Jet Cracks Windows Here

Most citizens of the county were treated to a rather unusual experience about 4:15 Monday afternoon when a jet plane evidently exceeded the speed of sound, in this vicinity. Reports vary as to just where the plane was, however. One person who was sitting in the Burket Elevator said he saw a plane in a dive and shortly thereafter the sound of a big explosion let loose. Another reported seeing a fish-hook jet vapor trail to the west of Mentone.

Windows in the second floor of the Orthopedic building (next to the News office) were broken, and a small crack in a plate glass window at Coopers Store was greatly enlarged because of the concussion.

Your editor was just entering the North American Marine plant two miles north of Warsaw, and the report there sounded as if it originated within a block or so. File cabinets rattled in the offices. Others reported the concussion was still great over Pierceton way.

Those of us who may not fully comprehend what actually happens when a plane passes the speed of sound — through the sound barrier, may wonder just what can cause such a concussion. And I will hasten to not try and explain, but I can imagine that a lot of funny things took place when the report let loose. One lady insisted her oven blew up, another thought her whole basement caved in, and I certainly extend sympathy to the jumpy individual who had just picked up his bowl of soup. Was the barber going up the back of your neck with the electric clippers when it happened? If he was, we'll recognize you with a Cherokee crewcut.

TIPPECANOE FIREMEN HOLD FISH FRY

The Tippecanoe Fire Department sponsored a fish fry at the school Tuesday evening, to raise money for needed equipment for the department.

MOTHER DIES

Rev. H. R. Steele of Etna Green, announces that his mother passed away at South Bend Monday morning. She had been making her home part time with her son.

Many Attend Co-Op. Meet

Nearly six hundred stockholders of the Northern Indiana Co-operative Association, and members of their families, gathered at the Mentone school Monday evening to enjoy a fish dinner and participate in the annual meeting of the association. The banquet was prepared and served by the members of the Mentone Fire Department. They were ably assisted by the wives of the firemen.

Leroy Norris, chairman of the board of directors of the association, presided at the business session that followed the banquet. H. V. Johns led the assemblage in group singing after which Ralph Burris, pastor of the Church, led in prayer. Secretary Philip Lash read the secretary's report and announced that 322 stockholders were represented by their presence, by proxy and mail balloting. All the directors except one had attended every regular and special meeting held during the year.

Philip Lash, Everett Besson and Elmer Hoffman were reelected to the board of directors. They received 227, 179 and 158 votes, respectively.

Other candidates on the ballot received votes as follows:

Lawrence Butts 94.
Deverl Jefferies 81.
Arthur Kendall 89.

Two write-in candidates, O. B. Deaton and Chester Christian, received 35 and 11 votes respectively.

H. M. Newell of the Agricultural Research Department of Swift & Co., gave a statistical address on "Livestock and Poultry Marketing," in which he was unable to give much hope for higher prices to poultrymen in the near future. Livestock producers, according to Mr. Newell's statistics, can expect some improvement in prices and demand.

The treasurer's report showed the various units of the cooperative had gross sales of $877,594.10 during 1956, but due to operating on too narrow a margin, after deductions for depreciation, etc., a net loss of $6,113.73 was shown. However, the relationship between current assets and liabilities is over four to one, which indicates a sound financial condition of the association.

MENTONE HIGH SCHOOL BASKETBALL

By Larry Teel

Led by Fred Anderson, who scored 21 points and added 19 rebounds to the 18 shared by Larry Long and Larry Horn, Mentone squeezed out a shaky 46-44 victory over the upset minded Milford Trojans. The Bulldogs required three overtimes to win.

Mentone was handicapped in the scoring column by the fact that Tom Hoover was able to hit only 2 field goals. However, his passes set up several baskets and consequently he didn't attempt nearly as many shots.

Mentone featured a good defense in the first half, their best of the season.

The steady eye of Jr. Clampitt boosted Mentone to a 14-9 lead at the end of the first quarter and narrowed the margin to 22-21 at the half. The third quarter ended at 34-33 and the fourth at 44-44. Both teams used stall tactics and played for a last second shot in the first two overtime periods.

The third overtime period was opened by Hershberger's long one-hander, then Mentone stalled out the remaining time until Hoover missed a jump shot with 3 seconds left, with 4 seconds left Anderson was tied up on the rebound. His tip went to Hoover who was fouled as he attempted a jump shot. Hoover converted the foul shots and that was the ball game.

After giving Pierceton's Cubs, eventual sectional champs, all the basketball they wanted for the first three periods the Bulldogs went down in defeat 55-42.

The Bulldogs grabbed a 15-8 lead at the first quarter's end but Pierceton fought back and was leading 25-24 at the half. The third period ended 37-36 in the Pierceton team's favor and then the Cubs broke the game wide open as they outscored the Bulldogs 18-6 in the final period.

Mentone's Tom Hoover led the scoring with 24 points after he managed but 7 against Milford. Tenny led a balanced Pierceton attack with 15.

Legion Launches Drive For Adult Polio Inoculation

Department Commander Reed Beard of the Indiana Department of The American Legion today issued a call from the National Rehabilitation Conference in Washington, D. C., to the 459 Hoosier Posts to make adult inoculation against polio their outstanding community service project of 1957.

Commander Beard's action call was given a tragic accent by the first reported 1957 polio death in Indiana.

Groundwork for the nationwide adult polio inoculation campaign was laid in Washington last Sunday by the National Advisory Board of The American Legion composed of distinguished doctors and surgeons. Following its recommendation that The American Legion support the inoculation of all American people to stamp out polio, Dr. N. R. Boohner, of Indiana, National Rehabilitation Vice Chairman of The American Legion, drafted a resolution which was adopted by the National Rehabilitation Commission. It urged the 17,105 posts of The American Legion to get behind the completion of adult polio inoculation before the end of March, 1957.

Department Commander Beard emphasized that the Salk Vaccine has given Indiana substantial protection against polio.

"But if we are to stamp out polio as a public health hazard in Indiana and the nation, adults must also be protected against this dreaded disease," he stressed.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Tucker spent Saturday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Tucker of Akron.

Apply Dormant Spray

With the end of winter near, it's time for Hoosiers to apply a dormant spray to shrubs around the home.

Don Schuder, Purdue University research entomologist, says a dormant spray will keep down heavy infestations of scale insects, mites, aphids, leafhoppers and any number of other pests which are always on hand to plague the home gardener.

Schuder defines a dormant spray as one which is applied after leaf fall and before the buds break in the spring.

Here are some advantages for dormant spraying: Shrubs are less susceptible to injury and stronger application of insecticides can be applied. As shrubs are devoid of foliage, a more thorough coverage can be obtained and a less highly refined material used. While shrubs are dormant the insects won't be feeding and it's possible to eliminate them before they start their destructive work.

Dormant spray materials commonly used are oil, lime sulfur, and the dinitro compounds. The latter two are yellow and will leave a stain on stone, cement or painted surfaces. Thus oil is probably the safest material for the homeowner to use on his shrubs.

Dormant oil applications are usually made with an actual oil content of 3-4 per cent. These precautions should be kept in mind when making the application: Spray should not be applied when the temperature is below 45 degrees—freezing will cause the oil emulsions to separate with subsequent injury to the plant. The spray should not be applied just prior to a rain—it will wash off if it hasn't had time to dry.

Purdue extension bulletin 168, "Protecting Shade Trees and Shrubs Against Insects," will help clear up any additional questions on spraying. The publication is available from the agricultural publications office at Purdue.

Here's a tip from poultrymen at Purdue University: "Examine litter often around the broiler house feeders for wasted feed." In spite of low broiler prices and relatively high feed costs, wasted feed is still one of the biggest leaks in the broiler raiser's profits. Common causes of wasted feed are troughs more than one-third full of feed, improperly adjusted hanging feeders and carelessly watched mechanical feeders.

SCHOOL PHYSICAL EXAMINATIONS COMPLETED

Dr. John J. Johnson, Director Kosciusko County Health Department, announces that he has recently finished physical examinations of over one-thousand students in Warsaw and Kosciusko County schools. He was ably assisted by Mrs. Rene Nine, Public Health Nurse and PTA Mothers.

This year the program was new in the county schools and continued in the Warsaw City schools. In the county, students in the seventh grade were examined. In Warsaw students were examined in the second, fifth, eighth and eleventh grades. Dr. Johnson expects to expand the program in the county schools next year to include more grades.

In the Warsaw City schools over 500 students were examined. In the county schools five hundred seventeen students were examined. Of the students in the county schools physical findings indicated the following possible defects: Heart 14, Thyroid gland 38, enlarged tonsils 179, extremely poor posture 9, Hernia 1, Teeth (obvious cavities) 127, eyes (other than poor vision) 2, ears (other than poor hearing) 2.

Of these defects 167 were boys and 137 were girls. Reminder notes were sent to the parents of 149 students for the more serious defects.

A program of this nature only becomes successful when the parents take their children to their family physician or dentist for correction of the defects which are pointed out by such an examination. If these defects are not corrected the personnel of the health department are wasting their time.

The health of a child is the direct responsibility of his or her parents. The health department and school can only by responsible for sanitation and safety while at school.

STITCH AND STIR 4-H CLUB NEWS

The Stitch and Stir 4-H club met at the home of Mrs. Eldon Horn and Cheyrl Horn Feb. 26. The meeting was called to order by Janet Besson, president, and the minutes were read and approved. Roll call was answered by a "favorite TV program." A discussion was held about a money-raising project, but no decision was reached. We checked the grooming and appearance check list, and a demonstration on pineapple jello salad was given by Janet Rackweg. The dish looked mighty appetizing. Janet Besson gave a demonstration on putting a hem in a dress or skirt. Games were played after which the hostesses served delicious refreshments. The next meeting will be with Janet Rackweg on March 26.

CIVIL DEFENSE 'KEYPOINT' for Los Angeles is typical of some 200 such communication centers throughout the nation maintained by local civil defense. In less populous areas, "keypoints" are often police or fire stations, where someone is always on duty. They depend on the Federal Civil Defense Administration's 14,180-mile warning net (inset) to link them to Air Force air defense division control centers. Keypoints notify, in turn some 3,500 "sub-keypoints" which set off sirens and call out civil defense personnel.

W. S. C. S. Meets At Urschel Home

The Woman's Society of Christian Service met at the home of Ruth Urschel Thursday evening, February 21st. The topic for discussion was the church and mental health, which was presented by Iris Anderson assisted by Dorothy Herendeen and Dora Whetstone. In the discussion we were brought closer to the island on which many persons are stranded and suffering. We also learned more about what is being done by the state, county, and our own local community to help those persons who are mentally ill and emotionally disturbed, that many can be helped by just a little concern on the part of many. We also discovered the concern of the church and some of the ways it can help those who are suffering from mental illness. Mrs. Lois Davison president, presided over the business session and Mr. Harriett Abbey was in charge of the program. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Mary Cook, Mrs. Pauline Riner.

Sorghum Hybrids Tested

Grain sorghum hybrids produced high yields and showed considerable promise for use in Indiana in field trials conducted by Purdue University specialists last summer.

R. C. Pickett, Purdue agronomist, has revealed that the five highest-yielding hybrids out-produced the average of three check varieties—Martin, Midland and Westland—by 26 per cent in yield tests in Tippecanoe County. The moisture conditions and fertility were good and the top yield was 115 bushels of dry, clean grain.

At the Southern Indiana Forage Farm in Dubois County, on a dry, infertile hilltop, yields went as high as 84 bushels per acre for the hybrids. There, the top five hybrids out-yielded the check varieties by 57 per cent.

In trials at the Sand Experimental Field near Culver, the top hybrid yield was 51 bushels—30 percent better than the three check varieties. Here again, the crop was produced under extreme drought and low fertility.

Three Hays hybrids, developed in Kansas, were the highest yielding. Seed of these varieties will not be available for use in Indiana in 1957 except possibly limited quantities for seed production. Seed is most available of the recommended hybrids RS or Texas 610, Nebraska 13B, and Texas 611. Names of growers and sources of seed are available from the department of agronomy, Purdue University.

Grain sorghums appear to be about equal to corn in feeding value. For silage, the forage varieties of Norkan and Atlas are recommended since they will produce more tonnage per acre.

For best results Pickett suggests these cultural practices for sorghum: Plant between May 20-30 in southern Indiana and June 1-15 in northern Indiana.

Sorghums do best on well drained fertile soils but will do better than many other crops on drouthy and poor areas for corn production. Fertilize at least equal for good corn production, considering the infertile field that may be used.

Treatment with mercurial compounds or with Arasan or Spergon helps to control seed and seedling decay organisms and smut.

Additional information on grain sorghums for Indiana is contained in new mimeo AY-83b, available from the agronomy department at Purdue.

An outstanding characteristic of K-137 KimberCHIKS

As of January 1, 1956, K-137 Kimberchiks led in early egg size in all three official random sample tests in which they were entered—California, Missouri, and Utah. Since large eggs are often worth 100% more than small, and 35-50% more than medium, this characteristic of the K-137 can make a great difference in income during the pullet year.

The K-137 is also noted for its good egg quality, both shell and interior. The high percentage of firm albumen results in more AA quality eggs.

The K-137 has good livability... 93.4% to about 18 months in the three official tests in which they were entered last year.

We invite you to compare the performance of this outstanding stock under your own management.

“NOTHING SELLS LIKE NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING”

“At the retail level, nothing sells like newspaper advertising if the product has news-worthiness, is priced right, and if in-store promotion follows through.”

That statement was made the other day by a Philadelphia advertising man, speaking at a sales forum. He gave the example of one of his clients, who gained $8 million in retail sales over a three-months period for an advertising expenditure of less than $100,000. He added: “The real payoff of this promotion came as the result of newspaper advertising.”

The other and newer media have their place—but they can't supplant the newspaper. That goes for the papers in the little towns no less than those in the great cities.

INCOME TAX FACTS No. 8 Start Now to Plan Next Year's Tax

(This is one of a series of articles on federal income tax filing. These articles are based on information provided by the American Institute of Accountants, and the Indiana Society of Certified Public Accountants in cooperation with the Internal Revenue Service.)

Often the greatest tax savings are to be made during the year by planning your decisions with tax considerations in mind, rather than at the end of the year when you have your tax form in hand.

Here are some possibilities for reducing your tax which you can't do anything about after the end of the tax year, but which might reduce next year's tax return:

(1) If you are providing nearly half the support of someone who might qualify as a dependent, consider providing more than half so you will be entitled to the $600 exemption. The extra amount you contribute may be less than the tax savings.

(2) Remember that unless a dependent is under 19 or a full-time student, you will lose the exemption if his income is $600 or more. Be sure to check the income of everyone you expect to claim as a dependent.

(3) If you are planning to be married, a wedding before midnight December 31, 1957, will give you the privilege of filing a joint return for 1957. This probably would result in substantial tax saving.

(4) A baby born before midnight, December 31, qualifies as an exemption for the full year.

(5) If your medical expenses are likely to be over 3% of your income this year and you expect them to be less next year, pay as many medical bills as possible before the end of the year, up to the maximum allowable deduction. If you borrow to do this, remember that you can also deduct the interest.

(6) If your medical expenses are over the maximum deduction, perhaps you can defer part of the payment until after the end of the year.

(7) Borrowing to pay your taxes can sometimes let you take the deduction a year earlier.

(8) If you sell your home at a profit, remember that you do not have to pay a capital gains tax if you pay more for a new home within a year than the price you get for the old one.

(9) When investing money, remember that stock in a domestic corporation offers the possibility of dividend exclusion and credit.

(10) If you sell securities or other “capital assets” at a profit, it is usually better to wait until you have held them at least six months so that the profit will be taxed at the capital gains rate instead of as ordinary income.

(11) When buying bonds, consider not only the interest rate but the fact that interest on state and municipal bonds is exempt from federal income tax.

If any of these points is likely to make a substantial difference in your tax, it will probably pay you to discuss your problems with the Internal Revenue Service, or to seek professional tax advice. Anything you pay for assistance in preparing your tax return is deductible from your taxable income.

But beware of any “tax expert” who claims he can cut your tax below the amount you really owe. It's a good idea to pick someone who has had experience in dealing with the Internal Revenue Service, just in case the government should raise some question about your return.

(Final Article of the Series.)

BEAVER DAM HIGH SCHOOL BASKETBALL

By Roger Nellans

In their final game of the season, the Beavers were defeated by Syracuse in the Sectional Tournament. The Beavers, playing one of their best games of the season, led throughout the first half and held the Yellow Jackets to a two point lead at the end of the third stanza, but trailed in the final quarter to lose 58-50.

Bibler led the Beaver Dam scoring with 15 points and Valentine was a close second with 14. Kistler and Nicolai led Syracuse with 17 and 16 points respectively.

This game ended the high school basketball career of Phil Bucher, Al Baugher, Bud Tullis, Kerry Huffer, and Barry Igo, who will graduate this spring.

Speeding Campaign to Preserve Nation's Solvency

Memphis, Tenn.—With the curbing of inflation as a primary objective, the Campaign for the 48 States is this month launching its program throughout the country. Founded here two years ago, the movement seeks passage of constitutional amendments requiring annual balancing of the Federal budget, a ceiling on Federal income taxes, reform of the electoral college and curbs on the treaty-making power. It hopes to get these amendments passed through action of the different state legislatures, forty-five of which meet this year.

Speaking in support of the organization's program Senator Harry F. Byrd of Virginia says, "Our National Budget must be balanced annually or this country is headed for real financial disaster." Passage of the Byrd-Bridges amendment is the initial goal of the Campaign for the 48 States.

Robert B. Snowden, prominent businessman and farmer of Memphis and Arkansas is national chairman of the movement. Mr. Snowden points to the recent statement of Secretary of the Treasury George Humphrey as proof of the serious need for his group's objectives. In issuing a warning about President's requested record peacetime budget of $71,000,000,000, Secretary Humphrey said, "Unless spending is cut sharply so taxes can be reduced we'll have a depression that will curl your hair." He also said the cure for the nation's financial ills had to start with the general public who in turn must make Congress do something about it.

"We believe," says Mr. Snowden, "that our Campaign for the 48 States offers the best means of putting the brakes on our nation's reckless and rapid drift toward complete bankruptcy."

To bring this message forcibly to the attention of millions of Americans, the Campaign for the 48 States has prepared television films, each one dramatizing the need for a sponsored constitutional amendment. In the first film, pointing out the devastating results of inflation, those heard from in addition to Senator Byrd include Senator Styles Bridges of New Hampshire, Admiral Ben Moreell, head of Jones and Laughlin Steel Corporation, Admiral Harold Martin and Mr. Snowden.

In many major cities key television stations, in support of the Campaign's program, are showing the films as a public service. Businessmen and industrialists are financing repeat public showings of the films. Many concerns are showing the films to their employees and their families. Company house organs are carrying feature articles on the Campaign and its objectives. Bankers of the country, especially concerned about the nation's serious financial condition, are spearheading the formation of permanent local organizations to carry the Campaign's program to a successful conclusion. Bills sponsoring the desired amendments have already been introduced in several state legislatures with others scheduled for later this month.

"The program of the Campaign for the 48 States is gaining support and followers every day because it makes sense," Chairman Snowden said. "It is entirely non-partisan and simply seeks a return to sanity and financial stability in the operation of our Federal government. Our system of government in Washington has gotten out of hand and it is never going to regulate itself until the States force it to do so. That is the sole aim of our organization,—to gain constitutional reform by action of the state legislatures."

The Mentone Junior Hi boys were in a hilarious mood Monday night after they won the county championship by defeating Etna Green in the finals 44 to 25 at Claypool.

To find their way to the finals the boys had previously defeated East Wayne, North Webster and Syracuse.

In talking with those who witnessed the games, it appears that Mentone has some fine ball players on the Junior Hi squad.

Services For Mrs. Windbigler

A lifelong resident of Newcastle township, Mrs. Windbigler was a member of the Talma Christian church and the Gleaners lodge. She had been in poor health for the last year.

Flying Club Plans Grow

At a special meeting held at the Peterson Restaurant Friday evening, preliminary organization plans were made toward the formation of a flying club at Mentone.

David Fox, Bob Foellinger, Ralph Koger and Harrison Crabill, members of the Rochester Flying Club, were in attendance and explained some of the advantages and problems connected with a flying club. Their club has been in operation and they now own two planes, an Aircoupe and a Tripacer. Flying costs to members is $3.60 for the small plane and $6 per hour for the larger one.

The proposal for the Mentone Flying Club is that each member pay $150 into the organization and a good used training plane be purchased. Ten members contributing will insure sufficient funds to purchase a plane and secure the necessary protective insurance. Dues are expected to be $5 per month per member, which is payable in addition to the charge for flying time. An instructor, for those who desire instruction, can be had for $4 per hour.

Allen (Chick) Herendeen, was named temporary chairman and treasurer. Among those who made their initial payment on Thursday evening were: Dr. Wyndom Wilson, Alden Jones, Jr. Dale Sinclair, Artley Cullum and Allen Herendeen. Others indicated they wanted to be one of the charter members and several had previously indicated their interest.

Another meeting will be held at eight o'clock Thursday evening, March 14, at Peterson's, at which time a permanent organization is expected to be formed. Anyone interested in joining the club now should be at the meeting or contact someone in the group. A $15 penalty for membership was intimated to those who may want to join after the charter membership is closed.

Bloat In Dairy Cattle

Bloat, sometimes a summer headache for dairymen, can be decreased if precautions are taken when the herd goes on legume pasture, says a Purdue University veterinarian.

Dr. G. D. Goetsch points out that bloat results from an excessive accumulation in the rumen of gasses formed to a large extent by bacterial action.

Certain types of legume pasture will increase the incidence and severity of bloat to the extent that the use of these feeds may endanger the lives of the animals.

To reduce this hazard, Dr. Goetsch advises these measures: Sow a mixture of grasses with the legumes.

Give the herd a feeding of dry hay before turning the cows on legume pasture.

Provide access to hay or straw while the cows are pasturing on legumes.

Do not pasture legumes until after the bloom stage.

Place the animals on Sudan grass or orchard grass pasture during the night.

Provide adequate drinking water, salt and minerals.

In the event cattle become bloated, Dr. Goetsch suggests that a veterinarian be called immediately.

The Purdue veterinarian warns that a bloated animal should not be driven since a shortness of breath makes it dangerous to move the animal.

Why wait until your cows break down or until dwindling milk checks start eating into your profits? The time to feed a completely balanced dairy ration is before nutritional trouble starts.

Our Dairy Feed contains the right amount of essential milk producing, health maintaining substances—vitamins, proteins and minerals—dairy cows need to pay out big profits for you. It is a highly potent concentrate that requires only good roughage to produce a complete and balanced ration . . . and you are assured of consistent potency and value in every bag.

Bloated cows should not be drenched. Instead, placing salt on the tongue will encourage salivation the release of gas.

Until the veterinarian arrives, a farmer can help the animal by applying pressure with the fist or knee in a kneading action on the bloated side. This will encourage belching.

Starter Fertilizer Placement

Attachments for corn planters which insure proper placement of starter fertilizer—to the side and below the seed—are available to Indiana farmers. Purdue University agricultural engineers say these attachments, which can replace the conventional split boot or shoe, may be obtained from most implement dealers.

This points up the importance of proper placement of row fertilizer, which not only gets the crop off to a good start but also contributes to the total fertility of the cropping system, according to Purdue agronomists.

A. J. Ohlrogge, Purdue agronomist, points out that on germination, the first primary root takes a direct path downward. Corn roots do not go to fertilizer so the nutrient must be placed where it will intercept the secondary roots.

Placement of fertilizer bands one to two inches to the side of the seed and one to two inches below the seed level is safe and efficient, he says.

Rapid development of a root system within the fertilizer band also is essential for efficient utilization of the nutrients. Plant-available phosphate and nitrogen in the band bring about rapid root proliferation.

Field experiments with corn showed that without nitrogen about 9 percent of the fertilizer phosphate was recovered or used by the crop. With nitrogen mixed in the band with the phosphate, the recovery was 14.5 percent, mostly in the first six weeks after planting. When nitrogen was placed on one side of the seed and phosphate on the other, the recovery was a little less than 10 per cent.

Pasture Fertilization

Permanent pasture, usually land too steep or gullied to cultivate or former crop land drained of its fertility through continuous cropping, is the most neglected part of many farms.

That is the view of C. D. Foy, Purdue University agronomist, who points out that the permanent pasture can be improved by either topdressing with lime and fertilizers or by complete renovation of the existing sod.

Use of fertilizers and lime on established pasture, Foy says, can be expected to increase yields from 25 to 100 per cent. Complete renovation often will result in increases of 200 to 500 percent in yields.

On pastures consisting primarily of grasses Foy recommends the application of 40 to 50 pounds of nitrogen per acre in early March. Maximum response, to such treatment, however, will require an adequate supply of phosphate and potash in the soil.

Renovation of old pastures involves, first, determining lime and fertilizer needs through soil tests. Then the existing sod must be plowed or disced to make a good seed bed, fertilizer and lime applied, and the pasture reseeded to a mixture of more productive legumes and grasses.

Egg Day April 3 At Purdue

The fifth annual Purdue Egg Day will be held April 3 under sponsorship of the University's poultry science department and the Indiana State Poultry Association.

D. D. Jackson, Purdue extension poultryman, said more than 300 egg producers are expected for the event. The program will include panel discussions of such subjects as "What Can We Do To Stimulate Egg Consumption?" and "Problems of Buyers and

Producers of Quality Eggs."

Individual speakers will include Purdue staff members who will talk about poultry diseases, research and the economic outlook for the egg business, R. M. Hendrickson, poultry feed products specialist from General Mills, and Raymond E. Cray, Ohio State University poultryman. All sessions will be held in the Purdue Memorial Union.

Mrs. Emaline Pauline Cochran has been admitted to the Robert Long hospital in Indianapolis for surgery.

Seed certification officials at Purdue University report that farmers occasionally buy seed which they think is certified but which is not. The only way to be sure that seed is Indiana certified is the presence of the blue, Indiana-shaped certification tag on each bag of seed. If this tag is not present, the seed is not certified.

Biochemists at Purdue University say a soil test is your prescription for needed fertilizer. Your local dealer fills your prescription. State Chemist inspectors and official chemists try to see that you get your money's

The meeting was called to order by the president, Dora Norris.

The Altar was prepared by the Sgt.-at-Arms, Elvora Copen. The colors were presented and the pledge to the flag was given and one verse of the National Anthem was sung. The chaplain Berntha Meredith opened the Bible and offered prayer.

The meeting was then declared open for business. 13 members answered roll call.

The recording secretary, the financial secretary and the treasurer's reports were accepted as read.

The announcement of the state convention to be held at Fort Wayne on April 5, 6, and 7 was made and Laveta Horn and Myrtle Davis were elected as delegates and Ethel Wagner as alternate.

Communications were read from Maude "Outhank" Courtney and Cecil Tucker.

Cards of thank from Folsom Newell and Berntha Meredith, sent while they were in the hospital were read and a note from Mrs. King for the Valentine plate.

All bills were allowed.

The motion was made and carried that we give to each of the following funds: Red Cross, Cancer, heart, Retarded Children, Salvation Army and Polio.

Myrtle Davis gave a report of the District Convention held on March 1st at Logansport.

It was decided we meet at the home of Ethel Whetstone on Thursday, March 21st to make some bed sides bags and some small ditty bags to be carried on the arms or tied around the waist of the patients in the veterans hospital, all who can possibly come please do so.

After some discussion it was decided we have a food sale on Saturday, April 20.

A past president's pin was presented to Myrtle Davis by Mrs. Wagner.

Birthday dues were paid by Ethel Whetstone and Jane Jefferies. Unit dues were paid by Cecil Tucker.

A donation was received from the Royal Neighbors in appreciation of the entertainment by the kitchen Band at their recent meeting. Thanks.

The social committee held two contests which were enjoyed by all.

The hostess assisted by Edith Young served dainty refreshments.

Suggest Auto Be Checked

Spring-like weather and a complete mechanical check-up for the family car should go together, the Chicago Motor Club recommends.

Driving in all kinds of winter weather, particularly on roads where chemicals have been used for ice removal contribute heavily to the wear and tear of an automobile, it is pointed out.

To help insure your safety and provide more comfortable motoring, spring is the time for a complete change-over, the Motor Club says.

It is suggested that motorists make an appointment now with their favorite garage or service station operator just as they would consult their doctor for a physical check-up.

Rose Culture

Lafayette, Ind.—Roses, called the "Queen of Flowers" for 2600 years, require certain cultural practices. And to aid home gardeners, Purdue University horticulturists have outlined these essentials in extension circular 427, entitled "Roses."

Roses vary greatly in habit, flowering characteristics, and use and for this reason are grouped into classes. The circular gives a brief discussion of the best well-known varieties representing each horticultural class, and it lists the characteristics of each.

Although the most economical way of replacing or increasing roses for the home garden is by direct purchase from a local nurseryman, some prefer the fascinating process of propagating their own plants. The most successful methods of propagation are outlined in the circular.

Also included in the circular is advice on "where and how to order roses." The importance of emphasis on quality of plants rather than price is stressed in this section.

Preparation of the soil for planting is discussed, as well as planting information, such as time of year and distance to plant. This is followed by advice for cultivation and fertilization, watering and prevention of winter injury—a common cause of discouragement in rose culture.

Circular 427 also gives the proper methods for pruning different types of plants, and advice for insect control and disease control, covering such pests as sawflies, grasshoppers, and plant lice, and disease like black spot and mildew.

Extension circular 427 may be obtained from your county extension agent or by writing to the agricultural publications office, Purdue University.

Purdue University dairymen say that fall and winter freshening pays. In 30 DeKalb County DHIA herds, a comparison between the three high cows and the three low cows in the same herds shows that 67 per cent of the 90 best cows freshened during the fall and winter months. Some dairymen claim an advantage of 50 pounds of butterfat per cow due to fall and winter calving.

Delegates To Hoosier Girl's State

Miss Sue Elaine Shoemaker, from Mentone High School, and Miss Joyce Hathaway, from Beaver Dam High School, have been named delegates to the 1957 Hoosier Girls' State to be held June 22-June 30 on the Indiana University campus. Miss Lucy Ann Coplen, Mentone and Miss Susie Barber of Beaver Dam are the alternates.

Girls' State programs throughout the United States are organized by the Legion Auxiliary. Often other organizations act as local sponsors. This year the Beta Epsilon Chapter of Psi Chi Sorority has assumed the responsibility for a Girls' State citizen. This means Miss Hathaway will be the first girl from Beaver Dam to share in the program. As more schools are represented more classmates and friends can gain from reports of her experiences. Miss Shoemaker will be the eighth girl from Mentone who has been sponsored by the local unit of the American Legion Auxiliary.

For nine action-packed days the citizens of Girls' State will live in a recently completed dormitory on the beautiful campus at Bloomington, Indiana. These 900 outstanding young women will come from all parts of this state. During their stay they will actually participate in nominating and electing city, county, and state officials for a mythical city or country. Organizing committees and proposing legislation will be part of their experience.

This concentrated training in citizenship is planned as a supplement to home and school teachings. It is non-partisan and non-political.

Hoosier Girls' State is considered one of the most outstanding in the country and was the largest in the nation in 1956. Two new topics scheduled for this year are "Study of State Educational Problems" and "Laws Relating to Status of Women."

Some of the qualifications for delegates are: to be a high school Junior, to have a definite interest in government, to be outstanding in both leadership and scholarship. The school lists the students who meet these requirements and a committee from the sponsoring organization names the delegate and alternate. Mr. Ronald Malott and faculty of Beaver Dam Cooperated with Mrs. Curtis Riner and the sorority committee. Mrs. Byron Nellans' committee was assisted by Mr. John Frederick and the Mentone School staff.

Sue Shoemaker

Joyce Hathaway is the daughter of Ray C. Hathaway, R. R. 1, Claypool. She has participated in a variety of school activities including Band, Sports and 8 years as a 4-H member.

Susie Barber is the daughter of Dail Barber, R. R. 2, Akron. She is interested in Music and Dramatics and has had several years training in tap dancing.

Sue Shoemaker is the daughter of Mrs. Esther Shoemaker of Mentone. Sue has also engaged in several activities. At present she is assistant editor of the Mentonette, the school newspaper.

Lucy Ann Coplen is the daughter of Elnora E. Coplen, R. R. 1, Mentone. Lucy is a member of the Speech Club and Future Homemakers of America.

May we all unite in hoping that one of these young ladies may be selected to represent Indiana at Girls' nation in Washington later this year.

Club Meets At Hoover Home

On Monday evening, March 18th, the Country Neighbors Club met at the home of Eleanor Hoover for their annual party. As has been the tradition of the past, one half of the members prepare and serve the dinner, while the other members sponsor the entertainment.

Preceding the dinner, each member of the entertainment group was given a hat, which turned out to be one of their own so that they could feel as if they were eating out. Mrs. Dorothy Herendeen received the prize for being the first to say "I'm Ready."

Mrs. Vada Maxwell returned Thanks and then the guests were treated to a delicious three course dinner, which was served from a table that was beautifully decorated in spring colors. A large white lamb was centered in the table with three candles at either end. Sweet peas were laid around the candles. At each place a sweet pea corsage was placed in a wheel barrow.

Following the dinner, two films were shown. One concerned Hawaii and the other "Our Beautiful America."

The Food committee, now being the guests were taken on an imaginary plane ride to Hawaii. Each was given a satchel of clothing to wear. After dressing for the trip, they were introduced to the pilot, Elvis Punkhead and briefed for the trip. They were given burp cups and gum prior to taking off. During the flight, the hostess, Miss Hilda Hiccup, gave each passenger soap, perfume, mints, etc. One passenger became very ill and had to be taken from the rear of the plane to the front. Cablegrams were received and read throughout the trip. Upon arrival, one of the Hawaiian Beauties so graciously entertained with the dance of the Islands.

Bananas, oranges, pineapple, coconut and raisins were so plentiful that the tourists were nearly weighed down, but with everyone looking forward to next year's party. Mrs. Jerry Smith was a guest.

Higgins Named Seward Trustee

Last week Forrest Higgins, a Seward township farmer, was appointed by the county commissioners to fill out the unexpired term of Trustee Fred Blackburn, who died recently.

Higgins, who had formerly served as trustee, had been active on a committee in opposition to the plans and wishes of Mr. Blackburn and his advisory board, and who desired to add new school facilities at Burket. The "committee for better schools", as the group referred to themselves, favored consolidating the township with neighboring townships and abolishing the Burket school.

A petition carrying the names of some 110 Seward electors favored the appointment of Higgins, while another petition with over twice as many names appealed for the appointment of Wilbur McSherry, who was elected to and is now serving on the advisory board.

Cousin Dies

Mrs. Effie E. McPherron, 73, of South Bend and a cousin to Arthur and Clarence Brown of this city, died at 4:15 Friday at her home. She had been in ill health for five years.

Mrs. McPherron, the former Effie E. Henderson, was born near Mentone, spent some years at Culver and the last 50 years has been at South Bend. She was married to Charles A. McPherron in St. Joseph, Michigan July 28, 1906.

Surviving are the husband; one daughter, Miss Helen I. McPherron, at home; one brother, Levi Henderson, of Rochester; and a sister, Mrs. William I. Stayton, of Mishawaka.

CLUB BUYS PLANE

The Mentone Flying Club, now composed of seven qualified flying enthusiasts, purchased an Aeronca Champion plane this week, and it is to be hoped that it will be at the Herendeen airport by the week end.

The club members are to meet at Pete's Restaurant Friday evening, March 29th. All others interested in information about the club are invited to attend.

Brother Dies

Dorence U. Hostetler, 60, of northeast of Packerton, died Friday afternoon at 2:45 of coronary thrombosis in the Parkview hospital, Fort Wayne.

Mr. Hostetler was born in Monroe township Oct. 5, 1896, the son of Amos and Sarah (Hagerman) Hostetler. He spent all his life in the Packerton vicinity. He married Wreatha Hearn in 1915. She survives.

He was a retired mechanic and school bus driver.

Survivors in addition to his wife are two sons, Merrill, of Route 3, Warsaw, and Donovan, Route 2, Pierceton; three sisters, Mrs. Chester Stump, Route 2, Pierceton, Mrs. Ralph Good, Route 1, Claypool, and Mrs. Leo Valentine, Route 1, Mentone; also two twin grandsons.

Services were held at the Packerton Evangelical United Brethren church at 2 p. m. Monday with Rev. Keith Burch officiating. Burial was in Hillcrest cemetery at Pierceton.

Officials of the town of Mentone have received a copy of the will of the late Lawrence Bell, in which he offers from his estate the sum of $20,000 to "erect and maintain" a memorial to his parents.

Town officials have unofficially tendered a resolution accepting the grant, but no decision has been made as what type of memorial will be planned.

The copy of the will, sent to the town by the administrator of the Bell estate, also carried a provision for the delivery and installation of his aviation mementoes, which includes a vast assortment of valuable models of airplanes.

AIRPORT OPERATOR VISITS BUNKER HILL

Allen Herendeen was among the airport operators of the area given a visiting tour of the Air Force Base at Bunker Hill, near Peru, Wednesday.

The prime purpose of the visit was to acquaint the operators with the procedures and problems of the training unit. It was explained that a "sonic boom," which local people were introduced to a few weeks ago, can happen almost any time while jets are flying, and although the flyers do not cause them intentionally, they do happen on occasions.

The entire training area is controlled so the danger to people or other aircraft is almost negligible. Low level flying, a necessary part of training, is not practiced near any town or airport, the high flying is done over Lake Michigan, and ground strafing is done at Atterbury.

Junior Play April 5 and 6

Summer Is Too Late

The chances are that somewhere in your vicinity next summer an ambulance may go clanging down the street and the next day you will learn that a neighbor has been stricken with paralytic polio.

Then you will remember that in the spring you had read about a polio vaccination drive. Of course, you had meant to get your family, and yourself inoculated. But somehow you had put it off. It wasn't convenient just then; you'd do it later; it slipped your mind.

So, at the height of the summer polio season, you find yourself unprotected. A cold shiver comes over you as you recall pictures of young limbs in metal braces, young faces protruding from iron lungs.

Anxiously you telephone your doctor. Yes, he says, the Salk vaccine is effective against paralytic polio. "But," he adds, "it takes seven to 10 days for the first shot to take effect, then a wait of two to six weeks for the second shot that will provide reasonable protection for this polio season."

You load your family in your car and you get your first injections. But days pass while you wait—and fear gnaws at your heart. Suppose the disease strikes before the vaccine builds up its defenses? How could you ever forgive yourself?

If you act now, you need suffer no such fear and guilt. This is one time when delay may literally be fatal.

Enjoy Party

Friends met at the home of Gigg Kinzie to honor his 4th birthday.

Children played several games: Farmer in the Dell, Musical Chairs, Musical Clothes Pins, and Spin the Bottle. We then enjoyed solos and duets by Debbie Bowser, Sherry Lewis, Bob and John Romine, Gigg Kinzie, and Audie Gates. Then the children sang together many songs.

Lunch was served by representing a Birthday Celebration for all the guests. We had favors set up as a gift and each piece of cake had a birthday candle to blow out.

Those attending the party were: Debbie and Paylis Bowser, Jimmy and Dorothy Back, Audie, Cy Allen and Dorothy Gates, Debbie and Julie Olson, Rosemary and George Rodibaugh, Lu Ann and Bonnie Summy from Warsaw, Donita and Ronnie Teel, Sherry and Grace Lewis, John, Bob and Mary E. Romine, Jeff and Pat Shoemaker, Maude Snyder, and Martha Bussey.

Gigg wishes to thank all his friends for the wonderful gifts he received and the presence of all.

Grow Nut Trees

Lafayette, Ind.—Native fruit and nut trees offer Hoosier farmers and homeowners an excellent opportunity for additional income, according to W. B. Ward, Purdue University extension horticulturist.

In normal years, imports of tree nuts into the United States average between 75 and 80 percent of the total tree nut production throughout the nation. Therefore, Ward says a ready market exists for native pecans, hickies, walnuts, both English and black, hickory nuts, filberts, chestnuts, butternuts, and heartnuts. In addition, native fruits such as persimmons and pawpaws can also be marketed at a profit.

To assist interested homeowners, Ward has prepared extension mimeo HO-45, "Native Fruits and Nuts." In the publication, Ward says fruit and nut trees do best in fertile, well-drained soils. Areas that are exposed to extreme variations in temperature and moisture should be avoided.

Time to plant the nut and fruit trees will vary according to the location, but, for the most parts of the state, late March to mid-April is the best time. Ward indicates the same procedure can be used as in planting shade trees. This distance between the trees should range from six to eight feet for filberts, when used as a hedge, to 75 feet for permanent pecan and walnut trees. After the tree has been planted, the main stem should be cut back about half way to a good strong lateral bud.

There are many good varieties of fruits and nuts available from nurserymen. Each year new seedlings are discovered which are outstanding.

Complete information on native nut and fruit production can be found in the new mimeo, available from the office of agricultural publications at Purdue.

Hog Price Outlook Given

Hog prices are expected to strengthen during the next few months, reaching a peak between late May and early June, two Purdue University agricultural economists have reported.

Declining receipts will cause the prices to rise, according to J. Carroll Bottum and P. J. Luby. They predict the peak will be slightly above last summer's highest prices of about $18—the average paid for barrows and gilts at Indianapolis.

Increased late spring and summer farrowings are likely to cause prices to fluctuate mostly between $13 and $15 by next November and December. Probable increases in fall farrowings will result in increased marketings during the first three months of 1958 with prices fluctuating at the $13 to $17 level.

The economists point out that there is now little evidence of any significant change in consumer demand for farm products including pork and lard in the next 12 months. Most changes in hog prices during the next year, therefore, probably will be brought about by changes in the supply of hogs rather than by changes in the demand for pork.

Decline in hog farrowings—as compared with a year earlier—appears over. Marketings next fall, according to Bottum and Luby, will follow a more normal seasonal pattern than last year when receipts increased less than usual through the fall months. During summer and early fall, marketings probably will be about the same as last year. In November and December, marketings are expected to be five to ten percent above this past year.

If business conditions hold steady, an anticipated six to ten percent increase in farrowings probably will result in hog prices fluctuating between $13 and $17 for the January to March period next year. With corn prices around the dollar level or a little above, the corn-hog ratio will be near average.

Time To Plant Ornamentals

It's again time to plant trees, shrubs and evergreens.

Perhaps for you it's merely a problem of where to place that flowering dogwood, honeysuckle or hemlock. But if this is your first experience at planting, two publications of the Purdue University agricultural extension service will be helpful.

They are bulletin 324, "Ornamental Shrubs," and bulletin 340, "The Next Step with Your Trees and Shrubs."

The ornamental shrub bulletin lists shrubs available, details planting practices and takes up shrub maintenance. Homeowners will learn which shrubs are suitable for various sections of Indiana, those which are attractive to birds and types which are best adapted for screens or borders.

The other bulletin covers a wide variety of subjects, ranging from lawn care to planting of trees. Illustrations on each page show step-by-step procedures.

Both publications are available without charge at the county agricultural extension office. They also may be obtained by writing the agricultural extension office. They also may be obtained by writing the agricultural office, Purdue University, Lafayette, Indiana.

Rosalind Mentzer, instructor in the Michigan State University at East Lansing, Michigan, is spending a between-semester vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Mentzer.

Mr. and Mrs. George Tucker, and Mrs. Rosa Huffman of Ft. Wayne visited with Emma Underhill last Tuesday.

Charles Shoemaker says he is well pleased with Propane as a tractor fuel. He likes the savings, both in money paid out for the fuel and the saving in oil. He likes Propane so well he is getting another Propane tractor.

Mysterious Moon Better Mapped Than Parts Of Earth

Astronomers have been drawing maps of the moon ever since Galileo turned his crude telescope on it in 1609 and it now better mapped than some portions of the earth—interior Greenland, for instance. So reports Don Wharton in an article, "Earth's Fascinating Satellite—The Mysterious Moon," in the April Reader's Digest.

Poets have called the moon chaste, pale, silvery, ghostly, watery but the right adjective is "pocked." Every where the face of the moon is marred by craters.

"Some 30,000 have been spotted. 150 with diameters of 50 miles or more," writes Wharton. "The deepest crater yet discovered is 30,000 feet from floor to rim—five times as deep as our Grand Canyon."

What caused the craters—Some scientists think they were formed by volcanoes, others that they are the result of enormous gas-filled bubbles rising through a molten moon, then bursting. Another theory is that the craters were produced by a prolonged bombardment of meteorites.

If, once in a lifetime, you see a blue moon, don't think your eyes are playing tricks. It's caused by dust in our upper atmosphere. Ice crystals are what make you see rings around the moon.

Over the centuries magical powers have been attributed to the moon. It has been said to bring on lunacy, affect growth of plants, eyes of cats, sports of panthers, functions of women, activities on ghosts. The moon does cause the ocean tides because of its gravitational pull but a common mistake of primitive people is to think that everything timed in the same rhythm as the moon is caused by it.

Constructing Grass Waterways

Grass waterways, an important soil conservation measure, can be prepared and seeded from mid-March to mid-April, reports a Purdue University extension soil conservationist.

C. C. McKee says that grass waterways are needed on most farms to carry off surface water without erosion damage to fields.

The waterways can be prepared with equipment on the farm. They should be shaped by plowing in the gully, and the seedbed prepared with a disk.

According to the specialist, any grass with a fibrous root system is good for waterways with the meques, timothy and red top among the best. Rye grass or other small grain will provide a quick temporary cover.

A mixture of rye, such as 12-15 pounds of Kentucky or Alta fescue, two pounds of red top or timothy and five pounds of rye grass, can be used.

A rather new grass, Reed's canary, can be used on wet ground where other grasses may not grow.

Seed should be drilled in with commercial fertilizer. In the absence of a soil test, McKee suggests that one and 400 pounds of 10-10-10 fertilizer be applied. Straw mulch can be disked in.

A straw mulch should be applied after seeding and runoff diverted by plowing a furrow on the upper end and down both sides of the waterway. The furrows should be worked in after the waterway is well established.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bowser and sons, 1111 Mishawaka, and Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Sander and sons, 1111 S. Bond, spent Sunday with the family. Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Sander.

Those Farm Equipment Prices

Farm machinery prices have risen each year since 1940, except for 1943. That fact has caused much discussion—some of it highly acrimonious. So an explanation of what has happened and why it has happened should be of interest to farmers everywhere in this age of highly mechanized agriculture.

That explanation has been provided by two members of the Department of Agricultural Economics of Purdue University. The primary causes of the price rises are two: First, increases in the costs of labor and steel, the most expensive items used in making machinery and, second, costs of development and improvement in the quality of the machinery.

At the same time, the equipment producers have made notable strides in increasing the efficiency of production—and those strides have held the price increases to lower levels than would have been necessary otherwise. That story is told by the statistics. Hourly wages of workers in the farm machinery industry were 2.8 times as high in September, 1956 as in 1940, and iron and steel prices were about 2.5 times as high. However, wholesale prices of farm machinery were only 1.9 times as high.

As these Purdue authorities state, "When this or any other industry has to pay more for its major cost items, there is little it can do but raise the price of its products unless the rises can be offset by operating efficiencies." The equipment makers have adopted every operating efficiency possible, and so have kept price rises to a minimum figure.

The cardinal rule for children, "Play Away From Traffic," is exemplified in the April school poster, distributed to some 44,000 classrooms in the Chicago Motor Club's Illinois and Indiana territory. The Motor Club urges children to play in areas far removed from vehicular traffic. Impulsive acts by children, such as chasing a ball or darting from between parked cars into the path of moving traffic, are responsible for many accidents. Although children are subjected to traffic safety lessons in the classrooms, actually it begins in the home with parental counsel, the Motor Club says.

Hints On Dairy Calf Feeding

Raising healthy calves at a minimum cost is one of the problems of Indiana dairy farmers.

To study this problem the Purdue University dairy department has conducted experiments using various feeding systems and comparing the results.

C. H. Noller, Purdue dairy scientist, points out that the most expensive period in raising a young calf is the first 30 days. This is because the calf's rumen is not sufficiently developed to utilize fully grain and hay. Consequently, during this period of a calf's life it should be fed milk or milk products.

The experimental calves at Purdue were fed whole milk, limited milk and milk replacers. Beginning with the fifteenth day, they received all the good quality hay they would eat. Grain was fed after the first week.

Results showed that the average daily weight gains differed little between the three groups. Observations made during the experiment indicated no significant differences in general appearances, condition of hair coat and health of the calves.

Calves on the limited whole milk and milk replacer systems than calves raised on the whole consumed more hay and grains milk system, Noller says.

Feed costs of raising the calves to two months of age were $22.38 for the whole milk system, $14.03 for the limited whole milk system and $11.28 for the milk replacer system.

In both the limited whole milk and milk replacer systems, the lower feed costs resulted from the decreased use of high-priced milk and the increased use of grain and hay after the calves were a month old.

The faster a calf can be changed to hay and grain ration and still grow normally, the cheaper the cost of raising the animal, Noller observes.

Sawdust, corn cobs and other waste products can be used as a mulch around fruit trees, grape vines and bramble bushes, report horticulturists at Purdue University. The mulch should be from three to four inches deep and spread around the plant over the area between the rows of the small fruit planting.

breeding and equipment do not replace good management, according to animal husbandmen at Purdue University. "Watch for signs of sickness or unusual actions of the animal," they advise.

Purdue University dairymen say that good quality roughages can supply 65 to 80 percent of the nutrients required for milk production. As cows near the end of the lactation, the feeding of concentrates may be discontinued, or at least reduced.

Here's a tip from poultry specialists at Purdue University. "Coax your chicks to come out of the brooder house by placing feeders and waterers on the grass where they can easily be seen from the chick runway door. Don't drive the chicks outside. If they find their own way out of the house, they will probably find their own way back in again.

Baby pigs should be given access to clean sod or be allowed to run on ground to prevent anemia, report veterinarians at Purdue University. Early creep feeding of grains is also helpful.

Buying Irrigation Equipment

A Purdue University agricultural engineer, J. R. Davis, has advised farmers to use good judgment when buying irrigation equipment.

Irrigation equipment should be purchased with a great deal of thought and planning since the initial investment is high and, if used properly, irrigation means a rearrangement of the whole farming business.

Davis says each irrigation system requires good engineering design and selection of equipment if irrigation is to a success.

Farmers and farm managers who are considering irrigation have a right to expect the irrigation equipment dealer to furnish the following:

An inventory of available farm resources, including soils, water supply, power source and availability of labor.

A map of the fields to be irrigated with the layout of the equipment shown.

A guarantee that the irrigation system will perform properly and will conform to standards of performance by the Sprinkler Irrigation Association and American Society of Agricultural Engineers.

An economic analysis of irrigation, including the cost of the system, labor costs, depreciation costs, operating costs, and other expenditures.

Assistance in setting up and operating the equipment the first time. The dealer should also provide complete operating instructions and recommendations for improving crop practices under irrigation.

Complete service and replacement parts inventory. This involves the selection of a reputable dealer who will take a genuine interest in the system and service needed.

To promote better service for farmers, irrigation equipment distributors serving Indiana have organized the Indiana Irrigation Association and will convene for their second meeting at Purdue at 6:30 p. m. Thursday evening, March 28.

Good Corn Yields In Muck

Two Purdue University research scientists have found that high corn yields can be produced on muck soil having a high water table.

S. A. Barber, agronomist, and H. T. Erickson, horticulturist, were able to produce 126 bushels per acre with a 16-inch water table. An application of 120 lbs. per acre of actual nitrogen in fertilizer made this possible.

The experiment was conducted in 1956 on Purdue's Muck Experimental Farm located in northern Indiana near Walkerton.

Barber and Erickson used 16, 24, 32 and 40 inch water table levels in the experiment. The levels were maintained by the use of ditches containing water. The different water levels were maintained automatically by means of pumps.

In the experiment, four different rates of nitrogen fertilizer for corn were used. The rates were 0, 30, 60, and 120 lbs. per acre of actual nitrogen.

At the 16 inch water table level, yields were increased from 66 bushels per acre with no nitrogen to 126 bushels per acre with nitrogen. At the 24 inch level, yields were increased from 76 bushels with no nitrogen to 104 bushels per acre with nitrogen.

Average yields per acre were 106 bushels at the 32 inch table level and 100 bushels at the 40 inch level without added nitrogen. Yields at these two levels were not increased by applying nitrogen fertilizer.

From a conservation standpoint these results are important because they involve saving highly productive soils. The scientists explained that when organic soils such as muck are drained and cropped, they shrink rapidly at first and later up to one inch per year. A muck soil may shrink or settle as much as two or three feet in 20 years.

Conservation of muck will result if a relatively high water table is maintained. To get high yields of corn with a high water table, supplemental nitrogen fertilizer is needed.

Higher yields were obtained with the high water table and nitrogen than by any other combination of treatments.

During recent months a Brownie Scout Troop was formed for the younger girls of our community. There are many other girls in the Brownie age group who are interested and girls over 10 who want to become part of an Intermediate Troop.

Due to the absence of leaders these girls will not be able to take part in the very worthwhile activity of Girl Scouting. Let's help give these girls their chance. Be a Scout Leader. It takes only a few hours each month and is rewarding to both the girls and their leaders. Volunteer now and help these young girls become Girl Scouts. Please contact Mrs. Loren Tridle, phone 3-4225, or Mrs. Jock Pritchard, phone 3-3386. Do it now, please.

Egg Day At Purdue April 3

Area Men on Panel

Problems of Hoosier egg producers will be studied at the 5th annual Purdue Egg Day, April 3, in the Memorial Union Building.

The event, sponsored by the Purdue poultry department, the agricultural extension service and the Indiana State Poultry Association, is expected to attract more than 300 persons to the campus.

The program will open at 10 a. m., CST, with a discussion of diseases affecting egg production by Dr. Wilson Henderson, Purdue poultry pathologist. Raymond E. Cray, Ohio State University poultry scientist, will talk about the place of marketing associations in egg merchandising.

A panel discussion of the question, "What Can we Do to Stimulate Egg Consumption?" will follow. Panelists will be Dr. Gladys E. Vail of the Purdue home economics department, Dr. W. J. Stadelman of the Purdue poultry department and Henry D. Mangus, executive secretary-treasurer, Indiana State Poultry Association. M. L. Wilson, Purdue market news reporter, will tell of research on farm culling of eggs to wind up the morning session.

R. M. Hendrickson, product manager, poultry feed division of General Mills, Inc., will open the afternoon program with a talk on the "Egg Business in a Package." Five panelists will take up problems of buyers and producers of quality eggs. They are Varner Carpenter, Frostburg, Md.; Otto W. Pagel, Wabash; Robert Tucker, Argos; Everett Besson, Merton; and Eli Jackson, Muncie.

K. N. May, Louisiana State University poultryman on leave, will report on "Strain Variation in Respect to Quality Loss" and Dr. R. L. Kohls, Purdue agricultural economist, will discuss the outlook for the egg business to conclude the day-long program.

Birdfoot trefoil should be spring seeded, according to Purdue University agronomists who add that Empire does best in Indiana. The agronomists say to "be sure to inoculate the seed with the trefoil inoculum. When inoculating trefoil seed, moisten it with milk instead of water. As the milk dries it sticks the inoculum to the seed."

Keeping newborn pigs warm with heat lamps becomes especially necessary if the pigs are not getting sufficient milk from the sow, report veterinarians at Purdue University. Starvation causes a lack of blood sugar, a condition that develops faster and is more severe if the pigs are cold.

Agronomists at Purdue University report that properly fertilized and moderately grazed pasture land reduced erosion and increases pasture production. A mixture of legumes and grasses also prevents erosion because the thicker plant cover protects the soil against severe rains.

Purdue University dairymen report that good quality roughages can supply 65 to 80 percent of the nutrients required for milk production. As cows near the end of the lactation, the feeding of concentrates may be discontinued or at least reduced.

Special Guests At D. A. R. Meet

Anthony Nigo Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution held their March 26th meeting at Pete's Restaurant in Mentone, with Mrs. Omer Drudge and Mrs. Paul Shireman as hostesses. The Regent, Mrs. Everette Rathfon, gave the welcome to honored Good Citizens and their mothers. All joined in the ritualistic service and the pledge to the flag. The President General's message was read by Mrs. Frank D. Smith. Mrs. Eldred Paulus, Rochester, chairman of the Good Citizen's Committee, introduced the following Good Citizens and their mothers: Nancy Waite, of Silver Lake; Dorothy Christian of Mentone; Sandra Summe of Beaver Dam; Dorothy Miller of Atwood. Nancy Adams of Claypool was unable to attend. Mrs. Paulus elaborated on the four requirements of a Good Citizen which are service, dependability, leadership, and patriotism at school, for if these qualities are shown around school they are also shown at home, in church, and in various neighborhoods and towns. These four qualities are symbolized by the four books on the Good Citizens Pin and translated into daily living are just about everything, provided you add the prayerful thought "under God" that is now in our Salute to the Flag. Mrs. Paulus thought that we have a guarantee that the Good Citizens Girls are patriotic for patriotism is loyalty—loyalty to one's highest self which is respect and honor to the dignity and worth of any individual. We are a patriotic society and this quality of patriotism is cherished by every one of the Daughters of the American Revolution. A corsage, Good Citizens Pin, and a certificate of Award were presented to four girls present. Past Good Citizens were also honored as follows: Miss Marjorie Gonzales, New Mexico; Mrs. Glenn Clause, Bourbon; Mrs. Miles Manwaring and Mrs. Frank D. Smith, Mentone.

Mrs. Arthur Brown and Mrs. Ray Linn were in charge of the program for the evening. The following girls from Grace College, Winona Lake, were introduced: Shirley Smith, Michigan; Marjorie Gonzales, New Mexico; Marilyn Rathfon, Mentone; Sally Sadler, California; and Jeanette Turner, Kansas. The versatility of these girls was most ably shown during their program as follows:

"Listen to the Mocking Bird" by Sally, Jeanette, and Shirley.
"Bird Calls" by Sally, who is an accomplished whistler.
"Song of the Robin" by Jeanette and Sally.
"Little Brown Bird" by Jeanette.
"I Thought I Saw a Pussy-Cat" was very cleverly pantomimed by Sally and Marilyn.

"Fantasie Impromptu" by Chopin, a piano solo, by Marilyn.
"Pale Moon" by Jeanette and Sally.

"Indian Love Call" by Jeanette, Shirley and Sally.

Morjorie then gave a very comprehensive talk on the Pueblo Indians of New Mexico. The program was closed by two sacred numbers, the "Beautiful Garden of Prayer" and "In the Garden" by Jeanette, Shirley, and Sally.

All vocal numbers were accompanied at the piano by Marilyn. Guests present were: Mrs. Dale Wallace and Miss Yvonne Rathfon. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Farm Clean Up Time

Rural residents can make the farm a better place to live and at the same time help prevent accidents by a general clean up this spring.

That's the word from F. R. Willsey, farm safety specialist at Purdue University, who says a few hours spent in a spring clean up will give the farm a new look and make it a safer and easier place to live and work.

According to Willsey, disorder ranks high as the cause of accidents around the farm. A recent study of hospitalized home accident cases disclosed that one out of every five was put there by disorder. And, accidents happen most often in cluttered, untidy surroundings.

Here are some suggestions Willsey makes which can help eliminate those needless accidents:

Pick up broken glass, tin cans and loose boards with nails in them.

Get rid of the trash that's accumulated all year and clean up that old lumber piled back of the barn.

Give the farm shop a good cleaning. Make a place for each tool.

Inspect broken and worn steps and stairs and make needed repairs.

Willsey says "appearance goes with performance. A clean orderly farm produces more at lower cost."

people are confined until the train which has been accidentally derailed is repaired and ready to travel again. These people, an Italian woman with her baby and small daughter, a young engaged couple, a deaf old man, a nosey old maid, three college girls and a college boy, a wealthy superior banker's wife, make life interesting for the couple hours they are thrown together. From the bologna sandwiches shared by the Italian, to the disappearance of the $10,000 pearl necklace there is not a dull moment.

The characters are portrayed by the following juniors:

John Morgan, station agent—Melvin Keplinger; Silas Dobbins, handy man—Tim Utter; Flicie Nelson, college girl—Janet King; Betty Phillips, college girl—Linda Linn; Joan Parker, college girl—Linda Hart; Bill Lindsay, college boy—Jim Manwaring; Oscar Pozenby, deaf old man—Bill McGinnis; Willie Woodson and Evalinda Bumpass, engaged couple—Lee Markley and Sharlene Ware; Mrs. Reginald Vanderverter, a wealthy woman—Donna Eaton; Miss Pidgie McDougal, nosey old maid—Nalene Kittrell.

The master of ceremonies will be Ronald Severns. Music between acts will be furnished by Sue Shoemaker and Beverly Horn.

Everyone is invited to come and enjoy the evening with the juniors. There will be plenty of good seats, reserved and on the bleachers.

Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Johns, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lemler and Leah-Nell and Mr. and Mrs. Artley Cullum were supper guests of Miss Wreatha McFarren at Elkhart, Monday evening.

SPRING FEVER CAN BE FATAL

As seed catalogues hit the best seller list and garden tools come out of the cellar, Liberty Mutual Insurance Company issues the reminder that of the 35,000 fatal home accidents annually in the United States, one out of every five happens in the back yard and garden.

"The first warm days of spring lure millions of men and women into the yard and garden and unconsciously they walk right into a sun-drenched world of danger," the company says in listing these precautions:

Overwork is a common cause of garden accidents, bringing on thousands of heart attacks each year. Other results often are hernia, sprained back and heat stroke. Take it easy! Don't try to complete all winter-planned projects in the first weeks of spring.

Even in early spring the direct sun is hot and can burn as deeply as fire. Keep sensibly covered and avoid overexposure.

Keep insecticide containers tightly sealed between applications. Don't spray with children around. Wear gloves to keep insecticide out of cuts and scratches.

Rakes, pitchforks and other garden tools left where they can be stepped on can cause serious cuts, bruises, broken glasses and injured eyes. Hang 'em up out of the way when they're not in use.

Woodchucks, or ground hogs as most farmers call them, are simpler to control in the early spring months. That's the word from rodent control specialists at Purdue University who say that the ground hog burrows can be more easily located before heavy vegetation grows. Destroying the parent animals before the young are born saves poison material and prevents crop damage. Calcium cyanide is an effective control. Full information on treatments can be obtained at the county agricultural extension office.
