COUNTERPOINT

By the Editor's Wife

We didn't get this information from the person himself, but his daughter told us that M. O. Smith spent his first few years in a log cabin in Wabash county.

It's a little late to speak of daffodils, but at this season one is made to remember and feel the beauty of Wordsworth's "Daffodils."

—I wandered lonely as a cloud
That floats high o'er vales and hills,

When all at once I saw a crowd,
A host, of golden daffodils; etc.

We haven't yet taken time to stop and see the wonderful exhibit of colors in the tulip garden which Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Eiler have at their home. The cool weather has helped to slow the blooms.

Will someone please help me out? One of two things is true—I am a subject of my own imagination or am one of the few people who remembers seeing yellow violets. I need confirmation or correction. Please help me out, someone!! (I'd like to have a planting of yellow violets.)

We enjoyed this:
The employer was interviewing an applicant for a job in his shop.

"You want pretty high wages for a man who has had no experience," he commented.

"Well," explained the applicant, "A job is much harder when you don't know anything about it."

MENTONE SCHOOL
INSTRUCTORS RESIGN

Robert Hewlett, who has been vocational agriculture teacher here the past five years, has resigned to accept a teaching position at Woodlawn Community high school in Allen county.

Mentone has attained many notable achievements in agriculture under Mr. Hewlett's guidance, and the community will certainly miss he and his family. They have been active in church and community affairs all during their stay here.

Paul Bateman, who coached the Mentone athletic teams to exceptional standings while here has resigned his position. He, reportedly, has been conducting interviews for a new position, but we have no information of whether he has accepted any new position.

Two other teachers are definitely not returning, according to Trustee Earl Boggs. They are Mrs. Norma Myers and Mrs. Skaggs. The latter's husband has a pastorate in Illinois and she will move there with him.

Mr. Boggs stated Wednesday that 18 of the teachers have been signed for another term.

Nothing Beats A Good Example

(The following story, issued by the Chicago Motor Club, emphasizes a thought we have maintained over the years. Ed.)

A motorist's driving attitude often is the result of lessons learned early in life from the example of his parents, according to Matthew C. Sielski, director of the Chicago Motor Club's safety and traffic engineering department.

"The youngster who for many years has watched his parents flout traffic laws tends to grow up with an understandably irresponsible attitude toward his driving," he said.

Sielski urged parents to start their children early in developing traffic responsibility by demonstrating the importance of observing simple pedestrian rules, such as "cross only at corners," "don't cross between parked cars," and "obey pedestrian crossing signals."

He emphasizes that a good example is worth a thousand lectures and pointed out that many parents confuse their children by preaching traffic safety and then ignoring safety regulations at every opportunity.

"If parents observe all traffic laws, the chances are excellent that their children will follow suit," he said.

Selecting Strawberry Varieties

A Purdue University extension pomologist reminds home strawberry growers that selection of the proper variety is perhaps the most important factor in successful production.

Jerome Hull Jr. points out that varieties vary in adaptation to a geographical area. So, he suggests buying plants of varieties known to be adapted to a particular area. Buy plants from reputable nurseries and obtain virus free plants whenever possible.

For an early season variety to be planted in Indiana Hull recommends Vermillion. Vermillion produces medium size, good quality fruit suitable for home freezing. It is resistant to all red stele root diseases.

Surecrop is an excellent mid-season variety, Hull says. Surecrop produces medium size, bright red fruit. Its vigorous plants also produce many runners. If the home grower wants only variety in his patch, Hull suggests Surecrop.

Sparkle or Paymaster probably is the best late maturing variety. Its vigorous plants produce dark red, good quality fruit. The berries are firm and good for home freezing.

Purdue mimeo ho-55-2, "Strawberry Varieties for Indiana," contains more information on the subject. Indiana residents may obtain a copy without charge by writing the Agricultural Publications Office, AES Building, Purdue University, Lafayette.

Indiana watermelon growers plan to plant 7,700 acres for harvest this year, an increase of seven percent over the 1959 acreages, state-federal agricultural statisticians at Purdue University report.

Corn Needs Warm Soil

Indiana farmers anxious to plant corn early this spring may sacrifice stand and yield by planting on cold, wet soils.

A seven-year test at Lafayette by Purdue University scientists gave an average reduction of three bushels an acre for corn planted between April 28 and May 10 compared to corn planted in mid or late May.

Corn planted too early in any part of Indiana on cold, wet soil gets started slowly, reminds Keller E. Beeson, Purdue extension agronomist. Early forenoon temperatures at three inches beneath the surface should be at least 55 degrees on most soils to get the seedlings started rapidly.

The time these temperatures are reached varies in different parts of the state and with soil types. Soybeans require a similar soil temperature and sorghums a still warmer soil.

Quick germination and fast early growth are important to a good corn crop. Adequate fertilization is a necessity, says Beeson. Nitrogen amounts commonly used do not make corn late nor delay drying in the fall unless an adequate supply of phosphate or posash is lacking. Nitrogen in the starter fertilizer gives seedlings needed nitrogen until nature is able to supply it and stimulates the uptake of phosphorus. The result is faster early growth.

Short season hybrids used to give early maturity are often lower yielding than full season corn. Some will stand thicker planting to compensate for this yield difference. In any case, population should be in proportion to the plant food supply, water holding capacity of the soil and the size of ear and yield for which the farmer is "shooting."

Early planted corn is exposed to the hazards of seed maggot, beetles and wireworms. Corn planted in warm soil and under ideal growing conditions is seldom damaged by these pests. Purdue entomologists assert the best way to prevent these seed-destroying insects is to treat the seed before it is planted.

Hogs May Reach $20.00

Purdue University agricultural economists have raised their sights on June-July hog prices. They may reach the $18-$20 range in the wake of strengthening market.

Rising corn prices are in prospect too—about 10 cents a bushel in surplus areas and 25 cents in deficit areas. Some rise in protein feed prices also appears likely.

The economists say soybean prices probably will hold near current levels, while oats prices may rise. They advise storing wheat from this year's crop only if adequate drying and storage facilities are available.

"Food and Drug Administration restrictions make discounts very severe for wheat which is damaged by moisture, insects, birds or rodents," the economists note.

Broiler prices are not expected to change much from the 18-cent levels of early April for at least six or eight weeks. A larger potato crop may drop prices from the current high levels.

Overall, the economists see a continued high level of consumer demand for food during the next several months.

Library News

The first Story Hour at the new Library was held Saturday afternoon at 2 p.m. In spite of the rain, twenty children attended, ages ranging from three to eleven years. All the children gave their full attention to the Story Lady, Miss Janice Mollenhour, as she read three stories closing with "Lassie". We are very happy over the increase in circulation since moving into the new Bell Memorial Building. During April 1959, 646 books were checked by borrowers at the Library. In April 1960, 1218 books were checked out by borrowers at the Library. In addition 1340 books were taken to the schools of this and nearby communities this past month making a total circulation for the month of 2558 books—an average of 98 books per day for the days the Library was open.

New books which arrived this week include: "Full Circle," the memoirs of Anthony Eden. "To Sir with Love," by E. R. Braithwaite—a true story of the birth of understanding between a new teacher, a British Guiana Negro, and hostile White teenagers in a classroom in the London slums. "Belafonte," by Arnold Shaw—the life story of the popular and talented ballad singer. "When Doctors Marry," by Elizabeth Seifert.

New R.E.M.C. Metering Station

(The following story is from the May issue of REMC Rural News.)

In our system study for improving your electric service, our engineers have determined that we should have a new metering point in the area southwest of Warsaw.

The site that has been selected for this new source of power is known as Latta's Crossing, three miles east and two miles north of Mentone.

We plan to buy a small piece of ground and construct a switching structure from which to distribute current in three directions—south, west and east.

Each of the three circuits will operate independently of the others, so the number of members who might be out of service from any particular source of trouble will be greatly reduced.

The greatest benefit to the members in the Mentone area will be the assurance of good dependable voltage that will be made possible by this new source of power supply.

TO SWEEP STREETS ON FRIDAY NIGHTS

A committee was appointed by the Chamber of Commerce to investigate the possibilities of improving the appearance of Main street. The committee has made arrangements with the town board to have their men sweep the street on each Friday night, and if the merchants will clean their walks sometime during the day each Friday, the town clean-up man will complete the cleanup at night. The cooperation of the merchants will be appreciated.

Knowing that a blinking red light would not stop some persons from signing a document before they read it, slick operators use various devices to fool the eager loser.

Recently, a credit information agency used an official looking notice and a Washington, D. C. address to hoodwink people into giving them credit information. I think a person should pay his just debts, but I'm against hoaxes used to collect bills. I believe a magician is the only one entitled to fool people.

The Federal Trade Commission's complaint records show some firms use government-sounding names (e.g., bureau, commission) or symbols (e.g., a shield or eagle) to trick a person into believing the firm is an official government agency in order to get information or an endorsement of their services.

A picture of Uncle Sam or a drawing of a capitol dome doesn't mean the document is sent by a government agency. Read and understand any paper before you sign it.

How To Measure Soil Temperature

When is the soil warm enough to plant this spring?

James Newman, Purdue University agricultural climatologist, points out that seasonal soil temperatures lag behind the seasonal air temperatures by one to three weeks, depending on texture, slope, vegetative cover and color. For instance, sandy soils warm much faster than heavy clay or muck.

Soil temperatures down to a foot or 15 inches vary during the day in the same manner as air temperatures. Highest air temperatures usually occurs around 2 p.m., while the highest soil temperature at about the 10 inch depth normally occurs 10 hours later, or near midnight.

Newman says the best time to measure soil temperatures is two or three hours after sunrise and between 4 and 5 p.m. This gives soil temperatures at near the highest and lowest values for the day at two to four-inch depths, normal planting depth for large-seeded field and garden and crops.

A good grade mercury or alcohol filled thermometer, constructed in such a way that the sensing element can be safely pushed into the soil, can be used. Newman advises avoiding glass constructed thermometers. Dial type thermometers with the sensing element at the end of a six to 10-inch metal rod work well. These can usually be purchased at hardware stores.

To prevent trouble with red mites, paint perch poles with athracene oil several days before placing them in the poultry house, advise Purdue University poultry scientists.

Vacation To Cost More

If you're planning a family vacation by car this year, you had better figure on including a few extra dollars in your high-way budget, according to Curtis F. Proud, director of travel for the Chicago Motor Club.

"The Chicago Motor Club now estimates an average vacation budget of approximately $40 a day for each couple driving 300 miles daily," he said. "This compares with the $36 estimate of a year ago."

Proud said that the major reasons for the increase are the higher costs for food and lodging. Car operating costs have held steady, he adds.

On the basis of reports from American Automobile Association field reporters, who cover more than one million miles annually inspecting hotels, motels, and restaurants. Proud recommended the following on-the-road daily budget for the average vacationing couple:

Car operating costs, $9; over-night accommodations, $9.50; food, $12; tips, $2.50; admissions and amusements, $2.50; and souvenirs, incidentals, refreshments, and emergencies, at least $4.50.

Proud stressed that these figures represent average expenditures and points out that it is possible for some couples to spend considerably more than the $40 a day average, and for others to spend less than this figure. He suggested the following dollar-stretching devices for the economy-minded motorist:

Drive during the early part of the day and stop in the late afternoon when you'll have plenty of time to find the type of accommodations you wish at a price you can afford to pay; check in advance the cost of admission to tourist attractions; and, if possible, plan your trip during the spring or autumn instead of during the peak travel seasons when roads and overnight accommodations are crowded and prices higher.

Spray For Garlic Control In Wheat

If your wheat field is infested with wild onion or wild garlic, you may have to take a dock in price when you market your wheat crop, reminds O. C. Lee, Purdue University weed specialist.

The bulbs of wild garlic which may be found in the threshed wheat have an objectionable odor and flavor making it undesirable for milling purposes.

Spraying with 2,4-D between the time the wheat is 6 inches tall and up to the time the heads are fully formed will set back the growth of the garlic and in most cases will prevent formation of objectionable bulbs.

An ordinary field sprayer equipped with a straight boom can be used to apply 2,4-D as a spray. The rate of application is 1 to 1 1/4 pints of a 40% 2,4-D ester in 10 gallons of water per acre. Care should be taken so as not to over-dose because this may cause slight injury to the wheat.

Lee says spraying with 2,4-D in wheat will injure clover seedlings that may have been made in the wheat. All of our clovers are susceptible to injury from 2,4-D.

For more detailed recommendations for the control of wild onions and wild garlic, ask your County Agent for the bulletin 341, "Wild Garlic Control."

Salvation Army Salvages Left-Overs

The familiar "Red Shield" trucks of the Salvation Army are especially busy during the present housecleaning season.

Income from the collection and grading of newspapers and magazines supplies about 40 percent of the cost of maintaining the "Center" program where 75 men can be accommodated with complete housing facilities including, sleeping, eating, clothing, laundry, recreation, etc.

Brigadier L. A. Peterson in charge of the operation at Fort Wayne, states that the price of paper is presently lower than usual so that handling mixed paper such as wrappings, cheap pulp magazines, gray paper boxes, cereal boxes, etc. is a losing proposition. Disposing of them by some other means is preferable. High type magazines, newspapers, corrugated board, etc. when handled in quantity are more readily taken by paper mills and manufactured into various sized boxes, insulation, roofing, etc.

Also in great need are contributions of clothing, shoes, utensils, dishes, furniture, etc. The clothing and shoes are carefully sorted and distributed thru the Red Shield Stores while rags are used in manufactured items.

Furniture, always in demand furnishes work for the shop men as in the carpenter shop for repairing, paint shop for brightening up, upholstering shop for covered items, stoves and washes to be reconditioned.

Electrical appliances are repaired when possible as are wheeled goods, toys and anything else.

The Brigadier further emphasizes that the total support of the center comes from handling paper and discarded material so that collections perform an added service of removing it from homes and placing usable objects in the hands of low income people who otherwise would hardly be able to live comfortably.

Grocery bags and cartons make excellent containers for clothing, shoes and other small items.

Early Spittlebug Control Measures

During the next two weeks, Indiana clover and alfalfa fields should be examined for spittlebugs, advises Dave Matthews, Purdue University extension entomologist. This early spring pest began hatching in the southern third of Indiana during the week of April 15.

The spittlebug is a common early season pest of legumes in Indiana and sometimes may cause losses amounting to 50 percent of a farmer's first hay cutting. Infestations should be detected early so that insecticides, where needed, may be applied.

Early application assures best insect control and avoids the possibility of insecticide residues at time of harvest or grazing. Matthews advises spraying as soon as nymphs are observed—generally when the crop is four to six inches high. In most parts of the state this would be the latter part of April or the first week in May.

Examine your fields now, Matthews urges. Check the crown areas and leaf axils for the newly hatched orange-colored nymphs. They will be covered with a spittle droplet the size of a match head. If after examining 40 to 50 stems you find an average of one nymph per stem, spraying is well justified, he explains.

Lindane, BHC and methoxychlor are recommended insecticides for spittlebug control. None of these materials will leave undesirable residues if applied according to Purdue recommendations. Apply 20 percent emulsion lindane at the rate of 1½ pints per acre. Wait 30 days before cutting for hay or grazing.

BHC may be used at two pints of 11 percent emulsion per acre, but wait 40 days before grazing or cutting.

Methoxychlor, 25 percent emulsion, should be applied at two pints per acre with a waiting period of seven days before harvest or grazing. These insecticides should be applied in sufficient water to assure adequate crop coverage, at least 10 gallons of water per acre, Matthews adds.

More information about spittlebug control can be obtained from Purdue Mimeo E-28 "The Spittlebug," which is free to Indiana residents at county extension agents' offices or by writing to the Agricultural Publications office, Purdue University, Lafayette. Be sure to give the title and number when ordering the publication.

State federal agricultural statisticians at Purdue University report the intended Indiana cabbage acreage for both fresh market and processing will be 1,400 acres, nine percent less than in 1959.

COUNTERPOINT

By the Editor's Wife

Thank you! Thank you! Thank you! I have been re-assured. There ARE yellow violets, quantities of them, in the woods, to be sure; and some growing right here in Mentone. I appreciate the phone calls, cards, and personal response to my appeal — especially to those who brought plants. We hope to have some yellow violets (Johnny Jump-Ups) blooming next spring along with our purple, blue and white, and white violets.

The aspect which puzzles me is that I could question so many people about yellow violets, not one of whom was certain about that certain flower.

(My son would tell me, no doubt, that I have not yet reached the plane of scientific thinking, i. e. collecting and evaluating sufficient data before formulating a hypothesis — Right, Jon?)

It was a pleasant surprise to hear from our good friend Mrs. Allie Lyon, who lives in Attica. She says that she was born in a log house in Marshall county and lived there until she was four years old. We hope to see you in Mentone one of these days, Mrs. Lyon.

For you who have battled and battled those small spring blooms which take over our lawns this time of year, here is a happy thought. Henry Ward Beecher said, "You cannot forget if you would, those golden kisses all over the cheeks of the meadow, queerly called dandelions." Which causes us to add, that Mother Nature surely does throw her kisses around carelessly.

We enjoyed this: Walt Safford, of our printing staff, tells this true story. We think it could very well be called "Sweet revenge," and actually happened to a farmer-friend.

A car full of city folks came to the country looking for bittersweet. They had been successful in finding a great deal of it and had piled the car full. Seeing a farmer along the road, and wanting to have some fun, they stopped and said:

"Well, from the looks of you you must be one of them country-jakes we've heard about!"

"Yes sir," he answered, "And from the looks of all that poison ivy you got hangin' out your

Dies After Long Illness

The deceased was born near here Dec. 23, 1901, the daughter of Edgar and Rosella (Higgins) Hall. She was a member of the Burket EUB church.

Surviving in addition to the husband are a son, Gaylord, and a daughter, Juanita Meredith, both of Syracuse, and six grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at two o'clock Friday afternoon in the Reed funeral home. Rev. Lloyd Overmyer, pastor of the Burket church, will officiate. Burial will be in the Mentone cemetery.

MOTHER DIES
IN OHIO

Mrs. H. W. Quinn, of Akron, Ohio, mother of Paul Quinn of Mentone, died in a hospital in that city Tuesday evening. The funeral will be held on Friday morning in St. Martha's church in Akron. She was 71 years of age and had been ill since in February.

Mrs. Quinn, who leaves two daughters, another son and 8 grandchildren, had visited here on a number of occasions.

Beaver Dam

Mr. and Mrs. Guido Shirey have purchased a plot of land on the north side of Road 25, east of Mentone, and plan to establish a drive-in there.

car, you must be them city-slickers I've heard about."

Without one word of question the car was very quickly cleared of "poison ivy" and some city-folks headed home.

SIX HALF-CENTURY
MASONS HERE

The Mentone Masonic Lodge has quite an enviable record for a small membership to have six living members who have been presented with 50-year membership gold awards. The most recent was A. I. Nelson of Mentone.

The five others are:

M. O. Mentzer, Lloyd Rickel and Lyndes Latimer of Mentone, Frank Warren of Fort Wayne, and Harry Ketterman of Michigan.

GLEN PAULUS
DIES IN ILLINOIS

Last rites for Glen Paulus, 63, of Glen Ellyn, Ill., formerly of Silver Lake, were held Friday afternoon at the First Congregational church in Glen Ellyn.

Mr. Paulus, president of Safety Moving and Storage, Inc., of Elmhurst, Ill., died May 4 of a heart ailment in Geneva Community hospital, Geneva, Ill. Although not in the best of health for several years, he was active in his business until a few days before his death.

Mr. Paulus was born in Silver Lake, the son of Alice and Monroe Paulus.

He leaves his widow, Helena, who resides at 211 East Road, Glen Ellyn; a daughter, Mrs. Martha Killebrew, of Denver, Colo.; two sisters, Mrs. Sam Lowman, of Yellow Creek Lake and Mrs. Chet Bashore, of Silver Lake; four grandchildren and several nieces and nephews. Two sons, Randall and David, and a brother, Cloice preceded him in death at Mentone.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie W. Estes of Indianapolis are the parents of a daughter, Deborah Ellen, born Friday at the Murphy Medical Center. She weighed eight pounds five ounces. Mother and daughter are now at the Arthur Kendall home, west of Mentone.

Mentone D A R May Meeting

Mrs. James Randall of Warsaw RFD, was the hostess to the May meeting of the Anthony Nigo Chapter, Daughters of American Revolution. She was assisted by her sister, Mrs. Paul Shireman, Akron RFD.

The meeting was opened with the ritualistic service and salute to the flag followed by singing "The Star Spangled Banner."

Mrs. Frank Smith, Chairman of National Defense, gave a report concerning the infiltration of communists into our churches as evidenced by the recent row over the Air Force Manual, a security training manual for non-commissioned reserve officers. From a variety of authoritative sources there appears to be overwhelming evidence of Communist anti-religious activity in the United States through the infiltration of fellow-travelers into churches and educational institutions. The National Council of Churches of Christ in the U.S.A. officially sponsored the Revised Standard Version of the Bible. "Of the 95 persons who served on this project, 30 have been affiliated with pro-communist fronts, projects and publications." This is the context of the controversial section of the manual. Clergy and lay leaders outside the National Council insist the charges are true along with Chairman Frances Walter, of the House Committee concerned with investigating the un-American activities in our country. Capt. Edgar Bundy of the Church League of America says that he will "testify under oath and prove with documentation that the National Council of Churches is one of the greatest enemies of our nation's internal security." Capt. Bundy is the author of "Collectivism In The Churches," exposing the alarming extent to which Communist propaganda has penetrated religious groups and institutions. He is a resident of Wheaton, Illinois and has been awarded the American Legion's Americanism Citation for Distinguished Service by the Department of Illinois.

The Chapter discussed the sponsoring of a sale of the new 50-Star United States of America Flags to all interested people in the community in an effort to encourage the display of the flag on patriotic holidays. Citizens of Mentone and vicinity will be contacted in this drive to show "our colors" on patriotic holidays.

Flags range in price from $2.50 for a 2x3, complete with pole and house holder to $9.50 for a 3x5 in a lawn standard. Prices vary according to size and material.

Reservations and transportation was discussed concerning the Northern District Meeting on Tuesday, May 10, at Honeywell, in Wabash. The regent of Anthony Nigo Chapter Mrs. Eldred Paulus, will give her yearly report of the chapter's work at this meeting.

Mrs. Ernest Igo gave a sketch of one of the Founding Father's, Alexander Hamilton.

Mrs. Frank Smith gave a report of the Continental Congress of the DAR which she recently attended in Washington D. C., along with Mrs. Ray Linn. She announced that the theme for the coming year would be "For What Avail... if Freedom Fail."

Martin B. McKneally, National Commander of the American Legion, spoke to the Continental Congress on "America, its Opportunities and Responsibilities." He called on the DAR to join with the American Legion, whose ideals he compared with theirs, in withstanding the pressures from within as well as without. He said that we see at our doorstep a government that is headed by a revolutionary named Castro, who is doing the Communist business and yet we also see a number of Americans who have achieved a certain celebrity apologizing and praising this government.

He said it is extremists like these who find it easy to socialize and fraternize with tyrants who make organizations like the American Legion and the DAR targets of their distaste. He declared that we have always been propagandized too much by men who have traveled too much, thought too little, acquired facts but no wisdom, success but no faith. It is patriotic organizations like ours which can withstand the pressures of communism, Mr. McKneally declared, by saying: "Yes, the students of America will take a loyalty oath in this day of freedom's darkest peril... Yes, we shall retain the Connally Reservation to protect the sovereign rights of our citizens... Yes, we shall reject Hollywood producers as the arbiters of our morals and our thought patterns... Yes, we shall oppose the admission of Red China into the United Nations."

The National DAR Award for Patriotic Service went to Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer, author of the revealing book concerning World War 2, entitled, "Wedemeyer Reports." In introducing the General, he was called a great strategist whose fearless devotion to truth and loyalty to this country impelled him to write the famous Wedemeyer Report in 1947, which President Truman and the Secretary of State did not release to the public, and the major portions of which were not revealed by the State Department until 1949.

The book which Gen. Wedemeyer wrote, based on his report and published in 1958, was called a devastating indictment of the grand strategy of World War 2, which inevitably set the stage for today's world crisis.

Mrs. Smith stated that the DAR commended the Senate Internal Security Sub-committee and the House Un-American Activities Committee for their hearings on Communist strategy.

The announced objective of the international Communist conspiracy is the destruction of freedom and Christianity; the Communists seek to destroy the United States through such tactics as cultural exchanges, cessation of nuclear tests, aid to underdeveloped countries, nullification of anti-communist legislation and the current so-called "peace offensive". The greatest asset of the Communist is world ignorance of their tactics, strategy, and objectives. The National Society DAR urged its members and all citizens to study thoroughly the techniques and strategy of the Communists in order to combat their clever propaganda and expose their objectives. A copy of Communist Tactics, Strategy, and Objectives has been placed in the local Library for the dissemination of such information.

Anthony Nigo Chapter will meet at the Beaver Dam home of Mrs. Wayne Smalley for a carry-in dinner on the evening of June 21.

Merry Mollys Have Meeting

Mrs. Dale Stiffler was hostess to the Merry Molly Home Ec. Club Monday evening at her home. Sixteen members answered roll call by telling their favorite TV program.

Mrs. Jerry Hudson and Mrs. Clayton Holloway gave the lesson on "choosing furniture." Many points were stressed on what to watch for when buying.

Mrs. Hershel McGowen gave a garden lesson on planting flowers.

Several baby contests were played by all with the prizes in return given to Mrs. Dale McGowen. Delicious refreshments in pink and blue was served by Mrs. Marion Smith. A baby gift was presented to Mrs. McGowen from the club.

Mrs. Carl Whetsone, Mrs. Clayton Holloway and Mrs. Dale McGowen recieved birthday and anniversary gifts from their secret pals.

Feeder Cattle Numbers Down

Indiana farmers had fewer cattle on feed April 1 than a year ago. State-federal agricultural statisticians at Purdue University estimate the number at 192,000, 16 percent fewer than on April 1, 1959, and seasonally fewer than last January 1.

Cattle weighing 900 pounds or more totaled 37,000, 20 percent of the inventory. Those weighing less than 900 pounds totaled 155,000, compared to 193,000 a year ago.

Cattle on feed three months or longer numbered 146,000, 76 percent of the April 1 total. Steers and steer calves made up nearly two-thirds of the total, heifers and heifer calves 35 percent and cows and others one percent.

Marketings of fed cattle during the January-March quarter totaled 80,000, 10 percent fewer than during the same period of 1959. Cattle placed on feed totaled 48,000, 23 percent fewer than during the first quarter of 1959 and the smallest for the quarter since reports started in 1954.

Farmers indicate they plan to market 87,000 head, or 45 percent of the April 1 total, within the next three months. This represents a higher rate of marketing than a year earlier.

Statistics show that the spring months are the most dangerous time of year for children, according to the Chicago Motor Club. That's why parents are urged to place special emphasis on safety education for their youngsters during the current spring season. Children have a tendency to forget their safety lessons with the return of nice weather. Parents must see to it that youngsters are reminded frequently of the need for caution while bicycling and enjoying other outdoor activities.

ANOTHER DETOUR

In our last issue regarding the Girls' State candidates, we mentioned they were sponsored by the sorority. We questioned the information, but accepted it as correct, but now find it should have been the American Legion Auxiliary.

THANK YOU

We wish to thank the Mentone Fire Department and all those who helped.

Millions Of Gifts Mark Care Birthday

On May 11, 1960, these things will be happening across the world, thanks to the kindness of Americans:

In the city of Bogota, Columbia, 120,000 children from the poorest families will hungrily consume the CARE milk and buns served to them at school. In their classes, thousands of the boys and girls will be using CARE books, paper and pencils.

In Kadus, India, which has no local physician or hospital for its 5,000 people, long lines of villagers will wait outside a huge white CARE van, anxious to see the doctor who comes to them every Wednesday in the completely equipped clinic-on-wheels.

In Hung Phuoc, a village they carved out of the jungles of Vietnam, 75 farmers, working with CARE shovels and hoes, axes and saws, will till their fields, chop down trees, cut the trunks into logs they can sell for extra money to support their families.

The May 11th date is cited because it marks the 14th anniversary of the first CARE package deliveries, which food was brought to World War 2 victims in France. Since that 1946 beginning, more than $342,000,000 worth of supplies have been delivered, it is reported by CARE'S Midwest headquarters, 1 South State, Chicago, Illinois. As the examples illustrate, this outpouring of people-to-people aid has made it possible to give needy humans four essentials: nourishment, medical help, schooling and useful employment.

Of necessity, roughly 92% of CARE's aid has been food, a great part of it U.S. agricultural surpluses; 4% in textiles and other relief goods. But since the early 1950s, when its Self-Help program was developed, CARE has turned $13,692,000 into tools to help the needy help themselves.

Such gifts are steadily increasing. Currently, 30% of all contributed funds go for tools, using the word in its broadest sense. Mainstay is still the CARE package, now offered in over 70 varieties: $1 food parcels or student kits, $10 farm tool and first-aid kits, $12 classroom supply kits, $20 tool kits for carpenters or mechanics, $100 brick-making machines. In addition, contributions are used for a host of special purchases to meet special self-help needs: livestock, irrigation pipes, vocational training machines, the mobile health units costing $11,500 and more.

France, the first CARE country, is no longer on the delivery route. Over the years, as postwar conditions improved, CARE ended service to 25 nations. Today, food and tools reach 26 areas of Asia, Europe, Latin America and the Middle underdeveloped lands.

You may send your CARE contributions to: CARE, South State, Chicago, Illinois.

Williamson University Trustee Candidate

Indiana University has completed the mailing of over fifty thousand ballots to alumni for the election of a trustee. The alumni of South Bend have nominated Porter B. Williamson, attorney and syndicated newspaper columnist who served in World War 2 as a Night Fighter Squadron Commander in the Air Force. Williamson was a prosecuting attorney of Kosciusko County in 1940.

Three Indiana University trustees will be selected in June;

two by the Governor of the State, and one by the vote of the Alumni.

A Garden For Junior

When you plan the location of your flower garden, why not reserve a spot for the littlest gardener?

Children can find a great deal of fun in their own garden and at the same time acquire respect for the lawn and gardens you and your neighbors carefully cultivate.

"Junior may not be tempted to pick the tulips next door if he's waiting for his own flowers to bloom," adds C. E. Hoxsie, Purdue University horticulturist.

To make sure Junior's garden will grow, you will select seeds that germinate readily. To make sure planting is a pleasure and not a chore, you will want seeds that are big enough to be handled easily by fumbling fingers. Locate Junior's garden in a sunny area in well-drained, deep, rich loam and he's least likely to suffer disappointment.

Hoxsie suggests sunflowers and four-o'clocks for flowers. "Include a few vegetables," he recommends, "so that Junior can have the fun of eating his own handiwork." Corn and beans are sturdy and if you have plenty of room squash and gourds might be added.

REMOVE RHUBARB SEED STEMS

Gardeners should remove rhubarb seed stems as soon as they form according to Leslie Hafen, Purdue University horticulturist.

If these seed-bearing stalks are not removed, valuable food reserves will be wasted and the plants weakened. As a result, the number and quality of stalks will be reduced.

The seed in such seed stalks is of little value, since rhubarb is propagated primarily by root division rather than by seed.

Any condition that interrupts steady growth of rhubarb may cause early seed stalk formation, or bolting, Hafen points out. Unsuitable varieties, poor soil, high temperatures, lack of water and long days are some conditions favoring early seed stalk formation.

A HISTORY OF MENTONE

By M. O. MENTZER,
Secretary Mentone Chamber of Commerce

OUR FIRST NEWSPAPER

Our first newspaper was published by C. M. Smith in 1885. Mr. Smith was a small energetic man he and his family did all the work, at least in the beginning of the publication. It must have been quite an undertaking to publish a newspaper in a small town depending on advertising and subscriptions for income, but Mr. Smith did a very fine job. The Bell Memorial Library has copies of this paper from the first to last publication. It was called The Mentone Gazette and later the name was changed to Tri-County Gazette. During this period we had no telephones with party lines so the newspaper was our source of information.

OUR DOCTORS

There were several doctors here in the early history of Mentone. I no doubt will miss some of them but these I remember; Dr. Chandler, Dr. J. W. Heffley, Dr. E. Stockberger, Dr. Robinson and I think there was a Dr. Sur-guy here a short time. This of course was in the horse and buggy days and it was a trying time for the doctors to make their rounds, especially in the spring of the year when the roads were very bad. The doctor and his faithful horse as always got there but it was sometimes a heroic effort on their part. Dr. M. G. Yocum came in the early 1890's. Most of you will remember him as he was a younger man and lived here longer than some of the others. Dr. Yocum did most of his calling after supper and I well remember his team. He always had good horses and took good care of them. Later Maurice Dudley came and stayed with Dr. and Mrs. Yocum. He would do the driving and was always ready to go when a call came. Dr. Yocum perhaps was best known of any of our doctors. He kept an office open with Mrs. Yocum in charge. We did not make appointments in those days but would come in and wait. The waiting room was well named as it took a long time to see the doctor at times. Dr. T. J. Clutter came to Mentone about the turn of the century, was here a short time and moved to Atwood. They had typhoid fever in that locality and he was successful in treating most of the cases and enjoyed a good practice while there. After several years at this place he returned to Mentone and opened an office here. He was successful in his practice here and stayed on the job even after he was a sick man and he had a host of good friends in Mentone and community. There was a Dr. Casebeer here for a short time. His wife was a niece of Dr. Heffley. He moved to Angola after a short stay in Mentone.

How much we are in debt to our early doctors. They had to work under most unsatisfactory conditions at times and they had none of the miracle medicines now in use, but found it necessary to improvise many times. The closest hospital was Ft. Wayne; at least it was more convenient to go there as we could go by train. I well remember one case: Mr. John Vandermark, great-grandfather of Barney and Ellery Nellans. He got a piece of gristle in his throat and it would go neither up or down. Dr. Yocum had just purchased his first automobile but a trip to Ft. Wayne then by Auto, was some trip on account of roads. Dr. Yocum had made arrangements for the fast train to stop and take Mr. Vandermark to Ft. Wayne for treatment. They started for Mentone but the roads being what they were they missed the train so they started for Ft. Wayne by auto. Near South Whitley they struck a chuck hole, Mr. Vandermark bounced up and struck the top of the car and down went the gristle. He said, "Doctor its gone". Dr. Yocum said, "Well I guess we need go no further" so they turned around and came home cured.

Broken bones and minor surgery were performed in the doctor's office and it is remarkable the fine work that was done. Babies were born at home, the mothers depended on the doctor and usually a motherly woman in the neighborhood took care of things. The price was usually $5.00. This money was hard to come by in those days and quite often the doctor was paid nothing. I remember Dr. Clutter talking with me one day when a fellow drove by with a new car. Dr. Clutter said, "there goes one I never got paid for". I feel sure that doctors are better paid now and we get better care than in the old days.

BALLOON ASCENSION

In the early 1890's a family by the name of Casad moved to Mentone. The father was a music teacher, a very dignified looking man always dressed like a gentleman of leisure. They had several boys (I think there were 6) and they were trained in music and dancing, quite a theatrical family. One of the boys, Charles, made the businessmen a proposition. If they would furnish him a balloon he would make an ascension for his pay. The merchants thought this would be a fine way to publicize Mentone so they agreed. Mr. Casad agreed to supervise the making of the balloon. There was but one place they could make it and that was the opera house, so they bought the canvas and a number of the women and girls about town took their sewing machines to the opera house and started to work. Mr. Casad cut the material and shaped it and the women folks did the sewing. We kids would go upstairs and watch them at work on the balloon. We were thrilled just to think of the idea of a man going up in a balloon. Finally the finishing touches were put on the balloon and everything was in readiness. Mr. Casad said he wanted to make a trial flight before the day of the big event so they took the balloon down by the creek back of (Cullums') made a furnace and inflated the balloon. Although we had no telephones the word got out about the trial flight and a large crowd was on hand. The time was early in the evening, a beautiful time of day, very little wind. When everything was in readiness Casad took hold of the bar and yelled, "Let her go Gallagher" and up she went sailing over town in a northeasterly direction and came down near where Barney Nellans now lives. Balloonists in those days did not use a parachute but rode the balloon down. Needless to say this was a grand success. Arrangements were then made to have a public ascension. Advertising it all around we had one of the largest crowds ever in Mentone as this was something new. Very few people had ever seen such a sight. This event also went off very satisfactorily and the merchants felt that they had spent their money well.

A short time after this the Casad family moved to Knox, but we had one of the boys back for balloon ascensions several times after that.

A meeting of the board of directors was held at the Mentone School Tuesday evening, May 17. Suits will be passed out Monday, June 6 at 6:30.

All fathers are urged to be at these tryouts as the managers will be picked at this time.

COUNTERPOINT

By the Editor's Wife

Word comes from Katherine Bunch of Argos, saying that she was born in a log house on the present farm in Marshall County, and lived there until she was ten years old.

Here is a news item—rather, business item, that caught my eye. "The Limerich Horse-Meat Packers, Ltd., of Sunacatty, Limerick, Ireland, is trying to arrange weekly shipments of horsemeat to Britain, where prices recently have risen. Shipments earlier this year to Belgium and Sweden have not been profitable." Any comment?

Here is a statement which may bring some disagreement, especially from the editor, whose wastebaskets are usually bulging "If you are an average American, you'll get 370 pieces of mail this year.

We enjoyed this:

Voter: "I wouldn't vote for you if you were St. Peter himself." Candidate: "If I were St. Peter you couldn't vote for me. You wouldn't be in my district.

BARN BURNS
HERE FRIDAY

The large double-deck barn on the Pringle farm, recently purchased from Hubert Keirn, just northeast of Mentone, burned to the ground last Friday morning. The Mentone fire department was able to save the other nearby buildings, but the barn was entirely ablaze when the department arrived.

The barn was being used for brooding chicks and 7,500 young chicks had been placed in the building just a couple of days before.

Sunday afternoon another of the smaller buildings caught fire from smoldering embers and it was destroyed.

"The Freedoms Of America"

(Winning Americanism Essay, Grade 7)

The United States
is a free country.
We have freedom in practically everything we do. We have the freedom of speech, press and religion. We have the freedom to go places. We can choose our occupation freely and we may vote for the people that we want to hold an office in our government.

Freedom of speech is a great freedom. It gives us the right to speak against our government if we dislike what it is doing or the way it is working. It gives us the right to say what we think is right without being afraid of the consequences.

Freedom of press gives us the right to write what we want to say and what we think is right. It gives us a right to write in magazines, books and newspapers what we think is right and what we want to say.

Our freedom of religion is one of the most treasured freedoms of the United States. It gives us the right to choose what church we would like to attend.

It gives us the right to choose whether we want to be Protestants, Jews or Catholics. We may go to any church we want to go to without being persecuted or without being afraid that the church will be closed down.

We can choose our occupation freely. There are many things people can do and be. They can be doctors and nurses; they can be farmers and housewives; they can work in factories; they can be salesmen and architects; plus many others.

We have the freedom to go places and do things as long as we aren't breaking the law.

Voting is another freedom for which we should be thankful.
We can vote for the person whom we think would do the best as president for our country.

These freedoms provide for safety and life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness in the United States of America.

sins; Steve, William, Amber, and

The engine is Chevy's famous Thriftmaster 61

Chevy hums through Chicago traffic to the tune of 21 miles to the gallon!

Working for Bumper and Auto of Illinois, Inc., ten 1960 Chevrolet pickups battle Chicago traffic day after day.
Each truck averages about 2,000 miles a month in this wearing stop-and-start delivery service. Mr. Harry Haller,
General Manager of S & H Truck Leasing, who leases the trucks to the bumper firm, reports: "We provide full maintenance on the trucks—gas, oil and everything else—so it pays us to know just where we stand on costs.
And our records show that the '60
Chevies are giving us as much as 21 miles per gallon . . . with an average of better than 17 miles per gallon.
Mister, these are our kind of trucks!"

Truck owners have good things to say about all Chevy engines. And when they're not talking about Chevrolet performance and economy, they're telling you how great that new Torsion-Spring Ride is. How it soaks up road shock and vibration. Protects fragile loads. Lets you run at faster, safe speeds to get more work done in a day. Drive a torsion-spring Chevy soon. We'll rest our case on that one ride.

Rotation grazed pastures may yield three times as much grazing per acre as continuously grazed pastures, according to Purdue University dairy scientists.

Small grain varieties, when properly managed, are valuable for pasture, hay silage or green chopped forage, say Purdue University agronomists.

Motorists who speed into a gas station, a supermarket parking lot, or a private driveway are endangering adults and children alike, says the Chicago Motor Club. Maturity and common sense are of little advantage to pedestrians in such a situation. Motorists should always exercise extreme caution whenever pedestrians are in the driving area.

Springtime driving, says the Chicago Motor Club, often can be such a pleasant experience that a driver could inadvertently overlook such dangers as increased traffic, broken pavement, and the tendency to drive just a little bit faster than the posted speed limits. Even on the nicest of days, it's the safe driver who remembers to use common sense and courtesy behind the wheel.

The Chicago Motor Club cautions drivers that thick fog is not uncommon during early morning spring hours. Where fog cuts visibility down to a few yards, the only safe thing to do is to find a parking spot and wait for the fog to lift. Always make sure, however, that your car is pulled completely off the road. If you do have to drive during foggy conditions, it is essential that you reduce your speed and be alert for highway warning signs and other vehicles.

CONFERENCE FOR METHODIST CHURCH

In addition to business sessions, participants also will hear addresses by a host of the well-known religious leaders. Three other bishops will appear on the program, including Bishop Chong Pil Kim, recently-elected superintendent of The Methodist Church in Korea.

MENTONE H. D. CLUB MEETS

On May 12 the Mentone Home Demonstration Club met with Mrs. Claude Gates, with Mrs. Agnes Rans as co-hostess. The meeting was opened by vice-president, Eloise Long. The history of the song of the month, "There's Music in the Air," was read by Maude Cox.

For meditation two selections were read by Agnes Rans: "God's Tilled Land" and "Grow Old Along With Me."

The secretary and treasurer's report were read and approved. Roll call was answered by "My favorite spring flower." The lesson on, "choosing furniture" was very nicely given by Maude Cox. The president, Mrs. Esther Sarker, conducted the business session. An invitation to be guests of the Jolly Janes in June was read. The club prayer song was used in closing.

Cherrio pals receiving gifts were Helen Weirick, Genevieve Warren, Blanche Whitmyre, and Eloise Long.

Mrs. Ruth Urshel gave us a talk on the school reorganization program. Delicious refreshments were served to 18 members and one guest.

Heavy winds can cause serious problems for motorists, according to the Chicago Motor Club. Your car may be more difficult to handle in a strong crosswind, especially when it comes in gusts. To maintain control under such conditions, drive at moderate speeds.

The Chicago Motor Club reminds drivers that pleasant spring weather means increased play activity in school zones. Motorists driving near schools or playgrounds should be constantly alert for the child who may have forgotten his safety lessons. Always reduce your speed when driving in residential areas.

LIVING UNDER THE ICE

Readers of the Reader's Digest likely have read the article in the May issue, entitled "City Under Ice." Or you may have read a prior article printed in Popular Science Monthly.

The article tells of one of the world's strangest cities, built by Army Engineers under Greenland's vast icecap. Four blocks long and three blocks wide, the town is completely covered by snow. Powered by atomic energy, 800 miles from the North Pole, the town will be home—snug, comfortable and warm—for 100 scientists, engineers and soldiers who live there. They will study problems of living, working and fighting in one of the world's harshest environments, where winter temperatures drop to 70 below and the winds whirl snow in a blinding fury at 100 miles an hour.

The men will live in insulated prefabricated buildings, connected by buried corridors. Living areas will be heated to 60 degrees.

Robert Holloway, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Holloway, of Mentone, has been on his way to that city, and presumably he is now "living under the ice."

Accidents Are Costly Affairs

Matthew C. Sielski, director of the safety and traffic engineering department of the Chicago Motor Club, and immediate past president of the Traffic Engineering Institute, states:

There were 803,271 motor vehicles in Indiana in 1934 and there were 1,227 fatalities. During 1959 there were 1,965,000 motor vehicles in Indiana and there were 1,125 fatalities. Engineering has brought about a tremendous advance in traffic safety. Should we show no improvement in safety we can expect to kill 85,000 people in the United States in the next 10 years. We are embarking upon the largest public works program ever known to man, which when completed will give us 41,000 miles of safe highways. They are expected to decrease our nations highway deaths by 3,500 per year. There are many other lives which must be saved by other means.

Ralph R. Bartelsmeyer, chief engineer, Illinois Division of Highways and immediate past president of the American Association of State Highway Officials, brought the newspaper people up-to-date on the changes being made in the 41,000 mile Interstate Highway System now being constructed by the Federal government. He is the chairman of the state officials' committee appointed to make a Free-way Study and Analysis.

Believing that far too little attention is paid by the man in the street as to what it means and how much it cost him when somebody else has a traffic accident, Robie Dunman, transportation economist for the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads, told the Seminar that a study of such costs has been under discussion between the Indiana State Highway Department and the Bureau of Public Roads.

Only one state, Massachusetts, has made a complete study.

He said that the accident record of old cars is worse than new cars. He pointed out that those 8 years or older have more than twice as many accidents as do cars two years old, yet an auto of any age must be kept in good state of repair to be reasonably safe.

"On a vehicle mileage basis," Dunman continued, "accidents involving men cost less than accidents involving women drivers. Direct cost of accidents $3,800 for men; $8,200 for women."

Purdue University agricultural engineers advise farmers to read carefully instructions before planting with new corn planters. Check the rate of planting with the tractor operated at the speed you expect to drive, they suggest.

Use Randox With Caution

Randox, a pre-emergence herbicide for control of annual grasses in corn and soybeans, must be handled with care, points out O. C. Lee, Purdue University weed specialist.

The vapors of Randox are very irritating to the skin and eyes. The material should be mixed only with adequate ventilation, preferably out of doors.

If Randox is accidentally spilled on the skin, it should be washed off immediately with soap and warm water. Randox that is allowed to remain on the skin will cause serious irritation.

Goggles should be worn during application. When repairing the sprayer, such as cleaning nozzles, rubber gloves should be worn.

If clothing becomes wet with Randox by accidental spillage or drift from spray, or if irritation is noted, the clothing should be changed and washed.

Randox, as well as all other pesticides, should not be used in any manner other than label recommendation, Lee emphasizes.

MARRIED IN MENTONE CHURCH

The marriage of Miss Doris Evelyn Horn and Robert E. Newcomer took place in the Mentone Church of Christ, Friday, May 6.

Parents of the bride are the late Charles Horn and Mrs. Velma Horn of Akron. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Newcomer, Rochester.

The Rev. Ralph Burris officiated at the ceremony. A quartet, composed of Mrs. Rex Witham, Susie Sullivan, Janice Mollenhour and Vance Johns, sang "O Perfect Love," "I Love You Truly" and "Savior Like a Shepherd Lead Us."

The bride wore a white street length sheath dress with white accessories and a corsage of red roses. Her honor attendant, Miss Patricia Holloway of Mentone, wore a blue sheath dress with white accessories and a red rose corsage.

Kermit Grass served as best man.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Horn chose a blue print silk dress with white accessories and a pink carnation corsage. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Newcomer, wore a beige lace dress with brown accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

At the church reception, hostesses were Donna Jean Horn, and Mrs. Devon Marshall, sisters of the bride, and Mrs. Vance Johns. The four tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bridal couple, and centered in lillies of the valley and green and white streamers, formed the centerpiece for the serving table.

The bride graduated from Talma high school in 1959. Mr. Newcomer is a 1956 graduate of Rochester high school and is employed by the Studebaker Corporation, South Bend.

The couple are at home at 224½ West Third street, Rochester.

The Chicago Motor Club cautions drivers always to reduce their speed when approaching a curve. Once into a curve safely, speed gradually can be resumed. Strict observance of curve warning signals would eliminate many serious traffic accidents.

A HISTORY OF MENTONE

By M. O. MENTZER,
Secretary Mentone Chamber of Commerce

SCHOOL EXAMS

When I was in high school it was a custom when taking examinations to allow the student to leave after he had finished his work. A boy named Tom McCall got through early and came down town. A short time later I was on my way and near the place where the Church of Christ now stands I heard a crash and saw smoke and dust coming from Kilmer's drug store located on the bank corner. I assumed there had been an explosion of chemicals so I stayed back awhile, finally mustered up courage and went over to see what had happened. There was a soda fountain in the front of the store with shelving along the east wall, a hammock was fastened to the shelving and a hook in the ceiling. McCall was drinking a glass of soda water, reached up, took hold of the hammock and put a little weight on it and down came the shelving. In those days druggists had bottles and bottles of drugs of one kind and another. There were glass show cases in front of the shelving and such a mess you could not imagine, terrible smells, etc. There was no insurance for this kind of an accident, McCall could not pay and Kilmer was ruined. The next day a number of the merchants got together and raised money to re-establish the drug store. One thing did not break, the prescription case and you will find it in Denton's store. We had a painter who painted most of the signs, always adding at the bottom: "E. M. Bash, painter". This you will find on Denton's prescription case.

BROWN'S MILL

About this time Val Brown and son of Churubusco moved their sawmill to Mentone. We had a sawmill before, but this was a band sawmill, a very large operation. They also had a veneer mill using the finer grade of logs for veneer. With the mill came a number of families. The population increased about a hundred with the moving of this mill. The mill stood at about the place now occupied by Red Comb Mills and the lumber was stacked between there and Main street. This mill furnished employment for a large number of men and business was good in Mentone. The son, William, always had a good driving team, nice buggy and horses were swift. One time our baseball team was playing at Warsaw. Elmer Eddinger and William Brown drove over for the game, they got there just before the game started. I remember, Eddinger taking out his watch when they arrived and said, "Just an hour and one minute". You could tell that they had not tarried on the road by looks of the horses, so you can see Warsaw was an hour away then by fast horses, by most horses two hours. The road and weather had to be ideal to make it in that time. Now I think some people make it in ten minutes.

A. T. MOLLENHOUR

One of the pioneers in the mill business was Amos Mollenhour. He had a sawmill and stavemill. He furnished work for lots of small boys and also employed quite a few men. Some of we boys were high school age would work after school jointing staves. These were cut from timber which had been steamed, usually all night, then taken to a cutting machine where they were shaved from the piece of bolt as they were called, curved for staves. The staves were then stacked and dried. After drying the edges were trimmed, making them wide in the middle and narrow at each end. This was called jointing. A good jointer could make $1.50 per day, boys who put them in bunches made about 75 cents per day and tadders, the boys who tied up the cuttings called listings and brought staves to the jointer usually received 35 to 50 cents per day. Days then were ten hours. Mr. Mollenhour was active in town affairs and was a member of the town board at one time or another for several years. I think he was president of the board when the sewer was installed. He was a good man to work for and everyone liked to work for him.

ALBERT TUCKER

Mr. Tucker was one of the organizers of the town. He was active in business, in the early days of the town, built and operated the elevator now Valentines, was an early partner in the grist mill, later purchased the partners and operated the mill himself. Alvi Rockhill was his right hand man when he was operating the grist mill. Mr. Tucker left everything to him and he made good.

There are many other men whose names I should mention as being active in the early days of Mentone, however time and space will not permit.

About this time in world affairs there were the usual number of men who tried to live off the labor of others. A crew of salesmen, so called, came to town and were said to be selling pianos. They would call on people, always someone who was prosperous, and try to sell them a piano. If unable to sell, and usually they could not sell as the price was ridiculously high they would ask if they might leave one in the home for a few days, usually 30 days. If they were granted permission they asked the farmer to sign a receipt showing they had left the instrument there. The receipt was made out in such a manner that by tearing off one end they had a promissory note for the amount they asked for the piano. They had left one such at the home of Macy Garwood, father of Joshua Garwood. They came with the note to collect the money and of course a different man came. Mr. Garwood said he had signed no note. They showed it to him, there was his signature, he did not know what to do so he asked them to return the next day. In the meantime he had contacted Austin "Squire" Milburn. Mr. Milburn was there when they came to collect. It was cool and they had a fire in the stove. He asked Mr. Garwood if that was his signature and he said, "yes". He asked the man to look at the note. He handed it to Mr. Milburn who had his apple peelings ready and threw them both in the stove. The man said you can't do that. Mr. Milburn said I have already done so and you had better get your piano out before we start charging storage. You got taken at your game, get out of here. He got.

There were those who sold lightning rods, Bohemian Oats and other Fakes so the fast buck boys were working away back at that time.

OKLAHOMA

Then, as now, Mentone was trying to get industries to locate here in order to furnish more employment. Mr. Joseph Bowman purchased the land from the Sarber heirs. This lays east of Morgan Street and North of Main Street. I think this was about 1896 or 1897. A short time before the U. S. Government had opened the Cherokee Strip in Oklahoma to settlers, so this addition to Mentone was known as Oklahoma for a number of years.

Mr. Bowman made a proposition that they would plat and sell all of the lots in this addition for $100.00 each. Those who bought lots were to draw a number out of a hat that would be his lot. If all the lots were sold Mr. Bowman would place part of the selling price (I think the amount was $6,000.00) in a fund to be used to attract factories to Mentone. This was quite a selling job but everyone was anxious to get this factory fund so almost everyone was a salesman. They finally got the lots sold and the fund was ready for use. I think the first factory to take advantage of this was Fitzgibbons and Company. They made boat oars. They moved here from a place in Ohio (I am unable to remember the name) They brought a number of workmen with them as it took skilled men to shape these boat oars which were made of white ash timber. This company operated here some time but finally moved away. Eli

Turnbull then bought the mill and converted it into a sawmill and also made boat oars.

Manwaring Brothers having suspended operations with their egg case factory offered it to the business men at a very low price. This was used to entice a box factory to locate in the buildings. This factory made wood boxes for shipping small articles. The main business was called the Hardy Box. This was made for the mailing of eyeglasses by the firm of Hardy and Co. of Chicago. They had just got going good when a fire broke out one night and destroyed the factory. This, as far as I know, ended the giving of subsidies to acquire factories.

Soil Stewardship Week May 22-29

Soil Stewardship Week will be observed in Indiana May 22-29 with many special church services and other special sponsored by district soil conservation supervisors and others.

R. O. Cole, Purdue University specialist in soil conservation, says the past year has been a good one for conservation in Indiana.

The 81 soil conservation districts assisted by the soil conservation service, extension service, ASC and others, have developed many farm plans; cooperated with 3,177 new farmers in conservation practices affecting 119,262 acres; contoured 9,830 acres; contour strip cropped 1,786 acres; constructed 765 farm ponds, and constructed 624 acres of waterways for the safe disposal of surface run-off water.

This was all planned according to a good land use program and the land is being used within its capabilities and treated according to its needs, he explains.

Cole says that there has been a big development in the small watershed program in Indiana during the past year. Through the sponsorship by the districts, 35 new watersheds are now in various stages of development.

The year marks a quarter century of progress in the national program of soil and water conservation.

POPPY DAYS HERE FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

Poppy Days, sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary, is a means of securing funds to help the disabled veterans and the orphaned children of deceased veterans. The poppies are made by disabled veterans and they are hoping for your contribution this Friday and Saturday.

Nell Reed is chairman of the Mentone Poppy Drive.

Your Personal Tribute

Wear a Poppy, wear it proudly. Wear it everywhere you go. In the memory of those blooming By the crosses row on row.

Open up your hearts and purses. As so generously you give. Help our brave, disabled veterans.

Have a better chance to live.

Show them we have not forgotten.

All their trouble and their pain. Nor their comrades who have fallen.

But who did not die in vain.

Wear a Poppy as a tribute. To the sacrifice supreme. Of the boys who gave so freely. To perpetuate a dream.

It's a matter for your conscience. For no matter WHAT you give. It's not near as much as they gave.

Who gave up their chance to live!

COUNTERPOINT

By the Editor's Wife

He's back again! I have been watching my Columbines each day, knowing that at just the right time he (or she) would show up. Of course, I'm talking about the exquisite ruby-throated humming bird who appears each spring. Our flower bed has quite a few volunteer columbine plants, which we have kept as a special drawing card for these "flying jewels." It is not unusual for one of the little fellows to rest a split-moment in the smoke tree or in the red-bud tree.

Back to the yellow violets again—a letter came from a reader—friend in Louisiana who says, "You definitely are not touched in the head". There are two varieties of yellow violets, viz. v. rotundi folia (round leafed) and v. pubescens (downy). (One of our reader-friends here in town has the downy type in her flower bed.) Our Louisiana friend continues—"This spring the flowers have been beautiful—first the camellias and azaleas—then the spirea, forsythia and flowering quince. The iris have done their bit; pansies still blooming, and the oxalis, thrift, etc. still at it. Flowers are all done by the time hot weather comes in July." Thanks for the letter, Max.

We want to thank Mrs. J. H. for her kind letter, too. There is a certain compensation which comes from sharing a few thoughts with others; there is even more compensation when one receives a warm note from a reader-friend. (This is true, also, of the telephone calls and person to person comments. They have been deeply appreciated.)

Here is something to think about—"Which comes first—the ulcers or the cross, sour disposition?" We'll have a few thoughts on this next week.

We enjoyed this: A fellow we knew was locked out of his house by his angry wife. It seems that he tried to pull the wool over her eyes with the wrong yarn.

Neil McKinney, formerly of Palestine, will graduate from Ball State Teachers' College on June 5th.

Farm Prices Rise Again

Indiana farm prices increased two percent from mid-March to mid-April, Purdue University agricultural economists and state-federal agricultural statisticians report. This was the fourth consecutive monthly increase.

Both Indiana farm purchasing power and index of prices paid increased one percent during the period. Index of U.S. farm prices increased one percent, while the purchasing power of U.S. farmers remained unchanged.

The Indiana grain price index rose three percent while the livestock index increased one percent. Major commodity price increases included hogs and corn, five percent; cattle, three percent; eggs, 21 percent; soybeans, three percent; wheat, two percent; lambs, two percent; turkeys, four percent; hay, six percent and potatoes, 25 percent. Prices declining were led by milk, down eight percent, followed by chickens, down four percent and calves and broilers both down three percent.

Primarily as a result of egg price increases, the egg-feed price ratio rose 17 percent during the reporting period. Other feed-price ratios increasing: hog-corn and turkey-feed, both one percent. Feed-price ratios declining: whole milk-feed, 12 percent; butterfat-feed, three percent; chicken-feed, five percent, and broiler-feed, two percent.

NOW LOOK WHAT CORVAIR'S GONE AND DONE!

The same Corvair that tallied a thumping 27.03 miles per gallon* in the Mobilgas Economy Run . . . went right on to climb Pikes Peak earlier in the spring than any car has ever tried!

We wanted to show you what the fabulous traction of Corvair's rear-engine design and the sure-footedness of four-wheel independent suspension really mean. So the identical Economy Run car went right on to 14,110-foot Pikes Peak—and right up to the top of that savage mountain, on April 15, still deep in winter's snow and ice. No other car—even specially equipped—had ever been able to conquer that nightmare alpine road so early in the spring. But Corvair (with United States Auto Club officials aboard to certify that not one nut or bolt was changed) purred right to the summit without chains or even snow tires! That just underscores the fact that Corvair is totally unique. But you'll find that out the first five minutes you're at the wheel!

Expect High Wheat Yield

Indiana's winter wheat crop appears headed for a record-breaking yield of 32 bushels an acre, state-federal agricultural statisticians at Purdue University report. The 1959 yield was 26 bushels an acre; the present record of 32 bushels an acre was set in 1958.

The statisticians estimated the crop, as of May 1, at 42,176,000 bushels, 30 percent larger than last year and 17 percent more than the 10-year (1949-58) average.

Hay stocks, however, are 33 percent below the May 1 figure last year. The 334,000 tons on farms is also 14 percent below the 10-year average. The statisticians explain that hay requirements were not unusually heavy during the unseasonably severe weather of late February and March. This prevented livestock from grazing in stalk fields and winter pastures.

Egg production during April totaled 210 million eggs, five percent fewer than a year ago. The rate of lay was 1,896 eggs per 100 layers, three percent smaller than April, 1959. The number of layers, estimated at 11,054,000, was three percent fewer than a year earlier.

Indiana milk production in April totaled 289 million pounds, nearly two percent larger than the March figure, but one percent smaller than the April, 1959, total.

Be sure your beef cattle have plenty of fresh water in every pasture, say Purdue University animal scientists.

Dehorning cattle should be completed before the fly season begins, according to Purdue University veterinarians.

Purdue University animal scientists recommend lambs should be docked and castrated within 10 days of birth.

NICA FEED MILL

NOW AN APPROVED

CHECK-R-MIX MILL

ST. LOUIS, MISSOURI—(SPECIAL)—Northern Indiana Cooperative Association., Mentone, Indiana, has been made an approved Check-R-Mix Mill according to an announcement just received from the Ralston Purina Company headquarters in St. Louis, Mo.

This means that the local feed company is being provided with Research Approved formulas for mixing locally grown grains with Purina Micro-Mixed Supplements and Concentrates, enabling the farmers of this area to make the best feeding use of the grains he grows.

Before Purina licenses an Approved Check-R-Mix Mill, the mill has to have grinding and mixing equipment of the highest efficiency. The equipment must be shown to be capable of mixing supplements with farmers' grain so efficiently that each mouthful of feed will contain every ingredient in proper quantity.

The local feed dealer will also now have available to him the extensive training programs in nutrition and sanitation that the Ralston Purina Company provides its dealers, so that they may advise farmers and feeders in profitable feeding programs for their livestock and poultry. Facilities of the Purina Research Laboratories and Research Farm will be available to Northern Indiana Cooperative Association for help with customer problems.

All Approved Check-R-Mix Mills are required each year to send to the Purina Laboratories samples of their mixes for analysis. To continue as an Approved Check-R-Mix Mill, the samples must show near-perfect efficiency in mixing, with a requirement of less than one half of one percent variation in protein content. This assures customers of the mill that their grinding and mixing will always be done at a high peak of efficiency.

IS THE GLORY OF "OLD GLORY" FADING AWAY

By Mrs. Frank D. Smith,
Anthony Nigo Chapter, D.A.R.

To the immortal question posed in our National Anthem, "Oh Say Can You See?" more and more the answer lamentably is getting to be that you can't see "Old Glory" by the "Dawn's Early Light" or any other light. That is, Americans generally, are becoming less and less disposed to "show" their "colors", fewer and fewer flags being owned and displayed on the occasion of national holidays and otherwise.

Only recently a survey was conducted and out of 8,604 questionnaires returned from all parts of the United States, only 20 percent... one in five... said they owned an American flag and one-third of these said they had not displayed it during the past year.

A sad sidelight that augurs anything but well for the future, is that only 16 percent of families with children own a flag now, as compared to 27 percent in households in which there are no children.

If this lack of interest in the glorious visible reminder of our hard-won fundamental freedoms reflects a general popular disinterest in freedom itself, the implications indeed are alarming.

Our flag is unique in the deep and noble significance of its message to the entire world—a message of national independence, of individual liberty, of idealism, of patriotism.

It symbolizes national independence and popular sovereignty. It is not a flag of a reigning family or a royal house, but of a hundred seventy million free people welded into a nation, one and inseparable, united not only by community of interest, but by vital unity of sentiment and purpose.

Our Flag is the visible symbol of America today—an America more precious, more wonderful than ever before, because the gifts it has given us are threatened, as never before with loss and destruction! It is the thrilling heart of America—the sign of our inheritance—the presence of all we hold most dear! It prophesies the triumph of the government of a Republic, of civic and religious liberty and of national righteousness throughout the world.

What is our Flag? It is the soul of America—and it shall never die! Let's keep America, American and the Flag flying.

Aid To West Germany To End

Fourteen years of CARE aid to the people of West Germany will end on June 30 when the agency will close its mission in Bad Godesberg, Executive Director Richard W. Reuter announces.

In view of the economic recovery of the country, German Government and private welfare officials agree with CARE that the Federal Republic can now handle its own welfare problems, Mr. Reuter explained. However, he pointed out, a CARE program will continue in Berlin, to provide food and other interim aid for new refugees arriving from East Germany.

Figures released by Mr. Reuter show that since August, 1946, when food packages were first distributed to World War II victims in Germany, CARE has delivered $32,405,860 worth of relief and rehabilitation supplies, as gifts from the people of America.

Since February, 1955, when designated deliveries (to relatives and friends named by the donor) were discontinued in West Germany, CARE has concentrated on helping refugees, escapees and other special groups not sharing the country's general prosperity. The decision to withdraw completely follows CARE's policy of ending service wherever conditions improve sufficiently, or its type of program cannot operate effectively.

Purdue University agronomists assert that Indiana soils need two and a half million tons of lime per year. Hoosier farmers are applying only one-tenth this much. This amount hardly replaces the loss in harvested crops, drainage and erosion.

Landrace Certified Meat Sire

Indiana's Swine Evaluation Station at Purdue University has certified its third meat-type sire, a two-year-old Landrace.

The boar, Jo Le Topper, is owned by John E. Kell, Route 1, Williamsport, Warren county.

To qualify for certification, a boar must sire five litters that meet the standards of the Evaluation Station, established three years ago to help breeders improve their stock.

The average of the five litters tested at the Station showed the pigs required 305 pounds of feed to gain 100 pounds, they weighed 263.8 pounds at 180 days of age, had an average of 3.99 square inches of loin eye, 1.36 inches of back fat and were 30.6 inches long.

The two previously certified meat-type sires were a Yorkshire and a Hampshire.

HIGHWAY KILLINGS MUST STOP

Nine out of ten accidents can be traced to human failures . . . failures to observe traffic ordinances and regulations; failure to exercise prudence and good judgment. Moreover, experience shows that drivers who recognize existence of hazards, who practice the rules of cautious driving, are seldom in an accident.

It is the hope of the highway safety leaders in Indiana that the information given will make our citizens conscious of their responsibilities; will stimulate our drivers and pedestrians alike to greater safety efforts, and that it will contribute to the successful solution of this community problem. Working together we can, and must, reduce the terrible toll of life, limb and property which is exacted annually by accidents. It is only by continuous traffic engineering improvements, and constant educational efforts that we can achieve our goal: Collectively we can make KOSCIUSKO County Indiana's SAFEST County.

Obedience to Law Enforcement Officers

Leaders in the law enforcement agencies are authorized to direct all traffic in accordance with the driving ordinances or in an emergency, as public safety or convenience may require. No driver of a vehicle or pedestrian shall fail or refuse to comply with an order or direction by an officer in the line of his duty.

Every person propelling any push cart or riding on a bicycle or an animal, or driving an animal-drawn vehicle is subject to the provisions of the law, except those provisions which by their very nature can have no application.

The driver of every vehicle shall obey the instructions of all control devices unless otherwise directed by an agent of the law.

Noise and Smoke

It is unlawful for any person to make unnecessary noise with any vehicle or any device connected to it, or permit any vehicle to emit an unreasonable quantity of smoke or noxious gases.

All horns having more than one tone must be so regulated as to sound simultaneously and not in consecutive order.

No person shall use a warning on his automobile or any other vehicle similar to that now used by the Fire, Police and Sheriff's departments.

Traffic Control Signals

The State's Traffic law prohibits right-hand turns on a red light. Red means stop for all vehicles, including the driver who heretofore has been swinging to the right around an intersection into the flow of vehicles moving on the green. This driver must now stop on the Red and make his turn only when he has the Green.

Flashing Red means stop. It is to be interpreted the same as a stop sign. Flashing yellow or amber means caution.

Green means that vehicles may go straight ahead, right or left, unless a sign prohibits turns. Vehicles proceeding on the Green must, however, yield the right-of-way to the vehicles and pedestrians lawfully within the intersections.

Yellow or amber when shown with green requires that vehicles be brought to a stop before entering the intersection if such stop can be made with care.

If a Green arrow is shown with the Red light, vehicles may cautiously enter the intersection to make the movement indicated by the arrow, but must yield the right-of-way to other traffic.

Legal placing of lights in signals calls for Red at the top, yellow or amber in the middle, and Green at the bottom.

The new Indiana Speed Law, recently enacted, is 65 miles an hour on the highways.

HIGHWAY SAFETY FOR OUR CHILDREN

—DO NOT PARK—

1. On that portion of a sidewalk improved for pedestrian use.
2. In front of a public or private drive.
3. Within an intersection.
4. Within ten feet of a fire hydrant.
5. On a crosswalk.
6. Within 20 feet of a crosswalk at any intersection in a residential district; and within such distance of a crosswalk in a business district as shall be designated by sign or marker.
7. Within 10 feet upon the approach of any flashing beacon, stop sign, or traffic control signal at the side of a roadway.
8. Within 50 feet of the nearest rail of a railroad crossing.
9. Within 20 feet of the driveway to any fire station and on the side of a street opposite the entrance to any fire station within 75 feet of said entrance.
10. Alongside of any street excavation or obstruction when such stopping or standing would obstruct traffic.

11. On the roadway side of any vehicle stopped or parked at the edge of curb or a street.
12. Upon a bridge.
13. At any place where official signs prohibit parking.
14. Vehicles parked on a restricted parking area which shall be moved not more than 50 feet during the limited parking period shall be deemed to have remained stationary.

—SPEED LIMITS—

The legal speed limit under Indiana's traffic law is 20 miles an hour in business districts and 30 miles an hour in residential districts.

Local authorities may establish higher speed limits in either business or residential districts.

All highways on which the limit is in excess of 30 miles an hour must be designated as through highways and adequate signs posted informing the motorist of the permissible speed. Entrances to such highways must be posted with stop signs.

Within cities and villages, the State Highway Commissioner may increase speed limits on State highways outside of business districts. Adequate signs will inform motorists of such limits.

Signs are not necessary in business or residential districts except where the limit is in excess of 30 miles an hour. Motorists driving on unmarked streets in either business or residential districts are subject to the 20- and 30-mile limitations.

—PEDESTRIANS—

1. Cross streets only at the intersection and at the crosswalks.
2. Cross only on the green light.
3. Wait at the curb for the green light.
4. Whenever practicable walk on the right half of the crosswalk.
5. On rural highways walk on the left side of the road facing on-coming traffic. At night wear something white.
6. No person shall stand in the roadway for the purpose of soliciting a ride from the driver of private vehicles.

"THE FREEDOMS OF AMERICA"

(Winning Americanism Essay, Grade 12)

Thank you God for the freedoms of Americans; thank you for allowing us in America to search for you in anyway we please; thank you, that we here in America, don't have to fear persecution when we worship you. I'm grateful that a long time ago you caused unrest in people who were being forced to worship in ways they didn't choose and that they chose to go to a new land that they had heard little about because they wanted freedom of religion and I thank you that the ideas of the people have carried through the ages. As these people grew and as the centuries passed, many more of the ideas of these people became a stronghold in America. Oh, God, I cannot help but overflow with pride as I think of our wonderful freedoms; my whole spirit seems to soar and a wonderful feeling fills me, it seems as if I could burst with pride and patriotism, or whatever it is that makes me feel this way. When I watch our Stars and Stripes waving in the breeze or see it mounted on a wall, I bubble over with pride and when the Star Spangled Banner is played and I along with other Americans, stand in solemn quietness facing our blessed symbol of freedom, I am engulfed with thankfulness, and I want to reach out and throw my arms around America and hold her close and then I must silently thank you, thank you, for America and our freedoms. Is it wrong to be so pleased?

I lift my head still a little higher and yet I am more humble as I think of the great people who lived before and helped this country grow from a baby. Oh, what great faith they must have had in us, their future generation, to preserve the freedoms of Americans or why would they have fought so hard to gain for us in the first place? If they felt that Americans would have freedom for just a few years, our Founding Fathers wouldn't let our National Constitution be ratified without the promise that a Bill of Rights would be added immediately after ratification. These first ten amendments to the constitution have preserved our most sacred freedoms. Oh, help us God that we might not lose hold of our freedom today; help us to keep our freedom of religion, of speech and of the press ever strong in America. We are thankful that we can worship how we want, say what we want, and print what we want. Help us that we may not abuse these freedoms. We are also thankful that even our criminals are protected against unjust treatment, and that all people accused of crimes are innocent until proven guilty. We are thankful that freedom took root and flourished in the fertile soil of America.

I cannot help but be proud when I think of my freedoms as an American. I realize that you must have had America set up in your plan to be the land of the free. Now I ask that you will be with us and help us to continue to preserve the wonderful, wonderful "freedoms of Americans."

Spraying Lawns With 2,4-D

If you have a problem with dandelions and planting in the lawn now is a good time to put on 2,4-D to control them, according to Oliver C. Lee, Purdue University weed specialist. Since 2,4-D is more effective when applied in reasonably high temperatures, spraying should be done when temperatures reach from 75 to 85° F.

When properly applied, 2,4-D should do an excellent job of destroying most broad leaved weeds and will not damage established blue grass lawns. But do not use it on newly seeded lawns or lawns that have been seeded this spring, Lee emphasizes.

Use the Amine form of 2,4-D rather than the Ester because it is safer. Amine does not form fumes which may injure susceptible shrubs and flowers in the area. Regardless of the chemical used, be careful to avoid drift, Lee cautions. A sprinkling can or low pressure sprayer should be used and spraying should be done on a quiet day to reduce the danger of the spray coming in contact with desirable plants that are susceptible.

Since there are many concentrations of 2,4-D on the market the rate recommended on the label of the container should be followed.

The day dreaming motorist is a danger not only to himself but to other drivers on the streets or highways, says the Chicago Motor Club. You find yourself day dreaming behind the wheel, you'll find it a lot safer to pull off the road until you regain your alertness. An essential part of safe driving is the ability to keep your mind on task at hand—operating an automobile.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Vern Bollman of Plymouth and Bert McGowen of this place.

BEAVER DAM AGRICULTURE CLUB MEET

The Beaver Dam Agriculture Club met May 10 in the school gymnasium. The meeting was called to order by our president, Roger Nellans. The pledges to the American and 4-H flags were led by Daniel Murcia and Dick Harrold. Songs were led by Linda Smalley. The roll call was answered by "your favorite school subject." The secretary's report was read and approved, followed by the treasurer's report.

Business of the evening was a discussion of how much to donate to the International Foreign Youth Exchange. Gerald Smalley, our leader, gave us some information on our record books and said that we have forty-six members in our club. Our next meeting will be at Kent Jefferies home on Monday, June 6. The health and safety report was given by Jake Haney on the dangerous insecticides and chemicals.

A demonstration was given by Sue Welty on how to plant a garden. Slides about conservation were shown by Bob Martin. Kosciusko District Soil Conservation Manager. It was very interesting.

Everyone then enjoyed the recreation and refreshments. The meeting was adjourned.

WITH THE SICK

Mrs. Bill Griffiths was admitted to the Woodlawn hospital Wednesday for observation and dismissed Saturday. She remains at the Gilbert Griffiths home.

Elwin Teel was admitted Sunday to the Woodlawn hospital for observation.

REV. DOTSON TO LEAVE

The Rev. Claude J. Dotson, who has been pastor of the Mentone Methodist Church for the last year, has been called to a position as an associate pastor in Trinity Methodist Church in Chicago. The Dotson family will be moving to their new home on or about June 8th but Sunday May 29th will be Rev. Dotson's last Sunday in the local pulpit.

Probable replacement for Rev. Dotson is the Rev. Roger Wrigley, who has for the last five years been pastor of Highland Ave. Methodist Church in Marion. Rev. Wrigley is a graduate of Purdue University and Garrett Seminary. Mrs. Wrigley is a graduate of Manchester College, daughter of a Methodist minister and has been doing substitute teaching in the Marion schools. The Wrigleys have two children.

Rabies Still A Big Threat

Rabies is an ever present problem against which we must be constantly alert, reminds Dr. T. M. Curtin, Purdue University extension veterinarian.

Spring and summer months provide the greatest opportunity to expose for children and pets. During these seasons they spend more time outdoors and have a greater possibility of coming in contact with rabid animals than during the winter. Dogs, cats and wild animals act as the reservoir for rabies infection, he explains.

Rabies is considered to be 100 percent fatal—there are no recoveries. Strange acting wild animals should be avoided. A person bitten by any animal should immediately contact his physician. Treatment is successful only before the symptoms appear.

opportunity to evaluate the case and decide if rabies is suspected in each and every bite no matter how severe, Curtin emphasizes. Persons bitten should immediately isolate and confine the animal where it can be observed for the clinical signs of rabies. If it is necessary to destroy a suspected animal, extreme care should be taken not to mutilate the head. The animal, or its head, should be sent to the Public Health Laboratory in Indianapolis for diagnosis.

The number of diagnosed cases of rabies in Indiana during 1959 was fewer than in 1958. During the first four months of 1960, Indiana had approximately 25 positive cases of rabies. The constant effort of public health personnel, regulatory officials, and veterinarians is largely responsible for the decrease.

However, every citizen must also make an effort, says Dr. Curtin. Rabies control centers around the control of all strays and the annual vaccination of all pets. Farm and rural dogs must also be included in vaccination programs as they have the greatest opportunity of being exposed to the wild reservoir.

One human death from rabies was reported in Indiana during 1959.

Purdue University agricultural engineers say homeowners should check their air conditioning units now. Filters should be replaced or cleaned and dust removed from the unit with a vacuum cleaner.

Reed Canary Grass Mimeo

Farmers who want more grass for hay, pasture and silage, but who have only wet, marshy, overflow land available, should acquaint themselves with reed canarygrass. This tall, leafy perennial forms a dense sod, heavy enough to support cattle and equipment on marshy land. It is also unexcelled for gulley and waterway control and protects farm ponds and stream banks from wave erosion.

Facts about reed canarygrass are available in Purdue University mimeo AY-60. This two-page, illustrated publication describes the grass, its adaption and uses, establishment procedures and recommends a fertilization program.

When used for pasture, hay or silage, grazing or cutting time of the perennial is important. As pasture, it shouldn't be allowed to become rank, coarse and harsh. For high quality hay or silage, it should be cut at the head-emergence stage. Protein content decreases rapidly following this period.

With proper management, reed canarygrass will have a higher feeding value than timothy and will be similar to other common grass species as silage. Indiana residents may obtain a free copy of mimeo AY-60, "Reed Canarygrass," from the county agent or by writing the Agricultural Publications office, Purdue University, Lafayette.

Purdue University foresters say when poisonous plants begin to appear in farm woods, protect livestock by fencing them out of the woods. It is much more profitable to have livestock on legume pasture gaining weight, than in the farm woods losing weight.

New Soybean Seed Available

Indiana farmers will make extensive use this spring of the new Shelby and Lindarin soybeans, multiplied by certified seed growers for the first time last year.

A. H. Probst, Purdue University and U.S.D.A. soybean breeder who originated Lindarin, reports the variety to be two days earlier than Harosoy, to out yield it in northwestern Indiana, and to have fewer pods near the base of the plant.

In Purdue agricultural experiment station yield trials, Lindarin has excelled Hawkeye and yielded with Harosoy in northern Indiana, where it is best adapted. Interest in Lindarin has been so great that the seed supply is becoming limited. Purdue researchers report the new Shelby to have averaged 10 percent higher in yield than Lincoln. J. E. Douglas, certification manager, has pointed out that the 10 percent extra yield can mean $6 per acre extra income at the 30-bushel yield level. These extra dollars can be had by investing very little in seed costs of a new variety, he says.

Being exactly the same maturity as Lincoln, Shelby is adapted to extensive use through central Indiana. Certified seed producers who grew Shelby last year are convinced that the variety is definitely as good as its earlier tests indicate. Southern Indiana for seeding from mid-May to mid-June.

Harosoy and Hawkeye are the two major early soybean varieties for Indiana in addition to Lindarin. Both varieties have been used extensively and are still recommended. Blackhawk, which is seven days earlier than Hawkeye, has shown very good resistance to phytophthora rot. Farmers in phytophthora infested areas in northeastern Indiana should consider this variety in their plans. Chippewa, a variety five days earlier than Blackhawk, is now being recommended by Purdue agronomists for use in extreme northern Indiana for muck and for delayed planting.

Certified seed supplies of all of these varieties are still available from producers and dealers of Indiana certified seed.

County agricultural agents have directories listing seed sources.

Connect automatic range waterers to the main pipe line with a piece of hose 15 to 20 feet long, suggest Purdue University poultry scientists. This permits moving the waterer over a wide area so grass will not be killed or mud puddles formed around the waterer.
