Breaks Leg
In Fall

Mrs. Edna Carey is a patient at the Lutheran hospital in Fort Wayne where she was taken Tuesday.

On Saturday afternoon, Mrs. Carey suffered a fall at her home near Mentone, when a chair on which she was standing, tipped with her. Her leg was broken just below the knee in the fall. She was first taken to the Murphy Medical Center in Warsaw.

Mrs. Carey has been caring for her father, Obe Haimbaugh, who is past 90 years of age. He has been taken to the Dick Nursing home at Talma.

Mother Dies
Of Injuries

Mrs. Alma Munderich, aged 64 years and mother of Mrs. Tony Hurst of Burket, died Jan. 27th at the Parkview Memorial hospital at Fort Wayne where she was taken following an auto accident four days previous.

Mrs. Munderich, wife of Rev. Henry Munderich of R. R. 12, Fort Wayne, was riding in an auto driven by her husband and when he turned out to pass a stalled auto the Munderich car skidded into the other lane and hit another car.

Rev. Munderich suffered a few broken ribs, but is recovering.

Other survivors include a son, Harold Munderich of Ft. Wayne, another daughter, Mrs. Lyle Lockwood of Moroa, Illinois, seven grandchildren, one brother and two sisters.

Funeral services were held last Wednesday in Fort Wayne, and burial was in the Greenlawn Memorial cemetery.

RETURNS FROM CRUISE

Joe Good returned to his work at the Baker Jewelry and Appliance Store, Mentone, Monday after enjoying a two-weeks cruise as a naval reserve man. He joined a group of other reserve navy men at Chicago where they were flown to the Gulf for a cruise to Havana, Cuba. On the return trip to Key West, Florida, a practice depth charge let loose too close to their ship and blew a hole in the hull. This gave the boys a little "shore leave" at Key West while repairs were made. The cruise continued to New York and the balance of the trip was made by plane.

Mrs. Newell
Breaks Hip

Mrs. Folsom Newell is in the Woodlawn hospital at Rochester where she was taken last Thursday morning following a fall on the icy sidewalk at the C. E. Walburn corner in Mentone. She suffered a fractured hip as she fell.

Mrs. Newell, who is 68 years of age, underwent surgery for a reduction of the break Tuesday, and is recovering as well as can be expected. She is also troubled with diabetes, which possibly may make her recovery more difficult. She is in Room 124 at the hospital.

NAMED HOMEMAKER OF TOMORROW

Alice Marie Surface has been named the Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow in Mentone.

She received the highest score in a written examination on homemaking knowledge and attitudes taken by graduating girls in Mentone High School.

Her examination paper now will be entered in competition with those of 496 other school winners to name this state's candidate for the title of All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow and will also be considered for the runnerup award in the state. For her achievement, she will receive an award pin designed by Trifari of New York.

Each state winner will receive a $1,500 scholarship and an educational trip with her school advisor to Washington, D. C., Colonial Williamsburg, Va., and New York City. A $500 scholarship will be awarded the runnerup girls in each state. The school of the state winner receives a set of the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Firemen Revive
Smoke Victim

The Mentone Fire Department is credited with virtually saving another life, Sunday evening, using the department resuscitator.

Herbert Kubley, aged 42, who resides north of Talma, had been lying on a davenport watching a TV program when his wife went to bed Sunday evening. Some time later she heard him coughing but paid no particular attention until she thought she heard him fall to the floor. When she investigated she found him unconscious, and the davenport smoldering, evidently set fire by a cigarette. A son ran to the neighbor to telephone the fire department.

Fire Chief Arlo Friesner said there was no indication of life in the man when they arrived, but nevertheless they started giving the man oxygen. In a little while they noticed slight body movement, the pulse was returning and at one time he attempted to open his eyes, even though he did not regain consciousness until 16 hours later. Resuscitation was continued for about 45 minutes until Dr. Wilson arrived, and they continued to give Mr. Kubley oxygen while he was taken to the Woodlawn hospital at Rochester.

Mr. Kubley continues to improve, but remains at the hospital.

Pouring Bases
For New Lights

Construction crews for the Northern Indiana Public Service Company are pouring the bases for the new ornamental street lights to be erected in Mentone.

The new lights will be about 30 feet high and will be about twice the candlepower of the present lights on Main street.

The new lights will be connected with an overhead service, and the NIPSCO will be liable for their maintenance. The present lights operate on a high-voltage underground circuit with the town responsible for maintenance. In times past town officials have found it costly and difficult to secure electricians who have the necessary equipment and experience to make repairs.

The town board is to be congratulated for deciding upon the modernization in our lighting system.

Cub Scouts
Have New Den

A new den, making the fifth, has been organized with Mrs. Richard Manwaring as Den Mother. Bobcat pins were presented to these boys at the regular meeting Tuesday night, January 29 in the Methodist Church. The new cubs are: Mike Wagner, Danny Manwaring, Jay Maple, Danny McClone, Charles Sweet and Larry Ervin.

Virgil Cooper also presented these awards: to Mike Whetstone and Randy Hoogenboom, Wolf badges. Kip Hammer, Steve Miller and Thomas Shaw, Bear badges. Steve Lewis and Randy Hoogenboom, Arrow Points.

The attendance banner was won by Den No. 2 with a total of 26 points.

The theme for the month was the study of the stars and clever skits were given using space ships, rockets and robots.

Delicious refreshments were served by the parents of Den No. 2.

ICE SLOWS ONE UP

There are times when it doesn't pay to move too quickly, and one of those times is when there's ice underfoot. Phillip Blue, of the DeLuxe Cleaners, is moving slower these days, due to a few broken ribs suffered last Thursday when he slipped and fell on the ice while delivering cleaning in Warsaw.

Dies From Heart Attack

Last rites for Harry T. Huppert, 42, of Akron were held at 2:30 (EST) Sunday in the Sheets funeral home in Akron.

Mr. Huppert died of a heart attack Thursday afternoon while at the office of Dr. Dan Urschel in Mentone. He was the brother of Mrs. James W. Riley, Warsaw.

MENTONE HIGH SCHOOL
BASKETBALL

By Larry Teel

Friday night Mentone broke a three game losing streak defeating host Claypool 68-61. The second team also won very easily after massing a 39-3 half-time lead they glided to a 76-18 victory.

The Knights jumped off to a 7-0 lead with just 2:28 minutes of play gone. Mentone began to perk and lead by an 11-7 margin as the first period ended.

Mentone continued to roll in the next sixteen minutes and as the final period started were leading 49-44. Claypool closed the gap to 4 points at 65-61 in the final minutes of play but a free throw by Anderson and Long's tip in iced the game for the Bulldogs.

Hoover, Anderson, and Clappitt led the scoring with 22, 15 and 13 points respectively and Utter and Manwaring contributed 16 and 15 points to the cause of the second team along with Holloway who made 12 points.

Checking On Alfalfa Plants

A Purdue University entomologist, M. Curtis Wilson, has returned from Arizona where he checked the progress of research work on alfalfa plants that may prove resistant to spotted alfalfa aphid, the most serious insect threat to the crop of Indiana.

Wilson, who has been working with Dr. Ralph Davis, Purdue agronomist, to develop alfalfa strains resistant to the aphid, said, "We hope to have a variety with enough resistance within two to three years to arrest the problem until a superior variety can be released."

By November of 1956 eleven counties in southwestern Indiana had been infested by the aphid.

Forseeing this invasion, Purdue entomologists and plant breeders sent plant material, which had desirable characteristics needed in Indiana for alfalfa, to Yuma, Arizona, for study for possible insect resistance. On his trip, Wilson studied these plants which had been infested naturally with the aphid.

The spotted alfalfa aphid sucks the juices from plants, reduces their vigor and retards growth. Under heavy infestation, plants wilt, turn brown, and the stand is lost. One of the reasons the insect is such a serious problem is its ability to multiply in warm weather. A female can produce five to ten offspring per day and the young can be reproducing in about a week.

Besides varietal resistance, Wilson is studying biological and chemical controls for the aphid. The chemicals, however, that have to be used are dangerous and expensive because they have to be applied frequently. Wilson said the Lady Bird Beetle, which is prevalent in Indiana, is quite effective against the pest, and eats as many as 1,000 aphids in its life time. Fungus diseases also show some promise in the control of the alfalfa aphid. Wilson stated he will cooperate with Dr. Irvin Hall of the Riverside Experiment Station in California from whom he will obtain the more virulent strains of fungi which will be used to inoculate the alfalfa aphid for study in fields under Indiana conditions.

Hoover on the Sunday School

"Our world is in crisis," writes John Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. "Around the world the materialism wage an unrelenting assault upon the things of the spirit. At home one need only to look at recent statistics to realize that we are, in fact, sitting on a seething volcano of crime." In the first six months of 1956, 1,291,120 major crimes were committed which is a 14.4 per cent increase over the same period in 1955. In over one thousand cities arrests of those under 18 years of age increased 11.4 per cent in 1955.

These warnings and figures are taken from an article entitled "The Role of the Sunday School," which Mr. Hoover has phia. He speaks of the importance of the Ten Commandments, the teachings of Christ, the utter futility of atheism, "the growing scourge of juvenile delinquency," and concludes: "There is immense and vital power in the Word of God . . . It is the role of the Sunday School to disseminate knowledge of the basic truths upon which our civilization rests;" and heartily commends the work of the Sunday school.

Mr. Hoover's article, with a recent picture of the author, will be published in The Sunday School Times February 23. What he has to say about the Sunday school will bring encouragement to all superintendents and teachers.

As in the case of his earlier articles in the Times (1948, 1951), single sheet reprints (after publication) of "The Role of the Sunday School" by Mr. Hoover, with his picture, will be available from The Sunday School Times, 325 N. 13th St., Philadelphia, 5, Pa.

Come in and take our "V-8 PERFORMANCE TEST"

Trucks for every job, from the world's most complete truck line — ½-ton pickups to 90,000 lb. models.

Here's your chance to test the same heavy-duty trucks that are breaking performance records all over America in every type of operation.

Simply drop in or phone and we'll arrange for you to drive a new INTERNATIONAL Heavy-Duty V-8.

We want you to take it out on the roads you know are rough. We'd like you to see how fast it takes off from traffic lights—see how it walks away and leaves other trucks on grades—see how much less downshifting you do.

And while you're checking performance, keep in mind that these new V-8's are setting new records for operating economy, too!

Come in and take our "V-8 performance test" today!

BEAVER DAM HIGH SCHOOL BASKETBALL

By Roger Nellans

On Tuesday night, January 29, the Beavers played host to Tippecanoe and won the preliminary game 36-21, but were outclassed in the varsity game 73-46. The Marshall County quintet held the Beavers to two field goals in the first quarter while hitting their own basket from all angles to lead at the end of the first stanza 22-5. The two teams battled on even terms during the second quarter, but Tippecanoe pulled away again in the last half. Tippecanoe hit an excellent 49 per cent of their attempts from the field, 81 per cent from the charity line and outplayed the Beavers in all phases of the game. Bailey, of Tippecanoe, hit an astounding 15 free throws out of 17 attempts.

Lambing Pens Save Lambs

Sheepmen can go a long way toward saving every lamb born this spring if lambing pens are constructed now.

C. J. Heidenreich, Purdue University extension animal husbandman, says it's easy to make lambing pens. Two panels or hurdles about four feet long and three feet high, hinged in the middle, can be set across a corner to form a pen four feet square.

Hurdles may be made from 1 x 2 inch or 1 x 3 inch boards. A wide board—such as 1 x 12—at the bottom will prevent drafts near the floor.

The number of pens needed will depend on the size of the flock.

Heidenreich said about one pen to every five ewes will be enough. Since ewes are generally penned for only 2-3 days and only a few of the flock will be lambing at once, each pen can be used a number of times.

An individual ewe should be moved with her lamb or lambs into the pen as soon as possible after the young are born. The animals should be kept in the pen for about two days. It may be necessary to keep yearling ewes and ewes with weak lambs in pens longer. Old ewes with single lambs may not have to be put into individual pens. They can be placed in groups of five or more if there is enough room.

Heidenreich said the pens must be kept clean, dry and bedded with straw. Fresh water and good legume hay should be provided for the ewe immediately after lambing. Ordinarily grain is not fed for a day or two after lambing.

CHRISTIANITY VS. THE WELFARE STATE

Thurman Sensing, of the Southern States Industrial Council, makes this important observation: "The thinking of many people seems to have been misled in recent years by the fallacious belief that the philosophies of Christianity and the welfare state are one and the same. . . . The fact is that they are just the opposite.

"Under Christianity, a man must work out his own salvation, the individual is supreme. Under the welfare state, a man's needs are taken care of through the planned economy of a bureaucratic government, the state is supreme."

It should be added that when the supreme state reaches its extreme and logical development—as under communism—Christianity is always one of the objects of oppression and destruction, and the care the individual gets is at the subsistence level only. Under the welfare state the bureaucrats are the only ones who get the gravy.

Agronomists at Purdue University advised farmers not to wait until seeding time to buy certified seed oats. Seedmen have reported a good demand for the three newest varieties—Newton, Bentland, and Clintonland.

All lambs should be docked and all ram lambs—except purebreds of quality that are to be kept for breeding—should be castrated at a week or two of age, according to animal husbandmen at Purdue University. Both operations may be performed at the same time.

Bell Aircraft Acquires Lake Erie Engineering

Purchase of the Lake Erie Engineering Corporation by Bell Aircraft Corp. was announced Monday in Buffalo, N. Y., in a joint statement by the presidents of the respective companies, Robert E. Dillon and Leston Faneuf.

No details of the purchase price were divulged but it is understood the transaction involved cash and a substantial amount of Bell stock. Under the arrangement, Lake Erie Engineering becomes a wholly-owned subsidiary of Bell.

There will be no changes in the management, personnel, policies or products of Lake Erie. Mr. Dillon continues as president and chief executive officer, a position he has held since 1934. It is expected Mr. Faneuf will be board chairman when new Lake Erie directors are elected.

Lake Erie Engineering is one of the leading companies in its industry and has the broadest product line in the entire hydraulic press field. It designs and builds a wide variety of hydraulic and extrusion presses, as well as die casting machines, printing and stereotype equipment and special types of machinery.

An old-line Buffalo company, it employs approximately 500 persons. It has sales offices in Buffalo, New York, Detroit and Chicago and sales representatives on the west coast as well as in a number of foreign countries.

Lake Erie dates back to 1888 when the Lake Erie Engineering Works was founded to build engines for Great Lakes boats.

Lake Erie's acquisition gives Bell Aircraft six wholly-owned subsidiaries, the others being Wheelabrator Corp. of Mishawaka, Indiana, the Bell Helicopter Corp. of Fort Worth, Texas, the W. J. Schoenberger Co. of Cleveland, Ohio, Hydraulic Research and Manufacturing Co. of Burbank, California, and Bell Automation Corp. of Rochester, N. Y.

Dairy Conference Is Planned

A two-day dairy feeding and management conference, first of its kind held in Indiana, will open March 4 at Purdue University.

N. S. Lundquist of the Purdue dairy staff points out that the program will consist of both discussion groups and "learn-by-doing" sessions.

The conference, for which there will be no registration fee, will be of interest to dairymen, technicians in the artificial insemination program and DHIA testers.

Mrs. Glen Watkins and Mrs. George Watkins of Bourbon and Mrs. Fred Strang of Nappanee left Sunday morning for Arbutus Lake, Michigan for a fishing trip. They are staying at the Robert Jones cottage.

Set Date For Corn Jamboree

More than 500 4-H youths and their leaders from 80 Indiana counties will attend the 5th annual Junior Corn Growers Jamboree at Purdue University Saturday, February 16.

urday, February 16.

W. Robert Amick, associate 4-H work at Purdue, has announced that the event will feature such highlights as the crowning of a queen, a luncheon, a panel of 4-H youths who produced the highest yield of corn in 1956, and an appearance by the Purdue Glee Club.

One county extension agent, one adult 4-H leader, and four corn club members from each county are eligible to attend the jamboree. Delegates who attended the event last year are not eligible to attend this year.

"HEART TO HEART TALK" (From a loved one in Heaven)

In Memory of Irene King, taken Two years ago February 11th.

I would not have you grieve for me today,
Nor weep beside my vacant chair.
Could you but know my daily portion here,
You would not, could not, wish me there.

So only this . . . I am the same, though changed,
Like Him! A joy more rich and strong,
Than I had dreamed that any heart could hold,
And all my life is one glad song.

And so my loved ones, do not grieve for me
Around the family board today;

Instead, rejoice, for we are one in Him,
And so I am not far away. —selected

Boy Scouts Mark 47th Birthday

ONWARD ★ ★ ★ For God and My Country

47th ANNIVERSARY
BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA
1957

More than 4,500,000 Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, Explorers, and adult leaders throughout the nation will observe Boy Scout Week, February 6 to 12, marking the 47th anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America.

Since 1910, Scouting has served over 26,000,000 boys and adult leaders.

Through its Four-Year Program, "Onward for God and My Country," the organization seeks to train more boys in patriotism and character so that they will become intelligent citizens with an appreciation of the free way of life and a dedication to high spiritual ideals.

Boy Scout Week observances will feature preparation for the Fourth National Jamboree, which will find 50,000 Scouts and leaders camping where Washington camped at historic Valley Forge, Pennsylvania, next July 12 to 18. The nation's 111,000 Scout units will feature rededication ceremonies on February 8, the actual birthday of Scouting in America.

Notice To Citizens

Ordinance No. 131 which concerns parking within the corporate limits of Mentone to be enforced. From February 2 until February 14, 1957 courtesy citations will be issued, after this date violators will be fined in justice court.

Complaints have been mounting concerning dogs running at large. The town board of trustees reminds dog owners of the Indiana Statute regarding stray dogs: It shall be unlawful for any person to own, harbor or keep any dog which is more than 6 months old that does not at all times wear a collar with the metal tag attached thereto as herein provided or for any person, except the owner or authorized agent, to remove any license tag from a dog, or for any owner to allow any dog to stray beyond his premises, unless under reasonable control of some person or when engaged in lawful hunting accompanied by the owner or custodian. Whoever shall violate any of the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be fined in any sum not exceeding twenty-five dollars, Burns 16-329; Acts 1937, ch. 133, sec. 13.

War Mothers Meet

Mothers of World War II met Monday evening, January 14, 1957, at the home of Ethel Whetstone.

The meeting was opened by presenting the flag, and pledging allegiance. Prayer was offered by Ellen Stanford, acting chaplain in absence of Bernice Rush. The president, Myrtle Davis then declared the meeting opened for business. Roll Call found 17 members present. The report of the December meeting was read and approved. Also the Financial Secretary and Treasurer's reports were approved, communications and Christmas greetings were read. It was voted to buy an ad in the State Convention program.

The new officers were then installed by Maude Romine, a past unit president, as follows: President, Dora Norris; 2nd vice president, Ellen Stanford; recording secretary, Dora Whetstone; financial secretary, Edith Young; treasurer, Ethel Whetstone; chaplain, Bertha Meredith; Sergeant-at-arms, Elnora Coplen.

The president, Mrs. Norris then appointed her committees: Rehabilitation, Blanch Whitmyre; Americanism, Emma Cook; Unit Activities, Myrtle Davis; Community Service, Lavera Horn and Edith Young; Finance, Ethel Whetstone; Child Welfare, Belle Ellsworth; Legislative, Miriam Shinn; Membership, Belle Morrison; Publicity and Awards, Ethel Wagner; Recreation and Social, Dora Whetstone and Elnora Coplen; cards and flowers, Maude Romine and Mary Barkman; Rituals, Jane Jefferies; music, Lavera Horn and historians, Myrtle Davis and Ethel Wagner.

All bills were allowed. Mary Barkman and Julia Smith were reported sick and cards were signed to be sent.

The meeting was closed by repeating the Mothers Creed, singing one verse of God Bless America, and prayer by the Chaplain. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess and assistant, Lavera Horn.

W. S. C. S. Meet

Islands In My Community was the subject for discussion at the meeting of the Woman's Society of Christian Service held recently at the home of Mrs. Esther Sarber and was presented by Mrs. Pearl Lackey. She was assisted by several members and young people of the church, many phrases were brought to the attention which could be islands in our community and our part in them. Youth delinquency, trailer camps, our attitude toward any strangers moving in, prejudice were some of the topics discussed. This also raised the question, "Am I an island in my community?"

Mrs. Lois Davison, the president, opened the meeting by the group reading the purpose of the society in unison and what constitutes a good member. Mrs. Rush gave the devotions assisted by Mrs. Olson.

A life membership was presented to Mrs. Ward by Mrs. Kinsey from the society.

We were favored with several selections by Monna Ross, Bonnie and Caroline Warren.

Dainty refreshments were then served by the hostesses, Fay Whetstone, Kathryn Teel and Margaret Miller.

Psi Iota Xi Sorority Meets

The regular business meeting of the Beta Epsilon Chapter of Psi Iota Xi Sorority was held on Tuesday, February 5th at the home of Mrs. Forrest Miner.

A cash donation was voted to the Maintenance Fund of the Indianapolis Symphony.

The group decided to become the sponsoring organization for the new Brownie Scout Troop in Mentone.

A project report was given on the project of sponsoring a girl at Girl's State in June.

A report was given on the mid-year Luncheon held in Indianapolis on Saturday, February 2nd. A total 1031 Psi Otes attended the luncheon held at the Indiana Roof. Mrs. Paul Quinn and Mrs. Forrest Miner represented the local chapter.

The next meeting will be held at Pete's Restaurant on Tuesday, February 19th. This will be a fund-raising project as well.

Those attending the meeting were Mrs. Iris Anderson, Miss Barbara King, Mrs. Cecil Long, Mrs. Mary Cook, Mrs. Kenneth Simcoe, Mrs. Wm. Hudson, Jr., Mrs. Don Ernsberger, Mrs. Ralph Ward, Mrs. Mervin Jones, Mrs. Chester Smith, Mrs. Curtis Riner, Mrs. Mott Bryan, Mrs. Lyman Mollenhour, Mrs. Paul Quinn, Mrs. Harold Utter and Miss Annabel Mentzer.

LEGION AUXILIARY HAS SPECIAL PROGRAM

The American Legion Auxiliary Ladies Night was held January 29th at the Post Home. Approximately thirty members and guests enjoyed an evening of conversation and cards. Valentines were the theme of the decorations. At the beginning of the evening small baskets containing a variety of crunchy snacks were placed on the tables. Later, trays of delicious home made cookies were served with coffee.

ON HONOR ROLL AT STATE TEACHER COLLEGE

A Silver Lake freshman student at Indiana State Teachers College at Terre Haute, William Edward Lee, is one of 147 students recently named on the college's 1956 fall quarter honor rolls.

Lee was on the regular honor roll for students with scholastic averages of between B plus and A minus. Thirty-eight of the students were cited on the distinguished honor roll for having averages above A minus.

Lee is a 1956 Mentone High School graduate and is majoring in secondary teaching of social studies.

E. U. B. Church News

The Etna Green Evangelical United Brethren Church was host to the young people of the Etna Green Church of Christ and the young people of the Methodist church, also the young people of the Harrison Center EUB Church Sunday evening after the evening service with a singspiration and fellowship hour. There were forty young people in attendance. The Hymn singing was led by Jim White and Rev. Steele. Recreation was furnished by Mrs. Donald Surface, Young people's director of the church.

The next meeting will be held next month at the Etna Green Methodist church.

The church was also host to the Etna Green Basketball boys and their leaders Monday evening with a banquet. The young married class was the sponsor. The dinner was served to 92 guests.

Special guests were the boys, the principal, Mr. Bill Abbson and his wife, Coach James Robbins and his wife, Lester Gay, Charles Reese, Mr. and Mrs. Mishler, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Anglen, Rev. John Andrews, the Executive manager of the Winona Assembly, who gave a very challenging message. He took for his theme the "Three Dimension." Miss Sue Bechtold and Miss Jean Bechtold from Columbia City, Indiana, gave a number of musical selections on the accordion and Trumpet assisted by the Rev. Steele.

Harld Gawthrop was the master of ceremonies. Short talks were given by Mrs. Abbs and Mr. Robbins. Mrs. Ralph Houghton was the chairman for the banquet. Assistants were Mrs. Tom Hoffer and Mrs. Rex Burnett. The tables were decorated with the school colors.

Sweet, smooth and sassy—that's Chevrolet all over. Above, you're looking at the Bel Air Sport Coupe.

Clings to the road like a stripe of paint!

The '57 Chevy can give lessons on taking curves and holding the road to just about any car going. Few cars at any price are so beautifully balanced and so smooth, sure and solid in action.

A car has to have a special kind of build and balance to keep curves under control. And nobody outdoes Chevrolet in that department! It "corners" with all the solid assurance of an honest-to-goodness sports car. Chevy doesn't throw its weight around on turns because it carries its pounds in the right places.

And if the road should turn upward, Chevy can take care of that nicely, too—with up to 245 h.p.*

HOME ALARM which could be plugged into an ordinary electric socket to sound a buzzer or bell and light signal of approaching air attack, tornado or other natural disaster is shown in three small units (top level) and larger versions (second level). Also shown are clock and radio which could be activated by the National Emergency Alarm Repeater (NEAR). These alarms are presently being developed under contract to the Federal Civil Defense Administration. NEAR would be triggered by a signal over the nation's power lines to provide an alarm inside homes, where residents might be asleep or otherwise not hear present siren alarms. Civil defense Conelrad radio would then provide survival details.

Develop Home CD Alarm

Practical Device Would Give Fulltime Warning

A single button is pressed, and in millions of homes throughout the nation a buzzer or bell arouses the sleeping occupants to the danger of attack on the United States.

Fantastic as it may seem, this is now feasible through the use of a newly-developed simple alarm receiver which would be triggered by a signal transmitted over ordinary power lines. However, Federal Civil Defense Administration (FCDA) officials emphasize that this is not available at the present time.

The small plastic-covered box, known as the "National Emergency Alarm Repeater," or NEAR, was developed by the Midwest Research Institute of Kansas City, Mo., under a research contract from FCDA.

The units, which plug into an ordinary wall socket like a small night light, also would light up for the benefit of the hard-of-hearing. In mass production, they would cost about $5 apiece.

The NEAR mechanism, which can also be adapted to set off alarm clocks or turn on radios, is triggered by a 120-cycle voltage of about three volts superimposed on the regular 60-cycle home electric power supply. It is not enough to affect regular power service.

If the device becomes widely accepted by householders, it could solve a pressing civil defense problem of how to warn people of possible attack or natural disaster when they are asleep, or indoors where sirens are often inaudible, or not listening to radio or television broadcasts which would bring word of danger. It would supplement but not replace existing warning systems.

NEAR would flash only the first danger alert. People would then be expected to tune in their standard radio dials to 640 or 1240 kilocycles to receive details and survival instructions over the Conelrad emergency radio system.

Civil defense and MRI officials point out that the warning system and low-cost gadget could be used in emergencies other than enemy attack. It would provide instant warning, and greater peace of mind, to residents of tornado belts or areas threatened by other natural disasters.

NEAR already has been satisfactorily tested and generally accepted by six midwestern power companies. When most of the nation's electric companies have accepted it, their interconnecting power grid could become a ready-made warning net.

Drainage A Good Investment

Money invested in drainage work on Indiana farms can return a high dividend, according to Don Sisson, Purdue University agricultural engineer.

While many farmers delay drainage work in order to make other farm improvements, effective tiling systems can often double farm income.

An Adams County farmer believes that drainage is the answer for increased profits on inadequately drained but fertile land. Benjamin Gerke says he is convinced he can borrow money to buy a farm needing drainage, go in debt to have the drainage work done, and pay off both debts sooner than he could have repaid only the farm loan without drainage.

Sisson uses this example set up by agricultural economists at Michigan State University to show how farm profits can be increased through drainage work:

A study was made of the costs and benefits of following alternative investment plans of a 120-acre cash crop-dairy farm. Forty acres of the cropland were well drained and 80 acres needed a complete tiling job when the farm was purchased.

The farmer liked dairying and wanted to build his 12-cow herd up to a minimum of 20 cows to take advantage of labor saving equipment.

Estimates for needed expenditures were: $9600 to tile drain 80 acres, $4500 to repair barn and add new equipment; $3500 for field chopping equipment, and $2000 for eight more cows—total $17,600.

If he could have borrowed the entire amount, the farmer did not believe it was sound to go that deep in debt. Thus, he was forced to make a choice between tiling the land or making the dairy investments first.

He chose to make the drainage investment first and his choice proved sound. If he had continued to operate his farm without making any improvements, he could expect a net return of $1830 each year. If he had invested $9000 in the dairy enterprise he would have increased net returns by only $100 each year until he had drained the 80 acres.

Tiling the 80 acres cost $9600, but the drainage work done in making other improvements, or the farmer gained more profit than he would have from any other alternative.

Pay Raise For Military Men

(Your editor has always maintained that military personnel should receive a respectable wage, so the following note from E. Hofer & Sons of Portland, Oregon, gets a bit of applause. —Ed.)

We can have better national defense for less money. That is the substance of an article by Francis and Katharine Drake in the February issue of The Reader's Digest. And it is certainly something that should interest everyone, in the light of current and prospective military expenditures. For instance, next fiscal year, this spending will come to some $38 billion, if the President's budget is approved by the Congress—more than half of the total budget of $71.8 billion.

The Drakes' article does not deal with some marvelous new weapon that will give us maximum fighting power at low cost. It deals, instead, with the personnel problem faced by the forces, and with a solution to that problem. What they have to say is in general agreement with the views of many other people who studied our military establishments.

At the heart of the problem is turnover. Close to 100 per cent of young men taken into the Army get out after one hitch, along with 94 per cent in the Navy and 90 per cent in the Air Forces. This incredibly high loss, in the Drakes' view, results largely from the fact that "in an age of unprecedented prosperity we are imposing on our servicemen, and on their families, hand-to-mouth living conditions which would not be tolerated in civilian life." That policy, they go on, is not saving the taxpayers any money—"on the contrary, the alarming turnover of manpower is costing us enormous sums in everlasting re-training programs." And all that lengthy and expensive training is being given to men who will leave the service as soon as the law allows.

Modern weapons are complicated and almost unbelievably costly, and it takes top-flight technicians to handle them. In the Air Forces, the Drakes write, the average cost of equipment per man is $80,000, as against $11,000 for General Motors. A five-man bomber crew is entrusted with $8 million worth of aircraft. It takes three years to train an electronics expert, and the cost to the government (that is, the taxpayers) is $20,000—and if he quits at the end of a four-year hitch, as most do, he is of full value only for one year. As the Drakes put it, "Thus we always have four men for a highly skilled job—one man doing it, a second man being trained to take over, a third to take his place, and so on."

It's even worse in the case of officers. As an extreme example, the Drakes cite a captain qualified to fly and command an intercontinental atom bomber. His pay is $7,000 a year—and if he leaves the service it costs $618,000 to replace him.

The Drakes point to the tremendous differences between civilian pay and related benefits and military pay and related benefits. It is commonplace for an unskilled laborer to receive better pay than a master sergeant of 18 years' service holding a job of critical importance that demands very high skills.

Their solution, as can be imagined, is better pay and improved fringe benefits for the military people. They go into considerable detail as to what they believe should be done to encourage men to stay in the services. The point of their article is found in this paragraph:

"What would it cost to put through a pay raise making a military career attractive to the high caliber men we need to guard our homeland? The total initial bill would be under a billion dollars a year. But if, as military leaders believe, this resulted in reducing our manpower to 25 per cent per annum, we should save up to five billion dollars a year. Where else in Government do we have the chance to invest one dollar to save five?"

INCOME TAX FACTS No. 4 Claim All Exemptions for Yourself and Dependents

(This is one of a series of articles on federal income tax filing. These articles are based on information provided by the American Institute of Accountants, and the Indiana Society of Certified Public Accountants in cooperation with the Internal Revenue Service.)

Many people overpay their taxes because they cheat themselves on their personal exemptions.

Here is how to count your exemptions (each one takes $600 off your taxable income):

One exemption for yourself, two if you are 65 or over, two if you are blind, three if you are both 65 and blind. The same applies to your husband or wife.

If your husband or wife died during 1956 you can still file a joint return claiming the exemptions, including those for age or blindness, to which the deceased would have been entitled at the time of death.

Who Qualifies

One exemption of $600 can be taken for each person who fits the definition of a dependent. This $600 is not doubled for age or blindness, however, as in the case of your personal exemption.

To count for an exemption, the dependent must:

(1) Have less than $600 gross income for 1956 (except that this does not apply to your child if he is under 19 or is a full-time student).

(2) Have received more than half of his support from you, unless you file a Multiple Support Agreement (see below).

(3) Not file a joint return.

(4) Be either a citizen of the U. S. or a resident of the U. S., Canada, Mexico, Canal Zone, Panama and in some cases, a serviceman's child living in the Philippines.

(5) Live with you (absence while attending school does not interfere) or be a close relative as defined in the instruction book or be a cousin receiving institutional care for a mental or physical disability who had lived with you before going to the institution.

Multiple Support Agreements

If you shared with others in the support of a dependent, but none of you provided more than half the support, you may still be able to arrange among you for one of the group to have the $600 exemption. You might agree, for example, to take turns in having the exemption from year to year.

The one who claims the exemption must have contributed more than 10 percent of the support, and he must be a member of a group who altogether provided more than half support, and that person must have been entitled to claim that dependent except for the requirement of providing more than half support.

In order for one of the group to have the exemption all other members of the group who contributed more than 10 per cent must sign declarations that they will not claim the dependent. The Internal Revenue Service provides Form 2120 (Multiple Support Agreement) for this purpose.

Children and Disabled Dependents

There is a deduction of as much as $600 for care of children under 12 while the breadwinner works. This child-care deduction is available to mothers, widowers, divorced and legally separated persons, who are allowed to deduct expenses paid to someone other than a dependent for the care of a son, daughter, stepson or stepdaughter under the age limit. This regulation also applies to any dependent of any age who is mentally or physically incapacitated.

A working wife is entitled to this deduction if her husband is physically or mentally incapable of providing support. Where the husband is not disabled, the working wife may also take the child-care deduction only if a joint return is filed, and the $600 limit must be reduced by the amount of the couple's gross income exceeds $4500. It should be kept in mind that you can't take this deduction if you take the standard 10 percent deduction.

The instruction book which comes with your tax form gives further information. Help is also available by telephone or at offices of the Internal Revenue Service. The Revenue Service urges you to consult a properly qualified advisor if you decide to seek outside help.

Mrs. Rovenstine Dies In Atwood

Mrs. Lulu Rovenstine, aged 83 years and a lifelong resident of the Atwood community, died at 10:30 a. m. Wednesday in her home. She had been in ill health the past year.

The deceased was born in Miami county Dec. 3, 1873, and was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adam H. Massena. April 12, 1894 she was married to Cassius A. Rovenstine who died in 1953. She was a member of the EUB church.

Survivors include four sons, Dr. E. A. Rovenstine of New York City, Cletus M. and Cassius L. Rovenstine of Atwood, and C. E. Rovenstine of Bourbon; five grandchildren, and three great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at two o'clock Saturday afternoon at the home, and Rev. R. R. Wilson of the Atwood EUB church will officiate. The body will be taken from the Landis funeral home to the Rovenstine at three p. m. Friday.

Buried Friday

Funeral services for a former Mentone resident, Mrs. Daisy O. Ailer, 81, were held Friday at the Peabody Memorial Chapel at North Manchester.

Mrs. Ailer, who had resided at the home for the last 14 years, died Tuesday morning after an illness of four years.

Mrs. Ailer was born August 11, 1875 in North Manchester, the daughter of Jacob and Clarinda (Baker) Jacobs. She married David E. Ailer, who preceded her in death.

She was a member of the Mentone Baptist church. Two brothers survive her.

Mentone Native Dies Saturday

Mrs. Susan Gerard, 87, Bourbon, died at 7 p. m. Saturday, of complications following an illness of three weeks.

She was born December 19, 1869, near Mentone, and had been a resident of the Mentone-Tippecanoe-Bourbon area all her life.

Mrs. Gerard was married Dec. 25, 1887, to Winfield Fore who died in 1899. In May, 1902 she then married Stephen Gerard. He died in 1920. She was a member of the Tippecanoe Methodist church, D. A. R., and the Rebecca Lodge.

Surviving relatives include 2 daughters, Mrs. Ralph Fifer of Warsaw, and Miss Goldie Gerard of Bourbon; three grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted at 2 p. m. Tuesday at the Robbins funeral home in Bourbon and Rev. Ross Richie officiated. Burial was in the Mentone cemetery.

Brother Dies

Fransyl F. Minear, 57, of No. Webster, brother to Mrs. Folsom Newell of Mentone, died at the Murphy Medical Center Monday night after suffering a stroke three days before.

Mr. Minear, a laborer, was born at Claypool May 9, 1899, the son of John and Elnora (Underhill) Minear. He lived in Warsaw up to nine years ago when he moved to North Webster.

He married Elsie M. Thompson in September, 1920. She survives him.

Other survivors are one son, Hal, of North Webster; one brother, Rondo, of Muncie; two sisters, Mrs. Marguerite Shaneline, of Kendallville, and Mrs. Folsom Newell, of Mentone.

Funeral services will be held at the Troxel funeral home, No. Webster, at 2 p. m. Thursday with Rev. Lester Young officiating. Burial will be in the Palestine cemetery.

BREAKS ANKLE IN FALL

Mrs. Ralph Warren was walking to their mailbox Feb. 4 when she fell and broke a bone in her left ankle.

DAUGHTER ARRIVES

A new daughter has arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Boggs, who live east of Palestine.

"Heart Sunday" Drive Feb. 24

Fred T. Stephens of Warsaw, county chairman of the local chapter of the Indiana Heart Foundation, and Mrs. Phoebe Leeds, area representative of the organization, have announced that Mrs. Phillip Blue of Mentone is to be in charge of the local "Heart Sunday" drive.

Heart Sunday is to be held in Mentone, as in all of the cities and towns throughout the country, on February 24th. The activities of the solicitation will be confined to a 2-hour period on that Sunday afternoon.

In a speech before the representatives of the Warsaw Heart Foundation on Monday night, Dr. Dan Urschel emphasized the importance of this nation-wide appeal for funds. The constantly increasing occurrence of heart disease in our population, makes it of vital importance that every effort be made to gather additional information regarding the cause and treatment of heart disease, Dr. Urschel said. He pointed out that a very high proportion of Heart Foundation money is directed toward research, the largest single item in the state and national budget. Money collected in Indiana is spent directly in the state, and the research committee of the state organization, of which he is a member, has directed a very high percentage of their money to the Indiana University School of Medicine. As Dr. Urschel said, "Because of the very high incidence of heart disease in our population, the Heart Foundation cannot direct money for individual local service, as groups like the Polio Foundation have been able to do, but we are spending every possible cent in an effort to help the people of our own community and our own state. The problem is so great, and there are such a multitude of questions to be answered, that there is almost no limit to the amount which could be spent in constructive research in this important cause. It is my hope that the people of this area will regard Heart Sunday as an opportunity to make a generous contribution to the future health of everyone of us."

Edna Carey is now home from the hospital. She is staying at the home of Bessie Gross. She is recovering from a leg injury.

Child Dies Of Encephalitis

Last rites for Rita Hudson, 6, of the Talma community were held at 2:30 p. m. Monday in the Johns funeral home here.

Rev. Henry M. Terry, pastor of the Nazarene church in Rochester where Rita attended Sunday school conducted the services. Burial was in the Harrison Center cemetery.

Rita died of encephalitis (sleeping sickness) at 12:30 p. m. Friday in Woodlawn hospital, Rochester. The disease developed after the onset of measles. Due to the nature of the disease, medical men advised against permitting children at the funeral.

In addition to her parents she leaves two brother, Robert and Roger; and her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hudson, of near Mentone, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cook, of South of Rochester.

Little League Officers Named

A Little League meeting was held at the Mentone Lumber Company Thursday evening, and the following officers were named to serve for the coming season:

James Beeson, chairman.
Russell Eber, vice chairman.
Virgil Cooper, secretary and treasurer.

Del Bryant and Everett Long, committeemen.

Others present at the meeting were Ned Igo, Herschel Teel, Larry Teel, Wm. Schooley, Ora McKinley and Dana Starr.

Last season there were 64 boys registered from the Mentone, Tippecanoe, Talma, Beaver Dam and Burket communities, and for a period of two months games were played two nights each week. It is expected there will be more boys participating this season.

The 1955 program was financed by contributions from citizens and the sale of pop at the pop stand. Contributions and insurance payments amounted to $311.50 and $277.11 was realized from the sale of pop. Expenditures amounted to $470.12, and there is a bank balance of $118.49 plus less than five dollars in a petty cash fund.

Thieves Pick On Co-Operative

Thieves entered four units of the Northern Indiana Cooperative Association here sometime Friday night, but found little of value to take. All that was missing was less than twenty-five dollars at the oil station and the main office. They entered the mill, hardware and oil station in addition to the vault at the main office.

Entrance into the vault was gained by knocking the combination knob off the vault door and punching the mechanism free. Once inside they made a thorough search of all the file drawers and even made an effort to hammer their way into the safe which is equipped with a time lock.

Present Awards At Fish Fry

Basketball players, coaches and principals from 15 schools ate fish Monday night at the Sidney gymnasium, the occasion being the ninth annual pre-sectional tournament fish fry.

County Supt. Glen Whitehead, Warsaw Supt. Carl Burt, a host of trustees, student managers, scorers, timers, etc., were also present to swell the total attendance to an estimated 300.

In the presentation of awards, by the Warsaw Times-Union, a first team trophy was given to Tom Hoover, and a second team trophy to Larry Horn.

Host Principal John Smith of Sidney welcomed the guests and Etna Green Principal William Abbs acted as toastmaster for the program.

Rev. Mervin Cripe, pastor of the Eel River Church of the Brethren gave the invocation.

The fish were prepared by Forrest Higgins, "Kingfish" of the Akron Jonah club, and served by members of the Sidney Lions club and their wives.

A Sidney high school girls' quintet and Eddie Tullock and his group from Milwaukee provided the entertainment of the evening.

TAKEN TO HOSPITAL

Mrs. Minerva Eversole of Tippecanoe, was taken to the Woodlawn hospital at Rochester about noon Wednesday. Indications are that she may have suffered a light stroke.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

Barrow Show Deadline

Indiana hog producers have been reminded by Richard Hollandbeck, Purdue University extension swine specialist, that February 13 is the deadline for entering their animals in the eighth annual Hoosier Spring Barrow Show at Indianapolis.

Fifty-three classes of purebred and commercial barrows of eight breeds will be shown along with three classes for all other barrows. Winners in each "on foot" class for single barrows will be entered in carcass competition. Each exhibitor will also be permitted one entry in the carcass event, regardless of the animal's placing in the barrow show.

Any Hoosier swine producer is eligible to enter hogs. Entry blanks may be obtained from county agricultural agents.

Sponsors of the show are Purdue's agricultural extension service, Kingan's and the Indiana Swine Breeder's Association.

Try New Plastic Silo

Purdue University dairy scientists report "very encouraging" results from experiments utilizing plastic film to cover grass silage piled in stacks.

These plastic silos may be built with a minimum of labor and equipment and may be situated at sites convenient for both making and feeding the silage.

Capacity of the silos is flexible for amounts ranging from a few tons to more than 100 tons without affecting the quality of the silage or losses.

The silage should be piled in a rectangular-shaped stack, topped out so that it is rounded. Immediately after the stack is completed, a plastic tarpaulin is placed over it and the ends are buried in a ditch to give an airtight seal.

The Purdue scientists emphasize that the plastic must be protected from punctures, since they permit air—the enemy of fermentation—to reach the silage. Results of the experiment show there is no surface spoilage as long as the plastic cover remains airtight.

In one phase of the experiment the plastic tarp was deliberately punctured to permit air to reach the silage. The scientists estimated that losses amounted to nearly 50 per cent as a result of mold and aerobic spoilage.

Silages made in stacks and protected from the air and weather were very good as determined by acid development, odor, appearance and animal acceptance, they report.

A notable characteristic of uncovered stack silos is the very high temperature (135 to 140 degrees F.) which develops. Temperatures in the plastic covered stacks did not rise above 110 degrees and averaged below 98 degrees.

THE CAPACITY OF THE STATES

An all-out campaign is on to persuade Congress to give huge grants to the states for school construction, on the theory that the states are incapable of meeting the need.

Yet in December, 1955, the White House Conference on Education, which was the largest and most representative gathering of its kind we have yet known reported: "No state represented has a demonstrated financial incapacity to build the schools it will need in the next five years."

CARE Helping World's Needy

Eleven thousand food packages, each containing twenty-two pounds of U. S. surplus cheese, rice and beans, are being distributed to the homeless refugees in Port Said as part of the 1957 CARE Food Crusade, Miss Martha L. David, midwest CARE director, announced this week.

CARE's 1956-7 Food Crusade to send 5,000,000 special $1 surplus food packages to twenty million refugees and needy families in 19 countries of Europe, Asia and the Middle East, will draw to a close next month, Miss Davis reported. Citizens of Illinois, Indiana and Michigan have contributed over $500,000 to the Food Crusade to date.

Each $1 CARE package will feed a family of four for an entire month, which means that the midwest has sent enough CARE packages to feed more than two million people so far, Miss David explained.

Miss David cited the Gaza Strip as another area where contributors' dollars are being put to work. There, CARE is distributing a daily milk ration to thirty thousand children aged one to fifteen, and also more than one million pounds of surplus rice, cheese, wheat, flour and corn meal to needy Arab refugee families.

In addition to the Food Crusade, CARE has been carrying on a relief program for Hungarian refugees. To date, Miss David stated, over one million dollars worth of relief supplies in the form of food, blankets and welcome kits have been distributed to Hungarian refugees in Austria. Midwesterners have contributed over one-hundred-fifty thousand dollars to Hungarian relief to date.

Miss David appealed to citizens of Illinois, Indiana and Michigan to continue their support of the two CARE Campaigns (Food Crusade and Hungarian Relief) through February. She said, "We must not fail these haunted, hungry people. To them a CARE package is more than food—it is the will to live . . . to hope . . . to believe in tomorrow."

Contributions of a dollar or more should be sent to CARE, Chicago.

Agronomists at Purdue University report that lime is the "workhorse" of a farmer's soil fertility program. Lack of lime limits crop response to fertilizer.

J

SUPER 88 HOLIDAY COUPE

MULTIPLE-ACTION RESERVE POWER!
Simply nudge the accelerator beyond the $\frac{3}{4}$ mark and you "call out the reserves"! The J-2 Rocket then operates on three dual carburetors! J-2 is available now at a modest extra cost. Try it!

It's the most exciting engine development since the first Rocket was launched!

Engineers have dreamed for years of an engine that combined exceptional horsepower and torque potential with outstanding fuel economy in normal operation.

And today, Olds has it in the new J-2 Rocket.* You'll find it's like two engines under the hood!

In your day-to-day driving, you enjoy the smooth, alert action of the Rocket—with the fuel economy of dual-jet carburetion and a 10-to-1 compression ratio. But to meet the exceptional driving situation, just open the accelerator beyond the $\frac{3}{4}$ point and two additional carburetors automatically jet into action. There's an instant boost in torque and power. You'll appreciate the immediate response as another Olds contribution to your pleasure and safety at the wheel!

*277-h.p. Rocket T-400 Engine standard on all models.

J-2 Rocket Engine, with 300 h.p., and special Rocket Engine, with up to 312 h.p., optional at extra cost.

Theodore Thompson of Claypool, Indiana says, "For some time I had been thinking about using butane gas. So I got in touch with Mr. Dwight Bechtol of Burket, Indiana, who sells butane and talked it over with him.

So a year ago I made the change over on my Minneapolis U. Tractor using a complete factory change over.

I farm two hundred acres and find that my tractor uses less fuel per hour with butane.

It has more Power, idles nicer and has better governor action.

I also find by using butane my fuel bills are a lot less than when I was using regular gas. It is also a saving on oil. Only changed oil once all last summer."

MUSICAL OPINION

She shut off the record player and turned excitedly to her father.

"Daddy!" she exclaimed, "that is the latest Rock 'n' Roll record. Did you ever hear anything so wonderful?"

"No," he replied wearily, "I can't say I have, although I once heard a collision between a wagon load of empty milk cans and a farmcart filled with ducks!"

Lincoln Shows Way to Lead Men

When the conduct of man is designed to be influenced, persuasion—kind, unassuming persuasion—should ever be adopted. It is an old and true maxim that "a drop of honey catches more flies than a gallon of gall." So with men. If you would win a man to your cause, first convince him that you are his sincere friend.

Therein is a drop of honey that catches his heart, which, say what he will, is the great high road to his reason, and which when once gained, you will find but little trouble in convincing his judgment of the justice of your cause, if indeed that cause really be a just one. On the contrary, assume to dictate to his judgment, or to command his action, or to mark him as one to be shunned and despised, and he will retreat within himself, close all the avenues to his head and his heart; and though your cause be naked truth itself, transformed to the heaviest lance, harder than steel, and sharper than steel can be made, and though you throw it with more than Herculean force and precision, you shall be no more able to pierce him, than to penetrate the hard shell of a tortoise with a rye straw.

Such is man, and so must he be understood by those who would lead him, even to his own best interest.

—ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

VISIT HEART PATIENTS

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Sarber and Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Laird accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Harry Vernette to Fort Wayne, Sunday afternoon. They stopped at the Charles Byrer home to see Mr. Byrer who just recently was dismissed from the Parkview Hospital. Mr. Byrer is recovering from a heart attack. They then went to the Veterans Hospital to see Mr. Frank Bybee who suffered an acute heart attack on January 24. Mr. Bybee, who was on the critical list, is now recovering satisfactorily.

RELIEVED!

A pale, shaky customer approached a bartender on the afternoon of New Year's Day. "Was I here last night?" he asked.

"You sure were," answered the barman. "You ordered drinks for everyone at the bar, time and again, like you owned the joint. You paid up with a $100 bill—left a big tip."

The customer looked relieved. "I'm so glad," he said, with a sigh, "I thought I'd lost it."

FARM BUREAU WOMEN PLAN CAPITAL TREE FOR CONVENTION

Something for everybody! That is the promise made two thousand farm women who plan to attend the twenty-eighth annual convention of the Women's Conference of the Indiana Farm Bureau. The program opens in the Murat Theater, Indianapolis, February 19 and ends at noon the next day.

There will be good entertainment, a style show using young women employees as models, several addresses by national figures, contests and awards. Governor Harold W. Hanley will extend official greetings from the state of Indiana during the opening session Tuesday.

Farm Bureau president, Hassil E. Schenck, will speak on "Use What You Have." Mrs. Paul Flinn, state women's leader will outline opportunities open to Farm Bureau women. Theme of the Conference is America—Opportunities for all.

FCDA Report on Radioactive Food Issued

Processed foods stored unopened on the fringe of a nuclear blast area would not become dangerously radioactive and thus could be used by refugees in case of enemy attack on this nation.

Foods remaining intact might be eaten with some caution two to three weeks after the blast with little danger, even after exposure to high radiation levels. Only some minor changes in taste, texture and chemical content would be noted.

These were among the newly-released significant findings of the Federal Civil Defense Administration's Operation Teapot, the food test phase of the 1955 Operation Cue atomic tests.

They showed that only food buried a quarter mile or less from ground zero registered important lingering radioactivity. FCDA specialists cautioned that this food should not be eaten for less than two days after being exposed, and preferably not for less than a week except in emergencies.

The report was written for FCDA by Federal Food and Drug Administration scientists, with the cooperation of the Department of Agriculture and the food and packaging industries.

These scientists noted that the Operation Teapot tests were with an atomic bomb—the equivalent in power to approximately 30 kilotons of TNT—not the much more powerful hydrogen bomb. However, they felt that on the fringe of the much larger H-bomb-devastated area, conclusions comparable to Operation Teapot would be justified.

Operation Teapot's major project was testing a variety of the most popular American foods, including flour and sugar, fresh and frozen meats, fruits and vegetables, some 60 varieties of heat-processed foods in cans and bottles.

The test found that the foods exposed to the bomb's radioactivity had no poisonous by-products and little or no vitamin losses.

Most of the foods exposed to radioactivity were buried to a depth of one or two inches in shallow slit trenches at 1,270 feet from Ground Zero. This allowed the foods to be exposed to the maximum amount of gamma and neutron radiation and the maximum blast pressure wave while shielding the foods from the heat flash.

Radioactivity of food and their containers varied sharply. Glass containers, and often the foods within them, were found by the scientists to be radioactive, as were sea foods and dairy products such as cheese and dry milk. Metal cans gave off much less radiation, but it lasted longer.

Cured meats were found more radioactive than fresh meats. Very little radioactivity was noted in most frozen foods and beverages.

To test the effect on animals of food exposed to the bomb's radioactivity, scientists have been feeding rats, monkeys and dogs since the test. To date no significant effects on the health of the animals have been noted.

Beaver Dam School News

Last Friday nineteen students, Melody Ballenger, Buni Barber, Carol Baumgartner, Linda Beigh, Diane Cumberland, Diane Fleinar, Janet Goshert, Gloria Hale, Mickey Horn, Jan Lackey, Gary Paul, Patricia Plymale, Nancy Smelser, Paul Townsend, Mickey Tullis, Jerry Zolman, Larry Townsend, Jay Tucker, Shirley Mahaska, Ernest Murcia, Mrs. Wanda Swick, Ronald Malott, and our bus driver, Gerald Smalley spent the afternoon at the Shrine Circus in Fort Wayne. The Claypool third graders, their teacher, and Mr. Swanson went along on our bus. Chauncey Tucker was in charge of the group. We want to thank Chauncey and all the other Shriners for making it possible for the students to see the circus. It was enjoyed by all.

Those making the honor roll for the last grading period and having an A or B in citizenship were: All A's: Roger Nellans and Carol Welty; All A's and B's: Barry Bialock, Dixie Bergstrom, Nancy Shively, Janet Welty, Margaret Baugher, Marilyn Horn, Dora Kelley and Sandra Summe; All B's: Sharon Heighway and Barry Igo.

Phil Bucher will journey to Indianapolis next Tuesday to act as a page at the House of Representatives.

The February P. T. A. meeting will be held next Wednesday evening in the gymnasium. Mrs. Winnie Summe is in charge of the program.

BEAVER DAM HIGH SCHOOL BASKETBALL

By Roger Nellans

Last Friday night, February 8, the Beavers traveled to Larwill to lose a very close decision in the varsity game, 67-65, but won an equally close preliminary game.

The outcome of the game was decided at the free-throw line. Beaver Dam, playing an aggressive game, committed 22 fouls to Larwill's nine which gave the Trojans the edge although the Beavers outscored them from the field. Bibler of Beaver Dam, scored twelve baskets the first half and finished the game with 35 points to lead both team's scoring.

County 4-H Adult Leaders Meet

46 adult leaders and advisory committee members of the Home Economics 4-H clubs met at the Warsaw City Hall, Thursday, February 7, 1:15 p. m. Mrs. Geo. Williamson, Pierceton, presided as chairman of the afternoon. A report of the National 4-H Week committee was given by Mrs. Ray Caywood, Jr., assistant leader of the Winona Minor 49'ers. The committee suggested that each club do special activities to promote 4-H during the week. Suggestions were window displays, entertaining other clubs and parents, radio and T. V. programs and news articles as well as talks at school. Mrs. Williamson introduced Mrs. Evelyn Quesenberry from the State office who discussed programs for the year, the use of advisory committees and some changes for 1957. Mrs. Quesenberry suggested that in planning a good program the club members and leaders should get ideas from the various members and include them in the program. She said each meeting should consist of 3 parts—business, work and fun. Planning ahead makes a better club. The advisory committee can help the leader by helping as project leaders, with fund raising, transportation to meetings and to fair as baby sisters, as publicity agents and with special awards.

Mrs. Quesenberry then divided the members into groups where they discussed ways to improve club programs. At the conclusion materials to assist the leaders with club work were distributed.

Those who attended were: Miss Earlene Haney, Warsaw Hum-Dingers; Mrs. Carl Duncan, Milford West Side, Jr.; Mrs. Herman Miller, Happy-Go-Lucky; Mrs. Victor Adams, Mrs. Cary Groining, Atwood Victory; Mrs. Ray Pathaway, Burket Cheerio; Mrs. Paul Lucas, Tatapocheon; Mrs. R. MENTONE HIGH SCHOOL BASKETBALL

By Larry Teel

Friday evening Mentone notched a shaky victory over Milford's Trojans with the final score 74-69. The second team continued to do as well as they won an easy 56-25 victory with Jim Manwaring's 14 points and Larry Hatfield's 11 points leading the way. Schultz got 10 for Milford.

Milford spurred to a 10-4 lead early in the first quarter but the Bulldogs, with a scoring spree of their own, ended the quarter on top 25-14. Playing good ball the next eight minutes brought the Bulldogs a 40-28 lead at the halftime.

Milford, led by Fisher, who scored ten points in the third quarter fought back in the third stanza and narrowed the margin to 59-50. Pat Spiecher got hot for Milford in the last period but couldn't do it all as the Bulldogs registered victory number fourteen against four setbacks.

Mentone plays at Beaver Dam Friday night and closes the season by playing North Manchester there on February 22.

C. of C. Meets

A number of members of the Mentone Chamber of Commerce met at Peterson's Restaurant on Tuesday evening and discussed some of the plans for the coming summer.

Robert Hill, Fred Lemler and Ora McKinley were named as a nominating committee to nominate candidates for the officers to be voted upon at the annual meeting to be held March 17th.

LADIES OF PALESTINE CLUB HOLD MEETING

The Ladies of the Palestine Home Demonstration Club of Palestine, met on Thursday, February 7th with Mrs. Geraldine Perry. The meeting was called to order by the vice president, Mrs. Flo Shirey. The Pledge and the creed were repeated by the group. Meditation was given by Mrs. Henry Fletcher. Health and Safety Remarks were by Mrs. Albert Tucker and Mrs. Marshal Eaton. The Secretary's report was given to Mrs. George Hipsher. A collection of flower money was taken. A short business discussion was led by the president, Mrs. Geraldine Perry. Response to roll call was answered with each one's middle name.

The meeting was closed with delicious refreshments being served by the hostess to seven members and two guests. Mrs. Mont Lower and Mrs. Tom Harman and daughter Pamela.

The next meeting on March 7th will be at the home of Mrs. Flo Shirey of Palestine.

SINCERE THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks and deep appreciation to all our friends and neighbors, the Rev. Terry and Rev. Dickson of Rochester, the Doctors and nurses of the Woodlawn hospital for all the flowers and cards and acts of kindness and words of encouragement during the illness and death of our beloved daughter and granddaughter.

NARROW ESCAPE

James Groves narrowly escaped injury before daylight Wednesday morning when his auto hit a patch of ice about three miles west of the Claypool overhead bridge. The car rolled over and the top of the 1956 Chevrolet was practically leveled to the top of the hood. If the boy had been traveling very fast he likely would not have escaped serious injury. The auto is at the Lewis Motors garage in Mentone.

TALMA ROD AND GUN CLUB TO MEET

The members of the Talma Rod and Gun Club will hold their monthly meeting in the home of Lavoy Montgomery on Monday evening, February 18th, at 7:30 p. m. There will be an election of officers. Refreshments will be served.

Dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Claud Barkman Wednesday, were Mrs. Tessie Newton and Mrs. Earl Meredith. Afternoon caller was Mrs. Eva Laird.

Rascal Is New Guided Missile

The GAM-63 Rascal is a long-range, rocket-powered, air-to-surface guided missile designed, developed and produced for the U. S. Air Force by Bell Aircraft Corporation of Buffalo, N. Y.

Rascal has undergone extensive flight testing against simulated targets at Holloman Air Development Center, N. M., where it has been carried aloft and launched from B-47, B-36 and B-50 bombardment aircraft.

This supersonic missile is designed for use in conjunction with manned bombers as an aid for penetrating enemy defenses and then shoots out towards its target, which can be tactical or strategic.

Combined with high altitude, high speed bombers, Rascal can be delivered against targets without exposing bomber aircraft to concentrated local defense. Rascal is launched miles from the target and can proceed to its destination even while the carrier bomber is returning to its base.

The Air Force has stated that Rascal enables these bombers to deliver nuclear weapons against an enemy many miles away.

The guidance system which controls Rascal is close to human intelligence and operates just as if a pilot were riding in the nose of the missile.

Bell Aircraft, which has been engaged on the Rascal program since 1946, has the entire weapon systems responsibility for the missile including the original design and development, manufacture of the airframe, guidance system, rocket engine, ground support equipment, launching equipment, testing and training aids.

In civil defense, a steady siren wail for three to five minutes is an alert signal. It means you should turn your radio to 640 or 1240 kilocycles for emergency instructions. A series of short siren blasts totalling three minutes means to take cover.

Cattle lice may become a problem at this time of year, Purdue University entomologists have reported. A one per cent lindane dust is suggested for use by farmers who do not care to spray the animals during cold weather.

Mentone Producers To Meet Feb. 18

Barton Reeh Pogue, Hoosier Humorist and poet from Upland will be the speaker for the fourth annual meeting of the Mentone Producers at the Mentone High School, Monday, February 18, beginning at 8:00 p. m. (E.S.T.) according to an announcement by Dick Maple, manager of the market. Tickets for the dinner meeting, which will precede the business meeting, are available at the Mentone market or may be obtained from Advisory Committee members. Tickets should be secured early, as of necessity the number is limited. All tickets for the dinner sold in advance.

From Monon, Indiana, where Mr. Pogue was born, from Greenfield, Indiana, where he was reared, from Taylor University, Boston University and the University of Michigan, where he was educated and from Upland, Indiana, where he now lives, Barton Rees Pogue has wandered through 19 states broadcasting the seeds of rebellion against gloom, superficial decorum and harmful dissension.

Between wanderings he has filled in the gaps with teaching speech at Taylor and Indiana Universities, writing for the Indiana Farmers Guide, The McClure Newspaper Syndicate, The Indianapolis Times, Good Housekeeping and Ideals; broadcasting for twelve years at Station WLW in Cincinnati and publishing six books.

Pogue is a purveyor of sense and nonsense that has lured laughter from thousands of listeners.

There will be a business meeting to elect members to the market advisory committee and delegates to the state annual meeting to be held in March. Reports on the operations of the local market will be presented as well as a report on the operations of the state organization. Mark the date on your calendar to attend this meeting of your own business organization.

Top Dress Wheat

Nitrogen top dressing of wheat will pay off in increased yields at harvest time.

That's the word from A. R. Halvorson, Purdue University extension agronomist in charge of Indiana's "Pocket Area" wheat contest.

Halvorson has advised Southwestern Indiana wheat growers who are going to try for that prize field of wheat in the contest this year to top dress the crop with nitrogen if they haven't already done so. And, farmers in other parts of the state should take steps now to make sure their wheat has or will have enough nitrogen to produce a bumper.

According to Halvorson and other Purdue agronomists, nitrogen should be applied in southern Indiana before March 20 and in northern Indiana before April 20.

The new wheat varieties—Knox, Dual and Vermillion—can really make high fertility levels pay dividends.

On heavy textured dark colored soils, Halvorson says up to 25 pounds of nitrogen per acre may be needed. On lighter colored soils, 15-20 pounds may be profitably used. Fifty pounds or more of nitrogen may be needed on sandy soils.

These suggested rates are only guides and can be adjusted up or down for each farm. One factor to be considered is the preceding crop. Here is where keen observation and experience on the part of the farmer should be applied." Halvorson adds.

Merry Mollys Meet

The Merry Mollys Home Economics Club met at the home of Mrs. Gene Sarber for their February Meeting.

The meeting was opened by the vice president, Mrs. Glen Mel-lott having the club repeat the creed.

The history of the song of the month, "Old Folks at Home" was read by Mrs. Glen Puterbaugh and followed by the group singing it.

Meditation was given by Mrs. Clayton Holloway with the reading of a poem entitled "Court-essy."

Health and Safety Remarks were given by Mrs. Al Runnels on First Aid after traffic accidents. Many good points were stressed on the treatment of shock, hemorrhage and examination of patient for other injuries.

The lesson on Food Marketing was presented by Mrs. Marion Smith and Mrs. Clayton Holloway. The purchasing of all kinds of meat, beef, lamb, pork, and poultry was discussed. Different grades and different cuts of meat were presented and it was stressed that the liver, heart, brains, sweet breads, etc., should be used much more often than they are. They contain more vitamins and minerals than the muscle meats. Different ways of cooking meats was also brought out.

Roll Call was answered by each one naming some country they would like to visit. The United States was named more often than any other country.

The Secretary's report was read by Mrs. Everett Welborn and the Treasurer's report by Mrs. Harold Horn.

Our trip committee presented some places we would like to visit and Fort Wayne was decided upon. The selling of greeting cards was also discussed and continued until next meeting.

It was also decided to send money to help some exchange student from here or some foreign country.

A clever spelling contest was held by the finance committee. The words were taken from a "Demon List" of Eighth grade spelling words. Ten cents was forfeited for each misspelled word. The treasury was somewhat enriched by this.

Games were then played with prizes going to Mrs. Dale Mc-Gowen and Mrs. Robert Hilschman.

Secret Pal gifts were received by Mrs. Glen Mel-lott, Mrs. Robert Hilschman and Mrs. Gene Sarber with the Door prize being won by Mrs. David Cooper.

Delicious refreshments in keeping with the valentine theme were served by the hostess, Mrs. Gene Sarber and co-hostess, Mrs. David Cooper.

There were 18 members and one guest, Mrs. Robert Flenar, present.

NO MAGIC FORMULA

Back in 1948, Labor's Monthly Survey, an AFL publication, said: "Living standards do not rise by any magic formula. They can rise only when workers produce more per hour and per year of work."

In the same year, a resolution of the Executive Council of the AFL said: "We have learned the lesson that when opportunities for profit diminish, opportunities for jobs likewise disappear."

Some labor leaders and groups seem to have forgotten these truisms. It is time they remembered. Increased wages without increased production result in price inflation which often more than destroys the alleged gains. Profitless industry means stagnant, retrogressive industry—and ultimately, depression, unemployment, and wide-spread misery.

INCOME TAX FACTS No. 5

Personal Deductions May Cut Your Tax Bill

(This is one of a series of articles on federal income tax filing. These articles are based on information provided by the American Institute of Accountants, and the Indiana Society of Certified Public Accountants in cooperation with the Internal Revenue Service.)

When you use the "short form" in filing your income tax return, or take the standard deduction on the "long form," you are allowed a deduction of about 10 percent to cover such personal expenses as interest, state and local taxes, contributions and medical expenses.

If you are sure that your personal deductions are less than 10 percent standard deduction, there is no need to itemize them. But it is worth the effort of calculating your tax on both forms. Here are some deductions you should be careful not to overlook:

Interest on Loans

The interest you pay on loans is deductible. This includes mortgages, automobile, appliance, home improvement or personal loans you may have. The part of "carrying charges" representing interest on installment purchases is deductible. Evidence such as a statement from the seller should be obtained to show the amount of interest you paid during the year.

State and Local Taxes

Most taxes, other than federal taxes, are deductible. These include state and local real estate, personal property, income, retail sales, poll taxes and, in all but a few states, gasoline taxes. You can also deduct auto licenses and registration fees, but not dog or hunting licenses.

Charitable Contributions

Another type of deduction you can take if you itemize your deductions is your contributions to any "religious, charitable, educational, scientific or literary" organizations. These contributions are deductible up to 20 percent of your income, and up to 30 percent if at least 10 percent of your income was paid as gifts to religious organizations, schools or hospitals.

In adding up your contributions, don't forget that gifts of property can be deducted at their fair market value as of the time they were donated. Suppose, for example, you contributed to your church a share of stock which had doubled in value while you had it. You can deduct, as a contribution, the full value of the stock at the time of the gift, even though you only paid half that much for it. At the same time you escape paying the tax on the capital gain which would have been realized if you had sold the stock instead of contributing it.

An individual is not permitted to deduct a contribution which he has pledged but not paid during the tax year. Contributions of services are not deductible, and blood donations are construed as a service.

Transportation Expenses

An employee is permitted to deduct, in determining adjusted gross income, all his transportation expenses incurred in connection with his employer's business if they are not reimbursed. These include fares, automobile expenses, and (if in connection with over-night travel) meals and lodging. Other expenses paid in accordance with an expense allowance arrangement with the employer may also be deducted for this purpose.

An employee's expenses other than these can only be deducted if the standard deduction or tax table is not used. The expense of commuting between home and place of work is not deductible at all.

An "outside salesman" (one who usually works away from his employer's business) can deduct all business expenses before arriving at adjusted gross income, just as if he were in business for himself.

Miscellaneous Deductions

If you had certain expenses connected with your employment (other than travel or reimbursed expenses) you can claim them as miscellaneous deductions. Examples would be tools, uniforms, union dues and employment agency fees.

Other miscellaneous deductions include the fee for preparation of your tax return, some alimony and a share of interest and real estate taxes paid by a cooperative apartment corporation of which you are a tenant stockholder.

The instruction book which comes with your tax forms gives further information. Help is also available by telephone or at offices of the Internal Revenue Service. The Revenue Service urges you to consult a properly qualified advisor if you decide to seek outside help.

Growers to Hold Lamb-O-Rama

Kosciusko County Sheep growers announced today that they will hold a lamb-o-rama on February 19 at the West Wayne School at Warsaw. The program gets underway at 7:00 p. m. with Graydon Blank, extension animal husbandryman of Michigan, opening the program. Mr. Blank will discuss organized sheep promotion activities in Michigan and will illustrate his talk with colored slides.

Orin Wright, Indiana representative of the American Sheep Producers Council will explain what the American Sheep Producers Council is doing to advertise lamb and wool.

The star of the show for the ladies will be Loretta Thomason, home economist of the American Sheep Producers Council. Mrs. Thomason will demonstrate cooking various cuts of lamb.

The social hour will climax the evening when lamb sandwiches will be served and woolen blankets and other woolen articles will be awarded as door prizes.

You will soon be asked to open your ♥ and your mind to help fight our nation's No. 1 Killer, Heart Disease. Due to such our own community has suffered many recent losses so surely no "sales talk" is needed to convince you that your contribution no matter how large or small is needed. All of the employees of the DeLuxe Cleaners will be calling at the homes of Mentone on National Heart Sunday, Feb. 24th, to accept your gift for the Indiana Heart Research Foundation. OPEN YOUR HEART AND YOUR PURSE AS WELL. To our rural friends who are always so generous when their aid is needed, there will not be a house-to-house solicitation. Rathfon New Co-Op. Manager

Everett Rathfon, who resides about six miles west of Mentone, began his duties as manager of the Northern Indiana Cooperative Association at Mentone last Thursday morning, to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Ed Ward.

Mr. Ward, who has capably served as manager for a number of years, has been with the firm since 1933. As manager he has been tireless in his efforts to make needed improvements and advancements in the various units of the cooperative that they might be kept apace with the rapid advancements in the conduct of any business enterprise today. His farsightedness has enabled the association to remain competitive in a highly concentrated business area.

Mr. Rathfon, who succeeds Mr. Ward, has likewise been connected with the Cooperative in the capacity of director, bookkeeper and manager for the past 24 years, and is thoroughly familiar with every phase of the operations.

Mr. Ward, who is a partner in the Northern Indiana Fence Co. and a real estate development at Plymouth, Indiana, in addition to his agricultural operations, stated that he felt that the responsibility of the managership was getting rather burdensome. Mr. Ward has remained with the firm to assist in every way in familiarizing the new manager with the business and the program.

NEW DATE ON FARM CLASS

The Adult Farmers Class will not meet on Monday, February 25th, but will meet on Tuesday, February 26th with the Young Farmers Class.

Charles Manwaring and Del Nelson will be the speakers for the evening program. Their topics will be Development of Hybrids and Cross Strain Chickens and Poultry Management.

SECTIONAL TICKETS

Season tickets for the Sectional Tournament may be purchased at the school office. On Friday, tickets will be sold to students, teachers and parents of players. On Monday, the tickets will be available to the public.

There will be no school on Friday, March 1st.

O. Haimbaugh,
96, Passes Away

Last rites were held Monday afternoon at the Reed funeral home for Obe Haimbaugh, 96, of Route 1, Mentone, one of Fulton county's oldest residents.

Rev. Irwin Olson, pastor of the Mentone Baptist Church, conducted the services. Burial was in the Mentone cemetery.

In failing health for two years due to complications, Mr. Haimbaugh died Saturday morning shortly after his admission to the Murphy Medical Center.

Born July 17, 1860, he was the son of Henry and Apolina (Holmes) Haimbaugh and lived his entire lifetime on adjoining farms near Mentone, just over the Fulton county line. He was married to Cora Perschbacher who died in 1939. Mr. Haimbaugh was a member of the Mentone Baptist Church.

He leaves three sons, Mead of South Bend, Dow of Rochester, and Rex at home; three daughters, Mrs. Lloyd (Lucile) Kesler and Mrs. Herschel (Freda) Lehman, both of Warsaw, and Mrs. Edna Carey of Mentone; one sister, Mrs. Ocie Blue, of Columbus, O., eight grandchildren, 15 great-grandchildren and one great-great-grandchild.

W. Cumberland
Passes Away

Walter E. Cumberland, 70, of Route 1, Claypool, died of complications at 1:45 p. m. Saturday at the Woodlawn hospital in Rochester following a six months illness.

He was born July 29, 1886, in Miami county, the son of Thomas and Elizabeth (Lowe) Cumberland, and had been a farmer in the Beaver Dam community for the past 31 years.

Surviving relatives include the wife, Blanche; one daughter, Mrs. Eldon Horn, Warsaw; eight sons, Paul and Lauren, of Claypool, Vernon, Eldon and George of Akron, Frank of Warsaw, Warren of Bourbon, and Walter G., of Covina, California; 16 grandchildren and six great-grandchildren. Two daughters preceded him in death.

Funeral services were held at 2 p. m. Tuesday at the Beaver Dam EUB church, with Rev. Wayne Johnson officiating. Burial was in the Mt. Hope cemetery at Peru.

In Hospital

Mrs. Max Smith was admitted Saturday afternoon to the Memorial hospital, South Bend, Indiana, room 532. Cards and letters will be appreciated.

Miles Morrison is in the Murphy Medical Center where he under went surgery last Thursday.

New Arrivals

Mr. and Mrs. Merritt Nordman of North Manchester, are the parents of an 8 lb. son, James Allen, born February 13, at the Woodlawn hospital in Rochester.

Mrs. Nordman is the former Marjorie Lockridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Mathews are the parents of a daughter, born at the Woodlawn hospital at Rochester, February 13.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Jameson, Jr., are the parents of a daughter, born at the Woodlawn hospital at Rochester on February 18.

CLUB CALENDAR

W. S. C. S. of Mentone Methodist Church will meet Thursday, February 21, at 7:45 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Dan Urschel. Please notice change.

Sectional
Next Week

The sectional tournament will open at Syracuse on Wednesday evening, Feb. 27, with Warsaw and Atwood meeting in the first game at 8:00 p. m. The Leesburg and Etna Green and Beaver Dam-Sidney games will follow at 7:15 and 8:30. Thursday evening games will start at 7:00 with Larwill and Columbia City leading off and Silver Lake and Claypool coming together at 8:15.

Friday's games start at 9:00 in the morning when Mentone engages Milford. The Pierceton-Sidney game follows at 10:15. If Mentone emerges from the first game (and we truly expect they shall) they will meet the winner of the Pierceton-Sidney game at 8:15 that evening.

H. V. Johns and Harry Sullivan returned to Mentone early Sunday morning after a 11-day trip to Riverside, California to look over that new granddaughter. While there they also visited with Mr. and Mrs. David Johns, the parents of the granddaughter.

Robbers Visit
Lowmans Corner

A new thrill but not one to be desired, was experienced at Lowman's Corner about 6:30 on Tuesday evening when three men executed a well-planned armed robbery, escaping with over $700 in cash.

Three young men entered the store and ordered some meat, and while Glen Lowman, owner of the store, was slicing the meat one of the men informed him it was a holdup and exhibited a revolver to emphasize the point. Two other men, Ed Bucher and Gene Pavey of Akron, came into the store and all three men were ushered to the rear of the store and their hands taped behind their backs. Before the robbers were able to leave, a third customer, Boyd Reutebuch, coach at Beaver Dam, came in to make a purchase. (His wife had remained outside in the car.) Customers were coming too fast for the robbers, so they took all the cash available, including the bill-folds of the men, filled their auto with gas and headed south. Mr. Reutebuch, who hadn't been bound, released the other men and the sheriff was notified.

New Street Lights Turned On Tues.

The photo above, taken Tuesday evening, shows Mentone's Main street as it appeared under the flood of light put out by the new street lights that were first turned on Tuesday. The Co-Op. News camera was located just a few feet west of the C. E. Walburn corner, and as it was taken at night, was a time-exposure picture.

The lights are of the latest design and have a blue-white appearance. It was promised that one would be able to read a newspaper at night while standing in the street, and even though your reporter did not test this phase of the contention, we can truthfully say that the street is well lighted.

Radical Changes In Retailing

Anyone who thinks that retailing is a pretty static sort of business that changes but little over the years has another think coming.

An editorial by Godfrey M. Lebar, editor of Chain Store Age, indicates what is going on. It is significantly entitled, "Can the Chains Keep Pace?" During the last year the chains, opened some 9,500 new stores and modernized 12,000 existing ones. However, this doesn't mean that chain outlets grew comparably in number—for, Mr. Lebar says, "In most cases, the opening of new stores was accompanied by the closing of old stores which no longer met the requirements of the communities they had been serving or had to be closed for other reasons." He then adds: "Actually, because of the radical changes which are taking place in retailing, the number of stores the chains, or any other type of operation, are operating has ceased to be nearly as important as the kind of stores. A successful operation can no longer be attained by the mere multiplication of outlets. What the chains are most concerned about today is the need for the kind of stores the public has come to expect and the problem of locating them in areas where they are required right now or will be required in the foreseeable future."

Modern successful retailing—whether by a big chain or a small family shop—demands imagination, energy, vision, and first-class business judgment.

Make Silo Of Plastic

If you are planning to stack silage, it probably will pay to consider covering it with polyethylene plastic film.

Purdue University dairy scientists report "very encouraging" results from experiments utilizing the plastic film to make a grass silage stack airtight.

They make these suggestions to farmers who want to stack their silage:

Select a cleared, well-drained level area and lay out dimensions of the stack. The width of the stack is fixed by the width of the plastic cover; the length is flexible, depending on the amount of silage to be stored.

The stack can be built with either a single layer or by hand. With the plastic cover no special equipment is needed for packing. However, the silage should be actively tamped as the silo is shaped to make airpockets.

The Purdue scientists completed and covered the test silos in one day and believe this to be desirable. They recommend that not more than two days should be devoted to this work.

The first step toward sealing is digging, either by hand or with trenching equipment, a trench eight to ten inches deep around the stack. Place the cover carefully over the stack and bury the edges in the ditch.

In the event the stack has been made on concrete, the seal is effected by weighting the edges of the cover with fence posts or timbers and then placing soil between the posts and the stack.

The stack will settle for a few days after it is made. The slack which develops in the plastic cover should be removed promptly by weighting the edges with additional soil. Otherwise the wind may whip the plastic and damage it.

The plastic silo must be protected from damage since punctures reduce the effectiveness of the method of storage. Experiments at Purdue indicate that 6 mil plastic film should be used.

Livestock must be fenced out. Falling limbs will damage the plastic. Dogs and wild animals and fowl can also puncture the cover. The stack will not withstand the romping of children.

A suitable pressure adhesive tape which can be obtained in most drug stores or department stores can be used to repair punctures or tears in the cover. In the event damage is extensive, a new cover should be placed over the stack.

Black, weather resistant plastic is required when polyethylene films are used. The clear plastic will not last when exposed to the sun.

Purdue dairy staff members who conducted the plastic silo studies were D. L. Hill, C. H. Noller, B. W. Crowl and N. B. Lundquist.

Chicken Fricassee With Dumplings

For a cheery dinner at this stage of winter serve the family Chicken Fricassee with Dumplings. It's an old-fashioned dish but an ever-modern favorite with hungry appetites. Stewing chicken is more meaty and flavorful today than in bygone days and takes much less time to prepare. Here are directions for making 6 to 8 servings:

Simmer one 4½ to 5 lb. (ready to cook weight), cut-up stewing chicken with 3 teaspoons of salt, 1 medium onion, a tip of bay leaf, and 4 cups of water until fork tender—about 2½ hours. Remove chicken from broth. Strain broth. Spoon fat from surface of broth and save for other cooking needs. Measure broth and if necessary add enough water to make 3 cups. Heat to a simmer. To prepare the gravy, blend ½ cup of the chicken fat, ½ cup of flour and 1 cup of milk until free of lumps. Pour slowly into simmering broth, stirring constantly until thickened throughout. Cover and simmer about 5 minutes.

Place chicken in gravy and heat thoroughly. Season to taste. Make the dumplings from your own favorite recipe or one found in any good cook book, or simply use biscuit mix, following package directions. Garnish the dumplings with parsley.

Junior Auxiliary Meeting.

On Friday, February 15th the Junior Auxiliary and Tiny Tots met at the Post Home for a Valentine Party.

After a short business meeting games were played by the children. Mothers and children joined together for a Singing session directed by Betty Kinzie and Maude Snyder accompanist. Refreshments were served and a Valentine Exchange Box was opened where by children exchanged greetings with their friends.

Those present were: Cynthia and Sonya Baker, Bonita Nellans, Rosemary Rodibaugh, Connie Rae and Donita Teel, Marsha Wagner.

The guests were: Gigg Kinzie and Mothers of the girls.

We all had such a nice time, we sincerely encourage ALL MEMBERS to come to our next meeting, and as well Auxiliary Members who have daughters eligible bring them to join our group.

MILK CHECKS

Start to Fall OFF.

Start Your Cows on BANNER DAIRY RATION

CO-OP. MILL

Why wait until your cows break down or until dwindling milk checks start eating into your profits? The time to feed a completely balanced dairy ration is before nutritional trouble starts.

Our Dairy Feed contains the right amount of essential milk producing, health maintaining substances—vitamins, proteins and minerals—dairy cows need to pay out big profits for you. It is a highly potent concentrate that requires only good roughage to produce a complete and balanced ration . . . and you are assured of consistent potency and value in every bag.

County Dairymen Presented Awards

Fourteen dairymen were honored at the meeting of the county dairy association held February 11, at the Co-op. building in Warsaw. Leo and Loren Metzger received the dairy association trophy for having the highest producing two-year old cow in the testing program. Metzger's cow produced 12,300 lbs. of milk and 628 lbs. of butterfat in 305 days. The association trophy for the highest producing aged cow went to Millard and Emra Stookey. Stookey's cow produced 19,402 lbs. of milk and 918 lbs. of butterfat in 305 days.

The Crystal Dairy trophies for high herd production went to Franklin Stump with a herd average of 444 lbs. of butterfat; Richard Blessing with 439 lbs. of butterfat; Carl and Harold Gawthrop with a herd average of 520 lbs. of butterfat; John Gardner and Nathan Insley whose herd averaged 492 lbs.; Leo and Loren Metzger with 458 lbs. average; and Levi R. Hochstetler with 56 lbs. average.

Bronze State Dairy Association certificates for having every cow in the herd produce at least 300 lbs. of butterfat were presented to Clarence Estep, Levi R. Hochstetler, Franklin Stump, Harold and A. D. Wilson, and Jack Beebe.

Linda Smoker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smoker of Leesburg was presented the Litchfield trophy for being outstanding 4-H member in 1956. Miss Smoker carried out an all round dairy project and showed calves at the country, state, and International dairy shows. Her senior yearling heifer was named Junior All-American Holstein for 1956.

The more than a hundred people attending the meeting enjoyed a potluck supper and a movie shown by County Agent, Paul Jackson entitled "The Purebreds." Roger Stump was elected president for 1957; Herschel Albert, vice-president; Clarence Estep, secretary; and Jack Beebe, treasurer.

Mrs. Noah Eversole Dies

Minerva (Mrs. Noah) Eversole, 61, died Monday at 5:30 p. m. of a Cerebral Hemorrhage. She had been ill for one week.

The deceased was born in Marshall county March 8, 1895, the daughter of William and Pearl (Sarber) Mahoney. She married Noah Eversole on February 28, 1928, and he preceded her in death on February 18, 1955. She has resided all of her life with the exception of one year at Rochester, in Marshall county. She was a member of the Bethlehem Baptist Church.

She belonged to the Tippecanoe Progress Club, Woman's Missionary Society, Congregation Christian Ch., Tippecanoe, and the Mentone American Legion Auxiliary.

Survivors include her mother, Mrs. Pearl Mahoney, Tippecanoe; one brother, J. O. Mahoney, Redlands, California; and one nephew, in Spain.

Funeral Services will be held at 3:00 p. m. Thursday in the Reed funeral home. Rev. Richard McIntosh of the Tippecanoe Congregation Church will officiate. Burial will take place at the Tippecanoe Cemetery. The Reed funeral service is in charge of the arrangements.

Blood Mobile Unit Feb. 26th

Blood donors are needed from this community to help the Red Cross fill their quota of 125 pts. next Tuesday at the Warsaw American Legion Home.

If you will contribute blood to this most worthy program, please contact Mrs. Charles Manwaring or Mrs. C. E. Walburn or call No. 4 at Warsaw collect for scheduled appointments.

The schedule is from 10:00 a. m. to 345 p. m.

Walk-ins are always welcome.

Fish Fry For Stockholders

The annual stockholders meeting of the Northern Indiana Cooperative Association will be held on Monday evening, March 4th, and there will be a free fish fry for the stockholders and the members of their families. It will be a regular "Jonah Club Style" fish fry and serving will start at 6:00 p. m. EST. The Mentone Fire Department will handle "Jonah's" work.

The stockholders' meeting will start at 7:30.

VICTIM OF THE QUICK FLIP

Mrs. Marcella Meredith, of near here, found the road a bit icy as she was coming to her work at Mentone Monday morning. As her auto neared the Huffer farm, east of Mentone, it slid off the road and headed for the Huffer goose pond. After going down the steep part of the road grade and through a fence, the car turned on its side. Other than a number of bumps and bruises, Mrs. Meredith miraculously escaped injury.

Mayor Engle Speaks to Lions

Jack Engle, mayor of Warsaw, was the featured speaker at the Mentone Lions club Wednesday evening and gave a very inspiring and interesting talk on transportation. A native of the Beaver Dam community, as a young man the mayor saw the beginning of the Winona Interurban Railway through Mentone in 1910 and in 1920 found himself a proud employee on that wonderful segment of America's transportation system. The people of that day felt the 64-mile system that connected Goshen and Peru would be important for centuries, yet in a scant half dozen years they saw the cars and trucks begin to compete for the freight and passenger service. In 1936 the last passenger run was made, and in December, 1952 the last car was run over the road.

Today, with thousands of cars upon our highways, all traveling at speeds inconceivable in the beginning of the electric railways, danger lurks on every hand.

Mayor Engle, who meets with many who trespass upon the traffic safety laws, says that the safe and careful drivers are in extreme danger because of those who care not for their safety or the rules of human decency. One of the most dangerous problems today is those involving drivers who have been drinking.

ARMED ROBBER CAUGHT AT WARSAW

About three o'clock Wednesday morning Warsaw police, with the aid of tear gas, routed one Thomas M. Haworth, 30, of Muncie, from his room at the Hayes Hotel at Warsaw and arrested him on a robbery charge. Tear gas was necessary as the suspect refused to come out of his room when requested to do so by the police.

Information gained after the arrest showed that the young man entered the Sears store and took three revolvers and some ammunition, went to the Gill Motel and at gun point robbed a man of his wallet, and then proceeded to the Kaufman Service Station where he held up and robbed the attendant and a truck driver. A check by police revealed the fact that Haworth returned to his room at the hotel only minutes before the police arrived.

The young man, who had a bottle of liquor in his room, stated that the liquor was responsible for his acts.

Time To Prune Fruit Trees

Now is the time to begin to prune young apple and peach trees to make the large framework cuts on bearing trees.

According to C. L. Burkholder, Purdue University horticulturist, the importance of good pruning cannot be overemphasized. In extension circular 426, "The Forward Look in Peach Pruning," Burkholder says various methods of training young peach trees will have a direct bearing on winter injury as well as the productive lifetime of the trees.

Much winter damage in peach trees, Burkholder says, occurs in the crotch formed by the main scaffold branches. Through proper pruning of these branches at the correct time, a wide-angle crotch can be started, enabling the tree to combat winter injury. A wide-angle crotch won't hold the moisture of a sharp-angle which causes easy freezing. Secondary limbs, located below the main scaffold branches, also are a freeze damage hazard that can be eliminated with proper pruning.

However, if low temperatures and spring frost have destroyed most of the leaf buds as well as the fruit buds on peach trees, heavy pruning should be delayed or completely ignored. Burkholder says that very often injured peach trees, if left unpruned, will leaf out and repair much of the injury by the end of June.

Peach growers are advised to know all the pruning practices described in "The Forward Look in Peach Pruning"—how to prune at planting time, how to prune during the first summer and at the start of the second year, during the second summer and spring of the third year, after the fourth season, and how weather conditions affect pruning practices.

For apple growers, Burkholder gives a complete pruning schedule and helpful information in extension bulletin 351, "Pruning Practices for Indiana Apple Orchards."

Both these publications are available free from your county agricultural agent, or from the agricultural publications office at Purdue.

Cows Prefer Good Silage

Dairy cows have highly developed taste preferences in grass silage and will consume it on this basis.

This is a conclusion shown by a recent feeding experiment at Purdue University involving nine cows and three different grass silages.

Carl Noller, dairy scientist at Purdue, reporting on the study, points out that the silages were made from the same field, cut at the same stage of maturity and stored in upright silos.

One silage was made with a chopper and eight pounds of sodium metabisulfite were added per ton. The other two were cut with a flail-type harvester. Metabisulfite was added to one and no preservative was added to the other.

Purdue dairymen rated the silages which had metabisulfite added as better than the one to which no preservative was added.

Each cow was fed all she would consume of each silage for a given period and then switched to another. No grain was fed.

The cows consumed five pounds more of the best silage daily than of the second best and about 14 pounds more of the best than the poorest silage, Noller reports.

"The difference in consumption between the poorest and the best silage was enough to provide the necessary energy for about six pounds of milk daily," he says.

Noller stresses that the silages were made from the same initial material, but treated differently at the time of harvest. The differences in consumption of silage were due to different fermentations taking place in the silos.

"There is no better measure of feed value than how well the cow likes it and how she will produce on it," he points out.

Kimber Leghorns ALL TIME RECORD

$8.11 INCOME OVER FEED COST

The record of $8.11 income over feed cost made by Kimberchiks in the Second California Official Random Sample Egg Laying Test has never been equalled. In fact, in the five years since then Kimberchiks themselves have averaged $5.00 income over feed cost based on the number of pullets at one week of age.

But in these days, when it is harder to make a profit in the egg business, the large size and good quality of the eggs produced by K-137 Kimberchiks can make the difference between a good year and a poor one. Stanley Newton of Burket says:

"For some time, I had been thinking about using propane gas in my Farmall 'M' tractor, so I asked 'Becky' of Bechtol Gas what I would need. He told me to raise the compression and he would install the propane gas tank change over. I put in new 7 16 step head aluminum pistons and sleeves myself, and the tractor really runs nime now. It has a lot more power, runs more smoothly, and I only have to change oil every six months. It runs almost gallon for gallon with gasoline, saving me about 1/3 on fuel.

I farm over 300 acres, so I have teased it good in the last year, and am now thinking of changing my other tractor, an IHC 'H' over to propane also.

Poultry Raising Big Business

Poultry raising is big business in Indiana, according to Melvin L. Wilson, extension-market poultryman at Purdue University.

Wilson says some 2,232,534 tons of feed were consumed by the poultry produced in the Hoosier state during 1956. The figure was computed from the production figures released by the Crop Reporting Board and the recommended feed requirements published by the American Feed Manufacturers Association.

The production figures for Indiana includes broilers, heavy and light breed turkeys and layers on farms at the close of 1956.

Wilson points out that the 1956 record broiler crop in Indiana consumed around 1,344,997 tons of feed. Light breed turkeys ate 6,965 tons while the heavy breeds ate 60,760 tons. Layers on farms at the close of the year consumed approximately 566,312 tons of feed.

Mentone H. D. Club Meets

The Mentone Home Demonstration Club met Thursday, February 14 at the country home of Mrs. Howard Horn.

After the usual opening program an interesting lesson on Food Marketing was given by Mrs. Edith Lee and Mrs. Garber. The lesson was primarily concerned with meats. A very nice demonstration on the cutting of beef to obtain a larger variety of dishes was shown. The ladies also explained how to get the most food value for the meat dollar. And how the cheaper cuts of meat may be served to be tasty and nutritious.

Mrs. Howard Horn gave the health and safety lesson, "Better Driving habits", stressing the drivers attitude good and bad. The improvement of driving attitude is the main hope for improved highway safety.

We planned a white elephant exchange for the next meeting.

After a short business session, the hostess assisted by Mr. Raymond Weirick served delicious refreshments in keeping with Valentine's day.

There were fourteen members present.

BEAVER DAM HIGH SCHOOL BASKETBALL

By Roger Neilans

On Friday night, February 15, Mentone trounced their host, Beaver Dam, 90-45. The Bulldogs jumped to a 17-8 first period edge and increased their lead as the game progressed due principally to the efforts of Tom Hoover who blasted the hoop from all angles for an evening's total of 50 points. Hoover, who hit 18 out of 30 shots from the field, most of them from the twenty-foot mark, and fourteen straight free throws before missing his final attempt, ran his total for the season to 629 points for 19 games. This is a new county scoring record. Bibler led the Beavers' scoring with 19 points.

By Larry Teel

The Bulldogs showed no favoritism to host Beaver Dam as they won both games by scores of 63-36 and 90-45.

Tom Hoover had one of his best nights of the season as he hit for 50 points and broke Whitney Bell's record of points scored in a season. Hoover also had a golden opportunity for the single game record of 56 held by Dave Kinsey of Silver Lake, until he fouled out with 4 minutes of playing time left. It is also interesting to note that after he fouled out Mentone only managed to score one point.

Fred Anderson also deserves much credit for his timely scoring and for his rebounding ability. The team as a whole looked good and we sincerely hope they continue to play good ball Friday night against North Manchester and throughout the sectional tourney.

The second team won an easy victory over Beaver Dam in the preliminary as Tim Utter with 12, and Jim Manwaring with 13, led Mentone to a 63-36 conquest. Study with 15 led the Beavers' attack.

"Move your brooder house to a location at least 300 feet away from all adult chickens." That's the advice of Purdue University poultrymen who say that this is an important step toward the control of leucosis in the flock. Another important measure is to buy chicks that come from flocks that are known to be resistant to leucosis.

Pork producers can increase profits by taking better care of sows and baby pigs, according to animal husbandmen at Purdue University. If a sow has ten pigs, be sure she weans that number. An extra two pigs per litter saved may mean the difference between profit and loss.

Jolly Janes Meet

On Monday evening, February 11, at the home of Mrs. Dwight Reichard, the lesson, "Meat Marketing" was presented by Mrs. Kenneth Shoemaker.

The grades of meat, which are based on age of the animal, conformation, finish and quality, are: U. S. Prime, U. S. Choice, U. S. Good, and U. S. Commercial. The clue to a tender cut of meat is determined by the tiny pieces of fat running through the lean. This is called "marbling". The various cuts of meat were discussed and how to determine their tenderness. This is done by knowing from which part of the carcass the cut is taken or how much the muscle was used by the animal.

A contest, making a Valentine verse from mottoes on candy hearts was conducted by Mrs. Kenneth Romine and Mrs. Max Friesner. The prize went to Mrs. Wendell Bryant.

The finance committee reported that a bake sale will be held Saturday morning, February 23, at Lemler's Market.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Reichard and Mrs. Loren Tridle. Mrs. Harold Markley received the door prize. Two guests, Mrs. Ralph Burris and Mrs. Harry Kinzie, and sixteen members were present.

The Club will meet again on March 11th at the home of Mrs. Harold Utter.

Cora Lackey Buried Tuesday

Mrs. Cora V. Lackey, 70, died of complications about midnight Saturday at the Murphy Medical Center where she had been a patient since January 31.

She was born May 12, 1886, in Paulding county, Ohio, the daughter of William and Ella (Hamilton) Martz.

Married in Paulding county October 30, 1904, to Clyde L. Lackey, she had resided in the Beaver Dam-Mentone area for the past 49 years and was a member of the Palestine Christian church. Mr. Lackey preceded her in death in 1954.

Surviving relatives include 3 daughters, Mrs. Irene Konkle, Mrs. Paul (Naomi) Cook and Mrs. Chester (Velma) Hoover, all of Warsaw; five sons, John of Warsaw, James and Clarence of Claypool, Robert of Silver Lake and William of Ontario, Calif.; one sister, Mrs. Bertha Crone, Paulding county, Ohio; three brothers, Milliam Martz, or Hastings, Mich., John Martz of Detroit, Mich., and Paul Martz, of Van Wert, O.; 31 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Services were conducted at 2 p. m. Tuesday at the Mentone Methodist church, Rev. Fred Hall officiating, assisted by Rev. Milton Persons. Burial was in the Mentone cemetery.

Fine Speaker at P.T.A. Meeting

The Mentone P. T. A. held its monthly meeting Wednesday, February 13. Wm. Rathbun, the president, called the meeting to order and the pledge to the flag was given. Mr. Kelley gave the meditations. His subject was Opportunity. He emphasized the opportunity parents and teachers have to work together for "better living".

For the fourth time the sixth grade, Miss Aughinbaugh's class, has won the grade count. If you wonder about the grade count, it is the number of parents present for each class at the P. T. A. meeting.

During the business meeting plans were made for the annual Athletic Banquet. Mrs. Delford Nelson was appointed chairman for the banquet. Watch this paper for further information.

After the business Mr. Eiler as program chairman, introduced Janet Besson, who played a piano solo "The Butterfly Dance." Janet won a superior rating at a recent music contest. Dr. Helm, president of North Manchester College, was the guest speaker for the evening. His topic "Statistics of Education" brought out some interesting facts. Figures show a small amount of our dollar is spent for our children's education in comparison to entertainment and other diversions we have. He urged parents and teachers working together in putting first things first, that being the education of our children, the future of our community and nation. Those who heard Dr. Helm were greatly benefited.

The refreshment committee, Mr. and Mrs. Loren Tridle, chairman, Mr. and Mrs. McKinley, Mr. and Mrs. Bryant, Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Neilans, Mr. and Mrs. Meyer, Miss Aughinbaugh and Mr. Kelley served cup cakes, coffee and chocolate milk.

Beaver Dam Club Meets

The Beaver Dam Home Demonstration Club met February 13 at the home of Mrs. Don Kuhn of Route 1, Claypool.

The lesson Food Marketing was given by Mrs. Wilvin Teel and Mrs. Glen Lowman. A report on "Immunization of Children" was given by Mrs. Doll Barber and meditation and group singing were led by Mrs. Charles Adams and Mrs. Dick Whittenberger respectively.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess to 12 members.

Home Ec. Club Meets

The Friendly Neighbors H. E. Club met February 7, with Mrs. Mary Shirey as the hostess, with seventeen members and three guests present.

The usual business was conducted by the president, Mrs. Wreatha Ballenger.

The club voted to give $2.00 to the Indiana Farm Students Youth Exchange program.

Mrs. Herman Olson very ably presented the club lesson on "Family Out-look."

During the social hour contests were enjoyed and delicious refreshments were served by the hostess and her co-hostess, Mrs. Doris Whetstone.

Mentone School Has Most Modern Home Economics Classroom

Dinette, Stoves, Sink Units and Cabinets on East Side

The four views on this page are of the new home economics room at the Mentone school, and it can be truly said that it is one of the finest that can be found anywhere. The entire unit has been approved by Purdue University and has sufficient equipment for a class of twenty students.

All the kitchen units were provided by Coppes of Nappanee, and cabinets cover all four walls. Five complete dinette sets were also secured from the same firm.

Baker's Jewelry & Appliance supplied the five sinks, five electric stoves, automatic washer and dryer, refrigerator and freezer unit and fluorescent lighting.

Ward Paint and Wallpaper Store furnished the floor tile and Leon Smythe of Palestine handled the plumbing and electrical wiring.

As the entire unit was made in accordance with plans approved by Purdue University, it automatically raises the class of the school in respect to this type of instruction, and aid from the state will be increased $1,520.00 per year. On this basis, the township will be completely reimbursed within a period of six years.

The new unit is completely separate from the former kitchen unit and is located in a room on the northwest corner of the lower floor.

Trustee Earl Boggs and his advisory committee are to be complimented for this fine improvement to our school. They have also made many other additions to the school in the past few months. Patrons are free to visit the school at any time and see first hand what an up-to-date school we have.

Few Farmers Rent All Land

The percentage of rented farms in Indiana is decreasing and is now at the lowest level in the 20th century.

This is the report of Purdue University agricultural economists Paul R. Robbins and L. S. Robertson.

In the early years of Indiana agriculture, few farms were rented. As the population increased in proportion to land resources, farm renting increased until about 1930.

Since that time each U. S. Census report has shown a smaller proportion of farmers who rented all their land.

These other significant changes in Hoosier farm tenancy are also pointed out by Robbins and Robertson:

The percentage of part rented farms is increasing. With increased mechanization and other developments, a farmer can handle more land. This has resulted in more "part rented" farms as farmers lease land in addition to the acreage they own. The percentage of part-rented farms has risen from about 12 per cent of all farms in 1940 to nearly 20 per cent in 1954.

Farms are tending away from single-tract units. For instance, in Forest township, Clinton Co., approximately one-half of the farm land in 1955 was in multi-tract farms—farms with two or more tracts that were either non-adjointing or under separate ownership, or both. Other studies indicate that this is fairly representative situation.

There is no significant change in the total farmland rented. With a larger proportion of farmers renting extra land to operate with the land they own, but a smaller proportion renting all they operate, the total proportion of farm acreage rented has varied only slightly since 1925.

There is no uniformity in farm tenancy trends over Indiana. Between 1940 and 1954 the percentage of farms rented decreased in all-type-or-farming areas. In 1954 the highest rate of tenancy was in the cash grain area with Benton county having 74 per cent of its land rented. The areas with the least land rented were south central and southeast Indiana. Only 10 per cent of Orange county, 11 per cent of Harrison county and 13 per cent of Crawford and Floyd county farm land was rented.

Robbins and Robertson point out that these changes "give background for a better understanding of the problems of agricultural production and farm living in the state."

Liquid Fertilizer Compared With Dry

Indiana farmers used about 15,000 tons of liquid fertilizer last year and demand for the product is spreading.

That is the report of A. J.

Ohlrogge, Purdue University agronomist, who points out there are two general groups of liquid fertilizer available.

One is priced competitively with dry fertilizer for soil application. The other is sold by the quart and gallon for application on foliage, a practice not recommended by state experiment stations.

Some liquids for soil application contain only one plant food, the nitrogen solutions. Others contain two or more of the major plant foods, nitrogen, phosphorus and/or potassium.

The most practical types of application are broadcasting on land to be plowed under, top dressing on established grasses and row application on corn. There is no loss of plant food to the air when the fertilizer is sprayed on the ground since neutral complete liquids contain no "free" ammonia, Ohlrogge says.

Most of the complete solid fertilizer grades of lower analysis are available in the liquid form. Phosphate-potash mixtures are exceptions since ammonia nitrogen is needed to neutralize the phosphoric acid.

Ohlrogge asserts that liquids will not replace all of the solid fertilizers, since each fills a need.

As to the comparative value of the two forms, he has this comment:

"The same chemical compounds in either liquid or solid will give the same return if applied in the same way to the soil. The small amount of water added in the liquid has little or no beneficial effects."

Ohlrogge points out that much equipment for handling liquids is available. Dealers generally have equipment for either custom application or rental on a "do it yourself" basis.

Farmers are cautioned to investigate thoroughly before purchasing equipment.

Some farmers, using the shop, have switched to liquids with a comparatively small outlay.

SERVING IN GERMANY

Pfc. Jimmie W. Estes, 19, whose wife, Dorothy, lives at Route 1, Tippecanoe, Ind., recently was assigned to the 87th Antiaircraft Artillery Battalion's Battery B in Germany.

Estes, a wireman, entered the Army in March 1955 and arrived overseas the following November.

INCOME TAX FACTS No. 6

Medical Deductions and Widow Benefits

(This is one of a series of articles on federal income tax filing. These articles are based on information provided by the American Institute of Accountants, and the Indiana Society of Certified Public Accountants in cooperation with the Internal Revenue Service.)

Uncle Sam realizes family doctor bills and dentist bills can add up; so he permits you to itemize and deduct all medical expenses beyond 3 percent of your adjusted gross income.

Sick Benefits are not counted as income. Here is what you can receive free of tax from your employer or his insurance company:

- (1) Payment for medical expenses
- (2) Payment for permanent injury (not based on time absent from work)
- (3) Damages for injury or sickness
- (4) Payments under Workmen's Compensation Act
- (5) Payment up to $100 per week for loss of wages while you are absent due to injury or sickness, except that the first week's pay is taxable unless you are absent due to an injury or are hospitalized for at least one day.

Sick Pay Benefits

If "sick pay" payments from your employer are included in the wages shown on your withholding slips, you should subtract the proper amount from your income in the place provided on the first page of the tax return (Form 1040). Attach an explanation as described in the instruction book. You are entitled to exclude this amount even if you do not itemize deductions.

You are allowed a deduction for medical expenses beyond 3 percent of your adjusted gross income, but if you (or your husband or wife) are 65 or over, the 3 percent rule does not apply to your own medical expenses. It does apply, however, to any medical expenses you pay for your dependents.

Among the items to include in your list of medical expenses are fees of doctors, dentists, hospitals and nurses. You can also deduct premiums for health, accident, hospitalization and medical insurance, but you must reduce your medical expenses by the amount of any benefits received from insurance.

Medicines Are Also Deductible

Your total deduction is limited to a maximum amount for the year, as explained in the instruction book, and medicines and drugs may be included in your medical expenses only to the extent they exceed 1 percent of your gross income.

Widows and Widowers

The federal tax code contains several provisions of special interest to widows and widowers:

- (1) You may file a joint return with a husband or wife who died during the tax year if no separate return is filed.
- (2) If you have not remarried and have in your household a dependent child or stepchild, you are entitled for the next two years to use the same tax computation (with income-splitting privileges) as you have been entitled to on a joint return.
- (3) When life insurance proceeds are taken as an annuity or in installments, widows and widowers are allowed up to $1000 per year of tax free payments in addition to a pro rata amount of the principal.
- (4) You may be entitled to a deduction for child-care expenses.
- (5) You may be entitled to retirement income credit if your deceased husband or wife would have qualified.

The instruction book which comes with your tax forms gives further information. Help is also available by telephone or at offices of the Internal Revenue Service. The Revenue Service urges you to consult a properly qualified advisor if you decide to seek outside help.

Mrs. Anderson Buried Sunday

Mrs. Emery (Lenna) Anderson, 75, of Mentone died at the Woodlawn hospital in Rochester of complication Thursday night after being seriously ill the past two months.

Mrs. Anderson, whose husband is a veterinarian, had lived her entire life in the Mentone community. She was the daughter of Frank and Addie (Groves) Coplen, and was born October 3, 1881. She married Mr. Anderson in 1903.

Mrs. Anderson was a member of the Mentone Church of Christ and Mentone Home Economics club.

Surviving are her husband, two daughters, Mildred Anderson, of Flint, Michigan, and Mrs. Kathleen Camplejohn, Michigan City, Ind.; three sons, Ira, Evanston, Ill., Dr. Wendell of Indianapolis, and Robert of Midland, Michigan; six grandchildren two brothers, Wallace of Warsaw and Walter of Albuquerque, N. M.; one sister, Mrs. Zora Hall, also of Albuquerque.

Funeral services were conducted at 3 p. m. Sunday at the Mentone Church of Christ. Rev. Ralph Burris officiated. Burial was in the Sycamore cemetery.

Engaged

Mrs. Fred Horn, of Mentone, announces the engagement of her daughter, Donna Lee, to Ellis Shepherd, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ranel Shepherd, of Route 2, Claypool.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Mentone high school and her fiancé attended Piercetown high school. Both are employed at the Warsaw Furniture factory.

No date has been set for the wedding.

NEIGHBORS HELP

Devone Jones spent a week in the Rochester hospital and was then taken to the Memorial hospital, and Mrs. Jones, who is under the doctor's care, was taken to the home of a son, Gaylord at Syracuse. Last Wednesday the neighbors came to the Sevastopol farm home of the Jones and cleaned out the cattle shed. Those who helped were: Charles Shoemaker, Harry Cole, Brooks Black, John Rhodarmel, Wallace Andrews, John Gigers, Ernest Igo, Don Kuhn, and Ben Earned.

Howard Phebus
Passes Away

Howard Phebus, 60, who resided three miles northwest of Mentone, died of a heart ailment at 11 p. m. Thursday in Woodlawn hospital of Rochester.

In failing health for several months, Mrs. Phebus has been seriously ill four weeks.

Born in Marshall county February 15, 1897, he was the son of Daniel and Lillie (Kalmbacher) Phebus. On June 13, 1917, he married Orpha Harley. Mr. Phebus was a farmer and lifelong resident of Marshall county.

He leaves his widow, three sons, John, of Rochester, Max, of Piercetown, and Foster, of California; one daughter, Mrs. Katherine Ellinger, of Chicago; a sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Simcoe, Fort Wayne; a brother, Walter, of Plymouth; five grandchildren and two step-grandchildren.

Rev. Irwin Olson, pastor of the Mentone Baptist church officiated at services in the Reed funeral home, at 2:30 p. m. Sunday. Interment was in the Tippecanoe cemetery.

Mentone High School Annual
Basketball supper

Plans for the annual basketball supper were discussed at the recent meeting of the committee in charge. March 13 is the date to remember. Ham, hot rolls, and coffee will be furnished by the school and parent-teacher's association.

It is a pot-luck supper and those attending bring food and their own table service.

The entire community is invited to attend. A very interesting program is planned. Annual sports awards will be presented. For the sport-minded community it will be a night you won't want to miss. Movies are planned for the children. Watch next week's paper for details of our program. Those working on the committee are: Mr. and Mrs. John Irvin, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Keplinger, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Holloway, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Romine, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Tombaugh, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Nelson, Iris Anderson, John Frederick and Abe Hoogenboom.

Remember March 13, at 6:30 p. m., Mentone High School Annual Basketball Supper.

Five Die When Autos Collide

Five persons, including two small boys, were killed Monday night when two cars collided head on at a curve in U. S. 31 south of Plymouth, Ind.

There were no survivors.

Indiana state police identified the victims as Cloyd Richard Taylor, 36, of South bend, Ind., driver of one of the cars, and the following passengers in his car, Mrs. Lucinda Brady, 24, also of South Bend, and her two sons, William Carson, 6, and Donald Edward, 4. The fifth victim was William Clyde Fisher, 45, a farmer, of Tippecanoe, Indiana., driver of the second car.

Police said Fisher's southbound car went out of control on a curve in the two-lane highway three miles south of Plymouth, which is 23 miles south of South Bend.

Tire tracks on the shoulder showed Taylor tried to get his car off the road and avoid the car careening toward him.

Mr. Fisher had lived his entire life on the farm two miles west of Tippecanoe where he was born on February 5, 1912, to Veloris and Almyra (Harding) Fisher. His parents reside on the same farm.

He was married on December 3, 1930 to Lottie Harmon, who also survives. He was a member of the Tippecanoe IOOF and the Moose and Eagles lodges in Plymouth.

Other survivors are a son, Michael Joe, at home; a brother, Charles, R. R. 2, Bourbon, and four sisters: Mrs. Alice Hutchison, R. R. 2, Bourbon; Mrs. Rose Mikesell and Mrs. Annabell Richardson, both of Rochester, and Mrs. Irene Boganwright, of Mentone.

Funeral services will be held in the Grossman funeral home in Argos at 2 p. m. Thursday with the Rev. Roy Richey, of Walnut Church of the Brethren officiating. Burial will be in the church cemetery.

FINE RESPONSE TO HEART FUND APPEAL

The employees of the DeLuxe Cleaners wish to express their thanks and appreciation for the fine response received in Mentone Sunday in the solicitation for contributions to the heart fund. Approximately $250 was received.

May Organize Flying Club

A small group of flying enthusiasts met at the Peterson Restaurant last Thursday evening and discussed the possibility of organizing a local flying club.

There are many flying clubs in the surrounding areas and the preliminary plans are that after a club is organized, it will purchase an airplane to be used by the members, on an hourly rental sufficient to pay the costs of operation. Likely a monthly dues will be expected from each member in addition to the cost of flight time.

Another meeting is set for Friday evening, March 8 at the Peterson Restaurant and all that are interested in flying are invited to the meeting.

New Daughter

A daughter, Maranel Sue, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Dale Nellans at the Murphy Medical Center at Warsaw, Feb. 17th. The young lady weighed in at eight pounds and six ounces.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Walter Pankop of Kendallville and Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Nellans of Mentone.

SIGNS OF SPRING

Mentone citizens have been reporting the early arrivals in the robin family, and last Saturday Talma's Lon Walker was in Mentone carrying a live moth or butterfly which he had found at the big city along the Tippecanoe.

Wednesday afternoon your editor noticed a farmer was already turning over a few furrows in one of his fields.

Another good sign, too, is the fact that some of those of our citizens who winter in the southland are returning. Among the first were Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Nellans who arrived Saturday.

HAS OPERATION

Mrs. Paul Creakbaum underwent a gall bladder operation at the Woodlawn hospital at Rochester Tuesday.

HAS HEART ATTACK

Harold Smythe was taken to the Murphy Medical Center after suffering a heart attack on Monday. He was placed under oxygen, but latest reports are that he is much improved.

Place In Swine Show

Interest of Indiana swine growers in the truck load class in the eighth annual Hoosier Spring Barrow Show brought out the largest entries in this group ever to be shown. The live show was held at the Swine Barn at the Indiana State Fairgrounds Tuesday.

A total of 713 hogs were entered in the show today by the 145 exhibitors participating. Exactly half of Indiana's 92 counties were represented by farmers, breeders and commercial hog producers who had entries in the show.

Winners in the on foot show for the Duroc breed from this area included: E. K. Severns, Rt. 5, Warsaw, Lightweight Single Barrows, 3rd; pens of Three Barrows, 6th; Mediumweight Single Barrows, 8th.

Ronald E. Severns, R. 5, Warsaw, Pens of Three Barrows, 5th and 8th; Mediumweight Single Barrows, 3rd and 7th.

Marriage Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur S. Kendall, of near Mentone, announced the marriage of their daughter, Dorothy, to Jim W. Estes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Estes, Indianapolis.

The couple were married January 10, at the First Baptist church, Kokomo. The ceremony was performed by Dr. J. M. Newson, pastor.

The bride wore a light blue princess style dress of silk. Attendants were Mrs. Raymond Rauch, sister of the bride; and William M. Oakes, brother-in-law of the groom.

Mr. Estes is stationed with the armed forces at Worms, Germany. Mrs. Estes is now residing with her parents, Route 1, Tippecanoe. She plans to join her husband in Germany the latter part of May.

CLUB CALENDAR

The Friendly Neighbors Home Demonstration Club will meet March 7, at 1:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Monroe Romine. Eastern Star will meet March 4 at 7:45 p. m. at the Masonic Hall.

Benefit Fish Fry At Tippecanoe

The Tippecanoe Volunteer Firemen are again planning for our annual fish fry. This is our fourth annual affair. We have a great urge to make this fish fry a bigger and better one than last year. Again we are planning free entertainment, following the dinner, to last approximately an hour and a half. All the firemen and the Ladies Auxiliary put forth a great effort to make a little money and also give the people a better service and a more varied entertainment.

For the amount of profit we hope to receive, we have the intention of replacing some worn out equipment and also purchasing new equipment. We had an emergency here in our township about a month ago and had we been called we may have been unable to help at all. This may have cost a life. Our thoughts run on the fact that we do need such emergency equipment and want to acquire some as soon as permissible.

In order to raise money to get our fire department started we raised money in many different ways. We had had ice cream socials, have gone to the Bourbon Fair with an eating stand, sold fire extinguishers, collected donations from the township people, plus our annual fish fries.

In January of 1956 the Township took over the Fire Department and have helped a great deal with the allocations designated for our expenses. We are grateful for all the help we have had in the past and are looking forward to better fire protection for our town, township and the neighboring communities in the future.

We would like to extend a cordial welcome to you and your friends to attend this Fourth Annual Fish Fry, Tuesday, March 5th. Fish are again being fried by the Akron Jonah Club members and our tickets are being sold at the reasonable price of $1.25 for adults and 75c for children. This price includes our entertainment after dinner. The serving time is from 5:30 to 7:30 P. M. We are planning a program of variety which, we hope, will please everyone. Again may I say "A Hearty Welcome."

Jamboree At Valley Forge

A 1500 acre tent City will rise next July at Historic Valley Forge in Pennsylvania. It will house 50,000 Boy Scouts, Explorers and their Leaders from every part of the Nation, in addition to some Scouts from other lands. The Nation's newest temporary City of 50,000 will teem with excitement. This temporary City will provide ample food, an adequate water supply, fire and police protection, medical facilities, a telephone exchange, trading post, inter-camp bus transportation, radio and T. V. station. Over night the City will rise and function.

The experiences Scouts and Explorers will enjoy happens once in a Scout's life. Pioneer Trails Council has an allotment of 46 Boys who may attend the 4th National Jamboree, thus far 36 boys have registered—There is still room for ten more. Reservation may be sent to Boy Scout Office, 519½ So. Main St., Elkhart, Indiana.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our deepest appreciation to our friends, relatives and neighbors for the many messages of sympathy, flowers and other acts of kindness extended to us at the recent loss of our dear father.

BEAVER DAM HIGH SCHOOL BASKETBALL

By Roger Neilans

Last Friday night, February 22 the Beavers traveled to Silver Lake to finish their season's basketball schedule and lost 72-60.

The Ramblers led at the end of each quarter, but the game was closely fought through-out. Silver Lake, playing without the services of their star center, Dave Kinsey who was sidelined with illness, connected consistently from the 15 and 20 foot mark to score 31 baskets while the Beavers were able to connect on only 17. Beaver Dam, however, scored 26 points out of 40 free throws while the Ramblers converted only 10 of 16.

Larry Bibler of Beaver Dam continued to lead the Beavers' scoring with 32 points while Fingerle led the Ramblers with 25.

Business College Has New Officer

Mrs. Dorothy E. Bulmahn was named secretary-treasurer of the International Business College of Fort Wayne at a recent organizational meeting. Mr. Bulmahn died after a cerebral hemorrhage last summer.

Officers re-elected for the coming year include O. A. Dillinger, president and Weldon R. Gross, vice president.

Mrs. Bulmahn is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Smith of Warsaw and lived in Mentone for a number of years.

Short Profits On Food Sales

Recently published figures show that food chains use more than 98 cents of each sales dollar to buy merchandise and pay salaries, rent, utilities, service, equipment, taxes and other costs. The small margin of profit remaining is made possible only because of self-service, cash and carry, large volume, fast turnover and ever-increasing efficiency.

To graphically illustrate the small net profit realized by these stores, some of the stores on a recent day gave each customer a single penny in a small envelope. Printed on the envelope was a message explaining that the penny approximated the chain's net profit on each dollar of food sales. Actually the profit averages 1.2 per cent of that dollar.

Modern operating methods followed by the food chains have cut the cost of distribution by one-fourth since 1933—though in those intervening years the cost of practically everything the chains must buy and use have soared. And what is true of chain merchandising in the food field, is true generally of all other kinds of mass retailing.

Tobacco $7 Million Crop

Indiana farmers received approximately seven million dollars for their 11 million pounds of tobacco produced last year.

Russell K. Stivers, Purdue University agronomist, reports that there were tobacco allotments totalling about 6,800 acres in about half of the state's 92 counties last year.

Indiana tobacco growers produce mostly burley tobacco with an average yield of approximately 1,650 pounds per acre. During the 1956-57 marketing season sales at Indiana's two markets—Madison and New Albany—averaged about $64 per 100 lbs. Purdue's research with burley tobacco has been concerned with variety testing, fertilization and management. Since the University has no tobacco barns or facilities for testing the tobacco, work is carried on at the farms of growers. Variety tests this year are planned in Dearborn, Harrison and Spencer counties.

Cub Scouts Honored At Dinner Meeting Tuesday

Boys of the five dens representing the Mentone Cub pack were honored at a special carry-in dinner held at the Methodist church Tuesday evening. Nearly a hundred boys, parents and the leaders gathered in the church basement to enjoy the bounteous dinner that was set before them.

Following the dinner, all assembled in the church auditorium to enjoy the program that had been prepared.

Cubmaster Frank Nellans was in charge of the program, and the annual charter renewal was presented to the pack by Rev. Milton Persons. (The Methodist church is the sponsoring organization for the pack.)

New membership cards were presented to each of the Cubs, and three dens tied for the attendance award.

Four boys, John Wentzel, Ken Romine, Teddy Shoemaker and Mike Stanford received gold and silver arrows and were presented with the wolf badges they had earned. Sonny Nellans received the bear badge, which is the next award, possible after the wolf badge.

Three of the dens presented short programs of entertainment and a few remarks by Artley D. Cullum completed the evening's program.

There are 29 boys in the Mentone pack, and they are distributed in five dens. Each den has a den mother and assistant, a den father and a senior leader.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank each and every one for the many cards, letters and calls while being shut in with a broken ankle.

Make Trip To Kansas City

Ronald Severns returned recently from Kansas City where he was honored for his corn-growing ability by Spencer Chemical Company. Selected from among 1,250 entrants in a sixteen state Efficient Corn Growing Program, sponsored by Spencer, Ronald was given a three-day, all-expense trip to Kansas City (Feb. 7-Feb. 9). His Voc.-Ag. instructor, Robert Hewlett, accompanied him on the trip.

The three days of activity held in Kansas City for the winners included tours of a fertilizer manufacturing plant, automobile assembly plant, and a tour of the city. The trip was climaxed with a banquet at the Hotel President at which Ronald told of the methods he used to improve his corn-growing efficiency.

To qualify for the trip, each participant was required to grow at least two acres of corn. On the one plot, he followed usual corn growing practices employed on his farm. On the other, he used practices which, in his own judgement, would contribute to a more efficient and more profitable yield. The aim of the Program was to increase the participant's knowledge and use of efficient up-to-date practices. Efficiency was stressed above maximum yield.

Dairy Event March 4th

Need for high quality roughages will be emphasized at Purdue University's first feeding and management conference for dairy farmers, artificial insemination technicians and DHIA testers, March 4-5.

N. S. Lundquist, Purdue dairyman, has announced that the two-day program will consist of both discussion groups and the "learn-by-doing" sessions.

There will be no registration fee. Persons who expect to attend and remain overnight in Lafayette should make reservations now at the Purdue Union Building or elsewhere. Tickets also are available for the Purdue-Iowa basketball game, March 4.

The program, March 4, will open at 8:30 a. m. in Smith Hall. After objectives of the conference are explained by H. W. Gregory, head of the dairy department, Purdue veterinarians will discuss such subjects as calf scours, milk fever, ketosis, mastitis and bloat.

In the afternoon, the conference will shift to the Dairy Center. B. W. Crowl, superintendent of the Purdue Dairy farm, and Nelson Butcher, herdsman, will give demonstrations on dehorning and removal of extra teats, clipping udders, and foot trimming. Two Purdue dairy staff members, D. L. Hill and T. G. Martin, will report on the value of accurate and complete dairy records.

The forage session will be conducted during the morning session, Tuesday, March 5. Lundquist, Crowl and Hill will discuss pasture, hay and silage. C. H. Nollen, also of the Purdue dairy staff, will talk on supplementing roughages with grain, proteins and minerals. Martin will speak on feed additives such as urea and stilbestrol.

The Purdue dairymen will lead discussions on the care and feeding of young dairy calves, handling the growing heifer, and pregnant cows at the final session Tuesday afternoon.

EGG FLOCKS CULLED BY 9 MILLION BIRDS

Washington—The U. S. Department of Agriculture's Crop Reporting Board estimates that farmers culled some nine million birds out of laying flocks during January.

This compares with an estimated 3.7 million birds culled from flocks during the same month of 1956.

USDA places the February 1, 1957 flocks of hens and pullets of laying age at 330,114,000 birds, slightly above the year-earlier flock.

The Department revised estimate of the January 1, 1957 flock is 339,264,000 hens and pullets of laying age (up to 1.7 million from the original estimate).

Government statisticians also have revised upward their estimate of the December 1, 1956 flock to make it conform with January 1 data obtained by more comprehensive sampling. The new December 1 figure is 337,420,000 hens and pullets up 3.4 million from the initial count.

(USDA is asking Congress for funds with which to improve accuracy of laying-flock estimates. The Department wants to increase the size of its sample, giving special emphasis to big-scale production areas.)

Show Pictures At Club Meet

On Tuesday evening the Anthony Nigo Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution of Mentone met at the Kenneth Riner home. Mrs. Vera Kelley assisted Mrs. Riner.

Mrs. Ray Linn was in charge of the program for the evening and presented the Don Poulson's of Etna Green. Mr. Poulson very ably lectured and showed colored slides of India, one of the places of great interest visited on their "Round The World" trip made recently in which many interesting and a few nerve racking experiences were theirs.

Dainty refreshments were served by the hostesses to the members and their guests consisting of Mrs. Phillip Clinger, Rochester, Mrs. Dan Clauss of Bremen, Mrs. Dale Stiffler, Mrs. Orville McFadden, Mrs. Fred Marty, Mrs. Herman Olson, and Mrs. Sherman Bybee all of Mentone.

MENTONE HIGH SCHOOL BASKETBALL

By Larry Teel

Mentone's Bulldogs suffered their worst defeat of the season as the Manchester Trojans trounced them by 30 points, 77-47.

It was a good ball game until Manchester exploded at the start of the third period and leaped to a 15 point advantage as the quarter ended. Still not satisfied they increased the margin to 30 points as they outscored the Bulldogs 21-6 in the final stanza.

The first half proved very interesting as the two teams traded baskets and ended the first half 34-32 in Manchester's favor. The Roberts boys proved to be Mentone's downfall as Richard hit 25 points and his brother Fred held Toom Hoover to twelve points.

The second team won for Mentone ending the season with a 49-41 triumph, their 17th in 18 games. Holloway led Mentone's scoring with 22 markers.

In regards to the sectional Coach Abe Hoogenboom has plenty of confidence in his team and says that any team can have an off night. We agree Mentone's had their off night and should be ready to roll when they met Milford Friday morning. Now a word to the team. Many papers have picked you to beat Milford but that Pierceton will defeat you. Let's see you prove that they were wrong!

Burket Cheerio Club Meets

The Burket Cheerio 4-H Club met at the home of Renita Ring. The meeting was called to order by Margaret Baugher. Pledge of allegiance to the American flag was given by Cynthia Nichols and the pledge to the 4-H flag was given by Arlys Thompson.

Roll call was answered by how many Valentine's each received. The secretary's report was read and approved. The treasurer's report was given by Arlys Thompson. We decided to have a Bake Sale on March 9, 1957, at Dave's Store at Burket and each girl was told what to bring. Record books were passed out by our leader Marcella Meredith. Health and Safety was given by Cynthia Nichols. Song leader Jill Newcomb led us in group singing. Linda Hauptert gave a demonstration on making different shop sandwiches.

All first year members were initiated. Delicious refreshments were served by Renita Ring and Vivian Hurst.

The meeting was then adjourned.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our loving husband and father who passed away one year ago February 27, 1956.

Long days, long nights you bore your pain,

Waiting for cure but not in vain.

God saw you were suffering, the hills were hard to climb,

So he closed your weary eyes and whispered, "Peace be Thine."

But deep in our hearts you are living yet,

We loved you too much to ever forget.

MRS. WILLIAM GUY, REBECCA and ROSEMARY

Use Your Head!

There has been a marked increase in the number of people—and especially people of modest means and incomes—who are investing a part of their savings in stocks. These people, in other words, are buying a direct personal interest in the capitalist system, and that is all to the good.

What is definitely bad, however, is an upsurge in stock swindles, which are designed to rob the gullible, the greedy and the unwary of their money and which often succeed to the tune of many millions of dollars.

Sylvia Porter, the business and financial columnist writes, "A new wave of stock swindles is sweeping the land." She adds that never before has the Securities and Exchange Commission had to deal with such widespread fraud, deceit and manipulation in the sale of securities as this.

The reputable brokerage houses and stock exchanges, no less than the SEC and other government agencies, are doing everything possible to rid the securities business of the crooks. But they can not succeed fully unless they have the help of an informed and intelligent investing public. That means a public which turns a deaf ear to high-powered sales pitches, tips and rumors—and a public which deals with established dealers only and investigates before it buys. The basic point is covered by Miss Porter in these words: "Use your head! If and when you buy securities, know why you're buying, what you're buying, and from and through whom you're buying."

STAGGERING PROSPECT

U. S. News & World Report points out that, under the proposed new budget, $14 billion a year will be spent for welfare activities—as against 3.2 billion 10 years ago. And that doesn't count the programs for aiding veterans and farmers which, together, will come to $10.5 million more.

This is the situation in an era of record employment, record incomes, and a record gross national product. What would happen if there were even a moderate down-turn in business activity and a consequent drop in tax revenues? The prospect is staggering.

INCOME TAX FACTS No. 7

Not All Income is Taxable

(This is one of a series of articles on federal income tax filing. These articles are based on information provided by the American Institute of Accountants, and the Indiana Society of Certified Public Accountants in cooperation with the Internal Revenue Service.)

Taxpayers make more mistakes in listing their income than any other type of error, according to a survey made by the Internal Revenue Service. It is important to know what to include and what NOT to include. Look at this list and see if you can tell which should be listed on a tax return:

Dividends from an insurance policy

Social Security Benefits

Gifts

Payments received under Workmen's Compensation laws

The answer is that NONE of the above should be listed as taxable income. There are other forms of exempt income, too, which you will find listed in the official instruction book. Some of them are:

Inheritances and bequests (the estate may be taxed but not the recipient)

Railroad Retirement Act benefits

Certain health and accident benefits

Damages awarded by a court or paid out of court for personal injuries

Government payments and benefits to veterans and their families, except nondisability retirement pay and interest on terminal leave bonds.

How Prizes Are Taxed

If you won a prize, watch this fine distinction: the prize is taxable if you were required to exert even the slightest effort to earn it; on the other hand, if it was made in recognition of scientific, literary or other achievement you would have performed anyway, the prize is considered a gift and you are not taxed on it.

Most scholarships and fellowships are exempt unless they are paid as compensation for services, such as teaching and research. Another point to remember in connection with scholarships: in figuring support for a dependent you do not have to count scholarships received by a student.

Some income, such as limited amounts of "sick pay" and the first $50 of certain dividends, must be explained in the tax return, but are not taxed.

If you have an annuity from life insurance, pension plan or other source, the portion which you may receive tax-free depends on your life expectancy and the amount you paid for the annuity. The Internal Revenue Service will furnish actuarial tables upon request to help you figure this out.

Anyone who owns stock needs to know about the dividend exclusion and credit. This applies only to dividends from corporations which are subject to United States corporation income tax and does not include dividends from savings and loan associations, credit unions or foreign corporations.

Your first $50 of qualified dividends is tax free. Husband and wife are each entitled to exclude the first $50 for dividends on stocks that each owns.

If you received dividends beyond this amount, you are entitled to a "dividends received credit". This credit is 4% of the remaining dividends, but it cannot be more than 4% of your taxable income, or more than the amount of tax otherwise due. The credit is not just a deduction from your taxable income—it is actually subtracted from your tax.

For example, if you received $550 in dividends, you can exclude $50 from your taxable income, and subtract 4% of $500—or $20—from the tax you would otherwise pay. The last page of the tax form provides a schedule for figuring the amount of your credit.

The instruction book which comes with your tax forms gives further information. Help is also available by telephone or at offices of the Internal Revenue Service. The Revenue Service urges you to consult a properly qualified advisor if you decide to seek outside help.

Married Recently

Three hundred guests witnessed the wedding of Miss Jacquelin Blue, of Mentone, and Earl Yeiter, of Warsaw, held at the Mentone Methodist church on Saturday, January 26.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Blue, of Mentone, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Lester E. Yeiter of Route 4, Warsaw.

Prior to the reading of the double ring ceremony by Rev. David Gosser, of Ligonier, an organ and piano and violin prelude of nuptial airs was presented by Mrs. Dan Urschel and Mrs. Milton Persons, of Mentone.

For her wedding the bride chose a gown of bluish pink imported lace and French tulle featuring a fitted lace bodice sprinkled with iridescent sequins, and a floor-length bouffant skirt of French tulle with lace motif. To her sequin covered half-hat was caught a finger tip veil of imported silk illusion styled with blusher.

Mrs. Dean McIntyre, of Elkhart, matron of honor, Miss Martha Creighton, of Warsaw, and Mrs. Charles J. Myers, of Syracuse, other bridal attendants, wore dresses in shades of aqua. The street-length empire dresses were fitted in front and styled with an interesting fullness at the back. They wore pink pearl tiaras with pink veils. Their flowers were white camellias and pink roses.

The little flower girl, Miss Nancy Zimmerman, of Warsaw, a cousin of the bridegroom, wore a floor-length gown of aqua net over taffeta.

Her accessories were white and she carried a white basket of pink roses.

bridegroom, Ralph F. Schneider, of Dayton, Ohio; and Charles W. Holloway, of Muncie, Jack H. Morrison, of Indianapolis, Chuck Meyers of Syracuse and Glenn R. Moorehead, of Syracuse, were best man and ushers, respectively. A cousin of the bride, Kenneth Blue, of Elkhart, was ring bearer.

Miss Mable Rebman, of Warsaw, held the guest book.

At the reception held at Petro's, Mrs. James Rodibaugh, Mrs. Richard Manwaring, Mrs. David Cooper, Mrs. Joseph Boggs, Mrs. Robert Hill and Miss Donagene Dillman assisted with the serving. Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Sellers and Mr. and Mrs. K. A. Riner were members of the reception committee.

Mrs. Yeiter, a graduate of Mentone high school, was employed for four years at the Mentone Farmers State Bank. Mr. Yeiter, a graduate of Leeburg high school and Indiana University, is a methods engineer at Dalton Foundries Inc. in Warsaw. They are residing in Warsaw.

Following the marriage they spent a week at New Orleans.

Visit Washington

Eighty-five Indiana Farmers Union members spent four days in Washington, D. C. last week on a mission to alert Hoosier Senators and Representatives to the crisis caused by the breakdown of the corn price support and soil bank programs, according to a release given this newspaper by LaMar Leffert who was one of those in attendance from Kosciusko county. Others were T. Gene Warner and Charles R. Shock. Fulton county representatives were Wayne T. Beery and Clayton Scott, and C. D. Goodrich, Mrs. Frank Schmidt and Mr. and Mrs. Guy B. Davis were listed from Marshall county.

The Farmers Union release also stated that most farmers cannot afford to cut corn acreage through the soil bank program with the extremely low acreage allotment now in effect, and that other feed grains produced on acreage diverted from corn and other basic commodities are defeating efforts to adjust corn production. They urged a more realistic corn acreage allotment for 1957, provision for placing some of the acreage diverted from other crops into the soil bank, and provisions for reducing acreages of the other feed grains directly by making these crops eligible, as are the basic crops, for benefits under the Acreage Reserve section of the soil bank program.

VISITING FLORIDA

Mr. and Mrs. Dan L. Urschel and Mrs. Agnes Rans are enjoying a Florida vacation this week. They left in the Urschel airplane Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Cooper left on a Florida vacation last Saturday.

Leo Valentine will leave Indianapolis by plane Thursday morning for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Valentine, in Florida.
