TOWN OFFICIALS COOPERATING IN RABIES CONTROL

The members of the Mentone town council are making every effort to conform with the order of County Health Officer Dr. T. S. Schuldt for the control of rabies. Dr. Schuldt states:

1. Stray dogs are to be picked up by police and destroyed.
2. All dogs are to be kept confined by their owners. Dogs caught running at large will be impounded and an effort made to contact the owner who will be held responsible for the animal. (At Mentone it is stated they will be kept one day and then if not claimed by the owner they will have to be destroyed.)

3. Dogs that have been vaccinated and are wearing a rabies tag in addition to the normal dog tag, must be kept tied for the next 10 days or 10 days following such shot and may then be turned loose.

4. No dog, even though vaccinated, should be allowed complete freedom as long as the epidemic lasts. Owners of vaccinated dogs may let them loose for a reasonable amount of exercise, but for public peace of mind, should be kept confined as much of the time as possible.

SCHOOL STATISTICS MAKE INTERESTING READING

Through the courtesy of Mr. Glen Whitehead, county superintendent of schools, we have received some rather interesting figures regarding the Mentone schools. Most of the time we send our children to school and pay little attention to the facilities we provide for their education or to the problems encountered by those whose duty it is to keep the schools functioning properly. The officials have many problems to solve and it requires much study and planning to synchronize today's efforts with tomorrow's requirements.

The following figures, abbreviated for your convenience, tell a rather interesting story of our schools and prove that our officials are giving us economical administration.

(1.) The present county enrollment in the twelve grades is: 1st 473, 2nd 444, 3rd 433, 4th 446, 5th 417, 6th 394, 7th 395, 8th 329, 9th 322, 10th 279, 11th 253, 12th 230.

By the school year 1954, according to the birthrate of the past six years, other factors being equal, we must plan on at least an increase of 25% in school enrollment, grades 1 to 12. (Your township has now 478 enrolled. In 1954 it will likely have over 600.)

(2.) School evaluation: $3,588,000.

Total school tax rate is $0.99 on $100. Limit for school purposes is $2 on $100.

(3.) Mentone ranks second in school enrollment among the county schools. The Mentone 1946-47 per capita cost in grades 1 to 6 was $100.10. The Mentone 1946-47 per capita cost in grades 7 to 12 was $151.89. (These figures include transportation costs.) The 7 to 12 per capita cost figure is the lowest in the county. The highest in the county for grades 1 to 6 for 1946-47 was $149.49. The highest for grades 7 to 12 was $257.94.

The law makes it possible to establish an accumulative or sinking fund not to exceed $0.75 per $100 to be used for building purposes.

HOME HABITS INFLUENCE YOUR FUTURE USEFULNESS

Habits learned in the home will determine one's usefulness later in life, according to Rabbi Ahron Opher, member of the inter-faith committee which is sponsoring National Family Week this year from May 2 to 9 for the sixth time.

"The habit of cooperation acquired in the home will determine one's usefulness and adjustment in society," said the religious leader, who is an official of the Synagogue Council of America with headquarters in New York.

"The home is not a dwelling, but a

By JIM MITCHELL

Many of us have been laboring under the impression that all game in United States is on the decline. We know, at least, that that has been our impression, and it probably is a correct picture of upland game animals and birds. But not so for big game, if the figures today are comparable to 1946.

A report made public recently by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service disclosed a 25 percent gain in big game populations between 1943 and 1946. In 1946 a survey of animals on their winter range showed a total of 8,240,000 head, an increase of 1,641,978 over 1943.

The Wildlife Service started big game tabulations in 1937, but with the exception of 1943, failed to make the surveys during the war years. That is the reason for the 1943-46 comparison. The 1947 figures will not be available for several months.

The state with the largest big game population in 1946 was Michigan, with 880,600 animals, nearly all of which were deer. Wisconsin ranked next with 795,600, followed by Pennsylvania with 679,000; Texas 631,000; Minnesota 622,600; California 591,300; Colorado 436,900; Wyoming 343,600; Maine 328,300; New York 301,100; and Oregon 299,200.

Kansas was the only state with no big game animals. Delaware had only 135 and Rhode Island 500, all white tailed deer.

Deer, naturally outnumbered all other big game animals. Counting white tailed, mule and black tailed deer, the total was 7,375,200. Deer populations in the U. S. reached the bottom in 1915, the Wildlife Service said, when there were only three million of these animals in the country. The present distribution of deer is less than a quarter of their ancestral range, but the trend generally has been upward since surveys started in 1937. Of the 1946 deer total, the white tail accounted for 4,965,000 animals.

In addition to the deer, big game animals found in the U. S. in numbers exceeding 100,000 are elk, prong-horned antelope, peccary and black bear. Relatively scarce animals with populations from one to 24,000 are the moose, Rocky Mountain bighorn sheep, European wild boar, grizzly bear, buffalo and woodland caribou.

Rocky Mountain bighorn sheep topped all other animals in rate of population increases, showing a gain of 75 percent, from 9,152 in 1943 to 16,000 in 1946. The moose ran second in gain, 14,803 to 23,300; and elk increased 24 percent, from 233,714 to 288,800 in 1946. The wild boar declined 30 percent, the buffalo 17 percent and the antelope 5 percent.

It will be interesting to compare 1946 and 1947 figures, for the last year has witnessed a tremendous increase in the number of hunters after big game. The legal kill in 1946 was 923,600 animals. We'll wager the kill was over the million mark in 1947.

On this 738 acre farm in the foothills of the Ozarks, Mr. and Mrs. Bryan saw how turkeys can be raised and marketed the year around. They saw sows which produce an average of 18 pigs yearly on a two-litter-a-year program. They saw dairy heifers raised on dry feed ready for breeding at 12 to 15 months.

For more than 20 years, practical research on this farm has developed programs for breeding, feeding, sanitation and management which have steadily increased the production of meat, milk and eggs, and at the same time, made a corresponding saving in grain.

BROWN COUNTY PARK IS CALLED "VERY PICTURESQUE"

Early vacationists will find Brown County one of the most "picturesque" in the state of Indiana. In the southern section of the state, it is endowed by nature with several forests and beautiful Brown County State Park.

Brown County State Park is located south of Nashville on State Highway 46 and consists of 15,208 acres. A memorial to Kin Hubbard, creator of Abe Martin, the vagabond-philosopher of Brown County Hills, the park has three artificial lakes, a small game sanctuary and a wild life exhibit.

Picnicking, camping, hiking, swimming and horseback riding are some of the various activities offered tourists. Meals and accommodations are available at the park lodge and should be reserved in advance by writing to the Abe Martin Lodge.

At nearby Yellowwood State Forest, fishing enthusiasts will find three lakes stocked for fishing. Numerous hiking trails and a state fish hatchery are also included in the 20,000 acres.

ANNUAL MICHIGAN
SMELT RUN SOON

The annual smelt run in Michigan early this spring should be of particular interest to fishermen. The major run occurs at Boyne City and East Jordan, Michigan, on Lake Charlevoix. These take place when the ice thaws in the spring and the water in the stream has warmed. The smelt then run upstream near the two towns, lay their eggs and return to the lake.

Expert fishermen know the run is on when the temperature of the water reaches 36 degrees. The run will last for several days, with fishermen dipping up the fish in small nets from the banks. Other runs occur at Beulah and at Menominee near the Wisconsin-Michigan state line.

Smelt festivals and jamborees are usually held in connection with the run. Last year's run at East Jordan was climaxed by the crowning of a King of Smeltania.

Inexpensive Unit Protects Refuse,
Discourages Rats

Would you believe that the average home boards from one to five rats? And that rats damage or destroy two billion dollars' worth of food and property each year? Yes, these are the facts.

Rat control experts say that one of the best ways to eliminate rats is to use galvanized steel garbage cans. Equipped with tight-fitting covers, such cans keep rats out of edible refuse. Without this source of food, they usually change quarters or starve.

Home owners often have difficulty keeping covers on garbage cans—they are either lost or damaged. If you are faced with this problem, you can solve it by constructing the unit shown.

The unit consists of 5 1/4 feet of 1-inch pipe, a 1-inch waist nut, a 1-inch malleable ell, a 1/4 inch "U" bolt, a length of chain and enough cement for a square base about 4 inches deep and a few inches larger than the base of the can used. Set upright pipe, which may vary in length, into 3 inches of the cement. Assemble other parts as indicated.

Such a unit adds life to the garbage can by preventing loss or damage of its cover. The concrete base is easy to clean and keeps unsightly mud and water from collecting around the can's base. A coat of paint can be added to dress up this rat-proof refuse area.

Cart Eases Work

THERE'S an old saying that the easiest way to do a thing also is usually the best and most efficient way. That certainly holds true of many a laborious and time-consuming farm chore. Despite our modern mechanization, there still are various little jobs around a farm that can be made easier by taking a leaf out of the book of that worthy ancient who first struck upon the idea of the wheel.

you much time and effort in moving sows from one location to another; or for carrying milk cans, small machines, tools, bags of feed and so on.

The cart is simply and inexpensively constructed. It consists of a plain wooden crate equipped with a handle or trace and mounted on two rubber-tired wheels from an old automobile. The crate, made of 2 x 4's, may have a gate at one end.

Getting a sow into such a vehicle should not be difficult. If she balks at entering, put some grain in the front of the car and entice her in. If she persists in her refusal, put a basket over her head and back her in.

FARM TRACTOR

Budget: Dad, $3.00 for motor—Son, 35c for materials
Materials may be obtained at local hobby shop.

Dear Dad:

This little farm tractor is friction-driven and has plenty of power. The Supermite motor is operated by one No. 935 Eveready flashlight cell which fits snugly under the hood.

Front wheels may be purchased at any model store. These wheels, a few bits of balsa and a tube of model airplane cement (also obtainable at your local model supply store) are the only items you will have to buy for the construction.

Start by making the body. This is composed of a base piece and four bits of 1/2" balsa. Cut all pieces to dimensions given and assemble with pins and cement.

Now make a battery clip of springy tin or light brass. Nail and glue it to the back of the front piece taking care to place it so that it bears on the exact center of the No. 935 Eveready cell. This clip serves as one terminal point. For the other terminal, press a large paper clip through the back piece of the hood, also taking care to center it with the battery nipple.

The paper clip should project about 3/4" beyond the back piece. Bend the prongs out slightly so that when the switch lever is mounted in its slot the switch blade will engage the split prongs as the switch is moved forward.

Fasten the motor to piece "A" with 3 small screws and then hook up motor to the front battery clip and to the switch lever. Hook-up should be made so that the motor revolves in a counter clockwise direction. The direction can be controlled by reversing the leads to the motor.

Connections completed, slip the battery in place and try out the motor. Now remove the battery and get busy on the rear (drive) wheels assembly. A glance at the drawings will show that the rear wheels are mounted on tin hangers. These hangers are pivoted to the back piece and are pulled back by small rubber binders each side of the frame. Just enough tension is needed and no more than is sufficient to hold the right hand drive wheel gently but firmly against the rubber pencil-tip motor drive wheel.

In order for this drive gear to function smoothly, both rear wheels and motor drive wheel must be carefully centered on their respective shafts. The rear wheels are easily centered by using a compass to lay out the balsa reinforcing discs to the exact inside diameter of the cardboard box tops which form the wheels. The rubber-tip drive wheel is somewhat harder to center on the motor shaft but it can be done properly, if care is used.

Sincerely yours,

Doug Rolfe

HEALTH FACTS FROM YOUR STATE BOARD OF HEALTH

CARE OF FOODS DAMAGED BY FLOODS

Instructions in the salvaging of foods, including canned foods, which have been submerged in flood waters, were issued by T. E. Sullivan, acting director, Division of Food and Drugs, Indiana State Board of Health.

"The outside surfaces of hermetically sealed glass and tin containers should be washed in soapy water, scrubbed with a brush, rinsed in clear water and submerged for 15 minutes in a strong chlorine solution," Mr. Sullivan pointed out.

"Some bottled foods as carbonated beverages, milk, catsup, and olives, should be destroyed if they show any discoloration inside the neck of the bottle. Submerged milk, or other drinks in milk bottles, should always be destroyed. Perishable foods, such as fresh fruits and vegetables may be used if deterioration is not apparent, and if used, should be thoroughly washed in soapy water, rinsed in clear water and cooked at high temperature before being eaten.

"Fruits to be eaten raw should not be salvaged," Mr. Sullivan said. "All meats and fish which have been submerged should be destroyed except for those preserved in hermetically sealed containers. Contaminated lards, fats and oils should be sold to the grocery store for the fat salvage campaign. Sugar, coffee, eggs and similar products are not salvageable. If a sufficient quantity of sugar is involved, it can be turned over to a refinery."

The club, with the Palestine Homemakers, plans to go to Chicago April 15. The mystery packages were won by Mrs. Chester Coplen and Mrs. Frank Hudson. High bidders for auction were Mrs. William Hudson, Mrs. Alden Jones, Mrs. Richard Manwaring, Mrs. Charles Eaton, Mrs. Frank Hudson and Mrs. Oral Welch.

Mrs. Gerald Ballenger and Mrs. Chester Coplen received gifts from their Cheerio Pals. One new member, Mrs. Richard Manwaring, was welcomed into the club.

A NEW APPROACH

A somewhat new idea in approach was shown recently when Glen Denton, our druggist, received a letter asking for a contribution for Jewish Aid in Palestine. Attached to the letter was a $1.00 bill. The writer of the letter asked that the $1.00 be returned, along with a donation. Looking at it from any angle, the originator had something. Counting on the basic honesty of most folks, he was sure to get nearly all of the dollar bills returned to him, and it probably would be surprising to know how many did send along a dollar of their own.

STATE NOW PLACING 6000 TROUT IN HOOSIER WATERS

The annual spring planting of trout in Hoosier waters is nearing completion, according to John H. Nigh, director of the Indiana Department of Conservation.

Under a contract with the National Fish and Wildlife Service, the department is now hauling 6,000 trout to Indiana from the federal fish hatchery at Neosha, Missouri. The majority of these trout are rainbows, 8 to 12 inches long.

Eight round trips to Missouri are required by the Conservation Department's special truck, equipped with tanks and circulating water, to bring these fish to Indiana. The Department obtains the trout by paying the feed and transportation costs.

Most of these trout are planted in northern Indiana where the water temperature is more suitable for the species.

Experimental plantings, started last year in central and southern Indiana, again are being made to determine if the trout will survive there.

MENTONE

PHONE 3 on 33

These fish are now doing nicely in the cooler streams of northern Indiana. Donald R. Hughes, state fish and game director, said his office has received reports of trout catches ranging as high as seven pounds and nine pounds.

The Indiana open trout season runs from May 1 to August 31, both dates inclusive. Hoosier anglers have obtained considerable sport from the Department of Conservation's policy of obtaining these trout and planting them in state waters. Most of the fish go into streams but plantings are being made in a few lakes.

Where Can I Find the Plan of Salvation?

We find the plan of salvation in actual operation in the Acts of the Apostles. This book vividly pictures the early history of the Church of Christ. It has been called the book of conversions because it gives in some detail the actual operation of the plan of salvation no less than 8 different times.

The first time is described in chapter 2. In this chapter, the first 13 verses tell of the miraculous events which led up to Peter's great sermon which ushered in a new day and began the greatest age in the history of the world. Verses 14 to 36 outline this famous sermon which was climaxed with the startling declaration, "Therefore let all the house of Israel know assuredly, that God hath made that same Jesus, whom ye have crucified, both Lord and Christ." The question of these people in v. 37 ("Now when they heard this, they were pricked in their heart, and said unto Peter and to the rest of the Apostles, Men and brethren, what shall we do?"), shows that they believed. His answer (v. 38) shows that their salvation (forgiveness of sins or pardon) was conditional—they must repent and be baptized. 3000 of them were baptized that day (v. 41), and they were added to the church by the Lord (v. 47.)

Summarizing, what is the plan of salvation shown here? 1. Preaching; 2. Belief; 3. Repentance; 4. Baptism; 5. Receiving the remission of sins; 6. Receiving the gift of the Holy Ghost, (which God gives to them that obey him—Acts 5:32); 7. They were added to the church by the Lord.

FOX HUNTERS TO HOLD ANNUAL MEET IN STATE FOREST

The Pike County State Forest will be the site of the annual meet of the Central States' Fox Chasers Association on April 20, 21, 22 and 23.

This is the first time such an event has been held in an Indiana State forest, but officials of the organization have told State Forester Ralph Wilcox that, if this spring's event is successful, they plan to conduct their future meetings there.

Approximately 600 persons are expected to camp in the 2,518 acre Pike County forest during this meet, while the evening entertainments will attract larger crowds.

Kentucky, Indiana, Illinois and Ohio are represented on the association's board of directors, but fox hunters and their dogs from distant states, such as Texas, are scheduled to attend.

Three Pike county men head the association this year: Kermit Woolsey of Stendal, president; Herbert Corn of Winslow, vice-president; and Gilbert Corn of Winslow, secretary-treasurer.

PAST NOBLE GRAND CLUB

The Past Noble Grand Club of the Foster Rebecca Lodge of Tippecanoe No. 546 met at the home of Mrs. Gertrude Baer on Tuesday evening, March 30. Roll call was answered by giving the different characters in the Bible. A beautiful reading on Saint Patrick was given by Mrs. Pearl Cormican.

There were other talks also on Saint Patrick. The social evening was spent playing buncos, with prizes going to Bess McCay and Sarah Ellsworth. Everyone had a wonderful time. Refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Baer. The next meeting will be held on April 27 at the home of Mrs. Bonnie Elkins.

MUSIC DEPARTMENT PRE- SENTS FINE PROGRAM

The spring concert by the Mentone school music department, was well received Tuesday evening, and a fine audience was in attendance. Both the band and chorus took part and every student did splendidly.

To add beauty to the affair, the young ladies were attired in formals and Kendall White and Walter Smith had the stage nicely arranged. Much credit is due Mrs. Walburn and Mrs. Emmons for making the corsages.

Dick Miller, of the J. Merle Smith school of twirling, South Bend, gave a fine exhibition of twirling. Accompanists were Jackie Blue, Mrs. Dan L. Urschel, Marilyn Tucker, Mrs. Maude Snyder and Lowell White.

Mrs. Blickenstaff, music instructor, and her capable students are worthy of much praise for the fine performance.

Following the program radios were given to Charles Urschel, H. V. Johns and Mike Yazel. The funds from this feature benefitted the music groups.

We've yet to run across a fisherman who doesn't enjoy seeing new gadgets, and we're certainly no different from the rest. So every year at Sport Show time we rush to the exhibits for a "preview" of what's new for sportsmen.

One of the first new items to attract our attention this year was W. J. Jamison's new bobber—a red, white plastic affair that actually whistles when a fish bites. That we can go for. You just relax in your boat or under a shade tree on the bank and take things easy. You don't even have to keep an eye on your bobber, for at the first nibble it gives out with a whistle and you can spring into action in plenty of time to catch the culprit that's after the bait.

Then there was another new-style bobber produced by Baumac Products that lights up when a fish strikes. And, in addition, this little bobber can be used as a flashlight by simply removing the upper section of the bobber. Mighty handy for night fishing!

There are many good landing nets on the market today, but Lawrenz Products has added a new twist in the two new nets they had on display, the trout size and a larger one suitable for bass and larger fish. But both have "telescoping" handles so that a fisherman can adjust them to any desired length to meet certain fishing conditions. And for the larger net, there's a gaff hook that is interchangeable with the net.

Ever hear the name "Hotcan?" It's been on the market for some time but it was new to us and others, too, at the show. For the fisherman or hunter who wants a hot meal when out on a lake or stream without having to build a fire, the "Hotcan" is the answer. Actually, it is a double can. In the outside can you have two compartments with a liquid in one and a special chemical in the other. By punching small holes in the top, the liquid and chemical mix, creating heat which makes the food in the inner can the desired temperature for eating. It takes 12 minutes.

The "Hotcan" food is mighty tasty. We know because we tried some. You can buy cans of coffee, hot chocolate, chicken noodle soup, frankfurters, beans and hamburgers with tomato sauce

And with the new gadgets were many fine rods, reels, lures, lines and the host of other equipment on display, clearly indicating that there will be plenty of tackle and accessories in the stores this spring and summer. The manufacturers we talked to were happy with production figures and the prospects of erasing all shortages in outdoor gear.

Tourists will find many attractions in Wisconsin this year because of the many pageants and celebrations to be held in connection with the state's centennial. Wisconsin was admitted into the Union by an act of Congress on May 29, 1848.

On Sunday, April 4, an Old Time Fiddlers Contest was held at the Madison Community Center, Madison, for fiddlers of southern Wisconsin.

This is another case of conversion, another passage in which we see the plan of salvation in actual operation. As usual, Christ is preached. "Then Phillip went down to the city of Samaria, and preached Christ unto them." (v. 5). Phillip's preaching, like that of the Apostles on the day of Pentecost, was accompanied by miracles. These miracles accomplished their purpose in helping to create belief.

Today, the miraculous is not necessary to make believers because we have the written word of God for this purpose. "But these are written, that ye might believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God; and that believing ye might have life through his name." (John 20:31). Miracles were aids to the church while it was learning to stand alone. But we should not expect them after we can stand alone. When you are erecting a house, it is essential to use scaffolding. But you don't keep it up, after the house is built, for it would mar the beauty of the setting. It is very essential for its time and place, but when the building is completed, it should be removed. Thus it was with miracles. Originally they were required to produce faith, but now 'faith cometh by hearing, and hearing by the word of God' (Romans 10:17).

In verse 12 of Acts 8, we see that when they believed, "they were baptized both men and women". This is as simple and direct as the commission under which Phillip preached, "He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved." (Mark 16:16).

SMALLPOX PROTECTION

School and mass immunization campaigns in Indiana in 1947 resulted in 18,920 persons being vaccinated against smallpox, according to an immunization report made by Dr. J. W. Jackson, director, Communicable Disease Control, Indiana State Board of Health.

The immunization of 18,920 people leaves a high percentage of Indiana's 3,910,000 population still unprotected against the disease which caused Indiana to rank first as compared to other states in the number of cases reported in 1947. The first death since 1941 also occurred last year.

School immunization programs are conducted through the co-operation of health officers, county medical societies and the State Board of Health. However, it is recommended by the State Board of Health that immunizations be given by the family doctor in his office instead of making it necessary to have school programs.

The counties in which the largest number of vaccinations were given include Lake county, which had the largest number of reported cases, Madison, Bartholomew, Boone and Morgan.

FREE NATURALIST SERVICE OFFERED IN STATE PARKS

Although the regular summer naturalist service in Indiana state parks will not get under way until June, week end service is to be available at three parks this spring.

John H. Nigh, director of the Indiana Department of Conservation, announced that this free assistance to visitors will be offered on week ends at Dunes and Pokagon parks, beginning April 16. The week end service already has started at Turkey Run.

It is estimated that this naturalist service, given by biology teachers or college students, reaches approximately 300,000 state park visitors annually. Started in 1927, this service is under the supervision of Sidney R. Esten, chief naturalist for the Department of Conservation, who also is employed as a biology teacher at Broad Ripple high school and Butler University.

The following state parks will offer daily naturalist service beginning about June 10: Clifty Falls (Spring Mill, Brown County, McCormick's Creek, Turkey Run, Shades, Pokagon and the Dunes.

Although the type of program varies somewhat in each of the state parks where it is available, it includes such features as nature hikes, bird hikes, field and illustrated lectures, hay rides, weiner roasts and other instructive and recreational activities.

Generally, the week end naturalist service runs on the following schedule: Friday night, songfest; Saturday morning and afternoon, general hikes; Saturday night, lecture and square dances; Sunday morning, bird hike; and Sunday afternoon, general nature hike.

HOW TO GET RID OF MILKSTONE IS EXPLAINED

One of the biggest headaches of farmers producing milk for family use or sale is milkstone. Miss Lois Oberhelman, extension nutrition specialist, Purdue University, tells farm women that this troublesome deposit will disappear when dairy utensils are given proper and complete care. Milkstone is one of the causes of high bacterial count in milk and it frequently causes poor quality milk and reduced milk checks.

Miss Oberhelman stated that milkstone is caused by minerals in washing water and solids in milk. This combination of minerals and milk solids deposits itself inside milk utensils where it becomes a good harbor for bacteria. Careful cleaning of milking machine, cream separator, milk cans, pails and strainers will help to solve the milkstone problem.

Immediate rinsing is the first and one of the most important steps in proper care of dairy utensils. The beginning of milkstone occurs with the drying of milk in the utensil, which is very difficult to remove completely later.

Soap and a dish rag are "out" as far as contributing to clean milk equipment. A brush, clean hot water, and a detergent or soapless cleaner should be used to scrub the utensils.

Utensils should be sterilized after washing, but sterilization is effective only on utensils that have been cleaned properly. One method of sterilization is to scald the utensils in boiling water, using enough water to thoroughly heat all the metal surface. They should be dipped in boiling water for at least one minute and then placed on draining rack for rapid drying and draining.

The other method, chemical sterilization, is applied by rinsing, just before the utensils are to be used. Chlorine compounds are available for this use but one should be sure to follow the manufacturer's directions in using it. The effectiveness of this method is dependent upon cleanliness of utensils prior to sterilization.

For more complete directions on the care of dairy utensils, write to the Purdue University Agricultural Extension Service, West Lafayette, Indiana, for a copy of Leaflet 260, "Cleaning and Sterilizing Dairy Utensils."

MAKE EVERY BUSHEL COUNT Feed Morton's Free Choice Salt

IN terms of feed, a pound of salt is equal to 151 pounds of corn. Purdue University Tests prove this. Given salt free choice, hogs needed 151 pounds less corn to reach market weight than hogs which got no salt.

Salt is more than an appetizer. It is vitally needed for the proper digestion. It supplies the chlorine for hydrochloric acid, the sodium for bile, without which proteins, fats, and carbohydrates are not digested and assimilated, but wasted.

All livestock do better and are more profitable when fed salt free choice. It helps them convert feed into profits much faster, at lower cost — and as nature intended.

Before chicks arrive, sweep down cobwebs, scrape and clean floor. Scrub with hot lye solution and spray with good cresol disinfectant. Start brooder stove 4 days before chicks arrive to dry out house and eliminate toxic fumes.

Long before chicks arrive, thermomater, so there's needed. Get it up to 85° it will register 95°F. A inches deep and cover.

Mrs. Chester Ritenous of Oxford, Indiana, realizes the importance of good feeding to get chicks off to a strong, fast start. She uses a good, commercial chick starter that contains all the proteins, minerals and vitamins young chicks need for health.

As a coccidiosis precaution, feed a corn flushing mash for a full day every two weeks. Flushing mash also perks up appetite and intake. Here, Orval Hagerty feeds his 6-week old Barred Rock broilers who are making good gains.

Poultry Profits start with the chicks

Poultry profits next winter depend largely upon how well you get your chicks started this spring . . . upon your success in growing them into large, well-developed profit-pullets. With good housing, feeding, care and management, chick death losses can be held to a minimum. Birds can be brought into production early while egg prices are highest, and pullets will have what it takes to carry on heavy production right through the laying year.

This picture story illustrates a step-by-step chick raising plan that will help assure you poultry success and bigger egg profits next fall and winter.

Remember, "cheap chicks don't cheep long", so buy from a reliable hatchery and get the best. Figure your laying house capacity and order 2½ straight run chicks for each 4 sq. ft. of hen house floor space. Here Mrs. C. P. Allen and son James, put day-old chicks under incubator.

check brooder stove and will be time for repairs, if F. When chicks are under, add new, dry litter 4 or 5 with sacks or newspaper.

Don't over crowd. Provide one half square foot of floor space per chick. Use two 24-inch feeders, or equivalent, and two or three water founts for every one hundred chicks. Be sure feeders and water founts have been well cleaned and disinfected.

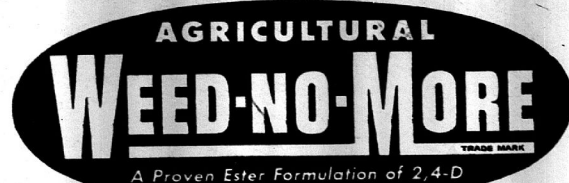

At six to eight weeks, move pullets to range shelters (weather permitting) on clean, legume pasture. Change to a commercial growing mash and keep one range hopper filled with it, another with corn or oats. Provide a constant supply of clean, cool water.

KILL WEEDS

in growing crops with

The new miracle chemical 2,4-D, offered in its most effective form in Agricultural Weed-No-More, brings you the practical, low-cost way to kill weeds in growing small grains.

Spraying Agricultural Weed-No-More on young corn is faster than cultivating, kills weeds right up to the corn plants, makes row-planting practical.

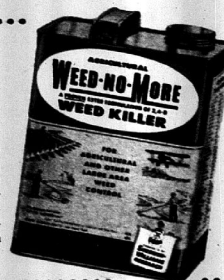

On pastures, fence rows, ditch banks, and grassed waterways, Agricultural Weed-No-More kills weeds, roots and all.

Agricultural Weed-No-More goes on fast—covers 7 to 15 acres per hour. It goes far, too—½ pint to 2 pints in only 5 gallons of water treats 1 acre! Apply it by the new low-gallonage method developed and proved by Sherwin-Williams Research. Use a simple, low-cost rig that you or any local shop can quickly assemble.

AGRICULTURAL WEED-NO-MORE

Costs less per acre because it controls weeds more effectively!

Agricultural authorities have found that the ester forms of 2,4-D used in Agricultural Weed-No-More penetrate weed leaves within 5 minutes, do not wash off, mix easily with water, won't clog or corrode spray equipment, and are harmless to stock. Agricultural Weed-No-More has been proved on more than 500,000 acres.

Sift flour once, measure, add soda, salt and ginger, and sift again. Place molasses, shortening, and sugar in saucepan and cook gently 2 minutes; stir constantly. Cool to lukewarm. ## Teen-Agers Mix the Batter

Sunday night finds teen-agers in town and in the country gathered for fun and food. Each of the girls whips up her own specialty and the boys roll up their sleeves and don aprons while they roast wieners on long, pointed sticks in the rec room fireplace or fry beefburgers on the grill for the gang.

Gwen, the prize bread maker, takes over the job of providing enough homemade buns for the crowd. Sometimes on special occasions, her contribution takes the form of pecan rolls or nut bread.

And there's Irene, who's an artist at heart. Anyone would know it to lay eyes on the salads she concocts. She has a basic recipe which she uses with variations.

Marge brings cookies which the boys consume by the dozen, but she doesn't mind, for she uses recipes that have been handed down by her grandmother. Each week she pulls out the yellowed old cook book and tries out a different recipe.

Beth says simply that the way to a boy's heart is paved with chocolate cake . . . so she'll tread a chocolate path. Karen and Jean come up with ideas for dessert and plan the funfest that follows.

As a rule, the menu is planned in order to provide a fairly balanced meal — but the boys never seem to mind if it's a bit loaded with sweets. Once — just once — it was pot luck. Only it happened that everyone brought potato salad, and that didn't work out too well. So now each girl has developed a specialty all her own that fits into the picture as a whole. And food and fun reign supreme when the teen-agers mix the batter.

Beth knows that the way to a boy's heart is paved with chocolate cake like this.

- |  |                        |
|--|------------------------|
| 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoons soda         | 2 egg yolks, unbeaten  |
| $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon salt            | 2 squares unsweetened  |
| $\frac{1}{2}$ cup butter or other      | chocolate, melted      |
| shortening                             | $\frac{2}{3}$ cup milk |
| 4 tablespoons sugar                    | 1 teaspoon vanilla     |
| 1 cup corn syrup                       | 2 egg whites           |
| 1 $\frac{1}{4}$ cups sifted cake flour |                        |

Sift flour once, measure, add soda and salt, and sift together three times. Cream shortening, add sugar and cream well. Add syrup very gradually, by tablespoons at first, beating very hard after each addition to keep mixture thick. Then add  $\frac{1}{4}$  of flour and beat until smooth and well blended. Add egg yolks, one at a time, beating well after each. Add chocolate and blend. Add remaining flour in thirds, alternately with milk in halves, beating very well after each addition. Add vanilla. Beat egg whites until they will hold up in moist peaks. Stir quickly but thoroughly into batter. Bake in two greased 9-inch layer pans in moderate oven (350°F.) 25 minutes, or until done. Double recipe for three 1-inch layers.

Irene is an artist skilled in concocting salads just out of this world! Here's her cottage cheese mold.

1 package lemon-flavored gelatin
1½ cups hot water
1 tablespoon vinegar

1 teaspoon salt
Dash of cayenne
1 cup cottage cheese
½ cup mayonnaise

Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Add vinegar, salt and cayenne. Chill. When slightly thickened place in bowl of ice and water and whip with rotary egg beater until fluffy and thick like whipped cream. Combine cheese and mayonnaise and fold into gelatin. Turn into mold. Chill until firm. Unmold on crisp lettuce. Garnish with mayonnaise. Makes 10 servings.

Variations

1 cup chopped celery
½ cup chopped nut meats

½ cup chopped pickles
½ cup chopped stuffed olives

Add one of the above ingredients or a combination of them. Fold into gelatin after adding cheese mixture. Makes 10 to 12 servings.

Karen and Peter work together to finish the gingerbread — Karen frosts it while Peter samples!

LIONS MEMBERS HEAR

LADY FROM ESTONIA

Mrs. Paul Truman, of Plymouth, gave a very interesting talk at the Lions club meeting Wednesday evening. She told how she was a native of Estonia when the Russians moved in the area in 1939; how the government was taken over, churches closed, homes, autos and radios confiscated, and hundreds of men, women and children deported far into Russian territory. After enduring Russian rule for some time, the German armies then drove the Russians out and they then took over control of local affairs. The Germans were smoother operators and convinced hundreds of young people to go to Germany where they suffered as slave laborers. When the Germans were rebuffed at Stalingrad, the Russians then returned and most Estonians either fled or remained to fight to the death—as did her husband and brother. She, her daughter and mother and father escaped to an island in the Baltic two hours after the last Swedish boat had left for Sweden. After heavy Russian bombing, a German boat came along and took them to a displaced persons camp in Germany. Later going to Austria, eventually escaping to a farm home in the hills, she found employment in an American occupation unit following war's end. Months later she came to America to marry an American officer she had met there. Army regulations wouldn't permit her daughter to come with her, but arrangements have now been completed and she expects here within the next sixty days.

Her reactions to the "insulting" air of Americans—especially their frank expressions—brought the Lions out of a deep concentration. She was very interesting and the club is indebted to Lion Jack VanGilder of Mentone, and Lion and Mrs. Harley Spray, of Argos, for arranging her visit here.

"We've always been a little envious of sportsmen who can walk through a patch of poison ivy without suffering disastrous effects, for we have learned from past experience that to come into contact with this plant means many uncomfortable days of recuperating. And we are not alone, for thousands and thousands of outdoorsmen annually get poison ivy.

Consequently we were happy to read that scientists in the Columbia University laboratories are making progress in learning the exact chemical nature of the active principle of poison ivy. Recent studies have revealed a close relationship between sensitivity to poison ivy and a wide variety of substances and materials, both natural and manufactured. A synthetic compound, having the same structural skeleton as poison ivy, has been developed and, at present, is undergoing extensive tests. And it is possible that this compound, in a suitable vehicle and concentration, may be used in an attempt to desensitize persons sensitive to poison ivy.

Here's hoping the university boys luck in finding the solution quickly so we, and all the other suffering sportsmen, can wade through the brush without having to travel a zig-zag course in avoiding the ivy plants.

HATCHERY FISH: We have often wondered just how many hatchery fish are able to escape the fishermen, and other enemies, the first year after being planted. A report from Michigan partially answers the question, and, frankly, we are amazed at the figures uncovered through a voluntary creel census made on the upper part of the Au Sable River last year. There were 8,000 trout taken during the survey, 28 per cent of which were hatchery-released fish.

Of 1,114 hatchery brook trout caught in 1947, 1,110 were planted the same season and four were carried over from 1946 plantings. Of 265 hatchery rainbows, 256 were stock and nine from 1946. There were 812 brown trout caught that had been planted the same year, and 26 were a carry-over.

Unquestionably, bass and other species of fish would show a greater percentage of "carry-over", but the above figures make you sit up and wonder just how Dairymen who supply sufficient amounts of fertility to promote early and rapid growth of grasses and legumes for pastures, rotating and clipping when necessary, do not have weedy pastures, G. A. An exceptional season is in prospect for fishermen in the waters of Illinois, Indiana, Michigan and Wisconsin, according to a bulletin issued by the Chicago Motor Club's Touring Bureau.

The Wisconsin Conservation Department has planted an average of over one billion fish annually in Wisconsin's lakes and streams over the past 10 years. Veteran anglers know that the best fishing is in the early spring and in the fall when the temperature of the water is considerably lower.

While the trout season in Wisconsin does not open until May 15, fishermen may troll for lake trout from April 15 to September 30. The laws on other species of fish are as follows:

Wall-eyed and northern pike, May 15 to January 25; muskellunge, May 25 to January 15; black bass, (large and small mouth) June 20 to January 15.

The Indiana Department of Conservation has reported that the annual spring planting of trout in Hoosier waters is nearing completion. The department has been hauling 6,000 trout, mostly rainbows, from the federal fish hatchery at Neosha, Missouri, to be planted in the cool streams of northern Indiana.

Experimental plantings will be made in central and southern waters to determine if the trout will survive there. The open season on trout in Indiana starts on May 1 and runs to August 31.

The closed season on bluegill, yellow perch, rock bass (red eye), crappie and red eared sunfish has been removed for this year. This step was taken by the Conservation Department because of evidence that the food supply is inadequate for the number of fish in Indiana lakes and streams.

The Indiana closed season on northern and wall-eyed pike, silver and Kentucky bass, and large and small mouth bass extends from May 1 to June 15 inclusive.

The Western Beagle Club field trials will be held on April 18 at the Tippecanoe River State Park near Winamac, Indiana. Sixty to 100 hounds are expected to compete in the trials beginning at 8:00 a.m. and continuing throughout the day. Spectators will be able to follow the hounds and enjoy the chase because of the excellent location of the running grounds.

Two hundred athletes from the United States and Canada will participate in the 21st International Y.M.C.A. Swimming and Diving Championships to be held April 23 and 24 at the Y.M.C.A. pool in Huntington, Indiana. Huntington is the defending team champion.

Purdue University horticulturists call attention to USDA's Federal Seed Act, which requires that seeds must have been tested for germination within six months prior to date of sale, but some dealers carry packaged seeds over from the previous season and thereby fail to meet this requirement. Vegetable seeds that are below standard germination may be sold only when so labeled. Sales from open containers without retail labels are a violation. This applies to all seed shipped in interstate commerce.

TAKE GOOD MANNERS TO SPRING WOODS

Springtime shouldn't mean the shedding of one's manners with their winter clothes when they make the annual pilgrimage to the woods. J. L. Van-

Camp, Purdue University extension forester warns.

Tearing branches from dogwood and redbud trees, or from flowering apple or cherry, is one of the first examples of bad manners exhibited by many early spring visitors to the country. If these flowering branches were used it might be excusable. However, many thoughtless people, often those who gather the largest bundles, abandon them before they reach home in the evening.

Spring wild flowers are treated with the same carelessness, where people have not learned good out-of-doors manners. Wild flowers look much better in their natural habitat. They should be admired in place and left for others to see as well. Many wild flowers take years to develop to the blossoming stage. They should be left to seed and reproduce wherever possible. Some of our finest wild flowers are becoming scarce or even extinct because of ruthless gathering, digging, or trampling by the public, for the sake of a few moments of pleasure before the flowers wilt.

In addition, many people take their "popcorn eating" habits into the country with them. This practice often litters up the otherwise beautiful landscape with papers, lunch plates, tin cans and trash. The mark of a good woodsman is a clean camp site, the forester emphasized.

Conservation education in schools, Scout camps, 4-H club groups, and other organizations stresses the duty we have to our community and to our neighbors, through use of good manners out-of-doors. A community in which the inhabitants respect the flowering plants and trees, maintain their roadsides and parks free from litter and rubbish, is one in which good manners is instinctive, indoors or out.

Corrugated Asbestos Sheets
ONE of the modern developments in farm building construction is the growing use of corrugated asbestos cement sheets as siding and roofing for dairy barns, grain storages, hog houses and the like.

Employed for many years as exterior and interior building material for various types of industrial structures, the sheets have many advantages which make them adaptable to farm use. One is the fact that they may be applied to widely spaced framing members. This is possible because the tough mineral composition of the sheets, together with the corrugations, gives them a high degree of strength.

A dairy barn like that illustrated below, constructed with corrugated asbestos cement sheets, is exceptionally economical in the long run. The sheets require no painting or other preservative treatment, and they last indefinitely with little or no maintenance. The natural light grey color and the mellow shadows cast by the corrugations present an unusually pleasing appearance.

Corrugated asbestos cement sheets also provide the farmer with several important "bonus" features. Made of two indestructible minerals, asbestos fibers and portland cement, the sheets are weather-proof and fireproof, as well as being immune to decay, rust, rats and termites.

Value of Soaps

Soaps have some germicidal power, especially when used with hot water, but this power is rather limited. Cleaning with soap and hot water kills some of the less resistant disease germs but the effect is largely mechanical through removal of dirt and infective material.

NEWEST FABRIC IS NON-WOVEN

Non-woven fabrics are one of the newest developments in the textile field. Miss Meta M. Martin, extension specialist in clothing, Purdue University, says this non-woven fabric is now on the market in the form of napkins and guest towels.

As the name implies, the process for manufacturing this fabric, completely eliminates spinning and weaving. Instead, the fibers are matted together and held there by a "binder." Cotton and rayon are the principal fibers used in the manufacture of this material.

Miss Martin reports these non-woven fabrics are made with either soft or stiff finishes. They can be treated to be water repellant, stainproof, or flame proof. The fabrics are highly absorbent and yet do not disintegrate in water. The napkins and guest towels come in plain colors or printed designs.

Small gift shops, stationery and houseware departments of larger department stores are now beginning to carry articles of non-woven material. Even with its great water absorbency, one should not expect unusual strength in this material since it cannot be expected to be as strong as a woven fabric.

VETERANS CAN RENEW INSURANCE WITHOUT EXAM

With only a little more than 90 days before the deadline to reinstate National Service Life Insurance without taking a physical examination, the Veterans Administration Officer emphasized the ease with which veterans can put their insurance back into force. The deadline for reinstating without a physical examination is on or before July 31, 1948.

Two steps are necessary to reinstate term insurance:

1. Sign a comparative health statement indicating your health is as good as when the insurance lapsed.
2. Pay two monthly premiums.

After reinstatement of a veteran's term insurance, a veteran has eight years from the original date of the insurance, to convert it to any one of five insurance plans offered by the VA if his policy was originally taken out before January 1, 1946. If it was taken out after January 1, 1946, the veteran has five years from its original date, to convert.

RID SHEEP NOW OF STOMACH WORMS

Let's keep healthy ewes healthy. Henry Mayo, Purdue University extension animal husbandryman advises sheepmen that one important practice in keeping their sheep healthy is to get rid of stomach worms before sheep go to pasture. One ounce of phenothiazine given to each ewe before the pasture season, will practically eradicate stomach worms. This may be given either as a drench, large capsules, or the powder may be mixed with the grain feed.

During the pasture season stomach worms will be controlled if a mixture of nine parts by weight of salt to one part of phenothiazine is kept before them. No other salt should be fed. This salt-phenothiazine mixture should be protected from the sun and rain.

Phenothiazine is not effective in controlling tape worms, which occasionally are found in sheep.

9:00 to 9:15: WHOT—1490 on your dial

In Acts 8:26-37 we are introduced to a case of conversion in which a single individual is the subject and the details are given with unusual fullness. Philip, the preacher, is directed by an angel to journey nearly 50 miles in order to meet the treasurer of Ethiopia. This man was returning home from worshipping in Jerusalem and was reading in the book of Isaiah when Philip asked, "understandest thou what thou readest?" Philip was invited to explain the scriptures to him and he "preached unto him Jesus." To do this, of course, he told him that Jesus died for our sins and rose from the dead. No doubt he showed that through Jesus' blood, by faith and repentance and baptism in His name, we are to receive remission of sins.

When they came to a stream or pool of water along the way, the treasurer said, "See, here is water; what doth hinder me to be baptized?" Philip told him that an open confession of Christ as the Son of God would make him a fit subject for baptism, so when he made that confession, he baptized him. It is impossible to frame a sentence which could more clearly show that in order to baptize the Ethiopian, they both went down into the water and after the baptism they both came up out of it. (verses 38, 39). Neither Philip nor the eunuch would have gone into the water to merely sprinkle a small quantity of water upon him. This passage alone (even if we know nothing at all of the meaning of the word "baptize") would settle the question to those who are free to follow exactly the obvious meaning of the scriptures.

SAND BOUGHT FROM STATE GOING INTO CHICAGO AIRPORT

Hoosier sand, purchased from the Indiana Department of Conservation, is being used in the construction of a new airport in Chicago.

Director John H. Nigh said that royalties from this project and other sand and gravel sales will bring the Conservation Department its largest revenue from this source for the past decade.

Royalties from these products, taken out of Indiana lakes and streams, yielded $56,651.15 during the 1947 fiscal year. This sum, however, will be topped by more than $20,000 from sand and gravel sales this fiscal year.

The sand used for the fill of the Northernly Airport, now being built in Chicago, comes from the Indiana Shoals—a vast deposit of sand in Lake Michigan near Indiana Harbor. It lies in the lake area under Indiana control.

Removal operations, started a year ago, are scheduled to be resumed May 3 by the company having the contract for the new airport fill. This firm is pouring 800,000 cubic yards of fill sand—taken from Indiana Shoals and for which the Hoosier state receives three cents per yard—behind bulkheads to increase the island's area by 22 acres.

The Northernly Island Airport, located on the site of Chicago's Century of Progress, is scheduled for completion about August 1.

Indiana also receives monthly royalties from two other firms which remove sand and gravel from Indiana Shoals and haul it to docks at Chicago where the products are sold commercially. These company's ships already have started operations for the season.

Sand and gravel royalties go to the Conservation Department's Division of Parks, Lands and Waters.

HEALTH FACTS FROM YOUR STATE BOARD OF HEALTH

The prevalence of rabies among animals in Indiana has doubled this year in comparison to the number of cases of rabid animals for the same period a year ago, according to Dr. Raymond Fagon, veterinary epidemiologist, Indiana State Board of Health.

The total number of cases reported as of April 15 is 230 as compared to 127 for the same period a year ago.

"The tragedy of these figures is that we know everything there is to know about the control of rabies, its cause and its mode of transmission, but still rabies in animals continues to increase in Indiana," Dr. Fagon pointed out. "Two counties in Indiana, Marion and Morgan, have had to renew quarantines recently because local health authorities have been unable to control the disease.

"This lack of control is caused by the fact that either the people are unacquainted with what to do about the problem or else they refuse to recognize the seriousness of the problem and fail to cooperate with local officials in controlling the situation. The control of rabies is purely a local problem with the state and national levels providing an over-all supervision.

'Control measures include restraining dogs, confining or destroying stray or unwanted dogs, and protecting one's own dog through vaccination once each year by a veterinarian."

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Brown are visiting friends in Washington, D. C. this week.

Powdered charcoal made from coconut shells is used in gas masks because it absorbs great quantities of the gas. World Book encyclopedia points out the difference between adsorption and absorption. By JIM MITCHELL

With food and cover two essentials in the protection and propagation of upland game birds and animals, it's heartening to learn that field tests with multiflora rose, a vigorous growing shrub, have partially solved the cover problem. In heavily-farmed areas our birds and animals can find sufficient food for a reasonable diet with only a little help from the farmers and sportsmen. But these birds and animals need a lot of help in finding cover. For more intense farming and increased acreage have virtually eliminated the spots that once protected the wildlife.

Conservationists all over the nation have been working for years on the cover problem, and one of the leaders in the tests has been the Illinois Natural History Survey. This agency, starting in 1939, made experimental plantings with many species of trees and shrubs. One was the multiflora rose and it proved far superior to everything else.

In four to six years these shrubs will grow into a "living" fence for field borders that will hold all forms of livestock. And when planted on the bank of a stream or ditch, they have proved that corn, planted adjacent to the shrub, actually produced more bushels than a similar area in the center of the field. The reason for this I don't know, but it certainly is a potent fact in urging farmers to try the multiflora rose. Also, the shrubs will not spread into the crop fields or pastures from the original plantings.

The "rose" grows well in soils of average fertility, and, with a handful of fertilizer placed on each plant, will grow into good cover for game and birds on poor soil. For a fence, designed to hold stock, the shrubs should be planted a foot apart, and the site for the planting should be prepared in the fall or early spring, with planting in the spring. The shrubs should be planted on the ridge created by the turned soil and not in the furrows. They should be protected from grazing for three or four years.

In addition to the grand cover afforded birds and animals, the multiflora rose also produces food for the birds. Starting in October, the shrubs bear scarlet fruits that remain, unless entirely eaten by the wildlife, until spring.

Unquestionably the multiflora rose, wherever planted, will go a long way in helping us keep our stock of birds and game. And when farmers learn that the planting and upkeep of this type of fence is cheap in comparison to wire, they shouldn't be too hard to sell on the idea.

The index of prices received by Indiana farmers, 310, on March 15, was up three percent from mid-February but still 13 percent below the January peak of 356, according to Purdue University agricultural economists. Prices for most farm products improved during the month ending March 15. Hogs were notable exception, as they did not increase in line with the usual seasonal price movement.

Contour farming, in addition to saving soil and boosting crop yields, saves on fuel and cuts down wear and tear on machinery. Comparative tests on contour and up-and-down hill plowing on an eight percent slope have shown that in a given time a farmer plowing on the contour can plow ten percent more land and that acre for acre his fuel consumption will be ten percent less, R. O. Cole, Purdue University soil conservationist says.

Viability is an important characteristic inherited by chicks. The term "viability" is the poultry breeder's way of saying livability, constitutional vigor, and perhaps resistance to disease. Much of the mortality in poultry flocks is due to faulty methods of management. Some may be due to faulty nutrition but in many cases it is due primarily to the low resistance of stock to invasions of disease of various kinds, according to Purdue University poultrymen.

BACK FROM WASHINGTON, D. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Brown, Mrs. James Gill, Mrs. Ernest Igo and Mrs. Walter Fenstermaker have returned to Mentone after spending several days in Washington, D. C. The ladies in the party attended the national D. A. R. Congress.

Mrs. Walter Fenstermaker, who was a personal page to the president-general, Mrs. O'Byrne, has many interesting incidents to tell, perhaps the most interesting of which was her visit to the White House on last Friday afternoon where she shook the hand of Mrs. Truman. Eileen's visit to the presidential yacht is told in another article from the Indianapolis Star.

Around 5,000 D. A. R. delegates attended the Congress, and interesting speakers (which included Senator Martin and radio commentator Baukhage) were the rule.

Eileen found President-General Mrs. O'Byrne always gracious and composed, even though under the constant pressure of business at hand.

Eileen says she has never seen as many flowers—especially orchids. The outstanding floral piece, a gift to Mrs. O'Byrne from the Indiana D. A. R. chapters, was a muff completely formed of orchids and interspersed with baby orchids.

Mrs. Fenstermaker is regent of the Anthony Nigo Chapter of the D. A. R. Both Mrs. Fenstermaker and the local D. A. R. chapter can be very proud of this unusual honor of serving the president general.

Washington, April 22.—Probably the most active participants in the DAR annual congress now drawing to a close, besides the national president-general herself, Mrs. Roscoe C. O'Byrne of Brookville, Ind., are two dark-haired young Hoosier women who have served as her personal pages throughout the week-long session.

Whenever Mrs. O'Byrne rose to her feet during the business sessions that marked each day, the two pages, Mrs. Eileen Fenstermaker of Mentone, Ind., and Mrs. Gerald T. Watterson of Connersville, jumped up, too.

They were on their feet an estimated 75 to 100 times last night, when the state regents and various other DAR officers were presented to the assembly by Mrs. O'Byrne to make their annual reports.

The white-garbed pages are devoted to Mrs. O'Byrne, who personally selected them to serve as her aides. They claim it is nothing short of a marvel to see Mrs. O'Byrne work tirelessly from early morning until midnight each day, always smiling and never showing one sign of fatigue.

"It is so easy to serve as her page," explained Mrs. Fenstermaker, "because she is so efficient she seldom needs anything done for her."

The young women enjoyed a real fairy-tale adventure yesterday when a White House naval aide assigned to Mrs. O'Byrne asked the two pages if they would like to visit the presidential yacht, Williamsburg, anchored in the Potomac.

Of course they did and reported that the taxicab driver who took them to the yacht's berth couldn't believe they had the right address.

Mrs. Fenstermaker, a widow and mother of a 9-year-old daughter, teaches the first grade of public school at Mentone. She was born at Tippecanoe and attended Butler University.

Mrs. Watterson was born at New Palestine and majored in music and are at Western College for Women at Oxford, O. She has two children, a boy, 2, and a girl, 5. Both women are regents of their chapters.
