C. of C. Membership Drive

The Mentone Chamber of Commerce is now conducting its annual membership drive. Dues statements have been mailed to present members by John Miller, chairman of the membership and Dues Committee.

During 1956, the first year of the Chamber of Commerce, there were 48 dues paying members. It is hoped that the membership will be increased in 1957. Membership is open to all persons, firms, or corporations interested in promoting commerce in the Mentone area. Because of the impossibility of personally contacting everyone, a membership application blank is printed elsewhere in this edition. Persons desiring to join the Chamber of Commerce should fill in the application blank and mail it to John Miller at Mentone. Membership dues are $15.00 annually.

James E. Rodibaugh, President of the Chamber of Commerce, announces he has made committee appointments for 1957 and a list of committees is being mailed with the dues statements to all members. He reports that the Chamber of Commerce will proceed with the program initiated last year to attract one or more small industries to locate at Mentone.

Mentone Telephone Users Putting Akron Fire Department on the Run

The Akron telephone exchange was recently changed over to a new dial operation, and those on the Mentone exchange were given new directories containing information on how to make a call to Akron.

Akron is set up so it can be eventually included in the long-distance dialing circuits, and the exchange has been given the station designation of Twining, and the prefix TW appears before all the numbers. Formerly Mentone people dialed "893" to get the Akron line and then dialed the Akron number. If you will notice "893" and "TW3" are the same on your telephone dial. The new temporary directory requested Mentone people to dial "TW3" to get the Akron line and then dial the four-digit number of the Akron party.

They will go to New York Tuesday morning for two days of sight-seeing in the big city. On Wednesday evening they will go to Washington, D. C. where two more enjoyable days will be spent seeing some of the major attractions. The return trip will bring them back to Mentone at 12:45 Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Frederick will accompany the ten girls and eighteen boys on the trip.

Mr. Frederick extended a fine compliment to the seniors when he announced that fund-raising projects throughout the school year had provided sufficient funds to pay for the trip.

AT JEANETTE'S

Miss Sandra Ballenger is now employed at Jeanette's Beauty Shop. She is a graduate of the Warner Beauty College of Fort Wayne.

Mrs. Mollenhour is now working at the DeLuxe Cleaners getting acquainted with the various operations in the plant. Her husband, Lyman, has been a member of the DeLuxe personnel for many years, and present plans are that they will have full operation of the plant in September.

MUSHROOMS ARE WHERE YOU FIND THEM

Mrs. Ora McKinley did not find it necessary to travel to the woods to get a mess of mushrooms. She gathered 42 of them in her own yard.

"Corny" Wallace was drifting about Tuesday with an old fashioned market basket about a third full of mushrooms he ran onto while looking over some logs in the woods. He didn't have a utensil in which to carry them, so he just stuffed them inside his shirt for safe keeping—he said.

Undoubtedly there are many other fine mushrooms stories if one were fortunate enough to hear about them.

BUY PROPERTY

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Bowerman have moved into the former Clark Ernsberger property which they recently purchased. The Bowerman family has been residing in Etna Green. Mr. Bowerman is manager of the Red Comet Pioneer Mill in Mentone.

More Gain From Wet Corn

High moisture ground ear corn produced more economical gains than regular ground ear corn when fed to fattening heifers, Indiana cattle feeders meeting at Purdue University heard Friday.

W. M. Beeson, head of animal nutrition work at Purdue, said, "heifers fed on the high moisture percent less corn to produce a pound of gain than the heifers fed on regular ground ear corn."

The cost of feed per pound of gain was reduced one cent by feed high moisture ground ear corn, Beeson said.

The high moisture ear corn used in the Purdue trial contained 32.5 percent water and was ensiled in an airtight silo. Beeson said "ensiling offers another method for preserving ear corn to retain its feeding value."

Results of the experiment confirms previous data when steers fed on high moisture ground ear corn required less corn to produce a pound of gain at lower feed costs.

Also compared in the experiment was the feeding value of "dynafac," a new chemical made from fatty acid derivatives and other chemicals, and Torula yeast, commonly termed wood yeast.

Beeson reported that "either the feeding of one gram of 'dynafac' or .10 pound of Torula yeast per heifer daily did not cause any significant increase in daily gain."

Beeson and other Purdue animal husbandmen reported on results of a number of experiments that morning during the annual Indiana Cattle Feeders' Day at the University's new research barn.

R. L. Burns told the cattle feeders that results of the first 158 days of a trial with steers showed "soybean meal to be unsatisfactory as compared to mixed supplement for maximum gain in cattle self-fed on ground ear corn."

Steers on soybean meal gained an average of 1.83 pounds daily compared to average daily gains ranging from 2.19 to 2.47 for steers on Purdue Supplement A.

"Although the cattle fed the straight soybean meal made very efficient gains and relatively cheap gains, they had less finish than those fed on mixed supplements," Burns said.

"Actually the soybean meal-fed cattle are decreasing in gains, feed efficiency and quality as the feeding period progresses," the animal husbandman concluded.

T. W. Perry reported on the value of legume, wheat and oat silage for wintering steer calves. He said calves fed all the silage they would eat, plus three pounds of ground shelled corn and a pound of Purdue Supplement A (without antibiotic) gained from 1.39 to 1.96 pounds per day over the wintering period.

The feeding of 80 milligrams of Terramycin per animal daily resulted in increased gains of from six to twelve percent. Most economical gains were obtained when the alfalfa silage was fed, but cattle fed oats silage gained almost as economically.

F. N. Andrews disclosed that the feeding of 10 milligrams of stilbestrol per heifer daily, of the single implantation of 36 milligrams in pellet form or 24 or 36 milligrams or hexestrol pellets significantly increased the rate of gain. However, a serious problem, prolapse of the vagina, was encountered in 8 of 24 heifers implanted with stilbestrol.

Full Feed Hogs For Fast Gain

Hogs "full fed" throughout the fattening period make the fastest and most economical gains, a Purdue University swine specialist has advised Hoosier pork producers.

Richard Hollandbeck says full feeding shortens the time required to get pigs ready for market. It reduces labor and permits March and September pigs to hit the high market.

If pigs are on pasture, they should be fed a complete mixed ration until they weigh 70-75 pounds. A gradual switch then to shelled corn and protein supplement should be made. Shelled corn and protein supplement feeding can be started at 50 pounds for pigs on concrete.

Some producers feed a combination of ground feed and whole grain. Under this plan a 6-2-2 (six parts corn, two parts oats or wheat and 2 parts protein supplement) pig starter of a 7-2-1 mixture is fed up to market weight. At the same time, the pigs receive a full feed of shelled or ear corn and have free access to protein supplement in a self-feeder.

When fed in this manner, Hollandbeck says hogs make excellent gains and reach market more quickly.

It seldom pays to grind feed for hogs after they reach 50 pounds. Faster gains are usually made on ground feed with less protein supplement but the advantage is rarely great enough to pay for the cost of grinding.

LADIES HAVE LUNCHEON IN FORT WAYNE

To celebrate Home Demonstration week the following ladies were guests of WOWO, Ft. Wayne for a tour and a luncheon at the Hobby House:

Mrs. Raymond Lewis, Mrs. W. Bowser, Mrs. Dick Gross, Mrs. Wendell Bryant, Mrs. Delbert Nelson, Mrs. Jim Miller, Mrs. Eugene Sarber, Mrs. Elmer Sarber, Mrs. Clayton Holloway, Mrs. David Cooper and Mrs. Don Bennett.

Youth Plus Speed

To others he boasted, the speed of his car. How long it did take him to get here from there. Not mindful of danger, no regard for the law. This youngster grew up with an inherent flaw.

Why did he do it, why did he pass? Was it the training, was it the class? Too late now for us ever to know. But one thing is sure, the speed wasn't slow.

"Had he been dreaming?" you might ask. Had he been drinking from a flask? Regardless of reason, the result was the same. He died in the wreckage, his clothes all aflame.

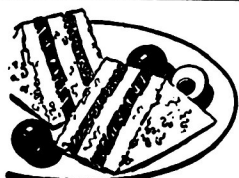

The risks he'd been taking were pointed out. But his driving ability, he did not doubt. So on he sped again and again. Not stopping to think what could happen to him.

So now they are mourning for this gay lad. Recalling they'd said, "he wasn't so bad". Perhaps he wasn't, in his own youthful way. But we must have failed or he'd be here today.

What can be done, to make the young see That a car should be driven, not recklessly. If we'd all do our share to help set them right, It might have prevented that bad wreck last night.

To the young it is hard to well understand That both danger and speed go hand in hand; But if only somehow we can teach them to see The needless causes of such tragedy.

In some respects, it might have been worse. There could have been more that needed the hearse; No more can be said now, at this late date, Except in a car, you steer your own fate.

Poem From The Past

The following poem was printed in the Sanders Fifth Reader, published 105 years ago.

INDIAN HUNTER

By Eliza Cook

Oh! Why does the white man follow my path,
Like the herend on the tiger's track?

Does the flush on my dark cheek waken his wrath,
Does he covet the bow at my back?

He has rivers and seas where the billows and breeze
Bear riches for him alone;
And the sons of the wood never plunge in the flood,
Which the white man calls his own.

Then why should he come to the streams where none
But the red man dares to swim?
Why, why should he wrong the hunter, one
Who never did harm to him?

The Father above thought fit to give

The white man corn and wine;
There are golden fields where he may live,
But the forest shades are mine.

And the spirit that gave the bird its nest,
Made me a home as well.

Then back! Go back from the red man's track.

To find that the white man wrongs the one
Who never did harm to him.

Married Recently

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wayne Kirkham are pictured here following their marriage solemnized by the brother of the bride, Rev. Richard Lee Ummel at the Akron Church of God.

Mrs. Kirkham is the former Joan Marie Ummel, daughter of Mrs. Edith Ummel, Route 1, Claypool. Mr. and Mrs. William Kirkham of Greencastle, Indiana are the parents of Mr. Kirkham.

A musical prelude of organ selections was played by Mrs. Artley Cullum of Mentone. Rev. Harold Conrad, pastor of the Akron Church, sang "Always" just before the bride came down the aisle. After the bride and groom exchanged the wedding vows, Rev. Conrad sang "The Lord's Prayer," and "True Love," the bride and groom's favorite song.

Four baskets of deep red roses which were the bride's favorite flower, formed the background before which the double ring ceremony was performed.

The bride was attended by Miss Janet Rose Reed of Mentone, Indiana. She wore a ballerina length gown of pale blue net over taffeta. Her strap shoes and head piece were of identical color to her dress. Her corsage was of red roses and white carnations. She carried a pale blue silk handkerchief.

The flower girls were little Patsey Jo and Maxine Ruth Hines of Fort Wayne, nieces of the bride. Their little identical dresses were of pale blue cotton. They carried baskets of rose petals and wore sweetheart rose wristlets.

The tiny ring bearer, Rickey Lee Ummel, nephew of the bride, wore a navy jacket and light trousers. A baby boutonniere was pinned to his lapel.

J. Max Ummel, brother of the bride, attended the groom as best man.

Kenneth Wagner of Warsaw and William Alexander of Greencastle seated the 300 guests.

L. Stanley Ummel, escorted his sister to the altar. Her gown was a nylon tulle over white taffeta. The bodice of chantilly lace was fashioned with a high neckline which was trimmed in tiny white satin ribbon. The sleeves of the same material extended to points over the hands. Rows of Chantilly lace were appliqued to the overskirt of nylon tulle. Her finger-tip veil was caught to a taffeta ribbon head piece.

The bride's mother wore a navy blue silk rayon dress and white accessories. The mother of the groom wore a dark navy blue dress with white accessories. They both wore a corsage of white carnations.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the basement of the church. Lois Knouff served the 3 tiered wedding cake. Also Phyllis Ummel, Carol Hines, Suince Hake, Barbara Hyde, Doris Netzey, Dolores Knouff and Lillie Dorsey helped with the serving of the guests.

When leaving for their wedding trip the bride chose a white flocked nylon dress. A coral coat and navy accessories.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wayne Kirkham will reside at 212 W. Washington St., Greencastle, Indiana.

Spring Days Spur 4-H'ers in Home, Yards Projects

In the spring a young home-maker's fancy turns to thoughts of a bright new look for house and yard. Right now 4-H Club members here are dreaming up ways and means to transform drab, out-of-date surroundings into cheerful modern areas that are functional as well as decorative.

Mrs. Walgreen

To help make their dreams come true are two popular 4-H programs: Beautification of Home Grounds, and Home Improvement. Members may begin with a simple project like a small flower bed, and in a few years learn enough to landscape the entire grounds. Home interiors benefit from newly acquired skills that range from making pretty sofa pillows to redecorating several rooms.

Besides the satisfaction of having accomplished something that can be enjoyed by family and friends, the boys and girls have an opportunity to compete for valuable awards when their projects are completed. For outstanding accomplishment in beautification of home grounds, state winners will receive a 19-jewel wrist watch from Mrs. Charles R. Walgreen, Chicago, who has donated awards in this program for 20 years. Eight national champions will be her guests during the 4-H Club Congress next December.

State winners in home improvement will attend the Club Congress, while six national winners will each receive a $100 college scholarship. The Sears-Roebuck Foundation provides these awards. Medals of honor are awarded four outstanding club members in each county in both programs.

Information regarding enrollment may be obtained from the local 4-H Club leader or the County Extension agent.

Treat Corn For Pest Control

Cool, wet springs which slow corn germination encourage attacks of insect pests such as seed-corn maggot, corn-seed beetles and wireworms. But, a Purdue University entomologist reports, they can be controlled easily and inexpensively.

George E. Gould recommends treating the seed with dieldrin, heptachlor or lindane before planting as a control measure. Dieldrin and heptachlor in the 50 percent wettable powder form can be applied at the rate of three ounces per bushel of seed. Twenty-five percent lindane can be used at the rate of four ounces per bushel.

These materials can be mixed in a tight container before the seed is poured into the planter boxes. Or the mixing can be done in the planter boxes, when they are filled or refilled with seed.

BIRTH OF A TORNADO occurs when a cold and a warm air mass collide, and the heavier cold air is deflected above the lighter warm air. In this topsy-turvy situation, a tongue of cold air dips into the warm air, which in turn moves upward to fill the void thus created. As the warm air rushes upward in a spiral motion, other warm air is sucked upward from lower levels, until the ground is reached. The funnel is made visible by condensing moist air, dirt and debris. As the twister leaves its trail, Red Cross, civil defense and other public services rush in to care for victims, while the Federal Civil Defense Administration stands ready with financial aid to assist in temporary repair of devastated public facilities in a major disaster. (Courtesy A. Leydenfrost and the New York Times Magazine)

The insecticides also can be applied as a slurry, Gould says. A proper amount of powder can be placed in a small quantity of water—about three-fourths of a pint for a bushel of seed. This mixture then should be poured over the seed, which has been placed on a concrete floor, and mixed with a shovel. The kernels should then be spread out and allowed to dry before planting.

Maggots or seed beetles feed on or otherwise come in contact with the insecticide which also will reduce wireworm populations. Gould suggests that better method for wireworms, which attack young corn plants, is a mixture of heptachlor or aldrin in starter fertilizer or an overall soil treatment. Soil treatment is done by spraying the chemicals on the surface and working them into the soil immediately.

Corn rootworms are found in Indiana, but seldom are a serious threat except in individual fields. A fertilizer-insecticide mixture applied at planting time or an over-all soil treatment prior to planting constitute the best control methods.

Gould advises farmers to watch for signs of cutworm damage after the corn comes up. Some cutworms chew the plants at ground level while others work below the soil surface. Either one-third gallon of toxaphene or one-sixth gallon of dieldrin should be applied per acre according to the manufacturer's recommendations.

Further information is contained in mimeos E-39, "Wireworm Control," and E-49, "Insecticide—Fertilizer Mixtures for Control of Soil Insects," available free to Indiana residents from county agricultural agents and the office of agricultural publications at Purdue.

Oats pasture will furnish spring grazing for the dairy herd if permanent or rotated pastures are short. The length of the grazing season, report Purdue University dairymen, is not too long but it does give permanent pastures a chance to get a start.

Poultrymen at Purdue University say to "use the proper size feeders for your growing flock of chickens. Small, chick size feeders when used too long cause an inexcusable waste of feed."

The Midwest's MOST MODERN Fertilizer

You'll like Smith-Douglass fertilizers — modern in every way; modern in their high solubility, modern in their analysis (including 6-24-24, 14-14-14, 6-40-0, and 7-28-14) and modern in their free flowing, pelleted form.

FREE FLOWING

Smith-Douglass fertilizers flow freely through any equipment — they are unaffected by normal winds. And the complete analysis is in each pellet.

WORK FASTER

Smith-Douglass fertilizers work faster because of higher solubility. They work more efficiently because they are in a new pellet form.

LOWER UNIT COST

Smith-Douglass fertilizers mean more units of plant food per dollar, fewer bags to lift, and less time lost filling the fertilizer hoppers.

Interesting Facts Revealed

M. O. Mentzer recently submitted to the following to your editor:

Here are some observations that I have made in the past few weeks as deputy assessor for Mentone (Harrison township). I thought that Mentone citizens especially would be interested.

The figures are approximate:

Business places 26
Homes maintained 206
Population 531
Automobiles 169
Television sets 128
Dogs 81
Retired families 22
Widows 40
Widowers 4.

Homes are in very good state of repair and most are very comfortably furnished. Three-fourths of the homes have electric refrigerators and telephones, all have electric lights and almost all have city water connections.

I think you will find people here are in most cases, happy to live in a town like Mentone where our problems are not difficult, our young people are surrounded by clean living and have the advantages of fine churches and schools. Our tax rate is one of the lowest in the county, and living expenses need not be too high as we do not have to "keep up with the Joneses."

MAHLON O. MENTZER.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to extend our heartfelt thanks to everyone for the many kindnesses extended to us during the death and burial of our loved one, and also the many helps and words of encouragement given us during her long illness.

Passenger Plane Runs Away

Emerson Zolman was in our office today and showed us a news story about a Mackey Airlines plane that ran into their fire department headquarters shack at 6:55 Thursday morning.

Mr. Zolman is a member of the fire department at Pinellas International Air Force Base at St. Petersburg, Florida, and came to Indiana at the invitation of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Clark of Mishawaka. Mr. and Mrs. Clark had spent the winter in Florida and offered Mr. Zolman a free trip if he would come along and do the driving.

The DC-4 plane, scheduled to take off for Havana, was being checked out by a mechanic, while another was on the ground removing some of the wheel blocks, but not the one under the nose wheel. While the mechanic was revving his motors and watching the instruments, the giant ship crawled over the nose chock and started moving. When he looked up things were going by rather fast and the 21x33 fire department shack was dead ahead—and on one side was a row of barracks and the other a row of high priced airplanes. He applied all brakes and attempted to miss the shack, but failed. One man in the shack saw the plane coming and dashed away just as the props chewed into the wooden structure.

Although the building was a complete wreck, no one was injured and less than ten thousand dollars damage was suffered by the $800,000 airplane. The mechanic was praised for his decision and the airlines officials were pleased that the faulty brakes were found before a landing was attempted while loaded with passengers.

Mr. Zolman's crew of firemen were not scheduled to go to work until eight o'clock, so they missed the affair by an hour and five minutes, although they did have almost a full day getting things unhitched.

This was the first accident for the airlines in five years of operation and 65 million passenger miles of flying.

Soybean Varieties

Maturity, crop rotation and the number of acres to be grown are considerations when choosing which variety of soybean to plant.

Officials of the Indiana Crop Improvement Association at Purdue University say seed should germinate 80 percent or better, contain less than two percent splits or foreign material and be varietally pure before it is considered eligible for the blue certification tag.

One of the eight well-adapted varieties recommended by Purdue agronomists for Indiana should be planted, according to the Association officials. The four leading varieties in the 1956 certification program were Clark, Harosoy, Hawkeye and Lincoln. Other yellow varieties which meet special needs are two very early ones, Mandarin and Blackhawk, and two that are later maturing, Wabash and Perry.

Nearly one-half of the 56 contestants in the Association's 1956 5-acre contest grew the newest improved soybean variety for southern Indiana—Clark.

Harosoy, another recently developed variety which matures two weeks earlier than Clark, was used by approximately one-fifth of the contestants.

A moderate supply of Indiana certified seed of the eight varieties is available from local Indiana certified seed producers and seed dealers.

Proper Mowing Is Important

Proper mowing and fertilizing are probably the most important elements in maintaining a good lawn, says a Purdue University turf specialist.

W. H. Daniel points out that it makes little difference what kind of mower—hand mower, power reel mower or rotary-type power mower—is used. But the blades should be sharp enough to cut the grass cleanly without bruising and tearing the leaves.

Rotary mower blades require frequent sharpening, which can be done with a steel file. On reel type mowers both the cutting edge of the bedknife and the reel blades should be sharp. Monthly filing of the front edge of a bedknife can aid in easy cutting. The reel should be set close enough against the bedknife to assure a clean cut. If it "sings" it is too tight. If a slip of newspaper is creased or cut that is proper snugness.

Cool season grasses, such as bluegrass and fescues, should be mowed to a height of about two inches. Closer mowing especially in hot weather, will weaken or even kill these grasses, says Daniel.

All mowers can be adjusted for height of cut. On most rotary mowers, height of cut is fixed by adjusting the wheels in holes or slots on the mower frame, or moving the blade up on its spindle. On reel-type mowers, adjustment of the roller usually determines the height of cut. Adjustments should be made and checked on a flat surface such as a concrete walk or floor with a ruler.

Whatever the height of the lawn, frequent mowing is important to avoid cutting too much top at one time, Daniel asserts. Too heavy a cut is a shock to the grass plants, slowing their growth. If a small amount of topgrowth is removed at one time, the clippings can be left to disintegrate and add beneficial organic matter to the soil. Heavy clippings may be removed or recut to avoid smothering the grass.

Daniel reminds homeowners that most lawns respond to fertilization. Spring and fall are preferred but with new forms of pelleted fertilizer and non-burning forms light applications can be made whenever denser turf is desired.

Spittlebug Population High

The common meadow spittlebug is reaching an all-time high in Indiana on alfalfa and clover, according to Dr. John V. Osmun, head of Purdue University's entomology department.

Osmun said the insect sucks the juices from the plants causing stunting and abnormal growth.

Counts on the insect are now running five or six per stem in southern Indiana and two per alfalfa stem in northern Indiana. If this condition is allowed to continue, loss to pasture and hay crops will likely run as high as 50 percent.

Fortunately, this condition can be stopped, adds Osmun, if prompt chemical treatment is applied now. If spittlebugs are averaging one or more per stem, treatment is warranted. Right now is the best time to treat with insecticides since the young spittlebugs are most susceptible to the chemical.

Apply heptachlor at 1½ pints of emulsifiable concentrate per acre in a suitable amount of water. If the crop is still small ground equipment can be used, but well developed fields will require airplane application. Treated fields should not be pastured or cut for at least seven days.

Benzene hexachloride (BHC) at two pints of 11 percent concentrate per acre has long been used successfully, but there should be about 30 days between spray application and harvest to reduce the residue hazard.

The tiny spittlebug nymphs which now are hatching are shiny but difficult to see in the axils of the leaves. They will soon develop and form a frothy mass known as spittle. "For best protection of the crops, treat with insecticide now, advises the Purdue specialist. Keep in touch with your county agent," he added.

High Corn Yields

High corn yields depend on good field stands.

Basis for good stands are the use of high germinating seed treated against soil-borne diseases, proper planter plates, speed of planting, correct fertilizer placement and soil temperatures.

Indiana Crop Improvement Association officials at Purdue University point out that all certified hybrid corn seed must germinate at least 90 percent and be treated against disease.

Most seed firms provide planter plate recommendations for the different grades of seed corn. Alert farmers, however, carefully check their plates by planting some seed on the top of the ground to make certain the corn is dropping at the correct rate.

Although some planters are made for planting at fast speeds many older machines are not capable of planting accurately at relatively high speed, a little extra time planting may mean extra bushels at harvest.

Purdue agronomists warn that large amounts of high analysis fertilizer placed close to the seed can injure field stands. The split boot on the planter keeps moderate amounts of starter fertilizer at a safe distance from the seed. Newer equipment places the fertilizer two inches to the side and slightly deeper than the seed.

In cool, wet seasons the soil temperature can also be a major factor. Corn will germinate very slowly when the soil temperature is no higher than 50 degrees.

James E. Newman, Purdue agronomist, recommends checking soil temperatures for several successive days between 7 and 8 a. m. to determine desirable planting temperatures. He recommends an average of 53-54 degrees for clay soils, 50-52 degrees for loam soils and 48-50 degrees for sandy soils. Farmers planting grain sorghums will need a soil temperature which averages about 10 degrees higher than that necessary for good corn germination.

CARD OF THANKS

This is one way to tell all you wonderful people how grateful I am for your kind cooperation during my drive for Goodwill Industries last week. It is only with your help that it was a success. Please accept my humble thanks along with those of 70 other handicapped people. Thank you from the bottom of my heart.

Local Farmers To Attend World Farm Meet At Purdue

Several thousand Farm Bureau members throughout Indiana are making plans to attend a unique "10th Anniversary Celebration" program of the International Federation of Agricultural Producers to be held at the Hall of Music, Purdue University, Sunday afternoon, 2:30 o'clock, May 19.

IFAP, a worldwide general farm organization, is composed of 43 national agricultural organizations, including the Farm Bureau, from 28 nations. This is the first time IFAP has held a meeting in the United States. Indiana farmers are taking advantage of the fact the meetings will be held at Purdue University.

Although most of the sessions are planned for official delegates, the "10th Anniversary Celebration" program on Sunday afternoon, May 19, is open to all interested persons. President Hassel E. Schenck of the Indiana Farm Bureau will be an official delegate representing the American Farm Bureau Federation.

Mrs. Guy Gross of Churubusco, a leader in the women's department of the Indiana Farm Bureau, will be an official delegate representing the Associated Country Women of the World.

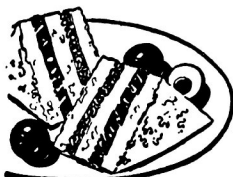

Special international music for the Sunday afternoon program has been planned and will be given by the famous Purdue University Glee Club and the Indiana Home Demonstration Choruses. Short talks will be given by Governor Harold Handley, President F. L. Hovde of Purdue, Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson, IFAP President John Andrew of New Zealand, and Dr. B. R. Sen, director-general of the U. N. Food and Agriculture Organization, located in Rome.

President Schenck has notified all county and township Farm Bureau presidents in Indiana about the international farm meeting and has urged each to make plans to attend the "10th Anniversary Celebration." It is hoped that several car loads of Farm Bureau members will form caravans in each county for the trip to the International farm meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Mollenhour and son spent Sunday visiting with a friend in Chicago.

Goodwill

Realizing that many busy housewives were unable to have their spring housecleaning finished in time for the recent Goodwill Drive which was conducted by Audrey Miller, she has arranged to have the Goodwill truck visit the area again later in the spring.

Anyone having articles for Goodwill or needing Goodwill bags should call 2389 Tippecanoe. The same type articles are still needed which include all types of clothing.

Remember—this is National Goodwill Week—so remember Goodwill. A definite date in June for the pick-up will be announced later.

Spray Over The Row

Pre-emergence applications of herbicides to control weeds in crops are gaining in popularity, according to a Purdue University extension botanist.

O. C. Lee points out that many of the new chemicals for pre-emergence application are expensive. But, he says the cost of treatments can be greatly reduced by spraying over the row—in row crops—rather than overall.

A pre-emergence material that would cost $12 an acre if applied to cover the entire area could be applied in bands over the row for about one-fourth the cost.

Such treatments will check weed growth in the row where the cultivator will not reach. Thus, says Lee, a combination of cultivation between the rows and the chemical treatment appears to be the most economical. Corn, soybeans and tomatoes are crops where the "over row" treatment is practical—especially in extremely weedy fields.

Most successful for pre-emergence applications are attachments that can be placed on the planter. A single nozzle can be attached and adjusted to apply a band over the row. A 12-inch band is usually sufficient to cover the row. By such an arrangement planting and spraying can be done in a single operation.

An ordinary boom type field sprayer may be used to apply over the row treatment after the crop has been planted. If pre-emergence type materials are used they must be applied between planting and emergence of the crop plants.

Control Of Ants In The Lawn

Ants in lawns are easily controlled, says Glen Lehker, Purdue University extension entomologist.

A single application of chlordane generally will kill the pests for the entire season. At the same time it will also eliminate grubs, wireworms, cutworms and other soil-dwelling insects.

The newest method of applying chlordane, says Lehker, is to purchase it in granular form and apply with a fertilizer spreader. Four and one-half pounds of the granulated material are required for each 1,000 square feet of lawn.

Those who wish to spray can purchase chlordane at a 45 percent concentrate. One-half pint of the concentrate, mixed with three gallons of water and sprayed over 1,000 square feet will deposit the right amount of chlordane.

Whether the insecticide is spread or sprayed, it must be washed into the turf with additional water from the garden hose. There is no danger of burning or otherwise injuring the grass, says Lehker.

Ant mounds can be treated by sprinkling, spraying or dusting them with any of the chlordane preparations made for use on plants. The simple way is to sprinkle the mounds with the chlordane granules or with a 10 percent dust or a 40 percent powder. Here again the chemical must be washed into the mound for best results.

Details of any control are set out in extension mimeo E-22, available without charge to Indiana residents at county agents' offices.

Here's a tip from Purdue University horticulturists: Permit leaves to remain but cut off the seed pods of tulip, narcissus and other bulb-type plants that have completed flowering for best development.

Scout-O-Rama
On May 24

On May 24th at Elkhart's North Side Gym, 3000 Scouts will be assembling with their exhibits and demonstrations for the Scout-o-Rama, the biggest event ever undertaken by the Pioneer Trails Council. Boys from all phases of Scouting are taking part, including Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, and Explorers from the three county area. The counties included are: Elkhart, Kosciusko and LaGrange.

The theme of the Scout-O-Rama is "Onward for God and My Country." Its purpose is to show the people of the council area the tremendous job done in the scouting movement, and to express appreciation for the support given to Scouting by local United or Community Funds Organizations.

The General Chairman of the Scout-o-Rama, Mr. Ed Walenko of Elkhart, stated that he wants to emphasize the purpose of this undertaking, to be sure that the public knows it is open to all. He stated, "The Scout-o-Rama can be a success only if it is well attended by the general public. This is not a Scout program for Scouts; but a program by Scouts for all people in the three county area. Everyone is urged to attend. A very small admission charge is designed to keep no one away. The charge is made to partially cover the expense, not to make money for Scouting."

Awarded Contract For Bus Building

Awarded contract for bus building

Trustee H. Earl Boggs announces that the Mentone Lumber Company has been awarded the contract for building a new school bus building at the Mentone school. The contract price was $9,013 and the bid was accepted at a meeting of the trustee and advisory board Friday, May 3.

The 124x40 cement block structure will be located northeast from the new gym and across the drive. One side of the unit will be all overhead doors.

Talma Rod and Gun Club to Meet

The members of the Talma Rod and Gun Club will meet at the Talma High School Gym on Monday evening, May 20 at 7:30.

Conservation Officer, Ray Reker, will show two interesting pictures at this meeting. The following pictures will be shown. Day in Court. This film can save lives—maybe ours. Its an important dramatic story of traffic safety with an unexpected challenge to all drivers, you must see it.

The second picture is entitled Case of Officer HalliBrand. Realism and tragedy mark this tense traffic safety drama about a typical traffic policeman warning that careless drivers must be stopped. This meeting will be in charge of the new President, Claude Jameson. Refreshments will be served to members. The public is invited to attend this meeting.

EXPERIMENTING

Four pages of this issue of the News has been printed by a different process than usual. Recently the Country Print Shop installed two "offset" presses, and the necessary camera and related equipment.

The entire process is new to all of us here, and it will likely be some time before we will feel free to announce that "we know what we're doing." We hope, however, to eventually bring you more and better printed pictures and an occasional "new idea" or two.

NO FLIGHT TODAY

... Curious air passengers at Pinellas International Airport observe a wrecked firehouse that abruptly halted a runaway ground trip of a giant DC airliner that was to fly them to Nassau.

The above picture, taken from the St. Petersburg (Fla.) Times, shows the fire station where Emerson Zolman is employed at the Pinellas International Airport, after a DC-4 ran into it. The story was printed in our last issue, which explained that the airplane was being ground tested before a flight to Nassau, when it jumped the wheel chocks and ran into the building.

It takes starter fertilizer in the row to speed up a corn plant's growth from germination to the "knee high" stage, report Purdue University agronomists. The seedling stage is vital because it contains partial development of all the leaves, root system, buds, nodes and tassels that the plant will ever have.

Pasture For Hogs

Cost required to fatten hogs for market can be reduced by turning the animals on a good legume pasture.

Richard Hollandbeck, Purdue University extension swine specialist, reports that a good legume pasture will save from 2-5 percent of the grain and 15-20 percent of the protein supplement required by growing and fattening hogs.

Good pasture also furnishes essential vitamins, minerals, proteins and other nutrients which make for healthy pigs.

An acre of good legume pasture will carry 20 hogs, which are full fed grain and supplement, from weaning to market.

According to Hollandbeck, Ladino clover is unexcelled as a hog pasture. Red clover, alfalfa and lespedeza also make good pasture. Birdsfoot trefoil, a new legume in Indiana, is showing promise of being another good legume for hog pasture.

Sudan grass will make suitable emergency pasture for hogs during the hot summer months if it is kept clipped and does not get over knee high.

When growing fattening hogs are on pasture they should be fed protein supplement free choice. If the supplement is mixed with the grain, the hogs are often forced to eat more protein than they require.

MAIL BOX IMPROVEMENT WEEK

The third week of May has been designated as rural mail box improvement week, and Byron Nellans, Mentone route man, is again reminding his patrons that it would be a good time to take a little check on the mail box situation and see what could be done to have everything in the best of shape.

"Barney" is a very considerate gentleman and makes every effort to give the best service possible. He is also appreciative of what the patrons do each day to make his work easier and more efficient. Last year he said he really appreciated the fine response and we are certain he will be very pleased for the cooperation we know he will again receive.

Painting and fixing up your mail box helps in the beauty of the country roads, but when the box is rigidly stationed, the approaching properly graded and drained, etc., it is just good insurance that good mail service can be given with a minimum of effort.

A Few Hints On Vacation Travel

The success of your motoring vacation depends more on your car than any other factor. Magnificent highways and scenery, luxurious motels, delicious food, interesting places all go for naught if your car isn't working properly.

Before you sally forth on your vacation, be sure that the automobile which will carry you on your travels is in top operating condition.

Since many motorists wonder what they should do in preparing their cars for such trips, the Chicago Motor Club offers some tips.

Correct lubrication is essential if the car is to go on a trip. This means much more than an ordinary change of oil and a grease job. Thorough lubrication is a specialized skill requiring full information as to the needs of your car, the engineering standards set by the manufacturer, up-to-date minute service charts, a supply of the proper lubricants and modern equipment.

It is also vital to have the heart of your car tested—the battery, which enables so many parts of your car to function for efficiency and convenience. Terminals must be clean and tight. Both the ignition and fuel systems should be examined before you start a long trip, too.

For safety and peace of mind, your steering mechanism should be tested. If there is too much play in the wheel, have it corrected immediately. Other warning signs to watch for are "shimmy," "wandering," "drift" and abnormal tire wear. More than anything else, you must depend on your brakes. If they don't take hold 'til the pedal is almost to the floor, have your serviceman remove the wheels of your car and scrutinize the linings and drums.

The condition of your tires—including the spare—is of paramount importance. Have them checked for the proper pressure and examined for cuts, bruises, imbedded objects and undue or uneven wear. Headlights, stoplights, tail lights, windshield wipers, jack and car tools also should be checked before you hit the highway.

Trips will be more trouble-free and less costly if you subject your car to a bumper to bumper check before leaving for your vacation.

Bleach Out Canada Thistle

You or your neighbor need no longer tolerate Canada thistle—a perennial farm menace.

That's the word from O. C. Lee, Purdue University extension botanist, who says research has uncovered a chemical that will kill the noxious weed.

The chemical, amino triazole, kills the thistles by robbing them of chlorophyll, the green color matter that is essential to plant growth. When applied as a spray to the growing plants it causes them to turn white or pale green in color.

Canada thistle plants pick up aminole triazole when it is applied to the leaves and carry it to all parts of the plant, including the extensive root system. Unlike many other herbicides, it has the ability to kill the roots.

Amino triazole now on the market is a 50 percent product, readily soluble in water. About eight pounds of the 50 percent material (4 pounds of actual amino triazole) per acre is required for a good kill of Canada thistles.

Best results have been obtained when applied in May when plants are from 12 inches in height to early bud stage. Spraying after the plants are in full bloom or mature has not been satisfactory.

If the spray cannot be applied before the bud stage, plants should be mowed down. Amino triazole may then be applied on regrowth that occurs after cutting. Such applications are not as effective as the earlier ones but results usually are worthwhile.

Sufficient water should be used when applying amino triazole to assure adequate coverage of all plants. When field sprayers equipped with a boom are used to apply the spray, 30 gallons of water per acre should be used. If a spray gun is used, eight lbs.

of amino triazole in 100 gallons of water is recommended per acre. Small patches may be sprayed with knapsack sprayers. The mixture, which Lee says should be two ounces of amino triazole per gallon of water, should cover about one square rod.

The thistles plants should not be disturbed by cultivation or cutting for at least seven days after the chemical has been applied.

Effective treatments will cause whitening of the plants which usually occurs some five to six days after the spray is applied. Top growth dies in two to three weeks.

It is not uncommon for new growth to appear from roots throughout the summer after the spray has been applied. Usually this new growth is abnormal, dwarf and off-color and will not survive. Regrowth which appears to be normal in color should be resprayed either this fall or next spring.

Corn fields should be watched for signs of cutworm damage, advise Purdue University entomologists. If the insects are present, spray with one-third gallon toxophene or one-sixth gallon dieldrin per acre. Mix the chemical 5-10 gallons of water per acre and apply directly over the rows.

Twenty-one members of the Jolly Janes Home Demonstration Club met Monday evening, May 13th at the home of Mrs. Fred Rice.

For meditation, Mrs. Wayne Bowser read two poems, "Baby Shoes" and "Are All the Children In?" She also gave the history of the song "Carry Me Back to Old Virginny."

Many Ways to Store Silage

With grass silage making time at hand, methods of storing silage become one of the main concerns of Indiana cattle and dairy men.

In Purdue University extension mimeo ID-16, agricultural engineering and dairy specialists list advantages of the various kinds of silage storage structures.

The glass-lined upright silo (cost $25 to $30 per ton) is probably the best for preserving silage, the specialists say. There is little chance of spoilage and a continuous silage feeding operation is possible at any time since the silage is placed in the silo at the top and taken out at the bottom.

Initial investment cost of the glass-lined silo is higher than for any other silo considered by the specialists in the publication.

Other types of silos and the cost per ton to store silage in each are discussed in the mimeo. The conventional upright silo and various types of horizontal silos and trench silos are considered.

The mimeo, ID-16, "Methods of Storing and Feeding Silage," is available from county agricultural agents or the agricultural publications office at Purdue. (The mimeo is free only to Indiana residents).

ETNA GREEN LIONS TO HOLD AUCTION

The Etna Green Lions Club is sponsoring a Community Auction sale. It will be held on Saturday, June 8, at the Etna-Bourbon Community Sale Barn, located on U. S. 30 one half mile west of Etna Green. It will begin at 11 o'clock, with lunch served by wives of the Lions Club members.

The public is invited to donate any salable articles to the sale. The club will also accept items for sale on a commission basis. Farm implements, tools, household furnishings, appliances, automobiles, etc. are wanted. Those having articles to donate or to be sold on commission are requested to contact Mr. Lawrence Ulmer, chairman of the sale. Others members of the sale committee are Dallas Anglin, Ted Dinkledine, Charles Clifton, Lester Gay, and Tom Miner. Any of these or the Etna Bank may be contacted.

Proceeds from the sale will be used for community betterment and improvement. The Lions Club has been active in a program of civic service during the past year. One of their major projects was the paving and equipping of a playground at the Etna School. The area, which is floodlighted for night activities has been a popular spot for the children and young people of the township. Another worthy project has been the support of the Indiana State Lions Cancer Research Center at Indianapolis. Over 14,000 cancer patients received help last year at the center. The Club has also sponsored a new Boy Scout troop of over thirty boys.

THE UNKNOWN SOLDIER

There's a graveyard near the White House
Where the Unknown Soldier lies
And the flowers there are sprinkled
With the tears from Mothers' eyes.

I stood there not so long ago
With roses for the brave
And suddenly I heard a voice
Speak from out the grave.

"I am the Unknown Soldier."
The spirit voice began,
"And I think I have the right
To ask some questions man to man.

"Are my buddies taken care of?
Was their victory so sweet?
Is that big reward you offered
Selling pencils on the street?

"Did they really win the freedom
They battled to achieve?
Do you still respect that Croix de Guerre?"

Above that empty sleeve?

"Does a God Star in the window
Now mean anything at all?
I wonder how my old girl feels
When she hears a bugle call.

"And that baby who sang
Hello, Central, give me no man's land?"

Can they replace her daddy
With a military band?

"I wonder if the profiteers
Have satisfied their greed?
I wonder if a soldier's mother
Ever is in need?

"I wonder if the kings, who planned it all
Are really satisfied?
They played their game of checkers
And eleven million died.

"I am the Unknown soldier
And maybe I died in vain,
But if I were alive and my country called,

"I'd do it all over again."

Insist on a negative blood test for brucellosis when boars are purchased for spring and summer breeding. That's the advice of Purdue University veterinarians who say infected boars are common sources of new infections in swine herds. The boar should be isolated from the rest of the herd and re-tested for brucellosis three weeks after the first test. If the second test is also negative, he can then be used for breeding.

Gifts, you can give with pride, for every occasion, may be found at Brown's Jewelry, Gifts and Appliances.

Dairy specialists at Purdue University say May should be the money making month for most dairymen. Production usually increases after the long barn-feeding period. Feed costs can be less and much of the barn work is eliminated. However, milk prices usually weaken. To reduce costs when the milking herd is on good pasture, grain feeding should be cut in half.
Dry cows may need no grain at all.

Aux. Unit 425 Meets

Mentone Auxiliary Unit 425 met May 19 in the Legion Home. Following the regular opening, Georgiana Teel called the meeting to order.

Eula Smith reported on the last card party. The group decided that members could invite men to the next party if they cared to. Hostesses for a card party to be held in June are Norma Pulling, Nell Reed, and Bernice Jones.

La Vera Horn, Gold Star chairman, presented a program in honor of Gold Star Mothers. She told the story of the Gold Star Lily from Okinawa and showed the gifts she had for the mothers.

Betty Kinzie reported that the Junior Auxiliary had participated in a radio-TV poll in conjunction with an effort to provide better programs for children.

Norma Pulling gave the report of the nominating committee. Voting for new officers will be held at the next meeting.

Alice Secrist and Mary Frances Hudson were asked to act as chairmen of a Rummage Sale to be held soon.

Both the Auxiliary and the Jr. Auxiliary were asked to be at the Post Home at 1:15 Sunday, May 25, to participate in the annual Parade and Program. Auxiliary members should wear white blouses and dark skirts.

A program honoring mothers was presented by Pearl Lackey. She gave a reading "Some Carry the Banner." Again this spring season it is time to remember the sacrifices that have been made for us. Many young men gave their lives for their country and many others gave up a normal life for existence in a hospital. The poppy has become a symbol of these men. Hospitalized veterans can earn a few cents for each poppy they make, thus enabling them to buy gifts for loved ones.

The local Legion Auxiliary Units purchase these poppies and offer them to the public two days each year. The money from these sales is put into a special fund to be used only to help needy veterans and their children.

Friday afternoon, May 24 children of Auxiliary members and veterans will canvass the town. Saturday, May 25, poppies will be on sale downtown. Wear a Poppy for Remembrance.

Grain Reports Are Important

Why should the monthly USDA "Stocks of Grains" reports interest agricultural producers?

A Purdue University agricultural economist, W. S. Farris, supplies this answer to the question:

"The report indicates the rate at which we have used grain supplies.

"It shows what is available between now and harvest time—these available supplies influence prices farmers receive.

"The information helps to forecast the carryover of the grains and thus indicates the influence of the carryover on prices."

As of April 1, there were record stocks of feed grains (corn, oats and barley), but more than half of the corn is under control of the Commodity Credit Corporation.

As a result, Farris says, CCC releases will have a major effect on corn prices in the months ahead.

Record stocks of soybeans are in storage too. Relatively low conversion rates have caused processors to hesitate to store large amounts, leaving record stocks on farms. Farris points out that "substantial exports increases will be needed to bring a price improvement."

Wheat stocks are near record highs, but they are being slowly reduced. This is being accomplished, says Farris, by near-record exports to Europe, which had a poor 1966 crop.

Indiana grain stocks on April 1 had followed the national trends, according to the economist.

Separate Chickens and Cattle

Chickens roosting in the barn may be a familiar scene on many Indiana farms but it can be a source of trouble to the cattle farmer.

A Purdue University extension veterinarian, Dr. F. A. Hall, says chickens with avian—or chicken tuberculosis—may cause cattle to react when tested for tuberculosis. And here, Hadd adds, is where the trouble begins.

For example, in March there were 134 reactors among 30,951 cattle tested for tuberculosis in Indiana. But 109 of these showed visible lesions, or tubercular growths.

Hall believes a high percentage of these 109 cows which showed no visible lesions may have reacted because they had been in contact with chickens which were infected with avian tuberculosis.

When reactors are found in dairy cattle they must be slaughtered immediately. The herd is then placed under state supervision until the extent of the disease has been determined.

Hall pointed out that chicken tuberculosis may actually have little harmful effect on the cattle except to cause the reaction. He said avian tuberculosis is seldom found in chickens under one year of age.

To prevent cows showing reaction because of chickens, Hall recommends that chickens not be allowed near the cattle. He added that the dairyman who has chickens should change or wash his shoes or boots before going from the chicken house to the barn.

Danger Season For Motorists

Warm weather always brings children outdoors to participate in the games and activities of the season.

"This places an added responsibility on both the children and the motorist," declared Chas. M. Hayes, president of the Chicago Motor Club.

"Children are inclined to be impulsive and carefree," warned Hayes, "and it is the motorist's responsibility to watch closely when near a school or play yard—or anywhere children are congregated."

Unfortunately, all activities of children aren't confined to playgrounds, the motor club president points out.

Spring baseball "training" for many youngsters starts with the coming of warmer weather. Many times their baseball "field" is a busy street.

Spring also brings out the bicycles, tricycles, roller skates and other toy vehicles.

"Parents should warn their children of traffic dangers," Hayes said. He also advised bicycle riders to observe the same traffic rules as motorists.

POPPY DAY THIS FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

Poppy Day, this Friday and Sat....

Women of the local American Legion auxiliary will be on the streets of down town Mentone Friday and Saturday selling the little red poppy that has to the average American become a symbol of courage and sacrifice.

Mrs. Myrl Wagner, Poppy Day chairman, says many women and children of the junior Legion auxiliary will work those days. Auxiliary members will contact fellow employees in local industrial plants, offices and other establishments as well as residents in the up-town area the two days. Junior Auxiliary members will contact homes in their neighborhoods.

Many Volunteers

Some of the American Legion auxiliary members planning to help with the sale of the poppies are: Mrs. Elwin Teel, president of the Mentone Unit, Mrs. Myrl Wagner, Mrs. Ward Williamson, Mrs. Harry Kinzie, Mrs. Chet Smith, Mrs. Don Ernsberger, Mrs. Robert Reed, Mrs. Richard Dickerhoff, Mrs. William Hudson, Mrs. Lewis Pulling, Mrs. Mervin Jones, Mrs. Homer Morrison, Mrs. Barney Nellans, Mrs. Guy Baker, Mrs. Jerry Hudson; and the Junior members: Cynthia and Sonya Baker, Bonita Nellans, Connie and Donita Teel, Jennie and Jody Hudson, Rosemary Rodibaugh, along with the children in the community whose father is a veteran or mother an auxiliary worker.

The idea of the poppy as a memorial flower for World War dead sprang up as naturally as the little wild flower itself grows in the fields of France and Flanders. The flower was the one touch of beauty which survived amid the direous destruction of war. Along the edges of trenches, beneath tangled barbed wire, about the ragged shell holes and over the fresh graves it raised its brave red blossom. It seemed to be the one immortal thing in that region where death reigned. The soldiers of all nations came to look upon it as the living symbols of the sacrifices of dead comrades.

"In Flanders Fields"

It was a poet who first gave expression to the idea. Soon himself to lie beneath the poppies, he wrote:

"In Flanders fields the poppies blow,

Between the crosses, row on row—"

Soon the perfect little poem of Colonel John McCrae had winged its way around the world carrying the pictures of the poppies.

Returning soldiers brought the vision of poppy fields back with them, engraved indelibly in their hearts with the memories of the comrades they had left on the battlefield. Spontaneously the poppy took on sacred significance. It became the flower of remembrance for the men who had poured out their life's blood around the roots of the little plant.

The poppy became the memorial flower of the British Legion. Other American veterans' organizations followed the American Legion and auxiliary in adopting it as their official flower of remembrance. Soon many millions of the little red flower were being worn each year in all parts of the English-speaking world, to honor the World War dead and to aid the war's living victims.

25 million buy

Each year approximately 25,000,000 Americans wear the poppies, contributing nearly $2,000,000 for the welfare of the War's living victims.

Hundreds of disabled veterans in hospitals throughout the country make the red paper poppy. They are paid for the flowers they shape, and if not too badly disabled they can earn a fair day's wage without exerting themselves to a harmful extent. As each completed poppy leaves the hands of a disabled man it means monetary help for the necessities and comforts not supplied by the hospitals, a small amount of money added to the little store for the veteran's use when he goes from the hospital to face the battle of winning back a place in the economic life of the country, or help toward buying food, fuel and clothing for his family at home.

Poppies are distributed entirely by volunteer workers and every penny received goes for the aid of the disabled men and to needy children of veterans.

The purpose of the auxiliary's poppy program is to place the symbol of heroic sacrifice above the heart of every true American, giving at the same time an opportunity to aid the war's living victims.

Come Friday and Saturday, BUY A POPPY.

Cub Scout News

Parents and Cub Scouts of Pack No. 58, met at the Mentone Methodist Church Tuesday evening, May 28th, for their monthly pack meeting. Den No. 2 was in charge of the opening and the pledge to the flag.

All five dens were represented with the attendance banner going to Den No. 2.

Interesting skits were given by each Den in keeping with the theme for May which was "Fireman" month. A few of the dens visited the local fire station during the month and with the able assistance of firechief Arlo Friesner and his helper, Ned Igo, acquainted the boys with the many duties of our firemen.

Fire prevention posters and Smokey Bear neckerchief slides, made by the Cubs in their weekly Den meetings, were on display.

Frank Nellans, Cubmaster, presented awards to the following boys: Steve Miller, Lion Badger; Robert Shaw, Wolf Badger; John Wentzel, 2 Silver Arrows; Danny Bruner, Jack Rickel and Danny Smythe, Bobcat pins.

Jimmy Osburn and Sonny Nellans were not present to receive their awards.

The entertainment period was enjoyed by all present with a number of the boys and their parents combining their skills in nail driving and needle threading contests.

Cubmaster Nellans announced that due to conflicts with Little League ballgames, the monthly pack meeting would be held on Wednesday night instead of Tuesday nights.

The next Pack meeting will be held on Wednesday, June 26th, 8:00 p. m. at the Methodist Church. We urge all Cub parents to attend! The theme for June is "Archeologists."

The meeting closed and refreshments were served by the Den Mother, Assistant Den Mother and parents of Den No. 2.

Lambs often gain from two-thirds of a pound to a pound daily when nursing their mothers on early spring pasture, according to Purdue University animal husbandmen. They suggest that farmers utilize any good green pasture for ewes and lambs. Lambs should weigh from 80 to 100 pounds by July 1.

Make Silage of First Cutting

Hoosier dairy farmers can get more feed and have fewer worries about rain if they make silage of their first cutting of hay.

That's the opinion of Don L. Hill, Purdue University dairy specialist, who points out that rain on the first cutting of hay can result in almost a complete loss of the crop.

Even though it is an especially rainy spring, farmers can still harvest silage at the most favorable stage of maturity. If rain falls during the silage making, it need not seriously reduce the value of the feed.

Hill recommends these steps in making silage for the dairy herd:

Cut legumes meadows when they make the most nutritious silage in the bud stage before flowering.

Chop stalks as the heads are emerging.

Fill the silo rapidly and pack, so that air will be excluded and spoilage prevented.

Add a silage preservative that will aid the fermentation.

Hill recommends any one of the following:

Ground ear corn, 150-200 lbs. per ton of silage. Make sure that the corn mixes with the silage. Almost 90 percent of the feeding value of the corn will be retained in the silage as feed for next winter.

Sixty to 80 pounds of blackstrap molasses mixed thoroughly with the silage.

Eight pounds of sodium metaphosphate per ton of silage.

Owners of trench or bunk-type silos have to make sure that their silo is air tight because if air gets in, the silage will be of low quality.

If the farmer follows these practices when making silage this spring, he can expect good quality silage next winter.

Gifts, you can give with pride, for every occasion may be found at Brown's Jewelry, Gifts and Appliances.

Pastures grazed in rotation during the summer produce more milk than those not rotated, Purdue University dairy scientists assert. Intensive grazing for a short time followed by clipping surplus growth is less wasteful than prolonged grazing.

"We Give Because We Love," was the subject of the Woman's Society of Christian Service, held at the Methodist church on May 16, and given by Mrs. Raymond Cooper, assisted by Mrs.
David Cooper. They told of the different nations that are crying for Christian help and their need of missionaries, and the question arises, who will go and how shall they be sent? This can only be accomplished by the will of God in our hearts. The purpose of the lesson was to indicate the vastness of the unfinished task of Christian service.

The outgoing officers gave a report of their year's work and Mrs. Lois Davison, president, in her pleasing manner, thanked all who in any way had helped to make the past year a succes-ful one. The devotions was given by Mrs. Frank Smith. She used John 4:19 and 3:16 for the scripture. The songs, "Open My Eyes (That I May See)," "Love Divine," and "More Love to Me," were sung.

The following officers were then installed by Mrs. Denton Abbey:

President, Lois Davison.
Vice president, Golda Mollenhour.
Recording secretary, Marjory
Cooper.

Treasurer, Arvilla Teel.
Secretary of promotion, Dorothy Herendeen.

Missionary education and service, Pearl Lackey.
Christian social relations, Mary Utter.

Local church activities, Alice Mollenhour.
Student work, Frances Olson.
Children's work, Doris Cooper.
Spiritual life, Iris Anderson.
Literature and publications,
Martha Ellsworth.
Supply work, Mary Cook.
Status of women, Millie Bryan.
Mrs. Abbey closed the meeting with prayer.
Hostesses for the evening were
Barbara King and Jolaine Smythe.

Entomologists at Purdue Unican be reduced by avoiding both early and late planting. In general, early planted corn is susceptible to first brood borer damage and late planted corn to second brood attack. Suggested planting dates to avoid borer damage are: southern Indiana,

May 10-15, central Indiana, May 15-25, and northern Indiana May

Married At Rochester

Madelyn F. Anderson, daughter of Mrs. LaMar Anderson, 317 West 11th street, Rochester, wed Charles D. Herschell, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Herschell of Indianapolis, Friday evening, May 17, in a double-ring ceremony performed in the Grace Methodist church by the Rev. Claude Young. The ceremony took place before an altar decorated with pink and white gladioli, palms and candelabra.

Mrs. Robert Shafer, organist, and Mrs. George Allies, cousin of the bride, vocalist, presented nuptial airs preceding the ceremony.

The bride was dressed in a gown of French Tulle and Florentine with a high Sabrina neck line. The bodice was fitted and the long sleeves were tapered to points at the wrists. She wore a fingertip veil and blusher which fell from a crown of seed pearls and rhinestones. Her bridal bouquet was an orchid on a White Bible.

The maid of honor, Miss Joyce Anderson, sister of the bride, wore a pink lace over taffeta, ballerina length gown and carried a hand bouquet of pink and white carnations. Elwood Swortzendruber, Indianapolis, served the groom as best man.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church basement with Mrs. Pauline Polley, Plymouth, assisted by Mrs. Elwood Swortzendruber, Miss Wanda Hall, Indianapolis, Miss Donna Lebo and Mrs. Robert Smith, serving.

Mrs. Herschell is a 1956 graduate of Rochester high school and is employed at the State Automobile Insurance Association. The groom is a graduate of George Washington high school in Indianapolis and is also employed at State Automobile Insurance.

Following a short wedding trip the couple will reside at 503 East Woodruff Place in Indianapolis.

IMPORTANT TO DISABLED WORKERS

People who have become unable to work because of severe and long-lasting disabilities have a new type of protection under the social security law, but according to the Social Security Administration, many are not applying for their rights.

For many disabled people, the failure to file an application with their social security district office before the end of June will mean the loss of all their social security disability protection, and for some it will also mean a reduction in or the loss of their rights to any old-age and survivors insurance benefits for themselves and their families in the future.

Under the law, workers who were already disabled were given 2½ years to apply to protect their social security rights. After June 30, the end of that 2½ year period, an application will be effective to freeze a worker's social security record for no more than one year back.

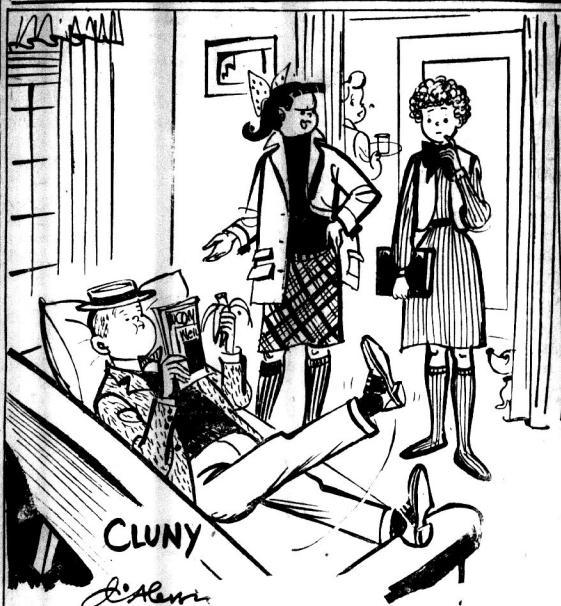

If application for the "disability freeze" is not made before the end of June, 1957, many disabled workers may no longer meet the work requirements at the beginning of the earliest "period of disability." In this case, they would not be eligible to have their social security records frozen, and in addition, they would be ineligible to receive monthly disability insurance benefits at age 50.

Entries in the official junior and senior 5-acre corn contests must be made by June 15. The contests are sponsored jointly by the Purdue University agricultural extension service and the Indiana Crop Improvement Association. Enrollment can be made at the county agent's office.

According to Purdue University animal husbandmen, lambs often gain from two-thirds of a pound to a pound a day when nursing their mothers on early spring pasture. Be sure to utilize winter wheat, balbo rye, blue grass or any other good early pasture for ewes and lambs. Plan to have the lambs weigh 80-100 pounds by July 1.

THE GARDENS IN BLOOM

"Two things enhanced the beauty of the Spring Show." The spectacular Tulp Festival and the profuse blooming of flowering shrubs and trees. The Lilac Lane with its eighteen varieties of all shades, the dogwood blooming more profusely than in years.

Every variety of trees native to Indiana will be in its spring leafing. The foliage of spring in dozens of pale green shades is to be seen to the best advantage in the Gardens, where dozens of different trees make up the timber, covering a ring of protective hill around the site.

In recent years, the Gardens have become a favorite site for a variety of culturally-minded persons. Artists, horticulturists, ornithologists, musicians and those seeking quiet solitude.

The week end of May 27 will have Tulips, also Red Buds and Dogwood in bloom, beautiful hybrid primroses and not forgetting the brilliant-colored azaleas.

The International Friendship Garden's slogan is "Peace and Friendship among all peoples of the World."

The Gardens are located one and a half miles east of Michigan City on U. S. Highway 12. The Gardens are open daily from 9:00 a. m. to evenings until Fall.

Registration will start at 9 a. m. Wednesday, June 5, in the Memorial Union Building. The first general session will open that afternoon in the Hall of Music with Kathryn Elder, Vermillion County, presiding. D. R. Mallett, executive dean at Purdue, will welcome the club members. Earl Shelburne, Hamilton County, will give the response.

A tour of the campus, designated as a "Purdue Cavalcade," showing activities of the departments of the schools of agriculture and home economics will be held that afternoon, followed by a chicken barbecue on Stuart Field and a series of parties in the Purdue Union.

Dr. Evelyn DuVall of Chicago, author and family life specialist, will discuss "Growing Up in Today's World" at the Thursday morning general session. H. B. The laying shelter makes it possible to hold your old hens and still house the new pullets in the regular laying house as soon as they are ready to lay. The specialists recommend that the old hens be moved to the laying shelter not later than June 1.

Spring sown oats may be made into silage if cut not later than the milk stage, say Purdue University agronomists. Oats are hard to pack in a bunker-type silo if allowed to go beyond the late milk stage. Livestock farmers will get higher returns from feeding oats as silage than from harvesting and feeding only the grain. The silage yield from a good crop of oats should be from five to eight tons per acre.
