SPLIT SCHEDULE ALL RIGHT FOR DAIRY CATTLE

Dairymen, if you would rather milk in the cool of the day—say at 5 in the morning and 7 in the evening—go right ahead. Tests show that no harm is likely to result.

You can get just as much milk during the hot, summer months when milking intervals are changed from every 12 hours to one interval at 10 hours and the other at 14.

Eight pairs of identical twin dairy cows were used in trials at the Minnesota Experiment Station, reports Capper's Farmer. One of each pair was milked every 12 hours. The other was milked at intervals of 10 hours and 14 hours. Dr. W. E. Petersen and his associates found there was no difference in total milk production.

So, you can beat the heat during summer months, get just as much milk and also arrange a better work schedule, if you space milkings at 10 hours and 14 hours respectively.

"If you rearrange your milking schedule, milk regularly," Petersen says. "Set definite hours and stick to them."

PLANNING VACATION

If the hand of fate doesn't switch decks on the editor and family, next week will be vacation week for them. The Country Print Shop will continue in full operation and you should get your Co-Op. News as in the past. The folks here always try to beat the boss in times like this, and they will appreciate the cooperation of everyone in getting news and advertising copy in as early as possible.

I'm one of the men who installs and maintains your telephone. I also install and maintain the lines leading to your telephone.

Although we're catching up, the demand for telephone service continues to grow. In some areas the demand has grown faster than we have been able to install equipment and build the pole lines to furnish the additional service.

My job is to install extension telephones, too. Residence extensions save you time and steps—and cost you less than 8c a day. Normally we can furnish this type of service without delay.

MENTONE HOME DEMONSTRATION CLUB

The Mentone Home Demonstration Club observed their annual picnic meeting at the country home of Mrs. Howard Horn Thursday, August 13, with Mrs. Gertrude Hill as co-hostess.

After the delicious carry-in meal the meeting was called to order by Vice-President Mrs. Oliver Teel.

There were 22 members, six visitors and 5 children present. An extended report of the convention, recently held at Purdue, was given by the delegate, Mrs. Elmer Sarber and her companion, Mrs. John Laird. Mrs. Sarber listed some interesting facts on the subject "Your Own Two Feet and How You Can Best Serve Them." She said that shoes serve as our shock absorbers. One pair of wrong fitting shoes can cause trouble for the rest of your life—it also irritates the disposition. Hard walking surfaces are hard on feet. Shoes are to protect your feet and give comfort. Hand-me downs are not good. Special care of the feet was advised for diabetics.

Mrs. Gertrude Hill gave the meditation by reading the 13th chapter of I Corinthians.

Business was conducted by the president, Mrs. Harry Vernet, who gave an itemized report of the Presidents' Council held recently. Action was taken on several items.

Auction articles were purchased by Mrs. Emma Anderson and Mrs. Agnes Rans. Gifts were presented to Mrs. Oliver Teel, Mrs. Emma Anderson, and Mrs. Maca Nelson.

Our guests were Mrs. Fred Swick, Mrs. Lucinda Jones, Mrs. Maude Quackenbush, Mrs. Donald Horn, Miss Marilyn Horn and Miss Linda Nelson.

The next meeting will be September 10, 1:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Claude Barkman.

DOLL HOUSE OPEN TO PUBLIC AT HOME OF ROLAND LUKENS

Many visitors attended the formal opening of the Doll House at the Roland Lukens farm home last Friday. In a telephone conversation with Mrs. Lukens she voiced her surprise at the number of adults and boys who were present for the opening. She said she ran out of free gifts for the adults first. It is interesting to note that the item most nearly sold out was in the doll accessory department—doll spectacles!

We are reprinting an item from the Rochester News-Sentinel which gives a detailed description of the Doll House.

A clever doll house full of girls' dolls and apparel and boys' toys will be open Friday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Lukens, four miles north and two miles west of Akron. (4 1/4 miles south and 2 miles west of Mentone.)

Mrs. Lukens, a veteran school teacher and her 11-year-old daughter, Linda, are fulfilling a dream in making their doll house. Mrs. Lukens has had the desire for years, a thing she has always wanted to do. She has made a world of enchantment for children.

The place is marked by a big red and white candy cane on the road. There is a parking space, then a path winding through big lollipops down sugar plum trail, past a miniature straw stack where Little Boy Blue is fast asleep, past a kitten grave with a childish poem relating the sad death by an auto, past Mistress Mary's garden encircled with shells, to the Doll House itself.

THE HOUSE is a small separate building away from the Lukens home. It is a small white bungalow trimmed in green with a green roof. As one enters the first room, hundreds of dolls, beautiful, gorgeous, small and large, are seen on display, on the walls with shining satin backgrounds, or standing on the tables and shelves.

Mrs. Lukens has over 500 dolls on display with many more ordered. She carries in stock the Nancy Ann story-book dolls, the smallest three and one half to the largest 18 inches. Several other series of dolls are on hand too. The largest dolls in stock are 28 inches. She features the 8-inch unbreakable doll with nylon hair which can be rolled on curlers and with many different outfits to clothe her. It also has open and close eyes with eyelashes.

There is one section, which is the department store, where may be bought all kinds of accessories, purses, evening bags, necklaces, dresses, roller skating outfits, ice skating clothes, ballet outfits, twin sets, clothes racks and hangers, hats, grips, overnight cases. Another section is the shoe department where one may find all kinds of shoes, boots, majorette boots, saddle oxfords, cowboy boots, anklets, skating shoes.

SOME OF THE DOLLS' CLOTHES are hand-made by an 82-year-old grandmother who lives in Bavaria.

Ill. Mrs. Lukens writes to her regularly and she already has many tiny dresses and accessories from her.

Included in stock is Smoky, the ranger (teddy bear) and a beautiful white sleepy kitten with a concealed music box, and several rainbow poodles in gaudy colors for older girls.

There is a special place for first aid to dolls, wigs, special glue, restringing, etc. Dolls can be renewed and serviced at this place easily.

STUDY YOUR CHORING PRACTICES TO SAVE TIME

You can cut down the time you spend choring if you adopt a practice used by industrial experts. Make a "job analysis" of your choring routine.

One Iowa farmer cut his choring time nearly two hours a day after such an analysis, points out Capper's Farmer. Here are some of the things he did:

He laid out his chore work to provide circular travel, which saved him steps going back and forth. He used gravity wherever possible to move feed and supplies.

Alleyways and doorways in his buildings were widened to let carts pass through easily. He doesn't "fool" with a pail or bushel basket, when he can carry larger quantities of feed or other supplies in a cart.

The Iowa farmer put his tools and supplies where they are handy for the work to be done. For example, his fork is kept where he will need it to pitch hay or straw, eliminating a trip across the barn to get it. And his choring is planned to complete one operation where the next one begins.

59,345 JOHN SMITHS

Over a million and a quarter people are named Smith, according to the records of the Social Security Administration.

The name John Smith, and there are 59,345 of them, doesn't mean much unless the Social Security number is shown. The Social Security number is the key to the identification of a particular John Smith and that is why the number must be shown correctly on the tax return. If the number isn't shown, tax money must be spent trying to locate the correct John Smith.

"There are over a hundred million holders of Social Security numbers and unless the number and name is shown exactly as it is on the card there is no certainty that you will get credit for your earnings," Gerald Kelter, manager of the Elkhart office, explained.

"The Social Security number identifies the earnings upon which Social Security benefits are based and the number is the key to the whole Social Security program," Kelter related.

MORRIS HIBBS DIES FOLLOWING STROKE

Morris Hibbs, 70 of Talma died at the Woodlawn hospital at 11:05 p.m. Thursday following a four day illness from a stroke and a heart attack. Hibbs had been a resident of this community since 1941 coming here from Hammond. He was a millwright and had been employed for a number of years by the Rochester Metal Products Co.

Born June 10, 1883 in Lake County he was the son of Philip and Mary Jane (Hansford) Hibbs. In a ceremony performed Oct. 21, 1953 he was married to Florence Alber of Talma.

Survivors are his wife, one son Robert Hibbs of Rochester, on grandchild and a nephew Leroy Hibbs of Moberley, Mo.

Final rites were held Monday afternoon at 1:30 p.m. at the Foster Funeral home at Rochester with Rev. Paul Trombauer of Bourbon officiating. Entombment was in the Rochester Mausoleum.

JUST A REMINDER

Classroom doors are yawning and mom is in for a hectic few days, what with shoes to polish, clothes to mend, books to think of and a round of last minute shopping for Jane and Junior. And then at 8:20 on Friday morning just won't she take the nearest chair and ottoman and drop everything and breath a sigh of relief. For three hours, no banging doors no cookie begging, spats, tying shoe strings, faces to wash, bruises to tape, quarrels to settle. Yes, tops in serenity; the first few hours after school opening. Poor teacher.

FARM OUTLOOK

NOT TOO GLOOMY

A veteran economist, P. H. Stephens of the Farm Credit Administration, declares there are more fair weather signs than storm warnings in the economic outlook for agriculture.

In a Capper's Farmer report, Stephens says the vast majority of American farmers are now in a sound financial position. This is in sharp contrast to the shaky situation of many farmers following World War I.

Stephens lists these indications of the sound heartbeat of agriculture:

1. Farmers have 91 percent equity in their business. Total farm debt amounts to 9 cents for each dollar of farm assets. Nationwide, we have $7.2 billion of farm mortgage debt against $93 billion of farm real estate value.
2. Country bank deposits in twenty leading agricultural states have doubled since World War II and are five times greater than 1940.
3. The index of prices received by farmers is 260 percent of the 1910-14 base period. Most dependable index of farm prosperity, farm real estate prices, is off two percent nationally but shows little weakness in stable farming areas.

"Consumers are in a strong position to buy farm products," Stephens adds. "Employment is at an all-time high.

In the first quarter of 1953, spendable income per person reached $1,547"

We have also greater investment in business and industry, Stephens points out. Investment is being maintained at a rate of more than $50 billion annually compared with $30 billion in 1947 and $10 billion in 1939.

"That's swell," you say, "but prices I'm getting are going down and the prices I have to pay are staying up."

You're absolutely right, The average ratio of prices you receive to prices you pay has dropped fifteen percent in the last two years.

This means more efficient farming operations are necessary to make a profit these days, reminds Stephens. Shifts must be made in the methods of farming and financing.

Current strategy should emphasize low cost of production and an efficient size of business. It also should point up the use of low-cost credit, which is presently very important.

FATHERHOOD NO LONGER GROUNDS FOR DEFERMENT

Lt. Col. Frank R. Kossa, Indiana State Director of Selective Service today called attention to the fact that fatherhood, as such, will no longer be ground for deferment.

The President's Executive Order of July 11, 1953 provided, Col. Kossa reminded, that men deferred as fathers before August 25, 1953 will continue to be deferred, but beginning today (August 25) registrants not now deferred as fathers cannot use fatherhood as a basis for attaining deferment unless they can show that their induction would result in extreme hardship and privation to their dependents.

In the past, some of the temporarily deferred registrants acquired dependents during the period of their temporary deferment and thus gained a virtually indefinite deferment from service. This additional deferment as a result of fatherhood constituted an injustice, Col. Kossa said, and it has resulted in the calling up for duty of many younger registrants earlier than they normally would have been called.

Registrants who filed evidence of fatherhood before the August 25 deadline must, it was explained, maintain a bona fide family relationship with their children in their homes to be eligible for continued deferment. Failure to maintain this family relationship removes the cause for continued deferment.

Although men who became fathers before today's deadline will continue to be deferred, this does not constitute a permanent classification. Col. Kossa pointed out that these men have had their age of liability extended from age 26 to 35 and they could, by a change in regulations, be made available for induction in event that conditions require the services of these registrants to maintain the strength of our Armed Forces.

HONEGGER BREEDER HATCHERY

FORREST, ILLINOIS

"The Nation's Largest U. S. Certified Hatchery"

BRYAN TO BE DISTRIBUTORS FOR HONEGGER LEGHORNS

The Bryan Poultry Farm has recently been established as a Honegger Associate Hatchery. This announcement has great significance to our community, for it means that Bryan will be able to offer to his customers, beginning with the 1954 season, a quality Leghorn chick bred for high egg production and backed by years of selective breeding and U.S.R.O.P. trapnest records. The new arrangement provides that the Associate Hatchery return to Honeggers' Breeder Hatchery each year for both pullets and cockerels of the foundation stock, and thus he has the advantage of all the latest improvements in the quality of the stock.

A unique advantage in the new plan is that since Honeggers are releasing breeding stock only to those hatcheries that are associated with them under the terms of the Associate Hatchery agreement, the Bryan Poultry Farm has exclusive rights to hatch and sell Honegger Leghorns in his territory.

Honeggers' poultry breeder, Mr. A. P. Loomis, is recognized as one of the foremost breeders in the country. He was one of the first to realize that the bird of tomorrow is coming from the work that poultry breeders are doing in testing the combining ability of the strains within the breeds. The Honegger Blended Bloodline involves a combination of pure Leghorn strains that have "nicked" unusually well, as evidenced by the fact that all eight of the Honegger entries in last year's official egg laying contests finished in the high ten of their respective tests.

Breeder Loomis's most outstanding achievement was the winning of last year's American Poultry Journal trophy for having bred the five highest entries of any breed or breeds or combination of breeds, in all U.S. official contests, owned by one entrant.

The Honegger Associate Hatchery plan was devised to supply the ever-increasing demand for this superior chick. Associate Hatcheries get their foundation stock annually from Honeggers and hatch locally chicks that are of identical bloodlines to those produced by Honeggers' Breeder Hatchery.

KOREAN VETERANS ARE ADVISED TO APPLY NOW FOR FALL SCHOOLING

Hoosier veterans who plan to enter school this fall under public law 550 are advised that they will receive their initial subsistence checks sooner if applications are made at once. There will be a rush of applications after early September, which will slow up the processing of applicants. Early application will greatly assist the veterans administration in getting the initial payments in the mail soon after the end of the first month of school.

Under the bill, monthly payments range from $110 to the veteran with no dependents to $160 to the veteran with more than one dependent. Proof of dependency must be submitted to the veterans administration so that it is necessary to secure certified copies of marriage certificates, birth certificates and other documentation. As an application for education and or training also requires either photostatic or certified copies of separation papers, the veteran should immediately get such papers recorded in the office of the county recorder.

Further information and assistance may be had at the office of any county service officer, acting under the direct supervision of the veterans' state service department. The Kosciusko County Veterans Service office is located in the basement of the court house, Warsaw, Indiana.

FIRST DIAL TELEPHONE

INSTALLED AT AKRON

Mr. I. W. Belle, Commercial Manager at North Manchester for General Telephone Company of Indiana, Inc., announces that the work preparatory to the dial conversion of the Akron telephone exchange was progressing on schedule.

Construction of the new central office building is well underway, and it is expected that the building will be ready for the installation of the central office switching equipment the latter part of next month.

Much of the outside plant is being rebuilt, and drop wire and house wiring is being replaced with new. Over 700 new dial telephone instruments are scheduled for installation by November. The dial telephones are the new Leich instruments, designed for either wall or desk type installation.

"It is estimated that over $125,000 in gross expenditures is being made to the telephone plant to give Akron one of the finest dial telephone systems in Indiana," said Mr. Belle.

HIGH ENERGY

ALL-MASH RATION

Poultrymen of this area are interested in the high-energy all-mash poultry ration which Dr. F. W. Hill of Cornell University, discusses in his recent article in The Poultry Tribune.

Dr. Hill claims this ration increases egg production about 5%, which could mean about one dollar more revenue per bird.

Swift and Company has developed this feed for you. See us about it today.

STRICTLY BUSINESS

by McFeatters

"Meet Dr. Sprockle, the rocket expert!"

DON'T LET THAT

PICKER "PICK" YOU

Is your corn picker a pickpocket? It could easily be. Your picker can spill dollars all over the cornfield when various parts aren't adjusted properly.

Improper adjustment of your picker can cost 5 to 10 percent of your corn crop, states Capper's Farmer. Be sure your corn picker is all set to go for the big harvest. Spending a few hours now adjusting parts may mean $10 to $15 more an acre.

Some of the important parts to check for wear and adjustment are the husking bed, snapping and husking rolls, bearings, chains, slip clutches and the elevator.

But above all, warns the farm magazine, play it safe. Never leave the tractor seat nor adjust the machine without first throwing the picker out of gear.

When adjusting the picker, particularly in the rush of corn harvest, there are times when you are tempted to take a chance and hurry the job. And it's easy to get the habit of taking chances. But sooner or later you and the habit get broken — the painful way.
