THIS PAPER IN A CLASS BY ITSELF

The fact that we secured 875 paid-up subscribers for the Co-Op News in less than thirty days should convince everyone that the people of this locality desire this publication and want to see it succeed.

It is very evident also that they are concerned in the doings of this community and that the News is of interest to all of the subscribers.

With the above facts in mind and when you consider that the sponsors of the News are stockholders of the Northern Indiana Co-operative Association numbering over 300 of the most prosperous and up-to-date farmers in Northern Indiana, it is not hard to determine why we claim that an advertising medium if it is "IN A CLASS BY ITSELF" and cannot help but bring results to any merchant who uses its columns.

We claim that the Co-Op News as an advertising medium has a two-fold value:—In the first place its reader owners number over three hundred and it is reasonable to suppose they will be interested in and appreciate the advertising patronage accorded their paper. Therefore the good will of this body of owner readers is worth more than the small cost of the average advertisement in the News.

Then from the advertising standpoint alone we claim that never before has there been a paper published in Mentone that can equal the buying power of the subscribers to this paper. Our readers are now purchasing supplies at the Co-Op plant in excess of $30,000.00 per year and this amount is spent principally on lumber and feeds for their stock. It is safe to say that this same group of farmers spend close to half a million dollars for groceries, clothing, furniture, automobiles and other necessities and luxuries.

In conclusion we will say that it is our firm belief there is no other country paper in this part of the state that has the advertising value of the Co-Op News and that any merchant who will sell first class goods at a reasonable price and advertise in our paper cannot help but receive good results. However, advertising in this paper will not sell a 90c article for $1.00 and we know of no newspaper advertising that will.

It is the intention of the publishers to improve the paper just as soon as the advertising patronage is sufficient to warrant the improvement. In the meantime we are offering our space to our home merchants at rates that will scarcely take care of the cost of publication, but if we cannot sell this space to our home merchants they surely cannot object if we sell it to outside advertisers. The Christmas season is upon us and we have a stock of Christmas cuts suitable for advertising. These cuts will be furnished absolutely free to all firms wishing to advertise in the News. Our solicitor, Mrs. Eunice Bradway, will wait upon you during the week with proofs of these cuts. As a special request we urge all who are going to advertise in the next issue to make arrangements and get copy of ad in this office as early as possible. The earlier you get in, the better the space and appearance of the ad.

Wedding Anniversary

On November 28th 1886 the wedding vows of Emanuel Horn and Laura Laird were read and solemnized by Rev. Coomer of the M. P. church of Tippecanoe which is a sacred contract by any man and woman on beginning life together. On Thursday, November 26, 1936 the Golden wedding milestone was reached and a joint Thanksgiving day and wedding day dinner was enjoyed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Horn south of Tippecanoe. A bounteous dinner was ready shortly after the noon hour and everyone partook of it generously.

After dinner the assembly was called to order and all joined in singing "Count your Blessings", which was followed by prayer. A reading was given by little Miss Ruth Ann Thomas entitled, Thanksgiving Day at Grandpa's House.

Samuel A. Laird gave a talk on the history of Thanksgiving and the first Thanksgiving proclamation. John Laird gave some of the Alden family history and traced the John Alden and Priscilla Mullins family tree down to the marriage of John M. Laird and Mary Jane Alden who were the parents of Mrs. Horn. He also read some thoughts on the true spirit of Thanksgiving day. Otis G. Fields spoke of this golden wedding day and why and how we should be thankful.

Rev. and Mrs. Burgess then conducted a short musical program with the group singing, "Put on your old Gray Bonnet", "Silver Threads among the Gold" and "Old Spinning Wheel."

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Wash Horn, Mr. and Mrs. Mel Flenar, Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Fields, Mrs. Amanda Imus, Mr. and Mrs. Vern Fields, Mr. and Mrs. Simon Snyder, Mrs. Rose Moriarity, Mr. and Mrs. John Norris, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Horn and family, Mr. and Mrs. Orton Long and sons, Mr. and Mrs. Noah Eversoe, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thomas and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. S. KEEPING TREE FRESH

IF A Christmas tree is set in water when it first comes into the house and is kept in water while it is part of the Christmas decoration, it will remain fresh and green for at least a week longer. Water should be replaced as it evaporates. If the base of a Christmas tree is trimmed with a sharp knife just before it is mounted, the pores will be left open, allowing water to rise in the stem to the living cells which are still trying to provide the tree with food and moisture. Spruce and fir retain their needles longer than most other Christmas trees.

The Mistletoe Hunt

By FRANCES GRINSTEAD

"Bye-O Baby Bunting, Daddy's gone a-hunting!"

WHEN the mothers of young children in the east Oklahoma countryside sing this nursery song to their little ones they may out of loyalty to Mother Goose add the next two lines:

"For to find a rabbit skin,
To wrap the Baby Bunting in."

But that isn't exactly what daddy does down there. When it comes the time of year that the baby needs warmer covering, daddy takes his gun and goes out to shoot down mistletoe! This he sells for the Christmas trade and buys Baby Bunting a different kind of raiment. For mistletoe, with its well-known holiday meaning, grows in abundance there and is always found high among the bare winter branches of the native elm. Little boys climb for it, of course, but the quickest way to gather it for commercial use is to shoot it down.

"Open season" for mistletoe hunting begins about the last of November and the demand increases steadily until Christmas. Truck loads of the green sprigs with their wax-white berries are driven to the cities of the north for the holiday trade. As the mistletoe is not always uniformly ripe at the time it is wanted, much "hunting" is required to find sprigs whose berries are at a stage to suit the demands of the buyers. At such times the roadsides may be strewn with discarded mistletoe, for the condition of the berries cannot be seen until the sprig has been shot down. But such waste is not lamented, for mistletoe is a parasite that reappears in abundance each year, however ruthlessly it may be treated.

MEANING OF CHRISTMAS

THE first meaning of Christmas is that of generosity, inspired by the great gift of God to mankind. The selfish sway of the world is broken at least for a time, and the Christ spirit is born in our hearts. Sometimes the exchange of presents is carried too far and becomes a burden instead of a pleasure; but anything that makes the world unselfish is beautiful and good.

Wedding Anniversary

(Delayed from last week.)

To very few people comes the pleasure of celebrating their 60th wedding anniversary but such was the privilege of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Nellans, west of Mentone. They had been married 60 years on Nov. 19th and the following Sunday they had open house to their relatives, neighbors and friends, whom they graciously received all through the afternoon and evening.

It was a most beautiful November Sunday and the home, which is always a hospitable one was made even more so by the profusion of lovely flowers. The baskets of chrysanthemums from the neighbors, were most beautiful. Many other beautiful gifts and cards were received. Members of the immediate family assisted in welcoming the friends and as they came and went many old friendships were renewed.

Mr. Nellans, 85 years old last June 10th, and Mrs. Nellans, 76 last Sept. 15th, were married at the old Nelson homestead 8 miles south of Mentone, in Kosciusko county, by the Rev. Grism and have lived in this community, or near by, with the exception of one year spent in Kansas, all their lives. To this union were born three sons: Curtis, of Tippecanoe; Earl and Herschel, of Mentone, and one daughter, Mrs. Mary Kehoe, of Tippecanoe. There are 13 grandchildren living. Death visited the home of Earl, taking the wife and daughter.

This couple have many sisters and brothers who are age-old citizens. Mr. Nellans has the following living brothers and sisters: Lavina Robinson, of Argos, 90 years old; Elizabeth Clark, of Akron, 87; Alwilda Nelson, Mentone, 76; George Nellans, Mentone 80; Mac Nellans, Argos, 71.

Mrs. Nellans has the following: Thomas Nelson, Mentone, 81, who celebrated his 60th wedding anniversary in last Oct.; Allen Nelson, Mentone, 79, who will celebrate his 60th wedding anniversary in two years; Mrs. Mary Sarber, 65, of Detroit; Leona Hagans, 62, of Elkhart; Mrs. Cora Farry, 59, Dallas, Texas; Mrs. Ottie Swick, 57, Mentone; Ora Nelson 55, Logansport.

Over 150 neighbors, friends and relatives from Warsaw, South Bend, Plymouth, Rochester, Akron, Knox and immediate community, paid their respects during the day.

WE ARE THANKFUL

We are thankful for the vast, beautiful land in which we live. We are thankful that our country is not torn with wars and strife that are present in European countries. We are thankful for our many loyal friends and our loving families. We are thankful for the community spirit and the interest displayed on every hand. We realize that this week contains the day that is especially set aside for Thanksgiving, but this is not the only week we have in which to be thankful. Every day in the year we have something to be thankful for and we should remind ourselves of this, and have Thanksgiving every day in the year and not on just one day set apart from the three hundred and sixty five.

Prior to the Thanksgiving vacation, the teachers indicated that they would spend their Thanksgiving vacations in the following ways: Miss Mollenhour and her family are planning to entertain guests on Thursday and she is planning to spend Friday at the home of her friends, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Norris. Miss Reece is planning to take a group of Manchester girls to Ohio to spend the week-end. Miss Miller will spend some of her vacation with her brother in Warsaw and the remaining time will be spent with her sister in Crawfordville. Mr. Bowers plan to spend the week-end in Arlington Heights, a suburb of Chicago. Mr. Harrison will spend Thanksgiving at a family dinner at home in Oxford, Indiana. Mr. Paul Smith will spend this vacation enjoying a family dinner at home and grading the piles of papers. Mr. Mervall Smith says he is going to Oklahoma to hunt during his vacation. Miss Blackburn will spend the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Fields at Ridgeville, Ind. Mr. Floyd Hollar will be at the home of his parents at Milford, Indiana. Mr. Witham may spend Thanksgiving with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Witham near Atwood, although he is not going to say for sure because he doesn't enjoy a great deal of publicity. Mr. Kelley is going to spend his vacation at home with his brothers and sisters. Mr. Walter Fenstermaker will enjoy a turkey dinner at his brother's home. Miss Langell is going to South Bend to visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Langell.

SENIOR NEWS

This past week in Civics we have been dealing with the unemployment situation. There are many phases to this great problem. After careful study, we find that there are about four classes of unemployed people. First, those who can't work, second, those who won't work, third, those who will work but cannot find work to do, and fourth, those who work part time.

We also studied about insurance of workers. This is a measure used to protect both worker and employer. This type of insurance is very desirable.

We are taking up dramatics at top speed in our public speaking class. Each of us has been assigned a topic such as costuming, make-up, stage-lighting, duties of a director, history of drama, history of Elizabethan theatre, and history of the modern theatre. We are to make short speeches on these in class.

Another project we are working on which is very distasteful to most of the class is that of taking our favorite subject and making up an interesting five minute speech and presenting it before the school assembly. This is one of the hardest groups that there is to speak before because all of this group is very familiar to us and they expect more than some one who is strange. (They are more critical too.)

Our Glee Club under the direction of Mr. Bowers is coming along fine and we are all singing like a flock of birds. (We'll let you decide whether the birds we resemble are nightingales or crows, when you hear us.)

JUNIOR NEWS

The Junior haven't recovered yet from the severe home economics and English test. Their brains were racked to their capacity and they had a headache for days afterward.

The Junior class is doing a handsome business at the ball games selling candy. They are an ambitious lot of youngsters and have made a fair profit by their efforts.

SOPHOMORE NEWS

In preparation for the Thanksgiving vacation, we have just endured two difficult tests. These were in English and Geometry. A day was first spent in preparation for the English test. We were asked to know all the parts of speech and their uses. Also quite a bit about the library.

The Latin class is making plans for the annual Latin supper. They plan to have it in two weeks.

FRESHMAN NEWS

One day in biology class Miss Langell asked Rex Hoffer what two animals were examples of simple animal life. She meant for him to say the bee, but he said honey instead. That night at the Freshman party she was picked for his partner.

EIGHTH GRADE NEWS

The eighth grade are all expecting a low citizenship grade this month. They have been whispering and laughing too much.

Since we have only three days of school this week, we had to have our monthly tests early and do not have as much time to prepare for them.

In general science we are studying about our bodies. We all thought we knew a lot about ourselves, but we find that we don't know as much as we thought we did.

In arithmetic we are having quite a time. We have a test every day.

In English we are progressing slowly but surely. We are studying clauses and phrases.

In geography we have just started to study Asia. It is quite interesting to study the people as they have such queer customs and dress. In class the other day this question came up: "Why don't the Jews eat pork?" Gloria Hammer and Irene Nighswander were asked to ask their minister and report to class.

Mervall: "How many of you are going to the stock show with Mr. Harrison?"

Irene: (sarcastically) "He never even asked us."

SEVENTH GRADE NEWS

Our scarlet fever patients are over their illness and will be back with us in a few days. Paul Horn has already returned and Avonell Blue is expected any time. We surely are glad to have them all back with us again.

Our high school debating team is being organized as rapidly as possible. Anyone who wishes to try out for this team who is in high school has the privilege. About ten people have answered the call for inter-school debaters, and we hope to get into harness and work. Our local squad will debate with several other county schools and will be entered in the contest at Elkhart. After this, our team will try in the district tournament.

Luke's Christmas Money

—by—
Martha B. Thomas

LITTLE LUKE, watching his father splice rope, was suddenly struck with an idea. "It's just one strand after another, isn't it dad?" "Yes, just one strand after another that makes the rope that holds the ship. It's the way most things are accomplished, boy, when you come to think of it."

A cold wind blew around the fish shed back of the wharves. Other men were busy, too, tying snood-knots on trawls, hoping a good day would come for fishing tomorrow.

Luke walked away and up the hill. Christmas coming in a week! He knew his father and mother had been busy planning something for his happiness then. But what had he done? Nothing at all. He stood stock still, his thoughts all mixed up in a queer way, with the strands of rope that made the line, the hundreds of snood-knots the fishermen were tying. "Just one thing done, and then another to make the whole," he reflected.

Then, walking slowly again he seemed to see two one-dollar bills folded away in his pocket-book. And trailing back from the money a row of different pictures of himself, working hard to earn those two dollars. Planting seed potatoes in the spring, hoeing them, weeding in the hot sun, even watering his own plot when the weather was dry. Then, in the fall digging them up. Selling them . . . for two dollars. One bit of work after another. What next? He took more steps. Money was earned by the work of one person to buy something which was the work of another. Luke smiled. He knew "what next," very well indeed.

So, on Christmas morning, though Luke was delighted with his own gifts, he had an almost dizzy pleasure in watching his father and mother unwrap a pair of bedroom slippers and an apron he had given them. "My potato money!" he shrieked. "I got it by doing one thing after another. Just the way the rope grows after strand."

Luke's father looked up, but his mother kissed him and said "Merry Christmas."

NEW RADIO BUILT LIKE TURRET TOP AUTOMOBILE

It remained for the famous old firm of Fairbanks-Morse to spring one of the outstanding radio surprises of 1937. The entire industry was electrified with the announcement of the Turret Shielded Chassis. Just as the occupants of new type automobiles are protected by a dome of steel, the Fairbanks-Morse radio chassis is protected against noise and man-made electrical disturbances by a perforated shield of metal. In addition to this revolutionary improvement Fairbanks-Morse has introduced the Tone Projector, the Semaphore Dial, which signals all tuning information by means of moving lights. Everyone interested in radio is anxious to see these amazing new improvements. You are cordially invited to visit our store where the 1937 Fairbanks-Morse radios are on display.

SCHOOL NEWS

As this is written, school is not in session. In fact we have been closed since Monday evening. A troublesome sewage system has made it necessary to take time out until the defects can be remedied.

When an emergency vacation was announced the pupils at first rejoiced. Now however as they contemplate additional days of school next spring the prospect is not so joyous. It is true that idleness may become a great bore. When we are busy with constructive work, time does not hang heavily on our hands.

The athletic program for this week shows two games. On Friday the Bull Dogs journey to Knox, and on Saturday the Linden High School team plays at Mentone. The local schedule for the first half of the season is especially difficult. A glance at the card will show such teams as Milford, Beaver Dam, Akron, Burket, Knox, Lincer, Warsaw and Angola. Where, we ask you, is there a breathing spell in that program?

We understand that the graduating class of last year met at the home of Betty Lyons Tuesday night to plan a meeting soon. It is a splendid idea. The friendships made in school are among the happiest in our lives.

We would like to drop a word about the High School Band. This fine organization has been working diligently under the very capable leadership of Professor Bowers. In the very near future they will make their first public appearance and we feel sure that those who hear them will not be disappointed. At present there are fourteen members in the band. This number will be increased rapidly as the later recruits become more proficient.

On Thursday twenty-nine boys and girls of the Vocational classes, taking advantage of the school vacation, visited the International Live Stock Show at Chicago. They left early in the morning on one of the township busses, accompanied by Mr. Emery Harrison, the agriculture instructor, Miss Margaret Langel, home economics instructor and Miss Buelah Blackburn.

A very busy and profitable day was spent at the show and all reported a fine time.

We are sorry that the various class and group editors have had no chance to submit the departmental news. It looks very much as if we were failing in our duty. We want to assure the public and the managers of this paper that we greatly appreciate the opportunity of having a full page each week and we shall make every effort to do our part.

M. E. Class Meets

On Wednesday, December 2, the Palestine Pals of the M. E. church met at the home of Mrs. Gladys Stevens for an all day meeting. The annual Christmas exchange of gifts was a very interesting and entertaining part of the program. At the noon hour a delicious cooperative dinner was served. A short program was given afterwards with Mrs. Newcomb in charge of music and devotionals. A short business session was held and one new member, Mrs. Lizzie Mackey, was welcomed into the society. Final plans were made for the annual goose roast Wednesday night and the remaining part of the day was spent in sewing.

Those enjoying the day were Mrs. Edna Jones and daughter, Lizzie Mackey, Irene Black and son, Minnie Alenburgh, Ada Brown, Catherine Vandermark, Louie Vandermark and children, Alice Dunnick, Jennie Anderson, Esta Vandermark, Matie Lohr, Carrie Wiltrout and daughter. Mrs. Newcomb and the hostess Gladys Stevens and family.

CHRISTMAS "INSIDE"

By GERTRUDE H. WALTON

THE LARGE house interested Celia. There seemed little life within, no Christmas decorations in the windows as in many dwellings on the streets. Tonight, a dim light in the back, with the early Christmas eve twilight, heightened its drabness.

"One may be excused for inquisitiveness, tonight," Celia led Ann, her roommate onto the porch. "This house, outside, looks gloomy but no more than is my heart. I'll admit being disappointed because of no opening, after our singing audition over WGQ this afternoon," Celia, slipping to a side door, with Ann, began singing Christmas carols. A door opened and a dignified woman said:

"Come inside, girls, and sing. I'm Mrs. Ashby. There's a piano, not opened since Beulah—"

"We'll sing if you join us," Celia answered.

After singing, Celia told of ambitions for her voice and of the afternoon's disappointment.

"Girls, you have given me a happy pre-Christmas eve and birthday, as well. Many of my club members have birthdays at this season. Please come again, tonight, if you wish. You're across the street."

Celia and Ann, at home, were eating, when, answering the telephone, Celia swung Ann around into dizziness.

"We're to report for a program tomorrow afternoon over WGQ! Someone not filling engagement! We'll practice on Mrs. Ashby's piano. Let's decorate her windows with these wreaths," Celia cried.

During the Christmas day program, dedicated to those with birthdays of the season, when Mrs. Ashby's name was mentioned, the announcer said:

"Mrs. Ashby will enjoy this program. She called us last evening—asked that you girls sing for birthdays of her club members—other members asked for you, too. Mrs. Ashby travels, gives of time and money to a shut-in club of which she is national president. Her daughter is the wife of a famed doctor in India. You probably will have a permanent program for birthdays of listeners."

"Maybe that house interested me because, even through boards and stone, human kindness, character, oozes through. Her windows look pretty, though, with our wreaths," Celia told Ann.

Masks to Chase Evil Spirits

Most native medicine men possess only one mask—for driving the evil spirits of sickness out of the bodies of their patients. But in Ceylon these dancing doctors have nineteen standard false faces for nineteen standard ailments, having learned long ago that a mask which terrifies the spirit that causes a bunion has no influence whatsoever, for example, over the spirit that causes a pain in the neck.—Collier's Weekly.

Co-Operative Grading & Marketing of Eggs

To keep abreast of the times and to fill the needs of a better system of marketing eggs, the N.I.C.A. has set up a new department in their organization to grade and market eggs according to the U. S. Standard of grading. A Wyland egg grading machine has been installed in the basement of the new storage building and is now in operation under the supervision of the marketing department of Purdue University. As a great amount of work was required in organizing the grades and establishing a market outlet for the eggs it was not desirable at first to receive many eggs. These conditions have been carried out satisfactorily and we are ready to handle more eggs. All money received for eggs goes to the producers except operating cost which has been less than a cent per dozen, and will decrease as volume increases. Eggs are graded as to interior quality, size, condition and color of shell. Eggs should be delivered in new cases and should be cleaned but not washed. As most producers have some dirty eggs, place them together in one end of the case. Always pack eggs with the small end down.

You are invited to try this new plan or to come and see it in operation. A close study of your eggs is an index to your poultry business. You may learn much by watching your eggs while being graded as to size, quality and color. Bring your eggs any day up to Saturday noon to the south basement door of the new storage building and they will be properly cared for, but we are asking your cooperation by an early delivery as we have now all we can handle on Saturday. At the present time eggs will be graded on Friday and Saturday of each week.

THE EGG COMMITTEE

Mentone Reading Club

On Tuesday evening, December eighth, the members of the Mentone Reading club and their husbands were very pleasantly entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Boggs. At seven o'clock, a delicious cooperative dinner was served to thirty-three members and guests. Table appointments and house decorations were in keeping with the Christmas season.

Following dinner a very interesting program was presented. Mr. Walter Bowers, school band instructor, led in group singing of Christmas carols. Jean Burns played a piano solo, Moonlight Sonata, and Mr. Bowers followed with a vocal solo. Mr. Paul Smith, high school English teacher, gave an interesting talk on the origin of Christmas and some of its customs. Some questions of present day interest were presented and discussed by the group. The meeting was dismissed by Rev. E. E. DeWitt.

Lions Xmas Tree

On Wednesday evening, December 23, the Mentone Lions Club will hold its annual Christmas party on the streets of Mentone.

A tree has been in place for some time and in accordance with the custom of the Mentone Lions and in harmony with the Christmas spirit, treats will be provided for all children of school age and under. This means also that those older are invited to gather with us on the street and share in our festivities.

While the intrinsic value of the treat to each child is not large, back of all of it is the desire to share in that blessedness proclaimed by him who said, "It is more blessed to give than to receive."

Fire at the Blue Home

The Allen Blue home narrowly escaped destruction by fire Monday morning. Mr. Emmons, a neighbor discovered the fire and rushing into the house found Mr. Blue gone and his bed in flames. The blaze was put out but the bed was destroyed and the home badly smoked.

Mr. Blue had placed an electric light bulb on his shoulder to ease a pain and had got up forgetting to turn it off. The bulb had ignited the bed clothing and the flames were getting well under way when Mr. Emmons came to the rescue.

Bulldogs Lose to Tigers

The Mentone Bulldogs were defeated by the Warsaw Tigers Saturday night by a score of 46 to 22. Warsaw took the lead from the very first and were only threatened once, when the Bulldogs made a futile third-quarter rally and approached within seven points of the Tiger's lead.

The Mentone Seconds were upset by the Warsaw Reserves by 38 to 22. Although the Bullpups were leading 14 to 12 at the half the Warsaw boys came through the last half to win. Glen Lancaster, red-headed center for the Tigers showed excellent form and was undoubtedly the star of the Second team contest.

Next Friday night the Bulldogs travel to Angola, where they will mix with the Angola five. This is their last game before Christmas.

Due to the fact that school was not in session last week, except on Monday, the news in this space was very limited, and the staff wishes to thank Mr. Kelley who very ably cared for this column in the last issue of the News in view of the fact that there was not much material to build on. However, this week we have been able to start right in and get on with our lessons, for which the majority of us are very thankful.

SENIOR NEWS

The Seniors are planning to entertain the Juniors at a Christmas party, here at the school house on December 22. The committees are as busy as beavers and we feel that they will turn out some fine entertainment.

We are all glad to get back in our Civics class under Mr. Mervel Smith which meet the first period in the morning because so much interesting present day world news in just begging for discussion. We've gone through the Spanish revolution up to date and are now waiting breathlessly for a radio report on what Edward of England will do with our American sister.

Another subject under discussion in the Civics class was the question of character building. We discussed whether we were building engines or box-cars in our school workshop. Perhaps this is as puzzling to you as it was to us at first, so we will explain what we mean by these terms. The function of an engine in a train is to be the leader and to furnish the locomotive for the entire train. The engine is the factor that decides the speed that the train will travel, it decides when and where the stopping shall be done. The engine is the only car in the train which has governing power, and it also has all the privileges. The box-cars are merely beasts of burden whose lot it is to carry what ever is placed upon them and to depend on something else for their locomotion, and to depend on some one else's judgement for their starting and stopping. They have no such thing as individuality. People often remark about some fast engine, but did you ever hear anyone commenting on the speed of a box-car? You may now wonder what application this illustration has to the school life of a boy or a girl. If you were going to build yourself a train, the blue-print which you would use for your engine and the materials which you would use for the engine would not be at all like the material you would use for the box-cars, would they? It is the same way in our school life, which is really the workshop in our lives. We can have the materials to make engines of ourselves, or we can take the easy route and just make a common ordinary box-car out of a wealth of material. Therefore we should strive now to use the pattern and the materials so that we can come out of the workshop under our own steam, and not have to be pulled out by someone else. From time on for the rest of our lives we should be independent, full of ambition, keen-minded, ready to work, instead of always waiting on someone to make our decision for us, and reaping the benefits of some one else's effort.

Mr. Paul Smith took the members of the cast of the one-act play to Fort Wayne to attend the contest held there. Our people were not in the contest, but went to witness the efforts of the county winners held there Thursday. Those who attended were Devon Hibbschman, Doris Matthews, Donald Boggs, Justin Long, Julia Ann Busenburg and Mr. Smith.

One of the speeches in our public speaking class proved to be very interesting this week. This speech was given in connection with drama by Justin Long. His speech concerned color and lighting effects. Mr. Long did much fruitful research work and presented quite a bit of interesting material to the class.

Typing in both beginning and advanced classes is looking up. The beginning class has reached the forty mark and are doing exceedingly fine work. They are starting office work now. There are several letter-heads in their work-book and they are starting to learn form letters in typing. Typing a letter is quite different than writing one in long hand because of complicated problems in placement.

JUNIOR NEWS

The Boy's health class have been studying communicable diseases and bringing reports to class about them. Their next division will concern the foot.

Lena Rush of the Junior class will soon join the band as a clarinet player.

SOPHOMORE NEWS

Due to the fact that we have missed so much school lately the Latin supper has been postponed until after the Christmas holidays.

FRESHMAN NEWS

In Freshman Latin, Dick Manwaring has finally figured out the difference in the usage of shall and will in connection with first, second and third person verb forms.

EIGHTH GRADE NEWS

Harry McClaren is the unfortunate victim of scarlet fever in our grade. We are progressing rapidly in geography. We have completed the study of Asia now. Our next excursion will be a trip to the jungle of Africa to visit the natives.

In English we have spent our time losing the knowledge we once thought we had gained. Interrogative pronouns, infinitives, and the relative pronouns who, whom and whose have left our minds and all we have is sad recollections of hours spent in vain.

SEVENTH GRADE NEWS

In seventh grade home economics, the girls are making in their sewing class the aprons which they will wear in the food laboratory the latter semester.

HOME ECONOMICS NEWS

The girls in Foods I. in the Home Economics under their teacher, Miss Langell have studied the characteristics of a good school lunch and also what is found in a well packed school lunch. Fourteen of the best school lunches have been picked, and we are submitting the names of the girls who planned them. The hot foods in the lunches are kept warm by means of a thermos jug.

The characteristic of a well-packed school lunch:

A good school lunch should:

1. Include one hot dish if possible.
2. Include food which contain protein, minerals and vitamins.
3. Contain adequate calories—about 1/2 of the day's requirements.
4. Supplement the food materials included in the other meals of the day.
5. Be simple, attractive and appealing.
6. Be seasonable, contain some hot dishes.

A well packed lunch may contain:

1. Sandwiches—varieties in breads and fillings.
2. Fruit—raw or canned.
3. Vegetables—lettuce, celery, cabbage and tomatoes.
4. Sweets—cookies, gingerbread, puddings and dried fruits.
5. Milk, cocoa, or soup if thermos bottle is available.

The following are the girls who planned the best school lunches—Margaret Swick, Mary Mellott, Wilma Brunson, Dorothy Blosser, Betty Janke, Maxine Leiter, Lucille Reed, Marjorie Long, Evelyn McClaren, and Marjorie Baney.

During the vacation that was accorded Mentone school last week, one of our grade teachers formerly Miss Josephine Miller was married Saturday, to Mr. Maurice B. Castator, who is employed at the Northern Indiana Public Service Company in Warsaw. The couple will make their home at Winona Lake. Rev. Dougherty of the Warsaw M. E. church performed the ceremony at the Methodist parsonage.

Home Economics News

The Mentone Home Economics club met with Mrs. Eve Laird, December 17 for their annual Christmas party. After partaking of the fine pot-luck dinner the president, Mrs. Laird called the meeting to order. After singing, "Silent Night" and repeating the club creed, the secretaries report was read and approved. Seventeen members then answered roll call with their favorite scripture verse. After good deed suggestions for Christmas from each member, the club voted to give two baskets of food to worthy families for Christmas. The "My Story" package was won by Ona Blue. After each had guessed who hid "Cheerful Pal" was for the past year, the gifts were then taken from the Christmas tree and distributed to the club members. During the afternoon a very much appreciated letter from Mrs. Mabelle Alexander now residing in Tennessee, was read. Club adjourned to meet in January with Pauline Weissert with Lucinda Jones assistant hostess and each departed declaring they had had a delightful day.

The winners from the Northern, Central and Southern provinces will be judged and the winner will receive $50.00. The awards will be made at commencement.

At Christmas Time

Again the spirit of Christmas, bringing with it its great promise of universal joy, descends upon the world. "Merry Christmas"—wherever the inspiring words greet the ear, in whatever tongue, they change you, as they change us. Brotherhood, love, humanity's great capacity for fellowship and kindness, all spring forward with the coming of this mightiest yet most mysterious expression of man's spiritual life.

With the feeling of a year made complete through earnest effort to fulfill an adopted purpose, with a sense of welcome humility, with a sincere and heartfelt pledge that this newspaper will continue to follow its accepted principles of leadership and community service, we offer our wishes that your Christmas be a happy one.

Freshman News

We haven't heard much from the Freshman class this week, so we'll just put this here to let you know that they haven't left school.

Eighth Grade News

We understand that Mervel took these people to Africa this past week.
They all thought that their trip was very interesting. The thing they liked best was the animals and the natives, especially the pygmies. They weren't even afraid of the lions and the tigers in the jungles because they traveled in the land of thought, you see.

Seventh Grade News

The Seventh graders want to say that they are working away as usual on their various and lengthly assignments.

About Scarlet Fever

We learned this week that another case of scarlet fever has been reported among our student body. We have been very fortunate with these cases because in all the three different cases we have had, all of them have taken ill over the week-end at home. Therefore we feel sure that these cases were not contracted here in school because there has been so much time between each of them and the period of incubation for the scarlet fever is three to seven days. Therefore we are confident that we are safe from exposure here at school for which fact we are very glad. We wish those members of our ranks who are ill, a speedy recovery.

The Public Speaking class has its program for speeches before the assembly outlined and the pupils will make their appearances as follows: on Friday morning Julia Busenburg and Justin Long, on the next Monday morning Marcella Leininger will speak, on Tuesday morning Katherine Eiler and Willodene Janke will speak and on the following Thursday morning Devon Hibschman and Donald Boggs will speak.

The Seniors are going to entertain the Juniors at a Christmas party at the school house on December 22.

is self explanatory. This is based upon the fact that we just have so much extra energy that we have to have some way to work it off, therefore we play.

The epidermal projections from the exterior portion of Bob Thorn's superior labia have thus far withstood the avalanche of adverse comment heaped upon it. In other words, Bob's struggling mustache is still there in spite of many slurring remarks. Personally, we recommend that you use mascara, Bob, if you really want it to show up to a good advantage.

Miss Jeanette Blue of the Junior class and Miss Marjorie Long of the Sophomore class rendered two duets before the assembly Wednesday morning. They sang Mother Machree and Whispering Hope, Jeanette singing the soprano and Marjorie carrying the alto. These girls also appeared before the joint Lions Club meeting held at Claypool by the Mentone Club to establish a club there.

Two members of the Junior class and one member from each the Senior and Sophomore classes attended a debate held at Tippecanoe Wednesday night at the school house. The opposing teams were Elkhart and Tippecanoe. Both schools had an affirmative team and a negative on the question: All electric utilities should be governmentally owned and operated. The Elkhart affirmative debated the Tippecanoe negative and vice versa for the opposite sides. The debates were held at the same time being in different rooms. We sat in on the debate in which Tippecanoe had the affirmative and Elkhart had the negative side. After the debates were finished, all four teams with their coaches and all the judges along with the entire audience were brought to a classroom where they discussed any question that had arisen in the course of the debate. Those who attended from our school were Sam Blue, Everett Mikel, Mary Deaton, Katherine Eiler and our debate coach Mr. Paul Smith.

It seems that some of the Sophomore geometry class are having quite a "storming good time" in their daily classes. If you really want to know about their rough sailing ask Marjorie.

Perry's Four Ships

The four ships which Admiral Perry took on his first trip to Japan in 1853 were the following: The Mississippi and Susquehanna (steam frigates) and the Plymouth and Saratoga (sloops of war). Perry was in command of the squadron and had the rank of commodore. He was on board the Susquehanna.

OBITUARY

(Delayed from last week.)

Charles E. King was born in New-castle Township, Fulton County, Ind., May 10, 1865, lived all his life and died on the same farm, December 4, 1936, aged 71 years, 5 months and 6 days. He was the son of Charles King and Mary Haimbaugh King.

He was married on June 8, 1898 at Lancaster, Ohio to Miss Ella E. Fal-er.

He was converted in early life and united with the Yellow Creek Baptist church, near his home, and remained active in membership there until the church was disbanded. At this time he moved his letter to the First Baptist church of Mentone. He took an active part in the leadership of this church, holding the position of hon-ary deacon at the time of his death. The Mentone Baptist congregation and pastor will greatly miss his testi-mony in which he often character-istically said, "I realize that it is a grand thing to be in the service of the Lord."

Surviving are his wife, one daugh-ter, Clara Eve King Baker, one son, D. wey King, Six grandchildren, Don Allen and Wayne King Baker, Isabel, Charles Allen, Irene and Oliver Thomas King all of Mentone and 17 nieces and nephews. One brother, A. Curtis King of Bourbon also survives. He was preceeded in death by four broth-ers and three sisters: Mahlon King, William H. King, C. Benton King and Edwin King who died in infancy, Clara Jefferies, Florence Meredith and Sarah Doran.

"And I heard a voice from heaven saying unto me, 'Write, Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord from henceforth: Yea, saith the Spirit, hat they rest from their labours; and their works do follow them!'"

Revelation 14:13.

"So live, that when thy summons comes to join the innumerable car-avan that moves to the pale realms of shade, where each shall take his chamber in the silent halls of death, thou go not, like the quarry-slave at night, scourged to his dungeon, but, sus-ained and soothed by the unfa-tering trust, approach thy grave like one who wraps the drapery of his couch about him, and lies down to pleasant dreams."

Bible Conference

At First Baptist

A Bible conference of five days duration will begin at the First Baptist Church, Wednesday afternoon, December 30th at 2:00. Services will be held throughout the remainder of the week with one of the most impressive arrays of speakers that Mentone has ever had the pleasure and privilege of hearing. They include, Dr. James Oliver Buswell Jr., A.M., D.D., LL.D., the president of Wheaton College, Wheaton, Illinois. Dr. Buswell is one of the best known young college presidents in America. He is a Presbyterian, the Moderator of the Presbyterian church of America. He has held pastorates in Minneapolis, Minnesota and Brooklyn, New York. He was a chaplain with the American Expeditionary Forces in France where he was wounded twice in action and cited for bravery under fire. Wheaton's enrollment under Dr. Buswell's leadership has grown from 400 to 1100 with students coming from 46 states and many overseas lands. In 1936 the college was first in percentage of increase among American universities and colleges, according to the New York Times survey. Two young people from the local Baptist congregation are studying at Wheaton at present. They are Leon and Velva Nelson. Other Baptist young people are planning to attend this distinctively Christian school. The local pastor has been an intimate friend of Dr. Buswell and is exceedingly fortunate in the privilege of inviting him to Mentone. Others on the program for the conference are Rev. Robert Ryerse, pastor of the First Baptist church, Valparaiso, Indiana. Rev. Ryerse recently was invited to occupy the chair of Evangelism in the Los Angeles Baptist Seminary. Ryerse is an impressive speaker, with a message that counts. The missionary speaker at the conference will be Rev. Paul Metzler, missionary to Africa who is sent out under the Mid-Missions Board of the First Baptist church of Mishawaka, Indiana. On Saturday evening the speakers will be Dr. Buswell and Rev. David

We are very glad for our Christmas vacation. The only blur on the horizon is our exam grades. None of us know any of them yet, and they sort of hang over our head like the sword hung by the horses' hair in the Greek myth.

It seems to be a good time to be thinking of new year's resolutions. We want to resolve that our entire staff will cooperate and make this a better school year.

SENIOR NEWS

You've heard so much on this page about the coming of the Junior-Senior Christmas party, but it had to be postponed until after Christmas because of the danger of scarlet fever.

Most of the people in this class are rejoicing over the fact that they have completed their last high school exams.

If you desire any information on the subject of public speaking, you should ask either Ernest Wagner or Paul Smith. They are on about a par in knowledge of this subject. Ask Ernest if you don't believe this.

Some of the Senior girls of Mentone along with the girls from three other schools were entertained at a tea, at the home of Emma Clutter last Sunday afternoon. The girls were given the rules governing the short story contest the Psi Iota Xi is sponsoring.

Some of the Seniors thought they could type until they came to examination. Honestly, the error column looked like it had gotten mixed up with the speed column. Really we wouldn't blame Mr. Bowers if after vacation, he would request that we be demoted to the beginning class.

JUNIOR NEWS

Most of the Juniors say that they are glad that exams are over and that vacation is here.

We've heard so much about the Junior history class, that we are inclined to believe that it was so easy that it was hard.

Geraldine Nellans in the beginning typing class has reached the 40 mark. This is a very good record for four months of typing.

There isn't any news in particular from any of the grades this week, but the entire school joins in wishing you a happy new year.

Yawn Lasts a Week

A native woman living in a kraal in Swaziland felt tired and yawned, only to find that she could not close her mouth. Native doctors were called and tried vainly to close it. At the end of a week, the woman was still yawning and showed no sign of being able to stop doing so. The doctors then sent the woman to McBane, a hundred miles away, where a missionary doctor examined her. He found that she had dislocated her jawbone. Within an hour she had stopped yawning.

Moscow Is Influential

Moscow wields more influence in the Soviet union than any other capital wields in its respective nation. Moscow finances, controls and operates all banks, factories, power plants, mines, oil fields, railroads and other economic enterprises throughout its vast country which, incidentally, reaches at most halfway around the globe.—Collier's Weekly.

An Early Erosion Fight

Sand-binding grasses have been of great importance to man. Their use in preventing erosion in Great Britain was realized in very early days, for an act of parliament in the time of Queen Elizabeth decreed it illegal for the marram grass of sand dunes to be eradicated.—Nature.

"Auto Bug" Has Lights; Runs Down White Grubs

In the West Indies, Central America, and northern South America, there is a large click beetle, which has on the forepart of its body two large luminous spots giving out so brilliant a light that it is called in some places "the automobile bug."

This striking insect so appealed to women of the West Indies that they once used it as an evening coiffure ornament, fastened to a hairpin with a thread. Dealers sold the beetles from small wicker cages in the market places.

The beetle is remarkable in another way. When flying, it throws a large brilliant spot of light on the ground, despite the fact that the luminous spots are on top. It was once believed that the beetle flew upside down, but this is physically impossible. The explanation is that in flight the abdomen is elevated between the wings exposing another luminous area where the hind-part of the body joins the forepart.
It is a matter for speculation whether this ground light helps the beetle in landing.

The young of these beetles, say entomologists of the United States Department of Agriculture, are beneficial in eating white grubs, a serious pest in sugarcane fields in these regions.
These baby beetles also are luminous—so luminous that one in a dark room will shed light enough for reading a newspaper.

USE REST PERIODS TO CHECK BOREDOM

The National Institute of Industrial Psychology is conducting a campaign to drive fatigue and boredom out of Britain's factories and workshops. Its most potent antidote against these twin evils is the scientific rest pause—a carefully calculated interval during the day's routine when everyone is allowed complete relaxation. "The effect of such breathers," an official of the Institute told a London Titts-Bits Magazine man, "leads not only to increased happiness among the workers, a decrease in their sickness and accident rate, but also tends to improve their efficiency."

"Rather against the will of some of its officials, a Midland factory granted its employees a 15-minute rest pause in the morning and another of the same duration in the afternoon. It thus sacrificed 30 minutes of each man's time daily. But instead of any loss in output, at the end of the week there was actually a 2 per cent increase! In another instance, following the introduction of rest pauses, girls employed on piecework in a tapestry factory increased their output and earnings by 10 per cent. The slower workers derive the maximum benefit from these intervals."

Injectons Raise

Endurance of Rats

Charlottesville, Va.—Injectons of an "endurance" hormone into rats and dogs have made it possible for them to pace a treadmill for two and three times as long as ordinary animals, Dr. S. W. Britton of the University of Virginia Medical school told the National Academy of Sciences recently.

These hormones, contained in what is technically known as cor-tico-adrenal extract, increased the efficiency of rats so that they could run 12 to 18 hours and still appear as fresh at the end of their exercise as at the start. Untreated animals showed signs of fatigue after six hours.

The Virginia professor is directing the research in this field under a recent grant of $15,000 from the Rockefeller Foundation.

Use of Sugar Cane

Sugar cane, a coarse grass, is believed to be a native of Asia or the East Indies. It was unknown in Europe until the Middle Ages, when the Arabs introduced it into Sicily and Spain. Sugar cane was taken to Brazil about 1500, to Mexico a few years later, and is now cultivated in most warm countries. Two kinds of syrup are made from sugar cane.
The first is the golden syrup left over from the manufacture of sugar.
The second, such as a Mississippi plant will make, is merely the juice of the sugar cane boiled down, and is known as molasses.

SEE ODD CREATURES IN DESERT SPACES

Good and Evil Spirits Hold Forth, Arabs Say.

New York.—Deserts are not all barren wastes, writes Ameen Richani in Asia magazine. Nor are they all empty spaces. Some are inhabited by familiar and unfamiliar creatures, and others are the haunts of an influential but invisible race. To the Arab there are communities of spirits in the desert—spirits, good and evil, to comfort or distress, to rescue or annihilate. That is why, in his travels, he is a man of many moods, gay, pious, poetic, anecdotal, silent. That is why he sings, prays, recites poetry, tells of his exploits or makes his way through a vast maze of uncertainties in hushed apprehension.

Nothing is more reassuring and more impressive, more fertile of soul-comfort, than prayer in the desert. And nothing is more adequate in prayer than the closing words of the opening chapter of the Koran, which are always on the tongue and in heart of every Arab: "Lead us in the right path, not the path of those who go astray." Indeed, no damnation is surer and swifter in action than that of going astray in the desert.

All Have Character.

Every desert has a name, a character, an influence of its own. Some are inviting, some are withholding, others are forbidding; some have the power to charm, some to tantalize, others to destroy. The Arab calls them by name, now tenderly, now gruffly, in soothing or commanding accents. He is their master, their familiar and their slave. He apostrophizes them as he does his camel or his horse.

The great deserts of Arabia are the Dahna, with its level white sands; the Nufouds, with their red dunes; the various flat, gritty Hamads; the arid, volcanic Harrat Khaidar and that vast, little known stretch of sands in the south which is called Rub' ul Khali, or the "Vacant Quarter."

No one in Arabia could tell me what the name "Dahna" implies or how it originated. Even Arab authors are in confusion about it.

The Dahna meanders like a river through the heart of Arabia, between oases that are here and there within view of each other, between arid plains and green pastures, and not far in places from some of the principal cities of Nejd. In its serpentine course it is about 700 miles long, connecting the Vacant Quarter in the south with the Great Nufoud in the northwest. It is no more than 100 miles across in the widest places, and it narrows down in others to a few miles.

Fear the Dahna.

The Arab fears the Dahna, though there is hardly a spot in it which is unknown to him. In the first place, it is to him the haunt of the jinn. Some of the jinn may be of the beneficent kind, may be Moslems. Nevertheless, he fears them, because they are not always recognizable at first sight. In the second place, the trails of the Dahna are sometimes concealed, covered with sand. A gust of the simoon can hide the trail in a few hours. Indeed, the wind and the jinn are alike in their treachery. There is a third reason for the Arab's fear; for, with the trail hidden, he may go lengthwise through the Dahna and never come to its end. His supply of water will give out; and both he and his stock, if he happens to have a flock of sheep or a herd of camels with him, will perish of thirst. That is why this desert is seldom crossed without a guide.

Like the Dahna the Nufouds ("nufoud" is plural of nafd, meaning heap) are sand deserts, and there are more of them than any European has ever seen. I, myself, have traveled through seven Nufouds, crossing the smallest in three hours and the biggest in one day. They are all known by their names to the Arabs of central Arabia, and none of them is feared. Yet the crossing, on account of the dunes, which rise in places to a height of 800 feet, is not so easy as it is in the Dahna.

99 Out of Each 100 Are Found to Be Law-Abiding

Washington.—Approximately one person in a hundred committed a crime in the United States during the first nine months of 1935, the federal bureau of investigation reported after a study of police department records in 1,388 cities.

The cities represented a population of 56,613,391, and reported crimes were 549,955.

The bureau reported that crime rates were "considerably higher" in cities of more than 100,000 inhabitants.

Examination of 292,530 arrest records showed that 57,033 were for persons under twenty-one. The most dangerous age was found to be nineteen years. More than a third of the total arrests were of persons under twenty-five years.

Eleven out of every hundred arrested were women.

Talking Found to Fill 13 Years of Life at 70

Nice, France.—The average person who lives to be seventy spends 23 years of his life asleep.

That is the estimate of a scientific committee set up here to inquire how people occupy their lives.

Apart from sleep, the committee's report states that the average person talks for 13 years, eats for six years, spends 23 years in pleasure and washes for 18 months.

Okra, an Annual

Okra (hibiscus Esculentus) is an annual of the mallow family, closely related to the shrub althea. It bears sulphur-colored flowers.

Jealousy Dethrones Reason

DEATHS

Huffer

Death claimed Mrs. Orrin Huffer, Friday morning of last week, at the family home north of Etna Green. Mrs. Huffer had suffered with cancer and had been ill for more than six months but had been confined to her bed only two days previous to her death.

She was born in Kosciusko county on December 5, 1873, the daughter of William and Levina Sechrist and had resided in this county all her lifetime. She was united in marriage on Oct. 10, 1896 to Orrin A. Huffer and she had been a member of the Methodist church for a number of years.

Besides the husband she is survived by the foster son, Fred and her four grandchildren, Samuel, Geraldine, Tommy and Andrew; one sister, Mrs. Neva Baer of North Manchester; one brother, Adam Sechrist of Warsaw and many relatives and friends.

Funeral services were held at the Methodist church in Etna Green with Rev. Saunders officiating. Burial was in the Etna Green cemetery.

SENIOR CLASS PARTY

The Senior class of 1936 held a class party at the Robert Reed home Tuesday night. The group spent an enjoyable evening reminiscing, games and good times.

Those present were Mary Rush, Mary Witham, Thelma Beeson, Donabelle Mellot, Gertrude Hipsher, Irene Loehr, Eloise Kesler, Dick Jones, Hershel Teel, Frank Smith, Bill Brown, Ralph Black, Joe Silvius, Zanna Hammer, Virginia Adamon, Betty Lyon, Eldon Horn and three guests, Corlyss Paulus, Charles Eaton and Frank Nellans.

Hypnotism

Hypnotism was probably used by priests of ancient cults to perform seeming miracles, but the state was not recognized by medical men until the middle of the Eighteenth century, when Franz Mesmer tried to cure patients by putting them into a hypnotic trance. The state is a form of dissociation whereby the brain is no longer able to control the body except at the suggestion of the hypnotist. It is induced by stroking or by gazing fixedly at an object at close range. Once experienced, it is entered into at the command of the hypnotizer. By a similar sharp command the subject is aroused and resumes the normal state.

Middle Age Men Small

In the Middle Ages men were small. The suits of armor in the Tower of London indicate that the people who wore them were not more than 5 feet 6 inches or 5 feet 8 inches in height. The families of the upper classes had to undergo a severe physical training.

ROYAL SAPPHIRES ARE IN LIMELIGHT

The re-emergence of the sapphire as a fashionable jewel was originally due to the duchess of York, and subsequently both her brothers-in-law chose it as the main stone in the engagement rings they presented to their fiancées. There is probably ancient reason for this royal vogue, notes a writer in Tit-Bits Magazine, for even in Biblical times there are indications that it was regarded as a regal gem. There is, for instance, the expression in the Scriptures "a throne like unto a sapphire." It was set upon the breastplate of the High Priests, is mentioned as one of the foundation stones of the Holy City, and is described as "the body of heaven in clearness." It was this skylike beauty which caused the Greeks to dedicate it to Apollo, whilst the Hebrews had a tradition that the original stones which Moses brought down from Sinai, upon which were inscribed the Ten Commandments, were sapphires.

As with diamonds, rubies, and emeralds, there are sapphires which are world famous. For instance, there is the historic one that the great Napoleon gave to Josephine, which Napoleon III later gave to the Empress Eugénie. It was said to be the identical stone from the clasp of Charlemagne's cloak. There is too, Charles II's fine sapphire in our own imperial crown, which can be seen in the Tower of London.

The world's largest sapphire is in New York in the Museum of Natural History. It weighs 543 carats. The largest ever discovered, however, was one found in Burma weighing 356 carats, and priced at $25,000. It was eventually cut into nine splendid gems.

World's Biggest Barn Razed

The "biggest barn in the world" has been torn down. It stood on the "1733 Ranch" near Kearney, Neb. It was 300 feet long, 100 feet wide and 56 feet high. It was built by the late H. D. Watson, known as the "alfalfa king" of Nebraska in his time. Watson, more than any other man, popularized alfalfa in Nebraska. If not the Middle West, back in the 80s and 90s. At the rear end of the barn, Watson dug into the hillside and bricked in the excavation for a huge silo. This silo never proved a success as it was too large in diameter, exposing too great a surface of the silage at one time and causing too much spoilage. Now the barn silo and all are gone but Watson will always be remembered for the missionary work he did for alfalfa, one of the great money crops of the Middle West.

Flag Display on Capitol

During the daytime when congress is in session, the national flag is displayed over the senate and house of representatives wings. When either of those bodies is not in session, the flag is not displayed over that wing. At night a light in the lantern at the top of the dome of the Capitol indicates that one or both branches are in session.

A man who blushes easily can see nothing admirable or winsome in a maidenly blush. He knows how plaguey the phenomenon is.

200 Mice to Fight Plague

Two hundred British mice have been imported into South Africa in a war on a mysterious plague. They have arrived at Pretoria and will be used in a plan of the union health department to eradicate certain species of rats and control of others. Research work for the project is being carried out on a large scale throughout the union, and in Durban, among other centers, experiments are being carried out in an effort to discover the effects of the disease on the rodents and affiliated species of vermin. It has been discovered that when the virus of the disease is introduced into rats they die within a very short time. The problem with which the authorities are grappling is whether the effects of the disease are hereditary and can be relied on to be equally effective in wiping out the succeeding generation.

Material for Parachutes

A parachute is made of carefully chosen silks. The total weight when packed is about 18 pounds. The shroudlines or cordage are of extremely fine silk made by an American manufacturer of fishing equipment. The Army air service parachute is 24 feet in diameter and will safely land a man weighing 250 pounds.

Protected Against Air Raids

Paris is believed to be better protected against air raids than any other city in the world. Not only is it highly fortified, but its entire population can seek safety at one time in its 27,000 bomb-proof shelters and its 800 miles of catacombs and "sightseeing" sewers.—Collier's Weekly.

Startish Are Dyed Blue in a War Against Them

Starfish in Long Island Sound are being dyed a deep Nile blue by the United States bureau of fisheries in its study of their migratory habits. As a voracious enemy of the oyster, the starfish has long been fought by oystermen and the government. At first various tags were attached to the little things, who simply cast off the arm to which a tag had been tied and grew another.

Finally a Nile blue dye that does not kill the starfish, and after three months seems as brilliant as when first applied, was found. Now, by taking samples of the starfish at regular intervals and by noting the points at which they are found, it is possible to keep definite track of their movements.

Trade Winds Shift

In the last 30 years, the direction of Hawaii's trade winds has shifted from northeast to east, say reports from the United States weather bureau's Honolulu office. This has resulted in some areas formerly dry becoming verdant, as the moisture-laden winds hit the mountain peaks from the new angle.

Awing the Multitude

"Our ancient dragon inspires no terror," said Hi Ho, the sage of Chintown. "If we wish to awe the multitude we should create a new winged creature more or less resembling a bombing plane."

He Knew Better

"Wot I say is, the man should have all the say in the home, that's wot I says."
"I say the same—only I don't say it."

Performance, Beauty and Safety Mark Chevrolet's Completely New Cars

Chevrolet's 1937 engine is completely new, but adheres closely to time-proved Chevrolet engineering principles. It is of six-cylinder valve-in-head type, smoother, more powerful, more economical, and lighter.

A representative model from Chevrolet's new line, typifying its beauty and grace—the Master De Luxe Sport Sedan with trunk. Note the distinctive "speed line" extending back from the side of the hood.

Luggage capacity in Chevrolet's new trunk models has been greatly increased, as has interior luggage space in other models.

Beauty and utility mark the new Chevrolet instrument panel. The windshield is of greater area, with narrow corner posts, affording better vision.

Unisteel construction joins the floor, cowl assembly, panels, and Turret Top of Chevrolet's all-silent, all-steel body, to form one integral structure, welded in all joints, and reinforced and braced for permanent silence and safety.

New power, economy, durability, safety and comfort, coupled with striking new beauty, characterize Chevrolet's new models for 1937. They are offered in two series, Master and Master De Luxe, virtually identical in appearance.

Chevrolet's fully-enclosed Knee-Action is furnished at no extra cost on the Master De Luxe models; and new Syncro-Mesh transmission, and safety plate glass all around at no extra cost, feature all models of both series.

Laurel Leaves

Laurel leaves once were believed efficacious in preventing illness and the shelter of the tree was believed to ward off lightning. Early physicians held it in great esteem and considered it a panacea. In ancient Greece, when one had a dangerous disease, a branch of laurel was fastened over his door to avert death and drive away evil spirits. Young physicians were crowned with laurel berries (bacca lauri) and from this and the Latin bacca-laureus (laure - berry) came our words "bachelor" and "laureate." The former designated a person not allowed to marry and the latter word was attached to official poets.
