Mrs. Entsminger had lived all of her life in this community. She was born July 5, 1883, the daughter of George and Malinda Creakbaum. In 1904 she was married to LaMont Entsminger, who died in 1926.

She was a member of the Methodist church.

Surviving relatives include a son, Arnold, of Mentone; a brother, Lloyd Creakbaum, of near Rochester, and a sister, Mrs. Mary Sanders, of Chicago, Illinois, and three grandchildren.

REQUESTS NEW HOURS AT MENTONE POST OFFICE

During a routine inspection of the Mentone post office last week, the inspector issued an order requesting Postmaster Kenneth Romine to make a change in the hours at the local office. The new hours, to go into effect on March 15th, will be as follows:

Monday Through Friday:

Lobby Hours—7 a. m. to 6 p. m.
Window Service—7 a. m. to 5:30 p. m.

Window Service—7 a. m. to 4:30 p. m.

COPLEN BARN BURNED LAST THURSDAY EVENING

The barn on the Chester Coplen farm, burned last Thursday evening. Origin of the fire is unknown, but neighbors saw the bright glow in the sky and called the Mentone and Burket fire departments.

The farm was formerly occupied by Alden Jones and just one year prior the house burned to the ground.

Mr. Coplen, who purchased the farm about a year ago, stated that even though the barn was wired for electricity, there was no current in the wires.

In addition to the loss of the structure, Mr. Coplen had almost four hundred bushels of corn in the crib, Alden Jones had quite a quantity of new lumber stored there and Chester Balenger had some hay and straw stored there.

IT'S A SMALL OLD WORLD !

Robert Riewoldt, manager of the Midwest Spring Mfg. Plant at Mentone, was a rather puzzled gent Wednesday when he received a letter containing only about the last two letters of the alphabet.

It seems a couple of determined engineering students in Yugoslavia saw a U. S. trade journal containing an advertisement of the Midwest Spring Co. They had Bob's correct name and address, and wanted to know if he might have a few old slides they could have. They stated, in their very best English, that it was almost impossible for them to become good engineers without slides. (My guess is there will be a couple of lads have slides before long).

The names signed to the letter were:

Zdenko Hirshler and Zlatko Kapelina,
Zagreb, Yugoslavia.

(This news should increase egg production, for, up to now, the hens have been getting all the glory for advertising Mentone far and wide.)

RELEASED UNDER BOND

Tom L. Wright, 45, of Mentone was released under $1,000 bond Saturday after being arrested on a statutory charge. The affidavit was filed by Prosecutor Gene Lee and the arrest was made by State Detective Dave Milbourne.

FORT WAYNE PRINTER BURIED IN MENTONE

Burial services were conducted on Wednesday for Ralph J. Doty, of Ft. Wayne, who died suddenly last Sunday morning.

Mr. Doty was founder and owner of the Doty Lithographing Company and was working at his desk when death struck.

His wife is the former Bertha Eherenman, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Albert Eherenman, of this community.

SCHOOL CLOSED

The Mentone schools closed on Monday, due to the coal shortage, and until further notice when an adequate supply of coal can be assured will remain closed.

Other neighboring schools have been forced to close, also, because of the fuel shortage.

CHICKENS BURN AT FRANK NEWTON FARM

The Mentone Fire Department was called to the Frank Newton farm home Tuesday afternoon when the floor burned in a chicken house containing 1200 young chickens. There wasn't much damage to the chicken house but the smoke suffocated almost all the chickens.

STUDENTS PRESENTED IN MUSIC CONTEST

Maude Snyder presented ten students in the music contest at Nappanee. They were: Marita Tucker, voice; Marilyn Rathfon, voice; Carol Ann Dickey, voice; Barbara Hoover, voice and piano; and Carol Rathfon, voice. All made splendid ratings.

DALE TUCKER TO BE CANDIDATE FOR SHERIFF

Last week Dale Tucker, of Mentone, stated that he would be a candidate for the democratic nomination for sheriff of Kosciusko county.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Francis plan to leave for Florida as soon as they can wind up their affairs here. Mr. Francis has employment there, and they plan to make their home there.

PRINTED IN THE MODERN PLANT OF THE COUNTRY PRINT SHOP

For several years now there have been successful programs carried on throughout the U. S. to encourage fishing for children. Derbies have been held in many communities, "take a kid along" slogans have been popular. This is all well and good, for it has made a fine mark on sportsmen and fishing activities.

But I would like to go a step further in a program for the children. Let's give them their own private fishing spots, posted with signs to keep out all adult anglers.

Why the private spots? First, this will allow the kids to fish for the available finny gamesters without having to compete with more skilled and veteran anglers. The kids are intitled to this.

Second, you keep the kids together which, in turn, offers a better chance to instruct them in the finer points of fishing, in good sportsmanship and in learning to love the outdoors.

In a few sections of the country sportsman's clubs have set aside parts of streams and lakes just for the kids. In every case these programs have been highly successful.

This worthwhile project for kids might, at first, seem as if it will take too much work on the part of adult sportsmen. Actually, once the ball is rolling, it will be easy and inexpensive. Too, you'll find that your department of conservation or other state authorities will go along and help you out.

Think it over, Mr. Sportsman. And I hope you see your way clear to give the kids of this community their "private fishin' hole" as soon as possible.

BEAVER DAM P. T. A. PLAY

The P. T. A. play to be presented at Beaver Dam this year is entitled "Ma Simpkins of Simpkinsville." It is the adventures of Harlan Woodbridge, the town's leading jeweler, and his two daughters, Bobbie and Cynthia. He has many headaches about his daughters' loves which caused the play to develop into quite a humorous affair.

The cast is: Ma Simpkins, a lovable character with a grand sense of humor, Ruth Heighway; Harlan Woodbridge, the town's leading jeweler, Lee Norris; Bobbie Woodbridge, his young and rattlebrain daughter, Edyth Barber; Cynthia Woodbridge, another daughter, Bonnie Adams; Sunny Winton, Harlan's timid young niece, Polly Whittenberger; Elmer Northcote, who

35 PIGS, 3 SOWS BURN TO DEATH

Thirty five pigs and three brood sows burned to death at the Raymond Roger farm, in Newcastle Township, at 6:30 a. m. Wednesday morning when a hog house caught fire.

Fire Chief Bud Johnson, of the Rochester Fire Department, said that the fire may have started when brooder lights in the 20 x 30 structure were knocked out by the sows, causing a short and igniting the straw.

Also lost was a new two wheeled trailer. Saved was a tractor, which James Rogers, occupant and son of the farm owner, had accidentally forgotten to put up for the night.

A fourth sow escaped from the conflagration by forcing itself through the side of the hog house.

Big Everett Rookstool added 18 points to his season total, and teammate Donnie Butt was equally impressive with 17. Bugs Haney chipped in with five big field goals. Hoffman's 16 points paced Gilead.

CO-OP. MILL

Last week he took pictures of his high school athletic groups, his varsity members in individual poses, and his junior high teams. The pictures brought him extra business in the developing of many of these for student orders. I shouldn't be surprised to see him taking pictures of the senior class of '51 another year.

Miss McFarren is debating with herself over sponsoring a train ride for her second graders. When her children study the transportation unit, they would learn so much more readily if they could get the experience of a train ride. It would not be necessary that the train ride be long. For example it might be from Warsaw to Plymouth. Can you imagine what a thrill this would provide for her children? Mrs. Buck used to give her children this experience quite regularly when she taught at Bremen.

Six senior boys, three of them regulars, have played their last ball game for Mentone High. Don Boyer, Forst Dunnuck, Junior Emmons, Donnie Grubbs, Dave Johns, and Bill Lowman have now forsaken our basketball court. Their last game was a glorious one, though they went down to defeat at the hands of Syracuse's powerful team 58 to 54. These boys will experience a let-down in future basketball glories, because there is no game that holds the glorious thrills that your high school game has. College and professional ball are too mechanical.

An interesting sidelight to the tournament developed Friday morning when Mr. Burt and Forst Dunnuck arrived at Warsaw late. The Mentone boys were to come out to Mr. Burt's on their road to the armory. The night's snow scared them out, so they took Road 25 to Warsaw. Then Mr. Burt, after waiting as late as he dared, drove into Mentone to learn why his team didn't come. He and Forst beat the starting gun by just a minute or two. Phil Shilling started at center and played until Forst was dressed.

On Tuesday night our basketball team was entertained and fed at Burket. The Akron Jonah Club provided the meal, and LeRoy Longnecker, a Mishawaka lawyer, who specializes in magic and ventriloquism, featured the entertainment.

Because we had no school on Tuesday and because the weather seemed favorable for winter sports, Mr. Kelley and Mrs. Blickenstaff took two car loads of student to Pokagon. Accompanying them were Betty Orcutt, Dave Johns, Jenny Hall, Eddie Greighton, Bill Reed and Dave Cooper. The party did suffer some disappointment because they did not get to taboggan. However, you can rest assured they still had lots of fun.

Concrete Pipe

Although shrinkage cracks may develop in exposed concrete pipe, these small cracks will heal themselves in the presence of moisture and in fact become stronger than before the break. The reason: concrete in the presence of moisture exudes calcium hydroxide, which upon exposure to the atmosphere is converted to calcium carbonate which seals the cracks and prevents rusting of the metal reinforcement.

OUR COUNTY AND SOCIAL SECURITY

By GERALD O. KELVER

I have received two letters which illustrate one type of benefit payable under the Old-Age and Survivors Insurance Program, which is not fully understood.

The first one says, "My wife and I are well along in years and we are being supported by our unmarried daughter, who has a good position where she pays into Social Security. At times we get to thinking about what would happen to us if she died before we did. Would we get anything from Social Security?"

The other letter reads, "I am a widow 50 years old and without children. My closest relatives are my parents who live with me and are supported by me. I do not understand why I should be required to pay Social Security taxes, because my friends told me that widows and children are the only relatives who can draw monthly payments. If my parents won't be eligible for Social Security benefits in the event of my death, why should I pay the tax?"

The answer to both letters was that the parents could get benefits because it is obvious that they are chiefly dependent upon their daughter. Of course, proof of dependency would be required at the time of filing their applications.

"Chiefly dependent" means that the daughters provide more than 50 per cent of the total cost of the parent's support. The Social Security Act says that parents, age 65 or over, may receive monthly payments when an insured son or daughter dies, if they were chiefly dependent upon the child for their support at the time the child died, and provided the child was not survived by a widow or unmarried child who could become entitled to monthly benefits.

If the parents are not 65 or over when the child dies, a lump-sum death payment would be made to whoever paid the burial expenses, and the parents, if chiefly dependent, would still begin to get monthly benefits when they did reach the age of 65. They must, however, file applications before payments could be made.

Parent includes also a step-parent and an adopting parent if this relationship existed before the child was 16 years old.

Coal Crisis Creates Emergency requiring restrictions on use of ELECTRICITY

Northern Indiana Public Service Company has always made an effort to maintain an adequate coal supply for the generation of electricity. Despite these efforts, curtailment of mining to three days a week and several cessations of work at the mines have reduced our coal supply from 86 days on September 1, 1949, to a present level of approximately 20 days. During the current critical period the company has purchased all coal available from its normal sources, and in addition, has purchased a considerable quantity of fuel from other sources at premium prices. We have also made use of substitute fuels wherever possible.

Despite all of these efforts, the situation has become so critical that it is now necessary for us to enlist the cooperation of our electric customers in conserving electricity. This is necessary in order to protect the public safety, health, and welfare which would suffer in the event of a total interruption of electric service.

Realizing the seriousness of this situation, the Public Service Commission of Indiana has issued an emergency curtailment order under which all customers are obliged to reduce their electrical usages by 25%. This order applies to all electrical customers of Northern Indiana Public Service Company, including residential, commercial, and industrial, and becomes effective at midnight Sunday, February 26.

Only the following classes of usage are exempted from the terms of the order:

1. Pumping of water for fire protection and sanitary purposes.
2. Street lighting, except white-way street lighting in excess of the amount determined by local public authority to be necessary for public safety.
3. Fire and police authorities.
4. Operation of water filtration plants.
5. Operation of sewage disposal plants.
6. Operation of plants engaged in the preparation and preservation of perishable foods.
7. Operation of hatcheries.
8. Communications.
9. Hospitals.
10. Penal and correctional institutions.
11. Oil and gas production and transmission.

THE SERIOUSNESS OF THIS SITUATION REQUIRES THE WHOLE-HEARTED COOPERATION OF ALL CUSTOMERS

It is even less than the number that started in the years just before the war. Moreover, some 300,000 businesses shut up shop in 1948 (a new post-war high), so the net gains in the business population was less than 100,000.

MENTONE MURMURS

DAVID and SALLY GOSSER

To work or not to work, that is the question. Whether 'tis nobler to make concessions or feel the pangs of hunger and let the children feel the icy fingers of unheated homes along with the majority of the people of the nation surely must be the thought of many Christian coal miners today. Revengeful or otherwise may be the efforts of domestic and industrial users of coal to find a more consistently produced product for heat and power energy — an opportunity for atomic energy enthusiasts unless our fears of war is bleeding the nation of civilian inventive genius. An alternative exists; let's all go to Florida.

Last week we were standing at the feet of Vulcan and enjoying the view that spans the city of Birmingham, but fearful that we had not fully escaped the clutches of winter we drove on through Montgomery and veered south-eastward to Dothan, using Route 231. We had been traveling through peanut and pecan country. The silver-gray pecan trees, stripped of fruit and leaves, we soon learned to recognize on sight, but darkness was mantled softly around us before we found lodging, and our attention was given over to finding rooms.

Our third stop was successful and Murmurs left the Croxalls at a motel, occupying the only remaining vacant room, while he went in search for a room at a tourist home. What the Croxalls did not know until morning was that Murmurs spent about two hours at the hospital. It was not an intended visit and the occasion was so unusual that Murmurs may never hear the end of it. He didn't step on his finger, but the next thing to it — he tore the top tendon loose from the first joint of the middle finger of his left hand. The result is a baseball fracture without having touched a baseball, and the casualty was not that of slipping in a bath tub. It was much easier. He was removing a half-hose with elastic top from his foot when his finger slipped and — well — a baseball fracture, but he continued with his shower, dressed, and then finding that neither he nor Mrs. Crawford, the tourist home owner, were able to pull into place what was thought to be a joint out of place, he drove to the hospital, accompanied by Mrs. Crawford's daughter, who has a lovely five-year-old southern belle. This little lassie was much concerned over Murmur's finger, which was placed in a splint by Dr. S. G. Latiolas at the city hospital. After much jesting on the part of the nurses and the doctors who were adjourning from a medical meeting, Murmurs was able to slip away and get a bite of lunch. Across the table there was an engaging conversation on the race problem, and although Murmurs can not agree with the southern outlook he found that there is a good attempt being made to face the problem fairly on the part of some folks.

In many of the communities through which we passed new school buildings were being erected for colored children as well as for white children. The Catholic Church is erecting a large community area for negroes in Tennessee, but there are millions of them living in crude unpainted shacks at the edges of the cities, in turpentine camps, and in small clearings along the roads and highways.

In the morning Murmurs was awakened by the song of birds, and as the mist lifted from the garden he saw Cammellias, Hybiscus, loquots, palms, and a beautiful Holly tree. A perfect Cammella blossom was plucked by Mrs. Crawford for me to give to Mrs. Croxall. Pictures of the blossom held by the little southern belle, and the southern hospitality which included the free medical service at the hospital was evidenced, but Croxalls were without a driver and a car, and Murmurs hastened to the breakfast rendezvous near the motel.

As we drove east from Dothan, we left the peanut fields and oil extracting plants behind. Slash Pine forests with their gum cups hanging on the trees stretched endlessly across southern Georgia. Spanish moss draped both leafless and verdant boughs in country and town. Drums of gum were stacked at the turpentine camps for shipment, and cows and pigs grazed along the highways and forests of pine.

A sight that was repeated time after time was the convict labor road crews with armed guards and guard trailers attached to highway trucks. There are not many occupations Murmurs would desist from, but he honestly would prefer being the criminal than the hound-man lolling along the open road. There is no doubt that criminals need guards, but there are jobs suited to camp life which would take them off the highways and eliminate a large numbers of the guards for more gainful and productive enterprises.

At Boston, Georgia, we stopped for gas, and a discussion was in progress at the filling station. It seems that the small land owners in southern Georgia and parts of Florida are confronted with the problem of holding their lands against the offer of large Slash Pine Companies who in one county own over 30,000 acres and 17,000 acres in the adjoining county. One reaction was "We'll have to homestead this land again one of these days. They are squeezing us out."

Dozens of forest fires were raging through the south, but there was not much concern for them, although fire towers were numerous. On inquiring about this unconcern, Murmurs was informed that many of the fires were intentional for the purpose of clearing out undergrowth so that more succulent grass may grow for the grazing cattle. Valdosta was reached by noon, and we turned south again.

Anxiously we watched for the Florida State Line — crossed it — and paused at Jasper where Croxalls visited with a clergy friend while Murmurs pulled festoons of moss from the trees as token of our invasion of the southland. He was aided in his efforts by two little P. K's. (Preacher's Kids), twins, who also showed him through the church of which their father was pastor.

"Way Down Upon the Swanee River" was chorused as we left Jasper and turned our thoughts towards the east coast, but another stop was made. None of us have entertained the thought of retiring in old age at the Penny Farms, but we were curious to know what provisions J. C. Penny has made for retired religious workers. For

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

For the four meetings in February Mrs. Conda Malburn has been giving the Girl Scouts lessons in block printing. This has been an interesting project and the girls have not only learned much but are the proud possessors of scarfs which they printed themselves. The Girl Scouts are grateful to Mrs. Walburn for giving her time, abilities and materials.

March 15 is the 38th birthday of the Girl Scouts. Troop No. 1 in Mentone is celebrating this event by bringing in the bags for schoolmates overseas which they began in January. These overseas bags are the International friendship project for 1950. Each troop was asked to give at least one bag. They have made and filled three bags which will be sent children overseas. (Notice our coming window display in the library window.)

Our present officers are Janet Rose Reed, president; Dawn Ware, vice-president; Lois Dowden, secretary, and Sheila Fitzgerald, treasurer.

The troop wishes to express their appreciation to the Psi Iota Xi Sorority for a donation of $10.00 given to them recently.

Preserving Egg Quality

Freshness is a factor of high egg quality, for an egg is never any better than at the time it is laid. Since the freshness of the egg affects egg profits, it is important to keep them fresh.

The first sign of waning freshness is the enlarging of the air cell, diminishing firmness of the yolk, and the watery white.

Conditions Count More Than Age

The actual age of the egg is not as important as the condition under which it is kept. A fresh egg kept at room temperature for eight days is as stale as an egg in cold storage for one hundred days. In ideal conditions, an egg will become stale very slowly.

The important factors in maintaining egg quality are the temperature and humidity at which it is kept. Heat lowers the interior quality of the egg by causing thinning whites and weakened membrane. High temperature also stimulates development of bacterial growth, which is the cause of some kind of bad eggs. Kept in a place which is cool and damp will preserve the fresh egg much longer.

The First Step

During the hot summer months a cool hen house with well ventilated nests is the first requirement to keep the eggs fresh. The nests should be of size and number to prevent crowding. The warmer the weather the more often the eggs should be collected. Four gatherings on a hot day are none too many. Nests should be kept clean at all times as this will save labor, and is better for the eggs.

Removing the Animal Heat

The egg that has just been laid has a temperature of slightly above 100 degrees. This fact at once suggests the necessity of removing the animal heat as soon as possible. A good way to cool off the eggs is to spread them on wire bottom trays in a cool room, not too many on a tray. Incubator trays are fine for this purpose.

Location of Egg Room

The best location for an egg room is underground. A good, well built cellar provides ideal conditions. Generally, ventilating the egg room tends to raise the temperature, although careful night ventilation in some instances helps to lower it.

Eggs are like milk in their ability to absorb odors. Therefore, the egg room should be kept free from any stuffy or musty smell. A cellar does not always meet this essential requirement.

The Heat and Moisture Problem

Even under the best conditions the desirable temperature of 40 degrees to 50 degrees is seldom maintained in an egg room. Usually it is necessary to install some simple cooling device. A cooling system that provides a high humidity is best because this retards shrinkage and enlargement of the air cell.

As soon as the newly gathered eggs have lost their animal heat, they should be transferred from the wire bottom cooling trays into the egg crate and into the cooler. The loss of animal heat is indicated by a "stony" feeling to the eyelid when the egg is held against it.

Good and Fresh

The time spent on keeping that fresh egg complexion is a good investment of any poultryman's time.

NATIONAL COMMANDER TO SPEAK AT LEGION MEET

Plans for the appearance of Indiana's own National American Legion Commander George N. Graig, together with a mass initiation of new Legionnaires from some 195 Posts in Northern Indiana and about 40 Posts in the Fourth Michigan District, headed by District Commander Ward Welsh, of St. Joseph, are under way. The hugh affair is scheduled for the Navy Drill Hall at the University of Notre Dame, on Saturday night at 8 o'clock, March 11th. The public is invited to attend.

High-light of the event, of course, will be the National Commander's address, which is expected to be "punch-packed" as many of his previous talks throughout the nation. Civic leaders, the faculty and student body of Notre Dame, the State Commanders of both Michigan and Indiana and other V I P (World War II's abbreviation for Very Important Persons) will be present.

Scheduled as a Third Indiana District event, and headed by District Commander Stephen A. Kollar, South Bend, hosts at the meeting and afterwards at their headquarters will be the Bendix Aviation Post No. 284, South Ben. Colors will be advanced and retired by the crack color guard of the Thomas McCoy Post No. 74, Elkhart. Initiation ceremonies will be in charge of the splendid Degree Team of the Nappanee Post No. 154. Before and during the ceremonies, the South Bend Post No. 50 Band will entertain.

Elected at the Legion's national convention at Philadelphia last fall, National Commander Graig has the distinction of being the first of the younger Legionnaires of World War II to be elevated to the highest office this world's largest veterans organization can confer. Graig, a graduate of the Brazil, Indiana, high school, attended Arizona University pre-law, graduated from Indiana University of Law, L.L.B., 1932, and was admitted to practice in Indiana in June of the same year. He maintains his residence at Brazil, is married and the father of two children.

Graig entered the service in the United States Army Reserve Corps in 1932, was called to active duty on March 12, 1942. He served with the 80th Infantry Division in General Patton's Third Army, participating in the campaigns of Northern France, Rhineland, Ardennes and Germany, being discharged in 1946 as a Lieutenant Colonel of Infantry.

Since actively taking over the reins of the National Legion, he has made an enviable record, and has gained the respect of friend and adversary alike. His address at the coming event will be one of his major addresses of this year, and his appearance on the Notre Dame campus on March 11th, next will be his only appearance in this area during his term as the National Commander.

NORTHERN INDIANA COOPERATIVE ASSOCIATION HOLDS ANNUAL MEETING

Patrons and Stockholders Save $43,679.90 on Year's Operations.

The annual stockholders meeting of the Northern Indiana Cooperative Association was held at the Mentone school building Monday afternoon, with over one hundred and fifty of the stockholders present. Many others were represented by proxy and took part in the election of two directors to fill the expired terms of Directors Elmer Sarber and Fred Beeson.

Six candidates were nominated as director candidates: Max Nellans, Oral Welch, O. B. Deaton, Chester Christian, Fred Beeson and Elmer Sarber. Mr. Beeson declined the nomination, leaving a field of five candidates.

Subject to a motion made and properly supported, a candidate had to win a majority to be declared elected, and if two candidates did not receive a majority on the first ballot, the candidate receiving the lowest number of votes was dropped from the list. Results of the first ballot were:

Elmer Sarber 156.
O. B. Deaton 114.
Max Nellans 112.
Oral Welch 85.
Chester Christian 61.

Elmer Sarber, having received a majority of the votes cast, was declared elected by Chairman Raymond Lash.

On the second ballot, Deaton received 109 votes, Nellans 105 and Welch 44. As no candidate received a majority of the votes cast, the name of Welch was eliminated and another vote was taken. Max Nellans, with 149 votes, was declared elected over O. B. Deaton with 119.

Fine Record In 1949.

Although the total volume of sales dropped during 1949, the net savings to patrons was quite commendable. Total sales were slightly under one million dollars $999,695.43. The net margins on operations was $43,679.90. Of this amount $10,982.00 was paid to stockholders for interest on the stock, leaving $32,697.90 as the patrons' share in the year's operations.

Chairman Lash extended an invitation to every stockholder to stop at the office whenever he has any question regarding the association. The officers and directors are attempting to operate every branch of the cooperative as efficiently as they can and still deliver the maximum of service to the patrons. They are always glad to answer any question possible regarding the business, and the books are open to any stockholder. It will always pay every stockholder to know just how his business is being operated. This is why the directors make such a big effort to get as many stockholders to attend the annual meeting as possible.

The 1949 annual statement lists the total assets of the cooperative at $287,848.45.

Mentone's donations totalled $287.48.

PLANE DAMAGED IN FORCED LANDING HERE

A two-place Taylorcraft plane, piloted by Bob Barger, 25, of Elkhart and being ferried from the Roscoe Turner field at Indianapolis to Elkhart, was slightly damaged about dark Sunday evening as the pilot attempted an emergency landing in the Tucker field, just east of the Northern Indiana Co-op. The gas supply was low and as darkness was coming too rapidly for the pilot to reach his destination, the emergency landing was necessary.

One wheel of the landing gear was broken, the propeller damaged and as the plane came to a stop, one wing tip hit the wire fence.

The plane was repaired and the journey completed Monday afternoon.

MENTONE MURMURS

by DAVID and SALLY GOSSER

Did you know that you may feel a twilight? If you are of the romantic turn of mind, it is quite easy. The fact is, you can not help yourself; it almost thrusts itself upon you. Such was the twilight the evening we entered Green Cove Springs, Thursday, February 2. A languorous breeze stirred the drapery of moss above us, and the soft placid fingers of light were slowly drawn away from the oaks and the palms. Only the blush of a sky kissed by sun was remaining, and the hush of the organ, while deft fingers pulled out the stops for nocturns and songs without words.

The moon like a stately galleon rose over the St. Johns River where its silver pennants lay on the rippling water. What ancient romance could these waves unfold where Seminole and Spaniard plied their paddles long ago? To Murmurs they were mute, but not to the shores familiar to their feet. Who drank and tasted of the spring? The acid twang is still upon the tongue. The moon, wise one, looked long into its depths but then passed on, and took its silver with it.

In the morning we had a broad vista of river and park, and in the fastness of the hotel patio, the flaming poinsettias and fragrant honey suckle. As we sped on toward St. Augustine we saw part of the "moth ball fleet," about 650 ships which could be placed in service in a month's notice. Each ship had de-humidifiers which kept the humidity down to at least eighteen per cent. The grey hulks and superstructures were an imposing sight to one who loves ships and water; and routine inspection keeps them as trim as though they were at sea. Scores of planes were in the air between St. Augustine and Jacksonville.

St. Augustine is a picturesque and quaint city, the most interesting of the trip. The Old City Gates, the oldest wooden residence and school house, the Fountain of Youth, and the Castillo de San Marcos gave it an interest for young and old alike. The narrow streets were never intended for horseless carriages; they hardly serve adequately as side walks in this day.

Marineland was next on the agenda for the day. This is a "must" for landlubbers of the Mid-west. Here you meet face to face (through two thicknesses of glass) the denizens of the deep: giant sting rays, sharks, jew fish, zebra or prison fish, ribbon fish, giant sea turtles, and the playful porpoise. The last named play with a small inner tube, taking it to the bottom and letting it float to the top to be snatched by another porpoise and dunked. They are readily trained. They answer the dinner bell and not only take fish out of an attendant's hand but also from his mouth, jumping their full length out of the water to do so. The view through the two hundred port holes give a person more than a fair idea what Davy Jones' Locker is like.

For Murmurs, the afternoon drive along the coast to Daytona Beach was tantalizing. No beach and ocean wave was made only to look at; God certainly intended for man to revel in the spray, race up and down the surf packed sand, and inquire into every shell the waves toss up to him. The beauty of the long swells cresting and breaking into foam, pounding the sand with saline fingers that grasp the grains and draw them from between your toes were for the sons of time God's very hands with which He carved the continents. With full organ accompaniment they rise to meet the cries of the plunging gulls and the low flying formation of pelicans patrolling the coast. Hypnotic is the ceaseless effort of the sea. Surely the patience of God could not be better illustrated.

While Croxalls visited friends at Daytona Beach in an apartment that overlooked the band shell, Murmurs promenaded along the beach, watching the autos drive on part of the twenty-six mile stretch of sea-way which at high tide is under water. Later in the day Murmurs also drove on the sand with the water licking the tire tread. So enthused was he that he drove too far south on the beach to contact the highway, and he ended up at a light house. Because the day was drawing to a close, as your patience must likewise be doing, let us stop for the night at the Osceola Hotel on Route No. 1 on the south side of Daytona Beach.

GOVERNMENT EXPERT AT FINDING TAX DOLLARS

Federal automotive excise taxes cost the motorists of Indiana approximately $38,500,000 according to a preliminary estimate made today by Charles M. Hayes, president of the Chicago Motor Club.

"These taxes were imposed back in 1932 for the announced purpose of 'balancing the budget,'" Mr. Hayes pointed out. "At the present time, they are costing motorists more than $1.-300,000,000 yearly.

"Since imposition of the taxes, they have taken nearly nine and a half billion dollars out of motorists' pockets — an amount greater than the total expenditures of the Federal government for any peacetime year prior to 1941.

"The taxes have never been defended except on the basis of expediency. The government felt it needed the money and found the motorist a handy source of revenue. The Federal automotive levies — which include one and a half cents a gallon on every gallon of gasoline the motorist uses — have been condemned by all highway user groups, by many state governments through action of the legislatures, and by many experts who have studied the problem.

It will pay many motorists to figure their tax by different methods before filing income returns, Charles M. Hayes, president of the Chicago Motor Club, said.

If you are engaged in an occupation requiring the use of your car, you may be able to reduce your federal income tax by filing your return on long form 1040, according to Mr. Hayes.

Motorists who use that form may deduct the following:

1. Any expense of operating a car for business, including gas, oil, greasing, washing, garage rent, toll charges, depreciation, insurance and repairs.

2. State and city auto license fees.
3. State gasoline tax (Illinois 3¢ per gallon.)

4. Interest on automobile financing.
5. Drivers' license fee.

6. Losses due to fire, theft, storm or collision of automobile, to the extent they are not compensated by insurance.

However, Hayes said, motorists are not permitted to deduct:

1. Federal gasoline tax.
2. Federal taxes on tires, batteries, parts, etc.

3. Fines paid for traffic offences.
4. Expenses of driving to and from work (classed as personal use of the car by government ruling.)

5. Reimbursement expenses, unless the allowance is listed as income.

6. Finance charges which are not "interest."

Those motorists who use their cars for both business and pleasure should divide their expenses according to the percentage of each kind of driving.

Depreciation may be figured by the "straight line" method, by which the cost of the car, less probable junk value, is written off in equal amounts annually over the estimated life of the car. The total depreciation taken in this and previous returns must not exceed the car's full value.

OUR COUNTY AND SOCIAL SECURITY

By GERALD O. KELVER

To assist you in protecting your rights under the Old-Age and Survivors Insurance program, timely reminders follow:

1. If you want to write to your Social Security Office about anything concerning Old-Age and Survivors Insurance, address your letter to: Social Security Administration, Room 222, Equity Bldg., Elkhart, Indiana.
2. If someone in your family has recently passed away and the person worked under Social Security, get in touch with your Social Security office so that we may tell you whether or not you are eligible to receive payments. When death occurs, widows, children, and dependent parents may be entitled to monthly benefits.

3. Social Security is Family Insurance. In addition to the wage earner, benefits may be payable to the 65 year old wife; children under 18; widows, and dependent parents, if no widow or child under 18 survives.

4. If you have lost your Social Security card, or it is in such shape that the number is not legible, you should request a duplicate card from your Social Security office. It is very important to have a Social Security card in your possession at all times. Never try to give your number to the employer from memory. One wrong number can cause you to lose credit that is rightly yours if your record is not corrected within a certain time.

5. You have the right to Old-Age and Survivors Insurance, if you are 65 and have earned it. Get in touch with your Social Security office when you become 65 if you have ever worked in employment that required a Social Security card and are planning to stop work.

6. Hold on to your Social Security card. Tell your family now where they can find it should the need arise.

"JACKPOT JITTERS"

Preserving Egg Quality

Freshness is a factor of high egg quality, for an egg is never any better than at the time it is laid. Since the freshness of the egg affects egg profits, it is important to keep them fresh.

The first sign of waning freshness is the enlarging of the air cell, diminishing firmness of the yolk, and the watery white.

Conditions Count More Than Age

The actual age of the egg is not as important as the condition under which it is kept. A fresh egg kept at room temperature for eight days is as stale as an egg in cold storage for one hundred days. In ideal conditions, an egg will become stale very slowly.

The important factors in maintaining egg quality are the temperature and humidity at which it is kept. Heat lowers the interior quality of the egg by causing thinning whites and weakened membrane. High temperature also stimulates development of bacterial growth, which is the cause of some kind of bad eggs. Kept in a place which is cool and damp will preserve the fresh egg much longer.

The First Step

During the hot summer months a cool hen house with well ventilated nests is the first requirement to keep the eggs fresh. The nests should be of size and number to prevent crowding. The warmer the weather the more often the eggs should be collected. Four gatherings on a hot day are none too many. Nests should be kept clean at all times as this will save labor, and is better for the eggs.

Removing the Animal Heat

The egg that has just been laid has a temperature of slightly above 100 degrees. This fact at once suggests the necessity of removing the animal heat as soon as possible. A good way to cool off the eggs is to spread them on wire bottom trays in a cool room, not too many on a tray. Incubator trays are fine for this purpose.

Location of Egg Room

The best location for an egg room is underground. A good, well built cellar provides ideal conditions. Generally, ventilating the egg room tends to raise the temperature, although careful night ventilation in some instances helps to lower it.

Eggs are like milk in their ability to absorb odors. Therefore, the egg room should be kept free from any stuffy or musty smell. A cellar does not always meet this essential requirement.

The Heat and Moisture Problem

Even under the best conditions the desirable temperature of 40 degrees to 50 degrees is seldom maintained in an egg room. Usually it is necessary to install some simple cooling device. A cooling system that provides a high humidity is best because this retards shrinkage and enlargement of the air cell.

As soon as the newly gathered eggs have lost their animal heat, they should be transferred from the wire bottom cooling trays into the egg crate and into the cooler. The loss of animal heat is indicated by a "stony" feeling to the eyelid when the egg is held against it.

Good and Fresh

The time spent on keeping that fresh egg complexion is a good investment of any poultryman's time.

EVERY BILL CONGRESS PASSES TAKES CUSTOMER'S DOLLARS

If you really want to look for inflation, if you want to know where the costs are being driven up, look at your tax structure, H. H. Northrup, Executive Vice President, National Retail Lumber Dealers Association, Washington, D. C., said Thursday.

He told the assembled members of the Indiana Lumber & Builders Supply Association, in convention at the Murat Temple, Indianapolis, Indiana, that practically every suggestion made by the President has some relationship to the amount of money that Americans are going to have to spend in 1950, and counseled them to follow closely the legislative program of the present session of Congress.

MORE INTANGIBLES TAX COLLECTIONS EXPECTED

Lawrence Arnsman, State Intangibles Tax Administrator, announces that collections in his Division have been boosted from $35,000 to $50,000 monthly as a result of recent widespread publicity on payment of the tax, and the use of field auditors in this work.

Total collections in the fiscal year 1948-49 brought the State $2,216,065 and Mr. Arnsman hopes this figure will be boosted by a million dollars during the current year.

The Intangibles Tax, $\frac{1}{4}$ of 1% on stocks, bonds, sales contracts and other financial instrument, has not been paid by many taxpayers in the past simply because they did not realize their tax liability, Mr. Arnsman states.

The tax is due on the anniversary date of a stock or bond, not on a calendar or fiscal year basis. Government bonds, stock of Indiana corporation and real estate contracts are tax exempt. Mr. Arnsman warns, however, the State Law forbids transfer of financial instruments out of the state unless the tax is paid.

Tax stamps which must be placed on all financial instruments not specifically exempted, may be obtained at county treasurer's offices or from the Intangible Tax Division at 141 S.

Meridian Street, Indianapolis. Many banks, loan companies and other financial institutions have stamps available for purchase, too.

INDIANA ART TEACHERS CONVENE MARCH 17-18

The Art Educators Association of Indiana will hold its first convention on March 17 and 18 at the Claypool Hotel in Indianapolis.

Registration will be at 1:30 p. m. in the hotel lobby or mezzanine floor. All art teachers and supervisors are urged to attend.

Robin Bond of London, England, will be one of the principal speakers at the luncheon in the Florentine Room, Saturday noon. He was educated at the Royal College of Art in London, worked in pioneer experiments in England for eight years, and was invited to teach painting in the summer school of Columbia University. He is now associated with the Institute of Contemporary Arts in Washington, D. C., and with the American University.

Mr. Karl Martz, Indiana Art Department, will preview his two latest films on Ceramics.

Mr. Harold Shultz will speak at the 6:30 banquet in the Chateau Room. His subject will be "Art Education: A Necessity for All the Children of All the People."

Commercial exhibits are to be presented. In conjunction with the convention the Hoosier Salon Exhibit will be held in the State Life Building; the Scholastic Art Exhibit will be shown in Block's Auditorium.

Special Art Workshops will be held in Parlor E, the Louis XIVth Room, Parlor T, and the Florentine Room.

GREATER MARSHALL COUNTY YOUTH FOR CHRIST

THE THREE SHARPS, lovely trio of school girls from Vermillion Valley, in Illinois, will be guest singers at Greater Marshall County Youth for Christ when they meet in Lincoln High School Auditorium in Plymouth, Indiana, on March 11th, at 7:30 p. m.

Davis Breese, dynamic young director of Vermillion Valley Youth for Christ will be speaker of the evening. Dave is a winsome and enthusiastic young man who combines sparkling humor and heart appeal in his straight-from-the-shoulder messages for young people. You will like him.

Hear, also, Bob Schenck, young college student, with his golden saxophone, and his thrilling transcription of Gospel music.

Miss Mary McCroskey, the sweetheart of Vermillion Valley, gifted contralto soloist will sing her way into your hearts. You will be carried away with her message in song.

accompanied by Greater Marshall County Youth for Christ Orchestra.

CROSSING THE BRIDGE

Moving this country's meat from the farms and ranches where it is raised to the centers where it is consumed is a man-sized job.

First of all, it requires a big and alert industry. There are something like 4,000 meat packers in the United States, and 14,000 other commercial slaughterers of livestock. They are constantly competing among themselves for the available supply of meat animals, and they offer the producer a year-round cash market.

Second, there is a long bridge between the producer and the consumer. Most of the meat is raised west of the Mississippi, while most of it is eaten in the east. The main task of the packers is to cross that bridge, and to see that the meat is ready and waiting for the consumer when he goes to market.

Third, the demand cannot be properly met by just bringing certain quantities of meat to the markets. In some parts of the country, the heavy cuts of beef are in greatest demand. In other sections consumer preference runs, for example, to light lean cuts of pork. So it goes. In other words, the particular kind of meat which the consumer wants must be made available.

We all know how successfully this nation-wide job is being accomplished. We had meat shortages during the war and afterwards, when rationing and price-fixing were in effect and the black market was booming. But when the forces of supply and demand are permitted to operate in a free economy, we have plenty of meat, and it is sold to us at the lowest price consistent with current conditions.

One invention Russia hasn't claimed is the lie detector.

Polyphosphates

Compounds known as polyphosphates have become extremely useful in industry for thinning clay and pastes. They are, for example, added to drilling muds, the clays used to lubricate oil well drills and to float away the rock as it is cut by the drill. Polyphosphates are also employed to thin pastes of titanium dioxide, the dense white pigment applied to rayon to reduce shininess.

MANY NOT INFORMED ON SOCIAL SECURITY

"Ten older workers who have called at the Elkhart Office of the Social Security Administration during the last two weeks have lost benefits amounting to about $2,600, because they confused Unemployment Compensation payments and Old-Age and Survivors Insurance benefits," Gerald O. Kelter, Manager announced Tuesday.

Under Indiana Law workers 65 and over, who are entitled to Unemployment Compensation benefits, because of lay-offs, shut downs, or for any other reason can receive Unemployment Compensation benefits. If an individual is entitled to both benefits, they can receive both without one interfering with the other.

Workers 65 and over who are not working should check with the local Office of Social Security Administration in Room 222 of the Equity Building regarding possible benefits payable to them under the Old-Age and Survivors Insurance Program of the Social Security Act.

WILDLIFE MEET AT PURDUE

Several hundred sports minded persons and devotees of the study of conservation in all its phases have signified their intention of attending the twelfth annual Conservation Conference at Purdue University April 3, according to announcement by Kenneth M. Kunkel, Director of the Indiana Department of Conservation. Mr. Kunkel, who will serve as moderator, will close the afternoon session with summation of all of the talks made.

The affair will be held in the South Ballroom, Purdue Memorial Union Building with opening sessions at 1 p. m. Registration will be from noon until 1 p. m.

Emphasis during this year's conference will be placed upon fish and game rather than other matters handled by the conservation department.

Dr. Durward L. Allen, a native of Fort Wayne, Wildlife Biologist, on Agricultural Lands, U. S. Department of the Interior, Fish and Wildlife Service, Patuxent Research Refuge, Laurel, Maryland, will be the evening speaker at a banquet to be held at 6:30 p. m.

Dr. Allen is widely known in the field of wildlife biology, having spent many years in the field in farm wildlife management. He did much of his wildlife research work on farm game, especially fox squirrels, in Southern Michigan. He has written many articles, both scientific and popular, on game management. One of these titled "Michigan Fox Squirrel Management" and another titled "The Farmer and Wildlife" is free to all who write to the Wildlife Management Institute, Investment Building, Washington 5, D. C.

The speaker is expected to stress hunter-farmer relationships, both problems and opportunities.

Mr. Kunkel announced that Conservation Officers assigned to various districts in the ninety-two counties of the state will bring as many persons to the conference as their respective cars will permit. Tickets for the conference and banquet are in the hands of all Conservation Officers at $1 each and also may be obtained at the office of Henry P. Cottingham, Director of the Division of Fish and Game, 311-325 West Washington Street, Indianapolis. They will not be on sale at the University. At Purdue it was said the ticket will provide the holder to the best banquet meal the institution supplies.

Others who will speak during the conference will be Frank Haller, Game Technician, Pittman-Robertson Wildlife Research Project-2-R, who has chosen as his subject "The Wildlife of Wildlife on Indiana Farms;" William B. Barnes, Pittman-Robertson Coordinator, who will speak on "Trends in Indiana Wildlife Population;" Dr. Louis A. Krumholz, Biologist, Indiana Lake and Stream Survey, Indiana University, who will speak on the subject "New Stocking Policies for Indiana Ponds;" Dr. S. D. Gerking, Indiana University, who will use as his subject "Fish Stay At Home;" Dr. William E. Ricker, Indiana University, who will speak on "Our Fishery Problems;" C. H. Bechert, Director of the Division of Water Research, Indiana Department of Conservation, who will speak on "Relation of Water Resources to Wildlife" and Dr. C. M. Kirkpatrick, Assistant in Wildlife Management, Purdue University Agricultural Experiment Station, who will speak on "Streptomycin and Quail Disease."

4-H GIRLS LEARN IN CLOTHING PROJECT

With one eye on spring and the other on their pocketbooks, Indiana 4-H Club girls are off to a good start in the 1950 National 4-H Clothing Achievement program. Last year more than 24,000 girls throughout the state took part in the activity.

Interest in the program is always keen because every young lady — whether she's 10 or 20 — likes pretty cloths. Local club leaders and Extension agents teach the girls to select attractive patterns, buy good fabrics, and plan a practical wardrobe. Hats, bags and other accessories are designed, too, at a considerable savings.

Evidence that 4-H'ers do acquire a working knowledge and skill in dress-making is the fact that in 1949 more than two million garments were made by some 591,000 club members. Another important phase of the Clothing program is learning how to remodel out-of-date dresses and coats. Many daughters stretch the family budget by making over apparel for younger brothers and sisters.

In addition to these accomplishments, members have a chance to earn recognition for outstanding achievements in clothing work. The Spool Cotton Company, sponsor of the program, provides scholarship awards of $300 each to the 12 top ranking girls in the nation; an all-expense trip to the National 4-H Congress in Chicago for the State Champion; and gold medals for county winners.

The 1949 state and national award went to Bonnie Needler, of Hartford City. County medals were presented to 78 girls.

The program is conducted under the supervision of the Cooperative Extension Service.

FIREMEN SAVE FARM RESIDENCE

Kewanna, Leiters Ford, Culver and Rochester firemen Friday night saved the Leonard Shriver farm residence from destruction by flames after fire broke out there about 10 p. m., just as the family prepared to go to bed.

Paul Shull, Kewanna fire chief who was first to arrive, estimated water and building damages at between $1,000 and $1,500. Shriver told Shull he had no idea how the fire started, but officials believed it may have begun from wiring or a stove pipe.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

Monday, March 27, a local Scout Jamboree will be held in the Methodist Church. The Boy and Girl Scout Troop will combine to present a program which will be of interest to the entire community.

The occasion is the public presentation of the Boy Scout Charter and the opportunity to hear Nils Bolt, Norway's outstanding youth and Scout leader. Two years ago Mr. Bolt, a minister, directed a Scout Camp of over 2000 boys, some of them over 200 miles away from north of the Arctic Circle. He is an honored member of the Norway Annual Conference. "A boy's man — tall and straight as an arrow, most kindly and understanding."

Twenty years ago Pastor Bolt visited the Warsaw area, and for two weeks he will be speaking to Scout groups and congregations again. During the past war and occupation he had very unusual experiences. Coming well recommended by his personal friend, Bishop Raymond J. Wade now resident of Mishawaka, it is a rare opportunity for the Mentone Community to have him as guest speaker. He speaks perfect English and will be happy to answer questions following his address concerning his work in Norway.

An offering will be taken to help defray his traveling expenses, as he comes unsponsored by any organization, save our local committees. Part of the offering, should it be adequate, will go to help send a local Scout to the National Boy Scout Jamboree which will be held at Valley Forge the last week of June.

PINK AND BLUE SHOWER

Mrs. George Black was hostess at a lovely pink and blue shower given for Mrs. James Rogers, formerly Velva Mollenhour. The center of attraction as the guests entered was a bassinet lined with delicate blue, quilted plastic material. Above the basket, tiny pink and blue streamers held a wee, pink baby shoe hank into which each guest dropped a lucky penny. A lighted angel hovered over the little bed which was soon overflowing with gorgeous gifts.

The guests were given large sheets of pink paper and were asked to draw the Roger's baby. Mrs. Francis Rogers and Mrs. Max Nelland received first and second baby gift prizes which were given to the guest of honor. The guests also wrote letters and poems which were to be opened by Velva while at the hospital.

Delicious refreshments of pink and blue angel food cake and squares of ice cream topped with blue candy storks were served with coffee. Plastic pink and blue baskets filled with mints and nuts were placed at each plate.

Guests present were the Mesdames Hershel Nellans, Max Nellans, Francis Rogers, Raymond Rogers, Edison Tucker, Devon Tucker, Rex Parker, Robert Sittler, Ora Tucker, Bernard Black, Richard Whittenberger, Roland Mallott, Wilbur McSherry, Ed Dreisback, Chauncey Mollenhour, Charles Black, Gene Marshall, Gus Millenhour, Miss Jo Ann Tucker and Roger Nellans.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

In loving memory of our departed neighbor, Mable Warren, who was a member of Maple Leaf Camp No.
2462 Royal Neighbors of America, and who departed this life February nineteenth, nineteen hundred and fifty.
Whereas: It has pleased the Almightty in his profound wisdom to remove from our midst our highly honored and beloved neighbor, Mable Warren.

Therefore, be it resolved that we sincerely and deeply sympathize with the family and friends of the departed, in their sad bereavement, and that we implore kind Providence to comfort them in this, their hour of trial.

Resolved: That we will strive to the best of our ability to render such comfort as will lighten the burden of their sorrow.

Therefore: Be it resolved, that our Charter be draped in mourning for a period of thirty days and that a copy of these resolutions be given to the family and also recorded in the minutes of our next meeting.

Gathering home to the silent shore
Eyes that are weary shall weep no more.

Softly they lay their burdens down
Leaving the cross to wear the crown.
One by one, how soon 'twill be,
The Lord shall call for you and me.
Swiftly the fleeting moments fall
Oh, be ready when he shall call.

Resolution Committee: Thelma Hilbschman, Neighbors—Pearl Fenstermaker and Lydia Rynearson.

Realizing the need of such a gathering place for those vitally interested in conservation and wildlife and natural resources of the state and country, Kenneth M. Kunkel, Director of the Department, ordered set aside in the spacious basement of the new Conservation building, ample space for a room which will accommodate approximately 75 persons.

Chairs of the classroom type with a broad right arm upon which note pads may be placed will enable those in attendance to jot down a record of the proceedings.

The most modern 16 mm sound picture equipment together with a complete library of sound color films pertaining to the conservation movement will be shown to those assembled.

The auditorium is under the direct supervision of the Division of Education of which Hal M. Farr is director. Speakers attached to the division will be on hand at all times to explain the aims of the Indiana Department of Conservation and to speak before various groups.

There is no charge for the use of the assembly room which is open to all service organizations, conservation organizations, Boy and Girls Scouts, Campfire groups, Parent-Teacher organizations, church and fraternal groups.

For reservation it is suggested that interested individuals contact Mr. Farr well in advance of the date desired. The assembly room is available morning, afternoon and evening meetings Monday through Friday.

FARM BUREAU MEETING

Franklin Township held its Farm Bureau meeting at the Beaver Dam School March 3, 1950. After the pot luck supper, the meeting was opened by group singing led by Mrs. Harry Mishler with Mrs. Paul Cumberland at the piano. Mr. O. Jones read the scripture, the 146 Psalm and Paul Cumberland gave prayer.

Motion pictures were shown by Gordon Brubaker. Mrs. Harry Cole gave a brief report of the S & E Conference held at Indianapolis in February.

The business session was then turned over to Mr. Gerald Clinker. Doris Herald gave the secretary's report after which Mr. Harry Mishler gave a very interesting report of the National Convention held at Chicago in December.

Bernard Cox, of Clay township, explained the resolutions and use of the Farm Bureau protection signs, which were distributed to all members present. All Farm Bureau members are entitled to these protection signs.

Mrs. Paul Cumberland had charge of the Pet and Hobby Club.

PHEASANT AND QUAIL ARE BEING RELEASED

Twenty-three thousand pheasant and quail will have been released for Indiana sportsmen thus far this fiscal year, which will end June 30, following liberation of 15,000 such choice morsels by attaches of Indiana Game Farms who this week are delivering birds throughout the state.

The adult birds have been loaded aboard trucks from the Wells county Game Farm and preserve and the Jasper-Pulaski Game Farm and preserve.

Kenneth M. Kunkel, Director of the Indiana Department of Conservation, said he believed the birds are being released at a time judged to be most advantageous as to good food supply and mating. With the back-bone of winter broken and spring just around the corner, the birds will thrive, he believes.

Quail are being liberated in pairs and pheasants in groups comprising three hens and a male.

NATION TO SALUTE NATIONAL WILDLIFE WEEK

National Wildlife Restoration Week will be observed throughout the country March 19-25. The purpose of setting aside one week during the year in observance of the wildlife of the United States is to focus attention of the people on some very important problems of conservation. Unless the various conservation departments of the states of the Union have the understanding and help of the public no program of wildlife conservation can be made to work. Not everyone is interested in hunting and fishing. However, every single individual has a stake in wildlife even though he has never shot a gun or wet a fishing line.

Not only do many of our citizens get direct benefit from wildlife and wildlife land through the recreational enjoyment of motoring, hiking, camping, nature study and many other outdoor activities, but the indirect benefits of a country that is made suitable for wildlife, affect every individual. The effect is evident in the price of food, clothing and houses. Everything that is a product of the land from butter to wool to lumber, is affected by the same factors that make for good wildlife management.

National Wildlife Restoration Week is the logical time for people to think about all forms of conservation be it wildlife or natural resources and to resolve to make an individual effort to conserve these resources throughout the entire year.

Bing Crosby, the old groaner, has been named as honorary chairman for the thirteenth annual Wildlife Restoration Week, according to announcement by the National Wildlife Federation, sponsoring organization.

Several states have announced their intention of holding rather elaborate ceremonies in connection with the observance.

APPOINTED AS SCOUT EXECUTIVE

Clinton District of which Frankfort is the county seat. During his service there he has been responsible for scouts units in every town and village.

Prior to his professional entry in scouting he was an Eagle Scout with Silver Palm, a scoutmaster for six years and a commissioner for a six year period. For many years he was engaged in the retail furniture business before his interest became fixed in the direction of full time scouting.

RESUSCITATOR PAID FOR

The resuscitator for which donations have been taken from interested individuals, organizations and businesses in Mentone and community, is now completely paid for. However, the Firemen's Association took some of their own funds to complete the total, so any additional donations you care to make will reimburse the Firemen's Association. Too, it will be necessary to purchase several tanks of oxygen, as the firemen are doing some intensive practice work on the resuscitator so as to be skilled and capable when an emergency may come.

Fire Chief Arlo Friesner stressed the fact that the resuscitator is not for use in Mentone and immediate vicinity exclusively, but when called will be taken to any lake where there is a drowning; or home where there is a polio patient; or one suffering from a heart attack.

A word of appreciation is extended to all who responded so generously to this need. Surely we can feel proud of such public spirited individuals and groups who came forward so whole heartedly when a need arises.

MENTONE MURMURS

DAVID and SALLY GOSSER

Somewhere a jute box blared "Bam-boo" until my walls and ceiling at the hotel had the appearance of a tropic hut, and Murmurs fully expected to hear tom-toms and the piercing screams of moon-struck natives. Friday morning came without any exciting incidents and Daytona Beach was soon a past experience. The journey took us farther inland, and Murmurs could not conceal his disappointment that the sand and the waves were out of sight. So evident must this disappointment have been that when we arrived at Titusville, the Croxalls insisted, actually urged Murmurs to drive to the beach and take a swim. It didn't take any more resistance than E. P. would consider sufficient to be polite, and that was lip service, for the throttle went down fast after a supply of cards had been purchased to keep the Croxalls busy while Murmurs swam.

The drive out to Titusville Beach was exciting and beautiful, for here we had our first view of the cranes and herons, egrets and wild ducks that abound in the swamps and marshes of Florida. These were not the only inhabitants of the area, for Murmurs was called out of the waves to see a racoon that was feeding in the grass on a near-by dune. And above in spirals, the gulls circled untiringly. The water was warm and salty, but not as salty as Murmurs had expected to find it. I tasted it on purpose, but I would have tasted it anyway, because it's a habit I have. I never have once been swimming without coming out water-logged. One other party along the beach were the only adventurers there. The fact that the weather was rough may have discouraged less determined souls than Murmur, but the warm sun made the boiling spume and spray idellic for a son of Neptune, and the hour passed entirely too rapidly.

Dressing was a problem with ladies present and cars coming and going along the beach, so, like many other, Murmurs clothed himself under the steering wheel. It was rather cramped, but successful. On several occasions he wore his swim trunks under his street clothes should another opportunity to go swimming present itself.

Driving south was pleasant that afternoon, and the fragrance of orange blossoms filled the air, for we were in the orange belt. As town after town was entered, Murmurs began watching for Wabasso and Robert Firkins. The corporation was spread over the country quite widely, and after several inquiries Murmurs found the foundation and block wall of what will soon be the Florida residence of Bob and Mabel Firkins. On an adjoining lot was the Goshert home, and onions, lettuce, corn (not to be confused with that grown in Indiana), and beans grew in the irrigated garden intervening. But there was no one home, Murmurs failing on names hindered him from finding the Longacre residence where Firkins are living until their house is completed. Since then, he learned that Mrs. Firkins was baking a cake about that time. Perhaps, it was ready to be cut; somebody else ate it.

Leaving a note that Murmurs would return later, the trip south was resumed, and at Stuart the Croxalls had no better luck at finding friends they sought than Murmurs at Wabasso. He did, however, (meaning Murmurs) almost come home with a Brama bull, but Mrs. Croxall objected to having the animal ride in the back seat with her all the way. The 4-H Club was raffeling off the animal to raise money for a camp. The little lass was quite insistant that we try for it, but she was no match for Mrs. Croxall and the arguments she had for refusing. It takes a woman to break down the sales talk of another female, Murmurs has concluded.

The next stop was Lake Park which is a little north of West Palm Beach.

The depression which stalemated the land boom and the hurricanes, including last year's, have tended to make the place appear as a "has been, or never was," but the Meekers, friends of the Croxalls, assured us that there have been rapid strides in building in that area. When we asked what the people thought about the hurricanes, he said, "They would rather go through three hurricanes than one Mid-western blizzard." When we saw the results of our recent sleet storm, we could agree.

PUBLIC HEARING ON OPEN OR CLOSED FISHING SEASON

Temporary approval of Discretionary Order No. 38, providing for a year round open season on bluegills, crappies, yellow perch, rock bass and red-eyed sunfish, is announced by Kenneth M. Kunkel, Director of the Indiana Department of Conservation.

Mr. Kunkel explained that the Division of Fish and Game for some time has been conducting a public opinion survey by means of which 8,000 persons were interviewed in regard to the matter. Of that number 6,000 were in favor of the year round open season.

He further stated that a public hearing in regard to the measure will be held in the executive offices, 311 West Washington street on March 23rd at 10 a. m. at which time it will be determined whether or not the order will be approved and adopted.

Surveys conducted by Indiana University have indicated Mr. Kunkel said, that Indiana lakes and streams are over populated and that the proposed measure will ultimately result in an increase in the size of fish in these bodies of water.

The Indian State Conservation Advisory Committee, in its quarterly meeting with the Director of the Indiana Department of Conservation and the directors of various divisions of that body March 6 went on record as approving the proposed measure.

Director Kunkel is anxious that all persons interested in the passage of the discretionary order be present during the public hearing. All will be given opportunity to voice their opinion.

CARD OF THANKS

I want to take this opportunity to thank the ones who sent me the beautiful plants and for the many lovely cards and also for the ones that came to see me and for the other remembrances which I received while I was in the hospital and since I have come home. They were all greatly appreciated.

HOME FROM CALIFORNIA TRIP—Charles Manwaring arrived home Sunday from a two weeks trip which took him to the west coast.

He made the trip to Los Angeles by United Airlines. There he met Chester Manwaring, who has been in California for several weeks.

While in the San Bernardino Mountains he sent a card to us from Mentone, California, a town of 3,000 in the heart of the orange section.

Charlie says he enjoyed the trip but Mentone, Indiana looked pretty good to him.

Chester Manwaring plans on spending some time in Arizona before returning to his home here.

WHY NOT FEED THE SAFEST AND MOST ECONOMICAL METHOD?

Why use any concentrate with your grain if it does not produce the maximum results in Poultry and Livestock Production?

The use of HUDSON'S high protein concentrates in your feeding program is similar to the use of high analysis fertilizer in feeding your crops. In your high analysis fertilizer you have more units of plant food per bag, therefore, you use less pounds per acre than that of a lower analysis and obtain equal results with less cost. Likewise, you use considerable less pounds of Hudson's original high protein concentrates, as you have more units of high quality protein in a bag. As an example, 100 pounds of Hudson's 42% All-Mix (Poultry) will complete 500 pounds of 18% poultry mash, or 150 pounds of Hudson's 50% Hog-Mix concentrate will complete a ton of 14% hog feed. As you use less pounds of concentrates in your feeding program, you will find the prices of your complete feeds to be reasonable and competitive. The value of a bag of concentrate is not the cost per 100 lbs., but in dollars and cents you obtain from its use. The use of these concentrates in your feeding lot will convince you of their economical value.

CONSULT YOUR HUDSON FEED DEALER TODAY — have him figure the cost of your complete feed. After you compare the low cost of the complete feed, you will be assured that Hudson's is the most profitable feeding program for you.

ECONOMICS CLUB MEETS

Mrs. Agnes Rans, of Mentone, was assisted by Mrs. Ray Terry, in entertaining the 24 members of the Mentone Home Economics Club present at the meeting held Thursday afternoon and their guest, Mrs. Minnie Anderson. "Recognizing Figure Faults" and "Selecting Becoming Clothes" were subjects discussed by Mrs. Howard Horn and Mrs. Harry Sullivan, who presented the project lesson. They emphasized the importance of posture and the use of exercises to correct figure faults; also the selection of clothing which minimizes figure faults. Dresses were modeled by the members present and the good and bad points were discussed. Suggestions were made as to the correction of the latter. Mrs. Bertha Meredith gave the garden leader's report, telling of the care of house plants. For the meditation, Mrs. Terry read "A New Year's Prayer." A memorial service was conducted in honor of a deceased member, Mrs. Frank Warren. Mrs. Cloice Paulus, vice-president, conducted the business session in which Mrs. Royse Tucker was received into membership. During the social hour an auction was held in which articles were purchased by Mrs. Roy Cox, Mrs. Paulus, and Mrs. Meredith. Mrs. William Vernet was awarded the mystery package and birthday and wedding anniversary gifts were received by Mrs. Elmer Sarber, Mrs. George McIntyre and Mrs. Jacob Gross. Two subjects, "First Aid in the Home" and "Hostess Etiquette" will be presented at the next club meeting to be held April 13 with Mrs. Paulus as hostess.

THE WORLD'S BEST

TIRES ARE HERE

(Condensed from Popular Science Monthly)

If luck is with you next time you buy a tire for your car you'll get more than you expected for your money. This year something like three out of 100 purchasers will receive a "surprise-package" tire.

The prize will be of a standard make and will bear no distinguishing label. It looks exactly like any other tire. Neither you nor the dealer can tell it from the rest — not even an expert could. So you won't even know you have the jackpot tire until some day, perhaps in 1950 or 1951, you realize it has worn longer than any other tire you ever owned.

Treads of these wonder tires are made of a brand-new kind of synthetic rubber, called "cold rubber" because it is made in refrigerated kettles. Road trials indicate that tires with the new tread should give up to 30 per cent more mileage than tires of the finest natural rubber. Some of the new type have run 40,000 miles on test cars without even wearing smooth. There seems no doubt that they are the finest tires the world has ever known.

The special synthetic rubber that goes into these tires is not expensive. It sells at the same price as standard synthetic rubber — 18½ cents a pound. Natural rubber costs about 22½ cents.

In synthetic-rubber plants that they operate for the Government, the Copolymer Corporation, jointly owned by eight tire manufacturers, began making the new rubber last February at Baton Rouge, La.

Lee tires are sold by the Co-Op Oil station in Mentone, and are made of this new rubber.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY!

The American Legion will celebrate the 31st anniversary of its birth March 15 to 17. The Legion, which was founded at the historic caucus of 1,000 AEF delegates in Paris, France, March 15 to 17, 1919, now has reached a peak of an expected membership in 1950 of 3,554,540.

Born of war, in that every one of its three million members must have seen active service in the armed services of the United States in one or both of the two World Wars, it stands today as the foremost champion of peace, prosperity and security for our nation.

The American Legion soon became the largest organization of veterans of World War I. Then, upon their honorable discharge from the armed forces, veterans of World War II found the American Legion made to order for them. This American Legion's accomplishments during the past 31 years for veterans, their widows, and orphans, and for the general welfare of the community, state and nation have been many. Thousands of American cities and towns have been enriched through American Legion community services. Efforts of posts have produced parks, playgrounds, swimming pools, libraries, health clinics, day nurseries, ambulances and iron lungs, and other local improvements.

There are eight American Legion posts in Kosciusko County, located in Warsaw, Silver Lake, Pierceton, North Webster, Syracuse, Milford, Leesburg, and Mentone.

Spring

is a series of bursts — miraculous explosions of life into being. The tiny seed, buried deep in sod suddenly feels the warming sun, bursts its fetters and pushes up to answer I AM HERE! A few bold knockings — a final insistent push, and the bright eyed chick has cracked his prison walls also to cry I AM HERE! One day without warning the buds burst open to cover the whole world with pure white blossoms here and bewitching colors there. In chorus they shout "WE ARE HERE!" Everywhere Spring is the eternal promise that life will arise out of nothing, and out of captivity burst bravely into Freedom.

Rural Youth

ANYONE attending the yearly 4-H Congress in Chicago can't help but be impressed by the wonderful opportunity it offers both to the 4-H boys and girls, and to the industrial leaders who help to sponsor the Congress. Here 4-H youngsters come from all quarters of America, and have a week to spend shoulder to shoulder with the top executives of our nation's business. And the industrialists — the presidents and managers, directors and executives — clear their schedules of conferences and board meetings and step out of their daily roles as businessmen to become youth counsellors, or more exactly "just friends" — to renew their acquaintance with memories of their youth — to look forward to and talk about the future with those who will be future leaders.

The inspiration and stimulation of the Congress works both ways. To the 4-H boys and girls, the glimpse of the big city's enormity, variety, and its gigantic industry plus the personal warm meetings with the city's great men, may be the beginning of a dream which will lead them to a place at the head of industry some day. For others, the trip may point out that for them the large city holds little lure and they go back sure of what they want their life to be. For all, it's fun — fun to meet new friends from strange places, fun to explore Chicago's stores and museums, fun to be the recipients of honors and awards for excelling in projects on which they have worked hard.

To the industrial leaders who participate in the conferences, the Congress means even more. To many it brings back their own beginnings and they are eager to encourage the youngsters, hear of their accomplishments and help the 4-H cause in any way they can. This is evidenced by their generous gifts of scholarships and prizes as well as their personal support and contribution to the 4-H Congress and all 4-H projects. To the many leaders of business who are plagued with doubts about where America is heading these days, this annual get-together with 4-H youth provides food for more optimistic thought. They invariably emerge from the meetings feeling younger and confident that whatever the problems of the future may be, America will have the competent and resourceful leaders she needs to meet them.

Start with good chicks . . . the best money can buy. Remember, the original price of the chick is only a small part of the total cost of building a profitable egg layer. It takes as much time, labor, feed, heat and housing to grow a poor chick as a good one, so get the best . . . even if they cost a little more.

Brood Chicks Right

BROODING chicks is tricky business! If they're cheap chicks . . . chances are they won't "cheep" long. Even good chicks, raised on cheap, untested feed, may die off fast, and at best be slow gainers.

Good healthy chicks and a balanced chick starter are the first requirements for successful brooding. But even with these, a lot depends on you. For the first few days, newly hatched chicks are almost as "delicate" as infants in a nursery.

They're touchy about temperatures . . . it must be just right. Dampness depresses their spirit to live, and disease dwindles their numbers fast. It's up to you to keep your chicks healthy and happy, or you won't keep them long.

Provide a good brooder house, draftless but well-ventilated. Allow about half a square foot of floor space per chick up to four weeks of age. From four to eight weeks, provide about a square foot of floor space per chick.

Young chicks are timid when it comes to getting their share of the feed. If you're short on hopper space, chicks may forego eating rather than "elbow" their way through the crowd to the hopper. If they pass up a few meals, they'll soon begin to lag in gains and their resistance to disease will go down fast, exposing them to all sorts of troubles.

Many leading poultrymen follow the practice of feeding on inverted egg flats the first few days. This gets the feed down near the floor where chicks can see and reach it easily. After the first few days, hoppers may be added . . . at least one 2-foot hopper for each 50 chicks.

Don't forget plenty of clean, fresh water. A 1-gallon fountain per 100 chicks the first three weeks, and a 5-gallon fountain per 100 chicks from 3 to 8 weeks.

Other ideas for successful chick management are shown in the photos below. It will pay you to study up on them, and also get further details and free booklets on this important subject from your chick dealer, your feed store, the local county agent, or the high school agricultural teacher.

Dirt and disease go hand in hand. A disease outbreak among your chicks can put you out of the poultry business over-night. So before you put chicks into the brooder house, sweep down cobwebs, scrape floors, clean corners. Scrub with hot, soapy water or a solution of a 13 oz. can of lye in 15 gals. of water. Then disinfect with cresol.

If old hoppers and waterers are to be used with new chicks, take them outdoors for a good scrubbing in hot, soapy water. Then disinfect and leave them out in the sunlight to dry. Inspect for leaks and make repairs. Old, rusty hoppers and waterers are hard to disinfect, so it may pay to replace them with new.

Keep hoppers about $\frac{3}{4}$ filled, and add fresh feed daily. Feed the best commercial starting feed money can buy. Litter in this house is ground corn cobs. Some poultrymen prefer special bagged chick litter, chopped straw or peat moss, but long straw is not satisfactory. Cover litter with newspapers or clean sacks first three days.

Check the windows. Repair broken panes, rotted sills and frames. Be sure they close tight to prevent frigid winds from "whistling through", especially at the bottom where drafts might affect chicks. Windows that open like this permit ventilation without drafts.

Test your brooder several days before the chicks arrive so you'll have time for repairs, if needed. It should register at least 90° F. at highest setting. When chicks are underneath, temperature will go up to 95° F., about the average starting temperature for the first few days. Keep it running to dry house, drive out cresol fumes.

To feed it, you simply unroll a bale down the feedway . . . and there you have the hay just as it was in the field. The soft leafiness, the color and protein are still there.

With your own Roto-Baler, you're ready to go the hour your hay is cured. You can breathe easy when your crop is in rolled bales, for they shed rain like a thatched roof. Rolled bales store compactly, will not buckle; may be unrolled or fed whole in the open feedrack.

Commercial Fertilizer

PUT IT ON, DON'T PUT IT Off!

No matter how well you farm . . . no matter how many acres of legumes you plow under . . . no matter how many tons of manure you spread, little by little, year by year, the essential plant foods required by your crops are being drained from the soil.

For example, one acre of your land producing 60 bushels of corn loses about 57 lbs. of pure nitrogen, 24 lbs. of phosphoric acid and 27 lbs. of potash. If the corn is fed on your farm and the manure promptly spread, as much as 75 percent of these precious plant foods can be returned to the land. But even so, about 20 to 30 percent will be lost to the farm forever in the milk, meat and eggs you sell for human food!

In addition to what crops take out of the soil, even more of these vital ingredients are lost by erosion leaching.

In a large part, nitrogen can be replaced by growing and plowing under properly inoculated legumes which capture it from the air and release it in the soil. But the other essentials, phosphate, potash, lime and minor elements, can only be replaced by applications of commercial fertilizer.

How you apply fertilizer to the soil may materially affect your yield results. For top yields have your soil tested, choose fertilizer of the right analysis for your soil needs, and apply it in one or more ways suggested in the photos below.

To give young corn plants a quick start, mixed commercial fertilizer is generally applied at planting time. This application, however, is too light to supply all needs for the growing season. It should be considered a "booster" application to be used in addition to heavier applications applied at one time or another during the rotation.

Broadcast spreading of over other types of application spread quickly and accurately. It is most generally used in preparation for corn, and in small grain and seedings.

Side-dress to provide extra nitrogen when corn needs it most. Some side-dress during first cultivation relying on later cultivation to work fertilizer into the soil. Others side-dress during last cultivation. Still others side-dress with depth attachments that place fertilizer in root area. Some broadcast spreaders can be converted for side-dressing.

To complete two operations farmers apply fertilizer and use of a fertilizer applicator accomplish the same thing. Some fertilizer spreaders. But Tests indicate if the soil is acid, lime will be required, especially for legumes. Since lime is usually applied at heavy rates — from a ton to 4 tons per acre — trucks like this are often employed on a custom basis. Somewhat slower but more accurate spreading is accomplished with tractor-drawn lime and fertilizer spreaders.

Broadcast spreading of balanced fertilizers has the advantage over other types of application in that large quantities can be spread quickly and accurately. In the midwest, broadcasting is most generally used in top-dressing pastures; on land being prepared for corn and in the rotation before or during planting of all grain and seedings.

To complete two operations in the time of one, thousands of farmers apply fertilizer at the time of small grain planting by use of a fertilizer attachment on the grain drill. Still others accomplish the same thing by a grass seeder to their broadcast fertilizer spreader. Both methods save time and spreading costs.

SPRING unleashes the homemaker's creative instincts — she may whip up new suits for her young fry's appearance in the Easter parade — give her kitchen a new face — deck her hair with flowers — try out new menus with fervor and change the furniture around — put a fresh touch here and a gay one there — and all because it's spring outside and spring in her heart — and that's the way women are.

Kitchen Magic

It's hard to believe that the striking modern kitchen above (right), providing the utmost in efficiency, was made over from the small ordinary-looking kitchen at left. Typical of thousands of older, unplanned kitchens, this one had an inefficient back entry hall. Removing the partitions between the entryway and the main kitchen created an L-shaped area which was utilized to build a 4 foot circular table, providing loads of working area and storage space. Bringing the valance, which hides the lighting fixtures down 18" from ceiling and the toe space 10" up from floor makes storage space easily accessible — neither too high nor too low. The skimpy casement windows were lowered to counter height and extended around the corner, giving the kitchen an airy feeling. Against the opposite wall is an 8 foot cushioned bench, with wide arms hinged from wall to form little snack tables for four.

Springtime Saga . . .

By SUSAN LOWE

THIS is a story of silvery skies and shamrock cookies . . . of balmy days and Lenten dishes . . . of trees in bud and hot cross buns . . . of Easter bonnets and Easter breakfasts.

Comes St. Pat's Day and the wearing O' the green! Chances are you'll be celebrating with a Saint Patrick's Day Party. There'll be shamrock cookies, of course. Make them thin and crisp; cut with a shamrock shaped cutter; then sprinkle green granulated sugar over the top. If it's a homey sort of party, maybe you'll serve old fashioned Irish Stew along with a dessert of Emerald Isle Custard with Green Meringue. This Emerald Isle Custard is a sort of glorified Floating Island . . . just add a few drops of green vegetable coloring to your meringue before dropping by the spoonful on to the custard to form Emerald Isle. Serve in individual dishes.

Hot Cross Buns have become a Lenten tradition and all because of an old wives' tale. 'Tis said that women in ancient times believed that ordinary bread couldn't be baked on Good Friday, and so the women baked an extra-ordinary bread — Hot Cross Buns.

No Saga of Springtime would be complete without an Easter parade. So let's lead off with a festive Easter breakfast of strawberries in cream, eggs in nests, frizzled ham and pineapple and Hot Cross Buns.

FREEDOM is the theme for the '50s, and freedom with a flair is the special feature of the newest era in fashions, judging by the newest creations of all the top designers.

We women are going to enjoy dressing up in the latest, truly fashionable mode, for the 1950 look is much more comfortable and easier for the average woman to achieve — and still its refreshing and different! A large, blousy, roomy top, natural bustline, descending waistline, natural hip line, is replacing the nipped-in waist, bulging hipline of yesterday. Hips to knees will look slim and sleek, but skirts will have many concealed means for providing extra fullness and freedom for action. Look for full, bloused or back-pleated jackets fitting over lean skirts for the most part, or the new pleated skirts made of miraculous fabrics so that the pleats stay in — no matter how you may crush and wrinkle them.

Skirtlines are moving up a little — about an inch shorter — but Vogue says each woman should pick the length most becoming to her — best news we've heard! There will still be plenty of full flowing skirts until Fall, but the trend is toward the slim lean-looking skirt silhouette.

And now for the variations — the extra touches that are going to be fun! Watch for huge collars everywhere — and big, loose, flowing sleeves — wide, wing-like sides that make you feel practically poised for flight. Dropped shoulders, wide-sashed, lower waistlines, camisole tops, small hats molded to the head in cloche or sea-shell shapes, are reminiscent of the '20s — but never fear, the flour sack look of the '20s is not coming back. Just enough of that era to be charmingly nostalgic to those who remember it, and utterly different to those who don't!

HURRAY for 1950 and the MIDCENTURY LOOK —you're going to look well and wear well, from all we've seen of you!

Taste the Difference!

ROUGH ON THE TELEPHONE CREWMEN

Some of the telephone repairmen seem to be working under extreme handicaps these days. Tuesday afternoon some of them just erected a brand new line pole and then watched Harl Nottingham come along and break it off.

It seems Harl went to sleep while driving into town near the John Fenstermaker farm and didn't awaken until after his car had clipped the pole and jumped through a fence into the field. Mr. Nottingham wasn't even shaken up badly but at the time he reported at Mentone he didn't know just how badly the car was damaged.

NEW PRESIDENT OF MERCHANTS' ASSOCIATION

Due to the fact that Ray Smith sold his grocery and was no longer a Mentone businessman, he submitted his resignation from the presidency of the Mentone Merchants' Association at the regular monthly meeting Monday night. Arthur Brown, vice president, has assumed the responsibilities as president.

Several matters of public interest were discussed at the Monday night meeting, chief of which was the problem of securing another doctor for Mentone, providing free public entertainment during the summer season and also exploit the possibility of securing a gas pipeline into Mentone.

The Northern Indiana Public Service Company is increasing its natural gas supply into the area, and as there is now a gas line that goes within four miles of Mentone, it is hoped that they can be persuaded to provide this need service here. Company officials suggest that a survey be made to determine just how many homes and businesses would be interested in using gas for cooking, heating, etc. It would help materially if everyone interested would so report to any member of the Merchants' Association.

Fight Farm Fires in 'Fifty!

Farm fires, like the one which reduced a valuable barn to the wreckage seen above, take an average yearly toll of 3,500 lives and cost a hundred million dollars in property damage. A large percentage of such fires result from chimney sparks, wind-carried embers and other external causes. Many farmers are taking steps to safeguard their buildings by covering roofs and sidewalls with asbestos-cen shingles, which cannot burn. Asbestos siding shingles are easily applied in the manner shown at the left. These asbestos materials are recommended for both homes and service buildings. They may be used either in new construction or in repair and remodeling.

MENTONE MURMURS

by
DAVID and SALLY GOSSER

It isn't only in Mentone and Indiana that it rains. Murmurs saw rain clouds over Lake Park the first Sunday morning he was in Florida, but the weather was fair a few miles south in West Palm Beach. It continued that way throughout the drive to Miami and the Keys.

Sunday morning driving is tedious through the coast towns, for traffic is heavy and the lights numerous. It was the hope of the party to worship at the White Temple in Miami, but we moved too slowly through Lake Worth, Deerfield Beach, Fort Lauderdale, Dania, Hollywood, and the Miami suburbs. The gas tank was at the zero mark, and with all the traffic swirling about you on the boulevard, it might have been embarrassing. We took the stitch in time, and were so late for church that there was no parking space available for blocks. Leaving Dr. Croxall out at the church, Murmurs went round and round 'till he came out again, and at that he heard only the closing remarks and benediction, standing on the steps leading into the sanctuary. There are more people than racketeers and gamblers in Miami in the winter-time, or they go to church to compensate for their weekly diversions, for most city churches have two and three services to meet the demands of their congregations each Sunday morning, and all the suburban churches seemed to have capacity crowds.

It was very gratifying to Murmurs to find that church-going has not entirely died out in America. He is assured by bulletins he receives that many of the Hoosiers of Mentone who winter in Florida are attenders of the services. Murmurs has, in fact, a great confidence in the common man, for although he may not be perfect, he is stepping in the right direction. It was with a light heart that Miami was left behind, and the spacious drives and Palm-lined streets of Coral Gables were approached. We were all in accord on this venture, for who has not heard of the fabulous tales of this boom-time city. For half an hour we meandered through the curving boulevards before we proceeded south again towards Homestead.

This was our destination for the day. Here we obtained an efficiency cottage for the night although it was not yet mid-afternoon, but we wanted to drive to the Keys without fear of returning and finding no sleeping quarters available. Donning sport clothes and buying petrol, we resumed our driving to the most southern point of the trip.

Early the preceeding day we had left the orange groves and entered the vegetable area, now we are leaving that for marsh-land and swamp, lagoons and open sea, the land lubber's ocean cruise. The slash pine and palms were left behind, Coral, marl, and sand were ahead. Although shrub and thick scrubby vegetation fringed the Keys, there were the occasional views of blue ocean which was most intense in hue where the water was the deepest.

On Key Largo, a key made famous by a movie of that name, Murmurs was on the look-out for Mac and Marle's, a world famous eating house where he stopped on the return drive later in the day. Had Murmurs to choose only for himself he would have leap-frogged all the way to Key West, over the gracefully humped bridges which connect the Keys to the mainland. But his passengers soon tired of the bridge and island game and were ready to turn back at the toll bridge about a third of the way to the quaint city of Bahama houses and the Little White House.

It was well that we turned back when we did, for the turtle steak which Murmurs ordered at Mac and Marle's took almost an hour to eat. The Croxalls, not having the appetite for the dish, had to wait for their driver who thoroughly enjoyed the platter of steak, french fries, salad, coffee, and lime pie. The last named was deliciously refreshing after the heavy meal, and Croxalls are still regretting that they did not taste this delicacy about which Key-travelers rave. Murmurs insists that you give it a try when you're Key-bound.

No state inheritance tax is due in the estate of Eliza K. Romine, it has been determined in circuit court. The estate has a net value of $5,813.87. Heirs are six children, Vernon, Marvin, Monroe and William Romine, Oca Gross and Emma Mellott.

WHO'S CLEANING UP?

How would you like to own a company which took in nearly $134,500,000 last year? It would be a wonderful thing, of course — but the chances are that you, as owner, wouldn't get nearly as large a part of that sum as you think.

Here, for instance, is how a major utility company, with that much gross revenue in 1949, fared when it came to dividing up the money.

Of each dollar, labor received the largest share in the forms of payrolls and pensions — 29 cents.

Fuel cost 22.5 cents out of that dollar, and materials and supplies ran to 12.7 cents.

Next came government, with a tax bill for 14.1 cents.

Depreciation — which simply means wear and tear on equipment that must eventually be replaced — accounted for 6.8 cents.

Finally, the stockholders came in for 6.4 cents in dividends, and interest on debt required 4.3 cents. The remainder of the dollar, a trifle more than four cents, was left in the business or spent for miscellaneous expenses.

Under the American system, the worker and the government receive much more than the owners. In the case of this particular utility, government took practically twice as much as the stockholders, and workers not far from five times as much. And a large part of the money the stockholders receive also went to the government in the form of individual income taxes.

METHODIST CHURCH NEWS

There is a possibility that the Easter Cantata, "From Darkness Unto Light" will be given on Good Friday night of Holy Week in place of the announced date of April 2. An exact announcement will be made next week.

Holy Week services will begin on Palm Sunday evening at 7:30 and continue through the week, including Friday night.

A Sunrise Service and Annual Easter Breakfast will be held on Easter morning in addition to the regular services.

GO TO CHURCH SUNDAY is observed throughout our county this coming Sunday. Although there has been no distribution of literature this year, this church supports the county-wide movement and heartily endorses it. The constituency and members are urged to attend; and the pastor invites everyone to attend the church of their choice on this and all occasions.

T. H. E. CLUB MEETS

The T. H. E. Club, of Talma, held their March meeting at the home of Mrs. Helen Emmons recently. Mrs. Claude Billings, of Akron, took charge of a business session during which time the county federations of clubs meeting in Rochester on March 31 was discussed. The Talma T. H. E. Club will entertain the group.

A lesson on "Remodeling Lamp Shades," was given by Mrs. Sid Dick, after which Mrs. Billings gave several piano selections. Preceding Mrs. Billings short talk, Mrs. Samuel Deward gave the history of the song of the month, "Blest Be the Tie That Binds," followed by the group singing it. Roll call was assigned topics. Devotions were given at the close of the meeting by Mrs. Lester White, after which the hostess served refreshments to seventeen members, six guests and five children.

COUNTRY NEIGHBORS MEET

The Country Neighbors Home Economics Club met at the home of Mrs. Charley Shock to observe their fifth birthday. Mrs. Earl eZnt gave the meditations. The song of the month, "Blest Be the Tie that Binds," was sung. Roll call was answered by "My Favorite Irish Potatoe Dish." Mrs. Le Boy Norris presided during the business session. Contributions were made to the Red Cross and the Heart Fund. The project lesson "Remodeling Lemp Shades," was given by Mrs. Wayne Shunk and Mrs. Russel Walters. As the social hour began, an impressive candle light service was held in honor of the club's fifth birthday. A beautiful white cake decorated with red roses, the club's flower, centered the table. There were five blue candles, representing each year around the cake. These candles were lighted by each past president representing her year of service. The minutes of the first meeting were read. The poem "Country Neighbors," was also read by the president.

Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess and co-hostess, Mrs. Noble Norris to 25 members, 8 children and 2 guests. The next meeting will be held April 20th at the home of Mrs. Martin Notz.

W. S. C. S.

The W. S. C. S. met at the Urschel residence on Thursday, March 9th, for their regular monthly meeting.

At the opening, Ruth favored us with a piano solo; at the close of which Pearl Lackey, president, quoted impressive poetry that dealt with "The Home" and what love and music add to our enjoyment.

A brief business session followed during which two of the societies secretaries, Faye Bunner of Supply Work and Barbara Van Gilder of Children's gave interesting data pertaining to their duties and accomplishments during the period they have served. The following officers were then elected: president, Pearl Lackey; first vice-president, Ruth Urschel; second vice-president, Mary Manwaring; third vice-president, Marjorie Cooper; recording secretary, Arvilla Van Gilder; promotion secretary, Dora Whetstone; treasurer, Trella Tombaugh; as well as the secretaries of the various lines of work: spiritual life, Sally Gosser; missionary education and service, Grace Boggs; Christian social relations and local church activities, Golda Mollenhour; student, Lois Davison; youth, Ellener Manwaring; children, Barbara Van Gilder; supply, Faye Bunner; literature and publications, Mary Goodwin; and status of women, Dorothy Herendeen.

There were several named to serve as special committee chairmen: membership, Bessie Kohr; publicity and printing, Orpha Blue; mother-daughter relations, Helen Mollenhour; transportation, Faye Bunner; kitchen and dining room, Stella Emmons; program leader, Jean Rodabaugh, and "mixer," Alice Mollenhour.

The period of worship followed with Marjorie Cooper first leading the group in the singing of the hymn, "Take Time to be Holy" then giving some inspirational and spiritual thoughts, closing with prayer.

The lesson topic, "Japan," was presented by Alice Mollenhour as she reviewed from her studying ideas about how we can help Japan become a Christian democracy.

Barbara Van Gilder, acknowledging the worth of all mothers, read the poem, "Our Mother" in introduction to her mother, Mrs. Mabel Gast, of Akron. Mrs. Gast used for her theme, "Spiritual Guidance and Spiritual Living." She emphasized the strength that comes from daily Bible reading and periods of quiet meditation and prayer, also suggested we strive to cultivate a sense of LOVE FOR ALL. At the close of her talk, everyone was inspired with her meditated notes on loving deeper and living fuller, our daily lives.

During the social hour that followed, refreshments were served by Neva Carper, Effie Personette and Mary J. Johnson.

PSI IOTA XI MEETS

On Thursday evening, March 16, at the home of Mrs. Mott Bryan, Beta Epsilon Chapter of Psi Iota Xi held initiation services, followed by a social evening. Welcomed into the chapter were the following new members: Mrs. John Boggs, Mrs. Mervin Jones, Mrs. Jack Pritchard, Mrs. Kenneth Simcoe, Mrs. Rex Witham, Mrs. James Rodabaugh, and Mrs. William Eller. The initiation ceremony was impressively conducted by our president, Mrs. Earl Anderson, and the other officers. Mrs. Maude Snyder, pianist, and a vocal trio composed of Mrs. Curtis Riner, Mrs. Max Nellans and Mrs. Richard Manwaring supplied a musical accompaniment of sorority songs. Out-of-town guests for the evening were Mrs. Kenneth Foulks, South Bend, and Miss Sadonia Bruner, Fort Wayne. Mrs. Rodabaugh won first bridge prize, Mrs. Eller second, and Mrs. Max Nellans door prize. Delicious refreshments, served by the hostess, were enjoyed by all.

Stock owners who use grazing land that adjoins oil lines and tanks are warned to watch out for crude oil poisoning in their herds.

Cattlemen also are advised to keep their animals off pastures, fronting recently oiled roads, particularly during rainy weather. The reason is that rain may wash enough oil onto the pasture to poison all or part of a herd.

The word vanilla is from the Spanish, and means "little pod." In each of the now widely scattered species of the vanilla plant, the little pod is preceded by a dainty yellow bloom which leaves no doubt that the plant belongs to the orchid family.

DAIRY FARMERS CELEBRATE TWENTY-FIFTH ANNIVERSARY

Dairy farmers and their wives, members of Pure Milk Association, celebrated the organization's silver anniversary in Chicago Saturday. Twenty five hundred met in Hotel Sherman's Ballroom to review the association's "biggest year and its biggest problems." Records presented showed almost 2 billion pounds of milk sold during 1949 for $70 million, the membership at a new high of 15,132 and a net worth for the organization of more than $2½ million.

Largest of the list of "biggest" problems confronting the association, according to all its officers, is the matter of handling surplus production. Members made clear to city consumers the price situation on dairy farms by pointing out that these milk suppliers for Chicago and its suburbs delivering 11.7 per cent more milk in 1949 than during 1948 received 14.71 per cent less pay.

Featured speaker of the day was Mrs. Raymond Sayre, president of the Associated Women of the American Farm Bureau Federation. She told the meeting, "You have a big job to do in public relations. You must help the city consumer understand something of the farm problem — that income is actually sharply below its peak, that farming is an unstable business, that food producers have to contend with weather uncertainties, varying market demands and, now, with surplus production."

From her own observations as an Iowa farm wife, Mrs. Sayre said, "Consumers are buying less food. If agriculture holds to the line of high support prices without holding production down, it will price some of its foods out of the market." Telling her hearers that it is up to them to make a decision, she asked, "How much government do you want in agriculture? How much is good for us? Do you want government to serve only as a referee in this food production game or do you want to turn so much of your own business over that Washington will not only run with the ball but will tend to the distribution of gate receipts?"

From her experience in Europe and with the United Nations, Mrs. Sayre holds that agriculture must recognize there are but three possible courses internationally: To close our exports and imports; to continue to loan to other countries so that they, using our money, can buy from us, or let foreign countries trade here, thus coming at last to stand on their own feet.

NEW AID TO HOG CHOLERA CONTROL

When the grey and white matter of a pig's brain shows mesodermal reactions consisting of vascular and perivascular infiltrates, microgliosis, capillary hemorrhages, and leptomeningeal infiltrates, indicative of non-suppurative encephalitis — well, when that happens, it means there's trouble in the pig crop.

It means, simply, that hog cholera, America's Number One killer of swine, has struck again.

Although the technical description above may sound like a tongue-twister to most people, it means a lot to veterinarians who are called to diagnose hog cholera under confusing circumstances, two University of Connecticut scientists reported in the American Journal of Veterinary Research.

Drs. C. F. Helmboldt and E. L. Jungherr explained that brain examinations of pigs which have died of disease are a means of telling whether the cause of death was cholera or some other similar ailment.

As observed on the farm, symptoms of cholera can be easily confused with those of certain other swine diseases, the University of Connecticut veterinarians pointed out. But changes that occur in the brain are distinctive in each of several different diseases. By identifying these changes in brain specimens, laboratory workers aid veterinarians in diagnosing outbreaks, they said.

Once the cause is known, specific steps can be taken to protect exposed pigs that are still healthy, the investigators added.

300,000 RURAL YOUTH CHOOSE 4-H GARDENING

Now that they have received the signal — brightly colored seed catalogues — rural boys and girls throughout the nation are anxious to get started at becoming expert 4-H gardeners.

It is estimated that more than 300 thousand of these youth will take part in the 1950 National 4-H Garden program. In it they will learn how to manage a well-planned garden, carry out a program of insect and disease control, and market produce in an economical and approved manner.

Through their garden project, they will increase individual and family incomes by reducing the amount of food purchased. They will also contribute to better family health by producing sufficient amounts of essential and nutritious vegetables and fruits for use throughout the year. Illustrative of what 4-H'ers accomplish, club members raised 100,000 acres of gardens throughout the county last year.

Incentives for outstanding achievements in gardening include gold-filled medals of honor for four county winners, an all-expense trip to the Chicago 4-H Club Congress next November for state champions, provided by Allis-Chalmers. Eight national winners selected from the state champions will each receive a $300 college scholarship.

SWINE SPECIALIST GIVES ADVICE TO HOG PRODUCERS

"Farmers must do a better job of feeding their brood sows if they are to raise more pigs per litter," stated E. C. Miller, Swine Specialist of Purdue University, at the recent County hog school. Approximately 150 people heard Miller explain the importance of high quality alfalfa meal for the brood sow during the winter months.

The specialist recommended a ration of 300 pounds of cracked corn, 300 pounds of ground oats, 300 pounds alfalfa meal and 100 pounds of protein supplement for self feeding sows. Miller explained that the ration should be varied according to the condition of the sows. If the sows stay too thin, the amount of alfalfa meal should be decreased.

For hand feeding sows, Miller suggests a ration consisting of 55 pounds of corn, 25 pounds of oats, 15 pounds of alfalfa meal, and 5 to 7 pounds of protein supplement. A sow will usually require about 6 to 8 pounds of this mixture per day.

The following points were emphasized in the selection of breeding stock:

1. Select gilts and boars from sows that have demonstrated their ability to farrow and suckle large litters.
2. Select gilts and boars from litters which have weighed over 300 pounds at weaning time. Under the New Hoosier Gold Medal Swine Testing program many breeders are checking litter weights at weaning time and reporting the weights in their sale catalog.
3. Select gilts with at least 12 well spaced tests.

One of the serious baby pig troubles according to Miller is anemia. The cause of the disease is due to a lack of iron and copper in the baby pig diet while they are still confined on wood or concrete floors. The easiest way to supply these essential minerals is by putting sod in the farrowing pen.

"There is no known feed that can be fed to brood sows which will build up the iron content of the milk sufficient to prevent anemia, in the suckling pigs," Miller asserted.

A protein supplement which has given outstanding results at Purdue University for both weaning and fattening hogs consists of 20 pounds meat scraps, 20 pounds fish meal, 40 pounds soybean oil meal, 10 pounds cottonseed meal, and 10 pounds alfalfa meal. This ration can be cheapened somewhat by increasing the meat scraps to 30 pounds and cutting the fish meal to 10 pounds. This substitution has not reduced the rate of gain to any great extent.

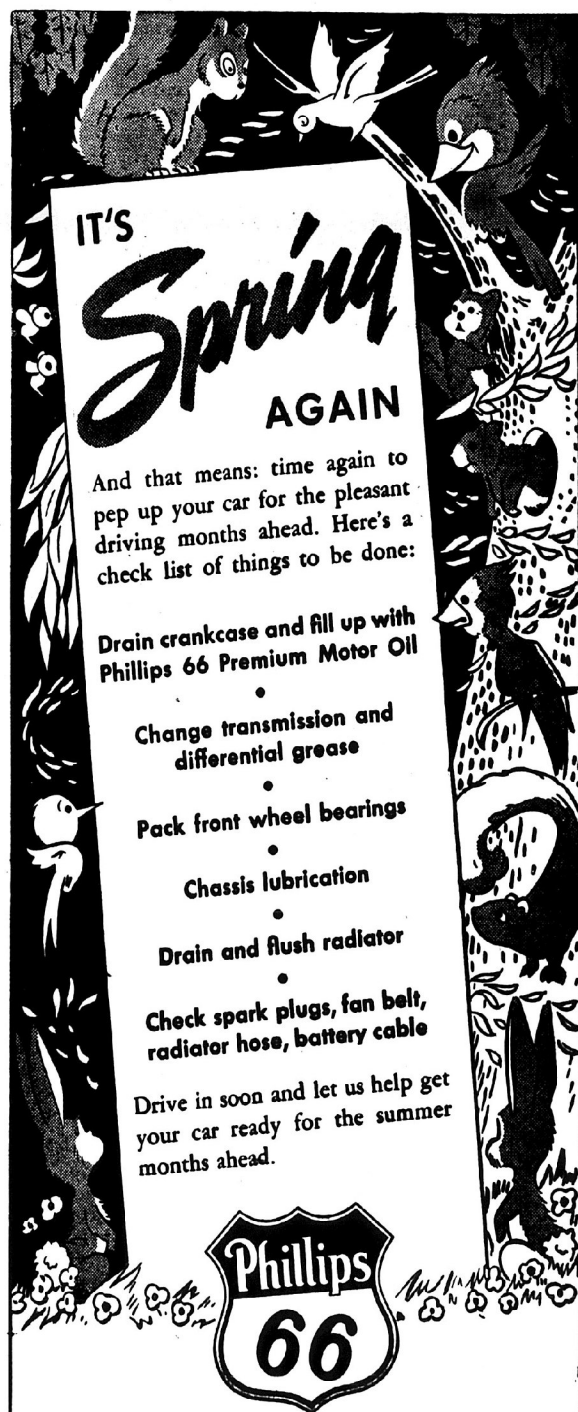

Baby pigs should be encouraged to start eating grain at an early age. Pigs will usually start to crack kernels of corn when they are about ten days to two weeks old if it is placed in a convenient creep. The shelled corn should gradually be changed to a mixture of 70 pounds cracked corn, 20 pounds ground oats or cracked wheat, and ten pounds of the above protein supplement.

PASTURE SEASON BRINGS POISON PLANT DANGER

At least three dozen kinds of plants are capable of poisoning farm animals, and authorities warn that livestock usually cannot distinguish safe plants from harmful ones. Arrow grass, cocklebur shoots, water hemlock, and loco weed are among the plants likely to cause illness and death. With the pasture season coming up, farmers are advised to suspect plant poisoning whenever an apparently healthy animal develops convulsions, breathes fast, and falls to the ground. At the first sign of trouble, the entire herd should be moved to another pasture or to a lot and a diagnosis obtained without delay.

A KID AND A DOG

No one will invent, and no one ever did
A happier pair than a dog and a kid.
For doubt can't bedim, nor worry be-fog,
The gay zestful way of a kid and a dog.
Athrob with adventure, their hearts beat as one.
Their pulses resurge with the rhythm of fun.
They swing into action as impulse may bid.
Today is the day for a dog and a kid.
Ah, God, clear the pathway along which they jog.
And smooth out the bumps for a kid and his dog.
And make of the world that they wander amid,
A place truly fit for a dog and a kid.

AHEAD OF GRANDPA

The huge meals Americans are supposed to have eaten 40 years ago or so are something of a legend. According to it, incredible quantities of steaks, roasts and everything else made the dinner table groan three times a day.

The fact is, however, that this year the average American will eat about five more pounds of meat than his forebearer consumed in 1910. And what makes that particularly remarkable is that our human population has increased by 63 per cent since 1910, while the meat animal population is only twenty-seven per cent greater.

What has happened is that, in 40 years, enormous progress has been made in the meat industry in all its branches. Many farmers now market two pig crops a year instead of one. Beef is fattened more quickly. Loss of animals has been reduced through better sanitation and handling methods.

The packers of meat have held up their end too. Meat is highly perishable food, yet spoilage is virtually nonexistent. All of the meat is utilized, and all of it moves into channels of consumption in wholesome condition. And, finally, the retailer, with his dependable sources of supply, is able to keep on hand just the right kinds and quantities of meat for his trade.

The point is that we Americans eat better, more healthful and more nutritious meals than we ever did before. We consume more of the vital proteins—elements which have a direct bearing on stamina and physical and mental well-being. We're ahead of grandpa!

Drownings

Half the drownings each year take place in only three months—June, July and August.

HUNTER-DUZENBURY

In the presence of 200 guests, Miss Barbara Jean Duzenbury became the bride of John David Hunter, Sunday afternoon, March 12, at 2:00 p. m., in the Talma Bethlehem Baptist Church. The Rev. George Cain, pastor of the Baptist Church at Newton, Ind., read the double ring ceremony.

The altar was banked with tall baskets of white gladiolias and yellow jonquills. Mrs. Kermitt Biddinger, pianist, played Mendelssohn's and Lohengrin's wedding marches, "The Years," "Thine Alone" and "Oh Promise Me." The bride's aunt, Mrs. Von Kockenderfer, sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly," before the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Duzenbury, of near Talma, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarion Hunter, of Silver Lake.

Miss Duzenbury was attired in a white crepe street length dress with white accessories. She carried a bouquet of red roses. Her maid of honor, Miss Beverly Hunter, sister of the bridegroom, wore an aqua dress and carried a bouquet of yellow carnations.

Mrs. Duzenbury chose a navy blue dress with black accessories for her daughter's wedding and the bridegroom's mother also wore a navy blue. Her accessories were of black and grey. Both wore corsages of pink carnations.

Gene Hunter served his brother as best man and the ushers were Richard and Donald Duzenbury, brothers of the bride.

A three course wedding dinner was given for 16 guests at the Ventura Inn at 6:30 p. m. Decorations were in yellow and white and a three tiered wedding cake, baked by Mrs. Von Kockenderfer, centered the table.

The bride's going away dress was of navy blue crepe with matching accessories. She wore a corsage of red roses from her bridal bouquet.

Following a short wedding trip, the newly weds will be at home at a farm south of Disco.

Mrs. Hunter is a graduate of the Talma High School and is employed in the Fulton County Agricultural Conservation Association office. Her husband, a graduate of Laketon High School, is engaged in farming.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

The Scout meeting this past Monday evening was spent in preparation for the coming event of Monday, March 27, when Mr. Clarence Hartman, of Warsaw, will present the Charter to the Troop. The Scout Committee will be officially invested, and Girl Scout merits will be awarded. Several neighboring Scout Troops have been invited to participate in our program and hear Mr. Nils Bolt, of Norway, our guest speaker.

This promises to be one of the greatest local Scout events, but is not limited to Scouts and Scout families. The speaker will have an address that will interest young and old alike.

ENROLLMENT GOAL

As the girls part of the 1950 goal of 1000 4-H members in Kosciusko County 575 members are needed. This is an increase of 100 over last year. According to verbal reports from local leaders of 4-H home economics clubs already organized the number should reach the goal set, reports Mrs. Ruth Snellenberger, local home demonstration agent, but it would be wonderful to exceed it.

Parents are urged to encourage the 4-H members to do all their work to complete projects undertaken. To be a completed 4-H member four things must be done; first, enroll by signing a membership card; second, do work requirements outlined for project or projects selected; third, keep a record of work done, fourth, exhibit project at local achievement day or county fair.

Mrs. Ellis Tucker, of near Claypool, was able to return home last Sunday after being a medical patient at the Murphy Medical Center for three days.

Mrs. Osie Blue, of Indianapolis, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. 4-H YOUTH RAISE

8,000,000 FARM BIRDS

Based on the increasing popularity of the National 4-H Poultry Achievement program, 4-H'ers should top last year's record of raising a total of 8,000,000 chickens, turkeys, ducks and geese. Likewise the enrollment figure is expected to pass the 150,000 mark reached in 1949.

County Extension Agents and local 4-H Club leaders work with the youth, instructing them in newest methods and approved practices used in poultry and egg production. Members are encouraged to carry-out the six main objectives of the program which briefly are: learn the place of poultry in the economy of the farm; acquire skill in poultry raising; assist in production of eggs and fowl to provide adequate supplies for food; appreciate the nutritive value of eggs; learn to grade and market poultry products; study scientific developments and apply the knowledge to home flock production.

The 4-H'ers carefully keep records showing production of birds and eggs, and also general achievements in other phases of club work. At the end of the year these records are judged for special honors which will again be provided by Dearborn Motors, program sponsor. Five sterling silver medals will be presented to winners in each county; a trip to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago for the state winner; and college scholarships of $300 each to the 10 national champions.

The program is under the direction of the Cooperative Extension Service.

HOW MUCH IT COSTS DEPENDS ON YOUR DRIVING

The motorist who speeds up to reach a filling station before his gasoline supply runs out is putting his own head in the noose.

Speed not only can be unsafe; it's extravagant, says the Chicago Motor Club.

Studies show that, in general, the most efficient and economical speed of a car is between 25 and 30 miles per hour, the Motor Club traffic engineers say. More force is required to propel a car at high speeds than at low speeds, chiefly because wind resistance increases in proportion to the speed. An average of 50 miles per hour often requires twice as much gas as an average of 35 miles per hour.

Here are some tips on gasoline economy:

Avoid racing the engine. This burns as much gasoline as though you actually were speeding and it greatly increases motor wear.

Avoid excessive choking during warm-up period. Never leave the choke button out longer than is necessary to get the car running evenly. Leaving the choke out causes excessive raw gasoline to be sucked into the cylinders.

Start, drive and stop slowly. Driving at high engine speeds in low or second gear can easily double the amount of gasoline used in getting away. Quick acceleration and screeching stops both waste gas.

Shut off the engine when waiting. Don't leave it running while waiting for a slow freight train. The amount of gasoline required to start a car is negligible. An idling motor, however, sometimes uses a quart in two ten minute stops.

4-H "AG" CLUB MEETS

Tuesday, March 21, the Agricultural Club assembled in the Beaver Dam School gym.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Gerald Smalley. The roll call was given and the minutes read by the secretary, Marilyn Haney. Our adult leader, Sam Norris, expressed the importance of keeping our record books up to date. He also passed out ribbons to those who hadn't received theirs.

Bill Johnson then passed out 4-H pins and gave a short talk on "How Parents Can Help 4-H Members."

Films taken of our last 4 club tours were shown by Armours Creamery, of Rochester. They also showed some other short films.

The community was invited and 4-H parents were urged to attend. There were about 75 people present.

Armours treated all to delicious cheese sandwiches, milk and coffee. This was enjoyed and appreciated by all.

AGED MAN WITHOUT MEDICAL AID ONE HOUR AFTER FALL

An 80-year-old Bethlehem community resident, Colfax Heighway, suffering from a double fracture of the pelvis, layed helpless in his front yard for an hour Tuesday afternoon before he was able to flag a passing truck driver for the Stewart Bakeries and get medical aid.

Mr. Heighway had been trimming a tree damaged by the recent sleet storm when he fell. His wife, in the house at the time, is an invalid and would have been unable to offer physical aid even if she had seen him.

Mr. Heighway was removed to the Woodlawn Hospital at Rochester in the Zimmerman Bros. ambulance and for treatment and was later removed to the home of his daughter, Mrs. Clair Jones. His condition remains fair at this time.

Mrs. Earl Meredith went to Akron Wednesday to attend the Beaver Dam Home Economics Club.

Mrs. Margaret Dillie spent Thursday in Fort Wayne on business. She reports also that her broken arm is improving.

RELIGION GIVES MOB SCIENTIST
A LIFT IN LIFE

Ranging his six feet four inch frame and 290 pounds on a divan in a San Diego apartment, gangland's one-time top electronics engineer recently told how mere curiosity led him into an evangelist's tent and conversion to Christianity. That was on the night of last Nov 6th. Two days later Mickey Cohen's mobster, Jim Vaus, bent on some racetrack wire-tapping skullduggery was to have flown from Los Angeles to St. Louis.

He afterward learned that in St.

Louis the "torpedoes" were awaiting him. They had orders to execute him in typical gangland style and make a flash getaway from the airport.

And how did Mickey Cohen, banded as Los Angeles' No. 1 gangster, feel about one of his henchmen turning to Christ and away from the easy money?

The gambler whose latest front page exploit was to have his home bombed, gripped Jim Vaus by the latter's big paw and said: "Just remember this, Jim, if the whole world turns against you there's one little man who thinks a lot of you for the decision you've made. I want you to promise me one thing."

The big man, who put the infamously "eye" around Cohen's house, which aroused the latter and probably saved his life when the dynamite explosion occurred, asked the little man what it was. "I want you to promise me," said Mickey Cohen, "that you'll never come back to this sort of life. Quit it for good."

Vaus is a science graduate of UCLA and has been interested in radio since he was a youngster. He is now 30 and in the war, where he served as a Signal Corps captain, he became thoroughly grounded in electronics. In this limited field, as an electronics consultant, he met Cohen and got into the big money. The gambler asked him to find a "bug" in his house. He suspected there was a microphone hidden there, and Vaus found it and removed it. This was a year before transcription of recordings set off Los Angeles' big police scandal.

From then on Vaus was in the pay of Cohen. The underworld, in order to cope with the modern police and FBI methods, hires scientists when it can.

"I liked the cushy living, the big car I drove, the nice house I was able to buy for my wife and two kids," Vaus said today. "I made up to $3,000 a month and didn't have to work hard."

He perfected several devices to protect the Cohen house from "bugging" and other intrusions on the privacy of the little gambling czar. Then he hooked up with a multi-state racetrack wire-tapping ring, he asserted with which Cohen was not associated.

"I drifted into the big tent of Evangelist Billy Graham out of curiosity," Vaus said. "I had read in the papers that Stuart Hamblen (Hollywood luminary and man-about-town) had become converted and I wanted to see what it was all about. I didn't have the slightest intention of hitting the sawdust trail that night, but I did. Subconsciously, I realized that there was no satisfaction in my way of living. It was inwardly that I was dissatisfied. What I had failed to realize was that the life of Christ is a new way of living. I caught part of this that night and when I hit that sawdust trail here is what I prayed to God: 'If you can straighten out the mess I've got myself into, I'll give you my life and everything I've got, full time.' Well, in the weeks that have followed I have found joy. I plan to dedicate my life to work especially among young people before they are side-tracked into seeking the easy way, with the attitude that quick money spells success."

Vaus said he had wronged and gyped a lot of people and after becoming converted he looked them all up and made amends.

"It cost me about $15,000 in cash," he said, "and I lost my home and fine car. But I feel that I am an ambassador of God, the mightiest force in the world. We hear so much about life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. Well, I don't have to pursue happiness. I've found it."

Vaus is being brought to this area for a series of meetings from March 27th through April 6th under sponsorship of Youth for Christ, Johnnie Hope, Director, making arrangements. Appearances will begin Monday, March 27 in the Warsaw High School at 7:30 p.m.—March 28, Constantine, Mich. High School—March 29, First Baptist Church, Mishawaka—March 30, Goshen High School—March 31, First E. U. B. Church, Nappanee—April 1, Fort Wayne Gospel Temple, Fort Wayne, Ind.—April 2, 2:30 p.m., Elkhart High School, Elkhart, Ind., and 7:30 p.m., at First Christian Church, Mishawaka—April 3, Culver High School—April 4, Talma High School—April 5, Bourbon High School.

Hope announced that full program of top musical talent will be featured at each rally along with the story of Jim Vaus.

MORE OIL AND GAS

Proved reserves of crude oil and natural gas scored another major increase in 1949, reaching new all-time peaks and enhancing the security and strength of the United States. That is the gist of a report issued jointly by the American Petroleum Institute and the American Gas Association. At the end of the year, those reserves were estimated at the huge figure of 28,300,000,000 barrels—an increase of 1,500,000,000 barrels over the preceding year.

Proved reserves are the underground supplies which the oil and gas industry can draw upon at any time. There is no guesswork involved. Their location and extent have been proved and measured by actual drilling.

The fact that these reserves have been increasing, despite our huge consumption of oil and gas, is a measure of the progressive spirit and the high sense of public responsibility of the oil and gas industries. Looking for new supplies is a costly undertaking—four out of five wells turn out, on the average, to be dry. But this is the only known way to locate oil and gas, and to be sure that it will be ready for production whenever it is needed. So the work goes on, day in and day out over the years.

Incidentally, it used to be freely forecast that our oil resources would be exhausted in practically no time. But the industry has thoroughly confounded the pessimists who anticipated that we'd be thirsting for oil. As consumption increased, the proved reserves increased along with it. And the result is that we have more known oil and gas deposits than ever before.

LEGION AUXILIARY

Members of Mentone Unit No. 425 American Legion Auxiliary were hostesses to three distinguished guests at their meeting held Tuesday evening, March 28, at the Legion Post Home. They were Mrs. Alfred (Bertha) Korth, of Roselawn, Ind., second district president, Mrs. Fred (Louise) Young, of Crown Point, Ind., department of music chairman, and Mrs. Mildred Boissy, of DeMotte, Ind., second district vice president and district rehabilitation chairman.

Mrs. Juanita Paulus, unit president, conducted a sort business meeting during which Mrs. Boissy gave a brief report on the important rehabilitation work being carried on by the organization among veterans and their families.

Mrs. Korth acted as installing officer for an impressive initiation ceremony in which seventeen new members were officially accepted into the unit.

The following unit officers took part in the ceremony, Mrs. Ethel Wagner, chaplain; Mrs. Vadas Ward, first vice president; Mrs. Geraldine Smith, acting second vice president; Mrs. Reed, pas president; Mrs. Paulus, president and Mrs. Helen Mollenhour, sergeant-at-arms. New members who took the oath of membership were Mrs. Grace Boggs, Mrs. Alice Brown, Mrs. Maxine Brunner, Mrs. Sadie Ellsworth, Mrs. Doris Ettinger, Mrs. Ethel Eherenman, Mrs. Lavera Horn, Mrs. Isabelle Morrison, Mrs. Jean Pritchard, Mrs. James Rodibaugh, Mrs. Alice Secrist, Mrs. Evabelle Smith, Miss Joan Shoemaker, Miss Blanche Smith, and Mrs. Margaret Smith.

At the close of the initiation ceremony Mrs. Catherine Whetstone presented a gift to Mrs. Korth on the behalf of the unit as a token of their appreciation for her presence at the meeting.

A musical program of piano and vocal numbers by students of Mrs. Maude Snyder was enjoyed before and after the initiation service. Those who took part were Barbara Hoover, Marilyn Rathfon, Carol Rathfon, Carol Ann Dickey, Mary Ellen Bryan, Marita Tucker and Martha Creighton. Miss Marilyn Tucker was accompanist.

Mrs. Young, who, as stated before, is chairman, led the group in a rollicking session of group singing as a climax to the program. Mrs. Young also gave some interesting highlights of her work with various musical organizations in Lake County, including along with auxiliary activities, those of County Home Economics clubs and Rural Youth groups. She is a firm advocate of music, especially singing, as a cure for all ills.

Refreshments were served to the fifty-five members and guests present by the committee composed of Mrs. Mary Manwaring, Mrs. Bess A. Manwaring, Mrs. Mary Ann Steanford, Mrs. Barbara Van Gilder, and Mrs. Lois Davison. Members in charge of decorations were Mrs. Catherine Whetstone, Mrs. Helen Mollenhour and Mrs. Martha Ellsworth.

DO YOU KNOW THE ANSWER?

In the mail comes an inquiry: "Can anyone guess who has lived in the same house in Mentone since 1890?"

The writer says, "If anyone can guess, I will pay for this."

There is never any charge for news items, but we will be interested in hearing from those who know the name of the mystery person above.

The "City Slickers," of Talma, take to the hardwood floor on Friday evening, April 7, when they will meet the "Country Jakes," of the same community. This will prove to be a most spectacular event as the "City Slickers" are hard to beat.

The following are the players on this famous team:

"Sawbuck" Kramer, "Speed" Shriver, "Dead Eye" Dick, "Curly" Coplen, Douglas Barr, "Tiny" Miller, "Hot Shot" Hatfield, "Slippery" Green, "Captain" Boling, "Trick Shot" Bowers, "Slim" Holloway, and "Stubby" Overmyer. The line-up will be announced at the game over the P. A. system.

These men are known far and wide. Don't miss this thrilling basketball game Friday evening, April 7, at the Talma new High School gym. Come and root for the home team. These players are all in good shape and have been in secret training for some time. Come one, come all, to the big game. There will be a cake sale and also cake walks between halves and after the game.

THE RETAILER'S PROFIT

Large retail organizations take in a whale of a lot of money from their customers. But the proportion of it which sticks in the form of profits grows smaller and smaller.

Last Year, for instance, one national chain-store system had sales of $618,000,000. This was only 1.33 per cent less than the record attained in 1948. But the company's operating profits, before taxes, dropped by 15 per cent. When comparison is made with 1947 the change is even more apparent. Last year's sales were $22,000,000 greater than the 1947 figure—but operating profit was 13 per cent less.

Still another national chain had 1949 sales which were less than one per cent under 1948's. But operating profit before taxes was off 22 per cent. And in this case too, its experience was still worse, profit-wise, if 1947 is used for the comparison.

Various reasons are responsible for this, and one of the biggest is said to be rising wage scales. In some instances, retail authorities feel that profits are below the safe level, and this feeling is reflected in growing efforts to reduce expenses. In any event, the consumer can be sure that the stores which he patronizes keep a very small part of the dollar he spends with them.

Modest profits are a natural offshoot of the competitive system. Price is still the biggest inducement of all to many consumers, and every store tries to undersell its competitors—even as it tries to offer better service, and stocks more appealing advertising, and other attractions. The store which falls in these all-important regards will see its customers go on down the street—and that is just as true of the big stores as the small.

5,073 UNDER SOCIAL SECURITY IN COUNTY

"There are 5,073 employees in Kosciusko County working in employment covered by the Social Security Act," Gerald Kelver, manager of the Elkhart Field Office of the Social Security Administration announced today. "These employees are working for 646 employers subject to the Old-Age and Survivors Insurance provisions of the Social Security Act," Mr. Kelver explained.

"According to the 1940 census figures this would indicate that one-fourth of all residents of the County are contributing to their own future through the Old-Age and Survivors Insurance Program.

"At the present time the Elkhart

Office is paying benefits to 595 people in Kosciusko County. This figure is being increased by 18 claims a month.

"For information concerning claims, or wage records, workers or survivors should contact the Elkhart Field Office of the Social Security Administration in Room 222 of the Equity Building, Elkhart."

MENTONE MURMURS

by
DAVID and SALLY GOSSER

"Spring is in the air," may seem to be wishful thinking on our part when winter is so rudely embracing Hoosierdom, but there are evidences of this young season when a "young man's fancy turns to love" and an old man's just turns. That is all the latter has an opportunity to do, because his wife is busy house-cleaning. Ladies, my sympathy is with the men. There is nothing so disgusting as house-cleaning. The effort always exceeds the results. Furniture is changed, and a man needs to take out additional insurance and hospitalization or let the lights burn until the wolves are in, and even the moon-struck ones come stumbling over some re-arranged ottomans and tables.

With house-cleaning there is the tremendous task of hauling trash. For some individuals it is a weekly chore, for others a "weakly" chore which by spring-time amounts to an obstacle. It become a "do-it-or-else" job with feminine threats and rewards. And, when it is over, there is always the admission that "it could have been worse." The relief to the male is terrific, but that is because he has been involved in the cleaning task and renovation work, especially the trash hauling.

Murmurs has a "word to the wise" on this subject for those persons living in the corporation of Mentone. A place is provided for the dumping of trash north and east of the community at the town's expense. This may continue only as long as we citizens are cooperative and dispose of our loads as far back from the road-way as possible. The failure of several persons to comply with this courtesy could mean the loss of this dumping area for all Mentonites. Be a good citizen and cooperate.

Murmurs is detouring on his Florida trip this week by the way of the city dump and Norway. We have passed the city dump and are now on the way to the land of the "mid-night sun." Through vicarious experiences he has been in many lands, India, China, Japan, New Zealand, and now Norway.

The arrival of Nils (pronounced Nell) Bolt of Oslo (O like Olaf and Oleson), Norway, made the world smaller for Mentone. It brought to us a man who has traveled around the world, crossed the Atlantic Ocean eight times, and on many occasions traveled the 4500 miles of Norway from Oslo to Hammerfest and back, the latter named being several hundred miles north of the Arctic Circle. His Norwegian trips were in the interest of the Boy Scouts of Norway, for he is now a national executive of the church branch of the Scouts, in spite of his seventy-three young years.

Mr. Bolt's father was a sea captain in the days of sailing ships, and as a lad, Nils first visited our shores with his father, making two round trips across the Atlantic on high-masted vessels. One return trip from Pensacola, Florida, to Liverpool, England, took seventy-six days. They had as cargo, a load of pitch pine and resin. Two of Nils' brothers are sea captains. One he once met at HongKong, the other he was to have crossed with on this trip, but the vessel was not yet completed and the date of his visa would not permit delay.

America shared in the common tragedy of the last war, but it has not been our lot to experience occupation which means being forced out of homes, deprived of food, clothing, employment for which one is trained, and the atrocities that accompany immoral and depraved invaders. These experiences were Dr. Bolt's from April 9, 1940 until May of 1945. He is not an exception, and others shared the experience of not having bought a suit of clothes since that earlier date. It is hard for us to imagine that the eggs they, he and his house-keeper, have purchased since 1945 are only thirty, and that he had not tasted canned or fresh peaches since 1940; yet before the war they were a part of the common diet of most Norwegians.

Only through the numerous addresses Murmurs has heard Dr. Bolt give can any person who was not over-seas during the war have an adequate idea of the need that still exists in European countries. The Marshall Plan and CARE packages have added greatly to the relief of many people, and Dr. Bolt insisted that America is the only hope the Norwegians can see for the world. At the Charter Presentation of our local Troop 58 of the Boy Scouts, an offering of twenty-eight dollars ($28.00) was presented to Dr. Bolt for Scout work in Norway.

If any of our readers contemplate a European vacation, Norway invites them and welcomes them. "Americans will fare better than the natives on such occasions," Dr. Bolt assures us.

Masonic Home, Franklin, Indiana.
March 22, 1950

Dear Sir:

I am writing for Mr. Louie Foor and he wishes you, through your good little paper, to express his deep appreciation to his many friends and neighbors for the many letters and cards all extending their well wishes for a speedy recovery. He received almost 60 cards and letters last week and it made him very happy. There is not very much change in his condition. He sits up a while each day. He doesn't seem to suffer any pain now but his left leg will not hold his weight. He has a fairly good appetite and still likes his Sweet Cuba.

Sincerely yours,
Frank Magee
