Emery Windbigler Injured In Picker

Emery Windbigler, 23, was critically injured by a corn picker Tuesday of last week, on the farm of Mr. Gong near Rochester. His right shoulder and arm were crushed in the machine when his clothing presumably caught in the gears. His cries for help were heard by neighbors and he has rushed to Woodlawn hospital. Doctors stated today, that amputation of the arm was his only chance for recovery.

Windbigler had been working on the Gong farm for some time, but he made arrangements to enter a grade school in Pittsburg, Pa., January 3. He is the son of Mrs. Pearl Windbigler of near Mentone and a brother of Miss Lena Windbigler, a student of Mentone High School.

Greenmilk contains all the vitamins of young green cereals and is preserved in condensed, pasteurized buttermilk. Ask for it, the next time you call at the N. I. C. A.

A local man who was possessed of a wife, who was described as a most exasperating and cantankerous individual, died several months ago. The widow erected a modest headstone over his grave on which she had inscribed the words, "Rest Until I Come."

You have perhaps noticed that if a careless car driver folds up your bumpers or creases your fenders he is driving an old wreck of a car and is judgment proof.

For the benefit of some local hair-brained speed artists, we would call attention to the fact that a new auto mobile speed record of 311 miles an hour has been established. Unless the local speed artists know that their speed wagons can exceed that, there is no use in any longer jeopardizing the lives and fenders of cars of others trying it.

You may not know it, but fewer accidents are caused by traffic jams than by pickled drivers.

A local radio owner, quite advanced in years, can't refrain from sassing back speakers on the radio who take exceptions to the views and actions of his particular party. He doesn't disturb the speaker with his heckling, but he seems to get a lot of satisfaction out of it.

The fluent, gushing flatterer is seldom sincere, human nature isn't built that way.

Remember this the next time you go to buy some article of wearing apparel and ignore the 'too TOO' remarks of the clerk.

The average American consumes 13.7 pounds of coffee during a year and three fourths of a pound of tea.

The average Englishman consumes nine pounds of tea during a year, or twelve times as much as is consumed by the average American.

Did you know that four varieties of tea could be picked from the same bush?

The gossip, as a rule, prides himself upon his honesty, and would perhaps resent bitterly being charged with theft, but a gossip who robs another of his reputation, or attempts to undermine him with vicious lies, is a more contemptible and cowardly thief than the man who holds his fellow up at the point of a gun. The latter act requires some degree of courage. A gossip is always cowardly.

The worst enemy of accuracy and efficiency is lack of concentration. If you have a single track mind admit it, and keep your mind definitely on the thing you are doing. By so doing errors can be reduced to a minimum.

If each day isn't a new adventure in which you look forward to going to your work or your business with eagerness and anticipation and zest and high hopes and plans it is a sign you need a vacation.

When life seems to get into a rut, and things seem to drag along in a humdrum fashion, and the day loses its thrill, buy something new. It doesn't make much difference what you buy just so it is something new that you can see and use and handle each day. Maybe its a new hat, a new linoleum for the kitchen, a new sauce pan or a new tooth brush. It is a simple medicine. Try it some time.

Every man is a business man, under our present scheme of living, whether he conducts a store, or a farm, or works for a salary check. Managing a salary check is a business these days and one should make it so.

Every business is faced with the necessity of keeping the budget balanced, of keeping the income above the out go, and some times the wise handling of even a moderate salary check calls into practice the best of business practices.

If the administration can't find out how to get the national budget out of the red we would suggest that it call in the wife of a man who has raised a family and educated them and bought a home on a salary of a hundred dollars a month.

After an after-dinner speaker had spoken for about forty-five minutes one of the men at the table was overheard to say as he muffled a yawn, "I wish I could have heard him last night, I was troubled with insomnia and didn't sleep a wink all night."

One question that has never been answered is whether a woman's shape changes to fit the styles or the styles change to fit her shape.

Mrs. Earl Symes and son Roger of Rio De Janerio, Brazil are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Obe Haimbaugh.

HOROSCOPE

JANUARY 3, 4, 5 - You love to travel, even though you only go a short distance. Home is the most important thing to you, you love your children, and they love you, and you like to have them show it. People often fall in the way of letting you run things as you have a happy faculty of assuming control and they know you will show them a good time.

JANUARY 6, 7 - When it does not interfere with your interests you can be very affectionate. You are capable of being unreliable and very selfish. You are retaliative, stubborn, and have a fondness for giving advice. While you do not always live up to it you have a knowledge of what is just and right.

JANUARY 8, 9, 10 - You have a natural tendency to doubt and distrust. You are methodical, careful, and look ahead. Often even with the best and purest of intentions, a general knowledge of cause and effect, you strike a snag, probably because you rely too much on your own knowledge of the compass and chart and do not keep your eye on them enough.

Tickets may be obtained from the members of the class.

JUNIORS WRITE POEMS

One of the Options in the Junior English was a poem. Here is a poem that was selected by Mr. Paul Smith for publication.

WINTER

Winter is here
With ice and snow,
And chilly wind
From the west doth blow.

It won't be long
Till the snow will go;
Then the lilacs will bloom
And the poppies grow.
Oh! won't it be lovely,
Oh! won't it be nice,
To see the warm sun

Melt the snow and ice.

The birds will come
And joyfully sing,
And tell us about
The beautiful Spring.

Greenmelk

A blend of succulent young cereals and pure creamery buttermilk.....

Every Flock Farmer knows the benefits of keeping birds on the range during those few spring days when the grass is young and tender. Now those young green cereal grasses are yours to feed every day in the year. Greenmelk preserves all the vitamins in succulent young grasses by combining them with pure creamery buttermilk. It's old Mother Nature's own formula for building vigorous chicks that grow into hens able to stand the strain of high egg production. Ask your hatchery owner for complete details on this new champion feed supplement at once. The following experiment will explain why you can't afford to delay putting your flock on GREENMELK at once.

Direct, Proved Benefits

1. Greenmelk builds a healthier laying flock, resulting in less mortality. This is because the nutritive properties of the grasses are preserved by the condensed buttermilk.
2. Other things equal, Greenmelk increases egg production.
3. More home grown grains can be fed, when supplemented with Greenmelk.
4. Greenmelk lessens the possibility of winter pause in egg production.
5. Greenmelk reduces the number of culls by building more vigorous birds.
6. Fewer cull eggs are laid by Greenmelk-fed hens.
7. Better hatchability from a Greenmelk-fed flock will result in greater demand for hatching eggs.
8. Greenmelk makes it possible to keep birds off contaminated soil.
9. Greenmelk provides a spring feeding program the year round.

Two Minute Sermon

By

Thomas Hastwell

THE ONE AND ONLY WAY: One of the things for which Christ came to the earth was to bring peace - peace on earth and good will among men. When we look out upon the world today, with all its jealousy and contention, and threats and rumors of war abroad, and the discord and lack of harmony in the ranks of labor and capital at home, it seems that even after two thousand years of teaching that the world is far from the peace and the good will that the Christ sought to bring.

The difficulty, I think, is that we have been trying to accomplish this great program without its founder. We have chosen to try every other plan. We have sought to circumvent it by our wits, and skill, and cunning, and fancied intelligence. We have been seeking to accomplish it without Christ.

If this had been possible, Christ need never have come to this earth and suffer the indignities and the humiliation heaped upon him by an ignorant and unthinking people. Christ came because God knew this could never be accomplished by human cunning, and human force. Peace on earth and good will among men will never come to this earth except through the application of the principles and teachings of Christ. We may ignore them and follow other ways as long as we choose. We can rely upon our armies, and navies, and air forces, and the skill of our diplomats, but in the end they will all fail, unless the principles that Christ laid down are inviolated and made the only rule and guide of men and nations.

HOROSCOPE

JANUARY 10, 11, 12 - You are very devoted to your family, and very patient with your children. You show good judgment in the selection of your assistants and seldom get victimized by employees. You are sympathetic but not given to showing it and never make a parade of the good you do. You are a shrewd buyer and equally a shrewd seller. You are very thorough in every thing you do. Although you have a quick temper every one likes you.

JANUARY 13, 14, 15 - People born on these dates are apt to be cunning, shrewd and a little crafty, and are generally deep and secret planners. You worship at the shrine of cold, rigid justice, are military in your corrections and disciplines. Not being the least sentimental or weak, you often make an unhappy marriage. Although you show apparent generosity in your giving, at heart you are very selfish and grind out of others every bit of service they are capable of doing and that works to your own benefaction.

HOW ABOUT IT?

Did you ever find yourself just sittin' thinkin' and wishin' for an idea which would bring in a change? Well here it is--go up in the old attic where things have been stored perhaps years. ## OBITUARY

Mollenhour

Mrs. Mary J. Mollenhour was the daughter of John and Cathrine Morgan and was born in Kosciusko County April 12, 1862. She departed this life at her country home near Mentone on December 30, 1937 at the age of 75 years, 8 months and 18 days.

Mrs. Mollenhour was a member of a family of thirteen children of whom there are five brothers and two sisters living. Griffith Morgan of Alexandria, Indiana; Humphrey Morgan of Valparaiso, Indiana; Hiram Morgan, Rochester, Indiana; Charles Morgan, Warsaw, Indiana; and George Morgan, Heldenville, Oklahoma; Mrs. Ella Styles, Warsaw, Indiana and Mrs. Jerry Black of Michigan.

On October 30th, 1881, Miss Mary J. Morgan was united in marriage to Mr. Lyman L. Mollenhour and into this home there came seven children, six of whom are living; Chauncy and George Mollenhour of Mentone; Harvey Mollenhour of South Bend, Mrs. Lydia Nelson of South Bend; Mrs. Rhoda Jones and Mrs. Minnie Williamson of Burket, who with their father, nineteen grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren and a host of neighbors and friends to-day pay their special tribute of respect and love to a woman, who by her long life has proved her worth as a good wife and companion, a devoted mother and a dependable friend.

Mrs. Mollenhour was a member of the Mentone Methodist Episcopal Church having united with its membership on June 3, 1906 under the pastorate of Rev. D. I. Hower and to this church she gave many years of devoted service.

In the closing days of Mrs. Mollenhour's life she seemed to realize, like the apostle Paul, that the time of her departure was near at hand and was anxious for the reunion with her people who had preceeded her in death and of this she seemed quite certain because of her trust and confidence in her Savior, the Christ. A few days before her death she talked freely and in a very beautiful way with her pastor and to her family, and offered some suggestions relative to her funeral service one of which being that Rerend Doctor O. T. Martin, a former pastor, have a part, and her wishes in this matter were carried out.

God's plans like lilies pure and white unfold,
We must not tear the close shut leaves apart;
Time will reveal the chalcies of gold;
And if perchance we reach the land,

Where tired feet with loosed sandals may rest,
When we may clearly know and understand,
I think that we will say—"God knew the best."

Two Minute Sermon

By

Thomas Hastwell

THE ONLY SOLUTION: I have seen many men of whom I believe it could be truly said, were consecrated business men. They appeared to put their very heart, and life, and soul into their business. They worked early and late and permitted nothing to interfere with their devotion to their business. They would do anything for it, give up, if need be, everything for it. They appeared to consecrate every talent to it. Many of these have been men in small businesses which they must have known would never return much more than a living for the effort they put forth, hence their consecration was not inspired by greed, so much as a love for the thing they were doing.

I've often thought what a splendid thing it would be if more men could become consecrated to this degree in the work of the church and the matter of their religion and Christ's program an earth. It would solve the trying problem of economics; it would open the way for an enduring peace on earth; it would bring to an end the distressing friction between capital and labor; it would make a new and a changed world. The solution for these is not a great army and navy, or an air force second to none. It is not a federal board of labor relations or a world court. These are but the groping agents of a groping people. The solution, and the only solution, to these problems it to be found in the one word--Consecration.

International Boundary Markings

The land part of the international boundary between the United States and Canada, which is about 1,749 miles in length, is marked variously with monuments of iron, aluminum-bronze set on concrete, stone cairns and concrete, placed at points ranging from two and a half to four miles apart. A vista has been cut through the trees where the line runs over wooded areas. The water part of the boundary is defined by courses and distances between turning points that are referred to as light-houses or markers of metal or concrete on the shores of lakes and banks of streams.

Odd Decorations for Altars

Softening Water

The water is so hard in some parts of the country that softening forms a part of the purification processes. Often, the saving in depreciation of water pipes and in the purchase of soap counter-balances the cost of softening. Usually lime water is mixed with the water in a settling basin and after 12 or 14 hours subsidence, the water is drawn off from the precipitated salts. When the hardness is the result of sulphates of lime or magnesia, which cause the water to be "permanently" hard, sodium carbonate, or washing soda is used to soften the water.

JESSIE RUSH, Editor and Mgr.

The most interesting part of a good many political speeches comes when the speaker says, "and let me say in conclusion—."

Eight years ago the government adopted the smaller sized currency and called in the old bills to be exchanged for new ones. Despite the time elapsed, nearly $250,000,000 of the old bills have not been turned in for redemption. Some of these are lost, many destroyed, and many are being held by collectors.

One hears a lot about defective brakes on old automobiles. It is interesting to note that only 2 per cent of the automobiles involved in fatal wrecks last year were found to have defective brakes.

Good health and good sense are two of life's greatest blessings.—Publius Syrus.

The state of Colorado is planning on issuing reflecting auto license tags. The tags are to be coated with a solution that will make them visible at night.

Close to a million persons are now employed in the executive branch of the federal government.

More persons were killed in traffic accidents in December than were killed in the Revolutionary War!

Have we not all, often thought how much better work some of our public officials, who are really deserving of praise, would do if their merits and good qualities were recognized while they were living and trying to solve the many trying problems that come before them? There is no doubt that many sincere men give their very lives in the line of the duties of their office. Many of them serve their full term without even so much as one word of appreciation or commendation for their efforts. They hear nothing but criticism. The wonder is that they are able to keep up their courage and fighting spirit and their morale through it all. When death comes the very critics who dogged their lives while they lived and struggled, rush precipitately into print to praise them fulsomely.

We have all been guilty of this, however. We rush to send showy floral offerings to the family and "pay our respects to the dead" by attending the funeral, when those flowers, those "respects" would have meant so much more to the deceased had they been given while he was alive and well. No doubt there have been many times during the life of the deceased, when he needed the belated words of praise we utter around his grave.

The human race, in its conceit, likes to think it is smart and intelligent but a good four-flusher can fool ninety per cent of the people ninety per cent of the time and make 'em like it, even after they discover that they have been fooled.

Some times one is almost tempted, in view of how well it goes over, to think that schools and colleges should install a course in showmanship for the individual in which flattery, and palaver, and back slapping is given special attention.

The time is coming when every school will have a vocational course or all of its students. The sentiment is growing everywhere that education is not so much the memorizing of facts from books as it is of learning the facts of life and incorporating them into everyday living to its enrichment and betterment.

At the present time this country could not be wholly independent of the rest of the world. There is not a pound of rubber produced in this country. If complete isolation should come to pass, no doubt our chemists could produce synthetic rubber, but to date nothing has been found that will serve as a suitable substitute for it.

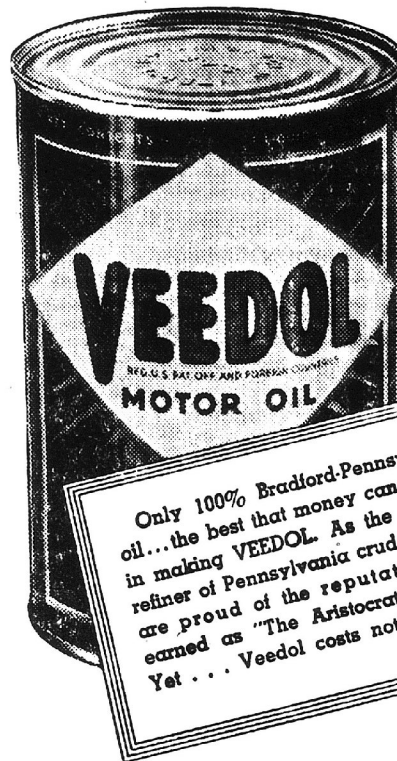

A few other items that we have to depend on other countries for, are: cork, black pepper, coffee, tea, spices, tin, silk, coconut oil, hemp. So far all other countries depend on the United States for helium gas.

The turning point in life, is when you quit saying you feel good when you don't and begin saying you feel awful when you don't.

The shower bath was invented by a man whose wife was always bawling him out for leaving a ring around the bath tub.

There is a movement on foot to compel married women to wear an insignia indicating that they are married. Such a designation is not necessary in the case of married men. When a man is married any one can tell it—he invariably keeps both hands on the steering wheel.

CHEATING

Cheating! What is this word and what does it really mean? It must have some definite meaning because teachers warn against its use.

Oh yes, here it is. Mr. Webster's description of it: to defraud, swindle, deceive, and trick. No, it can't be really as bad as that. But it is worse, if one stops to think. In future life, after school days are over, there will not be your neighbor to cheat from. All problems are worked out alone; therefore cheating in school may temporarily raise your grades but it detracts from your usefulness in later life.

NEW SUBJECTS

We Seniors feel rather sad and forlorn to think that this is the last stretch of the road through Mentone High School.

Several of the Seniors are taking Bible or Commercial Arithmetic in the place of Senior Literature.

In the Bible class, just think, we learned that a man died before his father did and yet was older than his father. Just ask one of the Bible students if this isn't true. The students of this class should consider it a privilege to be able to take this course. The purpose is to realize and appreciate the beautiful literature and the historic stand point of view.

The Commercial Arithmetic Class is certainly advancing fast. The students happen to be using the Freshman Algebra book at the present time and they even have the same lesson. We hope they will do as well as the Freshmen in their assignments until they get their text books which have been ordered.

ANOTHER NEW MEMBER

The Juniors last Monday morning saw a new face among their ranks, that of Harold Stickler. Harold comes to us from Tippecanoe and we give him a hearty welcome.

ing forward to the presentation of their play, "Campus Quarantine," to be held January 11. We want every body to bear this in mind and make no other arrangements for that night.

Those in the cast are as follows: Marjorie Long, Clara Schooley, Geneva Horn, Betty Ellsworth, Mary Mellott, Margaret Swick, Dale Wilttrout, Orval Secor, Robert Eiler, Devon Cain, Paul Vandermark, and Junior Wallace.

FRESHMEN FEAR BIOLOGY

With the sorrows of examination bearing their weight upon our minds we are trying hard to regain our senses but with the promise of a "quizz" perhaps everyday in Biology class under the supervision of Miss Langell, we believe that perhaps we had better study and say nothing about it.

The Freshman Latin class is taking up the study of the Trojan War and the Wooden Horse. We find it very interesting.

DEBATING

A group of Mentone debaters went to North Manchester Wednesday evening and participated in a debate held at the Chester High School. The topic for debate was Resolved: That every student should be required to take one year of typing. No decisions were made; however the local team showed up very well, taking into consideration the fact that our team was composed of Freshmen and Sophomores while the opposing team was composed of Juniors and Seniors. Those who took part were: Letha Walters, Mildred Mahoney, Hope Deaton, Bob Muffley, James Beeson, and Howard Mahoney.

SEVENTH GRADE

Wilfred Deaton, of the Seventh Grade, who has been sick for some time was shown deserved respect when Mr. Paul Smith suggested that each person in his class write him a short note to cheer him up. So that was what we did. (With much protest from the girls.)

TEACHER RESIGNS

The faculty and the students are sorry to hear of the resignation of the Sixth grade teacher, Mr. Floyd Hollar, which will take effect Jan. 10. Mr. Hollar, during his services, was very successful and much appreciated by the students. We shall regret his absence but we are glad that

HOME ECONOMICS CHANGES

The Home Economics courses have changed from the study of foods to clothing this semester. We expect to see from the students some artistic handiwork in the future.

EIGHTH GRADE

When we Eighth Graders came back from vacation we found that we were minus one member. We shall miss Avonell Blue very much. She has moved to Bourbon and will attend school there.

The pupils of this class are wondering how we came out on our exams and are all hoping for the best especially in General Science. Mr. Harrison insists that this course is easy and we are beginning to wonder where and how it can be called easy.

MENTONE'S FUTURE LAWYER

An amusing incident took place in the Senior Civics class when a question arose which raised quite a bit of sentiment and caused some confusion. Several persons had given their point of view when Sam Blue was acknowledged by Mr. Mervel Smith, he walked to the front and gave a very brilliant speech. It was a great debate.

MORTALITY

You know how egg production soars when hens are able to forage on the range for green, growing grasses. Research tells us why: CEREAL GRASS CONTAINS ESSENTIAL VITAMINS AND MINERALS WHICH ARE NECESSARY FOR POULTRY. GREENMELK preserves succulent cereal grasses in pure creamery buttermilk, for year round feeding. A Greenmelk fed flock operates at peak production even during the fall and winter months, when hatching eggs are at a premium. Many tests by outstanding flock owners prove increased egg production to be a profitable fact with Greenmelk in the ration.

Fire of unknown origin destroyed barn on the Alva Mellott farm at upper bend bridge north of Mentone about 2:30 a. m. Monday morning. The Mentone Fire Department was summoned and managed to save the silo, though it was considerably damaged by the intense heat.

Several bushels of corn, several tons of hay, one corn picker, one corn shredder, one young heifer and possibly some sheep were destroyed with the barn. Mr. Mellott has three barns; the barn that burned was the one situated the farthest east on his farm. The barn was covered by insurance.

Bulldogs Defeat Flyers

Friday night there was a bombing in the Mentone Gym. The Akron Flyers invaded the Mentone Bulldog's stamping ground. The Flyers tried to avenge the early defeat of the year when the Bulldogs had punctured the Flyers zeppeline to the tune of 33 to 18.

The Flyers started off with a bang and at the half the score was 16 to 9 in their favor. The Bulldogs had filled the air with missiles in an attempt to bring the zeppeline down but few had connected. Finally in the last half the Bulldogs got their range and the Akron Flyers wilted under the terrific pace of the Bulldogs. The Bulldogs won by the score of 24-30.

The younger clan of the Bulldogs was beaten by the Baby Flyers by a very small margin of 15 to 14.

FIRE DESTROYS MELLOTT'S BARN

Fire of unknown origin destroyed barn on the Alva Mellott farm at upper bend bridge north of Mentone about 2:30 a. m. Monday morning. The Mentone Fire Department was summoned and managed to save the silo, though it was considerably damaged by the intense heat.

Several bushels of corn, several tons of hay, one corn picker, one corn shredder, one young heifer and possibly some sheep were destroyed with the barn. Mr. Mellott has three barns; the barn that burned was the one situated the farthest east on his farm. The barn was covered by insurance.

Bulldogs Defeat Flyers

Friday night there was a bombing in the Mentone Gym. The Akron Flyers invaded the Mentone Bulldogs' stamping ground. The Flyers tried to avenge the early defeat of the year when the Bulldogs had punctured the Flyers zeppeline to the tune of 33 to 18.

The Flyers started off with a bang and at the half the score was 16 to 9 in their favor. The Bulldogs had filled the air with missiles in an attempt to bring the zeppeline down but few had connected. Finally in the last half the Bulldogs got their range and the Akron Flyers wilted under the terrific pace of the Bulldogs. The Bulldogs won by the score of 24-30.

The younger clan of the Bulldogs was beaten by the Baby Flyers by a very small margin of 15 to 14.

Greatest Pitch Lake

Trinidad, an island of the British West Indies, and off the coast of Venezuela, is noted principally for the 312 feet high Maracas falls, and Pitch lake, from which more than 200,000 tons of asphalt, for paving purposes, are exported each year, principally to the United States. The supply is inexhaustible. Any hole made by removal is filled by nature in action near the center of the lake, bubbling up in a liquid state. A steel pipe one inch in diameter has been thrown into the lake, which covers three acres, and weeks afterwards was found in a distant part, bent and twisted.

Fleas Carry Germs

Fleas carry germs—typhoid fever and bubonic plague—but these two ills, particularly bubonic plague, are their most potent threats. It was centuries before man discovered the plague was transmitted by fleas, however, and before the discovery the "black death" wiped out half Europe's population in one year. In 1907 the Indian Plague commission finally proved fleas carried the plague. The proof was simple. Cages containing rats were hung at different levels above fleas. The fleas could hop to the lower cages, couldn't reach the higher ones. And all the rats in the lower cages died of the plague.

Ancient Egyptian Custom

It was customary for the afflicted family of the ancient Egyptians to conduct lamentations at home during a period of 70 days or more, singing funeral dirges and fulfilling all the other duties required by custom and their own feelings.

GIANT SEA LIZARDS ONCE ROAMED WEST

Fossils 50 Million Years Old Are Unearthed.

Fresno, Calif.—Valuable fossil finds which prove that giant sea lizards roamed the Pacific slope in the Cretaceous geologic period about 50,000,000 years ago are attracting scientific attention to the barren hillsides of the coast range, between the San Joaquin valley and the coast strip bordering the Pacific.

Led by geologists from Fresno State college, excavators have unearthed two rare specimens of a mosasaurus and plesiosaurus, both resembling sea lizards, and in a remarkable state of preservation.

The plesiosaurus is believed to be the most valuable from a geologic standpoint. Nearly thirty feet of vertebrae and three large flippers have been removed from a hillside fifty miles east of Fresno. The skeleton had been cut in half by a rock fault, but the head, most prized part of the fossil, was found nearby later.

First Found in Far West.

The plesiosaurus is believed to be the first found west of the Rocky mountains, although they have been located in Kansas and midwestern chalk beds.

The mosasaurus fossil was found within 100 yards of the plesiosaurus. Frank Paiva, gypsum mine operator who discovered the first prehistoric remains, chanced to see a small vertebrae in a dry creek bottom, where it had washed down when the skeleton was exposed by sliding shale. William M. Tucker, head of the Fresno State college geology department, made the skeleton discovery and supervised its excavation.

Charles L. Camp, noted curator of the University of California museum, and S. P. Welles, his assistant, came here to view the specimens. Welles remained to help with the removal of the bones in plaster casts.

Lizards 20 Feet Long.

The first mosasaurus found in the west was uncovered near Gustine, west of Fresno, which also is being excavated. The sea lizards were about twenty feet long, with a long, slender neck and head about three feet long. The tail bones were uncovered first by the geologists.

Many other valuable fossils have been found in this region. Big sea cow skeletons were found near Dos Palos, while innumerable shark's teeth, elephant bones and remains of mastodons have come unearthed. The leg bone of a buffalo also was found.

The expensive process of cleaning, restoring and mounting the plesiosaurus and mosasaurus fossils is expected to take more than a year.

Two Minute Sermon

By
Thomas Hastwell

AND STRAIGHTWAY THEY FOLLOWED HIM: In the book of Mark we read in the first chapter how Christ, as he walked along the sea shore, saw Simon and Andrew casting a net into the sea, for they were fishers. He said unto them, "Come ye after me, and I will make you fishers of men." and, the story continues, "Straightway they left their nets and followed him." Christ called these and later James and John, also fishers, to a life of service. They gave up their nets, their trade, and their means of livelihood, and started out on a great adventure of service to mankind. I think in the study of this book we should hold in mind that this was no little, no trifling thing that these four men did in leaving their nets and following this strange new teacher. It meant a sacrifice, a giving up of their trade, their means of livelihood, their material security.

I have often thought of this when I have appealed to men and women to give a portion of their time in the work of the church today. Though they are never asked, as were these men, to give up their business, but only a portion of their time, of how few of them can it be said that "straightway they left their nets." I think that is one of the problems of the church and Christ's program today. There are not enough men willing to give up their nets and devote some of their time and talent and energy to the work. Christ never compelled any disciple to follow him. He merely invited him. The church today cannot compel men to give to it willingly of their time and talents. It can only invite them.

The telephone companies state in their advertisements that 25,000 people a day "hang up too soon". A reader of this paper who had read this advertisement stated in our office yesterday—"Maybe they do, but none of them live on our party line."

Doctor Osborne, noted London scientist, declares there is decisive proof in biology that man never was an ape and didn't descend from a monkey. The Doctor's announcement will be hailed with acclaim by those concerned about their remote progenitors, but it makes all the more difficult the understanding of human conduct.

We know a man who is a born worrier. He worries in good times and bad times. When times are good he worries for fear they won't last, and when they are bad he worries for fear they will get worse.

'It is not work that kills men: it is worry. Work is healthy. You can hardly put more upon a man than he can bear. Worry is rust upon the blade.'—Henry Ward Beecher.

Most parents want their boys to step into nice positions when they grow up, but in many instances they fail to train them in one thing essential in the business world today—courtesy, politeness and good manners. It costs nothing to teach boys and girls good manners, but once learned in the home, they will carry a young man, or a young woman, further along the road to success, than any other grace they can acquire.

Courtesy is a magic key to all of those who have made it a part of themselves.

In the picture Rosalie, a new release, one single stage setting in which Eleanor Powell may be seen dancing down a series of sixteen drums, the stage setting alone cost $200,000, and ninety-four electricians used $30,000 worth of current lighting the set. For this one scene, fifty-five dressmakers worked for forty-one days on the costumes. The scene lasts but a few minutes. It is not an uncommon thing in the industry to produce film costing as much as $100,000, and then destroy it without its being shown.

SENIORS BUSY

We Seniors have found school very busy this week. We have been examining the samples of invitations for commencement from various companies. This is a very hard item to decide upon. I'm afraid we'll have to say we don't know very much about it. Another item which has had much concern along with invitations is the name cards. Frank Smith is the representative for the company this year.

Louise Jones is the only Senior girl who is entering the short story contest. This contest is sponsored by the Psi Iota Xi sorority. Any Senior girl from certain surrounding towns is eligible to enter. These stories are to exceed five thousand words and the contest closes January 15. We wish Louise the best of luck.

What should we name our class annual and what should our class motto be? There are two important subjects which the Seniors are debating over. We hope to draw some conclusion soon so that it can be announced.

The negative team composed of Bob Tucker and Everett Mikel won from Elkhart and lost to Crown Point and LaPorte, the latter being the state champions last year. The subject of debate was, "Resolved: That Indiana should adopt a one house legislature."

On Monday evening the first teams of Mentone met Columbia City at the local high school with Charles Wells of Akron as judge. Mentone won both debates.

HOME ECONOMICS

In case you are in doubt as to just what to wear on certain occasions such as an informal dinner, an afternoon tea, shopping, horseback riding, skiing, formal dinner, and etc., just ask the advanced Home Economics girls. They have been discussing this quite in detail in order to understand a complete wardrobe.

In the tenth and eleventh grades of Home Economics we are studying the problems of maintaining a successful family. Some problems which we find are: "What are the traits of an ideal family and how can we realize these traits?" and "Factors which affect the integrity of a family" and etc. Have you a Happy Home?

Before learning to sew we feel as though we need some instructions concerning good grooming, good posture, cleanliness, appearance. If we have these things as a background we will know more about what kind of clothing will suit our personalities and by having this as a foundation we will know what is meant by personal charm and how to achieve it.

The Seventh grade girls have finally begun their long wished for lessons in the laboratory. They are learning the first and one of the most important steps of good cooking. This is learning how to measure different ingredients correctly.

ONE ACT PLAY CONTEST

The One Act Play contest will be held on two days. If a comedy is chosen the play will be given on the eighth of February at Pierceton and if a tragedy is chosen it will be held at Elkhart Green February 15. There will be three plays given by this school and the best will be chosen to represent us in the contest. The casts have not yet been chosen but will be in the near future and announcement will be made later concerning this. We wish them success.

DISCOVERY

A few of the eighth grade boys while looking for an article on Mr. Fenstermaker's desk came upon a small box. The boys of course became curious and thought perhaps that it might be in this box, but when it was opened to their surprise they found about sixty old teeth. We wish to take this opportunity to ask Mr. Fenstermaker if collecting teeth is an interesting hobby.

In civics class we have been studying home government and community government. Mr. Smith has been telling us some interesting facts about the Supreme Court.

We find that the General Science class has proved very interesting also. Our topic has been light and color in relation to the eye. We have witnessed some very fine experiments.

FRESHMEN

With a Biology test staring us in the face we're quite happy, or are we?

Our report cards have once more brought back memories of our conduct and efforts. But what kind of memories? Well, all we can say is, they are not too pleasant.

Did anyone ever hear of having a class without a teacher? It was on the afternoon of Tuesday, January 11, 1938. It was also the afternoon set aside as play practice for the Junior class play. Mr. Kelley was their director and our teacher. He forgot to warn the class of his absence for the afternoon so as usual we went to class. We waited for some time and still no teacher appeared. We then sought help, and were told we could return to the assembly—and work! (When we could have had such a good time, if the teachers wouldn't have discovered it. Don't tell the teachers though, we might get the privilege again if Mr. Kelley will be kind enough to forget us.)

NEW PUPIL

The second grade is proud to report that a new pupil has joined their class. The name is Barbara Downing who came to us from Warsaw.

We are making an eskimo village in our sand box and we think it is quite attractive.

Each Wednesday a group of our class goes to the library where the librarian, Mrs. VanGilder, is kindly instructing us about the different books.

Oldest Defense Work

Fort Marion, established in 1672 to protect the port of St. Augustine, is the oldest defensive work in the United States. Built of coquina, a mixture of seashells cemented together by natural processes, the fort has withstood for generations the effects of the elements and remains almost perfectly preserved. Proclaimed a national monument in 1924, the ancient stronghold is administered by the National Park Service.

Green Grasses for Year Round Feeding: Those six little words are all a practical poultryman need know to be convinced of Greenmelk's value to him. All flock owners know how birds on a spring range produce more eggs and keep in the best of condition. By preserving young, green cereal grasses in condensed, pasturized buttermilk, Greenmelk puts range grasses in the ration 365 days every year. The cereals are grown on uncontaminated, chemically correct soils; they are cut at the peak of their vitamin and mineral potency, quickly processed and then preserved in pure creamy buttermilk. It's Old Mother Nature's own formula for building strong husky chicks that grow into hens able to stand the strain of high egg production.

DEATH TAKES MENTONE DOCTOR

All Mentone was shocked Sunday morning, January 23, when it heard of the death of its friend and doctor, G. C. Taylor. His death was a complete shock to his family also, as he had been in apparent good health and had made professional calls late Saturday evening.

Death occurred a little after eight o'clock Sunday morning. He had awakened before the remainder of his family and had gone down stairs to make a cup of coffee. His wife, hearing an unusual noise, rushed to the kitchen and found the doctor slumped on the floor beside of his chair from which he had fallen when the attack came on. Dr. Schlemmer of Warsaw was summoned but the doctor did not respond to treatment. Death was due to apoplexy. Dr. Taylor was fifty-seven years of age.

Dr. and Mrs. Taylor came to us a little over four years ago from Fort Wayne, and since that time the doctor had acquired a very good practice. He was a member of the Mentone Methodist church and the Masonic Lodge. During the World War he served in the army as surgeon and at the close of the war he went to Great Britton where he served in one of the hospitals there.

He is survived by the widow, Dora Taylor and several other relatives. Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at his home on East Main St., at two o'clock. Rev. E. E. DeWitt of the local Methodist church and Rev. Dr. Raabe of the Presbyterian Church of Warsaw were in charge. Burial was at Claypool. The obituary will appear here next week.

Home Economics News

The Mentone Economics club met at the home of Mrs. Maude Cox Thursday afternoon, January 20, with Mrs. Pauline Weissert acting as assistant hostess. The president opened the meeting with group singing. After repeating the creed, roll call was answered with a "New Year's Thought". Sixteen members were present and one visitor, Mrs. Dock. The president then conducted the business part of the meeting. Several samples of Celenase silk were then passed around and a discussion followed after which Mrs. Myrtle Leininger conducted a very interesting contest. The usual auction sale was then held.

The hostess and her assistant served refreshments and after a social period club adjourned to meet February 17 with Lucinda Jones. Mrs. Mary Borton will be assistant hostess.

Wedding Anniversary

He is also survived by four sons, Vernon, Monroe, William and Marvin Romine all of near Mentone; two daughters, Mrs. Howard Gross of Mentone and Mrs. Joe Mellott of Etna Green; thirteen grandchildren; one brother, Andy Romine of Plymouth and one half brother, William Freebery of Mentone.

Neighbors Surprise Clarence Leininger's

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Leininger were pleasantly surprised when they returned from church Friday night. They found their home filled with friends and neighbors who had come to help them celebrate their 35th wedding anniversary. A delicious co-operative dinner was waiting for them and in the center of the table was a huge three tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom. It was a complete surprise.

Those present besides the honored guests were Mr. and Mrs. Milo Fawley and sons Jack and Howard; Mr. and Mrs. John Fenstermaker; Mr. and Mrs. Vern Blue; Mrs. Lulu Blue and little Freddy Fenstermaker; Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Fenstermaker and children Barbara and Don; Mr. and Mrs. Ray Terry; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Besson; Mr. Fred Rigger; and Mr. and Mrs. Deloise White.

GOOD MUSIC

"Music," wrote Carlyle, "is well said to be the speech of angels." In one sense, music consists of any combinations of sound which are pleasant to the ear. But in a stricter sense music is an art—the purest of the fine arts; and careful study is necessary for its mastery and its enjoyment.

"Music," someone has said, "is the fourth need of man: food, clothing, shelter—then music." "Nonsense," says the intensely practical man, "I have lived fifty years, have built up a fortune, and I don't suppose I've given six hours to music in all my life." This attitude proves nothing. He has got along without music, but that is no evidence that he has not needed it, that his life would not have been far richer and better if its influence had been admitted.

Not everyone can be a musician, but it has come to be understood that everyone can be at least an intelligent listener, if not a performer.

NEW PIANO

The student body as well as the faculty is very proud of the new addition to the assembly. This new piano was moved into the assembly last Monday while the other one, which was badly damaged, was removed. The students appreciated this interest in providing some kind of entertainment which will be given in the open exercises in the near future. We are sure that with so much musical talent that some of it can be displayed and will be greatly appreciated.

CAPS AND GOWNS CHOSEN

We Seniors had a class meeting a few weeks ago in which it was decided require a two-thirds majority when the time presented itself for voting for or against caps and gowns for commencement. This time arrived last Monday and a vote of one-third of a person over a two-thirds majority was cast in favor of them.

We also selected our invitations this week, the name cards being ordered a few weeks before.

RESUME WORK

Despite the fact that there is a change of instructors in the sixth grade the work has been resumed with great interest. Efforts put forth by both Mr. Gochenour and the students is greatly appreciated.

SUPERINTENDENT MAKES VISIT

The county superintendent, Mr. Harry E. Lewallen made a visit to our school last Thursday.

LIVING SAFELY

The eight grade Civics class is divided into two classes each meeting two or three days a week with Mr. M. A. Smith as their teacher. Along with their civics they are taking up the subject of "Safety Living." This course, which is compulsory, is given to the students to help them realize the value of safe living in connection with the home, school, automobile driving, and etc. This class also includes first aid instructions.

BAND

The band should be congratulated on the splendid performance that was given Friday evening at the Mentone-Akron ballgame. Uniformly arrayed in green and white after drilling on the floor, formed an "A" for the Akron school and an "M" for the local school.

The presentation of the flag that was carried by a boy scout followed by the band playing, "The Star Spangled Banner" was a very interesting feature to the program and added a patriotic touch to the evening.

The band also gave a concert preceding the Poultry Show at Burket Tuesday evening.

ONE ACT PLAYS

The one act plays have been chosen to enter the contest. The cast have been chosen and we wish them the best of luck. This contest is to be held at Elna Green February 15. There will be a local contest held on February 7, and the best of the two tragedies will be chosen to represent our school in the county contest. The cast of the play "Singapore Spider" consists of Junior Wallace, Orval Seccore, Harold Horn, Mary Alice Moore, and Margaret Swick. Those of the play "Thirst" are Sam Blue, Robert Eiler, and Robert Nottingham.

The last play which is a comedy will be given to fill in the evenings entertainment. This is entitled "Bargains" with the following cast: Mary Mellott, Geneva Horn, Eldred Paulus, and Clara Schooley.

PHILOSOPHY

If you brood over your troubles you'll have a perfect hatch.

The optimist says his glass is half full; the pessimist says his is half empty.

Some men mellow with age, like wine; but others get still more astrin' get, like vinegar.

When you come to the end of your rope, tie a knot in the end of it and hang on.

Count your blessings and smile. A good way to round out a career is to be on the square.

Success is like a snow ball; roll it about and it accumulates—set it in the sun and it melts.

The person who has not time for study was probably born tired and has never recovered.

FRESHMEN NEWS

Can anyone recollect of ever hearing of a sick rat weighing 56 pounds? Neither did we until Miss Langell was telling us about a rat (used for experiment) weighing 56 pounds. However, we came to the conclusion that the rat weighed only 56 grams.

DEPARTMENTAL

Shorthand

The students of the shorthand class have learned most of the brief forms, special forms, and the like and are beginning to learn the fundamentals of fast writing.

Literature

The Junior Literature books have just arrived. The book has over 700 huge pages, and are we ever working.

Typing

The advanced typing students are rather disgusted with themselves. Nearly everyone has made his or her forty word pin on a fifteen minute timed writing practice and are striving for a 50 word pin. We are hoping we'll make it soon.

The beginning typing class reports more errors as usual. The highest score that has been made as yet is 49.

History

The junior history class is studying the different rebellions before the Civil War. They are now on the Lincoln-Douglas debate.

The Senior Civics class is taking up the constitution and the powers granted to the United States and to the States alone.

Bible

The life of Moses is the study of the students of this class. We are sure that every one in this class is greatly interested in their work. A note book is being kept and when this course is finished the object of each book in the Bible will be known.

Home Economics

The Advanced Home Economics students have been planning their spring and summer wardrobe. Out of this wardrobe they are to choose what they would like to make themselves in this class. They are to have all equipment ready to start sewing next Monday morning.

Glee Club

The Glee Club will soon have new books to use when we meet on Friday afternoons. We hope that the schedule will soon be arranged so that it will be possible to meet twice a week. Several musical groups are being planned for the future such as octets, quartets, mixed quartets, trios, duets, and solo work.

GOOD ATTENDANCE

The second grade very proudly reports a good attendance record. They are still making their Eskimo village and soon hope to have it ready to display.

EIGHTH GRADE

The study of our township and county has been taken up in the Civics class. We feel that we should know more about our present administration.

The English class for the past few days has had nothing but spelling. It seems that Mr. Paul Smith had developed a very bad cold and we were all happy "not because Mr. Smith had a cold" but "because we didn't have to take our regular English work". We believe this spelling will do us all much good.

ELIJAH LADD PASSES AWAY

Death came early Thursday evening to Elijah R. Ladd, 85, father of Thomas, Robert, Frank and James Ladd, well-known Warsawans. Death was due to the infirmities of age.

The deceased, remembered most affectionately by a generation of Warsaw school children now grown, served faithfully for fifteen years as custodian of the two township schools and retired only seven years ago at the age of 78.

Elijah Ladd was born in Marshall county, November 24, 1852. 25 years later he went to Warsaw, Ind., and was employed at the Warsaw Laundry. Later when he became Wayne township schools custodian he and his wife resided in a home on King's Highway, Winona Lake. Upon the death of his wife ten years ago he made his home with his sons in Warsaw.

In addition to the four sons, one daughter, Mrs. W. A. Blain, of Chattanooga, Tenn., also survives.

Funeral services were held Saturday morning at 10:30 o'clock at the Kelley Funeral home in Warsaw with Rev. C. M. Hollopeter officiating. Burial was in Oakwood cemetery.

GRANTED DIVORCE

In Kosciusko county circuit court Friday, Dora Reddinger Holbrook, was granted a divorce from Harold S. Holbrook, by L. W. Royce sitting as special judge, on charges of cruelty. The mother was given care and custody of Joanna, a minor child, pending further order of the court. The father has the privilege of seeing the child. The couple was married July 22, 1933, and separated September 25, 1936.

HOROSCOPE

JANUARY 23, 24, 25 - While you sometimes neglect your friends, you are generally loyal to them. You are somewhat changable in your religious tendencies. You have the grandest possibilities in the world if you would only concentrate your forces. One of the biggest drawbacks is your inability to concentrate your thought and aims on one particular thing virtually makes success impossible for you. You generally overcome the obstacles that get in your way and manage to make money some way, as you possess a fair amount of intelligence. Possessing an inventive mind you are able to make excuses and give good reasons for the things you do.

JANUARY 26, 27 - Your ambitions and desires are for highest positions that carry honor and prestige, but you begrudge the time and effort necessary to attain these places, and often waste more time thinking about it than it would take to accomplish it. While you take hold of a proposition with enthusiasm and vigor, you soon get tired, unless the others with you are working at the same pitch. You possess a great deal of power to accomplish, but too often wait on others to take the lead.

JANUARY 28, 29, 30 - You are a good entertainer, and your home is always open to your friends. You can accomplish anything you desire if you will just keep quiet and study and grow. You are loyal, faithful and loving, but you lack staying qualities, or endurance.

Former Mentone Man Passes Away

He was overcome while teaching, and was removed shortly after to his home where he died. A reader of this paper received a letter from a friend in Oklahoma last week. Among other things he mentioned taxes. "Everything," he said, "in Oklahoma is taxed except asafeida, and the only reason there wasn't a tax on that was because none of the lawmakers knew how to spell it and there wasn't a dictionary in the state house."

After listening for some time to criticisms of the administration and its function we are apt to come to the conclusion that Oliver Wendall Holmes came to. He divided the human race of his day into two classes: first, those who go ahead and do something; second, those who sit and inquire: "Why wasn't it done some other way?"

John Quincy Adams was the only bald-headed president.

Evidence that the way of the transgressor isn't always as hard as it should be, is found in the incident of the Kansas oil field worker who, after he had been drinking, drove his car into another in which were riding six members of one family. Following the collision fire broke out and all six members of the family were burned to death. The drunken driver was sentenced to one year in the penitentiary.

Did you know that more persons are killed every DAY in motor vehicle accidents than lost their lives in the Chicago fire?

It takes a pretty broad-minded creditor to think very kindly of a man who owes him long standing bills that can't be collected, yet who has the things and does the things that his creditor is not financially able to have and do.

The man who pays his bills regularly each month is often not appreciated as much as he should be. He is the salt of the earth. He is the one that keeps the wheels turning in this old world.

Osa Johnson, wife of the jungle explorer Martin Johnson, who was killed in an airplane accident, has filed suit against the Western Air Express Corporation for $502,439 dam-

"Simple living," a reader of this paper said in this office yesterday, "has not gone up much in price. The trouble with too many of us is that we have departed too far from simple living."

Two Minute Sermon

By
Thomas Hastwell

FAITH'S ANSWER — The first chapter of the book of Mark, the 40th to the 42nd verse, reads: "And there cometh to him a leper beseeching him, and kneeling down to him, and saying unto him. If thou wilt thou canst make me clean. And, being moved with compassion, he stretched forth his hand and touched him, and said unto him, I will; be thou made clean. And straightway the leprosy departed from him, and he was made clean."

How beautifully this simple incident is told in Mark's vivid, dramatic, forceful style. Here we have human want and human need presented, with complete faith, before the Christ. We also witness the complete answer to the suppliant's humble and earnest plea. He was made clean, healed of a terrible affliction, leprosy. I think these three verses epitomize the teaching of Christ in a simple, beautiful, clear cut, dramatic fashion. The plea was made in complete faith, humbly, confidently. It was immediately granted and the man was made clean. How simple, how elemental, how direct.

I think sometimes today that we fail to understand Christ's program because we make it too intricate and too complicated, we obscure it with ritual and formalism. What we need today is more of the directness, more of the simplicity, more of the faith borne of human need, and human trust, that can go to the Master in the hour of need and say, "Master, make me clean. Thou can if thou wilt."

FORMER TALMA RESIDENT DIES IN LEBANON, MO.

Mrs. William Foor of Rochester received a telegram Monday afternoon announcing the death of her brother-in-law, Dr. J. C. Scott, aged 68, which occurred at his home in Lebanon, Missouri Monday morning, January 17. Death was due to pneumonia and followed a few days illness.

Dr. Scott for a number of years practiced medicine at Talma but due to ill health, moved to Lebanon, Mo., in 1911. Here he earned a reputation as a surgeon and doctor.

Survivors are the widow who was Miss Ida Tippy of Talma; one son, Walter Scott of Springfield, Mo.; two grandchildren and several brothers and sisters who reside in Joliet, Ill.

Funeral services were held from the Talma Christian Church at ten o'clock Thursday morning with burial in the Reister cemetery near Talma.

Indians Suspicious of Books

Many Indians were suspicious of white men reading. And white men, knowing this, were careful to put aside their few books when Indians were near, says the Cleveland Plain Dealer. Books were somewhat of a mystery to most Indians, but they believed these things inspired the white men to lay claim to Indian territory. So if a number of Indians reported within a short period of time that they had caught the settlers looking into books, they feared more of their territory was at stake. Sometimes the redskins would work themselves into an uprising.

The Cincinnati Anticline

The Cincinnati anticline is a broad anticlinal fold (upfold) which extends from northern Ohio and Indiana through central Kentucky and Tennessee, and supposedly into Alabama and Mississippi. The arch is approximately 700 miles long. It is believed to have originated during early Paleozoic times and to have had its maximum development in post-Devonian time. The part of the arch in north central Kentucky is known as the Jessamine dome and that in middle Tennessee as the Nashville dome. Ordovician rocks are exposed on the tops of these domes and on the crest of the arch in Ohio and Indiana.

Monastery of Sumelas

Set into the middle of a 1,000-foot precipice, 4,000 feet above sea level, is the monastery of Sumelas, near Trebizond, on the Black sea. It was rebuilt in 1360 and is believed to have been established more than 1,500 years ago.

Invented Stop Watch

The first stop watch was invented about 1800, but this early watch was not entirely practical. Edward Massey of London, 1772-1852, was one of the principal makers. These watches were also made in Switzerland during this period.
