C. EDWARD TURNER

Charles Edward Turner, aged 82, died at 2:45 a.m. Tuesday at his home at 821 East Main street, Warsaw. He had been ill for the past 20 months.

Mr. Turner operated a restaurant at Winona Lake for many years. He was born in Missouri but came to Kosciusko county when a boy and lived here most of his life. His parents were John and Clara (Myers) Turner. He was a member of the Fort Wayne Methodist church and of the Modern Woodmen of the World lodge.

Surviving relatives include his wife, the former Mrs. Ethel Munson, to whom he was married Nov. 6, 1950; a daughter, Mrs. James (Audrey) Case of Big Chapman lake; a son, Gordon Turner, of Fort Wayne; two step-daughters, Mrs. Bonnie Jean Randall, of Atwood, and Mrs. Mary Auer, of Goshen; a sister, Roxanne Taylor, of Babylon, Long Island, N. Y.; four grandchildren, seven step-grandchildren; 11 great-grandchildren and two great-great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held Thursday at the Bibler funeral home. Burial will be in the Eel River cemetery, at Churubusco.

Mr. Turner and family resided in Mentone a number of years ago. He owned and operated a restaurant here.

LIONS MEET

The Mentone Lions met in regular session at the school building Wednesday evening.

In the business session following the dinner, the members made a generous contribution to the county-wide Go-to-Church movement.

Lions Kent and Tridle were appointed to make recommendations to the club relative to the softball program this summer.

A representative was named to meet with the chairman of the Merchants' Association to take a more active part in the telephone problems that have had the attention of the subscribers of this area for some time.

Eldon Weiss, vocational agriculture teacher in the local schools, who was an exchange student in Finland in 1951, gave a very interesting narrative of his travels and showed many colored picture slides of the places he visited while there. He is a very fluent speaker and held the attention of all throughout the entire period.

PARENTS OF DAUGHTER

Joyce Elaine has been chosen for the 6 pound 10½ ounce girl born to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Stavedahl, R.1, Mentone, at the Woodlawn hospital at 7:02 p.m., February 23. The baby's mother was the former Betty Mae Nicodemus.

COOPERATION HOLDS ANNUAL MEETING HERE MONDAY

About 90 stockholders of the Northern Indiana Cooperative Association assembled at the Mentone school on Monday afternoon to take part in the annual business meeting of the association. In addition, 149 stockholders voted by mail and six were represented by proxy.

The financial reports revealed the fact that the units of the local cooperative had total sales amounting to $1,131,487.80 during 1952, and had an inventory of $147,670.35 of supplies and materials on hand.

Total savings for 1952 amounted to $18,332.76 which was used as payment of interest on stock and in patronage refunds.

The figures for the 22 years of business for the association reveal some rather interesting facts. The total sales have amounted to $13,762,255.28 and the savings refunded to patrons and/or applied for the purchase of stock, has amounted to $630,957.63. During those years the amount expended for labor (21 years as one year was not readily available for this report) has been $807,661.73.

Directors Elected

Two directors were elected to fill the vacancies created by the expiring terms of Directors Elmer Sarber and Max Nellans. Gerald Ballenger and Maurice Dunnuck were elected on the first ballot. One hundred forty-nine stockholders voted by mail, and the first figure shown in the tabulation below gives the mail vote and the second the vote by those present in person at the meeting:

Gerald Ballenger	109	76	Tot. 185
M. Dunnuck	70	53	Tot. 123
Carrol Eller	61	25	Tot. 86
Eldon Horn	60	18	Tot. 78

Following the meeting, the directors met and elected the following officers: Everett Rathfon, president.

Elmer Dickey, vice president.

Leroy Norris, secretary.

Ed Ward, treasurer and general mgr.

Julia Nelson, assistant treasurer.

FEBRUARY P. T. A.

The February meeting of the P.T.A. was held on Wednesday evening, February 18, because of the tournament the following week.

David Gosser, accompanied at the piano by his father, Rev. David Gosser, sang "Three for Jack."

Members of the speech class, under the direction of Roger Kelly, gave a demonstration of how a play is recorded for use in the school broadcasting programs.

Kenneth Riner then introduced Mayor John Scott, of So. Bend.

Mr. Scott gave a very inspiring address in which he made it clear that the future of our country depends upon our return to a sincere belief and practice of true Christian principles. To him the attitude behind the practice of "bought-off" traffic tickets was as wrong as "deep freeze" and "mink coat" gifts.

WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Snider will celebrate their 45th Wedding Anniversary Thursday, March 5th, in their home in Mentone.

They were married on a Thursday eve in the home of the bride's parents Mr. and Mrs. George Easterday, two miles east and north of Etna Green, by Rev. Thomas Sawyer who at that time was supply pastor for Rev. Geo. Green.

They have six children, ten grandchildren, and three granddaughters.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASS

HONORS MRS. WELCH

On Tuesday afternoon, several members of the Friendship class of the Methodist Sunday School called on Mrs. Welch to honor her on the occasion of her eightieth birthday, on Sunday, March first.

Mrs. Lydia Rynearson, of Leesburg, read the 23rd Psalm, which was followed by devotions. Light refreshments were served.

On leaving, the group wished Mrs. Welch a very good year of health and happiness.

FATHER AND SON BANQUET

A father and son banquet will be held on Saturday, March 14, at 6:00 p.m. in the basement of the Mentone Methodist church. The banquet will honor the boys from Basher Home who will be present as guests. Basher Home is a new home for boys located in Elkhart county and patterned after Father Flanagan's Boys Town. Although Basher's Home is sponsored by the Methodist Church, admission to Basher's Home is not limited to boys of that faith.

The speaker for the evening will be Dr. H. L. Lanahan, of Anderson, Indiana. Dr. Lanahan has been minister of the first E. U. B. church of Anderson for 21 years. He has been active in Indiana Lions Clubs, is in constant demand as an evangelist and lecturer, has participated in various interdenominational religious organizations, and has been active in youth and social work projects.

Kitchen facilities permit serving only 180 dinners; those wishing to attend the banquet should secure their tickets early. The prices of tickets are 75c for boys under 10 years and $1.00 for men and boys over 10 years. Tickets may be secured from David Gosser, Elmore Fenstermaker, Jack VanGilder, Everett Long and James Rodibaugh.

All men and boys of the community are invited to attend this banquet.

FOUR MILLION TREES AVAILABLE FOR FARMERS

Approximately 4,000,000 seedling trees from state nurseries will be available to farmers for planting this Spring, Dixie Moore, director of the Indiana Department of Conservation has announced.

In addition 2,000,000 trees will be planted on idle, eroding lands recently acquired by the state for reforestation purposes, and nearly an equal number will be used by coal companies to reforest strip coal lands. Also about 100,000 trees will be used in wildlife reforestation purposes in connection with the Pittman-Robertson areas being developed by the division of Fish and Game.

Ralph F. Wilcox, state forester, has pointed out that most of the seedlings will be pines because they are best on worn-out land. They act as a nurse crop for the slowergrowing hardwoods by adding humus to the soil in the form of shedded pine needles.

Already the supply of white pine, jack pine and scotch pine are exhausted, but there are still ample stocks of Virginia and short leaf pines and black locust seedlings available. The Virginia pine is especially recommended because it is a native tree and is adapted to Indiana conditions in all but flat, wet soils.

Mrs. Mary Horn, who resides with Mr. and Mrs. Donald Horn, west of Mentone, remains in a serious condition.

CRUISING

Feb. 20, 1953

Hi Art,

Just a few lines to you guys so you'll know I'm still living. We just got back from South America. Sure is cold down here beside the weather over there. Have been receiving the paper all along and I appreciate it very much. We stopped at Cuba on the way down there and Rex Borton was anchored out in the bay, but I didn't get to see him. We tried to send a message by light to tell him to come in and see me but they wouldn't answer. I sure had a hard time getting guys to send a message to his ship, but they finally did it. Well Art I am sorry about you losing your helper. The paper will still be as good as ever. I'll bet Mentone is not the same since all the young kids have left, is it? But it will be in 1956 when everybody gets discharged. So tell everybody to hold it together till then. Well Art, this is short, I know. But I just had a few minutes to spare. So long for now. Hello Eeverybody!

As ever,

TIMELY TOPICS

By Mary Anne White

I'm not quite sure if March came in like a lamb or a lion but one thing we can be certain of and that is, Spring is just around the corner. Many of you will be wanting to redo your walls this spring and next week Ruth Hutcheson, specialist from Purdue, will present another leader training lesson on "Interior Wall Finishes," so if you ladies want to wait you'll be hearing about how to care for those walls in your April Home Demonstration club meetings.

Along with spring comes the refinishing of furniture. I'm sure we'll all agree that refinishing furniture isn't easy. It is time consuming but very worthwhile when we're all finished. If you have a few minutes to spend with me—now I'm going to do some refinishing. I've removed the hardware and knobs to prevent tarnishing. This also makes sanding easier. Oh yes, be sure you have your old clothes on—unless you are an extremely neat worker. The days I work inside the floors are protected with many layers of newspaper and I work in a well-ventilated room.

Now in selecting the remover to use I found there are many good commercial removers. These are all good, and can cause no harm to the wood but I've found an effective and inexpensive remover that can be made at home as follows:

- 1 quart benzol (from drug store)
- 1 quart denatured alcohol
- ¼ lb. paraffin

Melt paraffin and stir into benzol. Gradually add the alcohol. Particles of paraffin may float on top but most of it blends with liquid. Now I'm ready to start. Clean one part at a time. Lay the piece so that remover will stay in place instead of running off.

Flow on remover with a full brush. Do not keep brushing; let it do its own work. Work on a small area at a time. The front of a drawer is plenty large enough. The main thing is not to let it dry before you can start scraping.

With my putty knife it is now time to scrape the softened surface, clean off excess with wadded newspaper or old rags. Repeat if more remover is needed. A round vegetable brush is helpful for these legs and places where there is carving.

And now its time for the final cleaning, scour piece with medium steel wool dipped in remover. Work in the direction of the grain. Wipe dry with rag. To test the piece for streaks, put the piece between yourself and strong light. Stoop and look across it. If there are shiny streaks of varnish still present, use the steel wool and remover again.

I am now ready to wash off all the remover. Use an old rag saturated with cleaner (denatured alcohol or turpentine). Wash the piece well, ridding it of all traces of remover.

In sanding down the furniture, start with a coarse sand-paper such as number 1 or 2, then smooth later with size 00.

I just found a water stain that is too deep for sanding so by using several applications of oxalic acid solution I can bleach it. This grease spot will have to be removed by using a hot iron over a blotter.

Oh yes, don't forget to re-glue those loose joints (in the furniture, that is).

I have my place all sanded, the pores filled with a paste filler, it is now time to oil . . . seal . . . shellac . . . varnish . . . lacquer . . . and paint.

This is quite a long process to explain in one easy lesson but if you'll contact the extension office and ask for Extension Leaflet No. 309 on Refinishing furniture, it will tell you step by step how to do it.

Several Kinds of Greens

Use two or three-kinds of greens for serving salads and add the contrast of color and flavor to your salads. Watercress and lettuce are good together. Plan to use dark and light greens together.

Constitution Safe in New Home

This typical family group is among thousands of people who daily visit the new home of the Declaration of Independence, Constitution, and Bill of Rights in Washington's National Archives Building. Few are aware that the officer on duty is only a symbol of the extraordinary steps taken to guard the nation's most treasured documents. Nightly, the precious papers are lowered by a unique elevator into the world's largest safe, hidden 20 feet below the recently dedicated shrine. The 50 ton safe was built by the Mosler Safe Company, which also built the vaults which protect the nation's gold at Ft. Knox. The giant safe is bomb, fire, burglar, and water-resistant.

METHODIST CHURCH NEWS

The third quarterly Settlement Day program was held on Monday, March 2, in the Methodist church at North Webster. The meeting convened at two o'clock. The pastor and Mrs. Herman Olson attended the business session which included a meeting of the Warsaw District Missionary Society, of which Mrs. Olson is a representative from the local church.

The program in the evening consisted of a film, "Challenge of Africa," Bible reading by Mr. Homer Roose, Prayer by Dr. Thurman Morris, Introduction of the speaker by Mr. Evans, and the address by Dr. Olin Stockwell, the last Methodist Missionary out of China.

It is not an over-statement to say that Dr. Stockwell is a twentieth-century Paul, for his imprisonment and trials have produced a powerful witnessing of the power of Christ, affirmed through his addresses and the many poems and hymns which he wrote and committed to memory while in prison. He is a living epistle of that which we read in the New Testament. A book concerning his experiences in prison, "With God in Red China," will soon be released by Harpers. Four of his hymns have been published by the Methodist Publishing House in Chicago, and at some future time a book of devotions will appear containing many of his devotional and religious poems which he quoted liberally throughout his address.

It is when so few of each local church hear this great spiritual affirmation that the words of the hymn, "—I should like to have been with them then," becomes a reminder of what we miss. Those of the local church attending the program were: Mrs. D. L. Bunner, Mrs. Rosa Kinsey, Kenneth Kinsey, Raymond Cooper, and Mr. and Mrs. David Gosser. The Rev. Harold Neel, of Mishawaka, Vice Chairman of the District, presided at the meetings.

On February 20, the following persons attended the organization meeting for local Methodist Churches, which was held in the Warsaw church: Mrs. F. B. Davison, Mrs. Herman Olson, Mrs. Dan Urschel, Mrs. Jack Vangilder, Raymond Cooper, Charles Manwaring, Ralph Mollenhour, James Rodibaugh and Rev. Gosser. The new plan of organization, for the local church proposed by the General Conference in San Francisco last spring will go into effect this next Conference year, beginning June 1.

On Monday evening of this week the following men met in the church basement to make ready the walls for improvement and decoration: Mr. Raymond Lash, Everett Long, Glen Snider. Mr. Harold Markley has been contacted to apply the water-proofing cement and the necessary plastering for repair work in the vestibules. Elsewhere in the Co-Op. NEWS appears an advertisement and news concerning the Father and Son banquet which is to be held in the local church dining room on Saturday evening, March 14, at six o'clock.

The week of March 15 through 22 is designated as Evangelism Week for the local church. All members and friends are urged to attend these services regularly. Please refer to paid advertisement for further details.

This Sunday evening the film, ONE GOD, will be shown during the service. Catholics, Jews and Protestants worship the same God. If America is to retain its greatness, more emphasis on our similarity and likenesses is needed rather than the differences over which churches quibble. The Communists would relish discord, friction, hatred among the various church groups. This film helps defeat their purposes. We fall prey to Communist methods when we openly denounce other church practices and preach vituperation.

WORD ABOUT DICK KINNEY

Pfc George R. Kinney, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Kinney, 1514 E. Center street., Warsaw, Indiana, recently graduated from the Seventh Army's Non-Commissioned Officers Academy at Munich, Germany.

During the six-week course, he was taught techniques of combat leadership, including infantry squad tactics and deployment of men and equipment in the field. Students were carefully selected by their organization commanders before attending the school.

Private First Class Kinney, who was previously stationed at Fort Sill, Okla., arrived overseas in April, 1952 and is serving as an aircraft sheet metalman in the 35th Transportation Army Aircraft Maintenance Company in Illesheim, Germany.

Before entering the Army in February, 1952, he graduated from Etna Green (Ind.) high school in 1949 and was later employed by the Talbert-Schaar Lumber Co., of Warsaw.

Mrs. E. E. Wagner was in Warsaw Tuesday where she attended the funeral of Mrs. Elmer Wolfe.

GO-TO-CHURCH NEWS

Another meeting of the 1953 Go-To-Church movement was held at the Warsaw Methodist church on Monday afternoon. Elmer Funk led the group in singing "Onward Christian Soldiers" and Rev. W. H. Kirkpatrick of North Webster offered the opening prayer. Herbert Moore, Lester Gay, Jim Tuttle, Robert Jones, William J. Sweeting, Gerald McHatton, William Orr, Harold Tusing, and Elmer Funk were among the leaders making reports on the progress of the campaign thus far.

Leaders of the movement expressed the hope that more people will attend church on March 22 this year than on any previous go-to-church Sunday. The program is organized on a much broader basis this year than ever before. Although last year broke all previous records, it was pointed out that less than thirty percent of the population of Kosciusko county attended church in 1952 on this special Sunday.

The zone chairmen reported that Kendall Biller, Don Bouse, and Doyle Swanson are chairmen of Jefferson, Lake, and Franklin townships respectively. With the list of township chairmen named last week, this completes the organization of the county except for Harrison and Turkey Creek townships.

On March 11 the materials to be used in the house to house canvass will be assembled in a meeting in the recreation room of the Lake City Bank. It will be necessary for each of the township chairmen to inform the central committee of the number of packets which they will need for their canvassers.

The Go-To-Church Movement has been financed in the past by a 5c per member levy on all churches in the county and by liberal contributions from clubs and organizations. Churches and clubs are urged to send their contributions to the treasurer, William Orr, of Warsaw.

At the meeting next Monday the list of visitors from each church should be ready. It is estimated that it will take over 250 men to make the house to house canvass during the week preceding March 22. These canvassers will meet for a "kick-off" breakfast on the morning of March 17 at the Eskimo Inn for final instructions.

LOCAL SORORITY GIVEN CERTIFICATE OF MERIT

Dr. John H. Greist, chairman of the Board of the Indiana Association for Mental Health, announced today that a certificate of merit had been issued to the Beta Epsilon chapter of the Psi Iota Xi sorority for the excellent work done by the sorority in the recent campaign for Christmas presents for the patients in our state mental and training institutions. Over 4,000 presents were contributed, more than two for each child.

The Certificate of Merit read: "The Indiana Association for Mental Health, presents this token of appreciation to Beta Epsilon Chapter of Psi Iota Xi Sorority for successfully providing a joyous Christmas for the children in the training institutions of Indiana." This is written over a background composed with the symbol of the mental health association, a ringing bell.

Mrs. Ralph Ward, Mentone, president of Beta Epsilon chapter, stated, "We were happy to have the privilege of helping these unfortunate young people. The reports that have come to us from the members of our sorority who visited the institutions have convinced us that the needs of these institutions are very great and we are happy to have cooperated with the Indiana Association for Mental Health in this Christmas Program."

GO TO CHURCH MOVEMENT

On Sunday, March 22, Kosciusko county will observe the Twelfth Annual Go-To-Church Sunday. Indications are now that church attendance will top all previous records on that day. Leaders who have been associated with the movement for a number of years report that there is more enthusiasm this year than ever before. Each year the movement grows bigger.

At 7 a.m. on Tuesday morning, March 17, over 200 canvassers will attend the "kick-off" breakfast at the Eskimo Inn. At this meeting the laymen will receive instructions and materials which are to be distributed to the residents in the county. These materials were assembled in a meeting in the basement of the Lake City Bank last Tuesday night (March 10). Each county resident will receive a bulletin listing all the churches in the county and an attractive poster to place in his window indicating that his family will be attending church on March 22.

Last week Russell Creighton was appointed chairman of the Harrison township canvass for this year. Other township chairmen have been chosen for some time and have been listed in previous news bulletins.

MRS. WALLACE DE MEIN ENTERTAINS PLEASANT VALLEY CLUB

The Pleasant Valley Community club met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Wallace DeMein. The meeting was opened with the group singing "America," followed by the pledge to the flag. Devotions were given by Mrs. Chloris Barkman and roll call was answered by naming a favorite Irish song.

During the business session, donations were voted to the Salvation Army, Latin American Fellowship, Red Cross, and the Penny Art Fund. Mrs. Delbert Hunter gave a very interesting account of her recent trip to California. She spoke of points of interest, showing souvenirs and various types of Mexican and Chinese items.

Contests in charge of Mrs. Charles Borden were won by Mrs. Hunter. Delicious refreshments were served in keeping with St. Patrick's Day.

GIRL SCOUTS MINUTES

March 10, 1953, we opened our meeting with pledge to the flag, scout promise and laws. We had the secretary's report and discussed new business. There were several who wanted to order belts and ties. The girls practiced for the birthday celebration instead of going to their patrols. When we were through practicing we talked about an investor service. The Girl Scouts will celebrate their forty-first birthday on March 12, and we will celebrate next Tuesday. The mothers and troupe committee are invited.

HUSTLERS 4-H CLUB MEETS

The Mentone Hustlers met Monday night at 7:00 at the school house. There were twenty-one members present and two parents. Jimmy Eaton gave a demonstration about how to make a rope halter. Refreshments were pop and candy.

The Officers were told that there is to be an officers training meeting Tuesday night, March 24, at 7:30, at the Warsaw high school auditorium. The boys went to the gym and played volley ball and then each boy chose whatever type of entertainment he wished for about an hour. The next meeting has been changed from Mar. 23 to 24, because Mr. Weiss has a meeting on the 23rd.

CARD OF THANKS

We sincerely wish to thank our many friends, neighbors and relatives in our time of sorrow. Your kind expressions of sympathy and acts of kindness were a great comfort to us.
BERT MCGOWEN and FAMILY

Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Dewey King were their daughter, Mrs. Wayne J. VanDerNule, and children Susie and Bill. Supper guests were Mr. and Mrs. Charles King and son Michael. Irene was also home over the week end, pretty much bruised up after turning her car over Saturday. She turned out to meet a truck, hit ice and went into a spin and rolled over.

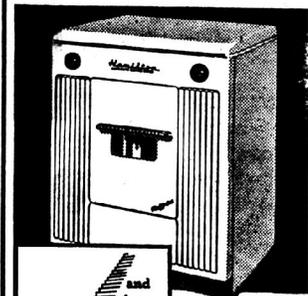

Master-Sgt. Carl Gross spent a few days visiting home folks last week. His father hasn't been too well and he came home on emergency leave.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Meredith arrived back home Monday evening after almost eight weeks of traveling in the southwest. They enjoyed the trip immensely and met with no misfortune or bad luck of any kind in all the seven thousand miles of driving.

Mrs. Sarah Morgan is now staying at the C. O. Blue home in Macy, after being a medical patient at the McDonald hospital for three weeks.

NATIONAL 4-H WEEK

Boys and girls all over the nation 800 of them in Kosciusko county, will be celebrating March 7-15 as National 4-H club week. Many 4-H members will choose their 1953 projects during this week, according to Leo N. Seltenright, assistant county agricultural agent.

They may choose from among 38 different subjects for club projects, depending upon their interests in different fields. There is a wide variety that ranges all the way from such long time favorites as baking, clothing, gardening, hogs and corn to newer subjects like tractor maintenance and electric projects.

Both boys and girls like farm and home electric projects which stress better methods of using electricity in rural areas. County enrollment in this for last year was 54. Girls in the project have a new set of requirements and a new record book. It now offers five years of work, coordinated with other 4-H home economics projects.

One of the first growing projects is the live-power program in tractor maintenance. The program was first offered in 1947, and last year 4,187 Indiana club members took part in the projects. A total of about 175 in this county have had the training.

Last year 85 counties in Indiana held tractor rodeos. The boys showed their skill in maneuvering tractors around obstacles and took an examination on tractor care.

Miss Mary Ann White, home demonstration agent, says there will again be much interest among the girls in clothing projects. Beginners will be helped to learn sewing on simple garments, while high-school girls can select more difficult problems in clothing.

Food preservation projects will keep up with the times as more girls show interest in preparing foods for home freezers. There will still be good enrollment in canning, baking, and crafts.

Cougar

An elementary science source of study written by some educators for an important city in the East says that the mountain lion and cougar disappeared from the nearby hills at about the same time. This might be elaborated to say that the mountain lion, cougar, painter, puma, panther, catamount, mountain devil, red tiger, mountain screamer, silver lion, purple panther, brown tiger, sneak cat, king cat and varmint also disappeared at the same time. They are all the same animal no matter what you call them nor where you find them. While some eight races have been recognized the animals are unquestionably all the same species, Felis cougar.

Cougar

Originally the cougar ranged over practically all of the United States with a few specimens reported from Maine and along the southern border of Canada. They are still to be found rather regularly in southern British Columbia and Alberta. The range extends south to Patagonia. Except for Florida, parts of Louisiana and southern Texas, these cats have probably been exterminated in the United States east of the Plains states.

A cougar may measure 9 feet with a 3 foot tail. The weight goes up to 200 pounds. The sexes are colored alike a uniformly yellow brown except that the under parts are lighter. The fur is short, close and uniform. The whiskers are rather prominent.

A cougar is a powerful animal capable of dragging a 900 pound moose 300 feet over snow. It can jump straight up for a distance of 15 feet and can leap safely down a distance of 60 feet. An individual usually claims a territory that may be 60 miles across and in a single night may travel 20 miles. While black bears are known to relish pigs, wolves are known to favor cattle. Similarly coyotes seem to enjoy killing sheep but the cougar definitely favors horses and deer. In the rarest of instances it has been known to attack man.

They may serve a useful function in keeping the multiplication of deer under control. The famous story of killing off the cougars of the Kaibab forest only to have the deer multiply so that they starved in the resulting competition for food is a standard story in all conservation programs. It illustrates definitely that predators whether they are fish, birds, insects, or mammals, serve a useful function in the economy of nature.

Cougars are usually hunted by dogs with the hunters following on horses. When possible a pursued puma takes to a tree to escape the dogs. There it is shot, photographed, lassoed or otherwise used to satisfy the whim of man.

Cougars pair possibly for life. The one to five spotted young may be born at any time of the year, usually 91 days after breeding took place. The young are blind for about 9 days, crawl at 7 weeks, eat their first meat at 3 months, are weaned at about 4 months, retain their spots to 18 months and remain with the mother from 1 to 2 years. With exceptional luck a cougar might live to a ripe old 20 years of age.

It would seem that these animals under ordinary circumstances should not be completely destroyed in a given area suitable to their needs. This may be questioned by some, of course. But even those who think of cougars only as varmints should recognize that men do get sport from hunting them and sport is quite important in the lives of many people.

METHODIST CHURCH NEWS

In the news of last week concerning the work in the church basement, the following names of the men who participated in the project were unintentionally omitted: Mott Bryan, De-Von Hibschan, Phillip Lash and John Allen Teel.

Through the effort of Denton Abbey and Glen Snider, the partition for the new Kindergarten Church School Class Room has been added, and is now plastered.

The repair work on the basement walls has included water-proof cement and plaster. By the time this appears in print, the walls will have had the finish or white coat of plaster added.

This Thursday is cleaning day in the church kitchen. All the ladies who can possibly appear to assist in this project are invited. Although the walls will not be painted for the father and son banquet on Saturday night, the basement will be spic-and-span.

A week this past wednesday Mrs. F. B. Davison, Mrs. John Ellsworth, Mrs. Harold Lynn and Mrs. David Gosser attended the Vacation Church School Workshop which was held at the Christian church in Warsaw.

The Methodist church of Mentone is participating in the Go-To-Church Sunday campaign which is held annually in Kosciusko county, the Sunday preceding Palm Sunday. Visitors of the church will aid other church workers and county organization helpers to distribute the materials used in this drive. The date for the Sunday observance is March 22. All persons of the community are urged to attend the church of their choice on that and all other occasions.

Don't forget the Father and Son banquet this Saturday evening at six o'clock. The pastor has heard from many sources that the speaker of the evening is outstanding. Get your tickets at Cooper's Store, Elmore Fens-termaker, Frank and Jerry's, James Rodlbaugh, Jack VanGilder, Everett Long, or the Pastor.

BAPTIST NEWS

Plans are now complete for the annual Missionary Conference to begin on Sunday night at 7:30. The pastor will preach Sunday morning on the subject, "Malenkov and Meekness." Each night, except Saturday, a different missionary will speak and show pictures of their field. Missionaries from the Philippines, India, Africa, South America and the home field will speak. These services are free and the public is cordially invited.

Dwarf Maple

The common name of dwarf maple might imply that this tree was really small. As a matter of fact it may reach a height of 30 feet and have a trunk diameter up to 1 foot. The branches are relatively small and upright. They are pale green to brown at first but by the end of the first half year have become a brilliant reddish brown. They may be somewhat angled and are smooth. Sometimes the tree appears as a many branched shrub if a tree can by definition be a shrub. It is probably because of this habit that we have the name dwarf maple.

The dwarf maple ranges from Montana to the Black hills of South Dakota down to Nebraska through Colorado, Utah, Nevada to northern Arizona and new Mexico. It is found in the Siskiyou into Kern county, California and within its ranges is found up to altitudes of 8000 feet in the northern part of its range and of 9000 feet in the southern part. It is commonly found along the banks of water courses in the Rocky Mountain area.

Like other maples, the dwarf maple has opposite leaves. They may be deeply 3-lobed or even 3-parted but in some the lobing is shallow. They are to 5 inches in diameter, a bright dark green above and considerably lighter beneath. They may be up to 6 inches long with a long or a short petiole. Sometimes they may take on a brilliant red color. The twigs form a reasonably popular browse for mule deer and mountain sheep and white-tailed deer have been known to eat them.

Some of the plants bear rather conspicuous fruits while others seem to bear none. This is because the pollen is usually produced on plants different from those bearing the fruits. This is the usual thing in this tree but not always the case.

The fruits are much like those of other maples, consisting of two-winged parts with the wings extending in directions opposite to each other. The wings of the fruit may be almost an inch long and may be rose colored in the summer and red in the autumn. The fruits mature in late autumn and if collected for planting will be found to run as high as 20,000 to a pound. Fruits are sometimes harvested to start new plantings where soil erosion is to be kept under control and where the browse may have value to wildlife. Under the name of "Rocky Mountain Maple" it is sometimes raised in nurseries for sale as an ornamental.

The wood of the dwarf is heavy, hard, close-grained. The heartwood is light brown to white and the thick sapwood is usually lighter colored than the heartwood.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks to everyone for the floral offerings, sympathy and assistance extended us in our hour of sadness. We especially appreciate the courtesies of the neighbors and ladies of the Mentone Church of Christ.

MOTHER

Mother is gone,
But gone to a world where she will rest in peace and have everlasting life,
Her pains have ceased which she bore for many years,
Her victory is won, which she sought, And was whispered to us one night, when sitting by her side.
Oh, Lord, we love her not from our lips
But, Lord from the bottom of our hearts, which shall never depart.
For days our light had been burning low,
And finally the fatal hour came when our light went out;
Leaving a vacant place in our home That may never be forgotten, but almighty God, that vacant place in our hearts, shall never be.
Oh, Lord, -our Father we know that our dearest Mother rests in Your arms.

MENTONE CLUB STUDIES COLOR IN DECORATING

Mrs. Harry Vernetta, president of the Mentone Home Demonstration club, presented the lesson, "Understanding Color" at the meeting held Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Edith Darr, in Mentone.

One Point emphasized by Mrs. Vernetta was: in decorating a room use 90 percent of the dominant color, eight percent of a secondary color and add two percent of an accenting color. You should be able to tell the dominant color when you first enter. She suggested that not much gray be used, except in rugs.

For the meditation Mrs. John Laird read a poem, "Minutes Are Gold". Mrs. Raymond Weirick read the history of the song of the month. Mrs. Oliver Teel, vice-president, introduced the program.

A report of the council meeting, held by presidents of the clubs in the Kosciusko County Home Demonstration Association, was given by Mrs. Vernetta. Mrs. Claude Barkman was awarded the mystery package; Mrs. Elmer Sarber received a gift and Mrs. Elmer Rathfon, Mrs. Mace Nelson and Mrs. Vernetta were high bidders in the auction.

Mrs. John Laird assisted Mrs. Darr in entertaining the 19 members present. Mrs. Ada Merideth and Mrs. Cloice Paulus, assistant, will be hosts at the next meeting, April 9.

ATTENDANCE OF 12,000 EXPECTED ON GO-TO-CHURCH SUNDAY

Church attendance in Kosciusko county is expected to set an all time record next Sunday as a result of the intensive Go-To-Church campaign which is being conducted throughout the county this week. A total of 350 solicitors are working in the campaign this year and by Saturday night it is estimated that 8,000 homes in the county will have been visited. Literature is being distributed, and invitations are being extended to all members of families in these homes to attend the church of their choice on Sunday, March 22. It is the hope of the GoTo-Church general committee and all of the workers that over 12,000 persons will be in church pews to hear specially prepared sermons on Sunday.

This is the twelfth year of the Go-To-Church movement in Warsaw and Kosciusko county, and indications are that this year will be the best yet. More enthusiasm is being manifested by the workers, more people are taking part, more churches are co-operating.

The local township chairmen are: Seward, Lawrence Gagnon; Harrison, Russell Creighton; Franklin, Doyle Swanson.

TIMELY TOPICS

By Mary Anne White

This week I have been asked if I wouldn't give some simple but "Ohh" so important points on "How to Be A Proper Host or Hostess." This was especially asked for by the teen-agers but applies to all ages.

First of all don't let the words "host" or "hostess" scare you. Every time someone enters your house you are hostess to them. The first and everlasting rule to remember is: The comfort of your guest is your first consideration. What does that mean? It means you forget yourself and your wishes. Example: just because your favorite TV program is on is no reason it is your guests favorite program. Maybe they aren't interested in watching TV. It could be they dropped in for a friendly visit, not an evening of silence.

Now I'd like to give some simple rules to follow when you are host or hostess. These go for you too, mother, so don't stop reading here and dad, perhaps you and son should go over these together.

HOSTESS RULE I. Don't work so hard getting the house cleaned up before the party or club that your back aches, you're tired and cross, and you wonder why you ever invited them to come over. To show you how silly it is to wear yourself out cleaning the house, ask yourself whether you ever go around your hostess' home looking for dust. I hope you don't and if you do "stop" now.

HOSTESS RULE II. Dress for company, but don't overdress so you make your company uncomfortable; but don't go to the other extreme and look sloppy. Watch those blue jeans, girls.

HOSTESS RULE III. Keep refreshments simple. Have them good, of course. The cokes are really cold, the potato chips are crunchy and crisp; the "sloppy Joes" are hot and well flavored; and they are all attractively served. Don't try to outdo the last hostess. Remember though if boys or men are coming over—most of them have "hollow legs" when it comes to food so have enough to fill them up.

HOSTESS RULE IV. Don't try to serve "high stylsh" or strange foods all the time. Boys hate to be served foods they don't know how to eat. People, by and large, are not food adventurers and are afraid to try something new. They have definite food dislikes, too. Some people think oysters are slippery, tongue is soft and pasty, liver reminds them of gray cloth and garlic is something to make fun of. How silly most people are!

HOSTESS RULE V. Plan plenty of conversation, especially around the menu. Remember people are most interested in what has happened to them and not what has happened to you. Avoid "and then I said . . ." and "then he said . . ."

HOSTESS RULE VI. Teenagers and parents—always ask the rest of the household if it is convenient for you to have a party. After all, consideration for all others is important. And girls—don't forget to help clean up the house and prepare the refreshments. It's your party too.

Now fellows it's your turn—I know some of you say, "Oh, that's sissy stuff" or "I know that," but how many of you practice what you know?
HOST RULE I A boy honors his girl when he looks (and is) clean, carefully dressed and well brushed. A girl once refused to marry a man because he always had a dirty handkerchief. Sound silly? No, the handkerchief revealed his standards of personal cleanliness.

HOST RULE II. A boy does not stay in his car and honk to let the girl know he has arrived. Also if the boy is old enough to take a girl out, he is old enough to meet her parents like a man.

HOST RULE III. A boy should remember a girl appreciates and loves courtesy and consideration. A boy may put on an act with the gang and pretend he's "tough," and he may find it hard not to feel silly or sheepish when he is gentle with a girl, but for the record—the girl is flattered and loves gentle courtesy.

HOST RULE IV A boy never makes the girl feel embarrassed in public. (Girls, this goes for you too.)

HOST RULE V. A boy or man helps his girl or wife into his car or stands aside to let her go in first. He also takes the outside of the sidewalk. When crossing the street the boy may slip his hand under the girls elbow or link arms if that gives a feeling of security.

HOST RULE VI. A boy or man becomes a girl's protector and strong right arm when he takes her out. He precedes her in walking up a crowded aisle or in a crowded bus, precedes her through a swinging door, but follows her if a waiter is leading a couple to a table or an usher to a seat. (Someone else is her protector, temporarily.)

HOST RULE VII. A boy helps a girl with her chair and helps remove her wraps unless a waiter or waitress is there to do those things.

HOST RULE VIII. The girl tells the boy what she would like to eat and the boy gives the order.

No boy combs his hair in public, not even if the girl is so ill-mannered as to comb her hair, use lipstick or apply make-up at the table.

One doesn't need to be in his home to be a host or hostess—as long as someone is your company.

As you look over these rules you can see they are all based on the one important rule—the Golden Rule: "Do unto others as ye would that they should do unto you."

The T. H. E. club met Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Verde Brockey for their March meeting.

In the absence of the president, Mrs. Roy Hubbard, the meeting was in charge of Mrs. Sid Dick. The group opened the meeting by singing, "America the Beautiful" and repeating the pledge to the flag. Mrs. Brockey read from the "Upper Room" for devotions, followed by the history of the song of the month given by Mrs. Sam DeWard. The gathering then sang, "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling" and "My Wild Irish Rose."

Roll call was answered by "House-cleaning Hints," and the club voted to make contributions to various charities. The business meeting was closed by singing the club prayer. Mrs. Cora Bryant had charge of the entertainment which consisted of several contests and singing of "Happy Birthday" to Mrs. Charles Good and Mrs. Fred

Barr.

READING CLUB MARKS ANNIVERSARY

The Mentone Reading Club held its anniversary dinner at the home of Mrs. Miles Manwaring on Wednesday evening, March 11, at 6:30.

Members were seated at small tables, centered with yellow daffodils and purple sweet-peas. Handmade nut cups carried out the color scheme of blue and gold. Mrs. Hill asked the blessing. A delicious turkey dinner was then served by Oweeda and her helpers.

Following the dinner, a varied program was given.

For the first number, Miss Harri-man's speech class gave a hilarious one-act play entitled, "The Late Ben Hicks."

Charles Urschel and Jon Cullum played several trombone duets, for the second part.

The final part of the program was given by Mrs. Emma Clutter, who gave "Fashions Since Their Debut." Mrs. Clutter has made these small doll-mannequins and dressed them in costumes representative of the various eras, beginning with Eve in the Garden of Eden, and her covering of leaves, down to the present time. Each miniature costume has been carefully handmade in detail, with nothing for a pattern but the illustrations in the book.

Hostesses assisting Mrs. Manwaring were Mrs. Esther Shoemaker and Mrs. Emma Clutter.

FATHER AND SON BANQUET

This past Saturday evening almost a hundred men and boys enjoyed the fellowship of a Father and Son Banquet in the dining room of the Methodist church. The program consisted of group singing, a welcome address by Jonathan Gosser, two trombone duets, "There's Something About a Soldier" and "Mood Indigo," by Jon Cullum and Charles Urschel; a vocal solo, "O! No John," by David Gosser and a trombone solo, "Atlantic Zephyrs," by Charles Urschel.

Fifteen boys from Bashor Home, Methodism's "Little Boys' Town," of near Goshen, their House Father, Mr. Crist, and the director, Mr. John Cunningham, were guests. Each of the boys was sponsored by a member of the local church or a friend in the community. The boys sat with their sponsors, and two or three of them, feeling well fed and comfortable, drifted off into slumberland early in the address of Dr. E. A. Lanahan, pastor of the Evangelical United Brethren Church at Anderson, Indiana.

The topic of the address was "Clear Thinking in a Twisted World." It was timely and challenging, presenting many of the problems of delinquency with which we are becoming too familiar even in our small rural communities. Dr. Lanahan said, "Most of the youth apprehended by our officers and held by our courts are the victims of not thinking clearly if having thought at all about the implications of their crimes."

He punctuated his remarks with personal illustrations gathered by his frequent visits to penal institutions and schools of correction as well as the personal counseling in which he is engaged. Although his address may have been over the heads of many of his younger listeners, two boys inquired about relatives who have recently been at Pendleton.

The speaker was introduced by Raymond Cooper, church lay leader.

Sometimes YOU COULD HEAR FOR HALF A MILE

—one of the earliest telephone systems consisted of a length of baling wire with a metallic vibrating disc connected to both ends. With this type of equipment you could talk to your neighbor at the other end of the line.

The vibrating type telephone system shown above was used in 1887 by the Thornton's who lived north of Elkhart. The "ringing current" was supplied by the calling party snapping his finger on the vibrating disc. Under ideal conditions it was possible to cause the bell to ring at the other end of the line.

With the multiple connections of today's telephone system you can talk with anyone who has a telephone. But today's telephone system requires complicated equipment which takes expert engineering to design and skilled craftsmen to install. As more telephones are added, more central office equipment is required, and the system becomes more and more complex as is illustrated below.

In its simplest form two wires would be required today for an imaginary two telephone system. But suppose we add another telephone to the imaginary system. This requires just one more instrument, but in order to interconnect all three telephones six wires would be required as is illustrated at left. Now suppose we add three more telephones, expanding the imaginary system to six telephones. This calls for only three additional telephones but to interconnect all six would require thirty wires. (Count them in the illustration at right.) 132 wires would be required for the connections if the system grew to 12 telephones. The imaginary telephone system illustrations above use theoretical numbers of wires. In actual practice complex central office equipment accomplishes these intricate and multiple connections instead of the use of wires between all telephones as shown.

The purpose of the "imaginary system" illustrations is to help explain the reason for some unavoidable delays experienced in the engineering, manufacture, and installation of the necessary equipment in our continuing expansion program to provide more and better telephone service.

PSI IOTA XI PROJECTS

A new project, begun last year by Psi Iota XI, is co-operating with the Indiana Association of Mental Health. At Christmas time every child in Indiana state mental institutions received two gifts provided by the chapters.

The sorority helps to support the Indianapolis and Fort Wayne Symphony orchestras and the Hoosier Art salon. Each year three pictures, costing $100 each, are purchased and awarded to three of the 81 chapters, which are located in Indiana, Ohio, Michigan and Washington D. C.

Psi Iota XI was a pioneer in the establishment of speech and hearing correction clinics at Indiana university, in Bloomington, Ball State Teacher's college, Muncie, and Ohio State university, at Columbus Ohio. In 1938 the sorority contributed 10 thousand dollars for this project. Many other schools have added speech and hearing departments since that time.

The sorority has contributed $15,600 to the Riley Children's hospital, at Indianapolis. Equipment valued at $10,000 was given for the oxygen room at the hospital.

Other gifts made in connection with the Psi Iota XI national oxygen therapy project, included 33 large oxygen-airs and 17 insufflators in hospitals in Indiana and Ohio, one going to Woodlawn hospital, at Rochester.

Other gifts to local hospitals have been made by the Mentone chapter.

TIMELY TOPICS

By Mary Anne White

There has been and still are several questions on "Freezing Foods." Today I would especially like to discuss with you the important ways to freeze already cooked foods. With spring here and summer just around the other corner I am sure you want to save as much time as possible when it comes to meal preparation and planning.

The main reason for freezing cooked or prepared foods is to have the food ready to serve when needed, therefore, you will find it more practical to freeze only foods which require little time or attention between the freezer and the table. Freezing large quantities of prepared or cooked foods, however, is not usually worthwhile. Locker or freezer space is too limited or too precious to use in this way. Also, prepared foods such as cakes, pies, etc., usually do not retain their good quality for more than a few weeks or months.

Preparing cooked or baked foods for freezing is not difficult. The recipes can be your favorite ones which you have already used. There are only a few special rules to observe. Some of these are:

Some prepared foods are excellent when frozen and some are very poor. The chances of failure or poor quality in freezing cooked or baked products are increased greatly by poor or careless methods of preparing, cooking, packaging, freezing, storing, thawing and re-heating.

Use only ingredients of the best quality—fresh vegetables, eggs, lard, butter and pure flavoring extracts rather than synthetic ones. Salt tends to lose strength during freezing and storage. Pepper often becomes strong and bitter. Add these to taste at serving time.

Shorten the cooking time of meats and vegetables by cooking only until barely tender and remove from the heat at once. The food will soften further during cooling, freezing and later reheating for serving. Cooking the food completely may cause the vegetables and meat to be over soft when served as well as to lack flavor and appetite appeal. Overcooking is a common cause of failure in vegetables. Because potatoes and rice tend to lose their texture and become mushy, they should be added to combination dishes when they are reheated for serving.

It is amazing how easily and so innocently foods can be spoiled by not the proper cleanliness. This is important because freezing does not kill bacteria. The chance for food poisoning is greater with frozen food because the cell tissues of the food have been partially broken down and bacteria grow rapidly in them. Bacteria grow very rapidly in cream fillings—especially held at room temperatures. If you are freezing leftovers, be sure they have not become contaminated between cooking and packaging.

Use clean, sanitary methods of handling. Freezing foods which have been carelessly handled may be a dangerous source of food poisoning. Cool the product quickly in ice. Package and freeze immediately. Wrap or package tightly in approved containers. Package only what will be eaten at one time and never refreeze food after it has once been thawed.

The quicker the freezing, the better the quality because ice crystals will be smaller with less breaking of the tissue cells and also less chance of curdling or separating of creamy mixtures. Place only a few packages in the freezer at one time directly against the walls of the freezer.

Do not store for too long a time—the length of time that you can keep food depends much upon the varying conditions under which you prepared the food. A very cautious cook who follows directions very carefully can keep a product in good quality longer than a careless one. Do not hoard for long periods of time—this is too expensive in valuable space and in good quality foods. Prepare foods for freezing that are top quality and use them while they are still top quality.

Prepare frozen foods for the table quickly to have the best quality. Frozen salads, puddings, and ice cream need only slight thawing. Baked goods such as cookies, bread and cake thaw very quickly because of the high sugar and low moisture content. For foods which require cooking, start heating quickly from the solidly frozen state in a tightly covered pan. Foods which scorch or break up easily are best reheated in a double boiler or in a casserole in the oven. In this way no stirring is needed. Unbaked foods like pies, layer cakes, and some cookies can be placed in the oven while still frozen. Foods to be thawed before heating or serving should be thawed in the room or refrigerator and should be thawed in their original container or wrapper. This includes baked cakes, rolls and bread. This prevents moisture condensing on them which causes soft or soggy crusts and drier products.

Use speed in preparing frozen foods for eating after removal from the freezer. This gives a better quality product with a fresher flavor, as many foods acquire a stale flavor soon after thawing or reheating.

Not too much has been said previously to the freezing of casserole dishes. Many casserole dishes are very satisfactory frozen if they can be reheated without destroying their flavor and texture. Some of these dishes are Swiss steaks with a sauce, meat balls for spaghetti, creamed dishes, chicken ala king, chicken pie, stews and beef pot roast with vegetables. You will probably prefer the rice, spaghetti, and potatoes added at the time of reheating for serving. Leftovers of these dishes may also be frozen. Cook the vegetables for these dishes only three-fourths done to avoid having them mushy and poor flavor when you serve them, or you may prefer to add them to the meat broth at serving time.

Creamed dishes made of white sauce or cheese sauce tend to curdle during the thawing. You can help to prevent this by cooking the fat and flour thoroughly before adding the milk or by beating the sauce well in an electric mixer at serving time.

Be sure to cool the cream sauce quickly in ice water to prevent danger of food spoilage. Creamed foods such as these spoil more readily than other foods.

Well this looks about like I've covered most of the information on the various foods to freeze and how to freeze them. I'd like to take this time to thank you for reading these weekly topics and I have enjoyed bringing them to you. So until later when another home agent is here to take over, we leave you with the thoughts of a most successful future.

Poisonous Snakes

How many kinds of poisonous snakes are there? Approximately 2500 species of snakes are known to science, and of these about 250 have the venom apparatus sufficiently well developed to be potentially dangerous. This does not, however, include the sea snakes, in the Pacific and Indian Oceans, all of which are venomous. Of the 250 venomous species, about 75 are so small or rare that they can hardly be considered to present any hazard to human beings.

MRS. FRANK SMITH ENTERTAINS D.A.R.

The Anthony Nigo Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, held its March meeting on Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Frank Smith with Mrs. Eldred Paulus, Mrs. Rex Parker and Mrs. Isaac Kern as assisting hostesses.

Mrs. Emma Gill, chaplain, conducted the ritualistic service, followed by the pledge of allegiance to the flag and the singing of the national anthem.

The president general's message was read by Mrs. Ray Rush.

Mrs. Miles Manwaring, Regent, welcomed the guests of the evening, which included the Good Citizenship Girls and their mothers.

Several musical numbers were given by a group of young folks from Talma which were as follows: "Pledge to the Flag," and "I Heard a Forest Praying" by a trio, the Misses Barbara Carlile, Evelyn Smith and Sarita Emmons. A quartette with accordions and a Bell Lyre, played "Anchors Aweigh" and "Beautiful Dreamer." For the next number they were accompanied by the vocal trio and played, "Stars and Stripes Forever." The last number, played by the accordion group, was "Johnson Rag." The accordions were played by Dan Hibner, the Misses Patty Kern, Shirley Richardson and Barbara Carlile, and Miss Phyllis Carlile played the Bell Lyre.

Mrs. Robert Retwoldt entertained the group by showing pictures she had taken on their western trip last spring. She gave a very descriptive history of the beautiful places they visited. During the social hour which followed the hostess served punch and cookies.

The guests for the evening were: The Good Citizenship Girls representing different schools, and their mothers. They were: Donna Coplen, Beaver Dam; Elizabeth McSherry, Burket; Elsie Hoppas, Sidney; Marcell Haney, Silver Lake; Elaine Dunnick, Mentone. Two school representatives, Marcell Morris, Claypool and Sandra Kintzel, Atwood, were not able to be present.

The chapter adjourned to meet on April 28, at the home of Mrs. Drudge.

BAPTIST NEWS

This week on Thursday night the church is having a farewell fellowship supper for the Dowden family at seven o'clock. At eight o'clock they will go up to the auditorium for a service of prayer and praise. Next Sunday Mr. Dowden will preach his last sermons as pastor of the church. It was exactly four years ago that he preached his first sermon as a candidate. Because of a housing shortage in Plymouth it may not be possible for the pastor and family to move until school is out. The Dowdens will begin the work in Plymouth on Easter Sunday. Rev. Kenneth Dodson of Winona Lake, will be the preacher at Mentone on Easter Sunday.

Red Cross Fund Campaign Poster for 1953

The "marching flags" poster of the late N. C. Wyeth, first used by the Red Cross in 1933 and repeated in 1947, will be used again as the poster of the 1953 Fund Campaign because of its great popularity. Repeated also is last year's slogan, "Answer the Call."
