MENTONE FIREMEN BUSY

Members of the Mentone fire department answered four alarms over the weekend.

Saturday at 2:30 p. m. they were called to a farm just north of Talma by a grass fire. As they arrived at the scene the barn was ignited, but the blaze was extinguished with minor damage. While at the scene they were called to another farm three miles west of Talma where they put out an extensive brush fire that had swept across approximately 50 acres of field and pasture.

Saturday morning they responded to an alarm at the Methodist parsonage in Mentone where a fire on the roof of a garage caused damage estimated at $25. Fire Chief Arlo Friesner said a trash fire was believed responsible for the roof blaze.

At 8 o'clock Friday night the Mentone fire department was called to the Sam Holloway farm near Talma where a fire destroyed a brooder house, a hog house and 200 chicks. The loss was estimated at $300.

The top animal brought $130.

Seven of the Kosciusko county purebred animals went to three breeders in Michigan.

The present low hog market was reflected in the sale, but the 97 head averaged $53 each.

IN THE HEART OF THE OAT BIN

Indiana farms produced 52,577,000 bushels of oats in 1950, discloses a statistical analysis compiled by the research staff of CAPPER'S FARMER.

The nation's 1950 oat crop yielded more than 1,465,000,000 bushels, the fourth largest crop on record, says the survey based on USDA figures. Mid-America claimed 1,250,199,000 bushels, or 85.3 percent of the total production.

The 1951 oat crop is also estimated to be large, around 1,300,000,000 bushels and a national production goal of 1,307,000,000 bushels has been set for 1952.

In the number of acres harvested, oats represent the nation's fourth largest crop, exceeded only by corn, hay and wheat. In 1950 the total acreage of oats threshed or combined amounted to 42,037,000 acres, of which 85 percent were in the Midwest.

TOO MANY "STAR-BOARDERS" ON FARMS

Gambling with insects is costly. Farmers let the pests take an income-tax-size bite out of profits every year, points out Copper's Farmer.

"The true goal in increased farm production is more bushels, rather than more acres," says Harold Gunderson, Iowa extension entomologist, in the nationally-circulated farm magazine. "Controlling corn rootworm, corn borer and other insects would add enough corn on fewer acres to exceed the 1952 goal."

Entomologists from Midwestern colleges give these recommendations for the farmer who wants to quit gambling with insects.

Take time to plan your program. The first line of defense consists of good farm practices like rotation, liming, fertilizing, sanitation, and use of insect- and disease-resistant varieties. Use of insecticides and fungicides should be based on a 3 point campaign: Determine the insect or disease you are fighting; get the right chemical for the job; apply it thoroughly at the right time.

Hessian Fly can be controlled almost 100 per cent by regular farm practices which cost nothing. Stick by the safe seeding date, plant resistant varieties, turn down infested stubble, fallow land to keep down volunteer wheat, and get neighborhood co-operation. To control Northern corn rootworm, avoid planting corn in the same field more than 2 years in succession.

"Grasshoppers continue to take a yearly toll running into millions," continues the article. "Yet entomologists tell us each year the number of grasshoppers to expect and the areas where the infestation will be heavy. By destroying egg beds with tillage where practical and getting the rest with sprays right after the nymphs have hatched, you obtain far better and cheaper control than when you wait until the mature hoppers invade your crops."

"Grubworms and wireworms cause extensive but preventable damage. These pests normally prefer the cereal and forage crops. If a heavily-infested meadow or pasture is to be plowed under for a cultivated crop it is much better to use a legume crop the first year."

In states where European corn borer damage is light the pest can be controlled by cultural practices. These include utilizing the infested fodder by ensiling or shredding, or plowing under the stalks as early as practical in spring and planting the proper variety at the right time.

In states where corn borer infestation is much heavier, farmers should use insecticide when the borer is especially bad. Amount of infestation from year to year depends on the weather, so watch the warnings from entomologists and be ready to spray with DDT at the right time.

Insects get about 1 out of every 20 bushels of grain which the average farmer stores. By cleaning up all infested grain, cleaning out bins, and spraying them with DDT at least a month before new grain is harvested, the odds can be cut considerably. Binning the grain with the proper moisture content is important. Then in August fumigate and treat to destroy the insects before they cause serious damage.

ADVERTISE — IT PAYS!

SLIPPERY STREETS AHEAD

With an official forecast of rain for one day out of three until June 21st, the Chicago Motor Club today warned motorists to be prepared for the coming weeks of wet weather driving.

Motorists who think their skidding worries evaporated with the last of the snow are reminded that rain drenched streets can cut brake effectiveness as much as 50 per cent. When a new car with good brakes is moving at 30 m. p. h. down a dry, level road on a clear day it takes an alert driver 95 feet to halt his car. On wet pavement, under identical circumstances, it takes the same driver 183 feet to stop. A combination of poor wet surfaced roads can easily triple the length of a motorist's danger zone of 95 feet to 266 feet. Motor Club traffic engineers urged motorists to adjust their speed to slippery road conditions.

FRIENDSHIP GARDENS TO BE REPRESENTED

Miss Florence Smith will represent the International Friendship Gardens at Washington on April 3 and 4 when Queen Juliana, of the Netherlands, will be honored in special ceremony.

The Department of Interior requested that the International Friendship Gardens be represented on this occasion. This enterprise has been an exponent of World Peace and Friendship since it was founded in 1934 at A Century of Progress in Chicago.

Miss Smith has been associated with the public relations department for the last 12 years. She will attend the ceremony at Constitution Hall also, said J. V. IT'S ALL IN THE POINT OF VIEW!

There was a man who lived by the side of the road and he sold hot dogs. He was hard of hearing so he had no radio. He had trouble with his eyes so he read no newspapers.

But he sold good hot dogs. He put signs up on the highway, telling how good they were.

He stood by the side of the road and cried, "Buy a hot dog, mister?" and people bought.

He increased his meat and bun orders. He bought a bigger stove to take care of his trade. He finally got his son home from college to help him.

But then something happened. His son said, "Father, haven't you been listening to the radio? Haven't you been reading the newspapers? There's a big depression on. The European situation is worse. Everything's going to pot."

Whereupon the father thought, "Well my son's been to college, he reads the papers and he listens to the radio, and he ought to know."

So the father cut down on his meat and bun orders, took down his advertising signs, and no longer bothered to stand out on the highway to sell his hot dogs. And his hot dog sales fell almost overnight.

"You're right, son," the father said to the boy. "We certainly are in the middle of a great depression."

OUR BOOBY TRAP

By John W. Beck
Financial Editor—Daily Oklahoman

HYPNOTISED: Astronomical figures of debt and taxes appear to be hypnotic. When these are borne upon the saucy voices of political rogues, and mixed with just the right amount of "far dangers brought near," governing bodies seem to be able to extract unlimited amounts of blood and wealth from a citizenry, with no more than the vaguest of promises for relief sometime in the far distant future. Historically, there is a close relationship between high taxes, welfare, and war.

In these times we are fighting a war which our political leaders have no intention of winning. Their avowed purpose now is to "contain" the very thing that is designed to destroy the liberties of all mankind. We are winning nothing and losing everything in this mad enterprise. No effort is being made toward a real victory, either in battle or on the economic front. Unless this situation is changed soon, America in its basic concept will not survive.

After more than six months of bickering toward an armistice that will be no armistice, and a truce that will be no truce, and after nearly two years of costly war, our armies are stalemated right where they started—stretched along the 38th parallel across the little peninsula of Korea.

ECONOMIC CRUTCH: This is not an orthodox war; it is a political enterprise for the Kremlin, for the United Nations, and for all the failing political-economies of the world. It is a crutch for governments that have pledged themselves to full employment and general personnel welfare and now find they are caught in an economic booby trap of their own making.

We have made no gains of any nature in Korea. When next you hear some politician drool: "We have succeeded in our effort; we have punished the aggressor and made him know aggression does not pay," just think of this score:

To date American casualties in killed, wounded, and missing exceed 105,000. More than $10 billions of American wealth has been poured into this phony "police action." We have seven divisions of ground troops, 18 air groups, and 75 combat ships on the scene. Yet in terms of territory won or lost there has been no change at all!

In supplies and equipment we have shipped 12 million tons of manufactured products to Korea, and nearly seven million long tons of gasoline and oil. But unification of Korea (our original purpose in entering the fight) has not been accomplished. The (Red) political status quo of North Korea remains intact.

CHURCHILL SPEAKS: In a very recent report to his Parliament, Winston Churchill stated that as of now Russia is winning World War III in Russian style. In part he said:

"I do not think we have gained security during this long period of haggling and wrangling at Panmunjom. Apart from everything else, the Chinese Communist government . . . has since the Soviet suggestion of a ceasefire and truce negotiations, re-established what is called their 'face' . . . and they have since been bargaining all this time on equal terms with the representatives of the United Nations."

"The men in the Kremlin . . . may at any rate at this moment compliment themselves not only upon having pegged down in far-distant areas around the globe to defend the civilization of the West . . . And they have done all this without losing a single soldier in Russian uniform."

Churchill noted that there are 176 Russian divisions ready—just in case.

THE HOT SPOTS: Here, we think of the war in terms of Korea, but Churchill notes that several divisions of French troops are pinned down or fighting in Indo China, as are British troops in Malaya, with many more held in Hong Kong, the Suez Canal Zone, and other parts of the Middle East. In all, about 26 divisions, of American, British, and French soldiers are now engaged in battle or holding actions against the Communists in the Far and Middle East.

And, as we dicker with Red China, the price of peace goes up and up. Regardless of political chatter, peace is a long way off, and when it comes the price will be high unless we change our tactics from those of "calculated risks" to the definite purpose of defeating (not containing) communism and getting back to the business of peaceful pursuits. As of now, a portion of that price is recognition of (Red) North Korea, admission of Red China to the UN, Red Chinese to Formosa, and the withdrawal of all American troops from the whole area. In short, the price is surrender.

We shall live to learn that MacArthur was prophetically right when he said, "in war there is no substitute for victory." So, in peace, there is no substitute for individual responsibility. If we do not have faith in these motifs, "After us (will come) the deluge." We still have a choice, but our time is running out.

Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Workman, of Detroit, Michigan and Mrs. Mary Johnson of Churubusco, were guests of Martha Welch last Saturday. Mrs. Welch and Mrs. Johnson are sisters.

SCHOOL NEWS

The Senior Class netted a little over one hundred dollars on their penny supper last Saturday evening. They wish to thank all those who helped make the project a success.

Band to Attend Contest

The Mentone School band will make the trip to Angola on Saturday by way of a school bus. Mentone will compete in Class C along with bands from such schools as Angola, Waterloo, Butler, Fremont and Wolf Lake. Last year the Mentone band won a rating of excellent in the district contest.

Enjoy I. U. Band

Last Friday, thirty-four members of the Mentone School band attended the concert of the Indiana University Concert band at the North Webster School. Transportation and tickets were paid from the school music fund.

Gene, Fred, Larry and John Kinch have withdrawn to enter West Wayne School. The Nick Kinch's who formerly resided near Cook's Chapel, have moved to Warsaw.

Speech Club To Give Program

On Thursday morning, members of the speech club will present a program consisting of the play "Mildred Is My Name" and several dramatic and humorous readings. The program will be held in the gym.

"To Be Or Not To Be"

The number eating school lunches has dropped below that which was anticipated. The present price was based on an expectation of two hundred. This week the number has been about 175 each day. In spite of attempts to cut down on expenses, the program has not been able to break even this year. When school began, the lunch fund had a balance of $731.11. This represented the amount accumulated in previous years of operation. At present the balance, if all bills were paid, would be $154.00. This loss through the school year resulted from the fact that Federal support for the lunch program was stopped early in February, but schools were not notified until March. (About $400 in payments would have been received during this period if support had continued.) The other factor has been the increase in prices of meat and other foods without a corresponding increase in the price of the meals. It is thought it may be necessary to discontinue school lunch operations at Mentone in the near future.

Seventh Grade On WKAM

The radio program this Saturday at 11:30 over WKAM will consist of a dramatization by members of the seventh grade literature class under the direction of Miss Herriman.

Out For Track

The following boys are practicing for the track season which will open on April 10th: Burdell Blackburn, Jerry Tinkey, Melvin Miller, Robert Holloway, Clarence Dickey, Phil Carney, Duane Benson, Merlyn Holt, Larry McKinley, Raymond Osman, Billy Nellans, Devon Marshall, Dick Kindig, Warren See, James Doyle, Ronnie Brown, Roger Creighton and Duane Eckert.

There will be no school on Friday, April 11. This vacation is in observance of Good Friday.

ROYAL NEIGHBORS MEET

The Royal Neighbors met on Tuesday evening, April 1, at the home of Neighbor Cloe Griffis. Oracle Mary Borton presided over the business meeting. Our District Deputy, Mrs. Florence Ross, of Fort Wayne, who was a guest, gave a short talk on some of the changes in the Ritual. She also presented the camp with a lovely pair of pillow cases to be used as they wish.

During the social hour that followed contests were enjoyed with prizes going to Snowden Halterman, Cloe Griffis, Kathryn Teel, Mary Teel, and Mrs. Ross. Kathryn also won the door prize. Gifts for auction were purchased by Mary Teel, Mary Goodwin, Snowden Halterman and Mrs. Ross.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess Neighbor Cloe Griffis and her assistant Neighbor Mildred Freisner, to the fifteen members, the guest, and two juveniles, Sue Borton and Connie Teel.

The next regular meeting will be held May 6, at the home of Neighbor Emma Cook.

THE NORTHERN INDIANA CO-OP. NEWS

PARENT-TEACHER ASSOCIATION HAS CHALLENGING SPEAKER

The Mentone P. T. A. held the March meeting on last Wednesday evening, March 26. Rev. Milton Dowden gave the devotions.

A demonstration was given by the Junior Band to show the hows and whys necessary in learning a new piece of music. First, a familiar selection was played by the group and then an unfamiliar piece of music was played. Mr. Roger Kelly, band instructor, then pointed out to the audience, the steps to teaching and learning the new piece of music.

The following officers were elected for the PTA for the 1952-53 year:

President, Mrs. Ira Moore.

First Vice President, Mrs. Artley Culhum.

Second Vice President, Mrs. Bernice Rush.

Secretary, Mrs. Albert Tucker.

Assistant Secretary, Mrs. Earl Anderson.

Treasurer, Mrs. Everett Beeson.

The speaker of the evening was H. J. Pierson, of the Indianapolis Chamber of Commerce, who spoke on the threat of Communism and the loss of our freedom as we have known it. His various remarks and illustrations were very startling and revealing—so much so that most of his listeners found themselves astounded and preparing to gird themselves for a determined battle for their very existence.

Mr. Pierson explained many of the seemingly absurd but very subtle ways and means the Communists are using in their propaganda scheme to undermine the very basis of our democracy and destroy us within. Some of the ways include children's games, juvenile records, various organizations based upon sundry theories of peace and racial problems, etc. Radio, TV and the movies have been used to a great advantage, and Mr. Pierson stated that there are 49 movies now currently showing that are putting forth Communist propaganda. Those who would destroy us engage the thoughts and services of reputable yet gullible citizens—and that likely includes almost every one of us—to aid in their schemes and to contribute financially to foster their actions and programs.

Mr. Pierson stated that the Communists had agents working in almost every key industry in our land, ready to do sabotage at a moment's notice from their masters in the Soviet. These men, in many cases, are the friends with whom many of us work each day. They are known to the FBI, but they are a definite danger nonetheless.

And most serious of all, there are Communists in key positions in most channels of our federal government. Martin Dies did a splendid job of exposing these enemies, and the battle is still going on, but it is the Communists, not loyal American citizens, who are protected. President Roosevelt, in the words of Mr. Dies, used every means possible to stop the work of the UnAmerican Activities committee. The Attorney General, when asked by Mr. Dies for some investigators to help his committee, sent him two Communists as "investigators."

The Communists have, and still are, using every means to influence government policies not only at home but abroad.

If any of our readers are interested in getting more information about the Communists, merely write to Mr. Pierson at Indianapolis and he will likely be willing to send some information to you that will startle you.

During the afternoon Mr. Pierson addressed the students at the school, and he did a splendid job of getting the attention of the youngsters. He made himself just "one of the students" and they all enjoyed it. He told them that there never was a generation faced with so great a responsibility and the destiny of a nation rests upon their shoulders. He told how this was yet a land of opportunity, but our freedom was threatened—and if freedom were lost, then opportunity would disappear as it has in almost all other nations of the world.

In the evening a pot luck supper was held for Mr. Pierson and teachers and their families, bus drivers and families and all connected with the actual school administration.

LIONS ENTERTAIN BASKETBALL TEAMS

The Mentone Lions club entertained the basketball teams, coaches and other school officials of the Mentone and Beaver Dam schools Wednesday evening. The event is an annual affair for the Mentone club.

Dr. John H. Williams, former law enforcement officer for Chicago, was the principal speaker of the evening.

Dr. Williams was born in a foreign land, from humble parents, and in 1911 came to the United States. Ten years later—just as Al Capone moved in from New York and started his career of crime in suburban Cicero—Mayor William Thompson appointed him as the head of all law enforcement units in Chicago. He saw the birth and watched the growth of syndicated crime and did all he could to thwart its expanding sphere. His office placed him on the "inside" of the political scene. Syndicated crime today is a deciding factor in all things political as well as economical. He credited these crime groups with the election of President Truman in the last election. He also reprimanded the American people—the only people in the world who really have freedom in voting—for failure to exercise this privilege.

Another very serious problem, he stated, was Communism, and he invited everyone interested to write to Mr. Hoover of the FBI and ask for Pamphlet No. 26, giving Dr. John H. Williams' name.

He briefly mentioned a number of things that are contributing to the decline of our nation and its loss of personal freedom to its citizens, and went back into the days of President Wilson, continuing on down to the days when President Roosevelt made secret agreements with foreign nations without the permission or authority of the American people or Congress, and then to this day when the pernicious tentacles of government are reaching out into the lives of every citizen and destroying the freedom for which our forefathers so bravely sacrificed to secure.

EASTERN STAR OFFICERS INSTALLED FRIDAY EVENING

The officers for the coming year of the Mentone Chapter, O. E. S., were installed Friday evening, March 28, at a public installation service at the Masonic Hall.

Mrs. Gladys Davis, of Burket, was installed Worthy Matron, and Mr. Guido Davis was installed as Worthy Patron. Both Mr. and Mrs. Davis were escorted to their stations by their little granddaughter, Connie Rae Miser. An impressive altar ceremony was performed for Mrs. Davis immediately upon taking her oath of office. An escort consisting of members of Masonic Blue Lodge, Tall Cedars of Lebanon, and Shriners was formed through which Mr. Davis was escorted to his station.

Vocal selections were sung to the Worthy Matron and Worthy Patron by Mrs. Eileen Koenig and Mr. Vance Johns.

Mrs. Phyllis Bowser sang a vocal number entitled, "Mother," to her mother, Mrs. Fred Lemler, after she had been installed as Associate Matron. Mr. Johns sang a vocal number for Arthur Brown, who was installed Associate Patron. Mrs. Ruth Urschel accompanied at the piano.

Other officers installed were: secretary, Mrs. Alice Mollenhour; treasurer, Mrs. Garnet Latimer; conductress, Mrs. Jeanette Mollenhour; associate conductress, Mrs. Betty Goshert; chaplain, Mrs. Arvilla VanGilder; marshal, Annabel Mentzer; organist, Mrs. Lois Davison; Adah, Mrs. Francis Marshall; Ruth, Mrs. Wanda Simcoe;

Following the installation ceremony little Connie Rae Miser played two piano numbers, and a playlet entitled "Ladies of the Mop," was presented by the Tuesday Dramatic Club of Warsaw.

Preceding the installation ceremony a clever skit was enacted entitled, "Star Fishing," in which the past matron and past patron's jewels were caught and taken to the associate matron and patron who in turn presented them to Mrs. Helen Brown, the retiring worthy matron and Mr. Arthur Brown, who served as worthy patron this past year.

Those serving on the dining room committee were: Mrs. Ottilie Walburn, Mrs. Lois Fenstermaker, Mrs. Pauline Borton, Mrs. Roy Maxwell, Mrs. Virginia Peterson and Mrs. Mary Shirey.

FARM BUREAU REJECTS BRANNAN'S POLITICAL CHARGE

The official board of directors of the Indiana Farm Bureau, in the regular monthly session when Agriculture Secretary Brannan's latest attack broke in the press against their national leader, Allan B. Kline, regarded the Secretary's charges as an offense against Farm Bureau members everywhere.

Presiding over the board meeting in the absence of President Hassli E. Schenck, Larry Brandon, vice-president, reasserted the organization's policy of choosing its course on the basis of issues rather than on political party alignment. Said Mr. Brandon, "Our members know Farm Bureau has been in agreement with the present administration on many programs and issues. To accuse Mr. Kline of bargaining with any candidate of either political party is absurd."

On the heels of the latest Brannan attack against the American Farm Bureau leadership came a forthright statement from Kline to Farm Bureau presidents saying that never, as Secretary Brannan charged, had he discussed with Robert Taft his availability for a cabinet post. "Should the position of Secretary of Agriculture be freely offered to me," said Mr. Kline, "under no circumstances could I accept. America is the present hope of responsible self-government in the world. As a citizen and as the responsible president of the largest farm organization in America, I hope that our election in this year is not marked by this sort of falsification.

The charge by Secretary Brannan that the farm vote is to be traded for the cabinet post if Taft is elected was considered little short of ridiculous by the Indiana Farm Bureau directors. By way of reply they merely reiterated that Farm Bureau policies, formed at the local level by the members themselves, are based on what is good for agriculture and the rest of the nation, and not what is good for some political party. "Ours is a free farm organization," Mr. Brandon summarized.

WINNING ESSAY

We are happy to print the winning Americanism essay in the high school division entitled, "America, Land Of Opportunity" and written by Charles Urschel, a junior in the high school. The winning essay in the junior high division, written by Orpha Kurtz, will be printed next week.

The essays have been entered in the district contest.

The contest was sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary. Mrs. Miles Manwaring is Americanism Chairman of the local Auxiliary unit.

America, Land of Opportunity

America! What does this word mean to you? To me it means a land of the four freedoms: Freedom of Religion, Freedom of Speech, Freedom from Want, Freedom from Fear. Yet we have another freedom which can be stated in one word: Opportunity.

When our forefathers wrote that highest law of our land which we know as the Constitution, they had the hope that sometime everyone in our country would have an equal voice in our government. Although the professional politician is often denounced as corrupt, our system of government demands honest, intelligent men to run our country and to represent the people in governmental affairs in the complicated and warlike world of today. In fact it is one of the greatest opportunities of all to have the right to choose our own leaders and to have a free government such as we have.

In our present day and age, when "the world rolls on wheels," when our mode of life is being constantly changed by new inventions, and even in the tragedy of war, there is a very great opportunity for the individual person to do almost any job that he has the ability to do.

In this country we are too prone to forget some of the greatest opportunities we have. In many countries of the world the people have no choice of religion. Here in the United States we are able to choose the church we attend.

Also in this country we have the opportunity of receiving an education. In many countries of the world it is the highest ambition of most of the people to try to get an education, yet here in this country many people think of an education as something not needed. Our privilege of advancing in our education as high as we are able is an opportunity which the people of very few countries have.

While thinking of opportunities in jobs and education we often forget that here in the United States we are able to travel completely without restrictions. In not many countries of the world are the people able to take long trips without having to worry about gasoline ration cards and passports. On these trips we also have the opportunity of seeing both many large cities, and many varied types of scenery.

If one were to name all the opportunities in this great country of ours he could fill several pages, but that is not the purpose of this essay. Many people ridicule our form of government but to such a person there is no better defense than to ask: "Where in the world is there a country in which the people have a better chance to improve themselves?" So, it can truly be said that America is a Land of Opportunity.

DR. URSCHEL TO LIMIT HIS PRACTICE TO OFFICE WORK

In another part of this edition there is an announcement by Dr. Urschel regarding a change in his practice. He will henceforth do home and hospital calls only in emergency situations, or in consultation with other physicians. The decision to so limit his work was made principally because of his own health.

In 1942, it was necessary for him to completely quit practice for a time because of a similar health situation. Since that time he has had no apparent difficulty until the past few months. The increasing load of practice now has to be reduced in some fashion.

URGES FARMERS TO START BABY CHICKS NOW FOR FALL EGGS

Despite the recent decline in egg prices it is still good business for farmers to start baby chicks this spring, E. B. Powell, director of research for Furina, stated this week.

"This drop in prices may cause some farmers to give up on baby chicks this year," Powell stated, "and we may wind up with an egg shortage next winter."

Powell pointed out the population growth since the last "baby chick season" will swell the normal demand upwards of a billion eggs next fall. The present market seems to be having the tendency to decrease production too much.

"The logical result of a heavy decline in replacement chicks," he continued, "will be fewer eggs next fall when the chicks put down now will be laying best."

He reminded farmers of a similar market condition a couple of years ago, when the egg market broke sharply in the spring, but bounced back to new peaks the following fall.

"Good weather, better breeding and better feeding have combined to make a temporary egg supply larger than usual," he explained. "Obviously, this has forced the egg prices down. But the situation offers an unusual opportunity for egg profits next fall, according to most market experts. And here is their reason—some poultry keepers will not raise chicks this spring. So, there should be fewer pullets and fewer eggs next fall and winter. In the past, this has made extra high egg prices during that time of the year.

"Don't be misled into cutting down on chicks this spring," he cautioned, "let the other fellows quit."

Some poultry flock owners were panicked into getting out of the egg business in 1950 when egg prices dropped to 30.7c that spring. Yet in the fall and winter of '50, prices hit 57.7c per dozen, Powell stated.

"The farmer who has chickens in production next fall should have some mighty good property," he concluded, "and he stands a good chance to show a satisfactory poultry profit."

TIMELY TOPICS

By Mrs. Ruth R. Snellenberger
Home Demonstration Agent

Are you planning to freeze vegetables from the garden this summer? Then, I believe you'll be interested in some recent research on blanching vegetables before freezing.

Do you wonder sometimes if the bother to scald vegetables before packaging is necessary? Studies were made on asparagus, green beans and sweet corn, packaging some samples fresh and scalding others. Off-flavor developed in each of the unscaled samples soon after the freezing. Off-color was noticeable in the unscaled asparagus and green bean samples but the color of the corn remained good regardless of the treatment. All of the unscaled samples showed marked deterioration according to all the criteria used. The scaled samples showed little change in quality from the beginning to the end of the four week storage period.

This study was made to show that even though homemakers expect to freeze some vegetables for a short time it is best to scald them before packaging and then freezing.

Buying ready-made dresses presents many kinds of problems. One about which homemakers frequently complain is that of size—sizes are not the same by measurement in various price ranges. I am sure most homemakers realize the style of a garment may cause a size to vary slightly and still fit. Consumers are a powerful force collectively, and can bring about standardization of sizes if they keep asking for garments whose size measurements are the same regardless of manufacturer or price.

Differences in body build will always need to be considered in fitting ready-made garments even though sizes are the same. Recently I saw a picture of five girls who customarily wear a size 14, but who differed in their measurements and proportions. Probably only one of the five could wear the size 14 ready-made dress properly fitted!

MRS. HARRY ZARTMAN
DIES FOLLOWING STROKE

Mrs. Harry Zartman, aged 56, of two miles east of Burket, died at 11 p. m. Monday at the Murphy Medical Center in Warsaw, following a stroke suffered a week ago. She had been a patient at the hospital for one week.

Mrs. Zartman was born at Tippecanoe July 4, 1895, the daughter of Calvin and Rose (Pauline) Beltz and had resided all her life in Marshall and Kosciusko counties. She was first married to Gordon Shirley, who died in 1948. In 1951 she was married to Harry Zartman who survives.

Also surviving are two sons, Calvin Shirley, of Lakeville, and Charles of Milwaukee, Wis.; four grandchildren and a brother, Ralph Beltz, of South Bend.

BOY SHOT IN HEAD
WITH .22 RIFLE TODAY

Richard Staley, aged about 11 years and son of Mrs. Clarence Julian, of Warsaw, was taken to the Murphy Medical Center at Warsaw about 2:30 Wednesday afternoon after he was shot with a .22 calibre rifle. The gun was in the hands of his step-brother, Jackie Julian, 12, when the accident occurred.

(As we go to press we learn that the Staley boy died soon after eight o'clock this evening.)

Richard and Jackie, who attend the Warsaw schools, were out on Easter vacation and were visiting Jackie's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Eli Julian at Mentone. They had been out all morning and came to the house about two o'clock and said they were hungry and wanted some bread and jelly. The grandmother, Mrs. Julian, sent one boy upstairs to get a jar of jelly, and the other boy followed. They spotted the rifle and proceeded to look it over, when it went off, the bullet striking the Staley boy above the eye.

Clarence Julian, Jackie's father, had kept his firearms in a downstairs bedroom but recently took them upstairs as he said his son always wanted to look them over when he saw them. It was a clip magazine rifle and the clip was removed, but one shell still remained in the gun.

Two x-rays have been taken of the wounded boy, and the bullet located near the skull above the ear.

LOCAL MAN CANDIDATE FOR COUNTY TREASURER

Wayne Tombaugh, of Mentone, was one of the late filers as a republican candidate for county treasurer in the May 6th primary.

Mr. Tombaugh has been active in republican party politics for a number of years. He has been a resident of Mentone for many years, and recently, when the school custodian had to resign because of ill health, he assumed this temporary responsibility.

Mr. Tombaugh has also been very active in Boy Scout and youth work in the county.

NELLANS

Mr. and Mrs. Byron Nellans are the parents of a son born last Friday at the Woodlawn hospital. The new boy has been named Brant Earl.

MRS. N. W. POWELL DIES
AT HOME OF DAUGHTER

Mrs. N. W. Powell, aged 94, died in her sleep at 5:30 a. m. Sunday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Esta Vandermark, near Palestine, where she had resided for the past few years. Complications, due to her advanced age, were the cause of her death.

The deceased was born at Stony Point Sept. 21, 1857, the daughter of James and Mary Ann (Noggle) Anglin, and had resided in this county all her life with the exception of some years spent in Marshall county and in North Dakota. She was Miss Luella Anglin before her marriage Feb. 1, 1877, to Mr. Powell, who died in 1931.

Mrs. Powell was a member of the Warsaw Methodist church for 43 years. Surviving relatives include two sons, Howard F. and Homer W., of Zephyrhills, Fla.; her daughter, Mrs. Vandermark; six grandchildren; seven great-grandchildren, and two great-great-grandchildren.

An infant daughter and two sons, Charles M. and Vernon I. Powell preceded her in death.

Funeral services were held at 2 p. m. Wednesday at the Landis funeral home in Warsaw. Rev. Albert Rider, of Burket, officiated, assisted by Rev. J. T. Frost of Warsaw. Burial was in the Leesburg cemetery.

CHARLES RUSE DIES.

Charles Ruse, aged 84, of Etna Green, died at 6 a. m. Sunday following an illness of two years, due to carcinoma and complications.

Mr. Ruse had resided for 10 years with his daughter, Mrs. Lester (Jack) Reed, of north of Mentone. He was a retired farmer and formerly lived in the Millwood community.

Mr. Ruse was born in Wabash county Dec. 6, 1867, the son of Jacob and Matilda (Sharp) Ruse. His wife died a number of years ago.

Surviving relatives include a son, Ralph, of Jackson, Mich.; his daughter, Mrs. Ethel Reed; three grandsons, six great-grandchildren and one great-great-grandchild.

One daughter preceded him in death.

Funeral services were held at 1:30 p. m. Tuesday at the Reed funeral home. Rev. Milton Dowden, pastor of the Baptist church, was in charge. Interment was in Parks cemetery at Bourbon.

FIREMEN SPEND NIGHT ON FIRE CALLS

Starting about two o'clock in the morning last Sunday, the Mentone firemen had a busy time. They made a run to the John Downs farm home, in Marshall county, to help extinguish a basement fire, and soon after their return they were called to the Ernest Igo farm, about five miles southeast of Mentone where a 66x80 barn burned.

Mr. Igo was awakened once by his dog barking, but after a command to the dog to keep quiet he attempted to go back to sleep. The dog soon barked again and Ern was going to give him a good talking to this time. He raised up in bed and told him to shut up and about the time he was leaning back on his pillow he noticed a red glare around the house. He soon discovered one end of his barn in flames. He hurried out, opened a gate and drove 59 head of cattle out of a lot next to the barn.

The loss, partially covered by insurance also included five or six calves, hay and feed, farm machinery and a late model farm truck.

After returning from the fire the fireman gathered at the Mentone Cafe for coffee and a bite to eat. K. A. Riner and George Clark volunteered as the cooks and soon had a meal for the boys. Everything tasted fine—they said—even after they found out the boys used salad dressing for shortening to fry the potatoes.

HEALTH FACTS FROM YOUR STATE BOARD OF HEALTH

Each person could have a personal interest in the observance this April of National Cancer Month because few have not had a direct experience with the disease among family or friends, according to Dr. W. C. Anderson, director, Division of Gerontology and Chronic Diseases, Indiana State Board of Health.

The State Board of Health, in cooperation with the Indiana Division of the American Cancer Society conducts a program of education, service and research.

"Education can be a useful guard against undue fears often called 'Cancerophobia', Dr. Anderson pointed out. 'Untimely deaths and much suffering can be prevented by a wholesome knowledge of the disease.

"In 1951 there were approximately 5,700 deaths from cancer in Indiana. Some of these victims could have been saved by seeking treatment early while the lives of others depend upon continued advancement of knowledge of cancer through research. For this reason a share of the funds collected in local units of the cancer society, as well as tax funds, must be used to maintain the high calibre of research that has been developed largely through the efforts of voluntary and official agencies." Dr. Anderson concluded.

Callers at the Adam Bowen home on Sunday, were Mr. and Mrs. Logan Van Doran of Winona Beach, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hamman of Kewanee, Mr. and Mrs. William Selle of Winamac, and Mrs. Hamman's sister of Star City. Since Mrs. Bowen is confined to her home she enjoys the visits from her friends.

WORD FROM JIM MOLLENHOUR

NAS Norfolk, Virginia
April 3, 1952

Hi Art,

How are things back in the middle west? I'm back on the East Coast but not for long this time I don't imagine. I'm to have further schooling here before I'm sent to a squadron. If I'm to go to a carrier squadron I'll go to school for three weeks and a patrol squadron earns four weeks schooling. These are the only two types of squadrons for which we're getting billets right now.

I graduated from the ATAL "A" School (Aviation Electronics Technician and Electronicsmen class A) two weeks ago tomorrow. Since then I've been transferring here to Norfolk. My rate has been changed from AA (Aviation Apprentice) to AN (airmen) and on completion of ATAL "A" school I was designated as an AT striker so I'm now an ATAN officially.

The base here at Norfolk is nice but way too large to suit me. I believe that Norfolk is the largest Naval Base in the world. (I'm not too sure but I don't see how there could possibly be a bigger one) I don't usually get lost but believe me I did today. I ended up over at the docks when I wanted the air station. What a predicament. The chow here is out of this world. We have eggs fixed 3 ways for breakfast, scrambled, fried or boiled, so we have our choice or all. For dinner and supper we usually have two kinds of meat so its really an improvement over any Navy chow I've had yet.

I pulled in here last Monday night and will start school not later than a week from Monday.

I've been awfully busy since I've been here but I went in to town last night just for kicks. Never again. I've had enough of Norfolk liberties. Sailors on the street in Norfolk are like people around home when there is a fire. In other words a crowd. I was almost sure every person in the Navy anywhere in the world was there. It was a mess believe me.

Thanks again for sending me the Co-Op. News. I appreciate it very much.

Another thing which I appreciate and I know all the other servicemen do, too, is what the Deluxe Cleaners do for us servicemen. I've had my uniform cleaned several times and haven't been charged for the cleaning and I know that others have done the same. So I'd like to thank them and also you in behalf of the servicemen for the thoughtful services you render us.

Thank you,
Jim

Track Meets Underway.

In the first track meet of the season, the Mentone freshman-sophomore team met Atwood and Milford in a triangular meet at Milford. The local boys showed strength in many events. Larry McKinley won the 100 yard and 220 yard dashes; Jerry Tinkey won the pole vault and the high jump. The final score was Mentone 43, Atwood 43, Milford 27. There are now 19 boys out for track.

Band Wins Excellent Rating.

In the district band contest at Angola the local band won a rating of excellent. This makes an excellent rating for the last four years. The school will receive a fine plaque. The band wishes to thank Wayne Tombaugh for driving the bus to Angola.

Nelson Covey Addresses Student Body.

At a special assembly on Tuesday, Nelson Covey, who has spent almost twenty years of his life behind prison bars, spoke to the student body on the pitfalls of crime. For the last 16 years Mr. Covey has addressed young people in an attempt to help them avoid some of the mistakes that he had made. The speaker emphasized the dangers of bad companions, of following the crowd, of gambling, drinking, and forgetting God.

The next assembly program will be a religious service on Monday morning.

Fifth Grading Period Ends.

Thursday ends the fifth grading period of the school year. Grade cards will be distributed on Wednesday of next week. Attendance has been very good recently. The school appreciates the cooperation of parents in not taking their children out of school to shop or to work. Certainly a teacher can do much better work when all are present.

Rosalind Russell, star of stage, screen, and radio, borrowed from Old World folk-lore the idea of decorating an Easter egg tree at Easter time. Decorating trees with gaily-colored eggs at this season once was a cherished family custom in many localities of Europe, according to the Poultry and Egg National Board. Miss Russell, currently starring in "Bell, Book and Candle" in Chicago, said she finds it is "just as much fun and more practical" in her case to adapt the idea of an Easter egg tree as a centerpiece.

Donald Primrose

ans become less disabled, is the recipient of the Citizens Salute of the DAV for March. This is the third in a series of awards by the Disabled American Veterans which each month will honor nationally a person who has furthered the cause of disabled veterans in his community.

Primrose, manager of the Sears-Roebuck & Co. store in Albany, has instituted an all-out program of hiring disabled veterans and veterans as employees in his store.

In addition he provides the annual headquarters for the Hub Chapter No. 13, DAV, Forget-Me-Not flower sales campaign. Primrose transports and furnishes refrigeration for the portable sandwich stand owned by the DAV Chapter which is used at the annual Timber Carnival event in July.

His selection for the Citizens Salute of the DAV is part of a national program to point out to the American people the need for protecting the nation's rehabilitation program for disabled veterans as well as the war handicapped's need for continuous remembrance. The outstanding citizen selected each month symbolizes all Americans who are helping to fulfill this need.

Primrose, who is 36, married and has two daughters, has never hesitated to cooperate with the DAV Chapter in his community and more than 50 per cent of his employees are veterans, many of whom are members of the DAV.

He is a member of the Albany Chamber of Commerce, Kiwanis, Masons and Shriners. He also is on the Board of Deacons of the First Presbyterian Church.

COLLARED LEMMING

In the far north, where summers are short and winters bring many an icy blast, there lives a tiny, fur-bearing animal called the Collared Lemming. Though he doesn't look strong and hardy, he knows the tricks of surviving in the barren lands that stretch from northern Alaska to Labrador.

To help him hide from the larger animals that hunt him, he wears a white coat during the snowy winters. In the summer, when the ground is clear, his color changes to brown, chestnut or gray.

pers into his underground shelter. It is a clever hideaway, says the National Wildlife Federation, and often saves him from harm.

The entrance to the burrow may be dug in an open place, or it may be carved out beneath a log, a bush, or some tree roots. When he plunges into the hole, he enters a small tunnel which is from two to three feet long. At the end of this passageway, he comes to nest chamber that is four or five inches in diameter. To make it soft and warm, he lines it with grass and moss.

If, by chance, a foe does poke into his main burrow, the Collared Lemming can leave his nest chamber and go into a branch tunnel. It is a foot or more in length.

The nest is an especially busy place early in the summer, for that is when most baby Lemmings are born. There are about three to a litter—making a family of five that must live in the little home. But the shelter never seems crowded because even the parents are small. When fully grown they are about 6 inches long and weigh 4 ounces.

If an enemy does see him, he scam-

Long before the first snow flies, the young Lemmings are ready to leave the nest and hunt their own meals. Their favorite foods are grass, roots and moss—all fairly easy to find during the summer.

It is harder to get enough to eat in the winter, but the Lemmings still manage to satisfy their hunger. Under the snow they build a network of tunnels on the surface of the ground. With a thick blanket of white above them, they can leave their burrows and explore for bits of plant life.

The worst thing that can happen to them is for a raging wind to blow away the protecting snow. When that happens to a lemming colony, some of the little creatures perish in the cold and other are captured by hungry enemies.

While many are lost, the National Wildlife Federation reports that there is no danger of Collared Lemmings being wiped out. They are among the most plentiful animals on earth.

APRIL FOOL JOKES FEATURED BY CLUB

The Tippecanoe River Club met Tuesday, April 1, at 1:30 p. m. with Mrs. Henry Coggins.

The meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. Wayne Mikesell, with singing of "America the Beautiful", pledge to the flag and club creed. Devotions were given by the hostess, who read an article on "Fellowship." Mrs. Mikesell played a record of the "Lord's Prayer."

The song of the month, "The Old Oaken Bucket", was read by Mrs. Glenn Putterbaugh, and the song was sung by the group.

Roll call was answered by "my favorite electric appliance."

Mrs. Clarence Mikesell gave a short lesson on safety. The lesson on home pressing was given by Mrs. Harrison Partridge, and was much enjoyed by all present. She stressed pressing of different kinds of fabric.

The group voted to give $1 to the Crippled Children's Fund. A new vice president, Mrs. George Schwenk, was elected to replace Mrs. Viola Adams, who resigned because of accepting employment.

A most interesting talk was presented by Mrs. Ellworth Wagoner on her trip through Texas, and other places of interest. The program was in charge of Mrs. Blanch Grass. A contest was won by Mrs. Wagoner. Several clever April Fool jokes were played on members having birthdays in March and April.

Delicious refreshments were served to 18 members and nine children. The meeting place for the May meeting has been changed from the home of Mrs. Adams to the home of Mrs. Howard Mathews.

TIMELY TOPICS

By Mrs. Ruth E. Snellenberger
Home Demonstration Agent

An inquiry regarding yogurt came to me recently. My only contact at that time was that I had seen it listed as an ingredient in foreign dish recipes. Since then I have learned it is a fermented milk (buttermilk is fermented too, you know) by acid forming bacteria, heated at a low temperature, until it thickens, and then chilled. The culture can be added to whole, skimmed, or evaporated milk. Actually its nutritive value is not better than any of the milks used to make it. Nutrition specialists say it is a good fallacy.

Speaking of food fallacies, I'd like to recommend that homemakers consider the source of information whether the subject relates to food or to community affairs. If it is on foods, look to see if the material is recognized by some nutrition experts or medical authorities.

If the information regards community or public affairs (and maybe private affairs if you're a gossip) make doubly sure the source is reliable and its policies are in keeping with the democratic ideals of our country.

There I go again—expressing MY opinion!

Are you a housewife who puts "a little of this to a little of that"? If so, it is not considered wise to mix various soap and synthetic detergent preparations. There is no advantage in combining a mild or neutral product, designed for gently washing of fine fabrics or colors, with another to which an alkaline builder has been added for laundering heavily soiled fabrics. It's like a team pulling in opposite directions. As for mixing synthetic detergents, some types nullify the cleansing power of others when used together.

Are you adding a cheery note during housecleaning and putting up drapes? If so I hope you'll consider if they will show from the outside and, if they do, how they will look. One

If curtains show outside they either should be lined with a color that blends with the color of the house or trim, or they should be of the type that have a plain neutral color back.

"TULIPS ON PARADE" AT FRIENDSHIP GARDENS

Sunday, May 11 has been set as the opening day for "TULIP on PARADE" at the International Friendship Gardens at Michigan City, when nearly a half million tulips will grace the Gardens of Nations.

The large cargoes that come from the Netherlands each fall are planted in all the National Gardens to fulfill the wish by the Hollanders that every nation bloom in the splendor that tulips are so able to give.

With tulips making a rapid growth in this sun-warmed valley, the winter-weary will see the most outstanding tulips exhibition in the history of these Gardens, said J. Virgil Stauffer, Director of this famous Flower and Gardens Exhibition.

In addition to the towering of the choice tulip bulbs there are many ornamental flowering peach, dogwoods, flowering crabs, red-bud and hundreds of other flowering shrubs that complement the richness of the color display on these 100 acres.

The Gardens, dedicated to the ideals of spreading peace through friendship and the international love of beauty, are a unique Hoosier Gift to the World which Stauffer and his brother Joseph created from a one time virgin wilderness as of 1935.

WINNING JUNIOR HIGH ESSAY

Following is the Americanism essay which was written by Orpha Kurtz, and which won first place in the junior high division.

"America, Land of Opportunity"

America can truly be called the "Land of Opportunity." Mainly because it is the land of freedom. God has really reaped all the blessings of mankind on the Americans. If America was shut off from the other nations it could survive with splendor.

Our land is rich with nearly all kinds of natural resources and nearly every kind of crop can be raised some place in this great land. The climate is also most wonderful in the world. We may live anywhere we like, and we are not compelled to stay in any one place.

It has some of the most beautiful scenic spots of the world. It has mountains, canyons, beautiful lakes, and many very unusual sceneries, such as Niagara Falls and Silver Springs.

This land of ours offers employment and a chance for a good living to all who wish employment. There are also great opportunities for those with special talents. Whatever you wish to be, you may be, if you work at it.

Our government of the people, by the people, and for the people is the best in the world. We do not have Communism as Russia has, so we have more freedom and a chance to get ahead. In Russia, those who try hard to get ahead are cut down on wages, and those who do not try, get wages they have not worked for. Here, we do as we wish and are paid according to the work we do.

Everyone has a chance for a good education whether he is rich or poor. This is next to our greatest opportunity of which we are very proud. Education is an easy thing to accomplish in America, for schools are many and the education is not expensive.

Our greatest opportunity comes from freedom of religion. We are not compelled to worship idols, but each is allowed to worship God in his own way. I believe that our being allowed to worship God and then taking advantage of this great opportunity will keep America as God wants it.

We also have freedom of speech and freedom of the press. Everyone has the privilege of expressing his own personal opinion on any matter, and our rights are protected by our government.

America has long been a land of opportunity. When Columbus discovered America, in 1492, he was looking for a route to the land of riches and he truly found the land of riches and the "Land of Opportunity."

USERS AMAZED BY SPECTACULAR RESULTS

Read this exact quotation from a letter from Mr. Lyman McKee of the McKee Bros. Farm at Madison, Wis.: "We started feeding about 50 pigs on the MYZON feeding program about September 1st. One of the first things I noticed was that their appetites and general activity improved. This was followed by a marked increase in weight."

Here's what another actual user says in praise of MYZON COMPOUND. Mr. Ivan Eschenbach of Baraboo, Wisconsin writes: "A few of my pigs which were a great deal behind the others when I began using MYZON, have shown much improvement. I can certainly say I have been very well pleased with the results I have had from using MYZON."

MYZON COMPOUND promises faster growth, better health, increased egg hatchability! Pigs show as much as 30% greater gains in four months!

You've heard and read in your Farm Papers about Terramycin—the wonder drug that has done so much to improve hog and poultry rations. Now scientists have combined Terramycin with other important vitamins and minerals to produce a compound called MYZON. Tests prove that MYZON produces faster growth in hogs and poultry. So if you want faster gains in hogs and poultry, lower chick mortality, better egg production, start using MYZON today!

IT'S EASY TO USE MYZON JUST ADD TO REGULAR FEED

Just mix MYZON COMPOUND with your own feed, adding salt and low-cost vegetable proteins. See for yourself how your animals brighten up, eat more, and gain in weight. MYZON saves you days of labor—saves you expensive feed because animals get to market size faster!

MYZON compound contains not only liberal amounts of the wonder drug Terramycin but all other known vitamins and minerals ordinarily supplied by animal or fish products.

CORN COVER CROP SAVES WATERWAY

Not many people think of corn as a "soil saver," but that is the role it can play if planted in a grass waterway. Here's a tip from G. A. Karstens, Purdue University agricultural engineer. Establishing and maintaining a grass waterway is an effective means of curing gully trouble.

Gullies up to about one and one-half feet deep should be shaped, lined, manured and worked up into a seed bed. The only tools needed will be tractor, plow, disk, cultipacker, manure spreader and seeding equipment.

Here's how corn fits in the picture: Shelled corn—no need to worry about hybrid series—can be broadcast or drilled at a rate of three bushels per acre. In other words, three bushels will seed a waterway 40 feet wide by 1,000 feet long. The corn won't grow to be more than two or three feet tall. The stalks slow the run-off from summer rains and the stage is set for complete treatment later on.

In August or September, the corn can be mowed and disked in, and the seed bed can be prepared for a regular grass mixture. Additional information is contained in Extension Leaflet 337, "Grass Waterways," obtainable from county agricultural agents or Purdue University.

ROUGHAGES PLUS QUALITY STRESSED FOR COWS

Indiana dairymen are urged to give special attention this summer to the kinds of roughage they provide for their dairy herds. Several ways which will help to produce roughage of improved quality are listed by G. A. Williams, extension dairyman at Purdue University. They are:

1. If the crop is a mixture of alfalfa, either with or without ladino clover, combined with a grass such as brome or timothy the crop should be cut when the alfalfa is in the one-tenth stage.
2. If unfavorable weather conditions prevail at hay-making time each acre of hay made into grass silage produces 40 per cent more milk than the same roughage fed as hay.
3. If pastures later in the summer become poor due to hot dry weather, the grass silage is a wonderful supplement and helps maintain production and saves concentrates.
4. Pastures that are clipped and rotated produce 25 per cent more milk per acre than similar pastures that have not been clipped.
5. Pastures that are clipped several times during the summer produce grazing that is higher in protein than unclipped grass, thus saving protein in the grain mixture.

GRASSES PREVENT HEAVING OF ALFALFA

Indiana farmers have had another object lesson in the proper management of alfalfa. Fields that were cut for hay or pastured heavily after mid-September generally have heaved rather seriously and in some cases it appears that much of the alfalfa is killed. K. E. Beeson, extension agronomist at Purdue University, reports.

Farmers that followed proper management practices for this crop and permitted the top growth to develop after mid-September have much less heaving to contend with and will harvest a much better hay crop. Little can be done to off-set the damage on heaving. An occasional farmer attempts to cultipack his alfalfa stand when soil conditions will permit, but generally roots have been broken and little is accomplished. It is far better to practice an ounce of prevention rather than to look in vain for the pound of cure after the alfalfa is heaved, says Beeson.

Timothy, brome grass or any other grass that grows readily with alfalfa usually reduces the amount of heaving loss, and quite generally farmers are sowing a small amount of grass with alfalfa.

METHODIST CHURCH NEWS

The Congregation of the Methodist Church will assemble for Holy Communion on Thursday evening at seven-thirty. This Service is observed as a memorial of the Last Supper which the Christ partook with His disciples in the upper room before being seized by guards of the Chief Priest, tried, and crucified between two thieves. It is most fitting that members and friends of the church partake of this sacrament.

The Good Friday Service will center around the theme, "The Seven Last Words," and following it there will be a rehearsal of the Chancel Choir.

The Official Board will hold its monthly meeting immediately following the Communion Service on Thursday.

The Early Morning Service on Easter will be at six-thirty. All persons participating in the service should be present at six-twenty. The breakfast which is served by the men of the church immediately following the service will be served at seven-fifteen. The public is invited to both the service and the breakfast.

The Easter Worship Service will be at the regular service hour, nine-thirty. Both the Chancel and Junior Choirs will participate in a pageant presentation of Easter Meditations and Music.

There will not be an evening service Easter night.

On Thursday, April 17, there will be held the District Meeting of the W. S. C. S. at Mishawaka, Indiana. The regular monthly meeting of the Society will be held that evening in the local church.

The Pastor has been requested to represent the Methodist Churches of the North Indian Conference at a Leadership Training Camp for Church Camp Directors at the Versailles State Park on April 21, through 25. Last fall he had been appointed to the Governor's Economic Council as a representative of the Methodist Church Youth Activities and Summer Camps for the northern part of the State of Indiana.

Latest word from Ted Peterson states that his outfit is now on its way to Germany.

Fleece Grease

In 1000 B.C., the natives of Asia manufactured pitches and oils from the gum or resin of trees which grew on the shores of the Mediterranean Sea. Here, they cooked the gum in pots, over which they hung fleecy sheepskins to catch the rising vapors of oil distilled out of the resin. This oil was recovered by wringing out the fleeces. One of the uses of this oil was a solvent for the age-enduring mummy varnish.

MAGAZINE "CREW" HEADS
WEST IN A HURRY

Marshal Wm. Schooley heard of a magazine salesman in town Monday afternoon, and while waiting on a citizen's porch for the salesman to leave the house, a car drove by with four others in it. A couple of toots on the horn and Bill's "prospect" not only dashed out of the home but another "salesman" popped out of a home across the street. The first boy "wanted" to go back in and apologize, which he did. The entire crew then was given strict orders to use the shortest route to highway 25 and get going west. Bill warned them he'd be following in his car. The last seen of the gang they were west of town and still going.

It isn't always possible for citizens to get in touch with the marshal when such people start "working" the town, but if citizens will telephone Harold Nelson or Artley Cullum they will attempt to notify the marshal at once.

A BACKWARD LOOK INTO THE PAST

In all the years that I have known the smoothly flowing Tippecanoe, I have had a longing to thank the Indians for giving it such a poetic and euphonious name. May the shades of the scalp hunters forever hover on its flowing tide.

I will launch my tippy canoe on this picturesque stream at old Bloomingsburg one of the oldest settlements of Hoosierdom. With the changing times, it has been rechristened, Talma, but the old name is hard to forget, and like Banquo's ghost will not be laid, but comes back to tantalize my troubled dreams.

In those early days the river was dammed and gave power to a sawmill and a gristmill. It was a rendezvous for the natives and they came from far and near, and on week ends they would congregate and pass around their demijohns of corn juice and line up the town in the style of the McCoy's and the Martins, then their games of fist-cuffs and knockdowns started with a bang and finished with many black eyes and blood dripping noses.

But now, we say farewell to Bloomingsburg, as I turn the prow of my canoe up stream, past the muskrat colonies and over the dams the industrious beavers had built with the trees they had gnawed down. Then I pass over some subterranean springs that bubble up several inches above the passing current of the river.

Next stop and look is at the Conservation camp. Its buildings and suspension bridge, make it an ideal place for picnics and reunions. As I move on, my propelling paddle takes me under the bridge and into the dead and forgotten town of Tippecanoe town, which was once a live and busy hive of industry, but its doom was sealed when a railroad (the Nickle Plate) went thru a mile below the old town. Then the people of the old balliwick moved down, bag and baggage to the new location which they called Elion, but very soon that name was dropped and the river name adopted, instead. Now, back to the derelict hamlet which is now only a lonesome ghost town for it has been turned into a cemetery, so please be quiet and awaken not its silent sleepers.

town about a mile, on the river bank, is the site of an old Indian village and burial ground. Nothing marks the graves of the departed warriors. The forest now covers the place where their tepees once stood. Their tomahawks have grown rusty and their scalping knives dull. Now, I will whisper by-bye to the warriors bold. May your arrows never miss the bull's-eye in your happy hunting ground.

STACK SILAGE NEW WAY TO STORE HAY

A new way to save hard-to-cure forage is rapidly coming into use by farmers in the Midwest.

The method consists of chopping hay in the field with sickle-bar or pick-up cutters, and making it into stack silage, reports Capper's Farmer. This process of ensiling forage cuts labor costs, gets feed into storage quickly, and lessens wet weather risks. "Stack storage first was tried four or five years ago by farmers who had feed left when their tower silos were full. They were surprised that losses were so small," says the nationally-circulated farm magazine. "Most of those who use stack silos believe their losses are 10 percent or less. Some research men say hay-curing losses can run to 20 or 30 percent when weather is damp and cool.

There are two ways to make stack silage. An Iowa steer feeder has used both. In 1950 he set up a tall gin pole and blew 300 tons into a stack. The forage kept well, and made fine feed, but the blower slowed the job. Last summer he chopped 900 tons into big trucks that dumped their loads on a huge rick 20 feet wide at the base. The trucks drove over the top of the stack until it reached a height of 15 feet. It was leveled by a small tractor, equipped with a dozer blade. Spoilage measured 4 to 6 inches on the stack sides; up to 10 inches on top.

"Seven Wisconsin men took stack samples to a farm clinic, where many types of roughage were rated for feeding value by men from the college of agriculture. Five samples graded excellent to good. The sixth had gone into the stack too dry and the seventh too wet to get top rating.

"Stack silos can be put where they are handiest. Sites may be moved with the crop rotation. One feeder stacks silage in his hay meadow, and moves cattle to the field to eat it."

Miss Mildred Anderson, of Flint, Michigan and Dr. Wendell C. Anderson, of Indianapolis, spent the week end with their parents, Dr. and Mrs. E. D. Anderson.

Dr. and Mrs. Orville McFadden were called to New Haven, Indiana, on Tuesday by the death of the former's mother, Mrs. Russel McFadden.

AIN'T IT THE TRUTH?

A young ad salesman for a country newspaper had been trying to convince a village merchant to advertise.

The retailer steadfastly refused to see the salesman's viewpoints on advertising's value. As the young man was leaving the store one day after another unsuccessful attempt he paused in the doorway to ask the store owner what was the imposing structure at the top of the hill.

"Oh, that," said the merchant, "is the village church."

"Been here long?" asked the space salesman.

"A hundred years or so," was the reply.

"Well," replied the young man, "They still ring the bell."

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Rush, Fred and Ted Kapp, of Detroit, Michigan were Easter dinner guests of Mrs. Bertha Sarber.

BEST FRUITS AND VEGETABLES FOR FREEZING

Put the good-freezing crop varieties in cold storage and eat other fruits and vegetables in season, suggests Capper's Farmer.

Some varieties do not taste or look right after being frozen because of the chemical content, reminds the nationally-circulated farm magazine.

Experiment station tests on crops for the home freezer showed that among snap beans, the stringless green pods, Topcrops and Supergreens all have a low fiber content when frozen. Wade is also suitable. Larger seeded lima beans, such as Fordhook, hold up best in the home freezer, reports Wilbur A. Gould, in charge of an Ohio taste panel at Ohio State University.

"Golden Cross Bantam was the tastiest sweet corn to come out of the cold box at Ohio. Victory Golden and Tendermost were good. It's important to get sweet corn chilled as soon as possible after picking," continues the article.

"Freeze the late or sweet varieties of peas. The Thomas Laxton was one of the best peas tested. In storing asparagus, the stage of maturity is more important than the variety. Asparagus must be young and tender and free from fiber.

"In Minnesota tests, Sprouting Green broccoli, Red Core and Imperator carrots, Snowdrift and Snowball cauliflower were found to be the best freezers. Fordhook swiss chard, Long Standing spinach and Gould's Early Bunching beets were suitable."

Most fruits that are good cooked or as fresh dessert are also satisfactory freezers. Eclipse and Redhaven proved to be desirable freezing peaches. Neither of these freestone peaches turned brown while in storage as did varieties containing a higher amount of tannic acids. In white peaches, the Cumberlands and Champions are both commendable for freezing.

"For a sour cherry, Gould recommends Montmorency and for yellow or sweet varieties, the Royal Anne holds up best. In rhubarbs, MacDonald was the choice of the Ohio panel. All of the red types made a good frozen product."

Floor tiling—linoleum, asphalt, rubber and Kork. Free estimates given on any of these types of floor covering at Brown's Jewelry and Appliance.

Miss Eunice Reed, of South Whitley, entertained at dinner on Friday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Don Lyon of Fort Wayne, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hoover of Milford, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Reed and Janet, of Mentone. The dinner was in honor of Mrs. Reed's birthday.

FARMERS MAY VISIT EXPERIMENTAL WHEAT PLOTS

A wheat variety and fertilizer demonstration seeded last fall on the Elmer Kohler farm in Turkey Creek township will give Kosciusko county farmers an opportunity to see the latest developments in wheat growing practices. The demonstration, located on the west side of state road 13, 3 miles north of North Webster was planned and seeded by County Agent Paul Jackson and Chester Brown, operator of the Kohler farm.

This demonstration is one of 40 or more county trials in Indiana where new varieties developed by Purdue and other experiment stations are being tested under a wide variety of field conditions.

Each variety and fertilizer application was seeded on one drill width fifteen rods in length in a uniform soil area. The fertilizer trials, all on the Vigo variety, include unfertilized strips, applications of 300 pounds of 3-12-12 fertilizer per acre, 600 pounds of 3-12-12 fertilizer per acre, and 600 pounds of 3-12-12 per acre plus a top dressing of 25 pounds elemental nitrogen applied on March 25. Varieties included are Vigo, Fairfield, Thorne, Seneca, Butler, Saline, Royal and experimental numbered 36, 48 and 399.

The varieties, and fertilizer applications are marked and farmers are invited to visit the plots and observe winter survival and spring growth. Yields are to be determined by combining each strip separately and results will be available this fall.

Mr. and Mrs. William Minser, Sr., of White Bear Lake, Minnesota, were recent visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Max Dunlap. The two families were formerly neighbors in Minnesota. The Minsters were on their way home from the winter in California and also visited in Tennessee.

Mrs. Clark Mollenhour was a Sunday dinner guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Relph Mollenhour.

FRUIT FLIES FORETELL CHICK PERFORMANCE

Thousands of tiny fruit flies, known as Drosophila, will continue to lay eggs in the interests of poultry science at Purdue University. A grant of $22,500 has renewed the Rockefeller Foundation support of this project for another three years.

During the past three years poultry research men have studied the egg production performance of 70,000 female flies. About 20 million fly eggs have been counted and size measurements taken on 400,000 of them. Dr. Don C. Warren, Dr. A. E. Bell and Claude H. Moore of the poultry husbandry department have been doing research on this project, which may serve as a guide for more efficient systems of poultry breeding.

Such basic research has importance economically to the poultryman because egg production and egg size have about the same degree of heritability in the fly as in the chicken. Since the fruit fly can produce from 25 to 30 generations a year, it permits the research program to take a short cut of many years.

Most extensive project of its kind in the country, the fruit fly study has attracted attention of animal and plant breeders from many parts of the world. Lately some of the newer techniques in plant and animal breeding are being tested. They include terms that have meaning for the poultryman and geneticist, such as progeny testing, inbreeding and hybridization, and recurrent selection for high combining ability.

Technicians in the department who are working with the data in the tests are: Mrs. Emelia Kirk, Mrs. Mary Thompson and Miss Margaret Lefler.

Miss Ann Sierk, who teaches in Michigan City, visited with Miss Wreatha McFarren on Saturday. Ann was formerly the first grade teacher in the Mentone school.

Dr. and Mrs. Dan Urschel left for Cleveland on Wednesday of this week, where the doctor is to attend the meetings of the American Heart Association and the American College of Physicians. He will be back in the Clinic on Monday, April 28th.

MENTONE HOME DEMONSTRATION CLUB HAS MEETING

Mrs. Leroy Cox led the discussion of the "Outlook" held by members of the Mentone Home Demonstration club who met Thursday afternoon at the country home of Mrs. Sherman Bybee, near Mentone. For the discussion the club members were divided into six groups. Each group considered one of the topics: 1. Family and Community; 2. Food and Nutrition; 3. Clothing; 4. Home Furnishings; 5. Home Management; 6. Housing.

Mrs. Royse Tucker gave the health report, which concerned "Heart Ailments." A report of the meeting conducted by the extension garden specialist was given by Mrs. Bertha Meredith. For the meditation, Mrs. Harry Sullivan read Psalm 32 from the Bible and a short poem, "Spring." Mrs. Howard Horn introduced the speakers.

"The Best Laugh I've Had Lately" was the response to roll call. Mrs. Harry Vernet gave a report of the meeting held in Warsaw by the presidents of the county home demonstration clubs. Mrs. Linus Borton was awarded the door prize and was also the high bidder in the auction. Gifts were received by Mrs. Borton, Mrs. Meredith, Mrs. Cox and Mrs. Claude Gates.

Mrs. Sullivan assisted Mrs. Bybee in entertaining the 24 members and Mrs. Ernest Studebaker.

TIMELY TOPICS

By Mrs. Ruth R. Snellenberger
Home Demonstration Agent

"Do you work your house or does your house work you?" this remark was made to a homemaker who was discussing the care of wood surfaces.

Actually the discussion point was directed to wood finishes. Did you know that a homemaker has a choice of six finishes? And that two of these are in the wood—not on the surface—and thus neither scratch nor show mar readily? Isn't having finishes of these types the kind that "make your house work for you?"

These two wood finishes result from using linseed oil or using a penetrating seal, tung oil. Several coats of each are used on the sanded wood surface, rubbed down after each and then protective coats of wax are used.

If a homemaker is refinishing woods I believe she would find it helpful to learn about the application and care of the above two finishes before she continues to use shellac or varnish.

When I discussed with one lady my comments in this column recently about the importance of blanching vegetables before packaging for freezing, she said "It is so important, too, to freeze only the best quality, because what you have when you use them is just exactly what you have put in the package." I was so glad for her comment because homemakers should realize that freezing does not improve quality.

Another caution to homemakers about freezing foods is to be sure that the variety is one recommended for freezing. If it's a vegetable you'll be growing in your garden, you'll want to select the seed variety that is recommended for freezing.

If you are planning to wash fabric lampshades, be sure that the fabric is sewed to the frame, not glued. If the trim is removable you might do well to clean it separately—at least be certain its colors do not run before endeavoring to wash it on the shade.

Before immersing the shade dust it with a soft brush or your vacuum attachment. Then plunge shade into laundry or bath tub filled with thick suds made of lukewarm water and mild soap. Brush gently with soft brush inside and out. Repeat in clean suds. Rinse several times, using clean water of same temperature. Set the shade on bathtowel to dry. Do not rub. Dry quickly. Some homemakers place the shade on the lamp before it is completely dry, turn on the light, and let the heat from the light bulb finish drying it.

LIONS MEET WEDNESDAY

The Mentone Lions club met Wednesday evening, at the school house, with a fine attendance. Two new members, C. O. Eller and Orville McFadden were introduced to the club. Lions H. V. Johns, Ora McKinley, Jack Vangilder, Richard Manwaring and R. L. Cooper were named as a nominating committee to nominate candidates for the coming election of local Lions club officials.

Mr. Travis Purdy, a former army chaplain, gave an interesting discourse about Europe, using a fine collection of stones as his lead-off for facts about each particular city or historical building. He has a mighty fine collection, from a historical standpoint, and his address was very interesting.

Mr. Purdy's closing remarks were as a warning to the American people. He said England was broke today—and the past few years we in America have been borrowing the "welfare state" and its fallacies from the other nations of the world that have evolved to a state of communism or national socialism that has left all these peoples prostrate. "America," he said, "hasn't quite gone beyond the point of 'no return,' but another ten years could complete it. If we want to maintain our freedom and prosperity we must join hands, regardless of political party or religious faith, and think straight and work hard or we shall end up as they are in Russia—all in one class—having nothing."

BOY SCOUTS MEET

The Boy Scouts met at the school house this week. Members of the committee were present and conducted a board of review, and passed some of the boys on their tests. The committee decided that the troop treasury should provide $5 per scout for scout camp this year.

The Scouts will have their meeting in the church next Tuesday at 7:00. Everybody bring five feet of rope for tying knots.

CALICO ASTER

Many years ago, someone looked at the flowers we call asters. We don't know his thoughts at that moment, but we can imagine they must have been something like this:

"Why, those flowers remind me of stars! Their blossoms look as though they were sending out rays. Wouldn't it be a good idea to take aster, the Greek word for star, and give it to the plants?"

©1951 National Wildlife Federation

Calico Aster

The name stuck and today it belongs to one of our largest families of flowers. There are more than 250 kinds of asters on our continent alone. Some are tall and some are short. Some look ragged and some neat. There are asters with blossoms under a half inch in diameter and others whose flowers are two inches across.

Most of the plants belonging to the aster tribe grow in the eastern and central United States. Only a few varieties are found in the far west.

One of the eastern members of the family is the Calico Aster. The National Wildlife Federation reports that it thrives from New England west to the Dakotas and south to Texas and Louisiana.

It is at its best in dry, open fields, but it also grows along thickets and in thin woodlands. Where there is not too much moisture and shade, the Calico Aster stands a foot or more in height. Here and there are a few which grow to be five feet tall.

With many straggling branches, the Calico Aster is a bushy plant. The main stem is smooth, while the branches are covered with down. The long, lance-shaped leaves are slightly rough.

Toward the end of the summer, the plant wears its small blossoms. They open up in time to please the last tourists of August, and they stay to welcome the nippy days of October.

Each blossom is from a fourth to a half inch in diameter and has many slender rays. Most of the flowers are white, but a few are pale lilac. Perhaps it is because they are so small and light in color that the plant is sometimes known as the Starved Aster. But according to the National Wildlife Federation, the true name is Calico Aster.

Several members of the Friendly Neighbors Home Demonstration Club took a Kinsey bus to Indianapolis, on Tuesday where they planned to see the Ice Capades in the evening.

THE AMERICAN WAY

AMERICA DEFINED

By DeWitt Emery

(Editor's Note: DeWitt Emery is president of the National Small Business Men's Association.)

Several years ago, after having spent considerable time in trying to find a suitable definition of our American Way of Life, I asked several of my writer friends to write such a definition for me. Each promised that he would do so but never did.

DeWitt Emery

So, my friends having failed me, I decided to have a go at it myself. In simple, homey, down-to-earth fashion, I attempted to express just what America means to me.

Apparently my effort struck a responsive chord because it was widely quoted in newspapers and magazines, over the radio and from the lecture platform.

In this National Elections year it would seem to be a most appropriate time to repeat this definition:

OUR AMERICAN WAY OF LIFE

Our American way of life is made up of many things, bathtubs and automobiles; big cities and small towns; farms and backyard gardens; mammoth steel mills and village machine shops; colossal educational institutions and the country school beside the road; churches and hospitals; railroads and air lines; chewing gum and ice cream; department stores and crossroad general stores; specialty shops and beauty parlors; pool room and race tracks; Hollywood, Broadway and the High School play; laughter and sorrow; eagerness and despair and people—millions of all kinds of people—gathered from all over the world, drawn by the magnets of Freedom, Opportunity and Justice.

Our American way of life provides each individual an opportunity to go as far and climb as high as his willingness to work, his skill, ingenuity and integrity will carry him.

Our American way of life recognizes that the individual has the right to work when and where he wishes, the right to worship as he pleases, to speak his mind on any subject, to meet with his fellow men for any peaceful purpose, to be secure in his possessions and to have his day in a free court.

It also recognizes that the individual is superior to the State, that our public officials are servants of the people and that they derive their just powers from the consent of the people.

These things taken together created an atmosphere of freedom and an economic climate which made possible in the United States the greatest production and diffusion of wealth in the history of the world, and the establishment, for even the lowest paid workers, of the highest standard of living the world has ever known.

Why? Because for more than one hundred and fifty years, free men in a free country have been working together to provide this better way of life.

Let us hold what they have given us and go forward in the sure faith that the American way of life is the greatest blessing known to mankind any place on the face of God's earth.

NOTICE TO DOG OWNERS

The unrestricted and meandering dogs in Mentone is becoming a serious affair. Numerous complaints have been made to the town officials regarding the damage being done to lawns, gardens and shrubbery by dogs. The citizens know whose dogs are doing the damage but they hesitate to issue a direct complaint, which many times, would be with a near neighbor.

State laws definitely state that dogs that are left to roam off the owner's property shall not be tolerated, regardless of whether the animal is carrying all the license and rabies tags which the law stipulates must be on every animal that is six months or more of age. Owners of such dogs are also liable to heavy fines and any damage done by the animals.

Mentone does not own any facilities or equipment to catch or impound stray dogs, and it should not be necessary to add to the tax burden to provide such needless facilities. The other alternatives are rather messy and disagreeable to perform. Needless to state, this public nuisance cannot be allowed to continue. If dog owners care to retain their animals, they must be confined to their own premises.

Publication of this notice shall be considered sufficient warning to all concerned.

MENTONE TOWN COUNCIL.

HIGHT — RUSH

At seven-thirty o'clock on Saturday evening, April nineteenth, the home of Mrs. Ray Rush, on south Franklin Street, was the scene of a very pretty wedding, when her daughter, Virginia Lee, was united in marriage to Corporal Tony H. Hight, son of Mrs. Cleo Hight, of Etna Green.

By candlelight, before an improvised altar of pastel gladioli the double ring service was read by Rev. David Gosser, pastor of the Mentone Methodist church.

The couple was attended by Miss Jo Lynn Cullum, of Mentone, close friend of the bride and Floyd Stutzman, of Etna Green, friend of the groom.

The bride wore a street length dress of light blue faille with navy hat and shoes. Her shoulder corsage was of red roses.

Miss Cullum was wearing a street length dress of aqua shantung with a pink hat. Her corsage was of pink rose buds.

The groom and best man wore the traditional white boutonnieres.

Mrs. Hight and Mrs. Rush were wearing corsages of blue and yellow iris.

Following the ceremony refreshments of cake, punch, mints and nuts were served from a table laid with lace cloth, crystal and lighted tapers. A pretty arrangement of white and yellow narcissus added beauty to the setting.

Before leaving for a short wedding trip, Mrs. Hight changed to a suit of light gray to which she pinned her corsage. He hat and accessories were navy.

The bride is a graduate of the Mentone High School with the class of 1950. She attended South Bend College of Commerce and is now employed in the employment office of Bendix Aviation of South Bend.

The groom is a graduate of the Etna Green High School with the class of 1949 where he was a star on the basketball team.

Mr. Hight is now serving with the U. S. Marines and is stationed at Camp Matthews, San Diego, California. He will return to duty April 28.

Rev. E. Coleman Ralston called from the Ozarks last Saturday afternoon and states they are well and very busy.

SPRING CONCERT

A large audience of parents and friends attended the Spring Music Festival at the Community building last Friday evening.

The art department is to be complimented for the lovely stage decorations, which, with the various lighting effects, made a lovely setting for the glee clubs and bands.

The program had variety and was well arranged.

We feel Mr. Kelly is to be congratulated for a fine performance, which comes only from many hours of work and planning.

MRS. TENIA MICKEY

Funeral services for Mrs. Jessiteno Mickey, age 91, one of Rochester's oldest citizens, were held at the Baptist church at Rochester, Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, with Rev. H. Gordon Hyde officiating. Burial was in the Syncamore cemetery northeast of Rochester.

Mrs. Mickey died Monday morning at 7:45 following a week's illness of complications. She had resided in Fulton county for 38 years.

CORN PLANTED TOO EARLY DOES NOT YIELD BETTER

The old adage that "the early bird catches the worm" is no basis for assuming that the earliest planted corn gives the largest yield, warn Purdue University extension agronomists.

Early planted corn, about May 3, yielded less than corn planted in mid-May and late May every year but one in the 14 years experiments were conducted by the agronomy department. Range in early planting was from April 28 to May 10. A similar range occurred in the later plantings which were intended to be at 10-day intervals.

Results indicate that for the latitude of central Indiana, there is little if any difference in yield of corn planted any time during the period of May 10 to 29, when other conditions are the same. Practically all adapted and recommended strains of hybrid corn for central Indiana should mature safely if planted any time during the latter period. This is somewhat conditional on whether fertility is balanced and ample.

Intermediate planting also fits into the program of better corn borer control. Studies so far indicate that early planted corn suffers greater damage than later plantings from the first brood of the borer since the moth chooses the more advanced plants on which to lay its eggs. It is generally recommended that farmers delay corn planting until about May 18 to escape heavy borer infection from the first brood.

Once planting is started, it should proceed as rapidly as possible. Late planted corn, after June 1, is subject to much damage from the second brood of the corn borer in some years. Late planting may also result in immature corn or corn that carries a high moisture content at husking time, unless recourse is taken to the use of early maturing hybrids.

Spring Concert Well Attended

A crowd of about four hundred attended the Spring Music Festival last Friday evening in the school gym. The program was well-prepared and enjoyable for all. A free will offering of $69.37 was collected. This Friday in the Warsaw Armory the bands of the county will present a massed band concert. Pupils of the Mentone band will participate. There will be no charge for the program.

Lunch Fund Short

The lunch count has remained near two hundred each day. After all expenses are paid, the lunch program will lack $13.00 of having enough money to meet last week's lunch bills. The smaller number eating and the two cent per meal cut in money available have made it difficult to pay expenses.

Members of the girls' physical education class under the direction of Miss Herriman will attend a play day at Manchester College this Saturday.

Attendance figures for the last attendance period were: grade 1—94.%; grade 2—93.3; grade 3—98.3; grade 4—95; grade 5—96; grade 6—94; grade 7—96.7; grade 8—96.8; grades 9 and 10—94.5; grades 11 and 12—95.9.

BURT NEW LEESBURG PRINCIPAL

Lorin A. Burt, coach at Mentone high school since 1947, has been named to succeed Glen Longenecker as the Leesburg high school principal by P. M. Bridenthall, trustee of Plain township.

Burt, whose father is superintendent of the Warsaw schools, will assume his new duties as Leesburg principal when school starts next fall. His resignation as the Mentone coach is effective at the close of the current school year.

Mr. Longenecker is leaving Leesburg in order to become principal of the Syracuse school, a vacancy created by the retirement of Court Slabaugh, Syracuse principal for the past 26 years. Mr. Longenecker has been principal at Leesburg for the past 11 years.

Burt graduated from Central High School in North Manchester in 1943 and then went to Manchester College. He served two years in the navy as an ensign during World War II, and after receiving his honorable discharge in 1946 returned to Manchester, graduating in the fall of 1947. He immediately came to Mentone as coach of all sports and has been here as coach and instructor of social studies and health since that time.

He received his master's degree from Indiana University in 1951, and has worked a year at I. U. on his doctorate degree, doing this work in the summer during the high school vacation period.

Burt is married to the former Miss Geneva Gibson and they have one child, Marianne, who will be three years old in June.

Coach Burt has the best wishes of Mentone and community as he moves to Leesburg.

GROUP MEETS TO PLAN FOR SUMMER RECREATION

Representatives from a number of local organizations met at the public library Wednesday evening to discuss the possibility of a summer recreation program at Mentone again this summer. Present were Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Tombaugh, Mrs. Mervin Jones, Mrs. Earl Anderson, Mrs. Harold Markley, Mrs. Walter Lackey, Raymond Cooper, Dale Wallace, Walter Kent, James Rodibaugh and Artley Cullum.

It was suggested that possible features of the program include reading, handwork, outdoor recreation and music. It was considered to be the preference of those present that a full-time director be employed to supervise the program over an 8- or 10-week period.

The proposed method of financing the program (with an estimated budget of about $1,000) was for all local organizations and interested individuals to supplement a fund that is expected to be supplied by the township, town and Merchants' Association.

WISE FABRIC BUYING

Wise buying of fabrics begins in the store.

Mrs. Ruth R. Snellenberger, home demonstration agent of Kosciusko county, suggests that it is important to select a fabric suitable for the purpose for which it is to be used. There are all kinds of new fabrics in different fibers, weaves and patterns on the market. Many of these have new possibilities.

For the homemaker to be able to make a wise selection, she should look for and read labels. Since some fabrics are more suitable for certain purposes than others, she should ask the clerk about the fabric. Experienced salespeople can give her good information to help her make a wise selection. Labels on wash fabrics should state pre-shrunk and fast color to washing as well as light. On some dress materials vat dye or sanforized may be printed on the selvege. Vat dye means good all-round color fastness and sanforized means that shrinkage will not be more than one per cent.

Manufacturers develop a fabric with certain uses in mind, and home sewing will be more successful if suitable fabrics are selected. As an example, crepe will gather and drape well, while gathered taffeta will be bulky. Certain fabrics launder better than others; so they should be used in garments which require frequent laundering. Those fabrics which require dry cleaning but do not launder well should be used when dry cleaning seems practical. House dresses should be made of durable, washable material.

It is wise for the homemaker to select a pattern which is suitable for the fabric.

THE SPERM WHALE

Before petroleum was pumped from wells, the world got most of its oil from whales. In those days, fleets of sailing ships roamed the seas in search of the ocean giants. Many a fierce battle was fought between men armed with harpoons and the powerful creatures whose bodies could be turned into oil.

The big fellows were waging a game, but losing, battle for existence when two discoveries were made. Men found it was easier to get oil from the ground, and they learned that electricity gave better light than whale oil. Thanks to the rise of the petroleum industry and the invention of electric lights, whales were spared.

But today, says the National Wildlife Federation, they face a new threat. Whale oil, though no longer needed for lamps, is a valuable raw material in the manufacture of textiles, cosmetics and candles. In some countries, people buy and eat whale meat.

© 1951 National Wildlife Federation
Sperm Whale

To meet these demands, 20th Century whale hunters rove in deadly packs. Leading the chase, in each whaling fleet, is a factory ship. It is outfitted with machinery to butcher a record haul of whales on a single voyage. The crew is seldom idle, because small killer ships keep bringing in fresh victims—all of them snared by accurate, hard-firing harpoon guns.

Among the prizes caught in this way are the massive Sperm Whales. They live in all the oceans of the world, staying in warm currents when they can, but often swimming in the frigid Antarctic.

The male is among the largest of the entire whale family. He sometimes grows to be 60 feet long, and he may weigh as much as 60 tons. The female Sperm Whale is about half as big.

Both are dark in color and shaped like gigantic tadpoles. They have big, blunt heads and powerful teeth. With the aid of their side flippers and their broad, forked tails, they can swim at speeds of three to four knots with ease. When pursued, they can plow ahead at ten or twelve knots. For food they eat mostly squids and cuttle-fish, but sometimes they gulp down larger creatures.

From the time they are born, at a length of ten to twelve feet, until they reach full size, Sperm Whales grow thick layers of blubber around their bodies. It is from this coating of fat that much whale oil is taken. An even finer grade of oil comes from their heads.

Besides oil, the Sperm Whales sometimes produce a valuable substance called Ambergris. It is a gray or blackish mass of material which forms inside them when they are sick. Though ugly to look at, it is a highly prized ingredient in the making of fine perfumes. A 400-pound chunk of ambergris once sold for more than $100,000.

RETURN FROM EASTERN TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. Heston Creviston recently completed a most interesting trip to New York City where they attended an Electrolux convention, and saw many interesting places there and enroute home.

On Easter Sunday they attended services at the Calvary Baptist Church. Rev. John Summerfield Wimble is pastor. He and Rev. Dowden attended Moody Bible Institute at the same time.

The most interesting part of their trip was at the locks at Thorold, Ontario, near Niagara Falls. Mr. and Mrs. Creviston met a Mr. Craig who is superintendent at the locks. He took them into the control tower where they were permitted to operate the levers which opened the four gates and raised the water to the proper levels.

The boat which passed through was the 648 S. S. Lemoyne. Captain Griesbach invited the Crevistons on board and they rode on through the locks.

In all they spent 4½ hours at the locks at Thorold and learned many interesting things.

CALVERTS TO AGAIN OFFER FREE WATCHES

Joseph A. Baker, of the Baker Jewelry Store, announces that the Calvert Watch Company is again offering two free watches to two members of the 1952 Mentone graduating class. One will be given to a girl and one to a boy, both to be chosen by secret balloting by members of the Junior and Senior classes. See Mr. Baker for details.

TALMA MOTHER-DAUGHTER BANQUET TO BE MAY 1

The annual Mother-Daughter banquet will be held at the Talma Methodist church on Thursday evening, May 1, at 6:30 p. m., with a pot luck supper. All mothers and their daughters are invited to attend.

The worship service will be conducted by Mrs. Ed Staldine. The program committee includes Mrs. Nora Brockey, and Mrs. Kathryn Walters. Mrs. Nadine Striver, Mrs. Olive Wenger and Mrs. Charlotte Mathews are on the table and coffee committee.

TELEPHONE RATE INCREASE HAS BEEN GRANTED

Last Thursday the Public Service Commission of Indiana granted the petition for increased rates for telephone service at the North Manchester, Mentone, Bourbon, Akron, Silver Lake and Pleasant Lake exchanges.

These exchanges were among the 37 where the increase was denied last December until the service and facilities were improved. Evidently the company presented evidence claiming their service and facilities now complied with the commission's requirements.

The higher rates are to apply at the next billing period.

TALMA ROD AND GUN CLUB NEWS

The Talma Rod and Gun Club met Monday evening at 7:00 in the Talma high school gym, with a large crowd in attendance. All enjoyed a pot luck supper. President Joe Duzan was in charge of the program and business meeting that followed. Conservation Officer Raymond Reker and Judge Byron Kennedy spoke and two movies were shown.

The next meeting of the club will be May 19.

Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Teel and family called on Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Haney at Sidney on Sunday afternoon.

Sunday callers at the home of Harry Witham were Mr. and Mrs. Art Witham, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Witham, of Urbana, Mr. Tommy Witham, also Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Teel and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Aughinbaugh, Carolyn, Dean and Phyllis and Gloria Hemig, all of South Bend, spent Sunday with June Aughinbaugh.

Mr. and Mrs. Guido Davis, of Burket, Worthy Patron and Worthy Matron, Mrs. Fred Lemler, Associate Matron of the Mentone Eastern Star Chapter No. 331, also Mrs. Oro McKinley will attend Grand Chapter in Indianapolis this week.

Several from Mentone went to Manchester College Monday evening where they enjoyed a program by Roland Hayes, one of the country's outstanding tenors for the past generation. He is best known for his interpretations of Negro spirituals and folk songs.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymon Hibschan have returned home after spending the winter in Arizona.

Sgt. Leroy Wise and Mrs. Wise spent Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wise in Peru. They came on to visit at the Francis Kehoe home on Sunday. Leroy returned to Ft. Knox on Sunday. Mrs. Wise remained for a week. She plans to go to Indianapolis Sunday to visit her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. John Marozsan.

PURDUE RECOMMENDS TWO NEW SOYBEAN VARIETIES

Two new soybean varieties, the early Blackhawk and the late-maturing Perry, have been added to the list of varieties recommended for Indiana growers by Purdue University agronomists.

Lincoln and Hawkeye will continue to be widely used for central Indiana, and Wabash will be grown extensively in the southwestern section. Only where a still later variety is needed will the Perry become popular.

Blackhawk, one week earlier than Hawkeye in maturity, is especially well adapted to muck and marsh soils of northern Indiana. It matures with the Earlyana but stands better and is higher yielding except on clay soils.

METHODIST CHURCH NEWS

The District Conference of the Woman's Society of Christian Service was held this past Thursday in the First Methodist Church at Mishawaka. The following ladies of the local church attended the sessions: Mrs. F. B. Davison, Mrs. John Ellsworth and Cynthia, Mrs. Albert Hatfield, and Mrs. George Mollenhour.

The work of the Woman's Society is no mean achievement in the church for the cause of Christ. Their 29,000 local societies support 223 schools and 38 hospitals. They support 2,118 missionaries and deaconesses.

Last year the ladies alone gave $8,220,528 to maintain missionary work overseas and at home. For work in their local churches and communities they gave $14,191,878. This was possible because of the cooperation of local societies as we have here in Mentone.

All of these figures are above and beyond the work which is contributed to by the local church treasuries and Benevolence treasuries. When the term World Service is used it means the missionary work of the church only and does not include the Advance for Christ funds which are given for specific missionary projects chosen by the local church.

Last year the Methodist Churches in the Warsaw District gave $20,670 for Advance projects and $47,862 to World Service. The churches of the North Indiana Conference gave $261,369 to World Service and $96,367 for Advance Projects. Over $16,000 were given in addition as special offerings for Overseas Relief, Chaplains and the Fellowship of Suffering.

The Methodist Church remains a great Missionary minded Church, and the effectiveness of its work has created jealousy and envy through Christendom.

This past Sunday the Pastor, following the worship service in the local church, supplied the Etta Green Methodist Church in the absence of the speaker who has been supplying that charge until Annual Conference.

On Easter morning the Rev. E. E. DeWitt supplied the pulpit at the Atwood Methodist Church.

The evening services in the local church will be directed towards the study of the Bible, its history, contents and use.

Appointed as the representative of the Methodist Churches, the Pastor is attending a Conference of Directors of Summer Church Camps at the Versailles State Park this week. The appointment was made by Mr. George Fenstermaker, Secretary of the Board of Education for the N. Indiana Conference.

THE AMERICAN WAY

NOT "WASHED UP"
By George Peck

(Editors note: George Peck is Chairman of the Board of the National Labor-Management Foundation and Executive Editor of its official publication, PARTNERS.)

The so-called liberals and self-styled liberators who champion Federal deficit spending and welfare schemes have hoisted the white flag of surrender, they proclaim that America has reached the peak of development and that its economy is "washed up."

George Peck

Nothing could be further from the truth. America has by no means come to the end of its forward progress. A nation that within the three decades has successfully fought two major wars; that is scattering billions of dollars annually the world over; that is spending many millions annually at home for defense; and is still maintaining a high standard of living for its 150 million citizens—such a nation just cannot be "washed up."

America is a giant that scarce realizes its own strength. One great danger that confronts us is that we may fail to realize our potentialities. It is time that we inventory our assets and prospects and take a stand against the defeatist philosophers who are trying to completely socialize this nation.

It is true that we must find ways to make our economy run more smoothly, so that there can be no possible pretext for any segment of the population to turn to government for aid. If we had given as much thought and effort to perfecting our American Capitalistic System as its defamers have devoted to overemphasizing its defects; had we not permitted the adoption of policies that sapped its strength and interfered with its workings, we would have by now ironed out most of the kinks in it.

America "washed up"—a thousand times no! The road ahead to greater individual freedom and opportunity will be hard and rough—it will entail toil and sweat. But that will be a small price to pay compared with what we eventually will be forced to pay if we continue to travel the other road that the "planned economists" picture as so easy and alluring, but which if we continue to follow it, will bring us to misery, enslavement and all the other evils that go hand in hand with totalitarian system.

Surely, we, the American people, do not want any such system. Do I hear someone say: "It cannot happen here?" Don't be too sure, for already we have traveled a long way down the road to collectivism. That's the horrible situation into which the "America Washed up" philosophers have steered us.

While it is late, it is not too late. The voices of the defamers and belittlers of our American Capitalistic System can be stilled. We have the capacity for future expansion if we but use the facilities at our command, adopt constructive policies and exercise the courage and wisdom to make necessary adjustments. We must insist that government remove every bureaucratic shackle from industry and business not absolutely essential to the defense program, so as to release the pent-up energy of our people, to the end that America not only can keep but expand its vigor and strength with which to maintain the world leadership that has been thrust upon this nation.

America "washed up!" Shucks! As the carnival barker puts it: "Folks, you ain't seen nothin' yet." America has made but a humble beginning. America's achievements of the past, which have been the envy of all the world, will pale into mere insignificance in comparison with the glorious triumphs which can be ours in the future, if we will silence the defeatist philosophers who babble that "America is washed up."

TIMELY TOPICS

By Mrs. Ruth R. Snellenberger
Home Demonstration Agent

Recently while working in a home with a group of women in the making of a slip cover, the man of the house asked me "Is this all you do, work on slip covers?"

Because of this inquiry and because many people say "I see your name in the paper so much," I thought some people might be interested in some of the things a home agent does, in addition to helping homemakers learn to make slip covers.

To begin with I'd like to say that the purpose of Agricultural extension Service is to improve rural family living through education—to extend the college to the folk. To reach a greater number of people the home agent works with home demonstration clubs (formerly known as home economics clubs) and with 4-H home economics clubs.

The kind of information given in club lessons is that requested by club members through program planning. To evaluate, the usefulness of the lesson, certain practices are recommended that the club member try to do and then report at the end of the year what she has done.

As home agent my part in these lessons varies. I may prepare the information and present it to leaders, training them to give in their local clubs. This was done for the milk cookery and fish cookery lessons. I may arrange with extension specialists to do the training if I do not feel well enough acquainted with the subject matter. The lessons on new fibers, fabrics, and finishes is to be conducted by a specialist from Purdue University later this year. Each year I try to present one lesson directly to each club.

During the month of March I presented 9 lessons to local clubs. At the same time local leaders presented lessons to 43 with an attendance of 729.

Of the 19 other meetings I attended during the month other kinds of help were given.

For example, four were slip cover workshops in which 4 to 6 women met in a home to learn to make a slip cover. I did not make the slip covers, but I tried to show those present how to measure, cut and fit, a slip cover, how to apply cording, do slip basting and to match designs. One day does not permit time to complete a slip cover but to get it enough toward completion that the homemaker can finish it. The women who helped make the slip cover are expected to make one for themselves and to help others whenever possible.

One lady, Mrs. Sam Knoop, of Claypool, told me that she had made four slip covers since the workshop held at her home a year ago.

Some of the other meetings which required preparation in arranging for meetings were the Garden and Landscape School, the special interest meeting, "Helping Children Learn to be Self-Reliant," 4-H Junior Leader meeting, a 4-H Adult Leader meeting, 4-H Officers Training School, a Presidents' Council meeting and a Program Planning Training meeting.

Only one-fourth of my time was spent in the office during March; 75% of my time was spent with adult work; 19 homes were visited for the first time this year; 7 radio programs were presented; 68 persons came to the office for information on such topics as buying mattresses, use of an ironer, and so forth and 110 telephone calls were made.

This is only a partial sample of a home agent's job.

Next week I'd like to tell about work of local leaders and their part in home demonstration work as the timely topic for National Home Demonstration Week, April 27 to May 3.

WHAT'S HAPPENED TO HIDE PRICES?

When any commodity takes a heavy drop in price, the question always is: Why? The recent drop in hide prices from about 25c a pound to as low as 3c per pound, makes us all wonder why. The answer is best given in a recent reply in the magazine, "Locker Management."

There are three major reasons why the price of hides has dropped. They are:

1. OPS price controls.
2. Troubles in the shoe industry are mirrored in the price of hides. It is mainly that the shoe manufacturers are playing the game close, waiting for sales to improve. Then, too, plastics are nibbling steadily at leather markets.
3. The drop is largely because terrific amounts of hides have been imported from Argentina and other Latin American countries. Tariffs on these imports were fairly low, and there is consequently a glut on the market. You should know that the government purchased millions of dollars worth of hides from Latin America to export to Europe as part of the foreign aid program, instead of buying them from our own country's hide sellers. For these reasons, the market here for hides is low.

About the only thing that can be done about it is to protest to our senators and congressmen. Something definitely must be done, and they are the only ones who can help. Surely they will if they get enough letters.

FRIENDLY NEIGHBORS MEET

The Friendly Neighbors Home Demonstration Association met Monday evening, April 14, at the home of Mrs. Oral Welch.

The meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. Everett Rookstool. Everyone joined in singing "America, The Beautiful" which was followed by repeating the Home Economics Creed. Mrs. Charles Manwaring gave Meditation, which consisted of several poems and remarks about flowers, ending with a flower prayer.

The song leader, Mrs. Ernest Studebaker, gave the history of the song of the month, "The Old Oaken Bucket," after which the song was sung in unison.

Health and Safety remarks on "First Aid for Heart Attack" were read by Mrs. Alden Jones, which was followed by an article on plant diseases read by Mrs. Turner Boggs.

The lesson, "Program Planning," was given by Mrs. Monroe Romine. Several subjects were discussed.

Much merriment was enjoyed when the nineteen members present answered roll call with "My First Date." This was followed by the Secretary's and Treasurer's reports.

The collection was turned over to the Cancer Fund.

Cheerio Pal gifts were distributed and auction was won by Mrs. Gerald Ballenger, Mrs. Monroe Romine and Mrs. Orion Deaton.

The meeting closed by repeating the Club Collect.

Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess and her assistant, Mrs. Herman Olson.

Final arrangements were made for the trip to Indianapolis on Tuesday, April 15. All twenty-two members left by special bus at noon. A trip through James Whitcomb Riley's home was enjoyed. The remainder of the afternoon was spent shopping. The highlight of the trip was the "Hollywood Ice Revue" in which Miss Barbara Ann Scott, Olympic Figure Skating Champion, starred. Returning in the early morning, everyone reported a good time.

NEIGHBORS SOW OATS AND PLOW

Friends and neighbors with about 45 tractors and 4 drills went to the Woodrow Kern home Monday morning and plowed, disced and sowed 41 acres of oats, and plowed and disced 50 acres for corn.

Mr. Kern only recently returned from the hospital and has been unable to work. His condition is improving.

Such neighborly acts truly warm one's heart. They could so easily pass unnoticed or be crowded out by the sordid and ugly news.

Following this piece of work, the group then went to the home of Jim Lackey, who has been ill, also, and plowed for him.

A pot luck dinner was furnished and served by the ladies at noon.

Smooth, efficient and impartial functioning of the Treasurer's Office is important to every taxpayer in Kosciusko county. The operation of the Treasurer effects each of us financially — both as to the cost of the service and the kind of service we get in paying our taxes. I have served this county faithfully for six years as a deputy in the office and am fully familiar with the Treasurer's duties. During the last year of Mr. Cline's term, I served him as Chief Deputy. I am asking for the privilege of being your Treasurer now, strictly on my past record of service. Due to the fact that I am at present carrying the full share of the burden of the Treasurer's Office, I do not feel that it would be right for me to spend the necessary time outside the office to campaign, except Wednesday afternoons and evenings. INTERNATIONAL FRIENDSHIP GARDENS TO OPEN MAY 11

Tulips by the hundreds of thousands get a grooming in the hopes that they will hurry to make their beautiful buds in time for the May 11 opening at the International Friendship Gardens.

Delayed spring weather gets Director J. V. Stauffer of the floral enterprise in a dither, for everything else is set to give the public the finest showing of tulips in the history of this yearly All-Summer Flower and Garden Exhibition now 16 years old.

The Gardens always open with the Tulip Show. There are nearly a half million bulbs sent over from the Netherlands. They have never failed to bloom and with a little warm weather which is sure to come, will make the planting of last fall become a glorious spectacle.

Special days will be May 18 and 22 when Camera Clubs will have their official fling at color pictures, when Tulips and Roses will have their top showings with lovely models in flowing gowns. Other Camera Days come later in the season.

These gardens are east of Michigan City on U. S. 12.

Indiana -
a POWER-FULL
State!

Over 95% of Indiana farms have dependable, low-cost electric service today. About 48% of them are served by the Electric Companies of Indiana and about 32% by the REMCs which buy their power at wholesale from the Electric Companies.

● Indiana uses lots of electric power, as indicated by the "power demand" bars in the chart. And the reason the Electric Companies of Indiana are investing over $704,000,000 from 1941 through 1954 to extend their facilities is to keep the electric power supply well ahead of the growing demand of Indiana electric users.

It is our responsibility to make sure there's plenty of electric power for all those we serve—farmers, REMCs, municipalities, business men, homemakers and industrialists alike. We've made sure in Indiana—there's never been a power shortage in our State! And we will continue to plan and build, years in advance, to provide plenty of electric power.

DIGS INTO THE PAST —IN THE ATTIC

A few days ago Mrs. Glen Law decided it was time to clear some of the junk out of the attic of their house, as it appeared to be nothing but a good place for a fire to start. When they got through they had over a half hundred old hats, several newspapers, 3 hoops for skirts, etc. There was a comic book put out by the Williams Shaving Soap boys—and the jokes haven't improved much since 1898. There was a Fulton county plot map for 1872, and a number of Mentone's Tri-County Gazettes, dated as far back as 1896. All were addressed to James Meredith.

A few items of interest—and there were many more—stated under date of December, 1899, that the high school now has electric lights. One reported Master Mack Haimbaugh was improved (boy I wonder what shape he was in before?) Also reported was the birth of a son to Mr. and Mrs. Clement Teel on Feb. 6, 1900. Steak was offered at 7c per pound, and the buggy and patent medicine ads were prominent and numerous.

D. A. R. APRIL MEETING

The Anthony Nigo Chapter of the D. A. R. held their April meeting at the home of Mrs. Earl Smith in Rochester on Tuesday evening.

The meeting was opened by the regent, Mrs. Frank Smith, leading the ritual service. Prayer was offered by the chaplain, Mrs. Emma Gill.

Following the flag salute, sixteen members answered roll call.

After the reading of the minutes and the treasurer's report the president general's message was read by Mrs. Omar Drudge.

The committee for the Mother-Daughter Banquet reported that May 12 had been selected as the date and the Eskimo Inn at Winona Lake the place. Reservations may be placed with Mrs. Ray Linn, Mrs. Kenneth Riner or Mrs. Robert Reiwoldt, and should be in by Friday, May 9.

Several projects pertaining to the interest of the chapter were discussed.

Election of officers was held with the following being elected for the ensuing year: regent, Mrs. Miles Manwaring; vice regent, Mrs. Edna Carey; secretary, Mrs. Kenneth Riner; historian, Mrs. Sherman Bybee; librarian, Mrs. Walter Lackey; registrar, Mrs. Bernice Rush and chaplain, Mrs. Emma Gill.

A very interesting and complete report of the sixty-first D. A. R. Continental Congress recently held in Constitution Hall in Washington, D. C., was given by Mrs. Frank Smith and Mrs. Miles Manwaring who returned last Saturday.

Emphasis was placed on the trip to Philadelphia and Valley Forge, Pennsylvania and the memorial service held there on Easter Sunday also on the formal opening of the Congress in Constitution Hall on Monday evening.

The impressiveness when the pages dressed in white entered carrying the various state flags also when the ceiling seemed to part and "Old Glory" unfurled from nowhere.

The theme for the entire Congress was "Safeguarding Our Future."

They reported that Senator Jenner, of our own Indiana, gave a very forceful address on Thursday evening. Very fine music was furnished by the different military bands.

At the close of the Congress on Friday a reception was held at the White House where they were greeted by Mrs. Truman. They say she is very gracious.

They both came home with a greater appreciation of the magnitude of what our D. A. R. means to the future of our country and of the greatness of the varied projects of this great organization.

At the close of the meeting delicious refreshments were served to the sixteen members and two guests, Mrs. Elmer Rathfon and Mrs. Cloice Paulus, by the hostess and her assistant, Mrs. Eldred Paulus.

ELIZABETH HOFFMAN BRIDE OF ROBERT G. BAUER

Traditional white satin was chosen by Elizabeth Hoffman for her marriage Saturday afternoon, April 26, to Robert G. Bauer. Miss Hoffman is the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Ralph Hoffman of Roann and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Bauer of Celina, Ohio, are the parents of the bridegroom. The wedding took place in the Roann Church of the Brethren before an altar graced with palms, candelabra and French hydrangea. The Rev. Hoffman, father of the bride, officiated at the double ring ceremony. He was assisted by Paul W. Hoffman, brother of the bride. Preceding the ceremony, the musicale was presented by Mrs. George Heeter of Elkhart, pianist, and George Heeter and Mrs. Lenora Elder of Celina, Ohio, vocalists.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a tulle over white satin gown with a wide lace yoke and fitted bodice, which buttoned up the back. The long fitted sleeves tapered to points over her hands. A double lace ruffle at the waist formed an apron effect in front and a slight bustle in the back, and the hoop skirt ended in a chapel train. The imported illusion veil fell from a lace covered headband and a double strand of pearls completed her attire. The bride carried a cascade arrangement of white roses and hyacinths with pale pink net backing.

Mrs. Delmer Bunnell of Burket, who attended her sister as matron-of-honor, was attired in a blue violet gown which featured a full skirt, Queen Anne collar and tiny pink carnations in a cascade arrangement. The bridesmaids, Misses Marjorie Blocher of Greenville, Ohio, Phyllis Heeter of Elkhart and Mabel Hoffman of Laketon, wore gowns of pink rayon Honan fashioned identical to that of the matron of honor, except for lace covered skull hats which matched their gowns. The flower girl, Miss Janet Bunnell, niece of the bride, was attired in a pink dotted swiss frock which featured a ruffled bertha collar. She carried a basket of pink snapdragons. Richard Bauer, twin brother of the bridegroom attended as best man and ushers were John Hoffman, brother of the bride, Delmer Bunnell of Bur-

DUTCH GIRLS, FLOWERS IN DUTCH GARDEN

These three girls in traditional Dutch costume sit amid traditional Dutch tulips in the Dutch garden at International Friendship Gardens, Michigan City, Indiana. "TAME BASS"

Following is an article taken from the pocket size edition of "Florida Outdoors," a magazine printed in the interest of Florida's sports of fishing, hunting and boating.

The article is written by Phil Francis and concerns Lee Bybee, former Mentone boy, born and reared in our community. His mother, Mrs. Hollis Bybee, is now living in Indianapolis with her daughter, Mrs. Verna Nelson.

The article, entitled "Tame Bass" follows:

I watched with amused interest as Lee Bybee clipped the spines off a small catfish and tossed it into his fish pond. As the catfish hit the water a minor explosion shattered the surface of the pool.

"That was Minnie," Lee said. "She forgets her table manners sometimes."

Bybee operates Lakeside Manor Hotel, located just Outside Lake Ochobee's levee at Clewiston. Since a large percentage of his guests are bass fishermen, Lee hit on the idea of building a fish pond on his motel grounds and stocking it with bass. The bass were caught in Lake Okeechobee on plugs, transported to nearby Johnson's Fishing Camp in ordinary skiff live-wells, and then carried bodily over to Lakeside Manor. If you've any doubts that fish caught on hook and line survive after being released, one visit to Lakeside Manor will certainly dispell them. A healthier looking bunch of roughneck bass than Bybee's pets would be hard to imagine. The largest is Minnie, a pleasantly plump six pounder and undisputed boss of the pool. The others run from one to 4½ pounds.

These bass of Bybee's actually are pets, not merely captives. They eat out of his hand and then follow him as he walks. They are one-man fish, however, remaining aloof to and distrustful of strangers.

Lee Bybee's novel idea has proved a tourist attraction of major proportions. Any time you happen to be in Clewiston, drop in on Bybee, and he'll be happy to have his pets perform for you. They're terrific.

Mrs. Clara Wehrley, of Waukegan, Illinois, is visiting at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Stella Emmons.

PROTECT THAT BIG INVESTMENT

Like the robin's chirp, a squeak in the chassis of an automobile is a signpost announcing the approach of warm weather, according to the Chicago Motor Club.

Unlike the happy note in the robin's song, the car's squeaks are protests against the bruises, rust and grime picked up in a rugged battle with the winter elements. The only effective way to silence those annoying protests and preserve the life of a car is to give it the mechanical first aid it deserves, advises the club.

Winter slush and snow thrown up under the car has had a deteriorating effect on all parts of the chassis.

A lubricating job is high on the list of the spring tonic for a car. The springs may require packing if they are enclosed, or, if they are not the enclosed type, they should be thoroughly cleaned and lubricated. Front wheel bearing should also be repacked. All chassis and body bolts should be checked and tightened.

When a motorist sheds his overcoat for the year, he should also drain off the old winter lubricants. Dirt and water accumulates in the crankcase over a period of time and the only possible way to get rid of it is to drain the crankcase when the oil is hot. It's important to the life of an engine that the crankcase be clean before new summer oil is put in.

The accumulation of rust or scale or other foreign material in the radiator or other parts of the cooling system prevents the free circulation of water and seriously affects correct engine temperature and smooth engine performance.

Most anti-freeze solutions contain chemicals which prevent the formation of rust and scale but when the anti-freeze has been drained out and clear water added for warm weather driving, it is wise to add a rust and scale preventative.

Radiator hoses should be inspected and replaced if worn. Where water heaters have been used, the removal, inspection and adjustment of the thermostats may be essential to the proper operation of the car.

Spring house cleaning should be carried right to the car. Now is a good time to apply wax or polish to preserve the finish and improve the appearance of the car. Seat covers are more comfortable for warm weather driving and help protect the interior appearance of the car.

The cleaning job should be continued under the hood, to the wiring, battery cables and terminals, distributor, and spark plug surfaces, generator and starting motor.

An occasional tune-up at any time in the year is recommended to prevent more serious trouble from developing. This check-up includes inspection and replacement where necessary of ignition wires, coil, distributor points, spark plugs, battery and battery cables, fan belt and carburetor. It's all the sort of check-up that can best be done by a trained, competent service expert.

A thorough spring check-up won't take long in the hands of an expert and the expense will be small compared to the major repairs which can be prevented, not to mention the confidence enjoyed in the operation of a well-cared-for automobile and the safety of the driver, his guests and other motorists.

WATCH FOR BLACK KNOT PLUM TREE DISEASE

Lafayette, Indiana—One of the most common saboteurs of fruit in the home fruit garden is Black knot disease of plums.

Like all troubles, Black-knot starts in a small way and grows like Topsy until it may ultimately destroy infected plum and cherry trees, says Dr. E. G. Sharville of the Purdue University plant pathology staff.

This disease first appears on plum or cherry twigs in the fall as small swellings near the tips of twigs, on fruit spurs, or in the crotches of younger branches. The following spring these small black-knots enlarge greatly in size and the bark ruptures.

Along in June the young black-knots become pulpy and the surface of the new gall becomes covered with a velvety green growth. As the summer progresses the green color of the young black-knot gall gradually fades, turns darker, and by fall has become hard, brittle and black.

Each year the black-knot gall enlarges but rarely girdles the twig or limb entirely. Black-knot galls may vary on a single tree from a few inches in length to extensive galls over twelve inches in length.

Smaller twigs when they become infected with Black-knot usually die within a year. Larger branches generally resist attacks for several years before succumbing.

Black-knot disease is caused by a fungus that lives over from year to year in old black-knot galls, Sharville advises. The disease is spread by seeds or spores that are produced by the hundreds of thousands from the velvety green surface of young galls in June.

Simplest remedy for this trouble is to remove and burn all black-knot galls from the trees in the spring. Follow with a regular spray program of "general purpose fruit spray" every week until the middle of June.

THE AMERICAN WAY

NO CHANGE FOR 2300 YEARS By Dewitt Emery

(Editor's note: Dewitt Emery is president of the National Small Business Men's Association.)

Surprising as it may seem today, it is nevertheless a fact that from the 5th century B. C. until nearly 2300 years nothing much happened to change the scale of living in the world. Then our new American government was formed and in 160 years the world's first free people made the greatest progress in history.

Dewitt Emery

Our new government recognized that every man had the God-given right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness so long as he did not interfere with those same rights of any other man. Our new government was specifically designed to secure these rights for each individual citizen and his posterity.

In a comparatively short time this country became wealthy, so wealthy that the next richest nation seemed poor in comparison. Why? What did this country have which other countries did not have? Nothing except freedom. Americans had cast off the deadening hand of government. They had freed themselves from the perpetual oppression of government which had kept the world poor for centuries.

Men like Thomas A. Edison, Alexander Graham Bell, Cyrus McCormick, Andrew Carnegie, Eli Whitney and Henry Ford were free to use their skill, ingenuity, courage and ambition to earn for themselves. But, and this too is a miracle of America, for every dollar they earned for themselves they made it possible for others to earn ten times, a hundred times or even several millions times as much. The automobile industry alone now provides more than 5 million jobs.

All of these men had keen minds, great courage and far more than their share of dogged determination, but important as these things were, they were much less important than the fact that they were free. They were free to earn for themselves and to keep what they earned. They were free to fail and start again as Ford did twice before he succeeded.

The companies these men founded were all financed to a very large extent out of earnings. All the capital Henry Ford ever had was $28,000. All of the balance of the several hundred million dollars the Ford Motor Company is worth today came from earnings retained in the business. That's the real way, the American way, to build a business. But try to do it today.

Had any of these men been forced to operate with the rubber dollars we have today, and under the tax rates, the rules, regulations and restrictions which are now in effect or those which were in effect before the "police action" in Korea started, he wouldn't, comparatively speaking, have gotten to first base. That's the tragedy of present-day America.

What's happened? Why this almost complete change from a free to a government-controlled economy? That's the sixty-four dollar question all right. The best answer I know of is given in a pamphlet, "Who's to Blame?", just published by the Small Business Economic Foundation. This pamphlet points out that while everyone knows about the Revolution in 1776, far too many Americans do not yet realize that we have had, or rather are in the final stages of, a second revolution which reverses what the first revolution accomplished.

"The effect of the first American Revolution," the pamphlet states, "was to transfer power from government to the people. The effect of the second revolution was to transfer power from the people back to the government."

"As long as the government was dependent on the people for support, the people remained free. What happened was a gradual reversal of this principle. The people had to be made dependent on the government, then the government would be free and the people would not. As the late Justice Maxey expressed it, 'A government strong enough to do things for everybody will be strong enough to do things to everybody.'"

"So there came from government an ever-increasing stream of promises—bait—to lure the people to depend on government. Always the promises were attractive. A hunter does not bait his trap with something which will not attract his prey."

This pamphlet is really a remarkable piece of work and should be read by everyone who wants to help prevent this country from going all the way down the road to national socialism and the welfare state. For a free copy of "Who's to Blame?", write to Small Business Economic Foundation, 2834 Central Street, Evanston, Illinois.

TALMA JUNIOR HIGH GOES TO CHICAGO

Last Saturday the junior high students with their teacher, Kermit Biddinger, journeyed to Chicago for the day. They visited the Museum of Science and Industry, Lincoln Park, the Board of Trade Building Observatory, drove through skidrow, took a ride on the subway and elevated trains, and then went to the W. L. S. Barndance at night. Others making the trip were Mrs. Biddinger, Charles Horn, driver and Ronald Mallott, principal. A good time was enjoyed by all.

Mrs. Mary Johnson of Churubusco, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Martha Welch of North Franklin St., and other relatives, has returned to her home.

TIMELY TOPICS

By Mrs. Ruth R. Snellenberger
Home Demonstration Agent

National Home Demonstration Week,
April 27 — May 3, 1952.

At this time each year recognition is extended to local home demonstration club leaders who help extend information to others. Without their help the large number of families could not be reached by Agricultural Extension Service.

Last week I mentioned in Kosciusko county during March 43 clubs having an attendance of 729 received lesson information. Can you see that it would not be possible for a home demonstration agent to give all these lessons each month?

Leaders who attend meetings to be trained to give lessons give more of their time than just one day. Time is often spent in their homes practicing the preparations they'll show in giving the lesson. Time will be spent going over notes taken or printed material distributed. Leaders find that their personal reactions should not be expressed because it might not be in accordance with what is to be taught.

Leaders frequently say they like to get lesson material to present to local clubs because they get all the information. Some say it helps them to gain poise for appearing before groups. Others say they feel they ought to take their turn in getting and presenting lessons.

I wish I could name all of the leaders to whom appreciation is extended for assisting with home demonstration work in this county. For club lesson leaders, there would be about 320 names to list for this year's program.

Other leaders to consider are regular club officers—presidents, vice-presidents, secretaries and treasurers. These may or may not be lesson leaders but even so each carries a responsibility for the organization functioning of her club.

Also in local clubs are health and safety leaders who make brief reports at each club meeting. Garden leaders attend a Garden School early in the year and report what W. B. "Pappy Ward", specialist at Purdue University has advised for gardens. A song leader endeavors to give information on origination of songs selected for the month in order to broaden the enjoyment of them.

In addition to these types of leaders there are special interest leaders—women who instruct small groups in techniques. Last year's corsage making workshops are an example of small groups being taught by local leaders. Mrs. Lawrence Rife and Mrs. Dean Marble instructed several groups. Mrs. Rife has agreed to instruct a group in the Pierceton vicinity this summer and Mrs. M. M. Coble has invited the group to her home. The date for this meeting will depend on the availability of flowers.

This year Mrs. Sam Knoop and Mrs. William Frush, Sr., have been instructing groups in making lampshades at home. Some ladies who have attended have in turn instructed groups. Mrs. F. E. Pence invited interested members of the Eight Square Home Demonstration Club to her home to learn lampshade making. Mrs. Loren Tridle of Mentone, who has had previous instruction, has arranged to meet with a group of interested homemakers in Jackson Township community.

Committee chairmen are leaders also to be recognized during National Home Demonstration Week—in local clubs those who plan educational exhibits for the County Fair, who plan educational trips for the club, who plan family night meetings, and so forth; and in the county organization those who arrange for the activities undertaken.

Appreciation should also be extended to the husbands and family members who cooperate so that the homemakers can assist with home demonstration club activities.

ADVISORY COUNCIL ELECTS

There was a good attendance at the School Advisory Council meeting held at the school building last Tuesday evening.

Zanna Hammer was elected chairman for the coming term and Mrs. Harold Markley was reelected secretary.

It was decided that the council be composed of 24 members from the school district, to serve terms of one, two, or three years each, with all future additions to be named for three year terms. This will make a council with a yearly change in personnel. Numbers were drawn from a hat for the determining of the tenure of the present membership.

COMMITTEE NAMED FOR SUMMER RECREATION

The governing committee that has been named for the summer recreation program is composed of Mrs. Harold Nelson, Walter Kent and Harry Smythe, representing the group that met last week, the township and the town council, respectively.

The above committee will meet within a short time to formulate more definite plans for the summer program.

Non-Skid Deck

It is wise for boat owners to remember when they're conditioning their crafts for summer that a wet varnished deck is a slippery one. A little powdered pumice or very fine grain sand in the varnish will reduce the risk of skidding.

ATTENDED CONCERT

Mrs. Agnes Rans, Mrs. Ernest Studebaker, Mrs. Sherman Bybee, Mrs. Milton Dowden and Mrs. Noble Oyler attended the concert in the Rainbow Room of Westminster Hotel at Winona Lake, Tuesday evening. The concert featured Bob and Lucille Parsons with Gill Mead as organist and John Peterson, guitarist and composer.

Mrs. Lizzie Longfellow, of Warsaw, and Mrs. Claude Barkman were dinner guests, on Monday at the home of Mrs. Earl Meredith.

The regular meeting of the Singspiration will be held Saturday evening, May 3, at the Akron Co-operative Brethren Church. The program will begin promptly at 8:00 p. m. D. S. T. The song leader will be Rev. Jack Harvey, who proved to be very popular with the young people last month.

A very special program is anticipated. Miss Opal Hull, art director for the Rochester schools, will present a "sermon in chalk, sand and song." Miss Hull has traveled widely presenting this program, which consists of chalk drawings made especially effective by the use of colored lights and appropriate musical accompaniment. Everyone is invited.

THOUSANDS OF TULIPS IN BLOOM AT AKRON

Tulip time will come a little early this year at the Gast Tulip Gardens on the west edge of Akron. In spite of a backward early spring, the recent warm days have brought unusually rapid development, and the tulips will be ready for visitors next Sunday.

May 4th.

The Single Early and Triumph Tulips are all in bloom now, and the Darwin, Cottage and other classes are showing color. Several thousands of them will be opened by next Sunday. Besides the tulips, there are also twenty varieties of Jonquills, Daffodils and Narcissus in bloom at this time.

Several new varieties have been added to the tulips by the Gast's this year and an excellent display of many colors and rare beauty awaits the many visitors. While a few of the earlier varieties may be faded by a week from Sunday, May 11, this will probably be the biggest display day of the season when all the popular long stemmed tulips as well as the Parrots and Peonie flowered ones will be at the height of their glory.

Flower lovers by the thousands from all over northern Indiana, visit the Tulip Gardens each spring, and meet a very welcome reception. In the past few years Akron has become known as the "Little Holland" of Hoosierland.

For those who have never visited the Tulip Gardens, Akron is at the junction of State Roads 14, 19 and 114 and is 10 miles east of Rochester and Lake Manitou.

WRITES FROM GERMANY

Saturday, April 19, 1952

Dear Art,

Here I am in Germany and have just been assigned to my permanent duty assignment. I will be working in the Depot office here at the camp in Boblingen, Germany. We are in an Ordnance Division attached to the Seventh Army.

We have very nice living quarters

Someone, maybe YOU and a very modern camp. I think I will like it over here all right but it will never take the place of home.

We get passes very regularly so we can see what Germany is like while we are here. I'm pretty sure of being stationed here the rest of my term of service, which will be till October of 1953.

I hope everyone at home is fine, and feeling as good as I have since I got here. We have had perfect weather since I arrived. It gets up to about 70 or 80 degrees every day but is nice and cool at night.

Most of the people over here are very nice to servicemen. That makes it a lot easier to get along in town. Most of them can speak a little English, but I still can't tell what they're talking about half the time.

Will you please send me the paper now, so I can get a little news of what is going on in Mentone?

Tell everyone hello for me and I wish I were home, too.

Very truly yours,
Ted

HEALTH FACTS FROM YOUR STATE BOARD OF HEALTH

Child Health Day on May 1 is the preparation by parents, schools and community leaders for the preschool examinations of children entering school for the first time this fall.

"A healthy child is a happy child and is ready to learn if rested and well fed," Mrs. Bernice Senour, maternal and child health consultant of the Indiana State Board of Health, said today in stressing the need for physical examination of the preschool child by the family doctor.

"If the child has sight or hearing defects, many unhappy hours in the school room may be avoided if the defect is discovered before the child is encountered with the new life of adjusting to many individuals instead of a few in familiar surroundings. The child needs to be protected by immunization against communicable diseases and dental defects need to be corrected.

Most every Indiana community through the school officials and Parent-Teacher groups plan for orientation or registration day for the parent and child. The school policies are explained and the child has an opportunity to become acquainted with the school surroundings. Film, literature and talks on the preparation of the child for school including such subjects as safety rules concerning walking or riding in a school bus are given.

DON FENSTERMAKER TAKES PART IN YOUTH U. N. IN WEST

Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Fenstermaker of Akron have recently received a most interesting letter from their son, Don, 23, who is in his sophomore year at the University of California, Los Angeles.

Don is an officer in the Model United Nations Organization for youths throughout the world and had an important part in the world conference which was held in L. A. from April 2 to 5. As a member of the Student Body of Officers, Don served in the capacity of Assistant Secretary General during the convention and it was his privilege to question Mr. and Mrs. James Roosevelt and family.

The Akron Youth, who served with the U. S. Navy also assisted the real Assistant General of the UNO, Mr. Benjamin Cohen in some of the details of the conference program.

He stated that on Wednesday, April 2, the delegation from various countries of the world began pouring into the Ambassador Hotel and he was on the welcoming committee for the group from Hawaii.

During the meetings the student statemen were interviewed by some members of the Los Angeles newspaper, movie cameras took "shots" of the convention and such celebrities as Mary Pickford, Peter Lind Hays, Mary Healey and others appeared on the entertainment program.

Don had one of the major parts in a T-V sketch. He is sending his parents a copy of the Los Angeles Times which carried a complete story of this interesting meeting. The Akron student is majoring in International Relations at the university.

THE NORTHERN INDIANA CO-OP. NEWS

HIT SPITTLE BUGS NOW TO PROTECT FORAGE

Lafayette, Indiana—Now is the time to hit spittle bug. This hayfield bandit is responsible for heavy reductions in forage yields, and control should be started immediately.

R. T. Everly, Purdue entomologist who has been conducting investigations for the control of this insect, recommends applications of methoxychlor, BHC, or toxaphene in late April and not later than May 7.

Farmers should check their hayfields for spittle masses every three or four days, and should apply one of these insecticides within a week after the first masses are seen.

In test plots where control measures were taken last spring, hay fields were 700 pounds per acre more than on plots with no insect control.

At present, BHC is most economical and should be applied at the rate of three pints of 11 per cent gamma isomer per acre. Methoxychlor, one of the newer chemicals giving excellent control, leaves no objectional residues. This means it can be applied to hayfields that are to be pastured. Two quarts of 25 per cent solution per acre is recommended.

Whichever chemical is used should be mixed with sufficient water to cover one acre. The sprays may be applied with either ground or airplane spraying equipment.

The earlier spittle bugs are killed the less they feed and the greater the gain in hay fields. Additional information on spittle bug control is contained in Mimeo E-28, available from county agricultural agents or directly from Purdue University.

Butter Use

In New York State, one of two states east of Wisconsin which still bans yellow margarine, 19 out of every 20 pounds of butter consumed is imported from other states. The state's large dairy industry realizes only 63 cents from butter out of every $100 of income.

GRASS SILAGE HELPS INCREASE FARM INCOME

In order to get the most feed nutrients out of each acre of grass-land and ton of hay, farmers are being advised by their Agricultural College to harvest the hay by mid-June. This is the season when the grass and legumes contain the moisture. To dry and store the hay by old fashioned methods is expensive in labor and loss of feed nutrients through the falling off of the tendrest leaves and proteins of the plants.

Grasses can be cut early without any of the attendant losses of feed value or time required to cure the hay by putting it into the silo. Farmers report that grass silage put up in June keeps milk and meat production high in January and the other winter months by providing more succulent green feed such as is found in the lush spring pastures. This highly nutritive green feed helps keep down feed costs by reducing the quantity of costly feed grains and suppliments which must be used under less favorable conditions to maintain production of both milk and meat products at high cutting of hay helps the grass and legume meadows to recuperate faster, thereby adding from a few days to as long as a month to the length of the pasture season. That farmers are turning more and more to grass silage is shown by the fact that 18 out of 27 leading farmers in one state made grass silage while only 15 of the 27 made any corn silage. Some of course, made both grass and corn silage. In one county in that State, 25 new trench silos and a dozen upright silos were put up in 1951. Both kinds of silage were put in use of trench silos in this state to take care of the grass silage is tremendous when you stop to consider that the oldest trench silo in the State is only three years old.

Neither the pastures nor the grass whether harvested as silage or hay are better than the soils on which they are grown. Run down or unproductive soils must be treated with adequate amounts of liming material and fertilizer prior to seeding with adapted grass and legume mixtures. While the liming material supplies the calcium and usually the magnesium the fertilizer supplies nitrogen, phosphorus and potash needed by the growing plant. The liming material also conditions the soil for maximum availability of the chemical fertilizers applied and the native phosphorus, potash and minor elements which are already in the soil as well as stimulating the microbial action in the soil.
