At this get-acquainted meeting, our trustee. Earl Boggs, "Lets us in on details", as to how our tax money is being spent in the education field. This information alone is worth knowing and will certainly give us a good idea whether or not our investments are being properly protected.

Our hospitality committee chairman. Mrs. Loren Tridle, says that her committee will provide coffee and milk for the supper and there will be a film for the children during the meeting.

The Membership Chairman, Mrs. Kenneth Romine and her committee will be ready to accept membership dues, fifty ents per person, per year.

What better way can we invest fifty cents a year, than 'buying" an interest in our Parent-Teacher Partnership" Association?

We'll see you Wednesday night, 6:30 p. m. at the school. Bring any problems or questions you have with you-and food.

Start the school year with your child! This is a guaranteed way to receive high dividends on your investments.

BEETLES DEFOLIATE ELM TREES

Lafayette, Ind. Elm leaf beetles are again defoliating elm trees in several areas of Indiana, reports Dave Matthew, Pur-due University extension entomologist.

These beetles and their larvae skeletonize the leaves of elms causing the trees to appear lacy-brown in color. The damaged leaves turn brown and later die.

The leaf beetles are about one-fourth inch long, yellowish green in color with a dark stripe along each side. The larvae are somewhat larger and have yel-low and black markings. When small, they resemble tiny slugs. When the larvae are fully de-veloped they migrate down the tree trunk to the ground where they change to pupae. Hundreds of these pupae may be found around the base of infested around the base of infested trees. The beetles emerge to lay eggs for another generation. In addition to the damage they cause trees, the beetles become a nuisiance in homes, as in the fall they migrate into buildings Makeup and homes to hibernate. The beetles are easily controlled when infested trees are sprayed with either DDT or lead orsenate, Matthew advises. When these insects are found, apply two quarts DDT 25 per-cent emulsifiable concentrate or two pounds of 50 percent DDT wettable powder per 100 gal-lons of water. Lead arsenate at the rate of four pounds plus one pint summer oil per 100 gallons of water is also effective. Spray when damage is first ob-served. Although some trees al-ready show severe damage, the spraying of those trees where damage is beginning will protect against further heetle feeding. against further beetle feeding.

The United States was invaded by the Salvation Army on March 10, 1880 when eight officers stepped ashore from the steamship Autralia in New York's Battery Park. The invas-ion came only 15 years after the founding of the Army in London.

LEAF DROP IN MID-SUMMER

Don't be greatly disturbed if one of your shade trees sudden-ly drops most of its leaves—the 'ause may be only the weather. Purdue University nursery-men say abrupt shedding of leaves in the summer is a rath-er common occurence. Practic-ally overnight a tree may lose nearly all of its leaves, while nearly all of its leaves, while others nearby of the same species and size remain in full foilage.

Various theories have been advanced in explanation of this phenomenon. Some horticulturists say that during hot weather the roots cannot supply enough water to sustain all the leaves that developed in the spring, and the leaf drop is Nature's way of keeping the roots and foliage in correct ratio

Others say that certain wea ther conditions combined with growth factors in individual development of cells at the base of the leaf petiole similar to that which occurs normally in the autumn. These cells form what is known as the abscission layer - when they develop they grow across the pesticle and, in effect push the leaf off the twic

It has been suggested too, that a tree may absorb so much moisture that the cells connect ing the leaf and twitt are dus solved. When this happens, the leaves drop even though they may be green and normal in appearance.

Take your choice of these theories. It may be that none of them is entirely correct, for no all of the life processes of the plants are fully known But a is certain that some relation ship exists between summer leaf drop and the weather Tree that lose their leaves in the manner usually recover, but the

Meetings Begin September 21st

Purdue University agricultural economists will conduct 81 Outlook meetings throughout Indiana beginning Sept. 21.

Purpose of the meetings will be to answer questions concerning prospects for farm prices and incomes both for 1960 and for the next three to five years.

Effect of the steel strike, inflation and the tight money policy on the demand for farm products and the cost of things farmers buy will be discussed Questions to be discussed include: How long will cattle prices hold up? How low will hog prices go in 1960? Should soybeans be stored this fall? Should corn be sold at harvest time?

What is the forecast for prices of milk, eggs and broilers?

Purdue agricultural economists say that not only farmers, but business men and city consumers will be especially interested in the discussion of trends in prices and incomes. Effects of these trends and other factors on farm real estate prices also will be discussed.

Date and place of meeting in each area of the state will be announced by county agents.

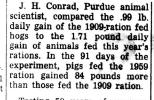

Report On Swine Day

Growing-finishing swine fed a 1959 mixed ration gained 73 percent faster, required 21 percent less feed per pound of gain and made 18 percent more economical gain than hogs on a 1909 diet.

This was reported to some 2.000 persons attending the 39th annual Purdue University Swine Day recently

Purdue swine nutrition experts, reporting on experiments, explained that the 1909 ration contained ground corn, wheat middlings, linseed oil meal, limestone and salt. The 1959 mixed ration consisted of ground corn, 50 percent soybean meal, dicalcium phosphate, limestone, iodized salt, trace miner als, vitamins and antibiotics

FARM LOANS —Low Interest Rates --Confidential Handling

Testing 50 years of progress in feeding free choice rations, nutritionists found that 1959 free choice diets produced 46 percent faster gains, required eight percent less feed per lb. of gain and made 12 percent more economical gains.

W. M. Beeson, head of animal nutrition work at Purdue, re-ported that pigs fed each of seven different feed additives or combinations of them gained significantly faster than those not recieving additives. Daily gains ranged from 18 to 27 percent. None of the additives, while I was in the hospital. however, resulted in a marked Many, many thanks to all. improvement in feed efficiency.

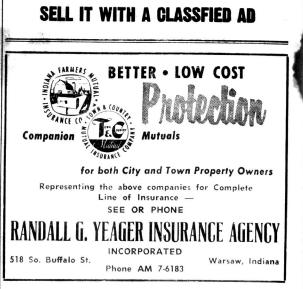

Indiana's greatly reduced watermelon acreage is expected to produce a crop of 738,000 cwt. this year, according to state-federal agricultural statisticians at Purdue University. This is three percent below last year's poor crop and 19 percent below the 1949-57 average.

If September pasture acreages are insufficient or overgrazed, hay and silage will supply nutrients at much less cost than concentrates, Purdue University dairy scientists report. Examine farm-stored grain for possible insect infestation buildups, assert Purdue University entomologists.

Watch For Shipping Fever

Now that cattle and sheep are moving into Indiana feed lots, Dr. T. M. Curtin, Purdue University extension veterinarian, alerts farmers to be on the lookout for shipping fever.

This costly respiratory dis-ease generally strikes when the by fatigue, crowded quarters, chilling and careless, irregular feeding often accompanying the ransportation.

The disease begins much like the common cold in man-eyes watering, nasal discharge and cough. Temperatures sometimes reach as high as 107 degrees. Complications may soon set in, resulting in pneumonia or septicemia. Acute cases may die in 24 to 48 hours and chronic cases fers in acuteness, causitive amay live 20 to 30 days.

Dr. Curtin points out that the primary infection is caused from a virus, while the secondary involvements are bacterial in nature. Highly contagious, the disease will spread rapidly through a feed lot and also to other cattle on the farm. Often native NEWS? Ph. ELmwood 3-3985 cattle will become more seriously involved than those newly purchased.

Newly purchased feeders should be isolated from other animals. They should be kept in a small lot where they are forced to rest and can easily be observed. Their diet should consist of poor quality hay or hay and oats because this ration is similar to that they have received on the range. A sudden change in diet or high concenanimals' resistances is lowered trate diet would add another stress factor, Dr. Curtin says.

When sick animals are no ticed, a veterinarian should be immediately called, so he can initiate treatment and suggest management of the remainder of the animals until the danger passes. Most farmers who "buy" their own treatment from any supplier usually merely change acute cases to chronic cases, Dr. Curtin adds. Each outbreak difgents, weather conditions, number of animals affected and existing conditions and facilities on the farm. There is no "shotgun treatment available which will adjust to all cases.

During the business session plans and goals for the 1959-60 school year were discussed and the program for the year handed out. The membership committee announced that 61 members were signed up at the meeting. October is the month for our membership drive. Our goal for this year is at least half of the school patron list plus all in the community that have an interest in young people and schools.

Next month, Oct. 14, we'll have a first hand report on Alcatraz. Not by a "patron," but by one who visited there recently. This should be educational as well as entertaining. The boys and girls are invited to come and hear the talk and bring their parents.

Each month there will be one or two of the grades present a short program.

The P. T. A. group meets the second Wednesday of each month at 7:30 p.m. in the music room of the schol. Why not reserve this date each month for you and your child? If you are truly interested and show that you are interested in your child's school and his activities-its almost certain the child will be more than willing to do his best in school. Try it!

Plans Underway To Bring Natural Gas To Mentone A franchise to serve gas to the people of Mentone has been requested by Northern Indiana Public Service Company Ston Public Service Company, Stan-ley W. Evans, NIPSCO's Warsaw ley W. Evans, NIPSCO's Warsaw District manager, announced to- Next Week day.

At a meeting of the Mentone Town Board, a preliminary resolution was passed setting the exact form of the franchise and selecting November 2, 1959, as the date when final consideration will be given the franchise in a public hearing.

In announcing the request, Evans said, "This is a part of a twoyear expansion program now being planned by NIPSCO, and has been made possible by the obtaining of an additional supply of gas from the Midwestern Gas Transmission Company of Houston. Texas.

He said NIPSCO has a 20-year contract with Midwestern to purchase 200 million cubic feet of gas per day to be delivered in three primary increments-about 100 mililon cubic feet per day the first year; 145 million cubic feet per day the second year, and up to 200 million cubic feet per day the third year and continuing thereafter.

"With this additional supply of gas," Evans said, "NIPSCO can now offer gas service to many of the cities and towns not previously served by the company, thus opening the way for community growth and new industrial expansion."

At the meeting it was revealed that engineering studies are already underway by the utility to determine the design of a gas distribution system that will be most suitable for Mentone. It was also revealed that under the two year program, a gas transmission line would be laid connecting Mentone to NIPSCO's present gas transmission system, and a complete gas distribution system would be installed in the community.

At the meeting, Evans pointed out that NIPSCO can supply gas to this and other areas not now served by the utility without going through any regulatory chan-nals since NIPSCO's contract to purchase gas from Midwestern has already received the approval of the Federal Power Commission. He urged prompt action by the Mentone Town Board, so as to hasten the time when natural gas, the miracle fuel, can be made available to the people of this area.

be held next Friday, Sept. 25, at the Mentone gym. The one night program will provide a full evening of entertainment, starting with a chicken barbecue at 4:00 in the afternoon. The price of the barbecue is $1.50 each, with no advance sale of tickets.

The evening program will include the selection and crowning of a queen, an educational address, and three fine groups of entertainers.

FLY THE FLAG FROM SEPT. 17 TO 23 COMMEMORATING CONSTITUTION WEEK of Constitution Week is to recall and established them. Although to the American people the true significance of the events that occurred during the week of September 17 to 23 in 1787, and to revitalize appreciation of our great heritage which is the Constitution. It was on September 17, 1787 that the United States Constitution was approved unanimously by the delegates. We are an inheritor of a "Land of Liberty," colonized by courageous people who fled across the seas from tyranny to seek political and religious freedom.

We are inheritors of a Free dom purchased by the blood and hension or imagination. Where sacrifice of those who fought in are the patriotic pictures, the the War of the Revolution; the War of 1812; the War between the States; the Spanish-American War; World War I: World War II; and the Korean War.

We are inheritors of a Great Country opened by the courage and fortitude of explorers and settlers who crossed the mountains and plains by foot, horseback, and covered wagon; who traveled the rivers by canoe and barge, who opened the great resources of field, forest, and mine of the west, and far west. And this they did that they and their descendants might by their own initiative and enterprise attain a life of betterment and security.

We are inheritors of a Free System of Enterprise which has brought to this land the highest standard of living yet known to this world. We live under a Government of the People, by the People. for the People. A government founded on a Fundamental Belief in God. In the Communist-Socialist plan to destroy us, everything American must disappear from our remembrance and experience; therefore, one of their most effective weapons is the removal or replacing of the symbols of our religious and national history. We can and must stop the indoctrination of the Communist-Socialist philosophy in the schools, churches lubs, unions, and Government If the trend away from the Constitution and the American tradition is to be reversed, clearly the remedy is to return to the Constitution and to see that it is observed and enforced. The trend can be reversed only if alert citizens keep reminding their representatives at all levels of government of their proper areas of power. For this purpose, such officials should be referred particularly to Article 1, section 8, of the Constitution which clearly enumerates the duties of the Congress, and to the Ninth and Tenth Amendments, which reserve to the States and to the people the powers not specifically delegat ed to any branch of the Federa Government.

Good home lighting may mean the difference between success and failure. Follow these simple suggestions and your child will never be at a disadvantage due to faulty lighting.

- 1. Eliminate dark shadows in the study room by having an adequate source of general light (ceiling or indirect light).
- 2. Have a lamp of at least 150 watts for reading (preferably diffused-type giving "soft" light).
- 3. Eliminate glare (have no unshielded lights within direct vision of child at work in the room).

Your child will be able to make the best progress in study with good lighting. And the suggestions may be used to benefit the whole family. Why not review your lighting needs today?

Advertising Is A Business Necessity

Imagine a truck ride so smooth and cushioned that fragile loads can travel the worst "washboard" roads with ease. Imagine a truck ride that virtually eliminates shimmy and wheel fight, cuts side sway on curves, makes steering far steadier and easier, keeps drivers far fresher. Imagine a truck ride that permits higher safe cruising speeds, more trips per day with all kinds of cargo over every type of road surface. Imagine a ride that keeps up to 78% of all objectionable road shock and vibration from ever reaching the driver and cargo, a design that sharply reduces twisting and fatigue forces on chassis, cabs and bodies, that keeps trucks young for extra thousands of miles. / Soon you won't have to just imagine such a ride. You can try it for yourself in the trucks that do the next best thing to paving every road in America—new Chevrolet trucks for 1960. You'll see what happens when Chevy's truck engineers design a whole new line of trucks around a whole new kind of torsion-spring suspension. These trucks are new from the ride on up—with wonderfully roomier cabs, brawnier frames, style that's fresh as sixty and more! Don't decide on any new truck till you see the newest of all.

Farm Outlook Meeting Sept. 23

D. E. Frantz, county agricultural agent, announced today that E. E. Carson, agricultural economist at Purdue University, will be in Kosciusko county to conduct this year's meeting on farm outlook for 1960. The meeting will be at 8:00 p. m., September 23 in the Women's Building at the Fairgrounds, Warsaw

Main purpose of the meeting is to answer questions concerning prospects for farm prices and incomes both for next year and for the next 3 to 5 years. Effect of the steel strike, inflation and the tight money policy on (1) the demand for the farm er's products and (2) the cost of things he buys will be discussed. Questions of interest to cattle and hog producers are (1) how long will cattle prices hold up? and (2) how low will hog prices go in 1960? Grain producers will be interested in the dis-cussion on questions such as Should I store my soybeans this fall?" and "Should I sell my corn at harvest time?" Dairy and poultry producers will want to hear the forecast of prospects for prices of milk, eggs and broilers.

Frantz says that not only farmers, but also other business men and city consumers will be especially interested in the discussion of trends in prices and incomes which farmers face for the next 3 to 5 years. Effects of these trends and other factors on farm real estate prices will

MANY ATTEND SCHOOL MEETING

Volume 29, Number 13

There was a large representation from Mentone and vicinity at the county school reorgani zation meeting held at the War saw high school Tuesday eve ning. There was a total attend ance of about 275 from the en tire county.

Judge Rowdabaugh explain ed the new reorganization law and he and Judge Peffley of Whitley county answered questions asked from the floor.

The new school reorganiza tion law requires changes to be made in our school systems There is a time limit of four years for compliance. Indications are that school units of the future will have very little regard for the present township boundaries. The ultimate plan appears to be to provide adequate and equal opportunities for all school pupils irrespective of their locations.

The law states the county judge shall appoint a county committee of nine individuals. They shall include: the county superintendent of schools, a township trustee, a member of a board of school trustees but not a trustee, a school principal or superintendent, and five individuals who have no connection with our school system.

GAS FRANCHISE NOT A TOWN EXPENSE

It has been reported that the providing of natural gas service to Mentone will be an expensive affair. Financially, this is not true. The Northern Indiana Public Service Company, which Membership Month is seeking a gas franchise in Mentone, will pay all the cost of the laying of mains, etc., and there will be no direct expense to the town or its citizens other than the gas which the citizens interest in their school. may eventually use.

Rodent Proof Corn Cribs

crib cost money, says animal important is to keep doors control specialist G. C. Oderkirk closed.

Service at Purdue University. One rat can destroy three bushels of corn annually, so rat proofing corn cribs usually pays. Farmers thinking about building or remodeling their crib should keep these points about rat proofing in mind:

Rats can jump about two feet in the air and burrow three feet under ground. Though their teeth are sharp, they can't gnaw through 24 gauge metal sheets or good grade concrete.

Finally, reduce the number of rats and mice around the crib by removing unnecessary junk piles, stacking materials at least 18 inches off the ground and keeping garbage or other rat

A strong family resemblance between the all-new Corvair and Chevrolet's conventional line of passenger cars for 1960 is evident in this unusual profile view. At 180 inches, however, the Corvair is more than two and one-half feet shorter, while its 108-inch wheelbase compares with 119 on the Impala Sport Sedan with which it appears.

Production Estimates

Despite adverse August weather, Indiana's 1959 corn crop is expected to total 365,820,000 bushels, record production from the state's largest acreage since 1917

State-federal agricultural statisticians at Purdue University report an indicated yield at 67 bushels an acre, two bushels than last year. The 1959 yield more than the Aug. 1 forecast and four bushels more than the previous record of 63 bushels an acre, set in 1958.

Estimated soybean production as of Sept. 1 is 57,850,000 bushels, one percent below last The yield is expected to vear. be 26.5 bushels an acre, same as in 1958. The statisticians describe the crop as "puite uni-form over the state."

The final oat production esti-mate of 32,042,000 bushels is unchanged from the Aug. 1 forecast and is 30 percent smaller per acre is 37 bushels, compared to the record yield of 51 bushels an acre in 1958 and 1955.

Hay production is forecast at 2,267,000 tons, slightly below the August 1 forecast and seven percent below the 1958 crop. Fa-vorable having conditions resulted in quality hay, but late cuttings of alfalfa have been short as a result of dry weather. Commercial apple production is estimated at 1,525,000 bushels, compared with 1,628,000 bushels last year.

Indiana's milk production for August totaled 321 million lbs. four percent below the August 1958 level. Pasture conditions during August were at the lowest level for that month since 1953.

By d'Alessio

August egg production totaled 174 million eggs. The rate of lay per 100 layers was 1,668 eggs compared with 1,646 eggs a year earlier There were six percent fewer layers than in August of 1958.

HOG FARROWING PERIODS CHANGING

A Purdue University study of changing Indiana hog marketing patterns from 1940-1956 reveals earlier and less pro-nounced peak farrowing periods. Accompanying the earlier farrowing dates is a strong ten-dency for earlier peak marketing periods, say T. T. Stout, C. B. Cox and Doyle Spurlock, Purdue agricuiltural economists and authors of the study.

In 1940, only 10.2 percent of the year's pig crop was farrowed in January and February, and only 6.7 percent in June and July, the economists point out. Whereas in 1956, 23.2 percent of the crop was farrowed in the first two months, and 13.7 per-cent in June and July.

The tendency for more even distribution of total farrowing today seems to indicate that frequent marketings more throughout the year don't entirely result from added convenience of more markets, the Purdue staff members explain. Instead, they may reflect an effort to capture a desirable market through careful scheduling and increased multiple-farrow ing.

POLLED HEREFORD CATTLE SHOW

The largest exhibit of Polled Hereford Cattle in the history of the American Royal Livestock Show will be featured at this year's event, Oct. 17-24, in Kansas City.

This will be the eighth year the naturally hornless beef breed has had a separate classification at the American Royal. Eighteen herds from 12 different states have entered nearly 200 prize Polled Herefords in this year's show Indiana turkey growers are raising an estimated 2,794,000 birds this year, seven percent fewer than in 1958, according to state-federal agricultural statisticians at Purdue University. Heavy breeds account for nearly 77 percent of the total.

Why we built two cars for 1960 . . . as different as night and day

On October 2-for the first time in Chevrolet's 49-year history-you will be able to walk into your lealer's showroom and see two totally different kinds of cars.
One is the conventional 1960 Chevrolet, rand new in appearance and more beautifully refined and luxurious than you can imagine. 🔳 The ther is unlike any car we or anybody else ever bullt-the revolutionary Corvair, with the engine in the ear where it belongs in a compact car. 🔳 We'd like to tell you why we built two such different cars, how we built them-and for whom we built them.

Why two kinds of cars? Because America itself has been going through some big changes in the past few years. Our cities have been straining at their seams. Traffic is jam-packed. Parking space is at a premium.

And our suburbs have spread like wildfire. People are living farther from their work, driving more miles on crowded streets. There is new leisure time-but more things to do. There's a new standard of living-and more need for two cars in the family garage. In short, America's automobile needs have become so complex that no one kind of car can satisfy them completely. That is why we at Chevrolet, keeping tab on these trends, have had a revolutionary compact car in the planning stages for more than nine years.

Thus, when we decided three years ago to prepare for production of such a car we were ready to build it the way it should be built. There was no need for a hasty "crash" program that would create only a sawed-off version of a conventional car.

That is why the two cars you will see in your dealer's showroom October 2 will be two entirely different kinds of cars. One is the conventional '60 Chevrolet-brand new in beauty, with new space inside, new spirit under the hood, a new feeling of sumptuousness and luxury never before attained by any car in its field. There is great V8 power linked with new thrift, plus Chevrolet's superb 6-cylinder engine. It is a traditional car that comes even closer to perfection-in silence, in room, in ease of control, in velvety ride-than any other car we have ever made.

The other is the Corvair, a compact car that is astonishingly different from anything ever built in this country. It has to be-because this is a sixpassenger compact car, with a really remarkable performance . . . a car designed specifically to American standards of comfort, to American traffic needs.

The engine is in the rear. Among the basic advantages resulting from this engine location are better traction on a compact 108-inch wheelbase and a practically flat floor. But to be placed in the rear, the engine had to be ultra light and ultra short. So Corvair's engine is totally newmostly aluminum and air cooled; it weighs about 40 per cent less than conventional engines. It is a "flat" horizontally opposed six-so it is only three cylinders long . . . and that leaves a lot more room for passengers. Another weight saving: like modern airplanes, the Corvair has no frame; the body-shell supplies it great structural strength . . . it's a welded unit that is virtually rattle-free.

The ride is fantastic. But to get it we had to design independent suspension at every wheel; conventional springing would give a compact car a choppy ride. Right now we'll make one prediction: no other U.S. compact car will ride so comfortably, hold the road so firmly and handle so beautifully.

Now there are two kinds of cars from Chevrolet-because it takes two kinds of cars to serve America's needs today. If you love luxury-the utmost in luxury-and if you want generous interior space, breath-taking performance, automatic drives and power assists-then the conventional '60 Chevrolet may be your choice.

If easy parking, traffic agility and utmost economy are high on your list -then you should seriously consider the Corvair. But the best thing to do is to look these two new cars over at your Chevrolet dealer's . . . take them out for a drive. It may be that the only logical choice for your family between two cars like this is-both. They make a perfect pair.
