Members of the newly organized Mentone Saddle Club are looking forward to a fine show here on Sunday, Aug. 13 when they hold their first big saddle horse show at the fair grounds. Fourteen classes are to be shown and a premium list of $490 has been arranged.

Many fine animals from this part of Indiana are already entered and it is expected that there will be many more by the day of the show.

The admission charges are exceptionally reasonable for a show of this kind and a large attendance is expected. The admission will be 35c for adults and 20c for children. Parking space will be provided and other arrangements are being made to accommodate those who may come from a distance. The show starts at one o'clock. (Rain date Aug. 20th).

MENTONE LIONS ATTEND INTERNATIONAL CONVENTION

The Mentone Lions club was well represented at the 28th annual International convention of Lions clubs held at Chicago this week. Those in attendance from here included: Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Tucker, Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Igo, Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Johns, Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Kesler, Mrs. Emma Yocum, Mrs. Lide Williamson, Maurice Dudley, Dale Kelley, Ray Rush and son Paul and Mr. and Mrs. Artley Cullum.

Over 9,000 Lions and guests were registered from the United States and the 13 other nations included in the International Association. Many of the states from a distance — Utah, California, Nevada, Texas, Iowa, Ohio, and the southern states had bigger representations there than Indiana. The entertainment and programs, in the opinion of those who have been attending the conventions, was up to the usual standards.

CREIGHTON BROS. SPONSOR MEETING OF POULTRYMEN

Hobart and Russell Creighton were hosts to a large group of nationally-known poultry specialists at the Tippecanoe Country Club at Tippecanoe lake Saturday, July 29th. Dr. Martin, of Purdue university, assisted in arranging the program.

The morning session was taken up by visiting the various units in the Creighton Bros. poultry farm.

During the afternoon, two discussions were conducted. The first, on "Genetics and Viability," was led by Dr. Marble, formerly of the Pennsylvania State College but now on the staff of specialists at Creighton's. The other discussion on "Record Keeping and Pedigree Methods," was led by Dr. Schnetzler, of Purdue university.

Other poultry specialists present at the gathering were:

Dr. Watters of East Lansing, Mich.
Dr. Warren of Kansas State College.
Dr. Byerly, poultry husbandman of the Bureau of Animal Industry in Washington.

Dr. Maw, of Iowa State College.

Dr. Bruchner, head of the poultry department of Cornell University.

Dr. Ghostly, of Anoka, Minnesota.

Dr. Martin, head of the Purdue poultry department.

Dr. Lambert and Dr. Bohren, both from Purdue.

Other poultrymen from this area were: Chas. and Chet Manwaring, Forrest Kesler, Roy Merkle, Robt. Hogue, and Max Nellans.

Those from the Creighton Bros. farms included: Russell and Hobart Creighton, Prof. Kandel, Dr. Marble and John Frederick.

The steak dinner, served at noon, was also thoroughly enjoyed.

"katydid, katydidn't," so we'll end the argument that way.

The annual reunion of the Sleighter family was held Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Sleighter, of south of Warsaw. Approximately 25 members of the family were present to enjoy the bounteous dinner at the noon hour. The afternoon was spent socially and arrangements were made to hold the reunion at the same place next year.

Dewey Gibson Dudgeon, principal of the Burket high school for many years, has recently been promoted to captain from first lieutenant in the army. Capt. Dudgeon, who entered service from Kosciusko county, first served as athletic coach at Burket for two years, after which he went to Richland Center high school as principal. Later, he was brought back to Burket as principal, which office he held up to the time he entered service. Capt. Dudgeon is on leave from his duties with the signal corps and is visiting his parents north of Rochester.

HOME CANNED PEACHES DELICIOUS WHETHER CLING OR FREE-STONE

Clingstone peaches are excellent, but a great many persons prefer the flavor of freestone fruit and also find it somewhat less troublesome to prepare for canning. Whether cling or freestone, good raw peaches make good canned ones, provided they are canned right, but right canning can do nothing for greenish, bitterish, poorly flavored fruit.

Gladys Kimbrough, Home Service Director for Ball Brothers Company, advises those who can peaches for the first time, and those whose canned peaches are below par, to select tree-ripened fruit, when possible, and sort it for size, color, and condition before washing and peeling it.

Skins may be stripped from some well-ripened peaches after they have been scalded in boiling water about a minute and then dipped in cold water, but the general run of them require other methods of peeling. The lye method, while practical when a large quantity is to be canned, requires skill. To lye peel, put four tablespoons concentrated lye in an enamel or granite kettle. Add two gallons water and heat to boiling. Put peaches in a basket and hold in the boiling lye from thirty to sixty seconds; then wash immediately in cold water. Rinse through several waters to remove all skins and all traces of lye. The fruit will darken if left in lye too long or if not well rinsed.

Usually, paring with a knife is the most practical way of peeling. The peaches should be washed clean and drained before peeling. After peeling, the fruit should be cut in half, and the stones discarded. Freestone fruit has better flavor and nicer, cleaner appearance if the red fibers are cut or scraped from the cavities.

Dropping the peeled peaches into weak salt-vinegar water (one tablespoon each to one gallon of water) helps prevent discoloring. They should not be left in the water longer than thirty or forty minutes and must be well rinsed before canning.

Clingstone peaches are prepared for canning by removing the skins by one of the methods described above. Clings may be halved (before peeling) by cutting around the peach with a sharp knife, beginning at the stem end and following the crease. After cutting, hold the peach with both hands and twist in opposite directions. This pulls one side away from the stone. Use a regular peach pitting spoon, a teaspoon, or a knife to remove the stone from the other half of the peach. Peel the halves by scalding, by the lye method, or by paring with knife. If preferred, the peach may be peeled and then halved by cutting around the stone with knife. The easiest way to remove the flesh from the stone is to cut it in wedge-shaped slices.

Miss Kimbrough recommends hot packing and processing in a hot-water bath canner. Here are her two favorite recipes: (Use the longer cooking and processing time for clings and other very fine peaches.)

Method I. Make a sirup of 1 or 2 parts sugar to 1 of water, depending upon the amount liked and the amount available. Add peaches, a few at a time, and simmer until hot through (4 to 10 minutes). Pack into hot jars, layers overlapping, cavity side down. Cover with sirup in which peaches were cooked. Process (cook in jar) 10 to 20 minutes in hot-water bath. Can left-over sirup for pudding or ice cream sauce.

Method II. Add from 1 to 1½ cup sugar and one cup boiling water to one gallon prepared peaches. Cook gently until peaches are hot through and sugar dissolved (10 to 20 minutes). Pack and process as instructed above. If there isn't enough liquid to cover peaches in jar, add boiling water after they are packed.

If one is short of sugar, a sirup may be made by boiling two cups white corn sirup, two cups sugar, one cup water, and one-eighth teaspoon salt together five minutes. Honey may be used instead of sugar but it changes the flavor, and sometimes the color, of the fruit. From three-quarters to one cup sirup is usually needed for one quart of peaches. The fruit should be well covered with liquid. (If one runs out of sugar, peaches may be canned with plain boiling water. They keep just as well that way but do not have as good flavor.)

Once fine fruit is selected, carefully prepared and processed right, canning success is assured if jars and caps are used according to the manufacturers' instructions. These instructions will be found on printed leaflets packed in every carton.

Temperature of Water Cause

The correlation of fish population density and lake temperature was verified when fishermen found millions of smelt dead in March, 1943, in Little Bay de Noc. The temperature of the lake was 33 degrees from top to bottom, four degrees colder than the previous year.

Low Cost Feed

Grass is invaluable as a low cost feed crop which at the same time is important for building up organic matter in soil and preventing erosion. Grass represents the most nutritious and least expensive food for any type of livestock.

BOUNCING COINS

Take two coins that look exactly alike. One is genuine, the other is counterfeit. How can you tell them apart? The secret service men tell us we should throw them on a table. The coin that doesn't bounce is counterfeit. The coin that does bounce is the real thing.

Life tests men in the same way—by their bounce! The men who do not possess real worth, quit. The men of value bounce. Lincoln was defeated many times, yet always bounced back and finally bounced into the White House. Edison failed many times in his effort to invent the incandescent lamp, yet he always bounced back and tried again—and finally he won. In the Hall of Accomplishment, you'll find inscribed the names of the men who bounced.

Emerson wrote, "What you are, thunders so loud I can't hear what you say." The counterfeit coin looks like the genuine, but it isn't. It won't bounce. A man may talk and look like a winner, but the way he actually lives is the test that counts. Meeting the hard knocks, defeats and setbacks of life with a bounce is the supreme test of character and worth. Be a man with bounce!

The Silver Lining.

Food Types

Of the total feed consumed by animals during the three-year period, 1938-40, 31.5 per cent was grain, 8.6 per cent other concentrates, 22.1 per cent hay and other roughage, and 37.8 per cent pasture. Pasture, hay and other forage crops supplied 59.9 per cent of all the feed consumed by all livestock.

THIS MAN PREFERS LIVING MEMORIALS

Trent Sickles, of the Southern Hotel, Columbus, Ohio, had a little poem printed on a postcard and evidently mailed it to a large number of newspapers. Mr. Sickles, judging by his act, really has the touch of a true American in his heart, when he requests that we help to build the following ideal for all America. The poem follows:

In memory of me, you wouldn't erect
A dreary stone that would reflect—
No thought of joy or living things.
Or hope, for which the whole world
sings

I ask that you go plant a tree
To cast a shadow cool, for me.
A tree to bless the weary earth,
Or any monument of vital worth!
In haunting memory, on marble cold,
I want no story of my valor told.
Forlorn and desolate, they stand for years.

Despair they bring, and lonely tears.
Instead, I beg you plan a place,
A playground—where children race,
A little lake—a bathing beach,
A happy place—in easy reach.
For all the Boys—on sea or land,
For all the Flyers—who victory planned,

From the Spirit World—We unite our pleas—

For playgrounds—pools—and glorious trees!

No futile piles of stone to mar,
The landscape view—both near and far!

Dead monuments are but idle toys—
Give living things for our noble boys!
—Millicent Easter.

War Bonds as Investment for Farmers

by Warren W. Hawley, Jr., President
New York State Farm Bureau Federation

IN CHECKING figures of the Farm Credit Administration, I find that farmers are paying off mortgages faster than at any other period in the history of the Federal Land Bank.

At the same time, farmers are building up cash reserves, but the wise investment of this money is an extremely hard job for farmers to undertake. The temptation is to try and obtain as high an interest rate as possible.

Many of us see no reason why we should not get as much interest on our money now as we had to pay the bank when we were forced to borrow during the depression.

The answer is that today money is cheap—"expanded", as the bankers express it. Therefore interest rates are low except in very speculative securities. Naturally no farmer wants to risk losing his hard earned cash.

We farmers know our own business and we can invest money in it safely because we understand it. However, when we branch off into other fields, especially the highly technical field of investments, most of us encounter sad experiences.

In these days it is virtually impossible for farmers to put their surplus cash back into the farm. War-time conditions prevent us from repairing buildings, and buying new machinery, automobiles, trucks and other equipment we must eventually have if we are going to stay in business.

So the smart thing for farmers to do is to invest their surplus money in War Bonds where it is as safe as a dollar bill. These bonds increase in value the longer they are held; they can be cashed after sixty days in case of need, and they will provide a reserve for investment after the war in the business the farmers know best—the business of farming.

I confidently predict that if farmers will do this, the dawn of peace will signalize a new day for agriculture.

FISHERMAN'S BLUES

A girl that is in love is always supposed to have a song in her heart. Hounds baying in the distance is music to a hunter's ears, and a fisherman is a music lover at heart or he would not have so many scales around.

You can't take the bathing suit off a blue gill without having scales all over you and you end up smelling worse than a herring in a salt barrel.

One fellow I knew never minded and went merrily on his way. He was so covered with scales that when he rowed against a stiff breeze he whistled like Piccolo Pete with seaweed in his phewgle.

When a butcher weighs a steak he can't keep his hand off the plate, but when a fisherman weighs a bass he has the hook caught in the seat of his trousers and reads the figures upside down. An ounce of contention is worth a pound of the real McCoy.

A fisherman's rule, like the tail of a bull dog, has about ten inches cut off the end and he can measure a fish ten feet under water. I've even suspected some of them of measuring the shadow of the boat.

He goes out with high hopes and good intentions and comes back with a busted leader and a swell story. There's something about the smell of a lake that makes a man a little careless about his talking.

A fisherman will row, freeze and fiddle while nothing bites but the mosquitoes and come home all ready to spend the next week hunting crickets and digging worms for the next trip.

Next time you get to the lake, look me up. We'll dunk some worms together.

In our last issue, one word somehow found its way into an article and the facts were somewhat misrepresenting. The correct article should have been: "Mrs. Ruth Martin, and son Dickey Martin of Maplewood, New Jersey, Mrs. Ina Kenagy, Mrs. Myrtle Kinsey, east of Burket and Curtis Coon of Canton, Ohio, were visiting at the E. H. Kinsey home last Sunday. They are relatives of Mrs. Kinsey."

POCKET BIBLE SAVES MANCHESTER SOLDIER

A pocket Bible given him by the United Brethren church, North Manchester, probably saved the life of Arthur Clingerman in the Southwest Pacific, according to word received last week by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Clingerman. It was known previously that he had been wounded, but it was not until recently that details were known. He wrote that a Jap shell exploded near him. Three of his companions were killed instantly. A shell fragment struck him in the right breast, but the full force was broken by the pocket Bible carried in his shirt pocket. The fragment tore through the Bible and into his breast, but hospital authorities told him the Bible had saved his life. He has recovered completely, and has gone through two other engagements since he was wounded.

SAVE THAT GRASS SEED, SAYS FARM PUBLICATION

The major reason for our being on the brink of seed bankruptcy is that many farmers have needed hay or pasture and have thought seed harvesting out of the question, according to an article on the seriousness of the present seed shortage in the August issue of Successful Farming magazine.

The truth is, a minor fortune awaits the farmer who will take time to harvest legume and pasture grass seed this year. For instance, the farm price on 100 pounds of alfalfa seed is running around $32, while red clover has hit $30. In addition, the farmer will be protecting his own seed needs by harvesting clean seed.

Setting the stage for a humming seed harvest this year is the fact that many first cuttings of hay were made one to two weeks earlier, due to the growing realization that protein content is much higher during the fine-stemmed, early bloom state. This will give the second cutting a better chance to produce seed.

Also important is the discovery that honeybees can miraculously step up seed production when the hives are located within easy flying distance of legume fields during blossoming time. The honeybee, and not the bumblebee, is now recognized as being mainly responsible for cross-pollination. Iowa State College tripled sweet clover seed production by achieving complete cross-pollination with one or more hives per acre.

However, if your pasture crops are beyond hope of seed harvest, now or later there's a silver lining in the fact that an acre of corn cut for silage or silage late this summer can easily produce four times the tonnage per acre of hay or pasture. Soybeans are another out, offering correspondingly greater tonnage per acre than alfalfa or clover. Many farmers planted Sudan Grass or millet to pinch-hit for pastures, which they planned to set aside for seed this year.

In case you are able to gather seed, running the crop through your combine twice is an idea. Seed crops hard to hull can be picked up from the windrow a second time, or you can use your combine as a stationary thresher and run your hay through twice from the barn or stack.

Sweet clover seed shatters so easily that it can be harvested with home-made beaters. Construct one by stripping an old grain binder down to nothing but the running gear, reel, and platform. Reinforce the reel and gear it 4-to-1 with the bull wheel. A screen cage enclosing the platform catches the seed, which is whipped out by the speeded-up reel.

Where sweet clover ripens unevenly and grows so rank you have trouble with it, try raising the cutter bar of your mower with wood or metal runners under either end so it can be used to clip sweet clover back in June, about nine inches high.

REV. HILL SPEAKS AT LIONS MEETING WEDNESDAY EVE.

Rev. Silas Hill was the speaker at the regular Lions club meeting held at the Methodist church Wednesday evening. Due to many being away to the convention, the attendance wasn't so large, but a big time is expected at the next meeting August 16th. This will be a picnic or outdoor meeting for the Lions and members of their families and will be held on the grounds at the Mollenhour cottage at Yellow Creek lake. Members will pay the usual fee of 50c for supper (which will be used for the purchase of meats, etc.) and the ladies are urged to bring a covered dish of some sort and table service for the members of her family. Those who can are given an invitation to go to the lake any time after one o'clock in the afternoon, with supper at the usual hour of seven o'clock.

Reservations should be made prior to the meeting night so that proper preparations can be made. Each Lion will likely receive a postal card for this purpose, but everyone reporting to Maurice Dudley or George Clark prior to that time will relieve the committee of the time and expense necessary in sending the cards.

JAMES W. SITTLER, BURKET, KILLED JUNE 11

Pfc. James W. Sittler, 19, was killed in action in France on June 11, five days after the Allied forces launched the invasion of the European continent. It was reported Friday by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ward Sittler of route 5, Warsaw, near Burket.

Announcement that Pfc. Sittler had lost his life was contained in a telegram from the War department, signed by Ullo, the adjutant-general, which was received by the mother, Mrs. Ruth Sittler, on Thursday. It read: "The Secretary of war desires me to express his deep regret that your son, Pfc. James W. Sittler, was killed in action on June 11 in France. Letter follows."

Young Sittler had been in service only nine months, having entered the army on Sept. 18, 1943. He had served with the infantry overseas for five months, making the Atlantic crossing in February of this year.

Memorial services will be held at the Burket United Brethren church Sunday, Aug. 6, at 2:00 for the lad who gave his life for his country.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Weirick and daughter were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Sarber and family.

SEES NEED TO CHECK EGG OVER-PRODUCTION

Speaking to the annual convention of the International Baby Chick Association and affiliated organizations in session last week at the Hotel Stevens, C. W. Kitchen, Deputy Director, Office of Distribution, War Food Administration, praised the egg and poultry industry for its wartime effort but requested the help of the industry in holding future production to actual requirements.

Pointing to the importance of eggs and poultry to the war effort, Mr. Kitchen said that the industry as a whole had more than done its part. "It overshot the mark," he said. "We had too many eggs this spring. For three successive years egg and poultry production has been of record breaking proportions."

"By 1943," he said, "with the war effort in full swing we produced close to 5 million dozen eggs or about 49 percent more than in the pre-war years (1935-39). Production of farm-raised chickens increased 42 percent and broiler production 261 percent over the pre-war years. This meant 1 1/2 billion dozen more eggs, 250 million more chickens, and 182 million more broilers than we averaged in the years 1935-39. This was enough eggs to meet war needs in 1943 and have enough left over to provide civilians with about 344 eggs per capita. That was more than we ever had before."

"During the first 6 months of 1944 combined farm and non-farm egg production totaled 3.3 billion dozen eggs. In the same months last year production was 3.1 billion dozen. Incidentally, production for the first 6 months of 1944 almost equalled the average annual production for the pre-war years 1935-39. Judging from the prices that prevailed a year ago, the Nation absorbed 59.6 billion eggs in its stride, but 61.2 billion has proved to be too many."

Mr. Kitchen indicated that requirements in eggs and poultry both for the next 12 months would about equal requirements for the past 12. "So far as direct war needs are concerned, and in this category are included the requirements of our own armed forces and of our allies who are supplied through Lend-Lease, the greatest need in poultry products will again be for eggs. Most of these will continue to be supplied in dried form and will continue to play as vastly important a role in the next year as they have in all previous years of the war. He pointed out that this is the most uncertain of our requirements and which may change materially should the war in Europe end sooner than is expected.

Military and Lend-Lease requirements for eggs in the past 12 months have amounted to a total of about 360 million dozen shell eggs and 290 million pounds of dried eggs. This has meant the processing of 1,230 million dozen eggs, or roughly 25 percent of production in 1943—a year when production and disappearance of eggs were in fairly well balanced relationship.

"Civilian requirements for the next 12 months may be placed at a reasonable minimum of about 335 eggs per capita. This means an overall civilian need of approximately 3.6 billion dozen eggs—a quantity which is approximately the same as in 1943.

Military, Lend-Lease and civilian requirements for the next 12 months thus add up to a prospective total of 4.9 billion dozen eggs. The word of caution is that producers should not count heavily upon the extensive use of eggs in supplying the food requirements of people in liberated countries. There is at the present time no indication that such requirements in eggs, and poultry, too, will make an appreciable increase necessary by the poultry and egg industry in the United States."

LIONS PICNIC DATE SET FOR AUGUST 23RD

The Lions club picnic, scheduled for August 16th, conflicted with a two-day meeting of clubwomen at McClure lake, and as a consequence the date had to be changed to August 23rd.

Arrangements could have been made for holding the picnic elsewhere, but with all the facilities available at the McClure lake camp, it was considered much the better arrangement.

All Lions and their families are invited to this affair. The club members will supply the meat, bread and coffee from their regular luncheon fee while the visiting ladies are expected to supply the table service for their families and a lunch basket filled with the trimmings that make for a real picnic. A big afternoon and evening is expected. Come any time you care, to in the afternoon.

HUNTING MAN WHO ATTEMPTED TO MISTREAT WARSAW GIRL

Warsaw City police and county authorities were investigating several clues Saturday morning to the identity of a man who lured a 10-year-old girl into his car Friday evening and made an attempt at rape. The young victim, suffering from shock and fright, told her story to authorities after they received a call from the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Knox on Country Club drive, who heard her crying on the road and brought her into their home.

The girl said that the man had approached her in a friendly manner, offering to buy her some pop, while she was walking near her home on East Winona avenue. He drove her to the business district in his car where he purchased some pop, then offered to drive her home. Saying he had forgotten something that he wanted to get, he drove out Country Club drive to the first turn at the left of the road, where he stopped the car and started to make advances. The frightened girl started crying and refused to obey his request to enter the rear of the auto. When he started to get out of the car, the girl fled, running up the road. Mr. and Mrs. Knox heard her crying as she ran, and brought her into their home where they called police.

A revolver and a bottle of whiskey was noticed on the back seat of the car by the girl, and she said the man had apparently been drinking. City police officers drove around the vicinity for some time looking for the described car, but without success. Several clues to the guilty man are in the hands of authorities, and should he be apprehended he will face serious charges.

Why a Farmer Should Buy and Keep War Bonds

by J. I. Falconer
Rural Economics Dept.
Ohio State University

THE main business of the country today is fighting the war; all of us have an interest in having the war brought to a satisfactory conclusion as soon as possible. At the present time one-half the productive energy of the country is employed either in the military service or in producing the necessary supplies. To pay for these services and supplies requires a total amount of money equal to one-half the total income of the country.

As Americans we prize freedom. Too often, however, we forget that freedom implies responsibility. Freedom and responsibility are closely associated. Right now it is a responsibility of every freedom loving individual to buy War Bonds to the end that the war may be ended as soon as possible.

War Bonds are a good investment. They are also a safe investment, which is another way of saying that the chances of loss are small. It is a good place to put the money which one wants to lay away for later use. This later use may be a source of income in old age, it may be the making of some improvement around the farm or in the home, it may be providing an education for the children or any one of a hundred different uses.

Another reason why everyone should buy War Bonds is that it is one of the best ways of controlling inflation. Many of the goods and services which we would like to buy are not now available or are only available in limited quantities. Rather than spending the money in ways that will divert resources from the war effort, it would be much better to put the money where it can be used for the main purpose of the day, namely fighting the war.

INDIANA BAKERS MUST ENRICH ALL WHITE BREAD

George Livingston, compliance officer for the War Food Administration, warned 16 Indiana bakers Tuesday that thereafter they must enrich the white bread they manufacture.

Livingston said that notices were sent to the bakers, charging failure to enrich the bread in accordance with a WFA order, and added that continued violation would result in prosecution.

He said that laboratory tests showed that the bread did not meet the minimum vitamin and mineral requirements under the bread enrichment program.

WHAT FARMERS WANT WHEN THEY BORROW

KEYED TO LOCAL FARM NEEDS

IT stands to reason that our bank, part and parcel of the community and dependent for its success on the success of local people, would know local farm problems better than any outside lending agency. It also is good horse sense that a lender who knows your problems is in a good position to help you solve them. So we invite you to do your borrowing here, because it's for your own best interest.

DOG DAYS AND PANTLESS NIGHTS

Every dog has his day—and August has been picked as the month when the poodles reign. Bathing beach pools get a border of green, slimy moss and everything that bites is supposed to make you sicker than a pony that started chewing cut plug too young.

Old Sol is manufacturing heat units faster than a fat lady in a six-day bike race and everything holds heat longer than a Scotchman does a twenty-dollar bill.

The heat drifts over into the night worse than my chickens did in the neighbor's garden. You go to bed as close to nature as possible and wake up wilted like a daisy.

The bald headed boy that forgot to put talcum under his toupee and walked out in the sun has the blamed thing vulcanized on for life now.

Some of the boys that grew out instead of up have been buying glass wipers for their bay windows and a corset that isn't sanforized is more dangerous than wrapping a blue racer around your middle.

We're really in a sweat—waiting for the frost to show on the pumpkin.

Vegetable seed produced east of the Rocky Mountains is more likely to be diseased than is seed produced in the arid regions of the Pacific slope. This is particularly true of bean and cabbage seed.

AMERICAN HEROES

BY LEFF

Seriously wounded by an exploding grenade, Marine Gunner Angus R. Goss of Tampa, Florida, braved point-blank enemy fire to charge an enemy machine gun emplacement in a cave. Single handed, he wiped out Japanese gunners and snipers with a sub-machine gun, saving the lives of his unit. Angus Goss is dead—leaving a Navy Cross for "indomitable fighting spirit and extreme courage." If such heroism doesn't deserve an extra War Bond, what does?

Wednesday evening, Aug. 9, Unit No. 106 of the Mothers of World War II, and their guests, met in the basement of the Methodist church for a carry-in supper.

Following a delicious supper the meeting was called to order by the president.

A delightful musical program was given by the following pupils of Mrs. Maude Snyder: Mary Beth Shinn, Phyllis Lemler, Marilyn Tucker and Evan Hodges, accompanied by Mrs. Snyder, who also favored the group with a piano solo.

After a short business session, the guest speaker, Hobart Creighton, was introduced by Mrs. Cora VanGilder, chairman of the program committee. Mr. Creighton, as usual, gave a very inspiring and timely address.

Eight new members took the pledge.

CAP GATHERING CADETS FOR ARMY AIR FORCES

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 8.—Through cooperation of the Civil Air Patrol in twenty-four cities of the state, the U. S. Army Air Forces Examining Board today announced a program for the recruitment of seventeen-year-old young men for future training as pilots, bombardiers, navigators and gunners.

With the Civil Air Patrol, an auxiliary of the AAF, functioning as the procurement agency for the latter, young men who have reached the age of seventeen and who are desirous of qualifying as airmen may take their preliminary mental examinations at the office of the nearest local unit. Having passed their mental examinations the young men will be provided with government transportation to and from the Army Air Force Examining Board, 419 Federal Building, Indianapolis.

The revised program of recruitment permits a young man, in advance of the mandatory draft, to embark on a highly-preferential career in association with the cream of American youth. At government expense each of those who qualify will receive a course of training conservatively estimated as being worth $30,000. Use of the facilities of the Civil Air Patrol virtually places the preliminary examination at the front door of the youth desirous of becoming a highly proficient airman. The training is given in the leading colleges and Army Air Fields of the country.

Civil Air Patrol units in the following cities stand ready to cooperate in enlisting prospective airmen:

TAIL LIGHTS FOR POODLES

There may not be anything new under the sun but Old Sol seems to incubate a few fancy ideas every day he casts a shadow.

They've put wrinkles on Aunt Jemima so your pancakes will hop out of the griddle with scalloped edges, crossed red-eyed potatoes with tomatoes to give them pink cheeks and invented steam huts that will take a 210-pound sister and boil her down to a medium sixteen in an hour and a quarter. The cost per pound is slightly less than the prize steer at the Chicago International, but it takes a load off somebody's lap.

They took the shoes off the old gray mare while the old man won the grand prize at the Old Settlers picnic and ladies started wearing hats on all sides of their heads. You couldn't tell which way they were going by looking at their hats, so they chopped off the ends of their shoes and you just look to see which way their toes are pointing.

Among the latest, it seems, is a tail light for the pooch. Bulb by Mazda, battery by Eveready, and a case from soy beans makes a light for Rover and he can gad about after dark fully equipped and adequately protected for nocturnal sniffing. Auto drivers got so reckless they didn't care which telephone pole they tried to climb and a dog just wasn't safe anywhere any more.

With all the drownings, auto casualties and the usual losses from feeding off the June brides' experiments, the canine population was decreasing so rapidly the president of the dog biscuit monopoly had his ears drooping and his tongue out a foot. It was either make it safe for the dogs on the streets or take his off the desk.

Dogs have been having a terrible time lately, anyway. Men's fashion experts have devised trousers with belt loops up around the chest like wading pants and seats that extend half way to the knees. With a good light a hound will be better able to hit his mark in a dark alley without messing up all the surroundings. No use chewing up the whole back stoop when one little nip is sufficient.

FOOD FOR A YEAR

If you've been wondering how much food it takes for an average person for an average year, here is the answer compiled by Oklahoma A. & M. College staff members. It requires approximately 75 gallons of milk for drinking and cooking purposes for one person in a year. Along with this the individual should eat 26 pounds of butter.

At least 35 pounds of lard, bacon and fat meat are required and 30 dozen eggs. About 15 pounds of dried beans, peas and nuts; three and one-half bushels of potatoes and sweet potatoes; two bushels of tomatoes; 200 pounds of leafy, green and yellow vegetables and fruit, peas, beets, turnips, onions and other such products; 20 pounds of sweets such as honey and sorghum; and 3 bushels of grains such as wheat and corn. This makes food planning and storing fairly simple.

SOMEWHERE IN NEW GUINEA

(Under date of July 24th and under the above caption, Sgt. Joe Nemeth writes the following to Geo. Clark.)

I received your last letter from all of the boys. Was glad to get it. I get the Co-Op News all the time, of course it is sort of late in getting here, but just the same it is good to get it. Well it looks like the old town is still the same, yet I sure wish I was able to be back there. It has been over two years since I was home. Now, it is just about time for the fair there. I hope it will be a good one. Well I see that Capt. Anderson has told you all about this place. It is the only place in the world where you can be wading knee-deep in mud and can't breath for dust. It is on the third week of rain here with one clear day in the whole works.

Well, George, there isn't much more to write about tonight, so I will sign off for now. It is time for Jack Benny on the radio.

Yours,

Sgt. JOE NEMETH.

NEW GUINEA NOT SO NEW

(Capt. Charles F. Beeson, under date of July 27th, writes:)

Dear George:

Old Guinea isn't so "new" anymore—in fact I find it quite comfortable in the mornings. Course we have several changes of weather usually within each day. I am not going to school as the address might indicate but am quartered here while awaiting orders. No doubt some Mentone boys are over in this territory; therefore, I would appreciate knowing their addresses as I might be able to contact them some time.

This big island is quite contrasting to "Hoosier-land." All plant life, trees, birds and insects are different than I have ever seen in the states.

I have in my possession some pictures of the natives which I will send my wife after I get them censored. I will ask her to give them to you for a window display. Hope you and your family are well.

Sincerely,

Capt. C. F. Beeson.

CPL. SHOEMAKER REPORTING FROM ENGLAND AGAIN

England, Aug. 1.

Hi George:

I'll bet you have given me up for answering your letter. I received it while I was in France and I did very little letter writing while I was over there but I am back in England now and have had a seven-day furlough and am now back on the old job. I certainly enjoyed your letter. It is nice to hear where all the local boys are. I am still getting the Mentone and Warsaw papers so with the letters I get from around there I get nearly all the local news. I have a German rifle for a souvenir but I doubt if I will be able to get it back to the states. Say George what is Mentone doing for young men? I see every few days where the army gets more of the boys.

Tell everyone I said hello.

Always,

Cpl. Herschel Shoemaker.

HORSE SHOE HERE SUNDAY WAS REALLY A BIG AFFAIR

The Mentone fair grounds was the gathering place for several hundred spectators from this and surrounding area Sunday when the Mentone Saddle club held its first saddle horse show. One hundred and one horses were registered to compete in one or more of the 13 events. The day was hot and dry but the show was well received and enjoyed by those who were present.

Horses were entered from many places. A few of the towns represented were Claypool, Akron, Albion, Macy, Warsaw, Fort Wayne, Leesburg, Etna Green, Lafontaine, Wabash, Roann, Elkhart, Rochester, Goshen, Denver, Hibbard, South Bend, Peru, Knox, Logansport, Winamac, New Haven, Inwood, Indianapolis, Huntington, Star City, Bourbon, Benton Harbor, Mich., Mishawaka, and Mentone.

Space does not permit listing all the placings in each of the 13 events this week.

C. J. Polostra and Axel Peterson were the judges and Claud Stoner, of South Whitley, was ringmaster.

Zephyr, a horse from Knox that has placed in International shows, was one of the 101 entries.

Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Teel report the birth of a baby boy born Tuesday at the McDonald hospital. He was named Richard Lee.

What the world's great men say about the Sunday school:

Hope for an America of TOMORROW filled with honest purposes and righteous intentions rests almost wholly upon how we raise our children TODAY. If they are turned loose and allowed to roam at large, we can expect nothing better than our seed sowing calls for. But if we do our best toward training the young in moral and religious ways, through Sunday schools and other constructive agencies we have a right to view the future with spiritual complacency. God give us the light to see our opportunity and responsibility and to meet the demands of the hour.

The 36th annual reunion of the Eaglebarger family was held at the Bourbon Fair Grounds on Sunday, Aug. 13. It was agreed to meet at the fair grounds in 1945. Greetings were read from relatives from a distance who were unable to attend. Bills were accepted and paid, several births, marriages and deaths were reported. A service flag was presented on which 19 stars were placed. The group, standing, sang "America" in honor of these boys who had left our ranks to go out and serve their country. W. E. Eaglebarger being 79 years old, David Dean Scrogg, 5 months, and John Scott, oldest, youngest and largest family respectively present, each received a prize.

A program consisting of recitations, songs and talks was presented. Two contests were enjoyed by all, Christina Brown and Christena Eaglebarger winning and receiving prizes. The president

Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Mentzer spent a few days in Chicago last week visiting their son, James, and family, and cousins. Mrs. Cora Turner and Sam Whangue. M. O. saw the Cubs lose two games, too.

Mr. and Mrs. Cloice Paulus and daughter Louise, Miss Juanita Nellans and Miss Jean Manwaring were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Burns and daughter Jean last Friday evening.

Mrs. George Clark and sons Dick and Bill and Mrs. Mervin Jones and son Ken spent Sunday with Mrs. Clark's uncle and aunt. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Greshans of Niles, Michigan. Billie and Dick remained for a week's vacation.

Miss Eileen Kercher was honored Thursday evening by a surprise birthday party. Those present were: Freeda Kesler, Pat Shinn, Babe Rogers, Elma King, Mary Zintze, Ruth Floor, Phyllis Lemler, Robert Nelson, Jim Gates, Dick King, Calvin Wagner, Rex Witham and Bob Flenar.

Edgar Bergen, Hollywood film and radio ventriloquist who has won worldwide fame with the wooden-headed Charlie McCarthy, has announced that he's going to get married to a New York model. This model may hand him a few answers that he can't regulate by remote control—and wrinkles on a normal forehead are bad enough. Bergen's forehead doesn't end until it reaches the back of his neck.

Mrs. Delta Snodgrass is visiting Mrs. Martha Welsh this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul (Beanie) Smith of North Manchester, are the proud parents of a seven-pound girl, Kathryn Lucille. The grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Ora Smith.

Dr. and Mrs. A. H. Davison, of Urbana, Illinois, visited over the week end with his brother and wife, Dr. and Mrs. F. B. Davison.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Lyons, of Des Moines, Iowa, are spending this week at the Lewis Floor home.

Mrs. Sharlene Boice of Dearborn, Michigan spent the past week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Latham.

A birthday surprise was held on the ninth of August for Jacob Kesler in his home. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Kesler, Mrs. Herschel Teel and boys. Mr. and Mrs. Veri Halterman, Mrs. Teel's sister, Mrs. Charles Herschberger and daughter Frances Williams and children from Bourbon. Mr. and Mrs. John Allen Teel and brother Bud. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lemler and daughter returned home Sunday morning from a week's trip in Michigan. Fred said the fishing was fine—except the fish wouldn't bite.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Myers and daughter Sally of South Bend, spent Sunday with Mrs. Underhill. The afternoon was spent with Mr. and Mrs. Grover Tinkey, Mr. Myers' mother.

Miss Elma Jean King and Miss Eileen Kercher spent the week end at Peru.

In our last issue we printed an article stating that Elery Nellans was in Africa when he is still in the States and expecting to be home on furlough soon. Our informant undoubtedly was referring to his brother, Barney, who had been in that area. It was possibly fortunate that this error occurred, otherwise Hitler might have guessed the Allies were going to invade southern France. Barney was trained as a skipper on a landing boat.

Thomas Fitzgerald was returned to his home here from the McDonald hospital at Warsaw Saturday. He is well on the road to recovery.

The fire department made a number of runs the past few days extinguishing grass fires. Wednesday afternoon Clem Teel burned a small pile of straw in one of his fields and someone evidently thought a pasture was burning and turned in the alarm. Clem had the fire where it could easily be controlled but it was rather embarrassing to him to see the fire truck roll in. That's better, however, than having a bad fire and no one putting in an alarm.

Mr. and Mrs. Delois White entertained at dinner Friday, honoring Cpl. Glen Nelson who was home from Ft. Sill, Oklahoma. Those in attendance were Mr. and Mrs. Don Nelson and son Wendell of Argos, Mrs. Etta Evans of South Bend, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Leininger and Allen Nelson of Mentone. ## MANY ENJOY LIONS OUTING AT MCCLURE LAKE WEDNESDAY

About eighty men, women and children gathered at the McClure Lake Conservation Camp Wednesday evening for the Lions club picnic, and there was no question but that everyone enjoyed the evening. Many were so enthusiastic that they started searching for an excuse to hold another gathering soon. Halloween was suggested as the time but nothing definite was announced.

Guests began to arrive about five o'clock while most of them did not get there until about six o'clock. It was just a short while until almost everyone was engaged in some sport or entertainment. There were horseshoes and archery and one group had an interesting softball game going. Chancy Mollenhour made a number of cruises across the lake with passengers in his small motor boat. The club had arranged for the meat, coffee, etc. while the ladies generously contributed the more delectable portions of the picnic supper. Serving took place in the spacious and well-equipped dining hall at the camp. The Conservation camp is truly a real asset to this community and those who have never been there should make it a point to inspect this fine camp. It is equipped with running water, electric stoves, dishes, tables, benches, piano, not to mention various items of sporting equipment such as archery, softball, etc.

The next regular meeting of the club will be held at the Methodist church basement on Wednesday evening, Sept. 6th and every member should plan to be present. We can't make our club interesting to you if you are not there. We enjoy having you meet with us, too.

MRS. RINER RE-ELECTED HEAD OF WELFARE BOARD

Mrs. Yolande Riner, of Mentone, has again been chosen as president of the county welfare board at the annual meeting and regular August session. Anthony Mathia, of Warsaw, was re-elected vice president.

Mrs. Riner and Mr. Mathia were originally selected as head officials in April, 1944 when an entire new board was appointed by circuit court Judge John A. Sloane.

Other members of the present board are Eugene White, Warsaw; Robert Knepper, Elina Green, and Mrs. Claude Robbins, Washington township.

RETURNING TO STATES

A newspaper clipping from an Elkhart newspaper, was handed to this paper this week. It says:

S. Sgt. Ronald A. (Hank) Creakbaum, Claypool route 1, formerly of Elkhart, is returning to the States after a year overseas as a tall gunner on a B-26 Marauder, serving in the European theater of operations. During that time he flew on 64 combat missions with medium bombers over enemy territory, blasting air fields, railway marshalling yards, coastal gun installations and other tactical targets. Sgt. Creakbaum has been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross, the Air Medal, two silver and one bronze Oak Leaf Clusters. He also wears the Purple Heart for wounds received on his first mission on July 16, 1943. He is the brother of Mrs. Carl Dummire of Baldwin lake and the son of Mrs. Dan Creakbaum of Claypool. He was employed as a brakeman on the western division of the New York Central before his induction in April, 1942.

SON SERIOUSLY INJURED IN AUTO-TRAIN WRECK

Charles Rogers, 23, of Kingsford Heights, Ind. and son of Mr. and Mrs. Les Rogers of near Mentone, was seriously injured Monday night at 12:45 when the car he was driving crashed into the side of a 104-car New York Central freight train at the Mayflower road crossing, four miles west of South Bend. Mr. Rogers was returning from work at the time and it is believed that the fog obscured his vision so that he did not see the train.

Rogers suffered several broken ribs and the loss of considerable blood from his injuries. His condition was considered serious and he was confined in an oxygen tent when his father left him Wednesday.

Mrs. Bula Franklin, 24, L. D. Dunn, 50, and Rudell Wicker, 27, who were riding from work with Rogers to their homes in Kingsford Heights, were also seriously injured.

WILL ALFALFA PRODUCE SEED PROFITABLY?

Many farmers in Kosciusko county who made enough alfalfa hay from the first cutting to feed their livestock are asking: Will alfalfa produce seed profitably in this area? Can it be harvested and threshed satisfactorily?

In the drouth year of 1943, several thousand bushels of alfalfa seed were harvested in Indiana with yields ranging from two to five bushels per acre. Conditions, predict County Agent Joe Clark, appear favorable for seed production on the second growth this year where it is not too short to harvest. The need for this seed has never been greater.

By following the "tripping" of the flowers and development of pods, growers may determine whether to let the crop go for seed or cut it for hay. If the flowers fall to "trip" and the blossoms fall, little if any seed will be produced. When the coils or pods which bear the seed form, farmers should examine them to note the number of seeds being formed. Heavy podding along with seed formation gives promise of a good seed yield. As the first pods ripen, the quality of seed may be determined by rubbing out a few seeds from the pods. Alfalfa podding or filling lightly should be cut for hay.

Alfalfa should be cut for seed when two-thirds of the pods are dark brown.

The seed shatters rapidly and should be hulled soon after cutting and curing, or else stored in a protected place. The regular clover huller may be used but the seed threshes so readily that a grain separator equipped with recleaner and proper screens is satisfactory.

Alfalfa does not lend itself well to direct combining since the stems remain green until the seed ripens. Usually it is best to use the pick-up attachment after the stems have been allowed to dry in the windrow. Wet weather causes more loss in harvesting alfalfa seed than is the case with red clover.

ATTENTION CUSTOMERS OF NICA

Within the next two weeks we will be mailing out stock certificates and there will be many new stockholders among our customers, as over a period of years these customers have accumulated enough patronage refunds for a share of stock. We make this announcement so that those who are becoming new stockholders will understand what they have when they receive the stock certificates.

Naturally, some have been wondering why the stock was not being issued. It now is being signed by the proper officials and each $25.00 share, although it has not been in the owner's possession, has already earned for its owner in 1944 approximately $1.35 of the $2.00 annual dividend.

It so happened that this issue of stock came with recapitalization of the business to $200,000.00, which necessitated new stock certificates being printed. Also, we have submitted to an extensive audit by a firm of nationally known auditors, Ernest & Ernst. We have also had some reorganization. All these things took time. Inasmuch as the issue of stock has been effective since the first of the year, we have not rushed to issue the stock as we have known that the interest of the stockholder was fully protected.

Bearing this in mind, when you receive your stock certificate don't lay it aside but place it with your valuable papers for it is an investment in a sound local business.

Holds Crates Together

Hardwood is far better than softwood for the corner posts of crates because it holds nails better; elm is extensively used and is satisfactory.

Differences in Wood

Generally, hardwoods are broad-leaved trees; softwoods are needle bearers. These terms have nothing to do with the actual hardness of the wood. Most hardwoods are deciduous, meaning that they shed their foliage annually, while most softwoods are evergreen; i.e., they retain their leaves for more than one year.

Hewitt H. Howland says, "The great opportunity that lies at the door of the Sunday School is to devote itself very largely to the making of character and to the development of a moral citizenship conscious of its social and political responsibilities." Gen. John J. Pershing says, "America's first and greatest need is not greater armies, is not a stronger navy, is not a more efficient air force—America's primary need is more and better Sunday Schools." Marguerite Ives, Editor, Outdoor America, adds: "I agree with you as to the great value of the Sunday school and its splendid influence on our children."

My Church.

Before I was born My Church gave to my parents ideas of life and love that made my home a place of strength and beauty.

In helpless infancy My Church joined my parents in consecrating me to Christ and in baptizing me in His name.

My Church enriched my childhood with the Romance and Religion and the lessons of life that have been woven into the texture of my soul. Sometimes I seem to have forgotten and then, when else I might surrender to foolish and futile ideas of life, the truths My Church taught become radiant, insistent and inescapable.

In the stress and storm of adolescence My Church heard the surge of my soul and She guided my footsteps by lifting my eyes toward the stars.

When first my heart knew the strange awakenings of love My Church taught me to chasten and spiritualize my affections; She sanctified my marriage and blessed my home.

When my heart was seamed with sorrow and I thought the sun could never shine again, My Church drew me to the Friend of all the Weary and whispered to me the hope of another morning, eternal and tearless.

When my steps have slipped and I have known the bitterness of sin, My Church has believed in me and wondrously She has called me back to live within the heights of myself.

Now have come the children dearer to me than life itself and My Church is helping me to train them for all joyous and clean and Christly living.

My Church calls me to her heart. She asks my service and my loyalty.

She has a right to ask it. I will help her to do for others what she has done for me. In this place in which I live, I will help Her keep aflame and aloft the torch of a living faith.

A FIRE IS NO EXCUSE FOR RECKLESS DRIVING

The natural urge, it seems, when the fire siren is turned on is for everyone to hurry and rush. All of us have likely been guilty in this respect, yet there are a few written and unwritten laws which, for safety's sake, must be adhered to. Lately it has been customary for the youngsters to rush to the fire station or head for the fire whether afoot, on bikes or in cars. This practice must be stopped otherwise we will have a funeral in one or more homes. The state law, too, states that no person under 21 years of age can ride the fire truck. (In case of an accident the fire department—and every taxpayer in the town—would be liable for all the damages and our insurance protection would be voided.)

It's the duty of the regular firemen to get to the truck or the fire as quickly as possible and all other persons or vehicles are not to move until the truck is on its way. No one, including the fire truck or the firemen, are permitted by law to travel faster than the 35-mile speed limit and no car, according to the law, should be closer than 500 feet behind the fire truck while it is going to a fire or returning. Riding the truck is nerve-racking enough without having to worry about getting run over by a car should you be bounced off the truck. At one fire recently a fireman following the truck in his car, was considerate enough to allow the men on the truck this protection and by the time the fire was reached no less than seven cars had rudely forced their way into the space behind the truck.

Everyone appreciates the interest and help of all civilians in time of a fire but life and property should not be endangered by unsafe practices.

Several complaints have been made recently of folks on bicycles using the sidewalks for a race track. It is difficult to set a hard and fast rule about riding bikes on sidewalks (even though all highway and judicial rulings declare a bicycle a vehicle that must use the highways as any other two or more wheeled vehicle). Bikes have no legal authority to use any sidewalk and this privilege has been secured only through the courtesy of citizens and pedestrians. Riders, if they have any desire to escape difficulties, should be careful to not become offensive with their riding tactics. Avoid speeding on sidewalks, around corners or past pedestrians, and do not park your wheel on the sidewalk.

Parents, too, are financially liable for any accident or damage done by their children.

It always pays to be careful and courteous.

FLOYD STUDY DIES FROM WAR WOUNDS

News of the death of Chief Torpedoman's Mate Floyd Study, of Beaver Dam, reached Mentone just as we go to press. He died in a Naval hospital at San Diego Tuesday, according to a telegram received by Mrs. Study on Wednesday.

Mr. Study, who was about 47 years of age, had been in naval service all his life with the exception of the years from 1935 to 1940. He served on a submarine in the first world war and had over 30 years of naval service to his credit.

From the stray bits of information now available, we gather that he was injured last spring while on sea duty on a repair ship. He had been in the hospital since that time and was never able to recover from those injuries. Mrs. Study visited him a few weeks ago at the hospital.

The deceased leaves a family of eight children. Reports are that the funeral will be held in this vicinity but no announcement of the date or particulars have been made.

Several boys from the Mentone vicinity will be shocked by news of his death as many of them sought Mr. Study while searching for advice regarding military enlistments a few months ago while Mr. Study was located in the recruiting office in Fort Wayne.

A READER'S REPORT

Saturday morning, Aug. 26, 1944, is a day that will be marked up in the history of Mentone. It was the day the Anderson ship was launched on the Tippecanoe river.

As it slid down the banks Calvin Wagner, brother of six sailors who knows his stuff about ship ceremonies, said: "Long may you float you cute little boat, and may you stay together in all kinds of weather." The Anderson brothers stood by with their heads bowed in reverent fear that it might sink out of sight in the black mud of the river and their hard work of many evenings and Sundays would be gone.

The winners in the cake baking contest at the Franklin township Farm Bureau meeting Monday evening at the Beaver Dam school were: Angel food, Mrs. DeVon Tucker; light butter, Mrs. Mars Tucker, and dark, Mrs. Wilbur Latimer.

A BIRTHDAY SURPRISE

Miner Mollenhour celebrated his 67th birthday Monday, August 28. In memory of the occasion several of his neighbors and relatives went to his farm home Monday evening, taking home-made ice cream and cake.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Devon Eaton and family, Mrs. Kenneth Mollenhour, Mr. and Mrs. Homer E. Blue, Mrs. Keturah Brant, Mr. and Mrs. Milo Griffiths, Mr. and Mrs. Rea H. Ward, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Eizinger, Bobby Blaine and Gary Lee Ritenour.

After a pleasant evening the guests departed wishing Miner great improvements in health and many happy returns of the day.

Flight Officer John L. (Jack) Shinn spent a few hours Saturday evening visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Shinn. Jack is now stationed at Baer Field at Fort Wayne.

S-Sgt. Harry Gible is enjoying a 19 day furlough with his wife and son at their home in Mentone, and is visiting other relatives and friends. S-Sgt. Gible is stationed at Love Field, Dallas, Texas where he is attached with the 5th ferrying group. Being a Flight Engineer on B-24's and B-17's he has been ferrying all over the United States and has made several foreign trips.

The fire department was called to the Ed Creakbaum home, near Sevas-topol Saturday noon where a grass fire started a pile of boards and rails burning next to some of the outbuildings. Fortunately the wind was blowing in a direction which held the fire away from the buildings preventing any loss of importance.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Nicodemus are the parents of an eight pound, eleven ounce baby girl born at 1:10 a. m. Saturday at the McDonald hospital at Warsaw.

EMPLOYEES ENJOY COMPANY PICNIC

The managements of the Lake City Machine Shop and the Mentone Mfg. Co. were hosts at a picnic for their employees, families and friends at the Warsaw City Park Sunday, Aug. 27th. Approximately 150 enjoyed the delicious fried chicken dinner served at the noon hour.

Misses Loa Jean and Leota Horn entertained with several musical numbers. Mrs. Betty Utter favored the group with an original number composed in honor of Mr. Peterson. Miss Rosemary Gable of Fort Wayne, rendered three very appropriate readings. Mr. Gaddis of Winona, sleight of hand artist, held the attention of the group for about an hour.

Featured for the children were free tickets to purchase ice cream, candy, etc., and a penny scramble.

In spite of the change in weather the day was thoroughly enjoyed. In fact, the supply of food was so bountiful that the picnic was extended Monday when many of the employees again enjoyed fried chicken at the factory.

INFANT DIES IN HOSPITAL

Kathryn Lynn Smith, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Smith of North Manchester, passed away Saturday night about ten o'clock at the McDonald hospital in Warsaw. The child was born August 11 and was taken ill on August 24, at which time she was admitted to the hospital.

Funeral services were held on Monday at the Smith home in North Manchester, with Rev. Boaz, pastor of the Walnut Creek Church of the Brethren at North Manchester, in charge. Burial was in the Oaklawn cemetery.

Surviving are the parents, a sister, Barbara, and a brother, Herbie.

Mr. and Mrs. Ora Smith, grandparents, and Mr. and Mrs. George Clark, all of Mentone, attended the funeral.

NO SUCH THING AS A PAIR OF RABBITS

Of the many famous quotes, it has always been my opinion that the one in the heading above is all wool and a yard wide. The novice buys a pair of rabbits and by the time he gets the leather hinges on the first pen he has a family looking on.

When his first patches of lettuce and alfalfa are big enough to eat, all the little baby blankets in the raw have families of their own. Like Japs coming out of a blind alley, there just isn't any place where the thing stops. None of them ever listened to Have-lock Ellis.

The Warsaw rabbit men—who likely started out with good intentions and reckless abandon—are now organizing. It's the only thing they can do for self-preservation, but like Hitler in Russia they waited too long for an advance with the Belgian Hares after the Heinles.

A rabbit foot in your pocket may be all right but when they crowd you out of your bed, that's putting too much fuzz in a cozy place.

Like fighting rats at the city dump, a man raising rabbits is handicapped worse than a one-armed fiddler at a Legion convention. Hare raising is hair-raising.

From hutch to hutches to nuts.

Just a week end excursion to Logan-sport when only the sheriff comes back.

Every family man feels like a hop-head with a fresh shot every time he gets past Easter without the kids inheriting a couple of cute bunnies.

They're so cute and innocent!—But that's been the downfall of many a good man.

FSA LOANS AND AID TO VETERANS

General eligibility requirements on the part of returning World War II veterans who wish Farm Security aid in re-establishing themselves on the farm have been outlined by the county FSA Committee, reports L. A. Watson, county FSA Supervisor, Chinworth Building, Warsaw.

Loans up to $2500 for livestock, machinery, cash rent, building repair, group services, feed or seed, and other operating goods can be made to returning veterans who:

1. Have a favorable background of farming either as owner, tenant, or laborer;
2. Can make satisfactory tenure arrangements for family-size farm thru lease or ownership;
3. Are unable to secure adequate credit from local banks or other credit agencies.

"The county committee which reviews and passes on applications will give special consideration to each veteran's application," reports Mr. Watson. "The loans are accompanied by management assistance where needed, bear five per cent interest, and are generally payable over a five year period."

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Mentone, Ind.

You are ever welcome to this house of God

I have a deep appreciation of the value of the Sunday school in the life of a nation for the following reasons:

I believe the world has gone astray, and needs the infusion of high moral and spiritual qualities into all its relationships—personal, social, industrial, political, national and international.

I believe there is no surer way to achieve this result than by purifying the springs of youth.

I believe that the Sunday school is the finest agency for this purpose.

I believe that if the Sunday school had the full support of all men and women of good will, it would soon be possible to allay the anxiety of the statesmen who declare that the moral and spiritual progress of mankind is not keeping pace with its scientific and material advancement.

If I were beginning life again I would, as a patriot, back the Sunday school as a gilt-edge security.—Edward Sharp, Bart., Founder and Governing Director, Messrs. Edward Sharp & Sons, Kent, England.

Do not wait until you are old and look back upon your life and say, "If I were beginning life again, I would—." Begin now, and come to Sunday school Sunday. Classes for all ages, including a nursery for the babies.

FROM SOMEWHERE IN INDIA

T-Sgt. Robert Q. Tucker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Royse Tucker, sent the following interesting letter to George Clark, under date of July 24:

If I remember the "seasons" of Northern India I suppose it will find you all in about the same condition as we—sweltering with the heat. We probably have something that you don't have with it which is rain, and more rain, the familiar "monsoon" that puts it down in bucketfuls as that which happened last night. It's usually accompanied by thunder and lightning which sometimes makes you wonder whether or not the world is coming to an end.

I was fortunate enough to have escaped all of it for three weeks recently, by very much enjoying a three-weeks furlough. Spent most of my time at a Hill Station in the Himalayan Mountains north of New Delhi. Was up to an altitude of about 8,000 feet and it was quite cool and nice. Several nice hotels and night clubs, horseback riding, swimming, tennis, etc. so there were many things to keep your time well occupied. And the scenery was also quite wonderful as well. We were compelled to take a 25-mile, narrow road, built entirely by hand, up to the top of the mountain. Then we had to leave the bus and either walk or take a rickshaw the rest of the way, a distance of two or three miles to the mountain city. Transportation on top is by one of two ways, walking, or by these mountain rickshaws, a one or two place job that is pushed and pulled by five coolies. The roads are even too steep and dangerous for bicycles. You are almost entirely surrounded by mountains and valleys and it is possible to look off to the north and see the towering snow-caps at a height of some 25,000 odd feet.

At this particular station—one of the several where the British and Indian Rajas and Moharajas go to escape the heat of the plains, there are several American schools and many Americans, mostly missionaries from the States. I met a good many of them, three or four from Indiana, several from Ohio, Pennsylvania, Illinois and California. Most of them had been out to Winona Lake at one time or another. And as well I met both English and American people and children who had been evacuated from Singapore, Rangoon, The Philippines, parts of China and the world over for that matter. It was certainly a great place to learn about other parts of the world.

I also spent several days in New Delhi and had a very nice time there. New Delhi is supposedly one of the most modern cities of the world, having been laid out in its entirety on paper before the beginning of the actual construction. It's really a beautiful city—wide boulevards, lined with beautiful trees, the buildings are well spaced and mostly of the same construction of marble and red limestone. The government buildings especially are very picturesque. When you stop to think that the rocks were all chipped to size by hand, and the number of people and the many hundreds of years in the construction of the city it makes it all the more wonderful.

Adjoining Old Delhi is as well a beautiful city with its forts, Hindu

Temples, Mohammedan Mosques, and other memorials hundreds of centuries old. New Delhi is the seventh time the city has been rebuilt, all others with the exception of Old Delhi having been destroyed by the lust for power up through the ages.

And last but far from least I as well paid a personal visit to the famed Taj Mahal of Agra. The Taj is certainly a beautiful building, they say the most beautiful of the world, and in my opinion truly one of the seven wonders of the world.

Probably the thing I enjoyed most about the trip was the food. For the first time in a year I was enjoying ice, ice cream, steak, pork, creamery butter, Coca-cola and many other items. I made the entire trip under the auspices of the U. S. Army Air Transport command and so eliminated the horrors of Indian train travel.

But it all comes back to the fact that a good thing can't last forever and I was compelled to return to much more serious business. Had a swell time however and got a lot of much needed rest as well as a change from the more or less rigorous life we have been living.

The war situation the world over seems to be shaping up as well as can be expected but in my opinion it's still going to be a long grind. The boys in England seem to be making very excellent progress and in Italy they have certainly been doing fine, as well has the rest of the Yanks over the world for that matter. And believe me we are doing all possible to shorten the duration, George. We are all going to be pretty happy when we hit the soil of the "Good Earth" once again.

All for now. Best regards to everyone. I appreciate very much the news received about everyone, as do all the rest.

Sincerely,
 Bob Tucker

Huron Indians in Quebec
Huron Indians, remnants of the tribe driven eastward by the Iroquois, have established homes at Ancienne Lorette, near Quebec.

Diseased Seeds
Untreated seeds generally carry on their exterior, spores of harmful disease organisms which not only infect the mature plants, but slow up germination. These spores cause seed rotting and seedling damping-off, which result in poor stands and weakened plants that fail to yield paying crops of best quality. Then too, many dangerous diseases are introduced into the soil by diseased seed, and, once established, these diseases often cause heavy losses year after year.

Why They're Doughboys

During the Mexican campaign the American soldiers called the Mexicans "adobe boys," because their uniforms, covered with mud, were the same color as the adobe huts. Then, during World War I, the word, now spelled "doughboys," was used by American soldiers to describe themselves after they were covered with mud during the battles in France.

CARL RUSH WRITES FROM FRANCE

George Clark received the following letter from Carl Rush, under date of July 30 in France:

I haven't written to you for some time but happened to have both the time and inclination to write tonight so here I am. I have been in France for a couple of weeks and a little better and think it looks a lot like the country at home. Of course the fields are a little smaller but it looks more like home than any part of England I saw.

I got a letter from Dick Emmons a week or so ago. He said he had written you and he told me a few things he may not have told you. He and his outfit must have come in on D-day or very shortly after and were up in Cherbourg for a while. I haven't been able to meet him yet but I keep hoping.

We have a pretty good deal here. Working in buildings and living in the open. Some nights I just roll up in my blankets and sleep that way. I dig my foxhole and slit trenches regularly but so far am lucky enough not to have hit it. From the looks of things I may go clear through this war without shooting at anyone at all. I certainly hope so. I am no rugged combat soldier. If I were in an outfit where my duty to kill I suppose that I would do so to the best of my ability.

This brings me to something that is rather bubbling over inside of me. That's this soldier voting business. From over here I have only one comment to make on the whole mess. What is the idea of the whole thing? An honest accurate count of the soldier opinion or is it just another political football?

I am sending a copy of the continental edition of the Stars and Stripes. I thought you might be interested in seeing what sort of news coverage we get over here. We get all the important news with no extras which is what I at least want.

I must close now.
Luck, CARL.

CPL. LESTER HARMAN
RELEASED FROM HOSPITAL

(Reprinted from Akron News)

Word was received this week by Mr. and Mrs. Doc Davis from Cpl. Lester (Darius) Harman, who was discharged from a hospital in Italy August 16th after a 7-weeks confinement.

Darius is a fireman on one of the army's railroads and scalded his leg with live steam. The burn refused to heal so he was sent to the hospital.

He says the climate is very warm and he would like to see some cold weather for a change. He inquired about his friends and hoped to be home in time to help with next year's gardens.

(Cpl. Harman is a brother of Mrs. Clarence Julian, of Mentone.)
