METHODIST CHURCH NEWS

The Conference Youth Commission met this past Monday at Marion to complete the plans for the summer Camps and Institutes which will be held at Epworth Forest on Lake Webster from July 1 through August 11.

The Warsaw District churches will have the following dates for their Camp and Institute: Camp Adventure will be from July 8 to July 14 with David Gosser of Mentone as Director; Institute or High School age Camp will be from July 29 to August 4 with Virgil Sexton, of Goshen as Dean.

Camp Adventure will this year be limited to only those boys and girls who will be in grades seven and eight next school term. Any youth and girls who will be fifteen years old or older in this camp must also attend Institute in preference to the Intermediate Camp.

Camp Adventure will be, by general acceptance of the Directors, a camping program which will endeavor to lead youth to a closer and more intimate knowledge of God through the processes of Nature and a study of methods of Conservation which is a part of the Stewardship program of the Church. The conservation of soils, wild life, plants and fish will be studied and observed. As far as the weather permits, classes will be out-of-doors, and each counselor will have not more than seven or eight youth to direct in the camping activities.

This promises to be real Adventure with hikes, visits to Conservation projects, a cook-out, Campfires, wild-life study, and crafts suited to this program. There will be the usual attractions: the Dixie, swimming, boating, and sports. The program will not be directed as a Bible school or "little" Institute, but will teach Christian living for today under and through the camping experiences. It will be character building, instructive, directed and Christ-centered.

A training conference and workshop for Directors and Counselors will be held at Epworth Forest on June 8 and 9. At that time the entire Camp program will be reviewed and camping activities experienced.

The Methodist Youth Fellowship of the Warsaw District will meet at Kendallville this Sunday afternoon for its Spring Conference. The local youth are planning to attend as a group. Mrs. Charles Manwaring, secretary of Youth Work in the W. S. C. S. and adult counselor, is arranging transportation. It will be necessary for the youth to leave the church by one o'clock for this meeting.

This Sunday begins National Family Week. The Worship Service will be directed to emphasize the family as the basic unit for Christian living and directed worship. It is suggested by the Pastor that as nearly as possible, all worshipers be seated in family groups. Recognition will be given to the best attending family of the year.

In observance of National Family Week a Pot-Luck Supper will be held on Thursday evening, May 10. A program will be presented and all church related families and attenders are invited and urged to come.

The E. E. Wagner children that were home over the week end were: Mrs. Charles Warren and daughter of Kalamazoo, Mich., Dorothy Schudorick and her daughter and husband and grandson of LaPorte, Annabelle Barnheart of New Haven, Myrl of Burket, Lura Vandermark of Mentone, and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wagner of Palestine.

Miss McFarren, the second grade teacher, and the room mothers have worked out the plan. The Pennsylvania agent was contacted in Warsaw, and, as the westbound morning train doesn't stop in Warsaw, he called Ft. Wayne. The Fort Wayne office promptly called Chicago and it was decided to add a special coach for the children, in addition to stopping the train in Warsaw (It's incidents like this, in a world like ours, which help keep our faith intact.)

A school bus will leave Mentone on (this) Thursday morning at 9:15. Mothers who will go with Miss McFarren and the children are Mrs. Donald Boggs and Mrs. Harry Sullivan. The train will leave Warsaw about 10:15 and the group will ride as far as Plymouth.

Each child is paying 35c toward his own train fare of 48c. The other 13c was earned on Wednesday when each student helped in selling popcorn to the school students. Miss McFarren popped the corn and the children, who had been organized into various committees, did the sacking and selling.

Each child had decorated a quart ice cream container which was taken home Wednesday evening where mother packed a surprise lunch in it to take along. The lunch is to be eaten in the park at Plymouth, where Pamela Hammer's grandmother will furnish cold drinks for the group.

While in Plymouth the children will be taken into the railroad signal tower.

Five mothers, with cars, will be in Plymouth to bring the excursion group home. They are: Mrs. Albert Tucker, Mrs. Zanna Hammer Mrs. Donald VanGilder, Mrs. Earl Anderson and Mrs. Gilbert Griffiths.

The trip was planned as an educational feature after the class had studied methods of transportation and stories about trains. Only five of the children have ridden on trains.

(Honestly, now, wouldn't you like to be going along?)

FARM MORTGAGE LOANS — Inasmuch as we confine our farm mortgage lending largely to our own community our customers are afforded the privilege and convenience of coming to the bank and making payments on their loans at any time they may receive income from their farm operations. Many of the borrowers are taking advantage of our prepayment privilege and paying principal payments in advance. These payments are credited to the next succeeding installment on the loan which gives the borrower the benefit of the privilege of skipping principal payments, if he so desires or if his plans do not materialize, to the extent that he has prepaid. Interest ceases on all principal payments on the date of payment. While our contract interest rate is 5%, the savings effected under our liberal repayment terms reduces the cost of our loans below that of many other agencies that have a lower contract rate. We charge no commissions or appraisal fees and are in a position to extend the maturity date of the principal and interest payments to accommodate the needs of our borrowers. Consult us about your long term financing needs. We believe you will agree with us that our mortgage lending program offers many advantages. FARMERS STATE BANK, Mentone, Member Federal Deposit Corporation. tf

NEW TREATMENT SAVES DOG CRIPPLED BY ARTHRITIS

Chicago, Ill., Special.—A 10-year-old dog, almost hopelessly crippled by rheumatoid arthritis, is walking and running again after being treated with cortisone.

Cortisone is a synthetic adrenal gland hormone that has been given spectacular, though usually temporary, relief from arthritis and several other conditions in human beings.

The owner was ready to have the dog humanely destroyed after futile efforts to treat the condition at an animal hospital in Chicago. Then the hospital succeeded in getting a small amount of scarce cortisone. Daily injections were given, and by the fourth day the dog was able to walk with a limp. Treatment was discontinued on the eighth day—when the dog was romping about as if he had never had a sick day in his life.

Reporting on the case, veterinary medical observers in Chicago said it is now three months since treatment was stopped and that there has been no sign of a relapse. In fact, the dog, a Wirehaired Fox Terrier, is more alert and in better health than for several years past.

This is but one of a number of recent animal cases that have responded impressively to cortisone treatment.

At present, cortisone is so scarce and in such wide demand for human cases that it is not being allocated for the everyday practice of veterinarians. For this reason, the American Veterinary Medical Association cautions animal owners not to expect veterinarians to have it available yet. However, production of the hormone is being expanded as rapidly as possible, and it is likely that limited supplies soon will be provided for animal use.

In the meantime, research veterinarians will put it to critical tests to learn more about what it will and won't do for ailing pets and livestock.

VITAMIN LOSS FROM POTATOES

While it's handy to have cooked potatoes on hand for creaming or scalloping, you sacrifice vitamin C in storage. Capper's Farmer points out that even though refrigerated, cooked potatoes lose from $\frac{1}{2}$ to $\frac{1}{2}$ of their vitamin C in 24 hours. Tests were conducted at the Minnesota Experiment station.

Five million baby ladybugs in an airliner seem as fantastic as verebrae in bananas, but no less than that number recently were flown by United Air Lines from Sacramento, California. The insects, in larvae stage, were packed in 66 gallon-cans and sent to Amarillo, Texas. Wheat farmers in that area rely on hungry little ladybugs to keep crops free from scale and aphids. The larvae are scooped up on mountain slopes near Somptonville, California, by L. E. Schnoor, who reports that the current market price is $3 a gallon.

Mrs. Estella Snyder has returned from a visit in Fort Wayne to the home of her sister, Mrs. Norris.

POISON IVY

"Leaflets three, let it be!" goes an old rhyme. If you'll remember it when you're out in the woods, it will help you to recognize poison ivy. The instant you see a vine or woody shrub with leaves growing in clusters of three you'll know to keep hands off.

It's too bad this plant is so troublesome, because it grows well in many parts of the United States, and it has a pleasing color. The oval leaves are dark, smooth green on top and a lighter fuzzy green underneath. They are slightly notched on the edges, and each leaf tapers off to a point.

©National Wildlife Federation
Poison Ivy

Sometimes there are little bunches of small, greenish flowers growing among the leaves. Later in the season these disappear, and their place is taken by clusters of yellowish white berries. With the coming of frost the leaves turn red and orange.

But don't be fooled by this attractive appearance, warns the National Wildlife Federation. The plant contains a poisonous oil which brushes off on anything touching the leaves, stems flowers and berries. The oil will cling to either clothing or skin, and that's when trouble begins.

In a short while, it causes itching, redness, and painful blisters. On some people the skin disturbances may be slight and not last long. But others suffer greatly and have a difficult time getting rid of the uncomfortable affects.

It is especially hard to avoid all this, because poison ivy flourishes in so many different spots. Most of it grows as a vine which climbs tree trunks, weaves around the branches of bushes, twines about posts, and clings to big stones. But when there is nothing for it to fasten itself on, it may form a low bush or simply crawl over the ground.

Poison ivy is a stubborn plant, too. Anyone who tries to remove it from a field or wooded lot will discover that it keeps coming back after the vines are torn out. It can be eliminated, though if a person is willing to keep at the job.

Only those who know from experience that poison ivy does them little harm should attempt to deal with it. Even they should take no chances, but should see that their skin is well covered and work with long-handled tools. When burning dried vines, they should also keep in mind that smoke from the fire may carry poison oil to bother persons with highly sensitive skins.

The best rule of all, though, is in that little verse. "Leaflets three, let it be!" Except where poison ivy simply must be stamped out, it is best to give it a wide berth and avoid all danger of coming up against its unwelcome touch.

Interesting information about other wildlife species can be obtained by writing to the National Wildlife Federation, Washington 10, D. C.

The blood-red flowers sprang up among the rows of white crosses creating a scene of breath-taking beauty, as if their seeds were guided by the mighty Hand. All who saw, were reverent, and knew that so long as the poppies bloomed in their memories those who fell could not be forgotten. Thus the poppy, growing in wild profusion, came into its own as the flower of remembrance.

The little scarlet poppy blooms this spring over the graves of those who fell in World War I. It now has new off-shoots on the graves of the recently fallen in World War II. The off-shoots grow, not only in France, but in Holland, Italy, Alaska and in almost every country in the world, because World War II was a global war. Poppies bloom in the universal field of remembrance. Can we afford to forget their significance?

The crepe-paper poppy you wear over your heart this May day of remembrance, may be ill-fashioned and unskillfully made. Treasure it the more, because it represents the first faltering steps on the road back for some man who risked his life, so that you and I could keep ours. In many cases he has a family, for which he was responsible, before he offered his greatest gift to his country. He worries about his family and is trying to rehabilitate himself so that he may leave the white cot in the white hospital and again take his place at the head of the table and say "Grace" with thanksgiving.

Once a year the American Legion Auxiliary organizes the sale of poppies made by our disabled veterans—now from two wars. These men spend their winters fashioning the little red flowers which give them a sense of creation and usefulness. Sometimes it takes a man a long time to realize that his fingers can do something besides clench into impotent fists, or lie hopelessly at his side.

This work of making the poppies, which are sold by Auxiliary members on every street in every town, city, or village in America, is one of the most interesting activities most of the veterans in governments hospitals have throughout the long, bleak year. Lying helpless in bed is a trying ordeal to a man, who, but for a bullet fired by a fiend, or a piece of shrapnel designed by a mad man would be leading a normal and healthy life. There is too much time in which to think and brood when a man is supine, day in and day out, month in and month out. The poppy industry helps the veterans to help themselves, and gives them hope and courage in the knowledge that they are helping others as well.

When the American Legion Auxiliary workers come into the hospitals each winter with the materials for the poppy-making, the eyes of the experienced craftsmen light with joy and the new ones wonder at their anticipation. If the new ones remain there through the next year, they too will feel the same happy thrill at the sight of the bright little crepe-paper petals, the incomplete stamens, and the green wire stems. Each finished poppy will carry its banner stating that its sale is under the auspices of the American Legion Auxiliary and that a wounded or disabled veteran of our wars made it.

Not only does the poppy making give the veterans something to do, but it pays them for their labor of love and hope as well. The Auxiliary furnishes the materials, at no cost to the veterans and the men receive remuneration for every single poppy made. There are those who will never leave their white cots, and for them the poppy manufacture is all they have to give them added comforts and outside interests. This work is their only solace and impetus to a healthy morale.

The money which the veterans earn from poppy making augments the stipend which their families receive from the government and it is not charity. Charity is an ugly word in connection with these staunch defenders, and they are a proud group. The disabled veteran likes to feel that he is helping to support his wife and children.

Are we so engrossed in the problem of today that we forget the past? Let the little red flowers of remembrance be our reminder!

HOW MUCH SALT CAN COWS STAND? —HERE'S ANSWER

Is it safe to let cattle have all the salt they can consume?

Yes, answer research workers at the University of Arizona, provided the animals also drink plenty of fresh water.

In a report to the American Veterinary Medical Association, Dr. W. J. Pistor and associates said that some cattlemen have questioned the advisability of feeding salt concentrates because of possible effects on pregnant animals.

The concentrates — containing about 70 percent cottonseed meal mixed with 30 per cent of salt—have been fed widely in some range areas during short grazing seasons, particularly to breeding animals.

Somebody started a rumor that such high salt intake could result in abortion and sterility—and that made lots of cattlemen worry. So the Arizona research men set out to get the facts.

Their experiments showed that reproductive ability of animals was not affected after a seven-month period on a high salt intake. Likewise, the amount of salt in their blood and milk was not increased.

In one case, they gave a cow 2 pounds of salt plus 12 gallons of water without effects. However, the same cow got sick after getting the same amount of salt with only 3 gallons of water.

Their conclusion was that ruminants can tolerate relatively large amounts of salt if they drink sufficiently large amounts of water, so that the kidneys can eliminate the excess salt.

They said that most cases of so-called salt poisoning appear to be due to lack of good water supply or having the water too far away from where the animals are feeding.

MENTONE MURMURS

by
DAVID and SALLY GOSSER

Last Friday evening Murmurs went to the County Band Concert. He was impressed with the finished quality which the band (combined bands) displayed throughout the program. With only one rehearsal under the baton of the guest director or conductor, Mr.

Hovey of the Jordan School of Music, there was unusual unison of response, and good balance.

Only those who were present at the afternoon's rehearsal could realize the difficult task of having fifteen different bands play as one. To have the response which is a rewarding factor to every director, the care and training of the individual bands was evidenced. Murmurs is particularly impressed, of course, with the Mentone Band, and when the individual bands and directors were recognized, there were audible comments of approval on the size and appearance of this band.

Those readers who heard the Spring Concert the other Sunday afternoon are aware of the ability of this individual band under the very capable leadership of Mr. Frederick. Murmurs might be prejudiced in favor of Mentone regardless of its ability, but there is something very essential in capable leadership (Murmurs found that out during an illness of the director). He may or may not accept the over-heard statement made at the Spring Concert, depending on the point of emphasis, by a visitor.

"If Mr. Frederick can do such a splendid piece of work with this band, just think what he could do with ours." This was by an unknown guest at that concert. We of Mentone believe that our youth have some ability, but we can not, and I hope, do not, underestimate the value of the fine quality leadership Mr. Frederick has been giving to us. Mentone may not yet have all the musical resources and equipment necessary for the best band in the State of Indiana, but it is approaching that goal. With greater interest on the part of patrons and parents and continued capable leadership, there is no reason why a small community school can not have a fine quality band.

Mr. Roy Rush and daughter Eleanor spent the week end at Detroit, Michigan. Mrs. Elva Rush, who had been spending some weeks there visiting her son Earl and family returned to her home in Mentone with Roy and Eleanor Sunday evening.

FEEDER'S DIGEST

Is Your Good Grass Good Enough?

Every animal and bird needs minerals—

Every animal and bird you own needs minerals—of certain kinds—in definite quantities. Some pastures provide these minerals. Much pasture does not. Now your grass may be green and thick. But it can still be mineral-deficient. And that can mean slower gains, feed waste and poorer health.

Why take these chances when it's so easy and economical to feed Swift's Mineral Supplement? This one low-cost mineral supplement provides ten mineral elements vital to all livestock. Start feeding Swift's Mineral Supplement free choice all year 'round. It now comes in block or pulverized form. Because it contains only minimum requirements of salt, we recommend free-choice salt feeding in addition.

WHAT IS A BOY?

Between the innocence of babyhood and the dignity of manhood we find a delightful creature called a boy. Boys come in assorted sizes, weights and colors, but all boys have the same creed: To enjoy every second of every minute of every hour of every day and to protest with noise (their only weapon) when their last minute is finished and the adult males pack them off to bed at night.

Boys are found everywhere—on top of, underneath, inside of, climbing on, swinging from, running around or jumping to. Mothers love them, little girls hate them, older sisters and brothers tolerate them, adults ignore them and Heaven protects them. A boy is Truth with dirt on its face, Beauty with a cut on its finger, Wisdom with bubble gum in its hair, and the Hope of the future with a frog in its pocket.

When you are busy, a boy is an inconsiderate, bothersome, intruding jangle of noise. When you want him to make a good impression, his brain turns to jelly or else he becomes a savage, sadistic, jungle creature bent on destroying the world and himself with it.

A boy is a composite—he has the appetite of a horse, the digestion of a sword swallower, the energy of a pocket-size atomic bomb, the curiosity of a cat, the lungs of a dictator, the imagination of a Paul Bunyan, the shyness of a violet, the audacity of a steel trap, the enthusiasm of a firecracker, and when he makes something he has five thumbs on each hand.

He likes ice cream, knives, saws, Christmas, comic books the boy across the street, woods, water (in its natural habitat), large animals, Dad, trains, Saturday mornings and fire engines. He is not much for Sunday School, company, schools, books without pictures, music lessons, neckties, barbers, girls, overcoats, adults, or bed time.

Nobody else is so early to rise, or so late to supper. Nobody else gets so much fun out of trees, dogs and breezes. Nobody else can cram into one pocket a rusty knife, a half-eaten apple, 3 feet of string, an empty Bull Durham sack, two gum drops, six cents, a sling shot, a chunk of unknown substance, and a genuine super-sonic code ring with a secret compartment.

A boy is a magical creature—you can lock him out of your workshop but you can't lock him out of your heart. You can get him out of your study but you can't get him out of your mind. Might as well give up—he is your captor, your jailor, your jailor, your boss, and your master—a freckle-face pint-sized, cat-chasing, bundle of noise. But when you come home at night with only the shattered pieces of your hopes and dreams, he can mend them like new with the two magic words—"Hi Dad!"

When he says goodbye to boyhood, he will leave many good things behind him.

HEALTH FACTS FROM YOUR STATE BOARD OF HEALTH

Histoplasmosis which until recently has been regarded as a rare and usually fatal disease has been diagnosed in Hamilton county.

"The disease so resembles tuberculosis that the two diseases are frequently confused," according to Dr. Merle Bundy, director, Division of Tuberculosis Control, Indiana State Board of Health.

The disease is not reportable in Indiana but during the past four years fifteen deaths have been attributed to histoplasmosis with five of the deaths occurring in 1950. Deaths have occurred in the following counties: Marion (4), Vigo (3), Clark (2), Elkhart, Randolph, Bartholomew, Grant, Howard and Monroe. Seven of the deaths were in children from four months to over a year old; two were in the 3-4 age group and one death occurred in each of the following ages, 14, 21, 39, 64 and 74 years.

The most striking similarity between tuberculosis and histoplasmosis lies in the fact that both have pulmonary calcifications which when revealed by x-ray are so alike in appearance as to be indistinguishable except that some occur in people who are hypersensitive to the tuberculin and others in persons hypersensitive to the histoplasmin skin test.

A definite diagnosis can be established by the recovery of the fungus causing the disease by culture or animal inoculation of material from skin lesions, blood or sputum or biopsy specimens. The State Board of Health laboratory was able to recover the fungus from the sputum in the Hamilton county case.

The source of infection and mode of transmission are unknown. The fungus causing the disease has been recovered from human, from dogs, cats, rodents, skunks and opossum and from the soil.

PLAY AWAY FROM TRAFFIC!

WINNERS SERIES, SIXTH NATIONAL POSTER CONTEST
Issued by CHICAGO MOTOR CLUB

When a ball bounds into the path of a car, it is frequently followed closely by an excited, unthinking child. Thus, playtime often ends in tragedy. This poster, "Play Away From Traffic" reminds pupils in 44,000 elementary school classrooms throughout Illinois and Indiana to hold their games a safe distance from traffic. It is one of the prize winners in the Sixth Annual National Poster Contest conducted among the nation's high school students by the Chicago Motor Club and affiliated organizations of the American Automobile Association,

BANDED HERRING GULL FOUND AT BRYAN FARM

February 14th M. O. Bryan found a strange bird on his farm. It was crippled and died soon after being found. A band on its leg was removed and C. O. Mollenhour sent it to the U. S. Department of the Interior. Under date of April 20, 1951, the following report was received by Mr. Mollenhour regarding the bird:

It was a Herring Gull, banded at Black River Island, Lake Huron, Mich., on June 16, 1949, by Mr. C. C. Ludwig.

Seth H. Low, biologist with the department, stated: "On behalf of this service and the bander may we thank you for your cooperation in contributing this information to our studies and investigations of the migrations and life histories of the birds of North America."

The back of the report carries the following information and interesting facts:

By means of these numbered bands important investigations relative to the migrations and life histories of North American birds are being carried on. The bands are attached to the birds by volunteer cooperators who serve without pay. These cooperators are scattered over the continent in Alaska, Canada, Mexico and the United States, and in South America and the Hawaiian Islands.

Wild birds banded and released in North America have been recovered as far away as Argentina, Siberia, Greenland, France, and the North Cook Islands of New Zealand in the Southwest Pacific.

From these recovery reports the ages which birds attain in the wild are being ascertained. A few examples are: Black Duck, 17 years; Caspian Tern, 22 years; Purple Martin, 14 years; Chimney Swift, 12 years and Chickadee, 9 years.

Scientific banding or "ringing" dates back to 1899 in the Old World and was first organized in this country by the American Bird Banding Association in 1909. In 1920 the program was taken over by the U. S. Biological Survey (now the Fish and Wildlife Service). By authority of the Migratory Bird Treaty Act bird-banding in North America is under the general direction of the Fish and Wildlife Service of the U. S. Department of the Interior in cooperation with the Canadian Wildlife Service of the Department of Resources and Development. Special permits have been issued to some two thousand volunteer cooperators who do most of the actual banding.

Nearly six million birds have now been banded and some four to five hundred thousand more are being banded each year. From these birds some five hundred thousand recovery and return records have already been obtained. The success of the bird-banding work is dependent on the voluntary cooperation of the general public in reporting all the banded birds which are found.

If the bird is alive, write down all numbers and letters and release the bird with the band still attached. If the bird is dead, remove band, flatten it out and tape to your letter, and send it in for our examination. If desired as a souvenir, so state and band will be returned. Record numbers in case band should be lost.

Give concise statement as to date found, where, and how obtained. Print your name and permanent address plainly on letter. All letters will be acknowledged. Please be patient; so many letters are received at some seasons that it takes two or three months to answer all of them.

The Service offers the following suggestions for the reporting of bands which are found in the future.

GARGAGE COLLECTION

FARM MORTGAGE LOANS — Inasmuch as we confine our farm mortgage lending largely to our own community our customers are afforded the privilege and convenience of coming to the bank and making payments on their loans at any time they may receive income from their farm operations. Many of the borrowers are taking advantage of our prepayment privilege and paying principal payments in advance. These payments are credited to the next succeeding installment on the loan which gives the borrower the benefit of the privilege of skipping principal payments, if he so desires or if his plans do not materialize, to the extent that he has prepaid. Interest ceases on all principal payments on the date of payment. While our contract interest rate is 5%, the savings effected under our liberal repayment terms reduces the cost of our loans below that of many other agencies that have a lower contract rate. We charge no commissions or appraisal fees and are in a position to extend the maturity date of the principal and interest payments to accommodate the needs of our borrowers. Consult us about your long term financing needs. We believe you will agree with us that our mortgage lending program offers many advantages. FARMERS STATE BANK, Mentone, Member Federal Deposit Corporation. tf

FAREWELL PARTY FOR TALMA PASTOR

A farewell party was held for Rev. William E. Howard and family of the Talma Christian Church on Thursday, May 3. Sixty-three members of the church attended the gathering.

Mr. Francis Rogers was the Master of Ceremonies and proved himself very adept in adlibbing at the opportune time. Mr. Charles Stavedahl led the singing with Mrs. Everett Busenburg assisting at the piano.

Testimonies were given by members of the church in regards to God's gracious blessings on the preaching of the Bible during Rev. Howard's ministry at the Talma Christian Church.

Miss Lois Busenburg and Mrs. Ralph Baker sang two very beautiful solos.

Mrs. Herbert Kubley, president of the ladies fellowship class, presented Mrs. Howard with a most useful gift from the class.

Mr. Charles Stavedahl made the presentation of a real generous cash gift, from the Talma Christian Church, which was cleverly concealed in a treasure chest and hid in a box of gravel; the people had a good time watching the preacher dig down through the rocks for gold—P. S.—He found it, too.

This most enjoyable gathering was opened with prayer by Mr. LaVerne Ladson and closed by Mr. Sam Holloway in a like manner.

Rev. Howard will preach his closing sermon on May 13. He will then go to Roanoke, Virginia to pastor the Clearbrook Brethren Church. In the meanwhile various preachers will candidate at the Talma church.

Until a new pastor comes in to take over the work at Talma, any church business regarding the Talma Christian Church, such as use of the church property, church building, funerals, weddings or any other church functions, please contact Mrs. Charles Stavedahl the church clerk.

4-H NEWS

Plans for this year's meetings, recreation and demonstration were discussed by the Beaver Dam Agriculture Club at the Beaver Dam gym, May 4, 1951.

Roll call was responded to by 28 members and one adult leader was present.

A health and safety report was given by Wilburta Latimer. Her topic was about safety precautions about the farm in the summer time. Hazard tags were then passed out to everyone present. The adult leader, Ronnie Malott, told the garden members how to win a trip or scholarship from the gardening project.

Song books were discussed by the group and voted upon. The motion was carried and it was decided to buy 25 books. The song leader, Ernie Heighway, then led us in some songs. Extra 4-H record books were ordered. Refreshments and games were enjoyed by all.

The next meeting will be June 4, at the home of Larry Creakbaum at 7:30 p. m.

NORTH WEBSTER PLANS 7TH ANNUAL MERMAID FESTIVAL

With "Vacation this summer in northern Indiana" as their slogan, Mermaid Festival directors announce from North Webster that initial plans are now underway for holding the Indiana Lake region's 7th annual Mermaid Festival the last week in June.

Perennially sponsored by the North Webster Lions Club and held each year to herald the summer resort and vacation season, the Mermaid Festival has become a focal point for dramatizing the sport, resort and vacation facilities of the famous Indiana lake region.

Although North Webster is but a small resort town of about 400 permanent residents, due to its central location to the lake region, the Mermaid

Festival has met with increasing success and popularity each year since its beginning in 1945. In fact, it has grown in scope to rival that of any small town festival in America. Many thousands of persons attended last year's varied events and additional thousands more are expected to attend a similar program this year.

Most of Indiana's lakes are crowded into several counties in the northeast corner of the state, their being no body of water of any size south of Kosciusko county for 200 miles to the Ohio river.

North Webster is surrounded by such popular Indiana lakes as Wawasee, Papakeeche, Webster, Tippecanoe, Barbee, Winona and others; and midway between such other popular lakes as Maxinkuckee, and James; and midway between the cities of Fort Wayne and South Bend. Surrounded by a resort area of boat companies, golf courses, pavillions, youth and church camps, outdoor playgrounds, and hundreds of cabins and cottages and resort hotels, the North Webster community is most strategically located to play host to this Indiana summer resort and Festival.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Jones have returned to Mentone after an absence of eight weeks. E. E. visited at the home of his son, Esco of Saint Johns, Ohio, while Mrs. Jones was at the home of her daughter, Mrs. U. R. Oldfather in Elkhart convalescing from a long illness.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish in this way to thank the neighbors and friends for the beautiful flowers, also Rev. Johns and the pallbearers and the Johns funeral home for their kindness.

MENTONE MURMURS

DAVID and SALLY GOSSEF

Murmurs has long been interested in Rural Sociology, in fact, he took a few courses in the subject when he was in school. The school work, however, was only a whetstone to his mind, and he found it more interesting to observe from real life the similarities and differences of people according to their place of residence.

Basically there is a greater similarity than difference, and many of the causes of differences have been eliminated with improved methods of transportation and communications in the past fifty years. These improvements have meant changes in ways of living, in styles, in moral codes of ethics, in religious expression and in the attitudes of the people, both rural and urban.

In most situations the attitudes were a natural part of the environment, acquired through the years by accepted standards which became set through geographical isolation and lack of new ideas. As improvements were made, new ideas moved into established communities, caused unrest, discord and cultural revolutions.

The desire of many youth and adults to see the world led a caravan of workers city-ward. These in turn either visited home or were in time visited by home folks who saw an easier way of life with greater comfort and sense of pleasure. Modifying what they could not completely change, they began a rural life program which corresponded with city life and culture, all made possible through increased educational advantages, better roads, county agricultural programs, extension courses in home economics, better prices for farm products, the state wide club programs and circulated catalogues of fashion through magazines and papers, radio and television.

At one time it was possible to spot a country lady in any large assemblage of people by her dress, but today, in spite of all women resenting likeness of dress, they are more alike than a whole pod of peas. Their hats have the same tailored look, their dresses the same length, their complexions of almost the same hue, either sun tanned or cream tanned, and their conversation on the same topics with a college finish to each word.

Because one of the major drives or impulses in human nature is social approval, there is almost a general acceptance of virtues and vices. The latter were usually reserved for city sons and prodigal children of country homes. The moral life of the rural people was thought of as better than that of the city, but with a greater mingling of the urban and rural population, the same ethics will describe both equally well. The improvements that brought the advantages to the country brought also the vices, and when rural communities refused to accept them, the people who first found them desirable were equally able to go to the urban centers.

There is no offense in mentioning these facts, and whatever may be said, Murmurs, himself, fits into the picture along with all our Mentonites, because he has always lived in rural communities, except when attending college and seminary. To the New Yorkers we of the Mid-west have always been provincial. They find it difficult even yet to think of Chicago as being more than a cross-roads town, and, as for cities, we have few of them in Indiana, for according to statistics, anything under 25,000 people is a town. But they may be wonderful towns and communities, like Mentone.

CANDIDATE SELECTED FOR BOYS STATE

The Boys State committee of the Mentone Post 425, the American Legion has selected Eddie Army of the Burket school as the candidate for Boys State this year. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Army, Sr., of Winona Lake, former residents of Burket.

The Hoosier Boys State is held at the Indiana School for the Deaf from June 9 to 16 inclusive.

The Boys State Activities are an essential part of the National Americanism program of the American Legion, it is an objective citizenship school, the best yet devised by man, in which the nation's boy leaders gain a true conception of the ideals and objectives, the functions and operation of the American form of government.

Boys State developed from the idea that youth should be offered a better perspective of the practical operation of government; that the individual is an integral part and commensurately responsible for the character and success of government.

The Boys State program is characterized by self-imposed duties and responsibilities, rules and regulations, practices and abilities, which are essential to the maintenance of an orderly society and government in which the individual participates as an act of worthy citizenship.

The objectives of Boys State are: To avail young Americans a better chance to learn and understand the basic principles underlying representative government; to provide a laboratory for a functional study of citizenship; to arouse in young citizens a desire to maintain our form of government; to teach boy leaders to make decisions in line with reason; to instill in youth the knowledge that American citizenship is the priceless possession of every American; to develop civic leadership and an interest in the study of government.

Upon arrival at Boys State the boys are assigned to counties and cities and equally distributed to two political parties, the Nationalist and Federalist for election purposes.

State, County, city and precinct officials are elected and the boys perform the duties of their positions during their stay there.

Boys in bands or bugle corps take their instruments to Boys State and form their own organization. Ball playing boys form their own teams, etc.

There will be a complete athletic program, band, vocal music, speech, journalism, law, police school and talent show by and for the boys.

The committee making the local selection was Bob Whetstone, Fred Beeson and Jack Schafer.

LADIES ENTERTAINED BY MENTONE LIONS CLUB

Foster Jones, of Warsaw, was the main speaker at the Lions club meeting held Wednesday evening of last week at the Mentone school, when the ladies of club members were entertained. Special favors and decorations greeted the ladies as they entered the hall for the banquet dinner.

Philip Lash and Dale Kelley, two of the Lions members who are still seeking the favor of the fairer sex, appropriately served on the program committee, with Lion Lash extending the address of welcome. Lioness Roland Ferverda capably responded. Richard Manwaring, president of the club, was at the officers' table.

Sunbeam mixers, toasters, irons and coffee makers—also other well known brands of small appliances at Brown's Jewelry and Appliance Store.

THE RIGHT WAY TO Greater Profits

A.—RIGHT SELECTION OF BIRDS

1. "Bred-in" high egg production is controlled by your breeder or hatcheryman. Buy only good chicks from a reliable source.
2. Keep only healthy, well developed pullets or hens.
3. If culls develop, take them out. Don't waste feed on poor layers. A cull is a menace to the whole flock.

B.—RIGHT MANAGEMENT

1. Insulate house. Keep it clean, dry and properly ventilated.
2. Give birds plenty of fresh air. Regulate air flow according to temperature in winter.
3. Do not crowd. Allow 3 to 3½ sq. feet of floor space per bird. (120 in a 20x20 space).

4. Provide at least 40 ft. of mash hopper space for each 100 birds. (4 inches per bird).
5. Be sure your hens get the water they want. One hundred birds will drink 5 to 7 gallons per day.
6. Allow 6 to 8 inches of roost per bird, and set roost poles 14 inches apart. (65 running feet of roost per 100 hens).
7. Provide one nest for every 5 birds. (At least 20 nests for each 100 hens).
8. Ground corn cobs, shavings, straw, etc., are satisfactory as litter. The "deep litter system" is very good in winter. Keep stirring and adding new litter.
9. Keep oyster shell and grit before the hens at all times.
10. Use artificial lights cautiously. When necessary, use morning and evening lights to provide a 13 to 14 hour day. One 40w light for each 200 sq. feet floor space is adequate. Do not use all night lights for pullets.

METHODIST CHURCH NEWS

The Rev. David Gosser and Mrs. Gosser attended the District Conference at the recently completed Mishawaka Methodist Church on Tuesday, May 8. The report given at the business session indicated that all appointments for the Conference year have been met. All the Methodist Churches of the District have had accessions during the year, and all but two of the churches have reported baptisms.

The local church has met all appointments for the year and reports nineteen baptisms and twenty-six accessions. A more complete and detailed report will be made next week when the pastor makes out the Annual Conference report. This year the Annual Conference will be held at the First Methodist Church in Anderson, Indiana on May 23-27.

Mr. Raymond Lash is the Lay-Member of the Conference for this local church, and Mr. Robert Firkins is the alternate Lay-Member. Either of the men have equal voting power with the pastor in the business sessions and the churches of our rural communities and small towns have equal representation with the city churches, in fact, better, because there are more small town and rural churches in Indiana than there are urban churches.

Conference entertainment is provided the Lay delegates as well as the pastors. If, in the past, there has been the feeling that the small churches have been imposed upon by the urban-minded delegates, it could have arisen only through the negligence on the part of smaller communities to see that their delegates represented them at the Conference sessions.

This Thursday evening a Pot-luck Fellowship Supper will be held in the church dining room. All members and friends are invited to attend. Bring the family, food and table service. A program and film will be presented. A short choir rehearsal will follow the program.

This supper and program are part of the emphasis on National Family Week which concludes with Mother's Day on Sunday, May 13. Special services will be held in honor of our mothers at that time.

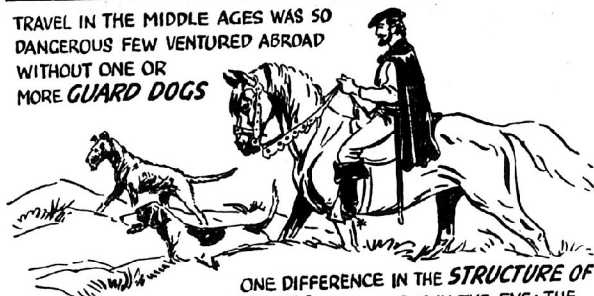

The annual Mothers 'and Daughters' Banquet will be held on Thursday evening, May 17, at six-thirty. All girls and women of the church are invited to attend whether you are "Mystery" mothers or daughters or not.

HOW TO GET BIG MILEAGE

Here's a tip for motorists who want to stretch gas mileage on that long-awaited vacation trip. And who doesn't!

The Chicago Motor Club says the methods used by the expert drivers in the 1951 Grand Canyon Economy Run point the way to better mileage for all motorists. In this contest, strictly supervised by the American Automobile Association, ordinary stock cars are driven over rugged 840-mile course from downtown Los Angeles to Grand Canyon.

This year the cars averaged 24 miles to the gallon. The sweepstakes winner got 25.5, while some of the lighter cars did 30 or better.

How did they do it? Well, here's what Les Villand, pilot of the sweepstakes-winning car has to say.

"In modern cars, drivers often go up to 70 or 80 miles an hour without realizing it—and there goes your gas mileage!"

Besides maintaining an average speed of 40 miles an hour or so, the economy drivers are careful to get off to a smooth, gentle start that uses a minimum of gas; and when they have to stop, they let up on the accelerator well ahead of time.

Summing up the methods developed in this contest, the Motor Club advises four major ways you can get better fuel efficiency from your own car:

- 1.—Have timing and carburetor adjusted for better performance; even new cars often are not properly set.
- 2.—Don't punch down on the accelerator; a light, steady touch is the way to save gas.
- 3.—Anticipate stops. Let up on your gas pedal early; time your speed to avoid stopping at lights whenever possible.

4.—On a steep upgrade, shift promptly to second when the engine starts to labor.

HOLSTEIN CLUB WILL MEET

He has served as Secretary of the Michigan Holstein Association and is now vice president. As Manager of Hy-Up Farms he has developed one of the higher producing herds in Michigan and showed Champions at leading shows.

Your Home

By Frances Ainsworth

Increased living costs have changed our mode of entertaining considerably, and we're discovering that it's much more enjoyable to have friends visit our home than to take them out for dinner. Our guests actually seem to have a better time and we do too!

Because of extra entertaining, I've been especially eager to get extra serving pieces in my International Sterling and also in my 1847 Rogers Bros. silverplate. So you can imagine how thrilled I was when my husband presented me with a wonderful eight-piece steak set for my birthday and my two sons gave me a two-piece roast set to match. They're really beautiful sterling pieces and so convenient for entertaining that I'm already hinting for additional serving pieces for Mothers Day!

A friend of mine, Jane, has just completed a sterling tea service—something else I've always dreamed of owning. Jane bought one piece at a time and completed the set in just a few months. I'm planning to do the same thing—and also to complete my silverplate serving pieces the same way. I've just bought a two-piece salad serving set that's simply wonderful for informal company suppers. And there are dozens more that I want. These extra pieces make wonderful gifts for just every occasion—I know that every woman loves to receive silver. And . . . with more and more of us entertaining at home, it's almost a necessity to have the right serving pieces. Beautiful silver adds so much to any table setting, doesn't it? And what delightful Mother's Day gifts, too!

WEAR A POPPY

On Saturday, May 26, all of us will be asked to wear a little red poppy on our coats or dresses. The day will be Poppy Day, when, once each year, we of America pay tribute, by wearing their memorial flower, the poppy, to those who gave their lives in America's service during the World Wars. And as we receive our poppy from the women of the American Legion Auxiliary, who will distribute the flowers on the streets that day, we will be aiding the wars' living victims by the contributions we make for the flower.

The poppy comes to us from the fields of France and Belgium where the churning tide of war obliterated all touches of beauty except its brave red blooms. It comes to us from the shell-pitted battle areas and from among the wooden crosses of the war cemeteries. There it was nature's tribute to the heroic dead and here in America it is the tribute of patriots to those who made patriotism's highest sacrifice.

The poppies which we will wear on Poppy Day are not, of course, natural flowers from the battlefields. They are flowers which have even greater significance than any nature could produce. They have been made in hospitals and workrooms where war's suffering is still going on. They have bloomed under the hands of men disabled in war—the comrades of those in whose honor they will be worn. Their petals are only paper and their stems wire, yet into them has been breathed the spirit of patriotic sacrifice, the spirit of those days when life itself was not too much to give for America.

The disabled veterans who make the poppies derive double benefit from the work. First, it gives them employment—their only chance to help support themselves and families. With strength and health gone they cannot do regular work, but they can make poppies. Even in their hospital beds they can do this work, earning money for each flower they make. Second, the work is of real value in aiding their recovery, occupying hands and minds, breaking the tedium of long idleness and restoring spirits crushed by hopelessness.

The women who distribute the poppies, unlike the disabled veterans who make them, receive nothing for their efforts—nothing tangible, that is, only the satisfaction of having helped brighten the memory of the dead and of having contributed to the welfare of the living. It is hard, unaccustomed work for them, but they do it gladly, happy to be able to serve in such a cause.

The money which is dropped into the coin boxes in exchange for the poppies goes entirely to the welfare activities of the American Legion and the American Legion Auxiliary, supporting the work which these two great service organizations do for the disabled veterans, the families of the disabled and the families left in need by the death of veterans. Every penny is made to serve and because of the close understanding and sympathy existing between the Legion and Auxiliary men and women and those whom they are aiding, every penny is made to serve double in a cause of highest worth.

Understanding the meaning of the poppy and the uses to which the poppy funds are put, can any of us be deaf to the appeal of Poppy Day? Can any of us fail to greet the Auxiliary poppy workers with a welcome smile, fail to put on the poppy of remembrance for the dead and show that we remember the living by contributing as liberally as our means will permit? I am sure that the poppy will be on all our coats on Poppy Day.

MANY NURSES ON DEMAND

The demand for nurses will far exceed the supply for years to come according to the Indiana State Nurses' Association in the latest issue of its publication, The Lamp, which is devoted to careers in nursing.

Cost of education in a nursing school is low, it points out. Complete maintenance, experience on hospital units and academic instruction in the class room for three years can be obtained for between $200 and $500.

For high school girls interested in entering schools of nursing, the routine steps are outlined, such as consulting with high school counselors about the different schools, selecting the school and attending the orientation period most nursing schools have.

The best educational background for success in nursing consists of a high school program rich in sciences, because an understanding of many of the underlying principles of nursing are based on a working knowledge of chemistry, biology, and physics. To make themselves more interesting to themselves and their patients, they should have courses in civics, economics, history, English, social studies, music and arts.

After the completion of a course nurses have a wide choice of work, in hospitals, classrooms, in public health work, industry, government service nursing, or work in doctors' offices, steamship or airlines, or in foreign lands.

Muddy corrals containing cinders and sharp rocks are the starting place for many cases of foot rot in cattle and sheep.

FINE COUNTY 4-H PROGRAM

Kosciusko County is one of 62 Indiana counties that have won special merit awards for having an outstanding 4-H club program in 1950. Paul Jackson and Ruth Snellenberger, county extension agents, have received word from the 4-H club office at Purdue University that the award will be made at the annual 4-H Round-Up in June.

Kosciusko County will receive a bronze award which will carry the number of members enrolled and the number of standard club members for the year. 4-H membership in the county in 1950 totalled 975 and of these 804 completed requirements for "standard club" members. Last year the county received a bronze award, the agents said. This is the second year that the county has received this 4-H merit award.

Counties are given recognition for improvement in local programs and increased membership. Records of Kosciusko County show that more than twenty-three per cent of the potential number of 10 to 20 year old young folks were enrolled last year.

Awards have been made annually for seven years by Prairie-Farmer and WLS in cooperation with the Purdue University agricultural extension Service. Last year 56 counties were honored. This year 12 counties as compared to eight counties the year before, will receive gold awards. The counties are Benton, Boone, Blackford, Cass, Fayette, Huntington, Montgomery, Tippecanoe, Union, Wells, Whitley, and Warren.

A lot of strange cargo has been flown to Chicago but it remained for United Air Lines to land there recently with a baby elephant. The 1,000-pound tusker had been captured in India and brought to San Francisco by boat. Coming inland, he traveled in high style on a Cargoliner, accompanied by shy Himalayan bear cub. Both animals now are frisking at a private zoo in Libertyville, Illinois.

SUGARY CORN IS COMING

Plant breeders at Connecticut Experiment Station are developing sugar corn which they hope will make a super delux feed for dairy cows. Capper's Farmer reports they have found 6 inbreds with sucrose content in stalks almost as great as that in sugar cane. Now they are in the process of transferring this sweetness into ensilage hybrids.

Two thousand hatching eggs valued at $1.75 each recently went winging on United Airlines from Modesto, California, bound for far off Japan. The precious eggs, shipped by Dryden's Poultry Breeding Farm of Modesto to Nosawa & Company in Tokyo, will be used in the Japanese rehabilitation program.

FEEDER'S DIGEST

Is Your Good Grass Good Enough?

Every animal and bird needs minerals—

Every animal and bird you own needs minerals—of certain kinds—in definite quantities. Some pastures provide these minerals. Much pasture does not. Now your grass may be green and thick. But it can still be mineral-deficient. And that can mean slower gains, feed waste and poorer health.

Why take these chances when it's so easy and economical to feed Swift's Mineral Supplement? This one low-cost mineral supplement provides ten mineral elements vital to all livestock. Start feeding Swift's Mineral Supplement free choice all year 'round. It now comes in block or pulverized form. Because it contains only minimum requirements of salt, we recommend free-choice salt feeding in addition.

SCHOOL NEWS

The faculty and students are watching the progress of the seniors on their trip. The seniors spent Monday night at Jackson, Tennessee, Tuesday and Wednesday nights at the Lafayette Hotel in New Orleans. They left by chartered bus (Kinsey Lines) at 4:00 a. m. Monday morning. They expect to arrive home some time Sunday, traveling about 2000 miles in all.

The Home Economics department presented a style show last Friday in the school cafeteria. The girls invited their mothers and a few friends. They displayed many of the garments they have made in sewing classes this semester. There were three solos: Spring Song by Marilyn Rathfon, Alice Blue Gown by Marita Tucker and May the Good Lord Bless and Keep You by Margaret Hodges. Fruit juice and home-made cookies were served. The girls have found this semester that it takes less time to put in a zipper than a placket and snaps.

Merlyn Holt, a member of the vocational agriculture classes and 4-H directed by Philip Lash has recently been awarded a free trip to the Junior leader training conference to be held at the Indianapolis Fair Grounds on June 4-7. Merlyn was selected because of his capabilities as a leader and the initiative he has shown in 4-H work. Others selected from Kosciusko County are Arthur Mable and Doyle Thompson.

Teachers are completing the grading of the Metropolitan Achievement tests which were given to all pupils in grades 1-8 last Thursday and Friday. Parents may learn the results of the tests by contacting the teacher in charge.

Based upon the marks of the first three and one-half years of school, Madeline Holt will be valedictorian of the class of 1951. She has an average of A-. The salutatorian will be Jennie Hall with an average of B+. Other high ranking students in the order of rank were Bonnie Emmons, Karen Clark and Jo Cullum.

Dorothy Bush withdrew from the sixth grade on Tuesday to return to Laurel, Mississippi.

WILLIAM COOK AUTO BURNS UP TUESDAY

The Wm. Cook '39 DeSoto was almost totally destroyed Tuesday afternoon when fire broke out in it while he was fishing in the Tippecanoe river west of town. Someone noticed smoke coming from the car and the horn started to blow, but the fire had gained such headway that it couldn't be extinguished. The Mentone fire department arrived in time to save the front part of the car, including the motor and two front tires.

Billy's bad luck seems to be coming in bunches, as he had just about recovered from several broken ribs suffered when he fell from the mail pick-up standard at the local depot. The car was insured for everything except fire.

SENIORS RETURN FROM TRIP

Twenty seniors and their sponsors, Mrs. Don Emmons and Mr. Ralph Hoffman, returned Saturday evening about nine o'clock from a six day trip through the south.

They reached New Orleans on Tuesday evening at 6:30 and spent Wednesday there. They went swimming in the gulf on Thursday and went over into Florida. They stayed in Nashville Friday night, and Saturday visited Mammoth Cave.

The trip was enjoyed by all and was time well spent.

(We wonder if about 19 homes were as quiet as the editor's last week. We always have wondered who made all the noise at our house.)

SCHOOL NEWS

As the pupils and teachers enter the last week of this school year, there is a rush to finish all work assigned and a longing to begin the summer vacation. The teachers have finished grading the achievement tests. Results are available for the parents if requested. Some analysis of the results was made at the P. T. A. meeting on Wednesday evening.

The Seniors returned to school on Monday having traveled over 2000 miles in the six days. They reported a very enjoyable trip. Several of the hotel managers complimented our seniors on their excellent behavior. Senior Class Day program will be on Friday afternoon. A few exams will be given on Friday, but the bulk of the exams will be given on Monday. School will be out for the pupils at 3:25 on Monday. The teachers will work on Tuesday and Wednesday grading papers and completing the reports. All report cards will be mailed. It will not be necessary for pupils to return on Tuesday or Wednesday.

A number of the girls attended a style show at Manchester College on Tuesday evening.

Hot lunch will be served on Monday of next week. Children are asked to bring twenty-five cents.

Don't forget Baccalaureate on Sunday evening at 8:00 in the Methodist Church with Rev. Dowden delivering the sermon. Commencement exercises will be held in the Baptist Church on Tuesday evening with Wilbur Young, State Superintendent of Public Instruction giving the address.

Thirty-two pre-school children arrived at school last Friday to taste school life. The regular first grade had stayed home so there would be enough room. (All but one who forgot and came anyway) Some highlights of the day were the story-hour, the noon meal, the movie and coloring pictures. Several junior girls helped Mrs. Koenig see that everyone was happy. No one got hurt, only one cried, and all returned home safely, so the day was pronounced a success. We'll see you next year, first graders.

Attendance has been very good this grading period. Rodney Gible is still absent after having an operation. There has been little sickness and only an occasional day's absence.

AWAY OUT WEST

Dear Art,

Just a line to let you know that I am receiving the paper, and enjoy it very much.

We are living off the post, and it seems like a job, more than the Army. The only trouble is, you can't quit. There are four couples from Kosciusko county here, and we are all living in the same Motor Court.

The weather has been exceptionally nice in the past month. In fact, it is too dry.

I have been assigned to food supply, and enjoy the work very much. Hope I can stay in it.

Thanks Again,

Every animal and bird needs minerals—

Every animal and bird you own needs minerals—of certain kinds—in definite quantities. Some pastures provide these minerals. Much pasture does not. Now your grass may be green and thick. But it can still be mineral-deficient. And that can mean slower gains, feed waste and poorer health.

Why take these chances when it's so easy and economical to feed Swift's Mineral Supplement? This one low-cost mineral supplement provides ten mineral elements vital to all livestock. Start feeding Swift's Mineral Supplement free choice all year 'round. It now comes in block or pulverized form. Because it contains only minimum requirements of salt, we recommend free-choice salt feeding in addition.

WORD FROM ROBERT HIBSCHMAN

May 5, 1951

Hello Art:

Well, how's everything in Mentone and how's the weather up there? The temperature yesterday was about 80 degrees and I believe it's going to get warmer today. I went to the base yesterday morning and reported in. They assigned me to Base Supply and I'm going to work in an office.

It's pretty country down here, but Birmingham is rather dirty. A lot of steel mills and other factories. We have my dad's trailer house with us and are parked about three-quarters of a mile from the airport. They really have a lot of planes here and from all services. Part of the Navy, Marines and Air Force.

Well, got to close for now and thanks for the paper before. Would like to have it again.

HITCH-HIKERS DANGEROUS

Don't give way to a generous impulse and pick up hitch-hikers, the Chicago Motor Club warns.

You never know whether the person looking for a lift is a thief, narcotic, or potentially a murderer.

Even shiny-faced high school boys and girls may not be safe passengers, if you don't know them. Thrill-seeking kids of both sexes with no previous record have attacked hospitable motorists within the past several months.

In Chicago four high school girls set upon a friendly housewife who gave them a lift. They drove her from her car at the point of a knife. The chastened woman was lucky to escape unhurt, although her car was damaged in a police chase that ensued.

Chicago police estimate that as many as one hitch-hiker in three encountered on the highway may be dangerous. Hitch-hiking is the best way of avoiding a police dragnet that covers railroad stations and bus depots.

Hitch-hiking and strong arming the motorist is one cheap way of acquiring a car, leaving only the owner to dispose of. In Chicago last year a motorist picked up two young men on the outskirts of the city. They stole the car.

Last winter a motorist picked up three youths to help them along their way to drive to Springfield and after route for a few blocks. They forced robbing and slugging him, threw him into a ditch. Captured later, they disclosed that the previous night they had slain a man with paving bricks.

Temper your generosity with caution, the club urges. Your first concern is personal welfare. In these days of prosperity very few are desperately in need of transportation who cannot be accommodated at the public or private welfare agencies set up for that purpose.

LIKE TO FISH?

This man does, so he is careful to drown his campfire. A good sportsman, he knows that good fishing depends on fire prevention. He knows one fire, started by a careless act, can burn a forest, leaving behind dead trees, dried-up streams, and eroding hillsides. That's why he is always careful with fire in the woods. Are you?

Is This the 'Typical' U.S. Auto?

Dividing its registrations into equal North-South and East-West parts, Chevrolet spots this 1941 sedan as the country's "typical automobile." It is owned by Don Sobkoviak, shown above with his wife, in Watseka, Ill., the approximate center of all cars in use in the United States. Sobkoviak, an employee of the Iroquois Farm Bureau, bought the car third-hand. It has 107,000 miles on its speedometer. The 1941 model represents the average age of all Chevrolets in service.

Where is the center of the American automobile "population"? How old is the average automobile?

To get the answers to these questions, the Chevrolet Motor Division checked the registration records of its more than 10,000,000 vehicles in service in the United States.

According to the company's calculations, the center is in the vicinity of Watseka, Illinois, a town near the border and 80 miles south of Chicago.

The average passenger car is a 1941 sedan.

To illustrate the "typical automobile" the company next selected a 1941 Chevrolet Sedan owned by Don Sobkoviak, an employee of the Iroquois Farm Bureau Service Station in Watseka. Sobkoviak bought the car third-hand and its excellent condition gives little indication that it has traveled 107,000 miles.

In determining the auto axis of the country, Chevrolet statisticians discovered that a line drawn eastward through northern California, splitting the midwestern states of Illinois, Indiana and Ohio and passing along the southern Pennsylvania border would divide registrations approximately in half.

Similarly a line extending southward slightly east of the Wisconsin border and cutting Illinois, Kentucky and Tennessee would balance cars-in use in eastern and western sections.

These lines intersect near Watseka. The model year of the car was arrived at by averaging the age of all Chevrolets registered.

MENTONE MURMURS

by

DAVID and SALLY GOSSET

"Oooo! Ouch! Oh-h-h! M-o-a-n! groan, A-h!" The sounds that pass in the night after a person has spent the first full day gardening, then a final twist and turn, and off to sleep in spite of the aches and pains, are the reminders of the prices we pay for the privilege of raising our own vegetables.

The morning after is even more difficult, because each movement is almost accompanied with sound effects and one is very keenly aware that rigor mortis has already set in. To arise seems almost impossible and the feat of putting on and tying the shoes quite an accomplishment. For the moment, one wonders if it is at all worth the effort, for the fight against insects, which will be the next battle, is in a month to come.

Then you remember the lovely sunset which was observed between the callisthenics of dropping seeds, covering them, digging holes for plants, watering the plants, and working in the soil around them. You recall the cardinal high in the top of a tree bathed in the golden light of evening. Across the fields came the sound of children's voices at their play. Somewhere the bleating of sheep and the mooing of cattle blends in with the pastoral scenes, and most of the aches are forgotten in the memory of such loveliness.

The opportunity to watch the gradual but constant growth of the plants which seems a miracle in itself, is but an added blessing, and the feel of the soil as one gently works it as a support around the slender stalks of beans, peas, and corn, give the feeling of assurance, hope and peace. There is no miracle to the fact that rural people, generally speaking, are more continually in communion with God and Nature than any other group of people. They see Him at work in the elemental forces of nature which sustain human life.

THOUSANDS OF TULIPS IN BLOOM AT AKRON

The next ten days will bring several thousands of visitors to the Whit Galt Tulip Gardens at Akron. Flower lovers from all over the state, and even a few from other states, make this trip every year to see this colorful display. Sunday, May 13 and Sunday, May 20 will be the big days. The town of Akron is happy to play host to this very interesting crowd which seems to be getting bigger every year. The Tulip Gardens are located just on the west edge of town on State Road 14.

Recent rains have brought out the maximum in size and color, tulipwise. Thus the weather man has cooperated well in assuring that the visitors will be well pleased with their trip to see this dazzling array of spring colors.

Seventeen thousand bulbs were planted last fall, many of them being importations direct from Holland. There are over a hundred different varieties. Practically every color known to tulips is represented, besides such special features as stripes, dragons, lily flowered and peonie flowered tulips.

The tulips will be on display and everybody is quite welcome.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish in this way to express my appreciation for prayers, letters and cards; also the beautiful flowers sent me during my illness.

FARM MORTGAGE LOANS — Inasmuch as we confine our farm mortgage lending largely to our own community our customers are afforded the privilege and convenience of coming to the bank and making payments on their loans at any time they may receive income from their farm operations. Many of the borrowers are taking advantage of our prepayment privilege and paying principal payments in advance. These payments are credited to the next succeeding installment on the loan which gives the borrower the benefit of the privilege of skipping principal payments, if he so desires or if his plans do not materialize, to the extent that he has prepaid. Interest ceases on all principal payments on the date of payment. While our contract interest rate is 5%, the savings effected under our liberal repayment terms reduces the cost of our loans below that of many other agencies that have a lower contract rate. We charge no commissions or appraisal fees and are in a position to extend the maturity date of the principal and interest payments to accommodate the needs of our borrowers. Consult us about your long term financing needs. We believe you will agree with us that our mortgage lending program offers many advantages. FARMERS STATE BANK, Mentone, Member Federal Deposit Corporation. tf

TULIPS IN BLOOM AT MICHIGAN CITY

The most dazzling array of tulips in International Friendship Gardens history will be at their majestic best by May 20.

In bloom throughout the 100-acre tract are some 300,000 of the world's finest tulips imported from Holland where they were developed by the Dutch Bulb Growers Assn. J. Virgil Stauffer, director of the Idealistic Gardens project, said the 1951 edition of "Tulips on Parade" is undoubtedly the best yet.

Coming from Holland, the bulbs in the Michigan City exhibit all are 20th century descendants of bulbs originally taken to Vienna from Constantinople more than 400 years ago. The name "tulip" means "turban" in Turkish. The flower thrived abundantly in Holland and was adopted by the Dutch as a national symbol.

At the Gardens there are brilliant hues of red, purple, white, yellow and orange and they heighten the color of background created by dogwood, red-bud, crab and flowering peach.

The Gardens are a philanthropic enterprise dedicated to the ideals of world peace and international friendship through the universal love of beauty. And the exchange of tulips and good will between this Hoosier exhibit and the Dutch people typifies the way Stauffer believes the world could work toward those ideals.

PUBLIC SPEAK- ING FOR 4-H

The 4-H Public Speaking program—now in its second year—promises to become very popular with Club members in Indiana. Realizing that the ability to project thoughts and ideas clearly is of prime importance in leadership, citizenship and everyday life—they are earnestly taking part in the program, in order to trim corners and make their best better. Twenty-three states have accepted the program for 1951 as compared with 19 last year.

Gold-filled medals are awarded to the boy and girl winners in each participating county. State winners' awards comprise a handsome set of silverware for the top-ranking girl, and a 17-jewel wrist watch for the outstanding boy. Winners are determined not only on what they say, but on how well they say it. All awards are provided by the Pure Oil Company.

Hal Bowman of Monroe county, was last year's watch winner in Indiana. Mary Wylie, Miami county, received the silverware award for her outstanding work. County medals were awarded to 42 4-H'ers in the state.

This program is conducted under the supervision of the Cooperative Extension Service.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Kohr, of Mentone; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hand and Richard Deafenbaugh, of Warsaw, spent Mother's Day in Fort Wayne with Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Bloom.

AND THE DISABLED

AMERICAN LEGION AUXILIARY

MAY 26

Do We Remember?

The Great Factory is in production again. After a lull in manufacturing its own special product, the process is going again, and the products are being scattered across the land.

For a scant five years the wheels of broken bodies, torn flesh and of broken minds. But now the pipelines are full again, and the stream of wrecked lives swells daily.

The process from healthy civilian to trained fighter is a relatively short one. The actual creation of a disabled veteran takes only a second or two of time. A machine gun burst, an angry grenade, a sudden and menacing eruption of a land mine, a quick burst of fire, a crashed plane, or the long and slower process of numbing the mind with horror, are all the tools of the factory which makes the individual of the long parade of disabled veterans.

When life hangs on by a slender thread, when consciousness returns, if it does, then begins the longest travel, the most endless journey, the steepest trail ever traveled by men. That is the road back to recovery of what is left of life and after that the rough and bumpy road back into the life of the community and nation.

Only those who are products of that hellish manufacturing process—can know what it means to look at our complex economy from the depths of the pit of incapacity.

World Moves On

Of course there is that time of quick and ready sympathy, some times devolving into sweetly sickening pity. For a time there is an honest desire on the part of most people to be helpful. Then comes the realization that the world moves on and hasn't time for the man who can't keep up in the race.

Of course there is an attempt on the part of government to bridge the gap between what a man was and gap between what he is reduced. But that to which he is reduced. Quick even that comes into question quickly. Pensions and compensation soon become "easy money" in the eyes of the public and the disabled veteran cashes his checks in a surreptitious manner, bordering on apology.

Of course time brings its compensations and adaptations. The man survives and learns better to overcome and minimize the handicap under which he must labor to carry his own load in the economy of the most complex nation on earth.

All these matters are part of the pattern. All these things come about in an orderly manner and each takes its toll. Through it all the veteran is glad that he isn't confined in a hospital and his sympathy runs to those whose bodies and minds won't heal and who face days and years in the walls of the forgotten, in the backwash of war, in the storage rooms of the factory of death and near death.

If people could just understand—if the general public could just be aware—that all the veteran asks, all he wants, and all he hopes for, is a chance to care for himself in dignity and decency.

Disabled Able

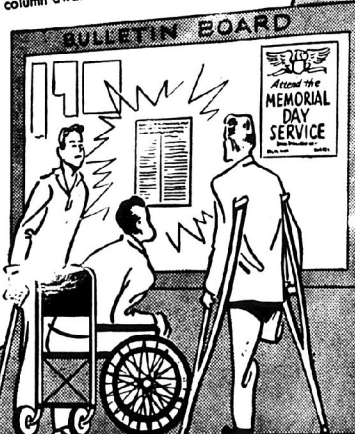

The records of a thousand employers prove that the disabled have discarded the prefix to disability and meet the world on the basis of ability itself. The record proves that disabled men, with all degrees of disability, can and do hold jobs with greater fidelity and skill than their whole compatriots.

It may require some minor adjustments in routine, some special arrangements of various kinds, to accommodate the handicap of the man coming back along that trail, but the truth is, that he will pay it all back and return a profit, too.

They come from new places now, strange, Oriental names designate the points on the map where the trail starts. Tarawa, Iwo, Bulge, Kasserine, Sicily, Salerno, Anzio, Guadalcanal, now have such names as Pusan, Taejon, Seoul, Kaesong, and Inchon, added to them, but the story and the problem are the same. You can help. It is up to you to help. Your attitude can make or break the disabled veteran. Don't cry over him, give him a chance.

That's all for today: No color will cheer up a hospital room as much as the color in your face.

—J. M. Hazlitt, "Sounding Off", Pauls Valley Democrat, Pauls Valley, Oklahoma, winner of Disabled American Veterans annual newspaper column award.

THE BIG MERRYBELL

The Big Merrybell's name fits it perfectly. A flower of the woodlands, it has gay blossoms which hang downward from their stems. Pointing toward the ground, they look very much like slender, golden bells, ready to tinkle in a slight breeze.

Each of the blossoms is an inch or more long, and is divided into six, sharply pointed parts. The narrow points hang close together, making the opening into the blossom small.

But this doesn't keep out bumblebees, says the National Wildlife Federation. Neither the tiny entrance nor the steep climb within the hanging flowers discourages the winged visitors.

After pushing their way in, they find that the insides of the blossoms are slightly rough. So it isn't hard for them to get a foothold and to go after the nectar in the heart of the flowers.

Another unusual thing about the Big Merrybell is the way in which its long leaves are fastened to the plant. Each leaf folds around the stem. At first glance, you might think that the stem pierces the leaf. But looking more closely, you can see that the base of the leaf just wraps around the stem.

The leaves form a shield for the flowers by drooping just above the hanging blossoms. Like the flowers, the leaves are slender. They are dark green on top and whitish-green underneath. The under side feels rough, as though it were covered with down. The leaves are from two to five inches long.

Big Merrybells aren't hard to find, because they grow to be from one to two feet tall. They thrive over a wide area in the northeastern fourth of the United States—from New England westward to Minnesota and the Dakotas, and southward to Oklahoma and Georgia.

The place to look for them in this section, is on richly wooded lands. They like to be near trees, especially if the ground is sloping. Because they are forest dwellers, Big Merrybells do not always live after being transplanted. They bloom from April to June.

Interesting information about other species can be obtained by writing to the National Wildlife Federation, Washington 10, D. C.

HEALTH FACTS FROM YOUR STATE BOARD OF HEALTH

"Hard hearing and deafness is a problem for all ages, jeopardizing the social activities and earning power of an individual with the defects involved costly to the individual, the family and society," Dr. Robert E. Jewett, director, Division of Maternal and Child Health, Indiana State Board of Health, said today in calling attention to the observance of National Hearing Week May 6-12.

"Much has been done in Indiana to attack this problem and much still remains to be done," Dr. Jewett pointed out. "Hearing testing is required by law in the public schools and more widespread application of this law is needed. A great need exists to extend hearing testing programs to include preschool children where early personality damage may be acquired. The State Board of Health cooperates with all agencies with services to this view and is, prepared to give guidance in the establishment of hearing testing programs including case finding and referral to agencies with resources for direct services.

"Approximately six out of every one thousand have hearing deficiency, either partially or totally. This means that about 25,000 persons in Indiana may have hearing defects that could be partially corrected, or who need assistance and counselling in order to get along in society with this handicap. One of the greatest needs is the detection of preschool and school children with hearing defects. Many of these conditions can be compensated for or reversed and certainly all need special guidance to make an adjustment in a hearing world," Dr. Jewett concluded.

There may be an additional item of expense in repairing the church roof and the basement to eliminate the water seepage which is evidenced in wet weather.

There will be services this next Sunday conducted by the Lay Leader, Mr. Denton Abbey, in the absence of the pastor. It is hoped, by some at least, that the Gossers will be returned to the Mentone Methodist Church. That is their desire and heart-felt wish.

On Memorial Day the services will be held in the church only in case of rain. The bulletin announcement of last Sunday was incomplete. The Memorial services will be on Memorial Day this year.

ANIMALS CAN SPREAD 100 DISEASES TO PEOPLE

Over 100 different types of infectious and parasitic diseases can be spread from animals to human beings, but only about 20 of these maladies are important to public health in the United States. Brucellosis heads the list, and all authorities agree that it will continue to be a major health problem until strong nationwide effort is made to eradicate it in livestock. Q fever, rabies, swine erysipelas, anthrax, hookworm, ringworm, trichinosis, cysticercosis, tularemia, equine encephalomyelitis, histoplasmosis, Newcastle disease, and Salmonella infections are among the other animal-human diseases currently occupying public health interest in this country.

Pregnancy disease in ewes often can be prevented by balanced rations and daily exercise, and by feeding molasses in the ration for about six weeks before lambs are born.

Following commencement exercises

Tuesday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sullivan had as their guests Mr. and Mrs. Ward Sullivan and family and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Sullivan of South Bend, Mr. and Mrs. Dencil Walls and Jean of Akron, Mr. and Mrs. Herb Carlile and family, I. SICKLY PIGS SHOULD

NOT BE VACCINATED

A strong warning has been sounded on the dangers of vaccinating pigs that are not in good health. The Journal of the American Veterinary Medical Association warned this week that the double-treatment method of vaccination can cause severe trouble if the herd is not in proper condition. It takes a herd examination to decide, because pigs may look healthy yet be heavily infected with parasites, or suffering from digestive disorders. In such cases, they should be treated back to health before an attempt is made to immunize.

BAPTIST CHURCH NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Phillips, missionaries among the children of Mexico, started Wednesday for Mexico City after a year's furlough in the states. Mrs. Phillips is the former Velva Nelson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Nelson of Winona Lake, recently of Burket.

In a short talk at the Baptist Church Sunday morning, Mr. Phillips stated that not more than two children out of 100 attend Sunday School in Mexico. In past years both Mr. and Mrs. Phillips conducted weekly Bible classes for children and taught part-time Mexican workers to help with the Bible work. This time they plan to start and institute and conduct an intensive 3-month training period for full-time Mexican workers.

The Phillips have four children between 5 and 9 years of age. A Mexican woman helps Mrs. Phillips with the housework, freeing her for part time teaching, not only the Bible, but school subjects to the three older children as they were not located near an American school. This coming year one of their first projects will be to settle in a location near an American school.

This will be the Phillips family's third missionary trip to Mexico. Two of their children were born there and to all of them it is a destination they are looking forward to reaching as they think of it as home.

The daily vacation Bible School will begin on June 11th and run through the 22nd. Last year the average daily attendance was 129 and plans are being made this year for 150. All children in Mentone and community are invited to come to this school and enjoy the Bible teaching each day under the supervision of well-trained teachers. There will be no charge for the school and all hand work and booklets are free to those who attend. The closing Friday night a demonstration will be given for the parents and families of children in the school.

THE TROUT ARE STRIKING

Hoosier sportsmen are finding out, via rod and reel, just how much a fish propagation program pays off in the creel. Since the opening of the Indiana trout fishing season May 1, several exceptional catches have been reported from northern Indiana waters.

Elkhart County reports catches of trout weighing from two to five pounds. The largest caught and reported thus far was a rainbow measuring 18 1/4 inches. Little Elkhart was the stream. Another beauty 17 inches long was taken in a northern Indiana stream by a fisherman who forgot to procure the new $1 trout stamp which is a must. The fisherman was collared by a Conservation Officer and was forced to explain to the judge. Another fly caster had a sixteen incher in his creel. While a Kosciusko County man took 11 rainbows in one day—four less than the limit. The limit is 15, legal size is seven inches.

The Division of Fish and Game has planted 5,000 additional legal size trout for Indiana anglers. Of these, 6,000 are rainbow and 3,000 are brown trout. These were shipped from the Fish and Wildlife Station at Neosho, Missouri.

In addition to the legal trout being added to streams in LaGrange, Steuben, LaPorte, Elkhart, St. Joseph, DeKalb, Noble, Allen and Porter counties, some 30,000 rainbow fingerlings measuring four inches have been shipped from the same source.

This one shipment from Missouri will be followed by shipments of 79,000 rainbow, 45,000 brown trout and 47,000 brook trout fingerlings from the Fish and Game Wildlife Station at Northville, Michigan. Part of this shipment will be sent to various conservation clubs which operate feeding stations and the remainder will be planted in state waters suitable for trout.

GREEN PASTURE PROGRAM

The value of growing legumes and grasses on more acres will be emphasized in the Northeastern Indiana Green Pasture Program in which local farmers will participate this summer. County Agent Paul Jackson announced today. Fourteen counties are involved.

Separate contests will be held in each county. Practices, use of pasture, and quality of pasture will be considered in the judging. The highest placing dairy farmer in each county will be recognized by the Northeastern Indiana Dairy Association with a special award to be announced later.

The program will illustrate to farmers the proper methods and procedures in growing grasses and legumes as a means of producing milk, meat, and other livestock and poultry products more economically and with less labor, Mr. Jackson said.

He pointed out that better pasture means greater net income, control of wind and water erosion, and improvement of the soil structure. The soil is built up in nitrogen and organic matter by use of deep-rooted legumes and grasses. The loosening and mellowing of the soil allows more water and air to penetrate. Corn and Grain crops which follow in the rotation will produce higher yields.

Circulars including entry blanks are now being distributed through the county extension office and members of the dairy association. Any farmer in the county is eligible to participate. Entries are due in the county extension office by July 10.

Pastures entered in the contest must contain five acres or more, and they may be rotation grazed. The entire pasture field will be judged. It must contain at least 25 per cent stand of one or more legumes. Contest rules permit the use of the first cutting for hay or grass silage, but the field must be in pasture for the rest of the season. The farmer must keep a record of the number of days grazing obtained by kind and age of livestock.

RURAL YOUTH MEETING

The Kosciusko County Rural Youth met May 15 at the Women's Building on the fair grounds, Warsaw. The meeting was called to order by the president, Bob Norris, and the opening prayer was given by Mrs. Harry Mishler, the club advisor.

An enlightening program was presented by foreign students, led by professor Donald Royer, of Manchester College. They discussed international relationships, the problems of Germany and England since the war, and also presented noteworthy information on the United Nations and plans as to how it could be made stronger.

The business of the club followed, and tentative plans were made for the Rural Youth softball team by the athletic chairman, Dale Cauffman.

Leon Rathbun gave an interesting talk on the Hoosier Recreational Workshop held at Merom from May 7 to 12. Leon was our Rural Youth representative and reported a very enjoyable and worth while trip.

The meeting was then turned over to Charles Decker who served delicious refreshments of cup cakes, ice cream, and pop.

THE RUE ANEMONE

This is the time of year to look for Rue Anemone in the eastern half of the United States. It is a pale, delicate flower of the woodlands which grows from New Hampshire and Massachusetts south to Florida and west to Minnesota and Kansas.

From March to May or June, the National Wildlife Federation reports, Rue Anemone shows its small neat blossoms. The flowers are nearly always white, but sometimes they are lightly tinged with pink. They are from a half inch to an inch across, and they grow in clusters of two or three on a slender stalk.

Grouped around each trio of flowers are small, deep green leaves. The leaves grow on long stems which sprout from the same point on the main stalk as the flowers. The leaves are clustered in three's.

The entire plant stands from four to ten inches high. It likes the shade of trees, but not the shadows of a dense forest. Where the woods are thin, Rue Anemone is at its best. Often it is found growing near the spreading roots of an old, gnarled tree.

Bees are frequently visitors to a patch of Rue Anemone. As they go about collecting nectar from the tiny blossoms, the buzzing insects spread pollen from one flower to another.

To the rest of the world, Rue Anemone is simply a modest spring flower.

It is never so plentiful that it becomes a nuisance, and its chief service is to beautify the outdoors.

Some adventurous people, to be sure, have discovered that Rue Anemone's knobby roots are rich in starch. They say it is safe to cook and eat the roots as a substitute for potatoes.

Most hikers and nature observers, though, would rather see Rue Anemone left alone. They feel that the small amount of food to be gained from the roots is not worth the harm done in destroying attractive plants.

Another bit of friendly advice is offered to those who might be tempted to transplant Rue Anemone from the woods to their gardens. It can be done, but only if the garden is shady like the woods. The plant will wither and die if it is stuck in the ground where it will feel the heat of the bright sun most of the day.

© National Wildlife Federation

So unless you have the proper spot for Rue Anemone, the National Wildlife Federation urges that you leave the plants in the woods. There they are sure to thrive.

Interesting information about other species can be obtained by writing to the National Wildlife Federation, Washington 10, D. C.

HEALTH FACTS FROM YOUR STATE BOARD OF HEALTH

Insomnia might be caused by worry about food, children, taxes—but it could also be attributed to sleeping on a pillow or mattress which contains such articles as old dirty socks, bottled caps, yellowed pieces of old newspaper—or even mushrooms.

This could be true. But it is less likely to happen in Indiana today.

To see that the public gets clean and honest values in bedding is a job of the Bedding Section, Indiana State Board of Health, headed by Herman G. Porter. The control work is paid for by the industry itself through revenue stamps and a fee system enacted by the 1949 Legislature. This legislation, recommended by the bedding manufacturers, is another example of industry facing its responsibilities in protecting the public health.

Although in operation only 16 months the section has stopped the sale of about 200 items of misbranded or insanitary merchandise. Twenty-two states are enforcing bedding laws and have found such articles as orange peelings, floor sweepings, tobacco, rotten animal matter and even concrete in such merchandise.

An amendment to the law goes into effect July 1. This amendment tightens the sale of insanitary bedding by second hand dealers, making it illegal for dealers to handle second hand bedding on a consignment basis or as an agent to evade the law.

VACATION HINTS

Thousands of city families are preparing to visit farm homes this summer, according to Farm Vacations and Holidays, Inc., which has just released its advance booklet describing farms where vacationers may stay on a paying basis. For the farm host it means additional income as well as fun.

Two seasons ago, Farm Vacations & Holidays, Inc., of 500 5th Avenue in New York City evolved the plan of sending city-bound families to farm homes for their summer vacations. The plan has worked so amazingly well, and is now going into its third summer, with the complete backing of the National Grange, which feels that farmers can use the extra income from such summer guests, as well as help cement relations between rural and urban neighbors.

Farmers can take in from $30 to $35 per person a week (and often even more) merely by making use of their spare bedrooms. Farmers themselves correspond with the various applicants and in that way choose the guests they would most prefer. Applications for its next booklet to be published shortly are being accepted by Farm Vacations & Holidays. By writing to them, the farmer can receive complete information as to how he can help to expand this farm-city plan which even now has brought a total revenue to farmers of approximately $100,000 in two summers.

ONLY TESTED CATTLE SHOWN AT FAIR

Cattle to be exhibited at the Kosciusko County fair August 13 to 18 must show a negative test to T. B. before they will be admitted to the show. According to regulations just received in the county extension office from the state veterinarian read as follows: "All cattle taken to an exhibit shall have been negative to a Tuberculin test within 90 days immediately prior to the date of the exhibit, or they shall have originated from a fully accredited herd for Tuberculosis or from a herd having passed a negative entire herd test for Tuberculosis within 90 days immediately prior to the exhibit."

Concerning Brucellosis, the health order reads, "All cattle except steers, spayed heifers, and calves under six months of age shall have been negative to an approved test for Brucellosis within 90 days immediately prior to the date of the exhibit, except officially Brucellosis vaccinated calves under 24 months of age, accompanied by an officially approved Certificate of Vaccination shall be admitted to the show, or they shall have originated from a herd officially certified as Brucellosis free."

County agent Paul Jackson urges all adults and 4-H members who intend to exhibit cattle at the county fair to get the required tests performed immediately. Such action will prevent frantic phone calls, graying of hair, and other mental contortions which arise when not enough time is allowed to get health certificates returned from the state veterinarian's office. Steers must have a clean T. B. test. Dairy cattle and beef must conform to both the T. B. and Brucellosis regulations.

This is the time of year to guard against cocklebur poisoning in pigs and cattle. Keep animals away from cocklebur containing pastures until these plants have passed the two-leaf stage.

ELITE TASTER'S PARTY GIVEN BY JONAH CLUB

An "elite taster's party" was held at the McClure Lake Conservation Club Camp Wednesday evening, with the famous Jonah Club as hosts. There were representatives from Fort Wayne, Wabash, Huntington, Silver Lake, LaPorte, Lafayette, Warsaw, Mentone, and I don't know for sure where else. The Jonah boys had to eat up a few more of the profits and what a variety of food they did have—shrimps, scallops, bluegill, perch, walleye, and I wouldn't be surprised if they didn't have a chunk or two of Jonah's "submarine" fried up. Of course, there were potatoes, pickles, salads, pie, ice cream, coffee, bread and butter and sundry other delectable morsels to be sampled by the "spark plugs," as "Skinny Higgins" stated. The lady Jonahs, too, had a big part in preparing the delicious meal.

The evening's program included the showing of movies taken at the recent fish fry put on at the Air Force base in Florida, and a few tall stories to taper off the affair.

OVER TWO HUNDRED AT ALUMNI BANQUET

Graduates, young and old, of the Mentone school, gathered at the community building Saturday evening for the annual alumni banquet, which consisted of a fish dinner prepared by C. O. Mollenhour and Lyndes Latimer.

Oliver Teel served as master of ceremonies and Dr. Geo. Davis, head of Student Affairs at Purdue University, was the speaker of the evening. Music was furnished by a Warsaw Octette.

The 1951 senior class were guests of the alumni, and true to custom, they were given the privilege of eating in a standing position.

Mrs. Anna Mentzer was honored as the one present who has been graduated the longest.

A nominating committee, composed of H. V. Johns, Elmore Fenstermaker and M. O. Mentzer, nominated the following officers for the ensuing year, and all were elected:

Everett Long, president.
Dale Wallace, Jr., vice president.
Gertrude Smythe, secretary.
Marilyn Tucker, assistant.
Eileen Bowser, treasurer.
Phyllis Bowser, assistant.

BRUCELLOSIS DANGER

Exposure during spring calving and farrowing causes many cases of brucellosis, or undulant fever, in farmers. The springtime victims often do not feel effects of the disease until June, July, or August. Brucellosis germs are present in the "birth membranes" of infected animals and can get into a person's body through cuts or open sores. For this reason, veterinarians and physicians urge farmers with hand and arm injuries not to assist at animal births. Rubber gloves should be worn if contact is unavoidable.

NEW VISITORS' RULES AT WOODLAWN HOSPITAL

Because of the somewhat crowded capacity of the Woodlawn hospital the staff has found it necessary to make some changes in rules applying to a patient's visitors.

Henceforth, visitors to the hospital will be asked to secure a visitor's card in the lobby. Only two visitors will be permitted to each patient. This is for the patient's benefit and to facilitate better nursing care, Miss Bernice Rannels, superintendent explained. Children under 14 are not permitted on the second floor at any time.

The new plan was evolved with the consent of the hospital board of trustees and the medical staff.

The visiting hours are from two to four p. m. and 7 to 8:30 p. m. daily.

POULTRY DRUGS MUST BE TEAMED WITH SANITATION

A dangerous farm trend toward too much reliance on poultry drugs is singled out in a report from the American Veterinary Medical Association's committee on poultry diseases. Drugs for coccidiosis and other infections serve their best purpose only when coupled with sanitary improvements in flock management, the committee says. Without good sanitary practices, drugs may only mask the presence of disease and give owners a false sense of security.

Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Croddock and son, of St. Albans, W. Virginia, have been visiting with Mrs. Granville Horn, the Howard Horn family and other relatives and friends.

Other guests on Tuesday evening of the Commencement exercises were Rev. and Mrs. O. L. Johnson and son, of Warsaw; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Carey, and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Lancaster and family of South Whitley, and Tom Harman, of Etna Green.

HERE'S PROOF that your gasoline mileage depends on your driving as much as on your car. Thirty-one members of the Pittsburgh Section, Society of Automotive Engineers (indicated by numbers at left of diagram), recently drove the same automobile over the same course. Their results (shown by position of autos above) ranged from a low of 10.32 miles per gallon to an average of 13.50, to a high of 17.28. High scorer got 70% more mileage than the low. Gulf Oil laboratories, which supervised test, call it evidence that any driver can get at least 10% more miles per gallon by observing economy driving rules.

THE SIGNIFICANCE OF THE POPPY

Next Saturday, May 26, little red poppies will bloom on millions of coats throughout America. As the annual day for the wearing of the poppy draws near, it is well to bring to our minds the significance of this little flower. Why do we have a Poppy Day?

First, we wear the poppy once a year to express the feeling of reverence that is always in our hearts for the men who died for America in the two World Wars. The poppy is their flower. It grew on the battlefields in France and Belgium where so many of them fought and died; it grew over their fresh graves—the one touch of beauty and life in all that region of destruction and death known as the front. Nothing can symbolize our remembrance of the sacrifices of the World War dead in so fitting a way as the wearing of the poppy.

Second, we wear the poppy to help lighten the burden for those who are still undergoing suffering and hardships because of the wars, the disabled veterans and the families of the dead and disabled. Making the poppies gives employment to hundreds of disabled men who otherwise would be unable to earn anything toward the support of themselves or their families. If you have never visited the men making poppies in the hospitals, it will be difficult for you to realize that having these little flowers made by the disabled is one of the largest pieces of welfare work done by the American Legion Auxiliary. What form of aid could be more effective than helping the disabled men help themselves by worthwhile work?

The funds derived from the poppy sale constitutes the largest source of revenue for the Rehabilitation and Child Welfare work of the Legion and Auxiliary. The dimes, quarters and dollars dropped into the contribution boxes on Poppy Day enable the Legion Posts and Auxiliary Units to carry out a constructive program of aid to the disabled and to the dependent families of veterans throughout the year. Poppy Day is the one day when the public is privileged to contribute toward this great work.

When you buy your poppy Saturday, think of the disabled veteran in a hospital or convalescent workshop who has fashioned the little blood red flower. Think of the fatherless family whose struggles during the coming year will be lightened by the coin you drop into the poppy worker's box. Think of the brave American boys who lie beneath the waving poppies in France. Think of these things and you will understand the true significance of the poppy.

FARM MORTGAGE LOANS — Inasmuch as we confine our farm mortgage lending largely to our own community our customers are afforded the privilege and convenience of coming to the bank and making payments on their loans at any time they may receive income from their farm operations. Many of the borrowers are taking advantage of our prepayment privilege and paying principal payments in advance. These payments are credited to the next succeeding installment on the loan which gives the borrower the benefit of the privilege of skipping principal payments, if he so desires or if his plans do not materialize, to the extent that he has prepaid. Interest ceases on all principal payments on the date of payment. While our contract interest rate is 5%, the savings effected under our liberal repayment terms reduces the cost of our loans below that of many other agencies that have a lower contract rate. We charge no commissions or appraisal fees and are in a position to extend the maturity date of the principal and interest payments to accommodate the needs of our borrowers. Consult us about your long term financing needs. We believe you will agree with us that our mortgage lending program offers many advantages. FARMERS STATE BANK, Mentone, Member Federal Deposit Corporation. tf

THANK YOU, MR. TRUMAN!

By Dr. Alfred P. Haake

It may be that the discharge of General MacArthur is the one real service with which history will credit Mr. Truman as having rendered his country. Perhaps that tragic error was necessary to awaken us to Mr. Truman's inadequacy as trustee of his country's vital interests and to the frightening progress already made by socialism under his vacillating arrogance.

Fate plays queer quirks on peoples who forget, or have not learned, that eternal vigilance is the price of liberty. A Russian train robber and murderer became dictator over hundreds of millions of people. In Germany a frustrated paperhanger imposed his diseased will on a continent. In England a fanatic coal miner pursues his relentless program to destroy the last vestige of capitalism. And in America a bankrupt haberdasher struggles persistently for life and death control over the finances and economy of a nation.

In all places where these things happen and men less than fit ride into high office on promises of something for nothing, or by capitalizing on hatreds—expediency takes the place of principle in determining policy and control, and the morals of men decay.

History will accord General MacArthur his rightful place for the services rendered America and civilization. It will do no less for the little captain who fired a general. But you and I should be concerned with something more important than any individual.

At long last the American people can, if they will, make a searching analysis of our foreign needs, obligations, relations and policies. We can learn to what extent one high official in government served communism in Russia and another served socialism in England—and perhaps conclude that it is time instead to serve freedom in America.

Perhaps we can lift out of the limbo of political suffocation the truths we need regarding inflation, the effect of taxes and federal debt on the lives and fortunes of our people, and do something to stop the hideous waste that is eating up our substance in the medley of madness we call Washington.

We may take advantage of the light that can be shed from under the lid that President Truman has lifted in firing a man too big to be compressed within the pattern of ward politics. If so, we can discover the nearness with which we have approached disaster and the horrible precariousness in which we stand in consequence of principle.

In 1914 we denounced the German Emperor for violating an international agreement to respect the neutrality of Belgium. We called him unprintable names. As a nation we Americans have reviled doublecrossers in international affairs, and proudly refused to sully our honor by acts of international betrayal.

But things have changed, haven't they? At Yalta we bribed Russia to break her word to Japan and help us strike the final blow. The price of that betrayal of Japan by Russia was our own betrayal of China. We agreed to turn over to Russia provinces that we were honor bound to restore to China. Proud America, through her President and his advisor Alger Hiss, double-crossed China. We deserted principle for expediency, betrayed an ally and good friend in order to build up a potential bitter enemy.

The irony was that Russian aid did not save a single American life in the closing battles of the Pacific war. Russia attacked Japan in time to grab the booty when the war was over. We sowed a wind of betrayal at Yalta and now reap a whirlwind of war in Korea. Schoolboys who were kept in ignorance of the Yalta betrayal, pay with their lives for our sorry bargain with Russia.

But if Mr. Truman by his action has released the lids that have kept many a truth from our consciousness, then we can even forgive him for his pitiful inadequacy and thank him for waking us up to what he and others have done and are doing to us.

TIPPECANOE, IND. FORMS BACKGROUND FOR NEW MOVIE

In Hedda Hopper's column, "Looking At Hollywood," in the Chicago Sunday Tribune appeared a brief article which states that Tippecanoe, Ind., a village just north of the Fulton-Marshall county line, will be the basis for a new film production entitled, "Brave Warriors."

Miss Hopper's comment follows: "Frances Langford and John Hall have been set to co-star in 'Brave Warrior,' a story about the settlement of the town of Tippecanoe, Ind. The town was created as a good-will gesture to the Indians."

If any of the old-timers of either Fulton or Marshall county know anything of the early history of Tippecanoe, they are requested to address the information to the editor of the News-Sentinel.—Rochester News-Sentinel.

Is Your Good Grass Good Enough?

Every animal and bird needs minerals—

Every animal and bird you own needs minerals—of certain kinds—in definite quantities. Some pastures provide these minerals. Much pasture does not. Now your grass may be green and thick. But it can still be mineral-deficient. And that can mean slower gains, feed waste and poorer health.

Why take these chances when it's so easy and economical to feed Swift's Mineral Supplement? This one low-cost mineral supplement provides ten mineral elements vital to all livestock. Start feeding Swift's Mineral Supplement five choice all year 'round. It now comes in block or pulverized form. Because it contains only minimum requirements of salt, we recommend free-choice salt feeding in addition.

MENTONE MURMURS

by
DAVID and SALLY GOSSER

Murmurs had an opportunity to tour the Honeywell Memorial several weeks ago. This rather elaborate recreational center is located just west of the business district of Wabash, Indiana. Mr. Honeywell, an industrialist, has had this building erected in memory of his first wife.

A more fitting and useful memorial could not be built. It serves the entire community and offers opportunity to the whole of Wabash County. The Community services have their activities in several of the numerous completed rooms of the structure. Over twenty basketball teams had the use of the exceptionally fine gymnasium and shower rooms. Service Clubs have rooms suited to their occasional uses, large or small dining rooms serviced by the most modern kitchen available.

The completed lounge or parlor will excell the most up-to-date hotel or student-union lobby and parlor. Adjoining it will be a library. Receptionists will greet guests in the main foyer and conduct them through the building. The second floor will be approached by a grand staircase with floor-to-ceiling mirrors and glass railing plates. Marble step treads and foyer floor will be enhanced by the best interior decorations possible.

Marshall Fields of Chicago are hanging the thirty-foot drapes at the parlor windows. The furniture is the latest in design and good taste. The specially designed stair lamp has cost over eight thousand dollars. It is a spiral copper or brass chandelier which had to be recast several times to meet the approval of Mr. Honeywell.

The building is not in an exclusive part of Wabash, but is down near the river where all people may find it of easy access. There is no economical barrier for its use. It is for all the people of Wabash. Forty or fifty children were roller skating in the large room beneath the gymnasium, and, believe it or not, the main gym floor will be the roller skating rink for the summer. A special top surfacing is required, of course, but it is made available for a variety of uses.

Mentone could use a memorial of that kind, built by the contributions of friends and relatives of deceased parties. There may not be the people of wealth like Mr. Honeywell in our community, and we would not have the need for such an elaborate structure, but one to meet the variety of needs of a small community would be appreciatively used. Murmurs may be day dreaming and wishfully thinking aloud on his typewriter, but some one must take the blame for dreaming.

This leads up to another murmur. There are only four counties in the state of Indiana that have county-wide recreational programs. Mentone is beginning this year to work out a community project of this kind. There has been established a County Youth Committee of which Wayne Tombaugh has been made chairman. It has been proposed that the committee meet with the Purdue recreational director and field worker, Jack Anderson, and talk over the possibilities of such a program for Kosciusko County.

At the A. C. A. meeting this past Friday and Saturday, Murmurs was impressed with the work of the State of Indiana in this field. A. C. A. means American Camping Association. Murmurs was sent to represent Summer Church Camps for his denomination, and found that many churches are extending their interest into this field. Those who are interested in the recreational programs are from a wide range of professions and positions, College Presidents and professors included.

At the Marion County Nutrition Camp where the A. C. A. meeting was held, were representatives of I. U., Purdue, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, County programs, Church camps, and students majoring in recreation in Indiana University. Field trips, compass courses, lashing, Cook-outs, folk-games, and Camp-fire were items of interest to those who attended. Murmurs met an old college friend of way back in the thirties whom he had not seen since "thirty-nine." Recreation may be wreckreation or real recreation. The latter was the case for Murmurs this past week end.

MENTONE MISSIONARY RETURNS TO INDIA

Miss Lova Bush, missionary to India, and former Mentone resident, has completed her year's furlough here in the states. She is now in New York finishing preparations for returning to India for her second 5-year term.

After five years of strenuous hardships and privations on a mission field one naturally thinks of missionaries as deserving a well-earned rest but this is not the case. There are very few days during the whole year's furlough that most missionaries can call their own and can completely relax.

This past year Miss Bush has spent visiting her mother, Mrs. Elsie Bush, a Child Evangelism Director in South Bend; her many friends in Mentone; her former home mission field in Arkansas where she spent one year before leaving for India; filling speaking engagements in many churches in different states telling of her work in India and showing colored slides and assembling and packing in preparation for her return to India.

Miss Bush is returning to India this year with a new jeep given her by the Mentone Baptist Church. The jeep will enable her to reach the outfields and different villages faster than with her former method of travel—a pokey and bumpy old ox-cart.

In order that Miss Bush might have more free time for speaking engagements this past winter the Baptist Women's Missionary Society took over a large share of her sewing needs by making her house dresses, blouses, aprons, etc.

Miss Bush and her mother traveling by jeep, spent last week end with her sister and family in Fulton, New York. Her sister is Mrs. Leonard Salisbury, known to Mentone residents as Eunice Bush.

In answer to those who spoke of fearing they might never see her again because of these troubled times, wars and threats of more wars, she replied in her farewell message in the evening service at the Baptist Church. "There is no need to fear for my safety," she said, "Because whatever is the Lord's will is all right with me. I know I am doing what He has called me to do and I'm as safe in India as in the U. S. It is true that I probably never will see some of you again but it might not be that I will die first. If you know you are doing what He wants you to do there is no need to fear wherever you are."

The members voted to be present and participate in the Memorial Day Parade to be held May 30. Particulars will be found elsewhere in this paper. It is our patriotic duty to join with the American Legion and the public in observing this day. We want every member to turn out for the occasion. All sons and daughters of Legionnaires will form their group and march in the parade also. This should be a real treat for the youngsters.

Mrs. Frank Smith was the name drawn for the attendance prize.

The next district meeting will be in Syracuse, June 20. Anyone wishing to attend please contact the president so she can make reservations for you.

The next meeting of the unit will be June 12th with the following committees: Program—Helen Mollenhour, Chr. Jean Rodibaugh and Dorothea Shaffer. Refreshment—Freda King, Chr., Donno Sanders and Wanda Simcoe.

DETROIT TO STAGE RIVER EVENTS DURING FESTIVAL

Detroit will be the capital city of American boating activities this summer. As a part of the city's 250th Birthday Festival, an elaborate program has been scheduled by the Aquatic Events committee, including sailing, rowing, and powerboat races of national and international interest.

All races will take place on the Detroit river, so that hundreds of thousands of spectators may watch them from famed Belle Isle park or from parks along the Detroit water front.

Commodore E. O. Bodkin, chairman of the committee, has announced the following calendar of events:

May 30—Annual outboard marathon from Detroit to Trenton, Michigan, an dreturn. More than 100 entries are expected in a race that will rival the famous Albany-New York race in excitement and number of entries.

July 7—Major inboard powerboat races, to include six classes ranging from 10 foot 48 cubic-inch puddle jumpers to unlimited hydroplanes capable of speeds well over 100 miles per hour. Among the unlimited class contenders will be many that raced in former Gold Cup and Harmsworth events, and several new craft. The closed course, a three-mile circuit, lies between Belle Isle and the city. The race has the sanction of the American Power Boat Association.

July 8—Sailing race and review, for all types and classes from the tiny nippers and snipes to the large Mackinac racing-class sloops and schooners. These races are usually held on Lake St. Clair far from shore, but this time they will be on the Detroit River between Belle Isle and the Ambassador bridge, within easy sight of spectators.

July 14-15—Rowing regatta, sponsored by the Detroit Boat Club, oldest on the continent, founded 112 years ago. In addition to Detroit entries, there will be a large contingent from the Canadian Association of Amateur Oarsmen, and probably from St. Louis, Minneapolis, Chicago, Buffalo and other rowing clubs of the Central States Association.

July 21-22—Two days of thrills and spills that mark outboard races. On the first day, Saturday, the racers will be stock utility runabouts—a new class recently given official status by the American Power Boat Association. Sunday will bring out the racing hydroplane powered with special "souped up" motors. Many of the leading drivers from Florida, Texas and the East and West coasts will be entered.

July 24—On the actual birthday anniversary of Detroit, there will be a mammoth powerboat marine parade possibly the largest assemblage and review of such craft ever held. Detroit alone should have 300 to 500 boats in the review and there will be others from Canada. In addition, craft of the United States Navy, Coast Guard and Corps of Engineers will take part, and possibly craft of the Canadian Navy.

from the American Association of University Women, Warsaw branch. This award made to one senior from all county high schools.

And while awards are in order, Mr. Burt should receive the award for the best wiggler among the teachers. Mr. Kent should have the sitting-on-nothing banner and Mr. Kelley the one for making hurried decisions. (Traveling alone must develop this unusual ability.)

No explanation is necessary to those who were privileged to attend the Commencement exercises, but to the absent ones perhaps a bit of explanation is in order. Education is broadening, but it was evident the high school teachers were not aware that it was catching. They marched into the room almost as dignified as the seniors, and with military precision started to settle into one front pew. They didn't all hit bottom, but found the landing area a bit crowded. It was still too short after Mr. Kelley quickly moved to another pew. Mr. Kent supported himself with a brave smile but was somewhat out of the lineup. Even after one other guest took refuge elsewhere things were a bit too cozy for anyone above the senior grade. Mr. Burt, we are told, twisted and wiggled for the entire program and yet there was no one there that would definitely say he ever touched the seat.

TRY BARE CASE AT

COLUMBIA CITY

The case of the Northern Indiana Co-Operative Association, of Mentone, against Raymond and Dorothy Bare, of Mentone, and Hobart Creighton, of Warsaw, as trustee, which was venued from Kosciusko County to Whitley county on May 2, is under way in the Whitley circuit court before Judge Lowell L. Pefley.

Gates and Gates, of Columbia City, represent the plaintiff, and Marshall Kizer, of Plymouth, is representing the defendants. The suit involves a note and mortgage on two lots in Bowman's addition to Mentone and asks for foreclosure.

P. T. A. NEWS

The last meeting of the current school year was held in the High school assembly on Wednesday evening, May 16.

Following the business session, Carroll Eller, incoming president gave a short review of the state convention.

Devotions were conducted by Joseph Jones, minister of the Church of Christ in which he emphasized true greatness comes through service to our fellow men.

A piano solo "May Night" by Rita Olson and a reading "Mama and the Graduation Present" by Mary Ellen Bryan were enjoyed by all.

Artley Cullum, chairman of the advisory council gave a report on the preliminary proceedings necessary concerning the erection of additional school facilities.

Mr. Kent had placed the report of the achievement tests in the eight grades on the blackboard so all could see them and perhaps plan where they might help their children overcome some trouble they might be having.

Mr. Burt reported on his occupation tests.

Mrs. Hoffman gave a very interesting account of the sewing. The exhibit of garments in the basement was proof of some of the fine work they have been doing. These girls are to be congratulated on their work which will no doubt be much help in their future homes. Mr. Kelley remarked briefly concerning his seventh grade arithmetic.

Miss Jorden reviewed her art work of the past year.

There were some very nice displays of the various types of art in the hall ways.

Mr. Law stressed the high points and aims of his history and commercial subjects.

A very interesting synopsis of the Senior trip was presented by their sponsor, Mr. Hoffman.

Last but not of least importance, Mr. Lash gave some very interesting projects of some of the individual students in his agricultural classes.

Mrs. Creighton installed the new officers that were present.

Mr. Eller read a list of his various committee chairmen, which are as follows:

You don't need to pay a dollar, or any other sum, to get full information about your rights under Social Security. It's yours for the asking at the Social Security office, either in printed booklet form or in direct, authoritative advice straight across the desk.

So says Gerald Kelver, manager of the local Social Security office, who is concerned about inquiries on a direct-mail promotion that has been soliciting local residents with offers of social security information in exchange for one dollar.

"The individuals behind this promotion scheme have no connection whatever with the Social Security Administration," said Mr. Kelver. "We have investigated their offer and find that the 'advice' they advertise consists solely of a small booklet, principally reprinted from the text of one of our pamphlets. There is no information in the booklet that is not available free of charge in our office.

"Furthermore, your social security office is the only place," said Mr. Kelver, "which can give you advice or information concerning your own specific account or claim under old-age and survivors insurance, the Federal Social Security program. You never need to employ legal aid or pay any fees to get complete service."

Mr. Kelver said he had just received supplies of the newest social security publication, a 48-page edition listed as Booklet 35. Containing a complete review of the new Social Security law, in easy-to-read language, it will be sent without charge upon request by mail or telephone, or may be picked up at the office, which is located in Room 222 of the Equity Building, Elkhart.

Word from Pvt. Lee Norris, from Ft. Hood, Texas, states that he has joined the track team there and came out first in the four-mile run. He made it in 29½ minutes. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Norris.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Pabyan, of Cleveland, Ohio, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bartels, of Liberty Center, Ohio, were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Barney Nellans and family. They were navy buddies in World War II.

A pot luck dinner was enjoyed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Jones and Mrs. Lizzie Morgan last Wednesday by Mrs. C. B. Cole, Mrs. Robert Cole, Joice Cole and Mrs. Union Oldfather of Elkhart, and Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Mentzer and daughter Annabel.

Is Your Good Grass Good Enough?

Every animal and bird needs minerals—

Every animal and bird you own needs minerals—of certain kinds—in definite quantities. Some pastures provide these minerals. Much pasture does not. Now your grass may be green and thick. But it can still be mineral-deficient. And that can mean slower gains, feed waste and poorer health.

Why take these chances when it's so easy and economical to feed Swift's Mineral Supplement? This one low-cost mineral supplement provides ten mineral elements vital to all livestock. Start feeding Swift's Mineral Supplement free choice all year 'round. It now comes in block or pulverized form. Because it contains only minimum requirements of salt, we recommend free-choice salt feeding in addition.

BANQUET HELD

The Women's Society of Christian Service held their annual Mother and Daughter banquet at the Methodist Church on May 17.

At a brief meeting in the sanctuary, the names of the Mystery Mothers were read and they accompanied their daughters to the beautifully decorated tables where a "carry in" dinner was enjoyed. Before returning to the sanctuary, group singing was lead by Mrs. Curtis Riner and the daughters were presented with gifts.

Mrs. Dan Urschell, at the opening of the program, announced those who served on various committees and gave them much praise and very deserving thanks for their cooperation and labor in planning and making the affair a success.

Mrs. Lyman Mollenhour gave a "welcome" to the daughters and Miss "Jackie" Blue responded for the guests.

As program chairman for the evening, the following persons were introduced by Mrs. David Gosser:

The girls' clarinet quartet from High School composed of Jody Cullum, Bonita Miner, Martha Creighton and Donna Jean Dillman favored with two groups of musical numbers.

A humorous "Mother's Angel Child" by Janet Rose Reed.

Marita Tucker sang a beautiful and appropriate Mother's Day song.

Shirley Cheng, a student from China, now attending North Manchester College talked about family life in her country. Her discussion pertained much about her personal life and she revealed many interesting things about customs, education, recreations and occupations in her land. During the evening she revealed that her brother who spoke to us a little over a year ago is continuing his studies at Columbia University.

The virus causing Newcastle disease in poultry is resistant to ordinary methods of disinfection.

Mr. and Mrs. George Gragg, of Etna Green; Mr. and Mrs. William Felber, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Strodel, of Fort Wayne; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Zent and Louise, Mr. Orton Zent, Carol Jean and Ronnie, of Rochester, were Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Zent.

Memorial Day Established

Gen. John A. Logan, son of Dr. John Logan, was born Feb. 9, 1826, in Jackson County, Illinois, near what was then called Brownsville.

General Logan was a general during the Civil War. Later, on May 5, 1868, when he was Commander-in-Chief of the G. A. R., he issued an order setting apart the 30th of May as a day in memory of the dead soldiers, who lost their lives to perpetuate this Union—a day in which to decorate their sacred graves and keep in mind their glorious deeds.

On June 22, 1868, General Logan introduced a resolution in the House of Representatives, for the adoption of this resolution; making Memorial day a legal national holiday.

(Gen. Logan was a first cousin of Mrs. Noble Oyler's grandfather.)

TRUSTS FOR CEMETERY CARE

Recently many cemetery associations have availed themselves of the establishment of trust funds for cemetery upkeep, and M. O. Mentzer, Mentone Clerk-Treasurer, states that such an arrangement has been in effect at the Mentone cemetery for some time.

Anyone desiring to contribute funds on a trust arrangement to help care for the cemetery, are welcomed to do so. Also, it is often customary to be-queath certain specified amounts in wills.

You'll be happy with that "New Home" sewing machine which you can purchase at Brown's Jewelry and Appliance Store.

FARM MORTGAGE LOANS — Inasmuch as we confine our farm mortgage lending largely to our own community our customers are afforded the privilege and convenience of coming to the bank and making payments on their loans at any time they may receive income from their farm operations. Many of the borrowers are taking advantage of our prepayment privilege and paying principal payments in advance. These payments are credited to the next succeeding installment on the loan which gives the borrower the benefit of the privilege of skipping principal payments, if he so desires or if his plans do not materialize, to the extent that he has prepaid. Interest ceases on all principal payments on the date of payment. While our contract interest rate is 5%, the savings effected under our liberal repayment terms reduces the cost of our loans below that of many other agencies that have a lower contract rate. We charge no commissions or appraisal fees and are in a position to extend the maturity date of the principal and interest payments to accommodate the needs of our borrowers. Consult us about your long term financing needs. We believe you will agree with us that our mortgage lending program offers many advantages. FARMERS STATE BANK, Mentone, Member Federal Deposit Corporation. tf

Pentagon Building

Construction of the Pentagon began in September, 1941, and was finished in January, 1943. The job normally would have required four years, but workmen operated around the clock. Pentagon employees numbered 33,000 in 1945, peak war year, and security regulations were stringent. Today only parts of the building are out-of-bounds to callers.

1951 Wheat Crop

The government support price for the 1951 wheat crop has been set at 90 per cent of parity to assure an abundant supply of wheat in accordance with acreage allotments.

Derrail

A derail or derailer is a device designed to guide cars, locomotives and other rolling stock off the rails at a selected location to avoid collision or other accidents. Derails are used principally on spur tracks or sidings to prevent cars from fouling main line track. They are rarely used on main line tracks except in connection with interlocking plants at railroad crossings.

Parasites, disease and unbalanced rations will retard the growth of pigs so much that they may sell for less than the cost of raising them.

CURE THE REASONS

A short time ago a plan to provide ample meat at stable prices for all consumers was presented to congressional leaders. It is called the "More Meat and How to Get It with a Common Sense Meat Program," and it is sponsored by a long list of national and regional organizations which represent farmers, ranchers, grain producers, meat packers and others—the people who grow, process and sell the nation's meat.

The plan is essentially a simple one. It recognizes the plain fact that price control cannot be effective and that it creates inflationary black markets, meat shortages and consumer rationing. By contrast with this, the plan advocates all-out production, careful use of meat supplies and sound anti-inflationary monetary and fiscal policies on the part of the government. As a press release states it, "Congress and the Federal Administration must strike at the causes of inflation and unsound dollars. Consumers must do their part with thrifty meat buying and use. It is good common sense to 'cure the reasons' for inflation."

The program emphasizes several specific objectives—to supply meat at prices in line with production costs; to guarantee the present and future meat needs of the country; to continue to provide meat by-products used in manufacturing such vital medicines as insulin and cortisone, and to remove the opportunity for chiselers and crooks to take over the meat business as they so largely did in OPA days. To accomplish these ends, the sponsoring organizations have been grouped together in task forces with recommendations for concrete action.

"This is the right kind of approach to the problem of inflation. It should do a great deal to focus the public mind on the causes of inflation instead of just the symptoms."

NOT QUITE GOOD ENOUGH

A short time ago a regional association of chain grocers held their annual meeting. Their theme was: "Nothing Quite Good Enough—It Must Be Better."

Though it may not have been expressed previously in those words, that has been the theme of typical American retailing, in all fields, for a great many years. Mentally compare a representative retail store today with one of 20 to 30 years ago. The differences are tremendous—in standards of service, in the variety and abundance of stocks, in the quality of advertising and displays, in sanitation and handling, and in every other way.

Moreover, contrary to the opinion of many of us, you now get more for your money than you used to, despite today's high prices. In other words, the average American breadwinner's take home pay has risen to a greater extent than have the prices of the things he uses, and his standard of living reflects this condition.

On top of that, retailing's profit and overhead costs on each dollar of business done is less now than in past times when the price level was much lower. That is the result of intense competition—and of a steady improvement in operating economy and efficiency.

The idea that nothing is quite good enough and it must be better, is representative of most business in our kind of economy. The businessman who stands still tempts the fates. Somewhere near-by a competitor is going ahead, and he'll get the business. The people still beat their way to the door of the man with the better mousetrap.

"We should remember . . . that excessive reliance on controls merely postpones many of the problems and distortions brought on by war economy. There is no substitute for raising enough taxes, cutting nonessential government expenditures and sound credit and public debt policies."—John K. Langum, Vice president, Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago.

BEAVER DAM CLUB MEETS

Dr. T. S. Shultz, county health officer, was guest speaker at the Beaver Dam Home Ec. club held last Wednesday afternoon in the Beaver Dam gym. An educational film rewarding cancer was shown by Dr. Shultz. He emphasized the early diagnosis and treatment of the disease.

Mrs. Wallace Andrews gave the health report. She discussed the use of pressure cookers and the many accidents due to the opening of the cooker before the pressure is reduced.

Mrs. Leonard Freed and Mrs. Carl Eaton gave the topic for meditation. One was an article regarding "Mother" and the other was taken from the book of Ruth. Sandra Summie and Lonni Kuhn entertained with a reading and Carolyn Dickey with a vocal solo.

Following a report by the president, Mrs. Ed. Creakbaum, it was decided to contribute to the fund for repairs on the women's building at the fair grounds.

A note was read from Mrs. Richard Moore, thanking the club for the handkerchief shower given her while she was in the hospital. Gifts were presented to secret pals and auction was held. Delicious refreshments were served to 29 members, 22 guests and two babies. Hostesses were Mrs. Merl Tucker, Mrs. Fred Blackburn and Mrs. Wm. Bowen.

The next meeting will be with Mrs.

Earl Meredith and Mrs. Flo Eller, and Mrs. Dorothy Cumberland assisting.

Eight hundreds ministers and laymen representing the northeastern Indiana Methodism met in Anderson on May 23-27, for the 108th annual session of the North Indiana conference.

The value of Methodist church buildings, equipment and property owned by Methodist churches in the conference was reported at $19,012,305.

$3,382,698 has been raised by the churches for all purposes this past year. Gifts to missionary enterprises totaled over a half million dollars.

$990,033 was expended for building improvements. The churches spent $673,377 for current expenses.

Indianapolis.—Louis Hiner, Jr., a newspaper reporter who quit after 53 days in an office of price stabilization job, said today it was "like working in quicksand."

There is no question but that many of the government theory programs conceived the past few years are beautiful in intent, but the problem always has, and always will be, that very few capable men and women are available to work on government jobs. With very few exceptions the only people who will work for the government are those who do not have the initiative, honesty or ability to make their own living in the business world. The government has some good employees, but like the WPA foreman said, "I've got about all the bad ones."

PAINTED BUNTING

The Painted Bunting looks like a small bird who had flown in the window of a paint factory and had splashed about in first one color and then another. You might think he had ducked his head in a bucket of purplish blue and let the drippings run down the back of his neck. Across his back, clear to the tail, is a broad daub of yellowish green. The upper part of his tail, is a dull red. To complete his paint job, he seems to have landed in a puddle of bright red, for that is the color of all his under parts.

National Wildlife Federation

His mate either failed to go with him, or she was more careful. Her upper parts are an olive green in color and beneath she is mostly a dull greenish yellow, with just one patch of clear yellow.

Though he is one of the most brightly feathered of all our birds, the Painted Bunting is a shy fellow. He hides away in bushes, thickets, and swamps, and is hard to find. If startled, he will dart into the open, then turn and plunge back into the nearest place of safety.

Even when singing his cheerful, warbling song, he rarely perches on the top of a bush. Instead he remains hidden, where he can be heard but not seen. It isn't difficult to hear him either, for his notes are bright and clear. They make you feel that he must be an energetic bird with a happy disposition.

The Painted Bunting not only works hard at his singing, reports the National Wildlife Federation, but he also takes great care in building his nest. After picking out a low bush or sapling in which to locate his nest, he begins to collect leaves, twigs, grass, strips of bark, and tiny dried roots. With these he forms a tightly woven nest which he lines with fine grasses or horse hair. In the newly built home are laid three to five small eggs. They are white, with reddish brown marks or blotches.

The Painted Bunting spends the nesting season anywhere within the area south of a line drawn between North Carolina and southern Kansas. Sometimes he ventures as far west as Arizona, but usually he stays in the southeastern part of the country. As winter approaches, the Buntings head southward. They may stop off in Florida and Louisiana, or push on to Mexico and Central America.

With the return of warm weather, they hurry back to their well hidden homes in the States. There, on hot summer days when the air seems too tired to move, the Painted Bunting lifts his breezy song.

At such times, observes the National Wildlife Federation, he really earns the other name by which he is known—the Nonpareil. This is a word which means "something of unequalled excellence," and it describes both his gaudy feathers and his pleasing song.

Interesting information about other wildlife species can be obtained by writing to the National Wildlife Federation, Washington, D. C.

ANOTHER UNSIGNED ARTICLE.

Another reader has sent us a clipping from a Fort Wayne newspaper, but failed to sign his name. It was a little poem about the "Little Men In Washington," written by a member of the Indiana House of Representatives. It mentions "They are vulgar of manner, overfed, Overdressed and underbred. . . . Rude by day and lewd by night. Bedwarfed the man, and large the brute, Of every virtue destitute. Crazed by avarice, graft and rum. . . ."

As is newspaper custom, we could not print the poem without knowing the contributor's name.

JOIN THE PINT OF BLOOD PARADE

If you are interested in joining the Pint Parade, donate a pint of your blood to the American Red Cross. Twenty pints of whole blood taken in Kosciusko county May 17 were included in the shipment that left the Fort Wayne Red Cross regional blood center recently. It was flown from Baer Field to Travis Air Force Base, Fairfield, California, then it was put aboard an army transport plane and was scheduled to reach Korea 72 hours later.

Donors are urgently needed for June 7th. You can help save the lives of our fighting men if you sign a donor pledge card now. Pledge cards may be had at Ward's Paint Store or Iris Anderson.
