RUSSELL EBER REPORTED SERIOUSLY WOUNDED

Mrs. Russell Eber received word from the War Department Sunday evening that her husband, Pfc. Russell Eber, a member of the 26th Division, was seriously wounded in France on Oct. 17th. The telegram further stated that Mrs. Eber would be notified of any changes in his condition and also sent her the address of the hospital where her husband is located.

Mr. Eber was inducted into the armed services from this county Dec. 7, last year, and went overseas the latter part of August.

Everyone is eagerly awaiting further information from the wounded man and it is sincerely hoped that his recovery will be rapid and complete.

OPTION RETURNED ON SALE OF DRUG STORE

Last week the information was given out that C. W. Shafer, owner and manager of the Big Drug Store in Mentone for nearly half a century, expected to sell the business. Mr. Shafer announced Monday that the deal didn't materialize, and that he's still on the job.

The expectant purchaser, H. C. McCarty of Rockville, is the only registered pharmacist in a big store there, and when he went to his employer seeking release to come to Mentone the owner just naturally up and sold the store to him. Mr. McCarty was well pleased with the Mentone store yet it was only natural for him to prefer staying in his home community when it was made so convenient for him to do so.

KEROSENE SUBSTITUTED FOR JACK-O-LANTERN CANDLE

A couple of neighborhood pre-school kids Thursday forenoon found themselves with a hollowed-out pumpkin and no candle, so they tried a stunt of their own. After the fire department had darrived and a survey was made, it was found that the kids went into the back porch at the George Clark home and filled a couple of cans with kerosene from the heating stove tanks and then went to the coal shed and built a fire in the pumpkin. The kids were seen headed for home when the flames started up the side of the shed. Neighbors put out the fire before the building was damaged to any extent.

ELECTION TUESDAY

Tuesday, Nov. 7th, is election day in this nation of ours and every citizen should make sure that he or she carefully studies the various candidates and votes accordingly. This is our opportunity to help select those officials who will manage our various elective offices and if we vote for any person for any reasons other than his qualifications and apparent intentions then we are jeopardizing our national security. Think and vote!

MILL FLOOR COLLAPSES

About 5:15 Thursday afternoon a portion of the second floor in the Co-Op mill gave way and several tons of feed came down onto the first floor. The cave-in was next to the egg case room and fortunately Lewis Poor had left work a short while before, otherwise he might have been crushed when the feed forced its way through the wall. Luckily, too, it was a warm day and there had been no fire in the heating stove in the room.

HALLOWEEN INNOVATIONS

The halloween pranksters hit on some rather novel costumes and tricks to keep alive the tradition of the season. Mrs. Broda Clark and Mrs. Onthank, disguised as witches, created considerable commotion at one or more juvenile affairs where they called, and even had some of the grownups on the verge of reading some fables over again.

Some of the group around the Lake Trail Cafe were responsible for a good many pink faces, sprained ankles and strained arm muscles. They had taken a life-sized dressmaking form and dressed it up with a lady's neat sport suit and parked it in the gents' washroom so that her back was to the door and she appeared to be powdering her face before the mirror. Time after time an uninformed person would dash for the room with a one-track mind and good intentions and stop abruptly when they encountered "Mabel." They'd come out in reverse with an "Oh! I beg your pardon!" and dozens of other apologetic phrases. Many of them, even, waited impatiently in the hall, wondering if the lady didn't know how serious the situation was becoming.

Those "in the know" around the place, too, had a strenuous day trying to get themselves back in shape after the amusement and laughing.

TWO SOLDIERS IN AUTO—TRUCK CRASH NEAR MENTONE

Two soldiers, Privates Ralph and William Grinnel, brothers, of Lansing, Michigan, escaped death or serious injury Tuesday when the car in which they were riding sideswiped a truck on state road 19, four miles south of Mentone.

The truck was owned by M. F. Todd, Warsaw, route 5, and was driven by John Shirey, 16, also of route 5, Warsaw.

The soldiers were enroute to Camp Breckenridge, Kentucky, after a furlough in Lansing. The car spun around in the road a number of times and turned over. Both occupants of the car miraculously escaped injury but were badly shaken up. Damage to the car was estimated at $350. Only minor damage was done to the truck.

LAKE CITY MACHINE SHOP MAKING IMPROVEMENTS

The scenery over at the Lake City Machine Shop has undergone a number of rapid changes the past week. In a matter of minutes Wednesday the bare lot to the east of the building blossomed forth with a 20-foot evergreen tree, and now workmen are busily engaged in preparing to lay new sidewalks in front of the plant. The tree came from the back yard of the manager, Mr. Byron Peterson.

BROTHER DIES IN KENTUCKY

In our last issue we stated that Andrew Long, 85, had suffered a stroke at his home at Owensborough, Ky. Tuesday his brother, J. D. Long of Mentone, received a telegram stating that he died early Tuesday and would be buried Wednesday. No other details were given. The deceased was well known in this area as he worked on a threshing crew for many years and also was agent for sewing machines.

MENTONE TAKES ATWOOD IN SEASON'S FIRST GAME

Mentone came out victorious in their first hardwood encounter of the season Wednesday evening when they defeated the Atwood boys here 32 to 19.

Mentone meets Beaver Dam on the latter's floor this Friday evening.

NER KINDER, OF NEAR BEAVER DAM, BURIED SUNDAY

Ner Kinder, 48, of near Beaver Dam, was buried Sunday afternoon in the Akron cemetery, following funeral services in the Akron Church of God. Rev. Danny Slaybaugh officiated.

Mr. Kinder passed away Friday morning at 8:45 o'clock at his farm home near Beaver Dam as the result of complications following an operation to which he submitted a month ago in an Indianapolis hospital. He had lived his entire life in the Akron and Beaver Dam communities, and was active in basketball during his high schooling at Beaver Dam. Pallbearers at the funeral were members on the team on which he had played. The ladies of the Jonah club at Beaver Dam served as flower bearers at the funeral.

Surviving are the wife and son, Bill, at home; a daughter, Mrs. Anita Slaybaugh, of Elkhart; a sister, Mrs. Sarah Ash, of Elkhart, and step-mother, Mrs. Tressa Kinder, of Akron. Tural Holdeman, a Teacher at Warsaw's West Ward, is a sister-in-law of the deceased.

NOT A GIRLS' GAME

Some of the boys must have been bragging about some of the things they were doing while Hallowe'ening, and not to be outdone a group of young girls went out on a commando raid. They "blew up" (or tipped over) one of the little "second-carpenter" jobs in the alley, among other things, and then waited for the official communique. It came—from an unexpected quarter. The Marshal called all the girls from the school room and politely informed them that the building was being repaired and that they would be expected to pay their share when the day of settlement arrived.

Mr. and Mrs. Conda Walburn attended the funeral of Mr. A. J. Hill of Silver Lake Sunday afternoon.

Why is Ed Lane up in the air?

BECAUSE he's down to earth about conserving coal. That's why he's putting up storm windows. He knows there will be some shortage of coal going to householders.

No less coal is being produced. More is being mined than ever before—with fewer men. Mine owners and miners alike are doing a splendid job. And there are ample rail facilities for transporting coal to your city.

But certain grades of coal are going to be greatly in demand for war production. And, to make things worse, your local coal dealer faces a shortage in manpower, trucks and tires.

So if you want to keep warm this winter, do everything possible to conserve the coal you can get. The little, common-sense things you can do will make your coal pile go 10% further—and save that much on your fuel bill.

Install weatherstripping. Clean your furnace. Fire carefully, and avoid overheating. Shut off unused rooms. Pull your shades low at night. For other suggestions, see your coal dealer.

One of the biggest jobs of the C & O Lines is hauling coal from the mines along its routes, so we're in a position to understand the problem, and to know how essential coal is these days.

What the World's Great Men Say About the Sunday School.

My experience during twenty-three years on the bench, in which time over 4,000 boys under the age of twenty-one years were convicted of crime before me, of whom but three were members of a Sunday-school, has satisfied me of the value of Sunday-schools to the community, in helping safeguard it, to the extent to which Sunday-schools exist, from the growth of criminals. My experience satisfies me of their value to the individual. In 1,902 cases of suspended criminal sentences in each of which a minister, priest, or rabbi became interested at my request, only 62 of the boys were brought back for violation of the conditions of parole. I believe the reform in the remaining cases (over 1,000) was prompt and permanent. I regard our Sunday-schools, including those of all faiths, as the only effective means to stem the rising tide of vice and crime among our youth. Society carried the heavy burden of criminality chiefly because of the lack of religious training of the youth. If all the children could be kept under the influence of the Sunday-school and the grown-ups were active in some church we could close our prisons and jails instead of being compelled to enlarge and increase their number. The problem of youth is the problem of humanity. There are over 17,000,000 boys and girls in this country growing up without moral training from any source, Protestant, Catholic or Jewish. —Justice Lewis L. Fawcett, Supreme Court of New York.

What better evidence could we give for the value of the Sunday-school? You say, "Oh, but my boy or girl will never go astray and be brought before a court of justice!" I suppose every criminal's mother might have said that too when her child was young. But we never know. Why take a chance? Why not give your child the advantage of the good influence of the Sunday-school. Bring them Sunday. Classes for all ages including a nursery for the babies.

Devon Jones, Claypool route 1, and Kenneth Boyer, Warsaw rural route 5, miraculously escaped death or serious injury and Harold Eaton, Claypool route 1, was badly shaken up in an auto-truck collision at the intersection of two county roads at Sevastopol.

The accident occurred at about noon Monday when Jones going south on the county road, hit the truck driven by Eaton, going west. Jones car struck the Eaton truck in front of the rear wheels and almost totally demolished the front end. The car spun around in the road and came to rest after hitting a store building on the southwest corner of the road.

Damage to the Jones car was estimated at $450. Eaton's truck was damaged to the extent of $150. Jones and Boyer were removed to the Jones home, about 500 feet south of the intersection where they were examined by an Akron physician and later removed to the McDonald hospital for further examination.

ON THE CHAIN—ON THE LOOSE

(Carried Over from last issue)

A few years back, when the circuses hibernated at Rochester and other neighboring towns, one wouldn't have been so surprised to find a real live gorilla galloping around. But today, with half the apes commissioned in the army and most of the suckers off the government payroll, one doesn't expect to encounter a 200-pound man-eater on his front step.

Hallowe'en brought out some horrible spectacles to behold, and many experiences to live down whether you are a drinking man or not.

The legendary Prince Pat, with his wild animal trainer and his pet gorilla, Leo, has been on the loose for a week and the drug stores in a number of neighboring towns have been having a rush business on nerve tablets ever since.

An ape with false teeth looked just as hungry as one would with a full set of virgin ivory.

This ape was a playful little cuss and too friendly for comfort. He was neatly parked on all fours at the entrance to a drug store and opened his mouth about a foot to say hello to a young lady just coming out. She changed gears in midstream and fled out the back door six feet ahead of a scream. Leo, the gorilla, had a bug tickling his tummy so he rolled over and scratched while the Prince and the trainer gurgled a soda or something.

A lot of barber shop yarns ended when the jungle squirrel cast a shadow on the tonsorial threshold. A week's growth disappeared in a quick swipe as the barbers gulped and threw their Adam's apples back in neutral. It was a close shave with a full house and nobody got clipped.

A gay country party broke up and the youngsters disappeared in all directions when the animal tried to read the menu. Their mother's skirt was a family tree with all the kids hanging on.

The riot squad was always just one town behind and by the time it caught up with the ancient troop in cheap clothing they were wolves again—partly. (Further information withheld pending the outcome of this much.)

Mr. and Mrs. Don Bunner made a trip to Sidney Tuesday evening to visit Mrs. Bunner's brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Merl Newby. Word was just received this week that Second Lt. Merl F. Newby, Jr., a bombardier on a Liberator bomber, had been killed in action. Lt. Newby had been listed as missing in action June 26th. The report of his death in action came from the German government through the International Red Cross.

Wayne Tombaugh, coming in from Akron, saw the blaze reflected in the sky. He hurried into town and turned in the alarm. Unfortunately, a good portion of the regular firemen were out of town at that time of the evening Sunday which made it difficult to combat a fire with the start this one had. No other buildings were damaged.

Wednesday morning the department made a run to the Raymond Rogers home at the north edge of town where a fire was burning near a chimney. Some of the firemen suspected that there might be fire smouldering in the ceiling above but as the house had

While firemen were at the above fire, another call came from the George Kreig home, west of town, but fortunately Henry Konneck came to the lady's rescue and took out a rug that was afire before other parts of the home were ablaze. The Mentone department did not know of this call until several hours later, otherwise the emergency truck could have been used at Mentone and the regular truck sent on the country run.

What the World's Great Men Say About the Sunday School.

I am grateful for the fact that a Presbyterian mother sent me to Sunday-school when I was a child. The young people of today—and there are many of them—who do not know the beauty of the Bible, passages of which should become part of their very bone and fibre, lack a solid foundation upon which to build their spiritual selves. The Sunday School creates this solid foundation; and we all need faith for cloudy days. — Charles Hanson

Towne, Editor of Harper's Bazaar.

To the People of this Community

The Victory Volunteer goes by many names in the Sixth War Loan. Sometimes he or she is called a Gallant, sometimes a Blue Star Brigadier or perhaps a Bondadier. Whatever the designation, he or she is performing a practical patriotic service. In this community in the next few weeks you will meet many of them at work in the theatres, at your workshop, in the banks and in your home.

Remember one thing: you do not do them a favor when you buy an extra War Bond. You help your country, your fighting relatives and friends and yourself. The Victory Volunteer gives his time and his energy in a great cause. He or she makes it easy for you to do your duty by buying at least one extra $100 War Bond over and above your regular Bond purchases.

TWISTED SMILES AND BLISTERED TONGUES

There's nothing as convincing as experience, and the cigarette shortage is creating a burning sensation on the tongues of many of the ladies with a deep-throated drag and a nicotine complex.

Many — years ago — mastered every technique in the art of "rolling their own," while standing on one foot, but when it came to building a cigarette from a sheet of tissue paper and a sack of "Bull" they couldn't do it even with both feet on the floor.

The only answer is a corn cob or better and anything for fuel. A pipe is an instrument of torture enjoyed by thousands and nauseating to millions whether smokers or not.

Most every tongue breaks out with blisters while breaking in a pipe, and like a piccolo player, your troubles are "soupy" until you get the tongue trained as a shut-off valve to keep the saliva from filling the bowl from the bottom. It's not only very disconcerting to your peace of mind but is a bad influence on your appetite to inhale a gurgling slug of liquid smoke at frequent intervals.

There's a difference between a cool smoke and one from a water-cooled pipe.

The ladies went for the lighter weight pipes for various reasons few of which are reasonable when observed in the light of pipe-smoking experience—but the gals were "fagged" out.

They couldn't put a six-buck overgrown curly briar Kaywoodie in a pair of tight-fitting slacks without looking like a battleship in drydock and her torpedo bulges showing, so they scrambled after the dainty little tongue-blisterers with the small bits and half-finished firepots.

The center of gravity on a cigarette is next to the soggy end while a pipe hangs heavy on the stern end even after it's empty. A pipe and false teeth get along as well as a frisky pup and a flower bed, and even with a good set of pre-war sausage grinders, one's mouth is forced out of shape so badly that you can smile with only one side of your face at a time. Like a Model T with one wheel in a mud puddle, you're doing a lot of grunting but getting no place.

Another week or two of pipe smoking and I'm going to open a school to teach the fine art of building a smoke that'll be neat, properly counterbalanced and still hold air.

These sickly smiles look too much like grins with corsets on.

Mr. and Mrs. Truman Long, of near Mentone, and Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Long and son Sylvan attended the funeral of Mrs. John Ringle at Rochester, on Tuesday afternoon. She was buried at the Richter cemetery.

CHICKEN LICE, MITES STEAL POULTRY MONEY

Old hens have been ridiculed for their constant cackling, but sometimes they have a real grievance. When "Hoosier Sue" opens her mouth in protest, be sure she isn't objecting to the lice and mites that make her life miserable and steal the poultry money at the same time.

Extension entomologists and poultrymen at Purdue University say that these pests lower egg production, keep chickens thin and reduce their market value, and make them weak and susceptible to other ailments.

To kill chicken lice, apply 40 per cent nicotine sulphate to the roosts. Every chicken must roost on a treated perch, since it is the fumes that do the job. The nicotine sulphate may be placed in an oil can and applied in thin lines along the top of clean roosts. Treatment should be made one-half hour before the chickens come in to roost, and should be repeated in 10 days to kill newly hatched lice. One ounce of material will treat 20 feet of perch.

Common chicken mites feed on chickens at night but hide in cracks and crevices of the poultry house during the day. To control them, spray the inside of the poultry house with a mixture of carbolineum and kerosene in equal parts, or with creosote, or with a mixture of four parts of used crankcase oil and one part kerosene. All cracks around and under roost poles, nests and mash hoppers should be sprayed thoroughly. If the poultry house is poorly constructed or badly infested, the walls and floors also should be sprayed. It pays to keep the poultry house clean and sanitary.

Copies of "How to Kill Chicken Lice and Mites", Purdue Leaflet 261 are available free at any Indiana county agricultural extension office.

Sign of a good housekeeper!

SURE, there's a cobweb on that door. In a moment it will be gone with a flick of the duster. But right now, it's a sign of good housekeeping, for it shows that an unused bedroom has been closed off to save heat.

There's going to be some shortage of coal delivered to homes this winter. This isn't because less coal is being produced. More coal is being mined this year than last. Mine owners and miners alike are doing a splendid job. And there are ample rail facilities for transporting coal.

But certain grades and sizes of coal are needed for war production. And, in addition, your local coal dealer is suffering from a shortage of manpower, trucks and tires. So be patient with him and make the coal you get go as far as possible.

Be sure your heating system is clean and in good shape. Fire carefully. Pull your shades and draw the drapes at night. Close off unused bedrooms. For other suggestions see your coal dealer.

One of the biggest jobs of the C&O Lines is hauling coal from the mines along its routes, so we're in a position to understand the problem and to know how essential coal is these days.

OUR THANKS

to the many friends who so thoughtfully remembered us with their sympathies and deeds of kindness on the occasion of the loss of our dear son and brother, Sgt. Robert V. Fisher in the service of his country. We wish in this way to extend our sincere thanks. Mr. and Mrs. V. B. Fisher and family.

Death has entered our camp again and has taken another one of our charter members; we are again reminded that life is but a vapor, a dream, a shadow that passeth away; and when most unexpected, death comes to all and severs from us one that is dear.

Therefore be it resolved: That our Charter be draped in mourning for a period of thirty days, that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the bereaved family and be recorded on the minutes at our next meeting.

What the World's Great Men Say About the Sunday School.

"Given real teachers, who understand children and young people, and who are themselves fascinated by the life of Christ and his teachings, and are with the purpose to make Him fascinating to others, there is no institution we could so ill spare. To me, dogma has no place in the Sunday-school, but the living Christ has, and his presence made real there is the very heart of the school's lasting influence. The most captious critic becomes silent when he sees this thing actually done."

CARDS IN SEALED ENVELOPES

Christmas greeting cards for soldiers overseas must be mailed in sealed envelopes by first-class mail, it was announced today.

The orders, issued through the War department, gave no further details.

However, it was urged that they be sent at once as all cards mailed now would reach even the remote parts of the world where men are stationed.

Mr. and Mrs. Riley Shoemaker and Mrs. Helen Gordon and son Dale attended graveside services for Elmer E. Hall of Westville, Ind., at the Nichols cemetery Saturday afternoon. Mr. Hall and Mr. Shoemaker were brothers-in-law.

The following committees were appointed.

Fish committee: Gus Mollenhour, B. Black, Werley Spitzer, Paul Rush, Lyman Mollenhour, Forrest Kesler and Raymond Hibschan. They will need other help and invite offers of assistance.

C. W. SHAFER SELLS DRUG STORE AFTER 46 YEARS

A deal was completed last week in which the Big Drug Store was sold by C. W. Shafer to Glenn P. Denton of Kokomo. Mr. and Mrs. Denton took possession Monday morning and have been well received by the people of Mentone.

Mr. Denton, who has had sixteen years service in large drug stores, comes well qualified to handle the prescription work of the community with safety and reliability. He is a graduate of the Indianapolis School of Pharmacy in addition to his years of actual experience.

Mr. and Mrs. Denton both work in the store and extend an invitation to everyone to call and get acquainted. They have not located a home in which to move and would appreciate hearing of a place that is available.

Mr. Shafer, who has an enviable and almost unbeatable record of nearly 46 years of service in the Mentone store, will continue to give every assistance he can to the new owners. Mr. Shafer has served his community well, and while doing this has conducted his business in such a way that it merits the confidence and support of the entire trading area.

This publication joins other friends in extending the very best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Shafer, and we trust that the well-earned relief from the strict requirements of supervising a profitable business will be most enjoyable to them.

FUEL SAVING POSSIBLE

A total of $198,535, or enough to purchase a war bond for every family in the county could be saved in Kosciusko county, Ind., this winter through the single expedient of installing storm windows on all residential buildings as a means of conserving fuel.

The figure represents the cost of coal, oil and gas which could be so saved in that county as determined by a formula announced here by R. E. Thulman, Chief of the Federal Housing Administration's mechanical engineering division. Potential savings for counties throughout the United States were made public as part of a nationwide educational campaign in which governmental agencies and committees of industry are co-operating to direct public attention to the urgent necessity of saving fuel in the coming fourth winter of war, Mr. Thulman said.

"The formula, devised for one fuel-saving measure, the storm window, a homely example familiar to all, shows that, in effect, from Kosciusko county alone 45,648 more gallons of fuel oil and 16,450 extra tons of coal would flow into the war effort — instead of up the chimney — if this one measure were universally adopted," Mr. Thulman said.

CONSERVATION TEXTS FOR SCHOOLS NOW BEING PREPARED

Announcement is made by Hugh A. Barnhart, director of the Indiana Department of Conservation that the first of a series of text books on the conservation of natural resources for use in the schools of the state is ready to be printed. It is hoped, Mr. Barnhart said, that the text books will be ready for use in the schools in the next semester.

Introduction of the teaching of conservation into the schools of Indiana was made possible, according to Mr. Barnhart, by the cooperation of Dr. C. T. Malan, state superintendent of public instruction, the Department of Conservation, Indiana University, and Purdue University.

The first text book, "Conservation of Plants", was written by J. L. Van Camp, associate extension forester of the Purdue University department of forestry and conservation. Members of the Department of Conservation assisted Mr. Van Camp with technical information.

"These books and the lesson material supplied by Howard H. Michaud, chief of the naturalist service of the Department of Conservation are expected to be an important addition to the study of natural resources," Mr. Barnhart said. "There has been need for many years for such courses in order that the children of Indiana may learn of the importance of conservation."

There will be five text books in the series. They will contain photographs and drawings prepared by the Department of Conservation.

"Dr. Malan has joined wholeheartedly in the effort to teach conservation in the schools, and we feel that a definite forward step toward making Indiana a better place in which to live has been taken," Mr. Barnhart said.

FINE LIONS MEETING WEDNESDAY EVENING

(Carried Over from last issue)

There was the usual large attendance at the Mentone Lions club meeting Wednesday evening, and the meeting was a very interesting one. Vice President Forrest Kesler presided.

Capt. Dan Urschel, former member of the club, gave a very interesting report of the work of the Medical Corps in the war. Three other servicemen, Pfc. Robert Anderson, Cpl. Clay Nottingham and Aviation Cadet Joseph Boggs were also present and each gave brief statements.

Dr. Marble, poultry specialist now employed at the Creighton Brothers poultry farm, gave a thought-provoking message on the effect of heredity on humanity, and its influence in giving human beings a resistance to disease or a susceptibility to it. It was difficult to reduce the message from highly technical terms to a language readily understandable to the layman, yet Dr. Marble was highly successful in this respect.

The article telling of the club meeting held on November first, which follows, was withheld from publication two weeks because there was not room in our columns for it. It is reprinted below:

About fifty were present at the Lions Club meeting held in the basement of the Methodist Church Wednesday evening to hear Merl Sanger, Chief Chemist of the General Tire and Rubber Company of Wabash, explain synthetic rubber. His subject was: "Synthetic Rubber—How We Are Doing It."

Mr. Sanger gave very assuring information regarding the synthetic program and stated that tires for civilian use are dependent entirely upon labor and fabric materials to fabricate them into finished tires. There is a sufficient amount of synthetics now available—and he extended his appreciation to the liquor drinkers and manufacturers in that they denied themselves for a time to permit the distilleries to make synthetic rubber from alcohol.

Rayon has been found to be the most satisfactory fabric for synthetic tires as this type of rubber develops more heat than the natural variety which caused the cotton fabric to deteriorate. Nylon is another possible fabric and since there is a stockpile of about ten million pounds more than what has been designated to specific purposes, experiments are now in progress.

Various synthetics have various characteristics which fit them for specific uses, yet for use on tires for speeds above 40 miles per hour, a combination of natural rubber and several synthetics is necessary for satisfactory performance.

Mr. Sanger, to complete his demonstration, took a small test jar of synthetic latex and added a liquid to coagulate it into crude rubber, and in a matter of seconds had a number of rubber balls bouncing over the room.

THINGS YOU MAY NOT KNOW.

(Carried Over from last issue)

In 1943 and 1944 Kosciusko county farmers produced a record supply of food. Knowing this was accomplished despite such drawbacks as drought, late springs, labor shortage, machinery and gas rationing, and other obstacles, the farmers of Kosciusko county have shown an amazing increase in livestock, grain and food production in these two years, declared County Agent Joe Clark in reviewing the county's achievements which will be recognized during Farm Recognition week, November 20 to 25.

The greatest livestock increase was made in poultry, hogs and dairy. The increase in poultry in 1943 and 1944 was 30% more than 1940 and 1941, the number of hogs produced really hit the top in 1913, which was 43% above the previous ten year average. Dairy cattle increased 3%. Corn acres jumped up 12% in this period. Oats increased the same. Soybeans 17% and on special crops such as tomatoes we don't have the figures on the increase but it was much higher than the previous years.

Thanks for this little visit, and congratulations for your part in this big Food Production Program in 1943 and 1944, says Mr. Clark. May it never be said, people went hungry because Kosciusko county farmers couldn't produce the food. For the farmers of the county produced a record of food in both years.

GIVEN PRESIDENTIAL

S/sgt. Robert F. Duglay of Mentone, Indiana, now serving overseas with a 12th Air Force Fighter Group is authorized to wear the Presidential Unit Citation Ribbon.

Sgt. Duglay's group was recently cited by the President for "outstanding performance of duty in action against the enemy in the Mediterranean Theatre of Operations."

After the Allied armies had broken the enemy's seven-month stand before Casino, Italy, and were threatening his flank from the Anzio Beach-head the enemy attempted to form a defense line. Sgt. Duglay's group was ordered to maintain continuous armed reconnaissance of all roads leading from the front to the projected defense line.

Although the majority of the planes they were then flying—A-36 "Invaders" and P-40 "Warhawks"—had been flown over 400 combat hours on more than two hundred combat missions, in almost a year's time, the ground personnel through indefatigable and resourceful effort had every plane prepared for an all-out effort.

In one day, the group destroyed or damaged 462 enemy vehicles, inflicted an unknown number of casualties on hostile personnel, established many effective road blocks, silenced several gun positions and interdicted a number of highways being used by the enemy.

The citation concludes "this dawn-to-dusk aerial hammering by the group co-ordinated with the terrific assaults made upon adjoining areas by other units of the Mediterranean Tactical Air Force, so crippled the enemy's transport system and disorganized and decimated his ranks that he was forced to abandon his projected defense of Rome and hastily retreat northward to escape complete annihilation.

Sgt. Duglay is a clerk with the group and has been overseas 16 months.

Adam Bowen, janitor at the Lake City Machine Shop, narrowly averted death or injury Thursday of last week when the coal bin wall in the furnace room collapsed under the pressure of 15 tons of coal. Mr. Bowen had just left the room a few minutes before the avalanche of brick and fuel came tumbling in on the furnace and stoker.

TURKEY DAY IN A "GOBBLED" WORLD

Irrespective of what our difficulties may be, we can still raise our eyes to "The giver of every good and perfect gift" and be thankful. In spite of all our losses, nationally, economically or personally, in the vein of a communique of a fatigued but determined group of war-tossed fighters, we can be thankful that our losses haven't been greater than they have.

Humor, in any form where it is mingled with the essence of truth or fact, is our last personal barrier of defense in most every instance. It doesn't circumvent the infinite power of the Divine, but rather emphasizes faith in Him by our confidence of an optimistic ending. It is this certain something which prompted a group of soldiers on the Yorktown to reply, by telephone, that they had "a swell acy-deucey game on" just before they went to their deaths in a lower compartment of the big carrier. The last two jap torpedoes not only sealed the fate of the already stricken vessel, but had so blown the ship to pieces inside that these boys had no possible way of escaping. Their last and only contact with this world was with the ship's telephone system—and their words were brave and confident.

Once we lose our ability or desire to find protection in humor, then we have lost not only a great protector but a formidable force to drive us on to future victories.

Some of the events of this world are so serious that it reminds one of some of the between-the-acts stage antics of years ago.

Mussolini, a bird with a bay window and a balcony, a bulldog chin and a bunch of immoral backers, put on a first-class exhibition for the Ethiopians. It was a hit and run proposition and to add to the shouting, Fascist stagehands sent over several tons of carpet tacks and paved the mountain runways for the barefoot colored gents south of the big pond. It was a big show and as unanimous as a political caucus held in a telephone booth.

Hitler, an Austrian sign painter and paper hanger who got his ability to yell when a bullet clipped him in World War I, by the middle of 1933, had gained enough support to put a bunch of new shirts on some of the "master race" for a big parade.

Franco decided that Spain needed a

STRICTLY BUSINESS

by McFeathers

"I see we'll have to get another new man to take charge of questionnaires!"

little working over, according to his script, and put on a big rodeo all his own. The two shirt-tail leaders above furnished the outside talent and gained a lot of experience for future operations while many of the people of France and England helped the revolutionists morally and financially while sputtering "tut-tut."

And over in the slant-eyed orchards the little buzzards were nippon this and nippon that. A near-sighted flyer sunk the Panay and they put skylights in the International compound buildings at Shanghai while our white-clad Marines waited for someone to start climbing over the fence. "We apologize—just send us more scrap and oil."

The fall hunting season was due to open in Europe and John Bull was hollering "sic-um" in hopes the party would head east and not west. It went north and Poland was turned into a Nazi reserve in fifteen days.

Slightly before, however, when the preliminaries looked like the real thing, one of our biggest liners, loaded with Americans looking for the buttered side, "took a cruise in the Mediterranean," according to the words of one of the group. We all knew the show was scheduled—but we had no way of knowing the date.

Then the Russian bear, with the lust to wander and a Finnish appetite, started searching for a corridor, or something. Russians speak 169 dialects and a lot of them landed in the bottom of a lake before they got their signals worked into a successful end-run.

All this before our very eyes and yet it happened. Like permitting our children to run wild and then later trying to get them out of prisons and reformatories, we are retrieving the hard way that which we have lost. Armed conflict is but one of many convincing pressures that are used internationally. It's our fault and it's our responsibility—and we should put forth every conceivable effort to see that it is done quickly and completely.

And most important of all—and above all—let us not lose our freedom of speech and thought which is being threatened on every hand. Eleven million sons and daughters—or as many as will return—should have every privilege they need to see that "it doesn't happen again."

Yes, we're mighty thankful that we are Americans with a certain amount of freedom in a world and nation beset with many restrictions—some with merit, some with none.

Ora McKinley, of the Mentone Lumber company, spent three days last week at Purdue university where he inspected some of the post-war housing innovations and listened to housing experts from all parts of the nation.

WHAT ABOUT THIS

V-DAY BUSINESS?

(The following excerpts from a letter from T-Sgt. Robert Tucker, in Burma, gives a GI's view of the many V-day celebrations.—Ed.)

"I consistently register a gripe about this big V-day celebration everyone is contemplating on the surrender of Germany. Believe me, and I repeat, believe me, it isn't going over very big around here. Perhaps we should take a couple of days off and whoop it up and all of that baloney. There are a lot of fellows in this army directly or indirectly waging war against the Japanese and I am positive that everyone feels the same about it. It is definitely a morale factor, and the morale of most of these fellows in the CBI (The forgotten theatre) and the South Pacific—Guam, Guadalcanal, The Marianas, Saipan, Tarawa, was low enough previously—that alone might lose more battles than is realized back your way. It's entirely possible.

"... With reference to the gripe I registered in a previous paragraph about a V-day celebration. Who started this war as far as the U. S. was concerned? Wasn't it the Japanese at Pearl Harbor? And isn't this supposed to be a total war? I personally can't see any reason for stopping in the middle of it for a Victory celebration. It's gonna take a lot more than most people think to lick the pants off of fanatical Japan. Here we are, blowing up American airfields in China in front of the advancing Japanese, and yet back home they are planning a Victory Celebration. It looks a little queer to the boys over here, and this is open to publication as my personal opinion."

Several hundred dollars damage was done by fire at the Everett Clabaugh residence Tuesday evening when a noll stove set fire to the kitchen. Mr. and Mrs. Clabaugh had just left home and Mrs. Clabaugh had returned the stove off a few minutes before, when the daughter stepped outside to visit at a neighbor's home, she saw the flames in the kitchen. With the help of neighbors and the fire department, the fire was extinguished in less than ten minutes, but not until the entire house was damaged by smoke and paint-blistering heat.

A short time later his father was present to see the submarine christened which John and his crew were to sail into the enemy strongholds of the Pacific some time in June. LT. MILES MANWARING FIRST
TO LAND IN HOLLAND INVASION

(Special to the Co-Op. News.)

(Passed by Field Press censor Nov. 16, 1944.)

A U. S. TROOP CARRIER BASE, FRANCE.—One of the first American glider pilots to land in the gigantic airborne invasion of Holland was First Lieutenant Miles L. Manwaring, son of Mrs. Erle Manwaring, Mentone, Ind. His wife, Mrs. Mary L. Manwaring also resides at Mentone.

"The trip over was normal until our crossing of the enemy lines. At that point considerable flak was encountered; however, my glider received very few hits, mostly small arms fire, said Lt. Manwaring. "I was the fourth glider to land, made a normal landing and unloaded. There was spasmodic firing all around our field."

"I was in charge of thirty glider pilots, detailed to guard approximately three hundred prisoners in the prisoner of war stockade for about five days until relieved by the Military Police."

"We later joined the remainder of the glider pilots at a central point and were evacuated to our home station."

Lt. Manwaring was graduated from Indiana university in 1932 and was employed by the Farmers State Bank before entering the service in April, 1941. He received his glider training at various fields in Wisconsin, Alabama and North Carolina before participating in maneuvers in North Carolina prior to coming overseas early this year.

His unit, a part of the U. S. Troop Carrier Forces which form the air component of Lt. Gen. Lewis H. Brereton's new First Allied Airborne Army, holds the Distinguished Unit citation for its part in the initial invasion of Normandy, and has spearheaded the airborne drives that have opened all the continental operations. Lt. Manwaring holds the Air Medal for his part in the invasion of Southern France.

The U. S. Troop Carrier Forces are commanded by Maj. Gen. Paul L. Williams, veteran leader of all Troop Carrier Operations in Africa and Europe.

(Ed. Note—Statements by relatives also give the information that Miles had one siege of eight days and nine nights in a fox hole, which indicated that he's been where it was the worst.)

Winter appears to be on the way, with a few skiffs of snow appearing frequently.

A BUSY SEASON

Last Monday the Sixth War Loan campaign started and within the next few days the citizens of the county will be approached by the various solicitors seeking pledges. Likely none of the people selected as solicitors wanted the job, but were persuaded to do it from a patriotic standpoint. Anything you can do to help them in this work will be appreciated.

The annual Christmas Seal sale opened Monday and the response in this worthy program has been generous to date. The proceeds of this campaign are used in the battle against tuberculosis. Although the seals are beautifully engraved and very decorative on Christmas packages, this is not their greatest value. The eradication of the scourge of tuberculosis, using the money secured by the seal sales, is truly of great benefit to all mankind and each citizen should take pride in purchasing and displaying the little seals.

Along with the two major programs above, there is the usual obligations of the holiday season—buying gifts for friends and relatives or arranging for gifts of food and money to the less fortunate of our citizens that their Christmas might be a pleasant one, too.

LIONS MEETING ON

The Anthony Nigo Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution enjoyed a six o'clock dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Rush on Tuesday evening Nov. 28. The members entertained their husbands and other guests included; Mr. Dale Kelly, Mr. Paul Rush, Mr. and Mrs. Forest Kesler, Mrs. Jennie Cunningham, Mrs. Lydia Deaton, Mrs. Elener Manwaring, Mrs. Mary Manwaring and the Misses Wreatha McFarren, Ellen Davis, Freda Kesler, Dorothy Egolf, Violet Friesner, Ellen Kesler, also Shirley and Barry Igo, Virginia and Donald Rush, Cara Lynn Fenstermaker and Reed Riner.

The Regent, Mrs. Ray Rush, very graciously welcomed the guests and Mr. Vere Kelley gave the response.

Music was furnished by the Misses Freda Kesler, Dorothy Egolf, Violet Friesner and Ellen Kesler under the direction of Miss Ellen Davis, the music instructor of the High school. The Chapter will meet Dec. 12 for a Christmas party at the home of Mrs. Max Smith.

A VACATION—ALMOST

We of the Country Print Shop have been attempting to arrange for a vacation for a long, long time, but just about the time we had a helper sufficiently trained to handle the work for a week or so alone, then either the army or the navy would step in. Wednesday evening of this week, however, the vacation almost became a reality. The only thing preventing it was that friends put out the fire before the plant burned up.

We are indeed grateful to local citizens for their quick action which prevented a serious fire loss. A shield near the stove, used for protection during the day periods for those working at a nearby mailing table, was left there while we went to supper and the stove took this particular time to get all "het" up. Local people, seeing the blaze thru the front windows, turned in the alarm and then pushed in the front door to put out the fire before it actually got a good start. There was absolutely no damage other than to the door lock, and I herewith extend an invitation to anyone to break the lock again should another fire start. The fire extinguisher, too, is hanging just on the inside of the front door.

P. S. I was late to my own fire, too.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks to our neighbors and friends for the many expressions of kindness and sympathy and for the beautiful floral offerings. Also for the kindness of the minister and members of the Methodist church during our period of sickness and death of our father and grandfather, William J. Shoemaker.

Warm—but not fair!

JOE's got the house too hot by careless firing of the furnace, so he's trying to heat all outdoors by opening the windows. Through wasteful practices, he isn't being fair to his own family—or to other families using coal. He isn't helping America.

This winter it's vital to conserve coal as never before. This isn't because less coal is being produced. Actually, millions more tons are being mined this year than last—by fewer men. Quite a tribute to mine owners and miners alike!

There are adequate facilities for hauling coal to your city. But certain grades and sizes of coal are needed for war production. And, in addition, your local coal dealer is handicapped by a shortage of manpower, trucks and tires. So be patient with him. Order before you're down to your last shovelful.

And conserve the coal he is able to deliver to you through firing carefully, closing off unused rooms, pulling down shades at night and through other simple precautions. For other suggestions see your coal dealer.

One of the biggest jobs of the C&O Lines is hauling coal from the mines along its routes, so we're in a position to understand the problem, and to know how essential coal is these days.

..What the World's great people say about the Sunday-school.

"A teacher in a Sunday-school is occupying one of the most honorable positions a moral agent can fill. It is neglect of home teaching, home example and home religion, that renders the Sunday-school necessary. If this institution supplies the lack of home instruction when parents are not capable or no longer living, it becomes an important auxiliary to the Church." — Florence Nightingale Sherk.

It is impossible for us to take the place of neglected home training but we are doing the best we can the few moments we have your children. #### HERE WE ARE AGAIN

It's rather peculiar, but winter seems to get here quicker than summer. Like the three colored boys who had heard so much about how fast the new zephyr trains traveled. They decided they'd find out for themselves, so took a little trip down the track to see the old girl drift along. In an effort to get a longer look at it, they chose different spots along the track several hundred feet apart—and waited.

Suddenly the first in line shouted: "Here she comes!" The second blurted out with "Thar she goes.", while the third yelled: "Where am she?"

So, summer, where am she?

Winter is something like a cockroach in a restaurant — it comes in anywhere and regardless of where you are or what you're doing, there it is.

It will give due notice of every hole in your sock or trousers, comes blasting through every crack and crevice in the family mansion and chases the old hens up on the roosts with their shoulder blades up past their ears.

It used to be that when winter showed up we were ready with a coon-skin bonnet, a cowhide coat, felt

TO MY MANY FRIENDS AND CUSTOMERS

This is to notify you that I have sold "The Big Drug Store on the Corner" to Mr. Glenn P. Denton of Kokomo, Ind., and I shall take this opportunity to express to you my gratitude, appreciation and many thanks to those who have been so loyal to me during all these 46 years I have conducted the drug store. It is surely with a feeling of regret that I shall be unable to meet and greet you in the future as in the past. The friendships formed during my business career here will be lasting ones on my part. It shall always be a pleasure to look back over these years and think of my associations with the young and old of this community. I wish you may be as liberal in your patronage to Mr. Denton as you have been with me. I am sure he will extend and grant you as good service as you have enjoyed from me.

With a feeling of regret, I am bidding you a fond Good-Bye.

boots and long-handled underwear, but civilization worked us over worse than a prize wrestler in a second-rate joint after two beers.

In those days we never went anywhere and had a lot of time to do it in. Nowadays we go quite a ways and don't do anything when we get there either. Then you just tanked up the filly with oats and now you fill up a tank. We had plenty of room in the old bob and parked up there like a bear with briars in his hind paws, but to get into the perambulating implements of destruction we use today, you need a shoe horn and a wrecking bar, with anything on thicker than two pairs of starched denims.

We put more into clothes, today, but less on.

Police Can't Save You From "Robber" Hens

Yes, "Robber" hens! They're as unwelcome as a locust plague. Unsuspected, yet every flock has them. They're the hens who eat your feed but lay no eggs. Let Eamesway cull them out and the cost is returned many times on the feed you save.

The Eamesway System of Poultry Inspection is totally different, and amazingly effective. Time and again it culls out as high as 25% of a flock with no loss in egg production. So get rid of "robber" hens now, send them off to market while they are still alive, and save feed, labor and loss of birds which would die if not marketed now.

Consult Mr. Lackey.

Get the facts from Mr. Lackey, a graduate of the Eames Institute of Poultry Technology. It won't cost you a cent to talk over your poultry problems with him. He will be glad to call at your farm. For an appointment phone 119, Mentone, or write—
