Whose Afraid of One Little Needle?

Dr. Urschel reports that we need have little fear for the future of our nation, if the courage displayed by the current younger generation is a true guide. For the past ten days the Doctor has been giving the second polio shots to a large number of our local younger citizens. He reports that almost without exception, they march in readily, take their shot without a whimper, and walk out with a smile on their face. Several stalwart individuals have even come in without their parents, a particularly high brand of courage at the age of 7 and 8.

Queen Contest Closes Saturday

The voting for the queen of the Kosciusko County Fair closes early Saturday, and people of the Mentone area are urged to lend their support to Mentone's candidate, Miss Rita Olson.

The contest is sponsored by the Alpha Beta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority, in cooperation with the Kosciusko County Fair Board, and is being conducted for the purpose of raising money to provide a speech and hearing therapist for the schools of Kosciusko County.

Your vote for your candidate by placing your contribution in the containers in the places of business listed in an advertisement in this issue, or on the midway at the fair.

Dean Witham Dies As Auto Leaves Road

Tragedy struck in the Mentone community again about 5:45 Saturday evening when Harry Dean (Curly) Witham lost his life when the auto he was driving left the road in a driving rain and overturned in a drainage ditch, in the sink-hole area just north of the Robert Heighway place on Road 19, south of Mentone. His wife, Violet, was thrown clear of the wreckage and suffered only cuts and bruises and a broken left arm, above the elbow.

The Withams were going south towards Akron and according to Mrs. Witham, was driving about 55 miles an hour when she suggested he was going a little fast for the wet, slippery highway. As he let up on the gas the car skidded on the pavement, left the road on the left side in time to hit a low stump. The impact with the stump threw the car end over end and it landed in the ditch with the top on a pile of rocks. Mr. Witham's feet were beneath the car. He suffered a facial fracture that caused death.

A Moyer boy, from Akron, was following the Witham car and when he saw the accident he drove on to the Highway home and called his father who came with an ambulance to bring the injured people to the office of Dr. Urschel in Mentone. Mrs. Witham was taken to the Murphy Medical Center at Warsaw in the Johns ambulance where she re-

4-H Club Chatter

By Ruth Snellenberger

Dear 4-H Members and Friends,
Is the 4-H achievement record contest being held this year?

Yes, very much so. In fact, greater participation than last year is expected. The deadline date that they may be received in the county extension office is September 1. And that's definite according to the plans set up by the achievement record committee.

The junior contest is for all 4-H'ers who are under 14 years of age and for those 4-H'ers over 14 years of age with less than three years club experience.

The senior contest is for 4-H members 14 years of age anytime this year or older and with three or more years of club experience.

With additional club congress trips and Washington, D. C., trips awarded at the State Fair project records become increasingly important. This in turn adds to the importance of an all-over achievement record.

Achievement record books will be accepted at the county extension office anytime after the county fair but not later than September 1. Members are encouraged to get them in right away not wait until school starts and other activities begin.

After the senior records are graded some will be selected for state competition. Persons whose records are selected may then be asked to write a story of her or his achievements in a particular project. In girl's work achievement records may be submitted for state awards for general 4-H achievement, food preservation (canning), citizenship, clothing, electric, food preparation, frozen foods (a special record book required, too), home economics project achievement, health, home improvement, leadership, recreation and rural arts, safety, and community relations. In addition special forms can be submitted with other records for fire prevention scholarships, school of nursing scholarships, American Income Insurance scholarship, and J. R. Watkins scholarships. Interested members should make inquiry about these. Maybe you can win something!

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our gratitude and thanks for the kind words, many cards and beautiful floral pieces in our recent sorrow.

ORRIN E. MILLER FAMILY

Purdue University agricultural engineers urge farmers to plan needed farm ponds during the coming fall months. Pond sites should be carefully selected and then surveyed. A good job of construction is of utmost importance.

Cows due to freshen during September and October should be given a rest period of six to eight weeks, according to dairy specialists at Purdue University. If pastures are good, two to five pounds of concentrates daily will be sufficient.

Lime Tonnage Shows Decrease

Farmers in Indiana applied an estimated 1,584,735 tons of liming materials to their fields in 1954, according to extension agronomists at Purdue University.

M. O. Pence, Purdue agronomist, reported the figure was a considerable reduction from the 2,449,700 tons used the previous year.

Most of the tonnage, an estimated 1,440,668 tons, was used in the (ASC) program according to the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation state committee.

Decreased use of lime by farmers in 1954 will result in a rising level of soil acidity according to Purdue agronomists. The present level of use will need to be ever-increased to aid materially in better stands of legumes and in turn maintain and improve soil tilth.

Lime's main function in the soil is to correct active acidity for better crop production and to favor lime-loving legumes such as alfalfa and sweet clover. When lime materials are lost from the soil, either through leaching or removal by live-stock and crops, their loss results in increased acidity.

Legumes then often fail because the soil becomes too acid for their survival. And a failure of grasses and legumes often results in a loss of organic matter, poor tilth, lowered waterholding capacity and increased erosion, all of which make for lower crop yields.

Even acid tolerant legumes, such as soybeans of lespedeza, are greatly benefited when acid soil is limed. Lime in proper amounts may conserve or make other essential nutrients more available.

On the other hand, agronomists point out, farmers should avoid overliming. Such a practice, particularly on loams and sandy loams tends to lock up certain trace elements such as manganese and boron and make less available other soil nutrients.

Excessive liming can be prevented by having soil tests made to determine lime and other fertility needs, particularly before reliming. Farmers who have not yet limed their pastures should have soil tests made and apply lime as needed. Interested farmers should contact their county agent about soil tests which are made for a nominal charge at Purdue's soil testing laboratory.

Lime should be used on the farm where it is most needed and when convenient to apply, preferably ahead of legume seedings. The benefits of liming last for as much as eight to ten years. But agronomists add that effort should be made to spread the lime evenly over the land. Streaks often show up in fields of legumes because lime was spread unevenly.

Entomologists at Purdue University report corn borer infestation is moderate to heavy in many parts of Indiana. Second generation borers will quite likely attack late planted corn. Purdue entomologists will keep county agents advised of the situation.

Our Slip Showed

In an article in our last issue, regarding a meeting of the W. S. C. S., the linotype operator failed to correctly catch the proper spelling of a few words and the article lacked proper meaning. We always regret such occurrences and can assure you that there are never evil intentions involved when this happens.

Mrs. Pearsons, in the article, introduced a guest, Miss Solomon, from India, and in her dress included an outfit that was draped loosely at the waist with a stole effect.

The pictures were taken by the Zekan & Robbins photographers, Harlan, Iowa, and are all of farms in the Mentone trading area. The pictures are not identified and it will be up to the owners or neighbors to notify this newspaper office. The pictures were taken by airplane and not even the photographer knows one from the other. It will be interesting to see who is the first to identify the pictures each week. Phone Mentone 38. We will endeavor to publish the names of each person correctly identifying the pictures each week.

The farm owner will be given the original 5 x 7 mounted picture absolutely free of any cost. All we require is that the operator himself come to our office and give us a little information about the farm, its operation, etc. Additional prints, colored enlargements, etc. can be obtained by contacting this newspaper.

Wisely Farm Pictured Last Issue

The farm pictured in our last issue was that of Hollis and Martha Jane Wisely. The 80-acre farm is located a mile north and a half mile west of Tippecanoe.

The Wiseleys have been on the farm for ten years and raise a number of hogs and chickens in addition to doing general farming.

Those who called and properly identified the picture were Orville Elzinger, Mrs. Ota Fields and Jennie Ford.

We still have not heard from the owners of the farms pictured in our two previous issues. Can you identify them?

Good Roughage Aids Dairy Herd Output

Lafayette, Ind.—Annual production on Hoosier dairy farms can be increased if more good quality roughage is fed, reports G. A. Williams, extension dairyman at Purdue University.

Eleven herds on test in the Montgomery county DHIA show a wide variation in the amounts of roughage consumed per cow. Five herds comprising 108 cows ate an average of 5787 pounds of hay and 1916 pounds of concentrates. Feed cost averaged $245 and income $308.

In the six remaining herds, feed costs per cow were $125 but income was only $185. These herds were fed an average of 3216 pounds of hay and 2682 pounds of concentrates.

This difference of $123 less income per cow can be accounted for in two ways, Williams says.

Butterfat production per cow was 61 pounds less in the low roughage group and the amounts of concentrates fed was 766 pounds greater.

Roughages supply digestible nutrients at much lower cost than concentrate. Growing and feeding abundant supplies of high quality roughages is the best plan for a dairyman to maintain efficient production at low feed costs. At least 6000 pounds of hay equivalent per cow each year is a practical and profitable goal which Indiana dairymen should strive to maintain, Williams concludes.

NOTICE TO TAXPAYERS OF ADDITIONAL APPROPRIATIONS

Notice is hereby given the taxpayers of Harrison Township, Kosciusko County, Indiana, that the proper legal officers of said municipality at their regular meeting place, on the 30th day of August, 1955, will consider the following additional appropriations which said officers consider necessary to meet the extraordinary emergency existing at this time.

No. 22 Janitor Service 325.00
Total $925.00

TUITION FUND
No. 29 Pay of School Teachers $4500.00

Taxpayers appearing at such meeting shall have a right to be heard thereon. The additional appropriation as finally made will be automatically referred to the State Board of Tax Commissioners, which board will hold a further hearing within fifteen days at the County Auditor's office of Kosciusko County, Indiana, or at such other place as may be designated. At such hearing, taxpayers objecting to any of such additional appropriations may be heard and interested taxpayers may inquire of the County Auditor when and where such hearing will be held.

Purdue Conducts Subsoiling Tests

Lafayette, Ind.—Hoosier farmers interested in subsoiling are reminded that the most effective soil shattering season is approaching.

Purdue University agricultural engineers say that subsoiling is most effective when soil is dry and hard. Each year subsoilers become more popular as tools for breaking up hard pan or compacted soil layers.

When the subsoilers are pulled through hard ground, a trench is opened and layers of hard pan are shattered on both sides of the implement. The shattering action is only found when the ground is hard and dry.

Draft of the machine is not much greater when the soil is dry than when moist.

A. L. Neuhoft, Purdue agricultural engineer, has recently completed a preliminary study on the draft requirements of subsoilers in a number of soil types.

Results to date indicate that a tractor of given horsepower is able to pull a mounted subsoiler deeper than a trail-type machine because of increased rear wheel loading. Another benefit observed was that the loading on the tractor's rear wheels, increased as the depth of subsoiling increased.

In one case the increase in rear wheel loading was 3200 pounds. As a result the tractor was able to pull an additional load of 1500 pounds which would not have been possible with a horizontal drawbar load.

Dr. J. B. Liljedahl says the testing program will continue until questions asked by farmers and equipment manufacturers are answered.

Persons seeking additional information on subsoiling should write to the office of agriculture publications at Purdue University for extension leaflet 370, "Subsoiling," and Mimeo AY 57a "Subsoil Fertilization."

Straw Harmful To Legume Crops

Lafayette, Ind.—Combined straw from small grain crops often results in heavy loss of legume stands.

M. O. Pense, Purdue University extension agronomist, and Les Hill, Purdue extension agricultural engineer, agree that steps should be taken to remove straw from fields which yielded more than 25 bushels of wheat and 40 bushels of oats per acre.

Clipping is necessary after heavy yields to enable legume and grass seedlings to survive. Baling the straw after the stubble is clipped is the best practice, Purdue specialist report. Both sickle bar and rotary mowers are in use over the state to clip straw after combining.

A wheel type rake can be mounted in front of the tractor to rake windrows directly in front of the baler pickup. An extra tractor and raking operation is thus saved. Good success has been reported when the mulch left has been cultipacked into contact with the soil.

Straw choppers are available for some models of combines. The chopper shreds the straw and distributes it evenly over the field.

A direct cut forage harvester has been used with some success in chopping straw left by the combine and the stubble at the same time. The greatest problem encountered in this operation is feeding the bunched straw on to the header.

Saving the legume stand is more soil conserving than saving the straw, the Purdue specialists report. Burning of straw is not recommended under any circumstances.

Straw should not be clipped where sweet clover was seeded. Extensive root growth is made by sweet clover in late summer and early fall of the first year and can be severely damaged or killed by clipping after grain harvest. Sweet clover stands heavy straw and stubble competition better than other legumes.

True clovers and alfalfa may be clipped close to the ground. Close clipping helps to control weeds but does not interfere with recovery growth that comes from crown buds at the soil surface. Limited pasturing helps work the straw to the ground and will not harm the clover unless continued too late in the fall.

Max Blackburn, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Blackburn, submitted to an operation at the Woodlawn hospital on Tuesday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Miles Manwaring returned home Saturday from a two weeks vacation.

Dear Art,

I thought I should let you know of the change in my address and also thank you for sending the paper.

We put our ship out of commission last month so now I have shore duty in San Diego. We thought I would have to go over seas again but this came through so I got by with just three times over.

We want to thank you very much for sending the paper. We enjoy reading it very much and trying to guess whose farm it is in the pictures. I guess we have guessed about four or five of them.

Thanks again for the paper and tell everyone hello. We'll see you all sometime around March of next year.

Yours Truly,

Mentone, Ind.

Dear Artley,

Just a few lines to you to let you know that I am still existing. Have had good weather conditions to date and driving hasn't been so bad.

The first day we drove from home to Elkhart and picked up the Kosciusko County boys at Warsaw on the way up. We left Elkhart at 11 a. m. and arrived in Springfield, Illinois, at 6 p. m. We stayed at a scout camp near Springfield all night.

The second day we drove from Springfield to Fort Scott, Kansas, approximately 370 miles, driving through the Ozarks, rather hard at times, had to travel slow, third gear most of the distance of 100 miles. We got along nicely however, the boys have been very cooperative so makes it much easier. Am doing all the driving.

Wednesday, our third day, we drove from Fort Scott to Dodge City, Kansas. Roads are in better condition then we found in Missouri.

Thursday, our trip (4th day) was only 62 miles. We visited a museum owned by a Mr. Beeson and also saw Boot Hill in Dodge City before leaving. The park department in town where we were camping, provided four local Scouts as guides. Then about 9:30 a. m. we started for Garden City arriving at 11 a. m. We are at the city park and zoo for the night. Tomorrow we will go to La Junta, Colorado and spend the night with the Keesor Indian Scouts, A famous Indian dance troop. They have invited us to a special entertainment for the evening.

We plan to be in camp at Phil-mont from Aug. 13 to the 22nd.

This brings us up to date, so I will drop you a letter a little later. Wayne Tombaugh

College Professor Attacks Seeds

Davis, California—"The only way to have a beautiful lawn at a minimum cost is to plant a seed mixture containing adequate amounts of high quality permanent grass," Louis N. Bass of Iowa State College advised members of the American Society of Agronomy here yesterday.

Speaking at the turfgrass session, Bass said, "There is no finer grass available for lawns in areas where Kentucky bluegrass is adapted than that grass itself." He pointed out that bluegrass is suited over a wide variety of conditions in a major portion of the United States.

"A home owner who buys lawn seed at a low price will probably obtain an unsatisfactory lawn because most low-cost lawn mixtures contain little or no Kentucky blue grass or other permanent lawn grass," Bass continued. "Pretty pictures on seed packages are sometimes misleading; therefore, the public should be constantly reminded to buy according to analysis and reliable brand rather than package glamour.

"Seed control officials are aware of the unsuitability of much of the so-called lawn seed currently on the market and are contemplating the desirability of setting up official formulas, by states, for lawn seed mixtures, to contain adequate amounts of seed of permanent grasses such as Kentucky Bluegrass and Highland bentgrass," he concluded.

Mentone Home Demonstration Club Meets

The Mentone Home Demonstration Club met at the home of Mrs. Linus Borton of Mentone with a picnic at the noon hour. Following the dinner the meeting was opened by the twenty members present repeating the pledge to the flag and the club creed and followed by singing "America the Beautiful". Mrs. Esther Sarber gave the Meditation by giving three readings, "One and One Makes Two", "End of a Journey" and "Beating the Heat". The history of the song of the month, "Holy God We Praise Thy Name" was read by Mrs. Helen Weirick and sung by the group. Mrs. Harry Vernet gave a few remarks on Civil Defense which was very interesting. She emphasized, we should be on the alert, prepared to seek refuge if in danger of being bombed.

The lesson on Arrangement of Furniture was then given by Mrs. Bertha Meredith, the points emphasized most were, Think of members of family, not things or furniture arranged for convenience rather than looks and stay away from extreme and follow the general trend.

Roll call and secretary and treasurer's report was read by Mrs. Opal Tucker. Business was then taken care of by Mrs. Esther Sarber. A committee was appointed to select the officers for the coming year.

The meeting was closed with the Club prayer song, after which Mrs. Grace Sullivan, Mrs. Harry Vernet and Mrs. Mina Nelson received gifts from their secret pals.

Auction was held with Mrs. Pearl Gates and Grace Sullivan the highest bidders. The door prize was won by Mrs. Helen Weirick.

The next meeting which is guest day will be held at the home of Mrs. Esther Sarber Sept. 8th, with the lesson on New Fabrics by Reba Pyle.

There were also present, two guests and two children.

Vacations Are Big Business

Vacations are big business according to figures released by the Chicago Motor Club. This year a 75 million vacation American families will travel a total of 18 billion miles and spend about 630 million dollars on gasoline, oil, tires, lubrication and car service.

Ten million alone will be spent on sun glasses while 500 million will go for holiday clothing, 50 million on camera supplies and 30 million on cosmetics and drug sundries. The vacation spots the vacationers visit will spend about 13 million on advertising.

The Chicago Motor Club travel experts go on to say that while this total is a great deal of money you must remember that it represents an estimated 20 million vacation trips. More than 4 out of 5 of these travelling families will go by car.

The family car is the only way vacationers can see and do so much at the low cost of 10 cents per mile. According to the Club two adults will spend about $30 a day if they travel an average of 300 miles a day.

This budget allows $9 a day for car operating costs such as gasoline, oil, lubrication etc. Gasoline and oil consumption alone usually account for about 2 and one half cents per mile of operation at a daily average of $8.00. Meals and lodgings are computed at a daily average of $5.00 a day covers admissions, refreshments, souvenirs, tolls and other incidentals.

Mrs. Pearl Horn and daughter Marilyn, and Mrs. Mary Kelley and daughter were shopping in South Bend, Tuesday.

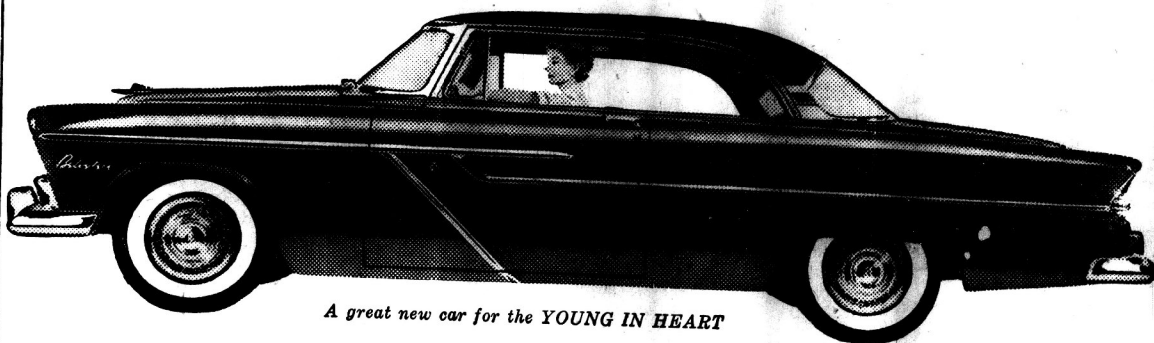

Mr. and Mrs. Milo Fawley were Sunday afternoon callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Dunnuch of Leesburg.

4-H Club Chatter

By Ruth Snellenberger

Dear 4-H Members and Friends,

A "new project" in the 4-H home economics field I'd like to discuss a little today. I call it "new" because it has not completely and definitely been outlined as yet.

The 4-H Girls' Management project was tried for the first time in Kosciusko County this year. Participation was by invitation only to girls 16 years of age or older who had completed at least five years 4-H club work. Seven girls enrolled and selected one of the five divisions in which to do home management work. A simple record sheet was completed by each.

The five divisions were: (1) house care management with activities such as care of woods, rugs, walls and up-holstery materials, selection of new furniture pieces or re-doing old pieces re-arrangement of a room, (2) laundry management with activities to include doing the family washing and ironing, rearranging laundry room, helping select new equipment, and learning about types of soaps, detergents, as well as other cleaning agents; (3) child care management with baby sitting activities, selection of stories and play equipment appropriate for children, the making of some play equipment; (4) money management to include plans for spending, learning to distinguish between needs and wants, trying to list needs when shopping in order to resist spur-of-the-moment shopping; and (5) personal management to include analyzing one's good traits and those which offend others, trying to improve one's self in order to get along better with others at home, in an office, or in some other job.

At the last meeting of this county club specific requirements will be outlined for another year.

Special help with the future of this project has been given by Elener Norris, who, while attending National 4-H Camp last June, met with boys and girls of other states to discuss future 4-H projects. Some particular features she reported that were of special interest to me were that the group recommended both older boys and girls be in the club, that there be no exhibit but that a high percent attendance be required, and that panel discussions and talks by members related to various phases of management be scheduled for the meetings of the club.

Just as home economics as a school subject is no longer cooking and sewing, so must 4-H project work broaden to include many phases of family living.

This 4-H Club Chatter column terminates the series since I am leaving my position as 4-H club agent. In this manner I wish to thank each and every one of you for the fine things you said to me about the column. I hope it has proven helpful.

Let's keep 4-H work growing in the county!

Waterways Will Combat Gullies

Hoosier farmers should take immediate steps to combat small, menacing gullies.

Late August and early September is the ideal time to stop gully erosion with grass waterways seedings, according to Purdue University agricultural engineers. They say spring rains and the intense heat and possible drouth of summer make it undesirable to try seedings any other time.

Farmers should take an inventory of their fields within the next two weeks to check on possible erosion problems. If waterways are needed, farmers should stop at the county extension office for a free copy of extension leaflet 337, "Grass Waterways."

This publication was prepared by Purdue agricultural engineers in cooperation with the Soil Conservation Service. It tells farmers how to shape the channel, prepare the seedbed, fertilize and maintain the waterway.

Dairy Farmers Are Optimistic

Lafayette, Ind.—Most dairy farmers in northern Indiana are moderately optimistic about the future, according to agricultural economists at Purdue University.

Farmers who anticipate a profitable future, however, have adopted the latest cost-cutting techniques and have made their business more efficient than it was three to five years ago.

Bob Suter and Lewis Beeler, specialists in farm management at Purdue, contacted 107 dairy farmers in Elkhart, Marshall and St. Joseph counties to study different systems of management used.

Farmers who have not changed their crop rotations and farm organization during the last 30 years are not as optimistic as those who have accepted new developments.

Economists reported that farmers, who have reduced the amount of small grain in their rotation from two years to one year are satisfied with the financial gain. On some of the farms surveyed, corn acreage had been increased through the use of commercial nitrogen. On other farms the acreage of roughage had been increased.

In general, farmers agree that still more improvements are needed in the dairy business. The majority of the farmers contacted feel that they must either invest additional capital to increase the size of their herds and the efficiency of their operations in the next few years or withdraw from the industry.

Thirty-two farmers with milking parlors, who plan to stay in dairying, indicated they will add an average of 4 or 5 cows (4.7) to their herds in the next few years.

Fifty-six farmers with stanchion barns are hampered somewhat by the size of barns and other fixed equipment and are hesitant to switch to milking parlors. Many of those farmers are "stand patters" who anticipate no changes whatsoever.

Those farmers who have an opportunity to change their dairy operations are converting to the milking parlor and loafing barn system. Milking in a parlor is easier, saves labor, and is more flexible.

In general, most farmers are reluctant to spend more than an hour and a half milking the economists found. As herd size increases from 10 to 12 up to 30 or 40 cows, the labor per cow declines rapidly, according to the results of the survey.

POULTRY RAISERS NOTE

A few weeks of summer sun does more damage to any type of roof than many months of other kinds of weather including heavy rains, snow, ice and sleet.

Since light and heat are both derived from the sun, the relationship of color to temperature is evident. Because a white object reflects light it also reflects heat. Black absorbs light and therefore absorbs heat.

Light colored roofs reflect light and deflect as much as 20 per cent of the sun heat hitting your roofs thus protecting the roof structure and making much cooler interiors.

Here is another picture in the second series of farm photos to be printed in the Co-Op. News.

The pictures were taken by the Zekan & Robbins photographers, Harlan, Iowa, and are all of farms in the Mentone trading area. The pictures are not identified and it will be up to the owners or neighbors to notify this newspaper office. The pictures were taken by airplane and not even the photographer knows one from the other. It will be interesting to see who is the first to identify the pictures each week. Phone Mentone 38. We will endeavor to publish the names of each person correctly identifying the pictures each week.

The farm owner will be given the original 5 x 7 mounted picture absolutely free of any cost. All we require is that the operator himself come to our office and give us a little information about the farm, its operation, etc. Additional prints, colored enlargements, etc. can be obtained by contacting this newspaper.

Identifies own Farm Picture of Last Week

The farm pictured in last week's issue of the News was identified by Lester Bruner as the old Pete Phillips farm which Mr. Bruner purchased last fall. The farm is located two miles west of Claypool's overhead bridge. Mr. Bruner is engaged in general farming on the 80 acres.

No one else called to identify the farm picture.

William C. Miller of Middlebury R. 1, Maurice W. Dorsey of Syracuse R. 2, and Irvin W. Shultz of LaGrange are new members of the FHA Advisory Committee in Elkhart, Kosciusko and LaGrange counties respectively. The announcement was made today by the FHA Supervisor at Goshen, Harry Weiland. They succeed Robert L. Snoberger of Goshen R. 2, Ersell D. Wright of Syracuse R. 3, and Raymond E. Smith of Howe R. 1.

The other FHA Committee members who will serve with Mr. Mill in Elkhart County are Merle H. Tyson of Wakarusa, R. 1, and Lloyd G. Stump of Goshen. The other FHA Committee members who will serve with Mr. Dorsey in Kosciusko County are Chester A. Brown, Syracuse R. 3, and Donald E. Chilcote of Warsaw. The other FHA Committee members who will serve with Mr. Shultz in LaGrange County are Waldo E. Seagly of Topeka and Elmer F. Harp of LaGrange R. 1.

There is a Farmers Home Administration county committee in every agricultural county in the country. The committee determines the eligibility of applicants and helps the county supervisor adapt the agency's loan policies and services to local conditions. Each member is named for a 3-year term, and one appointment expires each year. A member completing his 3-year term cannot succeed himself. At least two of the members must be farmers.

The Farmers Home Administration makes loans to farmers to buy, improve, enlarge or operate efficient family-type farms. It also lends money to farmers or their nonprofit associations to establish and carry on approved soil and water conservation practices. Purposes include establishing, improving permanent pasture, terracing, soil erosion practices and many other conservation measures, as well as irrigation and farmstead water improvements. Most of the soil and water conservation loans and loans to buy, improve or enlarge farms are made from funds advanced by private lenders and insured by the agency.

Before the agency can make any loans, the applicant must have the approval of the county committee. In the case of a farm township loan, the farm to be purchased, enlarged or improved must also be approved by the committee.

The agency does not make a loan of any type to an applicant whose credit needs can be handled by other credit sources.

The local Farmers Home Administration Office is in Room one of the Spohn Building of Goshen. Sub-office hours are held at the ASC Offices in LaGrange on the 1st and 3rd Mondays, one to four p. m. and in Warsaw on 2nd and 4th Mondays from 1 to 4 p. m.

July Milk Production

Dairy farmers who sold milk in the Chicago market during July will receive $3.44 a hundred pounds for this month's production.

This price is paid for 3.5 per cent butterfat milk which is delivered in the 70 mile zone.

The July prices average 14 cents higher than the June prices and are five cents above the July 1954 level.

The milk prices were announced by the Federal Milk Market Administrator's office in Chicago, today.

The July prices are beginning to reflect seasonal increases. Normally the fall milk prices increase to a peak in October or November.

Harry Edwards, who is responsible for keeping milk markets for over 15,000 dairy farmers in the Chicago area, places the major reason for the increased milk price on the improved production and sales picture. Milk production has stayed considerably below last year, while sales of milk has increased. Over the past 10 months these conditions brought an increase in the prices.

The decrease in production up to the present time has been caused by farmers leaving the Chicago market. Since January 1954 the number of dairymen shipping milk to Chicago has steadily declined.

In July, however, the Milk Market Administrator shows that this trend was reversed. In July there were more dairymen shipping milk to the Chicago market than there were in June.

It is too early to tell whether the trend will continue, Edwards said.

July milk production reflected the end of the base-and excess price period. During this period many farmers in northern Wisconsin found that they could use their excess milk in other ways more profitably than by sending it through the regular trade channels.

This excess milk which was diverted during June came back on the market during July. As a result, the production figures for the market showed a 7 per cent decrease in June and only a 5 per cent decrease during July compared with the same months a year ago.

Children's Pictures Taken Free and Published in News

It is an undisputed fact that the responsibilities of tomorrow's world, our Nation, and Community will rest upon the shoulders of the children of today. Since this is true, the publishers of this newspaper would like to give you a good look at the future "World Builders".

The only way we can do this is by publishing pictures of them in a feature series. To assure the latest and best reproduction pictures... they must all be of uniform size and quality... we have invited the Woltz Studios of Des Moines, Iowa, a nationally known portrait studio, to take these special pictures for us.

An expert children's photographer for the Studios, with all the necessary equipment for this specialized work, will be here Tuesday, August 30. Pictures will be taken at the American Legion hall and will be open from 10:00 am. to 6:00 pm.

No Charge to Parents

There is no charge to the parents. There are absolutely no strings to this invitation. It is bonafide in every sense of the word. Parents do not have to be subscribers, nor even readers of this newspaper to take advantage of this feature. Neither are they obligated to purchase pictures after they are taken. Those who want some additional prints may obtain a limited number by arrangement with the Studio representative when they select the pose they want printed in the paper.

It is entirely up to them.

The More Pictures, the Better

The News simply wants pictures of all the youngsters and the more, the better. So the Mothers and Fathers of the community in which this paper circulates should remember the date, Wednesday, August 30 at 10:00 am. to 6:00 pm. and not fail to bring their children to the photographer.

You will be mighty glad, afterwards, if you did, and very, very sorry if you do not permit your children to participate in this event. The kiddies will have much fun and both Mother and Dad — and the youngsters, too — will be very proud to see their pictures in print later. Appointments by calling Mentone 124.

41 Present At Reunion

The 54th annual reunion of the Laird relatives was held at the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Newton, August 14th, 1955, with 41 present.

The day was an ideal one for the gathering. Herbert Laird from Bourbon, was oldest (91).

The tables at the noon hour were beautifully decorated, by the hostess, Mrs. Newton, and a very delicious dinner was spread on tables, which was brought by all present.

After the noon hour was over, a program was given, by different ones, letters were read. Piano selections were played by Mrs. Gates from Huston Texas. Margaret Laird from Jeffersonville, Indiana, Janey and Nancy Newton sang a song each. Franklin Newton gave a number on the piano.

During the social hour ice cream was served. Then after the visiting, good bye's were said and all hoped to meet again next year. Everyone had a very enjoyable time.

Last Minute Menus...

...a cinch, with a FOOD FREEZER!

Whatever the delay, you can whip up a meal in minutes... with the help of a food freezer. Fruits, vegetables, pastries, meat, poultry, etc.—

they all stay fresh for months! You can fill menus for the entire month with just one trip to the store. And by cooking meals in advance, you do away with last minute emergencies completely.

A food freezer actually cuts food costs through quantity buying and smart seasonal purchases. It's the nicest thing that's happened to women... and to the whole family... for a long, long time.

Band Seeding Pays Dividends

Lafayette, Ind.—"It's easy to sow legumes and grasses by the band seeding method," reports Les Hill, extension agricultural engineer at Purdue University.

Band seeding, a proven farm practice, controls the flow of seed out of the grain drill grass box and allows the seed to fall directly over the buried fertilizer.

Less seed is required and better stands are produced through band seeding. Equipment needed is not expensive, according to Hill.

Many farmers have made brackets and hoses to convert their drill's to do seeding in a band. Although impressed by the results, many farmers are dissatisfied with their homemade band seeding attachments. Hoses that are too stiff and brackets which bend and will not place the discharged seed as desired are typical complaints, Hill says.

Most implement companies have anticipated the desire of farmers to band seed. Some drills now on the market and new models soon to be released are designed to band seed the pasture mixtures.

Several implement companies can furnish conversion kits for their older drills which makes an easy job of converting the drill to a band seeder. Other companies are producing parts to make the conversion possible on all drills and are supplying these through implement dealers and farm equipment suppliers.

Universities, implement companies and farmers, who are band seeding, are convinced that the practice is profitable. Stands of legumes and grasses should improve rapidly through the use of new band seeding equipment.

Farmers who desire additional information should contact their county extension agent.

No High School At Burket This Year

The school battle in Seward township appears to be gaining momentum daily, with opposing forces searching desperately for an argument that will decide the situation in their favor.

The latest, perhaps, in the battle is a petition by a number of the taxpayers to request the county commissioners to merge Seward township with Lake and Clay townships, with the complete abolishment of what is now known as Seward township.

Trustee Fred Blackburn has announced that there will be no high school at Burket this year, but the grade schools will be maintained at Burket and at the Franklin school.

High school students will likely go to the Claypool, Silver Lake, Mentone and Beaver Dam high schools. Indications are that the students are to make their own choice of schools.

This publication has a rather lengthy personal opinion letter regarding the Seward township problem, and as a public service to its readers, the Co-Op. News will also be available for readers to express their opinions on matters of public concern. However, this message was unsigned, and publication cannot be made until the writer affixes his or her signature to the article. (The name need not be printed, but all publishers adhere strictly to the policy of printing only articles signed by the author.)

Daughter Is Born

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Rickel, of Palestine, are the parents of a five pound 11 ounce daughter, born at 8:40 a. m. Saturday in the McDonald hospital.

Win In Tractor
Driving Contest

Larry and Barry Greulich, the sons of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Greulich, Mentone, were first and second place winners in the junior division of the tractor pulling contest held at the county fair. Their win entitled them to participate in the district contest at Bluffton.

Norman Miller of Milford, and Perry Hathaway of Burket, were first and second place winners in the senior division, and they also were privileged to go to the meet at Bluffton.

Samuel Warren
Dies at Burket

Samuel P. Warren, 59, of Burket, was found dead at his home at 3 a. m. Monday, by his two brothers, Elmer and George.

County Coroner Dr. Orville Richer, set the time of death at about 10:30 p. m. Sunday and said death was due to a heart attack.

The deceased was born in Burket Dec. 2, 1896, and was the son of William Harrison and Annette (Driesbaugh) Warren. He had lived his entire life in Burket and was a carpenter by trade. He was a member of the American Legion Post in Warsaw.

Survivors include: four brothers, Charles of Elkhart, Elmer, Jesse and George of Burket; three sisters, Mrs. Ella Smith and Mrs. Emma Bruner, Burket, and Mrs. Janie Warren, Claypool.

Funeral services were held in the Johns funeral home, Mentone, Wednesday at two o'clock in the afternoon. Rev. Joseph F. Bear, pastor of the Burket Evangelical United Brethren Church, officiated, and burial was in the Palestine cemetery.

Returns From Hospital

Mrs. Robert Hoover returned to her home Thursday after undergoing major surgery at the Memorial Hospital in South Bend, recently.

Little Leaguers to Have Last Game

The Mentone Little League baseball team will play their last game of the summer season when they meet Burket, on the Burket diamond, at 6:30 Friday evening.

The Mentone team has won 2 of the three games played with the Burket team recently, and they are hoping to make it three to four Friday night.

In the last game, the Mentone boys made an eight-run splurge in the third inning to come out on top with a 11 to 1 win over the Burket boys.

Players on the Mentone team include Hively, J. Teel, Barkman, Tridle, Beeson, Long, Nellans, Griffiths, Shirey, Peterson, Craig, Whetstone, Horn, Manwaring, Adams, Holloway, Nelson, Cooper, Kiern, and there is a long list of boys on the bench ready to fill in any spot where they might be needed.

4-H Ground Exhibits
Set For State Fair

Lafayette, Ind.—Hoosier farm youth will display 4-H home ground improvement exhibits for the first time at the Indiana State Fair this year, reports Eric Holm, 4-H assistant at Purdue University.

Each county will be eligible to make one entry in each of the three divisions. Cash awards and ribbons will be presented to winners in each division.

One division will include snapshots of grounds taken at the beginning of the project. The second phase will feature drawings of home grounds and pressed specimens of leaves from all trees shrubs and evergreens on the exhibitors plot.

Division three will include exhibit pictures in division one and pictures taken from the same locations in June of the third summer.

The finished landscape plan will also be included in the third division section. Completed record books will be required for all divisions, Holm says.

Exhibits will be on display at the horticulture building. Judging will be conducted at 2 p. m. August 31.

You Can't Trust
Your Own Auto

An unusual accident took place at the Roy Rush home, in east Mentone, about noon Saturday. Mr. Rush had just driven home and parked his auto in the approach to his garage, when he stepped over to talk with Mr. Greulich, who was working in the yard at the Darr home. Hearing a noise, Mr. Rush looked around and saw his car moving toward him. He attempted to hold it back, but failed. He found himself pinned against Mrs. Darr's porch.

Mr. Rush was taken to the Murphy Medical Center at Warsaw where it was found that his right leg was broken below the knee and his left leg was badly bruised. Reports today were that the break had not been set because of the swelling in the broken limb. The bruised leg is healing nicely.

The Friendly Neighbors Home Demonstration Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Ike Jefferies, Thursday, September 1, at 1:30.

4-H Poultry Exhibit Changes Are Listed

Lafayette, Ind. — Changes in regulations for 4-H poultry exhibits at the 1955 Indiana State Fair reflect progress in the poultry industry, according to Joe W. Sicer, Purdue University extension poultryman.

Classes for crossbred poultry have been included in 1955 contests. Judging will be based primarily on production qualities and awards will be presented through the group system, Sicer reports.

Crossbred poultry has gained steadily in popularity throughout Indiana in recent years. During 1955, thirty-two different crosses were listed with the Indiana State Poultry Association, supervisory agency for the National Poultry Improvement Plan.

Crosses included a total of nearly 300,000 breeding chickens with almost 10 percent of the chickens under the plan. Through cross breeding, poultry raisers can produce chickens which can more nearly meet the exacting demand for specialized efficiency.

In the 4-H State Fair exhibits, classes have been added to include crossbreeds for egg production and crossbreeds for meat production.

Since chickens have earned a place on Indiana farms for their ability to produce, 4-H poultry will be judged on production qualities rather than exhibition characteristics, Sicer states.

Basing awards on the group system will divide prize money among almost all 4-H poultry entrants according to the quality of their exhibits.

To Publish New Forestry Handbook

An impressive array of specialists in forestry, conservation, wildlife management, soil conservation, range management, lumber and paper industries, have contributed to the Forestry Handbook announced for publication September 1, by the Ronald Press Company, New York.

This handbook, unique in its comprehensive coverage of its field, has been prepared under the direction of the Society of American Foresters. Virtually the entire literature of forestry and its related fields has been drawn upon in gathering the diversified subject matter of the volume, which was eight years in preparation.

The Editor-in-chief is Reginald D. Forbes, Consulting Forester. The Staff Editor is Arthur B. Meyer, practicing forester and Editor, Journal of Forestry, Washington, D. C. Assisting has been a board of 145 contributing and consulting editors.

The Editorial Committee for the volume—headed by E. W. Littlefield, Chairman, New York Conservation Department, — includes: William Maughan, Cary Lumber Company, Durham, N. C.; Roy A. Chapman, U. S. Forest Service; Henry Clepper, Society of American Foresters; and R. D. Forbes.

The Forestry Handbook is a volume of 1,212 pages and 23 profusely illustrated sections. The comprehensive material on forest management and silvi-culture includes all of the basic tables converting factors and related data commonly used by foresters in the United States and Canada. Among the specialized sections are those covering aerial photography, wood technology, watershed management, forest range management, and forest recreation.

Lactation Periods Effected By Fields

Lafayette, Ind.—Kinds and amounts of different feeds consumed by cows during their first lactation may effect the economy of later lactation periods, reports G. A. Williams, Purdue University extension dairyman.

Tests conducted at the Belmont county Experiment Farm in Ohio show that cows started on a liberal concentrate allowance declined in production from lactation on lactation. Cows, however on limited concentrates started at a lower level of production, equaled the other group at the second lactation and continued to increase for the third and 4th periods.

Williams feels that Hoosier dairymen, whose supply of high quality roughage for the coming months is likely to be too low for economical production, should heed these facts.

Larger breeds of cattle should be supplied with four to six tons of succulent roughage and one to two tons of hay during a winter feeding period of about 200 days. When grass silage is fed, the daily hay allowance may be reduced to around 5 pounds daily. Smaller breeds need 60 to 75 percent of these amounts. With this supply of high quality roughages a substantial saving in the amounts of grain fed can be accomplished on many farms.

If the available supply of roughage now in prospect is unlikely to meet the above standards, Williams offers the following suggestions.

FARM LOANS

- Low Interest Rates
- Long Term
- Confidential Handling

HENRY BUTLER

Phone 1312J Warsaw, Ind.

Sow one acre of fall rye, preferably Balba, for each cow in milk.

Supplement the hay crop with silage if no succulent roughage has been fed in the past. If silage has been used, increase the supply by the use of a trench or stack silo.

Cull 10-20 percent of the lowest producers in the herd.

If hay must be purchased, make selection on the basis of quality. Early cut hay is much more productive than late cut roughage.

Feed grain according to milk production of every cow.

The pictures were taken by the Zekan & Robbins photographers, Harlan, Iowa, and are all of farms in the Mentone trading area. The pictures are not identified and it will be up to the owners or neighbors to notify this newspaper office. The pictures were taken by airplane and not even the photographer knows one from the other. It will be interesting to see who is the first to identify the pictures each week. Phone Mentone 38. We will endeavor to publish the names of each person correctly identifying the pictures each week.

The farm owner will be given the original 5 x 7 mounted picture absolutely free of any cost. All we require is that the operator himself come to our office and give us a little information about the farm, its operation, etc. Additional prints, colored enlargements, etc. can be obtained by contacting this newspaper.

Daughter Identifies Picture of Dad's Farm In Last Week's Issue

The farm pictured in our last week's issue was identified by Miss Judy Clinker, as the Alvin Clinker farm located 3 miles north of Akron on Rt. 14. The farm is operated by Gerald Clinker, father of Judy. The farm has been in the Clinker family for two generations and is run by father and son. The main income source is dairy and a new milking parlor and bulk tank have been added to the farm in recent years.

Mr. Clinker has three children, Wilma, Judy and Mrs. Buddy Butts. There are 87 acres which are planted in corn and the other local crops. The milking herd is composed mainly of Holsteins.

Children Pictures To Be Published In News

There is no age limit—There is no obligation.

Wednesday is the big day for the picture taking of your youngsters! The News is having pictures taken of all children who are brought by their parents or other guardian to the American Legion Hall between 10 A. M. and 6 P. M. absolutely free of charge. The Woltz Studios of Des Moines, Iowa, a nationally known portrait studio, will be in charge of the photography. The News wants a picture of your child to print in its forthcoming feature, "Citizens of Tomorrow," a series of photographic studies of local children. The more we get the better the feature will be, so the cooperation of the mothers and fathers is urged.

It often seems to parents that children are little one minute and are grown up the next, so fast does a child's growing stage pass. Here is a splendid opportunity to catch a likeness of your child or children at the present stage for the pleasure you will get out of it in future years and for the pleasure you will enjoy seeing it in print. You will want to clip it from this, your home town newspaper, and preserve it for the youngster when he or she grows up.

There is absolutely no charge or obligation for taking the pictures. Parents don't even have to be a subscriber to the News, nor even a reader. You do not have to purchase pictures either, although you may obtain additional prints by arranging direct with the Studio representative if you want them. That is entirely up to you! Appointments by calling Mentone 124.

Judging Contests Scheduled at Fair

Hundreds of Indiana farm youth will compete for honors at 4-H and FFA judging contests during early sessions of the State Fair, 4-H club officials at Purdue University have announced.

State-wide contests are being held at the fair for the first time. In the past, participants vied for judging honors at the state -H Round-ups at Purdue.

Elimination contests were conducted this past spring in the nine state districts. Teams which placed among the top 25 percent will be eligible to compete at the state contests in the new Farmer's Building and the Coliseum.

W. R. Amick and John Banning, state -H club officials, report that crops, livestock and dairy judging groups as well as entomology and forestry identification teams will compete Tuesday, August 30.

Poultry and egg judging eliminations will be staged in the poultry building Wednesday, Aug. 31, and Friday, September 2.

More About Workouts

Veteran Cardinal Scouts Bob Kline and Jack Sturdy have been assigned to handle the workouts for the Red Bird tryout camp scheduled at Veterans Administration Field in Marion, Indiana, on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, September 1, 2, and 3. It is announced today.

Kline, former major league pitcher, hoped that a large group of young players in the 17 to 23 year age bracket would be on hand.

"This is a real opportunity for any boy who really likes to play baseball", he said.

"All we ask a player to do is bring his own glove, a pair of shoes, and, if he has one, a uniform. We'll have bats and balls and catching equipment.

"Besides that", he continued, "any boy reporting can be assured that he will get a one hundred per cent fair and impartial evaluation of his talents. Any player we see who has the potential to become, some day, through development, a major league player will be offered a contract to play and develop his talents in the Cardinals' minor league organization, the biggest and best in the major leagues.

"Everyone in the Cardinal organization works with and for a young player, helping him to make good. The Cardinal formula of plenty of personal attention, plus a generous amount of individual instruction and a chance to play regularly in an unbeatable combination to help a player climb the ladder of baseball success."

No charge or fee is required to attend the tryout camp. In addition, players who are signed will be refunded any expense incurred as a result of participating in tryout camp.

News In The World Of Religion

By W. W. Reid

"Our tendency is to wish for peace, to hope for peace, but not necessarily to make peace," Mrs. J. F. Tillman, of Lewisburg, Tenn. told Methodist Women recently. "How may we work for peace today? Where four or five gather together in a little interracial group in a community to discover plans to bring about better understanding and cooperation—in- stead of bitterness, hate and violence—there are the seeds of peace. In justice there is new hope for peace. Where letters express to lawmakers the desire for long-term Christian legislation rather than acts of political expediency or pressure, the power of a Christian constituency makes itself felt in the laws of the land. Wherever we find individuals or groups working to bring about better understanding, they are witnesses of His way. When we use our influence to support the U. N. as an agency working for better understanding as an open forum of the nations, when we work at problems of drink in our communities or give of our time and energy to help our own under-privileged groups, we are witnesses of the Way."

Methodist churches to serve Christian congregations in five industrial cities in the Bengal area of India are now nearing final construction. The Rev. Halsey E. Dewey, for thirty-four years a missionary in Bengal, reports that a new church has been completed at Chanch, a fire-brick-manufacturing center, and has a seating capacity of 300 persons. A church of the same size has been dedicated at Bokaro, where there is a large thermo-power station. Completed also is a church to serve the Methodist congregation at Chittaranjan, a railway locomotive-building city. New church buildings are going up at Gomoh, where there is a 400-pupil Methodist school; at a village between Kumardhibi, where a steel-rolling mill and a fire-clay works are located; and at Maithon, site of a hydroelectric plant.

The Rev. Dr. Stanley I. Stuber, Baptist clergyman, and secretary of the Japanese International Christian University Foundation is on a "pilgrimage" to Roman Catholic shrines throughout Europe. He is visiting and studying in France, Italy, Spain, Portugal and St. Peters in Rome. Dr. Stuber, author of Primer on Roman Catholicism for Protestants, says his approach to the shrines is a sympathetic one and "for the good of my soul." Visits will be paid to the Vatican and St. Francis's tomb at Assisi, Italy as well as to many Roman Catholic cathedrals.

Lutherans in Washington, D.

C., will celebrate the 800th anniversary of the establishment of the Church of Finland with a special service at Washington Cathedral on Sunday, September 18. The Rev. Franklyn Morris, of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, at Washington, is chairman of a committee of the Lutheran Ministerial Association which is arranging the capital city's observance of the Finnish Church's anniversary. Other members include the Rev. Victor Murtland, pastor of Grace Lutheran Church and the Rev. Clarence Nelson, pastor of Augustana Lutheran Church. Dr. T. A. Kantonen, noted Finno-American theologian, will preach at the service. A professor at Hamma Divinity School of Wittenberg, he was recently awarded an honorary doctorate of theology by the University of Helsinki—the first American so honored. Participating in the service will be the Ambassador of Finland, the Hon. Johan Nykopp, and his staff.

Nine Makah Indian Presbyterian (U. S. A.) church members, one of the largest delegations of laymen from any tribe, attended the recent National Fellowship of Indian Workers triennial conference. To help finance the trip to Estes Park, Colorado, the Women's Association of the Board of National Missions-aided church in Neah Bay, Washington gave a fund-raising dinner and a second dinner to honor the delegates. Church lay leaders continue to grow among these people, the missionaries report. Soon after the delegates return, a chapter of the National Council of Presbyterian Men will be started.

The Rev. and Mrs. Din Dayal have been appointed the first missionaries of the United Church of Northern India to East Africa. They are expected to leave for Nairobi (Kenya) the end of September, 1955. The Rev. Din Dayal holds the B. A. degree of Allahabad University and the B. D. degree of Serampore University. After research work he traveled over India, studying the impact of communism on the life of the country and of the Christian church. He has written extensively on this question. For two years he was chaplain of the agricultural institute, Allahabad.

Health and safety remarks were given by Stella Studebaker. Ellener Manwaring gave the lesson on Basic Costumes, emphasizing and demonstrating accessories. Business was conducted by the president, Fern Beeson. Following the regular meeting a shower was given Mrs. Mildred Greulich. The hostess, Emma Jones and assistant, Helen Rookstool served delicious refreshments to the seventeen members present. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Goldie Jefferies.

Curtis Riner Still Serious

Curtis Riner, 51 year old farmer of near Mentone, still remains in a serious condition at the McDonald hospital at Warsaw after suffering a stroke recently. He suffered paralysis to his right side and is still unable to speak, although indications Wednesday were that he was showing slight improvement.

Former Citizen Seriously Burned

Mrs. Robert Plotner, 38, of Warsaw, was seriously burned at nine o'clock Saturday morning when gas exploded when she attempted to light a bottle gas water heater in the basement of her home.

Mr. Plotner, who heard the explosion, rushed to the aid of his wife but was less seriously burned.

Evidently the heater had leaked gas into the basement, and this gas exploded when Mrs. Plotner lit a match.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Plotner were taken to the Murphy Medical Center and after emergency treatment were taken to the Parkview Memorial hospital in Fort Wayne where Mrs. Plotner remains in a serious condition.

The injured lady is a former resident of Mentone and was the former Flo Mollenhour, daughter of George Mollenhour of Palestine.

Conservationist Offered Big TV Chances

The $64,000 ? TV program recently made quite an effort to get the man named as the outstanding conservationist in Indiana in 1954, on their big TV show.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Kime of Chili and Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Mollenhour of Mentone, had their plans all made to go to Bass Lake, Michigan for a week's fishing trip Aug. 13, when a representative of the TV show called Mr. Kime. They wanted him to go to New York to be on the show, but Mr. Kime refused because he would not disappoint his friends for a fishing trip. The New York man even promised to send an airplane to pick him up at the Michigan lake, but still Mr. Kime refused—or rather declined for the moment.

Return From Wedding Trip

In a double ring ceremony performed recently in the Mentone Church of Christ, Miss Eleanor Frances Rush, daughter of M. Roy Rush, became the bride of Paul Danielson, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Danielson, Winona Lake.

Leslie Grant, pastor, read the wedding vows before an altar decorated with vases of gladioli, palms and candelabra. White satin bows marked the pews.

The Bridal music was sung by an all girl trio of North Manchester and they sang "Song of My Heart to You," "Through the Years," "Oh Promise Me" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a gown of white nylon tulle and net over white satin. The bodice was fashioned with an open neckline and long-pointed sleeves. The tulle bouffant skirt was appliqued with lace. Her finger tip veil of silk illusion fell from a crown of pleated net and lace embroidered with seed pearls and sequins. She carried a white bible centered with an orchid.

Mrs. Richard Neer of Warsaw attended the bride as maid of honor, wearing a gown of iridescent pink taffeta detailed by an open neckline and short sleeves. She wore a matching headband of taffeta decorated with sed pearls and rhinestones. She carried a colonial bouquet of yellow mums.

The flower girl, Elaine Manwaring, wore a yellow organdy dress with a white flowerette headband. She carried a basket of red rose petals.

John Danielson of Winona Lake, brother of the groom, attended as best man, and Jack Rush, of Detroit, Michigan, and Jim Heierman of Leesburg, were ushers.

The bride's grandmother, Mrs. Elva Rush, wore a dress of mauve colored faille trimmed with lace and rhinestones, with black accessories. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Danielson, chose a navy blue taffeta dress with pink accessories. Both wore corsages of pink roses.

Mrs. John Snyder, North Manchester, Mrs. Earl Rush, Detroit, Mich., Miss Barbara Carille, Rochester, Mrs. Marilyn Holt, and Mrs. Delford Nelson of Warsaw, served the 150 guests attending the reception, held immediately

Soil Testing Service Available

Ed Ward, mgr., announced today that the Northern Ind. Co-Op. Ass'n. now has a complete soil service available for the community. This service includes testing the soil for Nitrogen, Phosphorus, Potassium and acidity. The Nitrogen test in use was developed by Wisconsin University and the Phosphate, Potash and acidity tests they are using are the Purdue tests.

Trained personnel will be available to assist in collecting soil samples properly.

After the soil is tested recommendations will be made using the prescription method. This prescription system was developed by Wisconsin U. and has been used successfully by their Pace-maker club for three years.

Bulk fertilizer will be stored at the elevator and offered their customers as a part of the Soil Service. The fertilizer will be Smith-Douglass Pelleform in the analysis necessary to take care of the different soil types in this area.

Last Thursday afternoon and evening a school was held for the personnel, who are actually doing the soil testing. They were taught the proper procedure and technique by Cecil Baylor, who has installed several soil testing laboratories of this type throughout the midwest.

Mr. Ward, speaking for the board of directors of the Association, stated this complete Soil Service will be free to the Company's fertilizer customers.

Dear Art,

I am writing to ask you to stop sending me the paper. No, I am not mad or anything, it's just that I am due to rotate to the states for discharge.

I have really enjoyed receiving the paper from home wherever I have been. A fellow likes to know what is going on at home.

I expect to be home sometime next month as a civilian. I am to receive my discharge upon arriving in the states. It sure will seem nice to be home again. Going to have to make acquaintances with the new folks in and around Mentone. It had really changed the last time I was home. I hope to leave the site around the first of September so that isn't very far off. Really getting anxious to get on my way.

Thank you very much for sending me the News while I have been away from home. I have really enjoyed it.

As Ever,

David L. Cooper

New Seed Directories Available To Farmers

Lafayette, Ind.—Copies of the 1955 Summer Indiana Certified Seed directory can now be obtained by Hoosier farmers, state seed certification officials at Purdue University have announced.

A guide to farmers interested in buying seed wheat, the directory can be obtained from the county extension office. Seed certification officials say the directory will aid farmers in finding seed wheat with a low smut percentage.

Fields listed in the directory with less than 5 percent of loose smut are in the registered class. Up to 1 percent of loose smut is permitted in the certified class. Fields for which certification was applied but which carried too much loose smut are listed in the directory but without a classification.

About 45 percent of the fields in central and northern Indiana, for which certification was applied, were found to have more than 1 percent loose smut.

Sources of the new Knox wheat variety as well as other excellent varieties of soft wheat such as Vigo, Seneca, Saline, Butler, and Fairfield are listed in the directory. Growers of Dubois winter oats, Balbo rye, Kentucky 31 fescue, and Kenbar and Kentucky No. 1 barley are also listed.

Poor Farmsteads Can Be Improved

Lafayette, Ind.—Farmsteads in Indiana can be improved to secure the most pleasant, healthful and livable environment if an organized plan is followed, say extension horticulturists at Purdue University.

Mislocated buildings and stockyards, poor traffic circulation and inadequate provisions for surface drainage present a serious problem. But when farmstead development is recognized as an important part of good farm management, poorly planned farmsteads can be overcome through careful planning.

All phases of proper farmstead developments are covered in Purdue University extension bulletin 345. Ideas for new farmsteads and methods to re-organize old ones are listed in the publication.

Interested farmers may obtain the bulletin, entitled "Developing the Farmstead" at the county extension office or from the office of agricultural publications at Purdue.

This publication has recently been revised as a better guide for Hoosier families who are anxious to improve their farmstead.

Purdue University agronomists say early September is a good time to seed rye for late fall, winter and early spring pasture. Balbo is the preferred variety since it causes less tainting of milk than common rye when grazing by dairy cows. Sow about six pecks per acre and fertilize liberally with a complete fertilizer such as 0-16-16 or 10-10-10.

Purdue Plans 20 New State Fair Exhibits

Lafayette, Ind.—Visitors to the 1955 Indiana State Fair, August 31 through September 9, should make a special effort to see the Purdue University exhibits.

Twenty colorful displays based on the theme "Better Farming and Better Living", will greet Hoosiers who stop at the Purdue Building. Purdue short course and exhibit specialists who planned and constructed the displays say there is something of an education interest for everyone.

Illustrated work of county agents who have directed the new Better Farming and Better Living Program in Indiana will be featured in a special display.

Visitors may participate in a question and answer program which has been arranged by agricultural economists. At a third stop, live sheep will show the contrast in the offspring of a good and poor ram. Two pens of four lambs each will be shown.

A highlight of the entire show will be the use of a Gieger counter by biochemists to determine radio-active tracers in chickens. The agricultural chemists will be at work at a special laboratory to show how they arrive at scientific conclusions.

A rural health exhibit will be seen as will the farm safety exhibit, "Harvest of Hands." Photographs will show Hoosier farmers who have lost fingers or hands as a result of corn picker accidents.

Three phases of pond construction, ground prior to construction, construction work, and the water-filled pond, will be viewed. Agricultural engineers have also constructed a half-scale horizontal pole-type silo.

Displays on outdoor runways for heifer calves, brucellosis eradication, entomology, 4-H work, botany and plant pathology, and
