Pete worked in the coal and building department of the Co-Op. for several years before he left to enter army service in World War II, and is thoroughly familiar with these departments.

LAWRENCE BELL TO VISIT HERE

Word has been received that Lawrence Bell, of Buffalo, N. Y., will arrive in Mentone Sunday, July 9th, for a visit with his sister, Mrs. J. H. Mills, of Santa Monica, California, who is spending several weeks here with relatives.

Mr. Bell will spend the day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wade Whetstone and he will be delighted to have old friends and acquaintances come in for a friendly visit.

MERCHANTS PLAYING FINE SOFTBALL LATELY

The softball games involving the Mentone Merchants recently have been mighty fine games even though the locals haven't been on the winning side. Last Friday night they held the Zollner Piston Reserves to a one to nothing score. Each pitcher was credited with 13 strike-outs.

Tuesday evening, they lost to the Thomas Ice Cream team of Niles, Michigan 2 to 5. Both teams permitted errors to boost the scores, but these "breaks" were fairly evenly divided. The score was 2 to 3 in the last half of the ninth when a Mentone fielder made a wide throw to first when the third out looked like a cinch. This play paved the way for two more runs for the visitors.

Next Friday evening, July 7th, the V. F. W. team from South Bend will play at Mentone. This promises to be another interesting game to witness.

MILLER—BOGANWRIGHT NUPTIALS SATURDAY

Miss Lois Boganwright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Boganwright, of Mentone, and James D. Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Miller, also of Mentone, were united in marriage in a ceremony performed at eight o'clock Saturday evening at the parsonage of the Bourbon Methodist church. The double-ring service was read by the pastor, Rev. Garfield Steedman.

A sheer white embroidered dress was worn by the bride, and her corsage was of red roses. Miss Lillie Morris, who attended her cousin as maid of honor, was wearing a silk printed blouse with a white skirt. Her flowers were white carnations.

Jack Miller served his brother as best man.

The young couple will reside north of town where Mr. Miller is engaged in farming.

NEW FRONT COMPLETED AT HENKERS' STORE

The new front on the Henker IGA store was completed last week, with the exception of a bit of painting, and it certainly makes a decided difference in the appearance of the business fronts on that part of the south side of Main street.

ANOTHER FINE LIONS JULY FOURTH CELEBRATION HERE

The Fourth of July celebration held in Mentone Tuesday evening attracted the usual large crowd and the entertainment features proved to be as popular as ever. A strong overhead, south wind attempted to mess up the fireworks display by carrying the burning embers from the exploded shells back into the large crowd gathered to witness the display. The Mentone firemen, serving as a police force for the event, immediately moved the spectators back to a safer position on the field and the balance of the display was fired.

In addition to the work of the Lions Club members, special mention must be made of the fine work of the American Legion, Boy Scouts, Psi Iota Xi Sorority and many others who helped to make the event a success. The contribution at the softball game, also played an important part in helping to put on the Independence Day event. Winners in the athletic contests were:

Three-legged race—Larry McKinley and Kay Flenar, first; Kent Riner and Larry Creakbaum, second, and Ned Clark and Chris Bush, third.

Sack Race—Chris Bush, first; Richard Ott, second, and Jimmie Feldman, third.

Bicycle Race—(1st Heat) Billy Whetstone, first; Patty Parker, second; Geo. Barkman, third. (2nd Heat) Roger Montel, first; Paul Blue, second, and Irvin Ferverda, third. (3rd Heat) David Gosser, first; Janet Reed, second, and Wallace Oylor, third.

Tricycle Race — Jonathan Gosser, first, and Eddie Nellans, second.

HEALTH FACTS FROM YOUR STATE BOARD OF HEALTH

Health instructions are being given this summer to approximately 9,000 girls and boys from 74 counties attending the 4-H Club camps which are scheduled from June 11 to August 26 at ten different Indiana 4-H camps.

Three units, composed of a dentist and nurse, from the Indiana State Board of Health, are cooperating with the 4-H Extension Service, Purdue University, in the project with Dr. Chas. Howell, Indiana State Board of Health, in charge of this particular phase of 4-H club instructions.

Dental inspections and instruction in oral hygiene, diet and nutrition are given by the dentists who also present flannelgraph talks on rural sanitation.

Vision testing is done by the nurses who are on call for a 24-hour emergency service. First aid classes are conducted also by the nurse and personal hygiene discussed with the girls.

A report noting dental or vision defects is sent to the parent urging immediate correction. This is followed up to determine the percentage of recommendations carried through.

Films including travelogues, comedies, group singing, as well as education films are shown to each group.

The camps are located at Hassmer

Hill, Versailles; Camp Mack, Leesburg; Shakamak State Park, Jasonville; McClure Lake, Silver Lake; Santa Claus, Warsaw; Camp Tecumseh, Delphi; Epworth Forest, North Webster; Dunes State Park, Chesterton, and McCormick's Creek State Park, Spencer.

THREE 4-H PROGRAMS OF INTEREST TO GIRLS

Three national 4-H awards programs of special interest to rural girls have been accepted for the current year by the Indiana State Club office, it is announced by the National 4-H committee. They are Girls' Record, Canning and Dress Revue.

County winners in each will receive honor medals, and State champions will get educational trips to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago next November.

National awards are $300 college scholarships in Girls' Record and Canning, and leather-cased scissors in Dress Revue. Donors of awards in the respective programs are Montgomery Ward, Kerr Glass and Simplicity Pattern Co. The programs are conducted under the direction of the Cooperative Extension Service.

Indiana state winners in the programs last year were: Phyllis Hamand of Perryville, in Canning; Patricia Mahin of Chalmers, Dress Revue, and Vera Almon of Poseyville in Girls' Record.

County Extension Agents will furnish full information on these programs.

Marine Slogan

U.S. marines themselves are uncertain who first sent the dispatch, "The marines have landed and have the situation well in hand," but the sentence is thought to have been coined by Richard Harding Davis.

Onions

Soups made with onions rank high in favorite food dishes, while many stews, souffles, salads, and sandwiches call for this vegetable.

4-H CLUB DAY AT CHICAGO FAIR JULY 26

4-H Club Day will be observed at the 1950 Chicago Fair on Wednesday, July 26, as a feature of Farm Week.

Among the features planned for the day's celebration is a parade of the fair grounds by the visiting rural youth, marching to the music of 4-H bands. Some of the nearby club groups are considering making 4-H floats for the event.

Following the parade there will be a presentation of outstanding 4-H talent, mostly from the central states, on the special events stage at the fair, during the afternoon. The talent will include 4-H instrumentalists, soloists, duets, trios, quartettes, square dancers and comedy stunts.

4-H members with special talents who wish to appear on the program at the fair should submit their applications to County Extension agents.

The day's program is being arranged by the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work, in cooperation with the Extension Service in Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Michigan, Wisconsin and Ohio, and the Chicago Fair.

STATE FAIR TICKETS ON SALE JULY 10th

Over-the-counter sale of reserved seat tickets for all of the major entertainment features at the 1950 Indiana State Fair, beginning Aug. 31, will open next Monday (July 10).

Mail orders received prior to Monday, however, will be filled first in order to give State Fair visitors in all sections of Hoosierland an equal opportunity to obtain choice seat locations for the major attractions headed by Bob Hope's personal appearance show in the spacious Coliseum.

Ticket requests, accompanied by a check or money order, should be mailed to the ticket manager at the Indiana State Fairgrounds, Indianapolis 5, Ind.

Dates and ticket prices for the various locations follow:

Bob Hope—Aug. 31 and Sept. 1, 2, 3; $3, $2.40, $2.20, $1.80.

Irish Horan's Lucky Hell Drivers—Sept. 1, 2, 3; $3, $2.40, $1.80, $1.20, $1. Grand Circuit Harness Racing—Sept. 2, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8; $3, $2.40, $1.80, $1.20, $1.

$50,000 Horse Show with Tex Beneke and his orchestra—Sept. 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8; $2.20, $1.80, $1.20, 85c.

1950 State Fair Follies—Sept. 3, 4, 5,

6, 7, 8; $3, $2.20, $1.80, $1.50, $1.20, 85c. All prices include federal tax.

Advance sale of 250,000 general admission tickets for the fair at 35 cents each, instead of the usual price of 60 cents, also will open Monday at many stores, banks, and farm bureau co-ops throughout the state.

In requesting these tickets, purchasers should note one major change inaugurated this year. Although the price is unchanged, separate 35-cent tickets will be necessary for all automobiles entering the grounds. Last year all tickets were good for one person or one automobile. The special auto ticket this year will eliminate payment of the 10-cent amusement tax required on the previous dual-purpose tickets.

RED LIGHTS LEGAL ON FIRE FIGHTERS' AUTOMOBILES

In recent months, members of the volunteer fire departments in Indiana have been installing red lights on their autos for use in fire emergency. Some police officials objected, declaring it an unlawful practice, until one fire fighter contested this viewpoint and demanded a "ticket" in lieu of removing the red light from his auto. The following article, relative to the new policy of the state police, was printed in a recent issue of the South Bend Tribune:

Arthur M. Thurston, superintendent of the state police, announced today that he would order an immediate suspension of enforcement of red light restrictions on the private automobiles of members of volunteer fire departments.

This suspension, he said, will be operative until a meeting of the state safety committee, as set up by law, can be called and a revision of present policy, followed for some years, can be made.

He cited a provision in the law which puts the matter of policy in the laps of the state safety committee in that it lists as eligible for red lights, fire departments, police departments and "such ambulances, other emergency equipment and public utility vehicles" as may be designated and authorized by the state safety committee.

Using Old Policy

"There has been no meeting of this committee for several years on this subject," Supt. Thurston said. "Meanwhile the state police department has been operating on the old policy. Subsequent to its adoption, volunteer fire departments have become an important and worthwhile factor in rural life. I will recommend a revision in their favor."

The state safety committee, Supt. Thurston explained, consists of one member of the public service commission, one member of the state highway commission, the superintendent of the state police, the commissioner of motor vehicles, and the secretary of the state board of health. The first two representatives have not been appointed during the present administration.

Orders Suspension.

"I will see Gov. Schricker today and ask him to make these two appointments so that I, as the designated chairman of the committee, can call a meeting as soon as possible to review the situation," he said. "Meanwhile, orders will go forward to our field forces directing a suspension of arrests involving members of volunteer fire departments."

Supt. Thurston's announcement follows a determined campaign for recognition in behalf of all volunteer departments waged by the Center township, St. Joseph county, volunteer fire department.

Beams and Stringers

Because of differing uses, beams and stringers differ from joist and plank with respect to measurement and limitation of knots on the wide faces. In beams and stringers the smallest dimension of a knot on a wide face is a simple and sufficient criterion of the effect of strength. In joist and plank a measure of the reduction of effective width of the piece is afforded by the average diameter of a knot.

GIVEN SURPRISE SHOWER

Mrs. Ped Koenig was guest of honor at a bridal shower last Friday evening at the home of her mother, Mrs. C. O. Mollenhour. The party was given by the Sodales Club, of which Eileen is a member.

Decorations were carried out in pink and white.

Refreshments were ice cream, in the shape of bells and bowknots, cookies, and coffee.

Beautifully wrapped gifts were presented to the honored guest. These turned out to be "white elephants" as they were cups without handles, a rolling pin without handles, etc. After all the fun, a set of Fostoria crystal was given to Mrs. Koenig as a gift from the club.

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Bunner and three children, of Algonquin, Illinois, are visiting at the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Don Bunner.

FREE VACATION FOR CHILDREN WITH HEART DISEASE

Have you ever had a child afflicted with heart disease? Has your child's application for summer camp been rejected because he has a "leaky" heart and is unable to participate in normal camp activities? If so, here is good news for you—

The Indiana Heart Foundation has leased the facilities of Camp Koch at Troy, Indiana, near Evansville, for a two-week period from August 6th to 19th inclusive. Camp Koch is situated in the beautiful rolling countryside of southern Indiana, and the camp is as completely equipped as any of the luxurious camps in the north woods. There will be a physician and a nurse in constant attendance, and each child will be examined at the beginning and end of the camping period and the degree of activity permitted him will be determined. A counsellor will be in each dormitory to see that the doctor's orders are carried out. Meals and recreation will be planned to give the utmost benefit to the child during the camping session.

The purpose of this camp is to provide an adjustment to group living for the child who has been confined to home for many months with heart disease and is now expecting to return again to school and to play. The directors of the Heart Foundation believe that this camp will provide the vital link that has been missing in this adjustment. For those children who are already attending school the camp provides a vacation away from home—new contacts, new skills, and new outlook. The child will learn the most important fact that any handicapped child has to learn—how to live with his ailment. He will discover that there are many others who have a similar condition and that, in spite of his handicap, he can lead a useful and happy life.

All Indiana children between the ages of 8 and 18 years, who have heart disease and are able to participate in camp activities, are eligible for Camp Koch. Application should come from the family doctor and will be furnished to him by the Indiana Heart Foundation, 1317 Fletcher Trust Building, Indianapolis.

And the best news of all is that these two weeks of glorious vacation are free—provided to the children of Indiana through the generosity of hundreds of contributions to the Indiana Heart Foundation last February, thanks to all of you good people who have contributed to these happy, and healthful days for these children.

Anyone eligible in the Mentone area can contact Dr. Dan L. Urschel for proper application blanks.

TIME-LY TALES

Perhaps the greatest advance in the science of timekeeping was the introduction of jewels to the watch. A Swiss craftsman, Nicholas Fatio, discovered in 1704 that the accuracy of a watch movement increased 50 times with tiny jewels as bearings for moving parts. Fatio originally used gems. Today's watch jewels are synthetic stones worth only a few cents each. Watchmakers say there are only 17 points in even the finest watch movement where jewels are needed.

brate their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary. Open house was held from two to four o'clock in the afternoon. In addition to the congratulatory messages received, many fine gifts were presented to the couple.

H. V. Johns, with Mrs. Johns at the piano, provided delightful entertainment with the singing of a number of songs in keeping with the occasion.

Powers of President

The President is commander-in-chief of the army and navy of the United States. He may require the opinion of the principal officer in each of the executive departments upon any subject relating to the duties of their respective offices. This practice has given rise to the President's cabinet, which has no other provision in law except this power of the President.

Other well-known agriculturists and breeders who gave their acceptance earlier are Senator Cllinton B. Anderson, former Secretary of Agriculture; and Marshall Field, prominent publisher and business man.

At the same time, the International Dairy Exposition, which is making plans for its second annual "World's Fair of the Dairy Industry," to be held October 7 - 14 at the Indiana State Fairgrounds, announced that the Holstein-Friesian bull Smithland Supreme Champion, first prize two-year-old bull at last year's show, was the top selling animal in the National Holstein-Friesian convention sale at Syracuse June 8. He was purchased at

MAKE THAT MOUNTAIN TRIP TROUBLE-FREE

Illinois and Indiana motorists will get more pleasure from their vacation trips to mountain areas this summer if they observe the rules of safe and courteous driving along the way according to Chas. M. Hayes, president of the Chicago Motor Club.

The first rule of safe mountain driving is to pay attention to the road whenever the car is in motion.

"Sightseeing motorists have a tendency to relax their caution at the steering wheel and forget about other drivers behind and ahead of them," Hayes warned. "When a driver wants to admire the scenery he should pull his car off the road onto the shoulder or into one of the cleared parking areas provided for sightseers on mountain highways."

Hayes cautioned against driving at crawling speeds. He pointed out that this often causes unnecessary exasperation and delay to other motorists. He also reminded drivers to keep to the right side of the road, particularly when approaching blind curves in the mountain areas.

Another safety factor concerns the proper use of brakes, Hayes added. He explained that downhill driving in a reduced gear saves wear on brakes and that light, repeated pressure on the pedal should be used when braking is necessary. Constant pressure on the brakes causes overheating of tires and engine.

Coasting down grades should be avoided in the mountains, Hayes said, because many mountain grades are steeper than they appear. This results in free-wheeling autos picking up speed too rapidly for the driver to retain control of the vehicle.

If you are driving into the mountains this summer here are three points to remember: 1. When you drive always turn from the proper lane and signal your intention to turn in ample time to warn others. 2. Improperly adjusted automobile ignition units can cause excessive gasoline consumption. They can also result in hard starting and reduced engine power. 3. It is unwise to let the oil level in your car fall too low in mountainous country as the oil pump will not operate efficiently at a low oil level. At a low oil level the oil will flow away from the oil pump intake when the car is on a steep grade.

JOE BOGGS' MARRIED IN JACKSON, MICHIGAN

White gladioli and snapdragons adorned the altar before which Betty Jane Bell and Joseph Francis Boggs were married Saturday (July 1) afternoon in St. Paul's Episcopal church. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Howard Harper.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Bell, 217 Homcrest. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Boggs of Mentone, Ind.

"The Lord's Prayer" and "Ave Maria" were sung by Miss Patricia Hodges. Traditional wedding music was played by Mrs. Glenn Bronson.

The bride's gown of Chantilly lace and candlelight satin was designed with a high neckline and long lace sleeves, which were accented with cut-out lace motifs, a full lace bodice in a basque effect with a wide lace panel from waistline to hem, edging the full shirred skirt and terminating in a full cathedral train. A pill box headdress secured her illusion veil and she carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley centered with a white orchid.

As maid of honor, Miss Marilyn Craft, wore a gown of white frostpoint velvety organza over white. Her bouquet was of daisies and variegated ivy.

The bridesmaids were the Misses Barbara Honer, Paula Richmond, Jill Foddrill of Mitchell, Ind., and Barbara Peters of DesPlaines, Ill. Their gowns were of white frostpoint velvety organza over mint green taffeta accented with sashes and bustles bows of matching green. Picture hats of hair braid with harmonizing bows in mint completed their costumes. They carried daisies and ivy.

The flower girl, Nancy Bisbee, wore a gown similar to that of the bridesmaids. She carried a white ribbon satin basket filled with daisies and rose petals. George Bisbee, Jr., was ring-bearer.

William Whitehead of Sharpville, Ind., assisted as best man. The guests were seated by Robert Jackson of Elizabethtown, Ind., Robert Swain of Indianapolis, Ind., Bruce Gilpin of Hanover and William Haughey of Louisville, Ky.

The bride's mother wore a costume of sheer crepe in a new sand shade trimmed with rosettes made of matching material with centers of bronze beads. The head motif was carried out

ENJOYED SCOUT JAMBOREE

Merrill Peterson arrived home last Sunday from the Boy Scout Jamboree at Valley Forge.

When asked for comments about his trip his remark was: "I had a good time!"

The chief pastime for the scouts was swapping. Merrill tried to make a swap with some of the Scotch scouts for their kilts, but found this wasn't possible as the plaids cannot be worn by anyone except the family for whom it was woven.

Other highlights of the trip were the addresses by President Truman and Dwight Eisenhower, and the spectacular display of fireworks.

BELL VISITS MENTONE

About fifty relatives and friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Whetstone Sunday afternoon to visit Lawrence Bell, president of the Bell Aircraft Company, of Buffalo, N. Y., and his sister, Mrs. J. H. Mills, of Santa Monica, California. Mr. Bell was accompanied by his private secretary, Miss Irene Bernhardt.

During the afternoon, Mr. Bell spoke briefly of the work his plant is now doing, and expressed his views regarding the present armed conflicts in various parts of the world. He said his plant hasn't been building many airplanes, but has been carrying on secret experiments with guided missiles, etc.

The Bell Aircraft plant recently celebrated its fifteenth birthday, and we hope to carry a more complete story of this in our next issue.

Mr. Bell and his secretary left for Buffalo Monday noon.

Wednesday morning Mr. and Mrs. Whetstone, Mrs. Mills and Mr. and Mrs. Morrison Rockhill and daughter, of Warsaw, left for Buffalo where they expect to spend the remainder of the week with Mr. Bell. (Wade said he had never been up in the air over three-stories, but, judging by his remarks, he expected to take a trip in one of Bell's helicopters.)

MISS JOSEPHINE CREIGHTON MARRIES JOHN C. BODLE

Miss Josephine Creighton and Dr. John C. Bodle were united in marriage on Saturday, July 8, at 7:30 p. m. at the Evangelical United Brethren Church in Atwood. The double ring ceremony was read by the Reverend O. W. Haynes, before a background of palms, lighted candelabra and baskets of mixed flowers.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hobart Creighton, of route 5, Warsaw, and graduates this summer from Indiana university's training school for nurses. She is a member of Zeta Tau Alpha and Delta Theta Tau sororities.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Bodle, of South Bend, Indiana, and graduated in June from the University of Southern California school of medicine. He is a member of the medical fraternity Phi Rho Sigma and is interning this year at the Orange County hospital, Orange, California.

A prelude of organ music was presented by Miss Ann Hartley, of Portland, Indiana, a roommate of the bride in nurses training. Selections included "All The Things You Are," "Wonderful One," "I Love You Truly," "Wanting You," "Yours Is My Heart Alone," "Because," "I Come to Thee," "Oh Promise Me," and "Wedding March." The bride was beautiful in a gown of white swiss embroidered organza with fitted bodice accented with portrait neckline outlined with embroidered Victorian collar. The sleeves were long and extended into bridal points. The full skirt was highlighted with flying panels of embroidery and fell into a Cathedral train. Her veil of French illusion was held in place by a hand crocheted cap.

She carried a colonial bouquet of ragged robin and white carnations,

HARP ENSEMBLE AT FLOWER GARDENS SATURDAY

An Indiana University ensemble of 10 harps will play for a near-capacity crowd at the International Friendship Gardens, Saturday night.

Florence Smith, musical director of the Gardens, said the indications were the amphitheater, which holds 5,000, will be filled for the event. The ensemble, directed by Margaret B. White, will perform on the island Theater of Nations against a background of poplars and evergreens.

"This Indiana University group has pioneered in harp instrumental work on the campus," Director Smith said. "This will be the group's first public appearance in northern Indiana."

At the same time, J. Virgil Stauffer, the Gardens' director, said the various annuals now blooming in the world-famed exhibit, will provide the usual mood-setting for visitors who want to relax in restful surroundings before the musical program.

"An abundance of rainfall this year," Stauffer explained, "while harmful to the farmer, has been a boon to flowers and shrubbery. Visitors have remarked they have never seen the Gardens more lush in mid-July before."

HOW ABOUT A

TRIP TO ALASKA?

The 1,500 mile trip up the Alaska highway is helping create a new body of long-distance, "rough-it" vacation drivers, the touring bureau of the Chicago Motor Club reports.

Last year 5,192 automobiles drove the highway. From indications thus far, the number is expected to increase considerably this year.

Dawson Creek, in British Columbia, about 500 miles north of the U. S. boundary, is the official gateway to the Alaska Highway. A signpost has been erected here marking Mile 0 on the highway. Fairbanks, Alaska, is at the other end of 1,523 miles of wilderness.

The road is gravelled but, with modern construction, easy grades and good sight distances, an average of 250 miles per day is possible, the motor club touring bureau says.

The trip offers spectacular scenery. Teslin Lake at Mile 804 winds for 85 miles between towering cliffs. The drive along the north side of the great St. Elias range furnishes views of exceptional beauty. At Fort Nelsin the highway curls through the most northerly extension of the Rocky Mountain range.

Fishing is unexcelled in these northern waters and moose, deer and bear are in abundance for the pleasure of big game hunters.

The entire route was surveyed last year, the motor club says. Services and accommodations were found good, although motorists are cautioned that it is still a trip to be made only by persons in good physical condition.

The highway was built during the war as a defense measure and cost $113,824,220. Its construction employed 18,000 men.

MENTONE MURMURS

DAVID and SALLY GOSSER

After what seems to be a long vacation from the typewriter, Murmurs is back in circulation. Uprooting himself from his gardens he hastened in to get these black letters on the page, but he could not help noticing the coloring of the wheat and oats in the fields along the highways. Even while he was knee deep in bean rows he was conscious of a song Kate Smith made popular a few years back, "God Bless America." The gold of the grain, the green of the corn and soybeans, the fragrance of new mown hay, all helped to accentuate the thought of the song. But Murmurs is wondering if the accent is not in the wrong place. Should not America be praising God?

America, praise God from whom all blessings flow. In spite of the sweat and toil, the laboring from dawn 'till after dusk, there still must be the acceptance of the fact that we did not create ourselves nor the universe in which we live with its bountiful supply of resources. This is not intended to be sermonic, but common sense prompts us to recognize the fact that we do not create the will and power of our seed and plants to grow, and when it comes down to plain talk, all our effort is less than a mite when placed along with the eternal and continuous power of nature. We are but one of the tools in the hand of God to shape His Universe.

Murmurs may have, like most farmers and gardeners, aided in the restoring of the fertility back into the soil with these new commercial fertilizers. He may have prepared the ground, sowed the seed, and cultivated the garden, but he did not place the power of growth into the seed that was planted, although science has greatly increased that power by selectivity and cross pollination. Murmurs had little to do with the process of pollination in the bean rows, the use of bees and insects, the structure of the blossom, although he has learned that certain plants placed in adjacent rows do better than those strung out in a single row. He had little to do with the source of water supply and sunlight; and he is not unmindful that in some areas irrigation is necessary, but the source of the water so used was not created by Murmurs or any other man. He simply puts into use the materials God supplies.

Murmurs does not believe that all the supply has been exhausted; for as needs arise, man will be given the insight to discover new sources of power and energy which God cons ago created. This is still God's World, and Murmurs cannot behold a sunset across our fertile land or shimmering lakes without feeling a sense of worship, a need to think of the source of all goodness and beauty. He cannot watch the tassels of the corn and the coloring of the silk without breathing a response to the marvelous craftsmanship of his Creator. But one other element of nature and God's plan commands an equal respect and reverence.

This element is the opportunity God has made in His universe for mankind. The freedom that is given him—even the freedom to destroy himself and others, but a freedom which also permits him to be a worker with his Creator and his God. As Murmurs watches the men making hay, readying machinery to harvest grain, toil cooperatively in field, in factory, and in mine, he is aware that man is more like his maker than he cares to admit. The concern for the welfare of others, the extended mercies, the love and affections which exist in spite of differences of faith, of race, of interests, all tend to evidence that a goodly number of men and women are in constant communication with their Maker and are Blessing God.

God bless America—yes; but let us not stop there. America, praise God.

Two bright atom bombs were discussing the news, And became quite alarmed by man's dangerous views. The first bomb believed that the humans sought peace, But the other was sure that war would increase. "For they're making a stockpile of bombs such as we, And I've come to feel from this earth we must flee."

The first bomb looked worried; then snapped on his wings, "I'm ready to go, shall I press on the spring?" The other one nodded and made this reply, As they swung off to safety in the far distant sky,

"Those humans are strange, for since giving us birth, They've made it unsafe for bombs on the earth."

HEALTH FACTS FROM YOUR STATE BOARD OF HEALTH

Tips to the teenagers in quest of pep and vitality, a stream lined figure, soft lustrous hair, clear skin and sparkling teeth, include the selection and eating of a good diet, Miss Lella Ogle, chief nutritionist, Indiana State Board of Health, said today.

"Establish your beauty routine with a wise selection of foods," Miss Ogle said. "The value of a good breakfast cannot be overstressed. Overeating and overindulgence in sweets and snacks between meals are hard on the beauty diet."

"Low hemoglobin, as evidenced by fatigue, pallor and skin disorders that often accompany it, are the bane of teenage girls. An abundance of iron-rich foods, with more rest and out-of-door exercises, in daily habits is needed. Don't be indifferent to leafy, green and yellow vegetables, eggs, liver or whole grain cereals and bread for they are the foods that help provide that good color and pep."

"Girls are more prone to diet fads than boys and overweight, actual or imaginative, often leads the teen age girl to undereat to the point of emaciation."

Contrary to the general belief, milk is not a fattening food. Teenage boys and girls need at least a quart a day. The riboflavin and vitamin A contained in milk make for bright eyes and smooth skin and the calcium for sound bones and tooth structure."

WORD FROM ALASKA

Anchorage, Alaska, July 6, 1950

Dear Mr. Cullum:

We are having some more of the beautiful weather like we had during June, which is rain. During June it was rather surprising to see a nice sun-shiny day, as most of the time it was either raining or else cloudy.

I suppose that everyone had a big 4th of July around Mentone, didn't they? I had planned to go to Seward and see Rev. Irwin and his family, but on Thursday evening, June 29, all passes were pulled, and all leaves were cancelled. We could still go into Anchorage, but were not allowed to go beyond the city limits. We've been in a state of "alert" since Sunday afternoon, June 25. By "alert" I mean that we have to be ready for almost anything. We have to carry our gas masks, steel helmets, rifles and ammunition with us most of the time. It seems rather funny to go to the show carrying all that and see most of the other fellows with theirs. On the 29th of June everyone in our outfit except for the flying personnel had to go out to a wooded area and sit around until noon, carrying all the above mentioned equipment plus a light field pack. I was lucky enough to be one of the 12 fellows picked to be on the machine guns. There were two of us per gun and after we got our guns set up in the back of a truck, we just got around. Myself, I laid on the seat and slept for about two hours. I couldn't see sitting around all the time when I could be sleeping, so I slept. I was lucky enough to wake up just before an officer came around to see if I had everything "under control" as he said, and so saved myself a "chewing out."

The camp where all the jets are normally parked are almost deserted now. A few 54s, 25s, B-17s and C-47s are still parked there and kept in readiness to evacuate dependents, etc., if the need arises, but those planes are few and far between. Our planes had to go out and practice hunting for wrecked planes and rescuing the crews. Three or four planes were landed on emergency landing strips and then our planes had to find them.

The regular army has set up several machine gun nests and have them all camouflaged as in regular war time. I imagine that if you folks were to come up here it would be rather interesting for you to see all the war preparation or it might frighten you.

I know that it is getting monotonous carrying all that stuff around all the time but it may come in very useful some day.

One of our officers told us that in case of war we would only be in the field one or two days at the most, and then we would go back to our regular jobs. He said that we have to keep our planes ready to fly so they can evacuate the sick and wounded regardless of war or otherwise.

One of our B-17s which was stationed at Adak, on the chain, went down

Tuesday evening. So far, the plane has been found, about 10 miles from the base, but none of its crew has been found. So far the crew are only reported as missing.

As of July 1, 10th Rescue is under the control of MATS, Military Air Transport Service, making all rescue squadrons under MATS. I have heard that the MATS officials were not too happy about the 10th Rescue not being under their control when all the other rescue outfits all over the world were under their control. We were under the control of the Alaskan Air Command and are to remain under the AAC for operational controlling.

I heard from Rev. Irwin once. He seemed very glad to hear from me and invited me to Seward to see them anytime except between the 5th to the 20th of July when they are going to Juneau. Seward is about 100 miles south of here, and train and plane are the only means of getting there at present. A road is under construction but I do not know when it will be completed.

Several of the streets on the base have been blacktopped and several sidewalks have been put in. According to the papers, several more streets are to be put in. Also, nine more concrete barracks, from 250 to 500 men capacity, are to be built before September, 1951. If the present plans are carried out this should be a very nice base in another two years.

I get the Co-Op. News once or twice a week. It is usually about two weeks old when I get it, but it is still welcome news to me. Today I received the one printed June 21. Not bad, considering how far it has to travel to get up here.

This seems to be about all I have to write about for this time so will close for now. Thanks a lot for the paper.

Sincerely yours,

Cpl. Harry F. Kinzie,

TIRE PRESSURE ON HOT-WEATHER TRIPS

The advice which the Chicago Motor Club gives regarding over-inflated tires is the easiest to follow: let them alone.

Car owners in the midst of a summer tour are often in doubt about the correct care of tires which pick up pressure from incessant poundings on a sun-baked highway.

Just let them be, says the motor club. They may pick up from two to eight pounds in air pressure during the course of a day's summer driving but this will be lost as the automobile stands overnight in cooler temperatures.

Drivers who check the tires every time they stop for gas are running a risk, according to the motoring organization. The tire gauges at different service stations may vary as much as five pounds. Ideally, a motorist should carry his own gauge, testing it periodically for accuracy. Those who don't are advised to check air pressure once a day, in the morning when the tires are cool.

The proper inflation of tires under normal conditions is important but it is dependent upon the make of the tire, its size and the weight it must carry. Motorists should consult their local dealer about correct air pressure for their tires.

Another headache for summer drivers is overheated radiators. Most radiators "heat up" because motorists fail to keep them filled with water. In others, however, rust from the engine interior permeates the water and causes the radiator pipes to clog. The water then backs up and is lost thru the overflow outlet just beneath the radiator cap. Bugs and insects in the radiator core, too, are frequently the cause of poor radiator cooling.

Keep the radiator filled with clean water, and an occasional flushing will eliminate foreign matter.

ENLISTS IN NAVY

Jack Riner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Riner, left Saturday for Indianapolis where he took his physical examination for the navy. He is to be sent to San Diego, California for training.

DISPLAYS POUND BLUEGILL

Lyndes Latimer was in town the other morning sprinkling a little "itch" powder in the pants of local fishermen. He had just caught a 10½-inch bluegill in his private lake, and it certainly was a beauty to behold. It was one of those nice thick babies with beautiful coloring, and it really made one want to go out and try to get one for himself.

Lyndes' pond is about 1½ acres in size and three years ago he planted a few bass. This summer he has been catching 2- to 2½-pounders right along. The big bass, however, don't seem to be keeping the bluegills from multiplying and growing.

CELEBRATES 90TH BIRTHDAY

Mr. Obe Haimbaugh celebrated his 90th birthday anniversary on Sunday. However, Monday, July 17, was his actual birthday.

His children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren enjoyed a pot luck dinner at the noon hour. In the afternoon seventy-five relatives and friends called, which helped to make it a perfect celebration. Ice cream and cake was served to the guests.

Relatives from a distance included Mr. Haimbaugh's sister, Mrs. Ocie Blue, of Indianapolis, who spent the week end there, and Mr. and Mrs. Milo Meredith of Wabash and Mr. Walter Hutchinson of South Bend.

LEO VALENTINE BUYS MAYER GRAIN ELEVATOR

Leo Valentine, owner and manager of the Valentine Elevator, south of town, has purchased the Mayer Grain Co. elevator at Mentone, and will assume possession September 11.

Mr. Valentine states that he will continue the sale of poultry and livestock feeds, as in the past, and will aim to continue the firm as one of the important farm feed suppliers in the area.

Richard Greulach, who has managed the elevator for the Mayer Bros. for the past 39 years, states that at present he has no future plans, and does not know whether he will stay in the organization or not.

Frequently it takes something like this for people to fully realize the part individuals have played in helping to build up a community or area. This week we've heard remarks of how Mr. Greulach helped with community work in Mentone. Years ago, they say, he often forsook his own work to spend time on community projects.

Prior to coming to Mentone, Mr. Greulach spent four years at Convoy, Ohio and three years at Ohio City, or a total of 46 years in the elevator business.

COLORADO QUARTETTE TO APPEAR HERE AUG. 2

The Dixie Colored Quartette, of Indianapolis, will appear in Mentone on August 2nd, under the sponsorship of the Class of '51 of the Mentone high school.

Watch for further notice regarding this special attraction.

PLAN TO SPRAY CITY AGAIN

At a meeting of the Mentone Merchants Association, held Monday evening, it was decided to spray the city for flies, mosquitoes and other disease-carrying insects, as a possible preventive against polio.

The city has been sprayed in past years, and the Merchants' Association has assumed most of the cost of the project. However, as in times past, individual contributions will be appreciated. Anyone desiring to contribute may leave their contribution at the Farmers bank or any member of the committee: Ora McKinley, John Boggs or Leroy Cox.

DANGEROUS WORKING "DOWN ON THE FARM"

Farming moved up from fourth to third place in 1948 as the most dangerous way of making a living according to the latest National Safety Council statistics. The time lost as a result of accidents to farm residents in any typical year amounts to the time needed to plant, cultivate and harvest nearly one-half the annual average wheat crop in the U. S.

To help reduce the needless deaths and crippling injuries to farm residents, the President has declared the week of July 23-29 as National Farm Safety Week.

As part of its continuing advertising attack on traffic, child and farm accidents, the Advertising Council has issued a series of newspaper advertisements on the Farm Safety phase of its Stop Accidents campaign to dailies and weeklies for local sponsorship. Newspapers again will participate in the Farm Safety program during July to help cut down the accident rate among farm residents in their own communities.

Advertising promotion of the Stop Accidents campaign, conducted in cooperation with the National Safety Council, includes all major advertising media — newspapers, magazines, outdoor posters, car cards, radio and television. Since 1946, American Business and the advertising industry have contributed thousands of dollars worth of advertising space and radio time to safety messages through the facilities of the Council.

METHODIST CHURCH NEWS

A meeting of the Womans Society of Christian Service is planned for Thursday evening, July 20. This is in the form of a picnic and will be held at the residence of Mrs. Walter Lackey at seven o'clock. A program suitable for the outdoors will be presented.

Rev. David Gosser has been attending Institute at Lake Webster this week. He is assistant in crafts and handwork. Mrs. Gosser attended the meeting of the District's Ministers' wives on Wednesday at Epworth Forest. The Gosser family had dinner with the young people and Rev. and Mrs. Shucker from Avilla.

On Thursday the Gossers were guests at the Croxall Cottage where Katherine, the Librarian at South Bend, is vacationing.

District Council meetings were held during the week and programs for youth work in the district are in the making. These will be carried out during the year. One of the projects being planned is the use of sub-district youth evangelist teams which will be trained for spiritual visitation in local churches. This is not to be confused with the Fellowship teams that were active in this sub-district last year.

Checks overdrawing accounts are not customarily paid unless a bank is convinced that it is the result of an error on the part of the depositor, as banks are criticized by all Bank Supervisory Authorities for paying any overdrafts.

TOTAL$2,726,523.68

LIABILITIES

Total Liabilities comprise the Capital, Surplus, Undivided Profits, Unearned Interest, Deposits and all Other Liabilities of a Bank.

CAPITAL$ 75,000.00

SURPLUS 75,000.00

Surplus represents a part of the accumulated earnings which have been set aside into a special account over a period of more than one-half century for the protection of our depositors. These funds are not available for any other purpose without the consent of the State Banking Department.

UNDIVIDED PROFITS 65,984.63

Surplus and Undivided Profits together represent all accumulated earnings retained in the business as a Reserve against Losses and for the protection of our Depositors. During the 58 years of its operations this bank has consistently followed this policy. Today the Total Capital, Surplus and Undivided Profits amounting to $215,984.63 assures our Depositors of a high degree of safety, inasmuch as a loss in excess of $200,000.00, or an amount equivalent to 22% of all loans, would have to be sustained by the bank before any Depositor's funds would be jeopardized, whereas, our average net loss ratio on all loans during the twenty year period from 1928 to 1948, including the depression years of the early 30's, was only one-tenth of one per cent, in addition to which our present Investment and Lending Policy will permit us to pay 70% of all deposits without calling a single loan. While we are a Member of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, giving additional assurance to our depositors of the safety of their funds, we believe that our strong capital account and our past experience precludes all possibilities of our depositors ever having to resort to this insurance.

MOURNING DOVES DIEING FROM TRICHOMANIOSIS

Trichomaniosis is claiming the lives of thousands of mourning doves according to Carlton Herman, U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service Pathologist of the Patuxent Wildlife Research Refuge. This disease is caused by a microscopic animal which causes a canker like growth in the mouths of the infected birds. In its advanced stages the disease may affect the eyes and a swelling in the neck usually is evident. It is transmitted by birds eating food contaminated by diseased doves. However it is not infectious to humans.

Sportsmen in Indiana, finding birds showing the above symptoms should notify their Conservation Officer and the Division of Fish and Game, Indiana Department of Conservation.

Southern states have reported the disease on the increase and while no instance of its spread has as yet been found in this state, it is hoped that sportsmen will be on the look-out.

FIFTEEN YEARS YOUNG

By LARRY BELL

(The following is taken from an article written by Lawrence Bell in the Bell Aircraft News, in the issue heralding the Fifteenth birthday of the company he heads.)

A period of 15 years is not very long when compared to the age of the universe, but this same period is a long and important time in the lives of individuals, families and industrial enterprises.

On July 10, just 15 years ago, Bell Aircraft was born. It consisted mostly of an idea and the determination of a handful of men to save the jobs of several hundred aircraft workers.

The year was 1935, a depression year, and Consolidated Aircraft Corporation was in the process of moving its operations from Buffalo to San Diego, Calif. This move meant more unemployment at a time when jobs, any kind of jobs, were at a premium.

$150,000 in Capital Was Raised.

Bringing Bell Aircraft into the world was not achieved without the customary attendant birth pains. Yet, by the end of 1935, $150,000 in capital had been raised from various sources, we had approximately $35,000 in second-hand machinery and 56 employees on the payroll.

It was not exactly a fast start, but the important thing was—we were in business.

The first five years were difficult years, despite the fact that we brought out two revolutionary new military aircraft, the Airacuda and the Airacobra. Only a few experimental models were sold—and these at a loss.

Employment fluctuated and while we were trying to prove the merits of our products, the company was kept alive by subcontracts secured from other manufacturers.

Cooperative Spirit Defied Defeat.

There were times when the problems appear unsurmountable and there were some weeks when we didn't know whether we'd be able to meet the payroll. But we always managed to face the challenges, largely through the sheer will to do it plus a spirit of cooperation that defied defeat.

By the end of 1939, we began to see daylight and our first important order came from France in April, 1940, for 200 Airacobras. But by June, France had fallen to the Nazis and we faced another blank wall.

Britain took over the French orders, however, and almost immediately increased the contract to 810 Airacobras. In August, the United States Government purchased 723 of the same model and our employment climbed to 4300 by December, 1940.

But if we thought our first growing pains had been troublesome, the expansion due to World War II's demands on the aircraft industry soon changed our minds.

In the five years beginning with 1941, the emphasis was on production and more production. Bell Aircraft literally mushroomed in a hundred directions.

More of everything was required. Employees, tooling, machinery, floor space, warehouses doubled, tripled and then skyrocketed.

Employment in Buffalo and Niagara Falls, in Georgia, and in the Ordnance Division in Burlington reached 50,000, at the maximum.

On the Niagara Frontier, our peak was just under 36,000, but the turnover due to the demands of the Armed Forces and other emergencies was so great that by war's end one person out of every seven living in Western New York between the ages of 18 and 65 had been in our employ.

Production never faltered. We turned out 15,000 fighter planes; 663 B-29 Superfortresses, almost one a day; 400,000 machine gun mounts and still were able to push experimental work such as the XF-59, the country's first jet-propelled plane, and the XF-77, the first all-wooden fighter.

Even groundwork for the X-1 was begun in 1943, at the very height of the war, and by then we had also started our first helicopter development work.

Our efforts did not go unrecognized. In addition to the important contributions made by our products on the fighting fronts, our employees received the Army-Navy "E" Award for four successive years, as well as other distinctive honors.

The Daniel Guggenheim Medal for achievement in design and construction of military aircraft, as well as for production methods and achievements, also came to Bell and we became the first—and only—industry to be honored by award of the Chancellor's Medal by the University of Buffalo.

Bell X-1 Earns Collier Trophy

Later the X-1 was to bring the company added honors with the award of the coveted Collier Trophy, and, as we know now, this tiny, rugged plane of ours will be enshrined in the Smithsonian Institution in Washington, D. C., where also is our XF-59. I know of no other aircraft company which has the unusual distinction of two airplanes in the Smithsonian.

There are many other things for which we can be justly proud.

Our company has a world-wide reputation and our products have distinguished themselves in all corners of the earth.

Bell helicopters have operated in more than 30 countries in both the eastern and western hemispheres.

After V-J Day in August, 1945, almost all of the company's business was cancelled. In fact, the backlog of orders dropped from around $500,000,000 to about $5,000,000 in a matter of a few days and employment kept pace by decreasing to 1,700.

Fortunately, there soon was an upswing in commercial business which enabled us to absorb some employees who had been separated.

But the country was then at peace—or thought it was—and the aircraft industry as a whole suffered a terrific slump. We were again in the "peak-and-valley" transition so familiar to the industry. Profits disappeared and heavy losses were suffered by aircraft companies in 1946, 1947 and 1948.

The hope of permanent peace appeared to be shortlived and our government found it necessary to start increasing its defenses in 1949 and turned again to Bell Aircraft.

We're busy. Employment has grown to approximately 5,000 persons, but—and I feel this is important to consider—the nature of our work is now quite different from past years in our factory and in our engineering rooms and laboratories.

Emphasis is changing from aircraft to guided missiles and our company has a prominent role in this high-priority field. We have been preparing for just such an assignment for several years with projects very closely associated with guided missiles.

Furthermore, more stress on helicopters by the military is evident. It is well known that we pioneered the helicopter industry for 10 years. We have expended several millions of dollars to develop rotary-wing aircraft and now enjoy a most enviable position in this field.

Contract Reflects Bell Know-How

The fact that this company won the Anti-Submarine Helicopter competition held recently by the Navy is indicative that we have the design and know-how to handle important assignments. Our entry beat the best the industry could offer—10 companies entered 17 designs.

BELL "FIRSTS" IMPRESSIVE

Bell Aircraft's pioneering spirit, according to a feature article in the Bell Aircraft News (Ed.), has produced an impressive list of developmental "firsts." Here are some:

FIRST:

- Twin-engined escort fighter.
- Airplane to mount a 37 mm. aircraft cannon in flexible gun turrets.
- Modern multi-place fighter, establishing a new type for the Army Air Forces.
- American fighter airplane designed around its armament.
- Use of tricycle landing gear on modern military aircraft.
- Satisfactory .50 caliber machine gun shock dampener which became a standard for both Army and Navy.
- Modern all-wood military fighter.
- Helicopter with automatic stabilizing control.
- Jet-propelled fighter airplane in the United States.
- Commercial helicopter.
- Supersonic airplane.
- Commercial helicopter with 200-horsepower engine and skid landing gear.
- Motorized wheelbarrow.

CALIFORNIA PAPER LAUDSBELL FAMILY IN SPECIAL ISSUE

The July 8th issue of the Santa Monica (Calif.) Evening Outlook, has this to say about the Bell boys:

"Grover Bell, 27, landed an airplane in the front yard of his father's home here on Christmas Day, 1912.

"The young Santa Monica mechanic, who made the flight from Griffith Park to the Bell residence in 32 minutes, literally brought the air age with him when he arrived.

"It was a strange Christmas gift, both for his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac E. Bell, and for the town. Within less than a year it was destined to cost the Bells a son. It was destined at the same time to advance another son, Lawrence, to the foremost ranks of the world's aircraft designers.

"It helped, in the process, to establish Santa Monica's fame as one of the centers of the nation's aviation industry.

"One of a family of 10 children, Grover Bell came with his parents from Indiana in 1907 and worked as a mechanic at the Soldiers Home. Together with his young brother, Larry, he saw his first airplane flight at the Dominguez Airfield Show in 1910.

"He learned to fly from Glenn L. Martin in 1911 and bought a plane in 1912. July 5, 1913, he crashed at Petaluma in another plane while making an exhibition flight.

"If the story had ended there, it would have meant little in the history of flying. Other fledgling aviators were managing to take off and land from an airfield at Venice at about the same time. Barnstorming pilots of the early days followed a hazardous profession.

"But Bell's brother, Lawrence, 10 years his junior and just graduated from Santa Monica High School in 1913, picked up where Grover left off. He made the conquest of the air his life's work. He started as a mechanic for Glenn L. Martin and for Lincoln Beachey.

"His first big assignment came when Martin made him superintendent of his plant at 943 South Los Angeles St., Los Angeles. While there, he gave Donald Douglas his first job in aviation. Later, both went to Cleveland with Martin.

"Bell's progress through the years was impressive. After having been associated with various aircraft companies, he launched out on his own in 1935, founding the Bell Aircraft Co., at Buffalo, N. Y. Bell's jet plane was the first built in the United States. It has been assigned a place at the Smithsonian Institution beside the plane of the Wright Brothers—no small tribute to the genius of a former Santa Monica High School student. The list of his firsts in aviation is extensive.

Only two members of the Bell family are left in Santa Monica today. One is Vaughn Bell, who was five years younger than Grover and five years older than Larry. A specialist in personnel work, Vaughn Bell now lives with his wife at 810 20th Street. The stories he can tell about his brother's exploits in aviation would fill a book. 'It is almost beyond imagination, to tell what has occurred within our lifetime,' he says."

STRICKEN RELATIVE IN ROCHESTER HOSPITAL

O. C. Montgomery, of Talma, and the Zimmerman Bros. ambulance of Rochester, went to Chicago Friday morning where they met a train which brought back Walter Sweet, 70, from a hospital in Denver, Colorado.

Mr. Sweet, who is a brother-in-law of Mr. Montgomery, and whose home is in Long Beach, California, became critically ill eight weeks ago while enroute to Talma with Mr. Montgomery and Lavoy, for a visit. He was removed to a Denver hospital where he has been confined since that time. Mr. Sweet is a former resident of South Bend and has many friends throughout Rochester and vicinity. Mr. Montgomery stated that his brother-in-law has been removed to the Woodlawn hospital at Rochester, where his condition is serious.

SQUIRREL SEASON AUGUST 19 TO OCTOBER 17

Indiana hunters may start blazing away at Fox and Grey Squirrels on the morning of August 19 and may continue to do so until sundown as of October 17 according to a discretionary order signed July 12 by Kenneth M. Kunkel, Director of the Indiana Department of Conservation. Bag and possession limit is five.

Action on the matter came about following a public hearing on Discretionary Order No. 39 held Wednesday of last week in the office of the Director.

The Director of the Department of Conservation has the authority under the law to set dates for open seasons concerning the fish and wildlife of the state. Also he is empowered to order closed, a season on fish and game in the event technical advisors in the Department feel that such action should be taken. Public hearings are required by law and must be held in order that the sportsmen of the State may discuss such procedure in open meeting.

The decision as to when the squirrel season should open was arrived at after considerable deliberation among attaches of the Department of Conservation and biological experts attached to the Pittman-Robertson Wildlife Project. This year, it is believed, mother squirrels will have completed care of their offspring to such a degree that by the time the opening date is reached the future squirrel crop will not be damaged. The Department as well as sportsmen knows that oftentimes a nest because of the death of the mother and her young perishes in a which this is avoided the ranks of the squirrel. Thus by setting a date by means of which the little gamester will continue to build up as the newcomers begin to get about.

PLANS IN STATE SAFETY COUNCIL

The three thousand Hoosiers who die each year from accidents are equal in number to the approximate population of Batesville, Indiana. If a town of this size were wiped out every year, a hue and cry would certainly be raised and definite steps would be taken, but because these deaths occur in isolated and often under less spectacular circumstances, there is a tendency to overlook their seriousness.

Some of the most widely publicized disasters in American history rank far down the list when compared with Indiana's yearly accident toll. When the ill-fated Titanic sank after ramming an iceberg in 1912, there was a loss of 1,517 lives; the famous San Francisco fire and earthquake in 1906 killed only 452 and the Johnstown, Pennsylvania flood in 1889 claimed 2,209. In fact only one American disaster has ever taken more lives than Indiana's yearly accident scourge and that was the Galveston tidal wave in 1900 which destroyed 6,000.

Shocked by the seriousness of the situation, Governor Schricker has taken steps toward what he believes will offer at least a partial solution to our accident problem. The Governor has directed that a Governor's Safety Conference be held September 14 and 15 at the Murat Temple, Indianapolis. This conference, the first of its kind in Indiana, will attempt to reduce accidents by consolidating and coordinating the findings of the various safety agencies over the state. If this united safety front is successful in reaching its goal of a 20% accident reduction by 1952, it will mean the saving of at least 600 lives and will be a long stride forward in the fight to lessen this wanton destruction of lives and property at a time when the nation can ill afford to waste its strength and resources.

ALL 4-H'ERS GO IN FREE ON 4-H DAY AT CHICAGO FAIR

What promises to be one of the largest gatherings of 4-H Club boys and girls ever assembled in Chicago will celebrate 4-H Day at the Chicago Fair, Wednesday, July 26.

All 4-H'ers wearing 4-H uniforms, caps, patches, or other identification, will be admitted free. They are requested to enter the Fair at the 23rd Street entrance.

A special 4-H talent program has been arranged by the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work in cooperation with County Extension agents and Extension specialists in music in Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Michigan, Ohio and Wisconsin.

First on the day's program will be a parade of all the visiting 4-H'ers, headed by the Jackson county, Michigan, 4-H band of 40 pieces, from the south gate of the Fair to the Central Special Events Stage, starting at 12:30 p. m.

At the Central Stage, starting at 1 p. m., a 4-H Talent program will be held, which will include instrumentalists, soloists, duets, trios, quartettes, square dance teams.

Among the program's features will be a 15 piece 4-H orchestra from Holland, Michigan, which will play popular numbers, as well as furnish accompaniments for the individual and group participants. Also from Michigan, a girl marimba player, a girl baton twirler, and a boy accordionist, from Branch county, and a boy harmonica player, vocalist, and a square dance team from Cass county, are scheduled to appear on the program.

The Junior Leaders 4-H Club in Van Wert, Ohio, has entered a "barbershop quartette."

Iowa counties will be represented by a bass baritone, a contralto, 14-year old blind boy accordionist, and a cornetist. 4-H talent from Illinois, Indiana and Wisconsin also will take part in the program.

CONSERVATION NOW ON 4-H AWARDS PROGRAMS

Two highly important national 4-H awards programs -- Meat Animal, and Soil and Water Conservation -- have been accepted by the Indiana State Club office for the current year.

This is the 21st consecutive year that Thos. E. Wilson, meat packer and chairman of the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work, has provided incentives to help encourage 4-H boys and girls in livestock club work. Awards in the Meat Animal activity include gold-filled medals, gold watches, Chicago 4-H Club Congress trips and $300 college scholarships, on county, state, sectional and national levels, respectively.

The Soil and Water Conservation program is now set up for two age groups—one for boys and girls 15 to 21 years old, and the other for those 10 to 14, inclusive. The older group is required to complete a more comprehensive project.

Medals for county winners, and gold watches and $25 Savings Bonds for State champions are provided by Firestone Tire and Rubber Company. Sectional winners get Chicago Club Congress trips. National awards are $300 college scholarships. This revised program is the result of combined planning by representatives of the Cooperative Extension Service, Soil Conservation Service, Firestone and the National Committee.

Jimmy Mohr, of Evansville, Vanderburg county, won both state and national honors in the Soil Conservation project last year. C. Joseph Murphey, of Indianapolis was the State champion in Meat Animal.

Complete information on these programs may be obtained from County Extension agents.

MENTONE MURMURS

DAVID and SALLY GOSSER

Murmurs happened in on the Pioneer Trails Council Scout Camp, which is between North Webster and Cromwell, Wednesday morning of last week after the little shower of Tuesday evening. Cots, blankets and clothing were being aired and dried on clothes lines, tent lines, and on the ground. It seems that some of the boys had difficulty in keeping their tents up during the shower. Those whose guy lines were too loose found their tents at the mercy of the wind, while those whose lines were too taut found that the tent and rope shrinkage pulled the stakes out and let the tents down on their beds.

The unfortunates, however, were adequately cared for at the dining hall where a surplus supply of litters and blankets provided dry bedding for the night; and the bright sunlight of Wednesday morning aroused the spirits of the boys so that they were equal to any of the activities of the day. When Murmurs drove upon the scene, the boys were boating, and engaged in scout craft. The blow that leveled several farm buildings near Plymouth missed both the Scout Camp and the Mentone community.

Murmurs is not a pessimist at heart (he hopes), but the prevalence of local storms and the threat of the international situation should warrant the consideration of all citizens. Are we prepared physically, mentally and spiritually for any eventuality?

We have a fairly effective fire company for a rural community. We make a nice appearance on the map with our highway routes and railroad. We live near enough to the lakes and river to provide a location for those who enjoy the hobby of fishing (whether it is profitable or not is another question), swimming and boating. In all, we are a nice community. We like to pat ourselves on the back and think we are the best, but in our thinking are we sure of what we would do in an emergency?

Murmurs is not borrowing trouble, but if he can provoke a little thought toward preparedness at home, he gains his point.

RATTLESNAKES IN MENTONE?

Tuesday afternoon Roy Meredith parked his vehicle across from the Co-Op. Hardware and when he returned he saw a small snake on the pavement. A few kicks took the wiggler out of the little rascal and he then took it into the hardware to show it to the other boys. Indications were it was a rattle snake with one button at the rattle end.

Now if this was a rattler—and there are supposed to be some in this area—one can guess that there is a mamma and papa rattler and some eighteen or twenty eighteen-inchers around somewhere close. The little fellow might have hitched a ride into town on a hay baler or load of hay, but it would be advisable to give most snakes plenty of room until you are sure of their nationality.

GROSSMAN-MILLER WEDDING HELD AT TIPPECANOE CHURCH

The beautifully decorated altar of the Tippecanoe Congregational Christian church provided the background for the marriage of Delores Ionia Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orran (Buddy) Miller of Tippecanoe, and Dale Eugene Grossman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Grossman, Sr., of R. 2, Bourbon, which took place Sunday, July 23, at 2:30 p. m. The Rev. Lee Jenkins of Lake Odessa, Michigan, performed the impressive double ring ceremony before the altar decorated with palms, lighted candelabra and baskets of mixed gladioli.

Mrs. Robert Wall, pianist, presented a prelude of traditional wedding music before the ceremony, including, "Thine Alone" and "Ah Sweet Mystery of Life."

The Rev. Robert Wall of Inwood, accompanied by Mrs. Wall, sang "Al-ways," "I Love You Truly" and "God Gave Me You."

The lovely bride wore a gown of white slipper satin fashioned with a sweetheart neckline edged in seed pearls, the fitted bodice dipped to a point at the waist and the long sleeves formed bridal points over her hands. The full pleated skirt ended in a long train. Her fingertip veil was edged in Chantilly lace and fell from a tiara of seed pearls. She wore a single strand of pearls, a gift of the groom, and carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses.

Lillie Kauffman, as maid of honor, wore a gown of yellow taffeta with a net overskirt and a net yoke. She wore a yellow shoulder length veil held in place with a coronet of white daisies and carried a spray of white gladioli. Mrs. Dale Warren was bridesmaid and wore a gown of light blue organdy styled with a square neckline edged in lace and a fitted mid-drift. Her shoulder length veil of blue was also held in place with white daisies and carried a spray of pink gladioli.

Diane Grossman, niece of the groom, and Nilas Lee Miller, nephew of the bride, served as ring bearers and carried the rings on white satin heart shaped pillows. Diane wore a floor length gown of light green taffeta with a wide ruffle at the bottom of the skirt. Her shoulder length veil was of light green with a coronet of white

IN MEMORY OF OUR FATHER,

Vernon Jones, who left us July 27, one year ago:

We did not know death was so near, But he heard the summons loud and clear:

Father, come home, your life here is o'er,

You are needed on the other shore. His busy hands are now at rest, Folded serenely on his breast, The laughing voice we hear no more; His place no one can ever fill.

We miss him at our meetings now; God being our helper, to His will we bow.

Trumpeter Swan

Largest of North American wildfowl is the trumpeter swan. On wings spanning eight feet it takes off into the wind with great effort like a loaded seaplane. Once plentiful in a wide range, it was thought to have been extinguished by hunters 50 years ago. It has slowly been restored to a present count of 1,500 on the lakes of Montana, Wyoming, and adjacent Canada.

LEGION AUXILIARY NEWS

Guests at the July 25 meeting of the Mentone Unit No. 425, the American Legion Auxiliary, held Tuesday evening at the Legion Home, were Madeleine Holt who gave a very interesting report of Girls' State which she attended on the Indiana University Campus June 14 to 22, and her two alternates, Jody Cullum and Bonnie Emmons. We were again honored to have as our guest, Mrs. Evans, of Iowa.

In the regular order of business conducted by the president, Mrs. Robert Whetstone, the unit voted to purchase one bed rest for community use. Mrs. Mervin Jones, Community Service chairman, will have charge of the hospital equipment to be used in the community. At present the only available equipment maintained by the unit, is an invalid-walker which has been in constant use.

The name drawn for the attendance prize was Mrs. Donald VanGilder.

The next meeting will be August 8. We will meet at the Legion Home at 6:30.

KRANNERT ANNOUNCES DAIRY SHOW STATUS

Herman C. Krannert, president of the International Dairy Exposition, an-nounces that the national and local response to plans for backing the second annual show to be held at the State Fair Grounds October 7-14, has been excellent and indicated that the show is going along as scheduled. Over sixty leading national companies with interests in dairying and associated fields have taken sixty per cent of the space for the Food Festival and the Dairy Farm Equipment and Supply Show. In addition, Mr. Krannert stated that the half way mark has been reached in the request for funds.

The Women's National Advisory Committee, headed by Mrs. Wendell L. Willkie, now consists of 23 mem-bers including home economists from ten national food companies, food editors from four leading publications and other representatives from wom-en's organizations throughout the country. This committee, now in the process of formation, is helping in the planning of a program dedicated to the American youth, on the farm and in the urban communities. They are coordinating plans to inform home-makers of the dietary and nutritive value of using more dairy products in family meal planning.

Oscar A. Swank, executive vice presi-dent of the exposition, stated that the most significant truck show in the country for agriculturists, would be held in the Manufacturers' building throughout the eight days of the show. Representation includes International Harvester, Ford, Chevrolet, Dodge, General Motors and Studebaker, or approximately ninety-five percent of the nation's truck manufacturers. This exhibit will be one of the most com-plete truck shows ever to be held and should set the pace for expansion of plans for the second annual show.

Eye Casualties

Latest estimates indicate that about 100 industrial workers in this country are blinded by eye injuries, while 1,000 others lose the sight of one eye.

Cotton Insects

Early efforts against cotton insects included such primitive methods as carrying torches through the field at night and building fires around the borders of fields. Paris green and London purple proved of some value against several insects, but the coming of the boll weevil in the 1890's led to active research and experimentation.

Telescopic Spectacles

Even people with extremely sub-normal eyesight can now be visually rehabilitated through the medium of telescopic spectacles. While these restrict the field of vision, they magnify the retinal image and in many cases spell the difference between normal, constructive lives and virtual blindness.

Your Paper
Censorship
Is Dangerous

By William R. Nelson

CENSORSHIP is an action Americans resist so aggressively it has not even been imposed by law in time of war. Whenever some misguided attempt is made, whether against press, movies or radio, it is quickly squelched by aroused public opinion. Yet there are other attempts which fail only because of the knowledge, tact or courage of a home town newspaper editor.

Every newspaper has frequently to resist minor efforts at censorship. They are resisted because editors know that a minor success today can become a major one tomorrow.

Danger Is Inherent

Strangely enough, very few who participate in these minor instances fully realize what they are doing. Having the best of intentions, they fail to see the danger inherent in their actions.

Whenever a "request" is made that a newspaper omit facts concerning a public matter, censorship is being attempted.

Even a spat between neighbors becomes a matter in which the public is entitled to the facts, if the services of police or a court are required. Police and courts belong to the public which authorizes and pays for them, and how their services are employed is of concern to the public.

There are instances, of course, where private rights outweigh those of the public, and the editor is justified in suppressing such news. There are other instances, also, where good taste may dictate that an item be omitted. But, whatever the fine points involved, it is the editor's judgement which should prevail.

Honesty
Coercion?

Newspaper editors do not resent honestly intended requests to overlook incidents where there is doubt that the public interest outweighs the private rights. They do resent them if accompanied by coercion in whatever form.

The editor is expert in such matters as public right to news. He is the best judge of whether or not public interests outweigh those of individuals or organizations involved. His judgement should be accepted without resentment. Censorship is a dangerous force, too dangerous to set in motion, no matter how innocently it may be employed.

SENTENCED FOR CAR THEFT

Maurice Paxton, 39, was sentenced one to ten years by Judge Sloane on Wednesday on a charge of vehicle taking. Sunday Paxton took an auto belonging to Leonard Boganwright. The car was left at the O. B. Deaton home while the two families took a trip in the Deaton auto. When they returned, the auto and Paxton, who worked at the Deaton farm, were missing. Both were located in Mishawaka. Paxton was on parole from a similar sentence for grand larceny, and the two sentences are to run concurrently.

How Paper Protects

Special coatings on papers protect them from dirt, moisture, perspiration, oils and greases. Wallpapers are made washable with specially formulated finishes. Food wrappings are coated to retard the entrance or loss of moisture and other vapors—also to prevent the entrance of disease germs and fungi that may cause spoilage or mold.

Canned Fish

Usually the bones in a can of fish are so softened by the canning process that they can be mashed right in with the meat, thereby adding useful calcium and phosphorus to the diet.

REPORT FROM GIRLS' STATE

The following letter, addressed to the Mentone Legion Auxiliary, gives Madeleine Holt's experiences at Girls' State. They are our citizens of tomorrow. Next year, Mrs. Guido Shirey, Girls' State chairman, stated that we hope to send more girls from the community.

Dear Friends:

I wish to thank each and everyone of you who have made my visit to Girls' State possible. It was truly the most exciting and wonderful nine days of my life.

We who attended Girls' State came from all over Indiana. From points some of us had never heard of before, but by the last day, none of Indiana was foreign to us. You see, an East Chicago girl roomed with a Carmel girl and attended classes with girls from Plymouth, Muncie and Indianapolis. I don't think we could have gotten a better sixteen-year-old's view of these towns and counties if we had seen them ourselves.

Our first day consisted mostly of getting our room assignments and unpacking. We were each assigned to a political party and to a city. The political party which I was assigned to was the Nationalist, and I came from Downey City in Haymond County. Along about five o'clock of that first day we held city meetings with our two counsellors. Mrs. Peg Barr from Rochester was our government counsellor and Mrs. Madeleine Trask of Michigan City, our social counsellor. They were both wonderful women and I shall always remember them, not only for their assistance, but for the roaring good times we had with them at parties and such. Dinner was at six and very welcome to all of us. We had city meetings after dinner to elect city chairmen and registration for voting. Taps were sounded at ten and there was no trouble in getting the girls to bed. Most of the girls had traveled several hundred miles that day and were, shall I say, "dead."

If we thought our first day was rushed and tough we didn't have words for the second. At six-thirty we heard that dream shattering noise—reveille. Because of the rain we didn't have flag raising or morning exercises, but went straight to breakfast. I wish to say here that our meals were wonderful. No one left the dining room hungry, in fact, several girls suffered from over-eating. Just in case we did become hungry, candy bars were sold in the main lounge and each wing of the dorms. had its own coke machine. While we were filing for primary elections our rooms were inspected and reported on by our social counsellor. At ten o'clock we assembled in the main lounge where we had as our guest, the American Legion's First Citizen, and Indiana's own National Commander of the American Legion, Geo. N. Craig. He gave us a very inspiring speech on our government and the American Democracy. It was at this meeting also that we met Mrs. Eva Brown. I shall be ever thankful and proud of having met these truly great people. We had lunch at twelve and filed for the primary immediately afterwards. A party Caucus was held at three and polling places were announced. Poll books were put in order and campaigning began. Every girl had put her name down for some office and was making posters until dinner that afternoon. At eight we began voting in the primary. I was one of the more fortunate. I had filed for representative and gotten my name on the general ballot. We had a party caucus at ten that evening so you can see we didn't get to bed at our appointed hour that evening. (As if we did any evening except the first!)

Friday, June sixteenth, followed the regular schedule rather closely. We had our daily city meetings and meals. We had a very important party convention about nine, however. We formed our platform, rules, and political music. (To the tune of "Music, Music, Music" and "Whoop-di-do.") About four in the afternoon we practiced voting on electric voting machines. They are really fascinating machines. At six we had our political party rallies, and believe me they were really wild. As you may know for the past several years the Feds. have won the elections at Girls' State. Well, our motto for the Nationalist Party was, "It's Time for a Change." We all wore small paper diapers pinned to our dresses during the days, but the night of the rallies, we all wore white shirts and the bottom sheet of our bed as a diaper. Shirley Sermersheim, our candidate for governor, carried a large plastic stork. Both parties had bands and songs to march to. Again we overran our schedule for taps but about eleven we were sent scurrying to our dorms. by a big thunder cloud.

The fourth day was spent in general election voting. The Federalists just about took the election except for the office of governor. We managed to elect our beloved Shirley for governor, however.

Sunday was spent in Mass and Church. We had our rehearsal for inauguration in the University auditorium until dinner. Between two and four we held our inauguration. The band played and the chorus sang for the special music. The ceremony was very impressive and I am sure not a girl escaped a few tears. The rest of the afternoon was free time. Many of us had visitors and were allowed to leave the campus for the rest of the day. We all gathered back at the dining room, of course, at eight-thirty for our general meeting with Mrs. Brown. Our speakers for the evening were Mrs. Frank Morris, department president; Boys' State Governor Homer McDaniel, Department American Legion Commander, and the Honorable James Nolan, member of Congress.

We spent most of Monday visiting the House of Representatives and the Senate in the free time. The day was mostly concerned with the passing of bills.

Tuesday we were to have a picnic lunch at Brown County State Park. Due, however, to the rain, we had our lunch in the dining room and then journeyed to the park by bus. Even though the day was very chilly, a few of us swam in the park's beautiful pool. I must admit I got a bad case of the sniffles from it, but I think I would do the same thing again if I had the chance.

We spent Wednesday practicing our city's stunts. That evening we gave them, and strange as it seems our city won the five dollar first prize, which we donated to Mrs. Brown to help better Girls' State. I don't know why we did because I don't think that Girls' State can be any better than it already is. Our city gave a Julius Caesar pantomime, in which I played the part of Caesar. We all wore our beloved bottom sheets again. This time as robes and togas. We ended our last night at Girls' State in a large party with our counsellors. We had had coke parties every night but this last was the outstanding. We sang, danced, and ate doughnuts, popcorn, and drank root beer. It was at this party that I realized how much Girls' State would mean to me the rest of my life. I shall always remember the good times I had there. Not only the parties but the government classes we attended. Yes, that's what our city meetings and party caucuses were. We learned about our government by being a part of it.

Early Tuesday morning we left the university campus. There were tears and promises to write from everyone. I thought when I left the other girls that they would be gone from me forever, but now I realize that as I grow older I shall walk down the street sometimes and there I shall meet faces that ring a bell in me, and suddenly I shall remember 1950 Girls' State.

I just can't find words to express how grateful I am to all of you who have made this great experience possible for me. All I can do is to thank you from the bottom of my heart and hope you can realize how I feel.

Sincerely,

MADELEINE M. HOLT.

HEALTH FACTS FROM YOUR STATE BOARD OF HEALTH

"Cleanliness plays a big part in the control of poliomyelitis," Dr. George M. Brother, director, Bureau of Preventive Medicine, Indiana State Board of Health, states.

"Despite lack of definite knowledge about the causes of poliomyelitis, national authorities in the polio prevention field are agreed that cleanliness is one of the precautions which offers reasonable protection against the dreaded disease."

Dr. Brother pointed out that while medical opinion is divided as to whether the polio virus enters the system through the intestinal tract or the respiratory tract, it is clear that careful attention to personal hygiene affords important protection in either case.

He cited the United States Public Health Service, which urges parents to "encourage more frequent and more thorough hand washings in your family; make sure the hands are washed immediately before handling food and always after going to the toilet."

The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis says, "We should teach children and youth to wash their hands before eating, after the toilet, and when the hands have been soiled by either oral or nasal discharges; and to do it with the same care and conscientiousness that have proved so effective in helping physicians, dentists, nurses to avoid spreading infection from the sick to the well."

COUNTRY NEIGHBORS MEET

The Country Neighbors Home Economics club met at the home of Mrs. Henry Konneck with Mrs. George Craig as assisting hostess. Mrs. Clarence Pfeiffer gave the history of the song of the month. Using the 24th Psalm and a poem entitled, "My America," Mrs. Della Shock gave the meditation.

Each member responded to roll call by giving her favorite one-dish meal recipe for busy days.

The president, Mrs. Leroy Norris, presided during the business session.

The attendance contest which had been dropped the first six months of the year, went into effect again, beginning this month. Much enthusiasm was shown and all but one member was present.

Mrs. Roy Maxwell and Mrs. Frank Meredith were entertainment leaders. Prizes were won by Mrs. Nadine Shriver and Mrs. Wm. Rathbun. Two educational films were shown at this time by Mrs. Shriver.

During the social hour mystery gifts were received and delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses, using our new plastic picnic plates and cups. They are to be used by each hostess.

There were 24 members, two guests and several children present. Plans were made for an auction at our August meeting at the home of Mrs. Wm. Rathbun.

GROSSMAN-MILLER WEDDING—

daisies and wore a shoulder corsage of pink carnations.

Betty Louise Miller, niece of the bride, wore a floor length gown of gold satin with a wide ruffle at the bottom of the skirt. Her shoulder length veil fell from a coronet of daisies and she wore a corsage of pink carnations. She carried a basket trimmed with pink satin and tulle with satin streamers falling from it. She preceded the bride down the aisle scattering rose petals in her path.

Loren Carswell of Argos, attended the groom as best man and Glen Roberts, of Argos, served as groomsman. Ushers were Wayne Grossman, Jr., of Argos, Gordon Miller of Bourbon, Welcome Miller of Plymouth and Bruce Robinson of Tippecanoe.

Mrs. Miller, mother of the bride, chose for her daughter's wedding, an orchid dress of French crepe with white accessories. Mrs. Grossman, mother of the groom, was attired in a dress of aqua floral print with white accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of yellow roses.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception for 200 guests was held in the church basement. The table, which was beautifully appointed in white carrying out the color scheme of yellow, blue and white, was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom and decorated with pink rosebuds. Lighted candles in crystal candle holders were at each end of the table. Mints and personalized ice cream with the bride and groom's names on were served with the cake by Mrs. Wayne Grossman, Jr., Mrs. Welcome Miller, Mrs. Gordon Miller, Mrs. Robert Lewallen and Martha Lewallen.

For her going away ensemble the bride chose a two-piece dress of gray and white striped cord, with red accessories and she wore a corsage of American Beauty roses.

They left immediately on a short wedding trip to Chicago and upon completion of their apartment they will reside in Inwood.

The bride is a graduate of Tippecanoe High School with the class of '49. The groom graduated in '49 from the Lincoln High School in Plymouth, is employed at the Inwood Elevator and is engaged in farming.

Out of town guests were present from Lake Odessa, Mich., South Bend, Argos, Bourbon, Plymouth, Kewanna, Silver Lake, Indianapolis, Fort Wayne, Claypool, Piercetown, Roann, Akron, Winona Lake, Lakeville and Inwood.
