Under date of April 3, a letter was addressed to the town officials of Mentone, by Floyd A. Gause of the Farmers & Merchants Bank of LaOtto, Indiana, stating that he was enclosing a check for $11,474.42 as the distributive share as set out in the will of Nettie Elson, to go to the cemetery where her brother, Maurice Dudley, was buried.

The town of Mentone received notice of the fact that the Mentone cemetery was to share in this estate, many months ago.

Clerk-Treasurer R. O. Jones states that the sum is to be placed in a trust fund with the earnings only to be used for cemetery upkeep.

Lions To Sponsor College Choir

The Manchester College Choir under the direction of Clyde W. Holsinger will be presented by the Mentone Lions Club on Wednesday Evening, April 18, at the Mentone Gym.

The A Cappella Choir is a group which was organized in 1946 by Dr. Holsinger. The choir has rapidly become recognized as one of the finer choral organizations in this area, and has been received with enthusiasm in its many performances both on and off campus. The choir has appeared in three symphony programs at Manchester, the last two by popular demand. It began its annual spring tour about March 23. Each school year demands a versatile group of singers. In addition to the many concerts on campus, the A Cappella Choir appears in numerous concerts off campus. It has been featured in national radio broadcasts as well as participating in larger productions of opera and oratorio. It has appeared in programs for state music education groups.

The group which numbers 50 students is the successor to the Madrigal Club and the Chapel Choir of former years. The choir's repertoire includes choral literature of many types specializing in unaccompanied masterpieces of both ancient and modern composers. Deep satisfaction is gained by the choir members in their singing of great choral literature and they seek to share their appreciation with the listeners.

Dr. Holsinger, a graduate of Manchester College, received his Master of Music degree from Northwestern University School of Music, where he completed his Ph. D. degree in the summer of 1954. While pursuing his graduate work he held the responsible position of assistant to George Howerton, Director of the Choral Organizations at the University. He has been a member of the Summer Session faculty in the School of Music, Northwestern. Before going to Northwestern, Dr. Holsinger was director of music in Berne, Indiana, and in the Wilbur Wright High School in Dayton, Ohio. He is at present Editor of The Indiana Musicator, official publication of the Indiana Music Educators Association.

Tickets are now available from any member of the Lions Club.

Reading Club Has Anniversary

The Mentone Reading Club held its anniversary dinner at the Westminster hotel, in Winona Lake, Wednesday evening, March 28. The arrangements committee was Mrs. Fred Lemler, Mrs. Vance Johns and Mrs. Artley Cullum.

The "do-it-yourself" idea was carried out during the evening and began when the ladies were shown to a table in the dining room. Here were the materials for their own Easter basket, grass, nuts and candies. Each lady made her own nut cup and filled it, then found her place at the large dinner table. Each place was designated by a small colorful chicken holding a name tag. The large table was decorated with three Easter egg trees and bunnies.

The "do-it-yourself" theme was continued when the ladies served themselves from a bountiful spread smorgasbord table.

The "Do It Ourselves" part of the program was opened by the group singing, "When You Wore A Tulip," with Mrs. F. B. Davis on at the piano.

Two vocal solos, "Easter Parade" and "Peter Cottontail" were sung by Leah Nell Lemler with Mrs. Fred Lemler accompanying.

A humorous reading, "Music

Hath Charms," by Mrs. Vance Johns, was enjoyed.

Mrs. Milton Persons played a violin solo, "The Lost Chord," with Mrs. Dan Urschel accompanying at the organ.

An organ-piano duet, "Tea For Two," was played by Mrs. Philip Parker and Mrs. Artley Cullum.

Mrs. Philip Parker, of Akron, was in charge of the remainder of the program. She presented a number of colorful and versatile organ selections, and was assisted by Rita Olson at the piano in three numbers.

Her program opened with "Finger Fling" and "Lady of Spain." The next was a medley of such favorites as "My Wonderful One," "Indian Love Call," and "Laura." Mrs. Parker then spoke of the thousands of tones which can be found on the Hammond organ and demonstrated a number of sound effects such as the bass fiddle, train whistle, banjo, calliope, etc. Rita Olson played the piano, with Mrs. Parker at the organ, for the next three numbers. They were "Toy Trumpet," "Star Dust," and "Swonderful." Mrs. Parker closed the program with the brilliant "Tico-Tico."

Shriners Annual Charity Show

The South Bend Shrine Club and all of the Shriners in this area, are presenting their annual show for the benefit of the Shrine Crippled Children's Hospitals. The show will be at the John Adams High School Auditorium, in South Bend, on April 20th and 21st, 1956.

In their never-ending hunt for something new in the line of entertainment, the Show committee of the South Bend Shrine Club believe they really have something novel to offer this year. It's a complete show in the "DISNEY" theme, called "A TRIP TO DISNEYLAND." The first show of its kind ever to play in the middle west, "A TRIP TO DISNEYLAND" is a presentation of the Barnes-Carruthers Theatrical Enterprises of Chicago, the leading producers of spectacular entertainment in the United States and Canada. This is high calibre family entertainment—something for Mom, Dad, Grandpa, Grandma, and, of course, the kiddies. It will entertain them all.

There will be five shows—two Friday evening, April 20th, at 6:15 and 8:45 p. m., one Saturday afternoon at 2:00 p. m., and two Saturday evening, at 6:15 and 8:45 p. m. Tickets are $1.25 each except for the Saturday matinee which is 75 cents, and can be secured through any Shriner in the area, as well as at the South Bend Shrine Club, 107 Lincolnway East, South Bend, Indiana. For the first time, RESERVED SEATS will be available for all performances, by exchanging your regular ticket and a small fee, at the Shrine Club Ticket Office, 107 Lincolnway East, S. Bend, Indiana.

As always before, all proceeds from this show will go to help support the Shrine Hospitals for Crippled Children. These hospitals provide free hospitalization and surgery for orthopedic crippled children, regardless of race, color or religion. Through the efforts of the Shriners in this area they have contributed over $65,000.00 to the Shrine Hospital Program in the past nine years. As against this, the citizens of this area, through their needy crippled children, have received over $265,000.00 worth of benefits from the Shrine Hospital, Oak Park unit, and more cases are being accepted for treatment all the time. All moneys for the operation and building of Shrine Hospitals for Crippled Children are raised by the Shriners, through their annual dues, football games such as the annual East-West and North-South football games, shows, circuses, and entertainments such as this one. There is never any public solicitation for funds. The Shriner's slogan "No Man Stands So Straight As When He Stoops to Help A Crippled Child."

The living-dining area and the multi-purpose room are being done in the yellow to gold tones with accents of turquoise, blue and green. Walls in the living room are in ash paneling rubbed with white; the fireplace is white brick placed vertically in an off-set design.

One bedroom is in purple sage, a mauve tone, the other in thunderbird blue, a soft pastel. One bathroom is all white glass with black and gold accents, the powder room is in yellow and white with a whimsical mural on one wall.

Over 200 exhibitors are readying displays of the newest kinds of building equipment and home supplies. The house itself is completely air conditioned and music is piped to every room.

An elaborate display of kitchens of tomorrow is being installed by General Electric. There is one for young marrieds in tones of yellow and white, a gourmet's headquarters with copper fixtures and pink accents and a sink for preparing salads, one for party living in dark brown and pink, one with a New Orleans decor in white with turquoise fixtures.

Some one hundred classes from high schools and colleges in the state are planning to attend the show and there will be several guides to take them through. Among the exhibits with an educational flavor is one prepared by the Indiana chapter of the American Institute of Architects, and one from the small homes councils of the University of Illinois.

Future Food Outlook Good

"By 1975, United States food and fiber requirements can be met with approximately the same land requirements as at present with a farm labor force at least 20 percent below present levels." This is one of the conclusions reached by Dr. Vernon W. Ruttan, agricultural economist at Purdue University, in a recent issue of "Review of Economics and Statistics."

Dr. Ruttan's article on "The Contribution of Technological Progress to Farm Output: 1950-1975" states that the important question facing American agriculture is not that of meeting requirements of food and fiber for an increased population but what combination of expenditures for research, land, labor and capital is needed to produce this output at the lowest cost.

"The nation's needs for food and fiber are expected to increase 60 percent above the 1950 level by 1975," Ruttan says, "and if past trends continue, half of this increase will be taken care of through increased efficiency resulting from the application of new research and technology."

To produce the other half of the nation's increased need for food and fiber, Dr. Ruttan believes that additional expenditures will be required for fertilizer, tractor fuel, insecticides and antibiotics than in the past.

As a result of these changes, Dr. Ruttan expects farm output to become more sensitive to price change and that attempts to control farm output will become more difficult and costly than at present.

No attempt is made in the article to project the combination of expenditures needed. However, it is shown that the least costly alternative would involve an increase of about 2.2 percent per year between 1956 and 1957. This is well above even the higher estimates for the period 1910-50 but has been approximated during the years since World War II when the most rapid increase in output per unit of total input occurred.

Bulk Milk Tank Facts

While bulk tanks are efficient cooling systems designed to maintain milk quality, they will not improve the quality of milk placed in them.

E. A. Gannon, extension dairyman at Purdue University, reports that milking machines and other utensils must be given adequate cleaning and bactericidal treatment prior to milking. If the bulk tank is connected to a pipeline, the pipe-line should be washed immediately after milking and treated with a bactericide just prior to milking.

According to Gannon, special cleaners have been formulated for washing pipelines in place. The special cleaners commonly contain some caustic soda which is irritating to the skin when used for hand washing. The steps to be followed in cleaning a pipeline milker consist of rinsing with cold or lukewarm water, washing by circulation using the proper detergent and a temperature of at least 160 degrees, rinsing with hot water, and rinsing with bactericide just prior to use.

A well-designed bulk tank, properly operated, will not show an increase in temperature of 3 or 4 degrees as warm milk is being added.

It should be remembered, Gannon says, that bacteria will grow in milk at any temperature above 32 degrees. With every other day pick-up of milk at the farm, it is necessary to control the types of bacteria capable of growing at a low temperature.

The parts of a bulk tank which need the most attention are the outlet valve, the short pipe containing the outlet valve, and the agitator.

Production of quality milk with a bulk tank is possible only if it is cared for properly, and milk of low bacteria count is placed in the tank at the start, Gannon concludes.

Fabric Care Suggestions

With so many new fabrics available today, homemakers are finding it hard to know in advance just what kind of care is best for the clothes they buy.

Most of these new fabrics possess highly desirable properties, but must have proper care to insure maximum beauty and wear, says Mrs. Lottie Sumner, extension clothing specialist at Purdue University.

Buying clothes with labels which give specific instructions on care is one of the best ways to insure satisfaction, she advises. However, if the fabric is washable, there are a few general rules which can be applied for good results.

Mild soap or synthetic detergent should be used, and soft water is preferred. White fabrics should be washed separately, and those which are a blend of two fibers should be handled according to the fiber requiring the greatest care.

If a washing machine is used, the washing period should be short, and the water temperature no higher than 135 degrees F. to prevent heat-setting wrinkles. A simple test for temperature is that the water not be too hot to stick your hand in. Fabrics with delicate trims or those of especially fine construction should be put in a mesh bag for added protection.

Squeezing suds through a garment is far better than rubbing, since it is less likely to cause wrinkles, and excess water should never be removed by wringing or twisting. Drip-dry or roll in a bath towel, shake out and place on a hanger to dry. Pleated fabrics look far better if they are drip dried. If a dryer is used, the temperature should be low and garments removed before they are completely dry.

When planting potatoes, Purdue University extension horticulturists say to use a seed piece, either whole or cut, that is about egg size. Make a furrow six inches deep, distribute a handful of fertilizer in the row every three feet, mix the fertilizer and the soil, and drop a seed piece about every 10 to 12 inches in the row. Cover shallow, and as the growth advances, fill in the furrow, the specialists add. Rows should be from 24 to 30 inches wide for optimum conditions.

Conceit is a queer disease—it makes everyone sick but the one who has it.

Marketing Guide

Lafayette, Ind.—Hog prices are expected to reach a 1956 peak in June or early July, according to agricultural economists at Purdue University.

The economists predict, however, that a rush of spring pigs to market is likely to occur by late July which will force prices downward again at that time.

The Indiana hog-corn ratio, which has fluctuated between 9.7 and 10.4 during the past three months, is expected to continue below normal and cause reduction in number of sows and gilts bred to farrow this fall.

Some hog liquidation is apparently underway as indicated by the lighter market weights of barrows and gilts and relatively larger number of sows in the total slaughter.

Moderate improvement in prices of all grades of fed cattle is expected during the second quarter, say the economists. Fewer cattle will be marketed. Greatest price improvement will be in high choice and prime grades.

Total milk production continues up despite a slight decline in the number of cows. Government is expected to buy large quantities of dairy products during the next few months.

Large supplies have kept Indiana broiler prices substantially unchanged since the first of the year with prices ranging between 19 and 21 cents.

Dwarf Fruit Trees Pay

A number of advantages are available to Hoosiers who plant dwarf apple trees in their yards or orchards.

Frank Emerson, Purdue University horticulturist, says dwarf apple trees are ideal for home planting since they bear at an earlier age and generally produce a higher percent of the crop in the better quality grade classification. In addition, less time is required for pruning, the trees are easier to spray, and the fruit is easier to pick.

The same characteristics have made these dwarf trees a matter of considerable interest on the part of the commercial apple grower. Dwarf trees offer the orchard growers the possibility of increased yields of better quality apples with a reduction in the cost of production.

However, Emerson says that while dwarf trees offer advantages, it should be remembered that there is still much to learn about dwarf stocks and how they should best be grown. Very little is known about the ability of dwarf trees to withstand early fall freezes, and for this reason it is not advisable to make large scale commercial plantings or to put any major part of a commercial orchard into dwarf trees.

Since dwarf apple trees are rather shallow rooted, irrigation may be necessary during dry summer months. The use of mulches to protect roots from severe summer heat and low winter temperatures, and to conserve moisture during dry weather is almost essential.

Two types of dwarf apple trees Malling and Clark, are offered at present for sale to Indiana growers. In the Malling dwarf trees, a series of numbered rootstocks are available, each with its own characteristics and each giving a tree of different height. Malling IX is the most dwarfing of all the Malling rootstocks. It reduces the size of the tree to about 6 feet in height at maturity, bears one or two years after planting, and will ultimately produce about a bushel of fruit per tree.

Malling II and VII have proven to be the best adapted dwarf trees for commercial plantings under Indiana conditions. Malling II and VII reach an average height at maturity of 12 to 16 feet with average yields of 5-9 bushels per tree.

Time For A Spring Check

After a long, hard winter through all kinds of inclement weather, the family car should undergo a complete "stem-to-stern" change-over with the advent of spring-like weather, the Chicago Motor Club suggests.

During the winter months the average motorist, perhaps, is not as attentive to his car as he should be, the Motor Club believes. After the rugged ordeal of winter driving, it should be taken to a service station of garage for a change-over once the brunt of winter has passed.

Snow, ice, dirt and chemicals used for the removal of ice from the streets contribute heavily to the wear and tear of an automobile, it is pointed out.

For the sake of safety, efficiency and performance of your car, spring is the time for a complete mechanical check-up and change-over, the Motor Club advises.

It is suggested that motorists make an appointment now with their favorite garage or service station operator just as they would consult their doctor for a physical check-up.

Eastern Star Installation

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Bowser were installed as Worthy Patron and Worthy Matron, respectively, of Mentone Chapter No. 331, Order of Eastern Star, Tuesday, March 27.

Miss Victoria Bowser presented a bouquet of red roses to her mother and escorted her to the east. Miss Debra Bowser was her father's escort.

Preceding the installation ceremony the Associate Matron and Associate Patron asked to approach the east where the outgoing officers, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Goshert, were presented their jewels and a vocal solo by Mrs. Wayne Bowser was dedicated to them.

Following the installation Mrs. Bowser was escorted to each star point where she was presented plants of the color of each point. Miss Leah Nell Lemler then sang a solo for her sister.

A short program was presented by the "Triple Trio" of Mentone school, directed by Dale Whitehead. Refreshments were then served in the dining room.

Strawberries For The Home

No matter how small, the home garden can always provide space for a few strawberry plants, reports W. B. Ward, Purdue University horticulturist.

An application of commercial fertilizer, such as 10-10-10, is suggested for the berry site before plowing or spading. Fertilizer applied at the rate of five pounds on each 100 square feet will be sufficient, Ward says.

When setting plants, it's important to place them at the right depth—the crown at soil level. If set too shallow, the plants will dry out and die. On the other hand, normal growth is almost completely prevented if the crown of the plant is buried too deep.

Plants should be spaced two feet apart in rows four feet wide. Ward says the plants should be set as early in the spring as soil conditions permit.

For home use, it's wise to use several varieties which do not ripen at the same time. A combination of Premier and Robinson are suggested for the northern half of Indiana. Temple, Sparkle, Pocahontas and Empire are other varieties that also do well in most parts of the state.

The strawberry patch should be cultivated often enough to eliminate all weeds and grass. A narrow garden rake is an excellent tool for this purpose if used frequently during the early part of the growing season.

Further information on strawberry production is available in extension leaflet 353, "Strawberries for the Home," which can be obtained from the agricultural publications office at Purdue University, or from the local county extension office.

Lay Plans For Little League

On Tuesday evening, April 3, a meeting was held to start plans for little league baseball this summer. The following were present: Everett Long, Arlo Friesner, Herschel Teel, James Beeson, Ora McKinley, Harry Sullivan, Jack Star, Russell Eber, Virgil Cooper, M. O. Bryan and Leslie Grant.

The following boys signed up to play: Robert Adams, Russell Adams, Larry Beeson, Barry Blacklock, Jimmy Bryan, Melvin Cooper, Don Craig, Stephen Hewlett, Freddie Horn, Max Holloway, Gary Harvey, Billy Kindig, Lyle Long, Larry Manwaring, Steven Miller, Stephen Nelson, Barry Peterson, Steven Shirey, Charles Smith, Larry Sullivan, Dick Teel, Jim Teel, David Teel, Larry Teel, Tommy Teel, Jim Whetstone, and Mike Whetstone.

All other boys wanting to play should see that their names are given to Mr. Ora McKinley. See also Mr. Grant or Mr. Cooper.

On April 16 there will be another meeting of the men to appoint a board to supervise this work and to set up teams and managers. We will also select a treasurer and secretary for the organization. We want all interested men to attend. At the last meeting a vital question arose as to . . . money. Mr. Grant was temporarily appointed in charge of finance and to select helpers to secure such money as possible by next meeting. We will need enough to purchase shirts and caps with names inscribed and protective equipment for the players. If we can secure enough over this we will endeavor to have a full-time supervisor of recreation for the summer.

We ask your help in this matter between now and April 16th. If you wish to contribute any amount please contact Mr. Grant. Phone 3-2935. He will pick it up or you may leave it with Mr. McKinley or Mr. V. Cooper. Your name and gift will be recorded unless you wish otherwise.

Any person or firm wishing to purchase a whole team's shirts and caps can do so and have their name inscribed on them. We plan 12 boys on a team and a shirt and cap will cost about $2.00 per boy.

Certainly money can be spent but not for any investment greater than our children.

"Like Sucking Milk Through a Straw!"

That's what you'll say, too, when you use ZERO's Super Strainer and T-20 Vacuum Refrigerated Milk Tank. For successful dairy farmers everywhere are buying the Zero's T-20 Milk Tank and Super Strainer, like Mr. and Mrs. Ray Frohling, Hampshire, Ill. Their son, David Frohling, shown here, is only 10 years old . . . yet he's big enough to help with the milking. Naturally he can't lift the pail high enough to pour milk into any cooler, but with Zero's Super Strainer, the milk is a snap . . . "just like sucking milk through a straw."

Mr. Frohling likes his T-20 too because "it's easy to clean and the milk tastes better with rapid cooling." Other smart dairymen choose Zero because of "its better, stronger construction" . . . "no more lifting or carrying heavy milk cans" . . . "it's the beginning of my fully automatic milk system." And Zero gives you vacuum refrigerated milk with animal heat and odors removed. ## Dies In Auto Crash

Thomas L. Meredith, 35, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Meredith, was killed in a head-on auto crash a half mile west of Talma on Road 25 about one o'clock Sunday morning. Mrs. Pauline K. Heinzmann, 41, and Mrs. Hazel Buchanan, 43, both of Rochester, also died in the crash and Wilbur Meyer, 32, Tippecanoe high school basketball coach, was seriously injured. He is in the veterans hospital at Indianapolis and appears to be recovering.

Meredith was riding with Mrs. Buchanan when the auto apparently crossed into the left lane of traffic at a curve and ran into the auto occupied by Meyer and Mrs. Heinzmann.

Meredith reportedly had gone to Rochester with some other Mentone men and as they were not ready to come home when he was, Mrs. Buchanan offered to drive him home.

Mrs. Buchanan's husband died in 1952 and Mrs. Heinzmann's husband was killed in a circus act in 1950.

Meredith was born Feb. 12, 1921, and was employed at the Co-Op. Oil Station at Mentone. He resided at Sevastopol.

Survivors include his wife; two daughters, Marinella, aged eight, and Tona, aged four; his parents, three brothers, William of Fort Wayne, Richard of Akron, and Vernon of Burket, and two sisters, Mrs. Willodean Snow of Baltimore, Md., and Mrs. Jane Evans of North Manchester.

Pasture For Beef Cattle

Lafayette, Ind.—Beef cattle should make good use of pasture during the next few months if maximum profits are to be realized by Hoosier cattle feeders.

Russell Brower, Purdue University extension animal husbandman, says that cattle fattened on pasture can be expected to show a 10 to 20 percent saving on corn and a 20 to 30 percent saving on protein concentrates, in addition to most of the roughage requirements, per 100 pounds of gain.

Cattle that have gained more than 1.50 pounds per day during the previous winter should be fed about four pounds of ground ear corn per head each day during the early pasture season.

Starting about July 1, Brower believes it is well to increase feed for the cattle in order that the animals will be on full-feed between August 1 and 15. A full-feed of ground ear corn and from 1 to 2 pounds of protein concentrate according to the quality of the pasture should be fed. Many farmers take their cattle off pasture for the final finishing period.

Farmers should consider two other recommendations in order to make maximum use of pasture—purchase cattle early enough in the fall so that they can make some gains on fall pasture, and feed a growing ration during the winter months which causes the feeder cattle to gain from 1.25 to 1.50 pounds per day.

Additional information on pasture in the beef cattle program plus other facts can be found in Mimeo AH-162, "Suggested Rations and Feeding Programs for Different Grades of Cattle." The mimeo, compiled by Brower, T. W. Perry, Purdue animal husbandman, and M. Paul Mitchell, Purdue agricultural economist, can be obtained from the agricultural publications office at Purdue, or from the local county extension office.

Irrigation Advice

Lafayette, Ind.—It takes 54,308 gallons of water to apply two inches of water to one acre of land. That's a reminder given Hoosier farmers who plan to irrigate for the first time this year.

Don Sisson, Purdue University extension agricultural engineer, reports that from three to ten inches of irrigated water may be needed annually in Indiana. The exact amount will depend on the crop irrigated, the kind of soil, and the weather. Under most conditions, a flow of 5 to 15 gallons per minute for each acre to be irrigated will be required.

In recent years portable rotary sprinkler systems have become the most common method for irrigation. This system is adaptable to almost any shape area, soil type, or topography conditions. Often the system is completely portable and aluminum pipe with quick coupling devices have eased the moving and handling problem.

Sisson cautions farmers that irrigation will be profitable only if the dollar returns attributable to irrigation are greater than the total cost of irrigation and other additional investments required. All irrigation costs should be subtracted from the gross profits from irrigation to determine if there is a net profit.

From a limited number of observations in Indiana, the initial investment in sprinkler irrigation systems has generally ranged from $50 to $100. This does not include cost of developing a water supply. This initial investment per acre is higher for small systems irrigating less than 15 to 20 acres. The total annual cost of sprinkler irrigation including depreciation, interest, taxes, maintenance, power and labor will generally fall within the range of 20 to 40 dollars per acre irrigated.

In conclusion Sisson lists three basic requirements for successful irrigation—an adequate and dependable water supply, a well-designed system for individual farm conditions, and proper use and management practices coupled with proper irrigation.

Be a "label reader" when buying new clothes, say extension specialists at Purdue University. A good label should state what may be expected in wear from the fabric and garment.

Prepare to make your turns 200 or 300 feet before you reach the point where you wish to turn. Allow yourself ample time to get in the proper lane and signal your intention to turn before you get within 100 feet of the intersection.

When buying cabbage, look for firm, heavy heads, recommend extension nutritionists at Purdue University. Leaves should be firmly attached to the base and of a dark green color, since color is a good indication of its vitamin content.

New TV Studio to Open to Public

Broadcast Center, the new home of WSBT and WSBT-TV, The South Bend (Ind.) Tribune's radio and television station will be open for public inspection Saturday and Sunday, April 14 and 15, from 1:30 to 9:30 p. m. Central Daylight Saving Time.

Built at a cost of more than a half-million dollars, the new center is one of the most advanced facilities of its type in the country. It is being dedicated this week with a series of special radio and television shows which feature Indiana-born people who have gained prominence in many fields of endeavor. Among these appearing on these programs are Herb Shriner, Indiana humorist, and Hoagy Carmichael, Indiana-born song writer who wrote "Star Dust."

Pereira and Luckman, famous New York and Los Angeles architectural firm which has designed many radio and television buildings, including Columbia Broadcasting System's Radio City in Hollywood, designed the building. Their design has encompassed practically everything required for ultra-modern broadcasting and telecasting facilities for a city of South Bend's size.

Functional, yet attractive, the building is of red Roman brick and poured concrete. A striking feature is its towering, concrete-framed windows lining the second story.

The two-floor structure, with a full basement, occupies most of the quarter-block on the south west corner of Jefferson and Lafayette, two of the city's principle streets. It has a frontage of 165 feet on Lafayette and 132 on Jefferson.

One of the features of the new building is its unique heating and cooling system, one of the first of its kind in the area. The system, which works on the heat-pump principle, is centered in a penthouse above the second story.

Temperature and humidity in the building are controlled by a daily supply of 200,000 gallons of 56-degree Fahrenheit well water pumped from a supply well in the southwest corner of the property. The water is pumped through the air conditioner system and then pumped back into the ground, uncontaminated, through a disposal well in the northeast corner.

In both warm and cold weather the well water is used as a heat transferring medium. In warm weather, heat is taken from the building, transferred to the water and the warm water returned to the ground. In cold weather the process is reversed; heat is taken from the water for heating the building and the cold water is returned to the ground. The heat pump transfers in either direction as needed.

Center of the new building is a TV studio 50 x 80 feet with a 28 foot ceiling. The grid used to support the lights is unique in the television industry. It combines the conventional fixed-pipe grid with a very flexible system of movable "T" beams. A permanent kitchen is built in one corner. A vehicle entrance offers access for cars and trucks. The studio is sized to permit color telecasting, the use of rear screen projection and to handle any type of show. Its size also permits pre-program installation of several sets for a continuous flow of scenes and programs.

WSBT was the 34th radio station in the United States to be owned and operated by a newspaper. It went on the air in April, 1922. WSBT-TV received its UHF license late in August, 1952 and began telecasting December 21 of that year.

All-Purpose Sprays

Lafayette, Ind.—Control of insects and diseases in home fruit plantings or small commercial orchards can be simplified through the use of an "all-purpose" spray.

According to Frank Emerson, Purdue University extension horticulturist, these "all-purpose" materials are made up of a combination of one or more insecticides and one or more fungicides. The component parts of the spray were selected for their wide range of effectiveness and combined into a single package. The use of such materials makes proper identification of the insect and fungus pests unnecessary in order for the gardener to choose the proper chemical for control measures.

Emerson says "all-purpose" sprays fall into two general types. One formulation is based on the use of ferbam as the fungicide plus arsenate of lead and DDT as the insecticides. This formulation is somewhat weak for the control of apple scab and brown rot on stone fruits but is otherwise satisfactory for the control of most diseases on a wide variety of fruit crops. A second type is based on the use of captan as the fungicide plus malathion and methoxychlor as the insecticides. While more expensive than the ferbam, arsenate of lead and DDT mixture, this formulation is more effective in the control of a wider range of fungus diseases and insect pests on a greater number of fruit crops.

At present, "all-purpose" mixtures are recommended for use on apples, peaches, pears, cherries, plums, prunes, grapes, strawberries, and brambles.

Applications should be made about every 7 to 10 days and according to specific recommendations on the package label. Emerson asserts that applications must be made so as to give thorough and complete coverage of the plant. Special attention should be given the tops of taller trees.

It is important to begin application early in the season before pests become established and to maintain protection throughout the growing season. Just a few applications early in the season, or the elimination of only a few of the applications at critical periods will result in poor pest control.

Special problems may arise where certain insects or diseases will not be effectively controlled by "all-purpose" mixtures. Emerson says specific control measures must then be taken. Emerson adds, however, that proper use of an "all-purpose" spray will insure a high percentage of quality fruit and still simplify the pest control problem in small fruit plantings.

One of life's great unsolved mysteries is why they put such big holes in Swiss cheese when it's Limburger that needs the ventilation.

According to the Chicago Motor Club, an art student was jailed for re-painting an old master-his 1955 Indiana state license plates. The student didn't have enough money to pay for new plates so he re-painted his old ones with this year's colors. Unfortunately, he didn't have enough money to pay his fine.

More Egg Profits

Lafayette, Ind.—Greater profits are available for Hoosier poultrymen who sell eggs on a graded basis. M. L. Wilson, extension poultry specialists at Purdue University, reports that profits are lost if grade A eggs, for example, are sold at current receipt prices.

Wilson says the spread in price between "grade A large" and current receipts over a five year period, showed that for at least 10 months of the year there was greater profit for eggs sold on a graded basis.

In this five year study, made between 1950 and 1954, the price spread was generally small during the spring months. At this time of year most eggs are high in quality and any spread in price is usually small. During the hot weather months, the spread in price was much wider.

Wilson says this difference was due to poorer quality eggs, resulting from improper handling and the high temperatures. However, during November and December, the difference in price between "grade A large" and current receipt eggs was very small. "Grade A large" eggs, when sold on a graded market, should net on a year round average, about six cents a dozen above the current receipt price.

Of course, Wilson says, the poultryman can't expect to get grade A prices for lesser quality eggs. Therefore, a number of points should be considered in the production of "grade A eggs." The specialist says layers bred to produce large, high-quality eggs should be raised and that these layers should always receive an adequate ration. In addition, Wilson says to confine layers to the laying house, produce clean and infertile eggs, and gather eggs three or four times a day and cool quickly in a room having a temperature under 55 degrees with a relative humidity between 70 and 80 percent. Eggs should be packed in cool pre-moist cases, with the large end of the egg up, and marketed at least once a week.

Another Year Passes

It seems but a short while ago, but one year ago on April first we published the first issue of the News after it was purchased from the Northern Indiana Co-operative Association.

During the year we have appreciated the fine support of our subscribers and advertisers, and our newspaper continues to grow. The past few months we have averaged two to four more pages per week. The increase is due to the increase in advertising and also the additional news features we have endeavored to bring our readers.

Financial success is always sought after by business people, but the things which really bring joy to a person is the friendship of his customers and the many things they do that put reality into their appreciation.

Our sincere thanks to everyone.

Cows Need Forage

Lafayette, Ind.—Research has indicated that cows will consume more forage when daily grain allowances are light than when relatively larger amounts are fed.

G. A. Williams, Purdue University extension dairyman, believes this may be the reason many Indiana dairy herds are not consuming as much hay and silage as they should.

Some farmers make the statement, "I feed my cows all the hay and silage they will eat. How can I reduce the grain allowances?" Williams says it's quite likely that several conditions are responsible.

In the first place, many hundred acres of hay in Indiana are too mature when cut. One acre of alfalfa hay cut when plants are one-tenth in bloom is given a productive rating of 6194 pounds of milk compared with only 3814 pounds when the plants are in full bloom. Cows do not relish mature, woody roughage and consume less due to lower palatability.

Williams states that another way to increase hay consumption is to feed it three times instead of twice daily as is so often done. Still another way to increase consumption of hay is to pour one to two pounds of molasses, diluted with an equal weight of water, over the hay at feeding time.

Indiana's average consumption of hay equivalent is 2.8 tons at least 25 percent below an economical ceiling. Steps must be taken to reduce grain consumption and increase hay equivalent per cow if feed costs are to be kept in line with possible future milk prices, the Purdue specialist concludes.

Grow Small Fruits

Lafayette, Ind.—Small fruits, such as raspberries, gooseberries, and currants, are profitable and easy to grow. W. B. Ward, Purdue University extension horticulturist, reports. Ward says all the small fruits should be planted in early spring.

Red or black raspberry canes can be planted on the inside of the property line or fence row and can serve as a hedge or screen while producing quality fruits. Raspberries are easily grown and, except for an annual pruning, require little additional attention.

There are several good varieties of black raspberries such as Logan, Cumberland, and the new Blackhawk. Latham is the best of the red kinds while Sodus is a very good purple raspberry.

When starting a new planting of raspberries, one year old plants should be purchased and set three feet apart in rows. Ward recommends that newly set canes be stubbed back to six inches above ground level. If more than one row is desired, the rows should be spaced at least eight feet apart. When properly cared for, raspberries should produce up to a quart of luscious fruits per foot of row.

Ward says that a few gooseberry or currant bushes can be used as ornamental and fruiting shrubs around some of the garden areas. The Poorman gooseberry and Red Lake currant are good varieties.

Looking for a quick, easy meal? Try a hearty vegetable soup that uses ground beef as a base, suggest extension specialists in nutrition at Purdue University.

Clean-Up The Farm

Lafayette, Ind.—It may surprise many farm residents but disorder ranks second only to poor judgment as the cause of accidents, Dick Willsey, Purdue University farm safety specialist has reported.

A recent survey of hospitalized some accident cases made by the National Safety Council disclosed that one out of every five resulted from disorder.

In Willsey's opinion, many hazards around the farm can be eliminated by a good spring clean-up.

Falls rank high among farm accidents with cluttered stairways, unsafe ladders, lack of handrails, and loose wires contributing to the toll. Willsey urges each member of the family to help keep stairs, halls, and alleyways free and clear of obstructions. Light bulbs should be checked and lamp shades cleaned. Foot injuries to humans as well as livestock are often the result of careless clean-up practices. Nails should be removed from boards, and broken glass and junk picked up. And don't leave wire lying loose, the specialist comments.

A clean farmstead may also mean an end to rodents. Rats and mice don't like clean surroundings since fewer hiding places and less food are available. With rodent evacuating go dangers of disease and insulation damage to buildings as well as an unprofitable feed bill.

In conclusion, Willsey said paint can be used for safety as well as appearance. It can outline or accentuate hazards so that they may be avoided and can encourage neatness throughout the year.

"A clean, orderly farm produces more at lower cost. Let's start the season right with a spring clean-up for efficiency and safety," Willsey adds.

Buy Good Drain Tile

Lafayette, Ind.—High quality tile is the basis for a good tile drainage system, reports Don Sisson, Purdue University extension agricultural engineer. Unless strong, durable tile is used, the system will not give the long life and trouble-free service expected.

Sisson says a sound tile is free from cracks and chips that will lower its strength after it is in the ground. The prospective buyer can determine the soundness of the tile by placing a dry specimen on end and striking with a light hammer. If a clear ring is sounded, the tile may be accepted as sound. The tile should also be inspected for uniformity in shape, wall thickness, checks and foreign material.

To help farmers secure high quality tile, the American Society for Testing Materials has prepared specifications for drain tile. It is a good practice for the buyer to make certain the tile meets these specifications, particularly as to strength and density.

Contrary to popular belief, Sisson states that ground water should enter the tile at the joint and will not seep through the side wall in any great quantity. Good quality tile should be dense and should absorb a minimum amount of water, Sisson adds.

Drain tile made from clay, shade, or concrete will give satisfactory results if properly made and installed. Concrete tile should last as long as clay or shale tile with two exceptions—in peat or muck soils, or when the ground water or soil contains strong alkali salts.

F. H. A. Meet

The April meeting of the F. H. A. was held at the home of Betty Griffiths Monday evening, the 9th. There were 19 members present. After the business meeting, Mrs. Ruth Snellenberger sang a humorous song, Alice Surface honored the departing seniors, Betty Mellott and Betty Griffiths, with a poem and Donna Lou Eaton sang "It's Almost Tomorrow."

The Seniors were honored by talks from Janet and June Romine. The seniors thanked the other girls and wished them well. Mrs. Griffiths thanked the girls for voting her Chapter Mother for three years and wished for them the best. Refreshments were served, and this being the last meeting, goodbyes and good lucks to all was in order.

Tips For Quick Meals

Whether she's a working girl or not, there are few things that help a busy homemaker more than good, easily prepared, quick meals.

Steaks and chops are old stand-bys, but often too expensive for the budget. Homemaker and commercial mixes have done a lot to cut down preparation time, but Miss Lois Aberhelman, extension nutritionist at Purdue University suggests even more ways to speed up the family's meals.

The most important things to remember are to plan menus that are simple and to make every step count, she says. Choose less expensive, quick cooking meats such as ground beef, liver, sausage, fish, poultry or canned and pre-cooked meats. Use a pressure saucepan for vegetables or select those which cook in a short time. Canned or frozen vegetables cook quickly, and some fresh ones that offer good variety are cabbage, spinach, Zucchini squash, green beans, peas (shelled ahead of time), young carrots and parsnips. Serving vegetables raw or in a simple salad is a great time saver.

For quick desserts, Miss Oberhelman recommends fruit. Canned, frozen or fresh, most fruit desserts are simple to prepare, and it takes only a little imagination to satisfy the most discriminating appetites.

Many foods can be prepared ahead of time, if menus are planned. Such things as hard-cooked eggs or gelatin salads take only a few minutes in the morning and can be done while breakfast is cooking. Enough for two or more meals can be prepared at one time and served in different ways. This is called dovetailing, and with menu planning, is an excellent way to save time and energy.

It looks as if the automobile has finally come into its own. The Chicago Motor Club says a lot of old timers can remember when the new-fangled horseless carriages were barred from city streets because they frightened Ol' Dobbin. Now the reverse is true. A recently passed ordinance in Warren, Ohio, prohibits horse-drawn vehicles in that city.

Soybean Seed Treatment

Indiana farmers who are forced to seed soybeans which germinate less than 60 per cent should treat the seed before the planting season arrives.

K. L. Athow, Purdue University plant pathologist, reports that soybean seed treatment tests at Purdue and other midwestern agricultural experiment stations have shown that seed treatment usually improves the emergences of low germinating seed. However, such treatment has little or no effect on emergence of seed which germinates more than 80 per cent.

According to Athow, there are a number of good protectants. Arasan and Spergon have been tested most extensively and have given equally good results. Either chemical can be applied in the form of dust or slurry at rates recommended on the container.

Extreme care must be exercised in treating seed with a low moisture content or more harm than good may result, the pathologist cautions. In most cases it is not advisable to rehandle seed with a moisture content below 8 to 9 per cent since rehandling of low moisture seed will further reduce the germination.

Seed treatments have shown no serious effects on nodulation in soils where nodulated soybeans have been grown previously. When soybeans are grown in a field for the first time, inoculation of the seed with root nodule bacteria is a must. Tests indicate that under such conditions, however, seed treatment will reduce nodulation. Therefore, seed treatment is not recommendation where soybeans are to be planted for the first time or where there is any doubt about an adequate supply of nodulating bacteria present in the soil.

Should a grower decide to both treat and inoculate the soybean seed before planting, the procedure should be in that order. Treating with most materials can be done at any time before planting, even in the preceding fall at harvest. Inoculating, to be effective, must be done just prior to planting, whether the seed is treated or non-treated.

Cattle Event Speakers

Lafayette, Ind.—Two Purdue University extension specialists, Henry Mayo and M. Paul Mitchell, will be among speakers during the annual Indiana Cattle Feeders' Day Program Friday, April 27.

Mayo, animal husbandman, will report on the utilization of pasture in fattening cattle, and Mitchell, farm economist, will give farmers a preview of the "Cattle Price Outlook."

W. M. Beeson, head of animal nutrition work at Purdue, has reported that the event will get underway at 9 a. m. (DST) at the new Purdue livestock research barn, three miles north of the campus on the county farm road. Cattle feeders will have an opportunity to view experiments until the morning program opens at 10 a. m. with Claude Harper, head of Purdue's animal husbandry department, in charge.

Beeson and four other Purdue animal nutrition specialists, Martin Mohler, Dwain Jeter, M. P. Plumlee, and T. W. Perry, will present results of research work during the morning session.

At 1 p. m. the program will move to the Purdue livestock judging pavilion where H. S. Beeson, Owensville, president of the Indiana Cattle Feeders' Association, will direct the afternoon session. C. H. Nickel, manager of Purdue's Lynnwood Farm, will report on an experiment at that farm designed to compare mature cornstalk silage with green cornstalk silage and corn silage for fattening steer calves. The head of beef cattle research at the University of Illinois, A. L. Neumann, will report on the "Feeding value of Oat Silage for Cattle." Mitchell and Mayo will also present their reports during the afternoon.

Other topics which will be covered during the day will concern self-feeding free choice versus hand-feeding; chopped forage compared with pasture; high-moisture corn versus low-moisture corn; and feeding on concrete platforms as compared to feeding in the dirt and mud.

W. S. C. S. to Have Special Guest

We are extending a special invitation for the men of our church to be guests that evening. And we urge the attendance of the women especially. Tickets for the Mother-Daughter Banquet May 3 will be available at that time.

Sixteen members answered roll call.

Secretary and Treasurer's reports were read and approved and bills were allowed. Communications were read. A donation was received from M. Roy Rush for the use of a wheel chair and hospital bed.

Two members paid dues. Several of our cook books were sold.

Arrangements were made to help fix lunch for the Minstrel Show boys on their return from Fort Wayne Veteran's hospital where they will entertain Friday evening, April 13.

Plans were made for a party July 13 for the Veterans' hospital at Fort Wayne.

The meeting was closed with the unit repeating the mothers creed. Prayer was led by our chaplain and we sang one verse of "God Bless America."

Refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Myrtle Davis and Folsom Newell.

The next meeting will be at the home of Dora Norris and will be a hard-time party.

Conference Speaker

Miss Marie Adams, teacher in the Orient for 40 years, will be the principal speaker at the annual meeting of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Warsaw District, the Methodist Church, to be held at Napanee on April 19. The meeting will convene at 9:15 a. m. in the First Methodist Church.

High Japanese royalty and College officials were present at a farewell party given for Miss Adams just before her return to the United States in January of this year. Among them was Prince Mikasa, youngest brother of the Japanese emperor. Miss Adams had been teaching at Tokyo Woman's Christian College.

Consecrated a missionary in 1915, Miss Adams taught in China until the outbreak of World War II. Born in Urbana, Indiana, she is a graduate of DePauw University and of Chicago Training School.

Agronomists at Purdue University report that mid-April is not too late to apply nitrogen as a top-dressing for wheat from central Indiana on north. On soils affected by drouth last summer, 20 to not more than 25 pounds of nitrogen should be used per acre. On sandy soils 35 to 40 pounds of nitrogen can be used per acre.

Rev. and Mrs. William Carmichael, missionaries for the Gold Coast of Africa will be the guest speakers at First Baptist Church on Sunday, April 15. This is the closing day of the annual missionary conference. The Carmichaels have spent two terms on the Gold Coast and will be returning in July for a third term.

They are serving under the Baptist Mid-Missions Board. The services on Sunday will feature excellent pictures of the Gold Coast, and the work and customs of the natives, as well as a large display of native curios.

The speaker on Thursday evening, April 12th, will be Dr. R. V. Herbold, a missionary from Africa, serving under the Sudan Interior Mission Board. On Friday evening, April 13th, Rev. Harry Elder, a home missionary from Pittsburg, Pennsylvania will be the speaker.

First Baptist Church invites the folks of the Mentone area to come and enjoy the inspiration of these sessions with them. All evening services begin at 7:30 E. S. T.

A Cleveland judge, who was probably getting tired of the trite excuses he received from law-breakers, heard a novel story recently. The Chicago Motor Club reports a defendant, who was arrested for stealing a car, offered this gem of an excuse: "I got tired of waiting for the bus."

Methodist Church News

Six hundred and fifty-four people registered for the North Indiana Annual Conference annual session of the Woman's Society of Christian Service held in The First Methodist Church in Warsaw last Thursday. It was both the most inspiring and encouraging session that organization has even held since its formation in 1939.

Attendance at the local service of Divine Worship last Sunday morning was 180, and 160 attended Church School classes. Leaders of the church are awaiting a final statement from Prof. Howard Skinner of Taylor University as to whether that school's A Capella Choir will appear in the church for an afternoon or evening performance Sunday, April 29th. The first Sunday of May will be observed as "Children's Day." Parents may present children for baptism, and children and youth may unite with the church, during the service of Divine Worship that morning. Adults will be recognized for baptism and church membership Mother's Day, May 13th.

The pastor's sermon-subject during the service of Divine Worship this next Sunday will be: "Woe To Those Who Art At Ease In Zion" from the book of Amos. The choir will sing: "There It A Light Upon The Mountain." Amos and Hosea will be studied in The Men's and Women's Bible Classes during the Sunday School hour.

Horticulturists at Purdue University remind homeowners that the ground cover under fruit and shade trees should be fertilized during April. It's advisable to broadcast one pound of 10-10-10 or similar analysis fertilizer for each diameter inch of the trunk the specialists say. The plant food should be distributed from the trunk to beyond the outer branches.

A Real Catch

Gilbert Griffith was having a time for himself Friday afternoon after coming home with an eight and one-fourth pound Northern Pike that measured almost 35 inches long. The fish, held by Mr. Griffith in the photo here, was well filled out its entire length and really was one seldom seen in this area. He caught it on light spinning tackle with an 8-lb. test line.

The catch was made on West Mud Lake.

About the same time a Rochester man caught a pike in the Tippecanoe river that matched Gib's fish in both weight and length.

Automation Isn't New

"Automation" is a comparatively new word, so far as general usage is concerned. And it has become a major topic of discussion and debate.

But the idea of automation is as old as the industrial revolution. It simply consists of getting results with the aid of power devices of one kind or another—rather than by human toil and sweat.

The National Coal Association, for instance, points out that automation has been helping to mine coal for many years. Coal producers call it mechanization—but whatever the term, it means using machines and power to do a job. In America's coal mines it has raised production from six tons per man per day to around ten tons in the last ten years. By contrast, production is a bare two tons in British and German mines, where mechanization is nowhere nearly so far advanced as in ours.

This has been a big factor in raising the coal miner's wages to where they are the highest for any comparable labor group in the world. And it has been a big factor also in keeping the coal industry alive and able to compete on a price basis with other fuels.

There has never been an advance in production methods which didn't, in the long run, work to the great advantage of all concerned—the worker, the consumer, the investor. That will be true of whatever changes automation brings in the future.

Milk Prices Are Raised

Higher milk prices at the farm in the Chicago Market went into effect on Monday, April 16.

The price increase negotiated between Pure Milk Association and the Associated Milk Dealers on Wednesday of last week will raise the price of fluid, or bottled milk by 46 cents per hundred-weight or 1 cent a quart. Federal action speeded up the effective date. Action by the U. S. D. A. today, allowed a change in the minimum pricing system which is operated by the Federal Milk Market Administrator in Chicago.

The Secretary of Agriculture announced this action was taken in the interest of orderly marketing. The minimum price will be raised to the level of the negotiated pricing agreement.

About 40 percent of the Chicago's market milk is used in Class I; therefore, dairy farmers will receive about 22 cents per hundredweight increase in their milk check.

The special ruling by the Secretary also applies to Federal Milk Marketing Orders in Milwaukee, Wisconsin; South Bend, Indiana; Dubuque and Davenport, Iowa; and Moline, Rockford, Rock Island and Freeport, Illinois.

When a man forgets himself, he usually does something that everyone else remembers.

"Like a small boy with a new knife, a man who has discovered he has a sharp tongue never knows when to stop using it."

C. O. Eiler drove to Wadsworth, Ohio, last Friday, to the home of Mrs. Winifred Bussey, a daughter, returning Saturday evening. Mrs. Eiler, who had been visiting at the Bussey home for three weeks, accompanied Mr. Eiler home.

Trap Lawn Moles Early

Early spring is an excellent time to trap moles in lawns, W. D. Fitzwater, rodent control specialist, at Purdue University, reminds Hoosier homeowners.

Moles will soon be making their presence known as they burrow beneath the turf in search of earthworms and insects. Since moles do not usually eat vegetation, the damage is done when they dislodge plant roots. However, plant seeds, roots, and bulbs in mole runs are usually destroyed by mice and other rodents that use the passages. And mole runs may even start erosion in steep hillsides.

As soon as the first ridges are noted, homeowners should set traps to catch the moles. Since all mole runways may not be in use, the active "paths" can be found by leveling the ridge to see which the moles will rise.

After the active runway is found, a small section of the loose soil should be pressed down to make a base for the trigger pan of the trap. Care should be taken to make sure the trap is in close contact with the soil. The trap should be set off several times to make certain there are no obstructions in the way.

Fitzwater says the use of repellents, such as gases, lye, and moth balls, produce irregular and generally unsatisfactory results.

A milestone in the progress of both animal agriculture and the commercial feed industry was reached April 5 when the 50 millionth ton of the famous Purina Chows was manufactured at the Ralston Purina Company's home office plant at Checkerboard Square in St. Louis.

Donald Danforth, president of the Ralston Purina Company, himself took over operation of the bagging machine that packed and sewed the bags holding the 50 millionth ton. The bags were specially decorated with gold colored checkers.

JETAWAY seconds the motion!

(... and America votes it
The Gear of the Year)

IT'S AN ECONOMY CHAMPION, TOO!
Jetaway-equipped Oldsmobiles rocketed to double victory in 1956 Mobilgas Economy Run!

HERE'S A CANDIDATE for the most talked-about "secret" of all time! It's the secret of the smoothness—the revolutionary second coupling—in Oldsmobile's new Jetaway Hydra-Matic!*

Oldsmobile first used a fluid coupling to cushion automatic gear transitions in the original Hydra-Matic Drive. And it was this famous transmission that opened the door to the whole era of automatic driving.

Now, in Oldsmobile's new Jetaway, not one, but two fluid couplings harness the go-power of the mighty Rocket Engine—soften the surge of Rocket action!

Fluid in the second coupling fills and spills with jetlike speed—cushions gear transitions so they're almost imperceptible! In other words, Jetaway seconds the motion—gives you all the flow of fluid, yet retains all the solid, thrilling go of gears!

NEW DUAL DOWNSHIFTING FOR EXTRA SAFETY!

What's more, Jetaway features new dual downshift action—at traffic and cruising speeds—to split-second the motion, too. Just wait till you try it, teamed with Oldsmobile's new Rocket Engine—240 horsepower strong, charged with a 9.25-to-1 compression ratio—delivering a breath-taking 350 lb.-ft. of torque!

JETAWAY SMOOTHNESS... BEAUTY TO MATCH!

You'll go for the glamor of Oldsmobile, too! There's massive magnificence and solid assurance in the advance-design "Intagrille Bumper." It's two front bumpers in one for protection high and low—an Oldsmobile first, an Oldsmobile exclusive—more unmistakable evidence of Oldsmobile's styling leadership! And it's all underscored by Oldsmobile's ruggedly-built, quality-built chassis featuring sturdy Six-Point Suspension to increase riding comfort and roadability.

Sum it all up—performance, power and appearance—you've got to go some to equal it! Yet Oldsmobile prices start right down with many models in the low-price field—and value is right up with the highest at resale time! Stop at our showroom for a demonstration, now!

*Standard on Series Ninety-Eight; optional at extra cost on all other series.

(The following news story, which came to our office from a Portland, Oregon, News bureau, was written before the recent vetoed farm bill was even passed.—Editor)

No matter where one stands on farm legislation, there are certain facts that seem indisputable. One fact, in the words of the Portland Oregonian, is this: "High, mandatory price supports encourage growing of grain on soil which should never have been plowed. A lot of the soil . . . blew away . . ."

Additionally, as this paper also points out, "Retention of 90 per cent supports after the war has kept marginal land in production, to the detriment of wheat, growers in areas where this is the logical crop. . ."

Then the Oregonian has something worthwhile to say about pending farm legislation: "One feature of the farm bill is a soil bank which would assist farmers to convert marginal land to uses which would conserve the soil. To tie a soil bank to a support program which encourages continued cultivation of such soil is extremely illogical. . . A lot of people are getting pretty fed up with political juggling of the country's vital agricultural resources."

No one knows whether the soil bank can accomplish what is hoped for by its advocates. But it does represent an honest effort to try to do something constructive about a surplus problem which grows steadily worse. To adopt the soil bank along with rigid supports would amount to setting the right hand to fighting against the left. On top of that, the soil bank cannot possibly work unless the law makes sure that the soil in question is really retired from production. If, for instance, it were to be used for livestock grazing, the result would simply be still more over-production of meat—and more grief for farmers, ranchers, and the taxpayers.

The pastor's sermon-subject for Sunday, April 22nd, during the 9:30 service of Divine Worship will be entitled "Five Lessons From The Book of Amos." The choir will sing "May Jesus Christ Be Praised."

There are four major interests upon which the church is concentrating during the next four weeks. The first of these is the coming of the A Capella Choir from Taylor University of Upland, Indiana, on Sunday evening, April 29th at 7:30. The choir

The third major interest has to do with services of baptism and the receiving of persons into the church membership. The first Sunday of May has been designated for the baptism of infants and children, and for the receiving of children and youth into church membership. Adults will be similarly honored on Mother's Day.

The fourth interest is the annual "Every Member Canvass" culminating on Mother's Day. Each member is asked to consider his share in the underwriting of the local and benevolence budgets of the church for 1956 and 1957, and then submit this anticipated pledge of support on Mother's Day. Church Stewards will visit such members who fail to submit his statement of intention. This visitation is scheduled to be done as soon as possible after Mother's Day.

Keep Corn Profits High

Profits from 1956 corn crops can be kept high by good soil management including fertilizer use that enables farmers to get bigger yields per acre on fewer acres, reports the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee.

Higher yields per acre mean lower costs of production per bushel, the committee points out. This helps a farmer get more net return, even if prices decline.

"University of Missouri research indicates that by using fertilizer in teamwork with other good soil management practices, farmers of that state can cut the average cost of producing corn from 84 to 58 cents per bushel," says the committee.

"By accomplishing this, farmers could realize bigger profits from a smaller total corn production on fewer acres than they now receive from a larger over-all acreage."

The committee suggests these steps for farmers aiming at top corn yields per acre:

1—Keep fertility high by adding sufficient fertilizer containing balanced supplies of nitrogen, phosphate and potash to meet the peak demands of the corn crop during the growing season. A soil test can be a good guide.

2—Match the high fertility with a high stalk population, so the crop can make full use of all the nutrients and moisture the soil can supply. Plant proved, well-adapted hybrid seed.

3—Keep insects under control.
4—Where needed, use mechanical conservation methods such as contouring and strip cropping to keep moisture at home and cut down erosion losses.

Practice To Be Alert

After a long winter indoors, children take to the outdoors with the first sign of warm weather to participate in the many games and activities.

"This places an added responsibility on the motorist," declares Charles M. Hayes, president of the Chicago Motor Club.

"Children at play are likely to be impulsive and carefree," warns Mr. Hayes, "and it is the motorist's responsibility to be on the lookout for them at all times, particularly in playground areas."

Unfortunately, all activities of children aren't confined to playgrounds, the Motor Club president points out.

Spring baseball "training" starts for many youngsters with the advent of warmer weather. Many times their baseball "field" is a busy street.

Spring also brings out the bicycles, tricycles, roller skates and other toy vehicles.

While motorists are constantly admonished to be on the lookout for children, parents are also urged to caution their children about riding their bicycles with the traffic on the streets. Children operating vehicles permitted on the sidewalk are urged to be watchful for pedestrians, particularly aged persons.

Purdue Farm Price Report

Indiana farm prices increased two percent from February 15 to March 15. Purdue University agricultural economists and farm statisticians, have revealed.

Prices paid by farmers for items they purchased increased one percent during the period. Thus, the purchasing power of Indiana farmers actually increased but one percent.

Grain prices increased three percent during the 30 day period, and livestock prices jumped one percent.

During the 12 month period ending March 15, Indiana livestock prices were down 12 percent and grain prices were down seven percent. In the 12 month period, the purchasing power of Indiana farmers dropped 10 percent, five percent more than the farm purchasing power for all U. S. farmers. In contrast, prices paid by farmers throughout the nation fell just one percent.

Commodities and the percentage change in their prices from March 1955 to March 1956 include: Hogs down 21 percent; whole milk up three percent; cat-

Do You Desire A Restful Vacation

Vacation planning in the average household usually receives greater consideration with the advent of balmy spring weather.

If the family car is to be made the mode of transportation for the vacation trip, then it is important to make sure it is safe and sound so that the trip is time saving and pleasurable, advises a bulletin from the Chicago Motor Club.

It is better to have the car checked by a qualified mechanic, particularly if a lengthy trip is on the agenda. Repairs cost more on the road than at home, as a rule.

If your car is comparatively new, then it is wise to have it serviced and also ask your service station attendant to be sure and check the tires, battery, spare tire and other vital accessories. You can always depend on the man who regularly services your car.

Cultivate good driving habits,

Purdue University entomologists says that treatment of seed corn reduces the number of germinating seeds destroyed by the seed corn maggot and corn seed beetles. These pests are more destructive when cold, wet soil delays germination. Two insecticides, dieldrin and lindane are available in mixtures with fungicides and can be used as either a dust or as a slurry. At a cost of 20 cents an acre, seed treatment is a cheap insurance for better stands, the entomologists believe. Purdue mimeo E-39 gives full directions for seed treatment.

Studies show that a majority of fatal pedestrian accidents occur near the victim's home. Pedestrians should remember to obey traffic rules at all times, not just when a traffic officer is present. Always cross at intersections and never cross between parked cars.

The Price Of A Newspaper Strike

A news story of general interest is highlighted in an Associated Press release from East Lansing, Michigan: "The bureau of business research at Michigan State university reported . . . that Detroit stores lost $35 million in sales in December because of the city-wide newspaper strike there. The bureau said its conclusions were based on state sales tax returns from Detroit as compared with the previous December and with sales tax returns from Detroit suburbs." The strike lasted well into January but, the AP said, only December sales were counted in this survey.

Nothing can replace the newspaper for advertising.

In 17 Purdue University agricultural experiment stations tests from 1951 to 1954 the newest soybean variety for northern Indiana, Harosoy, outyielded Hawkeye slightly more than one bushel per acre. This yield advantage, plus a two day earlier maturity and canker resistance, has helped the Harosoy variety to continue to gain in popularity. It is exceeded only by Clark in total number of acres certified in Indiana in 1955.

Ora McKinley was appointed the chairman of the board; Russell Eber appointed as vice-chairman, and Leslie W. Grant as Secretary-treasurer. Mr. Beeson and Loren Tridle were appointed to the board to make a five-man board for actions on decisions. The advisory board consists of all those men interested in this movement. A report was given by Mr. Grant on the condition of finances. Up to date the business men have contributed $61.50. Not all business men have been contacted as yet but those contributing thus far are: Johns Funeral Home, Coopers' Store, Dale Kelley, Denton's Drug Store, Lemler's Grocery, Shinn's Locker Plant, Pete's Lunch Room, Mentone Cigar Store, Brown's Jewelry, Gross & Linn Station, Hill's Barber Shop, Miller's Station, Frank & Jerry's, Valentine Elevator, Forrest Minor, Mentone I. The Fire Department, Sorority, Miles Manwaring and Harold Nelson, Mentone Lumber Yard, Doctor Urschel, Ned Igo. As I have mentioned not all business men have been contacted but time may not permit me to contact you personally so if anyone wishes to contribute to the club if you will please let me know or tell Virgil Cooper and we will see that you are relieved of your gift. At this time we are about 13 boys short of the desired amount to have four teams. We plan to meet on May 1 to set up rules and regulations but at this time we are hoping to get permission to use the diamond at the school and be able to use lights part of the games. On May 1st all interested persons please meet at the city hall to make the rules and regulations and decide on further plans.

Anyone wishing to manage a team should let one of the five men on the board know this so we can plan such things. We hope to start practice in about a month. For your boy to play in a regular team we need his name soon so we can arrange the teams by ability and age so all teams start out equal. Let one of the board members or Virgil Cooper have your names.

Cattle Feeders to Meet April 27th

Lafayette, Ind.—Animal nutrition specialists at Purdue University will present answers to a number of questions which have long confronted beef producers at the annual Indiana Cattle Feeders' Day program Friday, April 27.

According to W. M. Beeson, head of animal nutrition work at Purdue, comparisons will be made on self-feeding free choice versus hand-feeding, chopped forage versus pasture, high-moisture corn versus low-moisture corn, and feeding on concrete platforms versus feeding in the dirt and mud.

The day long program will open at 9 a. m. (DST) at the new Purdue livestock research barn, three miles north of the campus.

Cattle feeders will have an opportunity to view experiments until the morning program opens at 10 a. m.

Beeson and four other Purdue animal husbandmen will report on research work during the morning. Martin Mohler will discuss "self-feeding various ratios of ground ear corn and supplement A." Dwain Jeter, "Levels of Aureomycin for fattening Steers;" M. P. Plumlee, "Effect of Arsenicals on Growth of Identical Twin Calves;" T. W. Perry, "Stillbestrol Feeding Versus Stillbestrol Implantation With and Without Antibiotic for Fattening Steer Calves;" and Beeson, "Antibiotics Versus Antibiotic-Hormone Combinations for Fattening Steers."

At 1 p. m. the program will shift to the Purdue livestock judging pavilion where additional reports will be presented. A highlight of the afternoon session will be an address, "Feeding Value of Oat Silage for Cattle," by A. L. Neumann, head of beef cattle research at the University of Illinois.

An experiment, designed to compare mature cornstalk silage and corn silage for fattening steer calves, will be summarized by C. H. Nickel, Manager of Purdue's Lynnwood Farm where the experiment was conducted. Two Purdue extension specialists, Henry Mayo and M. Paul Mitchell, will also speak during the afternoon. Mayo will discuss the utilization of pasture in fattening cattle while Mitchell will report on the "Cattle Price Outlook."

by Ray Everly, Purdue University entomologist.

Everly estimates that the spittlebug reduces the first hay crop in Indiana an average of 400 to 500 pounds of cured hay per acre. Thus, when an acre of hay yields 1.5 tons, every sixth acre is grown to feed the spittlebug.

Spittlebugs do not eat the hay but suck the juices from the stem and stunt growth. On the average, each spittlebug per sq. foot will reduce the yield of cured hay about 10 pounds per acre.

For successful spittlebug control, early spraying is a must. Everly said the longer spraying is delayed, the harder the spittlebugs are to kill. Farmers should check their hay fields periodically and when an average of one spittlebug per stem is found, the field should be sprayed at once. Ev-erly adds that application should be made not later than the first week in May, and earlier if possible.

Of the materials recommended for spittlebug control, methoxychlor, is probably the safest, according to the entomologist. Heptachlor, because of the disappearance of the residues in two weeks, is probably the next best insecticide. However, it is necessary that both these insecticides be applied within 10 days after the young spittlebugs are hatched to be most effective.

Additional information on spittlebug control is contained in mimeo E-28, "The Spittle Bug," available from county extension agents, or the agricultural publications office at Purdue.

Pleasure Bent And A Grave

In 1955, more than fifteen thousand individuals didn't return home after the pleasures of the week end. According to figures recently published by the Safety Service of The Travelers Insurance Companies of Hartford, Connecticut, 15,730 Americans were killed in weekend traffic accidents.

Of last year's traffic fatalities, more than one-fifth occurred on Saturday.

The reasons for this record number of weekend highway fatalities lie in the motoring habits of the American public. Every highway in the nation has its Saturday share of that portion of America bound and determined to arrive at its week end destination in time for dinner, even if the trip's last sixty miles must be covered in an hour flat. Too frequently, the strain and fatigue of distance driving are ignored in anticipation of ample relaxation at the journey's end.

Then, too, our highways continue to be filled with those drivers whose idea of relaxation is an extra drink or two "for the road."

Millions of dollars have been spent by Federal, state and municipal authorities in an effort to provide better and safer roads. Additional millions are spent by insurance companies and other private organizations for programs of safety education.

Nevertheless, the weekends of 1955 saw more persons killed and injured on our highways than ever before. It wasn't the fault of the road systems; it wasn't the fault of safety education campaigns. It was the fault of pleasure-bent individuals striving to go too far, too fast, for a week end's enjoyment.

How to reduce this record total of killed and injured? What is desperately required is the immediate, unceasing cooperation of every American in possession of a driver's permit.

An aroused awareness of the weekend highway peril, plus continued realization of this danger is the only way to reduce the week end fatality figures for 1956.

To Hold Swine Sale

Swine Breeders of thirty counties in east central and north eastern Indiana have pooled their efforts to hold a pig promotional sale at Muncie fairgrounds—Friday night, May 11. Paul Jackson, agricultural agent of Kosciusko county said that the pigs to be sold in the Muncie sale have been donated by swine breeders to the Indiana Swine Breeders Association. Only 4-H and FFA members will be eligible to bid on pigs in the auction. Proceeds from the sale will go to the Indiana Swine Breeders Association to be used for additional research and advertising to benefit the state's swine industry.

The sale offering will include both barrows and gilts of the Chester White, Yorkshire, Landrace, Duroc, Hampshire, Poland China, Spotted Poland China and Tamworth breeds. Forty-seven pigs have already been consigned to the Muncie sale, and the sale committee expects that at least seventy-five pigs will be entered by sale date. Breeders from this area who have made consignments are Leroy Norris, Mentone; Glen Byler, Milford; and Joe Metzger, of So. Whitley.

The committee in charge of the Muncie sale includes Glen Byler, Milford, chairman of consignments; Myron Cromer, Delaware County Agent, secretary; Loren Smith, Hartford City, facilities chairman; Paul Jackson, Kosciusko County Agent, publicity chairman; and Edgar Franklin, Topeka Vo-Ag teacher, general chairman.

Co. Health Department

April is a busy month for the Kosciusko County Health Department. Mrs. Rene Nine, Public Health Nurse and Dr. John Johnson, Director of the Health Department are helping Carl Burt and the principals and teachers of Warsaw grade schools and Glen Whitehead and the principals and teachers of the county schools with pre-school roundups.

Going to school the first time is a new experience for each child as he or she enters school. A child who has some idea of what to expect will make a satisfactory adjustment to school more quickly.

A well child is more likely to be a happy child and gets more out of his or her school experience. The health department is concerned with helping parents keep children well.

Dr. Johnson and Mrs. Nine emphasize the importance of having each child immunized before he or she enters school or have booster shots given before starting school. However, the time for immunizations actually is during infancy with booster shots at 18 months and just before entering school, then every 4 years thereafter.

Keep your child home from school if he appears to be coming down with an illness. Contagious diseases are spread most quickly in the early stages when the child appears to have a cold. Regular school attendance is important, but the sick child belongs at home. After a child has been ill he should be kept at home at least 24 hours after his temperature is normal.

Mrs. Nine and Dr. Johnson state the hearing testing program finds early cases with poor hearing and helps weed out the child who isn't paying attention. The tuberculosis patch test program helps find cases of tuberculosis in the children's families.

Nickel Plate Freight Train Piles Up Sunday Evening

About 10:35 Sunday evening a Nickel Plate freight train, west bound, came to grief at the west edge of Mentone, near the M. O. Smith orchard and the west farm of the Manwaring Leghorn Farms. Forty-one freight cars were scattered along the track.

The cause of the wreck has been announced as a "broken axle" by railroad officials. The broken journal was evidently dragging as the train hit Mentone as the crosswalks were torn up as the train passed by. It was reported a lady living east of town saw the fire and sparks as the train sped past. As the train went into the curve at the west edge of town the damaged car jumped the track and pulled others off with it. One car remained with the engine and 17 others for nearly a half mile before leaving the track. Fifty-two cars that remained upright behind the pileup were taken back to Burket while the engine took the 17 ahead to Tippecanoe.

Nine of the wrecked cars were loaded while 32 were empty.

Two wreck crews, with heavy equipment, came from both the east and west and by late Monday afternoon a new track was usable. The wreckage was cast to each side of the track, and again the M. O. Smith orchard is a freight-car graveyard. A number of years ago a similar accident occurred at the same point.

No one was injured in the pile-up.

News of the wreck spread quickly and the next 48 hours saw a steady stream of visitors to view the wreckage.

Tulip Day at Michigan City

Michigan City, Ind.—The date for the "Festival of Spring" is Mothers Day, May 13.

Many thousands of tulips of the commemorative colors, red and white will have masses of yellow, pink, purple, and to be sure, intermediate shades to welcome the travelers on wheels who will get the first breath of spring on Mothers Day at the International Friendship Gardens in Trail Creek Valley just east of Michigan City.

Sixty Nations around the world became a part of this peace-loving project which was founded in May of 1934 at A Century of Progress, and was then moved to the present 100-acre site with the first opening of the public in May of 1936.

Lilacs, Flowering Dogwood, Flowering Crab Trees, Azaleas and scores of blooming shrubs will supplement the variety of color that only Spring can give us.

A free copy of Purdue University extension bulletin 254, "The Lawan, How to Establish and Maintain," can be obtained free at the local county extension office or from the agricultural publications office at the university.

Control For Corn Pests

Early season insect pests which often cause damage to corn can be controlled easily and inexpensively. That's a report from George Gould, Purdue University entomologist, who has listed control measures for the pests.

Two insects which cause serious damage in cool, wet springs when germination is slow are seed-corn maggot and corn-seed beetles. Damage by these two pests can be prevented by treating the seed with lindane, dieldrin, or heptachlor before planting.

Wireworms, which eat the kernels the same as seed beetles and maggots, often attack young corn plants. Gould says wireworm infestations are greatest in low, wet areas or in poorly drained fields. Light infestations can be controlled by seed treatments but a better control is the use of an insecticide mixed with the starter fertilizer or an overall soil treatment. Soil treatment is done by spraying the chemical on the surface and working it into the soil immediately.

Corn rootworms are found in Indiana but are seldom a serious problem except in individual fields. Serious infestations by the tiny white worms, which feed on and within the roots, cause corn to be stunted or to develop crooked stalks. Severely damaged plants may fall over when the ears become heavy—especially following wind storms in late summer. A fertilizer-insecticide mixture applied at planting time or through an overall soil treatment prior to planting is the best control.

After the corn comes up, Gould advises farmers to watch the field for signs of cutworm damage. Some cutworms chew off the plants at the ground level while others work below the soil surface. Toxaphene or dieldrin should be used to control cutworms. Either a one-third gallon of toxaphene or one-sixth gallon of dieldrin should be applied per acre according to the manufacturer's recommendations.

Three Purdue publications include detailed information on the control of early season corn pests. These publications are Mimeo E-39, "Wireworm Controls;" E-48, "Control of Cutworms;" and E-49, "Insecticide-Fertilizer Mixtures for Control of Soil Insects." Copies of these publications can be obtained from the agricultural publications office at Purdue University, or from the local county extension office.

Purdue University dairymen report that young calves need water in addition to the daily milk allowance. The sooner a calf can be induced to eat hay, the better results will be. Lack of water may be responsible for limited hay consumption.

CATTLE FEEDERS' DAY SET

A. L. Neumann, head of beef cattle research at the University of Illinois, will discuss "Feeding Value of Oat Silage for Cattle" at Indiana Cattle Feeders' Day Friday, April 27.

W. M. Beeson, head of animal nutrition work at Purdue University, has reported that the annual event for Hoosier cattle feeders will open at 9 a. m. (DST) at the new Purdue livestock research barn, three miles north of the campus on the county farm road.

Cattle feeders will have an opportunity to view experiments until the morning program opens at 10 a. m. with Claude Harper, head of Purdue's animal husbandry department, in charge.

Can We Tie Our Own Shoelaces?

A child is more self-reliant if he can tie his own shoelaces; the same principle applies in the realm of public affairs.

United States Senator Harry F. Byrd recently said, "... we are building up a government of paternalism. There is no state in this union that can't support its school system ... There is not a single county in this country that can't do it. Of course, if they think they are getting something for nothing from the Federal government, it may be that they won't try to do it ..."

A child who never learns to tie his own shoelaces faces a dark future. So do people who look to a government of unlimited powers to do for them what they should do for themselves.

Those small baby chick feed troughs should be replaced with larger troughs by the time chicks are four weeks of age. Chicks too big for their feeders will waste a surprising amount of feed, according to Purdue University poultrymen.

The Money You Never See

Thurman Sensing of the Southern States Industrial Council suggests that the major reason why people don't realize how excessively expensive government is lies in "the fact that they never see the taxes they pay."

This is because most or all of the federal income taxes paid by the majority of workers are required to be withheld by the employer, who turns them into the Treasury. The worker never sees the money and so doesn't realize he didn't get his full earnings.

Thus the device of the withholding tax may indirectly encourage government waste and extravagance. It's certain that people would have a very different picture of affairs if they had to personally turn over their full taxes to the tax collectors.

Part of the Free Market

It seems evident that a great many Americans have small understanding of what the stock exchanges do and how they operate.

For example, some 1,200 country editors recently answered a questionnaire devoted to various phases of stock ownership. One question asked if, in the editor's opinion, many people believe that stock exchanges set prices and are financially interested in the securities traded. A substantial majority—almost 59 per cent—said Yes.

Now this is a serious misconception—particularly at a time when more and more people of moderate means are becoming investors in American enterprise, and when efforts are being made to speed that development. For the stock exchanges do not set the prices of the securities traded in any way. What they do is to provide a meeting place for the prospective buyer and seller—much in the manner of an auction house.

How then are stock prices established? The answer is that it all depends upon the decisions and opinions of prospective sellers and potential buyers. The seller naturally wants to get as much for his shares as possible; the buyer naturally wants to buy as cheaply as possible—just as in the auction mart. The price at which the shares change hands represents a meeting of minds between that seller and buyer—based upon the particular conditions existing at the time the sale is made.

The stock exchange is simply a part of the free market—an indispensable part.

Selling and The Farmer

President Shuman of the American Farm Bureau Federation recently had this to say: "Too many farmers have assumed that, since everyone must eat, we would always have a market. Politicians have followed the same false reasoning in adopting legislation to fix the prices of farm products without regard to supply or the demand of consumers. The near tragic result is that we have already lost a large part of our market to substitute and synthetic products."

Mr. Shuman's solution is simple: Better, more intensive selling and promotion of farm products. "Thousands of . . . people," he states, "do not eat enough of the protective foods—meat, milk, fruits and vegetables." In his opinion, stepped-up promotion by farmers, farm organizations, and other interested groups could expand agriculture's market.

This authority would seem to be on firm ground—and he has precedent to point to. To take one example, a number of intensive selling campaigns have been undertaken on behalf of various meats, with producers, packers and retailers participating. They have produced fine results. So have similar campaigns on behalf of other foods.

Salesmanship is all-important to the success of American industry in every field. Agriculture needs it too.

Clean up Pastures And Save Cattle

G. A. Williams, Purdue University extension dairyman, has advised Hoosier farmers to make a careful check of fence rows and vacant lots before cows are turned to pasture.

Williams says at this time of year when cattle have been on dry feeds for several months they seem to have an abnormal appetite and may swallow metal objects, such as nails and bits of wire.

Once such material reaches the paunch or rumen it may work its way through toward the heart or lungs. In most cases medicines have little or no curative effect.

It's a case of prevention being the best treatment, the specialist says. "Do not hasten the death of a good cow by allowing her to have access to such items," he adds.

Another hazard which may cause serious loss to the dairy herd is the careless disposal of paint cans and pails. Williams says it does not require very much licking of an empty paint container, to cause fatal results to farm animals.

Autos Killed More in '55

The nation's worst automobile accident toll in history was recorded in 1955, it has been announced by The Travelers Insurance Companies.

Traffic deaths totaled 37,800 last year compared with 35,500 in 1954. The injury count reached 2,158,000 compared with 1,960,000 in the previous year.

These figures are taken from "Fatal Fallacies," the twenty-second in an annual series of traffic accident data booklets published by The Travelers. Accident facts from every state in the nation are collected and analyzed for the booklet by Travelers statisticians.

Excessive speed was the most dangerous driving mistake again in 1955, killing 12,700. The 1954 total was 12,380 persons. The injury total resulting from excessive speed was 702,560, compared with 669,000 in 1954.

The pedestrian record was the only bright spot in the 1955 accident picture. It reflected improvement for the fifth consecutive year. Pedestrian casualties were reduced to 230,400, compared with 235,060 in 1954.

Drivers under 25 years of age were involved in more than 27% of 1955's fatal accidents, although they comprise only about 14% of the total of all the nation's drivers.

Weekend crashes accounted for 15,730 killed and 766,090 injured. The 1954 weekend record was 13,980 killed and 678,000 injured.

Crossing between intersections "jay walking" and stepping into the street from behind parked cars are the chief causes of pedestrian deaths and injuries.

The 32-page booklet features cartoons by Ted Key, creator of the popular "Saturday Evening Post" feature, "Hazel."

The booklet also reveals that one out of every 75 persons in the United States became a traffic casualty in 1955.

Eighty-five per cent of the vehicles involved in accidents were passenger cars.

Twenty-two per cent of the deaths occurred on Saturdays.

Four to eight p. m. are the most dangerous hours of the day.

The year 1955 reveals that traffic deaths and injuries are on the increase. There were 57 injuries to each death, compared with only 37 injuries per death in 1941.

"88" HOLIDAY SEDAN

... And the High-Torque Output of Oldsmobile's Famous Rocket Engine Is Instantly Translated into Outstanding Performance at the Rear Wheels!

LET'S TALK TORQUE! In plain language, torque is "twist" — like turning a door knob. It's the force that makes the wheels go 'round.

So it follows . . . the more torque your engine has, the more go power your car has . . . the more getaway at the light . . . the more action on the open road!

That's why, when it comes to power, there's nothing like Oldsmobile's Rocket T-350 Engine — because the Rocket is torque TNT! Figures prove it: 350 pound-feet at 2800 rpm (340 pound-feet at 2400 rpm in "88" models).

OLDS CHASSIS IS ENGINEERED TO HANDLE HIGHER TORQUE!

Oldsmobile has the chassis to take Rocket torque . . . a skillfully engineered Oldsmobile chassis with an extra-sturdy, dynamically balanced drive shaft, and an extra-rigid frame that resists twisting and weaving.

What's more, the Rocket's got horsepower — to spare!* And with Oldsmobile, it's high, usable horsepower . . . a by-product of engine design aimed straight at the wheels — design that translates horsepower into terrific torque at normal engine rpm's.

TOP TORQUE MEANS TIP-TOP PERFORMANCE!

The result is higher torque — silken, responsive Rocket action. Touch the accelerator, ever so gently, you "go" . . . and we do mean "GO!" You thrill to smoother, swifter bursts of power in medium speed ranges — tip-top performance for everyday use — spectacular performance when you need it . . . when you want it.

Any way you look at it, you can't top the Rocket for thrills for the money — or for top return when it's time to trade. Stop by soon. Rocket 'round the block . . . or around the town if you like!

OLDSMOBILE'S ROCKET — a double winner in 1956 Mobilgas Economy Run. Get the feel of top horsepower, top torque in the engine that's an economy champion, too!

University Choir To Sing At Mentone

The Taylor University A Cappella Choir will present a concert of sacred music at The Methodist Church, Mentone, Indiana, on Sunday, April 29th, 7:30 P. M. The choir is under the direction of Howard Skinner, Chairman of the Division of Fine Arts at Taylor.

Bach's greatest motet, "Come, Jesu, Come" will be featured in the concert. This work is for double choir. The A Cappella Choir will divide itself into two groups for this performance which is one of the most impressive and effective motets from the entire repertoire of choral music.

The Taylor choir will also present a section of anthems by composers for the Russian Church, including such composers as Paul Tschesnokoff and Alexander Gretchaninoff.

A part of the concert will include selections from Heinrich Schütz's "Christmas Story," an oratorio telling the story of the birth of our Lord as recorded in the Gospel according to St. Luke.

Other music of the choir is taken from masterpieces of the 16th and 17th centuries and includes numbers by famous composers such as Raselius, Sweelinck and Palestrina. A number of modern sacred numbers are also included in the repertoire of the 45 voice choir. The choir sings sacred music only, and has been appraised as one of the outstanding small college musical groups in Indiana for its rendition of these numbers.

Members of the choir are selected to sing with the group by auditions held during the first week of the fall semester. The choir meets for practice one hour each day and is noted for the devotion the students give to the great music of the Christian faith in their desire to impart a rich spiritual and cultural experience to the listener.

The public is invited to attend the concert. There is no admission charge.

Methodist Church News

The sermon-subject for the 9:30 Divine Worship service will be: "Love Sinned Against"—the message of the book of Hosea. The choir will provide special music. There are Sunday School classes for all ages at 10:30. Last Sunday had one of the all-time high attendances for a regular Sunday with 190 in the service of Divine Worship and 163 in the Sunday School.

The Taylor University A Cappella Choir is being presented to the community in a Sacred Concert by the church at 7:30 Sunday evening. The choir is under the direction of Dr. Howard Skinner, Jr. The program will be presented in the church.

The choir will be feted by a "Fellowship Supper" at 5:30 Sunday evening. Those who plan to host the choir, but have not been solicited for special allotments of food are asked to bring sandwiches or dessert.

More than one hundred tickets have been purchased for the Mother and Daughter Banquet being held at 6:30 on the evening of May 3 in the Westminster Hotel, Winona Lake. If some mother or daughter has been overlooked in the ticket solicitation, kindly contact Mrs. Herman Olson at your earliest convenience to secure a ticket. Everyone is asked to assemble at the church early enough that the car caravan may leave for the banquet no later than 6:00 o'clock.

Poultry specialists at Purdue University say that poultrymen can help prevent coccidiosis in young chicks by keeping the brooder house litter deep and dry. In addition, the young chicks should be allowed to range on ground that has had no poultry manure on it for at least 18 months.

"Vegetable Varieties for Indiana Gardens" is the title of a new mimeo which contains a list of vegetables adapted to mid-western areas. Prepared by Purdue University horticulturists, the leaflet can be obtained from the agricultural publications office at Purdue, or from county extension offices.

Purdue University agronomists report that when planting corn, it is not necessary to use medium flat grains in order to obtain ears with a large percentage of flat kernels. As long as seed corn is graded uniformly and will germinate well, it makes little difference which grade of seed corn is used if the proper planter plate is selected. But, the agronomists caution farmers to use correct planter plate.

DAR Meets at Bremen

On the eve of April 24, the Anthony Nigo Chapter D.A.R. members were pleasantly entertained at the Glenn Clauss home near Bremen. Mrs. Frank Smith was assisting hostess.

The ritualistic service was given, then Geraldine Smith made a report on her presentation of a large flag to the Mentone school. The flag was contributed by the Anthony Nigo Chapter, D.A.R. Pamphlets entitled, "I Am an American," also were given to be distributed throughout the school.

The ladies decided by vote to sponsor Maude Snyder's Music Recital this year.

Mrs. Kenneth Riner was in charge of the program for the meeting. She displayed a framed newspaper of 1800 telling of the death of George Washington and many items concerning that day which proved to be very interesting; also two old hymn books dated 1843 and 1860 which had been in Mrs. Riner's family, had much interesting material as excerpts from them were read. A heart-shaped snuff box made of rosewood was a dainty item on display and brought to us the customs of another day.

Guests present were: Mrs. J. O. Whitmyre, Rita Paulus and Mrs. Lulu Tucker.

Veterinarians at Purdue University remind farmers that the strip cup is one of the most important pieces of dairy equipment on the farm. Mastitis can often be detected early if the strip cup is used each day. Flaky milk curds or off color milk as seen on the strip cup is considered evidence of mastitis. The health of the entire herd may depend on detecting early signs of mastitis and prompt treatment.

Legion to Meet In Indianapolis

Indianapolis, Ind. April 21—(Special)—The Indiana American Legion and its Auxiliary will hold their annual joint Spring Conference in Indianapolis, April 28 and 29. The 2-day session will bring hundreds of key Legionnaires and Auxiliary leaders to the Hoosier Capital City.

Few meetings in Indiana this year will have such a widespread link-up with vital interests of Hoosier Communities as this state conference on April 28 and 29, Department Commander Alton W. Cochran pointed out.

"The Hundreds of key Legionnaires and Auxiliary leaders who will attend will be spokesmen—and action draftsmen—for 112,000 members of the Indiana American Legion in 461 Hoosier Posts and for 46,000 women organized in 420 Units," Commander Cochran said. "They are all interested in building bigger and better Indiana hometowns."

Links to 1690 Towns

Links of direct interest to community life in 1690 Indiana cities and towns will radiate from The American Legion Conference.

The delegates will discuss their Americanism Program. That includes the 1956 Hoosier Boys' State with an expected attendance of 1,000 youths; American Legion Junior Baseball in which hundreds of teen-age boys' team will be entered next summer; and the 1956 campaign to spread Hoosier family ownership of the American Flag to the end that every Indiana Home will have its own national colors.

Youth Services

They will talk about child welfare. That includes The American Legion Scholarship Service which is of special interest to 200,000 Hoosier high school students who are looking for a lift for a college education. The American Legion has become a vast clearing house for thousands of scholarships of all kinds.

They will also talk about The American Legion's temporary financial aid for emergency needs of children. Last year Indiana American Legionnaires and their Auxiliary ladies expended more than $250,000 in providing food, clothing, and medical treatments for 7,000 Hoosier children in every part of the state.

Rehabilitation Activities

The delegates will give priority legislation to the welfare of more than 2,000 Indiana veterans in VA Hospitals and of many hundreds of war widows and orphans. They will also concern themselves with the plight of hundreds of aged and unemployable Hoosier veterans into whose lives the specter of want has entered and who would become burdens on their communities if there were no American Legion to champion their welfare in Congress.

Serious thought will be given at the conference to civil defense problems which affect the survival chances of every Indiana community should an atomic war break out.

There isn't a whistle-stop in Indiana which won't be linked by some current community interest to this American Legion and Auxiliary meeting!

New Canada Thistle Control

"Immediate steps should be taken this spring to control Canada thistle which has invaded Hoosier farms," O. C. Lee, Purdue University extension botanist, has reported.

Canada thistle is an expensive weed that crowds out most crops including the most persistent grass. Because of windblown seeds it is a menace to adjoining farms as well as the area it covers. So serious is Canada thistle, a state law has been enacted which requires that thistles be controlled in bud stage or earlier in order to prevent seed formation.

Lee said methods of control for Canada thistle include clean cultivation so as to keep down all top growth during the season. Alfalfa can be used as a smother crop and effective herbicides to eradicate small patches.

Recommended for the first time to control the weed is amino triazole, a new herbicide now on the market. Most effective when applied to young spring growth of thistles, 6 to 15 inches high, amino triazole should be used at the rate of eight pounds of material in about 30 gallons of water per acre. The new herbicide is available on the market as a 50 percent soluble powder which can be applied as a spray after diluting it with water. Unique because it causes the thistle to turn white, research by Lee has revealed that the material is absorbed by plant leaves and carried into the root zone, thus destroying the roots and preventing resprouting.

Since amino triazole is expensive, it may not be practical for use on extensive infestations. At present, it is recommended only for the eradication of patches of Canada thistle.

Other herbicides that may be used to control the thistle are sodium chlorate and 2,4-D, Lee added.

Scouts to Give Demonstration

From Kosciusko District Boy Scouts of America

Boy Scout Troops of Kosciusko County will present "Scouting in Action" all day Saturday, April 28, in the former Firestone store on West Center Street in Warsaw.

Each Troop will demonstrate one or more Scouting skills in order that the public will be better informed on some of the things taught through the Scouting program. Scouts will be busy carrying out various projects so that the many visitors will see how things are done and not just a finished product.

Among the skills to be demonstrated will be first aid, finger printing, radio, signaling, fire by friction, rope making and several others.

The committee in charge of the event is composed of Warren Hygema, Chairman, aided by Max Baker, Stanley Kintzel, Russell Kinsey, Virgil McCleary, and Charles Lamoree.

The show will be open to the public without charge and will run continuously throughout the day.

ATMOSPHERE IMPORTANT

Surpluses Affected By Opinion of the Public

Lafayette, Ind., April 20—Dr. Herrell DeGraff, Babcock professor of food economics at Cornell University, said at Purdue University today that the only good agricultural program is one good for all interests.

Speaking at the final session of the sixth annual conference of the National Institute of Animal Agriculture attended by 250 of the nation's farm leaders, DeGraff said four groups—producers, consumers, and legislators—have an interest in agriculture.

In a resume of the Institute, the renowned economist said the started to 'play with prices' we created surpluses. After 30 years we have reached an economic impasse. The situation has come to a head in 1956 because of enormous surpluses, a combination of cyclical peaks in swine and cattle marketing, and the fact that it's an election year," DeGraff concluded.

Speaking at today's luncheon, Dr. F. L. Hovde, president of Purdue, said that he hoped there would always be an economy of abundance rather than an economy of scarcity. Hovde continued by saying that he realized that farm situation is a result of price tampering since 1929. "When we

a surplus of food proposed a problem but surpluses of food are always temporary since food production is so dependent upon the elements. The Purdue president concluded by calling attention to the importance of research for agriculture. "We must not stop research in agriculture, for research in agriculture is just as important as research for industry."

"People eat what they do because they like it, they can get it where they shop and at a price they can afford," Walter Barlow, vice president of the Opinion Research Corporation, Princeton, New Jersey, told the animal agriculturists.

"But in today's market involving mass distribution, merchandising, and selling, the attitude factor in eating and purchasing habits is gaining in importance," he added.

Barlow said that if what people think about a product or an idea is an important part of their decision to use it, then there are certain basic communication principles which can be employed to increase product acceptance. "As we see it these principles are: When a person sees a product or an idea of benefit to him personally, he is much more likely to buy or act than not. When an idea comes through clearly and quickly, Mrs. Housewife is more likely to do something than if the message is complex. Proof added to the simple assertion of facts more often than not gets people into the buying or acting frame of mind. Repetition is a must since tests show that people forget all too easily the things we want them to know."

Blackleg Season Is Here

Spring is the season for blackleg in cattle, F. A. Hall, Purdue University extension veterinarian, has reminded Hoosier farmers.

Blackleg is one of the most persistent cattle killers in the United States, and will increase as cows go on pasture. The organisms that cause blackleg live in the soil through heat, cold, and drought. As cattle return to the pastures after the winter season, they will have a greater chance to pick up the spores that cause the disease if the soil has been contaminated, Hall says.

A disease of young cattle, blackleg very seldom attacks animals more than two years old. And the same is true for young calves. The real danger period for cattle, according to Hall, lies between the four months and two years of age.

An affected animal may be dead before the farmer has a chance to observe any symptoms of the disease. An unexpected death in young stock on pasture should alert the farmer that blackleg may have been the cause.

If a farmer feels that blackleg has struck his herd, he should contact a veterinarian who can administer treatments and recommend effective vaccines. If blackleg has been detected on the farm in recent years, the surest way to prevent additional outbreaks is an annual vaccination program for all calves, Hall adds.

It's vitally important for farmers to use caution when disposing of blackleg victims. An animal killed by blackleg should be deeply buried, completely burned, or sent to a rendering plant to prevent contaminating the soil. The area on which the dead animal had been lying should be burned or the topsoil buried.

Best Medium

The Western World, of Bandon, Oregon, points out: "After all the revolutionary changes which have taken place in the advertising world in the last ten years, the newspaper—it is now proven—remains the best medium of advertising."

The proof is found in the lineage figures. As the World adds: "In spite of all the competition from new media, newspaper advertising continues to grow and the public continues to express its confidence in newspapers to an amazing degree."

The newspaper—large or small, daily or weekly—is an established American institution. Nothing has changed that—and nothing will as long as we remain a free nation.

Profit Can Be Made With Beef Cows

A summary of 22 Indiana beef cow herd records compiled by Russell Brower, Purdue University extension animal husbandman, offers proof that profits can be made from beef production.

Brower believes the records will prove helpful to farmers who are undecided whether it is more advisable to buy or raise feeders, or to sell the grain and roughage as a cash crop.

The summary of the 22 herds points out general management practices and wintering feed costs as well as values and acreages of different kinds of pastures which the cow herd owners reported.

A Warrick County farmer estimated a net return of $72 per cow above feed cost. His 25 cows raised 25 calves for an average calving date of February 1. The estimated value of the calf crop was $118.23 per head (based on 21 cents a pound for choice calves on October 1).

A total of 4500 pounds of oat hulls and molasses valued at $67.40 and a limited feed of silage, plus one pound of soybean oil meal per head each day, was fed to the cows during the winter. The calf crop was creep-fed 1100 pounds of ground corn and oats valued at $27.40. In addition 2200 pounds of soybean oil meal was fed to the calves at one pound per head daily and valued at $78.00. Thirty-seven tons of corn silage valued at $363 was consumed by the entire herd. Nineteen tons of stubble hay clover priced at $10 a ton was given the herd. The farmer rated this cost at $150 for the hay and $45 for bedding.

The herd has access to 50 acres of permanent pasture in addition to 25 acres of rye in March, 40 acres of rye, oats and vetch in April; 60 acres of timothy, redtop, brome and lespedeza in May, June, July and August; 85 acres of timothy, redtop, brome and of stalks in October and 190 acres lespedeza in September; 135 acres of stalks in November and December. The total pasture charge for the cow herd was $425.

Including the calf crop, the total cost of keeping each cow per year was an estimated $46.24.

Other farmers included in the summary figured the estimated net return per cow from $68.10 to $5.44.

Brower concluded from the summary that eight practices will help farmers increase profits from beef calves. He suggests the farmer have a good registered bull, produce January or February calves, raise at least a 95 percent calf crop; have an adequate feed supply with pasture available as near 12 months as possible; follow a sound health program; cull aged and poor cows and keep heifers from best producing cows; castrate and dehorn when calves are from 3 to 30 days of age, and market to best advantage.

A mimeo copy of the report, "1955 Commercial Cow Summary" can be obtained from the animal husbandry department at Purdue University.

Poultrymen at Purdue University remind egg producers that with the coming of spring, the amount of grain fed to laying hens can be reduced. One big purpose of grain feeding is to supply the hens with a source of heat and energy, so the need is reduced as the weather warms. Instead, the hen needs to eat more of the laying mash which is rich in protein and vitamins.
