BLACK — HODGES

Miss Margaret Vorlene Hodges, became the bride of Gene Alden Black, at 7:30 Saturday night, November 3, at the Methodist Church, in Akron. Rev. Ralph Hoffman, of Roann, read the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard E. Hodges, of Etna Green; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Black, of Macy, are the parents of the groom.

An organ musical preceded the ceremony. Mrs. Arthur Sohlke, Jr. sang "The Lord's Prayer." The altar was decorated with palms and white pom pom chrysanthemums, flanked by candlelabra.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore over her grandmother's hand embroidered muslin petticoat, a floor length gown of ivory satin and lace styled with a fitted bodice and full skirt. Long fitted sleeves came to points over her wrists. Her finger tip veil was held in place by a cloche of seed pearls. She carried an arm bouquet of white rose buds.

Mrs. Arthur Sohlke, Jr. attended her sister as matron of honor. She chose a gown of floor length rose satin, fashioned very similar to that of the bride. She wore a half bonnet and mits of matching material and carried an arm bouquet of white pom pom chrysanthemums.

Eugene Powell served the bridegroom as best man. Roger and Ivan Hodges, brothers of the bride, with Harold Hileman and Gerald Smalley, were ushers.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Hodges selected a dress of black crepe; the bridegroom's mother wore a dress of wine crepe. Bronze chrysanthemum corsages completed their ensembles.

A reception was held in the church basement immediately after the ceremony.

For traveling the bride changed to a navy blue suit, with a gray coat and black accessories. Her corsage was white rose buds from her bouquet.

Mrs. Black, graduated from Mentone High School in the spring of 1951 and is now employed at the Farmers State Bank, in Mentone. Mr. Black is a graduate of Akron High School and is employed at Frank's Manufacturing Co., of Mentone.

ELECTION QUIET AFFAIR IN MENTONE TUESDAY

The municipal election at Mentone Tuesday was a rather quiet affair, and with the exception of the citizens, very little campaigning was done by any of the candidates on the two tickets. The snow, sleet and rain made it difficult for the voters to get to the polling place, but a total of 217 votes were registered for the candidates from the first ward.

The choice of the voters was that the official town board to take office on January first will contain two republicans and two democrats. The republicans named Harold Nelson and Artley Cullum as trustees, while the opposing party elected Harry Smythe as the third trustee, and re-elected M. O. Mentzer as clerk-treasurer.

Vote tabulations were:

Republican	Democratic
Artley Cullum 132	Glen Denton 85
Harold Nelson 125	F. Warren 88
R. Ferverda 104	Harry Smythe 107
W. Tombaugh 103	M. Mentzer 111

The candidates extend their sincere thanks and appreciation to the voters for the confidence placed in them. All realize that the town's business involves all the citizens, and oftentimes decisions must be rendered on an overall basis and not just upon the problem at hand. Undoubtedly the new board, the same as those in the past, will appreciate the suggestions of the citizens to the betterment of the community.

CAR WRECKED WHEN STEERING WHEEL LOOSENS

Bob Vandermark and Max Grubbs escaped with only severe cuts and bruises Friday noon when the steering wheel pulled loose from the gear box on the '35 Chevrolet coupe being driven by Vandermark. They were just crossing a bridge about three miles west of Mentone on road 25 when the car went over one of those up-and-down places in the highway. The steering wheel came up and when the brakes were applied the car headed off the left side of the road into the side ditch. A small tree stopped—and wrecked—the car. The boys were taken to a Mentone doctor for preliminary medical attention and then they were taken to Rochester for a few stitches and bandages.

Studies show that driver education reduces accidents by at least half, but only 13 per cent of high school students are enrolled in courses which provide actual behind-the-wheel instruction, according to the Chicago Motor Club.

Almost 25,000 persons traveled to Alaska by car last year reports the Chicago Motor Club. They spent at least 30 days in round-trip travel and a minimum of $800 for two persons in a car.

All of Canada's ten provinces are touched by sea water except Saskatchewan and Alberta, and Saskatchewan has a salt water inland lake, Little Manitou, which is denser than even the Dead Sea.

Two million youths reach driving age each year, yet only one out of eight is properly trained to drive a car, says the Chicago Motor Club.

NEARLY 400 ATTEND
FARM OUTLOOK MEETING

The farm outlook meeting, sponsored by the Mentone Farmers State Bank and the Mentone Agricultural class, held Wednesday evening at the Community building, was very well attended even though the highways were covered with snow and ice. Approximately 380 people were seated at the banquet tables when about ten of the Lions club members started serving the big turkey dinner.

Walter Kent, principal of the Mentone schools, very ably served as toastmaster at the program which followed the dinner.

The high school quintette, composed of Bernadean Sensibaugh, Jackie Blue, Geneva Whetstone, Donna Gene Dillman and Max Faurate, put on a very entertaining program, and the Agricultural classes from Claypool and Mentone, including the GI farm class, and the instructors, were introduced to the assembled group.

One of the features of the evening was the address by Prof. Hicks, of the Purdue University department of Agricultural Economics. Prof. Hicks, who was introduced by Anthony Pavelick, vocational agricultural teacher in the Mentone schools, divided his discourse into three main thoughts. He first spoke of the mechanical advances in agriculture the past 30 years, and predicted even greater advances within the immediate future. He stated that we possibly could expect the greater advances in the realm of plant breeding and genetics.

The economic outlook in the United States was featured in the second part of the talk, and his words were flavored with much optimism, even though he touched upon a few things that he felt should be improved. Primarily, he felt it was time to refrain from using government subsidies and supports to inefficient farm operators, or those now trying to produce on sub-marginal soils.

The final portion of his address was not a pretty picture to behold, but one which we must face—war or peace—and he felt it wasn't a very bright picture. Russia and the Communist threat is a formidable one, he stated, and western Europe must be preserved from them if we expect to maintain our present high living standard—and even the opportunity to partially maintain that standard.

SCOUT COMMITTEE MEETS

The Boy Scout committee met at the Mentone Lumber Co., Tuesday evening to lay plans for the coming year, and make a few replacements in the committee. Rev. Gosser, who has served as Scoutmaster, asked to be relieved of this responsibility. Donald Kinkead, Jr., was named to be Scoutmaster with James Rodibaugh and David Cooper as assistants.

In addition to the troop committee-men, four boys from the Scout troop attended. They were Merrill Peterson, Charles Urschel, David Gosser, Jr. and Larry McKinley.

THE GYRFALCON

Gyrfalcons are rugged birds. They have to be, for they live in the cold, barren Arctic and northern Canada. Sometimes they venture southward, but few go as far as the northern United States. Only once in a while is a Gyrfalcon seen in our country.

In the bleak territory which they inhabit, the big birds perform like true members of the hawk and falcon family. They are among the fastest of all feathered fliers, and in their bag of aerial tricks are the skills of soaring and diving.

With a keen eye for prey, they arouse fear in the hearts of their neighbors—birds, rabbits, mice, shrews, and other small animals. Many an unsuspecting creature has felt the swift, sure claws of a Gyrfalcon whose appetite was unsatisfied.

The struggle with a victim is usually short, because the Gyrfalcon is a large, powerful bird with strong feet and beak. He is from 20 to 25 inches long and has a heavy body. His wings, built for speed, are long and slim and his tail is somewhat long, too.

Only experts can be sure of identifying him, says the National Wildlife Federation. This is partly because Gyrfalcons are so rarely seen, and partly because they come in different color combinations. Some are white, with broken bars of brown or black across their backs and wings. Others are darker, with mostly brown, gray or black feathers and only a bit of white.

At one time this caused bird authorities to list three or four races of Gyrfalcons living in North America. But now they feel that there is only one, and that the different colors may show up among birds of the same brood.

©National Wildlife Federation
Gyrfalcon

The young make their appearance in a rough nest of sticks and twigs, built in a protected corner of a high cliff. There are three or four of them to a family. They are hatched from large buff or brownish eggs which are marked with reddish brown.

From their lofty home, they look out on a cold, forbidding land, where ice and snow never completely disappear. But they are husky babies right from the start, and soon gain the thick layers of feathers which will protect them against wintery blasts.

Not long after they leave the nest, the young Gyrfalcons display the flying skill for which their family is famous. Beating their wings in rapid flight or holding them outstretched while soaring, the young join their parents on patrols of the arctic skies.

Interesting information about other wildlife species may be obtained by writing to the National Wildlife Federation, Washington 10, D. C.

HEALTH FACTS FROM YOUR STATE BOARD OF HEALTH

With the opening of the hunting season on November 10, hunters are again reminded to aim at that quick jumping healthy rabbit instead of the laggardly, slow moving bunny which might carry the organism causing tularemia.

The incidence of tularemia in Indiana has declined during the past few years with 24 cases reported in 1950 as compared to 83 in 1946 and 55 in 1947, according to Dr. Andrew C. Offutt, director, Division of Communicable Disease Control, Indiana State Board of Health. One case was reported this year in January. Tularemia took one life in 1949 and no deaths were caused by the disease in 1950.

Dr. Offutt attributed the decrease to preventive measures taken by physicians, hunter, trapper, housewife, cook and other persons in handling the wild rabbit. Rubber gloves and washing of the hands are recommended as protective procedures. Also, the meat should be so thoroughly cooked that no red juice remains around the bones.

"Modern therapy and the alert physician have made a major contribution to the control of this painful, crippling and sometimes fatal disease," Dr. Offutt said.

The organism causing tularemia is known as Bacterium tularense and it gains entrance into the body through a break in the skin or through mucous membrane with an ulcer usually appearing at the site of entrance of the organism. The onset is sudden with chills, fever, headache, body pains, vomiting, sweating and prostration.

P. T. A. HAS INTERESTING PANEL DISCUSSIONS

(Space did not permit us printing this article in our last issue.)

At the regular P. T. A. meeting held last Wednesday evening, around 70 parents were present to enjoy the program.

Devotions were conducted by Mrs. Moore.

Hobart Creighton acted as Moderator for the panel discussion.

The first question was concerning the Visual Aid Program. This was very ably handled by Arthur Witham, who took a special course in Visual Aid this past summer. There are now 92 educational films in the county film library, of which Owen Frey is head. They expect to have 50 more by the first of January. Any teacher may get these films, but it is important to ask far enough in advance to have the films here when needed. Mr. Witham is in favor of the strip films which may be more easily manipulated than the regular films. If the teacher is unable for any reason, to preview the film, Mr. Kent has in his office, a story outline and suggested questions to ask after showing the film. Mr. Witham plans to use 36 of these films in connection with his teaching this year. He suggested the need of an opaque projector in our school movie equipment.

The second question was "How Do You Plan Your Chapel Programs?" and was answered by Mr. Kent. These programs are planned about three times a month and an outside speaker is invited to come before the student body to relate his experiences in one field or another. The students often are used in the programs. It was stressed that when a minister is invited to speak to the students it is important that they stress Christianity and Christian ideals rather than creeds, communism, etc. Several problems have come up in connection with these chapel programs, namely: 1. Finance necessary for some expense in connection with speakers; 2. Problem of inattention on the part of a few students; 3. Lack of facilities for a chapel program in the lower 6 grades.

The third question, "What Helps Do You Have In Meal Planning?" was discussed by Mrs. Arthur Witham. She gave information about the type of lunch served in our school which includes 1/2 pint of milk, 1 protein dish, fruit, vegetable, butter or margarine. Mrs. Witham does all the buying of food and meal planning. The govern-on: 1. The work done in shop; 2. Quality of work; 3. Ability of boy to get along with other boys; 4. Test on the woodworking booklet studied.

A final provoking question was left "hanging in the air." "What Would You Think Of A Woman Bus Driver?" Well—what do you think?

Hostesses for the social hour when cider and doughnuts were enjoyed were Mrs. Ned Miller, Mrs. Miles Manwaring, Mrs. Ina Davis, Mrs. Trella Tombaugh, Mrs. Ralph Warren and Mrs. Delford Nelson.

About 37 children were entertained downstairs by the special hostesses, Mrs. Raymond Lewis and Mrs. Kenneth Romine. Don Rush was in charge of showing some movies for the children.

MENTONE MURMURS
by
DAVID and SALLY GOSSER

Slosh, slosh, slip, slide, slosh, splash, BANG! Topside, bottom-side or just plain side, and you have the wintery picture of no one in particular and every one in general here in Mentone, as well as a few hundred fellow citizens caught in the throes of an early winter.

The weather is no respecter of persons. It is just as likely to ease your car into the ditch as any other person's; and if you have a cantankerous, moody model, it may do you the favor of leaving you perched on your doorstep, and keep you out of ditches; but there is the inconvenience of not getting your street shoveled to the curb. Murmurs had the good intentions of removing his car, but when two batteries refused to budge it, it just sat there, or stood (whichever is the more appropriate term), until it was coaxed and pushed, and shoved to the repair shop.

None of the readers ever have such experiences, that is the reason Murmurs is elucidating on the subject. Some folks manage to make it to Florida with the early birds and never realize this wonderful experience of fluffy white cotton that has to be shoveled off the walks in time for it to melt on the lawn or along the curb. After all it would seem silly to be out there along the street ladeling the snow-water into dishpans and pails, and if you don't venture beyond your own walks which you keep bone dry, you save buying a pair of boots.

The other day Murmurs was in a certain store here in Mentone, and it was doing a pretty good business in boots and rubbers (Murmurs won't mention any names, he can buy advertising space in the Co-Op. News) and the thought just occurred that perhaps these boots' salemen have a stand-in with the weather man. "It is an ill wind that blows nobody good." Just the same, the folks who always beat King Winter to Florida, miss a lot of good exercise, and some very nifty acrobatic stunts at the expense of Mr. Public, and Mrs. Public, too.

If you want to live to read the next Murmurs, drive carefully and watch your step.

Too much oil in the engine of a car may be as harmful as too little, says the Chicago Motor Club. Adding oil when it is not needed may cause foaming which interferes with proper engine lubrication.

cludes ½ pint of milk, 1 protein dish, fruit, vegetable, butter or margarine. Mrs. Witham does all the buying of food and meal planning. The government donates such foods as navy beans, cherries, peaches and cheese. About 250 students eat lunch each day. The student pays 23c for the meal and the government pays 7c. Teachers pay the full 30c for their meal. Around 20 students help in the kitchen. A menu is sent home with each student so that the parent can see what is to be served during the coming week. Mr. Kent complimented Mrs. Witham on the school lunch program and said there had been very few complaints.

The fourth discussion was about the Physical Education classes conducted by Lorin Burt and Roger Kelly, for grades 1 to 6. As neither was able to be present, Mr. Kent gave some information about this class. Each class has 20 minutes of supervised play each day in the gym or on the playground.

The fifth question dealt with the how and where in teaching Phonics. Mrs. Tombaugh, our 4th grade teacher and Mrs. Keever, our 3rd grade teacher went into detail to show how phonic study was continued and stressed in each of their grades. Review and repetition was stressed along this line.

The sixth question concerned the school paper and Jackie Blue did a splendid job of answering and explaining. The paper staff this year has representatives in grades 7 and 8 and the high school. The 4-page paper is printed once a month at a cost of 50c a year or 5 cents a copy. Jackie explained that what might seem like an unnecessary amount of gossip to outsiders was considered news to pupils. One parent, expressing the opinion of most of the rest of us, suggested that the full name be given instead of the initial for the last name. The annual this year will be representative of the school instead of the senior class. The staff has members from all school organizations and classes. It is not a money making venture for the Senior Class, but to establish a working fund for future Senior Classes to publish year books.

The seventh query was "What Do You Want To Accomplish In Your Woodworking Class?" and was thoroughly discussed by Mr. Hoffman, the instructor. There are 13 boys in this class. The equipment and tools were in bad shape at the beginning of the year. There are 2 power emery wheels, a steel buffer, a lathe, a power saw and an electric welder. One of the important tasks is teaching boys to take care of their tools. Boys are urged to start with a simple project. They learn how to make the various types of joints and how to finish lumber. When a boy finishes the Freshman shop class he should be able to work on a carpenter crew. Mr. Hoffman grades the work

The Chicago Motor Club points out that traffic accidents cost U. S. motorists $3,000,000,000 per year in bodily injury and property damage, liability payments, medical expenses, wage losses and property losses.

The average cost of providing driver education courses to high school students is only $34.02 for each student, less than the cost of repairing a damaged fender, according to the Chicago Motor Club.

SCHOOL NEWS

The Mentone Bulldogs lost both games to the Akron Flyers at Akron last Friday night. The first team boys were defeated 54-44. Accurate shooting by Akron seemed to be the deciding factor. Boggs with 11 points was high for Mentone. This Friday evening the local teams play the Bourbon teams in Bourbon. All seats are reserved for these games. Tickets in limited quantities are on sale at the Mentone High School office. During the last four years, Mentone has won twice and Bourbon has won twice. The margin of victory in all four encounters has been either one or two points. Another close game is on tap for Friday night.

On Tuesday evening, November 13, at 7:30 in the Community building, the pupils and teachers of the Mentone School will present various phases of school life at Mentone. The demonstrations will feature some of the regular classroom work with emphasis on the usual rather than the spectacular. All parents are urged to attend this program in observance of American Education Week, November 11-17. There will be no admission charge.

School was dismissed a few minutes early on Tuesday on account of the condition of the roads. The 4-H meeting and the FHA trip to Warsaw were cancelled for the same reason.

A photographer from Robert's Studio in Fort Wayne will take the senior pictures at the school this Friday. Pictures of the band, chorus and clubs will also be taken.

Mr. Burt's orders to report to the Navy on January 8th have been cancelled. Thus, it appears our coach will be able to complete this school year uninterrupted.

Attendance has been very good recently. However, there have been several cases of tardiness. Parents are reminded that school takes up at 8:20 each morning. While this is ten minutes earlier than last year, pupils are dismissed ten minutes earlier in the evening. The noon bell rings at 12:25.

Royse Tucker, Glen Whitehead, D. H. Lessig, James Rodibaugh, and Walter Kent plan to motor to Indianapolis on Thursday to attempt to secure permission to proceed with the proposed addition to the school.

The girls of the advanced home economics class, studying child care under the direction of Mrs. Hoffman, were given a demonstration in bathing a baby and feeding a baby by Mrs. Zana Hammer on Tuesday.

THE AMERICAN WAY

CAN WE AFFORD TO COMPROMISE?

By DeWitt Emery

DeWitt Emery

Almost before we know it we'll be into 1952. History may record it as the year in which "government of the people, by the people, for the people" disappeared from the face of the earth. In my judgement, that is exactly what history will record if the big spending, socialistic policies of the present administration are approved by the people at the polls in November '52. This country bit by bit, over a period of many years, has been taken a long way down the road to national socialism. This has been done without the people ever having been given a clear-cut choice between constitutional government and socialism; between the welfare state and free enterprise. They must be given such a choice in '52, otherwise what Lincoln described as "the last best hope of earth" will be lost by default.

This means, of course, that the Republican Party must come up with a candidate who is untainted by compromise, a candidate who is and always has been as much to the United States and American institutions as Winston Churchill always has been for England and the British Empire.

If this is what's needed, then that candidate must literally be selected by the people. If the choice is left to the politicians, they will nominate a politician and the first and foremost characteristic of almost any politician irrespective of his party label is compromise, and that won't do this time.

But, I hear someone say, the first consideration of the Republicans must be to nominate someone who has a chance to win even if he is inclined to compromise and even if he believes that a little socialism is a good thing. To that I say no, a thousand times no. Such a candidate would be encumbered with promises made in previous campaigns covering various kinds of special privileges for different groups, and that won't do either — this time.

The candidate, this time, over and above everything else, must be the personification of fundamental Americanism. He must have lived his entire life as a devout believer that the American way of life is the greatest blessing ever known to mankind any place on the face of God's earth. He must also be a wholehearted believer in the Constitution and the Bill of Rights. He must believe further that it is the people who must take care of the government, not that the government must take care of the people.

Such a candidate would give the American people the clear-cut choice they never have had and which I firmly believe they must be given before it is too late. As I see it 1952 is the last chance there will be to give them such a choice.

I hear another objection, which is that since the Republican convention will be made up of and controlled by politicians and since politicians won't want any part of the kind of candidate I have described, it would be impossible for him to get the nomination. On the face of it, this seems to present an insurmountable obstacle, but I wonder if it does. I don't think so.

I have an idea that if the American people actually want a clear-cut choice between these two diametrically opposed ideologies of government, they will unite behind the candidate of their choice and will put so much heat on the delegates to the convention before the convention opens that the delegates will not dare disregard their wishes.

Where and when will the people find the candidate behind whom they can unite? Who knows? But all the way back through the history of this country times like these have always produced a "man of the hour," usually from an unexpected quarter, and I'm confident that this most critical time will not be an exception.

MORE KNOCKS COMING

Avoiding jack-rabbit starts and shifting earlier to second gear are suggestions recently offered by the Chicago Motor Club to motorists who wish to prevent engine knocks that are likely to occur with the use of lower-octane gasoline due to reach the filling stations soon.

The motor club explained that the drop in octane rating of gasoline will result from a cut ordered by the National Production Authority in the primary metallic lead that may be used in civilian motor fuel. The only effect of the lower octane gasoline, said the motor club, is to cause engine knocks, or pings and has no bearing on consumption, ease of starting or other motor fuel characteristics.

METHODIST CHURCH NEWS

The voice of your pastor will be heard again this Sunday from one to one-thirty over radio station WKAM Warsaw. This is the beginning of a series of services sponsored by several Methodist Churches in the Warsaw District.

Your pastor attended a meeting of the Epworth Forest Foundation at Ft. Wayne on Monday, elected by the Youth Commission in interest of the Intermediate Camp Adventure Directors. The Foundation is the trustee organization for Epworth Forest, and its functions concern the care of the grounds, development of the program and expansion of physical resources, the jurisdiction of property within the area designated as Epworth Forest, and sundry responsibilities attached to maintenance of the property. This includes the hiring of the Superintendent of Grounds, dredging of channels within the property area, and asking for appropriations through the Committee on World Service and Finance of the Northern Indiana Conference.

The Methodist Youth Fellowship of the local church will attend the World Fellowship Banquet on Thursday evening of this week. This banquet is held in the Nappanee Methodist Church. David Gosser and Charles Urschel will participate in the program which is sponsored and presented by the Sub-District or Group Councils of the District Fellowship. The pastor is to be song leader for the occasion.

Although the Week of Preaching Mission Services is over, the visitation program will continue each Thursday evening until the work is completed, and then once a month throughout the year.

CORONATION FURNITURE FROM BURKET STORE

Your editor has been informed that the chairs used during the Mentone Egg Show for the coronation ceremonies for the queen, were supplied by Mrs. P. E. Newcomb, of the Burket Furniture Store.

The Newcombs always have taken an active part in the Egg Shows, and they do not expect any unusual favors, or eulogies, for what they do, but the show committeemen certainly want to acknowledge their thanks and appreciation even though we were a little tardy in remembering.

NEED MORE COLLECTORS

An urgent need continues to exist for Zone Deputy Collectors, $3100 a year, in the Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky Districts of the Collector of Internal Revenue.

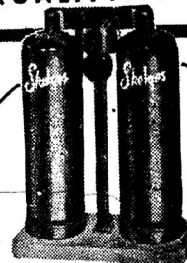

Further information may be obtained from the examination announcement. Application forms and information on filing for these positions may be obtained from the Commission's Local Secretary, Mrs. Tom Stanford, located at the Mentone Post Office, from any first or second class Post Office, or from the Secretary, Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners, Internal Revenue, Room 106, Union Central Annex, 309 Vine Street, P. O. Box 476, Cincinnati, Ohio.

W. S. C. S. TO HAVE INTERESTING SPEAKER

The November meeting of the W. S. C. S. will be held at the church on Thursday evening, November 15, at 7:30 p. m.

The program centers around Latin America and the mission work there. Mrs. R. J. Scheid, of Rochester, will be the guest speaker. Mrs. Scheid has made several trips through the Latin American countries and will have many interesting things to tell about these countries and their people.

FIRE DAMAGES CHURCH AT TIPPECANOE SATURDAY

The Bourbon, Argos and Mentone fire departments were called to Tippecanoe last Saturday evening about eight o'clock when fire was discovered in the Methodist church there. The fire had gained considerable headway by the time the firemen arrived, but they reported that within ten minutes they had the blaze pretty much under control.

Various estimates have been given of the total damage, ranging from four to fifteen thousand dollars. The entire structure, we are told, suffered more or less in the fire.

Scott, a former U. S. Marine, is related, by marriage, to the Myers family and known to several Mentone citizens.

STANLEY SCOTT MAKES ENTRY IN LIVE STOCK EXPOSITION

A Kosciusko County entry for the 1951 International Live Stock Exposition has been sent in by Stanley Scott, prominent sheep breeder, from Claypool.

He will take Corriedale sheep to Chicago for the open class fat wether contest of the Exposition.

The Exposition, which will get underway in the International Amphitheatre of the Chicago Stock Yards November 24 for an eight-day run through December 1, each year makes Chicago the center of interest of the continent's livestock industry.

Last year's show drew over 11 thousand head of the nation's top cattle, sheep, swine and horses from 34 states and 2 Canadian provinces. To the livestock breeder and feeder it is the "world's series" of all shows, where final decisions in livestock competitions are made. An International winning is regarded as the highest award that an exhibitor can attain.

Cash prizes will again total over $100,000 according to the management. A $56,000 prize list is offered in the Hereford, Angus, Shorthorn and Polled Shorthorn breeds. Swine premiums will total $10,000 with sheep prizes consisting of $8,300.

Entries for carlot exhibits will be accepted to November 17. Hay and Grain Show entries must be in by November 10. Premium lists and entry forms will be furnished on application to the show headquarters, Union Stock Yards, Chicago 9.

On October 23, 1904 he was married to Lucy Mae Pontius, at Sharron, Wis. He was a lifetime member of the Poplar Grove Methodist church and the Maxinkuckee I.O.O.F. lodge, No. 363.

Survivors are six daughters: Miss Geraldine, at home; Mrs. Marjorie Amos, of Mishawaka; Mrs. Grace Gochenhour, route 3, Argos; Mrs. Mildred Rhodes, of Tippecanoe; Mrs. Mary Utter, of Mentone; Mrs. Aleene Adams, route 2, Akron; one son, Robert R. Lowry, of Argos; a brother, Walter Lowry, of Argos; 14 grandchildren, and one sister, Mrs. Zue Zimmel, of LaPorte.

Funeral services were held at two o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the Grossman funeral home in Argos, with Rev. Ernest Treber officiating. Burial was in the Poplar Grove cemetery.

ECONOMICS CLUB

Mrs. Bertha Meredith concluded the project lesson, "Food for All Ages," at the meeting of the Mentone Home Economics club held Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Elmer Sarker. Good food habits; quality of food vs. quantity of food; avoidance of too highly seasoned foods and too much sweet food, and the importance of protective foods, as milk, proteins and fresh vegetables, were stressed by Mrs. Meredith. In conclusion she read a poem, "Take Care, You Have a Heart." "Patent Medicines" was the subject of the health and safety report given by Mrs. Ray Terry. She advised against their use as they give a false sense of security to the person who is ill. For the meditation Mrs. Harry Vernet read two poems, "God Walks Beside America" and "Prayer for This House." Mrs. Howard Horn presided.

Gifts were presented to Mrs. Claud Barkman, Mrs. John Laird, Mrs. Sherman Bybee, Mrs. Earl Smith, Mrs. Cloice Paulus and Mrs. Silas Hill. Five guests and 19 members were present. Mrs. Elmer Rathfon will be the hostess at the dinner meeting to be held on December 13.

ARREST FOLLOWS ACCIDENT EAST OF TOWN MONDAY

One woman was injured, her husband arrested and three automobiles and a farm trailer were damaged in a highway accident Monday afternoon on state road 25, a mile and a half east of here.

Hurt was Mrs. Nancy Greider, 20, who was released from the Murphy Medical Center after being treated for lacerations on the lip and hand and the loss of a tooth. She was a passenger in a car driven by her husband, Edwin L. Greider, aged 23, of near Piercetown.

A car owned by Gene Bowen, 24, of North Manchester, who was checking a utility pole, was parked beside the road when an automobile operated by Claire McKinny, 35, of Lake Odessa, Mich., stopped to allow oncoming traffic to pass because of the parked car. The Greider vehicle then struck a farm trailer behind the McKinny car, ramming the trailer into the rear of the automobile, and causing the McKinny car to hit the parked Bowen car.

Greider was taken to the Warsaw police station where he tested 211 on the drunometer. (A reading of 150 is considered sufficient to indicate intoxication.)

Tuesday morning in circuit court, Judge Brubaker fined Greider $10 and costs totaling $26.40 and sentenced him to 10 days in the county jail. His driver's license was also suspended for 90 days.

YOUNG LAD FALLS FROM MOVING AUTOMOBILE

His head was considerably skinned but x-rays showed no serious damage done other than a slight concussion. He was hospitalized for the night in the Woodlawn Hospital, Rochester.

The accident happened just within the city limits at the eastern edge of Mentone. Neglect to lock the rear door was to blame.

SCHOOL NEWS

The Mentone Bulldogs went down in defeat before a strong Bourbon team last Friday evening at Bourbon. The final score was 46-40. The game was close throughout, although both teams showed ragged play at times. The Mentone second team won easily 21-11. All of the twenty-five players, except Ronald Brown who was nursing a sprained ankle, were used in the games by Mr. Burt. Over 140 Mentone fans accompanied the teams.

This Friday night in the local gym Mentone will be host to North Webster. The second team game will begin promptly at 7:00. The band will stage a ten minute demonstration between games. Smith and Trexler will officiate.

The intramural noon program in the gym has started. This program features games of basketball in grades 5-6-7-8.

The lunch count has increased to over three hundred. One day last week, we served three hundred and twelve.

This number begins to tax the facilities of the cafeteria.

A group of speech club members including Cloanne Nelson, Eleanor Rush, Phyllis Grubbs, Boyd Blue, and Jon Cullum, accompanied by Mr. Kent, attended a high school speech conference on Saturday at Indiana University. Much of the conference was devoted to dramatics. The students saw the university production of the stage play, "Goodby, Mr. Fancy" in the evening.

This Saturday at 11:30 over WKAM the Mentone School will present the second in a series of radio programs. All patrons and friends of the school are invited to listen to the boys and girls on the air.

Arthur Quier has entered the ninth grade from Mishawaka. There have been several students absent with bad colds recently.

The Thanksgiving vacation will begin at 3:15 on Wednesday, November 21. Pupils will return for regular classroom work on Monday, November 26.

It should be explained that the Burket-Mentone basketball game will be played at Mentone on Wednesday evening, November 21. This, however, is Burket's game. They are renting our gym for the evening.

The Senior English class under the direction of Dale Kelley have recently completed a booklet entitled "Who's Who in 52". The booklet contains autobiographies of each senior.

The Junior class will hold a penny supper this Saturday evening. Meals will be served from five until seven. This type of project is being used again this year to earn money for the senior trip rather than the use of raffles, cake walks, bingo and other questionable methods of earning money.

The FHA meeting postponed from last Monday will be held on November 19th with Shirley Engle of Warsaw as guest speaker.

ANNOUNCE NEW POULTRY STRAIN

Lafayette, Indiana, November 1.—A new dual purpose chicken that has a lot of white meat yet produces more eggs than average farm chickens, has been announced by Purdue University. It has been developed by Dr. B. B. Bohren, poultry geneticist, after five years of work.

Somewhat darker in color than the Barred Rock which it resembles, the new chicken will be known as the Purdue Broad Bar. Eggs were sent out today to a small group of Indiana poultry breeders selected from among many applicants. They will raise the birds this winter for the first time on a commercial basis.

Dr. Bohren began his development for the new Broad Bar by selecting Barred Rocks, popular meat type chickens, and crossing them with dark Cornish, which has a wider breast. Through selective breeding, the pea comb of the Cornish was eliminated and "barring" was purified. Broilers marked with dark bars find a better market among Chicago live poultry buyers.

In preliminary tests, hens of the new breed have averaged 175 to 180 eggs annually. This is 20 to 30 eggs a year more than normally expected from meat strains.

Experimental chickens of this breed have looked good enough to experienced buyers to top the Chicago poultry market, according to Dr. J. Homes Martin, head of the poultry department at Purdue. Judges at the state Chicken of Tomorrow Contest were impressed by the Broad Bars, which were entered for comparison but not for competition. They complimented the meatiness and conformation, rating them well up with the first five winning exhibits.

THE FLAMING SWORD

If you are ever traveling in the southwest and see a tall desert shrub with scarlet flowers, beware! It may be the Flaming Sword, a plant of striking beauty, but armed with terrible thorns.

The sharp, stiff spines are often hard to see, too. Hiding them is a thick coat of small leaves. The foliage makes the waving plant look harmless, but a painful surprise awaits the hand that grasps the stalks.

Even if the Flaming Sword had no protection, its blossoms would be hard to reach. According to the National

© National Wildlife Federation
Flaming Sword

Wildlife Federation, the shrub grows to be from six to twenty feet tall.

It looks even taller during a long dry spell, when it has no leaves and flowers. Then the plant consists of a clump of giant stems or wands—straight, stiff, and thorny. They are so brown and parched that one might think they were dead.

Just after a good rain soaks the soil, though, bright green leaves spring forth to mask the thorns. At the end of each wand there comes a brilliant cluster of flowers. Waving to and fro in the wind, the flower-tipped wands look like blazing torches held high in the air. Their beauty lasts while the ground is moist, but quickly disappears when a drought sets in.

Several sets of leaves and flowers may come and go each year, because the Flaming Sword makes the most of every rain. Its roots grow over a wide area near the surface of the ground, where they can greedily soak up water from the lightest showers.

Sometimes the wait between rains is a long one, for the Flaming Sword grows on the parched hills and deserts of our southwestern states and northern Mexico. The Indians often plant it in rows where they want a tall, forbidding hedge.

Though it is thorny and thrives in the desert, the Flaming Sword is not a cactus. The National Wildlife Federation also points out that it is known by other names. Among them are Ocotillo and Candle Flower.

Interesting information on other wildlife species can be obtained by writing to the National Wildlife Federation, Washington 10, D. C.

"GOLD BRICK" ENTERS CONTEST

CHICAGO, Oct. 30—The first Kosciusko County entry for the competitions of the 1951 International Live Stock Exposition was received here today from Jimmie Gard, youthful cattle feeder from Cromwell.

He will bring his purebred Hereford steer, named "Gold Brick," to Chicago for the junior livestock feeding contest of the Exposition.

Already a prize-winner, "Gold Brick" was selected the reserve champion Hereford steer of the Kosciusko County 4-H Show.

Emphasis will be on young farm folks in the opening programs of this year's exposition, scheduled November 24 to December 1 in the International Amphitheatre of the Chicago Stock Yards.

The junior livestock feeding contest is set for Saturday, November 24. In the steer classes, the first two winners in each class are admitted to the open classes that are judged on Monday and Tuesday and conclude with the naming of the grand champion steer of the show.

Steers exhibited by boys or girls have won the International grand championship over adult competition 11 times in the past 23 years.

Entries for all the individual classes of the Exposition will be accepted until November 1 and for the regular carlot classes up to November 17. Premium lists and entry forms will be furnished on application to the show headquarters, Union Stock Yards, Chicago 9.

WORD FROM JAPAN

Yokohama, Japan
November 6, 1951

Hellow Art.

I finally have been stationed. I am stationed in Yokohama with the Japan Logistical command as a staff driver for chief of Staff. Meeting a lot of high ranking officials. I had the privilege of driving Mrs. Anna Rosenberg while she was on her tour in Japan. It's certainly a swell job and I like this kind of work, so the job and I are getting along fine.

Six weeks ago tomorrow since I arrived in Japan. Time certainly is flying.

The weather is funny in Japan, maybe it will rain for two to three days at a time then it will be nice for the next two or three days. It started to rain here this morning after three days of nice weather.

If these Japanese people could live as we do in the states they would

PROTECT THE HEALTH OF YOUR FLOCK

In the good health of the laying flock lies the profit of your efforts. Any raiser who fails to guard the health of his layers will quickly discover this. The lost birds and resulting lost profits can easily upset an entire poultry-raising program.

If your layers are off to a good start and are in the midst of heavy production, don't let up! Maintain the best management methods at all times. And keep a constant vigil for hens showing the first indications of disease. Below are some suggestions which may prove useful to you.

Sell Old Stock

Old stock can handicap your first-year layers. Since they often carry diseases, they naturally endanger the health of the younger birds. If you didn't sell your old hens at housing time, it may be wise to do so now. Good pullets will produce more than old hens.

Another good suggestion is to keep all visitors away from your layers. People who travel from farm to farm frequently carry disease from flock to flock. If a visitor wants to see your flock, show it to him across a fence or through a doorway. Don't take chances by letting him walk in your laying house or poultry yard.

Contaminated Coops

As another precaution against disease coming onto your farm, be strict about letting poultry buyers enter your chicken house with dirty coops. You are asking for trouble if you permit them to do so. If a neighboring poultryman has an outbreak on his farm, be sure you stay away from his premises.

Also, prevent losses from rats. Enforce a rigid program of rat control.

Rats can carry pullorum disease, paratyphoid, and other damaging diseases to your poultry flock.

GIVEN BIRTHDAY SURPRISE

Mrs. H. V. Nellans was very pleasantly surprised by her family last Thursday evening. The children and families and Mr. and Mrs. Klingenhagen came with a ready to eat supper. The surprise was a complete success. She also received several lovely gifts.

HEALTH FACTS FROM YOUR STATE BOARD OF HEALTH

Parents visiting schools during American Education Week (November 11-17) are urged by Robert Yoho, director, Division of Health Education, Indiana State Board of Health, to observe the health activities carried on in the school.

"A good school health program includes health promotion which relates directly to the health of children in school," Mr. Yoho pointed out. "This health promotion includes safety control, environmental sanitation, school lunch program, immunization program, community education, recreation and mental health.

"Health appraisal is another phase of the school health program. This does not include definite diagnosis of medical conditions but screening procedures which can be used to evaluate the health status of the child in supervising his growth and development and in detecting any abnormalities which might need the attention of the family physician.

"Effective plans for advising parents of such conditions as impaired hearing, dental defects and other deviations from normal health are most important in a good school health program."

ENCOURAGE ORGANIZATION OF
NEW HOME EC. CLUBS

Now is the time of the year for interested groups to organize new home economics clubs, states Mrs. Ruth Snellenberger, local home agent. The new club year begins January 1. Officers Training School has been set for Friday afternoon November 30.

To organize a new club usually one person invites the interested persons in her neighborhood—at least ten are recommended to start a club—to meet at her home. Either the home agent or one of the county officers are invited to explain the education program of Extension Service. The group may decide at that meeting to organize and elect officers.

The 1952 club lessons as selected by club members this year include the following: Sea Food Cookery; Milk Cookery; Civilian Defense (a. The Person and Self Defense, b. Emergency First Aid); Salads and Salad Dressings; New Developments in Wool and Cotton; New Experimental Fibers; Our Contributions Toward Peace; and the Basic Wardrobe. In addition to these Club lessons there will be several special interest group meetings.

Inquiries may be made of Mrs. Snellenberger at the County Extension Office in the basement of the Court House, phone 1432.

Nobody says you HAVE to take vitamins or minerals! But many—if not all—health and dietary authorities say that rarely does a person get the proper supply of vitamins and minerals from foods alone. The deficiencies, if continued, can lead to various ailments. The sole purpose of the complete and balanced food supplement, Vitakay, is to provide sensible precautions against vitamin and mineral deficiencies in your daily diet.

We are helping protect every-day vitality by bringing our customers this complete and balanced Food Supplement, VITAKAY, starting TOMORROW. This service is for those who want to be SURE!

VITAKAY provides in each sealed packet the 15 vitamins and 10 minerals, in the proportionate amounts which health authorities agree will meet daily body requirements for the average individual. Or you can use VITAKAY on ice cream, toast, or cereals—almost any way you desire.

VITAKAY is a uniform laboratory product, compounded to scientific and ethical standards. The full month's supply costs only $2.95; half-month's size, $1.69—so ask our driver—YOUR MILK-MAN—to start your regular delivery of VITAKAY TOMORROW—an order for abundant health and a new experience in well-being.

CHICAGO BANS USE OF DDT AT ALL LOCAL BARN

Local PMA members who ship milk to the bottle market in Chicago have been affected by an order from Dr.
 Herman N. Bundesen, president of the Chicago Board of Health, which prohibits the use of the insecticide DDT in connection with milk production.

Bundesen said recent findings of many of the country's foremost authorities have indicated that the potential hazard of DDT has been greatly underestimated. The chemical "is a delayed action poison," he said which accumulates in the body tissue.

He explained it is excreted in cow's milk after the cows have been exposed to DDT sprays, mists or fogs, or have eaten food contaminated by it. The chemical, he added, also is excreted in the milk of nursing mothers who have had cow's milk that has been contaminated by DDT, and nursing infants are especially susceptible to DDT poison.

 Harmful effects of DDT on human are found principally in the central nervous system, including the brain, in the liver, spleen, and kidneys.—Akron

DRUNKEN DRIVING ARRESTS ARE ON THE INCREASE

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 11—Drunk driver arrests by State Police troopers were up 22 per cent in the first nine months this year, Arthur M. Thurston, department superintendent, announced yesterday. Other traffic enforcement by troopers was up in proportion, he said.

At the end of September, suspected drunken driver apprehensions totaled 553 more than in the same period a year ago. Arrest figures for the two nine-month periods are 3,018 this year as compared with 2,465 in 1950.

"It is my opinion that Indiana judges and prosecutions are dealing more and more vigorously with the drinking driver menace," Mr. Thurston said. He pointed out that justice of the peace courts are limited by law in the amount of fines assessed.

Citizens were urged by the State Police official to take a more active part in combatting the intoxicated driver problem. He asserted, "I fear that sometimes the people who demand enforcement action are prone to reverse their field when asked to appear as prosecuting witnesses or serve as jury members."

Supt. Thurston also announced that troopers had increased total arrests for all types of traffic violation by 25.7 per cent in the nine-month period. Total traffic arrests through September this year were 35,705 as compared with 28,403 last year. The total included 5,034 overweight vehicle arrests this year, as against 3,701 arrests a year ago.

Troopers, he said, investigate 45 per cent of the reported rural accidents, which is higher than the national average for police. All rural fatal accidents are investigated by State Police or sheriffs' departments. In the first eight months this year reported traffic crashes were up 17.8 per cent, while investigations of collisions by troopers increased 21 per cent.

Mrs. Wayne Shunk is somewhat improved, but is still bedfast. She is suffering with a heart condition.

BAPTIST NEWS

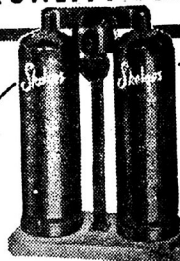

The Revival Closed on Sunday night with 222 present. Good attendance marked the meetings from the beginning on all but Tuesday night when weather cut the number down to 87. There were ten professed conversions, ten new ones dedicated their lives to full time service, and more than two hundred came to the prayer room expressing their desire to live more consistent christian lives, and 5 came for membership.

At a recent business meeting the church voted to give the Pastor a six-weeks leave of absence, including his vacation, so that he can make a flying seminar trip to the Holy land. A party of 55 will leave Fort Wayne on July 25th aboard a plane for New York. They will leave the same day for London. Stops will be made at Frankfurt, Germany, Paris, France, Rome, Athens, Istanbul, Beyrouth, Bagdad, Damascus, Jerusalem for seven days, Cairo, Lisbon, The Azores and back to New York on August 29th. The entire trip will be by air except for some bus trips in the cities visited.

Plans are now complete for the annual Missionary Conference to be held in the church January 20-27th. A different missionary will speak each night. Pictures will be shown of the mission fields and over-all conditions in the world will be discussed from the missionary's point of view. This is a high light event of the church each year, and will be the third annual missionary conference in this church.

Today good will may starve to death. Keep it alive with customer courtesy and careful advertising.

PREPARING CRANBERRIES FOR DELICIOUS APPETIZERS

The tart flavor of cranberries as a beverage, jelly or pie may be enjoyed over a long season. Formerly, they were thought of just as a sauce as an accompaniment for Thanksgiving and Christmas dinners. Cranberries should be firm, plump and fresh looking with a high luster.

Mrs. Ruth Snellenberger, home demonstration agent of Kosciusko county, reminds homemakers that this small fruit will keep about as long as the average apple. For storage, unlike the apple, they require a dry atmosphere but a cool, uniform temperature. Decay is encouraged in the berries when they are moved suddenly from a cold to a warm room. Like a bad apple, a few cranberries may give a bitter taste to any cranberry dish. For this reason it is important to sort the berries before cooking, discarding the shriveled, speckled or soft ones.

Too often the delicious taste of cranberries is destroyed by long cooking. Only about five minutes is required to pop the skins and the cooking should stop when the skins are broken. If cranberries are cooked in a sugar syrup which retains them better, eight minutes are required. Cranberries should not be cooked in iron or tin utensils. The tart flavor of cranberries makes them combine well not only with poultry but with other meats and fish as well.

FARMERS URGED TO CLEAN SEED EARLY

We urge all farmers in Kosciusko County who will have seed to sell or sow next spring to get the seed tested during the fall or early winter. The County Extension Office will help farmers in this testing program by supplying instructions for drawing samples and special seed envelopes for sending them to the State Seed Laboratory at Purdue for a free test as well as by furnishing information on other seed matters.

Seed that is advertised for sale by farmers is required to be tested and tagged and all seeds must be free of primary noxious weed seeds and must not contain excessive amounts of other weed seeds to be legally sold. Since the test is free, all farmers should take advantage of this service.

The tendency of farmers to postpone sending samples to Purdue until just before planting time usually results in a congestion of samples in the laboratory in February and March. Anticipating seed testing requirements and sending samples early is recommended. Care should be exercised in seeing that the sample is representative of the lot and is large enough for test. A teaspoonful of clover and grass seed and at least a pint of soybean or cereal seed should be submitted.

EFFICIENT MANAGEMENT ON HOG PRODUCTION

Raising and fattening hogs is a highly competitive business. The profitable producers are the efficient managers. They raise a large number of thrifty pigs per sow, get good gains per pound of feed fed and control sanitation problems. They do all these things in the simplest, time-saving way.

Members of the Farm Work Simplification Laboratory at Purdue University have prepared an easy-to-understand bulletin entitled, "Simplifying the Work and Management of Hog Production," (Station Bulletin 506). In this publication, the authors have explained and illustrated methods for watering, feeding and housing hogs. They have outlined ways of arranging farrowing houses to save the greatest amount of time.

Such labor saving devices as tractor hitches that can be hooked or unhooked from the tractor seat and cattle guards to replace gates which have to be opened and closed frequently are also discussed in this publication.

Copies of the bulletin are available free from county agents or the Publications Office, Agricultural Experiment Station, Purdue University, Lafayette.

JOSEPH JONES MARRIED IN NASHVILLE TENNESSEE

Joseph Jones, pastor of the Mentone Church of Christ, will be united in marriage to Miss Geneva Sadler, at a ceremony to be performed at the West Nashville Heights Church of Christ in Nashville, Tennessee, at 5 o'clock on Thanksgiving Day.

After a trip south, the minister and his wife will arrive in Mentone the latter part of next week.

McFADDEN — SPRAGUE

Vanoma Ireta Sprague, daughter of Mrs. Nellie Sprague, of Mason, Michigan, and Dr. Orville L. McFadden, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell McFadden, of New Haven, were united in marriage on November 10 at the Millville Methodist Church, at Stockbridge, Michigan. Rev. Carlon Foltz performed the ceremony.

The bride's attire was a white satin gown with a full skirt falling into a train, and finger tip veil. She carried a bouquet of white daisies. Her brother, Harley Sprague, of Royal Oak, Michigan, gave the bride in marriage.

Miss Lois McFadden, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor. She wore a floor length gown of powder blue and carried a bouquet of yellow mums.

Mr. Jay Sprague, brother of the bride was best man.

The bride's mother wore a navy blue dress with navy accessories and pinned to her shoulder was a corsage of yellow mums.

Due to illness the bridegroom's mother was unable to attend.

Kenneth Olsen sang "I Love You Truly" and "Because." Hazel Olsen accompanied him at the piano.

Guests were present from Detroit, Dearborn, Lansing, Mason, Michigan and New Haven, Indiana.

The reception was held immediately following the ceremony at the Millville Aid Hall. Mrs. Richard Stewart, sister of the bride, Mrs. Harley Sprague and Mrs. Jay Sprague, sisters-in-law, served the ice cream, cake and coffee.

The bride chose a grey and green gaberline suit with grey accessories for her going away attire.

Dr. and Mrs. McFadden took a short trip through the south and are now residing at their new home in Mentone.

Dr. McFadden is associated with Dr. E. D. Anderson in business.

Mrs. Marie Teel Cox, wife of Marian Cox, died at 5:15 p. m. Sunday in their home, 315 Wolf Avenue, Elkhart. She was born February 5, 1901, in Peru, Indiana, and arrived in the Elkhart community in 1925 as a teacher in the Jamestown, Indiana schools.

Her marriage to Mr. Cox took place June 28, 1930. Surviving are the husband; seven children, Margaret, Everett, Una, Richard, Russell, Sharon and Shirley Cox; five sisters, Mrs. Arthur Tate, Mexico, Indiana; Miss Florence Teel and Mrs. Bennie McGee, of San Jose, California and Miss Mary and Miss Bessie Teel, of Fort Wayne; and a brother, Melvin Teel, of Chilli.

Funeral services were held Tuesday at the First Baptist Church, Elkhart. Rev. H. T. Hall officiated. Burial was in the Noffsinger cemetery near Jamestown.

CLUB CALENDAR

The Beaver Dam Home Economics Club will meet on November 28, at 1:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Grace Craig, with Mrs. Elmer Dickey and Mrs. Walter Cumberland assisting. The second lesson on Food For All Ages will be given by Mrs. Doris Harrold.

THANKSGIVING

Should we not, on this day of thanksgiving, turn our minds from this old world's trouble and fix it on our blessings? Each of us has a multitude of "things" for which to be thankful.

So often we forget the Giver, and take for granted our unearned benefits. How fitting, at this time, is a part of Moses' farewell blessing as found in Deuteronomy 33:13-16.

"Blessed of the Lord be his land, for the precious things of heaven, for the dew, and for the deep that coucheth beneath, and for the precious fruits brought forth by the sun, and for the precious things put forth by the moon, and for the chief things of the ancient mountains, and for the precious things of the lasting hills, and for the precious things of the earth and fullness thereof, and for the good will of him that dwelt in the bush."

HAS APPENDECTOMY

Miss Valeria Fisher, of Palestine, is a patient in the McDonald hospital following an appendectomy last Friday.

SERVICES HELD FOR PHOEBE VAN GUNDY

Funeral services were held at 1 p. m. Saturday at the Walley funeral home in Elkhart for Mrs. Phoebe Horn Van Gundy, aged 75, widow of Charles C. Van Gundy, who died last Wednesday night at her home in Elkhart after an illness of several months. Burial was in the Summit Hill cemetery at Bourbon.

Mrs. Van Gundy was born February 29, 1876, at Tippecanoe, and was married to Charles Van Gundy January 29, 1894. He died in 1932.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Raymond Barrett and Mrs. Eldon Platt of Elkhart; two brothers, Amos Horn, of Elkhart, and Isaac Horn, of Warsaw, and three sisters, Mrs. Wallace Coplen, of Warsaw, Mrs. Anna Meredith, of Elkhart, and Mrs. Otto Ames, of Bourbon.

CHRISTMAS LIGHTS ARE BEING ERECTED

Workmen started putting up the electrical wires for the Christmas decorative lights this week, and it is expected that our Main street will take on that usual Christmas look in the near future.

SETTING POLES FOR NEW STREET LIGHTS

The Northern Indiana Public Service Company has started laying and setting the poles for the changes to be made in the street lights at Mentone. The town board recently signed a new contract with the power company on street lights. A new contract was due within a few months, so an agreement was reached, through an offer of the Public Service Co., to increase the candlepower of each light and to add a few new lights, at the same contract rate per month.

MERCHANTS TO AGAIN OFFER DECORATIONS PRIZES

The Mentone Merchants Association, in their regular monthly meeting held Monday evening, announced that a total of sixty dollars would be offered in prizes for Christmas decorations.

In the commercial exhibits three prizes of $10, $6 and $4 will be given, while home owners may share in 13 prizes—$10, $6, $4 and 10 prizes of $2 each.

The commercial exhibits are to be completed by Dec. 13 and the homes by Dec. 17, to be considered in the judging. Home owners, too, are requested to notify Mr. Fred Lemler so the judges may not miss any decoration. An entry blank is printed below for this purpose.

Displays will be judged upon the following five points:

1. Overall appearance.
2. Effort.
3. Human interest.
4. Portrayal of Yuletide spirit
5. Originality.

—ENTRY BLANK —

Mr. Fred Lemler,
Mentone, Ind.

We wish to state that we will have our home decorated this Christmas season and wish it be judged along with all the others.

Name

The Merchants Association again has undertaken the responsibility of offering the above prizes and to secure the money for the community Christmas tree and street decorations. Business people will be given an opportunity to share in this worthy and patriotic cause. It is estimated the cash necessary will amount to almost $200.

TIMELY TOPICS

By Mrs. Ruth R. Snellenberger
Home Demonstration Agent

Attention HOMEMAKERS: Are you interested in bits of information that might help you with your homemaking activities? That's the purpose of this column—a kind of personal note to homemakers.

Frequently someone either telephones or comes to the Extension Office to ask for information on homemaking tasks. Through this column I'd like to share with you bits of information of this type. In addition printed matter containing helpful hints come to my desk and I would like to pass them on to you.

Let's make turkey soup! Break up turkey carcass, place in container, with water (about 3 quarts for bones of a 12-pound bird). Add whatever seasoning you'd like—chopped onion, celery, and so forth (Let me know if you'd like a recipe). Bring to a boil, then turn burner to low heat, simmer for 3 hours.

Before adding barley, you can strain this and use as turkey stock for other preparations.

If you've had your fill of turkey now but still have some left over, why not prepare turkey turnovers, or turkey pie and put in the freezer.

Speaking of freezing things, I'd like to suggest freezing cranberries, either with or without sugar. Watch the price and buy when it is right.

When making slip covers, plan to have extra squares of material to protect the arm and head rests. In Grandmother's day she crocheted squares for that purpose, didn't she.

One reason for the convenience of the U-shaped or L-shaped kitchen is that working centers and equipment can be at right angles to each other, thus in easy reach and sight with the minimum of walking. To illustrate: if sink and range centers are at right angles to each other, the housewife working at the sink need only turn her head to see what's cooking. This saves time and trips.

LEAFLETS ON WINDBREAKS

A well planned and properly placed windbreak will protect the farm home from the freezing winter winds. At the same time, it will furnish an attractive background for the home and add much to its value.

In Extension Leaflet 294, entitled "Ten Pointers on Tree Windbreaks," Purdue University forestry and conservation specialists have outlined the important steps in starting and maintaining a tree windbreak. For best results, they suggest that four-year old white, red or jack pine transplants be planted early in the spring.

County Agent, Paul Jackson recommends interested farmers to look over the leaflet now so they can plan where they will need windbreaks for greatest protection from the winter winds. Trees can be ordered next fall for early spring delivery in 1953.

A wooded area on the farm can be used to make timber one of the regular crops. The timber can be either harvested to sell or cut into lumber to use on the farm.

Extension Leaflet 295, entitled "Five Pointers on Farm Woodlands," points out that a well managed farm woods grows several hundred board feet of timber per acre every year.

Free copies of these two leaflets are available at the local county agent's office or by writing to the Publication Office, Agricultural Experiment Station, Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Pritchard and daughter have moved into the Boganwright apartment.

Lt. B. D. Herendeen left the first of the week for overseas. He expects to go to Japan and then to Korea.

Black, White and Gold

An effective and dramatic entrance hall combines black, white and gold in its color scheme. The walls are painted a soft gold tone to match the carpeting on the black stair treads. Ceiling, stair risers and trim are white, while gleaming black enamel is used on the hand rail, the newel post and the door leading into an adjoining room. The hall floor covering is of black linoleum, inlaid with a circle of white stars.

NO NEW RATES FOR MENTONE AND AKRON

The telephone exchanges at Mentone, Fulton, Akron and all others with magneto ringing systems are not included in the list of companies for which increased rates are being sought by the Indiana Associated Telephone Corporation. This was learned when inquiry was made at the Public Service Commission at the statehouse.

The Associated has a petition before the commission asking for an increase of rates but they list only the companies in their system which have automatic or common battery systems. Macy, which is automatic, is included among those exchanges which would have higher rates if the new schedules are approved by the commission.

The hearing held recently at Wash-bash was for the purpose of giving all subscribers an opportunity to be heard. Final sessions will be held later in the Public Service Commission offices. The Associated recently lost out in their attempt to secure a temporary increase for their companies through the courts. Judge W. Lynn Parkison ruled from the bench at Lafayette that increasing utility rates is not a function of the courts.

Wayne for an ordination service held for one of the young men of that church. Tuesday evening the church started their first evening of visitation among the families of the community. Thursday evening will be a special Thanksgiving service and Rev. Bernard Ward, pastor of the Tippecanoe Christian Church, will be the speaker.

Word has come from Paris that Dr. Jon Rouch and family will be sailing for French Equatorial Africa in February. Work is going forward on the hospital building and much must still be done yet before the hospital will be going full force. MENTONE MURMURS

DAVID and SALLY GOSSER

Monday Murmurs was invited to witness a modern saga of Thanksgiving. The city newspapers from Evansville to Fort Wayne were carrying an account of Displaced Persons Abandoned By Their Sponsor, The Jasper, Indiana, radio station had been sending out calls every fifteen minutes to a half hour for the identification of the sponsors, and the Evansville Courier-Times put in long distance calls for information related to the news.

About two weeks ago Stanley Boggs applied for Displaced Persons through the Department of Agriculture in Washington or the agency dealing with farm laborers coming to this country.

On Friday he received a telegram stating that his party would arrive in New York City from Germany and that he was to telegraph transportation fees and twenty-seven dollars for expenses to the Travelers' Aid in New York. No further word was received as to the arrival by train and destination. The money was immediately sent, and the residence for the family prepared.

Monday morning after the chores were completed, Joe Boggs had an errand in town, and stopping at the Cox Motor Sales he whiled away the time by browsing through the Fort Wayne Journal-Gazette. On the front page was an interesting article about Displaced Persons being abandoned by the sponsor at Shoals, Indiana, which, if you are not familiar with your Hoosier geography, is between Bedford and Washington, in the southwestern corner of the state.

The article proceeded to mention that the family had been taken in by Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Asbel, the Superintendent of Schools. At first there seemed to be no further connection between this stranded party and the one which the Boggs family were expecting except the name. As Joe Boggs reread the account, and, taking the paper home, discussed it with his family, he realized the possibility that this was the family they were expecting, a Frank Lysk, his wife and three children. The amount of money sent corresponded favorably with that which the Boggs family sent, but the displaced persons did not have the name of the sponsor nor the address or destination.

The identification tag worn by Herr (Mr.) Lysk simply stated his name and Shoals, Indiana. The B. and O. train made an unscheduled stop to leave them at their supposed destination. The Travelers' Aid had certainly misguided them.

On arriving in Shoals the station master endeavored to find some person who could speak German, and Mrs. Asbel was called, because she was English-born. With her limited knowledge of the language she was able to understand their plight and opened her home to them. And it was there the family stayed on Sunday night and all day Monday.

As the Boggs family realized that this could be their party, they placed a call for Mr. Asbel and explained that they had received no further word from the Travelers' Aid, but would certainly come for the Lysk family as soon as possible; and this is where Murmurs entered the picture, invited by Joe to accompany him to Shoals.

The lengthy discourse on this is necessary to make clear the fact that the Boggs family is innocent of this state-wide accusation of neglect. Certainly the Travelers' Aid should assume the responsibility both for misdirecting the travelers, and sending them without the name and address of the sponsor.

It was only through the generosity and kindness of the Asbels that the whole situation was not more confusing and, perhaps, tragic.

Here, coming to a new land is a father, mother, and three small children, the oldest three years, and the youngest seven months. They know not a single person in America, they can not speak a word of the language, their belongings, as far as can be yet known, consist of two valises of clothes. They arrive more destitute than the Pilgrim Fathers over three hundred years ago. Their hope is in the opportunity that will be given them by this community. We know that their sponsor will provide for their needs, and afford them a home which certainly will be better than that from which they came. Murmurs can not help but wonder, however, what must be in the minds of these strangers, coming so far, to find that this land of efficiency and wealth can yet be so confused and incompetent. We in America have a long way to go to achieve perfection in dealing with human personalities.

Murmurs is sure, however, that the spirit of true democracy and America which exists here about Mentone will help make up for the blunders that present us so unfavorably to the eyes of these people we welcome to a new home. Here is afforded us the opportunity of showing what the real America can be to those who may have heard otherwise in their life-time.

May their arrival so near to our Thanksgiving be a time for them and for us to give thanks to God for opportunities that exist for the establishing of homes and the earning of a living where free souls may work and worship as they believe and desire.

METHODIST CHURCH NEWS

The Rev. Paul Irwin, former pastor of the Mentone Church, will speak on Sunday evening at seven-thirty, following a Fellowship Basket Supper. The supper hour is six o'clock, and the subject of the address will be on The Methodists at work in Alaska. This will be illustrated by slides which Rev. Irwin has photographed himself while serving at the Seward Methodist Church. A cordial invitation is extended to everyone, both for the basket-supper and the evening service.

This program will climax the day's activities which have been designated as Harvest-Home Services. Mrs. Herschel Teel and Mrs. Frank Smith are in charge of the sanctuary and chancel decorations. Hosts and hostesses are yet to be designated. Each family is to bring its own table service, but coffee will be provided by the hosts.

The Pastor announces that the evening services have been the presentation of the biographies and times of Champions of the Cross. A week ago the subject was "The Age of the West-leys," last Sunday evening it was "The Life and Times of Martin Luther," this next Sunday evening there will be a break in the series with Rev. Irwin's address on work in Alaska. The announcement of the next evening's service will be made next week.

Friday evening of this week at seven-thirty there will be a rehearsal of the Chancel Choir in the Youth Room of the church. All persons who enjoy singing are invited to participate in the preparation of Advent and Christmas music.

The following dates are to be reserved on your calendars as special events for the month of December: December 16, A Candle-lighting Carol Service; December 20, the monthly meeting of the W. S. C. S.; December 23, p. m., the Christmas Program; and New Year's Eve, a Consecration Communion Service.

Mrs. Ina Davis left for Ft. Riley, Kansas, on Tuesday. On Wednesday her daughter, Alice, will be married to Richard E. Goltz, who is stationed there.

Mrs. Myrtle Whetstone, of Mentone, left last Thursday with her brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Tom McCrae of Big Long Lake, for Orlando, Florida, where they plan to spend the winter.

PREPARING CHRISTMAS MAIL

The following information is suggested as a guide to mailers during the Christmas season:

Postage—Save time by purchasing an adequate supply of stamps in advance of the rush period.

Addresses—All mail matter must be plainly and completely addressed. Mail intended for delivery in the larger cities should be addressed to include the delivery zone number when applicable. It is very important that the sender's return card appear in the upper left corner of the address side. Address tags should not be used unless absolutely necessary, in which case a slip containing the name and address of the sender and the name and address of the addressee should be placed inside the parcel for purpose of identification, if necessary.

Greeting Cards—Send holiday greetings as first class mail to obtain the many advantages which this service affords. Such greetings prepaid at the first class rate may be sealed and contain written messages; they are dispatched and delivered first; forwarded, if necessary, without additional charge, and, if undeliverable, returned at no further expense to the mailer, provided the sender's return address is shown on the envelope. Unsealed Christmas greetings sent as third-class mail without unauthorized writing enclosed are chargeable with 2 cents postage (if weight does not exceed 2 ounces). However, a minimum charge of 3 cents is applicable to such greeting cards which measure less than 4 inches long or 2 3/4 inches wide. Patrons having a number of greeting cards to deposit are urged to tie them in bundles with addresses all faced one way before mailing so as to facilitate their handling in the post office.

Packing And Wrapping—Pack articles carefully and tightly in strong durable containers. Wrap and tie packages securely with good quality paper and cord, but do not seal them unless name and address of sender are shown together with the printed inscription reading, "Contents, Merchandise—Postmaster: This parcel may be opened for postal inspection, if necessary," as sealed parcels not so labeled or endorsed are subject to the letter rate of postage.

Limit Of Size—Parcels sent by air or as fourth-class matter are limited to a maximum of 100 inches length and girth combined.

Limit Of Weight—The limit of weight of first and fourth class matter including air parcel post, is 70 pounds.

Permissible Additions And Enclosures—To encourage early mailing, senders are permitted to mark parcels "Please Do Not Open Until Christmas." In addition, written salutations, such as "Merry Christmas," "Happy New Year," "With Best Wishes," etc. may be enclosed with third or fourth class (parcel post) mail. Do not enclose letters or messages, no matter how brief, in parcels, as doing so will subject the entire parcel to the letter rate. Communications enclosed in envelopes prepaid at the letter rate may be securely fastened to the outside of parcels sent at the third or fourth class rate.

Special Features—For those mailers who may wish to expedite handling and delivery of their cards or gifts, there are the air mail, special delivery, and special handling services. Upon payment of the proper special delivery fee, in addition to postage, mail matter of any class is entitled to the most expeditious handling and transportation practicable, as well as prompt delivery by special messenger at the office of address. The special handling service is provided for fourth-class (parcel post) mail only and provides the most expeditious handling and transportation practicable but not special delivery at office of address.

FOR A FARM PROGRAM

Some will wonder why my name was not on the Harrison Township PMA community ballot.

I have served on this committee for eighteen years and I think that is long enough for one time. But I do not want anyone to think I do not favor a good farm program. I wish to thank all of the farmers for their friendliness and cooperation. Hoping you will all cooperate with the new committee as well as you have in the past.

HELP LAYERS PRODUCE PROFITS

A well located and well built laying house is a sign of good management—and it will go far in giving the poultry raiser maximum egg production and a saving in labor. But it's inside the laying house where good management really pays.

Yes, a healthy flock of pullets quartered in a good laying house is a good beginning, but there is much more to be done before that laying flock begins to bring in the profits.

Be Alert

Once the flock gets into heavy production, a poultry raiser should visit and observe his birds with great regularity. Of course, much of this can be done during egg-gathering trips to the laying house, but all too often many raisers neglect to look over the birds even then. By being constantly alert, a poultryman can spot layers out of condition or showing signs of a contagious disease. He can then separate such birds from the rest of the flock, treat them, and do whatever is necessary to restore their good health — without endangering the other birds.

The poultry raiser should also keep the house well ventilated, so that litter does not become damp and cold. Keeping the house warm and dry is highly important to successful and profitable egg production.

In addition, there should be plenty of feeders and waterers, at least 1 ft. of feeder space for every 4 birds, and one 5-gal. waterer for every 100 birds. It is important to have enough nests to prevent dirty eggs, so allow 1 nest for every five birds.

Sanitation

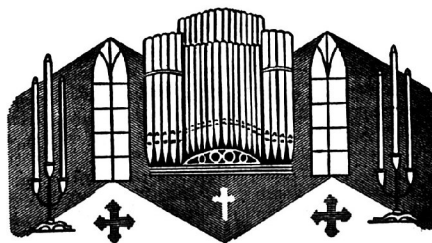

Naturally, you should maintain strict sanitation. Clean and disinfect waterers and feeders regularly. And keep clean nesting materials and well-stirred litter in the house at all times. Above all, keep your flock comfortable in a clean laying house.

Here are some additional pointers to keep in mind:

1. Cull the flock regularly.
2. Use artificial lighting to provide your layers a 13-hour working day.
3. Follow feeding schedules closely. Do not make sudden changes in your management program.
4. Arrange all laying house equipment conveniently.
5. Check birds regularly for lice and mites.
6. Keep the house free of drafts.
7. Gather eggs in wire baskets.
8. Give birds regular worming treatment. adv.

Malcolm Long and Lt. B. D. Herendeen were after church guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Kercher, Sunday evening.

Mrs. Kenneth Simcoe suffered very painful burns last week when a double boiler, in which she was making frosting, exploded.

UNUSUAL PROGRAM AT SCHOOL

On Tuesday evening, November 13, the faculty members of the Mentone school were hosts to the parents and patrons at a special program for National Education Week.

The usual type of program was bypassed and the parents were given an evening of real entertainment, which also conveyed the "how it's done" thought.

The gym was transformed into a three ring circus with the big top really there. Benches from the cafeteria formed the three rings. Dale Kelley very capably served as ring-master.

The band, directed by Roger Kelly, was dressed in outlandish costumes and led the parade of grade children. (Some of them had brought their pets along.)

The first three grades were "on" first, with action taking place at all times. As soon as the first grade had finished their "act" they left the ring and the second grade began their act as the fourth grade took the first graders' ring.

The first grade, with their teacher, Mrs. Don Van Gilder, illustrated a phonetic lesson as it is taught with the reading program.

The second grade with Miss McFarren showed a spelling game which is used every day with old and new words.

The third grade, with Mrs. Kever, set up a grocery store from orange crates. They used a blackboard to figure the grocery lists and made change from a cash register for purchases the students made.

The fourth grade with Mrs. Tom-baugh gave an English lesson bringing out the different parts of speech.

The fifth grade with Arthur Witham had a "spell down" with Becky Oyler being the winner.

The sixth grade with Miss Aughinbaugh gave Bible verses, sang songs and told stories.

Mr. Burt's history class gave current events and discussed them.

Mr. Hoffman's biology class showed a leaf collection and discussed parts of their work.

Mrs. Hoffman's Home Nursing Class demonstrated the various ways of applying bandages and other first aid measures.

Mr. Dale Kelley's geometry class chose a problem, by lot, and in the same way chose a student to solve it. Mary Vandewater was chosen to arrive at the G. E. D.

Mr. Law's typing class demonstrated a time test (with some clowning by Berna Dean Sensibaugh).

Mr. Pavlick's chemistry class conducted an experiment with Geneva Whetstone and Charles Urschel doing the work. The problem was to prove the chemical composition of a certain type of metal.

After the floor had been cleared, Miss Harriman's girls' physical education class gave a fine calisthenics drill. The girls were all dressed in white blouses and blue jeans and seemed to be very enthusiastic about their display of skill.

Side shows, consisting of displays by the art class and some biology displays were placed on the stage.

A "sure enuf" clown, in the person of Max Faurote, kept the audience both nervous and entertained with his water bucket and dipper and finally showered the crowd with confetti water.

Some laughs were provoked by the little dog - big dog act.

There was a fine attendance and many expressed their appreciation for this unique, informative evening's program.

The committee responsible for the idea and the hundred and one duties accompanying such a feat were, Roger Kelly, chairman, Wreatha McFarren, Nell Harriman and Glen Law.

"HELLO GIRLS" GIVE FAREWELL PARTY

On Monday the operators at the local telephone exchange gave a farewell party for two members of their group who are leaving the work. They are Doris Leslie and Georgia Teel. Doris is moving to Chicago.

The party was held at the Dewey Whetstone apartment. Contests of different kinds were enjoyed, with prizes going to the winners.

Ruth Davis played her guitar and sang a number of songs.

A gift was presented to each of the honored guests.

Those present were Mildred Grindle, Ruth Davis, Gertrude Hill, Velma Horn, Doris Leslie, Verna Montel, Georgia Teel, Ethel Whetstone and Martha Sullivan.

Refreshments of cake, ice cream, nuts, mints and coffee were served.

The girls also drew names for a gift exchange at Christmas.

Today good will may starve to death. Keep it alive with customer courtesy and careful advertising.

INDIANA WILL PRODUCE ABOUT 9 MILLION HOGS

Indiana farmers will produce close to nine million hogs and pigs this year, according to projected estimates of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, constituting an income of about $300 million.

Indiana produces about 7.6 per cent of the nation's total swine crop, which is expected to top 106 million head this year. Hogs rank as the number one cash farm crop in this state, bringing in 31.8 per cent of the total farm income.

This year's huge hog crop is expected to be the nation's second largest on record. Probably an important factor in the current rise in hog production is the use of the antibiotic feed supplements. Reports from farmers in this and other Midwestern states prove that among herds fed an aureomycin-vitamin B12 supplement, mortality is decreased, growth is more rapid and less feed is consumed up to sell-off time.

Indiana's 1940 hog crop was only 27.7 per cent of the state's total farm income, while the 1930 crop brought 27.5 per cent of the total.

LOSES EYE WHEN CARTRIDGE EXPLODES

Franklin Long, 20, of Newcastle township, suffered the loss of his right eye in a gunshot accident which occurred Tuesday afternoon, of last week at his farm home. His eye was removed a short time after the accident at the St. Joseph hospital, Logansport.

The young man was hitting some old cartridges with a hammer to explode them. It is believed the casing of the cartridge hit the eyeball.

Long, who was alone at the time, drove to the office of a Rochester physician who ordered him taken to an eye specialist at Logansport. Two neighbors took the injured youth to Logansport where it was found necessary to remove the injured optic.

Neighbors stated that Long had recently purchased a .22 caliber rifle and did not want to use the old cartridges and decided to destroy them by hitting them with a hammer.

The injured man, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilvin Long, lives eight miles northeast of Rochester in what is known as the Big Foot community. His parents were away on a business trip when the accident occurred.

TO HOLD TAX CLINIC FOR FARM FOLKS

New tax regulations of the 1951 Revenue Act, as they apply to farmers, will be discussed at the Farm Record and Income Tax School to be held in the Women's Building on the Fairgrounds in Warsaw at 1:30 p. m. on November 29.

Arranged by County Agent Paul Jackson, the school will be conducted by Noah Hadley, of the agricultural economics department at Purdue University.

Purpose of the school is to help farmers keep the kind of records that will save them money and avoid difficulties with their tax reports.

The economist will consider the Collector of Internal Revenue's new interpretation of the regulation covering the sale of dairy, breeding and work animals. He will explain situations under which the sale of such animals will come under the ruling and result in substantial tax savings.

Among other topics of discussion will be how depreciation is figured, what can be depreciated, and how a continuous year-to-year depreciation record can be set up for tax reporting purposes. A new 10 year Farm Depreciation Book recently published by the Purdue Agricultural economics department will be introduced and explained.

This book is designed to assist the farmer in figuring depreciation on buildings and other farm improvements, machinery, equipment, and purchased breeding animals. It is expected to be valuable for figuring profits and losses resulting from sales of depreciable items, and it will be an important aid in calculating capital gains or losses when a farm changes hands.

Copies of the new book will be available to farmers attending the school.

SCHOOL NEWS

There has been quite a bit of absence due to illness. Sore throats, virus infections, colds and measles seem to account for most of the sickness. Parents are asked to refrain from sending children to school when they are ill. Such a practice only spreads the disease and further endangers the health of the child. On the other hand, parents are asked to hold unnecessary absence for trips, shopping, etc. to a bare minimum.

The three Lent children, Barbara, Bill and Marjorie, started at Mentone School on Monday. They have previously attended school at Etna Green. This makes an enrollment of 42 in the 5th grade and 42 in the 8th grade.

The Mentone Bulldogs absorbed their third defeat of the current season at the hands of North Webster on Friday evening. The score was 58-39. Our second team came through 37-31. The junior high teams have started practice for the year. Their opening games are on December 3.

In a short assembly last Friday, Martha Creighton was elected a Senator and Geneva Whetstone, a Representative to represent the Mnetone School at Purdue in the General Assembly. This meeting will be held on November 30 and December 1.

A number of routine matters including Christmas details were discussed at teachers' meeting on Monday evening. On Tuesday evening Mr. Kent attended the Principals' meeting at Warsaw. Mr. Burt appeared at the meeting as a representative of the Coaches' Association.

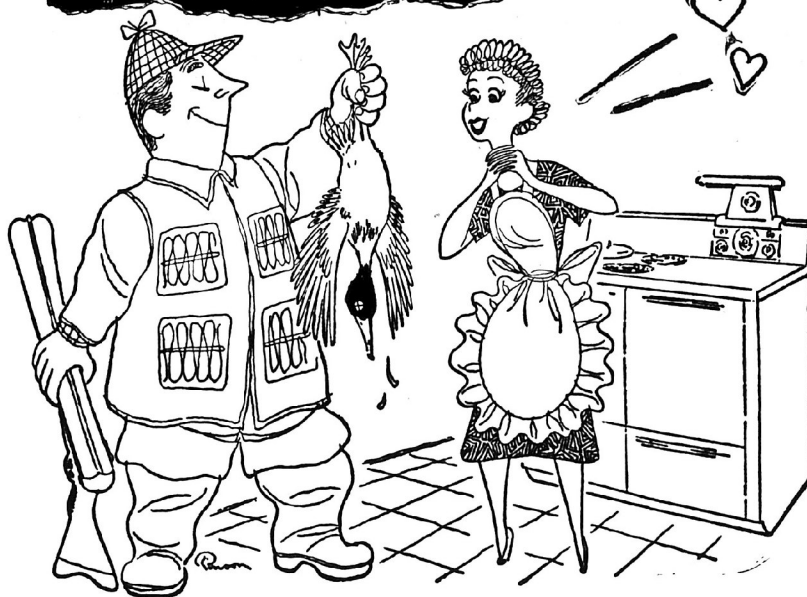

Martha Creighton, Jon Cullum, Rita Olson, Charles Urschel, John Mellott, Carol Rule, Cloanne Nelson and Marita Tucker appeared on the program over WKAM last Saturday. The next broadcast will be December 1 at 11:30.

FLYING SQUIRREL

Yes, there really are Flying Squirrels! Most people know little about them, though, because the small, fast-moving animals hide away and sleep in the daytime. It is only at night that they tirelessly explore the trees and ground. They actually fly, too, but not with wings.

To help him glide, the Flying Squirrel has a thin fold of skin along each side of his body, between his front and hind legs. When he leaps, with legs outspread, the skin stretches and makes the underside of his body broad and flat. Like the wing of an airplane, this surface enables him to sail through the air.

He cannot stay aloft, like a bird, but according to the National Wildlife Federation, he can glide long distances between trees and down wooded hillsides. From a height of 60 feet, a Flying Squirrel has been known to sail 152 feet through the air.

By shifting his body, the Flying Squirrel can control his aerial movements. He can turn from side to side, or he can swoop upward before alighting. This helps him to avoid obstacles and to pick out the spots where he wants to land. He also tries to stay away from his worst enemies, owls and cats.

While some of them lose their lives to larger foes, Flying Squirrels are abundant in nearly all the wooded parts of North America, from the Arctic Circle south to the forests of Mexico. In the United States there are two kinds—a small variety in the east and south and a larger one in the north and west.

The small Flying Squirrel is about 9½ inches long, including a 4½ inch tail. His larger cousin is a foot long, with a 6 inch tail. Both are gray-brown on top and white underneath.

Most Flying Squirrels make their homes in trees. One pair may build a nest in a woodpecker hole, another in very tiny and remain blind for the first four weeks.

When they are old enough, the young join their parents in the search for food—nuts, seeds, buds, fruit, and some insects. They also eat birds and eggs, but not enough to cause any great harm.

As winter comes to the coldest parts of the United States, the Flying Squirrels are less lively and active, but they do not hibernate. In warm regions, the National Wildlife Federation reports, they never slow down, but remain busy the year round.

For interesting information on other species, write to the National Wildlife Federation, Washington 10, D. C. The National Wildlife Federation announces the publication of a new and spectacular book, "Wildlife In Color," by Roger Tory Peterson. The book will be available November 15th.

"Wildlife In Color" is 192 pages. The publisher is Houghton Mifflin Company. It will be available through the National Wildlife Federation, 3308 Fourteenth Street, N. W., Washington 10, D. C. Price per copy is $3.00. Orders are being accepted by the Federation now.

REESE — BAKER

The Mentone Methodist Church was the scene of a very impressive wedding Sunday afternoon which joined in marriage Miss Bonnie Reese and Wayne Baker. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Reese, of Macy, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Baker, of Mentone. The double ring rites were solemnized by the Rev. David Gosser at 3:00 p. m. before a bridal altar of palms, candelabra and baskets of white and yellow pompons.

A program of bridal music composed of "Indian Love Call," "Because" and "Because of You," with Mrs. Thomas Witham at the organ preceded the ceremony. Miss Ann Benninghoff, of Knox, sang "I Love You Truly" and "Always" accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Witham. "Largo" was softly played on the organ all through the ceremony.

The bride's only attendant was Mrs. Keith Warner, of Rochester. Don Baker of Mentone, served his brother as best man. Ushers were Dick Reese, brother of the bride, and Joe Good, of Talma. Assisted by Maynard Reese, also a brother of the bride and Devon Hutchison, of Tippecanoe.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was very attractively dressed in a white nylon gown. The lace covered fitted bodice was complimented with a row of tiny covered buttons. The skirt, featured a full gathered overskirt of net. The full length, lace trimmed, veil was fastened to a lace covered tiara, and she carried a bouquet of white carnations tied with white satin streamers.

The Matron of Honor, Mrs. Warner, was attired in a very pretty satin orchid gown, the feature of which was a bolero and a sweetheart neckline, and full net overskirt with alternating rows of satin. She carried a bouquet of pale yellow carnations.

Mrs. Reese chose a two piece teal blue crepe dress with winter white accessories for her daughter's wedding. The mother of the groom wore a dress of black crepe and lace with black accessories and each wore a corsage of deep rose carnations.

The reception was held in the base-

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to express my sincere thanks and appreciation to all my friends and neighbors who so graciously remembered me this past summer and fall with their visits, flowers, cards and many other acts of kindness, for my comfort, during my illness. All were very much appreciated. Thanks again and may God bless you.

Telephone expansion doesn't just "HAPPEN"

Money for telephone expansion can come only from investors . . . everyday people who buy telephone stocks and bonds.

The money you pay for telephone service must be used only to meet expenses and pay a fair return to these investors.

Their confidence in American free enterprise alone is making possible today's national wave of telephone expansion.

GATES FAMILY NOW IN CALIFORNIA

Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Gates, who left recently for California, have written the following letter:

Nov. 21st, 1951

Dear Art,

Arrived here all in one piece. Kind of a rough trip. We had rain all through Illinois and Iowa but really was rough through Wyoming and Utah.

The roads were just a sheet of ice. We made it all right till we got to the grade that goes into Salt Lake City. Got about halfway up a good grade and couldn't go any farther so had to turn around and go back down till we found a set of chains.

We blew out three tires on the trailer and the hitch broke. Other than that, we didn't have any trouble.

Have been awful busy since we got here trying to set up house again.

People really have treated us swell. One dealer brought us in a stove as soon as we arrived, hooked it all up and left it to us till we found time to locate one.

Jim and I helped sow two hundred acres of permanent pasture this morning in a little over two hours.

We stood at each end of the field with flags eight feet high. Everytime the plane passed over us we stepped over 16 ft. He only flew about twenty feet off the ground. First pass or so I wondered if he was going to clear the flags.

Going to step out and get a couple of pheasant in the morning before the season closes.

The season has been open more than a week now and they really are scattered.

Well, Art, I guess this is all for this time. Please send my paper to Box 44, East Nicolaus, California.

Sincerely,
D. M. Gates

OMISSION

In the article giving an account of the musical portion of the Reading Club program, two numbers were inadvertently missed. Martha Creighton played a piano solo, "Fifth Nocturne," and David Gosser sang, "God Bless This House." These numbers were very much appreciated by the ladies and we regret this omission.

D. A. R. MEETS

The November meeting of the Anthony Nigo Chapter of the D. A. R. was held at the country home of Mrs. Omar Drudge. Mrs. Mirabel Riewoldt was assisting hostess.

Mrs. Frank Smith, regent, opened the meeting with ritualistic service, and prayer was offered by Mrs. Emma Gill, chaplain. The pledge of allegiance was given by all. Sixteen members answered to roll call. The minutes were read by the secretary, Norma Jean Nellans, and the treasurer, Mrs. Annabell Rathfon, gave her report. The president general's message was read by Mrs.

Lena Igo. She stressed our heritage and emphasized the need of constant vigil against the subversive elements in our country. Mrs. Juanita Paulus reported that good citizenship girls have been selected from each of the high schools contacted by Anthony Nigo D. A. R. The winner of this group will be selected by means of a questionnaire, and she will be eligible to compete in the state contest.

Our regent read the acknowledgment of the receipt of a box of clothing that was shipped to Tamassee school. This is a mountain school in North Carolina and supported mainly by the D.

A. R. She also reported a box shipped the Kate Duncan Smith school in Alabama. A sum of money was contributed to further the aid to the American Indians.

The meeting was turned over to Mrs. Riewoldt, program chairman, who introduced Mrs. Joyce Saylor. Mrs. Saylor gave a very interesting and informative review of the book, "Out of This World," written by commentator Lowell Thomas following his trip through Tibet.

Mrs. Riewoldt showed some pictures taken by the Thomases while on their journey.

At the close of the meeting, lovely refreshments were served by the hostess and her assistant.

Mrs. James Goshert was a guest.

The next meeting, our Christmas party, will be held at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Riner, on Tuesday evening, Dec. 18. There will be a fifty-cent gift exchange.

SCHOOL NEWS

Monday ended the second grading period of six weeks. One-third of the school year has now passed. The report cards will be handed out this week.

Raymond Osman entered the ninth grade on Monday. He formerly attended North Side, of Fort Wayne. There are now thirty-five in the ninth grade.

Burket handed Mentone its fourth straight defeat on the Wednesday evening before Thanksgiving. The Burket team played fine ball to win 56-50. Our second team continued its winning ways for the third victory out of four games. This Friday at Leesburg, the Bulldogs hope to start a victory streak. The second team game begins at 7:00. On Tuesday, December 4th, Mentone plays Etna Green in the local gym. This is the only mid-week game on the schedule.

This Friday and Saturday, Geneva Whetstone and Martha Creighton will participate in the mock legislative assembly for high school pupils to be held at Purdue University. Charles Urschel and Janet Rose Reed will participate in the speech workshop to be held on Saturday.

Mentone School will be on the air this Saturday at 11:30 over WKAM. Dental examinations for pupils in grades 2-5-8-11 will be held on Monday, December 3rd.

At the recent teachers' meeting it was decided not to hold an all school Christmas program this year. It was decided also to hold the school Christmas parties on the Friday before vacation. Mr. Kent recommended that the sums involved in gift exchanged be nominal, since the spirit of giving and not the value of the gift should prevail.

Since there has been widespread apprehension due to the virus infections in a neighboring community, Mr. Kent stated today that he can see no cause for alarm in the Mentone School in spite of various rumors to the contrary. There have been two cases of scarlet fever this school year. One of the pupils has returned, the other remains under quarantine. Brothers and sisters are living away from home and have returned to school with the consent of the County Health doctor, the family physician and Mr. Whitehead. There have been several cases of sore throats and colds recently, but none of these has proved serious. In fact, there has been less absence due to disease at this time of year than is normally true. Parents are asked to keep children home with fever, severe throat conditions, and other suspicious symptoms. It would be appreciated if the wild rumors and hysteria of recent days would subside.

The JO.Y. Circle will meet on Tuesday, Dec. 4th, with Mrs. Genevieve Nelson.

Rev. Howard Fowler and children, of Howard, Ohio, former Baptist minister at Mentone, spent a short time here visiting last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymon Hibschan left for Mesa, Arizona Monday where they will spend the winter.

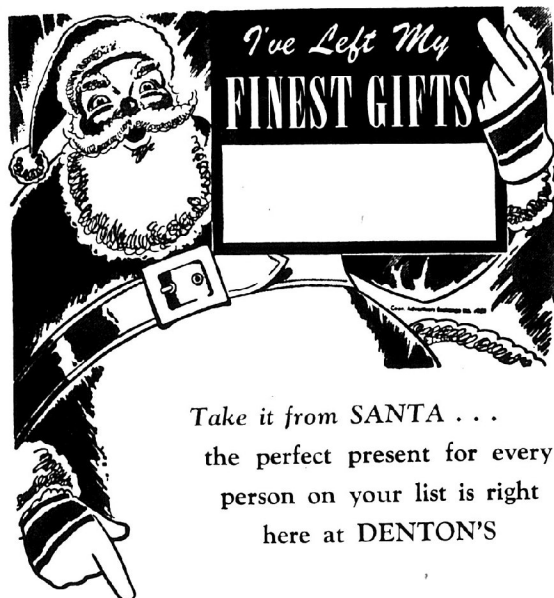

Miss Mildred Anderson of Flint, Michigan, Dr. and Mrs. Ira D. Anderson and sons of Evanston, Illinois, and Dr. W. C. Anderson of Indianapolis, spent Thanksgiving Day with their parents, Dr. and Mrs. E. D. Anderson.

MOTHERS OF WORLD WAR II

Mrs. Belle Morrison was hostess to the Mothers of World War II on Monday, November 19. This was a school party and the guests came dressed of yesteryears and carried their lunch in dinner pails. The salute to the flag, singing of the Star Spangled Banner and prayer by the chaplain, Mrs. Meredith, was followed by Mrs. Paulus, the president, declaring the meeting open for business. Twenty-one members answered roll call by naming their first school teacher. Secretary and Treasurer reports were accepted. Bills were allowed for Christmas cards to be sent to the boys in hospitals. A report of the gift boxes sent overseas was very gratifying.

The district meeting is to be held in the next two weeks at Lucerne. Birthdays by Emma Cook, Mildred Flenar, Maude Romine, Blanche Paulus and Myrtle Davis. The nominating committee's report resulted in the following officers being elected: President, Maude Romine; 1st Vice President, Dora Whetstone; 2nd Vice President, Edith Scott; Secretary, Mildred Fawley; Financial Secretary, Marie Coleman; Treasurer, Myrtle Davis; Chaplain, Ellen Stanford; Sergeant-at-Arms, Florsum Newell; Historian, Fawn Janke. As there was only one candidate for each office, Bertha Meredith cast the vote for entire membership present. LeVera Horn won the door prize. We then had a school program in which nearly all members took part with readings and songs. Fawn Janke then acting as monitor passed the lunch pails. Closed by repeating the Mothers' creed, singing "God Bless America" and prayer. School Days was sung just before going home.

TIMELY TOPICS

By Mrs. Ruth R. Snellenberger

An inquiry came to the office the other day regarding the purchase of an automatic washer or a dryer. Sometimes a dryer will be a wiser purchase if the family has a reasonably good conventional type washer, at least for the time being. This is so if the party does not wish to spend, or does not have the money to spend, for both. In using the automatic washer the machine does practically all the work with but little energy required of the homemaker. In using the conventional type washer, the washer does more than half the job while the homemaker has to do the lifting, turning, etc. If she's in good health, not working outside the home, and her conventional type washer is in good working condition, she would probably be wisest, if she had to make a choice, to purchase a dryer. This would help conserve a great deal of energy, and discomfort of hanging clothes outside. At a later date perhaps she would be in a financial position to trade in her conventional type washer.

Men's shirts are a popular item on the Christmas shopping list. For longer wearing, firm, plain, smooth weaves should be selected. Long floats or loose threads on the surface of the material or fancy open weaves are apt to snag and weaken the cloth. Mercerized cotton shirts have a smooth lustrous finish, give good wear and do not show soil as readily as shirts that are not so smooth.

I wonder how many homemakers read labels on canned goods whenever a little lower price is listed? It is a wise idea, for sometimes a little different size can had been used. In trying to figure out if it really is a better buy or not, I try to decide how much the cost is per ounce.

Speaking of canned goods, maybe it might be helpful to keep a record of how much canned goods you are buying this winter for your family so that you will have a guide to go by in planning to do a greater amount of food preservation next year.

THOUGHTS WHILE SHAVING

By George Peck

The other morning, as per daily custom, I got out my trusty electric razor (the name of the maker purposely omitted here—no free plug), turned on the switch and proceeded to shave. As usual I could not help noticing that some of the whiskers were longer than others. This has always puzzled me. "Why in the same length of time does one whisker grow longer and stronger than others of its fellow whiskers?", I have often asked myself.

Growing in the same soil, or rather

George Peck

I should say same skin, blood and flesh alongside of a puny runt, a healthy, virile whisker blossoms forth. Just why I have never been able to figure out. But when my razor has gotten in its licks, all of the whiskers, both healthy and puny, are reduced to the same size—that is, no size at all. It must be plumb discouraging to a healthy whisker that has toiled night and day to gain stature, to be mowed down to the size of the shiftless, non-toiling bit of fuzz.

On this particular morning it suddenly dawned on me that what that razor was doing to the individual whiskers on my face is exactly what socialism does to the individuals of a nation. It cuts them all down to one size, that is, no size at all.

Under a socialistic economy the hard-working, thrifty, self-reliant individual is reduced to the same size as the shiftless, wasteful, unreliable citizen. Struggle as he may, constantly he is cut down. Finally, he loses all incentive to attempt to lift himself above his fellows and discouraged, he throws up his arms in surrender and ceases to struggle.

The theory of socialism is beautiful—the idea of all sharing alike is intriguing; especially for those who have little or nothing to share. But socialism in practice, that is something else again. The end result is that all do share alike—each finishes up with a large slice of nothing. For when you reduce the honeybees to the status of the drones, no honey is produced.

But there is something Socialism creates that is worse than poverty, uncomfortable as that status is, and that thing is loss of freedom. Loss of freedom goes hand in hand with socialism. Those in charge of the dividing process have a nasty habit of dictating how each recipient of the division shall spend his share.

The citizen of the socialistic state is told where and at what he shall work, how he shall live, how he shall educate his children, what doctor and dentist shall serve him; he is even told how to entertain himself. If you doubt the foregoing statement, just ask any Englishman. The English have learned the hard way, that under a socialistic government they not only were ruled and regulated to the hilt, but were gradually coming to share less and less. Let's hope that they did not awaken too late and that the Churchill government will be able to restore their lost freedoms and lift their standard of living from the low level to which it has sunk.

Of course, those who foisted socialism upon England were honest about it. They called it, "Socialism." Those who are trying to force socialism upon America are not so forthright. They have a lot of fancy, misleading names for it, such as, "Social Security," "Compulsory Medicine," "Public Housing," etc., etc. They know that were they to call it by its right name, the American people would avoid it like a plague.

The editor of the Dayton (Ohio) Press, in an editorial pointing out how lucky we Americans are, made this very true and wise observation: "The farther you move from freedom the more you pay for a life that is worth less to live."

That would seem to be a high note on which to end this piece, bearing the unusual title, "Thoughts While Shaving."

Mrs. D. E. Leavell entered Woodlawn Hospital at Rochester on Sunday morning for observation and treatment. Mrs. Leavell is under the care of a special diabetic nurse.

LIBRARY NEWS

The State Library has instituted a new service to the small libraries of the state. Every six weeks a book truck from Indianapolis will arrive at the library bringing fifty books, including titles which the smaller libraries usually do not buy. These books will be circulated like our own books for six weeks and at the end of that time, replaced by new titles.

The first consignment to the Mentone Library arrived today and there are some very good titles among them, including the following:

"The Savannah" in the Rivers of America series; "Civilization on Trial," by Arnold Tonybee, world famous historian; "Making Curtains and Draperies," by Barbara Baer; "How We Got Our Denominations," a primer on church history, by Stanley Stuber; "Command Decision," a war novel, by Wm. Haines; "Widow, Nun and Court-tesan," by Lin Vutang; "Outwitting Your Years," by Clarence Lieb, M. D.; "The Strange Children," by Caroline Gordon, a novel with setting in Tennessee; "Norma Ashe," by Susan Glispe, a discerning novel of a woman and her ideals; "Bears in the Caviar," by Charles Thayer. A young American diplomat tells this gay, uninhibited but informative story of his adventures behind a variety of international curtains including Russia's.

We hope many members of this community will take advantage of these books while they are here.

THE DOLPHIN

It is a thrilling sight, on a deep-sea fishing trip, to watch a Dolphin in a three-way race with a flying fish and a giant marlin. At the start, the flying fish is in the lead, gracefully leaping through the air. Holding second place is the swift Dolphin, and not far behind the marlin cuts through the water.

All three are fast swimmers, so the outcome is in doubt. But there is a good chance that the Dolphin will win a double victory. His first triumph comes when he catches and eats the flying fish. His second victory is won when he speeds away from the jaws of the hungry marlin.

©National Wildlife Federation
Dolphin

When chasing his favorite food, the Dolphin clings close to the water, burrowing through the waves. At other times, he hurdles through the air in short leaps.

From these quick glimpses, it can be seen that the Dolphin is a fish of changing colors. The National Wildlife Federation says that the main ones are green, yellow, and blue.

There are times when the yellow and green form a background for patches of blue, purple, and green spots. At other moments, the Dolphin appears to be dark blue and silvery splotches. The many changes in color make it one of the most beautiful of all fish.

The Dolphin's shape is attractive, too. Its head is high, and its body tapers toward the tail. Just back of its head is the beginning of a long fin that starts out tall and slopes to a narrow point near the tail. Underneath its body is another fin which is about the same shape and length.

The average Dolphin weighs 25 lbs., and the largest one ever caught on light tackle tipped the scales at 67½ pounds. So among game fish of the ocean, it ranks as a small variety.

The National Wildlife Federation reports that Dolphin are found in the Atlantic Ocean from New England to Brazil and in the Gulf of Mexico. On the Pacific side, they range from Oregon to Peru and around the Hawaiian Islands.

please bring either your gifts or cash donations to our next meeting. The cash donations will be used to purchase clothing for Sharon."

The next meeting of the unit will be held on Tuesday evening, December 11, at 8:00 p. m. at the Legion Home. The December 25th meeting has been cancelled.

Mrs. Rex Witham was the name drawn for the attendance prize.
