NARROW ESCAPE

Failure to observe a stop sign Wed needay morning resulted in another motor vehicle accident, in which the occupants of the vehicles miraculously escaped serious injury. The accident occurred on state road 25 at the intersection with the Burket road, about four miles east of Mentone.

Milt Hartman, of rural route 5. Warsaw, was driving northward on the Burket road. He was accompanied by John Watt, salesman for the A. H. Perfect Company of Fort Wayne. According to the report made to Sheriff Virgil Yeager, Hartman failed to observe the stop sign in a driving onto state road 25 his car was struck by a truck by Wayne Cook, of Akron.

 was accompanied by David Bartett, of Peru.

The car was knocked to the side of the road by the force of the impact. The truck, which was loaded with apples, went into the ditch.

All the persons involved in the mis hap escaped serious injury. Hartman suffered a bruised hip and several lacerations. Cook received a badly brui.ed nose and a wrenched right arm. Watt and Barrett escaped with only slight bruises. It was reported that after the wreckage had been cleared away by the wrecker from the Motor Inn Garage the truck driver set up a road-side stand and sold the remainder of his apples to

School Days Ahead

It wont be long now until the youth of our community will cease their summer fun, lunch boxes will be brought out from their summer quarters, dusted and sterilized in preparation for the winter lunches ahead. Already mothers and daughters are busy discussing the intricacies of that fall and winter wardrobe because school days are not far off.

Of utmost interest to students as well as parents is the personell of the school, so the News is delighted to bring you this information.

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Ellis of west of Warsaw are the proud parents of a baby girl born to them at the Emergency hospital Monday night, August 10. The infant weighed six and three quarter pounds and was named Donna Mae. Mrs. Ellis was formerly Miss Helen Mollenhour of Mentone.

STORM ODDITY

It isn't news to say that the severe rain and wind storm last Sunday night, which covered considerable territory, shattered trees, shrubbery, and was responsible for several broken windows. It is news, however, that on the following morning, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Rush of near Burket, gathered up and disposed of more than 620 sparrows found dead on their lawn after the storm.

The destruction of these birds may have been caused by a severe bolt of lightening, or perhaps the strong wind blew them out of the trees and they were drowned in the heavy rain fall.

Mrs. William Chinworth of Warsaw, was hostess to Beta Epsilon of Psi Iota Xi sorority on Monday even ing August 10. Pledge services were held for Miss Flo Mollenhour of Man tone and Mrs. Donald Baum and Mrs. Joe Foxvog of Warsaw.

After the pledge services four tables of bridge progressed. Prizes were awarded to Mrs. Geo. Myers, Miss Mildred Anderson and consolation to Mrs. Ruby Ellis.

Lovely refreshments were served at the close of the games. Guests not already mentioned were Kathleen Anderson, Equice Reed, Annabel Mentzer, Thelma Harris, Margaret Mentzer; mesdames Curtis Riner, Devon Eaton, Carl Myers, Jr., Emery Hoffer, N. R. Teeter. Mrs. Walter Shipley of Warsaw was a guest.

Opera Presented

Approximately two thousand persons attended the performance of Verdi's opera, "Aida", presented Monday evening at the Billy Sunday tabernacle, Winona Lake, by the American Opera Company, and directed by A. F. Thaviu.

The title role of "Aida" as characterized by the soprano, Hilda Ohlin, was outstanding. Others in the professional cast, however were very good. The role of "Rhadames" by Henry Thompson, tenor, was rated second only to Aida. The only local singer in the main cast was Rollin Pease, who was cast as the King of Egypt.

The English speaking audience might have appreciated it more if the singers other than Rollin Pease had presented theirs in English too. However, the attendance was unusually good and the audience was appreciative.

Those attending from Mentone were: Mr. and Mrs. Richard Greulach, Mrs. Emma Yocum, Miss Frances Clark, Miss Bernice Bowen, Miss Jessie Rush, Mrs. Cora VanGilder, and Mrs. Yoland Riner.

RANCHERS UNITING TO FIGHT CATTLE THIEVES IN TEXAS

Demand Action as Motorized Rustlers Reach New Peak of Activity.

Austin, Texas.-Vigilantes are riding again in Texas to combat the growing menace of cattle rustling.

Owners of the vast Texas ranges are up in arms as they see their herds, already decimated by drouth, reduced by an intense revival of the once notorious racket. Official reports indicate cattle rustling has reached a peak that surpasses the large scale operations of the days when the ranges were unfenced and the bark of sixshooters and a quick twist with a rope were the law of the land.

The ranchmen are ready for a showdown fight. They have organized committees to co-operate with local and state officers to ferrettur out rustlers. says the Associated Press.

The rise of cattle rustling has spread like a prairie fire with the advance in beef prices. Three years of withering drouth cut herds to a minimum and resulted in a beef shortage and higher prices. Then came the bountiful rains of last spring and summer and cattle fattened in both postures.

Tedious Job in the Old Days.

Advantages of modern transportation give the rustler a wide morgin the pursning vigitantes. In ploneer days rustlers would pource on a herd and cut out several hundred. But they had to be driven away on the hoof and left telltale marks to experienced cowhands In addition it was a long and tedious job driving them to market, once the initial getaway was covered.

Even the ingerious devices pertected to change brands were not wholly effective, since a cowman has a mem ory for appearances and usually can spot his or his neighbor's stock in stantly.

Now it is a matter of mantes for a rustler to back a truel up to a fence lower a chute and load 15 to 20 fat yearlings. Smooth paved highw ys speed the cattle to market and they are disposed of in many cases even before the rancher learns of the theft.

for the rustler. The old method of tracking the thief with a posse has been abandoned. Now skilled detectives are employed by protective associations and trace the ts in the same manner a modern detective trails a criminal. Instances have been reported where cattle stolen in south Texas have been traced 300 miles north - They usually are sold at small packing plants or butcher shops, operators of which are none too critical of the source of supply.

In the ranching sections county officers have been organized into districts. They stop all cattle trucks, record the license and motor numbers, note the cattle and brand and a description of the driver. If they believe the cattle are "hot," they delay and investigate. If the load is allowed to proceed, the officers' memoranda are recorded in a central office for checking in case thefts are later reported.

Wed Three Days, Keeps Dog, but Loses His Wife

Warsaw.-Keeping a dog is grounds for divorce in Poland. To a divorce court near Warsaw, came Maria, a three-day wife, with her sad story of the big black dog.

"I loved my husband, and I still love him." Maria told the judge, her eyes red with weeping. "But when we went to our new home I found there a big black dog. It was very flerce, and, anyway. I hate dogs

"I discovered that my husband was jealous, and had trained the dog not to allow any man in the house when was not there.

"I do not want to divorce my husband, but I cannot live with a dog that growls all the time. My husband refuses to get rid of it."

The judge turned to the husband: That is impossible," he said. "You cannot expect your wife to stand for You must get rid of your dog.'

The jealous husband refused. "She can take me as I am or leave me," he

"Then she will leave you," replied the judge. "I pass judgment against You are divorced."

QUEER ANTICS OF DEAD MAN'S MIRROR MYSTIFIES FRIENDS

Nurse's Ice Pick Finally Pries It Loose After Repeated Efforts.

Sault Ste Marie, Mich.—A dozen explanations, scientific and otherwise, have been advanced to account for a strange conduct of a dead man's mir-

Molecular attraction chemical or electrical reaction hypnosis parlor magic, spirit manifestation and & "spell," were mentioned by various commentators seeking to explain why the mirror fulfilled the dying prediction of Jeffrey Deroster, thirty eight, that you won't be able to pick it up."

Whatever the explanation, all the witnesses but one were firm in their assertion that for 24 hours after Derosler's death the mirror defied all efforts to remove it from the top of the steel hospital table on which be flung it, and that it yielded at last only when a nurse attacked it with an ice pick.

Ward Mate Flees Spell.

The noncommital witness was Harvey Davenport, ward mate of Doroster, who could not be reached for comment. Fellow citizens of Davenport's home town of Revion said he had packed hurrhofty and left for "somewhere in the west" to escapetife dead man's spell."

"I tried to remove the mirror with my hands and it wouldn't budge," said Dr. F. J. Maloney, Deresier's physician, "Chef mirror was stuck as he forecast."

Einar V. Jorgenson, hospital bookkeeper, said he had tried every method he could think of before the nurse used the Ice pick. Several nurses and patients, including Lewis Deschemean, confirmed his statement.

After looking at his face in the glass. Deroster tossed it on the table with the statement he was dying. Descheneau related.

Prophesies, Then Dies.

"He asked Davenport to give him the mirror again, As Davenport reached for it, Derosler told him You won't be able to pick it up from the table." Davenport seemed frozen to the spot. Derosler died right away." Descheneau sald,

"Then Davenport and the others tried and tried to take the glass from the table. It wouldn't move."

Several scientists said the surfaces of the mirror and the table might have been smooth enough to create a vacuum between them, or possibly a molecular attraction. Others suggested that there might have been a chemical reaction set by in the quicksilver of the mirror by perspiration from Derosler's hand, while one said the dying man's remark might have had a hypnotic influence on his hearers.

Modern Crusoe Tells of Life on Tropical Island

San Jose, Calif.—A modern Robinson Crusoe told San Jose State college students how it feels to colonize an entire tronical island.

George West, former student at Honolulu high school, now a freshman at the San Jose school, told how he and three other high school students lived for six months as the only inhabitants of Jarvis Island, a waterless dot of land which will be one of the links in the new transoceanic air program of this country.

Accompanied by Henry Ahia, Daniel Toomey and Frank Crockett, West was put ashore on the island by the government cutter Itasca. The group had a large supply of water and food, which they supplemented with fish caught about the island and eggs found on the cliffs.

They built a shelter from the wreck of the schooner Amaranth, which had been wrecked on the island in 1913.

For six months the only signs of human life they saw were little headstones which marked the disastrons end of a British attempt at colonization many years ago.

West is enrolled as a freshman at San Jose state and plans to complete his education here, but he says a marvelous education may be obtained on a desert island.

Drouth Period Forecast to Continue Until 1939

San Marino, Callf.—The disastrous drouths of the last few years may be expected to continue until about 1939, if the "weather cycle" theory holds true. After that, for a period of ten to twenty years, they will become less (requent and less severe

Finally, with the return of a normal cycle of moisture, American farmers can hope to have complete relief from drouth for a period of 150 years or more.

These are the conclusions of Halbert P. Gillette, who, after year's of scientific study of the "weather leyele," has presented his findings to the American Meteorological society.

Gillette's belief of the existence of weather cycles is based upon studies of the garter-ring thickness of the giant sequois in California and the Arizona pine. Other contributing elements were tound in the study of the annual silt layers of ancient glacial lakes, and the time intervals between recessional moralines deposited in the last Ice age.

Java Reserved for Natives Years ago the Dutch put on their statute books that no one but a native of Java-not even a Dutchman-may buy agricultural land in Java. The result is thousands of small land holdings The government provides the best in roads, transportation and irrigation systems. When the native grows more rice or maize than he can use, the government buys it from him ships it to the ports of the world. The result is a contented, prospering population, although Java has more people a square mile than any country on earth .-
