The above is a conveyance of our feeling for the way our boys handled themselves on the floor this year.

We know that with all the pressures that have been brought to bear, they have proved to be champions.

The community of Mentone has been privileged to watch one of the best teams in the history of Mentone.

New Arrivals

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Fugate are the parents of a seven pound thirteen ounce daughter, Beth Ann, born on Sunday morning at the Woodlawn Hospital at Rochester.

Mr. and Mrs. Gael Johnson are the parents of a seven pound seven ounce daughter, Shara Sue, born on February 25th at the Woodlawn Hospital at Rochester.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Trump of R. R. 1, Mentone are the parents of a daughter born at the Murphy Medical Center.

WITH THE SICK

Mrs. Jim Leslie underwent surgery again Tuesday and is in critical condition. Special nurses are on duty for her. She is in the Murphy Medical Center.

Larry Lee Leslie, small son of the Jim Leslies is much improved this week after being quite sick with a virus infection. Mrs. Dewey Whetstone is caring for her grandson.

Mrs. Harold Utter entered the Murphy Medical Center in Warsaw on Tuesday. She underwent gall bladder surgery Wednesday morning.

Miss Robin Secrist, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ron Secrist, has returned home after undergoing minor surgery Saturday at the Murphy Medical Center.

TWO FOR THREE

The Mentone Bulldogs fell one short of another sectional crown. It seemed as though Mentone was jinxed in the final game. The boys missed layup after layup Saturday night. Several times they came within three or four points but just couldn't seem to close the gap.

SCORE BY QUARTERS

Columbia City	19	40	59	78
Mentone	14	30	53	69

However in the Warsaw game, which was hard fought throughout and I believe the final score was an indication of the game. Mentone had a great team effort with good scoring, good rebounding, and some outstanding play from the reserves.

Warsaw on the other hand was counting on one player and had their team built around him. In the fourth quarter when Mentone put two guards on Johnson, Mentone scored three quick baskets and from then on couldn't be stopped.

SCORE BY QUARTERS

Mentone	14	27	39	64
Warsaw	11	25	36	45

Leesburg, in the first game of the tournament that Mentone played was out to put the big Bulldogs in the bleachers for the remainder of the tournament but a press in the last half put the finishing touches to their hopes.

SCORE BY QUARTERS

Mentone	12	28	47	69
Leesburg	14	25	34	44

We felt that the attitude of all the players in the tournament was very good but we were disappointed with the display of poor sportmanship in the Warsaw cheering section during the Friday night session. If conditions like this are allowed to continue it will soon write a finish to the enjoyableness of high school basketball.

Too, when we allow ourselves to be pulled into the same action in retaliation is starts eating away at the moral fiber of a person or organization.

We hope that the feeling created by this sectional will not be longlasting, and that time will heal all wounds. TWH

COUNTERPOINT

By The Editor's Wife

About this time of year one begins to get a restless urge to change things in the house. One alert decorator suggests the following:

"Put away everything that is tiresome, ugly and useless, even if the place looks bare. Put out one or two things you always like to look at — a china plate or a piece of silver. Make a little composition of some of your favorite objects on a chest top, as if you were an artist, planning to paint a still life. Insist on glamour at home. It's largely a matter of imagination and caring."

The "thaw" on Monday turned our friendly, lazy little creek into a sullen raging stream, arrogantly spreading itself out and threatening to climb over the banks on either side. It will take a little time to transform this violent stranger into our own gentle brook.

Long after the disappointment of losing the tourney has worn off there will remain the warm glow of pride we have in our basketball team. Unkind remarks (which are motivated by pure jealousy) cannot change the fact that our team is outstanding and whose ability speaks for itself.

Saw the first Evening Grosbeak near our bird feeder on Saturday.

Dr. Kretzmann calls the fourth mark of the pagan age in which we live Nihilism, or a doubt as to the value of life itself.

He continues: "The task of the Christian Church in the twentieth century is to call sin by name, no matter where it may be found, in high or low places, in the disguise of culture, in the halls of learning, or in the very atmosphere we breathe. The issues are clear enough. Over against man's inhumanity to man, God's love; over against moral decay the living, healthful waters of the Gospel; over against the cynical appeal of the masses, the divine emphasis on the dignity of the individual human soul; over against the philosophy of power and blood, the tenderness of the Christ of the mountainside; over against sin, the forgiveness of the Cross."

Annual Meeting Of N.I.C.A.

The 32nd annual meeting of the Northern Indiana Cooperative Association was held at the Mentone school gym Monday evening with a good attendance considering the weather. About 140 people enjoyed the delicious ham dinner that was served at 6:30 p.m.

Following the dinner President Gerald Ballenger called the meeting to order and the reports of the various officers and department heads was heard.

There were 12 regular and four special directors' meetings during the year and all directors were present for every meeting except one who was unable to be present because of the snow.

It was reported that sales for the year increased to $1,054,263 from $963,881 for the previous year. Profit from operations increased to $18,252 from $11,272 and net earnings refundable to patrons and stockholders was $16,780, an increase of $7,400 over 1961 operations.

During the year the firm engaged in the raising of pullets and placing them with raisers in the immediate area. This operation increased the revenue and made a big difference in the sale of feed from the mill.

Chairman Ballenger reported that 94 stockholders voted by mail and three by proxy and 48 present were eligible to vote for directors. A list of candidates had been previously nominated and the names of five men were written in by the voters voting by mail. Three directors were to be elected to fill the vacancies by the expiring terms of Elmer Hoffman, Everett Besson and Philip Lash. The latter two declined to be candidates to succeed themselves. Mr. Hoffman, Kermit Zent and Leroy Wise were elected as directors. The balloting showed:

Elmer Hoffman 83.
Owen Snider 45.
Kermit Zent 92.
Forrest Meredith 48.
Arthur Kendall 53.
Leroy Wise 89.

At the organization meeting of the directors, as reported elsewhere in this issue, resulted in Mr. Ballenger being renamed president; Elmer Dickey, vice president, and Leroy Norris, secretary.

Lenten Services At Methodist Church

Sunday evening a series of Lenten services opened at the Mentone Methodist Church. This is a cooperative service of the Burket, Palestine and Mentone Methodist churches. The theme is, "Eyewitness at the Cross".

At the first service Rev. Glenn R. Campton spoke in the first person and the title of his sermon, "My Name is Judas". He stressed the greed for riches that prompted Judas to betray the Lord and his failure to seek forgiveness.

Special music consisted of a duet by Earl Dye of Kokomo and Mrs. Marguerite Campton entitled, "Have You Any Room For Jesus?" Mr. Dye also sang two solos, "He Died For Me" and "O Lord, Be Merciful". About ninety persons attended this first service. These also enjoyed a fellowship hour in the church basement following the service.

These services will be held for five more Sunday evenings at 7:30 p.m. Next Sunday Rev. Clyde Byers of the Burket Parish will speak from Peter's point of view. Special music will be presented by the Mentone Methodist choir.

Delay Grape Pruning

Grape vines in Indiana, exposed to extremely frigid temperatures this winter, should be pruned with unusual care, observes Jerome Hull, Jr., Purdue University extension horticulturist.

Ordinarily, established grape vines four years or older are cut back to four or five long canes of last year's growth and eight to ten buds, or eyes, are left on each cane.

Homeowners desiring to prune their grape vines now should leave seven to ten canes. If all of these are alive by mid-April, remove the surplus. The extra canes, or arms, should be cut back to two buds from the main stem. Canes will develop from these buds this year and produce the bearing wood for next year's crop. Grapes are produced on new wood arising from the live buds of last year's growth.

He says that if pruning is delayed until all danger of freezing weather is past, cut the vine to four long canes and three or four renewal spurs each containing one or two buds. "Bleeding" of cut vines during early spring doesn't injure the plants.

Services will be in the Reed Funeral Home at 3:00 p.m. Friday with Rev. Irwin Olson officiating. Burial will be in the Summit Chapel Cemetery.

More Feeder Cattle

Indiana farmers are feeding substantially more cattle and calves now than a year ago.

State-federal agricultural statisticians at Purdue University estimate the January 1 total at 225,000 cattle and calves on feed for slaughter market. This is 13 per cent more than a year earlier and four per cent more than average.

Cattle on feed three or fewer months totaled 156,000, compared to 145,000 on January 1, 1962. Animals on feed longer than three months numbered 69,000. Cattle placed on feed during last October through December totaled 159,000, five per cent more than during the same quarter of 1961.

Cattle weighing 900 pounds and more numbered 36,000 on January 1, down 28 per cent from the January 1, 1962, total of this weight animals.

During the last three months of 1962, farmers sent $5,000 cattle to market, compared to 74,000 sold in the same quarter of 1961.

Farmers indicated they plan to sell 75,000 fed cattle during the first three months of 1963, one per cent more than marketings for the first quarter of 1962.

Harrison Hustlers Met Recently

The Mentone Harrison Hustler's 4-H Club is hard at work during this week. As you readers know, this week is "National 4-H Club Week". The members of our club are holding their sales campaign for safety flares during this special week.

The flares they are selling are non-explosive and can be safely carried in any auto. Each flare burns for 1/2 hour, providing ample time for protection while changing tires, etc. The package of four flares is enclosed in an attractive bag which can also be used for a litter bag.

Each car or truck you own should be equipped with safety flares. They might be your lifesaver in case of trouble on a busy road in foul weather or at night.

Remember, safety flares are available from our club members during "National 4-H Club Week". Dave Norris

History Of Home Dem. Clubs

We are finding several interesting stories regarding the early history of home demonstration clubs in the county. In Tippecanoe Township the women would go with their husbands to Farm Bureau and have a separate session. Mrs. Belle Mock, North Webster, says they learned to dye velvet by tying string around bunches of material making designs such as stars, circles, etc. They then learned to make hats from the velvet which they wore with dresses they had made. Mrs. Mock said at that time she had a 23 inch waist and her dress had 22 yards of velvet in it.

They also learned to make dress forms and made suits out of men's suits. They cut up old linoleum into rug size, turned it over, painted a design on them after the background had been painted. This type of work was done at the old North Webster school. Each member had brought a recipe and showed how to make it.

Miss Elder would also come out from Warsaw and give lessons on home nursing. They would often mend for a member who was ill. At one meeting held at Laura Himes they made a star quilt which they sold and used the money for a community project.

The Prairie Township club was organized in 1923 in the Atwood School. Lella Burt was elected president. One of their early lessons was on bread making. The group later took a survey of the townships to see how many women made their own bread. When hats were modeled at achievement day the club was in charge of the play. Other lessons were removing paint, remodeling kitchens, and buying small kitchen equipment, soap making, cooking meats, and cheese and jelly making. Leaders during the early years were Pearl Anglin, Mildred Powell, Ercial Lucas, Nettie Klinger, Golden Dunnick and Ruth Fawley.

The only original member of the club who has held continuous membership is Miss Edith Klinger of near Atwood. Other original members living and who were out for a few years and then reinstated are Mrs. Bert Bowers, Mrs. Marshall Yeiter and Mildred Byrer.

'Miracle' Drugs

Widespread use of antibiotics to treat simple infections such as the common cold is producing resistance to the drugs rather than relief from the ailments, according to a report given by Dr. J. H. Greenwood at the University of Texas. "Promiscuous" use of antibiotics has resulted in more and more persons carrying streptococci and staphylococci that are resistant to penicillin and similar drugs. Excessive protective therapy of this type upsets the equilibrium of the human body and actually promotes growth of antibiotic-resistant germs.

A hot flame from a mixture of oxygen and nitrogen is necessary to make some glass soft enough to be shaped by a glass blower, reports Chemetron Corporation, which supplies gases to this small but vital industry. Hardest is quartz, with a melting point of 3,400 degrees F., and softest is lead glass, which will turn molten at 600 degrees. Glass blowing is a key to production of custom-made laboratory ware, from simple pipettes to complex pumps.

Human memory is not stored instantaneously, but requires a substantial period for mental activities involved in the storage process to complete their tasks, according to Prof. Edward L. Walker, University of Michigan psychologist. What a person learns when emotionally aroused is more easily recalled a week later than immediately after it is learned. But things absorbed during a period of calm, while clearly recalled just afterward, fade from memory quite rapidly.

Baptist Church News

"Operation 100% Faithful" was the slogan of an attendance drive at First Baptist Church during the month of February. All persons attending the church or Sunday School were urged to attend all the services of the church for the entire month. This included the Sunday School, morning worship service, evening service and the prayer service. Each person was asked to register at every service that he attended and accurate records were kept for the entire month. The records show that the congregation was 62% faithful to the total church program. Also that 32 persons (14%) were 100% faithful in not missing a single service during the entire month. There were 45 persons in this group until the last Thursday evening when many became ill with the flu. We wish to thank all of our people for their cooperation in this effort and especially Mrs. Charles Hunter, our Sunday School secretary, who kept all of the records.

This week the members of the congregation are busy taking a Sunday School census of the rural area surrounding the city of Mentone. This is being done to learn where people are attending Sunday School and how many are not attending anywhere. The census sheets of folks who are members of other churches will be turned over to the pastors of those churches for follow-up work, and the statistics from the census will also be made available to each of the churches in the community.

PIONEER'S Proved... Improved

BABY PIG FEEDING PROGRAM

Pigs on sows produce a TON of GAIN on a TON of PIONEER!

Pigs that get started right usually stay ahead — clear up to market! It takes only 5 lbs. of Pioneer Pig Tasties and 35 lbs. Pig Starter to push pigs on sows past 40 lbs. live weight. Start this year's pigs out RIGHT — on PIONEER!

PIONEER

Pig Tasties Pre - Starter

Feed 5# per pig

Highly palatable... baby pigs love 'em... eat 'em by the time pigs are 7 days old! High in milk products... vitamins, proteins, and carbohydrates — all easily digestible in the baby pig's delicate digestive system.

A new feature of PIONEER Pig Tasties makes carbohydrates more completely available to the baby pig than ever before... more available energy means bigger pigs on less feed.

For the first time, scour causing bacteria (both gram-positive and gram-negative bacteria) can be controlled with NF-180 PLUS Terramycin in PIONEER Pig Tasties!

One pound of PIONEER Pig Tasties produces one and two-thirds pounds of pork... at a time when the baby pig needs available nutrients, vitamins, and disease-fighting drugs.

PIONEER

Pig Starter

Feed 35# per pig

PIONEER Pig Starter produces healthy 40-pound pigs in less than eight weeks. Pioneer Pig Starter has been improved with special ingredients that make energy and carbohydrates even more available. Highly palatable, Pioneer Pig Starter performs under a vast range of field conditions. Contains 75 grams streptomycin and 15 grams penicillin... plus arsenic acid. We recommend Hygromycin in Pioneer Pig Starter to control worms during this most important time in the pig's life.

Course Offered At Purdue

Purdue University will again offer an eight-week program in the life sciences for 40 high school juniors of high ability during the 1963 summer session June 17 to August 9.

This summer science training program is underwritten by a grant from the National Science Foundation in the amount of $20,290, plus additional financial support from the Purdue Research Foundation and Purdue University.

Only one or two students of the top 10 per cent of any school will be accepted.

High school principals will receive blanks and brochures explaining the program, according to Dr. James L. Ahlrichs, Purdue agronomist, who will direct the 1963 summer program.

Students will receive class room and laboratory instruction, take field trips and carry out research projects under research staff members. Purdue's schools of agriculture, home economics and veterinary science and medicine will cooperate in the eight-week science training program.

Lower Prices On Canned Goods

With prices on many fresh and frozen fruits and vegetables rising, homemakers may find the lower prices on canned goods appealing, comments Elkin Minter, home management specialist at Purdue University.

The big supplies of fruits and vegetables that were produced last year, on top of the hefty carryover from 1961, have pushed prices of most canned fruits and vegetables well below last year's level.

Prices of canned corn and tomato products are noted especially low. Many canned tomato items currently sell below the cost of production. Ketchup and juice may be particularly good buys now.

There are large supplies of canned green beans, applesauce, fruit cocktail, pears, red tart cherries and peaches. All may be economical buys at the market.

To judge the best form of produce to buy, compare the prices of each—canned, fresh, frozen. A careful shopper always figures the price per ounce (or serving) and buys the one that best suits her family's needs. Remember that the best buy often varies week to week. The form that is in abundant supply is usually the most economical one.

When buying fresh produce, remember there is some waste in preparing the food, and consider this amount when figuring the price. Frozen and canned foods are ready to use without waste.

Corn Loss Survey

Indiana farmers lost more than 16 million bushels of corn last year from attacks by European corn borer, corn earworm, corn leaf aphid and birds.

Ray T. Exerly, Purdue University research entomologist, based this estimate on the 1962 corn insect survey.

Heaviest infestation of corn borers was in Jasper and Pulaski counties. Hardest hit corn field was in Jasper County where the entomologists found 3.5 borers per stalk and 88 per cent of the stalks infested. They noted also that potato fields were heavily infested by corn borers in these two counties.

The western third of Indiana showed an increase in corn borer infestation and loss, but elsewhere corn borer losses were less than in 1961.

Corn leaf aphid infestation last year was larger than in 1961 with a decided increase in the northern half of Indiana. As in the case of the corn borer, the western third of the state had the highest infestation and loss. This insect is believed to be brought into Indiana each spring by winds.

Southwestern Indiana suffered greatest losses from corn earworm, although somewhat less than in 1961. The rest of the state, except the southeastern area, showed marked increases in corn earworm infestation.

Bird losses accounted for about a third of a bushel of corn per acre.

With the exception of heavily infested fields chemical controls for corn insects were not practical. Purdue researchers are investigating the development of hybrid corn varieties which will resist or tolerate insect attack.

Indiana Peach Crop Lost

Indiana's severest winter of the century has wiped out the state's 1963 peach crop, reports Jerome Hull, Jr., Purdue University extension horticulturist. The week long siege of brutal cold killed the fruit buds formed last summer with the result that this year's crop won't materialize. Indiana's commercial peach production normally is about 400,000 bushels.

Most of the state's commercial production comes from LaPorte County in northern Indiana and Knox County in southern Indiana. Hull said that the LaPorte County crop was also killed by frigid cold in 1962.

The arctic air, which skidded temperatures to as low as 35 degrees below zero in southeastern Indiana, not only killed peach buds, but also damaged the trees.

Effect of the cold wave on the state's 1963 apple crop has not yet been determined. However, most varieties grown in Indiana are winter hardy and probably withstood the frigid blasts.

Strawberries that had been properly mulched probably will survive.

Horticulturists at Purdue University advise cleaning stored gladiolus corms now if you have not already. Get them ready for the gardening season ahead by removing the old corms.

Gloxinias For Indoor Bloom

Few house plants have larger, more beautifully colored flowers, or richer, dark green leaves than the gloxinia, notes Don Scheer, Purdue University extension horticulturist. And gloxinias are more striking all the time—many of the new hybrid varieties produce flowers that measure five inches across.

To grow beauties, start gloxinias from tubers during the winter and they'll bloom beautifully in a few weeks. Plant each tuber in a standard five inch flower pot so that the concave (or sometimes flat) side is up. A soil mixture of one-half peat moss and one-half good top soil is a good bet. Plant the tuber so it is covered with half an inch of soil. Then put your gloxinia in a fairly warm place and don't water it too much.

When they have sprouted, increase watering and keep the gloxinias in bright light, but protect them from direct sunlight. Or grow them under fluorescent tubes. Plants with too little light grow tall and lanky and flower poorly.

For additional information write the Agricultural Publications Office, Purdue University, Lafayette, Indiana, and request Mimeo HO-2, "Gloxinias and Their Relatives". Single copies are free to Indiana residents.

News Deadline—Wed. Noon.

Fashions Bloom In Color

Spring fashions will bloom in a rainbow array of clear, porcelain shades or blossom in one of the "no-color" bleached hues, forecasts Lois Folk, Purdue University clothing specialist.

Neutral shades of string, oyster, oatmeal and greige are among the chalky near-whites that will be seen extensively in fashions for children and women. A variation on these will be banana and pale golden shades. For sportswear, the "no-colors" are often brightened with bandana red or blue trimmings.

Clear pinks are one of the bright colors favored this spring. Pink may have a yellow toning or a tinge of mauve, but none of the pinks will be glaring. Deeper and brighter, the rosy reds and berry shades are also popular.

Green, too will be seen a great deal. In addition to the always flattering colors of sea-foam and peacock watch for the grassy tones of green, such as asparagus or avocado.

The old standbys, bright navy and medium blue, will both be widely used, too.

Spring's colors can stand alone, but are even more effective when combined in prints. Clean, clear geometrics and stripes (plus a few checks), florals, watered or impressionistic patterns are high in fashion. Pastel paisleys and Spanish tile motifs are also forecast.

Neutral and bright colors blend together beautifully, but bright will combine with bright for a bold splash of color. A favorite combination of brights is the ice cream shades of pink and yellow.

Food economics (thanks to Charles V. Neal, Jr.) Plan for leftovers. Think in terms of a weekly menu. Read your newspaper ads for food specials.

A new book is suggested for those who are interested in our country's well being. It is "The Fringe On Top" by Stanton Evans with Allan H. Ryskind and William Shulz. (American Features Book.)

A short review of this book was given in the Fort Wayne News Sentinel recently. It says: The authors have prepared a lucid, intelligent survey of the activities of the socialist establishment in its seat of immense power in Washington. The writers describe the transfer of vast powers in the superabundance of Presidential programs and proposals that the Congress emasculate itself, even as the spirit of the U.S. Constitution is vitiated by the Supreme Court. Arbitrary executive power is a reality, as ponderous governmental machinery is wielded to intimidate industry and business, the book charges.

This may be called "a primer of dirty politics", for it is right-fully an appraisal of the deterioration of national politics into savage power-plays with the prize total control of all facets of American life.

BEAVER DAM TAKES ALL

Beaver Dam got back into the limelight, as far as basketball is concerned, by winning the Junior High Basketball Tournament Monday night.

They defeated Claypool 33 to 25 in the championship tilt at the Claypool gym. The game was close until the last quarter when the Beavers pulled away.

Fouls played an important part in the triumph. Claypool outscored the winners from the field but the Beavers hit 13 free throws to only three for the future Knights. Claypool was called for 15 personal fouls, Beaver Dam only three.

Beaver Dam had its troubles as about two minutes were gone in the second quarter before they could score a field goal. Claypool held a 9-2 first quarter advantage but saw it narrowed to 11-10 at halftime. The Beavers went ahead 17-15 at the end of three periods and then lengthened the lead in the last six minutes.

Two players—Dan Manwaring and Dave Hostetler—scored 27 of the Beaver's 33 points. Manwaring tallied 15 and Hostetler 12. McKenzie led Claypool with 16 points.

Beaver Dam is coached by Lavon Harman. There are approximately 218 boys and girls enrolled at the Beaver Dam School, which houses 7th and 8th grades.

APPROVE TRANSFER OF NEWCASTLE TWP.
PUPILS

The trustee of Newcastle Township, George Craig and the members of the Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation have entered into a contract whereby students in grades 9 through 12 from Newcastle Township will be transferred to the Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation beginning with the opening of the school year 1963-64.

The Tippecanoe Valley School Board has of yet been unable to agree on a total plan for school operation for the school year 1963-64. All are in agreement that Road 600 will be the dividing line for High School students in grades 9 through 12 with all students on Road 600 and North of Road 600 going to Mentone High School and all High School students South of Road 600 going to the Akron

High School. The only exception to this might be seniors who desire to finish high school where they had attended the year before or students that might transfer out of the corporation in accordance with the Board Policies.

The School Board of the Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation has yet to resolve the exact attendance areas for the grades 1 through 6 and 7 and 8.

TO RECEIVE CERTIFICATE

Mr. Ed Davis, superintendent of water works for Mentone, recently attended the Water Works Operators Short School held at Purdue. He successfully passed the Voluntary Water Works Operators exam. This program is designed to develop and recognize the necessary capabilities for a man to operate a water supply facility properly. Ed will receive his certificate at the district water works meeting in September. We want to congratulate him on this award.

COUNTERPOINT

By The Editor's Wife

Now here is a statement to ponder!

"One of the qualities of truly intelligent persons is the ability to disagree with integrity and without injury to friendships existing between them."

Here is a good spot to explain that T.A.R.S. stands for Teen Age Republicans.

Goldie Kesler reported one hyacinth up (last week) and Viola Adams writes (thanks for the kind letter) to say that at the lumber yard they have some moss roses blooming. They have "babied" the plants along. The blooms last just one day, but they enjoy them.

The symbol for the 1964 World's Fair to be held in New York is the Unisphere. It is a 12-story stainless steel frame globe with model earth satellites circling the globe.

Are you constantly disappointed in your relationships with other people? Perhaps it's because you are not a realist. In other words, you have not learned to make allowances for other people. No one is perfect. Every friendship will have its strained moments, dull days, and misunderstandings. Flexibility is the one great factor in handling these relationships—the ability, in one's self, to adjust (without tension) to these changes.

Here is a question asked by Raul Tinlay, author of "Kids, Crime and Chaos". You answer it for yourself, as I'm honestly trying to do. Here is the question, "Do we (in America) really like kids? Or do we all too often give our children all material resources without a warm understanding of the normal problems and rebellions of adolescents?"

Food economies—Pay attention to weights and measures. Don't buy in large quantities unless you will use all of the item purchased. Remember what grandmother used to say, "Some women can throw food out the back door faster with a teaspoon than her husband can shovel it in the front door."

consider these facts by Roger Freeman of the Hoover Institution in California. (Mr. Freeman has been called "the most reliable authority upon public school finance.")

Mr. Freeman points out "that for the past five years states and communities have been building 70,000 classrooms a year, without federal help.

There is every reason to suppose that local school boards and state authorities can continue to afford to build some 60,000 classrooms per year for the next decade—fully sufficient to meet any reasonable need—without drawing from the federal treasury.

In fact, the classroom shortage has been diminishing ever since the second world war.

LIMITED FEEDING, A MINOR FACTOR TO PRODUCE LEAN PORK

Most hog farmers today are trying to produce the meat-type hog and leaner pork, but a wide divergence of opinion exists among them as to the best way to achieve this goal.

Dr. H. B. Geurin, manager of swine research of the Ralston Purina Company, believes that selective breeding is the most important single factor in producing the meat-type hog. Back fat thickness in hogs is about 50 per cent heritable.

One device tried by some hog farmers in the production of lean pork definitely does not give the desired results. This is the "limited feeding" idea. This method involves reducing energy intake by either cutting down the amount of ration fed to the hogs or by "diluting" the ration with high fiber ingredients such as corn cobs, oat hulls or ground hay. Neither method appears to be very effective in producing meatier carcasses, in fact may increase the cost of producing pork.

The tests on 100 hogs show that limited feeding made very little difference in back fat thickness, loin eye area or primal cuts. Adding ground corn cobs or ground oats to limit energy intake definitely reduced the rate of gain and lowered the feed efficiency.

There is evidence to indicate that meat-type hogs can gain faster and more efficiently than the "fat-type". Iowa University studies produced results supporting this conclusion. In a study at the Ohio State Evaluation Station, meat-type hogs required 334 pounds of feed to make 100 pounds of gain, while fat-type hogs required 358 pounds of the same ration to make a similar gain.

A good selective breeding program is the first step toward production of meat-type hogs, according to Dr. Geurin. There are meat-type hogs in all breeds. Hogs selected for desirable characteristics should be full fed on a good, soundly researched feeding program for most profit.

Lots Of Onions

One of a cook's favorite vegetables is an economical buy now. The onion, used in so many ways, is in plentiful supply, points out Ken Brink, produce marketing specialist at Purdue University.

When buying onions, choose bright, clean, firm, mature ones with dry skins. Good home storage retains onion quality. Store onions in a cool, dry, dark place to prevent sprouting, possible root growth and decay.

Globe onions, white, yellow and red varieties are probably the most popular commercial onion. They have a stronger flavor than the Spanish or Bermuda types. They are medium sized, but vary in shape from a flat globe to round or oval.

Globes keep well.

Another good market and home variety onion is the Ebenezer. It has a flat globe shape and a strong flavor. Ebenezer also stores well.

A mild, sweet flavored onion is the Spanish. It comes in both yellow and white varieties. It varies in shape and size from round to oval, and from medium to large. The sweet Spanish is fair to poor in keeping quality.

The yellow Bermuda (also red and white) is another mild onion. It is medium to large in size, and usually rather flat in shape. Since this variety is a poor keeper, he suggests buying it in amounts you will use quickly.

NEWS NOTES

from our

County Agent

DONALD E. FRANTZ

Turkey Creek Township is leading the way in getting the votes in the referendum to establish the Soil and Water Conservation District in all the townships in the county, not just the seven that are now in. Turkey Creek has received over 72 per cent of the eligible vote of the township as of March 8th. Chester Brown is heading the committee to get ballots in. Possibly they have an advantage of adjoining two counties that have had districts of long standing, Elkhart for 22 years and Noble for about half that long. But in any case, they have done an excellent job.

All ballots that have come in of course, are sealed and deposited in a ballot box until March 29th. The registration forms are checked and filed if properly made out. The polling superintendent and board will count the votes on March 29th.

The thing we want most is to be able to reach a decision and to do it we must have 60 per cent of the eligible votes. Any one with title to over 10 acres of land is eligible.

This winter has probably been unusually hard on shrubs. These plants went into the winter in a dry condition and the severe winter has surely caused a lot of dehydration, especially on shrubs which kept their leaves or needles all winter. My thought would be to start watering just as soon as the soil will take water. Extra mulching to preserve moisture might also be helpful.

A survey was made of 200 soil samples taken last year in Van Buren, Jefferson, Turkey Creek and Plain Townships. It showed that nearly 80 per cent of the samples indicated the land low in potash. This can be a serious handicap, especially for legume crops. A good crop of alfalfa needs about two and a half times as much potash as a hundred bushel crop of corn. If you are low to start with you can sure cut your yield down in a hurry.

Spoke On Communism

Hope for European nations already engulfed by Communism was expressed in a talk given by Archduke Otto of Austria-Hungary at Culver Military Academy on Wednesday, March 13.

The archduke is heir to the ancient throne of the Hapsburgs and long an ardent foe of all forms of totalitarianism. The public was invited to hear the talk, in the Little Theater of the Eugene C. Eppley Auditorium under the sponsorship of the Men's Faculty Association.

The archduke received his early education in Switzerland, Spain and Luxemburg. In 1929 he entered the University of Louvain in Belgium as a student of political and social sciences. He made his doctorate "summa cum laude" in 1934 after having worked also at the Agrarian Institute of the University of Berlin, and in Paris.

With the end of his studies, Archduke Otto began in earnest his interest in the public affairs of both Austria and Hungary. Supported by the Monarchist movements in both countries, he became known for his staunch opposition to Hitlerism. When the German dictator invaded and took over Austria in 1938, a warrant was at once issued for his arrest and he was tried in absentia and condemned to death by a Nazi court.

At the beginning of World War II, he was in Paris and from there worked closely in collaboration with the allied government for the liberation of Austria. In March, 1940, he made his first visit to the United States, calling on President Roosevelt and other American leaders in behalf of his country.

After the collapse of France, he returned to America, where he stayed during a large part of the war, working intensively in the cause of liberation of his homeland. With the invasion of the continent in 1944 he was returned to Europe and later to Austria. Early in 1946 he was forced to leave Austria on the demand of the Soviet Union because of his hostility to Communism.

Since World War II, Archduke Otto has continued to keep up his political work to free Austria and Hungary from totalitarian domination. He has made num-

Persons — Greubel

In a lovely candlelight service performed last Friday at 7:30 at St. Matthew's United Church of Christ in Evansville, Miss Gretchen Louise Persons and John Raymond Greubel were united in marriage.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Milton Persons, father of the bride, with Rev. Warren G. Smith, assisting.

Maid of honor was Miss Janet Berry, classmate in the school of nursing.

Bridemaids were Miss Phyllis Cook, a classmate in nursing, and Miss Mary Lou Greubel, sister of the groom.

Best man was Mr. Max Hatcher and groomsmen were Mr. Edward Gustafson, cousin of the groom and Mr. David Persons, brother of the bride.

The bride's gown was of white delustered satin, made with a basque bodice, jewel neckline and three-quarter length sleeves. The neckline and sleeve edgings were trimmed with pearls, as was the bow on the belt to the detachable chapel train. The basque bodice was accented with tiny buttons in the back. The gown was made by the bride's mother.

The veil of Heathcoat illusion was caught to a tiny pearl crown centered by a fabric rose and accented with Austrian crystal. The bridal bouquet was made of white cabbage roses with gold stems and white leaves accented with gold.

Immediately following the

Horn - Ross

On Saturday afternoon, March 9, at three o'clock, Miss Helen Ross and Lester Horn were united in marriage. The double ring ceremony was performed in the Calvary Presbyterian Church at Flint, Michigan.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Al Weston.

Lester is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Horn of Mentone. He is employed as an accountant for Chevrolet division of General Motors. Mrs. Horn is an x-ray technician at McLaren Hospital.

After a honeymoon trip to Florida, the newlyweds will be at home at 4070 Bobby Jones Drive in Flint, Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Horn and daughters Jody and Marilyn and Mrs. Myrtle Davis attended the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. John Marazon and family of South Bend were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Kehoe. In the afternoon they called on the Leroy Wise family.

JUNIOR LEADERS MEET

The Kosciusko County Junior Leader Organization met on March 11. We discussed the committees for Share the Fun Festival, and for a reference library of 4-H materials.

Dave Norris gave a report on "The Health H". The meeting was then adjourned.

The next meeting of the County Poultry Association is March 19th at Horn's Restaurant at 6:30 with Acord Cantwell, Director of Research for the Indiana Farm Bureau, as speaker. The Home Demonstration Clubs annual flower school is set for March 21st with Dr. E. R. Honeywell of the Purdue University Department of Horticulture as leader.

One of the recent charges leveled at the state universities was that the big halls of music attracted so many customers that many of the Indianapolis theatres were being hurt financially. It is true that off campus residents can purchase tickets to musicals at the universities and some do.

Purdue has been in a leading position in relation to attracting top entertainers due to their big music hall built in 1940 and their energetic and capable director, Al Stewart. There was no tax money used to build the hall which seats more than Radio City. They do not, however, pay local property taxes on it. It was financed entirely by bond issue. The charge that many people from the Capital city attend is not entirely true. There were just seven season ticket holders from there this year. There were 62 from Danville, Illinois. A survey shows that about 80 per cent of the persons attending were from the campus or the Lafayette area.

This bit of nonsense took up many hours of the Legislature's time and contributes to the Indiana system of "Legislation by exhaustion".

Beaver Dam 4-H Meets

The Beaver Dam Agriculture Club met Monday night at the Beaver Dam School. The meeting was called to order by the president, Lyle Welty. The American pledge and the 4-H pledge were led by Dick Harold and Ernest Murcia. The secretary's report was given by Betty Bibler and the treasurer's report by Melody Ballenger.

For the health and safety lesson, Debbie Walters told of ways to put out different kinds of fires. Our leader, Gerald Smalley, then passed out the record books for this year. After refreshments the meeting was adjourned.

Special School News

This week we happened to step inside Mrs. Pauline Buck's first grade room and saw on the blackboard this very colorful and interesting American flag. Upon looking closer we found the flag was made up of small squares of red, white and blue construction paper and then put together in proper order. The children helped their teacher with this patriotic project by folding each square to give a third dimension effect, then pasted white stars on top of the squares in the star area. We only wish we could picture this for you in color because you would appreciate it so much more. Not only did these first graders have lots of fun helping with this lovely flag, but probably gained a bit more knowledge and respect for "Old Glory".

We want to congratulate Mr. Bush on the fine job done by the Junior Band at our last ball game. Their marching and playing was excellent and added greatly to the final music program of the basket ball season. In the next few years we should have much to look forward to in our High School Band.

Also, Connie Smythe's "Tiny Twirlers" performed like veterans. This group has been meeting each week for lessons and we feel Connie has done very well in teaching these younger girls. (Maybe we should also say thanks to the mothers who have patiently put up with the bumping, thumping, and tossing of the batons in the home night after night!)

We attended the final game of the Junior High Tourney this week and were impressed with the cheering section of our own group from Beaver Dam. Under the direction of Coni Teel, Sherrie Yazel, Suzi Cole and Vickie Cox the Junior High students not only made a favorable impression with their cheering block, but also put forth much effort and enthusiasm to cheer the boys on to be the County Champs. Our best wishes to Beaver Dam and also the coach, Mr. Harmon.

Watch the paper next week for details about the Science Fair which will be held at Mentone School yet this month!!

Mentone Lions Meet

Mentone Lions met at a regular meeting on March 6th.

The following officer members of 4-H were guests of the club: Morris Bitzer, Gale Nellans, Dave Norris, Sonny Nellans and Miles Nellans.

Gale Nellans gave an informative report on the accomplishments of the local group. They have 27 livestock projects, 9 crop projects, 38 mechanical projects, 39 conservation projects, and 3 junior leader projects, for a total of 116 projects.

This is indeed an active club and the Mentone Lions salute them!

March 6th was also the night that the Lions' District Gov., Fred Anglin, chose to visit the club.

Bob Bishop presented slides and a report on the Lions of Indiana cancer control program. Doc. Wilson answered questions and brought out the point "that money donated by the local club did get back into our own area through the training of technicians, now practicing at Warsaw and Rochester, at I.U. on Lions' supported equipment.

The Mentone Lions Club is a growing club and a going club. Four new Lions were welcomed into the club by Olie Link. They were Ned Igo, Glenn Campton, Eldon Horn and Larry Boggs.

SINCERE THANKS

Our recent sorrow leaves us with an emptiness which we cannot express. Their president, Renita Ring, welcomed the mothers and with the help of several of the girls acquainted the mothers with what the club is trying to accomplish, and also with the "candy-strippers" work at the Murphy Medical Center at Warsaw.

The club sponsor, Mrs. Dan Urschel, then presented Miss Marybelle Mellott, a graduate of Memorial Hospital School of Nursing in South Bend, who gave a most interesting and informative talk of some nursing fundamentals, as they applied to her when she was learning, and as they might apply in the lives of each of us.

COUNTERPOINT

By The Editor's Wife

Ladies, you might as well get out your cook books and learn how to whip-up a fondue. Manufacturers are pushing this fad now, and special fondue pots are being promoted for spring markets. Now, I've never made a fondue, but for your information (modern version) it is a bowl of melted cheese mellowed with white cooking sherry, into which one dips chunks of bread. (My cook book says that it is a mixture of grated cheese, melted, cooked with beaten eggs. This mixture was then poured over toast.) Anyway, watch for the fondue pots.

About 500,000 children are poisoned accidentally each year; about 500 die.

You can help decrease these figures by following these rules:

1. Keep household products and medicines out of reach and out of sight of children, preferably in a locked cabinet or closet. Even if you must leave the room for only an instant, remove the container to a safe spot.
2. Store medicines separately from other household products and keep these items in their original containers — never in cups or soft drink bottles.
3. Be sure that all products are properly labeled, and read the label before using.
4. Always turn the light on when giving or taking medicine.
5. Since children tend to imitate adults — avoid taking medications in their presence.
6. Refer to medicines by their proper names. They are not candies.
7. Clean out your medicine cabinet periodically. Get rid of medicines by flushing them down the drain, rinsing the container in water, and then discarding it.

Plant Trees Now

Now is an excellent time for Hoosier homeowners to transplant nursery grown trees in their lawns, reminds H. W. Gilbert, Purdue University extension landscape architect. If trees are carelessly handled and improperly planted losses will result later.

When barerooted trees and shrubs are shipped from the nursery, their roots may appear somewhat dry. If so, the roots should be soaked overnight in a tank or pond before planting. Fresh dug nursery stock should be in good condition when the customer receives it.

Dig large holes that will give the roots plenty of room to grow. From 10 to 20 per cent of peat moss may be thoroughly mixed with average well-drained soils. Such a combination improves soil structure, thus stimulating root development.

Use good topsoil to cover the roots. After watering the dirt which covers the roots, finish filling the hole with peat moss-soil mix or topsoil until it is even with the ground level. Wet soil should not be tramped. Do not hill up the soil around the tree; instead leave a basin for water.

Once transplanting is accomplished, loose soil around the tree should be mulched. A mulch holds moisture and keeps the roots cool. Ground or crushed corn cobs, old manure, peat moss, wood chips or sawdust make a satisfactory mulch.

Another essential step that aids the restoration of moisture balance between leaves and roots in the young tree is "cutting back". Reduction of the leaf surface should involve removal of only a few of the lower branches and shortening of others. The "leader" or tip of the tree should be left intact.

Anchorage provides protection against strong winds for trees over six feet tall.

Baby Pigs Need Heat

Infrared heat lamps represent one of the oldest and easiest ways to supply heat in farrowing quarters, points out Bruce McKenzie, Purdue University agricultural engineer. And, observing a few safety rules in using these lamps keeps down costs and insures safety.

Supplemental heat is necessary in farrowing quarters of a newborn pig essentially follows the building temperature. That is, if a pig is born in a cold house he will be chilled.

Infrared lamps should always be used with porcelain sockets. The bulb base gets too hot for rubber, bakelite or brass with paper insulation. The lamps should be well supported, preferably on a chain, for easy height adjustment and rugged suspension.

You can further supplement these safety precautions by planning the installation. The engineer suggests that an electric outlet be installed at a uniform height over every point of use. All lamp sets can then be the same length with the cord length such that the lamp cannot be plugged in and lie in the litter at the same time.

One lamp may not be enough during farrowing. Chilling danger starts around 40 degrees, and for each 15 degree temperature drop in the house, another 250 watt lamp should be added.

Suspend the lamp six inches above the sows' back. Twelve to 24 hours after farrowing, move one lamp to a pig creep in one corner of the pen and suspend the lamp 24 inches above the litter. Make sure that the corner panel is rugged, so the sow can't tear it down and get to the lamp cord.

Under floor heating systems or portable mats are also available for use at farrowing. Most of these units are designed to supply 25 watts per square foot of heated area, or about 80-90 BTU/sq. ft.

Combine Breakdowns

Human error accounted for more than half the breakdowns in operation of self-propelled corn combines, a study by Purdue University agricultural engineers has shown.

Wayne E. Gruben, a graduate student, and Prof. J. B. Liljedahl surveyed operators of 74 combines in northwestern Indiana to determine the dependability of the machines. Here is what their study showed:

These operators blamed themselves for 52 per cent of the breakdowns. That is, slightly more than half of these interruptions could have been avoided by proper use, maintenance and servicing and replacement of worn parts before they failed in the field at harvest.

Breakdowns were expensive, averaging a cost of $20.

About two out of five breakdowns resulted from some machine deficiency. However, only one out of ten was the result of the crop being too heavy or the land too wet.

Of all breakdowns, about one out of three resulted from chain failure, some of which could have been avoided by good maintenance and proper care.

Asked whether they would be willing to pay more for a combine of the same capacity and which would do the same job as their present two-row corn combine, more than 47 per cent of the owners replied they would pay at least $1,000 more for the same size and type of combine if it would cut their breakdown time in half.

PLAN YOUR WARDROBE

Lois Folk, Purdue University clothing specialist, says that planning your wardrobe according to the type of clothes you need and according to color is the first step in obtaining a basic color coordinated wardrobe.

Then, you must be selective when purchasing a new item. Have the courage to say "no" if the article is not exactly right for you. Look at the garment under both artificial and natural light to see if it fits in with your clothes and is exactly what you want.

Assembling a color scheme is difficult. Since color affects your emotions and feeling, she recommends choosing a color that you like and enjoy wearing.

Choose a hat, coat, shoes, purse and gloves that go together for the nucleus of your wardrobe.

Insecticide Use

The head of Purdue University's entomology department said recently that no adverse situations had developed in Indiana from the use of insecticides when they have been applied according to the manufacturer's directions.

Dr. John V. Osmun, addressing the opening session of the fifth annual agricultural pesticide conference at Purdue, said that the nation is highly dependent on pesticides, especially in the production of food and fiber crops.

He said that the manufacturers of these chemicals had cooperated 100 per cent with Purdue recommendations on directions and application of these materials.

A Purdue plant pathologist told the some 125 persons attending the conference that the industry should develop more liquid type fungicides to be applied with machinery, such as a "fogger".

Dr. Eric Sharville also urged development of fungicides which might be applied easily by the average home owner. Suburban dwellers particularly need this, pointing out that this segment of the nation's population is increasing.

A panel of entomologists, discussing soil insect control, said that insect control methods have been largely responsible for an increase in Indiana corn yields from 34.6 bushels an acre in 1923 to 82 bushels an acre last year.

raise the expense two dollars an acre. On a 400 acre farm it would be only half a dollar increase.

Fixed costs have to be paid and they are higher on new equipment, but at the same time operating costs are higher on older equipment. So the trick is to figure when one is more important than the other. This is not the same for everyone. The items that go into fixed costs are depreciation, interest, taxes, insurance and shelter. This will probably run 8 to 15 per cent of the new cost depending on the kind of equipment. Tractors and trucks can become obsolete faster than a spike tooth harrow and therefore, depreciate faster. A figure of 13 or 14 per cent is realistic on most farm machinery.

There is no question but that farmers need good equipment, but there is little doubt that excessive investment in it can cause trouble. They must have enough power to get the job done, but it must be done at a cost that will leave a profit. Records and realistic depreciation schedules have importance in these figures and it is apparent that most farmers have probably been pretty accurate in their figures as to how high their investment could go. It is also true that many farmers, especially older men who have accumulated capital, are willing to do a little beyond the break-even point to get more comfort and convenience in their equipment. This certainly is a common sense approach as they are merely taking a little pay out of the labor and management column in return.

from our
County Agent
DONALD E. FRANTZ

The major problem that faces all farmers as to how much to have invested in machinery and equipment was discussed at length the other day in the Indiana Banker's Association's agricultural clinic. For about the last ten years, prices of equipment have been going steadily up while farm prices have been working downward. This has placed farmers in a position of constantly higher fixed costs and lower incomes. The trouble begins with the fact that a farmer has no control over prices at either end and nothing much that he does has any effect upon either cost or return except to change the volume of production.

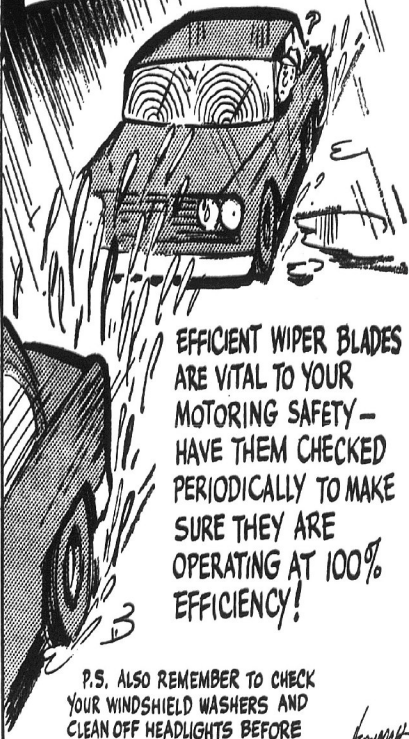

One solution would seem to be to cut down on machinery overhead either by reducing the amount, the sizes or the quality, but these are ways of reducing volume, not increasing it.

The bankers were told the other day that farmers have done a pretty good job in this area of management. Equipment prices have not risen as much as wage rates in the last ten years. Wages have gone up 50 per cent while equipment costs have risen by 30 per cent and this would indicate that the average farmer should have increased his investment in labor saving machines by 60 per cent. This is almost exactly what has happened. The average increase was just a little less than that figure.

As a guide as to the amount of machinery and equipment a person should have we could generalize to the extent that it is necessary to have enough to get the job done, in the volume that is desired and at the lowest total cost. We all know that excessive machinery investment does weaken the individual's competitive position. For each $1000 of new machinery, the annual expenses go up about $200. This fact is of greater importance on a small farm than on a larger one. On a hundred acre farm this would

Recorders Tell Accident Story

A basketball size orange metal sphere picked out of the wreckage of a commercial airliner can be to modern-day accident investigators what the magnifying glass was to Sherlock Holmes. It's the flight recorder, a nearly indestructible device which the Federal Aviation Agency requires on all civil turbine-powered planes (jet and turboprop). It continuously records on a thin ribbon of aluminum foil flight data such as barometric altitude, indicated air speed, vertical acceleration, compass heading and elapsed time. With this information, investigators are able to reconstruct events leading up to accidents near mid-air

Approximately four out of five calls dealt with children, including several who had eaten cigarette butts!

D.A.R. Met Recently

Mrs. Miles Manwaring and Mrs. Loren Gross were hostesses to the March meeting of the Anthony Nigo Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution of Mentone, in the office building of Manwaring Farms. The regent, Mrs. Fred Surguy, presided and announced that the chapter had again met all requirements to win the gold honor roll recognition, the highest chapter award given nationally by the society.

Mrs. Wayne Smalley, a very active junior member in the chapter, was selected as the chapter representative in the National DAR Junior Member Contest.

Mrs. Ray Linn and Mrs. Robert Knepper of the Tippecanoe River Chapter, will accompany Mrs. Frank D. Smith to Indianapolis March 20 to attend the state council of DAR at the Hotel Sheraton-Lincoln.

Officers elected for the 1963-64 year were: regent, Mrs. Paul Shireman; vice regent, Mrs. Charles Tucker; chaplain, Mrs. Carl Metheny; secretary, Mrs. James Wells Jr.; treasurer, Mrs. Wayne Smalley; registrar, Mrs. Edna Carey; historian, Mrs. Glenn Clauss; librarian, Mrs. Walter Lackey.

Mrs. Surguy emphasized the Good Citizen Tea and Program at 2:30 p.m. on Sunday, March 31 in the home of Mrs. Walter Lackey. The state chairman of the Good Citizen committee, Mrs. Leroy L. Garrigus of Indianapolis, will speak briefly and present awards to five high school senior girls, including Miss Cheryl Horn, Mentone representative and Miss Elaine Stackhouse of Etna Green, Kosciusko County winner.

Mrs. Mary Cox gave the DAR resolutions pertaining to "Protection of Americans Abroad" and stated that it is the duty of the government to protect the rights, persons, and property of American citizens in foreign lands and that the society urges the government to demand an accounting for, and release of military and civilian prisoners still in alien hands, full reparations for American owned property seized by foreign governments, and repeal of the section under Article VII of the Nato Status of Forces Treaty which deprives American soldiers of their Constitutional rights. In dealing with the communist threat, she emphasized that the "Council on Foreign Relations" through its great Decisions program is attempting to indoctrinate the adults and youth of this nation in a program of world government and the society petitions Congress to regain its responsibilities prescribed by the Constitution to regulate the internal affairs of our country and those relating to foreign policy, and that chapters make an intensive study of these groups and their programs.

Mrs. Bernice Rush read the very brief address of the first president general of the national society, Mrs. Carolyn Scott Harrison, wife of the President of the United States, Benjamin Harrison, to the first Continental Congress in 1892. Mrs. Harrison urged members to perpetuate the true American ideals of Constitutional Government.

"What It Means To Be A DAR" was given by Mrs. Helen Brown in which she said the organization was founded to promulgate the following principles: (1) To perpetuate the memory and spirit of the men and women who achieved American independence. (2) To carry out the injunction of Washington in his farewell address to the American people. To promote, as an object of primary importance, institutions for the general diffusion of knowledge. (3) To cherish, maintain and extend the institutions of American freedom, to foster true patriotism and love of country, and to aid in securing for mankind all the blessings of liberty. These objectives of the society are historical, educational and patriotic. The DAR stands for everything that will preserve and safeguard our American way of life. As true Americans, of course, this is our duty. The society is against and will not tolerate anything that will undermine our Republic and will not compromise on principles.

A social hour with the hostesses followed the closing of the meeting by repeating the American's creed.

JUST LIKE OLD MAN RIVER

If you want a truck that does its work without yelling for attention all the time, buy a "new reliable" Chevrolet.

You have to take care of it; it's a machine. But this isn't a full-time activity. The clear idea is that the truck works for you, not vice versa.

The way to build such a truck is to put more quality into it. For example, Chevrolet doesn't build one type of suspension system for all sizes of trucks. Chevrolet designs suspension systems to fit your need. The light-duty type is strong on comfort. Another kind for heavier trucks stiffens up as you increase your load and vice versa. Make sense?

Conventional pickups have double-wall construction in cabs, doors, lower side panels. Roofs are insulated. Body floors are select wood, not metal. Tailgate chains are wrapped in rubber. If you'd like to examine or drive a new '63 Chevrolet truck, just call us. We'll be right over.

GETTING THE MOST... FROM YOUR GARDEN

by Dr. W. A. Liddell
Director of Information, Asgrow Seed Company

PLAN BEFORE YOU PLANT!

If you're an old hand with trowel and spade, these words of wisdom are already chiseled in stone over the doorway to your garage. But if you're starting a garden this year, or even if you're only thinking of fixing things up around the yard, give heed! By planning now, you can save time and money later on, and almost certainly you'll be better pleased with the results of your efforts.

Plan your space

None of us, probably, has space enough around the house to do all the things we'd like to. Even if we did, we'd still have to plan. Fortunately, planning what to do with the available area is a lot of fun and it can be reasonably simple. Some of us will want to consult a landscaper or a nurseryman for professional help with special problems, but a pad of paper, a couple of pencils, and perhaps a straight-edge ruler should be enough to get the rest of us thinking about what we want to plant and where.

In your planning, leave plenty of room! Trees, ornamentals, flowers, and vegetables have a way of growing bigger than we ever imagined. How many of us have found that the "little" evergreens by the front door now tower above the roof and threaten to block the way into the house! And who among us hasn't, in his first attempt, tried to squeeze an acre of vegetables into a 20' x 20' plot!

No, the message is: "think small" until you learn more about how things grow and what can be done in a given area.

Plan your time

This simple rule will save you many headaches and backaches. In gardening and lawn care there's usually a right time for doing everything. If you set your sights properly, there will usually be time for the essentials.

Figure out how much time per week you want to spend, and then make sure that the time is well spent. There's no sense rushing out the first warm Saturday at the end of winter to plant a flower garden.

It will be another month before the soil is warm enough for plants to grow. If you can't resist doing something outdoors at the first sign of spring — and who can, really? — spend it with your lawn. It will respond quickly to a little attention at that time.

On the other hand, later this summer, why break your back mowing the lawn every Saturday morning? Relax and go swimming! Your lawn will probably be the better of having escaped one or two scalplings during the hot, dry weather.

Plan your budget

There's no sense kidding yourself that gardening and lawn care don't involve money. But don't go overboard, biting off more than you can chew; and above all, don't try to skip in the wrong places.

First, decide how much you can afford to spend and then list the possible ways you could spend it. You can figure costs by consulting your garden center and the catalogs of reputable horticultural suppliers.

While we all want to get the best value for our money, the fact is, with garden and lawn supplies and equipment, you get in value just about what you pay for — and maybe less, if you're addicted to "price" buying. It takes a lot of experience to shop for bargains in this field.

If you would like free information about how to grow vegetables in your back yard, send your name, on a postcard, to Asgrow Garden Guide, PO Box 406, New Haven 2, Conn.

Time For Spring Outfit

With all the time and expense involved in a spring outfit, it is a shame to wear it only a few times, or just one season. Prevent that happening by fitting your new spring outfit into a wardrobe plan to get more wear out of it, advises Lois Folk, Purdue University clothing specialist.

To do this, choose stylish clothes that are becoming to you. Keep up with the fashion trends, but adapt them to your personality. Whenever possible, choose a color, style and weight of fabric that can carry over into another season—doubling the wearing period.

When choosing a new costume, consider the place you will wear it, and the type of clothes that look best on you. Select clothes that are fashionable, but not faddish. To increase opportunities for wearing your new coat, dress or suit, choose one that goes with the clothes and accessories you already have.

If you are buying a suit or coat this spring try to choose a style and color that you can wear for two to five seasons (this is often the average period of use for these major items points out the specialist). Solid colors can usually be worn longer and with different accessories than figured materials.

If you buy a coat, hat, gloves and shoes in the same color you have the beginning of a basic wardrobe. Then you can alternate dresses and suits of harmonious colors for variety of costumes.

Start A New Lawn

You can start a new lawn now and have a beautiful yard by summer. However, you'll need to take special care, notes Don Scheer, Purdue University extension horticulturist.

Early fall is the best time to sow a new lawn since cool fall weather favors bluegrass growth. However, when grass seed is sown in the spring special care is needed to get the lawn off to a good start in order to compete with summer heat, crabgrass and weeds.

Add fertilizer before the lawn is seeded. He says the fertilizer will help give the grass seed a vigorous start. Add 20 pounds of 10-3-7, or similar analysis fertilizer, per 1,000 square feet of lawn area. Mix it well into the topsoil.

After sowing good, high percentage bluegrass seed, rake the seed in lightly, then roll. Mulch if desired. Then, and this is important, keep the soil moist for three weeks after seeding. This will aid seed germination and help get a lawn established quickly.

tinents things which pertain to the "other side of the coin".

"It is becoming much too common to regard all perpetrators of vicious crimes as sick when actually they aren't, unless all wrongdoing is a sickness for which no one is to be held accountable.

"There are sick persons in the world, but there are also evil persons in the world, and evil isn't just a sickness.

"If you are the operator of any kind of business establishment that peddles pornographic stimuli for sex-obsessed minds take that junk down to your incinerator and burn it. Then when they find the body of a girl raped and murdered, you would not have any reason for feeling that maybe you might have had a part in the horror."

Food economies — Take a careful look at your home food shelves and refrigerator before you shop. You may have forgotten some things you bought long ago.

We enjoyed this:
Oh Beautiful For Spacious Skies — The 7 year old's assignment was to illustrate the song, "America, the Beautiful". The teacher recognized the flag, the map, the "purple mountains", and even the young artist's interpretation of "sea to shining sea". But she couldn't fathom the airplane in one corner, covered with red and yellow balls. The youngster explained, "Why, that's the fruited plane."

A Closet Full Of Toys

A place to keep her child's many toys is a problem mothers share.

But if you can spare an entire closet for toys, you can stow much of your child's collection there, points out Rita Coake, Purdue University extension specialist.

Install shelves of varying heights to hold toys of different sizes. Use top shelves for toys infrequently used.

Leave floor room for a "garage" for a small wagon, doll carriage, or large trucks.

Hang paint aprons, jump ropes and the like on clothes hooks on the walls of the closet. Put the inside of the closet door to work, too, by installing narrow shelves with a front guard similar to a spice rack. Use these shelves for balls, paste and paint jars, housekeeping equipment or a collection of small toys.

Set a box or umbrella stand in the corner of the closet for stick toys, parasols, golf sets, stilts, etc. You may have room for a rod to hang "dress-up" clothes.

Use sturdy boxes of all sizes, especially ones with hinged lids, to hold toys. Label the boxes with crayon or a picture of the contents. Cottage cheese cartons are good for jacks, marbles and colored pencils, while gallon ice cream containers can hold large items. Sturdy buckets or plastic dishpans are attractive and easy to handle. Try a plastic laundry basket for balls or stuffed animals.

COUNTERPOINT

One doesn't bargain with Spring. I find myself thinking, "When it's a little warmer, I'll clean the dead leaves and weeds out of the flower beds", but Spring continues to "arrive", with the tulip tips growing taller and taller, even as I watch them. And suddenly, it's Spring, and the tulips stand there, alive with color, completely unaware that, once again, we had been of no help. This spring, however, things may be different!

It's good to see a light across the street in the Leslie house, and to know that Doris is on the road to recovery after a long stay in the hospital. Dewey and Ethel have "moved in" for a while to be of help until Doris is strong enough to be up and around.

Here is a good spot to repeat some "Egg Tips".

1. Keep eggs under refrigeration.
2. Quality is based on the interior of the egg. Size or shell color is not important.
3. Good cooks never hard boil, but cook the egg in simmering water, then promptly cool. Tender eggs are the result of low temperatures and the shortest possible cooking time.
4. To prevent eggs from cracking when cooked in the shell — have eggs at room temperature before placing them in hot water.

Don't be too quick to judge a person who seems unsympathetic. True sympathy comes only as one "walks in the shoes" of others. (Empathy is the term.)

My mother suffered from arthritis for a number of years and spent much time in a wheel chair. Because of this we are aware of the limitations, and painful concentration needed to execute ordinary tasks.

Likewise, the weeks spent at a hospital bedside, watching the uncertain ebb and flow of a life most precious to us, have given us a feeling of "oneness"

Starting Seeds Indoors

Have fun starting your flowers and vegetables indoors from seed, suggests Don Scheer, Purdue University extension horticulturist.

Fill a four-inch clay pot with a moist vermiculite or finely shredded, moist sphagnum moss. Then sow small seeds on top of the material and water gently. Cover the larger seeds lightly. Next, place a piece of glass or plastic film over the top of the pot to keep the interior humid.

Water again, if necessary, before the seeds germinate. Keep the temperature about 70 degrees and in a few days will sprout. When the plants are through the soil, place the pot in a sunny window, remove the covering and keep the temperature about 60 degrees, if possible.

When they have two well developed seedling leaves and the third leaf is easily visible, transfer them to a wider spacing, preferably to individual peat pots.

Sow snapdragons and alyssum March 1, petunias and ageratum March 15, and tomatoes April 1, if you live in the Indianapolis area. If you live in the southwestern corner of Indiana, start them 20 days earlier, or if you live in the northeastern part of the state start them 10 days later.

For further information write the Agricultural Publications office, AES Building, Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind., requesting Mimeo HO 76-1, "Starting Plants Indoor." Single copies are free to Indiana residents.

Getting Ready To Sew

At the start of a new season many homemakers would like to add clothing to the family's wardrobe. They may want to sew many of the garments, but hesitate because they the unsure of their ability or feel they do not have adequate equipment.

Planning ahead can help the homemaker with many of her problems about sewing, points out Frieda Stoll, Purdue University clothing specialist.

Planning for some time to sew without interruptions makes the job easier and more enjoyable. The mother of pre-school children might sew during their naptime or after they are bedded down for the night. Planning her time, she could serve oven meals on the sewing day to cut down food preparation time.

If at all possible, have a special place to sew. A convenient place to keep sewing supplies and to leave your sewing out if you are interrupted, can save you time and energy.

The type of sewing you do will determine how much equipment you need. For general sewing you need a well-running sewing machine, comfortable chair, adequate light, good cutting shears, dressmaker pins, needles, thread, pin cushion and marking tools—such as a tracing wheel or tailor's chalk.

For safety reasons, keep sewing supplies away from small children. She recommends teaching children that sewing equipment is "off-limits" for them until they are old enough to handle it safely.

The American Cancer Society's immediate goal is the saving of 265,000 lives, or half of those who develop cancer each year. This can be accomplished by early diagnosis and prompt treatment. Have a health check-up every year.

Legacies and bequests have become a major factor in financing the American Cancer Society's fight to conquer cancer through research, education and service. The Society reports that in 1952 this source supplied more than $590,123 of its funds. In 1962 it amounted to more than $5,523,300.

NEWS NOTES from our

County Agent

DONALD E. FRANTZ

Members of the board of the county Christian Rural Overseas Program met the other day with Rev. Gerald Wilson, state CROP director. He reported that Kosciusko had the largest per cent of increase of any county in the state last year. The contributions go to rural relief administered by churches overseas. He also reported that at the present time Jefferson Township has more participants in their Friendship Acres program than any township has ever had. Verle George is heading up that phase of the work.

Meeting with the state director were Russell Creighton, chairman; James Turner, treasurer; Don Frantz, secretary; Joe Barrett, commodity manager; and Rev. Laverne Skinner, promotion director.

We have received a reminder from Henry Gilbert, Extension Landscape Architect, that now is an excellent time for Hoosier homeowners to transplant nursery grown trees in their lawns. However, if trees are carelessly handled and improperly planted, losses will result later. Here are Henry's pointers on planting.

When barerooted trees and shrubs are shipped from the nursery, their roots may appear somewhat dry. If so, the roots should be soaked over night in a tank or pond before planting. Fresh dug nursery stock should be in good condition when the customer receives it.

Dig large holes that will give the roots plenty of room to grow. From 10 to 20 per cent of peat moss may be thoroughly mixed with average well-drained soils. Such a combination improves soil structure, thus eliminating root development.

Use good topsoil to cover the roots. After watering the dirt which covers the roots, finish filling the hole with peat moss-soil mixture or topsoil until it is even with the ground level. Wet soil should not be tamped. Don't hill up the soil around the tree; instead leave a basin for water, the specialist adds.

Once transplanting is accomplished, loose soil around the tree should be mulched. A mulch holds mixture and keeps the roots cool. Ground or crushed corn cobs, old manure, peat moss, wood chips or sawdust make a satisfactory mulch.

Another essential step that aids the restoration of moisture balance between leaves and roots in the young tree is "cutting back". Reduction of the leaf surface should involve removal of the lower branches and shortening of others. The "leader" or tip of the tree should be left intact.

The referendum for the Soil and Water Conservation District enlargement is going into its final week. The vote is to determine if the district should include all townships instead of just the seven organized in 1957. There is always a certain amount of apathy in things like this. With the abundance of everything, there is a great tendency to assume an attitude, let the next fellow look after himself, I'm taking care of me.

A Warsaw school boy found some interesting facts on water in an unusual place, in the funny papers, and he sent in a section. It is called "Our New Age" and is written by the Dean of the Institute of Technology at the University of Minnesota.

It says that there are five billion gallons of water falling in the United States each day in rainfall. This is a lot but we use a lot. Our average usage is 15,000 gallons per person per day and the figure is rising rapidly. A vegetarian with no clothes would have to have 300 gallons of water a day, a half gallon to drink and the rest to produce his daily bread. If he used meat as food and wore clothes made of wool, then his demand would increase over 20 times.

This is just a drop compared to what industry uses and the Dean tells us that we use 50 pounds of water for every one pound of manufactured goods and that 50 gallons of water is used to make a gallon of gasoline. At our present rate of use of water it could become the factor that limits the growth of our standard of living within the next generation.

HIGH MAN ON THE TAX POLE

The Five Investor-Owned Electric Companies are the largest local and State taxpayers in Indiana. Their total tax bill in 1962, including provisions for Federal Income taxes, was more than they paid for labor, coal, or any other operating expense.

$84,970,000 IN TAXES is a mighty "big bite" and hard to chew. But . . .

$84,970,000 IN TAXES
is easier to swallow if thought of in terms of more and better schools, parks, national defense, interstate highways, fire and police protection . . .
and an aid to the growth and future well-being of Indiana.

$84,970,000 IN TAXES
is easier to pay when thought of that way. As an investor-owned utility, Northern Indiana Public Service Company pays its full share of the local, State and Federal tax load.

Delta Queen Sails Again

By Betty Blake

Steamboat round the bend for tri-state area with the Cincinnati based Delta Queen, a loan survivor.

Steam whistles and bells blasted last Saturday, signaling the first departure of the only paddlewheel steamboat in America, the Delta Queen, from the levy of Cincinnati taking her passengers on a 3,000 mile cruise of the Mississippi and Ohio Rivers. This resort at the doorstep of tri-state area residents draws thousands of tourists from all 50 states and foreign countries for legendary Mark Twain style travel along the inland waterways.

Travelers are fascinated from the moment they board the majestic "Queen" and immediately capture on film the panoramic scenes of the Kentucky, Ohio, and Indiana shorelines. Towns in each of these states make interesting shore stops along part of the routes to New Orleans, Pittsburgh, Chattanooga, St. Paul, Reelfoot, and Kentucky Lake; destinations of her 19 yearly cruises.

The Queen's international heritage befits her international appeal. She was built in Scotland in 1926, shipped on freighters across half the world to California for overnight passenger service on the Sacramento River. When the late Captain Tom Greene purchased her for inland river service in 1947, he brought her down the Pacific Ocean, through the Panama Canal, and up the Mississippi to her present homeport of Cincinnati, where she was declared the fanciest steamboat in the system. Today, she is the lone survivor of passenger trade.

Off-beat vacations of 3, 7, 10, 14, and 20 days recreate the easy life, the good steamboat cooking, and the quantity of personal service once provided by the 19th century packet steamers. Only now, it is enjoyed amid air conditioned comfort, first rate accommodations, and shipboard entertainment. Color folder describing her unique trips may be obtained free by writing Greene Line Steamers, 300 Public Landing, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Old-fashioned riverboat spirit will prevail aboard the Queen in abundance on April 30, when she takes up the challenge of the Belle of Louisville (former excursion steamer Avalon of Cincinnati) for a packet steamboat race near downtown Louisville as part of the Derby Week activities. The tri-state area residents will see if Mark Twain was right when he wrote "I think that much the more enjoyable of all races is a steamboat race . . . a horse race is pretty tame and colorless in comparison".

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wiesjohn of Plymouth spent Friday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Zanna Hammer and family. Mr. and Mrs. Wiesjohn have spent the winter in Florida.

ATWOOD - CRYSTAL LAKE NEWS

Mrs. Russell (Blanche) Beck, lifelong resident of the Atwood community, is critically ill at her home. Cards of encouragement to Mr. and Mrs. Beck would be welcomed.

Mrs. Agnes Gochenour returned Sunday from Florida. She visited friends in various parts of Florida for two months.

Tom Frederich, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Frederich celebrated his 12th birthday on Sunday. Tom invited five of his friends to his party, Rick Baney, Joe Wolf, Doug McKrill, Mike Powell and Charles Zimmerman. The boys had a good time playing ball, competing in their own track meet and eating cake and ice cream. Tom received many nice gifts.

The Atwood EUB and Methodist Youth Fellowship held a banquet honoring the young people of both churches. They had a very nice program. Mr. Emerson Ward of Warsaw was the speaker. Jenny Lee, a vocal solo and Sharon Grimm played a saxophone solo. Gene Hughes presented a very interesting reading and Sara Beth and Laura Jo Creighton played a piano duet.

The Atwood Lions Club sponsored an evening of fun for the grade school children and parents. The first and second grades competed in basketball, as did the third, fourth, fifth and sixth grades. We predict some champs out of this group. The Lions challenged the men to a game of volley ball. As to the results and the prediction of this game—we best not state. The real show of the evening was the daughters playing the mothers a game of kick ball. The ball wasn't the only thing kicked—The ladies baked cakes and they had a raffle. The proceeds from the raffle was given to the Atwood Fire Department to be applied to the new addition of the firehouse.

Charles Blankenship, formerly with Sears, has set up his own repair shop at his home. He hopes to serve all the Atwood and area residents. (Editor's note: Please refer to ad in this issue of the News.)

August Wild Coon Night Hunts

Three special experimental wild coon hunts will be authorized by the Division of Fish and Game of Indiana Department of Conservation in August 1963. Evaluation of these hunts will be made by game research personnel to determine feasibility of authorizing early season wild coon hunt nights.

One hunt will be authorized in Central Indiana on August 10, in the south on August 17, and in the north on August 24. Clubs sponsoring these hunts will be chosen by a drawing at 10:00 A.M., C.D.T., on May 1, 1963 in room 605, State Office Building.

The three successful applicants must conduct their hunt within the zone in which their club is located. The southern boundary of the Northern Zone includes the following counties: Benton, White, Carroll, Howard, Grant, Blackford, and Jay. The northern boundary of the Southern Zone contains the counties of: Sullivan, Greene, Monroe, Brown, Bartholomew, Decatur, Ripley and Dearborn. The Central Zone contains the counties in between those listed.

Application forms for the August hunt may be obtained by writing to Game Research, Division of Fish and Game, 605 State Office Building, Indianapolis 4, Indiana. The completed form must be returned no later than April 30.

Spring House Plant Care

Check your house plants carefully when their spring growth starts. If they are potbound, shift them to larger pots, advises Don Scheer, Purdue University extension horticulturist.

Plants are potbound when their roots become a solid mass. All house plants get potbound and require shifting to larger pots eventually. However, some grow faster than others and should be shifted at least once a year. It is generally best to shift to a pot one inch larger. If a plant remains in a small pot indefinitely, its growth will be stunted and the plant will look ragged. Plants from the florist usually do not need shifting until they have grown considerably.

He recommends a soil mixture of one-half peat moss and one-half loam for most house plants. Cactus, however, need a half-and-half loam and sand mixture. When you are shifting, fill in soil between the old soil ball and the pot and firm well.

Be sure that the container you are using has good drainage—poor drainage is a cause of loss in house plants.

Begin monthly fertilization after house plants have started spring growth. Use one teaspoon of 12-12-12, or a similar analysis fertilizer, to a gallon of water. Apply as a regular watering. Continue this monthly fertilization through the growing season.

Have Spring Flower Preview

You can bring shrub and tree branches indoors now and force them into bloom, remind Purdue University extension horticulturists. It's easy, and you'll have a beautiful preview of spring.

Many shrubs and trees force easily. Among them are forsythia, honeysuckle, Bridalwreath spiraea, Witchhazel and all common types of fruit trees.

You'll find it best to gather small young shoots, according to the horticulturists. Branches six to eight inches long are adaptable for flower arrangements and easy to handle.

Once you've cut the branches, take a hammer and smash the end of the stem. Then immerse the whole branch in water over night. Next place the base of the branches in water and keep them at a temperature of 60 to 65 degrees. Change the water weekly. Once the flower buds start to show color, put them in a well lighted room, but avoid direct sunlight.

Arrange the twigs as you would other flowers. If you arrange them before all the flowers are fully developed, you'll be able to enjoy their final development, and also have a much longer display.

Cancer is a family of diseases characterized by abnormal growth and spread of cells. If this malignant process is not controlled or checked, the patient will die. However, according to the American Cancer Society, many cancers can be cured if detected early and treated promptly. Have a health checkup once a year.

THESE RELIGIOUS MESSAGES ARE SPONSORED IN THE HOPE OF ENCOURAGING GREATER RECOGNITION OF MAN'S DEPENDENCE
IN HIS CHURCH FOR SPIRITUAL GUIDANCE

A NEW DAY AHEAD

These young Americans are in the "pink". They feel that the world is their "oyster" and it probably is, for they, like millions of young people all over America, are healthy, intelligent and unafraid.

They face the future with the calm fortitude of their pioneering forebears. They are living in a FREE LAND and they intend to keep it that way.

No breath of subversive propaganda, no matter how cunningly presented, will ever sway them, nor will they allow its evil influence to mar their lives, for they have confidence in themselves and their country, and faith in the Will of a Divine Providence.

Each Sunday you may see them in church, for it helps them to strengthen their faith — their faith in their God and their Country. Too, it helps them to visualize that people of all ages, races and creeds are gathering in all the thousands of churches all over the country; each and every one a paramount symbol of a true Democracy.

Small Gardens Worth While

A home vegetable garden, even though small, represents a worthwhile investment in time and money, observes Don Scheer, Purdue University extension horticulturist.

To get the most out of a small garden, plan carefully before you plant. Choose a good location—one exposed to a minimum of five to six hours of sunlight daily. Too, soil should be fertile and free from competition of tree roots and shade.

Select vegetables that will give "home grown" freshness. Tomatoes and snap beans top this list. To save space, stake your tomatoes and grow pole type beans.

Although it takes up considerable space, sweet corn is a good choice. Roasting ears from your own garden excel purchased corn because of their freshness.

And don't forget the easiest of all vegetables to grow—the radish. It grows fast and takes little space. Carrots and beets also are especially well adapted to small gardens.

NOTICE TO TAXPAYERS OF ADDITIONAL APPROPRIATIONS

Notice is hereby given the taxpayers of Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation, Fulton and Kosciusko County, Indiana, that the School Board of said Corporation will meet at its regular meeting place in the Superintendent's Office, Farmers State Bank Building, Mentone, Indiana, at the hour of 7:30 o'clock P.M., E.S.T. on the 1st day of April, 1963, and consider the following additional appropriation which said officers consider necessary to meet the extraordinary emergency existing at this time.

E-3 Contractual Service-Repair of Buildings and Upkeep of grounds $25,000.

Taxpayers appearing at such meeting will have a right to be heard thereon. The additional appropriation as finally made will be automatically referred to the State Board of Tax Commissioners which Board will hold a further hearing within 15 days at the County Auditor's Office of Kosciusko County, Indiana, or at such other place as may be designated. At such hearing, taxpayers objecting to any of said additional appropriations may be heard and interested taxpayers may inquire of the County Auditor when and where such hearing will be held.

4-H Clubs To Support Center

Jack Hart, County Extension Agent, has announced that the 4-H clubs in Kosciusko County are beginning to work on money raising activities to obtain money to meet the county goal of $1,196 to be donated to the Indiana 4-H Foundation for the establishment of a state 4-H club center. The center will provide facilities for year around training of leaders and club members in leadership and citizenship. The goal was established on the basis of a dollar per member and leader based on last year's enrollment. Club members are not being asked to donate the dollar, but to work together as a club in their local communities to raise their share through some type of activity.

It is felt that the club members in Indiana should have the opportunity to donate the initial portion of the funds for the establishment of this center. The site will be the old Ross Engineering Camp which was secured on a long range lease and is located 12 miles southeast of Purdue University.

The 4-H Junior Leaders and the 4-H leaders in the county will meet at the fairgrounds on April 8 to hear more about the work that has been started and view slides of the present site and the proposed facilities.

Persons interested in the 4-H program will want to support the activities of the clubs throughout the county in the activities they carry out to secure their share of the county quota.

IN TRAINING EXERCISE

Army Specialist Five Wendell Cook, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Cook, of Route 2, Warsaw, took part in a four weeks training exercise ending March 15 with other members of the 3rd Armored Division near Grafenwohr, Germany. The 22 year old soldier is a graduate of Mentone High School. He entered the Army in January, 1961.

Improve the appearance of thin legs by wearing skirts with some fullness, but not fully gathered. Purdue University clothing specialists note that skirts of moderate length and light colored hose also help.

Launch Recruiting Drive

The National Guard, both Army and Air, has launched an all-out recruiting drive, which Major General Donald W. McGowan, Chief of the National Guard Bureau, announced recently.

Calling last year's Berlin mobilization "the most successful in National Guard history", he stated that the Guard, both Air and Army, now occupies a position of greater importance in the defense posture of this nation than ever before.

Consequently, it is vital that the Guard's strength be maintained at its maximum authorized level.

Dubbed "Operation Big Push" this recruiting drive has been described by Guard officials as a total effort requiring every Guardsman to do his best to help the campaign along.

The Army National Guard is aiming at four men per unit per month for each of its 4,600 units during the next four months, while the Air National Guard's goal is two men per unit per month for each of its some 700 units through June 30.

General McGowan concluded that, "as it has in the past, the National Guard will once again meet the challenge."

According to the American Cancer Society, about 530,000 new cancer cases will be diagnosed in 1963. One out of three of them will be saved because the cancer was diagnosed early and treated promptly. See your doctor now.

The third grade studied a chapter on poetry in English recently. They had pleasant experiences listening to and discussing the lovely poems. Creative writing gives a sense of inner satisfaction. At the close of the chapter opportunity was given for writing original poems. There were several good ones. Barbara Rush submitted:

THE PUPPY

I know a little pup,
He'll drink out of a cup.
With a ball he'll play
All through the living day.
He does some awful funny things

Because when he hears a robin sing
He tries to do it too,
But it's something a dog can't do.

This poem was written by Brian Stouder:

A RAINBOW AFTER A STORM

After the rain has come down,
But still it is dripping,
Out comes the sun, but it has no frown.

In the streets the water is rippling
Out comes a rainbow that is gleaming

Out comes a flag that is streaming
The sun is sunny

But not very funny
Then we can go out to play
And we can play all day.

Mrs. Trella Tombaugh's class of 4th graders were able to enjoy the "School of the Air" program on TV from Purdue University during the first semester. They shared their television with the 3rd and 4th grades combined (Mrs. Klein) and Mrs. Nelson's 3rd grade. The lessons received were on science. These were two days a week, but they haven't been able to get them this semester because of a time change. If a school signs up for the complete program it can become rather expensive, although they did seem worthwhile and beneficial.

Mrs. Treva Klein has contributed to our column this week by sending us the following:

Miss Marjorie Mitchell, missionary from the St. Lucia Islands, was an over night guest of the Fred Lemlers. Miss Mitchell spoke Tuesday evening at the Missionary Conference being held this week at the Baptist Church. She is with the Baptist Mid Missions.

Clothing Magic For You

Adapting the current styles to an individual figure may be difficult, but unless you do fit fashion to your own personality you may never look stylish or even well dressed.

Knowing your own figure's faults and good points is the first step to being well dressed. But knowing what is wrong is not much good without knowing how to correct it.

Sometimes a bit of magic will turn the trick. Clothing specialists at Purdue University have compiled "Clothing Magic For You" in a neat publication to help women learn how to use line, design and fabric to emphasize their assets and disguise their figure problems.

The pamphlet shows how the magic of line and design can improve the appearance of large arms, thin legs, prominent abdomen, large hips and other figure problems. It also gives special advice for the plump, thin and angular figures. A chart on how to match your appearance to your personality closes the publication.

Single copies of "Clothing Magic For You", HE-446, are available through county extension offices, or Agricultural Publications, AES Building, Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind. Single copies are free to Indiana residents. Be sure to list both the name and number when requesting the publication.

Home - Grown Strawberries

For luscious home grown strawberries, start with virus free plants, advise Purdue University horticulturists. Virus free plants produce more fruit under adverse conditions than plants infected with virus diseases.

Popular virus free varieties include Sparkle, Vermillion and Sure Crop. These varieties are also resistant to Red Steele disease and are well adapted to home planting. Order them from a reputable nursery.

Set strawberry plants as soon as the soil can be worked in the spring. If you aren't able to set your plants when they arrive, heel them in a moist, well drained, shaded area is best. Before planting them, work five pounds of 5-20-20 fertilizer per 100 feet of row in the soil.

Set your strawberry plants 16 to 24 inches apart in the row with three to four feet between rows. Crowns should be flush with the soil surface and the soil should be packed around their roots. Water the plants well after setting.

Grow a new truck in a corn field?

It's not fantastic! And here is why:

An increase of 36 bushels of corn per acre is not uncommon when Phillips 66 Ammonia and other plant foods are used. The chart (right) shows how one farmer increased his net profit $27.10 per acre. On 150 acres his extra net income was $4,065... more than enough to buy a good pick up truck.

See us today! Let us show you how this 82% nitrogen fertilizer can help you live better through higher profits per acre.

Guest Minister At Methodist Church

The Sunday night Lenten services at the Methodist Church are being well attended by the people of Burket, Palestine and Mentone. Last Sunday Rev. Byers of the Burket parish spoke in the first person as John, the beloved disciple.

Special music consisted of the organ and piano duet with Marguerite Campton at the organ and Esther Hagan at the piano. Richard Campton sang "The Lord Is My Shepherd".

Next Sunday at 7:30 p.m. Rev. Campton will be speaking in first person as the thief who died with Christ. There will be special music furnished by the Claypool Methodist choir. The meetings will close on Palm Sunday with the last address given by Rev. Byers, who will speak as the Centurion at the cross.

MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Abe Whetstone, who passed away three years ago, March 31, 1960. There's a corner now that is empty

There's a voice that we hear no more;

And the hands that were always busy

Have ceased to toil as of yore They are folded so quiet and peaceful

Now that their life's work is o'er.

GETTING THE MOST... FROM YOUR GARDEN

by Dr. W. A. Liddell
Director of Information, Asgrow Seed Company

THIS SPRING, MAKE YOUR LAWN A GARDEN!

Most of us tend to overlook the fact that a lawn is really a very special kind of garden. To be sure, you don't harvest anything from your lawn for the kitchen or table, but in all the essentials, your lawn is a garden, in which you are attempting to grow certain kinds of plants, usually grasses, under highly artificial conditions.

Just as you wouldn't try to have a flower or vegetable garden without first making certain that the plants have a favorable environment of soil, moisture, and sunlight, so with a lawn, it is important first to recognize its needs, if you want to have an area around your house that will be reasonably green and attractive over the long period from earliest spring to the last days of fall.

Most of these needs are concerned with the soil, its physical structure, chemical composition, and moisture. Moisture is seldom a problem during the approaching weeks of spring showers, but here are some suggestions about improving your soil to help you make your lawn a garden this season, beginning now.

Soil needs

Many conscientious people apply a coating of lime to their lawns every spring, just the way grandfather used to take his tonic of sulfur and molasses. This is too bad, for almost certainly, applying lime this way does more harm than good.

To be sure, many soils are strongly acid and need an occasional treatment with an alkaline material, like lime. For such soils, lime can improve the structure and neutralize the acidity, making it possible for the rootlets of the grass plants to take up nutrients which might otherwise be bound up in insoluble chemical compounds. Alkaline soils need an entirely different treatment, however, and to add lime would only compound the problem. It's fairly simple to tell which treatment your soil needs, if any, by having it analyzed. This is usually a very simple and inexpensive operation and your garden center can give you all the details.

Fertilizers

Fertilizer is the next step in the spring, and in choosing one for your lawn, it will help to know something about fertilizers in general. Most of them are mixtures containing three chemical elements essential for plant growth: nitrogen (N), phosphorus (P), and potash (K).

Nitrogen is particularly important for lawns, for it is the element that stimulates leaf growth. It is also the element which is most quickly removed from the soil, both by plants and by the leaching action of heavy rainfall. Phosphorus, when taken up by plants, serves to expedite the growth processes, and potassium stimulates root development.

Because mowing removes so much leafy growth from lawns — as much as 24 inches in a season in some cases — the need for nitrogen is high. A typical lawn fertilizer thus will have a formula high in nitrogen, such as 22-8-4 — that is, 22% nitrogen, 8% phosphoric acid, and 4% potash. Today many lawn fertilizers offer nitrogen in several forms to provide a continuous supply over a fairly long period.

How much to apply will depend on many conditions, but it is our experience that for a neglected lawn, ten to twenty pounds of a high-nitrogen lawn fertilizer per thousand square feet of area (ex. 20 ft. x 50 ft.) will not be too much for an early spring feeding.

For a free booklet to help you have tell which treatment your soil needs, if any, by having it analyzed, on a postcard and send to Living Lawns, Asgrow, PO Box 406, New Haven 2, Conn.

Beating The Competition

The "neurotic competitor", in the view of Dr. C. Knight Aldrich, University of Chicago psychiatrist, is a man whose past unresolved conflicts add a neurotic component to his normal drive. This actually gives him an advantage over the competition. The neurotic competitor works day and night and over week ends while the better adjusted competitor relaxes with his family. In a business career, this fierce schedule can bring lavish rewards. It can also bring ulcers, boredom in marriage and depression in retirement. But the doctor adds this cheering note: with some understanding, flexibility and persistence, the neurotic competitor can work out "reasonably" satisfactory solutions to his problems that will allow him to have his competitive cake and eat it, too.

Dust between the earth and moon, such as encountered by the Mariner II spacecraft, originated on the moon, according to National Aeronautics and Space Administration scientists. NASA astrogeologists suggest that fragments of meteoric matter — ranging from tiny pellets to boulders — strike the moon's surface, causing fine particles to be thrown off and escape the lunar gravitational field.

Dentists should listen a little instead of doing all the talking, maintains Dr. Robert Medina, clinical psychologist and management consultant. He recommends that increased attention be paid to "the whole person, rather than just his mouth". Cultivation of "drillside manner" will quickly gain the patient's cooperation.

Welding became less colorful recently, but more precise. Critical work on U.S. Navy submarines and other ships, for example, requires instant identification of arc welding electrodes, which are made up in hundreds of different alloys, reports Alloy Rods Company. The old marking method, colored bands around the neck of the electrode, proved inadequate and has been replaced throughout the industry by a number-coding system. Machinery has been developed that can mark 1,000 rods a minute with permanent inks.

University of Washington engineers are thinking about building the world's largest antenna. It would stretch 100 miles across the Antarctic ice cap and be part of an international transmitting system.

Unappetizing note of the week: according to Dr. William D. Gray, Ohio State University botanist, the annual protein requirements of 1,400 people could be met by the harvest of fungus from one 50,000 gallon culture tank. The harvested fungal tissue would have the appearance of cooked tapioca and be virtually odorless and tasteless.

Auxiliary Meets

There was a meeting of the Mentone American Legion Auxiliary Tuesday evening at the Post home. Opal Nellans and Alice Secrist draped the charter in memory of Opal Tucker, Myrtle Whetstone and Audrey Boggs.

Each year the Junior Auxiliary members study about a country in Central America and dress a doll in a costume typical of that country. After district judging, these are placed on display at the Mentone Library. Pan-American chairman, Lillian Smith, showed the progress that two groups of Juniors had made on the Dominican Republic doll costume.

Committees were planned for the fish fry on April 13.

Love Seats Are Popular

Call them what you will — love seats, short sofas, or settees are gaining in popularity. And they do fill a special purpose in both use and decoration, observes Ezelle Johnson, Purdue University home furnishings specialist.

The size of the two-seat sofa is especially appealing to homemakers who have small rooms. A short sofa often fits in where a regular sized one would not. And a pair of love seats provides seating for four in just a little more space than a pair of large chairs can seat two.

Try a short sofa for a small den — where husband and wife can work on a hobby together or relax in conversation. It's also a perfect spot for mother's storytelling.

You can create some extra seating at the end of a long hall by placing a love seat against a fair sized wall. This could be a private retreat for reading or conversing.

A large formal bedroom could benefit by adding a settee. It could be used at the end of the room opposite the bed to give the appearance of a bed-sitting room.

You can find attractive short sofas in all designs at a retail store. Or, you may find a reclaimable love seat in an attic. Then use elbow grease and imagination to fit it into your decorating plan.

By choosing appropriate fabrics and wood finishes, the love seat can be used harmoniously with traditional, provincial or contemporary furniture.

Plant Garden To Miss Frosts

The first pleasantly warm day that comes along may give "green thumbs" the urge to get their vegetable seed in the ground. But, caution Purdue University extension horticulturists, restrain yourself, for late frosts may bring disaster.

To avoid this trouble, plant according to the last average frost date for your area and the hardiness of the particular vegetable you want to plant.

For instance, if you live in the Indianapolis area, you can plant Irish potatoes about the second week of May. Plant snap beans, corn and tomatoes the third week of May. For very tender crops, such as cucumbers and other vine crops, wait until the last week of May. If you live farther south plant them earlier and if you live farther north plant them later.

If you can't restrain the urge to work the soil and plant, early vegetables, such as radishes, carrots, onions and lettuce, are hardy and most frosts won't hurt them. In normal years you can plant these about April 1 in the Indianapolis area, and in southwestern Indiana 20 days earlier and in northeastern Indiana 10 days later.

Roses Frozen Out

Indiana's severest winter of the century probably has taken a heavy toll of rose bushes. Proper mulching last fall, says Don Scheer, Purdue University extension horticulturist, perhaps saved some of them. But if they were not mulched, likely they didn't survive.

Nothing can be done now, except wait and hope for the best if you mulched. If you didn't, better look for the 1963 rose catalog.

When April comes, he advises to remove the mulch and prune out the dead canes, cutting back about an inch into the live green wood. Don't worry if you have to cut the bush almost to the ground. You'll have good roses even if only one or two inches of live stem remains above the graft union.

Research With A Hen

With the recent announcement by Merck, Sharp and Dome that Kimberchiks were an important element in the production of their live-virus measles vaccine we have another illustration of how research with a hen can make contributions to human welfare, in addition to providing excellent nutrition.

The advent of measles vaccine at last provides a means of controlling this centuries-old affliction, which today kills more children than poliomyelitis and causes brain damage in many others. The live virus vaccine for measles was developed by Dr. John F. Enders, of Harvard Medical School, and his associates in 1958. Years of research have followed to provide a safe, effective vaccine. To prepare such a vaccine, now distributed under the trade name "Rubeovax", the scientists of Merck, Sharp and Dome sought fertile eggs that would be free of poultry infections. A small experimental flock of Kimberchiks, specially selected and maintained in isolation without vaccination and free of virus diseases, has fulfilled this need.

The request for eggs from this flock for the production of measles vaccine was not expected, but it is not surprising that the flock was available when the need arose, because of the wide scope of poultry research at Kimber Farms.

Kimber Farms of Fremont, California, one of the world's foremost poultry breeding organizations, has maintained many kinds of experimental flocks. This particular one was developed to provide special information about a virus disease of chickens. This flock will probably never be useful to commercial poultrymen, but we expect the information gained from it to make future commercial chickens less subject to disease.

Kimber Farms is justly proud of its small contribution to the production of this measles vaccine and the further evidence of the importance of research in poultry to the health and nutrition of the world's population.

Girl Scout News

During Girl Scout Week we sold cookies. We also put a window display in Denton's Drug Store window. On Homemaking since some of the girls are working on Cooking Badge. On Girl Scout Sunday we all tried to attend the church of our choice.

We were co-sponsors with Troop 44, Warsaw, of a Land of Lakes intermediate scout skating party on March 16. There were about 130 girls attending.

Friday evening, March 22, 11 girls and two leaders left the church to go to Warsaw at the Girl Scout cabin. We went to the show and after we returned to the cabin for a pizza party and stayed over night. Following a good breakfast we cleaned the cabin and some of us went on to the skating lessons and the others came home.

Those attending the over night affair from Troop 30 were Kathy Tridle, Cindy Ellsworth, Cindy Whetstone, Jacque Pritchard, Gloria Tucker, Karen Anglin, Pam Abbey, Susan Tibbets, Nancy Keirn, Sharon Lewis and Diane Cole. The two leaders were Ruth Tucker and Harriet Abbey.

Roger Mollenhour and Miss Roseann Gaska of Chicago spent the week end visiting his folks, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Mollenhour.
