Freshmen Win 4-Way Tourney

Mentone's Freshmen team added a four-way tournament trophy to their collection and kept alive their undefeated string, stretching it to 35 straight victories. In Junior High these boys went undefeated as a seventh grade team, were likewise undefeated as an eight grade team, won a Junior High four-way tourney, captured the Junior High County Championship, and are thus far unconquered as a freshman team.

The future varsity was hard pressed in their first round game with South Whitley last Saturday morning. They won only after three Whitley shots went off the rim the last ten seconds.

The final score read Mentone 33, South Whitley 32. Larry Nellans led Mentone scoring with 17 points, 6 of which came in the last quarter when they were badly needed. Tom Holloway added 8 tallies to the cause. Bollinger paced a balanced Whitley attack with 9 points.

The final game was much less exciting than the first game as the Bulldogs laced North Manchester Central, 52 to 37. Mentone got off to an early lead and held on to it to the end. Larry Nellans again paced the Freshmen with 21 points while Terry Tucker had 10 and Tom Holloway added 9. Wilble led Central With 16 points.

Score by Quarters:

Mentone	13	22	27	33
Whitley	7	17	28	32
Mentone	15	28	37	52
Central	7	17	21	37

Production Credit Makes Promotion

John H. Katterhenry, Huntingburg, Indiana, on February 1, becomes field supervisor of the ten production credit associations in Indiana, announces Homer C. Hayward, president of the Production Credit Corporation of Louisville. He succeeds James D. Harrell of Peru, who has resigned to enter the credit life insurance business in Indiana.

Mr. Katterhenry will make the credit examinations and provide other supervision of Indiana's production credit associations which, in 1955, provided their 21,000 farmer-members with more than $60,000,000 of farm operating loans. This was the highest volume of business in their 22 years of operation.

Mr. Katterhenry is a native of Dubois County where he owns a farm. He began working for the Huntingburg Production Credit Association as a fieldman 15 years ago. For nearly a year now, he has been employed by the Production Credit Corporation as an assistant in the district office at Louisville.

MARRIAGE BOOM AHEAD

Only 1.5 million marriages occurred in 1955, as compared with 2.3 million in postwar 1946. But by 1960, there will be a new wave of marriages resulting from the boom in births in the '40's. About 2 million a year.—The Kiplinger Letter.

Low Prices of Hogs Due to Less Demand and Greater Supply

Lafayette, Ind.—It's a simple solution, but R. L. Kohls, Purdue agricultural economist, says the low price of hogs is a result of a greater number of hogs and less demand for pork.

Kohls says the number of hogs now nine percent above 1954, is the major reason for lower prices. But some of the decline is due to reduction in the proportionate amount of money consumers will spend for pork.

While the amount of money for consumers to spend has risen, with a few short-lived exceptions, since 1933, the percent of the money spent for pork has declined.

Kohl lists these four factors for the decline in the consumer's desire for pork: wealthier people buy less pork, rural people tend to eat pork than beef but the rural population is declining, growth of home freezing has favored beef more than pork and the excessive fatness of pork.

In a preview of the hog industry in the years ahead, Kohls expects the shift away from pork to continue if the increase in consumer wealth continues. However, he feels that improvements in packer practices, buying practices and production practice will all help slow down the declining demand for pork.

"But the real salvation for the hog enterprise will rest in ways to cut costs of producing pork so that profits can be realized even with declining demand," Kohl emphasized. He expressed doubt that leaner pork, if it means higher aggregate costs will give the solution.

Talma School News

By Karen Miller

Friday, January 20, at Talma School will be a day few high school underclassmen will forget. For after morning announcements were made the Seniors then announced that it was "Senior Day." First of all each underclass put on their clothes inside out and backwards, the girls removed all make-up and put their hair up in tiny pig-tails and the boys parted their hair in the middle. Then everyone received their cell number. The theme of "Senior Day" was "Prison Life." Next on the schedule was the trials for the students were charged with: whispering without permission, littering the school with gum and candy wrappers, and several other accusations. With a very impartial jury (made up of Senior girls) and the Senior boys, a judge and attorneys. Everyone was found guilty (of course) and the following sentences were pronounced: Juniors were to be in charge of the pep session. Junior boys shine Senior shoes at noon while the Junior girls serve and wait on the Seniors at lunch. Sophomores and Freshmen walk backwards except on the stairways, everyone, when reciting in class (classes go on as usual) must stand and say their cell number and then recite. The Seniors proved to be very strict teachers. All in all it was a very successful Senior Day that will not be forgotten for some time. In the County Tourney Talma played Akron and were defeated 55 to 79. Everyone there was proud of the way the team played and would agree it was a good game.

The Junior High played Richland Center January 24 at Center and the "A" team and the "B" team were both defeated but they played a very good game. Their next game is February 2 at Macy after school.

Report cards were handed out Tuesday, January 24.

The Junior Class is making plans for their Junior play to be given in April. Also the supper during Farmers Institute which is February 8 & 9. The supper will be February 8th, everyone is welcome.

The third grading period ended January 11 and the grade cards have been handed out with the following students on the honor roll.

Very Special Mention. Seniors, Sara Leininger, Juniors, Catherine Hisey, Karen Miller, Deloris Reed, Nettie Wagoner, Sophomores, Linda Barkman, Patricia Coplen, Robert Deamer, Mary Jo Vandermark, Freshman, Jerilyn Craig, Shirley Goodman, Karen Harvey, Janet Law, 8th, Nancy Nichols.

Special Mention: Seniors, Marilyn Rathfon; Juniors, Monte Sriver; Freshman, Linda Lukens, Carolyn Reed, Jemalene Sriver; Eighth, Kathryn Barkman, Jas. Dick.

The P. T. A. meeting was held Tuesday evening in the school gym. Mrs. Frederick was in charge of four numbers. A sextet vocal "When Children Pray" by the freshman girls; a vocal solo, "I Believe," by Sharon Carpenter; a clarinet solo by Janelene Sriver and Piano solo by Jerilyn Craig. This will be some of the numbers in the music contest at Warsaw and Culver Saturday, January 28, and February 4. The program committee consisted of Miss Joyce Bresson, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Harvey, and Mr. and Mrs. Herb Carlile. Mr. Harvey introduced the speaker of the evening, Mr. Hans Sebald, a young German student, who attends North Manchester College. Mr. Sebald gave an interesting talk on his impressions of children's freedom of expression in the American home and schools as compared to the strict discipline and lack of freedom in school and in home life in Germany.

The perfect attendance for the third grading period is as follows: (for the upper six grades) Seniors: Fred Kindig, Albert Snipes, Rebecca Bowser, Janice Hoffman, Sara Leininger, Marilyn Rathfon, Martha Woodcox; Juniors: David Busenburg, Steve Coplen, Ronnie Jones, Robert Jordan, Monte Sriver, Teddy Stavedahl, Ronnie Utter, Catherine Hisey, Mitzie Meredith.

In the quiet atmosphere of Osmanor, 17 members of the Jolly Janes Home Demonstration Club met to observe their 9th anniversary.

After pausing for the blessing, given by Grace Lewis, a three-course dinner was enjoyed.

Dorothy Nelson then introduced Mrs. Russell Simmons from Warsaw who humorously entertained by reviewing the book, "For Heaven's Sake." She impersonated the part of a minister's daughter, being of true faith, by reliving some of her childhood experiences. Everyone enjoyed her very much.

Reminiscing of the happy events of the past nine years, each of the following were present: Martha Ellsworth, Iola Goshert, Grace Lewis, Phyllis Bowser, Esther Markley, Isabell Hatfield, Alberta Hoogenboom, Mary Tridle, Lois Miller, Sue Friesner, Mary Utter, Dorothy Nelson, Fern Reichard, Ruth Grant, Annabell Tucker, Leona Eber, and Esther Romine. ## Family Garden Is Profitable

A practical solution for families interested in reducing their annual food bill has been outlined by W. B. Ward, a Purdue University extension horticulturist.

Ward says, no matter how small, a garden plot will help reduce the cost of food which takes 30 percent of the average family's total income.

Expenses for the garden will be highest for the first year, Ward reports. Such items are perennial small fruits and vegetable plants, a sprayer or duster, and garden tools will last for many years. The annual costs, however, after the garden is established is little compared to the value of the produce grown, the Purdue specialist says.

A garden area, 40 to 100 feet—about one-tenth of an acre—when properly planned and planted should supply enough small fruits and vegetables for the annual needs of the average family. Such a plot should yield small fruits, when the plants are established, and vegetables worth about $200 each year. And the initial cost to establish and maintain such a garden would be less than $50.

Ward believes that 300 row feet of perennial fruits and vegetables can be set for less than $30, which should be prorated over a 20 year period. Included in the $30 is the cost of the plants, a duster, an adequate garden tools. This allows $3 for 30 raspberry plants, $3 for 50 strawberry plants, $2 for 25 asparagus plants, $2 for 4 rhubarb plants, and 90 cents for 3 grape vines. These plants should yield high quality fruit and vegetables worth more than $80 annually.

Seed and plants for 22 different vegetables can be purchased for a little more than $7 to complete the remainder of the one-tenth acre plot. Fertilizer and pest control material for the annual garden should cost less than $10. More than $120 worth of vegetables should be harvested from such a ninvestment.

"While not all families can establish a garden one-tenth acre in size, a smaller garden will yield proportionate dividends. And besides the economical value the home garden has other advantages—it challenges the gardener and is a good family project," Ward adds.

"Now is the time to plan the 1956 garden," Ward says. He adds that Purdue extension bulletin 238, "Helps for the Home Gardener," available from the local county agent, will give valuable advice in the preparation of the garden this spring.

FASTEST GROWING STATES

Arizona, Delaware, Florida, Nevada and New Mexico are the top of the list in rate of population growth. The Pacific Coast has slowed down a bit in the past four years and didn't grow quite as fast as it did from 1940 to 1950. Florida, with a gain of 19 percent, has edged out California, which grew 18 percent in the past four years. In actual numbers of people, however, California is the leader and its population will probably top even New York State in 1956.—The Kiplinger Letter.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of our beloved Irene who left us a year ago, February 11th. (Poem written by her mother.)

A precious one has left us
But her Memories linger on.
She's gone beyond life's golden sunset

Where the streets are paved with gold,

For the Glories of the Heavens
Are within God's word foretold.
Though we smile when hearts are heavy

As we've passed through this long year,

Some day we'll meet in Glory
Where there'll be no more heart-aches nor tears.

Her work here on earth was finished
God wanted her up there,

And when the rest come home to see us,
There's always that vacant chair.

But she's in God's great tomorrow
Where she knows no pain nor fears,

And we will continue to praise God forever

For those precious 26 years.

Janice Nelson On State Contest

Mentone's Betty Crocker Home-maker of Tomorrow has been named! Janice Nelson has earned, through competitive examination, the honor of representing Mentone High School in statewide judging for $1,500 and $500 scholarships, it was announced by General Mills, sponsor of this home appreciation program. A quarter million young women throughout the nation participated.

Miss Nelson will also be eligible to compete for a $5,000 national scholarship award to be made to the All-American Home-maker of Tomorrow.

She demonstrated her home-making knowledge and attitude by receiving the highest score for her school in a written examination which was given graduating senior girls in 10,222 of the nation's public, private and parochial high schools. Her test paper will be entered in competition with 411 school winners in this state.

The girl selected state Home-maker of Tomorrow will receive a $1,500 scholarship and a trip in April with her school advisor to Washington, colonial Williamsburg, Va., and Philadelphia where the national winner will be selected from the state winners.

Each state runner-up will receive a $500 scholarship.

"The purpose of this program, now in its second year, is to encourage young women to think seriously and realistically about the responsibility of the home and family as a career," said Harry A. Bullis, chairman of the board of General Mills.

Boy Injured
In Collision

Gregory Smalley, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Smalley of Crystal Lake, received head injuries and bruises one morning last week when the auto in which he was riding collided with an auto driven by Mrs. Charles Miller, who lives on the Crystal Lake road. Mrs. Miller was driving out of her driveway when an auto driven by Gregory's father ran into her auto. The fog was so thick that the drivers did not see each other in time to prevent the collision.

The boy received treatment for his injuries at the Murphy Medical Center and was released. No one else was injured, although there was about $600 damage to the autos.

In Justice Court

A correction is to be noted in the date for the trial of the State vs. Glen Bryant, on a charge of failing to yield the right of way.

The date is Thursday, February 9, 1956, instead of Thursday, February 14, 1956, as was mistakenly stated in last week's Co-Op. News.

Parents of Son

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Fawley are the parents of a 5 lb. 10 1/2 oz. son born last Friday at the Woodlawn Hospital, Rochester. The new boy has been named Jack Steven.

Mr. and Mrs. John Waltz of Richland Center are the Maternal grandparents and Mr. and Mrs. Milo Fawley are the paternal grandparents.

Forty-Eighth Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Eiler were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Gordon and daughter, Joan, of near Warsaw, at a dinner on Sunday, February 5, 1956.

The occasion was the forty-eighth anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Eiler, who are the parents of Mrs. Gordon.

Mrs. Julia Creakbaum, an aunt of Mr. Eiler, and who makes her home with Mr. and Mrs. Eiler, was also a guest on the occasion.

Mail Carrying
Bids Wanted

The Mentone post office has been advised to seek bids on the carrying of the mail from the Mentone office to the depot, and return. Bids will be accepted until February 18th.

This service has been performed by William Cook, who has resigned because of illness and his age.

Mr. Cook, who is well up in the eighties, keeled over at the depot Friday afternoon and has been since confined to his home with pneumonia. Present reports are that he is improving, but his sons and other members of his family advised him to tender his resignation as mail carrier on the route.

Work Starts
On Bridge

Work started Monday on the construction of a temporary bridge on Road 25, just west of Mentone. The temporary structure is to serve until the state can construct a permanent one.

Unfinished Journey

Many folks have visited Florida and other areas in the south, and have visited more extensively than your editor, yet many have requested that we write an article about our recent trip to Cuba. In attempting to satisfy these requests, I want to extend an invitation to all our citizens to give us an article whenever they travel into other parts of the world.

Our trip into Florida was made through southern Indiana, across the timber and tobacco areas of Kentucky, into the cotton and hardwood area of Georgia and into the central part of northern, Florida. Our route was a little south of the oldest city in the United States, St. Augustine, so like Ponce de Leon we did not reach the "fountain of youth."

At Daytona Beach we drove the length of the famous sand beach where many speed records have been attempted. (The signs said: "Speed Limit 10 miles" so the Carey Cadillac was held in control.) The beach was nearly deserted because of the coolness of the day, but there are miles of fancy-looking apartments and inviting places for the weary tourists. Just beyond this rim of high-priced establishments is a bit of forlorn sand and weeds that may some day look like the best of Miami Beach. (I suspect this area to be some of that being offered as "beautiful subdivisions for only $250 a lot, payable at ten bucks per month.") If you're tempted to buy, first be sure you can walk across it without falling in a sand trap or a hole filled with coral snakes or rattlers. Much of Florida is where you can see wild hogs rooting along the edge of an ultra-modern highway and areas where a stone's throw—even at my age—will reach either a million-dollar tourist mecca or a flock of coral or sand covered with palmettoes.

From Daytona Beach we followed the east coast down thru fabulous Miami Beach, across the southern end of the state to Homestead before our journey down the famous Keys to Key West. Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Waldron at Homestead, serve as clearing agents for clothing sent by friends in the nation to a children's home in Havana, Cuba. The ladies were "convinced"—believe it or not—that two suitcases would hold all the clothing needed for Mr. and Mrs. Fred Carey and your editor and wife. We loaded in seven more suitcases of clothing and each filled a large shopping bag of foodstuffs and delicacies not easily obtained in Cuba. (The air line permitted 66 pounds of luggage for each person and they almost passed out cigars for ringing the bell every time they parked our gear on the baggage scales.)

The 45-minute flight to Cuba was wonderful. One could look down at the gently rolling waves below and occasionally see a ship or fishing boat cutting a path across the rather calm sea. A cloud in the distance looked as if it could be land. Another phenomenon for which I have no answer was that in the distance the sea looked like land area and "slick" areas on the sea looked like streams on the countryside.

Then out of the haze the stone buildings of Havana came into view. They grew larger quickly and soon we were circling the city for a landing. As we came onto the sunny side of the city, the darkness of the buildings turned into a light tan like the side of bare mountains in the west. And there we were taxing up to the green building of the "Q" Airways with "HABANA"—yes, Habana, in large white letters, and some of our Havana friends waving to us from the top of the building.

The next part of our journey was through Customs, but thanks to our friends there the luggage for the children's homes cleared without question.

My years among the Scandinavians in the northwest was of no value to me when I bumped into Spanish, but I took a chance on a door to a little room marked "Caballeros" and I was on my way to learning Spanish.

There have been times when it appeared as if we had some real hot-rodding juveniles in this part of Indiana, but your first impression of Havana driving is a thrill in any language. The traffic moves from all directions in streets wide enough for four lanes of trucks to some so narrow pedestrians walk with their hands across their chests. But Cuban drivers are good sports, and the driver that "beeps" his horn first has the right-of-way—and if your jitney would miss on two cylinders you'd be buried in a pile of metal junk in ten seconds. If your auto horn isn't working there you just can't drive.

Improving

Encouraging reports were received this week from Fred Rush, who has been confined to the Murphy Medical Center, Warsaw, since suffering a stroke several weeks ago. Sunday evening he was able to take nourishment and was able to speak a few words. Monday he continued to improve and even though he had been considered in serious condition in recent weeks, his friends are now encouraged.

Club Calendar

Merry Mollys will meet on Feb. 13th, 7:30 at Peterson's Lunch Room.—Please note change of meeting place.

W. S. C. S. meeting, Thursday February 16, at the home of Ruth Urschel at 7:45 p. m. Election of Officers.

Stewart, a former missionary to India, felt that God wanted her to go to Cuba, and when she was ready to take the boat to Havana she still lacked $20 for her ticket. God supplied the necessary funds and today her work is responsible for 34 mission fields, over 40 Sunday Schools, and many churches and mission buildings. Thirteen years ago she felt impressed to make a home for the waifs living in the streets and provided homes for 15 of the homeless youngsters. Today there are nearly 80 boys and girls in the homes in Havana.

The present cost of maintaining the homes and missions is over three thousand dollars a month, and even though there have been times when a meal was started with barely food enough for ten persons, God has always provided for them. Miss Stewart is not supported by any church or denomination but by sincere faith in God, knows that

Disease Is Threat To Ewes

Lafayette, Ind.— An ailment called pregnancy disease (ketosis) is expected to kill hundreds of ewes during the coming lambing season as it has done in past years. F. A. Hall, Purdue University extension veterinarian has reported.

Pregnancy disease, also known as lambing paralysis, kills almost 100 percent of ewes affected. And usually the most valuable one—those carrying twins or triplets—are attacked. Animals 3 to six years old and in the last month of pregnancy are most often the victims of the disease.

Prevention is the best protection against pregnancy disease, Hall says. Ewes fed a good ration during the strain of pregnancy and which show a gradual increase in body weight will have less trouble with the disease.

"It's dangerous to change the quality or quantity of feed from day to day," Hall stresses. The farmer who substitutes good hay with a poorer quality forage may lose some ewes. The same is true for a farmer who feeds less grain one day than the next or fails to feed his flock on a day of bad weather.

Hall believes the safest bet is to follow a good feeding program all the way through pregnancy. A good quality legume hay, and either good pasture or one-third to one pound of grain per day during the last 60 days before lambing, is recommended.

A ewe stricken with pregnancy disease may show the first symptom by lagging behind the rest of the flock. She may stagger, act blind, grind her teeth, breathe rapidly, and appear highly nervous. Treatment is not too successful, and in most cases, the ewe will die in a coma from one to 10 days.

Windbreaks Up Farm's Value

Lafayette, Ind.—High fuel bills caused by cold winter winds around Indiana farmsteads can be reduced by tree windbreaks, report two Purdue University specialists, H. W. Gilbert, extension landscape architect, and Ed Lott, extension forester.

In addition, a windbreak furnishes an attractive background for the farm home and other buildings. Many owners have declared that their farms are worth at least $1,000 more as a result of windbreak plantings, according to Gilbert and Lott.

"Why wait to get a windbreak started?" the Purdue extension specialists ask. March and April are ideal months to plant the trees. However, trees must be ordered from nurseries several weeks in advance to insure delivery. Fall planting is not recommended since winter injury and "heaving" cause many failures.

Threes should be planted north and west of the buildings to stop the prevailing westerly winds. For best protection the windbreak should be placed from 100 to 150 feet from the center of the building group. At least three rows of trees are needed for a good windbreak.

White, red or jack pines are best windbreak trees. For landscaping effects, a group mixture give a variation in color and form, Gilbert and Lott revealed. Additional information on the preparation of windbreak can be obtained from the county extension agent. A free copy of extension leaflet 294, "Ten Pointers on Tree Windbreaks," can also be obtained from the office of agricultural publications at Purdue University.

Indiana Medical Group Financially Supporting Search for Scientists

Is there a young scientist in your home?

This question is being raised today throughout the country as relentless search begins for promising young scientists who might be encouraged to play an important role in the future of this nation. America faces a problem, reports are coming in that Russia is training more scientists than America. Industry is having a hard time finding sufficient scientists to keep American industry a leader in development. Agriculture needs scientists to search for new ways to raise more crops on less land, and to find new uses for farm products.

Medicine a rapidly advancing science, needs more and more youth to concern themselves with the science of medicine, research into the cause and cure of various diseases.

There is no question about it, we are living in a scientific age which promises to bring an entirely new design in our living within the next few years.

Science teachers in all the nation's high schools are being asked to help search out this prospective talent. Students are being asked to develop scientific research exhibits for local competition. Winners will be shown at one of the eight regional fairs which will be held at Indiana State Teachers College, Terre Haute, March 31; Evansville College, April 7; Indiana University, Bloomington, and Purdue University, Lafayette, April 14; Valparaiso University, April 20-21; Ball State Teachers College, Muncie, April 21; and Purdue University Center, Fort Wayne and Butler University, Indianapolis, April 28.

Two winners from each of the regional fairs will be flown to the National Science Fair which is to be held in Oklahoma City May 10-12 through the courtesy of the Indiana State Medical Association.

Indiana had six finalists in the 1955 National Science Fair. The finalists came from the Fort Wayne regional fair, an exhibit on "Fifth Dimensional Analogue of a Binomial Cube;" a student from Delphi, Indiana with an exhibit on Bird Feathers; A student from Terre Haute with a working model of a Hydraulic Press; A student from Valparaiso with a device which made paper from peanut shells; A girl from Indianapolis with an exhibit showing the development of a chicken using a homemade incubator, and a boy from Hagerstown with an exhibit showing his "Study of Insects and their Life Cycle."

Talma School News

The Talma High School teams played Tippecanoe on the home floor Monday evening. This was the last home game of the season. The "B" team won by a score of — to —.

The "A" team also won by a score of 61 to 53. The next game will be at Kewanna on February 14. The Sectional Tourney will follow that later in the month of February. Talma will be in the Plymouth Sectional.

At the last home game of the season there were present 73 students out of a possible 85 in the upper six grades. This is indeed a very good record of the fans that are backing the Talma Tigers.

The class attendance was as follows: Seventh: 7 out of 13;

Eighth: 13 out of 18; Freshmen: 16 out of 16; Sophomores: 13 out of 14; Juniors: 15 out of 15; and Seniors: 9 out of 9.

The Junior Class has some Salt Water Taffy to sell and if you would like some please let any Junior at Talma know. Also the Junior class is busy reading over possible plays as they will be giving their play sometime in April.

He will provide. If one were to seek spiritual inspiration, this would surely be the place to get it.

Cuba is a place of extreme poverty and extreme riches. A Cadillac and a horse cart pass each other without notice. The government is building many fine highways, new housing projects, and the commercial buildings are of the latest design. Pages could be written to give the more delicate details of conditions and peoples, and I can assure you that standing for a moment and seeing men and women go from place to place begging makes one thankful of the blessings we enjoy at home.

The return trip was up the west coast, west into the upper portion of Florida to Panama City and then north through Alabama, Kentucky and home.

Somewhere in the future, if the stars so permit, I want to spend much more time in Cuba, traveling into the interior.

Our 35-mm. camera was busy along the way and we have over 300 pictures, in color, taken along the way. They include many underwater shots taken at Rainbow and Silver Springs, where the fishes and turtles seemed to hang motionless on nothing, the water being so clear. Many pictures were taken of the wild birds along the Tamiami Trail.

Clintonland oats were the major oat variety certified in Indiana in 1955, according to Purdue University agronomists. Over 14,000 acres of registered-certified seed was produced with an average yield of 71 bushels per acre. Hoosier farmers should take advantage of the excellent supply to buy the new improved variety for seeding this spring. All growers of Clintonland oats are listed in the Indiana certified seed directory.

IT ENABLES EVERY CITIZEN TO SAVE ON A SAFE AND SYSTEMATIC BASIS AND THEREBY TO CONTRIBUTE TO THE ECONOMIC STABILITY OF THE COMMUNITY AND THE NATION."

IN THE MERCURY'S OPINION

By Russell Maguire

Our nation has lost its way because you and I have failed to fulfill our sacred duties as trustees and custodians of a great Christian heritage. We have tolerated much crime and wrongdoing. We have ignored numerous acts of treason. We have let ourselves rot and fall apart on the basic eternal truths. Now is the time to remake ourselves spiritually, morally and physically.

Let us listen to God's plan for America. From this day forward let us sincerely work for meeting the deepest needs of our people. We need a better way of life.

Listening to ourselves has failed. We have become warped and ruled by sinister men.

William Penn said: "Men must be governed by God or they will be ruled by tyrants!" Edmund Burke said: "All that is necessary for the triumph of evil is that good men will do nothing." We have proved this point.

Let's clear the record of our betrayal at Yalta, Tehran and Geneva. Let us never again have to apologize to the Poles for hiding the facts on the Katyn Forest Massacre; to Korea for permitting ourselves to be part of their betrayal; to Chiang Kai-shek for putting a knife in his back; to those who have heartlessly forgotten in countries behind the godless Iron Curtain; from our own troops and citizens whom we neglected and still neglect in the dark prisons of the Soviet and their "captive nations."

At the same time let us clean house here at home. We want no Fifth Amendment citizens. They are a disgrace to our country.

By this time surely we also know that the United Nations is a swamp and death-trap. Let's rid ourselves of this outfit and the spies they brought into our country to destroy us and our institutions.

Our many sinful compromises with godless Russia write the darkest pages in our nation's history. We should break off diplomatic relations with Russia and electrify with hope the people behind the Iron Curtain. The Russian gangsters won't have time to stir up international troubles—they will be too busy trying to put out the fires in their own country.

Our world is in the throes of a titanic struggle for the wills and hearts of men. Let us stop being difficult and part of the problem. Let us become part of the cure. Who is right is not important. What is right is all important.

Let us try a renaissance directed by God who made us all and the world in which we live. Let's put beauty and integrity back into our nation and the world. It starts with you and me.

God tells us: "I am the Way, the Truth, and the Life."

—From the American Mercury, November, 1955.

New Poultry Bulletin available

Lafayette, Ind.—Hoosier poultrymen interested in maximum profits from their laying flocks will be interested in Purdue University extension bulletin 275, "Care and Management of Layers." Breeding, feeding, housing, and management are covered in the newly revised booklet.

Purdue extension poultry specialists, J. W. Sicer and R. L. Hogue, are co-authors of the bulletin which deals with most of the problems faced by poultrymen in the layer business.

Sicer and Hogue have listed the advantages and disadvantages of complete and partial confinement as well as tips for housing pullets, laying mash formulas and methods of feeding. Some of their findings on the newer caged layer system now gaining a foothold in Indiana are also included.

According to the Purdue specialists, the poultryman can get the most eggs by culling constantly and providing plenty of floor and feeder space. Lights in the laying house, 'noon lunches' for the hens, and green succulence are also discussed.

A copy of the publication can be secured from the local extension agent or by writing to the agricultural publications office, Purdue University, Lafayette.

The Chicago Motor Club says the oddest arrest of the week was that of a Maryland school bus driver who was charged with passing another school bus which was unloading children.

Filling station owner William Schultz of Rock Springs, Wis., thought something looked familiar about a car he serviced. Little did he know it was his own, stolen from in front of his house a few minutes before.

Selecting Good Fence Posts

Lafayette, Ind.—It's hard to believe but a good wooden fence post will outlast an ordinary steel one. That's the reminder Ed Lott, extension forester at Purdue University, gives farmers and homeowners who plan to build new fences this spring.

Lott says a durable post, properly treated, will last 15 years or more. But the lasting quality of a wooden fence post depends on a number of factors. The size of the post, the percentage of heartwood, the rate of growth, the kind of wood, and soundness of wood structure all affect the life of the post.

The most durable native post timbers in order of their relative durability are: hedge (Osage orange), black locust, red cedar, mulberry, northern white cedar, catalpa, and white oak.

Other things being equal, a large post will last longer than a small one, Lott says. Trees which are cut when only large enough to make a couple of small line posts usually contain only a small percentage of durable heartwood.

A slow-grown post which is indicated by narrow annual rings will usually last longer than a fast-grown post (wide annual rings). And a post containing sound wood will last longer than one which is just slightly decayed.

Posts of non-durable woods, such as the red and black oaks and the hickories, should be given preservative treatment after being peeled and thoroughly seasoned. Preservative treatment should also be given the red cedar and northern white cedar posts which have a low percentage of heartwood.

Additional information can be found in Purdue extension bulletin 283, "How to select Wooden Fence Posts," and extension leaflet 300, "Preserve Your Posts With Penta." These publications can be obtained at the county extension office or by writing to the office of agricultural publications at Purdue University.

While poultrymen should be on guard against sudden drops in temperature, it is rarely advisable to close all laying house openings. Purdue University poultry specialists say that ventilation is as necessary at zero as at milder thermometer readings. The effect of a sudden change on the birds can be minimized if the poultryman will adjust the ventilation promptly as soon as the change in weather becomes evident.

Selecting Good Fence Posts

Lafayette, Ind.—It's hard to believe but a good wooden fence post will outlast an ordinary steel one. That's the reminder Ed Lott, extension forester at Purdue University, gives farmers and homeowners who plan to build new fences this spring.

Lott says a durable post, properly treated, will last 15 years or more. But the lasting quality of a wooden fence post depends on a number of factors. The size of the post, the percentage of heartwood, the rate of growth, the kind of wood, and soundness mulberry, northern white cedar, catalpa, and white oak.

Other things being equal, a large post will last longer than a small one, Lott says. Trees which are cut when only large enough to make a couple of small line posts usually contain only a small percentage of durable heartwood.

A slow-grown post which is indicated by narrow annual rings will usually last longer than a fast-grown post (wide annual rings). And a post containing sound wood will last longer than one which is just slightly decayed.

Posts of non-durable woods, such as the red and black oaks and the hickories, should be given preservative treatment after being peeled and thoroughly seasoned. Preservative treatment should also be given the red cedar and northern white cedar posts which have a low percentage of heartwood.

Additional information can be found in Purdue extension bulletin 283, "How to select Wooden Fence Posts," and extension leaflet 300, "Preserve Your Posts With Penta." These publications can be obtained at the county extension office or by writing to the office of agricultural publications at Purdue University.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. McGowen have returned from a vacation in the south. While away from home they visited friends in Florida and Alabama.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Miller and daughter were Friday evening callers of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Miller.

Mr. and Mrs. Myron Kessler of Columbia City, visited at the home of Mrs. Maggie Dille, his mother, Pearl and aunt, Millie Clark, Tuesday afternoon.

Poultrymen at Purdue University warn farmers not to cull their pullet flocks too closely during the winter if the birds are from a strain bred for high egg production. "If egg production slumps, try to find and correct any faults in management or feeding rather than sacrifice a pullet that probably cost $1.50 to $1.75 to raise and may have a meat value of less than $1.00," they advise. With a well bred pullet, a winter pause in egg laying will probably be for only a short time.

County Health Dept. Activities

The following information has been supplied by the County Health Department regarding the activities of the organization.

In 1954 there were 816 babies born in Kosciusko County parents, of these 543, were born in the McDonald Hospital and Murphy Medical Center. There were seven Kosciusko County babies born outside of Indiana. There were 20 babies born in places other than a hospital.

Two hundred seventy three Kosciusko County babies were born in hospitals in Indiana outside of the county.

The health department is starting a program new to Kosciusko County. When a baby becomes three months old each mother will receive a letter reminding her to take her baby to their family physician for regular checkups, if she has not already done so, and to talk to their family physician about starting immunizations for the whooping cough, diphtheria, tetanus (lock jaw) and smallpox. Dr. Johnson points out these dreaded diseases may be prevented by immunizations.

Whooping cough generally regarded as one of the common childhood diseases, but it is a dangerous disease when it occurs in a young infant.

On Tuesday and Wednesday of this week Dr. Johnson accompanied Wm. Briscoe, sanitarian, when Mr. Briscoe collected milk samples for bacteria counts from various dairy farms throughout the county. It is the responsibility of the dairy producer and the dairy plant to produce a milk of high quality. Dr. Johnson and Mr. Briscoe point out pasteurization helps assure the safety of milk, but the quality of the milk is determined by the producer, the cow and the pasteurization plant. Mr. Briscoe took the milk samples to a state approved laboratory at Elkhart, Wednesday afternoon.

Controls For Cattle Grubs

Lafayette, Ind.—"It's time to start treatment against cattle grubs when lumps begin to appear on the backs of both dairy and beef animals, F. A. Hall, Purdue University extension veterinarian, reminds Hoosier farmers.

Proper treatment to eradicate the grubs while on the backs of cattle will not only save money in meat and milk but will also reduce or eliminate the chances of propagating the pest for the future.

Hall says derris powder containing rotenone is the best treatment to kill cattle grubs. The treatments are designed to kill the grubs while the parasites are in the backs of cattle. Rotenone is most often used as a 1½ percent powder although spray and wash formulations are also available.

The dust solution must be worked into the animal's hair with a stiff brush in order that some of the application will get into the air holes which the grubs have cut through the skin. There is no need to treat any part of the animal except where the grubs are located, Hall says. The first application should be made about 30 days after the first lumps appear. If other lumps show up later, additional treatments are recommended.

If only a few animals are infested, dusting may be the easiest method. However, in larger herds or feeder cattle, the solution is best applied with a powder sprayer.

Appearance of lumps on cattle the first three months of the year means the grubs are nearing the end of a long life cycle which began last spring when the cattle were fighting heel flies. Adult heel flies develop from grubs which dropped from backs of cattle. Each heel fly on the average, laid between 400 and 500 eggs which hatch in three or four days. The parasites then penetrated the skin and lived throughout the animal's body for the next eight months. The cycle will be complete when the grubs show up on cattle during the next two months.

Hall says infested feeder cattle do not make gains equal to grub free cattle. He also estimates that the grub fly reduces milk flow of dairy cows from 10 to 25 percent in the spring when heel flies are active.

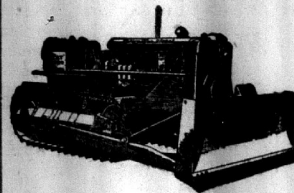

Safety experts say it takes three to 12 times as far to stop on ice and snow as on a dry pavement. Follow the vehicle ahead of you at a safe distance.

Time To Plan Irrigation System

Lafayette, Ind.—A little time spent in planning an irrigation system this winter may help to counteract a severe drought next summer. That's the advice from Purdue University extension specialists who have compiled a new publication, "A Guide for Designing Sprinkler Irrigation Systems in Indiana."

Purdue agronomists, who helped prepare the mimeograph, report that even in Indiana where the climate is humid and annual rainfall averages 40 inches a year, drought periods of 11 days and longer can be expected each summer.

Basic information necessary to design a sprinkler system which will be satisfactory under conditions existing in Indiana is covered in the publication.

Water supplies, such as wells, pits, streams, lakes, and ponds are discussed. Good farm management practices including drainage, soil fertility, and plant population are other topics. Tables are provided to help design irrigation systems which will provide different crops and different soils with the proper amounts of moisture.

"A Guide for Designing Sprinkler Irrigation Systems in Indiana," (Mimeo ID-6), can be obtained from the county extension agent or by writing to the office of agricultural publications, Purdue University, Lafayette.

D. A. R. Meets

The Anthony Nigo Chapter of American Revolution held their January meeting at Peterson's Lunch. The hostesses were Mrs. Hazel Linn and Mrs. Edna Carey.

The meeting was called to order by our regent, Mrs. Annabelle Rathfon. The ritualistic opening and the pledge of allegiance were given.

A short business meeting was conducted. The President General's message was read by Mrs. Lena Igo. Mrs. Bernice Rush was elected as delegate and Mrs. Emma Gill as alternate to the 65th Continental Congress to be held in Washington, D. C., April 13-19 by the chapter.

For our program Mrs. Mary Manwaring gave a very interesting article on the History of William Tyler Page who was the Author of American Creed. She also had a True and False contest on Abraham Lincoln and George Washington. Then a Scramble word contest on Benjamin Franklin.

During the social hour we had our auction after which the hostess served dainty refreshments.

The chapter adjourned to meet with Madaline Bybee February 28.

Purdue University extension bulletin 267, "Better Grapes for Indiana Gardens and Vineyards" can be obtained from the local county agent's office. Methods to control pests, varieties adapted to local conditions, and cultural practices are recommended.

Will It Pay To Irrigate

Does it pay to irrigate? According to D. Woods Thomas, Purdue University agricultural economist, that's a question that can only be answered by an individual farm operator.

Thomas says the profitability of irrigation on a given farm depends on the relationship between costs of irrigation, additional returns from irrigation, and costs of assuming weather risk or overcoming it in other ways. The farm manager will be wise to compare irrigation costs and additional returns expected in order to determine the economic feasibility of irrigation.

Additional returns attributable to irrigation depend on the value of the crop, response of the crop to additional moisture, frequency of occurrence and degree of soil moisture deficiencies, and level of application of other inputs such as fertilizer and plant population.

Irrigation serves four functions—as crop insurance, to decrease yield and income variability, to increase level of crop output, and to improve the combination of productive services.

A farmer who is considering the adoption of irrigation should compare the probable returns from his capital, labor and management with the returns these factors would yield in alternative uses. If irrigation is the most remunerative use of these resources, the practice should be adopted. But if probable returns to these investments are greater in other alternatives, the capital, labor and management should be diverted to these uses rather than for irrigation.

Your car should be properly lubricated after each 1,000 miles of service. The Chicago Motor Club reminds you that this is especially important in winter when snow and slush tend to have a deteriorating effect on the chassis. Proper lubrication will insure long life for your car.

Earlier Garden From Hotbeds

A hotbed prepared this winter may help the Hoosier gardener get earlier yields of vegetables next summer.

W. B. Ward, Purdue University extension horticulturist, says the payoff from a hotbed will come early in the marketing season when gardeners can take advantage of better prices.

Details on how to build, where to locate and how to ventilate a hotbed are included in Purdue extension bulletin 270, "Hotbed Construction and Management."

According to Ward, author of the bulletin, a bed should be protected from cold winds and placed in a well-drained spot near a good water supply and source of power. In the publication he answers gardeners' questions on construction of pit and surface hotbeds as well as those that are electrically heated, flue heated, or heated by steam and hot water.

Ward writes that the plants should be started in the hotbed about 30 days before transplanting time. Types and amounts of seeding are also included in "Hotbed Construction and Management." A free copy can be obtained from the local county agent or by writing to the office of agricultural publications, Purdue University, Lafayette.

P. T. A. Meets

Mrs. Harold Markley led the members of the P. T. A. in the Pledge to the flag to open the regular meeting on February 8th at the school gym.

For devotions Rev. Leslie Grant read from 2 Thess. 2:13-16, then gave us thoughts on the freedom and privileges we have.

After the usual reading of the minutes and treasurer's report, the minstrel show committee urged all men who could sing please contact Mrs. Maude Romine. The proceeds from the minstrel this year will be used to buy additional play ground equipment for the school. At the next meeting officers will be elected. The 11th grade received the grade count award.

Parents with children going to school their first year are urged to contact the summer round-up chairman, Mrs. Denton Abbey.

Program chairman, Mrs. Dan Urschel then introduced Dale Whitehead, music director, who presented a fine program from the music department. "Bless This House" Vocal Ensemble, Leah Nell Lemler, Betty Griffiths, Donna Eaton, Beverly Tinkey, Junue Romine, Janet Romine, Sarah Urschel, and Ann Nelson. "Lullaby," a clarinet solo, by Janet Beeson; Flute solo, "Poeme Petite" by Sandra Miller; Cornet duet, "Two Little Stars" by Ann Nelson and Sue Borton; Clarinet Solo, "Solo Semplice," by Madonna Nellans; Trombone Solo, "Day Dream Waltz," by David Frederick; Clarinet Quartet, "Snowflakes," by Joyce Eller, Janet Romine, Beverly Tinkey, and Donna Eaton; Clarinet Solo, "Sentimental Lady," by Tana Henderson; Clarinet solo, "Aria Cantando" by Martha Nelson; and a vocal solo, "Beside Still Waters" by Donna Eaton.

These students did a splendid job which was proven by the ratings received at the district contest at Culver.

A founders message was given by Mrs. Urschel, this being the month parent and teachers pay tribute to Alice McLellan Briney and Phoebe Apperson Hearst, who founded the P. T. A. on February 17, 1897. Their objects, to promote the welfare of children and youth in home, school, church and community. To raise the standards of home life. To secure adequate laws for the care and protection of children and youth. To bring into closer relation the home and the school that parents and teachers may cooperate intelligently in the training of the child. To develop between educators and the general public such united efforts as will secure for every child the highest advantages in physical, mental, social, and spiritual education.

The meeting adjourned and met in the cafeteria for refreshments by the committee, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Bowser, Mr. and Mrs. William Rathburn, Mr. and Mrs. Zanna Hammer, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Shaw, Mr. and Mrs. Miles Manwaring, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Smythe, Mr. and Mrs. Rex Yazel, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Tombaugh.

Purdue University horticulturists say that birds are friends of the gardener. Birds will remain during the winter if the bird feeder is kept filled. A few pulverized egg shells mixed with the bird food will supply grit.

MEN AND MONEY

Babson On Budgeting and Investing

Babson Park, Mass., Jan. 26. Most people seem content to live from day to day irrespective of their pocketbooks. Governmental "womb-to-tomb" social security has caused people to take lightly problems of unemployment and old-age security. Most young people give little or no sound thought to their financial futures. They, therefore, never get even the few dollars necessary to get themselves started on the road to successful investment. Surely, the birds who build their nests (homes) before they raise their young set us a good example.

Men and Money

My father used to tell me that a man who systematically spends less than he gets, automatically becomes an employer; while a man who spends all he earns, automatically remains a wage earner. Father insisted that the business of saving had nothing to do with how much money a person had, or the amount of his salary. "Some people with very large incomes never save anything," he used to say.

It has been my own observation that partners in business and partners in marriage tend to get along well as long as there is plenty of cash in the bank. It is when the bills come in, and there is no money with which to pay them, that trouble begins. The only way to assure financial or marriage success is to tell your dollar where to go instead of asking where it went.

Main Investment Problem: Saving

Your first step in an investment program is to save some of your income each week. The next step is to make your savings produce some more income. I am a firm believer, however, that it is cheaper to pay the grocer than the doctor; hence a budget should be drawn up which puts first things really first. Many of my clients tell me that they are handicapped by spending too much on rent, or its equivalent in taxes, repairs, insurance, etc., on property they own. The best thing that could happen in many households today would be to cut down household labor costs by getting the children to help more with household chores.

To start a budget, one ought to determine from experience and from old bank statements and cancelled checks what his probable expenses will be for the year ahead. My observations through the years are that a man with a family of four who has a net income of $4,000 (after income and social security taxes) ought to hold his living expenses to about 75 percent of the $4,000. About 42 percent of this would go for food and clothing; 33 percent for housing and transportation. Right here I think many families, especially in the lower-income brackets, will find that they are paying altogether too much for their transportation in the form of a new automobile which they cannot afford. If they want to get started on a sound investment program, they better pay more cash, and use less credit. 6 percent is budgeted for benevolence and the church; 6 percent for personal and miscellaneous items. This leaves about 13 percent, or $545, for insurance, savings accounts, and investments. Let us hope that $220 of this will go for life insurance premiums. This would leave $325 a year to save and invest otherwise.

Plan For Saving and Investing

A study of the average man's financial independence is generally shocking to most people. About 30 percent of the men 55 years of age are not self-supporting. The real tragedy of this situation, as I have seen it, is that the average man made enough money between the ages of thirty and fifty to keep himself and his family in comparative ease for the rest of his life. He just never got around to a definite plan of saving and investing. Does it not seem senseless for you to work hard the best part of your life to get a few dollars if those dollars earn nothing for you after you get them? It is highly important to learn early in life how to budget, save and invest.

Import capital is created only by labor and saving; those who consume less than they produce turn their surplus back into productive channels to increase the nation's store. Investments, plus bank deposits, are the way in which capital is increased. Increased capital means increased production. Greater production means more wealth. More wealth means more to be distributed among those who take part in production. Greater production means more consumable goods and services at lower prices for all of us. This is the democratic way of raising our standard of living.

Mentone Home Dem. Club Meets

The Mentone Home Demonstration Club met Thursday p. m. February 9, at the home of Mrs. Raymond Weirick. The meeting opened with the club prayer song. The pledges to the flag and the club creed. Mrs. Elmer Sarber gave the meditation by reading several short poems.

The history of the song of the month was given by Blanche Paulus. The group then sang the song, "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot." Health and Safety remarks were given by Mrs. Bertha Meredith. The lesson on Civil Defense was given by Mrs. Lyndall Vernette. 18 members answered roll call with "A bad Habit I Should Break."

The president, Grace Sullivan, took care of the old and new business of the meeting. The meeting closed with the Club Collect.

The March meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. John Laird.

Move To Florida

Every month, 2,000 people move into Florida to become permanent residents. A survey made in Detroit shows that three people out of four would move to Florida if they could earn a living there. Are there jobs in Florida? What about housing? The state does offer opportunities, according to the editors of Changing Times, The Kiplinger Magazine, but handouts don't grow on bushes and you can't sleep out every night.

Living costs in Florida are about the same as they are anywhere else. You may get a little better life for your money, the magazine reports, but you have to have an income just the same. Food, housing and clothing expenses are lower than the national average. Houses have no furnaces, are cheaper to build in Florida.

The call of the warm climate, the fishing, the easy way of life may have caused many a family to assume that someone in that state needed their talents and was anxious to hire them for good pay. This is an easy error to make.

Dairy Cows Make Corn Worth $3.19

Most dairymen would consider a market price of $3.19 per bushel an excent price to receive for even a small portion of their yearly corn crop.

G. A. Williams, extension dairyman at Purdue University, says that 31 dairymen in Wells County last year got returns of at least that much for the corn they fed their highest producing cows.

For each pound of grain fed, the highest producing cows on test returned an average of 5.2 pounds of milk and the lowest producers only 3.9 pounds of milk, a 1.3 pound difference. Assuming that the average yearly price of milk per hundred-weight is $3.50, each bushel of corn fed to the high producing cow returned $3.19 more than the bushel fed to the lowest producing cow.

This figure could have been even higher, if several of the low producers had been disposed of and one of two more high producers had been added to the herd.

"Low-producing cows are a liability to Hoosier dairy herds," says Williams. "They make a poor market for farm grains, and add to the present stock of dairy products while placing but little net profit in the dairyman's pocketbook."

Methodist Church News

February 15th is the first day of Lent, called "Ash Wednesday" throughout Christendom. It ushers in the 40-day period preceding Easter, or the Resurrection Day of the Christ. The Sunday preceding "Ash Wednesday" to the Sunday following has become known throughout Methodism as "The Week of Dedication." On this first Sunday of Lent, Methodists are asked to place upon the altar a sacrificial offering in support of certain specific projects which do not receive support through the regular benevolence channels of the church. One of these projects is the establishing of International goodwill and understanding through the support of foreign students through scholarships.

The sermon-subject to be used by the pastor for this first Sunday of Lent will be: "The Two Laws." The choir will sing: "Cross the Threshold, Lord," by Landon. The men's Bible class still continues to average 35 in attendance, while the average attendance of the entire Sunday school has doubled since the second Sunday of January.

At least two special events are to be observed in the near future. The first of these will be the dedication of the new pulpit furniture during the service of Divine Worship Sunday morning, Feb. 26th, and the second will be the presentation of an Easter Cantata during Holy Week.

Eliminate Chore Time Hazard

Dick Willsey, Purdue University farm safety specialist, advises Hoosier farmers to take time out to make an inventory of chore time hazards.

Willsey believes that by correcting chore hazards before the seasonal crop rush, the farmer will less likely be laid up with injuries when there's work to be done next spring.

As a starter, the safety specialist lists five areas where hazards can be eliminated as follows:

Poor visibility. If there are poorly lighted spots in chore travel paths a light fixture or window should be installed. If something is obstructing the view it should be removed or a new route started.

Dangerous ladders or steps. Willsey asks, "Why waste time or risk your neck avoiding broken ladder rungs when a few minutes spent making repairs can make chore time safer?"

Lack of gates or doors. "Don't step over managers, high sills or fences while feeding the stock," Willsey cautions. "Doors and gates are cheaper than hospital bills."

Slick floors, steps and paths. Ice, snow, and mud can polish a path for a bone-jolting fall. Salt and sand will help remove ice and snow while gravel and proper drainage will take care of most of the mud.

Weak boards. Best advice is to replace them. "There's no point in ramming a foot through the haymow floor—it's hard on the shins," Willsey adds.

Poultry specialists at Purdue University report that a hen needs nearly a pint of water to produce one egg. That's why egg production can easily take a slump if the layers find a solid covering of ice instead of water in the fountains or troughs. An investment in one of the various types of heaters will soon pay its way in more eggs and less labor.

RURAL YOUTH LEADERS, attending a special course at Federal Civil Defense Administration headquarters at Battle Creek, Mich., are briefed by a staff college instructor on the operation of the "bell and light" system of FCDA's nationwide attack warning system. A single twirl of a telephone dial, under this system, can send instant warning of attack danger to vital county control centers throughout the nation, such as sheriff's offices and fire stations. Shown here are (l. to r.) ## Iron and Copper Help To Prevent Anemia In Pigs Iron and copper are minerals needed by baby pigs, Dick Hollandbeck, Purdue University extension swine specialist, reminds Hoosier farmers.

Nutritional anemia appears in pigs which do not have access to the mineral. Hollandbeck says the natural and most effective source of copper and iron is from the soil.

A few shovels of bluegrass sod or dirt should be placed in the pen during the time the pigs are confined. The soil should be taken from clean ground not used the previous year for hog pasture.

"If the weather permits, it is best to get the pigs on clean pasture within a week after birth.

"But", Hollandbeck cautions, "frozen ground is no more effective than concrete in the prevention of anemia. You can't expect baby pigs to get minerals from this frozen sod," he adds.

Iron and copper compounds will also help to prevent anemia but dosages must not be too large. These materials can be poisonous beyond a pig's fixed requirement.

Pigs are unable to build up a reserve of iron and copper and must have their requirements on a day to day basis from the time they are three to four days old. It has been proved that pigs kept on sow's milk for several weeks, without the benefit of sod or compounds, rapidly develop anemia.

Symptoms of anemia are a rough coat, scours, yellow skin, listlessness, and a scabbiness under the eyes. While a pig may live through early stages of anemia, it will be hampered the rest of its life.

Many Dairy Cows Are Liabilities

Ten to 20 percent of cows milked on some Indiana dairy farms constitute a definite liability to their owners, reports G. A. Williams, Purdue University extension dairyman.

Williams uses one herd of 15 cows which was on test a full year to illustrate this point. The top five cows in the herd averaged 8451 pounds of milk, consumed feed valued at $116 and left the herd owner $225 per cow above feed cost.

Five cows averaged 7183 lbs. of milk and received $105 worth of feed. However, the income of the five cows over cost of feed was only $176 per cow.

The five poorest cows in the herd were the money losers. Their average production per cow was 4751 pounds but their feed costs was $99, leaving only $93 over feed cost to pay all expenses other than feed. Since feed usually amounts to about the same figure as all other production costs combined, the dairyman paid $6 per cow—or an average rental of $.50 per stall each month for the privilege of feeding, milking, and owning these five animals.

"Cows like these are no money makers and should be eliminated," Williams concludes.

Purdue University veterinarians remind farmers that calves should be vaccinated at four to eight months of age. Such vaccination should provide some protection against brucellosis for two or three years.

Difference In Gas or Diesel Tractors

Lafayette, Ind.—Some interesting conclusions have been reached in a comparison of diesel and gasoline tractors by J. B. Lilledahl, Purdue University agricultural engineer.

Lilledahl reports that a diesel tractor will use less fuel than a gasoline engine mainly because of a higher compression ratio.

Nebraska tractor tests reveal that diesel engines use only about two-thirds as much fuel as gasoline engines. This is also true when the tractors are operated at full load as well as at half load.

From a power consideration, Lilledahl says there is very little difference between diesel and gasoline farm tractors. The diesel tractor has a slight advantage in drawbar pull but the advantage is due mainly to its greater weight.

Tractor manufacturers who make both a gasoline and a diesel engine for one tractor will almost always design the two engines to have about the same horsepower at rated engine speed. Thus, the drawbar and belt the horsepower of a diesel farm tractor is seldom superior to the same tractor with a gasoline engine.

In general, the "lugging ability" of a diesel engine is usually superior to that of a gasoline engine. This means, according to Lilledahl, that the diesel engine will not slow down as much as the gasoline engine under similar loads. This superior "lugging ability" is particularly noticeable and useful when the tractor is pulling a power-take-off operated combine which requires good speed control. Another effect of the better "lugging ability" is that the operator does not have to shift gears as often when operating the tractor at near maximum load.

Lilledahl suggests that farmers give consideration to purchase price, size of tractor, design of tractor and its matching equipment, and location and reliability of dealer as well as performance characteristics before choosing between a diesel and gasoline engine.

FACING THE TEST

His wife had been a notorious back-seat driver and at long last, he was teaching her to drive. She got along famously until it became necessary to make a left turn in heavy traffic.

"What'll I do now?" she demanded.

"Nothing to it," he replied easily. "Just tell me what to do, and then do it yourself."

High Fertility Level Vital To Corn Yields

Average corn yields on Hoosier farms can be increased ten bushels per acre by raising the fertility level of Indiana soils.

Purdue University's agronomy department has estimated that Indiana's average corn yield can be raised to 64 bushels per acre by increasing the average rate of fertilization from the present 274 to 400 pounds per acre. The three year (1953-1955) corn average in Hoosierland stands at 53.7 bushels per acre.

An additional 125 pounds of fertilizer per acre will cost just $4 while the extra 10 bushels of corn it produces will be worth $11.50 at the current market price.

R. E. Stivers, Purdue extension agronomist, says that while these figures are state-wide averages, an individual farmer can increase his corn yields by treating his soil according to its needs. Soil tests will determine the need for lime and plant food. Limestone and fertilizer should then be applied according to recommendations based on soil tests.

A row application of not less than 10 pounds per acre of phosphate fertilizer is recommended for corn even though the soil may test high in available phosphorus. Phosphorus enables the young plant to make an early, rapid growth while its roots system is still small, according to Stivers. Thirty pounds per acre of phosphate is required to regularly produce an 80 bushel yield on soil testing "medium" in available phosphorus. Nitrogen fertilizer applied along with phosphate will increase the uptake of phosphorus. On some Indiana soils, particularly those which are poorly drained, this will result in an increase in yield.

All of the potash fertilizer needed for one rotation can be broadcast and plowed under before corn unless more than two years of hay are grown. This application allows the use of bulk spreading which is usually economical. The amount of potash needed to regularly produce an 80 bushel yield on soil testing "medium" in available potash is 30 pounds per acre.

Nitrogen fertilizer needs for corn are based primarily on the soil and its cropping history. Good stands of legumes such as alfalfa, sweet clover, or red clover may supply all the nitrogen needed for an 80 bushel yield of corn. However, corn following grass sod on light colored soils may require up to 120 pounds per acre of additional nitrogen for an 80 bushel yield.

Stivers cautions in any given year, it is possible that corn yields may not reach 80 bushels per acre even with a high soil fertility level. Available soil moisture, the capabilities of the corn hybrid, corn diseases, insects, weeds, intense heat at pollination time, late planting, inadequate soil aeration, and other factors may limit yields. However, under ideal conditions yields may be far more than 80 bushels per acre.

Farmers are reminded by Purdue University agricultural engineers to see their drainage contractors or earth moving contractors now about work to be done this spring.

Two Factors On Hog Profits

Two factors—the price received and the cost of production—govern whether or not a swine farmer will make a profit in the year ahead.

Dick Hollandbeck, Purdue University extension swine specialist, says that while a farmer is always conscious of the price received for his hogs, he nevertheless has very little control over this factor.

Many farmers tend to overlook the cost of production, even though it is a factor over which the farmer has almost complete control. By increasing efficiency of operation, the cost of production is decreased. Hollandbeck believes that it is through this increased efficiency that profits can be increased even though hog prices may drop.

"The simplest way to cut cost of production is to shift to meat-type hogs," Hollandbeck concludes. Meat-type hogs average eight or more pigs per litter in contrast to the average litter of slightly less than seven pigs. Thus the overhead cost of maintaining the breeding stock per pig raised can be reduced. There is also less feed required per 100 pounds of gain for meat-type swine than for lard-type animals, making meat-type pigs more efficient users of corn.

Smile Pays Off For Some!

A few weeks back I was sitting in front of the television, (my wife's folk's set, can't afford one yet) on a Sunday afternoon and became quite perturbed about a certain advertisement. This certain gentleman was trying to sell me on the idea of sending to California or somewhere for a set of cardboard lip and eyebrow shapes to improve my looks and make me beautiful. I am sure I do need improvement but I wasn't convinced he could help. Mind, I don't say his merchandize is at default but let me describe the ad as I saw it and see if you don't wonder at his credibility.

First he gave us a demonstration on how he, an expert make-up artist can make a woman look 40 years older. Very impressive. He almost did as good a job as a late show and too much coffee could have. Then he goes through a group of women whom he compares before and after using his eyebrow and lip shapes. Indeed there was a vast improvement in their looks. But as I watched I noticed in every case the drab "before" had the sad expression on her face of a Saint Bernard whose keg had been withheld as punishment! But, the "after" was carrying an illuminated expression that could only be explained by a check for the price of a new coat or a surprise birthday party with ten candles missing. Have you ever noticed the improvement of anyone just by smiling and widening the eyes? Who has time to notice the shape of eyebrows and lips when such a transformation takes place?

Smiling in my opinion (please forgive the loose use of this word) is essential to good health and happiness. Did you ever enjoy a funny story by frowning at it? How much brighter the day is when we can face people with said grin and yet not impress others that you are laughing at them.

But, I am asked, what is there to smile about? Well, you may have me there. For if life is so drear and times are so hard that the responsibilities of existing gives you no reason for smiling, what then? My only advice is brush your teeth three times a day so you can show them off because they're so nice and white! This may sound like corn but what else do we raise around here without being told how much?

Salvation Army Names Chairman

At a meeting of The Salvation Army Advisory Board, held in Warsaw last week, E. E. Little of Milford, was elected Chairman of the Board for the ensuing year. A report on the Annual Home Service Appeal throughout Kosciusko County was given by Brigadier Phillipson, Campaign Organizer, showing that a total of $8433.14 was raised. This takes care of operating expenses of the work for the year, and gives $2000.00 to the building fund. Of the above amount, Mrs. Mott O. Bryan, Chairman for Harrison Township raised $322.63 and Raymond Lash, chairman for Franklin Township raised $196.19.

Brigadier Clyde Cox, Divisional Commander, from the Indianapolis Headquarters was present, and announced that on the advice of her physician, Captain Mary E. Kessie, who has had charge of the local work for the past four and a half years, would be farewelling on Sunday, February 18th and going on sick furlough. He will be sending in two young women officers to take her place until the regular June change, when a man and wife will be sent here permanently.

Saddle Club Sets Dates

The Tippecanoe Saddle club met at the Tippecanoe school February 14 with a large number of members present. A sausage and pancake supper preceded the business meeting.

During the business meeting several items of business were taken care of. It was also decided to have a membership contest and Margaret McGowen and Pearl Grey were named captains of the teams. Plans were discussed for the club show date and the following show dates were announced for other clubs: Horse Saddle club, April 29; Buchanan Westerners Saddle club, May 20; and Kosciusko Co. Saddle club May 27.

February 26, was set for the first trail ride of the year. The members are to meet at Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Grey's, Argos, with a carry-in-dinner at noon. The next meeting will be March 13 at Tippecanoe school with a carry-in supper.

W.S.C.S. Meeting

"Be kindly affectioned one to another with brotherly love; in honour preferring one another" Romans 12:10.

"The World's Labour, Worthy of His Hire," was the theme of the February 16th meeting held at the home of Mrs. Dan Urschel.

Mrs. Denton Abbey opened the meeting with a short description of the topic of our lesson to be discussed.

Our President, Mrs. F. B. Davison, presided over the business portion of our meeting which main portion was the nominating of officers for the organization.

Devotions was conducted by Mrs. Harry Kinzie following out the subject of world labor as connected with God's teachings.

Mrs. Bess Manwaring and Mrs. Betty Boggs contributed to the discussion of labor, and introduced a play on taking part in world projects financially, and with our services. Those taking part in the play were: Grace Boggs, Betty Boggs, Martha Ellsworth, M. Persons, Alice Mollenhour, Jeannette Mollenhour, and Ruth Urschel.

An open discussion on labor, strikes, and working conditions in general was conducted while our hostesses, Grace Boggs, B. Long, R. Rush, M. Davis, prepared refreshments.

The girls served coffee, and cherry pie done up to blend with the month's holidays.

Traffic violators in Grand Rapids, Michigan, recently got two tickets for violations, according to the Chicago Motor Club. After getting a ticket from an arresting officer and appearing in court, the violators were given complimentary movie tickets by the judge. The tickets were for a traffic safety film which was being shown at a local theater.

Old Timer Writes

Oklahoma City, 9, Okla.
Mentone Gazette,
Mentone, Ind.,
Gentlemen:

My name is Hesper R. Fish. I left Mentone in 1900 after living in Mentone for 13 years. Went to school there and played on the baseball team and I was just wondering if any of my old schoolmates were still living and around there any more. Some of the names, as I remember them, is: Charlie Lewis, Ben Sell, Frank Manwaring, Allen Dille, Maude Jefferies, Nora Edwards, Minnie Storms, Mabel Dodridge, Minnie Blue, Isaac Sarber, Walter and Nathan Martin, and of course, others I just don't call to mind just at this time.

If there are any of the old timers around there, of course, they will remember me; also my father, W. L. Fish, who taught school there for several years.

Of course, as we all grow older we think of our past days and buddies in school and play, and I would like very much to learn if any of the above, or others, are around there. If so, if you will please give me the names and addresses of some of them.

Thanking you in advance for the information, I enclose a self-addressed envelope.

Yours,

H. R. FISH.

(Editor's Note: If any of our readers remember Mr. Fish, he will appreciate word from you.)

Warning To Borrowers

Be wary if the mortgage company tells you that you must buy insurance on your house from the company's insurance branch. You don't have to. The mortgage company can require you to carry insurance, but you are free to get it from an insurance company of your own choosing. Reason for the warning is that complaints against tie-in practices are on the increase. —Changing Times.

Baptist Church News

First Baptist Church has set apart the month of March as "Loyalty Month." During the month we will hold a "Loyalty Contest" between the departments of our Sunday School. A beautiful prize will be awarded to the department which has the highest percentage of increase in attendance during the month of March over their average for the months of January and February. All of our members are encouraged to show their loyalty to their department, Sunday School, and to Christ, by attending every Sunday; by encouraging others to attend every Sunday; and by bringing a new member every Sunday.

Saturday evening, March 3rd, First Baptist will be host to an area-wide Youth Rally. Youth groups from about 15 Baptist Churches in Northern Indiana are expected to attend and participate in the rally. A prominent feature of the rally will be a Bible Quiz between a panel from the Baptist Church of Winona Lake, and a panel from the youth of our church. Rev. Kenneth Marken, Youth Director of First Baptist, is in charge of program arrangements.

Pastor Olson's message Sunday evening, February 26th will be on "The Great Tribulation." This is the third in a series of five messages on the judgements of God.

It may be wise for farmers who have storage space to buy fertilizer as soon as possible, Purdue University agronomists warn. Fertilizer companies can make only the amount for which they have storage space and cannot increase production with the spring rush since they are already on a 24-hour basis.

HELP EISENHOWER

pass the new farm program

You will benefit this year if Congress acts before spring planting time

"Although agriculture is our basic industry, farm families find their prices and incomes depressed amid the nation's greatest prosperity."

"... An oversupply of commodities drives down prices as mounting costs force up from below, generating a severe price-cost squeeze."

"... Remedies are needed now, and it is up to the administration and the Congress to provide them swiftly. As we seek to go forward, we must not go back to old programs that have failed utterly to protect farm families."

"... I recommend, therefore, the following nine-point program. I urge the Congress to pass this program with maximum speed, for delay can only aggravate and multiply the difficulties already sorely harassing millions of our rural people."

Dwight D. Eisenhower

From the President's special farm message to Congress.

The Eisenhower-Republican 9-Point Farm Program

- A VOLUNTARY, 2-POINT SOIL BANK to take 40 to 45 million acres out of production of your problem crops, get rid of the surplus, raise prices.
An Acreage Reserve which uses the surplus to reduce the surplus.
A Conservation Reserve to prevent future surpluses and to build back soil for future needs.
- LAWS TO PERMIT FASTER SURPLUS DISPOSAL especially in foreign markets. Selling, not storage, is the answer.
- STRENGTHEN COMMODITY PROGRAMS on wheat, corn, dairy products, soybeans, cotton and rice. Ease production controls wherever possible.
- PROTECT FAMILY-TYPE FARMS by limiting the size of price support loans made to large corporate-type farms.
- EXPAND RURAL DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM to help low-income farm families live better, earn more.
- PUSH FORWARD THE GREAT PLAINS PROGRAM to stabilize income in drought-stricken areas, and to prevent another dust bowl.
- INCREASE FARM RESEARCH APPROPRIATION to find new uses and new markets for farm crops, lower production costs and increase farm profits.
- ASSURE ADEQUATE CREDIT TO FARMERS to meet capital needs of present farmers, help young farmers get started, tide farmers over emergencies.
- REFUND GASOLINE TAX TO FARMERS on motor fuel used in farming operations.

Answers to some of your questions

Q: Why will it work?
A: Because this is a program for farmers by farmers. We asked for, and got, sound advice from hundreds of farm leaders and thousands of farmers everywhere. This program gets at the root of the problem on a practical, non-political basis. It contains no double-talk or bureaucratic theories. It is the most business-like, down-to-earth approach to the business of farming and marketing of farm products this country has ever had.

Q: Why is it a more practical program than others that have been offered?

A: Because it is especially tailored to today's peacetime conditions. It hits right at the problem of price-depressing surpluses built up because of wartime policies too long continued. These surpluses hang over your farm like a hidden mortgage.

Q: Will all farmers benefit?

A: This program will directly benefit all farmers everywhere: producers of food grains, feed grains, oilseed and fiber crops, dairymen and livestock producers. It recognizes the special problems of regional groups and producers of certain crops.

Q: Will this program help strengthen farm prices?

A: Yes. The present mountain of surplus, and the threat of future surplus, now holds down prices. Every farmer realizes that "a government warehouse is not a market." As surpluses are used up prices will inevitably rise. (Marketing people have estimated that net farm income would have been $2-billion higher in 1955 if it were not for the surpluses.)

Q: How much will it help?

A: Hundreds of millions of dollars in payments to farmers can be made this year under the Soil Bank plan alone if passage is not delayed. This is in addition to its effect in strengthening farm prices. Farmers would also get $60,000,000 a year tax refund on gasoline used in their farming operations.

Q: How big is the surplus?

A: The government now holds an $8-billion stock of farm products. We can't shut our eyes to it, throw it into the ocean or plow it under. It costs about a million dollars a day for storage and carrying charges alone.

Q: Why do surpluses drive down livestock prices as well as grain prices?

A: Continued overproduction of grains not only clogs the grain markets but forces continued expansion in an already over-expanded livestock production. Livestock prices as well as grain prices would be higher today if it were not for the surplus.

Q: Why is the new Soil Bank Plan the most sensible approach to the surplus problem?

A: It will get rid of the surplus and prevent future surplus from piling up. It will stop the shift of another farmer's problem crops to your problem crops.

Q: How does the Soil Bank "Acreage Reserve" use the surplus to reduce the surplus?

A: In exchange for placing a portion of their allotted crop acres in the Soil Bank (removing them from production entirely for an agreed period), farmers will receive certificates. These certificates will be good for cash at the bank or for commodities drawn from surplus government stocks. In this way farmers will be using up the surplus instead of adding to it. This part of the program applies to corn, wheat, cotton and rice.

Q: How will the Soil Bank "Conservation Reserve" keep future surpluses from building up?

A: It will take 25 million acres out of all crop and livestock production for several years. This land will be put into grass, trees or water storage. It is voluntary and provides generous incentives for wide-spread participation. It, too, will help livestock producers as well as grain producers since it will reduce the surplus of feed grains that put more and more people into the livestock business.

Q: Are these programs entirely voluntary?

A: Yes. President Eisenhower and the Republican Party believe it is a basic right of every farmer to be free to plan his own farm program and make the best use of his land that he knows how. They also believe that farmers should have the chance to build up their soil without loss of income. The well-being of all Americans, as well as the future prosperity of farmers themselves, depends on maintaining productivity of our soil resources. Farmers who participate will no longer feel that they are forced to farm every acre to the limit, producing crops that aren't needed, in order to keep their income up.

Q: How do I benefit if I put some of my acres in the Soil Bank?

A: You get an opportunity to restore the fertility of your soil and at the same time you are assured of an income from the land you retire. As surpluses are reduced, prices will increase on crops you do produce.

Q: Why will Soil Bank participation help insure my income?

A: It will strengthen your cash position by giving you a guarantee—in effect, income insurance. The acres you take out of production will provide income regardless of drought, flood or other disaster.

Q: How will the Soil Bank help livestock producers?

A: With less feed grains being produced, fewer farmers will feel that they have to raise more livestock to "piece out" their income due to surplus-depressed prices of grain. Participants in the Soil Bank plan will sign an agreement not to graze their diverted acres.

Q: When does it start?

A: Just as soon as the necessary legislation can be enacted. The President has urged all possible speed so farmers can plan their plantings and benefit fully during the present crop year. Your Republican members of Congress are behind the President. They believe the more you know about the program, the more you can help. You can help by writing members of Congress urging immediate action.

GERMS BEWARE!

The young mother was taking every precaution to insure a sanitary existence for their infant son. In fact, up to the time he was three months old, visitors were not permitted to see the baby unless they wore gauze face masks. One day the mother turned to the father and said:

"Junior seems to be cutting a tooth and I suppose I should find out about it somehow."

"Well," suggested her husband, "my mother used to put her finger in the baby's mouth and."

Noticing the horrified expression on his wife's face, he gently added:

"Oh, of course you boil the finger first."

County Health Doctor Reports

The T. B. Patch Test program is well under way. The plans have been revised somewhat and children in the first and fifth grades are the ones being tested. It is too early to have any of the results. On Monday Dr. Johnson and Miss Lula Curry put patches on children at Atwood, Etna Green, and Mentone schools. Burket was closed due to the ice storm. Patches have been applied at Burket, Beaver Dam, Monroe, Piercetown, N. Websters, and Syracuse schools. On Monday, February 27th patches will be applied at the remaining county schools, namely, Milford, Leesburg, East Wayne, West Wayne, Silver Lake and Claypool.

The patches are being supplied by the Kosciusko County T. B. Ass'n through funds collected in the annual Christmas Seal Sale.

Recently, Dr. Johnson, Mrs. Rene Nine, and Miss Lula Curry journeyed to Indianapolis. Mrs. Nine and Miss Curry attended a meeting of the Indiana T. B. Ass'n. Dr. Johnson attended a Conference on Epidemiology at the State Board of Health. The conference was sponsored jointly by the State Board of Health and The Communicable Disease Center, a division of the United States Public Health Service, located at Atlanta, Ga.

Epidemiology is the study of how contagious disease spreads from one person to another or from animal to man.

Dr. Johnson heard some very interesting papers on Poliomyelitis, virus laboratory procedures, Encephalitis, and animal borne diseases.

Thursday evening, February 16, Dr. Johnson spoke at the meeting of the Monroe School P. T. A. He spoke on Nutrition. Johnson stressed the fact that too many of our teen-agers are not eating enough of the proper kinds of food. To many are falling victims of the so-called "Jitterbug Diet"—a hot dog, bag of potato chips and a bottle of pop. After school too many children fill up on "empty calories" such as pop, candy bars and pastry and aren't hungry and don't eat a good supper when they come home. The results are devastating. Our girls are worse offenders than our boys. Our teen-ager girls will be our young mothers in a few years. Improper diet weakens the mothers bodies and cause complications of pregnancy. In general T. B. is a declining disease, not so among teenagers. Poor nutrition weakens their bodies and lowers their resistance to infection. Good nutrition is eating the right amount of the right kind of food at the right time.

Last Sunday Dr. John Johnson attended a meeting of the Chairmen of Rural Health Committees as a representative of the Kosciusko County Medical Society. The meeting was held at the new student Union Building at the Indiana University Medical Center. Dr. Johnson heard interesting papers and discussions on Health Day, Health Forums, the plans of the Medical Auxiliary in planning health day and health forums and physicians placement in the rural community.

Thursday Dr. Johnson accompanied K. J. Baker, food sanitarian, from the Northeastern Branch office of the State Board of Health. Mr. Baker and Dr. Johnson inspected several poultry dressing plants in the county. Mrs. Rene Nine, Public Health Nurse, and Dr. Johnson have been carrying on with the Tuberculosis patch testing program. Last Friday Mrs. Nine the Dr. Johnson read the results of Burket, Beaver Dam, Franklin and Sidney School. Several positives have been noted at each of most of the schools. The patch test program is just beginning in this important case finding test. Extensive followups will be next. Children found positive and their familial contacts will have chest X-rays.

William Briscoe, sanitarian, and Ned Girard, State Conservation Officer, have been investigating a case of chemical pollution of a Kosciusko County stream.

Mr. Briscoe took milk samples to the Indiana Board of Health Laboratories in Indianapolis on Tuesday. The reports were received at the health department office Friday. Samples of milk and cream, both locally produced and shipped, were found to be excellent in bacteriologic quality.

Mrs. Fred C. Hartman, health department secretary, has been kept busy recording and filling out numerous birth and death certificates.

Friday noon Dr. John Johnson spoke at the regular meeting of the Rotary Club of Warsaw. Dr. Johnson told of the functions of the local health department and stressed the changing picture in communicable Disease Control.

According to Purdue University horticulturists, those black, thread-like discolorations found in potatoes and sweet potatoes indicate that the tubers are diseased. These potatoes are still good to eat but should not be saved for seed. It is safest to purchase state certified seed for best yield and quality.

GEORGE WASHINGTON'S
PRAYER FOR THE U. S. A. 1783
On the monument at Valley Forge

"Almighty God, we make our earnest prayer that Thou wilt keep the United States in Thy holy protection; that Thou wilt incline the hearts of citizens to cultivate a spirit of subordination and obedience to government; and entertain a brotherly affection and love for one another and for their fellow citizens of the United States at large.

"And finally, that Thou wilt most graciously be pleased to dispose us all to do justice, to love mercy, and to demean our- and pacific temper of mind which selves with that charity, humility, were the characteristics of the divine Author of our blessed religion, and without a humble imitation of whose example in these things we can never hope to be a happy nation.

"Grant our supplication, we beseech Thee through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen."

Minstrel Practice Nights Set

Now is a good time to get that calendar pad out and put a great big red circle around March 20 and 21 for these are red letter days—or should we say black?

The Mentone Minstrels will soon be hard at work again with a whole new cast and some of your familiar favorites, too — Egghead Beeson, Inkspot McKinley and Lightnin' Romine to mention a few.

The Mentone PTA is again sponsoring this show and the entire proceeds will be used to purchase new playground equipment for our school.

Practice dates have been set up for three consecutive Wednesday nights—Feb. 29, March 7 and 14. Dress rehearsal March 19, and the big nights of the performance March 20 and 21. These practices are all important and we urge every member of the cast to be present. If you would like to join the fun and help out the school at the same time, and you have not been contacted, come to the school music room on practice night.

The following committees have been appointed by the general chairman, Mrs. Delford Nelson, and her helpers, Mrs. Maude Romine and Ora McKinley:

Director — Louis "Peanuts" Breading.
Chorus Director—Dale Whitehead.
Planist—Jalaine Smythe.
Ticket Chr. — Mrs. Kenneth Romine.
Costume Chr.—Ruth Snellenberger.
Make-up Chr.—Wreatha McFarren.
Stage Mgr. Co.-Chr. — Robert Hewlitt and Wendell Bryant.
Publicity Chr.—Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hoover.
Arrangements—Lyman Mollenhour.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Linn called Sunday afternoon at the Landis funeral home in Warsaw to see Victor Hudson. He was a first cousin of Mrs. Linn.

Salk Vaccine—Time To Start

Dr. John Johnson, Kosciusko County Health Officer, reminds parents it is time to start Salk Polio Vaccine immunizations for your children if you have not already done so.

With the controls we now have Salk vaccine is absolutely safe. It is proving to be highly effective.

Every child should have Salk vaccine before the beginning of the height of the polio season.

If everyone waits until just before the polio season starts there will be a grand rush for vaccine and not enough will be available to go around. Thus, you should contact your family doctor now so that he may give them Salk vaccine now or can put them on a waiting list if he runs out of vaccine. Your doctor can better know his needs and plan for future needs if you contact him now.

Dr. Johnson reminds parents of children who have gotten one or two polio shots last year to get another shot before summertime. This shot is to be obtained at your family doctor's office.

Order Mentone License Plates

Injured In Auto Accident

Both autos were badly damaged.

Convention Well Attended

What was estimated to have been the largest attendance in the history of the Indiana Farm Bureau women's conferences marked the 1956 event which was held in Indianapolis last week. Held in the Indiana Ball Room, the program occupied most of two days of addresses, program suggestions for the local organization unit, and entertainment.

Mrs. Paul Flinn, Johnson county farm woman who is state director of the bureau's social and educational department, was general chairman. Standard township women, about 450 of them, were honored at a luncheon. Home demonstration agents of the state were guests at a dinner. Mrs. Flinn in a short talk made at the dinner, and confirmed in a response by Miss Patricia Mauller, Elkhart, County home Demonstration agent, stated that the cooperative working relationship between the extension agents and the bureau has been largely responsible for the great strides made in farm living in this state.

The convention was built around the theme "Faith" and the substance of the address was well expressed by Mrs. Haven Smith, Nebraska, who heads the American Farm Bureau women's committee. Said Mrs. Smith: "Ordinary people armed with courage and faith can do extraordinary things."

Be-Abouts Meet

"Anywhere With Jesus," was the opening song, sang at the Be-About Missionary Meeting Monday evening, February 27, at the home of Grace Lewis.

Fern Beeson led the devotions, reading Proverbs 15:1-5 and gave us thoughts on words. Thoughtless words often bring us grief and sorrow. In James 3 we read, if we can control our tongues we can control ourselves. Words are the tools of conversations, but be careful how you use them. She concluded with prayer.

During the business a special collection was taken for the Baptist Orphanage. Grace Lewis read a letter from Betty Rouch, one of our missionaries in Africa, telling of their experiences and activities after which a prayer for the sick and missionaries was offered.

The work hour was spent cutting and pasting pictures on cards for Dr. Rouch's projection machine.

The hostess served delicious refreshments to Fern Beeson, Joan Welborn, Norene Norris, Nellie Zent, Velma Horn, Helen McGinnie, Dorothy Bach, Dorothy Blalock, and Mary Romine.

IN MEMORY

In loving remembrance of my loving wife, Cara R. Bowen, who passed away March 4th, 1955.

When evening shades are falling
And I am sitting all alone,
To my heart there comes a longing
If she only could come home.

No one knows the silent heart-breaks,
Only those who love can tell
My grief is borne in silence,
For the one I loved so well.

Purdue University agronomists say that certain seed oats and other crop varieties are being offered to farmers at two to four times the price of Indiana certified seed. High price is not an indication of varietal superiority. Check with your county agent or Purdue agronomists before paying these fancy prices. There is a good supply of Indiana certified seed oats, soybeans and corn at fair prices.

Mentone Loses In Sectional Finals

The Mentone high school basketball team certainly made a wonderful showing in the sectional tournament held at Syracuse last week. They played in the championship game and led the Warsaw Tigers about all the way. They took a 6 to 11 lead in the first quarter and played the taller Warsaw team to a standstill throughout the rest of the game. In the last few minutes of the game Warsaw managed to get on the long end of a 43 to 47 score, and just before the final gun sounded Jim Romine took a shot from back of the center circle and it dropped through for two points—final score: 45 to 47.

It was a hard game to lose, but the boys can rest assured that all the Mentone fans appreciated the splendid battle they put up.

To get to the finals Mentone defeated Beaver Dam, Milford and Leesburg.

Your Blood Is Needed

Mrs. Conde Walburn, who is serving as chairman for Harrison township in the county Blood Bank program, is asking that we all take time to stop and think. Think and realize this Blood Bank may mean the difference between life and death to some loved one in your family.

You cannot buy blood—it is furnished free through the Red Cross. You can, however donate your blood to help fill a great need. Think! One day that need might be your own.

The mobile Blood Bank will be in Warsaw on Tuesday, March 12. If you can go as a blood donor, call Mrs. Walburn, Mrs. Miles Manwaring, or Mrs. Artley Cullum for further details.

Club Holds Annual Party

The Country Neighbors Club held its annual party at the home of Mrs. Carl Zolman.

A lovely three course dinner was served by the hostess and her co-helpers. The table was very attractively placed with crystal and silver. A beautiful center piece in keeping with Washington's birthday was made up of red carnation corsages and lighted white taper-candles. This gave a warm glow of friendliness about the room. After the evening meal the beautiful corsages were presented by the food group to the guest speaker and the supper guests.

Miss Carolyn Phillips of Warsaw, an exchange student to Germany showed slides and gave a most interesting account of her trip. Miss Phillips lived two months with a German family and became very much accustomed to family life in Germany. She also visited in Italy and France. Miss Phillips was accepted as one of their family and she became very fond of the family, tears were shed when it was time for parting.

A monologue entitled, "Todine Entertains The Minister" was given by Mrs. George Craig.

Mrs. Lewis Pulling, one of our guests, received a prize for a contest.

Charades were enjoyed, with several of our past club lessons were given in action by the entertaining group. Prizes for the charades were won by Mrs. Allen Herendeen, Mrs. John Teel, Mrs. Leroy Norris, Mrs. Carl Zolman, and a guest, Mrs. Frank Smith.

Guests present were Mrs. Lewis Pulling and Mrs. Frank Smith. A secret pal gift was received by Mrs. Arlean Walters.

A short business meeting was held, a few announcements were made. Our president, Mrs. Herendeen read a letter presenting Mrs. Lewis Pulling as a new club member. The club welcomed Mrs. Pulling with a round of applause.

A small gift was presented to each member of the food group and the guests, by the entertaining group.

All departed for home at a late hour, thanking our hostess and her co-helpers, for a delightful dinner and a wonderful evening.

Our next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Arlean Walters. We wish to remind each member to bring a copy of two of her favorite recipes.

To avoid frozen fuel lines the Chicago Motor Club suggests you add eight ounces of grain alcohol or an approved commercial equivalent to every other full tank of gasoline.

Special Meeting For Cattlemen

The problem of proper growing, harvesting, storing and feeding roughages to dairy cattle and beef cattle which is always an important phase of economical meat and milk production will be discussed in the woman's building at Kosciusko Co. fairgrounds on March 8 starting at 10 a. m. according to County Agent Paul Jackson.

Since there is considerable variations in the quality of different hays grown and fed on the farm, this is one of the most important points to discuss. The making of grass silages and its use will also be considered.

Good pastures, the source of our cheapest meat and milk producing feeds, are in need of much improvement on many farms. Proper varieties to grow, fertilization, rotation and other phases of management will be considered. M. O. Pence of the Purdue Agronomy Department will discuss practices to improve the growing of hay and pasture and how to improve the yields. John Foley, agricultural engineer, will discuss methods of harvesting and handling hay and silage. Norbert Moeller, extension dairyman will discuss the feeding of hay and silage.

The responsibility for paying the bill for better roads should be borne proportionally by the users of these roads. It's not fair to saddle the motorists and small truck owner with more than their share. The Chicago

Motor Club endorses the American Automobile Association's Better Highways Program. This bill proportionally divides the cost of new highways instead of saddling the "little guy" with the burden.
