METHODIST CHURCH NEWS

Last Sunday morning the congregation of the local church sat attentively for over an hour to the message of Miss Virginia Priest of Red Key, Ind. Miss Priest has recently returned from the Old Umtali Mission in Southern Rhodesia, Africa. She illustrated her address with slides of the Mission and African life scenes which she titles "Down the African Path." Briefly she told about experiences related to wildlife preserves and a trip to Victoria Falls (twice the heighth of our Niagara Falls). Her encounters with cobras, baboons, giraffs, etc. were humorously related and excitingly received. Life in a mission is not without its dangers and excitement, for puff-adders and cobras have some tendencies to visit class rooms and invade the privacy of missionary living quarters.

Miss Priest has been at Epworth Forest for the past six weeks helping with classes and programs for Institutes. When the local youth attended early in July, she was Cottage guest, along with a young lady from India. Epworth Forest provides many "first-hand" experiences with Nationals and Missionaries of Christian churches. This next week when several of our local Intermediates will be attending Camp Adventure, Miss Priest will show more of her slides of accounts of the adventure of serving Christ in the Mission field. She is a teacher in the Old Umtali Mission of seventh grade, but when she returns it will be as the wife to the Secretary of Missionary Education and illustrator of literature for the missions of the Methodist Church in Southern Rhodesia.

African life and relate many more true

The many curios she exhibited attracted the attention of old and young alike, The African hunting knife in its wooden sheath, the drum, carved articles from ivory, horn, teak wood and ebony, a cloth bag woven from the fibers of tree bark; baskets, and bead work. Miss Priest is the product of our own Epworth Forest youth program. Much of her encouragement and help came from Rev. Thurman Morris, our Warsaw District Superintendent.

The sermon topic for this Sunday's Service is "Meet the Gladiolus," a sermonic lesson taken from the iris family of flowers.

All of these problems, they feel, can be overcome through better in-tegration of local and national planning. In this respect, President Eisen-hower had this to say about water management in his first State of the Union message

President Favors Partnership

"The best natural resources program will not result from federal bureaucracy. It will involve a partnership of the states and local communities, private citizens and federal government, all working to-gether. This combined effort will advance the development of the great river valleys of our nation and the power that they can generate.

Students of the nation's water problems generally are agreed that: 1. In the past, too much emphasis has been placed on flood control and not enough on flood prevention;

- 2. Generation of hydroelectric power should be incidental to
- the primary purposes of flood control, reclamation or navigation in the planning of water projects; 3. A broad base of cooperation
- should be substituted for present dependency on single-purpose government agencies.

There are many things that must be done if we are to make and keep our water pure and in abundance. It is a job for local agencies—local peo-ple, local businesses, civic groups, ple municipalities and states working together, with the federal government helping with the planning and financing only when called upon to do so when the job is too big for local W

He spent considerable time at the extensive corn breeding plots where he learned of the latest methods in developing inbreds and crossing them for most effective results. He saw one field of 75 acres containing 15,000 different crosses developed by Charlie Gunn. DeKalb's senior plant breeder. He heard DeKalb's newest plant breeder, Dr. Sherrett Chase, who described how he can produce a 100% pure inbred in one year whereas the old method took six years to produce a 98% pure strain. Loring Jones, another specialist, described methods he is perfecting to produce seed without the expense of detassling. And finally, he heard more about the 25 new varieties being released this year as perfected end products of this vast research program. Three of these hybrids have been specifically produced for this farming area At DeKalb's poultry breeding farm, he heard from Drs. Schnetzler and Jones how they are constantly improving DeKalb's several types of chicks, which are produced by inbreeding methods similar to hybrid corn. He found that the public is demanding more white eggs so that most of the Dekalb effort is going to perfect their white egg strains, the 101 and 111. He heard how the new type is replacing the standard breeds just as surely as hybrid corn replaced open pollinated corn twenty years ago.

4-H CLUB CHATTER By Ruth Snellenberger

Dear 4-H Members and Friends,

Because exhibiting at the County Fair next week brings to a close the 4-H year for home economics project members I'd like to make a few last minute reminders.

First, every member is required to exhibit in order to be a complete member. Record books are to be brought to the Fair where each will be checked to learn that minimum work requirements have been completed.

Second, the County Fair catalog (pages 31 thru 34 for 4-H Home Economics Department) gives all the information as to time exhibits are to be entered and on which day. Quoting from the catalog: "All Clothing, Home

The 4-H Home Economics exhibits are located in the south portion of the Woman's Building on the Fairgrounds portion of the Woman's Building. and will be open to the public on Wednesday morning, August 11.

Third, labels for exhibits are being provided through the County Extension Office. Most leaders have received them for distribution to club members. If a member has not received any by the time she brings her exhibit for entry, she may procure necessary labels at the building. There are special labels for canning.

Fourth, Food Preparation members are urged to be sure dishes are marked with their name written on adhesive tape secured to the bottom.

Fifth, division one Baking members are urged to be sure to bake their plain butter cake for exhibit in a square pan. Those little girls who did not bring cakes for judging at the Exhibit Helps for their club may have missed hearing about this even though it is written in the standards and project clarification sheets.

Sixth, State Fair entries will be selected wherever there is a class available. The article will be marked on the ribbon with a purple seal stating "Selected for State Fair Exhibit." These selections will be recognized as representing the best in Kosciusko County. These exhibitors will be notified as to when and how exhibits go to the State Fair.

Seventh, 4-H Home Economics Demonstrations will be given Wednesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons at 1:30, 2:30, and 3:30. Demonstrating will be some of the girls receiving blue ribbon placings during the county contests. The public is invited to watch these demonstrations given in the south

Eigth, clubs that are scheduled to serve as hostesses in the building should have two or three girls on duty. Be sure to be prompt and report to the hostesses being relieved so each will know a new club has begun duty. Also one group should not leave the building until another group reports. Armbands will be provided.

Ninth, project record books will be kept for grading by competent per-sons. Every effort will be made to have them available for return at the September 17 adult leader meeting.

Tenth, junior leaders are reminded that to complete work as a junior leader each is required to attach a record sheet to one of your project record books. These sheets have been distributed at a junior leader meeting. Any member not receiving one should procure it at the County Extension Office. Next week, I'd like to pay tribute to

Nation's 4-H'ers Seek to Cut Death Toll of Farm Folk on Rural Highways

Look out, young feller!

CHICAGO - (Special) - "Make Safety Your Number One Crop," the slogan of several million rural boys and girls throughout the nation since its introduction in 1945, continues to be fostered by more than 615,000 4-H Club members. They are taking part in the 1954 National 4-H Safety Program being conducted in 46 states for the tenth consecutive year. Participants receive training in farm accident and fire prevention, safety experts as being a valua-ble contribution to the nation-wide campaign to reduce the tragic annual toll of 15,000 lives and 1,225,000 disabling injuries to form foll. to farm folk.

to farm folk. In conducting their surveys, the 4-H'ers look for such safety hazards as loose or floppy cloth-ing worn about moving farm ma-chinery, cluttered stairways, oily rags, frayed electric cords, broken ladder rungs and sharp tools. What is becoming an increas-ingly serious problem is that accidents to farm people caused by motor vehicles now account for nearly one-fourth of all deaths and injuries that occur on rural highways, Also, 700 of the fatal farm accidents reported last year involved wheel tractors. One-third of the fatal tractor accidents reported involve persons under 20 years of age. One case in ten was a child under 5.

To help correct this problem, the 4-H'ers are giving highway safety demonstrations before farm groups and over local radio farm groups and over local radio stations, as well as putting win-dow displays in town stores and boths at county fairs. The 1954 National 4-H Safety Program is conducted by the Co-operative Extension Service. As incentives for outstanding records in the program, General Motors provides medals of honor which are presented to four county win-mers, and an all-expense trip to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago to the state winner. Eight of the latter will be se-lected as national winners, each receiving a $300.00 college receiving a $300.00 college scholarship.

AMERICAN LEGION AUXILIARY Nine members of Mentone Unit 425 American Legion Auxiliary met at the Post Home Tuesday evening August 10. There were not enough members present to hold a regular business meeting, but an informal discussion was held as to plans for the coming year. The nominating committee has been unable to present a slate of new officers because no election can be held unless a quorum is present. The officers hope that each member will make an effort to be present at the next meeting on September 14

Shiela Fitzgerald, Mentone's representative at Hoosier Girl's State was present at last night's meeting and she gave a very interesting and detailed account of her week at Girl's State. It is unfortunate that more members were not present to hear this report, for it certainly gives us a better understanding of one of the many worthwhile things the American Legion Auxiliary sponsors.

Can you identify the farm pictured above? This is another of the farm pictures to be printed in the Co-Op. News, and as no one knows whose farm it is, can you help identify it? There's no prize to the first to tell us whose farm it is, but it is interesting to know who will be first in reporting the information to this newspaper.

No one called to identify the farm pictured in our last issue. Did you recognize it?

If you recognize the farm pictured in this issue, give us a telephone call. We do not know who the owners are, and we are not sufficiently acquainted with the farm buildings to do it ourselves.

STITCH AND STIR 4-H NEWS

The Stitch and Stir 4-H club met at the home of Mrs. Herman Olson and then we went to the Rochester Park Aug. 14th. The meeting was brought to order by Alice Surface, our vice president, because our president, Connie Doyle, was unable to be present. We lost one member, Tana Sue Henderson. We have not heard from the lady who sponsors the home and garden books yet. We decided to have a bake sale at Lemler's Market Aug. 28th at 9:30 a. m. Alice Surface gave a talk about Washing Your Utensils After Using Them," Donna Eaton spoke on "How to Balance Your Meals," and Susan Doyle spoke about "Your Health." Mrs.

CO-OP HDWE.

Olson, Mrs. Romine, Mrs. Eaton and Mrs. Besson checked our record books while the girls built a fire to roast our wieners. After the books were checked the fire was just about right so we ate wieners, marshmallows, salad, potato chips and grapes and drank lemonade and iced tea. Watermelon was for dessert. After eating we gave our secret sisters their gifts and I'm sure everyone had lots of fun and would like to do it again. We didn't go home until 7:30 p. m., which shows how much fun we had.

INDIANA BANKS PRINCIPAL FARM LENDERS IN STATE

Indiana farmers continued to go mostly to the state's banks to meet their credit needs during 1953, according to K. A. Riner, vice president, Farmers State Bank, who represents the Indiana Bankers Association as Kosciusko County Key Banker.

Quoting from the thirteenth annual farm lending survey of the Agricultural Commission of the American Bankers Association, Mr. Riner noted that banks were by far the largest lenders to the state's farmers during the year. On December 31, 1953, Indiana banks had loans totaling $125,599,000 outstanding to farmers; while the insurance companies, the financial agencies with the second largest amount of farm loans outstanding, held only $93,424,000 at the same time. In addition to their regular lending operations, Indiana banks also held $34,683,000 in C. C. C. loans under the government's price-support program, which is not included in the above bank total.

"The banks have been encouraging farmers to make better use of their present acreage through modern methods rather than buy additional land during this period of high land prices,' Mr. Riner said. "The bulk of the farm loans held by banks are production loans rather than real estate loans. Production loans include credit to finance growing and marketing of crops; breeding, raising, and fattening of livestock; purchasing of modern equipment;; and the like. Banks held $73, 326,000 of these production loans at the end of 1953, compared with $21,516,000 and $4,900,000 held by the Farmers Home Administration.

THE NORTHERN INDIANA CO-OP. NEWS

The remaining $52,273,000 in farm loans outstanding in banks at the beginning of this year were made up of farm mortgages. All of the $93,424,000 held by insurance companies were mortgages, with $29,179,000 in mortgages being held by the Federal Land Banks and $6,594,000 held by the Farmers Home Administration.

Mr. Riner reported that all but 9 of the 469 insured commercial banks in Indiana served agriculture by making credit available to farmers during 1953. 'In this day of mechanized, highly competitive farming, meeting the credit needs of agriculture is one of the most important service of the state's banks," he said.

4-H CLUB CHATTER

Dear 4-H Members and Friends, With exhibiting at the County Fair

as the final event of the current 4-H year, it is fitting and proper that this CHATTER be a tribute to 4-H adult leaders. To express an appreciation of their work I find myself searching for words to do it justly.

As I think about the work of 4-H adult leaders, I feel they are people who are willing to learn - because leaders say they learn new information and practices through helping 4-H members; they are people who are good managers - because leaders not only manage their families and households, but also keep their 4-H clubs organized, have regular meetings, check progress held by Production Credit Associations of club members' projects and record keeping, arrange for club members to take part in county events, give some instruction in project work, contact club members for committee or other meeting, transport some club members for meetings; they are people who have patience and understanding — because sometimes club members fail to bring record books at the specified meeting for checking, or maybe the record book is lost, or some members leave required project work to be done until just before exhibit time when it might have been done last winter or early summer; they are people who are charitable because leaders give much, much time and energy for 4-H club work for which only a few of the 46 4-H home > services. Certainly a tribute to the fine adult leaders our county is fortunate to have would have to include appreciation of the cooperation given by members of their families. Many instances can be cited in which family needs were slighted while Mother was helping iinish some 4-H activity.

With 516 members enrolled in 1099 4-H economics projects, much credit is due to the adult leaders. It was their efforts which is making the 4-H exhibit at the Fair what it is.

To each adult leader I say "Thanks. May God bless each of you."

Want a demonstration of a home cleaner that uses neither Iris Thrawl of Holly, Mich.; Mr. and paper or cloth bag to collect dirt and gritty paricles that are swept up from the cleaned surface?

With a vacuum cleaner that has a bag, either paper or cloth, this problem comes up: As the boy fills with dirt the suction power of Minnie Anderson and daughter Berthe cleaner is choked off, and since most modern electric cleaners remove dirt by suction alone it's easy to see why Filter Queen manufacturers have done away with a bag in their cleaners.

Here's how the Filter Queen works. The dirt filled stream of air taken into the Filter Queen is swirled with hurricane force around the inside of the machine. Heavier dirt particles actually are thrown to the sides and dropped to the bottom by gravity. The tiny particles are filtered from the air stream and also find their way to the bottom of the machines Spacious metal container.

How? With the air of the Filter Queen's patented filter cone plus gravity.

Today's Filter Queen removes dirt from furniture, rugs, furnace and machinery.

VISIT IN EAST

From July 13 through July 23 the David P. Gosser family visited Western New York and Western Pennsylvania. Points of interested visited were Detroit, Niagara Falls, Watkins Glen, Corning Glass Center, Old Fort Niagara, Fort Necessity built by George Washington, and Penn Yan. This last named was a community hit by a terrific wind storm like that which was so destructive in Fort Wayne two weeks ago

Mr. Gosser visited four church camps in Pennsylvania: Jumonville owned by the Pittsburgh Conference of the Methodist Church, the Presbyterian camp at Pine Springs, the Lutheran camp at Sequanota, and the Evangelical-Reformed camp at Shadyside. This was part of a study of church camps being carried on through the Epworth Forest Foundation Study Committee.

Relatives in the Pennsylvania cities of Ellwood City, Pitcairn, Greensburg, Somerset, Jeanette, Derry, and Delmont were visited. It was hoped that the daughter of Lucy Gosser Plummer would have arrived in time for inspection, but after arriving home at 4:30 a.m. the Gossers were awakened by a telephone call at seven-thirty the same morning stating that dark-haired Kath-

Since other Mentonites have visited Niagara Falls since the Gossers and prior to the breaking off of the 185,000 tons of rock from Prospect Point and the American Falls, the weighty fall can hardly be blamed on any one weighty visitor.

Mr. and Mrs. John Roth of Arcola were Sunday callers at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Orville McFadden.

Mrs. Hill and Mrs. Rans are going with the County Chorus to California. Mr. and Mrs. Emory Davis and family and Mrs. Jim Miller were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Boganwright.

POCKET TESTAMENT LEAGUE BUSY IN JAPAN

The Pocket Testament League announces that 4,551 PTL converts in Japan have completed the first section of a Bible study course. 206 Japanese converts have completed the entire twoyear Bible course — plus the memorization of 108 Bible verses.

Mr. Alfred A. Kunz, Executive Director of The League, states:

"PTL has always had a policy of careful follow-up of each person who makes a profession of faith as a result of our Scripture distribution and Gospel rallies. We are now very happy and fortunate to have the loyal cooperation of The Navigators in our follow-up work in Japan. This followup is done with two main objectives: first, to give the new Christian all possible help and encouragement in launching out on the Christian life; and second, to help him become an effective witness who will win others to the Lord Jesus Christ.

"It is encouraging to note that over 10,000 Lesson Ones have been sent out mas a direct result of the witnessing of those already enrolled in the course." Included among those who have completed the first section of the Bible study course are 173 converts in Hiroshima, where the first atom bomb was dropped; 45 in Nagasaki and 272 in Tokyo.

The boys and girls who particlpated in this year's 4-H Farm and Home Electric Project did a wonderful job! See this exhibit of the entries made by the 1954 County winners, in the old Red Cross building just north of the center of the Manufacturers building.

Also-be sure to see the joint exhibit of the electric companies of Indiana and the REMCs-featuring crop drying, automatic feed processing, irrigation and automatic watering devices for livestock. This display is in the center of the Farm Machinery section along 42nd Street. • Hoosier fairs are the show windows of agricultural progress... demonstrate the miracles of new and better machinery and equipment ... illustrate the latest improvements in farming methods... stimulate the interest of youngsters and their parents alike in earning recognition for achievement. No wonder everybody likes to go to the Fair!

Back of the blue-ribbon crop exhibits and the prizewinning livestock entries is the story of dependable electricity, and how it is helping Hoosier farmers do a bester job with less time and labor. On Indiana's modern electrified farms electric milking parlors, barn cleaners, slio unloaders, portable elevators, grain dryers and scores of other electric helpers are ready to serve at the touch of a button or the turn of a switch.

Northern Indiana Public Service Company is proud of its part in the progress recorded at Indiana Fairs every year. By continually planning and building ahead, this Company is helping to insure progress in the future on the farm, in the home, in business, and in industry.

4-H CLUB CHATTER By Ruth Snellenberger

Dear 4-H Members and Friends,

In this tribute to parents contributing to 4-H club work I'd like to cite remarks and situations which occurred during the county fair. No, I won't relate all incidents, just a few of those depicting the good things about parents. In so doing I hope influence in the right direction can be stimulated for all parents.

A little girl and her mother approached me with a sherbert dish containing applesauce for division I, food preparation exhibit. It had spilled enroute to the fair! The question directed to me was "Would it be all right to exhibit after the outside of the dish were cleaned?" To this I replied that I felt it would, but that probably the judge would consider the amount left as a serving. The mother spoke up and said they could go to a friend's home four miles away to prepare more. The little girl said she wanted to make some more. Away they went. On a dish just like the one the little girl had had

I later saw a blue ribbon. I don't know who the little girl or the mother was, but to me there was an exemplary attitude.

Another mother and her little girl were standing near the exhibit of 131 butter cakes in division I baking. She stated that she did not know every girl got a ribbon but that she thought ther "My little girl's only got a red ther "My little girls only got a red ribbon but she has learned so much, I have, too." A good attitude, couldn't you say?

Another parent related procuring a particular kind of general purpose flour for her little girl to use for making her baked product. She had particularly explained to the girl where it was. After collecting all her equipment and supplies, the girl prepared and baked her cookies. The new flour had been unopened. There was no time to bake PHONE 138 others. The exhibit received a white ribbon. The parent (a leader, too) had helped the girl to a certain point and then the girl was left to help herself - a case of a helpful parent but not a doing-parent.

Many instances of parent interest and cooperation could be mentioned. Since 4-H club project work is work in the home and on the farm, the parent NEEDS to know what is expected of the 4-H member, be INTERESTED in helping her or him, and to COOPER-ATE both with her or him and the club leader to accomplish what is expected in a given project. To the many many parents who have been so ready and willing I say "Thanks so very very much."

To make our 4-H home economics club work bigger and better, I'd like to take this opportunity to ask that if any of you have suggestions for improving our 4-H club program I would be glad to hear from you. Many of you have heard me say before that anyone who has a fault to find cannot do so justly, in my opinion, unless a substitute idea can be given. I'm not asking for bouquets, either. I'm, sincere. You parents hear remarks of your children that sometimes the leaders or myself know nothing about.

Fine thing! I started out by trying to tell parents how fine I thought they were to support and boost 4-H club work and ended by asking another favor of them!

Thanks, parents, for ALL your help.

INDIANA BUILDING UP ITS FISHING AREAS

Drive just a few miles from home today in Indiana and chances are you'll come across a good spot to fish.

Some 517,000 Indiana residents and 32,000 out-of-state anglers last year bought licenses to fish in Indiana's 950 lakes and 18 state parks.

Chas. M. Hayes, president of the Chicago Motor Club, said the popularity of Indiana fishing was due to increased building of artificial lakes on farms. The accessibility of lakes and streams by auto is another important factor.

For example, Hayes pointed out, angler-motorists living in 15 northern Indiana counties received a fishing gift tion outhorities released 20,000 legalsized trout into lakes and streams. Trout ranged in size from 7 to 12 cago Motor Club.

inches with the day's catch being limited to 15 per angler. A one-dollar special trout stamp is required in addition to a license.

Typical of the Conservation Department's new lakes for fishing is the Willow Slough Game preserve in Newton county.

Located only 60 miles south of Chicago, it is attractive to many metropolitan ishermen. It is a 1500-acre lake with 750 acres open to fishing for large mouth bass, bullhead, crapples, and bluerills.

Not only are state and county lake systems being expanded, but Indiana farmers each year are adding approximately 1,000 ponds which are suitable for fish stocking.

When lights gleam from electric lines overhead, it means a car is coming over a hill ahead, warns the Chicago Motor Club.

PURCHASING CONTINUES HIGH AT FARMERS' CO-OPS

Although summer buying by farmers has slowed, probably due to drouth, sales of farm supplies by Indiana Farm Bureau Cooperative Association were up 9.86 per cent in July as compared with July, 1953. The largest increases were shown in seeds, 109 per cent; building materials, steel and coal, 42 percent; and feeds, 22 per cent.

During the first seven months of 1954 the co-op sold $36,301,276 worth of supplies, or 13.88 percent more than Wednesday, August 18, 1954 in the same period of 1953. Building materials showed a gain of 32 per cent, feeds and fertilizers 22 per cent, and petroleum products 10 per cent.

Sales reports have been received from 37 of the total of 85 county cooperatives of Indiana. In the first six months of 1954, their sales to farmers were up 11.3 per cent as compared with the same period of 1953.

The Chicago Motor Club advises: take notice of the turn signal lights on the car ahead. Hand signals are not always given.

DO YOU RECOGNIZE THIS SET OF FARM BUILDINGS?

The fire department was called to the Byron Nellans home Wednesday forenoon when a smoke pipe came off a coal hot water heater. Mrs. Nellans managed to get the pipe back in place by the time the department arrived and there was no serious damage. The boys suggested that maybe the dog had a part in knocking the pipe off the small heater.

WHOSE FARM IS THIS?

Can you identify the farm pictured above? This is another of the farm pictures to be printed in the Co-Op. News, and as no one knows whose farm it is, can you help identify it? There's no prize to the first to tell us whose farm it is, but it is interesting to know who will be first in reporting the information to this newspaper.

Call, phone or wrte us if you believe you know the farm.

Judging by the replies we have received, the farm pictured in our last issue was that of Glen Mellott, north of Mentone on Road 19. Mrs. Donald Horn, Ralph Fretz, Adam Bowen and Harold Horn called to identify it. One other call was received, but the party left the line before the name was distinctly understood.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kendall and daughter and Janet Capes, returned Saturday after an eight-day trip that took them through the Smoky Mountains, and to St. Augustine, Miami and Key West, Florida. They visited with relatives in Georgia.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Dull of Lancaster. Pennsylvania, arrived Sunday for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Romine. The men met while serving in the armed forces.

Mr. and Mrs. Jaceph Biker, and daughter Linda and Mrs. Baker's mother, Mrs. Ella King. 82, have returned from a two weeks trip west. They visited with relatives at Wichita. Kansas and Mr. Baker also visited the Vornado fan and air conditioner plant while there. They went on to Pike's Peak and Rocky Mountain National Park.

METHODIST CHURCH NEWS The following people attended Camp Adventure at Epworth Forest last week: Suellen Long, Rachel Walters, Larry Hatfield, Larry Nellans, Reed Riner and Timmy Utter. This was the first occasion for an extra week of Intermediate Camp beyond the usual six weeks of District Camps. Seventyfive youth who were unable to attend the regular camps were at Epworth Forest at this time. The attendance at this camp has grown from 50 and 60 campers per week to the capacity limit of 120 per week. It is thought that this "Overflow Camp" may become a regular week of camping to care for all Conference youth (Intermediate age) unable to attend the District Camps.

Rev. Gosser believes that the demand for Junior and Family Camps in the Church Program is fast increasing and that provision will probably soon be made in the Methodist Church of this Conference for these camps. Church sponsored camping is one method of teaching God-consciousness and the religious experience of human relationship with God. Epworth Forest already is touching the lives of from four to five thousand youth a summer and over two thousand adults of the North Indiana Conference. Dr. George Fenstermacher is at present acquiring the statistics of this year's contact. Not only are the facilities among the best of church camps but the program is of the highest Christian caliber. At the Older Adult Conference held in Epworth Forest Hotel last week, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Sniders were among those in attendance. This program, too, is a part of the larger Epworth Forest Program which helps utilize our church property to capacity. A report of this conference will be made in the Church enter your car." Be DANGEROUS CARGO Refusing to pick up a hitchhiker may save your life, according to Chas. Hayes, president of the Chicago M. Motor Club.

The Club president pointed out that if your life is spared by a hitchhiker, it's possible that your pocketbock won't be. Many motorists find themselves on the receiving end of personal injury suits started by hitchhikers whom they so thoughtfully befriended. Illinois and Indiana, according to the Motor Club, prohibit standing in a road to solicit a ride. Similar laws are found in other states.. There is a penalty on the driver who picks up a hitchhiker in Texas, Minnesota and New Jersey.

"When you see a wagging thumb beckoning you along the roadside, think," Hayes warned. "That same thumb may be clutching a pistol a few minutes after you permit it to

The hitchhiker is an unfair beggar when he asks others to pay his transportation costs. There may be exceptions such as soldiers on leave, accident victims, etc., but such solicitation can be made at such time and places that the character of the individual can be determined.

WITH THIS common sense plan, 80% of the feed is your own or locally grown grain! We mix it with Master Mix Layer Concentrate over a tested high efficiency formula to produce a really low cost egg mash that will help your hens lay lots of eggs. That's the sure road to higher profits . . . more eggs at less cost.

Want a demonstration of a home cleaner that uses neither paper or cloth bag to collect dirt and gritty particles that are swept up from the cleaned surface?

With a vacuum cleaner that has bag, either paper or cloth, this problem comes up: As the bag fills with dirt the suction power of the cleaner is choked off, and since most modern electric cleaners remove dirt by suction alone it's easy to see why Filter Queen manufacturers have done away with a bag in their cleaners.

Here's how the Filter Queen works. The dirt filled stream of air taken into the Filter Queen is swirled with hurricane force agiund the inside of the machine. Heavier dirt particles actually are thrown to the sides and dropped to the bottom by gravity. The tiny particles are filtered from the air stream and also find their way to the bottom of the machines

How? With the air of the Fil-'ter Queen's patented filter cone plus gravity.

MUCH MORE FERTILIZER NEEDED IN WHEAT TODAY

If you want an investment that is almost certain to net a return of several dollars for each dollar you spend, fertilize your wheat.

Fertilizer is a paying proposition in the hard red winter-wheat country as well as in the soft-wheat states, say crops and soils experts.

F. W. Smith, Kansas State College, points out that wheat is "a slow eater with a big appetite," thus soil nutrients must be in a quickly available form for the most rapid growth.

A 30-bushel wheat crop requires about the equivalent of 150 pounds of ammonium nitrate (33-0-0), 100 pounds of superphosphate (0-20-0), and 40 pounds of muriate of potash (0-0-60). About three-fourths of the nitrogen and phosphate and one-third of the potash are lost in the harvested grain. "In Kansas we now use at least 20

MASTITIS IN DRY COWS

Dairy cows often get mastitis when they're dry, so don't forget them in your control program. A surprising number of cows become infected the first 2 or 3 weeks after they are dried up, according to Dr. H. S. Bryan, University of Illinois veterinarian.

"The teat opening doesn't become sealed quickly enough in the dry cow. As a result, mastitis germs may multiply in the small amount of milk at the opening and spread into the utter," Dr. Bryan explained in Capper's Farmer

"Some dairymen lick this problem by having a veterinarian inject an antibiotic into the udder soon after the cow dries up," he said. "This destroys the infection in the udder and kills the only germs that may enter during the dry period.

In 80-bushel corn last year, the Illinois combine-picker had losses totaling only half the average. George E. Pickard, Illinois farm machinery specialist, said he questions whether it's practical to put the whole corn stalk through the combine, however.

FISHERMEN RETURN

Evidently the ten boys who spent last week fishing northwest of Duluth, Minnesota had a swell time. Bob Riewoldt, who thought himself the least experienced in fishing, seemed to come up with the honors. He managed to haul in the first bluegill, and then to add insult to injujry to the other nine, a northern pike decided to feast on one of Bob's bluegills before it was landed, so he just brought in both fish on one line from a cane pole.

I haven't heard the details, but the fish diet may have been a trifle tiring. anyway Bob grabbed a 25-pound turtle by the tail and the menu was changed. It rather reminds me of the hunting cook on a trip to the northwoods. He was getting tired of cooking bacon while four or five hunters sat in the cabin while the woods were full of fresh game. The hunters, tiring of his sarcastic remarks about their hunting ability, etc., told him to do something about it himself.

And as things usually go on such occasions, the cook grabbed a gun and ing. started out. His first live game happened to be a rather large bear, and his first shot wasn't fatal-only irritating to Mr. Bruin-and he proceeded to run the cook out of the country. Right in the middle of an interesting Studies; Marie Holsinger, Commercial pinochle game, the cook, with about a ten-foot lead on the bear, crashed in the front door of the cabin. FIRE DEPARTMENT FISH FRY ON SATURDAY NIGHT

The members of the Mentone Volunteer Fire Department will hold their annual fish fry at the new Mentone Gym on Saturday night, Aug. 28th, with serving starting at 5:30 o'clock. The firemen have a reputation of putting on a real feed each year, and the net proceeds from the venture are used for the purchase of new equipment or replacements to the fine firefighting department.

The boys are always ready to answer our calls for help in time of fire, and in addition perform other services that are of great value to the. community and its citizens. Their annual fish fry is just one of those occasions when we can partially show our appreciation for their unselfish service.

DO YOU RECOGNIZE THIS SET OF FARM BUILDINGS?

Silver Lake, R. 1 Silver Lake, R. 1

WHOSE FARM IS THIS?

Can you identify the farm pictured above? This is another of the farm pictures to be printed in the Co-Op. News, and as no one knows whose farm it is, can you help identify it? There's no prize to the first to tell us whose farm it is, but it is interesting to know who will be first in reporting the information to this newspaper.

Call, phone or wrte us if you, believe you know the farm.

The farm pictured in our last issue was that owned by Mr. and Mrs. Rex Witham and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Flenar, one and one-half miles west of Mentone on Road 25. The 21-acre farm was formerly a part of the Forrest and Goldie Kesler farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Flenar reside on the farm and her husband helps with the farming on the Kesler place also. They have four children: Diane, aged 6 years, Lynn, 5; Brett, 4, and Dan, 2.

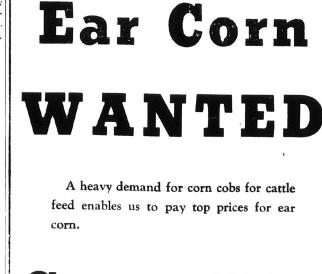

Other than Mrs. Flenar, Kenneth Kinsey was the only one to call and properly identify the farm.

4-H CLUB CHATTER By Ruth Snellenberger

Dear 4-H members and friends. With the County Fair over, I thought you all might be interested in a kind of summary of events.

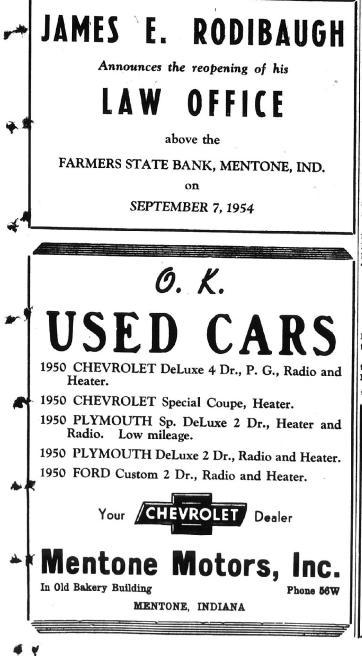

In the 4-H Home Economics deartment there were 885 exhibits of which 264 received blue ribbons. 385 received red ribbons and 202 received white ribbons.

project having the greatest enrollment. those counties whose 4-H enrollment Division I of Baking had the greatest number of entries, for which there were 131 plain butter cakes.

In case you are interested in participation in other projects, the number of exhibits in each are as follows: Food preparation, 232; Clothing, 196; Food Preservation, 50; Home Improvement, 11; Crafts, 41; and Electric,12. Entries were submitted for State Fair exhibits in 41 4-H classes. Perhaps a word of explanation is in order here in that only one entry per county

Baking exhibits numbered 343, the is permitted in each class except in exceeds 2500 members.

Now that the 'game' is over for this year (practically so) and the score is tallied, the challenge to continue in club another year or to quit is at hand. How good a sport are you? Everyone can't win all the time. Not everyone agrees with the umpire all the time; even so his decision holds.

Sure ,4-H club work is a game! A person becomes a good baseball player or a good bowler through practice,not by quitting after the first or second game! I can't help but mention here that the biggest drop off in 4-H is between the second and third years.

Will 4-H parents and leaders try to encourage these first, second, and third year members, all members for that matter, to continue in 4-H° club work. Individual members can see benefits derived from 4-H work more readily after they've participated several years. Then, too, most recognition and awards are made to members enrolled five years or longer.

Another comment about the fair exhibits. Anything left (food items were disposed of) in the exhibit building was taken to the county extension office in the basement of the courthouse. Members are asked to claim them, including dishes and ribbons, at their earliest convenience.

Project record books are being graded and will be given to their adult leaders at their September 17 meeting.

It would not be possible to summarize fair activities without acknowledging the fine work and time given by 4-H leaders, parents, and members. Thanks to each and every one of you. 'Bye now.

UREA IN DAIRY AND BEEF FEED By DR. W. W. CRAVENS

What Is Urea?

Urea is a chemical compound containing a high percentage of nitrogen. data indicate that urea nitrogen (pro-Most proteins contain about 16% of tein equivalent) is satisfactory for fatnitrogen. Urea, on the other hand, contains about 46% nitrogen. Thus, pure urea supplies about 2.87 times as much nitrogen per unit weight as a pure protein. We see a great deal about one pound of feed urea being equivalent to 2.62 pounds of protein. This is because much of the urea offered for feed manufacturing purposes is diluted slightly with some material to make it free flowing and easy to handle in feed manufacturing operations.

How Is Urea Utilized by the Ruminating Animal?

Urea is not used directly by the ruminating animal. The microorganisms of the rumen use the nitrogen of urea for their own growth and multiplication. trogen from urea cannot be used by These microorganisms, or bacteria, are then digested and broken down in the same manner as protein and the amino acids are absorbed into the body of the animal.

What Factors Affect the Utilization of the Nitrogen of Urea by the Animal?

The nature of the diet to which nonprotein nitgrogen (urea) is added influences the growth and multiplication of rumen microorganisms, and therefore the utilization of the nitrogen of urea. Nitrogen utilization from urea, for example, is most efficient in low protein rations (10 to 11% protein equivalent). Efficiency of urea nitrogen utilization declines as the level of protein in the ration increases. This was emphasized by a USDA Dairy Nutritionist who stated that "it appears that when urea is added to a mixture containing 10 to 11 percent of protein, it may be utilized to the extent of 60 to 80 percent; but if it is added to a mixture already containing 16 to 18 percent of protein, it will be utilized to the extent of 40 percent or less."

The type of carbohydrate in the ration affects the utilization of nitrogen in urea. Too high a level of readily soluble carbohydrates such as molasses would tend to decrease the efficiency of utilization of non-protein nitrogen. The presence of starch improves the utilization of non-protein nitrogen, and, of course, the grains are very rich in starch. A certain amount of mixed with feed and have not caused readily available carbohydrates must be present in the ration because the urea is one of the most serious hazmicroorganisms cannot use urea when they are dependent for their growth follow mixing and feeding directions on complex carbohydrates, such as cellulose in fibrous roughages.

All of these factors have been taken into consideration in fomulating Master Mix 32% Cattle Supplement and Master Mix 44% Dairy Supplement. When these are fed as recommended. there will be efficient utilization of the nitrogen of the urea.

It is very important to keep in mind rations balanced in minerals and vitathat only a certain proportion of the mins. When the urea plus grain is nitrogen of proteins can be replaced by urea nitrogen. In general, most tening catle when urea provides no more than 20 to 25% of the protein equivalent in the total ration. The value of urea for fattening calves appears to be somewhat less than that for fattening older cattle. When more than 25% of the total nitrogen in the complete ration is provided by urea, the value of urea declines. This information may help to answer questions regarding the levels of urea used. Some people may think that sill higher levels 'can be used with the corresponding savings in feed cost, but the maximum amount of urea nitrogen that can be used has been determined by how animals perform. Of course, nithe animal until rumination begins The rumen (paunch) is generally developed when calves are about four months old, and urea-type feeds should not be fed before this age.

Long time experiments with dairy cows demonstrate that from the standpoint of milk yield and maintenance of body weight, urea can be used with satisfactory results in properly balanced rations such as we are recommending. With the levels of urea contained in Master Mix .44% Dairy Supplement and 32% Cattle Supplement, there will be no abnormal effects upon reproductive performance, composition of the milk or general health when fed as recommended.

Is urea toxic? It has been found that the feeding of high levels of urea for extended periods of time brings about definite toxic symptoms. Excesssive urine is produced. The kidare damaged and enlarged. neys Greater danger appears to be associated with acute urea toxicosis. The sudden ingestion of as little as 4 ounces of urea by cattle or 1/3 ounce by sheep results in labored breathing, tetanic spasms of the muscles and prostration with one-half hour. Death has occured following the abrupt consumption of relatively small amounts of urea undiluted by feed. Amounts larger than those we are using have been fed for long periods of time toxic symptoms. Improper mixing of ards in using it. For complete safety, carefully.

Is it always economically sound to use urea?

Urea supplies no energy, and thus its use necessitates a supplemental energy supply. It has been estimated that one pound of urea plus six pounds of grain is equivalent to seven pounds of 41% protein oil meal in low protein cheaper than the oil meal then it would be economically sound to use urea. When urea plus grain costs more than the meal, then it would be economically unsound to use urea. These and many other factors have ice cream social on the church lawn on Thursday evening, August 26. There faken into consideration in formulatwill be home-made ice cream, cake, ing the new Master Mix 32% Cattle Supplement and Master Mix 44% Dairy Supplement. These are high-quality feeds and are not filled with low grade ingredients. We have simply replaced part of the high-protein feedstuffs with urea, and are confident that good results will be obtained when these feeds are used as directed. Master Mix Cattle Supplement can be used in exactly the same manner as Master Mix Beef Concentrate for animals over four months of age. The mixing chart on the tag of the 44% Dairy Supplement, or the supplemental feeding card give directions for proper use of Master Mix 44 per cent Dairy Supplement.
