Street Scene in Warsaw in 1868--The Tucker Triplet Calves

Away back 71 years ago in the spring of 1868, three years after the Civil war's end, on Warsaw's busiest corner was pictured the above street scene. The late Horace Tucker, Elder, township pioneer, father of the late Albert Tucker, was exhibiting a "Strange As It Seems" oddity of triplet calves and their mother, who are in foreground in the above photo. The calves and their mother, exhibited in 1876 at the Centennial Exposition at Philadelphia, attracted wide attention. The cut was made from a photo belonging to Lloyd Rickel, Mentone's postmaster. Not much is known about the identity of persons or exact location of the above street scene. It is believed to have been taken at the intersection of Center and Buffalo sts. It is a remarkable photo for having been made with the photographic equipment available at that time. Close study of the above photo will disclose a saddle horse, a two wheeled wagon, an on-looker wearing a stovepipe hat and long tailed coat, another in boots and at the extreme left a woman in hoop skirts. Postmaster says man in foreground in front of cows is Pioneer Tucker, according to the information given him by the late Albert Tucker.

NOVEL DEVICE ELIMINATES R. R. CROSSING ACCIDENTS

There is a novel new device designed to eliminate accidents at railroad grade crossings.

Word comes from the Chicago Motor club that two Pennsylvania inventors have constructed a mechanism which would automatically halt a car approaching a railroad when a train was passing or nearing the crossing.

"Operated by electrical impulses between one attachment on the track rails and another in the automobile, the ignition would be cut off in the car and the brakes applied at the approach of a train," George Barton, chief engineer of the motor club explained.

A CUSTOMER

I don't have to buy in Mentone more for my money than at any county. I travel Northern Indiana to compare quality and prices. Not even a third cousin in business is as good as I am, simply because we can save money by buying in bulk. We can buy the socks, shoes, chicken feed, groceries, wear out your tires and burn gas and not offer you anything you can't get elsewhere.

I have yet to find the time I can't find a car in Mentone and that's something I don't give a whoop where you do your business. It's my business to save it for me.

TRUTH about

JUST WHAT IS

A FEW months ago, according to that beguiling writer, Bruce Barton, a large factory caught fire. It burned to the ground. Sirens shrieked. Crowds milled. Firemen fought the flames. Newspaper reporters scurried here and there after stories. Consternation reigned.

Amid all this confusion the most serene man in sight was the president of the factory, the man who should have been the most excited. Alighting from his car, he strolled over to where that which he had spent years in building was becoming a total loss. He was calm, at ease, undisturbed.

A newspaper man spied him, asked him why he was no more concerned. He explained that the loss was fully covered by insurance and that, besides, the most valuable asset of the business hadn't even been touched by the fire. "To what asset do you refer, Mr. Burlingame?"

"Why, to our good will. We can build a new factory—now we'll have to. We can buy new machinery—better machinery than was in the old plant. As long as the good will of a business is intact, nothing else matters," he concluded.

He was right. The most impor-

GOOD WILL?

tant thing a business man has is the good will of his customers. Every business which has that is successful; every business which does not have it fails.

Good will is not a mysterious quality like genius. It is a simple, commonsense matter depending upon doing simple, commonsense things.

The first of these consists of giving good value and service, that the business may win and hold friends. The second consists of making the fact that the business is the kind which wins and holds friends known to its customers, by telling them of its ideals and its services and its merchandise.

This telling process is called advertising. Whenever a manufacturer or a merchant advertises in the newspaper he informs you that he is the kind of business man whom it would pay you to patronize. He makes public the fact that he wants good will and that he realizes the only way he can keep it is by living up to his promises.

You as a customer get more for your money when you patronize a concern with good will. Good will is proof that the concern has done something to warrant the friendship and confidence of its customers.

You see, good will doesn't just happen. It is created—by good goods, by good service, by good advertising.

MRS ROHRABAUGH ILL

Mrs. Frank Rohrbaugh is seriously ill at her home in Mentone.

HOROSCOPE

JUNE 3, 4, 5—You are possessed of much caution but sometimes become reckless and go on a rampage. You look well into all your undertakings in order to not be compromised in any way. New undertakings which promise much at the beginning do not always prove so bright in the end. But remember character is developed and strengthened by frustration. Keep the caustic vein in your nature under control. You resent harsh criticism of yourself.

JUNE 6, 7—While you have a clear intelligent mind you are swayed more by impression in your calculation of things than by reasoning. You are wholesome and honest in thought and purpose but often times you fail to reach your ideal and this makes you unhappy. In the business world you are not always a success and you do possess a very sympathetic nature. Be careful of your tendency to leap before you look and do not depend too much on intuition. You have a love for harmony, truth and fair dealings.

JUNE 8, 9, 10—Above all things learn caution. Be sure you are right before you proceed and don't try to force the seemingly impossible. Learn patience. You are an interesting talker but possess limited business ability. It is better for you to be employed by some one instead of owning a business of your own. You are a strong lover.

100-Year-Old Receipts Found in Furniture

PAINESVILLE, OHIO.—Six receipts, almost 100 years old, were discovered in some old furniture by E. L. Cunningham. One of them dated February 19, 1840, is for a load of wood valued at 75 cents to be exchanged for a subscription to the Painesville Telegraph from February 10 to July 25, 1840.

Goat Sacrificed on Altar

In a dance hall in the East End of London recently a goat's throat was cut and its blood offered at the improvised altar during a Moslem feast of sacrifice. Five hundred Mahomedans from all parts of the British Empire crowded into the hall to celebrate the feast—their principal festival of the year. The dance floor had been covered with white linen cloth. In another part of the hall were long tables loaded with food ready for the banquet. The feasters brought their own food and their own cooks. No infidel hand was allowed to touch anything. The cooking utensils were huge burnished copper Indian cauldrons.

Alaska Salmon Will Be Studied by Scientists

WASHINGTON.—Scientists of the bureau of fisheries this summer are starting a thoroughgoing investigation of the salmon fisheries of Bristol bay, Alaska, for several years the scene of Japanese fishing operations.

The Bristol bay region is famous as the most important area in North America for the production of red salmon, its fishery products having an annual value of about $12,000,000.

The Japanese have explored the high seas fishing grounds and know a lot about the salmon, but scant information is available in Washington as to what happens to the salmon after they leave the rivers for their migration to the sea until they return to the shore areas to spawn.

Some of the questions for which federal experts soon hope to find an answer are: Where are the feeding grounds of Bristol bay salmon during their sojourn at sea, covering a period of from one to four years? At what time of the year and where, do the schools of salmon congregate before they start their swim to shore? What are the routes of this migration, and what are the factors affecting the migration, such as age, food supply, growth and homing instinct? And what legislation or administration action is necessary to conserve the supply of salmon?

No one likes to hear a man knock or run down his town or the people in it. Whenever we hear such a person our first impulse is to move out of range of his voice. Without exception the mental response is "If you don't like this town and the people in it, why don't you move out of it? Two Minute Sermon

By

Thomas Hastwell

THE MAGIC SUNSHINE OF HAPPINESS: In a group discussion recently the question came up as to how one might go about doing good to those with whom they came in contact. Many persons one meets, it was pointed out, are not in need of any service or thing. How is one to do them good? The answer of one of the group was, "by just being happy yourself."

At first thought this may sound like a thoughtless answer, but it is far from it. In fact I know of no better way that one can do good to those with whom he comes in contact or meets during the day than by just being happy, by radiating happiness and sunshine and optimism. If you have never tried it you do not know how other hearts reach out for that sort of companionship to satisfy the natural hunger of the human heart to be happy. The happy heart accomplishes two things in this world. It helps in many ways its possessor and gives to him or her a keener joy of living. It also helps everyone with whom its possessor comes in contact. It is a great power for good. It is splendid medicine for countless human ills.

And so if you want to be known among a wide circle of friends as one who goes about doing good, just be a happy spirit and your presence will be blessed of all who know you, and your circle of friends will reach as far as you are known, for of happiness, and the magic of its warm sunshine, the world has never had enough.

Electrical Show, July 6-7

On Otis Nellans Farm

The biggest electrical show in the country, the REA farm equipment tour, comes to this territory July 6 and 7, and opens its two-day show Thursday night at 7:30 p. m. The huge tent, covering more than one-sixth of an acre, will be pitched on the fields of the Otis Nellans farm, on the Marshall-Fulton County line, road 2 1/2 miles west of state road 31.

The big equipment caravan is brought here by the Marshall County Cooperative, and neighboring cooperatives in Fulton County, in cooperation with the Purdue University Extension Service, electrical farm equipment manufacturers, and the Rural Electrification Administration, to give rural electric users a chance to see a wide variety of equipment and household appliances in actual operation under farm conditions.

The program Thursday evening included a cooking contest, a lighting demonstration featuring the new low voltage lighting fixtures, a wiring demonstration, and general discussion of irrigation systems, motors, and various farm equipment.

On the next day, starting out at 8:30 and carrying through all day and evening with intermissions for lunch and supper, the show will provide continuous demonstrations on the machinery line-up near the big tent, conducted by Mr. Dan Teare of REA, and Mr. Heinton, Mr. Colmeier of the State Extension Service, and demonstrations on the big top of a special interest to farm women.

That farm families may come prepared to stay all day without the bother of packing a lunch, an all-day lunch stand manned by local farm women will be in continuous operation, serving up hot food. The lunch stand itself is a demonstration of the large capacity of all home electrical appliances. Ordinary hotplates, electric roasters, and coffee makers will carry the whole burden of food preparation.

Just like a less serious circus, there will be a long midway between the tent and the demonstration line. On the midway instead of the India rubber man, bearded lady and snake charmer, these side-shows will be exhibits set up in house trailers, tents, and in the open, of new and economical electrical farm equipment. Local dealers will have display spaces inside the big tent.

Keeping the Old Pot Boiling

All farmers in the demonstration area are urged to attend whether they are now users of electricity or not.

HIBSCHMAN REUNION

BOOSTERS TO PLAY
WABASH PLAIN DEALERS

Talma Boosters will go to Wabash Sunday, June 18th where they will meet the Wabash Plain Dealers. The Boosters enjoy the distinction of being one of the best clubs in Fulton county. They have lost only one game this season, a 11-6 affair to South Bend last Sunday. The Plain Dealers have lost three games.

Ed Creakbaum and Whitie Barkman will take turns on the pitching mound and Don Lyons will be behind the bat for the Boosters. Funny Smith, Veteran Booster out-fielder joined the team Sunday after being out due to injuries. He will appear in center field Sunday.

The Boosters will play the Wabash Eagles June 25th, on the Talma diamond.

BIRTHS

Kesler

Mr. and Mrs. Nenian Kesler are the proud parents of a baby daughter, born at the Marshall county hospital in Plymouth Wednesday morning, June 7. The child has been named Barbara Jane. Mrs. Kesler was formerly Miss Esther Miller of near Rochester.

HOROSCOPE

JUNE 11, 12, 13—You are an idealist and very sensitive. You possess many good friends upon whom you often give vent to your feelings and thereby wound their feelings. When you get down in the depths you want to be left alone. As a general rule you are kind and loving, but at times obstinate and sometimes harsh. You are led strongly by impressions and intuitions. You make decisions quickly. You have high ideals and are proud and affectionate.

JUNE 14, 15—You are of a restless disposition and like to change location and positions often. Seeking advice often, you seldom use it. Usually you keep a tight string on your purse but very infrequently are generous to a friend. Regarding your own affairs you keep your own council except to a few friends.

JUNE 16, 17, 18—You love luxury and ease. You are musically inclined but do not have a trend for business. You are inclined to be gloomy and even your most loyal friends can not bring you from the depths. You underestimate your own value and fail to recognize how much your friends appreciate you. Stop finding fault with yourself and doubting your own ability.

MOTORING TIPS

A bee can wreck your car!

You may have thought that unusual things cause automobile accidents, but the idea of a honey-bee being able to cause a highway catastrophe seems incredible. Yet it's perfectly true.

George Barton, head of the Chicago Motor club safety and traffic department, points out that the sudden appearance of bees and other stinging winged insects in cars causes many accidents every summer. Typically, driver and occupants are thrown into a panic, and needlessly, too, because the noise and vibration of the car bewilders the bee so much that his only motive during his frenzied flight is escape.

"Entomologists have proved that bees are less likely to sting while in a moving car than at any other time" Mr. Barton said. "Being under a roof and whirled along in the car they are intent only on 'going away from there'".

Just roll down the window a crack, ignore your little winged 'hitch-hiker, and he'll blow out without harming anyone.

A not far distant day when hotels and other public centers will have a mailomat. This new machine automatically prints a metered stamp on letters inserted in it upon deposit of the necessary coins, and then holds them for postal collection.

Air-conditioning for Ringling Bros. Barnum and Bailey circus.

A new process for coating tobacco with wax to destroy harshness and preserve aroma.

Father's Day, June 18.

A crayon which will write indelibly on either hot or cold metals.

Sale of a new midget automobile through department stores, thus reverting to a practice once tried during the motor industry's infancy.

JESSIE RUSH, Editor and Mgr.

This town is what the people living here have made it, nothing more, nothing less. It will be in the future, next and the next year what the people now living here make it. If each one goes about his own business and gives no thought or effort toward improving the town it will not progress or advance. Of itself it cannot. We talk much about making our town a better town, but as long as we have no plan or make no definite effort toward making it a better town, it is not going to improve very fast. In other words our town will be what we plan to make it. All that it is necessary to do is to select an objective, one definite thing to do and then get behind it and stay behind it until it is accomplished. Every town that has made progress has done it in just this way, and this formula will bring progress to any town that sincerely applies it.

We've seen a lot of encomiums incorporated in obituaries written by admiring but inept friends of the departed, but we don't recall that we ever saw one in which it was stated that the neighbors of the deceased found nothing in him to criticize.

The reason why some folks never get anything ahead is that a dollar coming in looks like ten, but when it is going out it looks like a dime.

Statistics show that the women of this country spend $700,000 a day in beauty shops. Though somewhat of a shock to the thrifty element in our nature we believe that the results justify the expenditure.

In a recent battle in which the Chinese recaptured Jungpeh it is claimed that 4000 Japanese were killed. The Japanese claim that 30,000 Chinese were killed. The incident reminds us of the following: A Chinese was employed as a waiter at a city club. Some of the members thinking to have some fun with the Oriental said: "John, I notice by the paper that there was a big battle in China yesterday, 100 Japanese were killed and 200 Chinese." The only reply of the waiter was a smile. The next day they tried it again and said: "John, I notice by the paper that there was another big battle yesterday in which 200 Japanese were killed and 400 Chinese." Again the answer was only a smile. The third day they tried it again and said:

"John, I notice that in the battle in China yesterday 400 Japanese were killed and 800 Chinese." "Velly good," the Oriental said as a smile spread over his usual placid countenance, "bye and bye all Japanese be killed."

Every once in a while we wish that we were endowed with the ability to deliver a straight from the shoulder haymaker that would be as effective and as altogether satisfactory as those delivered by the movie heroes in some of our Thursday night shows.

It begins to look as though the movie "Gone With The Wind" has done just that.

The fellow who wrote, "Man wants but little here below," never had much experience with the human race.

The Lord loves a cheerful giver, but neither the Lord nor any one else likes to here him brag about it.

Crypt of Skulls

One of the most gruesome sights that tourists see in Rome, and thousands seem to like the gruesome, is in the crypt of the Capuchin monastery, where five or six rooms are filled with human skulls actually embedded in the walls and ceilings.

Two Minute Sermon

By
Thomas Hastwell

I AM NOT ASHAMED: In his letter to the Christians at Rome, Paul said: "I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ; for it is the power of God unto salvation to everyone that believeth." To understand the full import of the meaning conveyed by this expression of Paul's one must remember that at that time, the followers of Christ, chosen from among fishermen and men in the lowly walks of life, with no churches or buildings in which to conduct their meetings, were contrasted with the Jewish organization, strongly organized, amply financed, and provided with splendid temples and synagogues. Certainly the Christian group suffered by comparison with it.

In view of these conditions it required no little courage and conviction on the part of Paul to stand out before this Jewish aristocracy and say: "I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ." I have often thought, as I have read this, what a tribute it was to Paul's faith and conviction. I have thought too, how many today, in a world filled with believers in Christ, lack the courage and the conviction to stand up even with the majority and declare themselves as did Paul. It is vastly easier today, than it was in Paul's day, to take a stand with Christ, but how many there are who lack Paul's courage to take that stand.

SAM BLUE EMPLOYED YELLOW STONE NAT'L PARK

Child's Legal Name

The legal last name of a child, whose mother has remarried is the name of his father. While the woman might call him by the name of her second husband, there would be no legal sanction for the designation. The child might legally acquire his stepfather's name by being formally adopted by the stepfather or by petitioning to have his name changed when he reached the age of 21.

Largest Buildings

St. Peter's in Rome is not the biggest building in Europe, though guides often give out that information. The Palace of Justice at Brussels covers an area that is 12 per cent greater. In the United States, the capitol of Texas is the largest building devoted to government or public affairs.

'Pure Dye' Silks

"Pure-dye" silks originally meant that the silk had been dyed "pure," that is, without weighting (which is often used to give body and appearance of quality to silks). Later the term was used to describe silk containing varying amounts of weighting, such as metallic salts and substances that wash out.

Barnacles

Barnacle is the name of an order of marine crustacean animals always found as parasites on other marine animals or attached to some foreign object, such as a ship's bottom, rocks, piles, or floating timbers. They have a partially segmented body, surrounded by a mantle which is generally calcified and forms a shell. They have no heart, gills, or other organs of respiration and live either as parasites or by feeding on small marine animals.

'Devil's Bible'

The "Devil's Bible" is the name given to a manuscript of the Bible taken to Stockholm after the Thirty Years' war. It is beautifully written on 300 asses' skins. Legend says it is the work of a monk condemned to death, who by selling himself to Satan was enabled to save his life by meeting the condition that he should copy the whole Bible on asses' skins in one night.

First SOS Call

On January 23, 1909, the steamer Republic was struck by another ship, the Florida, in a dense fog off Nantucket Lightship. Jack Binns, Marconi operator on the Republic, sent out the CQD signal, the first SOS call, which resulted in saving the lives of all on board the sinking ship.

Do You Know That

Garbage thrown behind the house or into the alley is almost sure to breed flies? And that if such material is kept in regular garbage cans and removed one or twice each week that there will be far less flies in our town?

Flies are very industrious in their search for food, even when it is right at hand, crawling over the surface thereof and evidently searching for more dainty morsels. On their excursions of this character they may carry with them, particularly on the hairy parts of the legs, the organisms of infectious disease, the eggs of various parasites, and organic filth. Should they next visit our tables, alight on open sores or wounds, or crawl about the eyes and mouths of infants for example, this dangerous material is distributed in places that readily provide the sources of infection of any one of a number of diseases and parasitic infections.

If you would like to have less flies in our town, would you support THE TOWN BOARD IN A PROGRAM OF GARBAGE COLLECTION.

Dozens of local fishermen rushed to Kosciusko county lakes and streams Thursday evening for the opening of the fishing season at midnight. The largest catch made by a Mentone fisherman, to our knowledge, was a four and one quarter pound bass, landed by Ralph Ernsberger. He and his companions, K. A. Riner and C. E. Walburn also caught a three and a quarter pounder. The total weight of their catch was twelve pounds, four ounces. These fish were caught from a lake in Kosciusko county, but we were asked not to divulge the name of said infested waters.

MENTONE— TEN YEARS AGO

Ten years ago this week C. W. Kranthwohl mailed out the first issue of The Community Farm News. Mentone had been without journalistic representation for nearly two years. He had secured the services of Don A. Bunner, who acted in the capacity of associate editor and advertising solicitor. Don had just finished a course in Journalism at Indiana university. Miss Marjorie Robbins Halterman, formerly with the Gazette staff, was also employed at the News office.

Elmer Baker suffered a broken collar bone and bruises about the head that week, when he fell from the roof of the Anna Blue house. About nine years previous to this accident Mr. Baker suffered similar injuries in a fall from the roof of the William Blue home.

The advisory committee of the Stop Thief Association, made up of R. E. Riner, F. L. Busenburg, and John Weissert, were making a drive for new memberships, in order to reimburse their treasury before the spring chickens were large enough for the thieve market.

Allen Turner, 72, former citizen of Mentone, passed away at his home in Warsaw. He was the brother of the late James Turner.

Death also took Mrs. Naoda Metz, 78, that week. She was the mother of Ed Whetstone, Mrs. H. D. Pontius and Mrs. Milo Howard of Burket.

Stern & Brauner, New York Egg Buyers, were paying 36½¢ for Henny whites extras, and 40¢ for Henny browns fcy, sel.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Nellans celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary.

Ira Anderson, just out of Indiana university, began work at Marshall Field & Co., wholesale plant.

Miles Manwaring returned home from Indiana university and left almost immediately for Denver, Colo., where he was employed in the Troutdale Hotel in the Rocky mountains. Miles didn't divulge the nature of his duties.

Clayton Clutter returned home from Ohio State for a few days before taking up his duties in the Columbus Water Co.

"A Hot Day", a two-act comedy, was presented by the Mentone Epworth League.

Charles Manwaring had just secured the position as Assistant Director of a large Boy Scout Camp at McCormick Creek Canyon State Park, Spencer, Indiana.

That was the week that the citizens of Mentone got a taste of the thrill of Chicago gangland when state police officer, Pearson, and Art Keller, deputy sheriff of Marshall county drove into town in a bullet riddled and mud besmeared Buick coach. When the bandits, Whitsell and Shireman appeared, a running gun battle ensued. Jud Pittinger of Warsaw was shot in the neck by Whitsell but none of the other officers were injured.

We unearthed these old issues of The Community Farm News while doing a bit of house cleaning last week. From now on we will run in this column, a brief resume of the carryings-on in Mentone ten years ago.

ATTEND 4-H ROUND-UP AT PURDUE UNIVERSITY

The following local 4-H Club members attended the 4-H Round-Up at Purdue university last week: eDan Shirey, Lewis Reed, Mary Mellott and Margaret Swick. These club members won the free trip on the merit of their judging and the latter on baking demonstration. They left Monday morning and returned to their homes Wednesday evening.

Every 4-H Club boy and girl in the state of Indiana should plan to work towards a trip to the Indiana State Fair, as it is one of the greatest educational exhibits that is held in the state of Indiana for one full week. Any 4-H Club member can secure a pamphlet put out especially by the Indiana State Fair for 4-H work by seeing his county agent.

The Indiana Board of Agriculture takes great pride in the 4-H Club work at the State Fair and has a real record of helping boost the 4-H Club boys and girls of Indiana. They have had this record for the past fifteen years. This will not only be a pleasure trip for every boy and girl who attends, but an educational one as well.

TRUTH about ADVERTISING

By CHARLES B. ROTH

HIGH PRESSURE SALESMANSHIP

A SALESMAN, 10 years ago unscrupulous but successful, came in to see me today with his troubles. He no longer makes sales. I asked him what he thought was the matter.

"That's just it," said he. "I don't know. I give 'em the works—but they don't buy."

This man is a salesman of the old school—a worshipper at the shrine of high pressure salesmanship. His methods no longer make sales. He thinks he's losing his grip.

That is not the trouble. The truth is that high-pressure salesmanship is out, is dead, is obsolete, is without power to make sales in these days of greater education.

People haven't changed, but they have become better educated in the higher education of taking care of themselves and their money. The process which brought about this education is newspaper advertising. It used to be possible for a glib talker to take almost anything out to sell, no matter how worthless or inferior, and by sheer high-pressure selling to "clean up." But not now.

Even the lowliest buyer knows that certain claims are untrue, and that the price asked for certain items is excessive. These things he knows because advertising, his refuge against false claims, told him so.

The average customer today is much better informed than even professional buyers were 20 years ago.

The housewife knows which foods contain vitamins, which contain vegetable oils, which contain expensive ingredients and the like. She knows the effect of this or that product.

She is never, therefore, at the mercy of the high-pressure artist who seeks to rob her by giving her less than others and charging her more for it.

Advertising in the newspapers, which she consults regularly, has built into her life an expert knowledge of values and prices and qualities. These make her an extraordinarily well informed person.

He who would sell the average customer must come with good value, a fair price and high quality. Otherwise he won't get even a hearing, because we have something now with which to compare unknown or new goods—and we are quick to reject those that do not measure up.

Much more than a selling aid for business is advertising. It is an educational system which is making Americans the best-educated buyers in the world. It is an economic system which is giving Americans more for their money every day.

The Alabama Claims

The Alabama claims were claims of the United States against Great Britain, for losses inflicted on shipping by the Alabama, Shenandoah and other Confederate vessels. fitted out in British ports during the Civil war. The United States claimed $19,021,428 in direct losses and many times that amount in indirect losses. The matter was arbitrated in 1871, and in the following year the Geneva Tribunal awarded the United States an indemnity of $15,500,000 in gold. This was paid by Great Britain in 1873.

Trumpeter and Whistling Swan

The trumpeter swan is often confused with the whistling swan. The trumpeter is much larger, with a bill entirely black and nostrils placed midway between tip of bill and eye. The whistling has a yellow spot on each side of the bill, the nostrils nearer the tip of the bill and is considerably smaller. The plumage of both is pure white.

Where 'Mad' Means 'Insane'

The word "mad" is never "cross" or "angry" in England, as it is sometimes used here; there "mad" is always "insane."

Richest Salt Deposits

The richest salt deposits in the world are those in Russia. The most noted of the world's salt deposits is the one at Weiliczka, in the Carpathian mountains, where salt mines have been worked since the Eleventh century. A deposit here is said to be 500 miles long, 30 miles wide and 1,200 feet thick, from which is mined the purest rock salt in the world.

Reckless Accusation

"Truth," said the man who quotes, "is at the bottom of a well." "I suppose so," answered the statesman, "and I think it would be equally proper to say that falsehood is a hydrant that anybody can turn on at a moment's notice."

'Manpower Vehicle'

died it produced in the heart and mind of every person a feeling of a loss even to those who had never known Dr. Mayo except by reputation. To those who had in the past visited his great clinic at the little town of Rochester, Minnesota, and had been restored to health through the genius of its staff, there came even a deeper sense of loss. What was there about this man that his name should become a household word throughout the nation and that his going should so touch so many thousands? Simply that he had dedicated his life to the service of mankind. He, with his brother Will, established in the little town of Rochester, Minnesota, a clinic, a hospital, dedicated to the service of suffering and ailing humanity, that, because of his genius and devotion, became the shrine of health seekers of a dozen continents.

Much might be said of Dr. Mayo but no greater truth for his greatness has ever been spoken than that he gave his life in service to mankind. Rochester, Minn., is known this nation over, not for its parks and streets and fine buildings, but because one man put upon it the imprint of a great soul, a soul that was dedicated to the principle of service to mankind. Such it was that brought greatness to the unknown village of Nazareth and made of the lowly manger of its wayside stable the shrine of all ages.

He Was a Beauty

'Great Graves'

Among certain tribes of Indians in Colombia and Ecuador not long ago, the depth of a person's grave was gauged by his former standing and influence. Definition of Evening

By definition "evening" is the latter part and close of the day and early part of darkness or night; the period from sunset or from the evening meal to ordinary bedtime, no definite later limit being fixed. The word is also used locally in England and in our southern states to include the period from noon to and including sunset and twilight.

The Curse of Scotland

The origin of the superstition that the nine of diamonds is the curse of Scotland is uncertain, but one of the most plausible explanations is that in the game of comette, introduced by Queen Mary, it is the great winning card. It caused ruin to so many families that it became known as a curse.

Every good word that is said for Mentone boosts the stock of the town and every institution in it, and every disparaging word that is said against Mentone depreciates just as much the stock of the home town and every institution in it. If this town has any low spots keep them to yourself, but plan to do something about it. If it has good things, tell the world about them.

Be an optimist. Look on the bright side of things. Believe that there are better things ahead and that next year will be better than this year. Such a philosophy will not only help the individual who possesses it but it will help everyone with whom he comes in contact.

Most anyone with the means can build an impersonal sort of a home, but it is a true art to build a home that expresses in every nook and corner the personality and life and soul of the builder.

"Times surely change," a reader of this paper said in this office yesterday. "A long time ago in England, Robin Hood got in bad with his government by taking the wealth away from the well-to-do and giving it to the poor. Today in this country the same thing is being done by law."

A merchants advertising, if it is well prepared, and gives the reader desired information, is not only helpful to the merchant in creating sales but it is a service to the reader—a service that many people appreciate.

Most people are too busy today to go from store to store shopping for what they want to buy. Through the medium of advertising, the daily papers and mail order catalogues, they have developed a habit of doing their shopping through the printed page. They prefer to do it this way, and appreciate as a service the advertising of the merchant who tells in a printed ad the things he has to sell and their uses.

By the time one reaches the point where he sits with his class through a baccalaureate sermon he should know how to spell the word.

There is no place in business or any place else for a careless, indifferent worker.

For 't lieth afar from our sight;
But we know that its hills are eternally green,
And it's rivers are rivers of light.
There the songs of redeemed ones forever arise,
And the king in his beauty they see.
O beautiful land, with thy shadowless skies,
My weary heart yearneth for thee.
Oh beautiful, beautiful Land!
Oh land where all sorrow shall cease!
Where the soul, satisfied, evermore shall abide,
By the fair shining river of peace!

All-Year Skating Material

Iceolite is a chemical combination of mineral and vegetable ingredients blended together in a homogeneous mixture. It provides a skating surface with all the characteristics of natural ice, but has greater rigidity and a harder, more slippery surface. It is impervious to moisture, may be used in or outdoors, and is not injurious to flesh or clothing. The surface will last indefinitely.

Foreign Trade

The United States has approximately 13 per cent of the world's export trade and 11.4 per cent of its import trade. The country has exports of about $2,000,000,000 and imports approximating $1,800,000,000.

First Electric Locomotive

The first locomotive to employ electric power made a trial trip April 29, 1875, on the Washington & Baltimore branch of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad at a speed of 19 miles an hour. It was invented by Professor C. C. Page. The first electric locomotives to be put in service on railroads were on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad in 1895, for use in their Baltimore tunnels, and were built by the General Electric company.

Latin America

Latin America comprises all those portions of this hemisphere to the south of the United States in which one or another of the Latin languages is the native tongue. It includes Brazil, which speaks Portuguese; Haiti, which speaks French; Puerto Rico, Spanish-speaking dependency of the United States, and the 18 Spanish-speaking republics from the Rio Grande to Cape Horn. It is not usually considered to include any of the European colonial possessions.

Pygmy Custom

When a band of pygmies in the French Cameroons in West Africa kill an elephant for food, they usually return home to get their tents and families in order to live close to the new meat supply, as it is easier to move the village to the elephant than the elephant to the village.

Railroad Mileage

Counting only main line tracks there are more than 600,000 miles of railways in the world, or enough to circle the globe more than 21 times. The United States, with 238,500 miles of tracks, leads Soviet Russia, in second place, by more than four to one. Belgium, with 5,000 miles, has the smallest mileage.

To Swim, or Not to Swim

Women in America spend about $25,000,000 a year for bathing suits. Clothing merchants place them in two classifications—suits for those who actually go in the water, and suits for sun-bathers. Only about half of the bathing suits ever get closer to the water than a washtub.

Dust With Paper

A new dusting paper lately introduced can boast of triple virtues since it cleans and polishes at the same time that it removes the dust. The paper is much more practical and sanitary than cloths, so keep an eye out for it the next time you go shopping.

Do You Know That

A pair of flies born in April may give origin to millions by August? Do not let those millions come into existence. Keep the first pair from breeding.

To rid a town of flies, everybody, mush do his bit. Flies breed in filth, feed on it, live in it, and contaminate everything they lay their hairy legs on. It is a very good thing to swat, trap, or poison flies, but it is still better to prevent their breeding by keeping garbage in garbage pails, with close-fitting covers, which should be emptied and the garbage disposed of once or twice a week.

MENTONE, INDIANA Co-Op. Service Station,

MENTONE— TEN YEARS AGO

Mentone took on a city aspect ten years ago this week with the opening of its first suburban grocery. Russel Dillingham of Illinois opened a grocery in the south part of town. You remember Clifford Sult, who had an auto repair shop in the back of the building.

Miss Helene Bashore and Mr. Marshall Eaton were united in marriage that week at the home of the bride's parents in Silver Lake.

Mrs. Mary Hisey, 78, passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Miles W. Perschbacher near Talma.

Robert E. Snyder, son of Mr. and Mrs. I. F. Snyder assumed an important position with R. R. Donnelly & Sons in Chicago.

Chas. Shafer was able to be down to the Big Drug Store a few hours each day, following an operation at the Wesleyan hospital in Chicago.

Sinclair Oil Co. expanded their plant and added two new storage tanks and a new ware house that week. R. A. Arnsberger was in charge of the Sinclair Station at that time.

Clark's Store announced that they had sold over 3,300 pounds of Just Rite coffee since the first of January. Just Rite coffee was George's own blend of select Bogota and Bourbon. It was selling at 39c a pound then, and they had sold nearly two tons of the stuff.

People were exclaiming that week over the quick justice meted out to the two bandits, Shireman and Whitsell. Four days after their capture they entered the state reformatory on a charge of conspiracy to commit a felony.

Warsaw City Council and the County Commissioners, signed an order for new bullet-proof vests for their police force and law enforcers, as a result of the gun wound suffered by Jud Pittinger the previous week.

Pittinger was getting a lot remarks about foolishly sticking his head out and getting hit, but at the same time there was a lot of credit coming his way for being one officer who was not afraid to perform his duty.

FARM EQUIPMENT SHOW TO OPEN JULY 6th

The big REA Equipment Show is set for Thursday and Friday, July 6th and 7th. The big tent will go up on the fields of the Otis Nellans farm, near Argos on the Marshall Co. line road. Everything will be in order for the first evening show at 7:30.

Meals large enough for a half dozen hungry harvest hands will be prepared in the exhibit kitchen by Mrs. Enola Retherford, REA home economist, as a part of the evening program. Mrs. Retherford will supervise the all-electric lunch tent in which local farm club women will be on the job all day and evening, serving up hot meals.

At 10:30 Friday morning and until late afternoon the men will see local grains, sorghums, hay, and fodder shelled, ground, elevated, and cut or chaffed.

The dairy section will show various types of milkers, cream separators and coolers, in conjunction with the household refrigerator.

The women, in the meantime, may attend extensive programs in the big tent, where there will be groups to study kitchen planning, electric cookery with the range and care and selection of household appliances.

Every farmer in this area, whether he uses or plans to use electricity or not, will find the demonstrations of great interest and profit and all are urged to attend.

TRUTH about ADVERTISING

By CHARLES B. ROTH

MEMORY COURSE IN 1,000 LESSONS

THE German psychologist, Ebbinghaus, a careful, scholarly observer of the workings of the human mind, has said that we forget 90 per cent of what we learn within 24 hours. From your own experience you know that what he says is true.

The business man, noting this, understands why he must advertise, not occasionally nor sporadically, but all the time. It's the only way he can be of the greatest service to his customers.

His advertising reminds us of him and of the things he sells, and though we may forget him and those things between times, every advertisement he publishes renews the impression and creates recognition of his business.

His problem is to find the most economical way of reminding us that it is to our advantage to trade with him.

He discovers soon that nothing is so economical a medium for this purpose as the newspaper. There he advertises. We read. Both he and ourselves benefit by his repeated advertising.

He benefits in the obvious way, by winning us as steady customers. We benefit in equally obvious way, by finding a man whom we can trust and from whom we can buy all the many things we need to make our lives more interesting and complete.

Advertising is the news of business. Often that news is of far more importance to us than any other news in the paper.

For example, if a woman needs a new coat and scans the advertisements to see what is being offered, the business news she reads is of far greater moment in her life right then than the story on page one of a war in Asia Minor or of an oil field fire in Texas.

Stripped of all glamor and mystery advertising amounts to nothing more exciting than this: telling people of a place where they can get what they need to make life possible or endurable or lively or enjoyable at the most satisfactory and economical basis.

The advertiser who keeps telling the story of his advantages naturally gets the bulk of the trade, because, as you have just learned, we all forget rapidly and must be reminded continually if we are to act.

When advertising is carried on for a long enough time, the name of the man and his product become a part of the daily life of millions of households, respected, revered things and names, almost as close to us as friends or members of our own family.

Two Minute Sermon

By
 Thomas Hastwell

RIGHT PERSONAL ATTITUDE NECESSARY:

The other day there came to see me a young lady. She had the feeling that the world and everyone in it was against her, and that they were all conspiring against her happiness and against her plans and ambitions. She was at outs with her family. Nothing they did met with her approval and the friction and disagreements created a most unhappy home situation. "Why is it," she said, "that everyone is against me and is opposing my happiness?" "Did you ever stop to think," I asked her, "that it might be you who is wrong? Does it not seem rather unusual to you that you alone are right and everyone else is wrong?" She went away unconvinced. Because of a wrong attitude of mind she was condemning herself to unhappiness.

I thought, as she left, how like many grown ups, who try to change the world and even God's plan to suit their own ideas. An individual cannot expect all those about him to conform to his whims and desires and way of thinking. The world isn't set up that way. Anyone can destroy his happiness with a mental attitude of that kind. God does not make over his plans to suit the whims of humans. The individual must accept them as they are and put himself in harmony with them if he desires to know content and peace of mind and happiness. The fortunate thing about it is that it can be done by anyone who is willing to let God have his way in his life. It is the only formula for human happiness and content.

The story is told of a farmer near Mentone, whose noon-time snooze on his front porch was disturbed by those blame' inquisitive flies. After swatting at the . with his hand for some time, he got up in exasperation—opened the screen door, and chased the pesky things into the house. Nice goin', Ike.

The merchant who prints each week a well written advertisement about this store and the merchandise he has to sell is rendering to the people of the community a distinct service. By placing before the busy people of the community on a printed page the facts of the merchandise he had to sell he makes it possible for them to check and decide on their wants in a few moments, thus saving hours of time in searching and shopping. Buyers of the community should show their appreciation of this service by throwing their business to the firms of the town who are giving this helpful service.

Most any man would rather have a loyal worker in his employ than merely a clever one.

Stopped to chat a while with a local philosopher yesterday who recently completed his eighty-fourth year. "Don't you wish," we asked during our conversation, "that you could live the next fifty years to see what wonderful things would happen during that time?" "I don't know," he said, as he thoughtfully studied the toe of his worn shoe, "I think I have lived in the best times that this old world will ever know and that ought to be satisfaction enough for any man." We have wondered since if what he said was true. Have the past sixty years been the best this world will ever know, or is there still greater things ahead?
