inquire about a copy. There is no charge for them and they are from Purdue University.

Mrs. Ora McKinley returned to her home here Thursday after spending several days with Dwayne McKinley and Mr. and Mrs. Larry McKinley and son in Dayton, Ohio.

Custom Farm Work Rates

"Custom Rates Charged for the Use of Power Operated Farm Machines" is the title of a revised extension publication, EC-130 (Revised), by A. M. Nichter, Purdue University agricultural economist.

This publication is a compilation of custom rates as reported by more than 700 Indiana farmers and custom operators. Reports, from every section of the state, are from those farmers who have hired custom work done and from operators who have done custom work for others.

The contents of the publication provide farmers with information concerning custom rates paid by Indiana farmers in 1960 and 1961 for various power operated farm machines.

Custom rates are given by counties and averaged by areas—northern, central and southern.

Rates in the publication include charge for plowing, discing, planting corn and soybeans, combining small grain, baling hay and straw, picking corn and many other operations commonly done on a custom basis.

Also included are rates for spraying corn, applying anhydrous ammonia, field harvesting ensilage and bulldozing.

Copies of this report may be obtained from county agricultural extension offices or by writing the Agricultural Publications Office, AES Building, Purdue University, Lafayette, Indiana. It is free to Indiana residents.

Plant The Proper Trees

Choosing a tree variety is a long term decision, since even short lived trees live dozens of years. Therefore, it pays to plant recommended varieties, advise Purdue University horticulturists.

Planting recommended trees will pay dividends, since they survive Indiana winters and flourish. Also, they are strong and have good growth habits.

Purdue horticulturists recommend the medium-hard, fast growing red maple or tulip tree. Three other trees which are harder but slower growing include the Norway maple, the sugar maple and the red oak.

Avoid selecting trees that are weak-wooded and easily destroyed by a wind storm, such as Ailanthus, the so-called Tree of Heaven; silver maple, willow, cottonwood and the Siberian or Chinese elm.

For further information on tree varieties secure Purdue Mimeo HO 81-1, "Some Woody Ornamental Plant Materials for Indiana," available from Indiana agricultural extension offices or the Agricultural Publications Office, AES Building, Purdue University, Lafayette. Single copies are free to Indiana residents.

1961 Purdue AES Research

A milk testing device that can detect sediment before the milk enters the dairy—a high yielding oat, the most total disease resistant of any variety now available—a full season soybean, best adapted to southern Indiana—an algae generator capable of producing feed for small animals—a semi-automatic pond water purification system.

These are some of the 1961 research advances and accomplishments of Purdue University's agricultural experiment station.

Milk consumers will have a more wholesome product as a result of the milk testing device developed by Purdue dairy scientists. The device, a modified sediment tester, provides a rapid, practical, on-the-farm sediment test for milk. Thus, samples can be tested on each farm rather than after milk from several farms has been mixed in the tank truck.

Pulnam 61, the new oat variety, will be available to Indiana farmers for planting next spring. Seedsmen raised nearly 1,500 acres of this variety for seed multiplication this year.

Kent, the new soybean, offers high yields, high oil content and lodging resistance. Its disease resistance includes the downy mildew that occurs in Indiana and frog-eye leaf spot. The increased oil content of this new soybean may mean more fat in the diet of hungry people around the world.

Purdue horticultural food scientists devised an algae generator which experimentally produced food for small animals, such as poultry. This device, as a component of a closed cycle food factory, could provide sustenance for developing countries experiencing population explosions. Too, it could be of great importance in the event of a national emergency affecting normal food production facilities of a country.

At Purdue University's southern Indiana forage farm in Dubois county, scientists developed a semi-automatic farm water treatment system to provide clean water for the dairy enterprise and drinking water for two residences. Water from a farm pond is filtered and purified by the system. This system could be easily adapted for urban areas where conventional water supplies are difficult to maintain. Several collection ponds equipped with this treatment system could supply drinking water for a large population.

Purdue established in 1961 an Institute for Agricultural Utilization Research. Objectives of the Institute are to find industrial uses for agricultural crops in over supply, to develop new crops with industrial importance to occupy some of the acreage devoted to those in over supply and to find industrial uses for crop residues.

District Pure Milk Meeting Jan. 11

A. L. McWilliams, General Manager of Pure Milk Association, will address the annual meeting of PMA, District 18, at Winamac, Thursday, January 11.

About 550 dairy farmers from the following counties in Indiana are members of district 18: Benton, Carroll, Cass, Elkhart, Fulton, Grant, Jasper, Kosciusko, Lake, Laporte, Marshall, Miami, Newton, Noble, Porter, Pulaski, St. Joseph, Starke, Wabash, White and Whitley. A few members are from Iroquois and Kankakee counties in Illinois.

The meeting will be held in the VFW hall at the south end of town on the east side of U.S. Hwy. 35. Officers and delegates are to meet at 10:30 a.m. Luncheon will be served free to members and wives at 12:00 noon. Election of all officers, including district director, will follow.

Farm Science Day Jan. 16

An agricultural pesticide conference and the annual meeting of the Indiana Farm Management Association will highlight the Farm Science Days program, January 16, 1962, at Purdue University.

"What should we do to meet the Communist threat?" will be the theme of the farm management group program. Industry representatives will report on new developments in pesticides to open the two-day pesticide conference.

Don Paarlberg, distinguished professor of agricultural economics at Purdue, and Charles W. Yost, deputy representative of the United States to the United Nations, will speak at the morning-farm management session.

The Association's banquet will be held at noon. Then Clarence B. Randall, former foreign policy advisor to President Eisenhower and chairman of the board, Inland Steel, will speak. Open discussion will follow.

The pesticide conference afternoon session will begin with a panel discussion on soil insecticides with special reference to winter treatments. Then Purdue entomologists will discuss "Mite Control in Fruit Orchards" and "Research on Le-

Clifford B. Ward said: "Nothing serves more the forces of evil, and 'militant atheism' as an evil, than those good people who say, 'I'm not a fighter, I don't like controversy, I just want to be let alone.'"

But, if there is a God, and many are certain there is, it is inconceivable that they would not line up on His side of the argument with evil, lest they be put to inconvenience."

COUNTY TOURNEY
STARTS AGAIN

The county basketball tourney opened at Syracuse this Wednesday evening with Pierceton and Leesburg playing the first game. Pierceton won 78 to 54. North Webster and Beaver Dam played in the second game, with the Webster boys winning 78 to 46.

Thursday evening Syracuse and Claypool play in the first game while Mentone plays Atwood in the second game.

In the upper bracket, Sidney and Etna Green play the first game at 1:30 Friday afternoon. Milford and Silver Lake play in the second game.

Friday evening the winners in Wednesday night's games play first, with the Thursday night winners coming together in the second game.

Saturday at 1:00 p. m. these winners play, while the two winners in the upper bracket play at 2:30.

Name Change At Feed Mill Here

Starting January first the former Red Comb Pioneer Mill at Mentone changed to the title of Hales & Hunter Co. The famous Red Comb Pioneer brand of feeds will be maintained. This brand has been in use since the year 1902.

At the present time the local feed manufacturing concern is constructing eight new 30-ton ingredient bins and a new warehouse for finished feeds that is to be 120-ft. long. Manager Lloyd Bowerman states that when the improvements are completed the public will be invited to come in and inspect their plant and operation.

Two other feed manufacturing concerns in Mentone, and the large Hales & Hunter operation, gives Mentone one of the greatest concentrations of feed manufacturing concerns in this part of the state.

BLOOD BANK AT MENTONE
FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 9

Mrs. Joe Boggs announces that the Red Cross Blood Bank will be at Mentone Feb. 9th. (Place and time will be announced at a later date.)

The Psi Iota Xi Sorority and the American Legion are soliciting donors, so contact any of the members of these organizations for appointments or literature, or you may call Mrs. Boggs at EL 3-3929.

BEN BLUE
DIES FRIDAY

Benjamin J. Blue, 94, a native of Mentone, died of complications at 9 p. m. Friday in the Prairie-View rest home at Warsaw. He had been seriously ill two months. Mr. Blue's home was at Route 5, Kendallville. A retired lumberman, he was the father of Melva Blue, Sr., Mrs. Julia Lane and Mrs. Marie Ross, all of Warsaw.

Born in Mentone December 23, 1867, he was the son of Peter and Elizabeth (Johnson) Blue. On January 1, 1887 he was married to Amanda Whetstone of Mentone. She died in 1950.

Surviving are two sons, Marshall Blue, Union Grove, Wisconsin and Melva Blue, Sr., Warsaw; three daughters, Mrs. Lane and Mrs. Marie Ross, Warsaw, and Mrs. Zoah Ross, Kendallville; a sister, Mrs. Etta Halterman, Mentone; 29 grandchildren, 63 great-grandchildren and 25 great-great-grandchildren.

Rev. O. L. Olson, pastor of the Warsaw Church of God, officiated at a service in the Landis funeral home at Warsaw at 1 p. m. Monday. Burial was in Mentone cemetery.

Outlook Fair For Farmer In 1962

The Mentone Adult Farmer class held its first meeting Monday night, and discussed the 1962 farm outlook. The national economy is expected to increase in the year ahead but the income of the farmer will be about the same as for 1961. The hog outlook is going to be fairly steady for this year which is encouraging to the hog farmer. The poultry industry is expected to be put in a bind again with prices expected to average 6 to 8 cents below last year.

At the end of the first meeting, many farmers were buying and selling some of their products which had been given to them in a special marketing problem. The buying and selling is done on the prices taken from the Drovers Journal.

Next Monday night will be the last chance for any farmers who were not present at the first meeting to take part in this problem.

Twenty-four farmers were in attendance Monday night and refreshments were enjoyed by all and several of the farmers took part in a game of basketball after the meeting.

COUNTERPOINT

By The Editor's Wife

Did you know that record companies (musical) are losing millions of dollars in record sales because owners of tape recorders tape their favorite pieces from radio or TV broadcasts?

Now there is a new invention which may change all this. It is a device which broadcasts an inaudible tone along with the music. When the taped music is played, the ruinous sour note appears. However, the radio or TV stations may not use this device without permission.

Charles V. Neal, Jr., writer of a financial advice column, says that successful home budgeting relies on will power and self-discipline, and the ability to fight your own "special interests". He says, "You may have a huge appetite, an unreasoning desire for status, a love of luxury, or a craving for self-indulgence of many sorts. Or you may simply be lazy. A human being can stand a great deal of sacrifice if he sees things are getting better, even if ever so slowly."

Mr. Neal has published a Consumers Oath which impressed us. We want to share the points with you from week to week:

1. As a consumer, I shall recognize my obligations to myself and to my society. I shall always save at least one nickel out of each dollar I earn; for in that way I never will be a drain upon others. I shall avoid seeking charity, favors, and things I have not earned. (More next week.)

An interesting quote—"Gossips talk to you about others, bores talk to you about themselves, and good conversationists always talk to you about yourself."

In response to his wife's comment "That man doesn't seem very friendly," this husband (in our town) said, "He doesn't have the face for it!" (Mirror, mirror, on the wall, you'll be busy.)

Note on communism—The most constructive course any American can follow in this time of great peril to America is to feel patriotic, be patriotic, and act patriotic. The Mistaken are afraid of patriotism (Continued on back page)

MENTONE WINS
ANOTHER GAME

The Mentone Bulldogs kept on the winning side Friday night as they won over Etna Green 84 to 66 in a game played in the Mentone gym. The game was a battle during the first half with the Etna Green boys threatening every step of the way. The half ended with Mentone ahead two points, 43-41. In the third period things began to change and Mentone took a 62 to 47 lead at the end of the period. Mentone missed only nine of 43 foul shots, which doomed the boys from up north.

CONTRACT TO BUY
NEW FIRE TRUCK

At a special meeting held on last Thursday evening, Newcastle township of Fulton county and Harrison and Franklin townships of Kosciusko county contracted for the purchase of a new fire truck, to be stationed at Mentone. It will be of a 750-gpm capacity, and mounted on a Chevrolet chassis.

The total price was $17,900 with a $300 trade-in on present equipment.

Boardman Chevrolet of Mentone will furnish the chassis and it will be equipped by the Howe Fire Equipment Company of Anderson.

AT NURSING HOME

John Fenstermaker was moved to the Miller Nursing Home at Rochester Dec. 28th. His condition remains about the same.

MRS. SKIDMORE BURIED MONDAY

Funeral services were conducted in the Foster and Good funeral home at Rochester at 1:30 p. m. Monday for Mrs. Louretta Skidmore, 93, who died at 9:30 a. m. Saturday in the home of her son, Albert Skidmore, R. 2, Rochester. Rev. Graham Marsh officiated and burial was made in the IOOF cemetery at Rochester.

Mrs. Skidmore, who resided with her son, had been ill for the past four weeks.

Born in Powell county, Ky. on Dec. 18, 1868, Mrs. Skidmore had lived in the Talma community since 1923. She was married in Bowen, Ky., to Curtis Skidmore who died in 1940. She was a member of the First Christian church and the Reiter Community Club.

Surviving beside the son are two daughters, Mrs. Sylvia Melton of near Talma and Mrs. Etta Hall, Stanton, Ky.; one sister, Mrs. Emma Golut, Seattle, Washington; 18 grandchildren, 32 great-grandchildren, and 3 great-great-grandchildren.

WARREN PRODUCTS BUYS
WENTZEL FEED BUILDING

Bill Warren, of Warren Products, announced Wednesday that the local boat manufacturing firm had purchased the former Wentzel Feed Building in the west part of Mentone, along the railroad right-of-way. The offices will be moved to the new building and the balance will be used for storage. The main part of the plant in the Mollenhour building will be used for manufacturing, where a 16-hour-a-day shift is being started to keep up with the sales demands.

WITH THE SICK

Harry Zartman is a patient in the Woodlawn hospital at Rochester.

Maude Snyder underwent major surgery at the Murphy Medical Center Friday.

Mrs. George Mollenhour, of Palestine, is also in the Murphy Medical Center where she underwent an operation for varicose veins Tuesday.

NEW DAUGHTER

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Joe Kelley are the parents of a daughter born Thursday, Jan. 3, at the Murphy Medical Center. The new daughter has been named Pamela Jane, and she weighed eight pounds, one ounce.

MILK CARTON BIRD FEEDERS

When snow is on the ground and birds cannot find their own food, homemakers may discover that feeding wild birds is a thoughtful and fascinating hobby.

An enthusiastic bird watcher, Mrs. Walter Rusk, wife of Huntington county agent Walter U.
Rusk, has discovered that elaborate equipment is not necessary to attract and satisfy the birds.
She has devised a novel and inexpensive bird feeders from an ordinary milk carton.

To make this feeder, cut a 2-2½ inch square opening in the "spout" side of an empty half-gallon milk carton. Begin about one inch down from the top, and cut a three-sided flap opening, leaving the bottom of the flap attached to the carton. Roll this flap under to form a perch, tie a small stick under the opening.
Reclose the top of carton with a staple or string, and attach string or wire for hanging it.
Fasten the feeder to eaves or tree branches at a convenient height for observing.

Since wild birds like a variety of foods, Mrs. Rusk suggests using several feeders. Fill a carton with a loose seed mixture of wild bird seed, sunflower seed and shelled corn. Bags of seed are available in grocery and pet shops. Another carton could contain pieces of suet, obtained from the meat counter.

Mrs. Rusk finds that birds like a combination of peanut butter and fat drippings mixed with a corn meal or a chicken mash. Melt any drippings obtained from cooking and mix with the peanut butter. Pour over the fine mash and pack the mixture in the feeder carton.
Birds seem to prefer a mash that does not contain wheat, she says.

Small birds, like the chickadee and titmouse, are attracted to the feeding cartons, often going inside them to eat. Sparrows do not seem to like the feeding cartons, but do eat loose seed and bread scattered on the ground.

Mrs. Rusk has discovered that downy woodpeckers are individualists, refusing to eat through the feeder opening, but drilling holes through the bottom and sides of the carton instead.

To attract blue jays, junks, red birds and squirrels, Mrs.
Rusk scatters a mixture of loose seed and shelled corn on the ground. She has found that squirrels may carry off a whole ear of corn, and that red birds and blue jays often find it difficult to pry the kernels off the cob.

MASONS INSTALL NEW OFFICERS

Installation of new officers was held at the Mentone Masonic lodge on Monday evening at the Masonic hall. Ralph Mollenhour was the installing officer.

The new officers are:
Terry Utter, Marshal.
Orville McFadden, W. M.
Dale Nellans, S. W.
Chester Smith, J. W.
Merle Wilson, Treasurer.
Edward Davis, Secretary.
Bill Boardman, S. D.
Brook Black, J. D.
Gene Marshall, Chaplain.
John Miller, S. S.
Bill Reed, J. S.

Hurry up and wait, the old Army game, is the lament of the commercial air traveler, that Jet Age phenomenon who bolts faster and faster from airport to airport only to bog down in traffic trying to get back and forth to town. And things will get worse before they get better, predicts the Federal Aviation Agency. It estimates that, even now, as much as 60 per cent of the airline patron's travel time is spent on the ground, depending on the length of his journey.
The solution may be a large number of low-capacity aircraft taking passengers to and from the jetport over a widely scattered pattern of origins and destinations, the FAA suggests guardedly. And it points out that any solution is far in the future.

Skim milk drinkers are on the increase. Dairy officials report sales of the low-calorie milk are nine per cent over a year ago while whole milk sales are down one per cent.

Music hath charms to soothe the supermarket shopper and get him or her to buy more than in a non-musical atmosphere, according to a study conducted by Cornell University in Ithaca,
New York, stores. Eight out of ten shoppers like the music, the survey showed. They like it clearly audible but not distracting, and mostly in the light classical or moderately popular vein.

Fishery chemists are looking for new ways to lock in the essential nutritives of fish foods.
One problem: unlike many forms of meat, which improve with controlled aging, fish are at their best when just caught.
Improved handling and refrigeration methods on fishing boats and better processing and storage techniques were examined at a recent Washington meeting of the International Conference of Fish Nutrition.

Automation can be carried too far, as four contrite pleasure boaters can attest. They arrived at their destination—San Pedro, California—unaware that their automatically piloted craft was close enough to home to require a human hand at the wheel. It struck a breakwater and sank.
The four were rescued by the Coast Guard.

Sheep Shearing School Jan. 30-31

The twenty-third annual state sheep shearing school will be held January 30-31 at the Howard Harper farm in Noble County, according to Henry H. Mayo, Purdue University sheep specialist. The Harper farm is one mile south and two and three-quarter miles west of the junction of U.S. highways 6 and 33.

The school will start at 9 a.m.
C.D.T. The first day is reserved for beginners and amateurs and the second day for beginners and professionals. Each person enrolled will have a chance to shear several sheep under supervision.

E. A. Warner, agricultural representative of the Sunbeam Corporation, Chicago, will give shearing instructions and demonstrate sharpening of blades and care of equipment.

There is no registration fee for the school. Reservations should be made with Arthur Howard, Noble county agricultural agent, Albion. Lunch will be served at the Harper farm.

SUPER DOLLAR... THE PLACE TO GO FOR THE BRANDS YOU KNOW!

Marriage of Janet Law, Michael Weber

Miss Janet Law and Michael Weber were united in marriage at 3:30 p. m. Dec. 24, in the Rochester Church of Christ.

Ermil Norman, pastor of the church, read the vows of the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with potted palms and baskets of gladiol.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Law of Tippecanoe. Mr. and Mrs. George Weber, Orondo, Washington, are the parents of the bridegroom.

A vocal quintet composed of Marilyn Horn, Susie Sullivan, and Janice Mollenhour of Mentone, Jay Wilson of North Manchester, and Don Wells of Rochester, presented several selections.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a wedding gown of white taffeta featuring a fitted bodice trimmed in chantilly lace, sequins and pearls. The full skirt, styled with a large bow in the back, fell into a chapel length train. Her fingertip length veil was held by a crown tiara of seed pearls. She carried a bridal bouquet of white rosebuds.

Shirley Goodman of Mentone, was maid of honor and Diana Degler of Kokomo, served as bridesmaid. Both wore frocks of opera green taffeta and matching satin pumps. Each wore shoulder length veils of silk organza and each carried a white poinsettia bouquet.

Bob Deamer, cousin of the bride, was best man. Gail Law, brother of the bride and Philip Deamer, cousin of the bride, seated the guests as they arrived.

A reception was held in the church parlors for approximately 50 guests. The serving rooms were decorated with red and white streamers. The table was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom, each tier was decorated with scallops of rosebuds.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Law selected a magenta knit suit with white accessories. She wore a corsage of baby orchids.

For her wedding trip Mrs. Weber wore a brown box weave suit with matching shoes and bag. Her hat was of brown and beige flowers. She also wore a beige Mouton topcoat.

The bride attended David Lipscomb college at Nashville, Tenn. The couple will establish a home at Orondo, Washington, where the groom is employed at the Law Brothers' Orchard.

Containers For Flower Arranging

The modern trend in flower arranging is to use inconspicuous containers, say Purdue University horticulturists.

By de-emphasizing the container the flowers will be emphasized.

Horticulturists say to take a tip from florists who use mostly white containers because they are adaptable to any flower or surrounding.

Black, gray or dull green are satisfactory colors for containers, but other colors may cause trouble as they may not blend well with surroundings or with particular flower color. Flower containers should not be shiny as they will detract from the flowers.

Popular shaped flower containers are the low rectangular and low rounded forms. Containers, which have a stem or raised base, hold the arrangement up and "show off" the flowers, are popular. A "pillow" or upright rectangular type for tall flowers, like gladiolus, is a good type.

Containers should be large enough to avoid crowding flower stems and large enough to hold plenty of water. Containers should not be top-heavy, which rules out the so-called bud vase.

Protect house plants from cold night temperatures, warn Purdue University horticulturists. Put newspaper between them and the windows, or pull the shades when there is a chance of chilling.

50th Anniversary

Again for 1962, we pledge that these responsibilities are ours: To provide our customers with dependable gas and electric service at reasonable prices . . . to pay our employees wages and benefits that will enable them to enjoy a high standard of living . . . to pay our investors a fair return on the funds they have provided . . . to conduct ourselves as good citizens in the communities we serve.

A HALF CENTURY OF PROGRESS

...springboard to the future

This year is an important milestone for NIPSCO. It marks our fiftieth year as an Indiana corporation, serving the gas and electric needs of nearly two million people living here in the "workshop of America."

We like to think of this event as a mark of maturity—a "coming of age." We look to the future instead of the past—with wisdom of experience, and confidence, as we continue to build ahead for the growth and progress of this dynamic northern third of our Hoosier State.

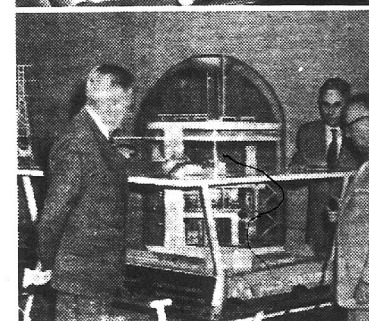

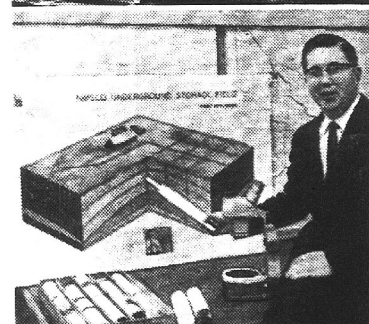

Great technical strides over the last 50 years have been made by the investor-owned gas and electric companies in providing service to the people of this nation. The next 50 years of progress will see the greatest advancements in gas and electric service in this country's history. Continuing programs of research and improved operating techniques are paving the way for an era in modern living never dreamed of by the pioneers of the utility industry.

- At NIPSCO, our modern new Electronic Data Processing Center at LaPorte will soon be ready to meet the increasing emphasis on speed and accuracy in customer service, accounting and billing.
- The first unit at our new Bailly Generating Station will go "on the line" next December—adding 183,000 kilowatts of net capacity to our electric system.
- At Royal Centre, a huge 660 horsepower compressor is pumping natural gas into NIPSCO's first underground storage facility. Gas stored here will be available to customers on the coldest winter days.
- NIPSCO continues to keep abreast of the latest developments in Atomic generation of electricity, as a member of a midwestern study group. Plentiful supplies of coal in Indiana and Illinois, however, still makes Atomic power too costly for customers.

The future is exciting . . . and full of challenge. We are confident we will meet that challenge.

Mothers-to-be Must Diet Properly, March of Dimes Research Shows

No doubt many a healthy young mother-to-be has wondered why her doctor puts so much emphasis on proper diet during pregnancy—especially if she's never been ill a day in her life, and she has a yen for wholesome foods.

But there's good reason for it. More and more it's becoming evident that for the sake of her child a pregnant woman must have a diet adequate in vitamins and minerals, particularly in the early stages of the baby's development.

The reason lies in the dread words: birth defects.

Until about 20 years ago, scientists generally went along with the idea that birth defects in higher animals—and that includes man—were due for the most part to heredity. So if a baby had picked out the right ancestors, he had a better than good chance of coming into the world perfectly normal, and sound of mind and limb.

Complex Factors Involved

Today, however, doctors know the story is not that simple. An increasing number of studies have shown that a wide variety of factors play a part in the birth picture. If a mother gets either too much or too little of such vital substances as hormones, oxygen, minerals or vitamins during certain stages of her pregnancy, the baby may fail to survive, or may be born malformed.

Under a research grant from The National Foundation-March of Dimes, Dr. Marjorie Nelson at the University of California has been trying to determine just how the absence of a vitamin or mineral may interfere with normal prenatal development.

She has found that in rats the absence of even a single one of certain important minerals or vitamins during early pregnancy can produce drastic effects.

Apparently nature has set up a delicate balance which a mother's body must maintain. If this balance is upset even for a relatively short time, permanent damage may result to the offspring.

Dr. Marjorie Nelson, March of Dimes grantee at the University of California, inspects research specimens under the microscope. It's part of her study to determine the influence of vitamin and mineral deficiencies as causes of birth defects.

In her San Francisco laboratory Dr. Nelson has demonstrated that even a temporary deficiency of a vitamin such as folic acid during early pregnancy can cause birth abnormalities in these young laboratory animals. The defects may range from the relatively minor to the very severe which include brain damage, displacement of intestinal organs, cleft palate or serious malformations of the heart and eyes.

Timing Is Critical

When Dr. Nelson puts the normal pregnant animals on such a folic acid-deficient diet during the second week of their pregnancy, at least 80 per cent of the embryos die or are malformed. However, if she carries out the same experiment about a week earlier or a week later, the young appear to suffer no adverse effects, thus underlining the importance of proper diet at the critical stages of pregnancy. In a woman, the comparable period of pregnancy extends primarily from the second to the eighth week of the baby's development.

Radioactivity Used

Dr. Nelson has also obtained information on the change of skeletal development in rats when the mother animal's diet was deficient in the mineral manganese. She is extending these studies with support from The National Foundation-March of Dimes using radioactive material in the diet to trace what goes wrong inside embryonic cells to hinder their normal development.

According to Dr. Virginia Apgar, director of the division of congenital malformations of The National Foundation, "Dr. Nelson's project has a direct bearing on the question of birth defects in humans. It is definitely known, for example, that severe folic acid deficiency in a woman can lead to loss of a baby during early pregnancy."

And as Dr. Nelson has pointed out, equally significant, the congenital malformations in the young animals that survive are irreversible. No amount of vitamins given later in pregnancy can undo the damage once a deficiency has occurred during the critical period of pregnancy.

Clinics Are Established

Because of the increasing problem of birth defects—it is now estimated that significant malformations occur in one in every 16 babies born in this country—each year—The National Foundation-March of Dimes has recently established a number of Special Treatment and Clinical Study Centers for coping with this crucial medical question. The Birth Defects Treatment Centers are in Jackson, Miss.; Atlanta, Ga.; Seattle; Portland, Ore.; San Francisco; Little Rock, Ark.; Indianapolis; Morgantown, W. Va.; New York City; Baltimore; and Washington, D. C. These are supported on the local level by The National Foundation's chapters.

In addition, Birth Defects Clinical Study Centers are located in Oklahoma City; Nashville, Tenn.; and Columbus, Ohio. These Centers are maintained on a national level with March of Dimes funds which are being applied by The National Foundation to continue support and expansion of such Centers for the development of total medical care for youngsters afflicted with congenital defects.

MEETING OF COUNTY SOIL AND WATER CONSERVATION

Leonard Kingsley of Berne, Indiana, will speak at the fourth annual meeting of the Kosciusko County Soil and Water Conservation District, February 7th. The banquet will be held at the Masonic Temple in Warsaw.

"Soils - Satellites - Solutions or So-Long" will be the subject of Mr. Kingsley's address. It will pertain to the food and political situation in the area of Indonesia. Mr. Kingsley spent three years in this area under an appointment from two major church relief agencies, the Church World Service and the Mennonite Central Committee. During this time he assisted in an agricultural survey program and the establishing of an agricultural training school. The school today serves young men from mountain villages of the various islands.

Mr. Kingsley taught agriculture at Berne for 13 years and worked for several years with Kraft Foods and is currently director of pupil personnel services in the Berne high school. He is a native of LaGrange county, graduated from Kendallville high school and Purdue University and holds a master's Degree in education from Ball State.

Tickets are available from the district board of supervisors, Howard Silveus, Myron Metzger, Loren Decker, Leland Kinsey, Gordon Tuttle, Howard Workman and Bob Norris. They will also be available at the county agent's office, or from Bob Martin, soil conservationist for the district.

Avoid walking on your lawn this winter, say Purdue University horticulturists, particularly during freezing and thawing weather. Turf is easily bruised at this time and will discolor until next spring.

Purdue University horticulturists advise checking the evergreens around the house after every snow and shaking or brushing heavy snow from their branches. Do this carefully because the evergreens may be brittle and easily damaged.

CHANGES AT PRODUCERS

Tuesday of last week Tom Alvey of Columbia City took over his duties as manager of the Producers' Market at Mentone. Dave Dowell, of Logansport, also began his duties as bookkeeper.

Mr. Alvey, who has a family of four daughters and one son, expects to move to Mentone with his wife and family as soon as possible.

James Tibbetts, who has been manager at Mentone, was transferred to Logansport as manager.

Ag. Alumni Push Operation Brainpower

The recently organized county chapter of the Purdue Ag. Alumni Association has joined other chapters over the state in conducting a program to acquaint capable boys and girls with the real career opportunities that exist for those who care to pursue them and motivate these same capable young people to obtain training beyond high school if they expect to attain their goals. This program is known as "Operation Brainpower".

It is designed to show "opportunity through college" rather than to promote a particular university or course of study.

Committee members will be calling on high school principals after January 5th to obtain a list of prospective college students. These students will be visited by Purdue Ags to encourage their interest in college and to make arrangements for the student to attend "Ag Opportunity Day" at Purdue on February 17th. Committee members are: Loran Pound, Leesburg; Dick Russell, North Webster; Bob Plummer, Leesburg; Ed Creighton, Warsaw; Harry Clayton, Warsaw; Allen Sharkey, Etna Green; Gerald Wallace, Warsaw; Ben Barnett, Silver Lake; Ronald Ulrey, North Manchester; Don Wright, Warsaw; Chester Brown, Syracuse; Harold Wilson, Milford; Roy Merkle, Claypool; and Leroy Norris, Mentone.

Ag Alumni from all over the state will be meeting together Friday, January 19th at the Annual Ag Alumni fish fry at Purdue during the Farm Science Days. A few tickets are available for interested Alumni at the County Extension Office.

Check the winter mulch around your flowers now, advise Purdue University horticulturists. If it has blown away, add more to make sure your plants survive the winter.

Mentone Reading Club Hold Jan. Meeting

The Mentone Reading club held the January meeting in the dining room of Peterson's restaurant. Mrs. Paul Rush and Mrs. Lyman Mollenhour were hostesses.

Program chairmen were Mrs. Miles Manwaring and Mrs. Virginia Peterson. Mrs. Manwaring gave meditation.

Response to roll call was "A Career I Would Choose If I Were Young".

Response for the evening was "Women In Business and Industry". Mrs. Peterson introduced several ladies from the group who spoke about their own family business, venture, touching on problems, activities, and rewards. They were: Mesdames Raymond Cooper, Artley Cul-lum, Fred Lemler, Herman Olsen, and Virginia Peterson.

The February meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Joe Boggs.

in Americans because they know well that their slave ideology cannot stand up against the determination of aroused and informed Patriots.

The Mistaken jeers at Patriots frequently take the form of scornful comment that freedom fighters want to return to the past, want to go back rather than to follow the forward road to true progress. Such jeers are intended to mislead rather than to inform.

Actually, it is the Mistaken who seek to go back. Their blueprint calls for a return to the dark tyranny of past ages, when no man could call his soul his own and when the concept of individual liberty was only a dream in the minds of a handful of men. The reactionaries of our day are those who are determined to destroy individual human dignity.

Life Lines, Jan. 8, 1962

We enjoyed this:—

A very trim general was met at the airport by a very fat wife. While they stood waiting for his baggage, a lovely redheaded airline hostess swayed by, and the general beamed. "Hope we fly together soon again, Miss Fenchel," he said.

"How do you happen to know her name?" demanded his wife.

"It was posted right up front," explained the general, "right under the names of the pilot and co-pilot."

"I see," nodded the wife. "Now tell me the names of the pilot and co-pilot."

Sorority Meets With Mrs. Ralph Ward

Psi Iota Xi Sorority met at the home of Mrs. Ralph Ward on January 2.

During the business meeting it was decided to cooperate with the Red Cross by making a telephone canvas for blood donors for the Blood Mobile Unit which is to be in Mentone on February 8. A Christmas gift exchange was enjoyed by all as well as the lovely refreshments served after. Members were delighted by the sorority history presented by our pledges as part of their pledge work.

Members and pledges present were: Mesdames Joe Boggs, Bill Hudson, Ralph Ward, Jerry Ross, Paul Shireman, Kent Riner, Art Kendall, Jack Pritchard, Iris Anderson, Richard Dickert, Mott Bryan, Mervin Jones, Dale Cook, Harold Utter, Lyman Mollenhour, Cecil Long, Curtis Riner, Paul Quinn, Jerry Kralis, Royal Baum, Archie Leckrone, Terry Utter, Wade Powell, Robert Ross and Miss Annabelle Mentzer.

WOW!!!

If Santa Claus brought you a pair of heavy-duty thermal underwear for Christmas, the past couple of days would have been a good time to try them out this week. Tuesday and Wednesday gave us temperatures as much as 12 below zero, and whenever the thermometer climbed above the zero mark we were having a "heat wave."

SENTENCED FOR ASSAULT

Richard Brower, 39, of Warsaw, has been sentenced to six months at the state penal farm and fined a total of $65 on a charge of assault and battery signed by his wife, who resides in Mentone. He was arrested by the sheriff here Monday night.

CALENDAR

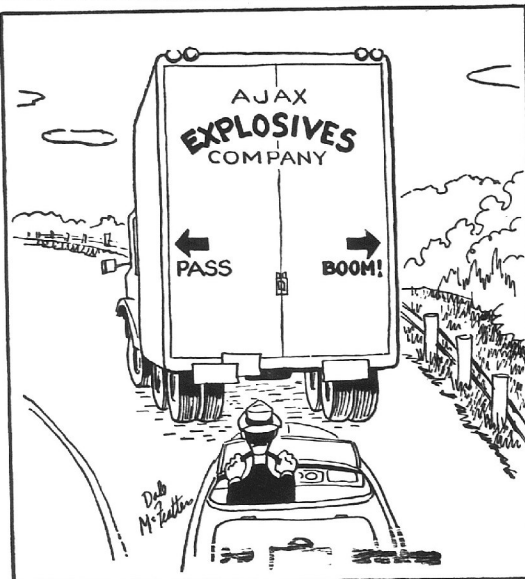

The WSCS of the Mentone Methodist church will meet on Thursday, Jan. 18, 8:00 p. m. at the home of Alice Mollenhour.

The Order of Eastern Star is entertaining the past matrons and patrons on January 15, 7:45 p. m. at the Masonic lodge.

Jerry Hudson's "What-Is-It?"

Well, how was your guessing last week on Jerry Hudson's "What-Is-It? Did you decide it was a sewing thimble. If so, you were correct. We tried to arrange it in the most difficult position, just to try and make it a bit more tantalizing.

Here we come with another, one, and this may be a bit more difficult. Is it one of Fatty Arbuckle's belts hiding away in the chorus girls' museum, the inside of the Holland tunnel, or the auger on a coal miner's drill? Perhaps a dried up anchovy or a sardine in a whirlpool. The hint is strong—take your guesses.

LINDA GOSHERT RECEIVES CAP

Linda Goshert of Burket received her cap from the school of nursing at the Methodist hospital of Indianapolis, at the capping ceremony last Friday evening.

Linda is a member of the Student Nurse Choral club, which sang three selections preceding the capping ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Tobie Blalock, Barry Blalock and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Goshert attended the ceremony.

1962 Outlook

Turkeys—Only a slight seasonal price increase is expected for the current record-sized turkey crop. For 1962, turkey production is likely to be as high or higher than in 1961 with little prospect for improvement in price or income.

Production item prices—Production items, wages, taxes and interest are expected to average one to three per cent higher than during the past year. Farm real estate taxes are expected to show the largest increase. Farmer's expenditures for durable goods, such as machinery, equipment and building materials, declined during the past two years. However, with higher farm incomes in Indiana in 1960 and 1961, compared to 1959, an increase in the purchase of these items is expected in the year ahead.

Farm real estate—Steady to slightly higher land values are expected in Indiana for the next year. Prices for better grades of land will tend to rise more than prices for land which is less productive. Values are expected to be higher in 1970 than presently.

Fruits and vegetables—Stocks of canned tomatoes and tomato products going into 1962 appear to be adequate. Thus no real pressure to increase acreage and contract prices to producers is likely.

Indiana's 1961 apple production is estimated to be 20 per cent smaller than last year. The large national crop, however, means essentially no change in prices from last year for Indiana growers.

Mentone Wins County Tourney

The Mentone high school basketball team game home from Syracuse in a blaze of glory on Saturday night after defeating Etna Green 68 to 58 in the final game.

The team was escorted into town by the fire truck, and the citizens provided a giant bonfire to keep from letting their enthusiasm cool down too fast.

Mentone had little difficulty battling their way into the finals, as they downed Atwood 95 to 70 Thursday night, Claypool 77 to 51 Thursday night, and Piercetown 61 to 55 Saturday afternoon.

Four times Mentone has won the county championship. First in 1935, with repeats in 1954, and 1960.

Statistics on the various games will be found elsewhere in this issue.

BILL NELLANS LEADING SCORER

Bill Nellans of the Mentone basketball team, has a wide lead in the scoring for county high school players. His percentage per game is also ahead of others.

Jon Newcomb and Allen Creighton, also of Mentone, are in the top ten, who are:

FINE SPEAKER AT LIONS MEETING

About a hundred Lions, their wives and guests gathered at the Steer Inn, near Claypool, Wednesday evening to hear Bob Jackson of Indianapolis present a very enlightening address on Communism.

Mr. Jackson, who is head of a large insurance company, spent three years on the state "Crusade For Freedom" committee, and was privileged to make a tour of Europe with some sixty other individuals. There he was finally convinced of the seriousness of the Communist program. He saw first hand how they used every available means to keep people in their areas—and keep all others out who might still have a feeling that they wanted to better themselves or exercise a little personal initiative.

Mr. Jackson stated that the three main principles of the Communist philosophy is that there is no God, man is only matter, like an animal, and his sudden liquidation is of no consequence as long as it aids in their endeavors, and that environment is the most important thing in regulating men.

The 1917 plan of the Communists included eventual total war but until that time, every effort would be made to confuse the opposition with "peace" treaties, conferences and agreements that could be broken easily. This they have repeatedly done since that time, and of some 52 agreements, to date only two have not been violated.

Mr. Jackson's main point was that there can be no compromise with any branch of the Communist philosophy and program, and our only safeguard is to retain our independence, dignity and strength, and be sure we do not waste any of our effort in anything that even resembles compromise with the philosophy that considers the family, love and devotion, self expression or personal initiative their total enemy. Nothing in America, as we have become accustomed to knowing it, will ever be tolerated under Communism.

RUNNER-UP IN YOUNG FARMER RATING

Lee Norris, of Mentone, came in second in the "1961 Outstanding Young Farmer" classification Thursday night. The Warsaw Junior Chamber of Commerce sponsored the naming of the men. First place went to Dale E. Mikel of Milford.

COUNTERPOINT

By The Editor's Wife

Congratulations to our Mentone Basketball Team, and to their coach, Mr. Bateman. We're very proud of you.

When Barney Nellans gave us a big bunch of sunflowers he said that we had all the birds down at our place, anyway. Thanks for the sunflower seeds, Barney. We do have quite an assortment. There are sparrows, nuthatch, chickadees, sparrows, tufted titmouse, sparrows, junco, cardinal, sparrows, blue jay, downy woodpecker, sparrows, evening grosbeak, grackle, and sparrows.

We've been expecting this—Surgeons are going to be using adhesives instead of stitches for closing incisions. The new method, developed at Tokyo University Medical School, has been used successfully on dogs, rabbits, and on a human being last December.

With the use of the adhesive "cuts on skins, veins, windpipes and intestines were closed in a matter of minutes".

The slang phrase "To come unglued" begins to take on new meaning, doesn't it?

"It's all right to hold a conversation, but you should let go of it now and then."

A favorite recipe:
Braised Short Ribs, Drop Dumplings, Onion Gravy.

Trim excess fat from 3 lbs. short ribs; heat fat in Dutch oven or electric skillet; slowly brown on all sides in hot fat. Spoon off fat. Sprinkle meat with 1 pkg. Golden Onion Soup (dehydrated). Add ½ to 1 cup water. Cover and simmer (do not boil) till tender—2 to 2½ hours. Add more water during cooking if needed. Mix your favorite re-lip for drop dumplings (I use Jiffy Mix or Bisquick). Drop on top of ribs, cover tightly and steam for 10 minutes (don't peek or your dumplings will be soggy). Remove dumplings and meat to a warm place (keep covered). Thicken gravy (you should have at least 2 cups liquid.). Delicious!

To Observe 50th Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Mel McGowen will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary on Sunday, January 21, with open house from 2 to 4 p.m., DST, in their home on R. R. 5, Rochester, near Talma. All relatives and friends are invited to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. McGowen were married January 22, 1912 at Rochester, Indiana by Rev. E. S. Farmer, Christian minister. Mrs. McGowen is the former Pearl Pfund. The couple resided in Kosciusko county the first two years of their married life and have lived the remainder in Fulton county.

They are the parents of six children: John McGowen, Florida; Howard McGowen, Argos; Mrs. Richard (Tressa) Eiler, West Point, Indiana; Mrs. Albert (Ignota) Vandegrift, Galien, Michigan; Mrs. Lewis (Bertha) Johnson and Merl McGowen of Rochester. The couple have thirteen grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

A dinner for the immediate families will be held at noon in the Mel McGowen home.

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. John Mellott are the parents of a son, Kevin John, born Jan. 9th at the Plymouth hospital. He weighed six pounds and eight ounces. Mrs. Mellott has returned home but the baby will remain in the hospital for a few days. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Joe Mellott and Mr. and Mrs. Chester Coplen.

Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Meredith welcomed a new son, Gary Dean, at the Murphy Medical Center Jan. 7. He weighed seven pounds, eight ounces. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Hoy Meredith and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Nettrover.

James Byron, weighing four pounds, three ounces, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Carl Peterson at the Murphy Medical Center Jan. 11th. Mrs. Peterson is home but the premature lad will remain in the hospital until he adds a little more weight. The grandparents are Mrs. Virginia Peterson of Mentone and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hairrell of Rock Lake.

Jan. 11th, a son, Jay Brian, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Anderson at the Woodlawn hospital at Rochester. He weighed in at five pounds, five ounces. Mother and son came home Sunday. Grandparents are Mrs. Iris Anderson and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Smythe of Mentone.

ALL - COUNTY TOURNEY TEAM

Mentone had two players, selected by county coaches, on the Times-Union All-County Tourney Team. They were Bill Nellans and Allen Creighton.

Others on the team are Bob Menzie and Raymond Slusher of Piercetown, Ronnie Longyear of Claypool, Bill Whitaker and Nick Kintzel of Etna Green and Jerry Ryman of Atwood.

Jon Newcomb, Lyle Long and Jerry Blackburn, of Mentone, were given honorable mention for their fine work in the tourney games.

HELEN LONG DIES SUDDENLY

Miss Helen Louise Long, aged 38, died about 6 a. m. Wednesday at the Parkview hospital in Plymouth where she was taken Tuesday evening. She had not been seriously ill.

Born in Harrison township to Mr. and Mrs. George Long September 23, 1923, she had resided there all her life. She spent many years as a secretary in the county agent's office.

Surviving relatives include the mother, Mrs. Esther Long; two brothers, Everett of Mentone and Ralph of R. R. Etna Green; two sisters, Mrs. Mary Alice Jones of Mexico, Ind., and Mrs. Annabelle Tucker of Mentone, and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services will be Saturday afternoon, Jan. 20, at two o'clock at the Johns funeral home in Mentone.

INJURES KNEE IN FALL ON THE ICE

Wednesday noon Boyd Blue fell on the ice at his home as he was getting into his auto, and it was first thought he might have broken a leg. He was taken to Dr. Wilson's office in the Johns ambulance where it was found the knee was dislocated. After it was put back into place he was returned to his home.

MEDICAL GROUP MAKES SURVEY

Dr. Nathan L. Salon, of Fort Wayne, chairman of the Commission on Aging for the Indiana State Medical Association, has revealed that a documented survey undertaken by the medical group provides "indisputable evidence" that Indiana's "senior citizens" are, for the most part, in position to finance their own health needs.

The Fort Wayne physician cited these figures to support his contention:

Of the 445,510 Hoosiers age 65 or over, 94 per cent are caring for themselves either out of private income, savings, insurance, pensions or other non-welfare sources. He pointed out that 309,560 of the aged group own their own homes.

He added that 367,000 are eligible and covered for health and accident insurance by commercial insurance companies, Blue Cross - Blue Shield or by veterans' benefits.

"The survey also revealed that out of 4,357 hospital admissions for those over age 65 only 84 patients, or 1.93 per cent, were unable to pay or make arrangements for payment of their hospital bills," Dr. Salon said. The survey, he added, was taken during a 30-day period.

"The Indiana State Medical Association took this survey as a part of its continuing program of interest and concern in health care for our aging population," Dr. Salon pointed out.

"The Association's Commission on Aging has worked and is working in the closest cooperation with the Governor's Committee on Aging," he said.

"The health care problems of our 'senior citizens' definitely are not of the magnitude as represented by some groups. Admittedly there are some who are needy, or near needy, but to generalize about a group of 16 million persons in this country on the basis of a relatively few individual cases is exploitation.

"The plan of the Indiana State Medical Association is such that it encourages independency in living rather than dependency."

He pointed out that the legislative commission of the medical group had strongly supported in the 1961 general assembly liberalization of state welfare regulations in providing medical care assistance to needy aged persons as a part of the welfare department's old age assistance program.

"The new regulations became effective the first of this year and will result in expanded medical and health service care for an estimated 5,000 needy aged," he said.

Under this program, he explained, eligible persons 65 or over who have sufficient funds for such necessities as food, clothing and shelter but lack resources for health service care may apply directly to their county welfare department for medical care only.

"Unfortunately we have no figures on the amount of care provided to needy persons in all age groups by private physicians in their own practices," Dr. Salon said. "Historically doctors have always performed this service and they always will."

KOSCIUSKO COUNTY HOME ECONOMICS EXTENSION WORK IN 1961

More than 3,000 people in Kosciusko county were contacted in 1961 through meetings held by the Home Economics Extension Service under the direction of Mrs. Herbert McCleary, Home Demonstration Agent. This included both girls 4-H and the Home Demonstration Clubs program. Better family living was promoted through news stories, demonstrations, meetings, personal contacts and training local leaders to spread information through the county. By teaching leaders, more folks could benefit from new technology and new methods than is possible for one person to teach.

In order to develop better club organization, training schools were held for presidents, vice presidents, secretaries and treasurers.

Leaders from the 71 Home Demonstration clubs were taught material for club programs in the following subjects: Simple household repairs, choosing accessories for walls and rooms, planning the home grounds, how to work with people, business facts women should know, planning meals for a crowd, and the inheritance tax laws of Indiana.

Lessons to increase personal satisfaction in home and family living were given on furniture refinishing, chair caning, knitting, culture of roses, stone craft, cake decorating, Christmas entertaining, and on improving ones personality and personal grooming.

The Citizenship committee of the 1961 Home Demonstration Council worked with Mrs. McCleary in promoting better understanding of state government by promoting and carrying out a trip to Indianapolis in February to see the Indiana General Assembly at work. Six buses with 200 interested women and some husbands saw how laws were made, listened to debates on public questions and toured state offices.

The Home Agent worked with 60 Better Farming - Better Living families to save time and energy and to plan and serve more economical and nutritious meals.

Assistance was given to 4-H girls in clothing, foods, home improvement, personality and craft projects. 4-H leaders were trained in judging, club organization and program planning.

Home Demonstration work is one part of the Kosciusko County Extension Service and is a part of Purdue University. It is an informal method of bringing the university to the people. Any resident of the county may participate by inquiring at the Kosciusko County Extension Service Office in the lower level of the court house or call AM 7-8971.

January Meeting of Mentone DAR

The Anthony Nigo Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, met at Pete's restaurant January 9, with Mrs. Everett Rathfon and Mrs. Arthur Brown as hostesses. In the absence of the regent, Mrs. Fred Surguy, the vice regent, Mrs. Kenneth Riner, presided.

Mrs. Kenneth Leiter, secretary, gave the reading of the minutes. The President General's message from the DAR magazine was read by Mrs. Wayne Smalley. Mrs. E. W. Igo gave an article for National Defense entitled "A Roar From Home" by A. G. Heinsohn, Jr., a great American patriot. Mr. Heinsohn said that a life and death struggle is taking place here in our country between Americanism and communism and competent authorities, such as J. Edgar Hoover and Francis Walter say that it is, hadn't we better get into the fight before it is too late? If we don't believe America is worth saving and won't fight to remain free, who will do it for us? Overnight, the communist conspiracy can be made to collapse like a house of cards, because it is based on bluff, fraud and brutality. All that is needed to save America is a ROAR from home, telling our politicians to stop playing footsie with the communists and restore to us those God-given rights as prescribed in the Constitution. The communists can never conquer a nation that really puts its trust in God. They can only conquer those people who worship politicians instead of God and who beg for hand-outs instead of working for a living. Communism may enslave, torture, degrade and kill men, but it will never destroy the idea of Christian freedom. As Americans, let us not be fooled by the communists and the apologist press. Let us choose sides on the real issue, and divide along the real line, which is Americanism versus communism — not some Americans for and some against the John Birch Society. When charges against a bona fide anti-communist group are parroted across the land, no one gains but the communists. For the sake of our progeny, we will not be cowards . . . we will not run away from those who seek to destroy us by ridicule, slander, or abuse. We people back home have work to do, if we wish our children to grow up under the Bible and the Constitution instead of the hammer and sickle.

Mrs. Frank Smith reminded members that Major William E. Mayer, the United States Army's authority on "brain-washing," will speak at Grace College gymnasium at 9:30 a. m. Tuesday, January 23, and the meeting will be open to the public. Major Mayer has called brain-washing "the program geared toward controlling men. A program that the communists have turned into an international war . . . one that the United States is not spectacularly winning." Mrs. Smith also announced that a copy of the recently published "Guide to Subversive Organizations and Publications" from the Government Printing Office has been placed in the local library for the use of the public.

Mrs. Pearl Lackey was scheduled to give a book review but because of the small crowd attending due to weather decided to give it at another date so that more members could benefit from her effort in preparation for the program.

The hostesses served delicious refreshments. The February meeting will be at the country home of Mrs. Garwin Eaton.

The use of gasoline for the home cleaning of rugs is not only dangerous, it may also ruin the rugs, warn Purdue University home management specialists. Most gasolines have a lead additive which damages many fabrics.

What is veneer? Veneer is a thin sheet of wood glued to a heavier base, say Purdue University home furnishing specialists. Plywood consists of three, five or seven thin layers of wood placed so that grains of adjoining layers run in opposite directions. In both cases, the top layer is chosen for its beautiful grain.

NEWCASTLE TOWNSHIP NEWS

The Newcastle township PTA meeting has been canceled due to the cold weather.

The local school was closed Friday due to the cold weather as they couldn't get the building warm, but was reopened on Monday.

Mrs. Robert A. Calvert has resumed her duties at the Rochester greenhouse.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Miller and family of Tiosa and Mr. and Mrs. Fred R. Miller were visitors in Lakeville Saturday.

There were several people from here who attended the funeral Saturday of Mrs. Ruth Bailey at Tiosa.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Good were visitors in Rochester Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Calvert called on Mr. and Mrs. Estel Hogen at Rochester Friday evening.

Monty Roe Sriver spent the week end in Muncie visiting with friends.

Rev. and Mrs. John Krieg have returned to their home in Bourbon after spending some time in Galveston, where they visited with relatives. Rev. Krieg is pastor of the local Methodist church.

A large number of basketball fans attended the County Tournament at Fulton over the week end.

Plans have been completed for the Annual Farmers' Institute to be held at the Community building on February 8 and 9.

Disposal Won't Dispose All

Pop bottles, paper, cloth and aluminum foil are not recommended for cleaning kitchen garbage disposers, advises Elkin Minter, Purdue University home management specialist.

These items may be ground up, but they eventually will eat away the shredding elements or give sewer line trouble.

Cleaning a disposal unit is most effectively done with an occasional bone (up to chop-bone size), or by filling the sink with cold water, and with the cold water running, operating the disposer until the sink is empty. Never use abrasives or drain cleaning compounds, warns Miss Minter, as these also destroy the interior of the appliance.

It is wise not to challenge the capacity of the disposer. But objects which can usually be handled successfully include eggshells, fruit rinds, seafood shells, fats and greases, coffee grounds, fibrous material such as corn husks, carrot tops and celery that have been cut into short lengths, and a small number of fruit pits.

Waste should not be stuffed or packed tightly into the hopper, and it is good to mix soft waste with hard.

If an object should jam the machine, Miss Minter advises, first turn off the cold water, then the "off" switch. After carefully removing the obstruction, reset the overload switch. Protect hands at all costs.

'62 CHEVY JOBMASTER TRUCKS

To do your particular jobs more efficiently, this year Chevrolet offers 10 High Torque engines including a 261-cu.-in. Six* in light-duty models that need extra power ... a 327* and a 409*-cu.-in. V8, most powerful in Chevrolet history ... and two new diesels: Chevrolet-GM 4-53 and 6V-53.

Chevrolet has been first in the truck business since 1937 because it has been able to prove that its quality costs less over the years. At last count there were 424,381 more Chevrolet trucks over 10 years old still working and saving than any other make.

Quality is always a smarter investment, especially when its purchase price is strictly competitive.

Let your Chevrolet dealer show you truck quality point by point. Compare carefully. Then make your decision. We believe it will be Chevrolet.

Beef School At Culver

Plans are being completed, according to assistant county agent, Frank H. Miller, for the area Beef School to be held at the Exchange Bank in Culver on January 24, 1962, 1:00 p.m., fast time. This will be the first of a two session series scheduled for the area with Stark, Fulton, Pulaski, Kosciusko and St. Joseph counties cooperating.

Cattle feeding has been gaining in importance throughout the area and the entire United States as American consumers demand increasing amounts of their favorite meat. The industry, however, is not without its problems, as modern technology is rapidly changing the methods and economics of the feed lot.

In the first of the two session series, three Purdue Extension specialists will be present to discuss cattle feeding from the point of view of economics, building and equipment, and health and disease problems.

M. Paul Mitchell of the Agricultural Economics Department will lead the discussion on economic problems, such as trends, prices, costs, the cattle cycle and systems of feeding. J. H. Mentzer, Agricultural engineer, will discuss problems having to do with feed lot layout, feed handling, and labor saving devices in general as applied to cattle feeding. Dr. K. M. Weinland, Extension Veterinarian, will present modern day methods for dealing with health and disease problems of the feed lot.

A near capacity crowd is expected at this first meeting. Further details on this meeting and the second to be held January 30th will be available from the County Extension Offices in the five county areas listed above.

Indiana dehydrators produced 16,408,000 pounds of powdered skim milk in 1960. This was 22 per cent more than the 1959 production, report state-federal agricultural statisticians at Purdue University.

Horticulturists at Purdue University say a sweet potato planted in water makes an interesting and easy to grow house plant. Put the sweet potato right side up in a jar or glass so that one-third is above water. It will form roots and shoots quickly and make a fascinating vine.

Jerry Hudson's "What-Is-It?"

Well, how did you come out on your guessing last week? Did you guess that the picture Jerry Hudson had for us was what was left after you opened a can of coffee or a can of sardines? If so, you were correct. Look again and you can see the key and the curled up strip of tin.

The one we have for you this week is the "toughy" we hinted about last week. There really isn't much you can go by, and if you come up with the right answer you will be doing very well. It looks like a boil on a sheepherder just after the core was removed—but that isn't it. It could be the business end of a hypodermic needle (judging by the feel of some we've heard about), a bit of gravy on someone's Christmas tie, or — well you try your luck. I'm even confused.

SINCERE THANKS

We wish to thank all our friends, neighbors, churches and pastors for the many beautiful flowers, cards, sympathy, and your kindness shown at a time when they were most deeply appreciated.

H. D. Council Plans Big Year

The Home Demonstration Council, which is composed of the presidents from the 71 clubs in Kosciusko county, is planning a full program for 1962.

In order that they will be well informed on important subjects for their club programs, Mrs. Herbert McCleary, Home Demonstration Agent, has arranged for the following leader training lessons: exterior painting, getting ready for the summer garden, how to recognize communism, recreation for family gatherings, etiquette and entertaining, planning meals for two, cooperating together as a family and keeping vital records.

Advanced knitting, basketry, hat making and help in answering children's questions are lessons planned for only those interested in the subjects.

The Home Demonstration County Chorus has now become the Kosciusko County Choral Club and is affiliated with the council. Anyone who enjoys singing is eligible for membership without having to belong to a Home Demonstration club. Miss Mary J. Miller, the director, or Miss Mary Mishler, the president, will accept applications for membership. This group of 45 singers is available for any evening community program for a small fee or contribution.

Another program the council will be sponsoring in 1962, concerns helps for the young homemakers who have children under five. A monthly letter on children's emotional problems is being mailed from the County Extension office to 50 young homemakers in Wayne township. Mrs. McCleary will be supplementing the letter with a sheet on home helps, meals, clothing and management or other timely topics. This program will probably be extended next year.

There are now 1503 women in the county enrolled in the Home Economics extension program through organized clubs. At the present, Scott township has 2 such groups: VanBuren, 3; Turkey Creek, 2; Tippecanoe, 4; Plain, 6; Prairie, 3; Etna, 3; Harrison, 7; Franklin, 3; Seward, 2; Lake, 4; Jackson, 2; Monroe, 2; Washington, 3; Clay, 6; and Wayne, 19.

Add Beauty To Aquariums

A gift of tropical or semi-tropical fish in an aquarium may lead to a fascinating lifelong hobby, comments Don Scheer, Purdue University extension horticulturist.

Fish or a piece of aquarium equipment will be appreciated by beginning or expert fish enthusiasts. One or two gold fish in a bowl might satisfy a child's desire for a pet—or amuse an older person who has limited activity.

Plants make an aquarium look better, Scheer observes, much as backdrops and side curtains improve a stage. For underwater beauty add some common plants that are easy to grow.

Although underwater plants are often referred to as "grass", Scheer points out that they are actually interesting, individual plants. Vallisneria and Sagittaria are commonly available in pet shops and should be planted singly—don't bury the crowns, he cautions. If using Cabomba and Elodea, cut off the lower inch of the bunch, strip the leaves off the next inch and tie the bunch together. Plant each bunch in the aquarium sand to develop roots and flourish.

Scheer recommends using these plants in aquariums housing guppies or the fancier tropical fish only, since gold fish often eat them.

When buying plants, choose healthy green ones. They should not have an odor or feel slimy to the touch. Select plants carefully, giving thought to kind and size of both fish and tank.

Since most aquarium plants need eight hours of light a day, it is often necessary to install an aquarium light.

Palestine Homemakers Meet

The January meeting of the Palestine Homemakers club was held at the home of Mrs. Edward Severns. The meeting was opened by the vice president, Mrs. Albert Tucker. The pledge to the flag and club creed was repeated by all. Meditation was given by Mrs. Edwin Shirey. History of the song of the month "Home Sweet Home" was read by Mrs. Wilbur Perry.

The lesson on landscaping was given by Mrs. Jessie Jones. Old and new business was discussed by the president. The secretary and treasurer reports were read by Mrs. Jessie Jones. The new club books were made out during the meeting and the meeting was closed by all repeating the club prayer.

Delicious refreshments were served to the six members and guests, Mrs. Ronald Severns and daughters and Mrs. Bill Hatfield and son of Akron. The February meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Jessie Jones.

Interesting texture, rather than a definite pattern, is often the perfect answer to the question of finding a carpet which will blend with handsome traditional settings, suggest Purdue University home furnishings specialists.

Other areas of Home Economics Extension work which will be emphasized during the year will be promotion of 4-H and in the Better Farming—Better Living program.

Home Economics Extension is an informal education program for young girls and women and extends the facilities of Purdue University to local people. Anyone interested should contact Mrs. McCleary at the Kosciusko County Agriculture and Home Economics Extension Service office in the basement of the Court House or call AM 7-8971.

Mentone Merry 4-H Hold 1st Meeting

The Mentone Merry 4-H club held its first meeting of the new year with fifteen members answering roll call by giving their reason for joining 4-H. It was pretty well decided that we joined because it is interesting, fun, teaches us more things to do and do well, and gives us a chance to find out what we can do.

According to Marlene Brailer, the next meeting will be held on February 13 at 7:00. If you are ten or over, we would like for you to join our 4-H club. There are many interesting subjects from which to choose. We would like to have a good club with 100 per cent completion this year.

Our meetings are held in the Home Economics room the second Tuesday of each month.

Mentone Club Meets With Mrs. Laird

The Mentone Home Demonstration club met January 11 at the home of Mrs. John Laird. The meeting was opened by the vice president, Olive Tucker. The pledge to the flag was led by Agnes Rans and the creed was repeated by the group. The song, "America The Beautiful," was sung. Pearl Gates read the history of the song of the month, "Home Sweet Home", after which she led the group in singing it. Meditation was by Eva Laird, reading two poems: "Worth Each Passing Day" and "The World Is Mine". Response to roll call was answered by ten members with "The Christmas gift I liked best in 1961". The constitution of the club was read and the secretary and treasurer reports were given. Old and new business was conducted by the president, Opal Tucker. The meeting was closed with singing the club prayer song and repeating the club collect. Refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Cheese, excluding cottage cheese, production in Indiana during 1960 totaled 38,152,000 pounds, according to state-federal agricultural statisticians at Purdue University. This was 10 per cent larger than the 1959 output.

Plan your garden now for good eating next summer, advise horticulturists at Purdue University. Remember, it takes about one hour a week to care for 1,000 square feet of garden—not including planting and harvesting.

If your evergreens look scorched or burned, it's probably from winter injury. Horticulturists at Purdue University say there's nothing you can do about it now, but you can prune out damaged parts next spring.

Farm Class On Rural Electricity

The Mentone Adult Farmer class met Monday night, January 15, and discussed the topic, Rural Electricity. The meeting was started with a short discussion of the REMC by Mr. William Orr, Kosciusko County REMC manager, and then a film was viewed. The film showed the farmers the best way to save a life by rescue breathing, better known as mouth-to-mouth respiration.

Maurice Salmon discussed the wire sizes, best location for meter pole, single and three phase electricity and answered many questions asked by the farmers.

At the end of the meeting, many farmers were buying and selling their products on the market.

Next Monday night the topic will be grain storage and marketing. There were thirty-seven farmers in attendance and refreshments were enjoyed by all and many took part in basketball after the meeting.

Kathy Randall Is Winning Homemaker

Kathy Randall is winner in our school in the 1962 Betty Crocker Search for the American Homemaker of Tomorrow. She achieved the highest score in the examination on homemaking knowledge and attitudes taken by senior girls December 5. She becomes eligible now along with winners in other state high schools, for the title of State Homemaker of Tomorrow.

The girl named State Homemaker of Tomorrow is provided a $1500 scholarship by General Mills, sponsor of the program. The state runner-up will receive a $500 scholarship.

In addition, the State Homemaker of Tomorrow and her school advisor will join with other state winners in an expense paid educational tour of New York City, Washington, D. C., and Colonial Williamsburg, Virginia. At the latter, the 1962 All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow will be named.

genuine interest in people—in what they say, do, and think. On the negative side, the enemies of true friendship are: critical or intolerant attitudes, pessimism, inconsistency, argumentative manner, self-centered attitude. (Want to check yourself? You, like some of us, may be surprised.)

The following poem, sent to us by the Zanna Hammers, is very expressive.

If nobody smiled and nobody cheered and nobody helped us along

If each minute looked after itself and the good things all went to the strong

If nobody cared just a little for you and nobody thought about me

And we stood all alone in the battle of life, what a dreary old world it would be.

Life is sweet because of the friends we have made and the things which in common we share

We want to live not because of ourselves but because of the people who care.

It's giving and doing for somebody else—on that, all life's splendor depends, And the joys of the world when it's all added up is found in the making of friends.

Note on communism:

"There is no reason to believe that if all the world's poverty, disease and exploitation were ended overnight that Communism would not continue to grow and grow. Behind it is a diabolical force, which can only be stopped by a people everywhere who believe in God.

"Communism has received its greatest impetus not from the world's poor, but from the guilt-laden rich persons and power-hungry spiritually dead intelligentsia. If today, Communism in the United States were receiving its greatest support from migratory workers or from miners in the distressed coal mine areas of West Virginia and other coal-mining states, I could understand its success. But its success is being pushed by persons who are well educated, who have never been hungry in their lives and who actually don't give a hoot about basic injustices to man."

—Clifford B. Ward

Consumers Oath by Charles V. Neal, Jr.

Point 2. I shall dodge debt, unless I can see that the benefits of my borrowings exceed their costs. And at no time shall I allow the total of my debts to exceed the total of my assets should I be forced to liquidate. Should I choose to borrow, or be forced to, I shall shop carefully for the best terms and charges, and shall translate all credit costs into true annual interest rates, in order to compare intelligently. And I shall struggle to avoid pledging as collateral any of my necessities, my future wages, the dignity and well-being of my family and friends, and my peace of mind.

We enjoyed this:

Lyman was telling about the hunting trip he took recently.

"I had a close shave with a bear," he related. "It chased me across the field and I headed for an old oak tree. He was on my tail when I got there and my only chance was to jump and catch the limb 20 feet up."

"Did you make it?" Jess asked.

"To tell the truth," said Lyman, "I missed it going up, but caught it on the way down."

Crops Judging Team
Receives Trophy

Ray Ferverda, president of the Kosciusko County Seed Improvement Association, presented the County Crops Judging trophy to the Mentone team.

Just prior to receiving the trophy, the team and coach enjoyed a dinner given to them at Horn's Sunnymede restaurant by the Kosciusko County Seed Improvement Ass'n. Among those present were Fred Mellott, Steve Mellott, James Mikel, Steve Mikel, Morris Bitzer, coach, Ray Ferverda, president, and Victor Hillery, treasurer.

(We have a picture of the group as they received the trophy, but the printing plate did not arrive from the engraver in time for this issue.)

New Arrivals

Mr. and Mrs. Norbert Darr of Plainfield, Illinois are the parents of a son born Jan. 18th. He was a bit premature and weighed a trifle over five pounds. Mrs. Edith Darr is the grandmother.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Manwaring are the parents of a daughter, Jennifer Lynn, born Sunday at the Murphy Medical Center. She weighs six pounds eight and one-half ounces.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Manwaring of Mentone and Mr. and Mrs. Everett Miner of Syracuse.

SON-IN-LAW INJURED IN TEXAS

Gerald Browne, son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Hoy Meredith of near Etna Green, was seriously injured last Friday while working at a filling station in Houston, Texas. He was attacked by another man and knocked unconscious. (Complete details are lacking but word received today indicated he was improving.)

CALENDAR

Boy Scout Pack No. 58 will meet next Tuesday, January 30 at 7:30 p.m. at the Methodist church. All parents are needed at this first pack meeting.

The weather has remained cold for some time in this area, but a slight warming trend began Wednesday. The weatherman is giving us a promise of better the next day or so.

MENTONE HAD TOUGH BATTLE

The boys from Silver Lake made it rough for the Mentone basketball boys at the local gym Friday night, even though the Bulldogs came out on top of a 74 to 64 game. The Ramblers were on top 13 to 16 at the end of the first quarter, and the scoring was close all the way until near the end.

The Mentone second team won easily 52 to 27.

GIVEN TROPHY AS FIREMAN OF THE YEAR

At the monthly meeting of the Kosciusko County Volunteer Firemen's Association, held at Etna Green Thursday night, Arlo Friesner was presented with a trophy as "county fireman of the year."

The association had planned to begin, in 1962, to annually honor one of the county firemen with a trophy, but as Mr. Friesner recently "stepped out" as a fireman and fire chief, the group decided to make the presentation earlier.

BLOOD BANK TO BE HERE

The Red Cross Blood Bank will be at the Mentone Methodist church on Feb. 9th, according to an announcement by Mrs. Joe Boggs. Hours will be from 11 a. m. until 5 p. m.

Mrs. Boggs and her associates are hoping for a good turnout at Mentone, and you will likely be invited to help. You may call Mrs. Boggs for a special appointment.

Farm Class Hears Marketing Expert

Monday night the Mentone Adult Farmer class were very fortunate to be able to hear Louis M. Johnston, assistant manager, Indiana Grain Co-operative of Indiana Farm Bureau Co-operative. Mr. Johnston came here from Indianapolis to talk to the farmers.

Mr. Johnston pointed out that the farmer is supporting this country, but is not being given his share of the profit being made. In 1850, the American farmer supported five other people, today he is supporting 28 other people. In Russia today, one farmer is now supporting five other people.

The big topic of discussion during the evening was the future's market and it was discussed and explained how the future's market could be used by the farmer and how it protects the farmer.

Mr. Johnston is recognized as one of the top men in the country in marketing. This past year he handled 58 million bushels of grain for his cooperative.

Even though the roads were bad and the weather was cold, there were thirty farmers in attendance and following the meeting refreshments were enjoyed by all.

STEP-DAUGHTER
DIES AT HUNTINGTON

Mrs. William Cook learned that her step-daughter, Mrs. Jack (Mariam) Kirkoff, of Huntington, died at 1:30 p. m. Wednesday. A cerebral hemorrhage was given as the cause of death.

Mrs. Kirkoff was the eldest daughter of the late Mr. Cook.

Funeral arrangements were not completed.

GAS PUMP IN THE WAY

A very unusual accident took place at the Linn service station in Mentone Sunday noon. Two state highway operators from Fulton county parked in front of Pete's Restaurant while they ate dinner. The truck seemingly was inclined to continue the drive, coasted down the street a half block, turned into the service station and knocked over a gas pump.

This is the second time Hersch has lost a pump. Some years ago a motorist blacked out just as he was coming into the station and the car coasted into a pump.

SEED ASSOCIATION
ELECTS OFFICERS

Ray Ferverda, Van Buren Township, was re-elected president of the Kosciusko County Seed Improvement Association at their annual meeting held January 19. Other officers re-elected for 1962 were: Leland Kinsey, Clay Twp., vice president; Howard Warner, Jackson Twp., secretary; and Victor Hillery, Wayne Twp., treasurer. New directors for 1962 include Maurice Heagy, Claypool; Bernard Roberts, Syracuse; and, Everett Tom, Leesburg.

It was reported that about 40,000 bushels of seed was cleaned and treated in 1961 by Dale Sponseller and Sam Rhoades, operators of equipment owned by this association. Cleaning of oats seed will begin about March 1st of this year.

The Mentone FFA Crops Judging Team was guest of this association and were presented a trophy for winning the County 4-H and FFA Crops Judging Contest. Team members were Jim Mikel, Steve Mikel, Fred Mellott, and Steve Mellott. The team coach was Morris Bitzer, Vocational Agriculture instructor.

WITH THE SICK

Irvin Nelson was taken to the Woodlawn hospital at Rochester Thursday in the Johns ambulance. It was reported as a heart condition and he had been ill with the flu. He was reported much better today.

Rev. Irwin Olson is at Rochester, Minnesota where he went to get Mrs. Olson who underwent major surgery Jan. 15th. She was released from the hospital Monday and expects to return to Mentone the latter part of this week.

Mrs. Maude Snyder was released from the Murphy Medical Center at Warsaw Friday and was returned to her home here in the Johns ambulance.

Harry Zartman was released from the Woodlawn hospital on Friday and returned to his home here.

Mrs. Dora Taylor entered the Woodlawn hospital at Rochester Friday.

Mrs. Emmerson Zolman of Mobile, Alabama was admitted Sunday to the Murphy hospital where she underwent surgery on Monday.

Mrs. Ethel Graham fell at the church Sunday morning and broke her wrist.

GIANT TELESCOPE WILL BRING PLANETS CLOSER

Great Things—such as determining the size of the universe—are expected of the giant Navy radio-telescope under construction at Sugar Grove, W. Va. When completed, the telescope will be the biggest in the world and the largest movable structure man has ever built for installation on land. Its steerable bowl-shaped antenna is 600 feet in diameter and weighs 32,000 tons, about equivalent to two heavy cruisers. When it is finished in 1964, the instrument will be able to give accurate data about the surface temperature of the planets and may even answer the question of whether the universe had a definable beginning in time.

Color Photography is just 100 years old, but this hobby on which U. S. amateurs spend a third of a billion dollars each year is a horse of a different color from what it was in pioneer days. In 1891, for example, one George Lippman displayed color photographs that were quite good. But Lippman's laborious method remained only a curiosity, since exposure time—up to 10 million times as long as required today—would strain the patience of the most willing subject.

Experiment of the week—Here's a simple way to demonstrate the operation of a fire extinguisher: Drop some baking soda in a glass jar. Lower a burning candle into the jar. It will continue to burn. Now pour water into the jar and lower the candle again. The flame goes out. Reason? Water reacts with the baking soda to produce a gas, carbon dioxide, which immediately smothers the flame. Many commercial and residential extinguishers operate on this principle.

Think you lose mental ability as you age? Well, University of Washington researchers have taken pot shots at this venerable assumption. A 12-year study conducted at the school indicates that there may be no particular decline in the I.Q. of elderly persons who remain healthy and vigorous and that a drop in intelligence probably isn't part of the aging process at all.

Carol Stewart, Route 8, Greensburg, shelled hybrid seed corn.

Larry Wilkins, Route 1, Bluffton, champion soybeans.

FEED COSTS KEY TO PROFITS

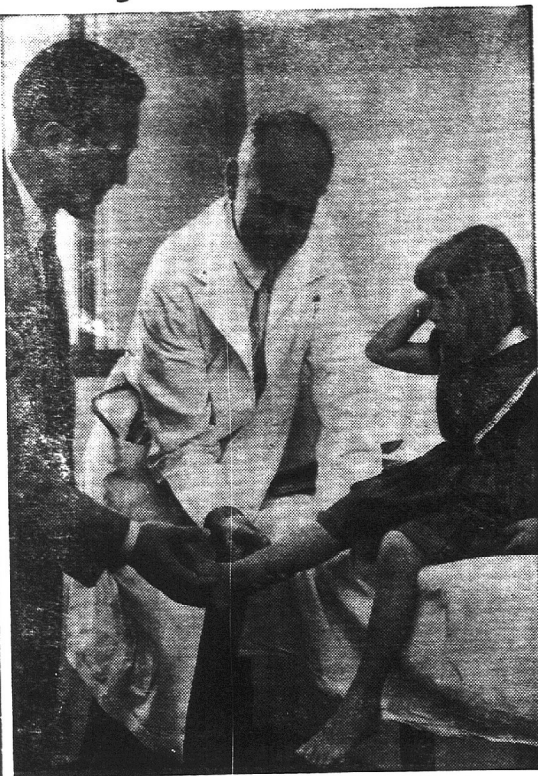

Lafayette, Ind., Jan. 17.—Indiana livestock men heard from three Purdue University staff members today that low feed costs hold the key to profits in their enterprises.

Speaking at separate sessions of Purdue's Farm Science Days, the staff members—two agricultural economists and an animal nutritionist—stressed economic aspects of cattle and hog feeding operations.

T. W. Perry, Purdue animal nutritionist, reporting on research on feeding fattening beef cattle, said cattle feeders should feed more high quality roughages and less concentrates.

Results of the Purdue study indicate cost of beef production

'Growing Pains' Wouldn't Go Away

When Sherri Lopes was two years old, she complained about pains in her joints. A medical examination showed she had juvenile rheumatoid arthritis. Today Sherri, now six, is gradually responding to treatment received at the New March of Dimes-supported Arthritis Clinical Study Center, University of California School of Medicine, San Francisco. Shown in this photo are Dr. William S. Kiyasu (left), pediatric consultant, and Dr. Ephraim P. Engleman, director of the center.

can be cut by feeding more corn silage, Perry asserted.

"Feed a full feed of corn silage and from one-half to two-thirds of a full feed of corn along with two pounds of a good 32 per cent protein cattle supplement," he suggested.

"This program will produce just as rapid gains and just as high quality a beef carcass—at a marked feed cost saving—as will a much higher concentrate feeding program," Perry said.

Cost per pound of gain probably is the most important factor under the manager's control affecting hog enterprise profits, John Kadlec, Purdue agricultural economist, told another session. A Purdue study showed feed cost varied by more than $11 per 200-pound hog from the most efficient to the least efficient swine enterprise, the economist reported.

"Perhaps feed records on the large swine enterprise are becoming essential," Kadlec declared.

While cost control is necessary for high returns, production volume is also necessary, he added, explaining that cost decreases as size increases. The most profitable size of the enterprise depends on the management ability of the operator, he said. Selling prices affect profit, too, but adjustments can be made to them.

"Gosh, I don't know WHAT to say, Irwin. I didn't realize I had you hooked!"

Discussing feeding dairy beef, M. Paul Mitchell, Purdue agricultural economist, pointed out that the cattle cycle is no respecter of grades or types of cattle. However, the dairy type beef usually grades standard to good low, he added, selling from $3 to $6 under the more popular choice grade.

"This means that the feeder of dairy beef must operate under a cost ceiling that is much lower than the ceiling for the strictly beef type feeder," Mitchell observed. "In order to operate under this kind of a cost ceiling, feed costs will have to be kept low. This means that more dependence will have to be placed on forages as the principal rations. A minimum of grain feeding will be justified."

Norton Smith, Purdue agricultural economist, told another session that despite packing plant efficiencies, the cost of marketing meat is increasing. The productivity of the meat products industry has jumped more than one-third in the last 10 years, he said. That offset by half the increase of wages, Mr. Smith added. Otherwise a sharp increase in consumer prices or a further decrease in farm prices would have occurred, he said.

CHANGES IN CORN GROWING

A Purdue University agricultural engineer states that if the present trend continues substantial numbers of Indiana corn growers would do all their tillage with a plow and a planter by 1970.

C. L. Hill, speaking at a crops session opening Purdue's Farm Science Days, reported that some farmers have cut their tillage trips across a field to a minimum. They obtained a satisfactory seed bed in the planted row with a tillage tool on their plow or on their planter, he explained.

The average corn yields in Indiana have been rising while the amount of tillage given the soil has been falling.

"Whether one of these is responsible for the other is problematical," he asserted, "but the reduced tillage is certainly not hurting yields."

Hill questioned more than 900 Hoosier farmers about their 1962 tillage plans and that they planned to make an average of 1.4 tillage trips to prepare plowed ground for planting.

Despite slippery highways, several hundred farmers, business leaders and scientists attended the opening day of week-long programs which emphasize science's role in modern agriculture.

"Pigs For Peace"

Pigs are not going to market these days in Fort Wayne, Indiana. A whole plane-load of them are being air-borne to a little island in the British West Indies—St. Lucia. When America had only thirteen colonies and needed help, this tiny little island it is said, sent monetary assistance to the struggling colonies. Now, St. Lucia is among those in the Federation which will receive its independence next spring. They, too, will need help in establishing better agricultural methods, breeding of livestock, etc. That is where the pigs come in.

The pigs were paid for—$6900 worth—by pennies collected from the WOWO audience during the twenty days preceding Christmas 1961. The penny project is an annual Christmas activity of the station. Usually the money collected goes for a single area family for rehabilitation.

This year the station dared to be different. The proposition was made to Jay Gould, Farm Service Director, that to build up the livestock in some hard pressed agricultural area or Latin America might be a real people-to-people project. A good percentage of the people in the WOWO area are farm born and bred.

In three weeks the $9600 was raised. The selection of St. Lucia was made by Heiffer Project, Inc., Mr. Thurl Metzger, Executive Director, lives within a few miles of Fort Wayne.

Mr. W. Wendell Ralston, coordinator for Heiffer Project, Inc., on St. Lucia is also Peace Corps Co-ordinator there. It was with the help of the Corps that the business like process of getting the pigs distributed on the island was arranged.

The pigs are being shipped on January 27th from Fort Wayne's Baer Field. They will arrive (barring weather difficulties) at Bean Field on St. Lucia at 6 A.M. Sunday, January 28 (St. Lucia time.). Stopover in Miami will be necessary for inspection purposes. Jay Gould, WOWO Farm Service Director, will accompany the shipment of pigs to the island and make formal presentation to the people. The farmers receiving the animals will sign a contract to turn back to the distributors two pigs of the first litter. The pigs turned in will be distributed to other farmers on the island and they will receive instruction on proper feeding and breeding. By operating in this manner, the St. Lucia farmer will be able to maintain his dignity and his self-respect as he strives to clothe and feed his family.

IS ZOYSIA GRASS FOR YOU

Would you like a beautiful thick lawn that will crowd out the weeds all summer?

If so, you should take a look at zoysia, suggests W. H. Daniel, Purdue University turf specialist.

Zoysia was introduced to mid-west homeowners about 1953 as a "wonder grass." It remains thick and green during the summer and may look nice every summer for years. It is more competitive with weeds than bluegrass and is much more drought resistant. However, it stops growing when cool weather comes, turns brown with the first frost in the fall, and stays brown until late spring.

Also, zoysia is hard to get started. Seeding isn't recommended. Plugs, sprigs, or sod are, but they are comparatively expensive.

"If you decide on zoysia, you will probably do best to use plugs," advises Daniel. "Plant them one foot apart, and when you plant, it is best to use a special plugger to do a good job. You can use sprigs at the same distance, but they require more care and more moisture during the time it takes for them to get established."

THANK YOU

I would like to take this means of thanking all my friends for the cards, flowers, visits and prayers, during my recent illness. Each were deeply appreciated.

CHEVY II WINS AWARD FOR ENGINEERING EXCELLENCE !!!

This is the Nova 400 Sport Coupe, just one of 11 Chevy II models you can pick from.

The men who know cars best put Chevy II to the test. And, after they had compared it with the rest of the '62 crop, the editors of Car Life magazine picked Chevy II for their coveted Engineering Excellence Award. Why? Here are some of the reasons in the editors' own words: "The Chevy II, in either 4- or 6-cylinder form, represents an important development in the American automotive field. The car is maximum transportation at minimum cost..." And throughout the editors' reports on the engineering and road testing you'll find accolades like "easy maintenance" ... "long wearing ruggedness" ... "simple elegance" ... "reasonable size" ... "delightful car to drive." Get the full story in the February issue of Car Life. Better yet, see your Chevrolet dealer. See for yourself why luxury and low price have never been more beautifully blended!

Merry Mixers Meet

The Merry Mixers held their regular meeting January 16 at Peterson's restaurant with Barbara Smith as hostess.

The meeting was opened by Peggy Eaton. Roll call was read by the secretary, Betty Blackburn, to which fourteen members answered. Barbara Smith then took charge with old and new business. Committees were appointed to plan the anniversary dinner on February 6. The meeting was then closed. Dirty bingo was played and delicious refreshments were served by the hostess.

The next regular meeting will be held February 20, at the home of Marita Boggs.

Purdue University horticulturists say to plan flower gardens now for beautiful blooms next summer. Plan colors that go well together. Put tall flowering types to the back of the flower bed so they won't hide the shorter border-type plants.

If architectural details in your room are too ornate for your tastes, Purdue University home furnishings specialists advise painting walls and woodwork the same color, with a blending shade for the ceiling.

CHEER UP WITH COLOR

Bring cheer into your home on drab winter days with spots of color in carefully placed accessories, urges Ezelle Johnson, Purdue University home furnishings specialist.

People often tire of room accessories and may not even see them after a time. Miss Johnson suggests changing the appearance of a room with the things you already have. It may be as simple as rearranging the pictures on the walls, or even replacing one.

Take a long, objective look at your room to decide how to add to its appearance in small ways. Use imagination and creativeness to give new life to a dull setting.

Inexpensive pillow covers are an easy way to brighten a room. Add nut dishes and colorful candles in the same shade. Just changing the accessories to a different color will change the atmosphere of the room, notes the specialist.

Attractive bottles filled with colored water provide a bright spot of color. Placed where light flows through them, they have a pleasant clear appeal.

A change in placemats or table cloth will alter the appearance of your dining room. Try a matching centerpiece, candles and ensemble. Choose colors to produce the mood you desire—cheerful, restful, or bold.

Bright and cheerful colors with the feeling of spring are the clear yellows and the yellow-greens. Pastel shades give a light feeling, as well as a quieting and restful effect. Bold, intense colors promote activity and action.

Friendly Neighbors Have Meeting

The Friendly Neighbors Home Economic club met recently in the social room of Peterson's restaurant with Myrtle Wentzel and Mary Shirey as hostesses.

Golda Mollenhour, president, opened the meeting with the members giving the pledge to the flag and the creed. Myrtle Wentzel led in singing "America". Meditation was given by Dora Whetstone reading three poems, "I Would Like To Go There", "My True Story", and "Sleigh Bells", by Edgar A. Guest. The lesson on landscape design was given by Myrtle Wentzel and Ottie Walburn.

Thirteen members answered roll call. Guests were Opal Tucker, Mary Hill and Esther Sarber. Delicious refreshments were served.

START A NEW PLANT

When house plants grow too tall to be decorative, Purdue University horticulturists suggest an "air layer" to produce a new compact plant.

Many house plants drop their lower leaves as they grow, leaving a tall, scrawny plant. It is possible to root a vigorous new plant right under the top group of leaves.

To make an air layer, they recommend an upward or downward slanting cut one to one and one-half inches along the stem of the plant. Make the cut where new roots are desired. Cut a fourth to one-half way through the stem. Prop the cut open with a toothpick or match stick and add rooting hormone directly to the cut area. Pack a ball of two handfuls of moist sphagnum moss around the cut area. Wrap with clear plastic and tie securely to seal in the moisture.

Continue to water and care for the plant as usual. Roots will form in the plastic after a few weeks. When many roots develop, cut off the plant just below the air layer. Remove the plastic and pot the new plant.

Don't fertilize your house plants during the winter, warn Purdue University horticulturists. Fertilizer will cause the plants to grow straggly if the light intensity is low.

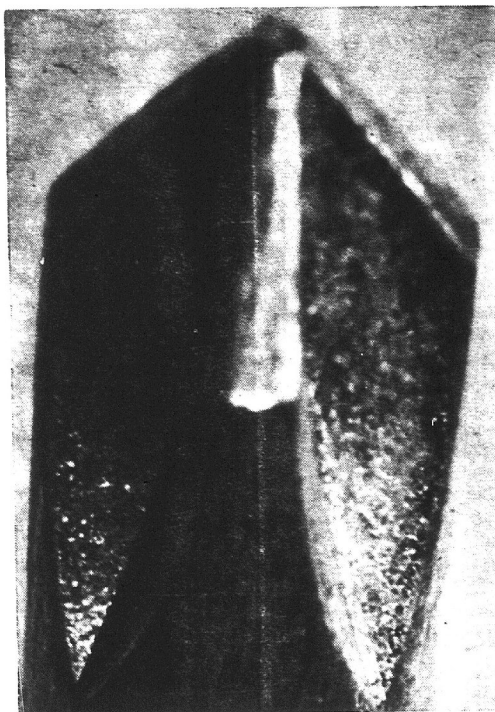

Children can play "magic" with a few drops of food coloring added to plastic cups of water, observe Purdue University child development specialists. Water play keeps them happy in the kitchen while mother cooks.

YOUR DIMES WILL DO IT AGAIN!

SO...SAY YES TO THE NEW MARCH OF DIMES

Jerry Hudson's "What-Is-It?"

Last week we thought we had a rough one for you in Jerry Hudson's "What-Is-It?" We've heard of a few guesses—along the doughnut line—and they were mighty close, except they were still thinking six or eight times too big. It was a Cheerio. Undoubtedly the kind for a big breakfast.

This week we may not be so rough, but we give a little hint—you see only the business end of the complete article. If you will read the eighth chapter of Acts—especially about the middle of the chapter—you may get a little hint. (Even if you don't, it might be a good idea to read a few chapters in the Book.)

LET US NOT FORGET

With the recent passing of Thanksgiving and Christmas and now in a new year, I am sure that all of us should take time out to do some serious thinking. We could be thankful for the many blessings of the past year. The many things we have had to use in our business and pleasures. At Christmas we should be thankful for the birth of Jesus and the Holy Bible and what it means to us. Surely we need spiritual guidance in our homes, in our business and in our pleasures. When the new year arrives, as the old saying goes, I want to turn over a new leaf and make a clean beginning. It is surprising how much one can improve his life by making a few changes each year. It seems to be human nature for us to fret when we cannot have things our own way. We seem to forget that we are so much better off today than the people of yesterday. Yes, we have these and many other things to be thankful for. May we use the things which we have at our disposal for the betterment of all. And to all you good people who sent those beautiful cards and presents, I sincerely wish you a happy new year.

H. C. WHETSTONE.

Horticulturists at Purdue University say the best temperature for African Violets is 65 degrees at night and 75 during the day. Remove plants from the window on cool nights so they won't chill.

Vegetables and fruit make interesting house plants. Horticulturists at Purdue University say some popular ones are the sweet potato, citrus and the carrot tops. You can start with a root, a seed, or part of a plant.

VALUES ADJUSTED FOR ASSESSMENT

As a result of cooperative negotiation among farm leaders and tax officials, Indiana farmers will welcome the news that a more equitable schedule for assessing livestock and farm machinery has been developed. This is the opinion of Glenn W. Sample, vice president of the Indiana Farm Bureau, upon the announcement that these new yardsticks were agreed upon.

Vance L. Denney, tax and legislative director of the IFB and consultant to a committee appointed from among county and township assessors, meeting in state convention at Indianapolis last week, suggested values recommended by farmers in Farm Bureau. As a result the assessed value of livestock and some farm machinery will be adjusted downward, and the new schedule will be applied throughout the state.

The National Farm Tractor and Implement Blue Book will be used as a reference — farm tractors to be taken at one-third their average retail value, and implements to be taken as one-third their "as-is" value, according to the Blue Book.

The following schedule will be applied to livestock, and one-third the value indicated levied against for taxes:

Registered cows and bulls were set at $300, good cows and bulls at $240, and common cows and bulls at $150. The same figures were set for milk cows in the three classifications.

Registered sheep were priced at $45 and common sheep at $15.

Registered brood sows and pigs were priced at $125 for tax purposes. Registered brood sows and registered male hogs were fixed at $100. Common brood sows with pigs were fixed at $100 and common brood sows at $80. Gilts and common male hogs were valued at $50 each.

The per pound prices for beef cattle and hogs, along with the price per bushel of grain would be established by state tax board on March 1 and supplied to the assessors.

Plan a complete landscape for your home—one that goes from lot line to lot line. Purdue University horticulturists say just a foundation planting in front of your house is incomplete at best.

Locate your vegetable garden in the full sun and close to your house and water supply, advise horticulturists at Purdue University. Soil should be fertile and well drained, and the areas should be protected from cold winds. Don't plant near trees that might shade or rob your garden of nutrients and moisture.

CHILDREN CAN HELP COOK

As every mother knows, too many cooks—especially very young ones—can spoil the broth. But Elaine Dolch, Purdue University child development specialist, points out that jobs and activities in the kitchen can be found for the youngest cooks.

Most children love to help with beating, stirring, kneading and rolling. A little ball of pie or yeast dough to poke and flatten will please any youngster.

While some kinds of food preparation are strictly for adults, others lend themselves well to the efforts of small hands.

The specialist suggests allowing even a three-year-old to decorate cookies with sugar, raisins or nuts. With a little help, the youngster could stir water into jello and milk into powdered pudding mixes. Turning the handle of the food grinder may become a special job.

When youngsters peel hard-cooked eggs, be sure to cook several extra eggs. The child often wants to eat one he has peeled himself.

Only older children and grown-ups should use the stove and sharp utensils. Be sure to turn in pan handles on the stove to prevent accidental tipping. Keep sharp knives out of the reach of the young apprentices.

When mother can't spare even the small amount of extra time it takes to let a youngster help, provide some kitchen utensils for diversion. An egg beater is a favorite toy for beating a mountain of soap suds. The specialist recommends keeping the children occupied while mother is cooking so that both will have an enjoyable time in the kitchen.

Missionary Group Meeting Monday

The Be-About Missionary Society held their January meeting at the home of Mrs. Stanley Yeiter.

The meeting was opened by group singing and prayer. The business meeting was presided over by the new president. The secretary and treasurer reports were read and approved. Mrs. Yeiter appointed her committee for the coming year. A letter was read from Mrs. Joyce Burklin in Germany, who with her husband, Fred, are serving the Lord there. We were most interested in hearing of their lives over there and of the living conditions.

The group decided to help with the funeral dinners. Cards were signed by each lady present to be sent to Mrs. Olson, Mr. Nelson and Mr. Lemler, who are ill at this time.

Circle prayer followed and the meeting was dismissed. We rolled bandages for Ippy hospital in Africa during our work period. We also made jackets and prizes to be given to the natives for learning God's word.

Lovely refreshments were served to the following: Mesdames Everett Besson, Kenneth Romine, Ervin Wagner, Wayne Bowser, Edwin Norris, Charles Hunter, Brad Moore, Frank Overpeck, Dave Peffney, Everett Welborn, Ed Bach and Matthew Yeiter by Mrs. Yeiter.

Note on communism:

If you are to take a firm stand against Communism, you must be aware of the terms and words they use for "name calling."

"It is important to understand clearly the Mistaken position on matters concerning inquiry by non-Communists and anti-Communists into what the Mistaken consider their own business; that business is to weaken, conquer, and take over other countries, especially the United States, so as to complete their conquest of the world. The Communists have always demanded that inquiry of any kind into their manipulations should be forbidden. They have called such inquiry undemocratic, reactionary, fascist, and illegal. They make a practice of using such words as "rightist" and "extreme rightist" against anti-Communist teachings in general.

They want to scare off every inquiry into Communism. An important part of their strategy is to try to arouse distrust of anti-Communists and anti-Communism. They lump together opponents of every description and brand them with a label that they hope will be objectionable to most people."

Former Burket Marshal Dies

Services were held Monday at 1:30 p.m. in the Jay and Swift funeral home in Gas City for Verlin E. Street, 72, of Burket, who died Friday at 2:10 p.m. at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Harold Smith, of Gas City. He died after a four month illness.

Mr. Street, who was born in Grant county on September 16, 1889, moved to Burket from North Jonesboro in 1948. His parents were George and Sarah (Sharp) Street.

He was a retired farmer and eight years as town marshal of Burket.

Surviving are his wife, Louise, at home; a son, John, of California; two daughters, Mrs. Victor Nutter, of Marion, and Mrs. Smith; two brothers, Otto and Clay, both of Marion; and three grandchildren.

FATHER DIES AT MACY

Final rites were held Tuesday for Gerald Fay Ross, 65, R.R. 1, Macy, who suffered a fatal heart attack while attending cattle in the barn at his farm. He was the father of Robert Ross of Mentone.

The services were at 2 p.m. in the McCain funeral home with Brother Don Winters of Indianapolis officiating. Burial was in the Mud Creek Chapel cemetery.

Mr. Ross apparently was stricken about 6 p.m. Saturday. His wife discovered the body about 9 p.m. after returning home from Rochester.

Born in Miami county May 29, 1896, the son of Charles W. and Sarah Lucinda Ewer Ross. He was a farmer and had lived in the Macy area for 18 years, moving there from Inwood.

On October 13, 1917, he was married in Peru to Martha Butt. He was a member of the Mud Creek Chapel church.

Surviving with the widow are two daughters, Mrs. Alice Gray, Plymouth, and Mrs. Phyllis England, Warsaw; four sons, Walter of Nyona Lake, Gerald Jr. of Warsaw, Dale of Barbee Lake, and Robert of Mentone; a sister, Mrs. Eletha Heckathorn of Logansport; and 10 grandchildren. Two sisters and four brothers preceded in death.

The Mentone basketball game with Milford Friday will be played in the Syracuse gym.

WHILE FISHING

Charles W. Hershberger, 64, of Bourbon, and father of Mrs. Robert Hoover and Mrs. John A. Teel of Mentone, was found dead at Palestine Lake at 8 p.m. Saturday by his son-in-law, Robert Hoover, of Mentone. When Hershberger, who had been ice fishing all day, failed to return home for supper, his wife became worried and contacted Hoover. Death has been ruled as a heart attack at approximately 6 p.m.

Mr. Hershberger was born in Bourbon township on November 29, 1897, the son of Frank and Frances (Bolinger) Hershberger. He married Alma M. Stineman on December 12, 1915. Mr. Hershberger was a member of the Foster Chapel Methodist church.

Surviving are his wife; three daughters, Mrs. John (Kathryn) Teel, and Mrs. Robert (Eleanor) Hoover, of Mentone, and Mrs. Howard (Frances) Williams, of Plymouth; one son, Mack Hershberger, of Bourbon; one brother, Fred, of Munster; three sisters, Mrs. William Karback, of Fort Wayne, Mrs. Henry Reickert, of Bourbon, and Mrs. Raymond Brock, of Bremen; six grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Services were held Tuesday at 2 p.m. in the Bourbon Methodist church with Rev. John Krieg officiating. Burial was in the New Oak Hill cemetery at Plymouth.

Mentone Wins
"B" Tourney

The Mentone Freshman and B basketball teams participated in a tourney at Bourbon recently and competed with similar teams from Argos, Tippecanoe and Bourbon.

The freshmen from Mentone won over Tippecanoe 46 to 43 in the afternoon but lost to the Bourbon boys 48 to 18 in the evening.

The B team won over Bourbon 44 to 43 in the afternoon and went on to win the championship game with Tippecanoe 52 to 27 in the evening.

PTA FISH FRY AT BURKET

COUNTERPOINT

By The Editor's Wife

If you haven't had a fall on the ice, it's probably because you've hibernated. The fluff of snow on Tuesday added to the menace, too.

Note on communism—(This is encouraging news.) Thirty pupils of the senior government class of New Haven High School are studying communism. The group has been divided into several units. The first unit is doing research on the laws of our land concerning communism, and what steps have been taken to stop its spread here.

Another group is writing to the head of foreign governments and to prominent leaders in our country, to learn what they are doing to combat communism, and to ask their personal viewpoints.

This group, also, wrote to the heads of many pro-capitalist and pro-communist countries. They asked the pro-capitalist leaders, "What do you think of America's stand against communism?" and "What is thought to be the Communists' biggest threat in the undivided countries?"

They asked the pro-communist leaders the actual reasons why they believe communism to be superior to capitalism.

Another group has been studying the John Birch Society, as to what is fact and what is fantasy. Still another group has shown movies and tape recordings about communism.

We sincerely trust more high school groups will follow the idea.

Probably the most helpful and wonderful gift any child can receive is a love for reading. Congratulate yourself if you started reading aloud to your youngsters while they were still toddlers and kept it up regularly until they were well launched on reading for themselves. ROMINE REELECTED
C. OF C. CHAIRMAN

The annual dinner and election meeting of the Mentone Chamber of Commerce was held at Peterson's Restaurant Tuesday evening.

Forrest Miner, Joe Boggs and Larry Castaldi were elected as the three new directors, and in the director's meeting following the business meeting Gerald Romine was re-elected as chairman for another year. Forrest Miner was named vice president; Thomas Harman, treasurer, and Ralph Mollenhour, secretary.

The report of the Industrial committee was received with much satisfaction by the members present, as it was one time when the accomplishments of the organization seemingly were worth mentioning. Not that former committees did not work as hard, but that there was some tangible result.

Mentone can be proud of the new businesses that have entered the community during the past year. Two new industrial factories were built, and among the new businesses established were Markley's Greenhouse, a coin laundry, Smitty's Body Shop, Warren Boats, and many improvements in existing establishments.

Chairman Romine extended his thanks to everyone for the fine work and unselfish contributions

Music Contest

Kenneth Bush, music director of the Mentone school, reports the accomplishments of his pupils who entered the Northern Indiana School Band Orchestra and Vocal Ensemble contest in the Penn High School at Mishawaka Saturday. Each student was given a rating of I, II, III or IV. Mentone students were given the following ratings in the piano and voice contest:

Piano solos—Pam Abbey I, Beverly Hurst II, Vivian Hurst II.

Voice solos—Sandra Eckert II, Judy Decker II, Linda Mellott III, Mary Antonides III, Karen Menzie IV.

Vocal duet—Sandra Eckert and Vivian Hurst II.

Triple Trio III.

Mentone students are entered in 48 events in the District Instrumental and Ensemble contest to be held at the Warsaw High School Saturday.

TALMA FARMERS' INSTITUTE, FEB. 8-9

The 39th annual Newcastle township Farmers' Institute will be conducted in the Talma Community Building Thursday and Friday, Feb. 8-9.

In charge of this year's institute are Dick Utter and Sid Alber, co-chairmen; Leroy Grossman, vice president, and Dick Morris, secretary and treasurer.

The institute's opening event will be its community dinner on Thursday noon in charge of the Talma Methodist Church. Guests are invited to attend the dinner, check the institute exhibits and attend the day's program. Lewis Ault will address the afternoon program. Thursday night's program in the gym will include the Varpee Brothers, Virginia Ford, George Trexel, Barcelona and Mary Ann, Roger Hill and the boys and Esther Howard. Friday night's program will include music by the Talma high school choir, the Grandview quartet, tap dancing and singing.

The ladies department will be in charge of Mrs. Clifford Morris, chairman, Mrs. Dick Utter and Mrs. Robert Hibbs. The men's department will be in the hands of Wilbert Utter, chairman, and Dick Morris.

Review of 1962 Ford Almanac

The 1962 Ford Almanac for farm, ranch and home, like its predecessors, is a gold mine of helpful information for agriculturists, and then some—city people.

John Strohm, who edits this fascinating yearbook for the ninth consecutive year, has filled its 176 pages with material that interests everyone who grows things—from commercial farmer and stock breeder to backyard gardener and homemaker.

John Strohm takes care of all facts and figures for the professional farmer with big acreage or small, while his wife, Lillian Strohm—recognized as a home economist in her own right—supplies the helpful hints for the homemaker, rural or urban.

Running through the pages of the 1962 Ford Almanac we are amazed at the variety of subjects covered and the numerical quantity of case histories, helpful hints, do-it-yourself and comparisons between old ways and new.

One of the most interesting sections is on the topic of Food—the world's biggest problem. It deals with Russia's challenge and failure; the awakening of Red China, a sleeping giant; hunger around the world, in such far away places as Pakistan, Indonesia, Malaya and Ceylon. Then, in contrast, it treats on what rural youth is doing in Latin America, and how America's own strength lies in her bountiful food supply.

These penetrating pages are profusely illustrated by full color photos, authentic and revealing. John Strohm, recognized in journalistic circles as America's No. 1 agricultural writer, himself visited Russia, and he was the only accredited American correspondent permitted behind Red China's bamboo curtain. These facts in themselves speak volumes for the accuracy of the material presented.

Weather Forecasts Accurate

Another intriguing section is the 1962 Weather Calendar, containing weather forecasts made in advance for the entire year. These weather predictions are prepared by Weather Surveys, Inc., of Chicago, Illinois, and include such detailed forecasts as to what the weather will be like on Easter Sunday, Fourth of July, Labor Day, Thanksgiving and Christmas.

Accuracy of Ford Almanac weather predictions has been amazingly high over the years—correct as high as 90 per cent. The 1962 weather charts and maps, we foresee, will appeal strongly to farmers and to other foresighted business men whose operations are frequently influenced by weather conditions. Again, farmers will be interested, we believe, in the farm work goals as established by the Ford Almanac in many categories, and how they are met; in the photos and records of the 14 Ford Farm Efficiency winners for 1962; in the findings of 11 special panels in the fields of staple crops.

And everyone will be fascinated by the colorful illustrations and descriptions of such items as new zinnias, glads, mums and roses; seedless watermelons, early salad tomatoes, and strawberries that thrive in cold climates; new uses for plastic film, the handiest thing since baling wire; college costs and how to help defray them; dietary facts, fads and frauds.

One reader of the Ford Almanac told the publisher, "It is a veritable bible, encyclopedia, dictionary, etc., all rolled into one." We are inclined to agree. Also with the farmer who opined, "That's the best darn piece of reading material I get each year."

Copies of the all-new 1962 Ford Almanac are available at $1.00 from newsstands, bookstores, or Golden Press, New York.

Plant Shrubs In Groups

For better design, better plants and easier care, group ornamental plantings into masses. Then plant each group as a single cultivated bed, advises Norman Marty, Purdue University landscape architect.

In good designs, most plantings are planned as groups or masses—not as individual plants. They should be planted as groups from the beginning.

If young, small plants are used, leave two to five feet of cultivated soil between each plant. Within a few years the plants will cover this area. Meanwhile, the simple, neat lines of cultivation will be more attractive than a confusion of individual plants.

Shrub beds will cut landscape care time. Mowing time will be shortened, since you won't have to mow around individual plants. This, too, will lessen lawn mower damage to individual shrubs. By adding mulch to the cultivated area most weed growth will be eliminated; this further reduces yard work.

A well prepared soil bed before planting improves growing conditions. Mulch over the cultivated area betters moisture conditions and causes soil temperatures to be more even. Over a period of years, the mulch will add valuable organic matter to the soil.

To achieve a more attractive landscape quickly and with less work, plan landscape plantings in groups and plant them in well prepared soil beds, Marty emphasizes.

Jolly Janes 15th Anniversary

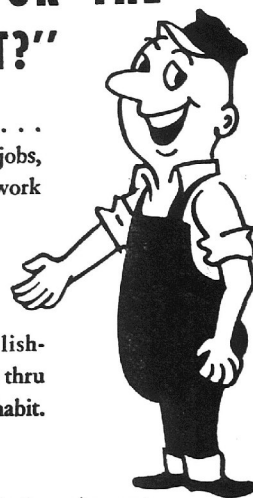

On Monday evening the Jolly Janes Home Demonstration club met at Peterson's restaurant to observe their 15th anniversary. The hostesses for the event were Mrs. Hap Utter, Mrs. Al Hatfield and Mrs. Harold Markley, who beautifully decorated the tables from which the delicious steak dinner was served.

A short business meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. Frank Hardesty. Response to roll call was answered by 18 members and two guests. The flower committee presented Mrs. George Mollenhour with a plant and birthday gifts were received by Mrs. Dwight Reichard and Mrs. Lorin Tridle. The door prize was won by Mrs. Kenneth Romine.

The entertainment committee, Mrs. Wayne Bowser and Mrs. Stanley Yeiter, introduced the Triple Trio from the Mentone school, directed by Mr. Kenneth Bush, who presented, "The Lord's Prayer", "We Adore Thee", "German Song No. 7", "My Hero", and "Ezekiel". The remainder of the evening was spent playing buncos, with prizes going to Mrs. Dwight Reichard, Mrs. Russell Eber, Mrs. Raymond Lewis and Mrs. George Mollenhour.

Savannah Is Ready To Go

The NS Savannah, first atomic-powered cargo-passenger ship, is ready for sea trials, reports the Atomic Energy Commission and the Maritime Administration. The nuclear reactor of the sleek 595-foot vessel has been loaded with 17,000 pounds of uranium fuel, enough to power the ship for three and one-half years. Extraordinary precautions will be taken to insure safe operation before this unique ship goes into service. First trials will take place at Camden, New Jersey, where the keel was laid May 22, 1958. Then the ship goes to Yorktown, Virginia for further wringing out. Finally a New York maritime firm will operate the Savannah for the government on an 18-month trial period. During this time the ship will carry 10,000 tons of cargo and about 60 passengers on visits to major U.S. and foreign ports.

Disease killed two-thirds of the 360,222 Union Army soldiers who died in the Civil War, reports Dr. Roy Williams in "Medical Affairs". About 258,000 Confederates died, 94,000 in combat.

Parking privileges for physically handicapped workers are now being granted by law. The National Society for Crippled Children and Adults estimates that there are 4,000,000 orthopedically handicapped persons in the U.S., and that 2,500,000 of them would benefit by being able to park closer to their jobs. A Chicago chemist, Dr. Rolph Ehrmann of Chemetron, spends hours of his spare time encouraging the spread of such legislation; he reports that seven states now give workers, on medical certification, the right to obtain special windshield stickers or plates.

Oldest brides and bridegrooms in the world are in Ireland, according to the Population Reference Bureau. Irishmen average 31.4 years of age when they marry, their brides 28.5. Marriage partners are youngest in India: 20 years for grooms, 14.5 for brides.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Binford, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Kehoe, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Wise and family, Mr. and Mrs. Alton Bruner and daughter, Jody Horn and Susie Witham attended the Dedication Sunday at the West Side Church of Christ at Muncie. The church is a very modern air conditioned building equipped with nine class rooms, office, nursery, rest rooms and a seating capacity of 300. Ralph Burris, former minister in Mentone, is in charge. There were 410 in attendance at the Dedication. The address was given by Earl West of Indianapolis.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Horn of Rochester spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Howard Horn.

Mrs. Dewey King, Mrs. Mary Huffer and Idyl Huffer were callers last week of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Leininger.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Watkins, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jones and Everett Beigh spent from Thursday until Monday at their cottage at Arbutus, Michigan, fishing.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Teel of Rochester and Glen Davis visited Thursday with Mrs. Alfred Teel.

Mr. and Mrs. Arlo Friesner and Mrs. Emma Cook called at the Bailey funeral home in Huntington Thursday evening to see Mrs. Jack (Mariam) Kirchoff and to be with the family.

Mrs. Nellie Julian had Sunday dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Adams and daughters in Warsaw. In the evening Mr. and Mrs. Bill Cochran and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Besson called.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Brannum, Mr. and Mrs. Chancey Tucker and Dewey Whetstone were callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Verl Halterman the past week.

Mrs. Mary Griffis and Mrs. Bill Griffis and Brad had Sunday dinner with Mrs. Jennie Sponseller.

Mrs. Freda King had Sunday dinner with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Wagner. In the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Wagner and daughters and Mrs. Ted Wagner of Fort Wayne called.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Linn of Elkhart spent Sunday afternoon with his mother, Mrs. Hazel Linn.

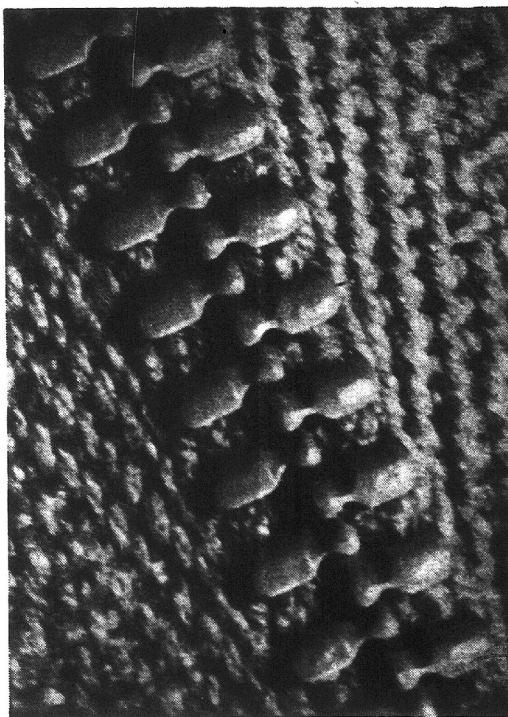

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Rush and family, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Fowler visited Sunday afternoon and evening with Mr. and Mrs. Keith Fowler and family and Mr. and Mrs. Don Rush in Fort Wayne.

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Jenkins of Wabash spent Thursday afternoon at the Letha Klingenhagen home.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hardesty and sons spent Sunday afternoon and evening with Mr. and Mrs. Paul Fry and sons in South Bend.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Miller and sons had Sunday dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Boganwright. In the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Joe Miller called.

Jerry Hudson's "What-Is-It?"

Well, if you took the hint and read the eighth chapter of Acts last week you read where Philip left a revival meeting, at God's bidding, and went out into the desert to explain the scriptures to a stranger.

Jerry Hudson's "What-Is-It?" was the business end of a Phillips screwdriver. Some, I know, guessed what it was, but in an effort to be fair to all, we didn't confirm our readers' guesses.

Dan Davis visited his brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Rocoe Davis at McCormell, Illinois, over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Foulks and family of South Bend spent Saturday with Mrs. Anna Mentzer and Annabel.

Mrs. Dick Boganwright and children and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Tucker and Jane called on Mr. and Mrs. Ora Tucker last week. Mrs. Ora Tucker received many nice birthday cards on her birthday, January 24, and Mrs. Boganwright presented her with a beautiful cake.

Mr. and Mrs. William Rathbun and family spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Steve Smith and son Phillip at Goshen.

Mr. and Mrs. John Oswalt and Mr. and Mrs. Max Friesner were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Arlo Friesner.

Mrs. Neva Bruner of near Claypool spent Monday with her mother, Mrs. Nellie Julian.

Glen Davis came home on Wednesday of last week and returned back to school on Friday.

Bill Blue of Woodland called on his mother, Mrs. Emma Cook Thursday morning.

This week you may not be too puzzled, but whatever it is certainly makes one wonder if Jerry got a shot of some old Texas rattler that had gone through the drouth. Or did he manage to reprint a view of one of those dinosaurs Karl Burke and Dr. Brown dug out of the hills of eastern Montana? And it could be what most of us check just before we go into church on those mornings when we're running a bit behind schedule?

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Rule, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Boggs and daughter, John Feldman, Linda Nees, Janice Lynch and Bob Griffis spent Saturday evening after the ball game with Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Griffis. Refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Noble Babcock and Mrs. Orvin Thompson and daughter had dinner Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jones.

Raspberries For Your Garden

Why not plant raspberries in your garden this spring? Horticulturists at Purdue University advise getting orders in soon since raspberries must be planted early in the spring.

Raspberries require a minimum of care and will grow in areas suitable for corn. They'll do best when planted in well drained soil—a sandy loam is ideal. Once the plants are in the ground and well established, a good mulch will eliminate most of the weeding. Most of the work comes with picking.

There are several raspberry varieties. They include black, red, in both the spring and the ever-bearing type, purple and yellow.

For further information contact county agricultural extension offices or the Agricultural Publication Office, AES Building, Purdue University, Lafayette, Indiana, for two publications: HO-57-1, "Raspberry and Blackberry Culture in Indiana". They are free to Indiana residents.

COMPLETES COURSE IN LOGISTICS

Army Reserve Lt. Col. Donald J. VanGilder of Mentone, recently completed an extension course in logistics conducted by the Command and General Staff College, Fort Leavenworth, Kan.

The college, the Army's senior tactical school, was established in 1881 as the school of Application of Infantry and Cavalry.

Colonel VanGilder is presently assigned to Headquarters Company of the 5075th Logistical Command, an Army Reserve unit in Warsaw, Indiana.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Linn and daughters of Bourbon spent Sunday afternoon and evening with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Byron Linn.

Dale Eizinger of Rochester called Sunday evening at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Eizinger.

TASTE IN DRY MILK

If your children refuse to drink nonfat dry milk, they may have a legitimate complaint, asserts Miriam Eads, Purdue University food specialist.

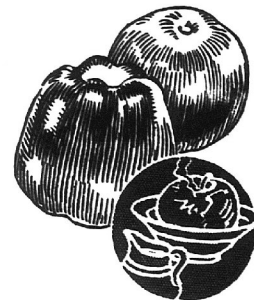

The type of water used to reconstitute dry milk can make a big difference in how it tastes.

Even though your water supply is approved for drinking, it may contain biological ferments or minerals that will give the milk an off-flavor. The off-taste may not develop right away, but usually will after a few days in the refrigerator.

If the water is causing a rancid or musty taste in the reconstituted milk, the best thing to do is heat the water to boiling and allow it to cool before mixing it with the milk powder. Or, heat the reconstituted milk. Either way, the milk usually will taste better and keep longer than it would otherwise.

Even when there is no off-taste in the milk, some people object to it. In this case, Miss Eads notes that mixing one quart whole milk to five quarts reconstituted milk will aid the individual in learning to like it.

At best, six days is considered the maximum time to store reconstituted milk. The specialist suggests mixing up dry milk twice a week—for better quality and flavor.

NELLANS BREAKS SCORING RECORD

Mentone's Bill Nellans, established a scoring record for the Culver gym Saturday night as he and his teammates won a 90 to 69 decision over Culver. Bill has been a consistent high scorer the past couple of seasons and the beautiful part of it is that he continues to play with the other members of the team and gives them equal opportunity to score. His is a brand of basketball that makes for winning teams.

The Mentone B team also won 55 to 53.

District II FFA Contests At Mentone

Tuesday evening, January 30, the District II F.F.A. contests were held at the Mentone high school.

A total of 150 F.F.A. boys and their advisors were in attendance at these contests.

The meeting was opened with the official opening ceremonies and a business meeting was held which was followed by the con-

CROPS JUDGING TROPHY—The above photo was taken as Victor Hillery, treasurer of the Kosciusko County Seed Improvement Association, presented a trophy to the Mentone Crops Judging Team which won the county title. tests. Mr. Frederick welcomed the group to the Mentone school.

The contests held were: Public speaking, Freshman Creed, Demonstration, Exhibits, Talent, Cooperative Award, State Chapter Contest, and Parliamentary Procedure contest.

Fred Mellott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mellott, placed first in the talent contest with a drum solo and will represent Mentone in the Section contest. Mentone placed second in the cooperative award contest and did very well in the parliamentary procedure contest. David Leiter represented Mentone in the freshman creed contest.

If any group desires to have a parliamentary procedure demonstration by the Mentone F.F.A., please contact the F.F.A. advisor, Morris Bitzer.

Easing The Bedtime Routine

Although babies often welcome sleep and present few nap time problems, pre-schoolers from age two to five may turn nap and bedtimes into a routine of fuss and fury.

The reasons why children balk at bedtime are many and varied, observes Elaine Dolch, Purdue University child development specialist. It helps the mother understand and control the situation if she can realize the child needs help and assurance, she says.

The pre-schooler finds life so exciting and challenging that he feels he will miss something if he goes to bed. Stopping his own activities to sleep can seem unreasonable to him. The child may also have fears that bother him when he is alone and quiet.

The specialist recommends keeping bedtime a calm routine—with quiet play just before sleep. To help a child make the change from play to bedtime, remind him five or ten minutes before it is time to stop playing that he must stop soon.

Following about the same routine each night will enable the youngster to predict what will happen next. Proceeding with an established routine will help eliminate controversy. A calm and relaxed parent will ease a tense situation.

Discuss something pleasant as the child is getting ready for bed. He may enjoy singing or hearing a bedtime story. If the child does have fears, she urges that he be reassured as much as possible. Perhaps leaving his door open or burning a night light in his room will help.

However, when it is time for final good nights, be calm and kind, but firm. Be sure the child is comfortable. If he gets up again, take him back to bed promptly.

Be sure your children get enough sleep and rest. If you have particular questions about your child's sleep, the specialist suggests discussing them with the family doctor.

Nap time may present a different situation. Some children will take naps until they are four or five. Others prefer a "play nap". During a "play nap" the child stays in his room alone, but rests instead of sleeping. He may look at books, lie in bed talking to himself, or play quietly with a toy. This child will often drop off to sleep if the mother doesn't demand it.

A child usually accepts a regular rest hour at the same time of day if it comes during a break in activities. If the nap or rest hours that seem right for the child are inconvenient for the mother, perhaps a temporary change can be made in parts of the household schedule to accommodate the child's needs.

Separating children who room together will prevent one from disturbing the other, observes Mrs. Dolch.

When the daily nap routine is upset or missed, the child may show signs of drowsiness, irritability, or nervousness. In that case, the specialist notes that going to bed a half hour earlier in the evening will help.

Cooperative Clinic, Purdue, Feb. 5 - 6

Indiana leaders of agricultural cooperatives will gather at Purdue University February 5 and 6 for the 1962 Hoosier Cooperative Clinic. Theme of the short course for persons interested in agricultural cooperatives will be "New Developments in Indiana Cooperatives", according to R. B. Wilson, market service director for the agricultural extension service at Purdue.

Following registration from 10 a.m. until noon, February 5, in Purdue's Memorial Union, a luncheon will be held. Dr. L. S. Hardin, head of Purdue's agricultural economics department, will discuss the intermediate and long range outlook for agriculture.

After lunch, a panel will take up such subjects as "Hoosier Energy, 1962 Style", Hog Production and Marketing Agreements" and "The Proposed Cooperative Nitrogen Plant". Then a session on managing cooperative finances will follow with Homer Hayward, president of the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank, Louisville, Kentucky, and Kenneth Miller, Indiana Farm Bureau Cooperative Association, Indianapolis, as speakers.

We lived in Montana for nine years and never did head on West to visit the lovely states on the other side of the Continental Divide. Have hopes that we can visit the World's Fair in Seattle this summer and see a few of the beauty spots, especially the Giant Redwoods.

When you are in a "low" spot emotionally, you may find comfort in knowing that there are only four miseries—pain, fear, feeling of guilt, and loneliness. By the time you have your misery catalogued, it may have vanished.

Consumers Oath—No. 4

I shall not fall victim to false pride, the wish to impress or the craving for luxury. If I need reassurance or more status, I shall improve myself, not merely my surroundings or my raincoat. I shall not bankrupt my friends and neighbors who seek to emulate me, nor shall I allow any of my family to be ostentatious.

We enjoyed this:

It was the first day for a new nursery school class, and the teacher asked a beginning pupil what her father's name was.

"Daddy," replied the child.

"Yes, I know," said the teacher, "but what does your mother call him?"

"She doesn't call him anything," was the quick reply. "She likes him."

RECEIVES NURSES' CAP

Linda Goshert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Goshert of Burkett, recently received her nurses' cap in ceremonies at the Methodist School of Nursing in Indianapolis.

Dr. and Mrs. Harry Lavanchy and Phillip called on Mr. and Mrs. Robert Holloway Thursday evening.

New Arrival

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Tombaugh, of 1022 W. Badger Road, Madison, Wisconsin, are the parents of a son born Friday, January 26.

The new boy weighed nine pounds, eleven ounces and has been named Brian Stuart.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Cook, of Bourbon, are the maternal grandparents and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Tombaugh the paternal grandparents.

MENTONE SCHOOL HONOR ROLL

Working Hard For Blood Donor Record

A large group of local people are putting forth considerable effort to establish a record for Mentone when the Red Cross Bloodmobile comes to the Methodist church here on Feb. 9th. Mrs. Joe Boggs, chairman, announces the following individuals and organizations helping: Psi Iota Xi Sorority, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Whittenberger, Mrs. Condia Walburn, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Mollenhour, Lyman Mollenhour, Eva Eherenman, Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Bechtol, Mrs. Wayne Heisler, Mrs. Bertha Parker, Mrs. Robert Zimmer, American Legion, Mrs. Vance Johns, Mrs. F. B. Davison, Mrs. Paul Bateman, Mrs. Kenneth Hagan, Mrs. Fern Beeson, Mrs. Pearl Horn, Mrs. Wilbur Latimer, Mrs. Ivan Wertenberger, Mrs. John Rollings and Lawrence Castaldi.

The requirements for donors are not exceptionally rigid yet they are designed to assure no harm to the donor and yet will produce a pint of valuable blood to be used whenever needed. The ages are 18 to 59 years, inclusive. Sex and race do not disqualify a donor.

Proper medical examination is given each volunteer before donation.

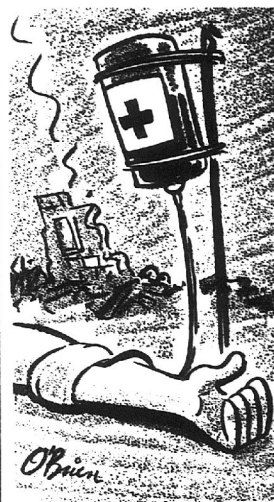

Eat and drink as usual prior to donation, which means eat a balanced meal and do not arrive hungry.

Ineligible also are pregnant women and women who have borne children within the past twelve months.

Special appointment can be made so that one need not wait when he appears at the center. These appointments can be secured at an hour that will require a minimum of an individual's time. See any of the people working on the project, or call Mrs. Joe Boggs.

Even though Mentone is a small community compared to others to which the Bloodmobile has gone, it is very possible to fill the 160-pint quota which the Red Cross unit hopes to secure. Will you help?
