FINE MEMORIAL

DAY PROGRAM

From every quarter, the comments on the Memorial Day program held at Mentone Sunday were that it was one of the finest programs of this kind every held here. This speaks highly of the committee in charge, the various speakers and every citizen of the community.

The Honor Roll board, which was dedicated to the service men in the afternoon's performance, has been and will continue to be greatly appreciated by everyone. It entailed many hours, and days, of hard work for many citizens of the community. The citizens, too, are giving liberally towards the fund to pay for the cost and maintenance of the board. The original cost was near the two hundred dollar mark and the maintenance, and necessary additions, will take almost that much more within the next year or so.

The community is indebted to the Laketon Nursery for the shrubbery and to L. F. Snyder and Shafer and Goodwin who own the lots where the board now stands.

The committee which supervised the board was composed of:

C. E. Walburn
George Clark
Kenneth Riner
Leo Valentine
Oliver Teel
Dale Kelley
Robert Reed
L. A. Rickel
Rev. V. E. Stoner.

HAS PAPERS PUBLISHED

Two articles by Dr. Uischel appeared in recent medical journals. His paper on "The Diagnosis of Chronic Brucellosis" (undulant fever) was presented in the Current Medical Digest. Another paper on undulant fever was published in the June issue of the Journal of the Indiana State Medical Association. This latter paper was a discussion of the diagnosis, treatment, and results in more than 50 cases treated during the past three years.

CELEBRATE 59TH ANNIVERSARY

Children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Borton gathered at their home Sunday in honor of their 59th wedding anniversary. A carry-in dinner was served at noon, and a beautiful wedding cake, decorated with roses and a miniature bride and bridegroom, was the table centerpiece.

Mr. and Mrs. Borton were presented a rocker, a gift of the group, and all guests wished them many more years together. Mr. Borton is 80 years old and Mrs. Borton is 77, both having lived their entire lives in the Mentone vicinity. There are two daughters and three grandchildren, and seven great-grandchildren. One daughter, Gladys, died in December, 1941. Daughters present were: Mrs. O. A. Homman, South Bend; Mrs. Chloe Williamson, Claypool. Others attending were Earl Smalley and family, of Warsaw; Mrs. Olive Tucker and family, and Donald Smalley and family, Mentone, and Mr. and Mrs. Claude Gates. Mr. and Mrs. Bert Griffis, of South Bend, were afternoon callers.

THANKS MENTONE PATRIOTS

We boys who were privileged to attend the Memorial Day services at Mentone Sunday, wish to thank each and every one who had any part in the honor bestowed upon us and our departed comrades in this and other conflicts. We, who are in the service of our country wish to live up to our pledge and by the help of God we wish to keep Mentone proud of us, that they may not have done this in vain. We know that this is the sentiment of all who are still in the service that have their names on our Memorial Slab. We all join in thanking you again.

BALLOON DESCENDS INTO FRONT YARD

Pat Kehoe states that he found a balloon and parachute in a tree in his front yard Saturday, May 29th, at about four p. m. A small box was found below the tree.

A tag attached to the box stated that it was the property of the University of Chicago and was used in the training of U. S. Army Air Corps Cadets and U. S. Navy Ensigns.

This is the second balloon to pick a landing spot near Mentone in recent weeks. The other was a weather observation balloon, but it's a safe bet that the information regarding wind currents, etc. will be utilized when war ends. Many thousand Chicago defense plant migrants will be drifting out into the country in these or similar balloons looking for a chance to make a living.

UNUSUAL PINK AND BLUE SHOWER HELD

On Thursday evening a surprise pink and blue shower was held for Robert Goshert. Many useful and unusual gifts were received. Refreshments were served to Mr. Loyd Summe, Max Goshert, Roy Goshert, Clarence Tinkey, Wilbur Latimer, Donald Close, Dale Woodworth, Boyd Howard and Robert Goshert of Burket, and Mr. Charles Hammer, Sr., Zana Hammer and Charles Hammer, Jr. of Mentone.

A MOTHER'S PRAYER

A mother's prayer breathes on the air,
Soars loftily and hastens on
Among the million marching feet;
It stoops beside her valiant son.

No mother's son is left alone
To face the foe, to brave the storm.
A mother's prayer is always there,
Close by his side in uniform.
—By Tessie L. Newton.

Candle Service—"Light of the World"—Reader—Alice Davis.

Recitation—"Time To Part"—Johnny Davis.
Benediction.

Newsletter To Soldiers

(Under date of May 17, Mr. George Clark mimeographed a newsletter for all the boys in service from this area. The letter contains much information of interest to all of us on the "home front" and consequently is published herewith. The locations of the boys are given as of that date from all available information. Likely many changes have taken place since that date. Too, it is difficult to compile a letter of this type without omitting someone or some bit of information. If there are omissions they are unintentional. Ed.)

I really have too many of your people to write each one personally. It is hitting up to 200 now. I went through most of the file today and am trying to give you a short word on where everyone is. If you want complete addresses, just drop me a card. A lot of you need to send me your pictures for our display. Wish more of you would write and keep us informed in changes of address. People come in every day for someone's address and I like to accommodate them and want you to hear from us many as you can.

The store business is rather hard now. It takes longer to wait on customers with rationing, but I tell them when they complain that they should be thankful for all that we have. We are not dodging any bombs here and the only thing on my mind is when can you come home? I would do without most anything if the fighting was over.

Let us hear from you often. People at home need to be reminded all the time of the number who are in the service and keep working in one effort to get the war over and see you all again.

Farmers who expect to seed wheat after soy beans are advised by Purdue University agronomists to plant an adapted early maturing variety, or use a full season variety, row seeded before corn planting time; advance maturity by row seeding; apply fertilizer in bands with row planted beans.

Pullets to be raised for layers should be trained to roost soon after they are a month old. Purdue Poultry Pointers No. 3, available at any Indiana county agricultural extension office, describes a good roosting rack that will aid in this training.

An analysis of 600 Indiana farm accounts shows 15 per cent more sows and gilts on hand on the farms of the farm account cooperators on January 1, 1943, than a year earlier.

F. W. Eldridge, Mg-Editor, Los Angeles Examiner, says: "It gives me great pleasure to attest the power and influence of the Sunday School in making of good citizens. The Sunday School grings home to the young at an impressionable age the precepts of right living and of high character. It lays the foundation of an honorable, upright life. It is a laboratory of good citizenship."

No child who has felt the inspiration of the Sunday School can fail to profit in later life. It is a veritable cornerstone of superior character. Your child will lack one of the greatest and most character building influences in his life if you fail to bring him to Sunday School. Royal Brougham says: "I know of no agency that has done more to build up God-fearing citizens than the Sunday School. Having been an attendant as far back as memory reaches, I do not hesitate to say that the great benefits of this religious training can hardly be estimated." Will your children be able to rise up and call you blessed because of your interest in their early training? Bring them to Sunday School Sunday.

NUGGETS FOR BEREANS No. 62

"Upon the first day of the week let every one of you lay by him in store, as God hath prospered him." 1 Cor. 16:2.

This fragment of a bible verse may be seen in many churches on the offering envelopes, and also is used continually by the clergy as a text to get people to contribute to their support and that of the church. The rest of the verse, "that there be no gathering when I come," is never quoted. Neither do they mention the verse immediately before, which reads, "Now concerning the collection for the saints, as I have given order to the churches of Galatia, even so do ye."

Paul is the speaker. He is arranging for a collection to be taken up for the poor saints of Jerusalem. There has been much persecution in that city and many Christians are in need. But he asks that this collection be taken up the first day of the week because, it being relief money for the poor, it was not to be handled on the Sabbath. Poor relief, among the Jews, was over and above the regular tithe. This money was not taken up for support of a local church, nor for missionary work. It had no connection whatsoever with that part of the work.

Now if a preacher was actually in dire need, he might use this text to pry some shekels from the pockets of the members of his flock. Otherwise it would not apply to the raising of church funds.

This is a fair sample of the prevalent practice of ecclesiastical lying we hear on every hand today. This practice of lifting a text out from its context and making it mean something entirely foreign to what was meant in the first place is about the worst form of lying we can imagine. Nothing could be more dishonest than trying to establish a lie with a purported Scriptural backing. There are texts to be found concerning the duty of a Christian in the support of the minister but this not one of them.

Sergeant Walsh, after an interview with Leut. Thomas Mann, a Marine Corps fighter pilot who just came off Guadalcanal with a record of ten Japanese planes to his credit, was invited for a spin in the skies. Never having been in a plane before, the sergeant accepted.

The obliging lieutenant, whose home is in Terre Haute, Ind., treated his passenger to an assortment of loops, dives and rolls but Sgt. Walsh was asking for more at the finish and declared his stomach "never felt better."

That evening off duty, Sgt. Walsh swam out to a float. The raft was pitching to and fro and in a few minutes intrepid Sgt. Walsh was over the side, violently seasick.

"I never felt worse," he said.

FARM LABOR PLAN NOW IN OPERATION

(By Joe Clark, County Agent)

During the past week a series of meetings have been held over the county, called by the Extension Service with either County Agent Joe Clark or Labor Assistant Harold Beyer present. These meetings were for the purpose of setting up local committees and clearing houses for the enrollment of Emergency Farm Labor and to have a central point where farmers may make requests for assistance.

Some localities have been divided into blocks of approximately four square miles and a local leader or clearing agent named. It is intended that these areas handle as much of their own labor difficulties as possible, but that when necessary the block will contact the local placement office stating requirements as early as possible in order to give that agency an opportunity to secure the requested help.

The County Agent advises that the Jamaicans, now quartered southeast of Pierceton, and brought in by the government at the request of Reid-Murdock, will be available for farm work from time to time. Many of these men are experienced farm workers or mechanics, with sufficient aptitude to be of value to farmers and all have proven to be willing workers. Information concerning them may be obtained from Reid-Murdock at Pierceton or from the County Agent's office.

Locally, the Farmers State Bank has been designated as the clearing house and Kenneth Riner will handle applications for aid and offers of assistance. Men working in defense plants are urged to register, indicating the time they have available to help farmers during the peak seasons of which hay making is the nearest at hand.

Farmers should also register their requests as early as possible.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Manwaring are expected to return shortly from Rochester, Minn., where Mrs. Manwaring recently underwent an operation for hernia at the Mayo hospital.

FIRST OUTDOOR MOVIE OF SEASON HELD TUESDAY

The outdoor movie season opened at Mentone Tuesday evening with a fair crowd. The Thursday evening previous, when somehow it was whispered about that there would be a show, many out-of-town visitors were here.

The shows are being given on the vacant lot just east of the old Ford garage building where the spectators are protected from wind and noise by buildings on both sides of them. It makes a rather neat affair, and if one can persuade his imagination to ramble a bit, could also make himself believe the stars above were just make-believe and that he was in the Aragon or some similar exclusive setting. Shows will be given here on each Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, evenings.

MAKING PLANS FOR STATE 4-H CLUB SHOW

Lieutenant-Governor, Chas. M. Dawson who is also Commissioner of Agriculture states that the Indiana State Fair Board along with Purdue University, have worked out plans for a 4-H Club Show to be held on the State Fair Grounds this fall, September 4th to 11th.

This show will be held in the Coliseum, the Light Harness Horse Barn, and on the 14 acres which are controlled by the State of Indiana and were not taken over by the War Department.

The Fair Board is putting forth every effort to make this a real show for the 4-H Club Boys and Girls of the State of Indiana, realizing the boys and girls on the farms this year will have a big duty to perform in helping to raise more stock and vegetables to win this war.

The Commissioner of Agriculture hopes it will be possible for every boy and girl interested in Club Work to enjoy a week of education and entertainment at the 4-H Club Show, as he realizes they will be our citizens of tomorrow.

CLEANUP URGED

The members of the Town Board wish to urge everyone to make a careful survey to see that their premises do not contain old tin cans, etc. or anything that will hold even a small amount of water that would serve as additional breeding spots for mosquitoes. Also, in order to adequately accommodate the person who will gather the garbage this summer, all alleys should be free of tin cans, ashes, broken glass, etc.

Permission has been secured for the disposal of all rusty cans, ashes and trash at the old Latta gravel pit northeast of Mentone.

FISHING SEASON OPENS NEXT WEDNESDAY

Second War-Time Fishing Season to Find Feminine Anglers After Food

Opening of Indiana's second war-time fishing season next Wednesday, June 16, will find an increased number of feminine anglers in action, combining sport with food for their families, Hugh A. Barnhart, director of the Department of Conservation, has predicted.

There are five times as many feminine anglers in Indiana today as there were four years ago when the General Assembly provided a special fishing license for resident women at a fee of 50 cents per year. In 1939 there were 20,464 of these 'bargain-rate' licenses issued while 97,067 were issued in 1942. It is not anticipated that there will be any major decrease in the number of feminine licenses issued this year.

Hoosier anglers will have an added incentive to fish this year, the prospect of supplementing their rationed meat diet. Bass, bluegills and other panfish on which the season opens June 16, furnished approximately four million pounds of food for Indiana fishermen last year and an equal if not larger crop is available this year.

While fish is more important as food this year, none of the state's laws governing the taking of fish from Indiana waters have been relaxed. Anglers 18 years of age and over must have a license, war veterans who have had free permits in the past must have the new form of a permit provided by the General Assembly, anglers must have permission to enter upon another person's land to fish, and bag limits and minimum lengths must be observed for the various species.

THE NEW FARM OF TOMORROW

Working long, hard hours, chemists and physicists are quietly changing agriculture into a method whereby farmers will raise more food, of higher nutritive quality, on fewer acres, with far less labor than in the past. For example, farmers may look forward to using ammonia gas for fertilizer, the control of plant growth by chemical means, and double-sized corn and potatoes after the war.

And chemists have learned how to get nitrogen out of the air and fix it in useful compounds. Ammonia gas contains nitrogen, and a machine has been invented to spread fertilizer by blowing ammonia gas into the soil. Western fruit orchards are already being fertilized by adding ammonia to the irrigation water.

Butylene, one of the petroleum gases, is another revolutionary step toward the control of plant growth by chemicals, according to the May issue of Successful Farming magazine. The Russians put temporary tents over fruit trees exposing them to butylene, and bring them to fruit weeks in advance of the normal time.

A soybean twice as heavy as its parent, yielding four times as much oil, has been developed by chemists. The reason for this is a yellow powder called colchicine, one of 50 chemical-growth regulators recently developed. This powder is extracted from the autumn crocus, and has the power of preventing cell division in seeds. Therefore the chromosomes, or carriers of heredity, are doubled, giving some true-breeding varieties of plants never known before.

Seedless squash, watermelon, eggplant, peppers and tomatoes of superior quality with tiny seeds, have been produced by treatment with indolebutyric acid. Yields of corn, peas, and beans have been doubled under certain soil conditions by spraying with pathalene acetamide. Potatoes can be prevented from sprouting in storage by cellars by gassing them with growth regulators. Orchard owners can prevent costly losses by spraying apple trees with these chemical growth regulators which cause the fruit to cling to the branches until harvesting can be done.

The new science of electronics is also aiding in planning the revolutionary farming methods of tomorrow. By directing a stream of electrons against seeds their life is disturbed and shaken up. They produce strange new plant forms, some of them inferior, but frequently desirable. The electronic instruments farmers will own some day, for which they are saving War Bonds now, will analyze soils. Then if a certain nutrient is missing, special chemical fertilizers may be sprayed on the soil. Chemicals may also be sprayed on weeds so that their perfume will attract destructive, egg-laying insects that otherwise make their breeding places the farmer's most prized crops.

Chemists' Skill Needed in Softening

The water is so hard in some parts of the country that softening forms a part of the purification processes. Often the saving in depreciation of water pipes and in the purchase of soap counterbalances the cost of softening. Usually lime water is mixed with the water in a settling basin and after 12 or 14 hours of subsidence the water is drawn off from the precipitated salts. When the hardness is the result of sulphates of lime or magnesia, which cause the water to be "permanently" hard, sodium carbonate, or washing soda, is used to soften.

ARTLEY D. CULLUM, Ed. & Mgr.

The weatherman made it rather tough on the crows this year. Farmers are planting the corn faster than the rascals can dig it out of the ground.

The bird that labeled them "Victory Gardens" must have been inspired. Many of the boys have openly acknowledged defeat already.

The population center of the U. S. has been established somewhere in Indiana, but it's a safe bet that if a man must continue to shop with his pocketbook in one hand and a handful of ration points in the other—and attempt to keep in mind which ones are valid, which expired, etc.—Logansport will be the home address of most of us.

WATER CONSERVATION

It may seem a bit unusual to speak of water conservation at a time when we are just emerging from a flood period, but again it may be the proper time for a warning. Even with all the recent moisture, the State Department of Conservation reports a serious low level in many streams in the state. The answer to this strange phenomena is not in our total rainfall but is to be found in the farming practices being employed. It isn't impossible for us to let ourselves wander into a serious state of affairs before we know what is happening.

The clearing of small timbered tracts of land and the draining of swampy areas is, many times, a serious mistake.

This writer has witnessed the results of utter disregard of the needs of mother nature. I have seen once fertile fields and prairies so barren that the grass roots stood out of the ground and migrating bands of sheep searching for something to eat, literally ate those roots out of the ground. In some states the farmers even went so far as to cut down large trees so that the livestock could have the leaves for food. Many a winter some cattle herds had nothing more to eat than Russian thistles and now and then a little straw. The ranchers had been taking from the soil and making no effort to help the soil to continue to produce. It was as bad as trying to make a 1933 pay check meet the demands of 1943.

It makes one shudder to witness someone clearing all the brush and trees off a tiny bit of land. The brush and leaves are nature's only assistants in retaining moisture long enough to permit it to penetrate into the earth to supply moisture for growing crops or fresh water springs. The sub-soil moisture level is lowered every time you remove some of nature's covering. Every time you drain a swamp to make it fit for agricultural production you make worthless a piece of high now-producing ground.

Every mountain area is full of springs where cold, crystal clear water dashes from beneath a fallen tree or from a rocky crevice. But once a forest fire burns the trees from a hill or mountain, the springs soon quit flowing. There's nothing left to hold the moisture from rains or melting snow. It's like pouring water on an old fashioned outside cellar entrance. It just runs away.

Indiana may never suffer as badly as some other states have but there is no need in taking too many chances. One year could destroy as much as nature could restore in 25 years. Let's keep conservation constantly in mind.

Bessie

"All right, Bessie," said the boss of the little factory which was making jackets for soldiers. "Did you want to see me about something?"

The thin middle-aged woman stood up from the chair in the outer office and looked earnestly at the boss with her huge, grave gray eyes.

"It's about this ten percent pledge," she began.

"Oh, that's all right, Bessie," the boss said. "I'd been meaning to speak to you about that. We don't expect you to pledge ten percent of your pay for War Bonds like the others are doing. We know you have a hard time making ends meet since Jake died. Eleven kids, isn't it? That's quite a lot of mouths to feed. Let's see, you make $25.50 a week including overtime, don't you?"

"Yes, sir, but . . ."

The boss smiled.

"Don't give it another thought, Bessie. You've got your hands full now. Uncle Sam knows you haven't got a penny to spare. Don't let it worry you. We understand."

The boss turned to go back into his private office.

"But what I wanted to say was . . ."

Bessie raised her voice and the boss looked around. "I wanted to say, would a dollar a week be too little? You see, after we get the living expenses paid, there's just about a dollar a week left. Would they be willing to accept a dollar a week?"

"They'd be more than willing," the boss said quietly. "They'd be proud."

Bessie looked relieved.

"All we have to do is scripp a little," she said. "I'd feel just terrible if we couldn't give something."

Back in the boss' office a representative of the Treasury Department was waiting. The boss shut the door and sat down.

"I've just seen the greatest single sacrifice I know of," the boss said.

"Listen, if you want to hear what American women are made of . . ."

MRS. DAISETTE D. S. MCKENZIE
Incoming President of The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts

The annual meeting of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, was held at Boston, Mass., June 7th. At that time the directors announced the appointment of Mrs. Daisette D. S. McKenzie of Cambridge, Mass., as president of The Mother Church for the ensuing year, succeeding Mrs. Elizabeth F. Norwood, of Brookline, Mass.

The new president, according to the report, first became interested in Christian Science in 1887 during the very early days of the movement. Hence, Mrs. McKenzie became instrumental in the pioneering of this religion in the city of Cleveland. She served ultimately as Reader in First Church of Christ, Scientist, Cleveland, and as a member of its board of directors. In 1898 both Mr. and Mrs. McKenzie were called by Mrs. Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, to become members of her last class taught in November of that year.

Mrs. Ed. Hickman returned to her home here Tuesday after spending a couple of days in Fort Wayne visiting with a friend, Miss Stark.

Cows Give More Milk When Comfortable

THE EASIEST WAY TO INCREASE MILK PRODUCTION, IS TO KEEP YOUR COWS FREE FROM FLIES AND INSECTS BY SPRAYING THE BARN, AND SHEDS WITH CATTLEZE.

CATTLEZE

THE SCIENTIFIC CATTLE SPRAY

Cattleze kills and repels flies and other tormenting and disease-breeding insects . . . protecting cows and livestock in barns or in pastures. It is surprisingly pleasant to use as it does not stain, discolor or gum the hair, nor will it burn or blister the hides.

Milking and feeding are made easier by Cattleze because cows and other farm stock remain unmolested and quiet. Cattle that are freed from the agonizing torments of insects are healthier. They give more milk and better butter.

Cattleze has a neutral petroleum odor and is a powerful repellent and destroyer of flies without any unpleasant odored ingredient.

Cattleze can be applied with either a hand or compressed air sprayer. It aids in preventing infection of wounds and sores by killing and repelling the most common carrier of disease bacteria, the ordinary house fly.

A clear, clean, dependable spray that does not tend to taint milk.

Fred W. Green, former Governor of Michigan, said: "In my opinion, the important school is the Sunday School. It is a little more important to a well ordered life than any other single part of our education. A survey of the New York prisons recently disclosed the fact that there were practically no inmates in these institutions who were ever regular attendants at Sunday School."

Ten days later, Justice Lewis L. Fawcett of the supreme court of New York said, "My experience during 23 years on the bench, in which time over 4,000 boys under the age of 21 were convicted of crime before me, of whom but three were members of a Sunday School, has satisfied me of the value of Sunday Schools to the community, in helping safeguard it, to the extent to which Sunday Schools exist, from the growth of criminals. If all the children could be kept under the influence of the Sunday School and the grown-ups were active in some church we could close our prisons and jails, instead of being compelled to enlarge and increase their number." That same month, Royal S. Copeland, U. S. Senator from New York, said, "There never was a time in the history of American civilization when the work of the Sunday School was more necessary than it is at this moment. If I had my way, I should have every child in America come under the influence of the Sunday School."

Are these men wrong? Or is New York that much worse than Indiana? We are inclined to believe that they are in a position to know whereof they speak. We only have to pick up any daily paper to be convinced that crime is increasing. The only way to create a better society is to create better individuals and only God can do that. The Scriptures reveal God's plan of recreating mankind from a lost sinner to a saved saint. When this transformation takes place in a man, woman, boy or girl, our criminal courts are relieved of another potential offender. Our Sunday School teachers are bringing to our boys and girls these great truths and are leading them into a fuller, more wholesome and useful life while here on earth and to an eternal future in heaven. Are you depriving your children of the privilege of receiving this "most important" teaching? Bring them this Sunday. Classes for all ages.

NUGGETS FOR BEREANS No. 63

"Saul was one year old when he began to reign; and he reigned two years over Israel." 1 Sam. 13:1.

This is a literal translation published in Bibliotheca Sacra a few years ago. None of the versions of the Bible that I have seen have it this way. On the surface the statement seems absurd, for it is well known that Saul was a man and that his son, Jonathan was a warrior of repute at this time. Since the statement did not seem to make sense, the translators tried to make it over and failed to make God's truth known.

The key to the riddle is found in Chap. 10:6. This is a year before Saul became king. Samuel says to him, "Thou shalt prophesy, and be turned into another man." So this Saul as a new man was one year old when he began to reign.

New Acts 13:21 states that Saul was over Israel forty years. That makes a difference of thirty years in the two accounts. Why? In Chap. 15:28 we find the answer. Saul has disobeyed the Lord. Samuel says, "The Lord hath rent the kingdom of Israel from thee this day." This was two years after he began to reign. It was not until 38 years later that he was killed in battle and David took the throne. As far as God was concerned, the two years was all that counted. Saul was a backslider in the Biblical sense of the word. He was still a child of God according to the covenant with Abraham, but he lost his reward. He was not lost, but he did suffer loss. So it is with all who put their wills ahead of the will of God. The fire of testing will destroy all they have to show in the way of good works, but they will be saved "as by fire."

The record of David in 2 Sam. 5:4 is a better record. "David was thirty years old when he began to reign, and he reigned forty years."

—Oscar M. Baker.

TRIPLE AAA NEWS

Statisticians remind us that the biggest corn crop ever produced in Indiana was grown during a year in which we had a late, wet spring. 96% of that crop was planted after May 20, and MOST of it after June 1. We can be thankful for an abundance of moisture in sub soil - the first in several years.

When it is too late to plant a certain crop, usually another can be substituted. This is war!!! Our boys in the Pacific and Africa suffered temporary reverses. But it did not stop them. Let's redouble our efforts. Let's go full speed ahead with our planting operations as soon as the ground is ready. Farm people are hard people to keep down!!!

War Meat Board to facilitate handling of nation's supply established. A nine man board will operate in Chicago. It will include top men from meat industry and government officials. First regularly scheduled meeting was May 26.

The State War Board has requested the County War Board to appoint a County War Meat Committee of six members. The committee will assume leadership and responsibility for the meat program in the county.

Payments with respect to Irish potatoes and truck crops will be made to farmers who grow in excess of 2.7 acres of either, in 1943. Such growers must fill out a special form and sign it as soon as possible to be eligible. Further information can be obtained from the AAA office.

Wooden Dollars

Forest products are tenth in the "Big Ten" of farm crops. They are ranked in value only by cotton, wheat, truck crops, tobacco, fruits and nuts, potatoes, corn and hay. They outrank 35 other major farm crops such as barley, beans, rice, rye, peanuts, and sugar crops. Department of agriculture figures show that farm woodlands alone pay their owners nearly $63,000,000 yearly.

realization of the priceless rights which we here enjoy.

No secret police can in the night whisk us away, never again to be seen by those we love.

None of us can be deprived by any party, state or tyrant of those precious civil liberties which our laws and our courts guarantee.

None of us can be persecuted for practicing the faith which we found at our mother's knee.

None of us can be persecuted, tortured or killed because of the fact that an accident of fate might have made us of the same race as the Nazarene.

No American can be placed by any party or government in a regimented vise which takes from him or her either freedom of economic opportunity or political religious liberty.

What would the millions of unfortunate men, women and children in Europe give to be able to live and enjoy such a way of life?

Well, in this war, those are the things in our lives which are in jeopardy. Our boys are dying to preserve them for us.

Then we can do no less than to "say yes" and fill those war stamp albums. It is our duty and privilege to help the secretary of the treasury, Mr. Morgenthau, in his magnificent effort to do the tremendous job of getting the money to keep our boys supplied with the weapons with which to fight our fight.

Surely that is little enough for us to do on the home front.

RECEIVES NOTICE OF SON'S DEATH IN WEST

Clyde Kelley, of Etna Green who has been operating the Jones Barber Shop at Mentone, received a telegram Monday night stating that his son had died in a California army camp.

No details were given in the message other than the young man died from head injuries. He was 41 years of age, according to what meager information we were able to gather, and had served in the first World War. He was in some branch of the Air Corps.

MRS. REBECCA M. JONES BURIED HERE ON SUNDAY

Mrs. Rebecca Jones, 82, widow of the late Edward Jones, Mentone barber, died at the Allen Dille home in Mentone Friday morning at four a. m. Death was due to complications and infirmities. She had been in poor health for the past few years.

Mrs. Jones was born on May 23, 1861. Her husband, Edward Jones, died in 1932. They had lived in and near this city for many years. She was a member of the Mentone Methodist church.

Surviving are: two sons, Jesse, of Warsaw, and Charles, of Indianapolis; five grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at two o'clock at the Reed funeral home with Rev. Victor E. Stoner, pastor of the Methodist church, officiating. Burial was in the local cemetery.

MAN KILLS WIFE THEN SELF

The bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Sayger were found in their home at Warsaw Monday. Every indication was that Mr. Sayger beat his wife with an auto jack handle and then some hours later shot himself with a .22 calibre rifle.

It was believed that the deaths occurred some time Friday night but the fact did not become known until fellow employees of the NIPSCO called at the Sayger home to find out why the man had not returned to work since leaving his job last Wednesday because "he didn't feel well."

MERL HARROLD GIVEN HONORABLE DISCHARGE

Cpl. Merl E. Harrold, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gail Harrold of Mentone, arrived home Friday after receiving an honorable discharge from the Air Corps.

Cpl. Harrold, as many will recall, was injured when he parachuted from a patrol bomber that had been hit by enemy shell fire. He was wounded in the hand and leg and suffered a fractured leg. He was the only member of the crew that survived.

It is to be hoped that the leg injury will not disable him permanently. However, he is now able to walk upon it with difficulty.

This is another example of personal sacrifice—made by one whom all here have known—to help preserve the freedom which a democracy affords. We on the home front must bow our heads in reverence to one who bravely and without bitter regret, has done his part and will continue to do his part by reclaiming his part of our community life without complaint.

STORE BREAK-INS ARE GETTING TOO NUMEROUS

As the result of a number of store break-ins at Mentone in the past few weeks, law enforcement officials are sifting evidence and gathering information to definitely ascertain the names of the individuals responsible.

A few weeks ago the Clark store was entered on several occasions and twice this week the maurauder(s) gained entrance to the Ernsberger Lumber Company, stole a quantity of pennies and otherwise messed up the place. Tuesday night thieving wasn't sufficient but the culprits turned on the water hose and attempted to float the yard away.

It's a safe bet that if these unlawful practices continue, someone will either get a striped sunburn peering through iron bars or blistered on his resettlement project.

ARTHUR H. STANFORD, 80, BURIED HERE WEDNESDAY

Funeral services for Arthur Henry Stanford, aged 80 years, were held this afternoon at two o'clock at the Reed funeral home with Rev. Victor E. Stoner, pastor of the Methodist church, officiating. Interment was in the Oakwood cemetery at Warsaw.

Mr. Stanford died Sunday morning at eight o'clock after a serious illness of a week. However, he has been in failing health for many months but had remained at his work at the Whetstone Tailoring Shop most of the time.

The deceased was born in England, in Hastings, on August 18, 1862, son of George and Suzan Stanford. He came to the United States with his parents when six years of age. The family located at Marengo, Ill. and in 1913 he moved to Warsaw, Ind. He was there until 1922, at which time he took employment with W. W. Whetstone at Mentone, a position which he still held when he passed away. The youngsters will miss Mr. Stanford, too, as he was the one to whom they always went when their bicycles needed repairing.

Mr. Stanford was a member of the Mentone Methodist church and the Masonic Lodge here.

Surviving relatives include: the widow, Ellen; three daughters, Frances Gabbert, Berkeley, Calif.; Dorothy Krafft, Los Angeles, and Rebecca Hiltz, in the state of Washington; a son, Thomas, who is in the marines, overseas, and two grandchildren. A son preceded him in death.

Listen to Morgenthau-Marshall Tell Power of Payroll Savings!

Washington, D. C.—How important is the average worker's war bond purchases out of his pay every payday in the grand strategy of the Allied High Command? Does the extent of his or her War Bond allotment have a part in determining when, where and the strength of our military blows?

George C. Marshall

Any worker listening in on a recent conversation between General George C. Marshall, President Roosevelt's Chief of Staff, and Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau, Jr., learned the answers to these questions.

Said General Marshall: "Mr. Secretary, I want you to answer a question for me and to answer it with complete frankness. Can we military leaders plan to fight this war in an orderly way—in the surest and most effective manner—or must we take extraordinary risks for fear the money will not hold out?"

Replied Secretary Morgenthau: "General, the American public will take care of that. What they have done in the Second War Loan drive—the money they have produced and the spirit they have shown—is proof enough for me that they will not let our fighters suffer from lack of support until we achieve complete victory, no matter how long that may be nor how much it may cost."

Up your War Bond allotment out of your wages today. Figure it out for yourself how much above 10 per cent it should be.

Entertainment was in charge of Mrs. Charles Good. Father's day was observed by each one giving the full name of their father. Roberta Calvert favored with a recitation entitled "Summer Flowers." Another reading "Taking the Census" was presented by Joyce and Leonard Staldine. A game of gossip was enjoyed, also a contest which was won by Mrs. Olen Wagoner. ### PURSUIT OF HAPPINESS

Although we speak of "the pursuit of happiness" as one of our rights, we all know that happiness seldom is captured by pursuing it. It comes as the result of pursuing other things. Chase after happiness and you will never find it. But go after other things and happiness will find you!

Edison found happiness in the chase after new ideas. Burbank found it in the search for new varieties of plants. Paderewski found it in his hours of practice at the piano. John Muir found it by climbing mountains. Goethals found it by digging the Panama Canal. Joseph B. Straus found it by building the Golden Gate Bridge. Gutzon Borglum found it by carving the faces of five great Americans on Mount Rushmore, in the Black Hills.

Look for happiness and it hides its face. Look for opportunities to do good work, lend a helping hand, inspire the discouraged, radiate joy, say a good word, and before you know it happiness will be smiling upon you.

Some of man's biggest headaches come from directly pursuing happiness. And some of his truest happiness comes from apparently running away from happiness!

TO DAD

There's a special day—or week—for almost every person and every occasion, and most of them are worthy. Our fighting heroes are honored by stripes or insignia for almost every meritorious deed, but the every-day hero of all ages—Dad—is seldom recognized. His "stripes" are the wrinkles on his brow, the tan of his face, the gray in his hair or the stoop to his shoulders.

Sunday, June 20th, is your day, Dad!

It's our desire—and hope—that you will not measure our admiration of you in proportion to the few hours which we as a nation have set aside for you. There's no earthly measure, in length, breadth or quantity, that can be used as a symbol or comparison. Our hearts seem to be pounding desperately for escape out into the infiniteness of the universe when we think of what you actually mean to us. Our expanding chests seem to be trying to reach a size that could partially encompass the spirit of the occasion. But to no avail. As we toil in the heat of this day, tears of love and devotion silently roll from our eyes and mingle with the perspiration on our face.

May Sunday be a joyous day for you. May God's blessings travel with you wherever you may be or life's activities call. Your Sons may be in every part of the world today—but they are all thinking of you.

So, in behalf of the sons at home and abroad, to every Dad everywhere—Best Wishes.

Air Filters Wartime Aid

For every pound of paint sprayed in one of the huge paint spray buildings in new bomber plants, the largest ever constructed, and large enough to handle an assembled bomber, 5,250 pounds of air is supplied through filters. The filters are used to clean the air as it enters and to exhaust the paint laden air. They protect the men handling the spray nozzles from spray and fumes and also eliminate fire and explosion hazards, says the Wall Street Journal.

Cows Give More Milk When Comfortable

THE EASIEST WAY TO INCREASE MILK PRODUCTION, IS TO KEEP YOUR COWS FREE FROM FLIES AND INSECTS BY SPRAYING THE BARN, AND SHEDS WITH CATTLEZE.

CATTLEZE

THE SCIENTIFIC CATTLE SPRAY

GET THIS FREE BOOKLET

Cattleze kills and repels flies and other tormenting and disease-breeding insects . . . protecting cows and livestock in barns or in pastures. It is surprisingly pleasant to use as it does not stain, discolor or gum the hair, nor will it burn or blister the hides.

Milking and feeding are made easier by Cattleze because cows and other farm stock remain unmolested and quiet. Cattle that are freed from the agonizing torments of insects are healthier. They give more milk and better butter.

Cattleze has a neutral petroleum odor and is a powerful repellant and destroyer of flies without any unpleasant odored ingredient.

Cattleze can be applied with either a hand or compressed air sprayer. It aids in preventing infection of wounds and sores by killing and repelling the most common carrier of disease bacteria, the ordinary house fly.

A clear, clean, dependable spray that does not tend to taint milk.

Great men realize the value of the Sunday School. Do you? The editor of the American Magazine said, "I am heartily in favor of any movement that will increase the power and scope of the Sunday School. We need its fine moral influence." Bisknell, the president of the United Press Association said, "The Sunday School, from the beginning of American history, has constituted perhaps the strongest strand in the fibre of child training next to family environment." Wm. C. Gooch, of the Dallas Daily Times Herald, said, "The Sunday School is the character builder of the nation and its influence spreads into every walk of life. It is the foundation of American integrity."

Even some of our good church members do not seem to value the Sunday School very highly. They do not attend nor attempt to bring their children.

Could this indifference of Christians have anything to do with the present day delinquency of our children? Some authorities say, "Yes." Let's not be a party to such influence. Bring your children this Sunday.

NUGGETS FOR BEREANS No. 64

"And it came to pass in the FOUR HUNDRED AND EIGHTIETH year after the children of Israel were come out of the land of Egypt, in the fourth year of Solomon's reign over Israel... he began to build the house of the Lord." 1 Kings 6:1.

Now this is a simple statement, and would never be noticed or thought significant by anyone casually reading the Word. But if one is inclined to figure things out and compare Scripture with Scripture, he may be a very much surprised Berean. Let us keep the figure 480 in mind and then turn to Acts 13.

Here we find a record of 40 years in the wilderness, v. 18. Also 450 years under the judges, v. 20. Forty years given for the reign of Saul and 40 more for the reign of David. That so far makes a total of 570 years. Then we must add three years more since this is in the fourth year of the reign of Solomon according to the account and we have a grand total of 573 years until the building of the temple.

So we find then a difference of 93 years between the two accounts. Why?

In our last article we found that in the life of Saul, the king, the last 38 years did not count with God. The same is true of the Babylonian captivity and servitude. Israel was LO-AMMI (not my people). The answer to our question is to be found in the book of Judges. Here is a record of five times that they forsook the Lord and went into servitude. The years are as follows; 8 in Ch. 3:8, 18 in 3:14, 20 in 4:3, 7 in 6:1, and 40 in 13:1. The sum of these is 93 and exactly accounts for the seeming contradiction in the accounts.

There is a lesson here for the Christian. He may claim to be so many years old in the Lord, but would the Lord count all those years? Maybe some of them were spent in servitude to self and sin. "Let not sin therefore reign in your mortal body, that ye would obey it in the lusts thereof. Neither yield ye your members as instruments of unrighteousness unto sin." Romans 6:12, 13.

The spotlight of the spectacular news of victory belongs to our heroic, hard-fighting boys in battle. They deserve a rich reward for a sensational performance. Victory came because of superior fighting backed by superior equipment — and plenty of it.

In the thrill of reading the good news, we take our newspapers for granted. We may overlook the important role they play and the efficient news gathering organizations back of them. So it is with ELECTRIC POWER in the background of our daily lives that makes another sensational story of American production.

Just as newspapers are ever on the alert for a "scoop" and take pride in the speed with which the news is gathered and published, so do we take pride in our perfectly coordinated, interconnected electric transmission system, which has been able to meet the tremendous demands of war production in Northern Indiana, without interfering with your regular needs. While the demand for electric power still grows, we are continuing to meet every emergency to the best of our ability and experience.

SON OF MENTONE BARBER BURIED SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Pvt. Gerald Wilson Kelley, 40, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Kelley of Etna Green, holder of many World War I medals, died Sunday (June 13) of injuries he received at Camp Fresno, California, and funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at two o'clock at the Etna Green Christian church.

Clyde Kelley, the boy's father, is operating the Jones Barber Shop at Mentone while Mr. Jones is serving in the armed forces.

Enlisted When 14 Years Old

Pvt. Kelley had lived a colorful life, probably from the fact that he had his first taste of war when but 14 years old. Misrepresenting his age, he enlisted at Toledo, O., his birthplace, when but 14, and was sent overseas. He received minor injuries, suffering scratches from bursting shell fragments, and was also gassed during a battle.

Received Numerous Decorations

His medals were many, and included: Silver star for gallantry in action; Victory medal with three stars for fighting in three engagements; Army of Occupation medal and service star; Good Conduct bar; four service stripes for 12 years, and two overseas stripes for 16 months' duty on foreign soil.

After the war, Kelley returned to the United States, and in civilian life was an auto painter and trimmer, residing at Long Beach, Calif., and in Boston, Mass.

Shortly after the attack on Pearl Harbor by the Japanese, December 7, 1941, Kelley enlisted for service and was assigned to the United States air force, ground crew.

He was united in marriage to Goldie Wagner, Etna Green, and they were later divorced. To this union was born three children, Lois, 17, of Chicago; Robert, 14, and Helen, 10, both of Milford. A sister, Mrs. Geraldine (Murrell) Riley, of Etna Green, also survives.

Complete details of how Pvt. Kelley met death haven't been received, but a newspaper clipping states that the details are being sought. A young

ARRIVES AT FORT BENNING

(Public Relations Office Release)

Fort Benning, Ga.—The arrival of Robert Emra Anderson, son of Dr. and Mrs. E. D. Anderson, of Mentone, at this training center was announced by Colonel Edward B. Jackson, Commanding Officer of the Fourth Training Regiment.

The Basic Training Center of the Infantry School at Fort Benning is one of the nine centers established under the Army Specialized Training Program for the training of young selectees. The center here consists of three regiments of four battalions each. Each battalion is composed of four companies with a strength of 250 trainees per company.

In training these young men, most of them eighteen year old graduates of high schools, due consideration has been given to their age. The training program differs from that of the average replacement center in that the trainees are not assigned to any particular branch of the army such as the infantry, artillery, engineers, etc., instead they are given thirteen weeks training in close order drill, marksmanship with the rifle and light machine gun, and other basic subjects. Considerable portion of the training will be devoted to physical education—the building up of the trainees into strong and healthy young men.

Following their basic training here, the trainees will be sent to Army Classification Centers where they will be interviewed and classified for further specialized training and subsequent assignment to troop duty as technicians or sent to an officer candidate school.

Miss Betty Lyon arrived home the fore part of the week for a three week's vacation from his duties as a registered nurse at Indianapolis.

corporal, who came east with the body, stated that he and his wife, and Pvt. Kelley had attended a movie, as we have been informed, and afterward suffered a heart attack, fell and suffered a fractured skull as his head hit a curbstone.

RENEWAL OF GAS RATION

BOOKS NOW IN PROGRESS

Indianapolis, June 22.—The Office of Price Administration announced today that application blanks for renewal of A and B gasoline ration books would be available at service stations in the next few days.

Renewals of books will be handled exclusively by mail, the OPA said. It recommended that applications be mailed promptly to facilitate processing as the A books expire July 21. The OPA said that applications must be accompanied by the back cover of the expiring ration book and the vehicle's old tire inspection record.

Mailing schedules for the applications were suggested as follows: A through E, June 22-25; F through L, June 26-30; M through R, July 1-5; S through Z, July 6-10. This would assure a steady flow of applications which would be more easily handled the OPA said.

Our Merchant Marine

COLONIAL BEGINNINGS

AMONG HISTORY'S MOST THRILLING STORIES IS THAT OF OUR MERCHANT MARINE ITS FIRST CHAPTERS, LIKE MANY LATER ONES, WERE WRITTEN FROM STERN NECESSITY.

IT BEGINS WITH THE TERRIBLE WINTER OF 1607, WHEN THE DISCOURAGED POPHAM COLONISTS ON THE KENNEBEC RIVER, MAINE, HEWED FROM THE FOREST THE FIRST AMERICAN-BUILT COMMERCIAL VESSEL, THE 30 TON PINNACE VIRGINIA, AND SAILED IN HER TO ENGLAND.

THE NEW ENGLAND COLONISTS, LACKING VIRGINIA'S TOBACCO CROP AND FERTILE SOIL, TURNED TO THE SEA FOR THEIR LIVELIHOOD.

GREATEST FRIEND OF OUR COLONIAL SHIPPING WAS JOHN WINTHROP, FIRST GOVERNOR OF MASSACHUSETTS, WHOSE TINY SLOOP, "BLESSING OF THE BAY," 1630, TRADED ALONG THE NEW ENGLAND COAST AND EVEN WITH THE DUTCH ON MANHATTAN ISLAND.

Information courtesy of American Merchant Marine Institute New York

"BLOOMVILLE" GOES TO WAR

The following is a story of a "Bloomville" oldtimer who may be a citizen of your town or my town anywhere in Indiana.

"No, sir, the name of our town is not Tunis, and it isn't Sfax or Naples or London or Rotterdam. Our town is Bloomville, U. S. A.

"The nearest Axis, Jap or Italian airfield is many miles away. But the fact is, one of the biggest battle fronts is right here in our town and county. We may not hear the bullets fly or see the Stukas dive or fear the murderous little ape-men who hide in the jungles, but we do hear the SOS call for supplies from across the seas.

"Most of our draft-age men are gone. Yes, sir, they've said goodbye to their loved ones at home—they've said goodbye to their jobs in stores, shops, banks and on the little farms.

Little did they dream a short time ago that they would ever be called upon to defend your town and the 'Sweet Land of Liberty' of which they sang when they were kids.

"There's a job to do over there and we're going to help do it, they said before leaving, 'and there's a big job to be done right here in Bloomville for you folks back home—if we all work together we can do the job—and the quicker the better.'

"We are determined to do our job here in Bloomville just as we expect our boys to do their job on the actual battle front. We must help them fight for a decent place in which to live—a place to worship as they please—a place where no dictator shall ever rise to suppress the God-given rights of our people. Our way of life shall be defended, even though it will take the lives of many of our brave sons.

"Yes, sir, you can count on Bloomville, sonny—we won't let you down."

Men and women in Bloomvilles all over America, you should be anxious to do everything you can to help win this war. There is a great deal more to be gained in winning than losing it. You may think you have done your bit, but have you really done your best? Have you turned in all your scrap metals and rubber?

Are you saving that one tablespoonful of waste fats each day?—if you do, it will make a pound a month and make your town and county reach its quota.

Are you preparing every tin can that comes into your home?—if not, you are probably causing some boy to lose his life, be badly wounded or taken prisoner.

Have you turned in all wornout silk and nylon hose?—powder bags must be made of these materials, and they are badly needed.

Let's resolve today that our "Bloomville" will be proud and happy about its record after this horrible war has been won and our boys start their victory march back home. Let's greet them with the feeling that our job, as well as theirs, has been well done.

Remember—it's more blessed to help them than to be helped.

WORK STARTED ON REMODELING OF FACTORY BUILDING

Although it has been generally known for several weeks, it was not officially announced until this week that Mentone is to have another manufacturing plant. Workmen started remodeling the old Ford garage building Monday to get it into shape for the new concern to start operations. Temporarily known as the Lake City Mfg. Co., the firm manufactures, and controls patents, on various fracture splints and the man in charge of the opening of the plant here has been operating a similar plant in Brooklyn, N. Y.

The business people and citizens of Mentone recently agreed to supply several hundred dollars in cash as an aid to the new concern. This money is to be paid to the concern in direct proportion to the monthly payroll. It is presumed that at least fifteen employees will be required to operate the plant.

NAME OFFICERS FOR COUNTY T. B. SOCIETY

Five new directors have been elected for the Kosciusko County Tuberculosis association and officers for the coming year have been chosen. Four of the new directors, Roy E. K. Bowen, Marlin Knight, Frances Baughn and Juanita Delp, will serve for three years. The other, Stanley Kintzel, was named for a two-year term.

Officers for the coming year are: Eugene T. White, president; Charles Haas, first vice president; Rett J. Cox, second vice president; Albert Hartman, treasurer.

At its annual meeting, the association was addressed by Dr. Thurman B. Rice, Commissioner of the state board of health, who stated that the four great and important things in life are work, play, love and religion. He called for emotional balance—putting first things first—exercise of a hobby and observance of religion—the great stabilizer—as aids to health. "We should live by our intelligence for home, relatives and friends," he urged.

A report of Treasurer Albert Hartman showed a balance of $2,326.45, on hand March 31. A report of County Nurse Florence Sinninger showed that 1,345 school children had been given the Tuberculin test. Thirty-seven children showed positive reaction and two of these were advised to take rest periods. The report of the nurse also showed that 12 men from this county have been rejected as soldiers because of tuberculosis.

Persons attending the meeting and dinner Friday evening, at the Hotel Hayes, were: Dr. and Mrs. Thurman B. Rice, Indianapolis; Dr. A. C. McDonald, Dr. C. C. DuBois, Dr. L. A. Laird, Eugene T. White, Charles Haas, Freeland Phillips, Albert Hartman, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Sinninger, Mrs. F. B. Davison, Mrs. Artley Cullum, Mrs. W. N. HOGS NEED SHADE, COOL,
CLEAN WATER IN SUMMER

(Purdue News Service)

If a hog could talk, he'd ask for two things during summer months—cool, clean water and plenty of nice shade, says J. W. Schwab, Purdue University extension hogman. Since he can't, it is necessary only to watch his actions to learn the same thing.

When water is given in troughs, the pigs crowd up to the place of pouring to get the cleanest and freshest. Observations have shown that they will pass up muddy, stale, or warm water and walk long distances to get fresh, cool water.

Water is just as important for producing gains on hogs as is feed, states Schwab. The best production records have been made when the hogs had a steady supply of fresh drinking water. Fresh running well water or running spring water is excellent, if available. But even if water has to be hauled, it pays to change it frequently, since in hot weather it rapidly gets warm and stale.

Trees produce the most comfortable shade, but other means may be used if necessary. One method is to set posts in the ground in eight-foot squares. Poles or timbers may then be fastened about four feet above the ground, and shade made with straw, weeds or brush. Each pig requires from seven to eight square feet of space in the shade during June, July and August.

Another successful practice for keeping hogs comfortable in hot weather is to sprinkle the dust, in the shady area, about 10 o'clock and two o'clock each day. This will prevent the dust from causing mechanical pneumonia and keep the pigs comfortable, thus helping to produce fast and low cost gains.

Wilhelmina Harper, Consulting Children's Librarian, Palo Alto, California, says: "We can never do without the Sunday School. It is perhaps the most potent influence in the child's life. Since early impressions leave lifelong influences, our young people would not go far wrong if their attendance at Sunday School were regular from early years. If we teach our boys and girls consideration, kindness and sympathy for their fellow men and fellow creatures, would not this be one of the most direct means toward the aim of 'peace on earth and good will toward men'?"

We hear a great deal these days about an enduring peace. We cannot expect to build a world of peace from hearts filled with hatred. Christ is the "Prince of Peace" and when he rules and reigns in the hearts of men peace will come. This "Prince of Peace" is the foundation, structure and superstructure of the teaching in our Sunday School. We know that "without me ye can do nothing" but we "can do all things thru Christ who strengtheneth" us. This assurance that Paul had can be the possession of every individual. Joy, peace and salvation is an individual possession, and it is the knowledge of these truths that we teach from the Word of God to our Sunday school children. When Christ is accepted and the conditions of God are met the man or woman, boy or girl can meet the changing world without hatred or fear. Your children should know these fundamental truths. Bring them Sunday.

SERVICE BOOKS TO BE

DEDICATED NEXT SUNDAY

The Service books, "Service to God and Country," a book of daily devotions are to be dedicated at the morning worship service of the Methodist Church next Sunday. The books then are to be sent to the men on the Methodist service roll whose addresses are available, and to whom postal regulations permit them being sent. Parents of the men, and the families of the men are given a special invitation to attend the service.

Let it be remembered that the Children's hour of worship is now merged with the morning worship, and that a sermon is addressed especially to the children before they retire to their study periods. Interest in this part of the worship is increasing each Sunday. Your children should be permitted to attend, in fact should be brought by each parent to the service. The Sunday School follows the worship.

NUGGETS FOR BEREANS

No. 65

In Lev. 25:2-4 the Lord commanded Israel that when they were come into the land which He gave them, they were to observe sabbaths for the fields. Six years they were to sow the fields and reap them, but on the seventh year they were to let the fields lie fallow and rest. In the next chapter, verses 17-35 the Lord says what He will do in case they do not obey the command.

But Israel forgot the command of the Lord and disobeyed. Sabbath after sabbath was disregarded and the years rolled by and it began to look as if God would do nothing about it. But God does not settle all accounts every Saturday night, and the day of reckoning finally came.

For 490 years, the sabbaths were not observed, 70 years of sabbaths if we would be exact. Then things happened. First came the 70 years of servitude, 496-426 B. C. Seven years later began the captivity which also lasted 70 years, 459-419 B. C. Then the desolations ran also a 70 years, 479-409 B. C. Of course these three periods run for the most part concurrently, but the last, the desolations, is where the land enjoys the sabbaths that had been forgotten. They were carried away to Babylon "To fulfil the word of the Lord by the mouth of Jeremiah, until the land had enjoyed her sabbaths: for as long as she lay desolate she kept sabbath, to fulfil threescore and ten years." (See Jer. 29-10).

We now live in a dispensation of grace. God is silent in heaven. Men seem to get by with anything, and God does not seem to move a finger to interfere. But, "Be not deceived; God is not mocked: for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap." (Gal. 6:7).

—Oscar M. Baker.

FOOD PRODUCTION

DEPARTMENT NEEDED

(The following article is not published with the thought of casting any reflection upon or riding any political party; nor is it intended for the conveying of any suggestion other than: Farmers and citizens must immediately take all steps necessary to assure an adequate food supply and to DEMAND, if necessary, the freedom and equipment needed to do it.—Ed.)

Immediate establishment of a Department of Food Production to correct the evils which produced the present food shortage and avert possible disaster is urged in a recent issue of Collier's Weekly by Louis Bromfield, noted author and himself a commercial farmer.

"Unless some sensible nonpolitical action is taken at once for the good of the nation as a whole, the food situation will be worse in 1944 than in 1943," writes Bromfield. He says the present "food mess" came about because the administration failed to conceive or put into operation any food-production plan and that "the President himself neglected the situation, or failed to recognize that food is as important as armed forces."

"By December of this year we shall really feel the gravity of the food famine," predicts Bromfield, who speaks from the experience of operating his own expansive farm in Ohio. "Some of those in the know are predicting food riots. I have no opinion, save that the situation will be bad, and in 1944 will be worse unless it is removed from politics, and active, sensible measures are taken."

"Food Administrator, Chester Davis is able, honest and experienced, but he will be helpless unless he gets the necessary power and co-operation from the President...."

Bromfield depicts the average farmer as a man harassed by questionnaires, unable to get necessary machinery or labor, and one "whose precious time is taken up by the stupidity and red tape of bureaucrats" and a seeker of "help rather than abuse."

"He does not want subsidies because he does not believe in government by subsidy.... What he wants is machinery and fertilizer and a free hand to get his job done and some faint degree of cooperation in getting it done.... It becomes clearer and clearer that the farmer is an important front-line soldier. He is doing his best. On the whole he is putting up a gallant fight, but the odds still are against him...."

"Without the farmer, we cannot win the war, and certainly without him, we cannot win the peace."

Bromfield tells of a black market in what little farm machinery there is available, assuring that to get around the OPA ceiling on prices an auctioneer at a sale "sells a bale of hay or a rooster for $1,200 and throws in" a tractor which when new about five years before was worth only $750.

"There isn't a county in which you cannot see farms and dairies that won't be operated this year simply because of lack of machinery or lack of labor," he relates.

Taking up the government plan for releasing men from the army to do farm work and what he termed Secretary of Agriculture Wickard's proposed "dream army" of three million volunteer workers, the author-farmer says:

"The number of men released for farm work, if any, is small enough to be ludicrous...."

"The Secretary (Wickard) simply announced the project and 'left it lay'. Today there has been no effort at organization, and if one is being considered, it is on the basis of federal control, centralized in Washington and fardoomed to failure."

"If...this 'dream army'... is planned on a state basis, county by county, city by city, it can become a brilliant success...."

"Last year Minnesota under Governor Stassen did a brilliant job of solving her own farm problem after federal agencies had failed completely. This year a dozen states are following Minnesota's lead. The rebellion against centralized, bureaucratic federal government, with its errors, extravagance and inefficiency is inextricably involved in the whole food-production problem. It will grow rather than diminish in intensity, spreading from class to class as the food crisis increases...."

"Consequences of the food shortage are terrifying in their possibilities. They can put an end to lend-lease and force such a strong ally as Russia out of the war. They can change the temper of the American people

SOME VICTORY RULES FOR CANNING VICTORY VEGETABLES

Canning without rules is like driving in a strange country without a road map—one is likely to go in the wrong direction. The wrong direction in canning leads to spoiled food—loss of canned food through spoilage is deplorable and unnecessary in time of peace, and inexcusable in time of war.

Gladys Kimbrough, Home Service Director of Ball Brothers Company, gives the following sure-fire rule for successful home-canning:

1. Use jars intended for home-canning. Every one of them has a name lettered on the side.

2. Examine every jar to make sure that it is in good condition. Give special attention to the top edges of Mason jars. Most of them must be sealed with glass top seal closures or two-piece metal vacuum seals, because the zinc that used to go into the one-piece Mason caps has gone to the battle front. The glass top and vacuum seals can take the zinc cap's place on the home front only when used on jars with perfect top edges.

3. Do not stretch rubbers to test.

4. Wash and rinse jars, lids and rubbers. Then cover jars, zinc caps, and glass lids with lukewarm water, heat to boiling, and keep hot. Jars and lids to be used for old-fashioned open-kettle canning must be boiled 20 to 30 minutes. Wash rubbers and vacuum-seal lids, drop into boiling water, and keep hot until needed if to be used for processing (cooking food in jars). They must be boiled to sterilize for open-kettle canning.

5. Get canners and jars ready before starting to prepare vegetables.

6. Use vegetables that are fresh from the garden. The alien enemies, mould, yeast and bacteria, stand ready to sabotage any and all vegetables left standing over night or all through a long, hot morning.

7. Be sure that everything to be canned is at the right stage for canning. Shelled beans and peas should be young and tender—a few over-size or over-mature ones can cause the loss of the whole batch. The pods of string beans should be crisp and meaty—corn in full milk stage—and tomatoes red-ripe, firm, and sound. Wash all fruits and vegetables before breaking the skins.

8. Hot pack all vegetables except tomatoes. Hot pack means to cook the food a few minutes, then pour it into hot jars for processing. This is also the best way to can most fruits.

9. Fill no more jars at a time than your canner will hold.

10. Leave ample head space and plenty of room for liquid to circulate between pieces of food when filling jars for processing.

11. Tighten metal bands on two-piece metal vacuum seal caps before processing. Do not tighten again.

12. Partly seal for processing, all jars on which a jar rubber is used.

13. Place jars in the canner immediately after packing and process the time called for in the recipe. Remember, time guessing has no place in canning.

14. Take jars out of canner as promptly as possible after the processing time is up and complete the seal on all that are partly sealed for processing (see Rule 12).

15. Set hot jars as far apart as possible so they will cool quickly, but do not place in a draft.

16. Be sure every jar of canned food is sealed before it is put away.

a. Take the bands off glass top seals after the jars have stood over night and test the seal by pulling gently on lid with finger tips. Don't put the bands back on the jars.

b. Remove bands from vacuum seals 12 or 15 hours after canning and test the seal by pressing on the lid with the finger. If tightly sealed, there will be no "give" to the lid. Don't put the bands back on the jars.

c. One-piece zinc caps are drawn down flat when sealed. Do not turn Mason jars upside down—this rule applies when using glass top seals, vacuum seals, and zinc caps.

d. Test "lightning" jars after they are cold by holding them upside down and examining for leaks.

MENTONE SAILOR MAKES CONFESSION

(The following letter was recently received by George Clark, and, although it is of a personal nature, it is being printed in the hope that this conscientious sailor may find solace or relief from the dilemma in which he finds himself. You may address your replies to the Co-Op. News.—Ed.)

Hello George:

You will probably be shocked by my forwardness, but I have tried, time and time again, to lead up to this subject but some how, never could, and since it has been on my mind for quite some time, I have decided at last to ask you.

Ever since I have known you, you have been very friendly, and I have been equally as friendly toward you, but as time passed by, that feeling started growing into something more beautiful and sincere than mere words could possibly express.

I never thought that a problem such as this would ever confront me, especially at my age, but unfortunately it is beyond my control. I have been debating for a long time as to whether or not I should ask you this question for it may be committing your confidence and will undoubtedly affect your future happiness.

I know you have never given this any thought, but I know that you will be true and considerate enough to me to never reveal this to anyone.

In replying, please above all, dispense with all thought of hurting me, be honest and tell me—Do you think the Lone Ranger should sell his horse if he is drafted?

1943 SQUIRREL SEASON
STARTS AUGUST 10

Indiana's open season on squirrels will begin August 10 and end on October 8 throughout the entire state with a daily bag limit of five, it was announced recently by Harrell F. Mosbaugh, director of the Division of Fish and Game.

The opening and closing dates of the season and the bag limit, applying to the state as a whole without any zones, are the same as were in effect during the 1942 season and which met with general approval on the part of hunters. Retention of the same dates and bag limits for 1943 was approved by the State Conservation Advisory Committee and by the State Conservation Commission during meetings held late in June.

An abundance of squirrels has been reported from most sections of the state by Conservation Officers and other observers, indicating that reports show the squirrel population equal to last year and favorable conditions for good hunting following the opening of the season.

Hoosiers were reminded by Mr. Mosbaugh that Indiana laws require every hunter to have a 1943 license, regardless of age, with the only exceptions being the resident farm owner and tenant who limits his hunting to the farm which he owns or on which he is a tenant. The special 50-cent fishing license for Indiana is not valid for hunting; feminine nimrods

OLD BUCKS ON GREEN PASTURE

Human nature is a funny animal. It follows no set pattern of heritage or environment but wanders over the prairie like a drunken shepherd in a sandstorm.

Father Time used to travel in a carriage but he wore the shoes off the old gray mare and then took to a six-cylinder gas buggy that could take in all the detours and still get there quicker.

Now he seems to be winging his way along worse than the bats grand-dad used to talk about.

Life is benign shortened up more than the elastic in a pair of sock anchors and we find that the childish age is still lingering in some men while they totter on the brink of senility.

The candle is still burning on both ends.

Just listened in while three old bucks were juggling around a few words of recent appearance. They knew about as much about the details as the rooster did that found the Easter eggs in the nest—but they had their suspicions.

(By the way. What the heck is a sarong? They didn't seem to arrive at any definite conclusion.)

FILING REQUESTS FOR TREE PLANTING STOCK

Dozens of requests for application forms to be used in securing trees from the state forest nurseries for reforestation plantings on private land next spring, are now being filed by the Division of Forestry, T. E. Shaw, acting state forester, reported today.

The application forms, which are also the order blank, will not be available for several weeks but will be sent to all persons who have sent in written requests for planting stock. An inventory of the tree stocks in the nurseries will be made prior to issuing the application forms.

"JUST BETWEEN US GIRLS"

The so-called two-party system has been upheld for years with the argument that it is healthy for a nation to have a minority group to see that the other group doesn't "pull any fast ones." Matters of national importance have been exposed to public opinion as a matter of purification, and there is no test which is more critical than that given by Mr. Public.

Our Washington officials and representatives look to public opinion to support them in their views and decisions. If they—or their favored constituents—seek new laws, rules, regulations or privileges, they first see that public opinion is built up to the place where their "plans" will be accepted. They use every method known to man, but the foremost of these are the radio stations (which are licensed and cannot broadcast any script that isn't previously censored), the large daily newspapers (whose only means of livelihood is from the advertising revenue of businesses and concerns of national importance) or the newspaper and radio commentators (whose right to use the facilities of either the radio or newspapers is given only after said person has partially sacrificed his right as a free-thinking, free-speaking American in lieu of a convenient salary as a hireling).

Several months ago this newspaper carried a news article of a Mr. Fox of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce being in town. The organization, according to his story, had appropriated (or budgeted) two million dollars to put a representative in every congressional district in the U. S. to build public opinion against John L. Lewis. His "advertising literature" showed that 192 firms and individuals in Warsaw had signed up and paid something like 20 or 40 cents a week (to pay the postage) on literature which the Chamber would send them concerning bills pending in congress and other "pertinent information" to (using our own phraseology) keep us converted to said Chamber's desires. Mr. Fox stated, and inferred, yet refused when asked specifically, that "Lewis had gained control of congress and the U. S. Chamber had lost it."

by Bowen Lewis

Coincident with Mr. Fox's appearance in Mentone, certain newspaper columnists started pouring out similar information preparing the "front".

How well this "educational" program succeeded can be told from the recent furor about the coal mine strikes. We swallowed the "bait" without objection and now while we are dangling at the end of the line we still proudly boast that we are free and unincumbered.

One could bet a thousand-to-one and still never lose money, that ANY project which the U. S. Chamber of Commerce sponsors is not for the good of the common man. Any organization that demands that to be a member a person must "contribute at least one thousand dollars" is not an organization that is in accord with the American principle that "all men are equal." The great proportion of the State Chambers of Commerce are equally as guilty of unscrupulous undertakings for special groups. This statement includes our own Indiana group of that title.

This week President Roosevelt objected to the "public airing (by newspapermen) of the arguments in Washington as it would impair the security of the home front." Washington, a few years ago, failed in an attempt to "license" (neat word for legal slavery) the nation's press, and now they are using the threat of "paper shortage." This excuse isn't accepted anywhere among newspapermen as long as over 3,000 individuals and bureaus in Washington and our state capitols send us hundreds of "releases" of unnecessary information each week.

Every evidence to date points to the fact that Mr. Wallace has a perfect right to proclaim Jess Jones' bungling to the people of America. Mr. Jones has failed in almost every respect—even after he had been given repeated comamnds by our own President.

A man always has more confidence of his chances and abilities after he knows the other man is a thief than he does when he "just suspects." Let's see that Washington continues to be "aired" by the press.

Victor E. Stoner, Minister
PHONE No. 165

The pastor again desires to call attention to the special program conducted by the Methodist church for the Junior and Primary groups. For several weeks this group has been meeting in the auditorium at 9:30 for worship. Before the sermon, the pastor gives a short children's sermon to them. They then retire for a youth program conducted by Mrs. Trella Tombaugh.

Children are thus given the opportunity to worship with the adults, and enjoy the service. They are encouraged to sit with their parents and form a family group. The parents are also urged to join their children in worship.

There should be cooperation upon the part of every adherent and constituent of the Methodist church.

Come next Sunday and see for yourself the meaning of this excellent service.

The youth group now meets at 7:00 on Sunday evening and other evening services are at 8:00.

"There can be no doubt in the mind of anyone who has given thought to the education of youth that religious education exerts a profound influence upon our national life. This education, training and leading of the young in Sunday schools, Bible schools, the family circle and in other types of training develops in these future citizens a sense of right, of justice and good fellowship, and instills a sense of the spiritual values that determine all subsequent life relationships" Dr. Winfield Scott Hale, Northwestern University Medical School, W. H. B. Fowler said, "I do not see how there can be any disagreement upon the value of the Sunday school." Yet there must be some because we see many of our children who should be in Sunday school that never attend.

Herbert Hoover, while President of the United States, said, "The Sabbath school is at the very root of the religious life, with all its benefits to the individual and the nation, and for this reason I cordially commend all efforts to enlarge its field of usefulness."

NUGGETS FOR BEREANS No. 66

"IF WE SUFFER, WE SHALL ALSO REIGN WITH HIM." II Tim. 2:12.

This is the divine order. The cross comes before the crown. Men would have the crown without the cross; they would have the reward without the suffering. But God does not so will.

Take the case of David and Jonathan. Several times we are told of how much Jonathan loved David. It is said that he loved David as his own soul. He took off his kingly garments and put them on David to show his love for him. He was willing to give up his right of succession as king in favor of David. He was even ready to suffer for David in that he defended him before his father and spoke good of him when Saul was determined to slay him.

Jonathan even asked that he might be second in the kingdom when David should take over the throne, and David promised that he should have that position. But one thing was lacking in Jonathan. He remained at court with his father and brothers while David was an exile without the camp. Four hundred young men went and joined themselves unto David while he suffered. They stood by him while he was unpopular. They suffered with him, and many reigned with him when he did become king.

But Jonathan missed the reward he so eagerly sought. He died with his father and two brothers in the battle.

Jesus requires that we love Him more than all our possessions, more than any of our family, and more than even life itself. If we would be glorified with Him, we must first suffer (Rom. 8:17). Like Paul, we must be ready to fellowship with Him in His suffering (Ph.p. 3:10). It may cost us money, it may cost us our friends, even our own family; but we must remember, "IF WE SUFFER, WE SHALL ALSO REIGN WITH HIM."

Let's Talk TURKEY!

"There isn't a cow in our herd who won't give her all to put our 'Food for Freedom' program over the top. But we can't produce to capacity in a dairy stable where the temperature skeedaddles up and down the thermometer with every change in weather. Stable us in a building where conditions are comfortable all year 'round and we'll meet your victory production goals with flying colors." ...

That, of course, means a dairy stable insulated with Celotex Vapor-seal Sheathing. By conserving heat generated by your herd, this efficient structural insulation insures comfortable stable temperatures the year 'round. And it helps you to keep your barn dry and well-ventilated. These proved advantages of Celotex Insulation guarantee capacity production month in and month out for the life of your farm buildings.

GLASS JARS FOR VICTORY CANNING

Plan to can every extra vegetable from your Victory garden and don't worry if your dealer hasn't jars with the kinds of caps you have been accustomed to using. Gladys Kimbrough, Home Service Director of Ball Brothers Company, tells us that very few of the all-time favorite zinc caps are left on the home front because zinc is needed on the battle front, but all Mason jars (any brand) with smooth, even top edges can be sealed with glass top seal or two-piece metal vacuum seal closures.

Glass top seals consist of glass lid, rubber ring, and metal screw band. The rubber is placed around the projection on the bottom of the lid, then lid with rubber is placed so that the rubber rests on top of the jar. The bands are screwed down tight, then loosened slightly before the jars are put into a canner for processing and screwed tight immediately after the jars are removed from the canner. After the jars have stood twelve or fifteen hours, the bands are removed and used to seal more jars with glass lids and rubbers, thus making a little metal go a long way. That's one reason Government officials smile upon home canners who use glass top seals.

Another good top seal for Mason jars is the two-piece metal cap, called vacuum seal. The lid is slightly dome shaped, lined with white enamel and has a rubber sealing compound around the outer edge to take the place of a regular jar ring—(don't let anybody fool you—all sealing compounds contain rubber). If one is using old-fashioned open kettle (never use this method for canning vegetables), the lids are boiled a few minutes to sterilize, but need only to be dropped into boiling water and kept hot if the jars of food are to be placed in a canner for processing. After the lid is placed on the jar, the metal band is screwed tight once for all. Retightening the band after the jars are taken out of the canner is likely to prevent sealing. The bands are removed from the jars twelve or fifteen hours after the canning is done and used to seal more lids on other jars. Jars sealed with two-piece metal caps are suitable for all types of canning except oven—a tightly sealed jar is likely to break when subjected to the dry heat of an oven.

Bands for glass top seal and vacuum seal caps are not interchangeable because a deeper band is needed for the glass lids, but the two have one thing in common. Neither is rust-proof. That's because of the zinc shortage, but a quick wiping after each use with a cloth moistened with paraffin will prevent serious rusting. It will save time and trouble too, if a cloth is prepared ahead of time and kept in one of those glass jars that can't be used for home-canning. Then when the cloth is needed, set the jar in a pan of warm water until the paraffin softens.

The "lightning" jar (so called because it is quickest to seal) requires very little metal and not too much rubber for sealing. Several manufacturers make this type jar. It seals with a glass lid and rubber held in place with wire bails. The wires used on one nationally known brand are of heat-treated, high-tension, stretch-proof, spring steel. This is the ideal jar for home canning any year because it is so easy to seal. The rubber is placed on the sealing surface or shoulder, the lid comes next, then the upper bail wire is pushed up until it rests in the groove in the top of the lid. Pay no attention to the lower wire, it takes care of itself until after the jars are removed from the canner—then it is pushed down against the side of the jar and that's all there is to sealing it.

When buying jars, choose pints for peas, corn, and shelled beans—and quarts for all other vegetables. Half-pint sizes aren't being made, and half-gallons are unsuitable for canning vegetables because it takes too long for heat to reach the center of the jar.

by high waters while many abandoned nests have been found since the waters receded.

Effects of this loss by natural propagation on the fall hunting season will be minimized to some extent by the rearing and liberating of approximately 150,000 birds by conservation clubs.

FLOOD WATER REDUCED
GAME BIRD POPULATION

Indiana's game bird propagation was cut by flood waters which occurred during the nesting season in May, according to the reports which have been received from all parts of the state by Harrell F. Mosbaugh, director of the Division of Fish and Game.

On the basis of these reports it is believed that the natural propagation of pheasants has been cut 25 per cent and the natural propagation of quail reduced 10 per cent, with the heaviest losses occurring in the Wabash and White River areas and northwestern Indiana. Many reports were received during the flood period of the hen birds being driven from their

THE LIFE STORY OF AN OLD DISC

(Indiana Salvage Committee)

"I'm getting pretty old, but I've seen a lot of living. I was born in a farm machinery manufacturing plant 10 years ago—maybe it was fifteen years ago—I just can't seem to remember very well. My boss, Mr. Farmer, realized a few years ago that I had seen my best day and left me lying out here by the fence on the back forty. I know that I can't be of any further use to him, but I could do a lot of good if I were slapping a Jap in the face. I hope he turns me in to the scrap drive, so that I might be used to help win this war.

"Old Jim Crow lit on the fence here by me yesterday and razed me about being unpatriotic. He told that an old hay rake on a neighbor's farm had been sent to the front to do its bit for the army. Jim said that the last time he heard of the old rake it was a part of a tank destroyer division chasing the dirty rats out of

Lake Trail Cafe

Tunisia. Boy, wouldn't that be a grand and glorious feeling for me!

"Of course I know that the hay rake's boss has a son in the army, and that makes a family feel a whole lot more patriotic. But it does look like my boss could let somebody's son use me. I'm made of good, heavy iron, and that is just what Uncle Sam is begging for. I know I'm old and rusty, but Uncle Sam says that doesn't matter. I know he would be so glad to have me, if only someone would help me get to a scrap pile.

"Now please don't get me wrong—my boss isn't lazy. He's a good farmer and is doing everything he can to help our county reach its food production goal. But it does seem that he could find enough time to take me to a scrap pile or call a scrap metal dealer—I've helped him put in many a crop, but it seems he doesn't realize that there is still a big job I can do.

"Will someone please tell him that I want to go to North Africa or Australia?"

Do you, Mr. Farmer, have an old disc, tractor or implement of any kind that should go to war? Do you have small pieces of iron and steel that could be doing their bit in the war? If so, why not junk them today—don't wait until tomorrow. Our boys on the fronts can't wait till tomorrow for their attack—if they do they may lose.

You may feel that you have done your bit, but have you really done your best?
