presentative government as it operates in Indiana and the U.S.A.

Both Boys State and Girls State are held on the campus of Indiana University in June.

Methodist Bible School Dates Are Set

The Methodist Church Daily Vacation Bible school will be held this year from May 31 to June 10. Mrs. Tom Fugate is the director of the school.

Teachers and their assistants are: Primary, Mrs. Phil Lash, Jackie Gible, Mrs. Murphy, and Mary Manwaring; 1st and 2nd grade, Mrs. Ann Utter and Mrs. Betty Blackburn; 3rd and 4th grade, Mrs. Paul Knoop and Mrs. Gene Sarber; and 5th and 6th grades, Mrs. Bill Ettinger.

The junior high classes will meet in the evening for the first week. Their teachers are Mrs. Kate Whetstone and Mrs. Betty Boggs.

Mrs. Teel Is Defeated In Close Race

Mrs. Kathryn Teel, R. R. 1, Mentone, lost a very close contest yesterday when she sought the Republican nomination for recorder. She was defeated by Mrs. Mazie Alexander 2892 to 2863, a 29 vote margin. The totals were nip and tuck for the two women all night and it was not until the last precinct reported that the winner was known. Mrs. Esther Kinney received 2186 votes.

Other totals were not obtained by press time but it is known that Lawrence Butt received the GOP nod for auditor and that Carl Latta and Dave Andrews will seek the sheriff's post this fall, Latta being the Republican and Andrews the Democrat.

Harvey B. Anglin was the GOP winner in the race for southern district commissioner, defeating Joe Boggs of Mentone and Ray Wilson. Keith Horn, Ruth McCleary and Merlin Wertenberger received the GOP nomination for commissioner at large.

The state representative race was close with Donald Hogan losing out after the totals from Fulton, Whitley, Huntington and Wabash counties were received. The final count showed the Republicans nominating Thames Mauzy, Arthur Coblenz, and Ralph Heine.

The only Democratic contest

Mrs. Davison Is Elected

Mrs. F. B. Davison was elected Secretary of Membership Cultivation at the recent meeting of the Northern Indiana Conference of the Woman's Society of Christian Service.

The meeting was held at the Richmond Central Methodist Church and was attended by more than 700 Methodist women. Bishop Richard C. Raines was the speaker of the afternoon and installed the new officers.

A $5,000 Love Offering was taken at the meeting. It will be presented at the national assembly meeting which will be held at Portland, Oregon May 12-15. The assembly meets every four years. All money donated at the assembly meeting will be placed in the retired missionary's pension fund.

Among local residents who plan to attend the assembly meeting is Miss "Sammy" Kutiz, Warsaw, a retired missionary.

Cancer Drive Begins Here

The 1966 Cancer Drive solicitation will be done by Mrs. Loren Tridle and Mrs. Ora Carmean.

T.V.S.C. Board To Have 2 New Faces

Two new members were elected to the Tippecanoe Valley School board in Tuesday's primary election. Board members are elected directly at the primary and the election is not based on party politics.

The only contest was in Henry township where incumbent Ralph Davis defeated Frank Royer by a total of 1206 to 896.

Mickey Eaton, delegate from Newcastle township, received a total of 1788 votes and Orville McFadden, representing Franklin township, received a total of 1942 votes to become the champion vote getter. The combined vote for Davis and Royer, however, was higher than for either of the other two men.

McFadden will replace Ed Bucher on the board. Bucher has been president of the board for his entire term of office.

Eaton replaces Whit Gast. Gast was elected as a member at large before Newcastle township entered the corporation and has represented that township since its entry into the corporation. Eaton thus becomes Newcastle township's first elected representative.

Mailbox Improvement Week Set May 16-21

The Post Office Department designates a week during May each year when patrons on rural routes are encouraged to examine, and improve where necessary, the appearance of their mailboxes. The week of May 16-21 has been selected this year. The purpose of Mailbox Improvement Week is to call attention to the need for providing mail receptacles which are designed to protect the mail from the weather, and which are neat in appearance, conveniently located, and safe to use.

A neat, attractive mailbox reflects favorably upon the patron as well as the postal service.

Boxes and supports should be kept painted and free from rust. Where box numbers are assigned, the same of the owner and the box number must be shown on the side of the box visible to the carrier as he approaches, or on the door where boxes are grouped. Patrons are encouraged to group boxes wherever this is practicable.

DELTA, COLO., INDEPENDENT: "...the present too-liberal system of unemployment compensation is in danger of being changed to the point of making it even easier for the work-avoiders to draw doles in lieu of work. Among other things, H.R. 8282, the bill now before Congress, would wipe out present regulations in many states which disqualify persons who simply quit their jobs or are fired for misconduct. No, state and federal aid in any form is not free. And it certainly will not be free with respect to H.R. 8282. It will cost every employer dearly, and with what result? The unemployment compensation rather than go increasingly to those who deserve it, would go increasingly to those who do not."

the foolproof four

Never sure which mushroom is edible? Stick to these four—they're all harmless. But beware "angel," lower right.

Popular meal is often called "sponge mushroom" because indentations resemble those of a sponge.

Puttball is also known from that of golf ball in basketball. Sliced and fried in butter, it has few rivals.

Shit grows on rotten logs or living trees. Pick it young for best eating.

Avoid the deadly "destroying angel." To identify it note the partial veil and bulbous base or volva.

Odds And Ends

Sunday is Mother's Day, my ninth one, but chances are it will be nothing like the first, the one we spent tramping around old graveyards in Luxembourg. Before you doubt our sanity, let me hasten to explain that Luxembourg is the native land of my maternal grandparents and we were there for strictly old time's and old money's sake.

Our genealogical forays through the local cemeteries brought us no good results, and our day ended in a camp spot on a hill near Luxembourg City. Or rather I should say my day just began. It was about that time that the loneliness of being separated from Todd, then a babe of three months who was staying with friends in Karlsruhe, caught up with me and with a lump in my throat I said, "Here is is, my first mother's day and I'm not with my baby." In doing that, I stepped back to get a dry Kleenex and knocked the tent over.

The idea of having to set the tent up again didn't exactly appeal to Loren, but the thought of having me mooning around while he did it appealed even less so he handed me a bucket and said, "Here, go back to the restaurant where we checked in and get some water."

Still thinking of my poor little baby and not paying much attention, I did as he had directed and suddenly found myself standing in the middle of a very nice restaurant. There's nothing that can make you feel much stupider than finding yourself in the middle of a plush restaurant, holding a bucket, unless it is finding that you are the only one the place who speaks only English. With a great show of arm waving on the parts of myself, a waitress, and the manager, I was directed "around the corner."

Around the corner, I thought, that can't be too hard to find, and sure enough a door neatly labeled "Filles" loomed into view and knowing as well as the next person that that meant women I entered and carefully put my bucket in one of the basins and began getting water. About this time a German lady wandered in and we spoke carefully to each other and I invited her to fill her bucket in another basin. Evidently, her husband watched her closer than mine watched me, for he suddenly burst into that sacred ladies only confine and yelled a large amount of something that indicated that neither of us was too bright and jerked both buckets out of the basins at some loss to both buckets and basins, and led us around another corner to an outdoor faucet where the water was duly obtained and we parted, each off to our own campsites.

"What's new at the restaurant?" Loren asked when I approached our tent.

"Oh, nothing much," I answered. How do you explain something like that? The hour was getting late and after a light supper we turned in for the night, he falling soundly to sleep and me lying awake worrying about being a mother.

The quiet night was disturbed only by a few birds singing and my thoughts, which weren't singing. Suddenly, all this was broken by a new sound, a banjo, and then by giggles. And then there was a horrible racket as an animal scampered all over our tent. Loren was dead to the world, and I sat there paralyzed with fright, thinking how stupid I was to be there on Mother's Day of all days, and wished I were home.

A morning investigation revealed a couple from Holland was camping next to us. They had just gotten married and he had serenaded her with banjo music and she had giggled her applause. That strange sound had awakened a cat who picked that time to fight another camper's dog and they had picked our tent for the battlefield as the muddy cat prints on top of the tent attested.

No doubt about it, this Sunday with its family dinner, the two boys instead of one, and the other activities planned for the day, will lack something compared to the first one, but I'll bet we all have a lot of fun and if the boys don't quit dangling off their swing set and out of the trees, we may even have a couple of real live adventures right here in old Pucky Huddle, Indiana.

Farm Work Open To Youngsters Outside School Hours

With spring planting and harvesting under way, farmers and growers were reminded today that, although the Fair Labor Standards Act permits children of any age to work on farms after school and during vacation, it sets a 16-year age minimum for work during school hours.

This reminder came from Regional Director Earl F. Halverson of the U. S. Labor Department's Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Division, the agency which administers the Act.

"The need for youngsters to stay in school cannot be minimized in this age of automation," he said. "The uneducated of today are the unemployed of tomorrow." The key to a secure future lies in a sound education.

Halverson said that the child-labor provisions of the law apply to local youngsters and children of migratory workers alike. The only exception to the law is the child working exclusively for his parents or guardian on their own farm.

The child-labor provisions apply to farmers whose crops go either directly or indirectly into interstate or foreign commerce. Halverson said that a farmer must observe the law if he has reason to believe that his crops — either in their original form or processed — will eventually cross State lines.

"If State and Federal laws of children differ," he added, "the higher standards must be observed."

Additional information on the child-labor provision of the Fair Labor Standards Act may be obtained from the Regional Office of the U. S. Labor Department's Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions at 219 South Dearborn St., Chicago, Illinois 60604.

Parson Jones Speaks

Dear Mr. Publisher:

I got a little church examination the other day at one of our preacher's meetings. One of the questions they asked me was, "Would your church be missed if it was taken out of the community?" Well sir in all honesty I had to say yes. Our choir alone would be missed, cause it provides more excitement in the community than the high school football games. The Federal government wouldn't be so frustrated over this Viet Nam war, if they'd had a little experience with church choirs. Then they'd know that some fights go on forever.

Our latest tussle is between our organist Mitch Thriller and several members of the choir. He told some of 'em they couldn't carry a tune in a bucket. That's so, Mr. Publisher. It seems that the choir attracts more that can't sing than it does that can. Not only do they come, they come regular as breathing. Even if you change the day of choir practice without telling 'em, they'll be there. Course one thing I'll have to say, they're more dedicated with what they don't have than the ones are who do have. (If that's any comfort.)

After the "special" last Sunday Mitch Thriller told one fella off. He said, "I played on the black keys and I played on the white keys, but you sung in the cracks." Well sir, this choir-bird swore he wasn't gonna take that kind of jazz, so he drew up impeachment papers against the organist. In return Mitch Thriller has filed a countersuit against the organist. In return Mitch Thriller has filed a countersuit against the church singer. The congregation has chose up sides and it looks like a pretty even team.

Ain't it a shame Mr. Publisher that music should cause so much disharmony? Maybe if we re-wrote our hymns rock and roll style, it would solve the problem. After all you don't have to carry a tune too, it would cut out another meeting night cause you wouldn't need choir practice. This plan may sound a little sacrilegious, but if the song-birds already have disharmony in their hearts, what's wrong with expressing it thru their mouths? I imagine it already sounds that way to the Lord.

Regardless of how the hole mess works out, we're still gonna keep the choir. I figure it will serve some useful purpose — like the tonsils — where the troubles of the whole church body might collect. As the Good Book points out, sin like sickness must come to a head someplace.

I must close and pray!
Parson Jones

Anthony Nigo Chapter DAR Presents Awards; Hears Indian Life Discussed At Joint Awards Dinner

Anthony Nigo and Agnes Pruy Chapman chapters, Daughters of the American Revolution held the Annual Good Citizens Award banquet at the Westminster Hotel recently.

The smorgasbord was attended by eight Good Citizen girls and their mothers, guests and members. Agnes Pruy Chapman chapter, host for the dinner, had decorated the tables with paper models of graduates and marked each place setting with a miniature graduation cap to honor the Good Citizen girls, all of whom are high school seniors. Beautiful bright red potted geraniums added a touch of color to the dining room.

Mrs. Rexford Bradt, chaplain, Agnes Pruy Chapman chapter, gave the invocation.

Following the dinner, Mrs. William Nice, Regent of the opening ritual and welcomed members and guests. The message from the President General, NSDAR, Mrs. William Henry Sullivan, Jr. was given.

An invitation to the Northern District DAR luncheon meeting to be held May 11 at the Steer Inn, with Anthony Nigo Chapter as host, was read. Correspondence was also read from Mrs. Glenn E. Wheeler, Vincennes, State Vice Regent, announcing her candidacy for State Regent. Mrs. William Nice, Warsaw, is a candidate for State Treasurer on Mrs. Wheeler's slate of officers.

Mrs. Paul Shireman, Good Citizens Chairman, Anthony Nigo Chapter, introduced the Good Citizen girls sponsored by the Mentone chapter. Evelyn England, Claypool, and Georgia Vires, Mentone, were awarded Good Citizen certificates by Mrs. Shireman. Pamela Parker, Silver Lake, was unable to be present to accept her award. Good Citizen pins had been presented previously to the girls in school programs.

Mrs. C. R. Collins, Agnes Pruy Chapman chapter DAR Good Citizens Chairman, introduced the six senior girls sponsored by the Warsaw chapter. Good Citizen certificates were awarded to Marcy Ward, Warsaw, Cheryl Rager, Pierceton, Sue Cutter, Syracuse, Cynthia Haines, North Webster, Vicki Ogwalt, Leesburg, and Joan Schlotterback, Milford. Mrs. Charles Bartol, Warsaw, then presented each girl with a copy of the Diamond Jubilee DAR Book, published in commemoration of the 75th anniversary of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Guest speaker, Mrs. John Kizer, Etna Green, was introduced by Mrs. Ferd Koenig of the Anthony Nigo Chapter program committee. Mrs. Kizer gave a very interesting talk, "Life on an Indian Reservation," from first-hand experiences, having been born on the Navajo Reservation. She is one-half Indian, descending from the Sioux and Chippewa tribes, and has lived on reservations in New Mexico and Arizona.

The lives of most of the Indians in the U.S. are overseen by the Bureau of Indian Affairs, an agency under the Secretary of the Interior.

Through this agency, the federal government acts as a trustee and is responsible for the protection and management of all Indian property and land. Heirs of tribal land, therefore, can not lease or sell without permission of the Bureau of Indian Affairs.

Indians today are a people of many problems, of which poverty is foremost. Annual incomes are extremely low—of 16,000 families now living on the Navajo reservation, 12,000 are listed as earning less than $1000 per year. They have little hope of raising their standard of living on the arid, desolate soil. Poor health conditions prevail—a high infant mortality rate, diseases, especially tuberculosis, and also alcoholism.

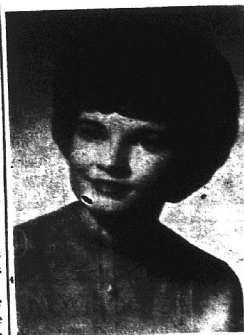

Homes on the reservations are primitive and crude—the cliff dwellings and one-room hogans have no sanitary facilities and provide inadequate space for the large families that inhabit them.

Illiteracy, another problem, is prevalent among the Indian despite the existence of Bureau and public schools. Many Indian parents fail to recognize the need for learning and do not wish a better way of life for their children. Other parents want to keep their culture pure.

The number of Indian students that pursue education further than the reservation schools is comparatively few. One university study of students that did seek higher education indicated that of 100 Indians enrolled—70% dropped out with low grades, 20% were currently enrolled, and only 10% obtained degrees. A lack of the knowledge of English is the most serious cause of Indian retardation in school.

Mrs. Kizer, after completing courses at the reservation school, left the reservation to obtain further education, since reservations have no colleges or universities. With scholarship aid, she enrolled in the study of medicine at the University of Arizona. Now married and also a mother, she is continuing her education at the South Bend Medical Clinic and plans to earn a degree in medical technology.

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Bryant, R. R. 2, Rochester, announce the engagement of their daughter, Janice Colleen, to Eugene Arthur Koch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Koch, R. R. 5, Rochester, Miss Bryant, a 1965 graduate of Akron High School, is employed in the office at Chamberlin Products, Akron. Her fiancé, a 1963 graduate of Talma High School, is engaged in farming and also employed with the Elcar Coach Co. at Bourbon. No date has been set for the wedding.

Rabies Reported On Increase

The Department of Natural Resources has issued a warning to Hoosiers, cautioning them to leave wildlife where it belongs—in the wild. In making this warning the department cited the fact that there have been more than 48 rabies cases thus far in 1966 with 29 of the cases involving skunks.

Skunks tame early and are easily caught during this time if the year. They don't have to bite, a scratch is often enough to infect a victim with rabies for which there is no cure.

A person who is bitten or scratched by an animal should confine the animal, consult a physician immediately and contact local law enforcement officials. Preventive action can be taken if the condition is diagnosed and proper medication administered immediately.

The department also warned that special precautions should be taken when one encounters an animal in the wild that shows indications of unnatural actions, such as any wild animal that allows you to come unusually close.

Trout Fishing Begins

Trout season on Indiana streams opened Sunday and will run until August 31.

The Fish and Game Division of the Department of Natural Resources announced that it had stocked approximately 64,000 rainbow and brown trout in the state's streams and lakes in preparation for the season. All trout fisherman 16 years of age older must purchase a special trout stamp which sells for $2 and may be bought wherever licenses are sold.

Included in the northern Indiana lakes which received trout was Yellow Creek Lake in Kosciusko county.

Student Council Election Planned

Every year about this time, campaigning begins at M.H.S. This week, students at Mentone are carrying on a week-long campaign, complete with posters and speeches, which will culminate with balloting on Friday. Balloting will begin immediately following the campaign assembly and continue until 12:30. Candidates are: President - Rex Bowser and Dan Romine; Vice President - Kathy Boggs, and Beth Crighton; Secretary - Diana Barber and Kay Williams; Treasurer - Sue Castellano and Barbara Decker. All Mentone High School students except seniors are eligible to vote.

Under the leadership of the outgoing officers, the 1965-66 student council has accomplished many things. A few noteworthy accomplishments, which present a challenge for next year, follow. The student council sponsored many dances, a variety program, the basketball king and queen contest, attended the state Student Council convention, preparations for a foreign exchange student (hopefully next year), and have topped off the year with the crowning achievement of adopting an overseas orphan for the coming year. The activities of this year's council will be concluded with the presentation of the Gold "M" Award on May 11.

Much credit is due Mike Orcutt, president; Dennis Feldman, vice-president; Barbara Decker, secretary; and Kathy Boggs, treasurer, for the success for this year's council.

Club Honors 32nd Anniversary

Twenty members and two guests of the Mentone Home Demonstration Club drove to Logansport Wednesday and visited the mental hospital. He also explained the food preparation facilities and described how the food was taken to the rooms. The members learned that the hospital raises much of its vegetables and has its own milk and pork.

Youth Choir

Coming Thursday

Thursday evening at 8:00 P.M. the Youth Choir from Ft. Wayne will present a sacred concert at the Baptist Church. The public is invited to attend.

The choir is composed of high school age and older young people from six GARBC churches in the Fort Wayne area.

The directors, Mr. and Mrs. George Culp, are the music directors of the WGL Radio program "Tower of Strength". Their singing, piano and organ accompanying has been heard over a number of radio and T V programs. Though parents of five children and active as directors of the Junior and Senior High Choirs in their own church they felt burdened to supply talented youth with creative activity by forming this choir.

The accompanist, Mr. Robert Williams, is well known as he is active in evangelistic teams, radio, and T V. He is an organist in a Fort Wayne church and plays for two local gospel broadcasts and improvises hymns and gospel songs.

The choir is preparing for a third summer of traveling. During the 1965 tour they sang in many of the eastern states and gave an hour's concert in the Capitol Rotunda at Washington, D. C.

The parents of three of the group were former local residents the Crevistons and Nottinghams.

Attend Banquet

Rev. and Mrs. Howard Addleman spent Tuesday in Kouts where they attended a banquet which was given by members of the board of the GARBC Baptist Childrens Home and their wives. Rev. Addleman is a member of the group. The occasion was to honor the staff of the home.

This Sunday, May 15, is the day set aside for each of the GARBC Baptist Churches to particularly remember the children's home with their financial gifts. The home recently added more rooms for girls but is still able to accept only one out of every eleven applicants.

Pony Pull To Be Held

Odds And Ends

A two-year old is an absolute paragon of virtue, and even if we wonder how we can ever survive to become parents of a three-year old, that supposedly being the worst age of all for a child, we have to consider the fine qualities of a two-year old.

For instance, a two-year old is determined. Nothing, not even an occasional spanking, can shake his determination to do something. If he wants juice and you think he's had all he needs for one day and convince him to try some "cow juice", you can bet your life he'll try for juice again in five minutes after he's sipped a little milk.

A two-year old is happy. He laughs heartily while smearing glue on the living room table. Shaking a bed to pieces provokes great hilarity. And who is more happy than a little guy dancing his heart out to the strains of the Tiajuana Brass?

A two-year old is thrifty. He can hear the sound of change rattling at fifty feet and he there was his hand outstretched, ready for a penny. And if you give him a penny, you'd better run fast to get his china pig before he smashes it on the floor in his excitement. He broke three "Germany" banks in three days in his enthusiasm.

A two year old is a gourmet. He like ants and bugs topped with Worcestershire sauce almost as well as he likes huge chunks of cheese, cake, candy and bacon. In fact, a two-year old is a pretty good eater until he sees his big brother ready to leave the table and then he's always full. He rubs his stomach, rolls his eyes, and says "scuse" and is off. And if you try to stop him, his determination shows up again and he doesn't eat anything else anyway except to try to get the last swallow of his mother's tea.

A two-year old is loyal. He doesn't like to show partiality.

Marjorie Cooper

Snuggle up to him and say, sense of drama. And it seems "Are you Mama's little boys?", he can't go to bed wet either and he'll grin wickedly and say, He has been scrubbed, left on "Daddy! Todd! Paw!" (Both the "potty", double diapered and rushed to bed without so much as a sip of water. He But if Daddy hears that and says, "Are you Daddy's little boy?", he'll get a wicked grin and, "No. Maw! Paw! Todd!" (And I never thought I'd see the day when being called "Maw" didn't make me angry, but from him it doesn't sound too bad).

A two-year old has a sense of drama. It has been some weeks now since he got his last hair cut but it stuck in his memory so well that if he hears the word "cut" or "haircut" he immediately goes into a routine which consists of getting very serious, his eyes very large while he yells, "Cut! Cut!" Then he backs up and yells, "Coat!" while pantomining putting it on. He then puts on his "hat" in the same way and then yells, "car" with a slight pause to indicate he got in the car. Then he yells, "Maw," to show who took him. By this time his drama is at its fever pitch and he gives himself a Dutch rub with both hands while yelling, "Cut! Cut!" All the time his eyes are big as saucers and he is dead serious about the whole thing. He only changes his expression if someone asks him if he cried. Then he not only changes expression but he changes the subject as well.

A two year old can be repentant. Spank him and set him on a chair and you will soon see a downcast look that harbors no evil for anyone and if you look close you will see small UFO's circling his little head in the familiar shape of a halo. If you really meant business when you put him there you'd be better off not to look at him again for a few minutes because if he starts puckering his lips and making smacking kissing noises where you can see him, you're lost and his case of freedom has been won again.

A two-year old is fastidious. He wouldn't dream of eating dinner with a wet diaper. And he wouldn't let you eat either if he remembered he was wet. He can't remember to tell you before he is wet that a trip to the bathroom might be in order but afterwards he is prompt in telling you and it never happens at any other time except the precise moment you have finally located all the rest of the family and finally gotten them to sit down. Any other time would take away from his two year old paragon of virtue, he does reach that terrible age he's yours to have and to hold and to love. And you only pray that you both can survive until of three.

Parson Jones Speaks

Dear Mr. Publisher

We got a controversy going in our town that is shaking it off its foundation. Bishop Pub Licity announced the other day that Santa Claus is dead. Its a toss up whether they're gonna boll him in castor oil or send him to Russia. My wife said she believed in free speech, but when a fella started tearing down theology it was time to put a muzzle on him. My deacons even called a special meeting to see what oughta be done before this Bishop destroys everybodys faith.

Bill Longsnot swore that this minister had fallen from grace, and that the wages of heresy is public exposure. He allowed as how anybody in his right mind could tell there was a Santa Claus. After all, when you look at the Christmas tree, you realize there's gotta be somebody behind it. Ima Byrd's brother noded his head an added his two cents worth. He allowed as how there had to be a Santa Claus to reward us for being good. If there wasn't, then why be good? Another deacon brought up the argument of public opinion. If millions of people have believed in Santa Claus, then there must be something to it. All them people couldn't be wrong.

Bill Longsnot swore there was a Santa Claus, cause he had seen him in his dreams more than once. Everybody was in agreement. After listening to each others arguments the deacons were convinced more than ever that Mr. Claus wasn't dead. They finally decided to burn all the newspapers before their kids got ahold of 'em. This would protect the little ones from false ideas and guarantee their growing up right. They also asked me to preach on it next Sunday so's folks could renew their faith in Santa Claus.

I told 'em I couldn't go along with the preaching idea, cause I figured if their was anybody like Santa Claus he could defend himself. Sometimes I get the strange feeling that Santa Claus and God is the same person according to some folks. They try to prove the Almighty by trees, and public opinion. And, most people believe the Lord is like Santa - He goes around with a big bag of goodies, handing em out to all that has been good. Not only that, lotsa folks think they have to defend God, so He won't go away.

The worst thing of all, Mr. Publisher, I got a sneaking suspicion that a site a people deep down in their hearts suspect maybe God is make believe - just like Santa Claus. That's the reason they fight so hard for ole St. Nick; cause if he goes their whole theology will crumble. Unless Santa brings his wrath on this town, I'll see you next week.

Mrs. Smiley Re-elected Regent Of Anthony Nigo Chapter DAR

Anthony Nigo Chapter DAR met for a business meeting, May 3, in the social room of the Town Hall. Regent, Mrs. Wayne Smalley opened the called meeting with the ritual. Following the reading of the minutes of the March and April meetings by Mrs. Dale Cook, twelve members answered roll call.

Mrs. Paul Shireman read the President General's message in which Mrs. William H. Sullivan, Jr. stated, "There is a spirit of restlessness and discontent abroad today in our beloved Country which has given so much to so many. Restlessness caused by the uncertainty of our times and discontent created and nurtured by communists and subversive groups to cause people to become oblivious to the benefactions God bestowed upon this fortunate land with such a lavish hand. We, as leaders in our community and Nation, must renew our efforts to promote the true meaning of the Constitution and the Republican Form of Government it sets forth. We should ever remember that, if the Freedoms and Liberties granted to us as American citizens are to be preserved intact, each ensuing generation must be instructed as to their source."

Mrs. Smalley read correspondence from Mrs. Edna Carey, Rochester, and Mrs. Frederick T. Morse, Curator General. Mrs. Morse' letter announced that Carolyn Scott Harris orchid stationary is available to members once again. Correspondence was read from Mrs. Ora Carmean and Mrs. Tom Harmon, Girl Scout leaders, expressing appreciation to the chapter for sponsoring a Girl Scout troop. A letter was also read from a Girl scout, Kathy Bush, who was earning her scout badge for letter writing.

Mrs. Helen Brown reported the bronze plaque, to be mounted at the base of the flag pole in front of the Town Hall, has been ordered and will be installed in the near future.

Plans for the Flag Day program were discussed and the election of officers was held. Chapter officers for the coming year are: Regent, Mrs. Wayne Smalley; Vice-Regent, Mrs. Walter Lackey, Chaplain, Mrs. Max Smith; Secretary, Mrs. Dale Cook; Treasurer, Mrs. Thomas Fugate; Registrar, Mrs. Ernest Igo; Historian, Mrs. C. G. Carter; and Librarian, Mrs. William E. Cox.

Delicious refreshments were served to the members by Mrs. Wayne Smalley, Mrs. Max Smith, and Mrs. Frank Smith to the close of the meeting.

The next meeting, the Flag Day Family Picnic, will be at Mentzer Memorial Park Sunday, June 12, at 1:00 P.M. Members of the chapter will present a program, "Betsy Ross" Sewing Party."

"Crisis In The Countryside" Is Theme Of Soil Stewardship Week

"Crisis in the Countryside" is the theme of Soil Stewardship Week commemorated this year during May 15-22. Each year, the National Association of Soil and Water Conservation Districts sets aside a week to call attention to soil and water conservation activities, reports Myron Metzger of Jackson Township, Chairman of the District Board of Supervisors.

Supervisors of the Kosciusko County Soil and Water Conservation District are promoting the week by providing ministers throughout the County with inspirational booklets regarding man's responsibility as good stewards of our countryside in the hopes that the ministers will inspire their congregations to consider the "Crisis in the Countryside."

Metzger points out that there is just so much land available for our use or mis-use. We are all - rural and urban folks alike - responsible for the way in which our land is used. Never before in the history of our Country has there been a greater need for careful planning and development of our greatest God-Given resource - our land. Soil and Water Conservation Districts, 3000 strong throughout this country, are taking the leadership and asking everyone to consider the "Crisis in the Countryside."

VACATION READING

The library was in the building now occupied by Miller's Hardware Store. Through the years the plan has proved very beneficial. Teachers agree that students who participate have no backlog problems in the fall upon re-entering school and they find that most of the superior students have been members of the club. Children enjoy reading and they develop a feeling of accomplishment which helps build self-confidence.

Accepts Bids

Bids for three new 60 passenger school busses were accepted Monday night during the regular business meeting of the board of the Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation.

The chassis contract went to Bahney Chevrolet Sales who bid $3270.00 each for the three busses. Kerlin Motors of Silver Lake received the body contract at $3,477 each.

Contracts for teachers, bus drivers, the school nurse, and a part time clerk were discussed and the board gave Robert Forbes, superintendent, authority to complete the contracts.

The school board recently purchased a house located on the northwest corner of the school grounds of the Mentone school for $2500. Discussion was held concerning the house and the board determined that if anyone wanted the house for removing it they could have it. If no one expresses a desire for the house it will be destroyed. The house and its lot were purchased for the ground and the house will be of no use to the corporation.

A request from the Mentone Square Dance Club was heard. The club would like permission to use the Beaver Dam gym on the first and third Monday of each month for recreational purposes. No action was taken.

New board members, Mickey Eaton and Dr. O. L. McFadden, were introduced and welcomed to the meeting. They will take office in July.

The June meeting of the board will be June 27 instead of June 20 due to the absence of Mr. Forbes who will be attending a graduate seminar at Indiana University during that time.

Take your problems to Church this week -

How Does Your Church Fit Into This Picture?

Nursing and medicine, among the noblest of all callings. To belong to either of these professions and then to strive to live up to the high ideals of each is to dedicate one's life to the service of humanity.

A great auxiliary to these professions and, in many instances, a trail blazer, has been the Church. Because of its principle "that the individual is of primary importance", it has trained and sent nurses and physicians where there were none before. It has led the way in establishing hospitals and in training nurses to staff them.

The Church is a health insurance policy, so to speak, and if for no other reason it deserves your support and attendance, for in attending the Church of your faith and supporting its activities you are helping to heal humanity's ills.

Urschels Attend Heart Meetings

Dr. Dan Urschel was in Indianapolis on Sunday, attending a meeting of the Research Committee of the Indiana Heart Association. The Research Committee allocates funds for projects in the state, utilizing the money collected in the February Heart Drive. All types of research are supported, from the most basic psychologic and chemical studies to advanced clinical experimentation, such as the artificial valves and other similar items.

On Monday, Dr. and Mrs. Urschel flew to Grand Rapids, where the Doctor attended a meeting of the Cardiac Study Conference at Blodgett Memorial Hospital. This group of surgeons, cardiologists, pediatricians, radiologists and other specialists review all planned cardiac surgery cases in the hospital and also evaluate follow-up studies on these same patients.

While in Grand Rapids, Mrs. Urschel spent the day with her daughter, Mrs. Roger Becklund and family.

Miss Marty Futrell, District Adviser, was on hand to give instructions in fire building, outdoor cooking and lashing. Greg Carmean, Greg Gible, Lori McGowen and Mike Morgan enjoyed the delicious meal of Hunters' Stew and Cherry Cobbler prepared by their mothers over a pit fire. Mrs. Walter Kelly and Mrs. Bill Ettinger were present for part of the training.

Five Acre Project

The Indiana Corn Growers Association Five Acre Project has been revised and all yields now will be determined on a shelled corn basis according to Dan Frantz, County Extension Agent. Yields will be taken from one acre of a field at least ten acres of size.

The corn program has been conducted continuously since 1914 and has been a demonstration method for improving corn yields. Corn producers may enroll by taking membership in the state association with adult memberships at $5.00 and junior memberships at $3.00.

The deadline for enrolling in the program is July 15 and entries may be made at the County Extension Office.

Holds Final Meeting May 11

President, Jerry Kralis opened the meeting, and then introduced Denton Abbey who brought the devotions. Following this, Darla Nelson, a senior in Mentone High School presented two lovely vocal numbers, accompanied on the piano by Donna Ring. Miss Nelson won a superior rating at the Regional Contest and, then advancing to the State competition, was awarded an excellent.

The Program was on Special Services, and to open this Dean Rager, Principal of the Akron Grade School spoke on Remedial Reading in Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation and also the planned Summer Program. He gave some very informative facts concerning the need for this Remedial Reading, how the classes were formed, how the students were selected, how the Government helps in the support and the future plans. Following his talk, a short question and answer period was held.

Mrs. Don Beard, the former Rowena Lackey, who now resides in South Whitley, spoke on Special Education. Mrs. Beard teaches an M-1 class in the Chester School in North Manchester. She described the very large and very real problem of how many retarded children there now are and the need for training them. Each child must have individual teaching, beginning on their present level and working upward to higher goals and achievements. The ideal program consists of both an M-1 and an M-2 class, which allows the student to graduate into another group when they reach a certain age. Mrs. Beard very adeptly took the audience into her classroom and through a regular school day.

A short business meeting was held with all items being brought before the PTA members closing another PTA year. A word of appreciation was given to all committees by President, Jerry Kralis.

A musical group known as 3 Lollies and A Pop entertained with several selections. Pam Abbey, Janice Hoffer, Kathy Boggs and Denton Abbey comprise this versatile group. They play several instruments as well as feature a ladies trio. Mr. Abbey has acted as manager of the combo for some time, has arranged much of the music, set up the amplifiers, etc., and at this appearance even filled in by playing. Their presentation was greatly enjoyed by all.

Newly elected officers were installed at the close of the meeting. Mrs. Kenneth Shoemaker served as the Installing Officer for the following.

Co-Presidents Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Ettinger, 1st Vice Mrs. Gordon Hackworth, Co-2nd Vice Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Clark, Secretary Mrs. John Huff, Treasurer Mrs. Roger Ring.

Refreshments were served in the cafeteria following the installation.

Talma Jr. High Keeps Busy Noon Sports Schedule

Many activities take place at the Talma School, but one that brings much interest from the student body is the noon time tourneys. Every student at the Talma school started out in at least two tourneys, and could have been in as many as four. Because of the two different eating times much of the play is done during physical education classes. The girls are taught by Miss Penny Breeding and the boys are taught by Mr. Phillip Pratt.

The tourneys included four square, tether ball, free throw shooting, and table tennis. The tourneys are divided so sixth grade girls play sixth grade girls and sixth grade boys play only sixth grade boys, etc. This, of course, makes a total of 24 tourneys.

All the tourneys are run down to the finals, then we have a faculty in action. playoff day where everyone in school sees the final of every tourney. The excitement is high and fun is had by all.

We, at Talma, feel that this type of activity helps in physical growth and social growth, two very important things in any educational program.

Of course, when it was all over we had twenty-four very proud winners, and each one received a small trophy for their interest and achievement. The winners of the sixth grade events were: Sherry Zent, Debby Klinger, and Cathy Boyer won two events; Gary Welborn, Tim Harmon, Tim Smith, Brian Stouder. The seventh graders were: Marjorie Hanes, Kathy Blalock, Jill Rogers, Serita Secrist, Terry Crissinger, Chris Doran, Garry Wise, Brett Miner. The eighth graders are: Susie Shirey, Kristine Hoffer, Carmen

Anglin, Jane Ettinger, Tom Scott, Rick Stavedahl, Jim Wise, Bob Romine.

We hope that when noon-time tourneys come around again the interest will still be high and that many of the parents will take time to see the final day of the tourneys.

Bouquet awards of artificial floral arrangements were given to the mother with the youngest daughter present — Mrs. Rex Yazel; to the mother or daughter present who traveled the furthest to get there; and to the mother with the most living daughters, grand-daughters and great-grand-daughters — Mrs. William Unzicker.

A skit was presented by Mrs. Brad Moore, Mrs. Lee Kantenn, Miss Janet Besson, Mrs. Darrell King, Mrs. Harold Shoemaker, Dennis Acton and Debbie Hackworth.

Choir practice will begin at 7:00 P.M. before the regular prayer-meeting service at 8:00 P.M.

NEXT WEEK - Thursday evening, May 26, after prayer-meeting conducted by Rev. Fred Burkin, who will show pictures, a Desert-Time will be held in the basement. The occasion will be in honor of Rev. and Mrs. Fred Burkin and children who will be leaving for their mission field in Germany in June. The Burkin family has spent the past year in Mentone while on furlough from his duties as a Missionary-Teacher in a Bible school in Germany.

COMING-May 29, the Primary Training Union will sing a medley of songs in the evening service.

Last Thursday evening 14 young people from the Fort Wayne area Youth Choral group brought an enjoyable program. The talented group sang by memory a number of familiar songs and choruses in most pleasing arrangements. Mr. George Culp was the director with his wife at the piano.

The group is planning to disband after a final concert in the Ennannual Baptist Church in Fort Wayne June 11.

They plan to make a tour Memorial Day week-end for a return engagement to several churches in Pennsylvania.

Orientation Day Is Held At Talma Junior High

Thursday, May 12 was orientation day at Talma Junior High School. This was for those present fifth grade students from Atwood, Mentone, and Burket who will attend Talma School during the 1966-67 school year. The sixth grade from Atwood also was among the group.

The objectives of the session were four-fold: (1) to tour the building and grounds; (2) to meet the new students; (3) to give some explanations as to curriculum; and (4) to give each new student an opportunity to see the Talma students and staff. Each new student was paired off with a present sixth or seventh grade student from Talma. This enabled the new students to have personal consideration and instruction.

Greetings were given by Principal, Mr. Marion Acton, and student council president, Carolyn Boggs. The Talma Junior High band and the physical education department took part in the program. The barn located on the Joseph Baker farm west of Mentone was completely destroyed by fire Monday night after being struck by lightning. Lost with the barn were some farm equipment and feed and grain. A dog tied near the barn was badly burned about the face but escaped.

The barn had been part of the original buildings on the farm which was part of an original land grant to Mrs. Baker's family, the Kings, and was thought to be about 100 years old.

Parson Jones Speaks

Dear Mr. Publisher

I got a letter from Hell the other day. Its a good thing my mailbox is metal, cause the envelope was still smokin. Why in the world the Devil addressed it to me I'll never know, unless he has my number. I thought you might be interested in hearing the content of this letter so I'll give it to you. In case you're interested in replying the address is: His Unexalted Highness, I. B. Saten, 111 Brimstone Street, Hotas Hell - Zip code L-000.

"Dear Friend:

I am deeply grateful to your members for the fine cooperation they have shown me during the past several years. During these days of cooperation, it is gratifying to see that the old competition of days gone by between your Kingdom and ours is rapidly passing away. In our recent annual report it was heart warming (a term often used in our region) to note a dying out of prejudice against us and our work. I will cite a few examples: In the area of public worship we find that more and more church members are willing to overcome their narrow-mindedness and visit our temples throughout the country. Only last year the attendance at our places of worship at beaches, mountain resorts, and golf courses showed a marked increase. A big gain was shown in our bed-room sanctuaries, where millions stretched out upon our white-sheeted altars across your land.

A special brimstone report pointed out that our paper back books are now far more popular than the once best-seller written by your Leader. We note with pride that they are read in your homes with religious devotion. I see no reason why our many friends cannot continue to support both the Bible and our publications. After all your Leader's book is still a wonderful place to keep family records, and store magazine articles.

Another gain for us was in the area of financial contributions. Our financial secretary notifies me that our pledges now average 98% of ones income, while your Leaders average has steadily dropped from 10% to 2%. This is no cause for alarm because we will continue to work together.

In closing, let me hope (we don't pray down here) that we will continue our peaceful co-existence and work toward the day when we can merge into one body.

Sincerely, Saten.

P.S. Things look good. Our seminaries are full."

So much for the letter, Mr. Publisher. All I can say is "Help!"

Odds And Ends

There are a lot of things to be said for motherhood. It is appealing and fun. It is a lot of work and a lot of responsibility. It is a constant battle of wits and it is a never ending source of new experiences for mother. New adventure and stimulation await her at every turn.

Some experience could be better done without, i.e. the little fellow who peels off a wet diaper and scampers around the house half naked laughing his little head off as his tired old mother lathers him. Or we could do without the nerve-shattering experience of having the crib collapse in the wee early hours of the morning.

Hollow legged children are a problem and we have two of them. They would eat all the time if we let them, especially between meals, and they love browsing after their own snacks. I didn't realize how deep they browsed for snacks until I recently sauntered into the kitchen in the dark, barefooted, after a cup of tea. What was that thing I stepped on, that cold, clammy thing? Almost afraid to look, I turned on the light and discovered the partially thawed remains of a frozen French fry. Somehow, there is nothing that quite equals the thrill of the unknown and there is little that can equal the awful feeling of a squishy French fry on a bare foot.

Besides the other ways in which motherhood ages you, there is always a wise-guy little kid in the family to make you feel old as the hills. I tease the boys a lot with violent threats which they know won't get carried out. A few weeks ago I glared at Todd and said, "You'd better quit that or I'll run you through a wringer."

He stopped what he was doing all right but he looked up and said, "Gee, what's a wringer?"

"Okay, wise guy," I answered. "Show more respect for your elders or it's through the kraut cutter with you."

"What's a kraut cutter?" he asked in earnest, "is it some kind of antique?"

I didn't trust myself to answer him and give up the idea of threatening to trim his wick.

Children are fascinating storytellers but they often leave out the details. Once when Todd was in Kindergarten I forgot to send something for "show and tell" and I apologized when he came home.

"Oh that's okay," he said. "Since I didn't have anything to show, I told." He never did tell us what he told.

Other mothers tell me this is the best time of all, before they drive and begin dating. I would relax a little but Todd learned to operate the power mower this week-end and later he asked me how long it'd be until he could date so it would seem that time is marching on and that mother'd better keep up with it. Surely there must be less dangerous ways of seeking adventure.

Architect Is Hired For New Additions At Mentone, Akron

At a special meeting of the board of the Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation last Thursday night, it was voted to contract the firm of Mauer, Van-Ryan, Ogden and Natali firm designed the Caston, Argos, and Milford schools. The firm estimated they could have schematic drawings to present to the board in six weeks.

Three firms sent representatives who showed samples of work they had previously done on other schools. The Mauer, Van-Ryan, Ogden, and Natali firm designed the Caston, Argos, and Milford schools. The firm estimated they could have schematic drawings to present to the board in six weeks.

The additions were voted earlier by the board in a split decision with Gale Creighton and Ed Bucher opposing the additions. Creighton strongly favors a new consolidated high school and feels that if this is done the cramped conditions of the two grade schools will be alleviated. He wants to close Talma and Beaver Dam Jr. High Schools and move the 5th, 6th, 7th and 8th grade students into the two existing high schools.

Eldon Cumberland and Ralph Davis have supported the new additions and state they feel first things must be done first. They feel the time to consider a new school or schools is when the children who are presently creating the crowded grade school conditions become high school age. This idea is supported by Whit Gast, outgoing member-at-large.

The possibility of a referendum to determine whether corporation residents favor building a centralized high school or whether they prefer to maintain and build two new high schools was also discussed but no action was taken.

Superintendent Robert Forbes reported that he had completed necessary preliminary work for the new additions by having cleared the additions through the State Board of Health based on letters from both the Mentone and Akron town boards giving the school permission to use sewage facilities when they become available. The buildings have been inspected by the State Schoolhouse Planning division and applications have been presented and have cleared the departments.

ONLY A TRAMP!

by
Henry C. Whetstone
I am a broken down man,
Without credit or cash.
My clothes are all tattered and torn,
Not a friend have I got in this whole wide world.
I wish I had never been born.
In vain I have asked for employment,
Sleeping out on the ground, cold and damp.
But where I ask for employment,
They say, "There is no work for a tramp."
Just the other day, down on the C & E road,
I stood a man both tired and foot sore,
Saw an empty box car standing still,
On the track crept in and closed up the door.
Three miles he had ridden in the empty box car,
When the brakeman came around with his lamp.
He was thrown from the box car and killed by the mail
Because he was "only a tramp."

"Last day of school! Be sure and bring home plenty of aspirin tonight!"

LICENSE APPLICATION IS DENIED

Two Indiana collection agencies were denied license applications by John D. Bottorff, secretary of state. Nelson C. Preston of Syracuse was one of the men. Bottorff said that Preston often signed his collection correspondence with the titles "Investigator 209" or Inc., on its new stationary, although that association was involuntarily dissolved in an Illinois court in 1958.

Anthony Nigo Chapter Hosts District Meeting

The Anthony Nigo Chapter, DAR was hostess to the Northern District Meeting on May 11 at the Steer Inn. Registration began at 9:30 with the business meeting starting at 10:15.

The Hostess Regent, Mrs. Wayne Smalley, gave the welcome and thanked her committees for the day. The invocation was given by Mrs. Everett Rathfon, followed by the pledge to the flag and the singing of the National Anthem.

Mrs. Lawrence L. Guenin of Lafontaine, Northern District Director was introduced and presided over the meeting.

She introduced the State Chairman who gave their reports of this past year.

Mrs. Irving Geib, Lafayette, chairman D.A.R., urged for greater membership and for an interest in senior leaders. The Indiana Society received many awards at the recent convention in Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Glenn Wheller, Vincennes, National District Chairman, American Heritage reported on the material available for the use in the chapters. Also they have added a new committee on American Music.

Mrs. Lester Carvey, Macy, chairman Credentials explained the procedure the delegates should use at the State Conference. The proper handling would speed registration considerably.

Mrs. Willard Avery, Knightstown, Central District Director reported for the Magazine Advertising chairman and told about the center page spread that will be in the DAR Magazine. This will be in color and is a first for Indiana. It will be in the January issue and will be a map of Indiana about the Conservation points of interest in our state.

Mrs. Floyd Grigsby, Bloomington, State Registrar reported on the scholarship which the DAR is giving. It is the largest in history. A total of 531 students have been helped through this fund. This committee was created to assist deserving students in completing their education.

The Honor Roll chairman, Mrs. Diehl Martin, South Bend reported that there were 65 chapters on the roll from Indiana. The Northern District had 25, Central had 21 and Southern also 20. Of this there were 7 gold awards in the Northern, 9 in the Central and 11 in the Southern. The points which cause chapters to fall are the membership increases and also Jr. Membership.

The State Chaplain, Mrs. Garrett Qualkinbush, Salem gave the report of Press Relations. She urged more and more news about the DAR so the public will be informed of what the Daughters Do.

The program books of the chapters are judged by the state and these were awarded as follows: Second place winners; LaGrange de Lafayette chapter Manitou Chapter, Rochester; Tippecanoe River Chapter, Bourbon; and first going to Agnes Pruyn Chapman Chapter, Warsaw and Anthony Nigo Chapter, Mentone.

Everyone was reminded of constitution week to be celebrated the week of September 17 and urged to put up displays and have articles written in honor of this week. Also we were reminded to use our voting privileges in November.

Mrs. Albert Crayden, Ramsey, State Librarian told us of the microfilming fund which is being done in Washington. This will be available for use.

The Vice Regent, Mrs.

Wheeler, gave her report on the Resolutions which were adopted at Continental Congress in Washington. There are 14 this year which the chapter is required to use sometime during the year so as to inform the members of the policies the D.A.R. stands for.

Mrs. F. R. Burns, of North Manchester, Honorary State Regent was introduced. She spoke from the National Defense article in the May issue of the DAR magazine. It stressed the quote from Patrick Henry "Give me liberty or give me death." Now people think of just "Give Me."

The State officers were then introduced as follows: Central District Director, Mrs. Willard Avery, Knightstown; Librarian, Mrs. Albert Grayden, Ramsey; Historian, Mrs. Robert Shelby, Covington, she would like suggestions for the title of the History Theme that the DAR sponsors. In previous years most students have felt they were too difficult to write upon.

Registrar, Mrs. Floyd Grigsby, Bloomington; Treasurer, Miss Mary Craigmile, Knox; Chaplain, Mrs. Garrett Qualkinbush, Salem, reminded us of the theme for the year, "Be yea does of the word, not hears only".

The meeting was adjourned and a short recess was necessary for the tables to be arranged for dinner.

The dining room was decorated beautifully with red, white, and blue tapers surrounded by greenery. Throughout the room were silver diamonds in honor of the 75th Diamond Jubilee which we celebrate this year. Bowls containing red, white and blue flowers graced the head table. A delicious smorgasbord luncheon was enjoyed by the 70 members present.

After the District Director convened the meeting the State Vice Regent was introduced, Mrs. Glenn Wheeler, Vincennes. She told about the bus trip to be taken to the DAR schools. This will begin on October 18 and will include a tour of the Date Duncan DAR School at Grant, Alabama and the Tamasee DAR School at Tamasee, South Carolina.

Mrs. Maxwell Chapman, Rockville, State Regent was then introduced and given a standing ovation by the members. She told of her experiences at Continental Congress. As always there were numerous sessions and a wonderful turnout of delegates. The congress was presided over by the President General, Mrs. William Henry Sullivan, Jr. from Scarsdale, New York.

The regents of the district then gave their reports for the year. The regents and chapters represented were as follows: Agnes Pruyn Chapman Chapter, Warsaw, Mrs. William Nice, Regent and 4 members; Desardee Chapter, Knox, Mrs. L. W. Brittingham, Regent, and 1 member present; Doctor Manasseh Cutler Chapter, North Manchester, Mrs. Stanley Warfel, Regent and 1 member present; Frances Dingman Chapter, Kendallville, Mrs. Harold Linville, Regent and 3 members present; LaGrange de Lafayette Chapter, LaGrange, Mrs. L. R. Myers, Regent, and 1 member present; Manitou Chapter, Rochester, Mrs. Ethel Snapp, Regent and 5 members present;

Pokagon Chapter, Angola, Mrs. Robert Lowther, Regent and 3 members present; Schuyler Colfax Chapter, South Bend, Mrs. M. A. Hobbs, Regent and 3 members present. Tippecanoe River Chapter, Bourbon, Mrs. Lewis Erwin, Regent and 2 members present; William Tufts Chapter, Elkhart, Mrs. Robert Stringfellow, Regent, and 2 members present; Wythougan Chapter, Plymouth, Mrs. George Keith, Regent and 3 members present; and Anthony Nigo Chapter, Mentone, Mrs. Wayne Smalley, Regent and 15 members present.

The meeting was then adjourned with the singing of "On the Banks of the Wabash".

Everyone enjoyed a very lovely day even though the weather was disagreeable for some in their traveling to and from the meeting.

The next meeting of the Anthony Nigo Chapter will be the Flag Day Family Picnic at the Mentzer Park in Mentone at 1:00 p.m. on Sunday June 12. Everyone please come with well filled baskets. The meat and drinks will be furnished by the hostesses. In case of bad weather the picnic will be held in the Town Hall Social room and members are asked to bring cardtables if possible.

BE-ABOUTS MISSIONARY MEETING.

Monday evening the Be-About Group of the Baptist Church met at the home of Mrs. Brad Moore with 13 members present. Mrs. Marion Acton, the president called the meeting to order with the singing of a hymn led by Mrs. Howard Addleman. Mrs. Everett Welborn led devotions on the subject of "The Four Women in You." Roll Call was answered with "My Favorite Mother in the Bible." Mrs. Kenneth Romine read the treasurer's report and Mrs. Acton read a letter from missionary-appointee Mrs. Frank Hartwig. After further business, several led in prayer and the group then worked on painting and cutting for the flash card pictures for missionaries. Refreshments were served by the hostess and the meeting adjourned.

This was the last meeting for four years that Mrs. Fred Burklin would be able to attend, as, with her husband and children, she will leave Mentone Friday for a week in Kansas and then will spend two weeks with her parents in Albany before flying to Germany where Rev. Burklin will teach in a Bible School.

Jerry Polk, son of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Polk of Leesburg and the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Tinkey of Burkett, was run over by an automobile. He has been released from Goshen Hospital and is recuperating at his home. He suffered a fractured pelvis.

A Column of News By And For All Girl Scouts Of The Mentone Community

Brownie Troop 142 opened meeting Tuesday with the Flag ceremony. During the meeting the girls pantomimed the Brownie Story with Leslie Senff as Mary; Marla Leffert as Betty; Serita Coplen as the Owl; Jayne Perry was Grandmother; Sandra Good was Father; and Judy Gibble and Sharon Burkett were the trees in the forest.

Serita Coplen brought the afternoon treat and was also the Birthday Queen. Kim Bush had brought the treat last week, it was cookies that she baked herself. Six girls were given perfect attendance awards, they were: Kim Bush, Brenda Coplen, Serita Coplen, Cathy Tucker, Sandra Good and Tammy Grimm.

Puppets, with Brownie Beanies, were made by the girls during a craft period. The meeting ended with the Magic Tunnel.

Thirteen third graders ended their year as Brownies with a Fly-Up Supper at the Ettinger home Thursday afternoon. After

Thirteen Brownies, who will soon be Flying-Up into the Junior Troop, were visitors with us this week. These Brownies were taken into the patrols for a short meeting prior to the special program. This gave them an opportunity to see a part of Jr. Scouting planning and government in action.

The Scout's Own Program, under the direction of Mrs. Howard Allen, was then presented. Each patrol leader led her patrol into the horseshoe circle of chairs where all of the group was then seated. A large bulletin board was the center of attraction, having been appropriately decorated with posters and crepe paper. On either side of this stood the American flag and the Girl Scout flag. A large center poster, drawn by Vicki Horn, was surrounded by smaller posters, done by the following girls: Linda and Deanna Mason, Terry and Sheryl McGowen, Lisa Harman, Cindy Allen, Lynne Knoop and LuAnn Miller. The theme throughout the entire Scout's Own was: My Country. The program was as follows:

Opening Flag Ceremony—Kathy Bush, Cindy Allen, Deanna Mason, Karen McFadden and Betty Ettinger.

Group singing, "God Bless America", led by Marcella Allen. Promise and Laws—Linda Mason and Terry McGowen. Promise and Laws Skit—Barbara Rush, Debra Owens, Sharon Crawl and Jessica Gross. Conservation Pledge—Deanna Mason.

Our Country—fewer words by Betty Ettinger. Story of Pioneers—Sharon Crawl.

Refreshments of ice cream sundaes were served to the group by the Junior Scout leaders, Mrs. Carmean and Mrs. Harman.
