NEW HOME TO BE ERECTED FOR MENTONE LEGION POST

A 75 by 45-foot tract on the west side of South Broadway was acquired recently, as the location for the new home for Mentone Post No. 425, The American Legion. The site lies north of the alley and parallel to Dave's Shoe Shop. It was purchased from Byron Peterson.

The announcement was made by Don O. Ernsberger, President of the newly-formed Mentone Legion Realty Corporation, which will erect the building this fall. The new structure will be of all-modern construction and will consist of two stories, the upper of which will contain large rooms suitable for civic gatherings.

Mentone Post No. 425 was founded June 6, 1946, and its membership has been growing rapidly. Mr. Ernsberger, who is also Commander of the post, and an infantry veteran of World War I, expressed his appreciation of the use of the schoolhouse basement as a temporary meeting-place until such time as the new Legion home will be ready for use by the post.

The Mentone Legion Realty Corporation was formed July 5, 1946 and is incorporated under the laws of the state of Indiana. Besides Mr. Ernsberger as president, the other officers of the corporation are: Dr. Donald J. VanGilder, vice-president, Robert Reed, treasurer and Robert L. Kinsey, Secretary. The Board of Directors is as follows: Don Ernsberger, Wilbur Cochran, Ralph Arnsberger, Robert Reed, Dr. Donald J. VanGilder, Mervin D. Jones, Dale Kelley, Carl Gochenour, and R. L. Kinsey.

The Corporation will erect the new building and retain title to the structure, which will be devoted at once to Legion activities. The cost of the construction will be met from the proceeds of the sale of the capital stock of the corporation, which is now available to the public. The Mentone Legion Corporation will retire its stock together with the payment of dividends, and, upon the complete retirement of the stock issue, the title of the land and new building will pass to the Mentone Post No. 425. Participation in the stock ownership by all friends of the Legion is invited.

Stock will be sold in shares of $25 each and it is contemplated that the in-

HOWARD FELDMAN INJURED

Howard Feldman, 20, son of Mrs. Ira Feldman of South of Etna Green, is a patient at the McDonald hospital suffering from injuries sustained early Monday morning when he fell asleep at the wheel of his automobile and the car crashed into a tree.

The accident occurred on state road 19, north of Etna Green, about 12:30 a. m. Monday. He suffered a cut on his arm and hand. The injury was dressed at Etna Green and he was taken to the McDonald hospital. He is believed to be suffering from internal injuries. Reports Tuesday were that he had regained consciousness.

W.W. II MOTHERS CONVENTION

An all day session of the World War II Mothers was well represented when they met at the Mentone high school building on July 31. Sixty-four delegates representing eight units in the district came by school buses and cars from Winamac, Star City, Logansport, Onward, Walton, Knox, Rochester and Mentone. At 11:15 a. m., the meeting was called to order in the usual form of the presentation of the colors, followed by the pledge of Allegiance to the Flag. Reading of the minutes and treasurers report was given and business matters discussed. Adjournment was made promptly at 12 o'clock for dinner and the visitors enjoyed the delicious pot-luck carried in dinner prepared and served by the local unit. Immediately after lunch the officers again took their place with Mrs. Nella Hendee, National 1st vice president presiding. Reports from the delegates who attended the convention recently held at the national headquarters in Indianapolis, was given. Discussion and questions followed by the units with Mrs. Hendee qualifying with all the answers, facts and figures. The meeting adjourned at 4 p. m.

The next district meeting will be held in October at the American Legion home in Logansport.

COLORED MARION RENS TO PLAY HERE FRIDAY NIGHT

This coming Friday night, Aug. 9, the local All Stars meet the Marion Rens, a colored team, on the local diamond. The visiting team has a very good record for the season and we would advise anyone interested in seeing a good game to come to Veterans' park Friday night. Game time 8:45. There will also be a preliminary game.

Next Friday, Aug. 16, the Wabash Moose journey to Mentone for a game with the All Stars. John Hipsher, a Mentone high school graduate of several years ago, pitches for the Wabash team and early in the season showed a number of Mentone players who went down to Wabash for a game with the Moose, that he had what it takes.

FORMER CONVICT CAUGHT IN SILVER LAKE SWAMP

Lester Nichols, 41-year-old former convict and killer, surrendered to two farmers, Foster Hoffman and Ernest Roberts, Monday morning after many police officers and citizens had attempted to capture him in a dense swamp since Friday afternoon.

Friday afternoon Nichols, after forcing his wife into his car, took her to Akron and while arguing with her on the street, shot her three times in the hand and once in the chest. Mrs. Nichols was taken to the Woodlawn hospital at Rochester where she remains in a serious condition. Nichols and his wife have been estranged.

Nichols is now in the hands of the Fulton county authorities at Rochester.

PROWLERS HAVE MENTONE IN THE JITTERY STAGE

Numerous have been the reports in recent weeks of prowlers about town, and especially in the southwest section. On one or two occasions citizens have fired shotgun blasts at what they suspected as the prowler, but with no definite results. Several evenings small groups have formed and stood watch at various vantage points, shotguns ready.

Quite a number of high-powered stories are afloat about break-ins, attempted break-ins, etc., but in checking these rumors your editor hasn't found one instance where anyone actually gained entrance to a home, or of any stealing. Someone cut the screen to unlock the door on the porch but didn't enter the Poulson home. Mrs. Welker was aroused the other evening by a sound similar to someone hitting the back part of her home with a tree branch, but there was no evidence of anyone tampering with the screens or door. Her daughter, did, however, think she saw two people in the alley.

Regardless of whether or not any home has been entered, it is evident something is wrong and it is to be hoped that the offenders will soon be apprehended.

Common law may protect a property owner who uses firearms to overcome a trespasser on his property during a period of darkness, but anyone that ventures beyond the limits of his own lot or home with a gun without the full authority of a police official is treading upon dangerous ground. In fact, even a criminal hurt or injured in such a manner or by such a person would have full recourse under the laws of our land. And to add more fear to local citizens, some have met youngsters standing behind trees with guns.

Sheriff Lucas laid out a dragnet on Thursday evening, using local citizens under official police sanction, in an effort to locate the offenders.

In any event, it would be well for all of us to verify all reports before passing them on to others. This cannot always be done, but it would help considerably in alleviating the trend towards mass hysteria.

We fully believe every citizen has a perfect right to protect his own home and its interests, but urge that it be accomplished in the most sensible or legal manner.

CHOLINE CHLORIDE, VETERINARY

Interest has been developed by feed manufacturers in this substance, which is commonly regarded as a member of the vitamin B complex. The Northern Indiana Co-Op. Association now offers choline chloride in synthetic form to be used for the fortification of mixed feeds.

In young chickens and turkeys, choline deficiency results in slow growth and a leg deficiency known as "hock disease," "slipped tendon" or "perosis." In a bird suffering from perosis, one or both of the hock joints become enlarged and puffy. Within a few days, dislocation of the joint usually takes place. This deformity is permanent, and the bird becomes crippled and useless. This condition in chickens is commoner among the heavier breeds than among the lighter breeds, and it tends to be aggravated by confinement, such as takes place when birds are raised in cages. Young turkeys have a higher requirement for choline than chicks, so that the need for adding choline chloride to the starter mash is greater for turkeys than for chicks.

Perosis may also occur as a result of deficiencies of manganese or biotin, and these two substances are needed in addition to choline. Choline is also needed for egg production. Investigations at the Florida Agricultural Experiment Station showed that choline deficiency caused the following symptoms in laying hens on an experimental diet: Low egg production, aborted egg yolks, high fat content of liver, hemorrhagic surfaces on the liver. The symptoms were prevented and egg production was increased, by feeding 50 or 75 milligrams of choline daily.

Choline deficiency in pigs has been investigated at the Beltsville research Center, United States Department of Agriculture, and at Johns Hopkins University Medical School. It was reported that choline was needed in the diet, and that the deficiency led to a degeneration of the sensory nerve cells.

Present feeds are apt to contain less choline than pre-war feeds. Fish meal and meat scrap, which are two of the best sources of choline in mixed feeds, are scarce. Other feeds contain varying amounts of choline, often ranging between 0.04% and 0.2%. The addition of one pound of choline chloride per ton of mash will provide a satisfactory supplement to a chicken or turkey ration that is deficient in choline.

Choline chloride is hygroscopic (tends to become wet) and it should be protected from moisture. It is a white crystalline substance with a brackish taste. It may be conveniently premixed with wheat bran before it is added to a mixed feed.

You Are Beauty!

by MARY BROWN of Primrose House

We have all seen hundreds of apparently remarkable men devoted to women who struck us as being colorless as a "sparrow" ... and we have nudged our partner and said "what in the world does a bee-oooo-tiful man like that see in her?"

But the surprising thing is that what he sees is not missing. ... It is not something that his love-blind eyes and no one else's can see. It is really there. She is lovely ... even in the absence of a classic Greek profile, a heart shaped face or long lashed eyes. She is beauty that starts inside and knows her own value, knows the duration of her kind of loveliness and acquires poise through the knowledge. She recognizes the lasting quality of beauty that starts inside ... that begins in the heart and mind and creeps out through clear, clean, confident eyes, a merry mouth and a kindness that drinks you in and helps you belong. She is beauty ... but not just a beauty.

Everything she looks at is of her world and she is definitely a part of it. Nothing is too ugly or beyond her recognition but the needlessly grim is not a medium for her concentration. The beauty she finds doesn't have to have pink bows and a silver handle ... but it belongs where it is, both the right and the apparently wrong. She doesn't try to change things ... she strives to understand them. She doesn't hate before she attempts to love. She doesn't dedicate her life to external beauty because she knows its life span is brief ... but she doesn't bite her fingernails either. She isn't so obviously perfect you wish her knife would slip ... but you sense her little perfections without giving them a name ... because she makes YOU feel so right.

And who is she? She isn't the actress so far out of your reach ... the writer so intellectually above your thinking level ... the singer so talented you don't dare hope. She is YOU ... potential you. And all it costs to be what she is ... is effort, the will to live outside of yourself that comes from looking inside of yourself for a little while in the beginning. And the beginning is any time, especially NOW.

Christmas Giving Simplified— You "Plan When You CAN!"

It may be a long time till Christmas but didn't you vow last year that never again would you spend so much for so little nor wait until the eleventh hour to do that spending? And didn't you worry a wrinkle in your pretty brow because you couldn't think of the right gift for the friends who "have everything"? Nobody has everything and the very thing one person may consider too everydayish to rate gift wrapping may be all but priceless in the eyes of another. So, why not for a change do most of your Christmas shopping right in your own fruit pantry? Now is the time to start!

Use Home Canning Jars

If you live in or near the country, a package of native greens—pine, cedar, mistletoe, red berries, bitter sweet, holly, or what have you—along with two or three pint or half-pint jars of your best home canned relish or preserves or chicken will mean far more to the friends who went to the big city to make good than anything you could buy for them. But here is a word of warning. Be sure not to trespass on some other person's property when you go greens hunting (you might land in jail). And be sure that the canned offerings are in regular home canning jars, otherwise you may not get credit for stirring good wishes into that wild blackberry jam, spiced figs, citron preserves, quince jelly, chutney, rummage pickle or whatever is your specialty.

Wrap Jars Safely

We have the word of Gladys Kimbrough, Home Service Director for Ball Brothers Company, manufacturer of fruit jars, that home canned products are good travelers when they can go in comfort, but are finicky when it comes to roughing it. In fact, they demand well padded berths. For Christmas packing, Miss Kimbrough suggests that each jar be washed, polished, labeled, and wrapped in thick, shock-absorbing layers of cotton batting, then fitted snugly into a box. The box is gift wrapped and placed in a larger one for shipping. The outside box should be marked "fragile."

Rummage Pickle

- 1 quart chopped ripe tomatoes
- 2 quarts chopped green tomatoes.
- 3 large onions
- 1 large cucumber
- 1 quart chopped cabbage
- 2 cloves garlic
- ½ cup salt
- 4 cups brown sugar
- 1 tablespoon celery seed
- 1 tablespoon mustard seed
- 3 cups chopped celery
- 3 green peppers
- 3 red peppers
- 1 pod hot red pepper
- 1 teaspoon ground ginger
- 1 tablespoon ground cinnamon
- ½ teaspoon ground cloves
- 2 quarts vinegar

Chop and measure vegetables. Mix with salt. Let stand overnight. Drain. Add other ingredients. Simmer until there is no excess liquid. Pack into hot jars; seal at once.

Peach Chutney

- 1 gallon peaches
- 2 onions
- 1 clove garlic
- 1 cup seeded raisins
- ¼ cup white mustard seed
- 2 tablespoons ground ginger
- 1 pod hot red pepper
- 1 cup brown sugar
- 5 cups vinegar

Chop peeled peaches, onions, garlic and raisins. Add ½ the vinegar. Cook until soft. Add all other ingredients. Cook until thick. Pour into hot jars; seal at once. Apples, pears, or plums may be substituted for peaches in this recipe.

Under auspices of the Chicago Motor Club, a new high school driver-training program will be recommended for all secondary schools of Illinois and Indiana this fall.

"Home Cooperation" will be the distinguishing feature of this new program. Although several schools in the two states have had driver-training programs, the expense of dual control cars and full time instructors has made universal acceptance impossible.

Now Charles M. Hayes, president of the motoring organization, proposes a program which would include classroom work, but would place responsibility for behind-the-wheel training upon parents.

Specific instructors for each of ten lessons would be brought home by the student to an adult member of the family. Coordinated with classroom study this home work would lead to complete driver-training.

Scholastic officials of both states have approved the course and authorized credit for students who complete it.

Materials with exception of text books will be furnished without charge to all schools by the motor club. The motoring organization will also train instructors appointed by schools, in the proper use of the material.

MILFORD LIONS SPONSORING HORSE SHOW AUGUST 11TH

Milford, Ind. — The Milford Lions club and the Milford Saddle club are making elaborate plans to entertain a record crowd of horse lovers next Sunday afternoon, August 11, at Milford's west side park in their first annual horse show.

Twelve big events have been planned and a total of $1,100 will be given away in cash prizes to horsemen who will compete at this show. Four of the events have a total cash prize of $500.

The first event, which will be a grand parade of all horses present, will take place at 1 o'clock.

"Rex," the Wonder Horse, will be at Milford. He will balance himself on an 18-inch pedestal, and while balanced, his rider will mount and make a complete turn. Another famous horse, "Thunderhead," the horse of moving picture fame, will also be at Milford for a special exhibition.

The South Bend Boot and Saddle club will present their famous Quadrille. This is the only club to sponsor a square dance on horseback.

Milford, located on road 15 between Goshen and Warsaw, is holding the show in the park the local Lions club has improved and popularized in its campaign to boost Milford activities and enterprises.

The Milford Lions club will serve food and soft drinks on the grounds for horsemen and spectators.

HOME ECONOMICS MEET.

The Mentone Home Economics club was delightfully entertained in the summer home of Mrs. Earl Smith on Lake Manitou, Wednesday, in an all day meeting. A carry in dinner was an outstanding feature of the day. The president, Mrs. Frank Warren, had charge of the business. "Old Folks At Home" was the song of the month and its history was read by Mrs. Elmer Sarber. Seventeen members responded to roll call by naming a favorite cold beverage.

The Mystery package was won by Mrs. Linas Borton. Interesting contests were conducted by Mrs. Raymond Weirick and the auction sale of three articles with Mrs. Linas Borton as auctioneer, was held. Articles were purchased by Mrs. Earl Smith, Mrs. Roy Salman and Mrs. Raymond Weirick. Two visitors were in attendance.

JOE CLARK TO SPEAK ON "PULLETS IN LAYING HOUSE"

TURN CORNCOBS INTO BEEF

Corncobs are pound-builders, says the July issue of Successful Farming magazine, and here are figures straight from the cornbelt to prove it. At the end of a 140-day period, on an average for five lots, 230 pounds of corncobs had proved their ability to take the place of 168 pounds of corn.

CARD OF THANKS

I sincerely appreciate the many cards, flowers and kind deeds during my recent sickness. They were all very nice and I want to extend thanks to everyone.

There is a possibility that there will be a tournament played at Mentone that will include teams of the age of the Midgets. It is likely that two teams could be drawn from Akron, Rochester and Warsaw and single teams from Pierceton, Silver Lake, Atwood and Claypool. The Mentone Midgets would enter both teams to make a total of twelve teams in all. There is a possibility that even more teams could be brought into the tourney. A trophy would be given the winning team to make more interest in the competition. An announcement will be made next week concerning this tournament.

PROWLER CAUGHT IN HOME.

Tom Haimbaugh, we are told, was about to retire the other evening when he sensed an intruder in the room. His eyesight isn't as good as it once was, but he felt the turbulent air as the night marauder swished by. Mrs. Haimbaugh came to the rescue with a fan and after a few hefty swats, the victim lay on the floor for inspection—a dead bat.

ALL STARS PLAY WABASH MOOSE FRIDAY NIGHT

Large Attendance at Game Last Week

Before the largest crowd ever to witness a ball game at Veterans' Park, the Mentone All Stars went down to defeat at the hands of a strong Marion colored team, 6 to 4. However, it was a well fought game, and the colored boys put on a good show with their customary antics, clowning, etc. In fact, that might be the reason they went home winners, as they seemed to have the Mentone boys baffled the first couple of innings.

The crowd was estimated at approximately 1,000 people, and was sufficient evidence that next year we must have more bleachers at the park.

Batteries for Mentone: Royal Blue pitching, Herschel Linn catching. For Marion: Wilson pitching, Richardson catching.

Score by innings:

Gifts were received from the following Neighbors: Mae Borton, Mary Goodwin, Snowden Halderman, Emma Cook, Mildred Friesner, Pearl Shoemaker, Freda Roose, Mabel Warren, Lydia Ryneanson, Cora Williams, Helen Mollenhour, Mary Borton, Della Dillingham.

It was reported Thursday that one of Mentone's liveliest and most capable bull peddlers has gone into the full-blooded goat business. At least he accepted some animal with a sea-shore bob at the Nickel Plate depot—where he loafs between coffees. Further details may be secured from Ward Williamson.

Perfume Is a Message!

MARY BROWN of Primrose House

We all like to think we have some fragrance, some pleasant scent identifiable with us... some haunting "remember me" that speaks for us by association when we are absent, but not many of us put ourselves to the trouble of choosing a scent that BELONGS to us... that matches our personality or mood. A baby-doll personality seems comical when she is laden down with a fragrance that has all the mystery and deep tone of the Orient... and how out of character a light floral scent is when it is worn by the charmer whose make-up cries for a scent that is the very essence of mute sophistication.

Perfume is one of the pleasant mysteries of feminine culture, but it is a mystery that almost has a voice. It sets a mood and sometimes helps to destroy or enhance an interlude... that is why it is so important to use the fragrance that is right for us. With the perfume counters bulging with bewitching "scentums" there is certainly a wide variety to choose from and one doesn't have to be a connoisseur with a Parisian background to know what is right for her... If you are shy of your own pick-and-choose ability take along someone whose judgment you revere and be really satisfied with the liquid luxury you carry away with you.

Last Saturday and Sunday Miss Bertha Dreitzler, of Bartlett, Kansas, and Miss Hattie Dreitzler, of Warsaw, were visitors at the E. H. Kinsey home. They were pupils of Mrs. Kinsey 52 years ago when she was teaching.

STATE LEGION ENDS MEETING

Hoosier Legionnaires headed home August 21, after their first post-war state convention, highlighted in the final session yesterday by the election of two World War II veterans to major state offices.

The G.I.'s were named to newly created vice commander posts and will serve with World War I officers on the Indiana Legion Department's board of strategy.

Scottsburg lumber dealer, W. I. Brunton was elected state commander to succeed Henry Sibenmark, South Bend. James C. Ahern, Indianapolis, and Harold E. Morris, Gary, were named to southern and northern district commandships. Their elections were unopposed.

The new World War II vice commanders were: George Craig, Brazil, former 80th division Lieutenant-colonel and former combat engineer Martin Klein, South Bend.

Youthful veterans fought for the establishment of the two new offices yesterday in a tumultuous session which climaxed the four-day long Legion get-together. The resolution finally approved specified that the new posts must be filled by veterans of the second war.

The younger vets charged "partisan political maneuvering" when it appeared their proposal would be tabled until 1947.

Other new Legion officers were B. W. Breedlove, Indianapolis, finance officer; Rev. Thomas J. Jennings, Merom, Chaplain; and Ralph H. Penley, Greenfield, sergeant-at-arms.

Siebenmark was named as a delegate to the San Francisco national convention next month along with Brunton, Judge A. Dale Eby, Princeton, Sterling Harvey, Indianapolis, and William Hauck, Garrett.

Resolutions adopted at the final session included one for veterans housing, a free press and radio, establishment of a new airforce academy, and a request that construction on the

Veteran Fair Manager Completes Tough Task

ORVAL C. PRATT

The massive job of organizing the record-breaking 1946 Indiana State Fair was handed to Orval C. Pratt, Rockville, secretary-manager of the Indiana Board of Agriculture.

Faced with more entries, exhibits and concessions than ever before at any Indiana State Fair, Mr. Pratt will have the fair ready to open at Indianapolis on schedule early on Aug. 30, the opening day of the eight-day event. He was experienced for the job, having managed last year's 4-H Club fair and other fairs in the state.

His job this year was perhaps the toughest in the fair's history. That was not only because of the record number of exhibits but also because of the loose ends of details which developed in the years when the Army Air Forces occupied the state fair ground and stopped the State Fair's smooth year-to-year succession for five years.

Clean Surfaces

To insure a better paint job for indoor surfaces, clean off surface dirt with a brush or vacuum cleaner, and then wash to remove grease films before new paint is applied. The cleaning may reduce the number of coats of paint needed, as well as make a better appearing surface that will last longer.

Sandwich Trick

Approval by sandwich eaters — this trick of putting catsup between fried ham and cheese slice. It's good eating—moist but not soggy.

Polish Oil Cloth

To make table oilcloth more satisfactory and durable, clean well and rub occasionally with a liquid wax. Polishing will make it last much longer.

TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS IN-

CREASE 31 PER CENT

State traffic accidents claimed 485 lives and cost anestimated economic loss of $21,825,000 the first six months of the year, Col. Austin R. Killian, state police superintendent, announced today. The fatality toll is currently 31 per cent higher than a year ago, he said.

Forty-seven per cent of the state's fatal accidents were concentrated on highways adjacent to densely populated areas, Colonel Killian said. Motorists were involved in 32,600 crashes the first half of the year, a jump of 38 per cent over the 23,500 reported in the initial period of 1945.

Use Trams

A recent survey in Philadelphia showed that only 8.4 per cent of the people traveling into the downtown area come in private automobiles. The rest ride in street cars, trackless trolley coaches, gas buses, railroads or walk.

23 Billion Passengers

In 1945, more than 23 1/4 billion passengers rode the street cars, trackless trolley coaches and gas buses that make up the nation's urban transit lines.

ANIMAL HEALTH COLUMN...

By R. A. MARRIOTT

The 1945 season saw an extension of the new practice of dusting cotton fields shortly before harvest with a compound, of which calcium cyanamide is the active ingredient, to get rid of the leaves. The chemical in combination with dew kills the leaves and the plant casts them off in the course of a few days. The damage, however, does not extend by translocation to the plant stem and roots because the chemical is unstable and presently becomes harmless by reason of a further reaction. The denuded cotton plant continues to thrive, the cotton bolls, thus uncovered to the sun, ripen better and more uniformly and it becomes feasible to harvest the crop by a single picking instead of the usual two or three. Hand laborers strip nearly twice as much cotton per day from such treated fields.

Cotton sets its earliest and best bolls on the lower branches of the plants and in wet years the foliage is often so luxuriant that these early bolls, deprived of air circulation and sunlight, stay wet and the fiber rots, with losses as high as 50 to 60% of the crop. Defoliation averts this.

Defoliating is due to become more important when machines for harvesting cotton become generally available for the leaves are often very dense, clogging the machines and staining the cotton, whereas the machines work swiftly and well on defoliated plants. If machine harvesting is delayed until frost removes the leaves, there may be weather damage to opened bolls and loss of grade. Picking costs are a serious factor in American cotton raising and their reduction may mean much to the ability of American growers to compete with the low-paid labor of Egypt and the Orient in the markets of the world.

When army worms start to infest a cotton field, defoliation robs them of their food and they do not multiply and foul the cotton. Early harvesting is facilitated in cotton districts where necessary to win the race with the pink boll worm. Fertilizers stimulate growth of both cotton fiber and leaves but may be more badly used now that excessive foliage can be so easily disposed of.

Success of defoliation with cotton has led during the past year to its trial with other crops. Soybeans, now increasing in demand, benefit by such control. The highest yielding varieties mature so late in the fall that winter grain cannot be sown to the best advantage after the soybean harvest, yet soybean land should not be left bare over winter. Defoliation any time after the seeds lose their green color, causes rapid loss of moisture without reduction of yield or quality, and gets the seeds dry enough for harvesting at the early-crop premium prices. Early harvesting also averts losses that occur when plants are beaten down so low by late autumn storms that harvesting machinery cannot garner them; such losses sometimes amount to 20 or 30 per cent of the crop. Defoliated plants go through the combines fast and easily.

Tomato growers are accustomed to see good green fruit caught and ruined by early frost. When the days shorten, defoliation does not impair the vigor of the plant and, with the bringing of the fruit into full sunshine, maturing and consequent coloration are accelerated, facilitating extra late deliveries before the fall closing of commercial canneries.

The dusting of crops is swift, cheap, and easy and the practice of thus dusting away the leaves is by no means fully explored as yet for all the economies that can follow such control of nature's calendar!

The Vaudeville acts also will appear at every afternoon racing program which begins Saturday, Aug. 31. They include sensational high wire acts, two horse and pony shows, catapulters, equilibrium artists, trampoline performers, acrobatic comedians, gymnasts and a bounding rope artist who does a double somersault.

Harness racing will start Saturday afternoon, Aug. 31, with half-mile horses on the mile track. Grand Circuit racing will get underway Monday afternoon with a total of 10 stakes and 10 overnight races filling the program every day of the fair thereafter.

TIPPECANOE ELEVATOR SOLD TO FARM BUREAU Co-Op.

One of the oldest business institutions and partnerships has ended in the vicinity this week, when an announcement was received of the sale of the Urschel Brothers Elevator and Lumber company to the Marshall Co. Farm Bureau Co-operative. The transaction, completed recently will become official when the Co-Op. takes charge on October 1st.

With the sale passes two brothers from the Tippecanoe business scene, after 33 years of successful and completely satisfactory service to the farmers of the vicinity. The Urschel brothers have always participated in all public functions within their community, and have been and are an asset to the community in every way.

Although no reason was given for the sale, it is believed that the brothers have sold in order to take a long deserved rest. Whatever their future may bring them, farmers and businessmen of this community wish them "all the best," and extend a hand of greeting to the new proprietors, who are not new to most people, also having a good number of years of successful business operation on their record.

LOCAL FARMERS VISIT HYBRID CORN FIELDS

Sam Norris, southwest of Mentone, and Lester White, R. R. Rochester, who lives just a few miles from Sam, returned Friday from a trip to DeKalb, Illinois, where they had the opportunity to visit the vast corn breeding projects of the DeKalb Agricultural Association. In DeKalb, they saw the work of inbreeding and crossing of corn that is nearing completion for the year on the DeKalb experimental fields.

One of the most impressive features, according to them, was the immense amount of detailed work that is carried on in a breeding project of this kind. Inbreds that are crossed to make new hybrid varieties are developed by making hand pollinations. According to the men in charge of this research work, 41,000 of these pollinations were made this season to produce new inbreds and crosses for next year's research work. Over 7000 different kinds of corn are on test in an effort to find better varieties. While most of this corn is developed from strains of corn originally grown in the United States, our friends stated that they saw varieties of corn growing at DeKalb that came from Italy, Czechoslovakia, Japan and Rumania.

Another interesting part of the trip was the tour through the DeKalb Agricultural Association's poultry project where research men are working to develop improved kinds of chickens by using inbreeding and crossing methods that have been so successful in developing better corn.

POISON PLANTS CAUSE EXPENSIVE LOSSES

Despite warnings against danger of white snakeroot and water hemlock, heavy livestock losses due to poisoning from these plants continues to be common in Indiana. When pastures become short and stock moves into shaded areas, the danger becomes greatest, say Purdue University botanists and veterinarians.

Snakeroot found in wooded areas of the state, particularly in the central and southern parts, is the most important poisonous plant in Indiana according to the authorities. Not only poisonous to stock, humans can contract milk sickness from cows that have grazed freely on the plant. The toxic substance, called termatol, enters the milk.

The plant growing to a height of about three feet, comes into flower in August with conspicuous clusters of white flowers at the ends of the branches. It is recognized by the opposite broad leaves, each with three prominent veins. The under surfaces of the leaves are shiny in contrast to the dull upper surfaces.

Symptoms of this poisoning in livestock are periods of severe trembling, preceded by listlessness. Death may occur from weakness in a few days or may be lingering. Hogs are seldom poisoned unless they eat the roots.

The university advises that stock be kept out of these areas known to be infested with the plant. Eradication means pulling up the plant, the root to be completely removed.

Water hemlock poisoning occurs later in the fall when stock may graze on the sprouts or hogs root after the fleshy roots. It grows only in moist places. The plant, three to six feet high has white lace-like blossoms, purplish colored stems and forms tuberous roots, resembling a group of small sweet potatoes. Eradication is only by complete removal of the plant.

Objectionable Yolk

High consumption of green grass by chickens results in a darker colored yolk, or even yolks with a greenish cast which is highly objectionable to the consumer.

AGRICULTURE STRONG FINANCIALLY

Indiana agriculture is currently in a stronger financial position than it was at the close of World War I, according to K. A. Riner, Vice President of the Farmers State Bank here.

A survey on the use of bank credit in Indiana, which was made by the Agricultural Commission of the American Bankers Association, shows that Indiana farmers in 1945 used only one-third of the bank credit available to them from the 464 Indiana banks which make agricultural loans.

Last year the banks served 85,503 or 47.7 per cent of the 179,281 Indiana farmers by making 173,446 agricultural loans for a total of $93,348,000. Of this loan volume, $55,469,000 remained outstanding January 1, 1946. The banks had on that date $250,033,000 additional for agricultural loans if there had been a demand for such loans.

That the credit extended by the banks to their farm customers is a useful tool of agriculture is shown by a breakdown of these overall figures: Last year 77,205 farmers procured farm production loans in the aggregate of $72,341,000, and of this volume, $26,116,000 was outstanding January 1.

Loans on crops in storage insured by the Commodity Credit Corporation were made by the banks to 733 farmers for a total of $1,909,000, and of these loans $1,379,000 remained outstanding at the beginning of this year.

Farm real estate loans were made to 7,565 farmers for a total of $19,098,000. This brought the amount of long term real estate paper held by the banks up to $27,974,000 January 1.

"The fact that Indiana farmers have found it necessary to use only a small part of the bank credit available to them indicates that they are in a far stronger financial position today than in any previous period of prosperity," Mr. Riner said. "During the war years, farm incomes have been high and farmers have wisely used their earnings to pay down debt and accumulate savings in war bonds and bank accounts.

"The high level of bank assets and the high degree of liquidity of the banks assure Indiana farmers of ample bank credit in the future to meet all of their needs. At the end of last year, Indiana country banks had an average of cash and United States government bonds equal to 86 per cent of their deposits. By contrast, in 1929 country banks in this state had cash and government securities equal to 29 per cent of deposits. This high ratio of liquidity is one of the most promising indications for the continued well-being of our farm community.

Providing bank credit to meet the needs of agriculture for constructive purposes is only one of the services provided by the banks to their farm customers, Mr. Riner pointed out.

Working with their state association and the American Bankers Association's Agricultural Commission, the banks have been promoting a program which will result in many benefits to the farm community.

"One immediate aim of this program," Mr. Riner said, is to prevent postwar inflation. The banks are encouraging their farm customers to continue to save through purchase of United States Savings Bonds, and avoid going into debt to buy farm land at high prices. The average price of farm land in Indiana is now 111 per cent above the 1940 prewar level. This rise is approximately equal to the rise during the World War I period to the boom peak in 1920. Bankers are watching this situation closely and are urging their customers to keep in a safe financial position.

"For the long term, the banks are encouraging farmers to engage in well-rounded and diversified farm production, and are placing particular emphasis on conservation of the productivity of the soil. Another part of this program is concerned with the education of farm youth through sponsoring activities of 4-H clubs and "Future Farmers".

HEMORRHAGIC SEPTICEMIA

Pasteurellosis, hemorrhagic septicemia, or shipping fever, is a highly fatal infection and transmissible disease of animals, including poultry, which is usually characterized by diffuse capillary hemorrhages.

CAUSE: Pasteurella multocida is the species name given to an organism occurring as a pathogen in horses, cattle, sheep, goats, hogs, rabbits, wild herbivores, and poultry. In the past, a different species name was given to this organism, depending on the host from which it was isolated. For example, isolations from sheep were called PASTEURELLA OVISEPTICA and from cattle, PASTEURELLA BOVISEPTICA. Specific types of pasteurella have been identified. One or all types, and therefore, Lederle Antisera have been produced by hyperimmunizing animals against all types, and likewise, Lederle bacterins contain all types.

These organisms may be inhabitants of the respiratory tract of normal animals, but may become pathogenic and produce disease when the animal suffers severe nutritional and environmental changes. Often this organism may be associated with viruses and other bacteria, alone or in combination to produce disease.

OCCURRENCE: The disease is known under various names throughout the world and most animal species are susceptible. The disease may become established in a confined group of chilled, weakened, or exhausted animals by passage of the organism from sick to susceptible animals with an increase in virulence as the disease spreads.

DIAGNOSIS: In fowl cholera there is a watery diarrhea, depression, inappetence and sudden death.

In rabbit septicemia, the disease may be acute or produce a fibrinous pneumonia with death. The milder upper respiratory infection is called SNUFFLES.

In swine plague there is fibrinous pneumonia and septicemia sometimes associated with other diseases, particularly hog cholera.

In hemorrhagic septicemia of horses, cattle, sheep and goats, there may be pneumonia, septicemia, and occasionally gastrointestinal involvement.

In all these diseases the organism can be isolated from the blood after death and frequently before death. It can be studied and identified in a laboratory by specific cultural methods and experimental animal inoculation.

PREVENTION: All animals may be actively immunized with bacterins prepared from young cultures of all types of the specific organism. The immunizing dose should be given at least two weeks before any expected exhausting experience like shipping or the onset of inclement weather.

CONTROL: Adequate nutrition, suitable housing, avoidance of drafts, protection from sudden temperature changes, good sanitation including regular manure removal, and prompt removal of sickly animals from the group will do much to prevent the establishment and spread of infection. Dead animals should be immediately removed and burned or buried. The adjacent area, including corral and barns, should be thoroughly cleaned and then disinfected with chlorine, using chlorinated lime at the rate of one pint to a 14-quart pail of hot water, one pint of U. S. P. cresol (saponified) to a 14-quart pail, or other suitable disinfectant. These sanitary measures should be used in combination with serum treatment of sick and exposed animals, and immunization of unexposed animals to adequately control an outbreak.

TREATMENT: Duatok Sulfathiazol is preferred by most veterinarians for the treatment of these conditions.

Duatok sulfathiazol should be given in full and repeated doses to all sick and exposed animals. Duatok Sulfathiazol is administered orally (by mouth).

Suggested dosage is one grain per pound of body weight daily, divided into two or three doses. When this treatment is maintained, you can expect prompt disappearance of all symptoms in one to two days.

DAIRYMEN WARNED ABOUT NEW DRUG

A warning was issued today by Dr. W. A. King of the Purdue University dairy department concerning the use by dairymen in the state of thyroproteine, a relatively new drug which stimulates milk production in dairy cows.

Despite the fact that experiment stations throughout the country have found that the drug, which is also known as iodinated casein, boosts the flow of milk and increases fat content in cows declining in production, Dr. King pointed out that there are still too many unknown factors in connection with its use.

The increase averages about ten percent and at the same time speeds up heart and respiration rate, in some cases the cow may lose weight. Short periods of feeding do not seem to injure the cow.

SUMMER RECREATION REPORT

Last week the Mentone Midgets ended their summer season by playing the Akron team a double-header. Johnny Davis pitched his eleventh victory in a game that went four extra frames before being decided by the narrow margin of 5 to 4. In the seventh inning, Akron's winning run was thrown out at the plate and the game continued the extra sessions until Cullum stole home on the Akron catcher's throw to second.

In the second game of the afternoon, the Akron team came out on the long end of an 8 to 6 score. The Mentone Midgets ended their softball season by winning the surprising total of twenty-four (24) games out of twenty-nine (29) played for a percentage of .828. All of these boys that played on the Midget team this year were in the 3rd, 4th, 5th and 6th grades. The first part of the summer was spent in learning the fundamentals of the game and it was time well spent. Boys at this age enjoy learning to "do the thing" the right way and it paid off in the winning of games later on in the season. The batting average of these boys will appear below and it indicates that a number of them have mastered the art of hitting the ball far beyond what you would expect. Those players who are not at the top in the batting record have done exceptionally well in overcoming bad batting habits that would have made poor batters out of them. If the recreational program is continued next year it would be an advantage to hold these boys together for another year by including the seventh grade with the Midgets. By the time these boys get into high school they would present a team that would be hard to beat. The batting percentages for all players follows:

Player	H	A	B	%
Raymond Adams	18	29		.621

Donnie Butt	38	66	.576

DRIVE CAREFULLY OVER LABOR DAY HOLIDAY

Twenty persons will be killed and 250 injured in Illinois and fifteen killed and 200 injured in Indiana in traffic accidents over the Labor Day week end, according to the prophecy of Charles M. Hayes, president of the Chicago Motor Club.

The Motor Club executive based his forecast upon the expectation of traffic volumes equalling pre-war years and the poor condition of a large share of the vehicles on the road.

Period of greatest danger is Monday afternoon and evening. At that time motorists, fatigued by unusual outdoor activity and in a hurry to get home in spite of heavy traffic get into trouble.

Recommendations for individual drivers follow:

1. Do not travel on main arteries unless necessary.
2. Leave plenty of space between your car and the one ahead to meet emergencies.
3. You must be alert. Fatigue or alcohol dull ordinary reflex actions.
4. Do not depend on the other fellow. Too many cars are in poor mechanical condition.

INDIANA FACES CORN STORAGE CRISIS

If farmers had trouble storing their 1945 corn crop, then there's double-trouble ahead if they don't make their plans immediately to crib their share of the nation's record-breaking 1946 crop. Production and Marketing Administration officials claim.

The U. S. corn crop this year as estimated by the bureau of Agricultural Economics has been placed at 3,500,000,000 bushels—an increase of 482,000,000 bushels over 1945, and 272,000,000 bushels above 1944 production. Indiana's crop to be harvested shortly has been placed at approximately 250,000,000 bushels.

Here's a simple method of figuring corn storage problems on farms:

Multiply the acreage of corn by the estimated yield per acre which equals the estimated production. Subtract from this total the crib space on hand. The answer is the estimated bushels for which storage space will be required.

L. M. Vogler, State Director of the PMA said this week that every effort is being made to assist farmers in obtaining materials for the construction of cribs. "Materials for temporary as well as permanent cribs are hard to get," he declared, "and considerable time will be required to get what is available."

Vogler advised corn producers that grain piled on the ground is not eligible for a government loan, and farmers may need corn loans this year to avoid suffering a loss due to the drop of prices at harvest time.

ATTENTION!!! ALL RESIDENTS OF TIPPECANOE TOWNSHIP

There will be a fire meeting at the school building on Thursday, Sept. 5 at 8:00 P. M. The purpose of the meeting is to obtain fire-fighting equipment for the township. Previous attempts have been made to have such a meeting but we are sorry to report that very little interest was shown. This is a very worthwhile project and we are certain that more people are interested. Just remember this—don't wait until your house or barn is on fire to think about needing fire-fighting equipment.

Lunchbox Variety

Adding milk instead of water to canned soup is a good way to add variety to the box lunch and still provide part of the day's milk requirement.
