SHERIFF YEAGER DIES SUDDENLY

The entire county was shocked last week when notified of the death of county Sheriff, Virgil E. Yeager, who passed away at the Emergency hospital at 11:30 p. m. on Thanksgiving. Death, due to gangrenous appendicitis, was entirely unexpected, as he had been in apparent good health up until the time of his attack last Sunday, November 21.

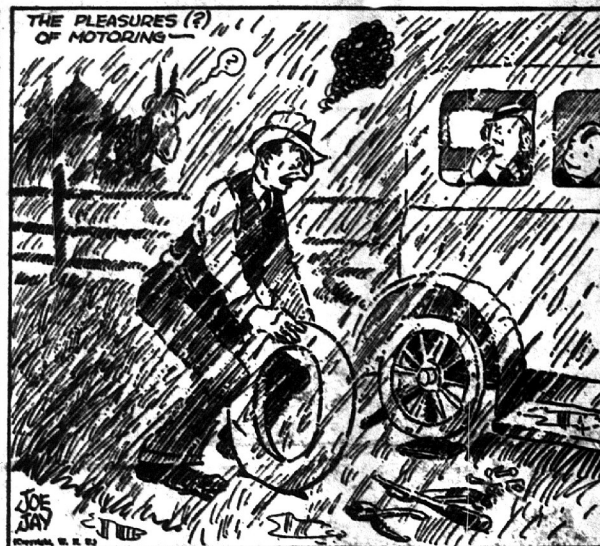

Sheriff Yeager, only 56 years of age, was well known and highly respected by all who knew him. He was born in Kosciusko county and was a life long resident of this state. He had been a successful farmer for more than thirty years previous to his entry for a county office in 1934. He was serving his second consecutive term, which was in the eleventh month, at the time of his death. He was known as one of the most capable sheriffs in the state due to his readiness to cooperate with both city and state officers. He was a member of the Methodist church and active in the Masonic order, being a member of the Blue Lodge, Chapter Royal Arch, Council of Select Masters, Knights Templar and Eastern Star. He also was a member of the Indiana Sheriff's Association. A special meeting of the board of commissioners was called to name his successor.

He is survived by the widow, two daughters, Mrs. Condict Smith and Mrs. Howard Swoweland both of Warsaw, and an only son, Randall of LaFayette, Ind. Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Methodist church in Warsaw with Rev. F. E. Dougherty and Rev. R. C. Wenger of Manchester College, pastor of the North Winoona Church, officiating. Interment was in Oakwood cemetery.

NOTICE.

The pupils of Mrs. Maude Snider in both Mentone and Warsaw will hold a recital at the United Brethren Church in Warsaw at 3:00 p. m. Sunday, December 8. The public is invited.

All-Stars Defeated By Colored Team

The Mentone All-Stars lost to the Colored lads from Fort Wayne last Friday night by a close score of 13-14. The locals played a great game and local fans should be proud of a team that put up such a battle for the colored boys.

Edgar Igo was the outstanding player for Mentone, scoring five points and holding the highly rated Virgil Riddle, last years Fort Wayne Central Star scoreless the entire game.

All local fans will get a treat to see the House of David play here December 8. Watch for announcement next week.

Proper Disposal Of Ashes And Rubbish

Now that the firing season is at hand it might be well for people to consider disposal of ashes from such firing.

If people will keep their ashes separate from the tin cans and garbage, each will be more easily disposed of in the spring.

Ashes that are free from cans and rubbish can be used as fill. There are places where fill is desired, but with cans mixed in, it cannot be used. There are places where cans only can be disposed of.

Why not then keep the rubbish and ashes separated for proper disposal in the spring.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Kurtz and family of Kendallville, Ind., and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Parson of Peru, Ind. were Sunday dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis H. Poor.

The dress sale will continue this week at Scholl's Dress Shop.

Judge Removes Hat in Court; Better to Think

London.—Do women think better when not wearing a hat?

This problem has arisen following the appearance of Mrs. Duncan Harris, newly appointed woman magistrate, on the bench of a police court at Croydon, southeast of London, without a hat.

Croydon has had women magistrates since 1920, each of whom, when in court, has worn her hat. On taking her seat for the first time on her appointment to the bench, Mrs. Duncan Harris caused a sensation. She was hatless.

"No," said Mrs. Duncan Harris afterwards, "it is not a protest, a conscientious objection, or anything of that sort. I always do my public work without a hat. It is simply that I find I can think more clearly without one."

WEDDING

Ridgway-Rush

Miss Ruth Rush, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Rush of Mentone, became the bride of Thurman Ridgway, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ridgway of Peru, at 3 p. m. Thursday at the home of the bride's parents. The single ring ceremony was performed by Rev. E. E. DeWitt, pastor of the Mentone Methodist church, in the presence of immediate families and intimate friends.

The bride, attired in wine transparent velvet with black accessories and wearing a corsage of Rubuem Lilies, was given in marriage by her father. She was attended by her sister, Miss Mary Rush, who wore a black crepe dress and a corsage of Johanna Hill Roses.

The bridegroom was attended by Lawrence Benjamin. Violin music for the occasion was furnished by Miss Eleanor Berkeypile, cousin of the bride. Her mother, Mrs. H. D. Berkeypile, accompanied her at the piano. They played "I Love You Truly," "O Promise Me," and "Endearing Young Charms."

Mrs. Ridgway is a graduate of Mentone high school and of Kokomo Business college. She is a member of the Phi Beta Psi sorority. For the past two years she has been employed in Kokomo. Mr. Ridgway is a graduate of Peru high school and of Indiana university and is at present employed in the Indiana State Employment service at Elwood, Ind.

Immediately following the reception the couple left for a short wedding trip after which they will be at home in Elwood. For traveling, Mrs. Ridgway chose a green crepe dress. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Bert Rush, Rev. and Mrs. E. E. DeWitt, Mrs. Jennie Cunningham all of Mentone; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ridgway of Peru; Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Berkeypile and daughter, Eleanor and Miss Ida Patoux of Kokomo; Carl Webb of Indianapolis; Lawrenes Benjamin of Wayne Michigan; and Charles Benjamin of Fort Wayne.

Two Minute Sermon

By
Thomas Hastwell

NEW TEACHING OF AN OLD RELIGION: A new trend in education requires that a child, instead of memorizing a list of facts and rules and history, be taught to connect all education with the facts of life and experience, to use his own initiative in finding a solution to his own real life situation, to make his own decisions, and develop his power to think constructively to the end that he will learn how to live in this machine age with its accentuated tempo.

I believe there is something in this for church and religious leaders. All over this land are churches whose ministers preach to empty pews. These pews are not going to be filled and the church become the force it should become, until men and women attend church because they desire to attend, because they can't happily remain away, and because in the service they receive a spiritual upbuilding that sends them back home renewed and strengthened and inspired.

When this is done there will be no problem of church attendance. We as teachers are going to have to adjust our teaching to a new day. The gospel of Christ and the facts of life are the same as they were when Christ first taught them in the Jordan Valley, but human beings are living in a new world, a mechanized world, a man made, machine world, and religion must be something more than a set of historical facts and doctrine, pigeon holed for ready reference. It must be a part of life, so woven into the things of living that it is in it, and of it, and through it, inseparable, a vital, usable thing. Until a generation can be brought up with this concept, the church pews will continue to remain empty.

HOROSCOPE

NOVEMBER 29, 30, Dec. 1: You are not in the habit of giving advice, and much prefer to let people pursue their own course and take what comes. Your own affairs are all you care to give your attention to, and you never interfere with the affairs of others. You are very thorough, learn readily and retain what you learn. You are very determined, have a fiery, quick temper, and generally quick to decide and act.

DECEMBER 2, 3: You have a keen sense of justice and would not knowingly wrong anyone. You are quite reserved and live within yourself. You are fond of fun where it does not interfere with your business rather set in your religious opinions, but not in the least revengeful or vindictive. You are somewhat hasty in your speech and decisions, but willing to see and correct your mistake.

Insects Make Shellac

"Lac," a transparent, glass-like substance used in the making of shellac, is "manufactured" by small insects which swarm over certain trees in the tropics. The glandular excretion of the insects deposited on the twigs is one of the ingredients of shellac, and is also used in the manufacturing of billiard balls, poker chips and phonograph records.

Flat Stones Used as "Money"

Round, flat stones, the height of a man in diameter, are used as "money" in the island of Yap, a South Sea territory governed by the Japanese. These strange coins are carried by thrusting a pole in the center of the stone.

El Dorado a Chief

El Dorado, meaning "the gilded one," was the name of a chief of the region on the shores of Lake Maracaibo, Venezuela, and was not the name of a country, or part of a country, as is generally supposed.

The "Murphy Movement"

The "Murphy Movement"—a movement to bring about temperance through personal pledges to abstain—spread over Ohio in 1877, the year after Francis Murphy originated the idea in Pennsylvania. Volunteer campaigners staged meetings in practically every community of the state and made individual contacts to solicit signatures on the dotted line. Many signed and many didn't.

Whatever else one may say of the Chinese, their present defense of their country against the invading Japanese is an inspiring lesson in courage, bravery and patriotism.

We were told that Wilson kept us out of war, that prosperity was just around the corner and that the saloons would not come back. It appears that, we the people, can be told most anything.

Armistice Day celebration recently marked the 19th anniversary since the war that was fought to abolish all war and make the world safe for peaceful peoples, yet the threat of war the world over was never more present than it is today.

Lack of money and the presence of a crushing load of debt from the last war are the main deterring factors. Humanity, it seems, has not yet found the way of peace on earth.

Under our present scheme of living, with its highly competitive practices, the timid, retiring individual is at a distinct disadvantage. He is pushed aside by the more aggressive, self assertive individual. This is true even though the least assertive person may be in every way superior to the forward individual. To some, the aggressive trait is natural. To others, it must be taught. The best time to teach this is when the individual is a child.

One of the easiest ways to instill this training into a growing man is to send him out on the street to sell newspapers and magazines. Here he learns how to approach people, how to present and sell his wares.

As he learns how to sell his magazine, he at the same time learns to sell himself, and before he realizes it, he has mastered the art of selling to people, not only his wares, but himself. Even though a boy sells but a few papers, the training is received. He has a chance to measure his efforts along the measuring rule of competition just the same as when he grows up and enters the field of business as a man. It is better to receive this training as a boy, when lessons are easily learned and when mistakes involve no financial loss or embarrassment as is often the case later in life.

A pessimist is a man who endorsed a note for an optimist.

After all is said and done the best plan for old age pensions is the time honored plan whereby one through thrift, and self denial, and economy, lays by in his earning years, a fund for his old age. There is a discipline and a training in the practice of thrift which the average individual needs and which he never receives when the necessity for thrift is removed.

Did you know that President Zachary Taylor never stayed in one place long enough to qualify as a voter?

There are just as many reckless and foolish pedestrians as there are reckless and foolish car drivers. Pedestrians who jay walk, who cross the street in the middle of the block, who do not walk with the traffic lights, who walk at night on the wrong side of the highway, are both foolish and reckless.

Thomas E. Dewey, a young country lawyer who was recently elected district attorney in New York City, has made a name for himself in daring to defy the most powerfully entrenched racketeers in this country, and securing 72 convictions out of 73 indictments, a record never before approached in this type of prosecution.

Few speeches which have produced an electrical effect on an audience can bear the colorless photograph of a printed record.

PENNY WISE

Wayne Knew

Old Meeker was a frugal soul
About the price he paid,
Whenever he was buying
He always hum'd and hey'd.
He ordered out of catalogs
For all his shoes and sox,
And boasted to his neighbors,
How he saved the rocks.
He didn't care a lick about
The town right next his door,
And said they'd have to sell for less
'Cause he couldn't pay them more.
As time went on and he grew rich
A hoard'n up his kale,
Others looked with envy
And followed up his trail.
They wouldn't buy a single thing
That could be bought at home;
They'd drive their car a half a day
To buy a ten cent comb.
Then local merchants, one by one,
Folded up their shelves
And took their stocks to other points
With profit for themselves.
Old Meeker and his neighbors
Had reaped the seeds they'd sown,
For all their land and property
Is now forty miles from town.

Earthly Comforts for Dead

As is well known, the Egyptians originally placed every earthly comfort in the tomb for the dead—food, liquids, rouge, perfumes, eye paint, weapons, and jewels. Later, according to a Scripps-Howard science editor, they used small clay models and even included statuettes of slaves. The Egyptians believed that these statuettes would come to life when the soul returned to the body.

Seminole Indians in Florida

The Seminole village Indians in Florida live in small and scattered family groups. Their homes are rectangular in shape, with smooth log floors laid about two feet above the ground. The houses have no side walls, and the women do the cooking before open fires. In the more permanent settlements the Seminoles have palmetto thatched roofs over the fireplaces, to serve as protection when it rains.

ADVANCEMENTS MADE

IN SCHOOL LIFE

I think school has made a great advancement in recent years and the students have a much easier life today. We do not have the methods of teaching and learning as they did a few years ago. It is much easier today. Of course, we have many more subjects to learn about but they are practically all based on the older subjects the three R's, reading, writing, and arithmetic. We have many more social activities today however the former type students participated in spelling bees and other programs. They also had some parties, but not as we do today. Everyone had a good time and earned what teaching they received for the effort.

The transportation has also changed. We now have nice school busses. A few years ago the children had to walk or drive a horse and buggy. I suppose at noon each person fed their own horse or paid for a livery stable. We would think that ridiculous today.

We think we have a difficult life, but I think we should be well satisfied.

JUNIORS RECEIVE RINGS

There was much excitement last Monday morning when the Juniors arrived at school and found that Mr. Kelley had received their rings. They have waited for quite some time on their rings but only now do they realize how much revising it took on their budget to get them.

SAM BLUE WINS TURKEY

THIS IS NO BEAUTY PARLOR

In Biology class Miss Langell, gazing around the classroom, caught Alpheus in the act of combing his hair. Upon deassuring herself that Alpheus need not comb his hair in class, she said, "Alpheus, this isn't a beauty shop. Please put the apparatus away."

DRAMATICS CLASS TO GIVE PLAY

Six members of the Senior Dramatics class are going to give a play entitled, 'Not For Ladies'. The play will be given in front of the assembly the first of this week.

The plot of the play is very interesting and educational. It consists of three girls, in the year of 1800, who are writing novels which is considered scandalous at this time. Their father is an old man who is becoming blind and depends on the girls for a living. The family is so much in need of money that the girls take the chance and write some novels which rouse their literary fame. In conclusion the girls receive honors from the publisher of their novels and he marvels that women can write as popular a book as a man.

IN NEED OF SYMPATHY

Miss Langell honored the Biology class with a story about a man that decided to train his goldfish to live out of water. He kept it out of water a little longer each day, until one day he was going for a walk (of course his goldfish accompanied him) when he came to a stream. He accidentally let the goldfish drop into the stream. Poor goldfish! It drowned. We know this is a sad edition but we hope you'll help us share sympathy for the poor goldfish.

Regarded as Auto Inventor

In Europe, Karl Benz, who died in 1929, is regarded as the inventor of the automobile. When he began his first experiments in 1883-84, he had to do so secretly for any time that he was occupying his time with horseless vehicles would have brought a stop to whatever slender financial support he had, even if it would not have exposed him to the risk of being an engineering crack or a harmless lunatic.

41 HAVE INCOMES IN MILLION CLASS

Seven Make Between Three and Four Millions.

Washington, D. C.—One person in every 3,100,000 rolled up an income of $1,000,000 or more during 1935, the treasury reports.

The report said there were 41 millionaire incomes in 1935, compared with 33 in 1934. In the latter year, incomes of a million or better were only one in every 3,000,000 of population.

In the boom year 1929, 513 individuals computed their incomes in seven figures.

The treasury said in a survey of 1935 income tax returns that 23 persons had incomes between $1,000,000 and $1,500,000; eight between $1,500,000 and $2,000,000; two between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000; seven between $3,000,000 and $4,000,000, and one between $4,000,000 and $5,000,000.

There was not a single person in the top income bracket of $5,000,000 or more in 1935. In 1934, one taxpayer was reported in this bracket.

The 41 persons in the 1935 millionaire column had aggregate net income of $73,631,000 and paid $41,500,000 in income taxes. In 1934 the 33 persons with incomes of $1,000,000 or more had net incomes of $57,774,000 and paid $32,211,000 in taxes.

Persons with incomes ranging between $100,000 and $150,000 were the biggest contributors to the federal till in a single tax bracket in both 1935 and 1934, paying $54,132,000 and $38,166,000 in the respective years.

In the lowest bracket classifications, individuals with incomes of less than $5,000 paid $10,233,000 in taxes for 1935, compared with $34,685,000 in 1934.

The treasury said 4,575,012 persons filed income tax returns during 1935, had $14,909,812,000 in net income and paid $657,439,000 in taxes. This compared with 4,094,420 persons, $12,796,802,000 in net income and $511,400,000 in taxes in 1934.

Salaries, wages, commissions, fees and similar compensation were the chief source of income in both years, providing $9,900,578,000 in 1935 and $8,600,455,000 in 1934.

Trailer Homes Increase Tenfold in Two Years

Denver, Colo.—The automobile trailer soon may carry new relief problems for the nation in humbler editions than the present de luxe models, according to Earl M. Kouns, director of the state welfare department.

Kouns has urged county welfare workers to study trends in the "growth" of trailer migration on the theory that the trailers may soon be a definite factor in adding to the Colorado relief problem.

"America is taking to trailers, and while most of those listed in surveys at the present time are owned by vacationers who are in the higher economic bracket, the indigent or near indigent soon may be on trailer wheels," Kouns said.

He cited statistics showing the increase in the number of trailers in the nation from 20,000 in 1935 to more than 200,000 this year.

"It is estimated that a million persons are living in trailers the year round. Two expert observers have estimated that within twenty years the trailer will be housing from 30 to 50 per cent of the population of the country."

While indigent trailer families are not a problem to Colorado at present, Kouns said there is a definite threat that they may become a serious problem in the future unless care is exerted in guarding against a wholesale influx.

BOY SCOUT CAMP ALMOST COMPLETED

Construction of the waterfront at the new Boy Scout reservation has been completed and will be ready for use when the urge to go in swimming returns next summer. An artificial basin 200 feet long and 75 feet wide has been dug at the mouth of a small creek. The water from the creek is diverted through the basin to provide circulation of water. The basin sloped gradually from two to twelve feet in depth. It will be divided into three parts for the three classes of swimmers—non-swimmers, beginners, and expert swimmers.

A much better type of bottom has been found than was expected. Most of it is sand and gravel. The sand taken from the pool has been thrown on to the shore to make an excellent sand beach. The digging of the basin has also formed a sandy island about 150 feet long by 100 feet wide. It is probable that a sea scout camp will be located thereon.

Before next summer a pier, tower, and diving apparatus will be installed.

A fish hatchery 35 by 100 feet has also been constructed. Blue gills and bass will be raised. Operations will start next spring with the help of the State Conservation Department.

The reservation has been declared a forest preserve and wild life refuge. Several thousand additional trees will be planted next year. Many new species of wild flowers and shrubs will be planted also. It is planned to make the reservation a paradise for wild life.

Plans are also being laid for further development of the camp to take place before next summer's camping season. It is hoped to erect a central building and numerous smaller buildings before that time.

PERSONALS

Miss Rosalind Mentzer returned to her home in Dowagiac, Michigan Sunday after spending the Thanksgiving vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Mentzer.

Among the casualties sustained during the recent cold spell was a painful right shoulder injury received by Mrs. Lydia Rinnearson when she fell on the ice while crossing the street. An X-ray taken by Dr. VanGilder showed no fracture to be present however.

Miss Lennie Winbiger, who has attended high school here for the past two years, has been called home due to the critical illness of her mother.

Miss Elma Jean King spent the week-end with her grandmother, Mrs. S. B. Dustman of Warsaw.

Mr. and Mrs. George King had as Thanksgiving guests, Mr. and Mrs. Roy King and family of Chicago and Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Dustman of Warsaw.

Mr. and Mrs. Sanka Vorhis entertained the following guests at their home Sunday: Mr. Carl Mahoney and children, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rush and daughter Ferne, and Rev. D. J. Norwood.

The following enjoyed a pot-luck Thanksgiving dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Homer C. Warren: Mr. and Mrs. Russell Good and son Wendel, daughters Carman and Joan of Argos; Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Clinker and two sons Herbert Gene and Walter of Akron; Mr. and Mrs. Louis Kraatz and daughter Genevieve of Warsaw; Mr. and Mrs. Elva Warren and two sons Bobby and Layne of Claypool; Bobby Jean of Bristol, Ind.; Mr. John Irwin of Burket; Mr. Ralph Good, Miss Ruby Good of Claypool; Mr. and Mrs. Homer Warren and daughter Vereen. Some of the guests stayed and enjoyed an evening of Euchre.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hipsher entertained their sons and families at their home Thanksgiving. Those present were the following: Mr. and Mrs. Con Hopsher and sons Eugene and Malcolm of Mishawaka; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hipsher and daughter Martha Jane of Elkhart; Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Hipsher and son Jim Bob and daughter Sandra Faye, and Mr. and Mrs. John Hipsher of Wabash. Others present were Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Hullinger and daughter Hazel Frances and Mrs. Allis Hullinger of Argos.

Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Hire and son Frank Lee have moved to their new home in Mentone.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Shilling were Sunday dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Hipsher.

MRS. WELCH ENTERTAINS

Those who on Thanksgiving Day partook of a delicious turkey dinner at the Martha Welch home on N. Franklin St., Mentone, were Mr. and Mrs. Simon Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. James Johnson, Mrs. Ellene Magers and Mrs. Grace Druhat of Fort Wayne; Mr. Carl Johnson of Churubusco, Ind.; Mrs. Olive Johnson and three children of Warsaw; Mr. and Mrs. Oral Welch, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Blue and daughter Jacqueline, and Mrs. George Borton of Mentone. Mr. Borton and two sons could not be present because of whooping cough, never-the-less, they each received a share of the delicious dinner.

PECULIAR ACCIDENT

LeMoyné Parker of Claypool, a student at Burket High School, received painful injuries to his head and back last Wednesday night in a peculiar accident at the Community Bldg. In running down the steps to the dressing room he struck his head on the door frame, knocking himself out, and causing his body to fall heavily on the steps. He was unconscious for some time, and when roused was found to have sustained painful bruises to his spine. Dr. Urschel, who was at the game, was called, and he was taken to the McDonald hospital in the Johns ambulance. X-rays of the spine revealed no fracture, and he was taken to home to convalesce from the back sprain and brain concussion which he received.

House Of David To Play All-Stars

The lid will be blown off at exactly eight o'clock Wednesday night, Dec. 8 at which time the local All-Star Independent team will take up arms against the House Of David basketball team. It is bound to be an auspicious game, pairing as it does, two fast and powerful teams who really go for that elusive basket and a nifty turnout of fans is expected.

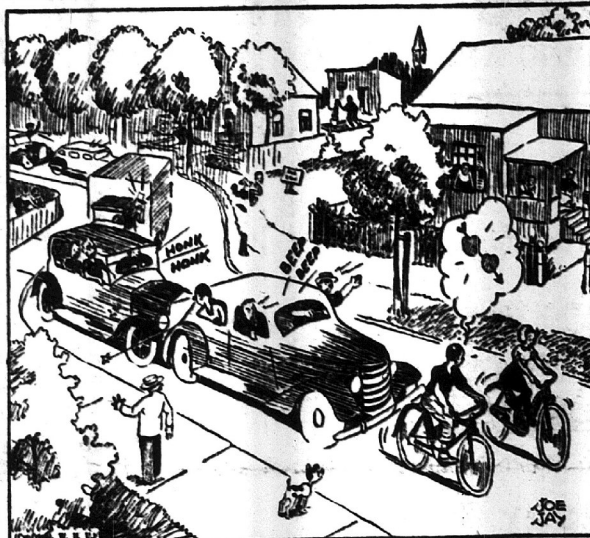

The House Of David comes to town with 151 victories of last season to eight defeats, despite the fact that they play the strongest professional and amateur teams throughout the U. S. A., Canada and Mexico. All the town will be in an uproar when they see all the boys with their long whiskers and when they see Tiny Burnette the Giant of the team and Steinecke the Clown of the Clan. All the boys are bearded, yielding the impression that they are a bit too old for basketball, but beneath the shrubbery are a set of youthful faces and a more genial bunch of boys never smiled out from beneath a camouflage of whiskers such as these boys sport.

The David line-up includes such men as Tiny Burnette, 7 ft. 7 in. All Conference center of Miami University of Oxford, Ohio. He is also a star athlete in football and track, although he weighs 300 pounds he really can move across the floor and he really can play basketball. This is his first year as a professional player as he only finished college the past season.

Bill Steinecke, playing manager and diminutive guard and best long shot in the game will be with the Davids again this season, this being his ninth year. He has played with the Pittsburgh Pirates of the National League as catcher. He is the clown of the team and he and Burnette alone will warrant a good turnout of fans.

Bill Koche will be back with the team, he is a former player of the David Clan. He has played three years with the Davids and is known as one of the fastest passing forwards of the day. Chuck Klunder, four year man of the Davids will be along side of Koche at the forward position. These boys are known as the best forwards in the game of basketball. Chop Lyons, 195 lb. husky All American guard will be along side of Steinecke at the guard position. Both teams offer plenty of action, novelty and comedy and all are assured that they will get their money's worth when they see these boys in action.

James Lackey Injured Saturday

Mr. James Lackey was knocked unconscious Saturday night about 6:00 while walking along State Road 25 near his home. He was presumably struck by a hit and run driver although he is not positive as he knew nothing for several hours after the accident. He was found by the side of the pavement by Devel Jelferies and Merl Harold. They immediately notified the town Marshall, Frank Warren, who accompanied them to the scene of the accident and removed Mr. Lackey to the Taylor hospital. He was unconscious for several hours and his condition was very serious. However, he is recovering satisfactorily now.

Co-Ops. Vote For New Set-Up

At a meeting of the stockholders of the Northern Indiana Cooperative Association held in the gymnasium of the Mentone High School at 1:30 p. m. on Monday, December 6, it was decided to distribute dividends to all customers beginning January 1, 1938.

The Association has had a steady growth since its organization and start in 1931.

With this new set-up effective January 1, record of all sales will be kept for all patrons. The stockholders present recorded no vote against such a change.

It is hoped that the splendid co-operation evidenced by members to date will be continued in the future to the end that the business will continue to grow. Sales for the present year have far exceeded all records of the past, which is greatly appreciated by the members of the association.

McMILLEN MILLS HOST TO FARMERS

The McMillen Feed Mills were hosts to a group of eleven poultrymen and stock feeders from this community Friday, December 3. Earl McCoy of Churubusco, Ind., Bill Whiticar of Cold Water, Mich., and J. M. Preisch of Mentone, all of the McMillen Mills, were in charge of the group. They inspected the whole McMillen plant at Decatur, Ind., including the Soy Bean mill and refinery. Mr. Frank Franz, of the McMillen Company, gave a short but instructive talk on hog and dairy feeding. This plant is the home of Master Mix Feeds, sold by the Northern Indiana Cooperative Association. The tour through the huge plant, and the accompanying grounds was very interesting as well as educational.

At the noon hour the local men and approximately one hundred other visitors from this territory were guests of the McMillen Company at a banquet at the hotel. Those from Mentone who were present to enjoy this day with the owners of the McMillen Feed Mill were M. Roy Rush, Herschel Nellans, Raymond Lash, Ora Smith, Edison Tucker, Mars Tucker, Chancy Tucker, Fred Rush, Charles Hamme, Carl Myers and Howard Horn.

MENTONE METHODIST CHURCH NOTES

On next Sunday morning at the 9:30 o'clock Merger Service, Prof. Paul Smith will give an interpretation of Henry VanDykes beautiful story, "The Other Wise Man." Following the devotional period there will be the study period with classes suitable for all ages. The Epworth League is growing in attendance and interest and will meet at 6:00 o'clock under the leadership of Miss Jean Burns. The pastor Rev. E. E. DeWitt has been invited and will attend the Special Dedication Service of the new Methodist Church at DeSoto, Ind. Rev. DeWitt lived in that vicinity for a period of years and in 1916 built there a new parsonage home.

Farmers Cautioned

A caution to farmers to "know the origin of the alfalfa and red clover seed purchased this year" was issued today by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics.

The Bureau said "there is need for extreme caution because of the short supply of adapted seed of both alfalfa and red clover and the wide differential in price between unadapted and adapted seed."

It was stated that the carry-over of alfalfa seed was very small, that production in the Northern and Central States this year was much below average but that production in the Southwest was above average.

The Bureau said that much unadapted southern alfalfa seed will probably be shipped to Northern States, some of it correctly represented as to origin, and some misrepresented as to origin. Because of the relatively low price of this unadapted seed, it was stated that "many retailers, shippers, truckers, and others will use every possible ruse to pass off southern alfalfa seed for northern seed." Though some southern-produced alfalfa seed may successfully go through mild winters in the Northern States, it was pointed out that the southern seed is not sufficiently hardy to withstand the usual severe winter weather in most northern areas.

Farmers were advised that "alfalfa seed obtained from growers and shippers should be fully identified as to locality of production, and blends containing any portion of unadapted seed should be avoided so far as possible."

It was pointed out that public agencies provide information regarding the origin of seeds in two ways. Many States certify seed, and their certificates show the variety and locality where grown as well as other information. The Bureau of Agricultural Economics maintains a verified origin seed service under which verified-origin labels are attached to seed containers which indicate in what State or States the seed was grown. Seed verified as to origin by the Bureau is not verified as to variety or germination, but the verification sets up certain minimum standards of quality covering such factors as germination, purity, and noxious-weed-seed content.

State extension services, county agricultural agents, State and county farm organizations, seed shippers and dealers, and all agencies engaged in seed certification or verification work are urged to cooperate with the Department of Agriculture in discouraging the use of unadapted seed. Much information and careful

At the Canadian fall (half of which is in the United States), where nine-tenths of the river's volume is carried, the depth, says the Cleveland Plain Dealer, is normally about twenty feet. It is not so great at the American fall. Nor is there any deep basin at the foot of the American fall, the massive rocks here having withstood the pounding of the water for countless years. Below the Canadian fall, though, the river has hammered out a basin a mile and a half in extent, extending from shore to shore, in which the water is 150 to 160 feet deep.

JESSIE RUSH, Editor and Mgr.

One of the results of the depression is to be found in the fact that society reporters in writing up weddings, rarely resorted to the use of the expression, "the groom is a prosperous young farmer."

"I have read the book by Dale Carnegie, 'How To Win Friends and Influence People,' a woman stated in this office last week, 'but find no suggestions on how to answer the friend, who, after purchasing a perfectly atrocious hat, proceeds to ask us what we think of it. Being thus left flat on my own resources in the matter I usually get out of it by saying, 'Well, it looks just like you.'"

Speaking of women's hats reminds us of what a farmer of this community told us recently. "My wife and I attended church the other evening," he said. "We sat about half way back. Two women came in with the new style hats on, and my wife, noticing them, whispered to me louder than she intended to, 'Look at those funny hats'. Three women sitting in front of us whom we hadn't noticed before, turned around and looked daggers at her."

But in a more serious vein—in the good old days it was no uncommon thing for the whole family to ride to church in a lumber wagon. If church attendance reports can be relied upon, it is next to impossible nowadays to get them to negotiate the journey in an upholstered, heated automobile.

Can you tell us without looking it up, which two chapters of the Bible are exactly alike?

Back to women's clothes again—cloth made of finely spun glass has become commercially available. Glass cloth is fire proof, moth proof and acid proof. Nothing was said, however, about its wearability.

Every sharp edged tool is a potential accident hazard. Watch it. Last year more than 36,000 persons lost their lives because of accidents in their own homes.

Within the past two years the world has witnessed two of the least justifiable wars in a century without an effective measure of protest from the non-combatant nations of the world. It is not a thing in which the world is justified in having any measure of pride. Rather it is a reproach in the light of our standards of justice and right. We talk world peace, yet in our civil life demand a police force and even an army and a navy to defend the rights of society against the outlaw, and the despoiler, and the robber, and the thief. We talk world peace yet we know in our hearts that world peace in a world so little Christian is no more possible without the threat of armed force than it is possible in civil life without the shadow of the law and an armed police force.

Every man dreams about the time when he will have all the neckties he wants and every woman dreams about the time when she will have all the hose she wants.

The Chinese alphabet has 2400 characters yet their language is easier to learn than ours which has only 26.

However, the stenographic field is not crowded there, as it, sometimes takes years to master the art of typing on their intricate machines.

It is predicted by some that if Thomas E. Dewey, new District attorney of New York County, runs for governor of New York next year and is elected, he will be the Republican candidate for president in 1940. But Wayne Knew tells us below that the recipe for happiness is to—

KEEP OUT OF POLITICS

If you'd life to live a normal life,
To have six kids and one good wife,
To garner wealth beyond the rank,
To own the mint and half the bank,
If you want to weigh your licks,
Then keep out of politics.
If you love your neighbor true
And like to smile and work to do,
If your business is sublime
And you pay your debts on time;
If you know most all the tricks,
Then keep out of politics.
If your friend seeks your advice
And speaks as tho he tho't you wise,
And says to you as if in fun,
"For what office shall I run?"
Tell him now, your words don't mix,
Keep yourself from politics.
If all mankind is your friend
From east to west, from A to end,
If you're happy with your lot
And like the house and land you've got;
If you love your cows and chicks
Then keep out of politics.
Then, when life's race is run
And you've worked and had your fun,
You can leave without regret
For the tasks unfinished yet,
And say aboard the river Styx,
I kept out of politics.

HOROSCOPE

DECEMBER 4, 5, 6 - You are reserved, but generally reliable in your friendships, and loyal to your friends. You love nature, very fond of animals and love to cultivate flowers.

DECEMBER 7, 8 - You are honorable, sympathetic, kind and faithful. You have much natural intelligence, quick wit, keen foresight, and a very instructive and pleasing speaker. What you aim at you hit and your words are straight to the point.

DECEMBER 9, 10, 11 - Not all of your darker musings will prove actual revelations of harm, but you can be a great use to those of your friends who appreciate this gift you possess in a marked degree. You are likely to be a pessimist, but you possess much natural intelligence with a faculty almost prophetic.

Two Minute Sermon

By

Thomas Haswell

DEVELOPING LEADERS: No long ago I visited a Sunday school. When it came time for the classes to take up, there was a shortage of two teachers. A hurried canvass of those present was made to discover if some one could be found who would take charge of these classes, both of which it happened, were made up of young people. Only one person could be found to supply the emergency, so both classes were combined and the one teacher, who by the way had made no preparation of the lesson, attempted to teach the combined group. The success may be imagined. The effect on the young people, who made up the two groups, can also be imagined.

We have, in this incident, which I imagine is duplicated in many Sunday schools in the country several times a year, the key to one of the reasons why young people do not attend Sunday school in larger numbers than they do. For some reason the teaching and training system of the average Sunday school does not develop and train leadership in the degree that it should. The program of Christian education is big enough and challenging enough to enlist the best leadership and the best talent in every group, and the training should be such that the product of the church school should become inspired with a real desire to work as leaders and teachers of others. If the program does not inspire its students to this degree, it is lacking in a vital element, and the sooner the reason for the failure is discovered, the sooner the potential leadership is going to catch a real vision of service and become inspired with a desire to bring the message of the Christian religion to others. When this is done there will be no lack of competent leadership in any group.

FARMERS TOUR McMILLEN MILLS

The McMillen Feed Mills were hosts to a group of eleven poultrymen and stock feeders from this community Friday, December 3. Earl McCoy of Churubusco, Ind., Bill Whitcar of Cold Water, Mich., and J. M. Preisch of Mentone, all of the McMillen Mills, were in charge of the group. They inspected the whole McMillen plant at Decatur, including the soy bean mill and refinery. Mr. Frank Franz, of the McMillen Company, gave a short but instructive talk on hog and dairy feeding. This plant is the home of Master Mix Feeds, sold by the N. I. C. A. The tour as a whole was very interesting as well as educational.

The farmers who attended from this place were M. Roy Rush, Hershel Nellans, Raymond Lash, Ora Smith Edison Tucker, Mars Tucker, Chan-acey Tucker, Charles Hammer, Fred Rush, Howard Horn, and Carl Myers.

Missionary Society

The Womans Foreign Missionary Society enjoyed a most excellent meeting at the Shafer-Manwaring home Friday afternoon, with Mrs. E. E. DeWitt as program leader. ## AIR PROGRESS PUTS END TO FRONTIERS

Aviation Service Shows Remarkable Development.

Montreal, Que.—Canadian transport planes have set new records for amounts of express-freight and airmail carried, according to statistics specially compiled from the results of exhaustive inquiry among many companies engaged in diverse forms of commercial air operation throughout the country.

Freight carriage in 1936 increased by 43 per cent over the 1935 aggregate to approximately 25,250,000 pounds—11,272 tons—while airmail reached a new high level of 1,153,812 pounds. Forty-three freight carriers returned figures included in the year's aggregate. The eight largest operators among them accounted for 19,500,000 pounds.

Commercial aviation in Canada provides perhaps the world's best example of the benefits conferred on mankind by the airplane. The dominion's immense territory and lack of adequate ground communications make it ideal for the proper development of civil flying enterprise, and Canadian air transport companies have done much to make possible the exploitation of areas that are inaccessible except by air, thereby adding greatly to the national wealth.

Mining Plant Transported.

Far the larger part of the aerial freighting is associated with mining. Typical of the kind of contract that mining brings to the air transport concern was that fulfilled by Wings, Ltd. It called for transportation of an entire mining plant a distance of 145 miles, from a terminal 325 miles east of Lake Winnipeg to a new mining site just over the Ontario boundary. The total weight of cargo involved was more than 600,000 pounds, and included a mine hoist, a mine cage, sinking buckets, rock drills and steel, steel rail, eight ore cars, 60,000 pounds of dynamite, 70 workmen and their belongings and foodstuffs weighing more than 80,000 pounds.

Special air bases, with radio stations, were established at both ends of the run. Some of the machinery to be moved raised difficult problems because of its great weight and bulkiness. The ore compressors weighed, when assembled, 14,000 pounds, and the hoist 4,800 pounds. The sub-base of the compressor was 15 feet long. It was cut in two and provision made for reassembly at the new site. Each piece weighed half a ton. Two tractors weighed respectively 6,250 and 5,700 pounds. They were taken apart, the heaviest single pieces carried in the planes being the motors, which weighed 1,800 and 1,230 pounds. The contract was completed within scheduled time.

Used to Ship Fish.

An interesting form of air freighting enterprise which is peculiar to Canada is the transport of fish from lakes inaccessible by surface vehicles. One company alone reports the carriage of more than 1,000,000 pounds of fish during the last winter.

During the last seven years air freighting in Canada has grown from a few isolated operations to become an industry engaging more than 40 operating concerns, serving vast regions in what is commonly called the "Northland," where other forms of transport are for the most part impracticable and are always more expensive.

Mining and air freighting have developed together in recent years, while the application of air services to problems of everyday transport and communications is bringing profound changes to the social and economic life of "frontier" areas from Aklavik on the extreme westerly Arctic coast of Canada to the little Magdalen islands in the Gulf of St. Lawrence.

Surgeon Offers Drinking

Rules for Auto Drivers

London, England.—Rules about drinking for motorists have been compiled by Dr. Alexander Baldie, divisional surgeon of the metropolitan police.

Among "refreshment rules of the road" suggested by Dr. Baldie are: On any occasion on which the drinking of alcohol is a contemplated ritual leave the car at home.

Avoid alcohol for at least two hours before driving. This period is strictly applicable only to the most modest and conventional amounts.

Especially avoid alcohol on long journeys.

Avoid alcohol on any journey undertaken alone.

Any alcohol consumed should be taken only with meals.

Do not select an alcoholic beverage merely to relieve thirst. A routine practice of sipping cold water at intervals on a journey often will counteract fatigue and often remove the desire for alcohol.

TRUE SCHOOL LOYALTY

Loyalty at school doesn't mean that you should leave your friends copy from your paper or be the source of their lessons. Doing this is not loyal to the rest of the class nor to the student himself. This doesn't help him in the future nor does it give him the ability to think out things for himself. Just because you attend every basketball game that is no sign you are loyal to your school.

Loyalty is the spirit that enables you to work in full cooperation with your teachers. If you are truly loyal to your school you will not be absent when it is not absolutely necessary.

When the officials at a ball game make a decision which you believe to be wrong, accept it. To make fun of the opposing team or the officials gives a bad impression of the school.

To cause disturbance while the band is playing is not loyal because the band represents the school.

All this may be summed up by saying that school loyalty is to show the right attitude toward all things in connection with your school.

10th GRADE HAVE NEW MEMBER

Tuesday afternoon a new member appeared in the Sophomore class. Mr. Paul Smith, having heard shrieks from the back of the room went back and discovered a large bug with a thousand legs (more or less) attracting the attention of the class. They had hoped to keep the new member, but decided that he might not be able to survive their English class. Jim Besson gently raised his chair and let one leg of the chair come down on the poor victims back.

NEW (?) BIOGRAPHY

OF AARON BURR

Did you ever have to write a six page story about Aaron Burr? Well, some of the Juniors did that very thing. One day Mr. Mervil Smith told them a story about the life of Aaron Burr, then he told them to make a group of questions concerning this man. About two thirds of the class responded to Mr. Smith's request, while the remainder of the class had to write the story indetail.

A COURTESY FAILS

Tuesday morning after the opening exercise period, as the classes were passing, Marjorie Long went to the pencil sharpener to sharpen her pencil. Ahead of Marjorie waiting to sharpen a pencil was Dean Decker who offered to sharpen Marjorie's pencil. Marjorie declined the offer.

This war a courteous offer Dean even if it wasn't accepted.

DEBATING

Mentone again has entered the State Debating League. The question for this year is, Resolved: That Indiana should adapt a unicameral system of legislature.

A unicameral legislature is a legislature having only one house. Nebraska is the only state that has adopted this system.

This year there are thirteen pupils trying for places on the debating squad. They are all anxious to learn what debating teaches. To think on your feet and to talk before an audience are the main features. The final squad will be cut to six, who will represent our school in the elimination tournament. However, the whole group will have some debates with other schools.

This year our county will be organized into a sub-district of our own. The winner in our county will compete against the winners in Elkhart, Noble, LaGrange, Stueben, and DeKalb counties to determine the sectional winner. The state is divided into sixteen sections. The sixteen sectional winners are paired off, so that eight teams finally enter the state finals which are held at Manchester College. The state winner has the privilege of entering the national contest.

SIXTH GRADE LOSES STUDENT

Wayne Clingenpeel of the sixth grade has moved to Warwau.

The sixth grade gave a Thanksgiving program Wednesday afternoon, November 24. There were seven visitors present.

The second graders are building a toy shop to bring about the spirit of Christmas.

THE HANGING ROCK

Among Indiana's beauty spots and wonders of nature is one, the name of which brings a feeling of curiosity, wonder, fear and happiness. About a mile east of the little town of Lagro, on the banks of the Wabash River, rises a towering giant of limestone known as "Hanging Rock". This phenomenon of nature towers about 70 feet above the river bed. At the base its circumference is 700 feet, while at its summit it is no more than 150 feet. It is like a huge cone whose upper half had by some great power been pushed to a dangerously uncertain position over the river. Uncertain, because looking up from the river it appears to be tottering, ready to fall at the slightest disturbance, however its base is grounded in the banks as firmly as Gibraltar.

Wilma Bronson

SENIORS LOSE STUDENT

Bob Thorne, of the Senior class, left school Thursday to attend Beaver Dam school. We certainly will miss Bob, as one of the most brilliant of our class-mates. We wish him all the success in his venture to another school.

DEVIL'S BACKBONE

The Devil's Backbone so they call it, is a very beautiful spot as well as interesting. This place is located by State Road 25 between Palestine and Warsaw. The road has a number of curves in it. Along this curving road is a small bottomless lake. It is surrounded by trees of all kinds. It has some very steep ravines near it also.

Two of the most beautiful times are mid-summer and late autumn. In mid-summer the trees are green with foliage. It is so dense the lake is hardly visible. In very late autumn the leaves, nearly gone, are all colors of the color chart. The lake can be seen and the sun is just setting like a great ball of fire. There has just been a light fall of snow. To finish the beautiful setting, ducks and geese are flying in the light blue air and settling on the silent deep blue water.

Margaret Swick.

GUESS WHO

This blonde haired lad is between five and a half and six feet tall. He is a very prominent player on the basket-ball team, and is considered very popular in his class as an officer. He does not play in the band, however, that doesn't keep him from being heard. You hardly ever see him wear a neck-tie. Who do you think corresponds to this description?

In case you are still in doubt about last week's Guess Who, it was Mr. Bowers.

YES? I GUESS NOT

In the eighth grade Arithmetic class Tuesday afternoon, Mr. Fenster maker was trying to show Dale Sherk what was wrong with his problem. There were several disputes about the problem among members of the class. After the storm had quieted down Mr. Fenstermaker said, "Dale, your problem seem's to be right in one way, but in another way it is wrong."

JUST IMAGINE

Mr. Harrison not calling down the Senior boys. Section II of Junior English being sober a whole period. Paul Vandermark and Dale Wiltrout being short. Marjorie Long not laughing out in History class. Bob Thorne without his moustache. Mary Mellott with black hair. Ethel Sensibaugh and Irene Neighswander being the first ones to their class rooms. Sam Blue not singing.

EIGHTH GRADE WINNERS

The eighth grade were the winners of the attendance contest which was closed Thursday. They are to be complimented on their attendance for the month. The students with a B or more in citizenship, were permitted to do as they pleased on Thursday afternoon. There were some wistful faces among those whose citizenship grade was below B.

TEACHER TARDY

When the bell rang Thursday morning for the classes to pass to their various rooms for recitation, Mr. Kelley announced that the ninth grade English class would remain in the assembly until the class was called. The students began to wonder what had become of their English teacher when upon his arrival they learned that he had had the misfortune of being ill.

SELECT THEIR DREAM HOUSE

The Home Management and Related Arts classes have finished their work on houses. Their final project was to select a "Dream" house and furnish it. They are now studying budgets and how to use them.

The advanced foods class has been doing quite a bit of cooking lately. They also report that Miss Langell has been quite persistent with tests.

The first year foods class have been studying from books lately, but they are soon to go back to their cooking.

It has become a regular feature of the Home Economics class to be interrupted by an alarm clock. Certain students have gotten into the habit of hiding the clock in various parts of the room with the alarm set.

PUBLIC INVITED

On Tuesday evening, December 14, the community is invited to participate in a pot luck supper at the Mentone M. E. Church. Following the supper, the group will go to the Scout Room where the formal dedication will take place. This room will be dedicated to the Boy and Girl Scout activities of the community and is not otherwise connected with the Church.

READING CLUB

The Mentone Reading Club and two guests motored to Sidney, Pa., December 3, and enjoyed a co-operative dinner and the following program: "The church and her opportunity", by Mrs. Dora Taylor; "Christ in Art," by Mrs. Faye Bunner. A short review of Dale Carnegie's book, "How to win friends and influence people," by Mrs. Lois Moore. Those present report a very pleasant visit with the neighbor club.

RSAW WINS OVER MENTONE

Saturday evening Warsaw High School's basketball team invaded Mentone. In a fast game Warsaw came out ahead 39 to 26. Buell of Warsaw and Wiltrout of Mentone were stars of the game.
In the preliminary game Mentone's Second Team won over the Warsaw reserves 42-39.

A Few Observations

Who is there in our town who does not think we have the nicest and best town of its size in Northern Indiana? With its wide streets, its three fine church edifices, a school building, and grounds that would do credit to cities of wealth, one of the few banks that stood the test during the awful depression, several excellent stores, say nothing of the concern that half a million dollars worth of business a year and draws business in a territory of nearly a thousand square miles.

Of course, we will have to admit that there are a few in our town, the same as in all others, who never seem to understand the situation. They like to live here but prefer to shop elsewhere, not realizing how much their support would mean to our home merchants.

If the business that goes to other places was given to our people our business folks could give you much better service.

As to prices, you can buy in our town as cheaply as anywhere, everything considered. Of course, everyone understands that there are certain lines of business that could in no way be conducted profitably in our town, therefore, we are all of us obliged to go to certain trade centers to supply our wants in such cases.

Let us take just one line of business, town for an example. Is there any sensible reason why our town should be overrun by bread trucks everywhere, when we have a good bakery right here in our town, and a baker to run it, who as a citizen, is an asset to any community in which he may reside.

Is there any sensible reason for burning up forty cents worth of gas in order to save twenty cents on groceries, which saving is questionable?

Is there any sensible reason why you should congregate in loafing places or on the street, and lend your voice in an effort to cry down your home town? Do any of the surrounding towns do this?

Brother, friend, neighbor, are you doing your share? Think it over.

County Nursing Committee Meets

The Public Health Nursing Committee held its meeting on Monday December 6th, at the Warsaw High School. At the close of the regular business session, the newly elected officers were presented. The outgoing chairman, Dr. DuBois, who has faithfully served in this capacity, in turning his official duties over to Mrs. Thomas Hamlin gave an inspiring resume of nursing service to date.

The Nursing Committee consists of representatives of townships and organizations as follows: Mrs. Ralph Meinert representative of Plain Twp. Gaynel Dally of Tipp. canoe, Edna Brunner of Seward, Ruth George of Jefferson, Alice Jones of Clay, Ursi Lucas of Prairie, Mary Phend of Van Buren, Mrs. Glen Longnecker of Franklin, Mrs. Marshall Beigh of Lake, Mrs. George Flew of Washington, Mrs. Virgil Eckhart of Harrison, Mrs. Thomas Hamlin of Etna, Mrs. Heckaman of Jackson, Mrs. Godfrey Shori of Scott, Mrs. Gerald Bushong of Turkey Creek, Mrs. Calvin Koontz of Monroe, and Mrs. O. B. Clase of Wayne. Dr. DuBois representing the Medical also a member of the Red Cross. Tuberculosis Ass'n represented by Miss Lulu Curry, and Dr. Wagner, who also represents the Dental Ass'n. Board of Health represented by Dr. T. J. Clutter of Mentone, the Board of Education by Mr. Lewallen, County Sup't, and Mr. Leffel, City Sup't of Schools. Miss Jessie Thayer, Exec. Secretary of Red Cross, and the County Nurse, Marie Schaski.

Objectives of this committee are: First, to give active support to the Nursing Service thereby contributing to its success. Second, to acquire a better understanding of the function and purposes of the Nursing Service in the Community. Third, to act as educational media between the nurse and the public as a whole, and fourth, to keep the nurse informed of the health needs of the county, and to help reach those needs as universally and effectively as possible.

Long Island Sound Once Valley
Long Island sound was once a river valley.

Selling Postage Stamps
It is provided by law that postmasters and postal employees shall not sell postage stamps for more or less than the face value of the stamps. But this restriction does not apply to persons not connected with the postal service. Private individuals, such as stamp collectors, may pay a large sum for a rare postage stamp, even though it is of small face value. And the owner of a stamp vending machine is permitted to make a profit on the stamps sold.

Nickel Stronger in Cold
Life stops, but modern industry goes on at 328 degrees Fahrenheit below zero. Here quicksilver freezes so hard that it can be used to hammer nails, and iron vessels become as brittle as milk bottles, but nickel and high nickel alloys, which become harder, stronger and more durable the colder it gets, are used for working parts of compressors operating at this low temperature.

Babylon Had Private Banks
Private bankers first were heard of in Babylon, during the time of Nebuchadnezzar, in 600 B. C.

Queen of Swindlers
Queen of all swindlers was Cassie Chadwick, whose cool nerve netted her $1,500,000, playing havoc with many Cleveland banks and investors. She used forged evidence that she was Andrew Carnegie's daughter as security for huge "loans" that were never repaid.

Heat From Wood and Coal
A standard cord (stack of wood eight feet long four feet wide and composed of sticks four feet long) of hickory or locust, is equivalent in available heat units to two tons of soft coal.

Many Deaths Preventable
About 1,300,000 die in the United States each year, and of these deaths it is said that almost 600,000 may be classed as preventable by proper medical treatment.

The clarinet was developed by Joseph Christopher Denner at Nuremberg in 1690.

Virginia First in 1790
Virginia, Pennsylvania and North Carolina ranked one, two, three in population among the states in 1790. New York was then fifth.

Nurses Report For November

The effect of inspections and examinations during the school year, can usually be determined following the vacation season, through a check up as to the number of children whose parents have referred them to the family physician and dentist for attention and what corrections were made.

On completion of the first round of visits to all County Schools, the corrections during vacation months, are gratifying and an incentive to further work. The visits that were made to physicians for physical examinations, examinations of eyes, throat and others, number 175. Visions corrected 50. The number of tonsillectomies performed during the summer months 141. Hearing Corrections 5. Corrections of teeth reached a high mark with 749, with about 65 per cent of this complete dental corrections.

School inspections and examinations today are but a part of the educational movement in health, shared by the teacher and nurse alike. They mark a progressive community in the field of school health and its ultimate goal to educate parents to the need of early periodic examinations for their children.

DEATHS

Creakbaum

George Creakbaum, aged 79 years, 11 months and 27 days, passed away Monday, December 6 at 4:50 p. m. at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Milo Kesler of near Mentone. Death followed an illness of two months. Mr. Creakbaum was born in this county and has lived here all his life.

He is survived by his daughter Mrs. Milo Kesler where he resided; two granddaughters, Mrs. David Hodge and Mrs. George Feldman, both of Bourbon, Ind.; and four great grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Thursday, December 9 at the Milo Kesler home at 1:00 o'clock with Rev. John Lurge officiating. Burial was in the Mentone cemetery. The Reed Funeral Home was in charge of the body.

Kosciusko County Dairymen Meet

The Dairy Extension School met at the Warsaw City Hall on Tuesday, December 14 at 1:30 p. m. Mr. E. A. Gannon, Purdue Dairymen, conducted this school in cooperation with the local dairy committee.

The committee selected the following dairy topics to be discussed.

Home-grown feed budgets and feed program, records, breeding program and quality product."

Door prizes were given consisting of feed, strainers, milk-stirrers, and other Dairy equipment donated by the cheese plants, milk companies, feed stores and hardware stores.

CONCENTRATION

When you do your home work, are you thinking of tomorrow's basketball game, or the movie you plan to see that night? It is a very difficult accomplishment to keep your mind firmly concentrated on what you are doing at the moment, but those who do achieve this early in life have gone many miles along the road to success.

Whatever you are doing at any time devote all your faculties to it, be it reading, playing, working or studying. Whatever task you undertake, concentrate on trying to improve your skill in it every time you undertake it. In all things, try to cultivate a "disciplined mind" so that most common excuse for a failure—"I forgot to really concentrate" will become less and less an important factor in your vocabulary.

Sweaters Presented

Tuesday the baseball champions of this year received their Honor Sports sweaters in the school colors of green and white. The following boys received sweaters: Bob Tucker, John Bayne, Seniors; Junior Wallace, Dale Black, Orval Secor, Dale Wiltrout, Robert Eiler, Herschel Linn, and Douglas Kercher, Juniors; Eldred Paulus, Dean Shirey, and Lowell Marquiss, Sophomores; Carl Whetstone, Freshman.

Bulldogs Victorious

Mentone won both of the games played last week-end.

Friday, December 3, Mentone won over Atwood, on Atwood's floor, with a score of 28 to 6. The game was very well played and the Bulldogs came through with very few fouls called on them. The second team won over Atwood's seconds 18 to 8.

Saturday, December 4, the Mentone and Etna Green game was played here with the scores running side by side through most of the game until the last of the third quarter, when the Bulldogs gained slowly. The last quarter of the game was ended with the score 24 to 16 in favor of Mentone. The Mentone seconds won by a score of 16 to 11.

GUESS WHO

He is a Junior in High School and comparatively active in sports. He is rather tall and has a dark complexion even though he has blonde hair. He played on the High School Baseball team.

He is well liked by his classmates and the teachers. He is quiet and courteous to all of his friends. He is a popular student in the High School.

For your benefit, last week's guess who was Dale Wiltrout.

Papers Disappear

It is rather strange how things will disappear right into thin air. Mr. Smith and his Sophomore class are apparently in a daze because they can't find their much wanted test papers which have somehow disappeared. Something has happened and no one seems to know anything about the missing papers. Whenever Mr. Smith speaks of the lost papers a peculiar confusion is felt in the room. No one seems to know the answer thus far.

COURTESY AMONG THE STUDENTS

Courtesy among the students has reached a great height. Everywhere we can see it. In all of our activities we are noticing it. Band practice shows a great opportunity for courtesy and the boys are especially courteous. One can always see John Tucker being the perfect gentleman.

In Band class he delights in setting up racks, doing what he can to assist in getting ready for class, and anything else to help get the instruments ready for practice. I'm sure that the whole school would like to see more of this same thing and also an increase in the amount of courtesy that is being used. The Spy.

BAND UNIFORMS NEAR COMPLETION

The Junior and Senior Home Economics classes have been aiding the mothers of the band members in making the capes for the new uniforms. The capes are of green garbardine with a white satin lining. Twenty-five capes were cut from 40 yards of the green material and 36 yards of satin. We are very proud of the new uniforms which will be completed in the near future.

Students Broadcast

A group of students presented a play "Not for Ladies" before the assembly last Friday. It was a play with the setting in a broadcasting room of a certain station in Mentone. The cast consisted of Geraldine Nellans, Mary Alice Mosier, Betty Hammer, Marion Smith, and Everett Beeson, with Joe Long as the announcer. The play was supposedly sponsored by the Alka-Seltzer Company and an amusing point was that at the end of the play Joe thanked Mr. Smith for bringing his Dramatic students to the station and continued to say that, if, after hearing the broadcast, anyone had a headache just try an Alka-Seltzer tablet for immediate relief. He also added that Everett Beeson substituted for Martin Ernsberger who was unable to take part because of a weak heart when appearing before an audience.

Farm Expenditures

The Juniors and Seniors are taking at this time an actual practice course in farm accounting. They have been given farm inventory and expense accounts to be posted and summarized at the end of the year. This work gives them a practical understanding of this division of farm practice which otherwise they would not receive from reading in a textbook.

They find that if a farmer keeps a classified record of cash receipts and expenditures in addition to inventories, he will have a basis for determining which way he is going, how rapidly and why he is getting along as he is. This bears the old saying that, "If the person who is habitually hard up will keep a record of his expenditures he may find he is shorter in judgment than in dollars."

Most farmers have hobbies and when they think of improving their farm business they usually think of how they can do better the things which they probably are already doing very well. If you are to fix a leaky pan, you have to put the solder on the hole instead of on the solid bottom of the pan.

The same is true of farm business; if you expect to accomplish much you will have to stop the leaks instead of trying to make the best parts of the business just a little better. These farm accounts aid a person in finding the leaks, and so enable him to make more profits.

Crossing Desert of Arabia

The Great Southern desert of Arabia was crossed for the first time in 1930-31 by Bertram Thomas, an Englishman. The desert consists of 300,000 square miles and is one of the largest blank spots on the world map.

Speed of Hummingbird's Wings

The wings of a hummingbird beat 55 times a second while it hovers in midair and 75 times a second in flight.

In one of the county newspapers recently was a news item that read something like this—"Neighbors and friends of Mr. and Mrs. John Doe will note that Patricia Ann was born to them Monday morning with pleasure."

One of the local mothers who read the item stated that she thought it should be sent to Ripley as it was undoubtedly the first time.

One American in five owns an automobile. Only one German in seventy-five has this luxury.

The oldest existing sport is bull fighting. It was introduced in Spain by the Moor's long before the dark ages.

Catgut comes from sheep—not cats, as is the popular assumption. It is also taken occasionally from horses, asses and mules, but never from cats. Ill-fed animals render the best catgut.

And could you tell us, without looking it up, who originated the Monroe Doctrine? Bet you couldn't. John Quincy Adams, Secretary of State under Monroe, originated and worked out the famous doctrine promulgated by and credited to Monroe.

Did you know that women were excluded from the Moslem Paradise? Mohammed wrote the Koran, which controls the lives of approximately 20,000,000 people, without mentioning them in Heaven.

It is the cap of the toothpaste that can give the collar button odds and stay hid the longest.

Love never misses a chance of doing somebody else a good turn—Howden.

Perhaps you can't love all your neighbors, as the scriptures tell us, but don't lie about them. Remember that a hard tongue and a hard character are found together.

The next time you are tempted to pass on a particularly scandalous bit of behavior of one of your neighbors, remember the words of Solomon: "These six things doth the Lord hate: yea, seven are an abomination unto him: a proud look, a lying tongue, and hands that shed innocent blood, a heart that deviseth wicked imaginations, feet that be swift in running to mischief, a false witness that speaketh lies and he that soweth discord among brethren."

One thing we have to be thankful for is that optimism still lives in spite of depression conditions. Proof of this may be found in the fact that there is still a considerable number of persons who enter contests, radio and otherwise, from the winning of which, they will enjoy future financial independence.

Strange as it seems—the shoe business always recovers first after a depression. Cold weather is a boon to this industry too. We're glad to know that someone appreciates this weather.

The closer one looks at a natural rose the more beautiful it is, and the more closely one looks into an artificial rose the more evident its artificiality becomes. The same thing may be said of false teeth.

One reason our government is so expensive is that each party believes that after an election it must take care of its wheel horses and party workers. Just because a man is successful in rounding up a bunch of votes, is no evidence of his ability to handle the affairs of an institution.

A Russian professor has demonstrated by extensive experiments that blood taken from individuals meeting sudden death may be successfully used in cases calling for blood transfusions. Blood taken in this way may be kept suitable for use for ten to fifteen days.

It is after he becomes broke financially, that a man begins to understand women.

However, this seems not to have held true in the case of Brigham Young, leader of the Mormon church for more than a third of a century. He devoutly adhered to all the doctrines taught by the founder of the church, and he consistently followed the doctrine of the "celestial law of marriage." When he died, in 1877, he left an estate valued at more than $1,000,000 to seventeen wives and fifty-seven children!

A lot of boys find that their greatest problem at the moment consists in what to buy in the way of a Christmas present for a girl who doesn't smoke.

Another peculiar thing about this old world is that just enough happens every day to fill a daily newspaper.

ALL-STARS WIN

The House of David fell before the Mentone All-Stars by a score of 50 to 34 last Wednesday night at the high school gym. The Davids started out at a rapid rate of speed but gave out when Mentone moved out in front by ten points at half time.

The Mentone team as a whole outclassed their opponents through out the entire contest before a goodly filled house, despite the cold weather.
Watch for announcements in this pa-

One current event that is in the public's eye is the advance in air transportation in America. Two good examples of this advance is shown in the United Air Lines of America and the Pan American Air Lines.

United Air Lines, operating coast-to-coast and border-to-border, fly 1,350,000 miles per month and the mainspring of this far-flung air network is an airplane round house at Cheyenne, Wyoming. Here on the roof of the continent, is the world's largest airplane overhaul and repair base manned by 500 expert plane mechanics, engine mechanics, and every form of technician. To this base, built on a mile square airport more than a mile above sea level, comes five transports for complete overhaul

Christmas Editorial

WE hope you are as happy this Christmas as we are. We've been looking in retrospect over the months since we regretfully threw away last year's Christmas tree because the drying needles just wouldn't cling to it any longer, and we're glad we didn't throw away our real, earnest love for peace on earth and good will toward men with it.

There are places in the world, somewhat remote from us, where people have not been inspired, exactly, by the eternal spirit of Christmas, and when we see what's happened there, we're more than a little thankful they ARE remote. Maybe we've had troubles, too, over the past year, but darned if we don't somehow find it hard to remember just what they were, with Christmas carols ringing in our ears and the warm spiritual glow of the Yuletide melting all the oneriness out of us. We're content just to go on doing our job, trying to print an honest, friendly and interesting newspaper that fulfills its mission of service in the community.

Meanwhile, we're determined to remember our lot will always be this happy if we keep alive the love and fellowship and humility of Christmas until December 25 rolls around again. It's a cheerful feeling; may you feel it, too. A Merry Christmas to you!

SODALES CLUB CHRISTMAS PARTY

The Mentone Sodales Club enjoyed a very lovely Christmas party at the home of Mrs. Ottie Walburn Thursday afternoon, December 16. The luncheon table was laid in the shape of a cross and was artistically decorated with evergreens and red candles. At each place was a tiny Santa Clause made with apples and cotton wherein was a clue to their gift, hid somewhere in the house. After the luncheon the group enjoyed a pine cone hunt and in each cone was a slip of paper instructing the finder to do a certain stunt.

After the fun, Mrs. Pearl Lackey gave a very lovely reading and Mrs. Isabel Johns and Mrs. Golda Mollenhour gave a comical dialogue. The gifts were then distributed and as the party drew to a close, strains of familiar Christmas carols were heard coming from outside of the house. The Girl Scouts were the choristers.

Every member of the club was present to enjoy this delightful party and one guest, Mrs. Bess Manwaring. The committee in charge consisted of Eleanor Manwaring, Lois Fenstermaker, Golda Mollenhour, Hazel Linn and the hostess, Ottie Walburn.

Yeager Preaches Farewell Sermon

Rev. R. O. Yeager preached his farewell sermon at the First Baptist Church Sunday morning, December 19. His subject was "Heaven."

Rev. Yeager has been in Mentone for several years and will be greatly missed by the local congregation as well as the many friends he made during his short time of service here. The things he accomplished and the life and spiritual enthusiasm he brought to the Baptist congregation will never be forgotten.

We join the community in wishing Rev. and Mrs. Yeager every success in their new field.

THE NORTHERN INDIANA CO-OP. NEWS

Published Every Wednesday by Northern Indiana Co-Operative Association.

JESSIE RUSH, Editor and Mgr.

If Sherman thought war was what he is said to have thought it was, he should come back and try to negotiate the traffic on some of our most traveled streets and highways.

In the American Revolution 4044 American soldiers were killed, but in the year 1936 more than nine times as many persons were killed in automobile accidents.

Hundreds of persons are killed each year as they step into the street from between parked cars. Be smart. Don't do it. With the increase in traffic, due to the holiday season, accidents will increase also. See that you do your part to keep the public highway safe for pedestrians as well as motorists.

Speaking of the holiday season reminds us—did you ever wonder what Christmas meant to people in other lands?

On Christmas Eve in the villages of France, the homes are the center of festivities. At midnight the church bells ring, and the merry makers become solemn as each lights his Christmas candle, a little taper streaked with various colors. The streets are dotted with lights as the villagers hurry to church to celebrate the Noel. Then amid great excitement they return home for a supper, so gay and joyous it often lasts until morning.

At dusk on Christmas Eve, the doors of the living rooms in German homes fly open and there stands a little tree ablaze with lights. German trees have nothing on them except lights and bon bons.

Christmas Eve in Poland is a strict fast, but as the first star appears the feasting begins. A few straws are scattered on the table, and a chair is left vacant for the Holy Child.

Serbian keep open house for three days after Christmas and every one, whether friend or foe is welcome.

Spanish and Italian houses are not decorated with evergreens, for the custom which came from pagan times was not encouraged in connection with a religious celebration. The decoration instead, represents the birth of Christ with shadowy caves of paper stones, lambs feeding tranquilly on green card board fields, and under a humble thatched porch, the figures of Mary and the Child surrounded by a halo of light.

Unlike the Continent, England celebrates on Christmas Day instead of Christmas Eve. Mince pie, that no English Christmas dinner is complete without, has a long history. A receipt dated 1344, required the chopped meat of pheasants, hares, and partridges instead of the more modern ingredients of Beef, apples etc.

Shakespeare has commented on this, the best day of the whole year—
"This day shall change all grief and quarrels into love."

Don't forget to feed the birds.

Sometimes it isn't easy for a man to keep his bills paid up to date if he insists on being up to date every other way.

A good pie crust will cover up a multitude of sins in an otherwise poor dinner.

Eleven of the twelve jurors sitting on the case of Anna Marie Hahn were women, which goes to show what the women think of a member of their sex who thus ruthlessly disposes of the men when there isn't enough of them to go around anyway.

Why will cattle stand along a wire fence during a storm and permit a bolt of lightning to destroy a dozen of them at a time? We don't know, unless it is for the same reason that a presumably intelligent human being will try to beat a railroad train across a crossing.

A good many boys in school are taking cooking. The theory is probably gaining headway that there should be at least one good cook in every family.

There is more satisfaction to be derived from doing good deeds about which no one knows. If you don't believe it, try it some time.

If you want to experience the true, genuine Christmas spirit in a way that will remain with you throughout the year and bring to your heart a thousand recurring thrills of happiness and joy and pleasure—simply do this: select some young person who is deserving and who is in need, make arrangements with your merchant for them to receive a pair of shoes, a coat, a dress, or any useful, servicable and pretty clothing, whatever you feel you can afford. The recipient must not know that you are the giver, not only at the time, or at any time thereafter. This understanding must be had with the merchant. It sounds simple, doesn't it? The beauty of it is that it works.

Two Minute Sermon

By
Thomas Hastwell

I HAVE LEARNED TO BE CONTENT: In one of Paul's letters he said: "I have learned in whatever state I am to be content." The average reader, I am led to believe, does not realize, when he reads this, all that it means. Many men, I feel, go through the most or all of life, and spend years in the church as student's of God's word and yet never reach the condition described by Paul in these lines. They never succeed in making religion a thing of which they can lay hold and put into practice in their lives to the point where they can summon it to their help to the degree that it will bring to them, as it did to Paul, and as it has to many others, content amidst discomfort, and calmness and peace and poise, amid the fretful, disturbing conditions of life.

How valuable the ability to do this has been to many during the depression years. It has served as a steady ing and a sustaining force when all other things on which we have come to rely have failed and proven inadequate. I feel that the depression, with all its unfortunate and distressing experiences, has been a test of men and women and their faith in powers and strength beyond their own. When things go smoothly and circumstances yield readily to our own resources. We do not feel the need of strength or the force outside and above our own, but when adversity comes and these things fail us, we must turn to help, other than our own. They are fortunate indeed who have so ordered their lives that they are able to do this, that they with Paul can say, "I have learned in whatever state I am to be content."

ATTENTION 4-H CLUB MEMBERS

The Kosciusko County Farm Bureau is to sponsor a 4-H Hybrid Corn project in 1938. A committee consisting of Frank Merkle, A. D. Wilson and William Orr were appointed to work with the County Agent in working out the plan.

The object of such a project is to give to the 4-H Club boys some Hybrid seed to be planted for the purpose of getting a comparison in corn yields. The plan is to use at least eight different Hybrids in the 400 series. Any boy between the age of 10 and 21 is eligible to carry this project.

LYON BARN BURNS

Fire of unknown origin destroyed the barn on the Allie Lyon property in the south part of Mentone about nine o'clock Friday night. The Mentone fire department was summoned and succeeded in saving the corn crib near the barn but the main structure was completely consumed by the flames.

About twenty-five head of cattle, owned by Ray Riner were in the barn at the time but they were driven to safety. Several tons of baled hay and straw, shelled corn and other feed for the cattle was destroyed with the barn. The building was fully covered by insurance.

Farewell Dinner

A farewell dinner was given at the Charles Besson home Sunday in honor of Mrs. S. A. Guy and her sister, Mrs. Cora Erwin who are leaving for Florida soon. The day was also the birthday anniversary of Miss Thelma Besson and the wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Brock. Mrs. Besson served a delicious turkey dinner to the following: Mrs. S. A. Guy, Mrs. Cora Erwin, Miss Retha McPheron, Mr. Charles Eaton, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Besson, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Brock and the Charles Besson family.

Christmas Party

The Mentone Home Economics club held their annual Christmas party at the beautiful country home of Mrs. Linnie Vernet. Sixteen members, two guests and three children made up the happy party. A lovely potluck dinner was partaken of at the noon hour. At one o'clock the president called the meeting to order. The song "Silent Night" was sung and roll call was answered to with "What Christmas Means To Me."

Creed was repeated and the secretaries report was read and approved. The business was then taken care of. It was decided to send out a number of Christmas boxes. Mrs. Moore then read a beautiful Christmas story after which each one was asked to tell an account of their most happy Christmas. After this came the time for guessing the "Cherrio Pals" and names were drawn for next year. We then surrounded the beautiful Christmas tree from which each received their gifts.

Mrs. Effie Rathfon became a member of the club. Mrs. Grimes of Detroit assisted her mother, Mrs. Vernet. The children present were Norbert and Mona Lou Darr and Bobby Grimes. Club adjourned to meet in January with Mrs. Maude Cox. Pauline Weisert will be assistant hostess. Rep. Mrs. E. E. Jones.

Wilber Hite, 30 years old, died at 5:30 o'clock Thursday morning, December 16, at his home in Etna Green. Death was caused by tumor of the brain from which he had suffered for two years. The deceased was born December 4, 1907, in Etna Green, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hite, and spent all his life in that place. January 25, 1930, he was married to Cleo Bryant, who survives.

Besides his parents, and the widow, Wilbur Hite is survived by one son, Harold 4, three brothers, Jake, John and Willard, all of Etna Green; and three sisters, Mrs. Myrtle Guard and Mrs. Marie Aikens of Etna Green, Mrs. Daisy Newell of Talma.

Funeral services were held at two o'clock Saturday at the Etna Green Christian Church, with Rev. Ralph E. Bourne officiating. Interment was in the Etna Green cemetery.

Stone Forests

Thousands of people each year visit the great cavern of stone forests at Millau, where within the depths of the earth are found every form of brilliant stalagmites. Of all the caverns in the neighborhood the Aven-Armand is the most amazingly magnificent. The discoverer, Armand, went down a chimney by a rope ladder and at the bottom found himself in what has since come to be called "a virgin forest" of stalagmites in a vaulted dome high enough to permit the placing of Notre Dame and its towers.

How Safety Glass Is Made

Safety glass is made by firmly sealing together two thin pieces of plate glass with a tough, transparent film of cellulose plastic. To assure perfect transparency, this compound is rolled into thin sheets on special monel-covered rollers, since this rustproof metal allows no rust particles or other products of corrosion to discolor the film and affect its transparency.

The following is a translation of a dialogue in the Sophomore Latin book. A master was joyfully returning from the Forum. His servant met him. The master fearing bad news, called out to the servant, and the following dialogue took place.

Master: Look out that you don't tell me bad news!

Servant: Master, I shall not tell you bad news. Our little dog is dead.

M. How was he killed?

S. Our mule was frightened and when he ran away he crushed our dog under his feet.

M: What happened to the mule?

S: He fell into the well and was killed.

M: How was the mule frightened?

S: Your son fell off the house and was killed and this frightened the mule.

M: What did the boy's mother do?

S: She died with grief.

M: Who is guarding the home?

S: No one because it burned down with everything in it.

M: How did it catch on fire?

S: On the same night when the mistress died a maid servant upset a lamp in a room and burned the house and everything.

M: Where is the maid?

S: A beam fell on her head and killed her.

M: And how did you escape, since you are so lazy?

S: When I saw she was dead, I ran away.

Translated by Dick Manwaring

SECOND COURTESY

It is indeed interesting to note how exceedingly polite a certain Senior boy is. Once before the "Spy" noticed this and had reason to mention it. However I think that it is worthy of a second mentioning. After each class this boy stands erectly at the door and waits while the girls pass in front of him. I, the spy, think that John Bayne is to be commended for his politeness.

GUESS WHO

The subject for the "Guess Who" this week is an individual much seen around the school. He is of medium height, rather heavy set, and all together a very likable fellow. He is willing to co-operate with all of the teachers and students in any of their work. He is the type who enjoys seeing the school looking its best and does his best in keeping it in that condition. I'm sure that every student finds him to be a kind friend and an important individual.

For those who are still in doubt about last week's GUESS WHO, it was Douglas Kercher.

WINS TWO PRIZES

Hope Deaton, Freshman, considers it her duty to win all prizes awarded in her classes. In English class, Mr. Smith offered a prize to the person who could make the least number of mistakes in a recent test. Hope won, making only 12 mistakes. Hope was eagerly awaiting the prize in a state of excitement and wonder, when Mr. Smith opened the drawer of his desk and from it he withdrew a red ribbon on which was attached an image of a cucumber, and presented it to Hope. This was Mr. Smith's way of getting the ribbon off of his hands. you see he found it and could not find it's owner.

In beginning Latin class, everyone was required to learn the declension of hic, haec, hoc. Mr. Kelley offered a prize to the student who could say this declension in the shortest time. It took exactly seven seconds for Hope to recite. The prize has not yet been awarded.

In this Latin class, everyone enjoyed playing a game which called for everyone's attention. Mr. Kelley wrote on the board each persons name and added the Latin endings and showed the class how they were declined. Then he wrote a sentence on the board in Latin ordering someone in the class-room to do a certain thing. Of course everyone had to be able to read Latin in order to know what he or she was supposed to do. Several students were required to do the following things: Ethel Sensibaugh had the privilege of sitting on the table. Juanita Nellans gladly watered the flowers. Eleanor Wallace read the sentence addressed to her. It said for her to run around the house (meaning around the room). Eleanor preferred to walk.

In walking (instead of running) Eleanor violated her command and was required to walk around the room four times (much to her dismay). Howard Mahoney had to sit on the steps. This required him to leave the room. Mr. Kelley checked up on him, but Howard had done as bidden.

Margaret Langell couldn't wash dishes.

SENIORS SILENT

The Seniors have been rather silent this week. We can't understand but it seems as if they are all concentrating on the thought they they will soon no longer hear the bells ring in their dear old school. In a week or so they will have passed through half of their last year of school life. Mr. Smith has already given them a lecture on the usual habit of a twelve-two Senior—trying to get by without much work, but this class of Seniors have decided perhaps it would be better to continue their work.

WHAT IS THE REAL

YULETIDE SPIRIT?

What does Christmas mean to you? Does it mean just another day or does it mean the rebirth of Christ? To some people Christmas means receiving gifts and having a hearty meal. To the little children, Christmas means receiving toys and candies from Santa Clause. Every year there seems to be less of the "real Christmas spirit". This may be caused by the depression and the inability to spend freely but, why can't the spirit prevail without any gifts at all? Christmas is a time when all troubles should be dimmed by symbols of Christmas and how it stands in relation to the birth of Christ.

NEW YEARS A BIRTH OF A NEW LIFE

New Years is the birth of a new life and a chance for correction. To many people it is a chance to celebrate, for others a chance to rest. With the coming and passing of a new year, resolutions are usually made and broken. But why do they have to be broken?

This year when we make our resolutions lets make some that we can maintain and extend throughout the coming year. Because it is better to make a few and keep them, then to make many and break them all.

STUDY OF THE SOIL

The Freshmen and Sophomores are studying soil inoculation and how necessary it is to inoculate if large crop yields are to be obtained. Another phase of this which will go a long way for these results, is the applying of commercial fertilizers which contain Nitrogen, Phosphorus, and Potassium. We know the need of this when we see that one farmer who put nine dollars worth of a certain type of fertilizer, suitable to the plot of ground, on his potato patch, that year made a sixty-four per cent increase over the year before. This shows how important this study is to every farmer.

The Seniors and Juniors are still on the subject of farm accounting, but soon they will be studying an entirely different subject.

The seventh grade at this time are studying the different types of horses and are preparing to take up the judging of horses and mules. Until recently they have been studying and judging cattle.

By L. L. STEVENSON

Every New Yorker should go away for an extended stay at least once a year. The reason is that on his return he'll find a different city. Just what that mutation really amounts to is hard to say. New York, despite the constant tearing down and building up, is always much the same city in its physical aspects. Nevertheless, familiar localities and even familiar structures seem much different after an absence as short as several weeks. The sidewalk throngs, the shop windows, the traffic streams, the eternal hurly-burly and hurry give a sensation of being more intense, more vital. Thus the wonder city becomes even more of a wonder city when viewed on the return. At least, I've found that so. But maybe I'm not a New Yorker—just a middle-westerner prowling around the big town and having a wonderful time. Then going away on a vacation, returning—and being glad to be back on this $24 island.

The New Yorker—and many of us who do not regard ourselves as New Yorkers but merely as importations—tends to fall into a rut. In the routine of daily existence, the wonders of the wonder city are not for him unless cousins come in from the sticks. Then he has to show them around. Not infrequently, that gets him into trouble. He doesn't know where to go. In mind is a gentleman who has been living here for many years. When a California relative came along and wanted to see the Aquarium, he had to ask a cop how to get there. He'd heard about the Aquarium, of course, and had a misty idea it was downtown. But business hadn't taken him in that section, so he was nonplussed, as the saying goes.

Many New Yorkers see nothing whatever of the city. They take a subway in the vicinity of their homes, ride downtown underground and leave the train at stations in basements of buildings in which they have their offices or in which they are employed. Evenings they may go to some neighborhood movie theater. Even if they visit friends in another part of the city, they ride underground and the subways are far from being scenic routes. Sundays, if they go out at all, they seek the country. A New York friend knows Westchester better than he does the city itself. Happened to say something about Prospect park and he replied he didn't know anything about the Bronx. As a matter of fact, Prospect is Brooklyn's biggest and best known park.

Former New Yorkers have their troubles too when they return to their native town on a visit. In mind is John Straub, of Plymouth, Mich. He was born and raised where the Pennsylvania terminal now stands. He used to run a street car out of the old Seventh avenue barns at Fiftieth street. His knowledge of New York of the past is vast. But when here on vacation with his wife and daughter last month, he wanted to go to the Battery, he took a surface car on Broadway—and found himself away over near the East river. Broadway street cars no longer run down to the Battery. As a matter of fact, the tracks have been torn up for months.

If a New Yorker does actually get away, even for a considerable length of time, his ego is apt to be deflated on his return. Life here is so complex and the town so big one human unit doesn't count for much except among closest friends and they too are apt to overlook absence. I've been back from the West Coast long enough now to do a lot of prowling but have encountered few acquaintances who knew I'd been away. On the other hand, I made inquiries about a friend only to learn he'd moved to Chicago a year ago.

Wautoma, Wis.—Joseph Cislak has discovered a fisherman's paradise.

When he wants a mess of trout for supper he walks out of his tailor shop into the middle of Main street, lifts a manhole cover and drops in his line.

Underneath Main street runs the White river. Cislak said hundreds of trout lie in the cool cave beneath the streets.

Trouble and Imagination

"Trouble," said Uncle Eben, "is mostly de result of a lively imagination."

Word "Escape" Traced

The word "escape" is believed to come from an old French word meaning "to put off one's clothes," the idea being that of leaving one's cloak behind in the hands of the pursuers.

Lucky Horseshoes Popular

The superstition that a horseshoe brings luck reached its greatest height toward the middle of the Eighteenth century and by the middle of the Nineteenth century was steadily dying out.
