Junior-Senior Reception

The Junior-Senior Reception was held at the school house Friday, April 13. We arrived at 6:30 and after the usual waiting and fussing with our hair, we were led into the cafeteria room where two long tables were placed. These tables were beautifully decorated with white table cloths, stripes of crepe paper in blue and silver (Senior Colors) down the center, gleaming silverware, Jonquils, and best of all at each plate stood little favor place cards. These were little booklets with the Senior class colors and inside was printed the evening program, names of the graduating class, class officers, and names of the faculty. A lovely dinner was served by the Methodist Ladies Aid, beginning with a fruit cocktail and ending with cake and ice cream. After dinner the Toastmaster, Kay Pauluss, introduced the speakers with witty remarks which caused laughs at the speakers expense. The Junior class president, Pauline Swick, gave the opening address with John Doran, Senior president, responding. Then Mr. Kelly, Mr. Greulach, Mr. Paul Smith, Mr. Songer, Miss Mentzer, Mr. Mervil Smith, Mr. Kintzel and Mr. Myers spoke. Mr. Songer came back at the Toastmaster by explaining to us that Kay liked his eggs cooked. Paul Smith assured us that he sat up till two o'clock the night before to prepare his speech but even then his speech was one of the shortest. Mervil Smith compared a speech to a dress. (You must find out that one). Mr. Myers is still trying to find Rex Remy, we suppose. Mr. Kelly spoke about the things that depended on us and how the Seniors had the best wishes of everyone present. Oddly enough after dinner was over the committee bundled us up in our wraps (just as if they didn't want us around anymore), pushed us into automobiles and rushed us over to Akron to the second show. We all enjoyed seeing Gracie Allen, George Burns, Mary Boland and W. C. Fields in "Six of A Kind" What an evening! We were all so tired from laughing that our beds were welcome.

Junior Class News

Morris Greulach—This fiber is grown in the Northwestern part of India. Can anyone tell me what is made from jute? Leo—Jews harps.

Exams are coming Wednesday and Oh! the poor Juniors. Is it likely that we will ever get in the dignified position of Seniors? With these exams our school days are drawing nearer and nearer to a close but never-the-less we still dread these examinations. Our teachers are hard boiled and have no sympathy to waste on "Silly Juniors" (yet we like them) or they would free us from this heavy cloud which hangs over our heads.

This sentence was found in a Frenchman composition: Teeth are like stars, they come out at night. (False Teeth).

In typing we are playing games. We choose up sides and play base ball, basket ball or football. The teams then participate in a speed test and the highest average scores. Wednesday in the basketball game Logan sport beat Mentone in the first and went to the finals against the "Bulldogs". The first game ended in a tie so another game was scheduled which ended in a victory for the "Bulldogs." This proves that our beloved "Bulldog" could beat the Logan sport State Champions. In the football game Mentone beat the "champs" because of a touchdown scored by Jean Manwaring in the last few minutes of the game.

In Mr. Songers Solid Geometry class we have proved that basket ball is very necessary for our education. In the study of Spheres, whenever a student of the class has trouble understanding the proposition we search for the old basketball (which makes an excellent sphere) and proved the theorem. Now we ask you how could the school get along without basket ball or Geometry?

Celebrates Anniversary

On April 10th, 1874 at 10 o'clock in the morning, Mrs. Caroline N. Pearce knelt in prayer and then decided that our women could be and must be organized for missionary service. On April 10th 1934 the Womens Christian Missionary Society of the Christian Church of Warsaw celebrated this sixtieth anniversary with a two course luncheon served in the basement of the Christian Church. Prayer service was held at 10 o'clock followed by reading and special numbers. A vocal selection "Beautiful Garden of Prayer" was beautifully rendered by Mrs. Eiler. A reading by Mrs. Moon and a duet by Mrs. Dunkleberger and Ruth Dunkleberger. At 12:00 all adjourned to the dining room where a dainty two course luncheon was served, after which a violin solo was rendered by Robert Whiteneck followed by an address by the District Secretary which was very interesting and educational. The theme thought of the day was "Who Hindered You". Delegations from Etna Green and Palestine were in attendance. Those attending from Palestine were Mrs. Agnus Sirguy, Mrs. Mary Huffer, Mrs. Elva See, Mrs. Ethel Rush, and Mrs. Clara Vorhis. In behalf of the Etna Green and Palestine delegations we wish to thank the Warsaw ladies for the wonderful hospitality shown us.

France's National Theater

The Comedie Francaise is the official name of the national theater of France, which is supported by public funds for the purpose of advancing dramatic art. It was long known as La Maison de Moliere, or Moliere's theater.

William, Mary, Favorite Names

The Dictionary of Given Names, by Flora Haines Loughhead, indicates that William is the most favored and frequent man's name, being used by about 5,000,000 men, and Mary is the most popular for women, approximately 6,000,000 bearing that name.

Ruin of 95-Room House

A 95-room house found in Overton, Nev., is estimated to be 1,200 years old. It is part of the ruins of the "Lost City" of the Moapa valley.

WARSAW TAKING ON CITY AIRS

Warsaw, the hub of the county is getting on the front pages of the newspapers quite regularly lately. About ten days ago John Dillinger and a pal swooped down on the village, and after beating up their night chief of police, made off with three bullet-proof vests, several pistols and a supply of ammunition.

Then, again, early Monday morning a band of outlaws paid the city another visit—but the city dads it seems were too smart for the second bunch and had taken the precaution to hide their night police force. However the bandits were not to be completely outdone, so they kidnaped and beat up R. Kincaid, manager of the Standard Oil Filling Station, and made a get-away with $250.00 in cash. Now the question before the city dads is: "Whether it would not be better to hide all business places at night and let the bandits have the police department?"

It seems that whenever any bunch of outlaws wants guns, bullet-proof vests, ammunition, machine guns or pistols lately, they come to northern Indiana and go to some county seat town and help themselves. If we are not mistaken the Dillinger raid is about the third raid for ammunition in about the same number of months, and if the Indiana police do not take better care of their guns we are afraid the tax papers will refuse to buy them new equipment. Better wake up men.—Contributed.

Yucatan and Civilization

Yucatan is a cradle of a civilization held by some to be as old as Asia's. The vast tombs, temples, and palaces at Chichen Itza and Uxmal stand as mute evidence of a once stupendous civilization.

First Steam Engine

It is generally assumed that the coltiple, described by Hero of Alexandria, about 150 B. C., was the first steam engine. As early as 1543 A. D. a Spanish captain named Blasco de Garay is reputed to have shown a steamboat of his own invention in the harbor of Barcelona.

The Tree of Jesse

The tree of Jesse is a tree representing the genealogy of Christ from the root of Jesse, used in churches in the Middle Ages as a decoration of windows or walls or in the form of large branched candlesticks. Sometimes the tree is represented as rising from the body of Jesse, who is shown recumbent.

Power of a Smile

- An excellent remedy for "the blues" and preventive of drowsiness will be found in this suggestion. "Keep the corners of your mouth turned up"; in other words, keep a smile upon your lips, even when you are alone. Try it. It acts like a charm. It keeps one in good spirits, and it drives the frown from other faces, too. It acts like sunshine. It warms and brightens all it falls upon. A smile will suppress the angry retort that is dancing on the quivering lips. Smiling faces make a peaceful, happy home. —Anonymous.

Scott Hid Name

For many years Sir Walter Scott's novels were published anonymously, for Scott, seriously and with good reason, believed that if he put his name to "Waverley" and "Guy Mannerling" he would injure his reputation as a poet and even his character as a gentleman—a good commentary on the social standing of the novelist in his days.

Grave of John Paul Jones

The grave of John Paul Jones was discovered by Gen. Horace Porter, in the Protestant cemetery of Paris, France, where it had been placed after a public funeral. The discovery was made in 1905, and later the remains were brought to the United States on an American armored cruiser, the Brooklyn, and interred in the grounds of the Naval academy at Annapolis. —Washington Star.

Porcupine Gets Around

The yellow-haired porcupine is Colorado's largest rodent, next to the beaver, says Nature Magazine. It occurs abundantly in the mountain country but it is a great wanderer and often is encountered far out on the plains. Not infrequently adventurous individuals invade cities and towns, and they have been discovered wandering unconcernedly on the busiest streets of Denver.

Vice Presidents Died in Office

Seven Vice Presidents died during their term of office. They were: George Clinton, 1812; Elbridge Gerry, 1814; William R. King, 1833; Henry Wilson, 1875; Thomas A. Hendricks, 1885; Garrett A. Hobart, 1899; and James A. Sherman, 1912.

The Original Horse

Scientists claim the original horse existed in America millions of years ago, long before man made his appearance on the earth.

Only Way

The man with a black eye and badly scratched face, who was smashing up a new, good-looking car with a sledge-hammer, naturally attracted a crowd. He would hit the car, pause, take a deep breath, and hit it again. He aimed blows at the running board, mudguards, radiator, and windscreen. "Your car?" asked a bystander. "My car," said the man, as he smashed a headlight.

He surveyed the result and grunted with satisfaction. Then he handed the hammer to a garage man—who it turned out, had lent it to him—got in the car, and drove off. As he disappeared the garage men explained what it had all been about.

"That fellow got mixed up in a fight last night," he said. "Got badly knocked about, so he stayed at a hotel instead of going home. Called up his wife and told her he'd been in an accident. So"—the garage man shrugged his shoulders—"so he had to have an accident."—Tit-Bits Magazine.

Children as Jockeys

Home Economics News

A Home Economics Club was organized at the home of Mrs. Vernon Jones, on April 3rd.

Zedna Mollenhour and Clara Clara Riggs of the Harrison Center Club assisted with the organization and gave some demonstrations of work done by their club.

The hostess served sandwiches, pickles and coffee, cafeteria style. The second meeting of the club was held at the Darr home on E. Main street, Wednesday, p. m., April 11. Members responded to roll call with quick dinner hints for house cleaning time. A report of the Leader's meeting at Warsaw was given by Pauline Weissert. Club literature was distributed, some cleaning hints exchanged and "Cherris Pals" selected. Popcorn and candy were served by the hostess.

Next month's meeting will be held May 17th.

Greatness

"For greatness," said Hi Ho, the sage of Chinatown, "two things are necessary: to be wise enough to discern truth clearly and powerful enough to speak it fearlessly."

Their Ancient Ways

The modern young lady fondly imagines that smoking is a new accomplishment as far as women are concerned. In the cotton districts of England the old ladies of the 'nineties liked a whiff from clay pipe, and did not shirk acquaintance with the blackest of thick twist. Cosmetics were taboo, and their presence was held to denote questionable virtue. Macassar oil could be allowed to strengthen and give brilliance to the hair, but lipstick and powder were unknown.—Montreal Herald.

Almost Time to Go

"Is that an eight-day clock?" asked the young man who never seemed to know when to go.

"Well," said the girl, stifling her tenth yawn, "why don't you stay a little longer and find out!"—Stray Stories.

Check-up

After some rioting in Cambodia the French resident was laboriously writing the home office.

"One has to be careful about the report," he explained. "They have the newsreels now."—Louisville Courier.

5,000 Blooms on Plant

With 5,000 blooms on the 13-foot hanging branches, a chrysanthemum plant was taken recently on a special railway car to Tokyo, Japan, for exhibition.

The Height of Urgency

"Speeding, eh! What's your excuse?" "Well, you see, officer, my wife insisted on my catching up with the car ahead. She wanted to see the hat that woman in it was wearing."

"OTHER WOMAN" 23 TIMES TELLS HOW TRICK IS WORKED

Paid Well for Being Caught for Benefit of Wives Seeking Divorce.

Los Angeles.—Twenty-eight times a divorce co-respondent is the record of pretty Kathleen Byrne of New York. It has been discovered here.

A want ad placed in a local newspaper by a motion picture producer seeking "a girl with first-hand knowledge of collusive divorce" to supply needed details for a scenario brought dozens of applicants.

One girl said she had been a professional co-respondent three times and had "made good" every time.

But a letter written by Miss Byrne, late of New York and Boston, who said she had been a professional co-respondent twenty-eight times won her the job of "technical adviser."

Miss Byrne told some of her experiences as a paid co-respondent and how the racket is worked. She said:

They Number Hundreds.

"If you are a professional co-respondent—and there are hundreds of them in New York and other states where a husband or wife must be proved unfaithful in order to make a divorce possible—you usually are on the telephone list of some attorney who specializes in divorce cases. It's like being on call as a model for artists.

"Then, when he has a client, he calls you up. 'Can you work tonight?' he usually says.

"He then makes an appointment for you to go to a hotel to meet a man you've never seen. He is the husband who has arranged with his wife for him to be found in an involved situation so that she may get the divorce.

"Well, the husband usually puts a bottle of liquor on the table and then you retire to the privacy of an adjoining room and put on negligee attire. A state of dishabille is necessary.

"Then you wait, talking about the weather or something. Mister husband is pretty nervous, almost always. Sometimes he takes a good many drinks.

Enter Outraged Wife.

"Finally, there is a knock. You go to the door and say, 'Who is it?' and a bellboy says, 'Ice Water.' Your cue, then, is to open the door . . ."

Whereupon, a detective and the pretendedly outraged wife enter. The detective is very professional. Miss Byrne explains.

"Note the state of dress of the parties," he says to the wife.

They look around a little and go out. That's all there is to it, except that a few weeks later an "undiscovered blond" is specified as co-respondent in a divorce action and deposition of "witnesses" are filed with the papers in the suit.

It isn't necessary for the co-respondent to be named or to appear as a witness.

"You and the 'found out' husband tell each other good by and 'pleased to have met you' and part forever," Miss Byrne explains.

Professional co-responding is well paid, the young "expert" said. "You make from $30 to $1,000 on a case." Some of this has to be paid as commission to the agent who arranges her appearance in the case. Of course, a "co-respondent" is lucky to get two or three cases a month.

Some of the professional co-respondents are men, but the big majority are women, because most husbands allow their wives to do the divorcing.

3 Engines for Train on Hill

"Pick flowers as the engine puffs," may be the advertisement of the only railway running over the steep Rimutakas mountains in North Island, New Zealand. Three engines are necessary to pull a train up the hill, their cogs fitting into a ratcheted rail. The greatest speed they can make is three miles an hour. When the climb begins the passengers get out and walk, only too glad to stretch their legs among the flowers growing along the slope. At the top of the hill all three engines whistle vigorously to call the passengers back to their cars. When the train reaches Wellington the travelers present foxgloves to friends and relatives to prove they have climbed Rimutakas beside the train.

The mill buys wheat, oats, corn.

"L & M" Semi-Paste Paint

CUTS PAINTING COST

"L & M" PAINT is made of lead and zinc which are the expensive ingredients of a fine paint.

The lead and zinc are ground in only enough linseed oil to make a soft creamy semi-paste.

All you do is to stir in sufficient linseed oil to make it ready for use.

You save money because you do not pay the manufacturing and handling costs on the linseed oil as you do when you buy a ready-for-use paint.

EXAMPLE:

1 Gallon Semi-Paste Costs	-	$2.45
3 Quarts Linseed Oil Costs	-	.68

Based on oil at 90c per Gal.

This makes 1 $\frac{3}{4}$ gallons of Ready-for-use paint for

$3.13

Cost Per Gallon - - - $1.79

You stir the oil into "L & M" PAINT in three minutes
It has proven its economy and durability since 1852

On the market for over 80 years.

Scout Scribe

Mrs. Teel has finished her demonstration work for the Home Nurse and First Aid badges. Now all that remains to be done is for us to pass the tests (which is by far the worst)

At the Scout meeting Thursday April 12 the girls tried their hands at dramatics. Can you imagine seeing again the old nursery rhymes that you used to listen to as a child? Those rhymes and stories are exactly what these young ladies acted out. Wouldn't you like to see again the story of the Six Little Goats? Or how about the Three Little Kittens who lost their mittens? Imagine this. Those six little goats were warned by their mother to look out for the old wolf and those daring little goats sang "I'm not afraid of 'The Big Bad Wolf.'" Now isn't that nerve, why any decent wolf had ought to eat them up.

After Scout meeting the Scouts trooped up to the Burns and serenaded Mrs. Burns. Giving her the best wishes of the Scouts and hoping for her speedy recovery. Mrs. Burns has been a loyal and faithful member of the Troop Committee. We do hope that Mrs. Burns won't have any ill results from our visit though I guess we did almost talk an arm off (slang, but please forgive it)

Has Arbor Day ever been celebrated in this town? Well, anyway the Scouts are going to start the old custom here. We are going to plant a tulip tree in the school yard and put on a little ceremony.

Here's good news! We're saving the best till next to the last. Miss Eileen Mollenhour is our new assistant Scout leader. She has made an excellent beginning for she has already taught us a new song for Arbor Day. This song is called "The Tree" and if you wish to hear it you must come to the arbor day program.

April 26 and 27 a Regional Conference for Girl Scout Leaders will be held at Peoria, Illinois. It is a conference for the 7th region which includes Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin and Michigan. A delegation of Miss Rosalind Mentzer, Miss Eileen Mollenhour, Mrs. VanGilder, Mrs. Myers and Mrs. Mollenhour will be present at the conference from Mentone. The president of the National Girl Scouts will be there and speak.

READING CLUB MEETS

The Mentone Reading club met Wednesday evening with Mrs. Flossie Greulach. During the business session Mrs. Edna Burns and Mrs. Mary Boggs were appointed delegates to the county convention. A very interesting letter was read from the county president, welcoming the club into the Federation. The subject of the evening, "Mussolini," was given in a very interesting manner by Mrs. Zada Kesler. Much of her work was taken from his "Autobiography." Mrs. Pearl Lackey very ably directed the discussion. Mrs. Ottie Walburn read a poem in Italian dialect, "Da Leetle Boy," by Augustine Baly. Two new members were admitted into the club. Mrs. Tural Nelson was a guest of the evening. During the social hour, dainty refreshments were served by the hostess. The club then adjourned to meet May 9, with Mrs. Faye Bunner.

Dark at Poles Four Months

The popular idea that half the year is dark at the polar regions is incorrect: there is night only one-third of the year at the North pole.
