Athletic Awards Banquet Mar. 11

The Mentone Athletic Booster Club completed arrangements for the Annual Basketball potluck dinner at their meeting place Tuesday night at the High School according to Booster Chairman, Harold Nelson.

Friday, March 11, 6:00 p. m. is the date set for the dinner. Ham, rolls, coffee and milk will be furnished. Those attending the dinner are asked to bring one dish of food and their own table service. The entire community is invited and preparations are made to accommodate at least 300 according to Jim Beeson, general chairman for the event.

Herm Schaefer, Ford Dealer of Warsaw, will be the speaker for the evening. Mr. Schaefer graduated from Fort Wayne Central High School and was a team-mate of Curly Armstrong at Indiana University. They were members of the only Indiana team ever to win in the NCAA. Both men played with the Zolner Pistons and Minneapolis Lakers several years. Mr. Schaefer ended his Athletic career as coach of the Indianapolis Olympians Basketball team.

Mentone is fortunate in having such a well qualified speaker as Mr. Schaefer. It's a treat the community cannot afford to miss.

Athletic awards will be presented to members of the varsity, "B" team, baseball, and cross country events. The cheer leaders and pep band will also be honored.

This March 11 event will take the place of the regular Parent-Teacher's meeting for March. Previously the PTA sponsored the Athletic Awards dinner, but this year the Booster Club decided to take over. Paul Rush, Club Secretary and Treasurer, states that the club has almost 100 members.

The dinner committee will be assisted by members of the Booster Club in putting on the event. The committee consists of: Jim Beeson, general chairman; Macy Nelson, program chairman and master of ceremonies; Mrs. Herschel Teel and Loren Tridle, food planning; Paul Bateman and Bob Hewlett, table arrangements; and Forst Dunnuck and H. V. Johns, Decorations.

We'll see you all at the Mentone gym, 6:00 p. m. Friday, March 11. Don't forget your food and table service.

LEVI D. TIPPY DIES AT PLYMOUTH

Levi D. Tippy, 86, a resident of the Rochester and Talma vicinities for all but two years of his life, died at 6 p. m. Sunday in the IBM nursing home at Plymouth. He had lived at the home for one year.

A farmer, Mr. Tippy had lived with a son, Robert E., in Elkhart for about a year before going to the nursing home.

He was born in Coshocton county, Ohio, January 22, 1874 the son of E. B. and Emma Fix Tippy. He was married in Rochester to Ella Ross, who died in 1946.

Mr. Tippy was a member of the Talma Methodist church.

Surviving besides the son Robert are another son, Charles Raymond, South Bend; six grandchildren; two sisters, Mrs. Eva Fore, Rochester, and Mrs. Ida Scott, Lebanon, Mo., and several nieces and nephews. Two sisters and a brother preceded him in death.

Services were held at 2 p. m. Wednesday in the Zimmerman Brothers funeral home, Rochester, Rev. Ray Mills officiating. Burial was in the Rochester IOOF cemetery.

COUNTERPOINT

By the Editor's Wife

How many of you have caught yourselves saying over and over this past week: "We looked upon a world unknown—on nothing we could call our own"? It must have been just the weather that inspired Whittier to write that lovely poem, "Snow-bound." Have had the urge to "dig out" the poem and read it in its entirety.

Comment on last week's joke—"Look, pa, no woodshed!"

Hope I won't commit myself for all time or risk damage to the editor's standing when I say that I love to shovel snow. It's a fact, but I intend to keep it on a "pleasure" basis.

Wish to thank those who have written letters expressing their pleasure in this brief column. We welcome these letters, whether they commend or criticize.

One letter contained a clipping of the column "Side Roads" by Gertrude Dieben, from the Farm Journal. After reading the entire column on the "Family Room of Tomorrow," which is the "survival" room for atomic attack, I was left feeling as she feels about this practice for survival. She says, "Have we worked as hard to prevent the disaster as we women would work day and night to relieve the suffering it would bring? If we don't care enough to find a way out, does it matter if we survive at all?" It's something to think about.

We enjoyed this: Beginning his sermon, the preacher said, "Brothers and sisters, you have come here to pray for rain. I'd like to ask you just one question. Where are your umbrellas?"—Lion.

APPOINTED ADVISOR

Monte Sriver, junior at Ball State Teachers college and son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sriver, R. R. 5, Rochester, has been named new advisor for Wagoner hall on the campus to fill a vacancy created by resignation. President John Emmons of the university approved the appointment of Sriver, who is majoring in health and physical education for men at the university. He has been governor of the hall the past year.

TALMA RESIDENT DIES THURSDAY

Clinton Alspach, 71, Fulton county native who spent most of his life near Talma, died at 4:40 a. m. Thursday in the Norman Beatty Memorial hospital at Westville of a coronary occlusion.

He had been in failing health several years and was admitted to the hospital February 16.

Born June 13, 1888, Mr. Alspach was the son of John and Margaret Arnett Alspach. He was a farmer by occupation.

Surviving are a sister, Mrs. Ernest (Arah) Caslow, Rochester; five nieces, and two nephews. His parents and one sister preceded him in death.

Services were held at 1 p. m. Sunday in the Foster and Good funeral home in Rochester with Elder W. A. Geary of the Seventh Day Adventist church officiating. Burial was in the Reichter cemetery.

GIRL SCOUT SUNDAY, MARCH 6th

March 12 will be the forty-eighth anniversary of the first meeting of the first Girl Scout troop, in Savannah, Ga. Girl Scout Week will be observed this year from Sunday, March 6 through Saturday, March 12.

Neighborhood 3 of the Indiana Lakeland Girl Scout council will observe Girl Scout Sunday by having a program in which each troop will present their gift to the Juliette Low World Friendship fund.

During 1959 the gifts to this fund hit a new high, $208,128. A growing fund means a growing international program—with more Guides and Girl Scouts from around the world meeting each other, becoming friends, living and working together, united in purpose and ideals.

The Neighborhood 3 program will be held in the Warsaw high school auditorium Sunday, Mar. 6 at 2 p. m. Troops from Warsaw, Pierceton, Milford, Leesburg and Mentone will participate in this program. Anyone interested in scouting is invited to this program.

IN HOSPITAL

Mrs. Dick Kindig is still in the Woodlawn hospital where she is recovering from pneumonia.

Max Smith has improved to the point where he has been up and around town this week.

MENTONE STOPPED IN SECTIONAL

The Mentone basketball boys had a rough time trying to go going in the sectional tournament at Columbia City last week. In their first game against Syracuse they had to go into an overtime battle to come out on top 61 to 58. Syracuse led 14-6, 31-2 and 37-32 in the first three periods. Syracuse was still ahead in the final seconds of the game but lost the ball and Mentone tied it up at 56 all.

Warsaw was the next victim of the Bulldogs, going down to defeat 64 to 57. Mentone led a every quarter, 15-11, 31-17, and 45-35.

In the game with North Webster, Mentone outscored their opponents 18 baskets to 17 from the field, but made only seven free throws while Webster came in for 23 counters.

The quarter scores showed Mentone behind each time—11-8, 19-16, 31-23 and 57-43.

Columbia City went on to win the sectional defeating Webster 86 to 60 in the championship tilt.

The Times-Union placed Bol Long on the sectional first team while Jim Teel and Dick Long were listed on the second squad.

BERTHA WEIDNER BURIED SUNDAY

Mrs. Bertha Weidner, 73, died Thursday morning at 2:30 a. m. at the home of her daughter Mrs. John Mabe, a quarter-mile north of Rochester on U. S. 31. She previously had resided at the home of another daughter, Mrs. Harry Pontius, south east of Tiosa.

Death came after a five-year illness.

Born October 29, 1886, at Monterey, she was the daughter of Martin and Elizabeth Wideman Mahler. She was married April 16, 1907, at Culver, to George Weidner, who died May 1, 1949. She had spent her lifetime in Fulton and Marshall counties.

Mrs. Weidner was a member of the Culver EUB church.

Surviving are the two daughters, Mrs. Harry (Della) Pontius and Mrs. John (Rose) Mabe; two sons, Harley, R. R. 1, Plymouth, and George, R. R. 2, Rochester. Two sons, Wayne and Paul, preceded her in death.

Funeral services were held Sunday at 2 p. m. in the Grossman funeral home at Argos with the Rev. Paul Halbert officiating. Burial was in the Masonic cemetery at Culver.

MENTONE, INDIANA

The Town of Mentone, Kosciusko County, Indiana, will receive sealed bids for the construction of water works improvements until 6:30 P. M. C. S. T. on the 10th day of March, 1960, at the Town Hall in Mentone, Indiana, at which time and place all bids will be publicly opened and read aloud.

DIVISION A — ELEVATED STEEL STORAGE TANK AND FOUNDATIONS

This division includes the furnishing and installation of a 150,000 gallon capacity steel storage tank and the construction of the tank foundations.

DIVISION B — WATER MAIN EXTENSIONS

This division includes the construction of approximately 6100 feet of 8-inch cast iron water main, 920 feet of 6-inch main, 85 feet of 4-inch main, together with the furnishing and installation of valves, hydrants, connections to existing mains, two railroad crossings and all appurtenant work as specified. Also included is the construction of a masonry well house, electrical work, chlorination facilities, and appurtenant work.

DIVISION C — WELL WATER SUPPLY

This division includes the construction of one (1) two hundred and fifty (250) gallon per minute guaranteed 12-inch diameter well and the furnishing and installation of one (1) deep well turbine type pumping unit and all appurtenances as specified.

Payment for the work constructed will be made after the successful sale of the bonds, or from funds made available for the purpose by other means.

The successful bidders will be required to furnish a satisfactory performance and labor and materials bond.

The contract documents and specifications are on file for review at the offices of CLYDE E. WILLIAMS & ASSOCIATES, INC. Engineers, at 312 West Colfax Avenue, South Bend, Indiana, and 720 East 38th Street,

Indianapolis, Indiana, and at the office of the Clerk-Treasurer, Mentone, Indiana.

Copies of the documents may be obtained through the SOUTH BEND office of CLYDE E. WILLIAMS & ASSOCIATES, INC., by depositing $25.00 for each set of documents so obtained. A sum of $10.00 will be refunded upon return of all documents in good condition within ten (10) days after receipt of bids, except that the full amount of the deposit for one set of documents will be refunded to each bidder who submits a formal proposal and who also returns the documents in good condition.

Each bidder whose bid is $5,000 or more shall file the financial statement and questionnaire form No. 96A with his bid.

Proposals must be submitted on the forms bound in the Specifications and Contract Documents.

The Town of Mentone, Indiana reserves the right to reject any or all bids and to waive any irregularities in bidding.

A certified check or bank draft payable to the Town of Mentone, Indiana or a satisfactory bid bond executed by the bidder and a surety company in an amount equal to 5 percent of the bid shall be submitted with each bid.

The execution of a formal contract on the part of the Owner is subject to being held in abeyance for a period of six months pending approval of the petition to be filed with the Public Service Commission and pending acceptable sale of the revenue bonds for financing the project cost.

No bid may be withdrawn after the scheduled closing time for receipt of bids for at least 30 days. The bid guarantee of the successful bidder, who is tendered a tentative award of contract, may be held for a period of six (6) months.

DID YOU KNOW?

Did you know that it is the consensus of educational authorities throughout the state that following the formation of new school districts in each county, most, if not all of them, will maintain several attendance units (or schools), and, at least for the time being, most students will attend the same schools after reorganization as they attended before? Changes in sites will inevitably occur as inadequate facilities are replaced, but this will be a gradual process and will be determined by the school boards of the reorganized districts—not by the county reorganization committees.

Did you know that although the County School Reorganization committee is the group appointed to prepare a plan for improving the organization of Kosciusko schools, that committee is, primarily, only an implementing group through which the people themselves will be enabled to formulate possible solutions and determine the most satisfactory one? It is the public—the citizens of each organized district—who will make the final decision. This, then, is another way in which the people exercise their right of home rule.

Did you know that at present, four out of every five school corporations in Indiana do not meet the minimum standards established by the State Commission for School Reorganizations?

Did you know that in states where school reorganization has been successfully accomplished, results have proved repeatedly and consistently that larger school districts not only provide enriched and more comprehensive programs of study but also make for better equalized educational opportunities for all students? Moreover, from the economic standpoint, it has been shown that the smaller the enrollment, the larger the per pupil cost; hence proper reorganization of school districts will result in more mileage out of each tax dollar.

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Eiler entertained Mr. and Mrs. Al McKeighan at dinner on Sunday, February 28. The occasion was in honor of Mrs. McKeighan's birthday anniversary, which occurred on Saturday, February 27th.

Purdue Dairy Conference

A two-day dairy feeding and management conference will be held March 7 and 8 at Purdue University.

The first day's program will stress physiology of the dairy cow, trends in milk quality programs, causes of high bacterial counts in milk on the farm and problems of infertility. Forage programs and their importance in dairy production, bulk feed handling and dairy structures will be general topics on the second day.

D. L. Hill, Purdue dairy scientist, pointed out that dairymen and farmers are invited to either or both of the two days. A $1 registration fee will be charged for each day. All sessions will be in Room 108, Smith Hall.

After registration, beginning at 9 a. m., CST, H. W. Gregory, head of Purdue's dairy department, will welcome those attending and explain the conference purposes.

B. J. Liska, D. L. Hill, C. E. Parmelee and E. J. Babel, Purdue dairy scientists, will appear on the March 7 morning program. Dr. F. N. Andrews, Purdue animal scientist will open the afternoon session with a discussion of infertility in dairy cattle. T. G. Martin, B. W. Crowl and N. S. Lundquist, Purdue dairy scientists, will speak on the afternoon.

Registration for the second day will start at 8:30 a. m. Then M. E. Heath, Purdue agronomist will talk about "Green Meadow Prescriptions." F. A. Martz and J. M. Yoder, both of the Purdue dairy department, and Hill will talk about forage feeding trial results, silage fermentation and stage of maturity as a factor in digestibility of alfalfa-brome grass mixtures.

Homer Niesz, Portland Cement Association, will open the afternoon program telling about using concrete in dairy operations; B. W. Crowl, dairy scientist, will discuss remodeling dairy structures and G. W. Isaacs, Purdue Agricultural engineer, will talk about handling bulk feed.

March Is National Egg Month

Little farmerette Vicki Anderson is a pert reminder that National Egg Month will be observed nationally throughout the month of March. The big promotion is sponsored by the Poultry and Egg National Board. The coast-to-coast publicity campaign will utilize newspapers, magazines, radio and television, ties, proclamations by governors and other government officials, and point-of-sale materials. According to Carroll Eiler, Chairman of National Egg Month and PENB Board Member, the State National Egg Month Chairman will be responsible for statewide and local promotional activities. Also cooperating in the promotion are the U. S. Department of Agriculture, state extension personnel, and many other agricultural food and business groups.

Family Finances

Don't disappoint a little girl by telling her she is going to get a real doll when you send for a 59-cent doll with "10 complete outfits."

Two different ads I have seen in the past weeks with New York addresses offer this "bargain," but there is disappointment in store for the buyer. The illustrations and text are misleading.

Against a drawing of a girl standing next to two racks from which hang various outfits, the copy reads: "Here's a spectacular 9-inch doll, in color, with beautiful red hair down to her shoulders and the most lavish and complete wardrobe any princess could ever wish for. Clothes for formal balls, playtime, street wear and school."

Problem: There is no hair, no clothes to be suspended from hangers. There is nothing in the offer except cardboard cutouts and printing. No statements are made to this effect in the ad.

Investments, Property Transfer

Investments and the transfer of property from one generation to the next will be the subject of discussion at an open meeting for Kosciusko County citizens on Tuesday, March 8. The meeting is scheduled for 1:00 p. m. at the Farm Bureau Co-Op, Warsaw. The discussion leader will be A. M. Nichter, Extension Economist from Purdue University.

Part of the meeting will be devoted to a discussion of the profitability, risk and characteristics of investments, such as bonds, stocks, saving accounts, life insurance, land, etc.

Attention will also be given to transfer devices such as joint bank accounts, joint deeds, the laws of descent, the writing of wills, etc.

Inheritance, gift and estate taxes will also be discussed. Recent changes have been made in the Indiana laws of descent, also in Federal estate and gift tax laws. You will want to be brought up to date on these important matters.

Mr. Nichter advises us those in attendance will be given an opportunity to ask questions.

County Agent Donald E. Frantz and Mrs. Ruth McCreary, Home Demonstration Agent, emphasized that a meeting of this type should be of special interest to those who are wanting to learn more about the characteristics of various types of investments and the transfer of property from one generation to the next.

Mrs. Wilbur Latimer of Beaver Dam was in Pierceton last week staying with the Richard Williamson family. Craig Williamson returned home with his grandmother to spend a few days.

National 4-H Club Week

National 4-H Club Week, March 5-12, will signal the start of an Indiana campaign to obtain 100,000 members in 1960.

Harold B. Taylor, state 4-H club leader at Purdue University, reports the 1959 Indiana membership was 87,766.

"Learn, Live, Serve Through 4-H" will be the theme for the National observance. Through news stories, radio and television programs, store window displays and community meetings purposes and objectives of 4-H will be emphasized.

Hoosier 4-H club members will be able to choose from 43 projects this year. Membership is open to any boy or girl between the ages of 10 and 21 and enrollment cards may be obtained from the local club leaders or from the county agricultural extension office.

tension office.

In 1959 Indiana 4-H club members enrolled in 81,230 agricultural projects and 103,966 home economics projects.

Most popular agricultural projects were crafts, 13,843 enrollments; wild life, 8,545; garden, 7,600; forestry, 7,354; electric, 8,086; swine, 6,829; beef, 4,681; corn, 4,646; dairy, 4,006 and tractor maintenance, 3,339.

Most popular home economics projects were foods with 43,604 enrollments, clothing with 31,261 and food preservation with 5,595.

Taylor says more local leaders are needed in addition to new members. During 1959 more than 4,364 men and women served as volunteer leaders in Indiana's 3,372 clubs. They were assisted by 11,145 boys and girls serving as Junior leaders.

Dr. and Mrs. Dan Urschel are spending this week in Florida and Georgia. They left Mentone this past week end by plane.

and plan to be gone until next Sunday. During this time, they will first visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Urschel of Tippecanoe, who are spending the winter at Fort Pierce, Florida.

They will then return to Atlanta, where the doctor will attend a course in Advanced Electrocardiography, presented by the Emory University School of Medicine.

A HISTORY OF MENTONE

By M. O. MENTZER,
Secretary Mentone Chamber of Commerce

My father, after sawing out the bridge timbers and switch ties for the railroad decided that as the timber was about gone (they did not use anything but the best in those days) entered into partnership with Art Manwaring, moved his engine and boiler to Mentone and they built the first roller grist mill in miles of this place. (There were a number of water powered burr mills.) This mill ran day and night for several years and people came for miles to get the more refined flour. Later Albert Tucker became a partner in the business and they shipped flour and feed over the new railroad as far east as Cleveland, Ohio.

George Jefferies had a saw mill and novelty works just south of the grist mill. The finishing touches were just being completed in 1884 when Jefferies' mill caught fire and burned. It happened in threshing time a number of outfits were working near and by hauling water from the creek with their tanks saved the grist mill.

It will be necessary in the history of Mentone to devote quite a lot of time to the fires that we have had. This I will do later.

After it was definitely decided that the business section would be where it now is a rush was made to get on the band wagon. A hotel was built on the southwest corner, a two story frame building with dining room, office and a number of sleeping rooms. A wood stove in the hall heated the bedrooms and you can imagine how cozy it was on a zero night of which we seemed to have plenty. However, people were more rugged then and a little cold did not bother them.

Art and Loren Manwaring built a store building on the southeast corner of the square. I think this was one of the first store buildings built uptown. Then J. W. Sellers built a building next to Manwarings. This was used as a drug store. I have a very vivid recollection of this drug store. We had a July 4th celebration, the Sevastopol band was playing when two men, Poulson (Harve Poulson's father) and another man were badly burned by the explosion of an anvil. They took them to the drug store and as I saw them their breasts were bare and badly burned. I was scared everytime the band played all that summer.

Mack M. Forrest had a store in Sevastopol. He thought that Mentone would be an up and coming town so he built the building now occupied by the drug store and tavern. I cannot remember who built the next building but arrangements were made with the town authorities that no building should be built in this block that was not fire proof. This was known as the Banner Block.

All the other buildings on Main street were of wood construction and were a fire hazard with no fire protection. The Opera House was built by William Mollenhour. This was the place of meetings where the community interests were discussed and let me tell you everyone turned out to find out what was going on. Today we have to call people and plead with them to come to a meeting that is of interest to all. (If you wish your town to progress take an interest in something besides your own business.)

ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. Cledis Craft of Salyersville, Kentucky, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Miss Pauline Craft of R. R. 5, Rochester, and Kenneth D. Grass, son of Mrs. Joe Grass and the late Mr. Grass R. R. 5, Rochester. The bride-elect attended Salyersville school and is now employed at Hatfield's Grocery, Talma. Mr. Grass, a 1955 graduate of Talma high school, served six months in the United States Army and is a member of the National Guard. He is presently employed in carpenter work at Plymouth. The couple is planning a June wedding.

MENTONE LIONS SEE RUSSIAN PICTURES

The Mentone Lions were entertained Wednesday evening with a travelogue and colored slides by Rex Parker of Silver Lake. The pictures were taken while Mr. Parker traveled in Russia last July.

A letter was received by the club from Dale Kelley, who is spending the winter at Bradenton, Fla.

Mr. Kelley says he is having a wonderful winter there, is playing golf several days a week, doing some visiting, has painted a few pictures and attends church regularly. He said Roy Rush and J. O. Wilson are in Palmetto, just across the river and he sees them often.

Dale is located in the Two Rivers Trailer Park, 2800 Monatee East, Bradenton, Fla.

New Disease Control Method

"Disease-free" pigs may be the answer to overcoming some of the chronic diseases of swine, says Dr. T. M. Curtin, Purdue University extension veterinarian.

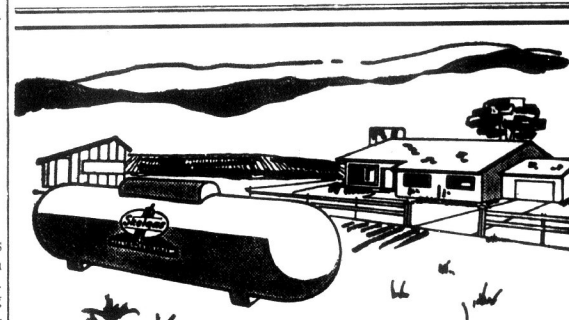

ian. These pigs are being used to save valuable blood lines and to preserve old established herds.

Diseases spread by carriers—atrophy rhinitis, virus pneumonia, and dysentery—have ruined many excellent herds. Sows can pass these diseases to newborn litters by contact with them. Consequently, it is very difficult to eliminate these conditions from a herd, Dr. Curtin points out.

"Disease-free" pigs are obtained by surgical methods shortly before they are to be born naturally. The pigs are raised on artificial diets away from the sow and the rest of the herd. These pigs are then used to build a new herd with blood lines saved from the old diseased herd.

Other breeders can establish disease free herds by the purchase of breeding stock from these original herds.

Breeders using "disease-free" pigs should not have a false sense of security, Dr. Curtin warns. They are not a substitute for good management and can become reinfected. Strict sanitation should be employed, and the movement of men and animals through pens and lots should be discouraged.

Control Cattle Grubs Now

"Now is the time to check the backs of cattle for cattle grubs. When lumps appear on the backs of dairy and beef animals treatment should begin at once." F. A. Hall, Purdue University extension veterinarian, reminds Hoosier farmers.

Killing grubs while on the backs of cattle will not only save money in meat and milk but will also reduce or eliminate the chances of propagating the pest for the coming year.

Hall says derris powder containing rotenone is the best treatment to kill cattle grubs. The treatments are designed to kill the grubs while the parasites are in the backs of cattle. Rotenone is most often used as a two to five percent powder although spray and wash formulations are also useful.

The dust solution must be worked into the animal's hair with a stiff brush to insure the application will get into the air holes which the grubs have cut through the skin. There is no need to treat any part of the animal except where the grubs are, Hall says. The first application should be made soon after the first lumps appear. If other lumps show up later, additional treatments are recommended.

If only a few animals are infected, dusting may be the easiest method. However, in larger herds or feeder cattle, the solution is best applied with a pressure sprayer.

Appearance of lumps on cattle the first three months of the year means the grubs are nearing the end of a long life cycle which began last spring when the cattle were fighting heel flies. Adult heel flies develop from grubs which dropped from backs of cattle.

Hall says infested feeder cattle do not make gains equal to grub free cattle. He also estimates that the grub fly reduces milk flow of cows from 10 to 25 percent in the spring when heel flies are active.

HOOSIER FARMERS BIG PLANT FOOD USERS

Indiana farmers applied nearly 1,200,000 tons of fertilizer to their fields last year, F. W. Quackenbush, Indiana state chemist at Purdue University reports. This represents a six percent increase over 1958 tonnage and is the second highest reported for the state.

Farmers used more bulk fertilizer, 228,404 tons. More than 30,000 tons of this was complete liquid solutions; 81,000 tons were nitrogen solutions and anhydrous ammonia.

Quackenbush points out that Indiana has led all states for several years in the amount of plant feed used. Some other states report larger tonnage, but the high analysis of fertilizer used by Indiana farmers has made them leaders in the use of actual plant food.

Report On Farm Prices

Hog prices, up about $1.50 from December 1959, to mid-February, are likely to remain steady until sometime in March, report Purdue University agricultural economists.

Then the upward price trend is expected to be resumed, reaching $16-$18 levels by July or August.

However, a modest price decline on fed cattle appears in prospect for the next two months. The economists advise farmers to top out feed lots as cattle reach desirable weight and finish.

Indiana turkey raisers, intending to boost their 1960 production by 11 percent, can expect marketing their holiday season turkeys at prices well below the 24.5 cent September-December, 1959, average Indiana prices.

Smaller laying flocks are planned as a result of low egg prices this winter. If these intentions are carried out a somewhat greater seasonal price increase can be expected this summer and fall than during the similar period in 1959.

The economists say that a less than average seasonal rise in corn prices is likely in the next few months. High moisture corn has been a depressing factor in corn prices in recent weeks.

Expect weakness in the soybean market, they assert, advising farmers to sell their beans now unless protected by government loan.

SMALL GRAIN VARIETIES BULLETIN

Farmers planning their 1960 grain seedlings will find a new Purdue University Research Bulletin, RB 691, "Small Grain Varieties for Indiana," helpful.

This bulletin, an annual publication, describes major varieties of oats, wheat, rye and barley, and recommends outstanding varieties for various soil, climatic and disease conditions. A useful table also lists the recommended grain varieties for each region of the state.

Indiana residents may obtain a free copy of RB 691, "Small Grain Varieties for Indiana," from their county agents or by writing the Agricultural Publications Office AES Building, Purdue University, Lafayette, Indiana. Requests should include both the number and the title of the publication.

DISTANCE DIALING AT BOURBON

Sunday will be "DDD Day" for General Telephone customers in the Bourbon exchange.

Through DDD, Bourbon customers will be able to dial directly station-to-station long distance calls to thousands of cities and towns and millions of telephones in the United States and Canada.

Cards containing Direct Distance Dialing instructions have been mailed to all Bourbon exchange customers, T. E. Lemmon, district commercial manager, said. Lemmon urged all local customers to read the instructions carefully, then insert the cards in their telephone directories for future reference.

If any Bourbon customer does not receive a DDD instruction card by Friday, March 4, he should contact General's business office by dialing FI 2-4205

Ed Latham Dies Monday

Edward Latham, 69, died at the Fort Wayne Veterans' hospital Monday.

Mr. Latham, a retired carpenter, had been ill eight years and a patient at the hospital since Sunday. He had resided in Mentone and Tippecanoe all his life. He made his home here with a niece, Lulu Latham.

Mr. Latham was born in Tippecanoe October 28, 1890 the son of Adelbert and Dorothy (Kunzels) Latham. He was a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars at Rochester and Veterans of World War I of Kosciusko Co.

Surviving are a son, Hubert, a granddaughter, Janice, of Rochester; a sister, Irene Lewallen, of Tippecanoe; a niece, Lulu Latham of Mentone. Two brothers and two sisters preceded him in death.

Services were held Wednesday at 2:30 p. m. in the Reed funeral home in Mentone. Burial was in the Tippecanoe cemetery.

ENGAGED TO WED

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson M. Cook of Bourbon, announce the engagement of their daughter, Phyllis Jean, (shown here) to Mr. Richard Tombaugh, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Tombaugh of Mentone.

Both are seniors at Purdue University. Miss Cook is affiliated with Zeta Tau Alpha social sorority. Mr. Tombaugh is a member of Alpha Phi Omega. An August wedding is planned.

NICA HOLDS ANNUAL MEETING

The 29th annual stockholders meeting of the Northern Indiana Cooperative Association of this city, was held at the Mentone school Monday evening. A fish supper preceded the meeting. Ronnie Richards supervised the frying of the fish and the Friendly Neighbors Home Ec ladies did the serving. Sherman Bybee furnished dinner music.

Gerald Ballenger, chairman of the board of directors, served as chairman of the meeting, and the secretary reported 199 stockholders represented — 145 voted by mail, two by proxy and 52 were present in person.

The secretary reported that the directors held 12 regular and two special meetings during the year and that all directors were present at all meetings.

Mr. Koehnman of Fort Wayne, read the financial statement and statement of operations of the local firm, which showed sales of over $930,000.

Philip Lash, Everett Besson and Elmer Hoffman were elected as members of the board of directors. Balloting was as follows:

Philip Lash	160
Everett Besson	148
Elmer Hoffman	104
Arthur Kendall	45
Marvin Romine	58
Kermit Zent	69

Two write-in candidates, Hubert Creighton and Joe Miller, received 7 and 4 votes respectively.

Everett Rathfon, general manager, gave a short talk to the stockholders, telling of the plant improvements made during the year.

NEW DAUGHTERS

Mr. and Mrs. Emery Mosier are the parents of a daughter born March 2 at the Woodlawn hospital. Tamra Jean weighed in at 6 lb. 2 1/4 oz.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Adams are the parents of a daughter, Tresha Elaine, weighing 7 pounds 14 ounces Wednesday at the Murphy Medical Center at Warsaw. Mrs. Adams was formerly Deloris Julian.

NEW SON

Mr. and Mrs. John Smith of Warsaw are the parents of a new son, Bruce Allen, born on Tuesday morning. He weighed five pounds 12 ounces. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Smith, Mentone, are the paternal grandparents.

COUNTERPOINT

By the Editor's Wife

This is an interesting bit of information. Our public library serves five area schools. Mrs. Lackey delivers books to the three schools of Mentone, Beaver Dam, and Etna Green. Franklin school and Burket pick up their books at the library.

I hope that you have been enjoying early Mentone history, by Mahlon Mentzer, as much as we have. I intend to keep each week's chapter for a permanent binding.

A friend of ours told us that she doesn't use an expensive copy of the bible because, "I'm just as apt as not to get cookie dough on it and, if I do, I don't need to worry." Sounds like the admonition in Exodus 6:7 and 8, and I heartily approve.

An editorial in the Rochester News-Sentinel states that there are 153 covered timber bridges left in Indiana, the majority of them in the southern part of the state. In our part of the state there are bridges at North Manchester, Bluffton, Roann, Butler, Cutler, Crown Point and Geneva. Was there ever a covered bridge in our county?

We enjoyed this—Uncle Luke, a cautious and frugal old man, went down to have a look at the city of Chattanooga. As he was looking, a red-nosed stranger approached and said, "Will ya gimme a quarter for a sandwich?"

Uncle Luke gave him a good looking over and then answered, "Lemme see the sandwich first."

The following students from Mentone High School have been entered:

Humorous reading: "Jane" by Martha Nelson; "To Be or Not to Be" by Tana Henderson.

Dramatic reading: "Honey" Sheryl Olson; "I Give Thee Back", Janice Davis; "Madam X", Linda Surface; "The Messiah", Linda Goshert; "White Hands of Telham", Barbara Unicker; "Thirty Pieces of Silver", Jerry Newton; "White Lies", Janet Besson; "Sorry, Wrong Number", Suellen Long.

Oratorical Declamation: Doyle Eiler.

Bible reading: Cheryl Horn, James Mikel, Charles Gast, Dona Kay VanGilder.

These students are trained by Mrs. Florence Caldwell who will accompany them to Claypool.

CLASS CHOSEN CONTEST WINNER

The Home Economics II class of the Mentone High School received a letter from "Seventeen Magazine" telling them they had been chosen as one of the 20 Third Prize Winners in the Seventeen-at School Recipe Collection Contest.

In recognition of their outstanding entry, the Home Economics department will receive two electric housewares: a Hamilton Beach Liqui-Blender and a Cory 2-Heat Electric Stove. In addition, the teacher, Elizabeth Skaggs, and each member of the winning class will receive a copy of the "Teen Cooks' How-To Book," and the department will receive a copy of the "Seventeen Book of Young Living," by Enid Haupt.

The recipe collection was on the theme of "Eggs" and was compiled by the students last fall, just before the Egg Show.

SNOW CAVES ROOF

The snow accumulation became so great Tuesday evening that the south part of the Russell Eber storage building caved in. This building is the former community building.

Dr. Anderson Dies In Florida

Dr. E. D. Anderson, 81, Mentone, died at 2:10 p. m. Friday, in a Leesburg, Florida hospital of a stroke. Mr. Anderson, who had practiced veterinary medicine in Mentone for 50 years, had gone to Florida for the winter.

He was born in Newcastle township, Fulton county, in 1879. He married Lennie Copen in 1902. She preceded him in death in February, 1957. He married Tessie Newton in 1958. She survives. He was a member of the Mentone Church of Christ and was an elder in the church for 50 years.

Surviving in addition to the widow are three sons, Ira, of Evanston, Ill., Dr. Wendell, of Indianapolis, and Robert of Michigan; two daughters, Mildred Anderson, of Flint, Mich., and Mrs. Kathleen Camplejohn, Michigan City; three step-sons, Howard Newton, of Gary; Franklin Newton, of Route 5, Rochester, and Stanley Newton, of Burket; and six grandchildren.

Services were held Wednesday at 2 p. m. in the Mentone Church of Christ with Lloyd Boyll officiating. Burial was in the Sycamore cemetery with the Johns funeral home in charge of the arrangements.

MARRIED SUNDAY

Karen Louise Harvey of near Talma, and Robert Gene Burket were married in a double ring ceremony Sunday afternoon, March 6th at 2:00 at the Evangelical United Brethren church at Athens. Rev. Wayne Johnson officiated. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Harvey, Rochester Rt. 5, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Burket, R. 2, Akron.

58TH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. George Dickey were entertained at supper Tuesday night honoring their fifty-eighth wedding anniversary, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Otis Dickey and Randy. Rudolph Dickey was also a guest.

Mrs. Richard Kindig has been dismissed from the Woodlawn hospital. She is feeling much better after a bout with pneumonia.

Baby Chick Hatchings Plunge

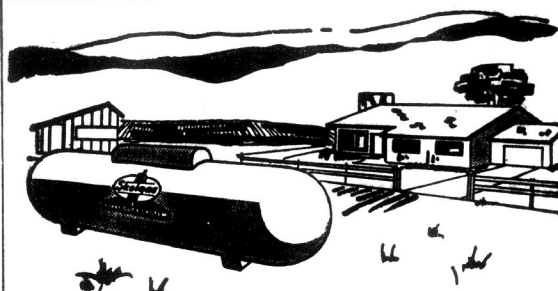

A Purdue Poultry Extension News release states: only seventy-five percent as many egg-type chicks were hatched in the United States during the five months of September 1959 through January 1960 as during the same months a year earlier. The hatch during February is estimated to be down by an even greater amount according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

J. W. Sicer, Purdue extension poultryman, states that contracts with Indiana hatcheries indicate that low hatching will continue through at least March since eggs are not in the incubators. A continuation of this rather drastic cut in chick hatchings could result in a marked decrease in the number of layers on farms the last half of 1960, and even in excessively high egg prices. Previous experience however, Sicer points out, indicates any change in number of chicks hatched is seldom fully reflected in the number of layers on hand six months later. The cushion is the culling of laying flocks. When prospects are for good egg prices, poultrymen frequently hold on to their old hens longer than would normally be the case.

Data released from the U. S. D. A. indicates the laying flocks now on farms already contain a higher percentage of older birds than in recent years. The cushion, therefore, is not so deep as it has been previously. Established Indiana poultrymen are advised to raise their customary number of egg type chickens this spring and to start them as soon as possible. Prospects are bright that egg prices the last half of 1960 and the first part of 1961 will be set at a profitable level for producers.

Excessive swings in either direction lead to a "feast or famine" and not to the stability desired in the industry.

Winter grazed fescue fertilized with 60 to 70 lbs. of nitrogen in March or April will produce a seed crop of 250 pounds per acre. Purdue University agronomists say at 10 cents a lb., a fair return will be realized in addition to the value of the winter grazing. In some counties the fescue straw is baled for bedding.

Family Finances

A man's suit seems a simple thing—but, on the average, it requires some 7,000 square inches of material along with 8,000 square inches of inner fabric, up to 16 buttons, 565 yards of thread and 150,000 stitches.

You want all this material put together properly so that your suit will give you long, good-looking wear. Here are some things to watch for when buying your next suit:

- Look for a two ply fabric, which is resilient and will hang back in shape after each wearing. (If you're in doubt, check the label or ask your salesman.)
- Turn the inside belt out. Be sure it's stiff enough to keep the waist line wrinkle free.
- Hold the suit coat out at arm's length, and check the lining. It shouldn't hang or pull.
- Look for buttonholes that are closely and evenly stitched.
- Check stitching throughout the suit for evenness and strength.

The Town of Mentone, Kosciusko County, Indiana, will receive sealed bids for the construction of water works improvements until 6:30 P. M. C. S. T. on the 22nd day of March, 1960, at the Town Hall in Mentone, Indiana, at which time and place all bids will be publicly opened and read aloud.

DIVISION A — ELEVATED STEEL STORAGE TANK AND FOUNDATIONS

This division includes the furnishing and installation of a 150,000 gallon capacity steel storage tank and the construction of the tank foundations.

DIVISION B — WATER MAIN EXTENSIONS

This division includes the construction of approximately 6100 feet of 8-inch cast iron water main, 920 feet of 6-inch main, 85 feet of 4-inch main, together with the furnishing and installation of valves, hydrants, connections to existing mains, two railroad crossings and all appurtenant work as specified. Also included is the construction of a masonry well house, electrical work, chlorination facilities, and appurtenant work.

DIVISION C — WELL WATER SUPPLY
This division includes the construction of one (1) two hundred and fifty (250) gallon per minute guaranteed 12-inch diameter well and the furnishing and installation of one (1) deep well turbine type pumping unit and all appurtenances as specified.

Payment for the work constructed will be made after the successful sale of the bonds, or from funds made available for the purpose by other means.

The successful bidders will be required to furnish a satisfactory performance and labor and materials bond.

The contract documents and specifications are on file for review at the offices of CLYDE E. WILLIAMS & ASSOCIATES, INC. Engineers, at 312 West Colfax Avenue, South Bend, Indiana, and 720 East 38th Street, Indianapolis, Indiana, and at the office of the Clerk-Treasurer, Mentone, Indiana.

Copies of the documents may be obtained through the SOUTH BEND office of CLYDE E. WILLIAMS & ASSOCIATES, INC., by depositing $25.00 for each set of documents so obtained. A sum of $10.00 will be refunded upon return of all documents in good condition within ten (10) days after receipt of bids, except that the full amount of the deposit for one set of documents will be refunded to each bidder who submits a formal proposal and who also returns the documents in good condition.

Each bidder whose bid is $5,000 or more shall file the financial statement and questionnaire form No. 96A with his bid.

Proposals must be submitted on the forms bound in the Specifications and Contract Documents.

The Town of Mentone, Indiana reserves the right to reject any or all bids and to waive any irregularities in bidding.

A certified check or bank draft payable to the Town of Mentone, Indiana or a satisfactory bid bond executed by the bidder and a surety company in an amount equal to 5 per cent of the bid shall be submitted with each bid.

The execution of a formal contract on the part of the owner is subject to being held in abeyance for a period of six months pending approval of the petition to be filed with the Public Service Commission and pending acceptable sale of the revenue bonds for financing the project cost.

No bid may be withdrawn after the scheduled closing time for receipt of bids for at least 30 days. The bid guarantee of the successful bidder, who is tendered a tentative award of contract, may be held for a period of six (6) months.

Files For Marshall County Commissioner

Robert Q. Tucker, pictured here, of R. 1, Argos, has filed for the republican nomination for county commissioner from the third district, Marshall county. Tucker, a former Mentone area resident, is a Walnut township farm owner and is also engaged in the egg marketing business handling eggs for many Marshall, Starke and St. Joseph county egg producers. For the past 13 years he has been a resident of Marshall county.

After graduating from Mentone high school in 1938 and the South Bend College of Commerce in 1940, he was employed for three years in the general accounting department of the Bendix Aviation Corp., prior to WW II. He served three years in India and Burma during the war with the U.S.A.F., and served about 16 months as superintendent of the Wawasee State Fish Hatchery. He is married and is the father of four children.

"PERENNIALS AND THEIR CARE"

C. E. Hoxsie, horticulture specialist from Purdue University will discuss "Perennials and their Care," on Monday, March 21, 1:15 p. m. at the Farm Bureau Co-op. Building second floor. Anyone interested in raising perennials is urged to attend. He will bring information on culture, contact of disease and varieties and will show slides of gardens he has visited in Indiana and at Purdue.

This meeting is one which all garden leaders of home demonstration clubs or other interested organizations should attend.

This program is sponsored by the Kosciusko Agriculture and Home Economics Extension Service. For further information contact Donald E. Frantz, Co. Agent or Mrs. Ruth McCleary, Home Demonstration Agent, Phone AM 7-8971.

Boost Pastures With Fertilizer

March is a good time to apply fertilizer to pastures and meadows, according to R. K. Stivers, Purdue University agronomist.

The application of fertilizer to pastures and meadows is a way to help maintain an adequate supply of feed for livestock throughout the year.

Meadows that show low potash or phosphate levels, or both, should respond to an application of fertilizer. The use of 400 lbs. of 0-20-20 per acre is a good average fertilizer application for large hay yields in legumes on the less productive soils. This fertilizer may either be drilled or broadcast without working it into the soil.

Legume fields with a large proportion of alfalfa will require more potash to maintain the stand. There is a "rule-of-thumb" which states that potash governs the stand of a legume, and phosphate governs the height of the plants. In view of this, some fields which are difficult to get a legume established may be low in potash rather than getting poor seed. It is estimated that 430 pounds of 10-10-10 fertilizer are needed to produce 3.5 tons of alfalfa to the acre on average Indiana soils testing medium phosphate and potash levels.

A Good pasture fertilizer for legumes or legume-grass stands is 0-20-20 applied at the rate of 400 pounds per acre applied every other year. If the soil tests high in available potash and phosphate, there will be very little response to the application. If the available phosphate and potash in the soil is good, 50 pounds of nitrogen per acre applied in the spring will permit grazing about two weeks earlier in the season. Nitrogen may be applied in early summer before the summer rains and in early fall before the fall rains to insure plenty of lush pasture all season long.

On light colored sandy soils nitrogen should be applied to good grass pasture on all acres that can be utilized. Ordinarily there will be little growth on soils of this type during the dry, hot summer season. The application of fertilizer will force the growth earlier before the dry weather arrives.

A HISTORY OF MENTONE

By M. O. MENTZER,
Secretary Mentone Chamber of Commerce

I have been informed that Mentone was named for a town in France—Menton. This I am told is a very beautiful summer resort town. I have had post cards from friends who have visited this town and they say we will have a difficult time to live up to our name. The post cards testify to this truth.

Mentone was organized about 1882 but was not incorporated until about 1886. In the meantime things were moving—new industries were coming to town, new homes being built, our streets were gravel and sidewalks were oak plank. The boards in these walks would get loose and many a fall resulted from the flipping of a plank, not always accidental.

We who lived out of town walked or drove a horse to do our shopping or visiting. My folks did not move to town until after the election in 1884 so it was necessary for me to walk to school. I quite well remember that one morning after my mother had started me to school I decided I did not like the teacher, so I tossed my dinner pail in the fence corner and went home. Mother asked me what the trouble was and when I informed her of my decision, she had other plans. There was a small peach tree standing near our house. She pulled off a limb and escorted me to school. As we neared the school I told her she did not need to go any farther and that I would go on by myself. She failed to co-operate and took me in to the teacher. Needless to say I have always liked school since that time.

When they were building the railroad it was quite a sight for children who knew no means of travel except walk or horse or oxen drawn vehicles. When the work train finally arrived near the school house you may imagine how excited we were. After they had built a mile or so out of town they took the teacher and all the children a ride, which perhaps was the most exciting time in our lives.

This school house was used a short while but the town was growing so fast and so many new people were bringing more children to town that it was necessary to build a larger building. I think this was not done until the town was incorporated. The ground where the library, Reed's Home and Dr. Wilson's office now are was provided by Mr. Tucker as a gift and a two-story two-room frame building was erected. Later a partition was made in each room so we had four rooms. Eventually we had a two year high school and the first class graduated in 1892. C. M. Sloan was principal.

In the year 1893 there was felt the necessity for a larger building and a new six-room building was built on this site. This was of brick construction and was a very nice school and a three year high school was made part of the plan, but on account of the lack of high school students it was 1896 before the first class was graduated. O. H. Bowman was principal of the school at this time. Mr. Bowman was a fine teacher and a good organizer, and he made the students feel that this was their school and that any infraction of rules was reflected on them. He had this feeling so well instilled in them that he could leave the room for hours at a time and there would be perfect order. It took about two years of very hard work and instruction before this was possible. The school was made a four year high school about 1908.

In the years following it soon became apparent that our school had outgrown the building and it became necessary to rent a vacant store building down town to take care of some of the classes and a temporary building was built on the north side of the lot. The children called this "The Sheep Shed" but it took care of the situation at that time. Our basketball team played in old store buildings, and the old grist mill, but it was felt that this was unfair to the pupils, but the township trustee did not feel that he would be justified in building a building to house these activities. A number of the parents felt that it would be possible to build one ourselves, so an organization was formed, stock was sold and the old gym was built. It was made available to both Harrison and Franklin Township schools.

MENTONE SNOW SCENES, NOW AND THEN . . .

There is no doubt but that in the intervening 48 years there have been bigger snows in Mentone, but this is just a reminder that it has happened before.

We've had a few sunny days this week to melt part of the snow, but we still have plenty and it seems we may get more.

MENTONE READING CLUB MEETINGS

The February meeting of the Mentone Reading Club was held at the home of Mrs. Condia Walburn, with Mrs. Lyman Mollenhour as assistant hostess.

Roll call was, "Our Responsibility to Our Youth."

Mrs. Maude Snyder was in charge of meditations.

The program committee was composed of Mrs. Allen Shirey and Mrs. Loren Tridle. Mrs. Shirey introduced Dr. Jon Rouch who showed a number of colored slides he had taken in French Equatorial Africa where he and his wife and family are stationed as medical missionaries to the natives. He answered many questions of interest to the group.

The March meeting was an anniversary dinner held in the Rainbow Room at Westminster Hotel. The committee in charge was Mrs. Ralph Mollenhour, Mrs. C. O. Mollenhour, Mrs. Raymond Cooper and Mrs. Oliver Teel. Tables formed a large horse-shoe, which was decorated in a very clever arrangement of symbols for all twelve months of the year. The ladies were seated, as nearly as possible, to the table arrangement designating their birth-month. Food was enjoyed from a smorgasbord table, spread with an endless variety of foods.

The Tuesday Dramatic Club of Warsaw, presented a short comedy, "He's Having A Baby." Following this Mrs. Russell Simmons, of Warsaw, gave a review of the book, "White Mother," in a most charming and touching manner.

All agreed it had been a lovely anniversary party.

Mrs. Elwin Teel returned to work at Coopers' store this week after being sick for five weeks with flu and pneumonia.

COUNTERPOINT

By the Editor's Wife

The following was sent to us by a friend. As I read it I wondered about several things — first, if my own great-grandmother back in North Carolina had enjoyed such an experience; secondly, can some of our neurotic tendencies be traced to a lack of "doing for ourselves?" Thirdly, I enjoyed each step, and re-read it several times, as you should do.

GRANDMOTHERS RECEET

Years ago when my mother was a bride, my Kentucky grandmother gave her receet for washing clothes. This treasured bit of writing now hangs above my gleaming automatic washer.

1. Bild fire in back yard to kettle of rain water.
2. Set tubs so smoke won't blow in eyes if wind is pert.
3. Shave 1 hole cake lie sope in bilin' water.
4. Sort things, make 3 piles, 1 pile white, 1 pile cullard, 1 pile werk Briches and rags.
5. Stir flour in cold water to smooth then thin down with bilin' water.
6. Rub dirty spots on board, scrub hard then bile rub cullard but don't bile just rench and starch.
7. Take white things out of kettle with broom stick handle then rench - blew - and starch.
8. spred tee towels on grass.
9. hang old rags on fence.
10. pore rench water in flow-er bed.
11. scrub porch with hot sopy water.
12. turn tubs upside down.
13. go put on clean dress, smooth hair with side comb - brew cup of tee - set and rest and rock a spell and count blessings.

We enjoyed this: A Scotchman walked over to a man by the seashore.

"Are you the man who just saved my little boy from drown- ing?"

"Yes, I am."

"Well, where is his brand new cap?"

Died Tuesday

Mrs. Hazel Guy, 65, of Route 1, Tippecanoe, died Tuesday at 1:20 a. m. in the Murphy Medical Center, Warsaw, after an illness of four years.

Mrs. Guy, a life-long resident of this area, was born near Palestine Jan. 7, 1895, the daughter of Orval and Janette (Hatfield) Bowser. She married William Guy Jan. 25, 1919. He preceded her in death in 1956. She was a member of the Palestine Christian church.

Surviving are two nieces reared by Mrs. Guy, Mrs. Rosemary Ransbottom of Warsaw, and Mrs. Rebecca Stavedahl of Mentone; two brothers, Edward of Mentone, and John of near Claypool; five sisters, Mrs. Resta Dudge of Bremen, Mrs. Archie Ring of Claypool, Mrs. Robert Wagner and Mrs. Willard Guy, both of Route 5, Warsaw, and Mrs. Harry Smythe of Mentone; an aunt, Mrs. Hulda Guy of Lafountain, and an uncle, Frank Bowser of Elkhart, and several nieces and nephews.

Services will be held Thursday at 2:30 p. m. in the Johns funeral home with Rev. Gerald Sweasey officiating. Burial will be in the Mentone cemetery.

COLLEGES HONOR
MENTONE YOUTH

Dr. and Mrs. Dan Urschel have double reason to be proud of their children this week, as both Charles and Sarah received scholastic honors in their respective schools. Sarah, a Senior at Valparaiso University, was among those students cited at Honors Convocation for their academic rating during the past year. Charles, in his Junior year in Medicine at the University of Chicago, was notified of his election to Alpha Omega Alpha, the national honorary medical organization.

Both Charles and Sarah are graduates of Mentone High School, Charles having been valedictorian of the 1953 class while Sarah was salutatorian of the 1956 class. Charles received his pre-medical training at Carleton College, graduating from there in 1957.

ENTERS HOSPITAL

Roy Maxwell was admitted at the Woodlawn hospital at Rochester Tuesday morning for a check-up.

Awards Made
To Athletes

The Mentone Boosters Club sponsored a big dinner at the Mentone gym Friday evening, and there was a large group of parents and friends present to enjoy the affair. The Boosters club supplied the main course and the patrons contributed to the bounteous meal.

Following the dinner Harold Nelson, Booster Club chairman, presided at the awards program.

Coach Paul Bateman presented the athletic awards, as follows:

"A" Basketball—Bob Long, Dick Long, Jim Teel and Max Holloway, jackets and all received silver medals except Jim Teel who received a gold one. Six-inch letters went to Bob Griffis, Jerry Blackburn, Bill Nellans, Allen Creighton, Jon Newcomb and Larry Beeson.

Sportsmanship and free-throw trophies went to Bob Long and Jim Teel.

Cheerleaders Boni Spradlin, Lynda Long, Becky Keirn and Mona Ross, gold megaphones, and Miss Spradlin received a jacket.

Team managers: Roger Mollenhour, jacket; Tom Wittkamp, 6-in. letter and Chuck Smith a 4-in. letter.

"B" Team Basketball—Doyle Eiler, Fred Horn, Gary Harmon, 4-in. letters, and numerals to Larry Booth, Dave Teel, Ed Tridle, Steve Shirey, Jim Keirn, Lyle Long and Fred Mel-lott.

Cheerleaders Susie Nellans, Diana Blackburn and Kathy Doyle each received silver megaphones.

Cross Country—Six-inch M's were awarded to Howard Shoemaker, Larry Beeson, Larry Booth, Allen Creighton and Jim Mikel.

Baseball—Jim Teel, trophy, and silver medals to Dick Long, Bob Long, Max Holloway, Bob Griffis. Six-inch M's went to Larry Manwaring, Fred Horn, Larry Beeson, Ed Tridle, Bill Nellans, Dave Teel and Jim Keirn.

Following the awards, Herm Shaeffer of Warsaw, a former Piston and Laker professional basketball player, spoke to the group.

ADVERTISEMENT FOR BIDS WATER WORKS IMPROVEMENTS MENTONE, INDIANA

The Town of Mentone, Kosciusko County, Indiana, will receive sealed bids for the construction of water works improvements until 6:30 P. M. C. S. T. on the 22nd day of March, 1960, at the Town Hall in Mentone, Indiana, at which time and place all bids will be publicly opened and read aloud.

DIVISION A - ELEVATED STEEL STORAGE TANK AND FOUNDATIONS

This division includes the furnishing and installation of a 150,000 gallon capacity steel storage tank and the construction of the tank foundations.

DIVISION B - WATER MAIN EXTENSIONS

This division includes the construction of approximately 6100 feet of 8-inch cast iron water main, 920 feet of 6-inch main, 85 feet of 4-inch main, together with the furnishing and installation of valves, hydrants, connections to existing mains, two railroad crossings and all appurtenant work as specified. Also included is the construction of a masonry well house, electrical work, chlorination facilities, and appurtenant work.

DIVISION C - WELL WATER SUPPLY

This division includes the construction of one (1) two hundred and fifty (250) gallon per minute guaranteed 12-inch diameter well and the furnishing and installation of one (1) deep well turbine type pumping unit and all appurtenances as specified.

Payment for the work constructed will be made after the successful sale of the bonds, or from funds made available for the purpose by other means.

The successful bidders will be required to furnish a satisfactory performance and labor and materials bond.

The contract documents and specifications are on file for review at the offices of CLYDE E. WILLIAMS & ASSOCIATES, INC. Engineers, at 312 West Golfax Avenue, South Bend, Indiana, and 720 East 38th Street, Indianapolis, Indiana, and at the office of the Clerk-Treasurer, Mentone, Indiana.

Copies of the documents may be obtained through the SOUTH BEND office of CLYDE E. WILLIAMS & ASSOCIATES, INC., by depositing $25.00 for each set of documents so obtained. A sum of $10.00 will be refunded upon return of all documents in good condition within ten (10) days after receipt of bids, except that the full amount of the deposit for one set of documents will be refunded to each bidder who submits a formal proposal and who also returns the documents in good condition.

Each bidder whose bid is $5,000 or more shall file the financial statement and questionnaire form No. 96A with his bid.

Proposals must be submitted on the forms bound in the Specifications and Contract Documents.

The Town of Mentone, Indiana reserves the right to reject any or all bids and to waive any irregularities in bidding.

A certified check or bank draft payable to the Town of Mentone, Indiana or a satisfactory bid bond executed by the bidder and a surety company in an amount equal to 5 per cent of the bid shall be submitted with each bid.

The execution of a formal contract on the part of the owner is subject to being held in abeyance for a period of six months pending approval of the petition to be filed with the Public Service Commission and pending acceptable sale of the revenue bonds for financing the project cost.

No bid may be withdrawn after the scheduled closing time for receipt of bids for at least 30 days. The bid guarantee of the successful bidder, who is tendered a tentative award of contract, may be held for a period of six (6) months.

Protect your sight
with healthful light

Your eyesight is priceless. Often, however, improper light on close work causes harmful eyestrain and fatigue. To protect your eyes, have them checked regularly . . . and follow these simple rules for good visual health:

- (1) Have ample general lighting in the room, to prevent dark shadows and harsh glare.
- (2) Provide the correct amount of direct light on your work—300 watts for sewing, at least 150 watts for reading.
- (3) Provide proper light diffusion. A lamp having both reflector and light-colored shade will flood the work area with soft, glare-free light.
- (4) Place the lamp correctly—slightly behind and to your left (if you're right-handed), and close to your work.

Remember—eyesight is priceless. The proper light to preserve it—cheap. Protect your eyes now, while they're still good. Light your home for visual health!

A HISTORY OF MENTONE

By M. O. MENTZER,
Secretary Mentone Chamber of Commerce

The land for this gym was donated by Mrs. Susan Forst, and work was started at once. I think this was about 1926. I well remember that we were promised the county tournament if the building could be completed in time. The weatherman co-operated beautifully with nice mild temperature all through December. We had many man hours of donated labor and were able to have the tournament in January. After a short time Franklin Township built a gym at Beaver Dam so they used the facilities there. Mentone continued to use the gym for several years until the new addition was built. A short time after Beaver Dam discontinued the use of the gym, the stockholders signed their stock over to Harrison Township and maintenance and care was furnished by the township.

During the term of office of George Myers as trustee of Harrison Township the present school building was started in 1930. There was some opposition to the building of this school, especially from the east part of the township. An injunction was brought to prevent the sale of the bonds and construction of the school. The objectors lost and the school building was finally finished after standing partially completed through the winter. The story is that the general contractor and plumbing and heating contractor went broke on the job. They had troubles enough at least.

Royce Tucker was elected trustee following George Myers and during his second term in office started the new building and gym at the east section of the school building. Mr. Tucker died before the completion of the building and his wife, Mrs. Opal Tucker, was appointed to fill the vacancy. The building was completed during her term of office.

Earl Boggs was the next trustee elected and re-elected for the second term. Mr. Boggs has plans to make our school a better and more efficient place to train young minds. We will leave the school situation for future history.

As the town continued to grow it soon became apparent that it would be necessary to incorporate in order to have an orderly community, and as in most cases there was objection to this form of government as it was felt that taxes would be increased, (they were) but the objectors lost and the Town of Mentone was incorporated in January, 1886. The first reading in the books of the new organized town read as follows: "The Judges of said incorporated town of Mentone, gave notice of the election of officers for said Town corporation to be held at W. C. Wilkinson's office in Ward No. 2, January 6th, 1886." Then the reading continues with the nominations which were held in Mollenhour's Hall (Opera House). Apparently there were no party nominees and all agreed that the officers should be the following: Councilman first ward, John Yantis; second ward, R. E. Railsback; third ward, Solomon Arnsberger; Clerk, S. A. Boggess; Marshal, Solomon Zentz; Treasurer, Loren Manwaring. The election judges were: John D. Heighway, C. E. Dowane and John F. Johnson. Mentone was now in business. I have before me the minutes of the meetings and they make most interesting reading. I am sure the town authorities would be willing that our citizens be able to see and read these and I would also like to call attention to the beautiful writing on the part of the town clerk, S. A. Boggess.

Some of the highlights of the early meetings follows: On March 8th, 1886 the following were appointed as members of the school board: A. C. Manwaring, J. F. Johnson and S. Martin who declined the office and Lewis Clayton was appointed to serve in his place. On March 23, 1886 the board being aware of fire danger passed a hook and ladder ordinance and organized our first fire fighting company. Also saw the need for keeping law and order and ordered a calaboose built on lot No. 226 size 10 x 14 feet 9 feet high to be completed on or before the tenth day of April. (This building was later used by George Craft in perfecting Craft's Distemper Cure). Possibly you did not know that this is still on the market.

At a meeting of the board November 1, 1887, I read as follows: A donation of the money for the first saloon license paid into the treasury June, 1887 was given to defray the expenses of one month of school to be taught after the three months of winter term expires. Solomon Zentz resigned as marshal and E. M. Crall was appointed to fill the vacancy.

February 7th, 1887 the board passed an ordinance prohibiting trains from running through the incorporated town of Mentone faster than 15 miles per hour.

May 6th, 1887 The new board met and organized as follows: (Town elections were held in the spring then.) S. S. Mentzer, President; O. J. McGee, Clerk; A resolution was made to build a structure 20 by 30 ft. 10 ft. high to house fire fighting equipment.

June 16th, 1887 the following taxes were levied: Corporation 75 cents on each $100 valuation, 25 cents street and 25 cents poll tax. The marshal's salary was fixed at $60.00 per year and should he resign before the end of his term he was to receive only half his salary.

July 5, 1888, The board met and agreed to all go to Warsaw and inspect a fire engine they wished to sell; also to have it tested. (During this time the board had built fire cisterns at different points over town.)

October 2, 1888 An ordinance was passed for the issuing of bonds in the amount of $1000 bearing 7 percent interest payable semi-annually. The proceeds to be used for the purchase of fire apparatus.

January 1st, 1889 the board ordered the marshal to place a bell on the fire house so that citizens could be notified in case of fire.

Commenting on the fire engine, it was one of these old type pumpers operated by man power. A number of men on each side would work the pumps. It was a very satisfactory piece of equipment and saved several buildings in the time it was used. Water was supplied from the large tanks placed at places where it was most likely they would be needed.

As in most cases there was objection to the purchase of this equipment. One man in particular was a very bitter opponent. He made considerable noise and of course was able to get a following, however, the board went ahead and bought the equipment, a fire company was organized and they were ready for business.

A fire started in the work shop of a man by the name of Jessy Newman, the alarm was sounded and the fire company arrived. The cistern was located at the corner near Linus Bornton's home on road 19. They soon had the fire under control, but the funny thing about it was that the man who had raised the objection to the purchase of the equipment owned a barn across the alley. If there had been no fire protection his barn would have burned—he made no further objections.

July 3rd, 1889, the board passed the cow ordinance. This had to do with cows running at large. Previously the citizens, most of whom had a cow, allowed her to run at large as there were a number of vacant lots and this was one way to keep the weeds down but they were supposed to keep them up at night or they would be placed in the stock yards and locked up and it would take a dollar to get your cow back. A very amusing thing happened one night. There were several cows and one calf taken by the marshal and locked up. Early the next morning a man by the name of Bill Hutz came after his cow. He asked the marshal if he might take his cow home and milk her and said when he came after the calf he would pay for both. The marshal gave him this privilege. He took his cow and left the calf which belonged to another man. We had a lot of fun kidding the marshal.

Dec. 3rd, 1889 the board allowed a bill to William Sterling for three and one half days work building side walks, $4.37.

Jan. 15th, 1890 the board allowed a bill to Lyman Borton for 8 cords wood $10.00.

Feb. 5, 1890 a bill was allowed to D. A. Hatch for repair of town pump $4.50. This well served as a town source of drinking water until the present water system was installed in 1913. The well is located just north of Frank's Mfg. Co. office door. I think the cap there still would be easily located. At one time this well was operated by a windmill.

Mrs. Max Dunlap of Palestine entertained the Warsaw Home Demonstration club at her home Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Myrtle Davis spent Sunday with her son, Earl Davis, and family, of near Tippecanoe.

JOLLY JANES MEET AT BAUM HOME

Twenty-one members of the Jolly Janes met at the country home of Mrs. Doyle Baum, on Monday evening. Roll call was answered by telling, "My favorite appliance." Mrs. Dick Gross read a poem entitled, "Easter Lilies," for meditation. The lesson on "Program Planning" was given by Mrs. Kenneth Shoemaker. Each lady listed several suggestions for coming lessons. The club contributed to IFYE and also agreed to purchase one of the new street signs—a project the sorority is sponsoring. A delicious cherry dessert was served by the hostess, Mrs.

Baum, and co-hostess, Mrs. Albert Hatfield.

Birthday gifts were given to the following ladies: Mrs. Max Friesner, Mrs. George Mollenhour, Mrs. Harold Utter and Mrs. Russell Eber. Mrs. Eber was also winner of the door prize.

CLEANER WATER MEANS MORE WATER

The conservation of fresh water, one of the nation's most valuable resources, is becoming a problem of increasing significance, according to the National Wildlife Federation and the Indiana State Conservation Advisory Committee, sponsors of National Wildlife Week, March 20-26. Theme for the annual observance is: "Water — Key to Your Survival."

Many areas now are faced with water shortages, situations which probably will become more aggravated as rapidly growing human populations create additional demands. Competition already is strong for such uses as irrigation, power generation, navigation, industry, municipal services and recreation. Some of these uses do not affect the resource. Other uses, however, add wastes which damage the water. Still others are "consumptive" in that the water is lost for all other purposes.

Keeping water clean, the National Wildlife Federation indicates, is tantamount to creating more water to satisfy our wide variety of uses and growing demands.

Many cities and industries now are removing their wastes from water before releasing it into streams but others continue their pollution. Free-flowing streams capable of supporting navigation are considered public property and subject to state laws relating to their use. Some streams, especially those of interstate nature, also are subject to federal laws. Seeing to it that polluted streams are cleaned up should be a concern to every thinking citizen.

C. O. Mollenhour, Mentone, co-chairman of the local conservation clubs in the second district, states that citizens interested in the public's welfare of the future can do much by supporting water conservation programs.

RED LIGHT AT POLICE STATION

Perhaps some have wondered about the red light on the Mentone police station recently. It is connected to the telephone so that the marshals, when out on the streets, can tell when a call is being made to the police department. Callers are advised to remain on the line for some time to permit the officers to get back to the station should they be on the street.

Mrs. Coplen Host To Friendly Neighbors

The Friendly Neighbors Home Demonstration club met with Hildreth Coplen for their March meeting. The history of the song of the month, "Wearing of the Green," was read and sung by the group. Myrtle Wentzel, the president, opened the meeting with the pledge to the flag. Otis Walburn read an article, "Live One Day at a Time For a Happy Life," for meditations. Roll call was answered by 13 members with the nick-names of U. S. presidents, and the rest of the group trying to guess the corresponding president.

The lesson, "Are You A Good Citizen?" was given by Wreatha Ballenger and four other members in the form of a skit.

A very interesting letter written to the club from Mrs. Mary Welch, who is in Australia, was read by Frances Olson.

Tasty refreshments were served by the hostess and co-hostess, Helen McGinnis.

D.A.R. Honors Daughters, Mothers

The March meeting of the Anthony Nigo Chapter, D. A. R., was held at Pete's Restaurant with Mrs. Arthur Brown as hostess and Mrs. Kenneth Riner, Mrs. Fred Surguy and Miss Ladaska Bunker assisting.

The meeting opened with the ritualistic service and singing of "The Star Spangled Banner."

The President General's message was read by Mrs. Kenneth Riner.

Mrs. Wayne Smalley gave an article on Daniel Webster.

The meeting was in honor of the good citizen girls and their mothers. Mrs. Miles Manwaring, good citizen chairman, presented each girl with a corsage and pin. The girls present were: Sue Frederick and mother, Mrs. John Frederick of Atwood; Janet Welty and mother, Mrs. Leslie Welty of Beaver Dam; Karen Miller and friend, Miss Stiver of Claypool; Norma Miner of Etna Green; Barbara Unzicker and mother, Mrs. William Unzicker of Mentone, Mrs. Morby Clinker of Silver Lake. Janice Mishler of Sidney was unable to be present. Each girl gave a brief summary of her plans for the future.

Little Rita Paulus did a very graceful tap dance number.

The meeting was then turned over to Mrs. Scheide and her granddaughter, Susan Coplen of Rochester who showed pictures of their trip to Australia and a travel talk in a most interesting and instructive manner, which was greatly enjoyed by all.

Members present were: Mrs. Arthur Brown, Mrs. Ernest Igo, Mrs. Wayne Smalley, Mrs. Vera Kelley, Mrs. Ferd Koenig, Miss Cora Lynn Fenstermaker, Mrs. Ray Linn, Mrs. Miles Manwaring, Mrs. Eldred Paulus, Mrs. Everett Rathfon, Mrs. Kenneth Riner, Mrs. Bernice Rush, Mrs. Max Smith, Mrs. Fred Surguy, Mrs. Sherman Bybee and one guest, Mrs. Roger Goodman.

Very lovely refreshments were served by the committee in charge.

The meeting was closed by singing "On The Banks of The Wabash."

Green Stamps help keep INDIANA PRICES DOWN!

Like the ads of local merchants that you see in this newspaper, S&H Green Stamps boost business. At the same time they help keep prices down.

Here is why: When a store sells more, it can sell for less, since bigger volume brings lower costs.

Stores that use S&H Green Stamps must sell competitively. Indiana housewives are expert shoppers. They read the ads. They check and compare prices. And they can't be fooled!

Trading stamps are being saved today by two out of three American families—about 35 million in all. And their use is still growing in this and other States.

For the best values, shop at the stores in your community that give S&H Green Stamps.

MISSIONARY CONFERENCE MARCH 20

The First Baptist Church of Mentone, will open its annual missionary conference Sunday, March 20th. The conference will continue through Sunday, March 27th with services each evening at 7:30 (EST) except Saturday. Sunday morning services will be Sunday school at 9:30 and worship service at 10:30 with the missionary speakers participating in both sessions. The schedule of speakers for the week will be as follows:

Sunday, March 20—Dr. Viggo Olsen, a medical missionary under appointment to go to Pakistan.

Monday and Tuesday—Dr. Jon Rouch, a medical missionary home on furlough from French Equatorial Africa. Dr. Rouch and his wife Betty, are members of First Baptist church and are making their home in Mentone.

Wednesday—Rev. Carl Anderson, Hebrew Mission in St. Louis, Missouri.

Thursday—Rev. Harold Nelson, missionary to the Hebrew people working with the Baptist son, missionary home on furlough from Ghana, Africa.

Friday—Rev. Merle Buckingham, a missionary under appointment to the Philippines.

Saturday—A missionary rally will be held at the First Baptist Church of Argos, Indiana.

Sunday, March 27—Rev. Thos. Clark, secretary - treasurer of Evangelical Baptist Missions.

Each of these missionaries will bring reports on their fields of service and inspiring messages from the Word of God. Most of them will illustrate their reports with colored slides, or with motion pictures of their work.

Arrangements for the Missionary Conference this year have been in charge of the Senior-Hi Youth Group under the supervision of Pastor Olson and the youth director, Brad Moore. The young people will be participating in each of the services and are responsible for the entertainment of the missionaries.

"Everyone in the Mentone area, both young and old, are invited to share with our youth and our church the blessings of this conference," states Pastor Olson. Come each evening.

CENSUS TAKING STARTS SOON

Ten years of population change in Indiana will be measured by the 18th Decennial Census of the United States to be conducted in April 1960 by the Bureau of the Census, Department of Commerce. The new statistics will bring forward the information last collected in the 1950 census.

In 1820, the first year in which it was enumerated as a state in a federal census, Indiana had a population of 147,178. In 1950, 130 years later, with a population of 3,934,224, it was almost 27 times as large. Indiana's population growth was rapid between 1820 and 1900. Its 1900 population of 2,516,462 was more than 17 times as large as its population in 1820.

Indiana's intercensal rates of growth in the twentieth century were more moderate than those for the nineteenth century. The most rapid rate of growth in the twentieth century occurred between 1940 and 1950 when an increase of 14.8 percent was recorded. The numerical increase of 506,428 over the 3,427,796 persons enumerated in 1940 was the largest in the history of the state.

In 1950 there were 108.7 inhabitants on the average for each of Indiana's 36,205 square miles of land area. In 1940 the average was 94.7. Among the states Indiana ranked twelfth in population and thirty-seventh in land area.

The territory of Indiana was organized from the western part of the "Territory Northwest of the River Ohio" in 1800, at which time it comprised nearly all of the present State of Indiana, together with an area now constituting Illinois, Wisconsin, northeastern Minnesota, and western Michigan. In 1802 an area now constituting the remainder of Michigan was added, and in 1802 and 1803 minor revisions of the eastern boundary took place. The area of the Territory was greatly reduced by the organization of Michigan Territory in 1805 and of Illinois Territory in 1809. In 1816, with the addition of a small strip of land along the northern boundary and the separation of an area in the Upper Peninsula, Indiana was admitted to the Union as the nineteenth state with boundaries as at present.

SPECIAL MEETING FOR FARMERS

Low cost grain and feed handling will be discussed Friday, March 18, 1:00 p. m. at the Farm Bureau Co-Op. Meeting Room in Warsaw.

Bruce McKenzie, agricultural engineer and Dick Weigle, farm economist, Purdue will discuss these ways to substitute power equipment for hand labor. Because of the high cost of machinery they will present ideas on doing this job economically.

Here are some of the general questions that will be discussed.

1. Investment comparisons of different kinds of storage, wet corn, dry shelled corn, ear corn.
2. What does it cost to own some of these labor saving items?

3. Storing high moisture corn.
4. What can we afford to invest? How can we cut the costs?

These topics are real important ones today.

IN JUSTICE COURT

On Saturday evening, March 12, Carl Hatfield, R. No. 2, Etna Green, was taken into custody by night Marshal Chester Miller, when found in an intoxicated condition in Mentone, and placed in the county jail at Warsaw, awaiting arraignment in the court of Justice of the Peace, C. O. Eiler on Sunday morning, at 8:30 o'clock, on a charge of public intoxication. A plea of guilty to the charge was entered by the defendant and a fine of one dollar and costs, amounting to seventeen dollars was assessed by the court.

HARRISON HUSTLERS MEET

Wednesday evening March 8, the Harrison Hustlers 4-H club met at the school. The meeting was called to order by president Larry Greulich. The secretary and treasurer's reports were read and approved. The health and safety report was given by Steve Shirey. Steve Hewlett and James Mickel are to give talks next month. Janet Besson, Monty and Phil Nelson gave brief talks on what 4-H means and does for them.

Mr. Hewlett spoke about the merit system which is to be set up to award the outstanding boy and girl of the year trophies.

The club's meeting date was moved from the first Wednesday night of the month to the second Tuesday night of the month. The meeting was adjourned and refreshments were served.

LADIES VISIT DONNELLY PLANT

The members of the Beta Epsilon chapter of Psi Iota Xi sorority, and their guests, the Misses Dorothy Christian and Janet Romine, and Mrs. Dennis Anderson, were treated to a trip through the R. R. Donnelly plant on Tuesday evening.

Mr. Briggs, plant manager, first gave information concerning their other plants, their work, and their hopes and plans for the future. Some items the company does are the rotogravure sections of Sunday papers, catalogs for many large companies, and the better-type magazines.

Rotogravure involves the use of copper-etched cylinders and prints both sides of the page at once. Much photographic-type work of a very precise nature is used in the process.

The ladies watched the material being printed on the huge press, which they were told cost one million, eight hundred thousand dollars. When the plant is finished they will have invested more than ten million dollars, and will employ more than four hundred workers from this area.

The ladies returned to the home of Mrs. Kent Riner for refreshments.

BEAVER DAM BETTER DAUGHTERS MEET

The meeting was called to order by our president, Dixie Bergstrom on March 7, at the school house.

Pledges were lead by Marilyn Horn. Roll Call was answered by "My First Boy Friend."

Secretary's and Treasurer's reports were given by Betty Smith and Linda Smalley.

Demonstrations were given by Linda Beigh and Mary Lou and Joyce Horn. Songs were led by Mary Lou Horn and recreation was led by Luana Teel and Diane Cumberland.

Refreshments were served by Mary Beth Boggs and Bea and Patty Walsh to twenty-three members, eleven mothers and one guest.

DIFFERENCE IN A CHEVY WAGON

Chevy wagons are widest where wagons should be—with the widest seating, the widest cargo space and the widest choice of power teams in the low-price field. Check any of the five handy, handsome new models at your dealer's. You won't find these versatile advantages in any other wagon near Chevy's size and price!

- Widest seating, front and rear—up to a full 3.1 inches wider in front, up to 4.2 inches in the rear.
- Widest cargo area—the load platform's a whopping 5½ feet wide, designed for a wider variety of cargo.
- Widest area between wheel housings—allows more room for bulky loads. ■ Widest choice of engines and transmissions—24 combinations in all, to give you peak performance with any kind of load. ■ Full Coil springs that ride right loaded or light—no other wagon near Chevy's price and size gentles the bumps with coil springs at all four wheels. ■ More road and ramp clearance—you can take full loads over bumps and grades without scraping bumpers. ■ Truly practical 9-passenger model—with roomy rear-facing third seat and electric roll-down rear window.

See Corvair for the wide, wide difference in compact cars! Every Corvair gives you a fold-down rear seat for extra storage space—at not a penny extra. And this is only one of many advantages you'll find in no other compact car in the land!

MERRY MOLLYS MET MONDAY EVENING

The Merry Mollys met Monday evening, March 14th at Pete's restaurant with sixteen members and one guest, Mrs. Claude Dotson present.

Mrs. Donald Horn was hostess and Mrs. Hershel McGowen co-hostess.

"Failure Could Be Spelled Success" was given by Mrs. Kenneth Leiter for the meditation.

The Club members and their families will participate in a diabetic test on Monday evening, March 21 at the home of Mrs. Marion Smith.

The remarks on citizenship were given by Mrs. Gene Sarber on Census taking. She stressed the importance of answering all the questions and answering them truthfully, as all information is confidential to the government.

The Lesson on Program Planning was given by Mrs. Al Runnells. The members divided into groups to discuss some topics for lessons for the coming year.

Mrs. Jerry Hudson received the door prize.

MERRY MIXERS CLUB MEETS

The Merry Mixers H. D. Club met Tuesday evening with Mrs. Don Rush. The meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. Larry Boggs. The history of the song of the month, "The Wearing of the Green" was given by Mrs. Robert Boggs. It was then sung.

The Secretary-treasurer's report was given by Mrs. Gerald Romine.

The group decided to have a Club constitution. A committee was chosen to write it and present it before the members at the next meeting. The president also chose the finance and flowers committees.

After the business meeting refreshments were served by the hostess and co-hostess, Mrs. Alton Perry. Twelve members were present including three new members. Those joining the club are Mrs. Robert Smith, Mrs. Glenn Haney and Mrs. Richard Kindig.

The door prize was received by Mrs. Larry Boggs.

Mentone Home Dem. Club Meeting

The Mentone Home Demonstration club met March 10 with Mrs. John Laird, and Mrs. Ter Mrs. John Laird. Mrs. Nora Teel was co-hostess. The March meeting was opened by the vice president, Mrs. Long. The history of the song of the month, "Wearing of the Green," was read by Mrs. Leroy Cox. For meditation, Mrs. Nora Teel read a poem, "The Human Heart," by Frank Carlton Nelson.

The Health and Safety report on "Cataract and Glaucoma," was given by Mrs. Leroy Cox. In answer to roll call, the ladies gave an unusual name of a person. The lesson, "Are You a Good Citizen?" was given by the club citizenship leader, Mrs. Opal Tucker. She emphasized points on how to meet and answer questions when the census taker calls in April. A skit by Bertha, Melissa, Maude, and Eve on a trip to and from club, their conversation concerning the census. Conclusion: "Be Prepared, Answer all Questions and Keep the Dog Tied or Shut up."

Program planning was by Mrs. Truman Long. We wrote a letter telling what we had done the past week. Eloise read a letter she had written when she received the lesson. A few ideas were gathered for lessons for 1961. Business was conducted by the president, Mrs. Elmer Sarber. Motion was made to send a donation to the IFEY program. Pennies for friendship were collected. Plans are being made for our 26th anniversary in April. Purchases in auction were made by Opal Tucker and Bertha Meredith. Esther Sarber won the mystery package, and the meeting was closed with the club prayer and song.

Refreshments were served to 13 members. Watch paper for date of next meeting.

O.E.S. TO MEET MONDAY EVENING

Mentone Chapter O. E. S. will meet Monday evening, March 21 at 7:45 in the Mentone Masonic Hall.

Mentone's Speech
Festival Winners
Receive Water
Works Bids

Mentone's fifteen representatives at the annual Kosciusko County Speech Festival brought home the medals last Friday afternoon. They received nine superior ratings and six excellent. This is the highest rating Mentone has ever had in the Festival. The nine superior students will receive bronze medals and the six excellent will receive silver medals.

The following won the superiors: Barbara Unzicker, Jerry Newton, Dona Kay VanGilder, Linda Surface, Linda Goshert, Janet Besson, Tana Henderson, Doyle Eiler, and Charles Gast. The excellent were Suellen Long, Janice Davis, James Mikel, Cheryl Horn, Martha Nelson and Sheryl Olson.

Mrs. Caldwell, a speech teacher, trained the group and accompanied them to Claypool. Also accompanying were Mrs. Del Nelson, Kathy Randall, Kathleen Doyle, Melvina Secor, Marsha Fisher, Bonnie Warren who served as a time keeper in the dramatic section.

Mrs. Snipes
Buried Tuesday

Funeral services for Mrs. Cosby Jane Snipes, 53, who died Saturday at 2 p. m. in her home in the Talma community, were held at 11 a. m. Tuesday in the Bethlehem Baptist church. Rev. Philip Robinson officiated and burial was in the Tippecanoe cemetery.

Mrs. Snipes had been in poor health for two years and seriously ill the past two months.

She was born Aug. 3, 1906 at Prestonburg, Ky. and came to the Talma community 23 years ago. Her marriage was March 1, 1928, at Prestonburg to William T. Snipes, who survives. She attended the Bethlehem Baptist church.

Also surviving are four sons, Ivory of Fort Wayne, Donald and Arnold of Rochester, and Albert at home; three daughters, Joyce, Catherine and Bernice, all at home; her father, David Osborn, Prestonburg, Ky.; one sister, Mrs. Bessie Banks, Prestonburg, and four grandchildren.

Receive Water
Works Bids

The Mentone town board received sealed bids for the construction of the proposed improvements to the municipal water works, at a special meeting held Tuesday evening at the town hall. The bids were for the construction of a 150,000 gallon elevated steel storage tank, extensions and additions to the distribution system, and a new well and pump.

About 15 bids were received. The two lowest bidders in each division are:

Division A—Elevated Storage Tank: Grover Tank & Mfg. Co., East Chicago, $35,970.00; Universal Construction Co., Indianapolis, $36,750.00.

Division B—Water Main Extensions: Atkinson Welding, Inc., Zionsville, $52,840.75; Berg Construction Co., Fort Wayne, $54,276.44.

Division C—Well and Pumping Equipment: Byron Lewis & Sons, of Cassopolis, Michigan, $4,510.40; Charles Zuber & Sons of Fort Wayne, $5,514.00.

The town's consulting engineer, the firm of Clyde E. Williams & Associates of So. Bend, advised the board to take the bids under advisement before announcing their selection. The tentative awards of contract will be made after the bids have been completely checked and studied by the engineers and the town board members.

Clerk-Treasurer Merrill Peterson states that the board is completing the arrangements to finance the project and anticipates that construction will be able to start by mid-summer.

LEAVES HOSPITAL

Roy Maxwell was removed from the Woodlawn hospital to his home Tuesday. He remains about the same.

COUNTERPOINT

By the Editor's Wife

Spring is here — "calendar-wise," one might say. The sugar-bird has been heard by my neighbor, Mrs. Rose. This sound always lifts one's spirit from the snowdrifts to the tree tops. It must have been this sort of weather at this time of year which prompted Shelley to write, rather wistfully we suspect, "O, Wind, if Winter comes, can Spring be far behind?"

We had hoped to be able to use a sketch of the old drug-store block which Reed Riner had drawn for his work on Mentone history a year ago, but it could not be made into a printing plate. Thanks, Reed, for your nice letter.

Reed asks this question: Was it "Oak Ridge" or "Little Chicago?" relative to the history of Mentone. We'll probably be getting some answers.

I watched our pair of redbirds in the feeder this past week. The heavy snow finally had forced the more timid male bird to go to the feeder to eat. The female joined him there and he promptly placed a sunflower seed in her beak. There was no way of knowing whether this was an act of chivalry, duty, or keeping peace in the family, so I can only wonder.

We enjoyed this: Among those things so simple that even a child can operate them are parents.—Changing Times.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. Farrell Coons of Rushville, Ind., are the parents of a son born March 22nd. The mother is the daughter of Oliver Teel, Mentone.

An eight pound two and one-half ounce son, James Charles, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Bryant of Piercetown Monday. Mr. Bryant was a former teacher in the Mentone school.

HAS OPERATION

Garrie Rose underwent major surgery at the Woodlawn hospital at Rochester, Friday morning, for the removal of a bowel obstruction. A cancerous growth was removed. Reports Wednesday were that he was showing improvement.

Former Resident
Dies Tuesday

Abraham Earl Wertenberger, 76, of Warsaw, died at the Murphy medical center Tuesday afternoon after an illness of five months. A retired mail clerk, he moved from Mentone to Warsaw in 1913.

The deceased was born near Mentone Nov. 21, 1883, the son of Ira and Lusina (Baker) Wertenberger. He married Evelyn Tucker in 1904. He was a member of the EUB church.

Surviving in addition to the widow are a son, Wayne, of R. 5, Warsaw; a sister, Bessie Bybee of Mentone; three grandsons; one granddaughter, and two great-grandchildren. One grandson and a sister preceded him in death.

Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at 2:00 in the Warsaw EUB church with Rev. Merrell Geible officiating. Burial will be in the Oakwood cemetery, with the Tucker funeral home of Claypool in charge.

Grover Eaton
Passes Away

Grover R. Eaton, 70, of Claypool, died Tuesday at his home near Burket of a heart condition. He had been ill the past six years.

Mr. Eaton was born Sept. 2, 1889 to Thomas and Kathryn (Bowman) Eaton and had resided in the Burket area all his life. He married Hattie Mathews April 9, 1910 and she died about 11 years ago. He was a member of the Burket EUB church.

Surviving are a son, Thomas of Warsaw; four daughters, Mrs. Jerry (Marcella) Cress of Elkhart, Mrs. William (Mary) Lotz of Silver Lake, Mrs. Harold (Iris) Jenkins of Elkhart, and Mrs. Herbert (Marie) Wright of Warsaw; two brothers, Victor of Burket and Alonzo of Billings, Mont.; three sisters, Mrs. Jake (Mertie) Weiss of Claypool, Mrs. Edwin (Addie) Sriver and Mrs. E. C. (Beulah) Good, both of Elkhart; fifteen grandchildren, and four great-grandchildren. A son, Ray, died in 1944, and another son and daughter died in infancy.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Thursday at the McHatton funeral home in Warsaw. Burial will be in the Palestine cemetery.

Mrs. Faurote
Called by Death

Mrs. Dean (Ollie) Faurote, 74, of near Burket, died Tuesday evening at the Murphy medical center. She had been ill for the past five years and seriously ill only a week.

Mrs. Faurote was born in Tippecanoe county, Ind., April 29, 1885, the daughter of Jacob and (Ruby) Ellen Boring) Dellinger. She was married to Dean Faurote in 1904. She was a member of the Burket EUB church.

Surviving besides the husband are three sons, Burl of Warsaw, Floyd of near Piercetown, and Richard of Bremen; four daughters, Mrs. Donald (Lola) McGill of Wellston, Mich., Mrs. William (Myrtle) Crawl of Etna Green, Mrs. Lee (Mary) Borders of Mentone, and Mrs. Raymond (Mabel) Penn of North Liberty; 12 grandchildren; 7 great-grandchildren; one sister, Mrs. Walter Van Ness of Elwood; three brothers, Alonzo and Lannie of Elwood, and Cletus of Dayton, O.; and several nephews and nieces. One brother and two sisters preceded him in death.

Funeral services will be held at the Burket EUB church Saturday at 2 p. m. with Rev. Lloyd Overmyer, assisted by Rev. I. E. Longenbaugh, officiating. Burial will be in the Palestine cemetery with the Tucker funeral home at Claypool in charge.

ENTERS HOSPITAL

Mrs. John Boganwright was admitted to the Woodlawn hospital at Rochester Monday suffering with severe pains in her neck and shoulder. It was reported Wednesday that she may be released Thursday.

SYRACUSE FIRE
DEPARTMENT BURNS

Fire broke out in the office of the Syracuse fire department Monday night and all the fire fighting equipment of the town and township were destroyed. By the time the fire was discovered, it was going so strong that firemen were unable to get out any of their equipment. Other fire departments in the area responded to the emergency call.

Many offers of standby equipment have been received, and the county firemen were to meet Wednesday evening to figure out ways and means to help the Syracuse department obtain equipment for protection until the equipment can be replaced.

If there were a set of Consumer Commandments they might read something like this:

I won't be misled by the dealer who lures me into his store with an attractive advertisement of a standard brand item and then tries to talk me into a higher priced off-brand item.

I won't be rushed into buying anything by talk of a "last chance."

I won't permit a household appliance, television or radio set to be taken from my home for repairs without first receiving in writing an estimate of the repair cost. I will get assurance that no additional charge will be made without my consent.

I won't accept an oral guarantee. I'll get it in writing, and make sure I understand what it says and that it protects me fully.

I will insist that all details of the sale be included in the contract. I will get a copy of the contract.

have ready what we have done so far in 4-H. April 11 is the Fun and Share Festival at Warsaw, Lincoln School. A committee was appointed to get an act or skit ready. Those on the committee are Patsy Smith, Sherry Bryan, Glenna Ridenour, and Sandra Eckert.

Devotions were led by Becky Hunter. She read Psalm 100.

Mrs. Conkle from Tot and Teen gave some tips on the fashions this spring.

Songs were led by Vicky Bowser. Delicious refreshments were served by Nancy Wagner, Connie Teel, Vicky Bowser and Lavina Bules. At the next meeting Janet Romine will be the speaker.

Good management can largely prevent pregnancy disease in ewes, Purdue University veterinarians point out. Ewes should get plenty of exercise, and during the last six weeks of pregnancy should receive enough grain to cause a slight, but steady increase in weight.

The Chicago Motor Club advises motorists to watch for pedestrians when passing buses stopped at the curb. Disembarking passengers, hurrying to make connections with other mass transit vehicles, often disregard auto traffic. A motorist must be alert for the pedestrian who forgets his safety rules in an effort to catch his bus.

Plenty of early-cut, high-quality forage will reduce the cost of raising your herd replacements. Purdue University dairy scientists say that three to four pounds of grain per heifer per day will be sufficient when this type forage is fed.

Announce Two New Popcorns

Purdue University announces two new commercial popcorn hybrids. Known as P410 and P632, they will be available for planting this year.

Described as superior by R. B. Ashman of Purdue's department of botany and plant pathology, the new varieties have been tested in Indiana, Ohio and Illinois for the last four years.

One of the new hybrids, P410, is a yellow mid-season variety recommended for planting in central and southern areas of these states. When popped, 60 percent of the flakes are mushroom type. The confectionary industry may find considerable use for this variety, explains Ashman, a popcorn breeder.

A full-season variety recommended for southern growing areas, P632 is a dent-sterile version of the widely known yellow hybrid P32. Dent-sterile means that during seed production the hybrid can not be contaminated by dent corn pollen.

Indiana, the top commercial popcorn growing state in the country, last year produced more than one fifth the nation's popcorn.

Seed of the new varieties may be obtained from the Agricultural Alumni Seed Improvement Association, Lafayette, Ind.

Indiana farmers have been inoculating legume seed for nearly half a century. Under a 1937 law manufactures of legume inoculants are required to register their cultures with the Indiana state chemist. Inspectors with the state chemist's office pick up samples of cultures from the open market and there are subjected to greenhouse testing to determine the accuracy of labeling.

Even when roads are dry, warns the Chicago Motor Club, bridges frequently are slippery. Moisture rising from streams freezes when it strikes bridge floors (creating serious hazards for motorists. Safe drivers always slow down when approaching a bridge. However, always release the brake pedal before reaching a slippery spot.

Begin examining alfalfa and clover fields to detect hatch of spittlebugs, warns Purdue University entomologists. The tiny nymphs may begin appearing during the last ten days of March. Spray early for control.

Proper use of the horn, says the Chicago Motor Club, is an important asset to safe driving. It is mistaken courtesy to refrain from using your horn at times when an audible warning would be appreciated by others, or could prevent a possible collision. However, blowing one's horn unnecessarily is an unpleasant occurrence.

A HISTORY OF MENTONE

By M. O. MENTZER,
Secretary Mentone Chamber of Commerce

I have reported the activities of the town board up to 1890. I will now go back to the beginning of the organization and the make up of the men who were active in the business of the town.

In every community there are certain men who stand out, those who are interested in the activities aside from their own business. If it was made my responsibility to pick such a man I would have to say that A. C. (Art) Manwaring was the spark plug in the beginning of the town. There were a number of other men, to be sure, who assisted but they joined in after A. C. worked up the enthusiasm. He was the type of man who would neglect his own business if he could do something for the benefit of the community. He was one of the first, together with his brother Loren, to get the merchantile business rolling. Their store was on the corner where the bank is now located; east was Sellers drug store, next Warney Kimes grocery, Hayden Ray harness shop (Don VanGilder's office), D. W. Lewis general store.

On the north side of the street was MC. M. Forst general store (Denton's and Lake Trail), Sal-inger Bros. General Store, McCormack drug store next, (Coopers) lots vacant at this time. Later the building was erected by Manwaring Bros. and their store was moved over there. At about the same time D. W. Lewis built the building across the alley (Ward's). The space between Lewis' store and the corner was occupied by the Morgan house. This was the home of John Morgan who owned the land between Franklin and Morgan Streets and north of Main Street. If any of you have an abstract for this part of town you will be able to identify this. The house was moved across the street by Albert Tucker and a family by the name of Hammond lived there. This left 3 or 4 vacant lots until the building on the corner (Dr. Davison) was built by S. A. Guy and A. G. Wertemberger in 1888.

In a previous article I have stated that the men who organized and promoted Mentone were young and active. They were out for business but they enjoyed a little fun as they went along. At this time the creek that flows at the south of town was not dredged and in the spring it would overflow its banks and look like a river. After the water would recede the fish would come up the creek to spawn. I have seen thousands of suckers in the creek after the spring rains.

There were deep holes and drifts which made an ideal place for the fish to gather. At this time it was legal to spear fish and as a boy I did my share. It was illegal to dynamite fish but there were always those who would do it. There was a blacksmith named Bob Lambert who was a very large man and was not very fleet of foot. Some of the men thought it would be a lot of fun to take Bob fishing. They took a corn cob, wrapped it like a stick of dynamite, put in a fuse and went to Bob's shop and asked him if he did not wish to go fishing. He said, "Not that way." They said no danger—no officers around and waving the stick of imitation dynamite, touched a red hot iron and the fuse started to sputter. They threw it down and ran. Bob out-ran all of them. They then proceeded to the Nickel Plate station where Nelson Clay was agent (Nina Manwaring's father). There was a man helping him who picked up the stick and withdrew the fuse. He was badly burned and this stopped that kind of fun.

Then there was a man who had visions. He knew where gold was buried. He would tell about seeing places up the railroad where the gold was so they organized a crowd to go help him dig. They had a hole started when "something" appeared on the edge of the place and said in a very shrill voice, "What is going on here?" There was no question about where they were going—the man who had visions was the first one home. I guess this ended his visions.

I will have to tell about the Mock Trial of Lem (Shorty) Latimer. After the town was organized and the election held, the fellows thought it would be fun to fool the marshal, Solomon Zentz. He drove the first dray wagon in Mentone and had bells on his horses. The fellows nicknamed him "Yankee Doodle", shortened to Yank.

They conceived the idea of having Shorty arrested for illegal voting. He lived with his mother, Mrs. Susan Sarber on the farm now owned by the Lackeys.

They prepared an affidavit accusing Shorty of illegal voting (he didn't vote). The marshal went to the hardware located on the corner of the alley east of Joe Baker's place, read the warrant to Shorty. He said, "Wait until I get my hat." He went to the back of the store to get his hat and went out the back door, the marshal after him. After running up and down alleys for awhile he allowed him to catch him, taking him before the J. P. Watt Wilkinson, a very dignified individual who wore a Van Dyke beard and looked like a stern judge. Shorty pleaded not guilty. Art Manwaring acted as Shorty's attorney. Melvin Summe, who later was elected prosecuting attorney of Kosciusko County, was the town attorney. As the trial progressed two men in the crowd got into an argument, the judge called on the marshal to restore order and while he was settling this argument Shorty ran away again. The marshal after him going through the streets and alleys finally overtaking him and bringing him back in court. In order to keep him safely the marshal put handcuffs on him. His hands were very small so he had no trouble to shake them off while a man was asking the marshal a question and getting his attention Shorty ran off again. Yankee called for help this time and soon recaptured him. The prisoner was wearing a cutaway coat, one having a long tail, so the marshal brought him in and sat on his coat tail. Again the marshal's attention was attracted by a disturbance but he would not leave his prisoner but as his attention was drawn Shorty slipped out of his coat and ran off again. Again he was captured. The judge was very much displeased and informed him that he was evidently guilty or he would not have tried to escape so often, so he pronounced judgment on him.

He informed the marshal that he was now responsible for the prisoner and would have to take him to Warsaw to jail or keep him in his home until morning. He also asked him to come forward and sign the commitment papers, which he did. The judge then informed him that he should never sign a paper until he had read and understood it thoroughly. He then read the paper which was as follows, "O. A. Bachler, please furnish a box of your best cigars to the crowd and charge to my expense. Signed, S. S. Zentz."

I was about 9 years old when this happened. I well remember my father coming home and going to bed. Every little while he would break out laughing. I guess it was funny to everyone but the marshal.

With all the fun there was a lot of serious thinking. Business was booming. With the Grist Mill, two saw mills, a heading mill and with the building of new homes there was work for carpenters, masons, etc. Most of the brick in the buildings was made near Mentone. Mr. Hammond had a brick and tile mill about where the underpass of the old electric Interurban railroad went under the Nickel Plate railroad. There was also a brick and tile mill one mile east of town just north of the place where Charles Manwaring now lives. This was operated by my uncle, Peter Mentzer and John Sellers. The brick for the American Legion Home was made at this place. Others I do not remember.

TO ORGANIZE HORSE, PONY CLUB

An organization meeting for a Kosciusko county 4-H Horse and Pony Club is scheduled for Monday evening, March 28 at 7:30 in the county extension office in the court house at Warsaw.

Members must own their own horse or pony, own a horse or pony in partnership, or have the use of a horse or pony for at least six months.

The purpose of this project is to teach boys and girls to care and train horses or ponies and to develop skills in horsemanship.

Judging at the fair will be based on horsemanship and how the horse handles rather than on conformation of the horse or pony.

If you wish further information, contact Jack M. Hart, assistant county agent, or Fred Olds, horse and pony project leader.

March Meeting of Palestine Homemakers

The March meeting of the Palestine Homemakers was held at the home of Mrs. Wilbur Perry. A delicious pot-luck dinner was enjoyed at the noon hour. The meeting was then called to order by the vice president, Mrs. Albert Tucker. The history of the Song of the Month, "Wearing of the Green" was read by Mrs. Mont Loher and then sung by the group. The club creed and pledge to the flag were given.

Mrs. Jesse Jones gave meditation by reading two poems, "Lord, I Don't Want to Sit Around" and "Be Gentle, Be Patient, Be Kind."

Health and Safety remarks about diabetes were given by Mrs. Edwin Shirey. She also gave the lesson, "Are You A Good Citizen."

The President, Mrs. Gordon Hackworth, had charge of the business meeting.

The eight members present answered roll call by giving some new product they had used.

The members will meet April 7 with Mrs. Albert Tucker.

REPORT ON STATE

D. A. R. MEETING

Mrs. Ray Linn from The Anthony Nigo Chapter, D. A. R., Mentone, who attended the D. A. R. Council Meeting held at Indianapolis March 16th, tells the following facts as brought to the meeting by Mrs. William F. Summerville, State D. A. R. Chairman of the Flag of the United States of America.

Mrs. Linn states:

Mrs. Summerville brought to our attention the careless attitude many folk display toward our Flag. She said, "Did you ever watch a crowd at a basketball game while 'The Star Spangled Banner' is being played? Some are lighting cigarettes, others drinking pop and some just visiting—anything but showing proper respect to our Flag." She also said, "It seems that many are not acquainted with their physiology. They place their right hand high on the left shoulder, or perhaps across the stomach, leaving one to wonder if they know where the heart is located." Salute to National Anthem
When the National Anthem is played and the Flag is not displayed, all present should stand and face toward the music. Those in uniform should salute at the first note of the Anthem retaining this position until the last note. All others should stand at attention; men removing the head-dress. When the Flag is displayed, the regular "Salute to the Flag" should be given.

Pre-inoculated alfalfa seed was offered midwestern farmers for the first time in 1958, Carter points out. Application of the culture weeks or months ahead of planting time is no better than application by the farmer immediately before planting insofar as establishment of bacteria is concerned he adds.

Plan now for the poultry pasture that will be used a year from now—in 1961. Purdue University poultrymen say that only by planning far ahead can you depend on having the right kind and the right amount in the right place and at the right time.

BEAVER DAM SCHOOL NEWS

The members of the sophomore class ordered their class rings a week ago last Monday. They should be here by the time school begins next fall.

The Kosciusko County Classroom Teachers' Association held a banquet last Thursday evening at the Westminster Hotel. Dr. Dean Berkley of Indiana University spoke on "Penetrating the Inner Walls." Those attending from Beaver Dam were: Mr. and Mrs. Jay Swick, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver England, Mr. Green, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Haney, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Malott and Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Reutebuch. Everyone enjoyed the evening very much.

Ten students from Beaver Dam with 13 entries, entered the county speech festival at Claypool last Friday afternoon. Two received superior ratings, four excellent, and seven good. Betty Smith and Dixie Bergstrom received superior ratings. Excellents were awarded to Rita Davis, Karen Perdue and Jean Swick. Jean won excellent in two divisions. Those receiving good ratings were Phyllis Ummel in three divisions, Linda Carlson, Sonia Smith, Sue Welty and Betty Smith. Mrs. Marie Holsinger and Fred Haney directed the speech students.

The Beavers were beaten on Monday evening by Pierceton in the county volleyball tournament held at Syracuse.

Glen Smith of the R. R. Donnelly & Sons of Warsaw, spoke to those students in the upper six grades Tuesday during the activity period.

Mr. Malott attended a county guidance meeting held in Warsaw Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Swick attended an in-service education art workshop in Warsaw three evenings this week from 3:00 to 9:00. Those attending were given the opportunity to get a broader scope of art education in the use of materials in the classroom. The theme of the workshop was, "Learn To Do By Doing."

Carol Baumgartner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Baumgartner and a sixth grader, won the elementary spelling bee. She will participate in the county spelling bee this Saturday over WRSW at 9:30.

ty spelling bee this Saturday over WRSW at 9:30.

Phyllis Ummel will participate in the regional Latin contest this Saturday in Warsaw. Tom Adams and Jake Haney will enter the algebra contest the same day. Mr. Webster is our Latin teacher and Mr. Green is our mathematics instructor.

Several of our music students will journey to Columbia City this Saturday to participate in the district music contest. The high school chorus will sing at 9:30, the junior high band will play at 11:00, and the high school band will play at 3:00. Albert Whitmore is our music instructor.

Lynn Lackey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Lackey and an eighth grader, won the 7th and 8th grade spelling bee and will participate in the county spelling bee on April 2 at Warsaw. This will begin at 9:30 and will be over radio station WRSW.

One-half sack of almost any analysis of commercial fertilizer will enrich garden soil, say Purdue University horticulturists. It can be added to each spreader load of manure and broadcast before the garden is plowed.

BEAVER DAM ATHLETIC BANQUET

The annual PTA basketball supper was held last Tuesday evening at Beaver Dam. Joe Long, coach of the North Manchester Squires and winner of the Wabash county sectional, was the speaker. He gave a very interesting talk. The mothers of the senior boys were in charge of the supper.

Those connected with the Junior High and high school teams were recognized. Mr. Adams introduced the junior high team members and Mr. Reutebuch introduced the members of the high school team.

Eight jackets and one sweater were awarded to members of the senior class. Those receiving jackets and the number of chevrons each received are: Howard Adams, 3; John Ault, 2; Howard Jones, 1; Kurt Shoemaker, 1; Allan Study, 3; Marlin Valentine, 4; and Dick Woods, 3. They received a B on the jacket with "All Sports" on the B. The "All Sports" signifies that they participated in all sports. John Ault received a star on his as he was chosen by his teammates as honorary captain and most valuable player. Roger Nellans received a jacket with four chevrons for being student manager, and Dixie Bergstrom received a sweater with one chevron for being yell leader her senior year.

Those receiving a varsity letter were Roger Bucher, Paul Holloway, and Jerry Lackey.

Those who received a minor letter last year and were recognized this year were Paul Bucher, Ned Heighway and Carl Marshall.

Those who received a minor letter this year were: Tom Adams, Jake Haney, Kent Jefferies, Ricky Nine, Gary Shoemaker, Dick Sittler, Gary Smith and Darrell Valentine.

Janet Miller and Diana Balenger received a yell leader letter last year and were recognized this year.

JUNIOR CLASS PLAY MARCH 25 AND 26

The Mentone Junior Class presents the play "Nuts in May", Friday, March 25 and Saturday, March 26, at 7:45, a 3-act comedy from the book, Cornelia Otis Skinner. High school has "let out" for spring vacation, and suddenly Cornelia Otis Skinner, a famous actress getting ready for an important opening on Broadway, is confronted by her teen-age son—a young man with a problem. He has gone "girl crazy" and wants his mother to drop everything to help him out of a hilarious mess. Then the maid quits, the house is invaded by a surprise television interview, and the author of Cornelia's play rushes in with a rewritten second act for Cornelia to learn before curtain time. The uproarious events, humorous dialogue, and the exciting look at an important actress frantically trying to get ready for an opening night and, at the same time, deal with young love, make this comedy an outstanding choice.

ORGANIZE GIRL SCOUT TROOPS

An Intermediate Girl Scout troop is being registered, with Mrs. Loren Tridle and Mrs. Claude Dotson as leaders. The troop meets at the Methodist church and is sponsored by the

W. S. C. S.

A Brownie troop is being organized with Mrs. Joe Boggs and Mrs. Allen Shirey as leaders, and is sponsored by the Mentone Reading Club. It also meets at the Methodist church. If any former Brownies have uniforms to sell, will they contact either Mrs. Boggs or Mrs. Shirey.

Troop committee members for these troops are: Mrs. Artley Cullum, Mrs. H. V. Johns, Mrs. Raymond Lewis, Mrs. C. G. Carter, Mrs. Ralph Skaggs, Mrs. Lewis Pulling, Miss Von Jenkins and Mrs. William Cox.

One Brownie troop has been registered here for the past year under the leadership of Mrs. Denton Abbey and sponsored by the Psi Iota Sorority.

There will be a meeting of the troop committee members, leaders and other adults interested in Scouting at the Methodist church on Monday, March 28 at 7:30.

Glen Snider
Buried Tuesday

Funeral services were held at the Methodist church Tuesday at 2 p. m. for Glen Snider, 73, who died at the Prairie View Nursing Home at 11:30 a. m. on Saturday. He had been in poor health for the past 10 years.

The deceased was born in Elkhart county June 12, 1886, the son of Judson and Elma (Haney) Snider, and had spent most of his life in the Etna Green and Mentone area. He was a retired farmer.

March 5, 1908 he was married to Ethel Easterday, who survives. He was a member of the Mentone Methodist church.

Surviving in addition to the widow are two sons, Harrold of Dayton, Ohio, and Hollis of So. Bend; four daughters, Mrs. Walter (Wylan) Bowers of Mishawaka, Mrs. Wayne (Mary Ellen) Thomas of South Bend, Mrs. Robert (Kathryn) Whetstone and Mrs. David (Doris) Cooper, both of this place, and 14 grandchildren.

Rev. Claude Dotson, pastor of the Mentone church, officiated, and burial was in the Mentone cemetery.

Ann Smith
Died Saturday

Julia Ann Smith, 77, of this place, died in her home Saturday at 8:30 p. m. after an illness of one week. She had resided in this community for the past 50 years.

Mrs. Smith was born December 16, 1882, the daughter of Perry and Carolyn (Bodel) Cochran. She married Andrew Norris who preceded her in death in 1905. She married Lawrence Smith in 1910. He preceded her in death in 1957.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Chester Carey, Zanesville, and Miss Mae Norris, Fort Wayne; a son, Oliver Smith, Bourbon; five grandchildren, and two great-grandchildren.

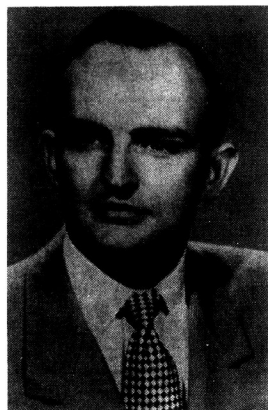

Rev. Irwin Olson officiated at funeral services held at the Johns funeral home at two o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

Burial was in the Mentone cemetery.

FORMER EVANGELIST TO HOLD MEETINGS

Leslie W. Grant, former evangelist of the Mentone church of Christ, has been invited to conduct a series of meetings with the church of Christ here next week.

After working with the church here for about three and a half years, Mr. Grant moved to Erie, Pennsylvania in August, 1956, to work with a small congregation. Presently, Mr. Grant is the evangelist of the church in Cadiz, Ohio.

Mr. Grant will begin the meeting here on Monday night with the sermon subject, "What is Saving Faith?" The service will begin each evening at 8 p. m., and the series of meetings will continue through Sunday, April 10. Other subjects to be discussed are: The Thieves, The Foolishness of God, Saul, You are not the Judge, The Blood of Christ, Bible Heaven, and Three Mistakes of a Fool.

The public is cordially invited to attend each service of this meeting.

TALMA JUNIOR CLASS PLAY

The junior class of Talma high school will present a three act comedy, "Oh Promise Me!" next Friday and Saturday evenings at 8:00 o'clock.

COUNTERPOINT

By the Editor's Wife

A letter was written to one of the Fort Wayne newspapers recently, from a man in Kansas who is seeking information about people, now living, who at one time lived in a log house. This is an interesting thought. Makes one wonder how many folks we have right in our own community who may lay claim to such an experience. Do you know anyone who can qualify?

And now that our snow is gone, what shall we talk about? (Or growl about?)

The robins are back; the crocus, one minute while I consult Webster, crocuses are blooming; the boxelder bugs are emerging; the windows are a sight, and so is the whole outside, but—it sure smells like spring!!

Grandson Timmy had a wonderful day, last Monday. Tim, his dad and Grandfather Harman were at the sugar-camp gathering sugar water for boiling to make maple syrup. He won't truly appreciate that day for many years yet.

We enjoyed this:
Doctor: "What's the old skin-fint complaining about now?"
Nurse: "He's angry because he got well before he ran out of medicine."—Lion.

BAND TAG DAY
SATURDAY, APRIL 9

Saturday, April 9 the senior band students will be conducting their annual Tag Day in Mentone. The youngsters will be expecting your donation towards a fund for the payment of their new band uniforms. Mr. Kenneth Bush, director, states that they still owe a trifle over $500 for the new uniforms.

AT THE HOSPITALS

Garrie Rose is up and around at the Woodlawn hospital after major surgery a week and a half ago.

Abe Whetstone, aged 98, is reported very low at the Woodlawn hospital.

Don Ernsberger is in the Murphy Medical Center at Warsaw, and although in better spirits today, is far from being a well man.

AWARDED GIFTS IN COOKING CONTEST

Three Mentone High School girls have been named winners in the 1960 Kroger-Westinghouse $100,000 "Junior Cook of the Year" search, it was announced today by L. R. Musselman, vice-president of the Ft. Wayne Division of the Kroger Co.

Judy Wagner, Mentone, will receive a 16-piece set of Community silverware for being among the state's best teen-age cooks and for the outstanding recipe, Apricot Souffle Pie, she submitted. Kathy Louise Menzie, Mentone, and Martha Jo Hohman, Claypool, each will be given four Mercury LP record albums. The recipe that won for Kathy is called Fruit Rolls and Martha's is Quick Barbecued Spareribs.

Their teacher, Mrs. Ralph Skaggs, will receive a Westinghouse transistor radio and the school will get a Westinghouse electric mixer for its home economics department.

This is the second annual Junior Cook search, conducted by the two companies to recognize culinary skill and to encourage interest in creative cooking among teenagers. Boys and girls 12 to 20 years old competed in 19 states.

TB MOBILE X-RAY
UNIT TO BE HERE APRIL 8

The Kosciusko County Tuberculosis Association announces that the mobile X-ray unit will be in Mentone on Friday, April 8, from 9 to 12 and 1:30 to 4:30, to make chest X-rays for all individuals over 18 years of age. X-rays are without charge and all are invited to avail themselves of this opportunity to get this vital information.

The X-ray unit is financed by the sale of Christmas Seals.

CALENDAR

Junior activities, Legion Auxiliary, meet Saturday, April 2, 2:00 p. m.

JOY Circle will meet April 5, 1:30 with Mrs. Herman Olson.

Mentone Reading Club will meet Wednesday, April 6, at the home of Mrs. T. J. Clutter.

Friendly Neighbors H. D. club meets with Beryl Jefferies on Thursday, April 7, at 1:30.

Mentone Home Demonstration club, April 13, 7:30, at Pete's Restaurant.

Mary Goodwin
Buried Monday

Mrs. Mary C. Goodwin, 79, of Mentone, died at the Alfran nursing home at Warsaw at 8 a.m. Friday.

She was the wife of the late Clayton E. Goodwin, longtime Mentone druggist.

Mrs. Goodwin was born March 10, 1881. She was a member of the Mentone Methodist church.

Surviving are a brother, John Shurte, of Wanatah, and a sister, Mrs. Roxie Wells, of Hanna. Mr. Goodwin preceded her in death in 1958.

Funeral services were held in the Reed funeral home at 1:30 Monday afternoon, with Rev. Claude Dotson, pastor of the Mentone Methodist church, officiating. Burial was at Westville, Indiana.

LOU GROVE
DIES AT TALMA

Lou Grove, 78, former New-castle township trustee, died at 10:10 p.m. Friday in his home at Talma of a coronary condition.

A lifelong resident of the Talma vicinity, Mr. Grove operated the first telephone exchange in that community after it was founded by his father. The exchange was sold to the Rochester Telephone Company in 1926. Mr. Grove also worked at one time for the U. S. Internal Revenue Department out of South Bend.

He was born in Talma May 14, 1881 to Simon and Elizabeth Mentzer Grove. On June 5, 1917, he was married to Celia Ann Bryant, who died March 25, 1957. Mr. Grove was a 55-year member of the Rochester Masonic lodge.

Surviving are three sisters: Mrs. Linnie Imler, Logansport; Mrs. Ara Byrer, South Bend, and Mrs. Lefa Safford, Waynesville, N. C.; two brothers, Oliver, Rochester, and Archie, Mishawaka, and several nieces and nephews. A brother, two sisters and his parents preceded him in death.

Services were at 2 p.m. Monday in the Foster and Good funeral home at Rochester. Rev. Daniel Slaybaugh of Akron officiating. Burial was in the Reichter cemetery.

Apply Dormant Spray Now

With winter's end approaching, it's time for Hoosiers to apply a dormant spray to shrubs around the home.

Don Schuder, Purdue University research entomologist, says a dormant spray will keep down infestations of scale insects, mites, aphids and a number of other pests always on hand to plague the home gardener.

Schuder defines a dormant spray as one which is applied after the leaves have fallen in the fall and before the buds break in the spring.

Here are some of the advantages for dormant spraying:

Shrubs are less susceptible to injury and stronger applications of insecticides can be applied.
As shrubs have no foliage, a more thorough coverage can be obtained and a less highly refined material can be used.
While shrubs are dormant the insects won't be feeding and it's possible to eliminate them before they start their destructive work.

Dormant spray materials commonly used are oil, lime sulphur and the di-nitro compounds. The latter are yellow in color and will leave a stain on stone, cement or painted surfaces. Thus, oil is probably the safest material for the homeowner to use on his shrubs. For evergreens, use summer oil, or superior type oil sprays to prevent injury.

Dormant oil applications are usually made with and actual oil content of three to four percent. These precautions should be kept in mind when making the application: Spray should not be applied when the temperatures are below 45 degrees —freezing temperatures cause the oil emulsions to separate with subsequent injury to the plant. The spray should not be applied just prior to a rain—it will wash off if it has not had time to dry. Sprays can, however, be applied immediately after a rain.

Purdue Extension Bulletin
168, "Protecting shade trees and Shrubs against Insects," will help answer additional questions. Indiana residents may obtain this bulletin without charge by writing the Agricultural Publications office at Purdue.

The Chicago Motor Club points out that expressway driving demands special techniques behind the wheel. Guard against frequently for rest and refreshment. Before leaving on any trip make certain your car is in top mechanical condition.

MEETING TO STUDY CHILD DISCIPLINE

Dr. Dorothy V. Mummery, Family Life Specialist from Purdue University and a child psychologist will present a series of meeting on Ways of Disciplining Children through under standing.

This series is sponsored by the Kosciusko Home Economics Extension Service. Mrs. Ruth McCleary, Home Demonstration Agent says the objectives of this series are:

To increase the amount of good, firm and understanding discipline in the home.

To make it easier to get the child's point of view, and to secure his willing cooperation.

To maintain good parent-child relations through understanding. In other cases, there are many conflicts between children and parents.

In this series of five discussions, parents will enjoy exchanging ideas on how desirable results are secured. They will also have opportunity to hear about some of the newer methods of control.

Some of the points to be emphasized in the discussion are:

1. What are some of the guideposts to wise discipline?

2. What kind of discipline trains children for citizenship in a democracy?

3. What are the effects of different kinds of discipline on a child's personality?

4. When and how do undesirable reponsives get started? (or undesirable behavior).

5. Methods for preventing undesirable behavior and for encouraging desirable behavior.

6. Getting off to a good start with toddlers.

7. Ways of securing willing cooperation.

8. The two-year old ventures out on his own (and appears stubborn) or That stubborn two-year-old.

9. What to do when the preschooler disobeys.

10. When you take him visiting to friends' home.

Obedience, punishment and rewards will be included in the series of discussions.

Dr. Mummery is a graduate of University of Michigan, Columbia University, University of Iowa and has attended Harvard, Cornell and Chicago Universities. She has had several articles published on childrens behavior and has had the responsibility and care of children in her own home.

Attendance will be by pre-enrollment for the series of five discussions. Each participant must have a child between the ages of 12 months and 5 years, 5 months. Enrollment will be limited to 15 couples. If you are interested contact your home agent at the County Agriculture and Home Economics Extension Office, basement of courthouse, Warsaw, Indiana—Phone AM 7-8971.

Parents do not have to be affiliated with the Home Demonstration program as it is a program to all who would like help.

These meetings will be held at the Lake City Bank instead of the First National Bank as previously scheduled, on Wednesdays April 6-13-20-27 and May 4, 7:30 - 9:30 p.m.

To Improve Your Lawn

Early planting of grass seed pays, according to W. H. Daniel, Purdue University turf specialist.

In Indiana, however, grass seed can be planted any time between Thanksgiving and April Fool's Day, with little difference in the time it actually germinates, since it emerges only as warmer weather arrives.

Daniel points out that the earlier planted seed grasses have a better chance of establishing a crown and reaching maturity than the grass that is planted late. Late planted seeds have to compete with crabgrass, disease and drouth.

"If you want to establish a new lawn this spring, seedings from two to four pounds per 1,000 square feet are recommended. This is enough to give dense cover of young plants, and follow the directions on the package of grass seed."

"To reseed old, established lawns, very light rates, a pound per 1,000 square feet, are usually adequate. If the turf area has uniform cover, an investment in fertilizer can be much better than buying additional seed," Daniel says.

For all Indiana lawns, fertilizers carrying adequate nitrogen are more beneficial, according to Daniel, and one pound of actual nitrogen per 1,000 square feet is a normal application. This is equal to 10 pounds of many mixed fertilizers, such as 10-3-7 or 10-6-4. Many new lawn fertilizers carry slow releasing nitrogen so have premium value as well as heavier rates of use.

FRANKLIN TOWNSHIP FARM BUREAU

On March 22, the Franklin Township Farm Bureau met at the Beaver Dam school.

A policy development committee was nominated and elected. Those serving are Leslie Welty, Leo Adams, Wallace Andrews and Laren Cumberland.

It was called to the farmers' attention by chairman Lee Norris that they should write Glenn W. Sample to let him know whether we are for or against the wheat bill.

Beaver Dam principal Ronald Malott gave Devotions and prayer.

Stanley Boggs who farms and is an archeologist gave a talk and showed pictures. He worked on the Ruins named Tayumal in Central America and lived at San Salvador, sponsored by Carnegie Institute, Washington, D. C. and the country of Salvador.

He also did work at the ruins of Zaweau near Huehuetenango, Guatemala, sponsored by the United Fruit Co., which owns a large part of the land in the Eastern part of Central America.

He said there was a need for students to enter the colleges in Central America so we could best understand them and their problems. They have students that come to this country, but very few enter their colleges.

The audience said that the talk was very interesting and educational.

GERALD ROSS HAS BEEN TRAVELING

Gerald Ross and father of Bannister, Michigan, were week end guests of Mrs. Charlotte Berry.

Gerald, grandson of Mrs. Berry, is home on leave from the navy, and in his travels has visited Pearl Harbor, Hawaii; Midway Island, Okinawa, Bunker Bay, Kobe, Hong Kong, Subic Bay, Philippines, Formosa, and many others.

Gerald goes back to Long Beach April 10 and then to school at San Diego for three weeks. His ship goes into the yards for three months, then back overseas to Australia.

"CHEMICALS AND OUR FOOD SUPPLY"

Some 250 invited representatives of agriculture and allied industries are expected to attend the tenth annual conference of the National Institute of Animal Agriculture at Purdue University, April 4 and 5.

Theme of the 1960 conference will be "Chemicals and Our Food Supply."

In Justice Court

On Sunday, March 13, Alfred Henry Free, of 3764 Jackson St., Elkhart, Indiana, was taken into custody by night officer Chester Miller, for failing to observe a stop sign, at the intersection of Franklin and Harrison Sts. in Mentone, and given a citation to appear in the court of Justice of the Peace C. O. Eiler, on Friday evening March 18.

Mr. Free, having failed to appear, a warrant for his arrest was issued by the court, and he was brought in for hearing, at which he entered a plea of guilty, to the charge.

A fine of One Dollar and Costs, totalling $29.70, was assessed by the court and paid.

Hostess To Country Neighbors

Mrs. John Teel was hostess for the March meeting of the Country Neighbors Club. The president Kathran Teel opened the meeting. The creed was repeated. Norma Pulling gave devotions. Roll call was answered by each member telling something outstanding about the club that she remembered from past years. During the business session it was decided to purchase two dozen chairs for the new library. Contests were conducted by Dorothy Herendeen and Kathryn Teel. The April meeting will be held at the home of Norma Pulling.

Buy Garden Fertilizer Now

It's not too early to buy fertilizer for use in the home garden or on the lawn, reminds Leslie Hafen, Purdue University horticulturist.

A good general fertilizer can be used for a number of purposes. Best mixtures for use around the home range from 4-16-16 to 16-16-16. Nitrogen, phosphoric acid or potash can be purchased separately if a complete fertilizer is not needed.

If the garden was seeded to a cover crop—such as rye—last fall, a 1-1-1 ration of fertilizer such as 10-10-10 should be broadcast at the rate of 6-8 lbs. per 100 square feet. The fertilizer should be applied to the growing cover crop a week or 10 days before the crop is to be plowed or spaded under.

The fertilizer should be turned to the bottom of the furrow for best results. Hafen explains that the nearer the fertilizer is to the surface the more it will aid the growth of shallow rooted weeds.

In garden spots without a cover crop, 8-10 pounds of 10-10-10 fertilizer should be applied per 100 square feet on top of the ground. This application should be made just before the soil is to be plowed.

The ground should be plowed or spaded in the spring about a week before the first crop is to be planted or seeded. The soil should be worked only as the crops are planted.

Very few, if any, garden soils require lime, and lime should be applied only when the soil test shows strongly acid.

GRADUATE FROM TV COURSE

More than a hundred interested homemakers in Kosciusko county completed the course on Money Management via WSBT-TV recently. This was a new way of presenting educational material to homemakers in the area.

The ladies went to South Bend today to get their certificates. Some of those from our area who completed the course were: Mrs. Lee E. Norris, Mrs. Dale Smith, Mrs. Sharon K. Senff, Mrs. Donald Wentzel, Mrs. Sharlene Ross, Mrs. Franklin Nelson, Mrs. Freeman Gruenewald, Mrs. Tom Harman, Mrs. Robert Hibschan, Mrs. Harold Eaton, Mrs. Wilbur Latimer, Mrs. R. Lloyd Miner and Mrs. James Rose.

Milking machine inflations and other rubber parts should be stored in a .5 percent lye solution, according to Purdue University dairy scientists. To prepare a stock solution, dissolve one can of lye in a gallon of water.

Indiana members of the Future Farmers of America will hold their thirty-first annual state convention at Purdue University, April 14-16.

A state "Minimum tillage" field day will be held May 5 at the Leon Johnson farm in Orange county.

A HISTORY OF MENTONE

By M. O. MENTZER,
Secretary Mentone Chamber of Commerce

My folks did not move to Mentone until November, 1884 after the election of Grover Cleveland. I was then 7 years old, and how well I remember that campaign. It seemed to me that it lasted all summer and that something was doing all the time. A rally at Rochester or Warsaw would mean teams and wagons with young women dressed in white with cut out stars on their dresses, flags flying, bands playing, and it was very impressive to a seven year old country boy.

After the election in which the Democrats were victors for the first time since the civil war, there was a jollification held here in Mentone. Great hollow logs were brought in, a big parade was held and the logs set up at several places in town, bon fires were made and hats burned—a wonderful time to be a boy.

I think the last celebration of this kind held here was in 1900.

Previously I mentioned Salinger Brothers store. Their father, whose name was Levi, had operated a peddling wagon thru the country and he had made quite a little money, so his sons came here and opened a general store. Being Jews, they carried a stock of men's and boys' clothing. After they had operated their store here a few years the father quit his peddling and stayed around the store. He was always quite interested in seeing someone come from another store to find out what they had bought.

A man by the name of Shields, who was interested in a clothing store in Warsaw, thought this might be a good place to open a branch store. This he did in the building now Dr. Davison's office.

Some of the devilish young men decided to have a little fun with Levi. They talked it over with Mr. Shields and he was willing, so they went to the livery barn, got a lot of horse blankets, took them to the Shields store and had them wrapped like a suit or overcoat. Levi was always standing out seeing everything, and when one came along, "Vot you got?" "Oh, I just bought a new suit at Shields." "Why didn't you come here?" "Oh, they gave me a big bargain." This went on for some time and it almost made Levi sick to think they were losing all that business.

I well remember the first safe I ever saw. Manwarings had just bought a new one and had it installed in the back of the store. At that time there was no bank here and it was necessary to keep quite a bit of cash on hands as all business was by cash, at least in the country.

My mother had sent me to the store for a jug of molasses, and in those days it came in barrels and was drawn out by a spigot. As I took my jug in and asked for a gallon of molasses, Loren took my jug and started to the back room to the barrel in which it was kept. In the meantime, like most kids, I was looking around to see what was new. Someone wanted in the safe and Loren handed my jug to one of the clerks to get the syrup while he opened the safe. I saw him working the combination and then my attention was called to something else. In the meantime he had opened the safe and the clerk brought the jug to him and he gave it to me. When I got home I told my mother that Manwarings had bought a new tank in which to keep the molasses. All they had to do was to turn some dials and fill the jug. My father informed me that this was a place in which to keep valuables, not molasses. My education was progressing.

While on the subject of molasses you young people who find everything in cans and packages, it was not always so. As stated before, the molasses was drawn from a barrel holding around 50 gallons. You have heard the expression, "Slow as molasses in the winter time." This was true and many a merchant went to the cellar to draw a gallon of the slow-moving stuff, went upstairs while his jug was filling, forgot about it and when he remembered he found syrup all over the floor.

Sorghum Very Drouth Resistant

Grain sorghum will hardly replace corn in the Corn Belt; however, Purdue University agronomists and agricultural economists agree that it may be a substitute on drouthy soils, hill land, bottom land and erosive land where corn or soybeans are not well adapted.

R. C. Pickett, Purdue agronomist, began sorghum research in 1956 by planting at populations of 60-80,000 plants per acre but soon learned he could go much higher. By 1958 agronomists were planting 360,000 plants per acre with a record yield of 246 bushels resulting at the Purdue Agronomy farm near Lafayette.

Single cross dwarf hybrids were the key to the unusual success at the Agronomy farm. Not only do these hybrids produce larger heads and seeds, but they are also easier to establish and the seedlings are more vigorous than former open, self pollinated varieties.

Sorghum, long known for its drouth resistance, withstood extreme flooding conditions in the Purdue trials. According to the agronomists, seed properly treated with fungicides will germinate and grow normally after being submerged 10 days or more. The sorghum plant demonstrates the same hardiness when submerged as do the seeds. If flooding occurs after the plant is growing, the plant will not be damaged, but will continue to grow so long as any leaves stick out of the water.

Feeding value of sorghum grain, when properly supplemented, runs about 90-95 per cent that of corn for hogs and fattening cattle, and 100 percent for dairy cattle, poultry and lambs. The grain, even though it matures, will usually need to be dried for storage the same as shelled corn.

For more information Indiana residents may obtain a free copy of Extension Circular 477, "The New Look in Sorghum," from their county agents or by writing the Agricultural Publications Office, AES Building, Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind. Requests should include both number and title of the publication.

Elizabeth Skaggs is secretary.

Farrowing House Moisture Control

Many farmers are encountering respiratory problems with their livestock, especially hogs, during the extremely cold weather, John Foley, Purdue University agricultural engineer, points out.

This is because many farrowing houses are almost airtight, leaving no way for moisture to escape.

Foley says sows can stand cold temperatures better than high moisture. Actually, about all that is needed in the farrowing houses, where there is a moisture problem, is a heat lamp to keep the pigs warm—the sow needs very little heat.

The tighter the house, the more respiratory problems. If farmers are using a "pull-together" type hog house, Foley warns against wedging the halves of the building together too closely. A two-inch opening at the roof line is sufficient.

Most farmers over protect their animals. Stock kept in tight quarters, often-times catch cold, or even pneumonia. Foley advises that with extended periods of cold weather farmers should watch their livestock kept inside a building. When frost begins to form on the roof and windows, ventilation is needed.

Farrowing houses are difficult to keep both warm and dry. Warmth has to be sacrificed to relieve dampness. Open sheds can be used year-round for larger pigs. If there seems to be too much air circulating through the building, a tarpaulin can be nailed over the top half of the door.

Foley recommends the use of asphalt impregnated insulation board between the sheathing and the roofing to help control the moisture problem. This will help keep the building warm in the winter and cool in the summer.

TO ORGANIZE GARDEN CLUB

E. R. Honeywell, horticulture specialist, Purdue University, and a member of the National Garden Club Association, will be at the women's building, Warsaw fairgrounds, Thursday, April 7, 1:30 p.m. to assist in the promotion and organization of a garden club in Kosciusko county.

Anyone, man or woman who is interested in belonging to a group that will study flowers, promote shows, etc., is invited to attend.

This first meeting is being sponsored by the Extension Home Economics Service under the direction of Mrs. Herbert McCleary, Home Demonstration agent, but after organization will no doubt be affiliated with the state and national garden club association.

Sheep's feet should be trimmed twice a year, in the spring and fall, remind Purdue University scientists. Be sure to trim enough in the center of the foot so the heels or toes do not rub together.

NAMED FOR JURY DUTY

Robert Kinsey and Robert O. Jones, of Mentone, have been chosen as jurors during the April term of court.

SOLDIER ADDRESS

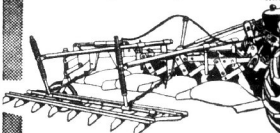

Staff Sgt. Larry Dean Flenar AS 16333343, 205th AACs Sqdn. APO 12, New York, N. Y.

Winter grains to be spring pastured need 30 to 50 pounds of nitrogen to speed up early spring growth, according to Purdue University agronomists. This nitrogen-treated pasture ranks at the top of the list for all classes of livestock.

Dormant oil sprays, or a combination of dormant oil and dinitro compounds, should be applied to give control and added protection against scale mite and aphid infestations on fruit trees, say Purdue University entomologists.

A larger percentage of dairy cows are bred artificially each year in Indiana and the United States. Purdue University dairy scientists say the best sires in the United States are being made available for use by this method.

Beaver Dam 4-H Agriculture Club

The Beaver Dam Ag club met at the school house on March 23.
The president, Roger Nellans, called the meeting to order.
Buni Barber and Mike Harold gave the pledges to the American and 4-H flags.
Janet Welty gave the treasurer's report.
Linda Sue Smalley led group singing.

Gerald Smalley, leader, congratulated the poultry judging team. Those on the team are: Phyllis Ummel, Roger Nellans, Betty Smith, Dixie Bergstrom and Carl Marshall. The first three will take part in the district contest at Huntington. Dixie will be the alternate.
Gerald made the junior leaders responsible for working something up for the "Share the Fun Festival."

David Haney gave a Health and Safety report on Polio.
Ned Highway gave a report on what he did at the junior leader training school at Wabash.
Films of the past 4-H tours were shown by Roger N. and Max Ummel and were very much enjoyed by the parents, members and guests present.

Refreshments were served to all present.

The club is counting on a State Police to be present at their next meeting, and say, "Hope you'll be there to enjoy this talk."

IN PANAMA TRAINING EXERCISE

Army Cpl. Thomas L. Hoover, 20, whose wife, Karen, lives in Columbia City, Ind., recently participated with other personnel of the 82nd airborne Division in Exercise Banyan Tree II, a seven day jungle training exercise in Panama. The exercise was designed to determine the combat readiness and responsiveness of Strategic Army Corps (STRAC) Units. It was the first field maneuver in which the U.S. reserved tactical roles for ground and air units of other American republics. Nations that participated with the U. S. forces included Brazil, Chile, Columbia, Panama and Peru. Corporal Hoover entered the Army in June 1958, completed basic training at Fort Benning, Ga., and is a jeep driver in Company C of the division's 325th Infantry at Ft. Bragg, N.C. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Hoover, Route 1, Mentone, he is a 1957 graduate of Mentone High School and attended Purdue University.

ADVERTISE! IT PAYS!

SINCERE THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks to each and every one for comforting words, cards of sympathy, the beautiful floral offerings; to Rev. Sweasy for his services, and every kind deed extended to us during the sickness and death of our loved one.

Your kindness will never be forgotten.

THE HAZEL GUY FAMILY

Purdue University veterinarians say calf feeding utensils should be thoroughly and carefully cleaned daily. Many cases of calf scours originate from improperly cleaned feeding equipment.

SIX-PASSENGER CAR OR STATION SEDAN ...CORVAIR IS BOTH!

A wonderfully useful folding seat makes every Corvair two cars in one. Just one quick flip and you increase the luggage and parcel space to 28.9 cubic feet. And just as simply, you're back to comfortable six-passenger capacity. It's standard equipment ... and extraordinarily practical.

Corvair does car-pool duty with the biggest and best of them. Going to work or school or out for the evening, you've got a genuine six-seater. As for carting around piles of stuff instead of people, just look at Corvair's station-sedan load space with the rear seat folded. And when that's full you can start on the trunk.

Corvair, you see, is no ordinary compact car. No others are so versatile, so ingeniously engineered—with independent suspension at all four wheels, an air-cooled rear engine that never needs water or antifreeze. You just can't compare anything else coming out these days with a Corvair. Drive one ... soon.

How much of the nearly $7,500,000,000 Americans gave to philanthropy last year did you contribute? Take a pencil now and add the contributions you made last year to charitable and other causes—ranging from weekly envelopes at your church to donations to the United Fund or other campaign in your community.

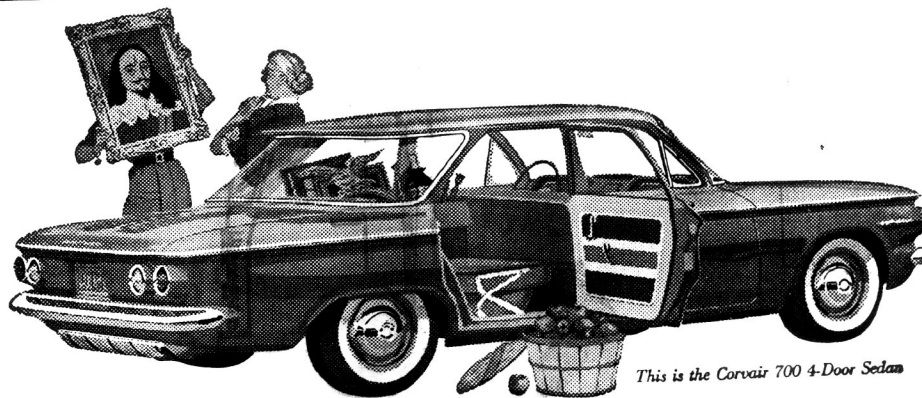

Are you satisfied? Do you think you put your money to the best possible use?

Why not try budgeting charitable contributions so you can follow your religious and humanitarian impulses most intelligently?

Establish a program for your giving. Make it flexible enough, however, so that you can respond to unanticipated needs.

Learn all you can about the causes and organizations to which you give. Try to determine the relative merits of competing appeals.

When in doubt about a particular appeal, check with your Better Business Bureau or other local community information services.
