Basket Ball News

The Mentone Bulldogs split a double-header this week-end, dropping their Friday night tilt to an inspired Pierceton five and winning the Saturday night contest from the Atwood team on the home floor. The Pierceton Cubs, playing on their own floor, conquered the Bulldogs by a score of 31 to 14. The Cubs held the upper hand all through the battle. Between games the Pierceton High School hand gave a marching demonstration in their bright red and white uniforms. The Checkers lost to Pierceton's Seconds by 22 to 24.

The Atwood Greyhounds failed to get started till the last quarter Saturday night here, and therefore lost the game by a score of 25 to 17. All through the game the Greyhounds had bombarded the basket with all sorts of shots that looked good, but failed to connect. In the last quarter, however, they made a rally that looked threatening for a while. They held the Bulldogs scoreless while they piled up six points for themselves, but the gun ended their hopes with the local boys in the lead. A patched up reserve squad took the place of the regular checkers and defeated the seconds 32 to 14.

Saturday afternoon the Mentone Second team won a surprise victory over the Burket Seconds in the Second Team Tourney at Burket. The game was hard fought throughout, with the Bullpups just a half a jump ahead all the time. Beaver Dam's Seconds defeated the Claypool team 22 to 12 in the other game of the afternoon, thus placing them against the Checkers in the finals. This game was another close one, which the Beavers took 33 to 28. Next Friday the Bulldogs meet the Tippecanoe five here.

First White Corn Planter

Indian Mounds Big Job

Archeologists estimate that it would take 1,000 men 100 years to build all the Indian mounds in Ohio.

Last English King

The last Anglo-Saxon King of England, Harold II, was slain in the Battle of Hastings, and an illegitimately - born Norman usurper became William I King of England. With William from Normany came language and social influences that dominate us today. It is chiefly because of William that English of today stems 60 per cent from Latin.

Writing in the Sand

The resourcefulness of a school teacher in early Huron county, Ohio, proves the worth of the saying that "Where there's a will there's a way." The teacher, Joseph Dana, was not equipped with paper or slates or pencils for writing, so he just instructed his pupils to trace letters and figures in the sand. In this way the children learned spelling, grammar and arithmetic.

When Christianity Triumphed

When Christianity triumphed over ancient paganism, the zeal of the new converts led them to regard their old gods as evil spirits and demons. On one night of the year, says Science Service, Halloween, or the Eve of All Saints' Day, all these demoted god-demons were supposed to have a recess from their under-earth prison, to parade in fiery forms and raise what mischief they could.

Less Metal in Iron Ore;

No Fear of Exhaustion

Although there need be no alarm over general exhaustion of iron ore reserves, the day probably will come when the steel industry must depend upon a lower grade of ore to keep its mills operating, reports the United Press.

That and several other interesting findings are expounded by Marion Worthing, writing in a publication of the Bureau of Business Research of the University of Pittsburgh.

Pittsburgh is conceded to be the center of the steel industry in the United States, but Miss Worthing says that a shift in the locale of iron ore mining might put Pittsburgh at a disadvantage. The article confined itself chiefly with the ore industry of the Lake Superior region due to the fact that a large part of the iron ore used in the United States is produced there.

One of the most interesting of Miss Worthing's discoveries is that there has been a steady decrease in the amount of iron ore consumed per ton of iron and steel produced. In 1913 about one and one-half tons were used for each ton of iron and steel, whereas in 1935 only about nine-tenths of a ton of ore was used for each ton of iron and steel.

This change has come about, Miss Worthing says, because of increases in the proportion of scrap charged in steel furnaces.

Ancient Woollen Mill Found

Discoveries among the ruins unearthed near Rudston in Yorkshire, England, lead experts to believe that the Romans had a woollen mill there. Evidently it was a flourishing sheep and farming district in those ancient times. There is evidence that a thousand years before Yorkshire's mills began to turn out some of the best woollen cloth in the world the Romans were manufacturing cloth in the district, and perhaps sending it to Rome to be made into togas. The recent discovery follows a number of interesting finds at Rudston that began to be made more a year ago. The first discovery brought to light on a hillside the ruins of a villa that had a central heating plant and splendid mosaic floors.

Men Better as Quiltmakers

Men are better quiltmakers than women, says Hannah Baker, quilt expert, of Papakolea school, Honolulu. Men, she told a conference of homemaking teachers recently, have designed most of the famous Hawaiian quilt patterns. But women who have learned the work in adult schools now make most of the quilts. These coverings have been developed by native Hawaiians of the territory into a textile art unique in the United States.

Apes, Great Leapers

Also every Sunday thereafter until such time that the Sanctuary is completed. Dr. O. T. Martin will be the guest preacher for the Morning Service of February 14, and an invitation has been extended to Bishop Edgar Blake of Detroit, Michigan to be present for the Official Reopening and Rededication when the entire building is completed and ready for use. The Merger Services on Sunday Mornings are from 9:30 to 11:00 o'clock.

The music was furnished by Edward Wiley, tenor soloist, with Mrs. Floyd Molebash at the piano. DeWitt Molebash read a beautiful number that befitted the hour and Rev. and Mrs. Noland sang. Mrs. Erny gave a musical number, the Shenefield sisters sang and John Hanes, who has lead singing out there at the Fairview church for 50 years, was joined in a duet by Mr. Wiley and the afternoon was closed by all singing, "Blest Be The Tie That Binds."

Cutting Enhanced Value

By L. L. STEVENSON

Merely Scenery: A young woman friend went into a mid-town cafeteria the other day and ordered fish. Much to her satisfaction, there was a nice fresh sprig of parsley on the portion the counter girl scooped up for her. But to her indignation, the girl started to remove the decoration. The customer objected, holding that she liked parsley and felt that as it was on her piece of fish, she was entitled to it. The counter girl, however, declared that it belonged to the main dish, scraped it off and put it on another piece of fish. Which led to the observation on the part of the disappointed young woman that the parsley was neither food nor decoration but merely a decoy.

Slight Omission: As everyone knows, in broadcasting seconds count and if a program doesn't start and end "right on the nose," there are explosions and an unpleasant time for whoever is responsible. Well, according to a report, the Columbia Broadcasting company spent thousands of dollars remodeling the old Manhattan opera house into a radio playhouse. One of the big items of expense was the stage. Because a subway line runs under the building, the stage couldn't be supported with the usual foundations; that meant vibration. So it had to be suspended or "float-ed" from the roof. That was done and the playhouse was put into broadcasting service. And then it was discovered that someone had forgotten to install a clock.

All Set for Company: When Walter Husted, of the North American Newspaper alliance, moved to Manhattan from the open spaces of Iowa, he found that though his family consists of only his wife and himself, a seven-room apartment was entirely too small. After some search, a big house over on Staten island was found and rented. The Husteds had plenty of room, fresh air and sea voyages. But there were drawbacks—such as time spent in commuting by means of subway, ferryboat and bus, and the expenses of keeping house in New York were certainly much higher than in Des Moines. The result was that the Husteds moved back to a seven-room Manhattan apartment. With that came an astounding discovery—during the housekeeping, they had accumulated exactly 13 barrels of dishes. So, in addition to paying rent, they are also paying storage.

Human Adding Machine: Sol DeVries, treasurer of the Winter Garden, has been selling tickets since 1888 and has been with the Shuberts for the last 30 years. He's a speed king at counting theatrical pasteboards. Most box-office men, at the count out, place the stack close to the right ear and thumb the tickets in splits of five. This is known as the "touch and sound system" and makes for high speed. DeVries, however, operates by touch alone and it makes no difference to him if his fingers pick off three or seven tickets as he zips through the stack. In an exhibition for the newsreels, DeVries counted 5,000 tickets in 10 minutes, 17 seconds.

Obeys Convention: Years and years ago, when George Burns and Gracie Allen were mere troupers, playing tank towns here and there for chicken feed instead of being radio stars at a reported salary of $12,500 a week, they were in a small town in the deep South. There was but one hotel and the heat was something, as Kipling said, to make your bloomin' eyebrows crawl. At the same hotel an English lord was living and it upset him no end because George showed up at dinner in his shirt sleeves. So his lordship made complaint about lack of dignity and asked the head waiter to convey his kick to Burns. That was done, and the next night Burns showed up in a silk topper and wore that while eating—in his shirt sleeves.

Early School Helped by Gift of Ex-Slave

Santa Cruz, Calif. — An engraved tombstone has been erected over a grave in Evergreen cemetery. The inscription reads: "He was a colored man. He left his entire fortune to Santa Cruz School District No. 1."

The "he" was Louden Nelson, ex-slave, who died here in 1880, leaving his entire property, consisting of a city lot which later sold for $300 to help the three-year-old school of that day.

CO-OPERATE

Two fool jackasses—say get this dope—
Were tied together with a piece of rope.
Said one to the other, "You come my way,
While I take a nibble from this new mown hay."
"I won't," said the other, "You come with me,
For I too have some hay, you see."
So they got nowhere, just pawed up dirt,
And Oh, by Golly, that rope did hurt.
Then they faced about, these stubborn mules,
And said, "We're acting like human fools."
"Lets pull together, I'll go your way,
Then come with me and we'll both eat hay."
Well, they ate their hay and liked it too,
And swore to be comrades good and true.
As the sun went down they were heard to bray
"Ah! this is the end of a perfect day."

Former Mentone Resident Stranded

Mrs. Samuel Sanders received a letter recently postmarked January 19, at Paducah, Kentucky, from Mrs. J. E. Alexander, former resident here. Mrs. Alexander and the children had been staying at the home of Rev. A. Alexander's parents while he attended a four-weeks course in a school in Kentucky. At the time the letter was written, the rapidly rising flood waters were just then coming into the lawn of their next door neighbor. Rev. Alexander had intended to return for his wife and children on the 25th of this month but of course they were forced to evacuate their home before that date. She stated that their home in Dyersburg, Tenn., was fortunately in the highest section of the city and was hoping for the best. No further word has been heard from the family at this date.

1937 Soil Building Practices Approved

Soil-building practices officially approved for the 1937 agricultural program for the North Central Region were announced today by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

The North Central Region includes Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Illinois, Missouri, Nebraska, Iowa, South Dakota, Minnesota and Wisconsin.

The practices for these States, it was pointed out by Claude R. Wickard, Director of the North Central Region, include provisions applicable to sound farming systems on all types of farms in the area. "Farmers who participate in the 1937 program," he says, "will be able to qualify for payments which will supply a substantial portion of the cost of employing practices which maintain and improve productivity of the land." For the dry land areas, practices are included which conserve moisture. For the range land areas, provision is made for improving drainage, water storage by construction of dams, and for planting and maintaining shelterbelts.

The amount of money which a farmer may earn by approved soil-building practices will be limited by the soil-building allowance for his farm.

In the case of range building practices, the amount of money that may be earned is limited by the range building allowance for the ranching unit. The range building allowance will be established at the rate of $1.50 for each animal unit of grazing capacity of the ranch. (An animal unit is one horse, or one cow, or five sheep, or five goats, or their equivalent.)

Adapted seed must be used in order to qualify for payments for seedings of legumes and grasses. The following are the approved practices and the rates of payment for the 1937 program in the North Central Region:

Seedings of adapted seed of legumes on cropland:

1. Alfalfa—$2.00 per acre; $4.00 per acre on dry land farms if there is a good stand which would normally survive the winter at the time of checking performance.
2. Red clover, sericea and white clover—$2.00 per acre; $3.50 on dry land farms if there is a good stand which would normally survive the winter at the time of checking performance.
3. Alsike and mammoth clover and lespedeza—$1.50 per acre; $2.50 on dry land farms if there is a good stand which would normally survive the winter at the time of checking performance.
4. Legume mixtures or mixtures of legumes and perennial grasses which contain 50 percent of more of alsike clover, mammoth clover, red clover, alfalfa, sericea of lespedeza or any combination of these legumes—$1.50 per acre; $2.50 on dry land farms if there is a good stand which would normally survive the winter at the time of checking performance.

5. Biennial sweet clover, annual sweet clover, vetch, and crimson clover—$1.00 per acre; $2.00 per acre on dry land farms if there is a good stand which would normally survive the winter at the time of checking performance.

6. Legume mixtures or mixtures of legumes and perennial grasses which contain 50 percent or more of biennial sweet clover, annual sweet clover, vetch or crimson clover, or 50 percent of any combination of these legumes—$1.00 per acre; $2.00 on dry land farms if there is a good stand which would normally survive the winter at the time of checking performance.

Taught Settlers to Plant Corn

An Indian named Squanto taught the early settlers in New England to plant corn. The earth was exposed to the sun by girdling the trees and burning the branches and underbrush. Four grains of corn were then dropped at four-foot intervals into openings and a fish was placed in each hill as fertilizer.

Columbia University

The date from which Columbia university marks its existence is October 31, 1754, when a charter was granted by George II, under the name of King's college. During the Revolution its operation was suspended and in 1776 it was used as a military hospital. College activities were resumed by act of legislature, May 1, 1784, under the name of Columbia university. The site has been changed three times and consists of 17½ acres lying between 115th and 120th streets, Amsterdam avenue and Broadway, New York city. In 1896 the college was re-organized as a university.

SENIOR NEWS

The Seniors are planning a visit to the state capitol a week from this coming Wednesday. They will have reserved seats at the legislature building, and will see our body of state lawmakers in action. They will then go to meet the governor.

We have been studying strikes, lock-outs, picketing, boycotts, secondary boycotts, black lists and white lists in Civics this past week. This work is very fitting to our present day labor troubles. It helps us to get on the inside of some of the motives of some of our great laboring masses today.

The scores in the advanced typing class are looking up ever since we have been emphasizing accuracy instead of speed in our classes.

JUNIOR NEWS

Jack Shinn, a member of the Junior class and also a member of Company L of the National Guard, was called Tuesday night to go on duty down in the flooded districts of the Ohio valley.

SOPHOMORE NEWS

The Sophomore Latin supper was a tremendous success. They had four lower classmen for slaves. They were Mary Jane Busenburg, Lowell Marquess, Bob Nottingham and Buelah Nettrover.

In history class this past week, Mervel told us a story of French history. He said that at a party at Versailles, the poor people stood outside the house and begged for bread. A Butler announced it to the king and queen, who were Louis XVI and Maria Antonette and Maria said, "What! they have no bread? Tell them to eat cake."

FRESHMAN NEWS

These people did not engage in any activities of any great mention this week except their regular study activities and, as we mentioned, in the Sophomore column about them serving as slaves for the Latin supper.

EIGHTH GRADE NEWS

The boys and most of the girls are very industriously engaged in whispering this week because of the fortunate fact that Mr. Fenstermaker is practically blind with the pink eye.

We have our Civics books and are quite dismayed to find them the same color as that unbearable General Science book. We have mastered the judges of the Supreme Court, the Cabinet members and the amendments to the constitution now, and had a final test on them. Most of us passed it since Mr. Smith told us beforehand what the questions would be.

SEVENTH GRADE NEWS

The seventh graders welcome a new pupil to their ranks. The one whom we mean is Dale Sherk, who comes to us from Sunnyside school at Bremen, Indiana.

In history we have been studying about the events leading up to the civil war. We think this is just about the most interesting period in our United States History.

AGRICULTURE NEWS

We are building cabinets in this class for the new tools in our shop. Our first lesson in our new course was to grind and hone a chisel.

We are also trying to determine the needs of worn out soil by the use of test plots.

The Freshman and Sophomores have been studying Marketing and grading eggs. Symptoms of poultry diseases, cure and prevention are also being discussed.

HOME ECONOMICS

You want to watch this column for some interesting bits of information about the new boys class that has been arranged. We expect some fine work from this class.

EMIGRATION NEED OF DROUTH REGION

Population Study Calls Resettlement a Cure.

Philadelphia.—Extensive emigration has been advanced by research authorities as a panacea for the problems of the drouth area.

The minimum reduction from the 1930 population consistent with "a safe use of the land would be about 390,000 people," according to findings of a study of population redistribution made public by the University of Pennsylvania.

Wheat Growing Harmful.

Authors of the study declared that this year's drouth is no isolated phenomenon and that resettlement of irrigation projects within the region could take care of only a fraction of the population surplus.

Over large sections of the great plains the low-cost farming methods which gave the wheat farmers their one competitive advantage are described in the report as "the primary cause of wind erosion so destructive that it eventually renders the land unfit for cultivation."

The plains situation represents only one of a number of serious cases of badly distributed population encountered in the inquiry, begun two years ago by the social science research council and carried on under auspices of the industrial research department of the Wharton school of finance and commerce of the university.

Hopeless Farms.

In the cutover lands of Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota, for example, it was found that scattered and haphazard settlement has left a heritage of hopeless farms and excessive costs of government, according to the report.

Even more serious in the opinion of the authors is the failure of migration to draw enough people away from certain "population pockets" in which extreme poverty and high birth rates are found in regions of inadequate resources.

The report suggested that some 350,000 people should eventually leave the crowded plateaus of the Southern Appalachians and indicate the needs for even greater migrations from the old cotton belt. "Each of these regions," it declared, "is doomed not only to discontinuing but to increasing poverty unless it is relieved of large numbers of people."

Through the efforts of Attorney T. F. Fitzgerald the legal status of the Co-Op News as a legal advertising medium was determined by the State Department of Commerce & Industries and in last weeks issue we were authorized by the Milk Board to publish the recent Milk Hearing notice.

Again this week Attorney Fitzgerald gives us another legal advisement in the matter of an estate publication.

We are very thankful to our townspeople for this support and if all our townspeople will use their influence to keep us the legal advertising from being a part of the country it will place us in a position to add sufficient help to you a much better newspaper.

To do all the work on the paper is too much for one person, especially when that person sets the type for all the reading matter. The revenue derived from the legal printing from this territory would pay extra cost of an assistant.

Basket Ball News

The Mentone Bulldogs defeated the Tippecanoe five on the home floor last Friday night by a score of 24 to 18. The visitors held a one-point margin at the half, but the Bulldogs came back after the rest period with a rally that soon broke this up, and then hung tenaciously to their lead until the final gun.

The Mentone Seconds rang up a 20 to 9 win over the Tippecanoe reserves in the first game of the evening. Frank Smith, new recruit to the Bulldog squad, proved of great help in piling up the final score.

The Junior High team lost their first game of the season to the Etna Green Eighth-Graders by two points in a last-minute thriller. Next Thursday evening the local Junior High will travel to Beaver Dam for a game there.

Church Pews Moved

The pews in the Methodist church were moved from that place Monday morning to the L. P. Jefferies Store room. This was done to facilitate working on the floor in the church which is to be sanded down and refinished throughout.

The pews also are to be entirely refinished. This work is to be done by the ladies of the church, it is reported. The church is indeed going to be a beautiful edifice and a great improvement in the appearance of our town.

Stanley E. Jones Speaks

Several cars of people from the Methodist church congregation attended the program at the Shrine Auditorium in Fort Wayne Monday night where Stanley E. Jones, well known Methodist missionary, was the speaker. Mr. Jones has been in India for five years and is now home on a one year furlough. All the tickets that the local church sent for were quickly bought and it was impossible to obtain any more. Every seat in the auditorium was filled. A very interesting and inspiring talk was the report of those who attended. Mr. Jones is leaving soon for India to take up his work again in the missions there.

Rev. and Mrs. E. E. DeWitt took a car-load of food, chiefly fruit, contributed by the Epworth League, to the Methodist hospital in Fort Wayne Monday, and stayed over for the program in the evening at the Shrine.

Missionary Meeting

A Missionary program was enjoyed at the Palestine Christian church Sunday night instead of the regular evening services. The program started with a few congregational hymns followed by a selection by the mixed quartette. Rev. Norwood spoke for a few minutes on life in the Kentucky mountains as a sort of background for the play to be given later in the program. Mr. Norwood spent a few years preaching in the mountain sections of Kentucky while he was attending the university, and his description of the hill people and their living conditions was very interesting.

The ladies of the Young Married Peoples class presented a one act play entitled, "If I Be His Deciple". The cast consisted of Agnes Sirguy, Lucile Fisher, Mrs. Glen Snyder, Naomi See, Mary Higler, Edna Kingle and Maude Clark.

BURKET LIONS GET CHARTER

Burket's new Lions club, sponsored by the Mentone club, was formally chartered Wednesday night at a banquet served at the Burket community building. Approximately two hundred Lions and Lionesses were present.

The program consisted of a call to order by Deputy District Governor, Harry Taylor of South Bend. Boy Scout, troupe 12 of Mentone posted the colors and the entire group joined in singing the Star Spangled Banner. Rev. E. E. DeWitt gave the invocation, which was followed by roll call of the various clubs.

A. I. Nelson of Mentone presided as toastmaster. Murray Rickle of Burket, welcomed the Lions and their wives with a few well chosen words after which International director, W. W. French of Mishawaka, presented honor keys to Murray Rickle, Wilber Cochran and A. L. Summees, all of Burket and Maurice Dudley, Henry Vance Johns and Russel Fleck of Mentone.

District Governor, Edward H. Paine of Michigan City, gave a picturesque, historic and romantic talk on the West Indies immediately following which he presented the charter to the new club. Acceptance of the charter was made by the Burket club president, A. L. Summees. Dale Kelley, president of the local club made a few brief remarks.

Three new Lions clubs will be installed soon. At Silver Lake, C. I. Bashore has been chosen president of the club to be chartered there March 8. Charles Schonover, Jr., of Argos, will be president of the Argos Lions club and they will receive their charter March 18. At Syracuse Matt Katzer becomes Lions club president. Their charter night has been tentatively set for March 25.

Harry Taylor of South Bend, made some final announcements and the assembled Lions were adjourned.

There were approximately 35 Lions and their wives present from Mentone and Lions representing clubs from Bourbon, South Bend, Mishawaka, Silver Lake, Claypool and Argos were also present.

Home Economics News

The Harrison Center Home Economics club met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Wilma Cochern in Atwood. It was voted that the club would give five dollars to the American Red Cross for flood relief. Several contests were given in keeping with Valentine day with prizes awarded to Edna Murphy, Bessie Sensibaugh and Helen Mellott. The guest prize was given to Mrs. Thomas Witham. Vivgie Eckert drew the mystery package. A covered box with red streamers hanging from it was passed and each drew out a Valentine fortune which caused much amusement when read aloud. Red hearts were passed with an incomplete verse and each member had to seek the rhyming verse for his lunch partner. The next meeting will be held February 17 at the home of Mrs. Virgie Eckert.

Useful Father-in-Law

Columbus got exploration ideas from his father-in-law, Bartolomeo Monis de Palestrello, one of the most distinguished navigators under Prince Henry of Portugal. Columbus was "a large man, with a long, red-freckled face," says a description of him in a book published in 1534. But all of the Columbus portraits are of doubtful authenticity, and no one knows for certain just what he did look like. The discovery of America is claimed by the Spanish, Italians, Portuguese, Icelanders, Danes, Norwegians, Welsh, Dutch, Arabians, Basques, Irish and Chinese!

Tinted Marble in Buildings

The two great buildings in classic Athens, the great Temple of the Parthenon and the Propylaea, the greatest secular building in ancient Athens, were both built of golden-tinted marble.

ZIPPER FAD HIT WITH THE LAPPS

If a tourist of 25 years ago were to visit the Lapps again today, with the hundreds of travelers who come to see them on North Cape cruises, after a railroad journey through the heart of Sweden, or by bus over Finland's unique highway to the Arctic Ocean, he would find them living just as they have for a hundred, two hundred years.

Modern civilization has only one feature that has captivated the fancy of the Lapps—the zipper fastener. But even though the Lapps of today may fasten their clothes with zippers, their costume is the traditional one that they and their ancestors have worn for generations.

The men have a long blue blouse, gathered at the waist with a belt and slashed with red and yellow, tight blue trousers, and caps on which they wear huge red pom-poms. Their shoes are a moccasin of reindeer hide, bound at the ankle with red and yellow woolen bands and turned up at the toes. Lapps sometimes place a certain type of grass, which they call shoe grass, in their moccasins, and so protected, their feet go unharmed on the roughest ground and keep warm in the coldest weather.

Exhibited Valueless "Gold"

For fifty years the city fathers of Blackburn, England, have pointed with pride to a nugget labeled "Pure Australian Gold" in the Municipal museum, but now their pride is assayed at exactly nothing. The nugget weighs seven ounces, and with gold going up to more than $35 an ounce the authorities, yielding to the fearful temptation, decided to sell the nugget for the benefit of the museum. They registered the nugget as gold and sent it to a firm of assayers in London. When the report came back they opened it eagerly to see how much they could expect. Your nugget, it said in effect, is made up entirely of brazier's metal and has no gold in it whatsoever.

Tree 290 Feet Below Surface

A tree at the record depth of 290 feet below surface has been found by drillers in the Goondiwindi district of New South Wales. Drillings were being made for an artesian well when a hardwood log was encountered. From the same depth the drill also brought up acorns, similar to those of the river oak.

Strange Disaster

One of the strangest disasters in naval history occurred in the Mediterranean on the afternoon of June 2, 1893, says Collier's Weekly, when Vice Admiral Sir George Tyron, aboard Britain's then greatest battleship H. M. S. Victoria, ordered and reentered a mysterious maneuver to the consternation of the fleet behind him, that made another giant battleship ram and sink his vessel, in thirteen minutes, with a loss of 358 men—including himself.

Artificial Vitamin "B"

Produced by Scientist

Minneapolis, Minn. — More extensive use of vitamin B compound for human consumption is forecast in the present issue of Modern Medicine, published here, as result of recent discovery of synthetic vitamin B.

Production of the artificial vitamin was achieved by Dr. R. R. Williams, according to the publication.
Among other scientists who helped perfect the process, the magazine said, were Dr. J. J. Cline, Prof. H.
T. Clarke, Dr. E. R. Buchman and
R. E. Waterman and A. E. Ruechle.

The process of making artificial vitamin B, the first vitamin discovered, requires the combining of a drug which puts people to sleep with a sulphur - containing substance used to vulcanize rubber.
Synthetic production of the vitamin, eliminating the costly and longer method of extracting the pure substance from the vegetable in which it is contained, will open a new field in medicine, the magazine predicted.

Vitamin B, discovered in 1896, even before the word "vitamin" had been coined, promotes health and well being in the body. It also is a factor in growth of the body.

It is effective for the treatment of certain nervous ailments and lack of it causes a dropsy disease known as "beri-beri."

Earn Built of Timbers

From Fillmore's Home

Geneva, N. Y. — The boyhood home of Millard Fillmore, thirteenth President of the United States, has been torn down because no organization showed enough interest in its preservation to pay the owners $700.

Fillmore, elected Vice President in 1848 on the Whig ticket, succeeded to the Presidency in 1850
upon the death of Zachary Taylor and served until 1853. He was defeated for re-election by James Buchanan.

He had lived in the Cayuga county house until he was nineteen years old and returned to it many times.
In recent years it had been unoccupied and the owners had attempted to sell it to some patriotic organization. Unable to obtain an offer of more than $250 they dismantled it and sold the timber for construction of a barn.

Missouri's Channel May

worth of mercury and 5,000 gallons of fire Civil war whisky.

The mercury, being shipped to Montana mining centers in earthen carboys, might be found, experts agree, but there are other aspects of opinion concerning the whisky car-boys.

Concert Well Attended.

There was a capacity crowd at the Baptist church Friday night to enjoy the excellent concert by the Wheaton College male chorus, under the direction of H. W. Nordin. We are seldom privileged to hear such music from such a splendid group of young men. A banquet in their honor was held at 6:30 in the church basement. More than one hundred guests were present from the Mentone vicinity and from Elkhart, Indiana.

The boys spent the night here and departed at 9:30 in their Greyhound bus for Pontiac, Michigan where they gave a similar concert Saturday night. Sunday night at 9:15 they broadcasted over the blue network of the National Broadcasting System, WLW Cincinnati, Ohio.

The visit of this group of Christian young men was indeed an inspiration to the young people in the community who are interested in His work and also to high school graduates as well as those who are graduating this spring and hope to attend Wheaton.

PET TRANSPORTING NOW BIG BUSINESS

Thousands of Dogs Shipped Yearly by Rail.

New York — Transportation of pets has become a huge business in this country, and of our estimated 11,000,000 dogs alone, hundreds of thousands travel yearly by rail, declares C. R. Graham, vice president of Railway Express agency, in a report just issued. However, not only dogs travel, as lion and leopard cub pets and pet pythons are included in the wide variety handled by the expressmen.

"Large individual breeders in various parts of the country ship from 100 to 150 dogs daily to purchasers and pet shops, and a surprising number of families carry their dogs with them on their travels," says Mr. Graham. "The dog is the most traveled of all animals."

Are Good Travelers.

"Strangely enough," Mr. Graham continued, "wild animals stand travel even better than dogs. They seem to have the power to withdraw into themselves and doze through most of a trip, while the dog, with his more developed mentality and emotions, is usually on the alert for strange sights, sounds and smells, from which he builds up his more vivid world. Even though the wild animal's senses are keener than the dog's, the brain which receives and interprets their testimony is far less so. Many dogs seem to possess, at least intermittently, what intelligent humans would consider the power of thought."

"Successful pet transport requires a 'feeling' for animals, and this is only acquired by long experience. The average express agent has it because of the overwhelming majority of all the animals shipped in this country. However pet transport can never be standardized. Pets range all the way from dogs to canary birds, horned toads and tropical fish; white monkeys, turtles and snakes are not unusual pets to the expressman. Every one of these travelers requires different food and conditions during transport."

Python on the Loose.

"Last year pet lion cubs were sent as gifts from a California lion farm to all parts of the country. And recently one of our greatest problems was a female leopard cub named Snooks, who was a year old, from Ethiopia and required more attention than a Park avenue hypochondriac."

"Then there was the pet python which escaped in an express car. It was winter, fortunately, and the car was run to a siding and chilled until the snake became dormant and the local zoo officials could go in and 'reel-up' 18 feet of 'pet'!"

"The expressman never knows what to expect, or what shippers will consider 'pets'! But if he has

2,090 CCC Camps Will Be Operated During Winter

Washington, D. C. — The conservation corps work program for the eighth six month period which began October 1 provides for operation of 2,090 CCC camps on a wide variety of conservation projects, ranging from reforestation operations in national, state and private forests, to recreational development and improvement work in hundreds of state parks.

Classifications of work to be stressed include tree planting, forest and park protection from fire, insects and disease, erosion control work on farms and on federal lands. Also wild life conservation, flood control, improvement of drainage systems, rehabilitation of range lands on the public domain and water conservation, according to Director Robert Fechner.

Home Economics News

Mrs. George Feldman was hostess to the Home Economics club of Tippecanoe with thirty-two members answering to "Verse from an old Valentine." Mrs. Eva Severns, our new president, presided for the first time. She was kept quite busy after the Collect was repeated, appointing members to different positions for the year. The Tippecanoe playlet directed by Mrs. Lulu Ritter was left by the wayside as the leading lady was called away at the last minute but Mrs. Ritter can cope with all situations, therefore her part was well presented. Summit Chapel playlet directed by Mrs. Elsie Creighbaum, was well given and the green country girls looked their part.

Mrs. Ida Fields gave a review of a one act play and since George and Martha Washington are prominent characters of this month, she brought them to life in a very modern room and we could behold their astonishment at the progress that has been made since they entered those framed pictures. Mrs. May Wood and Mrs. Shirley Apple assisted Mrs. Feldman. Very delicious refreshments were served at the social hour.

We meet with Mrs. Irvin Fies on March 3, and each must come in an old fashioned dress.

EIGHTH GRADE NEWS

We had a final test in English yesterday and have begun Literature. We will be "Adrift on an Ice Pan", with Dr. Wilfred Grenfell for eighteen pages.

In Civics we are studying city planning. Mr. Smith asked us to draw a plan of a city with three most inconveniently arranged railroads. He offered a prize for the best one. A committee decided Iris Blackwell's was the best. She is anxiously awaiting the fur-lined molasses pitcher, which Mervel promised.

Arithmetic is getting easier now that we are out of per cents. Carl Whitstone's side was victorious over Hope Deaton's team.

In General Science we are studying magnetism. We have been proving the law of magnetic poles and drawing our proofs.

Gym class is very interesting for both boys and girls. The girls have been skipping rope, marching and learning how to pass a basketball. The boys are eagerly preparing for the time when they shall help to make up Mentone's team.

If you want some real amusement read some of the notes Jane Warner and Iris Blackwell practice flipping.

SEVENTH GRADE NEWS

We find our studies are quite hard, especially English and Arithmetic. In English on February 4th, we are having a test over compound parts of speech.

AGRICULTURE NEWS

The agriculture assignment for the Junior-Senior class this week was to grind and hone a plane bit and butter knife.

Some of the various things we will have assigned to us are: grinding an axe, scythe, and plow shaver, put in and putty a new glass in a broken window, put in a new hammer handle and a number of other small jobs usually found on a farm.

HOME ECONOMICS NEWS

This year Mentone has a Home Economics class for boys. It is thought to be the first in the state. They started out by studying etiquette, the proper procedure at the table, the use of the silverware and the foods which are to be eaten with the fingers and also the way to conduct themselves when they take a guest.

They took up introductions and the way to present certain persons to others. All the boys took part in this work very seriously and we are sure that it has done an lot for them.

They then studied the way to conduct themselves in public, in restaurants, at the theatre, in stores, the proper way to make reservations on trains and at hotels.

They are now studying the proper foods and the elements they contain and with this study it gives the care of the body and the foods needed.

Next week they expect to start cooking. All of them have aprons and are ready to start. We are sure this will be a great help to all of the boys even though they will not all be bachelors because they may have a chance to cook when wifey goes to see mother.

Inasmuch as the weather is very unfavorable to health conditions, we wish to use this means to ask all those people connected with our school activities to be very careful at all times to reduce the possibility of an influenza epidemic in our school. During the past week, several youngsters have been sent home because they were ill with the flu. If everyone will be very careful and protect him-self and his neighbors, his can be checked.

SENIOR NEWS

The Seniors have been having a very interesting discussion in their Civics discussion class this past week. We have been reviewing the different modes of transportation. We started way back when transportation was all done by people themselves, and then when man started to use beasts to bear his burdens. After this man used wind and the sail on water to carry his goods. We contrasted this with our modern palaces which float on our oceans today. We also have great speedy stream-lined trains and graceful speedy airplanes which carry our mail and light freight. Man has certainly traveled far and fast in a mechanical way.

JUNIOR NEWS

Everything has gone about the same this last week. In our Literature class we have finished Shakespeare and we are all very glad. We are now studying small articles written by some of the Revolutionary heroes and we enjoy it much more.

The Junior history class has been reading stories concerning the Civil War and several students are beginning to believe this war could have been avoided. We heard a good joke on Mervel the other day. Two of our trouble making Junior girls were visiting in their assembly period (which was more like a ladies aid meeting) and this is what they overheard: Mervel was telling his Junior class that he was going to speak on liars and he asked how many students had read the 25th chapter of the text. To this inquiry nearly every student raised his hand and then Mervel said, "Good, you are just the group I wish to speak to. There is no 25th chapter."

We are very proud to have one Junior who has reached 44 words per minute in typing. This fortunate person is Lucile Lightfoot.

We regret the absence of one of our class members, Jack Shinn, who is aiding in the flood disaster.

SOPHOMORE NEWS

The Latin class have started on their maps of Gaul. The history class started to study Napoleon Bonaparte and our literature class has returned to studying short stories.

W. C. T. U. Meets

The W. C. T. U. of Tippecanoe met at the home of Mrs. June Latham on Tuesday, February 2 with several members present. Mrs. Ernest Fanning was program leader with the "Frances Willard Centenary Educational Fund" the main topic, as this month we honor Frances Willard's Heavenly Birthday Anniversary. Mrs. C. C. Cripe of the Brethren church, had charge of the devotional and also led in the singing. Mrs. Elson Reed and Mrs. Hulet Latham gave interesting "Aims and Progress" of this educational fund. Meeting closed with the Aaronic benediction, Numbers 6: 24, 25, 26.

Some time was spent after the meeting preparing for the local institute which will be held at the M. E. church the second Tuesday of March. An all day program with a carry-in dinner with our vice-president, Mrs. S. A. Laird, presiding. Mrs. Harry Lonzo of Bremen, our county president, will be with us to give inspiring and encouraging talks. All are welcome. The program is to appear later.

Hi Hat's Trained Gong

"My neighbor, Hi Hat, has a gong which he strikes as he chooses, to indicate his preference as to the time of day," said Hi Ho, the sage of Chinatown. "In this way he indicates the superiority of his personal opinion to vulgar ideas of chronology."

Do Not Speak Same Language

"A dove of peace has more wisdom than a well-spurred fighting cock," said Hi Ho, the sage of Chinatown, "but, unfortunately, they do not speak the same language."

Spelling Profit

Noah Webster was born in Hartford, Conn., son of a farmer. A failure as a lawyer, he turned to teaching and text-book writing. He was twenty-six when he published "Grammatical Institute of the English Language," which made him famous. This consisted of a spelling book, reader and grammar, and so successful was his speller that the income from it alone was sufficient to support him and his family during the 20 years he was at work on his dictionary. More than 65,000,000 copies were sold. He mastered 23 languages in order to compile his dictionary—eight of them he taught himself within five years!

Lawmakers' "Hopper"

The term "hopper," referring to bills presented in the house of representatives, is more or less figurative. There is a small tray where members may drop the bills which they have introduced. These are at once removed by the bill clerk. The members may, if they desire, send the bills directly to the bill clerk instead of placing them on the tray, which is a mere formality.

Edison as a Schoolboy

As a schoolboy Thomas Alva Edison, great-inventor-to-be, was considered so dull his teacher sent a note home saying he had no promise. His mother decided to teach him herself, in desperation. She endured such of his experiments as trying to hatch duck eggs by setting on them himself and making odorous chemical mixtures.

Beetle Has Headlights

Limelight

One of the common expressions of a political campaign is that this or that candidate occupied "the limelight." As an old expression it serves, but from a scientific point of view it no longer tells a true story. Limelight was produced in theaters by directing an oxyhydrogen flame on a cylinder of lime. Electric bulbs of various sizes and power and of every conceivable color take the place of the old limelight and a candidate can bask in a blaze many times as powerful as was possible some years ago without lime having anything to do with the illumination.

Painting Old Custom

People painted their homes in ancient times. The fourteenth verse of the twenty-second chapter of Jeremiah reads: "I will build me a wide house . . . and it is ceiled with cedar and painted with vermilion."

Our Supplement

In this issue you will find a supplement that gives a graphic description of one of Mentone's oldest and largest industries.

The White City Egg Farm was one of the first in the state to devote itself exclusively to the production of eggs and chicks, and its continuous growth each year since its establishment nearly 27 years ago is ample evidence that the management understands the poultry business and that the Manwaring strain of White Leghorns are money makers.

May we suggest that if you have a friend living in some other locality who is interested in poultry, that you mail him your supplement, just to show him that Mentone is the Capital of the poultry industry. Should you need extra supplements they may be had for the asking at this office.

Truck is Wrecked

About nine o'clock Sunday night an inter-state trailer truck was wrecked on road 30 in the east part of Warsaw. Driving along east Center St., near the edge of town the driver attempted to pass a passenger car just as the passenger car started to make a left turn. To avoid crashing into the car, the truck driver took to the ditch and in making the sharp turn, the trailer which was carrying nine tons of eggs, turned over on its side, taking the cab with it. Monday morning the wreckage still blocked the drive to the McDonald hospital.

New Factory in Town

The building formerly occupied by the Mentone Hardware Co., has been vacated and factory machinery is being installed. Men have been at work for two weeks and they expect to have it in running condition this week.

The Fuller Box Company is the name of the organization and they will manufacture wood and fiber collapsible egg cases. The Chicago plant of which this plant is a branch, manufactures wood fiber boxes for shipping purposes exclusively. This is the first egg case assembling plant to be installed but others will be established at egg producing centers. Each plant is supposed to have a shipping radius of one hundred miles. Mr. Collins F. Fuller, owner of the parent plant at 1300 North Halstead St., Chicago, will also be the owner of the plants created at these different points.

The Fuller Egg Box is a patented item and is the result of many years of experimentation. This box was not put on the market until a necessary amount of research and experimentation had been made to prove conclusively that the egg case is satisfactory in every respect.

Mr. Fuller stated that he would employ from fifteen to thirty people, chiefly women and expected the plant to be in operation this week.

Bars Heads

Sending human heads through the mails is politely prohibited by a postmaster in Northern Burma. He has issued this circular: "Please discontinue the practice of sending human heads by post. . . I admit there is no specific reference to this in the regulations, and I am aware that as Khawal was killed in action some trophy belonging to his enemy might be sent to his relations. Nevertheless the despatch of human heads by registered parcel post is open to grave objection, and I must insist that it be given up at once."

Gas Taken From Clover

Claimed to be commercially practical, a process for extracting gas from roadside clover has been discovered by two Minnesota chemists. After manufacturing gas in their plant for several months, the chemists announced that 3,000 acres of clover would be sufficient for making a year's supply of gas for St. Paul's domestic and industrial users.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

CHEMICALS USED TO TREAT TREES

Trees doomed to die from insect attack may help save neighboring trees from the same fate. The only practical way previously devised for controlling bark beetles—a serious threat to American forests—is the destruction of trees into which large numbers of beetles have tunneled. These trees usually are felled and burned, or their bark is peeled off and burned—a costly method.

Searching for new and better control measures, entomologists of the United States Department of Agriculture have worked out promising methods for introducing into the sap stream of an infested tree chemicals poisonous to the insects. The rising sap carries these chemicals—zinc chloride and copper sulphate—all through the tree, impregnating the tissues much more simply and at far less cost than could be done with an outside force.

Besides killing all insect life in the tree, the injected fluid makes the wood immune to further insect attack. Treated trees, therefore, may be left standing for several years, until it is convenient to start logging operations in their vicinity. Furthermore, posts, poles and logs from the treated trees will resist insect attack and decay that soon ruin untreated timber in contact with the ground. As a method of preserving forest products, the entomologists say, these treatments cannot take place of commercial dipping and pressure processes. They are, however, practical for farmers and foresters needing rough timber for fences or for rustic furniture, cabins, or bridges on the land where the trees grew. Nor can these methods of destroying insect pests be used on trees to be kept alive. They are bound to kill the tree, as well as the beetles in it.

BUILD DIRIGIBLES IS NAVY PROGRAM

Akron and Macon Mishaps Held No Bar to Future.

Washington.—Despite the Akron and Macon disasters, the navy high command is studying recommendations for resuming the development of big lighter-than-air dirigibles.

A new construction program has been recommended by the bureau of aeronautics, the annual report of Rear Admiral A. B. Cook, chief of the bureau, disclosed. The report also asked increases in the navy's combat airplane strength, aviator personnel and shore facilities for them.

Admiral Cook noted that his predecessor, Rear Admiral E. J. King, had recommended to Claude A. Swanson, Secretary of the Navy, last May a continuing program of dirigible construction in line with a report presented by a committee of scientists which studied the question for almost a year.

Both the report and the bureau's recommendations now are being considered by the naval high command and are expected to form the basis for a final determination of policy with respect to large lighter-than-air ships.

The navy's program for dirigibles was suspended indefinitely after successive disasters in 1933 and 1935 had destroyed the Akron and Macon, the former with a large loss of life.

The scientific committee's report, however, urged that these accidents not be permitted to deter the United States from participating in the advance of airship development and transportation and recommended a "carefully considered program of airship construction."

Referring to this, Admiral King recommended the inclusion of "large airships in the department's program for airship development, but that ways and means for acquiring large airships be not fixed at this time, pending a clarification of activities in the commercial airship field, in which commercial airship activities and the department should co-operate wherever practicable."

Rare "Ice-Bugs" Found by Student in Montana

Bozeman, Mont.—Professor G. Allen Mail, entomologist at Montana State college, is mourning the death of another of his recently acquired collection of extremely rare and cannibalistic "ice-bugs," which he keeps in an ammonia refrigerator room here.

Known scientifically as Grylloblatta, the "ice-bugs" were found in the Gallatin valley near here by Fred Skoog, entomology student. Faculty expeditions subsequently found more of the insects. Several of them have died, possibly because of some parasitic insect they devoured or because of unfavorable experimental temperatures to which they were subjected.

Lately 68 of the Grylloblatta, or "Alpine Rock Crawlers," underwent a test temperature of 10 below zero. Mail said that was "a bit too chilly" for them. They thrive at zero and quickly perish if the mercury mounts much above that, since they are found only in high altitudes, frequently in glaciers.

Hoping to perpetuate his collection, Mail plans to start mating experiments soon. Six months is required for the eggs to develop.

The "ice-bugs," experiments have indicated, will not withstand light, so attempts to photograph them have been only partly successful. The moment the lid is raised on their tin boxes they scurry to the protection of a sprig.

San Francisco Loses Its Oldest Livery Stable

San Francisco. — The oldest of San Francisco's livery stables has passed out of existence, to be succeeded by a garage.

The Kelley Livery Stables, as they were known, were founded in 1859. The founder, Thomas Kelly, landed in San Francisco during the gold rush, having sailed around the Horn in a clipper ship.

The stables played a picturesque part in the early days of California, when swank turnouts, with hatted coachmen and high-steppers were the signs that gold had rolled in from the mines.

In 1906 the son of Kelly took over the stables and continued the business. However, he was quick to sense the incoming power of the motor car and was one of the first livery stable proprietors on the Coast to equip his stables in such a manner that a customer could have his choice between Dobbin or an automobile.

Double of Edward Finds Role Irksome

Newton, Mass. — Basil G. Dandison, thirty-six years old, so closely resembles King Edward VIII of England that when he travels through Europe people think that he is the king traveling incognito.

Dandison says it soon becomes monotonous to be told that one is a double for a famous person—even if the personage be England's Edward.

Backbone Rock

Backbone rock, one of the most striking natural formations in southeastern America, is a stone wall of Erwin quartzite, sixty-seven feet high and only sixteen feet thick, which extends for 636 feet across the narrow valley between Holston mountain and Iron mountain, two ranges that run parallel for thirty miles. These ranges are joined by a connecting ridge known as Cross mountain.

Monday Club

The Etna Monday Club met with Mrs. Emma Bell last week. Twenty-six members were present and two guests, Mrs. Valentine Rouse, of Newark, Ohio, and Mrs. Melvin Liven-good, of Athens, Indiana. Mrs. Victor Anglin, chairman of Cooperation for the Blind, had a nice assortment of towels which the ladies of the club eagerly purchased to help support the blind women. The president announced the following program committee for the coming year: Miss Nellie Mikel, Mrs. Russell Jontz, Miss Margaret Poulson and Mrs. Stacy Shaw. The program for the evening consisted of Roll Call, "White House News"; "The New White House Kitchen" by Mrs. Vern Sponseller; "Homes of the World" by Mrs. I. D. Harmon. Mrs. Valentine Rouse very interestingly told something of her former home in France, and the program closed with a concert by the Kitchen Band, directed by Mrs. Wm. Kintzel. It is surely surprising what can be done with a little imagination and a few dish pans, wash boards, thimbles, curtain rods, funnels, tin lids, etc.

The hostess served delicious refreshments and the club adjourned to meet on Tuesday evening with Mrs. Forrest Knepper.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Worsham of Tippecanoe entertained with a dinner, Sunday, for Mrs. Worsham's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Zopf, of Lansing, Michigan, who were married recently. Others present were Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Zopf and son Charles of Elkhart and Miss Florence Hintz of Mishawaka.

SENIOR NEWS

The Seniors thoroughly enjoyed their trip to Indianapolis on Wednesday of last week. We thought that you might enjoy hearing about the most interesting points we visited.

We left Mentone about 6:30 and arrived in Indianapolis about 9:45. We ambled up to the State House and watched the Representatives at work. Finally, we were more impressed with the magnificence of the building than we were with the intelligence of our law-making body. The State House is a great piece of architecture. It has many beautiful statues and frescoes. The center dome has a beautiful blue mosaic on the inside which makes one gaze in awe.

We left the State house at about 11:45 and separated to get our lunches. We found our way into various eating houses. We agreed to meet at the Claypool Hotel Lobby at one. When we gathered there, we started counting noses. There was one missing! We used the process of elimination and found that Alice Meredith was gone! We were in a terrible dilemma until Mr. Kelley discovered her wandering around in the Claypool Bar-room next door to the Lobby. He immediately sent poor harassed Justine Long to her timely rescue. Once more we were all together and started to the Soldier's and Sailor's Monument, Alice still insisting that the Barroom of the hotel was superior to the lobby.

We arrived at the door of the Monument and were admitted to the elevator on the pass that Mr. Creighton, our local Representative so kindly secured for us. The elevator ride to the balcony was a thrill, yet the panoramic view of the capitol city secured from this high point was over-powering. We looked in all directions and could see nothing but city and then more city. Directly below us we saw the circle and the continuous streams of traffic leading to it. It surely made one feel insignificant to go to such a great height and see such a vast city stretched out. There were countless buildings, smoke-stacks and people, people, people!

The ride down in the elevator was quite a thrill also. After we again reached terra firma, we went to our bus and toured the city. We visited the Riley, Coleman, Robert Long and Methodist hospitals. After this drive we started on our homeward journey, a very tired but also very happy group.

The Seniors wish to thank Mr. Creighton for the kindness that he has shown us on this wonderful trip and we also want to thank Mr. Kelley for his great patience and forbearance with us.

JUNIOR NEWS

The report cards have been distributed and quite a few Juniors have been disappointed. Several of our 'A' students in Literature dropped to a 'C'. We wonder why. Ask Paul Smith.

In our history class we have been discussing the negro problem and the Klu-Klux-Klan of that time. It is very amusing, especially when Mervel relates such interesting stories.

Mr. Bowers has devised a new plan of arranging the error chart in typing. He is trying to help us cut down on errors and we are striving for a forty word pin.

The Bible class is taking a great interest in the Old Testament stories which before didn't appeal to us. Mr. Kelley gives a very keen interpretation which makes it easy for us. We wish to take this opportunity to thank him.

One of our class members has joined our high school band. Mary Deaton is the fortunate student and she will play the bass drum. This band is moving forward with rapid strides and we hope before so very long to have one of the best in the county.

Word was received recently from our former classmate, Claire Schooley, who is now attending Burket high school. She stated that after March 1st, she would again be one of our group. Claire has several friends here who are eagerly looking forward to her return to our ranks.

EIGHTH GRADE NEWS

Literature has proven, itself more exciting than English, also more difficult. Imagine our disappointment when, after we had carefully studied fifteen pages of "Adrift on an Ice Pan", the only question Mr. Smith asked was, "Does anyone have any questions about this?"

In Civics we spend most of our time reading as Mr. Smith is hardly able to speak above a whisper.

SEVENTH GRADE NEWS

In Home Economics the girls are studying about the daily diet. It should include vitamins, protein, carbohydrates, fats, minerals and water. In history we are studying the events after the war. Among these are several different reconstruction programs.

HOME ECONOMICS NEWS

This class is becoming more and more interesting as we venture deeper into the study of Vitamins and their importance. How to determine food values and meal preparation under different conditions such as size of family, occupation, income and other things, has been our problem of late.

AGRICULTURE NEWS

This week the shop class have been working with col metal drilling holes, using a hack saw, and filing and a few have been working ahead on their grinding. The Freshman Sophomore class have had the same studies as usual.

Vitamin B Is Now Being Produced Synthetically

More extensive use of vitamin B compound for human consumption is forecast in Modern Medicine, published in Minneapolis, as result of recent discovery of synthetic vitamin B.

Production of the artificial vitamin was achieved by Dr. R. R. Williams, according to the publication.

The process of making artificial vitamin B, the first vitamin discovered, requires the combining of a drug which puts people to sleep with a sulphur-containing substance used to vulcanize rubber.

Synthetic production of the vitamin, eliminating the costly and longer method of extracting the pure substance from the vegetable in which it is contained, will open a new field in medicine the magazine predicted.

Vitamin B, discovered in 1896, even before the word "vitamin" had been coined, promotes health and well being in the body. It also is a factor in growth of the body.

It is effective for the treatment of certain nervous ailments and lack of it causes a dropsy disease known as beri-beri.

The Lowly Penny

A big silver dollar and a little brown cent,

Rolling along together went,
Rolling along the smooth sidewalk,
When the dollar remarked, for dollars can talk:

"You poor little cent, you cheap little mite,

I am bigger and more than twice as bright.

I'm worth more than you a hundred fold,

And written on me in letters bold
Is the motto drawn from the pious creed;

"In God we trust", which all may read."

"Yes, I know, said the cent,
"I'm a cheap little mite, and I know

I'm not big, nor good, nor bright,
And yet, said the cent, with a meek little sigh,

"You don't go to church as often as I."

HEART OPERATION SAVES FROM DEATH MAN CUT IN BRAWL

Puerto Rican Derelict Joins the Legion of Modern Medical Oddities.

New York.—A knife thrust in the heart usually means death. To twenty-three-year-old Jose Melandez, until recently a Puerto Rican derelict, it meant fame and a good living.

Jose now belongs to that exclusive legion of medical oddities who, by the turn of fortune and a surgeon's scalpel, have been converted into rare physiological specimens, the living exhibit A of science who are the cynosure of attention at gatherings of physicians and surgeons, writes John Kobler in the Chicago Herald-Examiner.

Headliners All.

Other members of the legion have been headliners in the newspapers recently—Klaus K. Eravold of Fergus Falls, Minn., who lived for a year without a stomach; the several persons who speak without a larynx; Jesse Combs, Lebanon (Ind.) farmer, who lived for 13 years minus most of his intestines; Beatrice McTory, Rushville, Ind., who is fed through a "window" in her side because food cannot reach her stomach through her throat; the New York infant without an esophagus, and Alice Jane McHenry of Omaha, "the girl with the upside-down stomach."

All are destined to become case histories, like the Los Angeles man whose body is steadily growing smaller; the Wilkes-Barre (Pa.) child whose body is turning to stone, and Alexis St. Martin, the Indian who provided science with its first accurate knowledge of digestive processes when the accidental discharge of a shotgun laid bare his stomach without killing him.

Jose Melandez was stabbed through the heart—and lived to tell the tale! As a result of knowledge gained from his case, an incalculable number of lives of persons whose hearts are punctured in war or industry may be saved.

Unusual Operation.

Jose owes his life and his fame to Doctor Joseph Stenbuck of Harlem hospital, New York, who performed the heart suture—which virtually dragged Jose back from the dead. This operation, technically known as cardiorrhaphy, is not unique, but in the annals of medicine it has been attempted only a few hundred times, rarely with success. Stenbuck himself has performed it only five times, and Jose is the only subject to have survived.

One night Jose was brought into the Harlem hospital unconscious, bleeding from a terrific rent through his heart, the result of a brawl over a woman among the denizens of Harlem nightlife. He was placed on the operating table, and Surgeon Stenbuck went to work. First the skin and muscle over the heart were folded back in a flap. Then two pieces of rib were cut out and the pericardium, or shell surrounding the heart, was cut wide open.

The heart was held in place by a thread pulled taut through it. This was removed as soon as the operation was completed. Two stitches were taken in the wound and the flap sewn back.

The most dramatic part of the operation occurs at the moment when the surgeon enters the pericardium. Unless he is quick the patient will bleed to death.

Treed by Buck Deer Who Didn't Forget

Eastham, Mass.—Henry Howland was "treed" by a buck deer—one he believed didn't forget a past experience. Howland, working in his back yard, saw several deer crossing a field, when suddenly one espied him, chased and forced him atop a henhouse. During the half-hour imprisonment he noticed a scar on the animal's foreleg, the place where he wounded a deer three years ago. The buck apparently recognized him, he thought.

SENIOR NEWS

The Seniors have settled down from their wonderful trip to the Capitol and have taken up a study of the state constitution. Each day a new article in the constitution is studied and Mr. Mervel Smith makes out a test or hurdle for this particular article which must be passed. Then we move on to the next article, and we hope to have the entire instrument covered in a few weeks. It is a state requirement that people graduating from Indiana Commissioned High Schools have a working knowledge of the State Constitution.

The scores in the advanced typing class are looking up. At least we are pleasing our instructor Mr. Bowers, who is very patient with our stumbling efforts. Many of us have reached the fifty mark and a few of us are going over this score quite a bit.

The Bible class is now studying the life of David. This story proves to be very interesting to most of the students. Especially interesting is the exploitations of some of the men in Davids wonderful armies. One man was noted to have killed eight hundred men with one axe. We wonder how many times he had to stop to whet his axe.

The Seniors are now trying to select a play for presentation within the next two months or so. Several plays have been considered but none have been definitely picked as yet.

JUNIOR NEWS

The Juniors haven't much to say this week. Nothing has changed much except Literature class in which we are doing more discussion than reading.

Some of the Juniors hope to go to North Manchester Friday night to witness a college debate to be held there. Mr. Smith is sponsoring the trip.

SOPHOMORE NEWS

These people have an interesting announcement for the people in the school. They have heard that a troupe of players are coming with Mr. Bob Hanscom next Monday morning and present an hour's entertainment before the assembly.

FRESHMAN NEWS

The Freshmen Latin class are studying the story of Thesus and the terrible Minotaur this week. They all feel very sorry for the poor boys and girls who lost their lives when they were served to this horrible monster for dinner.

EIGHTH GRADE NEWS

The eighth grade had a class party at the school house on February 11. A large number of the class was present. Many teachers were also there. Interesting games were played and delicious refreshments were served.

There is a space of about six inches between the floor and the bottom of the door in Mr. M. A. Smith's room. A few days ago Mr. Smith's overshoes were visible. Irene Nighswander's curiosity got the better of her. She asked Mr. Smith who was in the closet. Mr. Smith answered that the fellow came into his room and got fresh and that he locked him up.

For great amusement, visit our General Science class and direct your eyes to the personage of Mildred Mahoney. Just watch her scoot her chair when Harry McClaren enters the room. We are undecided yet, as to which way she scoots.

SPORT NEWS

The Mentone Bulldogs defeated a scrappy Talma quintet last Tuesday night by a score of 22 to 16. The Bulldogs held a good lead at the half, but they nearly lost it when the Talma five began their drive in earnest, and showed that they still had some tricks up their sleeves. Wiltrout starred for Mentone with 8 points and Gross, high-point man for Talma with 5.

Talma's Seconds defeated the Mentone Checkers in the preliminary game of the evening 24 to 22. This game was a last-minute thriller, with the Talma Reserves coming up from way behind to slip into the lead at the end and stay there until the finish.

BAND NEWS

Our Band is making splendid progress and Mr. Bowers has planned some interesting summer activities for them.

Mr. Harrison has quite a problem in his classes. When the band practices the Star Spangled Banner all the boys stand up. When he asked Mr. Bowers what could be done about this Mr. Bowers said that maybe he could arrange a song for them to sit down by.

LAST MINUTE ENTRY

Mr. Paul Smith with a magazine in his hand at the close of his assembly came into the office and said, "Well, I took one Boy's Life."

BUENOS AIRES CITY OF SUPERLATIVES

Combination of Chicago, New York and Paris.

Washington, D. C. — What is the world's largest Spanish-speaking city? Madrid? No, Buenos Aires. What is the third largest city in the New World? Not Detroit or Philadelphia. Buenos Aires. Where is the world's largest meat refrigerating plant? Chicago? Wrong again. Buenos Aires! And that's only a beginning.

"Superlatives crowd fast upon one another when one describes the wealthy, hustling capital of Argentina, says the National Geographic society.

"Buenos Aires, 'city of good airs,' though little known to most North Americans, is one of the great cities of the world. Sprawling far over wide, flat prairies like Chicago; busy seaport and bustling mart like New York; center of art, culture, and gayety like Paris, Buenos Aires rolls them all into one and adds a flavoring dash of the Argentine that makes it different from them all.

Miles Mean Little.

"It is more miles from New York to Buenos Aires than from San Francisco to Tientsin, China, but miles mean little today. You can fly down to Buenos Aires in five days or pick up your telephone and talk to anyone there without leaving your room. But don't ask about the autumn weather, for in Buenos Aires now it's spring!

"Stop the steady flow of ships to and from Buenos Aires and millions soon would feel the pinch of hunger. Wheat, beef, pork, mutton and butter roll in a steady stream from the vast pampas of the Argentine into Buenos Aires, then out again to the markets of the world.

"A single ranch among the many that feed their products into Buenos Aires has been known to possess 50,000 cattle, 25,000 hogs, and 1,200 horses, and the city to ship 4,000 pounds of butter daily to England. Railroads and waterways spread fanlike into the hinterland from Buenos Aires to bring in the agricultural products that are the chief source of its amazing wealth. Its world-record size refrigerating plant can handle 5,000 cattle and 10,000 sheep a day.

"Ships move in a steady procession 125 miles up from the mouth of the mighty and muddy Rio de la Plata (river of silver) to Buenos Aires, rising on the flat river bank only 30 feet above high water level. Though one of the world's busiest ports with traffic rivaling the Panama canal, it has no natural harbor. The river at Buenos Aires is so wide that you cannot see across it except from a high building on a very clear day, but so shallow that ships formerly had to anchor miles from shore. Two dredged channels bring vessels from mid-stream direct to the great docks and ship basins that line the busy waterfront.

Like Washington.

On shore, Buenos Aires is laid out in checkerboard fashion with 100 parks and magnificent broad avenues. Like Washington, D. C., it occupies a federal district separate from the provinces. Despite rapid growth it is a 'planned' city except in the older sections.

"With a population fast approaching 2,250,000, the city is busily widening streets, extending diagonal avenues and lengthening the subway lines already in service. Nearly one-fifth of all the people in Argentina live here. In many ways Buenos Aires would make an American feel at home, for he would find not only subways but air-conditioned theaters, a 30-story skyscraper, tallest in South America, many movies (even shown free in restaurants), a financial center that resembles Wall Street itself, and enterprising newspapers full of world news in every important language. American money has helped build Buenos Aires with investments in packing houses, public utilities and banks.

"Fortunes are made, and displayed, in the Argentine capital. Veritable palaces, homes of the wealthy, line the fashionable avenues. On the imposing Plaza de Mayo (named for the month of May in which Argentina won independence from Spain) stand the vast rambling 'pink house,' popular name for the rose-colored government palace, the Banco de la Nacion and the pillared cathedral, suggestive of Paris's Madeleine.

"From the Plaza the broad Avenida de Mayo, lined with fine hotels, clubs, cafes and business buildings extends more than a mile to the Plaza Congreso, where rises the domed Hall of Congress, resembling the capitol at Washington. So eager is Buenos Aires to beautify herself that an annual prize is offered for the best-designed business and residence buildings."
