WHY A DOLLAR?

Many people wonder why it is that we charge one dollar per year subscription to the Co-Op. News for all papers sent to non-stockholders outside of Marshall, Fulton and Kosciusko counties.

If they will stop and consider that the cost of printing 1000 copies and the amount paid the editor amounts to more than $30.00 for each issue, they will find that each copy of the paper costs over three cents to produce, and it is very easy to see that when we send out 52 copies a year to a subscriber we are sending that on something that costs $1.56, $1.00--which is an actual loss to the publishers of 56c on each subscription mailed to persons outside of the above counties.

Now the papers that circulate in these three counties bring in only 25c subscription, but owing to their advertising value are worth more to the publishers, in as much as the local advertising pays for the difference and at the same time helps take care of the deficit on the papers sent outside of these counties.

If you will look over our advertising columns you will note that the general run of our advertising in the News would receive no benefit from these outside subscriptions, and hence as they have no advertising value, the charge of $1.00 is just and reasonable.

The Northern Indiana Cooperative Association does not expect that the News will make them any money directly, but feel that the community needs a paper, and stand ready to give the people of this vicinity a real newspaper if the citizens will cooperate just a little. Remember all the money taken in on the News will be spent to make the paper better.

FIRST BASKET BALL GAME

The first basket ball game of the season will be played with Milford as has been the custom for several years. The game will be played in the Mentone gymnasium. Let's start the boys off with a record attendance. They and their coach will appreciate it we're sure.

S. S. PARTY

The young peoples class of the Palestine Christian church held a Halloween party in the church basement Wednesday night. The room was tastefully decorated in keeping with the holiday. After a creepy search for the password which was to be found beneath a body, stiff and cold, the guests were admitted.

After the business meeting conducted by the president, Eldon Horn, the guests were escorted through the cemetery where many and divers perils awaited them. Several games and contests, conducted by the two hostesses, Fene Rush and Marguerite Huffer, were enjoyed by the entire group. After the initiation service for new members an enormous amount of candy, pop corn and apples were consumed by all present.

The mill buys wheat, oats, corn.

DEATHS

Nichols

Mrs. Alice Nichols, 69, died Tuesday afternoon of last week at her home, 521 N. Pike street, Warsaw, after an illness of a few months.

She was born near Etna Green to Samuel and Mary Swonger, and had lived most of her life in Warsaw. She was the wife of the late Ed. Nichols. Two sons, Ernest, Warsaw and Dee, South Bend, survive.

Surprise Hoovers

The Blue Thrashing Co. had a farewell surprise on Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hoover Wednesday night. Hoovers are moving from Mentone in the near future, to a farm near Milford. The crowd enjoyed an oyster supper and the evening was spent socially.

MRS. CATTELL PASSES AWAY

Mrs. Mary A. Cattell, 87, died at her home southwest of Mentone, about midnight Friday night. Death followed a serious illness of three months. Mrs. Cattell was born in Franklin township near Mentone and resided there on a farm her entire life. Her husband, William Cattell, preceded her in death about four years ago. They had been wed 62 years.

Surviving are two daughters, Miss Elma Cattell who made her home with her mother and Mrs. Martha Kinsey, Providence, R. I.; two grandsons, Kenneth Kinsey of Providence, and Robert Kinsey; one great grandson, Kenneth Francis Kinsey, two sisters-in-law, Mrs. Cora Johnson, Etna Green and Mrs. Jennings, Warsaw.

The deceased had been an active member of the Mentone Methodist church and the order of Eastern Stars.

Funeral services were held at the residence Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock with Rev. O. T. Martin of Warsaw in charge. Burial was made in the Mentone cemetery.

Alexander Leaves

Over seventy members of the Church of Christ and friends of Rev. and Mrs. J. E. Alexander gathered at their home on N. Broadway Tuesday evening for a final benevolent gesture of good will toward their pastor, neighbor and friend. Rev. Alexander has been in charge of the Church of Christ for almost two years. Recently he accepted a charge in Dyersburg, Tennessee, near his former home.

Since his coming to Mentone he and Mrs. Alexander have made innumerable friends and acquaintances among the congregation and the people in the vicinity and it is indeed with regret that they must leave this community.

A delicious cooperative dinner was the main event of the evening, after which all departed wishing Rev. and Mrs. Alexander much success and happiness in their new home.

The pastor and his wife left Thursday morning with Clayton Holloway assisting them.

What the Teeth Reveal

Large square front teeth in the upper jaw, if parted, show a generous, sympathetic, temperamental artistic nature; if close together, generous, methodical, sincere, business-like. Sharp canine teeth—vicious, quick-tempered, rebellious; long teeth—witty, egotistical, inclined to be selfish; irregular-shaped—stolid, unimaginative, friendly.

Meaning of Envy

Envy denotes an ill will toward another because of his possessions or attributes; it amounts to a covetous desire for the possessions or attributes of another. One does not envy a wealth, or a legibility; but one does envy a person for his wealth, or envy the legibility of a writer. If the personal element is omitted, another verb must be substituted. Hence, one may covet wealth, or desire, long for, wish legibility.—Literary Digest.

SENIOR NEWS

The people in the Senior class believe firmly that it would do everyone good to sit in on one of our Co-operative Citizenship recitations. The first part of this week we studied the problem of defectives. This problem deals with unfortunate members of our social group who are deaf, blind, dumb, feeble-minded, insane or have other physical or mental deficiencies.

Mr. Smith, who is affectionately and not disrespectfully called Merval by most of the students, carefully pointed out the fact that we should not laugh at these unfortunates, but that we should do everything in our power to make them forget these handicaps. Those who are born in a condition of deformity, because many of these cases are a result of heredity, should be given every opportunity available to have the vacancy in their lives filled by the kindness and consideration of every member of our group. Some of the most brilliant minds of all ages have been imprisoned in twisted, maimed and misshapen bodies. Many Beautiful thoughts have come from the lips and pens of those who are physically handicapped. Defectives who have overcome their incapacities through mental or spiritual culture and beauty are the most wonderful people living. They have a spirit that is kindred to the spirit of the Master. Therefore let us think seriously of our unfortunate brothers and sisters and always be ready and eager to lend them a helping hand in a financial way and by saying and doing something kind and considerate.

In our Public Speaking course we are steering out of eight minute speeches into conversation. We are learning how to make conversation interesting. This seems like a queer thing to study in school, because we have all been carrying on conversations all our lives. However there is a vast difference between talking and conversing. Talk is just a mere flow of words, but conversation is a give and take proposition. Conversation is as Wilson says "A meeting of the minds" or our method of living together. Unless a conversation produces mutual advantage and satisfaction it has been a failure. To improve our conversation we must study the secrets of human nature. We must probe deeply into the hearts and minds of our fellow-men, so that we will know what interests others. Please note that we said into the hearts and minds and not into the daily practices, personal habits, and comings and goings of others, because when conversation is carried on in this vein it ceases to be conversation and becomes gossip and sometimes plain libel.

To improve our conversation we must apply the golden rule. We must be sincere, consider the interests of others, give others a chance to talk, and we must not be self-centered. Another improvement is by culture of the voice, actions and language. If we learn to be good conversationalists, we are learning culture and charm and charm is a part of education, so we are gaining education.

Typing in both the junior and senior classes is steadily progressing. The seniors have finished typing book lists for the English department. Each day when class begins either a five or ten minute speed test is given. After the scores have been recorded, the errors made on the test are analyzed and each misspelled word is written until three lines are filled on the page. After this drill, the sentence in which the word appears is written perfectly three times.

In the junior class, they are also using corrective drills. They have had all the characters on the keyboard mastered for quite some time and are now working for greater speed and accuracy.

JUNIOR NEWS

The juniors will present their class play November 11 and 12.

The following themes are products of the junior English class, submitted to the paper by the teacher, Paul Smith. The first was written by Louise Jones and the second by Joseph Long.

My Treasure Chest

I have a treasure chest hidden away in the attic. It isn't filled with diamonds and rubies as you usually think of a treasure chest, but I have my girlhood playthings in it.

When I was ten years old my mother said I was a big girl and I could wash dishes and help her with her housework.

On my tenth birthday I went upstairs and brought out an old chest my grandmother had given me. It was an old wooden chest bound with iron bands. On its sides and top were carved little winged fairies. I cleaned all my little rugs and doll dresses and folded them in the bottom of the chest. Then I polished my doll furniture and packed it away so that it would not get scratched. I put my blocks and games in their boxes and covered them with a doll blanket.

Last of all I kissed my dollies good-by, and told them to be good while I was away. I laid them on a little quilt my mother had made for me and put them to sleep. When they were asleep I shut the lid of my chest and put it in one end of the attic. It has been six years since I put them away, and I have never opened the chest since that day. I sometimes wonder if my little dollies are still asleep.

Grandfather

The person which we love most next to our folks is our grandfather. I can picture him puttering around his little cottage, fixing and cleaning his flower beds. When he wasn't working at the lawn he would whistle out toys and give them to poor children at Christmas. He was a soldier and I can picture him shining his old uniform. In the evenings he would mend his clothing and dust his house. He was a very clean person, although sometimes his clothes would have patches on them, they were always clean. He was always kind to strangers, thus he was loved by everyone.

Just now the sophomores are delving into the delights of ancient history at the time of Julius Caesar. They have studied of the splendors and grandeur of Rome and are now looking into the life of one of her most prominent characters. While Pompey was enjoying his season of great power in the queen city of Italy, Caesar was in Gaul subduing the Gauls. When Pompey saw the great success of Caesar, he became very jealous and afraid. Pompey sent word to Caesar that he must disband his army before he crossed the Rubicon river, and that he, Caesar would be a public enemy if he did not do this. When Caesar came to the Rubicon he did not disband his army but crossed the river and swept into Rome with his mighty army and took the reins from Pompey, who was forced to flee from Rome down into Egypt.

The sophomore class submits the following signs of winter: all the high school students are wearing sweaters in the classrooms and the command "keys to the register" is prevalent.

One of the members of the class has been absent for the past week because of a severely ulcerated tooth. Robert Eiler is the unhappy victim.

FRESHMAN NEWS

The freshman are studying the habits of the fly, mosquito and the bee in their Biology class. They have found that all three of these common insects are very interesting from the anatomical and biological view.

Freshman Algebra is dealing with the squares and cubes of different numbers. That is difficult as well as interesting work.

EIGHTH GRADE NEWS

The eighth grade class is studying the heavens in their general science course. In Geography they are learning about the Iberian peninsula. Most of them have taken sides with the Royalists in the Spanish revolution. In arithmetic they are studying percents. None of the class thinks that these problems are very simple.

SEVENTH GRADE NEWS

Home Economics and Agriculture seems to hold the interest of the seventh grade people this week. They all begin to realize what great importance these subjects will hold for most of them in the future.

Considering the number of men at work on the improvement and the number of truck loads of stone and gravel that leaves Mentone daily, we are sure that the men are doing everything in their power to complete the job for your earliest convenience.

Telephone Installed

Last week the Northern Indiana Telephone Co. installed a telephone in the Co-Op News office. Now your news items and want ads can be contributed to the paper by calling 238, Mentone.

Also Mrs. Bradway, our solicitor, wants to take this opportunity to express her gratitude and appreciation for the splendid manner in which the people of Mentone and surrounding community have received her and thank them for their subscriptions which make up our rapidly increasing mailing list.

A Pleasant Evening

All over the country, friends and neighbors were listening to the election returns, Tuesday evening. Some of them collected in groups and enjoyed a few hands of Bridge, while others celebrated with a party and all the fixin's.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Brown very pleasantly entertained the following guests at their home on S. Franklin St. to an oyster supper. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hawk of Argos, Mr. and Mrs. Boyce Underhill and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Watson of Culver and Mr. and Mrs. She-man Bybee of Mentone.

APPRECIATION

Mr. and Mrs. James Turner want to thank Mr. Emery Harrison and his agriculture class for trimming the apple trees on his property in Mentone. Mr. Turner is not able to do the work himself, hence both he and Mrs. Turner are very grateful for the kindly deed and the fine spirit in which it was done.

The mill buys wheat, oats, corn.

BULLDOGS LOSE TO TROGANS

The Mentone Bulldogs lost their first game of the season to the Milford five by a score of 25 to 18. The Bulldogs were fighting to the finish, but they were never able to overtake the Trogans. The local players showed up pretty well, and should be hitting their stride by next Friday when they play Beaver Dam, our traditional rival team.

Coach Fenstermaker can be especially proud of the second team. Harold Horn, who, like Napoleon, is small but mighty, kept the opponent guessing all the time, and managed to score a total of six points. Joe Long shows signs of becoming a star guard, if he keeps up the smothering defence he maintained Friday night. The new players did fine and will soon be playing like seasoned veterans. The second-stringer met a 19 to 23 reverse against Milford, but there is little chance of this happening again in a long time.

SODALES CLUB

Mrs. Golda Mollenhour was hostess to the Sodales club Thursday afternoon. It was their semi-monthly meeting and fourteen members and two guests, Mrs. Malcome Hire and Mrs. Maurice Gruelach were present. Four tables of Rook progressed with Mrs. Hazel Linn winning highest score and Mrs. Ethel Shafer, consolation.

The club will hold their next meeting at the home of Mrs. Mariam Shinn.

Rev. R. O. Yeager is holding an evangelistical meeting at the Mishawaka Baptist church.

The Eastern Star lodge will give a 6:00 o'clock dinner at the school house Nov. 16. Members will please make their reservations with Mrs. Van Gilder.

SENIOR NEWS

The seniors are hard at work on four different debate propositions. The class has been divided into four groups and each group given a question. These groups are preparing their briefs for practical debating. This work proves to be very interesting because all the questions are of present day interest.

In preparing briefs for debating, first know the question, find the central issues, these issues in turn will reveal the contentions, or arguments, following this the actual outline of the debate is written and each statement is tested for soundness, accuracy, logic and clearness.

The usual number for a debating team is three for each side. Both the affirmative and the negative have first, second, third and rebuttal speeches. The first speaker in a debate should be well polished and be able to gain the favor of the judge and the audience. This speaker explains each word or phrase in the proposition, so that each debater and the audience will know exactly what the contention is about. The second speaker carries the burden of the argument. It is his duty to see that the points are presented and have a complete and sound backing. The third speaker is one who summarizes the work done by his colleagues. The rebuttal speech takes clear, accurate thinking. The purpose of this speech is to point out the inconsistencies in the opponents arguments and to show that his points are superior, and have more direct bearing on the question at hand.

Debating is as keen and fascinating a sport as ever graced an athletic field, and the play of wits is just as interesting, as the brawn exhibited in basket ball or baseball contests.

In our typing classes some of us are nearing the 50 mark. It is hoped that before long it will be a common thing to have people in school who can type fifty words a minute with ease.

In the beginning typing class the students are coming along fine. Bob Thorne wrote 22 words a minute in his first five minute speed test. This is a record that has never been equalled. Mary Myers should also receive honorable mention, she reached 21 words per minute.

The seniors were delightfully entertained at the home of Doris Willtrout last Friday evening with a Hallowe'en party. Marcella Leininger was assistant hostess. The party was held in the chicken house. The entire building was decorated with corn stalks, pumpkin faces and other signs of Hallowe'en. A rail fence was built about the door and each guest was compelled to emit two horrible groans and two terrible laughs before he was admitted to the inner circle. When entrance was gained you were ushered into a corner, where a ghost told your fortune in a corn shock booth. Many games and contests were enjoyed. The one enjoyed especially was a marshmallow race which took place between Mr. Kelley and Donald Boggs. They were blindfolded and told that they would have to feed each other marshmallows. They proceeded to do this until time was called. When the blindfolds were taken off they expected to find themselves thoroughly whitened, but to their surprise they were black, because the marshmallow had been toasted to a beautiful black.

After the games were over, the guests retired to the house where refreshments consisting of hot-dog sandwiches, pickles, cocoa, pumpkin pie and cranberries with whipped cream were served. Mr. Kelley asked everyone who thought their hostesses deserved our appreciation should say "Aye". Everyone joined in the chorus and the party was pronounced a "howling success."

JUNIOR NEWS

The Juniors have received their class rings and are very proud of them. (The Juniors really do have good looking rings this year.)

Better all buy your tickets and be sure to attend the Junior Play. It's a hit and if you miss it you will feel like kicking yourself.

SOPHOMORE NEWS

Three major things of interest have happened lately. The first took place in English class.

Paul Vandermark: "Did you find my paper for yesterday?"

Mr. Smith: "No I haven't."

Paul: "Well, I thought if you hadn't I'd tell you that I haven't handed it in yet."

The second happening goes thus: In Latin class the other day Dortha Decker had nearly a dollar in change. Immediately after class started, she dropped a dime on the floor. She picked up the dime and everything went smoothly for about ten minutes. In a little bit she dropped her pencil and as she reached for it she dropped the rest of the change. She darted quickly under her desk to get it and Mr. Kelley remarked, "I'm glad I'm not bothered with so much money that I can't carry it all."

This third happening also occurred in Latin class while we were trying to translate from the Latin text. We were trying to translate the sentence, "The hours also danced and decorated everything with roses and other flowers." Elvin Creviston made a mistake on one word and his translation was, "The horses also danced and decorated everything with roses and other flowers."

FRESHMAN NEWS

Our Freshman class is steadily decreasing. Wilma Mollenhour left us Friday to go to South Bend and Jack Manual left us a week later to go to South Bend. We haven't decided yet whether this is a coincidence or not.

In our class meeting held last Friday we decided to have a class flower. The one we chose was the rose, and our class colors are blue and gold. Our class dues were fixed at the rate of 10c per month and will start in October instead of September.

EIGHTH GRADE NEWS

We are still practicing the punishment plan in Geography. The second victim of the stand in the corner amendment was Bobby Joe Whetstone. John Rickle served a term of one hour on the front row. We are studying Italy now, and plan on having our lessons fine.

We learned a little "crutch" in general science to help us remember the names of the planets in order. "Many very energetic monkeys also jumped sideways under nuttrees." The first letter of each word in the initial letter of each planet. This sentence does not include Pluto, but perhaps we will not need to remember this one anyway.

SEVENTH GRADE NEWS

The seventh grade is sorry to say that two of its members are quarin-tined in with scarlet fever. Avonell Blue and Paul Horn are the unhappy victims. We are hoping that they will be with us again soon.

Our history class is now outlining the United States Constitution. This work is very hard because the wording of the Constitution is very difficult to understand, but we are making encouraging headway.

AGRICULTURE NEWS

For the past week the agriculture class has been very busy judging, scoring, and selecting seed corn. A corn judging contest is to be held in December to determine who will go to Purdue University next spring to represent Kosciusko county in the 4H Round-Up.

WE ARE THANKFUL

As a student body we are thankful for parents and home, for our teachers, our school-mates, our education system, and our community.

We are pausing here just now to think how much we appreciate our parents. Our parents are our best friends. They will sacrifice anything they have in order that we may have advantages, either educational or social. They work for us day in and day out in order to provide books and clothing for us, so that we can attend school. They pay a tremendous tax each year to provide adequate comfortable housing for our education. When we go home in the evenings and have home study to do, Mother and Dad do our work for us, so that we can study.

If we need more equipment, they give up something they were planning to get in order to get us what we need. We know that if we become ill, that they will always be willing and eager to minister to our wants, to sit up with us watching over us carefully, if necessary. They will do everything in their power to relieve our pain and make us more comfortable.

Sometimes it seems that they side in with the wrong person when we have had some misunderstanding with the teacher, but we always find in the end that our parents always have our welfare uppermost in mind in everything they do.

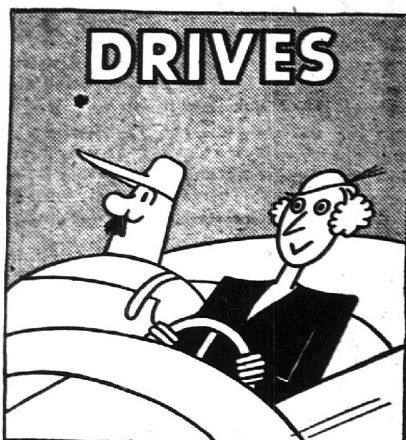

MUSIC

Three times weekly the Mentone High School Band meets in the music room for rehearsal. Interest has been growing in band work until there are now twenty-two playing band instruments. Of this number, nine are beginners.

Carefully selected music is being presented to the group and already the improvement is very noticeable. Several program numbers are being (Continued on page 6)

CORRECT DISPLAY OF THE FLAG

Certain fundamental rules of heraldry govern flag display. We should remember first that the National Flag represents a living country and hence in itself considered a living thing; second, that the Union of the Flag (the blue field) is the honor point; and third, that since the right arm is the sword arm, the right is consequently the point of danger and similarly the place of honor.

1. The Flag should be displayed only from sunrise to sunset.

2. It should be hoisted briskly and lowered slowly and ceremoniously.

3. The Flag should never be allowed to touch the ground or the floor or to trail in the water.

4. The Flag should be displayed at homes, along streets, at places of business, etc., on National holidays and on historic and special occasions.

New Year's Day, Jan. 1.

Lincoln's Birthday, Feb. 13.

Washington's Birthday, Feb. 22.

Inauguration Day (every fourth year.)

Easter Sunday, variable.

Mother's Day, second Sunday in May.

Memorial Day, May 30.

Birthday of the Flag, June 14.

Independence Day, July 4.

Labor Day, first Monday in September.

Columbus Day, Oct. 12.

Navy Day, Oct. 27.

Armistice Day, Nov. 11.

Thanksgiving Day, last Thursday in November.

Birthday of the State, date of admission.

State Holidays, proper dates.

5. The Flag should be displayed on every fair day on the flagpoles of all public buildings, Federal, State, county and city, at every school house during the sessions of the classes, and on all office buildings throughout the country.

6. The Flag should never be displayed with the Union down except as a signal of distress.

7. The Flag must never be used as drapery in any form whatever. Bunting should be used for that purpose.

8. No object or emblem should ever be placed on or above the Flag; no lettering of any sort should ever be placed on the Flag.

9. The Flag should never be used in any form of advertising. No advertising signs should be fastened to a pole from which the Flag is flying.

10. No other flag or pennant should be displayed above or to the right of the Flag.

11. When flown at half staff, the Flag is hoisted to the peak of the staff and then lowered to half staff. Before lowering the Flag for the day, it is again raised to the peak and then lowered. On Memorial Day, the Flag is displayed at half staff from sunrise until noon and full staff from noon until sunset.

12. When used on a speaker's platform the Flag should be displayed above and behind the speaker. It should never be used to cover the speaker's table nor to drape over the front of the platform. If flown from a staff it should be on the speaker's right.

13. When a number of flags are grouped and displayed from staffs, the United States should be in the center or at the highest point of the group.

14. When it is displayed with any other flag against a wall or in the open, from crossed staffs, the Flag of the United States should be on the right, the Flag's own right, and its staff should be in front of the other flags.

"A thoughtful mind, when it sees a nation's flag, sees not the flag, but the nation itself." --Henry Ward Beecher.

A. J. BACHMAN TO PREACH HERE

Rev. A. J. Bachman of Dickson, Tennessee will spend a few days this week visiting old friends and acquaintances in and around Mentone where he was pastor of the Church of Christ for several years. Mr. and Mrs. Bachman left Mentone about fourteen years ago but to the members of his church and the friends they made outside they are very well remembered.

Rev. Bachman is on his way to Detroit, Mich., to hold a series of evangelistical meetings but he is stopping off for a few days in Mentone. He will preach at the Church of Christ Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights of this week. Everyone is cordially invited to be present.

ECONOMICS CLUB

The Beaver Dam Home Economics club met Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Earl Meredith.

The president, Mrs. Earl Meredith, opened the meeting by singing, America, after which the creed was read. Roll call was answered with, "something I'm thankful for." Officers were elected as follows; president, Mrs. Neva Kinder; vice president, Mr. Sadie Dickey and secretary and treasurer, Miss Fern Petry. Mrs. Kathryn Cumberland and Mrs. Winnie Summe were chosen leaders for the coming year.

The hostess and Mrs. Grace Craig served delicious refreshments to the fifteen members, four children and one guest present.

The Club will meet with Mrs. Neva Kinder on December 16th for an all day meeting with a pot luck dinner. There will be an exchange of Christmas gifts.

IMPROVEMENTS

Many years ago when Mentone was young, there was a public cistern at the present intersection of Main and Broadway. There were several of these cisterns over town and they were used in time of fires.

When the paved road was put through workman filled the reservoir with old junk, rubbish, tin cans etc. Everything went well until recently. Due to the heavy loads that daily pass over this spot, the road has begun to sink. Monday morning the State highway workmen began tearing out the old pavement and filling in with new concrete, a space several feet square.

We hope that traffic will not inconvenience long and that the job will soon be completed.

Struck by Auto

Fred Riggs of near Mentone, narrowly escaped serious injury at 10:30 last Thursday night, at the corner of Center and Buffalo streets when he was struck by a car driven by Norman Smith, of Mishawaka. Smith was held briefly for questioning by Officer Ginn, who took charge of the case. Mr. Riggs was able to go home.

Bulldogs Defeated

The Mentone Bulldogs were completely snowed under by a fast Beaver Dam team in front of a capacity crowd in the Beaver's gym. When the smoke cleared away the Beavers were on top by a score of 34 to 23. The only time the Bulldogs came near the Beavers was in the third quarter. The local boys held the Beaver Dam squad scoreless for seven minutes of the eight, and added to their score all the time, but they never got closer than four points, till the Beavers rallied and put the game on ice.

The second team game was even more disappointing, the Beaver seconds piling up a total of 34 points to the 14 tallies scored by the Bullpups. This Friday night the Bulldogs will play the Akron Fliers on the Mentone floor.

TIDE WATER
ANNOUNCES NEW WINTER OILS

Two new Veedol motor oils, to be known a Veedol 10W and 20W, and designed to provide instant starting of cold motors and perfect lubrication without congealing at 20 degrees below zero were announced last month by Tide Water Oil Company through John D. Collins, general sales manager.

They are made of 100 per cent
Pennsylvania crude and although thin enough to flow freely at very low temperature are yet so tough they provide an adequate film of protection which will not burn up or break down under the most extreme heat of hard driving.

"In these new oils we have solved
one of the oldest and most grievous problems of the motorist," said Mr.
Collins. "When ordinary oils lie over night in cold engines they congeal to a point where the starter cannot turn over the motor at sufficient speed for easy starting. This has always been wasteful of fuel and current. The new oils overcome this difficulty by providing immediate lubrication of the engine parts and allowing the motor to start instantly without the dangerous dry rubbing of parts consequent upon the use of heavy oils that congeal in cold weather.

"The new Veedol winter oils will be particularly appreciated with the new high speed cars with closer clearances."

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Weiseert and daughter Carol Rose took dinner Sunday of last week with Mr. and Mrs. Luther Most.

Different Forms of Lightning

The world has been slow in learning that lightning assumes a large number of different forms. As recently as the middle of the Nineteenth century the leading scientific authority on lightning—the French physicist Arago—recognized only three varieties of lightning, and his list found its way into textbooks in all countries. Strange to say, of the three kinds enumerated by this authority, one—zigzag lightning—certainly does not exist, and the existence of the other two—sheet lightning and ball lightning—is somewhat doubtful.

National Champion
To Chop Here

Peter McLaren, who claims the wood chopping Championship of America will stage a log cutting contest and demonstration here on Tuesday, November 24, at 3:00 p.m. at the Co-Op Mill.

This contest has been arranged by the Northern Indiana Co-operative Association who is to be congratulated for arranging for the visit of this colorful champion, McLaren, whose wizardry with an axe has carried him from a poor farm lad in Australia, to the peak of his profession.

In chopping tours covering a score of years he has chopped before hundreds of thousands, both here and abroad. McLaren who in nearly 50 years old, claims that outdoor chopping is a great developer. His own condition bears out this claim.

The contest is open to any local man who has not previously competed against McLaren. A prize of fifty dollars will be paid to any contestant if McLaren fails to chop through a log in two thirds of the time the contestant takes.

The handicap gives all good choppers a sporting chance to win the prize money, as it is just like living 33 yards in a hundred yard dash.

The only restriction made is that no contestant be permitted to use a Flumb Axe. This is the only axe which McLaren himself ever uses, and he refuses to chop against a Flumb Axe and also, allow the handicap.

Every one is cordially invited to attend the demonstration. Choppers wishing to compete should bring their axes with them. It costs nothing to enter the contest.

also another aunt and uncle, Mr. and
Mrs. George Ihnen and children Ted, Carolyn and Marilyn of North Manchester. Mrs. Perry served a very delicious supper. Kathleen was four year old and of course will have many pleasant memories of the happy birthday.

SENIOR NEWS

The Seniors have already had one of their four debates in public speaking class. This debate was on the proposition that: The president of the United States should be elected by direct popular vote. The affirmative side won although it was no landslide. The other three debates have the following propositions--Interscholastic athletic contests should be discontinued, Voting should be made compulsory in the United States and Trial by jury should be discontinued in the United States.

When a debate is judged, the judge does not let his own personal opinion in the matter enter into his decision. He merely judges who is best by the way each side has arranged and given their material.

This preliminary work in class is just in preparation for the inter-school debate which our school is entering. The proposition is that all electric utilities should be governmentally owned and operated. This is quite a broad question and much research work must be done for information.

In our Civics class we have been discussing the cause and effects of crime. We believe some of the causes are ignorance, low moral standards, broken homes, poor home and school training, feeble-mindedness, and low ideals. These are not all the causes of crime but they are some of the most common ones. The most tragic thing about this is that all of these can be remedied, but they are neglected and people wonder why they have more crime around all the time. If some of these causes would be removed or corrected, crime would not exist, or at least would not flourish as it does now, and continue to be the blight of our social life. The effects of crime are more numerous than causes, and much more heartbreaking. Crime costs time, money, labor, and what in more precious than all, crime costs many lives. Many times the lives that are taken are not in any way involved in the crime, but are just innocent by-standers. The most terrible thing that can happen is to have children become the innocent victims of some gang's gun-play. However we must not think of crime as coming from gangs alone, because there are many single-handed criminals who do their filthy deeds. Another astonishing fact is the extreme youth of some of our criminals. Many very young boys and even young girls have become engaged in vices and crimes early in life. This is certainly a terrible and deplorable thing to have the youth of a nation to become involved in such black practices. Unless we stop gasping about crime when we read it in the newspapers, and stop getting indignant, and start doing something to correct the causes of crime, it will become such a terrible national poison that our nation will stagger and finally perish under this weight. This is a very serious problem and we must not ignore it but we must face and solve it.

In our typing classes we have a work book containing various letter-heads. Mr. Bowers is our "boss" and we try to type our letters to satisfy our "boss". This work is interesting although it is quite a bit repetition.

JUNIOR NEWS

The juniors have settled down quite a bit after the excitement of their play was over. We think the juniors did have a really fine play this year. One of the high spots in the play was the vocal work done by Jeanette Blue. The direction of the play was in the hands of Mr. Paul Smith of the English department.

In history the juniors are studying the winning of America from the Indians and also about the victorious break from the mother country, England.

In typing they are enjoying five minute speed tests daily. Jean Burns has reached the 28 word per minute mark in beginning typing.

The sophomore column is not quite so humorous this week as last, but maybe they will do just as well in a serious vein this week. In sophomore Latin they are studying the story of the Argonauts. This is the story from Greek mythology about Jason and Media finding the golden fleece. Jason was the son of a king in Greece. Jason's father's brother Pellius usurped the throne, killed Jason's friends took him away and hid him. When Jason grew to manhood, he went to the capital city to make some sacrifices. When Pellius saw him, he recognized him, and began to plot for his destruction. He decided to appeal to the young man's youth and bravery as a means of getting rid of him. Now on a certain island there was a valuable golden fleece which was hanging in a tree guarded by a very fierce dragon. Pellius told Jason that the one who brought him the golden fleece would be rewarded handsomely. This appealed to Jason's sense of recklessness, so he determined to get the fleece. On his travels he met Media, the daughter of the king of the island where the fleece was hanging. They immediately fell in love and she aided him with her magic to find and capture the dragon that guarded the golden fleece, and to bring it back safely. However this story has a very tragic ending because Jason met another woman and fell in love with her. He thought that he would divorce Media and marry this other woman, but Media killed the other woman by the use of her magic and Jason was killed by his own ship falling on him.

FRESHMAN NEWS

The freshman do not have much to say for themselves this week, so this line was just put in here to let you know they are still in school.

EIGHTH GRADE NEWS

The school paid tribute to those who gave their lives in an effort to gain world peace at eleven o'clock Thursday morning by standing, facing the east for thirty seconds.

In English we are progressing rapidly. We gave talks yesterday and today. Among the more interesting ones were Irene Nighswander's mysterious telephone calls, Jane Warner's lost luncheon, Alpheus Freeman's experience of being stuck in the mud and Ethel Sensibaugh's journey on a horse.

In geography we are still learning. Harry McClaren was the third victim of the punishment plan.

We have completed the study of rocks and soil in General Science, and are studying for a little quiz next Friday.

In arithmetic we have had two more ciphering matches. Irene Nighswander and Alpheus Freeman were victorious captains.

SEVENTH GRADE NEWS

We of the seventh grade are still working harder than ever trying to improve our grades and also our citizenship. Avonell Blue and Paul Horn are still sick with scarlet fever. Most of us are still reading books for English.

The seventh grade agriculture class is going to the muck crop show along with the rest of the agriculture boys on Thursday. The potatoes are the chief interest.

WE ARE THANKFUL

In this column last week, we expressed our appreciation for our parents. This week we wish to express our feelings for our teachers.

Our teachers are one group of people that we as students never fully appreciate. Sometimes we think our teachers are hard and fast when they set some rule or require anything unusual of us, but when we really analyse their purpose, we know they have only our interests at heart.

If a student will only think of a teacher as being his best friend, school would be a better and happier place to be.

Our teachers are constantly doing things for us that it would be impossible for others to do. They have quite a task because they are the ones who train our minds and teach us to think. We believe that if more students would consider their teachers their friends and pal, school life would be more pleasant, more enjoyable and more work on both the part of the teacher and the student could be done.

Footprints of Columbus

San Salvador, in the West Indies, is supposed to have been the place where Columbus first set foot in America. A rock there has a footprint, petrified through the years, which the natives insist is that of the discoverer.

GOOD stuffing for Thanksgiving bird is of prime importance to the success of the yearly feast. It must, first of all, be well selected, a delicately flavored stuffing for the roast chicken and turkey, a more strongly flavored one for the roast goose or duck, writes Helen Robertson in the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Second, it must be perfectly seasoned. Not too strongly to overwhelm the deliciousness of the bird, nor yet so bland in taste as to be uninteresting. Third, it must be of the proper consistency, not too moist, nor yet too dry. And fourth, there must be enough.

Bread being the usual foundation of the dressing, let us talk of it first. All kinds of breads may be used in the dressing providing the white bread predominates. Cold biscuits, pieces of corn bread, slices of toast, slices of whole wheat and of rye may all be used. Use part crust too, as well as the crumb. The bread should be dry and if part or all is lightly toasted, so much the better. And bread cut into small cubes makes better dressing than when crumbed.

For the very large turkey, upward of eighteen or nineteen pounds, two and one-half to three pounds of bread will be needed for the dressing, while for the smaller bird of around ten pounds, one and three-fourths to two pounds of bread may be used. And for the smaller bird, one pound and under should be sufficient.

Celery, oysters, mushrooms, chestnuts, the other ingredients you will use are of course dependent upon your own personal tastes and upon the bird you are serving. Here is a basic recipe for dressing for the twelve to fifteen-pound bird.

Bread Dressing.

3 qts. stale bread cubes Sage to taste
2 tbsp. salt 1 cup melted butter
1 tsp. pepper 2 cups chopped celery
1 tbsp. chopped parsley Cooked giblets

Prepare bread, sprinkle with seasonings. Pour over them melted butter and enough boiling water or stock from cooking giblets and neck to moisten. In adding butter and stock, toss the ingredients together lightly with a fork. Never press them together.

If you like onion in dressing, saute one or two slices in a portion of the butter before adding it to the dressing.

For oyster dressing omit giblets, add one pint of oysters cut in half and the oyster liquor, well strained.

To make mushroom dressing saute one-half pound mushrooms, sliced, in a portion of the butter and mix with bread crumbs. In using the mushrooms celery may be omitted or a smaller amount used.

Chestnut dressing is usually liked. To make it, prepare one-half pound chestnuts, chopping them rather fine. Mix with bread.

Sausage dressing is another favorite. One-half pound is sufficient for this amount. Cook it over a low fire fifteen minutes before adding to the dressing.

For the roast duck or goose you will find this rice, and prune stuffing tasty:

Brown three tablespoons of finely minced onion in two tablespoons butter. Add one cup well washed, drained rice. Let simmer until rice is slightly browned. Then add four cups soup stock or water in which bouillon cubes have been dissolved, eight or nine cooked prunes, pitted, and one teaspoon salt. Cook over a very low fire or over hot water until rice is tender. Season well.

Kukui Tree Oil

Lumbang or kukui oil, obtained from the nuts of the kukui, or candlenut tree, are occasionally used in the manufacture of some types of paint. The candlenut tree is native to Polynesia and is widely cultivated in Asia, Hawaii and the Philippines. Formerly the Hawaiians strung the nuts together on sticks and used them for lighting "candlenut."

Teredo, Marine Borer
The teredo, which is only one of several kinds of marine borers, is of the molluscan genus. It bores into wood and eats holes on the inside. The limnoris is a crustacean, and works on the outside. Either one has been known to reduce a foot-thick piling down to an inch or two in a few months' work.

Interesting to Know

Visiting the Home furniture store which was located in Akron recently in talking with the manager, Mr. McHattin it was interesting to learn that he was born and raised in the vicinity of Talma, and that his father, William McHattin taught school in that vicinity which no doubt many readers will recall.

Some how when one returns again to his old community it brings a renewed interest and pleasant memories. In the Home furniture store Mr. McHattin is indeed well prepared to give all who visit the store prompt attention and service. It was learned too that should a customer desire an article of merchandise which is not on the floor that in just a few hours it can be obtained.

Our suggestion to you is to watch your paper for further details of what the Home furniture store has to offer.

Thanksgiving

FOR the moon and the stars that shine,
For the stout heart that beats with mine,
For my home and its daily cares,
For dreams that grow along the years,
For those friends whom I hold most dear,
For my senses, e'er keen and clear,
For the seasons which come and go,
For the books that I've learned to know,
For music and its lovely way,
For the sun pouring out gold all day,
For the hills of my native land,
And the clasp of my children's hand,
For the life that binds me to these
Let me be thankful, dear God—

Alligators Destroy Calves

Alligators in Marajo Island Brazil, big tropical island at the estuary of the Amazon river, are not feared by men. They are nevertheless the No. 1 enemy of the cattle ranchers, who suffer an annual loss of several thousand contos de reis annually (one conto is about fifty cents) through the killing and destruction by the alligators of numberless calves. Marajo Island, which is larger than any one of the smaller European independent states, is the cattle country of the extreme northern section of Brazil.

Thanksgiving Day

NO DOUBT the same old question will be asked that we have so often heard — what have we to be thankful for? The question is foolish, almost as foolish as the attempts to answer it. Thanksgiving means gratitude, and there is probably no man alive who does not hold ingratitude to be one of the blackest sins. Of course, there can be no gratitude except as it is shown not only for something but to some one. Therefore, observes a writer in the Indianapolis News, it is that the thought of Thanksgiving necessarily implies the existence of a Divine Giver and Benefactor. So we are bidden to return thanks to Almighty God as "the Giver of every good and perfect gift." When there seems to be a scarcity of gifts one is tempted to ask the question, why be thankful? And that is a question which every one must answer for himself, and it will be answered as it always has been, in different ways. It is futile to catalogue what we know to be blessings and what we believe to be anything but blessings, and set off one list against the other, and be thankful in proportion as the good exceeds the evil.

Carlyle long ago showed us the folly of the bookkeeping method as applied to things spiritual. Probably most people get out of life about what they deserve and in proportion to what they put into it. It seems to be true that the most thankful people are those who have the least. On the other hand, those who are surfeited with good things take them as matters of course, as their due, and so calling for no gratitude. The than of an opportunity which it would be or might be fatal to neglect. "Be ye thankful" is an apostolic command. It ought to be easy to obey. Those men are nearest the truth who feel that in this life nothing is due them, and that whatever they get is in a very true sense a gift, and one which may be far beyond their deserts. So we are called to keep another Thanksgiving day, which should bring an outpouring of not only thankful but kindly hearts. Appropriate to the day is Pope's well-known verse:

Teach me to feel another's woe,
To hide the fault I see;
That mercy I to others show,
That mercy show to me.

What We Live On
I live on hope, and that I think do all who come into this world.

When the Festive Bird Goes into the Oven.

THE JUDGE SAYS:

"THANKS GIVING is approaching — it's time we told ourselves over and over again the thing about which we should be thankful. There are plenty of those things. But, most important of all, I think, is the chance given to make ourselves happy again."—Judge Harry B. Keidan.

question seems to be whether one has a thankful spirit, which surely is something to be greatly desired.

Without it, man is less than man. Even beasts are grateful. Practically, the question suggested by the day touches character. There is nothing mechanical or formal about it. One can not pump up thankfulness, and the setting apart of a day does not suggest that there should be such an attempt. The day is rather a recognition, less of a duty

Did any one outside of the school smell smoke this past week? Well, they say that where there is fire there is smoke and we certainly had a lot of fire between the opposing sides in our debating teams. Really it was quite enjoyable, listening to classmates get really in earnest about some great question of the present day government. It was a pleasure too, to take your own turn at getting heated up over some interesting proposition. The question under heavy gunning from both affirmative and negative this time was that jury trial should be discontinued in the United States. After all the contradicting they are, and they are not were rendered, M. Smith said that the biggest thing that this debate did for him was to remind him of two funny stories that he had heard. Imagine that! This year seniors will have to get busy so that they will be able to provoke deeper thoughts in the minds of their audience than funny stories, or our public speaking course will have been in vain. However, the redeeming feature is the fact that both of the funny stories had a mighty good point to them.

The next debate will deal with the proposition that voting should be made compulsory in the United States. We hope to have a full and very intelligent discussion of this all absorbing question.

The next thing we will consider in our public speaking is dramatics. We have had a little experience in this in the past few weeks in the form of a one-act play. We will try to look at drama and dramatics from all the angles and get a good general idea of mechanics and expression.

In our cooperative citizenship this week we have been studying about fires. Fire is one of the most useful servants that man has because it warms his body, cooks his food, and serves him as a protection. However the other side of the story is that fire is one of man's fiercest enemies when not in control. This is true of anything that is useful power. The power is good and useful until it gets out of control or is misdirected.

When we think of the contrast of feeling of ours for a fire when we take the case where we like to get up close to a warm fire after we have been out in the cold for a long time and the case when we stand helplessly by and see fire speedily reduce our home, our plant, our store etc. to a heap of ashes, we realize that fire is a great force which we must keep always under control.

Some of the causes of destructive fires are rubbish, carelessness, oily rags lying in small close rooms, lighting fire with kerosene, and defective wiring in an electric system. Every one of the fires which come from these causes could have been prevented. We must always think and be on the alert to remove these causes.

Since the fires which are caused from attempting to start a fire with kerosene are becoming quite common it is believed worth-while to spend a little time here explaining why it is dangerous and what causes the fire to start. When there are a number of live coals in the grate of the stove and you want to hurry the fire along you reach down and get the coal oil can and start pouring it on. Did you ever notice a white vapor escaping from your stove that looks like a combination between smoke and steam and that has a slight odor? This vapor is very combustible and it keeps coming from the stove as a result of the coal oil being poured on these hot coals. In other words the combination of kerosene and hot coals produces this whitish vapor. In a short time the gas has expanded and it fills the whole room. Your room is now like an automobile cylinder on a larger scale just before the spark is sent in to ignite the vapor in the cylinder to make it explode so that the motor will continue to run. And when you light your match you furnish the spark for your cylinder and it explodes in the same manner as the smaller cylinder with disastrous results to you and your home. Now you would not think of allowing yourself to be placed in an enlarged auto cylinder where very combustible gas is confined and allowing some one to touch a match to it would you? Then why place yourself in this position by pouring kerosene on hot coals and even being more foolish than this by making the one that light the match to blow yourself up. This is exactly what you are doing when you use kerosene on hot coals, and next time you may not be as lucky as you were in the past and if you do not wish to be hurried from this earth to the next world, do not use kerosene for lighting fires.

JUNIOR NEWS

The Juniors feel quite happy over the fine returns from their play last week. They really are to be complimented upon their fine presentation. (Don't worry, the Junior editor did not tell us to say this.)

We noticed that the Junior health girls are studying first-aid. It looks very interesting from the way they work at it. They are studying it in a very detailed manner, going into most of its branches very completely. This includes home nursing, emergency applications, and artificial respiration.

The Juniors are getting "sentenced" this week in an unusual way. They have a list of different parts of speech in all their various forms and are required to write sentences illustrating these various forms.

It must be confessed here that your humble servant forgot that Thursday afternoon was the time to write up the school news for this page and did not think of it until Thursday evening and therefore she hopes that the Sophomore editor and class will please excuse it if the account of their wonderful and recent party is not like the account that their diligent editor, Miss Long handed to this person.

As it is remembered from the copy handed in, they all had a very fine time and especially enjoyed watching Mr. Harrison stir cool-ade, and wield the broom and dish mop during the cleanup after the party was over.

FRESHMAN NEWS

Most of the Freshmen survived the first round with the Sophomores at the party this week and turned up at school the next day as ambitious and perky as ever.

SEVENTH and EIGHTH NEWS

The same reason for lack of news stands for these grades as for the Sophomore class to which an earnest apology is extended and it is promised that all effort will be made never to forget again.

It may be said that our friends in these grades are making very fine progress in their subjects. One thing which they find difficult, and which is also a problem to the grades is the time between classes being changed from five minutes to three minutes.

SPORT NEWS

Our next basketball game is scheduled with Akron for Friday night. On the following Wednesday night we have a game scheduled with Burket to be played with the Hawks in their home nest.

WE ARE THANKFUL

This week we wish to express our appreciation to the merchants for the help and service they have rendered to us as individuals and as a student body also. We are thankful for the cheerful friends and loyal hearts that are back of business places. We have always received the friendliest service and the finest and the kindest treatment from all of our business men and women. Our problems have always been considered by our merchants and their earnest help and cooperation has always been present in any of our undertakings. We are thankful for your interest in us and want you to know that we deeply appreciate every effort on your part to help us.

URGED THANKSGIVING

TRADITION has it that a woman was responsible for establishing the modern Thanksgiving day on the last Thursday of November. According to that story, President Lincoln issued his proclamation in answer to urgent pleas from Sarah J. Hale, editor of Godey's Lady's Book.

Bulldogs Lose Again

The Akron Fliers lived up to their name last Friday night when they flew away from the Mentone Bulldogs, leaving them behind by a score of 17 to 14. This is the third loss in as many starts for the local team. The Akron team is the fastest yet encountered by the local five and never allowed the Bulldogs to get ahead of them. Better luck soon boys.

Art Exhibit

A splendid art exhibit was held at the Mentone Public Library in keeping with the national book week. Many who are interested in this line of work called and commented on the work of our two local boys, Don J. Smith and Robert Blodgett. Both young men have talent and their exhibits were excellent. Some time in the near future another art exhibit will be held.
