Broken Toy Drive Made By Lions Club

A broken toy drive, sponsored by the Mentone Lions club, aided by every other organization in town, urges you to collect your broken toys, old clothing that is still servicable and other similar articles and have them ready for the solicitor when he calls for them in the near future. The Lions club will mend the toys, repaint them, and make them as good as new. Wayne Tombaugh has donated the back room of the furniture store for this work. Shortly before Christmas the toys and the clothing will be distributed to those less fortunate about us.

ARE YOU A ROTTEN APPLE

One rotten apple can spoil the whole barrel.

Nowhere is this fact proved more conclusively than on the highway where millions of automobiles are constantly moving in all directions and vulnerable to any "spoiling" influence.

One careless motorist who fails to signal for a turn, or one hothead who pulls out of his traffic lane, or one speeder who persists in passing everyone on the road not only endangers every other motorist in the vicinity but he detracts from their driving ability.

When other drivers see one of these foolhardy fellows, they react in one of two ways: either they think they can get by with similar practices and drive carelessly or they realize the insanity of what they have seen and get so upset that they are accident prone because their nerves are on edge.

No matter which way they react—the "apples" have started to spoil.

Two Minute Sermon

By

Thomas Hastwell

CREATING DEBTS FOR THE NEXT GENERATION We hear much these days about the evils of divorce. Various remedies are proposed to combat it. Some propose stricter marriage laws, some propose the period of acquaintanceship before marriage be controlled by law, that hasty marriages be made impossible. In my opinion the correction of the divorce evil and the observance of Christ's law pertaining to it is not going to come about by condemning the practice of divorce after the marriage is consummated. It will come nearer being accomplished through education and the home life. It is expecting too much that children from a home in which the parents quarrel and constantly snap at each other are going to make companionable mates or successful marriages. They may, but the odds are largely against them.

We have heard a good deal in these days of stress that we of this generation are creating debts for our children and our grandchildren to pay. True, we are. But is it any worse to create financial debts that have to be paid only in money, than it is to create debts of bad habits and wrong practices and bad examples that have to be paid in human life and human happiness? I do not presume to offer this as the final remedy, but I do believe that in the solution of the divorce problem the homes and the parents are going to have a definite part to play through education and example. They are going to have to cease creating debts of bad examples and bad practices for future generations to pay.

THINGS TO WATCH FOR

Batteryless flashlights with spring-operated electric generator which is wound up like a watch.

Novel costume bracelets cast from colored plastics with small receptacles for holding powder puffs, mirror and face powder.

Cigarette case for automobile drivers, which by the flip of a knob, presents cigarette already lighted within easy reach of driver.

Aluminum cap for beer bottles fitted so that a person can take the cap from bottle with his fingers.

Attachments for present radio models to permit sound reception from television stations.

Mahlon Rickel officially assumed his new duties Thursday, as secretary treasurer of the Kosciusko County National Farm Loan Association. He succeeded Attorney John Call, who resigned recently to devote his time to his law practice.

Mr. Rickel has been a member of the board of directors for the past ten years. He resigned the position of president of the board to accept the secretary-treasurership. Howard Mauzy was elected to fill the presidency, and George Hoagland was appointed to fill the new vacancy on the board of directors.

The only time we really envy the men is in the winter. They can wear long underwear when its cold without impairing their social standing.

Mechanical corn pickers are taking the place of hand huskers. Think what a thrilling thing it would be at a husking bee when a mechanical corn picker discovered a red ear and attempted to claim the reward that always went with such good fortune in the old time husking bees. A kiss from the best looking "gal" there.

Mark Sullivan, one time editor of the Colliers, and nationally known newspaper columnist, says that this country is not as rich as it was five years ago. The wealth destroyed in the World war has not yet been recreated. He also says that the combined wealth of the sixty richest families in the United States would not pay the Townsend pensions for one week.

An insurance man tells us that the reason some widows find such difficulty getting their three children through school is that their husbands, some years before, decided to drop their insurance instead of their tobacco.

HOROSCOPE

DECEMBER 2, 3—You have a keen sense of justice and desire to see every one get fair play. You are fond of a good time which doesn't conflict with business. You have staunch religious tendencies and are a devout church goer. You are quiet, reserved and not easily turned from your chosen desire. You are somewhat quick in speech and apt to make decisions hastily.

DECEMBER 4, 5, 6—You have musical talents and would also make a good merchant. In purchasing wares you always desire the best. You are loyal to your friends and cautious in all things. You desire recognition and when you do a kind deed you want it remembered. You are impulsive and hasty tempered and often a problem to your friends.

DECEMBER 7, 8—You do not mince words but drive to the point. Easily angered you often make statements you regret. You like to delve into the unseen or supernatural. You are honest and faithful and demand the characteristics in others. You are a pleasing speaker and have a splendid memory. You are very quick witted which you sometimes use in a sarcastic way. You have artistic ability and would do well as a jeweler.

Miss Gertrude Hipsher returned to Columbia City Sunday evening where she is employed in the overall factory.

Classification of Hides

Hides are classified as "packer, city, or country" stock. This division is based on the theory that less defects are found in hides removed and cured by packing houses in metropolitan districts because of improper purchasing and supervision. The best grade, "packer," refers to hides of large packing houses; "city," to those from moderate size slaughter houses, and "country" to those from smaller houses or farm districts. Loose-haired animals, especially if they are summer-bald, are preferred by tanners in making shoe leathers. The sparse hair follicles lessen the separation of the skin's grain, which weakens its structure.

Origin of Knighthood

Knighthood arose among the class of men who forswore all that was low and debasing when the world was sunk in ignorance and sensuality, and the word remains as a title of the best of the race.

Black Tea a Favorite

Seventy per cent of the tea drunk in the United States is black tea. Orange Pekoe tea is made from the smallest tea leaves. The quality of small leaves is usually better than the larger ones.

New Model City To Be Shown at New York Fair

NEW YORK (Special)—A magic carpet ride through space two miles above "Democracy," the perfectly integrated garden city of tomorrow, will feature the central theme exhibit of the New York World's Fair which opens April 30, 1939.

The exhibit, created by Henry Dreyfuss, industrial designer, will be dramatic in form. It will reach a stirring climax when, out of the distant skies above the floating audience, will troupe marching legions of workers, symbolizing the interdependence of man in modern civilization.

Nearer and nearer they will tramp, until the whole arch of heaven is filled with towering figures, arms upraised, singing the song of tomorrow. As the final strains of this marching air die away, great streamers of colored light shoot forth from the zenith, drenching the sky from horizon to horizon in all the hues of the rainbow.

A Dramatic Show

This dramatic show will be housed in the eighteen-story Perisphere, companion structure to the 700-foot Trylon, which constitute the architectural focus of the Fair.

An entirely new method of projection, utilizing slides instead of film, will be employed to throw the moving figures on the sky. New methods of fluorescent lighting will be used.

The garden city itself will be a model—one of the largest ever built and the first to portray a full-size metropolis catering to a million people and complete in every last detail. This city of tomorrow will serve 1,000,000 people, but no one will live in it. Homes will be in suburban developments. Factories also will be located in satellite towns, and broad green belt areas will circle both city and towns.

Model City Possible

City planners, engineers, architects, landscape architects, airport specialists and other experts collaborated on the design of "Democracy," and so accurate is the model that, according to Mr. Dreyfuss, it could be given concrete reality today were sufficient funds made available. Blueprint drawings have been made: not only of street layouts, harbors, airports, athletic fields and civic centers but of traffic and pedestrian over-passes, theatres, hospitals, shops, bridges, dams and apartments.

The entrance to the theme exhibit will be high up on the side of the Perisphere fifty feet above the ground. Access will be by means of the two longest moving stairways ever built in this country. Visitors will enter on two levels and step on to two magic carpets or revolving platforms placed one above the other and moving in opposite directions.

Deserting for the Fro

In 1918, French papers told desertion of American soldier: the front trenches! "We dic come 3,000 miles to dig," would an American doughboy to a founded French officer, who ione him making his way forward. "but to fight"

Arabs' Idea of Happiness

The Arabs' solution of how to be happy although unhappy is curious. To the Arab that is no problem at all. He believes in fate; he believes that everything is ordained and that there is "no such animal" as free will. Feeling that he has no power over his life, he is therefore inclined to take things calmly, never to hurry or get excited and angry when things do not go well.

How to Kill an Octopus

An octopus cannot be killed either by cutting off a tentacle or by puncturing the ink sac. The octopus has a well-developed nervous system which is centralized back of the eyes. The Smithsonian institution says that the most certain way of killing an octopus is to sp through an eye or between t or to cut the body off just f it of the tentacles.

Does Not Always Give Warning

A rattlesnake does not w's warn before striking. The att r shakes his tail, upon which the rattles are attached, because of exous excitement or fear. If su cised so quickly there is no time for nervous excitement or fear to cause the tail to vibrate, a rattler will strike without sounding his ominous warning.

To Our Customers —And Friends

In order to enable us to comply with the NATIONAL FAIR LABOR STANDARDS ACT of 1938, and to keep working our employees more in the specified time, it becomes necessary for us to STRICTLY observe our regular opening and closing hours which are 8:00 a. m. to 5:00 p. m.

We kindly solicit your cooperation and ask that you endeavor to arrange to come to the bank during these hours to transact your business.

With your cooperation we feel that it will not be necessary for us to shorten our banking hours to the public as will be the case in many communities where banks will be compelled to close one half day each week to meet the requirements of the law.

In order that we may give the same service as in the past, we do not propose to close our bank one half day each week unless we are otherwise unable to comply with the law.

Thanking you for your consideration and assuring you of our desire to cooperate, we are,

Yours very truly,

HOROSCOPE

DECEMBER 9, 10, 11—No beating about the bush with you, you go straight to the point. Your imagination is keen and sometimes you carry this to excess. You have pessimistic tendencies and are apt to look on the dark side of life.

DECEMBER 12, 13—You have a very brilliant mind, and are proud, self-satisfied and confident. Amusement and pleasure are attractive to you and you like to share your pleasures with others. Your ideas in business are apt to be exaggerated and you often bite off more than you can chew. Usually you are poised and collected and prove a pleasant companion.

DECEMBER 14, 15, 16—You are a home lover but still like a change of environment. You have psychic tendencies. You like to read and love to study. You are apt to give out absorbed ideas as your own. You would make a good lecturer or historian.

DECEMBER 17, 18—You are prone to attempt more than you can accomplish. You are fond of travel. You are reserved but can bitterly oppose any one who opposes you. You have an unhappy faculty of misstating the truth. You keep your own council and expect the same of others. You are a loyal and much appreciated friend.

Two Minute Sermon

By
Thomas Hastwell

THE GREATEST ROBBER: "Thou shalt not steal," has been the commandment to man for hundreds of years. There are many ways by which the commandment may be broken. There is the man who steals because he is a thief at heart, there is the man who steals because he wants things he is unable to earn or is unwilling to deny himself to buy, there is the man who steals because he has never been taught the principles of right and honesty, there is the man who steals because he or his family is starving, and there is the man who steals because he is morally weak. There is the man who steals from his government, the man who steals from his employer, and the man who steals from his neighbor.

All violate the commandment and all are guilty of wrong, but the man who commits the greatest wrong of them all is the man who robs himself, who thinks that he can go on breaking the law and the commandments and escape the penalty of his acts. He but deceives himself and robs himself of the peace and the blessing that is the promised reward of righteous living. Thou shalt not steal, is directed as much to the man who is robbing his own life as it is to the miserable wretch, who, under cover of darkness, robs and plunders his fellowmen.

Father of American Navy

John Barry (1745-1803) is usually referred to as the Father of the American Navy. Under the law of March 27, 1794, he was appointed senior captain of the U. S. navy by President Washington. From this fact probably came the title under which he is so well known.

Taxes on Amusements

From 29 to 30 cents on every amusement dollar in American villages goes to the movies. According to the National Consumers Tax commission, nearly five cents of that movie cost is divided among 41 federal and 20 state and local taxes.

Some Cane Poison to Stock

Although the first crop of cane makes the best kind of fodder, the second growth, or upshoots, is deadly poison to stock. Analyzed, the upshoots are found to be rich in Prussic acid.

Cult of Devil Worship

A cult of devil worship had numerous adherents in France during the reign of Louis XVI.

Many of the avenues and streets of the New York World's Fair 1939 have been named, it is announced by Grover A. Whalen, president of the Fair. "Petticoat Lane" runs between the Textile Building and the one devoted to women's apparel. "Fireside Row" reaches along the extensive facade of the Home Furnishings Building. "The Street of Wings" leads to the Aviation Building, and "The Street of Wheels" to motor section.

Incidentally, the average automobile dealer sold 92 cars last year, according to the Automobile Manufacturers Association.

It is predicted by scientists that at the present rate of use the oil supply in the oil fields of the United States may become exhausted in ten years.

Three of the large truck manufacturing concerns are offering Diesel powered trucks. One concern has twelve models. It is freely predicted that within a few years all trucks engaged in making long and heavy hauls will be powered with Diesel engines.

The largest of the 35 bronze bells in the carrillon being cast in Belgium for the tower of that country's exhibit building at the New York World's Fair 1939, is to bear this inscription in Latin: "Because I am named Leopold, I ring only for peace over the Atlantic."

Manuel Carassa, millionaire Peruvian mine owner, suffering from gallstones, boarded a plane in Lima, Peru, recently and fifty-two hours later arrived at the doors of the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minnesota, 4,675 miles away. From Cristobal, Canal Zone, north, the flight was made in regular scheduled planes.

Two things are important these days: to get the Reds out of the country and the country out of the red.

An exchange tells of a woman who recently voted in every square on the ballot because she had promised all the candidates. At that she was no different than the candidate who promised everyone everything for votes.

SPEAKING OF SHOPPING

One Mentone woman has simplified her Christmas shopping. She counts up the number of gifts she desires to give and proceeds to buy that number of articles, whether it is a dozen or twenty, without much thought as to who will receive them. After she gets home she starts in to wrap them up and addresses them. The result is that while everyone is remembered, the gifts, if they are appropriate, are so purely by accident.

One practice we would recommend at Christmas time, is, that instead of giving all our gifts to those from whom we have reason to suspect we will receive something in return, we select some one worthy, and needy, and, without their knowing its source give them a suitable gift.

The experiment is simple and the act is so sure of its reward that we recommend it to everyone who desires this year an especially happy Christmas. An important element is that no one outside the giver himself has any knowledge of the gift or of its giving and especially shall the recipient not know from whom the gift comes. For such a thing to happen will break the charm.

Rivers Become Lost

A number of rivers that reach London become lost, hidden in tunnels or carried along far underground.

SERMONS ANNOUNCED

By request, C. G. Vincent, minister of the Mentone Church of Christ will discuss the following subjects:

Crime—Its cause and remedy, Sunday night, December 18, at 7 o'clock.
Is Capital Punishment Right? Sunday night, December 25, at 7 o'clock.

Such questions as, what is the purpose of capital punishment? is legal execution murder? is it personal revenge? is it true that only God has the right to take human life? and other related questions will be duly considered. The public is invited to hear these sermons.

Color of Labrador Dogs

While most Labrador dogs are black, the official standard for the breed permits yellow, brown and liver. The dog is strongly built, short-coupled, wide in the head, wide through the chest, with an "otter-like" tail, and brown eyes. It stands from 19 to 23 inches at the shoulder, and weighs about 60 pounds. It is very rugged, most understanding and devoted, ideal in disposition.

Nail-Cutting Superstition

There is a superstition that, when cutting the nails, unless one gathers up the fragments and burns or buries them, after death he will be sent back to look for them. A race track enthusiast, paring his nails at the track, was told this and warned to gather the pieces. "But, why should I?" smilingly answered the skeptic. "If I'm to be sent back to look for the pieces—what better place could be picked out than the track?"

Egyptians' Method of Embalming

There were various methods employed by the Egyptians in embalming. The processes were quite elaborate. According to Herodotus, the internal organs of the body were removed, after which it was steeped for 70 days in strong solution of natron, a mixture of salt, saltpetre and sodium sulphate. The body was afterward washed and bandaged in linen strips smeared with resin.

Razors Are Taxed

Bearded Russians under Peter the Great wore metal receipts on their beards to signify that they had the beard tax. Beards lacking receipts were forcibly shaved by the czar's barbers. In America tax is on shaving. Every razor blade carries 45 hidden taxes to dull its edge.

DEATH TAKES AGED RESIDENT

Byron G. Eherenman, aged 81, passed away early Saturday morning at the home of his daughter, Mrs. diam Reddinger east of Mentone. He had been bedfast for the past eight years due to a paralytic stroke.

He was born in Harrison township, September 17, 1857, the son of John and Kathryn Eherenman. On June 17, 1881, he was united in marriage to Elizabeth Wood of this place. To this union were born eight children, two of which preceded their father in death in infancy. The deceased's wife preceded him in death in 1907.

Mr. Eherenman was a farmer and had lived in Harrison township all his life. He was a member of the Palestine Christian Church.

Survivors include the daughter at whose home he died, Mrs. William Reddinger, and two other daughters, Mrs. Virgil Doran and Mrs. Turner W. Long; three sons, Fred Eherenman of Bourbon, Roy Eherenman of Burd and Harry Eherenman of Warsaw; one sister, Clara Ferguson of California; one brother, Albert Eherenman of LaPorte, Ind., and a number of grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at two o'clock at the Kelley Funeral Home in Warsaw, with Rev. Hollopeter officiating. Burial was made in the Harrison Center cemetery.

INSTALLS NEW INCUBATOR

Beeson Egg Farm and Hatchery installed a new Mammoth Electric Incubator last week to help take care of their hatchery business.

Merry Christmas, Folks!

Shot Is Fatal To Burket Youth

Delbert Walters, eighteen-year-old son of Mrs. Leonard Walters of Burket, was dead at 8 o'clock Sunday night as a result of a self inflicted shot from a 12-gauge shot gun. Despondency due to ill health was given as the cause of his death. He was a member of the junior class of Burket High School and played on their basketball team.

He was born May 13, 1920, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Walters and had spent all his life in the Burket vicinity. His father preceded him in death a few months ago.

Survivors include the mother; four brothers, Leonard and Hubert of Ft. Wayne, Robert and Bernard at home; one sister, Marguerite at home. The body is in charge of the Tucker Funeral Home at Claypool.

Art Exhibit

The Art Exhibit held at the Mentone Public Library last week was well attended. Paintings were exhibited by Theodore Good of Etna Green.

Bulldogs Defeat Leiters Ford

Mentone's Bulldogs defeated Leiters Ford Saturday night by an enormous margin of 46 to 11. This made the ninth consecutive victory for the Bulldogs. Dean Shirey was Mentone's high point man with a total of twelve points. Corbin and Steinberger tied for first place on the Leiters Ford squad with a total of four points each.

Mentone's reserves won the preliminary game also by a score of 17 to 13.

NO DECEMBER 29TH ISSUE

In order that the staff of the Co-Op News can complete this year's records and get out the annual statement—there will be no issue of the paper on Wednesday, December 28, the regular day of publication. This issue is the last issue this year, but your next will appear promptly the first week of January.

We want to thank all of you who have contributed in any way to make this a most successful year, and hope that you will continue to solicit our service as you have in the past.

GOLDEN WEDDING CELEBRATIONS

Mr. and Mrs. Bert A. Rush will celebrate their golden wedding at their home east of Mentone Sunday, January 1. Mr. and Mrs. Rush will have been married fifty years, Thursday, December 29. All of their children, grandchildren and great grandchildren will be present and open house will be held in the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvah Bowser, who reside one mile north of Palestine will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary on Sunday, December 25. They will have the family dinner at noon and will hold open house from two o'clock throughout the afternoon and evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Bowser are the parents of eight children, thirty-two grandchildren and six great grandchildren. They most cordially invite their many friends to call.

O. E. S. PARTY

The Eastern Stars enjoyed a most delightful Christmas party at the Masonic hall Monday night. After the regular chapter, the group enjoyed a piano duet by Mrs. Maude Snyder and Miss Carol Rose Weissert. Mrs. Williams of Warsaw very capably gave a Christmas reading and the group sang Christmas carols, one of which was "Silent Night" with Carol Rose Weissert singing the solo part. Mrs. Snyder then played a beautiful arrangement of Christmas carols.

Refreshments were served in the dining hall, on beautifully decorated tables. After the refreshments, there was an exchange of gifts. There was a very nice attendance and it was reported that this was one of the most outstanding Christmas parties the chapter has ever had.

We Are Involuntarily Advertising Conscious

Frank Dixon

When I check back over all the things that I have purchased because they were sold to me through advertising, I am at a loss to understand why some people attempt to conduct a business in the world today without advertising. My knowledge of merchandising is confined solely to that of a purchaser and it is from this angle that I view it, and it is from this angle and this view that I wonder that any one could hope to achieve any measure of success in the merchandising field today without advertising.

I have come to a point where I do most of my shopping through the newspaper advertisements. Because of this I have come to look for the brands and types of merchandise I see advertised and to pay little attention to those not advertised.

Whether it is oil or gasoline for my car, a necktie, a shaving soap, shirt, a suit of clothes or canned goods it is all the same. When the merchant shows me an advertised article I am already sold on it. My sales resistance is at a minimum, and nine out of ten times I will confidently buy the advertised item in preference to the non-advertised item.

In this respect I am confident I am no different than the great mass of buyers of this nation.

Next to running no advertisement at all I believe the greatest mistake that is made today by many merchants is running a poorly written, poorly gotten up advertisement. Most people nowadays are advertisement readers, they have become discriminating advertisement readers. They look for information and sales presentation in the advertisements. They expect to be sold.

I think any competent merchant can write a good advertisement if he will set himself to the task and put some thought and sales argument into it. I don't believe that he can do it between customers. Few are smart enough to do that.

We used to have in our town a merchant whose advertising ran along the line of "Smith keeps everything. When in need of anything see Smith." Of course these ads were of very little value. Smith paid a high rate for the advertising he got from them.

Smith, on the other hand, was a good salesman. Give him a piece of good merchandise and he could explain it with enthusiasm and sell his customer on its merits.

I have often thought, if Smith, when he came to write an advertisement for his store, would have forgotten he was writing an advertisement, and forgotten his stereotyped phrases, and just imagined that he had his customer seated before him and proceeded to tell him about what he had to sell, its merits, and why the customer should own it, what an interesting advertisement he could have written.

There's a lesson there for a lot of merchants today in every town who are good salesmen but poor advertisement writers.

To Our Customers—And Friends

In order to enable us to comply with the NATIONAL FAIR LABOR STANDARDS ACT of 1938, and to avoid working our employees more than the specified time, it becomes necessary for us to STRICTLY observe our regular opening and closing hours which are 8:00 a. m. to 3:00 p. m.

We kindly solicit your cooperation and ask that you endeavor to arrange to come to the bank during these hours to transact your business.

With your cooperation we feel that it will not be necessary for us to shorten our banking hours to the public as will be the case in many communities where banks will be compelled to close one half day each week to meet the requirements of the law.

In order that we may give the same service as in the past, we do not propose to close our bank one half day each week unless we are otherwise unable to comply with the terms of the law.

Thanking you for your consideration and assuring you of our desire to cooperate, we are,

Yours very truly,

K. A. RINER, Cashier

Snake's Tongue Harmless

Many people are afraid of a snake's darting forked tongue and think the snake can sting them or poison them with this tongue. The truth is that this little organ is absolutely harmless and cannot in any way hurt anything, asserts a writer in Pearson's London Weekly. It is so delicate that it is believed snakes use it as an organ of hearing thrusting it out to catch vibrations as a wireless aerial or butterfly's "feelers" catch them. A snake's tongue can be shot out from its mouth even when the mouth is closed, as there are small grooves for the tongue to pass through. A snake bites with its fangs.

Brittany Spaniel Good Setter

Brittany spaniel is a French breed known officially as a spaniel, but, because of its size and the way it points game, the breed might well be called a setter. It stands 18 to 20 inches at the shoulder.

First Steamer Across Atlantic

The first steamship crossed the Atlantic only about 120 years ago. This was the Savannah and it made the voyage from the city of that name in Georgia to Liverpool, England, in 25 days. Even this ship did not rely entirely on steam, for she was equipped with paddle wheels which could be hauled in and stowed away on deck in bad weather. The ship then was propelled by its sails. Gradually, however, navigators came to have more faith in steam and carried less and less sail, and finally the Great Western crossed the ocean under steam power alone, in 12 days, 7½ hours. This was in 1838.

Original Grecian Sculptures Rare

Original sculptures dating from classic Grecian days are extremely rare, but numerous copies of famous works of art, executed by Greek or Roman sculptors and creations of Roman art survive after being hidden by the accumulated rubbish of centuries.

Bible State's First Purchase

Records of the California state controller's office show that the first claim approved for payment after California became a state was for a Bible that cost $5. The Bible was ordered from San Jose to be available for the first session of the supreme court in June, 1850.

Belief of Ancient Chinese

Up to a few years ago, the people of China believed that no executed criminal was "completely dead" until his name had also been destroyed. So annually, according to a writer in Collier's Weekly, the names of those beheaded during the past year were written on pieces of paper and burned in a temple in Peiping.

Origin of Word 'Chipper'

Although it is conceivable that the word "chipper" may come from "chipmunk," an Algonquin word, with the derived meaning, "as lively as a chipmunk," it is generally listed in dictionaries as derived from English dialect forms akin to "chirrup" and "pert," with the addition of some onomatopoeia.

Colonists Had a Dog Mart

The colonists needed good dogs. Usually the ones they raised weren't as good as they wanted, so they began trading with the Indians for their dogs. So once a year the colonists and the Indians met and swapped dogs. The dog mart was discontinued during the Revolution, and revived only a few years ago.

Glastonbury Tor

Glastonbury Tor, landmark at Somerset, England, is a national park. It was to Glastonbury, according to legend, that St. Joseph of Arimathea brought the Holy Grail and a stone marks the spot on which the Glastonbury thorn grew miraculously from his staff. Here, too, in the Isle of Avalon, were buried King Arthur and Queen Guinevere.

REED FUNERAL HOME

Father of Steel-Plow Industry

Leonard Andrus established the first steel-plow factory in the United States. A monument was erected in his honor at Grand Detour, Ill. The inscription says in part: "In 1837 Leonard Andrus and John Deere built the first Grand Detour steel moldboard plough. The new plough was made in limited numbers until 1843, when Andrus established on this site a plough manufactory, which he operated until his death in 1867. At different times he had as partners John Deere, H. H. Paine, O. C. Lathrop, Amos Bosworth and Theron Cummins." The product of this enterprise stimulated farm development throughout the prairie states and was the basis of the steel-plow industry.

Economics Club Christmas Party

The Mentone Home Economics Club met Thursday, December 15, at the home of Mrs. Maude Cox for their annual Christmas Party and cooperative dinner. Mrs. Cox was assisted by Mrs. Lois Moore. After the delicious dinner, several Christmas carols were sung and twenty members responded to roll call by a Christmas thought. The secretaries report was read and approved. The president announced the next meeting, which was changed from the third Thursday to the second Thursday, would be with Mrs. Ella Kessler, January 12. Mrs. Rathfon, chairman of the program committee announced that the new year books would be distributed at this meeting.

The club made plans for making and sending out Christmas boxes at last year. Mrs. Rathfon received the Mystery package, and the Cherie Pals for the past year were revealed. There was also a gift exchange.

Besides the regular members present, there were three guests, Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Ada Meredith and Mrs. Mable Warren. Mrs. Warren and Mrs. Meredith were taken into the club as new members. Little Mona Lou Darr and Marjorie Mollenhour were also present.

SODALES CHRISTMAS PARTY

Twenty members of the Mentone Sodales Club enjoyed a lovely 1:00 o'clock Christmas luncheon at the home of Mrs. H. V. Johns Thursday. The table and home were beautifully decorated in keeping with the holiday season.

Following the luncheon the group sang a number of Christmas carols and Mrs. Johns very capably gave the Christmas story. During the social hour there was a gift exchange. Mrs. Johns was assisted in planning this lovely Christmas party, by Mrs. F. R. Burns, Mrs. D. L. Banner, Mrs. K. A. Riner and Mrs. Charles Manwaring.

Worst Road Branded

World travelers have branded the road over the Himalaya and Karakorum between Turkestan and India as really the world's worst. It reaches a height of 3,000 feet, crosses rocks, runs along the edge of precipices, and is not more than 1½ feet wide. Caravans leaving Ili, the capital of Turkestan, expect to lose 40 animals on each journey over the road.

Coin Called Mohur

A coin called a mohur was a Persian gold coin used in India from the sixteenth century. Between 1835 and 1891 a gold coin also called a mohur was struck by the government of British India and was of the nominal value of 15 rupees. On the establishment of a gold standard in India in 1899 the British sovereign was declared legal tender and the mohur was superseded.

Guard Against 'Evil Eye'

In Scotland, a sprig of rowan or mountain ash is often tied to a cow's tail, or fixed above the byre-door, as a guard against "the evil-eye," or witchcraft. Rowan berries are used in Scotland for preserves, and, if fermented, make an agreeable liqueur; if distilled, they make a powerful intoxicant. In Russia they are considered a cure for ailments of the stomach.

Meaning of Absolute Music

The term absolute music is applied to music of a purely abstract type, devoid of any non-musical or extra-musical significance, as distinguished from that of a pictorial or descriptive kind known as program music.

Meaning of Name Randall

The name Randall, of Teutonic origin, is a form of Randolph and has the same meaning—"house wolf," interpreted as "protector of the home." It is used both as a surname and a given name.

Purpose of Foucault Pendulum

The Foucault pendulum is named after the French physicist Foucault, who hung a pendulum in the dome of the Paris pantheon to demonstrate by its periodic swinging that the earth is rotating.

Meaning of Arbitrage in Finance

In finance arbitrage is the attempt to make a profit by buying a security in one exchange and selling it in another. The profit arises from the difference in price in the two exchanges.

"There is one meal a day," a reader of this paper said in this office yesterday, "that I would not change if I were a millionaire and had the money to buy anything I wanted, and that is breakfast. A few prunes, a slice of toast, an egg, a strip of bacon and a cup of coffee is my menu. If I had Henry Ford's millions I wouldn't want more." Another thing he might have added was that few millionaires would have his appetite and few could turn in at night and sleep eight or ten hours without waking. Sometimes we are richer than we know. A little checking up now and then might add to our appreciation of things that we have too often come to accept as a matter of fact.

Two Minute Sermon

By
Thomas Hastwell

THOU SHALT NOT COVET: Thou shalt not covet, is God's command to man as expressed in the tenth commandment. Covetousness is a sin of which all are at times prone to be guilty. Many of us, when we think of the sin of covetousness, think of the rich man with his abundance of goods and possessions, his fine cars and a big house, his stocks and bonds and yacht and summer home, and, like the Pharisee of old, draw our robes of righteousness about us and thank God that we are not covetous as is he.

How mistaken we are. Covetousness is not a question of the amount one has so much as it is one's attitude toward what he has. The rich man with his barns full may have less of the spirit of covetousness in his soul than the man of moderate means. The rich man may give largely of his time and wealth. He may look upon it as a trust that he has been chosen to administer wisely. He may be largely free from the spirit of covetousness.

On the other hand the man of small or moderate means may be a narrow and grasping soul, a miser with a petty hoard, who looks upon the world with suspicion and distrust while his grasping, greedy soul seeks to gather more and more unto itself. Thou shalt not covet, was commanded of every man rich and poor, big and little, and the sin is a sin whether it is found in the castle on Riverside Drive or the cottage at the edge of town.

HOROSCOPE

DECEMBER 19, 20—You have very marked artistic ability and with a very meager outlay turn your home into a place of beauty. Your love of the beautiful brings to you many gifts for your pleasure. If you are a man you are handy with the paint brush and hammer. You are quick and energetic and keep abreast of your work. Headaches and nervous reactions can be avoided if you will learn to relax.

DECEMBER 21, 22—You are pure minded and trustworthy and spiritually inclined. Your nature is affectionate and when you place your affections they stay put. You are impulsive in your motives, and would make a good politician.

DECEMBER 23, 24, 25—You are a natural teacher and a favorite with your pupils. You have a great love for your fellowmen and refuse to be confined by denominational lines. You recognize the good where you find it.

Italy Boosts Percentage Of Wheat Flour in Bread

ROME.—The Fascist Cereals corporation has increased by 10 per cent the ratio of wheat flour allowed to be used in bread, apparently in an attempt to ease growing dissatisfaction over the quality of Italian bread. The corporation decreed that 90 per cent wheat flour and 10 per cent corn must be used.

The corporation met, with Premier Benito Mussolini presiding, and decided, in view of the improved outlook for the wheat harvest, now estimated at about 257,000,000 bushels, to permit increased use of wheat. It also decided that bakers must make only one type of bread, as prescribed. The price will be fixed when the exact amount of the harvest and the quality of the grain have been ascertained.

Bread and macaroni have been on sale with 80 per cent of wheat and 20 per cent of other flours. Corn flour was used for a time. However, the price of corn rose, and the government then ordered the use of rice and bean flours.
