PUBLIC CAN STOP OBSCENE MAIL RACKET

Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield declared today the American public can halt the nation's half billion-dollar a year traffic in mail order obscenity.

Appealing for public support in his intensified war on "barons of obscenity who are brazenly violating our homes and soliciting our children," the Postmaster General said, "the people themselves hold the final answer because they can put these filth merchants out of business."

Mr. Summerfield suggested these steps if obscene mail, or advertisements soliciting its sale, appears unordered in your home mail box:

1. Save all materials received, including the envelopes and all enclosures.
2. Report the matter immediately to your local Postmaster, and turn the materials over to him. (You may mail your complaint and evidence if you wish.)
3. Stand ready to sign a formal complaint and testify if criminal action should be necessary.

Thursday evening Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jones called on Robert's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Jones, at Millwood.

Mrs. Myrtle Davis had Sunday dinner with her son, Earl Davis and family, of near Tippecanoe. In the afternoon they called at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Royce Bemenderfer of near Denver.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Barber and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Zolman were in Fort Wayne Saturday evening, celebrating their wedding anniversaries.

Austin Johnson and Mrs. Arthur Kendall accompanied their mother, Mrs. Arthur Rombit, to her home in Indianapolis last week and spent the week end there.

THANK YOU

I would like to thank everyone who remembered me with cards and letters while I was in the hospital.

Mrs. THEODORE THOMPSON

If farmers use a split boot type corn planter they should not apply more than 30 pounds of nitrogen and potash an acre in the row, Purdue University agronomists assert. With this type planter driving speeds over three miles an hour tend to damage kernels and permit fertilizer to fall too close to the seed.

CITIZENS' COMMITTEE MEETS AGAIN

A second organizational meeting of Kosciusko county citizens aimed at getting a medical and health survey of the county, was held at the Lake City Bank in Warsaw last Wednesday evening. Some thirty citizens and medical men had attended the first meeting two weeks before.

In view of the fact that many county citizens are seeking hospitalization in adjoining counties, it has been considered in order to get a complete survey of medical and health needs in our county, and a resolution was unanimously adopted by the county medical association at a recent meeting supporting such a survey. Two committees are now working to seek further information for the citizens.

Contrary to some published statements, at no time has the citizens' committee intimated, suggested, talked about or proposed any tax-supported medical institution. The present task is to determine whether or not a survey should be made to determine our medical needs, if any, and to assist in utilizing our present facilities to their limit.

Americanism Essays

Howard Shoemaker was the high school winner in the Americanism essay contest sponsored by the Mentone American Legion Auxiliary. Lloyd Bowerman was the Junior Hi winner. Judges in the contest were Mrs. H. V. Johns, Mrs. Earl Shinn and Mr. Lewis Pulling. The winning essays are reprinted below:

LAND OF THE FREE By Howard Shoemaker

The United States was founded on the principle that all men are created equal. In this land of the free, there is little racial or class discrimination. This land of the free has struggled through a civil war and two great world wars in an effort to maintain the rights and equality of its people.

The struggle for freedom began in remote antiquity, reaching a high degree of development during the period of Greek and Roman cultural influence. The Greek and Roman cultures have contributed much to the government of the United States, providing many of the fundamental concepts on which this land of the free was founded. However, both the Greek and the Roman Empire declined in power. The Roman Empire collapsed mainly because of internal corruption.

The Renaissance, however, brought a revival of interest in Greek and Roman culture and literature; also the Renaissance, because of the scientific development it stimulated, led to the discovery of the Americas. The discovery of the Americas led to a great migration of people to the new world in search of freedom. Many persons who were persecuted because of their religious beliefs settled in what is now the United States. These people through the years of struggle set forth a government which made all men equal and endowed them with certain inalienable rights.

This land of the free has prospered far beyond the fondest dreams of its creators. It has prospered because of its great natural resources, but this is not the main reason of the press, religious, freedom, and others; but I am thinking of freedom of the mind in which a person can think and reason for himself. He can deduct what material is fact and what material is propaganda. In nations ruled by dictators, the people are not given this freedom. They are told what to believe and kept ignorant of the facts.

The United States must keep advancing, because there is no in-between; a nation either advances or it declines. All the great empires in past history verify this statement. The government of the free must not let corruption enter into its institutions. The United States must advance, in its atmosphere of freedom, as it has done in past years.

This nation, the land of the free, must not perish from the earth. It must fight back against the evils that are common to some men. These evils are the greedy desire for power and authority to rule over a vast number of people. It must fight all evils with truth and foresight. Yes, this land of the free must "long endure".

LAND OF THE FREE By Lloyd Bowerman

Scarcely more than three hundred years ago, a sturdy band of pioneers landed on the shores of the American continent. Their courage, trust in God, and faith in themselves resulted in the founding of colonies dedicated to the principles of freedom and pursuit of happiness.

The first settlers were largely English, but down through the years people have come to America from all parts of the world drawn by the love of freedom to this land. Patrick Henry in a speech in the Virginia Convention on the eve of the Revolution said, "Is life so dear or peace so sweet as to be purchased at the price of chains and slavery?" Forbid, Almighty God! I know not what course others may take but as for me, give me liberty, or give me death."

The beginning of American progress was slow. Between the settlement of Jamestown and the Declaration of Independence extended a period of 169 years.

Our people wrote the Declaration of Independence and at the time it was signed there was a great stir of freedom in the world. The people of Europe following the Middle Ages had broken away from many traditions of the past. Everywhere they were beginning to talk about the rights of man. They were beginning to think that they had a real chance in life. New seas to sail and new lands to settle. It was an age of great hope.

Later our Constitution was written and signed and the first ten Amendments were our Bill of Rights which guarded our hard earned freedom.

as we see fit, freedom of speech, freedom of the press, the right to peaceful assembly and to petition the government for redress of grievances. We also have the right to keep and bear arms, also no soldier shall in the time of peace be quartered in any house without the consent of the owner; also the right of people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers and effects.

No person shall be held to answer for a crime without fair trial, nor deprived of life, liberty or property without due process of law. The listing in the Constitution of certain rights shall not be construed to deny or disparage others retained by the people. The powers not delegated to the United States by the Constitution nor prohibited by it to the States are reserved to the States or to the people.

WEAR A POPPY ON POPPY DAY — MAY 22 AND 23

How the Poppy Became the Memorial Flower

The memorial poppy is a crepe paper replica of the wild European poppy which somehow bloomed amid the devastation of the World War I battle front in France and Belgium. The poppy was the only flower that seemed able to bloom in profusion. Soldiers noticed the poppy as it grew in the raw earth of the battle cemeteries. A soldier-poet wrote about it:

"In Flanders Fields,
the poppies grow,
Between the crosses,

Now the replica of the poppies are made by the disabled veterans in our Veterans' hospitals. They receive a small fee for each poppy. To many it is their only remuneration, maybe enough to buy some gifts for their family back home.

All the money received by the Mentone American Legion Auxiliary from the sale of poppies, is used for the war orphans and for the care of the sick and disabled veterans in our Veterans' hospital.

Remember Poppy Days, May 22 and 23.

Scholarship Coffee Held

The center of interest at the Kosciusko County Medical Auxiliary Scholarship Coffee last Saturday afternoon at the new country home of Dr. and Mrs. Dan L. Urschel was the display of Nurses' caps and two uniforms, one from the Indianapolis General Hospital, 1896, and the other the student nurse uniform of Beth McSherry Holt. The material of the uniforms was very similar, but the difference in caps and collar styles of then and now was striking.

Nurses' caps of many styles came from schools of nursing from several states, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Michigan, Texas, Ohio, as well as several in Indiana.

Rose Drudge, scholarship recipient, was the guest of honor in the receiving line at the Scholarship Coffee. Guests from all areas of the county called between the hours of 2:00 and 5:00 and hostesses were members of the Medical Auxiliary.

COUNTY TORNADO AND FALLOUT SPOTTING SYSTEM

John Wallace and John Frankel, communications co-chairmen for Civil Defense in Kosciusko County, are working out a system whereby spotters in every section of the county will report cloud formations as well as radioactive fallout to the county sheriff's office. He in turn will relay the information to the radio stations in the area. This and other problems were discussed at the staff meeting on Monday night, March 2.

The National and State organizations for Civil Defense have issued pamphlets of a great many subjects, most of which are free. Miss Pauline Holderman, administrative assistant, will be glad to procure such pamphlets upon request. Miss Holderman may be contacted through the First National Bank, Warsaw.

Report On Trip To National D. A. R. Meeting

Report of The National Continental Congress of the Daughters of The American Revolution, Washington, D. C., April 20-24, 1959:

The theme for the 68th Continental Congress of the Daughters of the American Revolution was "Faith of Our Fathers Living Still." The President General in her message to the assemblage on opening night said, "There are those today who are trying to induce us to abandon our Constitution and turn back to the continental type of all powerful central government. They like to suggest that our Constitution has something to do with the horse and buggy era. They imply that it was drafted by men with inferior skills than those of today. This, of course, is utterly untrue, for no period in the life of our nation has produced greater thinkers than those who created our great Republic.

"They know better, but they want us to forget," she said. "It is time for Americans to return to the pure unsullied faith of our fathers, to renew its influence over every institution in our country, and to tell the people of other nations that we can give them liberty . . . or take them nothing."

General Maxwell D. Taylor, Chief of Staff, United States Army, spoke on opening night also. His subject was "The Army and National Defense." Pearl Mesta, former Minister to Luxembourg was also present on opening night.

Members toured the White House, at the invitation of President and Mrs. Eisenhower, on Tuesday afternoon and Junior members attended the Pages dance in the Grand Ballroom of the Mayflower Hotel on Tuesday evening, after the session was adjourned.

A tremendous ovation was given to Mr. Dan Smoot, as he received the Award for Patriotic Service. He is the possessor of much moral courage for fearless presentation of information to the public in his recent book, "Collectivism on the Campus."

On National Defense evening much response was given to The Honorable Herman E. Talmadge

United States Senator from Georgia, as he spoke on "Our Constitutional Heritage . . . Government by Consent of the Governed." He said, "When those who speak out in defense of our American heritage find it necessary in turn to defend themselves against attacks made and aspersions cast upon their motives, it is a shameful and disgraceful reflection upon the vitality of our freedom and institutions."

Dr. Nan Reniers, Principal, Greenfield Elementary Junior High School, of Pittsburgh, Pa., spoke on "Junior American Citizens the Future Hope of America." She said, "A teacher must be consistently firm and we must not teach our children that they can get by without work. The father of success is hard work."

Major General Charles A. Willoughby, United States Army (Ret.) spoke on "The American Communist Party and Russian Espionage."

Awards for the best children's film of the year went to MGM for the picture "Tom Thumb". For the best patriotic film to Paramount for the "Buccaneer". George Murphy of Hollywood, former actor, and now an executive of Desilu Productions spoke to the Congress concerning the alarming business of sending movies abroad that do not depict the true way of American life. Also, he spoke on the number of movies and TV shows unsuitable for American consumption.

The National Defense Committee announced that all releases from that office of the DAR Society have been carefully investigated for factual information and all have been documented. The Congressional Record is studied, much time is spent in council with the FBI. This committee watches closely the legislative trends in education, immigration, and world affairs affecting our American way of life. Many non-DAR members are among the subscribers to the monthly mailings from this office. The Congress was urged to be ambassadors of the facts . . . to spread the truth. Exposing the Communist is not enough . . . we must expose the fellow traveler or sympathizer.

An election of National Officers was conducted and the new President General of the Daughters of the American Revolution for the next three year administration will be Mrs. Ashmead White, of Bangor, Maine. Mrs. Lafayette L. Porter of South Bend, was elected to the office of Honorary Vice-President General.

Our Heritage as free Americans is that our Government foundations rest upon the will of the people.

It is a heritage of which we are proud and which the entire world respects.

It is a heritage to which this nation must adhere if our form of government and way of life is to be passed uncompromised to our children and their children after them.

It is a heritage which is to be put to an acid test in the issues now confronting our nation.

You and I . . . and all Americans who cherish that heritage . . . have our work cut out for us if we are to protect and preserve it.

If we fail or falter in our clear duty to do so, we will deserve the fate which will surely come. Socialism is the first rung up the ladder of communism.

This report was given to the members of the Anthony Nigo Chapter of Mentone at their May meeting by the Northern District Director and member of the Chapter, Mrs. Frank D. Smith. Other members attending the Continental Congress were the Regent, Mrs. Eldred Paulus, of Rochester and Mrs. Omer Drudge of Warsaw.

BIG DAY FOR SECOND GRADERS

Forty excited boys and girls from the second grades boarded the train here in Mentone Sunday noon, May 10, and rode to Fort Wayne. To many of the children, this was their first train ride. It was an eventful day, thoroughly enjoyed by all.

Mrs. Ora McKinley and Mrs. Al Steffler, teachers of the classes, accompanied the group which was met in Fort Wayne by Dick Gross, who brought them back home in the school bus.

JUNE 1 DEADLINE IN FIVE-ACRE CLUB

Enrollment in the Indiana Corn Growers Association Five-Acre Project may be made before June 1 according to Donald E. Frantz, Kosciusko County Agricultural Agent.

The Five-Acre project was one of the first agricultural programs established in the state and thousands of farmers each year use the project to measure their yields. Farmers using new limited tillage operations are especially invited to participate to evaluate their results.

Membership cards are available at the Agricultural Extension Office, Courthouse, Warsaw.

Birdsfoot Trefoil For Pasture

Birdsfoot trefoil seed, which makes the best permanent pasture legume for the northern half of Indiana, is cheaper this spring, reports Lester H. Smith, Purdue University extension agronomist. Empire, the recommended variety, is competing in price with the less adapted European strains.

Five pounds of Empire seed should be seeded with three pounds of timothy and four pecks of Bentland oats as a companion crop. Band seeding is the method of placing fertilizer in bands directly beneath the seeds. Smith says the oats should be pastured to remove the competition for sunlight needed by the tiny trefoil plants.

Trefoil seed should be treated with a specific trefoil inoculum. This inoculation helps to produce strong healthy plants, he explains. Trefoil requires the same lime and fertilizer applications as does alfalfa. Phosphate applied by the band seeding method is particularly effective in stimulating development of young seedlings.

Perhaps the most important attribute of the long-lived Trefoil, says Smith, is the fact that livestock can be turned into a trefoil pasture without risking death from bloat.

Chamber of Commerce News

By M. O. Mentzer

Continuing our program of information regarding the various industries in Mentone.

Valentine Elevator, owned and operated by Leo Valentine, this business purchased from the Mayer Grain Company in 1950, has grown from a one-man operation to 10 to 12 employees.

Mr. Valentine proceeded to remodel the old elevator shortly after acquiring the property. He changed from a line shaft operation to a motor driven plan, and each machine has its own individual motor so as not to interfere with some other operation.

In 1952 the office was enlarged and the newest equipment for their type of work was installed. Shortly after a very bad fire made other changes necessary and the mill was completely overhauled and additional machinery was installed. An additional mixer and grinder was added and then in 1955 a very efficient corn dryer was added.

During the past two years a large dust collector has been installed to help eliminate the dust flying from the cleaning of the grain.

The premises are kept painted and clean and are up to date in every way and are an asset to our community.

At the present time three bulk feed trucks and two delivery trucks are necessary to take care of the increasing business. Contract carriers are used for hauling ear corn.

Safety Check Your Auto

A twice-yearly tune-up and safety check is the best insurance for safe, economical, and dependable driving, according to John H. Struben, director of the Chicago Motor Club's emergency road service department.

"Too often motorists tend to forget the spring tune-up for their automobiles, feeling that with the warmer weather all of their motoring problems are behind them," he said. "Blue an overheated car, stalled on a hot, sunny day, can be just as exasperating and uncomfortable as a dead battery in the middle of winter."

Mrs. Gerald Ballenger visited Monday evening with Mrs. Nellie Riner.

Mrs. Lou Robbins called on her sister, Mrs. Byron Linn, Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Esther McDonald, Marvin Gerber and Glen Davis of Chicago, were Sunday guests of Mrs. Ina Davis and children.

Akron, Ohio—These little tots could do a lot of "wheeling" on this tire, but even with a child's imagination, it wouldn't quite fit their tricycles. It is the world's largest tire, built in Akron, Ohio, by the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company. The mammoth tire, which stands 10 feet high and is four feet wide, is a research model for a planned line of earthmover and special purpose tires for huge construction machines. With the price of this tire—$14,000—you could buy a three-bedroom home, and with the nylon fabric used in its construction, more than 7,000 pairs of ladies' hose could have been made. Enough rubber was used to produce 3,200 passenger car tires. Size designation for the tire is 44.5x45, which means the distance across the sidewall is 44.5 inches and the bead diameter is 45 inches. It weighs two tons by itself and three tons when equipped with its rim.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Hunter of Mexico, Ind., and Mr. and Mrs. Junior Hunter and family of South Bend, were Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hunter and family.

The Mentone Home Demonstration club plans to visit Mrs. Ona Blue in South Bend Sunday. It will be an all day gathering with a carry-in dinner. Mrs. Blue attended this club when she lived in Mentone.

Corn Planting Temperatures

Hoosier farmers should check the five-day weather forecast before planting their corn this month.

Purdue University agricultural climatologist James E. Newman says a five-day forecast of above normal temperatures and less than one-fourth inch of rainfall is nearly ideal for corn planting.

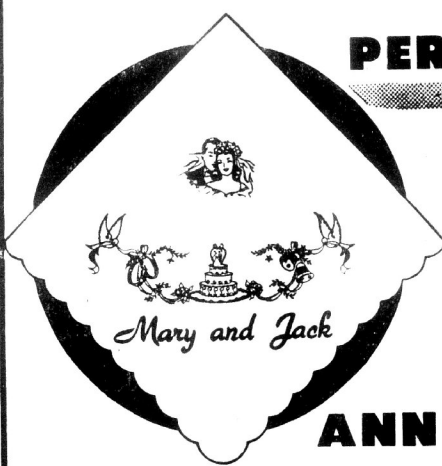

Farmers should best delay the planting operation if below normal temperatures and one inch or more of rainfall is forecast. This is particularly true in the early part of the corn planting season.

For best germinating results and fast starting stands of corn, Newman suggests that farmers wait until soil temperatures are between 60 and 70 degrees in the late afternoon or above 55 degrees in the morning, at two to three inches planting depth.

Newman explains that soil temperatures affect the rate of seed germination. Temperatures constantly below 50 degrees F. prevent most corn from germinating. Seeds will begin growth but emerge weakly if the soil temperature is between 50 and 60 degrees F.

Methorist Church News

The North Indiana Conference of the Methodist Church will be conducting its annual sessions in the Wayne Street Methodist Church of Ft. Wayne from Wednesday, May 20th through Sunday, May 24th. Raymond Lash is the lay delegate from the local congregation and Raymond Cooper is the alternate.

By vote of the official board in its last session, there will be no service of divine worship in the Mentone church Sunday morning, May 24th, and by action of the commission on education of the local congregation, sessions of the Sunday School will be disbanded, because of the majority of the teachers will be attending the 10:30 conference and Sunday morning service of worship in the Fort Wayne Coliseum. Singing in the service will be a large choir formed from the Methodist churches in and around Fort Wayne, and Bishop Richard C. Raines, administrative head of the Indiana Area, will preach the sermon. This service will be telecast from the Ft. Wayne station.

Other features of the North Indiana Conference will be a series of four addresses to be delivered by Dr. John A. Redhead, Jr., Wednesday evening through Friday morning. Dr. Redhead is pastor of the 3,000 member First Presbyterian Church of Greensboro, North Carolina. He has also authored three books; "Getting to Know God," "Learning to Have Faith" and "Letting God Help You"

Dr. Chester A. Pennington, pastor of the renowned Henne pin Avenue Methodist Church of Minneapolis, Minn., will deliver two addresses to the conference on Friday afternoon and Saturday morning.

Charles A. Parlin, member of a large law firm in New York City, will be the guest speaker for the layman's banquet on Thursday evening.

Two musical programs have also been prepared; the first of these will be two performances at 7:00 and 8:30 of "The Invisible Fire" on Friday evening.

This musical drama depicts John Wesley's Christian experience. The choirs of the Wayne Street and Forest Park Methodist Churches will be assisted by members of the Philharmonic orchestra. The second musical program will be a "Choir Festival" at 7:30 Sunday evening by a combined Methodist choir of more than 400 voices. All the programs will be conducted in the Wayne Street Methodist Church, with the exception of the Sunday morning worship service, which will be in the Coliseum.

Probability of Late Freeze

Hoosier gardeners and farmers are interested at this time of year in the probability of a late freeze.

Results of a study of 30 years of weather data, in which the last temperature in the spring of 32 or colder is tabulated, will give the question a climatological answer, L. A. Schaal, Weather Bureau state climatologist at Purdue University points out.

These dates have been averaged for each temperature station in Indiana. They are rather well distributed about the mean date following what is called a normal curve. Two-thirds of the time the last spring freeze occurred within 10 to 12 days of the mean. Greater deviations occurred during the other third of the years. Having this information we are able to estimate the probability of a late freeze at any distance in days away from the mean date, Schaal says.

The data shows that the chances of a freeze after May 15 is 1 to 30 along the Ohio River, and ranges toward the north to a probability of 12 in 30 in the Goshen-South Bend area. In a zone from Fort Wayne westward to Rensselaer the frequency or probability is about 9 in 30 years. A little farther south, from Lafayette to Richmond about 7 times in 30 years and in a zone from Terre Haute to Bloomington and eastward the frequency is 5 in 30.

The average date of last spring freeze ranges from April 8 at the Ohio River in southwestern Indiana to May 11 in the Elkhart area. In central Indiana the average is within two or three days of May 1.

Temperatures used were from thermometers five feet above the ground in standard instrument shelters. Frosts occur at times when these temperatures may not drop to 32 because of surface soil temperatures often recede to lower values than the air above during the night. This is particularly true over low ground or over muck soils.

Rebellion In The Dining Room

By Fred V. Hein, Ph.D., Consultant in Health and Fitness.
Bureau of Health Education, American Medical Association.
Chicago, Ill.

The nutrition of youth and of our whole population has improved immensely in recent years. But a number of studies indicate that many of our young people need to improve their eating habits. Adolescent appetites are generally good, but not always for the right types of foods.

Some skip breakfast, fill up on nonessentials at lunch, and after school spoil their dinner with a badly chosen snack. Others, at regular family meals, pass up essential foods. Still others go on fad diets and deprive themselves of necessary nutrients. A few, either from habit or to compensate for a lack of acceptance, eat too much.

Whatever the cause, they end up with certain dietary shortages. Adolescents probably need more food than at any other time in their lives. Frequently, not enough proteins are included to provide for proper growth and development. Foods supplying needed vitamins and minerals are sometimes left out.

How can the nutrition of youth be bettered? Not by nagging or preaching: Young people must be shown how better nutrition will help them to get the things they want. Help them, for example, to have a nicer complexion, a finer looking body, greater acceptance from their fellows, a better chance to make the team. Eating plenty of all kinds of all good foods can help them to achieve these goals. Here are the recommended types and amounts:

Bread and cereals—4 or more servings of enriched or whole grain. Active young people have a special need for foods rich in energy value such as bread and cereals. Enriched bread and whole grain cereals not only supply energy but also contribute substantial amounts of protein. Enrichment assures a good proportion of the much needed B vitamins as well as iron.

Meat, fish, poultry, eggs, dried legumes—2 or more servings. Fast-growing adolescents need plenty of these foods. They supply high quality protein as well as valuable vitamins and minerals. The animal foods carry all of the amino acids (protein elements) essential to proper growth and development.

Milk and milk products—4 or more cups. Adolescents need milk as much as do younger children. Milk is most important for the calcium and other minerals it supplies, but it also furnishes vitamins A and D, when fortified, and the B vitamins. That milk is rich in protein is well known. Other milk products like cheese and ice cream can replace part of the milk.

Vegetables and fruits—4 or more servings. Vegetables and fruits are a major source of vitamin C and contribute heavily in vitamin A. Stress should be placed on vitamin C rich foods such as the citrus fruits, tomatoes, and "greens." But other vegetables particularly the deep yellow and dark green ones should not be forgotten. Potatoes and other starchy vegetables help supply needed calories.

Parents need have little worry about young people who eat the recommended amounts of all the kinds of foods listed above. The youngsters will derive fats and sugar not only from these sources but also from the inevitable sweets and desserts they eat.

On Monday evening May 11, Mrs. Ray Linn was delightfully surprised at her home by members of The Anthony Nigo Chapter, D. A. R. It was sort of a "Good Cheer, Get Well" party as Mrs. Linn has been ill for the past few weeks.

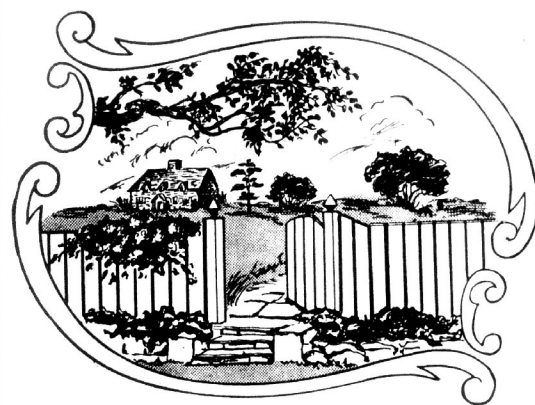

Jerry Smith showed colored slides of pictures at various D. A. R. functions and the Chapter presented Mrs. Linn with a D. A. R. State Chairman's Pin in recognition of her active D. A. R. work and as an added stimulus in her fight back to health.

Delicious refreshments of ice cream and cake were served by the members.

Jerry Smith baked the cakes and Juanita Paulus decorated them with dainty flowers and the name "Hazel" written across the one served her. Mrs. Linn states that is was the first time in her life that she was really surprised but this time she was and happily so.

Open Letter To Parents

Summer is almost here. We should be thinking of having our children immunized for various diseases.

Everyone should be protected from smallpox, diphtheria, tetanus (lockjaw), whooping cough and polio. Certain individuals should have protection for typhoid fever.

It is not the policy of the Kosciusko County Health Department to offer free immunizations in schools. The polio immunization program was an exception to this general policy. It was a Federal and State program. There has been some misunderstanding regarding immunization policies. Some individuals have waited for immunizations at school. This is a mistake. The time to start immunizations is early infancy followed by boosters at eighteen months and boosters and re-vaccinations on entry at school and every three to four years thereafter.

Please contact your family physician for the vital protection your children need. If you haven't been immunized or vaccinated see your physician for your own shots.

Let's make Kosciusko County a safer place in which to live. Let's prevent epidemics of these serious diseases.

Thank you for your cooperation which you have shown the Health Department and school during the past year. It is through your help and fine cooperation that the school and the Health Department programs are successful.

Mrs. Pearl Blue of Chicago, formerly of Mentone, fell at work last week and injured her hip. She is at the Mt. Sinai hospital. Her address is Mt. SSinai hospital, Chicago, 2750 W. 15th Place, Room 518.

Rabies Spring, Summer Threat

While rabies is present all year, it is more dangerous and more often seen during the spring and summer. Dr. T. M. Curtin, Purdue University extension veterinarian, points out. During the spring and summer months children and pets are allowed more freedom and have a greater chance of exposure.

More than 300 cases, most of them in dogs, were identified by laboratory tests in Indiana last year.

So far in 1959, 60 positive cases have been identified in 17 counties. Seven counties—Marion, Hendricks, Morgan, Johnson, Lake, Porter and Ripley—are presently under quarantine. Animals in which rabies has been found this year are dogs, cats, cows, foxes, horses, opossum, skunks, rats, hogs and rabbits.

Dr. Curtin explains that all dogs in the quarantined area must be confined on the premises of the owner or in a suitable place for their impounding and care, subject to the approval of the state veterinarian. The dogs may leave the premises provided the owner keeps them under restraint to keep them from coming in contact with another animal or person.

During the early stage of the disease, rabid animals roam and wander aimlessly, attacking other animals and even inanimate objects. Thus, a single rabid animal may expose many other animals and persons. One small puppy in Marion county last year was responsible for the exposure of at least 15 persons.

There is no cure for, nor successful treatment against rabies, once the symptoms appear. Dr. Curtin emphasizes. Death is certain. Control of the disease is dependent upon annual vaccination of pets, required by Indiana law, and control of all strays.

Dr. Curtin cautions against befriending or petting any stray animal. Such animals should be brought to the attention of the Humane Society or local police.

A person bitten by an animal should immediately notify the health authorities or his local veterinarian so the animal can be confined and observed. In addition, the victim should contact his physician so protection can be received.

Rabies virus is spread through saliva which enters the body through breaks in the skin, such as bite wounds or other injuries which become contaminated by the saliva of infected animals.

"We in Indiana have been fortunate that no human deaths have resulted in spite of our recent high rate of animal infection," observes Dr. Curtin.

"If all dogs in Indiana are vaccinated annually and all strays controlled," he adds, "the rate of animal infection and human exposure can be reduced to a minimum."

Farm Markets Changed Little

Changes in market prices for farm commodities were moderate during mid-May, and, with the exception of corn, hogs and lambs, trended toward the weaker side, reports M. Paul Mitchell, Purdue University agricultural economist.

The egg market stole the spotlight among the principal commodities by virtue of its weakness. Prices for eggs have sank to the lowest levels in almost 20 years, with Grade A large offerings commanding prices of from 20 to 22 cents per dozen at the farm level. Mitchell says weakness in egg prices traces to exceptionally heavy production, which was expected throughout the earlier months of the year, but was apparently checked temporarily by the severity of the winter weather.

The low level of egg prices has had its repercussions on live poultry prices with heavy culling and liquidation of laying flocks causing fowl prices to weaken.

Broiler and fryer prices have also been on the weak side.

In grain markets, the closing out of May contracts in the future's markets has shifted the emphasis to new wheat crop conditions. Harvest of the bread grain has already begun in the extreme southwest, and assurance of another above-the-needs crop has caused prices to sag below price support levels. Although weaker prices are prevailing, the market remains unsettled as various legislative proposals for controls are considered by Congress.

Egg Marketing Facts Discussed

Members of the Kosciusko County Poultry Association discussed the present egg marketing situation at their meeting May 19 at Horn's Restaurant in Warsaw, with Harry Bornmann, Jr., presiding.

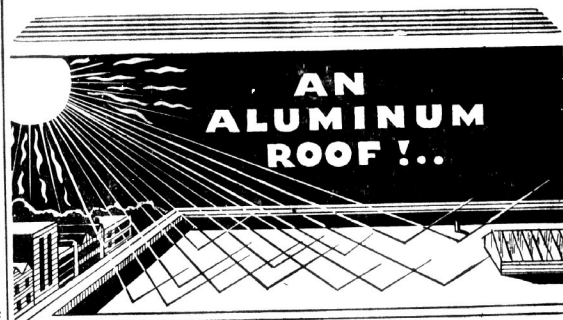

Ralph Sheppard, manager of the Napoleon, Ohio egg market, reported on his meeting with a special industry conference with the secretary of agriculture on the previous day. He said there is strong recommendation against any government subsidy on eggs or fowl at this time.

Dr. J. Holmes Martin, head of the Poultry Department, of Purdue, and Joe Wiltshire, in charge of the state egg grading program, explained the procedure of the new program of sample grading of eggs. There are 285 flocks in Indiana now on the trial program and it is expected that it will eventually replace the present individual candling program.

Chairman Bornmann announced the association's "family night" program for June 9 at the Mentone high school.

Heavy grass meadows cut during late May need a top-dressing of 75 pounds of actual nitrogen to stimulate the second crop, say Purdue University agronomists. But be certain the phosphate and potash levels are in balance with this much nitrogen.

Bus Tour To Purdue June 10

The Home Demonstration Council is planning to send a bus to Purdue Wednesday, June 10 for Homemakers Conference.

This is a three day session to bring homemakers in Indiana up-to-date on the newest trends in home and family living.

The bus will leave Warsaw at 6:30 a. m. and will leave Purdue about 4:00 p. m. Bus fare of $3.25 should be paid to Mrs. Richard Reece, 319 North Washington, Warsaw, phone AM 7-5859.

Mrs. O. B. Clase, Aunt Lottie to many who formerly read her column, will be a member of a panel that will discuss Market Changes and the Miracle of Our Modern Markets.

Other programs will be on: "Start with Floors Built on Kitchens—Thoughts for Retirement—Consumer Problems in Clothing—Good Food for You at Two or Eighty-two."

This conference is open to all homemakers. It is a fine chance to see Purdue and the new building as well as hear the interesting program.

For further information contact the County Extension Office, Court House, Warsaw, or call AM 7-8971.

Seward Twp. Farm Bureau

Phillip Murphy will represent Seward Township in the amateur contest at the county Farm Bureau picnic to be held at the fairgrounds the third Sunday in June.

The May meeting was held at the Franklin School Tuesday evening. Mrs. C. C. Tullis gave devotions consisting of two poems, "The Golden Rule" and "A Little Seed", Psalm 100, and prayer.

Mrs. Murphy gave the safety talk for the month. Important thoughts brought out were: Is your car safe? It is your responsibility to maintain your car for maximum safety. Spring time is cleanup time! It improves appearances and gives self-satisfaction in a job well-done. Clean up all broken glass and trash that might cause unnecessary injury. Beware of pesticides: always use according to directions; never use in windy weather; do not eat while using them; when through wash well and remove all dust and dusty clothing, and bury the containers.

It was suggested that everyone read the current issue of the "Hoosier Farmer" to understand Farm Bureau's desire to acquaint the people with recent legislation.

Anyone who had ideas for discussion or for improvement was asked to form it into a resolution to present it to the county organization.

The group voted to accept an invitation from Lake Township to attend its August meeting.

The secretary and treasurer's report was read and approved.

The amateur contest served as entertainment and then the meeting adjourned for refreshments of ice cream and cup cakes and cool aide.

APPOINT NEW SUPERINTENDENTS

Fort Wayne, Ind.—Appointment of three new district superintendents was announced yesterday at the closing session of the North Indiana Conference at Wayne Street Methodist Church. Bishop Richard C. Barnes, head of the Indiana Area, named the Rev. A. Wesley Pugh as superintendent of the Richmond District, the Rev. B. Brooks Shake as superintendent of the Muncie District and the Rev. Clarence C. Collins as head of the Wabash District.

Rev. Collins, a former Mentone Minister, transfers from Simpson Methodist Church in Fort Wayne.

Indiana's 1959 strawberry crop is expected to total 4,200,000 pounds, 20 percent less than 1958 production, state-federal agricultural statisticians at Purdue University report. The May 1 yield prospect was for 3,500 pounds an acre, the same as last year. However the 1,200 acres planted are 300 fewer than in 1958.

A 200-pound hog needs about 10-12 square feet of shade. Purdue University animal scientists remind hog raisers to have shades ready for the first blazing hot day of summer.

If cows have more pasture than they can eat, Purdue University scientists suggest the surplus be cut and used as silage. Grass silage can be very helpful if pastures become unproductive later in the season.

Minimum Tillage For Corn

Indiana farmers who have been slowed in their corn planting because of inclement weather should consider minimum tillage for their remaining acreage, says Harry Galloway, Purdue University extension agronomist.

Ample moisture is available for ground yet to be plowed, and planting in freshly plowed ground with good moisture is easy. Plowing should leave the furrows level and pulverized; smoothing attachments seldom need to be added to the planter to assure adequate "in the row" compaction.

C. L. Hill, Purdue agricultural engineer, points out that it is not absolutely necessary to plant in the wheel tracks of the tractor in moist plowed ground.

Southern Indiana farmers who practiced minimum tillage this spring found that during the dry planting season they had to pull a two-row planter with offset hitch so both runners planted in the wheel tracks. The tractor wheels reduced clods and compacted the soil for such planting.

Hill points out that four-row planters could operate three runners in a tricycle tractor's track; but weighted, closed rim planter wheels and special minimum tillage attachments, such as culti-packer wheels, were added for the fourth row. Corn emerged in nine days where this system was used in an area which received only one-half inch of rainfall in 30 days.

Since moisture is not a determining factor in much of northern Indiana, Hill and Galloway suggest this plow and plant program:

Plow an acreage which can be planted in a two-hour period;

Plant that acreage;

Continue plowing and planting until dry soil conditions require following the plow immediately with the planter to conserve seed zone moisture.

Best to Top Berry Plants

The new canes of blackberries and black and purple raspberries should be "topped" when growth reaches 26 - 30 in. in height, says W. B. Ward, Purdue University horticulturist.

When shoots grow unchecked the entire season, they become tall, unproductive, spindly and difficult to handle during the fruiting season the following year.

Ward says the growing point on the shoot of blackberries and black and purple raspberries should be cut off at the terminal tip which causes development of lateral or side growth. Lateral growth should be left to grow the remainder of the season and not cut back until the following spring.

Red raspberry canes should not be topped during the growing season, but the canes should be cut back in the spring of the second year.

Additional information on pruning berries is contained in Purdue extension bulletin 191 "Raspberries and Blackberries," available to Indiana residents without charge from the county agents and the office of agricultural publications at Purdue University.

Seed for late fall harvest of cabbage, cauliflower and broccoli should be sown by the latter part of May for June transplanting, remind Purdue University horticulturists.

Knotted germinates in compacted bare areas, along sidewalks and in athletic fields in early spring. Purdue University agronomists point out that at this stage knotted can be killed with 2, 4-D.

REAL COMPLIMENTARY

Mrs. Mindwell C. Wilson, in a report published in the Delphi Citizen last week, referring to a recent DAR meeting, said:

"A presiding officer can make or break a meeting. In Delphi last Thursday, the northern district director, Mrs. Frank D. Smith of Mentone, presided. Smith may be a common name - same as Wilson - but there is nothing common about this Mrs. Smith of Mentone. She is one of a younger group, with a splendid voice, a pleasing personality, knows how to put pep into a meeting and to inspire those who make reports, to give useful information and to do it with vim, vigor and brevity."

LIBRARY BOARD MET MONDAY

Those present at the Library Board meeting Monday evening, May 25 voted and approved the action taken by the Town Board in purchasing parts of the Whetstone and Reed lots as a place to build the new Library.

The Morrison lot was the only other location that could be purchased at this time and both boards preferred the one they are purchasing. The money for this location and building has been given to the town by Lawrence Bell for the officials of the town to build a memorial for him and his parents. After much thought and planning the Board thought this money could be best spent as a memorial on a Town Library.

Mr. Hugh Rickel of Palestine is doing the architecture work on the Building now and we hope soon to be able to receive bids for the building of same. We as Town and Library Boards hope when this Library is completed it will meet the approval of every citizen and that all can be very thankful for the generous gift given to us by Mr. Bell.

Sudangrass Good Pasture

Sudangrass is the best emergency or supplementary crop for good pasture during July, August and September, according to Lester Smith, Purdue University extension agronomist.

Sudangrass makes excellent pasture for dairy cows—two acres will carry three head.

A warm weather plant, Sudan is best seeded soon after corn planting time. It will be ready to pasture in five to six weeks after seeding. In emergencies, the crop can be seeded as late as mid-July.

Soil and fertilizer needs are about the same for Sudangrass as for corn. If no soil test has been made, 250 pounds per acre of an 0-20-20 or equivalent fertilizer should be applied on high nitrogen, dark colored soils and 10-20-20, 10-10-10 or equivalent fertilizer on light colored loam soils. Light colored sandy and sandy silt loam soils often need 40-100 pounds of additional nitrogen if manure or legume sod is lacking.

Greenleaf, the best variety to grow, should be drilled at the rate of 20-30 pounds per acre. Because of its leaf disease resistance, Greenleaf is able to make considerable growth from fall moisture.

Piper and Sweet Sudan are other good varieties, but are more susceptible to leaf diseases than Greenleaf.

Sudan is ready to pasture when about 14 inches high. Alternate grazing by dividing a field will give more pasture days. Sudan also can easily be ensiled. Smith says the soft dough stage is best for silage.

A mixture of Sudan and soybeans also can be used for hay or silage. The soybeans can be drilled with the drill set for 4-6 pecks on the oats scale with 10-16 pounds of Sudangrass broadcast or dropped through the small seed attachment. The soybean-Sudan mixture can be cut from the time the first heads appear on the Sudangrass until seed is well formed in the soybean pods.

MARRIED SUNDAY AT BEAVER DAM

The wedding of Miss Sharon Sue Heighway and Con J. Shewman was solemnized by Rev. William Shewman, uncle of the groom, at 2:30 p. m. on Sunday afternoon at the Beaver Dam EUB church.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Heighway of south of Mentone, and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Shewman, Akron, are parents of the groom.

Candelabra and arrangements of pink and white gladioli and palms banked the altar for the double-ring ceremony. Bridal music was played on the organ by Mrs. Jay Swick, aunt of the bride, and she also played the accompaniment for Larry Tucker, vocalist.

The bride, who entered on the arm of her father, was lovely in a floor-length bridal gown of imported French tulle and lace and nylon tulle and over faille taffeta. The molded bodice with button back and sleeves tapering to points was fashioned with a Sabrina neck line sparkled with iridescent sequins. The bouffant skirt of tulle had a upline and front and back panel of French lace.

A seed pearl crown interwoven with silk illusion held in place the fingertip veil. The bride carried a white Bible topped with a bouquet of pink sweetheart roses with white streamers ending in rosebuds.

The maid of honor was Miss Karen Heighway, sister of the bride.

Miss Edith Heighway, aunt of the bride, presided at the reception table with Mrs. Tim Derf, Miss Sandra Summe, Miss Susie Barber and Miss Janice Miller assisting.

After a trip into the Smokey Mountains, the young couple will reside in their newly furnished home in Akron.
