COUNTERPOINT

By The Editor's Wife

The "Big Blow" on Monday brought a new problem and settled an old one. The big boxelder tree to the south (which holds two rope swings) lost one huge limb. The limb was twisted from the massive trunk and now lies across the lawn, its tip nearly touches the house, a span of nearly 60 feet.

The neighborhood children are happy to know that the swings are intact, and are having the time of their lives exploring the many levels of the tree limb ruins. There are a few homeless birds looking for nesting spots. Two large trees were blown down at the creek

So now you know the new problem. The other problem of getting the yard raked must wait until the tree limb is cut up and hauled away.

Engaged the services of three of the M.Y.F. (Methodist Youth Fellowship) "Slaves" last Saturday. They did a fine job of washing the dozens of panes of glass in the "rumpus" room It was pleasant to hear their friendly chatter and gay laughter, and their enthusiasm was catching.

When we refer to the "rumpus" room nowadays, some of our friends are apt to raise a skeptical eyebrow. Our "rum-pus" room is an old summerkitchen converted to what is now called a family room. When our children were home the room was used vigorously, so the word "rumpus" was appropriate. The ping-pong table was an active spot (as a well worn floor can testify to).

We now enjoy eating there during the warmer weather months, as one has the feeling of being in the outdoors, since the walls are nearly all windows. "rumpus However, the name room" seems to stick.

Have learned that one's own understanding of a word can make a great deal of difference in obedience. For instance if I say to Tim and Lisa, "Please don't go away. Stay right here." expect them to play in the area near the house. But they seem to feel that "right here" means any area in the block and can mean Hardestys, Yazels, Rush's, or the creek (You see, our yard

MRS. NORRIS BURIED TUESDAY

Mrs. Russell (Ida) Norris, 86 Rural Route, Mentone, died at 3 a.m. Sunday in the Miller nursing home at Rochester after an illness of 10 years. She was a lifetime resident of the Mentone and Talma communities.

The daughter of Francis and Ella Rogers, she was born in Newcastle township April 10, 1876. She married Rudy Bybee in 1900, who died in 1908. In 1932, she married Russell Norris, who died last December. Mrs. Norris was a member of the Mentone Baptist church.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs Mildred Goodman and Mrs. Earl Zent, both of Mentone; a step son, Sam Norris, Mentone; a step daughter, Mrs. Arlean Walters, Mentone; six grandchildren, eight great-grandchildren; a brother, Raymond Rogers, Burket; and two sisters, Mrs. Lillie Myers, Talma and Mrs. Jacob Grass, R. R. 5, Rochester.

GOOD ATTENDANCE AT FREEDOM RALLY

The Herpert Philbrick address was well attended Tuesday eve ing, with over 800 people present to hear this noted speaker.

Before entering into his mes-sage on "Techniques In Combat-ing Communism," Mr. Philbrick first gave us a few facts on the reality of the Communist threat to our very existence and way of life. He stated that the general opinion of those who are constantly studying the trend and advancements of Communism since it was started in 1917, America, lest it do something to change this trend, has from 8 to 15 years to be under the control of the Communists. This is just how serious our problem is, and every time another government control is added to the American people it is just one more step in the planned program of the Communist, whether it be farm prices, school programs, health programs, or any of hundreds of other ways in which so-called "government planners" are attempting to enslave Americans.

Mr. Philbrick urged every cit-(Continued on page two)

HEAVY WIND MONDAY

Mentone was not spared from the big wind that went through Indiana, Michigan and Ohio on Monday afternoon. The wind at Mentone was seemingly just a direct wind with little of the tornado type twisting, but a number of trees and limbs fell victim to the 50-mile gale. A few frame outbuildings were blown over, and a front window was blown out at the Paul Creakbaum home.

Special Issue On Reorganization

This special issue of the Mentone News is being distri-buted to all the citizens of the western part of Kosciusko county and Henry township in Fulton county, in the hope that the voters may better evaluate the facts on this very important decision.

It requires at least a 51% vote to be legal.

vote to be legal.

All qualified electors may vote, and no declaration of political affiliation is required if you vote on the Reorganization issue only.

The facts and figures we are using are taken from a booklet of facts used by the Kosciusko County School Renoscusko County School Re-organization Committee, and even though the tax base fig-ures, etc. may not be the lat-est available, they are suffi-cently illustrative for com-parison.

If You Vote YES on Reorganization:

(HARRISON, FRANKLIN, SEWARD AND HENRY TOWNSHIPS)

- Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation will be official, and will comply with all minimum standards.
- All presents schools maintained as long as useful and until new facilities are provided.
- Assets and liabilities will be combined, with each taxpayer sharing equally.
- Will have local control of our schools. (One board member from each township.)

If You Vote NO on Reorganization:

(HARRISON, FRANKLIN, SEWARD AND HENRY TOWNSHIPS)

Want to pay special tribute to the united effort of the several local groups in bringing Herbert Philbrick to Mentone, and to the outstanding success.

This spirit of cooperation and unity of purpose indicates that when there is a need there is the will to work shoulder to shoulder to meet that need.

Note on communism:

A book "Communism, It's Faith and Fallacies" by James D. Bales, is well researched and is suitable for a text book.

Another book "The Menace of Communism" by Kenneth Colgrose and Hall Bartlett, fails to show the menace in the United States, but does show how a communist thinks, what he believes, and how he gains power.

Good lawns start with good seed. So choose grasses adapted to the extremes in climates and tolerant to diseases and pests found locally.

Kentucky bluegrass, noted for its wide adaptation, desirable the North Central states (105), density and wear tolerance, has the West (101) and the South long been the favorite. Let's look at some of the improved selections.

OPEN LETTER

TO THE VOTERS OF SEWARD TOWNSHIP:

As you know I, Franklin A. Overpeck, have placed my name on the Republican ballot for the office of Township Trustee subject to the May 8 primary election. This letter is to introduce myself to you.

I am new to this community but not new to the State of Indiana. I was born in Indiana and received my elementary and secondary educatoin in the Indiana schools. I have always voted and taken part in elections both locally and nationally. I have a knowledge of Indiana government and have just completed the course in Practical Politics given at the First National Bank in Warsaw. I have held a bonded financial secretarial office in the past. I now work for R. R. Donnelly and Sons Co. of Warsaw as a machinist having been transferred at my request from the Chicago plant where I had been employed since 1954.

My wife is an experienced school teacher with a B. A. degree in psychology from the University of Illinois and an M. A. degree in the administration and supervision of elementary education from the University of Chicago plus training and experience in special education (handicapped, emotionally disturbed and retarded children).

We have four daughters in the Burket Elementary School. As a citizen and a parent I am vitally interested in the finest education for all children realizing the expediency of a sound education background for national survival. We are buying the home in which we presently reside in Seward Township.

We are active members of the First Baptist Church of Mentone where I teach a Jr. boy's Sunday School Class. My decision to file for this office was made independently, based upon my conviction that my service to God includes assuming the responsibilities of public service.

Your consideration and vote for me for this office would be appreciated. However, it is my hope that regardless of who you vote for, that you will exercise your democratic right to choose your officials by casting your vote for the man of your choice

Thank you.

A MINIMUM OF STUDENT SHIFTING

The future will undoubtedly bring about some shifting of students from and to other educational units to provide them with better school oportunities, better qualified teachers and a wider variety of subjects, and to provide better usefulness of school facilities.

Such necessary shifting will not be to favor one unit over another, but will be with the purpose of complying with the State Reorganization Act which is aimed to provide better educational opportunities in the most convenient and equitable basis.

For the immediate future, every available educational unit possible must be used until such future time when additional facilities may be deemed necessary and provided.

The desire of the reorganization committees is to provide a unit that will offer the most to the student without him being required to spend a burdensome length of time each day traveling to and from his school. Bus travel and routes must be revised. Even under the present school set-up some students are on the buses for many miles every day.

The four townships presently involved in the Tippecanoe Valley plan have a population of 7,015. Franklin has 973, Harrison 2,215, Seward 1,404 and Henry (Fulton county) has 2,423.

The major problem in Indiana school reorganization is to form units to obtain a unit with approximately 1,000 students in grades 1 to 12, so geographically located that students would have a minimum of bus travel, and the area have an assessed valuation of at least $5,000 per pupil.

The proposed Tippecanoe Valley, in the opinion of this editor, is one of the most ideally arranged units in the county in all respects.

Citizens Committees Agree On Merits of Reorganization Proposal

Throughout the period of re-Heckaman and Wilbur McSher organization planning, Citizens' ry committees have aided the county committee in securing expressions of public opinion, and have extended all assistance possible in providing workable and equitable plans. The members of these committees have aided in compiling statistics, etc. that were necessary. They spent considerable time in explaining the program to various groups and organizations.

The Franklin township committee was composed of Leo Adams, Charles Manwaring, Mrs. Max Nellans and Jay Swick.

In Harrison township James Beeson, W. E. Creighton, Mrs. Zanna Hammer, Richard Manwaring and Kenneth Romine ser

The Seward Township Committee was Mrs. Merdena Bechtol, Eldon Cumberland, Marie

Mentone P.T.A. Resolution

IN VIEW OF THESE FACTS: First, that eventual Consolidation of the County schools is required by our State laws;

Second, that we feel that the Committee, which has so diligently labored to bring forth a "Plan of Consolidation", which would be both adequate and practical, has done its work

Third, that those who are registered voters may vote on this proposal alone at the primary, even though they may not want to commit themselves to a party choice and vote for a choice of nominees on a party ticket.

We, the undersigned officers and committee members of the Mentone Parent - Teacher's Association, recommend that each and every P.T.A. member vote on May 8th, FOR the proposed plan of consolidation.

This recommendation was signed, originally, by ten offi-cers and committee members of the Mentone P.TA. It was then adopted, almost unanimously, by the membership of the P.T.A. present at the April meeting, as a recommendation to be made to the community.

Roger G. Wrigley, Pres.

Newcastle May Join Kosciusko Unit

Voters in Harrison, Seward and Franklin townships in Kosciusko county and Henry township in Fulton county will vote on the Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation, even though the qualified electors in Newcastle township had petitioned to be released from the Fulton County plan to join Tippecanoe Valley. This issue is still confined in the courts with little opportunity for a judicial decision prior to May 8.

Newcastle township voters, desiring to become a part of Tippecanoe Valley, plan to vote 'No" on the Fulton county plan hoping for a later release from that county and freedom to join Tippecanoe Valley. The decision of the Newcastle voters, however, will not affect the validity of the voters' decision in Tippecanoe Valley May 8th.

Four Units Similar In Area, Population, Customs and Assets

The propsed areas in the Tip-pecanoe Valley School Corporation are confined in consistent boundaries with no area too distant from the others. They possess over twice the assessed valuation considered as a state minimum. The population is evenly divided, and the area towns are of similar size. The entire area is typically rural, and there is no great urban-rural differences in habits, desires or customs. It possesses reasonably good roads for school buses, and the level land means fewer winter driving hazards.

The endorsements of the Citizens' committees are in mutual agreement in all areas. There is little, if any, conflict on the ways or means of providing the greatest education opportunities for all students.

The plan has received the endorsement of a number of area organizations. The Psi Iota Xi Sorority, Mentone Reading Club, Mentone Lions Club, Mentone PTA and others have gone on record and announced publicly their favor with the plan

The Hoosier Beef Show will be held at Indianapolis on June 13 and 25. This is the exhibit where cattle are exhibited and then sold to packers. They are then judged on foot and placed for show ring quality. They are then slaughtered and the carcasses are placed according to their actual value on the market. I The purposes are to better coordinate the actual beef values with the buying price and the judging methods. The burden of proof is placed directly on our exhibit methods and upon buyers. The sponsors of this exhibit are the Indiana Beef sota. Breeders Association, Hygrade Packing Company, Kroger Company and Purdue University.

Entries must be in by May 15 and only the first 125 will be accepted and all entries must be from registered sires.

One method of checking the amount of corn you are planting or the population after it is up is to use the count and multiply way. It is not too difficult to calibrate a planter by measuring off a place on a drive way or other spot where the grains can be counted. Find the number of grains dropped in 132 feet and multiply by 100. This will give you the planting rate in 40 inch rows. If you use 38 inch rows you have 5 per cent more.

The number of broiler chicks hatched in Indiana for the first three months of 1962 is down about 2 million as compared with a year ago. This is a 13 per cent decrease. The decrease nationally is down 2 per cent. This should relieve the pressure a little on the disastrous price situation by maybe not enough.

The southeastern states are continuing to go at high levels of poultry production. Their hatcheries are exceeding last year a little whereas the corn belt has dropped off considerably. There is a reduction of 28 per cent in the west north-central States and even greater in

We believe a feed is only as good as results prove it to be. From records of thousands of who have accurately checked their own results, we know MoorMan's Mintrates*, when combined with home-grown grains and forage, have helped produce more meat, milk and eggs-more economicallythan any feed they have used So we urge each MoorMan user to keep a complete record of feed costs, weights and rates of gain to prove to himself, by a record of performance, that he is getting the greatest possible return from his feed dollar.

Thousands of hog feeders have found that $1.12 corn, combined with MoorMan's Mintrates, can be marketed as pork at $3.00 per bushel. Thousands of dairy farmers have found only a pound of Mintrate for Dairy Cows a day increases the milkmaking and body-building power in home-grown grain and forage. Thousands of chicken raisers have found that baby chicks started on Mintrate for Chicks and yellow corn average well over 3 pounds in 9 weeks.

Planning A Patio

If you are planning to add a patio to your home this spring, in forestry. make it comfortable, convenient and attractive, says Norman Marty, extension landscape architect at Purdue University.

Design your patio to meet the particular needs and desires of your family. Is your patio wanted for recreation, entertainment or relaxation?

Usually the best place to locate a patio is immediately adjoining the house. Connect the patio with a doorway to the area where it will be used mostpreferably with the living room or family room. Serving outdoor meals will be more convenient if the patio is also attached to the kitchen. Use windows to provide a visual connection with and municipal agencies. the living area inside the house.

A patio should have climatic protection. When placed on the south or west side of a home, the patio receives the warmth and cheerfulness of sun from early spring to late fall. Thus its season of use can be lengthened by several weeks. It also would benefit from the pervailing summer breezes in Indiana.

It is usually a good idea to io to provide shade in summer and open sun in winter.

Part of the fun of growing flowers is using them in flower arrangements. Purdue University horticulturists say some of the best flowers for this purpose are the everlastings.

Everlastings give you beautiful flowers this summer, and nice flowers for dried arrangements next winter.

The old favorite everlasting is strawflower. It will grow in Frederic McSherry a section of your yard, even where you have poor dry soil. It's a rounded flower that looks something like a small zinnia. Start it outside in May.

Honesty, sometimes called money plant or lunaria, is well known too. The horticulturists Donald Whittenberger say it's the seed pods that are decorative. Honesty is easy to grow. Sow the seed outside in May where there is plenty of

Two other everlastings are statice and gomphrena. Both come in assorted colors. Start statice inside and plant it outside when the weather warms You can start gomphrena outside in May.

To prepare these flowers for winter arrangements, cut them off in the fall and hang them in a cool dry place. They'll be ready to use in winter flower arrangements in a few days.

Spots 'N Stains On Baby Clothes

A baby is certain to spill and drool, much to his mother's concern about staining his clothing, observes Elkin Minter, home management specialist at Purdue University.

Whether the baby is wearing a Sunday best or an evry day tendent of schools, and Carl W. outfit, protect the garment from stains by using a plastic or washable cotton bib. As the specialist says, it's easier to remove stains from a bib than from a dress-up outfit-and some permanent.

Miss Minter offers a few stain removing techniques for the more common things that mark baby's clothing and bedding.

, For those troublesome milk and formula stains, soak the spot in cold water before rubbing it with full strength detergent, and washing. Use a grease solvent if any grease spot remains.

Rub a cod liver oil stain with a grease solvent and then with full strength detergent before washing it in the regular manner. If the spot remains, try a bleach that is safe for the fabric in the regular wash.

FOR REPUBLICAN NOMINATION COUNTY AUDITOR

VOTERS are entitled to know why any candidate seeks their support for public office. As a conservative-minded banker at Syracuse these past 28 years, I have long realized that the County Auditor was the right-hand man of the County Commissioners. If equipped by education and experience to analyze and interpret budgets, financial statements, bills, bids, etc., he can be invaluable in assisting the Commissioners to save your money.

IN ADDITION, if he is use to working for stockholders and a board of directors, youthe stockholders and directors' of Kosciusko County-can expect the utmost in cooperation and efficiency. I believe my experience and judgement as a local banker for nearly 30 years will be of value to you folks who have to pay the bills. I am offering myself for public service because I firmly believe that every conservative businessman should offer whatever talents he may have to public service at least once in his lifetime.

I WILL appreciate your support for County Auditor and if nominated and elected, I will repay your trust with conservative, cooperative and business-like administration of your office.

Fed CATTLE Prices Strong

A continued strong fed cattle market appears probable for the next three months, but top grades may slip by mid 1962, according to M. Paul Mitchell, Purdue University extension agricultural economist.

Reviewing the beef cattle situation as of April 1, the top grade price loss, if it comes, should be moderate compared to last year.

"The situation seems to justify marketing promptly as cattle reach desired finish for their grade, but not crowding the market with cattle needing more finish," he observes. "For cattle below the 900 pound mark, emphasis should be put on fast gains rather than delayed feeding programs."

Mitchell points out that the cyclical position of cattle calls for declining values during the next few years. The recent seasof her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Al- onal strength should not be len Eizinger, of near Mentone.

feed grain prices during the late summer, the economist notes. In ed or aged by holding at a given all probability these values will temperature and humidity for a specified time, say Purdue be lower than last year.

Open Letter To The Editor

To you, and all the other people of our community who gave so generously of their time, their energy, and their own expense, to make the Philbrick Freedom Rally a success, I wish 169 to again express my sincere 110 appreciation.

In addition to the five organizations, we had the help of many others both in Mentone and adjacent communities. am sure all of them feel as I do that we have made a great stride in calling attention to the perils which confront our nation.

The quantity and quality of questions from the audience at this lecture indicate there is a full awareness among our people of the gravity of our present circumstances and a sincere desire to take constructive action. It is unfortunate that time did not permit Mr. Philbrick to answer all of them. We made an effort to select those having the most general interest

Recognizing that this is only the first step on a long road we trust this interest in the dangers, concern over the management of our National affairs. and regeneration of a sincere American Patriotic Spirit, will bear fruit. I would prefer to report - "mission accomplished"; the fact is, we can only claim a successful launching and trust that the enthusiasm evidenced will make itself heard in Washington and other places where we can see some results.

Sincerely yours. Paul N. Quinn, Chairman Philbrick Freedom Rally

1. Do not approach or attempt to pet strange dogs.

2. Do not attempt to part fighting dogs. 3. Do not tease or hurt a dog.

11. In the event of a bite phone the Fort Wavne Humane Shelter. (Locally, call the town marshal.) Capture and confine the animal. State and local laws require 14-day confinement,

Our town ordinance is patterned after the state law which requires all dogs to have rabies shots once a year and the dog carry a tag verifying the fact. No dog off the owner's property unless on leash. (Hunting dogs. while actually engaged in seeking game, can be unattended.)

We complain about taxes in April, but Charles V. Neal, Jr. says that every month has its special budget problem.

January brings extra fuel bills and some Christmas expense.

February brings more Christmas gift expense, and some expenses (Lincoln and Washington.)

March calls for new Easter clothes for mother and the children

May means cleaning bills for winter clothing, and the purchase of summer clothes.

June, July and August have air-conditioning bills; vacations, and recreation expenses.

Friendship Gardens To Open May 13

Many of the 300,000 of the world's finest tulips will be blooming profusely throughout International Friendship Gar-dens, Michigan City, by Mother's Day, May 13, when the Gardens will be formally opened to the public this year

There will be 500 varieties on display and more colors this year than in previous years because of the constant experi-ments of the Dutch Bulb Growers Association which supplies bulbs for the tulip showing. There will be brilliant hues of red, purple, white, yellow, orange and variegated. They heighten the colors for the background created by dogwood, redbud, crab and peach.

Coming from the Netherlands, the bulbs in this Michigan City exhibit are all descendants of bulbs originally taken to Vienna from Constantinople more than 400 years ago. The name 'tulip" means "turban" in Turkish. The flower thrived abundantly in the Netherlands and was adopted by the Dutch as a national symbol.

NEWS NOTES from our

County Agent

DONALD E. FRANTZ

Petitions for a Soil Conserva tion referendum in the northern ten townships are coming in and I expect to meet with the Secretary of the State Soil Conservation Commission soon to discuss the matter.

At the present time the Kosciusko County Soil and Water Conservation District includes Washington, Monroe, Jackson, Clay, Lake, Seward and Frank-lin Townships. This was origin-ated in 1957. The proposal is now to make the Soil Conservation Service available to all townships.

The legal steps are first to submit a petition to the State Commission, the Commission may then order a public hearing and if they so decide can call for a public referendum. In a referendum there must be a sixty per cent vote of all landowners of tracts over 10 acres. A sixty per cent favorable vote will then establish a district.

The stock of corn on hand in Indiana on April 1 was 248 million bushels, about 2 per cent less than a year ago. The amount of corn held over then by farm ers, this includes CCC and elevators, was 72 million bushels and this was 26 per cent below a year ago.

Corn stored in all positions, April 1, 1962, throughout the country totaled 3,386 million bushels and this is down 8 per cent form last year. It is still 45 per cent above average There is more corn being held on the farm than last year but a sizable decrease in the offfarm storage. The amount held by the CCC, elevators, and mill warehouses is 22 per cent below a year ago.

The use of corn out of storage is at a record high rate. There was a record 1,110 million bushels moved in January, February March 1962 This was nearly 9 per cent more than last year which was an all time high up to then. It would appear that there are signs of strength in the corn market.

The Angus breeders of the county met last Tuesday night to discuss some further organi zational work. We have 34 purebred breeders on our mailing list and there may be others. This represents a lot of interest in purebred cattle and over the past year this office has been working toward more of an or ganized improvement program It is possible and even likely that Kosciusko County will become one of the leading counties in this area in promoting the Angus breed of beef cattle.

One of the things that farmers know and respect so highly is the value of good seed. Yet Minnesota, New Jersey, South a thing as small as a seed is as Carolina, Tennessee and Virgincomplex as any other form of life and the methods by which life is perpetuated is complicated almost to the point of magic. Nature has provided many ways to protect seeds so that the continuity of life will not be broken. Sometimes this causes us trouble as it does in certain weeds. Their struggle for existence is almost amazing.

Some weeds are protected by a shell but the seed coat thin, this describes a peanut. In other plants the seed coat is tough as in a bean. Yet these two plants are related. A certain proportion of seeds resist prompt germination and this assures survival if conditions are unfavorable for some which germinate first. Many plants ripen unevenly and other plants hold some of the seeds while they shed a part of the seed crop.

Many of the legumes such as clovers, produce seeds with a variable proportion of hard seed coats which may not germinate for years. This is why you have white clover in your lawn every once in awhile.

The spreading of seeds is a story in itself, some with wings, some with fins, some with glue, others that will roll. It is really an interesting pattern.

Reflower Your Easter Lily

You can easily get your Easter lily to flower again. Just plant it in your garden, says Don Scheer, Purdue University extension horticulturist. Even with minimum care, chances are good it will bloom again in August.

Here are some details: Remove the lily from the pot and plant it outdoors in your garden when the weather starts to get warm. Plant it two inches deeper than the soil level of the pot. A sunny location and well drained soil are best. You'll want to add fertilizer for best growth. One teaspoon of 12-12-12 fertilizer per gallon of water applied once a month should do. You'll most likely have flowers this August, and your lily may even bloom following years if you mulch it over winter so it won't freeze

For further information, write the Agricultural Publications Office, AES Building, Purdue University, Lafayette, Indiana. Ask for "Easter Lilies"-mimeo HO-74-4. Single copies are free to Indiana residents.

COUNTERPOINT

By The Editor's Wife

The following quotation by Leo Rosten, author of "Captain Newman, M. D." and special advisor to Look Magazine is worthy of consideration.

"The most practical things in this world of ours are not dynamos nor mechanisms nor computers nor aircraft. The most practical things are ideas. It is always from some curious, abstract, 'day-dreaming' egghead that our marvelous gadgets come. The contempt of practical men for curious men, or of real ists for just theoriticians, rests on nothing more than ignorance. The one thing that curiosity can never be is idle. Now, the free man, the curious man, will always disturb his society, because he will always confront freshly what is conventional. He will always dare to re-examine what seems to others to be obvious. The writer and the thinker are engaged in a lifelong struggle to free themselves from the prisons of the familiar.

One well known writer tells us that "it takes some brains to save money, but it takes even more brains to save to the best advantage". He goes on to ex-plain that one must plan to save

Here are four ways he suggests not to use:

1. Buying inferior things. (For a few dollars more you can buy clothing which will last for 2 years instead of 6 months.)

2. Paying too much for your economy. (One lady drives a mile out of her way—which costs 20c for going and comingto save four cents on a pound of coffee.)

3. Becoming so wrapped-up in costs that you lose all joy of living.

4. Saving pennies while wasting dollars.

Another expert, Charles V. Neal, Jr. says that we Americans, because of our ignorance of economic matters, stand to lose our free enterprise system.

To quote: Some suggestions to help the situation include exposure to economic ideas as early as first grade, preparing teachers through graduate study, and in clusion of economics in social study courses. It is recommended that a knowledge of economics be required of all social study teachers.

During the short business session, $75.00 was given to the English department of the Mentone school for stage flats or to replace the curtains for scenery partitions.

A large crowd was present for the style show put on by the Home Ec. department under the direction of Mrs. Arthur Car penter. The theme was "Across the Bridge of Fashion." The stage was beautifully decorated for the show.

Grades 7 and 9 through 12 modeled the garments they had made this year in class.

Those assisting were Vivian Hurst who provided background music on the piano; the narrators, Janet Besson and Tana Henderson, and Larry Eiler, lights and amplifiers.

Mrs. Carpenter presented the Future Homemaker Betty Crock er award to Kathy Randall, and the Crisco trophy to Miss Arlys Thompson.

CONTRACT LET FOR STREET REPAIRING

At a special meeting of the Mentone town council Tuesday evening, W. E. Gooch of Rochester was given the contract to resurface and repair the Mentone streets. Work has already begun on the project.

At the regular meeting of the town council May 7th, it was decided to place a two-hour park-ing limit on Main street from 8:00 a. m. to 5:00 p. m. daily.

Worst Season For Rabies

While rabies is present all year, it is more often seen during spring and summer. During these months, children and pets are allowed more freedom and run a greater chance of expo-

Dr. F. A. Hall, Purdue University extension veterinarian, says more than 109 cases, most of them in dogs, were identi-fied by laboratory tests in Indiana last year.

During the first four months of 1962, the Indiana State Board of Health reported more than 80 cases. They were diagnosed in several species-dogs, cattle, foxes and one horse.

Ten counties have had the majority of rabies cases and were under quarantine as of March 31. These are Brown, Bartholomew, Johnson, Monroe, Morgan, Marion, Dearborn, Porter, Lake and Ripley. Vaccination clinics have been held in Bartholomew, Lawrence and Monroe counties and others are being organized in an effort to halt the spread of the disease.

During the early stage of the disease, rabid animals roam and wander aimlessly, attacking other animals and even inanimate objects. Thus, a single rabid animal may expose many other animals and persons.

There is no cure for, or treatment successful against, rabies. Once the symptoms appear, death is certain. Control of the disease is dependent upon annual vaccination of pets, required by Indiana law, and the control of all strays.

Stray animals should not be frightened, befriended or petted, he warns. Such animals should be brought to the attention of the humane society or local should immediately notify the health authorities or his local Local News veterinarian so that the animal can be confined and observed. In addition, the victim should immediately place himself under the care of a physician.

A person bitten by an animal

Rabies virus is spread through saliva which enters the body through breaks in the skin, such as bite wounds or other injuries which become contaminated by the saliva of infected animals.

Dr. Hall says if all dogs in Indiana are vaccinated annually, and all strays controlled, the rate of the animal infection and human exposure can be reduced to a minimum.

How To Make Compost

For lovely flowers and delicious vegetables make sure they have plenty of humus. Good humus can be made easily and in quantity by composting, ac-cording to Purdue University horticulturists.

Build the compost pile by alternating layers of raw organic matter, fertilizer and soil. Start with organic matter, such as grass clippings, leaves, weeds and garden refuse. Pile it six inches deep if the material is fairly solid, or 12 inches deep if the material is loose. Add water if the material is dry. Next add fertilizer. For general purpose compost add 11/2 cups of 10-10-10 or 10-6-4 analysis ferti-lizer and 2/3 of a cup of ground dolomitic limestone to each bushel of compact organic matter. After fertilizing, add one inch of soil

Continue to alternate layers of organic matter, fertilizer and soil as described until the pile is three to four feet high. Any desired length is satisfactory. As a final step, cover the pile with a layer of soil, sides as well as the top. Keep the pile moist but not soggy. Allow it to decompose one full summer before using.

For further information, write the Agricultural Mailing Room, AES Building, Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind., for HO-77-2 "How to Make Compost." is free to Indiana residents.

Its reliability is probably its greatest single asset

When you build a quality truck, the inclination is to run around asking users what they think of it. We do quite a bit of this.

It's a funny thing. You'd think people would talk mostly about the mechanical features of the vehicle-the good ride, its power, the double-wall construction, cab comfort, or tough tailgate.

These things get comment, of course, but they're consistently outnumbered by expressions of satisfaction with the dependability of a Chevrolet truck. Its greatest single asset seems to be the fact that it does its job well day after day without a lot of fuss or attention-and that's what impresses people the most.

Quality is the key to reliability. The next time you have to buy a truck, call your Chevrolet dealer and make your money go farther.

Purchases Of Nonfood Items

How much of your grocery dollar is spent on cleaning supplies, housewares, pet items, beverages, tobacco, paper goods by Annette Hibschman and Cyn- and other nonfood items? It may be as much as 18 per cent.

With the rapid changes in retail marketing since World War II, there has been a change in the grocery buying habits in America. Grocery stores have increased the variety of food offered and have added an increasing number and variety of nonfood items as well. Over one half the sales of some nonfoods are made in grocery stores.

Purchases of these items have expanded so gradually that many buyers are not aware of the percentage of their grocery money goes for nonfood.

In an effort to determine how many nonfood items are included in the average family's grocery bill, Cleo Fitzsimmons and Sarah L. Manning, home economists at Purdue University, surveyed nine supermarkets in the Indianapolis area. Cooperating with the USDA, Purdue University has published results of this survey in a research bulletin.

DONALD E. FRANTZ

The final 4-H club enrollment for 1962 is due May 25th. We don't know what the figures will be but there should be somewhere between eleven and twelve hundred youngsters taking part in 4-H work this summer. Some of the major activities on a county and state level are scheduled as follows: the state 4-H Club Round Up is June 5-7 at Purdue. We will have about 40 delegates. The state Jr. Leadership Conference is June 12-15 and will be at Ball State College this year and the County 4-H Camp will be at Camp Mack, June 25—28. The dates for the County Fair are August 6-11.

We always have some losses in hay from spittlebug. In severe years they will reduce the first cutting by as much as a third.

It is difficult to tell how much damage there will be untill it is already done. A rule of thumb is that if there is one per plant in the last week of April, then it pays to spray. Everything was late this year and I checked on April 30 and on May 4 The fields that I saw were not ious trouble with spittle-buts although it will probably be much worse in some fields than in others.

For those who are planning to make oat hay as a substitute for the alfalfa that was winter killed, I have this note from a farmer that has used it for several years. He said "just as soon as you think it is right, then you should have cut it yester-day". His point was to make it early.

He also said that by taking off the oats just as the heads were emerging he usually got about 2 tons from the new alfalfa and grass in August. This is in Grant County.

tree troubles have been diagnosed by Dr. Eric Sharvelle, the Hoosier plant doctor, as Neglectitis and Cementosis. Trees are one of the few living things that we expect to grow with-out food or care. There are all kinds of rat poisons on the market and some are extremely dangerous. Our recommendations still are for using the Warfarin type baits. There are no residue problems with it.

We offered a lot of chemicals now days for insects, disease control, rodents, etc. Most all of them are fairly safe but we'd ought to handle them like they were poison, because they are.

There is certainly an open field of work for the young man who is interested in grass and turf work. There were 400 new golf courses built in the country in 1961 and there is no Two of the most common reason to believe this will not continue. Parks, cemeteries, roadsides, playing fields are be ing cared for better than they used to be. This calls for the type of workmen and supervisors that know how to develop and care for grass properly.

Farmers Advised To Weigh Hogs

Hoosier farmers who do not periodically check weigh their hogs are missing a bet. That's a tip from Purdue University animal scientists, who say the true value of livestock is often misjudged by swine growers relying on guesswork instead of accurate scales.

Animal scientists Dick Hallandbeck and Jim Foster advise hog farmers to check weigh at least four times—birth, weaning, 135 days and just prior to marketing.

A farmer doesn't need elaborate scales, they add. Baby scales, no longer needed in the home, work fine for checking birth weights. Some farmers use poultry scales, or small hand spring scales for this job. To take weaning weights, swinemen will find useful a portable scale, such as a bathroom or milk scale with a bucket or live poultry scoop hooked underneath. Don't forget that weaning

Don't forget that weaning weights are a valuable guide in the culling of old sows and in the selection of replacement guilts. The 21 and 35 day weaning weights will give farmers the measure of the milking ability of the brood sow, while the 56 day weaning weights figure in both the sow's milking ability and the creep feed consumption rate of the pigs.

They have other suggestions for weighing pigs at 135 days and just before marketing. The Agricultural Publications Office, Purdue University, Lafayette, Indiana, has copies of mimeo A. H. 217, "Scales—A Valuable Tool in Swine Production." It is free to Indiana residents.

Having Trouble With Clover Mites?

Clover mites have been more of a problem than normal this spring. Many homeowners, particularly with new lawns, have been bothered with the mites getting into their homes, according to Donald E. Frantz, County Agricultural Agent.

These insects are very small and appear in countless number They are usually found near windows and may be identified by a red stain when crushed. They do not bite nor cause any damage. Clover mites feed on grass and are prevalent in new fast growing lawns that are well fertilized.

The best preventive measure is to make a spraying around the house with Malathion or other miticide to form a barrier they would have to pass through to get to the house. This should be 10 to 20 feet wide. A mixture of a half pint to 25 gallons of water of 57% Malathion would be suitable for this spraying. The foundation should be sprayed with a concentration, a half pint to 8 gallons of water.

Flower beds or a gravel barrier two feet wide at the foundation walls is also effective in preventing clover mites from getting into the house.

Recent guests of Mrs. Robert Holloway and family were Mrs. Stephen Borman, Candace, of Goshen, and Mrs. Kenneth Ranes and Ken, Jr., of Aberdeen, Maryland. Mrs. Holloway called on Mrs. Howard Mock, Mrs. Larry Mock, Bryan, Amy, and Mrs. Dale Mock of Milford recently.

Water Softening For The Home

Since Indiana is in the hard water area of the country Hoosier homemakers often turn to softened water for their homes.

Harvey Wilke, Purdue University civil engineer, and Ruth Hutcheson, Purdue extension specialist, have authored a circular, "Water Softening for the Home." In it they examine the differences in hard water and soft water and the effects of

Some of the undesirable re sults of using hard water have been noted as increased amounts and costs of soap and detergent, cloudiness and films on china and glassware, possibly irritated skin and dull and brittle hair.

The soap curd formed in hard water is retained in clothing and household textiles causing grayness, stiffness and weakened threads. The lime and other mineral deposite build up and block hot water pipes, causing expensive replacements and increased fuel costs for water heaters.

Detailed information is given in the circular regarding the methods of determining water hardness, the expense of softening the various types of softeners available and the uses of each.

Indiana residents may obtain a free copy of "Water Softening for the Home", Extension Circular 505, from their county ex-tension offices, or by writing the Agricultural Publications Office, AES Building, Purdue University, Lafayette, Indiana.

Enterotoxemia Affects Calves

Enterotoxemia — someticalled "overeating disease"sometimes ten brings death to young lambs and calves, points out Dr. F. A. Hall, Purdue University extension veterinarian. This disease also affects feeder lambs and steers while they are on growing and fattening rations.

Young animals which apparently were normal at night may be found dead the following morning. Affected animals may be listless, go off feed and show nervous symptoms with possible paralysis.

A toxin, produced by a germ within the animal, causes the disease. Young stock on good feed are most susceptible.

Veterinarians may give an antitoxin and save some affected animals if treatment is given soon after symptoms appear, according to Dr. Hall. A vaccination that is effective as a preventative is also available. This vaccination should be used before animals go on full feed since the immunity takes about 10 days to develop.

Control depends upon the reduction of feed, especially grain, until death losses subside. If symptoms appear when animals are on succulent pasture, the animals should be moved to pasture with shorter grass.

COUNTERPOINT

By The Editor's Wife

During the long cold spell of ice and snow last winter I resolved that no extreme heat this summer could push me to the point of discomfort that I would complain. So far, my resolve is unbroken. I've made some comments, to be sure, but no real complaints! !

School is out and boys and girls are coming to the creek to fish, to wade, and to gaze.

Ever since the Garden of Eden, no doubt, boys and girls have been drawn to a brook or There is a wonderful creek. joy and contentment in watching the lazy silence of a softly moving creek.

Fishing is good, too. I imag ine that these little fish now being caught are direct descendents of those little fish which Don and Jon caught (and their mothers cleaned and cooked) not so many years ago.

Yes, the years come and go but there is a sameness about these things along the creek.

We have received an interest ing cook book from the kitchens of Chun King and Mazola Home Service Departments.

This ability is as essential as the reading of prose and poetry from the earliest written expression until the present. It is my belief, moreover, that the study of Latin is an invaluable aid not only the precision of thought but in familiarity of word roots.'

Add Spice To Your Life

Add spice to your life! It's easy-with the variety of rich, flavorful spices available on your grocer's shelves.

Keep out of a cooking rut, Marcile Allen, food specialist at Purdue University, suggests by varying your old standby recipes with spices and herbs.

Spices are the roots, bark stems, leaves, buds, seeds or fruits of aromatic plants which usually grow in the tropics. Herbs are the leaves of plants which grow only in the temperate zone-such as bay leaves, chervil, marjoram and oregano. Some herbs may be grown in your garden. You might try thyme or chives, or choose others from your local nursery.

Some seeds which are flavorful accents are anise, caraway, cardamon, coriander and poppy. These are the small fruit plants which grow in both the tropical and temperate zones.

When combining spices, strike a balance with one strong and one or two mild flavored ones A scant quarter teaspoonful of spices is adequate for four servings.

Spices retain their quality if they are tightly covered and stored in cool places. Transfer spices purchased in paper con-tainers to tightly covered jars. Dating spice containers help to judge their quality.

Judge the freshness of spice by rubbing some between the palms of your hands. If there is fragrance, the spice is still flavorful.

Thin-Shelled Egg Care

Now that the laying flock has been producing for seven or more months, and hot weather is coming, egg shells will start to be weak and thin.

Protect these eggs by special handling, advises David D. Jackson, Purdue University extension poultryman.

Provide the laying flock with an ample supply of clean, fresh oyster shells or limestone grit to insure the necessary calcium needed for strong shells.

Special handling requires the eggs to be collected separately from eggs produced by new pullets. Provide at least one nest, filled with plenty of clean nesting material, for every five hens. Limit the number of eggs in a basket-not more than 10 to 12 dozen. Keep eggs level in the basket and place them in carefully.

In grading and packaging the eggs in the egg room, continue the special handling.

Be careful not to let the eggs roll down the grading table and one another. Eggs rolling on the grader hit each other in their weakest spots.

Good Shoes For Summer

Children are anticipating their vacation from school, but don't let them take a vacation from proper foot care, says Frieda Stoll, clothing specialist from Purdue University.

While walking barefoot on grass and sand provides good exercise, young feet need support and protection with properfitted and well constructed shoes-especially for walking on concrete.

Shoes with leather soles and uppers are best for all-are wear. Leather provides flexible support and protection from sharp objects. Soles of genuine leather give the feet the ventilation they need, thus eliminating excessive perspiration. Play shoes whose soles are imper meable to air do not allow the perspiration to evaporate.

Play shoes are designed for leisure activities, she points out, and are not recommended for general wear.

Some fabric shoes are slow drying and encourage bacterial growth which may cause skin infections. Even washing in the washing machine does not remove the bacteria, since the water temperature is not high enough. Some people may be allergic to the plastic materials and glues used in play shoes.

When choosing any shoes for children, play shoes or regular, be sure of a comfortable fitboth long and wide enough. It's hest to have a competent sales person measure both feet and fit the larger one.

Saving outgrown shoes for younger children may bring foot troubles to them. As shoes are worn they conform to the shape of the foot inside them. Putting a young child's foot into a worn shoe will force his foot to conform to the shape of the shoe.

The regent, Mrs. Fred Surguy, opened the meeting with the usual ritual service, followed by prayer, the pledge to the flag and the National Anthem. Mrs. Dale Cook, National Defense chairman, gave a talk by Dem. Senator Shrom Thurmond of South Carolina, in which he said, "Our no-win, defeatist policies of paralysis in meekly meeting the threat posed by world communism are based on false conceptions of communism. One of these false conceptions is that we can still trust the communists to keep true faith and allegiance to their word. Where they fool us is that their word means one thing to them and quite another to us, and . they put their unlike us . ideology and its aims first. When a communist promises peace it means that time when the communists have dominated the world, all property has been collectivized, and everyone is on the same level and oriented toward materialism rather than any love of liberty, country or God."

Mrs. Bernice Rush spoke briefly, in which she stated that we have more freedom than we know and this causes nibbles at freedom's edge to go unnoticed. If we understood more fully our heritage we would be more alert to preserve it, and our religious freedom which is the heart and focus for all other freedoms.

Mrs. Garvin Eaton gave a short resume written by Jean Sibelius in 1865. It is a song with a patriotic appeal from the composition, Finlandia.

Mrs. Ray Linn and Mrs. Frank Smith who attended Continental Congress in Washington D. C. April 16-19, gave a report of a very inspiring three days. The President General announced that the theme to be used as a for chapter programs, would be a Biblical quote from The First Epistle of Paul the Apostle to the Thessalonians chapter 5, verse 21. Prove all things; hold fast that which is good. Mrs. White, the president general, alluded to critics in her welcome address when she said, "We are not unmind-"Woe unto you, when all men shall speak well of you'. "You will all agree, I am super the state of the committee has always been for Constitutional government. She said it does not take a super natrice."

to preserve Constitutional rights we are in no danger of having of all Americans. Only three all men speak well of us... chapters in the state received should this dismay us? No, it should reassure us that we have been faithful in the discharge of our obligation to maintain and advance the principles for which we stand. She said it is inevitable that those who would surrender American sovereignty, destroy or greatly impair the free enterprise system, curtail the rights of private prop erty and confer unlimited pow ers upon the Federal Govern ment, will speak ill of us and work to impair our position and influence by ridicule, distortions and misrepresentation."

> Mrs. Smith attended the National Defense luncheon at the Sheraton Park hotel. She heard Mr. T. Coleman Andrews speak in which he asked, "Who are the enemies of the Constitution?" He replied that it makes no difference whether they are communists, fellow travelers, or mis-guided Americans, they are doing the communist business in trying to destroy the greatest freedom document ever devised by man. He said we must learn to recognize and know our enemy in socialism and gave a quote from Khrushchev, "Give the American people doses of socialism until they wake up suddenly and find they have communism". She also heard Mr. Myers G. Lowman, ex. sec. of circuit riders who spoke on fiddling while the church burns. He said that once we learn that our children, our homes, our churches are in danger, nothing can stop the patriotic dedicated American from protecting our own. He said the decline of the social gospel is in its beginning and will continue to decline when more Americans can clearly learn in which direction these planners for a one world are leading them. He emphasized that any organization which becomes centralized is clearly much easier to infiltrate than many small denominations or organizations.

Mrs. Wilson K. Barnes, of Baltimore, said in her address to Congress that the primary executive over Congress. Fabian Socialist trick is to get control of government, then pure socialism is here. Fabian then Socialism is gradual socialism causing us to be overcome without a fight. They are very patient. The Fabians plant the seed and tend the crop and the communists reap the harvest Their goal is a final one world order ruled by the Kremlin.

Mrs. Smith announced that the new Doris Pike White Audi-Gymnasium recently erected at a cost of $130,000, is now completely paid for in its entirety. The building is located at the Kate Duncan Smith DAR mountain school in Alabama She also announced that the Indiana Press Relations book won first place nationally at con-

The meeting was adjourned by repeating the Americans creed. The hostess, Mrs. Paulus, assisted by Mrs. Paul Shireman served refreshments to members and three guests, Mrs. E. V. Herendeen and Mrs. Ernest Bryant, of Rochester, and Mrs. Jess Whitmyer, of Roann. The June meeting will be a carry-in buffet at 6:30 at the Beaver Dam Lake home of Mrs. Wayne Smallev.

Cut your lawn frequently for uniform turf, advise horticulturists at Purdue University. Common bluegrass and fescue lawns are healthier when small amounts of grass are removed frequently. You don't need to remove clippings unless they are unusually long. Grass clippings return considerable phosphorous and potassium to your soil and thus act as a fertilizer.

munist objectives and Liberal Club Meeting objects. (Don't many of us wonder?)

We would like to express some views of the French social philosopher, Jules Monnerot, as quoted by William F. Buckley, Jr.

Monnerot does not suggest that the liberals are pro-com-munist; but rather that in their response to Communism they have always been, and always will be, distracted from their purpose by the Communists' disingenuous self-identification with goals which they pretend to share along with the left-liberals: civil rights, state socialism, anti-capitalism, anticolonialism, anti-religion, the super-ordination of life over against any of the ideals in whose behalf death, heroism great wars, even-have been considered tolerable sacrifices

Mr. Buckley concludes his article with this statement.

"One wishes the liberals would trade their quarrels against anti-Communist Conservatives, against General Franco and Chiang Kaishek, against Presidents Diem and Fuentes, for quarrels against the Communists and those who abet them. But we are asking them to pick a quarrel with themselves.

We enjoyed this:

A salesman, held up in Montana by a winter blizzard, wired his boss:

'Stranded here due to storm. Wire instructions."

Back came the reply:

'Start summer vacation immediately".

COUNTERPOINT

By The Editor's Wife

Our young neighbor - to - be, Bruce Leslie, wrote a letter to Astronaut Col. John Glenn and received the following answer. It was sent by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration:

May 7, 1962

Master Bruce Leslie, Box 316, Mentone, Indiana,

Dear Bruce: Thank you for your interest odist church. and thoughtfulness in writing about the flight of the Friendship 7 spacecraft. Many things were learned from this and from the earlier flights of Alan Shepard and Gus Grissom. Each flight is a steppingstone in our ever-expanding manned space flight research program.

Project Mercury is a team effort of many, many thousands of people. Beyond those working directly on the project, however the flight of Friendship 7 had the support, thoughts and best wishes of many thousands, perhaps even millions of people throughout the world.

I appreciate Again, thoughtfulness in writing to me.

Sincerely, S. J. MILLS (for) John H. Glenn, Jr., Lt. Col. U.S.M.C. Mercury Astronaut.

FLYING CLUB BUYS ANOTHER AIRPLANE

The Mentone Flying Club now has a four-place Cessna 172 airplane for the use of its members. The 1960 model was purchased last week for $7,250.

The club also has a two-place training ship which they purchased several years ago.

With the summer season with us, flying will pick up at the Mentone Airport where the flying club makes its headquarters. Anyone desiring to fly should visit the busy airport.

Suellen Long is spending several days with Mr. and Mrs. Everett Long before returning to her studies at Indianapolis.

COMPLETE WORK ON STREETS

Tuesday workmen with the W. E. Gooch Co., of Rochester, completed work on eight blocks of Mentone's streets. In the total of eight blocks, two and one-half blocks were given the first surfacing, and the others were patched and sealed. Also, there were numerous areas where improvements were made to existing streets.

The Gooch concern has been doing the street work in Mentone for over 20 years, and the fine condition of our streets speaks well for the concern and its employees.

"Darkness In New Delhi"

This is the title of a documentary filmstrip which will be shown at The First Baptist church of Mentone at 7:30 p.m., on Sunday evening, June 3. This film is an informative picture study of the Third Annual Assembly of The World Council of Churches recently held in New Delhi, India.

As you watch the film and listen to the accompanying narrator, you will hear and see the WCC move one step closer to Rome; the young militant leaders of the Russian Orthodox church, trained in Communist Russia, become a "big voice" in WCC affairs; the bearded and robed priests of Africa and Asia taking over the leadership of the WCC; and the study march of the WCC toward a "One World Religion" and a "One World Church"

"Darkness In New Delhi" was produced by Biblical Missions of Philadelphia, and is distributed by the American Council of Christian Churches. You are invited to attend the showing of this filmstrip.

NEWS NOTES

from our

County Agent

DONALD E. FRANTZ

The Estes case in Texas will be reflected in much of the agricultural legislation in future years. The position of farmers in the public view has been seriously hurt. Agriculture, as a whole, and farmers in general, are being blamed for a situation and farmers will pay for this public indignation.

A part of the circumstances that built up around this case is the wide-spread use of anhydroux amonia. This has been a big product of many chemical companies and it is produced in large quantities as a side line of the petroleum industries. They want to make deals that will move large amounts and therefore, are willing to finance tanks, tank cars, and other fac-ilities to move it. The Commercial Solvents Company extended vast credits in this case. I have heard of other companies offering similar deals. It is a great benefit to them to load a tank car and move it to storage in someone else's facilities even if they have to finance it rather than to build permanent storage. Under varying arrangements such companies as Texico, Phillips, Penn-Salt, Indiana Refining and many others are moving huge amounts of ammonia into the middle west and south.

The other circumstances that led to the Estes trouble is the large amount of money involved in grain storage. Fortunes have been made and this opportunity often attracts the greedy.

This is a case where one man put two of the circumstances of the day together and worked both ends against the middle. Farmers did not create this circumstance nor can they control them but if long range penalties are assessed as a result of public opinion, farmers will pay the bill. They will pay it in lower prices, unfavorable legislation or in loss of good will.

Jim Hibschman of Syracuse has been named as one of the state winners in the Efficient Dairy Production program sponsored by the National Dairy Association. His award is a very nice plaque.

Members of the Mid-West Poultry Marketing Study Committee met for two days last week at Winona Lake. Poultry specialists and market researchers from Purdue, Ohio State University, Michigan State and Illinois along with two county agents make up this group. We are about mid-way between the Universities so they have been meeting here. This is why I am on the committee. We have been looking at the effects of integration on marketing, studying contracts that are being offered to farmers and preparing educational material for use in the turkey marketing order referen-

We are seeing more and more cases of the "lesser house fly" or "little house fly" building up around houses. In my opinion, these are hatching in many instances in the manure pits in poultry houses. They are smaller than the regular house fly and will migrate further and when they decide to settle in a particular house, they can be an awful nuisance.

The baits made with DDVP help some. This comes in a 2 or a 5 percent syrup and can be painted on areas where they settle. The best control in my opinion is to spray or dust the dropping pits. We can give you the recipe for mixing the spray or dust if you want it.

The corn and planting season has moved right along. Much of the corn is in, many people finished up last week. I hope that some people, especially dairymen, will try an earlier cutting of hay this year. They have the opportunity to do it.

We have always thought of hay yields in terms of tons per acre. Maybe we'd ought to consider pounds of protein per acre or pounds of digestible nutrients. The farther along toward maturity that a plant goes, the higher the fiber and the lower the protein. Our big job is to find the point of compromise between a little lower yield and a higher quality feed and then out-guess the weather.

HONORED AT MEETING MONDAY

Mrs. Harry Goehring was guest of honor at the Be-About missionary meeting on Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Wayne Bowser.

Mrs. Goehring, formerly Nancy Goodman, will be leaving in the fall for Pakistan with her family to be missionaries to the natives.

From a table decorated with a red umbrella with streamers, many attractive and useful gifts were presented to her.

During the business meeting, plans were made to clean the kitchen at the church at the next meeting.

Devotions were given by Mrs. Goehring. She read a poem and many verses of scripture to lead a mother through her daily tasks.

A baby gift was given to Noreen Norris for her new daughter. Tasty refreshments were served by the hostess to Mesdames Kermit Zent, Everett Welborn, Irvin Wagner, Ed Bach, Everett Besson, Raymond Lewis, David Peffney, Brad Moore, Stanley Yeiter, Robert Huffman, Kenneth Romine, Harry Goehring, and Frank Overpeck.

Purdue University horticulturists recommend removing the seed pods of iris, tulips and narcissus after the petals have fallen. Don't remove their foliage, however, until it has dried completely.

underside of the auto frame, and will reduce seat belt installation time one-half.

Authorities believe that if all car owners installed and used seat belts, 13,000 lives could be saved each year. One of them might be yours.

Here are some comments, taken from a "letter to the editor" of the Fort Wayne News-Sent inel. I found that they expressed some of my very strong feelings:

To the Editor:

Major Gherman Titov, having orbited the earth 17 times, did not, he reports, see God. I wonder if he saw gravitation, radiation belts, electricity. Since he did not, in his minute survey of space, see God, he is proud and illogical enough to conclude that there is no God, for the major is a "scientific" thinker and believes only what he can see and prove.

I wonder if a surgeon-even a Soviet surgeon-could find with his scalpel a wife's love-or a husband's. The heart can nowadays be fully explored; is love discoverable there? Or in the lungs, the brain, or some other organ? Or is it in the muscle? No? Then, the scientist — the Soviet scientist - must conclude that love is non-existent. Much learning, perhaps, has made him mad.

Can one see God? No more than they can see love, hate, gravitation, or electricity. "By their fruits shall you know them." The fruits of the spirit of God in human life, as Paul tells us, are love, joy, peace, long suffering, gentleness, faith, meekness, and temperance as opposed to adultery, idolatry, wrath, strife, envyings, murders, drunkenness, and the like. The fruit of the spirit of God in human affairs, as so often exemplified throughout history, is the ultimate triumph of goodness. The fruit of the spirit of God in the management of the universe as seen by both the ignorant and the learned alike, is order and

The Major Titovs' know that, in other things, the unseen may be as real as the seen. Those things which move the hearts, the minds, and the wills of man exist. The race is not always to the swift, nor victory to the strong. Righteousness still exalts a nation; sin is still a reproach to any people.

aids are an indication that accidents still do take place.

Here are some questions to help you check your home:

1. Are pan handles turned so they don't protrude from stove tops?

2. Are electrical appliances disconnected when not in use? 3. Are drawers and cupboard doors kept closed?

4. Are cleaning fluids, polishes, bleaches, detergents, medi-cines and all poisons kept high out of children's reach?

5. Are poisons clearly labelled and securely stoppered?

6. Are discarded razor blades carefully wrapped or dropped into disposal slots?

7. Is temperature bath water tested with your e bow to prevent scalding?

8. Are you careful not to leave babies or toddlers alone in the bathtub for even a minute?

9. Are young children kept away from washing machines and wringers when these are in

We enjoyed this:

Two screwballs at a vacation esort rented a hotel boat and found great fishing at a certain spot in a nearby lake. It was so good that they decided to mark the place so they could come back for more sport the next day.

At the dock, one asked the other, "How did you mark the spot?

"I put a chalk mark on this side of the boat," was the reply.
"Boy, are you dumb!" exclaimed the first idiot. "Maybe won't get the same boat.
