FINE ATTENDANCE AT THE CELEBRATION HERE JULY 5

Veterans' Park at Mentone was filled to overflowing again Monday night for the "Fourth of July" program that had been arranged by the Mentone Lions Club. No estimate was given as to the probable attendance, but the softball diamond was entirely surrounded by a ring of people at least twenty feet deep in addition to those in the bleachers and mingling over the grounds. Additional facilities had been provided to attempt to accommodate the expected crowd, but we still find that we have many improvements to make to really give the comfort, convenience and accommodations we would like.

The Marion Rens failed to afford the usual competition on the softball diamond, with the All-Stars winning by a score of 10 to nothing.

The kiddy parade, with Wm. Mollenhour of the Warsaw Times, Don Kincaid of the Silver Lake Record, and Tedgie Bradley of the Akron News serving as judges, contained some mighty fine displays. Five clowns—four Lions members led by a trouper from Warsaw—did their part in adding fun to the affair. The local boys were Dale Tucker, Ora McKinley, Harold Nelson and Fenton Davison.

A brilliant fireworks display brought the curtain down on a long evening of entertainment, and a bit of rest to a weary bunch of Lions and their helpers.

HARRY GRIFFIS REMAINS IN CRITICAL CONDITION

Harry Griffis remains in a critical condition at the Woodlawn hospital where he is suffering with acute embolism. His daughters, Mrs. Wayne Shunk and Mrs. Fred Raugh are caring for him.

DIES IN THE EAST

Wayne and Merl Shunk left for Owings Mills, Maryland on Wednesday morning having been called there by the death of their niece, Estella Mae Goodrich. The young lady, who was 13 years of age, was the daughter of the former Ruth Shunk, now Mrs. Garland Goodrich. Alva Shunk has been at his daughter's home in Maryland for about a week. Death was caused by a prolonged illness due to Bright's disease.

MRS. JOHN JENKINS DIES EARLY WEDNESDAY

Mrs. Mary Jane Jenkins died at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Hazel Kraatz at Palestine, early Wednesday morning, July 7. She was 89 years of age. Death was due to a heart ailment and complications, her condition having been serious for the past four weeks.

The deceased was born on Nov. 30, 1858, at Laporte, to Jacob and Alvina Warren. Her husband, John Jenkins, died in 1939. During her lifetime she resided at Claypool, Hammond and Mentone. For the past three years she has resided with her daughter, Mrs. Kraatz, at Palestine.

She is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Hazel Kraatz, Palestine; Mrs. Cora Dutton; Mrs. Ruth Davis, Los Angeles, and 15 grandchildren. Four sons preceded her in death.

Mrs. Jenkins was a member of the Mentone Baptist church. Funeral services will be held there Friday afternoon at two o'clock with Rev. Paul Irwin officiating. Burial will be in the Mentone cemetery.

The Reed funeral home is in charge. The body will remain there until time for the services.

FINGER AND FOOT SUFFER IN ACCIDENTS

Just before noon Wednesday David Cooper, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Cooper, sawed off the point of his left thumb in a power saw. The saw blade entered the thumb from the under side and about a quarter of an inch from the end. The cut angled back toward the first joint and came out about half way up the nail. The bone, however, was not injured and David will just have to wait for nature to do its healing act before he can use it freely.

Wednesday morning, Phillip Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Anderson, fell from his bike and cut a deep gash on the top of his foot. Eight stitches and three clamps were required to close the wound.

HIGH SCHOOL SOFTBALL TOURNAMENT PLANNED

Wayne Tombaugh has announced that arrangements are being made for a high school softball tournament to be held at Veterans' Park on July 17, afternoon and evening. Four teams are to be entered, Mentone, Claypool, Burket and Silver Lake.

Brucellosis Grant Approved

Research in brucellosis in Indiana will continue for at least another year as the National Advisory Health Council, Washington, D. C., has just approved a renewal of the grant-in-aid for this project, according to Dr. Samuel R. Damon, director Bureau of Laboratories, Indiana State Board of Health.

The project is carried on jointly between the State Board of Health, Purdue University, the Bureau of Animal Industry, U. S. Department of Agriculture and the United States Public Health Service.

"Surveys of the human and animal population were made this year in Daviess, Johnson and Delaware counties," Dr. Damon said. "Our plans for fur-

WARSAW, IND.

KENORA, ONTARIO—By the time it takes you to count from one to 10, a scheduled airliner will either have landed or taken off from some airport in the States. Planes flying the domestic routes take off or land on an average of 400 times each hour round the clock.

You don't have that much air activity up in this country, primarily because there aren't as many planes. But if it were got for the small airlines and the capable bush pilots, travel today would be no better in this wilderness than in the days of the Voyagers. Back then trappers spent the entire summer on the canoe-portage routes taking their furs to market and returning home. Today they fly the same distances in a few hours, even a few minutes in some cases.

When we first arrived in this Ontario town, we looked up Gordon Hollingsworth of Ontario Central Airlines, a small organization that has been in business only a couple of years, and asked for a ride out to our headquarters for a fishing trip. Within an hour we were aboard a Norseman aircraft, along with several hundred feet of lumber, food supplies and other items, on our way. They haul all and everything.

By automobile, train and canoe—over a five-portage route—it would have taken us 12 to 18 hours to reach camp. In the Norseman it was "only" a 35 minute flight.

When mining activities are booming, much of the airline's business is to and from the mining camps. But with mining at a low ebb now, the principal business is hauling fishermen and supplies back into the bush country.

The operators of these small airlines have the business worked out to a fine schedule, too. To show a profit it is necessary to fly "pay loads" both ways. When they take in only one or two fishermen, they fill out the balance of a safe carrying weight with supplies, groceries and other items for resorts.

And they calculate their in-going trips to mesh with out-going parties.

If ever there was a combination of passenger conductor, freight hustler, grocery delivery boy, sportsman's guide and postman, it is the bush pilot of this north country. And from what we have seen in recent days, they do all the jobs equally well.

NEW STATE FAIR BUILDINGS READY

Two new buildings are ready for Indiana State Fair visitors, September 3 through 10. Top view is the swine barn, nearly doubled in size at a cost of $389,817.00. Authorities say it is the "finest in the world." In addition to a basement for offices, shops and storage for maintenance crews, nearly 1400 pens are available and modern sleeping quarters are provided for exhibitors. Below is the beautiful new $243,375.00 Radio Center-Paddock where harness horse entries will be stabled on the first floor and 12 spacious radio studios on the second floor.

are usually the thriftiest ones. Balbo rye and bluegrass for early spring, followed by alfalfa, ladino clover, red clover or a mixture of these crops for late spring and summer pasture make an efficient pasture program for the handling of spring pigs.

When compared with dry-lot feeding, an acre of good alfalfa or clover pasture will save 15 or 18 bushels of corn and about 500 pounds of protein supplement if used by pigs that are full-fed from the time they are weaned until they go to market.

In addition, the sunlight and green pastures take care of vitamins needed for health and growth in the swine herd.

Although pastures supply some minerals, there is need for a good mineral supplement in feeding hogs on pasture as well as in dry-lot. A simple mixture of pulverized limestone, steamed bone meal and common salt self-fed is a good mineral insurance. Since pastures and most hog rations, today, are markedly deficient in salt, feeding loose or granulated salt free choice in addition to the mineral mixture is good practice.

When the pigs weigh about 75 lbs. and are to be full-fed for market, they can be given a free choice of corn and protein supplement. This type of feeding reduces labor, promotes rapid gain and permits early fall marketing, which may be an important factor in producing a good profit with the spring pig crop.

GRASSHOPPERS READY FOR HOP TO CROPS

Grasshopper forces are preparing for the summer invasion of Hoosier field crops and gardens. There is no indication of a decline in the number of the "hoppers" as they have been building up their numbers for the past two years.

Pro. J. J. Davis, head of the department of entomology, Purdue University, advises that an examination be made of fence rows, and clover and alfalfa fields. If the hoppers are present, control should be applied where they are feeding—before they migrate to crops. The young pests are more easily poisoned, and if control is started now, less acreage need be treated later. Also, they will not have had a chance to destroy part of the crop.

In tests made in Indiana last year, according to Davis, four new insecticides proved very effective. These are chlordane, benzene, hexachloride, chlorinated camphene, and parathion. Of these, chlordane, which is on the market under various trade names, is probably the most generally available. It may be purchased as a wettable powder for use as a spray; a five percent dust; and as emulsified concentrates. The wettable powders are most commonly available, and are used at the rate of two and one-half pounds of 40 percent wettable powder per acre. A slurry is made of two pounds of the wettable powder in a gallon of water, this diluted to 50 or 100 gallons of water and applied to one acre. The important point is to apply about two and one-half pounds of the 40 percent wettable powder per acre regardless of the rate of dilution. Although not quite as effective or lasting as the spray, a five percent chlordane dust will give good results.

When clover or alfalfa is cut, treatment around the edges of the field will control the hoppers before they migrate to adjoining crops.

THE KENTUCKY "BLUES"

The place of one's birth doesn't mean that all people from that state are either above or below the national average, but police records indicate that a portion of the Kentuckians in our area do absorb more intoxicants than average. While neighboring towns have had considerable difficulty with these people, Mentone has been relatively undisturbed. However, Saturday, one such over-indulgent individual met a local citizen in the rest room of a tavern and proceeded to choke him. The local person escaped, but one wonders just what the visitor had in mind—if any.

It is hoped that the undesirables of this group be convinced that their antics are not appreciated here.

NEW BOOKLET ON INDIANA BIRDS IS AVAILABLE NOW

An illustrated 55 page booklet on Indiana birds, published by the State Department of Conservation, now is ready for distribution.

"This book is not a technical book, but, instead, is a readable, descriptive publication issued solely for the benefit of the thousands of amateur bird lovers in our state," said John H. Nigh, director of the Department. "We feel that it is an answer to a long-felt need."

Forty eight common resident birds—those that spend the entire year in some section of Indiana—are described in the booklet. An illustration accompanies each article.

There also are sections devoted to such subjects as bird watching and the building of simple bird houses and feeding stations. The colored cover proudly displays the Cardinal, state bird of Indiana.

All subject matter in the book was written by Alden H. Hadley of Mooresville, one of the nation's outstanding ornithologists, while the books were prepared by the department's public relations division.

In order to partially defray the publication costs, ten cents is being charged for each book. They are available now—or will be soon—at all state parks and at the Conservation Department's Division of Parks, which published the booklet, at the State Library Building in Indianapolis.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Krieg and son Eugene of South Bend were guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Krieg. All enjoyed the day fishing at Palestine.

EARLY HISTORY OF MENTONE

Mr. Albert Tucker was the original founder of Mentone, but he later deeded one-third interest to each, William E. Hackerdorn and George W. Myers, of Findlay, Ohio. It was Mrs. George Myers (mother of Carl Myers), who gave Mentone its name.

The first business building in Mentone was erected by Mr. Artemus Manwaring. As soon as completed, it was stocked with a large stock of general merchandise. Messrs. C. E. Doane and L. S. Clayton erected the second business building and opened a hardware store on December 25, 1882.

January 1, 1883, the postoffice was moved from Oak Ridge to Mentone, with John Johnston as postmaster.

Samuel Garrison, the fourth man to engage in business in Mentone, opened with a large stock of boots and shoes in the spring of 1883. As soon as the town of Mentone was platted, Mr. Mac Forst of Sevastopol picked out a lot. On October 8, 1882, work was started on a store building located on the present site of the Mentone Drug Store, and on February 1, 1883, Mr. Forst moved his general store from Sevastopol to Mentone.

In 1884, a flour mill was opened for business by A. C. Manwaring and Samuel Mentzer.

The first schoolhouse in Mentone, a two story, wood building, was erected in 1883 on Broadway, with Frank Crutcher as the first teacher.

Dr. Joseph A. Chandler, was the first physician to locate in Mentone. He left Mentone in 1886 and Dr. John Heffly, the first physician to locate in Burket, moved to Mentone.

A four-page newspaper with the two center pages stock printed, and only two pages, the front and back, containing local news and advertising, was the set-up of the first newspaper ever published in Mentone. It was published on February 5, 1885. W. C. Wilkson was the editor. Several local news items taken from Mentone's first paper, follow: "The Mollenhour Opera House foundation has been laid. The Opera House is 84 feet long and 42 feet wide, and will be two stories high. It will be one of the finest entertaining centers of this section.

"Married at the residence of and by the Rev. David Foley: Mr. Noah Ailer and Miss Mahala Baker, on Jan. 29. "Hudson and Whetstone have leased the Bisel barn, and are now prepared to accommodate the traveling public and home trade with teams, buggies, etc.

WHICH?

If a man will think for himself, he'll see that Jesus would want him to look around and get hold of the right church—the best, the authorized, God's own road map through life.

"There is only one body." (Eph. 4:4). But the body is the church "And he is the head of the body, the church." (Col. 1:18). Then there is only one church with the authority of Christ. To speak of another church is like speaking of another government here in the United States. There is one government and only one with authority here—constitutional government. And there is only one church with the authority of Christ. The church to which you should belong is the church which Christ established and to which Peter, Paul and the rest of the apostles belonged. But which is this church?

This is an important question—the most important issue you have ever faced. It involves eternity—your soul. You must resolve to follow the result of your findings wherever they may lead you. The answer may be unexpected and even unpleasant, but remember: "For what is a man profited, if he gain the whole world, and lose his own soul?" (Matt. 16:26).

The question of the true church is a matter of identity. Being a question of identity, similarity will not do. A thing may be similar, yet not identical. In order to establish identity with the New Testament Church, the Church today must be scriptural in every essential feature; in origin, doctrine, worship, work and name.

NEW DEVICE SHOWS HOOSIERS DISREGARD SPEED LIMITS

Traffic department officials of the State Highway Commission, in cooperation with the state police, recently conducted a speed survey on Ind. 431 in Edgewood, south of Indianapolis, using the commission's newly purchased radar Speed Meter. The section checked is a 30-mile-per-hour zone and patrolmen issued warning stickers to individuals found traveling in excess of that speed.

Conducted between 4 and 6 p.m., the survey revealed that a large percentage of motorists passing through the zone exceeded the limit. However, only those drivers proceeding 40 miles per hour or more were given warning tickets. State Police officials stressed the fact that although a warning ticket does not require an appearance in court, a copy is filed with the Department of Public Safety, thereby giving the motorist a "record" which may be used against him in the event of a future arrest.

According to highway traffic engineers, the prime purpose of the new radar device is to assist them in determining the effectiveness of existing speed zones and the need for new zones.

For this type of survey, in addition to the radar set, there are three "three-way-radio" police cars used. This type of radio equipment permits patrol cars to communicate directly rather than through headquarters. One car is stationed at the point of pick-up by the radar set, the other cars are stationed two miles down the highway from that point—one in each direction.

When a car passes through the zone at high speed; (1) the Speed Meter automatically registers its exact speed; (2) the patrolman on duty there notes the indication of the violation (the meter reads directly in miles per hour) and radios a description of the speeder's car to one of the waiting patrol cars; (3) the speeding motorist is flagged down and receives a warning ticket.

THREE POISONOUS SNAKES

YET HECKLE HOOSIERS

Poisonous snakes, which customarily receive nothing but a wide berth, are given two pages of attention in the July issue of "Outdoor Indiana," official publication of the Indiana Department of Conservation.

Dr. William P. Allyn, author of the article, "Poisonous Snakes of Indiana" reports there are only three poisonous species of reptiles remaining for Hoosiers to avoid stepping on—Timber Rattler, Prairie Rattler and Copperhead—and you don't have to worry about them except in areas not suitable for agriculture. The Timber Rattler is the largest, the Prairie Rattler is the smallest and the Copperhead is the meanest, according to Dr. Allyn, and none of them is expected to ever become popular. Dr. Allyn may be prejudiced about the Copperhead, since one of them nibbled on his hand several years ago.

The current issue of "Outdoor Indiana" also contains an article by Editor Bill Hougland summing up the "Save the Shades" campaign which ended in the acquisition of Indiana's 15th state park.

The possibility of a dust bowl developing in the Kanawha Valley is discussed authoritatively; fishermen will be interested especially in pages devoted to the White bass and pollution; nature lovers should enjoy the pictorial presentation of Indiana Dunes state park; and true conservationists will be gratified to learn what is being done in the matter of conservation education.

'Pantry Poll'

Housewives' cupboard inventories of groceries aren't nearly as large as they were a year ago, a "pantry poll" conducted by Northwestern university indicates. Shoppers, eyeing shelves of canned goods and other groceries, are showing a marked tendency to take home fewer purchases.

FLOYD VANGUNDY MARRIED

Baskets of garden flowers decorated the altar at the Church of God at Warsaw, lighted with tall white tapers in candelabra, where the marriage service for Miss Reba Knouff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Knouff, of route 3, Warsaw, and Floyd VanGundy, son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. VanGundy, of Sevastopol, was read Sunday afternoon.

As the guests arrived they were ushered to their seats by Willis Dean Cook, of Warsaw, and Donald VanGundy, of Hammond, brother of the bridegroom. Selections of nuptial music were played by Orval Johnston and preceding the ceremony Miss Loretta Knouff, sister of the bride, sang, "Always," and "I Love You Truly."

At the opening notes of the processional, Rev. Hubert Johnston, of Winona Lake and pastor of the Olive Bethel church of God, southwest of Mentone; the best man, Wayne VanGundy, and the bridegroom took their places at the altar.

Miss Delores Knouff, who preceded her sister down the aisle, was wearing a frock of green crepe. Her accessories were white and her corsage was of lavender sweet peas.

A two-piece dress of rose pink crepe was worn by the bride. Scallop edged the cap sleeves of the bodice above the wide circular skirt. Pink roses trimmed her white hat and her other accessories were also in white. With her white Bible she carried pink carnations.

A blue floral print crepe dress was worn by Mrs. Knouff, mother of the bride, as she was escorted to her seat by Mr. Cook. Her accessories were white and her flowers were lavender sweet peas. Mrs. VanGundy, mother of the bridegroom, who was shown to her seat by Donald VanGundy, was attired in a dress of blue print accessories. Her corsage was of pink carnations.

Mr. and Mrs. VanGundy are now visiting in Hammond and when they return will reside at Sevastopol, where the former is engaged in farming.

Walter Wilson has returned to his home here after spending the past six weeks at the Murphy Medical Center at Warsaw. He had both legs broken in a logging accident.

INDIANA ONCE COVERED WITH THICK ICE SHEET

Inspection of the topography of regions in Illinois and Indiana where great ice sheets from the North effaced hills and valleys carved by centuries of erosion will be of particular interest to motorists, according to the Touring Bureau of the Chicago Motor Club.

The four ice-sheets that invaded the United States covered ninety percent of the surface of Illinois.

Indiana was invaded by at least three ice-sheets and about five-sixths of the entire state—all except south central Indiana—was covered by a massive layer of ice at one time or another. These layers sometimes measured 2,000 feet thick.

The glacier ebbed away after each invasion during a warm period lasting thousands of years and plants and animals flourished. Many hills in the north were created by the glaciers piling up rocks and soil into moraines. Extensive deposits of sand and gravel were also left by the melting glacier.

The glaciers changed the terrain in several ways, one of which was the present bed of the Ohio River caused by the ice melting at the edges. Many hills in the northern region were cut off and the valleys filled with these rocks. The entire area was smoothed and leveled.

LIBRARY NEWS

Early History of Mentone

The growth of Mentone was rapid. The population increased in three years from one family of four persons, to more than 600 inhabitants. In the Mentone Gazette of Nov. 14, 1885, C. C. Smith, editor, we find a map of Mentone showing 103 dwelling and business buildings. This Nov. 14, 1885 Gazette and all the issues of the Mentone papers which followed it down to the present time are on file at the Mentone Library and can be examined at any time.

However, the papers of the period, Feb. 5, 1885, W. C. Wilkison, editor, to Nov. 14, 1885, C. C. Smith, editor, are not on file. If anyone in the community has copies of the Mentone Gazette for that period, Feb. 5 to Nov. 14, 1885, we would appreciate very much the permission to file them in the library for the use of future generations.

In 1885 there were two teachers in the Mentone school. Prof. Boggess and Miss Kilkenson, and 100 pupils were enrolled.

In December, 1885, the County Board of Commissioners acted favorably upon a petition for incorporation and Mentone became an incorporated town. On Jan. 6, 1886, an incorporation election was held to elect town officers. The following officials were elected: Richard C. Railsbach, Solomon Arnsberger, and John Yantiss, members of the town board; Stephen Boggess, clerk; Loren Manwaring, treasurer; S. S. Zentz, marshal.

On Dec. 12, 1885, the William Raber post of the Grand Army of the Republic was organized in Mentone with 13 members.

That same month, J. W. Sellers sold his drug store to Mr. J. B. Doddridge of Galva, Illinois.

On Jan. 16, 1886, two more attorneys were admitted to the Mentone bar, bringing the number of lawyers in Mentone to a total of 13.

In March, 1886, a third teacher was hired for the Mentone school and the lower room was divided into two departments.

Feb. 20, 1886, John Bond, T. J. Colbert and John Brubaker, the parties owning the invention known as the Bond fanning mill, made arrangements with the Mentone Machine and Novelty Mill to manufacture and sell their new and revolutionary fanning mill. They expected to employ between two and three hundred workmen.

In March of 1886, a ladder ordinance was passed requiring all building owners to keep a ladder in their buildings for fire protection. In April, 1886, the Mentone Hook and Ladder Co. was organized and met to order hook and ladder equipment for fire fighting in Mentone.

The Mentone Normal School opened on July 19, 1886, for an initiatory term of ten weeks, under the superintendency of Profs. Boggess and Sellers, and with an enrollment of 69. The plan of this new boarding school was similar to that of Valparaiso Normal school.

By JIM MITCHELL

DELANEY LAKE, ONTARIO — We have experienced a lot of good fishing in the past three decades, from Mexico to Alaska and from coast to coast; but none of it ever surpassed the sport we've had the last few days.

Smallmouth bass, walleyes, northern pike and lake trout all have found the lures we tossed their way, tempting and, as a result, limit catches have been the daily rule rather than the exception.

Frankly, it's no more fun or sport fishing here than at any spot in the States when the fish are in a cooperative mood. The strike, the battle and sizzling fillets in the frying pan are about the same the world over. But we have really hit the jackpot in cooperation from the fish on this trip.

And there's been one aspect to fishing here that has been different from anything we've found elsewhere. It has been similar to eating at a cafeteria where you stop along the serving line at different places to get the food of your choice. Here you do the same with fish.

For lake trout you fish Delaney lake. It is a deep, cold lake that harbors this species in abundance. For smallmouth bass, it's Keyes lake, two portages out of Delaney. After spending a day catching smallmouth bass on both flies and plugs we didn't complain a bit about the two portages. In fact, for another day of equally good fishing, we'd make a dozen portages.

Grassy Narrows Lake, only a one-portage trip, is a walleye haven. And Muskie lake, also only a hop-step-and-jump from Delaney, offers muskelunge.

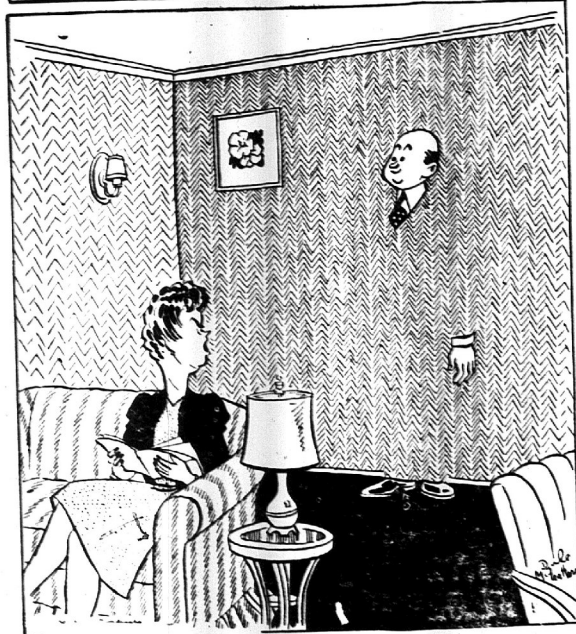

Naturally, there's some overlapping of species in these waters, but a careful study has disclosed a well-defined pattern as the choice of certain lakes by certain species.

It is simple, however, to explain this cafeteria pattern. First, lake trout thrive in water that is 40-45 degrees in temperature. So this species inhabits the deep lakes where they can go down 200 to 300 feet in mid-summer to find the right water temperatures.

The smallmouth bass is not native to these waters and is found only in the lakes where the speices were planted. There aren't too many bass lakes, but the fish have propagated well in the spots where they were stocked.

The walleye is not too particular and is found in most of the lakes that offer hideouts in the hot summer months 40 to 50 feet down. And the northern pike is in all the lakes.

We've always enjoyed eating in cafeterias and after our experience here, we like cafeteria fishing equally well.

Restaurant Sanitation Conference

A conference to promote uniform enforcement of restaurant ordinances in Indiana cities which have adopted or plan to adopt, the uniform restaurant grading program will be held August 3 to 5 at Indiana University School of Public Health, I. U. Medical Center, Indianapolis. The conference is sponsored by the Division of Food and Drugs, Indiana State Board of Health.

The meeting will be informal and will include discussions of restaurant sanitation and enforcement. T. E. Sullivan, acting director, Division of Food and Drugs, Indiana State Board of Health, said in announcing the meeting.

James H. McCoy and David Hartley, restaurant sanitarians, are planning the program for the conference.

Nineteen Indiana cities have adopted restaurant ordinances and preliminary surveys have been made in Peru, Hammond, Whiting, LaPorte, Michigan City, Jeffersonville and Delphi to show the need for taking steps to adopt a Grade A ordinance. Eleven of the nineteen cities have adopted Grade A ordinances within the past year.

TRANSPLANT MEXICAN CORN SUCCESSFULLY

Big-rooted, cold and drought resistant corn from the high plateau country of Mexico was successfully transplanted in Illinois this spring by corn breeders of the DeKalb hybrid seed corn company. The Mexican seed was started in a greenhouse earlier in the spring before Illinois soils were warm enough for corn, and then transplanted outdoors in paper ice-cream cartons.

For corn breeding work, the Mexican corn must produce tassels, pollen and silk at the same time as northern inbreds. Because the Mexican corn is slower growing, it had to be planted 3 weeks earlier than the inbreds. This experiment may result in bigger-rooted, more drought and cold-resistant hybrids of the future.

Highlight of the fair will be 125 prize 4-H club steers each of which must have gained 400 pounds since last fall to qualify for exhibit at the fair and a shot at the grand championship prize. In addition there will be 4-H raised dairy calves, pigs, geese, chickens, rabbits, and other animals.

On opening night of the fair, the 4-H dress revue will be presented in front of the Playland grandstand in traditional Hollywood style. Forty of the best dresses made by 4-H girls and chosen from a field of 225 will be modeled by their creators who will be trained by a professional model.

Thursday the cattle judging will be conducted by Purdue university experts and Friday night the 4-H prize beef auction will be presented with full fanfare. Saturday the Cal Thompson and High White horse show will occupy the spotlight in front of the grandstand.

Oscar Valentine, a brother of Mentone's Leo Valentine, is secretary of the 4-H Fair.

HOW TO PREVENT

FARM ACCIDENTS

Did you ever join frantic parents in the hunt for a chubby three-year-old who had disappeared—and find him—cold and stiff, in the livestock watering tank? Did you?

Then there was the farm boy, subject to fainting spells, who had been put to driving the manure spreader. They thought it was a safe, easy job. He fainted, fell over backward on the conveyor, and went headfirst into the beater. The team stopped after a while . . . waited patiently for the father to come to see what was the matter.

The above cases of disastrous farm accidents, and a number of others, appear in the editorial and news columns of Prairie Farmer of July 17. With them is given advice as to what to do to cut down the number of farm accidents, not only during Farm Safety Week, July 25-31, but during the rest of the year as well.

Farm accidents can be eliminated, as in Blackford County, Indiana, for instance. There, a farm organization is taking a survey of the causes of all farm accidents during the past year. Then the group will follow through by calling attention to the hazards that exist on all farms in the community.

posting them with a danger sign until the farmer removes the hazard.

Individual farm families can do something, too, by calling their own farm family conference to list sources of danger around the home and farm yard. When you call attention to the hazards that exists, then you can do something about them.

MY CHURCH

Upon this rock I will build my church; and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it" (Matt. 16:18). Out of the many churches that are in the world today, which church is right—which church did Jesus build? How could one find it?

It is a matter of identity, and can be determined only by marks, or characteristics. If an automobile is lost, it can be identified by make, model and number. If the church is lost, it may be found only by identification based on New Testament description. The church is a New Testament institution, and hence a perfect description of it is found there.

Being a question of identity, similarity will not do. A thing may be similar, yet not identical. In order to establish identity with the New Testament church, the church today must be scriptural in every essential feature: origin, doctrine, worship, work and name.

1. It must be scriptural in origin. Everything began by miracle, but continues through law. First creation, then procreation. God created the first man and woman, and then placed within them the power of procreation. Likewise, God created the church (Eph. 2:14-16), and then provided for its continued life through the power of the seed of the kingdom, "which is the word of God (Lk. 8:11). So long as the seed exists, the power of reproduction is present. Therefore, an unbroken line of church succession is unnecessary. The church today is produced by the word of God, and exists wherever men and women have obeyed it.

STATE GROWING MULTIFLORA ROSE FOR THE FIRST TIME

Multiflora Rose, known as the "living fence," is being grown this year for the first time by the Indiana Department of Conservation.

Between 300,000 and 400,000 plants are being produced by the Division of Forestry at the nursery in Clarke county state forest for next year's planting in leased wildlife habitats. Approximately 100,000 bought from commercial nurseries by Pittman-Robertson Act Research men, were planted directly in these tracts this spring.

State Forester Ralph Wilcox pointed out that multiflora rose is a comparatively new plant in Indiana, although it has become quite popular in other states, such as Missouri and Illinois.

Growing into a high, thick, flowery hedge, this is described as being both ornamental and useful. Wilcox said the multiflora rose provides food and cover for wildlife, has an attractive appearance and, if planted as a fence, can turn back both large and small animals.

The Division of Forestry's present plantings are for only the leased wildlife habitats, and none is available to the general public.

There are now approximately 1,200 wildlife habitat areas in Indiana, covering more than 6,800 acres.

HEALTH FACTS FROM YOUR STATE BOARD OF HEALTH

The fifth annual health education workshop sponsored by Indiana University, the State Department of Public Instruction, and the State Board of Health will convene at Indiana University August 13-27.

A representative group of Indiana nurses, educators, physicians and others working in health or related fields, is expected to enroll for the course set up to help community leaders and school personnel find answers to some of their school and community health problems," said Robert Yoho, director of the Division of Health Education of the State Board of Health, and with Dr. W. W. Patty of Indiana University, one of the directors of the workshop.

"Already results of previous workshops have become evident in a wider health consciousness in many Indiana communities and in broader use of the facilities which exist for handling health problems, Mr. Yoho said.

Among the speakers scheduled to appear on the program is Dr. Fred Hein, consultant in health and fitness for the American Medical Association. Dr. L. E. Burney, State Health Commissioner, Ben Watt, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, and Dr. A. P. Hauss, president-elect of the Indiana Medical Association, are also on the program.

The Red Cross, Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, Tuberculosis Association, Cancer Society, State Medical Association, and the Society for Crippled Children are the cooperating agencies in planning and carrying out the workshop.

COUNTRY NEIGHBORS HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

Last Thursday afternoon Mrs. Robert Cook, assisted by Mrs. Wilvin Long, entertained the Country Neighbors Home Economics Club at her home. Mrs. Richard Notz, president, opened the meeting with the pledge to the flag. The history of "Battle Hymn of the Republic," the song of the month, was read and the song was sung by all. Roll call was answered with "canning hints."

Following the business session, Mrs. Earl Zent gave a lesson on Better Meal Planning. Using charts, she showed us that we really throw most of the food value away in many foods.

During the social hour, much to our surprise, Santa Claus came to visit. Instead of the usual sleigh and sack,

FEDERAL TAXATION

A HEAVY BURDEN

Federal government will cost the people of Kosciusko county approximately $10,188,102 during the current fiscal year which began July 1. It was estimated by the Indiana State Chamber of Commerce.

The federal government stands committed today, the chamber said, to a spending program that not only imperils federal tax cuts voted in 1948, but foreshadows eventual return, either to deficit financing or heavier-than-ever peacetime taxation.

The county's share of federal expenses in fiscal 1949 will be 9.5 times the total of all state and local property and poll taxes amounting to $1,076,593 levied for collection in the county last year, the chamber said.

History of Mentone

Mr. Constant Smith was for some time proprietor of the Silver Lake Times. After leaving Silver Lake, he purchased an interest in the Warsaw Herald. In July, 1885, Mr. Smith purchased the Mentone Gazette and consolidated the Warsaw Herald and the Mentone Gazette under the name of the Mentone Gazette. The first issue was published July 4, 1885.

By the beginning of 1887, four churches were holding services in Mentone. The Methodist Episcopal met in the brick church on East Main Street every other Sunday. On alternate Sundays, the Baptist church held services in the M. E. church building. The Methodist Protestants met in the frame church on South Tucker street and the German Baptists met monthly in the M. P. building.

In 1885, the Mentone Baptist church had been organized with a membership of eighteen members. Six months later they decided to build on the northwest corner of Broadway and Harrison streets. Mr. Albert Tucker made the church a free gift of the two lots for a building site. The building was completed in October, 1887, at a cost of $2500. The building was of brick with a seating capacity of 300. The dedication was held October 16, 1887.

About the same time, a new brick school building was completed at Bloomingburg (Talma), at a cost of $2000.

April 27, 1887, a stock company was formed in Mentone with capital of $1500 for the purpose of boring in the vicinity of Mentone with the hope of discovering gas or oil. Most of the nearby towns were boring for oil and there was a great deal of excitement about the possibility of striking oil.

The year, 1887, witnessed a degree of prosperity in Mentone which perhaps was not equalled by any other town of its size in the state. In that year, Mentone shipped more livestock to market on the Nickle Plate R. R. than any other local point on the line between Chicago and Buffalo. During the summer, sixty nine building improvement or construction projects were completed in Mentone at a total cost of $55,200. The causes of Mentone's unusual prosperity included an enterprising class of citizens and business men, good farming land, fine farmers and stock raisers, and a good location sufficiently far from other towns to make it a good trading point.

JULY 31 IS DEADLINE FOR REINSTATEMENT OF NSLI

Veterans Administrator Carl R. Gray, Jr., reminds veterans at July 31 is the last day for reinstatement of lapsed National Service Life Insurance on a "comparative health" basis.

Before August 1, an eligible veteran may reinstate any amount of term insurance—from $1000 to $10,000, in multiples of $500—regardless of the length of time it has lapsed, and usually without a physical examination. He need only fill out a simple application form in which he certifies that his health is as good as when the policy lapsed, and pay premiums for two months.

The Veterans Administration office at 601 Whitcomb-Keller Building, in South Bend, will remain open Saturday, July 31, to take care of last-minute applications for reinstating the insurance.

Calling all outdoorsmen

By JIM MITCHELL

America's sportsmen are "going to the dogs!" But, we don't mean their morals are getting worse; we'll not be a judge on that topic.

A recent survey, projected over 300,000 active sportsmen, disclosed these amazing figures: 236,340 of them own dogs, with 21 percent of this group owning more than one (they averaged three and two-thirds each), for a total of 419,720 dogs owned by 236,340 persons.

If that isn't "going to the dogs," we don't know what else you could call it.

We have no figures available as to dog ownership last year or for a decade or two ago, but we'll wager a ham bone against a dog collar that the ownership of the hunting breeds has skyrocketed.

The answer probably is that more and more hunters are realizing that a good dog is as essential in enjoying hunting as a gun. Our game supplies, particularly quail, pheasants and waterfowl, have taken a terrible beating in recent years through the loss of unretrieved cripples and dead birds.

Dogless hunters have been known to lose 50 to 75 percent of the birds they shot, whereas sportsmen with dogs seldom show a loss of over 10 percent of the cripples or birds shot dead.

Anyway, whatever the reason for the upped dog population, we know there will be fewer cripples and dead upland game birds and animals left in the fields and marshes this fall because more gunners will have dogs along.

What is the most popular breed of hunting dog? By a slim margin the bird dogs (pointers, setters and German shorthairs) outnumber the hounds. Thirty two percent (135,571) of the sportsmen own bird dogs; 28 percent (120,879) are hound men.

Following along with the other groups, the survey showed 68,834 sportsmen owned spaniels and 18,887 owned retrievers. Most of the dogs are trained, too, with 82.2 per cent of the dogs ready for the field or marsh.

And it all adds up to the sizeable bill for dog food and other supplies. Feeding them took $10,879,830. Other supplies totalled $3,874,800. But to the sportsmen who have learned to love their canine hunting companions, this cost is only a drop in the bucket compared to the value of the pleasures derived from going afield with a good dog.

INDIANA HOME ECONOMICS ASSOCIATION WILL MEET

Approximately 3,000 women from almost every county of Indiana will be going to the summer Agricultural Conference at Purdue University, August 3, 4 and 5. Representing home economics clubs from all parts of the state, these women will return to their homes to carry information gained at conference sessions, to their friends and neighbors.

Highlight of the conference for all home economics club members is Thursday, August 5, when the Indiana Home Economics Association, with a membership of over 50,000 Indiana homemakers, has its 35th annual meeting.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank all our friends and neighbors for all the kindness and helpfulness shown to us during Bob's illness. Also for all the cards, and to the Homemaker's class for the flowers. All was deeply appreciated.

MY CHURCH

The world hears so much of the denominational in religion, that it must be wondering if Christ himself ever had a church, and if he has one today, where is it? Christ's church is clearly described in the New Testament, so therefore it is merely a matter of identity.

First, the Church must be scriptural in origin. The Church is produced by the word of God, and exists wherever men and women have obeyed it.

Secondly, the Church must be scriptural in doctrine. The great commission represents the constitution of the Church. The law of pardon, or terms of admission into it are clearly and unmistakably contained in the commission. Matthew says "teach and baptize"—not baptize and teach. Mark says "preach, believe, baptized, saved"—not believed, saved, baptized. Luke says "repentance and remission of sins". The order of these items then is: preaching, faith, repentance, baptism, salvation. On Pentecost, Peter first put this commission into action. He preached, the hearers believed, repented and were baptized "for the remission of sins." The Lord added them to the church. There is no other way to get into it! The same thing it took to make Christians then, it takes to make Christians now. All who teach or practice to the contrary are unscriptural in doctrine, and that destroys identity.

In order to be the New Testament Church, the Church must be identical with the New Testament description in all essential points: Origin, Doctrine, Worship, Work and Name.

4-H NEWS

The Beaver Dam Better Daughters club enjoyed a weiner roast at the home of Iris Jones Thursday night, July 15. The business meeting was called to order and conducted by President Bonnie Adams. Mary Drudge and Shirley Igo led the group in three songs. Record books were checked and discussed by adult leader, Mrs. Omer Drudge. The members, having been telephoned before the meeting, were supposed to wear what they had on at that moment or pay a penalty. Bonnie Adams and Mary and Martha Drudge paid penalties.

Another game was played and a phonograph and records outside made it convenient to do the "Virginia Reel." Patty Ballenger twirled her lighted baton, after which songs were sung and two readings were given by Marilyn Haney and Frances Study.

Just after the weiner roast had gotten to a good start, it began raining and we were forced to carry all our food inside and our meeting was then adjourned until our achievement day, July 29, which will be at the home of Patty Ballenger.

Members present were: hostess, Iris Jones, co-hostess, Kathleen Perry and Patty Ballenger, Bonnie Adams, Martha and Mary Drudge, Dianne Creakbaum, Frances Study, Mary L. Doerflinger, Lois Ummel, Shirley Igo, Mary Doerflinger, Eva Maggert, Karen Heighway, Tona Kuhn, Dora Oliver, Marilyn Haney, and Adult Leader Mrs. Omer Drudge.

Guests present were Junior Jones, Carl Klinefelter, Diana K. Ballenger, Mrs. Gerald Ballenger, Omer Drudge, Jimmy Adams, Howard Rudolph Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Alden Jones.

Hay can be safely stored when dried to 25% or less moisture. For baling, it should be even drier. One test is to twist a handful of hay taken from the center of the windrow. If moisture is brought to the surface by twisting, or if the stems "rope" it's still too damp.

MODERN FARMING

Curing Quality Hay

For the livestock farmer, well-cured hay ranks second only to pasture as the most economical and efficient of all feeds. But on one out of every four farms in the midwest, half the feed value is lost from hay during the curing process. The big trick in hay-making is to speed the hay from swath to mow before beating rains and bleaching sun can steal proteins, minerals and vitamins.

To help farmers reduce hay-making time and boost hay quality, new haying methods and new haying equipment are coming into wide use on midwestern farms. Among the most promising are field pick-up baling, mow drying and field chopping. Pick-up baling is gaining fast in popularity, as new pick-up balers in greater numbers are coming off the assembly line.

This year many farmers will be using pick-up balers for the first time. Pictured below are a few tricks that will help them produce the best quality hay they have ever harvested.

Here's a new method of haymaking that's catching on with midwest farmers. Hay is cut, raked, chopped and loaded on a wagon or truck, hauled to a steel hay keeper like this Martin Haymaker, and blown in with a regular ventilation and meets all requirements for the safe curing and storage of high vitamin hay.

Get clover at the beginning of bloom; alfalfa, 1/10 bloom; red clover, 1/2 to full bloom; and alsike, in full bloom. Cutting earlier reduces yield; cutting later reduces quality. Cut only as much as can be raked in ample time to allow a few hours of curing before nightfall.

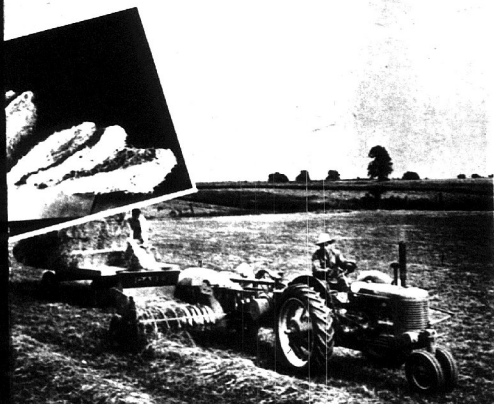

Leave hay in the swath until it wilts limp and soft, but not so long that the leaves become dry and shatter. Rake with a side-delivery into small, loose fluffy windrows. Left-hand rakes help place leaves inside the windrow, stems outside, for faster, even drying.

Hay caught in the rain is better protected in windrows in the swath. Allow the top of the windrows to turn them over by driving with outer edge of rake. Turn windrows just enough to turn them onto dry ground. This gives both sides a chance to dry out.

This "Bale-O-Matic" one-man, pick-up baler takes hay directly from the windrow, bales it, and drops the bales behind. A second man on a low trailer can load bales in the same operation for transporting them to the barn.

A hay elevator takes hay from the windrow, slices it into bales, and delivers 65-pound bales to the trailer behind. Like sliced bread, bales come apart easily for feeding. They reduce amount of leaf loss which occurs when unrolled bales are torn apart. Another, the Rotobaler, puts round bales that unroll for feeding when wire is cut.

An elevator like this speeds unloading from the wagon and storage in the barn. Baled hay occupies about half the space of loose hay, so more can be stored in the mow. Mows built for loose hay storage, should be reinforced to handle the extra weight when filled with baled hay.

ARE YOUR HOGS GETTING ENOUGH SALT?

Try this simple test

Throw a handful or two of salt to your hogs. If they are getting enough, they'll ignore it. If not, they'll relish it, a signal to give them salt free choice. Most hogs don't get enough salt. Yet, like all livestock, they need it. It is not enough to balance hog rations with tankage and other meat by-products, high in salt. Purdue tests show that hogs need additional salt. Today, when hog rations are balanced largely with vegetable proteins, low in salt, the need is even more acute.

Salt Stimulates Digestion

Livestock need salt for its sodium and chlorine — sodium for complete, economical digestion of fats and carbohydrates; chlorine for hydrochloric acid to convert feed proteins into body tissue. Salt is the most essential mineral.

Feed Salt Free Choice

The best way to feed salt is to feed it free choice. The best salt to feed is Morton's Free Choice Salt, especially developed for livestock, and now formulated to remain non-hardening under normal use and storage conditions. Ask your dealer for it by name. Morton Salt Company, Chicago 3, Ill.

Freezing is Fun . . .

Choose only ripe, firm peaches for freezing. Freestone peaches will peel easily. Work with small quantities at a time, just enough for one or two cartons.

I remember how Mama used to put up peaches over a hot cook-stove on broiling summer days . . . What's more, I remember how we all had to help when I could have had so much more fun in Kathryn's play-house by the creek or reading a story in the cool shade of our apple trees . . . Maybe that's the reason freezing fascinates me so much today.

Why nowadays, you even pour cold syrup over your peaches—syrup you've prepared in advance. As you work with just a few peaches at a time, there's no reason for your nice modern kitchen to get "all heated up."

Freezing IS fun . . . for one thing, there are so many different foods that you can freeze and so many different ways in which you can pack the same food. Take those peaches we've been talking about: you can pack them in sugar or you can vary your freezing syrups in two or three different thicknesses, depending upon whether you prefer medium or heavy. See chart posted on this month's BULLETIN BOARD.

But peaches are just the beginning of the parade of foods you'll want to freeze . . . fruits of every description, vegetables, meat, chicken will pack your locker or your home freezer to the gills.

Put peaches in wire basket or cheese-cloth. Dip in boiling water 15 to 30 seconds to loosen skins. Next plunge into ice water for 15 to 30 seconds.

Remove skins; halve, pit. To prevent peaches from darkening immerse at once in lemon juice and water. — 1 tablespoon lemon juice to 1 quart water. Or you can use 2 tablespoons salt and 2 tablespoons vinegar in a gallon of water. Leave for 1 to 2 minutes. Drain.

Pack peaches — halves or slices — into containers at once. Flat cartons may be used for those packed in sugar and tubs for those packed in syrup. Cover immediately with cold syrup.

Wipe inside edges of liner clean and dry. Press out air and seal. Place filled, labeled boxes in fast freezer. As soon as peaches are frozen, store at 0°F. or lower.

TWO MEN ARRESTED IN MENTONE SATURDAY NIGHT

James W. Golden, 38, of Indianapolis, and Willard E. Comer, 61, of Fort Wayne, were apprehended in Mentone Saturday evening after it was found someone had forced their way thru a rear door at the Mentone Lumber Co. A parked auto attracted suspicion earlier in the evening, and one strange man was seen at the rear of the American Legion home. Rex Borton heard noises down the railroad track near the Mollenhour mill and notified officer Wagner. As they walked down the track they heard a car speed away and a heavy thud. When they reached the point where the car had been near a small tree, they found a satchel containing several tools—a heavy hammer, breast drill, pen flashlight, etc. Local citizens were deputized to make a more thorough search of the area and the lights of one car disclosed a man sitting along the railroad right-of-way. He was commanded to stand in the lights of the car and soon another man came down the track. It was suggested he remain with the other man until other officers arrived, as it was possible there might have been others in the suspected gang. The other men were busy searching elsewhere and it was necessary to fire a number of shots into the air to bring them to the scene. About four o'clock Sunday morning State Detective Walter Edell arrived and took the men to the Warsaw jail.

Vagrancy affidavits were filed on the two men Monday morning and on Wednesday charges of second-degree burglary were filed against them.

It is reported the arrested men have been in the custody of the law on previous occasions, and the local men and officers are to be complimented upon their success in rounding up the suspicious characters. No information has been secured about the car, or the other individuals, if any, that may have some connection with the matter.

Bond of $5,000 is now required for the release of each of the men.

HEALTH FACTS FROM YOUR STATE BOARD OF HEALTH

Now is the time to get Johnny and Susie ready for school by seeing that they have thorough physical examinations and their immunization is brought up to date, according to Dr. Geraldine Zix, of the State Board of Health.

"When one considers that all that needs to be done to keep children well and happy, September isn't far off for those who will be going to school for the first time.

"It is vital that teachers, school nurses, and school physicians know thoroughly the health status of their charges. A complete physical examination to bring to light physical defects and possible sources of future trouble should be a routine step in preparing children for school. If a defect is found before the child starts to school, it can be watched. The teacher, nurse, and physician can be on the lookout for possible developments.

"Sometimes what appears to be laziness or inattentiveness may actually be the result of some physical defect such as poor hearing. Ignorance of the true state of any child on the part of a teacher, doctor or nurse is unfair to the child. And it may put an extra burden on the teacher.

"Know the Child" should be the creed of every parent and every school official."

THIS AND THAT

The beams of a Beacon will show us the way.

When a will-o'-the-wisp would lead us astray.

Let's fade out the shadows with Aladdin's lamp.

And bunk with the thieves in their Sesame camp.

To charge the windmills use a Quixotic lance.

And step a hoodoo in an Indian dance.

At the tomb of old A. Dam, Mark Twain found grief.

While we eyed the first girl dressed in a figleaf.

Now if you confab in a Munchausen tale.

Displayed well in his financial bouquet. But from this great wealth he tried hard to beat it.

When hungry he found he just couldn't eat it.

LAST CONGRESS DID FINE JOB FOR CONSERVATION

The National Wildlife Federation, Washington, D. C., reports the following relative to conservation measures in the 80th Congress:

The 80th Congress, which adjourned June 20th, made a splendid conservation record in the year and a half it was in session. Not only did it enact many constructive measures for the conservation of soil, plants, waters and wildlife, but it showed good judgment in failing to give consideration to bills inimical to the conservation movement. There were, of course, some bills that were left to die in committee or on the calendars which conservationists had hoped would be enacted, but there are assurances that these will be given quick consideration when the 81st Congress convenes.

The Fish and Wildlife Service has received in appropriations well over $21,000,000, by far the greatest fund it has ever had in its history.

Burke-Wherry Act Now Law.

The Burke-Wherry Act, transferring surplus war lands to State Fish and Game Departments for wildlife purposes, was signed by President Truman and is now the law of the land, was the announcement of the National Wildlife Federation which, by the way, first brought this proposal to the attention of congress.

Just prior to and during the late war, the army purchased more than 23,000,000 acre of land in 1600 tracts scattered in the 48 states. Many of these tracts have already been declared surplus to the needs of the War Department and many more will be so declared in the near future. Those which can be used for wildlife conservation purposes by a State Game Agency may be transferred to the state upon its request, without compensation. Where a tract is more valuable for a waterfowl management program the property may be turned over to the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service. Transfers to the states shall contain a reservation by the United States of all gas, oil and mineral rights. Should the land ever fail to be used for wildlife purposes it will revert to the United States and in case it is again needed for national defense purposes, it shall be returned to the United States.

With this act now on the statute books, wildlife will get a break it has long sought. Upland game birds and animals, waterfowl and fish will find opportunity to live and raise their young in the shelter found on these lands and waters which have served their purpose in the national defense. The responsibility now rests with the state game administrators to make their selections and start their management programs.

Mrs. E. E. Jones was a guest of Miss Eunice Reed of Collimer, Tuesday evening and Wednesday of last week. Mrs. U. R. Oldfather and son Ruskin, of Elkhart, were also guests.

Named After Hero

The word "academy" was derived from the name of a hero in the Trojan war. World Book encyclopedia says that the Greek philosopher, Plato, taught a group of young people in a grove which belonged to a military hero named Academus. In honor of the owner, the school was known as Plato's academy.

Extraction of Oil

Research has made vast strides not only in the art of finding oil, but also in the extraction of oil already found. A few decades ago it was not unusual to recover only about 20 per cent of the oil in a new field. Today as high as 80 per cent is recovered and supposedly worked-out fields are again in production.

Calling all outdoorsmen

By JIM MITCHELL

Does trap shooting improve your gunning skill on upland game birds?

Recently, while attending a major trap shoot, we selected a representative group of shotgun enthusiasts from the several hundred gunners competing and asked that question. We were partially surprised by their opinions.

First, the majority of those questioned definitely believed that trap shooting did little or no good in sharpening a gunner's ability to hit quail or pheasants or grouse or any other upland game birds if the gunner was an experienced hunter. They all agreed, however, that the novice could learn much from trap shooting that would pay dividends in the field.

Leads are different, angles are different, the timing is different! Those are a few of the things they tossed at us in answer to the question. Still, we can't help but believe that any shotgun sport that teaches a gunner to point and to swing at a moving target is bound to reward him when after feathered game. Naturally, only experience in judging distances, amount of lead, etc., can perfect a gunner's ability in the field, but trap shooting is bound to play a hand in developing these essential traits for upland gunning.

One of the trap shooters we questioned had this reply: "Trap shooting during the off-season keeps you 'gun-wise' and alert."

By "gun wise" he explained he meant that the gunner had the right feel and coordination when the opening day of the upland game season rolled around if he had been trap shooting during the previous months. The gunner who had kept his shotgun in the closet since the last season will need a little time to get the right "feel" on the first day of a new season, the trap shooter added.

Maybe he's right. Of course, once you've learned to shoot a gun, usually it's an art that sticks for a lifetime. And as with all sports, some attain perfection with apparent ease, while others slave and work and practice to reach only average performance.

That, too, is as it should be, for if all hunters were perfect marksmen, our game supply would rapidly vanish from the fields, forest and marshlands.

We all like to brag about feats with a shotgun or rifle. That's only human nature, but the real sportsman who loves the outdoors can get as much real enjoyment from a day afield with half a limit as with a full bag.

MY CHURCH

In order to be the Lord's Church, a church must be identical with the New Testament description in all essential points. It must be scriptural in worship. Paul reminds us to keep the ordinances as he delivered them unto us and warns against "will worship," or self-devised worship, "after the commandments and doctrines of men." (Col. 2:22-23). Scriptural doctrine is no more important than scriptural worship. A "Thus saith the Lord" is no more imperative in one than in the other, and the New Testament requires it in both. Therefore, in the worship, the teaching of the apostles and the practice of the New Testament Church must be our teaching and practice. The limit of their teaching must be the limit of our practice. Their teaching shows that worship consists of the following:

1. Giving as God has prospered us. (I Cor. 16:1, 2; II Cor. 9:6,7).
2. Praying with the spirit and with the understanding (I Cor. 14:15).
3. Teaching the Bible as God's word (also called the apostles' doctrine) (I Thess. 2:13; Acts 2:42).
4. Singing with the spirit and with the understanding (I Cor. 14:15).
5. Eating the Lord's supper on the first day of the week. (Acts 20:7).

To add to the doctrine of the New Testament or to the worship is not acceptable to the Lord.

BRUCELLA GERM LOSSES STRESSED BY AUTHORITIES

Brucellosis, undulant fever, Bang's disease—three names for a vicious disease which annually causes much ill-health among farm people and causes serious economical losses in farm animals, is under attack, according to Dr. C. R. Donham, head of the department of veterinary science at Purdue University.

Dr. Donham has called attention to "Crippler in Disguise," a booklet recently released by the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc., which tells the story of the brucella germ and the damage it does to human beings. Copies of the booklet will be distributed at the conclusion of Dr. Donham's talk on brucellosis, Wednesday, August 4, at the summer Agricultural Conference to be held at Purdue, August 3 to 5.

The victim of brucellosis, or undulant fever, tires easily, loses his appetite, has flushed cheeks late in the afternoon, and suffers from high temperature, backache, headache, shortness of breath, and a general feeling of depression. It has been found that the disease is contracted from farm animals.

There are three types of the brucella organism, and each type is common to a different farm animal. It is commonly found in cows, goats, and pigs; and while all three infect man, the goat and pig types produce more violent symptoms in human beings.

Probably half the total cases of undulant fever are caused by drinking milk. Accordingly, one of the points of attack is through pasteurization. While 98 percent of communities over 10,000 population have pasteurization facilities, milk purification is found in only about half of those between 1,000 and 10,000. The percentage is considerably less for smaller communities. Eight million dollars is estimated as necessary to have sufficient pasteurization facilities for the nation. By comparison, it is estimated that the per case cost of undulant fever amounts to $325, and when this is applied to the number of cases contracted from raw milk, it appears much cheaper to provide pasteurization for these smaller communities.

Up to the end of 1944, about 68 million cattle were tested for brucellosis. The annual loss in the United States due to brucellosis in farm animals was recently estimated to be $97,000,000 in cattle and at least $10,000,000 in hogs.

The U. S. Public Health Service feels that by combining the program of elimination of diseased animals with the program of immunizing calves, a reduction may be anticipated in the number of cases in the not-too-distant future. While the struggle goes on in the laboratory and in the field, there is every reason to believe that civilized man will win the battle with the brucella germ in much the same way as he has conquered many other diseases of the human race.

Cattle owners should be interested in obtaining and studying Regulation 24 of the Indiana State Livestock Sanitary Board which describes three different plans of control designed to fit the needs of different types of herds of cattle, Dr. Donham said. A copy of this regulation may be obtained by request to Dr. R. F. Smith, State Veterinarian, State House, Indianapolis.
