The bride was attired in a nylon marquisette dress of light blue, with rhinestone button trimming. Her hat was of navy blue and she wore a corsage of red roses.

Mrs. Robert Kale, sister of the bridegroom, was the matron of honor. She wore a suit of blue and white check and a white hat. Her corsage was of red roses, also.

Mr. Robert Kale served as best man. The newlyweds left for a short trip through southern Indiana following the ceremony.

"MISS MENTONE" RUNS

CLOSE FOURTH

Miss Geneva Whetstone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cassel Whetstone, and Mentone's entrant in the Webster Mermaid Beauty contest came very close to being a winner in this contest last Friday evening.

Geneva was among the 10 finalists and placed fourth in the final competition. Mentone is very proud of Geneva and most of us have a personal opinion that she should have been among the top three winners.

Miss Betty Bray, of Milford, was chosen the 1951 Queen and Nancy Cox of Warsaw and Jonella Miller of Pleasant Lake were the attendants.

Rita Lockridge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lockridge of Beaver Dam was crowned junior queen on Wednesday evening and served as one of the three junior attendants at the crowning of the queen on Saturday evening.

The Mentone American Legion won the honor of being the best military marching unit at the festival.

MRS. JOHN FENSTERMAKER
DIES TUESDAY AFTERNOON

Mrs. John Fenstermaker, aged 69, passed away quietly at her home north of Mentone at 5:35 Tuesday afternoon after a severe illness of a day. She had been ill for over a year following a stroke. It was believed a second stroke occurred Monday evening causing her death.

Mrs. Fenstermaker, born March 4, 1882, was the mother of four children: Mrs. Raymon Hilschman and Elmore Fenstermaker of Mentone, and Herschel Fenstermaker of Akron, and Walter Fenstermaker who died in 1941.

The body was removed to the Johns funeral home and tentative funeral arrangements are that the services will be held at the Methodist church Thursday afternoon at two o'clock.

A complete obituary will appear in our next issue.

WE OPEN OUR MAIL

They say an editor's job is to keep things out of a newspaper—not necessarily to put something in—and judging by the flood of mail we must wade through each week, the above statement increases in importance. Here's just a portion of the firms that sent us "advertising" material since last Thursday. Every piece has been compiled by a well-paid executive or official with the belief—or hope—that editors will use the material and their firm or product will receive the benefit of "free" advertising.

The American Bakers Association of Chicago gives us a story on "How the bakery dollar is divided." Ingredients total 36.9c, which would indicate that if everything was given to them, labor, distribution, taxes, profits and overhead would still make a loaf of bread cost us about 12c.

Bess Williams, New York, has a very lengthy story on the "Tide Washing Clinic," which is a story of teen-agers, what they like—and dislike, but diplomatically woven in is a plug for a certain soap substitute. This job nicely done in two colors of ink.

The Gaines Dog Research Center has an interesting feature on dogs, presumably biscuit fed.

The St. Louis Cardinals send enough for a column or so on their tryout camp.

The American Petroleum Institute, N. Y., has several printed pages of pertinent news notes with a couple of neat columns by Roberta Lee on "Oil in a Woman's World."

The American Iron & Steel Institute

wants a free story on selling your scrap iron.

Harry Ferguson, Inc., has three big pages about how his tractors are going to entertain fair-goers everywhere—if the dealer pays the "freight."

The Indiana State Police, Indiana State Employment Service, Board of Temperance, State Board of Health, Conservation Department, Board of Missions and Church Extension and Northern Indiana Public Service Company also had certain "news" stories we could use, thank you.

Shippers Dispatch, Inc., South Bend, sends us a lot of information for background about old John McAdam and how to build roads so trucks won't tear them to pieces. (It didn't say so, but that was likely the "public opinion" point it was desired to change.)

The Fisher Body Craftsman's Guild would like a story about their big contest, with "Fisher" capitalized.

The DA Syndicate, Chicago, has a few "newsy" pictures of a ceiling price meeting in a certain restaurant and the president of a certain firm. Others in their mailing mentioned certain special types of gas range burners, home heating units, furniture polish and always to take your car to a certain named auto dealer to service your car before a vacation trip. This one isn't particular and goes in for mass production.

The Automobile Mfg. Ass'n uses 8 printed pages to enlighten us on the industry.

The Lakes Carriers' Ass'n. has a big booklet on the freight business on the Great Lakes, including development of the new iron ore field in Labrador.

The Seventh Army, in Germany, gives us a little "selling" job on their unit.

"Family Features," Nashville, wants us to run a regular weekly column on how to handle your youngsters. Can't tell whether the guy's selling books, medicines or correspondence courses.

The National Lumber Mfrs. Ass'n., Washington, D. C., tells how big their industry is, how much more cellulose you can get to the acre from trees than you can from cotton, and how a wooden Buddhist temple built in Japan in 739 A. D. still stands. (Probably a little cross-legged like Buddha himself.)

Old doc So-and-So tells us how to have healthy chicks in his "Chick Chat" column, but it's highly medicated.

Another big medical laboratory has a startling story on a new drug that makes childbirth safer. Marriage is a wonderful thing and no family should be without it.

The Office of Price Stabilization uses up five big pages introducing us to their various new administrators, their families, education, etc. It's nice to know the kind of people that are living off our tax money. Many of them couldn't make a business of their own make a living for them.

The National Adequate Wiring Bureau hopes we'll use their feature that might scare a few of us into buying better electrical equipment.

G. M. Basford Co., N. Y. would like a feature story on their new damping device, which, I calculate, a handy gadget to tell the moisture content of grains. Maybe gallons in a load of corn or rye.

The National Board of Fire Underwriters has a four-page selling piece on fire insurance, etcetera.

The SC Syndicate, Chicago, doesn't cover up anything. They just tell the readers to send a buck for a box of handy bolts. Not even a commission for the editor.

The Chicago Board of Trade uses a lot of paper and ink to say "there's no gambling there."

The National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work, Inc., Lions Club, U. S. Civil Service Commission, Post Office Dept., and sundry others have a lot of free information, not to mention the other "special offers" that you just can't afford to pass up.

There's one redeeming factor in the whole mess—it helps the Boy Scouts out on their paper drive.

4-H'ERS HELP TRANSFORM FARM LANDSCAPES TO CONSERVE SOIL

American farm landscapes are being transformed from straight-rowed cornfields and checkerboards of other grains to graceful curves, strips and "steps."

The transformation is not for scenic effect, but for contour farming, strip-cropping and terracing to conserve valuable topsoil and water for present and future production of food and fiber on farms throughout the nation.

Assisting in this vital work are thousands of 4-H Club members who receive training in the National 4-H Soil and Water Conservation program, directed by the Cooperative Extension Service in this and 44 other states. It is estimated that since the program's inception in 1944, the 4-H'ers have helped apply conservation practices on more than 1,400,000 acres of farm lands to stop erosion.

Rewards for outstanding records of achievement in this program include merit medals for county winners; wrist watches for state finalists over 14 years of age, and $25 U. S. Savings Bonds for those under 14. Educational trips to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago next November are also provided by Firestone for 16 sectional winners, eight of whom will be selected for national awards of $300 college scholarships.

County Extension Agents will furnish full information regarding this program.

COUNTER-ATTACK

At the time of buying my last car (when was that, anyhow!) I had to hang around the sales-manager's office for a few minutes while he scampers hither and yon to gather up the papers which I had to sign. I sat in his chair in the meantime. Under the plate glass on his desk I saw a printed notice which struck me as being opportune for certain occasions. I copied it quickly in a little loose-leaf notebook. Shortly thereafter the notebook was discarded as being too great a nuisance in that it bulged a pocket all the time. Yesterday, I came upon the notebook again—and the notation which I had made. Recalling two incidents of the past week, I could see another application of the notice under the plate glass. Here is the notice:

When solicited by phone, say this:

"I'm sorry, but we do not make pledges or purchases until we have complete information. Will you please mail us a letter setting out all details of your proposition, giving us your name, address, and telephone number. If the facts presented justify our support, and our budget permits, we will notify you. (This is all the phone solicitor needs to know. Don't let him waste your time.)"

The telephone directory is looked upon by enterprising peddlers as being a list of prospects. They figure that all one has to do is to call a number and start talking. Whether you are being interrupted doesn't matter. You've got to answer the phone; you've got to listen. He knows who you are and where you are, but he is a stranger to you. He'll rattle off his name, his connection and his angle, but there's not time enough for it to sink in before he launches a prepared presentation or appeal. And then a decision is asked for—right on the spot. Well, why not read that little piece to him?

Twice during the past week I was annoyed by slick door-to-door canvassers who, with their new approach, had me baffled. I couldn't tell right off what the game was. One worked on my sympathy, the other on my curiosity, but in the end both had a triviality to sell at a big price which, in one case, I grudgingly paid. I am wondering what would have happened if I had had a pad and pencil handy and had asked them at the start: "Your name, please?" (Making a note of it.) "Your address? Name of employer? How long have you lived in the city? Married? New, what is it you have to sell?"

Asking for data from unknown solicitors would steal the offensive and put them on the spot. Their approach is always a catch-as-catch-can affair. They can take rebuffs. But, can they take the questions? The notations made earnestly in their presence might disconcert them and start them on the run. I'm going to try it next time . . . if I can remember.

TYPEWRITER FINGERS ON A DETOUR

By ART CULLUM

WE CAN COUNT ON OUR FINGERS NOW.

The celebration of Independence Day has seen a lot of changes since the days when granddad twisted his mustache to wring the tobacco juice out of it.

Like the modern pay check—a lot of things have been taken out.

Back in "the good old days"—when the kids didn't run around with the dogs—July 4 was a mangled affair, in more ways than one.

You always had to start the day with a case of dynamite, and carbide was higher priced than a bottle of home cooked giggle syrup in the pre-Rooseveltian era.

Two anvils always happened to be handy whenever they saluted the Stars and Stripes back in the days when the well-dressed female went around with her "feathers" spread like a turkey gobble just before Thanksgiving. It took a lot of baling wire to run a dress shop in those days.

Yep, two anvils, a metal ring and a little gunpowder made a real firecracker—and when the metal ring blew out it was a good idea to be out back of the sun parlor.

Some 12 years ago it got so nobody could afford firecrackers anymore, so they passed a law and took the personal liberty away from the kids.

Now, it seems, most of the youngsters have all the fingers on their hands and two eyes left. It's the present-day Independent look—and they can learn to count up to 10.

Aid to Explorers

Rescue work in a helicopter forte. Notable was the one in 1945 when a U. Helicopters have become standard eyes of fleets operating in ice-choked waters.

COUNTRY NEIGHBORS MEET

The Country Neighbors Home Economics Club met at the home of Mrs. George Craig with Mrs. Richard Notz as co-hostess.

The meeting was opened with the group singing "America" followed by the pledge to the flag. Mrs. LeRoy Norris read from Proverbs, 31st chapter, starting with the 10th verse for devotions.

The group then sang the song of the month, "My Old Kentucky Home," and also "Mocking Bird Hill."

During the business meeting it was voted to give $40 to the Fulton County Fair Association to help build sanitary rest rooms at the fairgrounds.

Mrs. Howard Chamberlin was welcomed into our club as a new member.

It was decided to have a picnic in July for our children. Mrs. Craig of Akron and Mrs. Robert Norris were guests.

Mrs. Isabelle Peterson then gave the lesson on insect control. Many of us learned of several new sprays on the market and also about our common insect pests of today.

High bidders at auction were Mesdames LeRoy Norris, Sam Norris, James Richardson and Jake Gross. Secret pal gifts were received.

Clean Pastures

When sharp hardware swallowed by cows pierces the stomach wall milk flow drops abruptly. The condition, known as acute traumatic gastritis, often cuts milk production as much as 90 per cent within 12 to 24 hours and is a frequent cause of death. Surgery, involving removal of the piercing object, will save the animal if performed in time. But the easiest way to deal with the problem is to prevent it—by keeping pieces of metal and other sharp objects out of the feed and out of pastures.

Belief that pigs with short noses are more susceptible to "sneezing disease" than long-nosed breeds appears to have no foundation, according to a report from the Ontario veterinary college in Canada. Poor sanitation in hog lots is said to be an important factor in its spread.

For your future and mine

It pays to grow trees! Cash wood crops from a well-managed woodlot can send a son or daughter through college, pay off the mortgage or provide the lumber for a new house. Tree Farmers all across America are growing, protecting and harvesting repeated cash crop of wood because it's good business.

FRINGE DRINKER A MENACE

The "fringe" drinker, whose alcoholic load is not plainly apparent, is the greater menace to motor travel than marathon imbibers Sloppy Joe.

This is the opinion of Lt. Robert F. Borkenstein, director of the Indiana State Police laboratory, who describes the "fringe" drinker as "the fellow who hasn't absorbed enough alcohol to show the usual symptoms of drunkenness, but whose ability as a driver has deteriorated to the danger point."

"Until public opinion is aroused against this type of drinker, as opposed to the accepted picture of the falling-down drunk, street and highway collisions will continue to take their tragic toll," Lt. Borkenstein writes in the current issue of The Shield, State Police employee magazine.

He lists two reasons for the troublesome problem:

1. A too liberal view by the public with regard to the use of alcoholic beverages.
2. A lack of public recognition of the seriousness of the drinking-driving problem in relation to modern traffic.

"The defense often plays on the tolerant public attitude toward drinking," the article states. "Called for jury duty in a case involving a drinking driver, the occasional drinker may be swayed to sympathy for the defendant. He may reason that 'it might have happened to me', or he may respond to the defense argument that the defendant's family and business will suffer if he is sent to jail or his driving privilege abrogated.

"Acquittal or a fine and costs provide an easy way out. The deterrent effect of meting out punishment for a serious offense is too often lost in 'feeling sorry' for the wrong person."

Lt. Borkenstein points out that a by-product of the public's liberal view of drinking and driving is a gradual relaxing of the regularly constituted enforcement processes. It paves the way, he contends, for "exerting special influence to escape due process of law in such cases."

The State Police expert labels as "pure drivel" the argument that a few drinks stimulate a motorist—give him keener perception, convert him into a more alert driver. Laboratory experiments have shown that definite physical and mental impairment is caused by alcohol in the bloodstream. The "threshold" of impairment is at a blood alcohol level of .04, the equivalent of about two bottles of beer, and the slow-up becomes more pronounced as the level reaches and passes .10 of one per cent.

"In the early days of the motor vehicle, the driver who drank received little or no attention," the article states, "but with 48,000,000 vehicles now jamming the nation's highways identification of the inebriated driver has growing into a ranking traffic safety problem."

Chemical tests for intoxication (the scientific analysis of the breath or body fluids) are cited as the police officer's tool, protecting the innocent and helping to convict the guilty. In more than 22,000 State Police cases chemical tests substantiated the trooper's eye-witness facts, according to department records.

Public understanding and action is required to halt the menace, Lt. Borkenstein emphasizes. He asserts:

"Society long ago outlawed murder, but society is not yet willing to accept the premise that a ton and a half of hurtling, gasoline-powered steel, in the hands of a driver whose brain is fogged by alcohol is potentially as lethal as a pistol in the hands of a maniacal killer."

NEW STYLE MONEY ORDERS

Kenneth Romine, Mentone postmaster announces that the Post Office department is now using a new style money order that has a number of features which patrons should appreciate.

The new style, too, are made so that the government can use the automatic machines for calculating and filing. Each money order has a series of perforations in them that actuate the automatic machines, and patrons are advised not to fold, staple, spindle or mutilate them otherwise the automatic machines will not work.

The new orders, also, can be cashed at any post office without penalty.

Mrs. Claude Barkman was removed from the Woodlawn hospital in Rochester, on Monday, to the Methodist hospital in Indianapolis for observation and treatment.

HEALTH FACTS FROM YOUR STATE BOARD OF HEALTH

Health instructions in 4-H club summer camps is a project continued this year by the Indiana State Board of Health in cooperation with Purdue University.

Three years ago this phase of 4-H club instruction was initiated with the services of one dentist. Dr. Roy D. Smiley, director of the Dental Division of the Indiana State Board of Health, pointed out that during this time more than 11,000 girls and boys have been inspected for dental defects with only 50 percent needing dental care. Of these, 70 percent visited a dentist upon the recommendation of the inspecting dentist. Vision testing is also done and practically all eye referral defects have received attention. Demonstrations, health films, first aid and personal instructions are also used by the health team to point out the value of good health.

The Board of Health team is composed of Dr. Charles Gish and two senior dental students from the Dental Division and three nurses from the Division of Public Health Nursing. They are Loftus Brown, Daniel W. Cheek, Jr., Mary C. Lewis, R. N., Thelma May Brown, R. N. and Antoinette K. Paladino, R. N.

POSSIBLE TO RID HERD OF MASTITIS

Veterinarians say that a good half of the problems arising in dairy herds today are due to mastitis. Yet, research has shown that a mastitis-free herd is within the range of any farmer. A sound mastitis control program comprises two parts:

Treating mastitis by udder injection method.

1. Proper management. 2. Treatment. Correct management is more important than treatment, because it PREVENTS most mastitis.

Here are some common causes of mastitis: Teat and udder injuries; housing cows in too-small stalls; failure to milk the cow dry; using too high a vacuum on the milker; inadequate bedding, and chilling of the udder.

Other factors may also be involved. To get to the bottom of the trouble, it is advised that the dairyman and his veterinarian conduct a careful herd survey. This will show up damaged udders, type of infection present, and form the basis of a sound control program.

When the situation has been analyzed, the dairyman and the veterinarian can work out a sanitation routine that will prevent infection from spreading. This will include arrangement of the milking line to provide for infected animals or suspects to be milked last.

In the final phase of the program, with the danger of reinfection greatly reduced, treatment can be instituted with good prospects of success.

But here again, great care must be used. Udder infusions and other treatments should be regarded as delicate operations. They should be performed only by a person with special training and skill in their use. Remember, mastitis cannot be controlled by treatment alone. Good management must accompany good treatment.

HANDCRAFT PROGRAM, JULY 9

Plans for the Handcraft program, beginning Monday, July 9, at 9 o'clock, are for the introduction of potato blocking, by Mrs. Conde Walburn, assisted by Mrs. Markley and Mrs. Smalley. Each child is asked to bring a couple of potatoes and a knife.

This work will continue through the next two sessions (on the Wednesday and Monday following) as well as completion of the plaster work and other handcraft projects already underway.

Arrangements have been made for Mrs. Ray Linn to exhibit her button collection before the group sometime next week.

Interest in the handcraft project is steadily increasing, as attendance has more than tripled since its inception.
Under the skilled leadership of Rev.
Gosser and his helpers the youngsters are producing some very attractive articles.

Parents are welcome to attend with their children, and thus observe what is being done—also to participate, if they desire to do so.

DON'T LET ME DOWN WHEN I'M AWAY!

By Jerry Tolle

Not long ago I celebrated my Twenty-first birthday—ordinarily a happy milestone in a young man's life—but already the smoke from those candles on my cake seems to be rising into something ugly—war!

Yesterday I received that long white envelope from Uncle Sam requesting me to hand over two, maybe many more, years of my life—maybe even my life itself—to defend what's being loosely called "the American Way of Life." Since I am one who's been asked to do the defending I'd like to ask one question: "Just what is the American Way of Life?"

Is it the right of one person or a group of people to support a law or a candidate because it gives them special benefits?

Is it the right of our leaders to let us wander without a definite policy, for fear of losing votes?

Is it the right of a wage earner to pour fuel on the fire of inflation by asking for a raise every time prices go up—instead of cutting his budget and forcing prices back down?

Is it the right of schools to teach their pupils that business owes them a living—before proving their ability?

Is it the right of government to take over, little by little, the running of private enterprise and eliminate the spirit of honest competition from American life?

If the American Way of Life is all these things—then I'd like to make a bargain with you folks whose homes and lives I'm supposed to defend.

While I give up my freedom, a part of my life and perhaps my entire future to be a soldier, I'm counting on you to be good "home-front soldiers" and develop some leaders who will put this nation back in business as a real democracy.

I'll carry out my half of the bargain. How about you?

(Editor's note: Before entering the service Mr. Tolle had experience as copy writer in a Sacramento advertising agency and editor of the Junior Chamber of Commerce publication in that city.)

LIBRARY NEWS

Last Thursday morning there were 37 members of Group One at the library to enjoy the Vacation Story Hour, and the entire group reported a total of 49 books read. Mrs. Wayne Nellans and Mrs. Miles Manwaring, assisted by Sue Ellen Long, presented an interesting program of children's records including: "The Big Fireman and the Little Fireman," by Margaret Wise Brown; "Muffin" of "The Noisy Book," by Margaret Wise Brown; "Little Black Sambo," by Helen Bannerman; "Little Arlo and the Happy Bird," and "Little Arlo and the Little Switch Engine."

Following the records, the children played an outdoor game and then chose the books they wished to take home. Miss Jody Cullum, Miss Jalaine Smythe and Miss Madelaine Anderson assisted with the younger children.

Group Two met at 2 p. m. Thursday with an attendance of 15, and 10 of the members reported on books they had read during the week. Following the meeting of the book club, Mrs. Dan Urschel talked briefly on folk music and played records to illustrate various types of folk music: two sea chants, "Blow the Man Down" and "The Drummer and the Cook;" two spirituals, "Round About the Mountain" and "Joshua Fit the Battle of Jericho," and two Stephen Foster songs, "Oh, Susannah" and "The Cape Town Races."

Mrs. Elmore Fenstermaker then played two fine historical records—one about Daniel Boone and the other about the building of the great western railroads, concluding with four humorous ballads. The program closed with a march to the music of Sousa's "King Cotton."

This week Group One will enjoy a pet and animal program, and Group Two will have a play presented by some of the children.

Mothers of children in Group One, please be sure to send a slip with the name of the child and the book read by him if he has started school or the book read to him if he is a pre-school child.

THE NEEDLE OFTEN A 2-EDGED SWORD

Some livestock raisers have had the misfortune to bring disease into their flocks and herds while trying to protect them.

Livestock health authorities say that improper use of live vaccines may easily cause disease outbreaks. What has happened in some cases is this: An area is free of a certain disease, yet wishing to be sure that his animals do not contract the disease, an owner vaccinates them with a living virus.

A healthy flock can be ruined by improper vaccination.

The result may be tragic. The vaccinated animals come down with the disease. It spreads to other animals, then to the neighbors' stock.

Why does this happen? Because the vaccinating needle is a two-edged sword. When used by a person who has had long scientific training and experience, it saves lives. When used improperly, it can be a dangerous instrument of destruction.

Unskilled vaccination is believed to have been responsible for numerous outbreaks of anaplasmosis, hog cholera, malignant edema. Mistaken use of Newcastle and fowl pox vaccines can also bring serious losses in poultry flocks.

There are many factors to be taken into account before animals or birds are vaccinated. Are the animals in good enough condition to be vaccinated without ill effects? Is the vaccine potent, or has it deteriorated? What is the proper dosage? What precautions should be taken to insure that the vaccination will "take"? Have the instruments been scientifically sterilized to avoid infecting the rest of the herd from an unsuspected disease carrier?

Only the veterinarian usually has the experience and training to properly answer these highly important questions.

ARE YOU A GULLIBLE GULL?

By DeWitt Emery

In a recent issue of the monthly bulletin of the Barnett National Bank, Jacksonville, Florida, we found the following "gem of wisdom". The bank calls it "The Fable of the Gullible Gull". Here it is:

"In the friendly city of St. Augustine, great flocks of sea gulls are starving amid plenty. Fishing is still good, but the gulls don't know how to fish. For generations they have depended on the shrimp fleet to toss them scraps from the nets. Now the fleet has moved to Key West.

"The shrimpers had created a Welfare State for the St. Augustine sea gulls. The big birds never bothered to learn how to fish for themselves, and they never taught their children to fish. Instead, they led their little ones to the shrimp nets.

"Now, the sea gulls, the fine free birds that almost symbolize liberty itself, are starving to death because they gave in to the 'something for nothing' lure! They sacrificed their independence for a handout.

"A lot of people are like that, too. They see nothing wrong in picking delectable scraps from the tax nets of the U. S. Government's shrimp fleet. But what will happen when the government runs out of goods? What about our children of generations to come?

"Let's not be gullible gulls. We Americans must preserve our talents of self-sufficiency, our genius for creating things for ourselves, our sense of thrift and our true love of independence."

I'm afraid that a great many of us are as "gullible" as the "gulls". Too many of us have listened to and believed the "government owes me a living" propaganda which has been fed to us by Washington bureaucrats. We have forgotten that the only security which is worth anything at all is the security we provide for ourselves by our own efforts.

Whether we realize it or not, or whether or not we believe it, it nevertheless is an eternal truth that "there never has been a successful substitute for hard work and thrift. Abraham Lincoln said it this way:

"You cannot bring about prosperity by discouraging thrift.

"You cannot strengthen the weak by weakening the strong.

"You cannot help the wage earner by pulling down the wage payer.

"You cannot further the brotherhood of man by encouraging class hatred.

"You cannot help the poor by destroying the rich.

"You cannot establish sound security on borrowed money.

"You cannot keep out of trouble by spending more than you earn.

"You cannot build character and courage by taking away man's initiative and independence.

"You cannot help men permanently by doing for them what they could and should do for themselves."

THIRTY CANDIDATES IN "MISS LIBERTY" CONTEST

One of the big events at the Lions Club July 4th celebration was the little "Miss Liberty" contest. Thirty pre-school young ladies shivered in the Independence Day "November" weather while the judges tried to determine the winners of the three beautiful dolls contributed by the War Mothers.

Connie Jo Wallace, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale J. Wallace, Mentone, who was only five years old, placed first. Second place went to four-year-old Yvonne Sue, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Rathfon, Mentone, and Miss Louise, 4, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Cox, Mentone, was the third place winner.

Other contestants were:

Dixie, aged 2, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Parker, Mentone.

Suzannah, 5 daughter of Mrs. Mary Beth Blodgett, Mentone.

Frances Jean, 16 months, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Johnson, R. 5, Warsaw.

Bonita, 2, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Barney Nellans, Mentone.

Elaine, 2, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Miles Manwaring, Mentone.

Luana Jo, 2, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilvin Teel, Mentone.

Margo Ann, 2, and Lynn Ellen, 3, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Don Tavinor, Argos.

Judy Ellen, 4, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Besson, Mentone.

Linda Kay, 5, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Baker, Mentone.

Jo Ann, 4, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Mollenhour, Mentone.

Peggy, 2, Marie, 3, Roberta, 4, all daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Nottingham, Mentone.

Nancy, 4, and Judy, 6, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Wagner, Mentone. Cathy, 3½, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Shinn, Mentone.

Mary Ann, daughter of Mrs. Virginia Peterson, Mentone.

Cindy Kay, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Whetstone, Mentone.

Sandra, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Nelson, Mentone.

Vickey Lee, 2, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Bowser, Mentone.

Lorna Louise and Cathy Ann, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Loren Tridle, of Mentone.

Sherry Lynn and Jenny Lo, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Mont Bryan, of Mentone.

Connie Ray, 3, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilvin Teel, Mentone.

Janet Ann, 2, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Morrison, Warsaw.

The Lions club committee in charge of this event appreciated the gift of the War Mothers and the splendid support of the fathers and mothers. They wished that the weather had been more moderate and also that they might have had a token gift for the contestants who did not win in the first three placings.

FINE CELEBRATION IN SPITE OF RAIN AND COLD

The Lions Club July 4 celebration last Wednesday afternoon and evening enjoyed splendid attendance even though the day was rainy and extremely cold. There was a fair crowd on hand in the afternoon when the Boy Scouts played the Herring House boys, a colored team from South Bend. The local boys played a good game even though they didn't have a very strong outfield and the visitors were a trifle on the tall order.

The various contests, which included a pre-school age tricycle race, kept the visitors entertained for the balance of the afternoon. Shortly after six o'clock the Mentone high school band, under the direction of Roger Kelly, gave a fine concert. A drizzling rain shortened this program, but the visitors and the celebration committeemen appreciated the fine support and cooperation of every member in the band.

The Merchant and Zollner Reserve softball game was a very interesting and well played game despite the cold and high wind that prevailed. The fireworks display, too, was somewhat affected by the high wind. The colored bursts didn't hang in the air like they would have had there not been such a strong overhead breeze.

An effort is always made to extend thanks and appreciation to every person, organization or group that helps in these events, but it is almost impossible to name them individually without omitting one or more. Special thanks go to Oliver Teel for spraying the grounds with insect repellant even though the weather had most of the bugs and mosquitoes frozen down. One cannot predict the weather and it could just as easily have been a "night for bugs." The War Mothers, American Legion, Boy Scouts, Merchants, Psi Chi Xi Sorority, and many others, played a very important part in helping to entertain the visitors. The Fire Department boys were on duty early and late to handle the traffic and protect the visitors.

In a recent article naming groups that had made cash donations to the operation of the softball program, our informants failed to mention the cash contributions of the sorority. Perhaps no other organization is more consistently active at the park than the local sorority.

A PERSON JUST CAN'T AFFORD TO TRY AND KEEP SHAVED

You never know when it's going to happen, but it seems sooner or later—if a man persists on shaving—he's going to have an accident. Chet Herendeen likely has handled a lot of razors since the fuzz first started glistening on his face, but this morning was almost the fatal day for our cattle buyer. The razor slipped, and when he tried to catch it, he cut a deep gash on the back of his left hand, just above where he little finger hitches on. He went ahead with his day's work, but when the wound continued to bleed some four hours later he sought the assistance of a local physician. He lost a lot of valuable blood, so if you see Chet walking around looking like Santa Claus, you can bet he's still afraid of a razor.

A SALUTE TO FARMERS IN GRAVURE SECTION

We proudly salute the Stars and Stripes on the 4th of July, but all of us should take our hats off to that 15% of America's population—the Farmer—who produces food for our tables, fiber to keep our factories going and much of both to help out other nations.

The July issue of the Farm and Home section of the Co-Op. News also salute Farm Advisers, or as they are called in many states, County Extension Directors, or County Agricultural Agents, who quietly and without fanfare, year after year render services of immeasurable value in his community, some of which are pictured on pages 2 and 3 of the July issue.

THE NORTHERN RAVEN

A Northern Raven is a giant among our black-feathered birds. Only the black vulture is larger than the mighty Raven, who measures two feet from beak to tail and has a wingspread of four and a half feet. At a distance he is sometimes mistaken for a big crow, but a closer look shows that he is twice the size of a crow.

Another way to tell the Northern Raven from a crow, says the National Wildlife Federation, is to watch him in flight. A crow seems to work hard at the job of flying, but the Raven goes at it more slowly and easily. After gaining a bit of altitude, he holds his powerful wings out straight and flat while he soars.

Just when his lazy sailing begins to remind you of a graceful glider, he turns on the power and becomes a stunt plane. In his bag of aerial tricks are wingovers, dives and tumbles. Then having shown off his acrobatics, he may go back to soaring, or he may start looking for food.

©National Wildlife Federation
Northern Raven

The search for a meal is likely to end with the Raven feasting on almost anything, for he is not particular about what he eats. If it is spring or fall, he is satisfied with a meal of berries. In the nesting season, he may raid the homes of smaller neighbors and gobble their eggs or newly hatched birds. He also goes after insects, mice, rabbits and small shellfish. When he finds a shellfish that he cannot open with his beak, he carries it up into air, drops it on rocks below, and swoops down to pick up the smashed bits.

The Northern Raven is not only crude in his eating habits, but he also builds a rough-and-ready nest. The National Wildlife Federation describes it as a thick mass of heavy sticks measuring three to four feet across. Only at the center, where there is a deep hollow, does the Raven try to provide comfort. There he places a soft lining of such materials as fur, hair, moss and seaweed. In this spot are laid four or five large greenish eggs which are dotted with brown.

After the young Ravens hatch, and are old enough to look around, they find themselves living in wild rugged country. Their home may be anywhere from Greenland to Alaska, or southward into a few parts of the United States. Some Raven are to be seen in the state of Washington, and some in the eastern states, down as far as Virginia, and occasionally to Georgia. Always they prefer lonely forests and mountains, wild seacoasts, and rocky tree-covered islands.

Like the spots which they inhabit, the Northern Ravens are stern and forbidding in every way. Human beings have nothing to fear from them, but it is easy to see why small creatures might hide in terror as the black-feathered giants wheel in the sky and hoarsely call, "Kruuuck! Ky-r-r-rkruk! Kraauuuk!"

HAVE DIRTY FEET

Get clean eggs and stop egg-breaking by changing your hens to the new automatic EGG MAID community nests. The EGG MAID instantly separates eggs from hens, so there is no chance for dirty eggs, egg-breaking, or egg-eating. Eggs are immediately cooled in the EGG MAID and gathering is easily done from one separate compartment. Ask the poultryman who uses the EGG MAID or come and see it. It's the most modern nest on the market. Don't wait!! Your old fashioned nests are costing you more money every day!

Want a flock of like-new steel hens' nests?

A young farmer who has used AUTOMATIC EGG MAID nests for several years bought 9 EGG MAIDS a few days ago. They will replace 15 or 20 excellent all-steel nests which he has used for only one year. With the rollaway nests, his hired man can set the egg basket on the roost (near the nest) and gather cool, clean eggs with both hands. Saves time gathering, saves time cleaning. AUTOMATIC EGG MAIDS are cheaper by the dozen. See us for prices and second-hand nests.

LOCAL DOCTOR NAMED TO RESEARCH ORGANIZATION

Dr. Dan Urschel was recently notified of his election as a Senior Member of the American Federation for Clinical Research. This is an honorary organization with headquarters in New York City, organized with the purpose of stimulating research and development in all phases of the practice of medicine. It is a unique organization in that one of the by-laws requires all officers and trustees to be under the age of 40. Hence the honorary term "Senior Member" for the local physician who recently reached that milestone.

The American Federation is one of several similar groups which have become of increasing importance in the field of medicine because of the recent rapid strides made in the healing arts. By placing the emphasis upon short, concise preliminary reports in their meetings and publications, it is possible to spread information throughout the country that would otherwise be delayed months or even years because of the generally slow spread of medical knowledge. Dr. Urschel was elected because of his clinical reports on diseases of the heart and on undulant fever.

Mrs. J. C. Jellison and children and Mrs. John Darmon and children of Michigan spent Sunday at the Grover Janke and Mrs. Ella Latham homes.

COMMON SENSE

INFLATION CONTROL

During a talk in which he pointed to the fallacy of price control as an inflation remedy, and emphasized the need for increased production as the indispensable element in the solution of the problem, Marshall Swearingen, President of the Oregon Farm Bureau Federation, said in part:

"Our successful free American system is challenged today. It is in the balance along with all the other elements of our civilization. People of the world look to America to see if freedom can survive. Probably nothing is more important to world peace today than the question of how we will handle our economy.

"America is already well down the road of inflation. The 1940 dollar is worth only 47 cents. The national debt nearly exceeds the national income. A child born today immediately assumes a personal debt of over $1,800.00 before it has opportunity to fill its lungs with what we facetiously call our free air."

What is suggested by our politicians to meet this situation? Not more faith in the American system of private enterprise which built this country, but greater ownership and control of production by government. Not economy in government in the hope of holding down taxes, but constant expansion of Federal spending and higher taxes. As a substitute for American initiative we are being offered much the same kind of Socialism which has all but wrecked England.

As to whether price controls can stop inflation, Mr. Swearingen said: "Price controls do not decrease money; they do not decrease credit; they do not create things to buy—Controls of any nature decrease our capacity to produce; and certainly, controls utilize a tremendous reservoir of manpower that should be—producing things to buy.

"Do we stop kidding ourselves and insist on common sense management of our economy or do we continue to allow bureaucracy and political planners to swat mosquitoes with a patchwork of price and wage controls when the swamp of crippling Federal debt and unbalanced economy needs draining."

The politicians may not admit it, but price control cannot solve anything—all it can do is create more and worse problems. To take but one salient example, the present tangled and disrupted meat situation proves that. Only a free, supply-and-demand economy can lead in the fight against inflation by giving us peak production.

MERL BLUE MOVED TO ADVANCE SCHOOL

July 6, 1951

Dear Artley,

I transferred to my advance school today. I thought I had better write and give you my new address. I wouldn't want the paper to get delayed on account of your not having my new address because I sure do enjoy reading the news from Mentone and the community.

I am feeling fine. I have felt exceptionally good since my arrival here. The humidity here is very low. We have been having some grand summer weather.

Dick Dillman is stationed here now. He is waiting to take a course in primary weapons. It feels pretty good to have your next door neighbor to buddy around with again. I sure have been lucky to be stationed with a few of the gang from home.

It sure was swell for Ted, Ned, Bill and Neil to come out to spend a few days with me. We had a grand time. They also got to see Dick while they were here so it made it pretty nice for us all.

I am starting to a night-fighter radar advance course tomorrow. I really enjoy working with radar. I was quite astonished at the advancement to which radar has been developed. It is to my notion the most becoming field of any in existence today.

Thanks again for sending me the paper. Give everybody my best regards. I hope to see good old Mentone before too long.

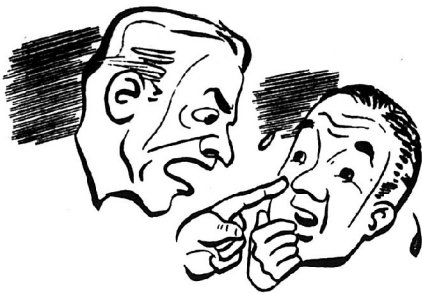

Yours truly,

4-H TRACTOR
MAINTENANCE

Facing a shortage of farm labor, curtailed supply of equipment and need for greater production of food and fiber, 4-H members in Indiana and 46 other states are stressing efficient operation of farm tractors, according to G. L. Noble, director of the National Committee on Boys and Girls club Work.

In the 14 Central states, 22,000 members are receiving training in the 1951 4-H Tractor Maintenance program, in which they learn to service their tractors and operate them safely. Noble said. The program is being conducted in those states by the Cooperative Extension Service for the eighth consecutive year.

BAPTIST CHURCH NEWS

On Wednesday evening at 6:30 there was held a pot-luck fellowship supper in honor of the Harry Elder family who will be leaving soon for Pittsburgh to serve the Lord in full time service in a mission home there. Mrs. Elder has assisted with the music by being pianist and has sung in the choir while Rev. Elder has taught in the Sunday School. The whole family have been a real asset to the church while they have been here as students in the Grace Seminary at Winona Lake. Mr. Elder graduated with a degree of Th. B. from the Seminary in May and is now ready to serve the Lord in the city of Pittsburgh. They will be moving the 23rd of July to that city. On June 12th Mr. Elder was ordained in the church along with John Rea of Winona Lake. The Reas are planning on going to Japan in the fall under the Evangelical Alliance Mission Board. This mission now has more than 100 missionaries in Japan.

Encouraging letters have been received from our young men in the service. Recent letters have come from Lee Edwin Norris who is now acting corporal. Mickey Eaton and wife are happy in Denver. Robert Nelson is now home on leave. Dick Boganwright is now stationed in Tokyo and is going to school there.

The Baptist Youth Camp got off to a good start on Monday with 137 boys enrolled. This is the first year at Crystal Lake for the camp and plans are made for a much larger camp next year, even then it takes 14 gallons of milk and 35 loaves of bread for each meal. Four large tents are being used and part of the new building which is 32x84 feet, is being used for a dormitory and dining room. Next week the young folks 15 years and up will meet and the third week girls 9 to 14 years old will have their week of good time. The young people have Bible classes from 9 to 11:30 each day, swimming and recreation in the afternoon and a short service each evening before bed time. Pastors from churches in the state are helping with the teaching and the work of the camp. Mr. Dowden will help with the teaching in the camp next week with the young people's group. He will teach a class in Personal Evangelism.

Also some softball was played and some games, relays, etc. organized. During the past week, the program has been in charge of Dale Kelley, Everett Long, Kathleen Campbelljohn, Mrs. LaMar Anderson, Mrs. Robert Parker and Mrs. Earl Anderson. We urge all children, ages 6-12, to come on Tuesday and Friday afternoons to join in the games and fun. It takes several to make up softball and volleyball teams, and we know all boys and girls will enjoy playing badminton and shuffleboard and the other games. It is entirely a free activity, with the children choosing the games they wish to play.

THE AMERICAN WAY

TOO DUMB TO UNDERSTAND By DeWitt Emery

In a series of statements and speeches since the outbreak of the "police action" in Korea, President Truman has told us what we must all do working together to avert the danger of inflation during this crucial time when defense production must have first call on our economic resources.

DeWitt Emery

He told consumers to buy only what they need. He told business men to cut down and hold down inventories, to increase efficiency of their operations as much as possible and to conserve manpower. He asked everyone to work harder and longer and to forget about increased wages or profits.

The President said his proposals call for "patriotism and self restraint" and added, "If we all work together as a team, if everyone does his part, we can beat inflation, we can secure the defenses of this nation and keep down the cost of living for the average family."

No one can quarrel with the President's suggestions, but it seems to me that he, as the head of the executive branch of our government, should see to it that every department, bureau and agency of the government puts his suggestions into effect. It seems to me further that since he is commander in chief of our armed forces that he should also insist that the Department of Defense follow his recommendations. So let's look at the record.

All departments, bureaus and agencies of the executive branch of our federal government are spending more money today than a year ago and almost without exception have more people on their payrolls than they had when the shooting started in Korea. Some of these non-defense departments spend more than 1,400 times as much in 1950 as they spent in 1940.

During the past year an average of 6,073 new employees per week were added to the federal payroll in the executive branch of our government. It costs you and me and the other taxpayers eight billion three hundred million dollars per year to pay the salaries of these bureaucrats.

Does this indicate that the President is following the advice he gave the American people on combating inflation, on conserving manpower, on increasing efficiency, on working harder and working longer hours? Or is it a case of "You do as I say, not as I do?" Or is it a continuing application of the Hopkins formula, "The people are too dumb to understand anyway so we'll tax and tax, spend and spend, elect and elect?"

The Department of Defense doesn't seem to have taken the President's advice very seriously. Here are a few examples which will show why I make that statement.

Since the start of the Korean campaign, with less than two million men under arms, the Army has purchased 68,000,000 can openers.

During the nine months ended March 31, 1951, the quartermaster corps bought 1,917,000 pounds of black pepper. Maybe this is a new weapon which is used by sneaking up on the Reds and throwing it in their eyes.

The Army set up requirements of 4,636,000 web belts for 1951. This is approximately three belts per man although only one belt is issued per man per year.

On combat boots the Army requirement for 1951 was set at 11,753,000 pairs of which it expected to use 4,800,000 pairs during the year.

Last January while the quartermaster was buying 5,000,000 pounds of oleo margarine at 25½¢ per pound, the Department of Agriculture was selling 5,500,000 pounds of surplus butter to Italy at 15¢ per pound.

What effect did this large scale "scare" buying have on prices? Since June, 1950 the price of Army blankets has risen from $7.82 to $16 each. Combat boots went up from $6.03 to $11.63 per pair, army mattresses from $7.83 to $13.42 each and so on and on throughout a list longer than your arm.

How can this terrific waste of money be stopped? There is only one way and that's for the people to tell their congressmen and senators that it's got to stop. Every dime spent by anyone connected with any part of the government must first be appropriated by congress. I have written to my congressman and both of my senators. Will you write yours—today?

What About Feeder Lamb Losses?

Q: What is the best way to handle newly-arrived feeder lambs?

A: Confine them to a roomy dry-lot with open shed for shelter. Provide good wild hay. Avoid lush pasture. Provide clean water and stock salt. Isolate any "slow" or sick lambs for checking by the veterinarian.

Q: What are the chief causes of feeder lamb losses?

A: Coccidiosis, wireworms and tapeworms, contagious sore mouth, paratyphoid scouring, hemorrhagic septicaemia, and enterotoxaemia or so-called "over-eating" disease.

Q: Can anything be done about these diseases?

A: Most of them can be controlled or prevented. Coccidiosis responds to tried control plans and sulfa drugs. Wireworms and tapeworms are curable. Sore mouth, enterotoxaemia, hemorrhagic septicaemia can be prevented by vaccination.

Q: What causes enterotoxaemia or over-eating disease?

A: A spore-forming germ. When concentrated rations are pushed for gains the germ by-products in the intestines are changed by digestive ferments into a quick-killing toxin.

Q: Is the vaccine dependable?

A: Veterinarians have found this vaccine very efficient. It removes one of the lamb feeder's greatest gambles.

Q: Do only feedlot lambs have enterotoxaemia?

A: No. It also kills baby lambs when ewes are on rich pastures or over-rich rations. An antitoxin helps stop such trouble. It is also used when the disease strikes unvaccinated flocks of feeders.

Q: What other feeder lamb diseases should be watched for?

A: Bloating—due to gorging on grain or rich pastures, and founder or laminitis, due to feed engorgements.

NOTE—Due to space limitations, general questions cannot be handled by this column.

THE NATURAL STORY OF MERCHANDISING

An editorial in a recent issue of The Freeman makes this interesting observation: "The natural story of merchandizing, as any large retailer will tell you, is that from the moment the goods arrive from the factory and are unwrapped and put on the shelf, there is only one thing normally that can happen to the price. It can go down. If at the first price the goods do not move, or move too slowly, the price is cut; and then again and again until the consumer is willing to take them away.—The goods must move."

What we have here is a rather novel way of stating the fact that merchants can't hold up the consumer even if they want to. People don't buy things if they think the price is out of line.

They postpone their purchasing, or do without, or buy a substitute. And there's nothing the merchant can do about it.

On top of that, the consumer's best friend, competition, is always present to protect his interest. Every merchant, big or small, wants to do more business if he can. Every merchant knows that price is the biggest inducement to the bulk of consumers. So, inevitably, he sells his wares at as low a price as he can and still pay his bills and make a little profit.

These are economics of life. But they can exist only in a free, competitive economy.

Tumble Finishing

One of the methods of applying industrial finishes is by tumbling. The pieces to be finished are put into a barrel, which is mounted to revolve on its axis. A small quantity of finishing material is poured over the pieces and the barrel revolves until all surfaces are evenly coated. Tumble finishing is particularly suited to finishing small wood, metal, and plastic articles, such as buttons, handles, knobs, children's building blocks, tops, golf tees, fishing lures and beads.

WRITES FROM JAPAN

Camp Fuji, Japan
July 4, 1951

Dear Art,

I got the Co-Op. News for the first time since I have been here.

I sure was very glad to receive it.

I like it over here very well. I am in a heavy weapons Company, and am a gunner on an 81 mm mortar.

It has been raining here for three days, but I guess this is the rainy season.

We are living in tents here, there are nine in our tent. I took basic training with six of them. We six are all Hoosiers. The other three are from Florida.

We are very close to Mount Fuji, a very beautiful mountain. I hope to get to climb to the top while I am here.

The earth here is like cinders, it is the substance that came from Mount Fuji when it was an active volcano.

Thanks very much for the paper as I really appreciate it.

Hello to everyone around the good ol' town.

Sincerely,
Dick Boganwright

FARM BOYS WARNED OF DEADLINE FOR FILING BENEFITS

Mr. Johnston, the G. I. Instructor at the local school wishes to impress on all veterans that July 25 is the deadline for filing benefits under the Government sponsored program for veterans of World War II.

The local on the farm training class now consists of 26 men and is limited to 30, so the program can carry four more veterans in the program if there are still farm boys eligible for this program.

During the winter months this class meets two nights per week for approximately two and one half hours per night and during the summer the program meets once weekly.

While the program has been in progress such subjects as swine and dairy management, oats and wheat culture and are welding and the like have been taught.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Manwaring and sons, Junior and Frankie and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brewer and sons of Southport, Indiana spent the past week at Pier Lake, Wisconsin, near Rhinelander.

LIBRARY NEWS

The children of Group I met at the Library Thursday morning for their Bible program, the theme of the week. As Rev. Dowden told the beautiful stories of the "Boy Samuel" and of "The King's Son", all the children, even the little ones, were intensely interested.

Mrs. Harold Nelson had a fine original Bible contest and some games for the children.

The program for Group II was also of unusual interest. Miss Cara Lynne Fenstermaker of Etna Green displayed her collection of dolls which included many storybook dolls. Cara Lynne has over fifty dolls in her collection.

Mr. James Rodibaugh displayed his collection of stamps and gave a talk about stamp collecting.

Mrs. Conde Walburn displayed her ceramics and told the children many things about this interesting craft.

Mrs. Wayne Nellans completely held the children's interest with her story chosen from the book, "Children of the Handicrafts." All 4th, 5th and 6th grade children of the entire community should attend these programs as they are all of interest to you.

This week Group I will have a "Doll and Toy Program." Each child will bring their favorite toy with them to show the other boys and girls. Group II will have a Bible program with Mr. Joseph Jones telling the story.

We would like to request all workers to keep their working cards and turn them in to the Library when they are through with them.

CHILDREN: Have you seen Petunia? Have you read her book?

A pot-luck dinner was enjoyed Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Parker and daughters, the occasion being the second birthday of Dixie Diane. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Glen Walther of Silver Lake, Mr. and Mrs. George Guilf and family of Warsaw, Mr. and Mrs. William Schooley and Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Reichard. The afternoon was spent playing various games and Dixie received many lovely presents.

Miss Patty Parker is spending a few days at 4-H camp at McClure Lake.

Miss Sara and Nilah Deafenbaugh spent the latter part of last week with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Parker and family.

ELECTRIC

FREEZER

To take full advantage of the convenience and economy of frozen foods, you must have your own Individual Electric Food Freezer.

You can get one in a size to fit your needs exactly, whether for farm or city home.

Enjoy Convenience and Economy with an Electric Farm and Home Freezer!

Buy the best of everything when available. Stock up on all kinds of commercial frozen foods when plentiful and prices low. Buy fresh foods at their peak of goodness, right when they're in season, freeze and store with all their quality and flavor locked in.

Shop once a week, or even every two weeks. Buy foods at quantity prices and really save. Fruits by the bushel, berries by the crate, vegetables by the hamper, ice cream by the gallon, a week's or month's supply of meat at one time.

Cook large, economical quantities of roasts, stews, beans, gravies, sauces, and freeze until needed. Have "planned-overs" instead of leftovers.

It's easier to freeze foods—and you enjoy fresh, peak-of-goodness flavor. You can easily prepare and freeze the fruits and vegetables you raise in your own garden, and save a lot of time and money, too!

Imagine having all the food you need in the house at all times—from snack to complete meal! No concern then, about unexpected guests. You can even prepare quantities of pies, cakes or biscuits days ahead, freeze them ready to pop into the oven—or bake first, then freeze.

With your own Electric Food Freezer you can enjoy strawberries at Christmas, or oysters in August. No need to depend upon "fresh" fruits or vegetables shipped long distances at premium prices. You are really the master of your menu!

1/2 Million 4-H'ers Helping Reduce Farm Accidents

A recent survey of 2,000 farm accidents shows that 248 involve machinery. In other types, more farm people are injured by falls—476—than in any other kind of accident.

FARM FOLKS, as a general rule, give little thought to safety until a member of their family or a neighbor's is hurt or killed, or fire destroys their home or barn. Then they start doing something about safety.

This year it is particularly important that every farm family should do something about practicing safety, because even though there is a shortage of labor on farms, and new equipment is hard to get, food production must be boosted. That means the present manpower and machinery on farms must be guarded against accidents.

An average of 47 farm people are accidentally killed every day.

Helping to reduce rural casualties are a half million boys and girls taking part in the National 4-H Farm and Home Safety Program. More than $10,000 in awards for the best records of accident prevention and education are being provided by General Motors for the seventh consecutive year.

The program is directed by the Cooperative Extension Service.

STOCKPILE COAL NOW

Near the end of June, Defense Mobilization Director Charles E. Wilson urged that all consumers, including home-owners, government agencies, and industries stockpile coal and other heavy fuels during the ensuing 90 days. This, he said, would mean a substantial contribution to the defense effort. He added, "With the maximum production impact of the defense program as measured by requirements of raw materials, expecting to occur early in 1952, the burden on our transportation facilities will be increasing rapidly this fall and winter. It is therefore highly important that much of the heavy fuel traffic which is normally concentrated in this period be spread over the summer months."

At about the same time, Interior Secretary Chapman also urged coal users to buy and store as much coal as they can. He stated that a summer fuel buying campaign is the only way full benefit can be obtained from the great productive capacity of the soft coal industry, because the demands of defense traffic on our transportation system will be much heavier next fall and winter.

Moreover, the consumer can definitely benefit himself by "hoarding" coal during ing the summer. It is cheaper now, and dealer service is good. Coal can be stored easily and safely. Those who wait until coal is urgently needed may have to pay a higher price, and may encounter delays in delivery.

In short, this is a case where we can help the growing defense program and help ourselves while doing so. Order and stockpile your coal before October.

THE SPOTTED TOUCH-ME-NOT

Gusts of wind help many wild plants to scatter their seeds, but the Spotted Touch-Me-Not doesn't need the aid of passing breezes. Its seeds are locked inside small, oblong pods. At the slightest touch, the pods burst open, flinging seeds all around.

The pressure may come from the weight of a falling twig or from a bird brushing against the plant. Sometimes, too, the stem of the Touch-Me-Not itself may move just enough to jiggle the pod. Then it explodes, just as if some tiny hand had pulled a hidden trigger.

As a matter of fact, though, the pod doesn't always wait to be touched. The National Wildlife Federation says that there comes a moment when it can't remain closed any longer. At this stage of ripeness, the pod bursts by itself. The secret of the explosion is to be found in the way the pod is built. It is constructed of an elastic plant material and made so it will open into five coils. When fully grown and ripe, it is ready to lose the shape of a pod and let its coils unwind. Instead of unfolding slowly, as the petals of a flower do, the coils jump out as though they were tiny metal springs.

©National Wildlife Federation
Spotted Touch-Me-Not

The plant which bears these amazing pods is a member of the jewel-weed family. Sometimes it stops growing at a height of two feet, but it may keep on until it is six feet tall. Spreading out from the main stalk are slender branches which bear long, narrow leaves, as well as the pods and delicate flowers.

The flowers are pale orange or gold, and they are dotted with reddishbrown freckles. Each bloom is about an inch long and rather slender. Deep inside is a generous amount of nectar. Darting hummingbirds, with their long bills, have no trouble in reaching the tempting sweetness. But bees have to force their way between the petals to get their share of the blossom's treasure.

While the flowers bloom from July through September, you'll have to tramp to some out-of-the-way places to see them. With a liking for moist soil and shade, Spotted Touch-Me-Nots grow on low ground which stays wet much of the time. Often they are found along ditches and streams and in damp woodlands.

According to the National Wildlife Federation, the plants thrive over a wide range of territory. They do well all the way from parts of lower Canada southward through the United States to Florida and west to Missouri and Nebraska.

Interesting information about other wildlife species can be obtained by writing to the National Wildlife Federation, Washington 10, D. C.

MERCHANTS STUCK ON "5" IN TWO SOFTBALL GAMES

The Mentone Merchants recently were in a 6-3 rut and games played last week found them stopping on 5 runs each time.

July 11th the Merchants played at Lagrange and although they out-hit the home team 10 to 7, they lost by a score of 6 to 5.

Fore pitched for Mentone. Friday evening the Buchanan, Mich. team came to Mentone, Bierwagons and all, and came out victorious 9 to 5 with 12 hits to Mentone's 7. Vandermark pitched for Mentone and Ike Bierwagon for Buchanan. The game was rather close all the way except for a rather sloppy third inning when the visitors managed to get six men across the plate. Mentone score once in each of five innings but couldn't overcome the lead they gave the opposition in the early frame mentioned.

SPEED WORK ON CONSERVATION DISPLAY BUILDING

In preparation for the formal opening and dedication of the new Conservation Display building at the Indiana State Fairgrounds, craftsmen engaged in adding the finishing touches to the new edifice are stepping up their efforts to meet the opening date, August 30.

Conservation's new Fairtime home is pronounced by those in the know as the finest of its type in the United States. Realizing the need for such a structure the Indiana State Fair Board appropriated funds necessary for its construction and will turn it over lock, stock and barrel to the Indiana Department of Conservation come this August 30.

Inside the huge structure various divisions of the Conservation Department are having constructed displays, which to dig up an old one, are "out of this world."

At present, steel workers are at work dismantling, transporting and rebuilding the fire tower which for years has been a popular climb and viewing point at the Fair Grounds. It will take its place near the new building.

Animal and bird pens are being completed at the new location. They will be of the latest type design, sanitary in all respects, and will house many of the wild birds and game animals of Indiana as well as some more ferocious species which have been imported.

Outside aquariums and botanical gardens are being speeded to their finish.

The public is most welcome to attend dedication ceremonies August 30 at 2 p. m. Central Daylight Saving Time, which, according to State Statute is 1 P. M. Central Daylight Time. Be there all of you. The new location is near the Forty-second street gate and adjacent to the 4-H building set-up.

DISCUSS WHEAT VARIETIES NEAR EXPERIMENTAL PLOTS

A pre-combine meeting held at the experimental wheat plots on the farm owned by Mr. and Mrs. Dan Leininger, west of Leesburg, was attended by over 40 Kosciusko County farmers. M. O. Pence, extension agronomist, lead the discussion of the merits and demerits of each of the varieties in the experiment and told of the results obtained from increased fertilization on wheat. Those attending the meeting saw plots of Vigo, Seneca, Royal, Butler and Saline growing alongside ten unnamed wheat varieties which are still being tested by the Purdue Experiment station staff.

Also alongside the variety plots were various treatments of fertilizer applied to plots of Vigo wheat. These plots had received no fertilizer, 300 pounds per acre of 3-12-12, and 300 pounds of 3-12-12 plus a top-dressing of both ammonium nitrate and 10-10-10. Early next week the plots will be harvested and the yields made available to farmers.

The county extension agents cooperated with Prof. James Newman of the experiment station staff in conducting the test demonstration.

What About Swine Pox?

Q: Is swine pox a hazard to all pigs?

A: Yes, but it chiefly affects young pigs and growing shoats.

Q: What does it look like?

A: In many ways it resembles the human disease, smallpox. The pox eruptions appear on the hair-free parts of the pig's body . . . belly, snout, and armpits. First they are about the size of a pea. Then they blister, and finally form a crater-like sore.

Q: What about the brood sows?

A: Sometimes sows get pox lesions on their udders. When this happens, suckling pigs develop sore mouths, and starve.

Q: If pox appears, can the pigs be saved?

A: Most of them can be saved, if the veterinarian is able to get on the job and start treatment when the first spots appear.

Q: Is it contagious?

A: Yes. Pox pigs should be moved immediately from the rest of the herd. It is also a good plan to isolate newly-bought pigs a few weeks, to be sure they do not have swine pox. Never sell pox pigs to neighbors, as it will spread the disease to their drove. Hog lice are carriers of pox, so louse control is important.

Q: Isn't swine pox a vaccination hazard?

A: Very much so. To vaccinate a pig that has swine pox is to take a pretty strong chance on losing him. That is one reason why it is important to have a veterinary checkup of the drove before having pigs vaccinated for cholera, erysipelas, or anything else.

DAIRY PRODUCERS ADOPT EXPANDED PROMOTION PLANS

Adoption by the American Dairy industry of an expanded promotion program to step up industry-wide advertising of dairy foods by 50 per cent next year was reported today by Fred Suhre, Columbus, president of Indiana American Dairy Association, on his return from the summer executive session of the ADA in Syracuse, New York.

Objectives of the new campaign, Suhre said, are to build markets for dairy foods and develop better public understanding of the economic importance of dairying.

A series of merchandising events, including national emphasis on milk-rich school lunches in September, the fifth annual Cheese Festival in October and holiday sales efforts devoted to America's most gorgeous pies and butter for Christmas cookies will headline market-building activities. Various branches of the dairy industry will coordinate advertising and merchandising with the ADA. Added sales power will come from manufactures of foods used with dairy foods plus efforts of food editors, retailers, restaurateurs and others.

Public educational phases of the program, it was reported, will stress the importance of the dairy industry in helping Americans live better.

"Too few people understand," Suhre said, "that farmers as a group operate on a narrow margin. Their income last year, after operating expenses, only allowed five per cent on the farm investment and 69 cents an hour for farm labor, with nothing for management."

The dairy industry through the ADA advertising set-aside funds, is telling such facts nationwide on the air and in print, and is promoting all dairy foods.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Manwaring and sons, Jimmie and Frankie spent last week in St. Louis attending the International Baby Chick Association Meeting. The name of the organization was changed at this meeting to American Poultry and Hatchery Federation, Inc. Charles is President of the State Poultry Association of Indiana.

OATS HARVEST DEMONSTRATION

County Agent Paul Jackson announces that a harvest demonstration will be held at the oats variety and fertilizer test plots on Friday, July 27. The plots are located on the farm operated by Chester Brown, who lives on road 13 just south of the gold course. In the plots are Benton, Clinton 59, Exeter, Nomaha and Columbia varieties, and plots which received no fertilizer, 3-12-12 and 3-12-12 plus top-dressings of 9, 18, and 36 pounds of element nitrogen per acre.

During this oats meeting, which is called for 8:30 A. M. the plots will be combined and the yield of each variety and fertilizer treatment calculated. K. E. Beeson, extension agronomist, will be on hand to help with the demonstration.

SILVER ANNIVERSARY OF ST. JOSEPH 4-H FAIR

HENS HAVE DIRTY FEET

Get clean eggs and stop egg-breaking by changing your hens to the new automatic EGG MAID community nests. The EGG MAID instantly separates eggs from hens, so there is no chance for dirty eggs, egg-breaking, or egg-eating. Eggs are immediately cooled in the EGG MAID and gathering is easily done from one separate compartment. Ask the poultryman who uses the EGG MAID or come and see it. It's the most modern nest on the market. Don't wait!! Your old fashioned nests are costing you more money every day!

SPECIAL INTRODUCTORY OFFER

As AUTOMATIC EGG MAID ROLL-AWAY HENS NESTS are rather new in this territory, I am making a special offer during August and September.

THIS IS IT:

Egg Maids are cheaper by the dozen. Therefore, if you and a near neighbor both buy at the same time I will combine the orders to give you the lowest possible price. Will also take your old nests in trade.

Fair directors and a dozen special committees comprised of outstanding business and civic leaders are engaged in completing details of the four day fair to make it the greatest event in its quarter century of progress, according to Fair Secretary Oscar W. Valentine.

Valentine said merchants and civic leaders this year are putting their shoulders to the wheel with more enthusiasm than ever before to assure an agricultural spectacle to outdo all its predecessors and pay the highest tribute to the county's 1,500 youngsters busy with 4-H projects.

The secretary pointed out that the multitude of commercial, educational and entertaining exhibits and the display of hundreds of animals and 4-H projects in the blue ribbon category alone are worth the admission price of 60 cents.

Season tickets, available from township 4-H adult leaders, juniors leaders directors and fair board directors sell for $1 and admit individuals to the four event-packed days of the fair.

VACATIONERS HOME

We find that we have missed some news about vacation trips so are compiling it all into one article.

The trend this summer seems to be eastward.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Holloway and sons had a most interesting vacation trip which took them through Detroit into Canada; Niagara Falls; Alexandria, Virginia where they visited Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lentz and daughter (Mrs. Holloway and Mrs. Lentz are sisters); New York City and Long Island, where they visited Mrs. Holloway's aunt, Mrs. Ernest Scott and family.

Mrs. Ross Scott and daughter, Ethna Scott, returned last week from a two week's visit in Alexandria, Virginia with the Robert Lentz family.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Cooper and Mr. and Mrs. Glen Bradshaw had an interesting two weeks, too. They went into Canada through Detroit and spent some time in the Thousand Island area.

Mr. and Mrs. Pat Walsh vacationed in South Dakota with Pat's mother, who will be remembered by all who met her when she visited here over a year ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Smith spent last week at Ewart, Michigan. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Barkman went up Tuesday and spent the balance of the week there, also.

CARD OF THANKS

I want to thank my friends and relatives for the cards, flowers, gifts and visits I received while in the hospital and after I returned home, as they were very much appreciated.

COMPLAINING OF BOOTLEGGING

Time, as near as I have ever been able to judge, always proves a fact right or wrong. That's one reason why one should weigh each word carefully before it is put into an audible state. There are those among us who remember long enough for time to present its irrefutable proof.

A few years ago liquor bootlegging was a terrible thing for our nation, according to the statements of thousands of Americans. Legalized liquor was returned to end bootlegging—and now the distilling groups are complaining, believe it or not, about bootlegging. A recent trade journal states:

"Any well-versed distilling executive will tell you that in many states, the southeast particularly, much more liquor is sold, tax-free and unbranded, than is sold by the organized, legal liquor industry. He will also tell you that in some cities, Brooklyn for example, more illicit stills are believed to operate today than in the 'driest' days of Prohibition."

People are funny, maybe?

Sun-Burned Pigs

The skin of white pigs and white spots on colored pigs are sensitive to bright sunlight, and severe burns may result from too much exposure. Likelihood of sunburn is increased when the pigs feed on plants that cause an allergic type of skin sensitivity, such as rape pasture. Affected pigs may lose the tips of their ears or whole patches of skin, and badly burned ones never become profitable producers. Keeping pigs off trouble-causing pastures and providing plenty of shade are the best safeguards.

The unit wishes to thank Mrs. Ethel Wagner for the beautiful bouquet of glads for the meeting.

SPEAKING OF FLOWERS

We wish to thank Mrs. Francis Kehoe for the beautiful bouquet of gladioli which she brought to the Co-Op. News office this week. We have enjoyed them and so have others.

Speaking of flowers—has there ever before been a year when the Phlox were so riotously beautiful? We can see the gardens of our neighbors, Mrs. Rose and Mrs. Borton and can't remember them ever being lovelier. We don't know whether it's the unusually faithful "tending" or whether it's those frequent "pokings" in February and March, but those gardens really are responding.

The Tucker-Rewoldt gardens, which can be seen from our kitchen window, have been full of color all season. The large semi-circle of petunias, flanking the driveway, is especially eye-catching.

Our own flower beds, this year have been like Topsy. "Just grewed."

Jack Riner, who has been stationed at San Diego, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Curt Riner, before shipping out.

THE YELLOW-BREASTED CHAT

If birds had circuses, one of the stars of the big top would be the Yellow-Breasted Chat. A comical fellow, he reminds you of a clown when he takes to the air, with his wings fluttering crazily and his legs dangling loosely beneath him.

What's more, he ranks second only to the mockingbird as an imitator. A solo by the Yellow-Breasted Chat is an amazing variety of clucks, quacks, mews, purrs, whistles, toots and squawks. With short pauses between numbers, he reels off a long concert of jerky songs and sounds.

To top it off, the Chat is an expert ventriloquist—the best in the bird kingdom. Just when you think you know where he is, the sounds begin to come from first one spot and then another. At last you discover that the clever bird has never moved at all, but has been throwing his voice here

National Wildlife Federation. He is much too shy ever to stay before an audience. Instead he hides in dense shrubs and tangled vines which are growing on hillsides and abandoned pastures.

If you do get a quick glimpse of the Chat family, you will notice that both the male and the female are similar in appearance. Their upper parts are an olive-green tinged with brown. Bright yellow extends downward from the throat, fading out into white underneath.

Their most unusual mark is a white line above and below the eyes, giving them the appearance of wearing spectacles. The Chat's bill and feet also attract attention, because they are solid black.

The colorful bird spends his winter all the way from Mexico south to Costa Rica. When spring rolls around, he heads northward, sometimes stopping in Florida and other states on the Gulf of Mexico, but often going as far as Iowa, Montana and New England.

and there to fool you. He often uses the trick to lure intruders away from his nest.

The Yellow-Breasted Chat has one big drawback as a performer, says the selves and their young. Insects are their favorite food, but they also eat berries and other fruit.

After a summer of rearing their families and performing their stunts of song and flight, the Yellow-Breasted Chats are off to their winter quarters. By August or early September, reports the National Wildlife Federation, they are southward bound.

LIBRARY NEWS

Thursday was a "special" day for Group I of the Recreation Reading Club. A "Doll and Toy Show" was the main event of the morning. Each boy and girl brought their favorite toy or doll. Mrs. Raymond Lewis, in charge of the program, with the help of the boys and girls judged the show, and, strange to say, every toy and doll won a prize because every one was unusual in some way.

Mrs. Lewis told the children the story of the "Toy Rabbit Who Lost His Ribbonbow" and the story of "Tit for Tat Tommy."

Group II also had a very fine program. Mr. Joseph Jones told the inspiring story of the "Book of Esther." Mrs. David Gosser conducted a Bible contest using pictures of Bible characters.

This week each group will enjoy a moving picture film. Be sure to be there boys and girls.

W. S. C. S. ENJOYS PICNIC

On Thursday evening, several members of the Woman's Society of Christian Service enjoyed a picnic supper at the Methodist Church. The tables were arranged on the church lawn by Mrs. Lamar Anderson and Mrs. Folsom Newell, who also served coffee during the meal.

A business meeting followed. Mrs. Dan Urschel presided over this session which was held in the church sanctuary. After proper action, the usual reports were disposed of and several other business items discussed. Members are urged to begin now, working on and soliciting for articles to be used in various booths we expect to have at the Fall Bazaar. A tentative date has been set early in November and suggestions or ideas will be gladly accepted by the President of Committee Members working on plans for this event.

Mrs. Earl Anderson conducted a short period of devotions, after which Mrs. Robert Perkins reviewed the lessons for the past three months. Our last two meetings had been filled with other programs, thus she presented outstanding facts from this material. Her discussion of these topics was most interesting and in closing, she lead the group in a period of prayer.

THINGS NOT SEEN

You cannot see the stormy wind,
But still—the trees bend low,
You cannot see the Master's care,
And yet—it's there, you know,
You cannot see the air you breathe,
And yet—you know it's there,
You cannot see the Saviour's love,
And see it everywhere.
