Hardini Mars His Performance

Although Hardini undoubtedly performs some amazing feats, his performance here Saturday night was marred by his uncontrolled disposition.

Mr. Hardini had been performing some of his feats Sat. night when he again invited anyone in the crowd to tie him up so that he would not be able to escape. It is also reported that he offered $10,000 to any persons performing that feat.

John Lyons and Maurice Greulach stepped upon the platform and tied Mr. Hardini. They tied him in such a way that any movement to free him would choke him. They then placed him in a box and nailed the top on by driving the nails in from diagonal directions.

Then the crowd waited. They waited some more. Mr. Hardini failed to appear from the box. Then someone near the box heard the request, "Let me out of here." The box was opened and Mr. Hardini was untied, suffering from lack of air. It is reported that he was very angry toward the ones that tied him. He did not stop there but later directed some of his remarks to some of the committee sponsoring his performance. So far Mr. Lyons and Mr. Greulach haven't seen the $10,000.

Immediately following the wedding ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Stackhouse left on a week's motor tour through the southern states. Upon their return Mr. and Mrs. Stackhouse will be at home at 1232 E. Wiley Street, Bloomington, Indiana.

REPUBLICAN COUNTY CANDIDATES

(Including Judge Lemuel W. Royse, on last page)

SETH E. ROWDABAUGH
Candidate for Prosecuting Attorney.

The Rowdabaugh family has been prominent in the northern part of Kosciusko County for more than seventy years. Seth E. Rowdabaugh was born and reared on a farm and schooled in county schools. He graduated from North Manchester Academy, attended Purdue University three years, and graduated from the State University of Iowa with the degree of Bachelor of Arts. In seeking his education Mr. Rowdabaugh was compelled to make his own way thru college and during that time he taught school for seven years, part of which time he served as Superintendent of his school. After three years in the University of Michigan Law School he received the LL.B. degree. For the past five years Mr. Rowdabaugh and his wife were engaged in business in Syracuse, to which he gave his entire time during college vacation period. Mr. and Mrs. Rowdabaugh have a family of five children, two of whom attend the Syracuse High School. Mr. Rowdabaugh is engaged in the practice of law in Warsaw with offices in the Times Building. Because of his excellent education and fine training, he is well equipped to handle the office which he seeks.

LELAND KINSEY
Candidate for Clerk.

Leland Kinsey was born on a farm in Clay Township, went to school in the country school and graduated from Claypool High School. He remained a resident of Clay Township until coming to Warsaw to serve as deputy for his father, Elmer Kinsey, who had been elected Clerk of the Circuit Court. Upon the death of his father seven days after taking office, Leland was appointed by the Board of Commissioners to serve until the election. He announced his candidacy and was that year nominated at the Primary and led the ticket in the fall election. He is married and has one son. Along with the duties of his office he has always taken an active interest in community affairs. His record as a public official is one of which he may well be proud, and upon this record we recommend him to you.

GRANT B. WILLIS
Candidate for Treasurer.

Mr. Willis was born and reared at Canton, Ohio, graduated from Canton High School and Canton Commercial College. His business experience consists of having been Secretary-Treasurer of a large lumber company in Canton, Ohio; Secretary and Sales Manager of Cleveland Brick Company, Cleveland, Ohio; General Manager of the Willis Office of Public Accounts; General Manager of San Ricardo Mining and Milling Company, Sonora, Mexico; Assistant Treasurer and Sales Manager, Autman-Taylor Machinery Co., Mansfield, Ohio, with 20 branches in the United States and Canada; President of Peoples State Bank at Leesburg, Indiana and at present President of Kosciusko County Bankers Association. Mr. Willis has been a tax payer of Kosciusko County for eleven years. He united with President McKinley M. E. Church in Canton, Ohio in 1889 and for the past four years has been engaged as a teacher of the "Loyal Men's Class" of the Leesburg M. E. Church. He is the father of three daughters and one son. Because of his varied experience in business, banking and as a Public Accountant he is well qualified to serve tax payers of Kosciusko County as Treasurer with assurance to them that the affairs of that office will be conducted in a business like way.

HARLEY D. PERSON
Candidate for Sheriff.

Harley D. Person was born on a farm in Prairie Township and has spent most of his life on that farm. He was engaged part of the time as an employee of the Pennsylvania Railroad. Prior to his having been elected Sheriff two years ago, he attained a remarkable record on the State Highway Police Force. During his term of office as Sheriff of Kosciusko County, he has likewise made a remarkable record and is referred to by Government Law Enforcing Officers, and other officers, who have been associated with him, as one of the most conscientious and efficient officers in Northern Indiana. He is courageous and fearless in the discharge of his duties and is always on the job day and night. Mr. Person's record is the best recommendation we can offer to the voters of Kosciusko County for his re-election.

ROBERT J. PFLEIDERER
Candidate for Surveyor.

If training, natural adaptability, experience and integrity are still requisites for public office, Robert J. Pfeleiderer should be made County Surveyor.

After graduation from the Warsaw High School, he spent four years in the School of Civil Engineering at Purdue University and was awarded the B. S. C. E. Degree. He has spent four years since then as an Engineer in State Highway Work. He has successfully met the rigid requirements of the Indiana State Board of Registration for Professional Engineers and Land Surveyors and holds license No. 1970.

Mr. Pfeleiderer is a native of Kosciusko County. His reputation for integrity is unquestioned. He is industrious. His candidacy is the Republican answer to the demand for publican control of government affairs.

Candidate for Coroner.

The Coroner is the representative of the State at a tragedy. Though his duties are official, it is right that officialdom should not trample the finer instincts of those affected by a tragedy. Perhaps this is the reason an undertaker is often chosen as Coroner.

Paul Landis is the present coroner. He is well known in Kosciusko County because of his splendid reputation as a funeral director and because of his long residence in the County. He was born and reared in Jackson Township and is a graduate of the Sidney High School. His professional training was received at the Worsham School of Embalming in Chicago. Mr. and Mrs. Landis have a family of four children. Mr. Landis is active in civic affairs and is a member of the Methodist Church. He is a taxpayer and a lifelong Republican.

Candidate for Commissioner Middle District.

Mr. Lehman was born on a farm in Harrison Township 57 years ago and has spent his entire lifetime in that Township as a farmer. In 1898, when the United States engaged in War with Spain, Mr. Lehman was one of three young men from Harrison Township who voluntarily offered their service to their country. He served throughout the entire war.

Mr. Lehman reared and educated two sons, one of whom is living with his parents on the farm, the other having lost his life in the service of his country. Both Mr. Lehman and his wife are members of the Methodist Church and are highly respected in the Community. Because of his education, his business experience and his knowledge of the needs of the farmer and other taxpayers, Mr. Lehman is peculiarly well fitted to look after the interests of the taxpayers of Kosciusko County as its County Commissioner.

Candidate for Commissioner Eastern District.

Does History repeat itself? When Kosciusko County Court House was erected, it was the largest venture of the County up to that time. Washington Bybee was one of the County Commissioners in charge of that project. This same Mr. Bybee is grandfather of the present Candidate for County Commissioner for the Southern District, Mr. Lyndes Latimer.

Mr. Latimer was born, reared, schooled, and has ever since resided on a farm in Franklin Township. In his home community he is known as a substantial and progressive farmer and stock raiser, capable in all affairs of business. But his activities have extended far outside his home township. For two years he was in charge of the Indiana State Fair Camp Ground and an active participant in farm extension work under Purdue University.

Mr. and Mrs. Latimer are the parents of two grown boys, college men, active in the affairs of the world. As a taxpayer and a business man, Mr. Latimer becomes the Republican pledge for efficiency and economy in County affairs.

Candidate for Joint Senator.

In too many cases, both the voter and the candidate regard a political office as a job. The better view is that of a selection of a public servant. Arnold Schuler, as a candidate for Joint Senator (Kosciusko-Wabash Counties) should be classed under this later view. It has been said that Mr. Schuler does not need the "job." Mr. Schuler readily admits that as a "job" he has no interest in that place, but as an opportunity to serve he seeks support. Mr. Schuler is recommended because of his clear, clear cut view of the social responsibility which is placed upon a legislator.

Arnold Schuler is a farmer. His early years were devoted to education, as a teacher in grade and High Schools. He was two terms trustee in his own township, and his record there is still an object of pride in that locality. Mr. and Mrs. Schuler have three grown children, two of whom are college graduates. Members of the Schuler family are found in the profession and as leaders of the communities where they reside. No words here can give an accurate impression of this candidate. Regarding him we say "Ask the man who knows him."

Candidate for Representative to State Legislature.

Mr. Creighton was born in Harrison Township, Kosciusko County, thirty-six years ago. He lives with his family on a farm adjoining the one on which he was born, is married and has two children. He attended rural grade schools of Harrison Township, Atwood High School, Wisconsin College and Indiana University. He holds a diploma in Business Accounting and Auditing. He taught in the grade schools of Kosciusko County three years and in the High School for seven years. He enlisted as a volunteer in the Air Service of the United States Army during the World War, is a member of the American Legion and past Post Commander of Atwood Post of that organization. At present Mr. Creighton is engaged in the business of operating a poultry farm in Harrison Township. He is on the Board of Directors of the Indiana State Poultry Association and is associated with other farm and poultry organizations. He is a member of the United Brethren Church in Atwood and Superintendent of the Sunday School. Because of his business experience, education, and especially because he is a keen thinker and not in the least radical, he is well equipped to look after the interests of the taxpayers of Kosciusko County in the Indiana Legislature.

These names will appear in the Republican Column of the County Ticket November 8, 1932. As individuals and as a group their election will insure good government.

Bob Steele, hero of many dashing western stories, becomes a flying cowboy in his latest World Wide production, "Texas Buddies," which will be the feature at the Strand on Friday and Saturday.

In this stirring story of the western desert country, the galloping cow-pony and the soaring aeroplane meet and act as allies against a common cause. Bob Steele will be presented as a war flyer who has returned to his former home and buddies in Texas. He finds himself soon involved in as much excitement as he ever found at the front. Foiling a plot to rob the Air Express, he is obliged to act as an emergency pilot in a plane that is scheduled for a crack-up. # VOTE Straight Republican

HON. LEMUEL W. ROYSE

Candidate for Judge of the Circuit Court.

It is with pride that the Republican Party presents as its candidate for Judge of the Keokuk County Circuit Court, the Honorable Lemuel W. Royse. His life is an open book to the people of this community. It reveals a clean and honorable record, a record of hard work, of stainless integrity and of brilliant achievement. As a lawyer, he early took his place in the front rank of his profession. A thorough student, a profound thinker, a clear reasoner, an eloquent speaker, he measured up to its brightest minds and its highest ideals. With a profound knowledge of the law he brought to the bench the judicial temperament, a sense of justice and a clear conception of the equities of each case. His decisions are held in the highest regard by the bench and bar of Indiana, and are rarely appealed. His mind is in its full vigor and he is at the very zenith of his powers. His court is a busy one and he is never absent from the discharge of his duties. His retirement would be a distinct and definite loss to Keokuk County.

REBEKAHS HAVE SPOOK PARTY

The Spirits of Hallowe'en held full sway last Wed. night when guests were entertained at the I. O. O. F. hall. The rooms were very effectively decorated. Ghosts ushered each guest into what was supposed to be a grave-yard. The room was in complete darkness except for the moonlight on the tombstones. Ghosts also wandered around in the grave-yard. The wind blew, the cats meowed, and the owls hooted. One guest suffered a complete breakdown while reading the inscription on a certain tombstone.

After a while the lights were turned on. Prizes were given for the best masked and everyone took part in a cake walk, games and contests. Music was furnished by Bus Smith and Wayne Minear. Delicious refreshments were served at a late hour.

Other lodges represented were Warsaw, Tippecanoe and Claypool. Everyone present enjoyed a very good time.

Shooting Stars Are Defeated

Atwood Wins In Fast Game

The Shooting Stars broke the ice to start their season of basket ball when they barely lost a close game to Atwood on their home floor Saturday night.

At the end of the first half the local team was leading by a score of 12 to 7. During the last half Mentone led until the last few minutes of play when Atwood went into a scoring spree by scoring points with their well-known "hook-shots." As the final whistle blew Atwood was leading by a score of 28 to 24.

As this was the first game of the season for both teams their style of basket ball was rather irregular but a good game was witnessed.

The team this year is under a new management and the following men are on the line-up; Edgar Igo, Walter Barkman, Elery Nellans, Devon Eaton, Don Lyon, William Blackburn, L. G. Alber, and Walter Fenstermaker.

The boys are out this year to show you a good brand of basket ball. They will play Etna Green Saturday night at Etna. Etna Green claims to have a real team this year.

CURCULIO SERIOUS PEST IN ORCHARD

Combined With Brown Rot Does Immense Damage.

Curculio, an insect, and brown rot, a fungous disease, make a combination that is responsible for tremendous losses every year in crops of peaches, plums, and cherries.

Brown rot often enters one of these fruits through a puncture made by a curculio. It is important, therefore, to kill the insect if the disease is to be controlled, announces Arthur I. Farley, extension pathologist of the New Jersey agricultural experiment station. Furthermore, he points out, curculio causes many of the young fruits to become wormy and fall to the ground before they are mature. In order to control the insect, growers should spray peaches as soon as the husks split enough to expose the small fruits; cherries and plums should be sprayed when the petals fall, and again when the fruits develop to the size of a small green pea. In order to control brown rot, growers should follow the application of others.

The material recommended by the experiment station for the control of this destructive combination of insect and disease is New Jersey Dry-Mix, twelve and one-half pounds, and powdered lead arsenate, one pound to fifty gallons of water. The amount of lead arsenate may be increased to one and one-half pounds for plums and cherries, but should not be increased on peaches. It is also recommended that four pounds of high calcium lime be added to every twelve and one-half pounds of dry mix used on peaches in combination with lead arsenate.

Set Strawberry Plants at Suitable Depth

It is important that strawberry plants be set at the right depth. If set too deep the crown may be exposed. Set them to the same depth as they stood in the nursery and be sure to firm the soil around them, so as to leave no hollow spaces or air spaces around the roots. Plant only young plants with light-colored roots. Plants with black or dark brown roots are usually worthless for planting. If the roots are heavy prune them back somewhat and leave about two healthy young leaves on the top. Keep all fruit stems and blossoms removed during the first season except that everbearing varieties can be allowed to blossom after the third month. A cloudy day followed by a shower is a good time to plant strawberries.

Apple Scab Is Serious on Certain Varieties

Like all fungous diseases, apple scab is more serious on some varieties than upon others. All varieties of apples, however, are subject to the disease and may be damaged materially. Certain varieties, however, are notorious for their susceptibility and these should be grown by the growers, as it is necessary to give such sorts more particular attention as regards to spraying than the more or less resistant varieties. Moreover, there are unaccountable variations or differences in the susceptibility of different varieties of apples in different parts of the country.

Horticultural Hints

The ground for berry bushes should be well fertilized with manure, to be plowed or spaded under before the plants are set.

No fruit is more generally liked than the strawberry. Yet how few really grow nearly enough of this delicious fruit even for the home table.

Fall planting is often successful with some fruits but it is more risky than spring planting. Plant early in the spring is especially important with cherry trees.

Gooseberries generally are stripped from the bush, leaves and all, the pickers wearing leather gloves to protect their hands. The leaves may be removed by running the fruit through a small flailing mill.

In pruning currant bushes, cut out oldest wood and thin out the weak, young canes. Leave a few strong, one-year-old shoots every year and try and cut out all of the wood which is more than four years old.

One of the most important essentials in spraying is thoroughness of application.

A spray application of lime sulphur and lead arsenate should be applied to cherry trees when the blossoms shatter or as soon thereafter as the weather permits.

Storage scald on apples can be practically eliminated by using one and a half pounds of shredded oil paper, containing 18 per cent by weight of mineral oil, for each barrel.

May Wedding Superstition

The superstition that May is an unlucky month for weddings comes from the Romans. Their month of May contained two important festivals—Bona Dea, the feast of the goddess of Chastity; and Lemuralia, the celebration of the dead. Marriage at that time, then, was certain to be ill-omened, for it was an affront against the goddess, and, secondly, an affront to the dead to introduce brides into a period of mourning.

SUBSTANCE SIZE OF A PEA LUBRICATES MILE-SQUARE AREA

A REVOLUTIONARY new motor-lubricating fluid has been perfected which has as its chief ingredient a highly lubricative colloidal (gel-like) substance so finely subdivided that a volume the size of a pea would cover a mile-square surface with a thin self-lubricating film.

This startling statement was made by Dr. G. A. Abbott, head of the chemistry department of the University of North Dakota and state oil chemist, at Grand Forks, who is a nationally recognized authority on oils, following his exhaustive tests with the fluid.

The fluid, which was used in pre-conditioning the motors of both an automobile recently driven 745 miles at Halifax, Nova Scotia, and an airplane flown 35 minutes at Winona, Minn., after all oil had been drained from their crankcases, was perfected by W. V. Kilder, former newspaper man of La Crosse, Wis.

The minute colloidal particles of the substance, when introduced into a motor by adding the carrier fluid to the regular crankcase oil, are attracted to the surfaces of the pistons and cylinders, forming a very thin but smooth and uniform lubricating film that thoroughly fills the finest pores and crevasses of the metal," Dr. Abbott said. "As this lubricating coat wears away it is continually renewed by fresh deposits of the colloidal particles in the oil stream. These particles, which readily pass through the finest filters, carry electrical charges that serve to repel and prevent them from collecting into larger masses and settling out. It is very probable that the fluid also contains some stabilizing agent in small quantity to prevent settling.

"Thus when a motor thoroughly conditioned with this substance is run after all oil has been drained from it, the film established upon the metal surfaces will serve as a lubricant until its thin layer wears away. When it disappears there is left a mottled surface exposing both iron and the colloidal substance, for the cavities of the metal are still filled with sub-microscopic particles of the latter. As the mottled surface is ground down these particles are smeared over the protruding metal spots, which strongly attract and hold them. In this way a continuous film of lubrication is maintained until the metal is worn down to the limit of penetration of the particles into its pores.

"From the physical and chemical properties of the fluid investigated it is reasonable to expect practical engineering tests to show a marked increase in motor efficiency, due to better lubrication," Dr. Abbott added. "This should cause the motor to run cooler and should result in a saving of fuel and in longer life of pistons and rings."

WORLD WAR BY YARNS

LIEUT. FRANK E. HAGAN

The Death Platoon

Most Americans are familiar with the story of the "Lost Battalion" but how many know the story of the "Death Platoon"? It consisted of 29 men of the One Hundred and Fourth Infantry of the Fifty-second infantry brigade of the Yankee division and it was commanded by Lieut. Chester R. Howard, an Iowa boy.

During September, 1918, the One Hundred and Fourth had served in the terrific fighting at St. Mihiel and after more than 30 days in the front line trenches the outfit was looking forward to a few days of relief. Instead they were ordered to join the First corps of the American army, then fighting the Meuse-Argonne battle. So they set out for that sector, marching away through rain and fog and mud. Dead tired they were, but for seven nights they marched, resting in the daytime. Upon their arrival at Hamont they were attached temporarily to the Eighteenth French division.

On October 13 the One Hundred and Fourth was ordered to support a surprise attack by the French tanks that night. Lieutenant Howard was given the post of honor, the lead of the infantry attack. His objective was a ridge a mile ahead of the jump-off and his orders were to "gain this objective and hold the position at all costs." The attack was no particular surprise to the Germans. No sooner had it been launched than they opened up with everything they had. Six of the nine tanks were disabled and finally the attack was called off. The remaining three tanks lumbered back to safety and the infantry retired. That is, all of it retired except Lieutenant Howard's platoon.

Advancing steadily he and his men crept ahead and were soon lost in the fog. He did not know of the orders to retire and kept on until he reached his objective. There he and his men, some of them wounded and all drenched and mud-covered, threw up breastworks as best they could, pushed their rifles over this slight defense and waited for the remainder of the outfit to come up. But almost immediately the Germans laid down a heavy barrage to clean up any parties that had survived the first furious bombardment. This continued for hours.

Twenty five days later the One Hundred and Fourth took part in an attack by the whole division. This time the attack was successful and the Americans swept forward to the objective of October 13. There on the little ridge they found Lieutenant Howard and the 29 men of his platoon. Their guns were still pointing toward the Germans. Every man, rigid in death, was facing the enemy. The "Death Platoon" had obeyed orders.

Proof of Immortality

Mankind makes mistakes in interpretation, but mankind does not make fundamental mistakes in thinking. A great idea never is postulated without realization. Whatever the conception, every great thinking process has foundations. One of the proofs of immortality is the very fact of man's belief in it and need of it in all ages and in all lands. ## A TRIBUTE TO OUR FRIEND

This community has suffered a great loss in the death of our good friend and neighbor, L. D. Manwaring, who passed away a few days ago at Colorado Springs, Colorado.

On account of the health of their daughter they left this community about thirty years ago, yet this was always home to him. His heart and mind were centered in the activities of this community.

Loren, as we all knew and called him, was a man of sterling integrity, always battling for that which he thought to be right and commanded the highest respect of those with whom he came in contact.

We who knew him intimately, knew him to be a sincere, conscientious Christian gentleman. His greatest ambition was to see his friends prosperous and happy and to contribute to their happiness in every way possible.

The Baptist church in Mentone was his church home, the progress of the church and its activities were uppermost in his heart and mind. His desire to see the church extend its influence and activities were some of the things that influenced his life as well as the lives of others.

Those who were unfortunate could always find in him a wise counselor and a true friend. His purse strings were open to the needy.

The world was better for his having lived. It is poorer for his passing.

No greater tribute could be paid him than "He went about doing good."

One of his friends.

OBITUARY

Loren D. Manwaring was born March 1, 1859, and died November 6, 1932, in Colorado Springs, Colo., aged 72 years and 5 months.

Mr. Manwaring was born and reared to young manhood on his father's farm one mile east of Mentone. In June 1886 he was united in marriage to Cora Bybee. They took up residence in Mentone where they remained until going west which was necessitated by the health of the family. To this union was born one daughter Mrs. Edward Stoddard, of Colorado Springs, Colo.

Loren Manwaring was connected with the organization of the Farmers State Bank of Mentone for a number of years, having been elected president of that organization following the death of Elmer Eddinger. He was still a stockholder in the institution at the time of his death.

Mr. Manwaring was a charter member of the First Baptist Church of Mentone, and as long as his residence was in Mentone was a member of its board of deacons. He took great interest in church work, and the spiritual and moral betterment of the community. The chief aims of his life were to help someone into the Christian life, and share the burdens of the needy. He believed with all his heart in the imminent return of the Lord, and that now was the time to prepare to meet him. He was conscious of the approaching end and told his family not to mourn for him, for he was ready to go to be with his Lord, and his only sorrow was in leaving them.

Loren requested to be buried at Denver, Colo. on account of that being the future home of his family. He leaves a devoted wife, Cora Manwaring; one daughter, Mrs. Edward Stoddard, and one granddaughter, Shirley Stoddard, all of Colorado Springs, Colo.; one sister, Mrs. N. A. Clay, Mentone; four nieces, Mrs. Linden Blue, Denver, Colo., Mrs. Selby Finn, Chicago, Ill., Mrs. H. E. Nottingham and Miss Nina R. Clay of Mentone. Two nephews, Frank Manwaring and Chester Manwaring, Mentone.

Chester Manwaring, Frank and son Charles motored to Denver to attend the funeral services which were conducted by the Rev. G. W. Everson, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Denver.

SENIOR NEWS

Mr. Champer has been having trouble with pupils asking to speak unnecessarily during the first assembly period after dinner from 12:30 to 1:30. He became so disgusted Friday afternoon that he told the students that he would give them time to think up something to talk about but that he would not grant anyone permission to speak until one o'clock. Promptly at one about thirty-five students hands went up. Mr. Champer proved he was a good sport by nodding permission to the whole group.

Three teams have been organized in girls' basket ball. Neither the Seniors nor the Freshmen had enough players for a team so they have gone together and the Freshmen girls claim that they play on the Senior team. The Juniors have just enough for a team while the Sophomores have the largest group of all.

JUNIOR NEWS

The Junior and the Senior debating teams have been chosen. The debate between these two teams will be held in the near future. Members of the Senior team are; Orville Vandermark, Marguerite Huffer and Lester Blackburn. Members of the Junior team are; John Doran, Helen Vandermark, and Delois White.

The yell leaders have been chosen. Fred Ross and Oliver Smith are now going to see if they can get some more noise from the basket ball fans. The first pep session was held at the gym Friday noon.

For the first time since the teams were organized the Sealawks defeated the Undecided Tillies. A snappy basket ball game was experienced and the score was 10 to 4 at the end of the game.

SOPHOMORE NEWS

"When in Rome do as the Romans do," says the old saying. So the second year Latin Class did so as near as was possible. We had a Roman dinner in the cafeteria room on the evening of the second day after the Ides of November. We followed as nearly as was possible the customs of the Romans at the time of Caesar. All had Roman names and conversed freely of Roman occurrences. Leo Lynn very suitably acted as our host with Guido Shirey as the King of Wine. Miss Mentzer, our honored guest, and Mr. Kelly, our Latin teacher, were present. The first year Latin students kindly offered their assistance which we gladly accepted. They acted as servants.

On the menu was: Under the Gustus; eggs, lettuce, sardines and olives. Under the Cena; rabbit, chicken, pork, beans, peas, cabbage, beets, wine, bread and butter. And Under the Secunda Minna; nuts, mints, apples and wine.

Mr. Kelly was reading about a very brave man. Zip! Bang! Would you believe that after hearing of such a wonderful man everyone jumped about a foot out of their seats? And yet it was only a blind which is not an exciting matter at all.

Mr. Champer asked Flo if she had ever made a quilt. Upon being told that she had not he assured her that she had better begin soon for his wife had already been working on one for two years. We wonder if he girls will accept his advice.

This person is a member of the Sophomore class. She has red hair, and oh! what dimples. If you ask her what she is going to do tonight she will tell you it is none of your business as she did one of the boys. She has a specialty of gigling and is a distress to her friends.

FRESHMAN NEWS

Kathryn Blackford and Mary Rush have been busy the past week making letters for the basket ball suits of the first team boys.

The Freshman Latin girls were the honored slaves of the Sophomore Latin class at the Roman supper last Thursday evening. The Freshman declare that the Sophomores are heavy eaters and drinkers as there was not very much left to eat.

In a hard fought game of basket ball this week the Trojans were winners over the Bluebirds by a score of 14 to 12.

GIVING THANKS IN DARK DAYS OF REVOLUTION

GEORGE WASHINGTON'S Thanksgiving day proclamation at Valley Forge took great pains to put before the soldiers "the tremendous reason for this most special acknowledgment of the divine goodness." We of today, looking back with a full knowledge of the great trials and sufferings placed upon the Continental army in that winter of misery at Valley Forge, may perhaps wonder at the faith thus unfolded. There is, however, one fact which we, accustomed to observe the last Thursday of November as Thanksgiving day, should not overlook. It is Thanksgiving day as we know it, with a definite place upon our calendar, did not come into existence until 1863.

Thanksgiving day originated with the Pilgrims, who set aside a day for thanksgiving at Plymouth immediately after their first harvest, in 1621. The Massachusetts Bay colony first observed such a day in 1630 and frequently thereafter until 1680, when it became an annual festival in that colony. Connecticut also had a similar festival annually from 1647 onward. Usually these days for thanks giving followed the harvest, and were set aside primarily to give thanks to the Lord for the blessings he had bestowed upon the Colonists. During the Revolution, the Continental congress appointed one or more days for thanksgiving each year, except in 1777, when not even a congressman could find any blessings to point out to his constituents as reason for rejoicing. These Revolutionary Thanksgiving days usually were founded upon some military success and fortune smiled wanly, indeed, upon the Continental army in 1777—the winter of despair at Valley Forge.

Valley Forge Observation.

Washington's Thanksgiving day proclamation at Valley Forge came after the snows and the hunger and the sufferings of that terrible winter of 1777-78 had departed and spring smiled again upon the fertile valleys of Pennsylvania. The occasion was the entrance of France into the war as an ally of the Colonies. The Valley Forge Thanksgiving May, 1778, was a military celebration, with the chaplain of brigade directed "to offer up thanks and deliver a discourse suitable to the occasion." Then there was cannon fire and hurrahs, and cries of "Long Live the King of France!" "Long Live the Friendly European Powers!" and finally a general running fire and the huzzas, "The American States!"

Celebrations of Peace.

Another special Thanksgiving day was ordered by General Washington at Newburgh on the Hudson, April 19, 1783, eight years to the day from the shot fired at Lexington. Ultimate peace had been assured ever since the surrender of Cornwallis, but the question had become alarmingly acute ever since: How was it possible to keep even a remnant of the army alive to receive the treaty of peace? Six months more of this starvation, this utter discouragement as to the use of it all—the harassed general dared not think of what his poor boys might be driven to do to end it all.

The joy with which the information was at last received from Sir Guy Carleton that a cessation of hostilities was announced can scarcely be imagined. Immediately, the commander in chief issued his proclamation and directed that a public religious service and thanksgiving should take place on the same evening, April 19. This was probably the happiest Thanksgiving America has ever experienced, writes Estelle Harris in the Bicentennial News, published by the Alexandria, Va., Gazette in co-operation with the United States commission for the celebration of the two-hundredth anniversary of Washington's birth. A country gained glory and honor, and home around the bend of the road. December 11, 1783, the gloriously solemn day appointed by congress, Dr. John Rogers preached his famous sermon, announcing . . . "We have taken our place among the nations and empires of the earth."

Presidential Proclamation.

The first Presidential Thanksgiving proclamation named November 26, 1789. As far as the people were concerned, they could join in with any and all services, for they felt the nation was saved again now that the great Washington was at the helm. As for Father George himself, he was entirely too busy to write much in that diary of his, that is such a precious legacy to his people. Here is all he says: "November 26. Being the day appointed for a Thanksgiving, I went to St. Paul's chapel, though it was most inclement and stormy—but few people at church." The signing of the confederation articles was the especial occasion.

Quelling the insurrection in Pennsylvania was again a deliverance from danger, and cause for great rejoicing on the part of all the people, and a proclamation was made, appointing a day of thanksgiving for the general welfare and stable condition of the Union. This was issued from Independence hall, and February 19, 1795, was thus set apart, on which day the nation was "with devout reverence and affectionate gratitude, to return thanks for its national blessings and implore their continuance." As with all of George Washington's papers, this proclamation abounds in patriotism and counsel of the highest order, both as worthy of emulation today as yesterday.

Much Reason for Thanks.

In looking back to these special Thanksgiving days of early American history, no patriotic heart can help feeling the beauty and appropriateness of these gatherings. Also, the part they played in keeping the little nation as one ideal family, until it could walk alone, the American fathers holding before it the truths on which the foundation rests, liberty, equality, integrity. For whatever else has or has not happened, the foundation of this nation still rests securely and there is much to be thankful for on Thanksgiving day. The stars have not faltered in their course and freedom still reigns. The good earth has blossomed and fruited for her overlord, man, as in 1607 and 1776, and now that autumn has marked the finish of her harvest for this year, old earth is drawing back her sap, her chlorophyll and her chemicals into her storeroom, to be covered with snowy blankets instead of green grass—con serving and renewing all her power, making ready for next summer's spread of glory.

OH, NOBLE BIRD!

BULLDOGS 20 BEAVER DAM 16

Coach Goshert's fighting Bulldogs lived up to their name Friday night by defeating the fast stepping Beavers—20 to 16 on their home floor. McFarland, high scoring threat of the Beavers and who has been scoring an average of 19 points per game, was stopped in his tracks by Mentone's defense. He made only one field goal in the game.

Mentone ran up a lead in the first half. McFarland then passed from the picture in the third quarter on personal fouls and from then on the Bulldogs had the game clinched.

Both teams played great ball, waging a terrible battle throughout the entire game.

The scoring follows by points.

Mentone: Blue 2, Shirey 6, Smalley 2, Long 1, Vandermark, Orie 9.

Beaver Dam: Marshall 2, McFarland 4, G. Bidleman 2, Kern 5, Tucker 2, D. Bidleman 1.

FAMOUS PILOT TO TOUR U. S. AT 230 MILE AN HOUR AVERAGE SPEED

"World's fastest and safest transport plane" with which Major James H. Doolittle (inset) will set new inter-city records in 9,000-mile flight.

CHICAGO.—A nation-wide dramatization of commercial aviation of the future, when American business and professional men can breakfast at home, have lunch and transact important duties in cities 1,000 miles away and be back with their families for dinner, will be staged next week with Major James H. Doolittle, world-famed flyer, playing the leading role.

Doolittle will take off from the Municipal Airport here November 23, on a 9,000-mile flight along the principal airways reaching from Chicago to the Atlantic, Gulf and Pacific coasts in "Shelllighting," a new ship of his own design which he claims is "the fastest and safest transport plane in the world," and with which he plans to maintain an average speed of 230 miles an hour between stops throughout his tour.

His epoch-making flight will be the longest ever attempted for the purpose of establishing new inter-city speed records with a transport plane carrying passengers. Four persons will accompany him. His speed will be just double that of the present average of planes operated by American commercial air lines. His ship, which is the last word in airplane design and equipment, is capable of a speed of more than 245 miles an hour.

The plane is equipped with a 700-horsepower Wright Cyclone engine of advanced design, an improved N. A. C. A. radial engine cowling, automatic variable pitch propeller and retractable landing gear. It is also equipped with a two-way radio, latest improved flight instruments, and a mechanism in the wings which prevents the forming of ice, enabling the pilot to maintain predetermined schedules in any kind of weather without endangering his life or those of his passengers.

Some of the plane's equipment either was perfected or improved by the famed pilot himself.

While Doolittle has established many speed records for land planes, he is universally recognized for his outstanding accomplishments in the field of aeronautical engineering, as well as scientific research and development of airplanes and aviation lubricants and fuels. As manager of the aviation department of the Shell Petroleum Corporation, St. Louis, he devotes practically all of his time to such endeavors.

Doolittle plans first to make a circuitous flight throughout the East, stopping at Detroit, Buffalo, Toronto, Ont., Boston, New York City, Washington, Pittsburgh and Cleveland. He will then proceed southward, stopping at Tulsa, Okla., Houston, New Orleans, Atlanta and Nashville, after which he may head for the Pacific coast, landing at Omaha, Denver, Salt Lake City and San Francisco. Returning to Chicago on the last leg of his flight, he probably will stop at Los Angeles, Santa Fe, N. M., and Kansas City. He expects to make his all-daylight tour of the United States in the phenomenal time of six days.

Busy Feminine Hands That Make The World Go 'Round

VERSATILE feminine hands that make the world go round. Small hands, large hands, medium hands. Hands busy at typewriters. Hands operating intricate factory machinery. Hands at the wheels of automobiles or airplanes. Hands busy keeping house, washing, cleaning, preparing food. Hands working in the laboratory. Hands assisting the surgeon. Hands grasping tennis rackets. Hands doing a million and one things. Hands often doing a man's work, but still feminine hands. And women are determined to keep them feminine.

But this is no easy problem in a day when their hands are engaged in work that may necessitate constant washing. It is this new situation, coupled with the woman's natural desire to retain her charm, that has led to the popularity of pure, mild soaps, such as Ivory which are economical, and at the same time provide the desired protection to the skin.

No matter what women may be called upon to do with their hands in the future, it is certain that they will never neglect these hands. For it is as true today as ever that hands are a symbol of womanly beauty.

Took Lottery to Honduras

The directors of the Louisiana lottery after it was made illegal in that state, erected a fine building in Puerto Cortez and held drawings there. The results were transmitted from Honduras to New Orleans by specially chartered fast steamers. The building is now the post office of Puerto Cortez.

Fate's Work in Us

These mystic souls of ours are sealed to ourselves. There is no key to unlock the reserved powers fed from divine founts; whence we can never be cut off, but the demands of fate. They can make the tenderest heart manly, the meekest saint do sternest work. —Samuel Johnson.

Tell Tales

This fingerprinting of children will have one good result—it will enable exasperated mothers to trace the real culprit in the jam closet. —Boston Evening Transcript.

Washington's Distinction

George Washington was among the earliest, if not the earliest, breeder of mules. He received two jacks and two Jennets from the king of Spain and one Jack and two Jennets from Lafayette.

Floriculture

Growing flowers as a business was unknown in America before 1825. The date of the opening of the first florist's shop is not ascertainable, but some 60 years ago it was impossible to buy cut flowers in some of our leading cities.

WORLD WAR BY * * YARNS LIEUT. FRANK E. HAGAN

Anti-Climax

Soldiers of a signal corps school at Leavenworth, Kan., were required to assume the guard duty of their large camp at the same time they were training for service overseas.

Drilling rookies in the daytime, studying signal corps maneuvers and walking post was a combination that meant really all work and no play. And it didn't add to the enjoyment of the corps that a number of infantrymen made a practice of crawling into a row of pup tents and having a "snooze."

"Make the rounds of the tents and see that no one is 'gold bricking,'" the major ordered, according to Private Aaron Stambaugh, when he was informed of the doughboys' practice.

"One evening I saw a large pair of feet protruding from the entrance of a pup tent," says Private Stambaugh. "I called the corporal of the guard. Each of us procured a pup tent pole and crept toward our victim. Settling ourselves firmly, we lambasted those outstretched feet with terrific blows."

"With a cry of rage and pain, the victim sprang out. It was our lieutenant."
