SELLS INTEREST IN DRUG STORE

New Years Day the Big Drug Store on The Corner opened its doors under new management. Clayton Goodwin, who for thirty-seven years has been a business partner of C. W. Shafer, has sold his share of the business to Jack VanGilder. While the transaction is a surprise to many customers of the Big Drug Store, they are pleased to see one of Mentone's young men make an investment in a local business firm. Mr. VanGilder has been an employee of the Big Drug Store for several years and is thoroughly acquainted with the business.

It was in 1898 that C. W. Shafer bought a drug store in our city, and being a young energetic fellow with a nice personality, he began doing a splendid business from the first day. The business grew so rapidly that in the year 1903 he concluded that the opening of a partnership would be a wise move. As a result the partnership of Shafer & Goodwin was formed. Clate Goodwin came to Mentone from Wanatah, Ind., and in thirty-seven years has become one of our most esteemed citizens.

Fifteen years ago the firm purchased the corner rooms at the intersection of Main and Broadway. They immediately remodeled and refurnished the rooms, sparing no expense in order to give Mentone a modern drug store and soda fountain. Thus it became known as The Big Drug Store on The Corner.

Mr. Goodwin has tentative plans to buy a little patch of ground and a pair of overalls and become a tiler of the soil. His many friends will miss his friendly countenance behind the cigar counter but wish him every success and a lot of peace and contentment in his new enterprise.

INJURES HAND

Linus Borton suffered severe lacerations of the right hand while butchering at his home in Mentone Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Mahoney entertained a number of guests at their home north of Palestine Sunday.

NEW YEARS PARTY

Seventy-five members of the congregation of the Palestine Christian Church met at the church basement Friday night to enjoy a cooperative supper and a lengthy program prepared by the ladies of the church and the Young Peoples Class. Two one-act comedies were presented and a number of other entertaining skits. The evening was a most enjoyable one for all present.

TO WINTER IN FLORIDA

Word was received from Mrs. Amanda Busenburg Monday morning stating that she intended to start to Florida January 6. The address of her home at that place will be 2100 Southwest 12th St., Miami, Florida. She urges us to take great care in seeing that she receives the hometown paper promptly each week. Mrs. Busenburg has been visiting her granddaughter in South Bend.

MAJOR OPERATION

Miss Freda Borton submitted to a major operation at the McDonald hospital Sunday, December 31.

ANNUAL CHRISTMAS PARTY HELD FOR HOME EC. CLUB

The Rans home near White City was the scene of a lovely Christmas party Thursday, for members of the Mentone Home Economics Club. Nineteen members answered roll call, and there were two guests present.

A pot-luck dinner occupied the noon hour after which the usual business meeting was held. The club spent the remainder of the afternoon preparing Christmas baskets which were later distributed to shut-ins. The club also enjoyed a Christmas gift exchange.

INJURED AT CROSSING

Jake Williams and his son, Jack Williams, miraculously escaped possibly fatal injuries when their car was struck by a Nickel Plate train at a crossing east of Tippecanoe on December 21. Their car was completely wrecked. Williams and his son were taken to the Mentone clinic where they were cared for.

Miss Eunice Reed has returned to Angola, Ind., after visiting friends and relatives in Mentone for the past two weeks.

PSI OTES ATTEND CHRISTMAS PARTY

Mrs. Cecil Long and Miss Annabel Mentzer were hostesses to members of Beta Epsilon chapter of Psi Iota Xi sorority at the formers home Thursday evening. This was the sorority's annual Christmas party and a unique gift exchange was conducted by the hostesses.

Three tables of bridge progressed throughout the evening with prize for highest score going to Helen Hoffer, second highest to Eunice Reed and consolation Mrs. Robert Snyder.

Refreshments were served at small tables, decorated in accordance with the holiday season. Tiny corsages were presented to each girl.

Members present were Helen Hoffer, Pauline Riner, Geraldine Clark, Jessie Rush, Marie Nellans, Emma Clutter, Jeanette Mollenhour, Miss Eunice Reed of Angola, Ind., Miss Rosalind Mentzer of Dowagiac, Mich., and two pledges, Mrs. Robert Snyder and Mrs. George Watson of Crystal Lake.

VERNETTES ENTERTAIN

Mr. and Mrs. William Vernettes entertained the following guests at their home Christmas Day: Mr. and Mrs. Earl Sarber and Ilene and Edson Sarber, Mr. William Sarber of Indianapolis, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Zimmerman and son Ray of Burket, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Rogers and son Jimmy of Rochester and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Rogers of Rochester.

THE GROSS INCOME TAX

There has been much controversy between poultrymen of this territory and field men from the Indiana Gross Income Tax Department regarding the question of whether or not eggs shipped to New York are taxable. The law provides that insofar as our state has authority to tax interstate shipments, they are taxable. Shortly after the Gross Income Tax law became effective, an effort was made by the state to collect the tax from manufacturers on sales made in interstate commerce. This case was carried to the Indiana State Supreme Court which ruled that the receipts from such sales were taxable. The J. D. Adams Company, who was the defendant in this suit, appealed the case to the United States Supreme Court. This Court reversed the decision of the Indiana State Supreme Court holding that the State of Indiana did not have authority to levy a tax on receipts from sales which constituted interstate commerce.

The Gross Income Tax division has held that whenever a prior order exists for a shipment of eggs, the receipts from such sales are not taxable. They have held, too, that in case there is no prior order, then the determining factor shall be—"Did the shipper lose control of his product when it left the shipping point?" I think it is generally understood that if a shipper cares to, he can stop delivery on any shipment if he notifies the carrier before the order reaches its destination. But, I would say, in the case of eggs being shipped as they are shipped from various points in Northern Indiana to New York City, the shipper does lose control of the shipment when he pays the freight to New York City. Although it is possible to stop delivery on such shipments, this could be done only to such an extent as stoppage of any other shipments might be effected. With my observation of all the eggs shipped to New York I have never heard of a sale of a single shipment being stopped by the shipper.

In many cases the Gross Income Tax Department has held that individual shippers of eggs to New York are exempt from this tax. If one producer is exempt, they are all exempt. If one must pay, they all must pay, because all shippers from this territory are marketing their eggs in New York City in exactly the same manner.

This article is not being written with the purpose of hindering the state in the collection of any just taxes. It is merely to clarify a situation which has arisen in which some shippers have been granted exemptions and others have been held liable for this tax.

MENTONE— TEN YEARS AGO

Taken from Community Farm News

The heaviest snow storm in years descended upon Mentone that week. Snow began to fall December 18 and continued until several feet had fallen. School children were marooned in town for nearly a week. Many homes in Mentone opened their doors to the youngsters and made them welcome until the roads could be broken through. It sure put a crimp in Mentone's holiday business.

There were three Christmas weddings in Mentone that week. December 24, Robert Reed, and Miss Nellie Lyon were united in marriage at Logansport, Ind.

Elmore Fens.ermaker and Miss Lois Webster repeated their vows at Wabash, Ind.

Chauncey Goodman and Miss Mildred Bybee were married at the Methodist parsonage in Mentone, December 26.

Mrs. Orion Deaton passed away that week.

Ms. Sarah Middleton, formerly of Mentone, suffered a heart attack in the Interurban station, which proved fatal within a few minutes.

600 men were employed in all departments of the Trolley building, which passed through Mentone.

Miss Golda Ringle of Tippecanoe and Chauncey Mollenhour were united in marriage that week. C. O. Mollenhour was an operator at Tippecanoe at that time.

The town was filled with Italians who were putting in the new traction line.

Sunday service over the Warsaw-Winona line began that week.

There were three Christmas Weddings in town that week: Roy Tucker of Beaver Dam and Maude Dunning of Mentone. Jones A. Eaton and Miss Effie Black both of Mentone. Samuel M. Sanders and Miss Grace B. Welch of Mentone.

A bond issue of $2,500,000 for a North Indiana Traction Line was authorized that week. They were planning to locate the power house in Men one.

Unsupervised Play May Be Bad for Child

● OLDER CHILDREN
likely to establish feeling of inferiority by "bossing" younger playmates. All youngsters should be taught the pleasure of wholehearted, friendly co-operation.

By LAURA GRAY

"I CAN'T understand my small son, Teddy," complained Mrs. Bacon to her neighbor, Mrs. Morton. "Every time he goes to play with Robert, Teddy comes back so cross, so irritable, I can do nothing with him. And he used to be such a sweet-tempered youngster."

"Robert's older than Teddy, isn't he?" asked Mrs. Morton.

"Only a year and a half, but he looks three years older; he's so big and sturdy. Robert's mother and I have been taking charge of the two children on alternate days. This gives each of us every other day free."

"What a clever arrangement. But perhaps the boys see too much of each other. How do they get on when Robert comes to your house?"

"Oh, they scrap a little; I don't interfere. But this morning Teddy made a great ado about going to play with Robert. He didn't want to go."

"Well, there are some people—much as I love them—that I wouldn't want to spend every day with," mused the neighbor. "I should say, in this case, that the older boy is wearing out the little fellow. Having always to give in—to subject one's own wishes—becomes monotonous."

"I wonder if you are right." Next day, when six-year-old Robert came to play with four-year-old Teddy, his mother, in the next room, was alert to note what went on.

"Let's play train!" suggested Robert, sweeping things from a small table and jerking it upside down.

"No. I want to cut out pictures!" pouted Teddy, already comfortably seated in the midst of litter.

"Oh, come on!" Robert snatched the scissors from the little fellow. "You may be engineman!"

Storm Stopped Temporarily.

This magnificent condescension stopped the imminent storm of protest from Teddy. He jumped up and willingly helped arrange chairs behind the table. "Going to be engineman! Going to be engineman!" he kept repeating.

"You may be engine driver after; I'm going to be first!" The bigger boy seated himself on top of boxes at the head of the procession, and mimicked escaping steam with vivid reality.

Teddy reluctantly took the seat behind. At last the steam gave out. "My turn now!" he cried.

"No, let's play something else! This is no fun!" The "steam" jumped down and wrecked the train!

The boys went into the garden. Robert rushed to the shed, took out Teddy's new tricycle and kept it the rest of the morning. How the owner longed to enjoy his new toy! He'd had very little chance as yet—the boys being almost always together.

And so the day went on, the older boy's wishes always being carried out, and the younger never experiencing that satisfaction with regard to his own. No wonder poor Teddy was worn out with giving in!

"You'll have to tidy up!" triumphantly, at the end of the day, "I always do when you come to play with me!" Robert beamed at the playroom that looked as if a cyclone had passed through it.

At last he was gone! Half a day or even a whole day together, once in a while, would have been a good experience for these boys, but every day was too much. And we should all remember, too, that while some unsupervised play is beneficial for young children, the periods should not be overlong.

No child should be "under-dog" all the time. This is apt to establish an idea of inferiority, not easily eradicated. Neither is it good for a more vigorous child to have his own way always. He should be taught to be fair, and learn that there can be real pleasure in giving in.

Roman Dogs

The Romans divided their dogs into six groups, the canes villatici (house dogs); canes pastores pecuarii (shepherd dogs); canes venatici (sporting dogs); pugnaces or bellicosos (pugnacious or war dogs); nares sagaces (dogs which ran by scent) and pedipus celeres (swift dogs which ran by sight). In the United States, writes Margaret Kidder in the Los Angeles Times, we have a sporting-dog group in which are the bird dogs; a hound group, including both the scent and the sight hounds; a working-dog group, which takes in the shepherd dogs and the dogs that the Romans termed war dogs; a terrier group, which had no counterpart in Roman times; a top group, which unaccountably was missing in Rome, since tiny pets were popular among the ruling classes, and a non-sporting group, which no doubt includes some of the breeds that the Romans listed as house dogs.

LIONS HOLD MEMORIAL FOR DR. M. G. YOCUM

The regular bi-monthly meeting of the Mentone Lions club held in the Mentone Methodist church December 20 was a particularly memorable and enjoyable occasion for all present. More than fifty members and special guests attended the dinner preceding the special program honoring the memory of Mentone's lovable Dr. M. G. Yocum. After the dinner all members and guests retired to the Boy Scout room on an upper floor of the church which was established by the widow of Dr. Yocum in his memory.

There a short memorial service was held in tribute to the doctor in the presence of his widow, Mrs. Emma Yocum, who with Mrs. S. A. Guy attended as guests of honor. Mrs. Guy and her late husband were the donors of the fine Sunday school room on the main floor of the church. Mrs. Guy and Mrs. Yocum each thanked the Lions organization in response for its fine work in the community and pledged their continued support of its activities.

When the party returned to the meeting room they found it lighted only by Christmas candles. The next half hour was given to listening to a series of recordings of Christmas carols which were used for street broadcasting later in the week.

The main address of the evening followed. It was delivered by Victor Lane whose message was in keeping with the spirit of the occasion.

After the regular meeting the directors of the club held a short business session to consider plans for 1940 club activities.

Lion Dale Kelley and Robert Kinsey made moving pictures of the meeting during the dinner period. Special lights were installed in the dining room to give sufficient lighting for the purpose. The pictures will be shown at a later meeting.

Both meetings were presided over by Lion president, Rev. E. E. DeWitt.

IN APPRECIATION

I wish to thank everyone who had a hand in making my Christmas an especially merry one. The carol singers, the lovely Christmas dinner that was brought to me, the cards, letters, gifts, and the many friends who called on me during the holidays are only a few of the things that made this a real Christmas for me.

THE BALANCED BUDGET

Thomas Hastwell

We hear much these days about balancing the budget. The business that does not operate on a balanced budget cannot continue indefinitely without experiencing bankruptcy. As with business and industry so it is with the individual. He should not only balance his financial budget but should budget his time as well. He should have time for making a living, a time for recreation, and time for spiritual development. If he fails to budget his business he will become a financial bankrupt. If he fails to balance his recreation he will rob his life of health and happiness. If he fails to budget his life so that it has a place for spiritual development he will become a spiritual bankrupt. No man can leave God out of his life and remain spiritually solvent.

Two Minute Sermon

By
Thomas Hastwell

MAN EXPECTED TO DO HIS DUTY: It is reported that on the eve of a great battle, Lord Nelson of the British Navy, in closing an address to his sailors laid down the challenge that had rung down through history, "England expects every man to do his duty." I have often thought of this when I have met up with the type of man who has developed in himself a habit of helplessness, who when faced with a new responsibility or a new task, before making an effort, at once begins to look about, to find out where he can get help.

I have never felt that God is very much interested in a man's prayer until the individual has first done the very best he knows how to do. I think God always stands ready to help men, but demands that man first do his part. I don't think he is much interested in helping the men who at the first approach of a new burden or a new responsibility proceeds at once to unload all responsibility upon the Lord, and then sit back and wait results. I have always felt that the Lord, too, expects every man to do his duty.

The making of New Years resolutions is a thing that is often referred to lightly and flippantly as a matter of no consequence. With many the feeling exists that it is the thing to do to make New Years resolutions but a matter of little importance whether any of them are kept or not. There is always satisfaction in accomplishment but there is no satisfaction greater than the satisfaction that comes to one who knows that he has made his life a little better. With such a program any man or woman can make each New Year a real milestone on the highway that leads to triumphant, purposeful living.

No better method of getting ahead in this world was ever devised than the simple plan of spending less than one earns. A thousand words might be used in presenting the plan, but in its final analysis it would come back to the above formula.

A local youngster expressed the hope that the date for Christmas would not be changed. She was afraid that Santa might get mixed up in his dates and miss this town altogether.

The Supreme Court says that a man can distribute hand bills if he wants to and no city ordinance can stop him. This means that advertisers by the hand bill method, can continue to litter lawns even though half the home owners never pick the things up except to carry them to the trash can.

Miami, Florida is preparing for 2,000,000 visitors this winter, double the number entertained last winter.

One of the big troubles today is that there are too many people who believe that the government should support the people instead of that the people should support the government.

Music is the mediator between the spiritual and the sensual life. —Beethoven.

According to a lover of good music the way to write a present day song hit is to take a good selection that one of the old masters has composed and decompose it.

One can usually tell the social rating of an event by noting whether the lighting effects are referred to as candles or tapers.

One used to be able to say with confidence that a silk purse couldn't be made out of a sow's ear, but even this old truism is threatened. Silk hose are now being made out of wood pulp and skimmed milk and the sow's ear may be next in order.

A Missouri woman recently shot her husband. When asked why she did it she said he was no account. If the Missouri woman gets by the jury with this excuse there are two or three local men who had better mend their ways.

We know of one home in the community where Christmas was a huge success. The man of the house made his wife a present of a new tractor and she remembered him with a new living room suite.

The new Garand rifle with which the United States army is being equipped fires sixty shots a minute. Its inventor, John C. Garand, worked twenty years perfecting the rifle during which time more than fifty designs were drawn and five complete models made. It is today rated as the best rifle in the world.

A local man, with a roving eye, thinks that style designers made a serious mistake in shortening women's skirts to a point above the knee. Not one woman is a thousand, this authority states, has the legs for it.

Card Of Thanks

We wish to thank our neighbors and friends who have been so kind and helpful since our misfortune. The comfort of your sympathy will never be forgotten. We cannot hope to thank you personally, so are taking this opportunity to thank you collectively.

MODERNIZES HATCHERY

Beeson Egg Farm has announced the modernization and enlargement of their hatchery. The plant is now entirely electrically controlled and the hatching capacity has been raised from 12,000 to 25,000.

APPRECIATION

I wish to express by appreciation to the Mentone Girl Scout troop for their fine Christmas remembrance, and hope to help them carry out their 1940 Scout program.

TRUTH about ADVERTISING

By CHARLES B. ROTH

COST: 3 CENTS

SOME of the critics of advertising—and in this world there are those who criticize every good thing—level their lances at what they think is a weak spot: its cost.

They read of the million-dollar advertising appropriations, they brood on the cost of a full page of advertising in a metropolitan newspaper or a national magazine—and then they loose their sharpest barbs against the waste which they say is involved in this costly process.

Their only trouble is that they judge without having all the facts. For the truth is that advertising is the least expensive cost of doing business. Everything else costs a good deal more in proportion than the advertising.

The wise and capable business man bases the amount of money he spends for advertising upon the volume of business he either is doing or expects to do. This money set aside to advertise is called the appropriation.

It seldom runs, take the country over, more than 3 per cent, which means that for every dollar of sales made the advertising cost will be just three pennies. That is all—three pennies.

The large advertising appropriations come when a business, through the help of intelligent advertising, becomes so great that its annual volume runs into many millions of dollars a year. But whether an advertiser spends $10,000 a year or $10,000,000, his percentage remains the same—an average of 3 per cent.

The amount of money spent in advertising well-known products is so small as to be ridiculous, when you really know the facts.

Take oranges. How much do you suppose the growers spend to advertise their product? A third of a cent per dozen is all.

A national cracker baker reveals that he sets aside only one-tenth of a cent to advertise a package of crackers, while the manufacturer of a soft drink spends 1576/100,000 of a cent in advertising a five-cent glass of his product.

The manufacturer of a medium-priced automobile spends less than 3 per cent for advertising—he spends only $12 in making a $1,000 sale.

And even this small amount, three cents on the dollar, isn't an expense, an added premium on the business. By spending three cents out of every dollar for advertising, the manufacturer or merchant can sell for less and give you more for your money.

School Student Transportation

More than 10 per cent of the nation's school children are transported between home and classroom at public expense, according to the federal office of education. Free transportation for 3,250,658 pupils costs the taxpayers, $62,652,571 a year.

Wake Up and Laugh

Charles McCarthy's talents will now be turned to waking up people who have to go to work in the morning. An alarm clock with the face of the famous dummy, whose mouth opens and closes as the clock ticks has been placed on the market.

300 Potential Blowouts

A taxi driver in Dallas, Texas, reports the removal of more than 300 nails, screws, assorted splinters and tacks from one of the tires of his cab equipped with a new self-healing inner tube which had been in service for one year.

RURAL SURVEY TO BE CONDUCTED BY MERCHANTS

Within the next few days a business survey will be started of the rural areas surrounding Mentone for a distance of at least five miles.

This survey is being conducted by the merchants and business men of Mentone for the purpose of learning how they can improve the trading facilities of their town to more widely meet the needs of their customers and attract new ones.

If you live within this territory you will be called on in the near future by Victor Lane, who has been retained by the participants of the survey for this purpose.

Your co-operation with Mr. Lane and your Mentone merchants will be gratefully received by all concerned. It is sincerely hoped that your co-operation will materially aid your merchants to improve their service along lines that will benefit you and your neighbors.

HARRISON CENTER HOME EC. MEETING

Nine members of the Harrison Center Home Economics club met Thursday at the home of Edna Davis. The meeting opened with "Brighten The Corner."

The roll was called by the secretary, and the members responded with New Year's resolutions.

The group voted to pay for the rental of the Atwood United Brethren recreational rooms for a party and plans for new club books were discussed. Two contests were conducted with Eva Thorne and Ruth Nelson winning first and second prizes and Esther Knepp received the door prize. Refreshments were served at close of the meeting.

Two Minute Sermon

By
Thomas Hastwell

THE LIFE THAT WOULD GROW: Perhaps the outstanding feature of the philosophy of living as brought to man by Christ is the fact that it teaches man the way to larger, more perfect living lies in service to others and forgetfulness of self. This is the big stumbling block to those who cannot accept Christ's teachings. They cannot give up self for others. The man who lives to himself and for himself never rises above himself.

As a stream can rise no higher than its source so is man limited in the height to which he can reach by the source of his power and inspiration. If the source and inspiration is self, he cannot grow beyond his own little stature and limitations. If the source and inspiration is found in service to others, in the forgetting of self, in God and his teachings there is no limit to the height that he can reach, because God has provided for men a goal that will always be a challenge to lure them onward and upward to a better and higher plane of living.

While We Think Of It—

Never growl because your newspaper fails to give every scrap of news, as long as you take no trouble to give the editor and reporter any information. We know of readers who are awfully 'put out' as 'twer, because we make no note of the arrival or departure of the friends visiting them, their social affairs, or the heaven sent bundles of sweetness that visit their homes occasionally.

The average newspaper editor isn't a medium or a mind reader. He gets most of his news the same way a farmer get his milk—by pumping.

MARRIED

Nelson—Conn

A lovely New Year's eve wedding was solemnized at six o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Conn, of Tippecanoe Lake, when their daughter, Miss Marian Conn became the bride of Denzel D. Nelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mace Nelson of Burket. Rev. Frank Dougherty of the Warsaw Methodist church, read the vows in the presence of the immediate families.

Miss Lois Conn, sister of the bride, and Harold Nelson, brother of the bridegroom, were attendants.

Following the ceremony, the couple left for a short wedding trip. After January 5 they will be at home to their many friends at their residence in Burket.

Mrs. Nelson was graduated from Leesburg with the class of 1935, and Mr. Nelson was a 1928 graduate of Burket high school.

PARKER IMPROVING

Joe Parker, who was injured in an automobile collision December 20, in which Mrs. Frank Smith of Columbia City was killed instantly, is recovering at his home near Silver Lake. Mr. Parker suffered severe bruises and was dazed for several hours after the accident. He was able to be up and about Wednesday.

Mr. Smith, husband of the fatally injured woman, is convalescing at a Columbia City hospital. Oddly enough the daughters of the two injured men Miss Betty Parker and Miss Smith were friends and former classmates at Manchester College.

Tots Point Out Bad Examples Of Parenthood

may aid dad and mother.
Often children's keen observations may point out unrecognized faults in parents. Efforts at fair government always appreciated.

By HILDA RICHMOND

SEVEN mothers were busily sewing in the living-room, while outside under the open windows their children played noisily. There had been a call for children's garments for a large family whose home had been destroyed by fire. The sewing machines raced and needles flashed. Presently the children, exhausted from a wild game, sat down on the grass to rest, and their shrill young voices carried into the living-room at a time when the sewing machines happened to be silent.

"My mother never, never would do such a thing!" were the first words that were heard. "If I had been bad like Jimmy, she would have called me home, and if I'd had to be punished nobody would have seen it."

"Mine, too," agreed three more young critics.

"I'm glad my mother doesn't do things like that," spoke up a very earnest young voice. "And another thing she never does is to make me sit still when there's company."

"No," interrupted another, "if I come in with my hands and face washed clean and shake hands, then my mother tells me I may be excused to go and play."

"That's the way my mother does. Ruth's mother makes her sit still the whole time and it's awful hard."

"Ruth would be as careful as anybody, when there is company, not to get noisy if her mother would—"

"Yes, my goodness! It's hard to sit still for an hour and have nothing to play with, and that's what Ruth's mother wants her to do. I heard her scolding about it."

"Well, I'm glad my mother is not like Bob's. Bob never gets a chance to choose about anything. It's mother decides where he shall go and what he shall do, whether it's important or not."

"My mother lets me have my say about most things."

"So does mine." This last was in chorus.

Long before this, all conversation in the living-room had ceased, and the mothers were listening breathlessly. "I'm afraid they will begin on our faults if they continue this open forum," said one mother.

Children Ask Fair Government.

"Let them," said another. "It is doing us good to be praised, and the hearing of our faults will not hurt us."

"Bless their little hearts," said a third, "I never dreamed they were such keen observers. And aren't they loyal to us!"

"And they are right," said the hostess. "I think it is a shame the way Mrs. Lotte comes out with a switch in her hand to hunt her children. She won't injure their bodies with that little stick, but I'm afraid she may injure her opportunity to gain their confidence, with her cast-iron methods of government."

"I'll tell you what let's do," said another mother suddenly, wishing to prevent further criticism of their neighbor. "Let's give our darling instructors a little treat. I have some ice cream in the refrigerator, and it will only take a minute to bring it over."

"Good! I baked fresh cookies this morning, and they will go nicely with the ice cream," said another.

The children were astonished at the feast suddenly spread before them as they sat on the grass, but they were not too astonished to do their part with their hearty young appetites.

"Such a surprise!"

"Why didn't you tell us?"

"May we call to Bob and his sister to come over?"

"I'll say this is swell!"

Chattering and eating, and drinking quantities of pink lemonade, the children continued their picnic until the last drop and crumb were consumed, while the mothers, sewing silently, thanked God in their hearts that their little children saw and appreciated their loving efforts at fair government, and they humbly asked for more light, more patience and more skill.

Ultraviolet Meat Storage

Longer storage of meat and other food without spoiling or changes of color is made possible by the use of ultraviolet radiation combined with other more usual food preservation practices, Professor Arthur W. Ewell of the Worcester Polytechnic institute told the American Society of Refrigerating Engineers at a recent meeting, according to Science Service. The germ-killing effect of the radiation, now being set to work for bacterial purposes in a dozen different fields ranging from sterilizing the air in hospital operating rooms to the packing industry, can be attributed to its power of forming ozone from the oxygen in the air, Professor Ewell declared.

Minute Meditation—

It would be interesting to read the accounts of the Sweepstake winners five, ten and twenty years after the winning check had been received. It would be interesting to know how many really used wisely and spent wisely their sudden fortune. An interesting story is told of Pearl and Benjamin Mason of Philadelphia who were winners of a $150,000 prize in the Irish Sweepstakes. The Masons are colored people. The family consists of the husband Benjamin, the wife Pearl, a ten year old daughter Frances, and a young son. Benjamin worked at occasional jobs at a garage. At other times a relief check kept things going. Then came the prize money.

The first thing the Masons did was to set aside $57,000 of the $150,000 for income tax. The next check of $2,132.90 went to the county relief board to return the relief payments that had been made the family. $5,000 went to buy a home and a car. With the next $40,000 the Masons bought a block of badly delapidated and run down tenements. The balance of $40,000 will be used to employ negro labor to build a modern air conditioned apartment development which will be rented to 100 families at cost of upkeep and operation. The Masons have named the development the Frances Plaza Apartments after their daughter who picked the winning ticket.

In The Lions Den—

Members and guests of the Mentone Lions Club spent a very enjoyable evening at their regular meeting held on Wednesday, January 3rd, when Lion International Vice President Ed Payne addressed the group and gave a thirty minute showing of color moving pictures.

Dinner was served to the club in the dining room of the Mentone Methodist Church at 6:30. Forty-six members and seven guests were present.

After dinner the roll was called by Lion Secretary Raymond Bare and Lion President E. E. DeWitt conducted a short business session of the club before introducing Mr. Payne as speaker of the evening.

Lion Ed Payne has visited with the Mentone club on previous occasions and made for himself many friends from its roster. However, on this visit he outdid himself in the merit of his remarks and the general calibre of his presentation. His address was entitled "The Present Need For A Renewal Of Faith." He recalled how the efficacy of the Christian faith has been almost entirely lost sight of in some of the nations now at war. He further explained the prime necessity of every American citizen adhering more closely to that Christian faith upon which the founders of the nation built and developed this great and complex democracy. He stated that we should not muster a firmer faith in a Supreme Being only, but that we need more faith in our government, more faith in our family institutions and more faith in our community.

At the close of his talk, Mr. Payne set up his movie projector and exhibited several hundred feet of beautiful color moving pictures which he took in Ireland and England last August while on a vacation tour of the British Isles. He explained the pictures as they were shown and this portion of the program proved both novel and interesting to all present. He left England very shortly after war had been officially declared and some of his pictures taken in London just before he left showed solemn evidences of the detailed preparations that country was making for war.

At the close of the meeting the board of directors met with the membership committee to work out plans for the coming membership drive.

At the next regular meeting of the club, which will be held on Wednesday, January 17th, each of the past presidents of the organization will relate the highlights of the club's activities during his term of office.

JESSIE RUSH, Editor and Mgr.

We take our hats off to bus and truck drivers. In fact, if they should even be a little disdainful toward other motorists on one point, it's not without very good reason. Here is that reason:

The Chicago Motor club reports that since 1927, fatalities involving trucks have decreased 29 per cent while those in which buses figured have dropped 41 per cent.

And if the operators of these vehicles hold their heads a little higher it should serve as an object lesson to every motorist. You see, good driving is a serious business with these men. Their very livelihood depends on it, because not only do many of them have to pass drivers' test before they are employed but they also have to maintain a certain high standard of accident-freedom while they are in service.

So, if they are a bit proud of their record it's only their just due from years of hard work, meticulous care in the face of every hazard known to motordom, and rigid adherence to traffic laws.

Commercial drivers are solving their accident problem by conditioning. Why can't drivers of pleasure cars do the same?

The brewing industry is faced this year with a shortage of hops, its basic raw material. The consumption by brewers totals 36,000,000 pounds annually. The shortage is due to the fact that imports from central Europe are restricted and because other countries which usually buy their hops from Central Europe, because of the war are turning to the United States.

A first rate army and a first rate navy and a first rate air force are to a nation what good credit is to a man. The better a man's credit is, the less he needs it.

Completion of the Pan-American highway by October 12, 1942—the 450th anniversary of the landing of Columbus—is the objective of committees set up by countries involved. Present plans call for a road and reliability race, possibly from Buenos Aires, Argentina to Bogota, Columbia.

You are an old timer if you can remember when reporters for the village newspapers used to conclude the announcement that a well known local single young man of the village had purchased a new buggy with the warning, "Look out girls."

Mentone has taken on a desolate appearance with the passing of the holidays. One misses the cheerful glow of illuminated holly wreaths in windows and the festive aspect of the business district.

Increased safety in conditioning operations upon the adrenal glands to relieve high blood pressure in properly selected cases is reported by Dr. Joseph L. DeCourcy, Cincinnati surgeon in a medical paper reviewing the application of modern methods of diagnosis and surgical technique. By lessening the adrenal content of the blood by unilateral surgery a marked improvement and a subsequent lengthening of life may be expected even in the advanced cases of high blood pressure.

The difference between statesmen and politicians is that the politician has people praising him while he is alive and condemning him after he is gone, while the statesman is condemned while he is alive and praised after he is gone.

MENTONE STILL AT TOP OF LIST

Mentone retained their perfect record in the county Friday night by defeating Syracuse 21 to 19 on their opponents floor. Syracuse took a lead of 10 to 6 at the first quarter and were still ahead by a single point at the half when the score stood 13-12. The score teetered from one team to the other from this point with Mentone ahead at the final gun. The Bulldogs flashy forward Shirey was high point man of the game with ten points, but he paid for the honor with a bad cut over his eye, received in a fall during the last few moments of play.

Next week the boys go to Akron for their second game with the Fliers.

German With Big Ideas

Herrmann Soergel, of Munich, Germany, once suggested damming the Mediterranean at Gibraltar, at the Dardanelles and at the Suez canal. Since the sun takes water from the Mediterranean three times faster than rivers flow into it, a vast area of arable land now undersea would thus be bared. Next, Soergel also suggested that a canal should be built to the Sahara desert, which is below sea level, to turn the desert into a garden.

U. S. Religious Bodies

Organized religious bodies throughout the nation had a total membership of 52,378,026 persons 13 years of age or older in 1938—an increase of 950,568 over the previous year. There were 246,667 houses of worship, an increase of 1,743 over 1937. Protestants had 223,229, Roman Catholics, 18,379, Jews, 4,150. Among the Protestants, the Southern Baptist convention had the largest number of churches—24,671.

Bahama Conch Shells

Many conch shells are exported from the Bahama islands to Italy and France, where they are carved into cameos. Others bear valuable pearls, and all contain a sea snail or slug which is eaten by many West Indians. To catch them, native fishermen bait an empty shell with a piece of ham. The odor of the food attracts large numbers of live conches, and divers have only to drop overboard in order to reap their harvest.

Deer Hunting Citizens

The city of Biggs, Colo., has again lived up to a tradition that has been established for several years. It is that when the deer season opens, fully one-half of the population moves to the hills. Fortunately, as each hunter is only allowed to kill two deer a year, the hunters get back in time to prevent any serious breakdown in the city's economic and industrial life.

Barring the Borer

By stringing electrocuting lights around his cornfield, T. E. Heinton, of the Indiana Experiment station, finds that he can attract and kill corn borers before they have any chance to lay their eggs, declares the Country Home Magazine. Last year his wired field was almost entirely free of borers, while nearly half of the cornstalks on surrounding farms were badly infested.

Opening of Panama Canal

When the Panama canal was opened, in 1914, many New York newspapers took no notice of the event whatever. The reason was that war had broken out in Europe a few days before. Since that time 100,000 vessels carrying half a billion tons of cargo have moved through the waterway.

First Separate Cells

The system of segregating all prisoners in separate cells was first tried out in a comprehensive way in Philadelphia about 1830.

Accidental Discovery

Accident often plays a large part in the discoveries of science. Roentgen, credited with discovering the X-ray, was put on the path of his epochal feat when he found that waves emitted from a Crookes tube, through which he had been sending electrical charges, registered on some photographic plates stored in his laboratory.

Penny a Day?

Americans have lost $ 010,000,000 cents since the United States government began making them in 1793, the office of the mint has estimated. Of 91,202,000 two-cent pieces coined between 1864 and 1872, more than 57,000,000 are still missing, and 66,000,000 of the three-cent pieces discontinued in 1889 have never turned up. Collectors hold very few of these coins; it is believed that most of them were dropped in drains and gutters.

Italy's 'Wooden' Nickels

Not exactly a wooden nickel, but something just as good, may be the thought behind the recent decree in Italy to replace nickel coins by "acmonital," a new stainless steel alloy developed by that country. Reports indicate that this is one of Italy's methods of conserving one of her strategic materials and she stands to save between five and six thousand tons of nickel, according to Engineering and Mining Journal.

Secret Telephone Numbers

About 50,000 families, one-third of which live in New York and Los Angeles, have secret telephone numbers that are not listed in the directories and cannot be obtained from the telephone companies, reports Collier's. EGG QUEEN WILL REIGN AT EGG SHOW

By Victor Lane

The initial meeting of the executive committee of the 1940 Mentone Egg Show was held Wednesday evening, January 10, at the Mentone school building, Forest Kesler, chairman, presiding.

The others who will serve on the executive committee this year are: Oliver Teel, Charles Manwaring, Max Nellans, Charles Meredith, Ed Ward, C. F. Beeson, Everett Long, Cecil Long, Royce Tucker, Harold Nelson and Hobart Creighton.

Sub-committees to handle the various details of staging the annual show were formed as follows:

PROGRAM COMMITTEE: Harold Nelson, chairman; Charles Manwaring, co-chairman. Honorary members: Dale Kelley, H. V. Johns, Hobart Creighton, Delbert Hunter, Frank Merkle, O. E. Beeson and Clarence Leininger.

FINANCE COMMITTEE: Oliver Teel, chairman. Honorary members: Raymond Bare, K. A. Riner, George Clark, Joseph L. McGinness and Everett Rathfon.

CONTEST and Premiums Committee: C. F. Beeson, chairman; Everett Long, co-chairman. Honorary members: Joe Swanson, Bob Hogue, Charles Hammer and Harry Moser.

BANQUET COMMITTEE: Cecil Long, chairman; Royce Tucker, co-chairman. Honorary members: Elmer Sarber, Lawrence Yarman and Henry Vandermark.

PUBLICITY COMMITTEE: Max Nellans, chairman. Honorary members: Jack VanGilder, Ken Dolan, George Boone, Elmore Fenstermaker, King Howard and Bob Snyder.

EGG QUEEN COMMITTEE: Hobart Creighton, chairman. Honorary members: Chet Manwaring and Joe Clark.

Tentative dates for this year's show were set for Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, April 24, 25, and 26.

Discussion was made of the work laid out for each committee and of obtaining efficient co-ordination between the committees in accomplishing the many tasks necessary to staging the big show.

It is expected that plans of the several committees will have taken definite form in time for the next meeting of the executive committee which will be held early in February.

Members of the group are bent on making the event more attractive than ever before. The crowning of an Egg Queen will be an important and colorful addition to the show which is expected to attract national attention in the industry.

RURAL SURVEY FOR MENTONE NOW UNDER WAY

By Victor Lane

On Monday of this week the survey being conducted by Mentone merchants and business men for the purpose of gathering valuable figures and information concerning the town's trading area, was begun.

Every home within a radius of at least five miles of Mentone in all directions will be visited in the next few weeks in an effort to find out how trading facilities can be improved to better meet the needs of the community.

The program planned by the business heads of our town includes not only the survey, but an active effort to bring new industry to this locality which will employ more people here at home.

An advertising message is being printed on the backs of all business envelopes free of charge to the users so that every letter leaving our post office will bear an invitation to learn more about our town and its advantages. Plain envelopes with this attractive advertising on the back are available at The Big Drug Store at regular prices and in any amounts.

The use of these envelopes gives everyone who writes a letter a chance to aid in the program at no extra cost to him.

The name given to this promotion program is the "GREATER MENTONE COMMUNITY PROJECT." The affairs of the project will be governed by committees from each of the five factions represented here. The chairmen of these committees will serve as an executive board which will be directly responsible for the project's operation.

This board is comprised of the following local men: George Clark, merchants and business men's group; Forest Kesler, egg producers; Bob Reed, Fair association; Leroy Norris, live stock shippers; Raymond Bare, Lions Club.

If you have an idea which you think will be helpful to this work in any way you are invited to discuss it with any member of the board or anyone connected with the project.

The hearty enthusiasm and co-operation shown for the program to date is very encouraging and promises to make the effort highly successful if constant work is continued.

The Mentone community is greatly blessed in many ways and is regarded by other towns in this part of the state as an already progressive and wide-awake locality. In a word, our people have the reputation of getting things done with more regularity than many of our neighboring places. This condition alone is reason for a great deal of civic pride on the part of every individual who calls our town home.

Our goal is increased prosperity for all in our community and nationwide recognition as the most up-and-coming little municipality in the United States.

GRAFTON SPRAGUE DIES AT HOME OF DAUGHTER

Grafton Sprague, aged 89 years, passed away at the home of his daughter, Mrs. William Pittman near Mentone Wednesday, January 10. Death was due to complications. He had been a resident of Kosciusko county for seventy-seven years.

The deceased was born in Marion county, Ohio, December 26, 1851, the son of Joseph and Anna Sprague. He was a farmer by occupation. Survivors include the daughter, Mrs. William Pittman at whose home he died, another daughter Mrs. Milo Becknell of Bourbon, and a number of grandchildren and great grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Friday afternoon, at 1:30 p. m. at the Mt. Pleasant church near Etna Green. Rev. John Skinner of the Old School Baptist Church officiated. Burial was in the Mt. Pleasant cemetery.

Frozen motors, weak batteries, frozen gas lines, and just plain 'won't go' made a lot of commuters late for work last week. If the car must be kept in the open an old blanket thrown over the hood often saves a freeze-up. Another important thing—always warm your motor slowly.

While we're on the subject, no-passing zones at hills, curves, and other hazardous spots marked by yellow lines at many points in Indiana are being strictly enforced. Observance is simple, and is designed for your motoring safety.

A Missouri farmer is reported to have harvested a 45-ton crop of horse-radish. That is enough horse-radish to warm up the whole state of Missouri.

"I suppose its because I am not an economist," a local man said in this office yesterday, "but I can't understand how it is that in this the richest country in the world there are so many busted banks, bankrupt businesses men and farmers. Delayed braking—waiting to apply the brakes until his car is practically on top of a stop or red light—is one of the surest signs of a reckless driver. Any driver who waits until the last moment to apply his brakes does so either because he is a bit too proud of his superior driving ability or because he is unwilling to slow down. In either case an innocent victim frequently pays for the error with his life.

TRUTH about ADVERTISING

By CHARLES B. ROTH

OF WHAT CAN A MAN BE PROUD?

ROBERT LOUIS STEVENSON, a gentle and a good man, asked, in dedicating one of his books to a friend, a question which has but one answer. He asked: "Of what can a man be proud if not of his friends?"

Friendship is the finest thing in human experience, but it is not confined to the narrow limits of one person to another person.

There are friendships of different kinds. For example, there are the friendships of business, and they are surely the finest part of business. Just as a man values his personal friends above almost everything else in life, so does a business value its business friendships.

The way a business wins friends is the same way that an individual wins them: by deserving them.

First the business must give its friends value for their money. Second it must keep its word. Third it must not neglect them, else they will leave.

"Friendship," said wise and candid old Doctor Samuel Johnson, "must be kept in repair."

Merchants and manufacturers, realizing this, keep their friendships in repair by going out of the way to give value and service and also by proclaiming their regard for their friends on frequent occasions.

The form of these proclamations is advertising, which appears in the newspaper and tells of the values being offered, of the service available and of reasons why you can become and remain their customers to your profit and satisfaction.

Business men who advertise realize that friendship is a pleasure—and that it is also a responsibility.

Whenever a business man advertises it is a sign that he is seeking the friendship of persons and that he is willing to assume the responsibility of being a good friend.

His advertising is a warranty that he will do his best to be worthy of his friend's confidence by providing the best and the most economical goods. You can't keep friends if you cheat or overcharge.

His advertising is a proof that he values their friendship and intends to be worthy of it. You can't keep friends unless you are willing to live up to your highest ideals, not only for the present, but also for the future.

The advertising in the newspaper is much more than so many commercial announcements. It is an overture toward friendship by a man or a product which means to be worthy of your friendship.

Two Minute Sermon

By
Thomas Hastwell

THE LESSON OF THE CLOCK:—There hangs in my office an electric clock. In addition to the customary hour hand and minute hand there is a large red hand that circles the face of the clock once each minute. I am impressed every time I look at this clock with the speed with which this large red hand races around the dial. Especially am I impressed when, as I watch it, as I often do, and realize that it isn't a minute hand that I am looking at, but life itself made visible that is speeding away, that each circuit of the dial by the red hand means one minute of life that is gone never to come back.

This electric clock has been a lesson to me in that it has given me a new idea of the fleeting nature of time and life. The other evening the electric current failed for just one instant and the clock stopped. Not a hand or a wheel moved.

Sometimes I feel tempted to reach out and stop time in its mad rush; but one can't do this. Swiftly and irresistibly it moves on. The clock should tell us that life is measured out to us just one minute at a time. None of us is sure of any more. It should tell us that it is too fleeting, too precious, too uncertain to waste. It should teach us that if we plan to do good deeds we should do them now. If we plan to prepare our lives for the inevitable eternity we should begin now, today, while there is yet time, for none of us knows the day, nor the hour, nor the minute, when God will reach out and switch off the current and life shall cease, even as life in this clock ceases when the electric current stops.

Let Them Help! Children Learn By Experience

● MENTAL LIST OF POSSIBLE activities will do much toward solving problem of naughtiness. Childish energy demands outlet, and should be put to a constructive purpose through suggestion.

By LELIA MUNSSELL

"I WISH," mourned Sue Tressel, "I had something to do. I wish Arlene didn't have the measles. or that I'd had them so I could go over and play with her."

"I expect," smiled Mother, "that Arlene wishes much the same thing. She's just sick enough to have to stay in bed, and just well enough to want something to do. Maybe you could fix something for her to do. That would give you something to do, too."

"What?"

"Arlene's mother has a little lap-board that Arlene could use for pasting. Of course, you wouldn't want a big scrapbook if you were sick, but—"

Sue's face beamed. "I'll make a little scrapbook—of some of my new notepaper," she said delightedly. "Arlene can handle that."

Mother punched the holes for her and she tied the sheets together with ribbon. Then she had the happiest kind of a time finding and cutting out pretty pictures that would fit. When she had enough, Mother said she could carry them over herself. "It will be all right to go to the door." So Sue trotted across the street with the scrapbook material and a bottle of paste.

"Tomorrow we will think of something else," said Mother. The next morning she laid out some magazines, all of them open at paper dolls. "When you're sick you like to play with paper dolls," she said to Sue.

"O, this is going to be a nice thing to do," was the smiling response. She began to sing and sang almost all the time she was cutting out the dolls and putting each doll and her wardrobe into a separate envelope. Then Mother brought a big envelope.

"When you're sick it's nice to have something to smile over. Can you read what I have written?" she asked.

Sue read:

"These dolls cannot take the measles from you, and Dressing them all will be something to do."

After enclosing the little envelopes she trotted across the street and left them at Arlene's door.

The third morning was bright and sunny. "How about taking Arlene a bit of outdoors?" suggested Mother. "Do you know the names of the leaves of all the trees in our yard? See if you can think up a game for Arlene."

Help Children When Necessary.

After a time Sue came running in, her eyes shining. "Could I get some pieces of paper and pin a different leaf to each and let her write what she thinks their names are under them?"

Mother nodded. "So that she need not think too hard, write the names for her on another sheet of paper, but don't arrange the leaves in the same order. Tomorrow you can give her some more leaves with the name of each written underneath, and she can change the names or the leaves on her sheets if any are wrong."

Soon Sue had samples of all the leaves in the yard and was earnestly at work preparing them for Arlene.

Mother had a large envelope ready, on which she had written:

"Cut out each name and pin it tight. Tomorrow you'll see which names are right."

Sue's mother was not only understanding, but she was wise. She knew childish energy demanded an outlet. In this instance she made use of two fundamental principles. She gave Sue an objective: to help make Arlene happy, and she led Sue to think out what to do herself.

Much of what we call naughtiness in children is lack of something to do. Let us keep our thinking caps handy and have, for ready use, a mental list of possible activities. As we use these, from time to time, let us give the children help where needed, but not to the extent of destroying their own initiative.

And let us help them to help in the things we do. It's sometimes tiresome to have them "messing around," but that is the way they learn. And we mustn't forget to appreciate the children's efforts, no matter how crude—ignore them, or criticize too harshly, and we chill their enthusiasm.

Robbery At Co-Ops Remains Unsolved

In the wee small hours of the cold, frosty morning in years, two men broke into the office of the Northern Indiana Cooperative Association and purloined approximately $100 in checks and $250 in cash from the safe.

Tracks in the snow back of the building indicated that the prowlers had entered the back door, worked their way to the office in the front of the building and forced the door of the office. With a hatchet from one of the Co-Op trucks parked in the building, the combination was knocked off the safe. However, the thieves had not counted on a tear gas bomb exploding at this juncture.

Blinded, they made one grab at the direction of the cash boxes and fled. A drawer of one of the desks was also forced, but nothing of value could be found missing.

The crime was discovered by Walter M. Ifford, who was the first man to work Friday morning. General Manager Oliver Teel was summoned, who in turn summoned Sheriff Burton P. Foulke and Howard Lightfoot, county fingerprint man, and State Police officer Clayton Clutter, who investigated the crime thoroughly. No arrests have been made, and no other clues have been made public.

SERVICES AT COUNTY HOME

Zanna Hammer was in charge of services at the Kosciusko County Home Sunday afternoon.

Included on the program were: Kenneth Parls, trombone solo; Rev. J. J. Cox, cornet solo; Dortha and Dean Lecker, saxophone duet; young people's choir; and harp selections with vocal by Mrs. Jaycox.

FIRE DESTROYS

SWAYZEE HOME

The Mentone fire department was called Thursday night to Tippecanoe where the Swayzee home was destroyed by fire. The blaze started from a defective chimney. Only a few household furnishings were rescued.

Leap Year

Golda Mae Tinkey Dies At Logansport

Mrs. Golda Mae Tinkey, 53, wife of Grover Tinkey, passed away Saturday morning at a Logansport hospital where she had been a patient for two weeks. Death was due to hardening of the arteries, and followed an illness of two weeks' duration.

Mrs. Tinkey was born in Kosciusko county, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Nellans. Survivors include the parents, her husband, two children, Clarence Tinkey of near Burket and Ruth Brencikuer of LaFayette, and four grandchildren.

Private funeral services were held at the Tinkey home Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. Rev. Noah McCoy of North Manchester officiated, and burial was at Palestine.

MRS. SIMON SNYDER INJURED TUESDAY

Mrs. Simon Snyder sustained painful injuries Tuesday when she was kicked by a cow at their home near Mentone. She was confined to her home for several days with the injury.

RURAL SURVEY IN PROGRESS

The rural survey being conducted by the merchants and business men of the Mentone community is now in progress.

Many homes south and west of Mentone have been called on during the past week by Victor Lane who is making the survey. He reports that he has found much enthusiasm among the farm people for the community promotion project of which the survey is a vital part.

The business men, who are sponsoring the work, wish to express their appreciation for the fine cooperation shown Mr. Lane by those whom he has contacted so far.

FIRE AT TAYLOR HOME

The Burket Fire Department was summoned to the home of Mrs. Tina Taylor north of Palestine Thursday evening when a fire was discovered between the walls. The blaze may have been started by an overheated furnace. Delford Taylor, who was ill at his mother's home when the fire broke out, was removed to the home of his brother, Verl Taylor, until the damage was repaired.

Mentone Stumbles In Semi-Finals

Fighting their way to the semi-finals of the 23rd annual high school basketball tournament in their usual brilliant style, the Bulldogs won the acclaim of every fan present, but were unable to down the strong Syracuse team, who proved to be the dark horse of the tourney. Few expected Syracuse to reach even the semi-finals, and even fewer expected them to walk off with the championship Saturday night in a 45-31 victory over Warsaw. The 1200 fans who crowded the armory Friday night could hardly believe their eyes when they saw Beaver Dam, one of the tourney favorites, going down before the Yellow Jackets, in the most sensational up-set of the meet.

Before the semi-final game at 3:00 p.m. Saturday, Mentone had defeated Etna Green, 34-21, and North Webster, 25-18. The Thursday night game was the Bulldog's third victory over Etna Green this year.

Mentone kept a step ahead of the Yellow Jackets throughout the first half of the game Saturday afternoon, but the Syracuse five came back strong for the second half and finished with a score of 35-22 in their favor.

The Saturday night victory over the Warsaw Tigers, marked the sixth tourney, that has been won by the Syracuse lads.

Continues To Improve

Miss Edyth Cochran, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Cochran, continues to improve at her home in Burket. Miss Cochran has been ill with typhoid fever for several weeks. The source of the infection has not been discovered, though tests have been taken from various sources of water supply. Mr. Cochran's daughter, Edyth, two sons-in-law, and a granddaughter have been suffering with the disease. They are all out of danger at this time however.

TRUTH about ADVERTISING

By CHARLES B. ROTH

TODAY ONLY: $5 BILLS FOR $1.98

MANY times, on a wager, men have tried to sell $5 bills to strangers for as little as $1.98—legitimate $5 bills worth $5 anywhere. They have usually failed.

The reason is simple to see: Lack of confidence.

Their proposition sounded too good to be true, failed to arouse the confidence of the prospects, who were afraid to buy.

No one trusted the seller because no one knew him. He might be a counterfeiter. Who knows? He might have some trick up his sleeve. Who knows? Better have nothing at all to do with him.

Confidence is the mainspring of business. Without it no business can succeed and no product can be sold, because before any one of us is willing to part with a penny, we must have confidence that that which we are going to buy will give us value received.

Confidence is not a matter which can be bought. It must be earned. It is a process of growth. The idea of confidence grows from one customer to the next one. It gives vitality to everything about a business.

When confidence enters into a business transaction, everything about it becomes pleasant. But whenever confidence is absent, no amount of any other qualities can take its place.

You have often bought something from someone you did not know, say a solicitor who succeeded in taking away your money at the door. Will you ever see him again? Will you get the goods you have paid for? Was it a miniature swindle? You wonder and worry.

You spend hours in painful doubt. Perhaps everything turned out all right. Even so, the profit went out of the transaction when you had to worry about getting your money's worth. Buy goods that are advertised from merchants who advertise. There lies confidence.

One of the chief services of newspaper advertising to consumers is that it denotes which merchants or products are worthy of confidence.

Because newspaper publishers are so jealous of their advertising columns and are quick to reject anything which does not live up to their standards, readers know that if a thing is regularly advertised in the newspaper it is worthy of their confidence.

As a matter of fact, the appearance of an advertisement in a newspaper is recommendation of the character and quality of the goods being advertised.

George W. Platt Former Resident Dies Thursday

George W. Platt, 94-year-old former resident of Mentone, passed away Thursday morning, January 18 at the Odd Fellows home in Greensburg, Ind. Death, due to complications, followed an illness of three years. Mr. Platt was a carpenter by trade, had lived in the vicinity of Mentone for thirty-five years before going to the Odd Fellows home fourteen years ago. His wife, the former Mary Jane Rider of Akron, preceded him in death twelve years ago. He was a member of the Mentone Baptist church.

Surviving relatives include one niece, Mrs. Clarence Eber, near Rochester, and one nephew, George Rider of Pierceton.

The body arrived in Warsaw Friday morning and was taken to the Reed funeral home where it remained until the funeral, which was held at 1:30 o'clock, Saturday afternoon. Rev. Barnaby officiated at the service and burial was in the Mentone cemetery.

A rubber snow shovel—to which snow will not stick because it's coated with a slippery rubberized plastic.

A way to control the color and odor of flowers by coating the seeds with a latex cover containing the desired dye and perfume—so don't be surprised if you spot a rose-red orchid that smells like a lilac.

HUFFER CAR DAMAGED

The front fender and head light of the Lindsey Huffer car was badly damaged Thursday when struck by an oil truck driven by Lon Walters. The accident occurred when the truck was backing out from the curb on Main St., in Mentone.

In The Lions Den—

Members of the Mentone Lions Club met in their regular bi-monthly session Wednesday evening, January 17, at 6:30 o'clock in the recreation room of the Mentone Methodist Church.

After dinner a business meeting was held with Lion President, E. E. DeWitt presiding. Richard Greulich member of a committee appointed to investigate action on the improvement of the Culver road west from state road 25 to 31, reported on his investigation of the project.

Lion Kenny Riner read a short biography of Melvin Jones, founder of Lions International, in connection with the membership drive conducted during the month of January in Mr. Jones' honor.

Seven new members were then welcomed into the Mentone club and given their official insignia pins in recognition of their membership. The new members were: Jack VanGilder, Gene Marshall, George Black, George Clark, Herschel V. Nellans, Frank Meredith and Ivan Tucker.

A letter was read inviting the club to send a member representative to Michigan City on the twenty-first of February to take part in a meeting and dinner along with representatives from over a hundred other Indiana Lions clubs paying tribute to International Third Vice President, Ed. Paine. President E. E. DeWitt was unanimously conferred the honor of representing the local club at the dinner.

The meeting will be attended by International President, Alexander T. Wells and also International General Secretary, Melvin Jones.

At the close of the business session the Lions were entertained by a series of short talks given by each of the six past presidents of the club who have presided over the meetings since its inception in May, 1933.

Lion Kenny Riner was the club's first president. His talk was followed by those of F. R. Burns, Mahlon Mentzer, Dale Kelley, Elmore Fensmaker and Conda Walburn who served as presidents in the order mentioned.

Plans were discussed before the close of the meeting for the annual ladies night celebration which will be given on the evening of Wednesday, February 7, the next regular meeting night.

ARE YOU A "10:10" DRIVER?

Are you a "10:10" driver? A "10:20", or perhaps a "9:15" motorist?

A recent investigation by the Chicago Motor club revealed that most pleasure car motorists agree that holding their hands on the steering wheel in a position corresponding to ten minutes past ten is the least fatiguing. The "10:20" position was the second most popular, and "9:15" ranked third among motorists.

Truck drivers chose "10:20" as their most comfortable long-range driving position, with "10:10" second and "9:15" third.

This small point in driving is of vital importance in accident prevention. A driver is much less likely to figure in a collision if he is holding the wheel naturally and comfortably. Accidents, in a great many cases, occur when the driver is either inattentive or in a strained position.

General Motors Builds 25-Millionth Unit

Brief ceremonies were held in the Chevrolet assembly plant at Flint, January 11, marking completion of this car, the 25-millionth unit built by General Motors. In behalf of the thousands of workers who had a hand in its manufacture, 75 members of the final assembly line crew handed M. E. Coyle, Chevrolet general manager, a commemorative scroll for presentation to W. S. Knudsen, president of General Motors. Veteran Chevrolet employees, and executives of the Buick and AC Spark Plug divisions, were present as special guests.

In photo, left to right: C. E. Wetherald, general manufacturing manager, Chevrolet; Mr. Coyle; H. H. Curtice, general manager Buick Division; A. P. Sloan, Jr., chairman of the board, General Motors; Fred Brown, veteran Chevrolet employee; C. S. Mott, vice president, General Motors; C. E. Wilson, executive vice president, General Motors, and Mr. Knudsen.

The car was taken at once to Detroit, to play a major part in the "March of Men and Motors" celebration staged that night in the Masonic Temple.

Tuberculosis Test Made In High School

Ninety-one out of ninety-eight students of Mentone high school were given tuberculosis tests at the school house Friday morning. The tests are a county-wide movement; they were read here by Dr. Urschel, assisted by the county nurse, Miss Marie Sohaski. The tests are voluntary on the part of the pupils.

Our school has an extremely good average. Only four pupils out of the ninety-one tested, showed any tubercular tendencies, and this in itself is not alarming, as it was only the first reading. A second will be taken later in the semester.

No Road Mams

In studying the problem of penetration of fog by means of various forms of light, a U. S. army officer, Lieut. Col. H. C. Davidson of the army air corps, had a first-hand glimpse of bird flight habits. Ascending in a captive balloon over London with a British officer, Colonel Davidson found that hundreds of birds were flying around the fog, which was only 1,500 feet thick. Strangely enough, those birds skilled in navigation, such as sea gulls, all seemed to know where they were going and headed in one direction. The others, such as starlings, were flying around in circles, greatly confused because the land was blotted out.

Reading Club Entertained At Stanley Boggs Home

The Mentone Reading Club met at the home of Mrs. Stanley Boggs last Tuesday evening.

The program was in charge of Mrs. Irvine Snyder. She was assisted by Mrs. Harold Weissert, Mrs. Walter Lackey, Mrs. Herschel Teel, and Miss Margaret Ward.

Stories and musical numbers from the following operas were given: Sam. on and Delilah, Rigoletto, Cavalleria Rusticana, The Tales of Hoffman, and Thais.

Choice refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Orpha Blue.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. T. J. Clutter with Mrs. Dora Taylor assisting the hostess. Mrs. Frank Sanders, county president of Federation of Clubs, will bring greetings from the county federation. Mrs. J. W. Scott, state president of the sorority Epsilon Sigma Omicron, sponsored by the federation of clubs, will speak on the work of that organization.

Miss Sohaski, county health nurse will discuss some major health problems. Miss Frances Lucas, who is in charge of the children's program in the county welfare department will be a speaker also.

Other guests from the County Welfare Department who have been invited are: Mrs. Calarice Hall, Mrs. Nancy Elizabeth Moser, and Miss Bonnie Price.

Go East Young Man?

At the age of 14, Horace Greeley became an apprentice in the printing office of the Northern Spectator at Poultney, Vt. He later went to New York and secured a job on the Spirit of the Times. In December, 1832, he and Francis Story, foreman of the office, left it and established a printing business under the name of Greeley & Story. After Story's death, Greeley and the former's brother-in-law, Jonas Winchester, were partners and in March, 1834, they began a weekly literary newspaper which they named the New Yorker.

Spider: Red or Green?

The red spider isn't red at all, but a very delicate tint of green, though in some cases this destructive little insect is a very bright green. He, also, like most garden enemies, takes up his abode on the under side of the leaves, where he immediately begins spinning a web and leaves tiny red dots on the foliage.

Two Minute Sermon

By Thomas Hastwell

A BIG OR A LITTLE MAN:—I have in my back yard a trumpet vine that is growing upon a trellis. Each summer the vine completely covers the trellis with a great mass of dark green leaves and orange red flowers. Though a hardy and a profuse growing plant, I have noticed that it never grows higher than the trellis that supports it. Now and then a long tendril reaches out as though it would lift itself nearer to the sun, but gaining weight it drops back and trails toward the ground in a long festoon. My neighbor across the way has the same kind of trumpet vine planted at the base of an old steel windmill tower. Each summer it strives to reach the very top of the high tower and is truly a beautiful sight.

I have often thought as I have looked at these vines how like man they are. The man who depends upon his own strength, who lives for himself alone, never grows any bigger than his own soul. His own selfish limitations smother his life and limit it always to little and selfish things. But the man who takes God into his life, who takes at his word Christ, and who makes him the goal of his living can become as big as he cares to. Like the trumpet vine on the windmill tower he can keep on growing and never reach the limit of his possibilities. We have all seen men who represent both types, those who live little, narrow, constricted, selfish lives, limited by their own human limitations, and those who live lives that grow and continue to grow in richness of spirit, and into finer and fuller and better living. The difference is that one puts his trust in himself, and the other puts his trust in God.

Child Requires Guidance When Starting Hobby

By GRACE ARCHBOLD

"YOU are a very naughty boy," said Mrs. Wilson to her little son, as she looked with dismay at the mutilated magazine she had just taken from him. "If Donald were not on his way to tea with you, I would put him off and punish you severely. You know this magazine belongs to his mother and was only lent to us. I shall have to explain to her, and what will she think? It is not easy to get another copy. Run away, I am out of patience with you," she added, flushed and greatly annoyed.

It was an unhappy and sullen child that slipped off to his playground.

A little later a ring of the bell announced the arrival of the visitors, Mrs. Macgregor and her son Donald. The boy was carrying a large parcel and looking very happy about it.

"May I see Harry at once, Mrs. Wilson? I have a present for him," said Donald eagerly.

The two mothers listened for a few moments, and excited exclamations of joy soon reached their ears.

"You look disturbed and worried. I hope you are not in trouble," said Mrs. Macgregor.

"Yes, I am. Sit down. I am so glad you have come, though I did think of putting you off, to punish Harry for his naughtiness. First of all I must confess to you about this magazine of yours," responded Mrs. Wilson. "I have just caught Harry in the act of cutting the picture of a dog out of it. I am so sorry."

Mrs. Macgregor laughed. "It does not matter in the least. I wonder what made him do it," she added thoughtfully.

"That is just what I should like to know. It is not the first time he has done that sort of thing. He has a perfect passion for cutting out. The strange thing about it is, that though I have given him old magazines to chip to his heart's content he does not confine himself to them. When the impulse seizes him he is liable to cut from any paper or magazine without any scruples whatever. Only the other day, I found his sister Ethel terribly upset. Harry had cut the picture of a spaniel out of the book her father gave her on her birthday."

Cutting No Idle Impulse.

"That is bad. He must be taught to respect other people's property. You said it was the picture of a spaniel? Another dog? Is he fond of dogs?"

"Yes, he is devoted to them. Unfortunately, we cannot let him have one because we live in an apartment. What can I do? A few days ago I found a little collection of dog pictures hidden away in one of his own books."

"That is the explanation!" exclaimed Mrs. Macgregor. "It is not a mere idle impulse, you see. He cannot have a real dog, so he is doing the best he can with pictures of them. Why not help him to turn his thwarted devotion into a scrapbook hobby? As it happens, Donald has brought him a large scrapbook like his own. The very thing for his dog pictures."

Mrs. Wilson gave a sigh of relief. "I like that idea," she said. "Harry will love to fill his book with stories and pictures of dogs. I'm afraid I haven't been sufficiently sympathetic with this urge of his. But of course he must learn to restrain himself when the pictures are in books and magazines, especially when they belong to other people."

"Certainly he must. Why not encourage him to 'take you to see' each new dog before he appropriates it? Show him that if it were a real dog he would have to consult you. Then you two can talk over the possibilities. If he may not have some particular dog that he wants for his scrapbook, explain the owner's rights and help him to find another very much like it. Children are not unreasonable. It will make a great difference to him when he feels he has your co-operation."

"He could color the pictures realistically; that will add to the interest. He will learn much from the making of his book, and the mental training will be invaluable."

"Yes, I'm sure you're right. Thank you," said Mrs. Wilson, smiling gratefully.

NEWS OF THE RURAL SURVEY

The rural survey being conducted by the Mentone Merchants and business men is progressing satisfactorily. Territory west of road 19 and south of road 25 has been completed by Victor Lane who is doing the survey work.

The area west of road 19 and north of road 25 will be covered during the coming week.

Many helpful ideas and suggestions are being offered by the interested people of our community for the improvement of our town as a trading center.

Two Bulletin Boards have been placed, one in the Farmers Bank and one in the Big Drug Store, where news of the progress of the GREATER MENTONE COMMUNITY PROJECT can be read by those who might miss seeing the articles printed in the papers.

EVANGELISTIC SERVICES NOW BEING HELD AT PALESTINE CHURCH

Starting Sunday, January 28 and continuing through Sunday, February 11, and every night at 7:00 o'clock, an Evangelistic campaign will be held at the Palestine Christian Church on Route 25 east of Mentone.

The messages will be brought by the pastor, Walter H. Mickley, formerly of Philadelphia, with Mr. Robert Hill of Los Angeles, California, in charge of the song service.

There will be special music every night by talent from Grace Theological Seminary and surrounding churches.

The public is urged to attend these services where the Old Fashioned Gospel will be preached and your ears lifted up by inspirational singing and testimony. A hearty welcome awaits you. "Let's Go Back To the Bible."

Nottingham's Chicks Destroyed By Fire

Fire, starting from a soft coal burner, broke out in a brooder house on the H. E. Nottingham farm a mile east of Mentone about ten o'clock Monday morning. The Mentone Fire Department was summoned, and succeeded in saving the building, but the chicks, numbering 1600 in all, were destroyed. It was not learned whether the loss was covered by insurance or not.

SILVER LINING

For 105 years the principal tool in mirror-making has been a big white China pitcher, identical to those which graced bedrooms in pre-plumbing days. From it the silvering solution is poured by hand onto the glass. This method is still used by almost every one of 500 American mirror manufacturers.

Last week William Peacock of Philadelphia started his first vacation in ten years. All that time he had been perfecting a process that would banish the old pitcher from its final haven and for the first time put mirror production on a streamlined basis. A spray gun that can silver a 12-foot square of glass in 57 seconds, compared to a half hour for the pitcher method, is the answer.

Glass experts say extension of the process will produce truer image-reflection and, by lowering manufacturing costs, will aid expansion of the quality mirror market, especially with regard to low cost housing.

Faith Essential If Youngsters Trust Parents

● MISTAKES WILL HAPPEN and children often regret them as much as their parents. Confidence comes much easier if child is sure he will receive fair treatment for self-admitted mistakes.

By MARION BROWNFIELD

BETTY, aged 11, was in the kitchen washing the dinner dishes while her father and some relatives were visiting in the breakfast room adjoining. Betty often "did" the dishes alone. She now proceeded methodically to stack them as she had been taught to do. Then she prepared the soapy dishwater and placed a second pan to rinse the dishes in. All the time, however, one ear was straying toward the pleasant conversation nearby. Mother was across the hall putting the last stitches on a dress Betty was to wear on the morrow, and the little girl was dawdling in order to enjoy the chat Daddy was having with the "company."

Suddenly, Betty breathed a prolonged, "Oh—!"

Daddy's head appeared in the kitchen doorway. "Break something?" he inquired.

"The hot water did!" explained Betty replacing a tea kettle of hot water on the stove.

The guests in the breakfast room smiled at the explanation. But Betty bravely held up a cracked tumbler.

"Too bad," said Daddy sympathetically.

"I'd better go and tell Mother," Betty marched gravely out of the kitchen.

"I'd give anything if my boy, George, would own up when something like that happens," remarked Cousin Harriet. "I scold him and scold him, but it doesn't seem to make any impression."

"H'm," said her husband, "it makes him afraid to confess."

Betty, back in the kitchen, approached the breakfast room door, holding the cracked tumbler. She smiled at her father. "Mother says I must be sure to have the rinsing water cool enough to put my finger in. But she says not to worry about this particular glass, because it was a cheap one." Betty resumed her dishwashing humming softly to herself.

"Well, it's a sort of habit, I think," her father said in an undertone to his relatives, "this fessing up," but Betty's mother never makes it hard for a child to tell her anything. She says confidence is the one thing she wants from the children. And we find that they themselves are as regretful over a mistake or an accident as we are. We simply talk it over and sometimes, not too often, use it as a basis for a future reminder to avoid repetition.

Honesty Is Natural for Ted.

"When we gave Ted his new bicycle I told him to be careful where he parked it—not to leave it long in unfamiliar surroundings. He was pretty careful the first month. Then he forgot one day and left his wheel in a vacant lot down near the railroad tracks, while he pitched an impromptu ball game."

"And it was stolen?" inquired Cousin Harriet.

"No," when he went for it, apparently it was all right. Then he discovered about half a dozen of the parts were gone!"

"Well," said Cousin Harriet's husband, "I expect he didn't relish telling you!"

"No," said Ted's father with a laugh, "he didn't. He commenced, though, by saying, 'You were right, Dad, about my bike.'"

"It's expensive," complained Cousin Harriet, "the things these youngsters do; I would whip George if he disobeyed me like that!"

Ted's father shook his head. "That's out of date, Harriet. I said to Ted, 'What happened, Son?' He then told me just what had happened and what was missing. Well, I told him it was his job to earn back those missing parts."

"I've been thinking it over, Dad," he said, "so I asked Mrs. Clark, down the street, if I could mow her lawn, and she said she would like to have her car cleaned. It'll be every two weeks, Dad!"

"To have to work for something, like that, will make a man of him!" approved Cousin Harriet's husband.

"We must go," Cousin Harriet arose.

Betty hurried from the kitchen and soon returned. "Mother wants you to see my new dress!" she said.

Cousin Harriet looked around the kitchen. It was unmistakably in order. "Your wife must take a lot of time and trouble training the children," She sighed.

Betty's father hesitated. How much dared he say? "Well, an ounce of prevention—" he ventured. "But after all, children are people—they are seldom intentional miscreants—that is if you treat them as if you expected them to be responsible.—If you—well—take it for granted, you know."

FARM MANAGEMENT SCHOOL TO BE HELD IN WARSAW, FEBRUARY 1st

Farmers of Kosciusko County who are interested in increasing their farm incomes are being urged by County Agent, Joe Clark to attend the Farm Management School, which will be held in the Court Room, at Warsaw on Thursday, February 1st from 10 a. m. until 3 p. m. R. H. Bauman, extension farm management specialist of Purdue University, will be present during the day to discuss subjects of importance to local farmers.

The following program will be presented:

1. How One Successful Farm in the 9th County Area is Set up to Make it More Profitable Than the Average—by R. H. Bauman, Purdue Specialist.
2. How I Manage my Livestock Program—by Roy T. Merkle, Claypool.
3. Some Farm Practices Which Irrigative Farmers Follow—R. H. Bauman.
4. How I Analyze My Farm Business—By A. D. Wilson, Milford.
5. The General Agriculture Situation and How To Take Advantage of it in 1940—by R. H. Bauman.
6. Question Box.
7. Summary of Meeting—by J. A. Clark, County Agent.

Actual business set-up and operation on one or more farms that have been among the most profitable in the Kosciusko County Area during past years will be discussed, as will the changing economic conditions affecting agriculture and what the individual may do to take advantage of the present situation. Mr. Bauman of Purdue has assisted with the analysis of many accounts kept by Indiana farmers on their own farms and has had a great deal of contact with the business aspects of farming.

Each person attending the school will have an opportunity to ask questions and take part in the discussion.

PROUD OF MILLION A YEAR AVERAGE

In connection with the 28th anniversary of his association with General Motors, M. E. Coyle, general manager, Chevrolet Motor Division recently announced the completion of the six-millionth automobile built during the past six years by the industry's leader.

Chevrolet's six-millionth car during this six-year period came off the assembly line at Flint, December 22, giving the company unique distinction of having been the only automobile manufacturer to maintain such an average in recent years.

By way of contrast, Mr. Coyle compared Chevrolet's current production rate with that set by the entire industry in 1911, craving on his memory of early days with General Motors, which was founded only three years before.

In that year 20,000 automobiles were manufactured by all companies in the country. Chevrolet alone produced more than 10,000 cars.

"We are proud of our record," says a Chevrolet representative, "in view of the economic and social adjustments that have been made in this period, such a record is a strong testimonial for Chevrolet," Mr. Coyle said.

TRUTH about ADVERTISING

By CHARLES B. ROTH

TRADE MARKS AND DOLLAR MARKS

WITHOUT giving the matter much thought you might define a trade mark on a package or an advertisement as a mark of identification which protects the interest of the seller against imitators; a selfish symbol, you know, which exists to help some one man or firm to get rich.

Actually a trade mark is as much to your interest as it is to the man's who owns it and has it registered in his name.

For it is a buying guide for you which you can absolutely trust. You can buy anything under a trade mark and know that the quality, the quantity and the price will be right. You do not even have to examine the package before you buy. If the trade mark is there, so also will the quality be there.

The merchant knows that. He prefers to sell trade-marked, that is, advertised, goods, because they have the confidence of the public and can be sold easily, quickly and in quantity.

Back of the trade mark is advertising. It stands for the trade mark, for the trade mark itself is merely a design etched on paper, until advertising gives it life in the minds of consumers like yourself.

The trade mark which saves you money and time need not be a formal design of a national manufacturer or advertiser. It may be merely the familiar name of your grocer or haberdasher, appearing at the foot of his advertisements in the newspaper.

Wherever you see those familiar words or names or marks you know that you are in the presence of a man who is doing his level best to be worthy of your trade and who wants to keep you coming back.

He is advertising for that purpose, notifying you that he is in business to stay and that you can buy from him and he will stand back of his goods. For you the trade mark, like the dollar mark which we all respect, stands for full value wherever it happens to be found.

But unidentified goods are as uncertain as counterfeit money, and the wise man or woman avoids both.

And how close these trade marks are to our lives and how comforting they are to us when we buy! You go into a store. On the shelves are familiar marks you have seen all your life.

You recognize them as you do familiar faces in a strange crowd—and they give you the same comforting feeling of familiarity and respect.

Trade marks exist to help you buy more serenely and profitably.

ACCIDENT FATAL TO DOYAL CLEMENS

Doyal Clemens, age 23, son of Everett Clemens of Akron, died at Wo. dawn Hospital last Friday morning, the victim of a freak accident which we described in this paper a few weeks ago. Death was due to a fractured skull which he sustained when struck by a steel barrel-head.

The deceased was born November 8, 1907. On July 17, 1929 he was united in marriage to Reba Wagoner. To this union were born three children, Carlton, Barbara and Juanita. Other survivors besides the father, wife, and children are two brothers, George of Akron, and James of Kendallville; two sisters, Mrs. Lester Burns and Mrs. Ethel Blackburn of Mentone. Another sister, Florence Clemens Fenstermaker died a few years ago.

Funeral services were conducted Sunday at the Talma Christian church with Rev. D. L. Slaybaugh officiating.

Two Minute Sermon

By

Thomas Hastwell

THE CHALLENGE OF SUPERIORITY: I do not suppose there is a person in the world who is not challenged by the achievements of a superior individual. Whether it is in the field of football, baseball, golf, swimming, diving, skiing or any phase of athletics we cheer their success and are thrilled at the brilliance of their achievement. The movie star or the actor upon the stage, the vocalist or the orator who hold great audiences spell bound. They all thrill us because they all represent superiority in the field of human endeavor. In the same measure is our admiration attracted toward the individual who lives a superior life, who refuses to clutter up his living with the little, the petty, the mean, the wrong and dishonest things and lives the life of a Christian, as Christ taught that men should live.

The world recognizes such and accords them the same high respect and regard that it does to those who excel in the other fields of human endeavor. Only a few can be great swimmers, or athletes, or great artists, but in the field of Christian living every man who desires to achieve excellence may do so if he wills. If he wills to be can build for himself a name among his fellow men that neither advancing years, nor failing strength, nor dimming eyesight will ever take away.

Babies Adopted by Animals Develop Into Weaklings

History Lists Thirty Beast Parent Cases, but No Supermen Result.

DENVER.—"While I was with the baboons," related the youth, "I walked on all fours and slept in a bush, entirely naked.

"I was busy hunting food one day with my baboon companions when two policemen shot at us with revolvers. I was captured by one of the policemen."

Thus in 1920 ended 12 years in the jungles of South Africa for Lucas, 30 odd years old, a Negro, of Johannesburg, now a farm hand. When Lucas was caught, he could make only guttural noises, but now he speaks English and African. His story is related by Dr. Robert M. Zingg, associate professor of anthropology in Denver university, who has studied historical records for years gathering data on the wolf children and wild men of history and legend.

The Tarzan of fiction, reared by apes, became a superman. Romulus and Remus, suckled by a wolf, were mythical founders of Rome.

Doesn't Happen in Nature.

"But apparently that just doesn't happen in nature," says Dr. Zingg.

"There are 30 cases recorded in world history of children being suckled and raised by wolf mothers, baboons, pigs and other animals; or of children raised in absolute isolation without human contact.

"From these we tentatively concluded:

"1. Human personality is awakened only through association with other human beings. Unless an infant, especially during the first year of life, has contact with other human beings he becomes little better than a wild animal.

"2. In real life the Tarzans fail to become superhuman beings; on the contrary, inadequate diet dooms them to physical inferiority; failure of the human consciousness to unfold limits them, mentally, to the animal level."

Stolen as Mother Worked.

The case of Lucas, the baboon child of Johannesburg, is one of the most recent.

Dr. Zingg has corresponded with Dr. Raymond Dart, head of the medical school at Witwatersrand university, Johannesburg, who investigated that case.

"Mounted police one day chased a band of baboons," says Dr. Zingg. "One baboon was much slower than the rest and this aroused the interest of the officers who decided to capture the creature. They were amazed to discover he was a human being.

"They took him to civilization and learned that a native woman had been working in a cornfield, some years before, and baboons ran off with her child.

"Apparently for years then, through childhood, Lucas had been raised by this baboon troop.

"He finally learned to talk but about the only thing he recalls of his life with the baboons is that he ate ostrich eggs, crickets, green corn, wild honey and prickly pears, as they did."

'Seeing Eye' Dog Goes

With Bicycling Couple

VICTORIA, B. C.—A "bicycle built for three" carried Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hopkins of Tacoma and their "seeing eye" dog on a tour of Vancouver island.

Mrs. Hopkins is sightless but she has pedaled her way through Pacific Northwest scenic areas with her husband on many trips on their tandem bicycle.

The third party—Mitzi, the dog—either rides in a wicker basket trailer or guides his mistress through crowded thoroughfares or along unfamiliar country roads.

"We think it's just about the best way to travel," said Mrs. Hopkins. "I ride on the rear seat and Carl does the steering. It makes so much difference to be able to get out on the open road and roll along. We have lots of fun traveling this way."

Retired Officer Carries

Buckshot for 23 Years

BAY CITY, MICH.—Shotgun pellets 23 years old add color to the reminiscences of 80-year-old Harry ("Cap") Anderson, retired policeman.

The pellets are the remainder of about 300 that Norman Stanley fired into Anderson's chest in July, 1916, after Anderson pursued him following the murder of Stanley's wife. Stanley committed suicide that same night, but not before he had critically wounded Anderson.

Even now, when Anderson talks of his experiences, he can bare his arms or chest and point to a bluish mound under the skin. He has been retired four years.

Bird in Hand, It Seems,

Isn't Worth Two in Bush

OROVILLE, CALIF.—Harry Harper now knows that a bird in the hand is not worth two in the bush. Seeing a pheasant's tail protruding from a rice shock, and believing it had been killed by some other hunter, he seized hold of it.

Whereupon the very-much-alive pheasant kicked him in the face and made its getaway minus its tail—before he could pick up his gun.

Self-Acting Extinguishers

A fire in a grocery at Varnville, S. C., was extinguished when soda pop bottles were heated by the blaze. The tops popped off and the liquid squirted out. JESSIE RUSH, Editor and Mgr.

We were startled to read an item in one of our exchanges to the effect that federal receipts last months ran nearly $7,000,000 ahead of expenditures. Our excitement subsided when we discovered that the item appeared in a column headed "Forty Years Ago."

The days are growing longer, but it doesn't make it any easier to get up early in the morning.

It's a pretty good sermon when the listener regrets to hear the preacher say, "and lastly, etc."

Incidentally church or religion doesn't mean much to a man who can absent himself from church services and not feel that he has missed something he needs in this life.

It's a beautiful friendship that the truth won't disrupt.

Basketball is the largest attended American sport, 90,000,000 in a single season; baseball is second with an attendance of 60,000,000; football third with 45,000,000; horse racing by 24,000,000 and boxing by 22,500,000.

Thoroughness is a habit—a habit that becomes an art that marks one as a skilled workman. It distinguishes the mediocre worker from the professional and the artist.

The art of being thorough begins with the simplest tasks one does, the student in the school, the young applicant for employment, the home worker, the new employee, and continues up the scale as far as man has the ability or the desire to advance.

Every town needs a man with ability and a lot of time on his hands to get behind the community enterprises and put them over. The trouble in most instances is that the men with time on their hands lack the ability and the fellows with ability don't have the time.

A perfect husband, according to a local woman, is one who will permit the week's washing to be hung over backs of chairs in the living room without squawking about it.

Nothing excites so much pity in the human breast as a friendless dog.

The story is making the rounds of a local man whose wife said to him one day last week: "I think you ought to talk to our son about some of the things of life he ought to know about. He has reached sufficient maturity that he should be told." The father didn't relish the job and gave a number of reasons why he wasn't the one to do it, but his wife persisted and he finally agreed to do it that evening. When the lad came home that evening, his father called him into the living room saying "Son, there are some things I would like to talk over with you, some things about life." He paused, wondering what to say next, and then falteringly continued. "I don't know son, how to approach this but—" "Well," said the lad, "that's all right Dad, perfectly all right, what is it you want to know?"

EARLIEST EASTER IN TWENTY-SEVEN YEARS

The earliest Easter in 27 years—coming up March 24—continues to dominate current merchandising plans, particularly, of course, in apparel markets. Style trends are crystallizing much earlier than usual. While buyers are careful to avoid speculation in merchandise, ordering is brisk and in many cases, especially with store representatives from industrial areas, buying budgets are up from 5 to 10 per cent, reflecting the sharp upturn in automobile production and a higher operating rate in steel.

Strongest single fashion factor seems to be the military influence expressed in trimming details such as epaulets, pockets and buttons, and in giving colors such significant names as "federal blue" and "patroit red." Handbag demand seems not to be suffering from the generous use of large "cash-and-carry" pockets on the new dresses.

SILK SLIPPING?

The revolution in the hosiery business, predicted for a couple of years, seems pretty definitely scheduled for mid-May, when nylon and vinyon stockings, made by several dozen manufacturers, will hit the market simultaneously. These two synthetics combined with other factors, will probably cut in half the amount of silk used by hosiery mills in this country within the next three or four years. One of the other factors is a high-strength rayon, originally developed for auto tire cord. Stockings of this material will be aimed at the 79-cent retail market, a large field recently upset by the increase in raw silk prices, while nylon and vinyon will aim at the $1.15 range. Meanwhile Japan is undertaking synthetic fibre research with a nationally-operated institute—and no wonder!

Mr. Poultry Farmer:

The chick season has again rolled around. The man or woman who succeeds today is the person who plans ahead. The poultryman who succeeds is the one who has solved his problems before they appear. We can help solve your poultry problems.

We all realize that the breeding of the baby chicks you buy is a big factor in determining your poultry profits. We can take care of your order for chicks for delivery after March 20th. April is a good month for chicks. The weather is generally moderate and tender green grass is springing up for pasture. Chicks can be turned out early. This eliminates some of the evils of close confinement brooding. Your pullets will be in production by October, so you can still profit by the high fall and early winter egg prices. Don't forget, every chick we sell is produced from eggs laid on our own farm. Every male bird we use is a pedigreed bird from a high production hen. Our stock has been blood tested. We can offer you a strain of Leghorns which has made money for your neighbors and can make money for you. Our strain of birds has brought us from scratch to America's largest R. O. P. breeding farm in fifteen years.

Copper Shield Protection

Termites and other wood-boring insects cause an annual property loss to lumber said to run as high as $45,000,000, according to information from government sources. Much of the damage comes from so-called subterranean termites which must have moisture to live. As a protection against these destructive pests a copper shield has been devised, the primary function of which is to prevent the termites or other wood-boring insects from entering the building to destroy wood which acts as their food supply.

Conscience Bothered Him

Three months ago a California man threw his car out of gear and let it coast down a steep Wyoming hill. That is against the law. Wyoming. The law presumes such a car is "out of control." Recently Capt.
