Time Remains
The Same

At a special meeting of Mentone business representatives on Friday noon, it was decided, by a vote of 20 to nine, to remain on fast time. There was considerable discussion, and the determining factor for the decision appeared to be that Kosciusko county had previously announced they would remain on the fast time for the year.

In discussing the problem, the Mentone people were confronted with three possible decisions—fast time, slow time or slow time after Oct. 26th. To further complicate the situation, Fulton county had announced its decision to revert to central standard time, and Bourbon, in Marshall county remaining on fast time until Oct. 26. Mentone, virtually in the center of the area, found itself in a very uncomfortable position.

Due to our geographic position at Mentone, merchants are changing opening hours in an attempt to show consideration to all its visitors.

Resigns State Appointment

A daily newspaper releases indicates that Robert Tucker, formerly of Mentone and Argos, has resigned as superintendent of the state fish hatcheries at Lake Wawasee.

Norman Clouse, of Syracuse, a 10-year man at the hatcheries, is filling in for Tucker until a permanent appointment can be made.

Tucker plans to return to private business.

Son Is Born

A seven pound three and one-fourth ounce son, Chris Alen, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Smalley, of Beaver Dam Lake, at the Woodlawn hospital at Rochester Friday evening.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Igo and Mr. and Mrs. Don Smalley of Beaver Dam.

NOTICE TO CHURCHES

If your hours of service are revised because of the time in force and effect, kindly advise the News so that the necessary changes can be made in the church announcements.

New Library Board Members

Recently Dale Kelley and Kenneth Riner have retired from membership on the Lawrence D. Bell Library Board. Mr. Kelley as faculty representative, and Mr. Riner as Business Men's representative. Both had served as members since its beginning in the fall of 1954, when Mr. Bell gave Mentone the gift of $5,000 for a school library.

On leaving, both expressed sorrow at going and great pleasure at having had the opportunity to work on the Board.

Mrs. Wayne Tombaugh was elected to fill Mr. Kelley's unexpired term, which had one year to go on his retirement from teaching. Ralph Mollenhour was elected for a three year term as business representative to succeed Mr. Riner.

Other Board members are: Mr. Kenneth Romine—Lions Club representative, until Sept., 1960; Mrs. Denton Abbey, Reading Club representative, until Sept., 1960; Mrs. Dan Urschel, Business Woman representative, until Sept., 1959; Ex-officio members are: Mr. John Frederick, school principal; Mrs. Florence Caldwell, School Librarian; Mr. Earl Boggs, Township Trustee; and Mr. Denton Abbey, PTA President.

Mr. Meredith was born near Beaver Dam but moved west many years ago because of the health of a son.

Surviving are the widow, two sons and a number of grandchildren. Two sisters, Mrs. Zora McFarland and Mrs. Martha Clinker, both of near Beaver Dam, also survive. He was a brother of the late Elmer Meredith, husband of Mrs. Bertha Meredith.

CLUB CALENDAR

The Mentone H. D. Club will hold its annual guest day meeting at Pete's Restaurant Social Room Friday evening, October 10th at 7:30. The Jolly Janes and Merry Mollies will be our guests.

Mentone Chapter O. E. S., will meet Monday evening, October 6, 7:45. All officers requested to be present.

Huge Crowd At Fish Fry

The response at the Mentone Fire Department fish fry last Saturday evening far surpassed the expectations of any, and the members of the department and the many volunteer helpers were unable to feed all as quickly as they desired. However, most of the visitors, even though they were not served as promptly as would have been desired, did no complaining because they knew that the firemen were doing all possible to feed everyone present.

As a participant and as a bystander throughout the years, your editor has marveled at the untiring efforts of the firemen as they worked many days and nights in preparation for the fish fries. Their wives, also, put in many hours—and never a one has had one cent of pay. They desert their work or place of business, wear out, dirty and spoil clothes, burn their own gasoline and wear out their cars going to fires and protecting the property of all of us. Anyone who would utter a condemning word against the department or any member of it, certainly would be very thoughtless and inconsiderate. Saturday night the firemen and all their helpers did not eat until all the others were satisfied, and I can assure you that they all had worked up a good sized appetite making up about 800 pounds of slaw, preparing and cooking about 700 pounds of fish, and preparing and serving all the other food.

The sincere thanks of the entire area goes to the men and women of our fire department for what they have done for all of us.

TO LEAVE FOR FRANCE

Judy Coons, of Rushville, who graduated recently from Indiana University with a B. S. degree, will leave for Paris, France Oct. 3 where she will join her husband who is in the armed forces. She visited her father, Oliver Teel, at Mentone, Friday and Saturday.

ON FISHING TRIP

Miles Manwaring, Max Smith, Conda Walburn, Merl Gibson, Estel and Ora Smith, in company with a couple of Etna Green men, left Saturday on a fishing trip at Duck Lake, in Michigan. The first four are expected to return to their homes sometime today.

Merchants Give Many Gifts

At a special drawing last Saturday evening, over $400.00 in prizes were given away to the fortunate ones attending the Mentone Fall Festival Days.

The merchants and professional people of Mentone and vicinity had donated 39 merchandise prizes and enough cash to permit two cash gifts. Free chances on the drawing were secured by registering with any or all of the participating firms, and the one whose ticket was removed from the "cage" had to be present to receive the prize.

The largest gift of $100 in cash went to Emory (Ike) Davis, of near Etna Green. Mrs. Arline Coleman, Mentone, had her name called for the $25 in cash.

PTA To Meet
On Oct. 8th

The regular meeting of the Mentone PTA will be held at the Mentone school on Wednesday evening, Oct. 8, at 7:30 p. m.

James Tibbets is the program chairman and Jon Cullum has been invited to show colored picture slides taken while on his trip to Europe the past summer. He spent six weeks working in a youth camp near Hamburg, Germany, and also visited the World's Fair at Brussels as well as enjoying a few side trips into Austria, France, England, and Switzerland.

CHRISTMAS PACKAGES FOR FOREIGN COUNTRIES

The long sea transit frequently involved in the transmission of parcels by surface means, and customs inspection and other formalities that parcels may be subjected to in the countries of destination, require that mailings be made as early as practicable to assure delivery by Christmas day. Surface parcels mailed not later than the dates shown below will normally reach their destination before Christmas.

South and Central America, Nov. 10.

Europe, Nov. 10.

Africa, Nov. 1

Near East, Nov. 1

Far East, Oct. 15.

Air service is available to practically all countries of the world. It is recommended to senders that air mail packages be mailed during the early part of December in order to reach the addressees before Christmas.

To The Voters Of Kosciusko County

I would like to submit my candidacy for Kosciusko

County Sheriff for your consideration.

1. I was born in Kosciusko County and have lived in the county all of my life. I am married to the former Isabel Griffis of Mentone and have one son, Robert.
2. I pledge to uphold the dignity of the office of sheriff within the county and to uphold the laws of the state and nation.
3. I will conduct the office to the benefit of ALL residents of Kosciusko county, and not to the benefit of few.
4. I pledge full cooperation to the parents of the county in solving any juvenile problems that arise, to insure against any discrimination against either the youth or parent.
5. I will give full cooperation to all law enforcement officers in the county.
6. If elected to the office of Sheriff, both my deputies and myself will patrol the county's many country roads instead of just the main roads. Country folks will get a chance to see their sheriff's department cars.
7. I pledge my support and cooperation to all organizations in the county and particularly to county firemen, to help with their traffic problems.
8. No call will be considered too minor by the office of the Sheriff and it will be investigated as diligently and thoroughly as one of seeming major importance.
9. I will be in uniform the same as my deputies while on duty.
10. I would like to mention that I am not adverse to hard work and long hours, and I am prepared to give the office of Sheriff my full attention, to make the county jail our home, with my wife as matron, and to give the job all the time and attention needed to bring law enforcement and justice to Kosciusko county.

Thank You for Your Consideration.

Let's Take The Offensive

(Reprinted from the American Rifleman)

If you are a law-abiding citizen and own one or more guns, or if you use a gun for recreation or other lawful purposes, you have a job to do. There is a growing prejudice against firearms. More excuses constantly are being found to propose legislation which denies the right to use firearms for protection, marksmanship training for national defense, or for the recreational pleasures of shooting and hunting.

Many antigun laws are presented by persons who believe that the laws will prevent crime and accidental shootings. Others are advanced by individuals or groups who seek, through legislation, greater assistance in the arrest and conviction of law-breakers. Some are advocated by those who would like to see America a disarmed nation.

Present-day firearms legislation is pointed in the wrong direction. It disarms the honest law-abiding citizen while it fails miserably in its avowed purpose of disarming the criminal. It is aimed at outlawing the gun, which is incapable by itself of doing evil, rather than at punishing criminals who use a gun for illegal purposes. No legislation can prevent gangsters from securing and using guns, but proper legislation can severely penalize the illegal use of guns and can send to prison for long periods criminals caught doing so.

Just as crime cannot be eradicated by passing laws aimed at the gun rather than at the criminal, neither can shooting accidents be wiped out by a similar approach. Gun accidents happen because people are careless or untrained in proper gun handling. The real answer to gun accidents, just as has been found in traffic accidents, is education.

Despite the painful history of other countries, there are those who still content that some form of national or state firearms registration law should be passed in the United States to aid law enforcement. Others advocate laws designed purely for the convenience of law-enforcement officers or for the purpose of circumventing due process of law in order to obtain convictions more easily. The desire to see our laws adequately enforced is never justification for any law which can make a prudent, law-abiding citizen an unwitting violator, or infringe his right against illegal search and seizure.

Year after year, we are called upon to oppose some sort of ill-advised firearms legislation at the national, state or local level. Frequently, the same stupid proposal has to be defeated year after year. The time has come to make a positive nation-wide effort to overcome the ignorance and misunderstanding about firearms and the people who use them for pleasure and as a vital part of our national defense. Those of us who appreciate and enjoy guns and shooting must organize our efforts and 'sound-off'. Let's get the support of the millions of reputable citizens who own guns and use them properly. Let's educate public officials and people in general about the importance of firearms in American history; about the positive values of shooting and hunting; about the hunter safety and marksmanship programs of the National Rifle Association of America which has conducted safe and worthwhile rifle and pistol activities for millions of people, youth and adult alike, during its 87 years of existence.

The right of the people to keep and bear arms, as well as all other individual rights, is effective only to the degree that the people are willing to meet the obligations of freedom. Only by eternal vigilance can those rights be protected and our nation remain free. We who have the greatest stake in preserving the right to keep and bear arms are to blame if this ignorance continues to breed prejudice and fear and opposition to guns and shooting. We are the ones who know better and we are millions strong. Let's take the offensive!

First Step To Better Plowing

Improper plow alignment can cost farmers valuable time and cause excessive wear on machinery. Correct alignment means lighter draft, more uniform furrows and less wear on tractor and plow.

Thirteen easy alignment checks are outlined by C. L. Hill, Purdue University agricultural engineer, in Extension Circular 456, "First Step to Better Plowing." These are shown in a series of photographs.

While the checks can be made rapidly, the correction of any misalignment might require considerable effort. Once corrected, however, little work is needed to keep the plow in good condition.

Many troubles can be corrected only with new parts. The cost and effort of restoring a plow to correct alignment is justifiable, according to the author.

Plow bottoms, dull shares, friction at the landside and the coulters' resistance to rolling represent 80 to 95 percent of a plow's draft. Improvements in these places can reduce draft. A reduction in draft of only 100 or 200 pounds sometimes allow use of a higher gear.

"First Step to Better Plowing" may be obtained free by Indiana residents from the county agricultural extension agent or by writing the agricultural publications office, Purdue University, Lafayette.

Letter Writing Week

International letter writing week will be celebrated in Mentone and throughout the nation during the week of October 8 to 11. Twenty-one years ago, replacing the wastefulness of written communication, the Post Office Department joined in the observance of an annual letter writing week—an event celebrated to emphasize the meaning and value of letter writing as a link between people throughout the world.

The Post Office Department believes that by participating in both International Letter Writing week and National Letter Writing Week this worthwhile objective is promoted between all peoples everywhere.

As we all know so well a personal letter is next to an actual visit, the most intimate means we have to communicate with our fellow human beings. Letters between our citizens and between people of different nations are a sure method of establishing friendly relationships and understandings.

All citizens are urged to join in this celebration of International Letter Writing Week. And at the same time, don't overlook your friends and relatives in America. Write them a letter too.

The safest place for a pedestrian to cross the street is at the corner, says the Motor Club. But even corners are safe only if pedestrians take the necessary precautions. Before stepping from the curb, always look both ways. If there is a traffic signal at the intersection, do not walk until the proper sign is flashed. A safe pedestrian is an alert and cautious one.

Order Trees Now

Indiana farmers who plan to plant trees next spring should place their orders soon, advises E. J. Lott, Purdue University extension forester.

Lott said about nine billion trees are being made available to Hoosier farmers at the cost of production through Indiana's 3 state nurseries.

Each year these trees are sold for general reforestation, wind-breaks, Christmas trees and erosion control purposes. Interested farmers can obtain application forms from the county agricultural agent, the forestry extension office at Purdue, or the Division of Forestry, 311 Washington Street, Indianapolis.

Farmers are urged by Lott to order trees early in order to get the desired species.

Varieties of trees available for planting next spring include tulip poplar, black locust, and shortleaf, Virginia, Scotch, jack red and white pine.

Trees secured from the state nurseries must be planted in rural areas outside of city or town limits. All purchases must be in quantities of 50 or more of each variety ordered. The buyer must pay transportation cost.

If help is needed to determine what, where and how to plant trees, farmers should contact their county agent or nearest extension forester. Circular 306, "Trees for Reforestation in Indiana," may be obtained from

Autumn Garden Work

A little work in the home garden this fall will help to insure a good vegetable crop next summer.

That's the observation of W. B. Ward, Purdue University extension horticulturist. He lists these timely suggestions:

All refuse—such as corn stalks and vines—should be removed from the garden and placed in a compost.

After the garden has been cleansed, broadcast a little rye, wheat or oats over the area. This will not only prevent wind and water erosion, but will give the gardener something green to look at during the bleak days of winter. In addition, the cover crop will add a supply of organic material to the soil when plowed under next spring.

Ward says a good compost can be made from corn stalks and vines taken from the garden and leaves removed from the lawn. He adds that it doesn't take much space for a compost—a 10 x 10 foot area will hold a lot of compost material.

If the gardener continues to add material fertilizer (containing some nitrogen) to the compost from time to time, he will have a good source of mulching material within a year or so.

Orders for tulip, narcissi, hardy lilies, crocus and other bulbs should be placed at once for fall delivery, according to horticulturists at Purdue University. Too often some gardeners wait until the last minute to make their purchases and find the best grades sold out.

W.S.C.S. Meeting

Mrs. Paul Flowers of Marion, Past Vice President of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Northern Indiana Conference was the guest speaker at the Women's Society of Christian Service meeting Thursday evening, September 25, at the home of Mrs. E. E. DeWitt.

She gave the history of the Theme song of the Society, "Christ For The World we Sing." The song was then sung in unison.

She spoke on the Fifth Assembly of the Women's Society of Christian Service which was held May 6-9 at St. Louis, Mo. She emphasized the Theme: "Christ's Message for Today", and that this message is for all, that hand in hand with Him we go forward. His message comes in sharing it with others until all the earth finds peace and how badly the world is in need of the message today. That we are to keep in mind Christ first, others second, and we or I third.

Prayer was offered by Golda Mollenhour. Nellie Reed gave the Spiritual Life reading from First John 1-14 verses.

Mrs. Denton Abbey conducted the business session. It was voted to observe the week of prayer on Wednesday, October 29th.

Mrs. Lois Davison was presented with a life membership pin for her years of service to the Society, by Mrs. Persons, who in her presentation of the great work of some of the Women of the Bible.

Hostesses for the evening were Nexa Carper, Zoa Ward and Pauline Riner, who served lovely refreshments to the 25 members present and the two guests, Mrs. Flowers and Mrs. Gaff and one child.

DALE KELLEY MENTIONED IN FEATURE DRAWING

In a recent release of the United Feature Syndicate, in its "Strange As It Seems" sketches, there was a drawing of Dale Kelley, and the caption: "Dale Kelley retired from public school teaching with a 44-year perfect attendance record."

Mr. Kelley, who retired this spring after teaching in the Mentone schools for many years, was never absent nor tardy in his entire teaching career. (He was principal here for many of those years and there were days in which he was away on official school business.)

Mr. Kelley's accomplishment was so unusual that the feature syndicate used it for national distribution in daily newspapers.

RETURN FROM TRIP WEST

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Smith of Rochester recently returned from a three weeks trip to their former home at Manzanola, Colorado. In Denver they visited Mr. and Mrs. Edward Stoddard (Loa Manwaring) formerly of Mentone.

In Fort Collins they visited Mrs. Smith's cousins, Mary and Alice Jennings whose father, I. N. (Newton) Jennings formerly owned the Chester Herendeen farm. Alice taught in the Mentone school 56 years ago and was Mrs. Smith's teacher through the third and fourth grades.

Both women are enjoying fairly good health, drive their car, and are active socially and in church. Their sister, Pearl, passed away several years ago.

Their brother, Roy Jennings and wife, visited them recently. He is retired and lives in Nevada City, Nevada.

Pink eye is a condition of cattle and sheep that is often very contagious and, if neglected rapidly spreads through a herd. It is characterized by reddening and watering of one or both eyes followed by clouding of the cornea which progresses to ulceration and apparent rupture of the eye-ball. Purdue University veterinary scientists say affected animals should be isolated in a darkened area. Professional help should usually be sought.

PAVED BARNLOTS PAY

In muddy lots cattle use up energy that could have gone into extra weight gains. A concrete paved strip along side the feed bunk means more beef from each pound of feed, Purdue University agricultural researchers report.

Beef cattle kept out of the mud will gain extra pounds. When the cattle have a firm footing they put on more weight than when they have to wade around in muddy yards, say animal husbandry research men at Purdue University.

Dr. W. M. Beeson and Dr. T. W. Perry found out that even a small strip of concrete alongside a feed bunk will more than pay for itself in increased beef gains. In a research trial (using two lots of 14 steers confined for 112 days) the average gain per steer in the lot with a 16-ft. concrete strip on one side of the feed bunk was 95 pounds compared to only 62 pounds for each steer confined to the unpaved lot. Each steer on concrete gained 33 additional pounds. The steers in the unpaved lot ate less total feed, but each steer required 35 pounds more feed to make a pound of gain.

Income from this extra beef means that paved strips are profitable. And by paving a small section of the yard each year, you will soon have a complete paved holding area which will lessen choretime and reduce labor. Also, valuable manure can be saved—and more easily handled on a paved yard.

This and other valuable research information was made available to farmers, stockmen and agricultural editors attending Purdue's 1958 CATTLE FEEDERS' DAY. A copy of the full research report on the paved versus unpaved strips is available on request to the Portland Cement Association, 612 Merchants Bank Bldg., Indianapolis 4, Indiana.

Friday evening, September 26 Mrs. Frank D. Smith, Northern District Director, D. A. R.; Mrs. Ray Linn, State Chairman of Program, and Mrs. Eldred Paulus, Regent, from The Anthony Nigo Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution of Mentone, were guests of the Gen. Francis Marion Chapter of Marion at a Banquet held in their hostess House. The Hostess House is a lovely early mansion owned and maintained by the Club Women of Marion and is a wonderful place in which to hold meetings. A charming atmosphere is created with its lovely crystal chandeliers, fireplaces, large mirrors, early furniture and pictures. It's wall and floor coverings as well as drapes are of artistic worth.

Mrs. Smith, guest speaker, told of the work outlined for the Daughters during this administration putting special emphasis on "National Defense". She then gave an excellent talk on "Our Constitution" closing by showing her colored slides taken at Washington, D. C. last spring.

Mrs. Linn spoke briefly on enlarging our color slides Library with sets of Kodachrome Slides, a project of The National Program Committee. Mrs. Paulus expressed her appreciation for a pleasant evening spent with her hosts.

Enroute home Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Linn and Mrs. Paulus were entertained in the home of Mrs. Glenn Highley, State Chairman of Press Scrapbook, of Marion, Rt. 1. Mrs. Lawrence Quenin, a sister, State Chairman of Press Relations of LaFontaine, Rt. 1, joined them there. Both girls are members of the General Francis Marion Chapter and have served as D. A. R. Pages both State and National for several years. At present Mrs. Highley is National Vice Chairman of Pages.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Z. Huffer, Mr. and Mrs. Idyl Huffer called on Mr. and Mrs. Garrie Rose Sunday afternoon.

MAJOR CAUSE OF FIRE

One out of every seven fires is the result of misuse of electricity, the National Board of Fire Underwriters reports.

Much of the blame, the National Board says, can be placed on householders for overloading circuits. Fuses blow more frequently, and larger ones cannot be substituted without causing wires to heat up dangerously, often starting a fire.

So be sure fuses are of the right amperage for your circuits—15 amperes usually. A proper fuse is a "safety valve"—don't tamper with it.

Here are some precautions:

1. Employ a competent electrician to repair or extend wiring when this is necessary.
 2. Buy electrical appliances and cords listed by Underwriters' Laboratories, Inc.
 3. Don't string wires under rugs, over hooks, or in any exposed places where they may be subject to wear or mechanical damage. Wear or damage may make them dangerous.
- New appliances, such as air conditioners, draw heavy current. Consult an electrician—you may need new wiring.

Local Student Named Semifinalist In Merit Scholarship Competition

Principal John Frederick of the Mentone High School today announced that one local student has been named Semifinalist in the 1958-1959 National Merit Scholarship competition. He is Bernard Fitzgerald.

The local student is among 10,000 of the highest scorers on the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test, the nationwide test of education development given in over 14,000 high schools on April 29.

The Semifinalists named today outscored over 479,000 classmates, and thus moved a step closer to an estimated $5 million in Merit Scholarships to be awarded in the 1958-59 program. The group of 10,000 Semifinalists is composed of the highest scorers in each state, prorated according to state population.

The Semifinalists now face another rigorous three-hour examination, the Scholastic Aptitude Test of the College Entrance Examination Board, which will further substantiate their high scores on the NMSQT. This second test will be given in testing centers throughout the U. S. on December 6, 1958. Those who repeat their high scores on this second test will become Finalists in the competition.

John M. Stalnaker, President of National Merit Scholarship Corporation, which conducts the annual program, predicts that over 95 per cent of the Semifinalists will get past the second hurdle—the December 6th examination—and become Finalists.

"This year our search for talent has been the most extensive we have ever conducted. Nearly one-third of the entire national senior class has been tested. The Finalist group will be composed of youngsters of superb ability. Our goal is to help as many as possible, and through the help of others, make it possible for all of them to enter college next Fall. This program would not be possible without the outstanding cooperation of the nation's secondary school administrators," declared Mr. Stalnaker.

As Finalists, the students will be eligible for an estimated $5 million in scholarship awards sponsored by over 80 business and industrial organizations, professional societies, foundations, individuals, and the National Merit Scholarship Corporation itself, the conductor of the annual nationwide competition. Merit Scholarship sponsors included such nationally known names as Sears, Roebuck Foundation, International Business Machines Corporation, The Camille and Henry Dreyfus Foundation, Shell Companies Foundation, Lilly Endowment, Inc., National Distillers and Chemical Corporation, Pittsburgh Plate Glass Foundation, Arkansas Opportunity Fund, F. W. Woolworth Co., Edwin T. Meredith Foundation, The Upjohn Company C. I. T. Foundation, Inc., The B. F. Goodrich Fund, Gulf Oil Corporation, General Foods Fund, Inc., McGraw-Hill Publishing Company, Phelps Dodge Foundation, Santa Fe Foundation, Time Incorporated, and many others.

In the final phase of the competition, high school grades, extra-curricular activities, school citizenship and leadership of the students will be evaluated, along with the scores on the tests.

About May 1, at least 735 fortunate young people will be named the Merit Scholars of 1959.

All Finalists will receive Certificates of Merit attesting to their high ability; and all colleges and universities will be notified enabling these students to be considered for a wide range of other scholarship awards.

Each Merit Scholarship is a four-year award covering the four undergraduate college years and each award carries a stipend tailored to the need of the individual winner. The stipends have been averaging about $850 a year. Minimum awards, for students who have been determined to have no financial need, are $100 a year; and maximum awards, for students who have been determined to have maximum need, are $1,500 a year.

Merit Scholars make their own choice of college and are free to choose any course of study leading to one of the usual baccalaureate degrees.

The college chosen by the Merit Scholars also receive cost-of-education grants ranging to $500 per year to help defray the actual costs of educating the students.

The Merit Scholarship Program is now in its fourth year. It was founded in 1955 with grants of $20 million from the Ford Foundation and $500 thousand from the Carnegie Corporation of New York. Sponsors have thus far awarded $12 million worth of scholarships, and have pledged an additional $4.5 million. Over 2,300 of the nation's most able students are now holding Merit Scholarships at some 325 colleges. Nearly one million high school students have been tested in the massive talent hunt.

The competition is open to students in any public, private or parochial high school in the U. S. and possessions.

Mrs. Earl Shinn, the new president, called to order the business session, which opened with the pledge of allegiance to the flag, and the repeating of the club collect. 24 members responded to roll call with remarks pertaining to the changing patterns of National, State and Local concern.

A report on the County Club Council meeting at Warsaw was given by Mrs. Earl Shinn, Mrs. Dap Urschel and Mrs. Charles Manwaring. The Kosciusko Co. theme for this year is "To Know Better, How to Serve Best."

All members were urged to attend the 48th annual District Convention at Akron on Oct. 17.

The program committee, Mrs. Loren Tridle and Mrs. Ora McKinley introduced Mrs. Frank Smith who gave an informative talk on the "Origin of the Constitution." The meeting closed with the singing of "God Bless America."

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Fred Lemler at 7:45 on Nov. 5.

"DRIFTING"

Willis Abbey, brother of Denton Abbey, arrived in Mentone Tuesday forenoon, and the entire trip from Miami, Florida, was less than five hours by air. It took him four hours and sixteen minutes to Indianapolis where his brother, Denton, met him by plane. The trip to Mentone took another 45 minutes.

May Add To Library Here

The Mentone town board has announced that present plans are to use the Bell Memorial Fund on the Mentone library. They hope to build onto the rear of the present library, and add a full basement, put a new front on the present building and do an extensive remodeling operation.

The will of the late Lawrence Bell bequeathed the sum of $20,000 to the town of Mentone to be used as the board decided, for something as a memorial to his parents.

The board also stated that they contemplate a raise in water rates for the town. The exact amount of the raise has not been determined, but present discussion is that the annual minimum rate will be increased from $5.00 every six months to $3.75 per quarter, and comparative increases in the gallonage rates. The need for the increase, the board states, is because the maintenance costs have risen, and the present revenue is inadequate to keep the system repaired.

Robbers visited the Lemler Market sometime during Tuesday night, and about $30 was taken from the cash registers. Nothing else appeared to be taken.

Entrance was gained by removing a pane of glass from the rear door.

The night marshal stated he checked the door about five a. m. and at that time everything seemed to be in order. Just when the robbers entered is not known.

There's a first time for everything, and Mr. Lemler stated this was his first experience of being robbed.

Beaver Dam High School News

By Sherry Babcock

A teachers party was held at the school house Thursday night. Mrs. Price, Mr. Reutebuch and Mrs. Swick were on the committee to make the arrangements.

Those present were: Miss Jenkins, Mr. and Mrs. Swick, Mr. Adams, Mr. Reutebuch, Mr. and Mrs. Whitmore, Mr. and Mrs. Norman, Mr. and Mrs. Haney, Mr. and Mrs. Price, Mr. and Mrs. Leininger, Mr. Webster, Mr. Green, Mr. and Mrs. Malott, and Mr. and Mrs. Butts.

Everyone had an enjoyable evening.

Tomorrow will be the end of the first grading period. The grade cards will be distributed next Wednesday.

The students in grades 2 thru 8 have been given general ability tests. During this month the same students will be given Metropolitan Achievement Tests.

Nine boys from Beaver Dam participated in the County Cross Country Meet held at Syracuse on October 2. Syracuse won, with Pierceton second, and Beaver Dam third. John Ault placed 5th in the 2 mile run. Nice work team.

On the evening of Sept. 24th, at 7:00 Senior pictures were taken at the Lockridge studio in Rochester. They have received their proofs.

Recently the student body elected Diana Ballenger, Janet Miller and Diane Silvius as cheer leaders. Eight girls tried out. The others were: Sherry Babcock, Nancy Shively, Dixie Bergstrom, Margaret Baugher, and Dora Kelley. All the girls did a fine job in trying out.

Let's all get behind the team and help them win a lot of games.

We would like to express our appreciation to Ed Scherer of Silver Lake for supplying the school with a television set for the World Series. Thanks a lot.

Baseball season is over now and Beaver Dam won 2 and lost 7.

Get Set For Corn Harvest

An estimated 35,000 corn har-vestors soon will be put into operation on Indiana farms.

Les Hill, extension agricultural engineer at Purdue University, says the biggest number of these machines will be corn pickers.
He adds that an increasing number of field shellers and corn combines also will see service this fall.

Hill reminds farmers that corn harvesting is a dangerous job. He urges all operators of corn har-vestors to avoid short cuts, and chances that may lead to critical or even fatal injury.

Only machines in good mechanical condition should be taken to the field, the specialist asserts.
Farmers should start now to replace worn bearings, lost bolts and worn sprockets or chains. It would be well for operators to review the manufacturer's notes about how to set adjustments for special field conditions. If necessary, attachments needed to help handle weeds or grass should be ordered.

Farmers who start to pick or pick and shell early to reduce field losses should remember to reset snapping and husking roll spacings. This is necessary since the greener corn will snap and husk differently than the dry corn harvested at the end of last season.

Operators of machines which have just been placed on the market usually need to make more frequent inspections of their machines than owners of older machines. It's a good idea for an operator to report to the manufacturer all observations on breakage and mechanical difficulties—it insures that future models will give better results.

Operators should strive to put as much ear or shelled corn in the bin as possible. Even at best some corn will remain in the field. A farmer can put three or four percent more corn in the bin through constant observation
and checking of adjustments,
Hill says.

It's rather easy to keep a record of machine losses in the field.
The picker operator should plan to record the number of shelled kernels found in 40-inch squares several times a day. An average of 20 kernels per square can be considered as a bushel's loss per acre. Each ear of corn left in each 133 feet of row can be considered one bushel's loss per acre.

Rise In Farm Living Standards

Looking into the future, N. S.
Hadley, Purdue University agricultural economist, foresees a period in which "a smaller share of farm earnings will be devoted to capital accumulation and a larger share to family living."

Hadley points out that "farming as a business and farming as a way of life are rapidly becoming separated." Farmers are rapidly losing their identity as a class, he observes.

Prior to World War II, farmers tended to live somewhat below those of city dwellers with equal earnings; they placed a very high priority on the accumulation of sufficient capital to own a farm. Thus, they accepted a lower standard of living for most of their lives.

To The Voters Of Kosciusko County

I would like to submit my candidacy for Kosciusko

County Sheriff for your consideration.

1. I was born in Kosciusko County and have lived in the county all of my life. I am married to the former Isabel Griffith of Mentone and have one son, Robert.
2. I pledge to uphold the dignity of the office of sheriff within the county and to uphold the laws of the state and nation.
3. I will conduct the office to the benefit of ALL residents of Kosciusko county, and not to the benefit of few.
4. I pledge full cooperation to the parents of the county in solving any juvenile problems that arise, to insure against any discrimination against either the youth or parent.
5. I will give full cooperation to all law enforcement officers in the county.
6. If elected to the office of Sheriff, both my deputies and myself will patrol the county's many country roads instead of just the main roads. Country folks will get a chance to see their sheriff's department cars.
7. I pledge my support and cooperation to all organizations in the county and particularly to county firemen, to help with their traffic problems.
8. No call will be considered too minor by the office of the Sheriff and it will be investigated as diligently and thoroughly as one of seeming major importance.
9. I will be in uniform the same as my deputies while on duty.
10. I would like to mention that I am not adverse to hard work and long hours, and I am prepared to give the office of Sheriff my full attention, to make the county jail our home, with my wife as matron, and to give the job all the time and attention needed to bring law enforcement and justice to Kosciusko county.

Thank You for Your Consideration.

Dairy Herds Set New Record

Members of Indiana Dairy Herd Improvement Associations set new milk and butterfat records during 1957, reports G. A. Williams, Purdue University extension dairyman who has charge of DHIA records.

The new average reached was 9,858 pounds of milk and 397 pounds of butterfat per cow.

More than 23,000 records were included in the summary. All cows were on test for 365 days.

Income above cost of feed, which has a very important point in dairying since it represents the dairyman's income after deducting feed costs, was $274 per cow annually. This is the largest average return since 1952, Williams said.

Part of the rise resulted from increased production. A large percentage is the result of the use of more and better roughages. The earlier cutting of the hay crop, combined with the ensiling of the first cutting of alfalfa when weather conditions are unfavorable produce more milk per acre, Williams asserts.

Pasture fertilization and recent changes in herd management, such as zero grazing, dry lot feeding and rotational grazing have done much to reduce the slump in summer milk production, the specialist adds.

A number of herds on test in these associations are nearly, if not all, composed of animals which are the offspring of artificial breeding. Their production frequently averages 15 to 20 per cent higher than that of their dams. Culling too has helped build up production.

These records show that as operating costs continue to rise, dairymen must place renewed emphasis on efficient production. Otherwise, net returns will decline, Williams points out.

Combining Weedy Soybeans

Weeds and grass threaten to delay soybean harvest in many Indiana fields until a killing frost and subsequent drying permits easier combining.

Keller E. Beeson, Purdue extension agronomist, points out that soybeans planted in May are maturing very rapidly and will be ready to combine before weed growth will permit efficient operation. He adds that widely grown varieties are of the non-shattering type. However, if subjected to high temperatures after the beans are dead ripe some shattering can be expected.

Agronomists advise against any effort to defoliate soybeans. The varieties grown in Indiana are vigorous in growth until relatively few days before they drop rapidly to 14 percent moisture. Purdue tests show that as long as the plants are active, yields are increasing and only a few days of good weather are required after this point until soybeans are dry enough to combine.

Difficulty has been encountered in getting any defoliating materials to penetrate heavy weed and grass growth with the soybeans after they are ready to harvest.

Heavy rains of 1958 depleted available nitrogen in turf areas, according to Purdue University agronomists. Fertilizing in mid-summer at lighter rates should give improved greenness and density. If lawns are heavily infested with crabgrass, delay fertilization until Labor Day when the crabgrass growth slows down.

Handbook For Emergencies

Leo A. Hoegh, of the office of Civil and Defense Mobilization, writes that the nation's newspapers have contributed substantially to public understanding of civil defense. While we are grateful for his excellent support, the tremendous task of bringing Civil Defense information to 170 million Americans cannot be accomplished without the continued assistance of the nation's press.

Every person in America must be reached over and over again with adequate survival information.

On October 11, 4,500,000 Boy Scouts of America will deliver the publication, "Handbook for Emergencies," to 40 million American homes.

The booklet contains vital information of such emergencies as fire prevention, tornado, flood and hurricane disasters, first aid, stoppage of breathing, broken bones, serious bleeding, poisoning, shock, and atomic bomb protection. The booklet should be kept in every home for ready reference if the need of any of its information ever arises.

"Take It As It Comes"

A famous teacher had difficulty getting his students to translate an ancient language. They knew what the individual words meant, but didn't seem to understand the meaning of what was written. "Take it as it comes," said the teacher, "just take each word as it comes and you are sure to get the meaning."

Today there are those who say we cannot understand the Bible alike.

Mrs. Mott Bryan was hostess for the October 7th business meeting of Beta Epsilon Chapter. Fourteen members answered roll call. The Secretary's and Treasurer's reports were read and approved. Corresponding Secretary read letters of thanks from the Forrest Miners, Harold Ueters. An invitation was extended to attend a reception honoring Mrs. Fay E. Bright, Northern Province Chairman at Delphi. It was announced that pecans have been ordered for the coming holidays and they will be for sale by the members in the near future.

The president appointed a decorating committee for the inspection.

Dinner is to be held November 18th at the Westminster Hotel at 7 p. m. Mrs. Neva Moriarty of Fort Wayne is northern province inspector.

The ritualistic closing was repeated in unison. Mrs. Kent Riner received the door prize.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Paul Quinn on Oct. 21 and will be a dessert bridge.

Friendly Neighbors Meet

The Friendly Neighbors met October 2 at the home of Mrs. Condia Walburn.

The meeting opened with the pledge to the flag, the club creed, and the singing of America the Beautiful. Fern Besson gave the meditation. The song of the month "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot" was led by Maude Romine. Health remarks on "Polio" were given by Altha Harold. Members responded to roll call by naming their first dentist.

Ottie Walburn entertained the club with colored slides taken on their trip to Belgium, England, and France this summer.

A surprise "pink and blue" shower was given for Mrs. Charles Eaton. She received many beautiful gifts.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Mary Shirey. Guests were Mrs. Raymond Lewis and Miss Donna Eaton.

Fly Killers For Barns

Controlling flies around dairy farms has become less difficult with the discovery of stronger, longer lasting chemicals.

Spraying the barn was an almost daily task before the development of the more potent materials, says Glen E. Lehker, Purdue University entomologist. Now at the disposal of dairymen are a number of insecticides that will eliminate flies from the barn for about a month or more.

Sprays applied to stable and barn walls still provide the best means of reducing fly populations. Among residual sprays that have proved effective in Purdue tests are Diazinon, malathion and Korlan.

Lehker says it would be well to use one material for an application or two, then change to another. In this way flies are not so likely to develop resistance to the chemicals.

Still another weapon dairymen can use is the space spray, handy for creating a fly-killing fog even when the animals are in the barn. Chemicals for this purpose usually contain such materials as pyrethrins, harmless to man and animals. They can be applied with portable or stationary electric sprayers that mist over the barn space.

General Finds Advertising Pays

General Telephone, America's largest independent telephone company, has been awarded the Editor and Publisher citation for effective newspaper advertising.

According to T. E. Lemmon, district commercial manager, they are given only after a review of a Editor and Publisher citations company's newspaper advertising by a special board, which judges the advertising for creativeness, general appeal, effectiveness, approach and general appearance.

An article in the September 20 issue of Editor and Publisher, entitled "General Telephone Ads 'Ring the Bell'", points out the aggressive advertising campaign undertaken by the General Telephone System.

According to the magazine story, the General System today is advertising in 983 newspapers, 57 of which are located in Indiana.

Listing six advertising objectives of General's president, Donald C. Power, the magazine points out that "the local newspaper advertising is definitely ringing the bell with results that can be measured, as well as a great many intangibles which cannot be put down in black and white."

"For instance," the article continues, "since the company started advertising extension telephones, the ratio is up 14 per cent. When credit cards were first offered by the California company, the whole supply was completely exhausted 20 days after the first advertisement appeared."

In describing the time saving convenience of high speed communications, Power says, "... advertising is one of the vital merchandising tools that we must use to accomplish our objective speedily and economically. I consider it one of my most important jobs as leader of our management to see that we step up the tempo and impact of our General Telephone advertising."

The Kenny foundation, in line with its policy of assistance for the acquisition of new scientific knowledge, continues vital medical research in its own hospitals and sponsors the continuation of research in leading hospitals and universities across the country.

Ponds Make Good Fishing

That farm pond—a popular recreation area—can provide an ideal spot for good fishing.

However, Don Sisson, extension agricultural engineer at Purdue University, says many farm ponds do not furnish the best kind of fishing over a period of years.

Here are some pointers Sisson says will help assure good fishing and make the pond useful for other purposes:

Maintain adequate depth of water—eight to 10 feet in at least one-fourth of the pond area.

A watershed large enough to furnish enough water to keep the water level up during the entire year. From 10-20 acres of watershed for each acre of pond area is adequate in Indiana. More than this will result in excess overflow through the pond causing heavier siltation and requiring more expensive spillways.

Deepen edges of pond by excavating to help control weeds and mosquitoes. The water should be three feet deep within three feet of the shoreline. There should be a minimum of water less than four feet deep in the pond.

Plant trees and shrubs around the pond but not on the dam or near the pond edges. Grasses should be seeded on the dam as well as around the pond edges to prevent erosion and muddying of the water.

Fence livestock out of the pond area. Animals will keep the pond water muddied by tramping and may contaminate the water and cause the spread of diseases to other livestock.

Any small washes that develop on the dam or near spillways should be repaired promptly. Grass on the dam and around pond edges should be mowed to control muskrats and other burrowing animals.

Check your egg baskets frequently. As soon as one weakens to the point that it will "give" when loaded it should be discarded, advise Purdue University poultrymen. Weak egg baskets will cause eggs to be crushed. You not only break eggs but frequently get many eggs dirty because of the break.

Beekeepers should watch hives carefully and remove honey from the "clover flow" as soon as it is fully ripened to prevent contamination with late summer honeys. Purdue University entomologists say that it should not be removed until most cells are sealed, since the humid conditions during the early part of the flow prevented rapid ripening.

Trick or Treat
For UNICEF

This Halloween, as in the past, children will be raising money instead of havoc in "Trick or Treat for UNICEF"—the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund.

Last year more than one and a half million American youngsters in some 7500 communities joined in making a gift of three-quarters of a million dollars to UNICEF—a gift to be used for better health for "all the world's children."

On Wednesday night, October 29, at 7:00 p. m. the youngsters of Mentone will go on their rounds, dressed as small goblins and in other Halloween costumes. Later on they'll have their own party in the Methodist Church basement and count up their collection and send the money on to the United States Committee for UNICEF. Pennies, nickels and dimes pressed into the hands of our town's healthy, laughing children will help UNICEF reach out to those in need.

Children interested in "Trick or Treat for UNICEF" should meet in the Methodist Church basement by 7:00 p. m. on October 29 to secure arm bands and containers.

Let's make Halloween a time of Sharing instead of Scaring with "trick or treat for UNICEF." O22

Frosted Sorghum, Sudan Dangerous

Sorghums and Sudan grasses are poisonous to livestock when they are grazed or fed in a wilted condition, according to J. L.
Morrow, Purdue University agronomist.

The poison, hydrocyanic acid (Prussic acid), generally is formed in the tissues after the plant is frosted and before it has dried out or while it is wilted from lack of water. The poison is not present under normal growing conditions, after the plants have reached 178 inches in height. It disappears when normal growth starts again after drouth, or after frosted plants have dried out.

Morrow emphasizes that only in the wilted stage and the small plant stage is there danger to livestock.

Farmers are asking whether silage made from frosted sorghum is poisonous. Dr. F. A.
Hall, Purdue University extension veterinarian, says he knows of no losses where livestock was fed silage made from frosted sorghum even though the silage was made when the sorghum was in the wilted stage.

Apparently the changes that occur in silage making break the hydrocyanic acid down into other chemical compounds that in themselves are not poisonous. It is known that this is what happens when frosted sorghum is dried past the wilted stage.

A 45 or 23 Cow Herd

Labor cost, which should not make up more than 25 percent of the total cost of producing milk, may run as high as 30 or 35 percent in some herds, G. A. Williams, Purdue University extension dairyman, points out.

These higher rates are often the result of low producing cows in the herd, he adds.

A study of Indiana DHIA records reveals that a cow producing approximately 4,000 pounds of milk annually requires 1.6 hours of time for each 100 pounds of milk sold. A cow in the same herd, giving around 10,000 lbs. needs only 1.1 hours of labor for an equal amount of milk sold. Allowing a wage scale of $1 an hour, this means a saving of 50 cents per 100 pounds of milk sold.

This problem can be approached in another way, says Williams. Suppose a dairyman wishes to produce 300,000 pounds of milk a year. If the average production of the herd is 6,700 pounds, it will require a herd of 45 cows. But if the herd average is 13,000 pounds, the dairyman can reach his goal with a herd of 23 cows.

Using DHIA records, Williams points out that the smaller (high producing) herd will yield 3,414 pounds more milk, consume $2,102 less feed, require 1,987 fewer hours of labor and net $4,756 more at the end of the year.

Why house, feed and milk 45 cows, if half as many will produce as much milk and return $4,756 more profit? Williams asks.

Farm Facts

Alfalfa should be fertilized if the field will be used for hay or pasture next year, say Purdue University agronomists. A fertilizer high in potash is required on most Indiana soils.

Seed wheat germination may be poor as a result of unfavorable weather conditions at the 1958 harvest, remind Purdue University biochemists. Germination tests should be run if there is any question of quality.

Grass pastures and meadows will benefit from early fall applications of nitrogen and potash, Purdue University agronomists point out.

Heifers kept for replacement purposes should be wintered by themselves—away from the brood cows, animal scientists at Purdue University assert. They should gain from a pound to a pound and a half daily.

Seed advertised for sale is required by law to be tested and to carry analysis tags. Inspectors for the Indiana State seed commissioner will follow up on seed advertisements in Indiana newspapers this fall.

Fall pasturing of woodlands is always practiced with an element of risk, remind Purdue University dairymen. As pastures become less succulent, there is always the danger that animals may eat poisonous weeds.

Purdue University entomologists suggest that homeowners watch chrysanthemum plants in the fall for black aphids. Infested plants should be sprayed with malathion, lindane or nicotine sulphate.

Fall-seeded lawns should not be permitted to dry, Purdue University horticulturists say. The new lawn should be watered to the depth of four or five inches and not just sprinkled.

Farmers with terraces and diversion ditches should make a complete check of the system and make needed repairs before winter, advise Purdue University agricultural engineers.

Purdue University agronomists say it is practical to fertilize bluegrass or mixed lawns in early October to encourage growth next spring. Generally, 10 pounds of a 10 percent nitrogen material per 1,000 square feet of lawn is sufficient.

Lack of good hay and favorable beef cattle prices may make it more profitable for dairymen to cull 10 to 20 percent of their lowest producing cows, Purdue University dairy specialists suggest.

Gladiolus corms should be dusted with three to five percent DDT before they are stored, according to Purdue University entomologists. This will prevent thrip problems next spring.

When picking apples, handle them gently. This is the suggestion of Purdue University horticulturists. They point out that although the apples may seem hard and firm, they bruise easily and bruises may cause rots when apples are stored.

Purdue University poultry specialists advise starting to build litter in laying houses now. Shavings or ground oaks are excellent materials. Litter should be four to six inches deep.

Blackleg spores may be picked up by cattle grazing close to the ground, as often happens in the fall. Purdue University veterinarians say that precautions should be taken against this disease by proper vaccination in areas where the disease has been.

Dual wheat seeded this month will provide fall pasture and at least 15 days grazing next April, plus a grain yield up to 35 acres, say Purdue University agronomists. Dual is an excellent wheat pasture for dairy cows.

The value of a beef cow is indicated by the type, quality and weight of her calf at the end of the pasture season about October 1, Purdue University animal scientists report. Any calf born in January or February should weigh 500 pounds or more by the following Oct. 1.

Buy fertilizer on the basis of analysis, remind Purdue University biochemists. Indiana law requires that each bag carry the manufacturer's guarantee of analysis on the label. Bulk lots must be accompanied by invoice bearing analysis at delivery.

Dieldrin and chlordane are two insecticides that can be used to spray porches, foundations and tree trunks to control box elder bugs before they get into the house this fall, according to Purdue University entomologists.

About 100 Indiana farmers each year become customers for artificial limbs or hooks as a result of corn harvest accidents. F. R. Willsey, farm safety specialist at Purdue University, says at least 100 more receive serious injuries, but do not buy artificial equipment. Every injured farmer thought he was safe enough to get by—don't let it happen to you.

Purdue University entomologists recommend that feeder cattle be sprayed for lice in October to prevent later infestations of lice. Two pints of 20 percent lindane concentrate or six pints of toxaphene concentrate per 100 pints of water are satisfactory.

Deadline for sign-up for the 1959 Conservation Reserve of the Soil Bank is Friday, Oct. 10. Farmers are urged to visit the county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee office to learn details of the program.

Motor Hints

Rush hour situations require extra patience and skill, the Motor Club warns drivers. The extra crowding sometimes forces motorists into quick decisions. Good drivers always remain calm and courteous—even under trying rush hour conditions.

The Motor Club cautions drivers to be extra alert when approaching a school bus. Keep a sharp watch for children who may dart into traffic after being discharged from the bus. The thoughtful driver remembers that these youngsters sometimes forget basic rules of safety.

Now that cold weather isn't too far away, the Motor Club warns drivers to avoid warming a car in a closed garage. In a closed garage, an automobile can produce deadly carbon monoxide in a hurry. Always open all your garage doors before starting the engine.

The Motor Club reminds drivers that every school child is a moving traffic sign—warning us to slow down and drive with extra care whenever they are present.

Bicycle riding can be fun, says the Motor Club, but also it can be dangerous—especially for those who don't know or don't obey the rules of the road. Bicycles enjoy the same privileges as motorists, but they also must obey all the basic traffic rules and regulations.

Earlier sunsets increase the chance for traffic accidents, warns the Motor Club. Dark clothing worn by pedestrians tends to blend with the dusk and makes pedestrians almost invisible. Motorists who depend on their parking lights instead of their low beams, find it difficult to gauge the speed and approach of other cars. Protect yourself by being alert at all times for careless pedestrians and by using your low beam headlights instead of your parking lights.

The hazards of night time driving are increased greatly by a dirty windshield and by headlights which are not in proper adjustment, says the Motor Club. Before starting out for any after dark driving, make certain your visibility will not be hampered by any mechanical defects.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Berkheiser and Mrs. Cora Norris and Mrs. Samantha Norris spent Wednesday at the Russell Norris home. The Norrises expect to soon move into their new home.

Be sure the tractor radiator is cleaned thoroughly before corn harvest, remind Purdue University agricultural engineers. Adequate screening should be placed over it so corn trash can be removed easily.

Kenny Foundation Increases Medical Scholarship Grants

Minneapolis, Minn.—To help meet the drastic need for medical and paramedical personnel in the field of rehabilitation, the Sister Elizabeth Kenny foundation has increased its emphasis upon educational and training procedures, according to Marvin L. Kline, national executive director.

Thirty-five scholarships for study at medical centers and universities throughout the nation were announced by the Kenny foundation recently.

Kline explained the purpose of the scholarships is to encourage universities to interest young medical students to specialize ultimately in physical medicine and rehabilitation.

"The specialist in physical medicine is essential to the conduct of comprehensive rehabilitation programs," he said. "If effective rehabilitation programs are to be made available to all of the victims of neuromuscular disabilities, a greatly-accelerated training program for specialists in physical medicine and rehabilitation is essential now."

He pointed out that the Kenny foundation, now conducting its 1958 annual fund appeal, is extending its training and education programs to all fields of rehabilitation, including psychology, social work, physical therapy, occupational therapy, speech therapy and vocational counseling. Public contributions make this program possible, he declared.

Is Parking Your Problem

One of the principal traffic difficulties for many drivers is parking, according to the Motor Club.

Matthew C. Sielski, director of the club's safety and traffic engineering department, points out that motorists have two main parking problems:

—They tie up traffic by taking too long to get their cars into a parking place.

—Some park improperly, with either the front or the rear of their cars out in the street.

Parking in a limited curbside space is not an altogether easy assignment for all drivers. But safety experts explain that parking a good indication as to how well a driver can control his car.

Sielski suggests that those who want to practice parking, do so away from traffic. But if you aren't a good parker, he recommends thorough practice, since parking is an essential driving skill.

Here are some parking tips suggested by the club's safety and traffic engineering department:

1. Signal for a stop. Drive alongside the car in front of the intended parking place. Stop when the rear bumper of your car is beside the rear bumper of the adjacent car. This first position is of prime importance.

2. Back very slowly, steering sharply toward the curb until your car is at nearly a 45 degree angle with the curb. Your front door should now be opposite the rear bumper of the adjacent car.

3. Straighten the front wheels. Continue backing into the parking space until the end of your bumper is opposite the end of the rear bumper of the parked car in front of you.

4. Then turn the steering wheel rapidly in the opposite direction as far as it will go while backing slowly into the parking space. The rear wheel should now be close to the curb, but should not touch it.

5. Go slowly forward, turning the steering while so as to bring the car parallel to the curb. Stop the car after centering it at about an equal distance from cars ahead and behind you.

Parking is really quite an art. But with a little practice, proper parking should become easy for you.

Special Feeders For Roosters

A special cockerel feeder, hung high enough so that roosters can reach it but hens cannot, will pay dividends in better hatches, says Joe W. Sicer, Purdue University extension poultryman. "Most roosters are gallant animals," Sicer explains. "When a rooster finds a choice morsel they will call the hens and stand back while the "girls" get their fill. Too much of this and the males will not be able to maintain a satisfactory weight."

A different situation is created if a small hopper is hung on a post or on the laying house wall at such a height that only the tall male birds can eat out of it.

Even a can will do the job, Sicer adds. The roosters will call the hens when they find the feed, but will eat the feed themselves when their calls bring no takers.

Sicer says the cockerel feeders should be kept filled with a complete ration. Both grain and mash should be offered. Better physical condition and better hatches usually result when "Dad" is given this special treatment.

Seed Wheat Testing

Unfavorable weather conditions at harvest time have seriously affected seed germination quality of wheat and other small grains, reports A. S. Carter, director of seed control services at Purdue University.

Carter points out that much wheat partially germinated while standing in the field before combining. Other wheat was cut at moisture content above the safety point and may deteriorate in storage unless extreme care is taken. Carter advises farmers who are uncertain of their seed germination to have it tested as soon as possible in a regular seed testing laboratory, such as the state seed laboratory at Purdue or at a good commercial laboratory.

Carter says it is not possible for farmers to test their own wheat seed because, for several weeks after harvest, the seed is dormant and requires special treatment before germination capacity can be measured. This treatment is best handled at a seed testing laboratory where seed can be held at close-to-freezing temperatures for five days before starting the germination test. Pre-chilling can mean 10-60 percent greater accuracy in the germination test.

Carter recommends planting seed which germinates 90 percent or better if possible. Lower germinating seed cannot be expected to produce as good a stand as high germinating seed even if planted at higher seeding rates.

Carter adds that rye will have about as much germination trouble as wheat. Winter oats and barley are also affected, but are not usually as dormant as wheat and rye.

The Jolly Janes had a come as you are party at the home of Mrs. George Mollenhour of Palestine. Mrs. Dick Gross called the meeting to order with all repeating the pledge to the flag and the Club Creed.

Mrs. Wayne Bowser gave the history of the song of the month, "Swing Low", after which it was sung.

Mrs. Gross reported on the president's meeting and on the laundry trip to Fort Wayne. She announced that Achievement Day was to be on Friday.

A club trip is being planned for November 15, with the Club to go as a group to hear Fred Waring at North Manchester.

Health and Safety remarks were given by Mrs. Max Friesner and Mrs. Gross read for meditation, "The Kitchen Prayer."

Mrs. Tom Harman then introduced Mrs. Fred Carey from Tippecanoe Lake who gave us a very interesting lesson on tooling. She had with her Mrs. Stalter from North Webster who displayed many beautiful leather, note book binders, billfolds, purses, and belts. Mrs. Carey then gave each a small round piece of leather and a pattern so that we each one tooled a design, making a water coaster. Everyone enjoyed it very much.

Mrs. Wayne Bowser, Mrs. Harold Markley and Mrs. Delford Nelson received birthday gifts and Mrs. Stalter received the door prize.

Delicious refreshments were served to the two new members, Mrs. Frank Hardesty and Mrs. Dick Kindig, and guest, Mrs. Larry Carey of Warsaw. Mrs. Fred Carey of Tippecanoe Lake, Mrs. Stalter of North Webster and members: Mesdames Dick Gross, Wayne Bowser, Tom Harman, Ray Lewis, John Ellsworth, Kenny Shoemaker, Albert Hatfield, Russell Eber, Delford Nelson, Ralph Burris, Harold Markley and hostess, Mrs.

George Mollenhour assisted by Mrs. Max Friesner.

Melvin Teel of Long Beach, California is visiting his children, sister and other relatives and friends in and around Mentone and Akron.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Sloop and family of Wabash were afternoon and evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. Elwin Teel.

Friday evening the Mentone Home Ec. Club held their anniversary at Pete's Restaurant. The guests were members of the Merry Mollys and Jolly Janes Clubs. A very nice program was given by ten ladies of Elkhart. They called themselves the St. Joseph Sweet Adelines. Miss Susie Sullivan and Miss Marilyn Horn sang two duets. Lovely refreshments were served after the program.

Why Leaves Change Color

A release from the Indiana Department of Conservation regarding autumn days, is interesting. It states:

Autumn colors appear in Northern Indiana first, fall arriving there approximately 10 days to two weeks earlier than in Southern Indiana. For the most part this lapse in time is due to an earlier onset of lower temperatures in the north. However, the difference in photo-period is not significantly different.

Length of day contributes to the color change in foliage in that the plant stops growing, the green coloring is gradually lost and yellow pigments which have been present all the time now show through. Translocation of sugars from the leaves also slows down as the tree ceases growing and these same sugars begin to accumulate in large quantities.

According to the release the sap becomes progressively more acid and this together with the sugar - accumulation, coupled with the shorter photo-period (day length) stimulates production of the red pigments. Generally speaking the poorer the soil the more brilliant the autumn colors.

It is because of definite pigments that some trees and shrubs turn red and others yellow. In addition, foliage color is largely controlled by heredity.

On the other hand, colors appear dull and drab in some years for two general reasons: too much rain, which stimulates trees and shrubs to continue growing, preventing formation of the red pigments; and sharp, killing frosts in September and October, stimulating heavy production of brown pigments.

HAS FLYING SQUIRREL

A week ago Saturday Vinson Goodman was helping cut down some trees near Disko when three baby flying squirrels were found in a hollow spot in one of the trees. They weren't noticed at first and the dog located them. One was injured when the tree fell and the dog had been playing with the other two. However, one of the little fellows is still alive and seems right at home in Vinson's shirt pocket. They feed him milk with an medicine dropper. From 20 to 30 drops seem to make a good meal for the little fellow.

Rev. Henry Hiddinga, pastor of the Tippecanoe Community church, will conduct services in the Beigh funeral home at 2 p. m. Friday. Burial will be in the Summit Chapel cemetery.

Sinus Trouble In Poultry

Turkeys are sinus sufferers, too. Antibiotics have some beneficial effect when injected into swollen turkey sinuses.

Dr. F. A. Hall, Purdue University extension veterinarian, says that when turkey sinuses are injected the majority clear up in a few days. Sinus trouble causes a loss in weight or slow weight gains in turkeys and can destroy profits for the owner.

A similar, or the same, organism causes chronic respiratory disease in chickens. This may wipe out up to half of the flock. If death does not result, egg production declines, the fowls lose weight and growth is slowed.

Dr. Hall says that both diseases can be spread to a disease-free flock by bringing in birds that, although outwardly healthy are carriers of the infection. Birds also can catch the disease from contaminated equipment and premises.

Poultrymen should avoid buying replacements from flocks they know little about. Proper ventilation and sanitation are also of great value in preventing the diseases. Houses and equipment should be cleaned thoroughly and disinfected before use.

ELECT

Your Native Son

HOWARD ("Sam")

for

— of —

KOSCIUSKO COUNTY

DEMOCRAT

To The Voters Of Kosciusko County

I would like to submit my candidacy for Kosciusko
County Sheriff for your consideration.

1. I was born in Kosciusko County and have lived in the county all of my life. I am married to the former Isabel Griffith of Mentone and have one son, Robert.
2. I pledge to uphold the dignity of the office of sheriff within the county and to uphold the laws of the state and nation.
3. I will conduct the office to the benefit of ALL residents of Kosciusko county, and not to the benefit of few.
4. I pledge full cooperation to the parents of the county in solving any juvenile problems that arise, to insure against any discrimination against either the youth or parent.
5. I will give full cooperation to all law enforcement officers in the county.
6. If elected to the office of Sheriff, both my deputies and myself will patrol the county's many country roads instead of just the main roads. Country folks will get a chance to see their sheriff's department cars.
7. I pledge my support and cooperation to all organizations in the county and particularly to county firemen, to help with their traffic problems.
8. No call will be considered too minor by the office of the Sheriff and it will be investigated as diligently and thoroughly as one of seeming major importance.
9. I will be in uniform the same as my deputies while on duty.
10. I would like to mention that I am not adverse to hard work and long hours, and I am prepared to give the office of Sheriff my full attention, to make the county jail our home, with my wife as matron, and to give the job all the time and attention needed to bring law enforcement and justice to Kosciusko county.
11. You are entitled to know my plans for deputies, if elected. It is my intention, since I live in Warsaw, to appoint one deputy from the northern part of Kosciusko county and one deputy from the south. This, I believe, will give adequate representation to all citizens.
12. In our form of government, a candidate campaigns under the label of one party or another. It is my belief, however, that once elected a man is duty bound to serve all the citizens of his community equally well.

Thank You for Your Consideration.

Reports On State Meeting

The following report of the state conference of the DAR was given to members of the Anthony Nigo chapter by Mrs. Eldred Paulus, regent:

Members attending from the Anthony Nigo chapter were Jerry Smith, Hazel Linn and Juanita Paulus. Mrs. Schied of Manitou chapter, Rochester, and Mrs. Hamlin of the Tippecanoe River chapter, Bourbon, went with us.

Attendance at conference was 467, the largest attendance for some time. 87 of the 94 chapters were represented. The theme of the conference was "The Fruits of Freedom."

Each session was opened with processional, pages escorting the dignitaries to the platform. After the pledge of allegiance was given and singing the 1st and 4th verses of the Star Spangled Banner, prayer was offered by our state chaplain, Mrs. Vandergrift. All who have attended conference at some time realize what a thrill it is to witness such an opening.

Wednesday morning the state chairman reported and immediately after lunch a very impressive memorial service was held with Mrs. Vandergrift presiding. The district directors read the names of the deceased members with chapter members standing when names of departed members were read. We then went to the reception at the Governor's mansion which was very nice. I felt rather sorry for the receiving line. Just think of shaking hands with over 400 people. Mrs. Handley had been ill, but came downstairs to be in the receiving line and then went back to bed. They served dairy cookies, tea and coffee.

We had a lovely banquet on Wednesday evening. Mrs. Newland from Michigan was present and campaigning for the president general position. Also present was Mrs. Len Young Smith, state regent of Illinois, candidate for registrar general and Mrs. Herbert Hill, candidate for recording secretary general. Mrs. Zweck, state regent of Iowa, also was a guest.

Mrs. Ray Erb, national chairman of National Defense gave a very impressive talk on "Ramparts of Freedom." I am going to quote the following from the Indianapolis paper regarding her talk:

Quote: "Most of our young people consider the Constitution archaic and believe that we should have some form of world government," the national chairman of National Defense told the 400 DAR delegates at a dinner last night in the Marott Hotel. "Unless we return to the Constitution," the New Yorker warned, "we will continue down the road to socialism." At the same time she reminded the members that each of them had taken an oath to support the Constitution. Referring again to the danger of world government, Mrs. Erb blamed the United Nations and its program of world government.

Members heard Mrs. Erb attack the cultural exchange program between the U. S. and Russia. She said that under the guise of visiting farmers and businessmen, espionage agents are entering the country.

Mrs. Erb also said that something must be done about the growing number of socialists, communists and internationalists on the faculties of our colleges and universities. (unquote)

Our district was very honored to have Mrs. Erb dine with us on Thursday morning at which time she gave a short talk. 23 chapters out of 34 were represented at our district breakfast. I would like to mention a few of the highlights of the state chairman reports.

Bacone College is now clear. Some of you may not have known that the chairman of the board was found to be a communist. He has been ousted and we can again send aid to Bacone. The Indian schools would like more used clothing, bedding, linens, etc. The state pledged two $250 scholarships for Bacone and five $100 scholarships for St. Mary's high school. The approved school commission also pledged $1,000 to Kate Duncan Smith for enlargement of cattle barn and $1,000 to Tamassee for little girls dormitory. They also need clothing, toys and books for children 6 to 18 years old, and urged chapters to mail Christmas packages early in November.

The approved school commission made corsages and sold them for $2. They sold 140 of them with a net profit of $240, which will be used on the new projects at Kate Duncan Smith and Tamassee. They really made a beautiful sight with all the different colored ribbon, etc.

Leaves Make Good Mulch

Now that autumn leaves which have brightened Hoosier landscapes for the past few weeks are falling, many homeowners are wasting time and energy by raking them out of shrubby beds.

N. W. Marty, Purdue University extension landscape architect, says a good mulch of leaves each fall is beneficial to shrubs, adding organic matter and returning fertility to the soil.

Leaves on the lawn are also a problem at this time of the year. Some homeowners have solved the problem by using a leaf-mulching attachment on their lawn mowers. The leaves are chewed into small pieces which are not offensive to the sight since they work down into the turf and decompose quite rapidly. This improves the fertility and the physical properties of the soil. Some nitrogen fertilizer should be added to the lawn to aid in the leaf decomposition and to promote the best growth of grass.

If leaves must be raked from lawn areas, they can be put to good use in the future if composted. Since a compost pile is not a thing of beauty, it should be hidden from view from the house and from the recreation and living areas of the yard. A corner of the service area or the garden area is often a good location for a compost pile, Marty adds.

Kenny-Sponsored Doctor Devises New Operation for Parkinsonism

Minneapolis, Minn.—New hope for thousands of persons suffering from Parkinson's disease—shaking palsy—is resulting from pioneering work being done by a broad-shouldered, blonde scientist who carries on his activities between St. Barnabas hospital and New York University-Bellevue Medical center in New York City.

He soon will direct a new institute of neuromuscular disorders being established at the university under the sponsorship of the Sister Elizabeth Kenny foundation which has turned increasing attention to research into Parkinsonism and related conditions over the past five years.

The foundation has been supporting the work of the internationally-known neurosurgeon, Dr. Irving S. Cooper, for several years.

The miraculous new operation which he developed, in reality, divides itself into two categories, chemopallidectomy and chemothalamectomy. The operative procedure is directed at nerve centers deep in the brain, known as the globus pallidus and the thalamus, which play a role in the production of shaking, rigidity and deforming conditions in patients.

The operation, by means of a special apparatus, aims a tiny tube into these centers, with x-rays guiding the placement. At a later stage in the operation, a special-type alcohol is injected through the tube. This serves to destroy the cells which are responsible for tremor or rigidity. Hundreds of such operations have been performed successfully on carefully-selected patients with brilliant results.

Dr. Cooper for two years running has been awarded the bronze medal of the American Medical association for exhibits depicting his work. In 1957, the award was made for his work with Parkinson's disease. The 1958 award went to him for his work with dystonia.

Stemming from the early breakthrough into this field, the Kenny foundation and its subsidiary, the American Rehabilitation foundation, have encouraged and are supporting far-reaching and promising research programs directed at the relief of uncontrollable movements such as those which occur in cerebral palsy. This work is being done in various medical research centers, including the University of Minnesota, University of Buffalo and the Montreal Neurological institute.

Leaf blights hit earlier than usual this fall, causing early death of many corn leaves. The recent frosts make some corn fields appear dry and ready to pick. Actually, many of the ears still have too much moisture for safe storage.

Corn with 30 percent or more moisture in the grain has even high content in the cob. Such corn is much too wet to crib, Walker emphasizes. Corn in this condition will dry faster in the field, especially under recent ideal weather conditions, than spread out in a crib.

There will be nine home games. Tickets for adults will sell for $5.40 and for students, $2.70. The members of the student body and the school personnel may secure tickets during the school day beginning next Monday. The first home game will be on November 1 with Milford. The game will start at 6:30 CST or 7:30 DST.

The honor roll for the first six weeks is as follows: All A's, Jake Haney; All B's, Bill Whetstone, Margaret Baugher, Marilyn Horn, Dore Kelley, Phyllis Ummel, Janet Welty, Jean Swick, Linda Smalley, Tom Adams, Joe Shively and Marianne Tipmore; All A's and B's, Roger Nellans, Betty Smith, Diane Silveus, Helene Welty, Sonia Smith and Lyle Welty.

Last Friday night the members of the senior class journeyed to Fort Wayne to see South Pacific. Those going were: Margaret Baugher, Pat Holloway, Dora Kelley, Carolyn Miller, Carol Welty, Jim Adams, Bob Stackhouse, Mike Summe, Ronnie Swick, Max Ummel, Merle Warren, and Bill Whetstone. Others going were: Dixie Bergstrom, Mr. Green, and Mr. and Mrs. Malott.

There will be no school today and tomorrow as the teachers will be attending the teachers' Institute. Mrs. Price and Mr. Noonan are going to South Bend, Mr. Green to Evansville, Mr. Reutebuch to Indianapolis, and the other teachers will be going to the Fort Wayne Section.

Moisture content of corn should be checked before picking is started, Gilbert P. Walker, Purdue University extension agronomist, reminds Indiana farmers.

Twenty percent moisture in the grain is a safe level for fast picking and cribbing, he points out. If grain moisture is pushing 25 percent, cribbing should be very slow. Shelled corn and husks should not be allowed to fall in the cone-shaped pile coming from the elevator, Walker asserts.

More Light — More Eggs

"Light up the hen—not the chicken house—to get more eggs in the winter," Joe W. Sicer, extension poultry specialist at Purdue University, advises Hoosier poultrymen.

It's not because the hen is given a longer working day that egg production increases. Sicer says it's because certain rays of light are absorbed by the hens. These rays stimulate the hen's pituitary glands which in turn stimulate greater production.

For greatest effectiveness, the lights in the laying house must be placed where the hens will receive the greatest exposure to the beneficial rays. Since the hens normally spend a large share of their time at the feeders and waterers, Sicer recommends that most of the lights be suspended directly over these areas.

A 40 watt bulb—four to five feet above the feeder—for every 8 to 12 feet of trough can supply a satisfactory amount of light. Enough additional light should be used in the house to eliminate dark corners and shadows.

A reflector should be used for each bulb. Since dust can reduce the strength of the light rays, the bulbs should be dusted about every week.

It makes little difference to the hen whether the lights are turned on in the morning, evening, or both, or let burn all night. The time is a matter of convenience to the caretaker.

Fourteen hours of total light—daylight plus artificial light—provide all the stimulation the hen can use. When morning or evening lights are used their timing should be varied with the time of sunrise or sunset so as to maintain the 14 hours of total light. On dark, cloudy days, additional artificial light may be helpful.

Rabies Warning

United States Public Health Service veterinary experts on rabies' conditions, in a recent statement, called Indianapolis "the rabies capital of the country."

Dr. F. A. Hall, extension veterinarian at Purdue University, says there have been 150 certified cases in Indianapolis so far this year. This number is far in excess of the 120 cases for the entire state during 1957.

Dr. Hall says that rabies is not a seasonal disease and may occur any time during the year. Records show that more cases occur in late winter and early spring than any other time of the year.

"It is a year-round battle to check," Hall says, "and there are two main methods of control, vaccinate all owned dogs and control all stray dogs."

What is rabies? It is commonly known as hydrophobia or "mad dog" and is a virus disease, which means the germs are too small to be seen with an ordinary microscope. The saliva seems to be the principal source of infection. Rabies affects all warm blooded animals, including man.

Rabies is transmitted when an infected animal bites another.

The most common animals affected are the dog, cat, coyote, fox and the skunk.

It has been estimated that about 15 percent of the people bitten by infected animals and about 30 percent of the animals bitten may contract the disease unless preventative vaccination is used.

Farm animals generally contract the disease from dogs, foxes and other wild animals. A preventive vaccine affords the best protection, and owners of dogs should use this safeguard to control the disease.

Prevention Of Anemia In Pigs

Two iron dextran shots plus fresh soil daily helps baby pigs grow rapidly and build up resistance to anemia, Purdue University animal scientists have found.

J. H. Conrad, Purdue swine nutritionist, reporting on anemia research, says that the heaviest pigs at six weeks and the highest hemoglobin levels at five weeks were obtained from a combination of iron dextran shots and fresh soil daily.

The pigs received a two cc. shot of iron dextran solution when they were three days old. A second shot of one cc. was given at three weeks of age plus fresh soil daily.

One iron injection plus soil resulted in heavier pigs and higher hemoglobin levels than two injections, one injection or soil alone.

"The hemoglobin level essential for maximum growth and disease resistance in the young pig is not known; but in the study, pigs with the highest hemoglobin level at five weeks were also the heaviest pigs at six weeks," Conrad said.

For UNICEF

This Hallowe'en, as in the past, children will be raising money instead of havoc in "Trick or Treat for UNICEF"—the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund.

Last year more than one and a half million American youngsters in some 7500 communities joined in making a gift of three-quarters of a million dollars to UNICEF—a gift to be used for better health for "all the world's children."

On Wednesday night, October 29, at 7:00 p. m. the youngsters of Mentone will go on their rounds, dressed as small goblins and in other Hallowe'en costumes. Later on they'll have their own party in the Methodist Church basement and count up their collection and send the money on to the United States Committee for UNICEF. Pennies, nickels and dimes pressed into the hands of our town's healthy, laughing children will help UNICEF reach out to those in need.

Children interested in "Trick or Treat for UNICEF" should meet in the Methodist Church basement by 7:00 p. m. on October 29 to secure arm bands and containers.

Let's make Hallowe'en a time of Sharing instead of Scaring with "trick or treat for UNICEF."

Safety For Hallowe'eners

The Hallowe'en season always means a time for special vigilance, and the Motor Club advises both parents and motorists to take extra precautions to protect children during this festive period.

"Trick or Treat" antics will begin well in advance of Oct. 31 and in the excitement, children may forget their safety rules and dart across streets from between parked cars.

The masks and costumes which are so much a part of Hallowe'en often obstruct a child's vision, this adds to the need for extra alertness by motorists.

Matthew C. Sielski, director of the Club's safety and traffic engineering department, advises parents to make sure that their children's costumes do not limit their vision. He also suggests having school and community costume parties to keep children off the streets at Hallowe'en.

Sielski lists five safety tips which parents should seek to enforce during the Hallowe'en season:

—Make sure that your child's costume contains something white.

—Tell your child always to walk on the left side of roadways in rural areas.

—Impress on them the danger of making quick moves into streets.

—Caution them to cross only at lighted intersections.

—See to it their masks do not restrict their vision.

DEMOCRAT

To The Voters Of Kosciusko County

I would like to submit my candidacy for Kosciusko
County Sheriff for your consideration.

1. I was born in Kosciusko County and have lived in the county all of my life. I am married to the former Isabel Griffith of Mentone and have one son, Robert.
2. I pledge to uphold the dignity of the office of sheriff within the county and to uphold the laws of the state and nation.
3. I will conduct the office to the benefit of ALL residents of Kosciusko county, and not to the benefit of few.
4. I pledge full cooperation to the parents of the county in solving any juvenile problems that arise, to insure against any discrimination against either the youth or parent.
5. I will give full cooperation to all law enforcement officers in the county.
6. If elected to the office of Sheriff, both my deputies and myself will patrol the county's many country roads instead of just the main roads. Country folks will get a chance to see their sheriff's department cars.
7. I pledge my support and cooperation to all organizations in the county and particularly to county firemen, to help with their traffic problems.
8. No call will be considered too minor by the office of the Sheriff and it will be investigated as diligently and thoroughly as one of seeming major importance.
9. I will be in uniform the same as my deputies while on duty.
10. I would like to mention that I am not adverse to hard work and long hours, and I am prepared to give the office of Sheriff my full attention, to make the county jail our home, with my wife as matron, and to give the job all the time and attention needed to bring law enforcement and justice to Kosciusko county.
11. You are entitled to know my plans for deputies, if elected. It is my intention, since I live in Warsaw, to appoint one deputy from the northern part of Kosciusko county and one deputy from the south. This, I believe, will give adequate representation to all citizens.

12. In our form of government, a candidate campaigns under the label of one party or another. It is my belief, however, that once elected a man is duty bound to serve all the citizens of his community equally well.

Thank You for Your Consideration.

4. I pledge full cooperation to the parents of the county in solving any juvenile problems that arise, to insure against any discrimination against either the youth or parent.
5. I will give full cooperation to all law enforcement officers in the county.
6. If elected to the office of Sheriff, both my deputies and myself will patrol the county's many country roads instead of just the main roads. Country folks will get a chance to see their sheriff's department cars.
7. I pledge my support and cooperation to all organizations in the county and particularly to county firemen, to help with their traffic problems.
8. No call will be considered too minor by the office of the Sheriff and it will be investigated as diligently and thoroughly as one of seeming major importance.
9. I will be in uniform the same as my deputies while on duty.
10. I would like to mention that I am not adverse to hard work and long hours, and I am prepared to give the office of Sheriff my full attention, to make the county jail our home, with my wife as matron, and to give the job all the time and attention needed to bring law enforcement and justice to Kosciusko county.
11. You are entitled to know my plans for deputies, if elected. It is my intention, since I live in Warsaw, to appoint one deputy from the northern part of Kosciusko county and one deputy from the south. This, I believe, will give adequate representation to all citizens.
12. In our form of government, a candidate campaigns under the label of one party or another. It is my belief, however, that once elected a man is duty bound to serve all the citizens of his community equally well.

Thank You for Your Consideration.

Why Not More Silage

Only one-fourth of the 1,300 herds on tests in the Dairy Herd Improvement Association in Indiana last year received more than three tons of silage per cow, G. A. Williams, Purdue University extension dairyman, reports.

An analysis of yearly feed consumption by the bureau of dairy industry shows that 10 percent of the Indiana herds received less than a ton per cow. The remaining herds were about evenly divided between a half and two-thirds ton per cow.

In addition to the silage, the herds were fed dry roughage. The average per cow was less than two tons.

Williams suggests that for efficient production each cow should receive 3.5 tons of hay equivalent (1 ton hay equals 3 tons silage) in addition to six months of lush pasture. The records indicate that 24 percent of the herds on test were fed less than 2.5 tons per cow; 66 percent were fed 2.5 - 3 tons and less than 10 percent were fed 3.5 tons of hay equivalent—the recommended amount.

Many dairymen this winter will be forced to buy part or all of the hay fed to their dairy cows. Others will have sufficient supplies, but the quality is low. If beef prices continue high and milk prices do not improve, it may be more profitable to cull some of the lowest producers, Williams says. Feeding more silage may be the answer where the supply permits; if not, it may be that an empty stanchion is more profitable than a mediocre or poor cow, underfed on low quality roughage.

For Better Spring Pastures

Livestock farmers should be considering now some practices which will insure good pasture next spring, reminds Howell Wheaton, Purdue University extension agronomist.

Pastures, if they have been grazed closely, should be rested until the first freeze. This helps maintain a balance between legumes and grasses, he says. The "rest period" too will guarantee a supply of stored foods to support renewed growth next spring.

Grazing after a hard freeze, the agronomist points out, will cause less severe damage to the legume since they do not have a tendency to regrow in the winter.

Improved fall or spring grazing results from either applying 30 pounds of nitrogen an acre or by drilling a bushel of winter wheat or rye into the pasture sod.

At Purdue's Southern Indiana Forage Farm, it was found that winter wheat could be "sod seeded" with fertilizer. The crop provided some winter grazing as well as spring pasture.

Fewer Cattle, Calves On Feed

The number of cattle and calves in Indiana feed lots Oct. 1st was the smallest since quarterly estimates were started in 1954.

This is reported by state-federal agricultural statisticians at Purdue University who estimate the total at 118,000 head. This number is seasonally lower than the 180,000 on feed July 1 and is 17 percent below the October 1st, 1957 total.

Cattle which have been on feed three months or longer totaled 57,000, comprising 48 percent of the total as compared with 51 percent Oct. 1, 1957. The number of cattle placed on feed during the July-September quarter totaled 63,000, 10,000 fewer than in the same quarter of last year.

Cattle weighing more than 900 pounds were 30 percent of the Oct. 1 total. A year ago these weights made up 38 percent of the total. Steers comprised about 70 percent of the number on feed both this year and last, the statisticians reported.

Farmers plan to market 60,000 head or 51 percent of the Oct. 1 total within the next three months, according to the statisticians. This represents a slightly slower marketing rate than last year when 54 percent of the Oct. 1 inventory was intended for marketing during the October-December period.

The Motor Club cautions drivers that a common cause of accidents in autumn is skidding on wet leaves. When mud has accumulated under wet leaves they can be as treacherous as ice. If at all possible, drive around a pile of leaves. In the event of a skid, however, turn your steering wheel in the direction in which your rear wheels are swerving.

When driving in a heavy mist or fog, slow down to a speed which will allow you to stop safely within the distance illuminated by your headlights or fog lamps, warns the Motor Club. And don't use parking lights for driving in fog. They weren't designed for that purpose and can't do the job.

Autumn scenery is beautiful, but this is a deceptively dangerous time of year, says the Motor Club. While enjoying the beauties of the changing landscape, drivers must remember to be alert for special seasonal hazards such as longer hours of darkness, the frequent occurrence of ground fog late at night and early in the morning, and the danger of slippery streets when fallen leaves become saturated with moisture.

The Motor Club points out that we don't have to be traffic officers, or even members of a special safety organization, to do our part in preventing traffic accidents. One thing everyone can do is to set a good example of careful obedience to traffic laws whenever and wherever you drive.

When fog closes in, good drivers are extra alert, says the Motor Club. Normal driving speeds are out of the question when normal visibility is lacking. Heavy ground fog, a common autumn occurrence, calls for the most careful kind of driving.

A football game creates a lot of healthy enthusiasm. But the Motor Club warns drivers not to be too enthusiastic on their way home after the game. Post-game traffic usually is extremely heavy and extra caution is necessary to avoid accidents. Give everyone—including yourself—a fair chance to get home without a mishap.

Country Neighbors Meet

The Country Neighbors Club held a hard times party recently at the home of Emma Zolman.

The meeting was opened by the president, Eleanor Hoover. The pledge to the flag and the club creed were repeated in unison. Isabelle Peterson read from Matthew for Devotions and Uda Maxwell read a poem "If Jesus Came To Your House."

During the business meeting, it was voted to bring babies' clothing to the home of Eleanor Hoover, who will then take it to a family in Mentone. The sick are to be remembered also.

Dorothy Herendeen was in charge of entertainment and Charades were played.

Secret Pal gifts were received by Faye Long and Elnora Craig.

The guests then went into the dining room and drew numbers for their box lunch, which proved to be very enjoyable.

The meeting adjourned at a late hour and the ragged women and some with shoes that weren't mates, and some with no shoes at all returned to their homes.

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Norris and son David spent the week end at Indiana University visiting their daughter, Elener, who is a student in the Graduate school.

THE MOTOR CLUB SAYS:

Beaver Dam 4-H News

On October 17th the Beaver Dam Agriculture 4-H club held a meeting in the Beaver Dam school gym. The meeting was called to order by the president, Marlin Valentine.

The 4-H pledge and American pledge were led by Janet Welty and Tom Adams. David Haney gave the club motto. The 4-H creed was read by Phyllis Ummel.

Diana Ballenger read the secretary's report. Roger Nellans gave the Treasurer's report. Linda Smalley led the group in singing.

Susie Barber gave the Health and Safety report on "Your Family Health Record."

The presentation of the trophies was given by Gerald Smalley. The speaker for the evening was Mr. Myron Ringo from the Lake City Bank in Warsaw.

The meeting was then adjourned.

Selecting Best Buy In Eggs

Homemakers like to get the most for their money . . . and still be sure of quality. In the case of eggs, now is the time of the year when small and medium eggs are an exceptionally good buy.

Small eggs are the first eggs produced by pullets (young hens). After laying small eggs for a short time, these new pullets lay medium eggs for several weeks . . . the second step in reaching large egg size. Small and medium eggs are now in abundant supply because of an unusually large number of pullet chicks raised this year.

Egg size should not be confused with quality. Grade A small and medium eggs are equal in quality to Grade A large eggs. So when small and medium eggs are in abundant supply—during the fall months—these high quality eggs can provide the homemaker with a bargain in high quality, high protein food.

If the price spread between large and small eggs is 16 cents or more when large eggs are 60 cents a dozen, the small size egg is the economy buy. If the spread between large and medium is 8 cents or more, medium eggs are a better buy than large. Small eggs are a better buy than mediums when they are priced 8 cents under mediums.

You can easily use small and medium eggs in omelets, souffles, custards, scrambled eggs, and egg casseroles. In fact, they fit in any recipe where egg volume can be slightly increased or decreased without affecting the results. Regardless of how you serve small and medium eggs, they are one of the best protein food buys available to Mrs. American Homemaker today.

After corn or soybean harvest, while the soil is relatively dry, is a good time to construct surface drainage systems on flat land, according to Purdue University agricultural engineers.

Tractors, wagons and corn elevators are often involved in accidents during corn harvest time. F. R. Willsey, Purdue University farm safety specialist, suggests that reasonable speed, proper shielding and respect for moving parts will do much to prevent injuries.

Motor Hints

The return to central standard time means evening darkness arrives one hour earlier. The Motor Club points out that this is of great significance to drivers because it increases motoring hazards during the late afternoon hours. Keep your speed down when the sun goes down. Don't speed through tricky twilight.

The Motor Club asks all motorists to make sure their cars are ready for safe winter driving. Keep a close check on your brakes, tires, lights, windshield wipers, defroster, and of course, the engine. Don't wait until the first severe frost to have your car checked for the rugged winter driving days ahead.

The Motor Club advises drivers to cooperate with all school safety patrols in trying to build an even safer record at school crossings.

Since 1922, when the Motor Club pioneered the safety patrol movement, the traffic death rate for school children has been decreased by nearly one-half. Your help can reduce this rate even more.

It is wise for all motorists to respect other drivers and pedestrians and keep the safety of others uppermost in their minds, says the Motor Club. People who drive with this thought in mind will enjoy their driving more than ever—and, more important, are less likely to be involved in an accident.

If the corn picker clogs, shut off the power take-off before leaving the tractor or making any attempt to correct the trouble, reminds F. R. Willsey, Purdue University farm safety specialist. Have available something heavy and sharp enough to cut through the trouble spot, he says.

FARM NOTES

Purdue University agricultural engineers suggest replacing worn snapping rolls on corn pickers to increase their picking capacity. Roll replacement will pay for itself by leaving less corn in the field.

Common chickweed, which may be severe in lawns next spring, usually germinates in the late fall during damp, wet periods, say Purdue University agronomists. They point out that it can be killed at that time with 2,4-D used at regular weed control rates.

The change from summer to winter feeding is a critical time for the dairy herd, especially for fresh cows, according to Purdue University extension dairymen. Silage can be fed as pastures decline. There is no need to delay feeding silage following the ensiling process.

Purdue University agronomists say soil samples should be taken from thin spots in corn fields. Drainage may not be the only factor limiting yields in these areas. A soil test will show whether fertility is lacking.

Poultrymen are advised by Purdue University poultry specialists to be alert to pullets which fail to live up to promise at the time they were housed. Prompt culling is suggested for these fowl.

Oriental cockroaches which have lived outdoors during the summer often invade homes with the coming of cooler weather. Purdue University entomologists say they can be controlled by treating the areas in which they hide with two percent chlordane spray.

Calf pens should be thoroughly cleaned and disinfected now, according to Purdue University veterinarians. Winter calf pens should be easily cleaned, dry and adequately ventilated, but free of drafts.

Box elder bugs now crawling over porches and foundations can be controlled by applying several gallons of a one-half percent dieldrin spray to all outside areas where bugs are found, say Purdue University entomologists.

It's true that all things come to those who wait—on themselves.

Many a good argument is knocked down and run over by progress.

The faults of others appear so glaring that most people entirely overlook the glare of their own.

Necessity may be the mother of invention at times, but it is just the mother of hard work to most of us.

The only buried treasures most people have are the good resolutions they have laid away.

Many a failure can be attributed to the fact that a man keeps too big an account with bad luck in his mental bookkeeping.

Spray-Oiling Market Eggs

Lafayette, Ind. —Farm spray-oiling of eggs is just as important in colder months as in warm months, Melvin L. Wilson, extension poultryman at Purdue University, points out.

Egg quality deteriorates in time regardless of the temperature outside. Oiling lessens the loss of moisture and carbon dioxide, both essential to high quality eggs. Heated egg grading rooms and dryness are the main objections in the winter time.

Oiling, plus a cool, moist storage room (whether artificial cooler or mechanical cooler), will assure the producer of a better egg at the grading station, Wilson says. The high quality of fresh eggs can be maintained for a longer period of time if the best of care is given. Egg oiling is another tool in the quality retention program.

Wilson says eggs should be sprayed with a recommended oil as soon as cool, and within 24 hours after laying. This oiling can be done by use of an aerosol container with a specially prepared product or by use of a hand sprayer. If a hand sprayer is used the producer must use care in keeping the oil free from contamination. Newly laid eggs sprayed with the aerosol container have a very slight shine not objectional to the homemaker. Eggs oil-sprayed retain their freshness longer according to laboratory and field tests.

Danger! Corn Picker

Lafayette, Ind. About 100 Hoosiers farmers are customers each year for artificial limbs or hooks as the result of corn harvest accidents. At least 100 more receive serious injuries, but don't buy artificial equipment.

These statistics, says F. R. Willsey, Purdue University farm safety specialist, emphasize the fact that the corn picker is one of the most dangerous machines on the farm.

Willsey advises farmers to observe these precautions in their picking operations this fall:

Always keep guards and shields in place.

Always stop the tractor and shut off the power take-off before dismounting, oiling, adjusting and unclogging the picker. Always be sure the tractor is out of gear when you start the engine.

Always ride on the seat or stand on the platform. Never allow children to ride on the tractor or the picker.

Wear close-fitting clothing when working around moving parts.

Be especially cautious when working long hours. Reactions are slower as the operator tires.

Be certain a new operator is properly trained before he takes the equipment into the field alone.

Many corn picker accident injuries last a life time, Willsey observes.

"Who thinks he made a good deal when he traded his hand for a few minutes time?" he asks.

For Studying, Playing and Growing, Eggs and Children go well Together

Now, when children are back in school and are needing vital energy for study and play, it's a good idea to take another look at their nutritional requirements and make sure that they are getting all the food value their active lives require.

An ideal stepping stone to good nutrition for school children is the familiar egg. Whether fried, poached, scrambled, soft-cooked, hard-cooked or used as an ingredient with other foods, it provides the body-building protein and amino acids especially needed during period of rapid growth. The fact is that eggs are so nearly perfect in protein content they are used as a standard measurement for all other foods. And in addition, the egg is rich in other factors conducive to sound growth, including structural minerals, calcium, phosphorus, iron and essential vitamins.

These sound nutrition reasons, plus the versatility and palatability of eggs, make them an ideal food for active growing children. Here are some of the many ways in which "eggs and children go together":

For Breakfast:

Breakfast is the beginning point for the body's daily nutritional needs. Nutritionists tell us that we should receive one-fourth to one-third of our daily calorie intake at this first meal. Besides, breakfast is the meal that gets us "started" by breaking a 10-to-12 hour fast, and providing what the body needs to take it through to lunch. Therefore, it is highly important that breakfast lay the foundation for the child's daily nutrition. Eggs are a real mainstay for this important first meal.

A breakfast built around the high protein content of eggs gives children the "staying power" needed for active study and play in the hours before noon. So, "eggs and children go together"—

For Lunch:

The midday meal comes at a busy time in any household. It seems that luncheon often has to be sandwiched in between other items on the homemaker's busy schedule. And yet we all know that it's important for young people to eat a balanced and adequate meal at noontime. Here again, eggs fill the bill because of their versatility, palatability and ease of preparation. Eggs can star as the main dish at your children's luncheon. Serve them creamed, baked, scrambled, in salads, sandwiches, souffled and in a variety of other ways. And, "eggs and children go together"

For Snacks:

The "ice box raid" is a familiar feature of the afternoon routine in any household where school-age children are present. But all too often the foods which children eat after school are not up to par nutritionally for their needs. After all, the proverbial appetites of growing children are not just a happenstance—they reflect the needs of the fast-developing body for additional food energy. So why not make the afternoon or evening snack an occasion for supplying the growing child with the food value his body is yearning for. Here again, eggs are a happy choice. Hard-cooked eggs eaten out of hand or sliced on small crackers make excellent between-meal eating, as do tangy deviled eggs. Or serve them in a fried egg sandwich with all the relish, catsup and mustard the youngsters seem to love so well.

So, any way you look at it, you can rely on eggs to provide the nutrition, digestibility, versatility and good eating that you want for your family, for after all, eggs and children do "go together".

Mrs. Ray Linn of Mentone attended services at the First Presbyterian Church of Winona Lake Sunday, October 26th.

Mary Louise Linn, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Linn of Elkhart and great-granddaughter of Mrs. Ray Linn, was Christened during the Worship Service hour.
