School Board Drops Additional 50c Cumulative Tax Raise!!

ATTENDANCE AREAS SET

At the regular meeting of the Tippecanoe Valley School Board (now just one year old) one of the main items of interest was the cumulative building fund raise.

There were several people there who spoke against it.

Paul Fites, teacher of Henry Township, stated that in his opinion and in talking with people in his community, he felt that it was an unwise move at this time.

Harold Groninger, also of Akron, stated his feeling that since we did not know what the state legislature is going to do, and since we have no idea what our own school tax is to be, thought it wise not to add to the tax burden now. Mr. Creighton brought up the question of raising the fund, but found no support, so it was tabled for another year.

There was also in attendance, several members of the board of control of the Little League. They were asking for better lighting at the ball field.

The superintendent assured them that this work was in progress. Poles were there now and cables were to be buried and additional lights were to be ordered. This work is being done by Romine Electric for $1800.

In another item of business, the attendance areas for the coming year was established. Mr. Forbes outlined the following plan:

Students 8 through 12 on Road 600S and North of 600S attend Mentone High School.

Students 8 through 12 South of Road 600S attend Akron High School.

Seniors who attended high school in a different area during the 1962-63 school year may be granted an exception if they furnish their own transportation.

All 7th grade from the entire Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation will go to Beaver Dam.

Kindergarten through 6 North of the Tippecanoe River go to Atwood.

Grades 1-6 on Road 650W and East of 650W in Harrison Township go to Burket, and grades 1-6 in Seward Township East of 800W and North of 600S go to Burket.

All kindergarten on 600S and North of 600S to Tippecanoe River go to Mentone.

Grades 1-6 on 600S and North of 600S go to Mentone, with East boundary being 650W in Harrison Township and 800W in Seward Township.

Grades kindergarten-6 South of 600W go to Akron Grade School.

The school board also discussed plans for converting the teacher's lounge, the storage area, and the south hall at the Burket School into a cafeteria. Depending upon the extensiveness of the remodeling costs, which would run from $3000 to $5200. The board adjourned early to go to the Burket School to investigate the possibilities further.

The board held their reorganization meeting last night and all offices remained the same except the office of vice president was dropped.

The officers are Edward Bucher, president; Gale Creighton, secretary; Eldon Cumberland, treasurer.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen McGinnis of Tucson, Arizona are visiting friends and relatives in Macy and Mentone the next two weeks.

Don Smith of Chicago visited over the week end with Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Smith.

Dr. Urschel Quoted In Medical Magazine

Because of his interest and work with aviation medicine, Dr. Dan Urschel appeared in two national magazines during the past two weeks.

As president-elect of the Flying Physicians Association, he was pictured in his plane at an Indiana Fly-In at the Shades State Park last fall. This article, appearing in Medical World News, describes some of the work of the Flying Physicians, and also emphasized the pleasure aspects of private aviation.

The second publication appeared in the Journal of the Aerospace Medical Association, and was concerned with an investigation of aviation accidents carried on by Dr. Urschel and other members of the Indiana chapter of Flying Physicians. These men came to the conclusion that aviation training and judgment were far more important in the prevention of accidents than was the pilot's present physical status. In this series of approximately 100 non-fatal accidents, there were only five in which there was even a remote possibility of some connection between the pilot's physical condition and the accident.

Mrs. Virginia Peterson and Mary Ann visited last week with Mr. and Mrs. Larry Flenar and family at K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base near Marquett, Michigan. Mrs. Flenar and family returned to Mentone to spend a few days.

Freedom Bells To Ring July 4th

Thursday, July 4th is the long awaited day for the Freedom Bells to ring. This nation wide celebration, which will take place simultaneously in all 50 states, is scheduled for 1:00 p.m. in our area. The sound of these many bells should be a thrilling reminder of what Independence Day stands for, challenging each of us to remember the heroic resolve formed by the men who pledged their lives, their fortunes and their sacred honor 187 years ago.

So let's keep in mind the time of 1:00. Churches from Burket, Mentone and Palestine will participate, as well as individuals. Small as it may seem, everyone get ready their bell to ring!

America: Land of the Jitters
Feeling nervous? You've got lots of company. One out of every 12 adults in America takes tranquilizers regularly, according to a survey in a leading chemical industry journal. The pills, introduced just seven years ago, are now the third largest selling prescription drug.

Annual sales are well over $200 million.

Dieting is not necessarily depressing, report two University of Pittsburgh researchers, William G. Shipman, Ph.D., and Marvin R. Plesset, M.D. Among 151 overweight patients they studied, mostly women, only a few became depressed during a period of dieting. Successful dieting actually lessened anxiety and depression.

Science Reporter, a weekly program, is planned for the fall season by National Educational Television. It will be the only weekly network science series broadcast at prime time, says N.E.T. The organization has 72 affiliated stations serving 70 million viewers.

A wind tunnel in Morton Grove, Illinois usually used to test wind and icing resistance of missile and aircraft components, occasionally tortures more down-to-earth products such as street lamps and roofing shingles. Cardox carbon dioxide is used to bring temperatures in the tunnel to minus 20 degrees F., while two jet engines churn out howling winds up to nearly three times the speed of sound.

Columbia University biologists report that poisons have been discovered in these marine inhabitants: sea worms, Portuguese-Man-of-War jellyfish, stonefish of the Indian Ocean, the sea wasp, bristle worms and certain sea cucumbers.

A sun tan, reports the American Medical Association, has no physical value and actually speeds wrinkling and aging. But recognizing that tanning will probably remain popular, the AMA recommends doing it by easy stages, particularly if you are fair skinned. Final advice: if the sunburn hurts very much, see a doctor.

New life for the Georgia tombstone industry is the goal of a Georgia Tech research program. It is aimed at increasing the marketability of Elbert County granite, the only stone outside Vermont and Minnesota hard enough for monument production. Methods of coloring, impregnating and coating the stone will be studied.

Water Trees And Shrubs

Chances are your trees and shrubs will need extra water sometime this year, according to Don Scheer, Purdue University extension horticulturist.

It is easy to forget about watering—it's so simple. But the fact is that plants are made up of about 90 per cent water and rainfall is short sometimes every year.

Trees and shrubs get almost all of their water through their roots—roots which are below the surface—so you must water deeply.

For small trees and shrubs that were set out recently, an easy way to water is to flood the area around each plant, then let the water soak in completely. Add water and let it soak in about three times.

Watering large trees is more of a problem. Here one of the best ways to water is to use a soil spear, which you attach on the end of your hose and spear in the ground.

Boating Tips...

Each of the familiar buoys shown above has a story to tell. If you haven't been "getting their messages", here's what they mean: 1) Red, even-numbered buoys—keep them on your right entering a channel or going upstream (remember, red, right, returning). 2) Black, odd-numbered buoys—keep them on your left entering a channel from seaward or going upstream. 3) Black-and-white vertical stripes—mid-channel marker which can be passed on either side. 4) Black-and-red horizontal stripes—obstruction marker which should be passed on side indicated by topmost color. For example, if the top color is red, keep the buoy on the right entering a harbor. Clear all buoys by at least 50 feet, caution Mercury boating experts. Also, don't tie up to a buoy—it's a federal offense.

Family Finances

If you've decided to buy a house this summer, give it a "construction check" before you sign the papers. You don't have to be a building expert to spot good construction, and a final check may save you money in the long run.

The foundation should be poured concrete, which resists water better than concrete blocks. Look at walls for water stains. Siding should be as maintenance-free as possible. Aluminum siding or brick are best.

All windows and outside doors should be weatherstripped. Window frames of aluminum eliminate warping and repainting.

Drywall construction is often cheaper to maintain than plaster walls. Insulation in the walls and ceiling should be of the best type. Remember, solid construction will keep in the heat and save on winter heating bills.

Finally, find out if your new house was constructed under FHA or VA inspection. Before you buy your "dream house," be sure it's well built.

Furniture For Children

Flexibility, easy care and the ensemble look are three features in today's furniture for children.

According to Rita Coake, Purdue University home furnishings specialist, mothers will find more furniture for children that will fit in with the rest of the home's furniture. It also will be easy to care for, and will adapt to the child's changing needs and interests.

More and more dressers and chests are unadorned. Cribs tend to be the only furniture with the traditional decals and animal motifs. Decorated cribs often have plain matching chests that can be used with other furnishings.

Both baby and youth furniture is styled in Danish Modern,

Early American, Contemporary, French Provincial and Italian Directoire. Matching cribs, night stands, chests, bookcases, mirrors, single and double dressers make up complete ensembles in wood or painted finishes.

Both high and low cost pieces may feature a plastic laminated surface finished in authentic looking wood grain or in solid colors. This finish is easy to clean, and resists chipping or staining.

Adjustable stack storage shelves are a versatile item. Place them on the floor for the preschooler to store stuffed toys, blocks and cars. Later, hang them on the wall over a desk for the school child to hold book and hobby collections.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Lewis and family, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Besson and girls, Mrs. Agnes Rams were Sunday dinner guests of Mrs. Nellie Riemschneider of Fulton.

Care For Your Peonies

The peony is Indiana's state flower. But it is not only an Indiana favorite, according to Purdue University extension horticulturists. It is a favorite throughout the mid-west and most of the United States.

Peonies will take neglect, but they will respond to care such as keeping the weeds down. When you weed, be sure not to cultivate too deeply, since you may disturb the roots. And don't pull the soil up around the plant either, because deeply covered peonies won't bloom.

For good bloom next year, they recommend adding fertilizer now. Use one-fourth cup of complete fertilizer, such as 12-12-12, around each peony plant. Mix it well into the soil. And then water after fertilizing.

Also, remember to water your peonies during dry spells.

And why not order some more plants for early fall planting? The new introductions are beautiful.

Does Your Child Need A Pet?

Mommy, can I have a puppy, or a kitten, or a turtle? Please?

That is a plea parents hear again and again. A pet affords a rich experience for a child, yet it requires a great deal of care.

Mrs. Elaine Dolch, family life and child development specialist at Purdue University, recommends considering several points.

Can the child assume some of the responsibility of pet care? Does the family really have time for a pet? Are you using a pet to fill a void that should be filled by parents or other children?

Who will care for your pet while you vacation or travel? Do you mind the inconvenience of a pet—the spots on the carpet, the clawed furniture?

In addition to the responsibility for the pet's physical care, you must inoculate and nurse it through any illnesses.

Animals in cages, that require less room and less care, may simplify the problem, but they are not as responsive as some other animals.

But do consider your child's needs, too. Perhaps he needs a pet to depend on for affection and security, as well as pleasure.

As Mrs. Dolch's daughter expressed it, a child needs a pet to cuddle, to play with, to take care of, to take on walks. "You need someone to understand you when no one else does, someone who is always glad to see you, someone your size to love," she concluded.

NEWS NOTES

from our

County Agent

DONALD E. FRANTZ

The quarantine for control of the Cereal Leaf Beetle includes all of Kosciusko County. This will mean that any wheat, oats, hay or straw shipped out of the county, destined for a non-quarantine area, will have to be accompanied by a certificate showing it to be free of the insect. The main burden will be on the elevator men who will have the job of seeing to it that the treatment is done properly.

There has been no publication of details of the quarantine as of the end of June, but it is evident that the regulatory officials consider the threat to be a serious one. Only two actions of this kind have ever been used before, one to control corn borers and the other to control the Japanese Beetle. The most recent one was about 30 years ago.

It looks like the elevators will have some options at least for awhile. They can install sprayers in some leg of their wheat handling system and spray with Malathion. It doesn't take much and in Michigan they have used a pint to 1,000 bushels. They can also use a fumigant in the car before wheat is shipped. Many grain dealers do this now to control weevil and this may be a method. The other way could be to ship to a terminal within the quarantine area which will include Michigan, Ohio and Indiana.

We do not know the consequences of a serious spread of this beetle. It feeds in two stages and could do a lot of damage to growing crops. It could develop into a serious corn pest although it has not been so up to this time, but it has never been in a corn area before. So far, the regulations have been pre-cautionary in nature, but there is no doubt that actual on-the-farm control to protect crops can be worked out if it becomes necessary.

Much of the current hay crops were made earlier than usual due to the dry conditions which permitted field work to be done early. However, some hay is just now being made. There is a great deal of difference in the value of hay made a month ago and hay being cut for the first time now.

On the average the late cut hay has made more tonnage, made at the expense of the second cutting. The digestibility has been reduced from 65 to 50 per cent, a loss of 300 pounds per ton. The protein has been reduced from about 22 per cent down to 12 or a loss of 200 pounds to each ton and this is worth eight to ten dollars at the market price.

Even with all these savings there is another big one and that is milk cows need less grain when the hay is top grade. It looks like cows on the early hay will need about seven pounds less grain per day. For a herd of 30, this means over 200 pounds of grain per day or three tons a month. That would be a good figure to convert into dollar bills.

Nutrition, housing and consumer acceptance of manufactured dairy products will be stressed at Purdue University's dairy field day, Monday, July 15th, at the Dairy Center on Cherry Lane.

The morning program will open at 10 a.m. with demonstrations, discussions and exhibits of research and experimental work at Purdue.

Purdue dairy scientists will report on results of studies in feeding chopped green corn, corn silage and pasturing fields which received heavy applications of nitrogen. Conversion of feed to milk by cows in relation to their body weight will also be discussed.

Free stall housing—a new method of better utilization of buildings, bedding and the dairyman's time—will be discussed. A demonstration of face fly control will be given.

Visitors will hear a discussion of the genetic makeup of cows which influences their production and milk composition. Sire summaries available to Hoosier dairymen will be explained. Demonstrations on testing for protein and solids-not-fat will be given.

A MESSAGE OF THANKS

We would like to express how grateful we feel for all the acts of kindness shown us at the loss of Roy, my husband and father.

Words just don't seem to be enough.

We feel we should personally thank each and every one and will try to do that, however, we hope in every way to reach so many people.

We can't express our thanks strongly enough for the many cards, letters, visits and floral contributions.

We look around us at a time like this and realize how many have gone through what we have although our loss and grief will be with us for a long time, it truly helps to know so many do care. May the Lord bless you all. Our sincere and heartfelt thanks.

Mrs. Royle Maxwell, Bringhurst, Indiana.

Dr. and Mrs. W. F. Maxwell and Louis, Jim and Dick, Kokomo, Indiana.

Flower Care

How well you take care of your flowers can mean the difference between having beautiful flowers all summer and just having flowers.

Don Scheer, Purdue University extension horticulturist, says that watering should be at the top of your list. Water both annual and perennial flowers during dry spells. And be sure the water soaks in at least six inches. Light, frequent sprinklings only encourage shallow rooting and disease.

Be sure you keep the weeds down, too. Cultivate shallowly throughout the entire growing season to control the weeds. Or for seasonal control, cultivate, then add a two inch peat moss, corn cob or sawdust mulch, or a four inch straw mulch.

With annual flowers—those that bloom just one year and die—you'll find it is a good idea to pinch off the tops of the plants when they get three or four sets of leaves. This will encourage branching. And also pinch chrysanthemums until July.

For further information, drop a post card to Agricultural Publications, Purdue University, Lafayette, Indiana. Request Mimeo HO-72-5, "Growing Perennial Flowers," and HO-72-6, "Growing Annual Flowers." Both are free to Indiana residents.

Raspberries Need Attention

If you have a home raspberry patch, you can grow excellent fruit by observing a few simple care rules, according to Purdue University extension horticulturists.

Here they are:

Be certain not to let your black or purple raspberries grow too tall. Black raspberries should be trimmed at a height of one and one-half to two feet and purple raspberries at a height of two and one-half feet. This diverts the growth into side branches and increases fruit yield. Also it prevents canes from being unmanageable.

Canes will reach this height at different times of the year. Therefore, it is necessary to go over the plants several times and cut the tall shoots.

However, do not trim red raspberries.

Retain the hedge or hills of plants by removing suckers. This should be limited to a width of 12-15 inches. After harvest, cultivate once or twice to control weeds.

Cover crops may be sown between rows at the last cultivation. Or, instead of cultivating, you may add a two inch mulch of ground corn cobs or peat moss or a four inch mulch of straw.

For more information on raspberry care, write Agricultural Publications, Purdue University, Lafayette, Indiana, for Mimeo HO-57-2, "Raspberry and Blackberry Culture in Indiana." It's free to Indiana residents.

Unnecessary horn honking by impatient motorists adds stress and strain to the problems of everyday driving, says the Chicago Motor Club. The automobile horn is a safety device put on your car for use in emergency situations, not a means for emotional outlet.

The Chicago Motor Club offers this tip to motorists: Always drive with the flow of traffic; if you are passing too many cars, you are probably going too fast; if too many cars are passing you, you are probably traveling too slow a pace for existing conditions.

Family Finances

It is not pleasant to talk about death, but every family should be prepared to meet the costs of a funeral and burial before someone in the family dies.

It is a good idea to purchase a cemetery lot and even a monument now. Prices for lots and monuments go up every year, and may be more than doubled in 10 years. More important, the death of a relative or loved one should not be complicated by business arrangements for the burial.

It is also possible to arrange for a funeral itself long before someone in the family dies. Many funeral homes will be glad to discuss their arrangements with you, and it is wise to find out the price ranges and details of the various services.

Most states require a funeral home to be licensed. Be sure that you are dealing with a reputable, licensed funeral director by checking his credentials and prices now.

Pointers On Poison Ivy

"Leaflets three, leave it be" is the old saying used to teach identification of poison ivy.

Learning to recognize the poison ivy plant and then avoiding it is one of the safest precautions against contracting it, states Charles Richardson, rural health specialist at Purdue University.

He recommends teaching all members of the family how to recognize poisonous plants and making them aware of the discomfort which could result from contact.

However, if you are exposed to poison ivy, wash the exposed area with soap and water as soon as possible. Work up a quick lather, then rinse the area several times with clear water. It is not necessary to scrub with a brush, though.

If itching and burning already have started, wash the affected area gently with soap and water. Then pat on calamine lotion to soothe the itching.

If you are frequently or seriously bothered by poison ivy, he advises asking your physician about the possibility of immunization or other methods of prevention.

Remember that clothing worn during exposure should be washed before being worn again and that cats or dogs may carry the poison on their coats.

DEPENDABLE — YES!!

Roger Bridge has announced an addition to the summer recreational program for boys of the Mentone School area.

This program will begin Monday, July 15, and continue for three weeks. On Mondays and Thursdays instruction in basketball fundamentals will be given.

Grades 4, 5 and 6 will begin at 2:00 p.m., and 7th and 8th grade boys will meet at 3:00 p.m. These groups will meet rain or shine. Boys are asked to bring their gym shoes. There will be no fee for these classes.

PARTICIPATING IN SCIENCE PROGRAM

Howard Shoemaker of Mentone is taking part in science research participation programs for college undergraduates this summer at Indiana University. Financed by the National Science Foundation, the programs are designed to give the students employment which affords them experience in research under supervision of university scientists. Participants also attend science seminars, discussions and lectures. Shoemaker is working on a project in physics.

With The Sick

Mrs. George Long of north of Mentone is in the Methodist Hospital at Indianapolis for observation.

Eba Bayne is in the Prairie View Nursing Home in Warsaw, and is improving.

Mr. and Mrs. Garrie Rose were taken last Friday afternoon to the Prairie View Nursing Home in Warsaw. Garrie hadn't been very well last week and Edith remains about the same. They certainly would appreciate cards and visits from their friends and neighbors here in Mentone.

Tammy Ward, five year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Ward, had the misfortune to fall from a bunk bed early one morning last week. Being in a dazed condition, she was taken to Dr. Wilson's office for x-rays and examining, and then released with nothing serious was found. Except for a bumped head, Tammy suffered no ill effects from the fall.

Ike Jefferies has been dismissed from the Woodlawn Hospital in Rochester.

Ernest Studebaker, R. R., Mentone, has been admitted to the Parkview Hospital in Plymouth.

NEWCASTLE RELEASED IN COURT ACTION

Newcastle Township was made a free agent this morning when special Judge John Beauchamp of Wabash ruled for a permanent injunction against the Fulton County Reorganization Committee. This means that there will need to be another committee organized. Meanwhile Newcastle Twp is going ahead in full force to try to get themselves tied up with the Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation with whom they already have signed a contract to transfer their high school students to Mentone and Akron.

The NEWS is purely speculating in this next statement but we expect to see Newcastle Township become a part of this school Corporation and the attendance areas that were established several weeks ago will be revised in favor of making the Beaver Dam and the Talma schools into Junior Highs with all students above road 600 S going to Talma and below that line going to Beaver Dam.

Accident Involves Four Autos

In a property damage accident in Mentone Friday evening, Everett Bayne, about 77, apparently blacked out as he drove down Main Street and his auto struck a parked car owned by Lee Shepherd, of Route 4, Warsaw.

Bayne continued on down the street and struck cars parked along side of the street owned by Mildred Harrold, of Akron, and Warren Nichols, of Tippecanoe. It was estimated that a total of $900 damage resulted from the mishap. No injuries were reported.

ATTENDS WORKSHOP

Brad Moore of Mentone, who is principal of the Atwood Grade School, just completed a two-week education workshop held recently at Ball State Teachers College. The workshop, under the supervision of Dr. Helen Sornson, professor of education, is on "Early Childhood Education." Those attending the workshop were from Indiana and Michigan.

APPLY FOR LICENSE

Richard Campton, student minister, and Linda Mellott, secretary, have applied for a marriage license in the office of County Clerk, T. Ethna Scott.

COUNTERPOINT

By The Editor's Wife

Garrie and Edith have gone to the nursing home. I watched as strong capable hands carried them on stretchers to the waiting ambulance, and placed them side by side for their ride to a new life. Pearl Horn rode with them.

There was an aching lump in my throat as many memories crowded in—Edith and Mae Borton hurrying across the street when 4-year-old Jon broke his leg in jumping from the porch railing, three days after we moved to Mentone (some years ago); Edith bringing special food treats to my invalid mother, staying on to visit and cheer her; Edith sharing special plants and flowers from her lovely, well-tended garden; Garrie and his countless neighborly acts and his "colorful" political discussions; the special warmth and affection held by them for our children. And then, that bleak day about ten years ago when illness struck, and Edith was confined to her bed. Garrie surprised all of us in the manner he went about managing the house (guess Edith had spoiled him). He has done an admirable job all these years, even when his own health failed and his body was weak.

We are thinking of those neighbors and friends who have quietly and kindly done so many things to make life better for Garrie and Edith. Special mention and appreciation is due to Viola Adams who has gone in, week after week, to help get Edith up out of bed and into a chair—and to Myrtle Davis who has been so faithful in caring for the many, many needs of Garrie and Edith, especially during recent months when he was unable to carry on.

When it was not possible to get someone to come in full time to care for the home and the patients, the move to the nursing home seemed the only answer.

Yes, we shall miss our neighbors, for they cannot be replaced, but we expect to see them often. (And they will be getting the home town newspaper, which will mean more now than ever.)

They are sharing a room at the Prairie View Nursing Home in Warsaw, and will welcome a visit from neighbors and friends.

C. O. MOLLENHOUR
MEMORIAL

Word was received just before press time of the actions taken by the Kos. Co. Council of Conservation Clubs which decided to change the name of the McClure Lake Conservation Club to the Chancey Mollenhour Memorial Conservation Camp. A huge 8 x 10 sign has been erected at the east entrance of the camp.

Mr. Mollenhour was widely known through the state for his work in conservation and we agree with the directors that this is a fitting Memorial to him.

Bill Davis of Yellow Creek Lake is compiling a history of the work of Mr. Mollenhour and urges anyone that has any clippings, pictures or has some memories of Mr. Mollenhour that they would like to share he would be glad to receive them. They will be used in the various magazines and conservation papers.

Letter of Appreciation

Dear Auxiliary members:

We want to take this time now to thank you, the members of the Mentone Auxiliary, for sending us to Girls' State this year. It was truly an experience that we will never forget.

We received so much from the eight days we spent on the Indiana University campus, not only in government, but in other ways too. We had the opportunity of meeting girls from all over the state of Indiana, each with a different personality and way of life. We also had the privilege of meeting personally some of the high officials of our government, such as Governor Welsh, Senator Birch Bayh and his wife, and Mrs. Bray, wife of Representative Bray, and many other outstanding people.

We can actually say that from our stay at Girls' State, we received a knowledge of our government which will never be forgotten and is considered by all, the foundation for the leaders of tomorrow. Girls' State was one of the most memorable and outstanding moments of our life and we want to thank you again from the bottom of our hearts for making this opportunity possible.

Sincerely,
Betty Bibler & Eldona Antonides

TO REPAIR STREETS

At a recent meeting of the members of the Mentone Town Board it was decided to let the attorneys make arrangements for the purchase of railroad property to permit the building of a new fire station and town hall this fall.

The other item of business considered was the letting of bids for building some new streets and resurfacing other streets in town. Phend and Brown Construction Company of Milford was awarded the contract. The town has $3,000 in the budget for the resurfacing work.

ATTENDING SCIENCE
INSTITUTE

W.S.C.S. Meets Recently

The Woman's Society of Christian Service met with Mrs. Eugene Sarber for its June meeting on June 27.

Twenty members and guests heard a most informative lesson on "The Fellowship of Churches", presented by Mrs. Rea Ward and Mrs. Dan Urschel. The National Council of Churches is a fellowship of 34 denominations whose work is divided into four channels: Christian Education, Christian Life and Work, Home Missions, and Foreign Missions. Other general units of the Council of Churches are: Church World Service, Department of Evangelism, United Church Women, and United Church Men.

These units sponsor such observances as World Day of prayer, Race Relations Sunday, Share Our Surplus Week and encourage Christian radio and television programs. It is important that we realize the council speaks to us rather than for us. The National Council is making a sincere effort to bring about a more Christian world. For further discussion the women formed four buzz groups with Mrs. William Cox, Mrs. Kenneth Hagan, Mrs. Harold Utter and Rev. Campton acting as leaders.

Mrs. Allen Herendeen, president, conducted the business meeting. Rev. Campton gave a report of the sick and shut-ins and led in prayer.

The next meeting will be an afternoon and evening get-together at Epworth Forest on August 1, when the M.Y.F. will be there for the Institute. The improvements at Epworth Forest are numerous and beautiful. Many of you will want to enjoy a leisurely tour, picnic supper, the evening program in the auditorium, and maybe a ride on the Dixie. If you are interested in going please notify the president or other officers for details and transportation.

The hostess, assisted by Mrs. David Cooper, served refreshments and a social time was enjoyed by all.

COUNTERPOINT, Continued

Several weeks ago we mentioned a Christmas Saving Club which runs for 23 weeks. Here are the details:

The Christmas Bonus Club was originated by Max Hess who owns a department store in Allentown, Pa. People deposit weekly payments in his store in multiple of $1.00 a week for 23 weeks, starting June 3. After 23 weeks, in the week ending Nov. 11, Mr. Hess will pay off. Here the plan differs from the regular Christmas Saving Club—Hess will give merchandise certificates for the full amount of the deposits, plus 8 per cent.

So, if a customer had deposited $100 in the plan, he would get a merchandise certificate worth $108, which is terrific increase for the customer.

On the other hand, Mr. Hess gets paid in advance for a large amount of Christmas sales. This pre-sells Christmas gifts in June, and for this he pays eight per cent in merchandise, which may cost him about five per cent.

This plan has been trademarked and copyrighted, but Mr. Hess has ideas of franchising other stores. These explanations may answer your questions as they did mine.

Tom and Jody took us out for our anniversary dinner last Thursday, and it was a very special evening. We are still chuckling, however, at the puzzled look on the face of the waitress as she picked up the silver dollar which had been left as a part of the tip. We do hope she decides to keep it.

We didn't dream that across the meadow and over the hill from the Burt Lake cottage one would find an old "dump", but the editor found it on one of his "rambles". It is a special dump for there lie the rusting fragile remains of an old Model T, which has been stripped of most of its glory. Another ancient car is passing to extinction at the foot of the hill in a small swamp.

The editor found an old three-legged black iron kettle, with a large piece gone from the bottom. He knew I'd want to bring it home for a planter (Right!). The next day two of us went to see this "place", and lo and behold, we found the missing piece for the little kettle, buried under the leaves from many autumns.

In this spot the ferns grow tall, and the white birch stretch to a size which surprises one. Here, too, we discovered our first shining dark green winter-green plants.

The old cars brought nostalgia, for my father drove a 1913 Model T. For a moment I recalled the sturdy straps which secured the top to the fenders, the shining brass radiator trim, the black leather seats, and the surprising black bulbular horn its raucous "honk, honk".

It took one or two mosquitoes to bring me back to reality, and an appreciation for "things as they are", thanks to these years of inventions and progress.

We enjoyed this:

A little girl suddenly announced that she didn't want to eat in the school luncheon anymore. When asked why, she said: "Oh, because there's always a teacher in there yelling her head off."

"Why should she be doing that?" asked her mother.

"Oh," said the little girl, "I suppose that's so we won't miss our mothers."

MRS. BUNNER HONORED

Mrs. Faye Bunner was presented her 50-year pin for membership in the Order of Eastern Star at the official inspection of the Warsaw, Pierceton and Mentone chapters, held at the Warsaw Masonic Temple.

Mrs. Helen Garriott of Indianapolis, Worthy Grand Matron of the Indiana grand chapter, assisted by Mrs. Mildred Y. Smith of Warsaw, Past Grand Matron, presented the pin. The daughter, Kim, of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Nelson, and the son, Chad, of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tucker, were dedicated by the Worthy Grand Matron, assisted by the Past Grand Patron, David Miller of Goshen, at a service the same evening.

The above school picture was taken in 1895, and was brought in by Eba Bayne, who was in the fourth grade at the time.

The school was called Catell No. 11 and the building is still standing just north of the Charles Eaton farm home ½ mile east and 1 mile north of Mentone.

George McKrell was the teacher.

FIREMEN CALLED TO CHARLES EATON HOME

The Mentone Fire Department rushed to the rural home of Charles Eaton Wednesday afternoon where a television set short circuited and caused extensive damage to the interior of their home.

Tippecanoe Valley To Annex
Newcastle Township

The Tippecanoe Valley School Board met in regular session Monday evening to adopt the resolution to annex Newcastle township to the school corporation. However, the school board had an audience (which lasted 2 hours with a delegation from the Burket community. They were there to voice their opinion as to the decision of the school board to put cafeteria facilities in the Burket school Building. They felt that this should not be done and until a new cafeteria and several rooms could be built the cafeteria in the old building should be used.

The board stated that they had given thought to a new cafeteria but as the present tax situation stands they did not want to put it into the tax rate. This would raise the rate fifty cents).

It was pointed out, however, that the old building was closed by the fire marshal and that the school board would not use it for any purpose. In fact, it has been mentioned about tearing it down.

The board then continued with the business at hand.

George Craig, Newcastle trustee and advisory board members attending the meeting were in agreement on the resolution.

The merger of the township and school corporation will be completed 31 days after the second publication of the notices that is scheduled for July 25.

When Newcastle township joins the corporation, it will end a two-year fight for the group to form a school corporation out of Newcastle and Henry townships in Fulton county and Harrison, Seward and Franklin in Kosciusko county.

If and when the annexation takes place, the school board will consist of five members as it does now. The resolution calls for Whitney Gast, of Akron, to hold the district-at-large position until his term expires in June, 1966.

It has not been decided what classes will be held at Talma. Tippecanoe Valley School Superintendent Robert Forbes stated that those students who resided near Rochester will probably be granted transfers. He stated that the board had been very liberal in granting transfers for those not residing near a corporation school. "I see no reason for a change if this plan goes through," he stated.

BLAZE CAUSES
CHAIN REACTION

A chain reaction of small events last Friday led to a fire at the Fred Lemler home which could have had very serious consequences. In taking the sweeper hose from its storage spot in the basement stairway, a small metal bird-cage holder was knocked loose from its place. It fell and knocked over a can of gasoline (holding painting brushes) on the landing below. The gasoline spread to the furnace and was ignited by the pilot light.

The house was damaged by smoke, as was some of the furniture. The furnace was burned extensively.

The fact that large fans were used to draw out the smoke immediately prevented more extensive smoke damage.

COUNTERPOINT

By The Editor's Wife

Why do we need a small town newspaper?

As my mind "walked around" this question, several thoughts came. First, I remembered several small towns who have, for one reason or another, lost their newspapers. In a sense, these towns are like a ship without a rudder - an orator without a voice.

The smaller town newspaper is unique. It does not have the responsibility of politics, in the same degree as larger papers. It deals in statistics, very personal statistics—the birth of your son or daughter (even want to know the weight and name), their school records, where they go to college, their service for Uncle Sam, whom they marry and where they are going to live.

In a small town we have a fine grained mixture of interest in our neighbors affairs and friendly curiosity. (This is a quality not understood by city folks, in fact it is often resented.)

Our excellent neighboring papers serve their purpose, (and we are as eager as you to read them) but none of these get right "down where we live".

A smaller town newspaper depends upon you for news, opinions, and advertising. To pay expenses (for it is a business) it has to sell space. It takes a proper balance between "give and sell." For this reason, the same issue of The News may tell where you went on last Sunday, who visited your neighbor on Friday, and give a long article telling about a lovely church wedding or a funeral (all space donated); then, charge for space for your card of thanks, penny supper notice, or classified ad.

Through the news items of births, deaths, marriage, clubs and organizations, schools and advertising the small town newspaper is a channel of communication to and for the entire community.

These are some of my ideas, you may think of others.

American ingenuity again has been shown by the introduction of a 16-inch TV receiver for $99.95. This will be a big jolt to Japanese TV imports.

This move has double significance as it shows that "American efficiency can offset cheap Japanese labor, and that manu-

Do you know the difference between spices and herbs?

Spices are part of plants (bark roots, leaves, stems or fruit of aromatic plants) usually grown in the tropics; herbs are the leaves or blossoms of soft succulent plant; (fresh or dried whole, ground, crushed) always grown in a temperate climate

Due to American ingenuity (automation) we can buy fresh, young, tender chicken at prices less than half of what we pay for bologna, and less than what it costs for scraps for the dog.

This Will Save Confusion

Anyone changing business or personal stationery to include the new postal ZIP code number was urged by a General Telephone spokesman today to spell out the words "Area Telephone Code" and Telephone Number" before listing those numbers. In the past, these numbers often have been printed without any designations.

The "Area Telephone Code" is used for placing long distance calls as is the Telephone Number. Confusion with the Postal ZIP Code could result, especially in areas where all digit numbers are in use.

A suggested arrangement of the items could be as follows:

Name
Street Address
City, State, 12345
Area Telephone Code: 123
Telephone Number: 123-4567

The General Telephone spokesman stressed that merely listing all the numbers, without at least clearly spelling out the last two items, would be confusing and perhaps even loss of revenue.

Man's strangest afflictions, the 20 or so different diseases that produce "spells", "epilepsy", "focal seizures" and similar disorders are being studied at the "Convulsive Disorder Clinic" established at the University of Michigan Hospital. Disorders under scrutiny range from a mild three-second blackout to long, exhausting convulsions.

More U.S. women are getting married than ever before, reports the Population Reference Bureau. As recently as 1940, 15 per cent of women in their early 30's had never been married. In 1960, it was just 7 per cent. During 1963, the Bureau says, 1,600,000 American women will marry. And when they are 50 years old, nearly half will still be working.

Transoceanic TV will be hit or miss for several years. Experts say it will be 1973 before the world has enough communications satellites for 24-hour coverage.

When a man gets to the moon, what is he going to eat? His spaceship, what else? Dr. Sidney Schwartz, a physiologist, has invented material for the purpose. It is made of milk powder, hominy grits, starch, banana flakes and other delicacies.

GETTING THE MOST... FROM YOUR GARDEN

by Dr. W. A. Liddell

HAVE YOU TRIED FRESH VEGETABLES?

To those of us old enough to remember the Tasty-yeast Jesters, it's a staggering thought to consider that an entire generation of suburban home-makers has grown up without ever having tasted garden-fresh vegetables. If you, yourself, happen to be one of them, and if you're one whose family eats vegetables because "They're supposed to be good for you" instead of because they happen to be delicious in their own right, pay attention! A small investment of time, effort, and money will show you what you've been missing. We're speaking of a small vegetable plot in your own backyard.

If you've never tried it, or if your first attempt misfired, here are some general rules to help you avoid unnecessary disappointments.

Start small! This may sound like strange advice, but don't be swept away by your initial enthusiasm. Learn to manage a small plot, say 100-200 sq. ft., before you shoot for all the marbles. Low fertility, poor drainage, too much sand, or too much clay are problems best tackled a bit at a time.

Start with the easy ones! Some vegetables are easier to grow than others. Start with radishes, leaf lettuce, snap beans, tomatoes (from plants), summer squash, sweet corn (if you have room). Leave the celery, melons, head lettuce, etc. for another year.

Give 'em room! This is almost always a hard lesson to learn. Sow plenty of seed to obtain a good stand of plants, then thin out to give each crop room to grow. Follow the table below.

Timing. Knowing the climate requirements of your crops and, in a rough way, how long it will take them to reach maturity will save you many disappointments. There's no use planting peas in the late spring, cucumbers in the cold wet soil of early spring, or cantaloupes in the middle of summer. On the other hand, mid-summer is a good time to set out broccoli plants, and early fall is a good time to plant plants).

Here is a convenient reference table to help you plan a small garden this year.

REFERENCE TABLE for VEGETABLE GARDENS

Based on 25-ft. rows. The average packet (or small carton, for peas, beans, corn) of vegetable seed will provide enough seed for about 25 ft.

SENTENCED FOR TAVERN SHOOTING

Freddie Wolford, 39, of Mentone was sentenced Friday afternoon by Judge Gene B. Lee to a one year term in the Indiana State Prison at Michigan City for carrying a gun into the Lake Trail on Dec. 1, 1962.

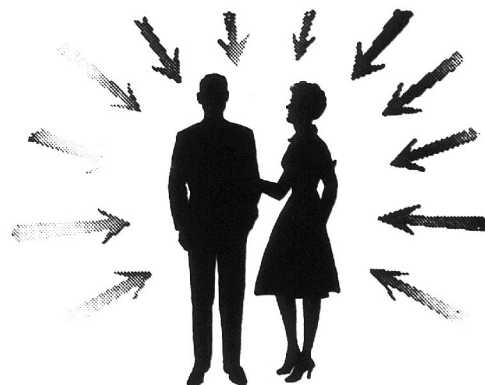

A charge of assault and battery with intent to commit manslaughter against Wolford was dropped.

Charges resulted after Wolford, a chicken picker, drew a .38 caliber pistol in the Lake Trail cafe and fired four shots. Two of the shots struck Estel Bellamy in the left hip.

The wild shots tore through the front window of the crowded cafe and went into the street, another into an adjoining drug store near the cafe.

Wolford is to be transported to Michigan City soon to start serving his term.

At Day Camp

Our local Brownie and Intermediate Scouts participated in Day Camp last week in Warsaw. The girls attended for five days, from 9:30 until 3:30. While there they learned how to make fires, cook outside, raise and lower the flag, lay trails, pitch a tent, took part in group singing, outdoor games and handicraft. Each troop was divided into smaller detail groups and these committees had different things to do each day, so that no detail group did the same job. Some days they did the grocery buying, other days the cooking, cleaning-up, etc. Every day the girls had an opportunity to meet new friends.

Brownies attending were Debby Coplen, Debby Owens, Terry McGowen, Brenda Ward and Cindy Rickel.

Intermediates going were Serita Secrist, Honey Hudson, Marcia Owens and Debbie Cooper. These girls were old enough to stay overnight, camping out under the stars on Thursday nite. Nearly 50 girls from the County were in this group. Mrs. Jerry Hudson also attended each day and helped.

In the photo above we see Herb Meredith pictured with one of the new Gravely tractors, for which they have been awarded the dealership in Kosciusko County.

Mr. Meredith will be glad to show his tractors and arrange a demonstration for you. His Shop is located on North Franklin St.

NEWS NOTES from our

County Agent

DONALD E. FRANTZ

The procedures concerning the Cereal Leaf Beetle quarantine are beginning to take shape even though the quarantine has not officially been invoked. Many of the terminal markets are demanding, however, that grain be treated prior to shipping to them. At present, this is their own restriction and is presumed to be precautionary so that they will not be in violation of any standards when ever the restrictions do become official.

It looks as if the restrictions will be placed upon the persons or firms who move the grain out of the quarantine area. There will be none within the area. This means that farmers will have no difficulties in selling wheat to the local elevators at harvest time but the elevator men will have to treat it before it goes to the terminals.

There are no state inspectors available for this job and the elevator men will each designate persons who will be authorized to make the certificates that the grain has been treated. The authorization is sent to the state entomologist office with the proper signature. This elevator manager or employee is then authorized to sign the official certificates that must accompany each car or truck load of wheat or other grain.

Premium grade Malathion is the preferred treatment at the rate of one pint per 1,000 bushels of grain. This is applied in one of the legs of the elevator. It is easy to do and is inexpensive. Not all elevators are equipped to do this, however, and the standard carbon tetrachloride grain fumigant is accepted. Most elevators already use this procedure and therefore, it will not cause any great slow-down in handling of grain.

Our office does not have information as to who all have received supplies of the certificate forms. We have them but possibly not enough for the entire county. They are available to any elevator or shipper of grain, hay or straw.

Everybody enjoys fresh roasting ears—particularly if they are from the home garden.

And it is not just your imagination, sweet corn is sweeter just after you pick it—then the sweetness drops off fast. The flavor and sugar content of sweet corn drops faster after harvest than in any other popular vegetable. So, for sweet corn at its very best, you will have to have the water boiling before you go out to pick it.

It is important to pick at just the right stage too. You can pull down the husk and take a look, but that's not cricket unless you are a beginner. Ripe ears have plump kernels—and they are yellow, in yellow varieties.

To be still more precise, sweet corn is ripe when milk oozes out of a kernel you have punctured with a thumbnail. If water oozes out, the ear is too young; if a doughy substance appears, the ear is over-mature.

To tell if an ear is ripe "without looking", check the silk at the end of the ear. It should be dry and usually fairly dark in color. And the ear should feel full.

If you cannot cook your corn right after you pick it, storing it—husks on—in your refrigerator to help maintain high quality.

Purdue University horticulturists recommend spraying your strawberry bed with Sesone (Crag Herbicide No. 1) to eliminate weeds. Remove all weeds with a hoe, then spray.

Ullery - Calvert

Miss Patricia Ullery of Rochester became the bride of Roy Dale Calvert of Talma in a ceremony July 4th, at 7:30 p.m. in the Talma Methodist Church. The Rev. Howard Tyner read the double ring ceremony before an altar flanked with baskets of gladioli, candelabra and palms. Blue ribbon bows marked the pews.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Ullery, 116 Jefferson St., Rochester. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Calvert of Talma are the parents of the groom. Mrs. Helen Emmons, pianist, provided the nuptial music including the selections "O Perfect Love" and "Our Wedding Prayer". The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a street length dress of white cotton pique trimmed in scalloped lace. Her head piece was a blue ribbon bandeau with a circular veil. She carried a white bible topped with a corsage of red roses with white satin streamers tied in lovers knots.

The couple was attended by Mrs. Carol Sue Wilson, sister of the bride, and John Smith of Mentone. Mrs. Wilson wore a street length dress of pink printed taffeta. Her headpiece was a pink bandeau with matching veil. She carried a heart-shaped bouquet and blue carnations. Ushering the guests were George Wilson, Wabash, and Ray Duzan of Talma.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Ullery chose a black and white sheer print dress with white accessories. She wore a corsage of red carnations. The bridegroom's mother selected a dress of green and white checked and black accessories. Her corsage was of pink carnations. Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church social rooms. The white covered tables were adorned with blue bows and bouquets of blue snapdragons. The serving table was centered with a four tier wedding cake decorated with roses and white doves between each tier.

The couple enjoyed a wedding trip to Southern Indiana.

The bride is a 1962 graduate of Rochester High School and is employed at the Dean Milk Co. of Rochester. Her husband is a 1963 graduate of Talma High School and is employed at the Sonoco Products of Akron.

Room Paneling Publication

Hardwood paneling has been used in homes since colonial times, but only recently has the inherent beauty of hardwoods become recognized. These are the observations of Roy C. Brundage and C. I. Miller, Purdue University foresters, in Circular 424, "How To Install and Finish Hardwood Lumber Paneling", published by the Cooperative Extension Service.

The authors point out that the small maintenance cost is an attractive feature of hardwood paneling. Upper grades of hardwoods are suitable for the most formal of halls, living rooms and music rooms, while "character marked" hardwoods lend an informal atmosphere to recreation rooms, dens, libraries or kitchens where warmth or livability is desired.

This 11-page booklet tells the homeowner how to do the job from selecting the paneling to calculating how much is needed, preparing the walls, installing the hardwood and mouldings and finishing.

They list the few tools necessary for the job, most of which the handyman has or can rent economically—such as a power hand sander. They itemize materials needed and specify nine acceptable species from the light colored soft maple to the dark walnut.

Indiana residents may obtain a free copy of Extension Circular 424 by writing a postal card to Agricultural Publications, AES Building, Purdue University, Lafayette. Specify the publication by number and title. A copy may be obtained at county extension offices also.

Prevent Shade Tree Damage

Purdue University extension horticulturists say that most storm damage to trees can be prevented, since trees storms damage are almost always weak.

A principle cause of weak trees is improper pruning. Cutting off the top branches, or "beheading", is the culprit. You should never do this because it allows rot organisms to enter and travel down the trunk and weaken the entire tree structure. With beheading, your tree is likely to decay throughout the center and develop a weak hollow trunk.

If you must remove major limbs, they recommend cutting back to a junction with another limb or the main trunk. They say to make a smooth cut close to the trunk and paint the wound with tree wound paint. Then keep the wound painted until it is completely healed.

They also recommend not planting soft, weak varieties. Some weak trees are silver maple, the Siberian elm, generally called the Chinese elm, the willows, tree of heaven, or Ailanthus, and the poplars.

Seward Trustee Issues Statement

Lowell Leckrone, trustee of Seward Township, states that there never had been an official notice from any state department demanding the closing of the old Burket school building.

The State Fire Marshal's office makes regular inspections of all schools and gives suggestions for keeping schools safe. The Burket School has received such suggestions and Mr. Leckrone states he has made every effort to make all corrections required. He further informed this newspaper that the actual closing of the Burket School has been the decision of the Tippecanoe Valley School Board.

The players were hampered by wind and rain and the title was won by Miner only after being pressed hard on the final holes by second place finisher, Joe Boggs. Boggs, after a slow start, was playing beautifully at the finish and came within a single stroke of tying for the championship.

COUNTERPOINT

By The Editor's Wife

Have you called to reserve your "slave" to help you with that extra cleaning job around the house or yard? Friday and Saturday are the days designated as Slave Days by the Methodist M. Y. F. Call Salvatore Murcia to make appointments.

So many basements were reported to have water in them after our recent rains that I was most happy to find our "cellar" dry as dry when I went to look.

The TV announcer really "got" my attention last evening when he said that fashion experts say that hemlines will be 3 inches lower this fall. (This will really cause a flurry for manufacturers.)

No, we're not moving. Isn't it strange how an erroneous idea persists? Our telephone number is in the book (EL 3-3985), Mentone News, and that is where we will continue to be. So, call in your news items. We appreciate getting them.

We have all enjoyed the convenience of the aerosol packaged products such as insecticides, household paints, hair sprays and air fresheners; now watch for these new ones in the food line—garlic and onion sprays; meat tenderizer sprays, juice sprays, milk flavorings, cheese spreads, salad dressings, and tea and coffee concentrates.

Are you sure of this? The following item was taken from "Religion In Review", a feature of the Saturday evening, July 13, Fort Wayne News-Sentinel.

A new anthology of the Bible for use in public school literature, history and social studies courses has been prepared under the joint editorship of a Roman Catholic priest, Protestant educator and rabbi.

Publication of the anthology is planned during the coming year, it was announced by the New York publishing firm, Harper and Row.

Called "Bible Selections for General Education", the source book presents information on the major religious traditions of the nation through essays, maps and charts. Selections from various translations of the Bible in English illustrate development of the English language and the growth of Biblical scholarship.

Firemen Need To Buy New Truck

The following is a statement issued by the Mentone Fire Department:

The Mentone Fire Department is faced with the problem of replacing the tractor that pulls the tank wagon. The present tractor, a Diamond T, has become very unreliable.

Time and time again this truck has failed to start during an emergency. With the replacement of this tractor the Mentone Fire Department will be one of the best equipped fire departments in the county. They feel that by replacing this tractor they will be able to function with much more efficiency. This truck was purchased, and is owned, by the fire department, therefore, it is their obligation to replace it. But since there is no source of income, this presents a problem of paying for it. There is a truck that will be available in the near future that will cost approximately $700. The fire department is asking that anyone who might wish to make a donation toward this truck to contact Lyman Mollenhour or any member of the fire department.

Use of the anthology in schools as well as for individual reading was noted, in view of the U.S. Supreme Court ruling which pointed out that the Bible and information about religion may be incorporated in public school courses even though devotional practices have been barred.

Editors of the volume are Father Walter M. Abbott, S. J., feature editor of the Catholic weekly, "America", and founder of the publication, "New Testament Abstracts"; Rabbi Arthur Gilbert of Temple Adas Israel, Sag Harbor, Long Island, staff consultant to the Religious Freedom and Public Affairs Project of the National Conference of Christians and Jews; and Dr. Rolfe Lanier Hunt, associate director of the department of church and public school relations of the National Council of Churches. Dr. Hunt, a Methodist layman, formerly was an editor in the U.S. Office of Education and has been a public school superintendent.

Blood Bank At Silver Lake

The Red Cross Blood Bank will be at Silver Lake on July 29th from 12 to 6 p.m. at the Lions Club building.

Silver Lake has always helped Mentone with their blood bank, so let's help our neighboring town.

For appointment either call Betty Boggs, EL 3-3715, or Dick Whittenberger, EL 3-2300.

Once again Mentone citizens have needed blood and have been able to receive it from the blood bank. Now is the time to give a pint of blood to replace that used and to have it ready just in case it is needed.

The Atwood clubs are planning a benefit chicken barbecue for August 24 at the school house. The proceeds go to the Curt Van We Waters for little Billy. He has been in and out of the hospital several times and he is just one year old. Everyone is welcome to come. The chicken will be delicious and you will go away with a full heart for helping Billy.

The Rene Nines have had a busy household. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Henshey, and her sister-in-law and two daughters from Knoxville, Tennessee are visiting for a few weeks. All the families gathered at the Nine home and had a wonderful time. One evening last week there was swimming games and uncle Rene was taking hay rides in the back of his big truck.

The Atwood E.U.B. Sunday School picnic will be Sunday, July 27th. It is to be held at the Ray Williamson landing on Huffman Lake. Bring table service and a picnic lunch. An afternoon of enjoyment is planned including swimming.

Camp Pottowattomie

Two members of Troop 30 are attending the Girl Scout Established Camp at Camp Pottowattomie in the Tippecanoe River State Park near Winamac. Kathy Tridle and Pam Abbey are attending a two week session in unit two.

In this unit the girls learn to plan activities, carry on self-government, take overnight campouts and pack hikes, and engage in advanced handicraft, such as making their own cooking and camp equipment, and plan and present campfire programs. Swimming lessons, a dramatics workshop, sketching, painting, ceramics, and archery instructor is available for all groups.

This year there will be an international visitor from Germany on the staff.

This year two visitor days have been set up to which anyone interested in scouting will be welcome. They are July 28 and August 11 from 1-3 p.m. There will be guides to aid you in seeing the camp, displays in the units and a water carnival put on at the pool for all to see.

One regulation is that all visitors must wear closed shoes as well as socks. Other members of Troop 30 and their families are planning a visit to the camp on Sunday, July 28, leaving Mentone at 12:30, and enjoying a picnic supper together later in the day.

Park entrance fees are 35c for car and 20c for each occupant.

Be sure your camp stove is safe to use this summer. Purdue University safety specialist suggests replacing any damaged or worn parts and keeping the burners free of rust and debris.

THE QUIET WAR BETWEEN THE STATES

The battle is joined every day in conference rooms throughout America. Each of the 50 States lays down a barrage of advertising, launches presentations and engages the other 49 States in the highly competitive effort to attract new industry. Indiana's 5 Investor-Owned Electric Companies work constantly with State officials and local organizations to encourage expansion of existing industry and to bring new industry to Indiana.

THE PRIZE... THOUSANDS OF NEW JOBS

... and wages, to spend for homes and haircuts, cars and carpeting, food and furniture ... starting a new cycle of prosperity for all residents of Indiana.

GROW POWER

... abundant electric power at fair rates is one of the "big guns" in this battle, high on the priority list of virtually every industry seeking a new plant location. Indiana's steady industrial growth is proof of the abundance of low-cost electric power, provided by the 5 Investor-Owned Electric Companies.

Healing Counsel Is Offered

There are times in the lives of many that "try the soul". An overwhelming disaster strikes, a business fails or a bodily injury cripples to the extent that the victim can no longer perform the skill or vocation for which he has been trained. He searches the help wanted columns of his newspaper, hunting for a job that his age or disability would enable him to perform.

Many persons who find themselves in comparable situations have been helped by some church organization, many of which have specific methods of counsel, using dynamic principles to overcome failure, disaster and fear, which are companions of a troubled mind. Many have learned to seek the peace and peace of mind to be had within the house of God . . . to be comforted by His words and deeds. Many things can happen to a person that change everything in life for the better.

Harrison Hustlers Meet Recently

The sixth meeting of the Mentone Harrison Hustlers 4-H Club was held in the Ag. room on July 17 at 7:30 p.m.

The pledge to the American flag was led by Annette Hibschman, followed by the 4-H pledge led by Mike Gross. The roll call was answered by 44 members who voiced their secret ambitions. Miles Nellans then led the group in singing.

The president, Gale Nellans, introduced Mr. Andy Pylant, the new adult leader. Mr. Pylant asked each member to write their location on a map of the area to make it easier for him to become acquainted with this area.

The feature of the evening was a very interesting demonstration by Mrs. Dale Nellans. Craft projects with simple and cheap materials was the main theme of the demonstration. Plastic, glass and tin containers were made into various decorative and useful articles by the use of ingenuity, scissors and easily obtainable raw materials. Our thanks go to Mrs. Nellans for her demonstration.

The annual tour of livestock and garden projects will be held Friday, July 26. The school will be the beginning at 8 a.m. Each member is to bring a sack lunch. All parents are invited on this tour.

Roy Haney, Leroy Norris and Lloyd Bowerman have been selected to serve on the Mentone Vocational Agriculture Advisory Committee to replace Everett Besson, Ralph Long and Joe Montel, who completed the regular three year term on July 1.

The advisory committee is composed of nine individuals which represent the area served in working with the vocational agriculture instructor in an attempt to best serve the interests of vocational agriculture and F.F.A. and the community in all the related areas of agriculture.

Regular and thorough trimming and edging are essential for eye-catching lawns, remind Purdue University horticulturists. Hand shears, power trimmers, edgers and plastic, aluminum or steel edging materials will help do the job neatly and efficiently.

Keep your power mower blade sharp, advise Purdue University turf specialists. Dull mower blades bruise grass instead of cutting it uniformly.

TRACTOR MAINTENANCE TIPS

Young folks have been learning answers to tough tractor questions in 4-H tractor maintenance schools since 1944. Learning by doing, they've found that better tractor care results in longer tractor life, more power and lower operating costs. Here are typical questions they answer at the end of their course. What's your score?

- 1) Is it best to grease morning or evening? Why?
- 2) Do front wheel bearings with no grease fitting need lubricating?
- 3) Does too much grease on the clutch pilot bearing cause any harm?
- 4) How often should the air cleaner be serviced?

Although only a dozen or so tiny grease fittings are on your tractor, each does a big job, lubricating some mighty important parts. Remember, the best time to grease is evening, when the bearings are warm and take grease more easily. Always wipe dirt from grease fittings and the gun tip to avoid forcing dirt into bearings. Greasing at day's end also protects bearings with a film in case it rains and machinery stands idle, susceptible to rust.

If front wheel bearings have grease fittings, lubricate at least once a day. Use just enough grease to "ooze" it out around the inner dust seal—not so much the seal is damaged. If there are no fittings on front wheel bearings, remove the wheels periodically, clean and pack the bearings.

Take care when greasing clutch throw-out or pilot bearing; too much grease commonly causes faulty clutch operation. Grease on the clutch face may cause slippage, generate heat and score the plate. When the clutch plate becomes rough, the clutch grabs. Remember, one stroke of the gun is enough.

Engines use more than 8,000 gallons of air for each gallon of gasoline burned. Or, they require 13½ pounds of air for each pound of fuel that burns. And diesel engines suck in a full cylinder of air every time a piston moves down on the intake stroke. Air is dirty and it's the air cleaner's job to clean it. When operating in a dusty area, clean the cup once every half day, or as recommended in the operator's manual.

A dirty, plugged, air intake stack restricts air flow and increases fuel consumption. Also, a leaky hose or clamp may let enough dirt in to ruin the engine. Check for other leaks, too—a leaky manifold gasket usually causes the tractor to misfire when idling. A simple check is to put a few drops of oil on the gasket and see if oil is sucked into the engine.

Long - Flenar Vows Spoken

Miss Linda Johanna Long daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Long of R.F.D. 2 Etna Green, was married to Max Lee Flenar, son of Mrs. Mildred Carpenter of Mentone. The double ring ceremony was read by the Rev. Gene Neyhart of the Etna Green Church of Christ, in his church, at 7 p.m. Sunday, July 21st.

The church decorations were beauty baskets of white gladioli and orange carnations. Palms and lighted candelabra were also used. The nuptial musical program was presented by organist, Mrs. George Slabough and vocalist, Miss Cinda Stouder, both of Etna Green.

The bride approached the altar with her father, who gave his daughter in marriage. The bride chose a floor length gown of French imported Chantilly lace, fashioned with a fitted bodice styled with a scoop neckline and adorned with iridescent sequins. The long sleeves tapered to bridal points. The hipline fullness, featuring a bow in the back, flowed into a chapel train. Her veil of French silk illusion fell from a crown of seed pearls and sequins. The bride carried a white Bible, topped with a single white rose.

Mrs. John Lozier of Logansport served her sister as Matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Dona Kay Spenseller and Miss Janice Davis, both of Mentone. Mark Lozier of Logansport served his aunt as ring bearer.

The attendants wore dresses made of taffeta in graduated shades of orange, identically styled with scoop necklines and bell shaped skirts. The attendants each wore matching picture hats and carried fans topped with carnations.

Robert Long of R.R. 2, Etna Green, served as best man. He is a brother of the bride. Ushers were Kay Flenar of Hartford City, brother of the bridegroom, and Tom Knepper of Logansport.

After the ceremony, a reception for 200 guests was held in the church social room. Those serving were Mrs. Jack Wiseman, Mrs. Dick Long, Miss Ruth Drudge, Miss Suellen Long and Miss Marilyn Sullivan. Darcy Stouder, the bride's cousin, was in charge of the Guest Book. In charge of the gifts were Miss Sandra Lackey, Miss Diane Flenar, Miss Lynn Flenar and Miss Beverly Grubbs.

The bridegroom attended the Mentone schools and is attending International Barber College in Indianapolis. The bride was graduated from the Mentone Schools and is employed at Frank's Mfg. Co., Mentone.

Taxes Are To Be Higher

GENERAL COMMISSION NEWS RELEASE

Ed. Note — We hope that all our readers will take note of the following article prepared by the General Commission of the State Board of Education.

If the facts in this release are true we feel that it is the duty of our school corporation to tighten their belts on some of their spending and review the overall picture of our schools for the coming year.

It would no doubt be possible to cut some supply spending, repair, and remain in a stable situation until the tax problem can be solved.

The General Commission of the State Board of Education today forecast that some of the public schools in Indiana will not be able to operate for a full term of 9 months during the coming year because of the cut in state aid distribution.

The cut in state aid distribution of 87½ million dollars during the coming school year will cause an average increase in local property tax rates of $1.00 per $100 of assessed valuation. There are 115 school units which had tax rates of more than $3.25 last year. There is a statutory limit of $4.25 for school operating tax rates and most of these 115 school units will not be able to absorb the loss of state aid.

The problem is further complicated by the fact that the poor school districts, which generally already have a high tax rate, will be hardest hit. While the average increase will be $1.00, the General Commission estimated that the actual increases will range from 50¢ to more than $5.00 in the various school corporations.

The schools will, if enough money comes into the state treasury, receive their full amount during the last half of 1963, but during the first six months of 1964 will receive only 10 million dollars out of an expected 78 million dollars. During the next fiscal year, which will cover the year of 1964-1965, the state aid will be cut almost exactly in half.

The commission warns the local school corporations to be prepared for a delay in the October distribution this year, since the money cannot be distributed until it has been collected by the state. Although the State Budget Bureau has promised to pay the full amount of the October distribution, it could not be certain the money would be available in October, and there was some fear that it might not be paid in full until next year. They also urged the local school boards to include an item for interest for temporary loans in their budgets, since the commission forecast that almost every school corporation in the state may have to borrow money in the spring against anticipated revenue. The cost for these loans was estimated at three to four million dollars for the state.

The General Commission in its meeting also considered the revision of the state aid distribution formula made necessary by the court's decision holding the sales tax unconstitutional. They indicated the following changes to be made:

A. The flat $25 per pupil distribution would be eliminated.

B. Distribution per pupil would be reduced approximately $94 per pupil for instructional salaries; $47 per pupil for maintenance and operation; and $17 per pupil for transportation.

In a prepared statement they stated:

1. "We believe that the reduction in state aid from $350,000,000 to $172,000,000 for the biennium will have a disastrous effect on education in Indiana. We urged the Budget Agency to revise its proposed allocations to increase the distribution to the local schools.

2. "The General Commission will file a brief as a friend of the court in the sales tax appeal, seeking the Supreme Court to uphold the constitutionality of the sales tax.

3. "The Commission will appoint a committee to study the effect of shortened school terms and to determine whether or not schools which cannot operate a full year can retain their standing as commissioned schools.

4. "The Commission will advise local school taxing authorities to ask for whatever local tax increase is needed, without regard to the $4.25 statutory rate limitation. It is possible that the legislature, in a special session, might repeal this legislation and if the published rate is not high enough to take care of the school needs, it cannot later be increased.

5. "The Commission has advised the local school units to include in their budget an item for interest on temporary loans, since there will be less than 10 million dollars in state aid to be distributed in January and April of 1964.

6. "The Commission will warn the local boards to be prepared for a delay in the payment of the October distribution of this year, since the money cannot be paid until it is collected.

7. "Finally, the Commission asks the school boards to use all possible economy but at the same time has urged the local boards to maintain the quality of education in Indiana as far as possible."

The General Commission sent a letter to the Governor asking him to explain over a state-wide television hook-up the effect on education which will be caused by the loss of the sales tax revenue. They pointed out that almost two-thirds of the general funds in the state are appropriated for education and that under the laws the bulk of any loss of revenue will come off of the local school corporation.

Sweet Corn At Its Best

Everybody enjoys fresh roasting ears—particularly if they are from the home garden.

And it is not just your imagination. Sweet corn is sweeter just after you pick it—then the sweetness drops off fast. Don Scheer, Purdue University extension horticulturist, says that flavor and sugar content of sweet corn drop faster after harvest than in any other popular vegetable. So, for sweet corn at its very best, you will have to have the water boiling before you go out to pick it.

It is important to pick at just the right stage too. You can pull down the husk and take a look, but that is not cricket unless you are a beginner. Ripe ears have plump kernels—and they are yellow, in yellow varieties.

To be still more precise, sweet corn is ripe when milk oozes out of a kernel you have punctured with your thumbnail. If water oozes out, the ear is too young; if a doughy substance appears, the ear is over-mature.

To tell if an ear is ripe "without looking", check the silk at the end of the ear. It should be dry and usually fairly dark in color. And the ear should feel full.

If you cannot cook your corn right after you pick it, Scheer recommends storing it—husks on—in your refrigerator to help maintain high quality.

Picnic Beetle Precautions

One unwelcome guest you often meet on summer picnics is the picnic beetle.

Dave Matthews, extension entomologist at Purdue University, says that this flying black beetle is sometimes called the scavenger beetle. It is about one quarter-inch long and has four yellow spots on its wing covers.

Although these beetles are not dangerous, they are a nuisance.

Before picnicking, spray the shrubbery with dieldrin to control the beetles, and mosquitoes as well. Insect repellents may be used around the eating area.

Don't uncover food until just before you are ready to serve the meal. Clean up immediately.

Keep garbage can covers tightly closed and use all fly sanitation precautions. Spray garbage cans with a one per cent dieldrin solution. Do not use this spray around food to be eaten, however.

In addition to picnic areas, the beetles also inhabit home gardens where they attack over-ripe vegetables and small fruit. Discourage beetles by picking produce before fully ripe.

If the pests are numerous, he suggests using a garden spray or dust containing rotenone, Sevin or Malathion, which are safe to use on infested food crops. Follow the manufacturer's directions carefully.

The beetles, attracted by food odors, may try to get into the house. To discourage this, spray door screens with one of the insect repellents in the evening, when beetles are most numerous.

Purdue University turf specialists advise against planting a new lawn in July. It is best to wait until late August.

NEWS NOTES from our

County Agent

DONALD E. FRANTZ

The Tri-State Drainage and Water Conservation Field Day will be held July 31 and August 1 in Noble County. Conservationists, drainage engineers and extension personnel from Indiana, Ohio and Michigan are taking part in the program which will include demonstrations and exhibits of soil and water conservation techniques.

One of the features of the program will include an air tour of the area over various routes. Some will cover a 12-mile radius, others a 30-mile radius from the site of the exhibits. The longer tours will cover Kosciusko County. Some of the points of interest in this county on the air tour will be the Tri-State Farm at North Webster, the Alton Brown farm where contour strip cropping is in practice, the Fred Leasure farm where contour cultivation, diversion terraces, ponds and windbreaks may be seen from the air.

The homes of 4-H garden club members will be visited July 24-26 to inspect and judge the 4-H garden projects. Judging will be done in Plain, Jefferson, Van Buren, Turkey Creek and Tippecanoe townships on the 24th; and, in Prairie, Etna, Harrison, Franklin, Seward, Clay and Wayne townships on the 25th. The wind-up will be in Washington, Monroe, Jackson and Lake on the final day.

July is weigh-up month in the Hoosier Gold Medal Livestock projects and we are receiving weight cards for beef cattle and sheep. Purebred livestock producers use this method of identifying the livestock families that have the ability to gain and there is probably no better way to prove the value of sires than through the Gold Medal projects. The calves are nominated in February and are weighed in July. Steers and bulls must gain two pounds a day, heifers must make a pound and a half. If they do, they are then eligible to compete in one of the Gold Medal shows, which are held at Goshen, Muncie, Crown Point and Indianapolis. This procedure gives a purebred breeder an opportunity to check the gaining ability of his livestock and then take in into the showing to check the type. If he has both, then he is on the right track for developing his herd.

Those who have so far made the required weights include a shorthorn heifer owned by Ted Davis of Milford, several angus from the herd of D. L. Harrold and family of Akron, Bill Langohr and family of Pierceton and Max Nellans and lambs from the flock of Wilbur Latimer, also a purebred hamshire ewe owned by Mrs. Jim Thomas of Atwood.

It looks as if we should get ready to do some fall seeding of alfalfa. The grass and legume crops that have been seeded in wheat and oats are in serious trouble due to the drought and at best some of the stand will be reduced.

The idle land left in feed grain reserve would make an excellent place for a fall seeding. It can be plowed and worked a few times as time permits and be ready to seed in late August or early September. One wise guy said the other day that the best time to do the seeding was the day before a good rain. But we will get fall rains and if the seed is ready to start in a well made seed bed it can be in good shape next spring.

We got away from fall seedings years ago. We had no tools to do the entire job with and in trying to use a drill to make the seeding we simply got it too deep. One of the best stands that I have seen this year was seeded last fall by Dale Mikel in Jefferson Township. He worked the ground and then used a cultipacker and every other round he rode the outside end with a hand seeder so it would be pressed into the ground the next time around. That is about the right depth for fall seedings. The key to good stands is a good seed bed, worked fine but packed well, then a shallow seeding. Then if we get the rain we will have the stand pretty nearly weed free.

COUNTERPOINT

By The Editor's Wife

Just about the time I began to think about wild plum jelly, Joe Baker tells us that he does not think that there are any on the trees. Missed out on them last year, too, because of a "trip to Boston".

Is it possible that the ban on Bible reading in the schools may cause a renewed interest in The Book among many students? It sometimes works this way.

Am not sure which "our" blackbirds enjoy most, the sunflower seeds in the bird feeder, or the lovely tender corn in the Leslie's garden. Anyway, they are probably the best fed birds in town.

Our young neighbor, Barbara Rush, was describing the bugs on their screen door to her mother—"They look like bumble-bees with a suntan!" Turned out to be June bugs.

Criticism is a healthy practice, both for the one who is disagreeing and the one being criticized. In the "working out" of these disagreements, situations are made better, and the community is made better.

We are thinking, specifically, of the problems faced by the school board, and the gigantic task these men have of reaching decisions suited to the welfare of all. To aid them, it is important that parents and school patrons, voice their opinions, either in agreement or disagreement.

We read the following quotation, which is apt—"An educational system immune from criticism is liable to become decadent."

What's ahead for sugar production? The Department of Agriculture has agreed to increase sugar beet acreage in the areas served by five large refineries, which are Spreckles Sugar Company, San Joaquin Valley, California; Holly Sugar Corporation, Hereford, Texas; American Crystal Sugar Company, Drayton, North Dakota; Utah-Idaho Company, South Dakota; Arizona Beet Committee, Phoenix. Eighteen more groups are asking increases in acreage in their areas so that they may build or attract refineries.

Some Corporation
Facts

With the annexation of New-castle Township to the Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation about to become effective, many questions are arising in the minds of some people with reference to what effect this may have on the attendance areas for the pupils within the Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation. A few of these questions answered at this time may help to clarify the thinking of some of the people.

The new Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation with New-castle Township included will have some 1950 students from Kindergarten through grade 12 and an adjusted assessed valuation of $20,789,676.00, which is approximately $11,700 behind each student grades 1 through 12. The total indebtedness of the new corporation as of July 1, 1963 is $155,000 in School Aid Bonds and $155,000 in Civil Bonds for a total indebtedness of $310,000. This has been erroneously reported as $1 million indebtedness, however, the $10,000 is an absolute figure. So the corporation has available bonding power left of approximately one-half million dollars if it becomes necessary to go into a program where this was needed.

Several questions have been asked regarding transfer of pupils to other corporations and the School Board has authorized the Superintendent of Schools to grant transfers under certain conditions and these conditions would allow transfers to be granted to some of

AREA RESIDENTS DOING
COMMERCIAL

Of interest to many folks in this area are the radio spot commercials being done for Woodies' new supermarket in Warsaw. On tape, this musical commercial was directed by Mr. David Fanning of Tippecanoe, music instructor in the Triton School Corporation. The accompanist was his sister, Nancy Fanning, who also did the arrangement. The four young ladies doing the singing are Gail White, Linda Burnett, Cinda Stouder and Marcia Stouder, all of Elma Green. These girls have been singing together for several years and do a very nice job.

Safety Rules For Boating

Before you respond to the "call of the sea", be sure you know the basic rules of water safety, advises Dick Willsey, safety specialist at Purdue University.

Boating attracts more people each year, and crowded waters, neophyte skippers and overly adventurous souls all contribute to a growing accident problem.

Mastering the water is the first safety step. Be able to swim and take care of yourself in the water. Laws require life preservers for each person aboard—whether they can swim or not. See that the ones you use are a Coast Guard approved type, preferably orange for better visibility. Small children should keep life vests or jackets on at all times.

Learn the rules of good seamanship. This means knowing the right-of-way rules and when to keep clear; knowing the waters you use and the meanings of all buoys, running lights and markers.

Keep your boat seaworthy. Repair all leaks and minor damages before they become serious. Find out what equipment the law requires you to carry for your class of boat. Make sure it is properly located and working.

A good pilot knows how to handle his boat. He never lets fun interfere with his skill, courtesy or common sense. Basic piloting techniques and rules of courtesy involve watching your wake, avoiding sharp turns at high speed, and reducing the speed of power driven boats when passing bathing beaches, canoes or other small boats.

Farmers To Feel Cost-Price Squeeze

Indian farmers can expect "less favorable" cost-price relationships during the last half of 1963, warn Purdue University agricultural economists. Reason: Farm marketings, particularly livestock and livestock products, will exceed demand.

During the first five months of this year, Hoosier farmers received an average of four per cent less for their products than during the same period of last year. Furthermore, they paid one per cent more for purchased production items than during a comparable period of 1962. This resulted in a five per cent drop from year earlier levels in the purchasing power of Indiana farmers.

Hog prices probably will fluctuate near mid-June levels from now through August and possibly into September. The economists recommend carrying hogs to at least top market weight.

Little change in fed cattle prices through July is in prospect. But feeder cattle prices are expected to weaken from late June levels.

Egg prices during the July-September period probably will average about the same as the 28-cent Indiana average of a year previous. However, prices during the last three months of this year may be slightly higher than the 31-cent Indiana average of the last quarter of 1962.

Turkey prices during the major marketing season of September through December probably will be near the 22-cent Indiana average for this period of last year.

The markers at 640 and 1240 on your radio dial will be meaningless soon when the CONELRAD (Control of Electromagnetic Radiation) system of wartime communication among the civilian population is abandoned. It will be succeeded by the new Emergency Broadcast System, which will open the entire AM broadcast band to broadcasters authorized to stay on the air during an attack. CONELRAD, in use 11½ years, was designed to prevent enemy planes and missiles from navigating by commercial radio beams, a possibility made obsolete by modern navigational methods.

Club Goes To Nappanee

Thirteen members of the Mentone Home Demonstration Club and two guests, Louise Cox and Mrs. Myrtle Davis, enjoyed a trip to Nappanee last Wednesday. They first went through the Brethren Service, which was very interesting. The work being done, such as donating clothes, shoes, food, bedding and numerous other articles in needy countries, is tremendous. A film on the work of doctors, nurses, food and medicines, and how they benefit foreign countries, was shown to the ladies.

The next stop was at Mutchler's, where the kitchen displays were viewed.

The group had luncheon at the B and B Restaurant, where good food, including home made pies, was enjoyed.

Pletcher's furniture store was visited after lunch. There was so much in the home furnishings to see, and all so lovely and beautiful.

The club returned home feeling it had been a very rewarding trip.

GUESTS OF MOTOROLA

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Baker joined a group of 69 other Fort Wayne area TV dealers and wives, who were guests of Motorola for a two day show in Detroit.

The group left Fort Wayne a week ago Monday morning and traveled on air conditioned busses, arriving at the Statler-Hilton Hotel in time for lunch. They were then taken by city bus to the Ford Auditorium, along with many other such groups.

This showing by Motorola brought out the first 23" color tube in the industry.

The theme of the entire show was, "The Greatest Go On Earth".

Mrs. Baker was one of 20 lucky number holders and won a portable stereo.

Monday evening the group enjoyed a banquet at the hotel and later in the evening had entertainment.

Mr. and Mrs. Baker returned home quite enthusiastic about the new 23" color tube for television and invite the public to stop in and get more information concerning this.

Compiling New Directory

The new 1963 telephone directory for Bourbon, Atwood, Burket, Claypool, Etna Green, Mentone, Millwood and Tippecanoe is now being compiled, according to C. J. Lohman, division manager of General Telephone. It also includes listings for telephone customers in Akron, Sidney, Silver Lake, Argos, Cromwell, LaPaz, Leesburg, Millford, North Webster, Piercetown, Plymouth, Syracuse, Walkerton, and Warsaw. The last day customers can make changes in the listings is August 15.

For the new directory, correct initials, names and addresses are necessary to assure complete and adequate representation. Mr. Lohman said, "It is surprising how often the directory is turned to for such information as well as for telephone numbers. The customers should call the business office promptly if any changes are to be made in their listings."

He reminded business customers as well that the August 15 cutoff date applies to yellow page listings and advertisements.

The company's communication consultant is featured on the back of this year's directory. He will survey business communication systems at no cost and recommend services or equipment that can speed up daily business transactions.

African violets prefer a north window during summer, according to Purdue University horticulturists. Protect them from bright, direct sunlight with blinds or curtains.

Be sure your shrubs and trees have plenty of water during July. Purdue University horticulturists say to water so that it soaks in at least eight inches.

Kosciusko County Jr. Leader Report

The Kosciusko County Junior Leaders met July 22 at 8 p.m. at the Fair grounds for their monthly meeting. Sally Albert, president, presided over the meeting. Pledges to the American and 4-H flags were led by Carol Tuttle and Arthur Scott. Marenda Summers gave the secretary and treasurer's reports.

Jack Hart, assistant county agent, reviewed various fair assignments which the Junior Leaders will be in charge of. Mr. Hart also displayed slides of Limberlost Camp, which is a Junior Leader camp. Reports were given by six members who recently attended the State Junior Leader Training Conference at Ball State University.

Karen Ringgenberg led the group in a very enjoyable song fest. "Dress Right — Take a Clothes Look", was the title of the report presented by Melody Tucker.

The meeting was then adjourned.

The commuter of the future won't be restricted to a train schedule if rocket propulsion engineer Wendell F. Moore is right. Moore believes the businessman will put on hat and topcoat, pick up his furred umbrella, strap on a rocket belt and zoom home to the suburbs. The U.S. Army has adopted Moore's invention (1953) to transport infantrymen across canyons and rivers, scale cliffs, take buildings and do rescue work. A rocket in the pocket is the coming thing and reminds scoffers that people laughed at the early airplane, too.

About 25 billion packs of cigarettes were sold in the U.S. in 1962.

So, in the next year or so there will be a great supply of sugar, which means the price is sure to come down, even if it doesn't reach last year's prices.

We enjoyed this:
A four-year-old boy asked the meaning of the word "guaranteed".

"It means 'very good, most reliable, the best,'" his mother replied—and forgot about it.

When bedtime came he gave her a goodnight kiss and hug and said, with deep feeling, "Good night, guaranteed Mother."

the students particularly in the high school who desired to go to the Rochester High School, however, transportation for these students who transfer out of the corporation is questionable at this time.

Although nothing is officially adopted as far as the attendance areas go, tentative plans call for the Talma grades 1-6 to remain in the Talma School with the exception of the Southeast corner of Newcastle Township, which may go to Akron to eliminate some of the overload on the grade school at Talma at the present time. The present plans call for using the major portion of the Talma building for a Junior High for the Northern part of the corporation and a considerable portion of the Newcastle area. There will be no High School at Talma and students will go either to Mentone or Akron, except for the transfers that will be granted to the Rochester schools. The Superintendent has indicated that he will gladly answer any questions for the people of Newcastle Township, however, official decision cannot be made until August 19th at which time the Newcastle Township will be merged with the Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation.

Stored Grain Insect Contamination

Insect contamination of stored grain begins in the storage bin and bin site area, observes Dave Matthew, Purdue University extension entomologist.

Storage bins not cleaned and sprayed before storage of new grain often contain thousands of weevils and other stored grain insect pests that cause "weevily" grain.

Indiana farmers who plan to store wheat and other cereal grains should begin now to protect this year's crop against insect and rodent attack.

Bins that are to receive the new grain should be cleaned from top to bottom and sprayed throughout with an insecticide. Matthew says to apply either a 2½ per cent methoxychlor or a 1½ per cent malathion spray to all interior surfaces.

To assure adequate coverage, spray to a point of "run-off." The correct concentration for the malathion spray may be obtained by mixing three ounces of the 57 per cent emulsifiable concentrate per gallon of water. Use only the premium grade of malathion for stored grain insect control. The methoxychlor spray is prepared by mixing one part of the 25 per cent emulsion concentrate per nine parts of water.

In addition to the bin clean up and spraying, the area outside the bins should also be cleaned and sprayed, Matthew warns. New grain should be stored away from older infested grain, grain residues and livestock feed.

Grain protectants give additional insurance against insect attack. Dust or liquid protectants may be applied to the grain at the time of binning. Application equipment is adjusted to assure adequate coverage of the insecticide as the grain is being transferred into the storage bin. Use either premium grade malathion or commercially prepared mixtures of pyrethrum and piperonyl butoxide according to label directions.

Matthew says to apply one pint of the 57 per cent premium grade malathion protectant in enough water (2 to 5 gallons) to cover 1000 bushels. For an added protection, surface treat the newly binned grain with a 1½ per cent malathion spray. Apply at the rate of one quart per 100 square feet of grain.
