Historical Society To Meet January 18

The infant Kosciusko County Historical Society will meet January 18 in the courtroom of the county courthouse to elect permanent officers. The society has gained many new members since its birth in November and members of the Warsaw Business and Professional Women's chapter, who organized the group, aid they were "amazed" at the response.

Many people have felt the organization was long overdue since all the surrounding counties have such chapters, and then new members of the group feel that Kosciusko county's rich lode of Hoosier history should be recorded and brought together.

Joe J. Ettinger of Warsaw, the father of Bill Ettinger of Mentone, is the temporary chairman of the group. Other temporary officers are Claud Stahl of Pierceton, vice president; Ralph Brubaker, Leesburg, treasurer; and Mrs. Wm. Nice, Warsaw, secretary.

Suggested guidelines for the society have been outlined by Mr. Brubaker and include the following:

1. The collection, evaluation, classification and preservation of items of historical interest relative to Kosciusko county, Indiana.
2. To insure the permanence and perpetual care of the above collection.
3. To establish dues and other sources of income to purchase, if necessary, and to preserve historical items.
4. To recognize items and written articles in present day use that will be of historical value in the future.
5. To appoint a publicity chairman who will get society information to all residents of the county—whether members of not.

6. To appoint committees to search for things of historical value in the following geographical division:

a. Kosciusko county as a whole

b. Each of the 17 townships.

c. Each town in Kosciusko county, namely (from north to south) Hepton, Gravelton, Milford Junction, Syracuse, Milford, Millwood, Hastings, Clunette, Oswego, Monoquet, Etna Green, Atwood, Warsaw, Winona Lake, Wooster, Pierceton, Mentone, Palestine, Burket, Sevastopol, Claypool, Packerton, Sidney, Kinsey, Beaver Dam, Silver Lake, etc.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Copen and daughters of Tippecanoe, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Karnes of Shelbyville and Mrs. Flossie Copen enjoyed a belated Christmas-New Year dinner Sunday at the John Copen home in Plymouth.

Approximately 40 attended the watch night at the Tippecanoe Community Church on New Year's Eve. The Ken Anderson film, "Flight Plan," was shown and refreshments, recreation and appropriate devotions and testimony were enjoyed. "Flight Plan" was also shown at the Sunday evening services.

The answer to the "hard-to-buy-for-Christmas-present" problem might be a 1966 Fishing License! It keeps giving for 12 months and costs just $3.00. See your local sporting goods store or license agent.

County Extension Service News

Donald E. Frantz
County Extension Agent

We have received some of the 1966 Farmers Tax Guides and these are available as long as they last. We expect more later. The guides are prepared jointly by the Purdue agricultural economics staff and the Internal Revenue Service and can be very handy reference material not only for tax calculation but also for tax management.

The Indiana Farm Account books are also available. The same two styles are used as in years past. The grey covered book in which entries appear in the same order as on the 1040 F and the yellow book that is best for tenant-landlord arrangements and for business analysis purposes.

Hog prices in November averaged $23.90 in Indiana and have gone up somewhat since that time. In November of 1964 the average price was $14.10 and it there is any question as to what has happened these figures should tell the story. People can not afford to produce pork at 1964 prices so many simply quit.

Farm prices on the average in Indiana in 1964 were a little over twice as high as they were 50 years ago. Costs were some over three times as high and when the margins are less, most people have to make it up on volume. As volume increased prices were squeezed still further and the purchasing power of farm products is about three-fourths as good as it was a half century ago.

We have managed to stay in business by increasing volume and efficiency but this is not an endless road. You can just go so far and maybe we have reached the place when people can simply expect to pay more for pork just the same as they expect to pay more for appliances, clothes and everything else. The reason being that farmers cannot continue to produce and sell at the levels they were getting a year ago.

For nearly twenty years now this big production has stood between consumers and inflation and has been probably the most important deterrent to inflation that we have had.

Most of the mistreatment house plants receive is simply a case of improper watering, according to Don Scheer, Purdue University extension horticulturist.

He says the most important thing to remember is to water your house plants well before they wilt. This can be a problem with some house plants, such as fleshy types, because they will "almost die standing up."

With these cases, soil can be bone dry and the plant still doesn't show signs of wilting.

The thing to do is to dig the soil surface 1/4 inch, and if it's dry at that level, add water until moisture drips out the bottom of the pot. Wait a half an hour and water again until the water drips out of the bottom again.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

Senior Troop 2 held their Christmas party at the home of Pam Abby. Those in attendance were Elsie Morrison, Ann Good, Becky Throckmorton, Yolande Baumgardner, Tina and Donna Mudd, all of Warsaw and Cindy Ellsworth and Pam Abby of Mentone.

Pam Abby attended the Girl Scout Established Camp reunion on Dec. 28, which was held at the Elkhart Valley E.U.B. Church.

Fastest way to start a new lawn in November is to use sod. Purdue University horticulturists recommend fertilization and thorough watering before you lay sod.

Our Children Make Precious Cargo

Hello, I'm Trooper Donald Sands, Indiana State Police, Ligonier District #2.

The most important vehicle traveling over our streets and highways is the school bus. It's loaded with precious cargo—our children.

If you're traveling during the morning and evening hours, be especially alert for school buses loading and unloading children. And, don't forget that a child may know the rules, but in the excitement of going to school or coming home, rules can be temporarily forgotten. That's where you and I have to step in by being extra cautious.

When a school bus driver flashes his red lights and swings out the STOP arm, be prepared to stop. You must also stop while following or approaching a school bus on a four-lane highway if the divider strip is less than 20 feet wide, unimproved for travel.

West Becomes New Deputy

Arthur S. West, 53, Warsaw, began his new duties as a Kosciusko county deputy sheriff on January 1.

He was appointed to the post recently by the county commissioners and bring the sheriff's staff of deputies to five. West has previously worked with the department and county conservation officers during the summer months.

Sheriff Howard (Sam) Holbrook also said the department will receive one unmarked and one marked car in January.

Court News . . .

A divorce suit was filed in Kosciusko circuit court by Patricia Ann Thompson, R. R. 1, Mentone, against Eddie Frank Thompson. The couple was married Aug. 19, 1961 and separated April, 1964. She asks custody of the couple's two children, ages three and one half and two.

(Epiphany)
Teach me thy way, O Lord, and lead me in a plain path. (Psalm 27:11)

Prior to studying for the ministry, I was employed by a Christian businessman. On one occasion, after I had discussed a certain proposition with him, he said, "I shall take this up with my partner and seek his guidance." Being unaware that he had a business partner, I inquired of another member of the staff. He took me to a small room adjoining my employer's office. There we found him in prayer. He was discussing my proposition with God, his business partner.

The tenth chapter of the Book of Acts records how guidance through prayer brought together the apostle Peter and the gentle centurion Cornelius, thus changing the lives of both.

Many of us muddle through life in attempting to live on our own. We take chances even in matters of vital importance. But when we realize how helpless we are in directing our lives, we will seek the guidance of God through humility and sincere prayer.

PRAYER: Our heavenly Father, we beseech Thee so to guide us this day that at its close we shall find we have become more like Jesus in all our thoughts, words, and acts. Bless us with Thine dwelling presence. Use us for Thy divine purpose, through Christ our Savior, Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY:
Guidance is always good when it is God's guidance.

Allan H. Ferry (Ontario)

Fatigue and drowsiness at the wheel are invitations to accidents, says the Chicago Motor Club. Fight fatigue in the following ways: Get plenty of rest before any trip so that you start refreshed; stop for a break every two hours, even if it's just to get out of the car and stretch your legs; and stop for the day when you begin to have difficulty concentrating on your driving.

Star-spangled way to sweeten up your future

The old American proverb says, "money isn't everything, but it sure helps."

And that goes double for the money you put in U. S. Savings Bonds. Because this money helps two ways.

First, it helps your future. Putting youngsters through college. Building homes and summer cottages. Buying cruises for you and the spouse. You dream it, Bonds can deliver it.

Second, it helps your country now, by making Uncle Sam a stronger influence in an unsettled world.

Your fellow Americans have tucked over 48 billion dollars into U. S. Savings Bonds. Why not join them? There's no safer investment anywhere in the world.

Keep freedom in your future with U. S. SAVINGS BONDS

Odds And Ends

By now most of us have broken all the New Year's resolutions we resolved not to make but did anyhow thinking this might be the year we could keep one of them. I don't have much problem making resolutions, or goals as I prefer to call them, because I have a list I made in 1959 for use in 1960 that is still as good as the day it was written. It contains good and improbable goals all wrapped into one easy sounding package - learn French, learn to play bridge, attend church every Sunday, shut up and listen, try at least one new recipe a week, make and keep a strict budget, lose weight the list goes on and on, all hinging on the very "improbable me." And because I get lazy and goof off on some of the goals and because my family can't understand French anyway, the list stays intact year after year.

I almost resolved this year to throw away the list and forget the whole mess, but it looked so promising and so hopeful I kept it around like an old friend whom you love dearly in spite of his little character flaws.

I've always looked on my resolutions, or goals if you will, as being good, good for me and in turn for my family and friends. How, however, I have found a list of resolutions, all of which are termed "bad", and if they are bad then a lot of us need to re-do our lists to include bad resolutions along with the good.

The resolutions were sent to us by Kerygma Features and include the following five "bad" resolutions:

1) At least once a month, speak critically about a national or regional policy that is generally accepted, but needs at least the winds of continued free discussion.

2) At least once a week, put your own beliefs in your back pocket for half an hour and spend that time listening sympathetically to a person who is trying to tell you something with which you may disagree.

3) Seek out the view of a local person or group that is considered "out", bad, or disreputable, and see how the view looks from that side.

4) Make something of a project of learning how average people look and think in one of the ideologically distant nations, like South Africa, North Vietnam, Southern Rhodesia, or Communist China.

5) When the national budget is published, take the figure that is being spent on national defense and the space race and compare this with the total Jan.

budget for percentage. Then see how this measures up to the space in your heart and pocket-book allotted to the needs of others.

The feature service suggests that the list could be voted the Most Unpopular in 1966 but that each person who followed them would become a better-informed, clearer thinking, and more sympathetic citizen.

And what more, when we have done with our own resolutions, could we want to attain? A better-informed, clear thinking sympathetic citizen, whether he can speak French or play bridge or not, is an asset to his community and in turn to his country and the world. We might just as well throw out some of those "good" resolutions and add a list of "bad" ones. Instead of resolving to go to church of another faith to get the view from that side. When we break our resolve, as we will, to keep a strict budget and buy a new food that looks especially good, we might try inviting an exchange student or a visiting evangelist to share the feast, whether it be made with a new recipe or old. We might learn something new from their conversation if we keep silent long enough and concentrate less on the improbable me" and on the "interesting we" of the world.

REICH IS BACK HOME

Parson Jones Speaks

Dear Mr. Publisher:

You would have enjoyed our men's meeting the other night. The program was on New Year's resolutions, which I thought was a pretty timely subject. We had one of our local lawyers, I. B. Doubletalk, to do the speaking honors. I think he was sponsored by the Timex watch people cause he came walking in with a wristwatch tied to his shoe. He pointed out during his hour-long talk that time was very precious and shouldn't be wasted. He certainly got the point across. I'm sure it will have eternal significance.

Following his speech the men folks got into a discussion over New Year's resolutions. Ben Longsnot commenced by saying that he wasn't gonna make any cause they only turned out to be lies. He swore he couldn't think of a single resolution he had lived up to in the last 20 years. Last year for instance he said he was gonna give up smoking but he wound up chewing tobacco to boot. Brother Brightside allowed as how he disagreed with Longsnot's philosophy. He said it was better to shoot at something and miss than to not shoot at all. Last year he shot at coming to church every Sunday without a miss. He had 20 hits and 32 misses, which didn't exactly make him a sharp shooter. Longsnot claimed that shooting and missing only noise and wasted ammunition.

The argument got so violent that I suggested we table it till next year. The president of our group agreed and it was referred to a committee for further study. So, we won't know until next year whether New Year's resolutions are right or wrong.

The group was then asked how many was gonna make resolutions for the year ahead. Tom Tightwad said he was gonna try awful hard to save more money next year. I don't hardly see how he can save anymore. His wife makes hers and the younguns clothes out of flour sacks already. And, on top of that he gets his household items from government surplus. You oughta see his wife in a pair of them army brogans. She looks like she's dropped anchor. Tom shore can't cut down on what he's giving to the church, cause he's been free-loading on the Lord ever since I knew him. If I had many members like him I think our church could qualify under the governments anti-poverty program. He sleeps with his money in his pillow. I reckon he figures that them chicken feathers, mixed with his money, and the heat from his body might hatch the chicken that lays the golden egg.

Our beloved president gave his testimony to close the meeting. He allowed on how the Men's Group was gonna try extra hard during the New Year to have interesting programs. He said he had already lined up the next meeting with a film on shark fishing off the Coast of Africa. The men were all invited to bring their fishing rods to the next meeting so that it wouldn't just be all talk. As you can see our men are really moving ahead for our Lord.

I must close and pray.

Yours truly,
Parson Jones

Early Flowers Indoors

Lafayette, Ind. Cut a few branches from shrubs in January and bring them in the house for a preview of spring beauty.

You can force flowering from such shrubs as forsythia and flowering almond by simply bringing them into a warm room. Pussy willow branches will open for beauty indoors. Tenders green leaves of privet will also provide spring beauty in January.

Don Scheer, Purdue University extension horticulturist, says six to 18-inch branches are best. After you bring them indoors, split the lower inch or two of the branch with a knife or crush it with a hammer.

Then, completely immerse the branches in water and soak them overnight.

The next day, place the branches in containers so their bases are in a couple of inches of water. The buds on flowering branches will begin to get plump in about a week.

The final step, Scheer says, is to arrange the branches as you would a floral display.

By Mary Whitman

The setting is Baker Street. A red-headed visitor is present. "Beyond the obvious facts that he has at some time done manual labor, that he takes snuff, that he has been in China, and that he has done a considerable amount of writing lately, I can deduce nothing else."

"Mr. Jabez Wilson started up in his chair. . . . "How, in the name of good fortune, did you know all that Mr. Holmes?"

Immortal words like these have brought generations of boys bolt upright in their chairs, awed by the powers of famed sleuth Sherlock Holmes.

It is good news for Baker Street buffs everywhere that a new dollar hard-cover edition of The Adventures of Sherlock Holmes is now available, one of a set of sixteen classics re-illustrated and re-issued by Whitman Publishing Company of Racine, Wis. The new edition contains eight full length stories.

Any adult can give a boy a copy of this book secure in the knowledge that it will fascinate him, heighten his powers of observation, and lead him happily along the paths of better literature and possibly better law enforcement.

Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, who created Sherlock Holmes, set his stamp so firmly on the detective story that he remains acknowledged master of the form. During his lifetime, 1859 to 1930, the murky arts of detection and criminology took great strides forward, due largely to the methods suggested.

It is standard procedure today to analyze soil and measure footprints. But it was enough to raise the hair on a wrongdoer's head when Holmes stalked an empty moor, examined the ground and described the culprit: "Is a tall man, left-handed, limps with the right leg, wears thick soled shooting-boots and a gray cloak, smokes Indian cigars, uses a cigar-holder, and carries a blunt penknife in his pocket. There are several other indications, but these may be enough to aid us in our search."

That is writing that will last as long as there are boys.

GRASSROOTS OPINION

CLAY, W.VA., MESSENGER:

"...it does seem that the quickest way to solve local problems, to create homes of dignity and neighborhoods of pride, would be to give the cities tax sources now pre-empted by the federal government and let them solve their own problems ... because it is sometimes difficult to obtain the necessary finances locally for community betterment, the temptation to run down to Washington for the funds seems to be the easy way out, even though the community many times loses control of civic projects in the process. The fallacy of permitting more and more control of government to be centralized in Washington will become clearer in the days ahead."

WEST BEND, WISC., NEWS:

"A recent survey reveals that America's teen-agers spend fourteen billion dollars a year... marry at the rate of a million per year... own one fifth of the nation's automobiles and... purchase $500 million worth of cosmetics each year... The day of the 25-cent allowance is gone forever, and a new affluent society of young people in a reality. Controlling their behavior and teaching them good manners and responsibility is the challenge facing this country—if our way of life is to be vindicated."

Avoid Rear End Collisions

Hello, I'm Trooper Gerald Waikel, Indiana State Police, Ligonier District #2.

Rear end collisions are caused by drivers who follow traffic ahead too closely. It is one of Indiana's leading accident causes.

In an analysis of all accidents some involve contributing circumstances. Perhaps it is highway engineering or mechanical condition of the vehicle or other factors. In the majority of rear end collisions, however, plain driver carelessness stands out.

The driver ahead may stop suddenly without warning and the driver following smashes into him. These accidents could be avoided if the driver behind had not followed so closely. He might have been looking away from the road at something off to the side. He might have simply been daydreaming.

A myth has been building up over the years that says certain traffic conditions today often forces vehicles to follow closely. That is true as far as it goes. But many drivers use this as an alibi to say that they were unable to maintain proper following distances and thus were unable to avoid striking the car ahead in heavy traffic. This is false. No matter how heavy traffic is, you can avoid rear end smashes by paying attention to what the driver up front is doing.

Read James 1:16-25

Quicken me, O Lord, according to thy word. (Psalm 119:107)

In the entry for October 11, 1775, in his Journal, Francis Asbury wrote of the Bible: "Other books have too great a tendency to draw us from this, the best of books: I therefore intend to read more in this, and less in good resolution for all Christians."

Through holy scripture, God reveals Himself to man. Herein we find the story of how God has dealt with man. He is active in human history; nothing is outside His concern. He reveals Himself supremely as love in Jesus Christ. He gives the church special responsibilities and power with which to discharge its duties.

God also reveals the depths of our lives in the Bible. In the mirror of scripture, we see ourselves as we really are. Every character and every encounter in the Bible can help us understand ourselves. The Bible is God's word to you and me.

Soren Kierkegaard says it is "a letter with my name on it."

PRAYER: O God, who hast given us the Bible as a place to meet Thee, grant that, through the inspiration of the Holy Spirit, we may be grasped by its message. Sharpen our minds, cleanse our hearts, and bless the work of our hands. In the name of Jesus Christ, the word made flesh. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY:

In the Bible, God confronts me with the truth about my life.

Michael Daves (Texas)

"THOSE TIMES" SEVENTH DAY ADVENTIST

We Quote....

Leighton Ford, "Decision":

"Someone told a reformed alcoholic, 'I see you have the mastery of the devil at last!'

Not came the quiet answer, 'but I did have the Master of the devil!'

"A Kansas Methodist": "Philosophy is what you think about life. Religion is what you do about it."

Bernard Edinger, "Moody Monthly": "One of America's basic troubles is revealed in the fact that many parents are willing to take their children to the circus but send them to Sunday school."

Elbert Hubbard: "He is great who feeds the minds of others. He is great who inspires others to think for themselves. He is great who pulls you out of your mental ruts, lifts you out of the mire of the commonplace, whom you alternately love and hate, but whom you cannot forget."

Canon Bryan Green, "Be Positive," "Woman," London: "Self-indulgence of any kind greatly weakens the character both in individuals and to nations. Most of us have no taste for the ideas of government; but we could learn a great deal from the self-discipline Communists seek to impose upon themselves in order to achieve what they conceive to be a worthwhile overriding purpose."

Beth Day, "Jot It Down," "Guideposts": "Thoughts are highly elusive: let one escape and you may never recapture it, so many are the variables involved in producing it. People whose fleeting thoughts are their stock-in-trade-inventors, philosophers, composers, poets and the like-carry notebooks with them at all times. Thoughts are as slippery as water, and apt to slip up on you at inopportune moments."

Charles Kingsley: "Thank God every morning when you get up that you have something to do that day which must be done, whether you like it or not. Being forced to work, and forced to do your best, will breed in you temperance and self-control, diligence and strength of will, cheerfulness and content, and a hundred virtues which the idle never know."

James B. Conant, "The Education of American Teachers":

"The well-educated man or woman of the future must be primarily a self-educated person. And self-education requires years and years of reading, and desire to learn."

O. Alton Linger, "The Age of Anxiety," "Gait": "The late Bishop William A. Quayle used to tell of an experience during a sleepless night. After rolling and tossing far into the night, he said that he seemed to hear God's voice telling him to go on to sleep and let God run the world the rest of the night."

Eric Butterworth, "Good Business": "Al Capp, creator of 'L'il Abner' lost his leg in a streetcar accident and was forced to curtail many physical activities. He began drawing cartoons and went on to become one of the most successful cartoonists of our time. He probably never would have achieved his success if it had not been for the accident and the handicap."

Chalmers Roberts, "Newsweek": "The trouble with daily journalism is that you get so involved with 'Who hit John?' that you never really know why John had his chin out in the first place."

Swine flu and pneumonia can become a problem in late fall and early winter, especially during periods of changeable weather. Purdue University extension veterinarians recommend providing warm, dry sleeping quarters for hogs to help prevent these respiratory troubles.

Parson Jones Speaks

Dear Mr. Publisher:

I am a member of the First Baptist Church in Indianapolis. Some give me a pass, of the kind, and others don't seem to have a right to spare. I seem to be battling one in a red, purple, or -50% of the way. But, I am me, which is pretty good. They tell me in the Seminary that my job was to combat the disturbed and disturb the comfortable.

One fellow thought I was degading the Bible, Christ and Christians. To tell the truth, I never did think any one of these needed defending if they was the genuine article. They're like a lion - just let 'em loose and they'll defend themselves. You see, I believe anything God made is that strong. Ain't nobody likely to vote either one of 'em outa office.

When you go to poking fun at counterfeit religion, then its another matter. According to the Good Book the folks Jesus lambasted the most was religious people. He allowed that if people weren't no better than the Scribes and the Pharisees they shore wouldn't make it to heaven. It made 'em hotter than a pistol and they killed him.

Mr. Publisher, from what I can see the religious situation ain't much better today than it was back then. Fact is, I been predicting for a long time that unless something drastic happens the United States is gonna wind up on the trash heap.

Some body else wrote and told me they didn't appreciate my unkind remarks about preachers. The only thing I can say is what the shoe clerk said: "If the shoe fits, wear it." It ain't no wonder that we got so many ministers going to the bug house, the way members expect 'em to be little gods while they wallow in hell-raising and indifference. Lotsa church members I know are trying to ride to heaven on their preachers' coattail, and if a clergyman can save you then we don't need Jesus. I ain't met but one genuine good person in my life and that was Jesus Christ!

Another thing, Mr. Publisher, that kinda riles me is that the only way you can get church members to speak up for the Lord is to make 'em mad. Jesus once said, "You shall be my witness," but most church members would a hole lot rather talk about fishing or politics. If I don't do nothing else except get people up to get off their hands and stand up for the Lord I reckon I've done my job. There is no bright spot in this whole thing though. A few years ago they would a named me at stake for some of the things I say. The first fellow that translated the Bible would be being barbecued by church members. When they come out with the Revised Edition of the Bible some time ago, a couple preachers burned a stack of 'em. At least they're burning print now instead of the printer. That's a real consolation.

Well, I gotta close. Just tell everybody the ole Parson will take his chances with the Good Lord on Judgement Day.

Yours truly,
Parson Jones

Odds And Ends

Debutantes and socialites could never equal the drama of the two "coming outs" we had this week. For sheer drama and suspense they couldn't be beat.

Doug staged the first "coming out". He'd been working on it for months but with little success. I don't know if he wanted a different bed or if he just wanted to see what he could do with his old one but he rocked that crib all over his room until it was so loose it wobbled when you breathed on it. Still, it held together after a fashion and it was one of those things that needed to be done but never got done. Until Sunday morning. Early. We had stayed up late watching the late movie and reading and then slept like logs until 4 a.m. when I was awakened by a shriek and a scream.

Doug had made it and there he lay, all 32 pounds of him in complete fury. His mattress sagged to the floor on three sides; the bed no longer had a drop side, it having dropped off completely; an done end leaned against the wall. His father, with nerves of steel, slept through the storm while I decided whether to cry, laugh, or have a breakdown. Instead I changed his pants and struck him in Todd's big bed which is still empty and went back to bed where I lay, wide-eyed, listening for him to fall out of bed or try to go downstairs. For a time I composed humorous little ditties in my mind about the whole thing but the fact of that there wasn't another funny thought in my mind. I lay with the notion of making Loren get up and fix the crib right then and there but he was tired, I knew, and I chickened out and finally went to sleep just as the dawn's early light hit me in the eye and prompted Doug to want to get up and run around again.

The crib was finally repaired late Sunday night and the family again slumbered, this time safely and quietly, and then woke and stuffed Todd and his bulky leg into a pair of his dad's pants and took him to So. Bend where the biggest and happiest coming out of all too place. The cast was cut off with the little power saw which scared him for about two minutes. Then out popped one very ugly, hairy leg. That is the hairiest leg I ever saw on a seven year old boy. Casts must contain a lot of fertilizer.

So they both have it made. Doug knows he can wreck his bed if he puts his mind to it and Todd has the relief of finally having the big cast off. And the work is cut out for both of them. Doug must try to wreck the bed again and Todd must learn to walk again. The challenge is stimulating and they have both accepted and it's now only a matter of time until we have another series of coming out. We wonder who will be first.

Good Or Bad, The 'Great Society' Is No Bargain

For those who like it, the Great Society may be worth a penny it is costing. For those who oppose it, any price is too high. The trouble is that both sides of the argument usually have no idea just what the job will come to. The facts are interesting, no matter how you look at it.

This year's administrative budget—and this is considerably smaller than the sum total of the Treasury's total expenditures—was announced at under $100 billion by President Johnson. However, the best estimates as of now are that by the end of the fiscal year, on July 1, 1966, the Administration will have gone at least $10 billion over what was budgeted. This will give the Treasury one of the biggest peacetime deficits in history.

Only part of this can be dumped in the Great Society's lap. After all, close to $50 billion will go for defense alone—and there are such expenditures as foreign aid, a solid $3.3 billion, and other programs begun by previous Administrations.

Great Society programs, for which the American taxpayer will go to the Appalachia relief project, $7 billion for a Federal aid-to-education step-up, and a conservatively estimated $5 billion for the poverty war. A $20 billion measure, for various Federal subsidies, sits on President Johnson's desk, awaiting his signature. The International Monetary Fund is scheduled to get $1 billion, and Social Security will cost the Treasury $33 billion more than it did before this year.

This is one reason why the Administration is talking of increasing taxes. The Great Society may be great—but it's expensive, and to all of us.

ALTOONA, PA., MIRROR: "The U.S. Supreme Court order to all 50 states of the union to redistrict prior to the 1966 elections has caused consternation, to the extent of having the states curb the court by enactment of an amendment calling for a constitutional convention. Such a convention could be called only of two thirds of the 50 states would sign a petition. Such a convention could be called only if two thirds of the 50 states would sign a petition. However, 18 states have disapproved this plan so it can't be achieved. Still the 'one-an-one-vote' plan of the court is in effect."

Farm Science Days will be held at Tipton, Ind. on January 17-22. The program includes a daily a.m. meeting of livestock and range associations as well as educational and recreational programs.

Copies of the final program of events are available at the County Extension Office.

A few of the major events include the Agricultural Pesticide Conference on January 17 and 18. The Indiana Farm Management Association meeting on January 17 and 18. The Indiana Farm Management Association meeting on January 19 and the Poultry Servicemen's Clinic on January 20. Also on the 20th will be the Agricultural Engineering Conference, devoted largely to narrow row crops.

Alumni of the school of agriculture are invited to attend the Fish Fly on Friday, January 21. Tickets are available at the County Extension Office.

State Rural Youth Day will conclude the week long event on Saturday, January 22.

Reports show that farmers intended to narrow about eight percent more sows in the spring of 1966 than they did in the spring of 1965. Most of the increase is expected in the March to May period. This indicates a lower price certainly than now but the wild reaction that is predicted.

An increase of eight percent would probably result in a price about 15 to 20 percent lower and if we do not get a sudden and large increase in hog killings, we can still have profitable prices in the year ahead.

Indiana has become an important producer of beef feeder cattle and feeder pigs. As specialization continues we will probably not import feeder livestock from as far distances as we once did.

There were 27 cattle and 65 feeder pig auctions held by the Southern Indiana Feeder Co-operatives this past year. The livestock sold grossed over four million dollars. The first year of these sales grossed about 30 thousand dollars but the volume and quality have increased each year.

At the same time the cooperative sales have grown, there has also been a good gain in individual sales, especially of feeder pigs. This has permitted larger concentrations of feeder stock of higher quality.

COOKIE SALES BEGIN JANUARY 14. Junior and Cadet Girl Scouts in the Mentone area will be selling cookies from Jan. 14-24. Orders will be taken during this time. Delivery of the cookies and collection of money will be Feb. 18-28.

School Board Hires Remedial Teachers, Changes Kindergarten Enrollment Age

Monday night action by members of the board of the Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation included the hiring of two remedial teachers for the corporation. Hired were Mrs. Barbara McKinney at Akron and Mrs. Jean Swick for Beaver Dam, Tolma, Mentone, and Burket. Mrs. McKinney will teach two days per week and Mrs. Swick will divide her time between the other four schools. Both will conduct reading and mathematics remedial programs for elementary school children.

Other board action included changing the age requirement for enrolling kindergarten students. Beginning this year, all kindergarten students must be 5 years of age on or before August 1 to be enrolled. The date had previously been set at October 1. Several of the surrounding school corporations have also changed their requirements to August.

An audience composed of John Bradway and Desmond Jackson was present from the Atwood area, again asking the board to grant that area a five or ten year contract transferring their children to the Warsaw schools. The board took no action on this matter pending discussion by the delegation with the Warsaw school board in regard to transportation. Robert Forbes, superintendent of the Tippecanoe Valley schools, told the two men that although a transfer contract could be drawn up that no contract for transportation could be negotiated as this was contrary to the existing laws.

A financial report was given by the school superintendent in which he stated the school system was on the soundest financial footing since its inception.

The hiring of teacher aids for each of the schools and a clerk for the Beaver Dam school came under discussion but no contracts were approved. Under a 100% government reimbursed project the schools will inaugurate a teacher aid program whereby additional outside employees will be hired to assist the teachers in any needed activity including showing classroom movies and such other activities with which the teachers might need assistance.

The purchase of new desks and additional school busses was also discussed but no action was taken. The teachers of the corporation have requested new desks, pointing out that the students have received new desks while the instructors have not. The board granted permission and expense money to Gaylord

Meetings of Farm Interest Are Set

There are several events on the schedule for the next few weeks that will be of interest. One is a county meeting on swine diseases to be held January 26 at the Fairgrounds in Warsaw.

No one knows what the cost of sickness is to hog raisers but if we should lose as little as five percent in feed efficiency or as much as one pig per litter in death loss, the cost would be in the hundred thousand dollar range. We hope to have a thorough discussion of the disease problems with Dr. Stanley Bower of the Purdue Veterinary school in charge of the discussion.

Veterinarians and sheep inspectors of northern Indiana who have worked on the scabies eradication program will meet January 31 at the Steer Inn. This state is now practically free from this sheep disease and it looks as if the job can be completed in a few more months.

Kosciusko County will be host to the Indiana Guernsey Breeders Association on January 29. They will meet at the Shrine Building at the Fairgrounds.

An area market barrow show will be held on the dates January 29 and February 5. The on-foot classes will be judged at the Producers Stockyards at Briggs on the 29th and the carcass evaluation will be done at the Elkhart Packing Co.

Cattle feeders and breeders will meet February 1 for a dinner meeting with Lowell Wilson, secretary of the Indiana Cattleman's Association as speaker. Everett Tom, Jr. is chairman of the county cattle producers group and will preside. Reservations may be made at the county extension office.

The annual meeting of the Kosciusko County Soil and Water Conservation district will be held February 2. Kenneth Grant state director for the soil conservation service will be the speaker. Tickets are available from any of the supervisors of the district or from the county extension office of the soil conservation office.

Dairy record keepers of the county and members of the county Dairy Association will meet February 8 for the annual meeting of the association and Gregory of Purdue, state supervisor of D.H.I.A. records will speak. Myron Metzger of Jackson township association chairman, will preside.

A county wide Crops Improvement meeting is scheduled for February 23 with a review of new varieties, fertility practices, weed and insect control and other cultural practices. This will be held at the Fairgrounds. Five acre corn awards will be made at this time.

A series of three meetings on Farm Finance will be held February 23, March 2 and 9. This will be an economic review of what returns can be expected from certain farm expenditures. The location will be announced later.

Home Demonstration club women will sponsor several winter meetings. One will be a symposium on Teen-age Health on February 18 conducted by personnel from the state board of health and others.

They will have a leaders training lesson on Family Disaster Preparedness on March 17 that will include local and state civil defense representatives. Programs on Home Insect Control and on Garden Roses are set for April 24 and 21.

Poultry Raising Goes To Africa

Successful poultry raising and egg production, long practiced in this, the Egg Basket of the Midwest, are being introduced to the people of West Africa by Hap Reeves shown here with a native. Reeves and his wife have started a model chicken farm in Africa and are teaching the natives the techniques. The group is unsuitable for tillage but chickens can be successfully raised and food for them is obtained by grinding local plants.

Today's MEDITATION Approaching Intersections Heedlessly Is Like Playing Russian Roulette

The Upper Room

© THE UPPER ROOM, NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE

Read Isaiah 60:1-4, Acts 4:1-13

Arise, shine; for thy light is come, and the glory of the Lord is risen upon thee. (Isiah 60:1)

A challenge has come to the Christian church from the resurgent religious in the world.

As Christians, it is our conviction that Christ is the author of peace and that Christianity is a religion of peace. The Christian church is God's agency to bring peace into the world.

In this age of atom bombs, an age when we are threatened with war and total destruction of mankind, the church needs to exert its power for peace. The church is the body of Christ, and He is the author of peace.

What is the Christian church doing today? It is sleeping, fading into darkness? In Isaiah we hear a trumpet call: "Arise, shine." This is a great time for the church to heed this call for revival, for resurgence of faith vital for all mankind's highest and best interests.

PRAYER: O Lord, let Thy light shine and Thy glory come into Thy church. May it awaken from its lethargy, and from the enveloping darkness come into

Thy light. Grant us Thy grace and power that we may be able to make Thy church the source of peace in the world of war and strife. In the name of Jesus, who taught us to pray, "Our Father who art in heaven...Amen."

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY:

The awakened church can shine through strife and gloom to bring lasting peace.

Monday morning Rev. Howard wing left for Turkey Run State Park to attend the annual Indiana GARB Pastor's Retreat, returning Tuesday evening.

Hello, I'm Trooper John Hamersley, Indiana State Police.

Ligonier District #2.

Approaching intersections,

do you automatically slow down regardless of whether or not you have the right of way? If not then you've become the victim of a deadly driving habit.

Approaching intersections

needlessly is just like playing

Russian Roulette. You may get through several "empty" ones, but sooner or later a "loaded"

one will come up and you'll be dead.

You say you have the right of way? So what? How much does that console you during your stay in the hospital or how important is that to your next of kin? Your primary responsibility for the privilege of driving on Indiana's streets and highways is to drive safely and avoid accidents.

The fact is that many accidents could be avoided if BOTH drivers were paying attention - not just the driver who violated the law.

The next time you get behind the wheel be ready to make allowances for the other guy who's not driving as carefully as yourself. If you'll do that the other guy will still have an accident someplace - but it won't be with you!

Mrs. Smith Entertains Anthony Nigo Chapter

The Anthony Nigo Chapter, DAR held its January 11 meeting at the home of Mrs. Max Smith. The ritual opening was conducted by the regent. The secretary's report was read and approved. Roll call was answered by the 17 members present.

Mrs. Max Smith read the message from the President General, Mrs. William Henry Sullivan, Jr. She emphasized the beginning of a fresh page in history with many pausing to reflect upon past experiences... realizing that the page they write will be mostly of their own making. With changes taking place rapidly we must ponder what this new year will hold for us as individuals and as a Nation.

As members of a national patriotic organization, we must concern ourselves with the welfare of our Nation. According to our objectives we have an obligation to do all we can to preserve this Republic and its constitutional form of government. This Nation will endure only if each citizen assumes his individual responsibility and work increasingly to promote those principles which made America a great and free Nation.

As Daughters, we are reminded, we must take time to preserve and pass on our heritage of freedom to future generations. We must remember that "Patriotism is everybody's job."

The National Defense chairman, Mrs. Pearl Lackey reported that besides the Red Youth Camp at Monterey they held previous schooling at New York and New Jersey. From this nearby Fulton County farm these youths were sent to strategic colleges throughout the country.

Also she read a report taken from the January National Defender. It referred to the warnings given by General Curtis E. LeMay, that there is a real danger that Red China will intensify its backing of North Viet Nam's aggression to prolong the war, increase our losses and thereby weaken our will.

The retired Air Force Chief of Staff believes the solution is to hit harder with air power. He was quoted as saying "Our security from and in space will become equally important, if not more so, than our security on land, sea, and air as we now know it... happen to believe we can get the message across better by the use of air power than by the use of ground forces. His basis for that belief is that air power can more rapidly deprive them of essential military facilities and resources, and it can do so at minimum costs in life and equipment."

An article published in the Human Events, a weekly Washington Report, entitled "A Tired American Speaks Out" was read by Mrs. Frank Smith.

Quote, "I am a tired American. I'm tired of being called the ugly American. I'm tired of having the world panhandlers use my country as a whipping boy 365 days a year. I'm a tired American—weary of having American embassies and information centers stoned, burned and soaked by mobs operating under orders from dictators who preach peace and breed conflict."

"I'm a tired American—weary of being lectured by Gen. de Gaulle (who never won a battle) who poses as a second Jehovah in righteousness and wisdom. I am a tired American—weary of Nasser and all the other bloodsucking leeches who bleed Uncle Sam white and who kick him on the shins and yank his beard if the flow falters."

"I am a tired American—weary of the beatniks who say they should have the right to determine what laws of the land they are willing to obey. I am a tired American—fed up with the mobs of scabby faced, long-haired girls who claim they represent the "new wave" of America and who sneer at the old-fashioned virtues of honesty, integrity, and morality on which America grew to greatness."

"I am a tired American—weary unto death of having my tax dollars go to dictators who play both sides against the middle with threats of what will happen if we cut the golden stream of dollars. ---who is tired of supporting families who haven't know any other source of income other than government relief checks for three generations."

"I am a tired American—real tired of those who are trying to sell me the belief that America is not the greatest nation in all the world—a generous hearted nation—a nation dedicated to the policy of trying to help the "have nots" achieve some of the good things that our system of free enterprise brought about."

"I am an American who gets a lump in his throat when he hears the Star Spangled Banner and who holds back tears when he hears those chilling high notes of the brassy trumpets when Old Glory reaches the top of the flagpole."

"I am a tired American who thanks a merciful Lord that he was so lucky to be born an American citizen—a nation under God, with truly mercy and justice for all."

Mrs. Earl Davis gave a report on conservation entitled, "Blue Skies—Clear Water". Air pollution is not a new problem. Industry certainly contributes its share to this problem but others must share the blame. Each time we get in the car and start the motor, burn leaves, barbecue on the outdoor grill, or even turn on the heating systems in our homes, we may do something to the good clean air. When these everyday occurrences are multiplied by thousands of homes in thousands of communities across the nation, they have a definite effect on the fresh air supply that most of us take for granted.

She emphasized that this is a local community problem. Whatever the cause each of us is responsible and it is up to each of us to improve the situation.

One example cited happened around noon in December 1963 when a New York City Department of Sanitation tugboat approached what seemed to be fog. Upon entering the cloud they found their eyes beginning to water, followed by extreme coughing and vomiting. This so called fog turned out to be sulphuric acid mist coming from a nearby New Jersey chemical plant.

Remembering the old adage: "Water, water everywhere but not a drop to drink.", Mrs. Davis also explained the considerable pollution of our waters. This is a lifeblood that civilization cannot survive without. We Americans take water for granted. In some foreign countries you (re)warned to be careful of the water.)

The basic water need of an average person is about 20 gallon per day, yet on an average we use up to 150 gallons daily.

Obviously, as populations continue to climb, increased demands upon the water resources throughout our nation will follow. There will be a need for more homes, more food, more water for municipal and industrial purposes, more jobs... more of everything that modern civilization required and demands. Water is not only one of the basic elements of life it is also one of the principal ingredients in manufacturing processes, which provide many of the good things of life. But, the thing we will need the most of is local cooperation in working together for adequate protection of our clear waters.

Delicious refreshments were then served by the co-hostesses, Mrs. Everett Rathfon and Miss Jane Tucker. The next meeting will be February 8 at Mrs. Fred Koenig, Etna Green. The members are reminded to bring a favorite heirloom and tell the story behind their item.

Sheryl Olson And Larry Fox Wed

In a candlelight ceremony, Miss Sheryl Joan Olson became the bride of Larry W. Fox recently at the Baptist Church in Mentone. Rev. Irwin L. Olson, father of the bride and former pastor of the church, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Irmin Olson of Indianapolis and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Fox of Naples, New York.

White chrysanthemums accented with red carnations, and seven branch candelabra decorated the platform. The aisle decorations were large red bows with a spray of pine.

The organist was Mrs. Brad Moore and the vocalist was Miss Yvonne Rathfon. She sang "My Love for Thee," "Because," and "Abide With Them."

Mrs. Ronald McDugle of Winona Lake was the matron of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Janet Besson of Mentone, and Miss Linda Olson of Indianapolis.

The bride's attendants wore floor length gowns which had cranberry red velvet bodices and white silk brocade skirts. Their headpieces were red velvet bows with net veils. They carried a single long stemmed white mum accented with a red velvet bow.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Steve, wore a gown of imported peau d'ange lace and pure silk organza over crystal white taffeta. The fitted lace bodice was fashioned with a scalloped oval neckline. The organza skirt, appliqued with lace motifs, swept into a chapel length train. She carried a bouquet of white mums, red carnations, and white pom-poms.

Roy Gerould of Victor, New York was the best man. The groom's other attendants were Ronald McDugle of Winona Lake and David Vandergrout.

PLAN NOW TO DONATE BLOOD HERE MONDAY, FEBRUARY

Marlene Brallier Is Top MHS Homemaker

Mentone's 1966 Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow is Marlene Brallier. She scored highest in a written knowledge and attitude examination taken by senior girls Dec. 7, 1965, and is now eligible for state and national scholarship awards. Marlene has already earned a special award pin from the program's sponsor, General Mills.

Test papers of all school winners in the state are being judged, and a State Homemaker of Tomorrow and runner-up will be selected soon. The State Homemaker of Tomorrow will receive a $1,500 college scholarship, and her school will be awarded a complete set of the Encyclopedia Britannica by Encyclopedia Britannica, Inc. The second-ranking girl in the state will receive a $500 educational grant.

TVSC Gets $34,900 Govt. Grant

The Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation has been granted $34,271.00 by the Federal Government under provisions of Public Law 89-10 and involves no local additional tax money. This amount is to be spent by August 31, 1966. The project budget allots:

Administration	1,000.00
Instruction	15,581.00
Health Service	3,980.00
Pupil Transportation	1,200.00
Plant Operation	1,500.00
Food Services	500.00
Community Services	500.00
Initial or Additional Equipment	10,000.00

The instructional budget will provide for remedial work in all the elementary and Junior High Schools, a teachers aide for all schools, remedial materials, in-service training, and a summer school remedial program. The use of teacher aides to do part of the non-teaching routine tasks of teachers will allow teachers more time to spend aiding students in academic growth. The additional personnel will begin their duties on January 31st.

A School Nurse has been hired and assumed her duties on January 24th. The improvement of health services will indirectly aid academic progress.

A summer school remedial program is being formulated based on needs and demands.

Audio equipment has been purchased, including projectors, screens and recorders.

This equipment is to further implement the audio-visual program. The Federal program recognizes the importance of the audio-visual program in the instructional process.

The other allotments are to be used to aid in the practical workability of the program.

Public Law 89-10 is a three year program which has to be funded by Congress each year. Next years program cannot be planned until instructions and fund allotments are decided by the U. S. Office of Education.

FIRE DAMAGES COOPER HOME

Mentone and Rochester firemen were called to the Virgil Cooper farm home west of Talma Monday afternoon where a fire gutted the second story of the residence.

Firemen fought the blaze for two hours before bringing it under control. The lower floor of the house sustained smoke and water damage. A family spokesman said the loss was partially covered by insurance.

It is thought defective wiring was the cause of the fire which was discovered by Mr. Cooper who was at home with the three Cooper children.

The Coopers are presently staying with relatives although most of the furniture and personal belongings of the family were saved.

AT GREENFIELD VILLAGE

"Sports Cars in Review"

DEARBORN, MICH.—Automobiles powered by airplane engines have been on the road for many years, as evidenced by this 1921 Benz-Mercedes on exhibit in the fourteenth annual "Sports Cars in Review" at Greenfield Village. Built to race, this powerful machine won the speed trials at Fanoie Beach, Denmark, in 1923. Affectionately called "Rabbit-the first" by its owners Peter Helck and Charles Lytle, this is one of nearly sixty vintage and new models in the 1963 show based around the theme "Les Pur Sang" or the pure bloods.

The Henry Ford Museum's colorful and popular Sports

Early American Shops backgrounds this transportation exhibit. Visitors are able to trace much of the history and development of high performance and competition cars representing seven nations in the show. The racing film, "A Revolution at Indy," is shown several times daily in the Museum theater. The Sports Cars in Review exhibit continues through Feb. 6, and is included in the regular admission charge to the Henry Ford Museum. Special hours during the show are 9 a.m. until 11 p.m. daily. Greenfield Village is conveniently located just a few minutes' driving time from Detroit.

O.E.S. Honors Masons

The O.E.S. of Mentone honored the Masons and their wives by having a Pot-luck supper in the basement of the Methodist Church, January 17. The tables were cleverly decorated holding to the theme of the evening "Gone Fishing." The centerpiece was made with a lighthouse in the center of a large mirror representing the ocean with little fishing boats around it and surrounded with a sandy beach poles with a fish hanging on. The favors were tiny fishing poles with a fish hanging on the line. Each fish had a quip pertaining to fishing that was read by each mason. The trout cups were real shells that were gathered by Rev. and Mrs. Glenn Campton from the shores of the Atlantic Ocean in Florida while on their vacation.

The entertainment for the evening was presented by Mrs. Richard Mayhugh, chairman of the Tuesday Dramatic Club of Warsaw. They put on a most unusual Fashion Show. The Narrator was Mrs. Wallace Stouder, Pianist was Mrs. Ford Hardman. The models were Mrs. Ronald Streby, Mrs. Richard Mayhugh, Mrs. Frank Swick, Mrs. Richard Shigley, Mrs. Kenneth Seymore, Mrs. Norman Coffman. A reading "Braning the Dentist" was given by Mrs. Ronald Streby, a very humorous skit enjoyed by everyone. There was approximately 30 guests and O.E.S. members present.

The next meeting of the O.E.S. will be the regular stated meeting on February 21 at 7:45. All members are urged to attend. There will be an election of officers. All ritual books are to be turned in at this time to the Worthy Matron.

Read 1 Corinthians 9:16-23
Restore to me the joy of thy salvation, and uphold me with a willing spirit. Then I will teach transgressors thy ways, and sinners will return to thee. (Psalm 51:12-13, RV)

Catherine Milward was the daughter of a rich English gentleman. Their household maid found a spiritual experience in a religious meeting held in a barn. She was so changed that Catherine asked questions. The humble maid witnessed to her faith in Christ and brought her mistress into contact with the minister, John Mumford.

He helped Catherine to a spiritual experience which led her physical as well as spiritual healing. She married John Mumford. They were the parents of Catherine Mumford, who became the wife of William Booth, founder of the Salvation Army.

So a humble servingmaid, whose religion showed in her life, and who was not afraid to witness for Christ, proved to be an effective missionary for Him. Any Christian whose religion shows in his life and who takes advantage of opportunities to witness can win others, often setting in motion a chain of events that will work wonders for God.

PRAYER: Help us, O Lord, to witness for Christ by our daily life and by the words we speak. Give us the insight to know when to speak and the courage to speak. In Jesus' name. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY:
We can be missionaries anywhere we are by living for Christ and witnessing to Him.

Rev. Alfred Colwell Dies

Word was received that Rev. Alfred Colwell, 55, who spoke in several meetings in October at the Baptist Church died last Friday.

Rev. Colwell was the Eastern Representative of the G.A.R.B. and had been conducting speaking engagements along the coast of California when he became stricken with flu. He was flown to Pennsylvania Tuesday to a hospital near his church at Worthington. A reversal of the leukemia trouble he had experienced last year set in and he died at 1:00 P.M. Friday.

Although a native of Pennsylvania, he had for 14 years pastored the Calvary Baptist Church in Highland, Indiana. For five years after that he was the first Indiana State Representative of the General Association of Regular Baptists, now held by former pastor of Mentone, Rev. Irwin Olson.

He was the leader of founding and building the Crystal Lake Baptist Youth Camp near here and was its first director.

His funeral was at the Worthington Baptist Church. Rev. Robert T. Ketchum, National Consultant of the G.A.R.B. brought the message.

Baptist News

Friday evening the Syracuse Baptist Church will be the host for the Crystal Lake Area Baptist Fellowship, at 7:30. They are engaged in a Missionary Conference at present. The main speaker for Friday evening will be Rev. Frank Hartwig, who, with his family are living on the Crystal Lake Camp grounds.

Wednesday the Dorcus Missionary group met for an all-day meeting at the church. Mrs. Frank Hartwig, who will be leaving with her husband and family in May as missionaries to the Philippines, spoke to the group. Sewing was done for Ippy Hospital in Central African Republic.

The first meeting of the Mentone Baptist's Men's Athletic Group will meet at the Talma Gym at 7:00 Saturday, Jan. 29.

Take your problems to Church this week -

THE HAPPIEST DAYS

Little Girl Days of pinafores and paper dolls.
It seems incredible when so many have lived in beautiful girl and boy land that the philosophy of insanity that prevails in many minds throughout the world today could really be taken seriously. It denies the existence of a personal God and goes all-out for cynicism. It preaches the self sufficiency of man while reducing his lot to worse than slavery.
One brilliant man who had temporarily "fallen" from this insane philosophy tells how he turned from it back to sanity when he began observing the delicate formation of his little daughter's ear. He realized at that moment that he was not self-sufficient. He found that his church was a veritable refuge in the trying days that followed when he publicly repudiated Communism.
The Church needs your help and the help of all in fighting this insidious doctrine that would enslave the world. You can do your art through regular attendance and active participation and by urging your friends to attend church with you.

Camptons Enjoy Florida Vacation

Rev. and Mrs. Glenn Camp have just returned from their vacation in Ft. Lauderdale, Florida. Some of the places of interest they visited were Silver Springs, taking a ride on the Glass-Bottomed Boats over the springs, Parrot Jungle, Cypress Gardens. The Seaquarium in Miami, Cruised on the Jungle Queen in Ft. Lauderdale, and they drove through the Everglades to the beautiful fishing city of Flamingo. They boarded a DC-6 plane and flew from Ft. Lauderdale to Naples to see the beautiful Golden Gates Estates that is being built on Cape Coral and saw the white sands of the Gulf of Mexico. This was a most exciting day for Mrs. Camp since it was her first plane ride. Rev. Campton and his friend, Rev. Joe Hanawalt, enjoyed a day of deep-sea fishing. Rev. Campton enjoyed this new type of fishing but wouldn't trade it for a day of ice-fishing at Palestine. On the way back home the Camptons visited with Mr. and Mrs. Don Bunner at Leesburg, Fla. They were in very good health and were really enjoyed their winter vacation.

Vacationing with the Camptons were Rev. and Mrs. Joseph Hanawalt of the Trinity Methodist Church in Kokomo, Indiana.

Don't Scrimp On Your Car Budget

Hello, I'm Trooper Julian Echterling, Indiana State Police, Ligonier District #2.

The mechanical condition of your automobile is vitally important to your safety on the highway.

You may save a few dollars by driving on worn out tires but when the pavement is slick an accident could cost you far more than the price of four new tires.

When it starts to take more power to apply the brakes and the brake pedal gets closer and closer to the floorboard, you might save a little money by waiting to take the car into a garage for repairs. But what happens when you have to make an emergency stop at road speeds? Those brakes, worn and out of adjustment, fail completely.

Seemingly small mechanical ailments can lead to big accidents. Windshield wipers that are worn out; a broken tail-light; one headlight burned out; a turn signal that doesn't work or cracked and discolored window glass.

Cars cost money to keep running and, too often, we take money out of the car budget and spend it elsewhere. This kind of savings can cost you your life.

SOCIAL SECURITY INFORMATION

"Any person eligible for Medicare should not drop or cancel any private health insurance he now has simply because of the new Medicare law," Mr. Charles E. Burke, social security district manager in South Bend, Indiana, cautioned recently.

"Health insurance for people 65 and over does not go into effect until July 1, 1966. Neither the hospital nor the medical insurance plan in this program will start before that date," Mr. Burke stressed.

He pointed out that premature cancellation of private insurance could leave a person without any health protection at all until the July 1, 1966, date. Only hospital and medical expenses incurred after that date will be covered under Medicare.

Mr. Burke added that those covered under the medical insurance plan will begin their $3 monthly payments in July 1966, the same time their protection begins. Hospital insurance will cost nothing after a person retires.

The South Bend office will be open to the public each Thursday evening until 9:00 p.m. and each Saturday morning from 8:15 A.M. to 12:15 P.M. These extra hours have been arranged primarily for the convenience of the many people 65 years of age and older who would like to file for "Medicare" or get specific information about other social security benefit programs, but cannot visit an office during the regular week-day hours because they are still working.

"For more information on Medicare, ask your social security office for leaflet number 2. If you have any questions, the district office personnel will be glad to answer them," Mr. Burke concluded.

Parson Jones Speaks

Dear Mr. Publisher:

I read in the paper where Dr. Angalore Pai says that people sleep too long. This sleep expert says a fella could gain six years of life if he cut down on his snoozing. According to him ole Thomas Edison only slept four hours a night. Dr. Pai swears that it won't hurt a fella's health, and predicts that by the year 2000 AD man will only average three hours a night. I shore am glad I won't be around then cause I kinda like my good warm bed. My wife allowed as how this was the only time she got any rest when the younguns wasn't running their mouths.

Mr. Publisher, I don't doubt that this doctor knows what he's talking about, cause they really speak with authority. The only thing that bothers me is what folks are gonna do with this extra time. They already got more than they know what to do with. If they cut down to a five hour work-week and add four more hours from snoring time, a fella will have to have a extra set a thumbs to twiddle. The folks in my church are already bored to death with the time they got. Oscar Bloodshot is already suffering from ulcers due to too many cocktail parties. Miss Senile has just finished crocheting her 300th tablecloth, and Ima Byrd belongs to five garden clubs. Jim Fairway plays 18 holes of golf a day while his wife is in the hospital from a nervous breakdown. People have got so much recreation that its already running out their ears. Lotta folks work at recreation like it was a full-time job. I look for the AF of L or the CIO to step into the field any day now.

I'll tell you the way the ole Parson sees it. Instead of cutting down on sleep, folks oughta sleep more. At least it will keep 'em outa devilment and keep 'em from being bored to death. On top of that, if people sleep more-they would fight less. You take Viet Name for instance. If both sides would just go to bed and sleep for a couple years, why the hole thing would blow over.

Another possibility I see, Mr. Publisher, is that folks learn to use all this extra time to give that commandment, "Thou shalt love the neighbor as thyself" a chance to prove itself. We could go around helping one another.

Yes sir, that extra time business is kinda like atomic power. It can be used to make a mess or clean up a mess. If the past is my gage of the future, we gonna have an awful messy place.

Come see us and bring your own liter bag.

Yours truly,
Parson Jones

ODDS and ENDS

Half the fun of cleaning house is uncovering long forgotten treasures. The other half of the fun comes from trying to keep the kids from falling through the attic which still remains pretty much floorless. After several wild lunges to grab Doug before he could plummet into the den via the ceiling approach, I retreated with my two ardent fans Saturday afternoon to more secure footing to re-read some forgotten possessions—two old autograph books.

What memories came from the books, accompanied now by much laughter and an occasional tear for a departed friend or relative. One thing that sort of unearched me was the age of those books—23 years old. How time has flown since I primly wrote in the front of one of them, "If this book should chance to roam, Box its ears and send it home."

The advice found in the little books is varied. A cousin, in the Navy at the time, wrote, "Many an innocent girl's life has fallen into a sailor's hands. Just be sure yours is not one of them. He dramatized this with a bust view of a sailor. His father was less philosophical. He wrote, "Here I stand 4 feet high, hooray for Christmas on the 4th of July."

Another relative, an aunt, wrote, "Apples are good, peaches are better, when you think of me, send me a letter."

Classmates offered such sterling advice as "First I wish you a baby boy, then when his hair has a curl, then I wish you a baby girl." "Roses are red, violets are blue, sugar is rationed, thank goodness not you." "You tickle me, you make me laugh, because you want my autograph."

Some of the meanings are a little vague, like, "When I jump into the box, then when I come out, the house will be locked." Or, "Mary had a little duck that went quack, quack. One day a storm came and the duck was never seen."

One favorite was "When you get old, and cannot eat, take off your shoes and smell your feet." Poetry flourished "Green is the moss that grows around the stump, "You are my darling sugar lump." "Cows like pumpkins, Pigs like squash, I like you, I do "By Gosh."

For the ones that rhymed there were others that did not. "Roses are red, violets are blue, you have a shape likt a P-51."

A lot of them are signed with such endearments as, "Yours till the cow gives shaving cream" or "Yours till the ocean has to wear rubber pants to keep its bottom dry."

Some of the thoughts have serious poetry and others light verse or thought. "May your life be like the three pianos—grand, upright, and square". "May your studios, quiet habits stay with you." "It's not what we give, but what we share, a gift without the river is bare." "True friends are like diamond, precious and rare. False friends are like autumn leaves, found everywhere." "When the Golden sun is setting and the path no more you trod, may your name in gold be written in that autograph of God."

None of them got very mushy although a few of them said, "I live you little, I love you big. I love you like a little pig."

One fellow hated to come right out and say pig so he said, "I love you little, I love you big. I love you little, I love you big." I married him.

March of Dimes Aids Two Children In Same Family with PKU Defect

In many small ways, Billy Joe Gray, who is only 2 years old, is protective toward his sister, Terry, who is almost twice his age. You see it when they're frolicking with their pointer, Fritz, for example.

Billy Joe only dimly understands why he feels protective toward his older sister. All that he knows for sure is that Terry doesn't always act like other youngsters.

Billy Joe's instincts are sound. Terry doesn't always act like other little girls on the block. She's mentally retarded.

Terry's tragedy stems from an inherited disorder called phenylketonuria, or PKU, for short. What is singular about this story is that Billy Joe also has PKU; but, unlike his pretty sister, he's as bright as a button.

The answer to the puzzle of why a brother and sister both with PKU are so dissimilar mentally comes when you ask about their medical histories at the March of Dimes Birth Defects Center at Boston (Mass.) City Hospital.

There it's disclosed that PKU was not detected in Terry until she was 17 months old. Her mother, Mrs. Jeanne Gray, of Cochituate, Mass., had given birth to a normal boy and girl before Terry was born. In very early infancy Terry also seemed normal. Then, after Terry was about six months of age, her mother wondered why the baby never talked and was unable to roll over by herself.

PKU remained undetected in Terry until soon after Billy Joe came along, at which time his sister was 17 months old. Billy Joe was two months premature and at birth weighed only 3 lbs., 14 ounces. When Billy Joe, at the age of 23 days, failed to do as well as he should, he was tested at Boston City Hospital for PKU, an examination that had then become routine at that hospital. The results showed he had PKU.

At this point, of course, the doctors immediately suspected what might be the source of Terry's physical and mental slowness. Suspicion became certainty when Terry, after her test, also was shown to be a victim of PKU.

The PKU test was developed by Dr. Robert Guthrie of the University of New York at Buffalo with the aid of March of Dimes grants and other assistance.

RHEUMATISM

FIBROSITIS, myositis, tendonitis, bursitis, panniculitis and arthritis are all forms of rheumatism.

In medical terminology, "itis" added to the end of a word denotes an inflammation of the part named in the first part of the word.

Rheumatism is characterized by inflammation of the tissues of the body, especially the muscles and the joints. This inflammation naturally causes pain.

Fibrositis appears in those fibrous tissues which are within or around a muscle. Muscle tissue itself is more resistant to injury than some of the tissues that have a blood supply and, although the muscle may be considered affected, it is usually the fibrous tissue within or around the muscle which is inflamed.

Factors conducive to fibrositis include strain or cramping of muscles and exposure to cold. Victims of this disease do not have the type of arthritis evidenced by swollen joints and joint deformity. A stiff neck, experienced when awakening in the morning, is due to fibrositis, as are some cases of lumbago which is an inflammation of fibrous tissues of the lumbar muscles of the back.

GRASSROOTS OPINION

LAMBERTVILLE, N.J., BEACON: "...poverty is not going to be eliminated by government subsidy and dole...Here in this community, in the county, state and nation we have gone a long way in creating programs to aid the poor. Many are out of hand and people are getting help, lots of it, so that few would take a job if one was offered to them. This does not end poverty, it seals it into our social life... Let's aid the unfortunate but make certain that he or she is led out of the situation that faces him, not make certain it continues for all time."

ENID, OKLA., NEWS: "There is a lot of talk about air pollution, but you ain't seen nothing yet till the 1966 political campaign starts."

LIBERAL, KAN., SOUTHWEST DAILY TIMES: "The average person is very courteous to others under most circumstances. Most men will hold open doors for ladies (even though they don't get thanked always), assist elderly persons across the street...What happens to many of these some people when they get behind the wheel of an automobile?...They race through traffic...fail to allow other drivers into a lane of traffic, dash through intersections with no regard for pedestrians...and instead of 'pardon me', they belittle like an angry bull at every other driver on the road."

STORM LAKE, IOWA, PILOT-TRIBUNE: "In our judgement, our community school board acted wisely in deciding not to ask for $25,000 federal aid funds... there is a lurking suspicion that when Uncle Sam gets into a school system, he insists on keeping his fingers in the pie. In other words, he dictates to the local authorities. This isn't desirable. We can run our own school systems better than can some politician or bureaucrat at Washington."

EARNESBORO, PA., STAR: "Our great nation was built on the principles of free enterprise and that a government which governs the least is the best government. These two great heritages are rapidly vanishing from the American scene. There is very little free enterprise today amid overwhelming government oppression."
